Precautions Taken to Prevent Assassination of Witness; State Rests Its Case In Trial

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—A threat against the life of the trial judge and the disappearance of ten state witnesses today contributed to the terrorism, including assassination of one witness, that has marked the trial of three men accused of kidnaping little Billy Ranieri, and whom the state seeks to send to the electric chair.

The trial's opening was delayed two hours when Judge Robert E. Quinn received a letter similar to those threatening the Ranieri family and other state witnesses. Miss Quinn, state witness, whom the prosecution charged, has been indicted for death, and his relatives are being held in the city jail. The state's case against the three defendants had been made known to the jury and the defense presented Andrew Cappellano, one of the three defendants who declared he did not know Billy had been kidnaped when the boy was brought to his home at Southwestern, Ill., by two men, one of whom he said was Tony Provenzo, and the other known to him only as Romano.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Complete merger of the Congregational and Christian denominations was a joint committee representing the two churches, announced tonight in a statement by the Rev. Dr. Frank Knight, pastor of Rockport, Mass., and the Rev. Dr. Frank G. Coffin of Columbia, chairman, respectively, of Congregational and Christian churches.

"A new United National denominational organization, the general council of the Congregational-Christian churches will be formed, and is proposed, in October, 1929," the statement said.

W. B. Nathan's largest will be the largest union of distinct denominations in the United States.

The Congregational churches have 2,232,000 members. The Christian churches have 1,142,000 members.

Dr. Nathan and Dr. Coffin believe the plan of union "points the way to genuine Christian unity among the Protestant churches of America."

The ground on which the churches are meeting is "the recognition by each group that the other is constituted of the followers of Jesus Christ and that each individual church and each group of churches shall be free to retain and develop its own form of religious expression."

Mr. Hoover is expected to arrive in the harbor of Rio de Janeiro tomorrow.

Mr. Hoover may visit Texas before March, under present plans.

Centralized Plan Of Prisons Given By Gov. Moody

State Executive To Bring Matter Before Sessions Of 41st Legislature; Organized Labor Agrees

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Dec. 20.—No opposition by organized labor to Governor Moody's centralized prison plan, under which inmates of the penitentiary would be placed in some kind of manufacturing employment, is anticipated by him.

He will again bring the matter of centralizing the system to the attention of the 41st legislature, when it convenes in January, he said today.

"I am informed that organized labor is not opposed to the plan," he said. "They are taxpayers like the rest of us and I am told would welcome a plan which would save the state, and themselves money by employing the prisoners in work which the state is now paying, in some cases, excessive prices for."

May Make Cement

Unless the highway commission is able to obtain more favorable prices for cement in road construction bids, the state may soon undertake the manufacture of cement for road building purposes, he said. This can be done arbitrarily without the consent of the legislature, the governor said.

Centralization of the prison system will also reduce the number of escapes, he said. In spite of recent apparently "wholesale" escapes, the percentage based on prison population, is lower than it has been in a number of years, he stated.

Alarmed At Escapes

The governor said he had become alarmed at the number of men reported escaping from the prison farms and had written W. H. Meade, general manager of the system, to protest, but that Meade had shown him that the ratio of escapes during 1928 was lower than in 1927 and 1926.

"Meade convinced me of the difficulty of properly guarding the men on the farms, which is another argument in favor of centralization," Governor Moody said. He reminded me that the range of a shotgun is not over 60 or 70 yards and that a prisoner out of range can run to safety without much effort.

"They can easily improvise knives and cut their way out of the wooden shacks on the farms or use stolen tools for this purpose."

Prisoners Total 4,575

The prison population is now 4,575 persons, with the guard personnel numbering 400 men. It costs the state approximately $300,000 a year to guard the prisoners, he said. The prison at Huntsville is overcrowded, with about 200 persons behind the walls more than facilities can accommodate, he said. One hundred of these can be cared for on the farms, leaving still 100 unprovided for. Temporary buildings to house the overflow were recently ordered constructed at the Huntsville plant, he said.

Special Session Seen for Finances

AUSTIN, Dec. 20. (P)—Governor Moody sees practically no chance that the biennial appropriation bills could be considered at the impending regular session of the legislature.

The financial committees are the largest and most important of the legislature, and members of these have little time to consider other legislation. Thus the governor believes that the usual rule of a special session to consider the money bills will be followed again next spring.

Youth Is Injured

Del Rio Boy Lays Under Truck for 10 Hours

DEL RIO, Dec. 20. (P)—G. W. Schrier, 15, was recovering today from injuries received yesterday when he was pinned beneath his overturned truck. He lay beneath the wreckage 10 hours before he was extracted by a passing motorist.

Gasoline from a broken feed line dripped on Schrier throughout the day, saturating his clothing.

"Safest Flyer" Gets Schiff Trophy

NEA Washington Bureau
While airplane crashes make newspaper headlines and individual acts of daring win renown for many an aviator, consistently safe, uneventful flying does not go unappreciated. Here's Lieutenant James E. Dyer, right, of the navy air station at San Diego, receiving from FRANKLIN COLLIER, the Herbert Schiff trophy for safety. He flew 1251 hours in the last fiscal year without accident of any kind. Left is Herbert Schiff, of New York, donee of the award.

Bolivian Troops Mobilized After Border Clash

Charging that Bolivia is massing troops and munitions along the Paraguay-Bolivia frontier, the Paraguayan legation has declared that "these circumstances make more imminent the outbreak of war." Photo at top shows Bolivian mountain artillery, and, below, Bolivian cavalry, both of which will see much service if war is declared. The tension is the result of a clash between border patrols of the two nations in disputed "Chaco" territory.

Paving Starts On Oilfield Highway After Long Fight

(Special To The Avalanche)
SAN ANGELO, Dec. 21.—After nearly three years of constant effort, San Angelo and Tom Green county are near their goal of starting a concrete paved highway west of here toward the oil fields of West Texas over the Petroleum Highway, for at the recent meeting of the Highway Commission, G. H. Guehrst, state engineer, was instructed to let the contract for 16 miles of pavement from San Angelo west to the Irion county line. At the same time representatives from Upton, Reagan, and Irion county appeared before the commission seeking aid in paving the same highway—the Petroleum Highway—through their counties. Pecos county has already voted bonds for its share of the road and is ready to start construction when its neighbors to the east make a secure.

High School Studied

Beaumont to Model New School After Alexandria

ALEXANDRIA, La., Dec. 20. (P)—The fame of Bolton High school of Alexandria is spreading. A delegation from Beaumont returned to the Texas city today after inspecting the local institution which they declared was the greatest high school in the south. Beaumont has voted a bond issue of $1,500,000, most of which will be used to duplicate Alexandria's high school.

Youth Gets Term For Girl's Death

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (P)—Vincent Eigo, 17-year-old Staten Island school boy, received a prison sentence of twenty years to life today for the murder of his sweetheart, Alice Joost, 15, in her Port Richmond home on November 2.

Youth Gets Term For Girl's Death

Rice, indicted for first degree murder, pleaded guilty to second degree murder when his trial opened last Monday.

The Joost girl was struck and then strangled with an electric cord by Rice after, he said, she had tried to kiss him.

Revival of Fight For Impeachment Of Johnston Seen

Sooner Legislators Elated Over Belief of Coalition of House Members; Probe Of Conduct Planned

(By Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 20.—Legislators hostile to the administration of Gov. Henry S. Johnston frankly were elated today in the belief that a coalition of house members had been effected for control of committees in the legislature which will convene January 8. One of the committees will investigate state officials and on its report will hinge action of the legislature, committed to inquire into the conduct of the governor's and other state offices. Anti-administration democratic house members have made no secret of the fact that they intend to revive charges on which they tried last December to impeach Governor Johnston in an attempted special session which the state supreme court held illegal.

Road Employee Is Killed Instantly

MINERAL WELLS, Dec. 20. (P)—Struck by an automobile and dragged 200 feet, Henry Rogers, 37, an employe of the state highway department, was killed instantly here today. The automobile was driven by W. H. Beatty, of Roswell, New Mexico.

W. H. Beatty, the driver of the car mentioned above, is a former citizen of Lubbock. While here he was in the laundry business, moving to Roswell only recently.

NO SEASON'S PARDONS

Governor Moody To Ignore Christmas Pleas

AUSTIN, Dec. 20. (P)—Although he will probably issue a few pardons, they will not be Christmas pardons, Governor Moody said today.

Like every other governor, he has been swamped with pleas for clemency by persons interested in some one behind prison walls, at this season of the year.

—why shouldn't the same unvarying smooth motor performance be possible? It is—by using Phillips '66—the gasoline of controlled volatility—that starts easily and accelerates quickly winter and summer yet has full power and full mileage.

In the manufacture of Phillips '66 the volatility is intentionally varied (controlled) to meet seasonal conditions of heat and cold—a new idea in the refining of gasoline that has won instant favor wherever Phillips '66 is sold. Be good to your motor, and use '66—it costs no more than "any old gasoline."

*Liquid gasoline must be vaporized before it can be burned in an engine. Volatility refers to the ability of a gasoline to vaporize.

Uncle Charley Terry, 92, Is Dear Of Drummers; Has Been On The Road For Past Sixty-Eight Years

By HORTENSE SAUNDERS NEA Service Writer NEW YORK, Dec. 21. — When Charles Terry was discharged from the Union Army 68 years ago because of a sun stroke, he became a traveling salesman. He's been on the road ever since and today, at 92, he is the oldest drummer in the country.

In New York City, with other elders of his transient profession, "Uncle Charley" has been helping to inaugurate a campaign for the endowment of a $3,000,000 home and hospital for aged traveling men. The home is to be erected on a 100-acre tract that has been donated for the purpose near Winston-Salem, N. C.

There was W. P. McCormack, 83, who is the most traveled salesman with about 2,500,000 miles to his credit. There was John Peter McGoldy, also 83, whose 83 years with one organization sets another record. Many another drummer at the meeting boasted an age well beyond the allotted three score and ten; but old Charley Terry was the dean of them all.

Met Many Famous Men "When I first started," he recalled, "I went either on foot or on horseback. Later I used the train and still later I covered a lot of ground in a buggy. Now I use an automobile—and sometimes I think that is the hardest way of all."

For instance, he met both Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglass when they were contending for the seat in congress and conducted their famous debates in Illinois.

He heard Abraham Lincoln defend Armstrong in the celebrated murder trial. "I shall never forget," he said, "I did not arrive in time to hear the evidence, but I heard Lincoln's speech, and saw the judge, the jury, and spectators in the courtroom weep as Lincoln pleaded for his client and shouted to Armstrong's mother dramatically: 'Aunt Maria, your boy will go home with you tonight!'"

"Doubled-Up" With Greeley Terry voted twice for Lincoln. In Illinois, he also met another famous character, Horace Greeley.

He was in a most amusing fashion, he laughed. "He wore a broad-brimmed Quaker hat and a shawl thrown around his shoulders. I got on the same train with him. Both of us were going to Marietta, Ga.

When we arrived, the train hotel was full, so Greeley suggested that he and I double up, which we did. He was on his way to Quincy, making the trip by stage part of the way. It was at this time he uttered his famous 'Go west, young man, and grow up with the country'."

In 1870 Terry moved to Atchison, Mo., where he lives today, to his sewing machine. Later he sold the carriage manufacturers of St. Louis and Des Moines. When automobiles put the carriage trade out of the running, Terry went with the implement and hardware Trade Journal.

He calls on retail implement and hardware men and attends the big trade conventions. During his span of 92 years, Terry has been unusually healthy and always active.

Takes Time Off to Fish "I like to work hard," he said, "but I don't intend to give it up until I have to. I can still eat and sleep well, and I have no rheumatism."

"I always enjoyed a good meal. I've always eaten what I wanted, and all I wanted. I used to be a heavy user of tobacco, but 20 years ago I decided it was a bad habit, so I quit smoking and chewing."

Fishing is "Uncle Charley's" favorite sport, and all his life he has made it a practice to take a day off, when he felt like it, and get out on the fishing tackle.

"If I made a success of selling, I have done so by using a perpetual motion and ideas of patients," he said. "These are the only two arguments that I found to be 100 per cent effective."

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barton NEA Service Loc.

There are things to remember if you are planning to make your newborn a fresh-air baby.

Two young mothers in duplex apartments had babies.

The one on the left had a baby born in September. The baby on the right was born late in November.

The mother of the later baby, as soon as she was downstairs, looked out at the chilly gray December afternoon and exclaimed, "Why, Mrs. Smith's baby is still taking his afternoon nap on the porch! I'll have to do that with mine."

Her nurse had left and so had her mother. She had no one to tell her that Mrs. Smith would not have had her baby out there if he had not been weather broken during the sunny fall days that followed his birth.

It was a gray day and cold—but dry, and there was no wind blowing. The carriage was in a sheltered spot, and Mrs. Smith's baby had two hot-water bottles beside him, and one at his feet. He was snugly covered with warm robes, beside his goat and bonnet. The top of his cap was adjusted so that the air he breathed had the "edge" off it, and his experienced mother had thrown for safety an extra cover over so no draft could creep in.

So anxious was she to have a "fresh-air baby" that she did not inquire into the why's and where-fore's, but the very next day, out went her poor little mite into the cold, cold world to weather it as best he could. No extra covers, no hot-water bottles, no extra cover over the hood, and facing the wind at that. It was very cold and very windy. He was there for an hour. And only three weeks old!

He caught cold and nearly died of lung congestion.

He won't be exposed again, for the doctor told his mother several things. One of them was that a baby has to "grow into the weather."

Another thing to consider, he told her, is the weather itself. "Take him out, when he is old enough, if it is moderately warm and sunny and

Abilene And Port Arthur On Edge For Battle Today

Fistic Realm Agog Over Latest Ballyhoo Unleashed By Gotham Promoters

Eagles Confident On Eve Of Title Game In Abilene

Yellowjacket Eleven Relying On Speedy, Knifing Line And Versatile Backfield To Stop Eagles

The first championship game ever staged west of Fort Worth will be played on the Simmons University athletic field in Abilene this afternoon. Abilene Eagles versus the Port Arthur Yellowjackets is expected to attract somewhere around 10,000 football fans. The final game for the State Intercollegiate championship is always a thriller and the battle for that title today will be no different from past encounters.

A line with a ten pound weight advantage to the man will give the West Texans an advantage over the South Texas aggregation. That powerful Abilene forward wall was the deciding factor in the Amarillo and Cleburne games and will likely give the Yellowjackets plenty of trouble. Practically the same lineup that has carried the Eagles over all opposition leading up to the state finals will take the field against Coach Dennis' eleven. Only at the pivot position will the Eagles be without a regular. It is not unlikely that Arnett third string center, will start against Port Arthur.

Although it is impossible for the state league to sponsor the Class B race beyond the regional stage, several Class B elevens will fire their final guns of the season today. Caldwell and McGregor high schools will clash at McGregor for the championship of region 4 and Del Rio will play at Robstown for the title of region 7. Five regional titles were decided last week. These were: Post, Anson, Farmersville, Eagle Lake and Tivy high, Kerrville.

Messrs. Ruppert, Barrow and Higgins and their associates in the business of winning payments for the New York Yankees, are checking merrily over the reports of other American League teams being built up to match the Yankees. "Strange as it may seem, the New York bosses rather welcome the efforts of the rival clubs since a procedure would add interest to the 1929 flag chase.

The midjet manager of the champion Yanks is letting the other clubs do all the worrying. For when it comes to fears that will be anything much different from what it has been for the past few years, in the way of a real threat to the Yankee supremacy, well the New York officials have to chuckle. Those in close touch with the majors say it can't be done.

Huggins admits that pitching with the Yankees may not be 100 per cent, but then no club can boast of 100 per cent pitching. Even the most casual observer knows that the Yanks don't need the best pitching to win more games than their opponents. The sailing is much easier for the Yankee hurling staff, backed by that murderous row, than any other staff with the same old batting order.

While other clubs are buying and trading during the winter season, all the Yankees have to do is reach out and draw in some of their reserves for the New York management has been quite forehanded in preparing for many years to come.

"Let others buy," says Huggins, "they can't buy anything as good as the Yankees already have in stock."

A rumor coming from the camps of the major leagues during the 1928 season indicated that the Swat Twins of the New York team would be separated next year. Ruth and Gehrig, posing as businessmen themselves, have made life miserable for the past three seasons and efforts have been made to get one of them on another club in the league in order to make things more interesting for the Yankees. Present indications point to continued relations of the two fence busters with the Huggins crew.

will hustle to the southland the first of the year to fashion a fistic plum for the natives and visitors among Dixie's palms and coconut groves. Rickard will promote for the southerners a clash between Sharkey and Young Stribling, the husky Georgian who has knocked out over 300 opponents, including many times, so they say, his personal chauffeur. However, their respective abilities may be questioned, the fact still remains that Sharkey and Stribling offer the best of a poor cauliflower crop in the heavyweight patch.

Tex has a dog track down there and pretends to engage that to seat 50,000 persons. The open air arena will be located within eight and sound of the sad sea waves, fit accompaniment to the sounds of strife if the venture proves as unsuccessful as Gene Tunney's final appearance in the Yankee Stadium, or Young Stribling's last major appearance in Miami Beach. At that time Strib was slated for a match with Tunney when both were light heavyweights and the lack of interest in the affair caused both battlers great pain and discomfort.

More than that it nearly caused Billy Gibson, genial but hard-headed business handler of the retired heavyweight king, to lose whatever position and safety he held in the southern community. That was one of the times when Gibson gave birth to that classic of ring phraseology—"If there aint no dough, there aint gonna be no fight."

Georgia Tech Off For Contest With California Team

Golden Tornado Takes The Southern Route To Pasadena; Many Followers Accompany Team

ATLANTA, Dec. 20. (AP)—The Golden Tornado of Georgia Tech, collectively a great football breeze but individually submerged in overcoats, mufflers and gloves to ward off the chill of a rainy afternoon departed today for Pasadena, California and a New Year's Day game against the University of California.

The sixty piece "Rambling Wreck" band and hundreds of Tech students who had planned to see the team off did not go to the station, and a note of sadness entered into the farewell. For yesterday, Bandmaster Frank Roman, affectionately known as Tech as "Wop" died suddenly of a heart attack.

The team went through its final home workout yesterday. The team is traveling by the Southern route and will reach New Orleans early tomorrow, Beaumont, Texas, tomorrow night, Houston Saturday morning and thence to California.

While many followers accompanied the team, two special trains of supporters will follow later.

Hundred Play In Open Tournament

ATLANTA, Santa Catalina Island, Calif., Dec. 20. (AP)—About one hundred golfers battled today on this island's tough nine hole course in the second day of qualifying play of the $2,500 Santa Catalina open tournament.

Coach Walter McGovern and a group of followers accompanied the Chicago team to this border city. A large gathering of South Texans shivering as a result of a sudden blast of winter which sent the thermometer to its lowest level of the year—41 degrees—greeted the DePaul gridgers at the railroad station.

Greenleaf needs only one victory to clinch the title, while a victory for Taberski would throw the championship into a tie between the two ranking experts.

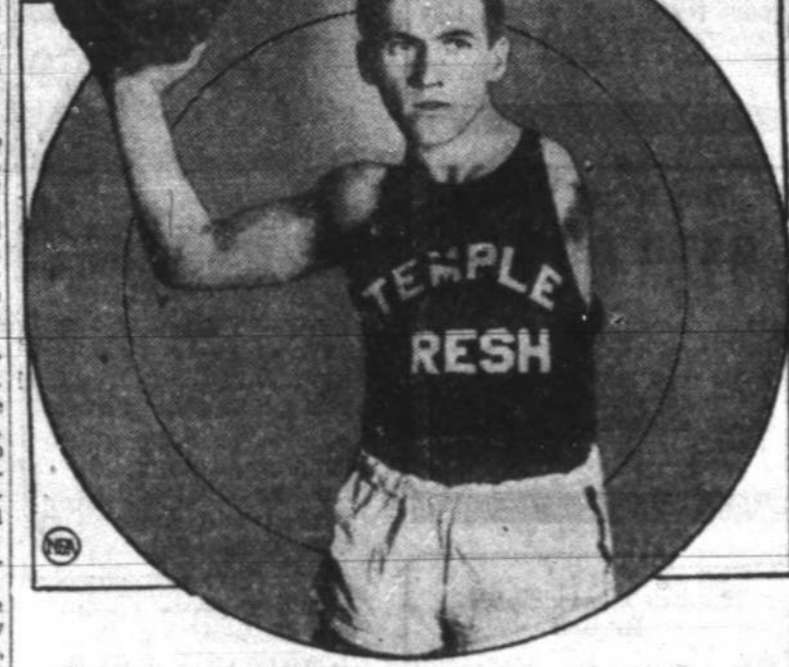

The Greenleaf-Taberski row, which ended when Taberski refused to continue play and demanded a forfeit, climaxed 12 years of intense rivalry between the two.

Taberski yesterday demanded a forfeit on the ground that Greenleaf had left the playing arena twice in their game whereas he can leave but once according to the rules.

Although he has but one arm, John Magyor, Phoenixville (Pa.) youth, is a candidate for the freshman basketball team at Temple University. He lost the other arm in a railroad accident. Magyor was an all-around athlete in high school and stands a fair chance of making the squad. He is demonstrating here how he shoots for the basket.

Class B Title Of Region Settled By Flip

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 20. (AP)—The toss of a coin again decided a football game in the State Intercollegiate League today. While Coach A. L. Anthony of Del Rio and Coach Manning of Robstown clung to a double telephone connection, Earl (Mule) Frazer, prominent official of San Antonio, this morning tossed a quarter that fell heads and gave Del Rio the "game" with Robstown and the Class B regional championships of South and Southwest Texas. The toss was proposed by Robstown because the football field there is under water from recent rains.

Billiard Title To Be Decided Today

CHICAGO, Dec. 20. (AP)—The wrangling over who shall wear the first-world's pocket billiard crown may be decided tomorrow night when Ralph Greenleaf, national champion, and Frank Taberski, of Shenectady, N. Y., former national titleholder, replay their disputed game that brought the tournament to an abrupt close yesterday.

Greenleaf needs only one victory to clinch the title, while a victory for Taberski would throw the championship into a tie between the two ranking experts.

The Greenleaf-Taberski row, which ended when Taberski refused to continue play and demanded a forfeit, climaxed 12 years of intense rivalry between the two.

Taberski yesterday demanded a forfeit on the ground that Greenleaf had left the playing arena twice in their game whereas he can leave but once according to the rules.

The Nut Cracker

By Joe Williams

While the U. S. L. T. A. is meeting in every locked conference room they can find east of San Francisco trained operatives have been sent out by the intelligence department of the Nut Cracker to try to find out just what one of those things is.

Intelligence chief O'Goofy comes back with the circumstantial report that an amateur is a guy wot won't take a check.

Other bloodhounds of the department insist that an amateur is a gentleman who makes a very nice living indeed without earning any money.

In some cities an amateur is a fellow who doesn't try to fix a parking ticket.

Nurmi is an outstanding amateur. He says he came over to find a place for the Finns to live in Los Angeles while they are preparing for the 1932 Olympics. He should have started years earlier.

Baseball experts have perhaps the best definition of amateurs we have come across. If those five guys that Washington traded to Boston for Buddy Myer aren't amateurs, what have you?

Queen Mary's Christmas card illustrates the phrase, "When summer weaves her magic spell," which is one of her Majesty's favorite flower subjects.

Sharkey Assails Rickard In Feud Between Figures

Rickard Brands Boston Gob As Ungrateful And Overestimated Fighter; Chuckles Are Numerous

By EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—Intricate indeed are ways of the ballyhoo, smart the ballyhoos and hard-pat the boxing scribes who must scrape "hoo" from the "hooey."

There's many a single, too, and the smites that come with the unmaking are not always on the faces of the newspapermen. Somewhere within the reaches of Manhattan Island today, James J. Johnston, former rejuvenator of Mike McTigue and ten per cent manager of Jack Sharkey, is giving vent to throaty chuckles.

Almost every one in the fight game has had those throaty chuckles wafted his way by Johnston at one time or another. It might be just a "hot foot,"—a match deftly inserted, without the knowledge of the victim, in the sole of his shoe and lighted—or it might be a bit of clever make believe that took in even the old master, Tex Rickard himself.

This time however, James J. stepped into Rickard's plans to stage a heavyweight elimination bout between his man Sharkey and Young Stribling, clouting Georgian, with a publicity hot-foot that had even the promoter bounding about the carpet of his luxurious den as though the floor were on fire. It looked as if Miami Beach was to lose the fistic tit-bit of the season because Sharkey was angry.

The promoter hardly had announced in his usual benign manner that the Boston sailor and the Southern prize were agreeable to the match which he would stage the last week in February when telegrams from Sharkey poured into many sports departments in the city denouncing the Texan.

Rickard Gets Wire
A telegram sent today to Tex Rickard, accused the promoter of managing Stribling, Paulino Uscudun and Jack Dempsey as well as attempting to buy the managerial rights to Sharkey last year for $80,000. Tex was a knave and Sharkey could expect justice boxing Stribling in a Southern community. Furthermore the telegram represented the

JUSTICE HOLMES SEEN FAR FROM THROUGH BY CHARLES F. STEWART

Washington Correspondent for Central Press and The Avanche

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes was worried the worst way, so his friends relate, when he caught a bad cold recently and had to spend a few days in bed.

Anything concerning a federal supreme justice is largely rumor—though it relates to nothing more important than the kind of breakfast food he likes—but this is pretty straight.

As I get it, Justice Holmes had pledged himself, before Mr. Coolidge announced himself out of the running, to outlive the later White House tenancy even though he had forewarned Mr. Coolidge, therefore, the idea of being snuffed out just at the present juncture alarmed him exceedingly.

The justice, from all accounts, was not very ill. Nevertheless, he realized that at his age—he will be 83 on March 15—less than a week after Mr. Hoover succeeds Mr. Coolidge as president—the most trifling indisposition, seemingly, may result fatally.

A supreme court justice is supposed not to have any prejudices—not the slightest. For all that, they do have their individual mental slants.

When President Roosevelt appointed him, Justice Rogers—who was entitled to have opinions then, before he had forewarned all such human weaknesses—was considered a "liberal."

There is no question that the senior justice deems President Coolidge as conservative as they make 'em. How President Hoover will suit him, who knows?

I fancy the justice will wait awhile to see, if satisfactory, he may die. He may even retire. If not, I would almost venture the guess that Justice Holmes will feel it his duty to carry on for four or five years more.

THIS HAS HAPPENED. False information JERRY RAY to ALEXANDER CABSTAIN when he crashes his airplane into the camp she is sharing with her roommate.

Don't try to win her, but when he proposes she tells him she does not believe in love but hopes to marry money.

Jerry loses her job on Alexander's account, and he gets her a place in a chorus. She works hard and Alexander drives her to Atlantic City for the opening, but she always thinks by refusing to attend a midnight chorus party.

But she wins promotion to a special dance number. The second week of the show is in Boston and Alexander insists on driving her to the opening, but she always thinks by refusing to attend a midnight chorus party.

Trotsky threatens when lightning sets fire to a plane wing, but the heavy rain smother it and he gets the machine down in a safe landing. They catch a train on into Boston but arrive too late for rehearsal.

The press agent wants to play up the story using Alexander's name, but Jerry objects. They persuade him to tell the truth—featuring Jerry for show publicity and Dan for his money.

SO THINK WE

We think this is one Christmas that we will not care how many and ties we get.

We think that fellow who offered us two boxes of cigars for Christmas if I would agree to smoke was pretty sure of his offer before he suggested it.

We think very few people have their minds on their business these days. Especially at this season of the year, all eyes seem to be on turkey.

We think that youngsters still get some wonderful thrills, but we believe none of them get a greater thrill than men of our age did when we got our first red topped boots for Christmas.

We think it makes little difference how many bones Babe Ruth made during the baseball season, but just how many home runs Santa Claus is going to make is the all important matter just now with millions of people, especially the little folks.

We think that possibly we might be included in the list of promising young men if we were younger and had the benefit of the experiences we have had the past fifty years.

We think as a matter of economy, a lot of folks can send those presents that they received last Christmas to some one else, and that will save money and at the same time it will pass along the happiness that we do not have every day in the year.

We think the Kwanza Club and other organizations that are interesting themselves in making more people happy are certainly to be congratulated on the movement. There is nothing that pays such a big dividend as to make folks happy.

We think that again we should refresh our memory that along about Christmas time there is more danger of fires than most any other time of the year, and this justifies extra precautions with fire.

We think the abolishment of the left hand turns on Avenue I. J. K. at Broadway is a mighty good thing, and the people should be willing to observe the rules, which is sure to result in greater safety to all concerned.

We think that Christmas should come on lustily, everything else seems to be the way.

ESKIMOS AND COEDS. In the regions of the far north Eskimos do not have contact with the white race and civilization do not have colds.

Understandable as this anti-entirety might at first sight appear, it is well to recall that British soldiers will solve the unemployment problem, and that, meanwhile, British days may be counted on to continue their assault on the liquor traffic as an uneconomic industry, as compared, let us say, with the manufacture of beer and shoes. According to Board of Trade figures, 1,000,000 pounds worth of boots and shoes at the factory represents the work of 3000 persons, but 1,000,000 pounds worth of beer at the brewery represents the labor of only 600 persons. The drink trade thus employs only one-fourth as many workers as another and more useful form of industry and, in addition, contributes heavily to unemployment by the promotion of drunkenness.

Metaling in West Virginia not long ago the writer found a little tablet in a village on which were the words: "On this site, Dec. 2, 1862, John Brown was executed." Brown was a fanatic. He was a nation's slave-master without any conception of a practical way to bring an end to slavery. He tried to organize a negro revolution. It failed. Brown was arrested at Harper's Ferry, taken to Charles town, West Virginia, held in the old court house, which is still used today, and hanged. Brown was a fanatic. There is a difference in temperature between ocean water at the surface and at the bottom of 25 or 30 degrees. This difference, he says, is so valuable for power generation as water falling 300 feet. That means great power.

It is not safe to laugh at anybody in these quick-changing days.

We think Lubbock will be getting right up in the front ranks with the large cities when she gets that fifteen story hotel that we read about in this morning's paper.

We think that Lubbock should have some more paying over about Avenue M. There are many people in that section of the city that would be greatly benefited by the parking.

We think that Lubbock can stand a great many more street lights than she has at the present time.

DRINK AND UNEMPLOYMENT. Great Britain is not ready for prohibition, says the Bishop of Wilmeton, but if Mr. Hoover improves the enforcement of the law he believes the example set by the United States during the next four years will forward the cause of local option and ultimately enable the British people to handle the drink problem for themselves.

Now go on with the story. Evelyn lifted Jerry away from Dan and led her to the club where she had been waiting for him on the occasion of her first visit to the Rolling Stone Inn. Then she looked around for a bell to summon help and when she found one she rang it repeatedly. After that she went to the bar, took a glass of water and looked at Alexander's lip.

When he revived Alexander was still at the telephone and Jerry was a sobbing, distraught heap on the six pillows. Dan struggled to sit up on the floor and fell back weakly. His eyes closed and his head gradually sank to the floor. Evelyn herself was beginning to feel the horror of the situation when help arrived. She had found a moment to perform one last service to her lover, she had put her hand on his forehead and felt the heat of his forehead. And when the curtain followed the servants to the room the great sight of a butterfly who had winged home on a murderer's bullet was denied them.

No one seemed to pay any attention to Alexander, who sat before the telephone and stared like a madman at the others in the room. He had got the number he'd asked for and now that he had done he was terrified.

White headbands lifted Dan and carried him into the bedroom to place him on the bed. Alexander crept out into the hall and down to the rear entrance. No one tried to stop him and presently he was turning up the road in the direction of the city.

lie to the inn yourself," his father said to him.

"I don't suppose you know what you were doing but it was a fortunate thing, because your name couldn't have been kept out of the affair. I'm afraid, even if you'd tried to hush it up."

"What are they going to do? Do they want me?" Alexander cried in torment.

"Not as a prisoner," his father answered contemptuously. "But I've given my word that I will be responsible for your appearance whenever it is required."

"I trust you put to bed the grounds," the elder man went on with an edge of scorn in his voice. "In fact, I shall see that you will be immediately apprehended if you go outside the inn and proceed for a moment to the street."

But, how as low as he might, he could not be lower in spirit and hope than a grief-stricken girl who hovered over him and prayed for his recovery.

"If Dan should die... If he left her without one farewell word... even a look..."

"You must go away, Miss Ray," a nurse told her.

Jerry glanced at her. "Just until he comes back. He can't be left alone—oh please don't drive me away... he might call for me... he might want me..."

Outside the building the newsboys were ignoring the street, warning "SILENCE—HOSPITAL" and calling the headlines relating to the tragedy at the Rolling Stone Inn. "Millionaire son—hooligan—show girl..." Jerry did not hear it.

Neither did she know that Evelyn guarded her from intruders and kept her from reading the papers.

When night came the war-battered into Mr. Weinstein's motor car and taken to her hotel on the orders of a physician. There Myrtle came to her and sat with her until morning.

Evelyn was back again at seven o'clock. She made Myrtle take a hot bath in Jerry's tub, eat a bit of breakfast and lie down to rest until time for her to go to work.

Jerry could no longer be restrained in returning to the hospital and when she got there she found Dan's mother at his bedside.

Jerry's mother's picture of Dan's mother had been of a woman who might be either fat and contented or shrunken and tired like her own mother—at least she had taken it for granted that Mrs. Harvey would be able to do anything she had to do—except, perhaps, Mrs. Starr. Jerry knew that Evelyn's mother had been born into decadent society.

Dan had seemed so natural in his manner, so simple and unaffected, that Jerry had never imagined he belonged to a socially well-placed family.

Her experience with prominent people had been only with those who moved on the western coast for the social world. She did not know much of people who lived in unostentatious comfort, with well-filled libraries and exquisite line, coin silver for heirlooms, and a taste for chamber music and art objects.

She had always thought of public spirited clubwomen as meddling busybodies. Of course she did not know that Mrs. Harvey was a leading clubwoman, one she might at least have been prepared to meet a woman of efficiency.

Together they side and sent Jerry's words—their Almighty Father once for yet a of his own child not be taken as his husband's opinion.

Then they laughed with a main; these although almost pinched them in words that were heard.

"No! The man with a gentle feel from the cradle. Dr. Claver the wound," she Jerry submitted.

A half-hour later to return with Dan.

"How is he?"

"Stay with the man replied, "I'm accustomed at."

"And..."

"You will have you must stay... at the doctor told I."

Jerry sank in arms. The doctor's hand was a chair of the wood. "Dr. Claver the wound," she Jerry submitted.

SUMMARY

Market practically unchanged from Wednesday's close. The report of the Census Bureau on the amount of ginnings to Dec. 13 was moderately bullish. The figures given out were as follows: 13, 148,411 bales ginned to Dec. 13, or 586,793 bales for the period, leaving 1,224,589 bales to be ginned to realize the government estimate of 14,973,000 bales. Although buying support was lacking, the fact that the market continued to hold its own is encouraging. The usual December dullness is holding full sway and unless the unusual happens will control this market until after the holidays. Norman-Mayer & Co., wired today: "Consider ginning reports quite bullish. Looks as if the government may have over-estimated the crop. We advise buying."

Liverpool cabled: "Bombay liquidated long cotton."

Manchester cabled: "Better cloth inquiry from South America and the continent."

Hatfield, Ark.: Cotton all picked and ginned but no new crop work yet.

Lawton, Okla.: Cotton crop practically all out of field, ginned and mostly sold.

Palsico, Tex.: Cotton ginning completed. Many weevils hibernating here. Much rain has put soil in good condition.

Snow was reported at Atlanta, Ga.

New Orleans: Domestic cotton goods markets report somewhat wider trading.

New Orleans: Total spot cotton sales in southern markets thus far this season 4,876,040 bales versus 3,778,795.

WEATHER

Early reports indicated that the weather map showed much rain in the eastern and gulf sections of the cotton belt. At noon the western belt was mostly clear, the central belt ranged from cloudy to rainy and the eastern belt was clear to cloudy. Forecast: Eastern-South Carolina, cloudy and colder; North Carolina, rain and colder; Mississippi, fair and colder; Alabama, fair and somewhat colder with frost in south portions; Georgia, cloudy and somewhat colder with rain in east portion. Western: Arkansas and Oklahoma, fair and somewhat warmer; East Texas, somewhat colder in south portion with freezing weather on coast; West Texas, not much change in temperatures; fair.

DURABLE CANDLES

If you place candles in the refrigerator for a few days before using, they will last longer and the wax is less likely to drip.

MATTRESS HANDLES

Some day when there is not much work to do, an hour spent putting handles on all the mattresses will save a great deal of trouble. Use the best of heavy material, make long handles, and slip the handles through the eyelets in the head, foot, and side of each mattress, one on each corner.

LUBBOCK LIVESTOCK

The following report furnished by McDonald Packing Company: Cattle, choice white face 8.00; Cattle, calves, choice white face 9.00; good medium 8.00; common and dogs 5.00; Yearlings and heavy heifers, choice 7.50; good medium 7.00; Cows, choice 5.50; good medium 4.50; common and cutters 2.50; heavy butchers 5.50; heavy hogs 5.00; Hogs, choice butchers 7.75; choice light weights 6.50; choice hewies 7.25; packing sows 6.00.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

PORT WORTH, Dec. 20. (P)—(U. S. D. A.)—Short receipts of both cattle and calves Thursday sold on a rather uneven market. The few loads of slaughter steers reported from around 8.00 to 10.75, appeared strong to a quarter. Destrable fat cows very scarce, but butcher grades selling mostly under 7.00, held steady. Cutters and low cutters neglected at prices steady to a quarter lower. Low cutters moved in sales of 400 to 500 bushels at the former price. A four car shipment of strong, weight low-cutters moved for outside slaughter at 5.00. Slaughter yearlings and other classes of cattle had no change of consequence. Good fat yearlings reported up to 12.00, and limited supplies of sausage bulls found an outlet from 6.00 to 7.25. The better grades of heavy slaughter calves were wanted at advances of about a quarter, but sorts hard to move at declines of a quarter to a half dollar. Packers paid up to 10.00 for good to choice heavies, cull sorts had to sell mostly at 5.00 to 5.50. Thursday's hog trade ruled lower, in line with the downward trend of values elsewhere. Most of the butchers ruled ten cents to a quarter lower. Rail butchers having the most loss. The day's top 8.25, paid in both the rail and truck sections of the trade. Bulk of the desirable 175-240 pound hogs changed hands around 8.10 and 8.25. Some weakness apparent in packing sows, with rates at 7.25 to 7.50. Pigs appeared steady to a quarter lower, butcher pigs mostly at 6.25 to 7.25. The receipts of sheep and lambs consisted mostly of the latter class of stock. Sales quotably steady, good woolled fat lambs around 13.00 to 13.50; fat shorn fat lambs notched at 12.25. Woolled feeder lambs, a good grade, also moved at 12.25.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 20. (P)—(U. S. D. A.)—Liberal receipts of hogs around the 11-market circuit resulted in another decline of 10 to 30c, underweights on the close at St. Louis were considered steady; the days top of 8.55 was paid both at Chicago and St. Louis; total offerings were around 151,400 an increase of 56,000 over last Thursday and 39,000 more than a year ago. Hogs, choice butchers 7.75; choice light weights 6.50; choice hewies 7.25; packing sows 6.00.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (P)—The bull party decided that the long talked of holiday money pinch had been largely a false alarm, and had just started a general upturn on the stock market today when call money mounted from 7 to 8 per cent, and quick retreat was called. Gains running from 2 to 15 points in a wide assortment of issues were reduced and in some cases more than cancelled. There was a partial recovery in the afternoon, however and the Associated Press average price of 20 industrials recorded a gain of nearly 2 points. Total sales aggregated 3,807,300 shares, the largest day's business since early last week. The federal reserve bank disclosed a reduction in brokers' loans of $64,929,000, bringing the total down to $5,110,822,000, about where it was a month ago. While the reserve statement indicated greater holdings of government securities, this was attributed to the treasury's December 15 refinancing, rather than an indication that the bank has acted to ease credit. The stock exchange disclosed that the violent market of November, with the acute break at the end of the month, left the ratio of member borrowings to the market value of all listed securities at 9.53 percent on December 1, an increase of .04 per cent from November 1. The value of all listed shares increased more than $5,000,000,000, while member loans increased more than $500,000,000.

"Orchid" is a story of many interesting characters, chief among them a girl with the unusual name of Ashtoreth Ashe—Ashtoreth was a stenographer whose cleverness and charm and ambition enabled her to marry the most eligible bachelor in America, and he was the man who named her "Orchid"—Stories have been written before about stenographers who married millionaires, but you have never read a story like "Orchid" -- Eleanor Early's first serial, "Whirlwind," was acclaimed as the greatest newspaper novel in years—Her second is a worthy successor.

Suppose a new car is priced at $1000.00. Suppose that a new car was good for 100,000 miles or more and suppose you could buy that car after 10,000 miles, for its original price.

That explains the value you get in a good used car, bought from a reputable dealer.

But come in and look over the cars in our stock. Every car is honestly represented. Every car is a bargain regardless of make or price. Low down payments. Your car accepted in trade.

Major Hoople Obtains Endorsement Of Santa On Kiwanis Club's Drive

Even Major Hoople and his Boarding House friends get generous when they see a bunch of mistletoe or a little bit of holly. In fact, the Major insists he is the originator of the Kiwanis Club's Christy Fund. He claims to have obtained the endorsement of Santa Claus himself during one of his polar explorations, long before the days of dirigibles, radio static and two-car garages.

Slaton Takes Definite Steps Toward Securing Milk Plant; Committee Is Appointed To Work On Giant Project

Creamery and Cheese Plant To Be Sought; Survey Of Territory To Be Made In Near Future

Special To The Avalanche
SLATON, Dec. 21.—Definite steps to secure a milk plant for Slaton were taken Tuesday night when a meeting was held here by a special committee appointed by the Slaton Chamber of Commerce to work the project to successful conclusion.

J. H. Brewer, chairman of the committee, and W. E. Olive, and W. M. McPherson were appointed to draft a plan of financing the plant. Brewer and Olive are Slaton bankers, while McPherson is a banker at "outhand, nine miles southeast of Slaton, and is president of the Chamber of Commerce there.

A creamery and a cheese plant are favored by the committee, industrialists pointing toward a cooperative plan of financing. The finance committee will report back to the whole committee in a meeting on Dec. 22.

In the meantime, a survey of territory surrounding Slaton will be made to determine definitely how many dairy cows are now in this section, and from which the milk supply could be had for the milk plant.

1,000 Daily Gallons Needed
A minimum of 8,000 to 10,000 pounds, or about 1,000 gallons, of milk would be required for profitable daily operation of the cheese plant, it is believed.

Dairy leaders here are of the opinion that there are now more than enough cows in this section to furnish the required amount of milk, and they predict that an increase in the number of cows and in the volume of milk produced by the cows now kept will be seen immediately after a milk plant is established.

Milk routes would probably be planned when the creamery and cheese plant start operation, these routes serving a large territory around Slaton.

Local bankers have pledged their aid in helping the milk plant project succeed, either in aiding the farmers to secure better and more cows, or through other ways.

Sentiment among farmers and leaders here who are on the milk plant committee is to the effect that the milk plant project should be successfully completed within a short time, getting the plant in operation as early as possible in the new year.

They'll Come Here
East Texas Tells of Popularity of Area

SLATON, Dec. 20.—They all want to come, many are now coming, and others intend to come as soon as possible.

That is the way our East Texas, visiting in Slaton this week, described the attitude of the people of his section toward the South Plains country.

The visitor was a farmer, prominent in his native East Texas county, and while here decided definitely to move here before Feb. 1, 1929, he said.

The man declared the Slaton country was the best he had seen anywhere.

USEFUL CLOCK
Alarm clocks can save the housewife much worry if she will use it for such things as timing a cake, catching a train, taking medicine, or tending the furnace.

He made it! From the Pacific to the Atlantic, over treacherous mountains and broad plains, flew Richard E. James, who's only 17 and still in high school at Flushing, Long Island. The youthful pilot is pictured here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest E. James, at Curtiss Field, New York. Richard wins the $1,000 prize offered by the American Society for the Promotion of Aviation for the first boy under 18 completing a transcontinental solo flight.

Texas Officials Confer Soon On Toll Bridge Plans

Attorney General Pollard And Assistant Tilley Go To Dallas To Meet Sooner Officials on Project

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Dec. 20.—Attorney General Claude Pollard, Assistant Attorney General R. M. Tilley, and State Bridge Engineer G. O. Wickline left here tonight for Dallas to confer with Oklahoma, legal and highway representatives on a proposal to either buy the private toll bridges spanning the Red river boundary, or to build new public bridges.

The hearing is to start Friday as the result of changed plans, which at first had the hearing tentatively set for opening today. Mr. Pollard was too busy to get away until tonight.

Recent hearings on operations of four bridges produced evidence satisfying the Texas representatives that the private bridges are making "enormous profits."

To Pay Damages Denver Settles For Broken Watch

HOUSTON, Dec. 20.—The Fort Worth and Denver railroad is going to pay for the repairs on a watch smashed by the head of the owner of the timepiece on one of the company's trains.

When a Fort Worth and Denver collided with a freight near Dalhart this month the impact sent the head of N. D. Heston, of Houston, asleep in a Pullman, against the end of the compartment with such force that his watch, which he had placed under the pillow, was reduced to a shell of its former self.

Heston, deputy United States marshal and a law student, wondered if the railroad were liable and a Houston newspaper published the fact that he wondered.

A few days later Heston received a letter from J. A. Jones, general claim agent for the railroad. "We will waive the question of whether the company is liable—send us a bill for the repairs to the watch," said Mr. Jones.

"The King passed a restless night. . . ." As physicians' bulletins from the bedside of King George of England became increasingly pessimistic, crowds of anxious subjects about the gates of Buckingham Palace grew in size.
