

Lubbock Takes Another From Hamlin In Burst of Hits

Hooks and Slides

DID YOU KNOW THAT—Cobb told young Ty not to take up baseball.

And he fell for tennis. Jim Duncan is in charge of a military camp outside Paris. He once held the world's record for the discus. Sparrow Roberts, sports expert of the Paris Herald, is said to be 27 years old. Paddy Driscoll, the footballer, got married. Her name was McCarty. Al Schacht made an umpire out of Doby Stark. And boasts about it. Jim Jeffries has a brother Jack. They're in vedette together. Manush says Moriarty nagged him so about hitting to left field that he couldn't hit 'em any place. Pete De Paolo got driving fast bugles. For the wife and kiddies' sake. When two derricks and eighteen men were removing Shanty Hogan and a sprained ankle from the field, the crowd chirped: "Gwan back to bed, Sammy Mandell was a star football, basketball and baseball player in high school. Harry Lennon, manager of the St. Paul club, offered him a trial.

WANT A HEAR ABOUT DEMPSEY?

Jack Dempsey—for reasons that suit your own liking—is doing some gymnasium work in Los Angeles and here's what Stubby Nelson of the Record has to say of him: "It goes without saying that you expect much whenever the former champion puts up his hands. Frankly, he didn't look any too good yesterday. His legs appeared bad—suffering the inevitable effects of age and hard usage. His judgment of distance and timing is poor but that was to be expected. Jack boxed two beats with Jack Lee, a trial horse in the 180-pound ranks. Lee hit Dempsey hard and the latter also landed a few solid left hooks. It looked as though Dempsey was putting quite a bit into his punches, but they didn't drop the sparring partner. Six years ago the left hook was poison—even in the gymnasium."

JUST A TIP FOR THE BOYS

When one who likes to criticize a ball player and has no handy fault to pick out, it is easy to say that he isn't game. They said it about Big Ed Morris for a while around the Southern Association last year and it followed him to the big leagues, where he is doing some star pitching with the Red Sox.

WELL, START TELLING

The failure of the Pittsburgh Pirates to get started in the National League pennant race has been one of the most discussed baseball topics of the day and every imaginable reason has been blamed for it. It is not known generally outside of Pittsburgh that Donie Bush hardly has had two successive days when he was able to present his full strength on the field. Hurts and ill have crippled the team all season.

Through Lubbock's Shops With Everetta

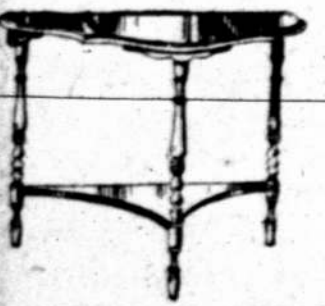

I have been noticing Jackman's window displays rather closely. I think most everyone does. They are very attractive, one always sees there some exceptional styles. Last week I saw some organdy dresses displayed which appealed to me very much, so I went in to inquire about them. They are charming, and they cost only $9.75. Most of them are flowered; all of them are dainty, the sort of dresses you enjoy wearing—the kind that make you look forward to summer. There is one plain one, however, which is really exquisite. It is honey-dew, trimmed in white, and has a basque waist, full skirt, and a long white collar. A large, full-blown flower in the center adds a distinctive touch.

You will find for sale at Bowen's Drug company the Dorothy Gray preparations. To many people, the beauty treatments and remedies of this famous woman need no introduction. In her salon on Fifth Avenue, New York, Dorothy Gray enjoys the rewards of a life devoted to the preservation of woman's beauty. Her story reads like a romance. She is the daughter of a doctor, scientist, and chemist of genius. Thus, early in her youth, she became critical of skin conditions, and spent much of her time in experimentation. Her father was her constant counselor and, together, they prepared some wonderful prescriptions and ointments. She came to New York, where she spent years of obscurity, but was finally recognized and acclaimed by actresses and women of fashion. Now, her preparations are known all over the world. Here in the West, where the wind is so devastating, it is hard to keep that "school girl complexion" without the aid of excellent creams and lotions. Why not try Dorothy Gray?

Mrs. Barkham has some unusual values in millinery this week. She is offering a choice of any of her summer hats at $5.75. The other day I went in to see them, and found some picture hats in pastel shades and white, which are astonishingly pretty. There was a large blue straw that I would certainly like to have; if I could wear blue! It is well-shaped, has a wide blue velvet band around it, and blue and orange flat flowers encircling the crown. An old jeweled ornament on the right side, finishes the effect. It was formerly a $10.75 hat, and may now be obtained for $5.75. Someone should hurry down and get it!

A furniture store is a fascinating place. Yesterday I wandered in to Rix's and had great fun strolling around, imagining a home with this gay little red end table in it, or with a living room in which that massive dark divan presided in solemn state. I went upstairs and stayed half an hour, completely engrossed in one of the most unusual breakfast tables I have ever seen. It is made of birch, with a top of bird's-eye maple, which has a beige background that shades into green, rose, and black. The four chairs which go with it, are of birch and are covered with plaid of harmonizing hue. They are upholstered, very comfortable. The table, however, is the object of greatest interest. It has disappearing leaves! You just pull up on them a little, and push them easily into the center, and you have left a table made for two, with sides of exotic color pattern. One side even has a silver drawer in it—a most convenient thing. If you are furnishing a home and want it to be different, you must go down and look at this breakfast set. It is distinctive.

As people learn more of psychology, there is a tendency to express personality in color, and to strive for a unified effect in color schemes. I was very much interested, then, to find that Barrier Bros. have introduced, during the past week, Lady Pepperell sheets and pillow cases in five colors—pink, blue, orchid, yellow, and Nile blue! Think of walking into a bedroom where even the linen is blue! You would instantly imagine it to be the sanctuary of a calm, restrained person who withdrew there for self-communion. Or there is pink for Beth, who is warm, radiant, glowing with life, orchid for sweet, untroubled, delicate Ruth, yellow for languid, mysterious Chloe of the dreamy eyes, and restful green for Mother and Dad. Besides being linen of the finest quality of pepperell, it is beautifully hemstitched. The sheets are 81 inches by 99 inches, and the pillow cases are 38 inches by 42 inches. They may be laundered just like white linen, and they will neither fade nor run. The colors are guaranteed fast. Pillow cases are 89 cents each and sheets are $2.98 each. Try matching your bedroom suite before they sell out of your color.

June seems to be the big vacation month for West Texas. And with the advent of travel, comes the problem of getting traveling clothes. Of course, every woman knows that ensembles and dark one-piece dresses are always good, but this year, they have been fashioned with marked care as to suitability for traveling wear. I looked through the assortment of navy georgettes and crepe ensembles which Grollman's have on hand, and was impressed with the varied selection. The georgettes are especially attractive. They are trimmed in lace, tucks, fagoting, and many different kinds of stitching. They range in price from $24 to $49.50. Then, there are the ensembles. One must never overlook them. An ensemble is one of the most useful of creations, and the ones at Grollman's are exceptionally desirable because most of the dresses are of print, while the coats are in solid colors. Their average price is $19.85. So, when you get ready to take your vacation, don't forget to stop by Grollman's and look at their array of dresses in all sizes and colors.

Don't you know lots of women who are extravagant in their cooking? I do. I know women who run their grocery bills up unreasonably every month because they cook too much, and the leftovers spoil in a very short time. Now, there is at least one good remedy for that. With the appearance of electric refrigerators, leftovers may be saved for an almost indefinite length of time, and the General Electric refrigerator, handled by Sherrod Bros., seems to be, by far, the best on the market. In the first place, experience has proved that General Electric products are safe investments, and then, 64 expert workmen of the company experimented fifteen years before they put their refrigerator before the public. As a result, we have an ideal arrangement, by which no machinery is exposed, the running is quiet, and the average cost for maintenance (electricity bill) is $1.30 per month, even with the largest size. A test was made in Amarillo, not long ago of a General Electric refrigerator. Milk was kept in it for more than 60 days, and was just as good when it was taken out as it was the day it was put in. Besides preserving food, electric refrigerators have another invaluable use. Ice can be made in them by setting trays filled with water in a compartment prepared for them. And, here is a cheerful thought for the housewife. Each General Electric refrigerator carries with it a book containing 140 recipes for frozen desserts, which may be made right in the refrigerator.

If there is anything in the realm of fashion more alluring than felt hats, I want to hear about it! The felt which Mrs. Eastham is showing now are really works of art. It must require no little technical skill to make hats of such striking lines—lines for every type of person. In the collection, there are dainty orchid felts, pink yellow, and tan, with sport hats predominant. But most popular of all, and justly deserving their popularity, are the white felts. They are, of course, the most practicable hats to be chosen. They harmonize with any color scheme and fit almost any type of costume. And, too, they give such a "well-dressed" feeling. You may wear them equally as much in the fall as in the spring, and be sure that they are appropriate. You should go and see them. No wardrobe is complete without a white felt.

I'm going to have a birthday before long, and I know what I want. I want one of those vanity kodaks that are being sold at the City Drug store. They are quite the cleverest Parisian innovation I have seen. They are of a convenient size for carrying, about the size of a rather large vanity. They are of genuine leather, and come in colors to match the gayest of flapper dresses. Fascinating, these colors! Redbreast—bluebird—cockatoo—see gull—Jenny Wren. The vanity kodak is a real novelty, chic, just the thing that the co-ed is on the lookout for. Not to mention the convenience of taking along on a date a machine which works with watch-like precision and which will make a 1 5/8 inch by 2 1/3 inch picture and which is no trouble at all to keep up with.

Mrs. Abney's shop, next to Hotel Lubbock, is a delightful place to visit. She has so many extraordinary novelties. One could find there the thing which would put the finishing touch to almost any type of costume. She keeps a splendid line of dresses. The Arthur Weiss dresses are noted for their distinctive cut and design. They are stunning in their tailored simplicity. I am thinking of one in particular, a two-piece georgette, in three tones of brown. The top of the blouse is a light brown, and it gradually deepens to a rich chocolate color at the bottom, which is set off with a dull-gold belt. The same scheme is carried out in the skirt, the front of which is pleated. There are other dresses just as beautiful to be found there—crepes, chiffons, Mallison prints—all of which seem to breathe poise and self-assurance, qualities which all women strive, consciously or unconsciously, to attain.

"The call of the open road" is the strongest call of all. To follow it, means adventure and intense living. For those who have the leisure and the means of satisfying this desire, I can think of no greater pleasure than owning one of the splendid new model Packards which the demonstrator at the Super-Service station showed to me yesterday. There are seven models, each perfect in its class, a supreme car. They are the runabout, the phaeton, the coupe, the touring-car, the sedan, the club-sedan, the limousine, and they come in every desirable color. Recently, a Packard was driven from Oakland, California to Detroit, Michigan, a distance of 4718 miles, in four and one-half days. This is a record of approximately 1200 miles per day. One of many outstanding advantages of the Packard is the fact that it is self-greasing. The lubrication of the chassis is accomplished simply by pulling the plunger on the handle-dash. This is one reason that the Packard is "the Restful Car." If you don't believe it, "Ask the Man Who Owns One." After that, you will go into the Super-Service station, see the demonstrator, and in two days, you will have your Packard from Dallas.

Equalization Fee May Be Left Out To Speed Passage

McNary, One of Authors, Says Necessity for Some Farm Relief Is Paramount Issue.

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, June 16.—Willington to sidetrack the equalization fee in the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill in order to get farm legislation passed in the next congress was expressed today by Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, one of its authors, after a conference with Herbert Hoover, Republican presidential nominee. McNary said he believed that the farm relief bill, without the equalization fee which twice has brought about a presidential veto of the legislation, would offer some measure of aid to the American farmer, and would assure early passage during the next session of Congress.

Secretary Hoover had nothing to say regarding the fifteen minute conference with the Oregon senator this morning, but McNary declared that he was "sympathetic and anxious to relieve the distress of our farm population."

"I still believe in the fairness and soundness of the plan," McNary said with reference to the equalization fee provision. The necessity, however, of some measure of relief is so imperative as to warrant the suggestion that differences of opinion must be composed and a common ground found for successful congressional action.

"In my judgment, the enactment of the bill passed by the last session of the congress with the omission of the equalization fee would improve conditions of agriculture. At least it would supply the basis upon which helpful legislation could be fashioned."

The Oregon senator's secretary said that he does not contemplate abandonment of the equalization fee, but is willing to have the farm relief plan as passed at the last session tried out without such a provision.

Indians Pay Tribute to Curtis

Kaw Tribe, Though Undemonstrative By Nature, Give Sincere Praise

(By Associated Press) KAW, Okla., June 16 (AP).—In their staid Indian way, members of the Kaw tribe today were voicing their gratification that a blood member of their clan has been bestowed the second highest honor within the gift of a great national party—the nomination of Senator Charles Curtis of Kansas as republican candidate for vice president.

The Kaws are an undemonstrative people, but their rejoicing was as sincere as the more exuberant celebration of their tribesman's white friends in the Indians' old Kansas home on the banks of the Kaw. Their home now is a reservation in a sequestered bend of the Arkansas river.

Charlie always was a good boy," said Old Ben Fronkier, 88, the tribal sage, who knew the vice presidential nominee as a boy on the Kansas reservation. That laconic statement, perhaps, paid the senator a tribute as any fluent speech of a polished orator.

"The Kaw Indians surely are proud that Charlie Curtis was nominated," said Tiyah, the woman tribal chief, known among white folk as Mrs. John Eads. A simple telegram, "the Kaw tribe congratulates you on your success," was dispatched last night to the nominee by Mrs. Eads.

Mrs. Jim Auld, a cousin of the senator, expressed her gratification that her kinsman had been honored and said the Indians had been certain that he would be accorded the vice presidential nomination. Mrs. Auld, a quarter blood Kaw, lives on the reservation with her husband, a white farmer.

NEW PLAINVIEW HOTEL

Construction To Start Within Sixty Days

DALLAS, June 21 (AP).—Construction of the new Hilton Hotel in Plainview will begin within 60 days, C. N. Hilton, president of the Hilton Hotels, said today, in announcing that Henry Coke Knight, Dallas architect, would draw plans for the new structure.

Contract for the hotel, fifth in the Hilton chain of Texas hotels, was signed Friday. It will be of eight stories, at the corner of Austin and Sixth streets, and will contain 110 rooms. The third hotel in the chain, that at Waco, will be formally opened July 3, and bids for construction of the fourth unit, at San Angelo, will be opened next Thursday.

(By Associated Press.) DALLAS, June 16.—Members of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association have nominated twenty of their number by ballot to represent them upon the board of directors of the association for the year starting July 1. General manager Harry Williams announced Saturday.

Eight new directors and twelve of the present directors were nominated, he said. "Formal election will be had at the annual membership meeting here Monday, June 25."

The state is divided into twenty districts from which members elect this number of directors.

The new directors nominated are J. B. Rush, Byers, Paul M. Payne, Mount Pleasant, R. P. Lehman, Buckholts, M. E. Huffman, Palestine, Fritz Engleheart, Eagle Lake, W. H. Hames, Crosbyton, C. A. Barron, Lamesa, and V. B. Carothers, Sylvestre.

Unless the target of a determined, though somewhat scattered, effort, which intends to fight him to the end.

Virginia Yet Doubtful

Only the delegates from one state—the 24 from Virginia where a convention will be held next week—remain to be chosen. With 733, 1-2 of the 1100 convention votes needed to nominate, the Smith men claim that their candidate is within an ace of that total, and may have it before balloting begins.

Of the 684 delegates placed in the Smith column by his supporters, 516 are classified by them as initially instructed or pledged for him. The remainder, as they see it, are uninstructed delegates who are to support the New York rumor at the outset. In addition, they have their eyes on 38 additional state votes which they predict will swing to Smith quickly. This would give him within a dozen votes of the number he would need to go over.

Smith Figures Challenged

The computations of the Smith men are challenged, however, by his political foes, who concede, though he probably has more than a majority in the bag, but who contend with vigor that he is far from the necessary two-thirds.

One of the objectives of the Smith opposition has been to build up a block of votes that not only would comprise more than one third of those in the convention, thus giving it a veto power so far as the nomination is concerned, but also would hold together in the face of raids by the Smith forces.

They insist they have the strength and determination to hold out. The friends of the New York governor predict that the opposition lines will be shattered almost before the convention settles down to balloting.

Have "Hold Out" Strength

For the most part the opponents of Smith are looking to the south and to states having "favorite son" candidates for their hold-out strength, and are hoping to make a showing that will convince the New York executive that he cannot win and lead to his withdrawal.

His boosters, on the other hand, are doing their utmost to bring about a situation where he will win quickly and without factional strife. To win in November, they contend the nominee must be named without an outbreak of bitterness.

They are counting strongly on second choice support from such "favorite son" states as Ohio, Kansas and Nebraska, and predict that before the mind-up many of Indiana's delegates will be on their side.

Gets Kentucky Votes

During the past week, Smith picked up Kentucky's 24 votes at a stormy state convention. His friends were jubilant, pointing out that the coalition had been counting on the delegates from the Blue Grass state in their "stop Smith" campaign, and declaring that the action of a border state would have a tremendous psychological effect on delegates to the Houston convention.

The Smith people, however, did not fare so well in North Carolina. An uninstructed delegation was named in that state, with indications that most of the delegation would support Cordell Hull, Tennessee's "favorite son."

Mangum Storm

while hospital authorities learned that nine persons had been seriously injured.

The storm, which took a southerly direction, struck Headrick where it unroofed the hotel, and did considerable damage to residences. Some persons were reported injured at Headrick. But it was believed that no lives were lost. The storm next was reported to have struck 7 miles west of Snyder, Oklahoma, where others were reported injured, none seriously, and to have hit a construction camp on the North Fork of the Red river where a new bridge is being built. No serious damage was reported from that district.

Only a few walls remained at Headrick among them part of the building occupied by the First National bank. Parts of wooden buildings reduced to kindling wood, littered the landscape.

Relief agencies at Altus sent out field workers and were preparing to care for homeless, who will number many hundreds, and who will have to be furnished food and other necessities, most of them lost all their possessions.

Tom Bellows, Blair real estate dealer was standing in the door of a cafe when the tornado twisted into the town. He said he heard a girl scream. After the storm he discovered that every part of the building, except the doorway in which he was standing had been demolished and swept away. He was unhurt.

A man named Massie at Blair was in his automobile when the blast struck. While Massie was in the car it was turned over 3 times and landed in a ditch. He also escaped injury.

W. G. Bell, a traveling man, was on the highway 10 miles east of Blair. He reported his car wrecked, but he was not hurt.

Two men inside a brick building at Blair owe their lives to a store counter. They crouched under it when the screaming of the wind gave the alarm. Five feet of brick was piled on them, but the counter held and they were not injured.

Information was slow coming in from Headrick, three and a half miles southeast of Blair. At Headrick, three and a half miles southeast of Blair, I. L. Massey appeared after the storm with the steering wheel of an automobile in his hand. He said the tornado hit when he was three miles from Headrick, blew him and the steering wheel out of his touring car and demolished the car. He said he was unable to find a piece of it.

Four Negroes Reported Killed At Mangum, Okla.

SNYDER, Okla., June 16.—Four negroes were reported killed at Headrick, Okla., and several struck that town late tonight.

The storm which ripped through the main part of the business district wrecked the Methodist church and damaged several buildings, a new concrete bridge across the North Fork of the Red river there was badly damaged, about a quarter of it being blown out by the storm.

WICHITA FALLS, June 16. (P.—) Reports here tonight were that the storm which struck Blair, Oklahoma, also swept through Martha, Oklahoma, west of Blair, blowing down about sixty telegraph poles but injuring none.

Among the injured at Blair were Cran Cates, Emmett Milburn, and a Mr. Camm. Cates was said to be suffering from injuries to his head.

Telephone wires between Wichita Falls and Altus went out about nine o'clock tonight.

M. Sidal the French draughts champion, played 106 games simultaneously at Compiegne, winning 162 losing one and drawing three.

Assuming the heart to beat 67 times a minute at ordinary heart pressure, the blood courses through the veins at the rate of 207 yards in a minute, or seven miles an hour.

Prosperity

An ordinary amount of rainfall during the summer will bring through one of the greatest crop seasons the section has ever experienced, is their prediction.

Among the list of increasing business activities are the building permits issued from the city offices for Lubbock. Three hundred and thirty-four permits have been issued this far in 1928 for a total of $1,648,328. This is an increase of 193 percent over the total for this time last year. Permits for the first five and one-half months of 1927 only totaled $560,830.

Realty Business Good

Realty transfer considerations are the next in line on increases, the estimations at this time being more than 150 greater than in June last year. Transfers filed thus far in 1928 have totaled $4,411,054.18 in considerations.

Bank resources have increased 15 percent over 1927 while bank deposits show an increase of 17 percent. In June 1927, the bank deposits were $3,393,001.59 while at this time, they are $3,991,271.25. Resources in June 1927 were $4,031,971.48 while at this time they total $4,637,902.72.

Postal receipts show an approximate increase of 15 percent over the first five months of last year and give promise of going over the $100,000 mark for 1928. Receipts for the first five months of 1928 totaled $38,589.75, while in 1927 at this time they were only $36,388.48.

Many Automobiles Bought

Registration of new automobiles in Lubbock county has shattered all previous records. More than $900,000 worth of new machines have been sold in the county since January 1, the registration records show. An average of five new cars have been sold every day this year, the total standing at 750 thus far.

Tax payments are greater this year than ever before, the tax collectors report and delinquent payments have practically all been paid. Approximately 95 percent of the taxes for 1928 have been collected, it is said.

Other phases of business in Lubbock have been showing a steady increase also. The entrance of several chain stores into the city marks greater merchandising activities.

With the influx of new settlers into the section during the coming months, the future growth and development will be hastened. The colonization programs now being employed by the Spade ranch, the Yellow House land company, the Post estate and the I. C. Enochs lands, and various other large land holders are to place thousands of idle acres under the plow, augmenting still greater the agricultural wealth of the South Plains and the wholesale, retail and financial importance of the city of Lubbock.

June Total Climbs Nearer $200,000

With the issuance of four permits for $14,830 yesterday, the June building total climbed nearer the $200,000 mark, resting at $192,845 at the close of the city offices last night.

The permits issued yesterday were: $4,500 to W. A. Hicks for the construction of a five-room brick veneer residence at 2119 Avenue M; $250 to J. P. Lewis for a frame house at 409 Avenue G; $6,330 for a six-room brick veneer residence and $3,750 to Henry Deverall for a six-room brick veneer for A. P. Lyon at 2118 8th street.

Opposition For Merger Voiced

Santa Fe Acquisition Of Orient To Be Opposed by Group Boosting New Gulf Rail Outlet.

SAN ANTONIO, June 16. (P.—) Directors of the proposed Gulf and West Texas railroad, which would connect San Angelo with tide water will meet here Monday to outline a plan for fighting the reported merger of the Santa Fe and the Orient.

In case this merger was completed, directors of the proposed new road believe the Orient would be used as a feeder for the Santa Fe. The Gulf and West Texas had hoped that the Orient would serve as a feeder and give the new line a large tide water freight tonnage.

Local committeemen believe they have good grounds for opposing the merger since the Santa Fe and Orient compete between San Angelo and Kansas.

If it is found impossible to block the Orient-Santa Fe merger the local men will attempt to interest the Santa Fe in giving San Antonio a connection with San Angelo.

SAN ANTONIO, June 16. (P.—) Recommendations that the Junior Chamber of Commerce in the United States seek chairs of aviation in the colleges and universities of the country, advocating the teaching of ground courses in the junior schools and uphold the hands of the department of commerce in its air regulation were approved by the national convention of the chamber here today.

The resolution covered many phases of aviation and advocated stricter enforcement of present regulation, passage of still stricter ones encouragement by the government of the study of aviation by groups of young men and standardized air marking for all towns and cities. The government was urged to mark all important air highways.

Hundreds

—have taken advantage of the wonderful savings opportunities on smartest of summer apparel that this great sale presents. It is an economy event without an equal and if you do not make the most of it, you lose immeasurably, the opportunity that hundreds of women watch for each year.

Drastic Reductions

—prevail on every item of apparel in the store. This smart shop for women is noted all over the South Plains for the superiority of the style of its garments as well as the regular wonderful low prices. That is the reason that a Jarett's Fashion Shop clearance occasions more than ordinary interest on the part of those women who are shrewd judges of value. Not an item of apparel in the store has escaped the sharp reductions that have made it a sensation since it began, and it is an event that you surely cannot afford to miss.

Boyd To Address
W. T. C. C. Session

General Counsel Of Petroleum Institute Speaks To Main Assembly June 19
In Annual Convention

FORT WORTH, June 16.—W. R.
Boyd, assistant secretary and general counsel for the American Petroleum Institute of New York, will be the principal speaker for the oil and gas division of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce during the annual convention to be held here
June 18, 19 and 20.

Mr. Boyd will speak at 11:30 o'clock June 19, before the main assembly. In the evening at 6:30 o'clock he will be honor guest at an informal dinner to be tendered by Amon G. Carter, publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Members of the West Texas
Chamber of Commerce Oil and Gas Bureau and about sixty oil executives of the state are expected to attend this dinner.

It is likely a meeting of the bureau members will be held during the convention at which time several important matters are to be considered.

Hamilton's Report

Chairman W. B. Hamilton of the oil and gas bureau also will submit an annual report for the bureau during the convention. This report will show what efforts have been put forth to conserve oil and gas, to stabilize production and to place the industry in general on a more substantial basis as they relate to production, conservation and marketing.

Due to the fact that Fort Worth is headquarters for so many of the oil companies of Texas, it is expected the gathering to hear Mr.
Boyd will be one of the largest of oil men held in this section during recent years.

Mr. Boyd has not announced his subject. He is expected, however, to speak relating the oil and gas industry from a National viewpoint.

PLAN TAKE-OFF TODAY

Mexican Pair Would Fly
From Canada to Mexico

DETROIT, June 16 (AP).—Weather permitting, Joaquín Pacheco and Felix Velez, Mexico City aviators, planned to take off early tomorrow
from Walker Field, near Windsor, Ont., on a non-stop "unofficial capital" flight to the Mexican capital.

The fliers had hoped to take-off today, but delayed to start because of unfavorable weather reports from points along the 2,200-mile route.

Their plane, a Stinson monoplane which they purchased here a few days ago, was groomed today at the Stinson airport at Northville and was given a final inspection by the aviators this afternoon. Test flights were made yesterday.

Bananas? Oh, Yes, A Multitude

Speaking of the herbaceous fruit, Vasilios Malevitis, Chicago fruit merchant, has them. The other day Vasilios inherited a $400,000 from a grand uncle in Egypt who left a $38,000,000 estate. Here is Vasilios serving Mrs. Katherine Igoe, one of his customers, with bananas. He says he will use part of the money to help wounded war veterans and Greek schools.

DAILY MARKETS

COTTONSEED OIL

NEW YORK, June 16 (AP).—The cottonseed oil market was dull and slightly easier. Final prices were generally 1 point higher to 6 points lower.

mer yellow spot 10.00; July closed

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, June 16 (AP).—
The hog market here today was fully steady, with the top price at $9.70. The bulk of the receipts sold from $9.00 to $9.60. Sows brought from $7.75 to $8.00. The cattle and sheep trades were nominal affairs.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, June 16 (AP).—The cotton market was lower today under week-end realizing or liquidation, promoted by a bearish view of the boll weevil report issued after the close Friday; favorable carly weather reports and continued talk of probably increasing domestic mill curtailment. After selling off to 20.52 in early trading, October rallied nine or 10 points from the low, but later declined to 20.30 and closed at 20.52. The general market closed steady, at net declines of 15 to 17 points.
The market opened steady at a of 1 point. Some covering or local

WALL STREET STOCKS.

NEW YORK, June 16 (AP).—extensive readjustment of speculative accounts gave today's brief session of the stock market irregular appearance. Final quotations again disclosed a preponderance of net declines, most of which were held to a point or less. Trading was fairly heavy for a summer half day session, the day's sales aggregating 1,549,390 shares.

Except for the publication of a number of earnings reports, most of which made favorable comparisons with last year, there was nothing in the overnight news to influence the price movement. Fears of tighter call money rates next week when the federal income tax check return to the banks for payment tended to bring about some further liquidation.

Selling pressure was resumed from the start of today's market, extreme declines in many of the active issues running from 2 to 6 points. Trading turned dull on the decline and a brisk rally set in during the last hour, cutting down many of the early losses and sending a few issues above yesterday's final quotations. The recovery was stimulated by the covering operations of "bear" traders.

Radio, Wright Aeronautical and DuPont each broke about 6 points to new lows on the current reaction. Radio made up all but a point of its loss and Wright and DuPont covered about half. International Harvester dropped 6 1-4 points, and rallied one.

Chinese Victors Of Civil Warfare Now Desire Peace

Uncertainty As To Course
To Be Pursued by Peking
Captors Dispersed With Statement.

SHANGHAI, June 16.—The commotion in China's political situation brought about by the capture of Peking from the northernists by the nationalists, and their allies now appears to be clearing up. The uncertainty has existed as to what course Feng Yu-Hsiang, the leader of the peasants' army would follow with relation to the nationalists is disappointing. Feng having ordered his troops in the vicinity of Peking and Tientsin to withdraw to the city of Peiping.

The nationalists south of Tientsin also are falling back leaving control of the province of Chihli in the hands of Yen Hsi-Shan, the "model" governor of Shansi who is an ally of the nationalists. Conditions at Tientsin are going back to normal. It is generally believed here now that reports from Mukden that Chan-Tao-Lin, the Manchurian war lord, had died from the injuries he suffered in the recent bomb explosion were true, consequently the nationalists are optimistic over the chances of Manchuria siding with their cause. During the day the nationalist government in Nanking issued an important declaration of policy including an appeal to all the world to accord fullest sympathetic understanding to the nationalist program.

This declaration states that the recognition of China has now been achieved and that the new government seeks to obtain the liberation of liberty and freedom for the Chinese people and international peace on the basis of equality for China.

streets there during the three days of the convention. "Miss South Plains" Mrs. Paul Miller secretary of the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce has been selected as "Miss South Plains" and will occupy the paramount position on the gigantic float carrying the sponsors of the fourteen towns cooperating in the delegation. The section's unit of the big parade of the convention will be headed by the Post Junior Cowboy band after which will follow the sponsors' float, the bands and delegations of the cooperating towns. Lubbock, Plainview, Florida, Slaton, Tahoka and Post will have bands in the parade.

The delegation's headquarters will be maintained at the Elgin Furniture company and officials in charge are requesting all citizens from this section to visit the headquarters as often as possible during the convention to learn of the latest details in the activities of the group. Towns cooperating in the section-wide delegation are: Lubbock, Plainview, Slaton, Levelland, Littlefield, Olton, Ralls, Lockney, Floydada, Crosbyton, Post, O'Donnell, Tahoka and Lamesa.

Fort Worth Filling With Delegates

PORT WORTH, June 16 (AP).—Although the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce does not officially open until Monday morning, the city was filling rapidly tonight with visitors from all parts of West Texas. Pre-convention activities tomorrow will consist of special addresses by distinguished visitors in the Ft. Worth churches, an inspirational meeting in a local pleasure park in the afternoon and an aerial circus at the municipal airport in the afternoon.

Warm Contest Looms. Events shaped themselves tonight for a lively meeting here next week with several warm contests in committee meetings scheduled. Two committees, resolutions and nomination, probably will not be able to determine their issues until the final session on the third day, when their action will go before the convention for ratification.

John Perkins of Alpine was the only potential candidate who had arrived tonight, he being accompanied by Dr. W. H. Morelock, president of Sul Ross College. Other candidates are C. C. Small, Wellington; A. M. Bourland, Vernon; and Dr. P. C. Coleman, Colorado.

To date but two cities, El Paso and Waco, have entered the race for the next convention city.

Kennett, Missouri, Crowd Fights Flood. KENNETT, Mo., June 16 (AP).—Almost vainly fighting to keep back the steadily rising waters of the St. Francis river, more than 3000 farmers, business and professional men, battled on tonight in a desperate effort to save the remainder of their crops and homes.

Workers were leaving nothing unturned in their unceasing toll to strengthen the weakened spots along a 25-mile front to the north of here, after the 150-foot break which occurred early today, inundating more than 2500 acres of land, and driving hundreds of families from their homes. Ample warning was given those in the area flooded and no lives were reported lost.

walk through the untouched virgin wood which surrounds Cedar Island Lodge. He noticed the winding of the stream crossing the estate in whose deep and trout-laden waters he expects to spend many days fishing this summer.

Back from his walk, Mr. Coolidge felt the temptation of the rod and reel and these were prepared for him. The secrecy which surrounds the chief executive however, prevented any word to leak out as to his fishing luck. Late today President and Mrs. Coolidge had not yet settled at which, if either, of the churches in their immediate neighborhood they would worship tomorrow. On advice of Colonel James F. Coupal, white house physician, it appeared likely Mrs. Coolidge might forego religious service tomorrow on account of her convalescence. Whether under the circumstances President Coolidge would go alone had not been decided late today.

county late Friday, leaving in its wake a trail of damaged houses, ruined crops, and in some instances, injured livestock. As far as could be learned here today, no one was injured in the elemental attack. The hail stones, which fell for a period of about 30 minutes, amass more than six inches deep on the ground immediately following the storm. Stones in a few instances were almost as large as tennis balls.

The area affected extended from about eight miles north of this city to ten or fifteen miles south, and from about three miles west to eight or ten miles east. Crops in this zone were almost wholly destroyed. In the city of Ralls, house tops and window lights were shattered, and automobiles, parked on the streets, were considerably damaged by the heavy barrage.

Democratic Leaders Delighted With G.O.P. Choice

Nomination Of Hoover, However, May Add Power To Smith Boom; Farm Row Will Strengthen Democrats, Belief

Vare Will Be Heavy Load For Hoover To Carry, Is Prediction; Al Smith Is Almost Clinch Nominee

By C. D. WAIDE
Special Correspondent

HOUSTON, Tex., June 16.—The democrats, the Big Boys of the party, some of whom are in Houston, are feeling good over Kansas City developments. They foresee in the nomination of Hoover an easy victory for the democrats provided the latter does not manage to do as they have done often in the past—make fools of themselves.

Jed Adams, of Dallas, national committeeman from Texas, expressed the thought of a majority of the big league democrats now in Houston when he said that six months ago he was afraid the republicans would nominate Hoover and two months ago he was afraid they might not. The democratic leaders are delighted over the row in the republican ranks over farm relief. They feel that the treatment accorded the farmers at Kansas City is certain to send thousands of them into the democratic ranks, with a chance to swing several Middle West states.

It is generally conceded that Smith probably will have a shade the best of Hoover in the East, except possibly in New England. The South will be virtually solid for Smith, in electoral votes. So the republicans were looking to the heavy voting Middle West, such states as Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Ohio, Illinois and Missouri, to offset Smith's lead in the South and East. But the republican farm aid platform is not considered likely to do the republicans any good in those states.

Louisianan Mr. Bill Vare, who could not be seated as United States senator from Pennsylvania because of the corruption attendant on his election, is going to be a heavy load for Hoover to carry. There is a general impression that it was Vare and not Mellon who finally decided that the republicans would support Hoover. But even if it had been Mellon, the people do not like to elect a president who gives his electionist cousin a lift of a hand of one man.

It looks now as if this country were in for the noisiest presidential fight since 1916, with no war to act as a counter attraction. As a gambling proposition there would be little to choose as between Hoover and Smith and their chances of winning. Certainly no big odds could be laid on either.

It is believed by the political leaders here in Houston that the nomination of Hoover makes it all the more necessary for the democrats to nominate Smith as the only democrat who has a chance to win. They believe this may swing some of the 111 1-2 votes now counted as doubtful.

A careful tabulation shows that Smith will get 670 1-2 votes on the first ballot, which leaves him 63 votes short of the nomination. There are 111 1-2 votes counted as doubtful, and some of these may go to Smith.

Then there are six states putting up their native sons, but whose votes will go to Smith after their native sons have been eliminated. These six states account for 164 votes.

Then five states, including Texas, are opposed to Smith all the time, although only Texas, Tennessee and Georgia of these have candidates of their own. These five states account for 154 votes.

These figures make it look like Smith might possibly win on the first ballot, but the landslide might start any time in between.

The republicans applauded Hoover for a mere matter of about an hour and a half or a bit less. Be here or be listening in when Al Smith is nominated if you want to hear a prolonged noise. They'll beat the Hoover record all to pieces.

Slaton, Seventeen Last Week, Makes 'Progress Survey'

Last Eight Years Best For Santa Fe Center; Payroll Augments Income And Aids In Prosperity

By L. A. WILSON
Special Correspondent

SLATON, Tex., June 16.—The city of Slaton is seventeen years old this week, reaching the anniversary on Friday. Slaton was founded by the Santa Fe railway company, June 15, 1911. While she is four years shy of voting age, and this being election year, too, Slaton has many things to commend her as the most flourishing seventeen-year-old city to be found anywhere in West Texas.

No formal celebration of the city's natal day was arranged this year, although a big affair was staged a year ago when the "Sweet Sixteen" anniversary party was held with thousands of people taking part on the sixteenth anniversary. However, the various meetings of business leaders, prominent citizens, old timers and others held this week turned to reminiscences as the principal topic of conversation, emphasis being laid upon the "re-markable growth Slaton has undergone in such a short period of seventeen years."

James Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frances Baker, 1402 Avenue L, has returned home after a visit in Lockney.

Mrs. Walter E. Schenck is spending the week-end with her son, Roland, in Breckenridge.

F. J. McClure, formerly manager of the Long-Bell Lumber company's yard here and who left the city several months ago, has returned as manager of the Foxworth-Calbraith Lumber company's local business.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stevens, and Mrs. J. P. Williams, of Mineral Wells, who have been the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Stevens for the past two weeks returned to their homes Friday.

Vestal Lott is visiting his parents in Amarillo.

Taylor White, county agent of Lynn county, was a visitor in Lubbock yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Davis and Mrs. Olive Fluke are leaving today for Fort Worth where they will attend the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention there next week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Soash and son, George, and daughter, Mrs. E. C. London, of McAllen, have returned from a few days visit in Dallas.

Mrs. Mamie I. Neal and Mrs. Carl Scoggin have gone to Chicago where Mrs. Neal will study piano and pipe organ, and Mrs. Scoggin will study voice.

G. C. Medley, of Childress, is here visiting relatives and friends for about two weeks.

James A. Stephens, of Benjamin, has been a business visitor in the city.

Mrs. N. L. Peters, 3421 13th street, has as her house guest, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Nabours, of Oklahoma City, and their children, Nadine and Don, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barron, of Houston. Mrs. Nabours is a sister of Mrs. Peters.

Mrs. Charles A. Guy and son, Charles, Jr., have gone to Oilton to visit Mrs. Guy's mother, Mrs. J. P. Wiles.

Mrs. B. E. Clark of Slaton, was among the out-of-town shoppers in Lubbock yesterday.

Mrs. Joe Miller and children, Dan and Jo Ann, returned yesterday from a month's visit with relatives in Austin and San Antonio.

Dennis E. Kemp, of Slaton, candidate for county judge of Lubbock county, was in Lubbock yesterday mingling with the crowds in the interest of his campaign.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Truett, 2112

system which was completed in February at an expense of $77,000, a water and sewer system covering the entire city and many other development features worthy of prominent mention.

Two Sources Of Revenue

Agriculture and industrial payrolls are the main factors in Slaton's expansion. Crops grown in Slaton's trade territory, embracing about 400 square miles, were valued at $3,000,000 in 1927. Payrolls brought in $2,000,000 more, making five millions for the year.

The Santa Fe Railway company's payroll for employees in the repair shops maintained here, in the division superintendent's office, and those serving as trainmen on the Slaton division has reached an annual average of $1,500,000. A large cotton oil mill, a cotton compress with daily capacity of 1,500 bales, and several other industries of varying kinds bring the payroll total of $2,000,000 yearly.

With a highly fertile and productive agricultural territory to draw from and with the payrolls Slaton has, the city possesses a permanency few other West Texas cities enjoy.

Building Is Remarkable

Scores of new residences have been erected during the first half of this year. Several brick buildings are being enlarged and improved. S. S. Forrest is spending $15,000 on his two-story brick hotel, making it one of the best hostleries of its size in this section of the state.

Bonds were recently voted and sold to erect a modern fire station costing $15,000, and water system improvements will cost $10,000. Contract has been let for a third deep water well to be used in boosting the city's water supply.

Crop prospects around Slaton are the brightest in the history of the CANYON, June 16.—The agricultural department of the West Texas State Teachers' college is co-operating with the Texas Wheat territory, according to farmers. Fine general rains covered the area during May, making it possible for farmers to plant their crops from twenty days to one month earlier than they planted last year when a good crop year was enjoyed. Optimism is prevalent throughout the Slaton country and Slaton people are proud of the record their city has made in the past, believing the future will surpass the record already made.

Professor Frank R. Phillips, head of the agriculture department, will lecture on co-operative marketing in Denmark. Last summer he spent some time studying this problem in Denmark.

The week's program includes some numbers given by students from the Teachers college. Mrs. Phoebe K. Warner is in charge of the program at Wayside and it is at her invitation that the agriculture department is helping to furnish the program. Judge L. Gough, president of the Texas Wheat Growers' association, is also on the program.

Outdoor Parties Are Features for South Plains Folk

Swimming Parties and Other Seasonal Diversions Take Place of Indoor Entertainments

There have not been many social events happening over the South Plains during the past week. The usual number of wedding parties have been witnessed, but swimming parties are taking the place of the indoor entertainments of previous months, and many people are leaving for their vacations.

Visitors are entertained, and suppers are held at which various candidates for office speak.

There has been much enthusiasm over the announcing of the young ladies who will represent their towns at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Fort Worth.

Fashion Finds New Costume Field As Milady Takes To Air

By NEA Service
NEW YORK, June 16.—What the well-dressed aviatrix will wear has become a question of the moment. While a few women are poised for flight across the Atlantic, thousands of others will be making shorter hops.

This, of course, brings into play an entirely new field for Dame Fashion. She is making the most of it. Practically all the better stores now feature flying costumes. And one exclusive New York store has a small shop just for "Aviatrix Attire."

There seem to be two general types of "smart flying outfits." One borrows ideas from the ever-legendary riding habit and seems essentially American. The other steps into the Alps for inspiration and emerges looking not unlike the St. Moritz skiing outfit, minus the skis.

Browns, greys and greens are the colors that smart flying women choose. Ruth Elder likes brown. These Rauche likes green.

The American type of costume shown today has swanky breeches of tan woolen whipcord and soft antelope boots laced to the knees. The shirt is cream silk. Coat and helmet are brown leather, chamoles lined.

The second suit, European in its "feeling," is of the softest green suede, with the long trousers stuffed into hand-turned antelope boots. The Russian blouse coat is a slip-on that fastens close to the neck with bone buttons.

A tight belt finds the normal waistline to give a slender silhouette. Fleece-lined pockets slant at a comfortable angle to warm the hands grown numb at the controls. The helmet of this suit is of green suede, lined and piped with a schlier green. The blouse under the coat is of a light green silk pique, with a distinctly feminine collar.

(Models from Best and Company, New York)

Styles for high-fliers. Left, the American type with breeches, high boots and warm coat; right, a green suede flying suit with slip-on coat, long breeches and antelope boots.

Several Volumes Added To Library Shelves In Month

Non-Fiction On A Variety Of Subjects Available For County Patrons and New Fiction Added

In addition to juvenile books and reprints, a variety of subjects have been added to the County Library stacks during the month according to a report made by the Librarian, Miss Frances Hoyt Ford.

Fiction books include: "Sheaves," by Oemler, "Red Rust," by Cannon, "Water," by Terhune, and "They Could Not Sleep," by Burt.

Adventure Books
Miss Ford has prepared short sketches of three adventure books, a book on classics, and a book of suggestions. They follow:

"Shower Book"—Burt.
Here we have all sorts of showers suitable for holidays, and many original suggestions for the most customary type. Special attention has been paid to the manner of giving presents.

"Under Turquoise Skies"—Robinson.
This is a soundly informative and well written volume. In it is to be found all the magic of the Southwest country, of its people in their past and present. Mr. Robinson has lived in Arizona for many years, and there are few questions the tourist could ask about that region which are not answered in this book.

"Delight of Great Books"—John Erskine.
This book has been reviewed in the Avalanche-Journal a few weeks ago. An appreciation of classics is given. The author does not teach, he does not preach, but he makes it difficult not to learn, and impossible not to enjoy.

"Glamour of British Columbia"—Glynn Ward.
This is more than a book of travel; it is a narrative of diversified thrilling experiences of a courageous and sport-loving woman who wandered far from civilization in the Canadian West.

"Dragon Lizards of Komodo"—Burden.
This is an account of an expedition to the island of Komodo in search of gigantic carnivorous lizards. To verify the fact of their existence, Mr. Burden, his wife, and a party of four ventured into one of the jungle islands of the Dutch East Indies and found the dragons of mythology were not only real and abundant, but vicious as well.

SINGS FOR CLASS
Mrs. Frank Barclay Sings For Downtown Class

Mrs. Frank Barclay, of Monahan, former citizen of Lubbock and Mrs. R. L. McKnight will sing in the services of the downtown bible class of the First Baptist church at the Palace theatre this morning. The two women formerly appeared on numerous programs in the city.

STAGGS HONORED
Retiring Rotary President At Slaton Given Pin

SLATON, June 16.—Sam E. Staggs, president of the Slaton Rotary Club for the past year, received a diamond Rotary emblem, the past president's pin, at the luncheon meeting held here Friday. The pin was a gift of the club and was presented by Roy A. Baldwin, making the presentation speech.

Staggs left here Friday afternoon to attend the Rotary International convention in Minneapolis, June 18-22. His term of office as club president expires July 1. John W. Hood is president-elect.

MAMA-IN-LAW HIS BRIDE
Here's another mother-in-law story that is no joke. George Pursh, 27, will wed his former mother-in-law as soon as she gets her divorce from her erstwhile son-in-law's erstwhile papa-in-law. The groom is 27, the bride 45. They say that their mutual affection is utterly devoted to the old mother-in-law joke. They may learn that it's the same old joke in another guise.

MOTHERS AND WAR
Two mothers of Civil War soldiers are on the Federal pension rolls. Mrs. Samantha Rover, But-ton of West Henry, Ill., is 96. Her boy was 16 and a private in the cavalry when he died. Samantha Farrer is over 100 and remembers seeing her son captured and dragged away to a Confederate prison.

Both these old women revel in the glory that was theirs in giving sons to their country. Our glorification of war has granted mothers of soldier sons this glory. Until all mothers prefer living sons to the glory that is theirs for dead ones, wars will go on. The job to make war a disgrace rather than a shining star will be made all the harder by gold star mothers who, having lost their own sons, prefer to believe it was worth while and not an utter waste.

MARIA'S PEEVE
Blonde Maria Jeritza's peeve because France did not give her the decoration of the Legion of Honor and only gave her the decoration of "Officer of Public Instruction" makes one wonder why singers and actresses and other celebrities, generally lady ones, will do these things. Don't they realize that their petty outbursts make them lose much more with their public than the bestowal of any honor upon them could ever give?

NO SOUP OFFERED
Ration Barred For Demos At Houston Session

HOUSTON, June 16 (AP).—If the Republicans at Kansas City can get along without soup for the sake of saving time in the consumption of meals, so can the democrats here. Managers of a number of Houston hotels have announced that soup will be eliminated from the line-up of table d'hôte meals during the convention.

"Soup is hard to serve," Fred Herman, maître d'hôte of the Rice, democratic convention headquarters, explained. "It sizzles and it's a problem to keep it hot while it is being served. There will be no soup on the table d'hôte dinners here during the convention."

Tea On Saturday Honoring A Bride Is Pretty Event

Miss Novelle Hemphill Honors Recent Bride At Tea; Many Guests Call During Afternoon

Mrs. John Edmison, who before her recent marriage was Miss Ulla Houston, was honored guest at a tea given yesterday by Miss Novelle Hemphill at her home, 2009 Broadway. Joint hostesses were Miss Edmison, Mrs. Earl Hunt, Miss Faye George, Miss Margaret Bennett, Miss Alma Spikes, and Miss Ophelia Steele.

A color scheme of green and yellow was used. Bows of green glassware were filled with peonies, bridal wreath, and pink tea roses.

Those in the house party were Misses Lucille Moxley, Kate Boyd, Blanche Bradley, Virginia Conley, Donna Vaughn, Geraldine Smith, Nancy O'Neill, Mrs. Charles A. Guy, and Mrs. Rosam Black. They were assisted by Mrs. Fred Spikes and Mrs. J. S. Hemphill.

The honoree was given in a smart afternoon frock of green and pink chiffon with yellow lace, and wore a corsage of corresponding colors.

The table in the refreshment room was covered with a lace cloth over green, and centered with yellow roses placed in Dresden ware. Tapers of green and yellow lighted the table at either corner.

An ice course carrying out the color motif was served.

Throughout the afternoon an orchestra played, and about three hundred guests called.

SOCIETY TO MEET
Visitation Day To Be Held At Church Monday

The W. M. S. of the First Baptist church will meet in an all day session Monday at the church at 9 o'clock. Visitation day is to be observed, and each circle is asked to be responsible for two cars.

Dr. W. R. White will speak following the lunch hour, and after this will come the regular business meeting.

Circle No. 2 will have charge of the missionary program to be given.

One-Minute Idealism Too Little Idealism About Sex Education

There should be more idealism and beauty taught in sex education, according to "Mother" Stoner, Dr. Winifred Sackville Stoner, noted feminist and mother of the prodigy Winifred Stoner.

"If parents could teach their children almost from the cradle to glorify the function of sex, it would eliminate the distressing sordidness that darkens the lives of so many millions," Mrs. Stoner contended.

"Instead of letting children think father and mother have their love on the sly, children should be told the whole truth of life and the beauty of the creative instinct."

"Children should be taught how important health and the care of their growing bodies is. There should be a whole attitude towards sex that would be cleaner and sweeter. Life today has all too little idealism in it."

"Early marriages, I think, make for sadder, more moral lives. And I am convinced if children were taught to regard sex in the right way, they would be better moral, more early marriages and greater happiness."

The Jolly Dozen club is to meet in the afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. L. Goad, 1502 9th street.

The O. E. S. is to meet at the Masonic hall in their regular meeting night at 8 o'clock. 1928 dues are to be paid at this time.

WEDNESDAY
Miss Ella Norine O'Neill and John W. Sutton are to be married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. O'Neill, 1623 Broadway, at 3:30 o'clock.

The Stephen F. Wilkinson chapter of the U. D. C. will meet at the home of Mrs. W. A. Whitley, 2305 16th street, at 4 o'clock.

CROSBYTON, June 16.—Miss Marie Rutherford has been selected to represent Crosbyton in the Pageant at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at Ft. Worth next week. Miss Rutherford was elected Queen of the senior May Day pageant at Crosbyton this year. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rutherford of this place.

Miss Rutherford is seventeen years of age and graduated from the Crosbyton high school this year with honors being the valedictorian of her class. She expects to attend the University of Texas next year.

Her dress will be of white satin under a silk and silver net trimmed with rhinestones, white stockings and white satin slippers. Her train will be of white tulle with satin trimmings with Oriental pearls and rhinestones.

Among the other delegations at the convention from Crosbyton will be the Ukelele Cadets, an organization of ten ukelele girls dressed in beautiful blue and red uniforms. They attracted much attention at the district chamber of commerce convention at Lamesa recently by their wonderful music and beautiful uniforms. They will broadcast over WBAP during the convention.

The Morning Avalanche Menu for the Day

LUNCHEON—Cheese fondue, cabbage and tomato salad, sponge, white pop-overs, cherry sponge, tea.

DINNER—Baked sturgeon with dressing, baked potatoes, beef greens, cottage cheese, rhubarb and raisin pie, milk, coffee.

Sturgeon is a large salt water fish that is at its best during June and July. Choose a piece from the thick part of the fish and parboil until the flesh shows signs of being tender. MOM and Their Letters Enclosed please find a copy of the Evening Telegram, with a picture of me, as big as life, almost. I am not quite as natural. Truth appears to me to be a state that has improved upon nature.

The first day of our fashion show, the news photographers came and snapped several of us, wearing our new dresses. And the next day, the Telegram used only my picture. I suppose it was because the costume was very smart, and photographed very well. It was not because my name means very much here.

But there was quite a little feeling about the next day because my picture was the only one that appeared. One girl fairly wept over it, and another treated me very badly. On the whole I was rather sorry it happened.

It really is loads of fun to have something to do, and modelling seems to be just about my speed. I appear in the country club number, wearing a perfect darling of an ensemble in this colored crepe de chine and jersey, and a hat of the same shade.

When I have dazzled sufficiently, I that I disappear and return wearing a coat that I am going to give to a poor girl. It is one of these very soft, wool affairs in a marvelous beige shade, this is cut in all sorts of intricate ways, but looks perfectly simple and straight when put it on.

In another scene, I wear an evening coat of rose colored velvet, that scoops tightly around my hips, and has one large stole, finished with a huge tassel that is thrown over my shoulder and dangles almost to the floor in the back.

If I had to fight flesh, along with my other battles, I think I would give up. Or if I had to live in a spinach and lettuce, I'd just as soon be one of the lower animals, and be done with it. A life of sacrifice and abnegation is not for me.

However, dieting is the one grand piece of conversation among us models. And I get along very well without any French, or without any of its quite probable that when cousin Julia and Miss Evans get me uplifted, I shall lead a lonely and solitary life. I'd better have fun while I am still a moron.

I'm sending you a picture of a crepe coat that I think would be lovely for you. Those flowing, graceful lines would make you look like a million. I believe it would be easy to copy. More anon.

There should be changed to meet the changed condition. Since the movement is recognized as a powerful one, the need now is to educate the membership and the educators who lead in anything that concerns schools, in the form of organization and in lines of procedure in accordance with national and state policies whereby the association can function toward its goal of aid welfare.

Instead of having a week of work in a college during the summer term, when a lecture and several references are given each day, Mrs. Smith says that now she thinks the time is come for the work to be put into the regular course of the school of education in the colleges.

She says that two of the Texas college heads have asked her to work on this line, as they would like to incorporate such work in their respective schools at an early date. She other educators have expressed an opinion in harmony with the one.

This would make a parent-teacher work a part of a regular credit course in the colleges that noted this idea.

That Texas educators are not the ones that want this work on above basis is evident from the references and talks Mrs. Smith with men and women from other states at the convention in

NEW YORK, June 16.—It wasn't so long ago that mothers used to say, "I'd love to have a little girl because you can dress girls so prettily."

There's no such superficial excuse nowadays for a feminist to want daughters! Dame Fashion, or someone at least, must have resented this light to the younger of the sterner sex. Color, dash and individuality in costuming the future leaders of this globe seems equally divided between girls and boys this season.

At the Tuxedo Horse Show nothing pleased me more than the smart gear the little boys wore. Their appearance augured well for a dress-conscious youth of tomorrow. There is a dress-philosophy for little men nowadays, apparently, as well as for big women.

Knickers Seen Passe
The first thing I noticed everywhere was knickers. Where are the knickers of yesteryear? Certainly not on the young legs of the socially smart. English shorts get all the votes.

Second, the authentic topping for smart outfits is none other than Dad's blazer in miniature. Master Lawrence Butt, standing with his mother, Mrs. L. Havemeyer Butt, and his sister, Madeline Frances, wore a neat and let me add, gaudy one. Its white stripes blazed forth from a vivid blue background. Quite sporty tailored was it, with notched lapels and everything. He wore a white linen suit, with shorts under it. And his socks had a modernistic pattern in blue on white. His white buck shoes had saddles of black calf.

For youngsters under five, the accepted thing at such sports events is a washable linen suit, in some color that like as not matches mother's. Little Bruce Gordon had a duck of a little yellow linen suit on Saturday, much the shade of Mrs. C. Fellowes Gordon's sweater suit.

Bruce's shorts belted with a matching kid belt onto a little waist with tricky double-breasted effect. Four big buttons and a button-holed collar decorated it. His socks were yellow. Pinks, blues, lavender and of course many white suits on this order were seen. They all have some cute touch on the collar or front.

Little Casimir Rham, Jr., with his mother, Mrs. H. C. de Rham, had a little lavender linen suit with a dainty top and linen collar and cuffs. His topcoat was a replica of the smartest camel's hair coats for men—a beige one with peaked lapels, belted cuffs and a rolled collar. His mums, incidentally, was a picture of chic in a lavender and deep purple French sports suit.

Sweater Suits
Perhaps the sweater suits designed for little men are the cutest of all master-costuming this season. Such individuality in necklines, stripes, colors and so on.

Wee Peter Widener wore a beautiful little suit of soft green, handwoven wool with a band of cream running across the shoulders, down the sleeves and forming cuffs. Around the bottom of the sweater a cross-stitched pattern in greens and cream enriched it. The smart little pants had bands of cream around the bottom.

No Modernism Here
Soft colors, beautiful wool and much diversity in necklines and touches of decoration give distinction to the sweater suits of small Social Registerites. They steer clear of the weird modernistic things one sees in shops.

But often there is a gay vividness in the color chosen. I noted Ian Gordon, standing with his little brother Bruce, in a cheerfully red jersey suit, with the shorts vivid red and the crew-necked sweater sporting collegiate stripes in tan on red. The stripes ran around. And the neck buttoned on one shoulder.

Cleveland. There is a wide spread demand for such according to Mrs. Smith. In preparation for just this demand, Mrs. M. S. Mason, associate editor of the Child Welfare Magazine, has written a text book that will soon be off the press. Mrs. Mason has been in close touch with national and state leaders and has a knowledge of fundamental principles of the work that is the result of her long and minute study and intimate connection with the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. It is believed that Mrs. Mason's book will be of great value.

Saturday Continues
Lubbock's Big Day

Red and green lights on Broadway. Lots of fun on Saturday. A man, carrying a baby, and holding a little girl by the hand, is told what to do by his wife, who has charge of three or four more children. He starts boldly across the street, but is stopped by a sign from the woman. "John, look out, that car's a-turnin'" and he jumps back narrowly missing an accident. "Daddy," says the little girl, unconcernedly, "I want an ice cream cone."

Saturday continues to be Lubbock's big day. One pushes and shoves through crowds of people who come in for a breathing spell and congregate on the corners, in search of amusement. Not the least of these amusements is the inevitable street preacher, who preaches forth his philosophy, in a quavering voice, and never seems to tire. He always draws an audience.

Lawyers sitting around talking politics, the presidency of the United States, the fate of the League of Nations, or even the county clerkship is settled within 15 minutes. "Why, not a question of it, Sir!" But, as some farmer or other Saturday visitor wanders in, all is attention, and business again takes the day.

A girl in a red dress, with over-rouged lips, punches her bashful companion and points to a pair of ear-rings in a window. "There, Jim, that's what I want. You said I could have anything I wanted for my birthday. If I didn't go out with Sam anymore. Come on in an' get 'em!" And she gigglingly shoves him in through the door of the shop.

A crowd gathers around a abandoned store building to hear the mysteries of astrology explained. The dark-skinned man who does the explaining points out on a map, the star under which each person is born. He says that kings are born under certain stars, and bootleggers and other people, under others. They can't help being kings and bootleggers. Another excuse for the bootlegger!

A man carries an open graphophone down the street, playing the "Jail House Blues." Soliciting sympathy for jailbirds, or perhaps another publicity stunt for the penitentiary?

EIGHT NEW AUTOS
Licenses Issued Saturday
Maintaining Record

Eight new licenses were issued from the offices of County Tax Collector I. F. Holland yesterday to maintain the record of five new cars a day for the month of June.

The month's total for new car registration was boosted to eighty-one and the total since the first of the year to 737.

Registration of all cars since the first of the year now totals 7,633. Two old car licenses were granted yesterday.

Scout Work Over Council Gains In Training Courses

Eight South Plains Towns Touched By Courses And Great Impetus Is Given Work Among Boys

Through the efforts of W. P. Kline, executive, and Dr. Paul W. Kline, chairman, and Dr. A. T. Stewart, J. J. Clements, J. I. Kilpatrick and J. T. Shaver, Council Leadership and Training committee, approximately 200 men know scouting better now as the result of four training courses conducted over the section this spring.

Eight South Plains towns have been touched by the courses. They are: Lubbock, Slaton, Lamesa, Tahoka, O'Donnell, Lorenzo, Ralls and Crosbyton. The schools were held at Lubbock, Slaton, O'Donnell and Ralls with students coming from the other towns.

In the course held here, 85 men were enrolled, 65 of whom completed all the work.

At Slaton 27 men took advantage of the course. The training committee was J. W. Hood, Rev. Ben G. Holloway and C. F. Anderson.

At O'Donnell, 35 men from Lamesa, Tahoka and O'Donnell are taking the course. The training committee was composed of Dr. J. C. Lovelace, of Lamesa, Dr. C. E. Townes, of Tahoka and E. M. Wilder, of O'Donnell. The course is to close on June 26.

The course at Ralls, which is being attended by 37 men from Ralls, Crosbyton and Lorenzo, closes on June 21. The training committee is composed of Dr. J. F. Crawford, Lorenzo; Roy Moses, Ralls and Roy E. Heard, Crosbyton.

The course proved to be very popular in each town and officials of the council are looking forward to a continual increase in scouting over the South Plains in the future.

Future Of Aerial Transportation A Topic Of Thought

With Commercial Line Soon To Operate Over Section, South Plains Folk Turn To Statistics

As the time approaches for the initial appearance of airplanes on a scheduled commercial line in and out of Lubbock, the vastness of the business of air transportation in the United States can be better appreciated by those living on the South Plains.

Scheduled to start service out of Dallas in the middle of July, the American Air Transport will not only make Lubbock a port of call on its route, but being at the half way point this city will be used as the western terminus of the line.

Comfortable cabin monoplane will be in service according to the management, transporting passengers and express from this city to Dallas in either of two directions.

With equal mileage and speed passengers can reach Dallas via Plainview, Amarillo, Wichita Falls and Fort Worth, or the way of Midland, San Angelo, Abilene and Fort Worth.

Is One of Many Routes

The American Air Transport is but one of the many routes starting this year following a successful 1927 when 34 lines over the country carried passengers, mail and express a total of more than 6,000,000 miles.

The safety of air travel was shown in an editorial in this week's Collier's entitled "Air Minded Now." Contained in this editorial was the statement that in the mail service alone, which flies in all weathers, there was one fatality in every 1,413,381 miles. In other words an airmail pilot could circle the equator about sixty times before he would have a crash that would be fatal to him. There are few railroads which can show a like record of safety.

Eighty per cent of accidents occurring last year were caused by unlicensed pilots, the editorial stated.

Magazine Stresses It

The extent of commercial flying in this country was graphically illustrated in an article "Industry at the Joy Stick" by Commander Ralph D. Weyerbacher, U. S. Navy, appearing in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post.

This article announced that there were at present thirty four passenger, mail and express air routes in the country flying a total of 31,000 miles daily. The capital invested was said to be in excess of $7,500,000. The prediction was to the effect that these figures would be doubled by the end of 1928.

Just recently an announcement was made to the effect that a $5,000,000 line with Wall Street backing was to be started from coast to coast. This is the Transcontinental Air Transport with the Pennsylvania and Santa Fe lines cooperating with a Pullman and air line giving a forty-eight hour service between New York and Los Angeles.

The increase expected this year in air transportation will be due to three main ideas according to Postmaster General New: the reduction of the air mail postage from ten cents a half ounce to five cents an ounce; the completion of lighting the transcontinental highway or airway; and the establishment of a privately owned and operated airline from Boston, Mass. to Valparaiso, Chile.

Ruth Says She Wants To Go Home

Feminine Roamer, From Movieland, On Her Way To Pensacola Home

BY EVERETTA LOVE
Avalanche-Journal Staff

"I want to go home. Why don't they let me go home?" asks Ruth, impatiently.

Ruth, who is 22 years of age, tramped into Lubbock about a week ago, arrayed in men's clothing, a knapsack on one shoulder and a suitcase in the other hand. She had come all the way from Hollywood, Cal., and was well on the way to her home in Pensacola, Fla. when she ran out of funds near here, and was brought into this city. She was placed in a hotel and has been there ever since, waiting, with ill-concealed anxiety, wired several places for information local authorities, who have told her, will give her the money she needs to get home on.

"But, Ruth, wouldn't it take a lot of money to get you to Florida?" she was asked, in a conversation one afternoon.

She's a Financier.

Ruth's eyes flashed scornfully. "Give me a dollar," she said, "and I can get to Pensacola easy enough, counting three meals a day and a place to sleep at night. Why, I came all the way from California on $18."

"Of course," she added, "I get plenty of rides and people are always nice to me."

Ruth is a most unusual girl. Within the last few years, she has seen much of life in many places, because she has traveled "incognito" as a man and has gone out after excitement, "romance," as some people might call it. During her adventurous travels, when she felt like doing any kind of work, she did it. "Just to see what it was like," she said, although she claims to be a "millionaire by trade."

"Then, why don't you stay in Texas and find work as a 'millionaire'?" someone suggested.

Wants To See Mother.

"Not me," she replied with energy. "Just as soon as I get home and see my mother, I'm going back to Hollywood. You know that picture, 'Hot Heels,' that's showing here now? Well, I played in that picture. I rode a horse in it."

"How did you happen to get in? I thought it was awfully hard to get work as an extra."

"Oh, it's not hard," said Ruth. "You just have to have some clothes of the right kind at the right time. I happened to have a riding habit ready so they used me right away in 'Hot Heels.' Believe me, if you watch your step, you can make the money as an extra."

It is hard to discover where Ruth's interest lies, and that is in out-of-door life, in things with speed and lots of action. She chooses Tom Mix as her favorite actor, "because," she said, "he is a real man. He's not afraid to do anything. And the ones I like best are Mary and Douglas. Say, anybody who says anything against Mary Pickford or Douglas Fairbanks has me to fight."

Likes Movie Life.

"There's nothing like the movie life. I'm going to begin taking care of myself—my complexion, hair and hands. I'm going to quit working in the fields. I just did that for fun, anyway. And I'm going to reduce. Then, I'm going to break into the movies right."

One wonders what really will become of Ruth. She does not appear to be over 18 or 19 years of age, yet it seems that life has already given her some rough knocks. From all the information that can be obtained about her, she has no real home to go to, but she is on her way. When the people who are taking care of her here, decide to let her do as she pleases, she will, without doubt, don her old tramp clothes and set out, in a happy mood, to find things interesting and unusual.

The co-operative speaking idea was instituted by the group in a meeting of all the candidates a few weeks ago and seems to be meeting with much popularity in the communities. A rule has been adopted whereby district candidates are allowed ten minutes for talks and county candidates five minutes. All of the programs with the exception of the one at Slaton are to be given at night.

Simplicity, economy, quietness, roominess

GENERAL ELECTRIC Refrigerator

The General Electric Refrigerator is so simple that it hasn't a single exposed moving part. It hasn't a belt or a fan or a drain pipe. It has no connections or stuffing boxes. It never needs oiling because the hermetically sealed casing which holds all the mechanism also holds a permanent supply of oil.

A specially designed motor of low horse-power, but high efficiency, uses very little current. Then, too, the top unit design allows all the heat (extracted from the box and generated by the tiny motor) to be dissipated above the box—not to rise through it.

Standards of quietness, vary so widely that we can only invite you to listen to the refrigerators yourself to find how quietly they operate.

The remarkable compactness of the chilling chamber gives each model a greater shelf area than any other refrigerator of the same over-all size. All the models are set up on legs.

There is a wide range of models and prices. Come in and see them.

Major Hoople Talks About Politics

Philosopher Explains The Difference Between Himself And Namesake

By MAJOR HOOPLE McCORKLE
Avalanche-Journal Philosopher

For the enlightenment of the half a dozen or so patrons of this more or less "concealed" column of "hoops" we want to say that we were not in Kansas City at the GOP convention, never have been, and in all probability never will be.

All the honor and glory goes to our distinguished friend, Major Amos Hoople of "Boarding House Fame." There is as much difference between the Major Amos Hoople and Major Hoople McCorkle as there is between a "dog" and a "cat" and a "thor" and a "steer."

One represents a "cat" and the other a "steer." No, we were not in Kansas City but on the other hand we are very much in Lubbock. There are several reasons for this, though the main one is: Railroads have "cut out" the passenger train, the most important of the newspaper tribe, which we are not, being just common clay—a kind of two-third or make-shift, and more particularly described in Southern "lingo" as a "second stringer."

His Honor, Major Amos Hoople, is a man of power, vision and force, thought, while our strength runs to cat fish and cigarettes. We are strong for fishing, and don't particularly give a whoop whether we have any president at all or not. Englan has managed to wobble along without one for several centuries and I still rated a good country. If you doubt this just ask some English man.

Another Reason
Another reason we did not join the GOP boys in K. C. is because: Hoops objected. He gave as his excuse that he was afraid they wouldn't get the paper out without his help, but as a matter of fact we had an idea that he was afraid we would get in the "gutter" with the "pros." Well, we wouldn't have done this, but even had we had the power, we wouldn't have done it. As Major Amos Hoople writes that he ran himself ragged to find a bottle of soothing balm, all the time he was within limits of the convention city, he can't say for sure that he found it. He wanted it, we know that, but he wasn't working very much—he was too much poker. He knows a lot more about three-of-a-kind and a royal flush than he does about farm relief and tariff troubles, anyway.

Just To Be Expected
But the choice has been made and we are satisfied if he is. They didn't do very much up there anyway. Any bunch of boobs could have nominated Hoover. They all knew they were going to vote for him when they left home, and if they had been as wise as a bunch of Southern Democrats they would have saved car fare and nominated him via radio. Of course some of the "leaders" would have been disappointed—they wanted to blow off some steam, but people could have enjoyed it just as much over the radio as in the convention hall. And so, when they tired of the "bull" they could have "tuned out" rather than "walked out"—wouldn't have caused half the commotion.

However, the nomination won't mean them any good—just nominated Hoover in order to keep the party together for another four years. At the 4th of March, 1929, the country is going to be returned to its rightful owners, (democrats), and a republican won't amount to any more than a snow ball in the lower regions. It will pain them a lot to relinquish the reigns of government, as well as all the post offices, but it will prove to them, conclusively, that right will prevail over might. The kaiser learned this ten years ago—he wasn't so dumb. However you can't expect much from some people.

They Don't Want To Win
Personally, we have an idea that the republicans nominated Hoover in order to insure "republican defeat." What they really want is "Licker" and lots of it, and they know Al will give it to 'em. Of course no self-respecting republican would vote for a democrat—it just isn't done, but they can nominate a "weakling" and give the Jackass party a cinch on electing a man who will please all. Of course Al isn't the most popular man in America, and if he happens to lose the nomination, republicans are going to regret the step they have taken. Some weak democrat might Hoover walk into the White House, and this wouldn't please anybody but Hoover.

A Game Of Chance
However, politics is a game of chance—that's why there are so many gamblers in America. It is lawful to play poker or shoot raps, but is perfectly right to play politics and buck the cotton exchange.

We hold a certificate of graduation in politics—when a fellow gets as he is supposed to know enough about it to quit. That is why we are not running for office instead of working for a living. It just won't pay. If it costs a man $10,000 to get elected to an $8,000 job, and then a full year's work on the side, there's something wrong. He has an axe grinded and will grind it even though a regiment of soldiers try to prevent it. Tea Pot Dome—remember that?

But Why Preach?
But why preach when nobody listens? The republicans have had their fun and the democrats are arguing to storm Houston in the very near future. They can't hope to do less than the republicans even though they fail to convene. Nobody was killed at Kansas City, though it looked like "murder" the day the farmers voted against Hoover. (GOP's had better than God they were in Kansas City rather than Chicago—no telling what would have happened there.)

Texas is a quiet state, and her people stand for law and order even though they refuse to accept a negro as a social equal. (Republicans have us beaten there.) The convention will probably pass off just as other democratic conventions, and some "dark horse" will get the nomination and be defeated in November. While he is running all the followers of Jefferson will be happy. Mint juleps and rye straws will be popular. In the fall after the voters counted, we will return to the cotton patch and produce 30c cotton for 15c for another four years "cause" republicans, damn the tariff and resolve to "beat 'em next time."

Unless we are "bumped off," as W. C. Brain, for shooting off our back and the truth will be here to say "We told you."

P. S.—Don't forget this is Major Hoople McCorkle, Irishman, and not Major Amos Hoople, Katzen-ammerman speaking. He draws—we write. He is famous while we are famous, but he's big of sale, while we work for ours. All the difference in the world, friends, see?

Laymen Speak At Ft. Worth Churches

Prominent Churchmen In West Texas Fill Pulpits Sunday As Part Of Program At C. C. Convention

FORT WORTH, June 16.—Twenty five prominent West Texas laymen will occupy pulpits in Fort Worth Sunday morning at 11 o'clock as the feature in connection with the Tenth annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The list of speakers was announced on Friday by General Manager Homer D. Wade, of the West Texas organization and is as follows:

Missouri Avenue Methodist church, Hon. J. Thomas Davis, Stephenville; Mulkey Memorial Methodist, Hon. Sam Braswell, Clarendon; Weatherford Street Methodist, Hon. A. Garland Adair, Breckenridge; First Methodist, Dr. P. W. Horn, Lubbock; Central Methodist, Hon. M. K. Graham, Graham; First Christian, Justus J. D. Hamlin, Farwell; Magnolia Avenue Christian, Col. Jno. Perkins, Alpine; University Christian church, Hon. Thomas H. Ethridge, San Antonio; Boulevard Christian church, Hon. J. M. Williamson, Cisco; Chestnut Avenue Christian, Hon. C. Wedgeworth Snyder, Riverside Christian church, Judge C. O. Thompson, Colorado; Morning-side Christian church, Judge W. N. Stokes, Vernon; Polytechnic Baptist, Judge C. G. Small, Wellington; Tabernacle Baptist church, Col. R. H. McCarty, Albany; College Avenue Baptist church, Hon. Jas. B. Stinson, Abilene; Broadway Baptist, Dr. E. Godbold, Brownwood; Rosen Heights Baptist church, Hon. N. S. Holland, Stamford; First Presbyterian church, Hon. A. P. Duggan, Littlefield; Broadway Presbyterian, Hon. Jesse Mitchell, Littlefield; Hemphill Presbyterian, Hon. L. W. Sandusky, Colorado; Polytechnic Presbyterian, Hon. L. R. Thompson, Merkel.

Just To Be Expected
But the choice has been made and we are satisfied if he is. They didn't do very much up there anyway. Any bunch of boobs could have nominated Hoover. They all knew they were going to vote for him when they left home, and if they had been as wise as a bunch of Southern Democrats they would have saved car fare and nominated him via radio. Of course some of the "leaders" would have been disappointed—they wanted to blow off some steam, but people could have enjoyed it just as much over the radio as in the convention hall. And so, when they tired of the "bull" they could have "tuned out" rather than "walked out"—wouldn't have caused half the commotion.

However, the nomination won't mean them any good—just nominated Hoover in order to keep the party together for another four years. At the 4th of March, 1929, the country is going to be returned to its rightful owners, (democrats), and a republican won't amount to any more than a snow ball in the lower regions. It will pain them a lot to relinquish the reigns of government, as well as all the post offices, but it will prove to them, conclusively, that right will prevail over might. The kaiser learned this ten years ago—he wasn't so dumb. However you can't expect much from some people.

They Don't Want To Win
Personally, we have an idea that the republicans nominated Hoover in order to insure "republican defeat." What they really want is "Licker" and lots of it, and they know Al will give it to 'em. Of course no self-respecting republican would vote for a democrat—it just isn't done, but they can nominate a "weakling" and give the Jackass party a cinch on electing a man who will please all. Of course Al isn't the most popular man in America, and if he happens to lose the nomination, republicans are going to regret the step they have taken. Some weak democrat might Hoover walk into the White House, and this wouldn't please anybody but Hoover.

A Game Of Chance
However, politics is a game of chance—that's why there are so many gamblers in America. It is lawful to play poker or shoot raps, but is perfectly right to play politics and buck the cotton exchange.

We hold a certificate of graduation in politics—when a fellow gets as he is supposed to know enough about it to quit. That is why we are not running for office instead of working for a living. It just won't pay. If it costs a man $10,000 to get elected to an $8,000 job, and then a full year's work on the side, there's something wrong. He has an axe grinded and will grind it even though a regiment of soldiers try to prevent it. Tea Pot Dome—remember that?

But Why Preach?
But why preach when nobody listens? The republicans have had their fun and the democrats are arguing to storm Houston in the very near future. They can't hope to do less than the republicans even though they fail to convene. No-

FATHERS DAY

DAD'S FRIEND

To-day is when we stop to think of Dad—one's best friend next to Mother.

No doubt many of us are unacquainted with many problems that Dad faces each day.

His job is to provide for you—and those whom he loves. He works to that end all the time.

Sometimes Dad finds the sailing smooth—and many times he finds it rough.

Dad knows the value and importance of a good banking connection. It has helped him in his business and in meeting problems where only sound advice was needed.

This bank is a Friend of DAD! It wants to help make the going smoother for him. It extends a helping hand to every worthy man who achieves to do right and make progress.

Ask DAD if the bank isn't one of his best friends!

Fort Worth Out To Set Record For W. T. C. C. Meets

More Features Than Ever Before To Entertain Fifty Thousand Visitors In Annual Convention, Leaders Say

Beauty, Refinement, Culture Incorporated In Program Which Reveals The Spirit Of The New West

(Special To The Aualanche-Journal.) FORT WORTH, Texas, June 16.—Fort Worth is expected to set a new record for the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The program itself calls for the most beautiful and refined entertainment features ever presented in the history of the West.

Many Expected Sunday Thousands of visitors are expected to reach Fort Worth Sunday morning before the opening of the convention proper. Sunday will be a day of features. In the morning prominent laymen, representing the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will be in the city. The general program to be discussed will be "The New West." This Sunday morning feature was inaugurated by Mr. Wade at last year's convention held in Wichita Falls when the churches threw open their doors to the visiting laymen.

Afternoon Program Sunday afternoon's program will be one of the most unique ever offered in Texas. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon a massed band concert will be given. This will feature the best of the official bands of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Following this program a massed band concert will be given. Hundreds of people are expected to take part in the singing which bids fair to be the biggest event of the kind ever staged in the Southwest. A platform that will seat hundreds of people will be provided for the singing which bids fair to be the biggest event of the kind ever staged in the Southwest.

Pageant A High Point Always an attraction that draws divided attention of the visitors, the pageant, when Miss West was presented. This coronation ceremony, at which time also more than one hundred sponsors will be introduced will be staged at Texas Christian University's athletic stadium. This provides an ideal setting and the seating capacity is expected to be taxed to the limit. The pageant is the longest ever staged. Already thirty-eight West Texas towns have announced they will enter decorated floats. This exceeds any number ever before entered. Approximately fifty bands are already entered and it is likely this number will be increased almost to one hundred. More than 10,000 people are expected to march in this delegation parade.

Delegation Parade Another outstanding event will be the annual delegation parade. Heretofore these parades have extended over several miles and inclusions are that the one this year will be the longest ever staged. Already thirty-eight West Texas towns have announced they will enter decorated floats. This exceeds any number ever before entered. Approximately fifty bands are already entered and it is likely this number will be increased almost to one hundred. More than 10,000 people are expected to march in this delegation parade.

Settling Here, According to Mr. West, the most perfect which any has ever offered for forming a parade. The delegations will arrive at the Texas and Pacific station and from there the parade will march on Main street to the court house thence to Houston street and back to the reservation. Heretofore it has been necessary for the marchers to form on the streets. This has invariably caused delays but this problem has been overcome this year, because of the all paraders will be met at the court house. In addition to the special events mentioned, there are many noteworthy events included in the program. Among them are the Fort Worth parade Monday morning, the breakfast, the luncheon, the official ball, the teas and breakfasts for

VACATION TIME

A good car—good friends—good roads, rolling along endlessly before you—new scenes—broadening pleasure.

And No Tire Trouble

This you will say is the ideal and yet many a man who is planning just such recreation, will be fooled into buying tires at a "price" when his best judgment tells him that there is no assurance of trouble—free mileage in them—that they are apt to "play out" just in the midst of an otherwise vacation.

If you are planning such a trip, better come down and let us look at your tires and see that they are in good condition. There will be no cost of course. Then if new tires are needed, let us put Miller geared-to-the road on your car. They will make any motor trip more enjoyable because tire troubles are eliminated in the building of Millers.

All sizes in stock and they actually cost you less per mile than others.

When A Girl Loves

© 1928 by NEA Service

WHAT HAS HAPPENED
VIRGINIA BREWSTER, is in love with a poor artist, NATHANIEL DANIEL, but she is trying to win him by promising to marry FREDERICK DEAN in one year if she fails to earn $100,000 which he alleges her father cheated him out of in a bootlegging deal.

BREWSTER had lost his fortune in speculation before his sudden death so that VIRGINIA is left destitute. She pawns some of her jewelry and a broker friend OLIVER CUTLER, promises to invest it for her and try to earn the hundred thousand.

She avoids all her wealthy friends and seeks work at an agency under an assumed name but without success. She finds orchids at her hotel one evening from DEAN and wonders how he learned her address. A call from the agency brings hope but when she goes there, MISS VIELER's interview her, she recognizes the man who has been following her.

CUTLER insists on taking her to dinner, and when she consents NIEL retaliates by going to a party with his model, CHIRI MOND.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

OLIVER was smiling, not with his eyes. In them Virginia saw a peculiar, challenging question. It was as though he were thinking of some secret he shared with her. He gave Virginia the impression that it needed an answer. "Intuitively she felt that whatever her own expression implied it should be in the negative."

She leaned forward also. They were very close over the table. Her lips held the faintest hint of a smile for his words, but her eyes were as cool as a forest pool. "It cannot be easy for any girl to make a hundred thousand dollars," she said steadily "unless she does something spectacular and thrills the world."

The smile left Oliver's lips. "Perhaps it isn't necessary to thrill the entire world," he suggested after a slight pause.

Virginia's eyes probed into his, searching for the hidden meaning of his words. At last he drew back his head and looked away from her, picking up a glass of water to hide his discomfort.

She too settled back in her chair and her eyes reflected bitter thought.

"Oliver, are you a rotter?" she asked acridly.

Oliver was startled. "Virginia, what a thing to say!" he exploded in an injured tone.

Virginia sat very still while he went on to tell her how badly mistaken she was if she thought he'd meant anything.

"Well, frankly, I wasn't sure that you were not suggesting an easy way out of my difficulties," she replied levelly. "Your remarks gave me the idea."

"See here," Oliver flared. "I think all this miserable mixing up with the world you're indulging in is doing something to you, Virginia. You act as if I'd picked you up on the street corner."

Virginia winced. "Well, I'm sorry if I misjudged you, Oliver. But if you could have seen your eyes!"

"Lord, you don't expect me to look at you as if you were a stone wall, do you?"

"No, but I don't expect you to look at me as if I were a girl you'd picked up either."

"That's your new touchiness," he insisted. "You're imagining things."

"If that's true, then just what did you mean?" Virginia asked him. "Why should it be easy for me to make money?"

"Apparently you don't think much of my financial ability," Oliver remarked in aggrieved accents. "I might remind you, you know, that it isn't everyone who can play the street without losing."

"Is that all you mean?" Virginia pressed, not quite convinced that he was as guileless as he would appear. "You really think it will be easy for me with your help?"

"I think it's about the only chance you have," Oliver was not too modest to tell her. "I don't think it's very flattering to me to worry so much about it. You might make an effort to enjoy yourself."

Virginia sighed. "I can't," she said truthfully. "It was a mistake for me to come with you, Oliver. I'm in no mood to cheer anyone."

"Well, I don't know what's on your mind, but if it's money, forget about it, Virginia."

"It isn't only money. You know that. And you've given me something new to worry about."

"Now Virginia."

"Oh, it isn't that I thought a while ago. If I hadn't decided I was wrong I wouldn't stay. But I can't help wondering if you aren't right about a change in me. Maybe I am imagining things. There's Miss Evans, for instance, it seems to me she is acting very strangely."

Oliver did not answer for a moment. The waiter came and removed their plates and Oliver asked for some cigarettes. When he turned back to Virginia he spoke offhandedly of her last remark.

"Miss Evans is a queer egg," he said unemotionally. "Moody. Wants a savory?"

"She makes me feel as if she doesn't want to have a word to say to me," Virginia told him, ignoring his abrupt suggestion of a cheese tidbit to top their dinner.

"Don't pay any attention to her. That's just her way. Not so good for my business, but she's invaluable to me. Can't let her go."

"She hasn't said anything about me, has she?"

Oliver opened his eyes blankly. "Why should she?" he asked. "Surely you aren't upset about her. Days she hardly speaks to me except she has to."

Virginia looked relieved. "I'd hate to believe I was looking for trouble," she said.

"It's an easy habit to fall into when trouble begins to look for you," he said sententiously.

"That's what you've made me afraid of—that I am getting touchy and quick-tempered."

"And suspicious," Oliver supplemented with a laugh. "Then, more seriously: 'But I understand, only I hope you won't doubt me again.'"

Virginia felt a little ashamed. He was so boyishly in earnest and he was doing so much for her. In return she had half charged him with an unforgivable purpose. Oliver saw a dull red color in her cheeks and quickly changed the subject.

"Of course you wouldn't care for a show," he said sympathetically. "Shall we drive up the Hudson or out on Long Island? Unless you're too tired," he added hurriedly, noting at once that she did not care for the suggestion. He had no wish to urge her, especially just now when he had only managed to get off this ice by the shabby trick of browbeating her into believing the mistake he had made was her own. His privately admitted opinion was that she would have been as dumb as a porcupine if she hadn't known what was in his mind. But her direct attack upon his unspoken campaign warned him that the time was far from ripe for any further efforts along that line.

Virginia seized the chance he purposely offered her to say she was too tired to think of going anywhere, and Oliver consented to take her home. He hoped his thoughtfulness would completely wipe out any remnants of suspicion that might remain in her mind in regard to the true measure of his friendship.

His cunning succeeded well, Virginia, repenting her hasty temper toward Nathaniel and believing she had misjudged Oliver, was willing to concede that it was nice of him to let her break up his evening without protest. It did not even occur to her to suspect him of such deep-dyed scheming as he was guilty of. Her chief concern was that she was losing her sense of values—beginning to cross bridges that might never be built. Oliver realized this. He decided to take advantage of the fact.

On the way to her hotel he made a point of sitting as far from her in the tonneau of his car as the space would permit. He wanted her to feel that he was not going to risk a second error on her part. His clearly apparent attitude touched Virginia with a deeper feeling of indignity.

She moved over nearer him and put a hand on his. Oliver made no effort to capture it, neither did he lean toward her as impulse prompted him to do. Virginia relaxed against the soft cushioned back of the seat with a sigh of comfort. Her eyelids drooped and she let herself dream of success.

There would be no cars like this, perhaps, they belonged to the past that could not be brought back. But the past that had held all heaven's promise of happiness, with Nathaniel was not gone forever, not if she could free herself from her bargain with Frederick Dean. And for the moment, once more in the stimulating atmosphere of wealth, she looked upon a fortune of $100,000 as not too difficult of acquisition. It was mere bagatelle to this man beside her.

The thought strengthened her confidence. He had said it would not be hard to acquire it. How lucky she was to have his help! And how terribly terribly unjust she had been to him! Of course he knew how impossible it would be for her to succeed unaided. He had only meant to tell her that, for her—a girl with the right contacts—it would be easy.

She pressed his inert hand gratefully. Oliver shot her a quick glance, then swore silently. Only a complete and utter ass could have failed to mistake the ecstatic expression of her smile-parted lips and half closed eyes. Oliver remained motionless but until Virginia moved her hand she was in imminent danger of being shocked into a more exact realization of the distance that separated her from the money she must have to redeem her happiness.

When they reached her hotel and stopped before the unpretentious entrance Oliver openly expressed his dissatisfaction with the place as an abode for Virginia. "It isn't necessary," he protested. "Don't be a fool, Virginia. Take some of the money I've made for you. There's still time enough to make your wabbling little hundred thousand and with half what you have now."

"Time! Oliver, every minute until the day you tell me I have all of it will be an eternity to me."

"Both. I've given you my word you will have it."

"I know, and I'm happier than I've been since I found out I'd have to get it. The hotel doesn't matter. I'm getting used to it. You'd be surprised how little luxury counts against happiness, Oliver."

"Well, I hope I never find out. It's my opinion that we ought to have both."

"If gratitude can make you happy you will always have it," Virginia assured him. Her eyes were bright with feeling and her fingers carried the message of her thankfulness as she offered her hand to say good night.

Oliver shrugged. "Virginia, I've told you, I hate the word. Some day I hope you will find a better expression."

Lines And Colors Feature New Cars

Hub Jones, Dealer In Hudson-Essex Lines, Points Out Spring Trend In New Motor Cars

Attractive lines and colors play a most important part in the public's choice of motor cars this spring according to authorities in the industry. Women are believed to be the most important factor in bringing this about. Hudson-Essex sales, which have broken records all this year, have centered largely around

It is essential that my car should always operate properly and accordingly I use Champion Spark Plugs.

Champion is the better spark plug because it has an exclusive sili-manite insulator specially treated to withstand the much higher temperatures of the modern high-compression engine. style and beauty, declares Hub Jones, Hudson-Essex dealer. "Bright, sparkling colors still feature motor car fashions, and the prospect is that the vogue will continue indefinitely," said Mr. Jones. "Our latest Hudson-Essex feature is a special line of cars with all-ferrous and related parts lacquered to match the upper part of the body. This instead of the usual black enamel which continues on the standard cars. Color in the fenders gives a wonderfully attractive effect and yet these specially finished cars sell at only a small advance. "The growing importance of color is a nextremely interesting recent phase of manufacturing. Especially it reflects the strength of feminine influence. We offer colorful cars because a feminine taste largely guides the selection of how automobiles just as it shapes the great majority of expenditures by modern families, and it has evidently decreed a permanent vogue for light and attractive tones."

Colorado Springs Man Wins First In Victory Six Slogan

"Making A Good Name Better" Is Title, Selected By Judges; 354 Other Prizes Are Given

DETROIT, Mich., June 16.—Making a Good Name Better. That's the prize winning slogan in Dodge Brothers' $20,000 contest to find the best one describing the Victory Six car.

Of the 340,000 slogans sent in from every state in the union and many foreign countries, C. C. Michael of Colorado Springs, Colo., submitted the winning one. The unanimous decision of the judges, Michael has been awarded 1,000 first prize, and checks have been mailed to the entire list of 34 prize winners scattered over 44 states and Canada.

Thousands Enter. The thousands of answers sent in became a staggering task for the officials of Dodge Brothers who have worked constantly since the closing of the contest, March 31, to select a slogan that most appropriately described the Victory Six performance.

Contestants had to ride in the car before they could submit slogans and thousands of reactions to the Victory Six performance made the task of selecting the best one difficult.

It required official notification from Dodge Brothers to convince Michael that he has been awarded the $1,000 prize on the contest.

Help to Buy Home. "The money will help me own my own home much sooner than I expected," said Michael. "A man with wife and two children certainly can use this money to good advantage."

Michael is 26 years of age, and is employed as a distributor for a large company. The Victory Six contest interested him from the start, because it was a commercial car made by Dodge Brothers in my work, and I never been disappointed in performance. A demonstration of the Victory Six immediately convinced me that it was a wonderful car.

Other Winners. Second prize in the contest went to F. R. Shiemaker of Erie, Pa., for the slogan "Try and Get by with One." Mr. Shiemaker is an engineer in the Erie City Iron Works and is an overseas veteran.

Third prize was awarded to Mrs. W. R. Price, a housewife of

Hupp Setting More New High Records

May Shipments Of 8,361 Cars Surpasses Previous History Of Twenty Years

DETROIT, Mich., June 16.—Continued heavy demand for Century Eighties and Sixes during May have brought Hupmobile shipments last month to a new all-time record level, according to R. S. Cole, general sales manager. May was the third consecutive month in which shipments exceeded 8,000.

The total number of cars shipped in the month was 8,361, passing even the high point reached in April, when the largest total ever recorded in Hupmobile history up to that time was registered.

The unbroken series of continuous record breaking monthly totals this year has brought the aggregate shipments of Hupmobile Century cars to 33,313 since January 1st. The total is within 8,000 of last year's entire production—with seven months still to come. In fact, Mr. Cole points out, there have been only four years in the twenty which make up Hupmobile history when the output for twelve months was greater than that attained in the first five months of 1928.

Hupp executives are confident that when the half year closes June 30th next shipments for the first six months of 1928 will surpass all but one of those four annual totals and will seriously challenge even the high output reached in the twelve months of 1926.

During the month of May, 1927, shipments were 3,516 cars, showing an increase for May, 1928 of 4,845 cars or 138 percent.

The largest previous May in Hupmobile history was in 1926, when 4,999 cars were shipped. May, 1928, thus showing an increase of 3,372 cars or 68 percent.

Shipments of Hupmobiles since January 1, 1928, have totaled 33,313 cars, or 71 percent, over the total for the same months of 1927.

TESTS BIG HELP

Miller Tire Company Finds Accurate Tests An Aid

AKRON, Ohio, June 16.—Because of the facility with which rubber lends itself to various and unique constructions, manufacturers are able to test their products under unusually accurate conditions. This was illustrated in tests made by Miller tire engineers in developing the tread of the new Deluxe balloon tire recently introduced to the motoring public. Tires were equipped with three different tread compounds, each making up a third of the circumference of the tread, so that test conditions would be made identical.

In trying out a number of tread compounds to determine the best tread for the new tire, Miller engineers used this unique method so that there would be no variation of conditions under which all types of treads were tested. It is explained that it is almost impossible to obtain identical conditions in testing tires on separate wheels, although expert mechanical precision may be employed in the effort. An excess of right or left turns in thousands of miles of driving or an excess of driving on roads of high crown and exceptional slope will affect the wear of one tire over another, engineers claim.

Olds Establishes New High Records In Car Production

Largest Five-Month Shipment In Company's History Recorded; 50 Percent Increase Shown Over '27

LANSING, Mich., June 16.—Oldsmobile in May, for the third consecutive month, established new high records never before achieved by this veteran company. During that month 11,716 Oldsmobiles were shipped from the factories. This tops the previous record established in March and April this year, and is the largest number of Oldsmobiles ever shipped in a single month.

Records

Records established so far this year by Oldsmobile are:

Largest five-month shipment in the company's history.

A 50 per cent increase in shipments over those made in the same period last year.

In face of these great increases the company entered June with more than 7,000 unfilled orders.

The June manufacturing schedule will bring Oldsmobile shipments for the first half of 1928 to more than 50,000 cars—an all-time record.

Decoration Day Week High

During the Decoration Day week 2,537 Oldsmobiles were shipped in this four and one-half day working period, or an average of 504 cars per day. On the day following Decoration Day a new high shipment record of 609 Oldsmobiles was made.

D. S. Eddins, vice president and general sales manager of Oldsmobile, reports that retail orders are being received at the same rate as cars are being manufactured and shipped. From reports of dealers Oldsmobile will enter July with practically as many unfilled orders as were on hand June 1, which is considered an unusual achievement in the automobile business for this period of the year.

The previous high record was made by Oldsmobile in April of this year when 11,088 cars were shipped. May's record was 628 Oldsmobiles in excess of that figure.

Early Days

Chinese Bureau of Mines, snared from the World War broke out was associated with British syndicates as an engineer and organizer. He was immediately chosen as head of the American Relief Committee in London and afterwards chairman of the Commission for Relief in Belgium. His efficiency in that work attracted President Wilson's attention, who brought him to America when he entered the war, as Food Administrator and chairman of the United States Grain Corporation. He was a member of numerous war boards and councils in this country and Europe. After the war he organized the work of supplying food to the starving European peoples and has been active in European relief since.

In 1921 President Harding appointed him Secretary of Commerce and he has held that office since, under two Republican administrations. Mr. Hoover greatly expanded the activities of his department and has been the handy man of the administration. There is no doubt of his organizing ability and efficiency. Whenever an emergency arose or there was a problem to solve, it was Mr. Hoover who was consulted. He did the surveying of practical situations and suggested plans for action.

Mr. Hoover's activities have brought him a flood of degrees, medals and honors, and within nine years after his return to the United States he has won the nomination from the dominant political party to the highest office within the gift of the American people. As a member of the Cabinet and the choice of President Coolidge as his successor, Mr. Hoover has had the tremendous advantage of the administration's support of his candidacy. He has had an army of office holders gathering delegates for him, and he has had a large fund available for the expenses of a nationwide campaign. But with all this advantage there is no doubt that the most powerful Republican leaders recognize his ability and efficiency and selected him as a candidate who would give distinction and public confidence to the ticket.

With Mr. Coolidge out of the race, the contest for the nomination was rather easy for Mr. Hoover. But he faces rather rough seas for the election. The farmers of the Middle West and Northwest, who are the backbone of the Republican party in the West, are in revolt against Mr. Hoover's nomination on account of his fixing of farm prices during the war and his endorsement of the Coolidge policies which have been antagonistic to forms of relief demanded by the farmers. Large blocs of voters of foreign birth or origin are opposed to Mr. Hoover on account of his British affiliations.

There is another question to be met in the campaign. Admitting his ability and efficiency as an organizer and administrator, what are his qualifications for the chief executiveship of the United States? What are his political principles? He has served under both Democratic and Republican administrations. When he first returned to America, having lived abroad for 23 years and never having had any part in American politics, he was known as a Republican, but no one knows precisely what his principles are.

No one knows precisely what are his knowledge of and attitude towards the fundamental principles of constitutional

In a recent consideration of the nerves and their control, Drs. Foster Kennedy and Lewis Stevenson sound a warning note relative to the control of human beings in relationship to mental disease.

The unthinking frequently advise married couples to keep their habits of life or for that sort of irritability restlessness that comes on in the years beyond adolescence.

However, the specialists cited say that for a young man, or woman to marry a person of abnormal or overcast mind is to invite unhappiness and tragedy not only for the husband and wife, but also possibly for their children.

An hereditary trend toward mental disease which may reveal itself only in the form of peculiarities of conduct before marriage may develop under the added responsibilities of married life into severe disturbances of the mind.

Inherited Defects

Physical defects of the body which develop during the lifetime of the individual are not likely to be inherited. On the other hand, mental defect is frequently carried on, perhaps through the inheritance of a disordered body structure, from one generation to another.

One of the most severe of the conditions known as epilepsy. Confirmed epileptics, all authorities advise, should not marry. Marriage and its added responsibilities invariably aggravate the condition.

True many of the greatest characters that the world has known were epileptic both in childhood and in their adult life. On the other hand, the condition is so serious that it may well contraindicate marriage.

Doctors Kennedy and Stevenson point out that the various misfits of life, cranks, criminals, shut-ins, personalities and others, belong scientifically in a great mass of people who are said to have psychopathic constitutions.

That is to say, the sufferer with the open spaces where men are made deficient by disease or by a deficiency in structure which begets queer conduct.

Trouble Makers

While these people are not insane in the common understanding of that word, they are a menace to the community in which they live because they are constantly dissatisfied with conditions as they are, stirring up difficulties which the more normally minded of the community must settle.

Their parents are not entirely responsible for them, since good environment and careful rearing will not solve the problem for most of them. On the other hand, their parents are responsible to the extent that these people are born with mental capacities which represent their heredity.

Chrysler, Dodge Officials Outline Future Policies

Merger Not To Affect Identity Or Products Of Either Corporation; Both Cars To Benefit

DETROIT, Mich., June 16.—Acquisition of Dodge Brothers, Inc., by the Chrysler corporation now awaiting approval of the stockholders will not affect the identity or products of either company, according to statements just released by officials of the two corporations. The products of the two manufacturers will continue without interruption.

Dodge Brothers will continue to be Dodge Brothers and Chrysler will be Chrysler says the statement, and the sales organizations will be unrelated except as they shall mutually share in the advantages of the consolidation. Their cars will continue to be produced and marketed independently. The statement continues:

Widespread interest in both recent events affecting the Chrysler corporation and Dodge Brothers, Inc., deserves an authentic and official statement, and an assurance regarding the future of these two corporations.

Each will benefit from the consummation of a plan which unites such tremendous resources in materials, manufacturing facilities, financial power and manufacturing genius.

Both the public and the dealers may look forward to the greater benefits which the consolidation of such tremendous resources will produce, and the men identified with these businesses may be assured of a stable and definite future, inspired by the progressiveness which has been responsible for this uniting of two great companies.

Its frontage measures 72 inches, depth 100 inches and height 122 inches; it consists of two rooms and until a few years ago was occupied by a man who stood 6 feet 3 inches.

Woodlands, Lakelands, Mountains, And Seaside Beckon As Road Gods Call Nation's Army of Motor Nomads

1928 Touring Season Shows Promise Of Being Great—Eleven Million Cars Will Answer Lure of Road

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 16.—Summer is already here and the Road Gods are calling. More than forty million people in eleven million cars will answer the call. Every vacation region, woodlands and lakelands, mountains and shores, will receive their quota of this veritable outpouring of America. This vast army of motor nomads will distribute billions of dollars along the highways of the nation before the first snow falls. All the favored recreational areas and the communities located along the highways leading thereto will benefit enormously from this modern Midas touch. But more important still, a large cross-section of the American people will lay up that annual replenishment of health and happiness that has become a very real, though perhaps intangible, factor in our national progress.

Conditions Better. Barring a sinister mood on the part of the gods, the touring conditions during the 1928 season should be better than ever before. There are many reasons why this should be so. Motoring services have been co-ordinated, developed and extended; roads have been added to and improved; agencies catering to motor tourist patronage have sought to better the standard of the commodity they sell; cars are on the whole better equipped for long-distance travel; communities everywhere are more keenly alive to the importance of maintaining health standards requisite to the needs of a nation on wheels; and finally, the 1928 motor tourist himself is better able to apply the lessons of experience to those fundamental things that make or mar the pleasure of the tour.

While these and other factors all affect the individual dividend from this year's motor outing, the coordination and extension of motoring services on a nation-wide, if not world-wide, basis, by the American Automobile Association, is by far the most important factor in the touring situation today. It is no surprise that this should be the case, since service has come to be recognized as the Sesame of the Open Road just as it is the watchword of healthy business the world over.

Automobile Clubs Vital. Through the gigantic federation of 1046 automobile clubs contributing to the world's largest motor federation, there is now available a motor tourist service capable of dispatching the road caravan of the dependability that their patrons nation with the same speed and speed from the railroad of the United States. Here is by all odds the most comprehensive road service system that the world has ever known. What exactly does this circle of service embody and how does it operate?

It embodies first and foremost, more than a thousand actively functioning motor clubs, located at so many strategic points on all the highways from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the key points in Canada to the Mexican border. This is not all. The representatives of this road system are stationed at a score of European ports of entry; they are stationed in Honolulu, Alaska, at the Panama Canal Zone and elsewhere to take care of the needs of the A. A. A. motorist who may be lured by lands beyond the sea. It embodies the services of 4,000 touring counselors who are thoroughly trained and willing to map the tour and to tell the motorist the best way to reach his destination, what to see and where to get information en route, and how best he may spend his time and where he may stay when he reaches his objective. And because A. A. A. motor club service is reciprocal and interlocking, every service follows through from point to point, from club to club in the far-flung chain, from one emergency road service station to another, even into the desert and into mountain fastnesses. No matter how far the A. A. A. motorist may roam, he need never be wholly out of club territory or club protection and influence.

Code Devised To Help In Traffic

Signal Craze, Which Puts Driver In Doubt, Strikes Country And Calls For A Uniform System

NEW YORK, June 16.—The traffic signal craze has struck the country to such an extent that one of its leading sponsors at the time of its introduction now is trying to control its application. As a result of a survey of more than 100 of the larger cities, the American Engineering Council is considering the submission of a code of standard practice on the use of traffic signals, signs and markings.

The survey disclosed two fundamental errors cities fall into in using the modern signal devices. One is the confusion of the signal without any adequate study of the traffic conditions they are intended to improve, and the second is to use them at places and at times not justified by conditions. "The inevitable result," says the report of this survey, "will be a public recognition of the error and a consequent disregard of the unnecessary regulations, which will lead to the ultimate defeat of what should be most useful and effective methods of traffic control."

Best Type, But—Of all the mechanical devices that have been employed to facilitate traffic movement, the report says, the most effective has been the automatic traffic signal. "Like all good things, however," it continues, "there is an unfortunate tendency to overdo its application, with the result that such signals have been installed indiscriminately without analysis of the probable effects, and are operated at times when there is no possible justification. "Three serious consequences are likely to follow: "First, a growing tendency on the part of impatient drivers to disregard the signal, a habit that will ultimately terminate the usefulness of all signals. "Chance for Hold-ups. "Second, utilization of the opportunity by criminals to hold up law-abiding citizens who happen to be stopped alone at isolated locations, especially at night. "Third, general dispersion of traffic from main thoroughfares to unsignalled side streets where the accident hazard, especially to children, will be greatly increased."

The survey report also recommends consideration of the pedestrian, as well as the law-abiding motorist in the shortening of time for signal changes. "In general," the report reads, "short cycles are much more effective than long ones. 40 to 80 seconds being recommended for ordinary conditions, so that the approaching motorist can gauge his speed so that he will reach the intersection on the 'go' signal and avoid stopping entirely. Particularly is it true that proper timing on short cycles encourages observance of pedestrian regulations."

Chevrolet Breaks 16-Year Existence Production Mark

May's Record Output Totaling 140,700 Units Held High; Single Day Record Is Set at 7075 Cars

DETROIT, Mich., June 16.—All previous production records in the 16th year existence of the Chevrolet Motor company were shattered here in May when the company turned out 140,700 miles. The output for a single day also reached a new level on May 28, when 7,075 finished cars and trucks rolled off the assembly lines.

Will Surpass 1927 Record. These figures, released here today by W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager, lent substance to a growing feeling in automotive circles that Chevrolet would not only equal its 1927 volume of a million cars well before the close of 1928, but that it also would duplicate its 1927 performance of building and selling more cars than any other manufacturer in the world.

Production of Bigger and Better 1928 models to June 1, was 681,500 units, Mr. Knudsen stated. He pointed out that this figure includes production since the first of the year as well as 32,000 new cars built in December so that dealers in all parts of the country would have cars for immediate delivery when the new model was publicly announced on January 1.

Up to June 1 last year the company had built 613,000 new models;

"72" the greatest fact in motor cars today

From low price to high, all engineering today takes its cue from Chrysler—yet what are the facts?

Run the gamut of cars, from low to high, which seek to emulate Chrysler—and still the illustrious Chrysler "72" runs easily away from them all with all the honors of flashing, efficient performance!

However much they seek to act like Chrysler "72"—to ride and drive and accelerate and glide like Chrysler "72"—the illustrious "72" continues to leave them all in the rear in brilliant behavior.

There is no escaping this plain fact—that as motor car manufacturing exists today, anyone who pays as much as, or up to a thousand dollars more than the price of Chrysler "72," for another car unmistakably gets less. That is the one great important fact in motor car buying today.
