Verner Donohoe Given 25 Years For Slaying Wilbarger Youth

VERNON JURY'S VERDICT ENDS SLAYING CASE

Oil Worker Convicted For Death of Herman Walden of Hill Top

DONOHOE TO APPEAL

Attorneys Announce Fight To Free Defendant Will Be Pressed

Special to The Record News

VERNON, Texas, April 21.—Verner Donohue, 27 year old oil field worker, was sentenced to 25 years in the penitentiary for the killing of Herman Walden, Hill Top youth, last February, by the verdict of a jury which reported at 1 o'clock Sunday, 10 hours after the case had been put into its hands. Attorneys for Donohue gave notice of appeal.

The sentence was read in an almost empty court room at high noon Sunday. Donohue's expression, smiling and confident throughout the trial, did not alter.

Body Found Near Creek

Herman Walden's body was found in the Minnas creek breaks six days after his disappearance last February. Testifying in his own behalf Saturday afternoon, Donohue said that he had let the young man out of his car near the creek when the machine became stalled in a mudhole, young Walden being anxious to reach his destination. The Donohue car was found in a depression near the spot where Walden's body was discovered.

The defense introduced half a dozen character witnesses in addition to the defendant's 17 year old wife who took the stand in his defense Saturday afternoon.

Stories Conflict

Relatives of the slain man testified that Donohue had told them conflicting stories about his whereabouts when he was first missed.

In the arguments which closed at 10 o'clock Saturday night, the state demanded the death penalty. Donohue consistently denied any connection with the youth's death.

Reparations Board May Dissolve Soon

PARIS, April 21. (AP)—The offices of the second Dawes committee here were deserted today for the first time since revision of reparations was taken up more than two months ago. There was nothing more to be done in the opinion of most of the delegates, but to register formally the failure of the committee.

The small possibility of continuation of negotiations depends on what inspiration Dr. Hjalmar Schacht receives in Berlin. If on the advice of the reich government he demands that discussion go on, the conference probably will continue for a few days more, but it will not last long unless the Germans bring in an offer that the allies can consider more serious that that which shocked them last week.

Stiffer Alcohol Levy Planned in Mexico

MEXICO CITY, April 21. (AP)—Increased taxation on alcoholic beverages and a reduction in the alcoholic content of beer have been decided on by Secretary of Finance Montes de Oca as the most efefctive way to co-operate with President Portes Gil in his campaign against the drink habit in Mexico. The secretary did not specify the amount of the proposed increase in taxes, nor the limit to be applied to beer.

Hambone's Meditations

'Petticoat Rule' Worries Stout Britons

Burly old John Bull is fairly quaking in his boots since petticoat rule has been making great inroads in English politics. A large number of constituencies are expected to be represented by women after the general election May 30. The by-election of Miss Jennie Lee (above) 24-year-old daughter of a miner, has given the Labor party more women members in the house than any other party.

'HERETIC' CHOIR GOES ON STRIKE

Heresy Case Results In Loss Of Singers

CAMERON, Texas, April 21. (AP)—The choir and organist of the Cameron Presbyterian church failed to appear for services today, conducted by Dr. W. S. Red, Austin, filling temporarily the pulpit vacancy left yesterday by the Central Texas Presbytery's ouster of the Rev. H. B. Kenney on unexplained heresy charges.

The Rev. Dr. Red asked volunteers for the choir and organ but no one responded. His text was from Paul's letter to the Ephesians: "I, therefore, the prisoner of the Lord, beseech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called."

The substiute pastor announced that the Presbytery's expulsion of the Rev. Kenney, making him disqualified for any similar assignment in the district, would be explained in a "full report" to the congregation tomorrow afternoon. It was said yesterday that the explanation would be made today.

The Rev. Kenney came to Cameron from West Virginia recommended by John W. Davis, once a Democratic presidential candidate. Mr. Kenney had been pastor of the church to which Mr. Davis belonged.

Bootlegger and 'Stool Pigeon' Shoot It Out

PHILADELPHIA, April 21. (AP)—A bootlegger and a "stool pigeon," meeting by accident, shot out their grievance today and when the smoke cleared away both lay dead on the pavement.

Leon Accolacco, 32, the bootlegger, went down with a bullet in the heart. Guarrie Ammoroso, 36, was shot four times through the body. Police are searching for a third man, name withheld, alleged to have tripped Ammoroso as the latter fled from Accolacco.

Son of Crown Prince In California Hospital

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21. (AP)—The Examiner said today that Louis Ferdinand, son of the former crown prince of Germany, was treated at the Habor emergency hospital here last night for an abcessed ear.

Motive for Death of Newspaperman Puzzle to Laredo

LAREDO, Texas, April 21. (AP)—The motive the state will seek to establish in the trial of two police officers for the slaying of Harry Williams, 24-year-old Laredo newspaper reporter, had not been divulged today but persons acquainted with the case believed the prosecution may proceed on the hypothesis that in attempting to arrest Williams on some minor charge the officers killed him, perhaps unintentionally, and, aghast, threw his body into the Rio Grande.

Williams, a former Muncie, Ind., newspaperman, disappeared on the night of Jan. 19, 1929. About a month later his body was taken from the Rio Grande.

Raymond J. West, 24, constable, and Tomas Hernandez, for eight years a motorcycle officer here, were indicted for murder in Williams' death by the Webb county grand jury yesterday.

The authorities today again refused to discuss the motive they will allege. District Attorney R. L. Bobbitt, in refusing information, had declared he did so for the "best interests of the state." He would say only that neither rum running, robbery nor any similar serious affair had any place in its theory.

Huge Army of Veterans Ready to End Revolt

MEXICO CITY, April 21. (AP)—Twenty thousand federal soldiers, seasoned by two months of hard campaigning, today were massed at Casas Grandes, Chihuahua, and San Blas, Sonora, ready to rout the rebels in their last stronghold—the state of Sonora.

It was expected here that the federal columns would move into Sonora early this week and that before the week was over the revolution would be over.

U. of T. Oil Royalties Total $10,339,769

AUSTIN, April 21. —Oil royalties from university oil lands in West Texas have reached a total of $10,339,769 for the time since the inception of the fields and $115,502 for receipts during April for March production. The receipts during the last few days aggregate $14,647. The receipts were: Humble Oil and Refining company, $3,392; Gulf Production company, $2,859; Magnolia Refining company, $2,679 and the Humble company, $4,777.

Schumann-Heink, After 50 Years Of Singing, Calls Last Tour Her Vacation

Buoyant in the spirit which has borne her triumphant over life's full measure of sorrow, has enabled a golden voice to sing its way into the hearts of millions, and which is making a complete success of the present tour which marks her fifty-first year before the public, Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink arrived in Wichita Falls Sunday afternoon for her farewell appearance here Monday night at the Memorial auditorium.

Welcoming members of the American Legion, and the Record News representative, with the characteristic, warmly intoned, "Meine Liebe Knaben!" the renowned contralto immediately revealed the maternal personality under the influence of which men who wore the khaki a dozen years ago invariably greet her as "Mother."

Replying to a reference to her return to Texas, Madame Schumann-Heink exclaimed: "I have been here so many times; I love the 'big state' as I love stories of the 'big West,' and feel at home here." Her home is in Los Angeles, and one of her sons, Ferdinand, has for the last few years been engaged as an actor in moving picture production at Hollywood. A wire received Sunday afternoon from another son, Henry, stating that he has accepted a position with an oil company in Oklahoma City, was the cause of

HOOVER HOTLY SCORES PLAN OF DEBENTURE

President's Letter to Head Of Farm Committee Rape Proposal

ACTION DUE TODAY

Poll of Farm Relief Body Indicates Hot Fight For Session

WASHINGTON, April 21. (AP)—President Hoover, in a letter sent today to Chairman McNary of the senate agriculture committee, said he was convinced that the export debenture plan of farm relief under consideration by that committee "would bring disaster to the American farmer."

He presented 10 reasons on which he predicated an expressed belief that the theoretical benefits would not be reflected to the farmers and the debenture plan would lead to profiteering by spectators and others as well as over-production of the affected commodities, thus ading to the difficulties from which the farmer now suffers from that cause. Finally, he said introduction of such a plan "inevitably would confuse and minimize the much more far reaching plan of farm relief, upon the fundamental principles of which there has been general agreement."

Mellon, Hyde Coincide

Attached to the president's letter were communications from Secretaries Mellon and Hyde and the commerce department which condemned the plan in almost as vigorous language as that employed by the chief executive. On these Mr. Hoover based most of his own conclusions that the plan, put forward by the national grange, is dangerous as well as uneconomical.

Senator McNary has called his committee to meet in special session tomorrow to consider the communications and there is conjecture as what action the committee will take since it decided last week to report the debenture plan irrespective of what views the chief executive might express.

An unofficial poll of the committee tonight disclosed six for the plan and six against with the deciding votes in the hands of two Democrats, Smith of South Carolina, and Thomas of Oklahoma, and the one Farmer-Labor member of the senate, Shipstead of Minnesota.

Rejection Seen

Even should the committee decide to report the measure back with the provision authorizing the federal farm board to put the debenture plan into operation on application of one or more farmers' cooperatives, administration leaders believe the senate will reject it in view of the strong opposition of Mr. Hoover.

The house will resume consideration of its own measure, which does not include a debenture plan, tomorrow under a program calling for its passage Wednesday. Debate also begins tomorrow in the senate, but with a vote apparently several weeks away.

Whether the national grange will insist on its proposal before the senate appeared problematical, although no statement was forthcoming from Louis J. Taber, master of the national grange, who had a long conference on the subject yesterday with President Hoover.

There were unconfirmed reports that some of the grange leaders were not satisfied with the form in which the senate committee had written the debenture plan into the McNary measure and that there might be a move for changes.

Clay County Land Suit Delayed at Henrietta

HENRIETTA, Texas, April 21. (AP)—Trial of the suit brought by Mrs. M. D. Stine and others of Amarillo against J. H. Stine of Chickasha, Okla., involving trusteeship of approximately 7,000 acres of land in Clay, Dallam and Hartley counties, Texas, was postponed until the week of April 29 when called here Saturday. Several parties of the action unavoidably were absent.

Sustained Vigor Shown By N. Y. Bond Market

NEW YORK, April 21. (AP)—The most sustained vigor in months characterised the bond market the past week. All through the list prices firmed slowly but steadily. Starting the week with trading at low ebb, sales accelerated until at the week-end they passed $10,000,000 in the heaviest turnover of the month.

St. Louis Federal Building Site Picked

WASHINGTON, April 21. (US)—Selection of the plaza, also known as the city center, as the site of the new federal building to be erected in St. Louis, was announced today by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Curt T. Schuesmann.

WAR, ALMOST

Great Railway Guns Will Boom After Night Emplacement

WASHINGTON, April 21. (US)—Artillery practice as it is in actual war time will be seen at Fort Monroe, Va., May 7 when the 52nd coast artillery, moving its great railway guns into the Chesapeake bay fortifications from Fort Eustis, emplace the guns in the firing positions under cover of night, using only faint blue lights.

In actual warfare it is necessary, for safety purposes to make the emplacements at night for much man labor is entailed and by day the workers would be an excellent target for the enemy. Preliminary target practice is scheduled for May 10, other practices on May 13, 14, and 21, and on May 27 battle practice will be held at Fort Story.

PRYOR TRIAL OPENS TODAY

State and Defense Ready For Hearing

Trial of Ed Pryor, former Electra constable, charged with robbery with firearms in connection with the holdup of J. B. Early, employe of the Jefferson hotel in Electra last summer, is set for 9 o'clock Monday morning in the 30th district court. Both the state and the defense announced Sunday that they would be ready for trial.

Pryor is charged both as a principal and as an accessory, the state contending that the former constable, during his term of office, aided and encouraged Henry Shumake, principal state witness, in carrying out plans for the alleged crime, according to testimony introduced at a former trial. Shumake, charged first with the robbery, escaped from the Wichita county jail and was re-arrested at Pryor's home in Electra. The constable himself, and Tom Shook, former chief of police at Electra, were taken into custody later the same night. Shook, indicted with Pryor and also charged with murder, broke jail here last summer and has not been re-arrested.

In a trial held last January Pryor was acquitted on charges of robbery with firearms growing out of the robbery of a newsstand in Electra. Henry Shumate, testifying for the state, told the jury he had committed the robbery with the knowledge of Proyor and that he had gone to Pryor's home for protection after his escape from jail. The former constable claimed that Shumake was his prisoner and was to have been turned into the authorities.

Texan Fatally Hurt In Road Altercation

LUFKIN, Texas, April 21. (AP)—John Stanley, 63, farmer, died here today two hours after he had been knocked to the pavement in an altercation on the highway. Elmer Newberry, 24, garage owner, was charged with murder. The fight that caused Stanley's death was said to have occurred after a collision between automobiles driven by Stanley and Newberry. Stanley's skull was crushed when his head struck the pavement.

General Lord Plans Retirement in June

WASHINGTON, April 21. (AP)—Brig. Gen. Herbert M. Lord, director of the budget, has decided to retire before the beginning of another year's labor. The governmental fiscal year ends June 30.

At the request of President Hoover, General Lord withheld his resignation when the new administration came in March 4, but he has informed the president of his desire to return to business after seven years as the director of the nation's financial program.

TEXAS SOLONS TO ASSEMBLE BRIEFLY TODAY

Special Session Expected To Adjourn After Message Is Heard

'HOW LONG' THEY ASK

Legislators Seem Little Interested in Coming Proceedings

AUSTIN, April 21. (AP)—Members of the 41st legislature were coming back to Austin tonight prepared to go over much ground they covered during the 88 days of the regular session.

The special session, called by Governor Moody to enact prison concentration and relocation, civil service and educational legislation, will convene tomorrow at noon.

The governor had not completed his message, despite its announced brevity. He said that it would not be "much more than half a page" in length.

State Closes

All departments of the state capitol will be closed in commemoration of San Jacinto day and tomorrow's legislative session doubtless will be short. It is believed that adjournment until Tuesday will be voted immediately after the governor's message is read.

All three of the subjects named by Governor Moody in his proclamation were placed before the regular session and neither was disposed of. The civil service proposal was voted down by the house and never was submitted in the senate. The governor's idea on prison concentration and organization of the board of education were not those of the legislature, and nothing was done about either.

Organizations Completed

Bills embodying Governor Moody's ideas on these matters will be presented soon after both houses are ready for work. There will be no organizing to do in either branch. The senate will elect a president pro tempore to succeed W. R. Cousins of Beaumont who held the place during the interim. Walter C. Woodward of Coleman was president pro tempore during the regular session. It was said that Gus Russek of Schulenburg, defeated for the place by Woodward at the opening of the regular session, would be chosen.

The house will be ready for business when Speaker W. S. Barron raps his gavel. A few vacancies in minor offices may be filled.

Second Session Likely

As the legislators arrived they were interested chiefly in how long they would be required to remain on the job. They seemed little interested in legislation, save passage of the appropriation bills providing for support of the government during the biennium beginning Sept. 1. The governor has intimated he will withhold these pending action on other subjects.

At the conclusion of the 30-day period the session will end automatically, but the governor may issue a call for a second extra session. This will be imperative if the appropriation bills and the automobile registration fee and gasoline tax measures have not been enacted. The highway construction program depends on the license fees and gasoline tax revenue.

Women Use Corsets To Conceal Ammunition

MEXICO CITY, April 21. (AP)—A novel method of smuggling ammunition was discovered last night. Detectives arrested two women as they were boarding a train for Guadalajara, each having 2,000 rifle cartridges sewed inside her corset.

Police believe the ammunition was intended for rebels operating in Jalisco.

W. C. T. U. Head Protests Booze Sale on Ship

CHICAGO, April 21. (AP)—Mrs. Ella A. Boole, president of the Women's Christian Temperance union, today sent the United States Lines, Inc., a protest against the sale of liquor aboard the liner Leviathan.

MARCH OF SCIENCE

Advances in Fight On Unsolved Disease To Be Told

WASHINGTON, April 21. (AP)—The latest advances in man's quest to cure some unsolved diseases will be summarized here tomorrow before the National Academy of Sciences at the opening session of a three-day annual meeting.

New light will be cast on science's battle against tuberculosis by recent discoveries which will link chemistry and biology in cooperative effort against the dread disease.

Fundamental research in finding the basic elements which control the chemical make-up of the human body and how these are altered to produce disease will be treated.

SIX KILLED IN MIDAIR SMASH

Pilot's 'Chute Hangs as He Tries Escape

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 21. (AP)—Six persons were killed here today when a passenger carrying plane of the Maddux air line was struck in midair by an army pursuit plane which was flying overhead and suddenly lost altitude.

The crash came at an elevation of 2,000 feet a few minutes after the Maddux plane had started from a local field for Phoenix, Ariz.

All occupants of both planes were killed.

J. E. Bishop, a ground eye-witness, said both planes fell suddenly due to an atmospheric condition, but the army plane came down with greater speed, striking the Maddux machine on the right wing.

The army plane then fell clear of the passenger machine and Lieut. Howard Keefer, at the controls, jumped. His parachute caught on the wing of his descending plane and he dangled there until he struck the ground. He was dead when reached.

The Maddux plane carried to death Horace H. Murphy, pilot; L. D. Pratt, relief pilot, and three passengers, A. D. Duajardo, his daughter, Amelia, 18, and Miss Cecilia Kelly of Phoenix, the passenger list showed.

Pratt lived at Beverly Hills, Calif., and the Duajardos were from Imperial Valley.

GENEVA, April 1. (AP)—An important statement outlining American views on reduction of armaments, chiefly on reduction of naval armaments, will be made tomorrow by Ambassador Hugh S. Gibson at the preliminary commission for a disarmament conference.

Rescue Flier Who Set Out to Save 'Enemy' Found Dead Beside His Ship

MELBOURNE, Australia, April 21. (UP)—An apparently lifeless body believed to be that of Keith Anderson, noted Australian flier, was sighted today by a rescue aviator who located the missing airplane Kookaburra, in which Anderson and his mechanic, Robert Hitchcock, left Alice Springs, April 10.

The rescue pilot reported that he circled over the Kookaburra on the Sunday desert about 80 miles northwest of Powell's creek. Brain said he believed the figure he saw stretched beneath the plane was Anderson and that the aviator was dead.

Brain continued his search for an hour but found no trace of Hitchcock, who set out from Alice Springs with Anderson to search for the airplane Southern Cross, which later was found on the mud flats south of Port George Mission.

Accordingto Brain's observation, Anderson apparently encountered engine trouble and was forced to land on the desert. The stranded fliers had lighted a smoke fire in an attempt to guide rescue craft to the position, Brain said. The fire was reported still burning, having spread over an area of about 10 square miles.

Anderson joined the search for the Southern Cross without hesitation, although he had been on unfriendly terms with Capt. Charles E. Kingsford-Smith, pilot of the Southern Cross, for many months.

NEW ARKANSAS TWISTER KILLS 13 LABORERS

Huge Plantation Swept By Renewed Storm Disturbance

WEEK END TOLL HIGH

Lightning Kills Two Boys In Barn Near Baseball Pavilion

CINCINNATI, April 21. (AP)—Howard Rusk and Clifford Sanders, both 13, and a number of boys were shocked late today when lightning struck and ignited a barn adjacent to the baseball park at Walton, Ky., about 20 miles south of here. John Hartman, 17, Walton, was shocked badly.

GREENVILLE, Miss., April 21. (AP)—Three negroes were killed and 25 other persons, two of whom were white, were injured in a tornado that struck the vicinity of Dahlmey, Miss., three miles, north of here, late today.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 21. (AP)—Thirteen persons, 11 of them negroes, were killed and two were injured, probably fatally, in a tornado which cut a 100-yard swath through the Tillar Plantation company property, one-half mile north of Tillar, Ark., late today. This report was received by Missouri Pacific officials here from the division superintendent at McGehee, Ark. Tillar is situated about 90 miles southeast of Little Rock.

A. Groll, division superintendent of the Missouri Pacific railroad, reported to the railroad's offices here on his return to McGehee from Tillar that the tornado swept through a plantation settlement on the Tillar company's property.

R. H. Wolfe, managing director of the Tillar Plantation company, told Missouri Pacific officials that timeless reports of damage in other sections of the plantation were received outside assistance would not be needed.

The plantation is one of the largest in Arkansas.

Missouri Pacific officials also received reports that a tornado had struck near Crowbon Sput, north of Wham, La., razing a number of houses and outbuildings. No one was injured, according to reports. Wham is 35 miles south of the Arkansas state line.

SOUTHWEST TOLL SEVEN OVER WEEK-END

KANSAS CITY, April 21. (AP)—The Southwest tonight had paid calamitous spring a toll of at least seven lives, more than a score injured and uncounted thousands of dollars damage caused by a series of tornadoes and floods over the week-end.

Tornado-like disturbances that started in northern Texas Friday moved into Oklahoma, Arkansas, Missouri and Kansas, and centered last night in the last three.

Lowlands Flooded

Streams in eastern and southern Kansas and in northern Oklahoma were flooding lowlands, and many miles of highway and railroad lines were inundated. Bus service was suspended along some stretches.

The known dead included three Indians, killed in Oklahoma tornadoes; a man killed in a storm that almost wiped out the town of Reece, Kan.; a baby crushed to death in a Texas storm, and a boy drowned while wading in a swollen creek near Wyandotte, Okla. A laborer was drowned when he fell into flood waters of the Des Plaines river, St. Louis. The body of a man was reported in the flood waters of Walnut river, near Winfield, Kan.

fashion last evening in Missouri, Arkansas and Kansas. Besides the Reece, Kan., storm, disastrous blows ripped along the Missouri-Kansas border through three counties in a twin path 10 miles apart. In northwestern Arkansas, a tornado left a seven-mile path of destruction.

Aside from Reece, Kan., the town of Bolivar, Mo., perhaps was hardest hit, nine persons being injured and nearly 50 houses demolished or badly damaged.

Big Towns Missed

Farm families in the wind-harried areas were kept on the dodge after shelter in storm cellars. In many instances they saw their homes swept away. Fortunately the tornadoes missed the larger centers of population. The damage to crops and farm buildings, however, was heavy in many localities.

Virtually the entire Southwest experienced heavy rainstorms in the last 48 hours. Hail fell, in many places, before the wind struck.

Colorado and Wyoming were digging out of a heavy snowfall that came at the week's close.

ARMY SENDS AID TO OKLAHOMANS

SAN ANTONIO, April 21. (US)—Army tents, cots and blankets were ordered sent from Fort Sill to Carnegie, Okla., by Eighth Corps area headquarters today. The request for housing supplies came from the American Legion post at Carnegie following a checkup of Saturday's tornado which took the lives of three Kiowa Indians and flattened a portion of Caddo county.

KENTUCKY STORM TAKES TWO LIVES

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 21. (AP)—Two persons were injured fatally in accidents on slippery highways and damage estimated at $250,000 was caused by a wind and hail storm which struck Louisville and New Albany, Ind., across the Ohio river, today.

Texas Regents Meet In Three-Day Session

AUSTIN, April 21.—A three-day session is before the University of Texas board of regents when they convene in Austin Monday.

At the request of the bidding contractors, bids on the proposed auditorium-gymnasium building will not be opened until Wednesday and routine matters and conferences with the finance and other legislative committees will occupy the regents until Wednesday.

Architects' plans for the new $180,000 mechanical engineering building to be erected in the early summer will be presented to the regents Monday, according to R. L. White, supervising architect.

Machine Gun Dealer's Wife Under Arrest

CHICAGO, April 21. Sergeant Hurst dispatched Ellis Summers, plain clothes officer, to the scene of the alleged wild party.

Summers investigated the residence and finding neither the wild party, any unusual disturbance or the beer drinking daughter, returned to police headquarters.

NOTED ARTIST SINGS TONIGHT

Variety of Numbers Listed By Schumann-Heink

much rejoicing on the part of Madame, because—"a good business, and not in the big cities."

Does America's favorite woman singer approve of cigaret smoking among the women, as was implied in an advertisement some months ago? Madame does not, she declared emphatically, admitting that she is old-fashioned.

"Where have I found my greatest happiness? In my singing since I turned 60—eight years ago. To be alive, and privileged to sing for the happiness of our people—all classes; and for the boys from the war, lying in hospitals. You can feel so much more deeply the beauty of living, and the blessing of being useful in it, after you're 60. I am content, and happy. This concert tour, exacting as it is, is my vacation."

The present tour, which began last fall, is the farewell concert tour of this artist-mother. But it does not precede a period of contemplated inactivity. Madame Schumann-Heink only recently signed a contract for another season with the Metropolitan Opera company in New York, and is laying plans for future development of her master class in voice with the energy and enthusiasm of a beginner. She suggested that a branch of this class may be organized in Europe, because "our country does not yet offer the young musician opportunity for development in the opera." Madame pointed out that there are few beginning and intermediate fields in the United States through which the operatic aspirant may develop toward the ultimate goal of grand opera. "Every city, every town," she said, "should have its little opera company, as many now have the little theater. The best class of light opera would command the interest of the young singers, and would do wonderful things for the further growth of music in this country."

The concert to be given here Monday night at 8:15 o'clock will include numbers suited to a wide variety of tastes. The heavier scores of operatic compositions and the classics of the masters will be represented. There will be some of the songs which were heard in the huge cantonment auditoriums at Camps Funston and Pike and many others where doughboys, sea-dogs, and gobs were in the making. "His Lullaby," by Carrie Jacobs Bond, has been programmed on this tour in especial dedication to the composer, who lost her only son last spring. "Der Erl-Konig," named by Madame recently as her own favorite, will be used as an encore, "if some want to hear it."

The singer will be accompanied Monday night by Mrs. Josephine Vollmer, whose association with Schumann-Heink dates back a score of years.

California has more than 4,000 saddle horses, an increase of 22 per cent in three years.

HONOR GIVEN OLD MAIL ROAD

Convention Will Commemorate Overland Route

Special to The Record News

STAMFORD, Texas, April 21.—The overland mail route which was being efficiently operated in West Texas before the Civil war may be commemorated in connection with the celebration of the 11th annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the Gadsden purchase, if a suggestion of R. C. Crane of Sweetwater, president of the West Texas Historical association, is acted upon.

Crane, in bringing the suggestion to the attention of the regional organization heads, brought to mind that this route which was called the Butterfield Overland Mail, came into Texas at Preston bend, on Red river, near Denison; passed by Fort Belknap, Camp Cooper, Fort Phantom Hill, Ford Chadbourne, thence west to El Paso. It employed 750 men, had over 100 Concord stage coaches, 1,000 horses and 500 mules. In the employe of the company were included 150 stage drivers.

The division points in Texas were Preston, Fort Chadbourne and El Paso. An article on the Butterfield Overland Mail written by Dr. Crane dealing exclusively with the history of West Texas has been printed by Professor E. S. Barker's source book on the history of Texas, just off the press.

Blazed in 1849

It was in the summer and fall of 1849 that Capt. R. B. Marcy, under orders from the United States war department, blazed the trail from near El Paso through this immediate section of Texas, to and across Red River near where Denison now is.

His report brought to the attention of the government the possibility of eventually building a railroad through this section. He demonstrated for the first time that it was practicable for men to travel over the region in question, and laid out and logged the Marcy or California trail to the Pacific gold coast through West Texas, which was considerably traveled for some years.

As a result of this exploration, when in 1856-57 the question came up of the establishment of a mail stage to the Pacific coast, in congress, there was a question as to routes—whether to run over the mountains through Colorado or by the southern route.

Marcy said he was familiar with all of the routes but that this was the best.

U. S. Forts Follow

A string of United States army forts through West Texas was established in the early fifties as a result of Marcy's exploration.

When the contract was finally let for the southern route to Butterfield and his associates in 1857 they required a year in which to get ready, go over the road, build stage stands and prepare for water.

In September, 1858, the first stages started from St. Louis, Mo., and San Francisco, Calif., the two termini of the Butterfield Overland Mail. The papers all over the country were full of it. A reporter from the New York Herald made the first trip from the East over the line.

The book which in 1925 took the $1,000 prize for the best book published during the year in the United States on any historical subject by a Wisconsin professor of history, devoted about 10 pages to the Butterfield Overland Mail. Professor Richardson of Simmons university at Abilene made a study of the line and published an article on it in the Texas Historical Quarterly.

Led to Settlement

As to the blazing of the Marcy trail through West Texas and its establishment of the fact that it was impracticable to build a railroad through this section, and Marcy's report that people could live in West Texas, and that its soil was capable of sustaining a farming population, went far toward proving the desirability of making the Gadsden purchase so that a railroad could be built on the southern route to the Pacific, which would be free from the mountains, Crane said, and added that if anything of a historical nature is to be celebrated or commemorated at El Paso that then certainly the blazing of the Marcy trail through West Texas and the establishment of the Butterfield southern overland route should be included.

The Butterfield road is crossed by the Texas and Pacific railroad about six miles west of Abilene, and the ladies of the D. A. R. of Abilene will in a very short time erect a suitable marker at the place near Tye.

ILLNESS FATAL FOR WM. SPRY

Land Office Commissioner Dies at Capital

WASHINGTON, April 21. (AP)—William Spry, land office commissioner, died here today.

Mr. Spry, in poor health some months, suffered a stroke of paralysis Monday. He only recently had been appointed on the oil conservation committee of the interior department, formed to assist in carrying out President Hoover's policy of petroleum conservation.

Mr. Spry was governor of Utah for two terms, from 1909 to 1917, and has been commissioner of the general land office of the interior department since 1921. Before becoming governor of Utah he had served as U. S. marshal for Utah, as president of the state board of land commissioners and in other public posts. In 1927 he was a candidate for the U. S. senate.

His home was in Salt Lake City, Utah, where his body will be taken Tuesday. His widow was Miss Mary Wrathall, of Grantsville, Utah.

FISHER
ANNOUNCES

A Nation-wide System of BODY SERVICE

Fisher Body announces the organization of a new unit, the Fisher Body Service Corporation, to provide a nation-wide system of body service to all owners of General Motors cars.

How vast and far-reaching will be the service rendered by this organization is indicated by the fact that there are today over 23,000 General Motors dealer's service stations throughout the United States.

The system inaugurated by the Fisher Body Service Corporation will be the first centralized, economic and truly efficient body service the industry has yet known. Such a service system is possible of course to General Motors alone, because Fisher Body, the source of bodies for all General Motors cars, is a corporate part of General Motors, which it supplies with bodies year after year—thus being certain always of this great permanent market.

Fisher Body Service makes available to every General Motors car owner everything he may require in the way of body maintenance and rehabilitation, and will enable him to obtain complete service—service for car body as well as car chassis—from one source, his car dealer. Such service as the elimination of body annoyances, the adjusting of tie-down bolts, the periodical dressing of the roof, the lubrication of door lock bolts, door checks and hinges, the cleansing of soiled upholsteries, the bumping of fenders or panels, will now be performed in your dealer's service department.

The car owner will be thus freed from the necessity of turning for his car body's maintenance to small shops whose inadequate equipment compels them to charge exorbitant prices, and from which genuine Fisher Body parts are not obtainable.

Now, through General Motors dealers, Fisher Body parts will be supplied at factory list prices wherever and whenever they are required, registering a marked saving to the car owner.

For General Motors dealers—and their mechanics who have been instructed in the care of bodies for more than a year—there have been made available the tools and equipment necessary for actual and immediate service.

Two Fisher Body service schools have been established—one in Detroit, one in Oakland, California—where thousands of General Motors men will be trained. The Fisher Body Service Corporation has also established Parts Depots at these points where complete stocks of genuine Fisher Body parts for General Motors cars are held ready for immediate shipment upon order of General Motors dealers.

Fisher Body considers the inauguration of this nation-wide Fisher Body service a vital, progressive contribution to the public, especially because of the immensely increased interest which owners are manifesting everywhere in body beauty, body comfort and body durability.

General Motors Spring Showing, April 20th to 27th. Be sure to visit a General Motors Showroom during this week.

Society News Of Interest To Wichita Falls Women

Many Wichita Women to Attend First District Federation Meet

A luncheon and meeting of the executive board to be held at Top o' Hill Terrace precedes the opening Monday, of the annual convention of the first district Texas Federation of Women's clubs which meets in Arlington, April 22, 23, 24.

Mrs. Ben G. Oneal, president of Wichita Falls Woman's Forum, present district chairman of fine arts and state chairman of the drama, is a candidate for president. The convention is commanding more than usual attention from the club women of this city.

Many delegates are going through the country. Mrs. Ben G. Oneal and Mrs. T. A. Hicks, who is chairman of citizenship training, will leave early Monday morning to be present at the luncheon and executive board meeting. Mrs. G. B. Smedley will accompany them.

Mrs. Grover C. Johnson also went early to reach Arlington in time for the Top o' Hill Terrace meeting; she is taking the place of her sister, Mrs. Joe Benton of Nocona, who is chairman of scholarship and loans.

Mrs. W. T. Smith, Junior Travel club delegate, will leave at noon. The Junior Travel has a clever report written in verse by Mrs. O. T. Ailes. Mrs. Grover C. Johnson, who is a member of the Junior Travel club, is carrying with her an exhibit of industrial arts, sponsored by the Junior Forum and made in Wichita. A ten dollar prize is offered for the best exhibit shown in the convention. Mrs. Johnson was writer of the winning Junior Travel club essay on the general subject of what club life can do for women, for the best of which, the Woman's Wednesday club of Fort Worth has offered a prize of $25. That essay is in the hands of the committee with a number of others. It is said by women who know Mrs. Johnson's ability, that the Junior Travel club has odds in its favor.

Mrs. J. C. Berney, who will present to club women her course of outstanding American and European novels arranged for club year books, and Miss Clara Schulz, representing the Pieria club, will drive to Arlington Monday. Mrs. Berney will on Tuesday, go to Dallas to attend the Standard club of which she has been a member for 28 years.

Mrs. Fay Yauger, delegate from the 1922 Study club and also from the Standard club will go with Miss Mary Tancred, incoming president of the Junior Forum, who goes to represent the Junior Forum, and who will appear on the program with an address, "Through a Junior's Eyes." Several members of the Junior Forum will go with this party.

Mrs. P. P. Langford is a delegate from the Unity club and Mrs. Carrie Joline, who has been attending the D. A. R. meeting in Washington, D. C., will stop in Arlington for the convention.

Mrs. W. W. Cook is delegate from the Wednesday Study club; Mrs. J. C. A. Guest, district chairman of child welfare; Mrs. T. M. Conrey is to give the report from the forum.

In fact, it would be difficult to find a more representative group of women than those who will attend the federation from Wichita.

The program promises much interest. It follows:

"I Feel Like I Have a New Life Before Me," Says Wichita Woman

Mrs. Bledsoe Says She Suffered Four Years and Was Going Down Hill, But Since Taking One Bottle of Orgatone Has Gained Four Pounds.

"I am simply a new woman and feel that I have a new life before me, since taking Orgatone," said Mrs. Alice Bledsoe, of 3005 York, Wichita Falls, Texas, whose husband has been with the Wichita Window Glass factory for five years, and they have many friends here.

"Yes, I sure feel like a different woman, and I want to give this statement," she continued. "Orgatone has not only completely restored my health but since taking one bottle of it, I have gained four pounds in weight, and I actually wouldn't take anything for what Orgatone did for me.

"I had been suffering for four years, with a very bad stomach and extreme nervousness and other troubles, and my condition had become wretched. I was so nervous I couldn't sleep, and the least noise would upset me. I had nervous headaches most all the time, and lost all desire for food. Everything I ate, soured on my stomach, and gas would bloat me up until I was miserable. I lost flesh and energy and all interest in everything.

"Since taking Orgatone, it has completely changed life around me and I just can't find words to express my gratitude for it. I have been relieved of all my nervousness and my sleep is sound and restful. My appetite is splendid now, and I eat anything I want, and I relish every meal. I haven't had a headache, since I took my first half bottle of Orgatone. I honestly think if a thunderstorm would come, I wouldn't wake up, I sleep so sound. I'm entirely relieved of every trouble, and feel better and enjoy life more than I did. I want to recommend Orgatone to others, for it has done so much for me."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific bile preparation, and is sold in Wichita Falls, exclusively by Allison's Drug Store, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative. Other agencies are the City Drug Store, at Burkburnett, the Tarlton Drug Co., at Electra and the Vernon Drug Store, at Vernon, Texas. Adv.

NO HIGH-HAT FOR MOTHERS

Snubbing the Old Folks Is Poor Sport, Says Dorothy

"The Modern Girl Desires, Above All Else, to Be Thought a Good Sport," Says Dorothy Dix, "but She Shows Very Little Sportsmanship With Her Mother; She Doesn't Even Play Fair."

I have written a lot about the mothers who, in the excess of their love and anxiety about their daughters, nag their very lives out of them. It seems next to impossible for a woman to be able to realize that her children ever grow up and develop sufficient intelligence to know when to come in out of the rain, and it is easy to see how this petty tyranny gets upon the nerves of a girl who is holding down a responsible position in a business office and who is ten times more worldly than her mother will ever be.

Of course, if mother could be brought to realize that Mary, by reason of being free, white and 21 and self-supporting, is entitled to some personal liberty and that Mary has enough sense to know when to go to bed and what to eat and when to change her stockings and that if she hasn't bred enough good principles in Mary to make her walk straight it is a waste of effort to watch her, it would do much to promote peace and harmony in the home and establish the entente cordiale between mothers and daughters.

But whether a mother ever rises to the heights where she can take this broad view of the situation or not, there is mother's side of the question to be considered and, when all is said, daughter's offenses against mother are greater than mother's against her.

Mother may be hard to live with, but she has no agreeable fireside companion herself when she has to put up with an arrogant, impudent, selfish, self-willed girl who rides roughshod over every one about her. Yet multitudes of mothers have to endure this, and being chicken-pecked is as excruciating a form of torment as any ever practiced by the Inquisition.

In these days there are mighty few girls who stand in any awe of their mothers, but there are millions of mothers who live in mortal terror of their daughters. They see their daughters doing what they know to be wrong, but they dare not try to stop them. They are afraid to ask daughter even a civil question or to offer a suggestion, because they know well the torrent of abuse their audacity will bring down upon their heads.

Why, we all know plenty of homes in which the real head of the house is a spoiled little flapper whose word is law. She decides when and how and where the family shall live. She drags mother and father off to Europe against their will. She buys the new car they can't afford and the balance of the family ride in it only when she isn't using it. She runs father into debt. Neither mother nor father dare to express an opinion in her presence, for she has no hesitation in criticizing their grammar and theories and telling them just what back numbers she considers them.

Now when mother disapproves of Mary's conduct it only irritates Mary; it doesn't really hurt her. But when Mary lets mother know that she considers her little better than a fool and that she has no respect for her judgment or taste and has no intention of being guided by her, she strikes a dagger into mother's heart. She could not wound her more cruelly because she slays the vanity that makes all parents hug to their souls the illusion that no matter what they may be to the outside world, their children reverence and admire them and look up to them as oracles.

Then the mother of one of these selfish, self-centered girls knows truly how sharper than a serpent's tooth it is to have a thankless child. Ever since Mary was born mother has suffered and worked and sacrificed for her. She has literally given her life to try to make Mary's life easier than her own.

When Mary tells mother it is none of her business where she is going or when she is coming home as she starts off at night in an automobile with a man whose name mother doesn't even know, mother thinks of the weary vigils she has kept by Mary's sick bed when she was a child; of how, when Mary was growing up, she overworked that Mary might have time to play; of how she has gone shabby that Mary might have as good clothes as the other children at school; of the many nights she has sat up sewing and washing and pressing so that Mary might have the pretty clothes that set off her beauty.

The tears on mother's face are bitter with the sense of ingratitude and she wonders when Mary rages against her because she tries to control her that Mary never remembers how much she has done for her and the patient, gentle mother love that has been lavished on her and that has warmed the world for her all of her life.

The modern girl desires above everything else to be thought a good sport, but she shows very little sportsmanship in dealing with her mother. She doesn't even play fair with mother or give mother a run for her money.

Mother has spent a small-sized fortune on educating her and having her taught accomplishments, but daughter never thinks it worth while to sit down and have a real conversation with mother and try to entertain her or try to be a companion to mother. Daughter wants all of the background and the protection that a home gives, but she doesn't want any of the restraints that it imposes upon her.

Daughter wants all of the service that mother can give her. She wants mother to provide her with pretty clothes, to give her good food, to nurse her when she is sick and to sympathize with her when she is in trouble. If she is a poor girl, she wants mother to wash out her lingerie, and press and sponge her frocks and keep them in order so that she may be fresh and dainty when she goes to work, but she doesn't even want to say "thank you" for it or to show mother any appreciation or to defer to her wishes.

In a word, she wants to take all and give nothing, which is most unfair, and nobody in the world but mother would stand it. For it is only mother love that can bleed from a hundred wounds and still live on. It is only a mother who will toil on for one who shows her neither affection, appreciation nor gratitude. Which is a miracle the modern girl should thank God for on her knees. —DOROTHY DIX.

First Methodist Mission Circle Honors Young Woman's Society

Circle six of the First Methodist Woman's Missionary society, Mrs. A. B. Lipscomb chairman, entertained the Young Woman's Missionary society of that church with a beautiful luncheon Saturday at the home of Mrs. Guy C. Raley, 1708 Monroe avenue. Mrs. Raley was assisted in receiving by Mesdames J. C. A. Guest, Norman Downing, S. D. Johnson and her sister, Miss Loreign Russell.

The table was particularly pretty with its shining array of silver and linen and the great center of pink roses and bluebonnets.

In a short business session following the luncheon, Miss Dorothy Nolen, president, presided. Miss Nolen is to be out of the city for some time and Miss Elva Remington was named to be acting president during her absence.

Mrs. E. B. Lehrack, who had already proved her efficiency as the society financier, was elected finance chairman.

The Young Woman's society voted to affiliate with the Woman's Federated Missionary society.

Miss Ernestine Cantrell gave a report of the Young Women's participation in the North Texas Woman's conference, which recently met in Wichita Falls.

Mrs. D. A. Cook recommended the society to go on record as making an undirected pledge of $50 for missions for the year.

Covers were laid for Misses Norma Jean Lehrack, Eunice Jenkin, Mizelle Hodge, Jessie Lucille Raley, Loreign Russell, Dorothy Nolen, Billie Leslie Stinson, Ernestine Cantrell, Aradine Silkwood, Elva Remington, Mamie Remington, Beatrice Fizer, Elizabeth Beumler, Elisabeth Langford, Mary Louise Clark, Margaret Pease, Mildred Mosby and Thelma Norvell, and Mesdames W. PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

"You must see Bluebonnet hill," they said to us. So many said it, that we asked a friend to drive us out to the Boone home. And now we are practically dumb. It took our breath with beauty.

When we see something beautiful beyond description, we have a thrill that we can't express. We think it touches our soul. Long, long ago we heard it said that the first conscious memory is the birth of the soul. Our first memory was like a dream and we described the big, old white house and all surroundings to our mother, and found that we weren't more than three when an aunt lifted us to pull a branch from a flowering cherry tree. We still remember that tree. Then we will never forget going home from school one day after a spring rain and walking beneath an overhanging white honeysuckle vine, doubly fragrant from the sun on the new-washed flowers.

Such is the memory we will have of the slopes of celestial blue; what could one call them but heavenly? A house on a hilltop; trees and a white pergola in the distance; a clean, ladylike orchard with well trimmed limbs and trunks wearing skirts of fresh whitewash. The mesquite's tender green and the blue, blue flowers with tips of white and rose and purple. Not exclusive! They crowd upon one another, nodding, almost talking.

We can talk about the little dog, though. While we gazed about us, a little fox terrier walked out on the crest of the hill and looked all around as if taking stock of his possessions. His head was proudly in the air and he retired with quite a satisfied look. We didn't blame him. If he felt like the owner of all he surveyed, he had a right to look complacent.

We hear that Barrie has presented all the rights to "Peter Pan," amounting, they say, to something like $20,000 a year, to the London hospital for sick children. A man who could write "Peter Pan" and "Sentimental Tommy" and "The Little Minister," not to speak of his tender story of his mother, would be the sort to make such a gift.

And in Sunday's paper, we read that Senator James Couzens of Michigan gave $10,000,000 to be used to promote the health, welfare, happiness and development of the children of Michigan primarily and elsewhere in the world. He is an American. It is our children who make the future of our country.

◆ ◆ ◆

We sent a story away the other day, then remembered it was Friday and deplored it. "Are you superstitious?" asked a laughing friend. "Well, we wouldn't say superstitious," we answered, "except about Friday." We do have an uneasy feeling about starting things on Friday and laugh at it. And we don't like to walk under ladders, and never turn back without sitting down before we start again. We always cross—though we are Protestant—when we meet a cross-eyed man, and we believe in planting potatoes in the dark of the moon (but that's science), and we like to have pin points toward us when we pick up pins, and we wish to see the new moon clear, "neither through bush nor tree," and preferably over the right shoulder. But we are not, so to say, superstitious.

The cingko tree, they say, brings good luck. "Time" tells us that in Manhattan a policeman was assigned to guard one given the city by Buddhists, so that people wouldn't ruin it by breaking it for luck. It is bright yellow in autumn and has a habit curious in trees of shedding each and every leaf in a single night.

We have always thought of autumn trees as of people who don gorgeous colors to take a last fling at departing life. They hold tenaciously to their glory. Autumn winds must sternly strip them of their last leaves. The gingko must be a fatalist.

And that negro postoffice porter who discovered the "bomb" addressed to Governor Roosevelt, made and sent it himself. His work was monotonous and he thought if he did something heroic he might be promoted.

FILM darkens teeth
Remove it daily

Film discolors teeth and then destroys them. Dentists urge a special way to remove it.

FOR years thousands thought their teeth naturally discolored and dull. Then they made a simple test that brought a glorious surprise.

A film was found to absorb stains from food and smoking and turn white teeth dull. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It is the chief cause of the commoner tooth and gum disorders.

Film hardens into tartar. Germs by the millions breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Film must be removed each day. Ordinary brushing fails to do it successfully. So dentists urge the special film-removing dentifrice called Pepsodent.

Write for free 10-day supply to The Pepsodent Co., 1104 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, or ask your druggist for full-size tube.

The Once Over

Spring Song

"Spring's Here! Change Your Motor Oil! Flush Your Crankcase!"—From an oil company advertisement accompanied by a picture of a buoyant youth welcoming its advent from the trellised window.

(Cosmo Monkhouse, Revised)

Sing a song of springtime
The world is going round,
Blown by the south wind;
Listen to the sound.
"Gurgle" goes the mill-wheel,
"Patter" goes the rain.
And it's 0 for the service man
The crankcase to drain!

Sing a song of summer,
The world is pretty still.
The mill-pond has gone to sleep
And so has the mill.
Shall we go a-sailing,
Or shall we stroll afar,
Or shall we take the afternoon
To oil the motorcar?

Sing a song of autumn,
The world is going back;
They glean in the cornfield
And stamp on the stack.
Our boy, Charlie,
Son of the soil,
Is under the flivver
Changing the oil.

Sing a song of winter,
The world stops dead;
Under snowy coverlid
Flowers lie abed.
There's hunting after turkeys
And hunting after geese—
O, it's another season
For changing oil and grease!

Or, catching the spirit of spring as the oil company sees it, you might like this one better:

The year's at the spring,
And day's at morn;
Morning's at seven;
The hillside's dew-pearled;
The lark's on the wing;
The snail's on the thorn;
By half-past eleven
My motor'll be "erled."

The Case of Miss Talley

Miss Marion Talley, 23-year-old grand opera star, announces that she intends to abandon her career and retire to a farm. Bet your best hat that she doesn't do it. The girl may sincerely believe she will be happy on a farm; she may crave the bees, birds and flowers, but after she has had a few months of it she will be willing to exchange all the bees and birds in the country for one bejeweled dowager applauding up in Horseshoe Row.

It's probably the baby chick influence in Marion's case. She's been passing those store windows full of fresh-hatched Leghorns and it's filled her with the yearning so many people feel these days.

The torch upheld by the Statue of Liberty went out one night last week. It is officially stated that it was an accident caused by a broken cable, but a good many people will continue to think it was blown out by Mabel Willebrandt.

DAVID BRANCH'S DAILY FILOSOFY

"Two heads are better than one, when they complement each other."

When husband and wife can so harmonize their thinking as to make each other's problems their own, they form a force which makes the accomplishment of their desires a delightful task. This also applies to partners in business.

Naval Reserves to Go On Actual War Cruises

WASHINGTON, April 21. (US)—With a view to training them in the actual duties they would perform in case of war, the navy department this summer will take approximately 9,000 reservists on a series of actual cruises.

Every type of warship will be used so as to completely cover the possible field of service, and each cruise will last two weeks.

I don't know what it is, but ther's somethin' about President Hoover that tells me they'd better go slow about askin' him to drop his work an' step out on the lawn to be photographed. Of all the professions, as things now stand, I should say bein' a criminal lawyer has the brightest outlook.

Demands of American Labor

MATHEW WOLL and his federation associates placed before President Hoover their recommendations or demands in the making of the tariff policies of the United States.

Enactment of legislation prohibiting the importation of articles made by foreign child labor. Changes in the trademark legislation laws to prohibit a manufacturer from recording his mark in America, producing his commodities cheaply abroad and claiming the protection of American laws. That the task of keeping employment statistics be delegated to the individual states as the labor leaders consider the states better equipped for gathering such data than the federal government.

President Hoover did not commit himself on any of the propositions. A news gathering concern let it be known that "he seemed deeply interested and revealed a minute knowledge of the problems presented."

A Young Texan in Limelight

ACCORDING to Washington advices Alexander W. Gregg of Washington may be the successor of David W. Blair as the head of the internal revenue department of the government. Collector Blair has tendered his resignation and the president would like to draft young Gregg for the place. Alexander W. Gregg is a native Texan. He is 30. He is a lawyer.

Andrew W. Mellon found him in the treasury department in 1921. Young Gregg became one of his favorite clerks and this man who speaks for a billion dollars made the discovery that the Texan knew more about the income tax law and all taxation laws than any of his subordinates. Gregg was rapidly advanced. He handled many important cases. He represented the government in the famous case against Henry Ford. He became famous from ocean to ocean as the last word when it came to taxation.

In 1928 Gregg resigned from the service, hung out his shingle and won a large practice. Now Hoover and Mellon are said to be determined for the name of Alec W. Gregg to reappear on the government pay roll as the chief of the division of internal revenue. Palestine is the home of Gregg. His father was a Texas congressman. The son fought his way to the top. He is or was a Democrat. This made no difference when it came to promotion. Mellon backed him all the way. Mellon knows brains or ability and with the head of the treasury department the man who is able to make the grade is the man who takes down the bacon.

Farm Relief in June

CONGRESSIONAL leaders say that before the end of the month of June, a farm relief bill will be sent to the president. Its principal features have been outlined. Neither house nor senate inserted the debenture plan proposed by the American grangers and advocated by two Democrats of the house committee.

Rep. Marvin Jones of Texas made a gallant fight for the debenture plan. He lost. A Missouri Democrat voted for the proposal in committee room. President Hoover declined to make recommendations or to state his innermost views as to the provisions the bill should carry. Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde failed to elaborate.

Secretary Hyde is a gentleman farmer. He made his money in the insurance and automobile business with an occasional fling at the law and politics.

Farm relief is a hard nut to crack. It is a big problem.

All the farmers and the political friends of the farmer the country over will watch the proceedings of the American congress until final action has been taken.

There are men without number who believe down deep in their hearts that a farmer, to obtain relief, must furnish it himself. However it is unwise to return a verdict in advance of the congressional roll call.

Holaday in the Picture

REPRESENTATIVE HOLADAY of Illinois is a Republican. He introduced one of the 500 bills on opening day of the special session of congress. His bill provides $5,000,000,000 for the construction of a nationwide system of hard surfaced coast roads.

When workers are idle Holaday of Illionis would give them jobs as road makers.

Idle workers are men who are without purchasing power. Well-paid workers have a high purchasing power. There should be work for all, all the time, is the slogan of many national lawmakers.

Five billion dollars is a lot of money. Will the congress vote it? Not at the special session.

WATCHFUL WAITERS

Herbert Kaufman's Daily Editorial

LORD LEVERHULME, when still Sam Lever, the soapmaker, told the writer how he patched a big hole in his change pocket by observing the strange antics of a boatman in the river outside his factory at Port Sunlight.

Day after day the man would row about, skimming scum from the water, polluted by tankage from the plant.

Investigation disclosed that the poacher was collecting glycerine, which was being annually thrown away in thousand-ton quantities.

Even the shrewdest industrialist overlooks an occasional bet.

Those who continue blind to such leakages drop out of the procession. The correctors of inefficiency alone keep marching on.

In witness whereof, consider Lundy Foote, the Irish tobacco magnate, whose spanking pair and clanking harness never failed to gather crowds as he rolled through Dublin streets in a flashy brougham emblazoned with the slogan, "See what snuff done."

Lundy began as a small shopkeeper in an obscure quarter of the town.

His profits just about covered rent, kippers and mealies and suspender buttons—when suddenly a fire left him without a chair to sit in.

For several weeks after the catastrophe he moved about the ruins, broken in spirit and hope, until an increasing number of folk probing in the ashes fixed his attention.

Women and men were poking through the charred rubbish, replevining ruined stock and uttering whoops of joy when they located tins of scorched snuff.

Rousing himself from the lethargy, he opened a container and took a sniff, only to find that the fiery ordeal had immeasurably improved the flavor of the stuff.

Driving the interlopers away, Foote rescued the remainder of his goods and, resuming business in a makeshift shack, proceeded to vaunt the superior quality of his "toasted" tobacco and was soon riding to affluence with a coachman and footman on the box.

THERE are always enough timbers in the worst wreck to raft back to success. The Warner Brothers had one shoulder on the mat and not even a week's payroll in the till when talking pictures tossed a lifeline and drew them to safety—and leadership.

They didn't quit because the odds were a hundred to one against them—any chance to survive is as good as another.

Frank Munsey was winnowing through arguments for another month's printing credit, when half-tone illustrations hove like a rescuing sail on the horizon of publishing and changed his magazine from a wallowing derelict to a cup winner.

Bankruptcy and failure trace back to neglected opportunity and half-played innings.

Wherever doubt is offering its gloomy lies, and discouragement becomes pathfinder for ambition, all's over but the shouting.

It isn't the gambling instinct that attracts business and finance to the race track.

Your Belmonts and Whitneys and Billingses maintain stables and breed thoroughbreds because the game reflects their own spirit. It constantly confirms experience's conviction that a watchful waiter never looks for a favorable opening in vain—and the longest shot, if carefully maneuvered, can win through at the last minute.

TOONERVILLE FOLKS

By Fontaine Fox

The Day Book of a New Yorker

Broadway Chatter by Grant Dixon

NEW YORK, April 21.—When former Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania sailed on his three-masted topsail schooner on a 15,000-mile cruise about the world, with romance at the helm and the ports of call of the out of way places of the earth, he carried along two boys. One his son, Clifford Jr., 13, and the other Clifford's chum. Stephen Stahlnecker, about the same age.

These boys will experience what most boys dream about. And there is another, George Putnam, the young son of the publisher, who not only has visited the frozen North but has written about it. They are making more real the old "Rollo Boy" stories.

Which reminds me that at least two men, writing anonymously, turn out "boy" yarns. It is not literature with them, but another form of racket. They call themselves hacks.

Other hacks write beauty articles, advice to women, how-to-keep well articles. And, amusingly enough, it is not infrequent that a man writes beauty articles or notes to the love-lorn; that women write advice on men's fashions, and men on women's fashions that fellows who would fall down if they pushed a feather too hard describe the excellence of health.

And then, too, there are the ghost writers who, under the name of great men in the field of sports, the stage and other activities write glowing things. They don't get the credit, but they get the money, and that satisfies them. Their famous bosses—or outer literary personalities—get the publicity and that's all.

For the first time in my life this week I met face to face Jim Corbett, "Gentleman Jim," once the champion heavyweight boxer of the world, the man who knocked out John L. Sullivan and achieved a few other important things in the fistic world. And I must admit that I was thrilled. When but a kid this "Gentleman Jim," appealed to my imagination and he was put up to me, not as an example of one who is engaging in the most honorable of professions, but one who in his physical and mental make-up rose above it. Of course, in Tunney we have a latter-day exposition of the same principle.

Well, I was asked to interview Corbett and when I met him I was astounded, not only at his physique, the preservation of his fine make-up at the age of 63, but the vigorous qualities of the man; his mental range, his social and personal manners and his philosophical attitude.

He is the first hero of mine who lived up in the flesh to the hero of the imagination. There he was, as he talked quietly, fluently and kindly, the embodiment of all that he preaches in his doctrine of health and youth—even though the day when he knocked out Sullivan is in the dim and distant past.

The publicity department of the Fox films is to be given credit. It put one over, in a way, on all of the New York newspapers. The Fox company comes out with the announcement that it will stick exclusively to the production of sound and "talking" pictures.

It merely happens that Warner Brothers and a number of other motion picture companies have not made a single silent film in a year—ever since, in fact, the talkie craze began to sweep the country.

A new wrist watch which is self-winding, because the natural moving of the arms keeps it running, is the rage on Broadway these days. . . . Florenz Ziegfeld carries bits of silk around in his pockets, it is said, as samples for costumes. . . . Walter Winchell, Broadway's leading columnist, who has been going all about night clubs for ever so long, only learned the other day that when you tip a hat check girls she must turn the tip over to the concessionaire, who pays her so much per week. . . . Paul Whiteman, who lost several pounds, has gained 24 all over again. . . . At least, so they say, and I can't reach him for verification. . . . Tim Mara, now worth 15 millions, used to be a doorman on the old Ziegfeld roof. . . . For that matter John J. Raskob, the millionaire chairman of the Democratic national committee, was once a motorman on a Wilmington, Del., trolley. . . . And George Jean Nathan, the bad boy of the dramatic critics, once sold score cards at the Philadelphia (National league) baseball park.

LOFT, INC.

Five-Year Record

Loft incorporated is engaged in the purchase, manufacture, sale of candy confectionary, sugar, soda water and syrups. It also owns and operates shops for the sale of candy, ice cream and also operates lunch counters. About 1,000 varieties of candy are made and put up in 350 assortments. The company sells through some chain store organizations as well as through its own stores. The concern has two factories in Long Island City and has 45 stores.

Earnings have been variable and this has lead to disagreement within the ranks of the stockholders. Net income in 1928, was $192,772. This compared with $312,697 in 1927, and $22,919 in 1926. The top year was 1921, when $730,350 was earned. At the annual meeting March 28, 1929, George W. Loft, chairman of the board and George L. Loft, president, whose administration was under fire, were ousted and 11 new directors chosen. The presence of officials of the Page and Shaw company on the new board led to rumors that a consolidation with that company was in prospect.

Funded debt totals $375,000 due in 1932. Capital stock outstanding includes 650,300 shares of no par value. The last dividend paid was 25 cents a share in December, 1922.

As of Dec. 31, 1928, total current assets amounted to $1,273,008. Current liabilities were $768,567 and net working capital was $489,422. Book value applicable to the capital stock amounted to $10.03 a share.

MIRACLE GIRL'S CASE PROBED

Priests to Investigate Report About Shrine

PARIS, April 21. (UP)—A group of Catholic priests will investigate shortly reports that miracles have occurred before the burial place of the peasant girl, Bernadette Soubirous, who died 50 years ago.

The body of the girl is perfectly preserved, according to pilgrims who have visited the chapel at Nevers on the Loire river, where the casket is enshrined.

The miracles reported by visitors at the little chapel have been of a spiritual nature rather than of physical cures. They say that skeptics, heretics and atheists go to the shrine—many of them by mere chance—and almost immediately become converted to Christianity.

The preservation of the peasant girl's body is considered in the order of a miracle itself by many of the pilgrims, although there are many recorded cases of the preservation of bodies of saintly persons for many years. The body is described as laid out in nun's garb and veil, for the girl was a nun at the Nevers convent. Her hands are crossed lightly on her breast. Gentle, smiling and attractive, the figure seems almost one of a girl asleep.

The legends of Bernadette, who during her lifetime was famous throughout the country for her visions of the Virgin Mary, relate that a number of years ago the coffin was first opened on the occasion of her beatification and the robes were found to be powdery dust. The position of the body also was changed slightly, it was said, the head being turned to one side.

Bernadette is described as having led a most simple and exemplary life as a nun. She was inspired by religious visions as she toiled in the fields and she determined to enter a convent. This she did at Nevers, where her devotion to duties won the approbation of her superiors. It was during that period of her life that she told of visions of the Virgin, with whom she professed to have talked.

She died at the age of 36.

FORT WORTH PANTHERS TAKE SECOND FROM SPUDDERS, 6 TO 2

CATS TRIUMPH IN RAW BATTLE

Swatsmiths Get 14 Hits To Spudders' Eight

By LARRY DAILEY
Record News Sports Editor

FORT WORTH, April 21.—Dick Whitworth pitched Fort Worth to a 6 to 2 victory over Wichita Falls in the second and final game of the series, here today. He allowed the Spudders only eight hits, while the Panther swatsmiths were gathering 14 bingles off three Wichita Falls hurlers.

Two Tallies in First

The Spudders got off to a first-inning lead with a pair of tallies. Benton beat out a hit to Pierce. Turgeon singled to center, Benton stopping at second. It was the third time in two days that Rabbit and Pete had hit in succession. Bennett singled to right, scoring Benton, and Turgeon tallied when the ball rolled through Cox. Bennett was thrown out at the plate on a relay by Harrington from Cox on the play.

Fort Worth went out in order in its half.

Harrington doubled to left and Bryan walked in the second after one was out. Turgeon took Pierce's pop. Baker strolled, filling the bases. Snyder gathered in Whitworth's foul. Nary a Spudder reached first in the second and third.

Cox doubled to right center and Riley was passed in the third, but two were out and Bob Snyder took Harrington's foul off the wire for the third out.

Sullivan hit to left for two bases in the fourth, but two were out and Urban took Stapleton's foul.

Panthers Fill Bases

The Panthers filled the bases with two out in the fourth on singles to left by Baker and Whitworth and a pass to Moore, but Payne tossed out Urban.

The Panthers tallied only one run off four hits in the fifth. Cox led off with a single through short and went to third on Riley's single to right. Benton went back for Harrington's lift. Bryan singled to center, scoring Cox and sending Riley to second. Fitzgerald came in for Pierce's fly. Benton knocked down Baker's bounder to his left and held Riley at third, and the bases were filled. Sullivan was under Whitworth's hoist.

Fort Worth counted three in the sixth to take a 4 to 2 lead. Moore started by smashing a hit off Payne's foot. Urban sacrificed, Swenson to Turgeon. Cox walked. Riley singled to right, scoring Moore. Harrington strolled. Bryan hit through first, scoring Cox and Riley. Harrington was out at home, Sullivan to Payne to Benton to Snyder, Bryan going to second. Pierce was hit on the hand by a pitched ball. Benton took Baker's pop back of second.

Panthers Score Pair

Atz' men scored two in the seventh. Whitworth led off with a single to center. Moore slashed a hit into left, Whitworth stopping at second. Whitworth beat Payne's throw to third on Urban's bunt, filling the bases. Cox' lift to Sullivan scored Whitworth, and sent Moore to third. Ellis relieved Payne. Riley's third hit, a single to left, scored Moore and sent Urban to second. Harrington forced Riley, Benton to Turgeon. Ellis tossed out Bryan.

Tramel to Meet Barner Wednesday

The card Promoter Alec Ross has framed for next Wedesday night at the Palace theater will feature Duke Tramel, the lucky boy who adeptly knocked out Cyclone Hall last week, and Walter Barner, 154-pounder lately of Kansas City, who will meet for a scheduled 10-round bout.

Two junior welterweights, Rudy Hodge of Houston, and Jack Daughterty of St. Jo, are billed for eight rounds in the semi-finals. Kid Murdock of Sulphur, Okla., and Henry Adams of Wichita Falls, both lightweights, will stage a six-round bout; and Jack Betts, City View, and Martin Craig, Wichita Falls, welterweights, will offer a special six-round bout in the preliminaries. Besides these there will be two four-round curtain raisers, Alec said.

McElreath Nine Beats Kemp City, 9 to 8

The McElreath Motor company nine journeyed to Kemp City Sunday afternoon, and in a fast 10-inning game defeated their hosts, 9 to 8. Sherman and Craig occupied the mound for the motor boys, while O'Neal perched behind the bat. Hasley and Ashmon tossed for K. M. A.

'Gabby's' Injured Arm Cripples Cub Staff

CHICAGO, April 21. (AP)—What of "Gabby" Hartnett's arm? This is what Cub fans ask Cub fans.

So far there has been no answer, although it is known "Gabby's arm is sore and Mike Gonzales is doing most of the catching.

Hartnett's arm weakened a month ago. When it refused to yield to training treatment a specialist was called. Since then Hartnett has not donned the mitt and pads, but he has worked out every day.

"Gabby," whose rifle-like throwing amazed National league crowds, can't peg to second base.

Joe McCarthy, manager, and Andy Latshow, trainer, will not predict when Hartnett will be back.

European Champions Sought for Golf Meet

AGUA CALIENTE, Lower California, April 21. (AP)—The world's richest golf tournament—the $25,000 Agua Caliente open—will have plenty of talent on hand next January if present plans work out.

Baron Long, noted sportsman and one of the officials of the event, will go abroad in May in an effort to sign up the champion of every European country that dallies with the ancient game.

The American representation will be huge, as practically every professional of any consequence has indicated his intentions of attending the opening of the new course just below the Mexican border.

Young Catcher May Win In Fourth Try With Blues

KANSAS CITY, April 21 (AP)—This year may bring "breaks" to Keith Clark, 24-year-old catcher of the Kansas City Blues.

For three years he has been with the club—until the final spring cut. He was farmed out, not because he wasn't good, but because veteran backstops were available.

This year Clark seems likely to stick in the American association.

The Trouble With the Fight Game

Any one trying to find at least one of the troubles with the fight game might have picked out just one evening a few nights ago. This is what happened on just one evening in three different spots:

1. Kid Chocolate won from Bushy Graham on a foul where any number of ticket holders complained moodily of not getting their seats.

2. Joe Dundee, after having been knocked out and beaten up before, lost again and is still welterweight champion. The more he is beaten the more he is champion.

3. Sammy Mandell, the lightweight champion, and his rival both came in over weight, so the result could mean nothing, no matter what happened.

This was all one evening's contribution. It shows to what extent the boxers and so-called fighters are putting the big smear on their own game. The public, always gluttons for terrific punishment, may continue to pour out its cash to this tribe a while longer, but there must be a limit.

With so many promoters now in the field the boxers are dominating the game, giving back about three cents on the dollar, in the way of tugging, hauling, dancing, fouling, coming in over weight, wrestling, loafing—everything but fighting.

Up and down the line the present outfit is probably the worst crop of real fighters in the history of the ring.

It isn't difficult to read the answer unless there can be some controlling authority to take over the whole situation and apply some form of disinfectant.

Naturally, the boxer, being what he is, or what most of them are, is going to stick to the present program as long as it brings in the money without being forced to give anything in return.

It is merely a question as to how long they will let him get away with it.

How Mack Might Have Won

April 3, 1929.

Dear Mr. Rice: I wonder whether it has occurred to you to mention the simple formula by which Connie Mack might have won the pennant last year and at the same time have given Bob Grove a new pitching record. Grove lost six out of seven games to the Yankees and won 23 out of 25 from the other six clubs. If Connie had held him out of every Yankee series the rest of his pitchers would have won three out of those seven games instead of only one, and if he had jockeyed the staff so that Grove had worked just before and after each Yankee series, he might easily have pitched the same seven games against the other clubs. He would have won six out of seven, whereas the Athletics actually won only four of the seven. This plan would have given Connie two more games from the Yankees and two more from the rest of the league and the Athletics would have breezed in.

Furthermore, Grove would have had 29 victories against three defeats. In fact, there is just an even chance that a man who wins 23 out of 25 will win 30 out of 32, instead of 29. In either case, he would have attained a far higher percentage than the modern record compiled by Joe Wood from 34 victories and five defeats. Grove was pitching very remarkable ball last year against the Yankees, as well as others, except that Murderers' Row worked him so hard that he tired in the closing innings. The same delivery that fanned the Babe in the third was likely to go out of the park in the eighth, and so Connie lost the pennant and Grove missed a record, but that need not prevent our attaining the acme of second guessing. Yours sincerely,

W. W. DREW.

In spite of which, if Mr. Mack sends his Athletics against the Yankees this spring with Grove reposing on the bench through the entire series, there will be a squawk heard off the coast of Scotland.

One of the main features of the season will be Grove's work against the Yankees. The beatings he took last year may have a depressing psychological effect, but he has too much stuff for any team to continue lifting his scalp indefinitely. The process, if continued, soon leads to baldness.

Here are a few rules that boxing associations might make in regard to fighters:

1. No guarantees.
2. In case of foul—no money to the offender.
3. In case of tugging, hauling and loafing—have the referee declare no contest, with the money refunded to the ticket holders.

This, at least, would be a start.

It will take something more than dynamite to make most of these fighters do any fighting, but dynamite might be employed as the opening dish.

At Match Play

The British team has at least three high-grade match-play golfers. They are Compston, Duncan and Mitchell. And young Cotton is another. Compston, Duncan and Mitchell are much better at match play than at medal play. Mitchell has not been up to his top standard for nearly a year, but if he can work himself back into old form he will be a hard man to beat.

It has been taken for granted that the American Ryder Cup team will have something of a romp at Moortown late in April. There will quite likely be no romp. A lot will depend upon weather conditions and golf form for any one or two days is an uncertain proposition. The American team is the strongest yet sent across, but the other fellow's home conditions can mean a lot. Both Duncan and Mitchell have beaten Hagen on the other side and Mitchell led him through the first 36 holes of their match. And Hagen, at match play, is no cream puff.

Okla. Grapplers Win A. A. U. Honor

NEW YORK, April 21. (AP)—Grapplers from the Mid-west took the lion's share of the honors at the National A. A. U. wrestling championships, concluded at the New York A. C. last night.

Of the eight titles, five went to middle western entries, two to the East and one to the far West.

Two Oklahoma boys, George Campbell, Sand Springs, and Arlie Tomlinson, Oklahoma A. & M., furnished the highlights of the two-day tournament.

Tomlinson wrestled his way to the 147-pound championship by defeating all four of his opponents by falls. Campbell, an entrant in both the 118 and 126 pound classes, was forced to compete in five bouts on the final day and wound up with a third place in the 118 pound division and the championship in the 126 pound class.

CLEMENTS SOLD TO FORT SMITH

Orr Goes to Spartanburg On Option

By LARRY DAILEY
Record News Sports Editor

FORT WORTH, April 21.—The outright sale of Dallas Clements, first baseman to the Fort Smith club of the Western association, and the release of Garland Orr to the Spartanburg team of the South Atlantic league, was announced today by the Spudders.

Clements is a promising young ball player, but the acquisition of Bud Stapleton, an experienced first baseman of known worth, caused the Spudders to decide against experimenting with Dallas.

Orr came to the Spudders late last autumn from Abilene. He is a hard-hitting youngster, but needs another year before he is ready for Texas league ball.

Milt Steengrafe probably will hurl the home opener Tuesday with the Sports.

This was indicated today by Skipper Galloway. Steengrafe will be the choice if he isn't needed in the double-header tomorrow at Dallas.

Health And Diet Advice

Some Choice of Fruits

Those of you who have been following these instructions carefully should already notice an improvement in many ways. If you have been anemic, your skin will begin to look pinker. If you have tuberculosis, your cough has already decreased, and less pus is being brought up as all other parts of the body are eliminating toxins more rapidly. If you have been suffering from rheumatism, there will be less pain in the affected parts. If you have been wheezing with asthma, your heavy breathing has already stopped, owing to reduction in gas pressure, and the elimination of heavy meals which have formerly interferred with breathing muscles.

If you have formerly felt "all tired out," you are now surprised that on such a light diet you have more energy than before. This is because the body is less toxic, and you are not using energy to digest food.

No matter what trouble you may have been suffering from, every function of your body is now working overtime to produce more elimination and to effect a successful bodily housecleaning. There is little assimilation going on, and much elimination. You are only a few days away from your former toxic state, but what a change has taken place!

For Beginners

If there are any readers who did not start this curative diet a few days ago and want to do so now, all that you have to do is to get back numbers of your paper and begin at once, saving the articles each day so that you will take the same regime as the others have taken. Do not try to begin in the middle of the articles, but return to the very first and follow the daily instructions in their turn.

Tomorrow will be the last day of the fruit diet. For tomorrow I am going to suggest a change from the orange juice to either tomatoes or apples. You are to use one or two apples, or tomatoes, as you desire, every two hours in place of the orange juice which you have been taking. All other instructions remain the same. You may use either the fresh tomatoes or the whole canned tomatoes or a pure canned tomato juice. You will probably start out using quite a large amount of the tomato juice, but will find that later on in the day you will be satisfied with very little.

Any kind of apples may be used, but those which are the juiciest will be found more pleasing to the taste and I believe more helpful, owing to the large amount of acetic acid contained in the juicy apples.

Either Oranges, Tomatoes, or Apples

It is perfectly all right for those who do not want to make the change to stay on the orange diet for tomorrow and not make the change to the tomatoes or apples. But remember, if you use tomatoes you are not also to use apples, whichever of these fruits you start with in the morning you should continue to use throughout the day.

Both tomatoes and apples contain an excellent combination of bone-building and nerve-building salts, as well as a plentiful amount of vitamins. Apples have a very high caloric value, containing an amount of carbohydrates almost equal to the potato. It would be better for those who wish to reduce to use the tomato or orange juice, but I am giving you this choice in order to vary your fruit diet.

Continue to take deep-breathing skin bathing and enemas, and be sure to drink at least a glass of water every half hour.

The instructions in tomorrow's paper will tell you how to start taking your first regular meals.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Wassermann Tests

Question—Victim writes: "For 15 months I have been taking weekly treatments after a positive Wassermann. It costs me $6 a week. At first, the doctor told me it would take a year. Now, this expense is hurting me at this time, and I am wondering if I could not stop treatment for a while at least. However, one time when I missed my appointment on account of a very badly burned foot, the doctor sent me a somewhat threatening note and mentioned the 'law.' Can this doctor compel me to continue with his treatments, provided the test is negative now?"

Answer—The state law compels your doctor to report your case because of the disease from which you are suffering, but you cannot be compelled to take any certain treatment. You had better, at least, change to some other, more conscientious doctor who holds his patients with ability and not fear.

Vinegar and Thinness

Question—H. W. A. writes: "I have heard that to drink vinegar would make one thin. Is this so?"

Answer—There is no reason for assuming that the use of vinegar would produce thinness; that is, if vinegar is used in the ordinary way, with meals.

'Snowbound' Photo Stops Complaints

WASHINGTON, April 21. (US)—Mail deliveries on the rural route between Paradise, N. D., and Watagua, S. D., were delayed several times last month, resulting in protests of the postoffice department.

The department forwarded the complaints to Carrier C. E. McKean and requested an explanation.

The explanation has just arrived in the form of a photograph showing McKean sitting on the roof of his home, with snow covering the chimney, written beneath was "42 below zero. Arrow points to where chimney ought to be."

Postmaster General Brown says the incident is closed.

Sunday Program At KGKO Crowded

Sunday's broadcast from station KGKO included seven separate periods, programs from local churches by remote control accounting for five parts, while the Spudder baseball game at Fort Worth, and the 10-minute period of black-face dialogue by Amos and Andy completed the day's offerings.

The program of the men's Bible class of the Highland Heights Christian church, including musical numbers and a talk by E. D. Sartin, teacher, was given at 9:30 a. m. The morning service at the St. Paul's Lutheran church, with a sermon by Rev. C. M. Beyer, pastor, went on the air at 10:40 o'clock Sunday morning.

The KGKO Bible class hour, formerly conducted by Rev. Patrick D. Moreland, pastor of the Grant Street Methodist church, at 5 p. m., was given at the hour of 1:30 p. m. A 30-minute pipe organ program was given from the First Methodist church from 6 to 6:30 by Mrs. J. W. Akin Jr., and the evening service of the First Baptist church completed the broadcast from the churches.

Davidson Residents Building New Homes

Special to The Record News

DAVIDSON, Okla., April 21.—Spurred on by the construction of an adequate sewer system and water works system, a number of progressive Davidson citizens have built new residences or improved their present buildings. Included in the list is a brick veneer residence for J. B. Parris, six-room bungalow for Bob Spraggins, six-room bungalow for Jim Reed, six-room bungalow for W. H. Wilson, six-room bungalow for Lester Tucker, and a six-room bungalow for A. F. Waller.

J. H. McClure is also thoroughly remodeling his residence.

Chillicothe Reports Good Grain Prospects

Special to The Record News

CHILLICOTHE, Texas, April 21.—The prospects for an excellent wheat crop in this section are very promising. There is a slight decrease in the acreage of last year; however, with an increase in acreage in other grain crops, it is expected the small decrease in the wheat acreage will be offset.

Girl Reserves to Give Kiwanis Club Program

Members of the Kiwanis club will be entertained in their regular weekly meeting Monday noon at the Kemp hotel by a group of young ladies representing the Girl Reserves, under the direction of Miss Irma Schnelle, according to the club bulletin.

PLANTING SPEEDED
Special to The Record News

CLARENDON, Texas, April 21.—With the earliest spring in several seasons planting has been going on here at a rather rapid gate. It is thought that there will be a small increase in cotton acreage, much of which has been planted. Feed crops are being put in the ground also, as in watermelons and other truck crops. It is thought crops will be from two weeks to a month early in this section this year.

Special to The Record News

OLUSTEE, Okla., April 21.—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cann, managers of the New Victory theater, have invited the public to their formal opening April 25, in the new brick building erected by Dr. E. S. Crowe.

BRITISH RAIL SYSTEMS POOR

Island Has Antique Transportation Equipment

LONDON, April 21. (US)—"Given a free hand, there are American railroad executives who could take over the British railroad system, reduce the rates, raise the wages, and make a dividend certain."

This was the sum of the comment today of Sir George Bury, former vice president of the Canadian Pacific, in a drastic criticism of the British freight transort system, the Archaic conditions of which are being investigated by the mineral transport committee appointed recently by Stanley Baldwin, the prime minister.

The committee report will probably dwell on the necessity for an all-embracing change in the muddled methods that have long prevailed in the British system, and industrial and trade leaders are puzzled that the report has not yet been published.

"Economical transportation consists in moving the largest number of tons per locomotive," observed Sir George, who is internationally known as a transportation expert. "In America and Canada, vast improvements in locomotives are made yearly, and it makes me ill to realize that English railroad men pride themselves on the fact they have engines running now that were built 50 and 75 years ago. That is not thrift; it is foolishness.

"There are no standardized sizes for freight cars in England, and they are of all sorts and shapes and forms. Some of them look like tents, and most of them have a capacity of 10 or 15 tons, while in America, cars are standardized and the usual load per car is 50 tons. Really."

"With the English system of transportation," continued Sir George, "the American and Canadian railroads would be unable to remove the grain traffic from the Northwest, and the farmer could not exist, and the vast plains would be barren."

Wheat Acreage Gains In Mangum Territory

Special to The Record News

MANGUM, Okla., April 21.—County Agent R. M. Georgia reports a 15 per cent increase of wheat acreage over the 1928 planting, and about an 85 per cent growing crop. The recent heavy rains have aided materially in the advanced growth, but another rain is needed within a few days. A large acreage is in readiness for cotton planting within two weeks. Trees, lawns, shrubs, flowers and gardens are in a more advanced stage than is usual at this time of year and a general spirit of optimism prevails.

Airport at Mangum To Be 'Ponder Field'

Special to The Record News

MANGUM, Okla., April 21.—The city commissioners and the chamber of commerce have voted to christen Mangum's new municipal airport "Ponder field" in honor of Capt. Will T. Ponder of Fort Worth, who was Mangum's ace in the world war. The field will be dedicated in the near future, when Captain Ponder will be the honored guest.

DANIEL PAYS TRIBUTE TO HOUSTON ON SAN JACINTO DAY

CLASS VOTES RADIO PROGRAM

Elements of Happiness Told In Sunday Talk

In honor of the 93rd anniversary of San Jacinto day, Roy J. Daniel, speaking before the Kay Bible class of the First Methodist church Sunday, opened his address with a tribute to General Sam Houston and the Texans who fought with him on that day.

Daniel

Subscriptions were completed Sunday for financing a weekly broadcast of the Sunday morning address over KGKO, the arrangements having been made by members and friends of the class. The broadcasts are to begin next Sunday.

Sunday morning's address entitled "True Happiness," follows:

"Today is the ninety-third anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto. Santa Anna the Mexican leader had been reinforced by General Cos so that his force numbered between 1,200 and 1,300 men—a small force yet much greater than Houston's. But Houston had decided that the Texans had retreated far enough, so at 3:30 in the afternoon he gave the command to advance. The Texans rushed upon the Mexicans, shouting the battlecry, 'Remember the Alamo!' The Mexicans were taken completely by surprise. Santa Anna and many of his men were asleep, some were cooking their dinner and others were watering their horses. After one unsuccessful effort to stand their ground the Mexicans fled in panic, with the Texans pursuing. The real battle was over in 18 minutes. General Houston himself received a ball in the ankle. Santa Anna escaped from the battle but was captured the next day. Houston did the wise and humane thing when he refused to permit his men to kill Santa Anna on the spot, and treated him as a prisoner of war. Santa Anna returned to Mexico, where he was still the idol, and afterwards became president of his country during our war with Mexico while Polk was president of the United States. This battle began the end of Mexican control over Texas.

Elements of Happiness

"Comfort and happiness are the goals of every man's desire from the time he arrives in this world until he departs. We have been told that the small baby cries because his lungs must be developed, but the real reason is that the youngster is uncomfortable. Why will you go to your office or to your work tomorrow and slave like a Turk at your alloted task? It will be for the sole purpose in the end to secure as much comfort and happiness as possible, for yourself and for your loved ones. There is a secret to true happiness. It lies in four fundamental elements—pardon, service, confidence and God.

"The words of Isaiah are: 'Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, said your God. Speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem; and cry unto her that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned, that she hath received of Jehovah's hand double for all her sins.' In speaking to Jerusalem centuries before Christ the prophet spoke also to us. Warfare with us some day will be an outlaw thing. How can we get rid of war and things that bring suffering and sorrow and tragedy into the world? How can we rid ourselves of our sins? Here is the answer—pardon from the all-loving heart of Jehovah. He can and will pardon and wipe out every iniquity. Sin will be wiped out when we reach the place concerning war expressed by Scott in the Lady of the Lake:

"'Soldier, rest! Thy warfare is over,
Dream of fighting fields no more;
Sleep the sleep that knows not breaking,
Morn of toil, nor night of waking.'

"Kellogg and the United States senate spoke comfort to the hearts of the American people when they gave us the treaty to outlaw war. That treaty will render forever glorious the name of the gentleman from Minnesota. The name of Kellogg will bring to minds of future Americans a greater thing than mere cornflakes!

"Again the words of Isaiah: 'The voice of one that crieth, Prepare ye in the wilderness the way of Jehovah, make level in the desert a highway for our God. Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low; and the uneven shall be made level, and the rough places a plain: And the glory of Jehovah shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together; for the mouth of Jehovah hath spoken it.' The service of God is the second fundamental element in happiness. The hand of God rendering service to mankind is plainly seen in history's pages. Cyrus the Persian prepared the way of the Lord and helped to make straight the pathway when he allowed the Hebrew exiles to return to Jerusalem and rebuild their temple. After Cyrus came Alexander making straight in the desert a highway for the coming of Christ. Down from the north came Attila, the scourge of God yet God's tool and instrument as all men are, both good men and bad men. The tragedy of Jesus had to have its Judas and its Pontius Pilate. Huns and Vandals sought to destroy the glory of classic Rome but the coming of Christ brought the rays of a new day over the ruins of the coliseum and Nero's palace. A thousand years went by and then Napoleon appeared. Republican France was the pioneer of democracy in Europe. Napoleon made straight in the desert of government a highway for the common people, 'God's favorites, some think. Lincoln once said 'God must love the common people because He made so many of us.' The world war came in Europe and things can never be the same in Europe or in America. Mountains went down and valleys came up.

Comfort

"One time a party of Christian tourists were visiting an Indian village in California, and they heard a sound of weeping. They found in an adobe hut a group of 10 or 12 Indians sitting on the floor in a circle, in the center of which was a dead child. They were all making loud noises and lamentations. The body of the young Indian mother swayed to and fro as if rocked by some mighty tempest. By her side sat an older woman who seemed to be her mother, and who vainly tried to console her daughter. They were very poor, and the tourists gave them money for food and clothing, but that did not comfort them and the weeping continued. Learning from an Indian standing near that the Indians understood English, a thoughtful Christian woman suggested to the tourists that they sing 'Jesus, Lover of My Soul.' They had scarcely begun to sing when the weeping ceased, and a calm came over the sad group of Indians. They had been comforted. When men have real sorrows and long for real comfort, they can be satisfied only with the consolation that comes through the gospel of the Son of God.

"Again the words of Isaiah: 'The voice of one saying, Cry. And one said, What shall I cry? All flesh is grass, and all the goodliness thereof is as the flower of the field. The grass withereth, the flower fadeth, because the breath of Jehovah bloweth upon it; surely the people is grass. The grass withereth, the flower fadeth; but the Word of our God shall stand forever.' The third fundamental element of happiness is confidence. Life is an uncertain thing, and that is a sad cause of human misery. Only faith and confidence in the loving providence of God can give us a sure basis of peace in mind and heart. We know that nothing material endures. It all perishes—beauty, strength and wisdom of man pass as does the grass in the field. And nations perish as well as individuals. The mightiest of empires now sleep beneath the dust of time. Man dies but his life on earth is only for the formation of the eternal life. The Bible, the Word of God, shall stand forever. The history of the Bible is that it has passed through fire and water and blood. No other book has been so hated by bad men, and yet loved at the same time by good men. It has been criticised and ridiculed and burnt. Unsuccessful attempts have been made to destroy it, yet it has gone marching steadily on. Men like Sir Walter Scott and Woodrow Wilson have died with the Book in their hands. The Bible has been used as an authority for slavery and polygamy. It has been used to support the subjugation of women and the divine right of kings. Robert E. Lee said, 'In all my perplexities and distresses, the Bible never failed to give me light and strength.' John Quincy Adams read the Bible through every year, and he said, 'The Comforter is in the Bible. The Bible is the first and almost only book deserving of universal attention.' The Puritans of England suffered persecution and even death to read the pages of the sacred Book. It is a wonderful book that contains every kind of literature for every mood and every human need. A well known Texan once said that he educated himself with the study of two books—Shakespeare and the Bible. That man has just been appointed a member of an important mediation board in Washington by President Hoover.

"Isaiah said: 'O thou that tellest good tidings to Zion, get thee up on a high mountain; O thou that tellest good tidings to Jerusalem, lift up thy voice with strength; lift it up, be not afraid; say unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God! Behold, the Lord Jehovah will come as a mighty one, and his arm will rule for Him: Behold, His reward is with Him, and his recompense before Him. He will feed His flock like a shepherd, He will gather the lambs in His arm, and carry them in His bosom, and will gently lead those that have their young.' The fourth element and yet the one in which all the elements of happiness meet is God. If we have Him in our lives we are sure of the highest joy. If God has ever given you a vision be not afraid to speak it forth, loudly and boldly from the mountain top. God tells us today just as He told Isaiah in the long ago that He will feed His flock like a shepherd and gather His lambs in His arm. God gave Paul a vision when the man in Macedonia said, 'Come over and help us.' And he saved many in Europe as he did many cities in Asia Minor. Martin Luther was crawling up the long flight of stairs on his knees, and the vision that a man is saved by faith alone saved Europe. England was at a low ebb and the vision of Charles Wesley helped to save her. Whatever your vision may be God grant that Christ will be in the center and heart of it.

"What comfort and happiness Jesus brought to Martha and Mary when their brother Lazarus died! He had been dead four days. Martha went to Jesus as He was entering the little city and said to Him, 'We are sorry that you have not been here because if you had been our brother would not have died.' Jesus answered, 'He shall live.' Martha said, 'Yes, I know he will live when the resurrection comes.' But Jesus replied, 'I am the Resurrection and the Life. Whosoever believeth in Me shall not perish but have everlasting life. Do you believe in Me?' Martha's answer was that she believed Him to be the Christ the Son of God. And Lazarus was raised from the dead and restored to his sisters, Martha and Mary. Jesus says today just as He did in the long ago: 'I shall not leave you comfortless. My spirit will comfort you after my departure. He who loves Me will keep My commandments. In time you will know that the Father is in Me, that ye are in Me and I in you. The Truth will be the Comforter to mankind after my departure from you.'

"Let us say with the psalmist of old: 'The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures, He leadeth me beside the still waters, He restoreth my soul. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death I shall fear no evil for Thou art with me. Thy rod and thy staff, they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies, thou anointest my head with oil, my cup runneth over, surely goodness and mercy will follow me all the days of my life, and I shall dwell in the house of the Lord forever.'

"'Savior, like a shepherd lead us,
Much we need thy tender care;
In thy pleasant pastures feed us,
For our use thy folds prepare.'"

W. A. MOODY DIES SUNDAY

Death Claims Wichita Man At Age of 60

W. A. Moody, pioneer resident of Wichita Falls, died Sunday afternoon at his home at 1901 Austin street. His wife, and a daughter, Mrs. R. L. Baxter of Fort Worth, survive.

Mr. Moody has been in construction and other work in Wichita Falls during the past 30 years. He came here from Nashville, Tenn., the place of his birth. He was 60 years old at the time of his death.

No funeral arrangements were announced Sunday, pending the arrival of relatives from out of town. The body is being held by the Hines mortuary.

E. F. LONG

The body of E. F. Long of Electra, who died Saturday in a local hospital, was forwarded to Electra for burial Sunday by the Merkle Undertaking company. Funeral services will be held in Electra Monday.

Rapid Progress Made On Scott Avenue Bridge

Placing of timbers for the coffer dam which is to hold back the sand and shale for the construction of the foundation for the middle piers of the Scott avenue bridge across Wichita river will begin Monday, J. M. Isbell, county engineer, declared Sunday afternoon.

The pouring of the cement for the south bank abutment is practically complete and the concrete work for the north bank abutment is under way, the engineer declared. With the two abutments complete, the foundation of the middle pier and its connecting arches is immediately before the builders, the engineer explained.

Detour Made Around Lake Wichita Spillway

Preparation for the new structure to be built across the Lake Wichita spillway, connecting Wichita and Archer county paving, will be completed this week, J. M. Isbell, county engineer, announced Sunday. Work of tearing out the old pavement and marking out the detour was begun Friday and will occupy most of the week to come, he said.

After the present spillway is torn away, grading, leveling and widening must precede the laying of the concrete structure which is to be four feet high, the engineer declared.

Legislature Members To Visit Texas University

AUSTIN, April 21.—Members of the Texas legislature will be the guests of the University of Texas Tuesday. They will be conducted on an inspection tour of the campus buildings from 4 o'clock until 6:30, when they will be entertained with a dinner at the University cafeteria. J. W. Calhoun, university comptroller, is in charge of the reception arrangements.

GRANT STREET DRIVE OPENS

Moreland Opens Attack On 'Traveling Brethren'

An attack on the "traveling brethren of evangelism who expect a heavy collection and leave no lasting signs of spiritual revival" was made by Rev. Patrick Dacus Moreland, pastor of the Grant Street Methodist church, at the opening of a two weeks revival before that congregation Sunday night.

"This is no high pressure, harum-scarum revival meeting," the pastor announced. "We are not going to expose the police department or raise cain about anybody who is prominent in civic affairs. Some evangelists do a great deal of harm by their sensational tactics."

Dr. H. D. Knickerbocker, former pastor of the First Methodist church here, was present and addressed the congregation before the collection plates were passed as follows:

"The greatest infidelity in the church today is in the subject of money. The Bible plainly teaches that you must tithe or rob the Lord. I never knew a tither who was not blessed in his pocket book. I have been a tither for 35 years. There are some people who drop a nickel in the collection plate with an air of majesty and grandeur.

"The Bible says that the Lord loves a hilarious giver, that is a laughing giver. The only way I could ever get my folks to give in that way was to tell a funny story and then pass the collection plate in a hurry. Part of my Gospel is to make two smiles grow where one grouch grew before."

Rev. Moreland preached on "Why Sit We Here Until We Die Spiritually." Special music was furnished by Mrs. H. G. Holcomb, soloist, and Mrs. P. A. Newell, pianist. Six conversions were obtained.

Visiting Youths Register Car Here

A pleasure jaunt to Wichita Falls proved costly for two Fort worth youths who were nabbed by Ellis Summers, plain clothes officer, for using wrong license plates on their automobile and were fined at police headquarters and forced to register their automobile before they could get out of town.

Summers was patrolling Scott avenue late Sunday afternoon looking for just such a thing as wrong license plates when he spied a large automobile with its plates wired upon the car.

Examining the plates closer, Summers saw that they had once been bolted on a car, and laid in wait for the two youths and their girl companions to emerge from a show.

The youths explained at police headquarters that they had taken the numbers off of another automobile owned by them for the drive to Wichita Falls.

They returned to Fort Worth Sunday night with two brand new Wichita county license plates on their car, their borrowed ones under the rear seat, and a nice-sized cash bond resting with Night Sergeant John McIntyre at police headquarters.

$4,000 Damage In Two Sunday Fires

Damage estimated at more than $4,000 was caused by flames which broke out in two residences here Sunday, according to J. L. McClure, fire chief.

A loss of about $2,800 was caused from a fire which destroyed the home of Curtis Miller in the Ray-Massie addition Sunday afternoon.

Fire in the residence of H. A. Erwin, 1637 Collins avenue, early Sunday morning caused a damage of about $1,600 it was estimated by Chief McClure.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin were in Houston at the time of the fire and no cause of the blaze had been ascertained Sunday afternoon by fire department officials.

County Farm Council To Meet at Burkburnett

Special to The Record News

BURKBURNETT, Texas, April 21. The county agricultural council members, 16 in number, will meet at the Central Christian church annex of this city Thursday, May 25, to discuss agricultural problems of the county, with County Agricultural Agent G. C. McGown, acting as presiding officer. Representatives from different towns of Wichita county will be present. The two representatives from Burkburnett are F. R. Knauth and Dave Abbott. The chamber of commerce of this city will be host and will have the agricultural councilmen served with food.

EARNINGS GAIN

TOOK ADVICE OF HER MOTHER

Praises Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Wetmore, Colo.—"When I was married 14 years ago I was in bad health for a couple of years and when I tried to do anything I would get tired and worn-out. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound off and on all these years and have recommended it to hundreds of women.

I have given birth to six children and have taken the Vegetable Compound as a tonic before child birth. It has done me worlds of good. My mother had taken it several times and she recommended it to me."—Mrs. Joan Bazana, Wetmore, Colorado.

Henrietta Youth, Victim of Accidental Gun Shot, Is in Critical Condition

Marcus Robinson, 14, of Henrietta, whose eyesight was destroyed and who suffered painful wounds with a shotgun, was reported to be in a serious condition Sunday night by attendants at the Wichita General hospital.

The youth and one of his playmates were playing with the weapon and thought it was unloaded. One of the hammers snapped and a load of shot was discharged into the boy's face. The gun was a .410 calibre weapon.

He was brought to the hospital after being given treatment at Henrietta just after the accident. Attendants said Sunday night that his life probably was not in grave danger, although his condition was little improved.

Celebration of Emancipation Feast Begins Wednesday at Temple Israel

Celebration of the Passover, the feast of the emancipation, will be inaugurated by the congregation of Temple Israel at a 30-minute service to be held Wednesday, April 24, at 6:30 p. m., according to Rabbi S. J. Schwab.

Throughout the history of the Jewish race this festival has been one of utmost significance to its members. The event originated in the days when the children of Israel lived in Palestone and were engaged chiefly in agricultural pursuits. The approach of spring was hailed with great joy as the time of reaping the barley harvest, of bringing the first fruits to the temple as a thank offering.

With the passing centuries the festival came to have a new meaning to the Jews. Further development of commerce crowded the agricultural background into lesser significance, and the ceremony resolved itself into a service of praise for the Hebrews' delivery from Egyptian slavery. Particular emphasis was placed upon the provision of Moses as a leader, under whom the Jewish tribes defeated Pharoah, demanded their freedom, and possessed the land of Palestine.

Many symbols and customs have been introduced in the later observance of this historic event. The first of these is an elaborate meal called "seder," which will be given at 7 o'clock Wednesday night for both adult and juvenile members of the Temple Israel congregation. Services also are to be held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock and on Friday night, Rabbi Schwab announced.

Canada and Uncle Sam Increase Trade Volume

WASHINGTON, April 21. (US)—Increasing cordiality in the Western Hemisphere neighborhood was indicated today in a report of the United States chamber of commerce which shows that in 1928 the United States and her next door neighbor, Canada, each played the role of the other's best customer, for the first time in history.

Canada supplanted Great Britain as the largest importer of American goods, and retained her old position of chief source of supply for American imports.

Allisen Attends Meet Of Newspaper Publishers

J. H. Allison of the Times Publishing company left Saturday for New York to attend the annual meeting of the American Newspaper Publishers association and of the Associated Press there this week. He expects to return by way of Kansas City for a short visit with his son, James Allison, who is in the divisional office of the Associated Press there.

COUNCIL TO VOTE BUDGET

Few Changes Expected In Municipal Estimates

The city budget for the fiscal year which began April 1 will be submitted to the city council for passage at its regular weekly meeting Monday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Memorial auditorium.

Copies of the budget as approved by George D. Fairtrace, city manager, were submitted to the aldermen last week for study, and what discussion there is to be made on the operating funds for this year will be made by the aldermen at the meeting Monday night.

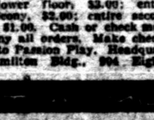

A board of equalization probably will be named at the meeting. The board is to hear tax complaints during the latter part of May.

Miserable with Backache?
A Bad Back Often Warns of Disordered Kidneys.
DOES every day find you lame and achy—suffering nagging backache, headache and dizzy spells?
Are kidney excretions too frequent, scanty or burning in passage? These are often signs of sluggish kidneys and should not be neglected.
To promote normal kidney action and assist your kidneys in cleansing your blood of poisonous wastes, use Doan's Pills. Endorsed the world over. Ask your neighbor!
50,000 Users Endorse Doan's:
J. W. Ashburn, 2442 Lemond St., Winston-Salem, N. C., says "My kidneys gave me considerable trouble. The secretions passed too frequently. In the morning my back was lame and stiff. I had headaches and dizzy spells. Some of my neighbors recommended Doan's Pills and I tried them. They so benefited me with a backache and my kidneys again acted normally."
