Majali Orders Cease-Fire To Save Bloodshed

By HARRY A. DUNPHY
Associated Press Writer

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Field Marshal Habis Majali ordered the Jordanian army to observe a temporary cease-fire today to give guerrilla forces an opportunity to surrender without further bloodshed.

Majali's statement was broadcast by Jordan's official radio from Amman, the capital.

The cease-fire order came in the second day of sharp fighting in Jordan. It spread into northern Jordan near the Syrian border during the day. The army claimed it was in control in Amman and the former guerrilla stronghold of Zarqa, 15 miles northeast of Amman.

A military communique said King Hussein's forces controlled [illegible] Amman districts and were carrying out mopping up operations.

There remained no word about the Wahdat area in the outskirts where 54 hostages from last week's air hijackings are believed held. Neither side has mentioned the hostages in the past two days.

The wording of Marshal Majali's cease-fire order made it clear he was not prepared now to negotiate with the guerrillas on the terms he had offered them on Thursday. King Hussein named Majali to head the Jordanian government on Wednesday. Fighting broke out shortly afterward.

The top guerrilla command rejected Majali's cease-fire offer on Thursday. The terms included acceptance by the guerrillas of an army safe conduct to the front line with Israel, where they could fight the Israeli army.

The broadcast did not state any time limit for the cease-fire.

Guerrilla communiques broadcast by radio stations in Syria and Iraq claimed fighting continued in Amman and elsewhere. [illegible]

Guerrilla radio broadcasts said army tank units attacked Palestinian strongholds and that heavy fighting was going on in areas the commandos had described earlier as "liberated areas."

The guerrilla broadcasts from Baghdad and Damascus said the tanks launched a three-pronged attack on Ramtha, Turra and El Kassarat, villages controlling the Amman-Damascus highway, the Palestinians' pipeline for supplies from Syria.

The government radio in Amman gave no indication of the military situation in its first broadcasts today. It said shortly before midnight the army was in control of Amman and military governor Habis Majali warned the guerrillas that his forces had been holding back their firepower to save lives but could increase their attacks tenfold if the commandos keep fighting.

Radio Damascus proclaimed that northern Jordan, from Amman to the Syrian border, was a "liberated area." It delivered an order from guerrilla leader Yasir Arafat naming himself the administrative authority and calling for the resumption of normal activities in the area.

Guerrilla spokesmen in Amman told newsmen that hundreds of civilians had been cut down in crossfires between guerrillas and army troops in Amman.

Radio Baghdad said one of the northern towns where heavy fighting raged was Irbid, Jordan's second largest city. "The main target is the refugee camp and neighboring residential districts," the broadcast reported.

Although it doesn't have any student body, it doesn't have any buildings, and it doesn't have any faculty, Western Texas College already is becoming known outside the Snyder area.

About a dusk a couple of evenings ago I received a telephone call, which at first appeared to be facetious, but proved to be dead serious.

"Can you tell me the name of the registrar of the junior college in Snyder?" a young lady's voice asked. Not wanting to upstage Dr. Robert Clinton, the college president, and the board of trustees, I declined to reveal the identity of the Western Texas College registrar.

"Well, then, who can give me the enrollment figures for the fall semester?" the girl caller inquired.

Then, I explained that Western Texas College does not have a registrar because it doesn't have a student body and will not have anybody to register until the fall semester of 1971.

The young lady then disclosed that she was calling from one of the regional newspapers and that one of the press wire services had asked her paper to collect enrollment figures from all of the colleges in the region.

"I knew I did not know about a college there in Snyder," she said, "but when I began making calls to the colleges, someone stopped by my desk and told me not to forget to check the enrollment at the new junior college in Snyder."

Although it undoubtedly can rival most of them, the State Fair of Texas does not lay any claims to being a "world's fair." However, notices have gone out that there will be a Berlin Pavilion at the big Dallas exposition this coming Oct. 10-25. The Hon. Horst Grabert, Secretary for Federal Affairs of the Berlin government and a member of the upper house of the Federal Parliament in Bonn, is scheduled to come to Dallas on Oct. 9 to participate in the formal opening of the Berlin Pavilion.

The Berlin Pavilion is designed to handle a thousand visitors per hour.

Production Halted On Oh Henrys

CHICAGO (AP) — A candy company has halted all production in the wake of an announcement by the Food and Drug Administration that some Oh Henry Nut Rolls manufactured in June were possibly contaminated with potentially hazardous bacteria.

A spokesman for the manufacturer, Williamson Candy Division of Warner-Lambert Pharmaceutical Co., said Thursday the decision was prompted by considerations of "public confidence."

The FDA announced earlier in Washington that more than a half million of the nut-roll bars manufactured June 18 and June 26 were possibly contaminated with the bacteria salmonella. Such bacteria may cause stomach upset and dysentery dangerous to infants and the elderly.

Williamson Candy agreed Aug. 27 to recall any remaining Oh Henry bars of the suspect lot from nationwide trade channels. It halted production and shipment of the nut rolls Sept. 4, pending review of quality control procedures, company spokesman said.

Production and shipment were halted Thursday on three other candy brands—Choco-Nuts, Salted Nut Roll and Nut Clusters—produced in Williamson's Chicago plant. All four brands, including the nut rolls, bear the words "Oh Henry."

The company recalled the Choco-Nuts, Salted Nut Roll and Nut Clusters bars from the market although, spokesmen said, the FDA did not request this action.

Plant manager Herbert Anderson said that to his knowledge these brands were not contaminated.

ENTER ART SHOW — The art show held in conjunction with the Ranch Day Gathering at the Scurry County Coliseum Saturday attracted a number of entries. Huckabee is chairman of the art show, and Roberson is president of the Snyder Palette Club.

Hundreds Due For Ranchers' Event

Hundreds of people are expected here Saturday for the second Ranchers Headquarters gathering at the Scurry County Coliseum.

The event is sponsored by the Scurry County Ranch Headquarters Association, one of several local organizations formed here in connection with development of the Ranch Headquarters museum project at Texas Tech University.

There will be ranching and western art displays, a country store and other exhibits, [illegible] costumes, music and a [illegible] party at the coliseum between the hours of 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. Saturday. A barbecue supper will be served from 6 to 8 p.m. Tickets for the barbecue are priced at $2 each for adults and $1.50 each for children under 12. Snyder Jaycees are in charge of ticket sales for the barbecue.

The art show being held in connection with the gathering is being judged by [illegible] of Amarillo. The paintings entered in the show will hang in the coliseum lobby through Sunday.

The Ranch Headquarters unit here was the first local association to be organized and it still is the largest and most active of those functioning in local communities. It was at a similar gathering here a year ago that Dr. Grover Murray, president of Texas Tech, officially announced the formation of the association.

A 12-acre tract near Texas Tech now is being developed as an outdoor museum of ranching history. Ranch buildings and equipment are being assembled there from throughout the West Texas area.

Chile Facing Political Crisis

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — President Eduardo Frei of Chile, a nation facing its worst political crisis in 40 years, told his people Thursday that the country's armed forces "shall continue to be the guardians of its internal and external security."

The speech, delivered on the eve of Chile's Independence Day, was the first public address Frei has made since the Sept. 4 presidential election ended in a run-off in Congress between Marxist candidate Salvador Allende, who got the greatest popular vote, and Jorge Alessandri, a conservative.

"I am sure that whatever the situation the country will have in the future," Frei said, "the armed forces shall continue to be the guardians of its internal and external security.

"Their patriotism, their discipline and high degree of professionalism, are a guarantee of democratic stability and the exercise of individual rights."

Frei spoke at a ceremony investing six officers with the ranks of admiral and general.

Today, with business in Santiago at a two-week standstill waiting for the outcome of the run-off on Oct. 24, Chile celebrates its 160th independence day. A group of elderly women in black plans to mourn "the imminent death of democracy" outside the metropolitan cathedral, where Frei is to attend a traditional Mass.

Allende defeated Alessandri by 39,000 votes out of 2.9 million cast, but failed to gain the majority required to win outright. The Christian Democrat candidate, Radomiro Tomic, ran third and dropped out of the race.

As a result, a joint session of Congress must choose between Allende, who has 80 of the 200 seats, or Alessandri, who can count on 45.

The remaining Christian Democrat legislators hold the key.

Under intense pressure from both sides, they are playing hard to get and do not expect to tip their hand until the last minute.

Alessandri has made an offer to resign if Congress elects him, and to retire from politics. That would lead to new presidential elections in 60 days, in which the popular Frei—who is forbidden by law to serve consecutive terms—would be able to run and likely win with conservative support.

But Frei's Christian Democrat party was also debating whether to support Allende anyway in return for "effective guarantees" that an Allende administration would maintain Chile's basic democratic institutions.

Niarchos Indictment Rejected

ATHENS (AP) — A panel of lower court judges rejected today a public prosecutor's request that Greek shipping multimillionaire Stavros Niarchos be indicted in connection with the death of his wife. The prosecutor said he would appeal the decision to a higher court.

Prosecutor Constantine Fafoutis, who has been handling the case since Eugenia Niarchos died on her husband's private island last May 4, said he would file an appeal within the next 10 days in accordance with Greek legislation.

The three-man lower court panel rejected a recommendation that Niarchos be indicted on charges of causing bodily injury leading to his wife's death.

US Won't Intervene In Mideast

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid repeated high-level statements of concern for the safety of Americans in Jordan, officials continue to say there are no plans now for U.S. military intervention in the Mideast.

The State Department expressed deep concern for Americans and other hostages held in Jordan. But press officer Robert J. McCloskey said Thursday: "I will not speculate on what may or may not be required."

"There are no plans for United States military intervention, but I am not going to get into statements of total self-denial," McCloskey told a news conference. "Obviously we're facing a very serious situation."

Educational Exhibitors Asked To Call

All educatiinal exhibitors who want booths in the Scurry County Fair, Oct. 8, 9 and 10 are urged to call Roy Hanson at 573-3211.

Hanson stressed that exhibitors notify him as soon as possible so that the proper number and spacing of the booths needed can be arranged. The educational exhibit committee is striving for a marked increase this year in that category and Hanson urges any group in the county that feels it might have material that could be displayed to make an all-out effort to have a booth.

He indicated each booth will be 8 feet wide, 8 feet front to rear, with the back wall 4 feet high. The exhibit must be educational. It may give information, teach how to do, promote an idea, or show a quality product for the purpose of raising standards.

Eligible exhibitors would be any organized club, civic or educational group in the county, such as vocational agricultural classes, 4-H Clubs, Girl Scouts, Young Farmers, Home Demonstration Clubs, Garden Clubs, Women's Clubs, etc. The clubs or classes may combine their alloted space and make one exhibit.

The exhibits will be judged on items such as suitable subject, effective titling, attraction of attention, interest holding, conveying message, general appearance and neatness and construction of the workmanship.

There will be appropriate awards in this division, Hanson concluded, and he will be glad to answer any further inquiries regarding the educational exhibit section.

Tragedy leaves father angry

By Abigail Van Buren

1970 by Chicago Tribune N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Some friends of ours have gone out of their heads over a personal tragedy. Their 18-year-old daughter left home to marry a serviceman she had known only two months. The police were called to avoid bloodshed when she left, and her father warned the girl and this serviceman never to set foot on his property again.

Now the father falls asleep on the porch every night with a loaded shotgun in his hand. An accident could easily occur under these crazy circumstances.

He will not listen to reason. He even got his son to round up a bunch of toughs to try to find the serviceman and beat him up.

Are there any counselors in this area who could talk some sense into this man in his angry state?

A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Counselors? A man who sits with a loaded gun and murder in his heart needs restraining first, not counseling. For his own good and the good of his neighbors, your friend should be reported to the legal authorities and the local mental health organization. He sounds sick and violent. A dangerous combination. And since you are his "friend," — you do it.

DEAR ABBY: In your opinion, is it permissible for a woman to neck [or whatever you want to call it] with her ex-husband?

PAULINE

DEAR PAULINE: It is permissible for a woman to "neck" [if that's what you mean, that's what I'll call it] with her ex-husband, if she is single, and so is he.

DEAR ABBY: A few days ago I received in the mail the most unusual announcement I have ever heard of in all my born days. I would certainly like to know if you or any of your readers ever saw or heard anything to match it.

A couple of friends of mine, whom I seldom see, but exchange Christmas cards with, sent me an announcement. I will use fictitious names and give you an otherwise exact copy of it.

"MR. AND MRS. G. WHIZ FOLKS
DIVORCED
JULY 31, 1970: County Court House
Asheville, North Carolina

G. Whiz Folks	Annie Folks
Seaside Motel	P. O. Box No. 224
Smalltown, N. C.	Daytona Beach, Fla."

My problem is: Should I send them congratulations, separate gifts, sympathy cards, or what, exactly am I expected to do— if anything? This thing sure floored me and I am not putting you on, Abby. C. B. IN MURPHY, N. C.

DEAR C. B.: Send them both "get well" cards. Yes, I've heard of such announcements. It's a rather cutesy way some of the more sophisticated set use to let their friends know they are officially divorced, and therefore available, in the market or what-have-you. It also helps their friends keep Christmas card lists current.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "JUST ME" IN FORT WORTH: Most women who marry men for their money have to divorce them before they can get their hands on any of it. [P. S. Lotsa luck. It's a rare woman who comes out winners when she's out to skin a man in Texas.]

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Policeman Shot In Ohio Riot

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A policeman was shot to death at point-blank range in his patrol car early today and the slaying touched off a six-hour siege by police against snipers in a building housing a Black Panther headquarters.

One armed teen-ager was critically wounded in the ensuing exchange of gunfire as he fled the building, police said. Others [illegible] nearby buildings.

One man was arrested and charged with the policeman's death.

Five policemen had been injured in an earlier disturbance at police headquarters when a crowd of blacks demanded release of a prisoner. Police arrested six persons in that incident.

Dead was Patrolman William Miscannon, patrolling in a predominantly Negro inner city area.

Walter Shaw, his partner, said a Negro man approached their car said, "Hey baby, I've got something for you," and fired a pistol at the officer's head.

The attacker fled in a car. Shaw was hospitalized in a state of shock.

Shaw's call for aid brought 30 policemen to the area. Snipers fired as an ambulance arrived for Miscannon.

In the ensuing gunfire, several persons ran from the Black Panther building and fired at police from other buildings in the block of small businesses.

Police lobbed tear gas into the headquarters building before moving in to search the premises.

Leary Writes Letter

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Drug cultist Timothy Leary has written a letter saying the underground revolutionary Weatherman organization helped engineer his escape from prison, Leary's attorney reports.

Michael Kennedy, Leary's attorney of record with California penal authorities, told a news conference Thursday that "there is no question" that the letter published in the San Francisco Chronicle's Thursday editions "is genuine."

Leary's letter said: "Am armed and should be considered dangerous to anyone who threatens my life or my freedom. I offered loving gratitude to my Sisters and Brothers in the Weatherman underground who designed and executed my liberation."

His photocopied letter accompanied a photocopied "fourth communication from the Weatherman Underground," signed by Bernardine Dohrn, sought by the FBI on two warrants. The communication said the Weatherman organization, which broke away from Students for a Democratic Society and has been blamed for several violent incidents across the country, "had the honor and pleasure of helping Dr. Timothy Leary escape from the POW camp at San Luis Obispo, California."

Leary, 49, a former Harvard lecturer and researcher, was sentenced Dec. 26, 1969, to 6 months to 10 years in prison for marijuana possession and was denied parole last month. He apparently scaled a 12-foot high chain link fence topped with barbed wire last Sunday and escaped from the minimum security prison.

KY'S DECISION IS IRREVERSIBLE

Senators Are Opposed To Ky Visiting US

SAIGON (AP) — A senior aide to Nguyen Cao Ky said today the South Vietnamese vice president is not reconsidering his visit to the United States to attend a "March for Victory" rally, and his decision right now is "irreversible."

"He will tell the American people why we are fighting," said Col. Phan Van Minh, Ky's chief of staff. "He is not reconsidering. He is all set to go. We are working on his speech. All arrangements have been made."

Ky will leave Saigon next Tuesday, stopping off first in Paris where he is the chief of the South Vietnamese delegation to the peace talks. He has boycotted the talks for 18 months. From Paris, Ky is scheduled to fly to the United States, arriving in Washington Oct. 1.

The "March for Victory" rally is scheduled for Oct. 3 in Washington. It is sponsored by the Rev. Carl McIntyre, a fundamentalist radio preacher.

Minh's statement that Ky definitely was going ahead with his plans came after he was asked for comment on reports from Washington quoting U.S. officials as saying that Ky may now be reconsidering his visit.

Earlier, key Republican and Democratic senators in Washington advised Ky to stay home and not become involved in American internal politics by speaking at the rally.

The senators included Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and some of President Nixon's most faithful Republican supporters in the Senate. They said in a series of speeches that the proposed visit would aggravate existing American conflicts and constitute a wrong-handed and misguided tampering "with the political process and public opinion of another country."

Minh said news reports of their remarks had just been made available to Ky, and there had been no comment yet from the vice president.

"We had considered the problem before the vice president made his decision" said Minh.

"We still have had no formal application saying that he is coming and requesting appropriate consideration," explained one official.

State Department officials have taken pains neither to welcome the visit nor denounce it. Instead they are looking the other way, obviously hoping Ky would not make an appearance here that could sharpen opposition to the Vietnamization program.

McIntyre flew to Saigon last weekend to persuade Ky to stand up under what he called pressure from the White House and State Department to stay away from the Oct. 3 rally designed to encourage support for an all-out military effort in Vietnam.

Meanwhile, Senate critics, who include supporters of the Nixon policy, were explicit in condemning the trip.

Electoral Reform "Still Breathing"

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — "It's still breathing," said Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, after the Senate struck a heavy blow at a constitutional amendment to provide for direct election of the president.

After a 54-36 vote to cut off debate on the proposed amendment—six short of the required two-thirds majority—Mansfield said Thursday tentative plans call for a second attempt next week.

He said no decision will be made before Monday. This will give Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., chief sponsor of the electoral reform measure, and other supporters a chance to round up more votes.

If a second petition to put the Senate's debate-closing cloture rule into effect is filed Monday, it would come to a vote Wednesday.

Failure to muster a two-thirds majority to choke off debate on a second try likely would be fatal to the proposed amendment, although nothing in the Senate's rules prevent repeated attempts.

Only eight times since the two-thirds rule was adopted in 1917 has the Senate, which prides itself on free debate, voted to apply cloture. The last time was in 1968 on an open housing bill—and that was on the fourth try.

Thursday's vote did not offer much encouragement to supporters of the direct election plan, but some contended it might yet be brought to a vote if more time is allowed for debate.

Of the 54 senators who voted for ending the debate, 33 were Democrats, 21 Republicans. Voting against the move were 18 senators of each party—mostly from Southern and small states.

Ten senators were absent, but even if all 100 had been present, opponents of the debate cut-off move had more than enough votes to block it.

The proposed amendment was approved by the House a year ago today 339 to 70 and has been endorsed by President Nixon.

The amendment would abolish the Electoral College and provide election of a presidential candidate who got 40 per cent or more of the popular vote. If no candidate received 40 per cent, a runoff election would be held between the two front-runners.

A constitutional amendment requires approval by a two-thirds majority in the Senate and House and ratification by 38 of the 50 state legislatures.

SANDWICH QUEEN OF 1970 — Mrs. Marilyn Hicks, Houston, Texas, creator of the National Sandwich Idea Contest's Grand Champion for 1970, "The Trail Driver," is awarded Sandwich Queen honors by Howard S. Holmes, Chairman, Millers' National Federation and President, Chelsea Milling Company, at a coronation luncheon, July 29, Piette Hotel, New York City.

Mrs. Hicks Wins Sandwich QueenWith 'The Trail Driver'

Mrs. Marilyn Jean Hicks, assistant director of food service at St. Luke's Texas Children's Hospital, Houston, Tex., has made a hobby of creating and writing new recipes.

Her pastime has now paid off for her. A barbecue-coleslaw sandwich has won for Mrs. Hicks the title Sandwich Queen in the 1970 National Sandwich Idea Contest.

Mrs. Hicks soon hopes to capitalize on her creative cooking streak by putting it in cookbook form. She and an associate have been working three years on a cookbook about entertaining and have the material rady for a publisher's final touches.

After four years at the Texas Medical Center, Mrs. Hicks is watching the children's hospital undergo expansion, from 500 to 1,200 beds. She anticipates a new 500-seat public cafeteria and an additional snack bar to occupy much of her time when the building program is completed.

During her career, the Sandwich Queen has been manager of a Shell refinery cafeteria; manager of Battlesteins, a Houston tearoom; and an assistant food director of a YMCA cafeteria.

In addition to being a mother to daughters Cassandra, 9, and Lisa, 8, Mrs. Hicks enjoys writing, flower arranging, wall crafts and outdoor sports. She is a member of the American Dietetic Association.

She was born in Grand Rapids, Mich., where she attended Junior College. She was graduated from Michigan State University in foods and nutrition and later did graduate work at Mills College, Oakland, Calif.

THE TRAIL DRIVER

1 cup smoke flavored barbecue sauce
12 ounces cooked roast beef, thinly sliced
6 enriched poppy seed hamburger buns, split
Butter
6 tablespoons creamy cole slaw
12 onion rings, thinly sliced

Simmer barbecue sauce 10 minutes. Add beef; simmer 30 minutes longer. Toast and butter buns. Place beef mixture on bun bottoms. Spready cole slaw on each; top with 2 onions rings and 3 dill pickle slices. Cover with bun top.

As top winner, Mrs. Hicks received a total of $1,000 - $500 for creating the best entry in the meat category, plus an additional $500 for having her sandwich judged "Best" in the contest.

The Art Guild Meets Sept.15

The Art Guild Club met Tuesday evening, Sept. 15, at the Martha Ann Woman's Club with fourteen members present. The meeting was hosted by Miss Ethel Mae Sturdivant.

Mrs. Raymond Williams spoke to the club on Drug Use and Abuse and the Menace of Drugs. She told of a school in Glen Cove, New York, which is being used as a pilot in teaching the dangers of Drug use. It has been found that drug education is most effective when started with the kindergarten age. Mrs. Williams also presented an informative film on drug abuse among teenagers, titled, "The Tuned-out Generation."

The meeting concluded with a business session and a discussion of plans for the new year.

Conductor Recalls Milk Shortage

DENVER (AP) — Edmund Siemers, who retired recently as a passenger train conductor for the Union Pacific Railroad, recalls he was conductor of a troop train from Portland, Ore., to Denver in 1943 when the milk supply gave out.

Rail officials telephoned a dairy at Montpelier, Idaho, to arrange for replenishment. The train waited at Montpelier until 4 a.m. when milking was finished and the milk hauled to the train in 10-gallon cans.

Siemers said most of the soldiers wouldn't drink it "because it was warm and they were used to pasteurized milk."

Lindberg's Journals Record Opposition To World War ll

THE WARTIME JOURNALS OF CHARLES A. LINDBERGH. Harcourt, Brace. $12.95.

In the first half of this 1,000-page, 400,000-word book the main theme is Lindbergh's opposition to America's entry into World War II.

It was the aviator's basic position that England and France were not prepared for a war against Germany, that "the German air fleet is stronger than that of all other European countries together," and that the United States was unprepared too.

Lindbergh lived abroad from 1935 to 1939, visited the military leaders of England, France and the Soviet Union, twice was invited by the Nazis to observe their air preparations, and accepted a decoration from Hitler. While in England he also consorted with an antiwar clique known as the Cliveden set.

He records that late in 1938 he suggested to the French that they buy some bombers from the Germans, and later privately sounded out the inspector-general of the Luftwaffe on the possibility of the French buying aircraft engines. It reads now like an utterly naive concept.

As late as February, 1939, he was writing that "The only cause I can see for a general war at this time would be if Germany declares one for retaliation for the last, and I do not think this is the case. Why should she try to move west at great expense when the Danube basin and the East are open to her desires. I look for Germany to 'dig in' on the western border and continue her eastward expansion."

The author details at length his activities (1939-1941) as one of the main leaders of the America First Committee, an isolationist organization under whose auspices he often spoke. Late in 1941 he aroused considerable criticism for his statement at an America First rally that there were "three major groups agitating for war—the British, the Jewish and the Roosevelt administration."

There are some curious omissions in this account. In some of his public appearances he shared the platform with such individuals as Gerald L.K. Smith and Father Charles E. Coughlin, but his diaries do not even mention their names.

In a letter written last December, which is quoted in the book's introduction, Lindbergh says, "We won the war in a military sense; but in a broader sense it seems to me we lost it, for our Western civilization is less respected and secure than it was before."

More than 150 pages of the diaries are devoted to the period when Lindbergh was civilian consultant to Ford Motor Co. in the manufacture of B-24 bombers, and this section is rather tedious. Later the action picks up when the flier, as a civilian technician for United Aircraft, flew a dive-bombing Corsair in the South Pacific. He was not supposed to engage in combat, but the military winked at the rule, and he downed one Japanese Zero.

Originally Lindbergh did not intend his journals to be made public during his lifetime, and under these circumstances, the opinions he recorded often were candid and uninhibited. But last year he changed his mind about publication. He also gives a great many minor details about his family life.

Historians will find some footnotes on the wartime period in these journals, but they will have to wade through a great many pages of trivia about who had lunch with whom, and what time it was that the the author took a taxi from a railroad station to an airport, or vice versa. This book would have been a lot easier to read if it had been cut in half.

West PTA Has Open House

The West Elementary PTA met Monday evening, Sept. 14, at 7:30 p.m. in the Speech Arts Room with the president, Mrs. Gary Roberts presiding. The Flag Ceremony was presented by Cub Pack No 37.

Bro. Raymond Hall presented a very inspirational and challenging devotional.

During the business meeting, a discussion was carried on at some length as to the possibility of air-conditioning the Snyder School Buildings. Those present unanimously agreed to take immediate action on a proposal. A petition was circulated during the meeting for the signatures of those interested and in favor of air conditioning. This petition will be circulated throughout the city to give all who are interrsted an opportunity to sign.

Mrs. James Heffernan gave a brief talk urging safety.

The teachers were introduced by Mr. Frank Miller, principal. Parents were invited to visit in their children's home room with their teacher at the conclusion of the program. The group reassembled in the cafeteria for an informal visit and refreshments served by Mrs. Bill Seale and Mrs. Bill Valentine.

Child car was provided by the Gay 20 Social Club.

ON THE HOUSE

By ANDY LANG

Of course, there's a lot of junk in and around your house.

BUT, if you want to sell your house, you'd better get rid of it before prospective purchasers make an appearance.

As any real estate broker knows, first impressions are important to people in the market for houses. Many a house that is structurally sound gets a thumbs-down response from a buyer because it didn't look right, either on the inside or the outside or both.

When a place has a neat appearance, the onlooker consciously or subconsciously assumes that it is in good condition in other respects. A shabby appearance gives the opposite impression. And the shabiness may be nothing more than a pile of junk in the backyard or an overloaded, messy clothes closet or a stove that doesn't seem to have been cleaned in weeks.

Even excess furniture, which most of us accumulate over the years, can have a poor effect on the onlooker. A living room crowded with too many chairs and tables can appear to be smaller than it is. Poor lighting can have a similar effect, even though you may feel that the subdued lighting provides a sophisticated atmosphere. Replacing some of those small wattage bulbs with larger ones can give a cheery appearance as well as opening up dark corners and creating the impression of more space.

These days people are more conscious than ever about maintenance costs, what with high interest rates and like. When they see something that is going to cost them money during the first few months of their residence, they tend to shy away from a purchase. For that reason, a house should be repainted before it is put on the market, assuming that it is in need of a new overcoat.

The repainting may be the very thing that will help to sell the house more quickly. And it need not be lost money, since the cost of the paint job, if made for the specific purpose of aiding the sale, can be added to expenses at income tax time.

BETWEEN RECESSION AND RECOVERY

Businessmen Are Now At The Crossroads

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Notes on the current state of the economy specifically about business at the crossroads between recession and recovery, the seasonal nature of the stock market and the extent of unemployment:

—If you've wondered why businessmen always must peer into the future, you have a good example at hand, because the profits go to the ones who accurately forecast the next—and maybe imminent—economic turn.

The specific questions now facing all types of businessmen is this: Should we stock up now on goods to sell in anticipation of buying strength in the next few months? Or should we wait until we're more certain?

The classic situation involving this decision occurred right after World War II. Some companies foresaw a return to the depressed conditions of the 1930s and so retrenched. Others foresaw the boom and had the goods to sell.

Businessmen currently appear to have decided on an upturn, because in July they added nearly $170 billion to their inventories, the biggest monthly gain of 1970.

But, there is no great amount of evidence that they expect the recovery to lead to a boom. More liked a mild advance.

—Will the stock market fall with the autmun leaves? It often has in the past. Although quite often also the market recovers before winter, the autumn slide is a confirmed cycle in the stock market.

Are such cycles mere statistical accidents? Hardly. They result either from mass anticipation of business changes that regularly take place or, more accurately, from how the public interprets these changes.

—The unemployment rate has now risen to 5.1 per cent of the civilian labor force and, it would appear, is headed higher.

Although it is no consolation at all to workers in areas where unemployment is much higher, such as in Seattle, Wash., and in the cores of many industrial cities, the figures may not be as bad as they appear.

Joblessness among married men, for example, is less than 3 per cent, although rising. And much of that plus-5 per cent rate is temporary, accounted for by seasonal workers and by others between jobs.

While it is likely that the basic unemployment rate will always be the chief criterion of the job market's health, another measure is quite often used by those who must analyze the situation more closely. This is the average duration of unemployment.

In 1969, the average length of unemployment was about 8 weeks, although it fell to about 7.5 weeks just one year ago. In the spring and early summer the duration grew, and reached more than 9 weeks in June.

However, this still leaves the average length less than in all but 11 or 12 of the past 16 years. In 1961, the average length of unemployment topped 16 weeks.

Ritter To Write Of Adventure

HONOLULU (AP) — Julian Ritter, rescued with another man and a girl after drifting seven weeks without food in his sailboat, says he is going to write a book about the near-fatal Pacific adventure.

But first he is going to sell the 45-foot vessel, the Gaililee, found with its starving crew by the Navy ship Niagara on Monday 422 miles northwest of Honolulu.

"It's served its purpose and now I want very badly to sell it," Julian Ritter told newsmen Wednesday.

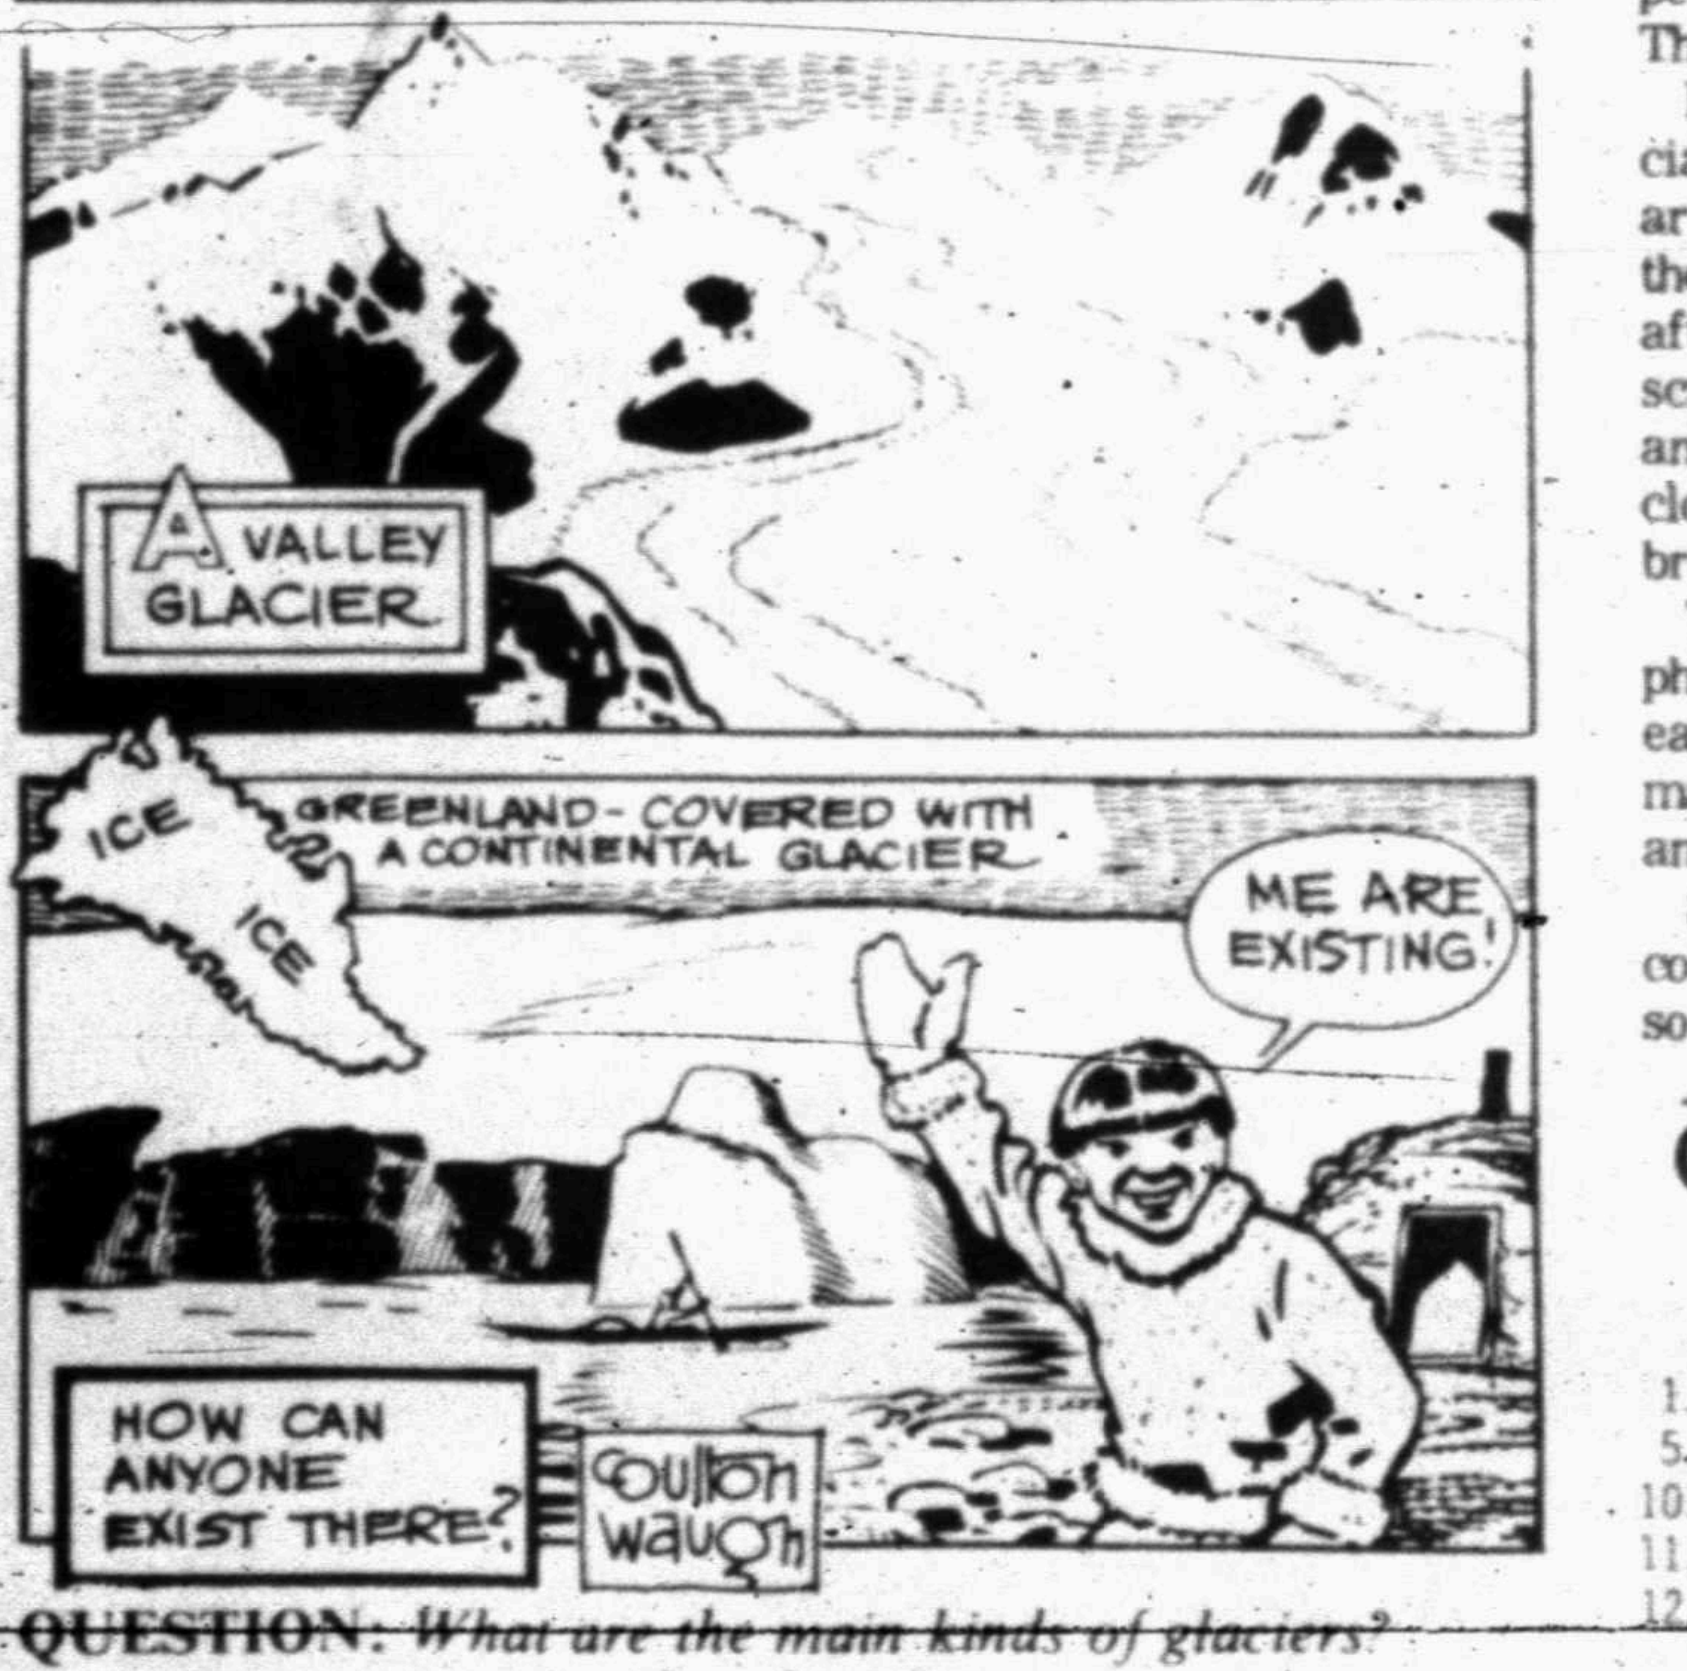
A Coast Guard cutter was expected to arrive in Pearl Harbor Thursday with the boat in tow.

Ritter, 61, and his two emaciated crew members told on arrival at Pearl Harbor how they stayed alive for 49 days, after their supplies ran out, by scraping algae from the hull and boiling it with nutmeg, cloves and cinnamon to make a broth.

They also devoured a large philodendron and an elephant ear plant in the ship's cabin and managed to catch six flying fish and two squid.

Shortly before the rescue they could no longer keep the algae soup down.

Junior Editors Quiz on GLACIERS



A VALLEY GLACIER
ICE
GREENLAND - COVERED WITH A CONTINENTAL GLACIER ME ARE EXISTING!
HOW CAN ANYONE EXIST THERE?
Coulton Waugh

QUESTION: What are the main kinds of glaciers?

ANSWER: Can you imagine a huge river winding down from high mountains — a river not of water, but of ice? Such an ice river is a valley glacier, occuring in a climate so cold as to be above the snow line, that is, in an area where only snow falls. In these supercold regions, the snow piles up and presses down and the lower layers turn into ice. The enormous weight of this ice causes layers to slip over each other, and so a valley glacier begins to wind down, moving at several feet a day. Another form of glacier is created when ice sheets cover land masses which lie so far to north or south that even if the land is more or less flat, it lies above the snow line. And so it becomes covered with a continental glacier. Such glaciers cover Antarctica to the far south and Greenland to the north. The Greenland glacier is fed by snowfall over its entire surface and the ice moves out in all directions from the thickest part. When the Greenland glacier meets the sea, huge chunks are broken off and float away as iceburgs. The few people in Greenland live on a bare strip along the coast, catching fish and seals. It's a life with very few luxuries, yet they seem happy and contented.

Columnist Opens Mail And Learns

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know [illegible] he didn't open his mail:

If you want to make mosquitoes keep their distance, eat a plate of snails with garlic butter. The mosquitoes didn't mind the snails, but they can't stand garlic particularly at close quarters.

It's a waste of time worrying that you may be hit by a "falling star." Astronomers have calculated that an object as big as the entire continent of North America is likely to be struck by a meteorite 100-inches or more ide only about once in 50,000 years.

We might all live longer if we spent more money trying to find out how to. Specialists estimate that a major biomedical research program could increase healthful life expectancy by five to 15 years, but the amount now spent per person on such research is about eight cents a year—the price of a single candy bar.

What should a mother do if her child tries to get its way by holding its breath until it turns blue, faints or even goes into convulsions: The best attitude she can take is one of "purposeful neglect," says a Johns Hopkins Hospital specialist. Such tantrums by the child don't do physical harm to it, he says, and can best be disregarded unless the family wants to submit to being dominated by these tactics.

Delivery problems: Biting dogs are a bane of U.S. mailmen, but those of other countries have worse perils, notes the National Geographic Society. Camels chew on Egyptian mailmen, jaguars ambush Brazilian mailmen, one in the Tongan Islands was browsed on by a shark, and a few years ago Afghanistan suspended rural deliveries because too many mailmen were dined on by leopards.

Cutting it short: one reason people put on weight may be because their intestines are too long. Three Danish surgeons reported to an international medical convention that they had caused 10 excessively fat women to lose up to 300 pounds—and keep it off—by operations which removed a section of their intestines, thus lessening the amount of food they absorbed.

It was Josh Billings who observed, "I never knew a man who lived on hope but what spent his old age at somebody else's expense."

New Car Prices Up

DETROIT (AP) — New car shoppers will find sticker prices up an average $153 on 1971 Ford and Lincoln-Mercury automobiles when they go on sale today.

Ford was the first automaker to announce its full range of prices for 1971s, and the increase averages 4.6 per cent. If the industry follows suit, this year's jump would be the highest since an average 7.17 per cent on 1957 models.

Ford also said Wednesday rising material costs and a new wage contract yet to be negotiated with the United Auto Workers may require a subsequent adjustment, obviously meaning upward.

The standard six-cylinder, four-door Ford sedan goes up from $2,771 to $2,908, the Mercury Monterey, four-door hardtop from $3,248 to $3,410, the Thunderbird two-door hardtop from $4,961 to $5,206, the Lincoln Continental four-door sedan from $6,787 to $7,131 and the two-door coupe from $6,552 to $6,884, the Mark III from $7,857 to $8,253.

Lamar 8th Falls 28-0

BIG SPRING — Lamar 8th grade fell a 28-0 victim to Big Spring Runnels in its opening football skirmish of the season. It was the second game for the hosts.

The young Texans just made too many mistakes to stay in the ball game. Runnels took a 16-0 halftime lead and increased it to 28-0 in the second half.

A few of the Texans were outstanding. Fullback Rick Howell was the leading rusher and quarterback Sammy Harrell did a good job of running. Defensively, Jerry Derrick, Eddie Rollins, Win Bunch and Bernie Weems were outstanding.

Lamar 8th hosts Sweetwater at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday.

Mo Valley Teams Face Tough Foes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Memphis State and North Texas State tackle two of the country's most productive football machines this weekend as the Missouri Valley Conference attempts to beef up its puny nonconference record.

It's the season opener for the defending champion Tigers and a sellout crowd of 50,160 will be on hand Saturday night in Memphis Memorial Stadium for the visit of Heisman Trophy candidate Archie Manning and the Ole Miss Rebels.

Memphis State coach Billy "Spook" Murphy enters the 1970 season with the 12th best coaching percentage in the nation. Mississippi coach Johnny Vaught is ranked fourth. Ole Miss knocked off the Tigers 28-3 last year.

Murphy has decided on Steve Leech as his quarterback, saying "We're convinced Steve can get the job done."

The defense has received special emphasis for the Ole Miss tussle.

Defensive coach Bill Jasper says "The defensive unit has worked real hard this fall. They have had to learn a lot in a short time. They've known from the beginning what their weaknesses were and have really worked together as a unit."

The battle cry for the defense in practice is the key to the game: "Stop No. 18." That's the number Manning, one of the top quarterbacks in America, wears.

North Texas is faced with stopping the San Diego State Aztecs Saturday night at Fouts Field. And that's not easy. San Diego hasn't lost in its last 23 games—the only mar on the record being a 13-13 tie with Tennessee State in 1968.

San Diego State defeated the Eagles 42-24 last year.

Coach Rod Rust of the Mean Green said "Crazy as it may sound, I still think we have a chance. Our reason for adding the 11th game was to get them on the field early and see who could play under game pressure. (The Eagles lost last week 10-7 to (Brigham Young). It may not have been a competitive or artistic success, but we most certainly learned a lot."

Some 20,000 persons are expected to attend the Aztec game.

In other games, Tulsa is at Idaho State and the Hurricane should chalk up its second victory of the season after a 7-3 season opening victory over Cincinnati; Wichita State, which lost 41-14 to Texas A&M, hosts Arkansas State; and Louisville is at Southern Illionios.

The junior varsity Kittens don't go into action until tomorrow. They will be at Colorado City for a 7 p.m. contest Saturday.

Lamar 9th Rips Brahmas 22-6

BIG SPRING — Lamar 9th grade bounced back from its loss at Lamesa last week with a convincing 22-6 decision over the Big Spring Brahmas Thursday night.

John Boren scored the first touchdown with a 4-yard burst over tackle in the first quarter. It capped about a 40-yard drive in which Jimmy Price, Angel Reyes and Boren took turns lugging the leather. Boren had set up good field position by punting out on the two.

The Brahmas drove 60 yards in the second period and tied up the score on a 2-yard end sweep.

Late in the first half, Tim Jones, Lamar quarterback, went around end for five yards and another touchdown. Jones had hit Boren on a 20 yard pass to set up the tally. Boren, Price and Randy Golden collected most of the yardage in this march. Boren went across for two bonus points and Lamar held a 14-6 halftime lead.

In the third quarter, Jones passed 35 yards to Boren at the seven. After a coouple of dive plays, Jones sneaked over from the three and Price sliced over tackle for the two extra points.

Lamar substituted freely in the fourth quarter, but Big Spring just couldn't muster a scoring punch. Lamar held them on the 13 and again on the one yard line when an interference call in the end zone gave the hosts their best chance to score again.

Jones and Boren were both outstanding offensively, and Boren did a good job of punting. Defensively, Jones, Grant Knipe, Steve Grimmett, Jerry Webb and Robert Hernandez looked good.

Orioles Win East Flag

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Champagne flowed in the losers' clubhouse at Washington, while Cleveland's biggest winner treated himself to a short beer.

The Baltimore Orioles celebrated their second successive American League East championship Thursday night, despite a 2-0 loss to the lowly Senators, with a traditional bubbly bath. They had clinched the title when Boston beat the second-place New York Yankees 5-4 in a 10-inning afternoon game.

At Cleveland, Sudden Sam McDowell subdued Detroit 6-2 to become a 20-game winner for the first time in seven major league season, then took one quick sip of champagne to accomodate a photographer before switching to more pedestrian brew.

"I'd rather drink beer," said the 6-foot-5 southpaw, passing the champagne bottle. "I've been drinking beer all year long."

In other American League games, Minnesota moved closer to the West Division title with a 4-3 victory over California and Milwaukee nipped Kansas City 4-3 in 13 innings.

In the National League, Philadelphia nipped Pittsburgh 3-2; St. Louis pounded the Chicago Cubs 9-2; Houston slammed Los Angeles 10-5 and San Francsico nudged San Diego 4-3.

The Orioles were riding a bus from Baltimore to Washington when Tom Satriano's run-scoring single in the 10th inning at New York broke a 3-3 deadlock and mathematically eliminated the second-place Yankees.

"Next year, we're going to try and win it ourselves," said Frank Robinson, recalling that Baltimore also had clinched the division title in 1969 without taking the field.

Then the Senators, who had postponed the inevitable Wednesday night with a 2-0 victory over Baltimore, repeated the shutout count behind Dick Bosman's five-hitter. But Earl Weaver's defending AL kings shrugged off the run famine and quenched their thirst in a post-game party more lively than the 1969 affair.

"The first half of the season is over," proclaimed Coach Billy Hunter. "The next half starts in October."

McDowell, whose previous victory high was 18 last season, checked the Tigers on seven hits and struck out nine, boosting his major league lead to 293 strikeouts. Rookie Roy Foster knocked in three Cleveland runs with a single and his 22nd homer.

"This is great," said McDowell, who was making his first start since last Sunday. "It's something I've always wanted, but to be honest, it was a very poor game for me.

"At the beginning I was trying to make every pitch too perfect. Then, when we got some runs, I just went at them. It's easy to win when you get six runs. My teammates won my 20th for me."

Leo Cardenas delivered two Minnesota runs with a single and triple; Tony Oliva picked up his 100th RBI of the season with a double and Jim Perry gained his 23rd victory with relief help from Stan Williams as the Twins squeezed past the Angels and lowered their magic number to six in the AL West.

"If those last six are like this one I might be crazy to come back next year," said Manager Bill Rigney, who was offered a 1971 contract by Twins President Calvin Griffith before the game. "We had to win that one. Let's win it. Let's not back in."

The Brewers shaded the Royals at Milwaukee as Ted Kubiak, given a reprieve when Rich Severson dropped his foul pop for an error with two out and the bases loaded in the 13th, drilled the tie-breaking single.

Idle Reds Cop Crown

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Mets have discovered the knack of gaining ground in the topsy, turvy National League East race. They simply don't play.

The Mets took the day off Thursday and consequently couldn't lose. The same couldn't be said of first place Pittsburgh and third place Chicago. The Pirates and Cubs foolishly showed up for their games and lost, allowing the Mets to gain ground on both of them.

Philadelphia knocked off Pittsburgh 3-2, cutting the Pirates' lead to 1½ games over New York. The Cubs bowed to St. Louis 9-2 and remained two games behind.

Elsewhere in the National League Thursday, San Francisco nipped San Diego 4-3 and Houston whipped Los Angeles 10-5, eliminating the Dodgers and clinching the West Division race for idle Cincinnati.

In the American League, Baltimore clinched the East Division title when Boston edged second place New York 5-4 in 10 innings, eliminating the last challenger, The Orioles were shut out for the second straight night by Washington, 2-0, Cleveland rapped Detroit 6-2, Minnesota edged California 4-3 and Milwaukee edged Kansas City 4-3 in 13 innings.

Traditionally, pennant races are described in terms of the "all-important loss column." If you're a traditionalist, the Pirates have a two-game edge there. But in this race, it seems that it's the all-important won column. The NL East contenders find it's easy to lose. But winning. Ah, winning has become quite a job for them.

Over the last nine games, for example, first place Pittsburgh is 4-5 — the same as second place New York. Chicago has charged into contention with a 5-4 mark over the same period,

The Pirates fell victim to a suicide squeeze bunt against the Phillies, spoiling the comeback of Dock Ellis, who made his first start in seven weeks.

Ellis was leading 2-1 when he was lifted after six innings of work. Don Money walked with one out against reliever John Lamb and then scooted home with the tying run on Ron Stone's triple.

Pinch hitter Terry Harmon followed with the squeeze bunt as Stone carried the winning run home.

The Pirates threatened in the eighth when Gene Clines opened with a double, his third hit of the game, and Jose Pagan followed with a single. But Clines was cut down at the plate on Scott Reid's throw to preserve the victory for the Phillies.

The Cubs, meanwhile, absorbed a 22-hit pounding at the hands of the Cardinals with Joe Torre, Lou Brock and Luis Melendez collecting four apiece.

Torre had a triple, two doubles and a single, completing the three-game series with 10 hits in 13 at bats. In 15 games against the Cubs this year, Torre is batting .554. Melendez had four straight singles and Brock two doubles and two singles.

The race resumes tonight with the Pirates in New York—a game one of the teams will probably win—and the Cubs in Montreal for a twi-night doubleheader.

Bobby Heise drove in three runs with a pair of singles, leading San Francisco past San Diego. Nate Colbert and Ivan Murrell homered for the Padres.

Bob Watson's grand slam homer capped a six-run Houston explosion in the seventh inning that carried the Astros past the Dodgers. Denis Menke had a two-run shot for Houston.

The victory wiped out the last chance for any team to catch the Reds, who have been runaway leaders in the West Division all season.

Toros Defeat Travis 20-16

After three exciting quarters of play, Travis 9th grade and the Big Spring Toros played a game of fumbles in the last quarter and the visitors won, walking away with a 20-16 decision.

The fourth quarter opened with Travis in command 16-7, but the Toros put on a long drive with Glen Carlton making a long run. Quarterback Tom Sorley rolled left for more yardage, then Earl Reynolds swept right end from the five to narrow the gap to 16-12 with 6:02 rremaining. The margin was cut farther when Reynolds ran over for the two bonus points.

After an exchange of punts, the Toros drove to the Travis seven yard line where they fumbled with 2:35 remaining. However, Travis drew a penalty on the play and the Toros got another chance from the three. They fumbled again and Travis came up with the ball with 1:39 remaining. But, alas, the hosts fumbled with 1:25 left, and the Toros scored on a pass play to go ahead 20-16. Travis couldn't move and the visitors ran out the last 55 seconds on the clock.

Travis had gone ahead with two long touchdown runs in the 3rd period. Hubert Crayton chalked up an 80 yard TD run with 6:45 left, and Adam Rodriguez turned in a 90 yard touchdown romp with 3:48 remaining. Mickey Gonzales kicked point after Cryaton's TD.

Earlier, with 5:44 remaining in the first quarter, Gonzales had kicked a 25 yard field goal to put Travis ahead 3-0.

Big Spring had taken the lead 6-3 when Reynolds, clearly the fastest man on the field, swept around right end from 15 yards out. He also set up the tally with a long end sweep.

Travis played valiantly, but they simply fell victim to the fumble bug.

SWC Teams Plan Busy Weekend

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The 1970 debut of the defending national champion Texas Longhorns heads a busy slate of Southwest Conference football activity this weekend with intersectional foes from coast-to-coast providing the opposition.

Texas has won 20 consecutive games and rates a three-touchdown pick over California in Austin for the 4 p.m. game before 55,000 fans.

In other games, Baylor is at Army, SMU is at Tennessee, Texas Christian is at Purdue and Texas Tech is at Kansas in day games while Oklahoma State plays Arkansas at Little Rock, Virginia Military Institute is at Rice, and Texas A&M is at Louisiana State in night battles.

The SWC is 3-3 against outside foes in the early going.

Coach Darrell Royal of the Longhorns unleashes All-American fullback Steve Worster and running back Jim Bertelsen on the Bears who dropped a 3-24 decision to Oregon last week.

The key to the Longhorn's hopes for another repeat national title is quarterback Eddie Phillips, who will be starting his first game after being the understudy to James Street Mr. Undefeated.

Royal says of Phillips: "His mechanics and execution are just as good as James Street's. All he hasn't done is direct a winner."

California has never scored on Texas in losing three games to the 'Horns, including a 17-0 decision last year. The Texas defense must be wary of blazing sophomore sprinter Isaac Curtis, who has 9.3 speed.

Scout David McWilliams said California is "bigger and quicker than last year."

The new-look Texas Tech Red Raiders also play a team that has never managed to get their number. Tech is 3-0 against the Jayhawks.

New Red Raider mentor Jim Carlen said "We know that Kansas has a tough football team with excellent personnel and it will take a top effort from us to beat them. Their running back John Riggins is one of the top runners in the country."

Kansas knocked off Washington State 48-3 in its opener while Tech downed Tulane 21-14.

Quarterback Charles Napper's leadership and defensive back Ken Perkins have been the bright spots for the Red Raiders. Kickoff is 1:30 p.m. before some 40,000.

Texas Christian tries out its bruising ground game on Purdue at 1:30 p.m. in Lafayette, Ind. Junior Bobby Davis of the Horned Frogs piled up an impressive 247-yards last week against UT-Arlington in a 31-7 victory. A crowd of 60,000 is expected in Ross-Ade Stadium. Purdue won last year's meeting 42-35.

A crowd of 50,000 is expected for the first meeting between SMU and Tennessee. The Volunteers' new pro-style defensive alignment will get a stiff test from Mustang quarterback Chuck Hixson, who became the first collegian ever to complete more than 500 passes in a career in last week's 28-11 loss to Oklahoma. It's the first game for new Vol coach Bill Battle. Kickoff is 1 p.m.

Baylor coach Bill Beall hopes for his first victory against Army which opened the season with a 26-0 victory over Holy Cross. The Bears have lost 11 straight games under Beall. A crowd of 25,000 is expected for the 1 p.m. kickoff.

The young Texas Aggies, fresh from a 41-14 rout of Wichita State, tangle with seasoned LSU in a 7:30 p.m. kickoff in Baton Rouge. The Tigers won 35-6 last year. LSU holds a 19-11-3 edge in the series with the Tigers owning the last 10 games. Quarterback Lex James and running back Brad Dusek are the Aggie offensive threats.

Rice opens the season on the new astroturf of refurbished Rice Stadium in a 7:30 p.m. kickoff with VMI, 13-0 victor over Furman last week. The Keydets have a new veer-option offense and hope to avoid last year's disaster—55-0—in Houston.

Arkansas tries to comeback from its bitter 34-28 loss to Stanford on national television last week. Both quarterbacks Bill Montgomery and Joe Ferguson will see action for the Razorbacks who hold a 22-12-1 edge in the series. Kickoff is 7:30 p.m. before a sellout crowd of 55,000 in War Memorial Stadium in Little Rock.

Here's how the oddsmakers rate the games:

Texas plus 21 over California; Arkansas plus 21 over Oklahoma State; Kansas plus 7 over Texas Tech; Purdue plus 13 over TCU; Army plus 13 over Baylor; LSU plus 17 over A&M; Tennessee plus 17 over SMU and Rice is such a heavy favorite over VMI no odds are quoted.

Richey Puts Down Ashe

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Davis Cup star Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., defeated fellow star Arthur Ashe, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2 in the opening night of the Marriott Tennis Classic Thursday in Northwestern University's McGraw Hall.

In the curtain raiser, Margaret Court of Australia defeated Richey's sister, Nancy, 1-6, 7-5, 6-0. Mrs, Court was winner of the U.S. Open at Forest Hills, N.Y., last week.

In the mixed doubles match which closed the bill, Ashe and Mrs. Court defeated the Richeys in straight sets, 6-2, 6-1.

Travis 8th Rips B.S. Goliad 12-0

Travis 8th grade bested Goliad 12-0 in an exciting Junior High football contest held in Tiger Stadium yesterday.

The Blue Devils struck for two quick touchdowns in the first half, then coasted to victory. Greg Gafford tossed a 12-yard touchdown pass to Robert Alderete for the first Travis score. The TD capped a 60 yard drive.

Welton Cobb shook loose on a 62 yard touchdown run for the next Travis tally.

Big Spring tried an onside kick opening the third period and it worked, but a fumble halted them deep in Travis territory. David Wilson came up with the recovery. Goliad threatened again when a 15-yard penalty and a partially blocked punt gave them good field position, but another fumble wiped out the threat.

Errors also were costly to both teams in the fourth period.

Travis collected 146 yards total offense. Welton Cobb led defenders with 21 tackles. Robert Ramirez had seven and Danny Brumley and Larry Johns each had six tackles.

But now thanks to the low-cost electricity supplied by the Midwest Electric Cooperative and 76 other member-owned electric systems in the state there's electricity in the bunkhouse . . . showers . . . electric heat . . . air conditioning . . . Panel Okays 3 Textbooks

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Textbook Committee has approved three high school world history textbooks criticized at a hearing for their approaches to such topics as communism and evolution.

Thursday's action followed a hearing Tuesday before the committee.

Once approved by the State Board of Education, the books would be eligible for selection by local school districts.

Two non-controversial books round out the list of five recommended world history books from which districts could choose.

The controverted textbooks are "A Global History of Man," published by Allyn and Bacon; "Man's Cultural Heritage," Lippincott; and "Living World History," Scott Foresman.

The approved books that were not criticized at the hearing are "Shaping of Western Society and Tradition and Change in Four Societies," Holt, Rinehart and Winston, and "Exploring World History," Globe.

Mrs. Mel Gabler, Longview, a frequent critic of textbooks, asserted at the hearing Tuesday that "A Global History of Man" would be "much, much more appropriate in a class on propaganda than in world history."

The book also was attacked by Mrs. Charles Baker of Sanger, textbook committee chairman for the Texas Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Baker also criticized "Man's Cultural Heritage," saying, among other things, that it preached evolution and gave a "somewhat slanted" view of South Africa.

"This text parrots the opinions of others while ignoring the great deal of progress, happiness, personal security and improved personal standards of living enjoyed by all its (South Africa's) citizens without the interference of outside pressures," she claimed.

"Living World History" was criticized by Mrs. Gabler, who suggested that "if it is deemed necessary to retain conjectures about prehistory ... scientific evidence in support of sudden creation be included in an amount equivalent to that used in support of faith in the philosophy of evolution."

Unemployment Benefits Extended By New Law

AUSTIN (AP) — A new federal law will provide unemployment coverage for 400,000 additional Texans, the Texas Employment Commission said Thursday.

This will amount to the biggest one-step increase in coverage since the start of the federal-state unemployment insurance program.

Also, the commission said, 100,000 more employers will be liable for unemployment insurance taxes.

The changes go into effect Jan. 1, 1972.

The law provides for the payment of extended unemployment insurance up to a maximun of 13 weeks in times of high unemployment. The government will pay half the extended benefits. Extended benefits will be paid once regular benefits are exhausted.

In Texas, about 100,000 jobs in non-profit organizations are added to coverage. Employees of a church, association of churches, or school other than institutions of higher education are not covered.

More than 183,000 Texas jobs in small business are covered by defining an employer as one who employs one or more workers in 20 separate weeks in a year, or an employer who has a payroll of $1,500 in a calendar quarter.

Jobs in state hospitals and state institutions of higher education in Texas totaling about 88,000 come under coverage.

Faculty, research and administrative employees of institutions of higher education are not eligible for benefits during the summer vacation if they have a contract to resume work after the vacation.

An estimated 10,000 agent drivers and outside salesmen in Texas, formerly excluded from coverage as being self-employed, will be brought under coverage by changing the definition of "employee."

As many as 9,000 Texas workers in agricultural processing will be eligible for benefits,

The bill does not cover farm workers, clients in sheltered workshops, certain students or their spouses, or minors engaged in work-study programs.

About 8,000 jobs held by United States citizens, residents of Texas, employed by American employers outside the United States will be covered, except for service performed in Canada and the Virgin Islands.

To finance the extended coverage, the law raises from $3,000 to $4,200 the wage base for unemployment tax, beginning in 1972 and hikes the net federal tax of .4 per cent of covered payroll to .5 per cent, retroactive to Jan. 1, 1970.

The new law provides for an unemployment compensation research program to give priority research on farm coverage; for federal grants to train unemployment compensation personnel; and for a federal advisory council on unemployment compensation to review and suggest improvements in the federal-state unemployment insurance program.

Be still

"And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness." Genesis 1:26.

Sometimes the image of God is hewn of marble, lovely and white
Sometimes it is cut in ebony—
  sable like starless midnight.
But whether the image is darkened or far more than passing fair,
It only matters that God has given a lasting impression there.

Prisoners' Letters Returned

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. Customs officials say they have returned a package of 379 letters from American prisoners of war in North Vietnam, which was seized from a peace-movement courier at Kennedy Airport.

The package, taken by Customs agents as an undeclared item Wednesday night, was made available Thursday night to courier Robert Scheer, officials said.

Scheer and other members of the U.S. Peoples Anti-Imperialist Delegation said they obtained the letters during a Southeast Asian trip.

Scheer said he was going to distribute them to the prisoners' families,

The letters were seized, Scheer said, by Customs men who took him to a private room, threatened to search him, and "treated me like a common criminal."

His group filed suit in U.S. District Court seeking the return of 9,000 feet of motion picture film shot in North Korea and of two seven-inch reels of audio tape, which they said also were seized by Customs agents.

STRIVE for PEACE

"Try to be at peace with all men" (Hebrews 12:14).

We are forever talking of peace, but we continue to quarrel. We think we must fight. We demonstrate with hate and destruction as our motivating force. How shall I change it? What is my next step? How do I become a real peace maker? The Scriptures clearly give the message. "Thou shalt love thy brother." Then, if I am serious, I must answer. I must put love in place of hate. I must frankly face the fact that I actually hate or despise another man who also is a son of God. That is my sin. Immediately I must look into his life and discover some good . . . I must love him.

Do not hate a Democrat, or Republican, or a Black man, or a White man, or a Jew, Catholic, or Protestant. Other people love those guys, why can't I? I too must discover some good which I don't know about, if I am to set myself free of hate. Then, I must seriously set out to live Hebrews 12:14.
