

Dag Urges Belgian Withdrawal

Says World Faces Crisis

By MILTON BESSER UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, warning that the world faces the issue of peace or war called today for immediate and unconditional withdrawal of Belgian forces from the Congo, including secessionist Katanga province.

He delivered the warning in a hard-hitting speech at the opening of an urgent meeting of the 11-nation U.N. Security Council on the Congo crisis. He had asked for the meeting. "I would even say that the immediate conclusion of the Congo problem is a question of peace or war," he declared.

He called on the Council to spell out in a resolution that the withdrawal should apply to Katanga "ad libitum to all parts of Katanga." "I do not hesitate to say that the speediest possible — I would even say immediate — achievement of such a solution of the Congo problem is a question of peace or war, and when saying peace or war I do not limit my perspective to the Congo," he said. "A delay now, hesitation now, efforts to safeguard national or group interests now in a way that would hamper the U.N. effort, would risk values immeasurably greater than any of those which such action may be intended to protect."

"This applying of all parties, first of all to the one which the Security Council has addressed, its appeal." Hammarskjöld's personal report to the Council was delivered as various proposals were under consideration aimed at getting a U.N. force into Katanga province.

Premier Patrice Lumumba asked the Council to send a 10-nation observer team into the Congo to ensure withdrawal of Belgian forces.

Diplomatic sources said Ceylon and Tunisia probably would introduce a resolution specifying that the 12,000-man U.N. force in the Congo will not interfere in internal conflicts.

The aim would be to assure Katanga Premier Moise Tshombe, who says his own troops will fight if the U.N. force tries to come in, that the U.N. force will not try to bring the province under the control of Premier Patrice Lumumba's central Congo government.

The resolution by Ceylon and Tunisia also was expected to call for withdrawal of Belgian troops from all the Congo.

Indications were that the Soviet Union might introduce a resolution of its own, or amendments to the Ceylon-Tunisia resolution, to authorize U.N. units to use any force necessary to get into Katanga.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov told a reporter Sunday he had not yet decided whether to submit a proposal. But in Moscow the Soviet Communist newspaper Pravda said the Congolese wanted the Security Council to "issue an order to the U.N. forces for the immediate liberation of Katanga from the Belgian occupiers."

The council meeting was postponed until noon today so that a delegation from Lumumba's government could attend. Vice Premier Antoine Gizenga was expected to demand that the council send U.N. troops into Katanga immediately.

A three-man delegation from the Katanga government flew in Sunday night. Finance Minister Jean Kibwe told newsmen he would ask the United Nations to "declare a moratorium" in the dispute over Katanga's future, avoid the military relations between Cuba and the Soviet Union and then supervise a provincial referendum on independence from, or unity with, the Congo.

Kibwe said the referendum would show Katanga's people are entirely behind Tshombe's government. He told one reporter Katanga's 4,000-man army is strong enough to beat Lumumba's, which he described as "none at all."

Ike Presents Fat Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower laid before Congress today a bulky program ranging from foreign aid to medical help for the aged but warned against "reckless spending schemes." "This truth we must take to heart: in good times, we must at the very least pay our way," he said in a special message sent to the Senate as it resumed its election-year session. The message also will be waiting for the House when it reconvenes a week hence.

In the face of Democratic and some Republican criticism that the nation's defenses are growing relatively weaker in the face of Communist threats, the President insisted U. S. military power "is second to none and will be kept that way."

Saying he was taking measures to improve the armed forces' readiness, he said these may necessitate "a modest increase" in military personnel and money. If funds are needed, he said, he will ask for them.

But national security demands congressional action too, Eisenhower said, and called for appropriation of the full amount authorized for foreign aid. He noted the appropriation bill for the mutual security program, as it now stands, is half a billion dollars under this.

"The nation's security and our inescapable interest in a stable world demand that these amounts be restored," Eisenhower said. Congress authorized appropriation of $4,086,300,000 for foreign aid and mutual security, but the House voted to hold the actual appropriation to $3,384,500,000. The Senate has not yet acted on the appropriation bill.

Eisenhower advised Congress that he had already taken some actions to strengthen this country's military posture, and that the Defense Department would be being unfrozen, and that resources insofar as possible.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President's wording meant that some funds impounded by Eisenhower were being unfrozen, and that Congress would be asked for more money if needed.

Hagerty estimated the impounded amount at $1,600,000,000. The President also told the legislators he wants:

1. A 100-million-dollar increase in flexible foreign aid funds "to keep America poised for sudden developments such as those in the Congo where a U. S. airlift and other efforts were needed suddenly and critically."

2. A 600-million-dollar authorization by Congress for a program of aid to Latin America. He asked approval for this fund by the time the economic conference of the American republics starts in Bogota, Colombia, Sept. 5.

3. Advance approval for a food-for-the-hungry proposal which he said will be presented to the United Nations General Assembly in September.

Eisenhower said this will be a program, "whereby we and other fortunate nations can, together, make greater use of our combined agricultural abundance to help feed the hungry of the world."

On the domestic side, Eisenhower listed upwards of a score of actions that he has said Congress should attend to now and not let them "go begging for months to come."

Eisenhower declared only 6 of 27 measures he had named last May as required by the National Interest have been enacted into law so far.

County Sets Hearing On New Budget

County commissioners this morning set Sept. 4 as the date for the public hearing on the county's proposed budget for next year.

At the same time, the commissioners announced that the tax rate would be set at a meeting on Sept. 12.

In other business this morning, the commissioners approved an agreement with the City of Snyder for the city to furnish fire protection outside the city limits.

The action was taken following a conference with City Manager Roy Dunlap. The city manager told the county officials that 35 per cent of the fire calls answered by the city department, over a year's time, came from outside the city limits. It costs approximately $67,000 per year to operate the city fire department, Dunlap said.

Following the discussion with the city manager, the commissioners court voted to approve the agreement which calls for the county to participate in expenses of the fire department in the amount of $20,000 over a 12-month period.

Commissioners also discussed acts of vandalism which have occurred recently in Towle Memorial Park. Russell Jones, park superintendent, told of many items in the park which have been damaged. Jones said park personnel often haul off "three or four barrels full of beer bottles and cans at a time."

Ross Williams told the court that during a family reunion in the park recently, members of the family were cursed and intimidated by vandals.

Commissioners conferred with attorneys on possible methods of curbing such activities in the park.

All bids on a proposed picnic pavilion in the park were rejected and commissioners indicated that the project would be discussed further before more bids are asked.

In the closing moments of the morning session, the court decided to have Bill Zimmerman, the county juvenile officer, and Sheriff Earl Abercrombie meet with them this afternoon to discuss possible means of curbing vandalism at Towle Memorial Park.

Estimate On Cotton Dips

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department's first forecast of the year today put the cotton crop at 14,471,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

This estimate is 67,000 bales less than last year's crop of 14,538,000 bales. It compares also with the 10-year, (1949-58) average of 13,710,000 bales.

Cotton is grown under a federal program which seeks to open up broader markets by lowering price supports, and as a result market prices, to growers. It also allows growers to overplant acreage allotments if they are willing to accept lower price guarantees.

The Texas crop was estimated at 4,375,000 bales on 6,530,000 acres averaging 321 pounds.

The report estimated the acreage to be harvested this year at 15,331,000 acres compared with 15,990,000 last year and 19,969,000 for the 10-year average.

The yield per harvested acre was forecast at 47 pounds compared with 46 pounds last year and 345 for the 10-year average.

The production of American-Egyptian type—long staple—cotton was forecast at 62,200 bales compared with 70,600 last year and 57,700 for the 10-year average.

The acreage for harvest, the yield per acre and the production, respectively, of cotton by States included:

Louisiana 500,000, 480 and 490,000; Oklahoma 640,000, 304 and 605,000; New Mexico 204,000, 706 and 300,000; Arizona 424,000, 974

J. L. Murphree Rites Tuesday

John Leonard Murphree of Route 2, Snyder, passed away at his home yesterday at 5 p. m. following an extended illness.

A bachelor who had lived in the Snyder area since 1907, he was 86 at the time of his death.

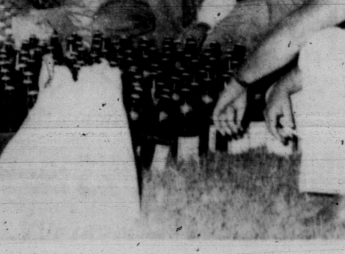

Services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the First Baptist Church here. Officiating minister will be Rev. Leslie Kelley of Big Spring, and he will be assisted by Rev. Jimmie Nelson of Colonial Hill Baptist Church. Burial is to be in the Snyder Cemetery under the direction of Bell Funeral Home.

Mr. Murphree was born in Blunt County, Alabama, and was a retired farmer.

He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. A. M. Weller, Abilene, and Mrs. Ida Huffstaller, Snyder; and two brothers, Will and Steve Murphree, both of Snyder.

 Travel is a fatiguing experience. It makes no difference whether we travel by plane, train or car, the more effort of travel can exhaust us.

We must be armed with items, quickly available, that add to our comfort enroute, yet take up a minimum of space in our traveling cases.
 Practically everything now is touted as basin-washable. A soap comes in tiny handy packages for use when traveling.
 Cosmetics should be kept to a minimum. You don't need an every-hour-of-the-day face cream when you are on a holiday. There should be one all-purpose type cream that can see you through your trip.
 A manicure.
 Handy items for travel include packages of cleansing towels available in foil envelopes, small plastic individual containers of shampoo and bubble bath. The individual travel pack has become a rage with coffee, cream and sugar packed in the same little envelopes.

Taffy-pulling Bee Keeps Kids Busy

Associated Press Food Editor
 SALT-WATER TAFFY was born in the 1880s, at a New Jersey seaside resort. It's been going strong ever since, with small fry all over the country voting for it.

What makes this candy win friends and influence so many youngsters?
 Our guess is that its popularity lies in the soft, but chewy texture, bland flavor and rainbow colors. Dip into a salt-water taffy jar! Each pretty piece is individually wrapped in paper with twisted ends. To our mind salt-water taffy wouldn't taste the same without this traditional wrapping. Twist open the ends of the paper between your thumbs and fingers, pop the sweet morsel into your mouth!
 What color do you choose? Colors are often the key to flavors. A green piece may savor of mint. Lemon and orange taffy look sunny and their flavors may match their names. Pink may be for those who adore vanilla, white for those who adore almond.

When we looked into candy-making cook books to compare recipes for salt-water taffy, we got a surprise. Author-experts such as Professor Walter W. Chenoweth and J. H. DeGros include cornstarch. This trick is borrowed from commercial candy-making and its function is to trap air into the mixture during its pulling and help control stickiness. Our recipe is almost a pound, adapted from Professor Chenoweth. If you make a batch of this taffy, work it yourself until it's ready to pull. Then divide the candy into several portions and let your small fry vote on it. A taffy-pulling bee is a grand old-fashioned American pastime and kids enjoy every minute of it, including the job of wrapping it in waxed paper and twisting the ends.

PINK SALT-WATER TAFFY
 Ingredients: 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons corn starch, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup light corn syrup, 1/2 cup water, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 teaspoons vanilla, red food coloring.
 Method: In a medium-sized heavy saucepan stir together the sugar, cornstarch and salt. Add corn syrup, water and butter; mix well. Over moderate heat bring to a boil, stirring constantly, until sugar dissolves. Over the same heat cook without stirring until syrup tests 260 on a thermometer or 1/4 teaspoon mixture dropped in 1 cup of very cold water can be formed with fingers into a firm or rather hard but pliable ball. Remove from heat; add vanilla and 2 drops of red food coloring; stir gently until blended. Pour into a buttered pan 9 by 9 by 2, or 12 by 8 by 2 inches; do not scrape last of syrup from pan. Let stand undisturbed until cool enough to handle. Gather into a ball on pan with fingers and knead a few seconds; pull and twist until taffy is satiny and a pale color. Pull into 1/2 by 1/8 inch thick strands; with kitchen scissors cut into 1 1/2-inch pieces. Wrap individually in waxed paper; twist ends. Makes almost a pound.

Organization Is Needed Now To Kick Convention Habit

By INEZ ROBB
This nation embraces a rather pitiful group of persons who are badly in need of help, and I am one of them.
As a public service, I have formed a group called Conventions Anonymous. Its sole purpose is to help us addicts kick the habit of rushing off every four years to liberally endangering health and sanity.
As the conclusion of the Republican convention neared, I realized that something had to be done, and not just for the G. O. P. It is the political buff, drawn to conventions as the moth to the candle, who needs support, and Conventions Anonymous is designed to do just that.
I have sworn off conventions a number of times in the past, as I found home physically and mentally exhausted and not, truth to tell, much the wiser. It is easy enough to swear off conventions and take the pledge immediately after a brace of them.
For example, it does not seem possible at the moment that I could ever again be mad enough to be overwhelmed by an irresistible urge to attend a political convention, and never mind which.
As of now, the very thought of the military madness that seizes women delegates of both parties every four years is enough to send me to a darkened room with cold compresses on my forehead. Incredible as it may seem, there is invariably at every Democratic and Republican convention a half-dozen female delegates wearing hats deliberately tortured into the likeness of a donkey or an elephant head.
Devotion to a political cause is great, just great, but in one woman's opinion it seems misguided in the form of cheapness trimmed with fringes of miniature donkeys or shepherds, or of turbans, in whose foliage these same animals nestle.

Doubtless by the time Richard Nixon was confirmed at the Republican gathering, I was in a weakened condition from conventions. Still I required first aid at the International Amphitheatre when I encountered a woman in a huge cap made of alternate sections of red and white velvet, with a great blue velvet ball across which marched in glittering procession ten rhinestone elephants.
But women delegates do not, by any means, have a monopoly on sartorial insanity. Right now I quiver like an aspen when I think of male delegates who solidly plaster the front and even the back of their respective jackets, if they are the formal type, or their sports shirts with buttons.
Just any button will do, including "I'M WIT CHOO," "KEEP TENSE" and "VOTE FOR ME. IT WOULD MAKE ME SO HAPPY." By mid-convention, these buttonaires begin to resemble an American version of England's famous pearly costermongers.
It is not the fault of television that it brings out the oppressive percentage of ham in politicians. But who would willingly subject himself again to the mugging and the endless Chamber of Commerce speeches that the head of each state delegation faces in his prerogative, once he has the nation when all he is asked to do is to say how his delegation voted?
It still doesn't seem so far, for example, or even awfully important, that Mississippi is the home of the last two Miss Americas, and Utah the abiding place

Few Really Active In Their Parties

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON (AP)—Employees of a major oil company were advised this week only two per cent of the citizens of the United States are active in political parties.
"I was shocked to learn so few citizens are active in party politics," commented K. S. Adams, board chairman of Phillips Petroleum Co.
In his monthly "As I See It" letter to employees, Adams said the preservation of democracy and the American economic system are endangered by such small scale dedicated interest.
"I urge you to study the major issues continually and make your influence count in your political party and in our government's decisions," Adams said.
Phillips is among several major oil firms which in the past year have launched non-partisan programs designed to encourage employees to take a more active interest in political and legislative matters.
Archibald Gray, senior vice president, launched the political program of Gulf Oil Corp. 14 months ago with these words:
"It is long range in nature and implemented with the full understanding we cannot expect a political metamorphosis overnight."
Since then Gulf has established a governmental relations office in Washington. To encourage a higher degree of individual political awareness this election year, Gulf put over $500,000 in contests in which the general public and employees analyzed the qualifications of potential presidential nominees.
The first two editions of a regular news letter in which the Washington office summarizes legislative activity pertaining to the oil industry already have been distributed to Gulf employees.
Phillips announced the following policy in March.
"The company encourages each employee to affiliate himself actively with the political party or organization of his choice; to evaluate and support candidates of his choice for political offices. To keep informed and aware of governmental and economic problems; to keep abreast of the philosophy and performance of public officers and communicate his views; to be active in civic and community affairs in a private capacity as his interests justify and his time permits."

Columnist Delves Into Mail Again

By TAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might not know if he weren't a columnist.
Nearly two million American families now have not one home but two. The second home, in most cases, being used as a vacation or weekend retreat.
What's a college education worth in terms of money? It is estimated to add between $100,000 and $150,000 in lifetime earnings. But only 10 per cent of the college population will hold college degrees.
Cows laugh at diets. The average milk cow eats her own weight (1,300 pounds) in hay and grain every month.
A depressing statistic: Safety experts say that probably half of the six million cars produced in 1960 will be involved in injury-or-death producing crashes during their normal eight-year life span.
If your daughter has a marked love of pets, perhaps a career as a veterinarian might interest her. The United States now has nearly 300 lady animal doctors.
Worst pun of the week: "When a chorus girl starts going out with a millionaire," says Robert Q. Lewis, "it's usually a buy-ological attraction."
Rats may lack many virtues but they are great homesteaders. They rarely go more than 100 feet from their nesting or hiding places for food or water.
It was barbed wire—not the six-ply that really tamed the Wild West. Until Joseph Glidden invented this cheap form of fencing in 1874 few homesteaders could adequately protect their crops from being eaten by wandering range cattle.

Bucs Take Pair; 5 1/2 Games Up

By Joe Reichler
Associated Press Sports Writer
Dick Groat may not hit a home run or steal a base all year but today, with the National League season two-thirds over, he must be rated a leading candidate for most valuable player honors.

The slow-of-foot, light-on-power shortstop is the spark plug of the league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates, the glue that holds the team together.

A brainy player—the kind the late Joe Judge would have loved—Groat makes up for his lack of speed and power by his alertness, aggressiveness, ability to figure out situations and inspirational leadership.

The 29-year-old Duke alumnus gave an example of his ingenuity as the Pirates swept a doubleheader from San Francisco Sunday 4-1 and 7-5 to pull away to the biggest lead of the season—5 1/2 games over Milwaukee and St. Louis.

It happened in the eighth inning of the nightcap. The score was tied 5-5 and Pittsburgh's Bill Mazeroski was on third following his single and bunts by pitcher Elroy Face and Joe Christopher.

Groat did the last thing the G-men defense expected. He bunted—the Pirates' third straight bunt. There wasn't even a play on Mazeroski at the plate and when Orlando Cepeda threw wildly to first, Christopher also scored.

Groat also played an important role in the opener, with three hits and one run batted in. His five hits in the two games gave him a league-leading total of 137 and boosted his batting average to .312, fourth high in the circuit.

The Braves regained second place from St. Louis, sking out a 3-4 victory over Chicago's Cubs while the Cards were held to a split by Cincinnati. The Redbirds won the nightcap 4-2 after the Reds had amassed 21 hits for 18-4 victory in the opener. Los Angeles' Tom Seaver pitched a complete game for the Dodgers, climbing to within a game of second, taking two from Philadelphia 8-7 and 2-1.

Chicago's White Sox whittled New York's first-place lead in the American League to 1 1/2 games by winning a pair from Washington 9-7 and 3-2 as Kansas City held the Yankees to a split. The Athletics trounced 13-3 after New York had won the first 5-2, Baltimore trampled Cleveland twice, 8-6 and 9-2. Detroit and Boston divided a pair. The Tigers won the first 7-2 and the Red Sox took the second 1-0.

Bob Friend scattered seven hits, struck out six and coasted to his 12th Pittsburgh victory in the opener. A seventh-inning home run by the Giants' Hobie Landrish cost him a shutout.

Pittsburgh overcame a 5-0 deficit in the nightcap. After pecking away at Billy O'Dell for single runs in the second and fourth, they tied it in the fifth on a three-run homer by Christopher, his first in the majors. Elroy Face, in relief, picked up his sixth triumph.

Johnny Roseboro, Tommy Davis, Maury Wills and pitchers Larry Sherry and Sandy Koufax were the stars of the Dodgers' double triumph. Roseboro doubled Davis home in the ninth to break a 7-7 tie in the opener, a victory which finished with six scoreless innings after a shaky start, received credit for his ninth victory.

Koufax struck out 11 and allowed only four hits in the nightcap. Davis provided what proved to be the winning tally with a home run in the fourth. Wills had seven hits in the two games.

Kenny Boyer's bases-loaded single in the seventh of the nightcap drove in the winning runs as the Cards overcame a 2-1 deficit. Cincinnati's attack in the opener included a grand slammer by Jerry Lynch, three doubles by Wally Post and five hits by rookie third baseman Cliff Cook.

Warren Spahn registered his 12th triumph of the year for the Braves and raised his lifetime victory total to 279 but he had to survive an eighth-inning rally. The Cubs shelled him from the mound with a four-run attack that included Frank Thomas' three-run homer.

Buchholz and MacKay Slip Into Finals

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The closest American Zone Davis Cup eliminations ever played between Mexico and the United States winds up today with Barry MacKay tangling with Mario Llamas and Earl Buchholz meeting Rafael Osuna.

The United States leads 2-1 after a narrow doubles victory Sunday which was not decided until the eleventh game of the fifth annual set.

In opening singles, MacKay badly off form, was beaten by Osuna, only Mexican ever to win a Wimbledon title.

Buchholz upset Mexico's top Mario Llamas.

MacKay will start today's play against Osuna, the pressure lifted by the doubles victory Sunday in which Buchholz and Chuck McKinstry defeated Osuna and Antonio Panatta 2-1, 6-3, 6-4, 7-4.

Arnie Does It Again

By Lou Black
WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP)—Arnie Palmer finished going to replace a Garrison finish among sports fans.

Time was when a solid way to describe a fantastic, heart-pumping, come-from-behind victory was to call it a Garrison finish, after famed hockey Snapper Garrison of another day.

But the way Arnold Palmer has been winning golf this year, he may be the Garrison of today's generation of sports fans.

Palmer, he of the strong jaw and rugged muscles, staged a spectacular finish again Sunday to win the Insurance City Open.

It was almost identical to the finish that brought him the Masters and U.S. Open titles earlier this year and established him as the No. 1 golfer.

Five strokes behind Jack Fleck and three behind Bill Collins, with 18 holes left to play in the 72-hole event, Palmer finished with a sudden death playoff for the $3,500 top prize.

Fleck and Palmer birdied the 72nd. A par eliminated Collins. The two survivors battled the long on even terms. Then Arnie set up the kill.

He hit the green 18 feet from the cup on the par-3, 183-yard 75th. Fleck was short, but approached within four feet. But while Arnie Palmer holed out in regulation, Fleck's putter failed the veteran.

The Palmer finish brought his official earnings this season to $28,466, and brought joy to most of the gallery of 12,000. Arnie first won this tournament on the par-71, 6,548-yard Wethersfield Country Club course in 1956. It was his first major American prize and the start on his road to riches.

AFL Leaning Heavily On Likes Of Spikes, Lowe

By Mike Rathet
Associated Press Sports Writer
The clock of responsibility for the success of the fledgling American Football League has been draped squarely over the shoulders of such men as Jack Spikes and Paul Lowe.

If the newly organized circuit is to buck the established National League in the battle for the entertainment dollar, the untested rookies like Spikes and the tested castoffs such as Lowe will have to provide a top-quality brand of football.

They did just that as the AFL paraded its talent in weekend exhibitions.

Spikes, former Texas Christian star who was a second team All-America selection, scored twice and kicked a pair of field goals as the Dallas Texans whipped the Houston Oilers 27-10 at Tulsa.

Lowe, a hand-me-down from the NFL's San Francisco club, grabbed the opening kickoff at Los Angeles, ran 105 yards for a touchdown and the hometown Chargers went on to defeat the New York Titans 27-7.

The NFL's new Dallas entry, with veteran Eddie LeBaron quarterbacking, made an unsuccessful debut at Seattle as the San Francisco 49ers defeated the Cowboys 16-10.

Spikes drove 1 and 3 yards for his touchdowns and kicked field goals of 22 and 48 yards to spoil the Oilers' debut. The other Dallas TD came on a 57-yard pass from Cotton Davidson to Johnny Robinson. Charlie Minstead tallied the lone Houston touchdown on a 5-yard scamper.

Supposedly short at quarterback, the Chargers sprung former Occidental star Jack Kemp at the Titans. Kemp, who completed 13 of 33 passes, pitched for one touchdown and scored himself on a 24-yard run. Quarterback Dick Jameson hit pay dirt for New York on a 6-yard dash.

LeBaron, tired out of retirement to lead the Cowboys' attack, connected on a 56-yard scoring aerial to Frank Clarke in Dallas' only sustained drive. C. R. Roberts went 4 yards for one 49er touchdown and John Brodie tossed a 34-yarder to Dee MacKay for another.

Gafford Added To Coaching Staff

The Dallas Coaching School of the weekend past proved to be particularly fruitful for T. G. Gafford, who has been hired as a replacement for V. V. Shearburn, who moved up into the varsity line slot following departure of Don Robbins to Big Spring.

Jimmy Gafford is the young man who will assume duties as assistant B team coach to Dutch Stehley. A graduate of East Texas State, he has been coaching freshman ball at Port Neches High the past two years. Prior to graduation from East Texas, he attended San Angelo Junior College, also.

An all-state guard during the "golden era" of Coach Pat Pattison at Lubbock High, Gafford was a member of the state championship team of 1951-52.

He is married and has two children. He is expected to arrive in Snyder Wednesday, along with his family.

Wilson, Sealy Spark VFW Jr. Keglers

Jimmy Wilson and Pyllis Sealy found themselves in the drivers seat the past week in the VFW Junior Bowling League at Snyder. Wilson rolled his way to the top series of the day, a 405, and also tied with Jimmy Don Robinson in the high game department with 165.

Miss Sealy took the girls' high series of 313 and the second high game of 128. Lynda Iverson was hot on her heels, however, turning in a 257 series and the high game of 149. Helen Joyce was third for the girl keglers in both series and game with her 230-114.

Robinson, in addition to deadlocking with Wilson for high game, was runner-up in series with 368 for the boys. They were pressed by Milton Mapes, the third place finisher, with his 164 game and 343 series.

On a team scale, Team 9 cornered the market in the chase for the high series recognition, marking up a 501 aggregate to Team 2's 484 and Team 4's 465.

Other junior bowlers and their series for the day include Jerry Anderson 332, Larry Tatum 240, Jerry Huddleston 228, Mike Bailey 342, Bobby Pope 135, Terry Williams 262, Ricky Bryure 360, Kirby McCreary 235, Roy Evans 388, and Ronnie Anderson 343.

Lightweights In Wednesday Chicago Bout

By The Associated Press
Joey Lopes, once the No. 1 lightweight contender but now a trial horse, tests the rising ambition of young Eddie Perkins Wednesday night at Chicago Stadium in a bout that could catapult Perkins into a title match.

Rated fourth among the lightweights by the National Boxing Assn. after beating Chico Rollins, Larry Boardman and Paolo Rossi this year, Perkins is supposed to be in line for a crack at Joe Brown's championship if he can handle Lopes.

The weekly Wednesday night television series starts Sept. 28 and the spot reportedly reserved for Brown and a challenger. Perkins, a 25-year-old Chicagoan with an 18-7 record, hopes to be it.

New 29, Lopes has won 21 bouts and shows a 49-20-4 record with 18 knockouts.

Perkins stopped Rollins this year for only his fifth career win, and the spot reportedly has been reserved for Brown and a challenger.

The in-fighter will be telecast nationally by ABC at 7 p.m., E.S.T.

Who Slipped The Mickeys? Batter Up!

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—An irate father who charged pep pills were used at the U.S. Olympic swimming and diving trials plans to remove his daughters from championship competition.

Wekko Ruskas, whose daughter Sylvia, made the Olympic team for the second time, claimed three top West Coast teams used pep pills in dominating the Detroit trials.

The chairman of the Women's National Swimming Committee, Pacific AAU Swimming Commissioner Al Sehorn said Ruskas' charges sound "like a case of sour grapes."

The West Coast official's remark was apparently aimed at the Ruskas girls' performances at the trials.

AN ALMOST CHAMP

Firpo Dies At 65

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Luis Angel Firpo died of a heart attack Sunday at 65 still convinced that he won the heavyweight championship from Jack Dempsey almost four decades ago.

It was on Sept. 14, 1923 that Firpo stepped in the ring at the Polo Grounds to battle Dempsey for the title. The fight lasted less than two rounds but it was one of the most vicious in history.

Seven times in little more than two minutes, Dempsey knocked Firpo to the canvas. Then, with less than a minute left, Firpo caught Dempsey with a lethal right to the head.

The champion toppled through the ring ropes and onto the typewriters of reporters covering the fight. He climbed back into the ring, covered up for the rest of the round and came out fighting again in the second.

Again he caught Firpo and the Wild Bull of the Pampas, as he had become known, toppled twice more. Each time he got up. Then at the 57-second mark, Dempsey again connected and this time Firpo didn't get up.

The fight established Firpo as a national idol here. After meeting Dempsey, Firpo fought only twice more in the United States. He lost both bouts. Then he came back to Argentina, fought a few times and quit the ring.

He fought only once more—in 1936 when he took a bout with Arturo Godoy. Firpo was 42. Godoy knocked him down seven times before putting him away from time in the third round.

"There were four times when I should have been declared the champion in that fight with Dempsey," Firpo recalled recently. "Dempsey fouled me three times and should have been disqualified. Once he hit me when I was getting up and once he hit me when I was talking to the referee.

"After I knocked him out of the ring, I figured it took him at least 16 seconds to get back."

Firpo never was bitter about the outcome, though.

"It was just one of those things," he said. "Boxing was good to me and I enjoyed it even if I never was champion."

He earned about a half-million dollars fighting and invested it in an automobile agency here when he retired. Then he expanded his interests to cattle ranching. He recently estimated his fortune as several million dollars.

Dempsey was shocked at Firpo's death.

"Luis was the most dangerous man I ever fought," said Dempsey. "His punch, ruggedness and raw courage gave boxing one of its greatest boasters."

"He not only knocked me out of the ring, but he hid me out on my feet. I don't remember even climbing back into the ring. The next thing I remembered was sitting on my stool in the corner. I thought I had been knocked out."

Ask More Funds For Ground Force

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON (AP)—The association of the United States Army, convening in the midst of a campaign year in which defense is a major issue, is beating the drums for a bigger role and more money for the ground force.

The AJSA begins today its three-day annual convention with an expected 3,000 persons including retired high ranking officers now able to speak out their personal views in a forum designed to advance the Army's cause.

The basic idea of these conventions, says the AJSA frankly, "is to dramatize and publicize the aims and objectives of the association."

This year the emphasis is on what it calls "the vital need for faster modernization of the Army."

Two years ago the Army asked the Defense Department to include in the military budget a program to start a 15-billion-dollar, five-year Army modernization program. The budget funds provided since then have been substantially short of that goal. With a new administration coming next January, the AJSA is pushing the modernization effort in speeches, round-table discussions and hard-core exhibits.

The speakers' list includes Lt. Gen. Evans, M. Gavin, who resigned a private industry post from which he is free to wage his campaign for modernization, airlift and changes in the military high command method of administration.

Also on the list is Wilber M. Brucker, who has been secretary of the Army for more than five years. Brucker has supported the campaign, but in more restrained fashion than some of the professional zealots.

Musical Conductor Weds Show Singer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Charles Lavere, 50, musical conductor for the George Burns stage show, was married Sunday to Lynn Evans, 36, member of the Chordette singing group.

The two met in May at Lake Tahoe, she said, while both were appearing with the Burns show.

Each had been married once before to non-professionals.

Millionaire Playboy Seized In Hotel Suite Of Princess

By CHARLES H. GUPTILL
MEXICO CITY (AP)—Millionaire playboy Francisco "Baby" Pignatari pleaded with police that he was just an "old family friend" after being seized in a pre-dawn raid on the hotel suite of beautiful Princess Ira von Furstenberg Hohenlohe, 20.

But no judge could be found on Sunday to free the darling of beautiful women on three continents, and baby spent the night in a police station.

Prince Alfonso Hohenlohe, 43, estranged husband of the Italian-born princess, believed he had won a round in his suit for divorce and custody of his two sons, Cristobal, 4, and Alfonso, 16 months.

The sleep-eyed princess, who married at 16, said of her Spanish-born husband, "I am disappointed. I never believed he would do anything like this. He has not conducted himself like a nobleman. He is the one who provoked the public scandal."

Pignatari and 11 men he had hired to guard the young princess and her children were picked up at 3 a. m. Sunday by police who fought their way into the well-guarded Cristobal Colon Hotel.

Forcing the door of the princess' swank sixth-floor suite, the police said they were confronted by Pignatari, in trousers and shirt.

The international playboy from Brazil protested that he had rushed to the suite from his own room on the seventh floor when Ira phoned him that she was alarmed by the uproar in the lobby.

The police report said the princess was in the suite but they did not see her.

Pignatari resisted removal from the hotel for two hours before he was—in his words—"dragged off by force."

Given time to don a smart tropical suit, neatly starched shirt and necktie, Pignatari denied to newsmen at the 6th Precinct police station that he was surprised in any state of undress.

The Brazilian protested that though he and the princess had often been seen together, there was no romantic interest.

"Our families are old friends," he said, adding that he has power of attorney to represent her in her legal problems as she is a minor.

The police raid was made on the complaint of Prince Hohenlohe that Pignatari and his wife were sharing quarters in the hotel. The prince said that "Baby" was paying the bills and had hired the bodyguards to prevent him from recovering his sons.

Pignatari claimed he was in Mexico on an official mission and charged his seizure was a violation of diplomatic immunity. He said it might create a diplomatic incident.

Slaying Suspect Surrenders Sunday

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Richard Henry Dare, 27, sought for questioning about the slaying of his estranged wife, her parents and her nephew, surrendered Sunday night.

Dare, object of a 100-man armed posse, handed over his pistol to McClain County Sheriff Joe Huddleston at a farmhouse about 30 miles south of here near Dare, a small community named for his relatives.

"I'm hungry," he told the sheriff. That was his only statement.

The bodies of his estranged wife Patricia, 24; her father, Ted Albert, 60; mother, Virgie, 52; and nephew William McCormick, 17, were found by police in their neat frame house here late Saturday.

Oklahoma City police said they were killed off one-by-one, over a 7-hour period Friday. Mrs. Dare was beaten to death. Mrs. Albert was strangled with a window cord. Albert and young McCormick were shot in the head at close range.

Dare was taken to Purcell, Okla., by Huddleston, then brought here by State Crime Bureau agents.

Huddleston said Dare apparently hid in the woods near the farmhouse of his brother-in-law, Orbie Carter, Sunday.

Carter told officers Dare had come to visit him early Sunday morning and had talked about the slayings. Huddleston said Carter told him he was not aware Dare was in the woods.

Huddleston said about 9:30 he saw Dare duck out of the woods and make for the farmhouse.

The sheriff drove alone to the house. Dare walked out and surrendered.

An autopsy showed the four slayings occurred between noon and 7:30 p. m. Friday. Detectives crawled through a window at the Albert residence late Saturday when a relative said she had been unable to arouse anyone in the house.

They found the bodies of Mrs. Dare and her mother in a front bedroom, the bodies of the man and youth in a rear room. All were covered with sheets or bedspreads.

Lt. Hilton Geer said it appeared Mrs. Dare had been slain first by a vicious beating. The detective theorized her mother was next and that McCormick and Albert were killed singly as they entered the house.

Police records show Dare was arrested for assault and battery June 12 after his wife said he threatened her life. Soon after Mrs. Dare started divorce proceedings.

THE DRIVE-IN WINDOW AT HIGHLAND PARK CLEANERS—Shelby Coker, owner of Highland Park Cleaners, stands ready to take your youngster's school clothing direct from your car, so you may go your way assured of quality cleaning, pressing, re-sizing and re-shaping. You're also assured you will be satisfied to send your children to primary, high school or college with clothes cleaned by Highland Park with a minimum of effort on your part.

Highland Park Cleaners Can Rejuvenate School Clothing

"The time has come, the walrus said, to speak of many things" and the many things of which to speak would probably have included how to get the children ready for school, if the walrus and the carpenter had only had children to get ready for school. With all the clothes to get cleaned and pressed for school, those wise old characters would probably have taken all their problems to the Highland Park Cleaners on the Big Spring highway and then gone on eating their audience.

That may be a roundabout way of saying that Highland Park Cleaners, 3803 Avenue S is the most when it comes to cleaning and pressing, but with all mothers frankly looking over school clothes, and getting them out of mothballs, it's time to speak of many things concerning clothes for the schoolward bound.

Highland Park Cleaners, owned and operated by Shelby Coker, will get all your child's, including the college bound, clothing in the best of shape with no worry on your part. Just pile them in the car, drive up to the drive-in window, deposit them with Mrs. Coker, and rest assured your clothing will be cleaned, pressed, and even mended to look brand new for a brand new year at school.

BUY RETAIL MEAT AT HEATH MEAT CO., TOO—Besides being headquarters in Snyder for processing meats for the freezer, Heath Meat Co. located at 2003 Twenty-fifth Street also has a display case for retailing meat where you can see what you buy. Shown here are A. A. Heath and Donald Poindexter.

Heaths Are Specialists In Preparing Meat For Freezer

The Heath Meat Company, located at 2003 Twenty-fifth Street, are specialists in processing meats for lockers and home freezers. They also have a nice selection of quality beef sold retail through their market.

A. A. Heath, owner and operator of the firm, stresses that all meats are quick-frozen at a temperature of 20 degrees below zero, which is much too cold to maintain afterwards. This quick-freezing process is better than the "chilling" name as it means the meat is frozen with the meat, rather than frozen at the exact time after freezing for the best flavor with no long exposure to air.

Heath's store has a food plan designed to suit your budget, with payments arranged by the week or month according to the desire of the customer. You may buy beef by the quarter, half or whole for your home freezer and if you do not have a freezer, it looks like Heath's about these matters.

Farmers and ranchers in this area have been using the processing services of Heath Meat Co. for a long time to process their own calves.

The employees at Heath's are experienced at their specific jobs.

'Kneel-In' Campaign Is Initiated

ATLANTA (AP)—Negro college students have initiated a new "kneel-in" campaign in the South by attending services at white Protestant and Catholic churches.

There have been sporadic visits in the past and Negroes in small numbers have attended Catholic churches in the Georgia capital for a number of years.

But Sunday's move by 25 students was the first coordinated effort to carry the 6-month-old sit-in campaign into the churches.

The Negroes were accompanied by several white students. They visited six churches: First Baptist, Druid Hills Baptist, First Presbyterian, St. Mark Methodist, Grace Methodist, and the Episcopal Cathedral of St. Philip.

No major incidents were reported. Negroes stood outside one church that was full, heard the service from the foyer of another, and were admitted after some talk at a third church.

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., a Negro integration leader, said the "warm reception by clergy and layman" reported by most of the students indicated many Southerners would welcome the chance to rescue the church from its moral dilemma on the race issue.

Cooler Weather Due In Northwest Texas

DALLAS (AP)—The Weather Bureau issued today this 5-day forecast for Aug. 8-13:

East and Central Texas: Temperature 1 to 3 degrees above normal. Normal minimum 73 to 79. Normal maximum 90 to 101. Mostly minor day to day changes. Precipitation generally moderate in scattered thundershower activity.

West Texas: Temperatures slightly below normal north, and slightly above normal south. Normal minimum 62 to 80. Normal maximum 90 to 96. Mostly minor day to day changes. Precipitation locally heavy north portions and in scattered thundershowers elsewhere.

Two Cities Seek Water

WACO (AP)—City officials of Galveston and Pasadena and the Brazos River Authority have joined in a move toward assuring new water supplies for the two cities.

The groups joined in taking a six-month option to purchase, if investigation proves its feasibility, the American Canal Co.

Pasadena and Galveston ratified the option last week and the BRA board in called session Sunday agreed to join in the option.

Spokesmen for the various interests said the ultimate purchase price cannot be gauged at this time.

The option mentions a purchase price of $5 million for the canal system, its physical assets and cash on hand. If at the end of six months the cities and BRA still interested, the agreement ratified Sunday provides for start of payment while final details are worked out.

The BRA not only has a considerable supply of reserve water at this time but in a few years will have vast quantities of water stored in five new reservoirs.

BRA President J. Howard Fox of Hearne said the proposed purchase of American Canal Co. would be in line with the BRA's purpose of supplying municipal, industrial and irrigation water where it is needed, and would provide one outlet for the huge new conservation water supply in reservoirs on the Brazos and its tributaries when they are completed in a few years.

Counties In Big Gains

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harris County in Texas is among the 16 counties in the United States now having a population of more than one million.

The Census Bureau says the Texas county, of which Houston is the county seat, now ranks 12th with a population of 1,234,868. Ten years ago Harris county stood 18th with a count of 806,701.

Los Angeles County, Calif., is first with 5,979,293, followed by Cook County, Ill., with 5,066,924. The census bureau's tabulation, released Sunday, shows sharp climbs by other big Texas counties.

Dallas county rose to 17th place from the 20th spot in 1950 with a present population of 942,563. Ten years ago the count was 614,799.

Bexar County, of which San Antonio is the county seat, climbed from 42nd place to 33rd place with a population of 683,262, compared with 500,460 in 1950.

Tarrant County, of which Fort Worth is the county seat, rose from 52nd to 32nd place on a count of 634,072. The 1950 population was 361,253.

Different and good: cook chicken in butter and wine then top with slices of spaghetti and tomato sauce; pass grated Parmesan or Romano cheese.

Hunters Find Crash Victims

FRASER PARK, Calif. (AP)—The bodies of three men—two of them Texans—were found Sunday in the charred wreckage of a light plane which disappeared Feb. 18. The victims were starting Layton of Dallas, George Smith Jr., about 30, of Wichita Falls, and Robert G. Rucker of Burbank, Calif.

The three men had been visiting a radar station for Radio Corporation of America when their plane hit a hill, then fell into dense undergrowth about 75 miles north and west of Los Angeles. The wreckage was found by deerhunters Sunday.

Both Texans were employees of Collins Radio Co. of Dallas and Rucker was an employ of RCA. Smith, who owned the plane, was believed to have been the pilot.

Layton is survived by his wife and four children.

Youth Held In Slaying

COZAD, Neb. (AP)—A sullen, blood-spattered youth was arrested Sunday night for questioning in connection with the killing of his uncle and the wounding of his father and aunt.

Darrell O. Jones, 18, Lexington, Neb., was arrested as he drove into Cozad by police chief Thurman Stevenson. The youth was unarmed and offered no resistance.

Shot to death was Carl Tideman, his sister, Elsie Tideman, 30, was wounded, as was the youth's father, Murel Jones, 49, Lexington.

Eddie Sykes, Ogallala newspaperman who saw young Jones, said the youth was "covered with blood."

Sheriff John Rohmert said the youth declined to talk to him, saying "I don't want anything. I want to get some shut-eye."
