Texas Freight Rates Ordered Reduced

MOVE IS MADE TO AID DRY SECTIONS

LIVESTOCK AND FEED INCLUDED IN RATE REDUCTIONS

AUSTIN, Sept. 3.—Reduction of one-third in freight rates on livestock and feed in the drought-stricken areas of Texas ordered today by the state railroad commission.

The rates were made effective as of August 28, until October 31.

They were made applicable on livestock in carloads from drought-stricken areas to feeding points in Texas not including markets or public feeding lots, and on livestock feed, hay and straw for feeding purposes only from points in Texas to drought areas.

The rates were authorized at the request of Texas carriers which arrived at the one-third reduction at a meeting last Saturday in Dallas.

The day before the state drought committee, meeting in Wichita Falls, had asked a 30 per cent reduction.

FLIERS TO FLY TO DALLAS IN PRIZE HOP

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Having made the first non-stop flight from Paris to New York, Diéudonne Coste is expected to fly to Dallas in time to qualify for the Easterwood purse.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Diéudonne Coste, who had arisen before nine o'clock and had a long distance telephone conversation with his wife in Paris, announced, after conferring with associates, that he would take off on a non-stop flight to Dallas with Bellonte in the "2" probably at 7 or 8 o'clock (est) tomorrow morning, in the expectations of reaching Dallas in time to qualify for the Easterwood purse.

PAIR CENTER OF MUCH INTEREST

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Having made the first non-stop flight from Paris to New York, Diéudonne Coste and Maurice Bellonte were acclaimed today on two continents.

In 37 hours, 18 minutes and 39 seconds the French aviators did what Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh did in the opposite direction three years ago by 38 hours, 29 minutes.

At 4:34 a. m. (E. S. T.) last Monday they pulled their little seaplane equipped with "2" off the historic turf of Le Bourget, the field near Paris where Lindbergh first set his wheels to the ground, and 37 hours later they waggled its wings in greeting over the Trans-Atlantic runway of Roosevelt field, whence America's Lone Eagle took off on the road to France.

Flaw To Valley Stream

Then, they flew nine miles farther and set their wheels to earth at Curtis Field, Valley Stream, at 12:39 (E. S. T.) last night, behind them 41,000 miles of ocean and fog and storms.

Master airmen to the last, Coste flashed twice around the field in the deepening dusk, then banked sharply and slid into a three-point landing.

A crowd estimated at as high as 10,000 persons, many of whom had waited for hours in the field, was grouped along the guarding fences as the clouds which had erupted hall and rain but two hours before cleared away and the half disc of the moon showed its faint outline in the sky.

Crowd Surges Forward

As "The Question Mark" came out of the clouds and landed, they surged against the guard ropes and the fences, sensing the danger in the whirling propeller of his ship and fearing that any moment the wall of blue might break and let through a flood of humans.

Coste stopped his engine while still a hundred yards out in the field, and he and Bellonte climbed from the plane.

Their faces were burned from the sun and wind and lines of fatigue were etched in the red skin. They fumbled clumsily for the rungs of the ladder with their feet. Their legs numb by the day and a half in the cramped cockpit of the little plane, they stumbled toward the hangar but willing hands helped them along and they rode the last few feet astride the backs of stalwart mechanics, happy to carry so famed a burden.

Their fatigue was forgotten when they reached the hangar and found there to greet them a tell.

SENSATIONAL DISCOVERY

The diary was found during examination of Andree's body in the little Tromsø hospital early this morning. It was the most sensational discovery of the night, during which positive identification was made of the bodies of Andree and Nils Strindberg and the puzzling bones brought back by Dr. Horn were found to be those of a polar bear and not of Knut Frankel, third member of the expedition.

For thirty-three years these diaries and the log have been buried under the same shroud of snow and ice that hid the bodies of the explorers from the world.

The day to day record of the Andree expedition's tramp on foot over the ice from the point where their balloon was wrecked to White Island, where its members perished, is contained in one of the two logs. The other diary, which was found wrapped in an undershirt behind the explorer's back.

ELLIS BUILDING TO BE BUILT HIGHER

ELLIS ANNOUNCES NEW PLANS FOR DAMAGED STRUCTURE

Announcement of plans for construction of a modern, fire-proof, six-story office building at the corner of Broadway and Texas avenue was made last Tuesday by Temple Ellis, owner of the four-story structure which was badly damaged by fire two weeks ago.

The present building is to be reconstructed, Mr. Ellis said last night, and upon completion will be modern throughout. Work of clearing out the burned interior was started today and negotiations with an architect, who will re-plan the building are under way.

To cover entire lot

With complete floor-plan appointments, the building will cover the entire lot space of 76 by 115 feet and will be of outstanding beauty. Mr. Ellis pointed out that the location is one which demands the best type of construction and that his only regret now is that the building was not originally constructed with proof against fire.

"After five years of experience,"

Wheeler Declares U.S. Is 'A Bunch Of Suckers' Not to Recognize Soviet

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The United States is "a bunch of suckers" because it fails to recognize Soviet Russia, Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, exclaimed today as he strode down the gangplank of the Leviathan, home from a visit to Europe which included a ten-day sojourn in the Soviet republic.

"Everywhere I went abroad I found the argument that America should not recognize Russia, while everywhere abroad Russia is recognized and the European countries are getting all of the business. Should we recognize Russia and enter into commercial treaties that does not mean we put the stamp of approval on their form of government?"

Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, who went with Wheeler to the inter-parliamentary union in London and spent three weeks in Russia, reserved his opinion about United States recognition.

The two visited Russia unofficially, but met political leaders and said they were permitted to study social and economic conditions as they pleased.

BURGLARS TRY SAFE DURING LAST NIGHT

LUBBOCK OIL AND GAS VAULT HOLDS; M STORE ROBBED

Continuing a series of burglaries in Lubbock during the past three days which has netted robbers approximately $500 in cash and $2,500 in checks, an attempt was made to open the safe of the Lubbock Gas & Oil company, located just north of the Broadway underpass, Tuesday night or Wednesday morning.

Officers stated this morning that the attempt last night failed and that nothing was missing from the office.

Door Knocked In

Entrance into the building was gained after the proviers had knocked out the glass to the front door, reaching inside to turn a night latch.

Combination had been knocked from the safe but the would-be burglars were able to go no further in knocking the glass from the door one of the thieves evidently cut his hand as a tiny piece of skin was found on the sharp edges this morning together with some blood.

GARRARD GIVES STARTLING DATA ON FAILURE OF STATE TO COLLECT FOR PERMANENT SCHOOL FUND ON LANDS

Texas public schools advanced to a high position of prominence from their low place in the scale of education in the nation, through the enrichment of the permanent school fund from oil and other resources of lands owned and shared by the state, was a vision which started an audience of teachers assembled in the First Methodist church of Lubbock last night. Information was given by Tom T. Garrard, Lubbock's own member of the State Board of Education, which made this a possibility in the comprehension of those present. Mr. Garrard was the first speaker on the occasion. Dr. R. L. Lyman, of the University of Chicago who is making a series of lectures in connection with the South Plains Teachers Institute at the Texas Tech.

Unestimated wealth in the oil beneath the lands of Western Texas and the Gulf coast and flowing from wells on lands in which the state school fund holds one-half interest, and in the shell deposited along the hundreds of miles of Gulf coast which is also owned in equal part by the school fund, is going into private fortunes. Instead of into the public school funds where it belongs because the state through its Board of Education is impotent through failure of the legislature to appropriate sufficient money and vote sufficient authority to the educational body to function as it should in collecting and conserving the resources that rightfully belong to the public schools. Mr. Garrard told the teachers. He asked the teachers to present an organized petition to the legislature to empower the board with authority and finance to claim the wealth that is the school fund and to carry out properly the many other important functions desired in the bill creating the board of education. "As the light of knowledge is only a flickering candle," Mr. Garrard said.

Want To Answer Needs

"We do not want to revolutionize school affairs in Texas. There are no radical ideas in the board. We only want to do the things that the

TREE-SITTER DESCENDS FROM BOUGHS LAST NIGHT WITH 1,131 HOURS ALOFT

The goal set by a slender-towered boy last July 17 when he climbed up into a tree on the 1000 block on Broadway determined to stay there until the day before school started was reached last night. Alton Phillips, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Phillips, of this city, swung down from the branches at 7 o'clock and dropped the curtain on 1,131 hours in the boughs.

Traffic was at a standstill two blocks in each direction and motorcycle policemen were called to untangle the jam. Alton had expressed a desire for a bag crowd to witness his descent of the arboreal perch after accomplishing what is a sectional and possibly a national record. He was granted his wish, although some of the spectators were those who had unwittingly fallen into the trap and unable to get out of the dense traffic.

The boy's parents and his brother and sister witnessed the landing as did the city's firemen. Since taking his perch the youngster has talked hundreds of hours to passersby and there are some who will miss his cheery grin and hail as they

Take House Color Scheme From Nature's Flowers

By HILDA HUNT

Consider the lilies of the field; how they grow. They toil not, neither do they spin. But in all this glory they stand. So in your home, the yellow tulip, here we have muen green and a little yellow, the tulip being a single flower on a long stalk with long leaves.

Now suppose you make the walls of your room a soft leaf green, the most delicate shade of leaf green you can get. A little dappled and you come to the tulip bulb. This is a brown, the lighter tones of which give you a color for your floor. Now go up to the flower itself. Here you have the color for the room scheme. Take that or this color or scheme from nature's flowers, and you are pretty sure to be correct, though do not try to take the mass of colors nature produces in one field and attempt to get them all into one room. Just take a single flower and carry through its colors or shading, and you will play safe.

First, we notice nature never produces a flower without its green stem and leaves. Sometimes there is more and sometimes less of the green. Make a note on it, and consider that you will need at least a little green, or much green, as the case may be, in almost any color scheme. As an example, take the yellow tulip. Here we have muen green and a little yellow, the tulip being a single flower on a long stalk with long leaves.

After retiring as president of devoted much of her time and money to such work. She is the only Southern president the National Music Federation has had.

While in Lubbock, Mrs. Lyons called on two friends that she has in musical circles here. W. R. Wagborne and Miss Mary Dunn.

NANKING (AP)—Introduction of a uniform system of finger printing for all of China has been urged by the ministry of the interior. Hitherto police of each large city have had their own method of applying the system and results have been good.

with the bulb brown.

The yellow can be incorporated into the window drapes, a bit of the upholstery, lamp shades and ornaments, though you will naturally need a little red or rose to break the monotony of too much green and yellow in so large an area as a room, when compared to a single flower.

In the room illustrated, the walls are in a soft leaf green. The rug is a muen green with a dark green border. The window drapes are a yellow shade with red and green floral design. The furniture is mahogany. The overstuffed chair in the foreground is the bookcase is upholstered in green. The bookcase is of a darker green than the walls and is lined with red. Yellow spots are brought out in the lamp shades, pictures and an ornament of two. The sofa is covered in the same color pattern as the window shades.

Now suppose you make the walls of your room a soft leaf green, the most delicate shade of leaf green you can get. A little dappled and you come to the tulip bulb. This is a brown, the lighter tones of which give you a color for your floor. Now go up to the flower itself. Here you have the color for the room scheme. ## Hearing On Drayage Charges Postponed

AUSTIN, Sept. 3 (AP)—Hearing on a petition of the Missouri Pacific railroad to be allowed to absorb drayage charges to meet truck competition in cotton hauling was postponed by the state railroad commission today after railroad men and other interested parties had met here for the hearing.

The postponement until Friday morning was ordered on the protest of a truck company representative that insufficient notice of the hearing had been given. The notice was sent out last week.

In announcing the hearing, the commission notified other rail lines that similar applications might be presented at the same time. The railroads asked to be allowed to absorb up to 25 cents per bale for drayage charges, thus cutting down to some extent the actual freight rate to meet truck competition.

Earlier in the day, the commission granted application of the Southern Pacific and the Missouri Kansas and Texas for equalization of cotton rates between the two lines.

Divers Get Within Fathoms Of Gold

BREST, France, Sept. 3 (AP)—Divers today succeeded in getting within a few fathoms of the 60,000-ton gold ingots aboard the sunken treasure ship Egypt.

In a claim the divers penetrated to the top deck of the ship, four hundred feet beneath the waves and prepared to salvage the gold which lies under the third deck, six meters below. They said on emerging that should the present fine weather continue they might be able to place explosives around the treasure room before the end of the week and blow it apart to gain access to the ingots.

The Egyptian peninsula and Oriental liner went down in 1922. The Italian salvage experts striving to recover the gold are trying to complete the task before the September storms.

Oyster Crop To Be Late In Texas Ports

AUSTIN, Sept. 3 (AP)—High salinity of the waters of the gulf caused by the lack of fresh water from inland streams on account of the drought, has retarded the growth of Texas oysters, materially and shipment of the oyster will not be started until the latter part of the month. J. O. Burr, research director of the game, fish and oyster commission said today.

Burr also said oyster production would be materially under that of last year due to improper care of the beds and overworking of the reefs.

State Gets 2,500 Bids On State Lands

AUSTIN, Sept. 3 (AP)—Approximately 2,500 bids were received at the general land office today on 63,487 acres of public land which was forfeited and placed on the market yesterday. J. H. Walker, land commissioner, said it was the largest number of bids received in recent years. The bids ranged from $2 to $106 per acre.

The results of the bidding was on lands in Dallam, Andrews and Hartley counties with the $106 bid being received on the Andrews county tracts. The average bid for land in Dallam and Hartley counties was between $12 and $26. This land is a part of the acreage added by the state to the Capitol Syndicate when the present capitol building was erected, the state recovering approximately 55,000 acres because of inaccurate surveys.

Commissioner Walker said the results of the bidding would not be known for 30 days and that no awards would be made before this time.

ANDREE

The other note book, which Andree lay down upon when dying and protected with his body even in death, contains only some geographical observations. These are on the first pages, and the rest of the book is blank.

Identification by the experts of the bodies of Andree and Litzberg of the bones brought back by Dr. Horn as those of a polar bear leaves open to question what became of the bodies.

Others Identified. The identification of the bodies of Andree and Litzberg brought back to civilization after being entombed thirty-three years on White Island, was made under dramatic circumstances.

The body of Strindberg was identified by his own brother, the sculptor Thore Strindberg of Stockholm. The dead man's teeth were recognized positively.

So far as Andree is concerned, there has never been any real doubt that it was his body that Dr. Gunnar Horn's Norwegian exploring expedition brought back early this week. Confirmation was hardly necessary, but it was made by the Swedish professor Hedren and Litzberg's experts sent here especially for the purpose.

Guarded Story to Last. Andree was found to have died guarding to the last the story of his attempt to reach the North Pole. Protecting with his body even in death the two notebooks containing his precious records. The navigation log and two note books were wrapped up in an undershirt and frozen to his back.

Andree having placed these treasured papers back apparently lay down upon them when he realized death was near and shielded them with his body as he slowly froze to death.

As his body was found headless, it is apparent that his precaution was not an idle one, especially as he bears made frequent misleading expeditions through the camp.

A formal statement issued by Hedren and Litzberg said that only the skeletons of the bodies of Andree and Strindberg remain intact. The organic parts were very much deteriorated, and the clothing, though fairly well preserved, had been much torn, probably by animals.

White Leaves Today. Mr. White left Lubbock early this morning for Snyder where he and Smith boarded a Southern Air Transport plane at 1:30 this afternoon for Dallas. The plane was sent to Snyder for the two men by the Dallas Chamber of Commerce.

The two fliers are expected to leave New York early tomorrow morning and land at Love Field at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

FRANCE PAYS GREAT TRIBUTE TO FLIERS. PARIS, Sept. 3 (AP)—All France today acclaimed the feat of two of her greatest aviators, Dieudonne Coste and Maurice Bellet, in effecting the first non-stop flight across the Atlantic from Paris to New York.

While the capital still was experiencing the first mad hours of celebration, the government announced Coste would be made a commander of the legion of honor. President Gaston Dumerque sent a personal message of congratulation. The cable companies said they handled a tremendous file of congratulatory telegrams.

Would Beat Lindy's Ocean Hop

W. S. "Bill" McLaren, Newark, N. J. aviator, has announced plans for an attempt to smash Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's New York to Paris flight time of 33 hours. He is shown here with Mrs. Beryl Hart, of New York, who, it is said, will accompany him as a passenger on the trans-Atlantic flight.

rather stooped young man, white teeth flashing in a face burned almost as red as their own—the man whose path they retraced.

Was Great Flight. "It was a great flight, Captain," said Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, and although Coste probably did not hear or understand the words he could not mistake the meaning and his face lighted with a happy smile as he grasped the hand of America's most famous flier.

Whisked through the formalities of a welcome from officials of their own land, New York City and civic organizations, and having broadcast their thanks and thoughts to the listening radio audiences of two continents, the fliers were borne swiftly to the city behind an escort of motorcycle police and put to bed in their suite at a Park Avenue hotel.

Presidents Praise Them. From the presidents of the United States and France congratulatory messages came for the two fliers.

The news of your successful flight thrills the people of the entire American nation, and upon their behalf and my own I send to you and your gallant companion our heartiest congratulations." President Hoover messaged Coste.

"Happy to send you my warmest congratulations for your magnificent exploit," wirelessly President Dumerque.

Given Dinner. Last night a dinner was given in the fliers honor at the Ritz tower where they are staying, and Coste appeared there for a moment before returning to bed.

Today New York City prepared a welcome for its distinguished visitors, including a luncheon at the Advertising Club and an official reception at city hall.

Both fliers will be broadcast. The French fliers' plane, after they reach Dallas, had not been formulated today, but it was believed they would return directly to Washington to meet President Hoover. Coste said he had telephoned Washington soon after arrival at the hotel, but that no decision had been reached. He said he was anxious to make an official visit to America's capital.

LUBBOCK MAN TO BE IN RECEPTION GROUP. When Dieudonne Coste and Maurice Bellet, flying the famous trans-Atlantic plane, Question Mark, land at Love Field in Dallas, Thursday afternoon they will be received by two West Texans, George F. Jimmy Smith, of Snyder, and Tom A. White, of Lubbock.

A telephone message from Jimmy Smith at noon today stated that he had been appointed personal representative of Wm. E. Easterwood, Jr., Dallas chewing gum manufacturer, who will pay the French fliers $25,000 for their flight from Paris to Dallas. Mr. White will represent the aviation committee of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. Easterwood is in Paris at this time, thus his appointment of Smith as personal representative.

White Leaves Today. Mr. White left Lubbock early this morning for Snyder where he and Smith boarded a Southern Air Transport plane at 1:30 this afternoon for Dallas. The plane was sent to Snyder for the two men by the Dallas Chamber of Commerce.

Called the "daddy of the amusement world," the combined forces of Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey will make their first appearance here. The shows, probably the biggest circus of the nation, combined last season, and now compose a complete, five-ring circus.

Advance press representatives of the big show state that entire troupes and families of foreign stars new to this continent will be found in unprecedented array on the enlarged program of the circus this season.

BALZAR RENOMINATED

RENO, Nev., Sept. 3. (AP)—Incomplete returns from Nevada's seventeen counties indicated today that Governor Fred B. Balzar had been renominated by the Republicans in the state primary yesterday.

He was promoted to major, Bellonte, a non-commissioned officer, will be made second lieutenant.

WIVES OF FLIERS TO VISIT UNITED STATES

PARIS, Sept. 3. (AP)—Restored to their own New York trips. The wives of the fliers are expected to arrive in New York on Thursday.

Coste, who is a beautiful Russian actress plans to leave within four days to join Dieudonne's name means "gift of God—Wouhou," as she calls him, in America. But Mrs. Doris Bellet, the co-pilot's Irish wife, will be unable to sail for three weeks.

Mme. Coste will remain in America only one week, returning here to complete cinema contracts.

OLD-TIME TEXAS WELCOME PLANNED

DALLAS, Sept. 3. (AP)—Dedication of the new airplane, the Question Mark, will be held in Dallas, Texas, and to Washington, it was announced today.

Coste and Maurice Bellet, trailblazing the Atlantic ocean, east to west, will receive a real old-time Texas open-air reception when they "hop down here within the week to collect $25,000 from Colonel William Easterwood, Dallas chewing gum manufacturer.

Plans to welcome the aviators, heroes were started here last night soon after news of their safe landing in New York was received. At that time Mike R. Fowell aviation secretary of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, was under the impression the Frenchmen would be obliged to depart southward from New York within twenty-four hours of their arrival there under terms of the Easterwood contract.

Colonel Easterwood still is in Europe, where he went to personally submit his proposition to Captain Coste. His business associates in Dallas and George Smith of Snyder, Texas newspaperman, Easterwood's personal representative, were not familiar with details of the contract, but Smith said he was reasonably sure there was a limit of 24 hours on the New York stay. Personal in Paris revealed the 72-hour limit.

FIRST OCEAN MAIL AD TIMES TODAY

NEW YORK, Sept. 3. (AP)—The first newspaper advertising copy to arrive in New York from Paris by airplane appeared in the New York Times today.

In addition to more than twenty-one columns of advertising, the Trans-Atlantic plane "Question Mark" brought a special model dress created by Maison Callot of Paris, assigned to John Wannamaker.

Five advertisements in all were received. They were from the dress designers; hotel owners at Deauville and Cannes; the hotel Continental; Sir Charles Hignam, advertising agent; and from the French government, which included this message: "Come to France—Thomas Jefferson believed that every one has two countries, his own and France."

They Keep Their Polo in the Family

school people need in order to achieve the aim of education in Texas and raise it from the low position that it occupies in comparison with other states in the union. If we are to work for the schools we must have the power to do so and that means further legislation.

He urged the teachers to interest themselves in that objective and to organize for that achievement.

To claim the wealth of oil income now possible to the school fund he said the board should provide an agency to devote time to studying and making records of the lands in which the public school fund holds half interest in mineral resources, and seeing that the state collects its half interest in all money received from the production of such minerals.

This is not being done today. No one has accurate and complete record of what the wealth would be from this source, but Mr. Garrard thought it would be enormous. He pointed out that the University of Texas has found it necessary to get its share from the mineral rights in lands held by it to employ special assistance, and recalled that recently the University recovered in a single law suit about a million dollars which would have otherwise been lost to that institution, now rapidly advancing through the potentiality of its oil income to the highest place of such institutions in America.

No Check Made

In the many years that the state has been selling its lands appropriated to the public school fund, though it has by law retained control, it has failed to check up on the surface there has been and is now no competent agency to check up on these claims and secure the vast wealth that must be possible under such rights.

He asked them if the University of Texas was able to recover a million dollars from a single suit to enforce a right what might the permanent fund of Texas public schools be able to obtain if a competent agency with power to act should take the present situation in hand. Here again he reminded them that the Texas State Board of Education could do nothing but recommend.

Another great source of wealth he mentioned for the school fund, which he as a member of the state board helps to administer was that of the school fund.

Times today.

In addition to more than twenty-one columns of advertising, the Trans-Atlantic plane "Question Mark" brought a special model dress created by Maison Callot of Paris, assigned to John Wannamaker.

Five advertisements in all were received. They were from the dress designers; hotel owners at Deauville and Cannes; the hotel Continental; Sir Charles Hignam, advertising agent; and from the French government, which included this message: "Come to France—Thomas Jefferson believed that every one has two countries, his own and France."

Tells of Practices

Going more into details of the loss that is daily occurring to the school fund of Texas, Mr. Garrard, told the teachers of some of the practices of companies and individuals to withhold from the school fund its share of oil lease and bonus income. While the extent of such practice is not known he indicated their possible importance by mentioning that of agreement between owner of school lands and lessees by which the owner of lands, one-half interest in mineral resources of which belonged to the state school fund would agree to accept from ten cents to a dollar an acre on the land worth thousands of dollars an acre for drilling purposes provided a cash bonus of a few thousands dollars was given.

This is one of the known methods of evading the law that one-half of the lease price must be paid into the school fund. He pictured the great city of such a condition and similar ones existing while the State Board of Education stood by powerless to do anything for the cause of education which they should be able to protect and advance in every way.

An organized effort through their association, known as the Texas State Teachers' Association to have the state board empowered by funds and authority to act was the recommendation of Mr. Garrard to the teachers to enable them to enjoy the boon of proper administration of school affairs through their State Board of Education.

His hearers amazed at the revelations of his address were enthusiastic in their demonstration of approval of his recommendation.

Grain Movement Expected To Start

Movement out of the territory of kafir and maize will begin as soon as the rains have dried out sufficiently to harvest, R. F. Bayless, local freight agent of the Santa Fe, explained today.

"Some harvesting of kafir and maize is now being done but the heads are still pretty green," he said. "We will not begin to do any handling of these grains until the heads are dry enough to thresh."

tried to "steal our thunder." "Prior to the securing of Federal designation, we had other promoters try to steal the Carlsbad Cavern highway and route it north of us, leaving Lubbock entirely off the original route. However, by concentrated effort and intensive campaign work we were able to prevent this and secure the Federal designation.

Purely Non-remunerative. "To date, the Carlsbad Cavern highway has been promoted, organized, advertised, improved and Federally designated without a single person receiving any remuneration for their services. It is my desire to continue the management of this association on the same basis, but unless we go to Carlsbad with a large delegation, ready to make very definite plans for the continuation of this policy, we are liable to have our plans reversed and the management of the highway taken over by promoters who are in the game for what they can get out of it."

Called For 10 O'clock. The meeting has been called for 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. One matter of importance to be taken up will be that of making the route an international highway and a report will be given of work done toward this end. An effort is being made to have representatives from the State of Chihuahua at the meeting to discuss continuation of the highway to Mexico City.

The convention of West Texas County Judges and Commissioners is scheduled to be held in El Paso immediately following the gathering in Carlsbad and the El Paso Chamber of Commerce has issued invitations to all delegates to attend this conference. It is probable that many of the highway enthusiasts will attend because of the problems affecting highways of West Texas which will come up for discussion at the official session.

THIS is the time of the year when college is uppermost in the minds of high school graduates...

Not so many years ago September saw a great group leaving most towns or cities to attend a university or a college.

These classifications are drawn to about the same specifications today but the groups are closer together.

BECAUSE of the increased number of high school graduates who continue education with college training...

But let The Plainsman express the opinion backed by reliable information that anyone who takes the time can today secure an education worth more than a month's salary...

Today the curricula of a state school, Texas Tech to be exact, covers a range of subjects which to a college student or professor of a few decades back would have been not only amazing but appalling...

Modern colleges offer the high school graduate an education beyond the highest hopes and dreams of not many years ago.

With state schools offering the high school graduate an education beyond the highest hopes and dreams of not many years ago...

There are a variety of reasons why the high school graduate should select his own state college, aside from the fact that it offers him as much in pure learning as any other school.

In New York

SOUTHAMPTON, L. I., Sept. 3.—Listening to the chatter of the assembled society writers for the major New York newspapers on the porch of the Manor, one learns that this is the fullest summer social season within the memory of the oldest gossip scribbler.

They're not even paying their bills. But that's nothing new. The town's tradesmen will tell you that people who live in but glass houses and sail yachts with a crew of 12 are the hardest to collect from.

Only the other morning the gent who sells me my morning paper confided that a matron whose picture appears in the swankiest periodicals hasn't paid her subscription in two years.

Nor, for one reason or another, do the tradesmen seem to consider the possibility of rebelling; for one reason or another, the wealthy must never be boldly confronted.

You'll hear that, from a social viewpoint, the Meadowbrook tennis tournament this year was a large bust. Not that it makes any difference in anyone's life...

But this year there was little or no revival. And the bound-and-hare hunt or whatever it was, happened to be all but ruined by the fact that the market crashed in again on a certain Saturday morning...

And all to the columnarized town, there is a few day holiday glamour about the full-day allowed little more than a week on the sidelines. But when a sunny morning the slim and sleek debutantes are parading about the Beach Club...

Or upon the occasion of the Meadowbrook tennis which was the colorful party described as a flop I found myself intensely more interested in the flashes of color and beauty gathered upon the awning-adorned porch of the club building...

Just as my left eye I was told was the pump and press! Duke who has been titled the "rubber girl" in the world.

On a few years ago or so it seemed I was writing tales of the richest hab in America. At that time it was common to see the hands of Duke with a hundred millions or thereabouts from the telephone fortune.

They'll tell you hereabouts that Mlle. Duce whose coming out will be a society event of the coming winter has had her fortune well handed over her so that it may be divided for all I know.

At an early age she was perhaps the most quietly and simply dressed person in the crowd. All about her at tables or on tipples were attractive young women who are known to be holding their way through society. And all of them seeming to be charmed far more extravagantly.

What is more, Mlle. Duke has been heard to have a dawning mind of her own, in fact nothing like a careful, emotional bark on the ground she spent last year studying at the Sorbonne in Paris and so say those who seem to know may one day have an active part in handling her own millions.

On the other hand, it is hard to swallow a sense of pity for the hundreds here who play the game on "no ball" the rackets into which they are drawn in order to get a few quick dollars are as many as those to be found in Chicago—only played more politically.

A fashionable artist I had known in New York, told me for instance of some 100 Junior Leaguers who get 30 per cent for helping him land orders among their more moneyed sisters.

The average American woman today according to a contemporary uses three times her weight in cosmetics during her lifetime. One reason for this may be she has grown querulous and is obliged to kiss and makeup more often.

"Day to day" said the wisecracking miniature golf course owner, "our business is getting putter and putter."

BOMBAY (AP)—Proposals of 200 German capitalists to start Indian industries, to be financed partially by Indians themselves, have been greeted enthusiastically by the National Congress party.

Members of the party see in the scheme a chance to hit back at British industries.

At the same time, in cooperation with swadeshi, or home industry capital, there would be endeavor to develop Indian industries.

The head of the organization here is Theodore Picker, of Berlin, a former member of the German Nationalist party.

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

LET DOCTOR TEST EARS OF PUPILS NEXT TO VISION hearing is the most important thing to measure for the school child.

Just as in the case of defective vision, defective hearing may go unrecognized, and this situation leads to the belief that the child is mentally incompetent.

One of the commonest causes of defective hearing is a simple thing—the plugging up of the external ear canal with wax.

It is surprising how often goes unsuspected for a long time and leads to a considerable amount of disability. Removal of the wax is, of course, relatively easy though it should always be done by a physician, who knows the anatomy of the external ear canal and will avoid injuring the ear-drum.

As a way to know New York specialist used to say the only thing it is safe for a person to put in his own right ear, is his left elbow.

The special test of hearing is the ordinary speaking voice. A child who can hear an ordinary speaking voice at six feet is fit to be taught in an average class. Acute hearing of course, is much better than that.

If the child can only hear distinctly at three feet, it should be put on the front benches or in a special class.

The watch that should be made on every class, using the same watch for each child. A watch of average loudness should be heard at a distance of about four feet. The best way of testing is to use a stop watch and make the child say when...

political and economic changes which are directed at this child existing economic theories and practices upon which society is founded in this country and which pervade our system of government, and it is hardly to be presumed that Congress intended to foster such inquiries by including them within the classification of institutional questions which are encouraged as a matter of public policy as aids to good government.

Judges John M. Sternhagen and John J. Marquette dissented from that opinion, upholding Mrs. Wey's deposition.

Anella Majority-Ruling "There are few branches of learning which escape controversy," Sternhagen wrote. "Freedom of thought and difference of opinion are essential to education and progress. There is no justification for making the state a censor of the classification of institutional questions which are encouraged as a matter of public policy as aids to good government."

"The league advocated drastic work and returns to start his life over. He knows few people who have the greatest handicap of being a stranger."

It may be provincialism not to go after for education or to broaden by travel but a provincialism which permits acquaintance with several thousand individuals, especially by a far breadth that travel—which doesn't provide a friendly introduction with whom one might be your local butcher.

KIWANIANS SELECT DALLAS ATTORNEY AS DISTRICT GOVERNOR

CONVENTION IS CLOSED HERE TUESDAY

OKLAHOMA CITY GETS 1931 SESSION; 80 ON CAVERN TRIP

In closing session here Tuesday afternoon Kiwanians of the Texas-Oklahoma district named Robert Gera, a Storey, of Dallas, as next governor and selected Oklahoma City as the meeting place for 1931.

The ten division lieutenant governors were named in the same manner as the governor and meeting place, by acclamation. New officers are to take over their duties on January 1, 1931.

Registration for the convention which opened here Monday morning, yesterday was announced as 728. They were divided as follows: Texas 270; Oklahoma 194; others 1, local 251, total 728.

"I expect to appoint my district secretary-treasurer in a few days," the governor-elect said last night. "He will be named as soon as I can find someone in Dallas willing enough and with time enough to handle the office."

Following the selection of the convention city, three informal bids for the 1932 convention were given. Galveston, the lower Rio Grande Valley and Amarillo presented their claims in brief form. Tyler did not make a bid for the convention in a formal manner.

Division lieutenant governors named were:

Claude A. Pollard, former attorney general of Texas, first district; William Raso, Brownsville, second district; Gus Amundson, Jr., Galveston, third district; William "Bill" Geber, Jacksonville, fourth district; Walter L. Morris, Fort Worth, fifth district; E. Miller, Plainview, western manager; Daily Herald, sixth district; E. M. Homberger, Woodward, Okla., seventh district; Poppy E. Dudley, Clinton, Okla., eighth district; Albert C. Hunt, Oklahoma City, member Oklahoma Supreme Court, ninth district; Myles C. Grigby, Ada, tenth district.

Adopt Recommendations

A report of the laws and regulations committee, which recommended the greatest arrangement of naming a governor from one state to preside over the session in the other state, be discontinued, was adopted unanimously. The suggestion of Kiwanis International that a change be made, was voted down. The same report also approved the granting of authority to the Tulsa club to keep its present method of electing officers.

Resolutions endorsing the system of reservoirs for control of floods, as outlined by E. E. Black, chairman of the interstate commission on flood control, were unanimously adopted. Mr. Black was asked to prepare a summary of his address to be printed in the international magazine.

Lubbock Thanked

Other resolutions adopted thanked the Lubbock club for its entertainment, the city of Lubbock and the various civic organizations for the splendid hospitality shown.

Abilene Father Endorses Orgatone

"My Son Was in a Very Run Down Condition—Orgatone Proves to Be a Good System Builder."

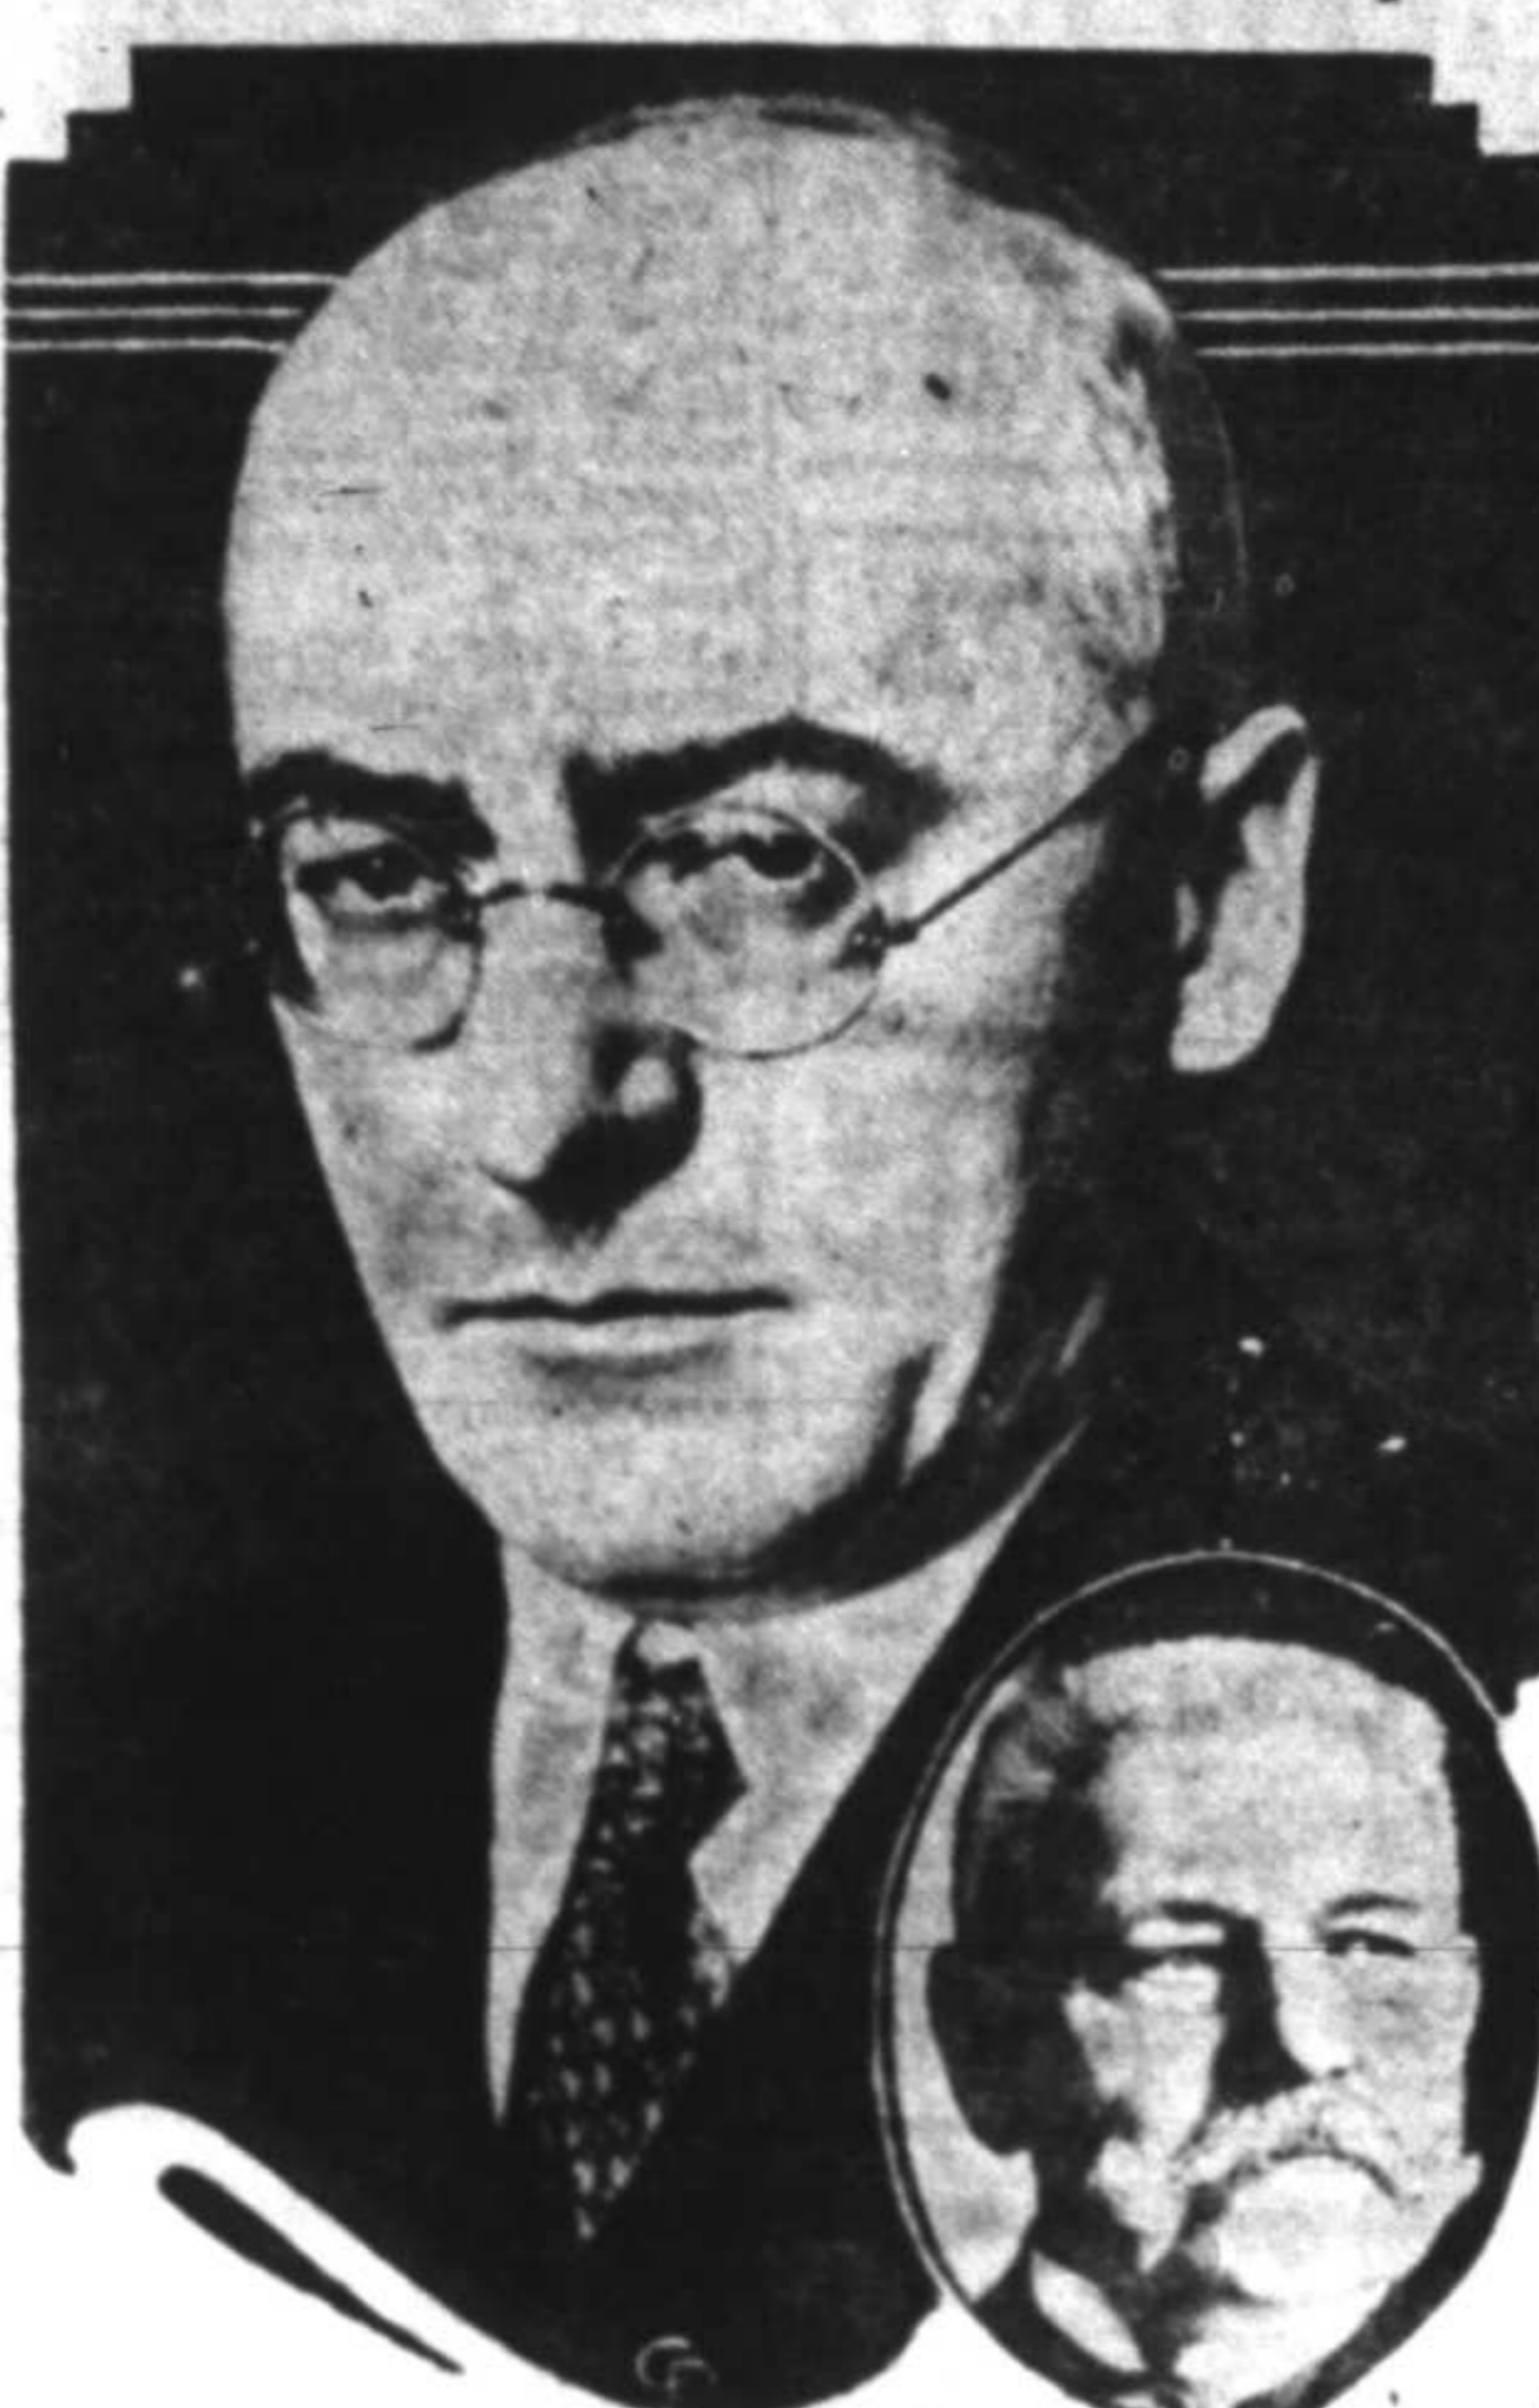

Mr. J. A. Stone, of 2417 E. First St. Abilene, Texas, makes the following remarkable statement regarding his son's health, and what Orgatone did for him:

"My son has been in a very poor run down condition for several years. He has been bothered with stomach trouble and had to be very careful with what he ate or it would disagree with him. He was nervous and restless and didn't take an interest in anything. He was gradually growing weaker and took all kinds of medicines and treatments but nothing seemed to do him any good. We realized that he needed a good tonic and strength builder but couldn't seem to find the right medicine for him.

"We read so many local statements in the newspapers about the benefits people had derived from Orgatone and decided that he should try it. It seemed to be the right medicine for him, he is in much better health now than he has been for several years his general health is improved greatly. He can eat most anything he wants now and seems to be stronger and have more energy than he did. Orgatone has proven to be a mighty good system builder and tonic in my son's case and it has helped me more than anything else and both are glad to recommend it."

Genuine Orgatone may be bought at Lubbock at the Bowen's Drug Store.

Demanded German Dictatorship

Chancellor Heinrich Brüning, who led the German cabinet's demand on President Von Hindenburg (right) that the Reichstag be dissolved and a dictatorship installed to pass a financial bill the cabinet believed essential to the financial security of the nation. The measure calls for an additional income tax of two and a half per cent on taxpayers and civil service employees.

VISITING KIWANIANS HAVE PRAISE FOR LUBBOCK AND ITS ENTERTAINMENT OF CONVENTION; SOUTH PLAINS IS LAUDED

Numerous out of town delegates to the Kiwanis district convention, in session here the past two days, expressed themselves on the way Lubbock handled the convention and also this section of Texas. It was the first visit of many to the South Plains and all who in any way talked about this section, were astonished at the growth and development seen here.

"I was a very fine convention and I am more than pleased at the way Lubbock handled the entertainment," E. L. Mitchell, governor-elect declared. The district governor is a district judge at Clinton.

"I am proud of Lubbock and the Lubbock club and I will always revere for the bout. The suspension of the program, which was a very fine convention, E. L. Mitchell, chairman of the program.

"I have enjoyed it a great deal—a wonderful convention," L. A. McDonald, Denton, immediate past president.

"We have had wonderful entertainment at Lubbock," W. G. Johnson, Oklahoma City.

"I will ever forget the Lubbock convention," Edmond C. van Diest, Colorado Springs, international trustee.

"Lubbock has shown us a wonderful time," Leroy Olmstead, Dallas.

"I have enjoyed being in Lubbock and attending the convention. I would like to invite the Lubbock club to our Prescott convention," D. S. Robbins, Las Cruces, N. M.

Great Convention

"A great convention," M. H. Shepard, lieutenant governor, Chickasha.

"We will not soon forget the hospitality of Lubbock," Ernest C. Webb, lieutenant governor, Elk City.

Oran Houston, Oklahoma City: "This has been a good convention."

O. E. Winebrenner, Brownwood: "I have not been out in this country since 1923. Lubbock has made wonderful strides since then. We have enjoyed the meeting very very much."

Wonderful Trip

Frank Kean, from International office, Washington, D. C.: "This has been a wonderful trip out here."

Beth Holman, Amarillo: "The convention has been fine. It has been good, all except the attendance, which has not been what it was expected."

John L. King, district secretary-treasurer, Clinton: "The convention has been great."

J. N. Lewis, Oklahoma City: "It is very nice out here. We have had a nice convention."

Great Country This

Judge I. C. Saunders, Shawnee, Okla.: "This is a great country out here in West Texas. We have a number of people from our county who have come out here to live."

MIDDAGH CHANGED

FORT WORTH, Sept. 3 (AP)—E. A. Middagh, for eight years manager of the Swift and company plant here has been named manager of the packing plant of that company at Denver and will assume his duties Sept. 18. L. F. Swift, Jr., will succeed Middagh. Swift has been at Denver as manager for two years.

VENICE (AP)—Venice's first "biennial international music festival" will be held Sept. 8-15 with several concerts, three of orchestras, three of chamber music and one of a-lyric chorals.

Hereford Convict Is Held in Waco

WACO, Sept. 3 (AP)—Bill Reed of Hereford, one of five prisoners who escaped from the Bushland state prison farm Sunday night was held here today for prison authorities.

He was identified by fingerprints. The man was arrested when police came upon an automobile stolen from Temple.

Reed, who was sentenced from Tom Green county, had stepped in Waco to deliver a message to the wife of a fellow convict who did not escape, police said.

A LONG WAY!

Imaginary Line Causes Trouble In Extraditions

AUSTIN, Sept. 3 (AP)—It's a long way between states, some times, even though the distance is the width of an ordinary imaginary line. Take the case of Eugene Johnson and Jack Rachel, charged with violating the prohibition laws in Texas, Arkansas, Texas.

Instead of appearing for trial, Johnson and Rachel went to Texarkana, Arkansas, and refused to return without extradition papers. This necessitated a trip by messenger from Texarkana to Austin to get the papers, and from Austin to Little Rock, capital of Arkansas, thence back to Texarkana, Ark., to get the men.

So to extradite the two men across the imaginary line separating Texas, Arkansas, and Texas, Arkansas, required a messenger to travel approximately 1,000 miles.

The two extraditions were issued by Governor Moody.

Bushy Graham Gets In Trouble In Bout

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 3 (AP)—The Cincinnati boxing commission has called off the ten round boxing match scheduled for Thursday night between Fidel Labarta of Los Angeles, retired flyweight champion, and Bushy Graham of Utica, N. Y., and suspended Graham indefinitely.

Graham won a week's postponement on a plea of an injury in one shoulder and failed to get any training here for the bout, officials said. The National Boxing Association also will be asked to suspend Graham in its more than thirty states.

London, England, has prohibited the carrying of radio accumulators and batteries in the new municipal street cars.

FOUNDATION PLANS CAMPAIGN TO AID MEXICAN CHILDREN'S DAILY HEALTH

(By Associated Press)

OAKLAND, Calif., Sept. 3.—Dr. Lincoln Wirt, nationally known educator and lecturer, announced plans today for the rehabilitation of 7,000 rural schools in Mexico in conjunction with the Latham Foundation of this city.

Dr. Wirt's program includes furtherance of athletic activities, of medical knowledge and relief and the uplifting of educational standards through the placing of a "friendship health chest" in each of the schools.

"Poverty and disease is reaping a terrible harvest among school children in Mexico," Dr. Wirt said. "I hope our new program will aid in relieving those conditions and thus further the friendly relations between our country and Mexico."

Dr. Wirt said he became interested in the need of Mexican children for bare necessities during a tour of Mexico. Hundreds of children die annually, victims of poisonous snakes, he said, and rural schools are not equipped even with first aid kits.

The health chests which the foundation proposes to supply the schools will contain not only medical outfits and baby layettes but baseball and football equipment and athletic supplies.

The layettes, he added, may do something to relieve the high percentage of deaths of both mothers and babies in child birth and during the period afterward when hundreds of children die because of lack of sanitary equipment.

R. J. FIRESTONE DIES

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 3 (AP)—R. J. Firestone, 57, former sales manager and vice president of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., is dead at his home here. Death was caused by heart failure. He was a brother of Harvey S. Firestone, Sr., president of the tire concern.

Waiving preliminary hearing before Judge G. R. Scott, Johnnie Halley yesterday was released from the Lubbock county jail on $500 bond, charged with criminally assaulting a young woman.

Halley was arrested the night of August 24 and placed in custody of county officers. Complaint was filed the following day by the young woman, who in a signed statement to officers said the attack occurred in an automobile on a country road the night of August 22.

Radio communication under American control is to be established between the United States and China.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

When with their swim the bunch were through they thought the best thing they should do was run along the pretty bank and get some berries. Let's have a short race, let for fun. 'Twill pep us up, be-cause the sun' suggested little Cappy. Then he heard Wee Cloway's cry.

And so he added, "Oh, not you, you sure a race would never do you always are too late." You set wait and be a judge." "All right," said Cloway. "That suits me. It be as fair as I can be. Right here is where I'm going to sit. I promise I won't judge."

The Travel Man soon shouted, "Do!" And then he laughed out, "Ho, ho, ho!" Poor Cappy Tiny- mite had tripped and fallen in a sap. He then cried, "I'm too far behind so I won't race, but I'll try to think I'm pretty fast when I can smile instead of weep."

"You bet you are," the Travel Man snapped back at him. "And now you can stand right by me until the race is over. Who will win?" But, ere the lad could say a word the scampering of feet was heard. Nobody was "cause they were tied, when they came tearing in.

"Well, we have had enough of this. And there are things that we will miss, if we don't travel on our way," the Travel Man cried out. "You're right," the Tinymites confessed. And then the whole bunch quickly dressed "Oh, look! Here comes a funny cart," they soon heard Cappy shout.

The man who drove the cart cried, "He! If all of you are bound my way, I'll let you ride along with me. In town we'll soon arrive." "You bet! You bet!" the whole bunch roared, and then they promptly hopped aboard. Wee Cloway was real tickled when the kind man let him drive.

"The Tinymites meet a nice little girl in the next story."

WASP WAISTS WERE MODISH IN CAVE ERA, CHARLES G. DAWES IS FINDING

ated figures of wasp-waisted women (above) and crude animal bones (below) are found in prehistoric caves of France and Spain, said Ambassador Charles G. Dawes.

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—About 100 years ago one of the pre-historic periods studied by Charles Dawes in France and Spain—cave women were long skirts affected wasp waists.

The record of these styles was made by cave men artists, carved pieces of cave walls, frequently bell-shaped in color, brown and black. So perfectly preserved are they that sketches that scientists long doubted their antiquity, Ambassador Dawes has been getting the latest interpretations of their meaning under guidance of George Grant MacCurdy of the American School of Prehistoric Research.

Nothing in the gay nineties was like an hour glass waistline in some of the pictures of these girls.

Their skirts were fairly forming, except for a slight flare at the bottom.

These bodices varied in length in about the same knee-to-half-to-the-ankle modes as in 1930.

CHEWING GUM IS WORRY TO MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, (AP)—A chewing gum controversy has sprung up in Mexico.

Producers of the raw material used in government restrictions recently applied to their business a possible cause for loss of one of the country's sources of large income.

Most of the gum consumed by Americans is made from chicle produced in Campeche and Quintana Roo. There the large American manufacturers have for years bought the crude material from independent producers.

Now the government decrees that hereafter only cooperative organizations in which the producers share the profits derived from their chicle, may operate in Mexican territory.

A dispatch to the Mexico City newspaper Excelsior from Ciudad del Carmen Campeche center of the country's richest chicle zone, quotes some of the principal producers as opposing the government's decree.

They believe that American chewing gum manufacturers will abandon the Mexican chicle fields and develop sources of material in Central or South America, Excelsior's correspondent says.

MOVIE SHIPS 'CASHING IN' ON YEARS SPENT ON WATERS

BY HUBBARD KEAVY (Associated Press Staff Writer) HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Big movie ships earn more per day than most Hollywood actors.

It costs $1,000 a day to rent some of the big three and four-masted vessels. Their "it" comes from hectic years on the high seas as rum runners, whalers and relief ships to ice-trapped vessels in the frozen north.

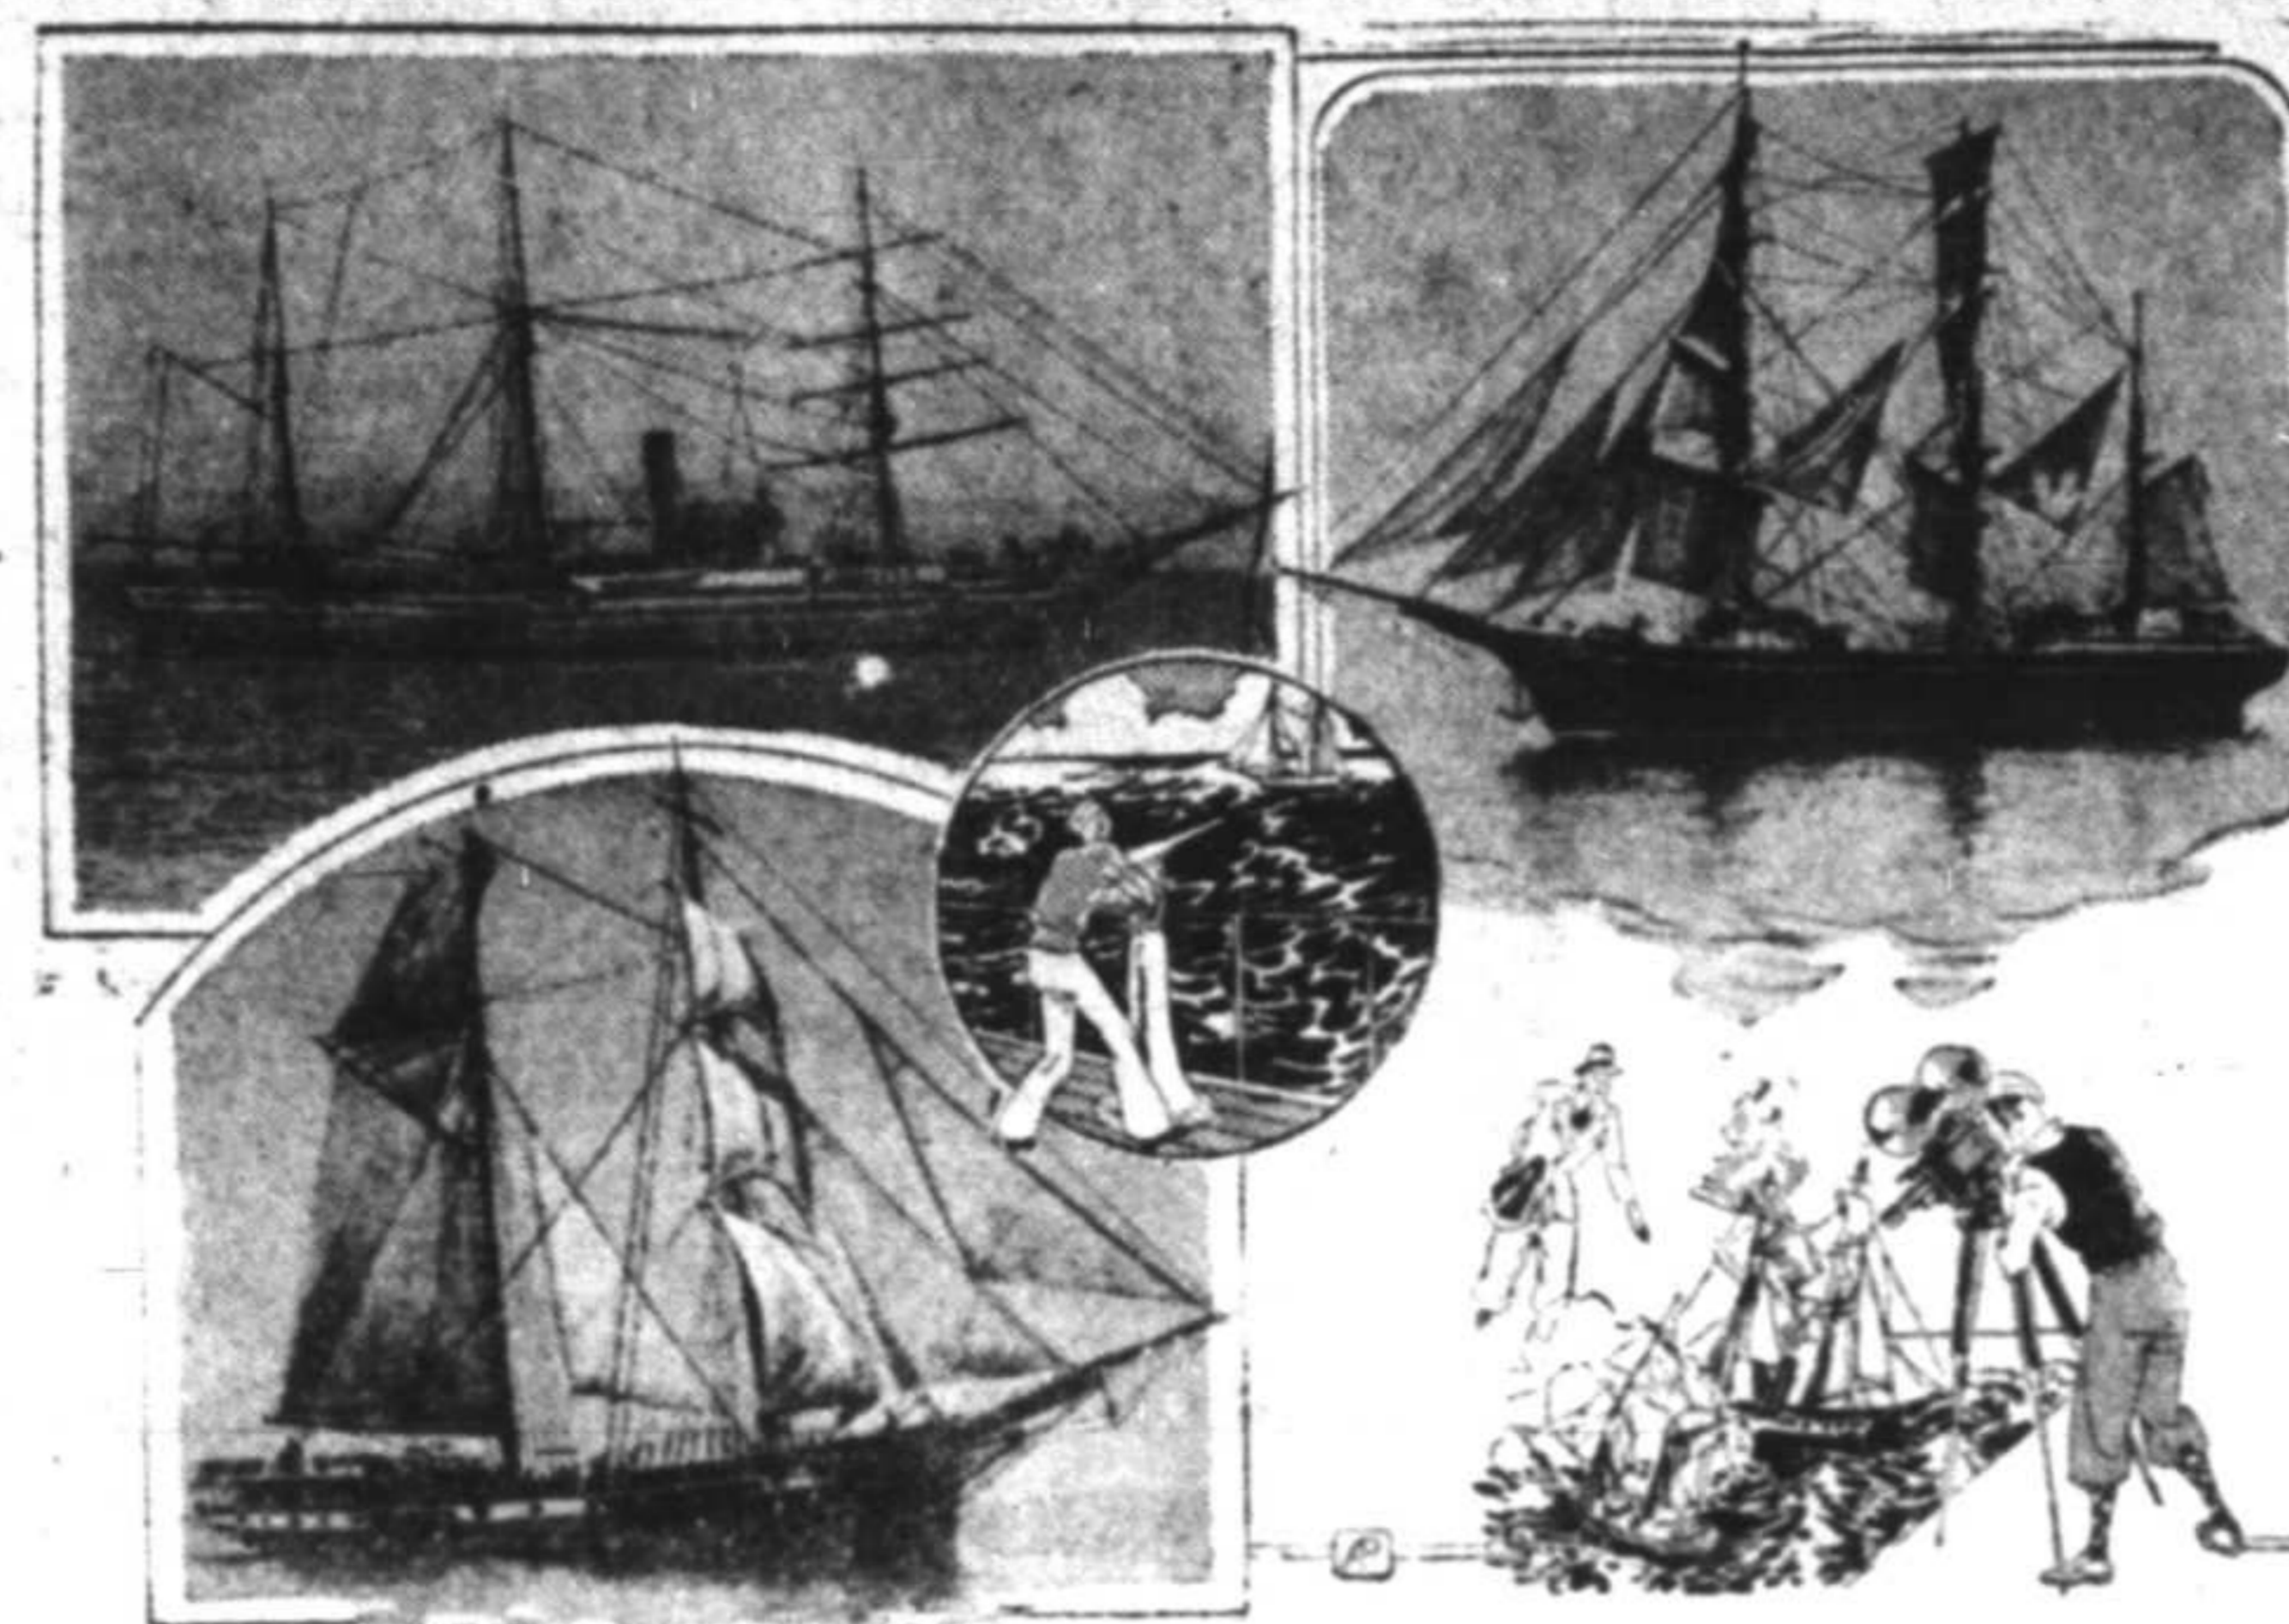

Aged and sea-worn now, their background thus makes the authentic "props" for actors in the guise of pirates, princesses or whalers. They still are seaworthy enough for short cruises in calm waters. And seldom are they subjected to storms and gales. Usually when sea storms are depicted on the screen the "harassment" ships are miniature that sail on studio ponds.

The Bear, oldest of these vessels, was launched in 1874 in Scotland as a whaler. After failure of the Greeley relief expedition in 1882 the Bear, with two other craft, rescued the castaways.

In 1885 it became the property of the United States revenue cutter service, now the coast guard, and from then until 1928 it carried supplies and mail to Alaska and rescued ice-trapped vessels. Now it belongs to the city of Oakland, Calif.

The Lily, a two-masted schooner, is the largest of several ex-rum-runners now following a less hectic existence. It was a liquor carrier for five years under Nicaraguan registry when it was captured and confiscated in 1921 by the Canadian government.

A studio bought it from Canada and it has been used in "The Single Standard," "The Ship from Shanghai" and other pictures. Ship models frequently used are the Santa Clara and the Indiana.

Oldest of movie ships is the Bear (upper left) once a whaler, while the Lily (lower left) is the largest of former rum-runners now in pictures. The Norwalk (upper right) began whale hunting 47 years ago. Tiny ships in studio ponds, however, usually are used for movie sea storms (sketch).

the Santa Clara and the Indiana's trip around the world in it, but built in Bath, Me., and launched in 1874. They originally carried freight from Boston around the Horn to China.

A whale was honored when the Norwalk was named. It is a 500-ton barkentine and began whale hunting 47 years ago. An ambitious adventurer got long ago started on the water in Chester, Pa. in 1884. It carried passengers and freight to Alaska for years.

Apparently a ship's happy hunting ground is Hollywood.

Dens of retired and semi-retired fish, lumber and whaling schooners and one-time rum-running craft of all descriptions are in nearby ports awaiting a call.

EXPERTS ADVISE QUICK CROPS TO RECOUP FARM LOSSES IN DROUGHT; "BEAT DROUGHT AFTER IT'S OVER" IS TO BE MOTTO OF FARMERS; DATA ON LATE PLANTING TRICKS IS FURNISHED

BY FRANK L. WELLES (Associated Press Staff Writer) WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—(Special)

WASHINGTON—Emergency food and feed crops—the best known to the nation—had supremacy of three of the oldest bureaus in the department of agriculture—have been brought into the immediate foreground of the national drought-relief program.

Recommendations to be followed as soon as rain softens the best-hammered fields and gardens just have been formulated.

They resulted from studies originally instituted for the development of means to forestall unnecessary depletion of breeding stock and prevent the loss of valuable animals and birds. The protective corn yield to 40 percent of normal and burned up 70 percent of the pasture.

Dean of the collaborators, the bureau of animal industry, had 30 years of history to turn to for suggestions. The bureau of dairy industry, once a part of the animal industry division, had almost the same.

The bureau of plant industry, organized in 1902, had rich experience with effects of the 1901 drought from which to draw recommendations for food crops when the drought's persistence endangered more than feed grains.

Concerned first with the more serious shortage of livestock feed, the bureau recommended fall-sown pastures, emergency hay crops and maximum use of roughage to get stock through the winter and early spring. Winter wheat, rye and barley, they said, make excellent late fall and early spring pastures.

A 10-year experiment on the government farm at Beltsville, Md., shows that an acre of fall-sown wheat or barley will supply good grazing for 10 mature sheep for 27 days.

Rye provides pasture for 18 days. One advantage of rye is that it is less likely to winter-kill.

In many localities these crops can be grazed carefully in winter and early spring, then allowed to mature a rain crop of pretty much any variety of rye make much more pasture than northern-grown rye.

Corn stubble ground may be prepared quickly and satisfactorily with a disk harrow. A little more seed may be planted than usual, and a fertilizer applied, preferably one rich in nitrogen, to induce quick and luxuriant growth.

Oats Good In South Winter oats may be preferable to rye as a pasture crop in the southern part of the drought-stricken area. Advice on this matter, the bureau suggests, should be obtained from county agricultural extension agents or state experiment stations.

In the lower half of the corn belt and the south—if rain comes so that seeding can be made on or before August 26—such crops as millet, sudan grass and cowpeas are a reasonably safe risk for making hay before frost. These crops may be pastured or may be cut and fed fresh from the field to animals in lots or barns, a practice known as "topping."

Rye and vetch in the northern part of the drought area, and rye, winter oats and vetch in southern sections, may be seeded in the fall and cut in the late spring for hay if the weather is promising for hay-making; or pastured if it is not.

The use of vetch should not be attempted, the bureau said, unless local experience indicates that it can be grown successfully.

Don't Forget Silo All the corn crop that will not mature and that has not become too dry should be turned into silage. Good silage should contain not less than 80 percent moisture. Only an expert can tell from a superficial examination what the moisture content is particularly of importance in spring planting. A simple moisture test, recommended by the bureau, can be made with a stalk of corn taken from a representative field. Cut it in half-inch lengths, they said, and weigh out exactly 25 pounds. Then thoroughly by spreading a thin layer in the sun or place in a moderately heated oven, being careful not to char it.

If the dried material weighs more than 10 pounds the corn in the field from which it was taken is too dry to put in the silo without the addition of water.

What has been said of corn applies also to the sorghums. Both the sweet sorghum and the grain sorghums are excellent silage feeds, and many cattlemen in the Great Plains area store them at small expense in pit or trench silos.

Stack Under Cover Such roughages as corn fodder and straw should be stored under cover to prevent the serious loss of palatability and food nutrients through exposure to sun and rain.

The edible portion of nicely cured corn fodder compares well with timothy hay as a feed for dairy cows.

LAMBS SHOW INCREASE AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—An increase of approximately 1,000,000 in the number of lambs in the 13 western range states this year is reported by the United States department of agriculture here. There are 18,724,000 lambs in the area, it is estimated, a gain of 9.5 percent over 1929.
