Vol. 14, No. 43 IOWA PARK, WICHITA COUNTY, TEXAS 76367 THURSDAY, JULY 7, 1983

State official expresses optimism about landfill

Barring some unforseen problem, Iowa Park should receive a permit to use its proposed sanitary landfill the last week of August.

E.B. Fuller, Austin attorney who served as hearing examiner here Thursday, said the final decision on the application should be made within 60 days of the hearing.

His prediction was echoed by Manik Naik, who attended the required public hearing as a representative of the state's solid waste division. "It will most probably be approved unless the commissioner changes it," he said.

Fuller used the opening 22 minutes of the hearing to explain to those in the audience all the steps that are taken leading up to, during and following such a hearing.

Only one person other than city personnel or representatives asked to speak during the hearing.

Ed Holder expressed concern over possible water pollution and problem with blowing trash from the landfill. Apparently most of his concerns were satisfied, however, when on numerous time he said there would be no problem if "they (the city) do what they say they will do."

Holder admitted he didn't use any well water for home consumption, explaining "I have the potential use of water."

He warned that there are several wells within a mile of the site and they had all been tested and action would be taken if pollution were to develop in the future.

However, when asked by Kerry Maroney, city engineer, who tested the water samples, Holder said he understood someone at Midwestern State Univ. did it. Maroney said no one there was approved to test drinking water, only state personnel.

Maroney said water samples taken from borings at the landfill site, as well as surface water in the area, both indicated the water was not fit for human consumption. He had the state's tests entered into the documents of the hearing.

Holder also warned "If any (trash) blows on me or any of my neighbors, we'll want it done (cleaned up) immediately. Not wait five or six days."

Administrator James Barrington had explained the number and dimensions of screens being constructed to catch any blowing trash from the landfill pits.

County Commissioner Gordon Griffith said he was aware the city was running out of landfill space and he saw no obstacles which would keep the county and city from reaching an agreement on joint maintenance of county roads to the landfill.

The hearing examiner made special note of "evident cooperative attitude between city and council," and mentioned such cooperativeness was not existent in his home city of Austin.

Administrator Barrington stressed the fact that the city "... will abide by all recomendations" of the planning engineer who is the most knowledgable here concerning state and federal requirements for operating a landfill.

Also answering questions by Naik were Maroney and Mike Shefflett, engineer who deals primarily with soils.

Fuller said the records of the application would remain open until July 25, after which they would be closed and forwarded to the state commissioner for his action.

NEW CHAMBER SECRETARY - Mrs. Dwain Holmes, seated, began understudy work as Chamber of Commerce secretary this week. She will succeed Mrs. Ray Pittman, who held the position eight years. A native of Valley View, Mrs. Holmes [Winnie to her friends] has been a resident of Iowa Park since 1950. The Chamber office will begin new hours beginning Monday: 10 a.m. until 3 p.m., including the noon hour, weekdays.

Area II tourney returning to IP

After more than a decade's absence from Iowa Park, the District 6 Tournament for Little League Baseball returns once again, according to Iowa Park All-Star coaches Jimmy Duggins and Herb Edward.

Not only that, but the Area II Tournament, which will decide the representative to the district tournament from Wichita County All-Star teams, will also be played in Iowa Park Monday and Tuesday.

Burkburnett will meet Sheppard A.F.B. at 7:30 Monday night, and Iowa Park hits the field at 7:30 the following night for their first game.

Twelve area towns will compete in area tournaments all next week to decide the representatives to the District 6 Tournament, to be held a week later. Local league officials are hoping to be able to also host a bi-district tournament in Iowa Park.

The winner of the Area II Tournament will return for a 5 p.m. game Monday, July 18.

MAJOR LEAGUE ALL-STARS

Neighborhood Watch leaders designated

The Iowa Park Neighborhood Watch Program got underway recently with an organizational meeting held at the Christ the King Catholic Church. The purpose of the meeting was to designate block leaders who will be holding neighborhood watch meetings within their individual blocks during the month of July.

All of the block leaders have agreed to hold their neighborhood watch meetings before Aug. 1. At that time, some of the groups will place orders for neighborhood watch signs, which will be posted at the street entrance into the designated area.

The neighborhood watch program is headed by Don Decker and Bill Curry, co-chairmen. Block captains and the streets which they will cover include: Sandi Teer - West Valley Drive; Mr. and Mrs. Ken Cole - S. Park, Poe, and Ruby; Ruth Edwards - 200 Block East Jefferson; and John Kibler - 500 block West Aldine.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Lee - Wagon Wheel and Yucca; Gratan Eiben - West View; Estel and Teresa Jameson - 600 block of West Rebecca; Leo Fletcher - Van Horn; Robert Pancoast - Johnson and Surrey; and Deanne Landrum - West Texas.

Block helpers include Loraine Sanders, Larry Culipher, Lola and Preston Pace, and Mrs. Jack Homestead.

These block captains and helpers will be meeting with their neighbors during the month of July to explain how the neighborhood watch program works and how neighbors can help neighbors to reduce the possibility of neighborhood burglary. They will be encouraging their blocks to post neighborhood watch signs in the area. There will be a small fee collected for the block signs.

The cost of the sign is about $25, which can be prorated among the people participating within that block. There is no requirement to post the signs. It is optional with the neighborhood. Another neighborhood watch meeting will be scheduled early in August to order signs and to report on the block organizational meeting.

Anyone who would like to serve as a block captain in the neighborhood watch program can do so by contacting either Don Decker at 711 West Rebecca, 592-5456, or Bill Curry, 101 West Aldine, 592-5356.

MONDAY NIGHT

Council may hear change pending for cable system

Iowa Park City Council is expected to hear a report at its meeting Monday that ownership of Cable Television is to change hands.

Local manager, Raymond Greenwood has asked for time to make a personal appearance and explain pending transition of ownership and possible future plans of the new owners.

The meeting is to begin at 7 p.m. in council chambers.

Also on the meeting agenda is a resolution permitting the city administrator to enter into an agreement with Wichita County commissioners court concerning a road maintenance agreement on Smith and Johnson roads. The roads will be used as access to the proposed new landfill site.

Administrator James Barrington is to provide information on smoke detectors and also hold a discussion with the council concerning disposition of the "Overbey House" on West Highway, which was purchased a few years ago by the city to be cleared and allow extension of Fourth Street to West Highway.

The agenda also includes an executive session for the discussion of personnel.

TESCo DECISION DELAYED

The council last week approved a resolution delaying any action on a 16.1 percent rate increase sought by Texas Electric Service Co.

During Thursday's meeting, which had been postponed from June 27 due to threatening weather, TESCo manager Wayne House explained the reasons his company was seeking the additional money.

Aldermen authorized Barrington to advertise for bids to purchase a teletype system.

Council members approved appointments of Tommy Key to the electrical board and Barbara Padgett and Virgil Woodfin to the parks board.

Members also generally agreed an inventory of capital investment items owned by the city should be done, and Barrington is to see if an intern from Midwestern State Univ. is available to undertake such a program.

Discussions were held on: a possible fire department substation on S. Texowa; lack of activity on city property leased to local soccer enthusiasts; and an agreement needed in writing with the county concerning roads to the proposed landfill site.

CAR seeking new members

New members are currently being sought for the Children of American Revolution (C.A.R.) chapter in North Texas, which encompasses Wichita and Archer Counties and has 10 members on its roll, according to Buford Allen Young, liason officer from Minnesota.

Yung, president of the St. Paul Chapter C.A.R., said recently any boy or girl under 21 years of age and with ancestors traced to the American Revolution are eligible to join. C.A.R. is affiliated with Daughters of American Revolution (D.A.R.) and Sons of American Revolution (S.A.R.) and promoted patriotic anniversaries and events, and patriotism into the future.

Persons wishing more information can contact Mrs. Gary L. Gregg, D.A.R. Regent, Major Francis Rice Chapter of Wichita Falls, at 767-0529; or, Sharon Timlin at 855-2156.

Glenn, Olds exchange wedding vows here Friday

An impressive double-ring ceremony was solemnized Friday evening at the Church of God by the groom's father to unite Miss Celeste LeAnn Glenn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyndell Glenn, and Eric Van Olds, son of Rev. and Mrs. Ole Olds.

In the dignified altar decorations, the brass archway and candelabra were ornamented with fresh sprengeri, orchid daisies and baby's breath in duplicate fashion.

The archway at the center of the altar was backgrounded with a fifteen-branched votive candelabra standing in front of the baptistry and flanked by the votive candles twinkling in spiral candelabra. The face-to-face prayer bench in the foreground that commanded a most significant part of the setting was decorated with a graceful plaque of fresh orchid daisies, leatherleaf and baby's breath.

The unity candlestick in the outer altar was centered with a smaller plaque of the flowers and greenery on the prayer bench and held two burning orchid candles during the ceremony. It became the focus of attention when the bride and groom lifted the candles from their holders to light the center white candle, then extinguished them to signify that they were no longer "twain but one in the flesh."

The church pews were marked with large white satin bows centered with silk orchid dogwood.

The wedding music was provided by Mrs. Patty Glover, organist, Mrs. Dennis Herder and Mrs. Brad Beggs, vocalists. The organist gave a prelude of appropriate selections that suited the solemn atmosphere, played the time-honored marches and accompanied the vocalists. Mrs. Herder sang "If" while guests were assembling and "Truly" after the groom and his attendants had entered the nuptial space. She sang "God, a Woman and a Man" during the ceremony, and Mrs. Beggs sang "The Lord's Prayer" at the close.

Miss Shannon Glenn, cousin of the bride, presided at the registry table in the church foyer to direct wedding guests in signing the wedding book before the ceremony. The table was draped with a full length white satin cloth featuring two rows of ruffled lace at floor level. It held a bouquet of fresh orchid daisies, sprengeri and baby's breath, an orchid votive candle in a clear hurricane globe supported by a brass holder and a candlelight plume pen.

All eyes were on the bride as she entered the church with her father who escorted her to the altar to present her in marriage for her parents. Her exquisite formal gown of ivory candlelight lace and organza captured the glow and glamor of seed pearls, iridescents, crystal pleating and point de spirit. The beauty of the gown, veil and bride's satin wedding slippers was enhanced by the handiwork of her grandmother, Mrs. A.W. Bedford, who added extra pearls and lace accents.

The natural waist bodice of lace and pearls was designed with a high neck outlined with a crystal pleated ruffle and sheer yoke of point de spirit. Matching satin-covered buttons gave a touch of splendor to the back of the bodice and cuffs of the long fitted sleeves ruffled with lace at the wrists.

The full organza skirt was accented with wide rows of lace dotted with pearls that extended from the waistline on either side of the front of the skirt to a wide inset of lace and a pleated flounce at floor level. The chapel length train featured four rows of lace and pleating to complete the beautiful picture of the gown.

The bride's two-tiered waltz length veil of bridal illusion was appliqued with pearled lace and drifted from a pillbox cap covered in lace and rimmed with silk flowers. She carried a fantasy fan-shaped bouquet outlined with candlelight lace, a silk creation of white open roses and rosebuds, silk rose greenery and baby's breath with cascading candlelight and orchid picot ribbons.

The bride's interesting "something old" tradition was a gold pin that had belonged to her great-great-grandmother. It was pinned to a "something blue" bow on a candlelight satin and lace garter. She wore diamond ear rings, a gift from the groom, for "something new;" her maternal grandmother's wedding ring for "something borrowed;" and a sixpence in her shoe.

In lieu of giving flowers to the mothers, the bride presented them with candlelight silk handkerchiefs at the appropriate times during the service.

Mrs. Craig McCord, cousin of the bride, took part in the wedding as matron of honor. She wore a formal orchid gown of point de spirit and crepe designed with a natural waist bodice, high neck, sheer lace yoke, full lace sleeves and A-line skirt. She carried her silk bouquet of orchid dogwood and tiger lilies with matching streamers on a candlelight lace fan edged with pearls.

The bridesmaids wearing identical gowns and carrying the same fans were Miss Judy Cook, Miss Elayne Olds, sister of the groom, and Miss Tena Posey, cousin of the bride.

Miss Tammy Cook, the flower girl, wore a long candlelight lace dress patterned in yesteryear's style with ruffled high neck, puffed sleeves trimmed with orchid bows, an orchid satin sash and tiered skirt. She wore a hair comb trimmed with a lace bow accented with tiny orchid flowers and carried a candlelight wicker basket filled and decorated at the sides with the same flowers and ribbons that were noted on the attendants' fans.

Barry McCord, nephew of the bride, who carried the satin lace-covered ring pillow, was dressed like the groom, who chose an oxford gray cutaway tail coat with a white winged tip shirt and matching striped ascot and trousers. His boutonniere was formed of orchid silk dogwood and candlelight silk baby's breath.

Keith Porter of Omaha, Neb., the best man, Stacy Smith of Borger, Kelvin Hamilton, Tim Taylor of Amarillo, groomsmen, wore oxford gray coats, matching vests and pants with white ruffled shirts and bow ties. The father of the bride was dressed like the attendants, except for a black tuxedo.

Ushers were Jeff Posey, cousin of the bride, and Kaios Ryan of Andover, Mass., cousin of the groom.

The bride's mother was attired in a mauve luster glo dress styled with a natural waist bodice and slit skirt. She wore a Victorian jacket of point de spirit with a high neck of lace and sheer yoke accented with Brussels embroidery and outlined in lace which was repeated on the bishop sleeves and short peplum.

The groom's mother wore an all over petite accordion pleated pastel aqua gown fashioned with long sleeves terminating in double wrist [illegible] gown extended from the neckline to the floor. The waistline was defined with an organza belt that tied and the hemline, stretched as sewn, produced a ruffle effect.

The mothers complemented their formal attire with purple cattelya orchids.

Following the wedding, the bride's parents honored the couple at a reception held in the Fellowship Hall which was decorated to give the appearance of a summer garden with a profusion of potted plants in brass urns, blooming trees and wild flowers.

The bride's table depicted the beauty of the orchid and candlelight color combination at its best. The table was placed in front of an oval antique wall mirror framed in gold and flanked by brass urns filled with silk greenery to blend with the antique appointments on the tables in the room.

Draped with candlelight polyester satin featuring a pleated and pearl-pinned skirt headed with a ruffle and lace band threaded with orchid ribbon graced with satin bows centered with lace bows with streamers, the centerpiece for the table was an heirloom five-branched brass candelabra with crystal prisms holding orchid votive candles. The candelabra was encirled with sprengeri and orchid daisies.

The cake at one table extremity will always be one of the couple's happiest memories of their wedding day. The candlelight four-tiered structure with two sets of Gothic stands was deftly frosted with open roses and cascades of rosebuds in shades of orchid with pale green leaves and artistic sculpturing. The romantic mood of the occasion was emphasized in the top ornament where two satin wedding bells filled with wedding flowers in the chosen shades hung from the center of a ring of pearled hearts.

The crystal punch service, crystal toasting glasses, hand molded mints and orchid napkins inscribed with "Our Wedding Day, Celeste and Eric in gold added the finishing touches to the decor. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Tommy Cantrell, Robin Blackerby and Mrs. Howard Fleschman.

Mrs. Anthony York and Miss Paige Watkins served at the groom's table laid with a beige polyester linen cloth headed with a band of purple grosgrain ribbon secured with pearl pins. The center front of the band was accented with the bride's throw away bouquet composed of fresh orchid daisies, baby's breath, wisps of satin ribbon and streamers.

The centerpiece for the table, also a treasured heirloom, was a brass and crystal candle holder with crystal [illegible] resting on a marble base. The antique piece was centered with a crystal bowl centered with a purple candle in the midst of floating orchid daisies. The chocolate cake on the table was the conversation piece. The sheet cake was centered with a white Bible with ivory pages opened at Jeremiah 31:3 marking the scripture "I have loved thee with an everlasting love." The cake was served with coffee from a gold service.

Houseparty members were Mmes. Bill Cook, Buster Reaves, C.B. Posey, Val Glenn, Bruce Hammonds, Peggy Thompson, Mike Franklin, G.R. Rusk and Steve Porter.

The gift table in the room was covered and decorated to blend in with the other tables. It held brass trays filled with the couple's scrolls and candlelight net rice bags nestled in orchid wedding bells, and a fresh flower arrangement.

The groom's parents were hosts for the rehearsal dinner held Thursday evening in the Fellowhsip Hall of the church.

The bride was graduated from Iowa Park High School. She attended Midwestern State Univ. and is employed at Cryovac. The groom was graduated from Western Hills High School in Fort Worth and is employed by Howmet. Following a short wedding trip, they are now at home in Iowa Park.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. E.T. Palmer of Richland, Washington, grandparents of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. A.W. Bedford of Iowa Park, grandparents of the bride. Special out-of-town guests were Mrs. Jeri Ryan and Kaios of Andover, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Smith of Borger, Rev. and Mrs. Travis Smith of Omaha, Neb., Mrs. Dell Harbour of Oklahoma City and Mrs. Russell Lyles of Archer City.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

Roy McQueen, publisher of the Snyder newspaper, did some research and came up with the following bit of information: the bathtub was invented in 1850 and the telephone in 1875.

Like most people whose work has them on call 24 hours a day, Roy was impressed when he determined "Had you been living in 1850, you could have sat in a bathtub 25 years without the phone ringing once."

One of the speakers at a session I heard recently in Austin observed the big hotel chain, Hyatt Regency, had become the major stockholder to get the bankrupt Braniff Airlines back into business.

He said the acquisition now gives Hyatt personnel an excuse for losing your luggage in the elevators.

Judges don't like to be judged and teachers don't like to be graded.

If anyone criticizes the decision of a judge, especially federal judges, they can, and sometimes do, find themselves facing a contempt of court charge.

In an attempt to keep politics out of decisions rendered by the U.S. Supreme Court, judges are appointed for life. About the only way to have one removed would be for the judge to stand before the full court, hold a baby up with one hand and with the other use a knife to slash its throat.

College professors have worked their way into about the same position. It's called tenure. And they really raised the roof when, on some campuses, students wanted to annually grade their instructors. It's unnatural!

Teachers in public schools want the same thing. Not all of them, of course, but the loud ones in such organizations as the National Education Association, American Federation of Teachers and Texas State Teachers Association, are solidly against "merit pay."

Merit pay would be the basis for teacher pay raises. In other words, educators would be like the rest of us: the more they worked, the more they produced, the better opportunity they would have to receive salary increases.

Most of the argument against merit pay, that I've heard, is such judgement would be based on politics, no one can tell how well a teacher instructs until the students are grown, and teachers would spend most of their time "teaching tests" so the students would do well on their standard tests.

To be sure, there are some valid points in each of those responses. And just as sure, not all teachers argue against merit pay.

But it seems there must be some incentive for those in the educational field other than years of service.

The majority of our teachers in the Iowa Park School system are outstanding. Their results are shown on the various standard tests given students. And, at least we're told, they use those tests to determine areas where greater emphasis should be placed in order to give students needed improvements in basics.

I'm told by a good friend, who is a teacher, there just isn't any way to judge what kind of job a teacher is doing. I certainly wouldn't know how to do it.

But surely, somewhere among those whose life's work is teaching and grading, someone is smart enough to come up with a workable plan.

Teachers -- those who work hard and are successful in educating our children -- should be paid a wage competitive with any other profession. Those who do the good job should earn the good living.

Rural mail carrier Hoyt Watson found a jewel of a note in one box recently. It was apparently written by the older of two children in a family who was worried about the actions of the younger.

"To: Mail Man

"My bouther is onley 6 and he puts green stamps on letters and that pretty dumb so I ask you to take them but don't send them."

There's nothing junky about that kind of mail.

Growing pumpkins for Halloween

Now is the time to get pumpkins planted in order to make fruit for Halloween.

John David Padgett, a eight-year-old youth from Iowa Park, already has his pumpkin crop well underway. He planted earlier in the spring, and the vines already have pumpkins set.

The most desirable variety for Jack-O-Lanterns is the Big Moon varicty, according to County Agent Don Decker. It makes a very large pumpkin, and the flesh is very desirable for cooking. In order for a plant to make a large pumpkin, they should be allowed to make only one or two pumpkins. The others can be pruned off.

20 ways to help hold down your electric bill.

A checklist to help you save energy and money at home.

Energy Conservation Practices

The following low- or no-cost home conservation practices can help you save energy and money.

- ❑ Do not use air conditioning until absolutely necessary.
- ❑ Keep your thermostat set as high as possible. We recommend 80° in the summer. For added comfort, use ceiling or portable fans to circulate the air.
- ❑ Check your air conditioner filters each month to see if they need cleaning or changing. And make sure that the outside unit is free of grass, leaves and trash.
- ❑ When leaving home, turn off air conditioning. If away for two days or more, turn off water heater.
- ❑ If you use an automatic dishwasher, set water heater to 140°; otherwise, set temperature to 120° or lower.
- ❑ Use scrap insulation to plug air leaks from attic and around window air conditioners.
- ❑ Repair water leaks in pipes and faucets, and seal air duct leaks.
- ❑ Use drapes, blinds, shades, awnings or plants to block sunlight.
- ❑ Try to minimize traffic through outside doors.
- ❑ Economize in the kitchen. Plan meals so several dishes can be cooked in the oven at the same time.
- ❑ Save when you do laundry. Wash and dry only full loads of clothes.

Energy Conservation Measures

These home installations and modifications require an investment, but may return their cost to you in the form of savings on utility bills.

- ❑ Caulk and weatherstrip around doors and windows to reduce air leaks.
- ❑ Add insulation to ceilings, walls and floors.
- ❑ Insulate ducts, especially in the attic.
- ❑ Insulate hot water pipes in attic.
- ❑ Install insulation blankets on water heaters, especially in garage or basement.
- ❑ Investigate cost-effectiveness of storm doors and windows.
- ❑ Add solar-reflecting materials to glass doors and windows on east/west exposures.
- ❑ As a convenience, install a clock thermostat to automatically set air conditioner and heating unit to desired temperature. Even when you're away from home, the clock thermostat can control your air conditioner for more economical operation.
- ❑ If your central air unit is more than five years old, you may want to consider replacing it with one that's more energy-efficient. We recommend new units with a Seasonal Energy Efficiency Rating (SEER) of at least 9. For information on how energy-efficient equipment can save you money, ask your dealer or call Texas Electric.

Vanek, Faiella wedding ceremony held here Saturday afternoon

Miss Denette Ruth Vanek became the bride of Joseph N. Faiella Saturday afternoon at First United Methodist Church in a double-ring ceremony performed by Rev. George G. Topper, pastor. The parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Vanek of Iowa Park and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Faiella of South Weymouth, Mass.

Focal point of interest in the altar setting was an open Bible backgrounded by a gold cross and flanked by tall white candles in gold holders. The sunlight streaming through the stained glass window above the choir loft fell upon the setting to supplement the candlelight.

A 15-branched candelabra back of the table that held the Bible and seven-branched candelabra on either side where white cathedral candles burned were entwined with fresh emerald and white mums. Baskets of white gladioli and mums and blue carnations flanked the white cushioned kneeling bench decorated with a long cascade of emerald centered with a satin bow and baby's breath. The three-branched candlestick in the outer altar that held the unity candle waiting to be lighted by the bride and groom after the ceremony was decorated in the same theme.

The aisle leading to the altar was lighted by white candles aflame in clear hurricane globes banked with balls of greenery held by silver wrought iron posts.

The candles were set ablaze for the service by Johnny Johnson of Corpus Christi, cousin of the bride.

Don Owens, organist, presented a prelude concert of classical and sacred music and remained at the instrument to play Wagner's Lohengrin for the processional and Mendelssohn's recessional.

Mrs. Jimmy Spears, accompanied by Mrs. Otis Gay, pianist, sang "Can't Help Falling in Love with You" for a prelude selection. During the ceremony, she sang "You and I" and concluded her vocal numbers with "Whither Thou Goest" at the close of the ceremony.

The bride walked to the altar on the arm of her father who presented her in marriage for her parents. On her way she paused by her mother's pew to give her a red rose of love, and as she left the altar with her husband, she remembered the groom's mother in the same way.

The bride was a vision of loveliness in a beautifully flowing gown of white Chantilly lace over peau de soie gently sculpted with reembroidered Alencon lace medallions beaded with seed pearls.

The bodice of the gown was designed with a sweetheart neckline outlined with chiffon and lace ruffles that dipped to a point at the back waistline. The fascinating sleeves featured two different styles, short puffed sleeves bordered with a lace ruffle above the elbow and then narrowed to tight sleeves that terminated in chiffon and lace ruffles at the wrists. The reembroidered and pearl-accented medallions accented the waistline and the full skirt showered with the same ornamentation circled to two white chiffon and one lace ruffle at floor level, then extended the length of the chapel train.

The bride wore a bridal illusion veil and blusher trimmed with scalloped lace that floated gracefully to fingertip length from a Juliet cap of lace and seed pearls. She carried a free form all-white bouquet fashioned of roses, agapanthus, eucalyptus, snapdragons, carnations, baby's breath and ivy.

She kept traditions of the day with clothing article for "something old;" Mrs. Donnie Taylor's handkerchief for "something borrowed;" her gown for "something new;" and a blue grosgrain ribbon, the trim on a white crocheted garter adorned with seed pearls, the handiwork of her grandmother, Mrs. Henry Johnson, for "something blue."

Mrs. Ricky Vanek, the bride's sister-in-law, participated in the wedding as matron of honor. She wore a sky blue chiffon gown patterned in the latest fashion with a low neckline bordered with two ruffles that formed cap sleeves, a cummerbund waistline, a hemline flounce that lifted in the back to a chiffon cabbage rose to achieve a bustle effect. She wore a halo of blue silk azaleas and baby's breath with trailing picot ribbons and carried navy blue silk roses, light blue forget me nots and baby's breath accented with a pearl heart on a long stem strung with pearls.

Wearing identical costumes and halos and carrying the same flowers were the bridesmaids, Tina Thomas of Corpus Christi, cousin of the bride, Miss Lisa Nisbet, also of Corpus Christi, Mrs. Donnie Taylor of Iowa Park, and Miss Shelia Johnson of Corpus Christi, cousin of the bride.

Miss Mindy Vanek and Miss Jennifer Vanek, nieces of the bride, served as flower girls. Mindy wore a long dress like the bridal attendants wore modified to suit her age. She wore a halo like theirs and carried a white basket laced and trimmed with blue ribbons that held white and blue silk daisies, roses, apple blossoms, baby's breath, net and ribbon accents.

Jennifer wore a Southern Belle turquoise blue taffeta dress with white lace bloomers. The bodice featured a Victorian neckline and a waistline sash that tied in a bow at the back. To suit the style of the frock, she carried a white lace parasol filled with flowers and frills that were in the basket.

Jeff Blanton of Corpus Christi, cousin of the groom, was chosen to carry the white crocheted ring pillow trimmed with satin ribbon and a strand of pearls made by the bride's grandmother. He was dressed like the groom's attendants.

Edward Faiella of Abington, Mass. brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Paul Faiella, brother of the groom, David Cicerone, cousin of the groom, both of South Weymouth, Mass., Steve Roberge of Corpus Christi, and Brian Putnam of Swampscott, Mass.

The groom wore a navy tuxedo with tails and cummerbund, light blue wing tip shirt, a navy blue bow tie and light and dark silk rosebuds mixed with baby's breath for his boutonniere. The groomsmen and father of the bride wore less formal navy blue tuxedos.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Vanek selected a long gown of ice blue chiffon over taffeta styled with a double ruffle trimmed V-neck, long sleeves with lace ruffles at the wrists and a self sash that tied in front. The groom's mother was attired in a pale blue jersey crepe gown designed with a low neckline and slit skirt. It was topped with a matching jacket edged in lace accented with a belt with a jewelled clasp. Both wore silk corsages composed of sky blue and white silk roses and buds, ice blue leaves and net.

Following the wedding, guests assembled in the Fellowship Hall of the church for a reception hosted by the bride's parents.

Upon entering, Miss Shelia Johnson, one of the bridesmaids, invited them to sign the wedding book with a blue plume pen at a table covered with blue linen fringed at floor level overlaid with white dotted swiss. The floral appointment of varied shades of blue roses intermixed with baby's breath and leatherleaf was contained in a brass and crystal vase flanked with blue candles in brass holders.

True to form, the bride's table held irresistible charm in the setting. Its decorations, characterized by beautiful simplicity, were compatible with the delicate white lace cloth featuring a tiered skirt and a band of lace threaded with pale blue silk ribbons graced at intervals with lace bows and tiny blue silk flowers around the top.

The distinguishing mark of the table was the cake in the center decorated in a restrained style pleasing to refined taste. The three-tiered structure was erected upon tall cherub posts around a fountain splashing blue water. The tiers were gently touched with frosting clusters of pale blue roses with faint green leaves and delicate sculpturing and topped with a blown glass heart and bell ornament.

One side of the table was adorned with a crystal punch service, the bowl placed on a brass stand, and the other side held a brass candelabrum decorated with a center bouquet of blue silk roses, gladioli spikes, baby's breath and candles. The blue gold bells-accented napkins inscribed with the names of the bride and groom in gold, the crystal toasting glasses and blue bell-shaped mints were carefully placed on the table where June Schultz, Caroline Cicerone and Mrs. Gordon Griffith presided.

The groom's table where Marisa Maxwell and Mary Doner served was laid with white lace over navy blue polyester. It held a duplicate brass candelabrum of the one on the bride's table, a chocolate cake lettered in blue with "Denette-Joe" and topped with a comical bride and groom. Bronze ducks were accessory pieces on the table.

During the reception, the flower girls handed out the white net rice bags tied with blue ribbon from a white basket laced with blue ribbon.

Mrs. Henry Johnson of Iowa Park, Mrs. Cleva Hutson, Mr. and Mrs. George Dodson, all of Vernon, the bride's grandparents, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Derringer of Houston, sister and brother-in-law of the groom, were special guests in addition to those previously mentioned as members of the wedding party.

The bride attended Iowa Park High School and was graduated from Mary Carroll High School at Corpus Christi. The groom was graduated from South Weymouth, Mass. High School. He attended Boston College and Harvard Univ. of Boston, Mass. The couple will live in Iowa Park.

Watson named to Dean's List

Wayne Watson of Iowa Park has been named to the Dean's Honor List at Texas Christian University for the 1983 spring semester. This recognition cites undergraduate students for academic accomplishments. In order to be eligible, a student must have been enrolled for 12 or more semester hours of study.

Though not the only indication of educational accomplishment, outstanding grades mark the attainment of high challenges by the University's professors, according to Dr. William H. Koehler, TCU vice chancellor for academic affairs.

Watson, freshman, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. E.F. Watson of 520 W. Clara.

Norman D. Nettleton, Pastor 211 So. Yosemite

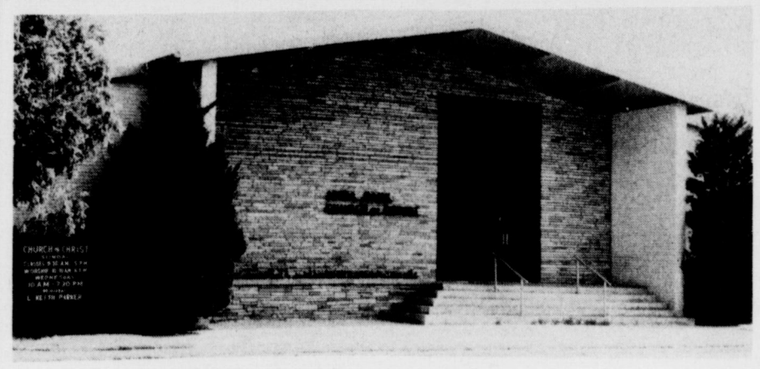

The strain of attempting to get reality in touch with the things we wish for can be like trying to connect two tracks that refuse to meet. After a while, we may feel like it's not worth the effort.

We make a lot of wishes and fantasize about that better position, that right person, that changing situation. But these seldom link with reality. You see, optimism is based on right circumstances. If everything is going well — if by chance things work out right — we can be optimistic. When life falls apart — what then?

Hope is different. It's deep and unassailable. Jesus was a hopeful person. Even in the midst of pain, distress, unease, and the stresses of life, He gave and gives hope. Connect your reality to a living hope.

Wheat test yields 61.8

By Don D. Decker

vier wheat seeding rates made st bushels, and this was a year ry" for TAM 101 according to wheat result demonstrations ted by Freddie Daume on sway 287 near Iowa Park. The test plots are conducted ly by the county crops ttee aimed at keeping wheat rs informed on the best wheat tion practices.

nty pounds of wheat seed per acre produced the most wheat with 61.8 bushels per acre. This was closely followed by 97 pounds of seed per acre yielding 59.2 bushels per acre. Actually, there was no significant difference between the 70 and 97 pounds of seed per acre. This indicates the best seeding rate varies from 70 to 97 pounds of seed per acre.

This was not a good year for lower seeding rates. Sixty pounds of seed per acre produced 49.3 bushels per acre. When the rate was dropped to 40 pounds of seed per acre, yields had a corresponding drop to only 42.8 bushels per acre. As seeding rates jumped to 140 pounds per acre, the yields began to drop off producing 57.4 bushels per acre.

Red Sox senior champs

Members of the 1983 Iowa Park Senior League All-Star team were chosen recently, and will compete in the District Tournament next week in Olney.

Heading the list of all-stars are Steve Allen, Scott Kiser, Ray Sefcik, Shawn Price and Stephen Biddy of the championship Red Sox team, coached by Leon Biddy and Norman Hodges.

The Sox compiled a 14-2 record enroute to the city championship, two of those aided by no-hit pitching from Biddy and Sefcik. Price, Huff, and Allen also posted wins for the Red Sox from the mound.

Rounding out the senior all-stars are Robert Adams and Scott Eaton of the A's; Brett Hale, Scott Weaver, Dennis Phillips, Steve Johnson and Randy Boutwell of the Twins, and Craig Rickman of the Angels.

Biddy and Hodges will coach the select team in the district tournament.

The remaining Red Sox roster includes Scott Kiser, Eric Whitman, Terry McClung, Richard Morath, Larry Green, Terry Sitgreaves, Jay Young, John Woods and Roy Hollis.

NOTE

Iowa Park will also have two nine and 10-year-old teams competing in an all-star tournament in Burkburnett beginning July 21. Names of the players will be listed in a future issue.

Giants win majors

The Major League Giants, sporting an impressive 16-0 record at season's end, are the undisputed champions in Iowa Park for 1983.

In addition, five of the players were named to the All-Star team, which will host the Area II Tournament Monday and Tuesday. Selected to represent Iowa Park are Giants' Jimmy Duggins, Shannon Pearson, Kris Swartz, Brad Lewis and Mike Lubinski.

Giant coaches Jimmy Duggins and Herb Edwards will coach the locals, with Yankee coach Ross Green serving as alternate.

Other Giant players include Shannon Long, Vance Edwards, Sean King, Kelly McClure, Carl Pribe, Jerry McClurg, and Rush Pribble.

Chargers go undefeated

The Chargers captured the beginner's division of the Iowa Park Girls' Softball League recently, going undefeated through nine games, according to coach Sue Gholson.

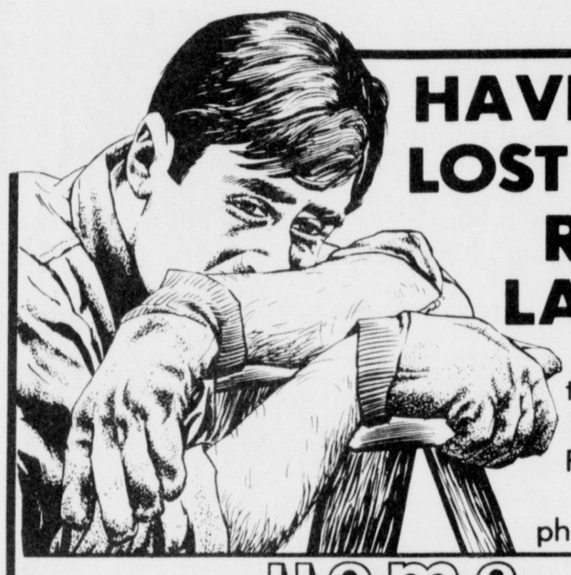

"We are proud of our girls, because they pulled together like a team should," she said of the team, which consists of second, third and fourth graders.

"The greatest thing to brag about," she continued, "is that out of 12 players, only three had ever played softball before." Sherry Smith served as assistant coach.

The Chargers won their games by scores such as 16-2, 14-5, 17-5, 16-1, 18-7, 10-6, 6-5, 14-4, and 5-4.

Team members include Jennifer Leer, Rachel Reed, Kerri Dornor, Misti Murray, Marian Gholson, Karen Ellis, Jessica Gallitan, and Candace Heidrick.

Also, Cheri Halady, Margie Fort, Jodi Conrad and Cassie Beal.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas, effective August 1, 1983, unless otherwise determined by the Commission.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Texas Public Utility Commission (PUC) at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices in Texas. The Commission staff has contended in the past that all rates are subject to change as a result of Southwestern Bell's rate application.

As a result of the settlement of a lawsuit brought by the U.S. Department of Justice against AT&T, Southwestern Bell, on January 1, 1984, (or as otherwise ordered by the United States District Court) will no longer be a part of the Bell System, but will be owned by public shareholders. Under the terms of the settlement, Southwestern Bell has identified 15 areas in the state within which it may provide service, and the federal court with jurisdiction of the settlement has tentatively approved these areas, called LATAs (Local Access and Transport Area). On or about January 1, 1984, Southwestern Bell can not provide service between these LATAs, and in addition, must transfer to AT&T customer premises equipment that it leases to customers.

Southwestern Bell has filed a proposed revised rate schedule with the PUC reflecting these changes. These rates would become effective August 1, 1983, if they are not suspended by the PUC; however, it is expected that they will be suspended and that the rates ultimately set by the PUC will become effective on or about January 1, 1984. If the rates were to become effective as filed, they would produce a 48.2% increase in Southwestern Bell's unadjusted test year revenues (or a 76.36% increase in Southwestern Bell's test year revenues adjusted to reflect the effect of Southwestern Bell's divestiture from AT&T). Any change in the rates for any interLATA services offered by AT&T or a subsidiary after January 1, 1984, could affect customers of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

While Southwestern Bell has proposed no increase in rates for intraLATA interexchange toll services, any change in those rates could also affect customers of other telephone companies. Southwestern Bell is proposing changes in the structure of the present private line and foreign exchange services. Changes in these rates may affect customers of other telephone companies. Any change in the rates for any interLATA services offered by AT&T or a subsidiary after January 1, 1984, could affect customers of other telephone companies.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Texas Electric Service Company, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of its intent to revise its Tariff for Electric Service in areas served by the company, effective July 14, 1983, or as soon thereafter as permitted by law.

The changes include a general rate increase and will result in a 16.1 percent increase in the adjusted gross revenue of the company.

A complete copy of the Tariff for Electric Service, as revised, is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality. Copies also are available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices.

TRU-TEST PAINTS
PAINTING HELP SPOKEN HERE.
BY Bonnie Blaire
TRU-TEST COLOR CONSULTANT

Dear Bonnie:
I live in an apartment with plain painted walls. Is there anything I can do to add some architectural or design interest to them?
Plain Jane

Dear Jane:
In modern apartment buildings that have no architectural interest, wallpaper borders can take the curse off plain walls. Some that are printed to imitate plaster moldings, dados, cornices, etc. give a neat tailored look to a room. Others are colorful feminine designs like draped swags, ribbons and flower borders. You can apply a wide flower border around a window to serve in lieu of draperies or dress up a special doorway with an important looking border.

Ordinance prohibits parking near station

Holliday City Council Tuesday night adopted a "No Parking" ordinance for the 400 block of South Main, and discussed, with no action taken, two sore spots as far as city business goes: possible establishment of an animal warden position, and, disposal of the old water tower.

Meeting in regular session Tuesday because of the July 4th holiday, council adopted the prohibitive parking ordinance to benefit the Holliday Volunteer Fire Department's new fire station. The ordinance will be published in the next edition of the Leader after being signed by Mayor James Cook.

Past city councils have tried, but to no avail, to hire a permanent animal warden to control the city's increasing stray dog problem. In the past four years, two men have taken on the task, only to quit within a few days because of threats received from irate dog owners. The city has a written ordinance requiring all animals within the city to be either housed within a fence or placed on a leash, in addition to having city tags.

The problem has been in enforcing the ordinance. And, despite no action taken during the meeting, members indicated a desire to advertise for a person to take the position.

Another "thorn" in the city's side is the old water tower, which has been used only to store water for emergency usage for the past four years, when the city purchased and had installed a newer tower. Council took no action on the matter, although it will more than likely appear on the agenda in the future.

In other business, council discussed a paving assessment on the 300 block of West China, and reviewed the status of the Law Enforcement Grant.

Cook of the Week

Chicken, prepared in some way was no doubt the principal food in 4th of July picnic baskets or on tables at home.

It seems that man has had a close association with chicken since 2000 B.C. beginning in India where the wild red jungle fowl was first domesticated. A cookbook that appeared in Italy between 1260 and 1290 contained recipes for stuffed chicken and chicken soup. German cookbooks a little later gave directions for making chicken stew.

Today, chicken is probably the most universally eaten of all meats, including beef. It is singularly versatile, good broiled, roasted, baked, steamed, fried, fricassed, barbecued, used in casseroles, made in chicken pie or chicken soup.

Americans certainly have a high opinion of chicken and perhaps the majority of them prefer it fried. A high opinion of the fowl is also implied in other countries. The citizens of Rome make roast capon their festive dish at Christmas, and the citizens of Brussels like it so well that they have won a nickname for themselves, "Chicken guzzlers." It appears in many national dishes, such as Hungarian chicken, paprika, Indian tandooni, Austrian Backhuhn, Spanish olla podrika, and many others.

Chicken dishes have been named for an opera singer (Chicken Tetrazzini), an opera composer (poularde a la Rossini); and a Roman dictator (poulet Cesar).

Mrs. C.H. Phillips did not say whether chicken was on the 4th of July menu at her home, but she did include a baked chicken recipe in her recipes for this week.

Mrs. Phillips, the former Anna Birdwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Birdwell of Kamay, was graduated from Valley View High School and attended East Texas State Univ. She is a teacher's aide in the resource room at Iowa Park Junior High School, and a volunteer worker for Muscular Dystrophy where she mans the telephone for the telethons. She is a member of the Church of Christ. Her hobbies are playing the piano, sewing and outings with the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillips have three children, Barry and Leslee, both students at Midwestern State Univ. and Dennis, who will be a high school freshman next school year.
