Grasshopper Poison Fatal to Two Cows

Through failure of a former tenant to remove two sacks of 1937 grasshopper poison from the grainary of the vacated place, Clarence Peabody was the loser of two high bred milk cows. Peabody was cleaning out the grainary of the place where he recently moved when he found two sacks supposedly containing feed. Throwing the sacks into the cow lot, the poison was quickly consumed by the cows. They died! After feeding meat from the first cow to 18 pigs, the nature of the feed was discovered. Close watch is now being kept on the pigs.

SOUP KITCHEN GETS FORGOTTEN SUM

MOLAY NOW LIVING IN CLARENDON GIVE $31.80

Operation of the Soup Kitchen located at the Junior High School building will be benefitted by $31.80 that has lain dormant in Donley County State Bank for nearly 14 years. The money is being donated by five men now remaining in Clarendon from a De Molay social club organized in 1924.

Approximately 27 young men back in 1927 formed a De Molay social organization although their lodge memberships were held in various Panhandle towns. A lodge was never formed in Clarendon. To provide entertainment and other social activities, dances, picture shows, etc., a fund was sponsored with the result that when activities ceased their bank account showed a $31.80 balance.

Elmer Palmer, McHenry Lane, Clarence Whitlock, Clarence Bairfield and Wilfred Noble, only members now residing in Clarendon recently discovered the bank balance and decided to donate it to the most worthy cause of the Soup Kitchen.

HARRY McCracken INJURED IN WRECK

SEVERAL BROKEN RIBS AND BROKEN SHOULDER SUFFERED IN WRECK

Harry McCracken, 21-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. McCracken suffered severe bruises, several broken ribs and a broken shoulder Sunday night shortly after 9:00 o'clock when his car hit a sand dune at the west end of the Sunview school lane, and overturned.

The car came to a stop in the field just west of the highway corner, in an up-side-down position. The car top was crushed, left front wheel and left running board were caved in. Glass in both doors of the Hudson coupe was broken out in the wreck.

In a dazed condition and suffering from his injuries, McCracken crawled to the nearby home of W. E. Hardin, who summoned an ambulance. The injured man was rushed to the Adair Hospital where it was discovered he sustained a bad leg laceration. The broken bones were discovered at a later examination.

Physicians said McCracken was fortunate in making his way to the nearby residence following the wreck as prolonged exposure during the night, during which time the temperature dropped to eight degrees, might have resulted in death or other serious complications.

COMMITTEE ON MORAL CODE

WORK FOR LOCAL LIONS

Pursuing the plan of having all the standing committees of the organization present a program in the first of the year, the Clarendon Lions Club heard Chairman E. D. Landreth of the Moral Code for Youth committee, explain the objectives of that branch of Lions Club work at the Tuesday luncheon at the Hotel Clarendon. This thought led to other discussion on the youth problem of the community with suggestions from several Lions as to some things that might be done, which brought applause of the club.

TRADING METHOD TO DRAW CROWDS

PARTICIPATING MERCHANTS
MAKE POSSIBLE SALES MARKET FOR FARMERS

Beginning next Tuesday, Clarendon will have a new series of Auction Sales days, that will continue for five months.

The first sales day will be held Tuesday, Feb. 8, from 9:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. The final event of this first series will be conducted in June.

Sales will be held on the trade lots behind the Gulf Service Station.

The monthly Auction Sales days are being held to provide a local market for farmers and traders, of farm products, livestock, feed, implements, etc., and are being sponsored by a large number of Clarendon business firms.

The Auction Sales are made possible by participating merchants whose advertisements appear on pages 4 and 5 of this issue of The Clarendon News.

The plan of operation is simple, and is as follows:

Every Farmer and Trader of the Clarendon area, if he has anything to sell, is invited to bring the items, to Clarendon each Auction Sales day. M. L. Putman, prominent auctioneer of Donley county, will auction off to the highest bidder each item as it is put up. There are no auction fees. The services of the auctioneer is provided free in this new series of Clarendon Auction Sales.

On pages 4 and 5 of this issue will be found an announcement of the event, the plan of operation, and advertisements of the participating merchants, who are extending special invitations to the farmers and traders of this area to attend these Auction Sales, and are inviting the farmer's and trader's attention to the messages in their ads. Special bargains are offered in Clarendon by Clarendon merchants on Auction Sales days.

Farmers and Traders, read the merchants ads, the plan of operation and see there is provided for you a free sales market in Clarendon, then bring here Tuesday those items you want to sell. Auctioneer services are free!

Judges Selected For Stock Show

Specialists from the A. & M. Extension Service have accepted invitations to act as judges at the Annual Donley County Fat Stock Show, which will be held here March 4 and 5.

K. J. Edwards, district extension service agent, will judge the calves and lambs, and E. M. Regenbrecht, extension swine husbandryman, will judge fat pigs.

Officials of the show have stated that all entries must be groomed and placed in the show pens on March 4. Judging will take place March 5. Ribbons are being prepared for grand champion lamb, pig and calf, and for placings in these divisions.

It is estimated that 42 4-H and F. F. A. calves, 16 F. F. A. lambs and approximately 60 top pigs will complete the largest show ever held in Donley county.

P. A. Buntin and Fred Buntin left Tuesday for Ft. Worth, where they will spend several days on business.

Extra Effort For Carroll Creek Dam To Be Made Before Washington Chiefs

Under the adopted plan the government buys the sites for the proposed lakes and dams, and the WPA furnishes the money and labor necessary to complete the project, with the general exception that where WPA labor is insufficient, other local labor is employed and paid for at standard pay.

Congressman Marvin Jones is to give his personal attention and interest to the Donley project, and there is hope that approval and construction may be had in the next few weeks. If not the project will be forced to take its turn along with those carried over into the next fiscal year, which would delay the work here probably a year.

CATERING TO THE BETTER THINGS OF LIFE

Editor Stricklin of the Terry County Herald of Brownfield has the correct idea of the "freedom of the press." He chooses to believe that the mission of his newspaper is to separate the detrimental and unhealthy from the weekly grist of news, giving precedence and prominence to those things that promote and perpetuate the good and wholesome elements of citizenship. The Clarendon News heartily agrees to Editor Stricklin's viewpoint and practice as expressed below:

"We have been asked a number of times why we don't report things of a shady nature, giving names, etc., court trials, etc. One man recently told us that he believed we ought to report every crime, and spare no names, and that we would be privileged to call his children in question any time, along with the others. The Herald is strictly a local paper, and it caters to the better things of life, or tries to do so, and while we have a sympathy for crime in any form, lots of times the mention of it would not faze the perpetrator, but would wring the heart cords of the parents and other relatives. The community gets such news anyway, by the grapevine route much sooner than we could get to them. So why publish it? Only this week we had a letter asking for a paper of court proceedings about two boys and a girl in a certain community getting in bad and the boys put in jail. There was no such story printed in the Herald, and his money was returned."

THE SUPREME NEED

Editor Sewell in the Midlothian Argus recently recounted a situation common to the whole country and made pertinent comment as to the one supreme need of this nation. Read it and see if you agree to the inescapable logic of his statement:

I attended a midnight show the other Saturday night in Dallas and folks were lined up two blocks in a chill north wind waiting to purchase tickets and to gain admission into the building. One of the lads in our party made the remark, "I wonder if there will be this big a mob waiting to get into the churches in the morning." I checked up later and not a single one of our crowd, and they were all members of a church too, attended services Sunday morning, and I imagine ninety per cent of the show bunch slept right through the time for worship. This country needn't wonder what is wrong with it, an idiot could quickly point his finger at the trouble. The vast majority has gone hog wild over entertainment, having fun, foolish spending, and fickle living, the home has lost its touch, the authority of the parents is a thing for history books and religion has been pushed into a darkened, dusty corner of the family closet. This country doesn't need an anti-lynching bill, this south of ours doesn't need a new farm program, Ellis County doesn't need twelve cent cotton—WHAT WE NEED IS GOD."

A PENNY SAVED!

It was Benjamin Franklin who once advised taking care of the pennies and said the dollars would take care of themselves. But of course Mr. Franklin wasn't aware then of our current complications in government—red tape, so to speak.

For example, the United States Treasury in Washington recently received checks for one cent each from two small cities, the one cent representing, in each case, the unexpended portion of PWA grants of several thousand dollars. The honesty of these two city governments is laudable, to be sure but—

If the two pennies had been spent—perhaps the penny pencils—the taxpayers of these United States would have been saved the several dollars spent by the Treasury to record the transaction.

NEWSPAPER SERVICE

Do you know what topic was discussed more than anything else at the meeting of directors of the Panhandle Press Association, at Amarillo Saturday. It was how a newspaper can better serve the community, and we wish every retail business man and civic leader in the Panhandle could have seen the enthusiasm those newspaper men feel for their home towns. Newspaper men as a group contribute more thought and time in public service than any other class of business or professional people, and yet so often the communities take that service for granted and accuse them of being selfish and mercenary.—Albert Cooper in Shamrock Texan.

KNOCKS FROM A DUMB BELL

The contributions to the editor have been few and far between during the last three or four weeks. . . . The school page has been so punk that I suspect that many have quit even reading it. Most of the students and patrons of C. H. S. and C. J. C. don't realize what the staff has to do to put out an issue of the B. R. They just read it and then criticize it. Sometimes they like it and sometimes it is so sorry they wonder why The News even prints such stuff. They don't realize that one person can't write the whole page. The editor cannot write gossip, the society, and the sports. Why don't some of you who enjoy reading the gossip write a little yourself? You will enjoy reading your own work more than ever.

If we are to have a school page we must have the co-operation of the whole school.

Quite a few of the habitual hookey players of C. H. S. are worried about the new system now in effect. The teachers have a better chance to check up on them now since they only have about eighteen students to look after.

The activities seem to be at a stand still except for the basketball games. The Senior class however, is going to celebrate with another dance right away. The Juniors and Sophs haven't done anything all year. What are you waiting on, kids? Why don't you get at it?

There are a few high school boys that don't think the local girls are good enough for them. They have to go to Memphis, Shamrock, Goodnight, and Amarillo for their skirts. We all thought Clarendon had some pretty girls, but the certain boys seem to think their neighboring belles are prettier.

May I close by asking again that some of the readers of this page contribute a little once in a while.

At a meeting the second period Friday, January 28, the College students made plans for various activities during the coming semester. It was decided to give a play in the near future for the purpose of buying suits for the college basketball team.

Students agreed to the plan of ordering the suits immediately so that the team could be using them during the current season. The idea of giving programs at Memphis, the Lions Club, and at the churches sometime during the semester was presented. In connection with presenting these programs, a boys' quartette and a girl's trio will be worked up.

All of the students displayed great enthusiasm for the activities, and pledged their wholehearted support for them.

Plans were also discussed for a wider physical education program. The students agreed to condition the tennis courts, and new equipment will be secured for the use of the students. Every student will be required to take a part in the physical education program.

ASSEMBLY

The Rev. R. E. Austin, pastor of the First Christian Church, conducted the assembly program Friday, January 28. To open the program, Wilfred Hott sang "No Longer Lonely". Rev. Austin then gave a very interesting talk on the subject "Our Silent Years."

As the theme, he used the illustration of Christ, of whom we know nothing during his years from twelve to thirty; these were the years of preparation. So it is with the youth of today; these years are the time when we are advancing in knowledge, personality, and physique, when we are advancing in favor with God and with man. Mr. Austin especially emphasized the importance of the proper preparation for living. He showed by quoting statistics how much greater opportunity the educated person has of getting somewhere in the world. Rev. Austin said that there were four essentials for the period of preparation. First youth must have vision; second, one must have inspiration; third, youth must count the cost of preparation for life-work; and finally, youth must be willing to pay the price of preparation. He strongly urged everyone to think about these essentials, and work for them.

During the assembly, Mr. Burton explained the new method of sponsorship, and read the list of students being sponsored by each teacher.

ALLIS-CHALMERS TRACTOR PICTURE MONDAY, COZY

Brumley & Rundell, dealers of the Allis-Chalmers farm tractor are sponsoring a free picture show Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Cozy Theatre. The show will feature factory scenes and show field tests. It is shown to prove the efficiency of the Allis-Chalmers tractor, Harry Brumley, said.

All farmers and others of this territory are invited to see this show.

THE WANDERINGS OF A WANDERER

Lost, strayed, stolen or otherwise—Mrs. Goodner, all day Monday.

Will Miss Harris ever forget to assign us a Latin lesson?

If Billy Latson and Billy Headrick can't find something to argue about, they make up something.

Why did Rayburn Smith want a certain young lady to think his name was Jimmy Thompson?

Why has H. L. Lane turned to a ladies' man?

NEW SYSTEM OF SPONSORSHIP IS INSTITUTED HERE

A new system of checking-up on students has been instituted in C. H. S. Under this method, each member of the faculty is given a group of approximately eighteen students, whose absences and excuses he checks. This teacher also checks on the grades the student is making and aids the students who are not passing. This system helps both the teacher and student, for since each teacher is responsible for fewer students, each student will receive more attention. It will also be the sponsor's duty to consult the parents of the students in case the student will not, or cannot, improve his work.

Pathfinder's Birthday Cake Has Twenty-Seven Candles

One of the loveliest social events of the year was the annual reception and birthday party held in honor of the twenty-seventh anniversary of the Pathfinder Club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Brumley, Friday afternoon, from three o'clock until five o'clock.

Guests were received by Mrs. H. C. Brumley, hostess, Mrs. Joe Goldston, president, Mrs. B. L. Jenkins, president-elect, and the honor guests, Mrs. Sella Gentry, Mrs. Mollie E. Gray, Mrs. W. B. Sims, and Mrs. C. A. Burton, charter members of the club. The members of the receiving line and program artists were dressed in lovely afternoon dresses and wore shoulder corsages of sweet peas.

Each member of the Pathfinder Club assisted in entertaining and were gowning in lovely afternoon frocks.

Mrs. T. S. Barcus introduced the out-of-town program guests, Mrs. Otis Truelove, soloist, and Mrs. Eloise Gipson, dramatic reader, both of Amarillo. A delightful program was rendered throughout the afternoon. During the first hour Mrs. Truelove sang "Bird Song At Eventide" by Hayden, and as an encore sang "Song For You" by Mrs. Millard Word. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Millard Word. Little Shirley Brumley of Paducah, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Brumley, did a clever costume dance.

Mrs. Gipson read a one-act play "Friends" which was graciously received by the guests. During the second hour Mrs. Truelove sang "Nocturne" by Pearl Burran and "My Grandmother's Scarf" by Mrs. Millard Word. Mrs. Gipson gave a clever impersonation of the one-act play in three parts "The Trimble's Christmas." Shirley Brumley danced a second number and by request Mrs. Truelove sang again "Bird Song At Eventide" and "Song For You."

Mrs. Barcus paid special tribute to Mrs. Millard Word, a Clarendon woman of considerable talent whose compositions "Song For You" and "My Grandmother's Scarf" were sung by Mrs. Truelove.

Guests were invited into the dining room where the clever birthday arrangement was used. The beautifully appointed dining table was laid with a lovely lace cover and centered with a huge three-tier birthday cake iced in white and decorated with pink rosebuds and green leaves embedded in a mound of sweet peas and ferns. Under the archway which topped the cake was a miniature ladder with the names of the charter members, "Jenkins, Gray, Gentry, Sims, Burton" printed on the rungs.

The buffet was arranged with a large ladder and the open scroll with streamers of pink extending to objects which represented projects which the club sponsor, namely, the County Library, Story Telling Hour, Business and Professional Women's Club, Little Theatre, State Club House at Austin, Local Club Room, Two Student Loan Funds, and the English Prize. On either side of the arrangement tall pink tapers burned in two-tier candelabra.

Individual birthday cakes containing birthday tokens and iced with pink and green decorations were served with pink and white brick ice cream to approximately one hundred and fifty guests. Plate favors were green ladders with open scrolls across them and with the date 1911 on bottom rung and 1938 on the top rung.

Out-of-town guests who registered were Mrs. Ralph Randel, Mrs. Curtis Douglas, Panhandle, Mrs. Byron Baldwin, Mrs. Berta Carter, Memphis, Mrs. John Bass, Lubbock, Mrs. Rolla Brumley and little daughter Shirley, Paducah.

Miniature guests books containing a poem, the date and place of the reception and the guests who registered were presented to each of the honor guests.

Southwestern Life Insurance Statement Reflects Progress

W. M. Patman, representative of the Southwestern Life Insurance Company in Clarendon for the past 13 years, has just received the annual financial statement of his Company which reflects another year of progress for this Texas institution founded in 1903.

Wm. PATMAN.
Agent, Southwestern Life Insurance.

Mr. Patman has also been advised that he has qualified for membership in the Southwestern Life Club by volume of insurance written during 1937, and that he and his wife will be guests at the annual convention of the Company in San Antonio, April 7, 8, and 9.

Mr. Patman recently received a letter from Mr. O'Donnell complimenting him on having a very low ratio of lapsed policies for 1937, which is something to be proud of, Mr. O'Donnell said.

Two years ago Mr. Patman was awarded a check for $50.00 for having the lowest ratio of lapsed policies in the Amarillo district, comprised of the area from Chillicothe west to New Mexico.

In commenting on the statement of his Company, Mr. Patman said that C. F. O'Donnell, president, has announced that no increase in Southwestern Life rates is contemplated. "Lots of people think that life insurance rates are about the same among legal reserve companies," continued Mr. Patman. "This belief is probably based on the fact that there is a minimum below which no company can safely go, determined by definite mortality tables and conservative expectations of interest earned on investments. But most companies' premiums are well above this minimum, and today there is a larger difference between the rates of the leading companies than ever before. The companies with the best records on their investments and the lowest overhead expenses are naturally able to make lower rates than their competitors. Every change in Ordinary Life insurance rates made by Southwestern Life during its 35 years' history has been downward. Safety, of course, is of absolute first importance in the buying of life insurance, but the careful buyer today can save money without sacrificing anything in the way of security."

Mr. Patman also reported that due to continued satisfactory earnings on Southwestern Life's investments, the rate of excess interest allowed on proceeds of maturing policies left with the company will be one-half of one per cent during 1938, making a total of four per cent paid, three and one-half per cent being guaranteed.
