Dream Of $65,000,000 Waterway For Texas Is Being Aired

Great Project Proposed For Trinity Area

Condemnation And Praise For Gigantic Undertaking Being Heard At Wichita Session

(By The Associated Press)

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 9.—Texas products floating down the Trinity river in boats to the sea, an eighty year old dream of more than 400 miles of navigable inland waterway, drew both condemnation and praise here today in the latest of periodic arguments before army engineers.

Opposing interests sought to show Lieut. Col. Frank S. Besson of Galveston, district army engineer, that the Trinity River Canal association's plan to spend $65,000,000 in developing the river was impractical and "excessively expensive."

Proposal Is Opposed

C. B. Bee, Oklahoma state corporation commission counsel and I. G. Bentley, traffic manager of the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce, joined D. B. Foy, manager of the Wichita Falls chamber, and representatives of other West Texas cities, to argue against the proposal.

Foy has said in recent addresses that reduction of rail freight rates to those of ports would be at the expense of taxpayers, hampering railroads and truckers, and evidently depriving cities of taxes these agencies pay. He has also said the development would bring no ultimate savings to the territory served.

People Want Action

John M. Fouts of Dallas, manager of the association, carried the brunt of the argument here today for the plan. He announced he would present a lengthy list of witnesses tomorrow at a companion hearing at Fort Worth to show people want action on the proposal, and emphasize its potentialities for economic development.

Fouts has envisioned the transformation of the Trinity into a water route from Fort Worth and Dallas to Galveston and Houston, as a program requiring about a quarter century to complete.

He has said it will build an industrial empire, and without it Fort Worth and Dallas cannot take their proper places in the southwestern sun.

Opponents declare that only Dallas and Fort Worth will benefit.

Project Is Favored

Both East and West Texas Chambers of Commerce are recorded as favoring the project, officials of the latter announced because they felt the canalization would bring lower shipping rates for farmers.

Three forks merge to give the Trinity its name. West fork, draining Jack, Wise, and Tarrant counties, is united with Elm fork below Fort Worth; above Dallas. Elm fork rises in Montague county, and flows through Cooke and Denton, and the combined streams unite with the East fork, draining Grayson, Fanning, Collin, Kaufman and Rockwell counties, below Dallas.

With the first settlement of Texas the lower reaches of the stream were navigated. As development pushed inland the short, light draft steamers of the day crept upstream, carrying on a service with the spasmodic regularity of high water seasons; sometimes painfully probing as far as Dallas.

Dream Takes Shape

Then the dream was of navigation for transportation's sake, of year round, easy contact with the outside world.

Railroads provided this contact, condemning the in and out service of boats, but in 1890 agitation for navigation of the Trinity revived, with the argument then, as now that freight rates were too high, and a water outlet would bring a reduction.

"What the Erie has done for New York, the Trinity can do for Texas," speakers boomed. A Trinity river navigation company organized, built a steamer "Dallas," sent it down the river to clean out snags, and set up a temporary dam below Dallas to keep the water level up the East fork.

Laymen argued merits of light draft steamers and barges, and the agitation bore fruit in 1904 with a rivers and harbors bill carrying $500,000 for improvement, and the Dallas commercial club subscribed $66,000 additional.

Locks And Dams Built

By 1922 seven locks and dams costing an estimated $2,000,000 had been constructed, but the program had stalemated and physical gains were lost during the World war.

Two years ago a government survey, one of a number since 1853, reported canalization of the Trinity was feasible from an engineering

GERMANY AND ITALY REFUSE TO AID WAR UPON PIRACY

Nazi Plot To Seize Control Of U. S. In Revolution Bared

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Sept. 9—The Daily Times said in a copyright article today that "in uniforms strangely suggestive of those worn by Adolf Hitler's nazi storm troops, a relatively small but rapidly growing army is preparing for the American counterpart of 'der tag' when it plans to seize control of the United States."

The newspaper said the article resulted from an "exhaustive investigation of American nazis" made by three reporters and investigators, James J. Metcalfe, his brother and William A. Mueller. Mueller wrote the article.

The investigators, the newspaper said, "worked for many months both from within and outside the Amerikadeutscher Volksbund—German-American bund—and its companion organization, the Deutscher Volksbund" traveling from coast to coast and from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico, to "learn international secrets."

"Under the name of Oberwinder," the article continued, "the Metcalfe brothers months ago built themselves up as nazi sympathizers and were accepted as members of the organizations.

Acted As Propogandist

John Metcalfe established himself in the predominantly German Yorkville section of New York City and later acted as a propagandist for the Amerikadeutscher bund on a cross-country tour.

"A month after John Metcalfe became a storm trooper in New York his brother, James, was accepted as a member of the alien army operated by the Deutscher Volksbund in Chicago. . . .

"The Times investigators found the German brand of fascism spreading . . . throughout the nation. Leaders of the movement say they will seize control of the United States, but not until 'the communists' revolution starts!

OIL TAX IS BEING HINTED

Reductions In Personnel And Changes In WPA Office At Lubbock Announced Today

Announcement that statewide economy reductions in WPA administrative expenses will necessitate the dropping of 18 of the 42 employes of Lubbock district No. 17 headquarters was made by district officials here this morning.

The reorganization program, insofar as it affects the district, will mean the establishment of area offices, each under the direction of an engineer, at Spur and Lubbock, and of sub-area offices, each under the direction of an assistant engineer, at Hamlin and Littlefield, the announcement said further.

Jones Still In Charge

Lubbock likewise will continue as headquarters for the district of 24 counties, with J. O. Jones, present district director, continuing in charge with the title of district administrative field officer.

Engineer in charge of the Spur area office will be L. A. Rodenhiser and H. B. Jordan will have a similar assignment in Lubbock. John T. Johnson will be assistant engineer in charge of Hamlin sub-area office and R. L. Thurman of the sub-area branch at Littlefield.

District finance and statistical department, in which 10 persons now are employed, will be moved to San Antonio state headquarters, with the probability that A. L. Brden, now in charge of that division here, will be assigned there. UUnder the reorganization setup it was explained, the payrolls and reports of area and sub-area offices will go direct to San Antonio instead of being sent to Lubbock as in the past.

Many Details Remain

Uncertainty still existed as to just when the reorganization will go into effect, although district officials were of the opinion that it will be sometime after Sept. 15 and probably not later than Oct. 1. The making of the changes, which are being put into effect in each of the 12 district offices in the state, were described as being a task of multitudinous detail which will require much time. Among the other tasks will be those of transfering voluminous records to state headquarters and the shipping of furniture no longer required in the district divisions to San Antonio.

Income Levies On Companies Are Studied

Allred Claims Pipelines And Utilities Are Not Paying Their Share Of Expenses

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 9.—Governor James V. Allred said flatly today he thought oil pipelines and utilities should pay more taxes and hinted at possible efforts to place a levy on their incomes at the special session of the legislature to convene Sept. 27.

At the same time he reiterated previous statements that increased expense of government under his administration had resulted chiefly from expansion of social services voted by the people and that the legislature should provide money to carry out the mandates.

Comments On Conference

Commenting on a conference with members of a senate committee which has been investigating governmental expenses, the governor also said he thought suggestions finances should be improved by economies instead of new taxes should have been made at previous sessions.

"To throw into the next session the matter of reopening appropriations would be like tossing in raw meat," he observed. "When it was all over, there would be nothing left but the gristle."

The governor said he never had changed his opinion oil pipelines and utilities were not paying their fair share of the expense of government.

Tied Up In Courts

"The franchise tax on them was reduced on the theory they would have to pay the intangible assets tax yet railroads and pipelines have tied up the latter in courts," he said.

"The intangible assets tax is nothing but a property tax and pipelines and utilities are not paying as much as ordinary business corporations.

"It looks as if utilities and pipelines have taken over the government. I am going to find out at the next session if this is so.

"One possible way to make the pipelines pay more would be to levy a nice little income tax on them. Some states have corporation income taxes."

Decision Blow To Hopes For Quick Truce

Great Britain And France Are Determined To Get Action In Case; Parley Set Friday

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Sept. 9 — France and Great Britain answered German-Italian refusal to take part in a Mediterranean "anti-piracy" conference today with new determination to use their warships to prevent attacks on shipping.

Both the British and French also insisted that the conference in Switzerland tomorrow would achieve definite results—despite refusal of fascist powers to take part.

Ships Ordered Out

Even as the fascist powers refused to parley, the French navy ministry ordered another destroyer division to be ready to rush to the Mediterranean. The order told commanders to be ready to sail on a moment's notice to reinforce the fleet already on patrol against submarine "piracy".

The Italo-German rejection was a blow to British and French hopes for a peaceful solution of the crisis which grew out of the Spanish civil war.

Slap At Russia

It was a slap at Soviet Russia. Moscow had accused Italy of torpedoing two Soviet freighters in the eastern Mediterranean. The charge threatened a diplomatic breach between Russia and Italy.

But regardless of this, British officialdom declared:

"We want action and we mean to get it!"

Both British and French said the Mediterranean piracy question was removed from the hands of the Spanish civil war non-intervention committee just to get this action.

Germany and Italy, in their notes today, asked that the matter be referred to this non-intervention committee.

Such a solution was described as "completely inacceptable" to France and Britain.

Might Scrap Plan

With Italy and Germany absent from the Swiss conference, there was a suggestion the British might scrap a plan of "restricted zones" for submarines in the Mediterranean.

British naval experts had devised a scheme whereby undersea vessels found outside these zones would have been subject to attack by neutral warships.

The plan probably will be scuttled, it was said, because Britain would not want to sink Italian submarines found outside zones which Italy herself had not helped define.

As an alternative, a patrol and convoy system has been suggested.

Yugoslavia accepted an invitation to attend tomorrow's parley, bringing the total of acceptances to nine.

Site To Be Shifted

Because of refusal of Italy and Germany to take part in the parley it was expected the conference site would be shifted from Nyon, Switzerland, to Geneva.

Although Britain was determined to end the piracy, of which she had been a principal victim, her delegates were understood to have been instructed to do nothing at tomorrow's gathering to divide Mediterranean countries into fascist

4,000 Japs Wiped Out After Deadly Ambush

(By The Associated Press)

PEIPING, Sept. 9—A detachment of 4,000 Japanese troops was reported today to have been wiped out by a deadly Chinese ambush in the rocky hills west of here. The Japanese line was said to have been thrust back five miles by the sudden Chinese onslaught.

Japanese commanders were obviously more and more worried over the fate of their operations in this area, where their advance has been held up a full month by dogged Chinese resistance and astute strategy.

Reinforcements Rushed

Heavy reinforcements were flowing through Peiping to Lianghsiang, 30 miles to the south, and to the sorely menaced Japanese right flank in the western hills around Mentoukuo, 25 miles to the west.

The steady stream of wounded Japanese coming back from the front was almost equally heavy.

Identity Of Man Killed When Fire Destroys Home Sought

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 9 (AP)—Police and fire department officials were still trying today to identify a man who was burned to death in an explosion-fire at the home of John H. Maloy, trucker, yesterday.

Maloy and members of his family returned from Fort Worth last night but were unable to throw any light on identification of the fire victim or as to a possible reason for his presence in the house.

Captive Will Get Release

(By The Associated Press)

BURGOS, Spain, Sept. 9—Harold Dahl, 26-year-old Champaign, Ill., captive airman who is under sentence of death, told the Associated Press today that Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco has promised his release.

The promise was made to Dahl's bride of less than a year, who is now living at Cannes, France, Dahl was informed.

The insurgent chieftain assured her that Dahl would be released as an exchange prisoner, the young flier learned.

Writes Personal Letter

A personal letter from Mrs Dahl direct to the generalissimo, enclosing her picture, did what official negotiations were not able to accomplish.

Dahl, who bailed out of his blazing Spanish government plane when it was shot down by insurgents July 12, was so worried about his fate that he refused to tell reporters his name until he learned of the plan for his freedom.

The estimated production compared with 2,933,000 bales last year and 2,956,000 in 1935.

Oklahoma Youth Is Permitted To Continue Medical Studies

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 9 (AP)—John Bonnifield, 24-year-old Sayre, Okla., farm youth, will go to Baylor university, Waco, Tex., this year to continue his studies in medicine and not to the El Reno, Okla., federal reformatory.

Federal Judge Edgar S. Vaught suspended a six-month liquor sentence and placed Bonnifield under three-year probation today because of good behavior and prospects for the future.

Bonnifield, who pleaded guilty in September, 1935, to selling liquor to get money for school expenses, said he has a job in a Waco hospital when school opens. After a plea by his attorney, Bonnifield won a stay of sentence to permit him to continue in school last year.

Present Army Methods Are Claimed Obsolete

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9. — Present army communication methods have become obsolete war department experts said today, because of the speed of motorized fighting forces.

They based their conclusion on observations of field maneuvers of the fourth army, described by Maj. Gen. George S. Simonds as "the most realistic ever held in the west." More than 56,000 men from 16 western states participated.

Conclusions Drawn

Observers of the four weeks of mythical combat came to these general conclusions:

Increased mobility of the army as the result of motorization makes it imperative that the commanding officer have more complete information about the theater of operations and the enemy's movements.

Increased mobility also makes it necessary that the commanding officer's communication with all units under his command be so complete that he can instantly transmit orders.

Information Is Needed

The increased mobility has not been balanced by equally effective means for providing information about the enemy's movements.

Field radios, telephones and motorcycle messengers have not yet reached an efficiency to furnish a motorized army with the superior

Cap Refused To Take Her Word For It

When Cap Moore, deputy sheriff, went this morning to serve a citation on a Lubbock woman he found she was "not at home."

She told him so herself!

The woman's father called into another room.

"Here's an officer with a citation."

"Tell him I'm not here," came the woman's voice, not guarded enough to prevent the officer's hearing.

"Well, tell her she's served, anyway," said Moore, tossing the instrument on a chair and leaving.

The story was found on the return endorsement written on the instrument by thee deputy.

Flat Warning Given World

(By The Associated Press)

NURNBERG, Sept. 9—Nazi Germany's little propaganda minister, Paul Joseph Goebbels, declared before national socialism's annual congress today that a new Europe is being formed "for which we will fight to the last breath" against communism.

Dr. Goebbels brought all his powers of invective into play—some of them against Americans and "deluded" democracies—a few hours after Germany had decided she could not sit down at a Mediterranean conference table with other powers so long as Soviet Russia, which has accused fascist Italy of sinking her ships, would be there.

Warning Is Given

He warned Europe and the democracies that "Spain is the world's crossroads" and added:

"What happens today in Spain may repeat itself tomorrow in any country!"

Then he screamed that the establishment of "a communist power" in western Europe 'cannot be tolerated."

Dangerous Narcotic Weed Soon To Be Under Federal Control

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9. — Marihuana, noxious weed of narcotic properties which sociologists blame for much crime and youthful delinquency, will come under federal control October 1.

The treasury published today regulations for enforcement of the law passed by congress limiting use of marihuana and putting it under control of the federal narcotic bureau. Nominal taxes are imposed on manufacturers, importers, compounders, dealers and doctors.

The law was passed after narcotics agents said they had traced criminal inspiration to effects of the weed. It has been discovered in forms for eating, drinking and smoking.

Agents said its cheapness made it popular among narcotic addicts and that sellers apparently had attempted to build up a clientele, by peddling cigarettes and candy containing it to high school children. Physicians said steady use of marihuana leads to insanity.

Marihuana, allied to the loco weed that kills cattle in the southwest, is a Mexican word for the plans the Egyptians called hashish.

Chemical To End Mine Blasts Seen As Future Possibility

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

ROCHESTER, N. Y. Sept. 9. — A "negative catalyst," a chemical to end mine explosions by poisoning the explosion before it can start was seen as a future possibility today at the American Chemical society.

Two of these explosion poisoners are known, it was explained by Bernard Lewis, of the U. S. bureau of mines, at Pittsburgh, but they cannot be used because they would also poison men. The pair are a form of iodine known as an organic iodide, and a bromide, which is unlike the well known medicine.

"Whether mine and other explosions can be effectively inhibited," said Dr. Lewis, "by some such means as the addition of small amounts of substances acting as negative catalysts remains to be answered in the future."

The most popular "negative catalyst" is the lead in gasoline. It slows down the explosion so that the engine will not knock.

The mechanism by which the air of an entire mine may be

YOU CAN THROW CARDS IN HIS FACE ONCE TOO OFTEN

WHEN you have those awful cramps, when your nerves are all on edge—don't take it out on the man you love.

Your husband can't possibly know how you feel for the simple reason that he is a man.

A three-quarter wife may be no wife at all if she nags her husband seven days out of every month.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood 2. Preparing for motherhood 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

Huey Wouldn't Recognize Louisiana Now If He Could See His Former Empire

(By The Associated Press)

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 9. — The second anniversary, September 10, of the assassination of Huey Long finds political Louisiana a strangely different organism from the turbulent commonwealth the Kingfish ruled.

Sitting at the desk Huey's iron fist used to bang is one of his former lieutenants, youthful, brawny Richard W. Leche (pronounced Lesh).

But, where Long was bitter, Leche is placating and friendly, wary of strife.

Where Long repeatedly summoned sessions of the state legislature to put punitive laws on the books, Leche has studiously avoided legislative entanglements.

Brings In Industries

Huey had been a great hand at soaking industries with taxes. Leche has repealed such taxes and gone to the other extreme. To a new industry building in Louisiana, today's governor promises 10 years of tax-exemption. In less than nine months that offer has brought $25,000,000 worth of new industries or expansion projects.

The Kingfish always opposed a "luxury tax" on certain retail sales. Leche not only has put that tax into effect, but he has flirted with the idea of extending it to all sales.

And under Huey, as most of the country knows, Louisiana got precious little federal money. Mr. Long and President Roosevelt were not pals.

Gets U. S. Monies

But during the Leche administration projects that Long had planned have received the following amounts in federal help:

Charity hospital, New Orleans, $12,000,000.

New bridge to cross the Mississippi at Baton Rouge, $10,000,000.

Buildings at Louisiana State university, $5,000,000.

He and his wife have done some helpful entertaining. Recently they threw a party for more than 2,000 farmers, who flocked to the executive mansion from all of the state's 64 parishes.

Silences Critics

A sharp ear could have detected rumblings against the Long administration in those old days. But Huey's successor seems to have placated the opposition. At least it does not manifest itself to any extent.

Leche, 38, had to be coaxed to the governorship. He had been secretary to the late O. K. Allen, Long's immediate successor as governor. Then he had been named to the obscure, but secure, post of judge of the State Court of Appeal. He was drafted to prevent others in the Long faction from splitting the ranks in a fight over the governorship.

As a harmonizer, he seems to be doing pretty well.

Nearly 10 million tons of limestone would be needed to neutralize the acidity of all the Oklahoma soil which needs lime treatment.

The state of Michigan has 7647 miles of railways within its borders.

After an informal meeting at 5 o'clock, and a picnic supper at 6, the Baptist Student council will meet at 7 o'clock. Students from Texas Technological college, Draughon's Business college, and student nurses from West Texas hospital and Lubbock sanitarium are cooperating in the conference.

"Supremacy Of Christ" Theme

Fred Litton of Lubbock, president of the Baptist Student union, and W. P. Clement, registrar of Texas Technological college and faculty advisor of the union, will preside at the conference. Theme of classes, lectures and meetings will be "The Supremacy of Christ."

Speakers on the conference program include: Lattimore Ewing, president of the state young people's organization, who attended the World Youth conference in Zurich, Switzerland, this summer; Miss Bonnie Thomas, a 1934 graduate of Texas Technological college who now is a student at Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary, Fort Worth; and Miss Josephine Scaggs, also a seminary student.

Others On Program

Rev. C. E. Hereford, pastor of First Baptist church, and Mrs. Hereford will be on the program, as will Mrs. Ann S. Maxwell of Dallas, state young people's leader; Dr. F. B. Malone, Lubbock physician; Leo Waite, educational director of the First Baptist church here; Mrs. Waite, and Miss Ruby Atwood of Lubbock.

The state Baptist Student union conference will be held here Oct. 29-31 and a large part of the program this week will be taken up with plans for the state convention. According to Miss Corinne Brown, young people's director here, approximately 500 students are expected to attend the October session, first to be held west of Brownwood.

All Medicines Had Failed Completely —Gly-Cas Amazes

Gentleman Has Full Use Of Hand And Leg Again, Able To Walk To Town; Regained Health After He Had Given Up Hope

"It is a pleasure to tell others how they too may regain their health through Gly-Cas" said Mr. Balzle, R. No. 2, Harlingen, Texas. "Two years ago I was paralyzed in my left side and right leg and had not been able to use my hand at all. there was simply no life there and I could hardly walk. I became so nervous I could not sleep, walked the floor the biggest part of the night. My appetite was gone, could not eat the food. I wished and worried continually about my condition. I was losing weight and energy and could not find any medicine to help me in the least. Gas pains in my lower bowels were a constant cause for distress with me too which simply added to my already miserable condition. But once I gave Gly-Cas the opportunity to help me I was soon started on the road to recovery.

"Within two weeks time I began to show a wonderful improvement and the use of my hand and leg came back to me," continued Mr. C. H. Balzle. "The poisons were removed from my system and I can now get around with ease, even walked to town which is two miles from my home. My appetite has been restored too, eat anything I wish, sleep the full night through and have gained six pounds in weight. This new remedy, Gly-Cas has been worth everything to me."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co. 1219 Broadway, this city and by all the leading drug stores in surrounding towns. Adv.

Repairs Are Given To Rooms At Tech

Painters, plasterers and carpenters are busy this week in rooms at Texas Technological college which will be occupied by students next week.

Preparation for opening of the fall semester includes repainting of corridor walls and replastering of bannisters in the administration building, repainting of halls and some offices in the administration building, and partitioning of four classrooms. The work was begun Tuesday.

Construction of a cottage which will be used cooperatively by women students as an experiment in cheaper housing began today. Jess Williams is contractor. The cottage will be in line with the president's home on the campus, facing College avenue at Sixteenth street. Contract was let last week to Williams, whose bid was $12,750. Construction is to be completed within 90 days.

Rooms Being Partitioned

Rooms are being partitioned to provide additional classroom space and offices for the dean of men. Two rooms are being divided in the administration building and one in the engineering building to provide additional classroom space, and one is being partitioned on the second floor of the administration building to provide offices for James G. Allen, new acting dean of men.

Williams has contract for partitioning, at a cost of $891.

T. T. Fisher has the plastering contract and G. W. Jones the painting contract.

Students At College Seeking Employment

Officials of Texas Technological college are faced with problem of aiding approximately 1,200 prospective students in finding employment.

Of the 3,010 students enrolled last year, approximately 1,900 earned all or part of their expenses. The college aided approximately 1,300 through National Youth administration jobs, scholarships, loans, and in other ways.

All of the 192 NYA jobs available this year have been granted, except a few reserved for advanced students, said President Bradford Knapp.

Calvin Hazlewood of the employment and housing office asked that Lubbock employers with part-time jobs available for students call that office.

Supper For Faculty Members Of Sunday School Is Held

A supper for faculty members of the First Presbyterian church Sunday school was attended by approximately 30 persons Wednesday night, said Paul Laverty, Sunday school superintendent.

Plans were made for boosting attendance on Rally Day which will be Sept. 26. J. E. Maisen, general chairman of the Rally Day drive, presented plans.

A brief talk was given by Harry Blocker who was in charge of the devotional part of the program.

SCHOOL OPENS

LEVELLAND, (Special) — The Smyer schools, in the east part of the county, opened Aug. 30 with a good enrollment, Charles R. Lail, superintendent, reported more than 180 pupils attending.

A wild turkey was clocked in flight at about 55 miles an hour, over a distance of almost a mile.

Old Age Assistance Offices In Lubbock County Moved

Lubbock county offices of the state old age assistance commission have been moved from the third floor to the basement of the courthouse, according to R. S. Williams, investigator.

The same schedule as in the past will be maintained, with the offices being open Friday afternoon and Saturday morning to receive applications, he said.

Re-investigation is under way to determine which of the persons obtaining assistance under the old law are eligible under the new law. The re-investigation has been in progress "for quite a while," Williams said. Completion is expected in about two months.

The last of a series of weekly radio programs given by the office here will be from 3:45 to 4 o'clock next Wednesday over station KFYO, Williams said. Purpose of the programs has been to explain the work of the Texas Old Age assistance plan, he said.

BACK TO LEVELLAND

LEVELLAND, (Special)—Mrs. Joe Tunnell, violin teacher in the Levelland schools, said she would resume her work by Oct. 1. She is in California taking a special course under Carroll Shirley, well known teacher.

Among native Englishwomen, 46 per cent take sizes 4 and 5 in shoes, 24 per cent sizes above that, 30 per cent take size 3, and 10 per cent sizes below that.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Tahoka Offers Big Barbecue

(Special To The Journal)

TAHOKA, Sept. 9—A barbecue at noon and afternoon and night rodeo performances for cash prizes totaling $300 were high spots today of the first annual Tahoka round-up which attracted a crowd estimated at nearly 4,000 for the opening Wednesday. A $100 saddle also is included in today's prizes.

Unscheduled thrills were provided Thursday when George Wilderstein of Fort Worth broke the neck of a steer in a steer-wrestling event. Wilderstein received abrasions on his face.

J. B. McPherson, chairman, and R. W. (Buster) Fenton, jr., vice-chairman of the business men's committee, were in charge. The afternoon show, lengthier than had been expected, closed about 4:30. Promoters promised speedier performances today. The two-day Round-Up will close tonight with the fourth performance.

Rodeo winners last night had not been announced officially. Awards will be given for day winners, not for each performance or for the entire show, promoters said.

Parade Is Staged

Official opening was at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon with a parade in the downtown section. Charlie Copeland, rodeo director, and Leroy Knight led the parade. The lengthy parade was made up of approximately 50 rodeo performers, cowboys and cowgirls and about 60 cars and farm implements. Twenty-eight firms were represented.

Judges are Milt Good of Dickens, Bud Spilsbury of Big Spring, and Yates Harwell of Tahoka.

Featured Performers Seen

Featured performers were: Paris (Toofy) McCrory, 10-year-old trick roper of Deadwood, S. D.; J. D. Phillips and his trick horse, "Diamond Dick" the horse being directed from the announcer's platform; Joe Williams, trick roper from Lampasas; "Chuck" O'Conner, also of Deadwood, clown; and girl trick riders, Toots Brown of Roswell and Loraine Yale of Amarillo.

Rodeo events were bronc riding, wild cow milking, calf roping, cowgirl bronc riding and bulldogging. There were 13 entries in bronc riding, 21 in wild cow milking, 18 in calf roping, 7 in bulldogging, and approximately 15 in steer riding.

Although official winners were not announced, calf roping times Wednesday were: Son Hancock of Roswell, N. M., 15.5 seconds; Roy Sewell and Curly Daugherty, the latter of Olton, 17.3; Buck Standefer of Big Spring, 19.6; and Roy Matthews of Fort Worth, 23.4.

Bulldogging times were: Spilsbury, 10.1; Vernon Haskell of Brownfield, 15.6; Bill Hancock, also of Roswell, 20.8; and John Curry of Dumas, 22.1.

Times for milking wildcows were: Doc Spencer, 14.5 and Lynn Smith of Roswell, 20.6.

Bronc Riders Perform

Among the bronc riders were Bill Taylor and Claxter Parris of Breckenridge, Jack Yale of Amarillo, Bruce Ross of Sayre, Okla., Eddie Cain of Perryton, and Buster Brown and Van Brown.

Cowboys who rode steers were Hoot Gibson of Tahoka, Carl Dykes of Fort Worth, A. P. Shedd of Post.

Colorado City Revives Tales Of Old Days

COLORADO, Sept. 9 (AP)—Tales of old Colorado City, half a century ago a rip-roaring, flourishing cow town at the end of the railroad, were revived last night on the eve of a three day frontier roundup.

Old cowmen swapped yarns about the time a miserable cluster of tents suddenly boomed into a city of 5,000 inhabitants when the Texas and Pacific laid its tracks to the canvas houses' doors in 1881.

Then, they reminisced, there were more than 20 saloons, a daily newspaper, a $10,000 wagon yard, and fine accommodations in hotels and restaurants. The city's trade territory then extended northwest past Lubbock, north to Dickens county, and south to San Angelo.

HAS MANY MELONS

LEVELLAND, (Special) — C. O. Reed, a farmer nine miles north of Levelland, had much success growing watermelons. He is one of the few farmers to put melons on the market three weeks.

Bill Hancock of Roswell, Earl Moore of Olton, Bobbie Estes of Baird, G. K. Luallin of Abilene, Harold Dixon and Shorty Hill of Lovington, N. M., George Steele of Pecos, and Mutt Ray.

"Dog Gone," a steer from the Double Hart ranch near Sweetwater, threw his seventeenth consecutive rider, said Ollie Cox who entered the animal.

Ned Bradley And His Boys Are Back And New Features Offered To Dance Lovers

The weird effects sustaining chords and high trombone obligato of "When Buddha Smiles" are back—Ned Bradley and his orchestra have returned.

It is a different band, however—not only because "there is a new man and 11 members instead of the original 10," but because the group's three arrangers have built consciously toward a dual "sweet and swing" combination somewhat like that affected by Benny Goodman's internationally known dance band.

New Arrangements Made

Charles McCain, an Indiana boy who plays the piano, Carter Pierce a trumpeter and Ray (Red) Nichols who plays reeds have arranged numerous popular hits into Bradley's requirements and the group turned down an engagement at the Oklahoma City Blue Moon club in order to return here for a vacation period that will be utilized in "building up repertoire."

At that, Bradley and his youthful musicians (they range from 18 to 25 years old) will have little time to themselves. There will be a Homecoming dance Saturday night at the Auditorium, a Howdy dance Tuesday night at the Hilton hotel, several Rush week dances beginning next week for Tech students, as well as a dance at Plainview and one, the greatest, at the West Texas fair at Abilene.

In Numerous Engagements

Since Bradley and his band left Lubbock for summer hot spots they have: Played four weeks at the Heidelburg hotel at Baton Rouge, broadcasting each night over WJBO; filled a four weeks engagement at El Tivoli, just outside Dallas on the Fort Worth pike, broadcasting nightly over KRLD; played a three-weeks engagement at Blossom Heath in Oklahoma City, broadcasting over KOMA, and thence went to Opelousas, La., for two weeks; back to Texas for one-night stands; Pass Christian's Chez Paree club, in a resort city near New Orleans and Gulfport; back to Opelousas for an engagement at a rival, incidentally a larger, club four weeks, and back to Lubbock.

Bradley said Joan Olsen, former Follies girl who will be presented with his orchestra, "will please everyone. Miss Olsen's voice is very low and would be an asset to any swing band."

Motley-Dickens Group Plans Benefit Dance On Friday

ROARING SPRINGS, Sept. 9, (Special)—Because of a deficit in the treasury of Motley-Dickens Counties Old-Settlers association, despite a good attendance in a recent two-day meeting, the association will sponsor a square dance on the grounds here Friday night.

The deficit resulted from purchase of a tabernacle in which to hold the annual gathering.

A string orchestra has been employed, said C. C. Haile of Afton, the president of the association.

Plenty Of Cotton And Plenty Of Gins In Lynn County

TAHOKA, Sept. 9, (Special)—There will be plenty of cotton in Lynn county this year—but, on the other hand, there will be plenty of gins, too.

There are 27 gins in Lynn county, divided thus: five at Tahoka, five at O'Donnell, three at Wilson, two at Grassland, two at New Home, and one each at Draw, Gordon, Hackberry, New Lynn, Wayside, Lakeview, Petty T-Bar, Wells, and Needmore.

Most of the plants are equipped with modern and highly efficient machinery, and necessary repairs have been completed. More than 200 men will be employed by the plants.

THE HUBER CARBONS of Borger come back to the local baseball lot Sunday to give the Hubbers another chance. The game will be at 3 o'clock, and a couple of left-handers will be throwing—Lefty Carrithers of Borger opposing Lefty Blanchard of Lubbock.

The Hubbers were not content with the "moral victory" two Sundays ago, and have been on the sponsor and the schedule maker to bring Borger back again. So Borger's coming, at considerable expense to the local baseball pushers.

It may be the final game of the season, despite previous rumors of post-season frolics. One of two things may keep the Fort Worth Cats from coming this way after the Texas league play-off: They may win the pennant and crash the Dixie Series, which would forestall any barnstorming tour, or (2) they may be unable to line up a schedule through these parts. The Phillips team of Amarillo and the Oilers of Pampa have folded up their uniforms and called it a season, thus knocking out two prospective games the Cats had counted on. There's still a chance the Cats will get a game or two around Big Spring, maybe one or two at Littlefield or Sudan or Amherst, one here, and one at Borger. Whether they'll come out for that remains to be seen.

So Sunday's game is the last one on the definite schedule. The All-Stars from California have hinted they'd be this way about Sept. 19, but nothing definite has been done. The date will be held open for a while.

HERE'S A JOB FOR YOUNG FOOTBALL COACH

Baseball soon will have to move over a bit for football—and that provides an opening for the rest of this colyum, which reminds of an opening for a young man, preferably a college graduate, who is looking for a coaching job. Joe Potter, former superintendent at Anton High, now assuming the head job at Walnut Springs—that's in Bosque county, between Cleburne, Hillsboro and Stephenville—writes to ask if we can help him locate a football coach who can teach history, math or business administration. The school opens Sept. 20, and is desperately in need of another faculty man who can take care of sports. The right man will have a pleasant job, and Potter is a swell person to work for and with.

Coaches are much in demand over the whole state this season as the profession undergoes one of the biggest turnovers in recent history. Texas Tech, for instance, can not possibly supply enough graduates to fill the positions offered. There's a "waiting list" of offers as long as the line of scrimmage on Pete Cawthon's desk, and schools have been taking Tech boys as football coaches who never played the game.

But we hope Potter gets his coach and a coach gets a job.

PICKUPS FROM THE Dallas jamboree: A lot of the experts are picking the Texas Aggies as the team to beat in the Southwest conference race, but the coaches with whom we talked at the rules meeting are keeping a weather eye cocked for Jimmy Kitts and Rice Institute. . . . Rice'll be tough this year, and Kitts himself is only half-hearted in denying it. . . . Nobody seems to look for Texas to win the flag this year, but they're very wary of Dana Bible as who isn't? . . . They're saying the Texas Tech University of Texas game will attract a crowd comparable with almost any conference game. . . . The Red Raiders may hop a plane, or a couple of planes, for the Austin trip, as well as for the Detroit junket. . . .

Former Texas Tech gridders attending the Dallas sessions included Dennis Vinzant, Juicy Owen, Buddy Brothers, Red Waller and G. B. Morris. . . . Former Lubbock coaches who gravitated: Virgil Ballard, Bill Keeling, Swede McMurry. . . . Swede's very popular at Gainesville, and due to have a good year. . . . Big Juicy Owen, who spent the summer attending University of Michigan, isn't so hopeful for Electra, since it's so close to Wichita Falls, which is supposed to be tough. . . . Michigan, he says, won't have much of a student body, let alone a football team, if scholastic requirements there are continued as they are now. . . . to play on the varsity, a man must have a B average in everything. . . . Look for Harry Kipke to be pulling out of there soon. . . .

Football officials of the state are striving to form more sociable pacts with coaches, to decrease ill feelings that crop out, and it'd be a good thing. . . . Dana Bible looks five years older, and worried. . . . Homer Norton looks younger and anything but worried. . . . Curtis Parker says Centenary will get along pretty good with its thirteen game schedule. . . . Fears Tech as much as anybody . . . . Morley Jennings, dean of Southwest conference coaches and one of the most respected in any meeting of coaches and officials, believes Lloyd Russell will still be a help at Baylor, in the role of assistant coach . . . . but doesn't see how the Bears'll win many games. . . .

Ben Lee Boynton, probably the most popular of Southwest officials, is giving up the whistle for the microphone and the officials, who now call him "Crooner Boynton," hate to see him leave. . . . He'll be in Lubbock to help broadcast a Tech pep rally Sept. 30, two days before the Montana game. . . . He's on the Coca-Cola airwaves now, and liking his new job. . . . Jack Mahan, the Oklahoma rancher, popular official, needs to lose a few pounds. . .

Two Games Slated In Area Friday

Lubbock fans must wait another week before looking over local teams in action, but the football season makes a debut in the vicinity tomorrow when two games are scheduled by schoolboy teams.

At Cooper High, Coach Fred Rich will pit his new team against Draw in a free gate game. The public is invited, and there'll be no charges. The game starts at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

The District 5 Class B race gets under way Friday night at Slaton where the Slaton Bulldogs clash with Olton High schoo. Both clubs probably will be in the district championship running this season and the game will "count" on the books. The contest gets under way at 8 o'clock. Slaton lost only to Littlefield in last year's district race.

The Lubbock Westerners open their schedule a week from tomorrow night, playing the Cisco Loboes at Texas Tech stadium.

Texas Tech's Red Raiders, who are drifting in now for official practice beginning tomorrow, will open next Saturday afternoon with a conference game against the Arizona State Teachers of Flagstaff.

The Texas Tech freshmen team will open its five-game schedule on Sept. 24 at Greenville, playing Nick Dobbs' Wesley college team.

Texas Schools To Open Campaign

Hillsboro And Port Arthur Will Clash

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Sept. 9.—Hillsboro's air-minded Eagles and Port Arthur's battering Yellow Jackets clash this week as the eighteenth annual football campaign of the Texas Interscholastic league opens.

The clash brings together teams that figured strongly in the 1936 championship race. Hillsboro won the title of district 11, Port Arthur not only took the district 14 championship but waded into the semi-finals where the Jackets fell before the fine Kerrville team that gave Amarillo many a heartache in the finals.

Port Arthur Favored

The game is scheduled Saturday night at Port Arthur, but unless Hillsboro has uncovered a flock of dark horses Port Arthur should win the contest. Hillsboro lost most of its 1936 team. Port Arthur returns with another veteran club.

One hundred teams wait until next week to open the drive. Five others go into action Friday night, Denison playing at Greenville in a game almost equal in importance to the Hillsboro-Port Arthur tilt. Denison, a favorite in district 5, gets a rugged test against Greenville, district 6 contender, at Greenville. The former, however, will be favored.

Quanah of district 2 plays class B Nocona at Quanah. Bryan of district 11 tackles class B Caldwell at Bryan and Laredo of district 15 warms up against the Laredo all-stars.

Present Roster Stands

While enrollment in the 1937 campaign does not end until next Wednesday, the present roster of 107 class A teams is expected to stand, Director Roy B. Henderson states.

There are no changes in the rules this year and the same plan of 16 districts will be followed. However, Henderson says he does feel that by 1938 some of the conference A districts should be rearranged due to the steady influx of teams. The number this year is the highest in the history of the league.

The age limit at the present time is 19 years. It is the second season for this rule which lowered the limit by one year. Any boy 19 years of age on Sept. 1, 1937, will not be eligible. A boy who becomes 19 on Sept. 2 or any day thereafter is eligible.

Thompson Is Named As Tech Director

Charles C. Thompson of Colorado has been named director of Texas Technological college to succeed Mrs. S. W. Meharg of Plainview, who died recently, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Austin Wednesday night.

James E. Kilday of Houston was appointed a member of the board of regents of the College of Arts and Industries at Kingsville, succeeding Claude Pollard of Austin, while Mrs. Loraine J. Spoonts of Corpus Christi and R. C. Eckhardt of Kingsville were reappointed.

Mustangs Will Feature Aerial Attacks Again

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Sept. 9.—Colonel Matty Bell, of the early twenties Centre college Colonels, is really certain about only two things when mentioning his 1937 Southern Methodist Mustangs:

"We could be Southwest conference pennant contenders—and then we could get the pants licked off us."

Which, Bell admits, is tops in fence straddling but the only way to figure a team with only six seniors on the squad and only one or two of them likely to be starters.

"Spirit? Hustle? I've never seen a bunch of youngsters so ready for a football season. Oh, I guess you could say they'll be better than last year's team. They've learned a lot since they pushed Fordham all over the field and got beat, 7-0."

Bell's major worries, and they've got the colonel counting sheep at night, concern his tackles and left halfback. He figures one tackle slot will be well filled by shifting Charlie Sprague, last year's stormy center, but is leery about the other. Bulky, 220-pound Leamon Phillips, one of the seniors he figures will crash the starting eleven, will be tried, while a 205-pound sophomore, Willie Curik, is another Bell hopes will blossom into a stout lineman.

To Try Shifty Back

For the left halfback post, Bell will try Henry Guynes, a senior he classifies as "the shiftiest of all my backs." Guynes, never a regular, will take over kicking duties handled by last year's Bob Finley, one of the best of all Southwest punters.

Aerial trickery again will play the chief role in the Mustang offensive. Sturdy Jack Morrison, son of Ray Morrison, originator of the S. M. U. "aerial circus," will be the chief gunner of Mustang sk, raids.

Two towering pass receivers, Kansas Bill Dewell and Keith Ranspot, the former the club's sophomore sensation last year, ease Bell's worries as to who will gather in the heaves.

Belville At Quarter

Chanting his signals and doing the heavy work at fullback will be Bob Belville, a 185-pound "holdout" off last year's squad. Belville, although a sophomore in '36, saw every game from the sidelines because Bell felt he would learn more by watching than occasionally breaking into a senior backfield. Anyway, now he has three full years of eligibility.

The Mustangs, "a light club that won't average 190 pounds," open against North Texas Teachers Sept. 25 and then meet, on successive weekends, Centenary, Washington university, Vanderbilt, Arkansas, Texas, Texas A. and M., Baylor, U. C. L. C., Texas Christian and Rice institute.

Santone Clinches Playoff Position

(By The Associated Press)

The San Antonio Missions clinched a place in the Texas league Shaughnessy playoff and the Beaumont Exporters definitely were eliminated from the first division last night.

The Missions trounced their visitors, the Galveston Bucs, in a double bill, 5-2, and 4-0.

Beaumont, playing at Houston, lost the first game 8-1 and took the second 6-2.

The league-leading Oklahoma City Indians took both games from the trailing Dallas Steers, 8 to 1 and 3-2. The visiting Dallasites, in the first game, were faced by Ash Hillin, Oklahoma City pitcher, who tied the modern Texas league record for games won. It was his 30th win of the season.

Two night games at Tulsa between the Oilers and the Fort Worth Cats were cancelled because of rain.

Mrs. J. H. Stiles Is Chosen President Of Club Women

Election of officers for the following year featured a business meeting of Lubbock Country club women's golf association yesterday, Mrs. J. H. Stiles was named president, Mrs. E. A. Henry, vice-president and Mrs. Tom Duggan, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. C. L. Dean was elected corresponding secretary and chairman of all tournament committees, and Mrs. Glen Smith was installed as publicity secretary.

Prizes offered in the Ladies Day golf activity went to Mrs. Dean and Mrs. Smith, the former after a play-off with Mrs. Henry for the fewest number of putts during the round, the latter for winning the blind bogey hole.

The organization decided to conduct a "get-your-goat" tournament, a handicap challenge affair to run through the fall season, winner to be determined by the number of "goats" she gets during the tournament.

Collegians On Small End Of 14-7 Count

NEW YORK, Sept. 9. (AP)—Thanks to the New York Giants' 14 to 7 victory over the eastern all-star college eleven, professional football today had regained some of the prestige lost in recent encounters with college outfits.

The Giants made it two in a row over the collegians last night.

The game ended just after Mickey Kobrosky of Trinity had passed the collegians 78 yards to the Giants' two-yard marker. Needing only one yard for a first down or two for a touchdown, the collegians were confronted by a stone wall that held battering Stu Smith to the line of scrimmage, and 38,000 fans went home, singing the praises of the team put together in three weeks by wily Andy Kerr of Colgate.

Collegians Strike Quick

After playing the pros off their feet in the first quarter, the collegians struck quick and hard in the second period. Lew Elverson set the stage by a 19-yard punt return. A smooth passing attack, engineered by Kobrosky took the ball 39 yards to the one-yard marker from where Vannie Albanese, injured Syracuse ace, plunged over.

The Giants were not long in tying the score. Tuffy Leemans took one of Fran Murray's punts on his 34-yard stripe, and with a beautiful exhibition of broken field running stepped 66 yards for a touchdown.

In the third quarter with a Giant thrust that carried into the final period, Hank Soar carried the ball seven times to gain 40 yards before bucking over from the two-yard stripe.

Final Golf Tourney Of Season Slated

Meadowbrook Golf club will be host Sunday to what may be the final tournament of the local season when players gather for the annual South Plains invitation.

Golfers from all over the South Plains are eligible, and invited, to compete. The tournament formerly was held as a grand windup to the South Plains League warfare, but this year stands on its own feet as the South Plains invitation, since the league did not function.

Players from Slaton, Brownfield, Lamesa, Littlefield, Amherst, Tahoka, Petersburg, Plainview, Abernathy, Hale Center and the local clubs are expected to compete in the one-day, medal play event.

Divide Into Flights

The tournament gets under way Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, or earlier, with an 18-hole qualifying round. Results of this round will determine flights into which players will fall for the afternoon finale. Medal play will still be the rule in each flight, and prizes will go to winners in each division, as well as to the all-day medalist, to the oldest and youngest players competing.

Meadowbrook players copped the honors last year, Alfred Holton winning first place with a 36-hole score of 130—ten under par. Edgar Doherty was second and Manson Allen third.

Giants Retain Narrow Lead Over Cubs

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals looked very much today as if they were sharpening up a knife for the purpose of cutting off their collective nose to spite their equally collective face.

If they were really serious about suggesting a year's retirement for Dizzy Dean, and were not just talking to throw a scare into baseball's No. 1 blower-offer, it would seem they'd be doing themselves more harm than good by shelving the greatest pitching arm in the game for that length of time, despite his eccentricities.

Row Takes Spotlight

The row started by Branch Rickey with the retirement suggestion, and followed up by Dean's plaintive plea for permission to trade himself, took the stage away from anything in the big time today. Playing second fiddle to the Rickey-Dean brasses were such other developments as the re-appointment of "Boiling Boily" Grimes as chief umpire baiter and manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers; the continuation of the Giants' 2 1-2-game lead in the National league race; the widening of the Yankees' American league edge to 12 full games, and the rise of Pittsburgh to third place in the National league and Cleveland to fourth in the American.

The Cards may have their reasons for talking about packing Dizzy's arm — as well as his ability to talk it out with anyone in the game—in mothballs for a year. These would include, of course, the fact that such a move would, as Rickey described it, "act as a tonic and build up his baseball morale as well as his arm."

No Evidence Of Need

But on the other hand Dizzy has given no evidence that his pitching warrants a year's retirement—and when he's right, he's somewhat better than a greenhand at fogging 'em in.

His ailments of the moment, he contends, are at worst only temporary. He's still one of the game's big drawing cards, as well as a piece of ivory that could return a tidy sum on the open market.

He certainly didn't look ready for a wheelchair yesterday as he pitched a five-hitter against the Cubs. Al-

A FEW COMMENTS on electric cookery

"THE COOLNESS of electric cookery appeals to me. It simply cannot heat your kitchen because the thick insulation of my Westinghouse keeps the heat in the oven where it belongs."

"THE CLEANLINESS of my Westinghouse range is its big feature. No pots and pans to scour . . . my curtains remain fresh because there is no smoke or soot."

"THE ECONOMY of Westinghouse is essential to my budget—not only to buy but to operate. The savings as well as the delicious flavor of the cheaper cuts of meat will surprise you."

"THE POSITIVE RESULTS of my Westinghouse is uncanny. I thought the oven timer was just a gadget but now it is a necessity in case I forget or want to leave the house."

Mackenzie Players Contest Victors

Intermediate cast from Mackenzie park was the winner of the second of a series of one-act play contests at Texas Technological college, according to Bill Witt, supervisor for the WPA of the city parks recreational program, sponsor of the event.

Third and last of the series of contests will be staged tonight, with casts in the senior division competing.

A cast from Pioneer (Seventh street) park won first place in the junior division Tuesday night with Mackenzie park second and Carlisle (Twenty-seventh street) park third.

Pioneer park's representatives won second last night with 248 points. Mackenzie park received 280 points, according to judges' tabulations. Judges were Mrs. R. T. Canon, Mrs. Sherrill Boyd and Miss Adeline Ziegenhals.

Plays with senior casts will be presented tonight, Witt announced. He said, however, the place for presenting the plays tonight had not been determined.

To Be Presented Friday

Winning plays in the junior, intermediate and senior divisions will be presented at 8 o'clock Friday night, without admission charge, in the Lubbock Junior High school auditorium, according to announcement Wednesday.

Carlisle park did not have a play entered in last night's contest but pupils from that park under direction of Ethel Crawford, the project's dramatic instructor, presented a marionette show.

Both casts participating in the intermediate contest presented "King For a Day." Mackenzie's cast was made up of Wayne Penn, blackface; Edward Wright as Charles; Lily Whitely as the princess; Charles Mills as the cop; and James Reese as the butler. The cast from Pioneer park consisted of David Williams, John Julian, Jack Dyer, Eula Lee Jones, and Frank Redwine.

Buck Lipscomb Again Victor Over Helpless Opponent

Bringing into use, as usual, several pieces of hardware, Buck Lipscomb once more prevailed over a helpless opponent in the main go at the Auditorium.

The victim last night was big Gus Johnson, a capable person who lacks the killer instinct and who therefore is ineffective against such resourceful persons as Lipscomb. Johnson started out like a true hero, omitting the preliminaries, rushing from his corner and butting Lipscomb to the floor, then picking him up four times in crotch and body holds and slamming Buck's back against the canvas, falling on for the first fall in 18 seconds.

Fans Get Excited

But Buck, who had been relieved of a small pair of scissors before the fight got underway, came back with other foreign substances and succeeded in taking the second stanza in about a dozen minutes. He took the third in about the same length of time, and so excited the paying guests around the ringside that near turmoil reigned for a few minutes after the finish.

Clements worked harder than either wrestler in the semi-final, but at last Vic Weber got tired of fooling around with John Nemanic, the Denver husky who is trying to turn villain, and pinned him with a body smother after a flying block from outside the ropes.

Promoter Allen introduced a newcomer last night, and little Don Rainier from Florida showed the folks a lot of wrestling ability in a 20-minute draw with Bob Cummings, the Friscoe grunter and groaner.

FIRE FOLLOWS EXPLOSION

RALLS, (Special)—Prompt action by neighbors in throwing water on the blaze extinguished a fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Day, after explosion of an oil stove. The fire department responded to the call, but arrived after the blaze was extinguished.

Culver Hill Is Appointed As Tech Typography Instructor

Appointment of Culver Hill as acting part-time instructor in typography and advertising in the journalism department of Texas Technological college was announced Wednesday. He will begin duties with opening of the fall semester next week.

Hill is a graduate of Tech, studied advertising and display in New York and now is advertising director and artist at Hemphill-Wells department store. He will continue in that position.

Addition of Hill to the journalism faculty will further give students opportunity for practical instruction, which is emphasized in the journalism department, said Cecil Horne, department head.

Hill's appointment is subject to approval of the board of directors at its Oct. 16 session in Fort Worth.

No immediate appointment will be made of a successor to Harry M. Crain, resigned superintendent of the Tech press, said Dr. Bradford Knapp, president. Wilmot C. Eaton, journalism graduate, will continue as foreman and Horne will have general supervision of the press.

NEW SUPERVISOR

That Girl on Broadway says none of us is perfect and some of us are absolutely impossible.

Be considerate. You may need help yourself some day.

IT IS mighty easy to criticize men in high public office—and most of us do criticize them.

Frequently, no doubt, they deserve the criticism they get and, perhaps, some of them do not get as much as they have coming to them.

Yet those high officials who are sincere and who are conscientious in their work and who want to do the right and best thing fully as much as any private citizen, have to take an awful lot of beating over the head—beating that they do not deserve.

Of course, when a man runs for and is elected to a high office he knows he's going to be the target for plenty of kicks and cusses and that he's going to be beseiged on all sides to take steps and make appointments which are not logical and which he cannot do and still look himself in the face when he shaves.

But congressmen, governors, senators and other holders of important public positions have our sympathy in about two-thirds of their efforts.

They know better than anyone that not only is it impossible to "please all of the people all of the time," but that it's also impossible to please some of the people any of the time.

HERE'S something to think about the next time you feel it necessary to pat yourself on the back.

Hendrick Van Loon begins his interesting book "Van Loon's Geography" with this amazing statement:

"It sounds incredible, but nevertheless it is true. If everybody in this world of ours were six feet tall, a foot and a half wide, and a foot thick (and that is making people a little bigger than they usually are), then the whole of the human race (and according to the latest available statistics there are now nearly two billion descendants of the original Homo Sapiens and his wife) could be packed into a box measuring a half mile in each direction. That, as I just said, sounds incredible, but if you don't believe me, figure it out for yourself and you will find it to be correct.

"If we transported that box to the Grand canyon of Arizona and balanced it neatly on the low stone wall that keeps people from breaking their necks when stunned by the incredible beauty of that silent witness of the forces of Eternity, and then called little Noodle, the dachshund, and told him (the tiny beast is very intelligent and loves to oblige) to give the unwieldy contraption a slight push with his soft brown nose, there would be a moment of crunching and ripping as the wooden planks loosened stones and shrubs on their downward path and then a low and even softer bumpity-bumpity-bump and a sudden splash when the outer edges struck the bank of the Colorado river.

"Then silence and oblivion!"

None of us really amount to much, do we?

* * *

A crochety old uncle was visiting his brother's family and singled his nephew, age 17, out for conversation.

"How are you getting along at school?" he asked.

"I'm doing the best I can, uncle," returned the boy. "I'm trying to get ahead."

"Well," returned the old man tartly, "you certainly need one!"

That Man on Avenue Q says as a rule, old age instead of character, should get credit for that decision to "cut it out."

Brevity is the soul of wit—also of romance and evening dresses!

AS everyone who reads this column already knows, The Plainsman finds it impossible to shout and cheer over a very considerable part of the so-called "New Deal philosophy of government."

We have not, however, reached the point where we are blind to the President's many good traits and to those of his efforts which are undoubtedly charted with the end in view of benefiting the nation and the world.

Despite the attacks of his critics—and raps taken at the President by the widow of the late President Theodore Roosevelt—The Plainsman thinks the White House policy in China is just as it should be. The Americans who persisted in "staying put" after they were warned to get out and after the government sent men and ships to get them out, can go ahead and howl all they want to as far as we're concerned. While we hope none of them is injured and that no more American property is damaged in the "unofficial" Japanese-Chinese war, we don't see a bit of reason for our running chances of getting mixed up in a nasty mess all because some of our nationals were bullheaded in the first place.

THE most important duty of any governmental head is to preserve peace for his countrymen.

He should be willing to go to any end to prevent his nation being cast into the whirlpool of conflict.

Thus far President Roosevelt has followed such a policy and The Plainsman says "more power to him."

Heaven forbid it happening, but the United States would be better off to avoid war even in the face of wholesale killing of our nationals in the Shanghai vicinity. We don't mean to be brutal, nor do we mean that our country should be cowardly. But after all, those of our nationals who are in the fighting zone knew when they went there that they could not be assured the same safety they would have if they stayed at home. And, on top of that, they could have left weeks ago if they had wanted to.

Someone sent this in:

Wouldn't it be worthwhile for all of us to so live our lives that those whom we leave behind, when we pass on, would want to have carved upon our tombstones the following:

In Loving Memory
Of
John Whoosit
Who
Did all the good he could
By all the means he could
In all the ways he could
In all the places he could
And all the times he could
To all the people he could
As long as ever he could.
Born ..... Died ..... 19.....
His Soul Should Rest In Peace.

THE lady was just about to buy a fur coat but before taking the final step insisted upon the clerk's guaranteeing the article.

"Upon my word and honor," the salesman said, "this is a genuine skunk coat that will wear for years."

"But suppose I get it wet in the rain," pursued the prospective purchaser. "What will happen to it then? Won't it spoil?"

The clerk drew himself up to his full height and answered:

"Madame, did you ever hear of a skunk carrying an umbrella?"

CAST OF CHARACTERS

JOY—Heroine, hostess in smart Maine tearoom.

ROGER — Joy's fiance, rising young designer.

ANGELA—Joy's rival in love.

DICK—Wealthy young playboy. Roger's rival in love.

Yesterday: Joy discovers that Dick is apparently involved in some nefarious business. Later, she learns that Secret Service men are in the neighborhood.

CHAPTER X

FRIDAY "Girls, I want every one of you to listen to this," Mrs. Fenwick announced, entering the tearoom as the waitresses were arranging their tables this morning. Unfolding the paper she carried, she read: "A warning has been received that several counterfeit bills have been circulated in the neighborhood. George West, president of the local bank, declares that they are very cleverly executed and the average person would not recognize that they are counterfeit. A slight irregularity in the etching of the President's portrait and the green ink used in the serial numbers are the only apparent distinguishing features. If you have any doubt about the bills—five and ten—in your possession, bank officials will be pleased to advise you."

"Now, whenever anyone tenders a five or ten-dollar bill before you accept it, bring it to the desk. I'm going to the village right now to confer with Mr. West. Be particularly wary of bills tendered by casual customers, for I cannot afford to lose money in that way."

"All right, Mrs. Fenwick," I said, speaking for the girls. "We rarely have customers for breakfast, so Mrs. Fenwick would surely be back in time to give the final okay to any questionable bills."

Back in the kitchen arranging flowers, I told Cal what we'd heard.

"Reckon I'll ask for my pay in one-dollar bills after this." Then he lowered his voice. "You laughed at me when I told you those were Secret Service men . . . maybe this will prove I was right."

"Maybe, Cal, but if they are Secret Service men I don't believe they're going around announcing it publicly."

"They didn't do that, Miss Joy. Eb Tuttle told me confidential. And I ain't mentioned it to another soul but you. I wouldn't be surprised if they'd find plenty of bogus money down at Serene Shores. I've heard that after the boarders have gone to their cottages, gangs of roughnecks spend half the night there. Now I'd like to ask you what they'd be doing . . . . I bet there's gambling going on there."

"Well, why doesn't Constable Tuttle get on the job?"

"One man against a bunch of crooks? Ain't that asking too much of a good citizen that has to consider his wife and family? Though if it came to shooting, there's not many that can hold a candle to Eb. But there, the missus says she's going to the village so I'll have to get ready."

It's queer how interested you become in trivial things when your world's narrowed down to a spot like the tearoom, and your interests revolve about the doings of your customers and fellow workers. Big Kate told me that one of Miss Pegler's maids informed her that it wasn't on account of a heart attack she'd been unable to attend the meeting about Serene Shores, but worry about her nephew.

"There's something not 'on the level' with that young man," she declared.

Funny old thing! She takes a motherly interest in all the girls' affairs, and has never approved of my engagement. Of course, since I overheard that conversation between Miss Pegler and her lawyer I'm afraid she's right. Still I won't have her talking like that to me. Glad no one noticed Miss Pegler's gardener here this morning . . . brought me a note from Dick, saying he'd been called to New York on some business but would be back soon. You know, even if a girl is not in love with the man she's going to marry, and though she may see a hundred faults in him, yet it's a horse of a different color when someone else disparages him.

When Cal came back from the village, he was all excited. Mrs. Fenwick had sent him to the station to see about some express packages she was expecting.

"The agent was madder'n hops," Cal declared, fixing up a chair that had got broken in a tearoom prank the other day.

"What was up with him?" I asked.

"Oh, the place was stacked up with packages . . . he could hardly move around the office . . . said the stuff was for the kids at some camp farther up the line . . . there's only a flag station there, so guess the train men forgot about that. There's no train out of here . . . at least none that takes freight . . . till tomorrow. My, but he was mad having to get all that stuff under cover by himself."

"Hasn't he a helper?"

"Sure, but Dave was off for the day. When I was leaving I saw those two guys that were talking to Eb when I passed his place the other morning (Cal gave me a significant look for Tess was passing through his workshop) and another classy-looking fellow drive up in a swell car. They were laughing when they saw how mad he was . . . then they got out and lent him a hand. So I guess Eb was way off when he told me they were Secret Service men . . . look like fellows out for a good time."

"Didn't I tell you, Cal, Secret Service men don't go around advertising themselves," but I got an idea. The first chance I have a moment to myself, I'm going to do some investigating on my own. If those men belong to the Secret Service, Jigger and Rocco will be getting wise to their presence, or I miss my guess . . . it's too bad I never finished my talk with Dick about Jigger . . . started once and he acted as though he'd never heard the name . . . I asked him why he seemed so upset when I mentioned it before . . . he said he thought I spoke of someone else . . . a man who'd worked for his aunt for many years and disappeared.

SATURDAY: A letter from Gail, postmarked Hillsdale . . . she must be on vacation . . . here's what she writes and did I get a shock:

"Suppose you'll be amazed, old girl, when I tell you I'm on my honeymoon . . . so I've beaten you to it. Pat got a raise . . . going to a small New England town as special representative for his company. His vacation due, we decided to get married . . . we'll never be rich like you and Dick, but are we happy! Saw Dick today . . . he looked worried . . . surely you haven't given him the gate?

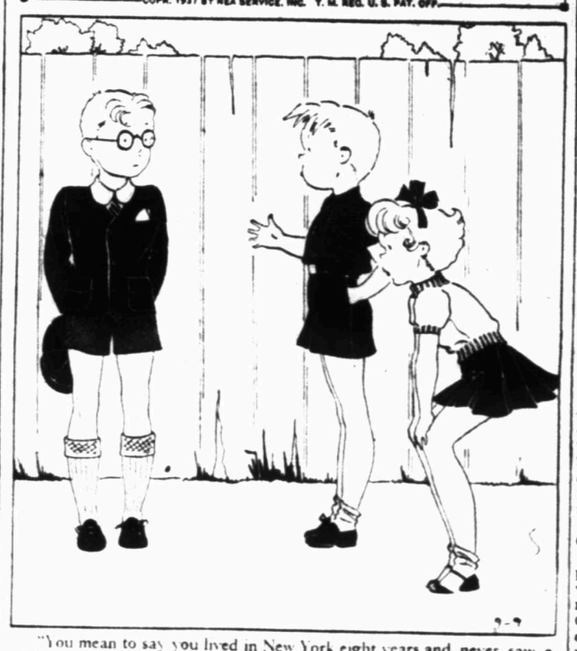

"Heard confidentially Angela's about to skip the country . . . rumor says she's sent a fortune ahead of her . . . wonder if Il Duce will confiscate it before she catches up with it . . . they say Roger's on holiday . . . wonder if you'd feel too badly if someone told you he was secretly married to Angela? Am taking that with two grains of salt . . . those two were never made for each other.

"Suppose you know the Ace-High Club is closed . . . certain important people lost too much money there . . . lots of gossip about Rocco . . . his ears must be burning. Pat's waiting to take me out in a speedboat . . . be sure to tell me where your heart is."

No word from Dick . . . can't understand that . . . not that I really miss him . . . in some ways I'm happier. Oh, what's the use of pretending? I'll never love Dick though I live a thousand years . . . even if I marry him it will just be a marriage of convenience . . . Peter's future will be assured . . . I'll have a huge income for Miss Pegler insists on settling a lot of money on me and there's Mrs. Fenwick calling . . . what can she want at this time of night?

McGRADY'S LOSS IS A POIGNANT ONE

President Franklin Roosevelt, writing to resigning Assistant Secretary of Labor Ed McGrady, said he accepted the McGrady letter of resignation with "deep regret"—and well he may. It has been an open secret everywhere that Ed McGrady was the life blood and the sinew of the labor department during all the time he filled the difficult post of assistant to Mrs. Paul Wilson who, for some reason or another, insists upon being called "Miss Frances Perkins."

Just where Mr. Roosevelt will find a worthy successor to Ed McGrady is hard to say. The matronly "Madame Secretary" has a long record as a parlor social worker but, not surprisingly, labor leaders prefer to deal with a man—and a man who knows something about the problems of labor. Finding an assistant secretary to "carry the mail" for the department, yet still be satisfied to play second fiddle to "Madame Secretary", is a major problem.

In a hectic era as far as employer-employe relations are concerned, former boxer and former pressman McGrady has hung up an enviable record—so enviable, in fact, that he has been selected, at several times his government salary, to handle labor relations for one of the big radio chains.

It wouldn't surprise The Journal if, in order to make up for the loss of McGrady, the President decided to permit Mrs. Wilson to go back to her soup kitchens and head up the labor department—as full secretary—someone, like Ed McGrady, who "knows what it's all about."

A Thought . .

And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call His name JESUS: for He shall save His people from their sins. Matthew 1:21.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 9.—Short takes: After "Camille," Greta Garbo asked her studio for a chance to play a comedy. After "Conquest," another job of heavy emoting, she insisted on a comedy.

So now Charles MacArthur has been hired, for 40 weeks, to turn out a polite drawing-room farce. He never had met the star, and as this is written, MacArthur and his wife, Helen Hayes, are getting ready for a little dinner party at Miss Garbo's house—and they're as jittery as a couple of ordinary fans.

Most of the tough pirates in "The Buccaneer" got seasick the other day during a storm at the studio. Their ship, in a big tank on the back lot, was tossed about by mechanical rockers, and sulphur fumes from the fog machines heightened their misery.

Getting The Earl-y "Bird"

Writer Austin Parker was complaining of his bad luck with servants and mentioned that he couldn't find a good valet. Edmund Goulding offered the services of his own man, whom he wouldn't be needing for a couple of weeks, and Parker accepted gratefully.

The fellow checked in at Parker's house and was doing fine when Goulding dropped in a few hours later and cracked the joke by identifying the valet as Michael Brooke—the Earl of Warwick.

Sam Briskin, RKO executive, was impressed by the fine appearance of a young man working at a filling station. One day he questioned him, and asked whether he thought he could act.

The youngster said, "Well, I see a lot of movies, and if you call that acting I know darned well I can act!"

So Briskin hired him, and it seems that he was right. His name is Robert Thatcher.

Pretty In A Big Way

Few girls ever have lost movie roles by being too pretty, but that's what happened to Lois De Fee.

She's the former bouncer of a New York night spot who was brought out here by Warner Brothers for the important part of a feminine blacksmith in "Swing Your Lady."

She's truly colossal—stands 6 feet 3 inches and weighs 185 pounds. But the studio decided she was much too attractive and youthful for the role. Other film factories are considering her now, and she may be signed as a comedienne.

* * *

Screen players have to endure a lot of minor indignities from fans in order not to be considered rude or ungracious.

George Murphy is one who hasn't a large, well-guarded estate, and he has been deviled unmercifully lately. Other night four young women walked right into the kitchen of his house.

Asked to leave, they spent the rest of the evening ringing his front doorbell. Murphy didn't call the police, but he is moving—to the third floor of an apartment building.

Ready For A New Bow

Clara Bow is about town looking fit and chipper, making some tests at Grand National and considering a screen comeback.

Leo Carrillo is thinking seriously of seeking the Democratic nomination for governor of California in 1938, and some political wisemen hereabouts think he might have a chance.

Universal wants another Deanna Durbin picture to follow as soon as possible after "100 Men and a Girl," and a big staff is at work on the story. In fact, the unofficial title is "100 Writers and a Girl."

* * *

Pre-Yuletide note of alarm: The nation's toy departments will be full of Charlie McCarthy dolls before Christmas, and donors will be saying, "May all your children be ventriloquists!"

'He Never Knew What Hit Him'

Congress Has Yet To Face Real Issues, Says Maury Maverick, San Antonio House Member

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth of six articles written by outstanding members of Congress and giving both the "pro" and the "con" of the administration's plans for future America's political and economic systems. The articles were arranged by Rodney Dutcher, Journal Washington correspondent, who is enjoying a vacation while statesmen do his work!)

BY MAURY MAVERICK
Written Exclusively for The Journal and NEA Service, Inc.

What Congress did not accomplish in the last session makes us think of what should be accomplished in the future. Indeed, considering the fundamental actions promised and the almost blank record of meeting serious issues face to face, the session of Congress recently over probably is one of the worst in history.

Now at home, we can begin to think things out. What happened, and what will we do in the future? Well, in the last session we were stymied. When the Supreme court argument came up there was the greatest barrage of words and bitter denunciations in American political history.

We congressmen, most of us lawyers, stewed around in our own mental juices. With that confusion, nothing could be done. So the important legislation was held off till the last, and then dropped overboard.

Maverick

The future? Argument over the court, its powers and the powers of Congress must go on. The controversy has done some good, for the American people have at least recognized that the judges are human, and the full humanization of the court must be accomplished.

We must also have very clear objectives. They must be plotted out, understood, and then we of Congress — and all the American people — must go ahead.

Asks Permanent Program

At the next session we should agree what we want to do; this must be developed into a permanent program. I suggest the following:

1. Conservation of natural resources.
2. Farm legislation.
3. Establishment of the eight TVA's.
4. A developed and extended housing campaign.
5. Strengthened labor provisions for settlement of disputes, fair to both sides.
6. Minimum wages and maximum hours; fair labor standards.
7. Government reorganization; abolition of useless, duplicating bureaus.
8. An improved food and drug act.

The first four — conservation, farm, eight TVA's, housing—must be co-ordinated as a great national plan. Where the New Deal has done a great job of emergency legislation in saving the country, it is not doing as good a job in establishing permanent policies.

Knows No State Lines

When a national plan is mentioned, considering these four objects, a great yell goes up about state's rights and centralization of power in Washington. That is nonsense. A river pays no attention to state lines — a drop of water rolls in from Canada and goes all the way to New Orleans, tearing as it goes. Floods are a national problem. Diseased people in slum areas affect the entire country.

In all these problems let every division of government do its part. The eight TVA's will be federal (cheap power, flood control, navigation, dams), but states, cities, industry, business will benefit and take a part.

Farm production and prices are affected by what occurs anywhere in the country; there must be co-ordinated government action, whether by production, price, surplus, or ever-normal granary control.

At the next session immediate legislation should be adopted, especially on agriculture and labor but it will be necessary to evolve permanent policies. A housing bill has been adopted. But it must be greatly developed.

For friend and foe of the New Deal alike, all must know that operation of the government will inevitably be on a scale so much greater than in the past that everything done before will seem tiny. Twenty-five years ago no one realized the gigantic operations of corporations today. And few realize that the government will do the same, without harming, but actually benefiting the business and life of the nation.

Will Be Left Behind

Political ideas, politicians, reactionaries in general, who do not join the New Deal advance, must be left behind. In this there must be national unity of thought.

Yes, if there is anything in the future, sectionalism must be kicked headlong out of the picture. We must have the national viewpoint. We must know that the national resources—and the human resources, too, for jobs, health, and happiness—are the concern of the nation.

And in this picture is Franklin D. Roosevelt. Like the people, he wants to go ahead. For one, I am sure that he sees the picture more clearly than anyone.

And I hope that as the captain of the ship he will take a look at the compass, sail straight on—with all friendly sailors aboard, and all others overboard, especially those who would scuttle the ship.

More than 50 kinds of fruits and vegetables are of commercial importance to the United States.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE
Caused by Tired Kidneys
Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or chills are often caused by tired kidneys and may be relieved when treated in the right way.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.
If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. Then poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, headaches, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, burning and scanty passages.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, up 1 to 8 points on higher cables and foreign buying. Oct. 9.14, Dec. 9.12; Jan. 9.14; March 9.22, May 9.35, July 9.43.

Overnight consideration of yesterday's 505,000 bale increase in the government cotton crop estimate to 16,098,000 bales failed to bring in much selling. The trade, Liverpool and Bombay were outstanding buyers.

Dec. fluctuated between 9.08 and 9.12 and shortly after the first half hour sold at 9.10, with the list 3 to 7 points net higher.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 9. (AP)—Better foreign markets than expected and some trade calling induced opening advances of 1 to 6 points in the cotton market here today.

Some of the demand was attributed to those who sold in yesterday's decline of more than $1 a bale after announcement of the large government crop estimate.

Oct. opened at 9.10, Dec 9.16, Jan 9.21 March 9.29, May 9.38 and July 9.46. Additional buying orders were executed and the market was 7 to 8 points net higher for active months near the end of the first half hour.

Two Youths Are Indicted In An Attack Upon Woman

MARSHALL, Sept. 9 (AP)—Indictments charging Frank Hall and Claude Jett, Shreveport youths, with criminal assault in connection with an attack on a Shreveport woman, were returned by the Harrison county grand jury today.

The grand jury also returned indictments against Henderson and Roscoe Young, youthful negroes charged with criminal assault and robbery with firearms in connection with an attack on a Longview couple two weeks ago.

Hall and Jett were held to the grand jury late yesterday in an examining trial in Justice H. L. Calloway's court. Contsable Felix Jones of Hallsville said he arrested them after a motorist reported he forced a car occupied by the youths and the woman into a ditch near Hallsville, and taken her into Hallsville.

standpoint, but the estimated $102,000,000 required would not be justified by savings on transportation rates.

Supporters won another hearing in Washington June 29, where they told the board of rivers and harbors they had worked out the present, revised plan, calling for a smaller number of locks than the government estimated.

Of the $65,000,000 total, $55,000,000 would be granted by the government, and the rest raised by the association.

A channel a hundred fifty feet wide and nine feet deep would permit use of standard barges. The distance, through use of cutoffs, from Fort Worth to Galveston would be 440 miles, and from Dallas to Galveston 404 miles.

Less Than 2 Per Cent Cast Votes

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 9—Official tabulation today of returns from the constitutional amendment election August 23 showed less than 2 per cent of Texas' population voted.

The total vote, with 39 smaller counties unreported, was 109,144.

The official vote was; Eliminating state bank stockholders from double liability: for 66,959; against, 38,410; authorizing aid to dependent children, for, 73,863; against, 35,416; fee system, for 44,385; against, 61,559; allowing discounts for prompt payment of taxes for, 77,068; against, 30,194; permitting Harris county to institute a pay-as-you-go road program, for, 53,619; against 43,885; authorizing aid to the adult needy blind, for, 80,117; against, 29,297.

Mine Blasts

immunized to explosions was explained by Dr. Lewis. Mine explosions are not directly due to methane or fire-damp, but to chemical reactions that go on in these gases and the air.

An explosion comes when the methane forms formaldehydes and peroxides, which join with other particles to form highway explosive chains of particles.

Sometimes one of these particles may result in formation of a million explosive chains during a fraction of a second. That is where the "poison," or negative catalyst, comes in. Experiments at Pittsburgh have shown that a small amount of an inhibiting chemical in the mine air will choke the first of these particles, so that it expires without giving off its million-legged spawn.

There are thousands of chemicals which might be tried, said Dr. Lewis. The problem is to discover whether one of them will work. It would have to be non-poisonous to the men and something that could be blown through the ventilators in proportions of about one per cent of "catalyst" to 99 per cent of the air.

Unique Residence Constructed; Unusual Rocks Being Used

O'DONNELL, Sept. 9. (Special)—An unique residence veneered with fossil rocks, petrified wood and rocks selected from historic places and because of color variety, has been constructed at O'Donnell.

The new residence has five rooms and a bath on the first floor, two bedrooms in the half story, and a large basement with walls of stone and floor of concrete. The basement will be used for a recreation and storage room.

The most unique feature of the house, however, is the rock veneering. Just under the eaves of the front porch is a rock which Moore says is a "plain rock from a plain man." The stone, is from Uvalde and was selected and given to Moore by Vice President "Cactus Jack" Garner.

One rock is from Ben Moore's birthplace in western Blanco county, another from Mrs. Moore's birthplace in Coleman county, one contains gold ore, and there are all sorts of rocks from all sorts of places.

LAMESA, (Special) — Miss Marie Duff daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Duff of the Klondike community and bedroom demonstrator for her club, was awarded first place in the Dawson county contest. She won a trip to A. & M. college and first in district honors. Improvements cost her $15.65.

Doomed Bull Puppy Is Given An Indefinite Reprieve

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 9. (AP)—A Boston bull terrier puppy, sentenced to death for biting a boy, won an indefinite reprieve today.

County Judge H. H. Shandley lifted the death sentence of a magistrate court, after hearing pleas by counsel for Douglas and Paul Ware, school-boy owners of the pup.

The little brown and white dog had been condemned for "unlawfully biting" Arthur Watson, 9. Defense testimony showed Arthur, hiding under a bear rug, grabbed the dog and was bitten when the animal became frightened.

Defense claimed the rug, on a warm day, smelled like a bear and that mayhap the dog thought it was a wild animal.

Taxes For Fifteen Million Said Need

AUSTIN, Sept. 9 (AP)—J. T. Holbrook of Galveston, chairman of the senate efficiency and economy committee, quoted Governor James V. Allred as telling the committee today he would urge additional taxes approximating $15,000,000 a year at the legislature's approaching session.

The committee, which has been endeavoring to find ways of solving the state's perplexing financial problem without a heavy increase in the tax burden, spent two hours in a secret conference with the governor.

"The governor indicated he would not let us consider effecting economies through trimming appropriations and abolishing or consolidating departments," Holbrook said. "He said he believed about $15,000,000 more would be needed to finance the social security program adequately and cut the deficit at the rate of about $3,000,000 a year."

French anger over the shooting down of a commercial plane of the Air Pyrenees company, reported as the work of a Spanish insurgent air squadron Tuesday over Gijon, Spain, threatened fresh complication for the present maze.

The pilot, Able Guidez, was killed.

The "piracy crisis," in which may be bedded the seeds of the next world war, has solidified the friendship of the major fascist powers, as opposed to the Soviet union. At Nurnberg yesterday Dr. Alfred Rosenberg, nazi ideological leader, called bolshevism "the illegitimate child" of democracy.

Corpus Judge Is To Probe Husband-Swapping Case

(By The Associated Press)

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 9 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Faherenthold and Mr. and Mrs. James E. Mayes, all of Robstown, today were cited to appear in 117th district court here Thursday afternoon to show cause why they should not be held in contempt of court in connection with divorces granted the wives by Judge Cullen W. Briggs.

The two divorce cases, heard Tuesday afternoon, were uncontested.

Mrs. Fahrenthold and Mr. Mayes were issued a marriage license shortly after the decrees were granted and were married a few minutes later by Justice of the Peace Jack Sutherlind in the basement of the Nueces county courthouse.

Mrs. Mayes and Mr. Fahrenthold were issued a license later in the afternoon at Sinton and were married by W. B. Moss, San Patricio county judge.

The former Mr. and Mrs. Fahrenthold have five children and two grandchildren and the former Mr. and Mrs. Mayes have one child.

Judge Briggs said the divorce decrees had not been signed by him and would be set aside if collusion in securing the divorces was shown.

Oklahomans Join In Protest On Canal

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 9 (AP) — Oklahomans joined with West Texans tonight in opposition to a proposal to canalize the Trinity river from Fort Worth to the Gulf.

C. B. Bee, counsel for the Oklahoma state corporation commission, and I. G. Bentley, traffic manager of the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce, arrived to appear before a hearing tomorrow on the project. Lieut. Col. Frank S. Beeson of Galveston district army engineer, will conduct the hearing which will be followed by another at Fort Worth Friday.

Bee said representatives of other Oklahoma communities are expected here tomorrow to join the opposition. Various West Texas cities are expected to send representatives to offer opposition testimony.

John M. Fouts, general manager of the canalization association, has said the association has assembled data from towns and cities and will emphasize potentialities for economic development.

The West Texas opposition is based on claims of "impracticable and excessively expensive" aspects of the project.

Orange Couple Finds Old Saw About Love Laughing At Locksmiths To Be Wrong

HOUSTON, Sept. 9 (AP)—Love may laugh at locksmiths, but it isn't always the last laugh.

That's why J. T. Smith of Orange, Tex., and his intended bride didn't get married here. They drove to Houston with a marriage license and their baggage, made an appointment with a minister, then parked and locked their car and strolled around to kill time until the momentous hour. Returning to the car they found the windows had been broken and all their luggage taken. Nor could the marriage license be found. The wedding was postponed.

"Van-Tage Was What I Needed"

Suffered Years With Gassy Indigestion And Rheumatic Pain; Now Relieved.

Some of the Best-Known People of This Section are praising and endorsing Van-Tage, the "Amazing New Medicine," now being introduced in Lubbock. Just a few days ago Mr. C. C. Merrill, of 509 15th St., Denver, Colo., made the following statement:

MR. MERRILL

"I had been suffering with gassy indigestion for many years. My stomach was in such an upset condition that I had to avoid greasy or starchy foods, as these things caused me to have awful attacks of heartburn. I tried all kinds of diets, and I even went on a seventeen-day fast without any noticeable benefit. I started suffering from a bad rheumatic condition caused by impurities in my system. I heard about Van-Tage and started taking it, and now I am able to eat what I choose. The gas bloating and heartburn after my meals have been relieved. And the cleansing action of Van-Tage has given me wonderful relief from my rheumatic pains. I am feeling better every day, thanks to Van-Tage."

VAN-TAGE contains 21 Great Herbs and nearly a dozen other Splendid Ingredients, which help cleanse bowels, bring forth gas from stomach and invigorate kidney action so that people say they feel different IN GENERAL. Van-Tage is reasonable in price, so don't hesitate. Get it—TODAY—at the Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1221 Broadway.

Lynn Section Well Soaked

TAHOKA, Sept. 9. (Special)—"Think it'll rain?"

Ask any Lynn county farmer. He won't think you're making a crack.

Out in this section that once was designated by the geographies as semi-arid the astounding total of 33.07 inches of rainfall has been received in the past 12 months!

The county's excellent crops must be attributed to that factor and to the fact rain came at fortuitous intervals.

Remain In Race

The victory for the Cubs enabled them to stay within shouting distance of the Giants, who had their hands full before pulling out a 9-7 decision over their best-loved "haters," the Dodgers. A short while later, the Brooklyn management announced the signing of Grimes at a reported substantial salary increase.

The Yanks pulled two games out of the fire against the Red Sox. They took the opener, 3-2, with a run in the ninth and then, with Gehrig's 33rd homer as the payoff wallop, scored eight runs in the final frame to win the second game, 9-6.

The Tigers managed only an even break with the Indians, taking the nightcap, 10-5, on Hank Greenberg's two homers, after dropping the curtain raiser, 6-1. The Pirates pounded the Reds 7-6 in ten frames and 8-2 in nine.

Four well-pitched games found the Phillies splitting with the Bees and the Athletics doing the same with the Senators. The Phils won 6-3 and lost 1-0. The A's won 2-0 and then went down 1-0. The White Sox socked the Browns, 10-1.

Amnesia Victim Is Back With Family

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 9 (AP)—A handsome, well-dressed youth of 23 walked into the Hollywood sheriff's sub-station last June 29, told deputies he had "awakened" on the Arroyo Seco bridge and said he did not know who he was or where he came from.

Booked at the county jail on suspicion of vagrancy, he later pleaded guilty and served 60 days. Then Deputy Sheriff C. N. Long noticed the youth had what seemed to be a New England accent.

Long discussed New England cities with him. The youth thought there was something familiar about New London, Conn. Long asked him what he had been eating at home.

"All I can remember is baked beans and brown bread on Saturday nights," the youth replied.

Acting on these clues, Long sent a photograph of the youth to a New London paper and it came to the attention of Edgar W. Gracey, wealthy resident of Greenwich, Conn. He came here and identified the apparent amnesia victim as his son, Jack Lafayette Gracey.

They started happily back home today.

EL CAMPO, Sept. 9 (AP)—Miss Lola Webb, 64, and W. A. Craig, 84, widower, were united in marriage at Wharton Wednesday by the Rev. A. W. Deguire of the El Campo Presbyterian church. Craig has two great grandchildren.

Man Confesses That He Killed Father

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9 (AP)—Gerald Kenny, public defender, notified Captain of Inspectors Charles Dullea today that Carl Jackson, 26, confessed he hammered his father to death with a brick.

The elder Jackson's body was found in Sutro forest last Saturday. The son, taken to police by his mother, Mrs. Edith Jackson, was arrested and charged with murder today.

Kenny said the confession related father and son engaged in an argument over whether the father should remain in San Francisco and permit his wife to support him.

'It was self defense,' Kenny said the young man told him.
