Air Travel Returning To Normal

NEW YORK (AP) — Four of five major airlines which were struck by machinists expected to be flying normal schedules today.

The four lines — Trans World, United, Eastern and National — reported normal or near-normal service Sunday.

Some 1,600 American tourists stranded in Europe began streaming home aboard trans-atlantic flights. Trans World's first overseas flight brought 145 passengers to Kennedy Airport from Shannon Airport in Ireland. Trans World said it was one of a dozen flights bringing stranded persons back to the United States.

Northwest, the fifth line involved in the 43-day strike which ended last Friday, said more than 50 per cent of its service has been restored but did not expect full service until midweek when Seattle- Honlulu flights will resume.

Domestic flights generally were not crowded over the weekend, with many persons apparently staying with their original travel plans by car, bus or train.

National Airlines reported, however, 'better than 90 per cent" business, adding that its New York to Florida jets were flying with "good loads," generally about 90 passengers.

New Shocks Rattle Dazed Turkey Cities

By AHMET BALAN

ERZURUM, Turkey (AP) — Two new earth shocks today struck dazed and rubbled towns of eastern Turkey, where the government launched the massive campaign to fight hunger and disease among thousands of refugees from last week's killer earthquake.

The new temblors caused little damage and no casualties to add to the toll from Friday's disastrous quake—2,300 bodies counted, with estimates 3,000 may have died. But the shocks spread fear and panic among the people, many sleeping in the open.

Relief crews ministered to 2,300 injured and thousands left homeless. Others dug through the ruins of homes in towns and villages looking for more victims.

Health officials were afraid a cholera epidemic raging across the border in Iraq might spread north to Turkey.

For the peasants, the main fear was not disease but a recurrence of the major quake. Both small quakes came before dawn this morning and followed after-shocks Saturday and Sunday.

The peasants slept in the open fields, under cone-shaped tents or wrapped in thick blankets.

Health Minister Edip Somunoglu ordered mass inoculations against typhoid and told local health officials to add chlorine to drinking water.

Bodies uncovered from debris were being buried as soon as possible, often even before identification.

Some survivors asked for picks and shovels to dig out their dead relatives, later wrapping the corpses in bed sheets and squatting around them in tears for hours.

Efforts were under way to drop bread and other food from airplanes at 29 isolated villages. Supplies being flown into the disaster region by the Turkish government include wheat, margarine and milk powder.

U.S. Army Lt. Col. Carl Kueffer, of Ft. Wadsworth, N.Y., stationed in Erzurum as an American military adviser with the Turkish 3rd Army, said: 'I was in my fifth-floor hotel apartment when the earthquake hit.

"The hotel is the tallest and most modern building in this city. It's a six-story reinforced steel frame building.

"Suddenly everything began to shake back and forth — chandeliers, lamps, everything.

"When that happens and you're up that high in a building, you just sit there and gamble it'll hold together.

"We were lucky. The building did hold together."

U.S. officers in Ankara said they have received no reports of American casualties in the disaster area. They said that they had not heard from three Peace Corps members working with peasants in the countryside.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said Peace Corpsman Ashley Campbell of Medford, Mass., was stationed in southern Erzurum Province. A husband and wife team, identified as Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Rockhill, were in southern Mus Province. Rockhill is from Racine, Wis. His wife, is from Canfield, Ohio.

Deluge Dampens Chicago Hostility

CHICAGO (AP) —. Jeers, rocks and firecrackers greeted open-housing marches in two Chicago-area neighborhoods but Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said heavy rain checked possible violence.

A third march Sunday was all but ignored.

Two of the three marches ventured into suburbs for the first time. A court injunction obtained by the city Friday banned any group from sponsoring more than one march at a time within the city limits.

King walked through a driving rain with 500 members of the civil rights force into the neighborhood called East Side on Chicago's extreme Southeast Side. A volley of green apples, beer cans, rocks, bottles and firecrackers were tossed at the soaked marchers.

King said: "The hostility was not as glaring as it might have been. The people (white spectators) were kept away by rain. The demonstrations will continue."

At Evergreen Park, a southwestern suburb, the Rev. James Bevel led a protest by 250 civil rights advocates. A third group of 250 trudged through drenched streets in Chicago Heights, a community south of Chicago. No one came out into the rain to jeer them and few watched.

Police said 20 persons were arrested at the East Side and Evergreen Park demonstrations.

A force of 186 Cook County, state and suburban police kept angry segments of the hecklers from threatening the marchers' safety in Evergreen Park.

More than 500 white residents stood in puddles on lawns, sidewalks and curbs to heckle the demonstrators. Firecrackers exploded at the feet of policemen and bottles crashed near the marchers.

As the auto caravan of demonstrators arrived for the march in Evergreen Park, white youths hurled stones and smashed one windshield, injuring both occupants of the car.

In the East Side march, police skirmished continually with youths who tossed missiles into the path of the marchers. The youths then ran to alleys where police pursuit was often futile.

Two white men refused to obey a police order to clear the sidewalk. This resulted in a brief battle between police and spectators. Nine persons were arrested, including the two belligerents who were clubbed to their knees by police.

Big 3 In Auto To Deny Request

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry's Big Three indicate they will turn down today a United Auto Workers request that labor contracts be reopened to grant immediate raises to skilled workers.

General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp. planned to give their answers to the union this afternoon.

The three biggest car makers hinted during the weekepd that they would reject the UAW's request to reopen contracts to talk over wage demands of nearly 100,000 skilled tradesmen. The union asked for a reply by today.

In last-minute news releases, the firms said their 700,000 production workers will get automatic pay hikes totaling $168 million two weeks from now.

Henry Ford II, chairman of Ford, said reopening of the contract would be "inadvisable," and added: "There is a contract and I think they ought to live with it."

Besides the upcoming pay hike, provided for by the contract, the union and industry officials have agreed workers may get an additional one or two cents hourly through cost-of-living escalators in the pact.

Furthermore, the firms said, hourly rated employes will get added hospital-medical benefits Sept. 5.

The UAW wants the labor pacts reopened — they don't expire until Sept. 6, 1967 — to give skilled workers an immediate wage increase of at least 50 cents hourly.

The skilled tradesmen said they are underpaid for their work in auto plants in comparison with wages for similar skills elsewhere.

The tradesmen said tool and die makers in auto plants receive $3.97 an hour but they cited wages of $4.63 hourly for carpenters and $5.20 hourly for electricians in the Detroit area.

US' Big Bombers Blast Cong Bases

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — For the second straight day, giant Air Force B52 bombers from Guam struck twin blows at Communist bases in South Viet Nam today.

One formation of the B52s bombarded a Viet Cong base only 45 miles east of Saigon. Another wave of the eight-engined jets struck an enemy training and resupply camp 120 miles southwest of Saigon.

A lull continued in the ground fighting. Only small, scattered patrol actions were reported today.

In the city of Gia Dinh, near Saigon, a terrorist threw a grenade today at a military jeep, and four U.S. servicemen and an American civilian were wounded, none seriously. A Vietnamese woman passerby also was wounded. The terrorist escaped.

Sunday, B52s also hit two enemy target areas — a suspected Viet Cong division headquarters near the Cambodian border 65 miles northwest of Saigon, and a North Vietnamese troop concentration area two miles south of the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam.

While the B52s were hitting the Communists in the South, U.S. fighter-bombers continued their daily attacks on Communist supply and transport facilities in North Viet Nam Sunday, the U.S. military command reported today.

American pilots flew 102 missions over North Viet Nam Sunday, hitting at four missile sites around Hanoi, six oil storage depots and other targets.

Fliers reported they damaged three of the four surface-to-air missile sites attacked. One site was nine miles south of the North Vietnamese capital and another was 10 miles southwest of Hanoi.

The U.S. fliers also claimed they damaged or destroyed 15 bridges, 26 supply buildings, 64 trucks, seven antiaircraft gun positions, 28 boxcars and 15 barges.

Navy pilots from the carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt struck a rail yard just outside the city of Thanh Hoa in North Viet Nam and reported the area was engulfed in flames and a thick column of black smoke rose to 8,000 feet as they departed.

They destroyed 10 railroad tank cars and two storage buildings and cut rail lines in three places, a spokesman said.

Weekend raids on the North cost one U.S. plane. An Air Force RF4C Phantom photographic reconnaissance plane was shot down 30 miles northwest of Dong Hoi. One crewman was rescued by a Navy helicopter but the other was listed as missing.

It was the 343rd U.S. plane reported lost over North Viet Nam since the air war over the North began two years ago.

In a related development, North Viet Nam claimed today that transport and communications systems throughout the country had been improved and expanded, despite U.S. air attacks. A broadcast by the official Viet Nam News Agency said also that "the time for repairs is being continuously reduced."

County Awards Contract For Gibson Building

Scurry County Commissioners this morning awarded a contract for construction of the Dan Gibson Recreation Building.

The structure will be erected in the 1500 block of Twenty-eighth Street at the site of the county building formerly occupied by the Boys' Club. The latter structure was virtually destroyed by fire last Dec. 28.

Contract for construction of the new facility went to J. L. Wadleigh Construction Co. of Snyder on a bid of $55,778. Wadleigh's proposal was the lowest of six received.

The contractor, who met briefly with the commissioners court following the opening of the bids, said work on the building site would begin as soon as possible. Wadleigh's bid provided for completion in 110 days.

The bids ranged up to $65,655.

Funds for constructing the building will come from both the county and from the Scurry County Boys' Club, which will use the new building. The Boys' Club will transfer over $32,000 to the county's permanent improvement fund.

The funds to be provided by the Boys' Club will come from public subscription, most of which resulted from a gift from the Dora Cunningham Estate in memory of the late Dan Gibson.

Mr. Gibson, who died last winter, was one of the most energetic backers of the Scurry County Boys' Club and he took

Encephalitis Spraying Is Doubled

DALLAS (AP) — Health authorities, stepping up their campaign against an encephalitis epidemic, doubled their spraying efforts today, with a total of six planes available, instead of a previous three.

Deaths from the disease now total 5.

Four planes, seeking to eradicate the culex mosquito, bearer of the killer disease, began spraying at dawn.

They can operate for only a little more than two hours because the spray does not fall if temperatures go above 80 degrees.

The three more C123 planes arrived yesterday. The crews still were in combat gear, for they had been first marked for defoliation work in Viet Nam.

Two of the planes were grounded today while crewmen installed nozzles.

Solon Sees Hope In DeGaulle Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today French President Charles de Gaulle's scheduled visit to Cambodia might produce some first steps toward Viet Nam peace negotiations.

Mansfield said in an interview that De Gaulle's discussions with Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodian chief of state, are certain to include possible means of ending the war.

"These discussions well might produce some tentative steps toward negotiations," he said. He added that while De Gaulle has criticized the U.S. course in Viet Nam, he believes the French president would do what he can to end the fighting.

Mansfield noted that De Gaulle is maintaining communications with Hanoi and recently has stepped up the ranking of the French commercial mission there.

"I think Hanoi would be likely to give its attention to any suggestions that De Gaulle might make," he said.

Mansfield, who has conferred several times with Sihanouk on visits to Cambodia, said that after De Gaulle's visit the prince may be more amenable to visit by U.S. roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman.

Sihanouk postponed a proposed visit by Harriman next month because of the U.S. bombing of a village which the prince claims is in Cambodian territory.

MORE LUMPS AND CRATERS

Orbiter Shoots Moon's Backside

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — America's first bright, clear close-ups of the moon's mysterious far side show pretty much what was expected — nothing new.

Two good, sharply focused pictures transmitted to Earth Sunday by the Lunar Orbiter spacecraft just show more lumps and craters — a carbon copy, almost, of the familiar near side.

Orbiter, an 850-pound American shutterbug locked in orbit around the moon, took the two shots late Friday and early Saturday, processed them in a small on-board laboratory, then radioed them back for scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory here.

The pictures show much more detail than photos sent back in 1959 by the Soviet Luna 3, scientists said, although spokesmen for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration didn't interpret the new shots immediately.

First received was the high-resolution photo — showing an area about 75 by 100 miles — taken by the spacecraft's ailing close-up camera. It was centered on a point about 150 degrees west longitude and 5 degrees south latitude.

The other photo, taken in the same general area, covered about 590 by 220 miles. It was taken by the medium-resolution lens, which has worked perfectly throughout the mission.

The craft was able to take a good picture with the close-up lens, scientists said, because they didn't activate the erring motion compensation system.

The system, which wasn't needed for the picture because of the spacecraft's 1,000-mile altitude at the time, is designed to insure clear pictures by moving the film while the shutter is open to account for the spacecraft's speed. It apparently doesn't do it right, they said.

Spacecraft manager Israel Taback told a news conference Sunday his study of 40 blurred high-resolution photos indicated the shutter behind the lens may be at fault — not clicking at the right time.

At the same news conference, the scientists reported that a delicate maneuver early Sunday morning altered the craft's egg-shaped orbit, dropping Orbiter from its 130-mile level to 36 miles above the lunar surface at its low point of orbit. They said it is expected to drop to its planned height, 28 miles, by Thursday.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: This is for "BENCH - WARMER'S MOTHER."

Dear Lady,

I am a 12 - year - old Little Leaguer and if your son is in the same kind of league I am in, there may be a reason why he isn't playing much. The boys are 10, 11, and 12 years old. The 10 - year - olds are there mostly to learn, so they don't get to play much. The 11-year-olds get to play a little more, but the 12-year-olds do most of the playing because they have had more practice and are naturally the best players.

But those 12-year-olds waited two years, warming the benches themselves before they got to play. I really got steamed when you said, "All the coaches and managers want to do is win." Listen, Lady, that all the PLAYERS want to do. So if your kid is a benchwarmer, give him time. He'll play. Sincerely yours,

LITTLE LEAGUER

DEAR ABBY: Re Bench - Warmer's MOM: The Little League program is designed to (1) develop competitive sportsmanship in young boys, (2) improve their baseball ability. The practice sessions are arranged so that all the boys are given equal time. But the games are played to win.

Anything short of an all-out effort to win destroys the morale of the team and defeats the basic purpose of the game. Sincerely,

C. F. B., M. D.
LITTLE LEAGUE MGR.,
SENORA, TEX.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My husband coached Little League baseball for four years, and this is his last season because he just can't take any more abuse from the parents of the kids. We talked to about a dozen fathers, trying to get someone who would help with the boys, and without exception, they were all too "busy" or they just didn't care.

You wouldn't believe the excuses we heard! So I—yes, a mother—took a team. And we won the pennant, too. Sincerely,

MOTHER AND COACH

DEAR ABBY: Show me a kid who can't hit, throw or catch, and I'll show you a father who has never taken the time to play "catch" with his son. Then, too, there are always the kids who don't show up for practice half the time.

And when they do, they stand out in the field with both hands in their pockets, blowing bubble gum and watching the birds. Baseball is like anything else. If you want to be good, you've got to practice. And if you're good, you'll play!

VOICE OF EXPERIENCE

DEAR ABBY: Here in Fort Wayne, Inc., a wonderful man named McMillin organized the WILDCAT LEAGUE, WHICH HAS ONLY ONE REQUIREMENT. The boy has to want to play baseball. The emphasis is on sportsmanship, not on winning. Every boy is given a chance to bat and field in every game. Their motto is, "Just Do Your Best."

Once a year several major league players come to town to give the boys pointers on how to bunt, pitch, field, etc. Last year some Detroit Tigers were here for WILDCAT DAY, and left saying they thought it was the greatest thing that ever happened to baseball for young kids. I agree. I have two sons in WILDCAT and if they lose a game they don't come home with long faces. Anybody wanting to organize a WILDCAT LEAGUE in his community may write to WILDCAT OFFICE 1302 EAST CREIGHTON AVENUE, FORT WAYNE, INDIANA. Sincerely,

MRS. E. H.

DEAR ABBY: I know all mothers love their kids, but I sure wish you would tell them something for me. If your little Leaguer doesn't get put into the game very much, please don't say anything.

My mother told off my coach after one of the games and she embarrassed me something terrible. I know another kid whose father did the same thing, and the kid felt so badly he dropped out, and he never did go back.

Nimbus 3 Ready To Aid Biologists

By JIM STROTHMAN
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Biologists may not have the stamina to swim behind whales, romp through African jungles chasing elephants or stomp around frigid Arctic regions after polar bears. But they have found a friend to do it for them — an orbiting satellite.

Stalking animals will become one of many chores for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's versatile Nimbus weather satellites, starting with Nimbus 3 to be launched late next year.

Biologists and conservationists want to know more about migratory habits of beasts to prevent animal species from becoming extinct and help them learn what secret migratory sense steers animals to destinations hundreds of miles away. They want answers to questions like:

How do migrating sea turtles find Ascension Island? Where do certain animals go which disappear for months at a time? Do animals navigate by the sun, stars or perhaps magnetic waves?

The navigation system used by whales or sea turtles could be used to steer submarines. Whatever guides ducks and geese southward in winter and north in summer may be useful to aircraft. The caribou's system may aid guidance methods for land vehicles.

Biologists working with the Smithsonian Institution plan to attach special electronic packages to large land animals when Nimbus 3 orbits the globe. The devices are to beam signals that will permit the satellite to plot the animals' location at least twice daily to an accuracy of 1 ½ miles.

Plans call for the packs to be attached first to large animals, such as elephants, whales, turtles, caribou and polar bears. Each pack weighs about 25 pounds, but researchers for NASA's Goddard Space Flight Center said they may eventually be reduced to about two pounds so biologists can get information on migratory habits of smaller animals as well.

The devices were developed primarily to send weather information — temperature, pressure and humidity readings — from remote ground stations to orbiting Nimbus. As the satellite speeds around the Earth, it relays the readings from the packs to weathermen to help them make worldwide forecasts.

New Bill Regulates Tire Ads

WASHINGTON (AP) — New guidelines for the advertising and labeling of automobile tires, designed as a stopgap measure until Congress fixes minimum safety standards, will go into effect next Feb. 19, the Federal Trade Commission said today.

The commission will begin enforcement at the same time of stiffer guidlines on the use of tire guarantees.

In announcing the effective date of its new regulations, the commission again called federal legislation the best solution to the problem of tire safety and grading.

The guidelines would affect advertising and labeling of tires for their load carrying capacity, inflation pressure, grade or line of the tire, and ply rating.

More than 1,100 different brands of tires are available to American consumers under either the manufacturer's brand or subsidiary and private brands, the commission said, but the consumer has no way to compare the relative grade or safety of these products.

To avoid deception on guarantees, the commission said, any adjustment should be based on the actual selling price of the tire or the dealer's actual price at the time of adjustment. The basis for adjustment must be disclosed in advertising referring to guarantees.

She Teaches Jungle School

EFIGENIO SALES, Brazil — Teaching school at the edge of the Brazilian jungle is no picnic.

For 25-year-old Teresina Barbosa it means living in a waterless and electricity - less room attached to her one-room schoolhouse.

It also means boredom, loniness and low wages.

"But it's a very rewarding job in the other ways," she says.

Pointing to her pupils, nearly all children of Japanese colonists, she says:

"Last year they hardly spoke Portuguese. Today they are almost fluent."

A graduate of convent schools in Manuas, Teresina has 12 years of schooling behind her.

Her school is a wooden building at the edge of the jungle set back about 30 feet from the only major highway in Amazonas state, linking the state capital of Manaus with the city of Itacoatiara.

"It gets lonely," Teresina says, "but I try to fill the time by drawing and embroidering."

To help fill the time she also teaches a night course in Portuguese to the parents of her pupils.

From 7 until 10 at night, with lanterns for illumination, she teaches an average of 20 to 25 adults. In the day time she has 18 Japanese pupils ranging in age from 6 to 18; and 2 Brazilian children of farm laborers.

The school was built to provide schooling for the children of colonists living far from the settlement. It was built by the Japanese themselves and the state only contributes Teresina's salary of about $27 per month.

Chilled Veal With Tuna Sauce

3½ pounds boned rump of veal (rolled, tied and cooked)
1 cup fat-free veal stock
1 can (7 ounces) white tuna
1 cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon (generous) lemon juice
Drained capers
1 can (2 ounces) anchovy fillets

Slice the veal about ⅛-inch thick. In an electric blender, thoroughly blend the congealed veal stock and undrained tuna; gradually beat this into the mayonnaise along with the lemon juice; stir in 2 tablespoons of the capers. Arrange veal slices on a large serving platter, spooning the tuna sauce over them as you do so. Cover tightly with a tent of foil and refrigerate for several hours or overnight; sauce should congeal. Just before serving, arrange anchovies over the platter; sprinkle generously with capers. Makes 8 servings.

To cook veal: Simmer the boned rump in 1 pint water with a carrot, an onion stuck with 2 cloves, 2 ribs celery with leaves, several sprigs parsley, 1 teaspoon salt and 2 bay leaves until tender — about 2 hours. Chill veal and stock separately; remove fat from congealed stock and use amount called for.

Cover and allow to stand several hours or overnight. Drain, mix chick peas and mushrooms and turn into serving dish. Garnish with pimiento strips. Makes 6 to 8 servings. If the marinated chick peas are not available, use 1½ cups plain canned chick peas (drained) and let stand for several hours in a marinade: wine vinegar, sugar, water, garlic clove, bay leaf, oregano. Proceed as directed above.

WOMEN

Bathe And Be Beautiful, Shower And Be Neutral

When you take a bath, you're feminine. When you take a shower, your image may be slipping into neutral — that is, if you happen to be a woman. If you're a man, however, you are only doing what is typically masculine.

These are some of the prevalent, peculiarly American notions reported in that now famous study, The bathroom, made by a university research team. The study cites history, recently established traditions, and commercials and ads as indicators of our attitudes toward the different methods of bathing. For example, men in TV commercials are never seen in bathtubs.

Women, on the other hand, are. And when shown taking a shower, the TV gal's image is that of the 'pal,' "young modern," "fun person," and "lively one," says the report. Her neutral image is unlike that of the sultry femme fatale in the tub.

We also accept the entire bathroom as the woman's domain, says the Tile Council of America, trade association of domestic ceramic tile manufacturers. Most men, for instance, couldn't care less about the decor of that room. Women's influence is reflected in the decorative products, such as the elegantly designed ceramic wall tiles now made for bathrooms, available on the market.

The man of the house is more likely to be concerned with how to stick the ceramic tile to the wallboard.

When bathrooms moved into houses, an event that is barely 40 years old, they were stereotyped as utilitarian, austere, over - sized closets. While the dimensions of five by seven feet are still the standard, most bathrooms have been considerably dressed up over their predecessors.

But men aren't being completely crowded out of the bathroom by the 'woman's touch." His favorite, the shower, is now enjoyed by 50 per cent of women, who care a lot about their cleanliness and aren't a bit worried that their image of femininity might go down the drain in the process.

⅛ teaspoon salt

Turn drained melon and remaining ingredients into a large kettle. Bring to a boil; boil gently, stirring occasionally, for 1 hour. Pack melon into sterilized hot wide - mouth canning jars; fill with syrup leaving headspace; seal with caps. Syrup remaining from preserves may be used various ways. Makes 2 to 3 one-half pints.

Casual Entertaining For Holiday Weekend

It's almost Labor Day weekend—the last fling of the summer— and you'll want some ideas for casual entertaining. Whether you are gathered around the swimming pool or just out in the back yard, you can make it a holiday occasion. Crisp "Goldfish" crackers served in a monkey pod tray or other attractive serving dish along with a tall sparkling soft drink, make entertaining casual and refreshing.

"GOLDFISH" crackers come in six delicious falvors: Lightly Salted, Cheese, Pizza, Sesame Seed, Onion and Poppy Seed. These bite-size crackers are a conversation piece for any occasion and will be savored until the last one is finished.

Arrange a variety of fresh raw vegetables—radishes, carrot sticks, cucumber circles, celery fans, green pepper rings and cherry tomatoes in one section—a dip in another—and several kinds of crackers in other sections. Then let guests help themselves.

For a quick dip combine cottage cheese with chopped chutney, sliced olives, or cooked crumbled bacon.

Honey Crisp

1 cup unsifted regular flour (stir to aerate before measuring)
¼ teaspoon each cinnamon and nutmeg
½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
1 cup honey
1 large egg
½ cup blanched thin flat-cut almonds

On wax paper, sift together the flour, cinnamon and nutmeg. Thoroughly beat together the butter, sugar and honey; thoroughly beat in egg. Stir in flour mixture and almonds. Onto greased and floured cookie sheets, drop batter by level tablespoonfuls and several inches apart — 6 to a large sheet. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 8 to 12 minutes. Allow edges of cookies to set for ½ to 1 minute before removing by practically scraping off with long side of flexible spatula. (We use a spatula with 7-inch blade that is 1 to 1½ inches wide.) Cool on wire rack; store in tightly covered container. Makes about 4 dozen.

Change In Public Relations Indicated For The President

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Probably no president in history wished more for public approval than President Johnson. So it should be no surprise if he makes changes in the way he handles his job.

Polls indicate Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York is gaining strength as a possible contender for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1968.

This must be a shock to Johnson. Kennedy had been considered a good presidential bet in 1972. But speculation about 1968 hardly went beyond thinking Johnson might want him as No. 2 man on his ticket, instead of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

There's a wide gap, and a cool one, between Johnson and Kennedy.

Since his election in 1964 the senator, brother of the late President John F. Kennedy, has kept himself steadily in the public eye with speeches, statements, and colorful trips, like the one to South Africa.

He has differed with the Johnson administration repeatedly, and at times has been bluntly critical, thus setting himself apart from close links with the President and creating a picture of himself as a sort of independent spirit to whom Democrats could turn for leadership whenever they wanted to.

This is hardly a new experience for Johnson with the Kennedy family.

In the late 1950s it was the tireless Johnson, chained to his job, who, as the Senate's Democratic leader, steered the legislative programs through Congress under Republican President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Sen. John F. Kennedy in those years spent a lot of time building up support around the country for his presidential candidacy in 1960. It paid off: Kennedy got the nominatin, Johnson got the vice-presidential spot.

Ease and timing in public relations — or, rather, public appearances — are not Johnson's strongest points.

He was bound to lose some popular support as a result of the American role in the Vietnamese war: the casualties, the cost, the uncertainty about where it leads.

Yet for months earlier this year he let his critics in and out of Congress practically monopolize the public mind with their fault-finding while he contented himself with more or less scattered statements.

He probably would have done himself good if he had chosen to meet his critics head-on with a lengthly, detailed explanation to the nation on television. He has been reluctant to make the most possible use of televised news conferences.

Johnson's whole political life and training had been spent in a manner which is the opposite of public relations. He dealt with members of Congress, in the House and Senate, close up to get things done.

His energy was endless. He probably was the best Senate majority leader in American history. But by the very nature of the head-to-head dealings that went with his job he was pretty much shut off for years from the kind of broad public relations a president needs.

-A Junior Editors Quiz About NECKTIES

QUESTION: How did neckties come into use?

• • •

ANSWER: In ancient times and during the Middle Ages, men wore rather comfortable-looking clothes, usually loose around the neck. But with the Italian Renaissance, more elaborate costumes came to be worn by men in the upper class. Elaborate ruffs around the neck became a new fashion in Italy and were introduced into other parts of Europe in the 1600's. It is a curious fact that except for sports wear, men have worn something around the neck ever since, at least for formal occasions. Ruffs were no doubt uncomfortable, so by 1670 we find the men turning to neck cloths or cravats, which were often fastened with bows in front, leading ultimately to bow ties. Fashions changed in the French Revolutionary period; men's clothes became simpler and more masculine. The cravat, by the mid 1800's, had been replaced by the less-cumbersome string, ascot and bow ties. Bow ties have persisted to our own time, while the stiff, formal-looking ascot changed to the more comfortable four-in-hand, or long tie, about 1870. Nowadays, the bow and long tie are the ones generally used, with string ties occasionally being seen.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Boys: become expert in tying bow and long ties; it's a skill which you will utilize throughout your life.

Mail Is Storehouse Of Facts

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

America now has four times as many widows as widowers, or 8,815,000 to 2,129,000.

Each day of the year, about 4,500 U.S. schoolchildren start smoking.

At a Little Rock, Ark., zoo, pigs have been taught to guard the home, fetch and carry and even retrieve game birds shot in the field. But when a burglar is surprised in our home we want an animal around that can do more than merely grunt at him reproachfully.

Depending on your viewpoint, you will be either delighted or dismayed to learn our fast-growing population now includes 22 million teen-agers.

Quotable notables: "Character is made by what you stand for; reputation by what you fall for" — Alexander Woollcott.

Now read and ponder this, all you young, long-haired beatniks; Dermatologists have found that overhanging hair on your forehead helps concentrate bacteria and — here's the real jolt — can make your acne worse. Yep, that's right — acne!

Still time to live; retirement is by no means the end of the road for a man, although many men feel that way. At 65, mortality tables show, a man can look forward to nearly 13 more years of watching sunrises and sunsets, and listening to his wife.

Did you fail to swat a couple of houseflies early last April? If they and all their offspring had survived, the entire earth by the end of this month would be covered a foot deep in houseflies.

Quips from our contemporaries: Catholic Digest magazine reports on the tot who, while touring a farm, saw a colt. "Look, Daddy!" he exclaimed. "A foreign horse!"

Worth remembering: "Socrates was a Greek philosopher who went around giving good advice. They poisoned him."

Folklore: It's okay to move in a new house on Monday or Wednesday, unlucky on Friday. The perching of an owl on a home predicts the death of an occupant. People with large eyes are benevolent. If soap slips out of your hand, you'll soon lose money.

It was playwright Channing Pollock who first observed, "No man in the world has more courage than the man who can stop after eating one peanut."

Koufax, Cortisone Only Combination

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Sandy Koufax gets a shot of cortisone, his left elbow feels better and National League batters feel worse.

Koufax, whose arthritic elbow forced him out of a game just four days before, transferred the pain to St. Louis Sunday as he recorded his 20th victory of the season in Los Angeles' 4-1 triumph over the Cardinals.

The 30-year-old southpaw was pitching against Cincinnati last Wednesday night when the pain in his elbow was so great that he had to leave the game in the fifth inning.

He received a shot of cortisone that night and two days later was on the sidelines throwing. After the workout, he said: "I'll pitch Sunday."

That he did. He stopped the Cardinals on six hits, only three after the first inning when the Cardinals scored their run, struck out 10 and achieved the third 20-game season of his career.

Elsewhere in the National League, Pittsburgh held a one percentage point lead over San Francisco after whipping Chicago 8-1. The Giants downed Atlanta 9-4, New York swept Philadelphia 6-5 and 5-1 and Houston trampled Cincinnati 11-0.

In the American League, Detroit whipped Baltimore 9-4, Chicago edged Cleveland 3-2, Boston trimmed Minnesota 6-4, Washington downed California 7-4 and New York stopped Kansas City 7-3.

"I just wasn't making the pitches in the first inning," said Koufax, who won 25 games in 1963 and 26 last year.

"But by the third inning I felt good. The elbow felt much better than I expected. I began to tire a bit in the latter innings — you always get tired, but I had enough stuff."

Bob Veale pitched a two-hitter and received support from Pittsburgh's 18-hit attack. Jesse Gonder, Willie Stargell and Manny Mota each lashed four hits with Gonder driving in three runs. Gonder and Roberto Clemente homered while Billy Williams connected for Chicago.

Atlanta took a 4-2 lead against San Francisco, but the Giants rallied for four runs in the sixth and three more in the ninth, the latter all coming n Jim Hart's homer. Jesus Alou and Hal latter all coming on Jim Hart's run in the sixth while Tito Fuentes and Len Gabrielson brought in the other two with sacrifice flies.

The Mets achieved their winningest season ever with a sweep of the Phillies. Jim Hickman's two-run homer in the eighth inning gave them the opening-game victory, No. 54. The pinch-hit blow capped a three-run rally that overcame Johnny Callison's three - run homer.

Tug McGraw pitched a two-hitter in victory No. 55. He received support from two-run doubles by Larry Elliot in the sixth and Jerry Grote in the ninth.

Dave Giusti not only pitched a six-hitter against Cincinnati, but he also powered Houston's attack by driving in six runs with bases-loaded doubles in the fourth and in the fifth.

Falcon Fans Angry With Poor Showing

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Blanton Collier pleaded for understanding but his Cleveland Browns didn't help the coach's cause very much.

A crowd of 48,548 at Atlanta watched Collier's Browns rout the Falcons 42-3 Saturday night and they didn't like what they saw. For that matter, neither did Atlanta Coach Norb Hecker.

But, Collier thought the fans should have been more patient with their first-year National Football League team.

"I beg you to be charitable," he said. "You just can't build a team overnight. The Falcons have a great coaching staff but it will take time to get their boys used to playing together."

Hecker, however, sounded just as angry as the fans.

"We found some things out about some of the boys," the Falcons' coach said. "Twleve or 15 of them will be gone Monday."

The Browns broke open a 14-3 game with 28 points in the final quarter against the Falcons, who brought catcalls from the fans when they stayed with a ground attack in four futile scoring attempts deep in Cleveland territory.

Collier was sympathetic. "Time and patience are the only things that will cure their problems," the Cleveland coach said.

In other NFL exhibitions over the weekend, unbeaten Dallas stunned Green Bay 21-3, New York downed Detroit 17-7, Chicago defeated Washington 24-10, Minnesota whipped Los Angeles 24-10 and Pittsburgh ripped San Francisco 34-17.

In the American League, Boston defeated Oakland 21-10, Kansas City dumped San Diego 31-21, New York whipped Miami 31-14 and Buffalo dropped Houston 28-16.

Don Meredith hit Bob Hayes with a pair of touchdown passes as the Cowboys beat the Packers for their third straight exhibition victory. A crowd of 75,504 jammed the Cotton Bowl to watch Dallas defeat the defending NFL champions.

Buckpasser Is Millionaire After Saratoga Field Fete

By OLO ROBERTSON

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) — Trainer Eddie Nely was worried and admitted it. Owner Ogden Phipps never was more confident—so he said. And jockey Braulio Baeza, aboard the great Buckpasser, was cool as an icicle.

That was the scene at Saratoga race track about 4:50 p.m. Saturday as Buckpasser, a 1-5 shot to whip five other three-year-olds in the 97th Travers, went to the post.

Buckpasser trailed far back in the early parts of the 1¼-mile journey, apparently was beaten by Amberoid with one-quarter mile remaining and then staged a spine-tingling stretch drive that carried him to a three-quarter length victory and membership in the exclusive thoroughbreds' millionaire club.

"Are you still worried?" Baeza asked Neloy with the trace of a smile on his face as he rode the powerful son of Tom Fool-Busanda into the winner's circle.

"I never want to play poker with Braulio Baeza," said Neloy. "He's too cool."

Travers had been a scene of the downfall of great champions, most notable Gallant Fox, Omaha, Whichone and Whichone by the 100-1 shot, Jim Dandy, in 1930. It also has furnished some of the country's greatest races including 1962 when Jaipur and Ridan ran head-and-head all the way with the former winning by the narrowest of margins.

But few can match Saturday's renewal for thrills as Buckpasser equaled the track record of 2:01 3-5 for his ninth straight victory. First money, $53,690, of the gross purse of $82,600 boosted his bankroll to $1,038,369.

No other three-year-old ever won as much and only five others—Kelso, Round Table, Nashua, Carry Back and Citation — banked more than $1 million. Kelso heads the list with $1,977,898.

"I wasn't worried one bit," said Phipps. 'He is truly a great horse—without a dubt tohe best I ever have had."

Winners of last Saturday's other features were Swinging Mood in the Arlington Park Matron Handicap, Imasmartee in the Philadelphia Turf Handicap at Atlantic City, Biller in the Granite State Stakes at Rockingham Park, Chiclero in the Bing Crosby Handicap at Del Mar and Jolly Jet in the Buck-[illegible] at Randall Park.

PRESSURE PASS — Rob Golden had to hurry a pass during the intrasquad scrimmage here Friday night when the Tiger defense put on the pressure.

RED RAIDER BOUND — Grant Teaff, head football coach at McMurry College in Abilene six years, was named Saturday as an assistant coach at Texas Tech. Grant is a former Snyder High School graduate and McMurry football great. Teaff is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Teaff of Snyder.

Grant Teaff Is Red Raider Bound

Grant Teaff, former Snyder High School athlete, was named Saturday as an assistant football coach at Texas Tech. Teaff is to replace Harry Buffington, who resigned last week.

Teaff accepted the position at Tech after serving six years as head football and track coach at McMurry. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Teaff, and they still make their home in Snyder.

Teaff graduated from Snyder High in 1952. He was an all-district lineman for two years. Teaff then enrolled in San Angelo Junior College where he was outstanding in the football ranks.

He then attended McMurry where he was named All-Texas Conference tackle two years in a row.

After a brief stint of high school coaching, Teaff moved back to McMurry as the head track coach, and for the past six years has been head coach in both of the sports at McMurry.

Spurs Trip Amarillo

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dallas-Fort Worth beat Amarillo 2-0 in the only game played in the Texas League Sunday but it had little effect on the waning race.

Leading Arkansas and Austin postponed their game because of rain and El Paso and Albuquerque were not scheduled.

Dallas-Fort Worth gained a half-game on Austin in the fight for fourth place—the final playoff spot—but still was eight games away with 15 to play.

Dallas-Fort Worth would have to win nine of its remaining games while Austin lost them all for the Spurs to make it.

Arkansas leads Amarillo by four games and Amarillo is 3½ games ahead of third place Albuquerque, which is 3½ over fourth place Austin.

Tom Simon tripled and scored on a wild pitch in the first inning then singled in the other run in the eighth as Dallas-Fort Worth beat Amarillo before a

Detroit Shows Homer Power Against Faltering Orioles

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The change of scenery was a little painful for Earl Wilson, but he's found that the harder he works the less it hurts.

Wilson, traded from Boston to Detroit two months ago, reeled off his sixth straight victory Sunday and hit one of five Tiger homers in a 9-4 romp over American League-leading Baltimore.

The triumph, Wilson's 10th in 14 decisions since joining the Tigers, gave him an over-all mark of 15-9, his best by far in seven major league seasons.

"Maybe it would be a good thing for every player to be traded once in a while," the 30-year-old right-hander said after checking the Orioles on seven hits and striking out 11. "I felt a little hurt when I was traded but I also think the move gave me a little incentive."

Wilson, who was 13-14 with the Red Sox last season and 5-5 before the June 13 trade, couldn't explain his sudden success at Detroit. "I still think it's easier pitching in Boston than in this park," he said.

Elsewhere, Boston snapped Minnesota's winning streak at six, overtaking the Twins 6-4; Chicago swept past Cleveland 3-2; New York trimmed Kansas City 7-3 and Washington slugged California 7-4.

In National League play first-place Pittsburgh drubbed Chicago 8-1; San Francisco beat Atlanta 9-4; Los Angeles downed St. Louis 4-1; Houston battered Cincinnati 11-0 and New York took a doubleheader from Philadelphia 6-5 and 5-1.

Wilson subdued the Orioles after being clipped for two runs and three extra-base hits in the first inning. Frank Robinson hit his 38th homer after the Tigers had pulled out of reach.

Wilson, Dick McAuliffe and Norm Cash all hit bases-empty homers in the fourth inning after two-run shots by Al Kaline and Jim Northrup had sent the Tigers ahead to stay.

The Red Sox, who had lost five in a row, overcame a 4-1 Minnesota lead with three runs in the sixth inning, then shot ahead in the seventh on two-out, run-scoring singles by George Scott and Bob Tillman.

Smoky Burgess' two-run pinch hit double and Floyd Robinson's run-producing single in the seventh lifted the White Sox past the Indians, who had been breezing along with a 2-0 lead behind right-hander Steve Hargan.

Hargan held the Sox hitless until the fifth while Rocky Colavito's single in the first inning and an error by right fielder Robinson in the third sent Cleveland runs across.

Joe Pepitone rapped a double and single, driving in three runs, and Clete Boyer poked a two-run single in the Yankees' victory over Kansas City. Steve Hamilton blanked the A's over the last 2 1-3 innings, helping starter Al Downing square his record at 8-8.

Paul Casanova stroked four hits, including a two-run homer, while Frank Howard drilled a two-run blast and Ken McMullen connected with the bases empty, powering the Senators past California and ruining the major league debut of Angels starter Ramon Lopez.

Ballinger Wins Local Tournament

Ballinger defeated the Snyder Goldjackets 13-11, in the champinship game of the Women's Softball Tournament Saturday to win the coveted team trophy.

Snyder managed a second place finish in the tournament and San Angelo placed third. Abilene cornered the consolation honors.

Snyder placed five on the all-tournament team which was far more than the other teams could manage. Bailinger and San Angelo placed two on the team, and no other team managed over one player

The all-tournament team is as fllows: Susan Ivison, Snyder; Betty Gray, San Angelo Gene Barry, San Angelo; Helen Goosby, Snyder; Helen Rios, Snyder; Gene Anderson, Snyder; Marie Zamaripa, Ballinger; Brenda Jackson, Snyder; Linda McGregor, Ballinger; and Linda McKemy, Abilene.

The turnament was sponsored by the Snyder Goldjackets, and the trophies were purchased through the co-operation of Snyder merchants.

Ft. Worth In Last Connie Mack Stand

FARMINGTON, N.M. (AP)—Fort Worth, Tex., makes its last stand today in the Connie Mack Baseball World Series.

The Texans play Tordena, Calif., in the loser's bracket of the double-elimination tournament and must win to stay in contention.

Farley Makes Casting Team With 74 Points

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—B.L. Farley of San Antonio, Tex., has been named to the All-America team of the American Casting Association.

Farley got the honor based on accuracy and distance in competition in the annual tournament that wound up Sunday.

He won the skish spinning accuracy title with 74 points.

Scouting Report

'The only reason we looked good is because we had such a good effort," said Coach Keith Miles this morning after viewing films of last week's intra-squad practice scrimmage.

"We're fundamentally unsound," he added. "We need to do a lot of work on the basic fundamentals — blocking and tackling." Many of the boys were using improper stances the film indicated.

Cool weather greeted the Snyder High School grid squad this morning as it returned to the practice field to continue preparations for the 1966 season.

While the weather was good, the team received some bad news when it was learned Drake Snyder, 175-pound center, may be out for the season. Drake, who was considered one of the finest prospects, may have to have surgery for a hernia.

Otherwise, the team appeared to be in overall good health, except for a few bruised and sore muscles. Mickey Almond, quarterback on last year's 'B" team, said he was going to test his ankle this week.

Some 20 candidates for the "B" team reported for their first drill this morning and spent most of the first session running. About 67 boys reported for physicals for the Junior High teams.

The varsity put in several minutes on defense work this morning, and the defensive secondary worked on pass coverage.

Another drill was slated for 4 p.m. today, and another intrasquad session is on tap for 8 o'clock Tuesday in Tiger stadium with the emphasis to be on defense.

Texas Woman Dies In Santa Fe Mishap

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP)—Mrs. Charlcye Nadine Vernon, 33, of DeSoto, Tex., was injured fatally Sunday when she fell from a horse and her head struck a rock.

State police said Mrs. Vernon reached down to grab a jacket that had caught on her foot. They said she lost her balance and fell from the horse.

The accident occurred at Hyde State Park near Santa Fe.

Mrs. Vernon's address was given as 336 Meadow Creek Lane, DeSoto.

Mishap Fatal To Migrant Workers

WAUTOMA, Wis. (AP)—Mrs. Bernard de los Santos, 37, and her son, Ricky, 4, of Vanderbilt, Tex., were killed Saturday night in the collision of a car and a truck 9 miles west of here.

Investigating officers said members of the de los Santos family were migrant farm laborers working on vegetable farms in the area.

Hailstorms reach their peak in the growing season when the icy pellets can do the most damage to crops. A single storm in Nebraska once smashed wheat that would have yielded some three million bushels.

Heart Specialist Suggests Plan Of Sensible Stress

By TOM JOHNSON

DALLAS (AP)—Perhaps the best way to avert a heart attack—or to survive one—is to run miles each day.

That's the opinion of a heart specialist, who runs about five miles every morning.

"The heart is a muscle, and it needs exercise like any other muscle to stay healthy," says Dr. Carleton Chapman.

The best exercise for the heart, he says, is sustained running or riding a bicycle.

Chapman, 51, who smokes an occasional filter cigarette, is a professor of medicine at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School at Dallas. He is immediate past president of the American Heart Association.

Chapman is a native of Sycamore, Ala., and was a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford in the late 1930s. He got his M. D. at Harvard in 1941.

Chapman has been running regularly for 13 years, and he plans to keep up the pace indefinitely.

He says such exercise must be done daily or at least four or five times a week to be effective.

"Heavy exercise taken sporadically, or only once in a while, could do more harm than good" by sudden overloads on a flabby heart.

The key, then, to treating a heart attack patient is what he calls "carefully graduated activity."

After a patient is able to get out of bed, Chapman has him walk a mile or two a day. This is stepped up to slow running or jogging a mile in the morning and a mile in the evening.

If all goes well, the patient gets into the routine in time of running, walking or riding a bicycle four or five miles a day.

"The important thing is a program of sensible stress on the circulatory system."

In addition to strengthening the heart, Chapman says such a program also can develop new blood channels to the heart by unblocking plugged-up vessels.

He said he began thinking about a possible correlation between inactivity and heart trouble when he learned that the death rate in the United States from coronary problems is five or six times what it is in Sweden, where the people are much more active.

Then he read a study from London, which said conductors on the double-decked buses have significantly less heart trouble than the drivers. Conductors are constantly climbing up and down the bus stairs. Drivers just sit for hours.

"Being a scientist, I'm not in a position yet to say categorically that physical inactivity is related to coronary trouble.

"But I believe that it is," he said.

He added one reason why American women suffer fewer heart attacks than their white-collar husbands is possibly that they are much more active doing housework and looking after children.

Chapman has access to a specially equipped laboratory where he carries out research on coronary-pulmonary disorders. He says all his findings indicate a link between proper exercise and a healthy heart.

As for his own exercise program, he admits that running around parks and lakes at 5 a.m. produces some problems.

"A new policeman will check me out now and then, but he's always very agreeable and usually curious when he finds out what I'm doing."

He told of going to another city once to deliver a scientific paper:

"I'd scouted out a good running place the night before. When I started running in the morning, near a factory, a security car drew up alongside me. I told them what I was doing, and they drove along with me for a few miles, talking about the weather and such."

Chapman recently recovered from a broken arm he suffered when his bicycle—he sometimes pedals the five miles a day—hit a speed trap in a part of town he wasn't used to.

He says most heart patients he treats take up the exercise program with a passion.

"There's one elderly man who drives out to the airport terminal whenever it rains.

"He walks up and down the concourses for hours until he has his five miles in. Then he drives home."

Rare LaFeria Crying Tree Big Business To Its Owner

By JACK KEEVER

LA FERIA, Tex. (AP)—The tree's thin leaves hardly block the sun, and its limbs crowd telephone wires in Sam Morse's backyard. But water leaking from it now brings 50 cents each from hundreds of persons who think it may have healing powers.

Dozens of calls and unanswered letters have asked for samples of the liquid.

"I hope it cures them all, but I don't think it will," said Morse, 65, who suddenly finds his quiet life interrupted with a backyard full of people wanting water from a 13-year-old acacia tree he once almost cut down.

"I haven't drunk any of that filthy water and don't intend to."

He'll tell you frankly that although no one is offering an official explanation for the water flow, the tree stands on a water formation six feet below the surface.

His doubts, however, haven't stopped the crowds or letters.

Like a gold rush, dozens, then hundreds, mostly Mexican-Americans, poured into his yard after the word got out that water was flowing from the 30-foot tree.

They came by car and foot.

Clutching paper cups and glass jars, they pushed and shoved to get to the tree, a common variety here in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Once there, they reached as high on the trunk as they could with sponges and rags, sopping up the water as it trickled down from two tiny holes on one limb and squeezing it into their containers.

Some knelt to mix the water with dirt and rub it on their bodies.

Most dubbed it the "Crying Tree," but some called it "God's Tree" and Morse's yard "The Holy Land."

One excited man cried, "It belongs to God, me and God."

A patient and soft-spoken man, Morse replied:

"It's on my land—I hold the title."

And, after a week of feet scuffing his grass and trampling bushes and noise that kept him awake all night, Morse decided, "I don't want anybody to get hurt. I want some order."

The next step, since he owns the M-M Fence Co. and keeps huge cylinders of wire rolled in his yard, came naturally. He tried a five-foot high extension on a four-foot fence he already had around his lot, just off U.S. 83, the main route through the town. But that didn't stop the night visitors, so he ringed the tree with an eight-foot high fence topped with a couple of strands of barbed wire.

He built a gate in the fence and, after many free gallons of water at the rate of 14 to 18 gallons a day had flowed from the tree, began charging 50 cents admission.

Now everything's running like clockwork, even on the weekends when off-duty field hands boost the crowds, which seldom fall below 40 anytime during the day.

Morse said the tree is taking time away from his business. Really he doesn't have much to do with it. He sits comfortably in the shade of his yard while, a few feet away a woman lets people through the gate four or five at a time.

"We don't limit how long they can stay in there," Morse said. "You have to understand these people, when they're ready to come out they will and we'll let some more in."

People waiting often press their faces against the wide fence.

Hand - lettered signs read: "Not responsible for accidents."

Two women—Mrs. Linnie Chambers and Mrs. Elaine Williams—work the gate watch in eight-hour shifts, 6 a.m. to 2 p.m. and 2 to 10 p.m.

They are well-paid employes, said Morse, whose figures showed he was collecting $80 to $100 a day in admission fees.

"I could've charged a dollar each, but I don't want to profiteer," said Morse. "I let the ladies take home quite a bit, and I want enough left over to repair my yard.

"Why, if I wanted to, I could sell seeds that fall off this tree for 25 cents each."

He held up a coffee - colored seedpod with spaces for about 60 seeds: At the quoted rate, a $15 pod only a couple of inches long.

Business is pretty good for a few others, one man selling snow cones from the trunk of his car was out of ice by early afternoon, and the service station next-door sold 20 cases—480 bottles—of cold drinks one Sunday.

"Some people who come here resell the water for 10 cents a sip," said Morse.

But it's serious business—a matter of health—to most of those inside the fence or in line, Morse said.

"I know most of these people. They've either lost hope in doctors or they're too poor to pay."

Dr. Gary Miller, a Harlingen psychologist, was asked for his interpretation of the interest in the tree. He called it an example of people's ability to "think magically."

Rumors have circulated about the possibility of the water being polluted. A sample was sent to the State Health Department in Austin, for laboratory tests which are still incomplete.

"What will you do if the water's polluted?" Morse was asked.

"Nothing," he replied. "Of course it'll show bacteria with all those people touching the tree. But I'm not selling the water, and I'm certainly not making any promises about it.

"I'm just charging people to come on my property.

"You never know when the tree will run dry. I may come out one morning, and the water will all be gone.

"But people will still want to see it, sort of like a shrine. So I thought I'd do something nice, maybe put up a better fence to protect the tree and put some cement on the ground around it and maybe an awning to keep the sun off all those people."

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 19 proposing an Amendment to Section 49-d, Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas, declaring state policy regarding optimum development of water reservoirs; providing for the use of the Texas Water Development Fund under such conditions as the Legislature may prescribe by General Law in the acquisition and development of storage facilities and any system of works properly appurtenant thereto; providing for the sale, lease or transfer of such facilities under General Laws; providing for long-term contracts for water storage facilities; authorizing the issuance of an additional $200,000,000 in bonds by the Texas Water Development Board upon a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the elected members of each house; providing that anticipatory legislation shall not be invalid because of its anticipatory character; providing for the necessary election, form of ballot; and proclamation and publication.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 49-d of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended to read as follows:

"Section 49-d. It is hereby declared to be the policy of the State of Texas to encourage the optimum development of the limited number of feasible sites available for the construction or enlargement of dams, and reservoirs for conservation of the public waters of the state, which waters are held in trust for the use and benefit of the public. The proceeds from the sale of the additional bonds authorized hereunder deposited in the Texas Water Development Fund and the proceeds of bonds previously authorized by Article III, Section 49-c of this Constitution, may be used by the Texas Water Development Board, under such provisions as the Legislature may prescribe by General Law, including the requirement of a permit for storage or beneficial use, for the additional purposes of acquiring and developing storage facilities, and any system or works necessary for the filtration, treatment and transportation of water from storage to points of treatment, filtration and/or distribution, including facilities for transporting water therefrom to wholesale purchasers, or for any one or more of such purposes or methods; provided, however, the Texas Water Development Fund or any other state fund provided for water development, transmission, transfer or filtration shall not be used to finance any project which contemplates or results in the removal from the basin of origin of any surface water necessary to supply the reasonably foreseeable future water requirements for the next ensuing fifty-year period within the river basin of origin, except on a temporary, interim basis.

"Under such provisions as the Legislature may prescribe by General Law the Texas Water Development Fund may be used for the conservation and development of water for useful purposes by construction or enlargement of reservoirs constructed or to be constructed or enlarged within the State of Texas or on any stream constituting a boundary of the State of Texas, together with any system or works necessary for the filtration, treatment and/or transportation of water, by any one or more of the following governmental agencies: by the United States of America or any agency, department or instrumentality thereof; by the State of Texas or any agency, department or instrumentality thereof; by political subdivisions or bodies politic and corporate of the state; by interstate compact commissions to which the State of Texas is a party; and by municipal corporations. The Legislature shall provide terms and conditions under which the Texas Water Development Board may sell, transfer or lease, in whole or in part, any reservoir and associated system or works which the Texas Water Development Board has financed in whole or in part.

"Under such provisions as the Legislature may prescribe by General Law, the Texas Water Development Board may also execute long-term contracts with the United States or any of its agencies for the acquisition and development of storage facilities in reservoirs constructed or to be constructed by the Federal Government. Such contracts when executed shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas in the same manner and with the same effect as state bonds issued under the authority of the preceding Section 49-c of this Constitution, and the provisions in said Section 49-c with respect to payment of principal and interest on state bonds issued shall likewise apply with respect to payment of principal and interest required to be paid by such contracts. If storage facilities are acquired for a term of years, such contracts shall contain provisions for renewal that will protect the state's investment.

"The aggregate of the bonds authorized hereunder shall not exceed $200,000,000 and shall be in addition to the aggregate of the bonds previously authorized by said Section 49-c of Article III of this Constitution. The Legislature upon two-thirds (2/3) vote of the elected members of each House, may authorize the Board to issue all or any portion of such $200,000,000 in additional bonds herein authorized.

"The Legislature shall provide terms and conditions for the Texas Water Development Board to sell, transfer or lease, in whole or in part, any acquired storage facilities or the right to use such storage facilities together with any associated system or works necessary for the filtration, treatment or transportation of water at a price not less than the direct cost of the Board in acquiring same; and the Legislature may provide terms and conditions for the Board to sell any unappropriated public waters of the state that might be stored in such facilities. As a prerequisite to the purchase of such storage or water, the applicant therefor shall have secured a valid permit from the Texas Water Commission or its successor authorizing the acquisition of such storage facilities or the water impounded therein. The money received from any sale, transfer or lease of storage facilities or associated system or works shall be used to pay principal and interest on state bonds issued or contractual obligations incurred by the Texas Water Development Board, provided that when moneys are sufficient to pay the full amount of indebtedness then outstanding and the full amount of interest to accrue thereon, any further sums received from the sale, transfer or lease of such storage facilities or associated system or works may be used for the acquisition of additional storage facilities or associated system or works or for providing financial assistance as authorized by said Section 49-c. Money received from the sale of water, which shall include standby service, may be used for the operation and maintenance of acquired facilities, and for the payment of principal and interest on debt incurred.

"Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this Amendment, such Acts shall not be void by reason of their anticipatory character."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1966, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 48 proposing an Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing the method and manner for dissolution of hospital districts created under Article IX of the Constitution.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 9, Article IX of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended to read as follows:

"Section 9. The Legislature may by law provide for the creation, establishment, maintenance and operation of hospital districts composed of one or more counties or all or any part of one or more counties with power to issue bonds for the purchase, construction, acquisition, repair or renovation of buildings and improvements and equipping same, for hospital purposes; providing for the transfer to the hospital district of the title to any land, buildings, improvements and equipment, lots, wholly within the district which may be jointly or separately owned by any city, town or county, providing that any district so created shall assume full responsibility for providing medical and hospital care for its needy inhabitants and assume the outstanding indebtedness incurred by cities, towns and counties for hospital purposes prior to the creation of the district, if same are located wholly within its boundaries, and a pro rata portion of such indebtedness based upon the then last approved tax assessment rolls of the included cities, towns and counties if less than all the territory thereof is included within the district boundaries; providing that after its creation no other municipality or political subdivision shall have the power to levy taxes or issue bonds or other obligations for hospital purposes or for providing medical care within the boundaries of the district; providing for the levy of annual taxes at a rate not to exceed seventy-five cents (75c) on the One Hundred Dollar valuation of all taxable property within such district for the purpose of meeting the requirements of the district's bonds, the indebtedness assumed by it and its maintenance and operating expenses, providing that such district shall not be created or such tax authorized unless approved by a majority of the qualified property taxpaying electors thereof voting at an election called for the purpose; and providing further that the support and maintenance of the district's hospital system shall never become a charge against or obligation of the State of Texas nor shall any direct appropriation be made by the Legislature for the construction, maintenance or improvement of any of the facilities of such district.

Provided, however, that no district shall be created except by act of the Legislature and then only after thirty (30) days' public notice to the district affected, and in no event may the Legislature provide for a district to be created without the affirmative vote of a majority of the taxpaying voters in the district concerned.

The Legislature may also provide for the dissolution of hospital districts provided that a process is afforded by statute for:

(1) determining the desire of a majority of the qualified voters within the district to dissolve it;

(2) disposing of or transferring the assets, if any, of the district; and

(3) satisfying the debts and bond obligations, if any, of the district, in such manner as to protect the interest of the citizens within the district, including their collective property rights in the assets and property of the district, provided, however, that any grant from federal funds, however dispensed, shall be considered an obligation to be repaid in satisfaction and provided that no election to dissolve shall be held more often than once each year. In such connection, the statute shall provide against disposal or transfer of the assets of the district except for due compensation unless such assets are transferred to another governmental agency, such as a county, embracing such district and using such transferred assets in such a way as to benefit citizens formerly within the district.

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1966, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:
