Daredevil To Crash Through Flaming Wall Monday

A real sensational treat will feature next Monday's Trades Day entertainment.

One of Lamesa's local boys will ride a motorcycle through two 1-2 inch walls, four feet apart, while they are in flames. The walls will be built of one half inch material, saturated in gasoline, and set on fire. While the flames are enveloping the motorcycle through the flames crash walls, this daredevil will ride hissing the walls.

This boy is Thomas Hendricks, son of Frank Hendrick, who operates the Piggy-Wiggly store in Lamesa.

Thomas says he has crashed the board wall in many places including Cincinnati, Ohio, with success. But he has never tried crashing the walls through flames. Many of his friends are wondering what the outcome will be, and if he will come out all O. K.

Thousands of people are expected to witness this daredevil stunt. It will indeed be a thrill to all who see it.

The crash will take place at the Lamesa airport, one mile south of Lamesa, at 3:00 p. m. June 5th. A small charge will be made to take care of expenses, and to pay Thomas for his trouble and entertainment.

Let's all turn out and give Thomas our presence and good will.

First Monday - When The Fire Whistle Blows June 5th

Next Monday—First Monday—is another of Lamesa's big days. Thousands of people are expected to throng the streets of Lamesa, and hundreds of shoppers are expected from all over Lamesa's trade territory.

The merchants of Lamesa are making every effort to entertain the great throng of people that will be here. They are advertising their bargains and will have specials of every description on sale all day Monday. Every store in Lamesa will be all set and ready for the big day. Folks will be here from great distances to trade and buy next Monday.

Last First Monday they came from Seminole, Gail, Ackerly, O'Donnell, Patricia, Andrews, Lou, Loop, Seagraves and for that matter all points of trade territory and it was a big day. Neighbor met neighbor, and friend met friend, and it was a great day. But the first Trades Day—last First Monday—had only been advertised one week. It has been a month now, and folks everywhere have been eagerly waiting for the BIG SHOW next first Monday.

In front of the City Hall another one of Lamesa's big shows will take place. The time is FOUR P. M.—WHEN THE FIRE WHISTLE BLOWS—everybody will make a run for the show in front of the City Hall. All who desire to attend this show will get tickets from Lamesa merchants. All who have tickets will be admitted to the entertainment which has been provided by the business men of Lamesa.

AND SAY—what about the fun you will have at Lamesa trading and swapping horses, mules, cows, hogs, plow tools, and in fact anything you have to sell or trade. You say "Nobody will buy or trade for anything at times like these". You are wrong and you will see next Monday at Lamesa when farmers from almost everywhere will have something here to trade or sell—and the beauty of it is—times like these folks will trade and swap quicker than if times were flush and there was plenty of money. DO NOT MISS IT! You may be able to trade or sell the very thing you have tried to trade or sell for the past two years. COME AND BRING IT ALONG!

Lots of other attractions in Lamesa next First Monday. Come and bring all the folks. Come Early.

West Texas Dairy Company Is Now Working Extra Shift

Eighty persons are now working in two shifts at the plant of the West Texas Dairy Products Company, with a direct and indirect payroll of approximately $12,000 to be spent in Lamesa.

These facts were brought out Wednesday during an inspection of the plant under the guidance of manager W. F. Hessler, who further added that production of the various departments has been materially speeded up.

Twenty-five young women are employed in the egg plant during the day and thirteen on the night shift. Twenty-five men are also employed. The remaining number of employees include officials and hands in the other departments.

In addition to these actually at work in the plant, Mr. Hessler mentioned the fact that one tin shop and one smithy are now using an extra man each to care for demands from the plant, that one lumber yard is using a carpenter, the drymen are enabled to use extra help, and several truck drivers are employed to gather cream from outlying districts.

Mr. Hessler quoted figures to the effect that 941 crates of eggs were powdered Monday, and 880 Tuesday. Both whites and yolks are powdered and shipped to eastern markets. Through the plant farmers of this territory are receiving approximately 2c more per dozen than they would, as the eggs are sold or traded to local merchants, who in their turn sell them to the plant. Thus farmers receive Fort Worth market prices with the saving of the freight.

It is an inexplicable fact that in many instances farmers seem to be little the benefit thus derived from the presence of the plant in Lamesa and often fail to give due credit and support to that institution. However even though the local supply is hard to equal to the present demand, the plant ships on an average of one car each week, or 2200 pounds, of powdered eggs out of Lamesa.

The eggs are kept in cold storage 24 hours before being broken, Mr. Hessler said, at a temperature of 40 degrees.

In addition to the egg powdering plant, approximately 1000 pounds of cream are bought daily at an average price of 16 cents per pound. This returns to the farmers of this and nearby counties an excess of $5,000 Mr. E. T. Wells, milk plant manager stated that very little milk is being brought in at present, as grass and feed scarcity seems to be decreasing the supply. Sweet and sour cream is bought daily.

The egg plant has been in operation since March 1, and the payroll has been of immense benefit to a number of families who might otherwise not have lived as comfortably.

The management cordially invites an inspection of the plant at any time, so that every citizen of Lamesa and the trade territory may see just how much this industry means.

Harp and Miss Luelle Nix were co-hostesses for the pre-nuptial party. The bride's colors of orchid and pink were beautifully carried out in lovely arrangements of cut flowers in low bowls. Miss Helen Massengale presided at the lovely hand painted Bride's book.

On Miss Goodwin's arrival, she was informed by Mrs. Harp that she was to take an imaginary voyage in the Wonderland of Matrimony. Using the quotation from Alice in Wonderland:

"The time has come the Walrus said To speak of many things, Of ships and shoes and sealing wax, And cabbages and kings."

Then introducing Mrs. R. F. Nix who impressively read "The Building of the Ship" by Longfellow, and with a few closing remarks on launching the matrimonial ship presented the bride-to-be a reproduction of "Old Ironsides."

Following, Mrs. Ralph Stuart gave in a very gracious way "Stepping into the Married Woman's Shoes", taking up the Brides life from the altar. During her reading, Miss Grace Robertson very effectively portrayed by piano numbers the bride's life after donning the shoes, closing with "A Perfect Day." Then Mrs. Stuart presented Miss Goodwin with a pair of miniature golden slippers, perched on pink and lavender overlapping satin hearts.

Mrs. Jack McLaughlin gave an original poem on "Sealing Wax" stating as the bride and groom journeyed through life they needed the qualities of this article to bind them close together, finally presenting the bride with a beribboned stick of sealing wax.

Following that Mrs. Elmer Barron gave a very humorous reading on "Cabbages" portraying the everyday things of married life and presented the bride-to-be with several cabbage recipes and two indispensable articles, a can opener and measuring spoons.

After this Mrs. R. R. Townsend gave a tribute to the groom as a king and crowned Miss Goodwin as queen of brides.

Mrs. Barnard in her pleasing manner gave the well loved wedding song "At Dawning" accompanied by Miss Ella Stuart.

Little Miss Bobbie Reynolds, a much loved pupil of Miss Goodwin came in dressed as "Alice In Wonderland" and asked Miss Goodwin to accompany her through the looking glass into the mysteries of Wonderland. Stepping through an improvised frame surrounded by mirrors she discovered a lovely array of seventy four beautiful and useful gifts which expressed tokens of love, esteem and appreciation from her many friends.

A delicious plate of ice cream and angel food cake was served to over fifty guests.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF TEXAS

S. J. R. NO. 33 BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS...

Section 1. That Article IX of the Constitution of Texas be amended by adding thereto a section to be Section 3, which shall provide: "Section 3. (1) Holding the belief that the highest degree of local self government which is consistent with the efficient conduct of those affairs by necessity lodged in the Nation, and the State will prove most responsive to the will of the people, and result to reward their diligence and intelligence by greater economy and efficiency in their local governmental affairs, it is hereby ordained: (2) Any county having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more according to the then last Federal Census may adopt a County Home Rule Charter to embrace those powers appropriate hereto, within the specific limitations hereinafter provided. It further is provided that the Legislature, by a favorable vote of two-thirds the total membership of both the Senate and the House of Representatives, may authorize any county, having a population less than that above specified, to proceed hereunder for the adoption of a Charter; however, as a condition for such authorization, it is required that notice of the intent to seek Legislative authority hereunder must be published in one or more newspapers, to give general circulation in the county affected, not less than once a week for four (4) consecutive weeks, and the first of such publications shall appear not less than thirty (30) days next prior to the time an Act making proposal hereunder may be introduced in the Legislature. No County Home Rule Charter may be adopted by any county save upon a favorable vote of the resident qualified electors of the affected County. In elections submitting a Charter to the voters a proposal to adopt a Charter, unless otherwise provided by a two-thirds vote of the total membership of each house of the Legislature) the votes cast by the qualified electors residing within the limits of all the incorporated cities and towns of the county shall be separately kept but collectively counted and the votes of the qualified electors of the county who do not reside within the limits of the incorporated city or town likewise shall be separately kept and separately counted, and unless there be a favorable majority of the votes cast within and a favorable majority of the votes cast without such collective cities and towns, the Charter shall not be adopted. It is expressly forbidden that any such Charter may in any manner affect the operation of the General Laws of the State relating to the judicial, tax, fiscal educational police, highway and health systems, or any other department of the State's superior government. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to authorize the adoption of a Charter provision inimical to or inconsistent with the sovereignty and established public policies of this State, and no provision having such effect shall have validity as against the State. No Charter provision may operate to impair the exemption of homesteads as established by this Constitution and the Statutes relating thereto. (3) a. A Charter hereunder may provide: the continuance of a County Commissioners' Court, as now constituted, to serve as the governing body of a County to operate hereunder; or, may provide for a governing body otherwise constituted, which shall be elective and service therein shall be upon such qualifications, for such terms, under such plan of representation, and upon such conditions of tenure and compensation as may be fixed by any such Charter. The terms for service in such governing body may exceed two (2) years, but shall not exceed six (6) years. In any event, in the Charter, as now constituted, provided by any such Charter such governing body shall exercise all powers, and discharge all duties which, in the absence of the provisions hereof, would devolve by law on County Commissioners and County Commissioners' Courts. Further, any such Charter may provide for the organization, reorganization, establishment and administration of the government of the county, including the control and regulation of the performance of and the compensation for all duties required in the conduct of the county affairs, subject to the limitations herein provided. b. A Charter hereunder may provide that Judges of County Courts (including that County Court designated in this Constitution), and Justices of the Peace be compensated on a salary basis in lieu of fees. The jurisdiction of the County Court designated in this constitution, and the duties of the judges thereof, may be confined to that general jurisdiction of a probate Court which elsewhere is defined in the Constitution. The office of Justice of the Peace may be made either elective or appointive. Other than as herein provided, no such Charter shall provide for altering the jurisdiction or procedure of any Court. The duties of District Attorney and County Attorney may be confined to representing the State in civil cases to which the State is a party and to enforcement of the State's Penal Code and the compensation for said attorneys may be fixed on a salary basis in lieu of fees. c. Save as hereinafter and hereinafter otherwise provided, such Charters within the limits expressed therein, may invest the governing body to be established for any county electing to operate hereunder with the power to create, consolidate or abolish any office or department whether created by other provisions of the Constitution or by statute, define the duties thereof, fix the compensation for service therein, make appointments to the office, and conditions for tenure in any such office; save, that no such Charter other than as hereinbefore authorized, shall provide to regulate the status, service, duties or compensation of members of the Legislature, Judges of the Courts, District Attorneys, County Attorneys, or any office whatsoever by the law of the State required to be filled by an election embracing more than one county. Excepting herefrom nominations, elections or appointments to offices, the terms hereof may not have expired prior to the adoption of this Amendment to the Constitution at such time as a Charter provision adopted hereunder may be in effect (save as to those offices which must continue to be elective, as herein elsewhere specified), all terms of county officers and all contracts for the giving of service by deputies under such officers, may be subject to termination by the administrative body of the county, under the Charter so providing, and there shall be no liability by reason thereof. d. Any county electing to operate hereunder shall have the power, by Charter provision, to levy, assess and collect taxes, and to fix the maximum rate for ad valorem taxes to be levied for specific purposes, in accordance with the Constitution and laws of this State, provided, however, that the limit of the aggregate taxes which may be levied assessed and collected hereunder shall not exceed the limit or total fixed, or hereafter to be fixed, by this Constitution to control counties, and the annual assessment upon property, both real, personal and mixed, shall be a first superior and prior lien thereon. e. In addition to the powers heretofore provided, and in addition to powers included in County Home Rule Charters, any county may, by a majority vote of the qualified electors of said county, amend its Charter to include other powers, functions, duties and rights which now or hereafter may be provided by this Constitution and the statutes of the State for counties. (4) Any county operating hereunder shall have the power to borrow money for all purposes lawful under its Charter, to include the refunding of a lawful debt, in a manner conforming to the General Laws of the State, and may issue therefore obligations. Such obligations, other than those to refund a lawful debt shall not be valid unless authorized by a majority of all votes cast by those resident qualified voters of the area affected by the taxes required to retire such obligations, who may vote thereon. In case of county obligations, maturing after a period of five (5) years, the same shall be issued to mature serially, fixing the first maturity of principal at a time not to exceed two (2) years next after the date of the issuance of such obligations. Such obligations may pledge the full faith and credit of the county; but in no event shall the aggregate obligations so issued, in principal amount outstanding at any one time, exceed the then existing Constitutional limits for such obligations and such indebtedness and its supporting tax shall constitute a first and superior lien upon the property taxable in such county. No obligation hereunder shall be valid unless provision for the abandonment, revocation and amendment thereof, subject only to the requirements that there must be a favorable majority of the vote cast upon such a proposal, by the qualified resident electors of the county; and, no Charter may for bid amendments thereof for a time greater than two (2) years. The provisions hereof shall be self-executing, subject only to the duty of the Legislature to pass all laws (consistent herewith) which may be necessary to carry out the intent and purpose hereof. Further, the Legislature shall prescribe a procedure for submitting to a decision, by a majority vote of the electors voting thereon, proposed alternate and elective Charter provisions. Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the fourth Saturday in August, 1933, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following: "For the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Texas, adding Section 3, providing authority for the adoption of a Home Rule Charter by the voters in counties having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more, to effect more sufficient and economical government within such counties, and to authorize mergers of separate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people therein." "Against the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Texas, adding Section 3, providing authority for the adoption of a Home Rule Charter by the voters in counties having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more, to effect a more efficient and economical government within such counties, and to authorize mergers of separate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people therein."

Section 3. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation ordering an election in conformity herewith to determine whether or not the proposed Constitutional Amendment set forth herein shall be adopted, and the Governor shall have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Any county electing to operate hereunder shall have the power, by Charter provision, to levy, assess and collect taxes, and to fix the maximum rate for ad valorem taxes to be levied for specific purposes, in accordance with the Constitution and laws of this State, provided, however, that the limit of the aggregate taxes which may be levied assessed and collected hereunder shall not exceed the limit or total fixed, or hereafter to be fixed, by this Constitution to control counties, and the annual assessment upon property, both real, personal and mixed, shall be a first superior and prior lien thereon. e. In addition to the powers heretofore provided, and in addition to powers included in County Home Rule Charters, any county may, by a majority vote of the qualified electors of said county, amend its Charter to include other powers, functions, duties and rights which now or hereafter may be provided by this Constitution and the statutes of the State for counties. (4) Any county operating hereunder shall have the power to borrow money for all purposes lawful under its Charter, to include the refunding of a lawful debt, in a manner conforming to the General Laws of the State, and may issue therefore obligations. Such obligations, other than those to refund a lawful debt shall not be valid unless authorized by a majority of all votes cast by those resident qualified voters of the area affected by the taxes required to retire such obligations, who may vote thereon. In case of county obligations, maturing after a period of five (5) years, the same shall be issued to mature serially, fixing the first maturity of principal at a time not to exceed two (2) years next after the date of the issuance of such obligations. Such obligations may pledge the full faith and credit of the county; but in no event shall the aggregate obligations so issued, in principal amount outstanding at any one time, exceed the then existing Constitutional limits for such obligations and such indebtedness and its supporting tax shall constitute a first and superior lien upon the property taxable in such county. No obligation hereunder shall be valid unless provision for the abandonment, revocation and amendment thereof, subject only to the requirements that there must be a favorable majority of the vote cast upon such a proposal, by the qualified resident electors of the county; and, no Charter may for bid amendments thereof for a time greater than two (2) years. The provisions hereof shall be self-executing, subject only to the duty of the Legislature to pass all laws (consistent herewith) which may be necessary to carry out the intent and purpose hereof. Further, the Legislature shall prescribe a procedure for submitting to a decision, by a majority vote of the electors voting thereon, proposed alternate and elective Charter provisions. Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the fourth Saturday in August, 1933, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following: "For the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Texas, adding Section 3, providing authority for the adoption of a Home Rule Charter by the voters in counties having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more, to effect more sufficient and economical government within such counties, and to authorize mergers of separate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people therein." "Against the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Texas, adding Section 3, providing authority for the adoption of a Home Rule Charter by the voters in counties having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more, to effect a more efficient and economical government within such counties, and to authorize mergers of separate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people therein."

Section 3. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation ordering an election in conformity herewith to determine whether or not the proposed Constitutional Amendment set forth herein shall be adopted, and the Governor shall have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF TEXAS

S. J. R. NO. 36 BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS...

Section 1. That Article IX of the Constitution of Texas be amended by adding thereto a section to be Section 3, which shall provide: "Section 3. (1) Holding the belief that the highest degree of local self government which is consistent with the efficient conduct of those affairs by necessity lodged in the Nation, and the State will prove most responsive to the will of the people, and result to reward their diligence and intelligence by greater economy and efficiency in their local governmental affairs, it is hereby ordained: (2) Any county having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more according to the then last Federal Census may adopt a County Home Rule Charter to embrace those powers appropriate hereto, within the specific limitations hereinafter provided. It further is provided that the Legislature, by a favorable vote of two-thirds the total membership of both the Senate and the House of Representatives, may authorize any county, having a population less than that above specified, to proceed hereunder for the adoption of a Charter; however, as a condition for such authorization, it is required that notice of the intent to seek Legislative authority hereunder must be published in one or more newspapers, to give general circulation in the county affected, not less than once a week for four (4) consecutive weeks, and the first of such publications shall appear not less than thirty (30) days next prior to the time an Act making proposal hereunder may be introduced in the Legislature. No County Home Rule Charter may be adopted by any county save upon a favorable vote of the resident qualified electors of the affected County. In elections submitting a Charter to the voters a proposal to adopt a Charter, unless otherwise provided by a two-thirds vote of the total membership of each house of the Legislature) the votes cast by the qualified electors residing within the limits of all the incorporated cities and towns of the county shall be separately kept but collectively counted and the votes of the qualified electors of the county who do not reside within the limits of the incorporated city or town likewise shall be separately kept and separately counted, and unless there be a favorable majority of the votes cast within and a favorable majority of the votes cast without such collective cities and towns, the Charter shall not be adopted. It is expressly forbidden that any such Charter may in any manner affect the operation of the General Laws of the State relating to the judicial, tax, fiscal educational police, highway and health systems, or any other department of the State's superior government. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to authorize the adoption of a Charter provision inimical to or inconsistent with the sovereignty and established public policies of this State, and no provision having such effect shall have validity as against the State. No Charter provision may operate to impair the exemption of homesteads as established by this Constitution and the Statutes relating thereto. (3) a. A Charter hereunder may provide: the continuance of a County Commissioners' Court, as now constituted, to serve as the governing body of a County to operate hereunder; or, may provide for a governing body otherwise constituted, which shall be elective and service therein shall be upon such qualifications, for such terms, under such plan of representation, and upon such conditions of tenure and compensation as may be fixed by any such Charter. The terms for service in such governing body may exceed two (2) years, but shall not exceed six (6) years. In any event, in the Charter, as now constituted, provided by any such Charter such governing body shall exercise all powers, and discharge all duties which, in the absence of the provisions hereof, would devolve by law on County Commissioners and County Commissioners' Courts. Further, any such Charter may provide for the organization, reorganization, establishment and administration of the government of the county, including the control and regulation of the performance of and the compensation for all duties required in the conduct of the county affairs, subject to the limitations herein provided. b. A Charter hereunder may provide that Judges of County Courts (including that County Court designated in this Constitution), and Justices of the Peace be compensated on a salary basis in lieu of fees. The jurisdiction of the County Court designated in this constitution, and the duties of the judges thereof, may be confined to that general jurisdiction of a probate Court which elsewhere is defined in the Constitution. The office of Justice of the Peace may be made either elective or appointive. Other than as herein provided, no such Charter shall provide for altering the jurisdiction or procedure of any Court. The duties of District Attorney and County Attorney may be confined to representing the State in civil cases to which the State is a party and to enforcement of the State's Penal Code and the compensation for said attorneys may be fixed on a salary basis in lieu of fees. c. Save as hereinafter and hereinafter otherwise provided, such Charters within the limits expressed therein, may invest the governing body to be established for any county electing to operate hereunder with the power to create, consolidate or abolish any office or department whether created by other provisions of the Constitution or by statute, define the duties thereof, fix the compensation for service therein, make appointments to the office, and conditions for tenure in any such office; save, that no such Charter other than as hereinbefore authorized, shall provide to regulate the status, service, duties or compensation of members of the Legislature, Judges of the Courts, District Attorneys, County Attorneys, or any office whatsoever by the law of the State required to be filled by an election embracing more than one county. Excepting herefrom nominations, elections or appointments to offices, the terms hereof may not have expired prior to the adoption of this Amendment to the Constitution at such time as a Charter provision adopted hereunder may be in effect (save as to those offices which must continue to be elective, as herein elsewhere specified), all terms of county officers and all contracts for the giving of service by deputies under such officers, may be subject to termination by the administrative body of the county, under the Charter so providing, and there shall be no liability by reason thereof. d. Any county electing to operate hereunder shall have the power, by Charter provision, to levy, assess and collect taxes, and to fix the maximum rate for ad valorem taxes to be levied for specific purposes, in accordance with the Constitution and laws of this State, provided, however, that the limit of the aggregate taxes which may be levied assessed and collected hereunder shall not exceed the limit or total fixed, or hereafter to be fixed, by this Constitution to control counties, and the annual assessment upon property, both real, personal and mixed, shall be a first superior and prior lien thereon. e. In addition to the powers heretofore provided, and in addition to powers included in County Home Rule Charters, any county may, by a majority vote of the qualified electors of said county, amend its Charter to include other powers, functions, duties and rights which now or hereafter may be provided by this Constitution and the statutes of the State for counties. (4) Any county operating hereunder shall have the power to borrow money for all purposes lawful under its Charter, to include the refunding of a lawful debt, in a manner conforming to the General Laws of the State, and may issue therefore obligations. Such obligations, other than those to refund a lawful debt shall not be valid unless authorized by a majority of all votes cast by those resident qualified voters of the area affected by the taxes required to retire such obligations, who may vote thereon. In case of county obligations, maturing after a period of five (5) years, the same shall be issued to mature serially, fixing the first maturity of principal at a time not to exceed two (2) years next after the date of the issuance of such obligations. Such obligations may pledge the full faith and credit of the county; but in no event shall the aggregate obligations so issued, in principal amount outstanding at any one time, exceed the then existing Constitutional limits for such obligations and such indebtedness and its supporting tax shall constitute a first and superior lien upon the property taxable in such county. No obligation hereunder shall be valid unless provision for the abandonment, revocation and amendment thereof, subject only to the requirements that there must be a favorable majority of the vote cast upon such a proposal, by the qualified resident electors of the county; and, no Charter may for bid amendments thereof for a time greater than two (2) years. The provisions hereof shall be self-executing, subject only to the duty of the Legislature to pass all laws (consistent herewith) which may be necessary to carry out the intent and purpose hereof. Further, the Legislature shall prescribe a procedure for submitting to a decision, by a majority vote of the electors voting thereon, proposed alternate and elective Charter provisions. Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the fourth Saturday in August, 1933, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following: "For the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Texas, adding Section 3, providing authority for the adoption of a Home Rule Charter by the voters in counties having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more, to effect more sufficient and economical government within such counties, and to authorize mergers of separate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people therein." ernment within such counties, and to authorize mergers of separate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people therein."

Section 3. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation ordering an election in conformity herewith to determine whether or not the proposed Constitutional Amendment set forth herein shall be adopted, and the Governor shall have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

MAN! WHAT TIRE VALUES GOODYEAR OFFERS! WHEN you buy a Goodyear you get KNOWN VALUE. Today this value is the biggest ever. This new Pathfinder has FULL CENTER TRACTION, for complete non-skid safety. And 20 per cent thicker tread, for bigger mileage. And a still stouter long-life body of Superwrist Cord. Yet look at the prices for this improved quality tire within the reach of all. And think of buying an All-Weather Goodyear, the world's acknowledged top-quality tire, for no more money than an offbrand, "nobody's" tire might cost! PLAY SAFE Every car owner who is running around on thin, worn-out, dangerous tires, should replace them with safe new ones NOW. Old tires on hot roads are a risky proposition. ### NOTICE TO BUTCHERS AND DEALERS IN LIVESTOCK

State Ranger John R. Williams was in my office on May 30th A. D. 1933 and called my attention to the State laws relating to butchers' bonds, records to be kept by butchers and purchasers of butchered animals, and reports to be made by persons engaged in the slaughter or sale of butchered animals, and inspection by the Hide and Animal Inspector of animals to be transported or butchered. After consultation in these matters, Ranger Williams and I decided that it would be fair to announce in the papers that this law will be strictly enforced, beginning June 12, at which time Ranger Williams will be back in this territory enforcing provisions of the law. This procedure was decided upon as being more than fair than his beginning the work in this county now. All people please acquaint themselves with this law and comply with same so that Ranger Williams will not find need for filing complaints in these kind of cases.

Yours respectfully,
R. DYREL KIRK,
County Attorney, Dawson Co., Texas
