

Severe Test Is Passed By Man-In-Space Vehicle

Ready For Astronaut

By VERN HAUGHLAND, WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. (AP)—The Mercury space capsule underwent its final and most severe unpowered test today with this verdict: A man aboard unquestionably could have survived.

Next week an American astronaut at Cape Canaveral, Fla., will stake his life on that finding. Little Joe VII, a cluster of eight solid propellant rockets, lapped up from this test station of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration at 9:00 a. m. with the 3,000-pound space chamber on its nose.

Half an hour later, after a flight that produced stresses even more violent than the extreme conditions that had been planned, the capsule was back on the beach after a parachute-cushioned landing in the sea and fast recovery by a helicopter.

Meantime the vehicle had been blasted loose from the booster by rocket devices intended to save a space flier in case of trouble in the lift-off.

Asked if a man could have lived through it, project manager William M. Bland replied: "Unquestionably."

The aim was to determine whether the equipment would work under the most punishing conditions an astronaut might encounter.

Next comes the real test—probably next Tuesday—at Cape Canaveral, Fla., with man aboard for a longer ride.

Little Joe VII, consisting of six solid-propellant rockets, blasted off at 9:04 a. m. from this Virginia Eastern Shore test center.

The space chamber with two ballast-filled dummies aboard, rode on the vehicle's nose.

In 30 seconds the rocket lifted the 3,000-pound capsule to about 35,000 feet, where a timing device triggered the escape sequence.

The vehicle at that moment was traveling at about 1,200 miles an hour.

Later when a capsule is launched by a more powerful Redstone rocket, it will travel at much greater speeds but at much higher altitudes where air resistance and the pull of gravity will be greatly reduced and there-by produce no more stress.

At Little Joe's peak altitude of about 40,000 feet, an escape rocket on a tower 12 feet above the capsule ignited and pulled the spacecraft away from the rocket.

Then a small parachute opened to stabilize the capsule after which a large chute blossomed out and lowered the capsule into the water about five minutes after the launching. A helicopter quickly picked it up.

The sequence was visible from the launch site under bright sunny skies.

Even before the recovery an official reported the operation had gone off under conditions a man apparently could have survived.

The missile took off at an 80-degree angle and arched for 30 seconds through the clear blue sky before the engines burned out.

Today's test by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration designed to subject the Mercury space capsule to the most severe stresses and pressures that could occur on lift-off.

The moment of peak stress in today's shot occurred between the altitudes of 35,000 and 45,000 feet, when the air pressure at the nose of the vehicle rises to 40 times the force produced by a 100-millian-hour hurricane.

The capsule was the same one launched by Little Joe VI on March 18 and recovered 20 miles offshore, slightly damaged in that shot. The Mercury escape rocket fired prematurely and caused a faulty sequence of separation.

The damage resulting from that shot was repaired and the capsule was in a new condition when launched today.

Television Star's Wife Found Dead

NEW YORK (AP)—Pamela Garraway, wife of television star Dave Garraway, was found dead in their town house 148 E. 63rd St. early today.

Police listed the cause of death as unknown poisoning. They did not indicate that death was due to anything but natural causes.

Mrs. Garraway, 34, was found on a bathroom floor with her head resting on a toilet bowl. She was in the house at the time.

A housekeeper, Brunhilde Aht, found the body at 2:30 a. m. A private physician, Dr. Henry Horn, notified police.

Garraway, 48, star of the early morning "Today" show on NBC-TV, was notified by telephone at the family's summer home at Westhampton Long Island, where he was recuperating from a virus attack. His part of the "Today" show is usually taped in advance.

In the "Today" show, the time Mrs. Garraway's body was found were two children, Michael, 12, her son by a previous marriage, and Paris Garraway, 17, Garraway's daughter by a previous marriage.

Police gave this account: At 2:25 a. m. Mrs. Garraway called Dr. Horn at his home. It was not known what she told him. But five minutes later Horn called the housekeeper and asked her to check on Mrs. Garraway. The doctor told the housekeeper Mrs. Garraway sounded nervous.

The housekeeper searched the plush converted five-story town house and found Mrs. Garraway's body.

Nazi Massacre Is Recalled At Trial

By RELMAN MORIN, JERUSALEM, Israel (AP)—A woman witness at the trial of Adolf Eichmann quietly told the story today of a Nazi massacre in a Polish village, the murder of her own father, and the slaughter of children who went.

"I saw this with my own eyes," said Eda Lichtmann, testifying in the trial of the former Gestapo officer accused by Israel of major complicity in the destruction of an estimated six million European Jews.

Mrs. Lichtmann's eyes were hidden behind dark glasses as she told her story in a flat, tired voice. When she finished, she removed the glasses for an instant and wiped her eyes with a handkerchief.

There a few minutes later, she testified all the Jews in the city were assembled. While some of the Germans broke into Jewish homes and looted, other herded Jewish men into a synagogue.

"They were slaughtered there by shooting," Mrs. Lichtmann said.

She took the Jewish men and forced them to clean the streets with their bare hands. Then they were ordered to undress and behind each Jewish man there was a Nazi soldier with a fixed bayonet.

The Jews were ordered to sit on the ground with their hands behind their heads. They were then shot.

Monday dawned clear over most of North and Central Texas and somewhat cloudy in the southern part of the state.

Congo Army Is Holding Politicians

By PETER GROSE, COQUILHATVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The Congolese army cracked down today on the country's feuding politicians, ordering that none should leave Coquilhatville until they have thrashed out agreement on the Congo's problems.

Soldiers milling around the airport have been told by their officers to prevent any politicians leaving town. Machine guns have been set up along the runways.

Even President Joseph Kasavubu, head of the Congo's central government at Leopoldville, apparently was covered by the military order, although he has made no attempt to leave Coquilhatville.

The Leopoldville government army, headed by Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, appeared to be in command at Coquilhatville, 373 miles up the Congo River from Leopoldville.

The politicians went there from every Congo area except those controlled by the leftist Stanleyville regime of Antoine Gizenga. The conference ground to a halt when Katanga President Moise Tshombe made a violent verbal attack on Kasavubu and walked out.

Tshombe tried to take a plane Wednesday to Elisabethville, capital of Katanga, but soldiers at the airport arrested him.

The supporters of the bill, who have had little chance to speak on the matter, say it would allow many students to continue holding jobs in Houston while going to school. The enrollment of 11,000 has been declining since the current $620 a year tuition went into effect in 1958.

Time Change Is Due For Some Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—About half the nation's population will lend an hour to Father Time this weekend. The loan will be repaid in kind next fall, no interest, but nothing lost either.

Daylight Saving Time—a means of increasing the number of daylight hours—goes into effect at 2 a. m. this Sunday throughout 17 states and the District of Columbia.

The Minnesota legislature will make the switch May 28.

In 11 states, the measure goes into effect only in some areas. All of the communities in the remaining 21 states will stay on Standard Time through the summer.

In this age of shrunken distances, it will be difficult for anyone to remain unaffected by the change, even if his own community remains on standard time.

If you are a resident of such an area, you won't have to bother setting your clock ahead one hour this Sunday, but you'll find that many of your television programs will be going on the air an hour early.

For some, the confusion will be compounded by the fact that they live in states where the time is different from one area to another.

Rebel Supporters Face Vast Purge

By DAVID MASON, ALGERIA (AP)—A vast purge of the police, administration, press and army in Algeria was launched today on "President Charles de Gaulle's order to foot out supporters of the unsuccessful general's revolt."

Authorities said that 70 Algerian gendarmes have been arrested, a high appeals court judge suspended, many army officers arrested, 12 staff members of Radio Algiers suspended or transferred, and hundreds of civilians questioned and many held.

Paratroopers have been given orders to disband the Foreign Legion 1st Parachute Regiment that spearheaded the brief revolt, and all its officers are prisoners.

Armored cars manned by loyal soldiers guarded army headquarters. Radio Algiers and other installations. Officials admitted that despite the widespread purge, they were still not confident government control had been completely restored.

Probers Charge Union Rules Hike Cost Of Titan Program

By G. MILTON KELLY, WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators charged today that arbitrary rules of an electricians' union threaten to add $3 million to the cost of the Titan missile program.

Defense plans call for 15 squadrons of the intercontinental missiles.

Jerome S. Adlerman, counsel to the Senate Investigations subcommittee, claimed evidence that unionized electricians' refusal to use prefabricated electrical cable connections in the missile would add a quarter of a million dollars per squadron to the cost, or a total of about $3 million.

The subcommittee chairman, John L. McClellan, D-Ark, decried the "federal laws to curb the rash of strikes and other labor troubles plaguing missile basins called more witnesses for questioning on this and other matters."

Houston U. Bill Now At Critical Stage

By ED OVERHOLSER, AUSTIN (AP)—The long-filibustered University of Houston bill entered the critical stage in the Texas Senate today.

Further delay apparently would seriously cripple chances of final passage.

Pressures mounted on both sides to take action one way or another to allow the Senate to go on to the stack of unfinished business.

House members adjourned Thursday to Monday. The representatives agreed to take up Tuesday the corporate income tax bill with some predicting a majority already have agreed to vote for it.

Time is beginning to be a key factor in the 57th Legislature. Less than a month will remain for final action when the House begins work next week.

Gov. Price Daniel, in a prodding message to the Legislature Thursday, underscored several of his pending recommendations which he said would yield or save the state $25 million during the next two years.

He urged the Legislature to pass the controversial escheat bill, to finance farm roads from the highway funds rather than General Revenue, increase tuition $100 a year at the state colleges, finance county school administration by local sources and increase collection of taxes.

Soviets Lag, But Improving In Education, Teachers Told

Education in Soviet Russia lags behind that of the United States, but the Soviets are ahead of schedule in their race to catch up, Dr. Floyd Golden told Snyder Classroom Teachers and their guests here last night.

In some areas, the Soviet system of schooling is "good" according to the Communist philosophy, but it simply does not measure up to American standards, Dr. Golden said. However, he cautioned that an outright comparison is virtually impossible because of the vast difference in philosophy. He suggested that it would be similar to comparing a horse and a skunk.

"To be a Communist, one must first be an atheist," Dr. Golden explained.

He related experiences that he has as one of 30 educators who actually went into Soviet schools to evaluate them, encountered during an extensive first-hand study.

"We must remember that the Russians are deceitful," Dr. Golden declared. They apply their deceit in their claims of progress in education, he added.

As examples he cited reports that all Russian schools require five years of English. The educators who observed that a school learned that English is taught for one period per week over a span of five years.

Moreover, he said claims of physics requirements in the Soviet school system are exaggerated. The group learned that actual experiments in this science are conducted by the teacher and a pupil assistant, while the remainder of the pupils merely observe and take notes.

Dr. Golden said stock answers are required in classroom recitation. These are the answers "in the book" with no latitude, and they are the only answers approved by the Communist regime.

However, he said a vast change of revolution in education is now being required to have only five per cent of their professional training in the art of teaching, or education as it is known in America. The goal now is 25 per cent.

Thus, Soviet teachers are getting more instructions on how to teach.

The Soviets firmly believe that through education and infiltration they will conquer America, Dr. Golden declared.

Dr. Golden, a native of Snyder County, is president emeritus of

Policeman In Houston Has Close Shave

HOUSTON (AP) — A policeman narrowly escaped death Thursday night by holding the cylinder of a revolver an ex-cop was attempting to fire as the two fought desperately.

The policeman, Paul E. Hensley, said on and called for help. He was held by a fellow policeman, Joseph Gamino, who was off duty, came to Hensley's rescue and helped subdue the ex-cop, George Powell, 43, a muscular Negro who is charged with assaulting another policeman and is wanted for questioning in the rape of six women in the last three months.

Powell has been sought since last Tuesday when he attacked Hensley and a fellow radio patrol officer, M. W. Carroll, spotted Powell on the street last night. When they stopped their car Powell said Powell had been treating the wound himself.

Rigging Charged In Stock Sales

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charges that two prominent members of the American Stock Exchange engaged in market rigging and illegal stock sales, approaching $10 million were to be detailed today by federal investigators.

Lawyers for the Securities and Exchange Commission, after completing a year-long investigation of exchange members Jerry and Gerard Res, were ready to sum up the findings in a bulky legal brief.

The Res, exchange specialists who conducted the daily market auctions in about 20 stocks, also were to file a brief in their own behalf, through attorney Milton Gould.

By agreement, the Res have waived the right to contest the charges. However, they have retained the right to argue that any violations were not willful.

The investigation of the Res, father and son, was one of the most far-reaching in the history of the SEC. It was the first to involve market specialists—the key technicians who operate at the heart of every stock exchange.

Don Whitt In Texas Open Lead

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Four victory-starved players, headed by Don Whitt, who wins money but few tournaments, led the $30,000 Texas Open into its second round today.

Whitt, the 30-year-old veteran of the tour from Borrego Springs, Calif., shot an under-par 63 Thursday to take the opening round, lead. A stroke back was Al Baiding of Toronto, Canada; at 65 were Frank Wharton of Dallas, Tex., and Don Fairfield of Cayce, Ill.

Whitt has won only two tournaments in the United States in six years but has usually taken down good money. This year he has two victories on the Caribbean tour but they paid only $200 each.

Balding last won a tournament in 1957. Fairfield, like Whitt, has won only two in six years, and Wharton never has taken one.

The "three nuts" headed the field of 150 that moved out today, with favorite Arnold Palmer, the year's second leading money-winner, shot a 67 and explained that he was "experimenting." He put new grips on his club and tried playing without his glove.

Gary Player, the little man from South Africa who won the Masters and is well ahead in money-winnings for the year, settled for a 60 and said his putting was off. "It was most frustrating," Player commented.

ANCIENT AND MODERN ROSES dominate garden vistas at Hodges Gardens, Many Louisiana, as thousands of sweet-smelling blossoms smile out from under a brisk April wind to open an early season. Modern roses will be in full outburst the last week of April. "Roses of Yesterday," varieties of ancient rose families, have been showing brilliant color for several weeks and will continue their bloom until frost. Hodges Gardens is a year-round chain of flowers, open from 8 a.m. until sunset.

Roses Take Spotlight At Famous Hodges Gardens

MANY, LOUISIANA—Not even a brisk, ruffling April wind could slow the early bloom of roses in Hodges Gardens, where ancient and modern varieties famous in rose history draw thousands of spring and summer visitors. Modern hybrid teas, floribundas and grandifloras will be in full outburst the last week in April. "The old fashioned varieties of Grandmother's day have been showing brilliant color for two weeks and will continue their bloom until the first frost of winter," Walter Chalupnik, Chief Horticulturist, said. Included in the display of famed modern roses are two All-American Rose Winners of 1961—Duet and Pink Parfait. Duet, a hybrid tea has petals in soft salmon pink that are a rich, racy crimson on the inside. Pink Parfait, as the name suggests, is a delicately colored semi-double grandiflora with blooms ranging from soft dawn pink to apple blossom pink. Winners in our unique national competition are selected for hardiness, fragrance and resistance to disease, by All America Rose Selections, a group of growers interested in improving the quality of American roses.

Another brilliant winner soon to reach its peak of perfection in Hodges Gardens is Peace, originated by the French hybridizer, M. Meiland in 1945. This aristocratic beauty blooms large yellow roses in profusion, with petals edged in pink. Honors captured by this brilliant rose include All-American and ARS National Gold Medal.

Other famous roses in Louisiana forest gardens include Garden Party, Personality, Queen Elizabeth, Tiffany, Phlox pink, Helen Trabel, First Love, Roundelay, and Starfire—all the brightest jewels of hybridizers' treasure of blooms.

Perhaps the most dramatic rose show in Hodges Gardens is the complex of redwood trellises bearing varieties of ancient rose families—Texas, Musk, Damask, Noisette, Gallica, China and Bourbon. These are the romantic roses that were favorites of kings and empresses, the pink, red, yellow and varicolored beauties of

DRIVING EXPERT ADVISES

FANCY FOOTWORK

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer
Calm that anxious foot, lady, if you'd save on gas line consumption. That's the advice of driving expert Mary Davis of Los Angeles.

It's possible to start a nest egg on the money you save, says the tall, blonde two-time winner of the Mobilgas Economy Run on the eve of another event (March 11-12).

"Jerky accelerator action forces the engines to consume gas at an abnormal rate," she points out. "The best way to develop a steady driving foot for safety and gas economy is to concentrate on the road and anticipate driving situations before they occur. Don't wait until you're on top of a traffic light to make a decision."

One should prepare a half-block away for road signs, a stop light that is about to change, a car that might cut in ahead or a pedestrian who is about to cross a street, says Miss Davis, explaining.

"Glide up to stops, starting up again with slow, smooth pressure through the row, observe mileage regulations that are usually calibrated to give you a smooth drive without stopping for a signal. Driving 45 miles in a 35-mile zone will do no more than get you a speed ticket. It will use up 15 per cent more gas."

Emotional problems and children in the car affect drivers of both sexes, although she says women are more patient drivers than men.

"Women have picked up some male driving habits, such as tapping the accelerator like a telephone instrument. High heels add to the wobbly feeling. Light-soled flat-heeled shoes or moccasins are best for driving, and they may be left in the car just for that purpose."

Mary averaged 23 miles to a gallon in her previous wins in the six-day, 2500 mile run.

There are rocky roads and hills, but the race is strictly on the level, she says.

"There's no inching ahead with driving tricks, coasting down a hill or turning the engine off. Overdrivers travel with you. Sneak cars are chosen secretly from show-room floors by auto club representatives who guard against tampering before the race."

And there is no chance of getting too friendly with the observers.

Patience Is Wearing Thin Due To Cease-Fire Delays

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States was reported near the end of its patience today with what officials privately call Communist stalling over a cease-fire in Laos.

President Kennedy has initiated consultations with allied government leaders and with congressional leaders on what steps may be taken next to prevent more of Laos from falling to Soviet-backed rebel forces.

New action could include U.S. and allied military intervention aimed at halting the rebel offensive. But informed officials said that Kennedy had not decided finally on his next move.

A State Department statement Thursday night declared "real United States concern over the failure of the Pathet Lao rebel forces" to accept a British-Soviet cease-fire call issued last week.

Behind this concern was a growing anxiety that the rebel offensive could shortly result in the capture of the royal capital, Luang Prabang, and the administrative capital, Vientiane.

Should rebel successes bring the collapse of the pro-Western Bouam government, the ally of the Western powers to deal with the Communist challenge in the Southeast Asian kingdom would be almost disastrously crippled.

Beyond the immediate threat to leaders fear, is a broader threat to South Viet Nam, says Thailand. The United States recently gave both countries new assurances of military support as events may require.

In Laos, there was no indication that the Pathet Lao would call for the rebel government to take over the half in fighting to become effective.

Before leaving Washington on a speech making trip Kennedy conferred Thursday with congressional leaders. He told them, it was learned, that the situation for pro-Western forces in Laos was deteriorating and that further moves have to be considered seriously.

Following this meeting, the State Department issued a statement which said: "Today's discussions have revolved around the question of what the approach of the United States and other nations interested in maintaining the integrity of an independent Laos is to be should the Communist rebels prove completely unwilling to grant a cease-fire and work toward a peaceful solution."

The President also had a session Thursday with the National Security Council.

The cease-fire call was part of a package deal negotiated by Britain and the Soviet Union. Another part of the agreement called for a 14-nation conference to open May 12 at Geneva for the purpose of working out a permanent Laotian settlement. Officials indicated that if the cease-fire was not accepted in fact as well as in theory by the Communist side the United States had no intention of going to the conference.

State Department press officer Lincoln White declined to discuss the question of a "cut-off point" for U.S. patience in waiting for the rebel forces, which now hold much of northern Laos, to agree to end the fighting. However, authorities said the Kennedy administration was not willing to wait very much longer.

Both the United States and Britain have urged the Soviet government to see that the Soviet-backed rebels fall in line with the cease-fire agreement without further delay.

In addition to conferring with the congressional leaders, White said, the President also met Thursday with administration officials on the crisis. Altogether several hours of Kennedy's time were devoted to this problem.

The statement issued by White emphasized the declared U.S. desire for a political settlement that would assure "a truly neutral Laos."

"We agreed to the 14-nation conference," White said, "in the hope that a peaceful way might be found to achieve this status for Laos."

In preparation for such a conference Secretary of State Dean Rusk has created a special task force of State Department experts on Southeast Asia to plan U.S. policy and negotiating tactics. He assigned Ambassador Kenneth Young new envoy to Thailand to head the group.

Spanish Course Is Getting Nowhere

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police Lt. D. S. Arroyo isn't getting anywhere at all with his program to teach Spanish to the city's 100,000 Mexican-Americans.

Arroyo wrote to the U.S. Printing Office some time ago, requesting Spanish grammar. A package reached the station Thursday. Arroyo opened it—and found only a government-printed manual.

"And, he refused to buy a word," even in Spanish!

No Course Teaches You How To Wait

By HAL BOYLE
CHICAGO, (Midway Airport AP) — Children are taught how to read and write in our society, but no one bothers to teach grownups how to wait for an airplane.

That is one of the big problems with civilization, says an airport spokesman, is to improve the necessary arts.

The people who design airports obviously have spent little time in them. Otherwise they would make them more habitable for those who by chance—certainly not by choice—must spend more time in them than they would by choice.

Here are some of the characters you can meet at almost any airport, as they wait for their baggage to come along and take them from here to there.

The True Veteran—He tips a dollar each to two airlines ticket jockeys to wake him up, then calmly spreads his coat in the middle of the terminal floor and lies down and goes to sleep. He knows his plane has to be ready sometime.

The True Amateur—"Why is my flight late?" also demands, as if he is considered being tardy is a personal responsibility. "I intend to inform my congressman about this." Actually, her congressman is in another part of the terminal waiting for his plane, too. He would write her a letter if he thought it would help him get the plane he wants.

The Compulsive Muncher—He keeps putting dimes in the candy bar machines, until he drops a nickel on the floor. When he bends down to pick it up, melted chocolate flows out of one ear, root beer out of the other.

The Cheap Browser—He glances through the magazines and the paper-back books. By the time his plane comes in he is able to pass the Harvard tests for a doctorate in literature.

The Flirt—He makes eyes at one of the girls at the ticket counter, finally offers to pay her fare for one and forever his wife if she can arrange for a plane on which they can run away together—anywhere.

The Opportunist—He goes outside, buys some real estate near the airport, settles there and becomes rich.

The Worry Wart—The longer he waits for his plane to come in, the more insurance he buys. Twelve policies later, dripping with sweat he taxis to the nearest railroad terminal. After waiting two days for a train, he then goes home by bus.

Red Raider Relays Next For Tigers

"Keeping sharp" will be the aim of the all-conquering Snyder Tiger track team tomorrow, as they travel to Lubbock to compete in the Red Raider Relays.

The district champion Black and Gold track team tucked the regional title under their belts Saturday in Odessa and are now Saturday in on the state meet of a week hence in Austin. In so doing, both the Tiger sprint and mile relay teams earned the state qualifying charmed circle in addition to five individual spots.

Fabled Jesse Crawford won both the 100-yard dash and low hurdles in the regional, and anchored the Tigers in their second-place sprint relay finish, the other members of the team being Baz Callaway, Mike Morris, and John Weaver.

Bobby Brown copped first in the pole vault, setting a regional record in the process, and also nabbed second in the broad jump to qualify in both events.

Weaver also ran the anchor leg in the mile relay, in which Snyder finished second, and sprinted home second in the 220-yard dash to qualify for the state meet. Preceding him on the mile relay quartet were Bubba Fleming, Ronnie Maroney, and Malcolm Bolger.

Bolger, the sole Snyder sophomore making the trip to Austin, may be held out of tomorrow's action, having been on the sick list recently. Should he be unable to run, indications are that Weaver will sub for him in the mile relay.

Brownfield is the defending champion of the Lubbock meet. Snyder didn't compete there last year, taking part in the Hobbs meet of the same weekend instead.

All high school classes will be represented in the Red Raider Relay carnival, along with a university division. Unless there is a late influx of entrants preliminary will not be run, as there are 10 lanes available and no more than 9 entrants are as yet assured for any running.

All final events will be run in the afternoon with the exception of the high school broad jump and discus and the university discus, broad jump and javelin, all of which have starting times of 10 a. m.

The remainder of the high school field events begin at 1 p. m., with the initial running event final of the day slated for 1:50 p. m. Coach Dutch Stehley and his Tiger tracksters are to depart here early in the morning for Lubbock, and will return tomorrow night on conclusion of the meet.

HOT BAT—Second baseman Johnny Temple of the Cleveland Indians uses a wire brush on the hottest bat in the major leagues. The 31-year-old pro hit in his 12th straight game of Baltimore against the Orioles before being tossed out for arguing with an umpire. The replanted National Leaguer is hitting at a .475 pace, tops for both the American and National League. (AP Wirephoto)

TOWLE PARK, 2 P. M.

Tigers To Face C-City Wolves

The Snyder Tiger diamond team will be embarking on the second half of their District 3-A campaign here at Towle Park beginning at 2 p. m. tomorrow, when they entertain Colorado City's up-set-hungry Wolves.

Snyder is 18-9 for the year, and at 2:1 is currently holding down the number two 3-A position behind the Lamesas, who are unbeaten in three outings. In addition to the Colorado City victory, the Tigers have felled Sweetwater by 18-6, while their sole loss was a 9-5 affair as administered by Lamesa.

right-handed Charles Houston instead. Hillhouse went the first five innings during Snyder's earlier 17-13 win over the Wolves, then stepped down in favor of Houston. Hillhouse was charged with the loss, however, while Miller, who went the initial four frames on the hill for the Tigers, was the winner.

Tentatively, the Bengal lineup will read as follows, provided Hillhouse is the starting hurler: Mike Moffett, center field (.310); Spencer Dyer, third base (.442); Steve Free, shortstop (.312); Miller, second base (.366); Greenfield, pitcher (.309); Gladson, left field (.379); Weldon Ware, first base (.241); and Frank Moore, right field (.600).

Should Houston receive the Wolf starting nod, then Ware will be moved up to the cleanup slot, as he carries a much bigger stick against right-handed offerings as against left-handed choppers.

Rinehart Recipient Of 'Red Carpet Treatment'

By Jerry Jackson
News Sports Editor

No living thing is quite so bubbly as a teenager in love. Janice Rinehart is every bit that bubbly.

Her love is pointed to the area of track and field, however, and her enthusiasm for the sport is such that she effervesces at the very mention of it. Her admiration for track is rivaled by only one factor—that being her ambition for the continual bettering of herself in the sport.

Janice, a willowy 16-year-old, has toiled long and hard to attain perfection in her self-imposed endeavor, and her erstwhile attitude is beginning to pay dividends, as she is currently carrying a noticeable niche for herself as one of the top young lady tracksters in the Southwest.

Lubbock's Mary Rose, the high point girl of the meet, encountered some difficulty as far as her name was concerned. On giving her name, the usual comeback was, "Mary Rose who?" Very few were able to fathom that Rose is really her last name rather than her middle one. She does have a middle name, however, but—as in the case with so many of us—steadfastly refused to disclose it.

Janice, following the runnings, was at a loss to relay to her coach, Guy Sullivan, just how well she had done. "Everything was in meters," she mumbled.

Miss Rinehart is a girl of multitudes talents, but savvying the español isn't one of them.

She represents a very fine ambassador (anyway, a girl ambassador—whatever they're called) for Uncle Sam, and the hope is that she will be afforded that chance to compete again internationally at that time.

ON COLLEGE CASE SCENE

Open Wound Of Scandal Exposed

By DON WEISS
NEW YORK (AP)—The cloud of a widespread bribery scandal that had hung ominously over college basketball for six weeks has descended, engulfing 10 more players from six more schools.

All but Brown, were granted immunity from prosecution for their testimony, Hogan said, adding that each allegedly accepted or agreed to accept from Wagman sums ranging from $750 to $1,500 for shaving points in games. The games included one during the 1959-60 season and 25 this past season. Of the 26 Hogan said, 12 were "successfully" rigged.

The term of the grand jury investigating college basketball has been extended until June 30, Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan said, after announcing a 37-count indictment for corruption against previously convicted football player Aaron Wagman of New York.

Brown, who played in only two or three games near the end of the season after having been a first-team reserve with the Tar Heels in 1959-60, was not successful, Hogan said, in making such arrangements at North Carolina.

Morrow Approached With Grid Feelers

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Former Athlete Christian College sprinter Bobby Morrow says he has been offered professional football contracts by four football teams.

Morrow is here as an honorary referee today at a high school track meet. His former prep coach, Paul Petty, is head coach here at Miami High School.

The former Olympic runner said he had been offered contracts by the Dallas Texans and Houston Oilers of the American Football League and the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League.

He said he also had been approached by the Minnesota Vikings of the NFL.

Morrow said he would make up his mind about the football offers after conferring with directors of an Athlete's fund supplement firm in which he has an interest.

The peak of her career to date was reached the past weekend in Mexico City, where she—along with a small but talented group of contemporaries—was privileged to take part in the International National Track and Field Meet as staged there Saturday and Sunday. She distinguished herself by winning both the 60- and 100-meter dashes, by running a segment of the victorious sprint relay team, and by copping second place in the high jump and fourth in the broad jump.

"I ate cereal for breakfast the whole time I was there," she itemized.

"Fruit cocktail. It had bits of watermelon and cantaloupe in it."

And what was for supper? "Creamed potatoes and carrots."

Mmmmm.

Janice, along with a number of other Texas track stars, is invited to the one-act meet in Mexico City July 17-18. No definite plans have as yet been formulated concerning such a trip, however, but should be forthcoming in the near future.

to meter measures slightly over 60 good old American yards—39.37 inches; 12.4; in the 60-meters: 7.6. Both of which are "stepping" in anybody's book.

Hearing her tall of job experiences down south of the border is an experience in itself. Being her time—extended trip away from home, it was all new, and above all, extremely exhilarating.

It would seem that Mexico's inhabitants might be picking up some stateside "tricks of the trade," so to speak, at least as far as their airlines are concerned. You guessed it. They were out on strike, and may not be back on the job yet. Fortunately, however, one of those "we-driving-to-us" fellows was so kind to take up the slack, so that Miss Rinehart and her contingent ended up traveling the 900 miles from Laredo to Mexico City—and back—within the confines of a bus.

To say that they were treated royally on their advent into the city would be an understatement. They were whisked away—collectively—into the finest social circles, afforded the most elaborate tours the city had to offer, were taken to the bullfights, and were placed on television—not once—but twice.

And as the Texas girls marched into the competitive arena, up went the Stars and Stripes along with the blaring of the brass band and the liberal shouts of encouragement from the gathered assemblage. The Olympics in Rome couldn't have been more flowery.

The girls who were the "darlings" of the officials, who showered them with much greater attention than was shown the male athletes, experienced a new and unexpected thrill as they were buffeted by constant requests for autographs, plus being constantly besieged by shutterbugging newspaper people.

GOES TO CLEVELAND INDIANS—Paul Paul, 51, was named general manager of the Cleveland Indians. He left Cincinnati last November to become manager of the new Houston Club in the National League. (AP Wirephoto)

HAVE FAITH IN GOD

Here is my watch. If it is to be of value to me, it has to be a watch I can count on. When I look at its face, I must know beyond doubt, that it can be trusted. If I have to be forever checking it, it is of little use to me, and certainly it is not fulfilling the purpose for which it was created. Life too, in that way!

If a man is to be of value, he must be the kind of person that can be counted on. His face must radiate dependability. If those who live about you have to be forever checking on you... you are not fulfilling the purpose for which God created you. Now, Paul said, "those things, which ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me, do; and the God of peace shall be with you."

Help us to attend church worship every week and to draw near to Thee. May we gather in thoughts that stray and control feelings that may be troublesome. For sin give repentance, for sorrow give trust, for strife of passion and care grant rest. Through this timepiece illustration, may we be led to bring our lives to Thee, that we may test and measure them by thine unerring law.
