Notorious Desperado Captured In Surprise Attack

Harve Bailey Awakes To Find Ugly Looking Machine Gun In Face; Named In Major Crimes

Escaped Convict Identified As Gunman In Brutal Massacre At Kansas City And Is Wanted In Kidnaping Of Urschel; Sleeps With Machine Gun, Automatic Rifle And Pistol

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Aug. 14.—Identified as the leader in two of the nation's recent major crimes, the Kansas City union station massacre of five men and the $200,000 ransom kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel, millionaire Oklahoma City oil man, Harvey J. Bailey, escaped Kansas convict, was in federal custody in jail here tonight.

Bailey was taken by surprise early last Saturday morning as he slept on a cot in the back yard of a farmhouse seven miles south of Paradise, Wise county hamlet, but the federal department of justice agents who took him did not reveal the important capture until today. First announcement came from Homer Cummings, the attorney general, at Washington.

Regular Passing Of Airplane Over A Lonely Wise County Farm House, Where Urschel Was Held, Results In Capture

FORT WORTH, Aug. 14—The regular passing of an airplane over a lonely Wise county farm house where Charles Urschel, wealthy Oklahoma oil man, was held captive, resulted in the capture of Harvey Bailey, Kansas desperado, it was revealed today.

When Urschel was released by kidnapers, after the payment of $200,000 ransom, he told department of justice agents that each morning at 9:15 o'clock and each afternoon at 5:45 o'clock he heard an airplane overhead.

On one Sunday morning, he said, the airplane did not pass. He made a note of that and the day.

Air line schedules were checked. Although officers first believed the rendezvous was somewhere in Oklahoma, they discovered by checking the time element—that it must have been on the route of American Airways planes flying between Amarillo and Fort Worth, and that it must be near this city.

They checked department of commerce weather data. They checked daily reports of the pilots and of the ground radio operators. And they discovered that on the day Urschel had not heard the plane, the pilot had been forced to swerve slightly from his course because of bad weather conditions.

With that development it was comparatively simple to circle an area in which the house must have been located.

Sleeps With Guns

Alongside him on the cot Bailey had a machine gun, an automatic rifle and an automatic pistol, but when he was awakened it was with the muzzle of a machine gun in the hands of Gus Jones, head of the San Antonio office of the department of justice, prodding him in the abdomen.

Bailey made no effort at resistance, although Jones said, he was the calmest prisoner he ever arrested.

"An early morning raid by special agents of the division of investigation, United States department of justice, assisted by city detectives from the Dallas and Fort Worth police departments, on Aug. 12 upon a house in a remote section of Texas, about seven miles south of the town of Paradise, resulted not only in the solution of the Charles F. Urschel kidnaping case of Oklahoma City, Okla., but in the apprehension of the principal in the murder of a special agent of this division and three police officers by machine gun fire at the union station of Kansas City, Mo., on June 17" said a written official statement from the Dallas office of the department of justice.

Convict Was Slain

Frank Nash, an escaped convict being returned to prison, also was slain in the Kansas City fusillade.

Everything From Floggings In Public For Criminals To Rule By Military Forces Advocated

Notable Line Of Police And Prison Experts Give Views On Methods To Stamp Out Racketeering; "Scotland Yard" In America Proposed; "20 Lashes With 20 Years" Urged

By MORRIS WATSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Everything from public flogging for criminals to martial law was seriously urged upon the senate sub-committee on racketeering today as it held its first open regional meeting.

A notable line of police and prison experts gave their views to Senator Royal S. Copeland, chairman of the committee, and virtually all of them were agreed drastic criminal reforms were necessary to stamp out rackets.

Warden Lewis E. Lawes of Sing Sing prison wanted not only immediate martial law, but virtual elimination of state lines with full police powers conferred upon the federal government.

Former Police Commissioner Edward P. Mulrooney of New York City advocated "20 lashes with 20 years" for hardened criminals.

Senator Copeland laid emphasis throughout the hearing on an American "Scotland Yard." He asked every witness if he favored such a bu-

Bread Prices Over Country To Be Probed

Figures Are Being Assembled To Show Consumers Whether They Are Paying Too Much For Their Foods

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP) — Bread prices which appear to be too high are to be investigated in a number of cities by the farm adjustment administration.

At the same time, figures are being assembled to show consumers whether they are paying too much for other foods.

Announce Results

Announcing the results of the first of a series of studies of retail prices, Dr. Fred J. Howe, consumers' counsel for the administration, said that while the bread prices in 16 cities were satisfactory as a whole, investigation would be made of some of the marked differences shown.

A study of cotton textile prices, now being made, probably will be the second report in the series designed to prevent profiteering at the expense of consumers.

Increase Reported

Howe said the bread study showed the price of a pound loaf of white bread in the 16 cities had increased only 1.4 cents in the period from February 15 to August 2, while the actual cost in 18 cities was 7.8 cents as compared to 6.4 cents in 16 of them last February.

Some marked differences, however, which may be the subject of inquiry, included prices in Mobile and San Francisco which showed prices on August 2 of 9 and 9.3 cents, respectively, for a pound loaf as compared to a 6.5 cent price in Dallas on the same date.

The greatest price spreads in the February 15 to August 2 period, however, were shown in Cincinnati, which had an increase estimated at 2.5 cents, and Memphis at 2.1.

El Paso Man Lodges Charges Against Six Residents Of Dallas; Prosecution, Conspiracy Are Cited

(By The Associated Press)

EL PASO, Aug. 14.—H. D. Mollohan of El Past today filed suit in 41st district court against six wealthy Dallas men for $350,000 damages.

He named as defendants O. S. Boggess and J. L. and J. M., John T., Joseph L., and R. Wilson Higginbotham, independent executors of the estate of R. W. Higginbotham. He alleged malicious prosecution.

Deportation Is Told

He alleged a conspiracy succeeded in having him deported from Mexico, where he had been a resident for 20 years.

It was while in Mexico he entered into an agreement with the Higginbothams in connection with ranching operations, he alleged, in 1927 there was a desire to eliminate him, he said.

Valued At $85,000

He valued his interest in the ranching operation at $85,000 and said that in September, 1927, he came to El Paso with J. L. Higginbotham, who offered to pay him $84,000 to be evidenced by nine promissory notes and payment was to be guaranteed by a separate contract to be signed by J. M. and R. W. Higginbotham of Dallas, he alleged.

The deal was completed and

Three Dallas Residents Are Badly Shaken In Car Mishap

CLOVIS, N. M., Aug. 14. (AP)—Mrs. Mary T. Hallam, her daughter Francis, and Mrs. R. Cowder, all of Dallas, were badly shaken up when their automobile overturned three miles east of here today.

Mrs. Hallam was cut on the leg by flying glass but was not seriously injured. Her companions escaped with minor bruises. The three women were enroute to Santa Fe, N. M., when a tire blew out throwing the car from the road.

Missing Member Of Negro Trio Is Found In Hiding

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Aug. 14. (AP)—With bullet wounds in his hip and leg, Elmore Clark, missing member of the negro trio seized by a mob Saturday night, was found hiding tonight and brought to jail here. A new mob was reported forming and troops were being hurried here for his protection.

Immediately after the reported finding of Clark, Judge Henry Foster appealed to Governor B. M. Miller in Montgomery for troops to protect the negro. The governor ordered the request complied with immediately. Members of the national guard in Tuscaloosa were being mobilized.

Light Vote Is Forecast As Oklahomans Trek To Polls

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 14. (AP)—Last minute appeals were made by opposing forces tonight as Oklahoma prepared to vote tomorrow on three tax measures—one a constitutional amendment.

Observers predicted a light vote, probably between 200,000 and 300,000.

TROOPS ON REVIEW

PALACIOS, Aug. 14. (AP)—Passing in review before Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, the 36th division of the Texas national guard at Camp Hulen today went through its first complete divisional parade without horses.

Major Gen. John A. Hulen escorted the governor and her husband, former Governor James E. Ferguson, to the reviewing stand with the divisional staff grouped in the background.

American Destroyer Stands By In Havana Harbor To Protect Residents; Thousands Cheer Inaugural Address

By J. P. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Correspondent

HAVANA, Aug. 14.—Strong measures to curb lawlessness were taken today by the Cuban government as a new cabinet was sworn in and Dr. Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, the provional president, pleaded for a return of normal conditions.

The U. S. navy destroyer Claxton, one of the two naval craft ordered to Havana by President Roosevelt Sunday for the protection of American life and property, sailed tonight for the naval base at Guantanamo. The destroyer Taylor remained in the harbor.

Dispatches from Santiago said that a third destroyer, the Hamilton, ordered to Manzanillo, had landed sailors there today.

Estates Are Sacked

Two of the counrty estates of Gerardo Machado, who fled into exile when his regime collapsed, were sacked. One was at the eastern end of the island near Santiago and the other near this city.

To combat the looting, arson and bloodshed which followed upon the overthrow of the Machado government, a military edict was issued banning manifestations and parades. The carrying of arms was prohibited and troops were ordered to fire on those violating public order.

A plea of De Cespedes to unite that "no one may doubt, in the future, our democracy's capacity for self government," was contained in an inaugural address delivered

Amarillo Man Is Killed In Crash

SUPERIOR, Ariz., Aug. 14 (AP)—M. M. Seufert, of Amarillo, was injured fatally and Ed Manning, also of Amarillo, was seriously hurt in a truck accident fifteen miles northeast of here today.

Seufert died after he had been brought here for medical aid.

Manning's skull was fractured and his condition was considered critical. Sheriff's officers said Seufert and Manning were en route to California with a load of chickens and eggs. While going down a steep mountain grade the truck apparently got out of control. Manning leaped from the machine, which overturned, pinning Seufert underneath. It was necessary to remove part of the load and raise the truck with jacks before Seufert could be removed.

ELECTION IS SET

BROWNWOOD, Aug. 14 (AP)—The Brown county commissioners' court today ordered a county-wide election to decide whether beer shall be sold legally in the county. The election was set for August 26, the date on which the state votes on beer and repeal.

ORDER EXTENDED

AUSTIN, Aug. 14 (AP) — R. D. Parker, chief of the oil and gas division of the Texas railroad commission, said today the order suspending the taking of "back allowable" from the East Texas oil field would be extended to obtain until midnight on August 31.

Cattlemen Of West Look To Uncle Sam To Aid In Solving Their Problems

Texas Delegation Is Largest At Denver Session Monday

(By The Associated Press)

DENVER, Aug. 14.—Uncle Sam's agricultural department is the place the livestock industry must go to solve its problems, in the opinion of most of the cattle kings at the livestock conference in progress here.

"I don't believe many Texas cattlemen, until they came to this meeting, favored attempting to work out a marketing agreement with the meat processors," said J. M. Reynolds, of Fort Worth.

Strive For Agreement

"However," he said, "those I've talked to here believe the cattlemen will have to strive for such an agreement if they are to reap any of the 'new deal's' rewards."

Suggestion that the livestock men send a committee to Washington for a conference with Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, who called the conference here, and a committee representing meat packers, was made today by Victory Christgau, representing Secretary Wallace at the parley.

The reaction of the delegates to the proposal was almost unanimously favorable. Some definite action on it was expected by the conference before it adjourns tomorrow.

May Accept Agreement

"I don't know what kind of agreement the livestock men will seek to put into effect, but I believe they will accept Mr. Christgau's suggestion that a committee to represent us be sent to confer with Secretary Wallace and as packers' committee," said Reynolds, a director of the Texas and Southwestern Cattlemen's association.

A resolution proposing lower freight rates in drouth-stricken territories was drafted by a conference committee headed by J. T. Sneed, jr., of Amarillo, for presentation to the delegation.

The resolution recommends the

Lookouts Are Withdrawn In Search For Elusive Outlaw

HOUSTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—Lookouts posted on roads leading into Houston early today upon a report that Clyde Barrow, elusive outlaw, had been seen near Gonzales and might possibly be heading toward Houston were withdrawn later in the day when no further word was heard concerning the outlaw's whereabouts.

Gonzales county officers telephoned rangers headquarters and the highway patrol office at Austin early today to convey the information that a man believed to be Barrow was seen near Gonzales traveling in an automobile with a woman companion. The automobile in which the couple was riding was headed toward Austin, it was said.

Price Supervision Likely In Code For Oil Industry

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—A trade code for the oil industry, to be laid before petroleum leaders by the recovery administration Thursday, was expected in informed quarters tonight to call for price supervision.

This feature, demanded by a majority of the industry to help it meet increased production costs, was understood to be receiving favorable consideration following a conference today between Hugh S. Johnson, industrial administrator, and President Roosevelt.

REPORTS KIDNAPING

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 14 (AP)—A man who gave the name of Phillip Carpa, 25, of Kansas City, told police here tonight he had been released by kidnapers who had picked him up in Kansas City Thursday.

She Stands By Ousted Father

Formerly Angela Elvira Machado, now the wife of Jose Emilio Obregon, the beautiful daughter of Cuba's deposed president is believed ready to join him in exile or whatever fate is imposed by the military coup that compelled Machado's retirement. Obregon was majordome at the president's palace until loss of army support brought a forcible shakeup in Cuban affairs.

Machado's Son-In-Law Tells Of Narrow Escape During A Flight To Gunboat; Warning Given By Friend

(By The Associated Press)

KEY WEST, Fla., Aug. 14.—The family of Gerardo Machado, deposed president of Cuba, narrowly escaped a mob in a terrifying flight to the gunboat which bore them here today, Dr. Baldomero Grau, Machado's son-in-law related.

"We were in a farm house at Batabano where we thought we would be safe," said Grau. "We had fled there in the dead of night and felt confident that none of the oppositionists knew where we were.

"At about 8 o'clock last night I received a telephone message — sharp, short and terrifying:

Warning Is Given

"'This is a friend,' the voice said. 'Get out of Cuba quick; the oppositionists know where you are and a mob of them is on the way to the farm house to capture you and all the family.'

"Most of our suitcases were unpacked, but we grabbed them, threw in clothing and took only four trunks

County Plans To Cooperate In Giving Tuberculin Tests

County commissioners court, meeting yesterday afternoon at the courthouse, voted to cooperate with the federal government in giving tuberculin tests to Lubbock county cattle.

The action was taken after groups of farmers called on the commissioners, asking that the protection be given. The county is to hire helpers to two federal veterinarians who will make the tests, County Agent O. G. Tumlinson said.

After the examinations have been made, Lubbock county cattle may be shipped to fairs or to other states, in which the tests have been given, without an additional examination for tuberculosis infection.

The commissioners also approved accounts and inspected Lubbock county jail.

Intensive Efforts Being Made To Gain Stabilization For Farm Products By Fixing Of Minimum Prices

BY ROY F. HENDRICKSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—A compromise plan under which part of the benefit payments to cotton and wheat farmers who are indebted to the government would be withheld in the distribution of rewards for curtailing production was worked out today by a special committee.

The group, consisting of Secretary Wallace, Henry Morgenthau, jr., governor of the farm credit administration and Chairman Jones of the Reconstruction Corporation, will submit their recommendations tomorrow to President Roosevelt's cabinet advisory board.

Details Are Withheld

Details were not disclosed, but it was learned that a proposal of department of agriculture officials to distribute the benefits without offset amounts due the government was abandoned. The same fate was encountered by proposals that the full amount of sums owed by farmers be withheld.

Instead, the plan contemplates that farmers who are able to pay off a part of the sums due the government will have amounts deducted from their payments.

Meanwhile it was made known that intensive efforts are being made to induce the farm adjustment administration to stabilize prices of wheat, cotton, and other farm products by fixing minimum prices for the fall marketing season.

Requests Received

Numerous requests for a program of this kind are being received but administrators were holding their reply in abeyance pending a full study.

Three Juveniles Tried On Monday

Three young Brownwood men, who pleaded guilty of theft of about 200 feet of hose from beside the president's home at Texas Technological college late Sunday, waived jury trial and were tried before Judge E. L. Pitts in county court yesterday afternoon.

Louis Adams, 21, and Monroe Orand, 17, were sentenced to 15 days in jail and fined $1 and costs. Upon recommendation by County Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson, Judge Pitts deferred sentence of Leon Adams, 19, a brother of Louis.

Leon Adams, in a signed statement to Wilson, admitted theft of the hose here and told of theft of three gin belts in Lamesa August 11. The belts were recovered. Orand told Pitts he cut the hose from the water faucet. The trio was arrested about midnight at Slaton by R. L. Wicker, police chief, and Louie Ares, railway special officer.

FOUR SENTENCED

Four Slaton juveniles, after trials, were sentenced to one year each in the state reform school, and then paroled to their parents. Three were charged with theft of a box of candy July 4 from a drink stand and the other was charged with being an incorrigible. Two were 16, one 15, and one 14.

Two Mexicans Are Charged With Marijuana Possession

Jose Blata and Higino Sotello, Mexicans, yesterday were charged in Justice of the Peace J. S. Connell's court with possession of about 150 pounds of marijuana. Possession of the plant, which has a narcotical effect when smoked, is a felony offense.

Blata and Sotello were arrested in Little Juarez, Mexican section, by Policeman H. B. Brown and A. Melendez, a patrolman in the Mexican quarter.

Brown said two plots of the drug were found in the 300-block between Avenues N and M. The marijuana plants, some as high as a man's head, had been irrigated freely. The officers required Mexicans to cut down the plants, which were carried to the courthouse.

Thousands Are Believed Dead

Devastating Floods Sweeping Through China And Rampant Yellow River Is Spreading Over Wide Areas

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, Aug. 14. — Several thousand persons were believed already drowned by the rampant Yellow river as its flooding waters continued spreading today over wide areas along its 2,600-mile course.

Breaks in dikes in western Shantung resulted in new floods surging over villages and farms. Fears that the great stream, one of the largest rivers in the world, would renew its old bed through Kiangsu were expressed in dispatches from Kiangsu province.

The floods in Honan were reported spreading southeastward and the water had reached Lanfeng, east of Kaifeng, the point where the possible return of the river to its old channel is considered most likely.

Important City

Suchow, in north Kiangsu, is an important city and railroad junction which now lies in the path of the old river bed. Emergency dikes were being constructed there to deflect the flood if it comes. Other large towns are also on the course.

Dispatches from Hankow said flood conditions near the city of Szechui were becoming worse. An area 50 miles wide, extending from Kunghsien to Szeshui and Chengchow was reported completely submerged.

CHARGES ARE FILED

McCAMEY, Aug. 14 (AP)—Murder charges were filed against J. S. Hillman, L. (Pete) Hutchison and G. L. (Bull) Lafferty here today in connection with the fatal slugging of G. E. Berry, McCamey blacksmith, last July 29. They waived examining trial and bonds were set at $10,000 each. The three were held for action of the grand jury which convenes September 25.

Storms Reported About Corsicana

CORSICANA, Aug. 14. (AP)—Wind, rain and hail storms were reported in the Corsicana area late today, but apparently there was slight damage.

It was reported that a heavy hail and wind storm struck Purdon, 16 miles west of Corsicana. Telephone company officals told of line trouble over the section.

Hubbard, Hill county, reported a big wind and a sand storm. Light company officials said many wires were broken.

A hard rain was reported at Trinidad and an electrical disturbance occurred at Athens, Henderson county.

Plan To Send College Boys Back To School With Federal Funds Proposed

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. — The administration is seriously considering a plan to send college boys back to school through federal relief funds.

Robert M. Hutchins, president of Chicago university, is sponsoring the campaign in the interest of taking youths out of the contest for jobs by married men.

The proposition was put up to President Roosevelt today in a conference with Hutchins, Harry L. Hopkins, director of the feredal relief; and Hugh S. Johnson, the industrial administrator.

The president is weighing the question of use of government money. Johnson who is trying to make new jobs and Hutchins who is trying to relieve those without jobs are inclined to approve it, it is understood in official quarters.

The proposal will go before the recovery council tomorrow.

Mr. Hutchins is confident that if the youths of America who have not finished school and still are unable to pay for the completion of their courses are removed from the drive for new jobs it will make more room for those who really need them.

Returned Confidence And Improving Business Are Cited By Texas Solon

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. — Returned confidence and improving business were included tonight by Senator Connally (D., Tex.) among what he termed accomplishments of five months of the new deal."

In a speech praising President Roosevelt for carrying out what he said was a carefully planned campaign, the Texan summarized results of "five vivid moving months—months of life and action."

"Confidence has returned," he said.

"A billion dollars annually in government expenses have been saved.

"The national credit has been preserved.

"The farm bill has worked and is still working to lift farm prices.

"The dollar is cheaper and prices are higher.

"Employment is increasing.

"Business is improving.

"Throughout the whole economic structure healthy blood is beginning to flow," he added, "with uplifted face and resolute bearing we face the days ahead and we shall not fail."

[illegible] your problem this morning is what to use as a salad for lunch. Here is an idea from many please. It is fresh grapefruit mixed with cottage cheese.

[illegible] the fruit and remove the skin [illegible] from the individual sections. [illegible] is one time when you do not [illegible] to be careful about breaking the sections into little pieces.

[illegible] the grapefruit meat lightly with cottage cheese and serve, ice cold, on a bed of lettuce. This makes a handsome salad, particularly if you top each plate with a whole section of grapefruit and one red cherry. Serve French dressing in a bowl and let each person help himself at the table.

ON ICE CREAM

[illegible] manufacturers of ice cream [illegible] have failed to find a way to make it "like mother used to make" and most mothers have likewise failed, an occasional recipe may come in handy.

There is a general impression that [illegible] can't fail in making ice cream. Maybe not. But have you really tasted ice cream that wasn't just frozen custard or a frozen mass of cornstarch or ice cream powders. There's art in the making. Then, of course, there are varied tastes.

If you don't like it cooked, try this way: For a gallon of cream beat the whites and yolks of two eggs separately, add one and one-half cups of sugar to the yolks and cream well. Add one large can of evaporated milk, fold in egg whites and flavor to taste. Add enough top milk to complete the gallon.

The better the yolks and sugar are creamed the smoother is the eventual cream. Naturally, it is better if all cream is used rather than top milk.

We are to have another recipe for ice cream in a few days. The woman who makes it now doesn't know her exact measurements, as she just makes it like a lot of women make biscuits, but as soon as she has ice cream again and gets the measurements, the recipe will appear in this column.

There's a lot of mystery to this, you will notice. She doesn't want her name used, however if you like the recipe and ask me in confidence, I'll tell you who it is. The cream is for electric refrigerators and is the kind that doesn't come out flaky.

A GOOD TIME

GIRL Scouts, who are out at Camp Mary White near Roswell, N. M., are having a grand and glorious time this year, if we may judge by the dispatches we are receiving.

Bess Lomax, Doris Hopping and Marjory Johnston, who are participating in the activities, should come back at the end of the summer refreshed and happy. A summer in the mountains is one thing. A summer in camp with other girls where recreation is directed by trained leaders is somthing else again. There are 36 girls and 17 leaders out at the camp now. At periods during the summer there have been larger numbers.

There are plenty of us who can envy those girls. their summer in camp. It is an unforgetable experience for a youngster and it should send them back to their homes and to school full of health and ready to get the most out of their studies.

TEXAS AT PLAY

FILLING station operators between Texas and Chicago are of the opinion that Texans have plenty of money. This is the opinion gleaned by Dr. and Mrs. J. B. McCorkle, who have just returned from the world's fair.

Up and down the line the men in filling stations were commenting upon the number of cars that have come out of Texas headed for the fair this year, the McCorkles report. If other towns have sent as many people there as Lubbock, it is no wonder. Times may be hard but we haven't been convinced of that this summer. From some place a lot of money has come to send Lubbock residents to Chicago. Every week there are many. Every month there are scores and more from here. All of which is the best of indications. When people can get money to do the things they want to do, times are not so very bad.

Couple Announces Marriage In City

The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jarrott which took place in June was announced here this week-end. The couple has gone to San Saba and other points in Central Texas for about ten days. Upon their return they will be at home here.

Mrs. Jarrott is the former Miss Evelyn Stalcup, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Stalcup of Slaton. Mr. Jarrott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Jarrott and is a bookkeeper for Borden's Produce company. The couple was married by the Rev. C. K. Campbell, pastor of First Methodist church in Clovis, N. M., at his home.

About 300 Are In Attendance

Bible Study, Place Of Women In The Church, Business And Varied Topics Are Discussed By Church Groups

Women in five churches attended regular second Monday missionary circle meetings yesterday afternoon. Other societies met for study and devotional periods. There were approximately 300 women at these meetings.

First Presbyterian women studied the position of the negro in America at their gatherings. Women in the First Methodist Women's Missionary society talked of the place of women in the church and members of the Mary Helm auxiliary of that church heard programs from The World Outlook.

Bible lessons and business sessions were of interest to members of the First Baptist Women's Missionary society. Members of the Calvary Baptist Women's Missionary studied Bible lessons and talks on varied subjects were made at meetings of the First Christian General Aid society.

Other societies that met were from the Asbury Methodist, Central Baptist and West End Baptist churches.

Meet In Nine Homes

The First Baptist W. M. S. met in circles with Mesdames E. L. Wright, Carl Roberds, F. B. Malone, J. A. Fortenberry, A. M. Laftwich, B. B. Ater, J. T. Bullock, L. R. Johnson and Bode S. Adams.

Bible lessons and devotional periods were led by Mesdames William Lowrimore, Roberds, W. A. Lyles, J. W. Reid, L. D. Casey, C. W. Ratcliff, J. R. Stratton, L. J. Akers, Ater, O. J. Hull, R. S. Wilkerson, J. H. Agee, J. I. Noah, D. J. Wilhelm, J. H. Hankins, Tom Pearce, J. A. Dowdle, W. L. Stangel and Altus Sansom.

Mrs. J. D. Carnett led the devotional and Mrs. J. A. Fortenberry talked on foreign mission work at a meeting of Circle 6 in Mrs. Fortenberry's home, 1909 Twenty-Fourth street. Mrs. R. R. Hughes of Lone Oak and Mrs. P. L. Hamilton of Sherman were visitors. There were 13 in attendance.

There were approximately 64 women at these meetings.

Circle Is Named

Members of the Asbury W. M. S. who are organized into a circle chose the name Belle Bennett Monday afternoon at a meeting at the church. Mrs. J. H. Rhea presided for the meeting. There were 10 women present.

Thirty-four women attended three beetings of the First Methodist W. M. S. in the homes of Mesdames G. H. Hughett, R. Bush Smith and Jimmie Horton.

ONE CENT A DAY BRINGS $100 A MONTH

Over One-half Million Dollars Already Paid in Cash Benefits

One cent a day ($3.65 per year) invested in a National Protective Policy, will now buy more insurance benefits than can be secured from any other company for any amount up to $10 per year.

This new policy, paying benefits up to $100 each month or $1,000 to $1,500 at death, is now being sold to all men, women and children, between the ages of 7 and 80 years, whether employed or not.

The benefits for auto accidents of $100 a month (instead of the usual $50 a month) is said by many to be alone worth the entire cost of $3.65 per year. Yet this is but one of the many features of this new and unusual policy.

The National Protective is the largest and oldest company of its kind in the world. It has paid over six hundred sixty thousands dollars ($660,000.00) in cash to thousands of its policyholders when cash was most needed.

Send No Money

For 10 days' free inspection of policy, simply send name, age, address, beneficiary's name and relationship to National Protective Insurance Co., 762 Pickwick Building, Kansas City, Mo. No medical examination or other red tape. After reading policy, which will be mailed to you, either return it or send $3.65 which pays you up for a whole year—365 days. Send today while offer is still open.—Adv.

Improvement In Conditions In Cuba Is Noted After Order For Ship To Leave; One Is Left At Havana

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 — The American government tonight withdrew one of the two destroyers which has been in the harbor of Havana, indicating an improvement of conditions in the Cuban capital.

The destroyer Claxton, one of the two warships which entered Havana harbor early today under orders from President Roosevelt, was withdrawn to the American naval base at Guantanamo on the eastern end of the island.

This left only the destroyer Taylor at Havana, but one of the navy's prize cruisers, the Richmond, was on her way through the Panama Canal to the Atlantic side where Secretary Swanson said "she will await orders the navy department may be called upon to issue."

The Claxton and Taylor were sent to Cuba last night to protect citizens and to furnish a steadying influence to the island's new government.

It was indicated they would not be left there long, and reports to the state and commerce departments today indicated conditions in Havana were rapidly returning to normal.

Situation Satisfactory

Meanwhile, the Cuban situation was described as satisfactory by Chairman Pittman of the senate foreign relations committee after a talk with President Roosevelt.

"Everything looks fine," he told newspapermen. "I think the ships will be back soon."

During the day a naval escort of one officer and six enlisted men were designated by the navy department to protect Senora Gerardo Machado, wife of the former president of Cuba, during her stay in the United States.

Admiral William H. Standley, chief of naval operations, ordered Lieutenant Commander J. L. Cotten and six enlisted men to fly from the naval air station at Pensacola to Key West to meet Senora Machado and her family upon their arrival there aboard the gunboat Juan B. Azyas.

The naval escort was directed to proceed with them to Miami either by airplane or by train and remain with them during their stay in that city.

But... what of the Telephone?

The newspaper... brings to us the happenings from all the world, helps shape the actions and opinions of men, tells us what we should eat and what to wear. Our world without the newspaper would be smaller and less enjoyable. But, what of the telephone?

The radio... One turn of the dial and music comes to our living rooms, a comedian causes us to laugh, the President reports to the nation. Radio is a marvel of the age. But, what of the telephone?

The family car... takes us out of sweltering cities into the country in the evening, carries us to the homes of friends, goes shopping with the housewife, takes men to work and brings them home when day is done. The family car has added much to your life and mine. But, what of the telephone?

In 350,000 Texas homes, the telephone stands like a sentinel in the night. It tells the doctor that Bobby's fever has risen. In the morning it calls a jobless man back to work. In the afternoon it brings the message that husband will be late to dinner. It helps keep lasting friendships welded, adding to human happiness. The telephone has come to mean so much that few American families feel they can afford to be without one.

You can have a telephone for less than a dime a day. If you haven't one already, call the Business Office. Say... "I need a telephone."

FDR Is Assured Millions Of Idle Wage Earners Will Be Back At Work

Statement On Progress Seen

Three Great Agencies Are To Be Drawn Closer Together; Approval Given Scales For Eight Industries

BY JAMES P. SELVAGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP) — Assurance that millions of idle wage earners would be back at work under the Blue Eagle of the NRA by the time snow flies was received directly today by President Roosevelt from the chief of his national recovery program—Hugh S. Johnson.

Personally directing his economic restoration program, the chief executive received a comprehensive statement of progress from Johnson and ordered closer coordination for three of the great agencies of the recovery campaign—the NRA, and the public works and relief administrations.

Cooperation Revealed

This drawing together of the forces aligned against winter unemployment was revealed after a conference at the White House participated in by the president, General Johnson, and Harry L. Hopkins, the relief administrator.

Coincidently the recovery administration announced approval of modified scales of wages and hours for eight industries under which they may operate pending adoption of permanent codes.

This brought close to the century mark the number of codes and agreements that have been provided for separate industries in the campaign to blanket the nation with Blue Eagles by labor day.

No Estimate Given

The agreements were for cigar, sausage casing, office equipment, sheet rubber and related sundries manufacturing, cotton compress and warehouse, telephone manufacturing, yeast, and retail confectioners' industries.

While no estimate of employment in these groups was available, the administration said thousands of new jobs would be provided.

There still was no official calculation of the number of workers who have been reached by the NRA codes and agreements providing for higher minimum wages and increased employment through curtailed hours.

However, officials pointed out that two of the nation's biggest employers—the retail and construction industries—employing some 5,000,000 workers each in normal times now had scales of wages and hours in effect.

Unemployment Heavy

While unemployment in the construction business is heavy, the wage and hour agreements will militate, it was pointed out, toward increased purchasing power as the federal public works program is expanded.

Confident that his general program is going forward satisfactorily, Johnson still had on his hands tonight the controversy within his organization engendered by a dispute between Mrs. Mary Harriman Rumsey, chairman of the consumer's advistory board, and Professor William F. Ogburn, a resigned member.

Failing to see the administrator today after waiting for several hours, Ogburn apparently brought the conflict to an end by leaving his resignation behind and declining an appointment from a secretary to see Johnson later in the day.

The dispute, running over a period of several weeks, was between the well-known economist and the wealthy Mrs. Rumsey.

Ogburn in his final statement was critical of the entire setup of the board designed to protect the interests of consumers.

Tornado Destroys Filling Stations

WOODWARD, Okla., Aug. 14 (AP)—A tornado demolished two filling stations at Sharon yesterday. A deluge of rain followed, half an inch falling within a few minutes.

Earl Phillips, owner of one of the filling stations, was injured when a piece of timber struck him. No other injuries were reported.

The rainfall brought the August total here to 2.43 inches.

State Officer Faces Charges

Kansas State Treasurer Will Be Prosecuted In Scandal; Order For This Action Is Given By Governor

TOPEKA, Aug. 14 (AP) — Alf M. Landon late today directed Lester Goodell, Shawnee county attorney, to "institute prosecution" against T. B. Boyd, state treasurer, in the state bond scandal case. The charges to be preferred against Boyd were not immediately announced.

The governor's letter follows:

"Information has come to me which seems to make it imperative that T. B. Boyd, state treasurer, of the state of Kansas, be prosecuted at once.

Orders Prosecution

"I, therefore, direct that you institute prosecution against the said T. B. Boyd.'

Following announcement of the governor's letter, Goodell said the charge involved alleged violation of a statute relating to the handling of state funds.

The county attorney said Boyd would be placed under arrest immediately.

Boyd in a newspaper interview published last week, related details of a transaction in which he permitted Donald Finney, bond broker accused in the case, to take $150,000 of bonds from the treasury vaults to Chicago for disposition.

The treasurer said he had deposited $150,000 of state funds in the Eureka bank at Finney's request and that Finney had given him $150,000 in bonds to secure the deposit. Finney then borrowed the money.

Later, Boyd related, Finney said he desired to clean up the transaction and induced the treasurer to let him take the bonds to Chicago to sell, promising to pay his note at the Eureka bank which in turn would return the state deposit. Subsequently, the bonds were not returned and checks on the bank for the money were turned down.

THEY STARTED OUT SO HAPPY...

THEN BANG! A BLOW-OUT

—and their week-end trip was ruined

A BEAUTIFUL day... a high speed car. What a wonderful week-end they'd enjoy. Then suddenly it happened. BANG! A blow-out! The rim hit the road... And a terrible drag set in. They lived to tell the story... but YOU may not be so lucky!

What causes blow-outs

Today's high speeds generate terrific heat inside the tire. Rubber and fabric separate. A blister forms... and GROWS ... until BANG! The tire flattens... and you can't hold your car on the road.

But now Goodrich has perfected the amazing Life-Saver Golden Ply. This invention resists intense heat. Rubber and fabric don't separate. Thus blisters don't form inside the tire. Blow-outs are prevented before they even start!

Remember, this "3 times safer tire" costs not a penny more than standard tires. So why take chances? That blister—that blow-out in the making—may be in your tire right now. Put a set of Silvertowns on your car... BE SAFE!

DETROIT, Aug. 14. (AP)—One big inning, the seventh, in which the Tigers batted around and got six hits and four runs, gave Detroit a 6-5 victory over Boston in a hard fought series opener here today.

Elden Auker, recently brought up from Beaumont, made his debut as a starting pitcher for the Tigers but lasted only three innings, during which Boston got seven hits and four runs.

Two Dixie League Pitchers Are Sold To Beaumont Club

LONGVIEW, Aug. 14. (AP) — The sale of Pitchers Pat McLaughlin and Lefty Ware of the Longview Dixie League club to the Beaumont Texas League team was announced here today. They will report in the spring, said Jack Zeller, Detroit scout who closed the deal.

McLaughlin has been going strong during the second half of the Dixie League season. He has pitched seven, five-hit ball games, winning six and losing the other 2 to 1. He has been beaten twice during the second half, by the scores of 3 to 1 and 2 to 1.

Ware is from Birmingham, where he played semi-pro ball. He is a southpaw with good control.

The consideration was not made known.

Three Games Scheduled In Soft Ball Leagues Today

Three games are scheduled in the Lubbock Softball association today. Lubbock Printers meet Hotel Hilton at the 22nd street and Avenue R field in one American league game, and Hule-Ribble takes on Weiss-Truck Terminal at the Ave. K park in another.

The Meinecke Bros. Hardware team is scheduled to play Kuyken-dall Chevrolet company this afternoon at the fair Park field. All the games are to start at 6:15 o'clock.

Huntsville Tigers Take Their Time; Results Go Down In Baseball Books

Good Base Stealers Are These Prison Ball Players

HUNTSVILLE, Aug. 14. (AP) — The Huntsville Tigers, prison baseball team, have won their last 12 games and are storming through their most successful season since baseball was first allowed in the prison in 1926. The Tigers have played 21 games this year and won 15 for a percentage of .715.

Ted Whitehead, centerfielder, the team's heavy hitter, boats 11 home runs for the season and a batting average of .427.

Have A Fence Now

Explaining the championship caliber of this year's team, Albert Moore, the manager, says, "it's team work. The boys are just now learning to play together. We haven't had the slightest trouble among them this year. The players, however, never have given much trouble—why, back in 1926, Warden Speer used to bring a group of the boys out each afternoon and let them practice. Of course, at that time there were no fences around the park, but that made no difference to Speer—he didn't even wear a pistol. The boys who play ball are just naturally dependable."

Just Take Their Time

"Of course," continued Moore, "team-work isn't everything. One of the most important factors is that my boys never "blow-up" When the going gets rocky the boys just slow down and take their time—most of them have plenty—"

A twinkle lit his eyes as he continued, "I've got the best set of base stealers you ever saw, too."

The Tigers, playing each Sunday afternoon to crowds of between three and five hundred, have eight more games this season. Only civilians are charged admission and the profits from the games go to swell the amusement fund of the prisoners. The convicts who wish to see the games are admitted free, but watch from an enclosed grandstand.

Approximately $1,500 has been invested in baseball equipment, states Lee Simmons, and this amount, which has been distributed over the whole system, has been accumulated through fees from the "visitor's charge."

Country Club Is Awarded Cup For League Victory

A single match decided victory in a series of two-some golf battles Sunday at Lubbock Country club when Captain Ted Tipps' "Necks" nosed out Captain W. G. McMillan's "Gizzards," 1 up to win the "chicken" tournament. The joust was played as a final gesture to the 1933 South Plains Golf league season, which ended officially August 6.

Following a chicken barbecue last night on the Country club grounds, the Lubbock Country club golf team was awarded the big cup, symbolic of the league championship, by President W. G. McMillan. Ted Tipps, captain of the Lubbock Country club through the season, received the cup. His team won first place in the league race in which six clubs participated.

Yesterday's tournament originally was designed as a general get-together for all clubs of the league, but only fifty-two players competed. The field consisted largely of Country club, Meadowbrook and Slaton players. Littlefield was represented by one player and Plainview sent one man.

Tipps and McMillan "chose sides" for the tournament, Tipps' team emerging with one match victory more than the "Gizzards."

Seventy-two persons were served barbecued chicken late in the afternoon following completion of play.

Lubbock Country club succeeds the Post golf club as champion of the South Plains league. Post did not enter a team in league competition this season.

Ace Is Scored At Meadowbrook By Tech Golfer

Initiation into the "Hole-In-One" club and the accompanying shower of prizes is in order.

Talbot Ledbetter, Texas Tech student from Brady, Texas, experienced the golfing "thrill that comes but once in a lifetime" late Saturday when he holed out at No. 2 green at Meadowbrook Golf club.

Using a No. 4 iron, Ledbetter, who shoots consistently in the low eighties and plays fairly regularly, saw his tee shot hit the carpet six feet from the edge, take a couple of hops and bounce into the cup for an ace.

It was the first hole-in-one scored this month, making Ledbetter eligible for a number of prizes offered by Lubbock merchants.

Ledbetter was playing in a two-some with Jesse Young, another Texas Tech student. He finished the nine holes with a medal of 40.

Rotarians Beat Kiwanians In Slugfest Monday, 17-12

In one of the greatest slugging matches of the Junior League season, the Rotarians defeated the Kiwanians yesterday, 17 to 12.

Six home runs, five three-baggers and nearly a dozen doubles bounced from the bats of ambitious youngsters on both sides.

Davidson and Miller pitched for the winners, while Jackson went the route for the Kiwanians.

In winning the Oregon Women's Public Links association golf tournament, Mrs. Daisy Mauck of Colwood established a course mark of 76 on the Peninsula course.

Rogers Hornsby, as a pinch hitter this season with the Cards before assuming managership of the St. Louis Browns, had a batting average of .361.

The St. Louis Cardinals are the first major league baseball club to provide a band concert with each game.

Helen Jacobs Opens Defense Of Net Title

California Lass Worried More About Appearance In Shorts Than In Tennis; Mrs. Moody And Ryan Head Doubles

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 14.—While overcast skies and occasional flurries of rain precluded the scheduled start of the Women's National tennis tournament today, Helen Jacobs, the champion, sat in her suite overlooking the courts of the west side tennis club—nervous as a school girl about to recite at the weekly exercises.

A thing like that shouldn't cause Helen to get fidgets. She's been playing tournament tennis for a decade, since she was 15, and the thrill long since should have passed. Even the thoughts of winning another title, or at least getting another shot at her old rival, Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, should present no emotional strain to the California girl.

But she had a slight attack of "nerves", and admitted it.

Will She Look O. K.?

"Do you think I'll look all right?" she asked, hopefully. "Gee, I hope so. I talked to mother by phone out on the coast a while ago and she said it was all right. Don't you think they are nice? Do you see why anybody should object?"

What Helen was talking about was her planned debut in shorts. She's been wearing 'em in practice for several days and tomorrow, if the sun shines, she will begin the defense of her title in the scantiest attire ever worn by a queen of American tennis. She's enthused at the idea.

"They're really a tremendous advantage," declared Miss Jacobs. "Nothing but prejudice has prevented our wearing them for years. I know they improve my game and all the other girls say the same. I know I've lost many points through my racket catching in my skirt. Not only that, but they're cooler and enable one to get around so much faster, particularly in the latter stages of a hard match."

Objections Overruled

The champion was somewhat relieved to learn that the tennis fathers plan to raise no active objection to the promised revolt against the cumbersome costumes of another day.

With the entire first round of singles postponed until tomorrow setting the entire tournament up a day and placing the finals on Sunday or Monday, the only business of note today was the pairing of the doubles.

Seeded No. 1 was the team of Mrs. Moody and the veteran Mrs. Elizabeth Ryan. Miss Jacobs and Sarah Palfrey of Boston, defending champions, were seeded second on the domestic list, with the Misses Round and Neeley topping the foreign threats.

BASEBALL'S BIG 6

(By The Associated Press)

Taking advantage of the inactivity of other members of baseball's Big Six, Jimmy Foxx yesterday pounded out four hits in five trips to the plate to assume a commanding lead over Al Simmons in the American League half of the septet. The hitting spree boosted the Athletics first baseman's batting average five points to .362, 11 more than Simmons.

The standings:

Three Records Set As Enochs Takes League Contest From Morton Sunday

Enochs Scores 36 Runs To Win By 27-Run Margin

A three-fold scoring record was established in the South Plains baseball league Sunday when Enochs and Morton met at Littlefield in a regularly scheduled game.

The Enochs team blasted three Morton pitchers for a total of 36 hits, scored 18 times in one inning, and added 19 more tallies later to win the game, 36 to 9. The grand total of 65 runs was another record for one game. The winners were aided by half a dozen misplays on the part of the losers.

In another league game, Amherst defeated Levelland, 11 to 5, to hold third place in the norther division, Levelland losing its seventh straight game of the second half. Morton remained in second place with three victories and four defeats, while Enochs, winning its sixth game, held the top notch of the division with six victories and one loss.

Nine Triples Are Hit

Nine triples and two home runs contributed to the hefty hitting and scoring in Enochs' big victory. Walker and Cauffman pounded out four-baggers with mates aboard, and most of the triples found the hassocks occupied. Rose hit a homer for Morton.

Nudie Moore allowed the Morton team nine hits, and scores in the fourth and seventh innings. The losers threatened in the fourth with seven tallies.

Weaver and Craig hit home runs for Amherst in its victory over Levelland. C. Harmon, shortstop, and Blessing, center fielder, led the hitting with three blows in four times up.

Levelland was held to six hits by Pitcher Dickson.

Score by innings of the Enochs-Morton game:

Morton	0	00	700	200	—	9	6
Enochs	0	180	188	28x	—	36	3

GOLF By ART KRENZ

IF PUTTING IS POOR TRY THESE REMEDIES

Two faults that keep golfers from becoming good putters are swaying and looking up too soon. To correct the first, adopt a stance that is easy and as natural as possible.

After getting comfortably set, the main essentials in drawing the clubhead back are smoothness of timing and keeping the clubhead close to the ground.

Lifting up the clubhead imparts a stabbing motion to the ball, and pushing the clubhead away from the body causes the club to cross the line of putt. This makes the ball spin sideways and carries it off line.

Texan Is Tied With Pair In Denver Joust

Lawson Little Shoots A 70 To Go Into Tie With Smith And Graham; Favorites Battle For Medal Honors

DENVER, Aug. 14. (AP)—Lawson Little, San Francisco continued his par-cracking golf today by shooting a 70 at the Cherry Hills Country club here, thereby going into a lead with Neil Smith of Dallas, Texas and George Graham, Denver Country club, who also came in two under par in the first half of the qualifying round in the Colorado State Amateur tournament.

One over perfect figures on the morning nine, Little came back with three birdies and perfect golf, barely missing a birdie on the 18th to share the first half of the medalist honors. Graham had a more erratic round, making 5 birdies but being over par twice, including a five on the par three sixth hole. Neil Smith shot a fine game, cradling to birdies and other sixteen holes in perfect figures. He barely missed several chances at other birdies, rimming the cup on the 18th to fall short of the lead.

As a whole, the favorites are still battling for the medalist honors, Earl Berryhill, Sapulpa, Okla., taking a 73, as did five Denver players. Verne "Spec" Stewart of Albuquerque, semi-finalist in the Broadmoor invitation tourney, came in with a 75 which earned him a tie for about 20th place.

Boat owners of Monterey, Cal., have formed a club and will participate in state and national race meetings.

When the Pirates scored on Lon Warneke of the Cubs in the first game of a double-licking, it was the first earned run made off the luckless Arkansan in four games.

Pupils At Free Golfing School To Practice With Ball Today; School Still Open To Beginners, Veterans

"Hitting the Ball" probably will be the subject of discussion and practice at today's golf school hours. Joseph W. Byrne, veteran professional, may have his "students" hit a few balls as he instructs them further into the mysteries of the game.

New students are invited to start in the free school today. Already 160 pupils are registered, and the hope is to run the enrollment to the 200 mark today.

The morning class begins at 8:45 o'clock, and runs one hour. The afternoon class starts at 6:15 o'clock. Students may attend either class, as they will be the same. Fundamentals of the game are being taught in a four-weeks school conducted by the Avalanche-Journal Publishing company and the Meadowbrook club.

There are no charges at all, the whole school being free to beginners and veterans, young and old, men and women. No "strings" are attached and there is no "joker" in the whole deck. Golfers are cordially invited to attend the school and receive professional instructions free of charge. Eight lessons comprise the school, but if ambitious golfers have failed to attend the two previous classes, they will be given special instruction today.

Clubs will be furnished to those who need them, free of charge.

Four Twin City Men Are To Be Charged In Urschel Kidnaping

All Four Are Held In Jail

Escaped Convict Is Captured In Denver Monday; Sought In Case; Ransom Money Is Found At St. Paul

ST. PAUL, Aug. 14. (AP)—Four Twin City men will be charged with conspiracy in connection with the kidnaping of Charles Urschel, millionaire Oklahoma oil man, Werner Hanni, chief of the United States bureau of investigation here annouced today.

W. T. Goddard, UnitedStates commissioner,.. will.. issue.. fugitive warrants later, he said. The warrants setting forth the conspiracy charges, will be based on formal complaints issued at Oklahoma City.

All In Custody

All four men are in custody, the fourth man surrendered voluntarily this afternoon Hanni announced. All were linked with the passing here of part of the marked ransom money paid kidnapers for Urschel's release.

During the investigation the last few days Hanni said as far as he knew Harvey Bailey, captured in Texas today, was not sought in connection with the Urschel abduction. Whether developments today threw a different light on the case was not disclosed immediately.

The men held here are Sam J. Kronick, head of a barber supply and cosmetic concern; Charles Wolk, transfer company official; William Nelson, unemployed truck driver, all of Minneopolis, and Sam Kosberg, official of a manufacturing drug concern here.

Surrenders Monday

Kosberg surrendered today. The others have been held a week since being picked up by federal operatives. Nelson had a cashier's check purchased with $1,000 of the marked money and Kronick banked $500 of the ransom.

A liquor deal brought the money to the Twin Cities. A Minneapolis racketeer sold some whisky to an unidentified man with connections in the south and was paid, he told federal operatives, with part of the ransom money.

Escaped Convict Is Captured At Denver

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—The department of justice announced today that the escaped convict, Albert L. Bates, arrested in Denver today, was the George Bates sought by the government in connection with the kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel, of Oklahoma City, July 22.

Bates, a 35-year-old escaped convict, had used the name of Albert L. Bates as one of seven aliases, the department said.

Attorney General Cummings announced earlier in the day, that Harvey Bailey, caught in a raid near Paradise, Tex., before dawn on Saturday, had a large amount of marked ransom money paid the Urschel kidnapers, and that Bates and George Kelly also were being sought as members of the kidnaping gang.

Positively Identified

Kelly, the attorney general said, has been positively identified as one of the kidnapers. He was said to be traveling over the west in a 16-cylinder automobile. Bates was described as one of the occupants of the car.

Wanted in Washington, Nebraska, Nevada, Utah and Michigan for escape, burglary and bank robbery, Bates also had been traveling under the names of James O. King, George Davis, George Harris, Roy Harris, Bernard McLaughlin and Bernard Hughes, the department said.

Three others have been arrested and have confessed participation in the Urschel kidnaping, justice officials disclosed today, but they refuse to make public their names.

Man's Body Is Found Hanging

Unidentified Man Discovered Hanging From A Rafter In Garage; Only One Clue To His Identity

FORT WORTH, Aug. 14 (AP)—The body of an unidentified man, about 35, was found hanging from the rafters in the garage of a vacant house here this afternoon.

George E. Nies, jr., real estate man discovered the body when he went to inspect the house preparatory to renting it.

The man had been dead at least an hour, officers said. He was freshly shaved, wore a white shirt, black trousers and brown shoes and a panama hat was hanging on a nail on the back wall of the garage.

The only clew to identification was a letter "S" on his belt.

They body was suspended on a strand of fence wire. The feet were about three feet from the floor of the garage.

The only articles found in the man's pockets were a package of cigarets, almost full, and a small box of matches.

Date Of Opening For Store Carded

Tentative date for the opening of the new Montgomery Ward store here has been set for the middle of November, with November 20 as the probable date, according to D. G. Hobson ,manager of the local store.

A change has been made in the type of brick to be used. The Texas avenue and Broadway sides will be of white brick instead of other brick that was to be painted.

The basement, first floor, mezzanine and second floors are to be used for sales work. Mr. Hobson said. The third floor is to be for storage.

"It will be the finest store of its kind west of Fort Worth," Mr. Hobson said." I was up at Amarillo last weeg and the two stores will be very much alike."

How to Relieve Headaches In Three Minutes

When you have one of those violent, nerve-racking headaches, from inorganic causes, you can get soothing relief in three minutes with "B. C." a reliable, pleasant-to-take remedy. "B. C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time. "B.C." should also be used for the relief of muscular aches and pains, common colds and neuralgia; for reducing fever and quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. Get "B. C." in 10c and 25c packages, wherever drugs are sold. (adv.)

From 'Way Down Austin Way

Capitol Chatter

By Charles E. Simons

Associated Press Staff Writer

Charles E. Simons

AUSTIN, Aug. 14. (AP)—The state board of education is said to have had enough of investigating the institutions of higher education and is willing to let them alone for a while.

The board has decided to make a study of the public school system instead.

An exhaustive inquiry was made into administration and courses at the state-supported colleges prior to the last regular session of the legislature. The reports of the board of education and of the legislative committee on efficiency and economy aroused so much opposition that the advisability of reorganizing the system was magnified into a major issue during the session.

"The board had so much difficulty as a result of its investigation of the teachers' colleges and other state schools that I believe it would be wise to steer clear of them for a while," W. A. Morrison of Cameron, member, said.

Morrison recommended that the board concentrate on improvement of the lower school system, particularly the common schools in the country districts.

"Those people won't hop all over us," he said. "They will be glad of the opportunity to aid our efforts to improve the educational system."

Nat M. Washer of San Antonio, president of the board, criticized the attitude taken by officials of the colleges on the reorganization plan.

"We called them all in and submitted a questionnaire to them," he said. "Our report recommending the changes was based on information furnished by the college officials themselves and after conferences with them. There was no opposition at that time, but later they changed their minds."

R. S. Bowers of Caldwell, former state senator and new member of the board, is opposed to any effort to reduce the number of state colleges. He believes that the state, as far as possible, should take the college to the student and that to require students to travel long distances is a burden that ought not to be imposed.

"I believe there ought to be more state colleges instead of fewer," he said, adding that it was more beneficial for a student to go to school in an environment in which he could easily adapt himself than to require him to travel several hundred miles.

This view was challenged by F. L. Henderson of Bryan.

"Distance doesn't mean anything to students any more," he said. "Those boys at A. and M. hitch-hike all over the state without any trouble."

Our Problem In Cuba

THE government at Washington seems to be doing its best to find the right course in an uncommonly tortuous and complicated maze in connection with the unrest in Cuba. It is facing a situation in which it has a great many chances to displease a great many people, and very few chances to win any applause; and so far it seems to have guided its course with a good deal of tact.

We have a definite responsibility for what happens in Cuba. We have that nation its independence; we have since kept it more or less under our wing, reserving the right to intervene if self-government breaks down; and the notorious faults of the Machado regime have undeniably produced a situation in which some sort of action on our part is essential.

Nevertheless, the affair is far from simple. To go so far as to land troops at Havana would awaken the customary wave of resentment throughout Latin America, even though it was done for Cuba's own good. To apply pressure without seeming to apply it, and to convince everyone that you are doing it disinterestedly, is not easy. Right at this moment Uncle Sam seems to have been handed a singularly thankless sort of job.

ANTICIPATION

Every fisherman and hunter knows that the joy we get out of life is not the joy we aimed for but greater. The same with good workmen who at the beginning work well that they may prosper in the end but find as the years pass that the real joy was in the labor, not labor's wage.

Anticipated pleasures and joys are never realized, for anticipation ever builds higher and more beautiful castles than realization, albeit anticipation builds hers of air. It is therefore the unexpected joy, the unanticipated reward that brings happiness undiluted.

These dispatches of delight are like the unheralded letters from the long missing or bringing much wished for but unexpected news. What boy or girl will forget the prize won in school and the finding under the Christmas tree the very gift they had hardly dared dream of?

"Oh, the unexpected joys that meet us just around the corner of life," is the favorite motto of Helen Keller, the deaf, dumb and blind philanthropist.

So it is in life a good policy to expect the unexpected by preparing for it. Often the last key in the ring opens the lock.

MORALITY IS RELATIVE

If a canvass of theatergoers were made 999 out of every 1,000 would say that he is opposed to immoral and obscene plays, but no two out of 1,000 would agree on what constitutes an immoral and obscene play. Most people are moral except to those whose definition for morality is a mite more restrictive.

Not infrequently modern America is accused of drinking the dregs of immorality. And yet, a critic of the British theater says that some of the plays which have so shocked some Americans are considered dull by the English theatergoer. In the eyes of the European the people of the United States are a nation of puritans. It seems that the American people are considered naughty only by their compatriots.

Time changes the lens of the glasses of immorality. Twenty years ago the plays of Ibsen caused more blushes than any of the New York plays now being shatdowed by the Purity League, but today those same plays of Ibsen are presented by college and high school dramatic clubs under faculty direction. Samuel Pepys in the early seventeenth century burned his French novels after reading them and those same novels today grace the best American homes. The modern two-piece bathing suit would have thrown its fair wearer into jail a decade ago but today it is prescribed by the beach censors.

Just as no two generations, or two ages in history, or two nations will draw the line between morality and immorality at the same place, so will no two people of the same generation and nation—but perhaps of different positions in society or of different degrees of education and culture—call the one moral and the other immoral. Each must choose the plays he will attend just as he must select his own friends and associates.

A LITTLE LESS THAN DIVINE

All that is within me. Psalms 103:1

Few people have ever discovered all that is within them. Many contend that man is just an animal. The Hebrew poets proclaimed: "God created man in his own image; in the image of God he created him; he created both male and female," and "Yet thou hast made him but little lower than God." Our conception of what is within us determines largely what we do with ourselves.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

WHILE bands are playing for NRA in the cities and Uncle Sam's big push is on reports of worries continue to trickle in from the smaller communities.

Travelers returning from the outlying precincts would have one believe the Blue Eagle is striking just a wee bit of terror into the hearts of town and village merchants. Inability to meet code hours and pay in small communities and fear of a boycott if they don't are reported to be the things keeping our country cousins awake at night.

The high command of NRA is keenly alive to this situation but for once they admit they're stumped. About the only advice they have to offer Main Street is to put a shoulder to the wheel anyway and give an almighty push.

One of the Recovery Administration's highest officials says:

"Yes, I know the problem of the country storekeeper is tough. But we're in this fight to win and the little fellow will just have to have faith that buying power will be increased so generally by our drive it will filter clear into his community and increase his profits too.

"Every time a man lays an employee off he's killing a customer. Keep those you have and hire more if possible and you'll wind up with more customers."

PROBLEMS: Thus far the South and Middle West have been most often heard from against conforming with the general code.

From a small Ohio town comes the story of its four haberdashers. One is run by two brothers, one by a father and son and a third by two partners. No outside help is used in these three stores but all three got eagles from their postmaster.

The fourth and largest store is owned by an individual who has maintained two employees throughout the depression. He says he cannot shorten hours, take on another employee and pay all three more wages. Yet he is fearful of a boycott from an aroused community if he doesn't.

WOUND-STRIPES: One possible way out lies in acceptance of General Johnson's "wound stripe" eagle, especially designed for those who want to help but simply can't at the moment.

The village merchant answers back that the gossip of his community already is too hot to make him want to bare his straitened circumstances in such fashion.

He may be agreeing with the man who said the Blue Eagle's wound stripe shouldn't be in white but in red ink.

JOHNSON: Make no mistake about the deadly seriousness with which General Johnson is directing his big drive.

Those who work behind the scenes with him were surprised when they saw the advance copy of his radio speech the other night which contained the first out-and-out appeal for a boycott of all business establishments not flying the Eagle. Previously men and women sent out by the speakers' bureau had been cautioned against any direct reference to avoidance of a non-banner shop.

But Johnson decided the time had come to take the bull by the horns and in characteristic fashion he grabbed hold.

The General honestly is confident he's going to win although he isn't fooling himself about the size of the odds he's fighting.

Several economists of repute have been consulted and have assured him the trick ought to work. These gentlemen of learning have analyzed the movement as one designed to benefit the vast majority. They concede that marginal fringe may get hurt but predict this will be kept to an infinitesimal percentage of the whole.

OFFISH: Imagine the embarrassment of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Tom Hewes the other day.

Because of the absence of all his superiors he was Acting Secretary. A matter came up which required consultation with Comptroller of the Currency J. F. T. O'Connor. Hewes called the Comptroller by phone thusly: "When you get a break in your schedule today I'd like to have you hop over."

To which O'Connor replied:

"Young man, I am really quite busy. I have a lot of people waiting in my office. If you want to drop over and wait about 15 minutes I think possibly I can work you in."

Which was as far as the proposed conference got.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

THE government and the New York banks can't seem to get together on this credit business.

Word has been passed from Washington that the banks are considered the bottleneck of the Recovery program. Their artistic statement about being glad to extend more credit on sound lines didn't go over so well. There is a marked difference of opinion as to what makes a loan sound. The banks' story that nobody wants to borrow just doesn't register.

The banks are plenty bothered to know what to do about it. They don't want to tread on Washington's toes but they still think they have plenty of reason for conservatism. The government can't exactly force them to lend but it can make them distinctly uncomfortable if they don't. Their present disposition is to sit tight and see what happens. They rather suspect that something will.

One of the thorniest problems is that of companies which owe money to the banks and are now skating on the thin edge of a deficit. If they sign up with NRA and thereby increase their costs they can't possibly meet their loans. Will the banks carry them? If not, they will simply go overboard with a millstone around their necks.

The banks will probably stretch a point to carry such loans even if they don't meet current credit standards. They don't want the government to be able to say they wrecked Recovery by making it harder for customers to live up to codes. But new loans are something else again.

CREDIT: You have heard plenty concerning credit contraction. Here it is at a glance:

In 1926 commercial banks had total deposits of 19 1-2 billion—4 1-2 cash and 15 loans.

In 1929 expansion had run riot. Out of 20 billion deposits 3 billio nwere owned and 17 billion loaned.

Look at the picture today. Out of 15 1-2 billion deposits 3 billion were owned and 17 billion loaned.

These little figures tell the tale of contraction better than five thousand learned words.

That's why neutral experts say the government has a right to ask the banks to loosen up. If the 1926 proportion is sound—which they say is a reasonable assumption—the banks should be able to expand credit by 15 billion more without undue risk. That would bring total deposits to a little over 30 billion with 23 billion loaned. Such a development would make an enormous difference to recovery.

This is one reason why the government is beginning to feel strongly about the banks.

A MIRACULOUS RECOVERY

Fred Kreiger of Gruver, Texas, who 30 years ago lost the sight of his right eye by a flying stick of wood, now recovered it in exactly the same manner.

On New Year's Day, 1932, Kreiger was building a fire while on an outing near his home when a piece of kindling wood he was breaking flew up and hit the same eye. He immediately recognized light, and sight has been improving steadily.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

ELINOR STAFFORD, 20, falls in love with BARRETT COLVIN, 35, but her jealous, scheming mother, LIDA STAFFORD, breaks up the romance by convincing Barrett that Elinor is a heartless flirt.

When Elinor's aunt, wealthy MISS ELLA SEXTON, dies she leaves her fortune to Barrett. Then drunken VANCE CARTER shoots BENTWELL STAFFORD, Elinor's father. Barrett tells Elinor that if she will marry him and live in his home as a guest for a year he will give her the entire Stafford fortune to divide among her relatives. Knowing the money may save her father's life, Elinor agrees.

The marriage takes place. Barrett, in spite of the lies Lida has told him, finds himself more in love with Elinor than ever. He has a ward, nine-year-old GERALD MOORE, who is the son of his half-sister, MARCIA RADNOR. Barrett may save her father's life, Elinor the boy's true story.

The doctor orders a change of climate for Elinor's father and she goes with him to Aiken.

Lida asks Barrett for $30,000. When he refuses she puts detectives on his trail and learns about his ward. Lida concludes the boy is Barrett's son.

Barret pays an unannounced visit to Aiken. He finds BOB TELFARE there and suspects Elinor of carrying on a flirtation with Bob.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXVI

"What attractive cups," Barrett commented, glancing at the tray.

Elinor nodded. "Everything here is attractive. I understand the owners haven't much money but they certainly have excellent taste. It's a darling house. I love it!"

"It's for sale, Elinor. Just as it is—furnished. May I buy it for you?" Barrett asked earnestly.

She looked startled, raised her face to his.

"I'd like to leave something with you that will make you remember me," he said wistfully. "I should think you could let me do that—if you leave me. Let me get it any way and you can decide later about keeping it. Will you, dear?"

He had said, "If you leave me—." The thought churned in Elinor's heart and set her pulse racing. Then he had thought she might not leave him!

"You're very kind—" she whispered.

"Not a bit of it!" He drew his hand away, moistened his lips and sat back away from her. He was going soft again, he warned himself. Nevertheless he could not stifle the mood or help stretching out a hand to rest lightly on hers. He wanted to cry out, "I'm mad about you, darling!"

He said instead, "Very good coffee, Elinor."

"Yes, isn't it? The cook must have caught a glimpse of you and decided to show you her skill. She can be a genius when she wants to be. At other times she's rather careless. We've never had a better dinner than the one tonight."

"It was first rate," he agreed, trying to remember the dinner and failing to recall a single dish, aware only that she was near to him.

"How about the house?" he questioned after a silence as she set her cup on the tray.

"I'm tempted," she admitted. "They even have the books I like on the shelves. Could you buy the books too?" she finished eagerly.

"I should think so. I understand the house is offered just as it is."

It was offered as the result of another domestic tragedy, he knew, but he didn't want Elinor to know that. It might change her feeling for the place a bit. Later she played for him softly, so that the piano could not be heard in the wing where Bentwell Stafford slept. Finally, resolved to "get it over," Barrett suggested that they go to the terrace. He laid a light wrap about her shoulders, remonstrated that it wouldn't keep her warm. She answered as women always do, that it was very warm and they stepped across the window-sill into the night.

Rain was coming and big, billowing clouds raced across the moon. Now the terrace was bathed in silver; now black. The lights of the village pricked the ebon curtain to the north. The soft stir was in the air that comes before a tempestuous, southern downpour. Leaves trembled, and somewhere a shutter swung. From the nearest house, a half acre away, came the hushed strains of the latest, sentimentally appealing waltz. Some blossoms proclaimed themselves and the fact that the noon had been hot by loosing a heavy, sweet odor.

Barrett wanted to be beyond reach of the house, beyond a point where a keenly listening ear could catch even so much as a chance phrase. Drawing her arm through his, he led her to a balustrade that guarded a terrace from a dramatically beautiful drop.

"This is a charming place," he murmured a trifle thickly as she withdrew her arm.

"Yes—"

He leaned against the balustrade against which she too, was leaning. He found it difficult to begin.

"Cigaret?" he asked.

"No, thank you."

She watched his face as he held a lighter with a wind guard to his cigaret. Something had made him rather nervous, she saw. Long lines were pulled at the sides of his lips, which were stiff, yet uneasy.

"How long can you stay?" she asked.

"As long as you want me to," he answered. He snapped the lighter shut; slipped it into a pocket. She felt that his eyebrows were drawn close although just then the moon was kept from shedding light by a dense bank of clouds.

Was he already regretting his gentleness, she wondered. A keen-bladed knife seemed plunged into her heart and drawn slowly out again as she considered the question.

"I want you to stay as long as you want to," she said with a coolness of which she was proud. "I want from you only what you can give—without regret."

"I shall regret giving you nothing," he said quickly, "if you will remember our bargain."

"What bargain, Barrett?"

"We agreed, you remember, that neither of us was to indulge in a flirtation during this year."

"But, Barrett, I never have," she answered. "I couldn't! I never did—before our marriage."

For a few minutes he could not trust himself to speak. Did she think him a complete fool? he asked himself.

"Elinor, I know you are very attractive. You must have had love affairs," he managed to say at length without betraying the deep anger that shook him.

"But I never appealed to men, Barrett. That's a brutal fact I don't like to admit it; but it is the fact—"

The moon had shaken herself free from the mask of clouds.

"Older men?" Barrett questioned slowly. "I've heard they liked you?" He was looking down at her, his eyes narrow.

"Yes," she admitted and smiled. To him her smile seemed cynically and cruelly amused.

He drew a deep, rasping breath. One great storm cloud slipped over the silver moon and put out its light. Barrett put his hands upon Elinor's arms to draw her close. His motion was rough, he knew afterward. Brutally rough.

"All older men," he confessed unsteadily, "are not so old as they seem. It is not fair—the thing you do to us. I can't help my feeling for you even though I know what you are—or aren't—"

"I don't—" she began, but his hot lips pressed against hers to stifle the sentence.

He held her away, laughing.

Again he swept her close. When she at last struggled free he sagged back against the balustrade, breathing hard. She touched her bruised lips with trembling fingers. She too was breathing hard and crying a little.

"I know you better than you think, you see," he stated. He had not seen her tears. "I happen to have known of some of your affairs for some time. I'm sorry I lost my head. But don't pretend surprise and fright! You see I wouldn't be fooled!"

She turned abruptly and, head high, moved toward one of the long French windows—an oblong, lemon square in the blackness. Her knees were shaking, her heart pounding. She had learned love and hate and their possible blend.

Something made him follow her. In the living room he overtook her to lay an arresting hand upon her arm. She turned to him, head still high. "By God," he whispered, staring down at her. They were real tears—real—

"Don't! Let me—go!" she appealed, voice breaking. He followed her, humble and utterly shaken, to watch her make her way up the stair.

After a long moment he followed her. "Elinor—?" he whispered.

"Don't—" she begged, "I can't—talk now!"

She went into her room and he into his. He heard her turn the key in the lock of the door between the rooms. He stared long and dully at the door. The slight sound hurt almost as deeply as the fright he had seen in her eyes.

Would he ever again have the trust she had once given him? He remembered a maxim an eastern priest had quoted, "To know the value of a thing you must lose it."

He heard her moving in the adjoining room as he sank back in a low chair. He did not sleep and knew she did not. He saw the light in her room go on at three, printing a slit of yellow beneath the door. The light remained there for two hours.

Elinor law perfectly quiet. If Barrett had loved her how she would have welcomed that moment! But he had said only that he understood her and her affairs. She would have trusted him anywhere! He could believe as he liked. He had had the chance to know her. Never would she say a word to defend herself. What would be the use? She had denied her guilt and he had laughed at her denial.

The night was endless. She looked at a small clock that ticked merrily beside her bed. The hands pointed at half past four.

Officers indicated that Bailey d the Shannons would be transred to Oklahoma City shortly. though federal agents said that arges could be preferred against em in Texas, it was believed they ll elect to prosecute them in lahoma on kidnaping comints.

Recently with Bailey at the annon place was George Kelley, as R. G. Shannon, who, said the ficial statement, "has been absoely identified as one of the kidpers of Urschel."

It was in hopes that Kelly would ll into their trap that the fedal agents patrolled the roads of e Paradise area last night and availed upon this morning's wspapers not to publish the facts Bailey's arrest.

The statement also made known e identification of a third of the achel kidnapers—"in addition it known that one Georges Bates, as Albert Bates, and with varus other aliases has been identid as one of the kidnapers."

Prison Record Given

Kelly's prison record was given time served in the U. S. peniitiary at Leavenworth and the ate prison at Santa Fe, N. M. hat of Bates as "wanted in Nebraska and various other places, d known as an escapee and bank bber."

Bailey led the memorial day esape of eleven convicts from the nsing, Kansas, state prison. He as serving 10 to 50 years for the 2,000 robbery of the Fort Scott, an., Citizens bank, and was wantd for the $2,000,000 holdup of the ncoln Bank and Trust Co., Sept. 1930.

F. J. Blake, agent in charge here the department of justice, said at a tenant house on the farm ere Bailey was captured had en identified positively as the ce where Urschel was held. He id admissions from persons at the annon place that Urschel had en held there had been obtained d that Urschel's finger prints re found on a water glass, an iron d and a bench.

Has Large Sum

Bailey also carried a large sum of oney identified as part of that paid r Mr. Urschel's ransom, but the deral agents would not state the mount recovered.

Bailey had placed his cot some-een feet away from the rear of e Shannon farmhouse, bedding wn with his three weapons as side pports. Alongside was a new mo- car packed for a quick getaway. lmost as near was still another achine gun on the back porch of e Shannon house and hundreds rounds of ammunition for the rious weapons.

The agents apparently did not ow that Bailey was to be their me. It so happened that the group d by Jones came upon Bailey's eeping place and Jones, rememering the Bailey features from a gue's gallery picture of the desrado, recognized Bailey.

Thrusting the muzzle of his subachine gun at Bailey's mid-section aroused him with:

Makes No Motion

"All right Harvey; we've got you."

Bailey blinked quickly awake and ert and, instantly taking in the uation, made no motion towards s weapons lying against his body. Jones asked Bailey if there were y others with him. Bailey refus- to say.

"If anything starts I'll shoot you st," Jones warned.

"Go ahead and shoot," brazenly plied Bailey.

The farmhouse stood out among ers in the sparsely-settled comunity because it had been well-pt in recent months. It was lo-ted at the top of a slight incline the deeply-rutted dirt road and uld be seen from the main high-y.

Offers Ample Refuge

The narrow lane leading to it orarily would have been almost imssable but the tracks of many s had hardened the roadbed and h care could be negotiated fairly ly. Situated about 15 miles from nearest hard-surfaced road, it ered ample refuge for Bailey. To ch it, required a drive of 45 mines over the 10-mile stretch beeen Bridgeport and Paradise, n another 15 minutes' driving t cottondale way."

As day broke over the hills near catur, the sun revealed an oldhioned bed—carefully made — at end of the front porch. Others re in the yard at the rear. A ung woman appeared at the door, d no one was in the house except r and her husband and their chilen and did not know of any one iting the house in the last few ys. Her answers were brief and appeared happy when the early-rning callers departed.

In contrast with the appearance the yard and barn lots when the fice agents made their raid, only

Stocks

WALL STREET REPORT

BY JOHN L. COOLEY

Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (AP)—Despite a long week-end, the stock market emerged today sleepy-eyed and fatigue ably able to drag itself along in another dull and listless session.

Interest in acquiring stocks seemed to be negligible, and the list, as a whole dropped fractions to around a point. The so-called "war" shares, as well as the gold issues, were more alert and the rest, closing steady. Bonds were irregular in a narrow and sluggish market and the dollar showed a firm tone in foreign exchange dealings. Most commodities were fairly steady.

With the tape inching its way along laboriously throughout the entire day, transfers totaled only 1,222,280 shares. The Associated Press-Standard Statistics average for 90 selected stocks showed a net decline of one point.

All grains closed unchanged, but wheat lost 1 to 2 cents a bushel at Winnipeg. Cotton was fairly steady most of the day but closed 85 cents to $1.15 a bale lower.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 14. (AP)—Although trading in cotton was moderately active today the course of prices was persistently downward despite occasional moderate rallies. Hedge selling and liquidation helped by weakness in stocks and the pegged price of wheat were the main causes of the decline. The close was barely steady at net declines of 19 to 20 points.

The market opened easy owing to lower Liverpool cables and easier sterling. October dropped to 9.12 and December to 9.34, down 12 to 13 points from Saturday's close, but later in the morning the market rallied on reported liberal buying by New York interests and covering by shorts. This demand carried October to 9.30 and December to 9.53, up 18 to 19 points from the lows and 5 to 7 points above the previous close.

Despite occasional moderate rallies said to be due to buying by interests for account of the government, the market continued to ease off during the entire afternoon. The downward trend was helped by weakness in stocks. Prices made new lows for the day near the end with October at 9.04 and December at 9.26 down 26 to 27 points from the highs of the morning. October closed at 9.05 and December at 9.26 or 20 points net lower for the day on both active months.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 10 penny points down.

Port receipts 118,167, for week 38,004, for season 151,978, last season 138,032. Exports 30,997, for week 62,561, for season 272,908, last season 205,715. Port stock 2,938,463, last year 3,310,004. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 64,439, last year 57,428. Spot sales at southern markets 15,019, last year 9,332.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (AP)—Cotton suffered renewed weakness today, losing about $1 a bale. December contracts after selling from 9.39@9.58 eased to 9.31 in the late trading and closed at that figure, with the general market ending barely steady at net declines of 19 to 23 points.

Initial prices were 6 to 11 points lower with active months selling about 11 to 12 points net lower during the early trading in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables, liquidation and southern selling.

The appearance of an active demand for December at prices ranging from 9.45@9.50 stiffened the market later in the morning. After purchases estimated in some quarters up to about 25,000 bales the demand for that position tapered off, and the market eased during the afternoon under a renewal of liquidation and scattered selling promoted by the failure of demand to broaden on the early advance.

Prices reached the lowest levels in the late trading and closed at the bottom on all active positions, with December at 9.31 showing a decline of 286 points from the high record of last month.

As was the case on Saturday, the heavy demand for December attracted a great deal of attention, and the absence of definite information, it was again rumored that the buying might be for the account of government agencies in connection with operations in seed loan cotton or cotton option contracts, in the working out of the agricultural adjustment program.

Exports today 30,931 making 286,136 so far this season. Port receipts 16,167, U. S. port stocks 2,920,921.

reau, explaining it would be a federal central coordinative agency. Most of the witnesses thought it a good idea, though some warned that local authorities would resent too much federal interference in crime investigation.

Other suggestions given to the committee included:

Registration over everybody in the United States—by Peter J. Siccardi, police chief of Bergen county, N. J.

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 14. (AP)—Increased supplies of cattle at most midwestern markets served to slow down trade on killing classes with prices unevenly steady to 25 lower. Strictly good and choice native grain-feds did not show any material decline, but short fed natives and western grass steers were generally 15 to 25 lower. At Kansas City there was a liberal run of grass slaughter steers and at several of the northern markets there was an increased movement of grass cattle. Chicago had a top of 7.25 on choice medium weight steers and long yearlings. Feeder buyers paid up to 6.35 for a few loads of fleshy strong weight western steers but majority on killing account ranged from 3.25@4.75. Stocker and feeder trade was moderately active at generally steady prices. Country buyers, however, are not giving the packers any appreciable amount of competition on strong weight western steers.

Hogs moved slowly at prices steady to 15 lower than Friday's average market. Most of the loss was on strong weight butchers. The day's extreme top of 4.65 was paid at Chicago.

Fat lambs and yearlings were tendered a general decline of 25 to 50, while sheep prices held about steady. Choice native lambs in Chicago sold up to 8.25 and at the river markets best range offerings stopped at 7.50. Most yearlings sold downward from 5.00.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Aug. 14. (AP)—Trading in all classes of slaughter cattle and calves was slow today.

Stockers cows $2.50@3.00. Stocker steer calves 4.00.

Farm Payments

have been received from farmers with grain scheduled for early marketing asking administrators to require continuance of minimum prices at the grain exchanges.

Exchanges have recently been operating with the closing prices of July 30 serving as the minimum below which transactions in futures were not permitted. The minimums are scheduled to be removed at the close of trading tomorrow.

Distribute Huge Sum

Administrators expect to distribute nearly $200,000,000 to cotton and wheat farmers in the next six weeks for reducing acreage. Of this, more than $100,000,000 will be to cotton growers who agreed to plow up from 25 to 50 per cent of their growing crop this summer. Approximately $90,000,000 is scheduled for distribution to wheat growers this fall in return for agreement to curtail their acreage for harvest in 1934 and 1935.

Morgenthau said that a complete waiver of amounts due the government as feed, seed, crop production and other loans would set a "bad precedent." He added that in the case of money due the federal land and intermediate credit banks a waiver would be bad practice because these institutions both issue securities held by the public.

An opinion from Attorney General Cummings was given Wallace. It was thought by farm officials to determine whether an 1875 law requiring the government to withhold sums due it from payments made affected the distribution of benefit payments.

The opinion was not disclosed, but administrators were reported to have been satisfied that there is no bar legally to payments in full.

Administrators were informed that a delegation of officials from cotton states headed by J. E. McDonald, Texas commissioner of agriculture, would present a formal request tomorrow that cotton prices be stabilized at 16 cents a pound during the fall marketing season.

Canadian automotive exports in May more than doubled those of the preceding month.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Aug. 14. (AP)—Trade on the Fort Worth cash grain market today was slow, but the market managed to absorb the light offerings and showed encouraging signs of recovery despite the deadlock still maintained in the Chicago contract grain market. Estimated receipts for the two-day period include:

Wheat 51 cars; corn 17; oats 6; barley 2, and sorghums 5.

Prices, nominal in many cases, ranged as follows, basis car loads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid to destination:

Delivered Texas gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: wheat No. 4 hard 60@64, Barley No. 2 nominally 60@63; No. 3 nominally 59@62.

Sorghums No. 2 milo per 100 pounds 1.50@1.55; No. 3 milo 1.47@1.52; No. 2 kafir per 100 pounds 1.60@1.65; No. 3 kafir 1.57@1.62.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: corn No. 2 mixed 64@65; No. 2 white 66 1-2@67 1-2; No. 2 yellow 64 1-2@65.

Delivered Texas common points: oats No. 2 red 43 1-2@44 1-2; No. 3 red 42 1-2 @43 1-2.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Aug. 14. (AP)—As idle as a proverbial painted ship upon a painted ocean, the Chicago grain trade today nervously watched business go out of this country to Canada. Prices here became meaningless.

Owing to an emergency fixed absolute minimum grain price limit which could not be removed until after the close of trading hours tomorrow, buying power here refused to assert itself, and sellers could find no outlet except at Winnipeg. Complicating the situation, which largely grew out of financial difficulties two weeks ago on the part of a New York trader whose holdings of grain and other commodities, as well as securities, totaled far up into millions of dollars, was the fact that Washington officials had disapproved a national code for grain exchanges.

Borne down by liquidating pressure from this country, Winnipeg wheat values tumbled 8 1-4 cents a bushel, but later recovered to the extent of half of the loss. Chicago trading both in grain and provisions was too small even to make a range of prices and was all at fixed minimum quotations identical with Saturday's finish.

Corn traders hear reports of a second brood of chinch bugs in enormous numbers threatening Illinois fields already promising hardly half a crop.

Provision dealings were at a standstill with grains.

South Plains Optometrists In Meeting Here; District Two Of State Association Formed At Session

Optometrists are organizing to cooperate with National Recovery administration in "hopes of cleaning up quackery and unfair practices," said Dr. E. B. Alexander of Duncan, Okla., in addressing South Plains optometrists last night at Hotel Lubbock. Doctor Alexander is first vice president of American Optometric association.

District 2 of the state association was organized with Dr. Millard F. Swart of Lubbock as chairman. Dr. C. M. Clough of Plainview was named secretary. Dr. Howard G. Towle of Snyder presided at last night's session, and Dr. Mollie Armstrong of Brownwood was a speaker. Besides optometrists from Snyder, Plainview and Lubbock, others were here from Brownfield, Floydada, Spur, Littlefield and Levelland.

"No profession has made greater strides in recent years than ours and a code protecting us from unscrupulous manufacturers should strengthen the profession in the esteem of the public," said Doctor Alexander. "Like all industries and professions, ours has had its troubles. One of the worst is that the optical market has been flooded with inferior and defective lenses and materials. We expect our code to eliminate this evil."

shortly after he swore in a cabinet which virtually ignored all the old political parties.

Members of the A. B. C. secret society, long opposed to the Machado rule, were recognized in the new cabinet and were granted portfolios along with the nationalists, reflecting resentment against the liberal party, to which Machado was attached, as well as the popular and conservative parties.

Hundreds of Havana residents greeted the arrival of the American destroyers Taylor and Claxton, which steamed into the harbor and dropped anchor. The Sturtevant, a third destroyer, was en route to Manzanillo, where disorders were reported by the American consul.

The post of secretary of state in the new cabinet was taken by the provisional president himself. The other members, with their party affiliations and portfolios, are:

Joaquin Martinez Saenz (ABC)—treasury.

Carlos Saladrigas (ABC)—justice.

Castillo Pokorny (nationalist) — war.

Dr. Jose Manuel Presno (none)—sanitation.

Nacasio Silverio (O.C.R.R.)—communications.

New Chief Of Staff

General Julio Sanguily became the new chief of staff of the Cuban army and it was under his authority that repressive measures were issued.

De Cespedes in his inaugural address, delivered to the acclaim of thousands gathered in the rear of the presidential palace, urged that resentment and excesses "yield to mutual respect and the most fraternal sentiments," he said he counted on the "efficacious collaboration of all the public powers and national institutions."

Sumner Welles, United States ambassador, paid a formal visit to the new president and his cabinet after the opening ceremonies. He was accompanied by Lieut. Col. Thomas N. Gimperling, military attache, and the commanding officers of the two destroyers.

The thousands who had gathered to hear the president's address cheered the ambassador as he arrived and renewed the demonstration as he departed.

Supporters of Machado, who escaped to Nassau, the Bahamas, followed his lead by fleeing for their lives in every direction. Alberto Herrera, Machado's war secretary and provisional president for a few hours Saturday before De Cespedes took office, fled with his wife and sons and their families on the United Fruit Steamship Quirigua, bound for Maacia.

Big Number Of Applicants For Texas Loans Eligible

DALLAS, Aug. 14. (AP) — James Shaw, state manager of the Home Owners' Loan corporation, said today that approximately 60 per cent of the applicants for loans were eligible for them.

In a telegraphic report to Washington officials, he said of the 4,000 applications already turned in the state headquarters of the corporation here, about 2,400 were eligible if the mortgagees will accept the corporation bonds. About half of the mortgagees already have indicated they will accept the bonds, Shaw reported.

later, Mollohan alleged, the Higginbothams denied their signatures and caused him to be indicted and arrested on six counts of felony, "knowing him not to be guilty."

Mollohan first was arrested in Midland, March 6, 1928, and brought to El Paso and was twice later arrested, he alleges. He was tried on the first count and found not guilty and then returned to Durango, Mexico, to look after his interests, he alleges.

He charges J. L., J. M., and R. W. Higginbotham with writing to the governor of Durango and telling him that Mollohan was a pernicious foreigner. It was made impossible for him to continue in business and he went to Mexico where he was deported, he alleged.

He alleged he was arrested in Laredo, March 16, 1932, and brought to El Paso where he remained 115 days in jail, but that all indictments against him were dismissed Dec. 22, 1931.

TO KILL HOGS

Thirty head of hogs will be killed at Panhandle-South Plains fair grounds today and curing of the meat will be begun, County Agent O. G. Tumlinson said.

The cured meat will be sent to the State fair at Dallas this fall. The slaughter and curing of the meat will be conducted as a demonstration.

EXECUTIVES TO MEET

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 14. (AP) — Governor Talmadge today asked chief executives of other cotton growing states to meet here in conference immediately to consider prevailing prices on farm products.

Lubbock Prisoners Are Being Held In Dark Cells After Jail Break Attempt

Government Is Determined To Prevent Graft In Funds

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP) — Determined to prevent graft in the expenditures of the government's huge $3,300,000,000 public works fund, Secretary Ickes, the administrator, announced tonight appointment of 10 regional inspectors as the nucleus of an organization to see to it that the government gets its money's worth.

The inspectors will be in charge of investigation forces in the field and their primary duty will be to see that there is no misuse of the money by either the federal government or political subdivisions.

with us. Just as the last of us were pulling off in small boats to the yacht, I heard the noise of the approaching crowd. I thought they would attempt to follow us, but evidently they did not find out where we had gone until it was too late."

Machado No Longer A Factor In Destiny

NASSAU, N. P., Aug. 14 (AP)—Declaring he is "no longer a factor in Cuba's destiny," former President Gerardo Machado, who fled into exile when his army revolted, settled down here today "happy and contented."

The deposed chief executive who came to Nassau in an airplane yesterday, said he believed "anything I might say would tend only to further complicate matters."

"I stand by my record," Machado asserted. "Most of it was good. Some was bad, perhaps. But I gave the people of Cuba many things they needed.

Will Not Interfere

"I am willing to await developments and shall not try to interfere. Cuba would never, under my rule—and I do not believe under any other administration—repudiate its financial obligations.

"I hope the new order is successful in bringing Cuba back to its senses, for I love my country dearly. I realize the futility of my trying to do anything."

Thus did the abdicting Cuban leader resign himself to his exile. He said he knew "of no reason why I should leave here. I am happy and contented." He said he probably would remain indefinitely at Nassau, a British possession.

While Lubbock county officers prepared to repair a steel door cut from its hinges, ten prisoners who had been occupying tank No. 4, in which the door was damaged, were held in dark cells yesterday. Six of the inmates were released from dark cells only four days before the jail-break attempt was discovered Sunday morning.

The door to a water-pipe and ventillation shaft had been cut from the hinges and was on the floor when officers and trusties went to the tank Sunday morning. James Arnold Shaw, a trusty who aided in putting down an attempted break Sunday, August 6, was credited with the discovery.

Welding of the door will begin today, Sheriff Tom Abel said. County commissioners, following a regular meeting yesterday, inspected the jail.

Six pieces of hacksaw blades were found suspended by a fine steel wire, believed to be from a musical instrument, in a drain under a shower in the tank. That the half-inch steel hinges of the door had been severed, smoothly, the cracks filled with soap to ally chance of discovery, was learned soon after breakfast about 8 a. m.

Occupants of the tank, all put in dark cells, were, according to Sheriff Abel:

Jack Kinsley, Jack Weeks, Fonzie Winslo Gressett, Leslie Hobgood, Columbus Perry, all charged with robbery with firearms, and Lloyd Demock, charged with forgery, the six who attempted a jail-break a week earlier, and Bill Doupe, charged with murder; R. M. Jester, charged with robbery; Rabbit Williams, charged with burglary, and J. W. Davis, charged with forgery.

Although entrance to the shaft was gained, bars within kept the prisoners from climbing upward into the ventilation shaft proper.

Sheriff Abel expressed doubt they could have escaped, had they gotten past the bars, as the air-shaft to the roof is not much more than a foot across at the bottom and has a lesser diameter at the top, from which a cover would have to be forced upward and off.

THE RETURN OF TARZAN No. 2

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

As the card-sharp tried to sneak away, he saw the exit barred by Tarzan's tall figure. Struggling and striking without effect, the fellow found himself in the ape-man's grasp. It was Nikola Rokoff's first experience with the muscles that had brought their savage owner victorious through encounters with Numa, the lion, and Terkoz, the great bull-ape.

Drawing the villian back to his astonished victims, Tarzan related the card trickery he had seen reflected in the mirror. Then releasing his prisoner, he thought no more about the matter. But from this incident Tarzan was to find he had made a desperate enemy, for Rokoff was one of the worst scoundrels in all Europe.

Next day the liner docked. Arriving in Paris, Tarzan went directly to the apartment of his friend d'Arnot, who was overjoyed to see him. Never could the naval lieutenant forget that but for Tarzan's wondrous strength he would have died at the stake in the cannibals' village of far-off Africa.

The two friends spent the next few weeks enjoying the sights of Paris. One evening Tarzan went to a music hall. During a dancing act he suddenly caught a glimpse of evil, black eyes fastened upon him. He had an uncanny feeling he was being watched. Had Tarzan but known it, he had been followed often of late, but never before had he been alone.

Residents Profess Ignorance Of Trips Made By Desperado

Harvey Bailey Is Unknown By Citizens Of Little Community; They Knew Something Was Wrong

PARADISE, Wise County, Tex., Aug. 14. (AP)—Residents of this quiet farming community far from large centers of population professed ignorance today of the trips Harvey Bailey, held in Dallas, made recently to the home of a prominent land owner, four miles west of town.

"Harvey Bailey? Who is he?"

That was the usual question asked when reference was made to the leader of the break of convicts from the Kansas penitentiary at Lansing last decoration day.

Captured In Bed

As a result of the raid Saturday of several loads of department of justice agents from Dallas and Fort Worth, when Bailey was captured while in bed, farmers and their families peered inquisitively at high-powered automobiles which laboriously negotiated the rough, narrow lanes leading to the little house at the top of a hill.

They had known for some time that "something was wrong" but had not been able to find out the nature of the mysterious trips large automobiles made to and from the house. They wondered why a woman, every few days, would drive a high-powered automobile to a Paradise filling station, have it oiled, greased and filled with gasoline. When she came again she would be driving another large car, equally as powerful and just as shiny. After making a few purchases, she would leave and drive over the same four miles of rough road.

A Big Garage

They knew that opposite the farm house, about 500 yards distant, was a new garage which "could take care of five or six cars."

The wife of the farm owner, who in recent years had showed signs of prosperity, told neighbors that all the persons who came to her home were "kin folks."

Tom Faith, Wise county sheriff, said at Decatur that Bailey was overpowered while in bed and explained that he later saw Bailey chained hand and foot and sitting on the rear bumper of an automobile. Nearby was the farm owner. Faith, making a tour of the desolate, infertile area, carried a red lantern so that he might be distinguished easily. Once, he ran into two car loads of justice agents. He was stopped at the point of a machine gun but was permitted to proceed when he showed his badge.

Respected Citizen

The man whose house sheltered Bailey had been a respected citizen for many years, in fact was a sort of local political boss and "his check was good for $100 any day," his neighbors say.

His step-daughter, child of his third wife, married a man reputedly the pal of Bailey — and the new stepson-in-law was an occasional visitor to the lonely farm house perched on the sandy hill top.

"Yeah—I've heered of him—think I seen him oncet at the reunion," was the local comment on this companion of Bailey.

Along with Bailey, his host, his third wife, her husband's son and wife and the son's father-in-law were taken into custody for questioning.

Believe In Innocence

But the community believes they are innocent of any wrong-doing.

"I can't believe they were anything but victims of circumstances—they just boarded those drifters," said a lawyer who has known Bailey's benefactor for years.

The department of justice agents accomplished their raid with swiftness and secrecy. They had telephoned Sheriff Faith to meet them at Rhome, about 10 miles from Paradise, but Faith understood them to say they would meet him at Decatur. He waited hours and didn't learn of the sudden raid at the farm house until he met the agents speeding away with their prisoners.

In A Hurry

"We're in a hurry now but we'll telephone you from Dallas and be back in a little while," they told him.

Decatur was busy resting up from the festivities of a three-day reunion and today the citizens found time for little else but speculate "on the trouble out there near Paradise."

There were vague rumors of large sums deposited recently in banks at Decatur, Bridgeport and Paradise, three neighboring hamlets, but bankers there were taciturn and non-committal.

None Are Received

One banker admitted, however, he had received a printed list of numbers of marked money supposedly paid as ransom for Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma oil millionaire.

"The bills were drawn on the federal reserve bank of Kansas City —and the Oklahoma City federal reserve is a branch of the Kansas City bank," he reasoned. "There must have been about $199,000 paid, to a dollar. I counted the bills listed."

He said none of the bills had been received at his bank.

One of the persons taken into custody with Bailey, the father-in-law of Bailey's host's son, was released Sunday and permitted to return to his farm near Paradise, where his wife and "nine or ten children" live.

Neighbors here were confident the others would be released, too.

Reunion And Rodeo Will Be Staged On Labor Day

Many Events Are To Be On Program At Ranch Meeting

AN OLD settlers reunion and rodeo celebrating the Labor day week-end will be conducted September 2, 3, 4 at the Johnston ranch headquarters in Yellowhouse canyon, Jim Johnston announced Monday.

Speaking, old-time fiddling, old-time and modern dancing, a band each from Slaton and Lubbock, Dick Dudley amusements and concessions, and range events, with plentiful shade, water and camping ground promised, are on the bill.

The ranch is 12 miles east of Lubbock and five miles north of Slaton beside the Slaton-Idalou highway.

Broncho and wild steer riding, wild horse racing, calf and goat roping, a business men's roping contest, bulldogging and wild cow milking are rodeo events.

Entries include:

Calf roping—Sheriff Tom Standefer of Cochran county, Joe York and Shorty Berry of Snyder, Clayton Standefer of Lehman, Buck Standefer of Olton, and Lee McFadden of Matador.

Business men's roping — C. A. Sheffield, R. E. Edwards, Blondie Puckett, L. H. Redwine, C. B. Musgrove and C. L. Adams.

Fiddling—Uncle Tom Lee of Lubbock, T. C. Michael of Lubbock, Uncle Tom Crawford of Carlsbad, N. M., and J. H. Lindsey of South Bend, Tex.

Perfect Figure

Rosalia Lord, 19, won a "most perfect figure" contest in Los Angeles. She is 5 feet 1 inch tall and weighs 114 pounds. Here she is shown displaying the silver cup she won.

Three Prisoners Escape As Riot Is Staged On Monday

BOSTON, Aug. 14 (AP) — A riot among the prisoners at Suffolk county house of correction on Deer Island today resulted in the escape of three prisoners, the severe beating of two in their recapture and an armed manhunt on the Winthrop mainland.

The prisoner still remaining at large, jail officials said, was James J. O'Hara, alias Badger. Squads of Boston and Winthrop police and jail guards sought him along the stony shore of the Point Shirley peninsula and in every unoccupied summer cottage in the region.

Delegations Meet Highway Officers

AUSTIN, Aug. 14 (AP)—Delegations from a number of Texas counties were here today to interview members of the Texas highway commission with reference to designations and other road matters.

Hearing of delegations will precede the letting next Wednesday of contracts for approximately $625,000 worth of highway construction.

The commission announced allotments of the federal relief construction money had been completed and that it would be futile for county delegations to seek alternations in the program.

TEXAN IS KILLED

LAKE CHARLES, La., Aug. 14 (AP)—J. A. Lyles, of Port Arthur, was almost instantly killed today when thrown about 25 feet after being struck by a cable that broke on a pile driver at the tank farm of the Shell Petroleum corporation, 11 miles south of here. He was about 33 years old. His widow visiting in Baton Rouge, was notified. She and two children survive him.

WHY NOT GET THE MOST safety mileage value FOR YOUR MONEY?

THE price of all tires is about alike — so the wise thing to do is to look over the field and get the most for your money.

You'll find out this: At the price you pay for any other tire, you can get more safety from skidding — more safety from blowouts — more mileage—more value in Goodyear Tires.

More traction — by 10 to 77%

You'll hear a lot of talk about non-skid safety. What are the facts? Goodyear made some accurate tests to settle the question.

Result? On wet concrete the second-best tire skidded 10% farther than Goodyears—and the worst one skidded 77% farther. In other words, Goodyear Tires stop your car quicker than any other tire. If you don't use Goodyears, there is one sure quick test by which you can prove to your own satisfaction and safety what a real non-skid tire is. Get into a car on Goodyears, drive out over wet, slippery pavements, and note how Goodyears grip and hold. You'll get plenty of proof.

Safety from Blowouts in Every Ply

One of the commonest causes of blowouts is ply-failure inside the tire. When any ply breaks down, it weakens the others.

So Goodyear Tires give you the safety of Supertwist Cord — not in a single ply — not only in two or three — but in every ply of every Goodyear Tire. And every ply goes from bead to bead. Let us test an ordinary tire cord alongside Goodyear Supertwist Cord on our testing machine. Stretched alike, and then released, the ordinary cord will loosen and sag — but the Goodyear Supertwist Cord will recover and come back time after time.

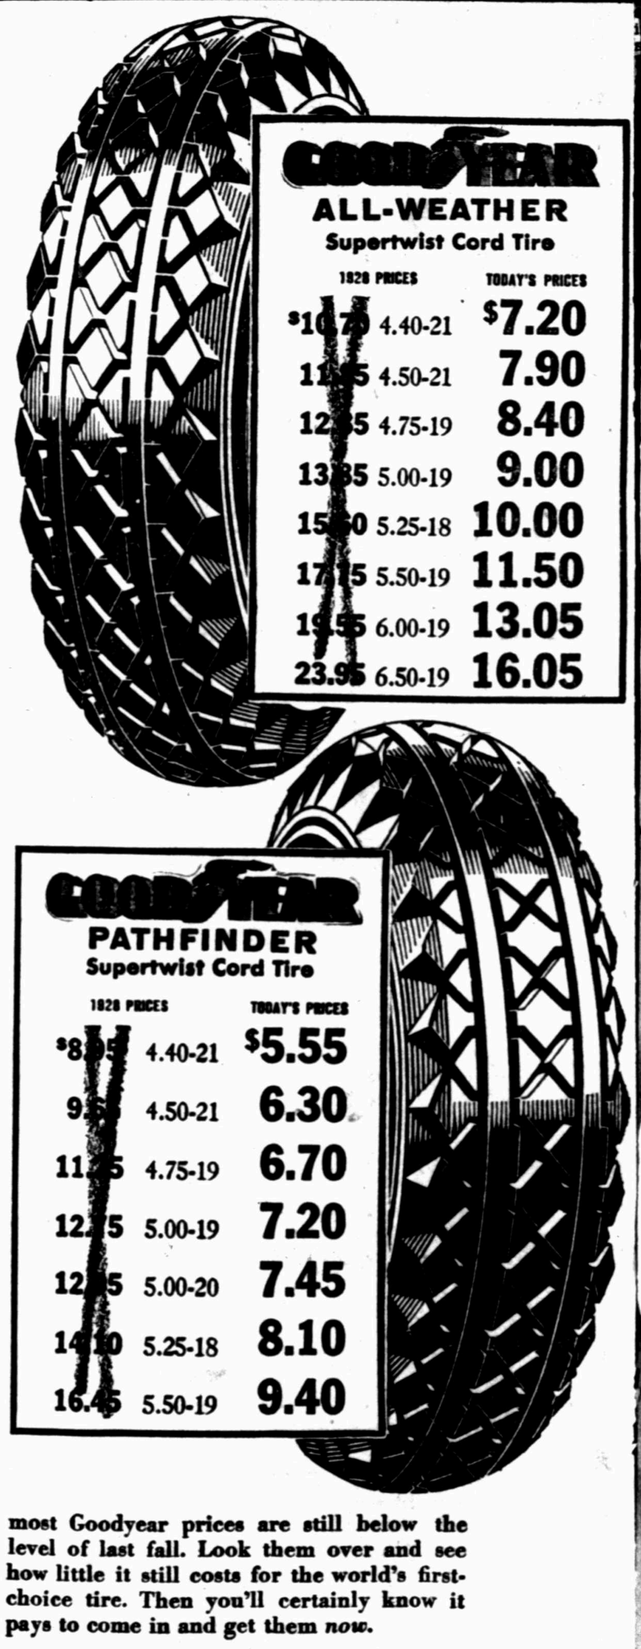

That's what happens in the flexing action of your tires as they roll—stretch and recover, stretch and recover. With their every ply extra-elastic Supertwist Cord, Goodyear Tires stand up longer and carry you with greater safety.

Accurate records show Goodyears give 97% more mileage than five years ago

This figure is straight from the records of the largest bus fleets in America—fleets that travel millions of tire miles per year. And the same improvements which made these records possible are now built in the tires for your car. That's the surest proof of the value Goodyears offer you today.

Look at the prices and buy now

Cotton's up 100%. Rubber's up 100%. But most Goodyear prices are still below the level of last fall. Look them over and see how little it still costs for the world's first-choice tire. Then you'll certainly know it pays to come in and get them now.
