Mother Blamed By Young Child For Tragic Slaying Which Took Three Lives

Mysterious Murders Are Baffling Police; Battered Bodies Of Family Discovered

(By The Associated Press)

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Oct 12.—A triple killing—a mother, her daughter and a grandmother—baffled authorities tonight.

The victims were Mrs. Nellie Tressler, 28, her daughter, Sadie, 11, and her mother, Mrs. Amanda Harden 62. Mrs. Tressler and Mrs. Harden were killed outright. The girl died several hours after being found in the Tressler home.

Mrs. Tressler's son, Billy, 9, is in a hospital suffering from a fractured skull.

Coroner Samuel A. Baltz said the women were slain with a hatchet. The death instrument was found in the Tressler home. He has not determined how the children were attacked.

Mrs. Tressler's body, nude save for under garments, was found in the rear yard of her home by a neighbor boy, Orlando Molinero, 10.

Police battered down a door and found Mrs. Harden dead in bed with Billy, deep gashes in his head, beside her. Sadie was on the living room floor. She apparently had been struck down as she fled from the killer.

Reviving in the hospital, Billy told police:

"My mama did it. She hit Sadie first and then me. She hit us with a piece of iron."

Hospital attaches, however, said the boy is not normal and police are convinced the crime was done by an outsider.

Chief Executive Is Principal Speaker Before American Bar Association At Record Gathering Wednesday

Courts Are Lauded

Says Seductive And Disastrous Theories Of Government Are Being Offered; Defense Of Liberty Is Urged

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 — President Hoover told the American Bar association tonight that "seductive but unworkable and disastrous" theories of government are now being offered to the nation, and that the legal fraternity should "defend our system of government against reckless assaults of designing persons."

The chief executive spoke in Constitution hall before a record gathering of American attorneys, their ranks augmented by members of the supreme court and by distinguished legal leaders from other nations. He was introduced by Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, who extended to him that greeting of "our personal confidence in his ability and purpose," which he recalled had been given by the same organization to President Wilson in 1914.

President Is Burdened

President Hoover, the chief justice said, is "burdened with responsibilities not less" than those of the war president.

"It is your task," said Mr. Hoover to the lawyers, "to prove again what none knows better than you, that the very citadel of the rights of the poor against the oppression of rulers and against the extortions of the rapacious is the judicial system of the country, and that the impregnable apex of that system is the supreme court of the United States."

He said it could be "a dangerous thing" if explanation was not given the people as to how often in history "the people's" interests have been betrayed by false prophets of a millennium promised through seductive but unworkable theories of government."

Menace Is Doubled

"Old Aunt Lizzie" Is Happy In Tiny Room Of County Home And She Sits And Philosophizes To Anyone Who Will Listen; Subject Immaterial

By EVELYN BABB
Avalanche Staff Writer

CLAD in a neatly figured grey cotton dress of new material and ancient fashion, "Aunt Lizzie", 87 year old spinster, sits by the window of her colorful sunlit room at the Lubbock County Home For Old People and philosophizes to anyone who will listen. The subject is immaterial.

"Aunt Lizzie" came to the home when it was first opened, June 1. She is a descendant of an early governor of North Carolina. She remembers the Civil war. She says it was fought in her back yard, taking both her parents and leaving her, a mere child, to shift around for herself.

Shifts Many Places

She did a great deal of shifting, living first with one family; then with another; living first in one state then somewhere else. The brightest spot in her life, prior to her entrance into the home, was the 10 or 15 years she lived on an Indian reservation in Oklahoma.

"Every Indian in that state has heard of 'Old Aunt Lizzie'," she proudly remarks. She came to West Texas in 1887 and has lived here ever since expect for the period spent with the Indians.

"I love my room and they tell me it's my very own," boasts "Aunt Lizzie" to every visitor. "It is the only real home I have ever known."

All Rooms Alike

All of the 21 rooms at the home are alike; all being large and very well ventilated by an eastern exposure. Each room has pale green walls and is attractively furnished with a comfortable bed, a writing desk, a chair, and a closet for clothing.

"Aunt Lizzie's" room materially no different from the others, is individual with the happiness which her personality lends. The pleasant old lady sits in the sunlight and listens to the birds singing in a nearby park. She declares that the mocking birds render a song especially for her each day. She is happy even when rain cheats her out of her coveted sunshine, because she loves the music and rhythm of a deluge.

The home opened with only seven old people, two of whom have died, leaving three men and two women to enjoy the comforts afforded by the county. Several applications are now in and it is expected, according to Mrs. W. S. McDonald, the matron, that within a short time the home will have several more occupants. It is equipped td care for twenty-four.

Good Meals Served

Three square meals, of the pioneer variety, are served each day. Mrs. McDonald cooks hot biscuits for breakfast each morning which she serves with ham or bacon, eggs, cereal, coffee, or milk. A dinner

"I'm Not Worrying---We'll Get This Thing Reversed," States Prisoner; Newspapers Blamed

Jury Assesses Defendant "Life" Term Early Wednesday And Sensational Case Ends; Declares Newspapers Prejudiced And He Was Given Nothing While Court Got A "Break"

By GORDON WEBB
Avalanche Staff Writer

HUGH WALKER is "not worrying" about a 99-year sentence a 99th district court jury yesterday decreed he must serve for his alleged part in Frank V. (Leather Hat) Brown's murder at Woodrow, May 30.

The sparely-built, black-haired man, whom a prosecutor Tuesday had charged was "the chief lieutenant of banditry" at 5 o'clock Wednesday told the Morning Avalanche he anticipated winning ultimate freedom in the case.

At 11:25 o'clock Wednesday morning Judge Clark M. Mullican read the jury's verdict while Walker and his wife sat unmoved. Walter F. Schenck, defense attorney, said the case would be appealed.

Confidence Is Voiced

Slanting sun rays at 5 o'clock in the afternoon dimly lighted the third floor of Lubbock county jail. Down a dusk-filled corridor Jailer Ed Green led the way to the southeast "tank" in which Walker and 12 other men were held. "Feeding" time had passed and the inmates were as relaxed as caged men can be.

Through the "talk" slits of the cell wall, beneath one inch-thick bullet-proof glass, Walker voiced his confidence of eventual acquittal and his charge of prejudice on the part of Lubbock newspapers and Lubbock county residents. A request to interview Walker under other circumstances had been denied.

Is Not Worrying

"I'm not worrying a bit," Walker shouted through the slits. "We'll get this thing reversed and try it where there's no prejudice. I can't get a fair trial in Lubbock county—there's too much prejudice."

Referring to the court and to the jury which tried him, Walker, a half-brother of Whitey Walker, notorious hoodlum, now serving an Oklahoma prison sentence, declared:

"I think they are worse than a bunch of hijackers. I'm no more guilty than those jurors.

Papers Are Prejudiced

"The case will have to be taken out of the bounds of these Lubbock newspapers," he said in speaking of the Morning Avalanche and Daily Journal. "These papers have been prejudiced against me; they gave the court the break and never gave me anything."

Despite the heavy green glass it was possible to determine Walker was wearing pajamas and a dressing gown. His black hair was neatly combed and he was smoking a cigaret. Walker's face is deeply creased, and veins of his forehead bulge slightly.

"I wouldn't have taken five minutes, and I'll not take ninety-nine years unless I have to," he said.

What about G. A. Ross's threat to kill Walker when they both meet. Ross was the state's chief witness and threatened the defendant's life from the witness chair.

Texas Cotton Crop Declines 29,000 Bales

Corn Crop Prospect Improved About 2,853,000 Bushels By October Report; Livestock In Good Condition

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 12.—Texas' likely cotton production for this year declined 29,000 bales and the corn crop prospect improved about 2,835,000 bushels during the past month, the October 1 report of the federal-state crop reporting service stated today. Rice declined, grain sorghums held their own and tame hay and peanuts showed some gains, the report said. Rains during September were mostly unfavorable to current crops, but will furnish a needed moisture for fall grains, particularly in the northwest, it stated. All classes of livestock should go into winter in good condition, the report said.

"A cotton crop of 4,063,000 bales (500 pounds gross weight) is forecast for Texas from data furnished by crop correspondents, said the report. "The condition on October 1 was reported at 59 per cent of normal compared with 69 per cent

Torn Bits Of Flesh Are Discovered For Evidence That Hero Died In Blast

Wife Faints As She Hears Explosion; Feared For Mate

(By The Associated Press)

SAPULPA, Okla., Oct. 12—Blown to bits by the explosion of approximately 600 quarts of nitroglycerin, the body of Oscar Bond, 45, owner of the Bond Torpedo company, lay scattered over a barren hillside that this morning was the location of his company magazine six miles west of Sapulpa.

Only torn bits of flesh and clothing were found as evidence that Bond, hero of an attempted newspaper bombing here 17 years ago, was caught in the blast that swept away the explosive warehouse.

Trees Are Snapped

Trees 12 inches thick were snapped, Bond's automobile was scattered piecemeal for half a mile, and shrubbery over an area of three acres was leveled by the explosion.

A mile away two men were thrown from their wagon. Plate glass windows in Sapulpa were shattered, and all windows in the Sapulpa country club, a quarter of a mile distant, were broken.

Wife Collapses

Mrs. Bond, his only survivor, collapsed at their home when she heard the blast, convinced her husband had been killed. He had just had time to reach the magazine.

His death recalled that in 1915, when vandals threatened to destroy the plant of the Sapulpa Herald because of scathing editorials attacking civic conditions, Bond entered the darkened building and carefully carried out a 35-foot length of rubber hose which had been filled with nitroglycerine and wrapped around the printing press. A faulty fuse and cap prevented its explosion while hundreds of persons were gathering in the street nearby.

Two Men Are Charged With Theft Of A Bale Of Cotton

W. M. Hubbard and Lee J. Graves were charged in county court Wednesday with theft of a bale of cotton from T. Teal, a farmer living four miles north of Lubbock. The suspects were arrested Tuesday by a deputy sheriff.

Officers said the bale of cotton stolen from Teal was ginned and sold at Woodrow.

Snow Brown was charged with theft of $5 in county court yesterday.

Lewis Wesley, 27-year-old negro porter of 1709 Avenue A, was charged with assault and battery in county court Wednesday morning. The complaint charged Wesley with striking Lester Stanley, a child.

Between 300 And 400 Pickers Are Needed By Local Farmers

Four farmers who applied jointly at the Salvation Army's bureau for cotton pickers and farmers here said they needed 300 to 400 pickers. G. A. Dickerson, supervisor of the welfare agency's bureau, said late Wednesday that the four farmers had obtained only a small portion of the number of pickers needed.

Mr. Dickerson repeated that the Salvation Army needs names of families willing to go to farms to pick cotton and to remain on the farms until that harvesting is finished. Seventeen farmers want families on those terms, he said.

Forty-three persons, including four families, were sent to the fields from the Army headquarters Wednesday. Housework was obtained by five women through the agency Wednesday. A total of 251 persons have obtained cotton-pulling work through the Army here, Mr. Dickerson said.

Civil Docket To Be Called In 99th Court On Thursday

Calling of the civil docket in 99th district court will begin this morning, Charles B. Metcalfe, district clerk, said yesterday.

Judge Clark Mullican has instructed the petit jury to report at 9 o'clock. It is hoped that the civil docket can be taken care of during the rest of the term.

The grand jury is to report Monday morning, after a recess.

Garbo Vows She'll Never Marry For She Could Not Bear To Have A Mate Known To The World As 'Mr. Garbo'

NEW YORK, Oct. 12—Greta Garbo, writing in this week's Liberty, says she will not marry because she could not bear to have her husband known as "Mr. Garbo."

GRETA GARBO

Referring to the tendency of the film colony to call the non-acting husbands of movie stars "so - and - so's husband," Miss Garbo says "I should hate to have my husband lose his identity to that extent."

"Rather than that," she added, "I should want to retire from the screen altogether. I should want to forget that I had ever been Greta Garbo."

In an explanation of her retirement from Hollywood social life, Miss Garbo writes that when her director, Mauritz Stiller, died she was "like a ship without a rudder."

"I was bewildered—lost—and very lonely," she adds, "I refused absolutely to talk to reporters because I didn't know what to say. By degrees I dropped out of the social whirl of Hollywood.

"I retired into my shell. I built a wall of repression around my real self and I lived—and still live—behind it.

"I needed receration, I liked to be out of doors; to trudge about in a boy's coat and boy's shoes. Most hostesses disapprove of this trousered attitude to life, so I do not

(Special To The Avalanche)

TAHOKA, Oct. 12.—Bill Tidwell, 63, a purported survivor of Indian territory's infamous Henry Starr band, was sentenced to 20 years in the state penitentiary by a 106th district jury here this afternoon after pleading guilty of robbery with firearms of the First National bank of O'Donnell of about $1,200 last April 14.

Four state witnesses were used. They were J. Annual Commemoration Of The Anniversary Of "Virden Mine Massacre" Of 1898 Is Turned Into A Rout

(By The Associated Press)

TAYLORVILLE, Oct. 12.—The annual commemoration of the anniversary of the "Virden mine massacre" of 1898 was turned into a rout today by national guard troops who arrested more than 1,200 striking miners and released most of them only after they promised to leave town.

Tear gas was used late in the day to disperse a parade of men and women from memorial exercises at the grave of one of the Virden victims but no injuries were reported. More than 20 men were killed in the Virden riot, which resulted from an attempt to organize the first mine union in the state.

Thousands of miners accompanied by their womenfolk and children and riding in automobiles and trucks, converged upon Taylorville this morning to participate in the exercises, an annual event in the coal mining region.

They found four national guard companies patrolling the streets and later in the day two more companies were brought hastily from Canton, 60 miles away.

Francis M. Wilson, Candidate For Governor's Office In Missouri, Dies At Apartment In Kansas City

(By The Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 12—Francis M. Wilson, 65, Democratic nominee for governor of Missouri, died unexpectedly at his apartment here today.

His successor as the party gubernatorial candidate will be named by the Democratic state committee, whose chairman, Rubey M. Hulen, announced the meeting would not be held before Saturday or Monday.

Numerous names had been put forward tonight, including that of former Senator James A. Reed, H. L. Terry, member of the committee, suggested Reed should be "drafted." It was doubtful, however, whether Reed, whose wife died today, would accept, if offered the nomination.

Wilson, who was the unsuccessful nominee for governor in 1928, was stricken with internal hemorrhages this morning.

Option Race Betting Is Held Violation Of Laws In Texas

AUSTIN, Oct. 12. (AP)—Wagering on horse races throughout the so-called option system is in violation of Texas' anti-betting laws, the court of criminal appeals ruled today in deciding a test case brought to determine that point.

The conviction of P. L. Coulter, fined $25 in Tarrant county for betting after he had purchased an option on a horse entered in a race at Arlington Downs, race plant between Dallas and Fort Worth, was affirmed by the appellate court.

A companion case against O. O. Franklin, who, acting as agent for the Texas Jockey club, sold the option to Coulter, was not decided. Franklin, convicted of making a book in connection with the Coulter transaction, was fined $200 and sentenced to thirty days in jail.

Homesickness May Write The Closing Chapter Of Amazing Odyssey; Family Of Adventurers Look To Native Land

GALVESTON, Oct. 12. (AP)—Homesickness, that wordless longing which has sent many a bold adventurer scuttering back to the native heath, promises to write the closing chapter of one of the most amazing Odysseys of modern times. The Zid family, now resting in Galveston after four years of almost unbelievable adventure, hardship and suffering, yearns for the beer gardens of old Vienna. Four years of dangerous, hand-to-mouth existence is enough. They want to go back.

The round-the-world family consists of Ludwig Zid and his wife, Alosia, and their two sons, Kurt, 5 years old, and Wilhelm a toddler of two. The Zids are native of Austria. Kurt Schultz, a German who joined the party in South America, also has a strong hankering to go back home.

Perhaps the most amazing chapter in the story of the Zid family's is their 56 days voyage across the Atlantic in a home-made 25-foot boat. Another chapter might be devoted to their trip in another 25-foot boat from Belize, Honduras, to Havana, when terrific storms threatened time and again to crush their frail craft and send it to the botton. The tiny craft in which the family made the long trip across the gulf was propelled by a Ford automobile and a sail. The Ford car in which they had visited every South American country, was placed in the boat, the shaft being connected by an extension to the propeller.

The Zid family left Vienna in 1928. They traveled through Germany, to Corunna, Spain, where the first 25-foot boat was built by Zid and a friend who went part of the way with the globe-girdling family. Little Kurt was about a year old.

Leaving Spain in the craft, they touched at the Canary Islands then at the Cape Verde Islands, off the west coast of Africa, before starting the long, hazardous passage across the southern ocean. Fifty-six days after leaving the Cape Verde Island the "Fortuna," carrying a weary, wave-battered crew of adventurers, poked her nose into the harbor of Rio De Janeiro, on January, 1929.

The Zid family pushed into the interior of South America. In Rio Grande Do Sul in southern Brazil they met Kurt Schultz, and he joined them for the rest of their travels. They then visited every town and city of consequence in Brazil, Argentina, Chile, Bolivia, Peru, Ecuador, Colombia, Venezuela, Dutch Guiana, Panama and British Honduras.

Sometimes things went well, but at times there were heartbreaks. Food would become scarce, and weeks of rain, impassable jungle trails, bitter cold and scorching heat made progress slow and uncertain. At one time, the family lived weeks in the jungle with a tribe of savage Indians, eating native food and suffering many discomforts.

Little Wilhelm was born in British Honduras, shortly after the Zids and Schultz embarked in their second 25-foot vessel. Arriving in Key West after the most dangerous part of their long trip, the group started a tour of the United States. After visiting many states the party started for Mexico in their travel-worn car. At Laredo they were halted by immigration authorities because they did not have money enough to enter the southern republic. Discouraged they went to San Antonio, and then came to Galveston.

When they left Vienna, the Zids had a fairly large amount of money, but travel was costly so when they arrived in South America they were forced to make their way as best they could. They sold photographs and delivered lectures in schools and before organizations in order to earn enough for food and gasoline.

Now they are tired of it all. And with adventure becoming monotonous, they are eagerly looking forward to enjoying again the peace and security of their homeland.

Girl Who Saved Lives Of Four Will Study Medicine

MENARD, Oct. 12 (AP)—Miss Imogene Lovelace of Menard, who won a $1,600 scholarship from the Carnegie fund commission by saving the lives of four people when she was nine years old, has entered Baylor university to study medicine.

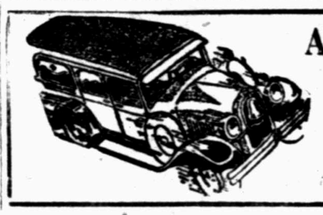

The girl saved four people from drowning when she was picnicking with her family on the San Saba river near Menard. Although she had learned to swim only two months before, rushed assistance to the four while they were struggling in the water.

She received medals from the Carnegie hero fund and the Ralston-Purina mission. The scholarship allowed her to select any university meeting with the approval of the committee.

Missionary Society Members Entertain For Other Women In Church

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

WHILE there are a lot of good people left in the world and many of these have been doing much to alleviate suffering among the unemployed and needy, there are still a few warped souls left who are so steeped in selfishness that they do not deserve any of the good things of life.

One of these made a contribution to charity last week when the Salvation Army made a drive and that contribution consisted of a worn out bathing suit and one man's shoe.

There are good people left in the world but there are many who deserve nothing—if their actions are to be used as a measure.

While many are attempting to help those less fortunate than themselves, there are others who are too selfish to share any of the things they have gained. And when they do, people of this type are apt to brag the most. They have the most to say of their support of churches when possibly they have dropped a few dollars in the plate in the course of the year or magnanimously written out a check for $5 once in a lifetime. They tell of their charity enterprises when they have given something for which they have no use and something that the other people cannot use either.

The Salvation Army and other charitable organizations here are having hundreds of calls for old shoes, old coats, old garments of every kind, as well as for meals. They have no use for old worn out bathing suits, although there is a possibility that the one shoe might some day fit a man with a wooden leg. If we are to make the gesture of helping we should give something useful and not something that will simply clutter up their crowded quarters.

NO ICE CREAM SUPPERS

SINCE this is a day for airing pet peeves, there is another that I have. It concerns the old Estacado colony, established by a group of Quakers some fifty years ago over in the corners of Lubbock and Crosby counties.

I suppose there is no colony about which more untruths have been written by amateur penmen to whom accuracy means nothing. Members of that colony who reside here now have been hounded by interviewers from the high school from Tech and from other sources for years. In the past they have talked freely of their experiences but they are now almost ready to refuse to see anyone else simply because of the stories that have gone out.

And, to them, the greatest inaccuracy of all has reappeared in a recent story. The writer, like so many before, states that "cowboys often attended their ice cream suppers!" This same thing appeared once before when a woman sent a story to one of the state's large dailies, stating that the "Indians did not molest the early settlers but did attend their ice cream suppers!"

"Why", these old timers want to know, "these repeated references to ice cream suppers?"

Any person with a logical mind, it seems to them, would know better than to write of ice cream suppers for a group of colonists out on the Llano Estacado fifty years ago. For it is not possible to gather ice out of the clouds that drift aimlessly about a summer sky.

When those Quakers came west and settled here there were no other settlements near. They freighted their supplies, by wagon and team, from Kansas City, Fort Worth and other remote points. The method was exceedingly slow as horses cannot haul a heavily laden wagon very many miles in a day. Had these pioneers been foolish enough to load their trains with ice—provided there were factories at these points from which they came—their cargo would have melted weeks before they reached their little wind-swept settlement.

There were no ice cream suppers for those pioneers or for the hundreds of others who came West in the latter part of the Eighteenth Century. Moreover, there were no Indians living on this tableland when the white man began digging his wells and dugouts. The Red men followed the rivers and streams.

Discussion Is On Painters Of Mode

F. A. Kleinschmidt talked on "Painters of the Mode" Tuesday evening at Texas Technological college. The lecture was illustrated with slides. Mr. Kleinschmidt is head of the department of architectural engineering. The talk was made before a regular meeting of the Lubbock Art association of which Mrs. Roscoe Wilson is president.

Forty-three slides, showing masterpieces of the greatest painters from the time of Michael Angelo to the 20th century, were presented. Professor Kleinschmidt pointed out how the elaborate mode of dress, in each period, was a part of the actual evolution in the whims and fashions of women since the Renaissance period.

"Tendencies of the 19th Century" is the subject of the next lecture to be given Tuesday, November 8. The club plans to follow this with a study of contemporary art.

Burglar Shoots Woman And Stuns Husband In Robbery

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 12 (AP)—An armed intruder who demanded money shot Mrs. Hazel Dillehay, three times during a terrific struggle early Wednesday, and stunned her husband, Guy Dillehay.

One of the most extensive manhunts ever staged here resulted just before dawn in the capture of a suspect, who has been positively identified.

Mrs. Dillehay probably will recover from her wounds. One shot pierced her shoulder, another struck her right arm and the third made a furrowing wound across her chest. The intruder jabbed the pistol against Dillehay's side and pulled the trigger repeatedly, but the gun failed to fire. Dillehay, a world war veteran, who had been ill recently, fought with the intruder while the shots were fired, and was stunned by blows struck with the pistol, before the burglar escaped through a window.

The 1932 crop from the seal herd of the Priblof islands totaled 49,334 skins.

Do All Coffees Taste the Same to You? (Here's One That's Really Different)

A Rare And Richer Coffee Flavor From Tiny Mountain-Top Plantations Along The West Coast of Central America

Coffees Which Experts Concede Are Not Duplicated Anywhere Else In The World

Washing Coffee in Central America—In preparing these coffees for Folger the outer pulp is removed by washing the berries twice, in water from clear mountain streams. Only the finest coffees are double-washed this way.

YOU'LL never complain that all coffees taste alike again—once you try this amazingly different kind. For a real taste adventure awaits you.

It's not merely another "brand" or "blend." But the flavor of rare coffees from a different producing region.

They are grown chiefly in tiny, isolated districts along the steep West Coast of CENTRAL America. A region that's famed for coffees which experts concede are not duplicated anywhere else in the world.

They differ from ordinary coffees largely because they are mountain-grown. Because they're produced high up in an odd type of volcanic soil where altitude and steaming tropical rainfall impart a richness and winey tang that nature has never bestowed on any other coffee.

Mountain-Fresh

These are the coffees that give such a distinctive flavor to Folger's—first served only in the famous Bohemian restaurants of San Francisco and exclusive clubs. But now brought to you with all the original mountain-freshness faithfully preserved in key-opening, vacuum tins. In order that you may try it without risk or delay, we make the following unique suggestion.

3 Days At Our Risk

Just go to your grocer and get a pound of Folger's today. Drink it tomorrow morning.

The following morning serve the coffee you previously used. The third morning serve Folger's again. Then choose between them.

If, for any reason, you decide against Folger's, your grocer will refund your money. We'll pay him. That's fair, isn't it?

NOTE: Folger's is particularly economical. Because of greater richness and body, you may use 1-5th less! Get a can today! © F. C. C., 1932

Freshmen Direct Arizona Plays At Matadors In Drill

Morrison Says Mustangs Will Use Air Route To Thwart Syracuse Team

Tech Teams To Play 3 Games Before Sunday

Wildcats Arrive Here Friday Morning As One Tech Squad Starts For Las Vegas And Another To Albuquerque

Coach Gus Farwick and his University of Arizona Wildcats are due to put in their more or less formidable appearance here tomorrow morning. They will tangle with the Texas Tech Matadors tomorrow night in the first conference game ever played by a Tech team.

Pete Cawthon sent a new combination of Matadors against a tough freshman crew armed with University of Arizona offensives yesterday afternoon as part of the preparations for the encounter with the Wildcats tomorrow.

One Team To Las Vegas

A change was necessitated because one varsity team must leave early Friday for Las Vegas, N. M., where they meet the New Mexico Normal football team Saturday afternoon, and because some of the first stringers are ineligible to play in the conference game.

Three regular backfield men will be out of the way for the Arizona game, and five starting or "shock troops" linemen will not be eligible to play.

What he termed his "first team" took the field against the freshmen yesterday, lining up as follows:

Moffett At Quarter

Milton Moffett, quarterback, shifted from a halfback position; Lefty Sollis, left halfback; D. M. McElroy, right halfback and Harold Crites, fullback. Crites is the only "regular" among the lot, although the others have seen service against good teams.

Yancy Price, injured in the A. and M. game at Amarillo, was back at the right end position yesterday. Matt Hitchcock was on the left end. Captain Ayers and Toby Greer were running at guards, with Elva Baker and Truett Owen at tackles. Lester Tribble, regular center last season, was back at the post yesterday.

So far as the line is concerned, the Matador mentors have little cause for worry, since that, for the most part, is the "regular" outfit. It is the backfield which worries Coaches Cawthon and Smith.

It is not so much the personnel of the backfield, but the fact that the lads have not worked together as a combination that makes the possibilities hazardous. With the exception of Crites, it is the backfield which has been running with the shock troops. Moffett, regular quarterback last season but who has been overtaken by Adrian Clark, a sophomore because of the latter's ability to punt, is the starting quarterback in the home game.

Clark will do the quarterbacking for the team which goes to Las Vegas. With him will be Ed McKeever, regular halfback, and Gwynn Dowell, the other regular halfback. Carlton Luper and Will Gilmore, starting ends; Ben Anthony, starting center and Woodrow Wilson, starting tackle, will also be away.

The road team leaves at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning for Las Vegas, driving through by automobile. Coaches Cawthon and Smith will leave early Saturday morning.

A third game is scheduled for Tech's football department this week. Coach Del Morgan takes his Picador freshmen to Albuquerque, going the varsity about a hundred miles better, to meet the University of New Mexico freshman team Saturday afternoon. The club will leave Friday.

They Meet Matadors In Conference Contest Here

Here are some more of the Arizona Wildcats who play Texas Tech here Friday night. Upper left is C. Sample, regular halfback who does the blocking and interference-running for the Wildcat ball carriers. As the picture shows, he's something of a passer, too. Mannen and Anglin are regular tackles, tipping the scales at 196 pounds each. O'Dowd is the regular center and Metz a regular guard. The Wildcats reach Lubbock about noon Friday.

Five Hundred Fans Accompany Frogs To Aggieland Saturday

FORT WORTH, Oct. 12 (AP)—Five hundred Texas Christian University students and supporters are expected to ride the two special trains of the Lions club to College Station Saturday for the Horned Frogs ever-important battle with the Texas Aggies.

The players will go to College Station in advance of the students, leaving Friday morning for Bryan, where they remain until noon Saturday. By departing Friday Coach Francis Schmidt will lead his Frogs into Bryan in time for a workout there in the afternoon. However, it will be only a light affair as they will conclude their hard drills Thursday afternoon.

The Frogs put in another serious afternoon of practice today working on their pass defense, own offense, punting and the A. & M. plays.

Red Oliver was still troubled from the bruised leg muscle sustained in the Arkansas game which may make it impossible to start him Saturday. In that case, Hubert Dennis, will be in Oliver's half position with Blanard Spearman at the other. Buster Brannon, quarterback, and Johnny Kitchen, fullback, will complete the backfield.

Texas Aggies Lose Lineman But Gain A Backfield Star

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 12. (AP)—The Texas Aggie football team lost another lineman but gained a backfield man today as it worked out for the Texas Christian university game here Saturday.

Jack Roach, sophomore center and principal substitute for Willis Nolan, regular pivot man, probably will be out for the rest of the season. He broke a small bone in his left leg during scrimmage yesterday.

J. C. Gregory, sophomore fullback, will become residentially eligible Saturday.

Aggie coaches paid particular attention today to development of other reserve centers as the varsity scrimmaged with the freshmen. They were Joe Love, John Kenderine and Basil Spain.

Lloyd Vieaus Wins 50-Mile Auto Race On Boston Track

BOSTON, Oct. 12. (AP)—Lloyd Vieaux, of Beverly Hills, Cal., won the 50-mile automobile race at the Readville track today, covering the course in 40 minutes and 9 seconds. Vieaux drove the last 10 miles suffering from facial cuts received when a stone thrown up by another car struck him.

Dock Mackenzie of Eddington, Pa., who led the field during most of the race only to lose a lap and a half because of a tire change finished second.

Longhorns Prime For Second Intersectional Tilt Of Year

AUSTIN, Oct. 12 (AP)—Primed and cocked and in the best condition, mentally and physically, of the season thus far, the University of Texas Longhorns started tapering off today for their second intersectional game of the year, with the Oklahoma University Sooners at Fair Park, Dallas, Saturday.

Warning against over-confidence after their overwhelming 65 to 0 defeat of Missouri last Saturday, Coach Clyde Littlefield informed his charges that the Sooners are dangerous foes, pointing out to them that Oklahoma vanquished a heavy and powerful Kansas eleven last week by the score of 21 to 6. He also stressed that the Longhorns would need be in their best form Saturday if they hoped to beat the light but flashy aggregation.

Razorbacks Look For Pass Offense From Baylor Bears

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 12. (AP)—Coach Fred Thomsen stressed pass defense today as he sent the University of Arkansas football team through its last full-time practice session before leaving for Little Rock and the game Saturday with Baylor.

Thomsen announced the following starting lineup: ends, Nations and Rucker; tackles, Captain Erwin and Benton; guards, Martin and Edmondson; center, Sherland; quarterback, Murphy; halfbacks, Laforge and Geiser, and fullback, Fiddle. Biddle and Laforge who have been consistent ground gainers for the Razorbacks this season, starred on the Little Rock high school team several years ago.

Several hundred students and the Porker band will go to the state capital on a special train Saturday morning.

Praying Colonels Beaten By Boston

NEWTON, Mass., Oct. 12. (AP)—A bungling Boston football team, fought to a standstill by the light Praying Colonels from Centre college, today managed to eke out a 6-0 victory after Quarterback Johnny Freitas ran back a late punt 65 yards for a touchdown.

The Eagles appeared headed for a score at least six times during the game, which was rained on in the third period. Freitas put on his sensational broken field run after the hard-fighting Colonels had checked the last Boston drive inside their 10-yard line.

Late in the third period, the tired Centre forwards threw back four Boston line plunges and recovered the ball on downs on their eight yard mark. Vivian Nemecek, who kicked Centre out of several tight holes, booted from behind his own goal line to pave the way for Freitas' scoring dash. Chesnulevich's placement try for the extra point was blocked.

Sooners Resolve Not To Play Post-Season Scrap

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 12. (AP)—A resolution opposing any postseason football games for the University of Oklahoma was adopted late today at a meeting of the university athletic council.

Last year, the team played postseason games with two teams in Honolulu, H. I.; the University of Tulsa, and Oklahoma City University. Efforts have been made this season to schedule a game with Southern Methodist University of Dallas to be played at Norman, Dec. 10, but no final agreement has been reached.

'No More Land Tactics' Says Mustang Coach

S. M. U. Off To New York For A Go At Syracuse University On Saturday; Aerial Circus To Be Renewed

BY BILL PARKER.
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Oct. 12.—The big top is to go up again, and the celebrated Southern Methodist University aerial circus of 1923 through 1930 is to reappear as one of football's grandest spectacles.

Before embarking today for Syracuse, where his Southern Methodist University Mustangs play Syracuse Saturday, Coach Ray Morrison announced he would definitely return to aerial football and leave power plays and all ground football formations to his rivals.

The Mustangs rode on a crest of fame for several years by virtue of their "aerial circus" that packed in the fans, struck terror to opponents and won victories whenever and wherever they played. Last season and so far this season, Morrison switched his tactics and labored to install power plays with a slight mixture of forward passes. The last touchdown scored by the Mustangs was November 21, 1931, against the Naval academy. They haven't scored a touchdown in their last five games.

No More Land Tactics

Morrison blames it all on land tactics and the lack of a brilliant passing defense. With his face lined with worry, and his jaws firmly set, Morrison stepped aboard a train today with this statement:

"I am going back to my 'aerial circus.' I mean by that, my team in all future games will fill the air with footballs, and we are going to catch a few of them for touchdowns. After a thorough tryout, I am convinced no coach can excel with power plays and a mixture of passing when he has limited material as I have. I think such a mixture results in poor offensive blocking. At least it has on my team.

Won Plenty In Air

"We won plenty of games through the air. It is sensational football, but it got us victories and a few conference championships. It is my game, the game for my boys, and we are going back to it, and we will start scoring touchdowns, and we will win a few football games.

"In Whitey Baccus, a sophomore back, I have the best passer since Logan Stollenwreck was my quarterback in the year of 1923 and later. Baccus knows how to pass, he knows how to wait for an opening, and he knows deception which a passer must have to be any good. I am lucky to have Baccus on my team as I prepare to switch from power plays back to my aerial game.

"But Look Out Now!"

"My team has been severely criticized for failing to score touchdowns, for poor offensive blocking. From here on out, this will be remedied, for the Southern Methodist aerial circus is to roam the gridiron again, and instead of nine power plays and two passes, fans are going to see ten passes and one ground play."

The following players made the Syracuse trip:

Mills, Fuqua, Hawn, Carter and Zachary, ends; Bray, Burleson, Smith and Ross, tackles; Jackson, Riley, Lairmore, Martin and Laughlin, guards; McLeod, Bradford and Delcambre, centers; Baccus, Baxter, Travis, Walker, Hearon, Oliver, McNutt, Sprague and Jordan, backs.

Dear Old Swarthmore Takes It Easy

President Of Swarthmore College Says They Won't Meet Penn Or Any Other Strong Team; "To Play In Our Own Class"

SWARTHMORE, Pa., Oct. 12 (AP)—Swarthmore college football team will not meet the University of Pennsylvania on the gridiron next year, or "any other large colleges."

"We will stay within our class," said Dr. Frank Aydelotte, president of Swarthmore college, today as he also barred Princeton, Columbia and Army football teams.

He asserted that Swarthmore, instead of meeting major elevents, would point, its football teams for games with such colleges as Amherst, Hamilton and Union.

Dr. Aydelotte said Swarthmore and Pennsylvania decided "with the utmost friendliness" to end their gridiron series, which had continued with certain breaks for 54 years.

Terming football "a manly sport," the Swarthmore president said he had no opposition to football when played on an "even, competitive basis."

Dr. Aydelotte's decision followed Swarthmore's 54-0 defeat by Penn last Saturday.

Major Sasse Will Give Up Army Coaching Job In Spring

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 12 (AP)—Major Ralph Irvine Sasse, head coach of Army football since 1930, will return to active duty next year and will be replaced at West Point by Lieutenant Garrison H. ("Gar") Davidson, it was announced today by Major Phill B. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics.

Major Sasse's four year detail at the military academy will end in June and the change is one of routine order in the army.

Frank York Quits As Prexy Of Brooklyn Baseball Club

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—Frank B. York has resigned as president of the Brooklyn National League club and been succeeded by Stephen W. McKeever, for many years the club treasurer.

Jimmy De Forest, Colorful Trainer Of Boxers, Dies In New Jersey Home

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Oct. 12 (AP)—Jimmy De Forest, almost forgotten by a sporting world in which he was once a colorful figure, died at his home here yesterday, broken in health and dispirited.

Jimmy DeForest

From the early '80's until about six years ago he moved in the bright lights of the ring, confidant, trainer and friend of nearly all the great champions from John L. Sullivan to Jack Dempsey. President Theodore Roosevelt was attracted by his ability as a physical trainer.

His last few years were spent almost alone in his big house. His wife died two years ago and with her passing, his friends say, went his own desire to live. It was almost 12 hours after his death before it became generally known.

De Forest was born into the circus at a date he himself was never sure of or, if he was, unwilling to divulge. Many friends believed his actual age was somewhere over 70.

Meagher Warns Owls Against Strong Loyola Team Saturday

HOUSTON, Oct. 12 (AP) — Coach Jack Meagher put his Rice Institute football squad through the daily grind today in prepartion for Saturday's game here with Loyola of New Orleans.

Meagher has been warning the team, which is favored generally to win without much difficulty, that Loyola may be harder to stop than advance reports indicate.

Kelly Scott, one of his best backs, who has started every game this season, probably will be out Saturday. An injured left knee has not responded to treatment as rapidly as expected. Lee Hammett or Pat Wallace probably will start in Scott's place.

Westerners In Better Spirit For Eagle Go

Urge For Revenge May Cause Lubbock High Gridders To Put Up Great Stand Here Saturday With Abilene

Another hard drill left the Lubbock Westerners in a more pleasing light yesterday as the team prepared further for the invasion Saturday by the Abilene High school Eagles.

It was the Eagles who brought an end to Lubbock's pennant march last winter by defeating the Westerners in a state quarter-final game on the home field. It was a defeat that was hard to digest, particularly so after a hard season in their own district. Forced to play four games within a ten-day period previous to the Abilene game, the Westerners were stunned by the sudden shock of defeat.

New Outfit Now

It's a new Westerner outfit, to be sure, but yesterday afternoon's workout revealed that some of the old pep and fight from last year's team had spread over the present layout. There was more enthusiasm yesterday, more zest and regard for the serious things of football life.

A glimmer of hope pierced the dark clouds yesterday when it appeared that Chester McCarty, regular center, would be ready to play Saturday night. He was taken out of the Sweetwater game last Saturday night with an injured ankle. At first it was thought the big center, a first line reserve last season, would be out for at least a couple of weeks, but he was getting in some light work yesterday and appeared ready and eager for tougher exercise.

Coach Mayhew and his men, who lost to Sweetwater in their opening game but who returned to form last week to defeat a strong team from San Angelo, will arrive here Saturday morning. The game is set for 7:30 o'clock Saturday night.

Appearing with the Abilene footballers will be Glenn Wyatt, all-state quarterback last year, who scampered to and fro on the Tech gridiron last December with amazing speed and suppleness. His coming means that two of the Oil Belt's leading touchdown makers will have appeared before a local public on successive week-ends.

No Time For Theorizing

IN another column on this page this morning appears an appeal to South Plains citizens to vote the Socialist ticket in the coming national elections. Granting the personal intelligence and magnetic appeal of Norman Thomas, the Socialist candidate, The Morning Avalanche never-the-less cannot condone the impracticable theories of the Socialist party or of its leader.

In the letter on today's page, the writer quotes the Nation and naturally, since his feelings are that way, puts the Socialist party's best foot forward in the discourse. But in one sentence, in which he quotes the Nation as quoting Mr. Thomas, he unconsciously prefers a stinging indictment against the Socialist party and its candidate—shows up Mr. Thomas' theory to a fare-thee-well.

"I pledge myself", the letter quotes Mr. Thomas as saying, "to follow the American custom of one hundred years and reduce our army and navy to a negligible factor."

And remember, that statement comes at a time when the world is beset by unrest; when a great part of the world's territory is staggering under civil warfare and other armed activities and when experts agree that the threat of another great war in the Orient endangers the peace of our entire sphere!

No lover of war, no jingoist, is The Morning Avalanche.

Instead, we prescribe to the theories of late, great Theodore Roosevelt, whose watchword was "speak softly, but carry a big stick."

We do not urge that our country go to the extreme in militarism but we do urge that adequate national defense be maintained, as a matter of protection to the nation and its people.

The great trouble with the Socialist party today—as it has always been—is that its tenets are beautiful in theory but totally impracticable in fact. It is not, and in its present state can never be compatible with human nature, despite the fact that one of its cornerstones is supposed to be entirely that.

This nation and this world today needs more than ever before in modern times government of the practicable type, government which really governs and which is based, as nearly as possible, upon what is called "plain, horse sense."

This is no time for theorizing, for pink tea and delicate shades of lavender and blue. It is a time for straight-forward, hard hitting thought and action such as the Socialist party has never been able to offer through its honey-coated, Utopian ideals.

Instead of urging South Plains people to dally with theory, we urge them to array themselves on the side of the party which has ever favored them and under the banner of Franklin D. Roosevelt, upon whose shoulders rests the gigantic task of America's rehabilitation!

SAYS SOUTH DAKOTA

What shall be done about the depression? "Dam it," says South Dakota. So a goodly part of the resources of the state are to be set to work making lakes. Wherever rains run down from South Dakota hillsides and rills form in the valleys and hollows, the escaping water is to be corralled for the benefit of drought-stricken farms, for the detention of transient wild fowls and the nurture of the state's fish hatchery output.

This solicitude about water is due to the fact that for the past three years rainfall has been much below normal and some districts have suffered severe droughts. Experiments are said to have proved that creation of new water surfaces and restoring lakes that have disappeared through evaporation and seepage are a favorable influence toward raising the underground water tables.

Moreover, South Dakota like other states, has its unemployment and welfare problems. It is estimated that, exclusive of the cost of the land, about 90 per cent of the entire cost of dam building benefits labor. So the state administration, the conservationists, the sportsmen and the welfare authorities all agree that making lakes is good business and money so spent will be for the general welfare.

A robot that was being exhibited the other day fired a gun in the general direction of its inventor. Just another temperamental actor.

Somehow there seems to be something wrong with the recent dispatch that announced ex-Kaiser Wilhelm was taking a short vacation at a Dutch coast resort.

The youth of today who is up against a stone wall gets the sympathy of an eminent educator, but ours goes out to dad who must foot the garage and hospital bills.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

Whoso loveth instruction loveth knowledge: but he that hateth reproof is brutish.—Proverbs 12:1.

Speak Of Possible Action

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 12 — The mid-western farm area is mighty close to outright revolt, not only according to agriculture's radical spokesmen, but according to some who are not so radical.

As I have mentioned previously, I asked Milo Reno of the Farmers' Union and apostle-in-chief of the Farmers' Holiday association, what the yeomanry will do if the November election does not result to their liking, and he amended my question thus:

"In plain terms, what will the farmers do if Hoover is re-elected?"

To this query he answered:

"Assuming that President Hoover is given another term in office, through the influence of the reactionary interests which he represents, the farmers almost certainly will speedily be driven to a policy of simply ignoring the national government. Probably they will be forced to the extreme of issuing their own script, as a medium for the exchange of commodities in the 'food states'.

"It will be a movement very difficult to distinguish from secession."

MANY FOLK consider Milo Reno an extremist and his forecast may be discounted by them in consequence.

Publisher Henry A. Wallace of "Wallace's Farmer & Iowa Homestead" does not so classify, however. He is, to be sure, a member of the newly-organized National Progressive League, of which Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska is chairman, but he is no Bolshevik. On the contrary, he is head of a large business enterprise, a rich man. He referred to Senator Smith W. Bookhart of Iowa as, "in effect, a Communist". His father, now dead, was secretary of agriculture under President Harding.

When I inquired of him how the farmers may be expected to behave in the event of an election outcome in conflict with its wishes, he called in an assistant, just back from a tour of the discontented region, and requested him to sum up the conclusions he had arrived at, on the strength of his observations.

"IF HOOVER is re-elected," responded this scout promptly, "and farm conditions do not improve immediately and very materially, there will be trouble, and plenty of it.

"If Roosevelt is elected, there will be a disposition to allow him time to deal with the situation.

"Unless he accomplishes something satisfactory by next fall, at the latest, then there will be trouble—and plenty of it."

"FOLK SPEAK," continued Publisher Wallace's investigator, "as if the picketing movement had achieved nothing.

"They forget that it has taught the farmer strong arm methods.

"Picketing was not a failure. It succeeded extremely well while it lasted. The farmers abandoned it reluctantly, upon the advice of their leaders, who had undertaken it partly as an experiment, partly for the sake of publicity, but who felt that it had attained its end for the time being and did not want it to get beyond their control, as it was threatening to do.

"It gained the desired advertising and it was a success as an experiment.

"It also served as military training for the farmers."

MILO RENO'S own account bears out that of Publisher Wallace's assistant.

"Far from having encouraged violence in connection with the holiday campaign," he told me, "my great difficulty has been to hold the holiday makers back."

And, indeed, it is no secret that when Leader Reno sought to suspend picketing, after giving it a fair trial and satisfying himself that it was susceptible to use as a farmidable weapon the rank and file of the pickets in many places defied him at first and remained in the field against his orders.

PUBLISHER WALLACE being perhaps the best-informed individual in the country upon all problems of agricultural economics, I asked him whether it is true that a farmer, supposing him to be free from debt, can make a living on his own land, despite the depression.

This issue is much disputed.

It is asserted by some that the farmer who held to his pre-war scale of living and borrowed no money during the boom, can make both ends meet even today.

"No," said Publisher Wallace, "at present prices of his products, while he can raise enough to eat, he can't pay taxes without impairing his principal. Naturally he will last longer than the man with urgent obligations, but his excess of expenditures over his receipts will wipe him out eventually—if it continues."

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOONS

AN INDIGENT AMERICAN TREASURY

Martin Van Buren had been president of the United States only a short time when a financial crash occurred which precipitated the greatest panic the country had hitherto experienced. On May 9, 1837, all the New York banks agreed to suspend payment, and all the banks of the country—with only a few exceptions—followed suit. This general and almost simultaneous suspension of special payment completely denuded the Treasury of funds. The Government funds in those days were distributed among the banks of 26 states. The President, who had to wait for payment of his salary, initiated steps which led to the separation of the Treasury from the banking institutions of the country and to the establishment of the Sub-Treasury as an agency for handling of Government funds.

The financial collapse followed a period of speculation and credit-expansion lasting from 1825 to 1835.

Bradner J. Moore Urges Support Of Socialist Candidates In Election

, Editor, The Avalanche: As the time for the Presidential election draws near and the people of this section are congratulating themselves on the encouraging signs of a Democratic victory, it might be well to stop and ask what such a victory promises in dealing with the basic issues that face the country. Does either the candidate or the Democratic platform promise any relief to the twelve million men and women out of work? What can the ten million bankrupt and destitute farmers of America hope to gain by a Democratic victory? How can a twenty-five billion dollar pay roll afford the purchasing power to move a seventy billion dollar supply of goods? What will Roosevelt and the Democrats do to help that situation? What will either party do to restrain the corrupting greed of the public service monopolies? Or, what do they promise in measures of protection against the evil of war, such as disarmament, reduced tariffs, canceled war debts and reparations?

Over against this lack of a constructive program on the part of party and candidate, consider seriously what Norman Thomas and the Socialist party are pledging themselves to do. Quoting from this week's Nation: "Here are some of the things that Norman Thomas would say and does say, but that neither a Republican nor a Democrat candidate can or will say: 'I pledge myself not to make a single appointment to office for political reasons or as a reward for activity on my behalf, and I pledge myself to put under the Civil Service rule every postmaster in this country, and every other office that I can possibly induce Congress to take out of my hands, believing that if I do so I will remove one of the greatest causes for inefficiency and the corruption of our political life. I pledge myself to follow the American custom of one hundred years and reduce our army and navy to a negligible factor, in so far as it lies in my power to do so. I pledge myself to strike at special privilege wherever I see it, and I will begin by laying my ax to the root of the power trust.'"

There are many more things that the Socialist party and its candidate promise looking towards the correction of what ails us, but the thing to remember is that they mean what they say when they promise to protect the interests of the masses, while the old line parties mean nothing of the sort, being the parties of special interests.

A vote for the Socialist party and its candidate is a vote for the America of social and economic justice for all regardless of race, color, or creed, and as such cannot be a vote thrown away.

Hill Expresses Alarm Over The School Problem

CANYON, Oct. 12. (AP)—Alarm over "shortened school terms, lowered salaries, and fewer and poorer teachers" was expressed by Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the Texas State Teachers' association, in a statement issued here.

"We are everywhere confronted by shortened terms, lowered salaries and fewer and poorer teachers. Is this just or right to the children who will determine our state's welfare tomorrow? Is the child who received his schooling in a prosperous decade to be given more and better opportunities than the one who must attend school in 1932-33? If this policy is followed, it is not smashing the economic, political and moral security of the future in an effort to remove the defacements of occasional waste and extravagance from the fenders of the social system?

"If the people of Texas allow their system of public education to be wrecked in the confusion of an economic crisis they will multiply their problems for the future. If, with patriotism and care they protect and perfect it, they can expect a better state and a more stable economic situation in the future. There is no help for us, save in better education of our people—the children of today."

"There is nothing needed in Texas more than dispassionate patrotic attack on the problems which confront us, "Dr. Hill concluded.

Druggist Gives New Formula To Stop Headaches

Realizing that no one drug can relieve all headaches, as they come from so many causes, a North Carolina pharmacist has developed a combination of several ingredients, so blended and proportioned as to relieve almost any headache in a few minutes. You can get this formula wherever drugs are sold under the name "B.C." 10c and 25c packages, and when you have one of those violent, nerve-racking headaches, from inorganic causes, "B.C." will give you soothing relief in three minutes. "B.C." should also be used for the relief of muscular aches and pains, common colds and neuralgia, reducing fever, and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. —(adv.)

Hawk Denies WTCC Is Fighting The Proposed Texas Centennial Affair

AMARILLO, Oct. 12 (AP)—Denial that the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is fighting the proposed Texas centennial celebration is contained in a statement issued here by Wilbur C. Hawk, chamber president, in answer to the charge of a down-state publication this organization's attitude was "unpatriotic.

"The position of our committee is not one in opposition to the centennial," Hawk said.

"But we believe it should be organized on a self-supporting and self-liquidating basis."

Hawk outlined a plan for utilizing the buildings and equipment of such institutions as the Waco Cotton Palace, the Dallas State Fair and the Fort Worth fat stock show, with Waco handling the cotton theme, Fort Worth the livestock department, and Dallas industry, commerce and agriculture. He suggested a setting with the Alamo as the background for the historical theme.

"These institutions and others coordinated under a central committee so that all the projects combined would tell the complete centennial story is, in the opinion of the committee, a more practicable way to stage the centennial. Under this plan we would use what we have instead of building something new; we would strengthen permanent state-wide institutions instead of building a temporary competing one.

"We are opposed to financing the celebration out of the state treasury when there is a better way of staging it. Taxpayers rightfully should oppose the amendment to the constitution, which would authorize the expenditure of state funds."

In view of increased public expenditure and decline of taxpayers' income, Hawk explained that "our public expenditures committee, charged with the responsibility of stopping and curtailing the growth of public expenditures," could not be consistent "without opposing a new and needless avenue for spending public money."

Walker Case

think he will while I'm up here," Walker replied. Then:

"Come up and see me again."

The red glow of the cigaret and the man in pajamas and dressing gown vanished into the tank.

At 11 o'clock yesterday morning the jury, which began deliberating at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, reported it had reached a decision, and it was not until about 11:25 o'clock that the defendant and Judge Mullican reached the court room.

At one time during the deliberations, District Attorney Durwood H. Bradley was informed, six of the jurors voted for the extreme penalty asked by Bradley and J. E. Vickers, special prosecutor, in arguments Tuesday.

Walker, evidently unmoved, looked at Judge Mullican as he read the jury's report that it had found Walker guilty of murder with malice and set his punishment at 99 years in the penitentiary. As the jury confirmed the verdict, in response to the court's customary query, Walker turned in his chair and looked at the 12 men in the box. The convicted man smiled and said something to Ben Kucera, a member of the defense staff.

Wife Also Unmoved

Mrs. Walker, displaying no emotion, continued to chew gum. Walker's gray-haired father sat beside him. About 100 persons were in the courtroom.

Two other men have been sentenced in the Brown slaying, which occurred at the T. B. Hilton home at Woodrow the night of May 30. Jess Covington of Lubbock was found guilty by a 99th district court jury of murder with malice and sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary. B. L. ("Barber John") Richardson of Lubbock pleaded guilty of murder before Judge Mullican and received from a jury a 20-year sentence. The jury, although not bound, returned a sentence on which the defense and the prosecution had agreed.

State Witness Charged

Ross, principal state's witness, was charged with armed robbery of C. C. Lindsey, local theater operator, in a complaint by Ernest Covington of Gladewater, brother of Jess Covington. The complaint was filed before conclusion of the Covington case.

The prosecution asked the death penalty in both the Covington and the Walker cases. District Attorney Durwood H. Bradley, Assistant District Attorney Burton S. Burks, and J. E. Vickers, employed by Brown's widow as a special prosecutor, were state counsel.

Greta Garbo

inflict it upon them. I was still a little nervous, a little self-conscious about my English, I feel awkward, shy, afraid."

In her discussion of marriage, Miss Garbo says the only good reason she can see for two persons marrying is that they can be together most of the time.

"That is impossible with me so long as I remain on the screen," she says. "The marriage contract which has to make the best of whatever is left over after the film contract has been fulfilled seems rather a makeshift affair. . . I am in deadly earnest when I say that a film star's career is a whole-time job."

"Can, Can, Can All You Can" was the slogan adopted by the Alabama home demonstration women and 4-H clubs for the 1932 canning season.

NEWS BRIEFS

Police did not learn the identity of a man driving a Chevrolet coupe, bearing California license plates, which collided with a Ford sedan driven by Marie Hall, 2313-A Main street, Tuesday at Thirteenth street and Avenue M, according to a police report. No one was hurt, police said.

Checks and personal items were reported stolen from New Home, in Lynn county by M. R. Alderson, who was here yesterday with Sheriff B. L. Parker of Tahoka. The checks were for $25.59 and $43.02. A Brunswick portable phonograph, a ladies' purse, a manicure set, a suitcase containing baby clothing and a hat were listed. Checks were on Edwards and Lockhart.

First meeting of an extension class in charcoal and figure drawing was conducted Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock in the studio of the architectural department in the engineering building at Texas Technological college. Prof. F. A. Kleinschmidt is instructor. J. F. McDonald, extension director, said. Fees are $10 for enrollment and $2 for laboratory.

Capa y Espada members will conduct their meeting of the year in room 320 of the Tech administration building tonight at 7:30 o'clock with Spain as the subject to be discussed. The organization, membership in which is confined to students who have had two years of Spanish in high school or one year in college, will meet each second and fourth Thursday night. Margaret Lindsey is president; Alice Muse Rogers, vice president; Jay Gordon, secretary; and Lucille McCrummen, reporter. Mrs. W. B. Gates and Miss Frances Whatley are sponsors.

Regular session of Lubbock city commission will be conducted this afternoon at the city hall. Routine matters will be discussed.

Every premium check and a check for every bill against the Panhandle-South Plains fair of 1932 was mailed Wednesday, it was said last night. Fair directors ordered 75 per cent of the premiums paid, reducing the amount because gate receipts and other revenue slumped when rain virtually washed out the annual exposition. More than 500 checks have been mailed.

Sheriff B. L. Parker of Lynn county took to Tahoka with him yesterday O. H. "Hi Ki" Gholston, 23, of Lubbock, as a material witness in the Bill Tidwell bank robbery case. Gholston had been picked up by officers here on the request of Lynn county officials.

W. D. Benson, former Lubbock attorney and now of Hobbs, N. M., said yesterday while here that he expected 10 to 15 more offset tests to be drilled near Hobbs. There are six active drilling operations there now. The town is now largely populated with oil company employes, others having left for new oil fields.

Next term of Crosby county district court will begin Monday, October 17, at Crosbyton, Durwood H. Bradley, district attorney, said yesterday. So far the criminal docket appears to be light. The grand jury also will meet.

Hoover Speaks

ments are today being offered to our harassed people by men of public reputation in economics and even by men in public life x x x.

"You have your duty in this area to expound the history of the painful past through rights and liberties have been won, to warn of repetitions of old and fatal experiments under new and glamorous names, to defend our system of government against reckless assaults of designing persons."

The president earlier had told his legal audience that American citizens now were more secure in their persons and liberties and in the possession of their properties than at any other time or in any other nation in the history of the world.

"I assert this," he said, "with full consciousness of many deficiencies of lawyers and of the law and its execution. In spite of these, the statement holds."

Later, Mr. Hoover called upon the bar members to "purge your profession of men unworthy of its trust."

Speaking briefly of crime problems, the president reiterated suggestions that an effort be made to make less complicated the criminal law, which, he said, has become "a complex and often tortuous thing." Court procedures likewise, he said, had become too unwieldly.

"One of the most disheartening difficulties of zealous officers of government," he said, "is the law's delays, during which evidence loses its value, witnesses die, and criminals are encouraged to believe that through its maze of technicalities justice can be neither swift nor sure. You have a duty to simplify these procedures, to shorten these processes, to make the administration of law a terror to evil doers by its promptness and certainty."

consisting of meat, three vegetables, cooked fruit, salad, and dessert is served for the other two meals.

All the old people have developed hearty appetites and, as "Aunt Lizzie" says, are "fat as little pigs." One of the male occupants says that the "cooking is a heap better" than any he has known elsewhere.

Religion Is Included

The local churches are furnishing the "old folks" with religious services. Each Sunday a sermon is preached at the home and about once a week a Sunday school class or a young peoples' organization gives a little program for the members. Mrs. McDonald says that the men and women look forward to these events with a great deal of anticipation. The next program, Sunday, is to be under the auspices of the Fundamentalist Baptist church.

Members of the home are not asked to do any work nor are they required to pay for their room and board. They are allowed, if physically able, to care for their own rooms, Mrs. McDonald explained. Applications for admission to the home are filed with County Judge E. L. Pitts. They are passed upon by the county board of commissioners. Upon entering the home members have to take the pauper's oath, disposing of any property they might own. They may bring their own wearing apparel although adequate clothing is furnished by the county.

Home Is Complete

The home is very complete with modern and adequate appliances. Mr. and Mrs. McDonald and their daughter are doing all the work at the present time. Mrs. McDonald has been a local club woman and social service worker ever since she moved here in 1926.

By next spring the county hopes to have the surroundings landscaped, the matron said. The home is built high upon a hill near the intersection of Fourth street and Avenue D. A little landscaping, when completed, ought to make it one of the scenic spots of the city.

Texas Cotton

a year ago, and 52 per cent the ten year average on October 1. . . . Rainfall during September was unfavorable in all of the central and eastern portions of the state. Early September rains were beneficial in the western half of the state, but later rains did enough damage to about offset the benefit of the earlier rains. In the north central area plant growth was favorable for fruiting, but boll weevils were puncturing the young squares before they had a chance to "set" Green bolls also were being punctured; therefore, there is not prospects for a late crop in this area. Ginnings are nearing completion in the west and northwest.

"The condition of corn on October 1 was 75 per cent of normal, compared with 71 a year ago, and 74 the ten year average. A condition of 75 on October 1 indicates an average yield of 19 bushels per acre and a total production of 108,433,000 bushels, compared with 94,248,000 bushels produced last year and 67,124,000 the five year average (1924-1928). The crop is slightly exceeding earlier expectations."

Cotton Interests Inaugurate Fight Against Railroad Rate

DALLAS, Oct. 12. (AP)—Interior Texas and Oklahoma cotton interests began today what they declared was a fight for their business existence, in a hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Texas Railroad Commission on the application of certain railroads for lower rates on uncompressed cotton to Texas gulf ports.

About 300 cotton men and representatives of commercial and industrial groups likewise interested in the cotton rates appeared at the first day's session being conducted by I. C. C. Examiner G. H. Mattingly and Commissioners Lon A. Smith and Ernest O. Thompson of the Texas Railroad Commission.

Distribution Of Money To Start

Distribution of $20,000 in new money issued by Lubbock National bank will begin this morning at 9 o'clock, Cashier Jno. D. Mitchell said yesterday. The new currency is part of $100,000 the institution is having printed.

The cashier anticipated arrival of the remainder in lots of about $20,000 every ten days or "as fast as we can distribute it."

The bills, in denominations of $5, $10, $20, $50, and $100, bear the signatures of C. E. Maedgen, bank president, and of Mr. Mitchell. The name of the bank and its charter number also are on the notes.

With the arrival of the first portion of the issue, the bank shipped back about $20,000 to the federal reserve bank to avoid having too much money on hand at one time.

Nine Thousand Ballots Are Ordered For Election Here

Nine thousand ballots for the November election have been ordered by Lubbock county and should be delivered here October 17 according to Amos Howard, county clerk.

"Absentee voting begins October 19 and closes November 4," Mr. Howard said. "We were promised the ballots two days before absentee voting begins."

Mr. Howard does not anticipate as many absentee votes as were cast in either of the primary elections.

Alfred Adkinson Applies For Randolph Field Appointment

Alfred J. Adkinson, 2116 Thirteenth street and a graduate of Lubbock high school four or five years ago, has made application for appointment as a cadet at Randolph Field, San Antonio.

Yesterday his application papers were being made out preparatory to being forwarded to military authorities. "I hope to be able to get in the class that is being formed November 1," Adkinson said.

The applicant has had about five hours work in the air with local instructors, although he does not hold a pilot's license.

National Auto Race May Be Held On Coast In November

OAKLAND, Calif., Oct. 12. (AP)—Plans for a national championship automobile race to be held here early in November were announced today co-incident with the purchase of the Oakland Speedway by the Speedway Holding corporation.

Track officials said it would be the first national championship race held on the Pacific coast since 1926 and also would be the final event of its kind anywhere in the nation this year.

Results of the race probably will determine the national championship standing among the drivers. Fred Frame of Los Angeles, winner of this year's 500 mile classic at Indianapolis, is the present leader among the drivers with 710 points. Bob Carey of Anderson, Indiana, has 690 points and "Howdy" Wilcox of Indianapolis is 80 points short of Carey's standing.

Fire Drill Will Be Staged On Courthouse Lawn Today

A fire drill by members of the Lubbock fire department at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon on the lawn west of City hall will be today's feature of Fire Prevention Week.

Fire Chief W. E. Twitty will be in charge of the drill, which will include ladder work.

Supt. M. H. Duncan, chairman of school activities during the week, said yesterday that special talks on fire prevention were being made by all teachers.

Fort Worth Chief Selected As President Of Fire Heads

HOUSTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—S. Ferguson, fire chief of Fort Worth, was elected president of the Southwestern Association of Fire Chiefs at the closing session of the fifth annual convention here today. Fort Worth was selected as the 1933 meeting place.

Other officers chosen were: J. C. McCann, of Haynesville, La., first vice president; W. J. Springer of Texarkana, second vice president, and J. E. Taplin, of Blackwell, Okla., re-elected secretary.

An amendment to the organization constitution permitting assistant fire chiefs and battalion chiefs to membership in the association also was passed. Formerly the association was limited only to fire chiefs.

Texas Is Seeking Million And Half

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Jewell P. Lightfoot, representing Governor Sterling and the Texas Association of Community Chests, asked the Reconstruction Corporation today for $1,756,000 of relief funds for 11 cities.

The original requests of the various cities had been reduced, and he could not name the exact figures in the application.

Original sums wanted for some of the cities he gave to newspapermen as:

Houston $475,000; Dallas $225,000; Fort Worth $340,000; Austin $75,000; San Antonio $300,000; Waco $80,350; Beaumont $200,000; Port Arthur $75,000 and Amarillo $75,000.

Hearne and Palestine also are asking loans but Lightfoot said he did not remember the amounts.

Man Declares That Family Was Destitute And He Had To Resort To Bank Robbery

LIBERTY, Tex., Oct. 12 (AP)—Otto Johnson, 23, charged along with Otto Morse with robbery of the Hull State bank of $1,212 July 22, told a jury before which he was being tried here today that he had been out of employment since March, and that his wife and three year old baby were in destitute circumstances.

He testified he and Morse fled to "the big thicket" and divided the money on a "fifty-fifty" basis. Then he went to his home in the oil field, he said, where he was arrested August 10.

A. J. Hartel, Jr., of Hull, vice-president of the bank, testified that Johnson followed Morse into the bank and demanded money.

"Some $8500 in the vault was not touched," Hartel said.

J. A. Leighton of Hull and Crowley, La., testified he had been engaged in the mercantile business at Hull in 1928 and that Johnson worked for him at that time. He said Johnson's conduct then was "very good." Other character witnesses were H. A. Anderson, deputy sheriff, and Cal Rye, farmer.

This Woman Lost 45 Pounds of Fat

"Dear Sirs: For 3 months I've been using your salts and am very much pleased with results. I've lost 45 lbs., 6 inches in hips and bust measure. I've taken 3 bottles—one lasting 5 weeks. I had often tried to reduce by dieting but never could keep it up, but by cutting down and taking Kruschen I've had splendid results. I highly recommend it to my friends."—Mrs. Carl Wilson, Manton, Mich.

To lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY, take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning. To hasten results go light on fatty meats, potatoes, cream and pastries—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—but don't take chances—be sure it's Kruschen—your health comes first—get it at Mark Halsey Drug, City Drug, or any drugstore in America. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back. Adv.

Not More Than 150 Girls At Local College Are Said To Be Supporting

Of 780 women students at Texas Technological college not more than 150 are self-supporting, Mrs. Mary W. Doak, dean of women, said this week. The produce market seems to be the most popular avenue used by Technological college co-eds who find it necessary to earn part of their matriculation fees and other expenses to stay in school. Working girls may not carry a full course if their work requires more than three hours a day.

One young woman brings in chickens, vegetables and fruits from her home in the country. She dresses the chickens, cans other food, takes orders for her products, and delivers them to her many customers. Several girls are trading produce for other commodities and last year one kept a flock of hens in town and peddled eggs.

Another feminine student ships in citrus fruits from her home in the Rio Grande valley in order that she may exchange oranges, grapefruit and lemons for board, room, and other necessities.

Self-supporting college girls are teaching dancing, piano, and expression; caring for children and acting as hostesses in boarding houses and dormitories. Some of them are baking and selling cakes, working as telephone operators, or as dressmakers.

The college employs a number of students as typists or assistants to professors.

Mrs. Doak said that in the past girls have waited tables or assisted in beauty parlors. She doesn't know of any students this year who are so employed but indicates that the "back to the farm" movement is taking hold in Tech college [illegible] suffering from amnesia.

The service was delayed several hours while friends passed the casket. John N. Garner, Democratic vice-president nominee, and Will Rogers, cowboy humorist, were among those who sent messages of condolence to the family.

One Sure Way to End Coughs and Colds

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

Man Given Twenty Years For Murder

SINTON, Tex., Oct. 12 (AP)—Henry A. Duffer, formerly of Quinlan, Hunt county, today was facing a 20-year sentence to the Texas penitentiary, following his conviction here of the murder of John N. Sickles of Jade, Okla., more than five years ago.

Testimony at the trial showed the Oklahoman was murdered at a small camp near Aransas Pass, April 27, 1927. His body was placed on the highway in such a position as to make it appear he had been hit by a passing automobile, state witnesses testified. An examination revealed death was caused by a blow on the head with a blunt instrument.

Duffer was arrested four months later at McAllen, when it was learned he was the last person seen with the victim, at Duffer's home in Hunt county. The state had been unable to bring the case to trial because of inability to locate an important witness.

Attorneys for Duffer gave notice of appeal.

Mrs. Elizabeth Barnard, postmaster at Tampa, Fla., for nine years, has been an employe of the office 25 years.

"Nature in the Raw"—as expressed in the famous rodeo cry; inspired by the picture in the July issue of the National Geographic Magazine taken at the Ski Hi Stampede, Monte Vista, Colorado. "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes.

Copr., 1932, The American Tobacco Co.

No raw tobaccos in Luckies —that's why they're so mild

We buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette.
