Spanish Fascists Ready For "Final Attack" On Madrid

Rebel Armies Converging On Capital

Government Forces Holding Toledo, 40 Miles South Of Madrid But Insurgents Are Moving In On Them

Tide Said Turned

Crisis Is Expected In Civil War In Near Future As Two Opposing Factions Approach Each Other For Battles

(By The Associated Press)

THE Fascist junta asserted last night that its armies had encircled Madrid and were ready for a "final attack" on the Spanish capital.

The government forces holding Toledo, 40 miles south of Madrid, awaited ammunition to renew their efforts to wipe out defenders still alive in the dynamited fortress, the Alcazar.

Drive At Strongholds

The Fascist forces in the northeastern coastal sector under Gen. Emilio Mola drove at Bilbao and Santander, the only remaining government strongholds in that sector.

With these developments, Fascist agents in Saint Jean de Luz, France, asserted that the tide of the Spanish civil war has turned in their favor, and that the government forces were on the defensive "all along the line."

Converging On Capital

Outside Madrid the Fascist armies were reported converging on the capital.

The northern wing of the army, the junta announced, had penetrated the Losoya valley, south of the Guadarrama mountains rimming Madrid.

The southern Fascist army was reported split into two columns—one advancing toward Madrid through San Martin Valdeiglerias, 36 miles west of Madrid; and the other marching along the main highway to Toledo to succor their comrades in the Alcazar.

FDR Strikes At 'Framed' Articles

Sharply Worded Statement Is Issued From White House Against Newspaper Owner

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—In a sharply worded statement, the White House said today it had learned of a "planned attempt led by a certain notorious newspaper owner" to give the impression that President Roosevelt "passively accepts the support of alien organizations hostile to the American form of government."

The statement, issued by Stephen T. Early, a presidential secretary, directly denied that this was so. The newspaper owner was not named.

Reporters Called In

The president had been back in the White House less than two hours, after returning from the Harvard university tercentenary celebration to the bedside of Mrs. Roosevelt, who is recovering from an attack of grippe, when Early called newspapermen and issued the statement.

EDITOR'S NOTE

While President Roosevelt did not deal in personalities, as is befitting to a nation's chief executive, his reference to a certain "notorious newspaper publisher" will be generally taken to mean either William Randolph Hearst, who heads the largest, (26 papers) chain in the United States, or Col. R. R. McCormick, of the Chicago Tribune.

Mr. Hearst for some time has been fighting communism as well as the President's renomination, while Colonel McCormick's Tribune, arch-Republican "bible," has fought the administration from the time of Mr. Roosevelt's election to the present. A recent Page 1 cartoon in the Tribune intimated Soviet support of the Roosevelt re-election drive.

The statement follows:

"My attention has been called to a planned attempt led by a certain notorious newspaper owner to make it appear that the president passively accepts the support of alien organizations hostile to the American form of government.

Conceived In Malice

"Such articles are conceived in malice and born of political spite. They are deliberately framed to give a false impression—in other words to 'frame' the American people.

"The president does not want and does not welcome the vote or support of any individual or group taking orders from alien sources.

"This simple fact is, of course, obvious.

"The American people will not permit their attention to be diverted from real issues to fake issues which no patriotic, honorable, decent citizen would purposely inject into American affairs."

Marvin Jones Asks Landon To Give Views

Texas Congressman Declares Farmer Will Want To Know If Landon Plans To "Hooverize" Farm Program

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Rep. Marvin Jones (D-Tex.), chairman of the house committee in agriculture, said today in a statement commenting on Gov. Alf M. Landon's coming speaking tour in the farm area that "the American farmer will wish Landon to say specifically whether he proposes to go forward from 1936 or go back to the conditions of 1932."

The farmer, the Texan said, will want to know whether the Republican presidential candidate "wishes agriculture to continue the upswing, or to become 'Hooverized' once more."

The statement was issued at the offices of the Roosevelt agricultural committee here.

Income Has Increased

"Under the Roosevelt program, according to the latest reliable statistics, the cash income of the farm has increased from $5,300,000,000 in 1932 to $9,000,000,000 in 1936," Jones said. "Enactment of real farm legislation long advocated by agriculture has changed the picture from one of disaster to one of increasing prosperity.

"Governor Landon, opposing the remedial enactments would have us go back, presumably to the Hoover days which the farmers will too well remember," he said.

Increased Farmers Income Estimated

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19. (AP) — With drouth-heightened prices offsetting shortened crops, the agriculture department estimated today that cash income of farmers this year would total $7,850,000,000, almost 11 per cent more than the 1935 total of $7,090,000,000.

Both totals include cash income from the marketing of farm products and benefit payments under federal farm plans. The department said "government payments during 1936 are expected to be considerably smaller than in 1935," when they were $585,000,000.

The cash income estimate was described as based in actual income for the first seven months of this year, plus "indications as to sale and probable prices for farm products" during the remainder of 1936.

Cash received by farmers in the first seven months of this year was placed at $4,024,000,000, compared with $3,426,000,000 for a similar period in 1935.

Power Session Called By FDR

Possibility Of Pooling Public And Private Power To Provide Cheap Electricity To Be Explored In Meet

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—A conference to explore the possibility of providing cheap electricity of pooling public and private power in the southeast and, ultimately, in other regions was called today by President Roosevelt for September 30.

In a statement summoning the meeting of federal power officials and representatives of private utilities, banking and electric equipment industries, the president said:

Public Interest Demands It

"The public interest demands that the power that is being or soon will be generated by the Tennessee Valley authority and at the Bonneville dam and other Public Works projects should be made to serve the greatest number of our people at the lowest cost and, as far as possible, without injury to existing actual investment."

It appears, Mr. Roosevelt added, that pooling of power through the joining of existing transmission line networks "will smooth out the peaks and valleys of separate system operations, reduce the amount of necessary reserve capacity and postpone the need for investments in new generating facilities."

"I am advised that by this means investment in transmission lines and generating facilities could be kept to a minimum, service

City's September Rainfall Is Increased To 6.05 Saturday

Lubbock's September rainfall stood at 6.05 inches, after precipitation Friday night and early Saturday had added .91 of an inch to last week's heavy, general moisture.

Rain totaling 3.43 inches fell Thursday and Friday, the state experiment sub-station reported.

Tahoka reported that .95 of an inch of rain fell there in a short time Saturday afternoon.

Scattered showers fell in other sections of the South Plains.

Friday night's rainfall was general from the Panhandle to Sweetwater, from Altus, Okla., to Sweetwater, and from Dimmitt to Lockney.

Preparations For Fair Made At Dizzy Pace

Next Seven Days To Be Nightmare Of Work For Officials Preparing For Opening Of Exposition Next Monday

Exhibits Moving In

Vocational Agricultural Work And Commercial Displays Being Arranged; Details Of Race Program Arranged

ON and off the fairgrounds preparations are being swept forward at a dizzy pace to a red letter day, Monday week, when the twenty-third annual Panhandle-South Plains fair and Centennial celebration bursts into life.

To exhibitors, concessioners, superintendents, workmen and officials, the next seven days will be a nightmare of work, worry and deadlines despite well-conceived planning. To thousands of "just onlookers," days will trickle along until the biggest fair in twenty-three years is ready to receive them.

Grounds Are Enlarged

Fairgrounds enlarged by 97,500 square feet on the west side and several acres on the north side covered by a standard one-half mile race track grandstand and stables for 76 horses will be new sights for fair patrons.

"We're going to have the grandstand ready" was the comment Saturday by Jess Williams, contractor for the structure seating 5,000 persons. A third and final carload of steel is expected today. Crews of workmen "wearing slickers if necessary and busy 24-hours a day are to assemble the grandstand on time," Williams said.

West boundaries were extended 150 feet to Avenue A for 2 blocks north and south, an improvement reported necessary to make room for the mammoth carnival to be brought here by the United Shows of America.

Rains Pack Race Track

Rains which fell during the last several days were "perfect" for packing the race-track graded walk-ways and a long mid-way from the entrance to the grandstand, said A. B. Davis, manager for the fair association. A new drainage system on the grounds left few areas of standing water.

Workmen Saturday were proceeding rapidly with the building of a model home on the exposition grounds, near the south entrance. Other workmen yesterday began

The negro is being held in Lubbock county jail.

Hurricane Swirls Off Coast Of Massachusetts Saturday

NEW YORK, Sept. 19. (AP)—A hurricane swirled northeastward over the Atlantic off Massachusetts tonight, bound for oblivion at sea.

The coasts of eight states had felt its fury, but only eight persons were known to be dead. Fifteen were missing.

There was heavy property damage along the shores of North Carolina, where the low pressure area struck Thursday night. Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Rhode Island, and Massachusetts Connecticut escaped the blow.

Resembling Shack Town On Wash Day, Angelo Drying, Digging Out Of Flood

Clean-Up Campaign Is Begun; 1,500 Are Without Homes

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANGELO, Sept. 19.—Resembling over much of its area shack town on wash day, San Angelo late today was drying out and digging out after its catastrophical flood of Thursday and Thursday night. Homes Thursday morning worth $25,000 joined with negro shacks farther up the river bank in showing the spreading of furniture and clothing out in the welcome sun to dry. And the recent occupants, sobered by the wiping out of their holdings but not downhearted, joined with WPA workers in removing from their floors tons of caked mud and debris.

Meanwhile, approximately 1,500 persons made homeless by the flood were being cared for by the Red Cross, the Texas Relief commission and local agencies. Perhaps 1,000 laborers went to work on the actual clean-up campaign, 300 of them on a WPA-city project alone. No need of outside laborers was seen by Mayor Dorsey Hardeman.

Loss Estimates Increase

Loss estimates did not drop. Rather they increased as the water receded and a more definite check was possible. Conservative estimates ranged upward from $2,000,000.

Highway connections improved and traffic was opened west to McCamey, northwest to Big Spring, north to Sweetwater, northeast to Abilene, and southeast to San Antonio by way of Brady. But several highway bridges were useless as gaps, some of them 15 feet deep and several times as long were shown as the waters dropped. Sonora could not be reached through Eldorado because a new lake, seven feet deep, stood astraddle the highway. The first train, from Sweetwater, was due in early Sunday.

Two Drowned Saturday In Central Texas

Farmer Near Bowser In San Saba County, Ranch Hand At Milburn In McCulloch Are Victims Of Torrent

Eight Are Rescued

Family At Bowser Is Removed From Roof Of Barn After Spending Night Of Horror Above Raging Water

(By The Associated Press)

BROWNWOOD, Sept. 19.—The treacherous flood waters of the Colorado river late today claimed their second victim when a farmer was drowned while attempting to save his livestock.

Ganum Maxcey, 60, lost his life soon after eight members of the Ross White family at Bowser, in the same vicinity, were rescued from the flood.

They had been taken ashore on the south side of the river by boatmen after clinging precariously to the roof of their farm home. A rescue party went out in a motorboat from here earlier in the afternoon and had been unable to locate them, prompting fears that they had been swept away.

COAST GUARD ON DUTY

AUSTIN, Sept. 19. (AP)—A detachment of coast guardsmen from Del Rio arrived here today to use Austin as a base for flood rescue operations.

They said they would fly over the flooded area tomorrow to see if anyone appeared to be cut off by the high waters of the Colorado river. They also hoped to determine the extent of danger to persons residing in this vicinity and further down the river.

Frank Haynes, weather observer here, said he did not expect the crest to reach here before Tuesday.

Swirling Southward

The Colorado already had claimed one life, inundated an entire village and driven hundreds from their farm homes as it swirled southward.

Only the daring rescue work of boatmen prevented other drownings as the muddy current, spreading widely over thousands of acres of the richest farming land in Texas, rolled downstream on its mad rush to the gulf.

Community Inundated

Gaynor McBee, 66, a ranch hand, was swept from his horse while driving cattle out of the path of the flood at Milburn. This little McCulloch county farming community, consisting of three stores and a

Thousands Jam Docks As Joan Blondell And Dick Powell Wed

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 19. (AP)—Thousands of curious jammed the docks at nearby San Pedro tonight as Joan Blondell and Dick Powell, popular motion picture couple were married aboard their honeymoon ship in a romance that began before the film cameras.

The large would-be audience of the wedding was not permitted to go aboard the liner Santa Paula, where a Presbyterian minister performed the ceremony.

On the liner, sailing at midnight, the couple will spend two weeks of their honeymoon enroute to New York.

PENSIONS INCREASED

AUSTIN, Sept. 19. (AP)—Orville S. Carpenter, old age pension director announced today the number of pensioners had increased to 79,500, gain of 3,500 this week, the 3,500 checks averaged $15.56.

The Weather

TEXAS: Partly cloudy Sunday and Monday. Gentle to moderate southeast to south winds on the coast.

NEW MEXICO: Unsettled Sunday and Monday, probably showers northwest portion; little change in temperature.

Gain In Crop Yields Is Seen

Moisture Received This Month Has Been Of Great Aid To Crops; Late Cotton Is To Make Greater Production

The South Plains is entering the fall season with plenty of underground moisture, and indications that a late fall will show a substantial increase in both cotton production and grain sorghum tonnage over prospects of 30 days ago.

Moisture that has fallen in September, 6.05 inches up to Saturday, has more than met the sub-soil moisture that was in the ground. "It has gone all the way down," commented Don L. Jones, superintendent of the state experiment sub-station when asked about the sub-soil moisture.

No Damage Expected

While there was doubtless a considerable amount of cotton, mostly "burnt" from the drouth, open, no serious damage is expected as a result of the rains, except discoloration. Sand does more damage than water, it was pointed out by several cotton men and experts.

Bolls that had not opened, although damaged from drouth, will begin to pop open as soon as warm weather comes. Badly damaged cotton will not be helped, although the lesser damaged early cotton may get a little longer staple.

To Aid Late Cotton

Late cotton will be greatly helped by rain both in quality and quantity. Staple length will be increased, percentage of less than 7-8 inch staple will be greatly reduced and lengths from 13-16 to 31-32 will be increased.

Date for blooms to become bolls before frost is past; blooms now will not mature unless extremely favorable weather conditions prevail, with frost that kills holding off until late in November. Normal date is around November 2.

Cotton that was blooming a week ago, will, however, have a chance to make bollies, with favorable conditions.

Young Feed Greatly Benefitted

Young feed will be greatly benefitted; heads will fill out and the leaves will provide plenty of succulent roughage.

"There is ample time for a bumper crop of grain sorghums," one farmer said. "Heads will grow and fill out. Suckers may make heads, but they will be small. But, suckers will provide plenty of fodder."

Some damage has been reported in old feed. Where it has greened up, presence of prussiac acid may be detected.

Can Tell By Inspection

"One can turn back the leaves and tell if there is any," Charles A. King jr., assistant county agent, said. "Farmers should keep stock away from this fodder for a few days, until it can dry out.

"Those filling trench silos should not use that kind of fodder. Let it dry a little before putting it in the trench."

Cotton picking is expected to be resumed this week, if Sunday and Monday have fair weather. Pickers are here and there seems to be plenty of hands.

Rain has kept farmers out of the fields for several days. With dry weather, all kinds of farm work is expected to be resumed.

The moisture for the most part came slowly and soaked into the ground. Very little runoff has been reported. Lakes are just beginning to fill up with the latter part of the rains.

Three More Complaints For Swindling Filed Against Man

R. M. (Mike) Green was charged in three complaints alleging swindling by worthless check Saturday in the court of J. T. Trigg, justice of the peace.

Green, in jail, thus faces nine such complaints filed last week. Two were docketed Friday and he already was held in lieu of $800 bond set after pleas of not guilty of four similar cases. Eight of the complaints were in Trigg's court, one in that of J. T. Inmon, justice of the peace for precinct 1, place 2.

Three swindling by worthless check complaints also were filed against two other persons, each being accepted in county court. Checks aggregated $37.88. Complainant was Hollywood Style shop. No arrests had been reported by the sheriff's office late Saturday.

Claims She Had Needed Gly-Cas For Past 8 Years

Foods Would Not Digest Properly; Indigestion, Sour Stomach Made Mrs. Hughes Miserable, Rheumatism Added To Her Suffering; Gly-Cas Then Unfailing

"Gly-Cas is the first medicine I have ever taken that did not disappoint me with the results it gave," said Mrs. Venia Hughes 2405 Summers St., Corpus Christi, Tex., "For more than eight years I had been searching for just such a medicine as this new Gly-Cas. I suffered so with indigestion after every meal I ate. My foods simply would not digest properly, would become sick at my stomach, bloated badly and seemed to have a sour, burning liquid on my stomach that distressed me greatly. I became extremely nervous and lost much sleep at night until I was worn-out contiually. My system was so full of poisons that rheumatism soon settled over my body, my arms and shoulders were badly affected and at times the intense suffering was almost more than I could stand. But in spite of all I tried I continued to suffer and grew worse daily until I was persuaded to give this new Gly-Cas a trial as so many people were telling of its remarkable benefits."

MRS. VENIA HUGHES

"Never have I seen a medicine do its work as well before," she continued, "Gly-Cas wasted no time in getting to the source of my health troubles and proved to be the very medicine I had been needing for the past eight years. Gly-Cas has almost made me a new woman. I have only taken Gly-Cas a short time as yet and the rapid, splendid improvement in my case is really remarkable. My stomach is now functioning properly, eat and sleep good and even those awful rheumatic pains have left me. I can get around with ease now, feel fine and can not praise Gly-Cas half enough—it is just what every similar sifferer should have so they too might regain their health as I have nine."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.

Japanese Policeman Is Shot To Death; Patrols On Guard

HANKOW, China, Sept. 19. (AP)—Nikajiro Yoshioka, a member of the Japanese consular police in Hankow, was shot to death by an unidentified Chinese, the Domei (Japanese) news agency reported today.

The agency said Yoshioka was shot in the back of the head while he was standing inside a police box.

Domei further reported a Manchoukuoan military officer, a native of Korea, arrived in Hankow and reported to Japanese authorities he had been attacked in the dining car of a train between Peiping and Hankow by Chinese passengers who staged an anti-Japanese demonstration.

Japanese naval forces, anchored here in conjunction with the consular police, established emergency patrols in the national concession in which the slaying occurred.

Veterinarians say many "mad" dogs are merely dogs running around looking for a drink of water in hot weather.

General Queipo De Llano also announced the insurgent forces of Colonel Arranda, long besieged in the northern mining capital of Oviedo, had cut their way out of the city and dug in at a point 10 miles distant.

Firm Moves To Texas Area

Jefferson Lake Oil Company Is Transferring Sulphur Operations To Texas After Tax In Louisiana Is Raised

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 19.—John Vaccaro, president of the Jefferson Lake company, has announced his firm was transferring all of its sulphur operations from Louisiana to Texas.

The decision followed closely a raise in the Louisiana tax on sulphur from 60 cents to $2.00 a ton.

President Vaccaro said his company had acquired leases on the Clemons mound in Brazoria county, Tex., and would immediately start moving its mining equipment from the Lake Peigneur deposits near New Iberia, La.

To Operate Three Rigs

He said two rigs already were in operation at the new Texas deposit and that a third would be working next week.

"Twenty wells were drilled on the Clemons dome a few years ago," he said, "which showed sulphur was extensive there. The company is now outlining the tonnage it expects to mine first and plans have been completed to move its $500,000 sulphur plant now at Lake Peigneur."

Large Deposit Indicated

The official said his company's check of the drillings that have been done over the Clemons dome "would indicate the deposit to be very much larger than the one that was mined from Lake Peigneur, where $10,000,000 worth of sulphur was extracted."

He said his company was not abandoning the Louisiana lease, but was presently engaged in oil drillings there.

When the legislature was considering an increase in the sulphur tax rate representatives of the Jefferson Lake company and other sulphur mining concerns operating in Louisiana vigorously opposed the boost at committee hearings and predicted enactment of the bill would "drive the sulphur interests out of the state."

Anticipated revenue from the increase was dedicated to Governor Richard W. Leche's social security program.

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., Sept. 19. (AP)—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich) asserted today that congress is utterly money dumb" in its spending of public funds.

"It has no more concern for a million dollars than Mr. Farley (James A. Farley, Democratic national chairman) has for a Jefferson Democrat," he said in an address prepared for delivery at the opening of the Connecticut state campaign at Lake Compounce.

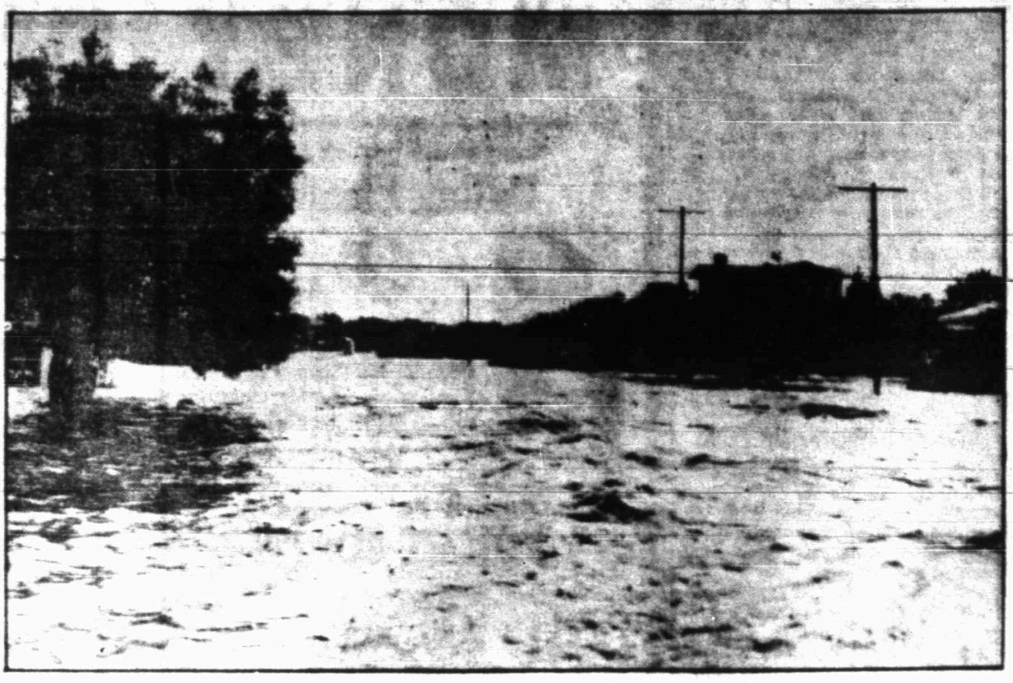
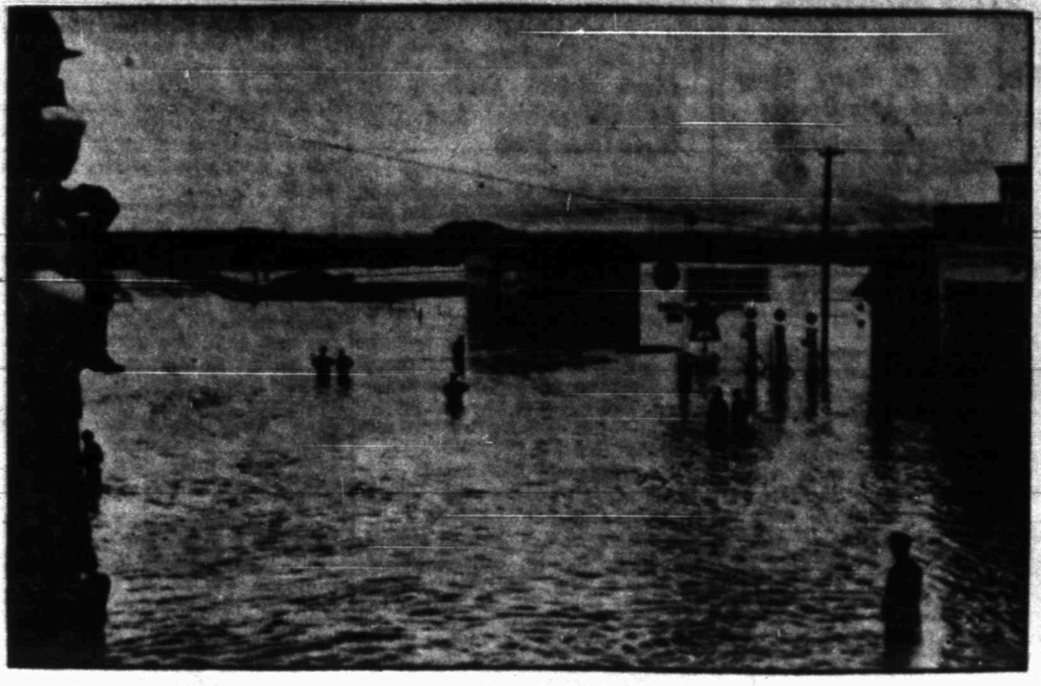
Concho Sheds Sheep's Clothing--Rips Into San Angelo



Ordinarily, the North Concho is a pretty little stream that can be waded at almost any point where it winds through San Angelo. But here it is a vicious torrent, sweeping down South Abe street, a few blocks from the stream's bed.



This view, taken at 2 p. m. Thursday, from the Naylor hotel, shows the Chadbourne street bridge and the waters of the Middle Concho running over instead of under it. An hour and a half later the water was 7½ feet deeper at this point—well over a man's head and hands.

After the flood was over. Here's Twohig avenue, (showing the damage done by swirling waters. The Central Fire station is in the background.

Three filling stations at the corner of Main and Harris couldn't even service motor boats at the height of San Angelo's flood. Their pumps went under, as did stores and residences nearby.

Broken pavement at the end of the Oak street bridge, grimly attesting to the flood's damage.

Plains Cotton Figures Given

Estimate Of Crop This Year Placed At 310,333 Bales By A. J. Humphreys; Lubbock County Is First

Annual estimate of cotton crop for the South Plains, which A. J. Humphreys of A. J. Humphreys & Co., cotton exchange, makes about the middle of September each year, has been announced.

The total is slightly lower than those of other estimators here, placing the total at 310,333 as compared with 305,526 bales last year for the same counties.

Lubbock Is First

Lubbock is placed first, Lamb second; Hockley and Lynn tied for third; Dawson, fifth.

"We have arrived at our figures by circularizing each of the counties with several hundred letters, addressed to the leading cotton men, producers and well informed authorities, and have taken the average of all estimates received," Mr. Humphreys said. "The recent rains, in our opinion, will have very little effect with the possible exception of improving the staple by causing the young bolls to fill out fully before opening.

Depends On Frost

"If frost should be later than the average there is a possibility of a top crop; on the other hand, should frost come earlier, the crop will be cut short. Average frost date for around this section is November 2."

Estimate is as follows:

County	1935-6	1936-7
Bailey	14,092	14,000
Briscoe	6,517	2,250
Cochran	4,076	6,800
Crosby	20,185	22,000
Dawson	28,685	31,250
Floyd	11,711	8,250
Gaines	3,785	4,500
Garza	13,205	8,600
Hale	19,671	20,500
Hockley	28,280	35,000
Lamb	30,628	46,400
LUBBOCK	49,180	50,833
Lynn	46,469	35,000
Parmer	3,568	4,200
Terry	26,296	20,750

Slogan For The Democrats Is Suggested By Col. Knox

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19. (AP)—Col. Frank Knox, Republican vice-presidential nominee, today carried his party's vote drive into southern California on the heels of a rally here which cheered his suggestion the Democratic campaign slogan should be "he kept us in depression."

Last night Col. Knox assailed the administration's relief program.

"Just 20 years ago," he said, "a president was elected in this country by a slogan. It was 'he kept us out of war.'

"We have not had any slogans in this campaign. I suggest one for the Democrats: 'He kept us in depression.'"

Alumni Seek Study Of Case

Record Of Lowell Committee Of Sacco-Vanetti Case Is Asked To Be Studied By A Harvard Alumni Group

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Twenty-eight alumni of Harvard university have asked all brother alumni to study the record of the Lowell committee in the Sacco-Vanzetti case "and discover what happened to the mental processes of their alma mater's president."

Their statement, in the form of a pamphlet mailed to prominent persons throughout the country, was issued a few hours before President Emeritus A. Lawrence Lowell was scheduled to introduce President Roosevelt at the Harvard tercentenary celebration.

Reviews Evidence

It reviewed the evidence considered by Dr. Lowell's committee at the request of the then Governor Alvan T. Fuller, prior to the execution of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti for the murder of Alessandro Berardelli, a payroll guard, in a South Braintree, Mass., holdup in 1920.

The Lowell committee advised Governor Fuller it considered both Sacco and Vanzetti guilty "beyond reasonable doubt."

Discrepancies Cited

Alleged discrepancies in the report prepared in 1927 are set forth in the pamphlets, titled "Walled In This Tomb."

"In anything but a captious mood," said the foreword, "we urged the alumni to go to the record of the Sacco-Vanzetti case and discover what happened to the mental processes of their alma mater's president.

"Out of such discovery will come an address of the incredible and destructive twists of men's minds—even the mind of a president of Harvard university.

"This cannot fail, in our opinion, to be of value in the struggle to keep this nation from being torn asunder by that mass unreason which has been so skillfully developed by power-mad individuals and cliques in Europe.

"No one looking at the fate of intellectual and cultural pursuits in Germany and Italy can escape an intense feeling of the immediate peril confronting our own universities."

Water Survey Is Showing Progress

A water survey being made in Bailey county is progressing in the Muleshoe section, said W. O. George, Austin, assistant office engineer, of the Texas board of water engineers.

George and W. L. Broadhurst, who is in charge of the survey in Bailey, Lamb, Cochran, and Hockley counties, were in Lubbock Saturday afternoon en route to Big Spring.

The survey, sponsored jointly by the United States geological survey, and the Texas board of water engineers, is to determine the amount of water available, the kind of water, and the depth.

Others Are Sought

Application has been made through Works Progress administration for a similar survey in Lubbock, Hale, and Floyd counties.

The work will be started in Lamb county in about two months.

Test wells are sunk and additional information is taken from producing wells, provided they can be measured accurately.

A permanent record of the information thus obtained will be made, said George.

Bank Clearings In Corsicana Top Million-Dollar Figure

CORSICANA, Sept. 19. (AP)—Topping the million-dollar mark for the first time in almost five years, Corsicana bank clearings for the week ending with the close of business Wednesday reached a figure of $1,154,000 according to N. Suttle Roberts, director of the Corsicana Clearing House association.

The figures for this week compared with $804,000 for the same week in 1935 showing a gain of about fifty-five per cent over the corresponding period. Clearings for the past several weeks have shown consistent gains of fifteen to twenty per cent over comparable 1935 figures. This week's figures were the highest since November 1921 according to Mr. Roberts.

Last Two Goodwill Tours For Purpose Of Advertising The Panhandle-South Plains Fair Are Scheduled

Fair boosters will embark on the last two goodwill tours of the area this week to quicken the pulse of kiddies and grown-ups for the opening of the six-day twenty-third annual Panhandle-South Plains fair tomorrow a week.

Twenty-three reservations have been made for the goodwill tour Tuesday, assuring two bus loads for the 222-mile trip touching 13 cities and towns north and east of Lubbock.

Final One Is Largest

The largest delegation of the three trips, first of which was taken last Thursday, looms for the final trip. Thirty-two reservations have been definitely made, 12 others tentatively arranged, and three bus loads apparently "in the bag."

Final arrangements of an entertainment program and speakers for the two trips were not completed Saturday, it was reported at the chamber of commerce. Twenty-five pieces of Lubbock High school band will be taken, however, on each of the trips.

Elated over the reception at 11 towns visited on the first tour, boosters are anticipating similar enthusiasm Tuesday and Thursday. Both parties will leave Lubbock at 7:15 o'clock from City hall.

Schedule For Trips

Time of arrival at each of the towns Tuesday was scheduled as follows:

Abernathy, 7:45 o'clock; Hale Center, 8:20 o'clock; Plainview, 9 o'clock; Lockney, 10:15 o'clock; Floydada, 10:55 o'clock; Matador, 12:10 o'clock; Roaring Springs, 1:45 o'clock; Dickens, 2:30 o'clock; Spur, 3 o'clock; Crosbyton, 4:20 o'clock; Ralls, 4:50 o'clock; Lorenzo, 5:20 o'clock; Idalou, 5:50 o'clock; return to Lubbock at 6:20 o'clock. Luncheon is to be served at Matador.

The Thursday trip, over a 223-mile route which includes a stop at Clovis, N. M., added to the itinerary this year, for lunch, calls for arrivals at:

Shallowater, 7:50 o'clock; Anton, 8:30 o'clock; Littlefield, 9:10 o'clock; Amherst, 10 o'clock; Sudan, 10:45 o'clock; Muleshoe, 11:40 o'clock; Clovis, 1 o'clock; Enochs, 3:10 o'clock; Morton, 3:45 o'clock; Levelland, 4:30 o'clock; Smyer, 5:15 o'clock; return to Lubbock at 6 o'clock.

The boosters will be loaded with fair publicity, including souvenirs, and other souvenirs carried by merchants.

Leading both delegations along the route, W. E. Twitty, fire chief, will drive his siren-equipped coupe.

Motion Pictures Of Nudists Declared Obscene By Court Order; Shown Before Judge

CHICAGO, Sept. 19. (AP)—Motion pictures of nudists, Municipal Judge Samuel Trude has ruled, are obscene.

He rendered his decision after his courtroom had been converted into a movie theater and two reels of the film figuring in the litigation had been viewed by an audience of some 40 persons.

The pictures were taken in the Zoro Nature park near Roselawn, Ind., by Stephen P. Holish of Chicago. He shipped them to the Eastman Kodak company at Rochester, N. Y., for development. The firm declined to return them. Holish filed suit for their recovery.

The Darkest One

"You can always pick me out," remarked sun-bronzed Alois Knapp, owner of the nature park and counsel for the plaintiff. "I'm the darkest one in the pictures."

"The less clothing, the better morals," he argued. "The 18th century French court was one of the most immoral places in history. In those days women wore eight petticoats and men wore leather underwear."

More Rain Is Said Needed For Wheat, Rail Official Reports

Wheat sections of the South Plains along the Fort Worth and Denver, particularly west and northwest of Plainview, are in need of rain to bring up listed wheat, E. C. Kuykendall, Plainview, general agent of the F. W. D. S., said here Friday. He came down from Plainview and reported showers as far north as near Hale Center and a good rain from Monroe, south.

Volunteer wheat is coming up and farmers are killing it out, preparatory to planting wheat. There likely will be a larger acreage planted this fall in the Panhandle than last year.

"Farmers will need more rain to get up their wheat for good pastures," he said. "I believe if we get some soon that we will have good, early pastures."

Row crops are in fair condition. Cotton is good, what there is of it, but the counties through which the road traverses are not large cotton producing counties, Mr. Kuykendall added.

A new industry, mining and refining of Fuller's earth, near Silverton, is starting.

Split On Ethiopian Problem In League Session Looming

GENEVA, Sept. 19. (AP)—Large and small countries in the League of Nations threatened to split today over the question of admitting Ethiopian delegates to a league assembly session Monday.

The league council, which met in preliminary discussion yesterday, tentatively approved a proposal to welcome Italian diplomats but to shut the door in the face of Emperor Haile Selassie's representatives.

(Italy, seeking to have Ethiopia's league membership cancelled because Ethiopia is no longer a "self-governing" country since annexation by the Rome government, has declared she will hold her diplomats at home rather than have them seated at the same table with the Ethiopians)

Tech Opens Grid Season With 26-7 Victory Over T.W.C.

Jim Neill Steals Show As Stadium Is Baptized Here

Matadors Maddened By Scoring Thrust Made By Invaders In Initial Period And Steady To Show 4,500 Fans Offense That Clicks For 26 To 7 Win; TCU Cocah Impressed

STUNG by Texas Wesleyan college's touchdown march in the opening stanza, Texas Tech's big-red football chorus settled down to a steady offensive beat to tie and overcome the visitors' noise in the first quarter and go on from there to outregister the Rams from Fort Worth, 26 to 7, in the opening game of the collegiate pigskin season here last night.

An estimated crowd of 4,500 fans braved threatening weather and gazed through intermittent mists as Pete Cawthon's 1936 varsity displayed an offense and defense in which the rugged schedule seems fairly safe.

The customers occupied only two small spots in the center sections of Texas Tech's new 15,000 capacity horseshoe stadium, in which the Red Raiders appeared for the first time.

JIM NEILL

Led by big Jim Neill, senior halfback, the Red Raiders spurted in the first, second and last quarters, cruising along in the third, to make a definitely favorable impression on the local fans and visiting scouts.

Coach Dutch Meyer of Texas Christian university, whose Horned Frogs Texas Tech takes on in the home season feature next Saturday night, sat glued to his chair and with field glasses on his nose. When the game was over, he was visibly worried. "Looks like a fine team Pete has this year," he announced. "It also looks like a tough week for my Frogs."

Neill, who looks better in practice sessions than any backfield man but who heretofore has not shown so well under fire, buckled down last night and played one of the best games of his career, passing, kicking and carrying the ball like a true triple-threater.

Going in with the No. 1 lineup early in the game, only to see the Rams score a touchdown on the first play after the wholesale substitution, Neill flashed high in the Tech backfield, sent a bullet pass to Red Ramsey, end, for a 27-yard gain, carried the ball twice for 7 yards, then rifled a pass to J. W. West, the other end, for 22 yards and a first down on the Ram 6-yard line. He took the ball on a fake pass, then rammed the center of the line and came out on the other side of the goal line.

Cotton Neely, sophomore quarterback, dashed into the lineup and kicked the extra point to tie the score.

Shock Troops Start

Cawthon started his shock troops, according to custom, and the Rams, not without offensive resources themselves, started goalward from their own 29-yard line after stopping the charge of Charley Duval, Ed Smith, Maurice Chernosky and their shock troop assistants. Reese ran 10 yards, Splawn made 13, and a Tech penalty from that point gave TWC the ball on Tech's 33. Splawn ran 13 yards, and Cawthon sent in eleven new men, his regulars. This did not stop the Rams, who handed the ball to Reese on the 20-yard line. Reese started one way, ran the other, and was over the goal line before the Techs could collect themselves. Isbell converted with a perfect place kick.

Then came Neill's passes leading to his touchdown.

After stopping the Rams' running attack in midfield, and after Neill had choked off an aerial threat by intercepting a pass, the Raiders drove and passed to another touchdown before the opening quarter ended.

Chapman Scores

Miles Chapman, playing the other halfback position, alternated with Neill in carrying the mail, and they made 20 yards. Neill flipped a spot pass which Captain Demp Cannon gathered in, then Neill stepped through left tackle for 11 yards, made seven more on a line play but Tech drew a 15-yard penalty. Neill passed to George Winters for 12 yards, then Winters made it first down on the Ram 4-yard line on a run. Chapman and Cannon alternated then, Chapman going over from the 1-yard line for what proved to be the winning touchdown. Greene rushed in to kick goal, but missed.

A spectacular play opened the second period, again featuring Neill. Backed up to their 1-yard line when the Rams killed a 78-yard punt there, the Raiders were on dangerous ground, but instead of kicking, Neill shot a pass safely into the arms of J. W. West, who was downed on the 20-yard line. Winters carried the ball twice for 11 yards. Running plays gained 8 more, and Neill flipped a short bullet to Cannon for a first down on his 46. The Rams held there, a pass was incomplete and Neill kicked out of bounds on the Ram 13-yard line. Red Ramsey rushed through to throw Splawn for a 7-yard loss, and again to toss Reese for a 4-yard loss. Thus backed up, the Rams kicked out. Cannon returning it 5 yards to the TWC 40. Neill passed to West for 12 yards after a double 15-yard penalty, and Baze, who played a fine blocking game, made it first down on the Ram 19. Neill ran with it to the 7, Baze carried it to the 1-yard line in two plays, and Winters went over for the touchdown.

Hemsel Kicks Goal

Chester Hemsel, a newcomer to the varsity, transfer from Wesley college, kicked goal for the extra point.

West's 16-yard run on a lateral pass play, similar to the old end around play, was Tech's outstanding offensive threat for the rest of the period, although Ramsey had done some fine defensive work.

The shock troopers went back in to play the third quarter, and Ed Smith was the offensive star, with Charley Duval doing his bit at quarterbacking and at blocking. There was no scoring, the shockers by this time catching on to the Ram offensive and holding it to one first down.

The quarter was enlivened, however, by brief fisticuffs between Newton Hayes, Ram guard, and Frank Guzick, Tech center. They fell out over something and started swinging. No damage was done before officials separated them and sent them scurrying to their respective benches. There was no penalty.

Chernosky Is Hurt

Halfback Maurice Chernosky, who played a good game as long as he lasted, was carried from the field and lifted into an ambulance early in the fourth period. From the hospital it was reported late last night that his nose had been broken and that a fracture was probable.

Neill went back with the regulars in the fourth quarter and the fireworks started again. Winters intercepted a Ram pass on the Tech 20, returned it to the 34, but a 15-yard penalty for holding nullified the effort. Texas Wesleyan drew a similar penalty, however, after one play, and Neill took heart, carried the ball 6 yards, then flipped a sweet pass which West jumped for and grabbed while in the midst of four Ram defenders. He came down with it on the Ram 33-yard line. Baze made it first down with a 11-yard gain through center, and grabbed it again for 12 yards, to the Ram 11-yard line. Neill slipped through, stiff-armed two would-be tacklers and finally was stopped on the 1-yard line. George Winters, fitting in nicely in his new halfback position, rammed it over for the final touchdown. A pass for extra point fell incomplete.

Line play of Line Captain Louis Jones, guard, of Tackle Bull Katrola, and of Ends West and Ramsey was something to shout about, although it is doubtful if Cawthon and Smith will do any great shouting until next Saturday night's game is in the pages of history.

Owls Wallop Javelinas In 33-0 Display

Rice Powerhouses To Victory An Impressive Style Against A&I; Kittsmen Score Almost At Will; Defense Strong

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Sept. 19. (AP)—The Rice Owls, playing their first game of the season, powerhoused to a 33 to 0 victory over the Texas Arts and Industries Javelinas of Kingsville here this afternoon before a crowd of 4,000 which sweltered under a blazing South Texas sun.

It was Rice's game all the way, from the time they marched straight to an initial touchdown after the opening kickoff. The Javelinas threatened only once, late in the fourth quarter when Lindell Ramey, center, intercepted an Owl pass and ran 40 yards before he was downed on the Rice 15. But the Hogs could go no farther in their succeeding series of plays.

Owls Waste No Time

Rice went straight from its own nine-yard line to the first touchdown, Priedman, fullback, skirting right end for the counter. The extra point was added by Scheuhle, quarterback. The Javelinas elected to kick and the Owls marched right to another score, made when Royall, left half, plunged over from the one-yard line. Friedman place kicked the extra point.

Another touchdown came in the second period when Sullivan, reserve back, went around right end from the five-yard marker, but Daugherty's attempt to place kick the extra point was blocked.

Rice's final two counters were made in the fourth quarter. Cogdell accounted for the first when he went over from the three-yard line, and Paprker, reserve back, plunged from the one-yard for the next. Owen made the extra point after this score from placement.

"Cup Of Americas" Matches To Start

NEW YORK, Sept. 19. (AP)—The United States Polo association announced today that the first game of the series for the "Cup of the Americas" between the United States and Argentina definitely would be played tomorrow at 3 p. m. (eastern standard).

International field, Meadow Brook, still was soggy as a result of last night's torrential rains but officials said it was drying out rapidly and would be in perfect condition by tomorrow.

Grid Whistles Thrill Crowds Over Country

South And Southwest Warm Up With Breathers Against Small Schools; Coaches Use Most Of Their Hopefuls

NEW YORK, Sept. 19. (AP)—The opening whistle sounded for the 1936 football season today after a few minor preliminary skirmishes Friday night and such "big" teams as began their campaign ahead of the crowd performed successfully their tasks of "tuning up.".

Only in the South and southwest were any of the major gridiron powers listed to play and the high powered conference teams came through comfortably against their lesser rivals.

Near Upset Staged

The East's biggest game brought the nearest thing to an upset when a veteran outfit from Waynesburg held the West Virginia Mountaineers to a 7-0 victory.

The two Southern conference teams to lead the rest of the circuit into action, Kentucky and Mississippi, rolled up a pair of the largest scores. Kentucky's Wildcats downed their traditional opening game rival, Maryville, 54 to 3 while Ole Miss rolled up a 45-0 count against Union University of Tennessee.

Southern Gets Started

In the Southern conference, South Carolina rolled over Erskine 38-0 and the Citadel, playing its first game as a conference member, trounced Newberry 33-0. Scores of other games were smaller, due in some cases at least to the coaches efforts to get a line on their new players.

Clemson won from Presbyterian 19-0 and Virginia Military defeated Wofford by the same score. Hunk Anderson's North Carolina State Wolfpack collected only two touchdowns from little Elon, winning 12-0. The Virginia Tech Gobblers had an equally stiff struggle with Roanoke, pulling out a 16 to 7 decision.

In the southwest, Rice Institute helped pry the lid off the season for conference teams by ripping through Texas A. and I. 33 to 0.

Houston Entry Takes Opener In Texas Semi-Pro Series, 6-3

DALLAS, Sept. 19. (AP)—Houston power and light, amateur baseball champion of South Texas, captured the opening game of the state championship series here today with a 6 to 3 victory over the Pabst Blue Ribbon nine, Dallas and North Texas champions.

The series will be concluded Sunday with a doubleheader, if necessary.

Eleven Thousand See Barons Even Southern Series, 6-3

BIRMINGHAM, Sept. 19. (AP) — Clyde Shoun pitched the Barons to a dramatic 3 to 2 victory over the Nashville Vols here tonight before 11,120 fans to even the Shaughnessy playoff series at two games each.

Villainous Ones Take Rear Berths On Wednesday Night Grappling Card

Villains have been chased into the "lower bracket" of this week's wrestling card, and Promoter Sled Allen will pit Herb Parks of Seattle and Dory Detton of Salt Lake City in Wednesday night's main go.

The semi-final and the preliminary will bring up the rowdyism percentage, however, since Gene La Belle of Canada and Danny McShain of anywhere will strip for suspected questionable action.

La Belle will meet Bob Cummings of California, a rangy sort of mat denizen, in the semi-final and McShain will exercise his resourceful trickery against the legs of Yaqui Joe, Chihuahua Indian.

Detton's match with Parks assumes additional importance because of Parks' recent battering of Sailor Tex Watkins, one of the knottiest performers on the grappling circuit. Parks won handily against a man who is feared and respected by the best—and that over the handicap of the poorest sort of officiating.

Both Detton and Parks are clean and scientific, wrestling because they like it. The match will be a welcomed diversion from recent eye-gouging, knife-toting main events.

Fischer Takes Amateur Title In Big Finish

With Only Eight Holes To Go And With Handicap Of Game Ankle And In Arrears Three Holes, He Settles Down

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Sept. 19.—John William Fischer, 24-year-old law student at the University of Cincinnati, overcame the handicap of a sprained left ankle and a three-hole deficit, with only eight holes to go, to snatch the United States amateur golf championship today from the grasp of Scotland's Jack McLean.

Just when it looked as if the tall American Walker cup star had blown his best chances to overhaul the Scot in one of the most erratic title matches ever played, Fischer shot three straight birdies to turn the tables. He saved the 35th with a sub-par four, squared the match on the 36th with a 10-foot putt for a deuce, then captured the 37th and first extra hole by dropping a 20-foot putt for a birdie three.

HERE'S WHAT JOHNNY DID
GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Sept. 19. (AP)—Here's how Johnny Fischer won the U. S. amateur golf championship:
Defeated Eddie Meister, Cleveland, 4 and 3; Carlin Short, Akron, 3 and 4; Chick Evans, Chicago, 3 and 2; William Bressell, Detroit, 3 and 2; Gus Moreland, Peoria, Ill., one up; Russell Martin, Chicago, 4 and 4; John Goodman, Omaha, 2 and 1; Jack McLean, Scotland, one up 37 holes.

This sudden and sensational finish by the homebred hope thrilled a gallery of 2,500 spectators, turned back the strongest British bid for the title in 25 years, and ended a tournament that was almost wrecked by a terrific wind and rain storm during the semi-finals.

A warm sun shone from cloudless skies, after a gale that left the press tent demolished and the course well strewn with debris.

McLean lost his otherwise gallant bid for the crown vacated by Lawson Little as a result of one of the severest cases of putting "jitters" ever seen in a championship match. The 25-year-old Glasgow whisky salesman looked to have everything under control, including his rival, until an incident on the fifth green of the afternoon round—the 23rd hole of the match—so disturbed him that he went to pieces on the greens.

McLean was upset by the noise of motion picture cameras on the 23rd, just as he was about to try a 16-foot putt. He stepped back, asked the cameramen to stop and a nearby policeman to see that they did so. He then missed the putt by a considerable margin, walked to the next tee saying things under his breath.

PRIVILEGED WINS STAKES

NEW YORK, Sept. 19. (AP)—Two of the American turf's oldest stakes went to outsiders today as Privileged, a two-year old from Warren Wright's Calumet Farm, won the 66th Champagne Stakes, and A. A. Baroni's Goldeneye whipped six other three-year olds in the 67th running of the Jerome Handicap at Belmont Park.

Qualifying Rounds Of Country Club Championship Golf Tourney Starts

Qualifying rounds for Lubbock Country club's annual golf championship tournament will get under way on the new grass layouts this morning.

John Edmisson, recently named court reporter of the 106th judicial district, will not be here to defend his title, it was announced.

Edmisson took his title over a big field. Competition this year is expected to be even tougher, because of whetted interest since installation of the new grass greens.

Qualifying will continue through Tuesday. Match play will be initiated Wednesday and be completed the following Sunday, said Cotton McAfee, club manager.

All members of Country club are eligible to compete in the tournament, said McAfee, and as many flights will be formed as entries may necessitate.

Westerners Open Season With 33-12 Win Over El Paso

Harold Ingley Gives Lubbock Football Hope

Fleet Halfback Runs, Twists For Long Distance Runs In Opener At Tech Field; His Mates Hang Tight

By COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche-Journal Sports Editor

HAROLD INGLEY, a sprinting, side-stepping, stiff-arming piece of machinery, pulled back the throttle and whistled down the football lanes yesterday, leading the Lubbock High Westerners to a somewhat surprising but altogether pleasing 33 to 12 victory over the brown Tigers from El Paso High school.

He had a lot of help from a gang of business-like linemen and backs, but once past the line of scrimmage young Mr. Ingley, who earned his first football letter last year, was long gone. He made the assembly of 2,000 spectators, huddled in a small portion of Texas Tech's new 15,000 capacity horseshoe stadium, remember another fleet-footed, snake-hipped ball toter, Morris White, as he wiggled and dashed for long gainers and touchdowns.

Westerners Take Hint

The game was barely under way before Ingley took the ball for Lubbock's first offensive play. He was downed after a 15-yard run. Two downs later he had passed midfield from Lubbock's 25-yard line, had crossed El Paso's 40, and was forced out on the 36. Momentarily the Westerners defense bogged down, but after an exchange of punts Ingley was gone again. He took Webb's punt on the Lubbock 30, and didn't stop until he was over the El Paso line.

That set off the spark, and there was no holding the Westerners. They struck again a few plays later, this time through the air, with Captain C. L. Storrs chunking accurately to Ralph Letsinger, ends for 16 yards followed by Earl Ince's 19-yard peg to Letsinger over the goal line.

Meet Passing Attack

Ingley was handcuffed in the second quarter by a vicious band of brown men, who did a little going to town on their own account. This period disclosed one of the best schoolboy passers seen here in a long time. He is Wolverton, and he plays left halfback and he's captain of the Tiger team, and he can pass that ball. He can pass to any point on the field up to and including 40 yards. He let go with a heave like that and quarterback Webb caught it, ran the remaining 25 yards for a touchdown, making the score 14 to 6, Lubbock, at halftime.

Lubbock got the six points back in the early finutes of the second half, Firman Williamson intercepting a pass in midfield and returning it to the 30. Co-Captain C. L. Storrs, who played a great fullback game for the Westerners, slashed and fell for 9 yards, then three more and a first down. A pass over the line was incomplete, but Ince threw another that was complete, Letsinger shagging it on the line. Ritchie's kick was low.

Wolverton Also Runs

Wolverton showed his heels to the Lubbock tribe late in the period after Webb had sprinted for 20 yards to his own 42. Two ground plays netted four more, and Wolverton got away, eluding three tacklers and outrunning the field for 54 yards and a touch. He attempted to carry the ball for conversion, but was downed.

That spiked the El Paso scoring guns, but did not halt the passing attack, which broke loose in the fourth period in a definite threat. With Wolverton heaving 'em and Webb, Munoz and Vega tucking them in, the Tigers advanced to Lubbock's 13-yard line before Storrs dropped back an intercepte one of the heaves. He carried it out to the 28, and Mr. Ingley went into action again. He slipped and slithered through the line on a reverse, and took off. He was never headed. Ritchie kicked a perfect goal for the 33rd point after missing one early in the quarter.

In Trouble Again

Backed up by a long punt early in the fourth, El Paso kicked out to the 40, Ingley returned it 15 yards, divided time with Storrs to take it to El Paso's 15. Storrs flipped a pass to Letsinger who was brought down inches away from the goal. It was a simple matter for Storrs to plunge through for a counter.

The playing of Letsinger, especially his pass taking; of Co-Captain Piercey at guard, Simmons and Ritchie at tackles, Nabors at center showed up well, although the Lubbock defense showed weaknesses at times. Blocking was fair. Chapman used a string of substitutes in each half, sending in virtually a new team in the final period.

Matador Defeats Crowell By 13-0

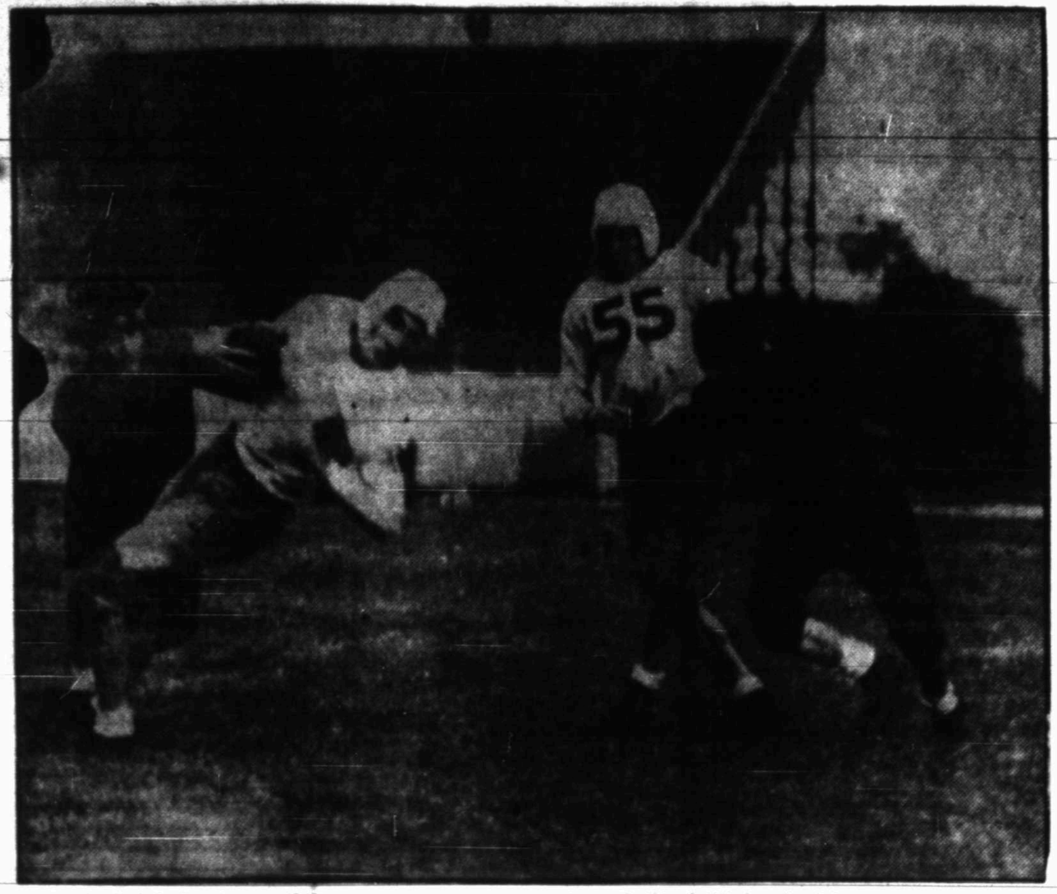
MATADOR, Sept. 19.—L. C. Groves led the Matador high school eleven to a 13 to 0 victory over the Crowell high team here today.

Twice, once in the first quarter and again in the second period, Groves raced around the Crowell right end to score touchdowns. In the first quarter, the big fullback galloped 20 yards to score, and in the next chucker he went around for 15 yards.

Scaff, quarterback, kicked the first extra point. The second try was partially blocked. Matador led in first downs, 8 to 1.

Crowell never threatened the Matador pay line. Its club advanced once to the locals 24 yard line.

When Lubbock's Westerners 'Let Letsinger Do It'!



Here's Ralph Letsinger, (left center) star right end of the Lubbock High school Westerners, making the team's third touchdown of the day—and his second—yesterday afternoon when the locals routed the El Paso High school Tigers, 33 to 12. His marker, shown above, was made as a result of an 11-yard pass from Quarterback Earl Ince.

Indians Beat Steers To Square Shaughnessy Play As Houston Drubs Tulsa

Oklahomans Send To Showers Array Of Dallas Hurlers

BY AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 19.—Oklahoma City's Indians stopped the Dallas Steers 12 to 6 tonight to square the semi-final series at one-all in the Shaughnessy playoff for the Texas league championship.

Four thousand fans watched the 1935 champions, who were walloped 10 to 2 by the Steers in the series opener last Tuesday, come back and batter four Dallas hurlers for 15 hits and score in every inning except two.

Play At Dallas Today

The two clubs jump to Dallas to continue the series there in a game scheduled to start at 3 p. m. Sunday.

The Indians piled up five run lead in the first three frames only to see the Steers tie the count in the first of the fifth with a five hit assault which sent the pitchers to the showers.

Two walks with the sacks loaded helped the Indians forge ahead with three runs on a single hit in the last half of the fifth.

The Indians added one in the sixth and three more in the seventh.

California Is Coast Threat

Coach Stub Allison Pins Hope On Powerful Bear Forwards; Fans Expect Veterans Will Go To Rose Bowl

BY RUSS NEWLAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

BERKLEY, Calif., Sept. 19.—From the finest talent assembled in many years, University of California is building a 1936 football team which some followers believe is due to renew Rose Bowl contacts not enjoyed since 1929.

The manpower at the beck and call of Coach Leonard "Stub" Allison is of such quantity, as well as quality, the overflow after the final 47-man varsity squad has been selected would gladden the heart of many a mentor operating under less favorable circumstances.

Backs run five and six deep in a range from the race horse type to line crashers of first rating. The only problem in the line is to sift out the four best men for each position.

Herwig Coast's Best Center

The line will average over 190 pounds to the man. Opposition trying to go down the middle will meet Bob Herwig, a 210-pounder from Pomona whom many ranked last season as the Coast's best center.

Ball carrying duties will fall mainly to Floyd Blower, a Santa Ana triple-threater, and to George Cornell, a Berkeley boy rated at this time by Coach Allison as the best back on the field.

They are standouts.

Should Have Good Team

Allison, who led the Bears into a triple tie for the Coast Conference title last year, makes no committments but concedes "California should have a good team."

The schedule:

Sept. 26—California, Aggies and College of The Pacific (Double header); Oct. 3—St. Mary's; Oct. 10—Oregon State at Corvallis; Oct. 17—U. C. L. A. Oct. 31—Washington at Seattle Oct. 31—Washington State; Nov. 7—Southern California at Los Angeles. Nov. 14—Oregon; Nov. 21 — Stanford; Dec. 26 — Georgia Tech at Atlanta.

Carle Mays, New York Yankee "submarine ball" pitcher of a decade ago, has received a lifetime pass to American and National league games. He now lives in Portland, Ore.

Boy Marksman Is Winner In National Meet

Richard Shaughnessy, 14, Is Able To Outshoot Veterans Of Skeet; Wins All-Gauge Trophy At St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 19. (AP)—A 14-year-old boy, handling a gun almost as tall as himself, outshot some of the nation's leading marksmen to win the all-gauge championship of the national skeet tournament today.

Arkansas University's Gloom Gone; Coach Fred Thomsen Admits He Has Prospects For Winning Grid Season

(By The Associated Press)

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Sept. 19. — Gloomy Fred Thomsen, University of Arkansas head coach, gives way to a great surge of optimism, bundles up four big "ifs" and admits prospects are brighter for his Razorbacks this grid season.

"With the material I have on hand," said Thomsen, begining his eighth year as Porker mentor, "Arkansas should be much stronger than last year. Malaria has slowed down some of the boys and it may affect the smoothness of the team, but the squad certainly has surprised me."

Impressive Last Year

The Porkers, impressive last year in defeat by never losing by more than a single touchdown, will start a line that averages 192 pounds and backfield at 170—with passing their chief scoring weapon.

Thomsen's "ifs" include:

If a good blocking back can be found to replace Capt. Choice Rucker, things will run smoother.

If a fullback can be developed by start of the conference season, the Razorbacks will be safer.

If the tackles round into shape in scrimmage and warm-up games, the team will be much stronger than last year.

Lettermen Well Bolstered

And, if the punting improves, "things will be rosy."

Fourteen letter veterans and a crack bunch of sophomres form the nucleus of Thomsen's squad. Four ends, all six feet, two inches tall, are down for a big season of pass snagging with the Porker's prize "gunman," Jack Robbins, firing the passes.

Into the suits of Ends Jim Lee Howell and H. L. (Ike) Poole, great ends of last year, will go Jim Benton, 185, and Billy Hunter, 185. Sorrell topped Ray Hamilton, 192, will come in for his share of the work.

The curtain of doubt hangs heavily over the tackles with Capt. Cliff van Sickle threatened with appendicitis. Raymond Spillers, letterman, and three sophomores, Ed Lalman, 215; Bob Stout, 220, and Lunday Corbett, 295, are tackle mainstays.

Big Men Predominate

George Washington Gilmore, 190 pounder, will be a tough man to cover at one guard post while Percy Sanders, towering 195 pounder and a junior college transfer, will handle the other.

Big Ken Lunday, 196 pound champion hog-caller and center, will be back to divide pivot duties with John Donaldson, 175, another letterman. A sophomore, Lloyd Woodell, 180, will force the veterans to work for their jobs.

Thomsen is relying on several speedy backs to take up Rucker's blocking duties. Vann Brown, 170; Jack Holt, shifty 190 pounder; Allen Keen, 165; Bobbie Martin, twisting, 256 pounder; Ralph Rawlings, 150, and Dwight Sloan, who saw some service last year, are backfield standouts.

On Robbins Rests Hopes

But Thomsen is placing his hopes in the junior triple-threater, Jack Robbins, last season one of the conference's brightest stars. Feared by coaches throughout the conference, Robbins shines at running, passing, kicking and defensive work.

Jack Holt, another brilliant punter and line plunger, should hold down the fullback post, giving Thomsen a starting backfied of Robbins, Keen, Holt and Martin.

"Of course," warned Thomsen, "we can't tell just what the team will do—but look out for our passing attack."

Silver Anniversary Of Town And Weekly Newspaper Will Be Celebrated At Big Program On Friday

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

RALLS, Sept. 19.—The Silver anniversary of the City of Ralls and the Ralls Banner, its weekly newspaper, will be celebrated here Friday with a full day's program.

A free barbecue will feature the observance, to which citizens of the South Plains have been invited.

Founded 25 Years Ago

Both Ralls and The Banner were founded 25 years ago. The city was organized Sept. 11, 1911 and The Banner followed on Oct. 5.

More than 3,000 persons are expected for the barbecue which will be started at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Johnny Parker, East Plains old-timer, will superintend the cooking of the beef.

Also to be featured on the program will be a football game between the Matador and Ralls High school football teams. The Ralls athletic field, on which floodlights are being erected, formally will be dedicated as the Jackrabbit field.

Parade Scheduled

Earlier in the day a parade of school children from the Ralls Independent school district, led by the first class to graduate from the school here, will begin the formal program.

Exhibits Being Arranged

Several vocational agricultural exhibits are being arranged early in the agricultural building. Merchants are erecting booths in the industrial exhibit building for mounting their displays this week. Lumber is beginning to pile upon the grounds for conversion into hot dog and other stands on the midway.

New fencing, 2,500 feet of [illegible]-proof material, 1,750 feet of boards nine feet high, one hundred [illegible] feet of gauze wire and [illegible] pole, has necessitated closing a west entrance formerly in use. The only public entrance this year will be the main gate on the south boundary and no cars will be permitted to park inside the grounds since all available space will be taken by the carnival, outdoor exhibits and concession stands, Mr. Davis said.

Racing Details Worked Out

Details and tentative arrangements for conducting 3 horse races daily during the fair were announced yesterday following a meeting of a racing committee. W. F. Hudman, chairman; [illegible] D. Peters, vice-chairman; J. N. Mullins and Glenn Burson, other members, and J. H. Brock, secretary, attended.

Events were tentatively scheduled as a one mile race, $100 purse; a one-half mile race, $75; a one-quarter mile race, $50, for race horses only; a one-quarter mile race, $25, for cow and saddle horses only, and a kiddie race, $10 purse, with children ponies and riders only.

A capacity list of entries is being reported in all departments, exhibits association officials said. Twenty-one vocational agriculture, 12 county and representative exhibits from Lubbock county communities have been secured.

All exhibits, horse races and other grandstand attractions will be free to the public after entrance admission to the grounds is paid.

Although all exhibits must be on the grounds Monday morning Sept. 28 at 9 a. m., with the exception of those in two divisions, entry dates in 18 departments [illegible] up to closing time. Exhibitors were cautioned by superintendents to abide by catalogue rules.

Enrollment At Tech Is 2,624

A total of 2,624 students have been enrolled for the fall semester at Texas Technological college in the last five days and more students are expected to enroll Monday than on any day since the two official registration days.

Many students were expected to arrive over the week-end and to enroll Monday. Rainy weather kept some students away the latter part of the week.

Classes began Thursday, following two official enrollment days.

Only 124 students must enroll before the figure will reach that of both semesters of the last long session. The number now enrolled exceeds the largest number enrolled in any former semester by 183 students.

Registration will be conducted 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Students are to begin registration in the office of the registrar on the first floor of the administration building.

American Newspapermen In Spain Reported To Be Safe

NEW YORK, Sept. 19. (AP)—H. R. Knickerbocker, an American newspaper correspondent in Spain, was reported safe today by his home office here, International News Service, after having been out of communication for four days.

Knickerbocker's failure to file from the Spanish war front for three days caused his employers to believe that he might have been arrested.

The correspondent explained from Cazeigas, Spain, that he had been travelling from Burgos toward Toledo and was without communication facilities.

John Whitaker, New York Tribune correspondent, also communicated with his newspaper today, denying that he had been arrested and held by rebels.

State Liquor Officer Faces Charges In Woman's Slaying

CINCINNATI, Sept. 18. (AP) — Detective Lieut. George Schattle signed a warrant today charging Almon Bogardus, head of the Cincinnati office of the state liquor enforcement division, with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Mrs. Ernestine Roebuck Montgomery, 34.

Lieutenant Schattle said the warrant was based on new information obtained since Mrs. Montgomery died late yesterday of bullet wounds, 24 hours after signing a statement saying she was shot by Bogardus. Bogardus insisted the woman shot herself in his room in a downtown hotel.

Treaty With Mexico On Rio Grande Waters To Be Talked

AUSTIN, Sept. 19. (AP) — E. A. Wood, director of the planning board, and C. S. Clark, chairman of the board of water engineers, will go to Washington soon to discuss with officials a treaty with Mexico over waters of the Rio Grande.

Frank Robertson of San Benito will accompany Wood and Clark as a representative of lower Rio Grande valley irrigation interests. They probably will interview Vice-President Garner and Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Attorney General William McCraw recently conferred with officials in Mexico City on the problem.

Three Charged In Burglary

Men From Oklahoma Arrested And Held For Taking $12 From Office Of Sinclair Company In City

Burglary charges growing out of entry and sacking of Sinclair Refining company office about midnight Thursday early Saturday night were filed in the court of Justice of the Peace J. T. Trigg against three Oklahoma men, Ballard Waller, 26, Kenneth Jackson, 24, and Dan Stewart, 19.

Complaints were sworn to by Sam W. Fort, police identifications officer, who with Brooks Penney, City patrolman, arrested the men within an hour after the Sinclair office safe had been robbed of approximately $12. Deputy Sheriff Grady Harrist and Policemen George Stringer and Bill Mabray were active in the investigation.

Held without charge is a pretty blonde who said she is Jackson's wife. She said she is 17 years old, and that she had been married to Jackson approximately a year.

Arrested In Other Case

The officers, at the time not having heard of the Sinclair job, arrested the Oklahomans for investigation into burglary Wednesday night of the Auditorium and the taking of $15 in merchandise.

In both jobs, knobs of safes had been knocked. A pin had been used on the Sinclair safe, the lock being jarred loose. The Auditorium safe had not been entered.

Bank Notes Identified

Fort and Penney, suspicious of the men's actions, saw them walking in the shadows an enter a cafe in 1200-block Main street. Waiting outside, they nabbed the men when they left the place. None was armed. Each, however, had bank notes identified as belonging to the Sinclair office, said Fort. Several of the notes were stained badly and easy of identification.

Fort said Jackson, who claimed he was a son of an Oklahoma state police officer and who gave Seminole for his home, had $9.70 in his pockets; Waller, whose home is Davidson, $3.75, and Stewart, of Oklahoma City, $3.88.

All the men wore gloves when arrested, two of them canvas the other leather gloves. Imprint of canvas gloves was found by Fort on Sled Allens' Auditorium safe, and there was "no question" about gloves having been used in the Sinclair job, he said. It appeared to Fort leather gloves had been used there, he said.

Fort said Jackson and his wife were at liberty under bond on an Oklahoma grand jury larceny charge and that an alleged accomplice is in an Oklahoma City jail now in lieu of bond.

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 19. (AP)—Bulls turned up in larger numbers on the stock market scene today and bought shares throughout the list with a vigor which imparted an autumn snap to advancing prices.

Trading broadened out into the fastest turnover for a two-hour market Wall street has seen since early last April. Transactions on the stock exchange totaled 697,300 shares compared with 494,700 a week ago.

A fresh upturn in corporate bonds, which had impressed many by its recent advance in face of an apathetic share market, gave heart to those who leaned toward the buying side of stocks. Leading commodities, on the other hand, were wobbly, with recent rains in western drouth areas bolstering the belief the summer bulge in farm prices may have lost most of its force, at least temporarily.

The Associated Press average for 60 stocks closed .5 of a point higher at 68.4 after regaining this week about half the ground lost on the preceding decline.

Steels, rails, merchandise and miscellaneous industrial shares were in the van of the rise.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 19. (AP)—Cotton sold off around 50 cents a bale in the week-end session today. Persistent hedge selling uncovered a light buying demand. Professional purchasing was absent.

Prices opened at the highs for the day and closed at the lows. Oct. finished at 11.83 bid, Dec. at 11.87, Jan. at 11.86 bid and May at 11.96. Middling spots at New Orleans lost 13 points to 12.25.

The week ended with the movement of new crop cotton reaching toward its season's peak and prices maintaining a steady front. As one spot firm pointed out, the December position at New Orleans closed at 11.96 during the consecutive sessions.

Spot sales at southern markets hit a new peak for the season today with a total of 83,143 bales, Memphis alone reported sales of 43,773 bales.

A good appraisal on what recent rains have meant to Texas was included today in the Dallas News weekly report on the cotton crop. This authority stated that the showers, while breaking a two-month drouth in many portions, came too late to benefit cotton to any important degree. No chance for a marked increase in the yield for the state was seen by the news report.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 19. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 12 cents a pound.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 19. (AP)—Cotton made new low ground for the present movement today under continued hedging which was absorbed by trade buying on a scale-down.

December sold off to 11.90 and closed at that figure, with the general market showing net declines of 8 to 13 points.

Improved weather expected in the South was thought likely to speed up the new crop movement.

Harold Grein, of Stewartstown, Pa., young son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Emory Grein, grew a 31-ounce tomato with an 18-inch circumference in his FFA project garden.

Texans At Frisco For Sunday Game

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19. (AP)—Football nomads from St. Mary's university of San Antonio and the University of San Francisco Dons will raise the curtain on collegiate pigskin competition in this section in a game here tomorrow expected to attract more than 15,000 fans.

The touring Texans arrived after a six-day 2,000-mile trip by motor bus. After their initial workout yesterday, Coach "Spud" Lewis of San Francisco conceded "the first fall" to Coach Frank Bridges of St. Mary's.

"Bridges is a pretty shrewd worker," said Lewis. "He sent a box of equipment by express addressed to our school. The shoes and no cleats and the uniforms were torn and looked like they had been used for years. Our players got a big laugh out of the junk and decided it would be an easy matter to trim a team which owned such stuff. The result was a mental let down. Now we found out they brought their regular equipment with them in the bus."

St. Mary's College Rattlers Arrive For San Francisco Tilt

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19. (AP)—Weighted down by two of the heaviest linemen ever to rumble over a San Francisco gridiron, the St. Mary's college football squad of San Antonio shook off the dust of a 2,000-mile journey Friday in initial practice here for the game with University of San Francisco, Sunday.

"Puny" Smith, 283-pound regular left tackle, and "Tiny" Standifer, 303-pound substitute for whom special uniforms are tailored, were conspicuous among the Texas delegation.

The six-day trip was made in the school's motor bus.

Epsom Downs Sponsors Race For Cowhands During Meet

HOUSTON, Sept. 19. (AP)—Ranch horses ridden by cowhands will race at the Epsom Downs fall meeting, which opens next Thursday.

The ranch horse contest will be an inter-county affair for the 80 counties within a radius of 200 miles of Houston. Each county will nominate a horse to run in a series of four races.

The only provisions as to the eligibility of a horse is that it must be from the ranch remuda and not a "Sunday" horse kept for racing and exhibition purposes.

Homer Norton's Aggie "A's" Run Over B Squad, 35 To 0

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 19. (AP) The Aggie "A" squad romped to a 35 to 0 victory here today over the "B" team as Coach Homer Norton varied the training grind with a practice game.

Bon Nesrsta and Wayland Manning, veteran ball toters, were outstanding. Joe Routt and Walt Phythian, guards, and Bill Stages, end, showed to advantage on the line.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Sept. 19. (AP)—Sensitive to enlarged estimates of world import requirements and to asserted widespread shortage of soil moisture in domestic wheat territory, wheat prices averaged higher today.

A leading trade authority's forecast of world import needs of wheat was hoisted 24,000,000 bushels, bringing the total to 40,000,000 bushels more than last week. Current also was a report by one of the country's foremost unofficial crop specialists that the United States is facing likelihood of another season of drouth in the great wheat belt of the Southwest and a situation equally serious in the northwest.

The outcome of negotiations for the purchase of nearly 20,000,000 bushels of wheat for Italy from Roumania was awaited with interest.

Chicago wheat futures closed firm at the same as yesterday's finish to ⅜ higher, Sept. 1.14⅝, Dec. 1.13@1.13⅛, May 1.12@1.12⅛, corn ¼ to 1 cent down, Sept. 1.15@1.15⅛, Dec. 95½@95⅝, May 90@90⅛, oats ¼ off to ⅜ up, Dec. 43, and rye unchanged to ⅛ advance. The result in provisions was 2 cents to 15 cents setback.

Provisions lacked support.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Sept. 19. (AP)—Demand for grain at Fort Worth continued good to the week-end.

Single Workouts Start For Steers

AUSTIN, Sept. 19. (AP)—The University of Texas football squad today romped through its last twice-a-day workouts. Classes start Monday and the Steers will practice only in the afternoon.

Although the Longhorns expect to depend mainly on the running of Hugh Wolfe, Bill Pitzer and Morris Sands behind the devastating blocking of Big Jay Arnold, Coach Chevigny is spending much time trying to develop a fair forward passer. So far Bill Forney, husky sophomore quarterback from Valparaiso, Ind., has looked best at the passing game.

John Peterson, lanky sophomore from Amarillo, may beat his heavier opponents out for a starting end position.

Lamesa's Tornadoes Seeking Games For Oct. 9, Nov. 20

LAMESA, Sept. 19. — Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes are seeking games with either class A or B teams, October 9 and November 20, Coach F. T. McCollum announced today.

The October date was left open when Midland cancelled an engagement with the Tornadoes to play a conference opponent, Kermit. The November date has been open since the schedule was arranged.

Officials of schools seeking a game on those dates are requested to get in touch with the Lamesa coach.

Son Of Author Dies In The Gas-Filled Kitchen Of Home

LARCHMONT, N. Y., Sept. 19. (AP) Burton Rascoe, jr., 22-year-old son of the author and literary critic died today in the gas-filled kitchen of his home here. Police Chief William Keresey said it was suicide.

An expressman smelled gas when he got no answer to his ring and notified police who broke into the house. All the jets in the stove were turned on. Near the body of the youth they found a note:

"I owe Frank Massey $4."

Woman Given Prison Term

Mrs. Reable Childs Is Found Guilty By Jury Of Slaying Husband; Lover Is To Face Trial On Monday

CARTHAGE, Sept. 19. (AP)—A district court jury this morning found Mrs. Reable Childs guilty of the rifle slaying of her crippled husband, Marlie Childs, last April 23. The conviction carried a 25-year penitentiary sentence.

The case went to the jurors last night.

Man Faces Trial

Terrance Bramlett, admitted lover of Mrs. Childs and charged jointly in the slaying of Childs at the Childs' home in Center, will face trial Monday before Judge T. O. Davis.

District Attorney Wardlaw Lake charged in closing arguments that Mrs. Childs and Bramlett plotted the killing. He demanded the death penalty for the pretty 24-year-old widow.

Defense Attorney Ralph Bogard told the jury the evidence did not warrant a severe penalty. He claimed the state failed to prove the defendant conspired with Bramlett to kill her husband.

Forced Into Confession

The defense sought to show Mrs. Childs was forced into a confession by officers.

Dan Hines, former ranger, a state rebuttal witness, testified yesterday he did not administer rough treatment to Mrs. Childs or Bramlett before obtaining statements from them. Mrs. Childs testified she made a statement only after she was denied rest and food.

Childs, a former treasurer of Shelby county, was shot to death with a rifle in his home at Center.

Refused Her Motherhood

Mrs. Childs testified she and her husband had few common pleasures. She said he refused her motherhood and declined to give her a divorce.

On the night of the slaying she said she heard a noise after Childs went to the kitchen to take some medicine. He did not answer her call, she said, and, fearing someone else was in the house and would harm her if she investigated, she climbed out a window and ran screaming to the home of a neighbor.

Death Sentence Of Methvin Modified

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 19. (AP)—The criminal court of appeals has modified the death penalty for Henry Methvin, 23, to a life of imprisonment when it partially recognized assistance he gave authorities in the capture and slaying of the late Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker.

The court upheld Methvin's conviction in the slaying of Cal Campbell, Ottawa county constable. Campbell was slain and Percy Boyd, Commerce city marshal, was wounded when they tried to arrest Barrow, notorious gunman, and his cigar-smoking companion, Bonnie Parker.

Judge Thomas Doyle said there was adequate testimony to indicate that Methvin actually gave authorities at Castor, La., information on Barrow and the Parker woman "that led to their justifiable killing by officers of the law." Judge James S. Davenport concurred with him that the death penalty be modified to life imprisonment.

Methvin escaped from a Texas prison farm with Barrow in January, 1935. He said he parted with the gunman, but was forced to join him three months later. It was then, he said, he gave information to the police.

Vocational Teachers Gather In Session At Tech Saturday

Vocational agriculture teachers from seven schools south and west of Lubbock, met Saturday afternoon with O. T. Ryan, vocational supervisor for Northwest Texas, at Texas Tech and arranged for a district organization. Two schools were not represented. Boys also were on hand.

Teachers worked out their part of the exhibit program for the South Plains fair next week.

District F. F. A. officers were not named, the teachers naming the school from which officers are to come. The president will be from Seminole, although it was not represented. Teachers will later select their officers at another meeting held, probably during the fair.

Post, Wilson, Tahoka, Meadow, Ropes, Whitharral and Anton teachers were here. The new Seagraves teacher was absent.

Fire Rages Across Brush And Timber In California

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 19. (AP) — Fire raged across ten square miles of brush and timber watershed in San Francisquito and Elizabeth lake canyons today but the Los Angeles aqueduct and the city's principal power supply were saved from damage.

Eight hundred men were on the fire lines under the direction of Angelus national forest officials, who reported the blaze out of control on the north and west fronts.

Homes and settlements in the Hughes and Elizabeth lake areas were menaced if the blaze should be whipped by the wind over a 60-foot wide firebreak on the south portal ridge.

Excitement Over A Football Game Proves Fatal For Man

PORT ARTHUR, Sept. 19. (AP)—Excitement over the Port Arthur-San Jacinto high school football game proved fatal to W. B. Ware, 62, who died in the first quarter.

Physicians said Ware, a Port Arthur man, apparently died of a heart ailment. Members of his family said he had been suffering from heart disease for a number of years.

Bolivia is the only country in South America without a seaport.

Former Peace Officer Dead

Body Of Roy R. Cox Is Found Floating In Tank On Ranch Near Rankin; Had Been Missing For 11 Days

RANKIN, Sept. 19. (AP)—The body of Roy R. Cox, about 50, former constable of precinct 4, McCamey, Upton county, was found late this morning floating in a water tank on the Ben Frazer ranch nine miles east of Rankin. An intensive search, in which dozens of peace officers and others joined, had been under way in Upton, Crockett and adjoining counties for several days. Cox was first reported missing about 11 days ago. It was believed that he had wandered off in a daze.

Dead Four Days

From the condition of the body and obliteration of tracks by rainfall, it was judged that Cox had been dead about four days. Oscar Pettit, Rankin ranchman who has part of the Frazer ranch leased, discovered the body. Cox's shoes were found on the side of the tank.

The body was sent to McCamey where the widow and a daughter reside. Burial will be in McCamey or in Crowell, Texas, friends said.

Professor Schumann is head of the drafting department in Columbia university. Street is assistant professor of engineering drawing and industrial education at Texas Technological college.

Texas Sailor Writes That He Was Injured In Bombing

EL PASO, Sept. 19. (AP)—Kenneth Fitch, 21-year-old member of the crew of the U. S. destroyer Kane, wrote his mother here that he received a shrapnel wound in the leg when the warship was bombed by an unidentified plane in Spanish waters last month.

Mrs. Elizabeth Crump said she received a letter today from her son in which he said a piece of an aerial bomb dropped near the ship struck him in the leg.

A mystery plane dropped six bombs near the ship and flew off toward the Spanish coast when the Kane returned the fire. No injuries were reported at the time.

Young Fitch in his letter described the attack as "exciting." He said he has been confined to the ship's hospital since the bombing.

Foaming Sea Yields 34 Men Alive; Ship's Master Lost

Colorado River

few homes, was buried under the mass of invading flood water.

Neighbors who watched McBee's body carried away recovered it from a boat.

The angry river was two miles wide at Indian creek community in Brown county, washing away a number of homes and barns.

The flood stage climbed to 72 feet where the Brownwood-Brady highway bridge crosses the Colorado. This mark is 14 feet higher than any ever recorded before.

Crest Rages On

Gradual recession of the high water south of Coleman was reported as the crest of the torrent raged through a vast farming region. Where the highway 16 bridge, between Brady and Coleman crosses the Colorado, the water was still running several feet deep, however. Highway officials believed the bridge approaches damaged badly.

At Coleman the treacherous Colorado river, rose to the highest flood stage on record, lives and property were menaced in its wild sweep through several hundred miles of the richest farming country in Texas.

Hundreds of farm families in the inundated river bottoms fled for their lives and only the daring rescue work of boatmen saved some from death in the muddy current, which spread widely over thousands of acres of fertile land.

Spend Night On Barn

After spending the night on top of a barn and in trees, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mauldin and their three sons, Robert, Thad, and J. B., were rescued today by a party in a motor boat. They also carried to safety the Rev. J. A. McDowell, Church of Christ minister, stranded in a windmill tower on the Mauldin farm near Winchell community.

Chester Bouldin, trapped on top of his isolated home in the vicinity of Stacy, reached safety in a boat.

The turgid Concho river, which caused millions of dollars' damage to San Angelo in the most disastrous rise in its history, was dumping a mass of flood water into the Colorado. Virtually the entire area drained by the Colorado and its tributaries had been drenched by torrential rain, reaching from 16 to 20 inches in some sections.

Loss To Run Into Millions

There was no way of determining the extent of damage but the loss of crops, livestock, homes, bridges and highways was certain to mount into many millions of dollars along the Colorado. Thousands of acres of cotton and corn land were under water, communications to dozens of little towns in the river valley were disrupted and highways were blocked.

Force of the flood had extended downstream several hundred miles to Columbus, washing out two spans of the bridge at Garwood, covering the highway and adjacent farm land. The Garwood levee threatened to break.

Houston Harte, publisher of the San Angelo Standard-Times, checked over damage in his city today and expressed his belief it might amount to nearly $5,000,000. Other estimates had placed the loss at $1,500,000 or $2,000,000.

Denver Passenger Train Delayed By Washout

Port Worth & Denver City passenger train 101 from Fort Worth and Dallas was not expected to arrive at Lubbock this morning until 1:30 o'clock, because of a 3-hour 40-minute delay occasioned by a washout near Chillicothe.

The Associated Press said passengers, their baggage, first class mail and perishable express were transferred by automobiles and trucks to another train after damage to the track had been estimated. Some mail and express was not transferred, it was understood.

Denver officials here had not learned the extent of the damage it was said early in the night.

Graphic Stories Of How Ship Developed Leak And Went To Bottom Of Sea Given By The Survivors Of Wreck

(By The Associated Press)

LEWIS, Del., Sept. 19.—A foaming sea yielded alive today 34 crew members of a foundered fishing steamer, but its skipper, Captain Romey George, perished.

His was one of three bodies washed ashore, coast guardsmen said. Another was that of a negro.

Reckoning Is Made

Based on the belief the crew of the Long Island numbered 44, guardsmen made this reckoning: 37 saved, three known dead, four missing.

Thought to have perished in the raging sea, 33 men were found safe aboard the coal barge Hollowell. A Maritime exchange observer rescued another.

Among those rescued was Captain William Bertrand, pilot of the schooner.

Those who struggled to shore yesterday were Captain George's son, Delmar, 30, of Foxwell, Va., and Harry McQuillan, 21, negro, of Wilmington, N. C., and his cousin Richard, 26, also of Wilmington.

Tell Graphic Stories

The three told graphic stories of how the ship developed a leak, how its cargo of fish shifted, and how the 150-foot craft turned over near the Overfalls lightship, eight miles off shore.

"That was the worst storm I ever saw," said Bertrand, who has been a seagoing man for 30 years. "The bad weather caused the accident.

"The Long Island was listing to port and shipping water on that side. We had to run broadside to the sea. We were steering west by south, and the wind was from the northeast.

Washed Out Fires

"We never had any trouble until about 7:30 a. m. (Friday), when we were right off the Overfalls lightship, and then, in a half hour the boat had gone down, the water had washed in, and even washed out the fires.

"The last I saw of Captain George (the master) he had gone forward by the galley. At that time I didn't think the ship would go down for another half hour, but we only had time to put out one of the three lifeboats. She sank stern first."

Girl, 7, Heroine Of Tank Tragedy

ABILENE, Sept. 19. (AP) — Nelda Tarver, seven, rescued her two-year-old cousin, Horace Rowe, and carried from a farm tank the lifeless body of another cousin, Wayne Varnell, two and a half years old, near here.

The tragedy occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Varnell, grandparents of the three children, a mile northeast of Potosi.

Unconscious, Wayne was rushed by automobile to a physician's office in Abilene. More than an hour of effort to revive him with an inhalator was fruitless.

The grandfather told of the tragedy, still carrying in his shirt pocket a stick of candy for the drowned child. "I went to town this morning and bought the children a bag of candy. They hugged and kissed me for a stick apiece. Later, I sent Nelda after the little boys, to give them some more candy. A few minutes lated I heard Horace crying and Nelda screaming. The boys, who had waded last week in the tank with older children, had tried it again. They could not know the rains had filled it and that the water was deep."

Measuring Of Lubbock County Land Under Way, Agents Say

Measuring of Lubbock county lands covered by work sheets for the new AAA program is under way, said Charles A. King, jr., assistant county agent and Ben J. McGee, cotton adjustment assistant.

"Farmers who did not attend the meetings held the past week, should get in touch with their respective supervisor," said Mr. King. "Each supervisor has complete instructions for measuring."

There are 18 chains in the county and one is in each supervisor's territory. There are six districts with three supervisors to a district.

When measurements are made, they are recorded on maps to be sent to the supervisor. He in turn will hand them over to Mr. McGee.

Club Women Hear Of Aims For District

Mrs. J. W. Walker, President-Elect Of Plainview, Talks To Group Friday Afternoon Following Luncheon

BY MARGARET TURNER
Woman's Editor

CITY Federation of Women's club, opening a new season at a luncheon Friday afternoon at Hotel Lubbock, heard the president-elect of the seventh district, Texas Federation of Women's clubs, Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview, tell of her aims and ideals for the clubs during her administration.

Mrs. W. A. Jackson, Federation president, presided and Mrs. W. P. Clement, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

"During the last three years clubs of the seventh district have broken precedents in their achievements through the motto 'Growth' selected by the retiring president, Mrs. W. P. Avriett of Lamesa," Mrs. Walker said. "I want us to carry on that ideal but to stress growth from within instead of numbers. We shall adopt the slogan of the National Federation of Women's clubs 'Education for Living,' and stress development of health, character and intelligence."

Plans Are Tentative

In discussing her plans for the two-year office Mrs. Walker explained that they were subject to change. They include: Establishing a more unified feeling among club women; holding conferences with officers and department heads; seeing that work is carried on through the various chairmen; having the publicity department issue bulletins at regular intervals; stressing the importance of round-table discussions; striving for the clubs to adopt approved courses of study.

The nine departments are to compile two yearbooks, one for an elementary club, the other for an advanced club, which will give an idea of worth while studies, Mrs. Walker explained. It will not be compulsory for the clubs to adopt the courses, but it is thought that they will be helpful for suggestions. Departments are American citizenship, American home, education, fine arts, international relations, legislation, juniors, public welfare and press and publicity. The yearbooks will be ready by spring.

Outlines Achievements

Mrs. Walker discussed a program of achievement of federated clubs of America during the past few years, pointing out that they had

Department Of Relics At Fair Is Reorganized And Interesting New Classes Added This Year

The department of relics, antiques and curios at the Panhandle-South Plains fair has been reorganized this year and several interesting classes have been added, Mrs. A. B. Cunningham, superintendent, has announced.

The department is especially anxious to receive exhibits in the compotes class, she said. Compotes are pressed glass dishes with stems, belonging to the period from 1850 to 1890. They were made both plain and with designs, with covers and without, and both large and small.

Premiums in the compotes class will be 75 cents for first place, 50 cents for second place and ribbon for third. They were raised from 50 and 25 cents for first and second places last year.

The new classes include glass bread trays, 1850 to 1890, made in all the glassware patterns of the period; fancy pictures; silver tea sets (prior to 1900); translucent China; interesting pieces of old silver, and old dishes with interesting history.

There are several important collections of antique fancy pictures in Lubbock, the superintendent said, and the department is anxious to discover other collectors. Premiums for first, second and third place winners in the class are $1.00, 75 cents and ribbon.

Mrs. Cunningham requests that exhibitors type history of each entry on a card large enough to be read from the show case and submit it with the article to be displayed. The procedure is especially important in the entering of old dishes with interesting history.

Mrs. J. O. Ellsworth and Mrs. R. E. Garlin are assisting the superintendent in assembling the exhibits. Judges will be Leland J. Mast and Mesdames M. B. Hilburn, Murray Jones and C. S. Mast.

Entries in the department are to be made all day Thursday and not later than 1 p. m., September 25. Antiques (except in the class of silver tea sets) must be 50 years old or older before they can compete for premiums. The exception was made because of the beautiful designs in silver tea sets of the 1890s. Judging will be at 1 p. m. Friday.

Imported articles may be shown in the division.

Articles which have received a premium at any previous exhibition of the fair will not be accepted.

Groups of articles for display may be arranged by the superintendent at her discretion.

LITTLE JANE had been quietly listening while her father and a neighbor discussed politics. That night she knelt by her bed and said her prayers as usual but with this unusual conclusion: "Bless daddy and mother, and please, dear Lord, take good care of yourself, for if anything happens to you we'd have only the President left and he hasn't come up to Daddy's expectations.

ON PARLIAMENTARY LAW

THAT parliamentary school that Mrs. H. F. Godeke is to open Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in the junior ball room of Hotel Lubbock should be of interest to parent-teacher association workers, school teachers, students, and service club members as well as club women for whom it is primarily intended. The course will continue for ten weeks and is open to any one interested. The fee is one dollar.

• • •

Mrs. Godeke knows parliamentary law. Else why would she have been elected parliamentarian for the City Federation, the fourteenth district and the state Congress of Parents and Teachers? Whenever a question arises over parliamentary procedure someone rushes to the telephone and gets straightened out on the matter by Mrs. Godeke who is always willing to give freely of her time in such matters.

AN AMUSING STORY

THE story that amused us most this week concerned charges in a divorce suit a New York woman brought against her husband, a dentist. She charged that "he slapped me with a steak bone," and threw a cup of coffee at her for "good measure."

• • •

The husband denied the charges and said that once at dinner his wife aggravated him to such an extent that he pounded on the table, his hand accidentally striking a fork which in turn struck a small piece of steak and this flew up and struck his wife in the face.

How do you suppose the court can keep a sober face in such instances?

ROBIN red is a new shade in finger nail polish that its manufacturers advertise, "even men won't mind seeing you wear." We wonder . . . We're as tired of looking at pictures of the Spanish rebellion as we were of the Italo-Ethiopian skirmishes as seen by the news cameras . . . Among the world's least known persons are the other patients of Dr. Dafoe of Calander, Ont. . . . British motion picture producers have recently made a film that they have called, "The Man Who Changed His Mind." That's always been considered a woman's privilege and when a man follows suit it seems it is important enough to tell the world about . . . Latest person to receive an honorary Texas Ranger commission is the old maestro, Ben Bernie, who was handed the scroll in Dallas this week by Governor Allred. We suppose he can carry a gun now.

What is newsworthy in a widow weeping at her husband's bier? . . . Some one said the way to success was to start at the bottom and WAKE up . . . William Mayner, English composer, has written "The King's Coronation March," and has received intimation that it has been accepted by King Edward . . . Nothing was more heart stirring Friday than to see the woe begone appearances of the Tech students down here awaiting word concerning their parents and homes in San Angelo.

HELPING THE NEEDY

ELSEWHERE in today's society section is an article listing the placement of articles collected by the Lubbock Woman's Forum during a recent old clothes' drie. To us it's remarkable what those young matrons did by way of helping underprivileged families. We suggest that you read it. Mrs. Raymond Marshall, Forum president, says that it's not too late to contribute to the cause and if you have old clothes, dresses, hats, sweaters, shoes and underwear that are worth patching for any wear at all and will call one of the Forum members they will send for them.

Too, if you know of families in desperate circumstances for clothing and will list their names with Mrs. Marshall or another Forum member, an attempt will be made to help them.

Club work enables a woman to express herself in a worth while way during her leisure time, the president-elect explained, after suggesting that "any woman who places anything above her home displays to the world a confused sense of values."

"True club work means an enlarged vision, an enriched experience and a growth in one's spiritual and cultural nature," she concluded.

Special guests were Mesdames L. T. Mayhugh, Meade Griffin, J. H. Crews of Plainview and A. W. Howard of Memphis.

Preceding Mrs. Walker's talk, Mesdames Raymond Marshall and Claborn Bell sang two duets, "Indian Dawn," and "To You", accompanied by Mrs. W. R. Vivrett. The group recited the club collect as an invocation.

The last number was a piano solo, "Butterfly," played by Mrs. Vivrett.

The tables were arranged in a rectangle. Autumn flowers were decorations and in the center of the room a vase of dahlias and chrysanthemums centered a small table.

Wee Bits Of Gossip Giving Comings, Goings, Doings Of Well Known People

DEAR LOUELLA: Parties in Littlefield for Gladys Porter Sparkman. Parties in Post for Louise Morrel. Parties in Lubbock for Pauline Yeager. I would that I had a position instead of a job and were triplets instead of what I am so that I could better cope with the sudden spurt in my social life.

Louise is marrying Winston Wharton of Albany in October. The date hasn't been set yet but "Doodle" (all his friends call him) already has the house built. The kitchen is red and white and the breakfast nook is blue and white, I understand.

Your comments on my bachelor's club idea were most interesting. Yes, I know that I left out a bunch of eligibles but I didn't mean to. There's C. H. Chapin, George Zarafonetis, Charlie King, and others. I thought of a whole bunch the other day and now I've forgotten them again.

I also know that one of the Pope boys is married. But did you know that there are three of them here?

Now, I'll tell you something else about the bachelors. I heard that they really are thinking of organizing a club. Hope I get a bid to the first social.

I WISH you could have seen Mrs. Virginia Fann after she heard she was a grandmother. She took the next train out for Denver and she could not have been more excited or happier had Santa Claus dropped a million dollars down her chimney.

Charlie Crenshaw, jr., was married Friday night in Washington, D. C., making the third wedding since this time last year for the Crenshaw family. Charlie's twin brother, Billy, was married last September and their sister, Elinor, was married to Melvin Schumpert Christmas. That's a record, isn't it?

Weren't you surprised at Bill Sewell's marriage? I thought he was the bachelor type.

It was good to see Weston Parris Friday. He dropped by the office. He's handsome as ever and working in Dallas.

The college kids are still moving around getting settled. I heard there were some very clever girls' rooms out at the Tech dormitory. If I can get invited out to see them, I might write you the details.

Off To Hockaday

Etoile McLeod and Loyette Lindsey got off to Hockaday last week. Etoile will be back for a week before she leaves in October for a nine-month travel course with a Hockaday group.

Padgett Maddox who has been working in Hobbs the past 14 months got a leave of absence from the oil company he was working for and is here to study geology at Tech.

Mrs. Christine Hall hardly knows what to do with her spare time since this is the first year in 20 that she hasn't had a child in one of Lubbock's public schools. She said that in all of those 20 years she never had a single fault to find with the school system or any of her children's many teachers.

• • •

MY father used to be that way. The teacher was ALWAYS right. I've often wondered whether he really and truly thought the teacher was right when she so obviously was wrong. All teachers and preachers always have been and ever shall be perfect to father. Imperfect ones can't stand the strain, I guess.

Carl Francis is home from Denton where he visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Francis.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Banks are spending a few days in Dallas.

Mrs. R. T. Campbell is attending a Methodist conference in Nashville, Tenn.

I'd like to rave on like this for hours but my time this week is very, very limited.

Pastor Starts Duties Oct. 1

Rev. C. E. Hereford To Come To Lubbock From Waco To Fill Pulpit Of First Baptist Church Here

Rev. C. E. Hereford, formerly of Waco, will begin his duties as pastor of the First Baptist church of Lubbock on Oct. 1. He has been pastor of the Columbus Avenue Baptist church, Waco, for the last four years.

Rev. Mr. Hereford comes to Lubbock as successor to Rev. R. C. Campbell who accepted the position of executive secretary of the Baptist general convention of Texas, with headquarters in Dallas.

In resigning his pastorate at Waco, the new pastor said in part: "Although my four years of service in Waco have been extremely happy, and I feel that our association has developed friendship and ties that will never fade, I am confident that it is God's will that I accept the responsibility of this great church on the plains, with a membership of 3200."

REV. C. E. HEREFORD

In addition to his regular pastoral duties in Waco, he had taught the Down Town Bible class. He also has been active in civic work, being a member of the Lions club and other groups. He is active in state Masonic circles, acting as chaplain during the 1935 Masonic grand lodge meeting in Waco.

Mrs. Hereford plays the piano and organ and takes an active part in women's work, the Sunday school and young people's activities. They have a daughter, 13 years old.

Both Mr and Mrs. Hereford received their A. B. degrees from Marshall college, Huntington, West Virginia. Mr. Hereford has his Th. M. from the Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary and Mrs. Hereford is a graduate of the fine arts department of that institution, specializing in piano and the organ. The new pastor is expected to teach the Down Town Bible class here which meets each Sunday in the Lindsey theater. He will preach his first sermon on Oct. 4 and will be at home after Oct. 1 at 1913 Broadway.

The primary department, directed by Mrs. Jack Eastwood, will present a selection of children's hymns and classes will be organized.

The school is organized as follows: Rev. Alves, superintendent; John B. Rountree, assistant superintendent; Mrs. J. L. Barstow, secretary; Mrs. Raymond George, organist. Miss Mary Thomas is organist for the primary department. Teachers in the school are Mrs. Eastwood, Mrs. Alves, Mrs. Kate G. Burke, Miss Jean Cantelou, Mrs. J. S. Gossip Of Filmland

Actors Pass Up Filmland's Beauties To Take Their Brides From The '400'

By ROBBIN COONS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 19.—High society has marched in and stolen some of the lots' most eligible bachelors right from under the noses of Hollywood queens.

While studio beauties step into countless happy endings on the screen, more and more it is the junior leaguers and the debutantes who really get the man.

Randy Scott

When Henry Fonda left to make a film in England, Hollywood buzzed with talk of a reconciliation between him and his former wife, Margaret Sullavan—even though this was denied. Then came announcement of his engagement to Mrs. George T. Brokaw, New York widow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Ford Seymour, social leader.

Randolph Scott also bowled over the Hollywood know-it-alls with the recent announcement of his marriage last March to Mrs. T. H. Somerville (nee DuPont) of Montpelier, Va.

Raft Falls In Line

AND George Raft is scheduled to marry Virginia Pine, whose name means something in Chicago, when the present Mrs. Raft divorces him.

GEORGE RAFT

Society has been making inroads for some time.

Gary Cooper squired many a film beauty but said "I do" to Sandra Shaw, a minor film player better known in eastern social circles as Veronica Balfe.

Fred Astaire's film romances have all been with Ginger Rogers, but his wife is the former Mrs. Phyllis Livingtone Potter.

Ricardo Cortez played opposite many attractive leading ladies—and married Mrs. Christine Lee of New York.

Director Joins Ranks

JOHN WAYNE, action star, has had numerous heroines—all attractive, but his real-life heroine is the former Josephine Saenz, from Los Angeles upper crust. She is the daughter of Dr. Jose Saenz, Dominican consul.

JOHN WAYNE

The Baroness Josephine Van der Horck of Germany dropped her title to become plain Mrs. Donald Woods when she met the young actor at college.

Actor John Warburton and Director Lewis Milestone are other bridegrooms who overlooked Hollywood pulchritude in favor of Park Avenue. Warburton married Lucille Morrison and Milestone chose Kendall Glaenzer of New York.

Stuart Erwin got both "society" and an actress when he married Dorothea Heermance, better known to film fans as June Collyer.

• • •

Latest Retort

ANN SHERIDAN is the latest retort to Hollywood's oft-disproved old saw that "beauty contest winners never get anywhere." Not that Ann got places right at first, for she was one of the girls brought to Hollywood for that "Search for Beauty" film, and the studio that signed her, Paramount, didn't keep her.

Ann Sheridan

When red-haired, 120-pound Ann went to Warner Brothers, she started with a bit in "Gold Diggers of 1937," then played an "another woman" role in "Come Up Smiling." On top of that they let her be "the woman" in Pat O'Brien's life in "The Making of O'Malley"—and that means she is on her way.

• • •

Married Recently

SHE hails from Dallas, where she was Clara Lou Sheridan, and she's Scotch-Irish-Indian by descent. Recently she married Edward Norris, the young actor of "Show Them No Mercy"—and the same whose brief marriage to Lona Andre, another contest winner, ended in annulment.

Times Change; Once Three Days Needed To Gin A Bale

SAN SABA, Sept. 19 (AP)—Seventy years ago it took three days to get a bale of cotton ginned here.

Now, one gin turns out between 60 and 70 bales a day.

J. D. Estep, who has been in the hardware business here for more than a half a century, recalls when his father would take three full days to haul the cotton to the gin, have it ginned, and haul it back home again.

Today, trucks carry the cotton to the gins in a matter of minutes. At top speed, a 15-minute period is required to gin one bale. Then the trucks carry it off again.

If there are others ahead of the trucker, a cottonhouse with compartments, will receive the cotton, while he returns to get more, and workmen will see that his cotton is ginned, weighed, and labelled while he is gone.

RESORT BUSINESS UP

WARSAW, Mo. (AP)—Missouri's Ozarks resorts reported the largest tourist business this season in five year. Owners of the resorts estimated that business in southwestern Missouri was 20 to 25 per cent better than in 1935 and the best since 1931.

BIBLES FOR PRISONERS

NICHOLSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Circuit Judge W. J. Baxter hopes to reform criminals by giving them Bibles to read while in prison. Before he sentences a convict he talks to him about becoming a useful member of society and then hands him a Bible.

In parts of Mexico, leche planchada, or "ironed milk," is used. A mixture of egg and milk is poured into a shallow dish and hot irons passed close to the surface until the mass is of custard consistency.

PAYS 33 YEARS LATE

ALDERSON, W. Va. (AP)—Andrew Russell sold a man a pint of whisky in 1903 and then forgot about it. This week he received a letter from Seattle, Wash., containing 65 cents in payment for the liquor. The letter was unsigned. The writer said his conscience hurt because of nonpayment.

New Students Are Enrolled

Indication Of City's Growth Is Given In Number Of New Students Being Enrolled In Public Schools

Further indication of Lubbock's growth during the past three and a half months was noted this week when principals in Lubbock Public schools reported a total of 355 students enrolled who last May attended school in another city. The number represents an approximate 300 white families who have moved to Lubbock since the close of public schools in May.

Enrollment figures at the close of the first week of school this year, 4603, showed an increase of 60 students over the first week of last year. At least a third of the students enrolled in another system in May enrolled here after the first week of school, reports show.

From Out Of State

Of these 355 new students, 30 moved to Lubbock from out of the state, with New Jersey, Oklahoma, Kansas, New Mexico, Arkansas, California, Missouri, and Colorado former residents among the group. Two hundred and seventy-five students moved to Lubbock from out of the county, and one child, Harry Libby, enrolled in Junior High, was last enrolled in a school in Puerto Rico. He is the son of Mrs. F. E. Libby.

Junior High school, where 1,365 students are enrolled, has a total of 109 new students; Senior High, 1,076, has 100; Dupre, 493, reports 30 new residents; K. Carter, 438, has 49; Sanders, 210, has 9; George M. Hunt, 377 enrolled, has 38; Central Ward, 284, has 24 new students. The rest of the total enrollment is scattered between the ward schools, Guadalupe and Dunbar schools.

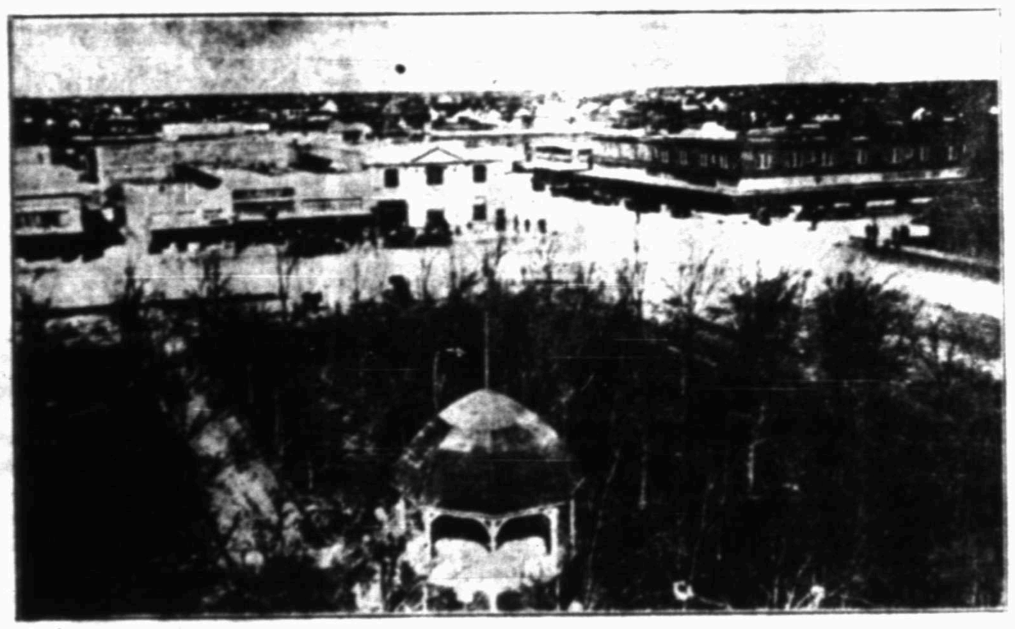
Expansion



View of Lubbock About 20 Years Ago.

There have been many changes in the appearance of Lubbock's business and residential sections in the past 20 years. An increase of over 400 per cent in population has resulted in their continuous expansion.

Since January 1, 1936, a total of 351 building permits, amounting to $605,331.00, have been granted in Lubbock.

The expansion of Lubbock's business and residential sections has resulted in frequent extensions of gas lines so builders of new homes could have the benefits of the Perfect Fuel, Natural Gas.

A second gas line, at an estimated cost of $20,000.00, is being brought into the Northwest part of the City, to insure dependable gas service, enabling your gas company to keep in step with Lubbock's growth.

Contract for a Compressor Station Plant has been made with Stearns Rogers Manufacturing Company, of Denver. The plant will be located on main line to Lubbock. Four main compressors, each with 250 Horse Power gas engines, will be installed with auxiliary equipment and housing. Estimated cost exceeds One hundred thousand dollars.

Natural Gas must be available to customers in any amount. Lubbock is 144 miles from the gas field, and in the case of an unusual cold spell, it requires six to eight hours to get the required amounts to Lubbock. The Compressor Plant is being built as additional insurance against gas shortage, so time of transportation of gas can be cut to one-half. It may be only necessary to use the Plant 10 to 12 days a year, but it is needed to make sure that your gas service will continue to be dependable and uninterrupted.

Your Gas Company is keeping in step with the expansion of Lubbock's business and residential sections.

A Job For Dr. Montgomery

TO Lubbock business and professional men, and to South Plains farmers who heard him speak upon any one of three occasions here last week, Dr. R. H. Montgomery, economist on the faculty of University of Texas is either "the honored apostle of a brighter day," or "a blankety-blank red who ought to be run out of the country."

Be that as it may, the bushy haired, soft-spoken professor, who was loaned the Agricultural Adjustment administration by the state university and who shortly will resume his connection with the Austin school, left his mark on local audiences. Whether they applauded him or silently despised him, he made an impression.

One speech he made—the one on "The American System," before the Rotary club last Wednesday—was particularly fruitful in after comment. Although in his remarks Doctor Montgomery stated he did not favor redistribution of wealth, listeners agreed that every argument he brought forth led to the opposite conclusion. That he at least inferred agreement with some plan of wealth redistribution was agreed by numerous of the clubmen who heard him talk.

If Doctor Montgomery is in favor of redistribution of wealth, he is the man The Avalanche-Journal has been looking for for quite a spell. He is just the man we need to begin a good campaign to redistribute legislative financial appropriations for institutions of higher learning.

Even Doctor Montgomery's critics will admit he is a courageous man. If he were not, he wouldn't take such evident keen delight in baiting his audiences with addresses that, to be charitable, are at least a "deep pink" in their economic line. So if Doctor Montgomery is both courageous and for redistribution, and since he is connected with the fat, grasping University of Texas, he should be a fine spearhead for a concerted assault against the citadels of greed. Perhaps he could lead state supported colleges to a better financial era [illegible] do away with the ancient [illegible] practice of [illegible] to the university and tossing a [illegible] here and there to the other institutions of higher learning.

If Doctor Montgomery can [illegible] help along something of this line, The Avalanche-Journal can promise him that even those "reactionary tories" who criticized him most here last week will rise up and call him blessed!

THE HEADACHE FOLLOWS

In discussing the issue of peace and war it has lately become the habit to dismiss the possibility of certain countries engaging in war because "they are too poor to fight." The statement rests on a foundation so unsubstantial as to be completely illusory.

None who remembers the economic state of the world in 1914 would advance such an argument. The World war proved that economic conditions, no matter how unfavorable to war, do not keep nations from warring upon one another. No fact has been more clearly demonstrated than that in taking up arms a nation is not necessarily handicapped by the absence of a full war chest or a complete war arsenel.

Immediately on the outbreak of the World war all peace-time economic checks were suspended. The nations harnessed themselves to war—making under a regime which, like that of present-day Russia, forbade internal competition. Production was speeded up until the return of peace found every belligerent overproducing everything from wheat to ore.

This is not saying that all nations discover that they are El Dorados when they go to war. Some are poorer than others in natural resources, but under the necessity imposed by war they obtain far more than previously out of their potential wealth, and rely on borrowing for the rest. In war time nations will cheerfully assume huge obligations to pay for necessary commodities, reserving the reckoning to an unknown future, when they find that they were beyond their means. Another war emergency measure is the dilution of the purchasing power of currency by running the government printing presses overtime.

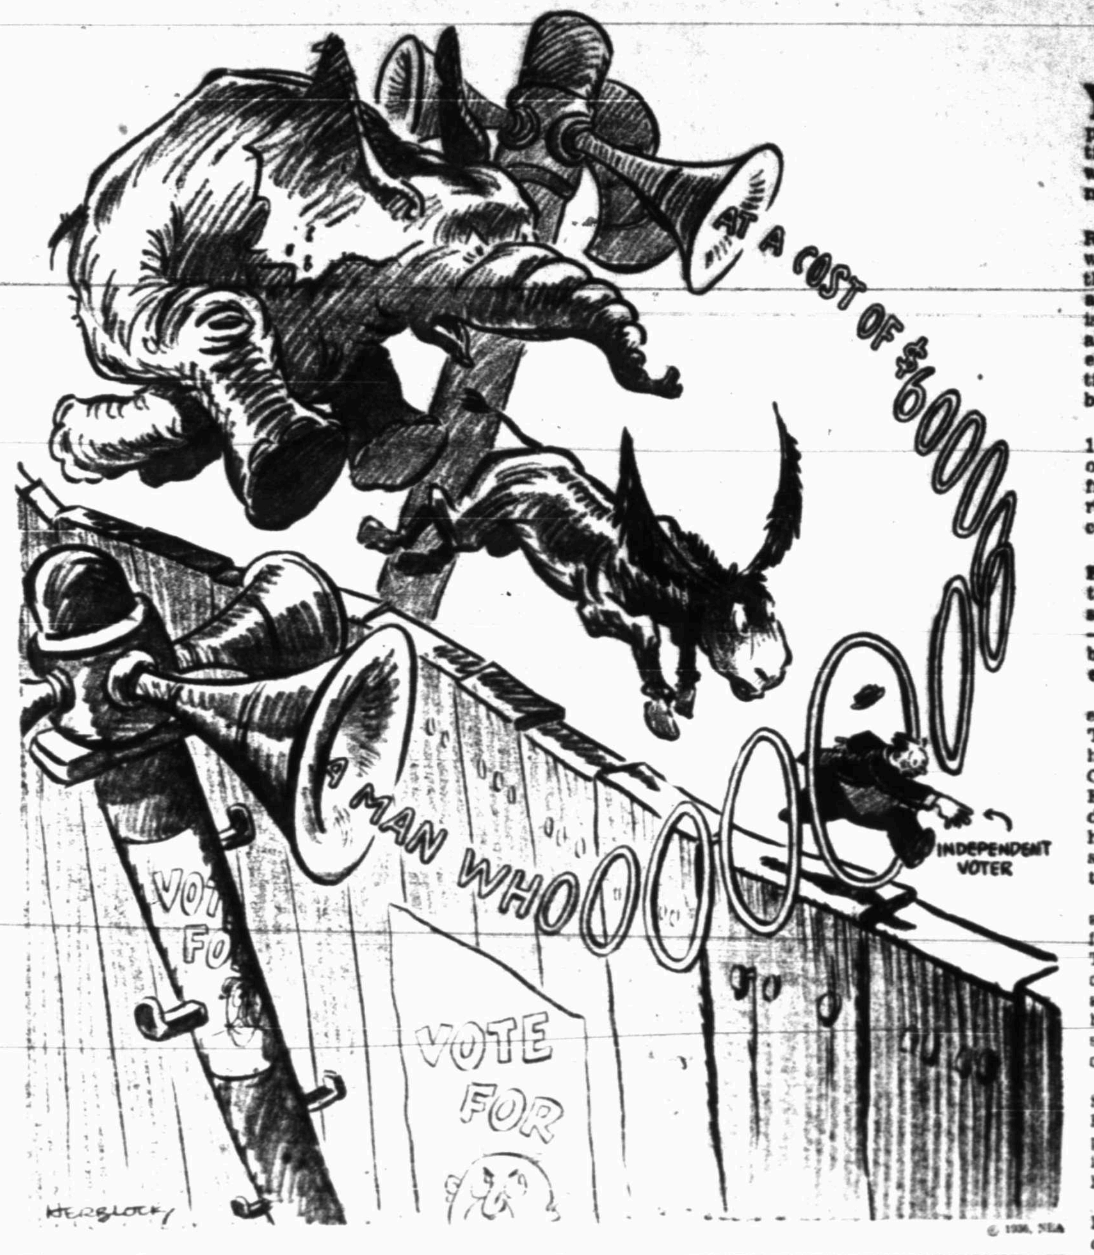
Nations embarking upon a war never inquire whether they can afford a war. Rather they often look upon war in much the same way that distressed business looks upon bankruptcy.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

Even the youths shall faint and be weary, and the young men shall utterly fall:

But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint.—Isaiah, XVL: 30-31.

A Mid-Campaign Nightmare!



THE NEW BOOKS

H. G. Wells Does His Best, Strange As It Is, In His Latest Writing, "The Anatomy Of Frustration," A Philosophical Contribution To The Welfare Of The World

"THE ANATOMY OF FRUSTRATION," by H. G. Wells; Macmillan Company, New York.

H. G. WELLS is back again, not with the script of a motion picture this time, but with a philosophical contribution to the welfare of the world. Like most philosophical contributions, its value depends [illegible] of the reader. But at any rate Mr. Wells has done his best. How strange it is!

He presents his philosophy as that of an American scientist [illegible] the notes of the extraordinary person, William Burroughs Steele, and Mr. Wells' purpose in using the device seems to be to draw himself out of perspective, to enable him to write a little more objectively than he might if he were assuming responsibility for the numerous statements.

Changes Character

Steele is said to have written "The Anatomy of Frustration," which is also the title of Wells' book. The Anatomy is an imitation of Robert Burton's "Anatomy of Melancholy" at first. As Mr. Wells progresses he changes the character of his hero's product somewhat. But [illegible] he is always abridging and interpreting, not creating.

Even an "adequate" analysis of the Wellsian thought would require a column or two. It is perhaps enough to establish the central premise which is that most of our existence is lived in an effort to avoid the final frustration which is death. This accounts, according to Wells, for the progressive establishment and change of most of our "religious" beliefs. As our progress (if we wish to call it progress) continues, our evasions take on a less and less concrete form—once man made himself believe in an immortality resembling life on earth; through his character Steele Wells suggests a substitute for that sort of thing, which is an identification of ourselves with the quintessence of being with life itself rather than with any surviving husk.

The book has the distinctive Wellsian flavor.

"Main Street" Flavor

"CATALOGUE," by George Milburn; Harcourt Brace, N. Y.

WHEN George Milburn first began to sell his stories he wandered one day into New York. Someone asked him what his ambition was and he said to save enough money to buy a coonskin coat.

Mr. Milburn made the remark with his tongue in his cheek, of course. Nevertheless, he may quite possibly pass the coming winter in a coonskin coat. He just has published his first novel, and it's of authentic "Main Street" flavor. It's called "Catalogue."

The town in question is Conchartee, Okla. Things start the day that both the large mail order houses route their fall and winter catalogues into Conchartee on the same train. Earp's truck stalls under the staggering load. The postoffice employees stay late to sort them. Next morning the rural free delivery men groan and grumble under their weight. And customers all along the routes seize the catalogues and get pencil and paper to work.

Moonshiner Plans Dance

The local moonshiner orders some charred oak kegs, and plans a dance in honor of his wife, who sold to the wrong person and went to jail again. The local merry widow orders some hair dye, but it doesn't come in time for the dance. The local editor writes an editorial about people who send their money out of town instead of patronizing home merchants. The local dissatisfied bride orders lingerie—and it goes.

Mr. Milburn has really written a group of well integrated short stories. He has received permission to quote [illegible] paragraphs from that [illegible] catalogue. He knows small town [illegible] as you know your bedroom. And excepting for [illegible] seem a little [illegible] these and [illegible] first rate [illegible].

Not So Terribly Important

"AFTER THE NEW DEAL WHAT?" by Norman Thomas; Macmillan.

THE New Deal has been called a [illegible] many things pro and con. [illegible] has [illegible] for Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for president, to [illegible] by implication [illegible] the face of a larger historical process, the New Deal is not so [illegible] important [illegible] other way.

[illegible] Thomas, who speaks his [illegible] entitled "After the New Deal What?" believes that [illegible] place in America [illegible] nothing less than the [illegible] as a way of life.

On Unsteady Legs

Capitalism, he believes, is tottering on most unsteady legs. The next [illegible] catastrophe that comes along—that depression or what-not—will give it more of a push than those legs can cope with. And when that happens, the Socialist leader believes, it is not at all unlikely that we shall lose our liberties and see a Fascist regime set up over us.

For we seem to Mr. Thomas to be suckers for a designing dictator. Look, he says, at how many people surged blindly after Huey Long!

There Is Hope

There is hope, to be sure. We can avoid Fascism's last-ditch fight to salvage something out of capitalism, he continues, by recognizing that capitalism is collapsing and that the alternative is Socialism.

Feeling like this, Mr. Thomas cannot see any particular social significance in the New Deal. He looks on it as an effort to rejuvenate capitalism and feels that such efforts merely waste time and make the ultimate arrival of Fascism more likely. Meanwhile he continues to plug for social ownership and management of the means of production as the only way out.

Thumbnail Reviews

"HOUSE of Orleans," by M. Coryn (Stokes): a history of certain French rulers, written with a sparkle and flavor of contemporaneity which are most unusual; excellent reading.

* * *

"A Rider of the Cherokee Strip," by Evan G. Barnard (Houghton Mifflin): life story of the famous sculptor's brother, who "lived clean" and made Oklahoma like it even though his wasn't the popular style.

* * *

"GOMEZ, Tyrant of the Andes," by Thomas Rourke (Morrow): biography of the late dictator of Venezuela, who ruled by torture and made big money; if you dreamed a story like this you'd have yourself examined by a psychiatrist.

* * *

"A TIME to Remember," by Leane Zugsmith (Random): labor novel, well done but a little out of drawing; the "capitalists" are all stupid or venial, the workers are diamonds in the rough.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

YOU haven't heard much lately from the Democratic publicists about Governor Landon's supposed sympathy for prohibition. Before his nomination it was predicted that the Democratic strategists would darken the streets of eastern cities with banners proclaiming that his election would repeal repeal.

Here's why the issue has been sidetracked: The Rooseveltians don't dare to antagonize drys in many western states which they expect to carry because of the administration's friendliness to the farmers. There are more votes to be lost than won by harping on this issue. Moreover, the liquor trade is quietly working almost 100 per cent strong for Mr. Roosevelt's re-election. They are making no noise, but they're putting up money (distillers' ads filled the convention book) and they're ringing doorbells.

It is estimated that repeal has furnished jobs to 1,000,000 people, ranging from hop-growers to retailers on the home-town corner. With their families and friends that means a definite and sizable bloc of votes regarded as certain for FDR. So the Democrats are content to rest on these liquor laurels.

* * *

BEST: Military students would be more certain about the outcome of a possible European war if they could satisfy their curiosity as to the morale of two armies—the Russian and the Italian. With prospective combatants almost evenly matched in man power and equipment soldier make-up may decide.

The Italians were poor fighters in the World War except when facing the even less warlike Austrians. The question is whether Mussolini's faith and zeal have transformed them into never-say-die warriors. Our attaches (and other nations') hoped that the Ethiopian conflict would furnish the answer, but it didn't because of the character of the opponents. Nor has the Russian been tested since Stalin and Lenin supplanted the czars. The Soviets' great lack may turn out to be efficient and trained leaders.

Despite almost 20 years of repression, the Germans are still regarded by our experts as Europe's finest fighters. Next come the British and then the French. The Poles rank high when repulsing invaders, but they don't hold up well on foreign soil. Similarly the Japanese are classed fairly low once far away from home base. The net is that Hitler's army could probably smash any in Europe today (France, Russia, Italy) if other nations stayed out of the show.

* * *

SPRING: Our diplomatic people don't expect that Herr Hitler's Nuremberg diatribes and defiances will produce immediate war. They regard his nose-thumbings at Moscow as nothing more than "feelers" to see how the various nations react.

Der Fuehrer doesn't know whether an attack on Moscow would bring France to the rescue. So, according to our experts, he is feinting at the Soviet with one eye on Paris. To a less degree he is testing British sentiment which has been notably cool toward the bolshevik regime in recent months. Lastly, he is feeling out the Balkan nations, which are supposed to be arranging a defensive-and-offensive alliance to be tied to whichever major power offers the richest bargain. Hitler hopes to convince them by his "huffing and puffing" that he's Europe's big, bad wolf.

If Hitler concludes that Russia has no friends who will [illegible] with her and that the Balkan entente will turn its railroads, oil, wheat and factory output over to him next spring (winter is too near for a march through Russian snows) may see him in the saddle.

* * *

RESERVED: The politicos are taking presidential polls of themselves less seriously than since this form of [illegible] became a national pastime.

The Democrats figure that most canvasses register the sentiment of folks who have regular addresses, telephone numbers and a definite status in their respective communities. So they conclude that polls showing FDR falling behind or leading by a small percentage do not reflect the President's strength. They [illegible] that vote-tappers are not reaching down to the inarticulate mass which feels grateful to the New Deal for the WPA, CWA, PWA, etc.

The Republicans, on the other hand, maintain that fear dominates the responses of many who reply to verbal or written questionnaires. They think that thousands who publicize their friendliness for the President will vote against him in the silence and secrecy of the ballot box. And it is a fact that people are more hesitant in discussing presidential politics than ever before—every newspaper correspondent on the road has reported that phenomenon. But what it all means, nobody will know until election day.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

A number of big timers in the New York banking world will trek to San Francisco for the convention of the American Bankers association which opens tomorrow. Their principal private purpose is to elect one of their own number—the head of a New York bank—as second vice-president of the ABA. Doesn't sound like much of an honor—but this year's second vice-president becomes president two years hence in the usual routine.

The specific New Yorker for the job hasn't yet been chosen by his fellows. There are several eligibles, but it isn't so easy to persuade any one of them that he owes it to his city, his profession and his associates to accept the rather thankless chore.

Of course there's another little obstacle—persuading bankers of other cities to vote for a New Yorker. No one from the metropolis has held a key office in the ABA for years. This will be used as a selling argument—and it is hoped that a shrewd mixture of tact, prestige and a bit of diplomatic pressure will bring the desired result. Observers dryly remark that the depression must really be over if New York bankers are willing to stick their necks out in public again.

BUFFER: Keep an eye on the Federal Power commission. So far this agency has played second fiddle to the Securities Exchange commission and the Tennessee Valley authority in furthering New Deal power policy. But insiders predict that it will be given top authority in these matters if Mr. Roosevelt is re-elected.

Such a move would be reasonable from the viewpoint of both efficiency and politics. As to the former, with other geographical power set-ups similar to TVA in prospect, some coordinating agency will be urgently needed to keep them from getting in each other's hair. The power commission is the logical nominee for the task. It is already well established and it would not have to divide its attention between utility and other problems—as is the case with the Federal Trade commission and the Securities Exchange commission.

Politically it might be very useful to the White House to have a buffer agency between it and such bodies as the TVA. Part of the power commission's job would of course be to divert the lightning of popular criticism to itself if trouble arose because of the activities under its jurisdiction.

AFOUL: The head of a major railroad—one of the most successful in the country—was recently asked by his directors whether he considered the remarkable rail recovery of recent months as authentic and reasonably permanent.

He replied in the negative—said he was afraid that a very large proportion of current railroad prosperity traces to government spending and would abate in proportion to curtailment of such spending. He cited purchases by farmers and city dwellers made possible by benefit and relief payments respectively, which goods have to be transported, also the carrying of materials for public works and power projects like Norris Dam or Grand Coulee.

The directors found themselves forced to express the heretical hope in private that federal outlays will not be constricted too rapidly even if Landon is elected. It's tough when the welfare of a specific business runs afoul of such a highly respected principle as a balanced federal budget.

'Modernism' Dims Even Gold Rushes

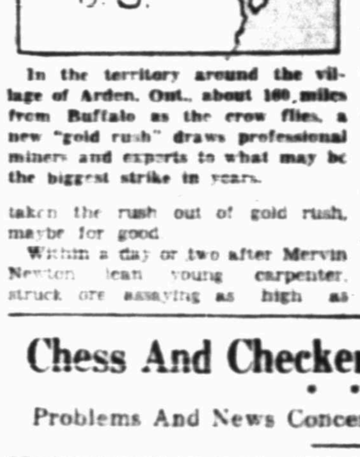
New Canadian Strike Falls Victim To 'Machine Age'

BY CLYDE B. DAVIS
NEA Service Correspondent

ARDEN, Ont., Sept. 19. — Don't rush, folks, even if you've heard the reports of a new gold rush in the rocky region around this little village of 350 inhabitants.

It's a sure-enough gold rush this time, real enough that one claim already has been sold for $75,000. But modern times and methods have taken the rush out of gold rush, maybe for good.

Mervin Newton, who with his partner gave impetus to the latest "gold rush" by finding a vein and selling his claim.



In the territory around the village of Arden, Ont., about 160 miles from Buffalo as the crow flies, a new "gold rush" draws professional miners and experts to what may be the biggest strike in years.

Within a day or two after Mervin Newton, lean young carpenter, struck ore assaying as high as $580 a ton, every available inch of nearby land had been staked out by villagers and farmers.

And every one of these Ardenites, farmers who live in unpainted board houses and scratch a precarious living between the rocky ledges and boulders, believes that today he is a potential millionaire.

No Storybook Chase

That is why you might as well leave your mattock standing in the corner of the garage and stop trying to break Towser to harness.

There isn't going to be any "gold rush" into Ontario—at least not one of the kind in the books, with bearded prospectors trekking into the wilderness with placer pans and picks, or freezing and starving and dying of scurvy as they did in the Yukon in 1898.

The "gold rush" is no less real because calm, scientific business methods have superseded the scramble of '98.

It has already been turned over to the raining engineers, mostly the young, clean-cut representatives of the big mining companies. The "strike" was made in June by Newton and T. J. Alexander, the local storekeeper. They had their ore samples assayed, and there was no doubt of it—there was gold in heavy-paying quantity.

* * *

"Satisfactory" Profit

BUT the prospectors who immediately descended on Arden, only one jump behind local residents who had the whole territory staked out, were not "rugged individualists" trekking in from everywhere. They were expert mining engineers, 50 or more of them, representing practically every mining company in Canada.

They looked over the terrain. They estimated the claims staked out by the early comers, and bid for those that to their trained eyes looked most promising.

Newton and Alexander recently sold out for an amount which they admit was "satisfactory" and which is generally conceded locally to have been about $75,000.

Soon other companies had bought up all the other promising claims, for practically all the "outside prospectors" who came rolling into Arden by automobile were veterans employed by mining companies.

By Plane And Auto

That is what a "gold rush" means in these days of fast-distributed news and speedy transportation. Wherever a new strike is reported, on the Arctic Circle or on the banks of the St. Lawrence, the ex-

Problems And News Concerning Those Old Favorites

WIDESPREAD interest in checkers and chess over the South Plains area has prompted this "corner" of the Sunday Avalanche-Journal's editorial page. Several score persons are actively engaged in chess play and chess clubs, several hundred belong to checkers clubs and play that grand old favorite.

Here is the latest checkers and chess news, along with problems and comment.

It seems that B. J. (Dad) Greer's luck is holding out with all the boys around the local checker front. Several of the fellows who kidded Wayne Ashley over the results of his recent match have had a session with Dad which sent them scurrying for the books.

In next week's column will be found a surprise announcement in connection with the fall tournament of the Texas Plains Checker Association, to be held in Lubbock, Oct. 11. Watch for it, because it also deals with our problem for that date. In addition to the surprise, further details about the tournament will be released.

Again we have a pair of solutions coming in to our last problem, this time from Otho Clendennen, and Olsh Houston, formerly of Anton, but now located at the men's dormitory, Texas Technological college. Both their moves stand the test and are practically the same. Before giving their solutions and the problem, it may be added that the problem was reset in order to complicate the solution, but both lads picked an easier draw. However, the solution intended is so good that we are running it again in the original setting for this week's problem, and the solver can be assured that it contains a real problem gem.

Last week's problem and the solution. Black on 1, 2, 13, 15; White on 21, 22, 24, 27; Black to move and draw. Clendennen moves 1-6, 27-23, 2-7, 23-18, 7-11, 21-17, 6-10, 18-14, 11-16, 14-7, 16-20, etc., drawn. Houston moves 1-6, 27-23, 2-7, 23-18, 7-11, 18-14, 11-16, 14-10, 16-20, drawn.

Here's the problem for this week, and you can be assured it requires almost uncanny checker playing to pick the winner this time. Notice that it is only slightly different from last week's setting but what a whale of a difference when you try to bring the Black men through. Here it is: Black on 1, 4, 13, 15; White on 21, 22, 23, 24. Black to move and draw. Mail solutions to H. A. Cooper, and copies of the Roseville Citizen await the first two persons showing a draw for the black men.

Dallas members of Texas Chess association have informed Dr. R. S. Underwood, president of the association, that they will issue a booklet containing a number of games played in the championship tournament conducted in Dallas Sept. 5-7.

The booklet also will contain a directory of Texas chess players and association members.

Persons who wish to be listed in the directory may send their names to J. C. Thompson, box 966, Dallas, in the event association officials already do not have their names. There is, of course, no charge for being listed in the directory.

The compilation of the names and addresses of chess players will assist in their organization and the growth of popularity of their game.

I. A. Horowitz, editor of the Chess Review, won the open championship tournament of the American Chess federation in Philadelphia, scoring 8-3. In second place one-half point behind was Arthur W. Dake.

The New York state championship has been won by Isaac Kashdan with the remarkable score of 8½-½. Herman Helms, editor of the American Chess Bulletin, placed second. He and Kashdan drew their game.

Six Hundred Farmers Of South Plains Making Use Of Trench Silos This Year

Storage Safe And Cheapest

ccess Of Demonstrations Causes Farmers To Turn To Method In Greater Numbers This Season

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

AT least 600 South Plains farmers in 20 counties are digging or lling trench silos to conserve the 36 feed crop and to insure their estock plenty of succulent feed r the winter and early spring, according to O. G. Tumlinson, disict county agent leader and E. R. udaly, dairy specialist of the state tension service. Bundles and cut een grain sorghums and corn are ng used for filling the silos.

Mr. Eudaly has just completed o weeks of demonstrations in unties in this area and he rerted the best response he has seen this section. Hundreds of farms have attended these demonstraons, the one in Lubbock county beg attended by over 130 farmers.

Amount Is Doubled

uring 1935 county agents in the ict, known as No. 2, conducted trench silo demonstrations. So cessful were these that this year uble the number will be filled.

"Demonstrations conducted in 1935 oved that trench silos provided d insurance and that the farm gets more money per acre out the feed crop," Mr. Eudaly said. ed shortage is the greatest handp the West Texas farmer has to ntend with.

"Farm storage of feed surplus was problem requiring much expense d investment until the trench silo oved to be successful. It solves e problem of how the farmer can fely and cheaply store his sur feed, and establish a carryer which is necessary for successl farming. It makes it possible farmers to carry on during the y years without spending all availle cash for high priced feed.

Affords Safe, Cheap Storage

"Feed stored in a trench silo has en known to keep as long as 11 ars. Silage is free from the dame of mice, rats, weevils, sand, fire d rain. It affords the safest and eapest storage for bundles, heads d corn."

Mr Tumlinson, a former county ent in Lubbock, says he is told by rmers that trench silos may be led cheaper with bundle feed, her than chopping it with an silage cutter. "It is less work also, m the field to the feed trough," added.

A partial report of 14 counties on e South Plains, out of the district, ows 126 trench silos were dug and led last year. This year 364 more o be dug and filled. Many of m were dug during the summer onths and filling is under way. The report includes:

Corn That's Corn In U. S. 'Worst Year'

Angora Breeding Stock Prices Up

ROCK SPRINGS, Sept. 19 (AP)—Prices of choice angora breeding stock in the southwest Texas goat-raising country are the best since 1928, with the mohair market established at 55 and 65 cents a pound.

A top price of $175 for one goat was paid S. W. Dismukes of Rock Springs by Henry Widener of Twin Sisters, Blanco county, and many other recent sales have shown an upward trend.

Russian buyers, active in the section recently, bought more than 60 head from O. J. Camp. Registered does brought $50 and one billy was sold for $150. The Russians paid D. T. Jones $95 a head for eight rams and also made purchases at Millers View and Ozona.

Other goat sales recently recorded include 30 billies by S. W. Dismukes at an average of $66.65 each; W. L. Moody, 3rd, of Junction bought five at $100 each; Davis Schmidt bought ten at $500 each; J. T. Croft paid $150 for one billie and J. H. Rosa & Sons of Johnson City bought the rest for a total of $275.

During the depression, when mohair hit an all-time low of 6 cents a pound, there was little market for registered goats. Range animals went at 50 cents to $1 a head when they could be sold.

Most of the sales made were to Mexicans for food. Many goatmen did not take care of their flocks properly at shearing time and the death loss was heavy for several years.

The good mohair prices which have prevailed for the last two years have caused ranchmen to rebuild their flocks and have brought the increase in the price of registered animals.

Farmer Plows Deep And Beats Drouth; Sees Bale To Acre

He forecasts a bale-an-acre yield from his 14 acres despite the drouth year.

"I plowed as deeply as possible," he said, "and, as a result when my cotton began to grow the roots penetrated into moisture storages."

Research Lab Bill Planned

Rep. George Moffett To Offer Plan Whereby New Uses For Cotton Would Be Sought And Recommendations Made

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 19—Rep. George Moffett plans to sponsor a bill at the regular session of the legislature establishing a cotton research laboratory in Texas.

Although he introduced such a measure in 1931 and members evinced little interest, he believes changed conditions have brought about more favorable sentiment.

"The activities of the Farm Chemurgic council have caused a change in sentiment concerning the establishment of scientific laboratories to search out new uses for cotton, which is now a principal surplus farm commodity and the chief article of export of the United States," he said.

Millions Are Spent

Moffett said General Motors corporation and other great industrial concerns spend millions of dollars to find new and improved uses for their products in order to maintain a high consumptive demand.

"Yet the average cotton farm producing around 25 bales of cotton cannot possibly maintain research laboratory to find new uses for his principle production," he continued. "That is truly a beneficial function that his government should perform for him, and if the same had been started 15 years ago doubtless new uses would have been found to absorb all the American farmer could produce without plowing any up or being subsidized for not planting."

"Crying Need Is . . . Now"

If the United States army ordnance experts could find a way to use cotton in the manufacture of explosives, he said, other governmental experts should discover ways to use millions of bales.

"If the tire industry can use 900,000 bales per year there may be a dozen others that can eventually use 500,000," he said, "but the crying need is to do this now and not wait until some industry stumbles into the use of more cotton.

"Cotton is the purest known form of cellulose, and for that reason there are few satisfactory substitutes. It is also the staff of life to about 2,000,000 southern farmers and their families and an adequate market must be found for it."

Few Tenants Can Win Land Ownership Under Present Farm System In U. S.

(This is the first of three articles on what is being done by the Resettlement administration to assist tenant farmers to become landowners).

* * *

WE might not be so seriously concerned with farm tenancy if it were a passing or transient condition, if it were simply a stage by which the farmer reached a higher level. But tenancy as it exists in Texas and Oklahoma tends to be a permanent stratification in which the greater part of our farmers are permanently imbedded. Financial returns to the tenant farmer are ordinarily so low that he is prevented from accumulating the reserves which would enable him to shake loose from that condition.

At a conference of southern agricultural research leaders held at New Orleans, a large amount of new material was made available, which included a study of 700 share croppers in Alabama. It showed that only one out of ten of them ever became owners. Only one out of four ever rose to the condition of a third-and-fourth renter in which he owned his teams and equipment. Seventy-five per cent of them remained their whole life as share croppers.

Lost Or Broke Even

The study showed that in three years out of four those families lost money or broke even. That is, during three years out of four they made enough only to liquidate what they owed to their landlord, or they increased their debt to him. Another study showed that out of 3,000 share croppers, forty per cent were in debt to their present landlords, with a debt of more than one year's standing. The average indebtedness was more than $80 to the present landlord. It was concluded from the results of this study that one-third of the share croppers in Alabama were indebted to this extent, and that the average share cropper under the present system can expect no more than a bare living and will remain permanently dependent upon the landlord for credit. There are 76,463 of these share-cropper families in Texas and 13,640 in Oklahoma, totaling more than 430,000 individuals, who have not teams or tools and who are also entirely dependent upon their landlords for food and supplies while making a crop.

Instead of the number of small farm owners increasing, we have found during the last few decades that there has been a concentration of land in the hands of a few owners. There has been an increase in the number of farm operators but at the same time there are indications that the ownership of these farms is tending more and more to move into the hands of a comparatively few. During one ten-year period, a study made in seven cotton states showed that the number of landlords owning more than five farms increased by twenty-five per cent.

Too Many Absentee Owners

We all know that many large plantations have broken up but when this happened the land has not been divided among small owners. When put on the block these plantations are not divided and sold at reduced values to groups of rising small owners, but are sold in bloc to other large plantation owners or to business and professional leaders in towns who are looking for investments. These purchasers of foreclosed property are often financed by federal long-term farm credit and become absentee owners.

It has been due to our past system of financing and credit as much as to anything else that the landlord-tenant system has perpetuated. The Resettlement administration is now taking over a large number of farms which have fallen into the hands of loan companies, and is breaking them up into small tracts to be sold to tenants and other low-income farmers under conditions which will make it possible for these small owners to pay them out.

Both Surprised

Renewal Clause Favored For Aiding Iowa's Farm Tenants

AMES, Ia., Sept. 19 (AP)—Dr. Rainer Schickele, land planning specialist, advocates an automatic renewal clause in farm lease contracts as a step toward solution of problems arising from high farm tenancy in Iowa.

He said the clause now is being used in some rental contracts.

The suggested clause would provide that the farm lease continue in effect automatically at the end of the allotted period unless one of the parties signified he wanted to conclude it by giving six months' notice.

Recommend Small Grains For Pigs

AMES, Ia., Sept. 19. (AP)—E. L. Quaife, extension animal husbandryman of Iowa State college, urges swine feeders confronted with high feed prices to figure relative values carefully on a weight basis this fall.

He suggested use of more small grains in feeding swine, and listed various rations. These were:

For pigs between 25 and 75 pounds:

1—Two-thirds medium ground oats and one-third cracked corn, barley, rye or wheat.

2—Two-thirds hulled oats and one-third medium ground oats.

3—One-third ground oats, one-third wheat, rye or barley and one-third cracked corn.

For hogs 75 to 225 pounds:

1—One-half ground oats and one-half corn, or ground rye, barley or wheat.

2—One-third ground oats and two-thirds ground rye, wheat or barley.

3—One-third ground wheat; one-third ground rye and one-third ground barley or corn.

Farmer Moves About To Get Away From Drouths; No Luck

WARSAW, Ind., Sept. 19 (AP)—B. B. Biggs, farmer, still is optimistic, but he doesn't know where to turn next year. He moved to a farm near here this year, hoping to escape the drouth which ruined his crops last year. Instead, he ran into another dry spell.

Before moving here he lost heavily for four successive years on a farm near Bristol, S. D., through drouth.

EVERLAY Double Duty FEEDS
Is Correct In September

September is a critical time in a pullets life. But most hazards can be eliminated and wonderful results secured by this simple feeding schedule. Mash—in the mornings and grain in the afternoon. But 70% of the ration should be grain, if you are feeding Everlay. This schedule should continue until birds are laying up to 15%.

Note—This schedule will not produce results with ordinary mashes. If feeds other than Everlay are used ask the maker for his recommendation, but if you wish greater production—healthier birds, and lowered cost get EVERLAY, the feed that is built for RESULTS.

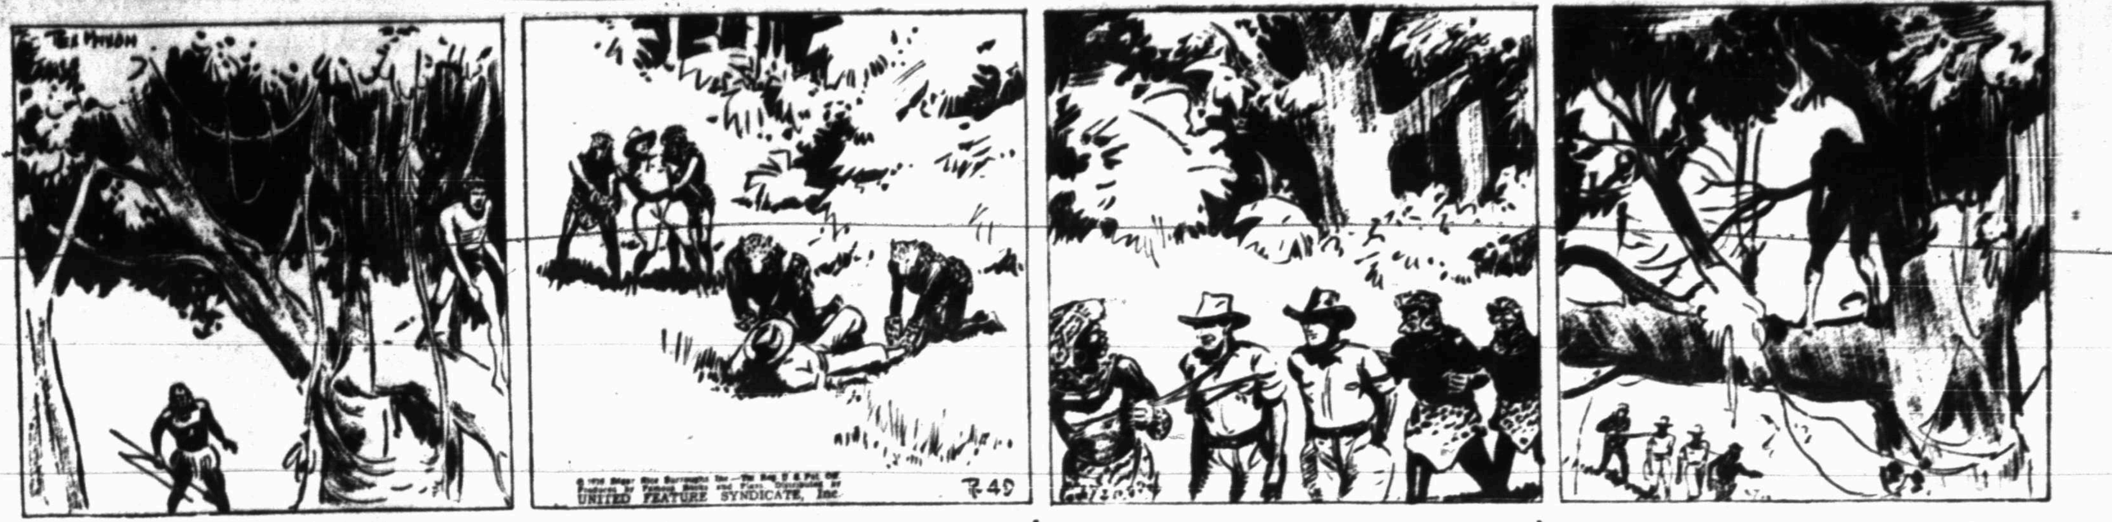
TARZAN AND THE LEOPARD MEN, No. 49

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Leaving his weapons for Orando's protection, Tarzan hastened to determine the meaning of that lone shot in the wilderness. Aside from curiosity, considerations of his own welfare required that he investigate all unusual events in this mystic jungle.

. . . But he was too far away to give assistance to the two whites, who fought bravely but ineffectively against the superior foes. Old Timer was quickly subdued; and The Kid, after firing one shot, was hurled to the ground and pinioned by the Leopard Men.

Quickly the excited, gibbering victors attached ropes to the necks and arms of the captives and prepared to lead them back to the main body of Leopard Warriors. And it was on this back-trek that Tarzan saw them from his vantage point in the trees.

Usually he was little concerned with the fate of such men, most of whom he rated lower than the beasts. He resolved, however, to help these two—for the satisfaction of harrying the hated Leopard Men. But could he win them from these steel-taloned creatures?

Garner Looks For Big Vote

Vice-President Says There Is Possibility FDR Is To Receive Bigger Vote Than In 1932 Election

BY MAX HARRELSON

NEW YORK, Sept. 19. (AP)—Vice-President John N. Garner said today in one of his rare interviews that there is a strong possibility President Roosevelt will get a larger electoral vote this year than he did in 1932.

Smoking a cigar which he said cost about 6 1-2 cents, the vice-president appeared unexpectedly at the press conference of Democratic Chairman James A. Farley after being around Democratic headquarters for three days.

His Part Unknown

He said he was not yet ready to say just what part he would take in the campaign, but intimated he would be either here or in Washington most of the time between now and the election.

He parried questions about a possible speaking tour by asking newspapermen if they thought Colonel Frank Knox had won any votes for the Republican ticket.

"All I could do," he said, "would be to talk about the boss and everybody knows how I stand. I'm 166 2-3 per cent in favor of re-electing Mr. Roosevelt."

Asked if he was in accord with all the president's policies, he said:

In Full Accord

"I'm in full accord with the results of Mr. Roosevelt's program from the time he took office until now. No man of independent thought could be for every detail."

Referring to a statement by Colonel Knox that "today no insurance policy is safe, no savings bank deposit is secure," he said:

"I think money is safe in banks and I believe the people think the same thing, regardless of what Mr. Knox says. The only way you could lose now would be for the country to go broke and that is out of the question."

The vice-president said there was no particular significance attached to his visit to New York, adding:

"Some of the boys seem to think I have some latent intuition—some people call it a poker hunch—and they want to get the benefit of it. They asked me to come up and here I am."

Modernism

To Arden they came by auto. Had the strike been in the far north, served by poor or impassable roads, they would have gone in by airplane.

"There is no excitement about a gold rush any more," says William Murdock, engineer for the Hollinger Consolidated, which bought the Newton-Alexander claim.

"Suppose a strike is reported 'way up in the tundra country," Murdock continued. "For a day or so planes would be dropping down on the nearest lakes. But the next day you wouldn't be able to find a man. The engineers and their helpers would have scattered into the bush. We move to the east and west of a strike."

In the first few days they option or lease the best claims. Then they hire workmen. Around Arden they pay a flat rate of $2.75 for an eight-hour day for work with shovel, pick and adze clearing earth and trees from likely-looking ledges of rock.

If, as is frequent hereabouts, there is a vein of white quartz running through the limestone, an expert called a "sampler" goes to work with a cold chisel and geologists' hammer whacking out samples of the quartz. They are sent away for assay. If they show paying quantities of gold, equipment is sent to the camp for a diamond drill test to show the depth of the vein and to remove cores for further assay.

• • •

Restrained Enthusiasm

"OUR company," says Murdock, "prospects about 200 strikes like this one every year. About seven of the 200 are good enough to warrant sinking a shaft."

And those seven? "In 20 years," says Murdock, "we've found about two good-paying mines."

With that experience behind him, Murdock's enthusiasm for the new strike here is restrained, though he believes it to be "better than average."

Probably greater excitement over the new "gold rush" is to be found on the mining stock exchanges in Toronto and Montreal than here on the ground. A boom since the new discoveries of early spring and summer has kept mining shares in a ferment, and the Ontario resident is almost unpatriotic who will not tip you off to a coming "good thing."

So the man who starts for Arden with the gold fever of '98 in his veins is far more likely to return with a sheaf of gold shares than a pouch full of nuggets.

On his marriage, the annual grant made to the Duke of Kent under the civil list was increased from $50,000 to $125,000.

Senator Borah Tells Holiday Crowd Depression Is Permanently Receding

MACKAY, Idaho, Sept. 19. (AP)—Senator William E. Borah (R-Idaho) told a southern Idaho holiday crowd today "the depression is permanently receding."

The assertion was made in an address on "reclamation" prepared for delivery at the annual celebration of residents of the fertile Lost River valley.

"The depression, with its sacrifices but also with its lessons, seems to be moving into the background," said Borah, Republican nominee for a sixth consecutive United States senate term.

For Many Reasons

"There are many reasons for believing it is permanently receding.

"It is true that it has left problems almost as serious as those which the depression itself presented, but these problems are not going to prevent great and marvelous development all over the west."

The senator said he was convinced the future of irrigation was assured in the west.

Borah asserted that because the west has soil and water, "it must now be apparent to all of those who have stood in opposition to reclamation, that the reclaiming of these lands is a matter of concern to the entire nation."

Dr. John, Granberry Backs Socialist Names On Ticket

DALLAS, Sept. 19 (AP)—Dr. John C. Granberry, professor of philosophy at Southwestern university, Georgetown, was named chairman today of a temporary For Thomas and Nelson independent committee for Texas.

Mrs. Carl Brannin, wife of the socialist candidate for governor, was elected acting secretary.

Dr. Granberry denied he was a member of the socialist party but said every free-thinking Democrat in the state would be contacted in an effort to solidify support for socialist candidates.

Farm Leaders To Pay Visit

One Variety Cotton Demonstrations In 12 Counties Over South Plains To Be Staged; Schedule Given

One variety cotton demonstrations in 12 counties on the South Plains are to be visited this week by four men from College Station, said O. G. Tumlinson, district county agent leader, yesterday.

E. A. Miller, extension service agronomist; A. H. Lichte, cotton gin specialist of the extension service and Roy Sanders, Greenville, with the U. S. experiment station, will accompany Mr. Tumlinson. They are expected here today.

Schedule Revealed

Schedule is two counties per day. Agents have been notified of the arrangements, which are:

Date	Morning	Afternoon
Monday	Garza	Lynn
Tuesday	Terry	Yoakum
Wednesday	Hockley	Cochran
Thursday	Lamb	Bailey
Friday	Floyd	Motley
Saturday	Dickens	Crosby

There are, Mr. Tumlinson said, about 150 farmers in the 12 counties who are working on a one variety test. The work has been very satisfactory so far, considering conditions that have prevailed.

Ginners and cotton men have been invited by county agents to the meeting places.

Pensacola Mayorless City As Pro-Landon Executive Is Ousted; Another Dead

PENSACOLA, Fla., Sept. 19.(AP)—Pensacola was mayorless today after a surprise ouster of its pro-Landon executive and the death of his "strong Democrat" successor.

The city council voted to replace Mayor H. Clay Armstrong, whose announced decision to support the Republican national candidates aroused Democratic leaders here.

Will L. Moyer, Democrat, was voted into the $25 a week office. He was stricken by a fatal heart attack a few minutes later.

Max Bear, who cast the one vote against ousting Armstrong, became mayor pro tem.

A milk-white river, due to water flowing over limestone and thus becoming saturated with chalk, and a lake which generates soap from its alkaline limestone bed, are two curiosities of the island of Andros, one of the Bahamas.

Kearney Elected Veterans' Chief

DENVER, Sept. 19 (AP) — A 46-year-old prosecuting attorney for New York state, who served the United States in two military campaigns, took control of the Veterans of Foreign Wars organization today, pledged to a platform of patriotic instruction in schools, support of social security and opposition to communism.

The new leader was Bernard V. Kearney of Gloversville, N. Y., who served on the Mexican border and in France during the World war.

Buffalo, N. Y., was selected as the 1937 convention site.

Typographical Union Backs Those Defying The AF Of L

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 19 (AP)—The International Typographical union, which claims 80,000 members, marshaled forces today to support unions defying the American Federation of Labor executive council regarding the Committee for Industrial Organization.

Before adjourning, late last night, a convention which President Charles P. Howard termed "of historic importance to the working people of the United States," the typographers overwhelmingly adopted a resolution contending they had a right to aid the committee.

Action of the federation council in suspending ten powerful unions backing the C. I. O. will come before the forthcoming federation convention at Tampa, Fla.

ELEPHANT FOSSIL FOUND

HARRISONVILLE, Mo. (AP) — The fossil of a hairy elephant, the first reported found in Missouri, was unearthed here recently by workers digging a trench silo on the Bliss Van Sand farm. Dr. Raymond C. Stone, University of Kansas City professor, estimated the ice age beast lived in this region 25,000 years ago.
