Permian Basin OIL & GAS LOG

MGF Slates Scurry Probe

MGF Oil Corp., Midland, intends to drill a 7,500-foot wildcat in North Scurry County, as No. 1 West.

Location is 725 feet from most northerly south line (Approximately 4,900 feet from north line) and 1,835 feet from west line of section 445 block 97, H&TC survey, one location southwest of the depleted Cogdell, Southeast (Canyon) opener.

Casing Cemented At Gaines Venture

Union Texas Petroleum Corp. was waiting on cement after setting 5½-inch casing at 11,446 feet, total depth, for completion attempt at No. 1 Page, Gaines County wildcat, 15 miles east of Seminole.

A drillstem test in the lower Strawn from 11,250-14,230 feet, recovered 100 feet of 43.2-gravity oil, 1,600 feet of slightly gas-cut water blanket, 150 feet of salt water-cut drilling fluid and 1,220 feet of salt water.

Previous drillstem test from 11,320-11,350 feet recovered 1,000 feet of oil-and gas-cut water blanket, 400 feet of 45-gravity oil, 1,200 feet of oil-and gas-cut drilling fluid, 200 feet of salt water and 100 feet of salty drilling mud.

Still earlier, it recovered 311 feet of gas, 10 feet of 28-gravity oil and 85 feet of gas-oil-cut drilling fluid on a drillstem test from 8,600-8,750 feet.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of labor 1, league 303, Dawson CSL survey.

Eddy Field Gets Morrow Extension

An undesignated multipay sector of Eddy County, N.M., gained its fourth Morrow well and a ½-mile northwest extension to that pay with completion of Champlin Petroleum Co. No. 1 Reeves-Federal, six miles southeast of Carlsbad.

Calculated, absolute open flow was for 1.738 million cubic feet of gas per day. Production was through Morrow perforations at 11,430-11,682 feet. Amount of treatment, if any, was not reported.

Location is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 35-21s-27e.

Extender Finals In Eddy Region

Amoco Production Co. has completed No. 1-L Midwest-Federal (formerly Midwest No. 1-L Federal), as a ¾-mile northwest extension to Morrow production in the Carlsbad, South field of Eddy County, N.M.

A final flowing gauge of 4.5 million cubic feet per day, plus 20 barrels of water in 24 hours, was reported. Production was through a ¾-inch choke and

Congress Will Get Spending Reduction Package This Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress will get a $20 billion package of proposed reductions and postponements of spending by the end of this week and an additional $4 billion package within the next few days, Roy L. Ash, director of the Office of Management and Budget, said today.

Ash told the new House Budget Committee "you will have plenty of work to do."

He did not specify the items President Ford will propose for cancelled or postponed funding, although he did say the two packages would embrace about 100 separate items.

The new budget law, which also created the committee, specifies that the President may not on his own authority refuse to spend money appropriated by Congress. He must file a report recommending cut offs and can temporarily halt spending, but unless Congress backs his recommendation within 45 days, the funds are released.

When the President merely proposes to postpone spending, the postponement holds unless Congress vetoes it.

Hewing close to the administration line that reductions in government spending are a major element in fighting inflation, Ash told the committee there is only about $15 billion in the $305 billion spending budget that is fully controllable and subject to reduction.

Accordingly, he said, no one big cut can be made and economies must be sought all along the line.

Several committee members pressed Ash for instances to back what the administration contends are threats to the budget because of high spending by Congress.

He contended there have been congressional reductions in estimates of amounts that would be spent under existing programs, but at the same time new programs would be written that would require spending — and therefore supplemental appropriations later.

The pending trade bill, Ash said, carries a provision for readjustment benefits to U.S. workers disadvantaged by imports. He said this could cost $600 million in a year.

Several more hundreds of millions of dollars spending

Tall City's Chance Of Rain Down

By The Associated Press

Overflowing creeks gushed inside homes and business places today at Abilene in West Central Texas, and floods threatened other areas as weeklong rains dealt the state further punishment.

The flooding, which claimed another life Wednesday, promised additional woes as widespread showers and thunderstorms continued across roughly the western third of Texas.

Huge patches of blue began appearing in the sky above the Tall City about mid-morning today and the National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal said the chance for more rain this afternoon is only 40 per cent.

The weatherman said there would be even less chance Friday when a 30 per cent precipitation chance is offered.

So, after four days of almost continuous rain, sometimes hard and sometimes light and slow, it may be clearing up in the Permian Basin where unofficial four-day totals have reached as much as 12 inches.

The 12 inches of rain has been gauged at McCamey during the last four days, with nine inches of it falling from 9 p.m. Wednesday to today noon.

A spokesman for the Shell Pipeline Corp. at McCamey said all roads south of McCamey are closed, with the Pecos River leaving its banks.

At one spot near the river, seven miles southwest of McCamey on the Bakersfield highway, the Tippett gasoline plant has been shutdown by high water.

The Weather Service's gauge has caught only 2.44 inches of moisture during the last four days, but private gauges in the Tall City have totaled more than four inches. The measuring glass atop The Reporter-Telegram picked up 1.10 inch of rain from 11 a.m. Wednesday to 11 a.m. today, with much of it falling from 5 a.m. to 8 a.m.

The Reporter-Telegram measurement at presstime stood at 4.10 inches for the last four days.

Assistant City Manager Fred Poe said when the drying process sets in the city will find many new chug holes in the streets.

Streets In Bad Shape

"Some of our streets are going to be in bad shape," Poe said.

He ponited out that due to a critical shortage of paving materials needed repairs brought on by the heavy freeze two years ago had not been made when the rains came.

"The city has approved the repairs, money is available for them, but we have been unable to purchase supplies," Poe said.

From the standpoint of drainage, Poe said Midland is not experiencing serious difficulty, although some motorists have found that going too fast

Some Independent Stations Cut Gas Price 13 Cents

NEW YORK (AP) — Independent gasoline stations are dropping pump prices as much as 13 cents a gallon, cutting into sales of many higher-priced, major brand dealers, an Associated Press survey shows.

"There's definitely some easing of price all around, especially in the wholesale price available to independents," says Dan Lundberg of the Lundberg Survey of national retail gasoline prices.

"Two months ago, the market for independent gasoline had almost dried up, but now it's open again," says a spokesman for the St. Louis-based Society of Independent Gasoline Marketers.

"Independent refiners who sell to the independent retailers are getting more imported crude and more of the cheaper domestic crude which the majors have to sell off out of their inventories through the (federal) allocation system."

"As a result, the independents' price has dropped 4 to 5 cents a gallon generally, and they're passing it along to the customer. Some independents are going one step further and cutting their profit margins down to build up the sales volume they lost to the majors during the gasoline shortage."

Industry gasoline supply figures indicate that there is more of the fuel in stock this year than the same time last year, but demand is holding about even with last year's level. This means that the majors are having trouble selling all their gasoline through their own outlets.

Many dealers say the increased supply of gasoline has come from conservation by motorists. But some dealers say the major oil companies are purposely holding prices at high levels to boost their profits. This has acted as a deterrent to retail sales, which helps supplies but hurts business, they say.

"I guess they're more concerned with their stockholders than they are about their dealers and their customers," says a Phillips Petroleum dealer in Topeka, Kan.

In Louisiana, where independents have cut prices about five cents a gallon this summer, Exxon dealer Munroe Reed of New Orleans says, "Their lower prices are hurting me and brand dealers like me."

Reed says he and other Exxon dealers have complained for a month to Exxon to lower prices in their area but have seen no results.

Gasoline in Charlotte, N.C., is down 13 cents a gallon from its peak and is selling at 45.7 cents a gallon at independent stations. Major brands are still selling at 58.7 cents a gallon.

Exxon dealer James Robinson of Charlotte complains that his sales are down 25 per cent as customers desert him for lower priced gas. He says Exxon has suggested he stay open

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President-designate Nelson A. Rockefeller said today that his personal fortune is $62.5 million, and that he receives in addition income from trusts with total assets of $120 million.

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — Hurricane Fifi slammed into the Caribbean coast of Honduras today with 110 mile-per-hour winds, and the government radio said at least 14 persons were killed.

Oil Allowable Set Full

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission set the October oil production allowable at 100 per cent today, the 31st straight month it has been pegged at the maximum.

Total U.S. crude oil stocks are 55.6 million barrels above the same figure a year ago, and Jim Langdon, commission chairman, said much of the credit belongs to conservation by consumers.

Langdon was cautiously optimistic because of the higher reserves. There are many things that could change the picture, such as another Arab oil embargo, a cold winter or a coal strike, he said.

"But barring all of these, I think we can get through this winter without undue hardship," he said.

Major buyers of Texas crude increased their nominations by 18,511 barrels a day from September to 4,092,783 in October.

DON'T WANT CAUSE HURT—

Terrorists Unaccepted By Palestinians

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Both the Palestinian leadership and the Syrian government sought today to disassociate the guerrilla movement from the Japanese Red Army terrorists who held 11 persons hostage in the French Embassy in the Netherlands.

The Paris office of the Palestine Liberation Organization said the PLO "never asked the Syrian authorities to hand over the three men and had nothing to do with The Hague affair."

The Syrian government earlier backed off from an announcement that the terrorists were in PLO custody for the time being.

Observers felt the Syrian and PLO moves were aimed at keeping the Palestinian cause from being hurt at a time when the Palestinians are campaigning for U.N. recognition as a liberation movement.

The French Boeing 707 airliner which carried the terrorists to Damascus arrived safely back at Amsterdam airport, and the three crew members were to be received by Queen Juliana in recognition of their service.

The plane carried the three terrorists and a fourth they got freed from a French jail to Damascus on Wednesday. The Syrian government at first said the four would remain in PLO custody until they decided where they wanted to go next.

But late Wednesday a government statement said the terrorists "were delivered with their weapons and other belongings to the competent Syrian security authorities."

There was no word on where they were being held or what country might accept them.

Observers believed the government might be trying to keep the leaders of the Palestinian guerrilla movement from incurring the anger of the French, Dutch and Japanese governments at a time when the Palestinians are campaigning for the United Nations General Assembly to recognize them as a liberation movement instead of a group of refugee organizations.

The Japanese arrived in Damascus Wednesday after an 18-hour flight from The Hague to Aden to the Syrian capital. They surrendered to Syrian authorities after being promised safe conduct to a country of their choice.

Before leaving the French Boeing 707 jet that flew them from the Netherlands to Syria, the Japanese handed $300,000 in

Congressional Leaders Briefed On Covert Operations Of CIA

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger conferred with nine congressional leaders over breakfast today on the Central Intelligence Agency's covert operations.

The controversy over CIA actions in Chile prompted the 90-minute meeting in the White House residence dining room.

The congressional leaders left the White House grounds with waves, but no comment, for newsmen. White House spokesmen said they had no details on what was discussed.

Kissinger said Wednesday that he would join Ford in giving a detailed account of CIA operations to the congressional leaders saying, "We ... will put it before them in detail ... and ask them, 'what do you want to do?'"

Attending the meeting were Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, Senate GOP leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, House Speaker Carl Albert of Oklahoma, House Republican leader John Rhodes of Arizona, House Democratic leader Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. of Massachusetts and the chairmen and ranking Republican members of the Senate and House Armed Services Committee — Sens. John Stennis, D-Miss., and Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., and Reps. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., and William G. Bray, R-Ind.

Kissinger Expects To Reach Accord With Russians On Freer Emigration

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said today he expects to reach an understanding with the Soviet Union allowing freer emigration from that nation.

But, Kissinger said, freedom of emigration should not be a precondition for stronger economic ties with the Soviets. Such a policy might revive the cold war atmosphere of postwar years, he said.

Kissinger gave his views in a foreign policy statement before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which is conducting hearings on the policy of detente with Communist countries.

Kissinger also defended existing agreements with the Soviet Union on the limitations of strategic nuclear weapons and declared the goal of future Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT) is to achieve "essential equivalence" in the strategic forces of the two superpowers.

"We are now moving toward an understanding with the Soviet Union that should significantly diminish the obstacles to emigration and ease the hardship of prospective emigrants," Kissinger said.

He said those who demand that "internal changes in the Soviet Union must be the precondition for the pursuit of a relaxation of tensions with the Soviet Union" are wrong.

"Our view is different. We shall insist on responsible international behavior by the Soviet Union and use it as the primary index of our relationship ... But we cannot demand that the Soviet Union, in effect, suddenly reverse five decades of Soviet, and centuries of Russian history. Such an attempt would be futile and at the same

Sawhill Says Demand For Electricity Must Be Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Future supplies of electricity will be in jeopardy unless the growing demand for power is curbed and utilities are put back on a sound financial footing, Federal Energy Administrator John C. Sawhill warned today.

Almost $9 billion worth of new power generating projects have been canceled as of last month by utilities suffering low earnings and a financial crisis, Sawhill said.

"Even more alarming, two-thirds of the new generating capacity being canceled is nuclear power. Such drastic steps cut deeply into future capacity and harbinger higher consumer costs," he told an FEA electric utilities conference attended by state utility commissioners and representatives of consumer and environmental groups, the utility industry and the financial community.

"If we don't act resolutely, we could reach, within the decade, the point where consumers won't be able to buy electricity at any price," Sawhill said in a prepared speech.

Flying, Racing Old Jets Becomes New Sport Of Rich

By STEPHEN FOX
Associated Press Writer

The vast brown plain of the Mojave Desert rotated slowly below as the middle-aged, helmeted pilot rolled his gleaming silver Korean War vintage T33 jet trainer over and over.

"I wanted to fly jets in the Air Force, but my eyes were too bad," Leroy Penhall was saying as he straightened out the jet. "So I told myself I'd have to go out and buy one. I guess I overdid it."

He now owns nine of the jets.

The one he was flying cruised along at 12,000 feet, at 450 miles per hour. His interviewer was in the rear seat, holding down breakfast as Penhall gently rolled and looped the venerable T-bird.

A ruddy-faced, 44-year-old multimillionaire building contractor from the beach city of Balboa, Calif., he's one of a handful of men in the United States who get their kicks flying old jet trainers and fighter planes.

It's a new sport — only a few years old — and strictly for the rich. The T33 Penhall flew, for example, sells for about $100,000 and burns $100 worth of fuel an hour.

All the civilian jet jockeys are former propeller plane pilots. Most of them used to race — some still do — in a league of such World War II fighters as the Corsair, the Hellcat and the famous P51 Mustang.

Penhall used to race the old warbirds "but I just don't feel safe racing prop planes any more," he says. "When an engine blows you just don't pull over to the curb."

He patted the black instrument console in front of him and said, "With these beauties you can run all day at 100 per cent power and never worry about engine failure. There are practically no moving parts."

Penhall graduated to prop planes after winning several world speed titles in motorboats. He quit boats in 1966. "I was racing four inboards at the same time . . . it was overexposure, I guess."

Last October he sponsored the first jet plane race in 27 years at the California Air Classic — and won in the T33 category with an average speed of 519 miles per hour.

Penhall also owns Fighter Imports Inc. at Chino, 35 miles east of Los Angeles, the only company in the United States selling war surplus jets. He started in 1971 after Gary Levitz of Dallas, scion of a furniture-making family, bought a T33 Penhall built from surplus parts.

In 1972, Penhall concluded a deal with the Canadian government to buy used T33s, a plane in which U.S. pilots trained for the faster F86s in the early 1950s. He plunked down close to $1 million for 18 T33s, nine of which have been resold.

T33s were built in Canada and other countries under agreements with Lockheed Aircraft Corp. The 18 were up for sale.

"I said, I'll take them all.' " says Penhall, "but they took an awful good look at me. They want to be sure no one is gathering these up for a banana war."

There are about 40 civilian-owned used jets in the United States now, 10 T33s sold by Fighter Imports, the rest F86s and other models built from surplus parts or imported by private buyers. Many are owned by commercial jet pilots. The FAA requires prop-qualified pilots to pass stringent written exams qualifying them for jets.

While most of the men racing jets have extensive aviation backgrounds, there are a number of well-heeled businessmen who use their jets like second cars — or second planes.

Gary Levitz, who also races, is one.

Others include Jack Ormes, a Van Nuys, Calif., attorney who bought a T33 to go with his two prop planes, and Tom McMullen, a Placentia, Calif., motorcycle owner who bought a T33 "because I wanted to be a neat guy.

"Let's face it," says McMullen, who painted his jet with flames before switching it to white and purple, "any kind of plane except a business plane is a hero thing. Some guy might wear wild clothes to stand out in a crowd. Me, I go up and play with the clouds.

"The jet has to be the Walter Mitty thing for the private pilot."

Three T33s and three F86s competed in separate races at the California Air Classic at Mojave, which drew 30,000 spectators who stood in scorching heat to watch the 400-m.p.h. prop planes and the jets whistle by. They also saw one pilot drill into the hard desert sand from 5,000 feet after his Bearcat propeller plane's engine caught fire.

Bob Laidlaw, a test pilot with more than 3,000 hours in jets, says he races "for the thrill of it. I like the spirit of competition. You're flying under the toughest jet environment there is."

Laidlaw won the F86 race at Mojave with an average speed of 636 m.p.h. Like the other jet racers, he kept his plane about 50 feet off the ground over the 15-mile oval course, marked by candy-striped pylons.

Although F86s were raced at Mojave, Penhall doesn't plan to try it again. He hopes to have more and more T33s competing, eventually forming a class.

"The F86s are just too fast," Penhall says. "You can easily exceed the plane's structural envelope and not know it until the tail comes off."

longer to try to sell more gas, but the company won't cut prices.

Ohio dealers report price skirmishes between offbrand dealers in Detroit and Cincinnati, but major brands aren't lowering their prices.

In New Hampshire, station owners in Manchester say competition has reduced prices to 50.9 cents a gallon from 56 cents.

Bodies Of Three El Pasoans Found In Plane Wreckage

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — The bodies of three El Paso men have been recovered from the wreckage of a single-engine plane missing since late Tuesday, a Texas Department of Public Safety spokesman said.

The three victims were identified as William Ellis Green 48, Don H. Darnell, 31, and Arthur G. Fleming, 33.

The spokesman said the wreckage was found Wednesday in Hudspeth County off Farm Road 1111 about 22 miles south of U.S. 62-180.

A search had been conducted since the plane disappeared Tuesday around 7:00 p.m. The trio was attempting to return to El Paso after encountering bad weather en route to Fort Stockton.

time hazard all that has already been achieved . . . A renewal of the cold war will hardly encourage the Soviet Union to change its emigration policies or adopt a more benevolent attitude towards dissent," Kissinger said.

On SALT negotiations, Kissinger said that the limitation on MIRVs (multiple independently targeted warheads) will be "an essential component of the next phase of the SALT negotiations" which began in Geneva Wednesday.

He said that to determine "essential equivalence" of strategic capabilities will be a most difficult task primarily because U.S. and Soviet forces are different from each other . . . they are difficult to compare.

We shall have to decide whether to insist on equivalance in every category or whether to permit trade-offs in which an advantage in one category compensates for a disadvantage in another."

'MILK AND HONEY'—
Lady Bird Says LBJ Enjoyed Retired Years

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson says she and her husband had four years of "milk and honey" after he retired from the presidency.

In an article for the Ladies Home Journal, Mrs. Johnson said the media picture that President Johnson retired to Texas to "lick his wounds" was all wrong. She said the picture of an unhappy former President could have been corrected by "bringing journalists into our lives more, letting them see that times were good for us."

The former first lady said that by March 1969, after Johnson left the White House in January, "the angina, his heart pain, was a recurring event.

"He'd pretty much spent his health but not his love and vitality and spirit," she continued. "He felt, deep in his bones, that increasing health problems were coming, and they did. So there were no more 18-hour days, just spurts of work when he felt like it."

Johnson's daughter, Lynda Robb, joined the interview to say that in retirement her father was "much kinder to his enemies than I would have been—that I am, even."

"Everybody seemed to decide in advance that he would retire feeling bitter. So even I was surprised to find he wasn't," Mrs. Robb said.

"Those retirement years were marvelous years; my children got to know him, and I think that's a blessing."

ransom money and their pistols to the volunteer crew, two Dutchmen and a Briton.

"It is all over," French embassy Secretary Maurice Courage told newsmen. "They have surrendered themselves to the PLO."

The return of the ransom money and the safety of the plane crew were the Syrian government's principal conditions for allowing the Japanese to stay in Damascus temporarily, a Syrian spokesman said.

The crew flew the plane back to The Hague today but without the money. The French, Dutch and Syrian governments agreed not to risk the money on a plane "with only three tired crewmen aboard," French Ambassador Andrei Negre told newsmen.

He said the arrangements would be made to return the money on a government-to-government basis.

The three gunmen occupied the embassy in The Hague last Friday and took as hostages the ambassador, eight other men and two young women employed at the embassy.

Terrorists Strike Again In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Fifteen terrorists killed a company manager and a chauffeur today and kidnaped two brothers who own one of Argentina's biggest grain firms, police said.

The deaths were the 11th and 12th in Buenos Aires since last weekend.

The terrorists wedged several cars into the path of a limousine carrying Juan and Jorge Born, directors of the Bunge and Born Co. They were accompanied by their manager and bodyguards en route to their offices in Buenos Aires from La Lucila, a northern suburb.

Police said the Born brothers' bodyguards opened fire in an attempt to prevent the kidnaping, but the terrorists fired back, killing chauffeur Juan Carlos Perez and Alberto Bosch, the manager.

The Born brothers were then dragged from their car and driven away.

Hurricane Fifi Dumps Heavy Rains

MIAMI (AP) — Torrential rains from Hurricane Fifi drenched the mountainous coast of Honduras today as the big storm and its sustained winds of 110 miles per hour headed for a landfall in Central America.

Portions of Costa Rica, Guatemala and Belize were also being pounded by the heavy rains. Flooding streams washed out roads and bridges in parts of Honduras. Air traffic in both Honduras and Costa Rica was at a standstill.

The season's third hurricane was expected to make landfall late today near the border of Guatemala and Belize, formerly British Honduras.

Midland 4-Hers Set Horse Clinic, Sunday Playday

Midland 4-H members this weekend have scheduled a horse clinic on Saturday followed by a Sunday playday.

B. F. Yates and Gary Potter, horse specialists from Texas A&M University, will be on hand for the clinic, which is set for 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the livestock arena behind the exhibit building on East Highway 80.

Covered in the clinic will be horse grooming, showmanship at halter and performance. Designed to aid 4-H members and adults, it is free of charge and open to the public.

The playday, originally scheduled for Saturday and rescheduled for a day later due to the clinic, will begin at 2 p.m.

Events include showmanship at halter, western pleasure, western riding, poles, barrels and flags. Competitors will be divided according to ages—8 and under, 9 through 12 years, 13 through 15 years, 16 through 18 years, and 19 and older.

Crime-Fighting Agency Hires Resigned Boss As Consultant

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal crime-fighting agency has quietly hired its former boss as a $135-a-day consultant for up to three months despite his resignation in a political dispute last June.

Donald E. Santarelli remains on the payroll of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration as a "special government employe," LEAA and Justice Department officials acknowledged in response to questions Wednesday.

On June 1, Santarelli resigned as head of the agency after suggesting publicly that Richard M. Nixon should quit the presidency because of the Watergate scandal.

Nixon accepted the resignation but asked Santarelli to remain until a successor was chosen. A former deputy administrator, Richard W. Velde, was sworn into the $40,000-a-year top job on Sept. 5.

Two weeks later, Santarelli still is working in the office he occupied as administrator.

LEAA officials reluctantly disclosed that Santarelli has been authorized to work from Aug. 29 to Nov. 28 although he may leave before then.

The agreement with Santarelli was worked out while LEAA's internal investigators launched a probe of the agency's policies on the employment of consultants. Those policies produced complaints from career workers and prompted additional investigations by the Justice Department and General Accounting Office.

Santarelli's $135 daily fee was said to be the standard payment for LEAA consultants. A full work week would give Santarelli $675, about $90 a week less than the administrator earns.

In an interview, Santarelli said he is working "as a general consultant to the administration for a few days."

He then plans to enter private law practice in Washington, but "I have not made final arrangements with a law firm," he said.

MORE THAN $8.8 MILLION—
Boston Revises Upward Busing Cost Estimates

BOSTON (AP) — Boston officials say court-ordered school integration is likely to cost the city millions of dollars.

School Supt. William Leary says his staff is revising upward an earlier estimate of $8.8 million needed to carry out the desegregation plan.

Deputy Mayor Robert Kiley says police overtime already has cost $100,000 and may cost as much as $2 million, even if only a small extra force is assigned to troubled South Boston for a few months.

This was the sixth day the schools have been desegregated.

A white boycott of South Boston High School remained strong Wednesday. Although police lined bus routes, there was no recurrence of the rock-throwing incidents that broke out last week.

Only 78 of 1,031 white pupils assigned to the school attended classes on Wednesday, 16 more than attended the day before. Of 380 blacks assigned there, 149 went to school Wednesday, a gain of 26 students.

Attendance citywide rose to just over 75 per cent Wednesday, with 61,479 out of a projected total enrollment of 81,752 pupils in school. Officials said the enrollment was gaining by about 3 per cent a day.

In South Boston, a rock was thrown through the windshield of a police car; and in the predominatly white Roslindale section, about 40 black pupils walked out of an intermediate school after a fight broke out between small groups of blacks and whites. Four white pupils were injured slightly.

Total construction and equipment costs are expected to exceed $18,000,000, with funds obtained from the 1970 Lubbock County bond issue and tax levies together with an $8,000,000 Hill Burton loan and $1,000,000 in Hill-Burton grants.

Connecticut introduced a bill designed to provide strong congressional review of the CIA and other intelligence organizations.

Their bill would establish a Senate-House committee to check on intelligence agencies.

The White House meeting followed Ford's disclosure at a news conference Monday that the CIA had financed efforts to bolster opposition to the since-overthrown government of Marxist President Salvador Allende. Ford denied the CIA was involved in the coup which toppled the Allende government.

Ash said that action now under way on the defense appropriations bill would appear to reduce spending $1.7 billion below the budget.

"Further cuts in defense spending are unwarranted," Ash said.

Evel To Get Less Than $3 Million

BUTTE, Mont. (AP) — Poet Evel Knievel says his abortive Snake River Canyon jump will bring him only something less than $3 million, only one-third the amount he had said he would earn.

But he's not complaining. "What the hell, I'm still alive. I have the blue Montana sky. What do I need all that money for?" said Knievel as he relaxed in his hometown Wednesday.

Flooding Spreads In West Texas

through the water can cause drownouts.

The maximum temperature in Midland Wednesday was 72, and the low this morning was 65. The maximum this afternoon and Friday should be in the middle 70s, with tonight's low near 60.

A 7.41 inch, four-day fall had been recorded at Big Lake, with 2.45 inch hitting the ground from 8 a.m. Wednesday to 8 a.m. today.

At Garden City, 3.75 inches of moisture fell during the 48-hour period ending today noon.

The Upton County sheriff's department at Rankin said 3.50 inches of rain fell from dusk Wednesday to 8 a.m. today, one of the heaviest concentrated falls in several years.

At Lamesa, an inch of rain had fallen from 6 p.m. to 10 a.m. today and moisture still was falling slowly at noon.

The Stanton measurement overnight was up to two inches, with about three inches being reported 17 miles north of the city.

At Sterling City, where five inches of rain fell Tuesday and Tuesday night, another 1½ were added during the 24 hours ended at 10 a.m. today.

The Department of Public Safety reported this morning that U.S. 290 three miles east and three miles west of Bakersfield is closed, with U.S. 67 between Girvin and the Pecos River also closed.

U.S. 67 also is closed about midway between Rankin and Big Lake, and several farm to market roads in the area are closed.

Texas 29 near Iraan is closed due to a bridge washout on the Pecos River.

Water rose as much as five feet deep in some of the numerous streets which were blocked on Abilene's south and northwest sides as a record crest of nearly 18 feet—compared to the previous high of 12.6 feet—tumbled down Elm Creek.

City Manager John Sandlin said it was necessary to evacuate nearly 150 families in addition to about that many others who moved to higher ground in other parts of Abilene the day before.

Police said water lapping into houses and some business places generally was less than a foot deep and there was hope that damage would not be as heavy as some had feared. They had no report of any persons missing in the Abilene area.

Fresh warnings against flash floods—usually because streams already were full and the countryside too soaked to absorb more runoff—went up for several areas in West Texas. In addition, a flash flood watch, meaning a threat persisted, was in force for all of Southwest Texas and the southwest part of Northwest Texas.

Rainfall in excess of one to two inches per hour fell in Reagan, Sterling, Crockett and Upton counties in West Texas and flash flood warnings were issued as the upper Colorado River and Elm Creek were reported out of banks and rising.

Water from swollen streams overflowed into the Ballinger Park at Ballinger and some low-lying areas on the east side of the city. The Colorado River was reported to have risen some five feet between 1 a.m. and 5 a.m. in Runnels County but it later receded about a foot.

In the Del Rio district, the highway department said Texas 163, FM 189 and FM 1024 were closed because of high water.

Fourteen miles from Big Lake U.S. 67 and FMs 2134, 864, 1565, 189 and 385 were closed in the San Angelo district and FM 1674 was heavily damaged by water but still passable.

The latest death attributed to flood conditions was that of Coke Austin, who was swept away from a roadside rest area north of San Angelo near the Concho River and drowned Wednesday.

At least four other drownings in similar circumstances have occurred since the siege of wet weather started near the end of last week.

More than 90 per cent of the state has received in excess of one inch of rain within the week and the measurements ranged up to 12.29 inches in areas north of Corpus Christi, the National Weather Service reported.

In the Abilene area, where several good-sized lakes had dropped so far below normal that some boat launching ramps were unuseable, all the reservoirs but one were reported up to spillway levels today.

Warnings remained up, meanwhile, for major flooding on the Rio Grande all the way from Big Bend National Park in far West Texas downstream to Lake Amistad. Part of the Big Bend park was closed at Castolon.

Giant crests also sent water out of banks and into widely scattered low areas along the San Saba, North, Middle and South Concho, Sulphur and Cypress Rivers.

A car driven by Lorenzo Dominguez, 806-A N. Powell St., was in collision with the rear of the Avena vehicle.

Ex-POW Says Watergate Prompted Statements Favoring Communists

CLARK AIR BASE, Philippines (AP) — Emmet James Kay, the last known American prisoner of war in Indochina, said today that he made statements in favor of the Communist Pathet Lao because he was upset about the Watergate scandal.

"I am a loyal American," the 47-year-old commercial pilot told a news conference. ". . . I must admit I was quite upset during the Watergate days about the United States.

"My statements were aimed at making peace. I tried to promote peace."

Kay was freed Wednesday in Vientiane, the Laotian capital, after 16 months in captivity, and flown with his wife to Clark Air Base for a medical checkup. An Air Force doctor said he had "no acute medical problems." Kay said he would take the weekly medical evacuation flight Saturday to his home in Hawaii, where his two teen-age children are waiting.

The flier denied statements attributed to him by a French newsman who interviewed him in Sam Neua. He was quoted as saying he had flown for the Central Intelligence Agency, had been deceived about his mission, and that the Americans should have been tried for war crimes in Indochina just as the Nazis were tried after World War II.

Kay admitted meeting the newsman but said the quotations attributed to him "were way out."

"I think someone was mixed up," he said. "On that, I denounce it. It is an outright lie.

"I am a loyal American. I am not a CIA agent. I was a pilot for USAID (the U.S. Agency for International Development) and was not involved in any diplomatic or political affairs."

Kay was downed in northern Laos while flying for Continental Air Services, a charter line working for the U.S. government.

Gold Mines Being Revived In Ghost Town

By JOHN KUGLIN

MURRAY, Idaho (AP) — The sign near the Four Square Mine, dormant since 1934, would hardly encourage an amateur prospector.

"Use bridges at your own risk — survivors will be prosecuted."

But Bob Kress wasn't at all unfriendly as he sat in his front yard, panning for gold with the aid of a garden hose.

"People come all the time wondering what gold looks like," Kress said. "But I can't see how you can miss it. Nothing else looks like gold."

The Four Square gold-tungsten mine is two miles southwest of Murray, a historic mining town that was home for 10,000 in its heyday in the 1890s.

Spurred by higher gold prices and the discovery of a half-pound nugget last year, three gold mines are being developed in the center of this revived ghost town of 87 persons and several dozen weathered buildings.

Murray is nestled in a steep, wooded canyon along the banks of Pritchard Creek and is 20 twisting miles of road from the Shoshone County seat of Wallace.

A morning's panning for Kress had produced four small flakes of gold, and the mine watchman calculated he'd need 100 pieces — a level teaspoon full — to make an ounce.

"You can be in gold-bearing ground and work all your life and never get anything. Or you could become a millionaire overnight," Kress said.

"I think this is good gravel. I dug it from around the roots of a cedar tree that must be a couple of hundred years old."

A skeptical companion said: "You don't get rich from panning. Why, if I found a nugget the size of a pea I'd probably get drunk to celebrate."

Many Murray residents are optimistic that gold, which now sells for about $150 an ounce, may double in price.

There are stories of hidden riches in the timbered hills dotted with colorfully named mines like the Wakeup Jim, Dew Drop, Treasure Box, Golden Chest and Terrible Edith.

Kress pointed to the heavily-timbered hillside behind the Four Square mine and mill, which has been dormant since 1934.

But on this day, in Murray, a dozen tourists were excitedly panning for colors in the back of Chris Christopherson's bar — one of three in the town.

No one was having much luck.

Some of the tourists had just bought gold pans in Wallace.

"It must be the rising price of gold, but we are selling the pans as fast as we get them," said Donna Mullen, a clerk in the Wallace Supply Co. hardware store.

Christopherson triggered a continuing community-wide epidemic of gold fever last year when he found what was then reported to be a half-pound nugget from a shaft sunk in his bedroom behind the bar. So he named it the Bedroom Gold Mine.

The nugget, displayed in the Wallace Elks Club, probably contains about six ounces of pure gold and slightly more than two ounces of quartz, an assayer has said. But the discovery of the nugget was the first significant gold find in Murray since the 1920s when, legend has it, 350 pounds of gold were recovered by a dredge in one sweep near Christopherson's bar.

"We let people pan on the muck pile without charge," Mrs. Christopherson said. "It gives the kids something to do when their parents are drinking beer."

A tourist ran into the bar displaying an almost microscopic flake of gold in his pan. There were a few oohs and aahs as the flake was placed on a matchbook cover. "This is awfully fine gold," snorted a miner nicknamed Caribou.

There was a frantic search for the flake after Mrs. Christopherson accidentally knocked the matchbook over while cleaning the bar.

"This is getting to be a busy place up here," said Christopherson, who also operates the town's only gasoline pump.

Though he is reluctant to say how much gold the Bedroom Mine has produced, Christopherson said, "There should be a whole bunch more nuggets down there.

"I'd rather have this gold backing our money than some of that paper the government is issuing."

Luxury Liner Cancels Last Four Atlantic Crossings

PARIS (AP) — More than 6,000 persons booked for the final Atlantic crossings of the luxury liner France won't make the last nostalgic voyages after all.

The French Line on Wednesday canceled the ship's four remaining trips and sent it into retirement because the crew had refused since last Thursday to let the liner move.

The flagship of the French Line had been scheduled to make four gala crossings before retirement next month. But almost half of the 2,500 crew members took over the ship off Le Havre, forced the captain to drop anchor and demanded that the government find them jobs before taking the 66,346-ton vessel out of service.

The government refused, holding to its decision in July to stop paying the ship's annual deficit of about $20 million. The company said Wednesday it was forced to call off the last four trips, and reservations were being canceled.

'Old Time Religion' Plan In Inflation Fight Draws Fire From Sen. Kennedy

By JOHN STOWELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said today that the United States must avoid a scorched earth policy that fights only inflation but ignores the threat of a deep recession.

He told 180 delegates to a mini-summit conference on inflation that the nation needs to avoid "simplistic policies masquerading under simplistic slogans like 'Old Time Religion.'"

"The Old Time Religion may be an appealing road to follow," the senator said, "but it is also the road to old time recessions and depressions, and that is a road the nation neither has to take nor ought to take in the months and years ahead."

Kennedy was among the opening speakers at the two-day session in the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare that brought the leaders of scores of major national organizations together.

Ticking off examples of how inflation has already decreased the quality of life in America, Kennedy noted that costs have risen 20 per cent higher for the poor than for other citizens.

He warned that the administration's anti-inflation policies "will create more serious unemployment in the future — and it is the aged, the unskilled, the youth and the minority groups who will be the hardest hit."

OAS Council Eyes Cuba Embargo End

WASHINGTON (AP) — The permanent council of the Organization of American States will consider whether the time has come to lift its decade-old embargo against Cuba.

The council's meeting, starting today and expected to last several days, will decide whether there is sufficient cause to convene hemispheric foreign ministers to vote on the sanctions.

Under the OAS Inter-American Treaty on Reciprocal Assistance, only the OAS foreign ministers can overturn the embargo.

The antiembargo countries are said to have the two-thirds majority—or 14 votes—required to end the sanctions.

NOW IN CONFERENCE—

Ford May Veto Campaign Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Ford opposes some key provisions of the campaign reform bill now in a House-Senate conference and may veto the measure, a White House source says.

The source said Ford regards parts of the measure as providing unwarranted use of tax funds to finance political campaigns and as favoring incumbents and Democrats.

While Ford might not veto a bill with one or two provisions to which he objected, the source said, the cumulative affect of all of them would make the legislation unacceptable.

Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., chairman of the Senate conferees, expressed doubt that agreement could be reached at today's negotiating session.

If not, further efforts may be delayed until after hearings by the Senate Rules Committee on Nelson A. Rockefeller's nomination to be vice president.

Those hearings are to start Monday. Cannon is chairman of the Rules Committee and three of its other members are also serving as conferees on the campaign measure.

Ford was described as opposed to any public financing of campaigns unless it can be paid for out of funds derived from the voluntary income tax check-off system established in 1971.

He also was said to be opposed to use of tax revenues for Senate and House campaigns and for presidential primary campaigns.

The conferees have not settled the issue of public financing for congressional races. The Senate voted for it, but the House conferees were reported adamantly opposed.

MC Unofficial Enrollment 1,469

Late registration at Midland College drew to a close Wednesday evening, leaving an unofficial total enrollment of 1,469 compared to last fall's official tally of 1,280.

Dee Windsor, MC registrar, indicated the official total, which will be sent to the state for funding, will be "very close" to today's figure.

The deviation between the two totals results from class withdrawals and a final computer check. The official count is expected to be released Monday.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Spotted Bible Bothers Reader

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Association

DEAR POLLY — I was reading my Bible outdoors and water from a sprinkler splashed on some of the pages leaving them very wrinkled and with the corners turned up. I tried ironing the very thin pages with a slightly heated iron but this did not help much. I hope the readers can offer me some other suggestions. — JOHNELLE.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with handcraft and needlework kits that come with insufficient materials to complete the project as the directions indicate.

Fill a small plastic squeeze bottle with water and a few drops of detergent. Screw or tape the top in position on the bottle. Put filled bottle in your bike basket or especially in your child's basket. Whenever going on a long ride it is ready for a quick cleanup. — JOANNE.

DEAR POLLY — The reader who has the problem with lint being on her polyester slacks when they come out of the washer should get a yard of nylon net, put it in the dryer with her clothes and the lint will cling to the net. I keep several pieces on hand to use for this. — DOROTHY.

DEAR POLLY — Turn polyester slacks inside out before putting them in the washer and dryer and have the problem solved. I find this also works with men's knit socks. — HELEN.

DEAR POLLY — To discipline or train a cat I use a squirt bottle or a squirt gun (the kind used in a filling station) filled with water. Cats do not like water but this does not harm them as kicking or spanking might do. It also works as well on an older, more stubborn cat as it does on a young kitten. — L.B.

DEAR POLLY — I would like to tell other homemakers that when using a spray wax for dusting and polishing furniture they should remove lamps and other objects from table tops before beginning and then leave them off for a while to give the wax time to dry. Much to my sorrow I only moved objects to one side, polished the other side and then returned them and there was a discoloration. — GENE.

DEAR POLLY — I keep a small notebook in my sewing drawer. In it are the instructions for washing or dry cleaning any article of clothing from which I have removed the instruction tag. Such tags often scratch or show when left in a garment. — MRS. E.S.

He concluded with an admonition and reminder to the church musicians present that their finest musical offerings are required if the A.G.O. motto, "Soli Deo Gloria" (To God Alone Be Glory) is to be attained.

From Midland, Teague will visit A.G.O. Chapters in the El Paso and Albuquerque areas.

Dear Abby

—By Abigail van Buren

Okie Wants Hometown Wedding

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter Susie is marrying a man from Oklahoma. (We live in Arkansas.)

We want Susie to be married in our church with her friends and family present. This Okie she's marrying wants to be married in his church in Oklahoma, where there will be only strangers to Susie.

The reason he wants the wedding in Oklahoma is because his mother is old, sick and can't travel. She's a widow, and he's her only child. I think it's nice of this Okie to be so considerate of his mother, but is it fair to us? Susie is ready to give in, and I don't think she should.

I planned on having the whole wedding taped and taking lots of pictures to send to this Okie's mother which would be almost like being at the wedding.

I want your opinion.

SUSIE'S MOM

DEAR MOM: Although weddings traditionally take place in the bride's church, the groom's reasons for wanting to have it in Oklahoma seem reasonable to me. Why not let the bride and groom work it out?

And Mom, I sense an element of hostility here that goes deeper than the question of where to have the wedding. For openers, you could quit referring to your prospective son-in-law as "This Okie." Okay?

DEAR ABBY: I am a man in my last year of college. My parents are divorced and I live with my dad. I am on good terms with both of them, but there is something about my father that bugs me.

Dad has a steady girlfriend who spends the night at his place quite often. That's his business, although I feel a little strange witnessing this kind of setup. I sure wasn't raised that way. Both Mom and Dad were a little on the prudish side, and taught me that sex is a private matter.

What I really object to is the way Dad and his girlfriend carry on in front of me. Lots of fondling and kissing, and touching in a most intimate way. This goes on while we are having a three-way conversation, so it's not as if I intruded on their privacy.

I've told Dad that I find this sort of thing embarrassing and have asked him not to do it. Nothing changed. How can I let him know that I mean what I say? He respects your advice.

GROSSED OUT

DEAR GROSSED: I doubt that Dad will change his behavior to please you, so since it's his house, and you're old enough to do so, find separate digs and quietly move out. Tell him it's time you lived alone. (True.) Avoid futile confrontation and remain friends.

DEAR ABBY: I have a serious problem—I cannot confide in anyone else. I am a woman, age 23. I have never had a complete physical examination in my life. To be honest with you, I just can't go through with anything like that. The thought of a gynecological examination throws me into a panic.

For the last couple of months I haven't been feeling well. I know I should see a doctor for a complete examination, but I've made three appointments and cancelled them all at the last minute due to this fear of embarrassment.

I hope this doesn't give you the impression that I am childish or stupid because I'm not. I am a college graduate and consider myself to be fairly intelligent. Please advise me.

HUNG UP

DEAR HUNG UP: Consider seeing a woman physician, although a competent male physician would surely put you at ease immediately. Make an appointment today and no more stalling.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SONNY IN SANTA BARBARA": Be careful in your selection of a 'new broom'—you might get one with a witch on it.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, Write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

50 YEARS AGO TODAY—

First Round-World Fliers Reach Love Field At Dallas

By The Associated Press

Lowell Smith's goggles were smeared with oil as he stuck his head from the cockpit into the slipstream, peering down at the checkerboard fields around Dallas.

Ahead lay the wasteland of West Texas.

Behind lay most of man's first round-the-world flight.

That was 50 years ago today.

Smith's clipped-wing biplane, a Douglas World Cruiser, roared in over Dallas Love Field, got a reading on wind direction, then landed. Moments later, two other pilots in the three-plane formation landed behind him. They were Erik Nelson and Leigh Wade, and their copilots, all Army lieutenants trying to prove man could circumvent the globe in an oil-spewing, ear-deafening stick and canvas contraption familiar at county fairs and barnstorming shows.

The aviators had flown to Dallas from Muskogee, Okla., where a rain storm had delayed their takeoff until shortly after noon. They completed the 245-mile flight in 3 hours, 45 minutes, landing at 4:13 p.m.

With their biplanes refueled, the crews departed from Dallas at 9:35 the next morning, intending to fly nonstop to El Paso. En route one plane developed engine trouble and, with the other two aircraft, made an unscheduled landing at Sweetwater for repairs. About an hour later, the World Cruisers were again airborne and flew to El Paso, arriving at Fort Bliss at 7:10 p.m. Total flying time for the 600-mile trip was 9 hours, 24 minutes.

The idea behind the flight was to develop for the Army Air Service a strong but light, long-range airplane that could operate from airfields or as a seaplane.

Douglas Aircraft Co. came up with the 39-foot World Cruiser biplane powered by a 420-horsepower Liberty 12 engine. Flying speed: 100 miles an hour. Heady stuff for September 1924.

A non-fatal crash in Alaska eliminated Martin from the trip but the three lieutenants and their copilots pressed on.

Command passed to Lt. Smith, who led the remaining three World Cruisers on an aerial route that was divided into 70 stages and included stops in Japan, Thailand, Burma, India, Iraq, Syria, Turkey, Austria, France, England, Iceland and Greenland. En route to the United States, one plane was abandoned in the North Atlantic after a forced landing.

On Sept. 23, 1924, after a triumphal return to the United States and handshakes with President Coolidge, the six heroes landed their three aircraft in Santa Monica to a roaring reception from 200,000 excited Californians. They then headed north for Seattle, Wash., arriving on Sept. 28, almost six months after they had left there.

Shy Martha Mitchell Sounds Off In London

LONDON (AP) — "I'm a very shy person, really," said Martha Mitchell on her arrival at London Airport today. Then she sounded off:

"I have a politically broken marriage — broken up by Richard Nixon. That's the story I still have to tell, and I will soon."

Mrs. Mitchell, in London for a television interview by the British Broadcasting Corp., said she "couldn't confirm one way or the other if Nixon is ill. But I think the reports of his illness are exaggerated — and they are only reports."

"I don't know what's right and what's wrong any more. I've been told so many lies. Everybody has lied to me all the way down the line."

Asked if she thought President Ford should have pardoned Nixon, she replied: "No. Are you kidding? Why should he be pardoned?"

She added, though, that now everybody connected with Watergate should be pardoned.

Mrs. Mitchell said she is writing her version of Watergate, and it will be published over the next six months.

New Presbyterian Group Changes Name Once More

MACON, Ga. (AP) — After a second name change in two days, a new Presbyterian denomination has voted to call itself the Presbyterian Church in America.

The nine-month-old group organized in Birmingham, Ala., as the National Presbyterian Church. When the National Presbyterian Church and Center in Washington, D.C., objected, the group renamed itself Tuesday the National Reform Presbyterian Church.

On Wednesday the Rev. Kennedy Smartt of Hopewell, Va., said he had a "deep anguish of heart", over the matter and moved for reconsideration of the second name.

Delegates accepted the title Presbyterian Church in America after three hours of debate and a 302-102 vote.

Schaeffer and his wife are the cofounders of L'Abri Faith Mission in Switzerland.

He compared the new fundamentalist church to the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod and segments of the Southern Baptist Convention "who are concerned with liberalism creeping into their denominations."

About 1,000 persons attended the evening session in Macon's Grand Opera house.

Nixon Health Put Into Cover-Up Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon's health has been injected into the upcoming Watergate cover-up trial for the first time.

Attorneys for John D. Ehrlichman asked on Wednesday for a 60-to-90-day delay in the trial, set to begin Oct. 1. They said it will take at least that long for Nixon to recover sufficiently from mental depression and phlebitis in his left leg to appear as a defense witness.

Meanwhile, shortly before Ehrlichman's lawyers filed their motion with U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica, a new snag developed which could force Special Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski to issue his own subpoena for Nixon's testimony.

Ehrlichman's subpoena for Nixon's testimony was delivered to Nixon's San Clemente, Calif., estate by a U.S. marshal a few weeks after Nixon resigned as President but before there were widespread reports about Nixon's failing health.

The trial of Ehrlichman and five co-defendants is expected to last about three months, but there has been no indication when Nixon might be called to testify.

In their motion, Ehrlichman's lawyers said Nixon's "personal appearance at trial is indispensable to Mr. Ehrlichman's defense."

The former President's attorney, Herbert J. Miller, has already cited Nixon's health in an unrelated civil suit as a reason not to require Nixon to give a sworn deposition in Santa Ana, Calif., on Sept. 24. Miller said that Nixon has in recent weeks "shown serious signs of strain and physical fatigue" in addition to his phlebitis.

In London, Walter H. Annenberg, U.S. ambassador to Great Britain and a friend of Nixon's, said in an AP interview on Wednesday that the former President had called him on Tuesday to say he expected to enter a hospital soon.

Annenberg said Nixon did not say how he felt but "his voice was firm and seemed completely normal to me."

Meanwhile, all defense and prosecution lawyers in the case met Wednesday. Sources said a snag developed which could further complicate the trial and which conceivably could prevent 33 White House tapes from being used as evidence in the trial.

Many of the recordings are of conversations Nixon had with defendants in the case, and they are considered crucial to the prosecutor's case.

There is a legal precedent that tape recordings used in a criminal trial must be authenticated by their owner or originator.

Defense attorneys refused on Wednesday to agree to a prosecution request that it would be unnecessary for Nixon, as original owner of the tapes, to testify to their authenticity in court.

If no other means can be found to authenticate the White House tapes as evidence, it is conceivable the prosecutors may be forced to issue their own subpoena for the former President, sources said.

Environmental Pioneer Dies

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Clarence Mills, 81, pioneer environmentalist who crusaded for an anti-smoke law in 1940, died Tuesday. Mills, who became a professor at the University of Cincinnati in 1930, saw his study result in smoke abatement laws in 1946.

'Old Believers' Finally Find Place To Practice Religion

By W. ROBERT WELLER

NIKOLAEVSK, Alaska (AP) — They've traveled almost around the world in search of a place to practice their religion in peace.

And here, only 650 miles from their Mother Russia, about 300 "Old Believers" believe they've found what they've been looking for.

"Life up here is not easy but people can make out and make out very good," says Carl Martushev, smiling from behind a scraggly beard.

The village they've carved out of the wilderness isn't on any map. It's 12 miles up a dusty, gravel road on Alaska's Kenai Peninsula, 200 miles southwest of Anchorage.

Stick-Throwing Game

Here, on the village's dirty streets, lined with picket fences, fair-skinned youngsters play a stick-throwing game called "clok" while playmates shout encouragement in Russian.

And here they practice the Russian Orthodox faith as it existed in the 16th century, before liturgical reforms were made.

Martushev says his people don't get too fancy in church buildings, because their roots must remain shallow.

"If something goes wrong with our church we will leave and we don't give a damn whether we leave a house behind," he said.

But the rootlessness has reached full circle. "If we can't stay here, there's no place to go except back to Russia and we've been there," he said.

The long journey of the Old Believers began when they split with the Czar over religious reforms.

They first moved to Siberia, living there until they could no longer handle the excesses of communism.

They moved to China and fared little better, and in the 1950s they left for Brazil.

After living briefly in Brazil, they gained admittance to the United States under an agreement worked out with President Kennedy. They were allowed to move to communities in Oregon, as long as they stayed off the welfare rolls.

There's no problem of welfare rolls in Alaska.

Far from it, in seven years on the peninsula, they've become the envy of homesteaders and fishermen who've lived on the Kenai since World War II or longer.

And although they had no commercial fishing experience, they've managed to gain a good share of the local catch.

Some of the village men work for local contractors, and others work at a village-run sawmill.

Most peninsula residents have welcomed the Russians, although there have been exceptions. One hardware store owner in nearby Homer has refused to sell to them and won't let them in his shop.

One young Russian girl said: "They say Russians go home. But we say Russians were here before you." Russians first came to the Kenai in the 1700s and 1800s.

Before settling here, the group's elders showed up at a borough meeting to announce clear they weren't setting up a commune.

They bought land at auction for about $14,000. Some say that was much more than it was worth. They leased additional grazing land.

Hard luck knocked soon. A tent fire claimed one life and their cattle began dying shortly after arrival. But nearby ranchers helped them nurse the herd back to health.

They built a new village in a virgin spruce forest.

Most of the homes have washers, dryers and other modern appliances and several homes have saunas.

But there are no radio or television sets in the village. "It's against our religion," says carpenter Peter Basargin, 21.

Still they know what's going on. Some have read Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn's works.

The village elders recently visited a neighbor, retired Army Brig. Gen. B. B. Talley, their closest friend, to ask:

"Do you think the government will fall because of Watergate? We can't stay here if it become Communist."

Talley says the Old Believers left Oregon because they felt their religion was threatened when some of their children began smoking marijuana.

He said they encourage village young people to marry early to avoid contacts with the outside.

A decision to set up a separate school in the village has helped shield the children.

But a neighbor said: "Lots of times we see the Russian kids — we call them the Russian hoods — roaring down the road with radios blasting and potato chips flying out the windows."

Although some of the men speak Russian, Chinese, Portuguese and English, none speaks English well enough to pass citizenship tests.

MOTION FILED BY HILL—

Judge Refuses To Stay Order On Reformatories

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge William Wayne Justice denied Wednesday a motion asking that he issue an indefinite stay of his order for sweeping state juvenile reforms.

Justice filed the denial in Sherman federal court in answer to a motion by Texas Atty. Gen. John Hill that the judge's Aug. 30 order be stayed pending a decision on an appeal.

Hill had filed the motion on behalf of the Texas Youth Council (TYC) pending an appeal decision by the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans.

Justice has given the TYC until Oct. 1 to work out plans for carrying out reforms in state juvenile detention centers.

The most controversial part of his order called for the closing of the Gatesville and Mountain View reform schools for boys.

He also ordered the TYC to begin community-centered juvenile institutions to replace large central complexes.

TYC spokesmen have said they already are moving to comply with the judge's order. But the appeal was ordered because the TYC wants the changes to be those of the state rather than directed by a federal official, in this case Judge Justice.

In an earlier 204-page report, Justice said evidence on the two schools for boys shows they are "places where effective rehabilitiative treatment is impossible."

In denying the stay, Justice said he would permit "no foot dragging" in planning sessions in which the youth council is supposed to draw up a program of juvenile reforms.

"The defendants are apparently of the impression that the planning sessions will consume many months and employ scores of TYC staff," he said. "Nothing could be further from the court's intentions."

He also said that "should the court grant a stay pending appeal, the planning for the impelementation of a constitutional system of youth services will be delayed perhaps for many months or even years."

In his Aug. 30 ruling, he also ordered the youth council to hire more qualified staff members, maintain a higher staff-pupil ratio, observe strict procedures in the use of solitary confinement, and to stop indiscriminate use of major tranquilizers.

Pressure Builds For Senate Hearings On Haig's New Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pressure is building for Senate hearings on the appointment of Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr. to be supreme allied commander in Europe.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., called on the White House chief of staff to waive legal arguments and appear voluntarily before the Senate Armed Services Committee to "clear the air about his role in the Nixon administration."

Influential senators, meanwhile, joined Proxmire in an appeal Wednesday to Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., of the Senate Armed Services Committee to insist on Senate confirmation.

They included Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., assistant Senate Democratic leader, and Sen. Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa, a member of the Armed Services Committee. Sen. Dick Clark, D-Iowa, appealed separately to Stennis for hearings.

White House and Pentagon officials have insisted that Haig's return to military duty and his assignment to the dual role of commander of U.S. forces in Europe and Supreme NATO Commander does not require Senate confirmation.

Byrd cited a general requirement in law that officers named to high policy-making positions must be confirmed by the Senate.

Hughes said an 1869 opinion by the attorney general held that Army officers retired from active service could not be reinstated on the active list except by a new appointment with the advice and consent of the Senate.

Stennis made no response to the appeal.

IN FIGHT AGAINST INFLATION—

Teacher Organization President Says Education Must Not Be Kept Hostage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president of the nation's largest teacher organization warned today that crime, welfare and unemployment will shoot up if "education is kept hostage" in the fight against inflation.

James A. Harris, head of the National Education Association representing 1.5 million classroom teachers, was among 180 delegates to a two-day, economic mini-summit conference at the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

A prelude to the national summit conference Sept. 27-28, the gathering was billed by HEW as an attempt to elicit "suggestions on the way in which inflation should be attacked and the appropriate governmental and private sector economic policies to be followed."

But Harris, reflecting concerns of many organizations with a stake in the $111-billion HEW budget, expressed suspicion that the Ford administration had already decided on an anti-inflationary strategy.

"Then when we get hit where it hurts, we're all supposed to keep our mouths shut because, after all, we 'helped shape' the policy," Harris said in a prepared statement.

He said that education spending cuts would reduce national income and government revenues and "guarantee increased crime, with all its varied attendant expenses; increased welfare rolls and increased unemployment."

In advance of the conference, HEW Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger said no area of the federal budget, including his own, should be exempt from spending reductions.

While declaring that no HEW program is "automatically helpful or necessary or relieves poverty," he noted that 94 per cent of the department's budget represents spending that could not be reduced without congressional approval.

Particularly troublesome to the administration is the health industry, where the rate of inflation has far outstripped that in the general economy since federal controls were lifted last spring.

The nation's health bill now exceeds $100 billion a year, costing each man, woman and child $496 and making the industry the nation's third largest. HEW estimates that the expenditures will top $120 billion next year.

Equally disturbing is the plight of education, also a big business with expenditures of $96.3 billion and a payroll of more than six million people.

Mini Fini?

LONDON (AP) — The mini is fini.

Britain's gift to the world of women's fashions, the miniskirt, is finally gone — after hovering near hip-level heights for the last ten years.

The last stitch in this hemline-dropping event was sewn by one of the biggest firms of chain stores in the country, C & A.

A spokesman for the company, which four years ago sold thousands of minis each day, said: "There will be no more minis when present stocks have gone. They just don't sell nowadays."

The firm was just about the last of the major holdouts. Most of the other big department stores and fashion chains had dropped the mini for longer lengths within the last two years, or more.

The mini was introduced in the early 1960s, largely by fashion designer Mary Quant. For the last three years, many designers have given up or (or down on the mini, although a lot of lean-legged gals kept them up.

'Ms. Something' Proves Sex Urge Alive In Old Age

By GRANT FJERMEDAL
Associated Press Writer

SEATTLE (AP) — She said call her "Ms. Something" — the "Ms." so she would be modern; "Something" so friends wouldn't know that at age 79 she's still pursuing an active sex life.

So Ms. Something sits in her apartment and talks about how her sex life continued when she became a widow at age 56.

Tall and thin, she has a healthy glow about her, and she says she's been "struggling, struggling" about giving in to the pleas of a suitor and inviting him up to her apartment. She's afraid the neighbors will gossip.

In the 23 years since her husband's death she says she has had 35 adventures, some lasting the smaller part of an evening, others going on for 15 years. Her youngest mate was only 15, the eldest 82.

Her message is don't give up sex. And medical students at the University of Washington are viewing a videotaped interview with her to gain a better grasp on sexuality and aging.

She is also the star witness for Caroline Preston, a 60-year-old assistant professor of psychiatry at the University of Washington, who has taught a class the past two years on aging and retirement readiness.

Ms. Preston, who also prefers the courtesy title "Ms.," thinks men and women give up sex years before they need to, and this she believes is unhealthy.

"One's ongoing sexuality has so much to do with your vitality and interest in the here and now, realizing that the here and now is all you have."

Ms. Something is an intelligent woman who spent her professional life in newspapering, advertising and public relations. She is the proud mother of loving and successful children. Prior to her husband's death at 64, she says they had an active sex life.

Though she admits one might be surprised at her tally of partners from age 56 on, she says she never had difficulty meeting men and gives all credit to having a cozy fireplace for her and a companion to sit in front of.

Ms. Something shoots down the idea that menopause is the end of sexuality. It should be viewed as another beginning, says Ms. Preston.

"Menopause? Why should it even be a pause? Women give up the risk of having a child late in life. Menopause frees them to be more sexually active than ever before in their lives," says Ms. Preston.

Is Ms. Something living a life most women her age could keep up with?

It's difficult to tell, says Ms. Preston, because there's been little research on sex and aging. Both patient and physician aren't anxious to talk about it.

And Ms. Something doesn't know either. She has tried to encourage discussion of the subject but her peers are reluctant. But she knows an 86-year-old couple who are lovers.

She said she recently watched a prostitute escort an old gentleman to the elevator of a senior citizens' home.

Ms. Preston says these experiences knock down the old saw: You can't teach an old dog new tricks.

And she says studies show that old people who expose themselves to new situations continue to learn. A key factor in learning difficulties may be a simple loss of confidence, she says.

Ms. Preston encourages her students to begin projects that will build up their self-confidence. Her students have learned to play the harp, started organic gardens, taken up belly dancing and chess. Some are serving as consultants to small businesses. Both she and Ms. Something, who is a frequent guest lecturer, practice transcendental meditation.

"Another unfortunate but prevailing notion is that as we age, our sexual needs and feelings somehow dry up and blow away. Impotence and frigidity settle in as though embedded in concrete," Ms. Preston said. "I am both obliged and delighted to predict for many of us, this simply is not so."

But she says one major problem is that men die too young, creating a considerable surplus of aging women. She said one solution to the sexual dilemma is for the medical profession to accelerate its efforts to prolong the life of males.

But until medicine closes that gap, Ms. Preston says one answer is communal living where women would share their men.

That would also cut living expenses for those just getting by on fixed incomes but "I'm not sure that people in my generation can achieve that kind of submersion of their rugged individualism."

Policyholder Loans Total Tops $21 Billion

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Financial advisers often discourage insurance policy owners from borrowing the cash value of their insurance, claiming that loan soft—in a parody of Shakespeare—lose both itself and policy.

Since there is no rule that says the money must be paid back in a specified time, they argue, the borrower sometimes permits loan and interest to erode and even destroy the policy's value.

Nevertheless, policyholders today owe more than $21 billion to insurers for loans taken out with their policies as collateral. The figure compares with $7.14 billion in pre-inflationary 1964.

The lesson appears to be this: More and more families are using credit to finance a life style made more expensive by inflation. To some extent, this marks a break with the past.

Bankers, insurers and other lenders have long noted the tendency of families to reduce their credit when recession threatens. They turn conservative, learning to cut waste and frills. It is a self-protective act.

The present combination of recession and inflation seems to thwart that tendency, forcing families to borrow in spite of their feelings that a conservative posture is safest. It may be that they have no choice.

The borrowing syndrome is showing up in other areas also. Total consumer credit—not including borrowings on insurance—exceeds $180 billion now, and appears to be climbing after a brief early summer pause.

Installment credit, the kind that is repaid in regular weekly or monthly payments, makes up the bulk of consumer credit, totaling close to $152 billion on Aug. 1. It rose by $1.5 billion in July alone.

A big reason for the continued increase, it appears, is the rising price of automobiles. When car prices rise, the amount owed rises also. Strapped for funds, car buyers choose more credit rather than bigger down payments.

While these trends develop, lenders are studying an even more worrisome set of figures that indicates the burden is becoming excessive for some borrowers. Repayments, they feel, are slower than they should be.

Ford's Talk On World Food Problems Stirs Only Timid And Guarded Hope

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
(An AP News Analysis)

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — President Ford's address to the 29th General Assembly stirred only timid and guarded hope among proponents of international action to deal with staggering world food problems.

The President promised the Assembly on Wednesday that the United States would spend more on food shipments to needy countries and increase technical aid to their food production programs. He also said the U. S. government is ready to negotiate a world food reserve plan.

But he pointed out that the problems of food shortages, oil prices and runaway inflation are all related. He warned the 137 other members of the United Nations:

"Failure to cooperate on oil, food and inflation could spell disaster for every nation represented in this room. The United Nations must not and need not allow this to occur. A global strategy for food and energy is urgently required."

Even the guardedly hopeful suggest that progress thus far has been minimal toward this goal of concerted international efforts to avert future calamity in much of the world.

Attempts to produce concrete results toward curbing the growth of populations got nowhere at the recent Bucharest conference, where bickering about ideology and national interests eclipsed the business at hand.

Nations being nations, other conferences have run afoul of such things as jealousy over sovereignties, over ideology and over questions of who gives what and who gets what and how much.

That's happening again in the case of food problems.

U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim said this week that governments should display more give and take, be more willing to "give up some of their selfish interests and be ready to cooperate on an international basis." He said failure to do so was the main reason there had been no breakthrough, for example, at the recent Law of the Sea Conference in Caracas, Venezuela.

Now President Ford has thrown the weight of American authority behind a global effort, though he noted that each nation should be in charge of its own reserves, thus bowing to the question of sovereignty.

At the same time, the President implicitly challenged the oil producing countries to take a hand in producing a manageable world economy and the Communist nations to assume their share of the burdens of economic cooperation.

The President seemed to want to warn that the United States alone couldn't indefinitely carry the burden of being chief food supplier to the world, that others had grave responsibilities toward a stable world, that particularly the oil nations should be alert to the possible consequences of soaring energy costs and raging inflation.

PRIEST WORKS IN RESTAURANT

Chef Also Hears Confessions

CHICAGO (AP) — A Catholic priest hears confessions from some of the kitchen help while performing his duties as a chef in a Chicago restaurant.

The Rev. Richard Bernowski, 33, is the night chef overseeing the large bill-of-fare at Sage's East on the Near North Side, one of Chicago's posh eateries.

In the day he teaches history at St. Francis Theological Seminary. He turns his chef's salary over to his religious order.

"I joined an order not allowed to eat flesh of four-legged animals," he said.

So Father Bernowski said that in order to follow his hobby of cooking he got a dispensation so he can taste the meat he prepares — that being an important part of the job — but not swallow it.

"Many of the waitresses and kitchen help are Catholics and I hear confessions from them while we are on duty," he said. "Just the other night I heard six. I also catch a lot of marital problems. They all say it is like having their own private priest. They also say they have to watch their language a lot more."

Father Bernowski said he has been a chef in restaurants in Washington, D.C., Alexandria, Va., elsewhere in Chicago and on a dining cruise ship in Florida.

"But not until I went to Sage's about two months ago did I reveal I was a priest — I just decided to do it for a personal reason," he said. "Now I report to work in clerical clothes, Roman collar and all."

He is a priest in the Holy Catholic Church, Malabar Rite, a denomination in union with the Roman Catholic Church and recognizing the primacy of the Pope.

Food Stockpiled In U.S. Fallout Shelters During 1960s Is Now Being Sent Abroad

By The Associated Press

Millions of pounds of food stockpiled in American fallout shelters during the 1960s are being sent abroad to aid famine-stricken nations.

"Rather than let the stuff go rancid in the shelters, the thing to do is try to feed somebody with it," says John L. Padgett, Louisiana's deputy director of civil defense.

Communities across the nation are doing just that.

An Associated Press survey shows at least 30 states and 40 communities have donated or plan to donate a percentage of the stockpiled food to hungry nations. Most of the food consists of survival crackers and is going to Bangladesh.

The crackers are part of some 150,000 tons of crackers that remain from supplies stockpiled in shelters between 1962 and 1964, according to a civil defense spokesman in Washington. The supplies were turned over to the control of communities where they were stocked.

The Agency for International Development and CARE have sent shipments of the crackers to 19 countries, including Bangladesh and Nicaragua, the spokesman said.

Most of the food in the shelters has passed its shelf-life of about five years and if the supplies are not used soon they will become inedible.

Edward W. Kroll, Dane County, Wis., emergency planning director, said his county's supplies had dwindled because they deteriorated and had to be removed.

Kroll said Wisconsin has agreed to send 2.1 million pounds of crackers to Bangladesh.

Pasadena School Children Don't Prosper Under Court-Ordered Busing

By DON HORINE

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — During four years of being bussed under federal court order, Pasadena school children have done progressively worse in math and reading, keeping alive a bitter controversy over forced integration.

"The Pasadena experience proves that forced integration does not work," says Henry Marcheschi, president of the school board. "It is a gross failure educationally."

"It has worked well for children generally," says schools Supt. Ramon Cortines, who is frequently at odds with the conservative-dominated school board. "But there's still some apprehension and fear on the part of parents."

Busing is a sensitive issue in this Los Angeles suburb of 112,800 and home of the Rose Bowl. People generally don't talk about it — except at school board meetings, which are usually charged with emotion.

In the last four years, the school district has lost 6,671 of its white students — 37.4 per cent — and if the trend continues, Marcheschi says: "We aren't going to have enough white students left to integrate."

In 1969 the school population was 58.3 per cent white. This fall it is 42 per cent, the same percentage as that of blacks. Fourteen per cent of the 25,414 students are Mexican American.

Most of the white students left moved out of the district. Other parents enrolled their offspring in private schools.

With their children being bused to schools in white areas, black families are beginning to move there from the traditional black sections of the city, bringing changes in housing patterns. Although many whites have moved out of the district, its population of 176,273 is still about 75 per cent white and 17 per cent black.

The school board has been trying desperately to stop the white flight, fighting in vain to have the busing plan rescinded or modified and imposing a philosophy of fundamental education that appeals to conservative whites.

But the effort was hurt with the revelation that test scores of both whites and blacks have declined in reading and math during the busing period.

Cortines says the scores do not mean busing has failed "because the purpose was to integrate, not improve students' achievements."

Brethren, I do not consider that I have made it my own; but one thing I do, forgetting what lies behind and straining forward to what lies ahead, I press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus. — Philippians 3:13, 14.

It's Family Fair Time!

Another special event which through its quarter-century history has become one of the community's most popular and best-attended entertainment functions, is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday.

It is, of course, the 26th annual St. Ann's Family Fair, which, with its effervescent carnival atmosphere, offers something special for every member of the family. It is held on the grounds and in the parish center of St. Ann's School.

The carnival held in connection with the fair offers special entertainment for persons of all ages. There are thrilling rides for the youngsters — and those not quite so young — as well as numerous other attractions. There also will be arts and craft booths; sewing booths; food booths, with the prepared food to be eaten on the premises or taken home; games of various kinds and miscellaneous booths.

The members of St. Ann's Catholic Church plan, set-up and stage the big entertainment event, with all proceeds going to worthy causes of the school. It is a tremendous undertaking, but the volunteer workers get the job done.

If you haven't attended a St. Ann's Family Fair, you really have missed something. Saturday is your opportunity to make up for lost time.

See you there!

Dedication Events Galore

Ground-breaking, ribbon-cutting and dedication ceremonies are occuring more and more frequently in the Tall City.

"It used to be that we had two or three a month, but now we have that many most every week," H. A. Tuck, Chamber of Commerce staff member, said in commenting on events of this nature.

Business firms, industrial plants, public agencies and new buildings of various kinds have focused attention on continuing progress in the Tall City.

This is great . . . and Midland and Midlanders thrive on this sort of thing.

Two really big dedication events have occurred in recent days: the new multi-million dollar U.S. Courthouse, Federal Office Building and Post Office Complex, and the impressive Midland County Courthouse.

Midland and area residents already are looking forward to two more big dedication ceremonies which will occur in the not-too-distant future: the new buildings on the campus of Midland College and the new Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Library and Hall of Fame.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: John Ehrlichman used as 'hired gun.'

WASHINGTON — The Nixon tapes, which have been withheld from the public for use in the Watergate trials, portray John Ehrlichman as a patsy.

Sources who have listened to the tapes say that ex-President Richard Nixon would discuss strategy with his top aide, H. R. Haldeman. Then they would call in Ehrlichman and go through the same discussion again, thus giving him the impression that he was a full participant in the decision-making.

But invariably they would adopt the strategy that Nixon and Haldeman already had agreed upon and the unsuspecting Ehrlichman would wind up doing the dirty work. As one source put it, "Nixon and Haldeman used Ehrlichman as their hired gun."

They sent Ehrlichman, for example, to try to persuade CIA Deputy Director Vernon Walters to head off the FBI's investigation into the plumbers' operations. Ehrlichman also was assigned to approach ex-Atty. Gen. John Mitchell and to ask the unwilling Mitchell to take the rap for the Watergate fiasco.

Sources close to Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski say that Ehrlichman now is aware how Nixon and Haldeman used him. "That's why Ehrlichman has called the former President as a witness," said one source.

"It is clear," agreed another, "that Ehrlichman has gone off the reservation." In other words, he no longer will try to protect Nixon and Haldeman.

The view of Ehrlichman as a puppet, manipulated by Nixon and Haldeman, comes from a cumulative study of the secret tapes, say our sources.

ROCKEFELLER INVESTIGATION: A painstaking but preliminary FBI investigation of Nelson Rockefeller has produced no information that should prevent his confirmation as vice president.

Agents still are digging, however, into rumors that a Rockefeller-financed operation in Latin America was infiltrated by Communist sympathizers.

The investigation is centering on the American Association for Economic and Social Development, which received grants for 14 years from the Rockefeller Brothers Foundation to bring rural reform and better schools to South America. "The main thing we don't know," confided an FBI source, "is how they spent the money."

Another Rockefeller enterprise under investigation by the FBI is the International Basic Economy Corporation, founded by Nelson Rockefeller to operate supermarkets, poultry firms and machinery equipment facilities in some 20 countries, mainly in Latin America.

The FBI also is examining more closely the Commission on Critical Choices, which conducted studies of world problems for Rockefeller. It has been suggested this was set up to groom him for the White House.

Our FBI sources stress that Rockefeller isn't suspected of any subversive or shady dealings. But the FBI wants to be able to answer any questions that may be raised by Rockefeller's most extreme critics.

Questioned Everyone

Agents have questioned just about everyone who has had any dealings with Rockefeller from doctors and clergymen to sheriffs and political figures.

A picture has emerged of a Rockefeller who has managed to keep above the hurly-burly. He has insulated himself from any questionable activities, the FBI has found, by a layer of attorneys, financial advisers and political associates.

"The rough-and-tumble stuff was handled by his associates," said a source.

"Rocky looks awfully good," said a source with access to the dossiers.

NAVAL SUPERIORITY: Intelligence reports confirm the conclusion of the authoritative British publication, "Jane's Fighting Ships," that the Soviet Navy had surpassed the U.S. fleet in fighting power. Here's a rundown:

— In submarines, the Soviet Union has deployed a fleet of 67 ballistic missile submarines, many of them nuclear powered. This compares to 41 American missile subs. States one NATO document: "The Soviet submarine force is now more capable and has outbuilt NATO in nuclear-powered submarines."

— In surface ships, the newest Soviet vessels "carry more elaborate and more sophisticated electronic systems. One Soviet surface vessel, according to NATO intelligence, is "ton for ton, the most powerful warship ever built."

Powerful Capability

According to another confidential document, "the sophisticated missile systems of its advanced surface ships gives the Soviet Union a powerful ship-to-ship capability and a considerable superiority in missile units over NATO."

NATO commanders are deeply concerned over the deployment of Soviet ships in the Indian Ocean. Concludes another NATO report: Russia's "power to rapidly switch ships from the Mediterranean to the Indian Ocean, once the Suez Canal is reopened, will considerably increase her presence and influence in an area which six years ago was a Western lake."

TIMELY QUOTES

"This business about them not being able to find a jury of peers to sit in judgment of Nixon — baloney! What's so hard about finding 12 crooks to sit in judgment of another crook?" — Anonymous New York taxi cab driver in response to charges by former White House aides of ex-President Nixon that only a jury of former presidents could fairly judge Mr. Nixon on trial.

When they get around to playing the dummy, they aren't likely to come up with complicated squeezes and end plays. But when it comes to standard, basic good play they are right there.

We watched one of them play today's hand. She took the first diamond and saw that it was up to her to go after hearts. At least we assume that is what she saw, because she called for dummy's deuce of hearts.

Her eight lost to West's queen and a second diamond was led. She won in dummy, cashed the last good diamond since she needed that trick and called for dummy's 10 of hearts.

It didn't matter whether East covered or ducked. Actually East ducked. South let the 10 ride; played a third heart; and made the three heart tricks she needed.

Note that if South had called for the 10 of hearts at trick two and East had ducked South would only have been able to take two heart tricks.

Loosen, Tighten, Spend, Cut Some More—Pray!

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Listening in at a recent White House economic summit meeting I remembered the story of the pioneer with a sore that wouldn't heal. In despair, he asked an Indian medicine man if he could cure the ailment. Yes, the Indian replied, then tied the pioneer to a post, heated an iron rod and drove it into the sore.

When the man recovered consciousness he wanted to know why he had been so treated. "Simple," said the Indian. "You had a sore that was a mystery to me. Now you have a burn and I know how to cure burns."

Some of the nations most prestigious economists have proposed this same solution to President Ford. They confess they know no cure for inflation, especially a stagflation in which both prices and unemployment rise. These men therefore want to tighten up sternly and bring the economy close to a standstill. Don't worry about drifting over the edge into a depression, they said. "We know how to solve that, just start spending." A few economists put the matter almost this bluntly.

Economists, once supremely confident of their powers, now reluctantly realize that what they've been preaching as theory doesn't fit the real world.

These men thus had little faith in the proposals they offered Mr. Ford. They talked about budget cutting — as a gesture. Some favored a $3 billion program of public service employment and reduced taxes for those earning less than $15,000. These would ease the pain for those hard hit; they wouldn't solve inflation.

Other economists proposed wage and price controls and government action to channel loans into industries or projects considered desirable. Again, these are palliatives, not solutions.

Some men present said they knew how to cure inflation if only they didn't have to consider what their solutions would do to millions of people.

Everyone present bowed to the desirability of increasing productivity. They could not agree on how that could be accomplished. There was seemingly strong agreement that productivity would not grow appreciably in the next year or two regardless of what they propose or the government does.

They talked in mammoth overall solutions like tightening or loosening the supply of money. But they confessed this "meat axe" approach doesn't seem to work. Tight reins tightens money for those you don't want to hit as well as speculators, wastreis, overly ambitious expenders and the producers of nonessentials. A blanket stringency which induces consumers to tighten purchases also forces production cutbacks which lead to unemployment and must be countered by government payouts. This leads to further budget deficits which spur more inflation—and so on around the circle.

It now is clear the simplistic proposals of the Keynsian disciples and other economic schools are similar in perception to the physics of Aristotle. They are predicated on a theoretical economic model which has never existed and "laws" which bear little relationship to the way people act. They assume all industrialists, farmers, government officials and consumers think and act in the same predetermined patterns.

What is remarkable is that some of the most prominent of the economists present at the White House openly admitted the withering of their faith in conventional economic wisdom. This is the beginning of knowledge and bears promise for the years ahead.

Is Armageddon Deterrent Enough?

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Not love of peace but fear of war — nuclear war — has maintained East and West in uneasy coexistence since 1945.

Not the North Atlantic Treaty Organization nor the presence of American troops in Europe but the sure knowledge that any war that began coventionally would end in a mutually destructive nuclear exchange has kept the Soviet Union within the borders it advanced to at the end of World War II.

Yet we talk as if Hiroshima and Nagasaki had never happened, as if there were not hundreds of nuclear-armed inter-continental missiles on both sides, implanted in underground silos and carried on submarines roving the seas, perpetually targeted on the major cities of both sides.

We talk as if the Third World War, should it happen, would be a repetition of the Second — fought with infinitely more sophisticated weapons to be sure, but essentially a war of army against army, of tank advances along invasion routes, of struggles to win supremacy in the air, of mobilization and deployment and logistics and lines of supply.

A staff paper recently published by the Brookings Institution warns that the Soviet Union is geared for a "high-velocity offensive" aimed at overrunning Western Europe before the West can be mobilized.

We are told that the Cyprus crisis has placed the status of American bases in Greece in jeopardy and that the loss of these bases would create a dangerously weak spot in the southern flank of the defensive ring holding back the Soviets.

Strategists alert us to the peril posed by Russia's burgeoning navy and her development of new fighter aircraft. America's security, and hence that of the Free World, we are told, depends upon maintaining a military establishment second to none, both our own and that of our allies, even those that are dictatorships.

The Brookings Institution paper charges that our forces in Europe are set up for a long war against the Soviet Union, which is only a little more difficult to credit than the paper's own argument that any war would be a lightning, but altogether conventional, affair.

It is logical to assume, of course, that should the Soviet Union be so foolish as to launch a non-nuclear invasion of Western Europe or a thrust through a weakened Mediterranean flank, the West would initially attempt to meet it with a non-nuclear reply.

But is it conceivable that the West would accept defeat in conventional war — would allow victorious Soviet armies to march into Bonn or Paris or Athens, to sink America's Mediterranean fleet, to seize the oil fields of the Mideast — and still withhold nuclear retaliation?

Or, conversely, is it conceivable that the Soviet Union would permit its armies to be thrown back and see those of the West invade Eastern Europe and not bring its awesome nuclear arsenal into use?

Granted that a totally disarmed West, the lack of even token opposing military forces facing the Communist East around the European and Asia perimeters, might tempt Kremlin warhawks to try a military adventure here or there, a la Hitler, in the belief that such a peace-loving opponent could be pushed pretty far before he reached the extremity of resorting to nuclear war.

A credible Western defense, serving as a "trip wire" for a nuclear Red Alert but strong enough to make any conventional invasion costly and doubtful and with enough reserve power to contain a conventional war until men came to their sanity, thus makes sense as far as it goes.

But the only real guarantee of peace in the world — peace meaning the absence of a shooting war between the United States and the U.S.S.R. — is, as it has been for almost three decades, the certain knowledge in Moscow and Washington that any war between them would be nuclear.

Successive efforts of British and Australian yachtsmen have failed to win the "America's Cup" trophy from the United States. The race is open to all classes of yachts from all over the world and covers a 60-mile course around the Isle of Wight. It is known as "America's Cup" because it was first won by the U.S. yacht "America" during the first yachting championship which was part of the London Exposition of 1851, The World Alamanac says.

VOLUNTARILY—

Imposition Of Wage, Price Curbs Urged

DETROIT (AP) — The chairman of Dow Chemical Co. called today for the imposition of voluntary wage-price controls, while auto industry leaders proposed a mortatorium on federal emission and safety rules.

"I would propose voluntary support of what might be called a 'five and 10' program," said Dow's Carl Gerstacker. "Government would ask industry to take a pledge, company by company, not to raise its price index by more than a reasonable level, say 5 per cent.

"And government would ask labor leaders to pledge that they would limit their demands to a reasonable level, such as 10 per cent, during the same period."

He said the program would help immediately to arrest the spiral of inflation if the guidelines were respected over the next year.

Gerstacker made the suggestion in remarks prepared for a mini-summit on inflation sponsored by the U.S. Commerce Department. It is one of 12 preparatory sessions for the President's Conference on Inflation set for Sept. 27-28 in Washington.

Ford Motor Co. Chairman Henry Ford II warned that inflation "will destroy our economy if not checked.

"Unfortunately, fiscal and monetary stringency cause lower income s, higher unemployment and social stress."

Ford called for creation of a presidential commission to study long-range demands for raw materials. He said public employment for the unemployed and income maintenance for the poor might be needed in the future.

General Motors Chairman Richard Gerstenberg said he agreed with industry leaders who said during a mini-summit in Pittsburgh earlier this week that mandatory wage and price controls had no place in the administration's anti-inflation campaign.

Gerstenberg repeated GM's oft-stated request for a moratorium on safety and emission standards. He said they drain the auto industry of badly needed capital.

Henry Ford agreed that new safety and emissions standards must be deferred.

AFTER TANKER GOES AGROUND—

Oil Spill May Harm Penguins

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Officials, working with a tanker which is aground and spilling oil in the Strait of Magellan, have an added worry—what about the approaching penguins — says a Texas A&M professor.

Rough seas, high winds and high tides have made salvage operations slow and difficult and have spread the thick crude on Chilean beaches, said Dr. Roy Hann, chairman of A&M's environmental engineering department.

"Right now, their biggest worry is what will happen to the tens of thousands of penguins expected to pass through the area in the next few weeks in their annual migration to three islands nearby," said Dr. Hann. The islands are their nesting grounds.

Dr. Hann, recently returned from te far south region, went there as scientific advisor for the U.S. Coast Guard National Strike Force providing help to Chilean authorities in trying to free the tanker Metula.

The Royal Dutch Shell tanker went aground Aug. 9 shortly after it entered the strait loaded with 194,000 tons of Saudi Arabian crude oil intended for Chile.

Dr. Hann said the oil spilled so far covers more than 75 miles of coastline on Chile's mainland and on Tierra del Fuego. He said it was greater than any spill on U.S. shores.

"The coating of oil ranges from one to three inches in thickness and from a few to 75 feet in width," Hann said.

Chilean officials hope most of the heavy oil will be carried deep into the Atlantic by the strong winds and will not represent further danger to the mainland.

Dr. Hann noted that the oil already spilled will affect marine life and will have an impact on the environment.

He said one of the reasons he went to Chile is because of construction of superports, and the use of supertankers are being considered in Texas.

"This is one of the new large tankers," Hann said. "It is the first time one of this kind runs aground and spills oil."

The Coast Guard team was established to attack oil spills. It took special equipment to Chile which was needed to transfer some of the Metula cargo to other ships.

Kennedy Says He'd Answer Questions On Chappaquiddick

HOBART, Ind. (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy says that if he decides to run for president he will answer any questions raised about Chappaquiddick.

The Massachusetts Democrat, who was here Wednesday for a $100-a-plate Democratic fund-raising dinner, said he would "respond to questions and do the best I could" on the controversy surrounding the accident. Mary Jo Kopechne drowned when a car driven by Kennedy plunged off a bridge into deep water off Chappaquiddick Island in July of 1969.

He said, "I have indicated it was a very deep personal tragedy. I have accepted full responsibility for it and full regret for the incident. I would respond to any questions."

Two-Car Accident Fatal To Three

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP) — Authorities continued an invesigation today into a two-car accident that claimed three lives.

Police said Charlene Taylor, 19, of Sherman, Jo Ann Culberson, 25, of Dallas, and her husband Kenneth Lee Culberson, 23, died late Wednesday when the two cars smashed into a brick wall.

Witnesses told police that one of the cars pursued the other at high speed through the city.

SENATE, HOUSE PANELS JOIN JAWORSKI—

Efforts To Expand Access To Nixon Tapes, Papers Increased

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate committee is ready to join the special Watergate prosecutor and a House subcommittee in efforts to expand access to former President Richard M. Nixon's tapes and documents.

The Senate Government Operations Committee was scheduled to vote today on a resolution calling on President Ford to make public all parts of the tapes dealing with Watergate.

And the committee is also considering action on a bill sponsored by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., which would make all the papers of future presidents the property of the government.

In the House, Rep. Tom Steed, D-Okla., said on Tuesday his House appropriations subcommittee will urge that none of the tapes and papers be moved from Washington "until an arrangement is worked out to assure they will be made available to the public."

Jaworski, meanwhile, sent the White House a list of tapes and documents he wants for various Watergate prosecutions. And a White House source said that at the same time Jaworski aides are trying to reach a compromise on access to the materials with Nixon's lawyer, Herbert J. Miller.

Jaworski had not been consulted on the agreement, announced Sept. 8, for safekeeping of Nixon's tapes and papers. The agreement was worked out by Benton L. Becker, a Washington lawyer representing Ford and Miller.

Under that agreement the materials would be safeguarded in a vault near Nixon's San Clemente home which could be opened only by use of two keys. Nixon would have one key, and Arthur Sampson, head of the General Services Administration, would have the other.

The agreement calls on Nixon to make materials available if subpoenaed, but he could challenge any subpoena in court.

The materials have not left the White House yet, but Ford has stopped short of saying they will remain there until Jaworski's staff obtains everything it needs.

The Senate resolution, which would not have the force of law, was suggested by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana. It states that, because it is now uncertain whether the public will be allowed access to the tapes, Ford should make them available.

"It calls upon President Ford to assure the American people that in the national interest they will be provided all the facts of Watergate . . .," Mansfield said.

The House subcommittee has deleted funds for Nixon's transition which had been intended for construction of the vault for the papers and tapes.

Under the agreement signed by Nixon, he donates the tapes to the United States effective Sept. 1, 1979 with the provision that he can order destruction of any he feels would injure, embarrass or harass anyone.

The tapes are to be destroyed five years later or on Nixon's death, whichever is first.

He agrees to hold his papers jointly with the government for three years, after which he is free to do with them as he wishes.

Two From Texas To Seek Amnesty

HOUSTON (AP) — President Ford's amnesty program has brought in two telephone calls from men in Canada, Asst. U.S. Atty. Carl Walker says.

Walker said the men agreed to return to Houston to discuss the clemency offer.

U.S. Atty. Anthony J. P. Farris said his office currently has 45 arrest warrants for men charged with draft evasion and 16 others who are suspected of failing to register with their Selective Service boards.

Detroit Policeman Shot For Third Time

DETROIT (AP) — Gregory Ciaglo left a monastery six years ago to join the Detroit Police Department. He wanted to help people. Now he's in serious condition after being shot for the third time.

"He had a deep faith that there was a job to be done there," said his sister, Janice Gilbeau. "He did not always want to be a policeman.

"After he came out of the Marine Corps, he spent a year in a monastery and then decided to join the department to help people."

Police say Ciaglo, 28, was shot in the stomach with his own handgun on Tuesday by a driver he was arresting for not having a license or registration.

Ciaglo's years with the department have been stormy. He had a serious dispute with his fellow officers and there were the three shootings.

He quit the department in 1970 because of pressure by fellow officers after he refused to sign a report that didn't include details of a beating his partners allegedly administered to a man.

Ciaglo's supervisor, then-Sgt. Frank A. Blount, backed him in the dispute, and he rejoined the force a year later.

"You can tell he is not a violent man, but I would love to have 1,000 like him on the force," said Blount, who is now a deputy chief of police.

Woman May Have To Sell Bonds At Antique Auction

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — A Seattle, Wash., woman is holding $500,000 in Corpus Christi Ship Channel bonds today but they may be worth more at an antiques auction, according to Corpus Christi officials.

The bonds were issued in 1858.

Mrs. Schuyler Cummings wrote City Manager Marvin Townsend several weeks ago asking that the city honor the bonds which have a face value of $500,000. Counting the eight per cent interest for 116 years, the bonds could have been worth several millions.

But Finance Director Harold Zick said Tuesday he located city documents which void the bonds, making them of some historical value but of no monetary value.

Zick said he dug into city records of June 4 and 5, 1869 which absolved the city of any obligations.

The bonds, he said, "commonly known as the Corpus Christi Ship Channel bonds were revoked, canceled and nulled and declared to be of no binding force and effect."

Zick said the bonds were no good because the company engaged to dredge the channel never completed its work.

Mrs. Cummings said she came across the bonds while reviewing her late husband's papers. She said her husband had been left the bonds by his father, a partner in the ship channel dredging company once engaged by the City of Corpus Christi.

Bell Seeks New Phone Rate Hike At San Antonio

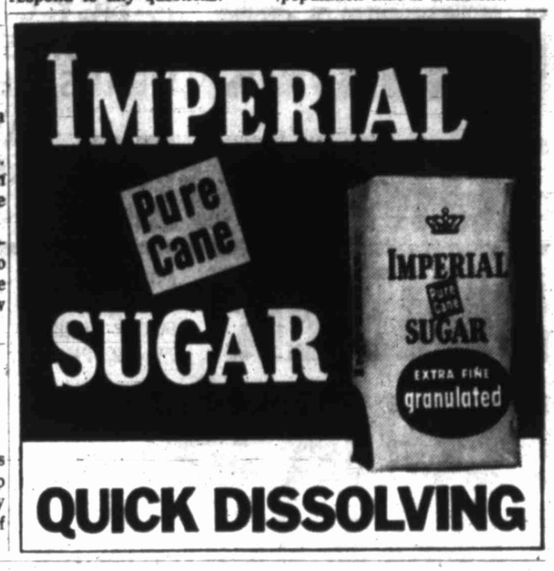

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The city council will be faced for the second time in 19 months with a request from Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. to approve a rate increase.

Bell and San Antonio officials Wednesday said the rate increase package was estimated to be 10 per cent higher than at present.

The council approved the last hike Feb. 11, 1973.

Bell division manager Jim Reed said details of the request will be made public Friday if the request is placed on next week's council agenda.

City officials indicated rate increases will average 10 per cent on all items, with the lowest hike on two-party line connections.

Can't Afford To Buy House?—Now You Can't Find One To Rent Either

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — You've heard of the problems involved in buying a single-family dwelling today. Prices are soaring. Mortgages are costly and difficult to obtain. And the selection is greatly reduced.

That aspect of the depressing housing situation has been widely publicized, not only through editorial accounts but by home shoppers who communicate their shock to anyone who will listen. Frustrated, they rent instead.

But even that recourse soon may be denied families because of another development in the crisis-prone housing market: A shortage of rental units is showing up in many of the nation's major housing markets.

In a survey of 17 major local markets throughout the country, the vacancy rate for modern rental units was under 5 per cent in more than half. In Washington, D.C., the vacancy rate was recorded at zero.

The study, conducted by Advance Mortgage Corp., a subsidiary of Citicorp, a New York holding company that also operates the First National City Bank, suggests also that the condition could worsen.

Normal apartment demand, explains Phillip Hendershott, senior vice president, is being swelled by families priced out of the single-home market. In addition, materials shortages are delaying apartment house completions.

Were financing more readily available, and at lower rates, builders might try to meet demand by constructing more units, but there are few indications they are doing so.

"Developers are not building to meet demand," Hendershott says. "Fewer permits for rentals will be issued this year than at any time since 1960, when apartment living was the pattern of only a few crowded cities."

Construction costs, he maintains, are running out of control, and loans available to builders are smaller and costlier. And, while rents have been rising, many builders seem to feel the return still is unattractive.

Siamese Twins Separated, Expected To Survive

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Separated by surgery which took 6½ hours, Siamese twin girls from the Dominican Republic slept in separate cribs for the first time in their 13 months of life.

"I know of no reason why they won't live," Dr. C. Everett Koop said after the long operation carried out Wednesday by 23 surgeons and nurses at Children's Hospital.

"They were two healthy little girls together. We have every reason to believe they'll be two healthy little girls apart," said Koop, who headed the surgical team.

He said not only are both girls expected to live, but that they should lead very normal lives and even bear their own children.

Clara and Altagracia Rodriguez, who had been joined since birth at the pelvis and abdomen, were given their own complete sets of internal organs during the surgical operation.

In the initial recovery stage, Clara and Altagracia were placed in two beds, but they will be treated in the same bed later to prevent possible psychological trauma resulting from separation after living as one being up until now, hospital spokesman Shirley Bonnem said.

She said the tots were doing "extremely well."

Mrs. Farida Rodriguez and her twins came here 11 days ago from a farm outside Santo Domingo. When her daughters were born on Aug. 12, 1973, Mrs. Rodriguez said she was told they would die. Other doctors told her they would live into adulthood but could never be separated.

But Mrs. Rodriguez's cousin worked for an American woman in Puerto Rico, who told her sister in Pennsylvania about the Siamese twins. Dianna Zimnoch of Warrington, Pa., arranged for the operation and her church raised the funds. Mrs. Rodriguez, whose husband remained at home, has three other children.

The hospital said medical case histories show only 24 successful Siamese twin separations, with the first recorded in 1600.

First Texas Nuclear Power Plant Faces New Hurdle

BEDFORD, Tex. (AP) — There's still another hurdle to be cleared before the proposed building of Texas' first nuclear power plant can be laid before the Atomic Energy Commission—a safety review.

A subcommittee of the AEC's Advisory Committee on Reactor Safeguards will submit its recommendations to the parent group next month and then they'll be passed on to the AEC.

This schedule was disclosed Wednesday by Meyer Bender, chairman of the subcommittee, as he conducted a hearing on the project.

"Since this will be the first nuclear plant in Texas," he said, "we are anxious to see that it sets a good precedent with the proper assurances of public safety."

Robert Caudle, project director for Texas Utilities Generating Co. which is applicant for the plant on Squaw Creek four miles north of Glen Rose in Somervell County, presented technical data on the reactor plant at the hearing.

He said that if a limited work authorization is granted for construction of the dam for Squaw Creek Reservoir, work on that first phase of the project should begin in October.

Caudle said a final radiological safety hearing is scheduled in January and after the hearing a construction permit for the reactor plant can be expected in February.

Safety-related construction could begin in March and the plant could be ready to receive the first "reactor vessel" in April 1977, he said.

Construction should be completed early in 1979 and an operating license could be expected in May of that year.

TUGSCO witnesses told Bender there was little earthquake danger in the Glen Rose area of Texas and proper construction safeguards were planned. He was advised also that construction was planned to withstand tornado wind velocities up to 300 miles an hour.

Bender questioned TUGSCO officials about safeguards against possible sabotage and reminded them to be prepared to go more into detail on these measures at a full committee hearing in Washington in October.

Anna Mayer, a Weatherford housewife, said she appeared as a witness "on behalf of ordinary mothers and children and future generations of children." She rated nuclear energy "unsafe" and said she "questioned the good judgment of the AEC in permitting the building of nuclear fuel plants."

Women Prove Shooting Not Just Pastime For Males

By ALAN FREEMAN

SOUTH MARCH, Ont. (AP) — Vicki Boa does not look like a typical target rifle shooter.

Vicki is slight, blond and pretty. And she was one of the few women competing in the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association DCRA annual meet near Ottawa.

Major Gordon Switzer, the DCRA's secretary-treasurer, said there were about 20 women among the 125 shooters here.

Vicki started shooting last summer.

"I guess I started to keep my dad company," the 19-year-old student said.

Vicki's father, Gil Boa, was a member of Canada's shooting team at five Olympic Games, including the Munich Games in 1972. He died last September.

Shooting is a family tradition with the Boas.

"I'm the fourth generation of shooters in the family," she said.

The Boa shooting tradition is also maintained by Vicki's 17-year-old brother, Sandy, who competed at the DCRA meet as well.

Shooting is one of the few sports where women compete in the same events for the same prizes as men. Vicki wouldn't want this to change.

"In a lot of sports, women's muscles are different from men's," she said. "But in shooting, it's different. It takes a lot of concentration, steady nerves, keen eyes and yes, a bit of muscle."

Vicki is a food sciences student at the University of Guelph and she competes for the university rifle team.

There's rivalry between the two, but Sandy, who has been competing six years, usually comes out the winner.

Vicki said that for the most part, the men on the shooting range accept her.

"But sometimes," she added, "they don't like to be beaten."

Nevertheless, Vicki isn't too anxious for more women to take up the sport.

"I wouldn't want the odds to change," she said with a smile.

Rebels Shoot For Third Straight At Plainview Friday

Burns McKinney.... Thankful To Be Alive

Battle Scene

By Jud Battle

It was only a couple of years ago that Midland's Burns McKinney, lean and hawklike in the black and white striped shirt, was a familiar figure on Southwest Conference football fields.

Whenever there was a big game, it seemed as though Burns was there or flip on the tv set for a SWC regional game or maybe even the Cotton, Gator or All-America Game and chances are that peering intently at the action in the offensive backfield, whistle ready, was McKinney.

Then he reached the retirement age after the 1972 season and last spring Burns went on the inevitable fishing trip on the Rio Grande. That's when disaster struck.

As Burns described it, he was pouring gasoline on what was supposed to be dead charcoals. They exploded in his face.

"I guess it was instinctive," Burns said. "I turned my head and the flames caught the right side of my face and ear."

They also seared across his shirt and in seconds, Burns was ablaze.

"I ran a few steps and then rolled on the ground," he said, recalling those panic stricken few moments. "At least, I knew enough to hold my breath.

"I think the thing that saved me was that I didn't try to pull the burning shirt over my head. I'd have been a goner in an instant. The fellows with me just yanked it free."

Even so, McKinney was hospitalized for months with 20 degree burns over his face, chest and arms.

The worst was yet to come, the days of pain from the burns and then the grafting of the skin from the thigh to the burned areas.

"Now I know what pain really is," he sighs, thankful to be alive.

The graft job took so well around the ear, neck and face that the burned area is hardly noticeable, but maybe that's because of the raw, red of the upper arm area.

"Feel it. It's like leather," he invites. "But I don't care how it looks. The graft job is taking and it will look better later on."

McKinney's arm was scorched all the way to the finger tips and he still has little feeling in two of the fingers, although the others are coming back.

"You wouldn't believe the progress Burns has made in the short time he has been taking therapy in the whirl-pool bath," Midland High trainer James (Doc) Dodson said as Burns prepared for his daily bath.

"When he started, he could barely bend his arm and couldn't raise it above his waist," Doc said.

Burns grinned, "Now I can bend the elbow and touch my shoulder with my fingers. And since I started on the therapy I can lift weights over my head with my hand. Seven or eight pounds may not sound like much, but it's seven or eight more than I could lift before I started."

1-1 Bulldogs Are Young, Eager

By BOB DILLON
R-T Sports Writer

PLAINVIEW — Coach Jim Acree's Midland Lee Rebels tangle with the young and inexperienced Plainview Bulldogs at 7:30 p.m. Friday in their final tuneup for District 5-4A warfare.

Lee takes a perfect 2-0 record into the non-district battle while Coach George Kirk's Bulldogs stand 1-1 and start a host of underclassmen both on offense and defense.

Kirk comes to Plainview from Baylor University where he was an assistant under Grant Teaff and the offensive-minded coach was head man at Amarillo Palo Duro in 1970 when the Dons lost to Odessa Permian, 18-6, in the quarterfinals.

"We are young and in a rebuilding year, but the kids play with lots of enthusiasm, and make lots of mistakes," said Kirk. Kirk two-platoons with eleven fresh players in on offense and defense. He starts five juniors and a sophomore on offense and seven juniors on defense.

Lee, meanwhile, is a senior-oriented club, but will be missing the valuable services of co-captain Keith Bishop who is sidelined for three weeks with a broken foot. "Keith has a walking cast now and there doesn't seem to be much pain. We may get him back by the San Angelo game or sooner," said Acree. Bishop is a 220-pound tackle and definite college prospect.

Plainview has beaten Lubbock Estacado, 16-7, and then lost to Amarillo Tascosa, 14-7, here last week for its 1-1 season record.

Plainview is coming off a 1-9 season last year and the Rebels rolled to a 39-10 win in Midland last year, but four years ago, lost 14-10 here in this same stadium.

Acree believes in getting the best athletes on the field on both offense and defense so he starts four players both ways. They include Lance Posey, Brad Stephenson, David Sledge and Gary Bowman. Sledge replaces the injured Bishop at left defensive tackle and starts at strong guard on offense. Sledge is the third swing man at that tackle slot on defense, according to Acree.

Bowman plays quick guard on offense and right end on the defensive unit while Stephenson starts a strong tackle on offense and right tackle on defense while Kreuz plays tight end on the offensive unit and left end on defense.

Tailback Milton Jones also sees duty at a linebacker slot and he alternates with Blain Murray on offense while Posey along with Murray, play cornerback on defense.

Noseguard Buster Mathis leads a hard-hitting defense which has 10 seniors and one junior while split end Robert Johnson and fullback Mike Oliphant, are the only juniors on offense.

Midland Mixed Doubles On Tap

Midland's first annual Mixed Doubles Tennis Tournament not only will provide tennis action over the weekend, but will help finance tennis in the West Zone of the Texas Girls Youth Development program for the next year.

The TGYD, now under the National Tennis Foundation Youth Tennis Grand Prix, is undergoing a wholesale revamping in which regular competition will be offered.

Texas, for example, will be divided into eight zones and each zone into eight districts as the NTF attempts to standardize a national youth program wherein each section's top players meet in a national grand prix summer circuit leading up to and including the USLTA national championships.

The Mixed Doubles will be played at the Midland High, Midland Lee courts, Racquet Club and MCC Friday through Sunday, and each competing team will play a minimum of three matches.

Finals Sunday in the two division affair will begin at 3 p.m. and 4 p.m.

Rangers Split

Bochte Homer Beats Jenkins In Opener

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Ferguson Jenkins says it just goes to show that he can still make a mistake every now and then.

Jenkins, the Texas Rangers' 23-game winner, yielded back-to-back home runs to California's Bruce Bochte, who played for El Paso in the Texas League in 1973, and Joe Lahoud in the ond game 2-0.

Jenkins, who saw his seven-game winning streak snapped as the Angels took a 4-1 victory in the first half of a double-header Wednesday. The Rangers, with Steve Hargan pitching a three-hit shutout, won the second game 4-0.

"I just made mistakes to those guys," said Jenkins, who along with Oakland's Catfish Hunter is a prime candidate for the American League Cy Young Award. "I'm capable of doing that just like any other pitcher you know."

Bochte touched Jenkins, 23-12, for his fifth homer with two out in the first and Lahoud followed with his 13th on the next pitch.

After the Rangers got a run back in their half of the second on walks to Tom Robson and Len Randle and Toby Harrah's single, California tacked on a pair of runs in the third. Charlie Sands knocked in the two runs with a double behind

Yankees' Lead Shrinks To Half

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The New York Yankees and Baltimore Orioles are still running 1-2 in the American League East race, only the Orioles are closing fast in the stretch . . . and here come the Boston Red Sox on the outside.

Those three embattled baseball teams moved closer together in the nerve-jangling pennant race after the Orioles defeated the Yankees 10-4 and the Red Sox whipped the Detroit Tigers 8-5 Wednesday night.

The night's results left the Yankees with a tenuous, half-game lead over the Orioles and left the Red Sox within striking distance at 2½ games behind in third place.

The Red Sox got an extra push in the stretch run from rookie Fred Lynn, only in his second year of professional ball. He collected four hits, including a double and triple, and drove in four runs.

In the other American League games, the Oakland A's beat the Kansas City Royals 5-4; the California Angels beat the Texas Rangers 4-1 in the first game of a doubleheader before losing the second, 2-0; the Cleveland Indians tripped the Milwaukee Brewers 6-3 and the Chicago White Sox beat the Minnesota Twins 3-1.

Winning for only the seventh time in the last 24 games, the Red Sox kept alive their flickering hopes for the East title.

Detroit's Al Kaline had a home run, double and a single, leaving him only four hits shy of becoming the 12th player in history to reach the 3,000 mark. The double was the 497th of his career, tying him with Sam Rice for 22nd place on baseball's all-time list.

Orioles 10, Yankees 4

Mike Cuellar became a 20-game winner for the fourth time as Baltimore broke a tie with seven runs in the sixth inning and crushed New York. The triumph was Baltimore's 17th in the past 22 games.

The Orioles' big inning against three pitchers included three walks — two with the bases loaded — three singles and consecutive two-run doubles by Rich Coggins and Bobby Grich.

A's 5, Royals 4

Indians 6, Brewers 3

Frank Robinson's 21st home run of the season and first for Cleveland capped a four-run rally in the sixth inning and gave the Indians their victory over Milwaukee.

White Sox 3, Twins 1

Ponies Obtain Court Order

DALLAS (AP) — A federal judge here has delayed a hearing on a temporary restraining order against the National Collegiate Athletics Association (NCAA) thus allowing Southern Methodist University football captain and center Mike Smith to play Saturday.

SMU will play Virginia Tech at the Cotton Bowl.

Smith had been declared ineligible because of violations of NCAA rules but he went to court last Friday and obtained a restraining order from U.S. District Court Judge Sarah T. Hughes. The judge set a hearing for today, but on Wednesday delayed the hearing until Sept. 26.

Judge Hughes said the delay would allow Smith's attorneys to take deposition from three officials of the NCAA at Kansas City.

SMU was placed on a two-year probation by the NCAA just before the start of the football season. School officials had admitted that cash awards had been given to players who executed outstanding plays. The nature of Smith's violations was not revealed.

Down The Drain

The second week of high school football action is down the drain and this particular drain pipe found it a bit hard to swallow.

Just when you think you have a solid line on most of the teams, they destroy your confidence. I finished last week's picking game with a 23-7 mark for an overall 49-13 reading and a .790 percentage. That's just a shade below the desired level, but the pressure mounts as we head into Week No. 3.

I missed Rankin's upset over McCamey last week, but after personally seeing the game, I really don't see how it could be classified as an upset. The Devils now own a fifth place ranking among Class A schools, a jump of four notches from the first week play. If the Devils continue to play like that all year, there is no team in West Texas that will keep the Devils out of the playoffs.

I also stubbed a toe on Big Spring's upset over Hobbs, N.M., Estacado's victory over Monahans, Wilson's win over O'Donnell, Seagraves' victory over New Deal and Shallowater's loss to Hart. Iowa Park also surprised me with a victory over Wichita Falls Hirschi after being bombed in the first week.

If those games gave you trouble also last week, well, take a look below at the games that are on this week's list. It appears to be an even rougher slate, so, let's get with it.

Pecos, Buffs, Devils Picked

PECOS 14, LAMESA 7 — Two rugged defensive units tangle in this one, but Pecos may be remembering the 40-20 humiliation of last year. I'll be in Lamesa Friday for this one.

MONAHANS 14, CRANE 10 — The Loboes got knocked off last week, and they had better get their heads up against a very fine Golden Crane team.

ALPINE 34, McCAMEY 20 — After a 700-yard performance against AAA Fort Stockton last week, the Fightin' Bucks may not be off the winning track again this year.

ANDREWS 44, BROWNFIELD 12 — Coach Tommy Watkins' Mustangs find the victory road for the first time after finishing with AAAA schools, on a downbeat.

STANTON 21, ROTAN 7 — Coach Bill Young's Buffaloes face their sternest test of the season after losing starting quarterback Bill Howard with a broken ankle, and I say they will meet the challenge.

RANKIN 38, JAL, N.M., 14 — Coach Dwayne Turner's Devils own both offense and defense and I think it makes for an undefeated regular season at least.

REAGAN COUNTY 18, COLORADO CITY 7 — The Owls will find out what it's like to win for the first time in 1974, and they had better enjoy it because AAA Lamesa is next on the schedule.

The so-called pre-district slate for West Texas football teams give fans an inkling of what to expect when the district races begin, and area hopefuls may draw some keener lines after the third week of play Friday.

One of the biggest contests in West Texas will be staged in Lamesa Friday at 7:30 p.m. when Coach Tom Koger's Golden Tornadoes host the Pecos Eagles in a key non-district bout. Both are figured to make strong runs in their respective AAA loops, but both have been less than impressive in their first two starts even though both own 2-0 marks.

Lamesa and Pecos have given up only seven points each in the first two games while the Eagles have scored only 39 points compared to Lamesa's anemic 21 — anemic that is compared to last year when the Tors led all of West Texas in scoring and total offense.

Most expect Friday's encounter to be a low scoring affair with the fourth quarter being the key period. Both teams have a knack of salting victories away in the last quarter. Both of Lamesa's victories have come in the late stages and Pecos has scored 15 points in the last quarter this year.

While this contest is an important test for the two involved, the area slate is full of such contests in a week that is termed critical by most area coaches.

For instance, District 7-AA members are all involved in key bouts this week. Crane's Golden Cranes, meeting their third straight AAA opponent, host the Monahans Loboes, another District 2-AAA favorite along with Pecos. Monahans lost to Lubbock Estacado last week and Snyder the week before, and doesn't appear to be as strong as most thought. Crane, on the other hand, defeated AAA Fort Stockton before losing to AAA Kermit when the Yellowjackets broke a couple of long TD runs for the winning margin. The Monahans-Crane game will be an important affair.

McCamey's Badgers also face a struggle this week when they host AA power Alpine, ranked ninth among AA schools. McCamey's slate is also rugged. The Badgers lost a 27-13 decision to the Class A Rankin Red Devils last week, but the Devils are currently ranked fifth among Class A powers. Alpine promises to be another tough assignment for Coach Joe Neill's Badgers after rolling out over 700 yards total offense last week against AAA Fort Stockton.

Defending 7-AA champion Reagan County is off to a slow start with two straight losses, but the Owls of Coach Wilburn George may finally get a break from a tough schedule this week when they travel to AA Colorado City. A victory for the Owls may add some confidence for the young Birds and give some added incentive for the rest of the schedule. A loss may wipe out the last vested hope of running for a repeat championship.

Sonora, the newest member in 7-AA, faces 10th ranked Mason in another key contest. Sonora has not allowed a score in two ball games, but has scored only 14 points. This may be a good clue to how strong Sonora's defense really is.

The Andrews Mustangs, losers to two AAAA squads, travel to Brownfield Friday and most feel that Coach Tommy Watkins' crew will come away with an easy victory. The Mustangs need an easy victory and a good win could lift the hopes of Andrews for the district run in 2-AAA where the teams appear to be about even on all fronts. Pecos and Monahans have been tabbed as the pre-season favorites in 2-AAA, but Seminole and Kermit have been more impressive. Andrews may be a contender if they survive a murderous pre-district slate.

ONLY TIME WILL TELL—

Are Pats Real?

By DAVE O'HARA

FOXBORO, Mass. (AP) — Are the New England Patriots for real?

Only time will tell, but Chuck Fairbanks of Oklahoma fame appears to have turned the corner at the start of his second season as head coach.

The Patriots shocked the National Football League by belting the Super Bowl champion Miami Dolphins 34-24 in a season opener last weekend. A fluke? Maybe. But more likely not.

In just 1½ years as over-all boss since being lured from mighty Oklahoma, Fairbanks has shuffled more players than a Las Vegas casino dealer does cards. His mission: rebuild a have-not team into a winner.

The Patriots had a 5-9 record for Fairbanks' first season. The record, however, is misleading. The team was bad —real bad. Opponents rarely had to pass. The defense gave up 2,850 yards on the ground and a staggering 300 points.

After accepting a multi-year, $1-million contract with the Patriots — Joe Paterno of Penn State had turned down the job — Fairbanks went into the NFL draft in 1973 looking for help for quarterback Jim Plunkett.

With maneuvering, he had three first-round draft choices, grabbing blocking guard John Hannah of Alabama, fullback Sam "Bam" Cunningham of Southern California and wide receiver Darryl Stingley of Purdue.

That was only the start. Fairbanks became a wheeler dealer, far surpassing the late Vince Lombardi when that legendary coach took over the Green Bay Packers in 1959.

The equipment manager barely had time to learn the names of some players. Fairbanks suffered in silence. A big winner in the college ranks, he gradually was putting together what he wanted.

HUNTING and FISHING

Bass Tournament

Permian Bass Club's State Tournament is scheduled Saturday and Sunday at Lake Amistad with headquarters at Amistad Lodge outside of Del Rio on Highway 90. There will be $500 in cash prizes and more than $1,500 in merchandise prizes.

It will be a five-fish string, 12-inch minimum with a $6 a day entry fee.

Lake Spence Report

Reports from Lake E. V. Spence last week were from good to excellent with channel cat, black and white bass providing action while the crappie fishing was also picking up. This week's rain should help stir up the fish.

David Schaffrina took a 4-pound striper; Bill Burge, a four-pound striper; Harold Garrett, a 4½ pound stripper and four white bass; Albert Turner, a 3½-pound striper; and Robert Pearce, seven crappie to 1½ pounds, all from Midland. C. L. Morrow, Big Lake, landed 15 crappie.

Antelope Decrease

An overall 35 percent decrease in Panhandle antelope herds has prompted Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept. officials to limit this year's hunt in the area to two counties: Dallam and Oldham. The season in the counties will run from Sept. 28 to Oct. 1 with a limit of one buck antelope by permit only . . . .

Wahoo Record

A Texas state fish record for wahoo, which stood for 12 years, was broken during July by Houston angler James R. Glenney when he hooked a 92-pounder at the East Breaks out of Port Aransas. The old record was 87 pounds. Glenney used an 80-pound test line to bring in the six-foot fish.

PPK TUTORS — Preston Ross, co-chairman of the Optimist Club-Rogers Ford Punt-Pass-Kick contest, and Lee placekicker Milton Jones, passer Greg Rendall and Lee Coach Jim Acree discuss clinic for instruction of 8-to-13 year olds scheduled for Midland High band practice field 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Saturday.

AT MIDLAND HIGH SATURDAY—

PP&K Clinic Scheduled

The annual Punt, Pass & Kick contest for boys and girls 8-to-13 years of age is scheduled for Oct. 5, but Saturday Midland High and Midland Lee players will conduct a clinic for contestants who want to brush up on their technique in preparation for the event.

Several Rebels and Bulldogs will be on hand Saturday at the 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. clinic to be conducted at the Midland High band practice and intramural field in back of the high school.

Entry blanks are available at Rogers Ford, the Central YMCA and from PE teachers at Midland's Elementary Schools. The contest Oct. 5 will be held at Midland High School, band practice field, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and the afternoon session begins at 2 p.m. Registration deadline is Oct. 4.

Winners in each of the six divisions, one at each age level, advance to zone competition. From there the trail leads through district, area, divisional and to the national finals.

Optimist Club official David Hoelscher predicted that "several hundred" contests would battle for the three trophies that will be awarded in each division.

It's not only a contest of distance, but accuracy is also important in determing the winner. PP&K involves no body contact, no special equipment and participation does not impair the youngster's amateur standing.

Top Army Athletes Hold Clinics At Lee, Midland

Six athletes, representing track & field, wrestling and Judo-Karate, are conducting in-school physical education clinics in Midland this week.

The nationally-recognized sports figures are all in the Army.

The clinics are co-sponsored as a public service by the Governor's Commission on Physical Fitness in Texas and US Army recruiting.

In Midland the Army clinicians are scheduled to conduct sessions at Robert E. Lee High and Midland High on today and Friday, according to Hal Battle of the Midland Independent School District.

The athletes are Master Sergeant John Powell of Cincinnati, Ohio; Staff Sergeant Andrew Connelly of Fort Benning, Georgia; Lieutenant John Bigley of Fort Campbell, Kentucky; Lieutenant Steve Flynn of Fort Sill, Oklahoma; Specialist Steve Bolen of Fort Lewis, Washington, and Specialist Steve Glassy also from Fort Lewis.

Powell holds a 3rd Degree Black Belt in Judo and coached the largest Judo club in the US at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base. Three of Powell's Judo proteges went on to national AAU championships.

Connelly was runner-up in the 1973 interservice Judo finals in the 154 lb. class.

Bigley was a teammate with Jim Ryun in the 1969 world record distance relay team, holds the 1971 NCAA All-American indoor championship and is an AAU All-American and Big 8 track champion.

Flynn holds the 1972 NCAA cross-country championship and is a three-mile record-holder. Bolen won three state wrestling championships in Oregon.

Glassy wrestled to the 1972 California AAU championship.

Houston Texans Move WFL 11 To Shreveport

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — The City of Shreveport, which this year got its first college football team in 30 years, will now get its first professional football team—the Houston Texans of the World Football League.

The league announced Wednesday it had purchased the Houston club from owner Steve Arnold, and planned to move it to Shreveport in time for a Sept. 25 game with the Memphis Southmen.

There were reports, however, that legal action may be taken to keep that game in Houston because of a promotion scheme that has been in progress since last month.

Shreveport had not had its own football team above the high school level since Centenary College dropped out of gridiron competition during World War II. However, Baptist Christian College, which opened here in 1961, began playing football this year for the first time.

As for the WFL move, the league is still hunting a new owner for the former Houston club and the team apparently will be on a "play now, pay later" plan.

Shreveport Mayor Calhoun Allen said the first game here could be played in the State Fair Stadium.

Allen estimated the cost of Shreveport franchise—including its obligations to the league—would be $2.5 million.

Monterey Gets Regulars Back Friday

LUBBOCK — "We're not as big or strong physically as we were last year," says Lubbock Monterey Coach James Odem. "And we are not as far along as we were at this time last year, but we do have the potential to be better offensively than we were in 1972."

The Plainsmen will bring a 1-1 record into Friday's game against Midland High at Memorial Stadium in the Tall City. Monterey suffered its loss to Wichita Falls Rider, 24-6, the No. 3 ranked team in the state after having beaten Canyon in the season's opener.

"We got a hornet by the tail and couldn't turn him loose," says Odem of the Rider game. "The big played killed us last week. They'd face third and long, throw a pass and somebody would catch the ball while flat on his back. But Rider has more skill than anybody that I've seen in a long time."

Despite the loss, Odem felt the Plainsmen played better than they had in the opener and his club should be in better physical condition than it has been, even though two defensive ends are still out . . . Joe Lauhauffer with a torn cartilage and Andy Shave with a broken collarbone.

"Injuries have been killing us," notes Odem.

Still, Dennis Blair will be making his first start at fullback and Joel Acosta, who has been "carrying us offensively along with tailback Ricky Keith," will move from full to wingback.

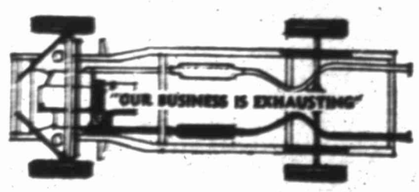

Also making his first start will be center Richard Boldin, who started five games for Monterey last year.

Weakside guard Mark Sciesbee has been an effective blocker for Monterey while at offense linebackers Steve White and Gary Hampton, both returning veterans, all-district safety Larry Harrison and nose guard Larry Green have been the defensive mainstays.

This week's wet weather has Odem concerned. "I hope the field is in good shape. If it isn't, we're in trouble. With Midland's size and that big fullback (Mike Gaddy) they'll run right over us on a muddy field."

Game time is 8 p.m. and will mark Midland's final predistrict contest.

Jennings Sets Rushing Pace

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer

J. J. Jennings had a temperature of 100 degrees, so naturally, his running brought the Memphis Southmen to a fever pitch.

Jennings overcame a virus as easily as he overpowered the Chicago defense for 132 yards on 20 carries to lead the ram-paging Soutnmen to their seventh consecutive victory, a 25-7 triumph over the Fire Wednesday night.

The decision raised Memphis' record to 10-2 and brought them within one-half game of the Birmingham Americans, who lead the World Football League's Central Division and face the new Shreveport franchise — formerly the Houston Texans — in tonight's nationally televised game.

In other games Wednesday, the Portland Storm nipped the Jacksonville Sharks 19-17, the Florida Blazers tripped the Philadelphia Bell 24-21, the Southern California Sun dropped the Detroit Wheels 29-24 and the Hawaiians downed the New York Stars 17-14.

Storm 19, Sharks 17

Booth Lusteg kicked a 28-yard field goal in the last second of play for Portland's victory over Jacksonville.

Quarterback Pete Beathard capped his WFL debut with four passes in the final drive, including a 21-yard completion to Joe Wylie on fourth down with nine seconds remaining.

Blazers 24, Bell 21

Sun 29, Wheels 24

Reserve quarterback Gary Valbuena's 26-yard pass to Dick Witcher decided another game in the final minute. The Wheels, 1-11, had rallied from a 22-3 deficit to take the lead with 1:41 remaining.

But the Sun came back to win a game in the final quarter for the sixth time this season and raise its record to 8-4.

Midland College Treks For Sul Ross Match

Midland College, after finishing tied for fifth in last weekend's Western Junior College Athletic Conference tournaments at Borger and Clarendon, will swing back into action Saturday against Sul Ross University in Alpine, which will be homecoming for MC Athletic Director and Golf Coach Chester Story.

Horses Move Into Sunland

SUNLAND PARK, N.M. — The stable area at Sunland Park began coming alive this week with a growing inflow of horses.

According to Stable Superintendent Otis Lea, about 155 horses are already bedded down.

"They're arriving in a steady pace," Lea said. "Before the week is over, we'll have about 250 head. When the State Fair in Albuquerque ends on Sept. 22, there'll really be a lot of horse traffic down this way."

The Sunland Park stables can accommodate 1,135 head, and every stall will be occupied as soon as the State Fair winds up. The new Sunland meeting gets off the ground on Oct. 5, and extends through May 10.

The first two weekends, as usual, will consist of Saturday and Sunday racing. Friday action will kick off with twilight agendas on Oct. 18 and Oct. 25 as part of the co-ordinated schedule with the Juarez Race Track. Night racing on Fridays gets underway Nov. 1.

Basically, the format will be a duplicate of that used successfully in recent years. Racing will be staged mainly on Friday nights, beginning at 7:30 p.m., and on Saturday and Sunday afternoons with a first-post of 1:30 p.m. There'll be a one-week Yuletide break in December to again separate the fall and spring sessions.

Midlander Heads Hall Drive

Joseph I. O'Neill Jr., of Midland, one of the giants in the independent oil industry, has been named Chairman of the Far West Texas Division of the Texas Sports Hall of Fame development fund drive.

Lamar Hunt of Dallas, the organization's state chairman, said "We are fortunate to be able to add a man of this stature to the leadership of the fund drive. Mr. O'Neill's demonstrated interest in civic and charitable enterprises will be a tremendous asset to the Hall of Fame."

The Texas Sports Hall of Fame Education and Research Center is projected for completion by the early summer of 1976. It will house memorabilia of the greats of Texas sports history — a project of the Texas Sports Writers Association.

SPORTS IN BRIEF—

Knicks' Reed Retires

By The Associated Press

BASKETBALL

BOXING

NEW YORK — The George Forman-Muhammad Ali heavyweight championship fight in Kinshasa, Zaire has been rescheduled for Oct. 30, according to promoter Hank Schwartz.

TENNIS

ORLANDO, Fla. — In spite of a painful toe, U.S. Open champion Billie Jean King took just 35 minutes to score a 6-0, 6-0 sweep over Sweden's Ingrid Bentzer in the second round of a $50,000 stop on the women's tennis tour.

LOS ANGELES — Top-seeded Jimmy Connors won a time consuming 6-2, 6-7, 6-2 victory over Brian Teacher in the second round of the $100,000 Pacific Southwest open tennis tournament.

GENERAL

LOS ANGELES — Brice Taylor, a University of Southern California star football player in the 1920s, died at the age of 72.

Rangers Split With Angels—singles by Denny Doyle and Bochte.

"My curve ball wasn't as good tonight as it has been in the past," said Jenkins. "I just didn't pitch as good a game as I have been pitching recently."

Winning pitcher Andy Hassler, 5-11, worked the first six innings, allowing four hits but surrendering six walks. Veteran Orlando Pena worked a scoreless final three innings and picked up his second save.

In the second game, Hargan, 12-8, retired the first 11 men he face before Bochte and Sands touched him for two-out singles in the fourth. The Texas hurler worked out of that jam, the only serious trouble he encountered, by getting John Balaz (El Paso 1974) on a hard line drive to third baseman Lenny Randle.

Two of the hits off Hargan were of the scratch variety, and the slender righthander used only 83 pitches in the game.

"I pitched a one-hitter earlier in the year against Bert Blyleven and the Twins, so I guess that has to be my best game," he said. "I could have had a one-hitter tonight too. I seemed to have good command of all my pitches tonight, especially my slider and fork ball."

Tom Robson, a 28-year-old rookie just called up from Spokane in the Pacific Coast League, drove in both Rangers runs in the nightcap.

Robson singled home Jeff Burroughs, who had doubled, for the first run in the fourth inning and then singled home Dave Nelson, who had singled and stolen second, in the eighth.

WITH 3-2 WIN OVER LA--

Gambling Gross Pays Off Astros

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Greg Gross, Houston's rookie right fielder, took a gamble and the Los Angeles Dodgers lost.

Gross played Los Angeles slugger Joe Ferguson in short right field in the bottom of the ninth inning with Rick Auerbach on second base representing the potential winning run.

The Astros, after choking off the Dodgers' rally, then scored the winning run in the top of the 10th inning on a single by Gross and a pinch double by Bob Watson to earn a 3-2 decision Wednesday night.

Despite the loss, the Dodgers' second in three games with the Astros, Los Angeles retained its 2½-game grasp on first place in the National League West, thanks to the San Diego Padres who knocked off the second-place Reds two out of three.

The Dodgers had been restricted to four hits and no runs for eight innings by Larry Dierker, who had a 2-0 lead. But a single by Steve Garvey to open the ninth brought Mike Cosgrove out of the bullpen.

"Larry was tiring," Houston Manager Preston Gomez said of his decision to lift Dierker.

Ken Forsch replaced Cosgrove but Ron Cey shot a double to right and Auerbach ran for him. It was then that Ferguson singled to right.

"I thought Ferguson would try and hit the ball on the ground to the right side and get the run over," Gross explained later. "Usually I play Ferguson deep. But in this situation I decided to move up a couple of steps instead. I guessed right and everything worked out all right."

Gross made the play on Auerbach, with a strike to catcher Milt May who easily tagged out Auerbach. But the Dodgers weren't through.

Ferguson had taken second on the throw to the plate and Bill Russell was intentionally walked, putting runners at first and second with only one out.

But Forsch got pinch hitter Von Joshua to bounce back to the mound and then Dave Lopes was thrown out by third baseman Doug Rader.

"The turning point in the game was Gross' throw," Gomez said afterward.

"But I still like the Dodgers to win it. They've got a little breathing room. Cincinnati has its back to the wall. They simply cannot afford to lose any more games. They've got seven games with the Giants and three with us. We'll be tough, I promise you that."

Former M-Cub Dunn Sparks Chicago, 5-2

By BERT ROSENTHAL
AP Sports Writer

Doesn't anybody want to win the West in the National League?

Neither the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers nor the runner-up Cincinnati Reds, the two winningest teams in baseball, are acting like pennant contenders.

Both lost for the third straight time Wednesday night, leaving the Dodgers with a 2½-game lead. Los Angeles was beaten by the Houston Astros 3-2 in 10 innings and Cincinnati dropped a 6-5 decision to the San Diego Padres.

Meanwhile, the National League East race tightened, the Pittsburgh Pirates whittling St. Louis' lead to 1½ games, beating the Cardinals 4-1.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Montreal Expos swept a doubleheader from the New York Mets 3-2 and 4-0, the Chicago Cubs topped the Philadelphia Phillies 5-2 and the Atlanta Braves downed the San Francisco Giants 4-2.

The Reds' chances of winning the West for the third straight year diminished. Cincinnati has 12 games remaining and Los Angeles 13.

Light-hitting Enzo Hernandez, who said he never had driven in more than two runs in a game, knocked in four for San Diego. Hernandez singled home two runs in the fifth inning, giving the Padres a 3-1 lead, then doubled in two runs in the seventh, producing a 5-5 deadlock. Hernandez eventually scored the winning run on John Grubb's sacrifice fly.

Pirates 4, Cardinals 1

Jim Rooker hurled a six-hitter for his 13th victory and Al Oliver doubled in two runs, boosting the Pirates past the Cardinals — and ending six-game streaks for both teams. The Pirates had lost six in a row and St. Louis had won six in a row.

Expos 3-4, Mets 2-0

The Expos won the opener with a two-run seventh inning, capped by Tim Foli's run-scoring squeeze bunt single. They took the nightcap behind the combined four-hit pitching of rookies Dennis Blair and Dale Murray.

Cubs 5, Phillies 2

Rookie Ron Dunn, MVP for the Midland Texas League Cubs in 1972, drove in two runs with a single and a double, and scored one run, leading the Cubs' attack. Rick Reuschel, Chicago's top winner, pitched hitless ball for the first three innings but pulled a hamstring muscle running out a single and had to leave the game. Relievers Steve Stone and Ken Frailing then completed a five-hitter.

Braves 4, Giants 2

Hank Aaron, baseball's all-time home run king, drove in two runs with his 732nd homer and a single, and Rowland Office smacked a two-run triple for the Braves. The homer was the 19th of the season for the 40-year-old Aaron, who is playing his final year in the majors.

watching the Snyder-Big Spring clash as an important game. Snyder, ranked ninth in AAA, narrowly loss to a tough Midland Lee team last week and a win over AAAA Big Spring could spell a lot of trouble for District 3-AAA members.

Coach Dwayne Turner's Rankin Red Devils, carrying fifth place ranking in Class A along with awesome offensive and defensive statistics, take on Jal in the New Mexico town Friday night. Few expect Rankin to stub a toe, but Jal has nine returning starters back from last year. If the Devils win big here, Rankin could be sailing toward an undefeated season.

Bicentennial Plans In Lone Star State Begin To Pick Up

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD
Associated Press Writer

Plans to celebrate the 200th birthday of the United States are booming in Texas after a slow start, a survey shows.

Before this year, only 12 Texas cities had been designation "Bicentennial Communities" and some state officials worried that the celebration would be a flop.

But as 1976 approaches, more and more communities are swinging into action and now the number of "Bicentennial Communities" has ballooned to 62.

To gain such endorsements, the cities organize committees representative of the population and set up programs with activities under the three national themes of the celebration—HERITAGE '76, projects that are historical in nature; FESTIVAL USA, projects designed for tourist visitation; and Horizons '76, projects to provide for the future.

Program Planned

"A lot of the programs include projects cities already were planning and some are not being incorporated into the bicentennial program," said Texas Bi-Centennial Commission (TBC) official Steve Parrino.

"The money for these was already there—things like civic centers. For example, there is a hike and bike trail in Austin and the Alamo Plaza Development in San Antonio. But in a lot of cases the bicentennial has been an incentive to get things done and financing is on a shoe-string basis."

San Marcos "sold" plots of land for a river walkway and issued certificates that say who made a donation.

Other localities have handed out bicentennial medals and stamps in return for donations.

Odessa, which the national bicentennial organization says has the most extensive program in the country, has a plan that already is in full swing. From November 1973 to December 1976, Odessa planned 935 different activities related to the bicentennial.

The city already has presented three of its schedule of 20 re-enactment skits and plays, complete with period costumes. The Lexington-Concord battle re-enactment planned for next April will have 600 costumed participants.

In some communities, festivities which are held annually will be expanded with a bicentennial theme, such as the Comal County Fair and Wurstfest in New Braunfels.

Some To Expand

Fiddler fests in Gatesville and three other cities will be expanded, as will the World's Largest Fish Fry at Borger.

Smithville plans an original production about the history of the MKT Railroad. Other rail-oriented towns will have similar observances.

Texas bicentennial officials are generally pleased with the effort of communities in the state.

"Obviously some programs are better than others," Parrino said. "But they are all trying to do something."

It is easier to get community involvement in smaller cities than larger, but the larger towns have the advantage of big city governments that can get behind the projects.

Part of the goal of the national bicentennial commission is to attract foreign visitors to the United States for the celebration.

"The inclination for foreign visitors will be to go to obvious places like Boston and Philadelphia," Parrino said. "But that's part of our purpose in Texas—to bring foreign people here."

Mrs. Gene Brownrigg, director of the TBC, visited Germany on a study tour sponsored by the German government for bicentennial officials in the United States to stir up interest in the celebration.

Patricia Winkler To Be Featured In 'Who's Who'

Patricia Winkler, a Midland High School senior and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Winkler of 1405 Cotton Flat Road, will be featured in the Eighth Annual Edition of "Who's Who Among American High School Students, 1973-74."

Students from over 20,000 public, private and parochial high schools throughout the country are recognized for their leadership in academic, athletics, activities or community service in the books.

This recognition is awarded to less than three per cent of the junior and senior class students nationwide.

In addition to having her biography published in the book, the largest student award publication in the nation, Miss Winkler will also compete for one of 10 scholarships of $500 to $1,000 funded by the publishers.

She will also be invited to participate in the firm's annual "Survey of High Achievers."

The MHS senior is enrolled in the Home Economics Related Occupations (HERO) program and is treasurer of her school's Future Homemakers of America chapter.

As Area 6 FHA vice president, she has attended the organization's national meeting in Chicago, Ill.

In addition to her home economics activities, Miss Winkler won first place in a film festival for the film she made in her film study class at school.

Elaborate Bread Sculptures Created By New York Bakery

By CHRIS CONKLING

Realistic though they look, the figures are not of flesh, but of dough.

Bakery owners Sal Purpura and his son, Tony, specialize in the creation of elaborate bread sculptures and claim they can fashion any design up to six feet tall in bread dough.

Even Trains Made

They have often had to support their claim by making to order such whyatten wonders as trains and trolley cars, Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden, sesame seed lions and tigers, horse-drawn carriages, turtles, and clowns with circus dogs. Customers often bring in photographs from which replicas are fashioned.

For 20 years the elder Purpura's customers have happily carried away turkeys, Santas, Yule trees, Easter bunnies, shamrocks and ballet dancers, all made of bread.

Sal wandered into the world of commercial bread art by chance. When he immigrated here from his native Sicily in 1953 he went to work for a Queens baker. He had never baked before. To commemorate his first Thanksgiving in the United States, he designed bread turkeys for his boss as a gift. Customers saw the unusual birds, wanted their own, and the orders flooded in.

Bakery Moved

Sal's fortunes rose with his dough. After two years he and a couple of partners opened a bakery in midtown Manhattan, where he developed his craft. Then in 1966 he moved back to Queens to open the store he presently owns.

Tony, now 27, was 21 when he came to work with his father, beginning what they hope will become a family tradition.

"Our busiest time for bread figures is the holidays," Tony said, interpreting for his 62-year-old father who speaks little English. "That's when people have the most parties, and bread figures are a decorating novelty. The rest of the year we usually make three or four figures a week."

Dressed in baker's white and with his father's dark good looks and congenial manner, Tony explained that the figures are fashioned by hand. No molds are used.

"The standard items like dolls, which are our most popular request, and baseball players take four hours from scratch to finish. It takes only about 10 minutes to shape a figure, an hour to bake it and a couple of hours to cool it to get the moisture out.

"If we've made the figure before, we know just about how much dough to use in different places to get the right proportion. But when we're asked to do something new it may take us two or three tries to get it right."

A standard-size chef d'oeuvre, measuring from one to four feet, costs $4 to $6. Life-size sculptures can be had for $12.

The bread figures come alive in a huge rotating oven. Thirty can be baked at once on the oven's six shelves, but no more than 10 are made at a time. "If you try to make 30, by the time all of them are baked, the first few will be way out of proportion because of overheating," Tony said. "With only 10 figures, each one will bake evenly."

Weather A Factor

Baking bread designs is not as easy as pie. Tony admits that many monstrosities have sprung from the Purpuras' hands.

"The toughest thing about baking bread figures is hot weather," he said. "The dough loses its strength and firmness. A lot of bakeries use ice in hot weather to preserve the dough, but we don't because ice makes the dough too firm. So when it's hot we have to work twice as fast to compete with the heat."

The business does have its leisurely moments, however. "The easiest part of baking is waiting for the bread to cook, and then eating it," added Tony with the sly look of a kid who'd just snatched forbidden cookies.

Sal and Tony continue to find novelty in their novel trade after many years. "Although we prefer the challenge of a new figure," Tony said, "we don't get tired of making the standard favorites. It's all work."

Do father and son bake at home in their free time for fun? Tony's look was incredulous. "You gotta be kidding!"

MC Radio-Tv Students To Work With Professionals

Incorporating community facilities with the classroom, Midland College this fall is launching a radio-television curriculum geared toward practical experience for the students away from the campus.

Headed by Jerry P. Watson, the new department is interested in working with the local electronic media to gain experience for the students rather than constructing a facility and purchasing equipment for the college alone.

"We feel very strongly about sending our students out into the community," Watson said, "instead of keeping them here on campus."

He prefers teaming students with "professionals who work every day" to isolating them in the classroom. "We think they can learn more," he said.

The department is starting small—with only a five-student enrollment—but Watson has big plans for it.

He plans to teach the "basic theory" in the classroom, and is currently developing arrangements with the area media to provide "behind-camera" experience for this television students.

"They've told us they want to work with us," he said, but added that concrete arrangements are still pending.

Before the students are even exposed to actual on-the-air situations, however, Watson is starting them off on the video-tape machine at the college, and the students alternate posing as director, cameraman and interviewer for the "program."

Watson said, "We're going to learn the tv lingo, the theory behind it and then put the theory into practice."

Pointing out the department will emphasize television more than radio because "that's where most of the interest is now," the department head said the curriculum is aiming at programs produced by students. Directing, writing and operating video tapel cameras and control panels will be included.

In the meanwhile, Watson hopes to begin with writing some promotional scripts for the college and producing, with borrowed or rented equipment, some seven-minute films for service groups.

In addition, he said the Radio-Television Department will work with the college's History Department in doing some Bicentennial work pertaining to Midland, as another tie-in with the community.

"Since we're supported by the community, I feel we should pour back into the community as much as we can," said Watson, who thinks a separate electronic media facility used by the college alone would be "a waste of money."

The new MC faculty member is currently working on his Ph.D. in fine arts at Texas Tech University, having received his bachelor's degree in political science from Baylor University and completed additional work in speech and theater education at Hardin-Simmons University.

Watson entered the media field while working on his master's degree at Bowling Green University in Ohio. He has taught 10 years, having most recently served as director of theatre and assistant speech professor at McMurry College.

While in Abilene, Watson, his wife and two children all acted in television commercials as well as in some of the series programs presented by "Herald of Truth," a religious television series.

At MC, he doubles as chairman for both the radio-television department as well as speech and theater.

'Red Hot' Night Promised

DALLAS — A "red hot" evening of entertainment is promised here Friday night at the "Energy Ball '74" which will benefit Dallas' Theatre Three, one of the city's leading theatrical organizations, located in the quadrangle.

A presentation by famed oil well firefighter Red Adair will be one of the events of the ball, which was organized as a salute to the men and women of the energy industries in recognition of their efforts to supply the nation with abundant, reliable power.

The ball will serve as the official grand opening of One Energy Square complex in North Dallas and will include dancing, entertainment, dinner and refreshments until the small hours Saturday. Les Elgart and his orchestra, French dramatic songstress Denise LeBrun (currently appearing at Theatre Three), "The Common Good" rock group, the Saltlick bluegrass band and Ed Bernet's dixieland style Levee Singers will be featured entertainers.

A special honor guest at the ball will be famed conductor Arthur Fiedler who, with his Boston Pops Orchestra, will be appearing in concert that evening at the State Fair Music Hall.

"When Energy Evening was conceived, two basic requirements were made mandatory," according to the chairman of the affair, Dan M. Krausse, who is president of Earth Resources Co. "We insisted that the celebration provide substantial support for Theatre Three and thus demonstrate the industry's history of generous support for worthwhile community projects," Krausse said. "It must also demonstrate the community's appreciation of the industry which, during some seventy years of its existance, has made notable contributions to our schools, highways, hospitals and, of course, the performing arts.

"The response from both the industry and the communities they serve have provided ample support to meet both requirements and our list of producers spans a cross-section of community leaders in and out of the energy industries," Krausse said.

Underwriters for the ball have been dubbed "producers" because the term has strong affirmative connotations in both energy and theatrical circles. Producers, business and social leaders who have contributed $1,000 each toward the success of the evening are: Mr. and Mrs. Linton Barbee, Mr. and Mrs. Roland S. Bond Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Vincent A. Carrozza, Core Laboratories, Earth Resources, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Hamon, Mr. and Mrs. Dan M. Krausse, Logue & Patterson-Mr. and Mrs. Lester Logue, Lone Star Steel Company and Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Moreland, Mr. and Mrs. Algur H. Meadows, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde J. Moore, Mrs. J. Bryan McAdams, Natural Gas Management Co. and Mr. and Mrs. Dorman Shockley, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Pew, Paul Raigorogsky, Mrs. L. Storey Stemmons, Sun Oil Company-Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Foss, The McDermott Foundation and Mrs. Eugene McDermott, the Wyly Corporation and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wyly, and Mr. and Mrs. John Wisenbaker.

Patron tickets for the concert and additional information about "Energy Ball '74" may be obtained from any member of Theatre Three's board of directors or by telephoning 741-3207 in Dallas.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Kung Fu" television series star David Carradine has been charged with wrecking furniture and breaking windows in a neighbor's home, authorities say.

Police said the 37-year-old son of actor John Carradine was arrested on Monday and released on $1,000 bond in connection with the incident in a house near his Hollywood home.

He is to be arraigned Friday on one misdemeanor count each of burglary, malicious mischief and unauthorized entry of private property, a city attorney's spokesman said.

Duty Comes First

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) When the date was chosen for Marin County Day at the California State Fair this year the county supervisors were invited to attend. But, alas, it was their regular meeting day.

Art Carney Has New Image, First Starring Role In Movie

By EVE SHARBUTT

NEW YORK (AP) — Irish Art Carney, television heavyweight of the '50s, has changed his image.

He was Jackie Gleason's brash, wisecracking sidekick in "The Honeymooners," Ed Norton, the self-styled "underground sanitation expert." Today he is a little heavier, a little older, with a neatly trimmed mustache and curly white sideburns.

For the first time in a career that started in 1937, Carney has a starring role in a movie. The 55-year-old actor is aged subtly with makeup to play a 72-year-old retired teacher who is alive and fighting — and living.

"Harry and Tonto" is the film. Carney plays Harry. His costar is a big ginger cat named "Tonto," his closest friend and companion. Carney, no cat lover, says the friendship worked better than he expected.

"A movie lead is a new ball game," he added. "I'm so Irish, so superstitious. With a stage play or television, you know the next day what people think. But I have a good feeling and if I feel this good about doing my job, certainly something good is going to come out of it."

Carney's great comic creation, Ed Norton, made him a household face. But he says he always thought of himself as an actor playing a comedy role, not a comic.

He started working in clubs as a mimic at $50 a week, says he was no good at it, and eventually used his mimicry talents in radio. Then came television, legitimate theater and now a leading film role.

"At first I turned this script down. I worried about the plot. I thought it was a nice portrait but too old for me. I hate to use that worn out word insecurity, but . . ." Carney harumphs.

It was his agent and friend Bill McCaffrey who kept after him. Carney was doing summer stock in Maine when Paul Mazursky, producer-director and co-writer of "Harry and Tonto," showed up to talk about the script.

"He had some ideas and we talked. We decided Harry wasn't a doddering old man, agreed that I wouldn't have to change my voice, talked about ways of aging the character . . . and I thought I'd do it."

Carney's indomitable Harry finds his New York apartment torn down in urban renewal, his friends dying. Carried by police out of the soon to be demolished building, Harry turns down offers of homes with his three children. Independently, he and Tonto make their way across the country. Their odyssey is no "road" picture, but a string of real people with real problems, hopes and dreams.

"If I do more picture work — and I hope to — I'd like to work with Mazursky. Since we finished the film, I worked in another with Burt Reynolds. It was different, harder, not to be 'on' all the time. Mazursky's spoiled me."

The limp which Carney says was "perfect for Harry," came built-in, as did the hearing aid. Carney was wounded in France during World War II. Returning to the states, he got a job in radio. His favorite subject as a mimic was Franklin D. Roosevelt. Then he was approached for the Gleason show, continued it until 1957 and returned to it in 1966 when the show was done in Miami. Live television is what Carney says he most enjoys doing, although he has starred on Broadway in "The Odd Couple" and "The Prisoner of Second Avenue."

His current schedule includes work on a television movie with Lucille Ball. After that, it's back to the theater.

'Cavalcade' To Offer Musical Journey Down Memory Lane

Midland Community Concerts Association will offer its members a musical trip down memory lane when it presents the "Big Band Cavalcade" tonight.

The program of musical memories will have some of the biggest stars of the big band era of the 1930s and '40s, including Bob Crosby, Freddy Martin, Red Norvo, plus vocalist Helen Forrest, recreating "in-person" some of their biggest hits of that fabled and now-nostaligic era. They will be backed by more than a dozen instrumentalists who themselves were members of some of the big bands of yesteryear.

Admission to the 8:15 p.m. program in Midland High School auditorium will be by season membership card only, with no single tickets sold at the doors. However, persons who have moved to the city and surrounding ara since the MCCA conducted its annual membership campaign last spring can qualify as purchasers of season memberships, even though the concert association membership rolls are officially closed. Persons interested in obtaining season memberships may do so in the auditorium lobby tonight prior to the start of the program.

The "Big Band Cavalcade" is Midland Community Concerts Association's season-opening presentation. The season also will offer a recital by Texas-born baritone William Walker in November, plus concerts in early 1975 by the Hungarian Folk Ballet of Budapest and the Romeros, Spanish guitarists.

'CAVALCADE' HEADLINER — Red Norvo is one of the headliners in the "Big Band Cavalcade," a program of musical memories which will be heard here tonight. The concert in Midland High School auditorium is presented by Midland Community Concerts Association for its members and their guests.

PPH Musical Run Continues

The mini-musical by Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt, creators of "The Fantasticks," has Barbara Iglehart and Terry Milligan as the stars and sole performers.

Season tickets for PPH's 1974-75 season, which also will offer Arthur Kopit's "Indians," the comedies "Forty Carats" and "How the Other Half Loves," and Thornton Wilder's classic, "Our Town," plus a big musical, "No, No, Nanette," are on sale at the Playhouse box office, 310 W. 42nd St. Seat reservations for the current "I Do! I Do!" may be reserved by telephoning the theater at 362-2329.

Alex Plays It Relatively Straight

By JAY SHARBUTT

NEW YORK (AP) — Alex Karras, initially considered and then rejected by ABC-Tv as Don Meredith's replacement on ABC's Monday night football jousts, finally has gotten an on-air shot at the job.

Although he played it relatively straight and was unusually—for him —reserved in his Monday night tryouts, he was infinitely better than ABC's first choice, black actor and NFL veteran Fred Williamson.

Williamson, 36, was dropped from the Monday night football filibuster after three pre-season games because he couldn't hack it in the broadcast booth.

Although no final decision has been made on whether Karras will join the show permanently, the 36-year-old former Detroit Lions great seemed to fill the bill in the dispute between Buffalo and Oakland.

For one thing, his tie was loose. I never trust a sportscaster whose tie is properly aligned. For another, he was suitably awed by the way ABC treats Howard Cosell and Frank Gifford, the Monday regulars.

"They tote you around in those great limousines and everything," he told Cosell, then thought about it and added: "Of course, they picked me up today in an Edsel Ford with a Greek chauffeur . . ."

He also made some cogent remarks about the gridiron people, such as one massive Oakland player: "Of course, this is Otis Sistrunk from the University of Mars."

As another Oakland giant smote a Buffalo back, Karras observed: ". . . he says hello and blows a little garlic in his face."

Perhaps because he wasn't used to the rhythm of the Cossell-Gifford patter, he stayed mostly with straightforward, perceptive commentary on the game. He didn't go off into the wild, zany flights of verbal fancy for which he is famed in Detroit and other outposts.

He wasn't vintage Karras, a vintage preserved in the writings of George Plimpton, Karras' unofficial Boswell. But things may return to abnormal once Karras learns how to tell if Cosell is pausing for breath. It usually occurs when Cosell is mailing in his tax return.

Tom Vance, Karras' agent, said in an interview before Monday's game that no contract for a full-time job has been offered, but that Karras wasn't pressing for one.

Dance Deadline Friday At Noon

Armed Airman Ends Eight-Hour Siege, Surrenders

AURORA, Colo. (AP) — After refusing to leave his room for more than eight hours, an armed airman surrendered to security police Wednesday at Lowry Air Force Base.

S.Sgt. Cary Burke, 28, gave up after talking with Maj. Ted Gaenbauer, an Air Force psychiatrist, for half an hour.

Officials said the airman apparently was depressed over his recent divorce and threatened to kill himself.

Burke was taken to Fitzsimons Army Medical Center nearby for a mental examination.

Burke kept three loaded firearms in his room, officials said. Capt. Ronald Shealy, a base spokesman, said Burke fired a shot through the closed door early Wednesday morning when he was told to surrender.

No injuries were reported.

Sgt. Gary Barrow, 22, of Odessa, Tex., Burke's roommate, said, "He just let me walk out. He didn't threaten me and as far as I know he didn't threaten anybody else. He just wouldn't leave and was threatening to take his own life."

Burke formerly lived in Galveston, Tex., Barrow said.

Alley Oop Museum Receives Donation

IRAAN — The Marathon Oil Co. recently gave a $3,000 check to Iraan's Alley Oop Museum and its archaeological and historical museum development fund.

The gift marks Marathon's continuing interest in the museum and its development fund. The company gave 7.2 acres of land in 1964 as the site for the museum, based on the famous cartoon character by V. T. Hamlin. The museum has a new 1,000-square-foot addition, completed this summer, which includes an oil history room and a pioneer room.

New Land Formed

Volcano eruptions have created 210 acres of new land in Hawaii since 1960.

Geologists Held Hostage Passed Time With Poker, Plotting Escapes

By PAUL RECER

HOUSTON (AP) — Four geologists held hostage for almost six months in the wilds of Ethiopia said Wednesday they passed the time by playing "nonstop poker" and plotting escapes.

The men, Power W. Cayce Jr., 36, of Plainview, Tex.; James W. Rogers, 50, of Greenwich, Conn.; Clifford M. James, 28, of Walkerton, Ont., Canada, and Motta Travela, 51, of San Francisco, Calif., were captured March 26 by armed Ethiopian rebels and held captive in a rugged mountain area.

They were on a geological survey for Tenneco, Inc., an energy and minerals company headquartered here, when they were captured by the revolutionaries on March 26. They were released Sept. 11 and arrived here last week.

In a news conference Wednesday, the four said they endured primitive living conditions—sleeping on the ground in huts under close guard—for months without any certainty they would ever be released.

Boredom was another problem.

"At one time, we played 120 days of non-stop poker," said James. "I had never before played much poker, but I learned a lot about the game.

Denmark A Link

Denmark forms stepping-stones between mainland Europe and the rest of Scandinavia. When Ice Age glaciers receded, plants, animals and man hopscotched north along its islands, National Geographic says.

They also played chess, he said, using a checkerboard drawn on a piece of cloth and rocks for the pieces.

Their captors were members of the Eritrean Liberation Front (ELF), a group seeking independence for the northern Ethiopean province of Britrea. Tenneco negotiated release of the men from the ELF.

The men spent much of their captivity in a steep-sided canyon guarded at both ends, but despite the odds, toward the end they began "entertaining thoughts of escape," said Cayce.

One escape plan was thwarted by news from home. They were set to leave the night of Aug. 8, during the dark of the moon.

But that day they received the first letters from home.

"We were so overwhelmed that we called it off," said James.

An attempt planned for four days later was cancelled when a rainstorm flooded the dry river beds used for travel in that area.

"After that, we decided somebody up there must know something we don't, so we called off any other attempts," said James.

For food, the men were given mostly bread and spaghetti or macaroni with a "very watery tomato sauce" said Cayce. Occasionally, their captors would slaughter a goat.

They were plagued by clouds of mosquitos and toward the end their clothing was in rags.

Tavela, a United Nations geologist working with Tenneco in Ethiopia, experienced a high fever in July, possibly from malaria.

"They gave me penicillin," he said. "They mixed a powder with dirty water from ponds nearby and boiled the needle. I got six of these injections."

ELF members guarded them with weapons made in Russia and Eastern Europe, the men said. A month before their release, they were given aluminum cots, also made in Russia.

The release came after Tenneco agreed to seven demands, most of them aimed at political goals of the ELF company officials said no ransom was paid.

The men each lost about 25 pounds during the ordeal, but suffered no permanent disabilities. Each said they would again accept foreign assignments—but not to Ethiopia.

James and Cayce are Tenneco employes. Rogers is a Texaco Inc. employe on loan to Tenneco. All were to spend a few more days here undergoing medical tests and care.

Man Accused In Rape, Murder Loses Bid To Leave Mental Hospital

HOUSTON (AP) — State Criminal Court Judge Garth Bates has rejected pleas by Charles Roy Hefley II for release from a mental hospital, release on bond and for a new sanity trial.

Hefley is accused of drowning two children after he had raped their mother in Fort Worth in 1964 when he was 16. He can never stand trial, however, in that a 1965 jury found him insane at the time of the acts and at the time of his sanity trial.

The case was sent to Houston on a change of venue.

Hefley's attorneys had sought a new trial earlier, but they asked Wednesday that Bates order their client's release from the Rusk State Hospital after a three-judge Dallas federal court struck down portions of the insanity article of the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure.

In effect, the Dallas ruling held that committed patients in criminal and civil cases must receive "equal footing" as courts determine when they are to be released.

Bates deferred a ruling on a new sanity hearing because he said the Aug. 28 Dallas ruling is still subject to appeal.

"This court is not legally restrained but as a matter of good judgment this court is not going to pursue the matter at this time," Bates said.

Jerry Loftin, a defense attorney from Fort Worth, argued that the state has not appealed the three-judge ruling. Asst. Dist. Atty. Cue Lipscomb of Fort Worth indicated the state will appeal.

Prior to the hearing, Dist. Atty. Carol Vance of Houston said he will ask Texas Atty. Gen. John Hill to appeal in that the federal ruling could have serious consequences for criminal proceedings.

Don Lambright, an assistant to Vance, participated in the Wednesday hearing and later told newsmen prosecutors and defense attorneys now face a very complicated situaton.

"The committal procedures are proper but we are now without guidelines otherwise," Lambright said.

"I'll hear any evidence you might have but this court is not going to set any bail in this case," Bates said.

Loftin gave notice the rejection of a writ of habeas corpus and the rejection of bail would be appealed.

The state has contended Hefley kidnaped, raped, and stabbed Mrs. Carolyn Adams after she surprised him prowling her car. Mrs. Adams lost the sight of one eye.

Investigators quoted Hefley as saying he hurled the two babies into the Trinity River "because I didn't know what else to do with them."

Six Firemen Called Leaders Of Sickout Given Suspensions

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Mayor Fred Hofheinz has suspended six firemen he says led the recent firemen sickout and promised stiffer penalties if another sickout occurs.

The suspensions range from five to 15 days, plus pay losses ranging from $24 to $720.

Hofheinz said a special committee he appointed identified the six as the leaders of the sickout that prompted 600 firemen to leave their jobs in support of a wage hike and other demands.

"The committee is of the opinion the sickout was the result of an emotional reaction by many fire fighters and it is for this reason our recommended disciplinary actions are not as severe as the civil service laws might permit," the committee report said.

"It is our recommendation that if there is a similar work stoppage in the future by city employes assigned to duties protecting or affecting the public safety, that much harsher disciplinary action be taken."

The committee reported that 80 other firemen failed to produce written medical excuses for their absences. The committee recommended these men lose pay for the time they were off the job.

Another recommendation called for a two-day suspension without pay for about 70 men who took part in the second day of the sickout.

The report also said the committee was delaying a recommendation on possible criminal action against those who turned in allegedly false medical certificates. The committee said it needs more time to investigate.

The City Civil Service Commission can review suspensions.

UT Regents Eye Open-Door Policy At Future Meets

AUSTIN (AP) — University of Texas regents will consider a systemwide policy Friday that would prohibit guest speakers from excluding newsmen and their equipment.

The proposed policy stems from a speaking engagement last March by U.S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas. The justice's contract stipulated that no tape recorders or cameras would be allowed in the room during his speech.

After a judge issued a temporary restraining order, all news media were allowed to cover the speech. Douglas gave only a portion of the address, saying he had lost his notes.

Regent Ed Clark of Austin proposed the new policy statement, which would require addresses given by state-paid speakers on UT campuses to be "open to the public and individuals of the news media, who will be entitled to record, videotape or telecast live portions of the speech."

UT-Austin President Stephen Sparr is expected to oppose the policy at Friday's regents' meeting.

Science Confirms Fat Folks' Alibi

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Fat people have long maintained that they just sort of grew that way. Now medical science is confirming that view. Recent research has shown that about 20 million of the 60 million obese Americans were born to be fat, says Dr. Abraham I. Friedman, who is in the field of metabolic diseases.

In addition to helping those people "predestined to be fat," formerly thought of as gluttons, new fat discoveries can help other fatties — especially the yo-yo dieters with up and down weight histories, he says.

"Work on fat cells done at the Rockefeller Institute has shown that many obese people have a tremendous excess of fat cells. Those people are predisposed to be fat by inheritance — fat cells acquired about three months before birth or in the first few years of their lives." But some fat cells are added during adolescence, he explained, in discussing his new book, "Fat Can Be Beautiful."

A true obese person may have five times as many fat cells as a person of average weight, maintains Dr. Friedman, who has been treating metabolic problems for 25 years. He was motivated to write the book when he observed that many of his diabetic patients had problems with their weight.

Destruction Impossible

"There is really no way of destroying fat cells acquired by a true obese," he maintains. "The best that can be accomplished is to diminish the fat content of the cells. But even so a real obese person might lose 100 pounds on a rigid diet and gain it all back again within a short time. Fat cells are like sponges, absorbing fat again as soon as these people eat normally."

It may explain, too, why many people who are not obese lose weight and gain it back in a short time. Their fat cells are waiting to fill again as they alternate between "starve and stuff" diets, he remarked.

'Only Skin Deep'

"But fat is only skin deep and one can still be a beautiful person," insists Dr. Friedman, who thinks it is most important for fat people to build a good image of themselves. It is one reason the thrust in his book is to the emotional and sociological aspects of obesity. "Stop being guilty about your girth, concentrate on your inner worth," he advises, even though "it may be difficult in our slim-oriented society."

He doesn't want his book "to be a cop-out for those fat people who might try to identify with the true obese." Not every fat person was destined to be fat, he insists, and he includes a questionnaire that sorts out the true obese from other fat types.

As people age they often gain a few pounds each year, and this can be controlled, he maintains. But the sooner you start, the better. A woman in her early 30s might begin by cutting about 25 calories a day out of her diet. If she is in the 2200-or-so calorie bracket she would cut out an additional 25 calories a day the following year. After 10 years it might add up to 250 calories dropped painlessly. She may even need to drop a few more calories as she goes along, depending on the need.

In his years of treating obese patients, Dr. Friedman has noted that many were dressed tastefully and stylishly. Others wore inappropriate outfits. In line with building the self-image of such people, the book also provides helpful tips on fashion suggested by a fashion consultant. These include:

Wear loose dresses with simple lines, loose fitting pants, flowing A-line skirts, long-sleeved dresses if arms are fat, use things in large scale — buttons, bags, jewelry — but wear a short, simple hairstyle if it is becoming.

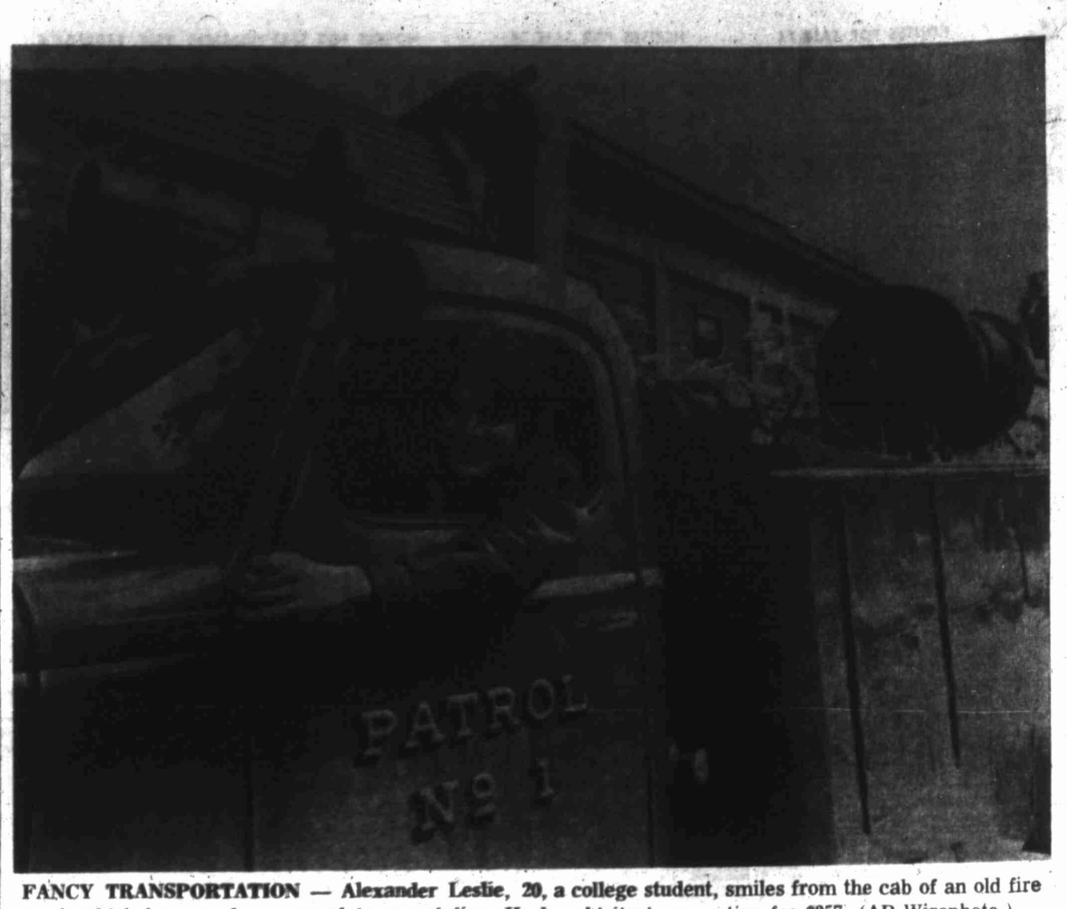

Avoid bold prints, plaids or loud colors, don't try to squeeze into tight garments that will exaggerate bulges, wear sweaters and knits that do not cling, avoid dresses with waistlines and horizontal stripes, avoid miniskirts.

He also passes on tips about organizations that help fat people in the matter of jobs, marriage, advertising and fashions that are all slanted to slim people. For example, bathtubs and airplane seats are made for skinny people. Some obese must even pay for a seat and a half on a plane. Another assist, he says, comes from the nonprofit Society of Bariatric Physicians in Colorado, which treats obese people.

Sex And Obesity

One chapter discusses surgery of the obese and the precautions that must be taken, another chapter talks about sex and the obese. One is devoted to obesity and adolescence because "gaining weight in the teen years can be an especially traumatic experience for young girls."

A weight stabilization program is also provided in the book, slanted to those whose obesity stems from excessive indulgence in snack foods or emotional frustration, perennial dieters whose weight fluctuates and the mildly obese who want to lose weight primarily to improve their appearance. It also includes a number of charts.

Officers said the wreck occurred before any school children had been picked up.

FCC Chairman Faces House Hearings On Allegedly Allowing Overcharges

By STAN BENJAMIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Power Commission Chairman John N. Nassikas faces House hearings on allegations the FPC allowed overcharging for natural gas.

Nassikas said in an interview Tuesday that the FPC had legal authority for its gas-pricing actions, contrary to the view of the General Accounting Office, but he admitted that other criticisms in a GAO report last Friday were accurate.

He also said the FPC was investigating 19 of its officials for possible conflicts of interest and would refer any apparently serious cases to the Justice Department.

The House permanent subcommittee on Investigations scheduled hearings for next Wednesday, after the report was released by GAO, investigative agency of the Congress.

The GAO report said most FPC officials, required to file annual personal financial statements, failed for at least three years to file them. Even the personnel programs director, executive director and general counsel who administered and enforced the program had failed to file statements.

The GAO also said 19 FPC officials were found to own securities in companies affected by FPC regulation.

Nassikas admitted the financial reporting system had broken down, but said it has been corrected and the statements have been submitted.

He refused to identify the 19 officials under investigation but said he would name them if asked by the subcommittee, which is virtually certain to ask.

Accused Convicts Now In Haskell For Arraignment

An extensive manhunt, set in motion by the escaped convicts' bloody foray across part of Texas, ended with their capture Aug. 26 near Stephenville. A third Colorado fugitive, Richard Mangum, was killed by officers' gunfire.

The two survivors, Jerry Ben Ulmer and Dalton Williams, are accused of shooting down Baker at his ranch home after tying his son to a telephone pole.

Dist. Atty. Bob Glasgow said grand jurors already have returned 37 indictments against the two men in his district and more indictments are expected next week.

They were brought here from the McLennan County jail at Waco, to which the pair had been transferred for safekeeping.

Owning Fire Truck Has Its Moments

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Alexander Leslie went to a recent police garage auction to buy a motorcycle. He drove away in a 1941 fire truck.

"I paid $357 for it, which was $50 more than anybody else bid," said Leslie, a 20-year-old college student.

"I figured it would be a sound investment and, besides, I just liked the thing."

The International Harvester fire engine is complete with two rolls of black hose, a functioning shiny chrome siren and emergency lights.

The truck had been used by the Buffalo Fire Department up until two years ago for battling grass fires.

Owning a fire truck can have its moments, Leslie said.

"Last week it caught on fire," he said. "It was only the insulation around the battery cable, and the fire was out by the time fire fighters arrived.

"They thought I had responded to the call and it took some explaining to convince them that my fire truck was on fire. They said it was the most interesting call they had had all night."

Houston Telephone Rates To Increase

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Mayor Fred Hofheinz says he had no choice but to recommend to the city council that residential telephone rates be increased by 15.6 per cent.

The council approved the boost Wednesday and the new rates, which will increase one-party service from $7.35 to $8.50 monthly, will go into effect Oct. 3.

"The City of Houston really had no choice," said Hofheinz, who favors creation of a state regulatory agency to control utility rates."

Under the law, the telephone company could file a suit to force the city to accept rates which will yield a fair return on money invested. The new rates will give the company an additional $28 million per year in gross revenue. It asked for $32.9 million.

Ector Constables Sue Commissioners

ODESSA — Ector County constables and former constables filed suit Wednesday in 70th District Court here, demanding $26,559 in back pay.

The plaintiffs, A. E. Fenton Sr., R. W. Henson, Bill Bowden, C. B. Toles and Fred Rabe, claim they are entitled to the back salaries Ector County commissioners cut in 1969 from $1,563 to $1 yearly.

The suit contends the action was void because the salaries were not set at the first meeting in January as stipulated by law and because notice of the decision had not been posted in an Odessa newspaper for three consecutive weeks before the action.

CAB Plans Hearings On Pan Am Subsidy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board is planning hearings on whether to permanently subsidize Pan American World Airways despite President Ford's rejection of temporary federal aid for the airline.

The CAB also has rejected a requested temporary subsidy for Pan Am as well as both temporary and permanent subsidies for Trans World Airlines.

The CAB ordered an informal investigation into Pan Am's financial, operational and managerial practices and activities. No dates were set either for the investigation or the subsidy hearing.

Pan Am had asked for a temporary subsidy of $10.2 million a month retroactive to last April 3. TWA had not asked for specific amounts.

The Pan Am request for permanent subsidy called for $194 million a year. The airline said its continued existence is vital to the commerce, postal service and defense of the United States.

Pan Am has said it faces the prospect of bankruptcy within a few months without federal assistance, citing a decline in U.S.-European travel and a tripling of fuel costs in the past year.

Pan Am's request for emergency action to grant it a subsidy was rejected Wednesday by the Ford administration.

Secretary of Transportation Claude S. Brinegar said President Ford "has concluded that it is not fair to the nation's taxpayers to ask them to support our U.S. international flag air carriers with direct cash subsidy payments."

Hopes For Lower Interest Rates Prompt Market Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rode continuing hopes for a relaxation of interest-rate pressures to a strong gain today.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 16.82 at 668.73, and gainers overran losers by 5-to-1 on the New York Stock Exchange.

At a news conference in New York, Treasury Secretary William E. Simon said he expected short-term money rates, which have pulled back recently, to decline further, although he said he could not say how much.

British Observers See Close Election

LONDON (AP) — Political observers today predicted another close race as the three-week campaign opened for the national election Oct. 10.

Ladbroke's, one of Britain's leading bookmakers, made Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor party a 3-2 favorite to win the largest number of seats in the House of Commons. But it also quoted the equivalent of 5-3 odds that it would fall short of a majority, as it did in the February election.

The latest Gallup poll, published today in the Daily Telegraph, gave the Laborites 42 per cent of the vote; the Conservatives 34, Liberals 20.5 and others 3.5.

In the outgoing, 635-seat House, Labor has 298 seats, the Conservatives 296, the Liberals 15, and 24 are held by minor parties including the Scottish Nationalists and Ulster Protestants. There are two vacancies.

Wilson called the election in an attempt to gain a majority so he could push through Labor's socialistic program. He admitted in a broadcast Wednesday night that elections are "something very few people, politicians or not, would want to see at a time of very grave economic difficulties."

But he said that the election was inevitable — "and sooner rather than later" — since the last voting failed to give either major party a clear mandate to take decisive action.

MC Awards First Russell Foundation Merit Scholarship

The first recipient of the Harry Russell Foundation's merit scholarship has been named by Midland College. The scholarship, based strictly on scholastic ability, is the first departmental scholarship given by the college. She is Mrs. Cindy Laughlin.

She is a freshman art major, a native of Kermit and began attending Midland College last summer. She was attracted to Midland College by the excellence of the Art Department and the close student-faculty relationship, she said. "The Instructors have bent over backward to help me and to be friendly."

Mrs. Laughlin has two children, Lesley, 6, and Bruce, 4.

Even though Mrs. Laughlin attends Midland College full-time and cares for her family, she still finds time to work. Each Christmas she designs many of Midland's most festive store windows.

Senate Approves Sharing Revenues From Offshore Oil

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill giving coastal states an annual $200 million share of federal offshore oil revenue has passed the Senate but faces an uncertain future.

Unless the House acts on the bill before the end of the year, the measure will die with the passing of the 93rd Congress.

It normally takes several months for legislation to clear the House unless it is treated as an emergency bill. That is not expected by Senate backers.

Approved Wednesday by a vote of 64-23, the legislation is not high on the House priority list.

In addition, there is the distinct possibility of a veto by President Ford if the bill is passed.

The administration opposes the bill as inflationary and tried to have it killed in committee.

Muniz Levels Tirade At Texas Democrats

HOUSTON (AP) — Raza Unida gubernatorial nominee Ramsey Muniz says the defeat of Leonel Castillo in his bid for the chairmanship of the State Democratic Executive Committee shows there is no future in the Democratic Party for Chicanos, blacks, youth and women.

"The Democratic party continues to be controlled by the hierarchy of the Briscoes and the Hobbys," Muniz said Wednesday from his party's Harris County headquarters.

Castillo, controller for the City of Houston, was defeated by Calvin Guest of Bryan in the race for the chairmanship.

"The present governor is not going to give minority people, youth and women any part of the machine because he has a heavy investment (in it)," Muniz said.

Muniz said the limited opportunities in the Democratic Party had led to the creation of the Raza Unida party.

"Some, no doubt, will continue bearing the punishment of trying to reform the Democratic Party, but others will look for a better alternative," Muniz said. "We invite these people to look at our alternative, its people-orientation, its independence from the corruptive influence of big money, and its future."

Seven Midlanders Merit Semi-Finalists

Seven Tall City high school students have been named semi-finalists in the 1975 National Merit Scholarship competition and will be among the estimated 15,000 of the nation's high school seniors to compete for some 3,400 Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1975.

Midland High School's semi-finalist is Julia Kinsey, and Lee High Schools' finalists included Timothy Brown, Barry Halvorsen, Christine Johnson, William Kelley, John Reynolds and Carl Rutz.

As semi-finalists, Midland's seven were among the state's highest scorers on the 1973 Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test-National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Tests (PSAT-NMSQT), administered to more than 1 million students in about 17,000 schools nationwide.

The semi-finalists must qualify as finalists to advance in the competition for Merit Scholarships by receiving endorsement from their respective schools with recommendation for scholarship consideration and confirming their high PSAT-NMSQT scores with an equivalent performance on a second exam, the Scholastic Aptitude Test.

To qualify, they must also provide evidence of high scholastic performance as well as information about their other accomplishments.

Each finalist receives a certificate of merit in recognition of distinguished performance in the competition and competes for one of the National Merit $1,000 scholarships.

Many of the finalists will also be considered for an estimated total of 2,400 four-year renewable Merit Scholarships financed by some 550 sponsors including corporations, foundations, professional associations, colleges, unions and trusts.

Scholarship announcements will come in April of 1975.

His speech Wednesday was the second time in eight days he has spoken pessimistically about the state of the church as preparations continue for the fourth World Synod of Bishops starting Sept. 27.
