

Mustangs Travel To Abernathy For Grid Opener

The Olton Mustangs sloshed through muddy workouts last week, scrimmaging toward peak condition and the season opener with Abernathy's Antelopes.

When Olton travels into the camp of the Antelopes Friday, Sept. 6, they will be trying to avenge a 8-7 loss last year. Game time is 8 p.m.

Olton Head Coach Walter Bryan said he didn't know exactly what Abernathy had but knew they were always rough.

The Olton coaching staff, in an attempt to field the most effective lineup, has jockeyed positions of two starters. Big Billy Carson has been switched from guard to center, and Leon Kendall has been moved from the center position to guard.

At least five Mustangs are being slowed by injuries, and the whirlpool and rub down table have been well-occupied.

Doctors detected a heart murmur in one Olton athlete, Rocky Farrar, during physical checkups.

Among those with injuries are tackle Daniel Rey, quarterback Joe Priest; guard Dennis Givens, Jackie Burkhalter, and George Jones, halfback.

Jones, the team captain, remains on the ailing list with an injured side. He overturned in a pickup recently cutting a wide gash above his hip bone.

Givens has an injured back as does Priest. Rey's head is hurt and Burkhalter has a badly bruised left arm.

It's anybody's guess what the Antelopes will come up with, although they've been picked to fight it out for the cellar in District 2-AA.

Coach Richard Eddleman will have only five returning lettermen, and only two were starters last year. The Antelopes compiled a won-loss record of six and four last season.

In Friday's game, two of Abernathy's finest sophomores probably will be in the starting line.

Fire Truck Hurts Chief

Tom Smith, Olton fire chief was injured Tuesday night when a fire truck, being pushed by firemen, rolled over his left foot and twisted him to the station floor.

The accident occurred about 8:30 p.m. when volunteer firemen assembled for a Tuesday night fire drill.

Smith's wife said her husband and other firemen were pushing a truck from the station when Smith became entangled between the truck and station entrance. The truck's battery was dead and the men were attempting to start the vehicle.

When Smith's foot, became caught, he twisted to the floor, bruising his left hand and left hip.

Firemen took him to the Olton Community Hospital and Clinic, but X-rays did not reveal any broken bones.

Mrs. Smith said her husband's foot was badly bruised and swollen, but that most of the pain was in his hip.

He is expected to be on crutches for about a week or 10 days.

IT'S REAL AUTOMATION

Women may argue over the merits of reducing machines, but Mr. and Mrs. Dan Long have discovered something that may revolutionize the industry.

The Longs and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Long, were visiting in the home of Lubbock relatives recently when they made their discovery.

Lawana Long, Dan's sister, was trying to burp the Dan Longs' daughter, Linda Lee, 3 months, when someone made a suggestion.

"Use this pillow and put her on the reducing machine,"

Thereupon, Lawana put Linda Lee on the machine, tummy-down, and flicked the switch for a gentle rocking motion.

It worked. Baby Linda burped.

Deficits Licked As School Year Opens

$14,000 Athletic Debit Is Erased

BY BILL TURNER

Two years ago, Olton Public Schools were in an embarrassing position.

They owed a bill of $14,000 on athletic equipment and couldn't pay it.

The lunchroom was $6,000 in the red.

Another $12,000 was needed to pay off some paving warrants.

Today, that situation has changed considerably.

The athletic fund deficit has been completely paid, and the paving warrants are out of the way.

The lunchroom deficit has been cut to $1,447--and there is a $1,600 to $1,700 inventory to back that up.

All this was as of Sept. 1, 1963, the start of the new fiscal year at the schools.

The improvement in finances was duly noted by school board members Tuesday night at a regular meeting.

There was a fresh atmosphere at the session, sort of like getting a new start. All the bills were paid.

Probably the man who got more satisfaction from the situation than anyone else there was Supt. Johnny Clark Jr.

Clark has whittled away at those deficits ever since he came here in July, 1961.

The pay-off of the athletic deficit was a long pull. In fact, the last $5,800 of the debt was paid last month.

As Clark began his third year at the helm, he had these budget balances in the three main funds: $2,900 in local maintenance, $5,800 in transportation and $34,660 in interest and sinking.

These were the amounts of money left over after all bills were paid.

The board began the new year on that Tuesday night as continued discussion of plans to install new lighting fixtures in the old part of the high school.

That several-thousand-dollar venture now seemed feasible and the board okayed plans to go ahead with it.

Trustees heard a talk describing types of fixtures available and costs, then later approved plans to take bids on the project until Sept. 23.

In other activity, the group heard reports on enrollment, accepted the resignation of one teacher, and officially employed three others. They also hired a custodian, Dean Harris.

The new teachers are Judy Ogletree, second grade; Bob Alford, fifth grade; and Mrs. Jenny Lenn Alford, special education.

Miss Ogletree is a former Olton girl, having graduated from Abilene Christian College last spring.

The Alford's came here from Grand Prairie.

Resignation accepted by the board was that of Ella Ruth Williams, second grade teacher.

3 Hurt As Car Goes In Ravine

An Olton boy and two of his college classmates Thursday night plummeted 30 feet into a ravine when they tried to dodge a deer on a rain-slicked highway near Taos, New Mexico.

The boys lay unconscious with one trapped for eight hours in the rain before being discovered.

Injured seriously are Gary Lawson from Olton and Wayne Carter from Kress. Another boy, James Hukill from Fieldton received a knee injury. He is the only one who has been released.

Lawson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Drexel Lawson, remains in a semi-conscious stage in the Holy Cross Hospital in Taos. He received a severe head injury and a broken arm.

Carter is still reported in serious condition with a punctured lung, a crushed shoulder blade and deep cuts on his back and head.

Mrs. Pink Lawson, Gary's grandmother, said the boys were between Red River and Taos when the accident occurred.

She said when the young men, all college seniors at West Texas State University, tried to miss a deer, their car ran off the pavement and hit a boulder, sending them crashing into the ravine.

She said the automobile struck a tree and pinned Hukill, the driver, to the wheel and threw the other two out.

None of the boys was able to go for help, and they lay helpless until the next morning before being found.

"I lived a thousand years in those eight hours," Hukill told Mrs. Lawson, "listening to them moan and call."

The mishap took place about 11:30 p.m.

Doctors were more optimistic

Wednesday about Lawson's and Carter's chances, although the doctors could not set Lawson's broken arm until then.

Mrs. Lawson said her grandson's condition was improved and that he spent a more restful night Tuesday.

Baptists Set Revival Sept. 8-15

Revival services begin this Sunday morning, Sept. 8, and continue through Sunday, Sept. 15 at the Olton First Baptist Church.

Services will be held daily at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. The nursery will be open for all services, and the public is invited.

He was with the Olton First Baptist Church last year in a meeting.

Born in Salem, Oregon, in 1920, Rev. Harris was graduated from Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary in 1946 and received his DD Degree from Wayland College in 1956. Married and the father of four children, he is a former classmate and friend of Billy Graham.

Singleterry Named As Co-Op Manager

Glen Singleterry, manager of Olton Grain Inc., the past five years, will continue as manager of the elevator as it becomes Olton Grain Co-Op, it was announced this week.

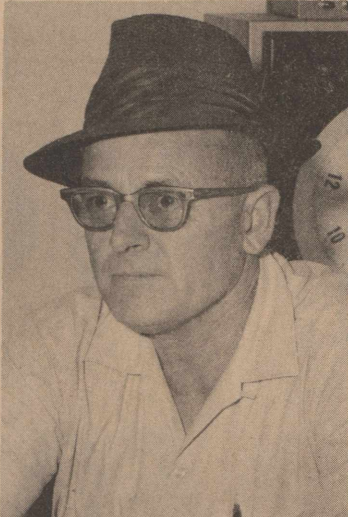

Making the announcement was James Cowart, president of the board of directors of the co-op.

"We are certainly happy to have a man of Glen's experience and background as our manager," Cowart said.

The co-op group is now in the process of closing its agreement to purchase the grain elevator from Frank Cornelius, Jack Straw and D. M. Granbery.

Singleterry a resident of Olton the past seven years, became manager of Olton Grain when it was established. Before coming here in 1956, he was in the grain business at Mountain View, Okla., for four years.

Nazarene Slates Revival

A widely-known evangelist will be in Olton Friday, Sept. 6, to begin a 10-day revival service at the Church of the Nazarene.

The evangelist, Rev. Clifford Mayo, has conducted campaigns in most of the United States and Mexico.

Services at the Olton church will begin at 7:30 each evening. Singers at the revival are to be Mr. and Mrs. Dean Newson of Lubbock.

Rev. Mayo's crusades have taken him as far south as Chihuahua City, Saltillo, and Mexico City, all in Mexico.

The evangelist is a graduate of Texas Tech (BBA, 1949) and Asbury Theological Seminary, Wilmore, Kentucky (B.D., 1952).

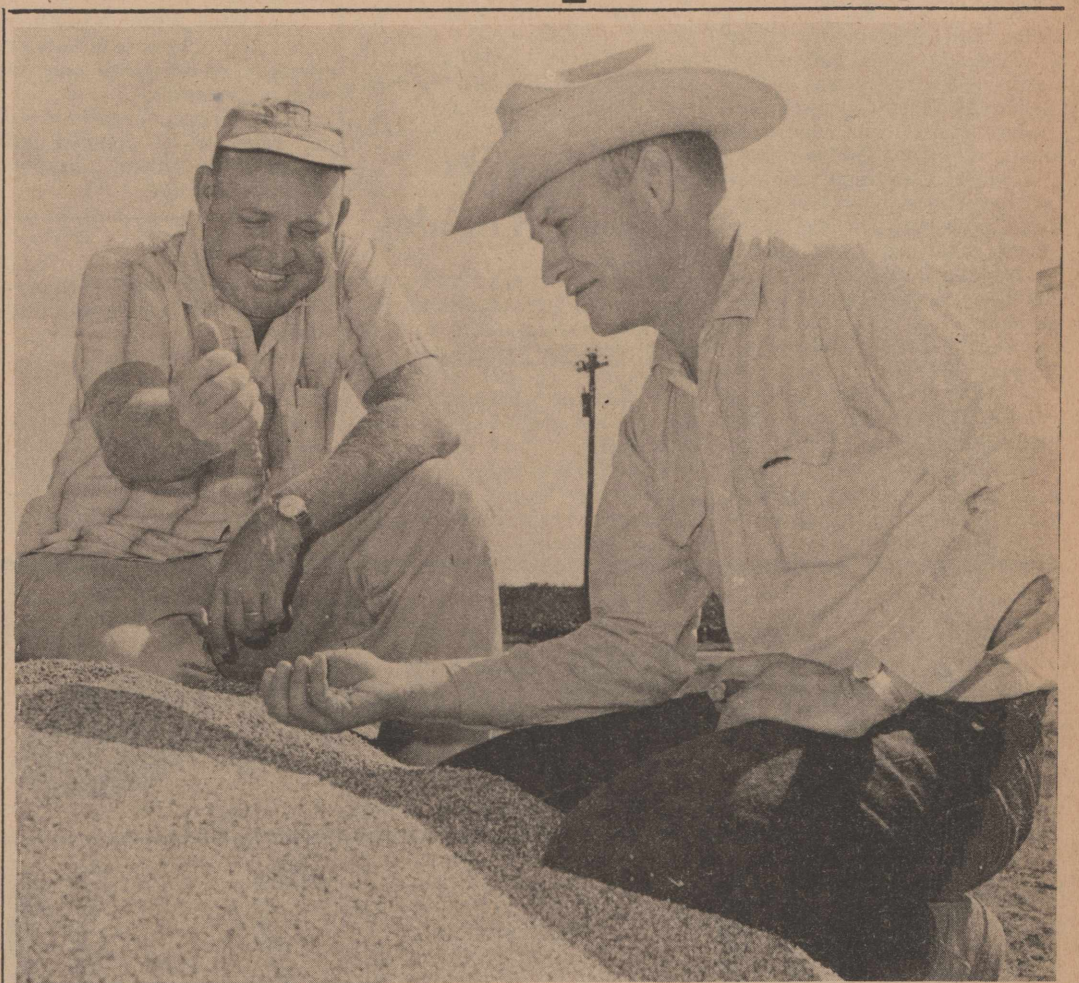

He was the evangelist for four years for the greater Tri-City Area Interdenominational Youth Crusade, in New Albany, Indiana. He also was the evangelist for the United Wesleyan Crusade in Dallas, where capacity crowds reportedly packed the building night after night.

At the age of 36, Rev. Mayo has completed one year as a Methodist home missionary to Latin America; six years pastoring, and eight years in the field of full-time evangelism.

GARNER BALL fondles the first load of grain delivered in the Olton trade area. The Olton farmer is shown here as he drops a handful of the grain into the hand of buyer Dan Williams, manager of M-C Grain number two. The load, 20,750 pounds was cut and delivered Tuesday.

Garner Ball Gets Area's First Milo

Garner Ball was a proud man Tuesday when he rolled into M-C Grain Company Number Two with the first load of grain cut in the Olton trade area.

Dan Williams, manager of the elevator, north of Circle weighed the maize in at 20,750 pounds and paid Ball $2 a hundred as a first load bonus.

Ball said, "I planted the feed the 24th of April, putting down seven-and-a-half-pounds of seed an acre."

Moisture content on the Asgro R-12 grain was 16.54. Ball said he was afraid it might be a little higher because of Tuesday's humidity.

The load was cut off the Gene Mitchell place about a mile north of Olton. Ball said the cutting plot was measured at 3.2 acres.

"I'm hoping for 6,000 to 6,500 pounds an acre," said the farmer, "and it may go higher than that."

Ball pre-watered once before planting and irrigated three times after putting the seed down.

After the first watering, a flame cultivator was used and the crop wasn't plowed again.

Ball told that he side-dressed the grain sorghum with 160 pounds an acre of anhydrous ammonia. He didn't use any fertilizer prior to planting.

Beside the $2 a hundred bonus, Ball will be sporting a new Stetson hat, courtesy of Williams.

Builds Fire Under Grain

An Olton farmer Wednesday used a little-old-fashioned ingenuity to prod the harvest of his grain.

Earl McClain took a test of his milo to Olton Grain Wednesday about noon and found it to have 16.58 per cent moisture content.

Just a little while later, he brought in a 10,000-pound load to the elevator, the second load of Olton's young grain harvest.

The whole load tested 14.51 per cent moisture.

How did he lower the moisture a full two percentage points?

He set a little fire to the plot he was planning to harvest.

Using a flame cultivator, McClain flamed the crop just ahead of the combine.

"I don't know whether it'll work all the time," said McClain. "It's the first time I tried it."

The farmer explained that he had received rain on the crop over the past few days and that there was heavy dew along with high humidity each morning.

"I'm not sure," he said, "whether flaming would have that much effect all the time."

Perhaps the key to the whole thing is that McClain also flamed the crop a week or 10 days before the harvest.

"That flaming made the crop look like the frost had hit it and it made for easier combining," he said.

McClain, who farms six miles southeast of Olton, said he'll have to experiment some more before he knows how much effect flaming will have during the regular run of the harvest.

Hale Center Man Buys Ford House

The sale of Hall-Sides Motors Inc., Olton's Ford dealership, to a Hale Center man was announced Monday.

New owner is M. K. Fisher, Jr., a 24-year-old businessman who already has established himself as one of the nation's youngest Ford dealers.

Fisher also owns the Hale Center dealership, Fisher Ford Sales. The Olton business will be known as Mustang Ford Sales.

Announcement of the sale was made by the three owners of the Hall-Sides dealership, G. T. Sides, James Hall and Howard Hall. They purchased the business five years ago.

"I'm certainly happy to be in Olton," Fisher told the Enterprise. "We want to do our part in the things that will help the community progress."

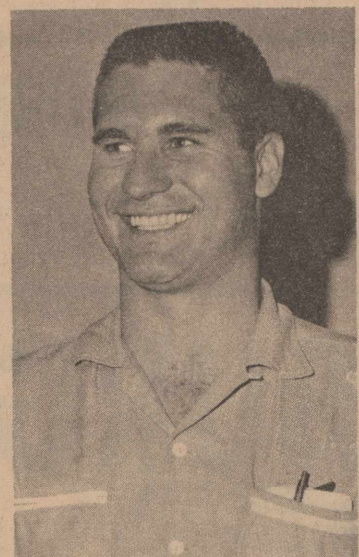

Fisher, an ardent sports fan, named his new business after the Olton schools' athletic team nickname, "Mustangs."

A native of the Hale Center area, Fisher went to school at Cotton Center. He and his wife have three children. They attend the Baptist Church.

The Fisher family plans to move here later, when housing becomes available.

In addition to his Ford businesses, Fisher has farming interests.

Much of the staff which operated Hall-Sides is being retained. James Hall will remain with the business as sales manager. Jerry Dennis, who served as parts manager until a few weeks ago, has returned to serve in that capacity. New assistant manager is

M.K. FISHER, JR.

Albert Martin, a veteran of 35 years' experience in the car business. He previously owned Martin Motor Co. in Hale Center when it was the Ford dealership there.

L. A. Blackwell will remain as service manager. Others in the service department are Jerry Young, Vernon Carlisle, Ralph Saldivar, Lupe Saldivar and Jack Salas.

A bookkeeper for the firm will be employed in the near future, Fisher said.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT BONNER

Smith-Bonner Wedding Solemnized Saturday

Miss Hazel Elizabeth Smith and Robert Gayle Bonner, Amarillo, were united in marriage in a candlelight ceremony performed Saturday night, Aug. 31 at 7 p.m. in First Baptist Church, Olton.

Rev. John E. Lewis, pastor, officiated for the double ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Smith Jr. of Olton and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Bonner, Amarillo.

Basket arrangements of white gladioli and orchid mums, a background of greenery and white tapers burning in wrought iron candelabra decorated the altar area. Pews were marked with bows of white satin ribbon.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal wedding gown of traditional white French lace over satin, fashioned with sweetheart neckline, traced with pearls, and a fitted bodice with long petal point sleeves caught by tiny covered buttons.

The floor-length skirt of lace fell to a full chapel train. Her elbow-length tiered-veil of silk illusion was held by a small crown of pearls and iridescent crystal beads. The bride carried a bouquet of white sweetheart roses surrounding a white orchid atop a white pearl Bible.

Mrs. Al Wilson, organist, provided a prelude of nuptial selections and accompanied Al Wilson as he sang "Whiter Thou Goeth" and "O Perfect Love".

Maid of honor was Miss Kay Pafford of Claude with Miss Marilyn Gilmore, Slaton, former schoolmates of the bride, serving as bridesmaid.

They wore identical dresses of orchid brocade satin with basque bodice, short unmounted sleeves, shallow bateau neckline, slightly scooped back and wrapped street-length bell skirts. They carried nosegays of orchid carnations encircled by net and satin streamers.

Serving as best man was David Bonner, brother of the groom, Amarillo. Groomsman was Gene Sanders of Amarillo. Ushers were Billy Roy Smith, brother of the bride, Royce Wheeler, cousin of the groom, Amarillo, George Weed and James Urton, both of Lubbock. Royce Wheeler and Billy Roy Smith also served as candle-lighters.

For something old the bride wore a pearl pin belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. W. B. Smith Sr., Hale Center, something borrowed was her head-dress, belonging to Mrs. Joe Allen of Port Neches; something blue was her lace garter; and she had a lucky six pence in her shoe.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church with Miss Jo Anna Lewis and Miss Judy Pinson presiding at the serving table. Guests were registered by Miss Charlotte Seago of Plainview.

The serving table was laid with a white cloth centered with a three tiered wedding cake, decorated in white wedding bells and topped with a miniature bridal couple. Crystal and silver appointments were used. Crystal candelabra with orchid candles and the attendant's bouquets completed the table decorations.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Smith chose a royal blue celanese arnel street length dress with matching mohair jacket and black accessories. Mrs. Bonner wore a coral Italian silk chiffon costume suit with black accessories.

Out-of-town guests were registered from Amarillo, Lubbock, Hale Center, Abertnethy, Pampa, Dallas, Slaton, Claude, Plainview and Littlefield.

For traveling to points of interest in New Mexico and Colorado, the bride chose a three piece knit suit in shades of raspberry with black accessories, and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Olton High School. She attended West Texas State University two years, where she held office in Phi Gamma Nu sorority. She is presently employed as secretary to the manager of Texas Employment Commission, Amarillo.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Palo Duro High School, Amarillo and attended Amarillo Junior College. He is now a junior at West Texas State University and is employed by the U. S. Post Office, Amarillo.

Parents of the groom hosted a rehearsal dinner at Era Maye's Dining room in Olton Thursday night at 8:30 p.m.

"We feel good...living in our Total Electric Gold Medallion Home"

SAY THE FLETCHER SIMS FAMILY OF CANYON, TEXAS

"Allergy had been a problem with our family before we had our all-electric home, but we've noticed a marked improvement in the three years we've lived here," says Mr. Sims. "We've taken full advantage of our electric heat pump and the electric air purifier to maintain dust-free air inside our home," continues Mr. Sims.

Mrs. Sims finds her electric kitchen to be the favorite part of her home because of the ease with which she can prepare the family meals.

Mr. Sims points out the simple control on the electric air purifier which automatically rejects pollen, dust and other irritants, giving the Sims family clean, fresh air throughout the home.

Olton School Enrollment Shows Slight Increase

Olton school officials opened doors Monday on the 1963-64 term and counted 1,096 students in the first day's enrollment. The total had jumped to 1,146 by Tuesday.

Compared to last year on the first day of school, there was an identical number of students registered. This year's second day saw a boost of 13 students over the 1,133 who entered class last school term.

A breakdown in grades shows the first grade to be the largest in the system with 145 beginners. There were 137 last year in the first.

There are six first grade rooms. Of the total enrolled in the first, there are 75 Latin American children and 70 Anglo Americans.

In the second grade 109 students were enrolled in comparison to 133 last year, a drop of 24. There are four second grades with 70 white children and 39 Latin Americans enrolled.

The third grade, of which there are five rooms, had an enrollment of 124, compared to the 115 last year.

In the four fourth grade rooms, 118 students were counted, while the tally last year was 113.

Out of the four fifth grade rooms, 105 students came by Tuesday in relation to the 116 last year.

The sixth, of which there are three rooms, had an enrollment of 105 students. There were 108 last school term.

Seventh graders totaled 94 in the three rooms and held the same number as last year.

In the eighth 103 students reported to class, compared to 86 last year.

In the freshman category, there were 69 students registered. Last year there were 78. Sophomores enrolled 72 this term, contrasted by 81 last term.

Junior enrollment advanced from 37 last year to 70 this year.

Seniors dropped from 43 last term to 32 this one. In Bohner school 150 students were counted in the second day of registration, compared to the 115 last year. There was an increase in the Negro enrollment by 35.

An enrollment report issued by the school system showed the overall Latin American percentage of students to be 31.33.

There was 41.93 per cent of Latin Americans in the first five grades and 26.49 per cent in grades six, seven and eight.

A high school percentage of Latin Americans was figured at 10.70.

Students returned to find in many cases that their classroom had a new paint job and new seats.

Supt. of schools Johnny Clark said the old wing of the elementary school had been painted as well as parts of junior high, high school and Bohner.

A new science lab and library facilities were installed at Bohner.

Clark said the school had also bought three new buses for this school year.

He told that the football field would be better lighted with the addition to 72 lights instead of the original 48.

visitors. He told teachers their students should not be permitted to leave the classroom to see a visitor and teachers and students should be called to the phone from a class only in an emergency.

LUBBOCK VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Huckabee and Carol of Lubbock, visited in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Huckabee, last weekend.

VISITS PARENTS

Dedication Emphasized To Faculty

Supt. Johnny Clark told Olton school teachers last Friday he expects them to be dedicated and professional in their approach to students.

In the first general meeting of the year, Clark emphasized to teachers the importance of having enthusiastic and alert students.

He said, "the teacher who is regardful of his success will plan his work and work his plan."

Clark told the educators that an hour of preparation by them outside the classroom should be worth eight hours the next day in the classroom.

Teachers were encouraged to give individual attention to students in the preparation of assignments. "The worth and dignity of each individual personality should be recognized," said the superintendent.

He told faculty members, however, "the first aim of education should be manhood, not scholarship." Clark pointed out that students should be trained to become good citizens and a vital part of the community. Clark also discussed other items pertinent to school. He explained that students leaving on a school bus must return on a school bus unless the return trip is made with the student's parents.

Another item Clark elaborated on was one concerning

Olton School Nurse Likes Having Children Around

A former school teacher, who expresses her love for children, is making certain she is never far from a larger number of them.

This year, she will take more than 1,000 under her care.

The woman spoken of is Leta Bell, registered nurse, and caretaker of every student in the Olton school system.

She keeps individual health records of each child, from the first grade through high school. Her tasks include work at the Bohner school.

Actually, the school nurse has been taking care of children in one way or another most of her life.

She begins her seventh year here and for five years she was the school audiometer for the entire Stanliscous County of California.

The nurse has also taught school for a number of years in between her nursing.

She said she couldn't decide whether she wanted to nurse or teach but knew she wanted to be around children.

Leta worked as supervisor of the Levelland Hospital for three years and was with St. Marys Hospital in California for nine years.

She also worked at St. Josephs Hospital in Kansas City, then earned her elementary education degree from San Francisco State.

Leta's work in the Olton system includes the testing of sight and hearing and making sure each student has his small pox vaccination.

MRS. LETA BELL
SCHOOL NURSE

She said sickness among students was more prevalent during the fall and spring. Two sickbeds are available in her office in the elementary school. "I try to care for them here until they can be taken home," she said in discussing sickness among students. The nurse encourages health exams before the start of school and advises doctors about students who need additional medical care.

County Grain Growers Meet

A meeting for all Lamb County grain sorghum producers has been called for Tuesday, Sept. 10, in the County Courtroom in Littlefield at 2:30 p.m. by G.S.P.A. chairman J.H. Angeley.

Wes Anthony, president of the Castro County G.S.P. A. will speak along with Nolan Chandler agricultural assistant of the Area Association.

Directors will be elected to represent Lamb County in the Area Grain Sorghum Producers Association as well as county officers.

The Area G.S.P.A. has carried on a program of research market development and service projects for grain sorghum since 1956.

The appearance of the sorghum midge throughout the high-plains for the past two years have made it necessary to initiate research projects to combat this and other threats to the sorghum industry.

G.S.P.A. has led the way in starting the midge research project now underway and has been joined by other segments of the sorghum industry to expand these studies.

All activities are financed by dues from producers at rate of two pounds per 1000 pounds production.

of Agriculture figures indicate that 84 percent of it came from the sale of crops and 16 percent from the sale of livestock, poultry and dairy products.

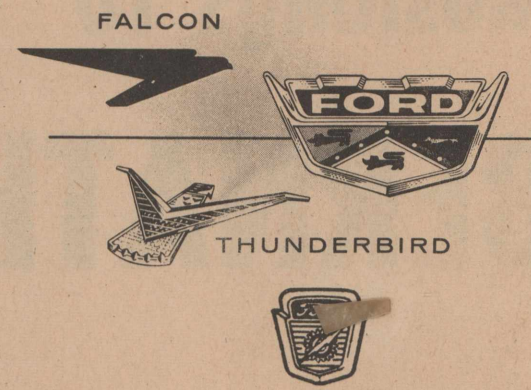

Nationally, according to Government reports, the face of farming continues to change. The drive by farmers to increase their acreage goes on, forcing the price of rural land higher and higher.

They have found that the big, mechanized units can be brought in on a paying basis only on the larger farms. Wherever they are put to use, however, production efficiency rises.

Sales of such machinery are reported increasing for the second year in a row. Last year they amounted to $1.9 billion.

As a result of this mechanization, output per man-hour on the farm has been going up at the rate of 6.5 percent a year, which is twice as fast as in manufacturing.

Edwin Oliver and Kerwin Oliver left Monday morning by chartered bus for a tour of the Rio Grande Valley with a group of Co-Op gin members. They will do some deep sea fishing while on the trip.

Lamb County Farm Income Among Nation's Highest

Special to the Enterprise--NEW YORK.--Farmers in Lamb County were better off last year, from an income standpoint, than were farmers in most parts of the United States.

Their overall receipts, on a per capita basis, were above average, according to a national report on farm incomes.

They were able to produce and market more, despite their reduced acreage than they had in other years. The gain in production is attributed to more efficient operation, made possible by the use of highly-mechanized farm equipment.

Just how the local farm community made out, compared with others, is detailed in the annual report on farm incomes, issued by the Standard Rate and Data Service. It presents figures for all sections of the country.

It shows that gross farm receipts in Lamb County during 1962 amounted to $55,594,000, as against the previous year's $52,878,000.

Expressed in terms of the local farm population, it was equivalent to $7,513 per person.

This topped the returns reported for most areas of the United States, where they averaged $2,989 per farm resident. It exceeded, also, the $3,954 in the State of Texas.

The figures on income take into account all receipts, including the cash proceeds from farm marketings, Government payments and the value of home-grown products that are consumed on the farm.

Of the amount received from farm marketings, Department

Success Story About Cotton

Jack Hurt, manager of California Planting Cotton Seed Distributors in San Joaquin Valley, will tell the "success story" of that organization to Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Thursday Sept. 12.

The PCG annual meeting is to be held in the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium, beginning at 10 a.m.

Says PCG Executive Vice President George Pfeifferberger, "I want High Plains cotton growers to hear that story as an example of what can be done."

San Joaquin Valley, through a steady improvement in the quality and uniformity of their cotton, came from producers of an unwanted fiber to producers of cotton now consistently sold at a premium.

Lamb County Pays Share For Draw Planning Party

Lamb County Commissioners Friday voted to pay this county's share of the $70,000 needed for a private planning party on the Running Water Draw watershed project.

The Lamb commitment called for the building of one flood-control structure, costing $4,167.

Other counties involved, excepting Castro already have paid their share of costs.

Castro County this week allocated $6,000 after it has been asked for a commitment of $8,333.

Hale County Judge C. L. Abernathy said, in speaking of the $2,333 still lacking, "I feel that the commissioners court (Plainview) will go along with one-half the amount of money necessary to complete the total of $70,000." The City of Plainview was planning to pick up the tab on the remaining costs.

Hale County was the chief instigator of getting a planning party because of the almost yearly flooding of Plainview.

Hale County commissioners had said in an earlier letter to the concerned counties:

"Should the money for planning not be made available, it would probably be several years before either a Federal or state financed party would be available if ever."

It was being hoped in Hale County by SCD personnel that the SCD board will give a priority to the draw project and authorize the planning party now working on the Spur project to move to the Running Water project.

The Spur project will possibly be completed within the next six months.

The share of each of the five counties in the $70,000 project included Curry County in New Mexico and Parmer County, $12,500 each; Castro, $8,333; and Hale County, $12,500.

The City of Plainview has allocated $20,000.

The 24-year-old soldier is a 1957 graduate of Olton High School and a 1962 graduate of Texas Technological College in Lubbock.

Pro-Am Set At ORC Monday

Olton Recreation Center will be host for a Pro-Am Golf Tournament Monday, with the amateur force limited to Lamb County players.

A shotgun start is scheduled for noon Monday. Entry fee is $10 and entries must be turned in by Saturday, according to ORC Pro Fred Pendergrass.

The pro-am is a prelude to the annual Lamb County Golf Tourney, which will be staged this year at Littlefield Country Club. Dates are Sept. 20-22.

lineup. They're halfback Pat Hale and quarterback Lane Wade.

The man Olton will have to keep an eye on is Jake Mallow, 150-pound junior halfback. Mallow, a shifty, broken-field runner is expected to be the key to the Antelope attack.

Coach Eddleman considers the halfback his prime running and passing threat, making Mallow a valuable man on the option from the Antelope's Wing-T.

Only one senior will be in the Antelope lineup, and he isn't a starter.

Here's how Abernathy will take the field offensively:

Ends: Larry Crowder, 175-pound sophomore; and Boyce Paxton, 160-pound junior.

Tackles: John Reagan, a rugged 180-pound junior, and Ronnie Murry, a promising 195-pound junior.

Guards: Jim Owens, 160-pound junior, who also heralds as the team's finest defensive man; and Ray Poage, 155-pound junior.

Center: Sandy Downs, 160-pound junior.

Quarterback: Mike Tannehill, a promising 145-pound sophomore. He wears number 22.

Halfback: Mallow, 150-pound junior, wearing numeral 11; and Pat Hale, 150-pound sophomore, wearing jersey number 40.

The fullback is 180-pound Nathan Knight, a junior. His number is 44.

Olton's offensive lineup, which still is subject to change, stacks up like this:

Ends: Clyde Galloway, 160-pound senior, and Darrel Glover, 170-pound junior.

Quarterback: Joe Priest, 140-pound sophomore.

Halfbacks: George Jones, 160-pound senior, and Richard Hall, 155-pound junior.

Fullback: Joe Costello, 180-pound junior.

Coach Bryan said that the rain hadn't slowed the Mustangs very much but that the boy's timing was still slow.

Olton worked on punt and kickoff returns this week as well as pass defense and pass protection.

Bryan said earlier that the Mustangs would pass more this year, trying to compensate for lack of speed.

"We're still going to play mostly straight, hard-nosed football, we don't have enough speed to get fancy," Bryan added.

He said he would sometimes split an end, for a varied attack off the T-formation.

Bryan will also spread a flanker man, making for a quick-developing pass receiver.

Football Fans' Tickets Ready

Reserve football tickets went on sale last Tuesday in the school business office for the 1963-64 football campaign of the District 3-AA Olton Mustangs.

Business Manager Elmer Moore announced that around 300 of the tickets are being offered fans.

He said, "person who had season tickets last year have the first chance the same seats this season."

Moore added that after Sept. 5, the seats will be sold to the next in line.

If additional reserve seats are needed, another section south of last year's section will be opened to fans.

The seats will carry the same price tag as last year, $7.75. Included in that price is five general admission tickets at $1.25 each.

Moore said reserve seats would be located between the two 45-yard lines.

Olton Quarterback Club will take over ticket sales, following initial sales at the school.

Young Olton Woman's Life Wrapped Up In Journalism

A tough-minded Olton graduate, with her hopes hitched to a journalistic star, has her thoughts set on becoming a top newspaper woman.

She's Gayle Machen, 21-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Machen.

Already, the Texas Tech senior has taken a giant stride toward her intended goal.

She will become the third woman ever to hold the editor's reins of the Toreador, Tech's College newspaper. The head of the journalism department there said it had been years and years since a woman held the job.

It was no accident that Gayle took over a top position where males usually dominate.

From her high school days when she began writing for the school paper, to work on the Enterprise, on to sports editor of the Hardin Simmons Brand, Miss Machen has set her mind on newspapering.

This summer she completed a tenure on the Amarillo Daily News as a staff and special assignments reporter.

Eventually, she wants to work for a wire service and/or become a foreign correspondent. Marriage is included in her plans.

"Ever since I was a little kid, I wanted to write. When I got older, I realized one could make a living at writing," said Miss Machen.

She will tell that it takes a certain breed of person to become a successful newspaper man or newswoman.

"A good reporter," she opined, "is one which has dedication, ability and conscientiousness. A person must also have an intense desire to find and report the truth."

She added that a newsman must have an obsession to stay in newspapering, disregarding early salaries.

Miss Machen believes that a good newspaper is one with complete coverage of a news area. She criticizes papers which are bias in reporting, and that select or omit and slant the news.

"It's important that a paper be adequately staffed, that there be enough writers to meet the needs of newspaper readers," she said.

She added that people need to be informed about the things they really need to know.

"Newspapers should explain to people in their own language things that are going to effect them and their nation. An example is the test ban treaty," said Miss Machen.

She is in favor of giving the people all the facts so they can decide what is true and right.

Asked for her criticism of the Enterprise, Miss Machen said, "It needs one more good, trained reporter. It's understaffed. There also could be more editorial comment or a regular editorial and a weekly feature to help pull readers through the paper."

She explained that editorials shouldn't necessarily blast and condemn, but should rather be interpretative and informative.

"Too many weeklys are afraid to take a stand on issues," said the newswoman, "I don't believe a good newspaperman is afraid."

She pointed out that it was a newspaper's job to explain, to do research, and to present anything which would make society better.

The Tech senior quoted a motto of the Abilene Reporter News, saying she favored its policy of, "Without malice to friend or foe, we sketch your world exactly as it goes."

Miss Machen says that the newspaper field is wide open for good reporters and good editors. "There is definitely openings for people who will qualify themselves and who are willing to work themselves up."

She said that more people don't go into newspapering because there is more money in other professions and because people have to work harder on newspapers.

"It's harder work than most professions," said the Olton graduate, "but there are greater personal rewards."

She told about her experiences this summer on the Amarillo paper when she was sent to Wichita, Kansas, to interview a woman who abandoned her baby in an Amarillo railway station.

"The most fascinating experience I had as a reporter on the Amarillo paper was when a circus came to town. I talked a clown into letting me dress like him, and I was a clown in the circus," said Miss Machen. She then wrote a story as seen through the eyes of a clown and what a circus is like behind the scenes.

"Newspaper work is challenging," said Miss Machen. "You're under pressure, but I like to work under pressure."

She said she has never reached a point of mental exhaustion because she doesn't consider her job drudgery.

Miss Machen said she worked harder on a daily than a weekly, but that she put in many more hours on a weekly.

GAYLE MACHEN

"I'm not conscious of the time of day unless pushing a deadline," she told. "I have a tendency to wrap my life up in journalism."

Miss Machen believes even though she is a woman, there is equal opportunity for advancement on newspapers. And she is not content to remain in the valley while the view is grander from the mountain top.

Soil Conservationist Urges Soil Practices

Lamb County Soil Conservation District Supervisors are now urging farmers to inventory soil and crop conditions. For some farmers, now is the lull in operations with a well earned rest before harvest.

For most the investment in seed, fertilizer, labor and power is complete and only the payoff awaits.

Some questions of interest are: How did your soil come through the heavy spring rains? Were your erosion control practices effective enough to keep the soil and water where they belonged?

How about soil structure? Were you successful in having enough fertility to make the moisture work to maximum advantage?

If the answer to all these questions is yes, you are fortunate.

Ice Capades "Go" Edition Opens Sept. 22 In Lubbock

America's space travelers will be honored when the all new 23rd "Go" Edition of Ice Capades opens at the Panhandle South Plains Fair in Lubbock Sunday, Sept. 22, for four nights and five matinees.

Headlining the edition named for space travel will be the Olympic skating champions Barbara Wagner and Robert Paul. This century's greatest skating pair have prepared routines for their San Antonio debut based on the routines which won them the 1960 Olympic Gold Medal.

Barbara and Bob hold four consecutive world championships, two consecutive North American championships and five consecutive Canadian championships. Before turning professional, they were elected Canada's outstanding athletes.

Also appearing with the "Go" Edition in Lubbock will be Aja Zanova, twice world's champion; the Old Smoothies; Grete Borgen and Per Larsen, both Scandinavian and Norwegian single and pair skating champions; the Maxfields, famous adagio team; and Richard Garrett.

The "Go" Edition of Ice Capades features six complete productions and 20 acts. Productions will be "Show Boat," "Fantasia Mexicana," "Rachmaninoff's Concerto No. Two," "Babes in Toyland," "Salute to George M. Cohan," and "West Point-ettes on Parade."

Showtime is 8:30 p.m., Sept. 22-27 and 3 p.m. Sunday through Wednesday, and 5:30 p.m. Friday.

Prices are $2, $2.50, $3, and $3.50; children, 13 and under, der the direction of Claude Fargason of Halfway, who is a member of the Board. He will be assisted by a Board Member on duty each hour and by representatives of the lawn and nursery industry from Lubbock, Kress and Plainview. The lawn equipment display will be located adjacent to the 15-lawn grass plots.

A feature of the Field Days, since the first one in 1957, is the farm machinery display located around the Halfway Community Building. O. R. Stark, Jr., of Quitaque is Chairman of this portion of Field Day activities. Three Board Members and three representatives of farm equipment organizations will be hosts each hour of the afternoon. This display has increased in size and number of participants each year.

Dr. Earl H. Collister, Director of the Foundation, said he would like to "extend a personal invitation to all who are interested in Agriculture to come to the Field Day to look over the crops, stay for the barbecue, then the evening program with the guest speaker, The Honorable George Mahon."

Girl Scouting Change Made

The eagerly awaited program change in Girl Scouting will begin Monday, Sept. 9, when the new Girl Scout handbooks go on sale at local equipment agencies.

There now are four age groups instead of three. These new age groups correspond to the characteristic qualities of each age span.

The Brownies are seven and eight years olds, Juniors are nine, 10, and 11. The 12, 13, and 14 year olds are Cadettes, while Seniors are 15, 16, and 17.

These four age levels will fit together in one continuous program with bridges between age levels. A girl may join at any age from seven through 17 and move forward without fulfilling requirements meant for younger girls.

There will now be only one investiture; rededication ceremonies will take place as the girl moves to the next age level.

The six basic elements of girl scouting, rank attainment, adventuring in arts and crafts, citizens here and abroad, fun in the out-of-doors, you and your home, and proficiency badge activities have all been retained as the foundation of scouting, but this is the first time these elements have been embodied in one complete program for girls, age seven through 17. The program is well-rounded, becoming more

The plans for this winter's cover crop or installation of structures come from the needs now evident. The Soil Conservation Service can assist you in planning future needs. The decision made now have much to do with the success of next years operation.

Field Day Set Sept. 13 At Halfway

Friday, September 13, will be a full day at the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway. The Board of Trustees will hold their seventh annual meeting in the morning, and the Seventh Annual Field Day will be held during the afternoon.

Mr. Harold Hinn, Chairman of the Board of Trustees and Executive Committee, has called the board meeting for 10 a.m. Friday the 13th to be held in the conference room of the Killgore Memorial Building at the Foundation. The Board will decide the research program and budget for 1964. They will also act upon further expansion of facilities and staff to conduct the research program.

Board Members will be hosts during the afternoon Field Day program in the various activities. Mr. Steve Taylor of Dimmitt, Vice-President of the Foundation, will be chairman of the hosts in the Killgore Building and laboratory and the Jim Hill Greenhouse. Eighteen Board Members will take turns escorting visitors through the building on an hourly schedule.

Graddy Tunnell, of Plainview Secretary-Treasurer of the Foundation, will serve as Chairman of the host group in the reception-registration tent, where Board Members will be receiving visitors and explaining the operation of the Foundation.

A lawn and shrubbery display and walking tours which are new this year, will be un-complex as the girls grow older. The program change was brought about after the survey research center of the University of Michigan conducted two studies surveying the needs and interests of all girls as well as what girl scouts thought of their activities.

Mahon Visits In District

Congressman George Mahon spent the first part of the week in the District, stating that the House was marking time for a few days.

Mahon said that the issues in Congress were being hard fought and indication were that Congress would be in session until much later in the year. He said that the most important pending legislation directly affecting West Texas was cotton legislation designed to deal with the crisis in cotton. The outcome of such legislation, he explained, was uncertain at this time.

With respect to pending Bracero legislation, he indicated that the chances were fairly good that Congress would agree on a simple one-year extension of the present law. In late May the House, in a surprise move, voted down a two-year extension.

Mahon stated that if the legislative program in Congress permitted he would return to Texas next week to attend the annual meeting of the Plains Cotton Growers at Lubbock and the Field Day program of High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway.

Olton Lions Make Door-To-Door Sales

The Olton Lions Club Tuesday netted $197.75 as its share from sales of Lighthouse for the Blind products.

Total money raised by the Lions in their door-to-door campaign was $791. Three-fourths went to the blind.

About 20 Lions worked for two hours each, knocking on almost every door in Olton.

They were selling such wares as mops, brooms, ironing board covers and pads, brushes, rakes and pot holders.

Earlier that day at a regular luncheon, Lions heard Benny West, a Lighthouse for the Blind representative.

West said that 75 percent of the goods sold were made by the blind, and money made from the products went to help rehabilitate and train the blind.

"This is a two-fold purpose sell," said West, "your Lions club is being helped and so are the blind. Your support helps them to be trained and enables them to stay busy."

West briefly discussed seeing eye dogs, telling the animals learn three commands, "left", "right" and "forward".

He told that many people think the dogs can tell what color a stop light is when actually the dogs watch the people.

"Many people think a blind person can tell what kind of paper money he has by feeling. That's not so, for they can't tell by impressions. Usually their means of detecting different bills is the way they are folded."

West, who wears extra strong glasses, said he, himself, has to fold the bills to tell their denomination.

"I fold a 10 long ways and a five in half," he said.

DEBORAH POLK, 11, is having the sale pressure put on her by two Olton Lions Club members as they sell for the Lighthouse of the Blind. The caravan was in Olton Tuesday, and Lions made a door-to-door march selling wares. The two Lions shown here are Herman Myers, left, and Ralph Glover.

another coach will give a short report on Floydada.

Soft drinks and coffee will be served.

All football players will be present, accompanied by their parents. The boys will be introduced by coaches, and the players will in turn introduce their parents.

Each week the Club buys film, costing $41.40 a game and sponsors an athletic banquet, which usually cost about $250, said Hall.

A "buddy system" also was introduced by Club members, whereby one person is responsible for contacting another in attendance-reminding roles.

Olton CC-A Board Votes To Back Cooley Bill

The cotton Legislative situation came in for priority discussion Tuesday morning when the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture board met for its regular monthly session.

The board voted to back a plan known as the Cooley bill, or H. R. 6169.

The bill concerns measures which would protect the production, price, and future of cotton.

Several members of the Olton CC-A board were told last week by George W. Pfeifferberger, executive vice president of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., there was a possibility this nation's 16 million acres of cotton allotted would be cut to 12 or 13 million next year.

Cooley's bill deals with keeping cotton in the channels of trade by lowering the cost of producing cotton, reducing the level of price support to reflect reductions in the cost of growing cotton, along with providing price support up to 10 per cent above the basic level established for the remainder of the crop or not more than 15 bales of each farmer's production.

The bill includes a number of other measures which the legislature is considering.

The Olton board, in other action, voted to be a co-sponsor of the annual Field Day at the High Plains Research Center, Sept. 13.

Too, they will sponsor a distributive education course here later in the year for local sales personnel.
