

Town Talk

By MAC MCKINNON

There is a very good reason the Colorado City Record was late in being delivered Sunday. It is rare that the Record isn't delivered Wednesday and Saturday nights before everyone goes to bed and only once before in recent years has it not been delivered before people get up on Thursday and Sunday morning.

Delivery of the Record did not get started until about 7:30 a.m. Sunday and the reason for that was a press breakdown.

We delayed the printing of the paper until after the bi-district game Saturday night so there would be a complete report of the game in Sunday's paper. Usually, Sunday's paper is printed Saturday afternoon.

After the game Saturday night, I made a beeline for Big Spring where the paper is printed. I wrote the story after getting there and then the front page was completed by Record News Editor Peggy Williams who was waiting for the story in Big Spring. That was all done by midnight. Then she returned to Colorado City while I waited for the paper to be printed. I thought I would only have to wait about an hour.

However, shortly afterwards there was a problem in the electrical circuit of the press at the Big Spring Herald and the Colorado City Record and the Big Spring Herald Sunday editions had not been printed.

An electrician was called out of bed at 2 a.m. and shortly after 4 a.m. the problem was found. Then there were other problems. I believe it is Murphy's law that states, "If anything can go wrong, it will go wrong." That was the case Saturday night and Sunday morning.

Finally, about 5:45 a.m., the Record came rolling off the press and I arrived back in Colorado City about 6:30 a.m. Then the frantic effort began to get the papers out as soon as possible. Circulation Manager Gayle Beights and her family did a super job of getting the paper delivered in record time.

I'm sorry it happened but it couldn't be helped. And, the Record was completely delivered by 11 a.m. Sunday. There were a lot of calls from people asking about their paper and everyone was very understanding. I do appreciate that very much.

Area Growers To Exhibit Pecans

Area pecan growers will have an opportunity to show off their 1978 crop this weekend when the third annual Mitchell County Pecan Show opens at 9 a.m. Friday at the C. C. Thompson Room of the City National Bank.

Ribbons will be given during the show for regular pecan entries and also for entries in the baking division.

Regular pecan entries must consist of 43 nuts and must have been grown in Mitchell County during 1978. After the show the entries will become the property of the show and will be donated to charity. Ribbons given for the regular pecan entries will include those for the champion in shell entry, the champion reserve shell pecan entry, the champion native pecan entry, the best of show entry and the reserve best of show entry.

The baking division will be divided into two classes, adult and junior. The junior class will be for ages 9-19. Ribbons will be awarded in each class.

There will also be ribbons given in a pecan centerpiece arrangement division. This will also be divided into adult and junior classes.

The entries will be judged on Friday afternoon and will be on display after the judging Friday and also Saturday morning.

There is no entry fee for the show and the deadline for the entries is the opening time of the show, 9 a.m. Friday.

Anyone wanting to leave their entries early may drop them off at either the Chamber of Commerce office or the county extension agent's office in the Mitchell County Courthouse.

Mrs. Tarter has been employed by the city for 3 1/2 years and is currently city secretary, city tax assessor-collector and city finance director. She will fill the position until a permanent replacement is found.

The appointment came at a called meeting of the City Council of Colorado City Tuesday night.

In the other item on the agenda, the council established rates for the hangar ground lease agreement at Colorado City Airport north of town.

Rates for the hangar ground lease agreements were set at $75 per year. If a lease is paid for 10 years in advance, the amount per year is reduced to $50 per year or a $500 lump sum. Payment of the lease is required by Dec. 31 to have the use of the airport facilities.

Two other items which will be on the council's December agenda were discussed briefly Tuesday night.

Colorado City's fire contract with Mitchell County is up for renewal and it has been suggested that it be extended for three years instead of the usual one year term.

Under the terms of the contract, Mitchell County pays the city $3 per person per hour for the use of its manpower to fight county fires. The county also pays gas and oil expenses and insurance.

Mayor Marion Bassham said that the county's monthly expenditures to the city for this service averages around $2,000.

Another item to be placed on the agenda for next month will be the appointment of two members to the Colorado City Housing Board.

Mayor Bassham stated that thus far there have been five applications for the city manager position. It was discussed briefly as to whether the city should offer to pay the traveling expenses for city manager applicants. The Council members decided to wait and see if this would be necessary to attract applicants for the position.

Hospital Board Okays Food Service System

Acceptance of a bid for a patient food service system was the main business transacted at Tuesday's regular meeting of the Root Memorial Hospital Board.

Sweetheart Plastic, Inc., was awarded the contract for a food service.

Previously, food service at the hospital was handled by Aladdin Synergetics but that contract was due to expire tomorrow (Friday).

George Witten, hospital business manager, explained that there were two advantages to the Sweetheart service.

First, Witten noted that it would be more economical than Aladdin because the dinnerware was 50c less per meal for Sweetheart. Also, the equipment used by Sweetheart will be owned by the hospital while the equipment used by Aladdin was rented.

Witten explained that another advantage would be that the meals would be warmer because special carts with heating units would be used to transport the food to the patient.

Sweetheart submitted the only bid for the service to the board, a bid of $21,033.54. It was unanimously accepted.

Steve Marino, director of environmental services at the hospital, reported to the board regarding the operation of the laundry service. Marino noted that the cost to the hospital for the month of October was $5,262.36, which represented a savings of $3,076.36 over the previously used service.

Marino also reported that in two weeks, the housekeeping department of the hospital would be revamped somewhat and the personnel in this department would be referred to as environmental services technicians (ESTs) instead of housekeepers.

In addition, the ESTs will be assigned to areas of responsibility and will be inspected on a point grading system which will be tallied on a master cleaning achievement chart.

Marino requested that the board consider issuing uniforms to the ESTs which would be purchased by the hospital and remain the property of the hospital.

Upon approving the uniforms for the housekeeping department, the board adjourned.

Wolves Lead District List

Colorado City's Wolves dominated the District 6-AA all-district football team for the third year in a row with Wolves Coach Mike Farda named coach of the year for the second year in a row.

The District meeting was held Wednesday in Sweetwater.

Farda nominated all starters on offense and defense for all-district honors. A coach can nominate his players but cannot vote for his own team.

The Wolves Gary Hulme led the list as he was unanimous as running back, linebacker and place kicker.

Other Wolves who were unanimous choices on offense were Jim Shoemaker as guard, Martin Molina at tackle, Jay Feaster at tight end and on defense in addition to Hulme, Tackle Britt Chaney and defensive secondary players Ricky Sanchez and Tony True-love.

Also named as all-district was David Rivera in the defensive secondary.

Wolves named to the second-team all-district squad included Sam Gomez at offensive tackle, Russell Noel at offensive end, Jay Feaster and Mitch Hamer at defensive ends and Johnny Garcia at linebacker.

Honorable mentions went to Wolves Jim Shoemaker, Martin Molina, Ruben Garcia and Mike Wurhack on defense and to Donnie Lowrance, Ricky Sanchez and Gene Carter on offense.

Larry Winders, Chamber manager, said that this year only a first place prize would be awarded.

TRAILERS FILLED with cotton (top photo) are beginning to roll into local gins now that Mitchell County has had a freeze and a couple of days of sunshine to dry the leaves. Tuesday, gins reported that there was cotton on the yard (bottom photo), a sign that ginning activity is well underway.

Urgent Response Requested

Persons interested in living quarters in the proposed Baker Hotel apartment complex should respond immediately to the Housing Authority.

Dennis Walding, executive director of the Colorado City Housing Authority, said, "We need at least 30 applicants right away or the project will die."

Walding noted the urgency in applying for housing. Interested persons should contact Walding at 439 Oak Street or call 728-3150. Applicants may also call the Chamber of Commerce.

Bell Services Tuesday

Preston Monroe Bell, 41, of Big Spring formerly a Mitchell County resident for 16 years, died Sunday at Root Memorial Hospital. Services were Tuesday at 10 a.m. at the Kiker-Seale Chapel with Rev. J. W. Farmer pastor of First Assembly of God Church in Midland, officiating. Burial was in Colorado City Cemetery.

Survivors include one daughter, Barbara Bell, three sons, Robert Allen Bell, Troy Glen Bell, Joe Dean Bell, all of Odessa; his mother, Annie Bell of Colorado City; two brothers, Roy Lee Bell, Ronnie Cecil Bell both of Colorado City.

He was a member of Evangel Temple Assembly of God Church in Big Spring.

Play Concludes 1978 MCT Season

Send Me No Flowers, a comedy that played in New York in the early 1960s, will close Midland Community Theatre's 1978 season when it opens at 8:30 p.m. Dec. 1 for a 10-performance run at Theatre Midland, 2000 W. Wadley Ave.

The play, written by Norman Barasch and Carroll Moore, takes a light and amusing look at the largely imaginary aches and pains of man.

George and Judy Kimball, played by Don Liscum and Connie Powell, are an average marriage couple with a suburban mortgage and adequate life insurance policy.

The only trouble is that George thinks he is in frail health when he actually is as strong as a horse. He has a hobby of becoming alarmed over every ache and of consulting his shelf of medical books.

The trouble begins when George overhears his doctor, played by Darrell Ward, discussing a report about another patient, whose days are numbered. George misunderstands and thinks the doctor is talking about him.

The play goes from one hilarious misunderstanding to another as George prepares for his last days. He puts his affairs in order and makes arrangements for his soon-to-be widow to marry an old college flame, portrayed by Bob Hammond.

A cemetery plot salesman, played by Steve Nolan, contacts George. Adding to the complications is a pair of lovers, played by Kitty King and Frank Motycka Jr. Adding to the hilarity is George's wife who thinks her husband is having an affair.

The play will be produced Dec. 1-3, 7-10 and 14-16. Reservations may be made by telephoning the box office, 682-4111 between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. daily. Those who have paid 1979 membership dues may attend on their new membership card.

HUNTERS AND TRAPPERS

We will be open for business beginning December 1st. Open hours will be 8 A.M. - 6 P.M. Monday through Saturday, and 1 P.M. - 6 P.M. on Sundays. However, you may bring furs down to sell anytime, day or night, by simply calling first.

The fur market looks very good again this year, possibly with higher prices than last year. All bobcats must be tagged this year before they can be sold. The closest tagging station is in Big Spring and Abilene. Come by the fur house to pick up a copy of these regulations.

Last year, we had problems with the hunters' parking area directly in front of Northwestern Fur Company. The yellow zone is provided for hunters selling fur to park in. People of Colorado City, if you do not have business with us, PLEASE do not park in the yellow zone, especially on Saturdays. And hunters, if the yellow zone parking spaces are taken and you have to park down the street somewhere, PLEASE do not carry raw furs or dead animals down the downtown sidewalk. Come on in first. Due to the location of our business, we need everyone's cooperation of this.

We are looking forward to seeing everyone again this year and wish you the best of luck hunting and trapping.

Lone Star Gas has already laid the groundwork for your energy future.

The jobs of more than 100,000 Texans employed in plants served by Lone Star depend on gas for heat processing or as a product ingredient. Long-term gas supplies are needed to preserve existing jobs, create new ones, and meet the requirements of our residential customers. Fortunately, Lone Star is in an excellent position to continue energizing our area's economy.

Lone Star has an 11,400-mile gas gathering and transmission pipeline system that connects with basins estimated to contain 50% of the remaining onshore gas reserves in the United States.

This same network also enables Lone Star to accept gas deliveries from growing offshore production in the Gulf of Mexico.

No other gas company in Texas has a pipeline network as extensive or versatile as the one we've put together and constantly modernized during the 69 years Lone Star has been in business.

No other gas company in Texas has the built-in opportunity to buy gas as selectively, as Lone Star.

Our pipelines can have an important effect on your energy future, because it's here where Lone Star is strongest that gas companies from across America will be shopping hard for new gas reserves.

Here's your key to the energy storehouse.

We fully understand the efforts of other gas utilities and transmission companies to get new gas supplies. Their areas also want this most economical of fuels for industrial use.

Nevertheless, Lone Star's obligation is to the million-plus residential, commercial and industrial customers who depend on us to meet their energy needs in the decades ahead.

We're determined to meet our obligation in full by getting our area's fair share of new gas reserves as they enter the market in volumes large enough to be handled economically.

It can be done because of Lone Star's pipeline system.

Our gathering system goes into areas where other gas companies haven't begun to build. Our far-reaching transmission network gives us excellent capabilities. Our underground storage system often lets us take deliveries when many companies cannot.

All we need to buy the gas you'll need in the decades ahead is your understanding that we must recover the actual cost of the new gas we buy.

Give us that, and we'll deliver you the best gas bargains that money can buy. But the longer we wait, the more expensive the bargains will be. And we're eager to get on with the job.

Lone Star Gas Company
We're working energetically for your area's future.

Improving Loraine Is Topic Of Town Meeting

There were some 45 people at the Loraine Town Meeting Tuesday evening to discuss the ways and means of improving the community.

Lee Smith and Kenny McDowell from the West Central Texas Council of Governments in Abilene and David Marian from the Colorado City Farmers Home Administration were present to discuss and answer questions. Smith discussed several programs that Loraine might be able to apply for such as community development block grant, Section 8 rental program and program 202 for elderly only.

He stated that a pre-application to HUD for the community block grant would need to be filed between April 1 and May 1 of next year.

Most of these programs are for those people 62 years and older or those who are handicapped.

Marion stated that all FmHA programs are restricted to income. He discussed types of programs that might be available to Loraine such as low income housing and renovating the homes for elderly persons on low incomes. These were in types of loans and some grants.

Smith commented that Loraine could create jobs within the community.

"I think you have a lot going in Loraine," Smith said. "There are some funds available if you qualify and that's the hooker-if you qualify."

He also stated that there will be a meeting on urban development action grant funds in Abilene Dec. 6 at the Civic Center for interested persons.

This was the first of two public hearings as required for application for the community block grant, according to Rev. Fred Witta.

It's one of a series we're offering to energy-conscious homeowners who want to make their homes energy efficient. Even unhandy people can make their ceilings into effective barriers against summer heat and winter cold.

Other booklets in the series cover caulking, weatherstripping, storm windows, ductwork, and general maintenance. Just call us, or ask for the booklets on the comments section of your electric bill. See how easy it is to make your home energy efficient.

Lindley Receives Award

Bobby R. Lindley, formerly of Colorado City, has received an award for outstanding achievements in highway engineering by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

Lindley, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Lindley of Colorado City, received a plaque and $1,000 for being awarded the Dewitt Greer Award.

Under Lindley's leadership, the department's Abilene district has become a leader in the field of pavement recycling. It was noted. Lindley is the assistant district engineer in Abilene.

The Abilene area's recycling of hard-to-get pavement materials has attracted national attention. The recycling effort has become increasingly important because of the high cost of fuel and the growing scarcity of high quality materials.

The award was presented at the annual short course sponsored by the department and under the direction of the Texas Transportation Institute of Texas A&M University. Established in 1968, the award is funded through a grant by the late J. n Redditt of Lufkin.

KEEP YOUR HANDS PETAL SOFT even in the middle of winter. A good program of hand care with Pond's Cream & Cocoa Butter Skin Softening Lotion will help.

Mom-made puppets for Santa's little fans

Simple toys that are bright, colorful and, best of all, easy to play with are the ones Santa's littlest fans grab first on Christmas morning—and sometimes can't be parted from all day. Adorable hand puppets that you can easily make yourself fall into this category.

You probably already have all the materials right on hand to create a soulful brown reindeer, a cheery red Santa and a merry elf. All you'll need are scissors, small lids—such as those on baby food jars, scraps of fabric, white glue and spare bits of felt, ribbon and such. Now here's what you do...

To fashion the puppet's body, make a paper pattern—a triangle 6" to 7" wide at the base and about 7" high. Round off the top and you have the proper, elongated bell-shape you need. Trace the pattern onto fabric (two pieces—your puppet needs a front and a back) and cut out the shapes, using pinking shears if you have them to prevent frayed edges. Apply white glue around the edges of the fabric, press together to form a "mitten." Voila! Now you're ready to decorate your tot hand puppet.

For a super face, pour 1½ teaspoons of Elmer's Glue-All into the lid from a baby food jar. Rotate the lid to distribute the glue evenly; it pours white but dries to a lovely clear, glossy finish in a day. Then add facial features with "glue-paint"—a few drops of food coloring mixed with glue. The "glue-paint" provides a rich, shiny hue plus texture, so you can create gleaming round blue eyes, puffy pink cheeks, or a bright red mouth.

After your puppet face is dry, you may want to further define features by outlining them with a fine tipped marking pen. A spray of clear acrylic will permanently "set" the face and a bit of ribbon, felt or trim wrapped around the outside rim will give it a finished look.

Next step—glue the "head" onto the fabric mitten and then customize your tot puppet with buttons, cotton balls, glue-paint, scraps of material and such. For example, you can make a snappy Santa outfit with bits of cotton to trim his suit and make his beard, while felt makes a perfect cap and belt.

A reindeer is as easy as drawing a marking pen "body" onto the mitten. Add a collar of glue-paint berries and cut reindeer horns out of felt. Or, if a merry elf sparks your fancy, dress him in a colorful fabric suit, with a spiffy hat and boots to match. You can add felt buttons to his suit and trim his sleeves with gold rope ribbon. Don't forget to glue on some elfin ears!

Almost any "Christmas creature" makes a lovable hand puppet. Use your imagination and you can give your tot a special, mom-made toy that will delight him Christmas day and for many days to come.

CHRISTMAS CAN COME MORE THAN ONCE A YEAR! With this black-and-white camera with sound from Zenith, you can record the sights and sounds of Christmas to enjoy at any time of the year on a Zenith Video Cassette Recorder. The video cassette recorder deck is shown with the Ravel, a 25-inch diagonal color TV console with System 3 components.

Beautiful basics to help weather the harsh winter

When Jack Frost comes knocking at your door, it's time to take a different approach to staying beautiful. Every inch of your body deserves extra attention during the wild winter weather. Add to this special beauty routine a winter makeup scheme that will keep you looking terrific come winds or high drifts.

Caution: winter can be hazardous to your skin. Cold air outside and dry, overheated air inside both work to rush the natural moisture out of your skin. You must replace that moisture or fall victim to the winter skin monsters: dryness, itchiness and flaking. So moisturize from head to toe, giving special attention to hands, neck and face.

Snap, crackle and pop can be the sound of your electrified hair during cold weather. Those chilly winds can rob it of moisture just like your skin, leaving it dry, brittle and flyaway. Use a rich conditioner each time you shampoo to tame your hair and keep it looking healthy and shiny.

Kiss off chapped lips this winter. Use a lip protector or lip balm each night. Avoid licking or biting your lips, especially when you're outside—this is the number one cause of chapping.

If you have some little pieces of dry skin on your lips, snip them off with a small pair of manicure scissors. Always wear gloss in cold weather to keep lips soft, smooth and moist. Aziza's Natural Lustre Lip Gloss is a good one to try.

Save your skin from the cold winter sun. If you're a skier, you'll need a sunscreen during those hours on the slopes—in high altitudes, burning ultra-violet rays are around even in the wintertime. You might want to wear a special lip and nose protector too.

Winter can be a real eye-ful. Chilly winds that irritate eyes, rain and snow can all make your eye makeup run and smear. To weather it all, you need waterproof, smudgeproof eye makeup. Aziza Shadow with Sealer and Mascara with Sealer will see your eyes beautifully through all the storms of winter.

Hands need a helping hand during the cold weather too. Treat them to lotion as often as you can. Cold winter air makes nails brittle and more prone to splits and breaks. So keep them at a shorter length and wear polish for extra protection. Always wear gloves outside to guard hands from the freezing weather.

Feet are winter's stepchildren and they deserve extra pampering. Buy well-fitting, low-heeled, comfortable boots and dust the insides with talcum powder to absorb perspiration. Give yourself regular pedicures, even if no one will see your feet again until the spring thaw. A rough skin remover before you bathe and a body lotion after your bath will keep feet soft and smooth.

Keep the shape all winter long. Just because the winter weather keeps you indoors more, don't stop exercising. Join the local health club, invest in an exercise bicycle, jump rope in the basement, do your sit-ups and toe-touches faithfully.

Try to satisfy your "munchies" with healthy, low-calorie snacks you indoors you can escape the extra pounds that creep on during the cold weather. After all, with wooly clothes and central heating, you don't need that extra fat to stay warm like our ancestors did!

Next year's gift, too . . .

Give 'add-on' toys

The saying, "when you find something good, stick with it," can take on new meaning at Christmas. Rather than going out each year and buying new and different toys, find a type of toy the child likes, and develop it further each year.

"Single-purpose" toys tend to limit the child in several ways. A child quickly becomes bored with toys that have only one function, and may put the toy aside permanently. Single-purpose toys such as dolls and stuffed animals, also limit the amount of children's interaction. Finally, it can become quite costly to buy several single-purpose toys, instead of one multi-purpose toy, of course.

One inflation-fighting toy which more and more parents and children are discovering is the three-inch tall Playmobil people available with a variety of related accessories and props. This toy system may be used alone or in conjunction with other toy and building systems to create a "community" of interaction.

Each play system "family" can be purchased in individual sets, such as firefighters, policemen, doctors and nurses, or cowboys and Indians. Also, new this year is the "vacationers," a family and accessories in a fun, rural vacation setting.

Children can act out a variety of situations—both real and make believe—by combining different Playmobil sets. For instance, the firemen and police rush to the scene of a fire while the hospital staff waits to handle any emergencies. Through play situations such as these, children learn the many varied interactions and contributions of each profession.

Another way to get the most out of this and other toy systems is to combine it with toys or playsets the child may already have, such as blocks or other small toys, often renewing his or her interest in old toys.

Because of its unlimited uses, Playmobil is a toy that keeps on giving all year long, with no strain on the family's finances. So make next year's Christmas shopping easier—by giving the "add-on" gift this year!

Decorate in miniature!

Every female enjoys owning a doll's house. To have a miniature house that she can decorate all on her own, in exactly the way she chooses, is a joy and a pleasure for little girls from six to 60.

Wide variety

And, today, there's a wider variety than ever of miniature furniture and bric-a-brac to choose from. Furnishings are available in styles to suit every taste and pocketbook, just like their life-size counterparts.

Choose from modern or antique designs.

If a roll-top desk is what you're after, you're likely to find one, neatly topped by inkwell and quill pens, with a top that really rolls!

An antique style swivel mirror really swivels, and there are bibelots to go along: ormolu clocks, brass candelabrae, china tea sets, everything and anything you could possibly imagine or desire, and then some!

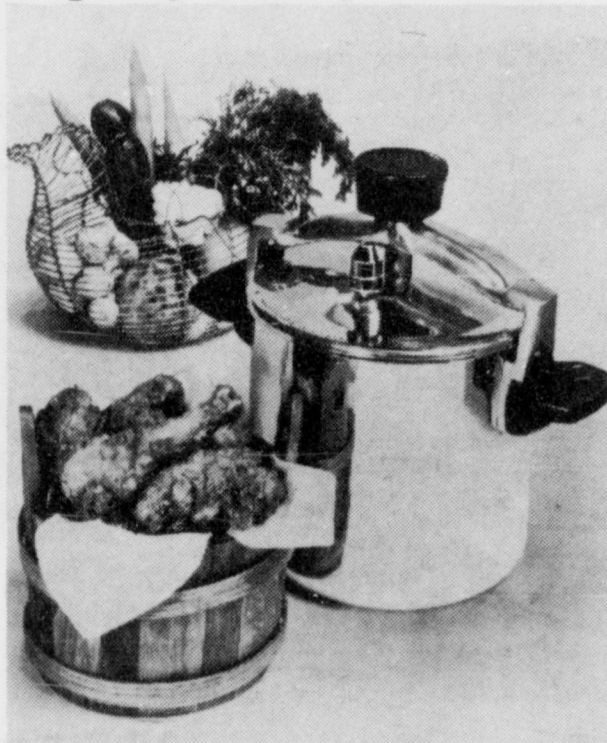

Modern miniatures

For the modern home, there's the latest in kitchen equipment, plus ashtrays, lamps and vases to suit the decor.

And, for the well-stocked pantry of any century, there's a selection of miniature food available that would make the mouth of Henry VIII himself begin to water.

Speedy holiday cooking

DURING THE HECTIC HOLIDAY season, give yourself the gift of time with the Chicken Bucket from Wear-Ever. This low pressure fryer speeds the preparation of foods for meals on the run as well as for elegant holiday parties—giving you more time to shop, entertain, or play Santa! When used as a pressure fryer, the Chicken Bucket speed fries "carry-out" style chicken, crispy fried fish, and luscious fruit pies in just one-third the time normally required. As a regular pressure cooker, the versatile Bucket lets you prepare pot roast, soups, and stews in a hurry. Whether you turn out a "finger-licking" good meal for the family or fancier fare to serve holiday callers, you can cook it quicker in the Chicken Bucket! This versatile cooker comes with a 36-page booklet complete with operating instructions and recipe ideas, many of which are ideal for holiday entertaining. If you're hinting, the Wear-Ever® Chicken Bucket™ low pressure fryer is available in housewares departments everywhere, at a suggested retail price of $29.95 for the four quart size and $34.95 for the six quart.

Audio system helps in making a 'Music Man'

The special sounds of Christmas music seem to bring a special feeling to everyone during the Yuletide season. If your stereo system has not been performing up to expectations and you are looking for a gift for yourself, consider an audio component system.

Zenith Radio Corporation offers a new line of audio components that allows music enthusiasts to put together their own stereo system.

The company offers three stereo receivers with varying power that include such features as signal strength meters; detent controls; FM Mute; high and low filters to reduce frequency noise; and flywheel tuning.

To add taping capability to the stereo receivers, Zenith also offers a separate frontloading cassette tape deck with Dolby noise reduction, automatic shutoff, record level meters and controls, tape counter, separate microphone, and headphone jacks.

Three record turntable/changers are designed to match the stereo receivers. They include such features as viscous cue, magnetic cartridge, and an antiskate system to protect against record damage and wear.

To complete the stereo system, Zenith's line of four different size Allegro speakers have been designed to provide outstanding sound reproduction.

Each speaker features a specially designed tuned port that enhances the reproduction of the lower bass tones and works so efficiently that comparable size air-suspension systems need nearly twice the amplifier power to equal Allegro's overall sound performance.

The two new high performance speakers in Zenith's line also have removable front covers and feature rotary mid-range and/or treble controls, and attached charts displaying the flat frequency response of each speaker.

Stocking fillers for your man

Trying to come up with a list of "goodies" for the man in the house? Try stuffing his stocking with some of these helpful little basics:

• If he uses a safety razor, a few extra packages of his brand of blades is always welcome.

• Add some luxury to his bath with a bar of soap in his favorite cologne scent.

• A leather-bound manicure set, or a package of quality manicure instruments, is something he's bound to use.

• A pocket-size stain remover kit is great for keeping spots off his ties while at meetings or on the road.

• The difference between men and boys isn't even a matter of price when it comes to toys! Give him an "executive game"—a set of dice, a word puzzle or general brain-teaser, and watch his face light up.

THIS CHARMING "Snow Fawn" pendant makes a sure-to-please Christmas gift. It's the second annual Christmas pendant, crafted by Reed & Barton Silversmiths in their rich Damascene technique. Pure silver, burnished copper, bronze and 24kt. gold electroplate are meticulously layered in a collage, then "repousse" or embossed for added highlights. The "Snow Fawn" pendant is inspired by a miniature sculpture from the Ming Dynasty.

Super ideas . . .

Stocking stuffers for the entire family

Filling everyone's Christmas stocking with the "perfect" gift can exhaust anyone's imagination, especially if the members of your family seem to have "everything."

This year, in addition to the usual special treasures, stuff your family's stockings with some entertaining and useful booklets. Texize Chemicals Company offers three different booklets free on a write-in basis; at least one is sure to be right for someone in your household.

"Do-it-yourself" youngsters and adults alike will enjoy "Crafty Critters," a booklet full of clever ideas and directions for making a variety of toys, crafts and planters from the empty plastic bottles in which different household cleaners are packaged. These projects make great after-school or rainy day diversions for youngsters, and the crafts are suitable for gift-giving as well as for year-round use.

Homemakers will enjoy the "Creative Homemaking" booklet, which offers a variety of helpful household hints ranging from time- and money-saving tips to suitcase-packing advice to decorating ideas. Specific subjects include pots and pans, gardening equipment, laundry, children's clothing, and closets.

An invaluable guide to both moms and dads is the "K2r® Stain Dial." It's an easy-to-use guide which provides the right information for removing 56 different types of spots and stains from dry-cleanable fabrics. By following the stain dial tips, it's even possible to cut down on expensive dry-cleaning bills.

To receive your free copies of any or all of these stocking stuffer booklets, write to: Consumer Relations Dept., Box N; Texize Chemicals Company; P.O. Box 368; Greenville, SC 29602.

Tree is focus of holiday fun!

Christmas trees are flocking the nurseries, charity parks, empty lots. Anywhere that a pile of Christmas trees can fit, they will be. The big question—what kind of tree should you pick?

There is a variety of Christmas trees offered every year. The most popular is Balsam Fir followed by Scotch Pine with long needles; Douglas Fir, which is valued for its hard wood; and Blue Spruce, usually sold with the roots balled so it can be planted outside after Christmas.

After you decide upon which Christmas tree to buy, the fun begins.

Make your tree the family event of Christmas this year, with this enjoyable project.

Houseplants as presents

Houseplants are always welcome gifts during the Christmas season, especially for apartment dwellers and students in dormitories.

According to The American Association of Nurserymen, the trick in buying a plant as a gift is to match the light condition of the home or dormitory room to those needed by the plant.

Bright or medium light homes are easy. There are many possibilities such as philodendron, dieffenbachia, spider plants (airplanes) in hanging pots, plus many flowering plants such as gardenias, camellias and poinsettias.

Low light homes are more of a problem, but there are many attractive plants to choose from, such as corn plants, prayer plants (maranta), snake plants, plus pothos and some species of ivy which make attractive hanging planters.

Toymakers give Christmas gift to folks: lower prices

A leading American toymaker will help celebrate Christmas everywhere with a most unusual gift for 1978: lower prices on 16 of the company's popular children's games and toys. Schaper Toys, makers of the famed "Cootie" game and more than 50 other games and toys, announced the 15% average price reduction on 16 of its popular games earlier this year, in order—among other things—to make the games even more affordable than ever.

Now celebrating its 30th birthday, the "Cootie" bug game for preschoolers continues providing children around the world with hours of pleasure as they compete to see who can construct the friendly, colorful "Cootie" bug first. For more than two generations, phrases like "C'mon dice, roll me a leg!" have been heard from youngsters playing this game.

And over a decade has passed since children began testing their wits and skill at such oldies as "Ants In the Pants," "Tickle Bee," "Tiddle Tax Toe," and "Stadium Checkers," all now available at reduced prices.

The element of suspense awaits preschoolers as they race the "Tumble Bug," brave the "London Bridge," or perform a balancing act with "Don't Spill the Beans." Youngsters can even develop hand-eye coordination with "Humpty Dumpty," or see who will pull "The Last Straw" that breaks the camel's back.

The laughs are sure to roll with the dice in "Skunk," and the winner takes all (from the kitty, that is) in "Put 'N Take."

Traditional Bingo takes on a new dimension with "Shake Bingo" as players ages 5 and up try to cover the boards at the roll of a die. Strategy counts as players try to build their wall before the "Billy Goat" butts it down.

Variations to the game of marbles is found with "Don't Blow Your Top" and "Twizzle," both guaranteed to provide hours of just plain fun for everyone!

Lovely gifts, little price!

It's possible to give the favorite woman in your life some very glamorous gifts without spending a sultan's ransom.

Whether you're looking for something special for mother, big sister or a girlfriend, here are some very nice ideas for gifts of taste and style with a reasonable price tag:

- Instead of going all out for perfume, check into a light cologne or dusting powder in her favorite fragrance.

- Delicate, feminine sachets are always a beautiful gift for m'lady. Buy them in luxurious satin or pretty prints to scent her drawers and add a dainty touch to everyday living.

- Tissue may win the convenience issue, but linen handkerchiefs are still de rigueur for a woman's handbag, and are always a lovely and welcome gift. Look for some richly trimmed with lace and embroidery.

THE THREE FACES OF SNUGGLES, any one of which is guaranteed to light up the face of your own little girl on Christmas morning! Ideal Toy Corporation is introducing three versions of Snuggles, a 12-inch soft, lovable doll who moves her head like a real baby when the string in her back is pulled. Each version has a different facial expression, outfit and huggable accessory—pillow, Teddy Bear, or blanket.

Make gifts all year long

BRINGING BACK "DO-IT-YOURSELF" for Christmas. This Christmas, give kids a gift they can use to make gifts all year long, the "Button Factory." Children design their own personalized buttons to wear, collect and give away by using magazine pictures, cartoons, their own drawings or the colorful assortment of designs and slogans that come with the "factory." Kids can operate Schaper's button maker "whomper" by sandwiching the picture between a clear plastic covering and a clip-on plastic backing. And when the button's favor fades, the re-usable assembly can be opened and the button message changed as often as a child's creative mind desires.

Merry musical gifts for happier holiday memories

Among the most sought-after holiday gifts are the merry music makers that make you smile. Many will be treasured at Christmas and for years to come. Some, no doubt, will become prized collectibles of the future.

The colorful music boxes by Gorham are certain to be popular gift choices. Each novel box features a familiar tune. "Santa With Reindeer," for example, features "Rudolph The Red-Nosed Reindeer," a tune that is a

"Frosty The Snowman" naturally is accompanied by the popular tune of the same name, and a "Mr. and Mrs. Santa" music box features "White Christmas."

Equally delightful is an "Organette" music box by Gorham. Elegant and beautifully crafted in select hardwood with precision movements, it will run by battery or can be hand cranked as you insert your favorite tune in the manner of the nostalgic "player piano" of the turn of the century.

Outstanding are Gorham doll music boxes. Like their antique counterparts, some turn their heads and move their arms to the melody being played. There are young ladies dressed in elegant finery of the Gibson era. Dressed in velvet gowns and fine lace, they remind you of old San Francisco or New York.

Other charming choices include a collection of Fairy Tale music boxes, a series of animal music boxes, and some which feature tiny dancers who "perform" to tunes identified with landmarks of Europe. One Gorham music box is a miniature grand piano, the top of which conceals a place for jewels.

These welcome gift ideas will be available in leading jewelry, department store and gift outlets this holiday season.
