

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR COUNTY FAIR CROWDS

Another glorious ray of sun has been added in our neighborhood by the tiny person of the little Ann Buchanan. Born Wednesday evening at seven o'clock, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Buchanan of 304 West 1st street. If ever there was a sweet darling baby as she is, we don't know what it is. Mother is doing fine. "Buck" is running and in circles. The sale of candy was placed up immediately and to Ann isn't a bit excited and she has big clear eyes wondering what the fuss over her is all about. Being a real close neighbor didn't help but make a pop call look at the wonders of God's interpieces. And by the way—if she grows up and sings through life as her charming mother does, then all will be O. K. Alice Ann. Its good to have fine neighbors and both Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan number all of their friends.

ITALY MAY QUIT LEAGUE OF NATIONS

By United Press
ROME, Sept. 27.—Italy's early withdrawal from the League of Nations was forecast today by a spokesman for the Italian government.

"We are remaining politely and calmly at Geneva out of courtesy to other nations, but we do not expect any solution from the pro-Ethiopian forces, responsible for the League's policies," he said.

It was indicated Premier Mussolini would give the League several more days before acting on Italy's membership, so no vital decision was expected at tomorrow's cabinet meeting.

As Laval Sealed Italy's Isolation

Speaking fateful words that all the world was waiting to hear, Premier Pierre Laval (on rostrum in center) of France is pictured as he assured the League of Nations assembly in Geneva that, like Great Britain, his government intended to uphold the league covenant in the event Italy launched its unprovoked war of aggression against Ethiopia.

COUNTY GETS PROJECTS FOR PWA WORK

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—The New Deal today poured millions in cash into all corners of the nation in the most important step in its drive to end the dole by Nov. 1.

Allotments from PWA's greatly curtailed program totaling $200,000,000 and involving 23,340 projects, in every state, were approved by the president, thus earmarking or allotting all of the $4,000,000,000 fund.

PWA offices, swamped with work, began grinding out the list of approved projects. Those in 12 states totaling $46,000,000 were announced yesterday. The remainder will follow in 48 hours.

A total of $1,427,711 was approved from Texas by the president, the WPA announced today.

In addition to federal funds an additional $537,186 has been pledged by sponsors of various projects. The presidential allotment includes:

Nolan County—Blackwell, improve secondary roads for 2.2 miles; federal funds $5,645, sponsors contribution $822.

Eastland County—Cisco, improve Cisco school building; federal fund $11,982, sponsor $3,587. Eastland, improve streets and construct 29 culverts, federal fund $21,134, sponsors $5,922.

Gorman—Reconstruction road from Gorman to Desdemona for 9 miles, federal funds $2,366, sponsor $1,313.

Developments In Ethiopian Crisis On Late Reports

By United Press
Latest developments in the Ethiopian crisis: Geneva—France believes war is certain, premier intimates to League council.

Addis Ababa—Torrential rains marked official end of rainy season, indicating war cannot start in two weeks.

London—Great Britain reported preparing to notify powers she will build vast navy.

Rome—Italy continues military preparations by announcing opening of big internal loan to finance war.

Paris—France interprets British note as promising to co-operate in punishing any aggressor in Europe if war threat arises.

RISING STAR TO GIVE PROGRAM THIS EVENING

Cool Weather Cuts Attendance Thursday, But Officials Predict Big Crowds.

Although attendance was cut last evening by cool weather, officials of the ninth Eastland County Fair predicted record crowds for this evening's and Saturday's entertainments.

Ranger provided the program last evening, featuring the high school band under direction of J. F. Whitefield.

J. E. Mervony, chamber of commerce president, made introductory remarks. The Rhythmettes, girls trio composed of Misses Marjorie Clark, Merle Stewart and Gladys Daniel, sang. A string band under the direction of John Usery was an additional feature.

The Ranger program, officials stated, was outstanding.

Rising Star will furnish the program this evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. Winners in the free fall fair amateur contests held in Rising Star last week will feature tonight's program. H. C. Davis, Eastland Chamber of Commerce secretary, stated.

The old fiddlers contest, always one of the most popular features, will be held tonight.

The community programs are also scheduled tonight and will share the spotlight with the fiddler's contestants and Rising Star program entries.

Saturday, last day of the fair, will be marked by athletic events to be held on the platform back of the Eastland National Bank. Delbert Myers, in charge of boxing and wrestling, promises one of the best fight cards arranged for several years.

"I was given more money this year to secure the fighters," said Myers, "and naturally will be able to promise a faster show."

Myers has been endeavoring to arrange a "Baer-Louis" fight for the athletic show. The boxing show will begin Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

The Eastland band will play Saturday night at 7:30.

Cattlemen are urged to attend a meeting of the Eastland County Jersey Cattle Club at the county courtroom at 3 p. m.

Winners up to noon today in the livestock department of the fair were listed as follows:

W. L. Connell, Ranger, first with young Jersey male; first with 17 months old female Jersey; S. O. Montgomery of Ranger second with 10 months old Jersey calf; Lum Love, Ranger, third with 10 months old Jersey calf.

In the Jersey bull section: W. L. Connell, first with 16 months old entry; R. H. Hodges second with 11 months old entry, and Rev. C. W. Estes, third with 12 months old entry.

In the grand champion division, Rev. Estes' Jap took first; Lum Love's entry took second and another entry of Rev. Estes third.

The livestock show and county rabbit show is being held in the Coca Cola building.

MINE STRIKE IS SETTLED BY WAGE HIKE

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Soft coal miners won a $80,000,000 victory in the wage agreement that today ended the walkout of 400,000 miners in the soft coal fields.

The council members were inclined to consider favorably a suggestion of Emperor Haile Selassie that a League mission be sent to Africa to determine responsibility for any armed clashes.

Laval said he doubts the usefulness of sending League observers who would reach the scene too late.

Others suggested the advisability of getting Italy's consent before sending observers, because otherwise Italian resentment might make future conciliation efforts more difficult. A subcommittee representing Britain, France and Spain was appointed and it seemed the emperor's suggestion would be buried in the committee as desirable but futile.

The miners, except for a few thousand in the south, will go back to work Tuesday under a contract that gives them a seven hour day and wage increases until April 1, 1937.

The strike was settled as it entered a serious phase with evictions of miners threatening disorder throughout the mining areas.

The closing scenes of one of the strangest strikes in history were marked with friendship between operators and miners among these traditional enemies.

U. S. Marine Corp Has Vacancies

First Lieut. E. A. Robbins, officer in charge of U. S. Marine Corps recruiting activities in New Orleans, announces a few vacancies in the corps during the month of October. Applicants must be single, from 18 to 25 years of age, 56 to 74 inches in height, of good moral character and in excellent physical condition. Young men with high-school and college training will be given special consideration.

The Marine Corps offers land, air, sea and foreign service. All enlistments are for general service, but on completion of initial training many are selected for special instruction in aviation, radio, clerical, music, mechanical, and other schools.

Applicants may take preliminary physical examinations in their home localities and those selected receive their final examinations at U. S. Marine Corps headquarters, 535 St. Charles street, New Orleans, La. Application blanks and full information will be sent on request.

Cleburne Man Is Held For Forgery

By United Press
FORT WORTH, Sept. 2.—Police today held a 25-year-old Cleburne cabinet maker on a forging and passing complaint.

He was arrested by detectives after he passed a check at a downtown store with the name "Q. D. Lewis" on it. The storekeeper called police.

Detectives are investigating similar forgeries that may be charged against the man who was formerly employed by a Cleburne contractor, Q. D. Lewis.

Conference For Young People To Be Held In Eastland

"For six months the Ranger Presbyterian church has held the banner for the largest attendance of any church in the district. It is hoped that we may retain it by taking a large delegation to Eastland next Sunday afternoon. This is the nearest church of our denomination to Eastland, and it should be easy for our people and friends to attend," Dr. L. B. Gray said today.

This conference promises to be the best ever, according to Rev. Charles W. Estes, the pastor of the Eastland Presbyterian church.

The presence of the state secretary of young people's work, Miss Mary Archibald, of Dallas, assures unusual interest to the program. She will be the principal speaker in the afternoon and evening, though visiting groups will have a part. Miss Archibald is a very pleasing speaker, and has an attractive personality.

The singing juniors of Ranger, under the leadership of Mrs. Homer D. Smith, will present several musical numbers in the afternoon. The Eastland orchestra will furnish music during the supper hour. The conference is to be held Sunday, Sept. 29, from 3 to 9 o'clock in the evening.

PROCEEDINGS 11TH COURT OF CIVIL APPEALS

The following proceedings were had in the Court of Civil Appeals, Eleventh Supreme Judicial District, as handed down Friday, Sept. 27:

Reversed and Remanded—Grand Lodge Free and Accepted Masons of Texas, a corporation, vs. Lizzie Walker, Grayson; N. L. Gilbert, guardian, vs. Moses Mooring et al., Dallas.

Motions Submitted—Jack Harris vs. Thornton's Department Store, appellee's motion to dismiss appeal; B. L. Northcutt vs. Magnolia Petroleum Company, appellee's motion for permission to file supplemental transcript.

Motions Granted—B. L. Northcutt vs. Magnolia Petroleum Company, appellee's motion for permission to file supplemental transcript.

Motions Overruled—Jack Harris vs. Thornton's Department Store, appellee's motion to dismiss appeal.

Cases Submitted—Brooks S. Hammett et al. vs. Day Case, Erath; R. S. McCharen, county judge, vs. D. C. Bailey et al., Comanche; First National Bank of Munday, Texas, vs. C. R. Elliott et al., Knox.

Cases to be Submitted Oct. 4, 1935—C. G. Foust vs. M. J. Jones et al.; Velma Breeding et al. vs. Farm & Home Savings & Loan Association of Missouri, Taylor.

Seek to Transfer Virge Foster Case From Abilene Court

ABILENE, Texas, Sept. 27.—Judge M. S. Long last night had under advisement a plea of privilege presented in 42nd District Court here yesterday in behalf of Virge Foster of Eastland county, who is defendant in a $5,000 damage suit. Foster's attorneys, Turner, Seaberry & Springer of Eastland, are seeking to have the case moved to Eastland county for trial.

Plaintiffs are Mrs. Ethel Bachus, widow of Stephen W. Bachus, and her six children, and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Bachus, parents of Stephen Bachus. They are suing in connection with the death of Bachus, who was fatally shot in Eastland county, last Dec. 6.

The petition recites that Bachus was shot when he started to run as the officer attempted to arrest him.

The American Surety Company of New York, Foster's bonding company, is also named as defendant in the suit.

Arguments for the plea of privilege were made by Virge Seaberry and Carl Springer. The plaintiffs are represented by L. B. Lewis and Felix Mitchell of Abilene and Dallas Scarborough of Abilene.

Students Receive Government Aid

By United Press
AUSTIN, Sept. 27.—Students in 76 Texas colleges will receive an average of $15 a month under approved applications reported today by the National Youth Administration. Only seven Texas colleges have failed to make application for funds, among them Baylor.

Included are Randolph Junior College, Cisco, 10 students, $150; Ranger Junior College, 15 students, $225.

Criticism of the Rail Commission Voiced In House

By United Press
AUSTIN, Sept. 27.—Criticism of the Texas Railroad Commission law enforcement was made by Rep. Lon Alsop, Carthage, in the House of Representatives today.

"There is not a single member of the commission that is competent to carry on the people's business as far as oil is concerned," he said.

"Do you think there has been malfeasance in office?" asked Rep. Vernon Lemens, Rainbow.

"If the committee made the kind of report they ought to make you could impeach them," shouted Alsop.

Brotherhood of Baptists Holds Banquet Thursday

The Baptist Brotherhood banquet, held at the First Baptist Church of Ranger Thursday night, drew a large crowd and an interesting program was presented. These Brotherhood banquets which are held throughout the district, are becoming more and more popular and are developing the laymen of the denomination in religious work.

W. T. Walton, superintendent of the Ranger schools, was the principal speaker with B. P. Leche and A. W. Wood also on the program. All are from the Ranger school faculty.

W. D. R. Owen of Eastland, chairman of the organization, presided at the meeting.

Alleged Kidnap Money Changer Held In Detroit

By United Press
DETROIT, Sept. 27.—Cassius McDonald, alleged money changer, in the kidnaping of Edward Bremer, was under arrest here today charged with possession of $72,000 of the ransom money paid for the banker's release.

Department of justice agents disclosed McDonald was arrested yesterday and given a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Frank Quinn on removal proceedings to Minnesota. He was held on $100,000 bail for further hearing on Oct. 8.

Frost Predicted For the Panhandle

By United Press
A killing frost was predicted for the Panhandle Friday as Texans shivered from the effects of a northern, which covered most of the state.

A low of 42 was registered Thursday night at Amarillo and the mercury was expected to drop lower Friday night. If the skies clear there will be a killing frost.

At Dallas the lowest was 54 and at Abilene 52. Other points reported similar low temperatures.

Rainfall continued along the coast Friday and cloudy and unsettled weather prevailed over most of the state.

Port Arthur, Galveston and Houston all reported rains of more than an inch.

Library Adds New Books For Patrons

The Eastland Public Library, maintained in the Community Clubhouse by the Thursday Afternoon Club, has added the following books for its patrons:

The Puritan Strain (Baldwin); Fair As the Moon (Failey); North to the Orient (Lindbergh); Catholics, Jews and Protestants (Silcox & Risher); Three Men and Diana (Norris); Fridays Child (Hauk); The Case Against Mrs. Ames (Roche); Trails West (Bower); The Sheriff Rides (Austin); Trigger Slim (Yore); Dead Mrs. Stratton (Berkley); Gun Magic (Johnson); Blue Marigolds (Miller); Let Us Be Faithful (Corliss).

Resident of Strawn Buried On Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Maud Bennett Stewart, 56, who died at the family residence in Strawn on Thursday afternoon at 3 a. m., were conducted from the First Baptist church of Strawn Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. W. H. Rucker, pastor of the Strawn Baptist church, conducted the services, assisted by Dr. L. B. Gray, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Strawn. Interment was in the Mt. Marion cemetery at Strawn following the funeral services.

The decedent was a member of the First Baptist church of Strawn. She is survived by one brother, Walter Floyd of Abilene; three sons, Floyd Bennett, Walter Bennett and Jack Bennett, all of Los Angeles and two daughters, Mrs. James E. Guest and Mrs. Hattie Davis, both of Strawn.

Pall bearers were John Brothers, John McCorkle, Joe Witherspoon, Guy Craddock, Dale Bradford and George Tucker.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Strawn Merchandise company.

Brazos River Fund Is Approved Today

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—President Roosevelt was reported today to have approved allocation of $30,500,000 from the work relief fund for the Brazos River flood control and water conservation project in Texas.

The office of Harry Hopkins said President Roosevelt signed the bill which was included in several measures he considered preparatory to leaving last night for the West.

Sen. Morris Sheppard of Texas, also said he had received the same information.

The measure now goes to Comptroller General McCarl for final government approval. The WPA said it usually took about one week for projects to be approved by McCarl and another week for the treasury department to issue the necessary warrants.

Sheriff Takes Man In Alleged Cattle Case In Jones Co.

County officers stated today Elmer Wright of Eastland was taken to Anson by Jones county Sheriff J. L. Gordon in connection with an alleged cattle theft.

"—And Sudden Death" For Rising Star Man In Wreck

RISING STAR, Sept. 27.—Ben Tune, 41, truck driver for the E. F. Bucy & Son Construction Company, was killed almost instantly Sunday night when a truck which he was driving from Coleman to Cisco hit a parked car beyond the Methodist Church on West College street.

Upon striking the car the truck careened and turned completely over again on the north side of the highway.

An ambulance was on the scene in a few minutes after the accident and carried the injured man to the office of a local physician, where he passed away some 20 minutes after the accident. Physicians stated that his chest was crushed and that there were other internal injuries.

THE WEATHER

Eastland—Mostly cloudy today. Saturday. Showers in afternoon. Cooler in southeast. Probably frost in Panhandle. Rising temperatures north of here Saturday.

Each Lawyer His Own Supreme Court

It was probably inevitable that any nation which spawns lawyers at the rate our own fair land does eventually would get into a fearsome hair-splitting fight over the Constitution.

This does not refer to the current argument about whether the Constitution should be amended. That is something else again, a question of vast importance deserving all the study and argument it can get.

What we are talking about is the unending squabble over what the document actually means as it stands.

Acting apparently on the theory that, since this is a free country, every man is entitled to his own opinion, the citizens have been rushing to and fro of late at a merry clip, explaining why this, that, or the other new law is or is not constitutional.

The prize exhibit in all this is the unofficial supreme court recently set up under auspices of the American Liberty League. No fewer than 58 eminent lawyers, skilled in the dark intricacies of corporation law, got together solemnly and threw the Wagner labor relations act out of the window.

The mere fact that this court consisted almost exclusively of men who represent the country's chief combinations of finance and industry can be passed over. After all, the Liberty League had to take what it could get. If it somehow fails to include labor organizations or groups of every-day citizens on its roster, that can't be helped.

What is noteworthy, though, is the philosophy expounded by the lawyer who put the Wagner act decision together, E. F. Reed of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Reed, who won the Weirton Steel Company's case against organized labor under the NRA, had this to say:

"When a lawyer tells a client that a law is unconstitutional, it is then a nullity and he need not obey the law."

If this proposition could only be followed generally, it would certainly relieve our courts of a great deal of work. If you are vexed by any of the multitudinous enactments of national Congress, state legislature, or city council, don't go to court and fight them; just get your lawyer to tell you that they are unconstitutional, and then go blithely ahead and ignore them.

The present argument over whether the founding fathers intended to give the supreme court the right to annul unconstitutional laws is needless. What they had in mind, according to Mr. Reed's philosophy, was evidently that this right would be held by each of the innumerable lawyers in the land.

There is a supreme court wherever the "attorney at law" sign hangs out. All you need to do is pick the right lawyer.

Sing Sing gridders ready for opening game. Probably can't wait to get their hands on the opposing guards.

The leaves of Turkish tobacco are strung out by one like beads (see how it is done in the picture). After the leaves are strung they are packed in bales (see picture)—sometimes as many as 80,000 leaves to the bale.

We have on hand at all times for CHESTERFIELD cigarettes upwards of 350,000 bales of Turkish tobacco...

The pleasing aroma and flavor of Turkish tobacco is almost necessary if you want a good cigarette.

Turkish tobacco is more costly when you take into account that you have to pay 35c a pound duty, but we have to have it to blend with our mild ripe home-grown tobaccos.

It helps make Chesterfields milder, it helps give them better taste. Just try them.

Rogers, Cobb Match Wits in River Romance

RIVALS ON RIVER STEAMBOATS BRING MERRIMENT OFTEN

"Steamboat Round the Bend" Gives Noted Actor Chance To Re- enact Early Life.

It took the lure of the Mississippi River—and a chance to match wits and wiles with his old friend Will Rogers—to Max Irvin S. Cobb, noted American humorist and author, into his first feature-length film.

Cobb, who recently made a statement that he would withdraw from the screen, to what a featured role in Will Rogers' new picture, "Steamboat Round the Bend," which comes Tuesday at the Connellee Theatre.

Outside of the fact that the film offers Cobb an opportunity to play with his life-long friend, Will Rogers, it also affords him a chance to re-enact scenes of his childhood days.

Cobb's family for more than one hundred years owned and operated steam wheelers up and down the Mississippi and Ohio rivers. When he was told that the picture was all about steamboating he just couldn't resist the temptation.

Cobb explains that he was the first of his family in three generations to forsake the river for another line of endeavor. It was his father's intention to take him in with a boat of his own, but he was bitten by the newspaper bug and gave up the river for the city.

In "Steamboat Round the Bend" Cobb and Rogers battle it out in the funniest, fastest and most exciting steamboat race ever filmed. Rogers as the captain and owner of "The Clarence Queen" enters the race to save a man's life. The exciting race, with its humorous angles, combined with the typical romance that is closely interwoven throughout the story and makes for grand entertainment.

In support of Rogers and Cobb, the cast boasts such stellar performers as Anne Shirley, Eugene Palette, John McGuire, Robert Churchill and Stepin Fetchit.

JOE E. BROWN IN "BRIGHT LIGHTS" AT CONNELLEE

Joe E. Brown, the funniest-mouthed comedian, comes to the Connellee Theatre Sunday in what is heralded as his most uproarious comedy romance.

In addition to Joe's laugh-making stunts, there are four lively songs for the picture is one of back stage life and the singing comes in naturally.

Joe E. himself, sings and dances and does acrobatic stunts with the famous Mazettes.

Scenes of pretty choruses and dancing girls appear in the theatrical sequences but "Bright Lights" is neither a musical or a farce, but a stirring romantic comedy.

The story is by Lee Leeson and concerns Joe E.'s quick jump from a barroom comedy troupe to a big Broadway actor, playing with a leading actress, Patricia Ellis, out for adventure. His wife and partner in the barroom show, Ann Dvorak, is out of it and goes back to small time.

IN NEW "G-MEN" HIT

Warner Bros. have a follow-up hit to "G-Men" in the Cosmopolitan picture "Special Agent," based on the tense dramatic lives of Uncle Sam's Treasury Department undercover operatives. Bette Davis and George Brent are shown above in a thrilling scene depicting one phase of the government's battle with the moneyed men behind the mobs. "Special Agent" is now showing at the Connellee Theatre.

ONE MAN AMATEUR SHOW

For the first time in his career Joe E. Brown sings and dances, in the First National comedy with music, which will come to the Connellee Theatre Sunday.

Star of "Steamboat Round the Bend"

O'Neill, Arthur Toucher, Gordon Woodruff, Joseph Cavithorn and William Demarest.

GEORGE BRENT AND BETTE DAVIS COME TO CONNELLEE TODAY

Bette Davis and George Brent, again paired as screen lovers in the new Cosmopolitan production, "Special Agent," a Warner Bros. picture, will open at the Connellee Theatre today.

The picture is said to reveal the inner workings of the U. S. Treasury Department, showing an entirely new angle of the Government's activities in wiping out the nation's public enemies.

The story is concerned with tense dramatic situations in which secret service operatives face death in order to run down criminals and get evidence to convict them. Thrilling adventure and daring exploits follow every step of the secret operatives in their battle with the "killers."

Brent, in the role of a newspaper reporter on a New York daily, also allied with the Government as an undercover man, is trying to get evidence against the crooks and at the same time prevent the murder of Miss Davis, his sweetheart, who unwittingly has taken a job as the personal secretary to the head of the band.

The picture, but ruthless killer is played by Ricardo Cortez.

Others in the cast include Jack LeRue, Henry O'Neill, Robert Strang, Joseph Cavithorn, J. Carroll Nash and Robert Burman.

The picture was directed by William Kaighley from the screen play by Laird Doyle and Alton Finkel, based on the story idea by Martin Mooney.

Dudley Nichols and Lamar Treadwell who wrote the screen play of Will Rogers' "Judge Priest" have collaborated again on another picture of the Southernland's romance for Fox Film's latest star. It is "Steamboat Round the Bend," at the Connellee Theatre Tuesday.

The cast includes William Garvin, Joseph Cavithorn, Henry O'Neill, Arthur Toucher, Gordon Woodruff, Joseph Cavithorn and William Demarest.

Mickey Celebrates Seventh Birthday

A nation-wide celebration is being held in all theatres throughout the country this week for Mickey Mouse, who on Sept. 24, 7 years ago, made his debut on the talking screen. In these past seven years through the genius of his creator, Walt Disney, and the many technical improvements made in the photography and sound recording of animated cartoons, Mickey Mouse has become one of the favorite screen stars, especially among the younger theatre patrons.

In celebration of this event every theatre in the United States is presenting on its program this week a Mickey Mouse cartoon. In keeping with this event, the Connellee will show, Friday and Saturday, "Pluto's Judgment Day," one of the latest Mickey Mouse cartoons.

Mr. Disney is to be congratulated for bringing to the talking screen this most popular animated cartoon, as while these cartoons always furnish many laughs for the kiddies they also teach a moral lesson more effectively than would be possible by any other medium.

John McGuire who plays the leading romantic role opposite Anne Shirley in Will Rogers' "Steamboat Round the Bend," at the Connellee Theatre Tuesday, is a recent graduate of Santa Clara University. He made his first featured film appearance in "Bachelor of Arts."

Irvin S. Cobb, noted author appearing with Will Rogers in the Fox Film, "Steamboat Round the Bend," at the Connellee Theatre Tuesday, can't understand this talk of players losing weight while working. Cobb has put on 22 pounds from the day he started on the picture. He claims it's because of the laughs he gets.

BROWN PRIZES UNIFORM OF JEROME DIZZY DEAN

One of the most prized objects in the large collection of sporting trophies and mementos owned by Joe E. Brown, First National star, is the baseball uniform worn by Dizzy Dean last year when the St. Louis Cardinals won the World Series pennant.

Joe E. Brown is appearing in "Bright Lights" at the Connellee Theatre Sunday.

The romance and color of life on the Mississippi in the 1840's are brought to the screen in Will Rogers' new Fox picture, "Steamboat Round the Bend," at the Connellee Theatre Tuesday. The humorist plays a steamboat captain and the film's laughs are derived from his rivalry with Irvin S. Cobb, noted American author, who makes his feature film debut.

Anne Shirley, who plays the leading feminine role in Will Rogers' "Steamboat Round the Bend," at the Connellee Theatre Tuesday, has tried both the stage and screen in her 13 years as a child performer. Miss Shirley says she likes the screen better. She finds no fun in keep repeating character role in Will Rogers' "Steamboat Round the Bend," was a popular leading man days of silent films. Age of girl attracted him for roles, however, and he character portrayals. He no regrets; he makes now.

Eugene Palette, who

Chevrolet Trucks In Thrilling Tests Atop Pikes Peak

The first formally observed and timed tests of motor trucks over the perilous hairpin turns and steep switchbacks of the Pikes Peak auto highway, near Colorado Springs, Chevrolet 1½-ton and half-ton trucks demonstrated their endurance and efficiency over the course of the annual Labor Day hill climb contest, a distance of 12 miles, 8 feet, with a rise of 4559 feet from the start to the summit, 14,109 feet above sea level. The upper illustrations show the 1½-ton truck, driven by W. P. Bentrup, on its way to a record of 37 minutes, 52½ seconds, with its full 6000-pound load (it made the run afterward, without load, in 25 minutes, 12 seconds), and the officials at the finish (to right): Harry Hartz, technical advisor; Robert M. Ross, Detroit Times; Dan Kennedy, Colorado Springs Press and Telegraph; and John L. Jenkins, Chicago Daily News. The lower photos show the Chevrolet half-ton truck, which Harry Hartz drove to the summit in 25 minutes, 3 seconds, and the finish of the run of the 1½-ton truck with full load.

The BLUE DOOR

BEGIN HERE TODAY
RUTH WOODSON, pretty, high-spirited girl of 18, in search of a new refuge from a storm of old-time house with a blue door, the town of Worthville. The new-old caretaker, ALICE CHALMERS, also known as "Auntie," a stout, elderly woman with a kind face, who had been in the house for 20 years, the young man next door, a newcomer to stay on a while, Elaine Chalmers, at Grayson House, a new house in the town of Worthville, the love of her child, the little town of Worthville. She was a letter from her and Elaine Chalmers, the girl in the old house is a fake. He loves Ruth and decides to tell her so. He said she was a fake and leaves her. Ruth thought, in panic, "Why did this have to happen to me?" She looked at Elaine Chalmers, pleadingly. She thought, "If only she'll let me go and not badger me!" It was too much to ask, of course. Fate never had let her off easily. Elaine said, "You've been using my name, I hear. Like it?" Ruth forced a smile. "It's a pretty name and it's helped me out a lot. Thank you for the use of it." "You're not welcome," Elaine replied coldly. She laid the roll down on the hall table and daintily wiped her fingers on a brown and white sport handkerchief. Elaine said, "It seems foolish of you to leave when our friend John McNeill is in Washington." She watched Ruth's face closely, hoping to discover how deep the other girl's interest lay. At breakfast Penny had said, in response to a question from Elaine, "Mr. John and his mother went to Washington, sudden-like Monday evening. I don't know what for." Perhaps this girl knew more. Ruth answered calmly, "His going to Washington has nothing to do with my going away. I had decided to go today, whatever happened." Elaine felt an unwilling flare of admiration for this unknown person whom she was heckling. She thought, "She's better-looking than I expected. She knows how to handle herself. I've got her in a corner, but she hasn't knuckled under. Maybe John's really fallen for her." Ruth murmured, "I'd like to go now, please." Elaine retorted, eyebrows raised. "In my suit?" Ruth's cheeks flamed. She had forgotten that she was wearing this girl's clothes from head to foot. She wished that the earth might open and swallow her. Since that could not happen, she desired nothing so much as to burst into tears and cry her heart out. Yet, even as the tears stung her eyelids, she fought them back. She would not bow down in defeat before this golden, stinging creature who was tormenting her. Ruth said, "They were your clothes once. All of them. But you gave them to St. Stephen's Guild. I'm indebted to the church. I believe. One doesn't mind that so much." Elaine remarked, "You're terribly clever, aren't you? Or should we be frank and say you're terribly tricky? Have you always lived by cheating and lying?" Ruth answered, "You can say those things to me, of course. There's nobody to stop you." "Perhaps John McNeill would if he were here?" "No," replied Ruth with a shake of her head. "I think he'd agree with you." "So he's found you out!" Elaine remarked thoughtfully. It was something she'd been wanting to know. "And he's the sort of man to be disgusted by a crooked play." "Yes," admitted Ruth. "Disgusted. Not that it matters now." "No?" Elaine retorted. "You mean you've lost interest?" "I'll never lose interest in him," Ruth said clearly. "I'll never forget him. And I don't think he'll ever forget me." ELAINE'S face flushed. "Do you think a man remembers all his episodes with girls and women? With your sort of girls, I mean?" Ruth looked at her, wide-eyed. "So you believe I've had an affair with him? I suppose when a girl's as rich and fashionable as you are it's smart to be evil-minded." Elaine said, ignoring the thrust, "How did you come to this town and how do you expect to leave—providing I decide to let you leave without turning you over to the police?" "I came by bus," Ruth told her. "I'll leave by hitch-hiking." "One more question: who are you?" Ruth said, "My name doesn't matter. I'm just a girl without a job and without a dollar to my name. My mother was a lady and my father was a brave man—an officer who died in France at the battle of the Argonne." Elaine's eyes flashed. "Careful there! You've borrowed my name. Don't try to borrow my parents' too!" Ruth answered, with lips trembling with rage. "What I said is true. You—was!" "You tramp," Elaine retorted. "Now get out!" "Not until I've left these clothes behind," Ruth said coldly and steadily. "I don't want anything that has ever been yours to touch my body." She turned and went upstairs, carrying the box with her. Ten minutes later she came down again, dressed in a wrinkled blue suit and matching hat, both of which seemed shrunken from a hard rain. Besides her purse and the two books, she carried a parcel wrapped in paper—the meager extra she had brought with her to this house. Elaine had her back turned powdering her nose at the long mirror. She suddenly felt panic-stricken and regretful. She reached for her purse which was lying on the table, opened it quickly and extended a $20 bill. "You'd better take this," she said briskly. Ruth brushed it away as if it had been an annoying insect. Without looking at Elaine Chalmers she went out of the blue door and down the steps, her eyes still clear of the tears that longed to cloud them utterly. She was not striving for an effective exit. She only wanted to get away before she broke. (To Be Continued)

Visit to Camp Billy Gibbons
The Scouts of Troop No. 16, Brownwood, have evidently not had all of the summer camping that they want, since they have reported that they will leave with their scoutmaster, C. L. Pouncey, immediately after school Friday for Camp Billy Gibbons to return to Brownwood Saturday night. We Towns to be represented are: Blanket, Bangs, Rising Star, Zephyr, and Brownwood. The north section will hold their Scout rally Saturday night, Oct. 5, in Breckenridge. Scouts from Parks, Ranger, Colony, Eastland, Olden, Cisco, Carbon, Gorman and Breckenridge will take part in this meet.

Troop No. 6 Holds Novel Hike
Scoutmaster Bill Jessop reports that his troop conducted a "fox and hound hike." The "fox" was given distance ahead of the other members of the troop, or hounds. He left trail signs for the "hounds" to follow. The chase finally ended when the "fox" was chased to his lair. To the surprise of the "hounds" the "fox" had a fire burning and plenty of weiners in waiting. We suggest that other troops write us concerning any unusual or novel experience that would be of general interest to the Scouts of the Council.

Modern version: Save your dollars and your pennies will take care of the sales tax.

With the decision of the General assembly of the nations to hold to the rules there is tension again in the air as to Italy's future procedure. Mussolini hasn't demonstrated that he is the backing down kind and what he had in mind he seems to intend to have from the Ethiopian territory. As has been stated throughout the nation, there is no use for the United States to needlessly get involved in the thing. However if it starts we cannot see how on earth we can keep out of it, as somebody will knock the chip off our shoulders in spite of everything that can be done—and the Americans don't like for anybody to knock chips off their shoulders. Italy keeps shooting troops and ammunition down in the African country, and if she starts something France and England will keep her rather busy on their home borders—and maybe Germany might mess in the thing too. Don't look so good either way it is taken.

Letters From Our Readers

Austin, Tex., Sept. 23, 1935.

Eastland Telegram, Eastland, Texas.

Gentlemen:

Because of the great number of requests that I have had and the expense to the state in stenographic work in the house, I would appreciate if you would convey this message to those people who have written concerning the status and form of the old age pension.

Since we have been in session some four old age pension bills have been introduced by members of the house who have been particularly interested in this subject from its inception. We each worked independently of the other in preparing various bills and found upon coming in to the committee with them that there was quite a divergence in point of view as to how this subject should be properly handled. Each of us felt that we had the best bill and were preparing to fight for the principal in this respect which we originally had in mind. The state affairs committee anticipated the deadlock on this legislation, so they appointed three members of that committee, who, along with the four authors of the different bills to act as a subcommittee to rewrite a bill which will be submitted back to the state affairs committee for its final disposition.

We have worked night and day on this matter and thought there has been a great difference of opinion on some of the major features of this all important legislation, I am happy to report that we have completed a rough draft of the bill which though some of the features did not appeal to me personally, I feel it is workable and practical piece of legislation. Some of the major features of this bill are property disqualification for those persons owning property over or above $4,000. This feature is to me objectionable for the reason that it penalizes those persons who have accumulated comfortable homes who in spite of the fact have no income.

Also persons having over and above $300 per year income will be disqualified. This feature I objected to, but because I feel that the limits should have been slightly higher; other features with respect to disqualification are convictions of crime, wife desertion, other pension inmates of institutions, etc.

I was particularly interested in cutting the cost of administration and felt that my plan to do so, mainly to permit the county commissioners' court to receive application with the state supervisor in each district to approve applications submitted to the county commissioners' and finally submitted for final approval to the state board which is composed of three members who receive $10 a day while they are in session, who shall not sit more than 15 days in one month or 120 days in one year, except the first year, was the more economical way of handling it efficiently.

The board shall invest in a state administrator complete power of administration whose main duty is to keep in motion the administration of this pension law.

To assure speedy action from the state affairs committee in getting this legislation on the floor of the house, we did not burden the bill with a great number of taxes, but will send the bill to the committee as a tax bill carrying only very small taxes on domino halls as a rider so that it will be possible to amend the bill on the floor of the house with additional revenue raising riders so as to assure sufficient sum to carry out its purposes.

The major feature of the bill is to my mind this fact that warrants will be drawn on the general fund rather than a special fund to be created. In this way, applicants will be assured their money instead of in the event there was a special fund and it was depleted, they would not have to pay one-third or more of their pension money to loan sharks to cash their warrants as has been in many other pension cases.

Though the bill does not measure up in all respects to what I had originally in mind, I will say that it will be a good bill, a safe bill and the administrative machinery will be able to work accurately, justly and efficiently.

I want to thank you for your kindness in the past and assure you that I have extended me on numerous occasions when I have imposed upon your good nature.

With best wishes, I am, Sincerely your friend, GEO. A. DAVISSON Jr.

Man Makes Trip In Good Old Fashion

KEERVILLE, Texas. — Going back to the good old days, at least as far as the mode of travel is concerned, Roland McCombs, home fancier, recently rode in an 1864 phaeton from Keerville to San Antonio, a distance of 70 miles. The phaeton was pulled by a spirited trotter, and it took 14 hours to make the journey. The route was paved the entire distance. McCombs averaged about 12 miles per hour for the first 20 miles.

THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

WITH RODNEY DUTCHES

Willis Thornton, NEA Service staff correspondent, is pinch hitting for Rodney Dutcher, NEA and (Name Papers) Washington correspondent, while Dutcher is on his vacation.

BY WILLIS THORNTON

NEA Service Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON — It's rather a pitiful little scene right now the organization from which the great oak of the social security program is expected to grow.

About 25 borrowed employees in borrowed quarters—that is all that can be seen today of an organization that is expected eventually to employ 10,000 people in administering benefits that will touch more than 15,000,000 Americans.

Because the bill which was to have provided funds was filibustered to death as Congress closed its last session, nobody can be regularly hired by the Social Security Board. A dozen or so employees have been borrowed from NRA and another dozen from Edwin White's committee on social security which helped frame the plan. Unless the board's appeal to the director of the budget for funds under the emergency relief act equal to a month's administrative expense, is granted, it's doubtful if even the salaries of Commissioners Winant, Altmeyer, and Miles can be paid until Congress meets next winter and appropriates some money.

Of course, they're going ahead anyway.

The mail already is flooding in, stacks of it. Most of it boils down to two questions: "How about a job?" and "When do I get my pension?"

The borrowed staff is pretty large enough yet even to return the simple answer that must go to all such inquiries to the first class. "We haven't anything to use for money yet," add to the second. "Nothing doing for at least two years."

The mailman dumps a big stack of mail on a bare table. It goes into the file that is beginning to spring up, forerunner of a system that aims in 1937 to begin to be a complete personal account of every employee in the United States—no less—establishing his age and keeping his wage and contribution record for old-age insurance benefits after 1942.

The Social Security Board which has only just held its first meeting is being given almost a whole floor of the new Labor Department building formerly occupied by the old National Labor Board.

It will probably have around 500 employees the first year and will build up from that to the 10,000 it eventually will take to administer the gigantic program.

THE money the government spends on payroll here circulates all over the country to a surprising extent. Go down to the local postoffice on a government pay day and look at the money-order line. It's three times as long as it used to be a few years ago.

Government employees are sending money back home to relatives who need it worse than they do, or to the families they have been ordered to bring to Washington because of the high cost of living here, or because their jobs look too temporary.

The afternoon grandstand program on the last three days, Oct. 3, 4 and 5, will be horse racing. The purses will be $50 and $60 in the different races and a large field of good horses, many of them winners in the past at Amarillo last week, will be running in the various events.

A variety of entertainment talents from numerous cities and towns in West Texas is already entered in the amateur tournament which will be held each evening of the fair. In the preliminaries to be held the first four nights, cash prizes of $7.50, $5.00 and $2.50 will be awarded to the winners of the first three places.

In addition, winners in the preliminaries will go into the finals of Saturday evening and compete for the awards of $20.00, $12.50 and $7.50. Those in this program will also be presented in two radio programs during October.

Department heads of the various exhibit divisions report that they will have outstanding displays.

IMPORTANT—Be sure to look for the authorized certification tag on the lamp you buy. It isn't an L.E.S. Better Sight Lamp if it doesn't have this tag.

Modern civilization has made exacting demands of human eyes. Visual tasks have increased many fold and weakened eyes, headaches and sometimes impaired health are the penalties for using our eyes under a poor light.

But Science has shown that it isn't necessary to take chances with our eyesight. All we need is better lighting to give our eyes a chance to see without unnecessary strain. This is especially true of children who study or read, for young eyes can be injured permanently by reading in a dim light.

A new type of lamp has been developed, scientifically designed to provide the right amount of glareless light for reading or studying. See these Better Sight lamps in our store, in floor lamp, table lamp or lounge lamp styles.

Muirhead Motor Co. Announces Four New Models of Buicks This Morning

The Muirhead Motor company today announced four new lines of automobiles, in a price range of $1025 to $2450, delivered, the result of two years of preparation involving complete redesign of the product and sweeping changes in manufacturing facilities, by the Buick Motor company.

Styled and engineered to meet every requirement of the modern motorist, the new Buicks have exceptional speed, maneuverability and economy; unusually attractive style treatment, and rugged construction that provides characteristic dependability in a group of cars that will be noted for their flashing performance.

Buick for 1936 offers a standard production car in the $1,000 field having the qualifications of a specially built racing automobile. At the same time, the company offers three other lines ranging from the low medium through the medium price brackets.

Two straight eight valve-in-head engines of Buick design, developing 93 and 120 horsepower, are the power plants for the four lines of cars. Among other features are new streamlined styling with a speed motif throughout, solid steel "Turrent Top" Fisher bodies, slanting Vee-type windshields, anodized alloy pistons of light weight and the hardness of cast iron, sealed chassis, improved independent front wheel suspension and hydraulic brakes.

Prices are lower for all models. The four series of cars, ranging upward in wheelbase, weight and price class, are the Buick Special, the Buick Century, the Roadmaster and the Limited. Numerical designations of the four groups are the Series 40, Series 60, Series 80 and Series 90 respectively.

The Buick Series 40 special is a 118-inch wheelbase car powered by a 93-horsepower straight eight engine of valve-in-head design. Somewhat heavier than last year's lowest priced Buick, it duplicates the exceptional performance of that car. Top speed is 85 miles an hour.

The Buick Century is powered by a 120-horsepower, valve-in-head straight eight engine mounted on a 122-inch wheelbase chassis. Average top speed of the Century under proving ground tests is 95 miles an hour.

The Roadmaster Series includes two six-passenger body types mounted on a 131-inch chassis. Likewise powered by a 120-horsepower engine it has a top speed of 90 miles an hour with equivalent performance throughout the driving ranges.

Buick Limited models are built on a 138-inch wheelbase chassis, and are designed to accommodate six and eight passengers. Top speed of the Limited series is 87 miles an hour.

A total of 14 body types are listed for the four lines of cars. New bodies by Fisher are streamlined from cowl to tail, featuring sharply slanted split Vee-type windshields with double wind-shield wipers mounted at the bottom. Outstanding 1936 Buick body feature is Fisher all-steel "Turrent Top" with which all cars are equipped. Besides being an important structural and safety factor, the "Turrent Top" is regarded as one of the major appearance features of the cars.

Built-in trunk design is a feature of all Buick sedan models for 1936.

The new Buick engines, while being lighter, develop greater horsepower, are completely silent and outdo anything ever offered by this company before, from a performance standpoint. That for the Special series develops 93 horsepower at 3200 RPM. The S. A. E. rated horsepower is 30.63. Bore and stroke are 3 3/32 by 7 7/8 inches giving a piston displacement of 233 cubic inches. Due to improved valve mechanism and lighter pistons a higher compression ratio was made possible in the Special. This is now 5.55 to 1.

Century, Roadmaster and limited series engines, like the Special series, are the large bore, short stroke type, having a bore and stroke of 3 7/16 by 4 5/16 inches with a displacement of 320.2 cubic inches. Maximum brake horsepower is 120 at 3200 RPM, while the S. A. E. taxable rating is 37.81. Compression ratio is 5.45 to 1.

Outstanding features of the 1936 Buick engines which contribute to their exceptional performance, stamina and economy. Anodized pistons, stiffer crankshafts, crankshaft torsional balancers, streamlined combustion chambers, improved valve mechanism, oil temperature control, improved cooling, improved dual downdraft carburetion, new automatic choke, automatic heat control, cold idle control, vacuumatic spark control and other aids to engine operation.

Improved dual downdraft carburetion distributes an even supply of proper mixture to all cylinders. According to Buick engineers the new cars register unusual fuel economy with proving ground tests showing the following results: Special series: 19 miles per gallon at 30 miles an hour; 15.5 miles per gallon at 50 miles an hour; 12.5 miles per gallon at 70 miles an hour.

Century series: 15.5 miles per gallon at 30 miles an hour, 14.2 miles per gallon at 50 miles an hour, 11.5 miles per gallon at 70 miles an hour.

Roadmaster series: 15.5 miles per gallon at 30 miles an hour, 13.5 miles per gallon at 50 miles an hour, 10.5 miles per gallon at 70 miles an hour.

Limited Series: 15.1 miles per gallon at 30 miles an hour, 12.5 miles per gallon at 50 miles an hour and 9.5 miles per gallon at 70 miles an hour.

Similar tests to determine acceleration and hill climbing ability resulted in the following figures:

Special, Series 40: Speed over the top of a 11.6 per cent grade from a 10 miles-per-hour start, 35 miles per hour. Acceleration from 10 to 60 miles per hour in high, 20.7 seconds.

Century, Series 60: Speed over top of 11.6 per cent grade from a 10 miles-per-hour start, 42 miles per hour. Acceleration from 10 to 60 miles per hour in high, 19.6 seconds.

Roadmaster, Series 80: Speed over top 11.6 per cent grade from 10 miles-per-hour start, 36 miles per hour. Acceleration from 10 to 60 miles per hour in high, 19.6 seconds.

Limited, Series 90: Speed over top of 11.6 per cent grade from 10 miles-per-hour start, 33 miles per hour. Acceleration from 10 to 60 miles per hour in high, 21.4 seconds.

Center point control steering is made possible by the use of knee action wheels. The steering rods pivot from a central point of the front cross member, maintaining a constant steering geometry and resulting in unusual ease of handling and shockless steering control.

Hydraulic brakes are standard on all Buick models for 1936 with an advanced brake design combining with hydraulic actuation. Because hydraulic brakes deliver equal pressure to all four wheels, it was necessary to engineer the correct combination of brake shoes, brake linings, brake drums, master cylinders and brake cylinders to give positive control with soft pedal action and long life. Brake shoes in the new Buick design are extra heavy and rigid to prevent distortion, linings were carefully selected and tested for long life and uniform brake action and drums are rigidly reinforced to keep their roundness. On all series the drums have cast iron braking surfaces. Centrifuge

Going Nudist in a Fair Way

If golf isn't a skin game, you can't make these two girls believe it. The young lady at the left is just about to lose her shirt because she overestimated her skill at the ancient and honorable pastime, and the luckless duffer at the right is smiling out of a barrel he fortunately found at the sixth hole, her clothes forfeited for her lack of prowess. The scenes were snapped at the Cadillac, Mich., country club as women closed their season with a strip links journey, all males barred.

drums are used on the special series cars and all-cast-iron drums on the Century, Roadmaster and Limited series.

The hydraulic system on every car is tested under 300 pounds per square inch pressure before it leaves the factory with the result that possibility of line or hose failure is eliminated.

The 1936 Buick emergency brakes operate directly through cables on the rear wheels with the brake handle conveniently attached under the instrument panel to the left of the driver.

Design of the electrical system of the new cars is such as to meet the requirements of the increased loads of radios, heaters, additional lighting equipment and the like.

State Tests Brakes By a Rigid Code

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — A new automobile safety campaign is in operation in Illinois, where state highway police are conducting a state-wide tests of motor vehicle brakes and enforcing other provisions of a new traffic code.

The campaign brings into use new sections of a traffic code enacted at the recent session of the Illinois General Assembly.

The major section of the new code requires the testing of brakes of all motor vehicles operating on state highways or city streets.

State highway police are conducting the tests at a number of safety lanes constructed throughout the state. Motorists are required to drive through the lanes at 20 miles an hour and come to a complete halt within 30 feet.

Preliminary tests made at an experimental station here showed that about 20 per cent of the automobiles passing through the lanes do not comply with the law.

The law requires that all automobiles not passing the tests must be repaired and sent through the testing mill again. Failure to comply with this section of the act is cause for arrest.

State Funds Moved As Solons Meet

AUSTIN. — Legislators are being kidded because State Treasurer Charley Lockhart moved $4,000,000 in currency from the state treasury to Dallas as solons gathered for their special session.

When flood lights were installed to illuminate the state capital dome several years ago, visitors were told it was done to prevent politicians from stealing the capitol.

The prize yarn is told of a North Texas banker. A candidate for governor was to speak in his town. Business people decided to make the day a holiday and get out a good crowd.

A committee visited business houses for that purpose. When they entered the bank and suggested it be closed because of the candidate's proposed visit, the banker exclaimed:

"You don't think he'd try to rob the bank right in the middle of the day, do you?"

"BUICK'S THE BUY!"

Two years ago Buick deliberately leveled its sights on 1936.

It coolly set its aim on bringing to market for that year a line of motor cars that would startle the world.

It purposed to do that, not by freak or superficial design, not by skimping quality to make a price, but by sheer merit as expressed in automobile beauty, value, ability.

It submits to you now the eminently satisfying results of that fruitful two years of concentrated endeavor.

Here are four separate series of sensational new Buick cars — cars called phenomenal by experts in the trade who previewed them.

Each is a feast to the eye schooled in mature modern styling, as you can see.

Each has under the smooth flowing planes and surfaces of its smart exterior, the solid, tough, durable, beautifully engineered chassis that underwrites Buick dependability.

And each offers you from the stepped-up power of its big thrifty valve-in-head eight-cylinder engine such safe, thrilling performance as you have never known.

These cars are big cars every one — built to almost lavish dimensions of body room and head clearance — yet they handle with the fingertip lightness of small cars.

They are literally breath-taking in power and speed and take-off, yet under their new tiptoe hydraulics and easy-steering knee-action they are almost as manageable as a telephone.

They are thewed and sinewed by that quality which springs from Buick's third of a century of manufacturing experience, advantaged by $14,500,000 worth of new tools, dies and factory re-equipment devised for these cars alone.

These things are so true and so obvious that every where you will soon hear the motor-wise saying, "BUICK'S THE BUY!"
