Violence Ended In Strike Area

GUARDSMEN REMAIN IN TOLEDO ALERT FOR FUTURE TROUBLE

(By The Associated Press)

TOLEDO, O., May 28.—Five days of strike-born violence which has left a casualty list of two dead and nearly 200 injured appeared to have ended today, but soldiers of the state of Ohio patrolled the strike area, alert for any sudden renewal of trouble.

Governor George White returned from a Michigan trip and received a report on the situation from Adjutant General Frank D. Henderson.

Settlement Looms

For the first time since violence flared, federal mediators led by Charles P. Taft brought union leaders and officials of the Electric Auto-Lite company together over the same table cloth yesterday. They approached what Taft described as a "possibility of complete settlement."

As Taft labored to bring order out of the chaos at the auto plant, E. Dunnigan, another federal mediator, sought to hold up a threatened general strike which certainly would bring more guardsmen and martial law here. Workers have set Thursday as a tentative date for their walkout at the Toledo Edison company.

General Strike Talked

There has been much talk of a strike of all union labor in sympathy with the strike in automotive plants. A meeting to further this proposal has been set for tomorrow night.

Federal mediators are now attempting to make a settlement of differences at all three automotive plants here where strikes are in progress. The Bingham Stamping & Tool company and the Logan Gear company are involved in the negotiations along with the Auto-Lite company.

SEEK METHVIN IN HEARING

CONVICT FUGITIVE IS CALLED AS WITNESS IN MACE CASE

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, May 28.—Whereabouts of Henry Methvin, convict fugitive, remained a question mark today after he had been subpoenaed as a defense witness at a Thursday habeas corpus hearing for Bonnie Parker's sister, named in the Easter slayings of two state highway patrolmen.

Despite the assertion of Clyde Mays, attorney for Mrs. Billie Mace, 21, that "Dallas county officers know where Methvin is," Dallas authorities remained silent and made no comment on the issuance of the subpoena.

Hamer Also Called

Methvin, reputed crime companion of Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker, was summoned to the hearing along with Frank Hamer, former Texas ranger captain, and Bob Alcorn, Dallas county deputy sheriff, who participated in the extermination of Barrow and the Parker woman in Louisiana last Wednesday.

Mays said that Methvin "can testify that he was with Barrow and Bonnie when the two officers were slain on a side road near Grapevine." He added that Hamer and Alcorn can corroborate Methvin's testimony.

Subpoena for Methvin was issued in care of the Dallas sheriff's office. Mays said he was "confident they know where he is."

To Check Bullets

Meanwhile, Fort Worth authorities obtained bullets fired from rifles in Barrow's car and sent them to Houston ballistics experts to determine if they matched bullets used in the slaying of Patrolmen Wheeler and Murphy.

Methvin, reported to have joined his father in an agreement which trapped Clyde and Bonnie and sent them to their deaths, escaped from the Eastham state prison farm in the break that freed Raymond Hamilton, former lieutenant of the Barrow hoodlums.

Mrs. Mace is charged jointly with Floyd Hamilton, brother of Raymond, now in the Crockett jail, in the Grapevine officer massacre.

SIX ARE HURT WHEN TANK EXPLODES

BLAZE THREATENS TO SPREAD TO OVERTON STORAGE TANKS

(By The Associated Press)

OVERTON, May 28.—One workman was killed and six other persons were burned seriously today when a residue tank at the oil refiners incorporated plant one mile south of Overton exploded and landed in a tank of kerosene, starting a fire which threatened to spread to storage tanks nearby.

Shacks Are Ignited

Flaming oil was thrown across a street and ignited a row of shacks James Jackson, a teamster, sitting in one of them was burned badly. All the victims were taken to a hospital. Attaches said Jackson and Lane were in the worst condition.

The water supply gave out shortly before 10 o'clock and the Overton fire fighters had to call on the fire department of Kilgore. Two trucks from that oil town made a quick run to the scene.

An official of the refinery estimated that $150,000 damage had been caused at 10 a. m. The fire fighters directed their efforts at saving a group of storage tanks, the nearest of which was 30 feet from the burning building.

LETTER INDICATES HAMILTON MARKED

DALLAS, May 28. (AP)—A letter, made public today, from Clyde Barrow to Raymond Hamilton, his former mer bank-robbing companion, disclosed that Barrow and Bonnie Parker had been bent on "wiping out" the "yellow rat" Hamilton for several weeks.

The missive was mailed to Hamilton while he was in jail here late last month. Hamilton identified the writing as that of Bonnie and the signature as that of Clyde. R. A. Schmid, Dallas county sheriff, intercepted it.

It was mailed at Memphis, Tenn., April 27 at 4 p. m. from the Desota station.

Hamilton was captured two days before that in flight through North Texas after robbing the First National bank at Lewisville, 20 miles northwest of Dallas.

Philosophy Blamed For Poison Death

WASHINGTON, May 28. (AP)—"Too much philosophy" was blamed today by Dr. Francis P. Gaines, president of Washington and Lee university, for the poison death of a Mississippi lawyer's son described as "one of our most brilliant students."

Joe H. Ford, jr., 18-year-old son of a prominent Houston, Miss., attorney was found dying in a hotel room here last night. A bottle containing poison was at his bedside.

"Better, by far, that you should forget and smile than that you remember and be sad," read one of two notes at Ford's side. The other requested that his family be notified.

NEGRO SLAYER IS SOUGHT

WHITE MAN IS SLAIN AND ANOTHER COUPLE ROBBED BY BLACKS

(By The Associated Press)

GALVESTON, May 28—A tense air hung over the Galveston waterfront today as officers sought the negro slayers of a white man and the kidnapers and robbers of a man and his wife.

Ralph W. Hardy, a dredge employe, was fatally shot by a negro who jumped from an automobile, pressed a gun into his side and fired, apparently without cause. Hardy, before his death, told officers he was en route to a dredge captain's boat and did not know why the negro shot himm.

Two other negroes with the slayer fled on foot while the killer made his getaway in an automobile.

Bryan Couple Robbed

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hansford of Bryan, were forced into a car by a band of negroes and taken into the country where they were robbed of clothing and $40 in money.

"You white trash have done enough to us," one of the negroes told him, Hansford said. He was choked and cursed by the abductors, he told police.

Approximately 200 negro longshoremen of the Clyde-Mallory lines and several hundred negro truck drivers and employes of cotton presses are on strike here.

NEW RULE SET UP FOR MANY INDUSTRIES

SELF-GOVERNMENT IS ORDERED FOR CODED SERVICE GROUPS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The NRA's burden was lightened measureably today by a presidential order setting up a local self-government rule for many of the coded service industries.

The order created a new recovery administration policy. It suspended price-fixing and other provisions of codes for certain of the service industries as may be designated by the NRA. The hour and wage and other clauses were left intact. Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, will decide which industries would be affected.

Other Changes Planned

The service industries, these selling services rather than goods, include hotels, restaurants, barber shops, laundries and cleaning and dyeing plants.

It was indicated this change of policy probably would be a forerunner of other clarifications and shifts in the NRA program.

It was learned authoritatively that President Roosevelt has decided that Administrator Johnson is to remain at the helm until NRA is on a definitely charted course and has the codes clicking smoothly.

In a statement accompanying his latest executive order last night, the president pointed out that while some industries could operate efficiently under a national code there were others "to which a greater degree of autonomous local self-government is desired."

May Keep Blue Eagle

Under the plan the local concerns could still fly the blue eagle provided they live up to "the present code provisions governing child labor, maximum hours, minimum wages and collective bargaining."

The plan provides that if 85 per cent of any local group in an industry agree on a local code of fair practice it could be made to cover prices and other provisions such as were suspended by the presidential order.

Texas Fugitives Kidnap Two Men

THREE SHERMAN JAIL BREAKERS ON WILD RIDE IN OKLAHOMA

(By The Associated Press)

GUTHRIE, Okla., May 28.—Three heavily armed prisoners who escaped from the Grayson county jail at Sherman, Texas, Sunday after slugging a jailer were making a wild ride for freedom across Oklahoma today after kidnaping two men in this state.

While speeding between Ardmore and Turner Falls this morning, the fugitives encountered Robert Jones of Dallas, who was en route to Wynnewood, Okla., to visit Relatives. Jones had stopped to buy some tire glue and the fugitives abandoned their car and took Jones', holding him as hostage.

Another Car Taken

At a point two miles north of Guthrie, in central Oklahoma, Jones' new car heated up and the fugitives stopped another motorist, taking his automobile, with yellow body and bearing a green front license and a yellow rear license.

After shaking hands with Jones, the fugitives warned him not to make a report of the kidnaping and let him go his way. He reached a roadside telephone and notified Guthrie officers, who in turn notified police at Oklahoma City, Tulsa, Wichita, Ponca City, Perry and other points.

Roads Blockaded

Roads were blockaded throughout central Oklahoma and in southern Kansas. One of the outlaws exchanged clothes with Jones at the time he was kidnaped.

The identity of the second kidnap victim was not learned immediately. Jones was not allowed to converse with this man.

Sheriff Milo Beck, leading a searching posse from Guthrie, telephoned that the fugitives' car, a yellow Chrysler coupe, bearing "only three men," was seen by a women filling station attendant a few miles east of Yale, about 11:30 a. m.

The car was headed northeast toward the Osage hills, which have long been a hiding place for criminals. Beck said the car was spotted also twelve miles west of Stillwater. The fugitives apparently were keeping on back dirt roads.

Officers Block Bridges

Bridges at Cleveland, Mannford, and Keystone were blocked by officers.

The second kidnap victim presumably had either been released or slain by the outlaws.

FOUR ASSAILANTS SEEK TO KILL AMERICAN ENVOY TO CUBA

(By The Associated Press)

HAVANA, May 28 (AP)—The entire strength of the Cuban national police was thrown into a search today for four men who made a daring attempt yesterday to assassinate Jefferson Caffery, United States ambassador to Cuba.

The cabinet, shaken by the affair, met in a special session to discuss the plot against Caffery's life. The explosion of two bombs in a residential section shortly after midnight added to the excitement which gripped Havana.

All Cars Searched

Authorities expressed a determination to put an end to terrorism which has harrassed Havana for months. Police raked the city and its environs for the assailants. All automobiles were searched in the vicinity of the diplomat's home.

Caffery spent the night there. A heavy guard surrounded the residence.

The attempt, made in gangster fashion, did not harm Caffery but may cost the life of Francisco Ortega, a soldier on guard at the Caffery home.

Four Open Fire

Four unidentified men rode slowly by in an automobile and blazed away with sawed-off shotguns into the entrance of the home. It was the hour Caffery usually left for the Yacht club.

The ambassador was some distance away at the time. One of the several shots tore off Ortega's leg.

Police blamed "communists or other radicals" for the attempt. Thirty radio equipped cars were employed to run down clues which authorities said were "very good."

AVIATORS ARE SAFE AFTER OCEAN HOP

PACIFIC COAST GOAL DROPPED; LAND AT BENNETT FIELD

(By The Associated Press)

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 28. — The French fliers, Rossi and Codos, brought their trans-Atlantic plane Joseph LE Brix to a safe landing at Floyd Bennett field at 1:38 p. m., eastern standard time, today.

They appeared over the field from the northeast at 1:32 p. m. and circled the airport three times, dumping gasoline in preparation for their landing. They came down in a long graceful glide and rolled their big plane for a considerable distance before bringing it to a stop.

Apparently forced to abandon, because of mechanical trouble, their original non-stop objective, the Pacific coast, Paul Codos and Maurice Rossi drove their huge silver monoplane "Joseph Lebrix" southward down the New England coast line to New York.

Nearing Boston at noon (Eastern Standard time), they notified officials at Floyd Bennett field to make ready to service their ship, and sent their respects to President Roosevelt through the Canadian ministry of marine.

They were expected to reach New York on their daring flight about 2 p. m. (Eastern Standard time). It was expected that they would take off then for California, completing the 6,100-mile journey in two jumps instead of one previously planned when they took off from Paris at 11:10 o'clock Saturday night.

Wireless conversations with the radio-marine corporation station at Chatham, Mass., brought the report that their monoplane had developed "minor trouble." This was thought to be the cause for the stop in New York.

Theirs is the second successful flight over the dangerous westward ocean route from continental Europe to the United States. They were preceded four years ago by Dieudonne Coste and Maurice Bellonte, who flew non-stop from Paris to Valley Stream, Long Island.

It was not determined, in wireless messages from the "Joseph Lebrix," the extent of the trouble other than "minor," and in o message to the commander of the United States fleet advised officials only that they intended to land at Floyd Bennett field.

NORTH BAY, Ont., May 28. (AP)—Mrs. Olvia Dionne gave birth to five girls at her home, a few miles from Callender, nine miles south of here, today.

Grand Jury Probes Slaying Of Guard

HUNTSVILLE, May 28 (AP)—Walker county grand jurors today investigated the killing of Major Crowson, a prison farm guard, for which the state of Texas will attempt to send Raymond Hamilton, young bank robber, to his death.

Crowson was killed in a prison farm break purportedly engineered by Clyde Barrow, which freed Hamilton and five others. Joe Palmer, one of the fugitives, is also charged with the slaying.

BARBARA HUTTON MDIVANI REPORTED PLANNING SEPARATION FROM PRINCE

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, May 28—Reports that Barbara Hutton Mdivani was considering a separation from her Georgian prince today were met with silence by her friends here.

Questioned as to reports that the heiress to Woolworth millions was now in London, awaiting her father's counsel, a friend said:

"It is impossible to say anything about this now. The wrong move might wreck havoc. There may be something to say later."

At the hotel where Princess Mdivani and her husband were staying, it was admitted she had gone to London.

"Everybody is gone," a clerk said.

The blonde American girl has been married less than a year to Prince Alexis, the youngest of the three Mdivani brothers. They returned only recently from an around the world honeymoon tour.

Franklyn L. Hutton, father of Princess Mdivani, sailed from New York Saturday night for London.

The New York American said he was making the journey in an effort to help his daughter solve marital troubles.

Prince Alexis Mdivani, stopping at a London hotel, is unaware that the marriage has run into difficulties, the newspaper said.

"But a series of tearful letters from Barbara to her father complained that her dashing Georgian prince has been lavishing more attention on the polo ponies she gave him as a wedding present than on his lovely young wife."

Ideal Feminine Figure Is Judged From The Back Says This Sculptor

The theory that the ideal feminine figure should be judged at the back is here demonstrated by Bryant Baker, noted sculptor. The back of the thighs, he contends, must be on the same vertical plane as the rear of the shoulders.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

In the ideal feminine figure, the shoulder blades and back of the thighs are on the same vertical plane, according to Bryant Baker, internationally known sculptor. And Mr. Baker should know, for he has been studying perfect figures and their various planes for years and years.

"I prefer, personally, to judge a figure from the back. Many women look well in the front view, and have unlovely rear lines. Good back contours have the rear of the shoulders and the back of the thighs at least in the same vertical plane," Mr. Baker says.

In other words, from a sculptor's viewpoint which, after all, is pretty accurate when it comes to the question of beautiful figures, no smart woman will endeavor to acquire a Mae West silhouette. Rather she will eat sensibly and take plenty of exercise, trying her best to maintain the sylph-like curves of Marlene Dietrich.

Mr. Baker makes some other interesting observations on the subject: "In the standing figure, the wrist bones, when arms hang down, should mark the center of the body. The elbow, when bent, should touch the top of the hip bone. The shoulders should be somewhat wider than the hips."

The sculptor, world famous for his ideal feminine figures, thinks that the American figure typifies feminine beauty and that it harks back to about 900 B. C., leaving the hour glass silhouettes of the Gay Nineties in the "also ran" category.

All one has to do to convince himself of Mr. Baker's accuracy is to look at the figures on a genuine Arcade Greek vase. They are the same as the model which Mr Baker is measuring in the above photograph—no excess weight about the rear of the hips.

Astringent Preparation Aids Skin

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

When the four essential preparations have been put down in the list of necessities for your beauty cabinet, stop and diagnose your own skin before adding another item.

Are there fine lines around your eyes, expression lines about your mouth, wrinkles across the forehead? Do you notice any enlarged pores, slight blemishes or other complexion defects? Is the skin sallow, too dry, excessively oily or otherwise imperfect?

Make a mental note of the exact condition of your skin and be absolutely honest with yourself. Then, as soon as you've decided what's wrong, add to your list the cosmic preparations which will correct the faulty conditions.

There are grand muscle oils for expression lines and fine wrinkles. These are to be patted into the skin after excess tissue cream has been removed and are to be left on all night. A few drops of one of these rich oils does much to keep the throat white and smooth. However, if yours is an oily skin, obviously muscle oil isn't for you. Try, instead, one of the creams with astringent properties that help to close pores which exude too much oil. It should be left on all night too.

Pore creams are infinitely beneficial to complexions with conspicuous pores. If you have dry skin, use pore cream on alternate nights. If yours is an oily condition, use it every night.

FLOWERS IN VOGUE

PARIS (AP)—Field flowers are one of fashion's favorites now. One designer makes a big butterfly bow scarf and gauntlet gloves of white organdy embroidered in little field flowers in tones of red, blue and yellow. Others use wild flower garlands to encircle evening coiffures just above the cluster of curls at the nape of the neck.

HARVEY COUCH TAKES SCHOOL HONOR FROM FORMER TEACHER

WACO, May 28. (AP)—When Harvey Crowell Couch of Pine Bluff, Ark., member of the Reconstruction Finance corporation received the honorary degree of LL. D. from Baylor university today he accepted the honor at the hands of his boyhood school teacher, President Pat M. Neff of Baylor.

After Mr. Neff's graduation at Baylor, he taught school for a season to earn money to take his law course at the University of Texas. When he began teaching in the southwestern academy of Magnolia, Ark., he found among his pupils a big country boy who had little schooling and who was embarrassed at having to take the preliminary courses in classes of boys and girls much younger than himself.

Now a Millionaire

This embarrassed boy, dressed in a jeans suit and hickory shirt made by his mother, the wife of a circuit-riding Methodist preacher, was Harvey Couch, today a millionaire industrialist. The young teacher thought he saw promise in the boy and coached him until he was able to advance to classes comprising members more nearly his age.

The teacher and pupil talked often about aiming high and after Mr. Neff left Magnolia to enter upon his law studies young Couch launched out for himself as clerk in a drug store. Studying during his spare time, Couch prepared himself for a civil service examination after which he became a railway mail clerk. While making his run the future utilities promoter conceived the idea of building a telephone line through one of the remote sections of his native state.

Headed Red Cross

Mr. Couch's subsequent career has brought him the presidency of some of the largest utility concerns in the southwest, the presidency of a railroad, a directorship in another and directorships in banks and other institutions. He was president of the American Red Cross in 1927, and although lacking a college education, is a trustee of Hendrix college and George Peabody college for teachers. In 1927, he directed the flood relief in Arkansas, a connection in which he won the personal friendship of Herbert Hoover, by whom he was first appointed to the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Mr. Couch is a councilor of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Wrong Matthew

CHICAGO — Judge Matthew Hartigan said to Witness Harry Merkin: "Raise your right hand and be sworn."

"I cannot swear," pleaded Merkin. "Matthew forbids it."

"You shouldn't call the court by his first name," admonished the clerk.

"I wasn't talking about the judge, I was talking about Matthew in the Bible, who says you mustn't swear," Merkin expostulated.

Whereupon he held up his right hand and "solemnly affirmed" that he would tell the truth about a window breaking.

PHILADELPHIA—Amid hundreds of trees, police found John Szegea gamboling without so much as a single leaf to protect him from the gaze of strollers in Fairmount park.

His clothes were half a mile away. Szegea told a magistrate he had been swimming, but couldn't remember where. The court said he could go free if the alienists approved.

OKLAHOMA CITY — For hanging around the corner drug store nights until midnight, Kenneth Zeigler, 14, has been commended by his high school principal.

Kenneth's step-father is unemployed and there are no lights in the house, so the young student does his lessons at a fountain table.

INDICATIONS OF A STRONG WOOL MARKET APPEAR

SAN ANGELO, May 28 (AP)—Although no general buying campaign has developed in West Texas ranch and wool leaders point to many indications of a strong wool market.

Warehouses over Texas are holding their top lines of 12-months wool for 32 to 36 cents a pound, while offers of 30 cents have been refused. Numerous offers of 27 1-2 cents a pound are reported.

Big Purchase Reported

Max Robin, San Angelo wool buyer, has purchased 90,000 pounds at prices reported around 30 cents a pound. It was the first large purchase of the season.

Meanwhile, some small buying is being done, including a carload by William Wright & Son from E. L. Worner of Fredericksburg, at a price reported to be 25 cents a pound.

Growers are generally regarded as having held together well this year. Bankers, warehouse officials and executives of the National Wool Marketing corporation are urging the growers not to sell at present offers.

Reports say eastern mills are not running heavily now. Talk of a lowered tariff on wool has been discounted by reports from Washington that President Roosevelt had assured western senators that the wool growers need have no fear about his lowering the tariff on their product.

Mohair Sales Slow

Few sales of mohair have been reported. Most of the state's clip from goats is held in warehouses and these are stacking up the mohair and playing a waiting game.

Hughie Munro, executive of Draper & Co. of Boston, said he found in his tour of Texas that sheep that usually shear from 7 1-2 to 9 pounds of wool were now turning out 5 to 7 pounds. He estimated that 28,000,000 pounds of wool have been bought thus far in the United States out of a production of 354,000,000 pounds.

Used car dealers in southern textile centers have enjoyed a thriving business since the textile code increased wages of cotton mill workers and gave them more leisure.

NEWS! Science reveals important new Facts for Smokers!

Camel Smokers can verify these facts!

A famous New York research laboratory announces a basic discovery that throws new light on our past knowledge of cigarettes. It embodies an "energizing effect"... a quick restoration of the flow of natural body energy... an experience well known to Camel smokers. When you smoke a Camel you feel an almost immediate relief from fatigue. What has actually happened is that you have released and made available the latent energy in your body. You've helped your body to help itself. During the day your energy curve hits certain low points. Camels raise your flow of energy... quickly, conveniently and without jangling your nerves.

There's a "Lift" in CAMELS that drives away Fatigue and Irritability

Feel "all in"? Then's the best time to light a Camel.

It's cool and fragrant and delightful... but far more important than that, it brings your flow of energy up from the depths!

You feel fatigue vanish. Irritability seems to slip away. And you go back to work—or play—with all the energy and cheerfulness that are naturally yours.

YOU'VE HAD THE EXPERIENCE... HERE'S THE EXPLANATION!

This experience is no news to Camel smokers. But the explanation is news—and good news—to everyone.

The "lift" you get from smoking Camels is simply a release of the natural latent energy in your body. In other words you have helped your body to help itself... easily, naturally, and without the slightest strain.

Remember this explanation when your energy curve is "down"... times when you're irritable and your brain just doesn't seem to work and you feel too tired to move. At such times ..."Get a lift with a Camel!"

AND CAMELS NEVER JANGLE YOUR NERVES!

Camel fans smoke frequently—and they can—as often as they like. Camel's costlier tobaccos never get on the nerves.

Keep your flow of energy at a higher level with Camels.

TOO TIRED FOR FUN... and then she smoked a Camel!

CAMEL'S Costlier Tobaccos never get on your Nerves

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand.

KNOW THIS FEELING? The feeling of being too "all in" to respond to the gaiety of the crowd? No taste for the pleasure and fun of the sort of social evening that you would ordinarily look forward to? That's one of the many times to light a Camel, enjoying its rich flavor while your flow of natural, healthful energy is restored. You'll like Camels—a matchless blend of costlier tobaccos!

Wilson Beats Holmes To Retain West Texas Links Title

LUBBOCK WINS MOST PRIZES IN TOURNEY

TECH STAR UNABLE TO USE IRONS; HITS TEE SHOTS BEAUTIFULLY

By C. W. RATLIFF
Journal Staff Writer

BIG SPRING COUNTRY CLUB, May 28—Although their bid for the championship fell short, Lubbock's troupe of crack golfers left here last night with a majority of prizes offered winners of the tenth annual West Texas Golf association tournament.

Billy Holmes, modest Tech star, lost the championship, 9-7, to Carnes Wilson of Abilene, defending champion, when his close game cracked Sunday, but the remainder of the Lubbock players came through with wins and last night received handsome prizes for their efforts. Of the dozen prizes, Lubbock came home with eight, not having contestants in two divisions.

Clinton Bussey was winner of the championship consolation, defeating Cotton McAfee. John Edmisson came through with first place in the first flight and Manson Allen won consolations. Windy Watkins was winner of the third flight and Mrs. Paul Denson copped the women's prize with Mrs. John Edmisson consolations winner. Meadowbrook's team, Holmes, Bihl, Allen and Doherty, captured the team prizes. Edmisson defeated Geo. Norman of Lamesa and Allen defeated J. S. Armour of Sweetwater.

Billy Holmes, a heavy favorite, with the gallery of nearly 400 persons due to Wilson's antagonistic and incessant prancing and wigwagging on tee shots, just couldn't get his iron shots to working and he threw his putter away after the match. His drives were beauties. He hit the longest ball of the tournament on No. 1 tee in the afternoon round when the shot came to rest 348 yards away. Out of 22 wood shots on the 29 holes he averaged 258 yards.

Wilson Plays Safe

Wilson took advantage of Billy's miscues near and on the green and after getting a lead, just tried for pars and played them safe. He was donated several holes merely by staying near regulation figures when Billy got into trouble.

Both were even par on the front nine but Billy went two over coming in while Wilson cut one under to score a 70.

Their cards:

Morning:
Holmes out .... 433 544 454—36—
Wilson out .... 436 444 344—36—
Holmes in ..... 544 334 455—37—73
Wilson in ..... 433 344 454—34—70

Afternoon:
Holmes out ..... 434 635 453—37
Wilson out ..... 534 534 343—34
Holmes in 44
Wilson in 43

Wilson's victory made him the first champion to win the title consecutively.

No. 1—(400 yards, par 4)—Wilson's tee shot was 175 yards to the right in the rough. Holmes hooked his drive into the wind and it barely went out 220 yards to the left. Wilson's second was low and ten feet short of the green and Billy's went into a deep sand trap to right of the green. Wilson approached within 3 feet of the cup and Holmes exploded his dead to the pin, six inches away. Wilson picked up Holmes' ball and sunk his putt for a half.

No. 2—(160 yards, par 3)—Wilson's tee shot was to the right but hit back bank of green and rolled around on edge. Billy's was on 12 feet away. Wilson's putt ran four feet by and Holmes put his within 3 inches of cup. Wilson sunk for another half.

No. 3—(428 yards, par 4)—Wilson hooked his drive into rough, 180 yards away and Billy used an iron to avoid ditch running across fairway 226 yards away. He sliced into rough 175 yards. Wilson took a wood and in trying to get out his ball hit a tree, his third shot also found trouble and hit a tree in front of the ditch, the ball falling into the ditch. His fourth shot hit in a trap near the green and he conceded the hole, Holmes going one up.

No. 4—(523 yards, par 5)—Holmes used an iron to avoid the ditch and only carried 160 yards. Wilson drove about 20 yards farther. Billy's second was low and into the rough 100 yards short of the green. Carnes second stopped in the fairway at the 400-yard post. Billy set his approach on 15 feet away. Wilson's was three inches closer. Billy stopped his putt short and Wilson sunk to square the match.

No. 5—(366 yards, par 4)—Both drives were 250 yards down the middle. Wilson's second was to the left and one foot off the green while Billy placed his two feet off the edge and chipped to within three feet. Wilson rolled his to within three inches and Billy sunk for a half.

No. 6—(328, par 4)—Billy's 300-yard drive was 40 yards farther down than the champion's and Billy's approach to 4 feet of cup was 8 feet closer than Wilson. Wilson's putt was short and Billy missed his by an inch for a win.

No. 7—(200 yards, par 3)—Carnes' tee shot was left of the green in the rough and Billy stayed in ten feet closer. Wilson approached to within 8 inches and Billy's chip shot was about 3 feet away. He missed the putt and Wilson went one up.

No. 8—(468 yards, par 5)— Both drives were an even 250, Billy's in the rough to the right. Holmes' iron shot went into No. 9 fairway and Wilson's second rolled over a trap near the green. Billy pitched short in front of trap and then to a foot of the cup. Wilson rolled to within 4 feet and sunk the next for a win, going two up.

No. 9—(365 yards, par 4)—Both drives rolled 300 yards, Billy in the rough. He placed his iron shot fifteen feet over the green and laid his third within 3 inches of the pin. Carnes was on in two and his putt rimmed for a half.

No. 10—(330 yards, par 4)—Holmes drove 298 yards, 50 yards farther than the champ but Carnes put his second on two feet from edge and Billy's approach only went 20 yards. He pitched his third on a foot short and his putt rimmed the cup to put Wilson three up.

No. 11—(283 yards par 4)—Billy's drive sliced far into rough and Wilson was 200 just out. Carnes pitched 10 feet from cup and Billy dubbed his next shot then chipped to within 8 inches of cup. Wilson sank for a birdie to go four up.

No. 12—(354 yards, par 4)—Carnes was down the middle 250 yards. Billy put his 40 yards farther but just inside the rough under a tree Carnes approached to within 3 feet and Billy got on the edge. His putt rimmed the cup and he went down. Match 5 up for Wilson.

No. 13—(200 yards, par 3)—Wilson's tee shot was four feet off green but Holmes put his on the blanket. Wilson pitched 12 inches away and Billy's putt was two inches short for a half.

No. 14—(119 yards, par 3)—Wilson's ball hit right front bank of green and rolled back under a tree. Billy hit on three foot from edge.

Indians Replace Yankees In Lead

CLEVELAND MOVES UP AS YANKS DROP 8 OUT OF 11 GAMES

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The slump of the New York Yankees had carried them today out of the lead for the first time since the end of April while the consistent Cleveland Indians had replaced them at the head of the American League.

One of the Yankees most dismal performances came yesterday when they collected ten hits and eleven walks off Buck Newsom and still dropped a 16 to 7 decision to the St. Louis Browns. It was the Yanks' eighth defeat in 11 games.

Indians Beat A's

Cleveland came from behind to beat Philadelphia 7 to 6 after the A's had scored five runs in the first. Sammy Hale's homer and Hal Trosky's triple in the fifth provided the winning runs.

Two other battles for places in the standing remained drawn as Detroit trimmed the Boston Red Sox 9 to 2 and Washington outslugged Chicago 9 to 6 with the aid of circuit swats at Buddy Myer and Joe Kuhel.

The St. Louis Cardinals provided another of the almost-daily changes in the National League standing when Dizzy Dean led them to a 5 to 2 ten-inning victory over the Phillies that returned the Cards to second place. Dizzy not only pitched eight-hit ball but hit a homer in the tenth to start the winning rally. Chicago's Cubs couldn't touch Huck Betts' pitching, were shut out at Boston 5 to 0, and dropped a full game away from the lead and a half game behind St. Louis.

Pirates Down Giants

Pittsburgh's pace setters smashed young Al Smith for four runs in the first inning, when Gus Suhr hit the first of two homers, and went on to trounce the Giants 7 to 3 behind the five hit flinging of Red Lucas.

Van Mungo, Brooklyn's ace, limited the Reds to six blows to give the Dodgers a 5 to 0 decision.

EKU GRAPPLES VAN BEBBER

ESKIMO INVADER WILL MEET MAT COACH IN BANNER MATCH

The savage Eskimo torso-twister from Alaska, Jacque Eku, wrestles Jack Van Bebber in the three-fall main combat of Promoter Sled Allen's mat program at the Auditorium Wednesday night.

Tirelessness on the mat is one of the Eskimo's chief assests. Eku gained his early wrestling experience in gold mining camps of Alaska and developed a splendid stamina in sled-dog treks over the snowy trails between the camps.

Van Bebber In Condition

Van Bebber, who has only once met defeat since turning professional last fall, is also an athlete always in a finely tuned condition.

This match will be particularly significant to Jack who has stamped himself as a standout contender in Dutch Mantell's middleweight championship wrestling tournament.

Cyclone Mackey, tough welterweight from Clovis, returns to the local mat after a long absence. Mackey collides with the toothy Teuton, Jittery Joe Bauer, in the one-fall semi-windup.

Cyclone has been touring the grappling circles of the East, and he is back on this loop with added mat wisdom and more highly technical ferocity.

MCLARNIN AND ROSS BATTLE IS TONIGHT

SIXTY THOUSAND FANS TO SEE TITLE BOUT; JIMMY FAVORED

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 28 (AP)—Jimmy McLarnin will stake his welterweight championship against Barney Ross tonight with the outcome so much in doubt that fully 60,0000 fans will elbow their way into Madison Square Garden's Long Island bowl to see what all the shouting's about.

McLarnin's personal popularity in New York plus the 10-pound pull he will enjoy in weight were reflected in the betting odds that favored him at 7 to 5. There were many competent critics, however, who thought the speedy Ross, champion of the lightweights, would outbox the Irishman and earn to decision in 15 rounds.

Ross Defies Axioms

In seeking to add the welterweight title to his collection, Ross will defy one of the ring's modern axioms to the effect that you can't spot McLarnin weight and hope to beat him. The woods are full of lightweights who thought they could and failed—Sid Terris, Louis (Kid) Kaplan, Joe Glick, Sammy Baker, Ruby Goldstein, Al Singer and others. McLarnin's plan of battle against lighter and speedier foes is simplicity itself: "just get 'em in a corner and give it to them with both hands" is Jimmy's formula.

Ross faces the issue with serene confidence. It was upon his insistence that the match was signed. He's convinced he can beat Jimmy, outbox him, outspeed him and above all keep his chin out of the way when the Celt with the deceptive mile tosses right hands in his direction. Jimmy's left is no plaything but that right has spelled curtains for many fighters.

Younger and Faster

Ross has at least three factors in his favor—he is younger, he is faster and, perhaps more important of all, he has done plenty of fighting the last year or two. McLarnin hasn't. Except for training, the Irishman hasn't put on a glove since he won the title by knocking out Young Corbett in two minutes of the first round at San Francisco last May 29.

Whatever the result, their meeting will mark the temporary end of the depression that has hit the boxing business. Gross receipts probably will reach close to $250,000. The milk fund is co-promoter of the bout with the Garden and will share in the proceeds.

Body Of Slain Girl Found Under House

DETROIT, May 28 (AP)—The body of Martha Kangas, 19, who had come to Detroit from Calumet, Mich., about three weeks ago, was found concealed behind a vacant house here Saturday.

The young woman had been shot through the back of the head and her jaw broken. She had been working as a domestic since her arrival in Detroit.

Texas Medal Honors Won With 87 In 1906; May Take 76 To Qualify In '34

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, May 28 (AP)—Twenty-eight years ago the first Texas Golf association state championship tournament was held at the Dallas Country club. H. L. Edwards of Dallas won over Frank M. Lewis of San Antonio, 2 and 1.

Wednesday when the qualifying round starts in the twenty-eighth annual state tournament, there is a possibility the two finalists on April 21, 1906, will see the tournament start. Edwards, a member at Brook Hollow where the tournament will be played, still lives here and still is interested in tournament competition. Frank Lewis is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Dan Chandler, and may remain long enough to see the first tee shot.

87 Was Low Then

Where critics are claiming it will take a medal card of 76 to make the first thirty-two low in this year's championship flight, Edwards and Lewis tied for medalist in 1906 with sizzling rounds of 87.

For the first time in many years the tournament will be conducted without a defending champion. Gus Moreland, who won the championship for the first time in 1931 and duplicated the feat in '32 and '33, is on the high seas on his return from the Walker cup matches and the British amateur. Moreland's absence means the throne room is wide-open, the king's chair is vacant, and that a new title holder must be crowned.

The qualifying round will be over 18 holes. Match play competition starts Thursday with two matches each day until the finals Saturday which will be 36 holes. Professional Francis Scheider and his staff of assistants are going to get a wallop watching some of the state's highly rated amateurs trying to score at Brook Hollow. The secret is that Francis and his co-workers have added traps, let the rough grow, moved the tee markers back to the extreme edges, put the putting cups in treacherous positions on the greens. All this has accomplished a desired purpose, made Brook Hollow triple tough.

OILERS RETAIN LEAGUE LEAD

STEERS AND MISSIONS CROWD LEADERS IN TEXAS LOOP

(By The Associated Press)

Jake Atz and his Tulsa Oilers have started a new week with a seven point lead over the Dallas Steers for first place, and in third place are the San Antonio Missions ready to step in front of the Oilers and Steers if either should slip.

After several erratic starts and "shower finishes" Fred Stiely, Dallas southpaw, found his assortment of stuff yesterday and puzzled the Oilers by beating them, 4 to 1. Stiely limited the Atzmen to four hits and was complete master of the game. Davis and Brown toiled for Tulsa. They were solved for seven hits.

"Control To Spare"

George "Rubber Arm" Payne, the old pitching master of the Houston Buffs, had control to spare when he turned back the San Antonio Missions, 5 to 0. Payne was zipping the corners of the plate, teasing the Missions with a change of pace and was tough in the pinches. Caldwell hurled a five-hit ball game for San Antonio.

Vernon Kennedy and his speed ball gave Oklahoma City a 6 to 1 win over the Fort Worth Cats. Kennedy allowed five hits. His mates collected twelve hits and topped the game off with a two-run rally in the ninth.

A little matter of being out-hit, 13 to 10, did not prevent Beaumont from beating Galveston, 6 to 5. Galveston's hits were mostly of the scratch variety and did not come at opportune times. Newman, Hubbell and Gumbert failed to stop the Exporters who won the game with a two-run rally in the eighth that over-shadowed Galveston's final bid for a win in the ninth by scoring a run.

HELEN JACOBS ADVANCES

PARIS, May 28. (AP)—The sole American survivor, but apparently undisturbed by her responsibility, Helen Jacobs, the United States women's titleholder, today advanced easily to the quarter-final round of the French hard court tennis championships. She defeated Mary Harwick, 18-year-old unranked English girl, 6-0, 6-1.

NO BOXING CARD SLATED TONIGHT

National Guard officials here have not announced a boxing show for tonight, and it has been unofficially reported that the sport will be discontinued through the summer months.

Captain Ben Condray, matchmaker for the Armory organization, could not be reached for a statement this morning, but it has been reported by others of the promotional staff that the company will suspend operations for a time.

Small crowds at recent cards have indicated a lack of general interest in boxing here. Even the move from the Armory to the downtown Auditorium failed to bring out the crowds, and the venture was beginning to prove costly to the promoters.

ABERNATHY PLANS ANNUAL C-C MEET

ABERNATHY, May 28 (Special)—Annual banquet of the Abernathy Chamber of Commerce has been set for June 5, on the lawn of the Tuco plant of the Texas Utilities company, three miles north of town.

E. T. Beard, president of the organization and employe of the plant, will be host.

John L. McCarty, editor and publisher of the Dalhart Daily Texan has been invited to deliver the main address. McCarty is a former school student here, having attended the local high school.

President Beard will name committees to handle details of the meeting. Delegations are expected from Lubbock, Plainview and Hale Center as well as the communities in Abernathy's trade territory.

Last year the affair was held on the lawn and was widely attended.

Actor's Help-Mate Deplores Divorce

LOS ANGELES, May 28 (AP)—A contest of a Mexican divorce decree granted to Ned Sparks, film comedian, was promised today by Mercedes De Cabellero Sparks, who said she never had agreed to a divorce in Mexico.

Sparks obtained the decree in Juarez, Mex., Friday. His lawyer, Joseph Marchetti, insisted that the action was brought after the couple had agreed upon a property settlement and she had dismissed a separate maintenance suit filed here.

Ohio was the seventeenth state to gain admission to the union.

SPEEDERS TRY FOR PLACES

FRAME AND DURAY ARE AMONG LAST MINUTE TRACK QUALIFIERS

INDIANAPOLIS, May 28. (AP)—A last-minute scramble for places in the starting lineup of the annual 500-mile speedway race Wednesday was on today.

Ten to fifteen drivers prepared to battle for the last four positions in the field of 33 starters.

Most of the veterans of the speedway course are among the 29 who already have qualified, but two notables, Fred Frame, winner of the 1932 race, and Leon Duray, both of Los Angeles, were awaiting their chance in the last day of the trials. The course will be closed tomorrow while its two and a half miles of bricks are washed.

100 M. P. H. Required

After four more drivers qualify, others who wish to gain a place in the field must run the 25-mile test at a higher speed than some of the earlier qualifiers in order to get into the race. A minimum average of 100 miles an hour is required of all qualifiers.

The youthful Rex Mays of Riverside, Calif., capped a busy Sunday by leading the seven qualifiers with an average speed of 113.639 miles an hour. Earlier in the day he raced at Winchester, Ind., in a 10-mile dirt speedway event during which James O. Patterson, 28, of Kansas City, was killed. Mays placed second to Al Thieson of Dayton, after Patterson and Clay Weatherly of Chicago locked wheels and slid over an embankment on the last lap. Weatherly escaped with slight hurts.

RAMBLERS WIN HITTING-BEE OFF HOBBS

HOME RECORD IS KEPT UNBLEMISHED WITH 23-20 VICTORY

The batters had a field day yesterday when the Lubbock Ramblers and the Hobbs, N. M., sluggers tangled in a wild, free-hitting exhibition at College Avenue park here.

The final score was 23 to 20, favoring the Ramblers and permitting them to keep their home record unblemished this season. The victory also gave the Ramblers a one-up advantage over the New Mexico team. The clubs had split even in two previous contests.

Seven Hurlers Used

Seven pitchers were used, most of whom saw their efforts result in long base hits as the batters on both sides poled out a total of 46 safe blows. Nearly every batter hit safely at least once. Seven home runs were slammed.

Manager Payne used three Rambler pitchers, beginning with his ace, Bull Thompson, who lasted three innings. Tracy Watson went in for the next four frames and the Hobbs bunch continued to hit. Bill Davidson went in for the last two innings to hold Hobbs hitless the rest of the way.

McCann Hits Two Homers

Hobbs started Waldon at the mound, replaced him with Lefty Wright, formerly of the Hubbers. Rust and Lefty McCann. The latter, who started at first base, poked out two home runs.

Lefty Bettes, Red Gaither, Andy Anderson and Jack Thompson hit homers for Lubbock. Thompson led the batting with a homer, a triple, a double and two singles in six times at bat.

OIL QUESTION UNANSWERED

FEDERAL REGULATION BEING SOUGHT BY ADMINISTRATION

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON, May 28. (AP)—Oil buried today into a huge black question mark over Capitol hill.

A measure definitely handing the the government power to regulate the industry's output is sought eagerly by the oil administration. It has the support of the president.

Opposition Stirred

Bills pending in the senate and house have stirred some opposition on state's rights principle. The question is whether either of them can be pushed to enactment with congress bent on stopping work by June 9.

There are strong indications that legislation specifically tagged for passage will crowd oil from the legislative program.

Administration officials conceded that their position had been strengthened greatly by a decision of the fifth circuit court of appeals in New Orleans upholding the constitutionality of the oil code. But they said it by no means swept away the necessity for additional legislation.

A measure is needed, they said, to permit control of oil production.

Would Bar Excess

Under the recovery act the flow of oil produced in excess of quotas may be barred from interstate and foreign commerce. But it does not mention production control, which officials contend must be turned over to the federal government to stop dissipation of oil resources and stabilize the industry.

The New Orleans decision likewise left hanging the question of the right of the government to regulate production. But oil administration officials were elated at what they considered strong indications in the decision that the proposed legislation would be upheld as constitutional.

Ordinarily, oil production would not be within the power of congress to regulate within a state, the decision said. It pointed out, however, that congressional action might be justified under "peculiar circumstances" where production imposed "a burden" on or interference with interstate commerce.

Moreover, the court said that when a quota was fixed by a state regulatory board, such as the Texas railroad commission, the federal government had the right to support the state government.

Coordination Urged

Oil administration spokesmen said, though, that as far as the decision went, it would still be possible for states to exceed individual state quotas. As one of them put it: "Many states do not have regulatory agencies. We need federal regulation to protect states with such bodies and to provide central coordination to see that total production is held down to demand."

Oil circles here expect the New Orleans decision to be carried to the supreme court by companies in East Texas which attacked the recovery act and oil code as an unconstitutional delegation of legislative power to the president and as regulating intrastate commerce and consequently not within the federal power.

The oil administration said, however, it was confident of a favorable decision.

The oil agency said, moreover, it was still hopeful an oil bill could be enacted this session. The recovery act, it was pointed out, ends June 16, 1935, and with it the oil code provision is made legislatively to continue it.

Chaos in the industry and a return to 10-cent oil—far below production costs—was predicted by officials if the industry were thrown "on its own" again.

"JUST GIGOLOS?" YES, BUT THEY'RE RED-BLOODED, YOUNG AMERICANS WITH COLLEGE DIPLOMAS, FOOTBALL RECORDS

BY HELEN WELSHIMER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 28 — Gigolos are hired to dance— not to talk! If you have rented a dancing partner to see you through a waltz or fox trot, don't ask questions.

That is, unless you are a newspaper writer who has been sent to interview him on how it feels to be a gigolo, what are the qualifications for becoming a gigolo, and what he will be when he is through being a gigolo. Then he'll say plenty!

Anyway, here are the answers, so all you will need to do, Madame, is dance and pay your tip. A dollar, by the way, is the usual generous gesture for a dance.

The Casino de Paree, a New York night club, has employed six tall young male dancing partners who take the prescribed steps with inscrutable faces. Unlike patent-leather-haired, continental-type gigolos, these are red-blooded, handsome young Americans, who know what to do with footballs and college diplomas.

Recognized By Green Carnation

A green carnation is pinned on each one's lapel to set him aside as ladies' choice. The dance began . . .

"Stay in this racket?" Gigolo No. 1 repeated. He has a name but that's his secret. "Not much! None of us is. But I needed a job and this one plays well.

"I attended Carnegie Institute of Technology, majoring in drama. I used to be on the stage. Then the big economic flop came along. Now model clothes in the daytime—most of us do some of that—and three mornings a week I study linens and wools at a textile school. Another gigolo follows the same routine. The gigolo job pays well. We don't get salaries. Just tips. Once in awhile somebody pays $10 for a dance. Not often. They run about one dollar. Usually a woman's escort has the bill in his palm and slips it to us unobtrusively as he shakes hands to thank the gigolo."

The six young men in the green carnations are present from seven until three in the morning, unless they want to take time out. It's their time. They may. A woman's escort—or she herself, if she is alone—asks the waiter to bring her a gigolo. If she has been there before and has a preference, she asks for him by number . . . "May I have No. 3?" . . . "I should like No. 4 as soon as he is free."

"Some women come alone. Usually they are accompanied by men who either can't or don't want to dance, or there are more women than men in a party," No. 1 says. "Middle-aged men don't like to dance—at least not with their own wives—so their husbands engage gigolos for them. Men look on dancing as one of many amusements. To women it means romance."

Watch Their Step

Not romance with the impersonal gigolos, though. They know their steps and take them for a tip, that's all. They won't come to tea, either, unless they know you. "Gigoloing" is a job, and no more.

Gigolo No. 2, who resembles an all-American fullback—and he is a football star by the way—is a graduate of the University of Idaho. He is big, blonde, lively. He is the only married gigolo and his wife comes along often to watch him wear the green carnation.

"I played football and baseball in college and then played them professionally," he admits. "I've been in more than 20 professional boxing bouts. See my nose? It's been punched. I've dug ditches, worked in lumber camps, been in the movies. I was down in Wall Street when the crash came. Now I'm a gigolo and if my family knew it I'd be shot.

FLASH!
"JUST A GIGOLO"
TO THE LADIES:
May I prohibit a group of sophisticated, amazingly handsome young men.
If Madame's escort doesn't feel like dancing, she can "trip the light fantastic" with Mr. Three or Mr. Seven. (They have no names).
They see, they hear, but remember nothing! You'll know them by their lapels. LOOK FOR THE GREEN CARNATION!
Upon a request to the waiter, one of these gentlemen will come to your table.

They wanted me to accept an appointment to West Point but I wanted to be a doctor in obstetrics and studied it a year.

"In two weeks I'm going to Russia with the labor commission and when I return I'm finishing my studies in languages and finance at Columbia and going back to Wall Street."

Serious Steppers

Incidentally, he says he is a United States senator's nephew. And he poses for hat, collar and chewing gum ads. You've seen his picture more likely than not.

As to a gigolo's technic? "Be impersonal, pleasant, and don't offend!" says No. 2.

The gigolos have their own clients who always ask for them. Outsiders are impartial. No. 1 says he has an equal division of old and young women. No. 2 says his are all young.

"People who have been around accept us as equals," No. 2 confesses. "Those who have saved up all week to come on Saturday night are—awful!"

If you ask questions you'll get the wrong answers.

"They ask us where we came from," No. 2 explains. "If we tell them the truth they think we are high-hat so we make up tales of starving families for whom we are dancing and they swallow it. That's what they want. But some women never talk. We like them best."

"We can tell our grandchildren we were the first American gigolos—something like the original Floradora Sextette," No. 1 grins as he talks.

GOLF MATCH

Wilson had to make a difficult shot but placed in about 14 feet away and came near going down with his putt. Billy rolled close and sank to win. Wilson four up.

No. 15—(386 yards, par 4)—Billy's tee shot stopped 320 yards away. Wilson was 225 yards to the right and his second hit on and rolled across. Holmes' second was dubbed short and his third two feet of the cup. Wilson approached short but ran his next down and Billy sunk for a half.

No. 16—(359 yards, par 4)—Holmes sent another long drive singing down the middle for 294 yards. Wilson was in the rough, 50 yards back. Carnes hit the edge with his approach and Billy came within four feet. Both two-putted for a half.

No. 17—(576 yards, par 5)—Billy made his third long drive, going 270 yards, 40 more than Wilson who got the rough. Wilson took a spoon and dubbed his shot 75 yards but got in fairway. Billy's second shot sang through the air and rolled to the 570-yard marker. Wilson's third was in the rough, 20 yards to left of green. Billy's approach was six feet short. Wilson got on and went down with his putt while Billy's rolled by and he had to take a half.

No. 18—(380 yards, par 4)—Both drives were 200 yards. Holmes sent 20 yards over on his second while Wilson was on edge. Billy put his within six feet and his putt went by 3 inches. Wilson also two-putted but got a par to go five up.

Drives 348 Yards

No. 19—Holmes hit the longest drive of the tournament, a 348-yard beauty which split the middle of the fairway. Wilson hooked his into rough to left, was out short and chipped on and missed his putt. Billy got a par to shave Wilson's lead to four up.

No. 20—Both hit short of green but Wilson rolled on edge and missed the long putt for a birdie. Billy approached to within 3 feet and sank for a half.

No. 21—Both played their iron shots 40 yards in front of ditch. Wilson's spoon shot landed near bunker and went around to backside of green. Billy's iron shot hit on left edge. Carnes rolled his putt two feet of cup and Billy was short. Wilson sank for a half.

No. 22—Holmes drove within four feet of ditch, 225 yards away. Wilson was off in other fairway to left. Billy's second was 50 yards in front of green. Wilson was low with his second and 125 yards short. Carnes put his iron to right of green in rough and Billy's third shot was to right, four feet off. Wilson chipped to 3 feet of cup and Billy was near him. Billy rimmed the cup and Wilson was five up again.

No. 23—Both drives were long, 275 yards. Both chipped on not a foot apart, six feet from cup and both dropped putts for birdies.

Goes Six Up

No. 24—Carnes was over the ditch on his drive and Billy ballooned his and it fell into the ditch. He had to lay out and his third stroke was in a trap to right of green. Wilson was on, 25 feet away and Billy's trap shot was short. Wilson rolled to within 4 inches for an easy par to go six up.

No. 25—Wilson drove 20 yards to right and Billy was 25 yards short in front. He pitched to the left, 7 feet of cup. Wilson ran his approach to within a foot and Billy's putt was short. Wilson got a par to go seven up.

No. 26—Billy's tee shot was 260 yards in front. Wilson got 240. Wilson's second hit near a deep trap on the left and rolled over bunker. Billy's second landed in a similar trap to right. Billy exploded on, halfway to cup and Wilson rolled his to within 3 inches to go eight up.

Both Get Slices

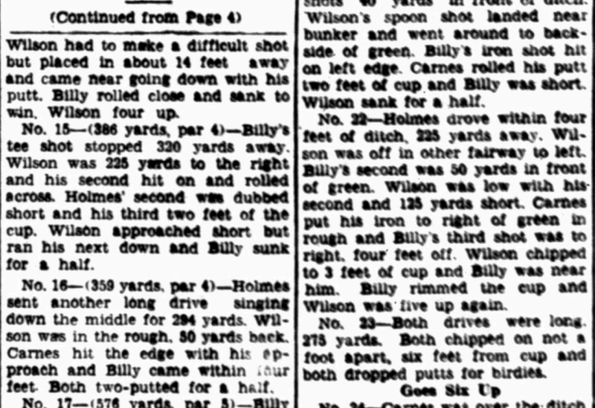

No. 27—Both sliced 200 yards down, Wilson in rough. He recovered and hit on, 14 feet away. Billy's shot was within 3 feet and they both sank.

No. 28—Billy's 295-yard drive was nearly a 100 more than Wilson's. Wilson approached within 4 feet of cup and Holmes barely got on. Billy tried desperately to sink the 30-footer but was short about 4 inches. Wilson missed his putt and the match went dormie eight.

No. 29—Wilson was down the middle 200 yards and Billy's was 20 yards farther but in the rough. Wilson pitched on six feet away. Billy's approach hit on but rolled over into a trap and his explode shot was short. He came over edge of green grinning and conceded to the champion.

With Whir' BARRY Under The Capitol Dome

R. W. BARRY

BY R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, May 28. (AP)—Motorists who travel highway 2 have been heaping praise on the Texas highway commission for the "loop around Waco" which gives a connection with any highway leading from that central Texas hub without traversing the hustling city's streets.

The loop saves considerable time for automobilists in a hurry to get to their destinations. It is not that they do not like Waco but the "short cut" saves them the tedious task of picking their way through city street traffic.

Similar Plan Advocated

Those who have commented on the Waco loop have advocated a similar arrangement for all cities. The larger cities, as a rule, are not sensitive about through motorists passing around their business sections. Smaller towns object to a highway being straightened in the interest of the automobilists' time should the altered route leave the business section off the beaten path.

Lloyd Davidson, who represents the state before the court of criminal appeals, is preparing to defend a law that levied a tax on marble boards which afford popular pastime to many Texans. Constitutionality of the act has been attacked by a defendant who balked at the occupation tax.

Not only is Davidson reading up on the law but he can be seen occasionally taking a practical lesson—playing the marble games in hotel lobbies and drug stores. Davidson is anxious to have the case presented to the appellate court before it starts its annual vacation on the last Saturday in June. It is possible he will be disappointed because submission has been postponed for a period.

RALLS SUMMER SCHOOL

RALLS, (Special)—A summer school session will be held here beginning June 4, James M. Rankin, superintendent of schools, states. H. H. Nichols and C. B. Hendrick have been named by the board as teachers. High school and grade school courses will be offered.

That Girl on Broadway says the main objection to being regarded as a great thinker is that you have to be dead too long.

If four youngsters insist upon riding together in the car's front seat, that's friendship.

If one couple prefers the rumble seat, that's love!

IMPARTIAL observers—and even some died-in-the-wool supporters of FDR and the New Deal—are worrying over what the Darrow report may finally do to NRA.

That's dynamite, they say, in them papers and even if the plan is definitely absolved there is an abiding wonder over "After NRA, then what?"

Without a doubt, there are many rough spots in the recovery plan that need to be worked out for the good of employes as well as small employers. Yet the NRA has done some good and has at least served a helpful purpose thus far.

Critics of the President and his administration find lots to kick about, but what better work could have been done than what has been done?

But constructive criticism is something else, altogether.

THE lads of the GOP have their ears cocked and their eyes glued to the situation and with Congressional and Senatorial races spotting the country this fall will have a lot to say, derogatory, of course, about the whole thing.

But what they have to say will not be nearly so much of interest to the well known 'man in the street' as what they can offer in the way of suggested improvement.

* * *

That 'man in the street' who is doing better than he was a year ago and who looks back upon that bleak March 4, 1933 and the few weeks following, isn't going to be as easily fooled by campaign shouts as he used to be when the goose was hanging high.

It's going to take more than brass bands and flag waving to stampede him.

* * *

THAT the President's family, which admittedly has an unfortunate flair for grabbing the limelight, will be set up as a target for sarcastic shots is a foregone conclusion. Anti-administrationists are already whacking away at Mrs. Roosevelt, her daughter, Mrs. Dall, and two of her sons, Elliott and James.

A recent letter to Time magazine, composed by a raging critic of the administration, contains a jingle which encompasses much of which you'll hear and read about next September and October. It goes:

"The king is in the White House,
Handing out the money;
The queen is on the front page
Looking very funny;
The knave is up in Boston,
Plucking all the plums;
While the country alphabetically
Is feeding all the bums!"

* * *

That, generally, tips off the impending line of attack but don't forget Mr. Roosevelt is a master strategist and a good generalissimo of his forces.

About the time his opposition reaches out to nibble the cheese depend upon it, he'll spring the trap.

And when he does, with that magnificent brilliance and showmanship of his, somebody's going to get caught!

That Man on Avenue Q says three metals you can take to Washington and turn into cash are silver, gold and brass. (Especially brass!)

What we Americans so proudly refer to as 'a hard-headed business man' usually is some bird who has the good luck to make a number of profitable deals over a lifetime—without the misfortune of striking a big loss.

Irving Cobb Will Don Grease Paint For Short Comedies; If He's As Good At Acting As At Writing He'll Be Star

BY DAN THOMAS
NEA Service Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 28—If Irvin Cobb can be half as funny as an actor as he is as an author, a lot of his followers will have to desert their easy fireside chairs for the neighborhood movie theaters.

Within the next few days Cobb will don grease paint and go to work in the first of a series of two-reel comedies in which he is to star for Hal Roach. The first picture will present Cobb in the role of a genial southern gentlemen, and if it comes up to expectations the author will be kept so busy with his screen work that he'll have little time left for writing.

The whole escapade, as far as the humorist is concerned, is more or less of a lark. However, studio officials are taking it very seriously, believing that they really have a "find" in Cobb.

Succumbs to Lure

Another screen "discovery" from whom big things are anticipated is Rosamond Pinchot, niece of Gov. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania. She has scored triumphantly on the legitimate stage in Max Reinhardt's "The Miracle" and several other plays.

For several years Miss Pinchot turned a deaf ear to all film offers. However, she finally weakened and signed a long term contract with M-G-M, where she will report for her first role early in the fall.

Watch for Barbara

Barbara Leonard, the only screen actress who can speak five languages fluently, is back again. Barbara made her bow in pictures about three years ago, worked for a couple of years with only mediocre success, and then decided to take a year's rest traveling through Europe.

She came back to play an important role in both the English and French versions of "The Merry Widow." Unless I miss my guess, that means she is off to a flying start. Ernst Lubitsch is directing that film and Lubitsch proteges always go places in this business.

Between Two Loves

If Hollywood doesn't lose Madge Evans before the year is over, it won't be her mother's fault. Mrs. Evans now is vacationing in London and likes it so well that she is trying to persuade Madge to come over so that they may make their home there.

Personally, I think Tom Gallery will be able to keep Madge here, however.

Last Laugh

On the set of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" is a suit of armor, forming part of the decorations. The other day, just after the cast returned to the set from lunch, Maureen O'Sullivan let out a shriek and pointed to the armor. It was moving.

Suddenly there was a loud guffaw from within the suit. Director Sidney Franklin had donned it to get a laugh from his troupe. He got the laugh all right — it took three men to get the thing off.

SOME ENCOURAGING NEWS

What should prove encouraging to Panhandle-Plains wheat growers is a report which comes from far away Europe.

According to reports from Rome, where a world wheat agreement recently was reached, the former big wheat-importing countries of Europe gradually are abandoning their policy of self-sufficiency and reverting toward their former practice of importing a large part of their grain. The information is contained in a report of the wheat advisory committee made to the government.

England, Germany, France and Italy were treated in the report. All of these countries formerly supplied the greater portion of their wheat needs through imports. Steps have been taken by each of them to bring about reductions in acreage, and progress in all is reported.

There had been indications that foreign nations would attempt to take advantage of America's wheat-reduction program by increasing their own grain crops. That this is not to occur but, instead, the opposite policy be adopted with the idea of ultimately returning to the importation of grain, is a development of major importance on this side of the Atlantic. It may mean that American wheat growers soon again will have profitable foreign markets for their product.

And what helps American wheat growers generally will help those who farm in the Panhandle-Plains section.

Dutcher's News And Views OF WASHINGTON

Dutcher

(Copyright, 1934, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 28—The Securities Act—the New Deal's bulwark for innocent investors—came so near being repealed that it wasn't even funny.

Not by outright legislation, but by joker. If the New Dealers hadn't outjokered the Wall Street wrecking crew, the act would now be a gone gosling.

The New York lobbyists secretly celebrated its death — prematurely. Their anguished rage now is pathetic.

The "brain trust" fellows who nurse the act had agreed on certain modifications—partly to ease passage of the stock market control bill through Congress, partly to silence the cry that stringent provisions of the Securities Act were delaying prosperity.

Chairman Fletcher of the Senate Banking committee and Senator Jimmy Byrnes, White House liaison man, had charge of tacking those amendments to the stock market bill.

He persuaded Fletcher and Byrnes to add an amendment which would limit recovery of losses by investors in misrepresented stocks to those who could prove that they had relied on misrepresentation or omissions in the registration statement to the Federal Trade Commission.

Sharp eyes caught that joker when Fletcher introduced it. It meant that any deluded investor, seeking redress, must prove that he had personally come to Washington and inspected the registration statement before he invested.

Fletcher and Byrnes heard from a Voice which spoke louder than Robinson's. Fletcher made what he called a "slight change." It was another joker and it completely killed the effect of the first joker.

Before anyone knew what was happening, it had sped through the Senate along with the other amendments and the stock market bill.

Days elapsed before the Wall Street boys woke up to the fact that they still were going to have an effective Securities Act. Then they began to shriek.

Peace Comes to McKellar

A joint congressional committee is going on a nice long junket to Manila, where it will tell the Filipinos how to prepare for independence. It looks now as if Senator Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee would be among the junketers, but there have been moments of horrible uncertainty.

McKellar was worrying about the senatorial candidacy of Congressman Gordon Browning until recently, when Browning decided to run against Senator Nathan Bachman for the short term. McKellar, without serious opposition, then decided he could go.

Suddenly, in the Senate, he received a telegram signed with the name of a Tennessee newspaperman, which said Browning had decided to oppose McKellar for the six-year term. McKellar was pacing in agitation when Tydings of Maryland, Senate boss of the junket, approached him.

"Getting ready to go to the Philippines?" Tydings asked.

"How the hell can I?" sputtered McKellar. "Look at this!"

"Oh, don't let that worry you," advised Tydings. "I sent it myself."

O. B. Smart Is That

It took a fellow named O. B. Smart to straighten out the messy situation at Mrs. Roosevelt's pet subsistence homestead project in Reedsville, W. Va.

Orders from the White House, Subsistence Homestead offices here, and other sources were criss-crossing one another, with confusing results. It looked as if lots of money would be spent foolishly and there was a good chance that the project might become such a butt for ridicule as to damage the whole national plan.

Then O. B. Smart, a PWA engineer who has constructed big things in Europe and South America, was assigned to command of Reedsville. He stopped all the fooling and expects to get 50 mining families into their new homes within a few days.

O. B. Smart, reports say, knows how to handle White House and all other suggestions with great tact.

Since Congress killed off the proposal for a keyless lock factory at Reedsville, the big problem has been that of providing an industry to give part-time employment to the settlers.

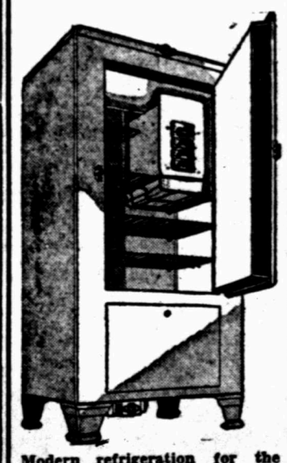

But secret negotiations are now being pursued with an internationally famous capitalist who has strong ideas about decentralizing industry. (Not Henry Ford). An announcement is due before long.

Week-end MURDER

by GABRIELLE E. FORBUSH

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The story opens with a prologue in which a murder is committed by a homicidal maniac. Later he boards a train for Long Island, thinking of the pleasant week-end he is to have. The name of the murderer is not disclosed.

The scene shifts to the Long Island home of LINDA and TOM AVERILL, married three years and much in love. The Averills have five guests for the week-end: COUSIN AMOS PEABODY, elderly, distant relative of Linda's; CAPTAIN DE VOS, handsome Belgian representing a European perfume manufacturer with whom Averill hopes to do business; MR. STATLANDER, midwestern manager of the firm Averill works for; MARVIN PRATT former suitor of Linda's, and LIAN SHAUGHNESSEY, Irish writer on a lecture tour.

Cousin Amos immediately makes trouble. He quarrels with Shaughnessey because the Irishman holds liberal political views; plays golf with Statlander and infuriates him by criticizing his game; discusses prohibition with DeVos and declares DeVos is "no gentleman." It is finally agreed that Cousin Amos is to leave early the next morning.

The others go to the Country club dance. Just before leaving Marvin Pratt goes to Cousin Amos' room and they are heard quarreling. The dance is uneventful but when the others are ready to leave Shaughnessey can not be found.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER X

What could have become of Shaughnessey? Linda frowned. "No, he hasn't been with us," she said. "We thought you had him."

Ella Mondell turned uncertainly and it was at that moment that Tom, looking intently toward the thinning row of cars, shouted: "That must be he! Oh—Shaughnessey!"

A high border of fir trees marked the edge of the club line. At the extreme end a dark figure could barely be seen. The figure turned at the hail, paused a moment, waved a negligent hand and strolled toward them.

"'Twas lost entirely I was! Sure to me every car of the lot looks like another."

"You were going the wrong way for most of them," said Tom dryly. "Hop in—in front, Shaughnessey. We're all here now."

The Irishman muttered something which Linda did not catch. Evidently he was on the verge of being quarrelsome, loquacious or plaintive, according to what circumstances suggested.

At the wheel of her own little car, she waited for the other to lead off. Without giving too apparent assistance, Tom was steadying Shaughnessey's climb into place and, as that broad back was presented to her, Linda saw that it was amazingly dusty and covered with the fine brown needles which the fir trees so liberally shed. Over toward their house, those balsams grew. The path from her back door to the club was thick with them. No cushions had eased that comfort-loving back, if he had chosen the pine grove as a retreat. She wondered more than ever what dainty chiffon or soft, summery crepe had shared his company—or what group of couples. Just then the sedan started with a jerk. Tom was evidently no more pleased than she with the behavior of their guests.

• • •

Linda had chosen Mr. Statlander as her companion partly to help make up for her unfortunate error at the dinner table the night before. His glum silences had proved difficult for her ever since he had arrived but after the discovery of their mutual fondness for dancing perhaps he would be a little more responsive. As the little car started after the larger one Statlander began to shoot her an astonishing series of questions.

"Your little boy did not come up today to see you, did he, Mrs. Averill?"

"No. The old dog was a great pet of his and we didn't want to tell him about her. It would have been hard, with guests in the house, and he not even staying home, so we could lead up gently. Mr. Averill telephoned his mother and asked her to keep Bingo there all day."

"From the presence of some toys in the closet of the room I occupy I thought perhaps I had turned him out to make room for me."

"Oh, heavens, no! I'm sorry about the toys—Rosie shall move them in the morning. No, Bingo and Nanny sleep across the hall from you."

"That is the room I've heard you speak of as the nursery? It faces the water?"

"Yes. We're not using it this week-end—the ceiling and walls were ruined by water from an overflowing tub upstairs. That's why we had to put Mr. Shaughnessey in the garage."

"Oh, then that is the room which opens on the small white porch over the central front of the house?"

Linda wondered at such persistent

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 28 (AP)—Cotton opened steady, 2 to 4 lower on disappointing cables and generally favorable weather, July 11.39; Oct. 11.60; Dec. 11.72; Jan. 11.77; March 11.88; May 11.98.

Trading continued quiet but there was some scattering liquidation and local selling which sent the market off to 11.57 for October, with active months generally showing net losses of about 5 to 8 points. There was very little if any pressure from the south, however, and the decline brought in a sufficient demand from the trade and commisson house sources to hold the market steady. At the end of the frst half hour, October was ruing around 11.60 and December 11.70 or about 3 to 4 points net lower.

The market remained quiet but held generally steady today. Except for some further July liquidation there was very little selling in evidence, while the strength of the wheat market appeared to bring in some covering or scattered buying. October worked up to 11.65, and March to 11.90, making the market about 2 points higher to 2 points lower, but the bulges were not fully maintained. At midday October ruled around 11.63, with the general market net unchanged to 1 point lower.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, May 28 (AP)—Cotton opened very quiet today with liverpool the only active month on the opening call. Cables were lower than due and the first trade on October showed three points down.

The market improved in points after the start on a somewhat better opening of stocks and July, December and March were added to the active lists.

October traded at 11.57, and December at 11.69, still one to two points under Saturday's close.

The market became more active as the morning advanced and prices improved owing to a sharp upturn of four cents a bushel in wheat and slightly firmer stock. Ring shorts covered freely.

July advanced to 11.47, October to 11.67 and December to 11.78, up 10 to 12 points from the early lows and seven to eight points above Saturday's close.

Near mid-session the market was at the highs and tending upward.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, May 28 (AP)—The stock market reached slowly for higher levels today and, while large scale operations were extremely scarce, the apperent upward trend impressed the analysts as a moderately bullish indicator.

Strength of grains may have aided the equity division, although this was based largely upon more serious drouth reports. Wheat spurted about the daily limit of 5 cents a bushel and corn, oats, rye and barley were not far behind. Bonds were quiet. The dollar improved in foreign exchange markets.

Shares of Du Pont, Case, Allied Chemical and American Beet Sugar preferred got up about 2 points each and gainers of around a point included International Harvester, Deere, Electric Auto-Lite, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, American Sugar Refining and McIntyre Porcupine. The motor group, with General Motors, Chrysler and Hudson, was little better than even. The alcohols, utilities and tobaccos were only slightly higher and the silver stocks, such as U. S. and American Smeltings, marked time.

Arrival Of Royal Child Is Awaited

ROME, May 28. (AP)—Announcement that Crown Princess Marie Jose is expecting the birth of a baby, who if a boy may one day be king of Italy, caused public jubilation throughout the nation today.

The child will be born in about five months, the announcement said.

Janitor Candidate For "Clean Sweep"

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 28—(AP) Oklahoma's janitor candidate for lieutenant governor, Herman Charles Shockley, declared "a clean sweep for the capitol" is only the "squeaking" plank in his platform.

"I'm serious in running," added the 36-year old war veteran, who took a job as janitor in the state capitol building when doctors told him he would have to stay off his feet, wounded by shrapnel.

"I thought a former service man should be entitled to some consideration from his state government.

"When the state board of affairs finally put me on as janitor, they said it was until 'something better turns up.' I'm still at it.

"So I decided to make this race and win a little consideration for the former service man. And I'm not in it as a 'publicity stunt.'

He is seeking the Democratic nomination, which is tantamount to election.

Since the Government started to control markets merchants of Bolivia have sold only the goods on hand and are not replacing their stocks.

NAVY IS WINNER IN MERCY DASH TO SAVE WRITER

BALBOA, C. Z., May 28 (AP)—The United States navy apparently was the winner today in its dramatic mercy dash by air and sea to save William Albert Robinson, writer and explorer stricken by appendicitis.

Brought here by the U. S. destroyer Hale from the lonely Galapagos islands, 1,000 miles away, Robinson lay in the army hospital. Physicians believe he will recover.

His bride, the former Florence Crane, Chicago heiress, who dispatched wireless appeals for aid when Robinson was taken ill, said he suffered "tortures of the damned" before two naval planes arrived with surgeons.

The Robinsons were on a honeymoon cruise in a small vessel when the attack came a week ago, with no medical aid at hand.

interest in the architecture of White Haven.

"Yes."

"That little balcony connects also with a room on the other side? I've observed it from the front lawn."

"One of the guest rooms—yes."

"Where Mr. Peabody is?"

"Yes."

"I presume the servants' quarters are upstairs?"

"Yes—over the center of the house."

"You also have rooms in the garage—may I ask—"

The interrogation was abruptly ended by their arrival at the White Haven gate. Linda swept the little car skillfully around the curve in the road and between the posts and drove up so closely behind the other car that she had to brake hard to stop in time.

Again Tom walked to the garage with Shaughnessey. Linda, watching, was relieved to see that he entered and went upstairs. He could hardly put the man to bed but at least he could see that he didn't set the place on fire or do other damage trying to find the lights. The rest of the party went up and dispersed silently, Pratt and DeVos tiptoeing cautiously by Cousin Amos' closed door.

"I told him he could leave it open for the draft through but the idea seemed to shock him." Linda whispered as they reached the little hall. Just then she heard from within a raucous grating sound which confirmed her belief that Cousin Amos had blandly ignored her earlier request. "Perhaps it's just as well—that door on the balcony makes the horridest noise and having this one shut muffles it, at least. You have everything you want? Well—good-night. You can all sleep late tomorrow morning!"

• • •

When Tom finally succeeded in escaping Shaughnessey's garrulous friendliness and returned, tired and out of sorts, he found Linda sitting by the window toward the sound. On the bed lay her corn-yellow velvet wrap, on the floor her wisp of a frock, and her high-heeled pumps had been kicked off beside it. She seemed to have lacked energy to proceed further with the business of undressing and when he came in simply rolled her eyes at him eloquently and made no further move. He sank into a chair by another window and for a moment weary silence reigned.

"Did you ever know such a night!" Linda gathered her energies to speak first. "Never—never—in all my born days—was I so hot and cross and disgusted. As a house party, this is the biggest washout I've ever had!"

"You're tired, Binks," her husband observed dispassionately. "I think they all had a good time."

"They may have for all we know anything about it—I hardly laid eyes on one of them all evening."

"Well, didn't you plan to turn them over to the feminine contingent?"

"Yes, of course—and I wanted them to enjoy themselves. And you're still the best dancer in the world, my Thomas."

"Thanks—same to you. Gosh, this heat is appalling! Not a bit cooler at night!"

"Morning—getting lighter every minute. That means it'll start in hot and get worse instead of better. Why does Fourth of July always mean such ghastly weather? And on top of it, every darned one of those man had been drinking—"

"Even your beloved Marvin?"

"Now don't you start anything!" Linda suddenly snapped from complete inertia to militant uprightness. "He was too queer all evening—implying he wasn't welcome—nasty way of talking without coming right out with what was on his mind."

"Well, look, Binks—what was the matter with him before we started? When he came downstairs he looked black enough to kill. I sort of hated to drive off with the others and leave you. Then everything seemed all right when we got there so I forgot about it till now. Anybody step on his toes before we left?"

"Don't glare at me—he's not my cousin!"

"Oh, Tom, that's cruel! I can't help it. Why is Cousin Amos such a pest? I fished around a bit but I couldn't find out what it was he did or said. Every time I led back to it, Marvin got sulkier. He was that way on and off all evening. I'd rather have all sorts of an explosion—made me feel queer and qualmish, just wondering. You see, I know his temper of old. He holds in too much and when he does let go—well, I wouldn't want to be in the way!"

MCGREGOR HAS HAD ENOUGH

ACTIVE AUSTIN SOLON IS TO RETIRE AS A "PUBLIC SERVANT"

BY R. W. BARRY

AUSTIN, May 28. (AP)—T. H. McGregor of Austin, one of the most active members of the house of the Texas legislature, has decided to retire as a "public servant." He said emphatically he had had enough and that all the king's horses could not drag him back.

He served once as a member of the senate and when he left that body he had no intention of ever seeking a return to legislative halls, but he changed his mind. Maybe he will feel the call of his state again.

Voices To Be Missed

Voices of McGregor and John M. Mathis of Houston, will be missed in the lower branch. Each was recognized for his oratory. Mathis is a candidate for the senate seat now held by Walter Woodul, who is out after the lieutenant governorship. Among Mathis' opponents is Weaver Moore, serving his first term in the house as a member of the Harris county delegation.

Mrs. Edith Wilmans of Dallas, is opposing Mrs. Sarah T. Hughes for a place in the house. Mrs. Wilmans is well-known in Texas politics, having been a candidate for governor in 1928. She received a few more than 18,000 votes. The Dallas "battle of women" will be watched with interest.

Others May Enter

For a time it was reported that Mrs. Hughes was being urged to oppose Senator George C. Purl for his place in the upper house. Larry Mills is running against Purl. There had been some gossip that former Representative Jack Keller would try for Purl's place.

Gregory Hatcher of Dallas, former state treasurer, has decided to make another effort to get elected to membership on the railroad commission. He has announced his candidacy against Chairman Lon A. Smith. In 1930 he opposed Pat M. Neff and in 1932 he tried to beat Ernest O. Thompson.

Muleshoe Plans To Improve Its Paving

MULESHOE, May 28. (Special)—Main street paving in Muleshoe is to be improved, it was announced by C. F. Moeller, city commissioner, and Al Isaacs, city secretary.

The two resently inspected the asphalt beds at Santa Rosa, N. M. Four tons of rock asphalt were purchased and will be spread on the streets. The local streets were paved with a caliche base and a top coating of oil and asphalt. Holes have come and these will be patched.

An inch coating will be given the streets here.

FIVE ARE HELD

SAN ANTONIO, May 28 (AP)—Five men were held for investigation by police today in connection with the death of Joe Sosa, 37, who was found with both legs severed. A switch engine had run over him, it was thought, after he had been placed on the tracks.

Great Salt Lake in Utah is more than four times as large as the Dead Sea.

TREE PATENTS LAG

BAKERSFIELD, Cal. (AP) — Joe Derusha, scientific orchardist who developed a nectar peach which ripens in June, says that of more than 400,000 U. S. patents, only 88 have been for trees and plants.

NEW LAXATIVE DOES 6 THINGS

Doctors believe a good laxative should have the six features which Feen-a-mint, the chewing gum laxative possesses. 1. So delicious to take that you will take it when you need it. 2. A full, prompt, complete, action that does not interfere with daily duties. 3. Non-habit forming. 4. Safe for even the delicate digestive organs of children. 5. No rich element to upset stomach or diet, or to go stale. 6. A more natural action because chewing distributes the laxative ingredient more uniformly into the intestines. That delicious Feen-a-mint does these things is proven because doctors themselves regularly prescribe the laxative ingredient which is in Feen-a-mint. "Delay" is dangerous—chew Feen-a-mint for constipation. 15c and 25c at druggists.
