Cleanup continues on Colorado River

According to City Manager Buddy Foster, clean up operations are continuing on the oil seepage which is located just west of Colorado City, near the Colorado River, on property near that on which oil refinery storage tanks are located.

Foster said that representatives from the Texas Water Commission visit and test the site periodically, and test water and fish at several points downstream to ensure that the water is not being contaminated.

The firm of Eagle Construction and Environmental Services, Inc. was contracted, by Fina Oil and Chemical Corporation, to perform clean up operations when the seepage was first discovered.

Crews from that firm first shoveled the oil-saturated soil into steel containers, and then installed open-ended culverts deep in the ground to serve as sumps.

These sumps, which are directly in the path of the apparent seepage, serve as collection points for any potential future seepage before it can reach the river.

Foster says the sumps are being checked and suctioned frequently, and that the pumping operations performed on the sumps indicate that they are collecting mostly water seepage with a thin film of surface oil.

According to Diane Perkins,

Fina safety and environmental specialist, the measures which have been taken so far are only short term remedies.

Representatives from the Texas Water Commission and Fina Corporation are working together on a plan to clean up not only the immediate area of the oil spill, but the entire surrounding area as well, Foster said.

He said that preparations for scientific surveys regarding future clean-up of another, potential environmental problem site have also been initiated.

A soil scientist with the Austin firm of Engineering Science, Inc. visited him recently, Foster said, to obtain information, and to study aerial photographs of the area around the old cotton de-linting plant north of Interstate Highway 20. Foster said he was informed that scientific surveys of that area were scheduled to begin soon.

Dispute over ceremony ends for Loraine ISD

Loraine School Superintendent Glenn Sanders said that he does not regret that Willie Hernandez and Jeff Martin were allowed to participate in Loraine High School graduation ceremonies on Wednesday night.

He said, however, that he does feel some disappointment in the ruling, by District Judge Weldon Kirk, which barred school officials from preventing that participation.

School officials had intended to prevent the students' participation in that ceremony in order to discipline them for an infraction of rules regarding transportation to and from the school-sponsored senior trip to Six Flags Amusement Park. Judge Kirk, however, issued a temporary restraining order which circumvented that intent.

"I believe that the judge's decision takes away the authority of the school to administer discipline," Sanders said. "We no longer can feel, for example, that we have any control whatever over the senior trip. This could mean such trips might have to be eliminated in future years."

According to Gilbert Rodriguez, however, the attorney who requested and received the temporary restraining order for one of the students, any question of liability or adherence to rules could be handled by requiring detailed, signed permission slips prior to any future trips.

Such slips, Rodriguez explained, could spell out the rules and the penalties for infractions of those rules precisely, as well as providing proof that students had read, understood, and agreed to the terms prior to each individual school function, rather than relying on their having read and remembered the entire school handbook.

Sanders said, however, that the listing of specific infractions in the manner espoused by Rodriguez would be almost impossible, and Welfare expenditures listed

The state spent a total of $3,097,906 last year for major welfare programs in Mitchell County, according to Ray L. Dunavant, Regional Administrator for the Texas Department of Human Services.

"Medicare assistance had the biggest impact, with $882,611 spent for hospitals, physicians, laboratory, X-ray, and other services. Also, $88,767 was spent in Mitchell County for prescribed medicines. Nursing home costs of approximately $1,197,861 were Gilbert Rodriguez, Abilene attorney representing Willie Hernandez, pays the filing fee for temporary restraining orders which will circumvent the decision of Loraine school officials to prevent Hernandez from participating in graduation ceremonies. District Clerk Sharon Hammond looks on, while Rodriguez' associate, fellow attorney Melissa B. Romine makes copies of the restraining orders for distribution to involved school authorities.

Parade plans underway

The Mitchell County Fourth of July Salute to Veterans Parade will be marching and rolling down the street before you know it!

Committee members need to know as soon as possible exactly who will be entering floats, vehicles, horses, or individuals, in order that a list and a tentative order may be begun. Members also need to be advised of the themes of the floats or displays, and which group, or groups, of war veterans will be honored within each theme.

Two telephone numbers are provided for this purpose: 728-3403, which is the number of the Chamber of Commerce; and 728-2018. At the Chamber, there is currently no full-time employee. If there is no answer, callers are requested to call the second number and leave a message, including your telephone number, on the answering machine.

Those groups which have announced their intention to participate in the parade thus far are: the Business and Professional Women's Club; the VFW; the city of Colorado City; LULAC; the Mitchell County Foundation for the Prevention of Drug and Alcohol Abuse; the Sheriff's Posse; and the Colorado City Rotary Club.

Representatives from the above groups are asked to call the above numbers and describe the proposed

Loraine graduation memorable

Loraine High School graduation, 1991. What a night!

In a gymnasium packed with enough memories to last a lifetime, those attending that event were treated to enough extra memories to last at least one lifetime more.

Someday, perhaps one of Loraine's 21 graduating seniors of 1991 will write the Great American Novel, and in that novel, somewhere, graduation night will play a featured role.

It had everything - controversy, pathos, heart-tugging emotion, love, undying friendship, and the heat of a West Texas night which seemed to enclose everyone present into the experience of the moment.

What a scene it will make in that novel! There was the proud mother on the back row, whose smile never left her face through her tears; the students who sang and who made speeches through their tears; all of the graduates who obviously love each other so much, and love their homes and families so much, and who have been through so much together in such a very short time.

There were the honest emotions of delight and pride on the faces of those in the gymnasium for all the seniors who marched forward to be seated in the position of honor; and yes, of course, there was the undercurrent of mixed emotions regarding the two young men who almost did not make that march; there was some indignation and there were some cheers when they did make that march.

Willie Hernandez and Jeff Martin were members of the graduating class, but were very nearly denied the experience of participating in the ceremony of graduation, owing to their having committed an infraction of school rules.

That denial wasn't something that school officials particularly relished having to enforce. After all, the young men had never caused trouble before, and had not done anything deliberately wrong. They had missed the bus for the school trip and had made the spur-of-the-

that he feels it is preferable to present larger, more inclusive guidelines which will be applicable in all cases.

Rodriguez said that graduation and the ceremony commemorating it had become all but inseparable over the years. He said that for some seniors, high school graduation might well be the only graduation they ever have, and that to deny a student participation in the ceremony might brand him for life among his classmates, as well as depriving him of something for which he has worked for twelve years.

"The prevention of a graduate from participating in his own graduation ceremony," he said, "should be reserved for much more serious infractions."

A court appearance for final disposition was scheduled for June 6, but, according to Tom Rees, attorney for the Loraine School, Rodriguez has stated that he intends to withdraw the lawsuit.

LORAIN

moment decision to use their own car to follow their classmates to the trip's destination in Six Flags.

This is against school policy, and it isn't just an arbitrary rule, but is based upon a legitimate attempt to exercise control and order over extra-curricular school functions.

Superintendent Glenn Sanders and Principal Doug Foshee, with the backing of the school board, made the difficult decision to take what seemed to be the only disciplinary avenue open to them so late in the school year.

Earlier in the year they could have required detention, even in-school suspension, but there wasn't enough time for those options, and they felt as if they had to do something, in order to prevent the possibility that students might receive the impression that there would be no penalty for infractions of school policy rules.

Just hours before the ceremony was scheduled to begin, however, Abilene attorney Gilbert Rodriguez, acting for one of the students, Willie Hernandez, presented the case to District Judge Weldon Kirk, who issued a temporary restraining order which effectively circumvented the decision of school authorities.

Sanders and Foshee, upon being presented with the temporary restraining order affecting Hernandez, promptly informed Martin that he would be allowed to participate in the ceremony as well.

"All along we have tried to ensure that both students were treated in an equal manner," said Sanders.

"When we learned that Willie Hernandez would be allowed to participate," he continued, "we notified Jeff Martin that he would be allowed to participate too."

Sanders and Foshee obviously bear no hard feelings toward either Hernandez or Martin, nor those young men toward the school officials. In fact, they all seem genuinely to like and respect one another. Martin shook Sanders' hand warmly at the end of the procession to the front of the gymnasium.

There were a lot of stars at the Loraine graduation besides the two young men who almost didn't get to participate, however. The parts played by Hernandez and Martin simply added to the overall drama of the night.

School officials and board members were stars. They had made a decision, one they felt was the best decision possible under the circumstances, and having stood up for their beliefs, no matter how difficult that was to do, they nonetheless had yielded graciously and with honor to higher authority.

They sat and faced the crowd, and allowed no negative trace or controversy to spoil the perfect night.

All those young people who had spent their whole lives together, living in and out of each other's homes, sharing each other's clothes, and secrets, and dreams - sharing almost every waking moment, and who were suddenly about to change their lives forever, were stars.

They were comedians in some respects, too. Although in some schools an issue such as the one involving Hernandez and Martin might have become an "us against them" scenario, with students flaunting their perceived victory against authority, such was not the case in Loraine. Instead, the students took part in a subtle little comedy which seemed intended to show there were no hard feelings.

As the students made their march toward their rows of chairs, some of them, including Hernandez and Martin, handed Sanders small stacks of amber plastic cafeteria glasses. It was a simple gesture, not understood by everyone in the audience, but apparently understood by graduates and school officials.

An "in joke," it seemed to show that the students still considered Sanders, and, by association, all the other school officials, "in." No author could have devised a more perfect literary device for the purpose.

Foreign exchange student Marjo Puikonen, who blended in with the other seniors as if she, too, had always been a part of their lives, was a star.

Principal Doug Foshee presented her with a Loraine letter jacket from the Student Council, and told her it was to keep her from forgetting Loraine.

We know, however, that she will never forget Loraine. The speech she made, about the treasured memories and friendships she will carry with her forever, proved that.

The students who sang or gave speeches through their tears were stars, as were Cindy and James McCloud, and all of the others who contributed to the ceremony.

The students who received advanced diplomas were stars. Foshee said that those students, Christi Blair, Jennifer Clifton, Brooke Cooper, Michelle Garcia, Machele McAdams, Shelli Webb and Aimee Williams, had earned those diplomas by following a normal course of study plus an additional unit of science, two years of a foreign language, one year of computer science, and one year of fine arts.

All of those students, he added, had earned at least 23 credits, whereas only 21 are required for graduation.

The valedictorian and salutatorian, Brooke Cooper and Machele McAdams, were stars, and the winners of scholarships, and honors were stars.

Brooke Cooper was honored as highest ranking student by the Independent Colleges and Universities of Texas; she won a Top 5% scholarship from Midland College; a valedictorian scholarship and an honor scholarship from Howard County Junior College; the Loraine PTO scholarship; and the Presidential Academic Fitness Award.

Machele McAdams was honored as second highest ranking student by the Independent Colleges and Universities of Texas; she won the Carr Academic Scholarship from Angelo State University; the Top 5% scholarship from Midland College; an honor scholarship from Howard County Junior College; and the Presidential Academic Fitness Award.

Sherry Banks won the State Representative Robert Junell Scholarship; and the Shell Century Three Leaders Program Certificate of Merit.

Christi Blair won the Mitchell County Extension Homemakers educational scholarship.

Jennifer Clifton won the H.C. (Buck) and Lora Taylor Scholarship.

All the graduates were stars, as they struggled to control their emotions while their lives were changing forever.

Actually, everyone present in the gymnasium that night was a little like a star, because Loraine's high school graduation was like the movie which will be made someday, from that Great American Novel.

paid for aged and disabled residents," Dunavant said.

Food stamps worth $771,454 were issued for the fiscal year which ended August 31, while Aide to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) totaled $157,213. Food stamps are funded entirely by the federal government, while the department determines eligibility of applicants and issues the food coupons.

The state and federal governments share in the cost of AFDC to families where needy children are deprived of support because of the absence or disability of one or both parents.

In addition to services and assistance to low-income residents of the county, the department extended protective services to 86 abused and neglected children and their parents or caretakers. These services, furnished without regard to family income, were designed to reduce or eliminate danger to children.

There were 12 investigations in adult protective services. These investigations concerned reports of abuse, neglect, or exploitation of elderly or disabled adults.

Staats, Espinoza attend science symposium

Outstanding science students and their teachers from across the state were recently selected to attend the 31st Annual Texas Energy Science Symposium to be held at the University of Texas at Austin June 10-13.

Walter W. Staats, teacher and Brenda Espinoza, student, from Colorado City High School will participate in the symposium. Scientists, engineers and national leaders with special expertise in the energy fields will present a four-day program dealing with research and careers in energy science. Also scheduled are tours of the university's laboratories and research facilities.

The Symposium is sponsored by TU Electric, the University of Texas at Austin, and the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation.

Head Start program announced

People for Progress, Inc. has recently received a $301,000.00 grant from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services for the start-up and operation of the Head Start program for Mitchell, Scurry, Nolan, and Fisher counties. Head Start will begin operation in August, 1991, with one or two classrooms being provided for each county. This program will be provided at no cost to the participants.

The purpose of Head Start is to provide children from ages 3 to 5 years of age with a comprehensive program to meet their emotional, social, health, nutritional, and psychological needs to prepare them for entrance to public schools.

Children receive a complete examination, including vision and hearing tests, identification of handicapping conditions, immunizations, and a dental exam. Follow-up treatment is provided for identified health problems. Head Start children will attend class for 6 to 8 hours per day and will be provided with breakfast, lunch, and two snacks per day.

Head Start children score higher than comparable non-Head Start children in preschool achievement tests. The studies also show that Head Start children perform equal to or better than their peers when entering a regular school and there are fewer grade retentions and special placements.

Handicapped children and their families can receive Head Start Developmental Services, also. In addition, Head Start members work closely with community agencies to provide services to meet the special needs of the handicapped child. Classes and workshops on child development are offered to help parents learn about the needs of their children and about educational activities that can be carried into the home.

Anyone interested in applying for Head Start should come by the Mitchell County Day Care Center or call 728-5897.

Obituaries

Colby Ross Dockrey

Colby Ross Dockrey, 2, of Sterling City, died on Tuesday, May 28, 1991 in Cook's Children's Hospital.

Services were held on Friday, May 31 at the First Baptist Church of Sterling City, under the direction of Kiker Seale Funeral Home, with the Reverend Charles Grossman officiating. Burial followed in Montvale Cemetery in Sterling City.

Colby was born on Thursday, August 4, 1988 in San Angelo to Allan and Sheryl Dockrey of Sterling City, who survive him.

He is also survived by a sister, Jaymi Dockrey, of Sterling City.

Consuelo M. Sanchez

Consuelo M. Sanchez, 58, of Colorado City, died Tuesday, May 28, 1991 at Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene.

Services were held at 10 a.m. on Friday, May 31 at St. Ann's Catholic Church in Colorado City, under the direction of Kiker Seale Funeral Home, with Father John Bush of Holy Family Catholic Church officiating.

Burial followed in St. Ann's Catholic Church Cemetery.

Mrs. Sanchez was born in La Reforma, Texas, and has been in Mitchell County since 1958. She was a member of St. Ann's Catholic Church, and was employed by Root Valley Fair Lodge since 1966.

A devoted mother of nine, she was preceded in death by her husband, Robert G. Sanchez, in 1962 and a son, John Louis Sanchez, in 1974.

Survivors include six sons: Robert Sanchez, Ray Sanchez, Alfred Sanchez, and Rick Sanchez of Houston; Raymond Sanchez of Colorado City; and Frank Sanchez of Abilene; two daughters: Irma Dobre of Garden Grove, California; and Lisa Sanchez of Houston.

Also surviving her are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Salazar of Colorado City; three brothers: Leo Salazar of Big Spring; Ramiro Salazar of Coahoma; and Gilbert Salazar of Snyder; five sisters: Hope Munoz of Flint, Michigan; Gloria Gomez of Abilene; Lydia Rodriguez of Big Spring; Rosa Barron of Fallbrook, California; and Francis Garcia of Stockton, California.

Bike-a-thon to aid St. Jude Hospital

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital has announced that Mrs. Julie Atkins will coordinate the Colorado City "Wheels for Life" Bike-A-Thon. The date of Saturday, June 29 has been selected for the ride.

Founded by Danny Thomas in 1962, St. Jude Children's Research Hospital is the largest childhood cancer research-treatment-education center in America. Although located in Memphis, Tennessee, the hospital has a local impact because area doctors and hospitals can use treatments and procedures developed at St. Jude.

St. Jude Hospital is non-sectarian, interracial, and provides medical care for over 3,500 active patients. Currently, over $192,000 is needed each day to keep the doors open. These funds come primarily from public contributions.

This year's Bike-A-Thon is dedicated to Brooke Simon. Five-year-old Brooke, from Delcambre, Louisiana, developed Wilms Tumor in November, 1988.

Following the removal of her left kidney, she has undergone radiation and chemotherapy. Though her prognosis is good, her fight still continues.

We are grateful for the concern that Mrs. Atkins has for our work, and we hope the citizens of Colorado City will support the Bike-A-Thon to help provide the funds which are needed to preserve the world's greatest asset - our children.

Tickets will be available at the offices of the Colorado City Record beginning on Monday, June 3.

themes of those entries, and the veterans who will be honored.

The calliope from McMurry University will be a part of the parade, as will the stagecoach from Fort Wood. Pilots from the Fourth of July Fly In will be flying over, as well.

Donations have been received so far from several individuals, but the parade committee is still far short of its goal of $600, which will be used as prize money to be awarded the three best entries in the parade.

Committee members hope that merchants, civic clubs, and private individuals will continue to bring donations to the Chamber of Commerce, and that they will try later if the office is closed.

Merchants, civic clubs, and private individuals are also asked to sign up for participation in the parade.

With the time of the parade fast approaching, meetings of the parade committee will be held more frequently.

The next meeting will be at noon on Thursday, June 6, at the Civic Center.

Any person who is interested in helping, or just in finding out more about the parade, is encouraged to attend.

Committee members hope to make the upcoming parade a real tribute to all Mitchell County veterans, so if you aren't going to be in the parade itself, your presence is requested along the parade route!

Bring a flag to wave, and come celebrate!

Rich named National Award winner

STACY RICH

The United States Achievement Academy has announced that Stacy

Rich has been named a United States National Award winner in science.

This award is a prestigious honor which very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10% of all American high school students.

Rich, who attends Westbrook High School, was nominated for this National Award by Kristy Frizzell, a biology teacher at the school.

Stacy's picture will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly United States Achievement Academy award winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy.

The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, responsibility, and recommendation from a teacher or director.

Stacy Rich is the son of Buz and Janell Rich of Colorado City, and the grandson of Bessie and Buford Rich of Westbrook and of the late Erma and Ted Graham of Colorado City.
