U.S. Stiffens Policy Toward Chinese Reds

BY PIERRE J. HUSS
INS Staff Correspondent

FLUSHING MEADOW, N.Y., Dec. 7. — The United States reversed its position today and adopted a tougher policy in favor of Nationalist China by announcing support for continued UN surveilliance of the Far East in 1950.

Without explaining the reason for the surprise turn-about, U. S. Ambassador-at-large Philip C. Jessup assailed Russia for continued expansionism and the expolitation of China. He said he would vote for the Latin-American resolution instructing the "Little Assembly" to keep a continuous eye on Chinese developments.

Amendment Offered

Only yesterday, Jessup strongly opposed and voted against the resolution submitted by Cuba, Peru and Ecuador. After numerous consultations, the three offered a joint amendment in effect strengthening it by stipulating that any "new charges" of violations also can be considered by the "Little Assembly."

At the UN, it was believed that Chinese Communist imprisonment of American consular personnel caused Secretary of State Dean Acheson to instruct Jessup to get tough.

At the start of the debate, Soviet delegate and Ambassador to the U. S. Alexander Panyushkin declared that China's Nationalist regime has "only a few days to live." He announced that Russia would ignore any UN decision on China, asserting that Tsiang as a member of the "Kuomintang militarist clique" has no right to represent the Chinese people.

Jessup Changes Views

Jessup's announcement was made from the rostrum of the assembly, where Tingfu F. Tsiang's charges that Soviet aggression is threatening peace and the intergrity of China is in the last round of debate.

The assembly is expected tomorrow to approve a motion for an "open door" and "hands off" policy in China jointly submitted by the United States, Mexico, the Philippines, Australia and Pakistan and endorsed in committee.

Although the British and some others are still opposing the Latin-American resolution, which Tsiang heartily supports, it is believed that

No Quick Change Seen On Quotas

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP) — An Agriculture department official admitted today 1950 cotton acreage allotments "seem to work inequities on some counties." But he said protesting Texas growers will have to appeal to Congress.

Congress apparently will have to amend the cotton quotas law before any real relief can be given the Texans, said Wilson C. Tucker of the department's cotton division.

He said the Texas case will be gone into detail when top officers of the division return from a Memphis, Tenn., meeting of Production and Marketing administration executives.

Complaints Made

Texas congressmen say most complaints come from the coastal bend and parts of West Texas. Texas' 1950 allocation under the control program to be voted on by cotton growers Dec. 15 is 7,637,027 acres. The national quota is 21,000,000. The Texas quota was figured under a provision of a 1949 law allowing a state to get 95 per cent of the annual average acreage planted in cotton in 1947 and 1948. This is called the "California gadget" by some congressmen. It was a compromise proposed by cotton interests of that state.

Agriculture department officials said this gives Texas 95 acres more

Wildcat Strike Halts Work At Oak Ridge Atomic Plant

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., Dec. 7. (AP) —A wildcat strike of construction workers forced a close down of work today on the Atomic Energy commission's new $66,000,000 gaseous diffusion plant.

R. W. Cook, Oak Ridge manager for the AEC, said the president of the atomic energy labor relations panel, has been called into the controversy.

Cook said more than 3,000 men now have been idled on the atomic plant construction and related atomic construction work.

Lubbock Votes On Bond Issues Tuesday

Bargain Is Offered To City's Voters

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the second of three articles discussing the $1,075,000 bond issue upon which the qualified citizens of the City of Lubbock will vote next Tuesday. The issues include $550,000 for enlargement of the sewage disposal plant and system and $525,000 to buy rights-of-way necessary to the completion of the City Highway Dispersal system).

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

IT is doubtful whether the citizens of Lubbock ever have been offered a better business bargain than that represented by the $525,000 bond issue to buy rights-of-way to complete the City's Highway Dispersal system.

KIEFER

For each dollar spent for rights-of-way, the State and Federal Highway departments will spend more than $3—a total of $1,611,000—for broader, better and safer thoroughfares in the city and immediate environs of Lubbock.

Hinging upon the approval of this bond issue will be 10 miles of 64-foot, four-lane street paving and four four-lane railroad underpasses to unstop traffic bottlenecks in East and North Lubbock.

Every inch of this work will be paid for by the State and Federal Highway departments as soon as rights-of-way are provided. Not one inch of it will be done until the rights-of-way are supplied.

They cannot be supplied unless the bonds are voted next Tuesday to pay for them.

Unless the bonds are approved, the Highway Dispersal system will remain at a standstill as it is now. The city will throw a chance to get $1,611,000 worth of improvements out of the window. It will pass up the opportunity to ease some of the traffic problems which steadily grows more critical.

Engineers Estimate Too Low

It is true the citizens of Lubbock approved a $600,000 bond issue in 1945 to buy dispersal system rights-of-way. Engineers estimated at the time that this sum would do a "turn-key" job.

But they could not foresee the enormous growth that lay immediately ahead of Lubbock. They could not anticipate the skyrocketing of real estate values which occurred. Few possessed such foresight. If foresight had been as good as hindsight, most of us would be millionaires today.

Even so, about two-thirds of the Highway Dispersal system has been finished. The rights-of-way for that work have cost nearly $600,000. But they have brought improvements to Lubbock which cost nearly $3,000,000 to construct. It has brought the city $5 for every $1 it expended—not a bad deal, even though the money did not buy all the rights-of-way required.

NATURALLY, the question may occur to many Lubbock citizens: What assurance do we have now that the $525,000 will buy the rights-of-way still needed?

There's no iron-clad guarantee on this point. But there are many reasons for confidence that the

By ROGER SOUTHALL

OPERA lovers of Lubbock—almost a thousand strong—last night attended the Boston Opera company's presentation of Verdi's "La Traviata" in the Lubbock Senior High school auditorium.

At 8 o'clock tonight the company will stage "Carmen" (Bizet), with Leonora Corona, a native of Texas, in the title role.

Appearances of the opera company in Lubbock are under sponsorship of the Allen Brothers post of the American Legion.

The story of La Traviata centers around Violetta, whose environment has forced her into a life of indolence and ease. At a party given by her in her Paris home, she meets Alfredo, who is attracted by her beauty. He declares his love for her and she sees true love as a meaningful factor in her life for the first time. Months later, the elder Germont, father of Alfredo prevails upon Violetta to give up Alfredo for the sake of his good name.

She complies and returns to her former life of social pleasures. Alfredo, misunderstanding the reason

Groves Says Uranium Was Sent Russia

By JAMES LEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.— Lt. Gen. Leslie R. Groves testified today that he was under "continuous pressure" to give Russia atomic-plant materials and that Soviet spies tried to steal A-bomb secrets from the very start of the Manhattan project.

Groves told the House un-American Activities committee that uranium shipments went to Russia, but denied that ex-Vice President Henry Wallace or the late Harry Hopkins ever tried to obtain atomic materials or data for the Soviets.

GOP Members Protest

Republican members of the committee, meanwhile, charged that they had not been notified in time to be present at the hearings and charged that the Democratic members are attempting to "whitewash" their leaders in the probe.

The senior Republican member of the committee, Rep. Nixon of California, asserted that he will demand that a "full and proper" investigation be made, with Republican members present and major witnesses recalled.

Later, radio commentator Fulton Lewis, jr., said that former Rep. John McDowell of Pennsylvania had once again identified the former vice president in connection with the uranium shipments and questioned Groves' testimony.

Wallace Again Named

McDowell, according to Lewis, reiterated that "the chief figure identified to the committee as having urged and arranged the transfer of atomic materials, was the then vice president of the United States, Henry Wallace."

McDowell, a former committee member, asserted that it was Groves himself who testified 15 months ago in a night secret session of the House probers, that "it was Mr. Wallace who advocated and arranged for the shipment of the uranium nitrate and uranium oxide to Russia."

House Republican whip, Rep. Arends of Illinois, meanwhile, demanded that Groves be recalled and that a "full and proper" hearing be held into the entire matter with the Republican members of the committee present.

Arends said there were no Republican committee members present today and asked:

"Is this another attempt by those in charge to whitewash and cover up?

"Why were the Republican

Lewis Signs Up More Operators

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. — John L. Lewis today widened his "break" in the mine owners united front when a new group of Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio and Illinois operators signed a contract with the United Mine Workers union.

Names of the latest companies to sign with the UMW were not made public but the union said that they produce 5,007,000 tons of soft coal annually.

The contract is identical with the one signed Tuesday by a small group of Kentucky operators which provides for a 15 cents a ton increase in royalties to the UMW welfare fund and a 95 cents a day pay boost for the miners effective Jan. 1.

To Extend Work Week

Companies signing the contract also will resume daily production instead of the three-day work week which Lewis ordered when the coal strike truce ended.

Lewis is holding out the improved new coal wage contract as a pattern for the entire industry, but thus far he has been unable to get any major producers to accept the pact.

National Coal Association President John D. Battle greeted the union's announcement of the new companies signed with the comment that "they are more of the

The Viedo company was organized and is headed by eight former Griffith employes.

The ownership change, effective Dec. 1, was announced here today by W. T. Spears, Altus, vice president of the Griffith chain. He said the sale was precipitated by the retirement of L. C. Youth Blames Gangster Movies For 'Inspiration'

Four Youths Confess Robberies Of Lubbock, Crosbyton Stores

By TOM DAVIS AND R. C. HANKINS
Avalanche Staff Writers

FULL confessions to armed robberies in Lubbock and Crosbyton were made here Wednesday by four Bonham youths, with the youngest blaming "gangster movies" for their trail of crime.

William Robert Leeman, 22, Orville Wayne Mann, 21, and Talmadge Monroe Bonham, 17, charged with the Nov. 19 robbery of the Economy Department store in Lubbock, all waived examining trials. Bonds for Leeman and Mann were set at $25,000 each, and $5,000 for Bonham.

All three were positively identified by three witnesses to the Lubbock robbery, who picked them out of a group of nine prisoners in the county jail last night.

Hearing Set At Crosbyton

Leeman and Bonham, along with James Thomas Scrivner, were to be taken to Crosbyton today for examining trials on charges of pulling the Nov. 26 robbery of the Wallace Dry goods store there.

One surprise came in the statements—the claim by all three charged in the Crosbyton robbery that A. W. Wallace, store owner, had not been shot in the back of the head. Leeman said that he had slugged Wallace with a gun, and Scrivner and Bonham backed him in the contention that Wallace had not been shot the second time.

Leeman admitted that he held the gun when Wallace was shot in the arm as they sped away from Crosbyton, but said it was an accident. Leeman said he was taking off his gloves and the gun went off.

Still In Hospital

Wallace, still in a Crosbyton hospital, had told officers that he had been shot in the back of the head as he walked away from the car at the gunmen's orders.

District Attorney Lloyd Croslin said he planned to recommend denial of bail for Leeman and Scrivner at the Crosbyton hearing.

Bonham's bond was set at only $5,000 in Lubbock after he said his seventeenth birthday was Nov. 27, the day after the Crosbyton stickup.

James Denton, Lubbock defense counsel present when Bonham dictated his signed statement in the presence of officers, said the death penalty cannot be exacted against one found guilty of a capital felony committed when he was a minor.

Death Maximum Penalty

The charges of armed robbery against the quartet carry a maximum penalty of death upon conviction, but the shadow of the death penalty may be removed from young Bonham if his statement proves correct.

Young Bonham said in his statement that "when they first told me about the plans to go rob something I thought that they were just bluffing.

"They had told me about seeing some of these gangster picture shows. I saw one show with them in particular which influenced them more than any other show. That show was 'White Heat' in which James Cagney played.

"It was my idea that they were just trying to impress me to make me think they were big shots when they were talking about doing things like that. They used to act out criminal scenes that they had seen in picture shows. They told me about acting these scenes out when they were just kids growing up," Bonham said.

Identification of Leeman, Bonham and Mann was made by Archie Skibell, store official kidnapped and released unharmed in the Lubbock robbery, and by Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Turner. Turner is manager of the Economy department store. Mrs. Turner picked out Leeman and Bonham, but failed to pick Mann.

E. G. Pharr, assistant district attorney, spent 13 hours on the case Wednesday, most of it in securing the signed statements.

Leeman, the last to make a state-

Freezing Weather To Grip Plains Today

Some of the coldest weather of the season is expected over the South Plains early today with temperatures dropping into the low twenties, the Weatherman said late last night.

A cold air mass, accompanied by increasing cloudiness had spread over the area by midnight and was rapidly shoving temperatures down below the freezing mark, and readings even below Wednesday's minimum of 28 were foreseen.

The mercury is not expected to go over the 50 degree mark today with a possibility of light rains also adding to the late fall atmosphere. Wednesday's high was 58.

Friday's temperatures are expected to continue cool with little warming up before the weekend, the Weather Bureau said.

HEARING ON DISPUTE HELD HERE

WTCC Officers Give Vote Of Confidence To Bandeen

By C. W. RATLIFF
Avalanche Staff Writer

WITH but one dissenting vote, the six officers of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce gave D. A. Bandeen, its manager for 20 years, a vote of confidence in his discharge of L. A. Wilke as WTCC service director and acceptance of the protest resignation of Max Bentley as organization director and editor of the WTCC magazine "West Texas Today," in a closed meeting here Wednesday.

Jim Willson, Floydada, WTCC president, made the brief announcement at the close of the six-hour meeting in the directors' room of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce that a resolution reading "that a vote of confidence be given the management of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce" had been approved by the officers. Their decision came after hearing testimony throughout the day by Bandeen, Wilke and Bentley in separate appearances.

There was no announcement of who cast the dissenting vote.

WTCC Laws Are Cited

Willson cited section 7, article III of the WTCC constitution and by-laws, as the basis for their action. The section reads:

"The general manager shall be in charge of administrative and executive work. He shall have the power to appoint and dismiss all employes, and he shall perform such duties as are usual to the office of a manager of chamber of commerce."

Asked to enlarge on the "management," Willson pointed to Bandeen and said, "He's the management. What he has done is okay and what he is going to do is okay, too, I presume."

Asked about action on Bentley's resignation, which had been submitted to the officers in protest of Bandeen's action against Wilke, Willson said the resignation had been referred to Bandeen.

Wants Bentley Back

Bandeen declared to three newspapermen, who were called into the room at the close of the meeting: "I sure want Max Bentley to come back; I want him to withdraw his resignation."

Three of the officers, Willson, P.

Airliner Missing On California Flight With Seven Aboard

(By The Associated Press)

OAKLAND, Calif., Dec. 7.— Hours overdue on a 90-mile flight from Oakland to Sacramento, a transport plane with four passengers and a crew of three reported aboard was missing tonight and feared down somewhere in the sprawling, marshlands of the Sacramento river bottoms.

Report from the Sacramento airport manager said unidentified wreckage of a plane had been sighted somewhere between Martinez and "Redland." The latter point could not be located on state maps.

The two-engine DC-3 of California Arrow airlines, Burbank, was due at Sacramento at 5:27 p.m., PST, and its gasoline supply was presumed exhausted at 7:30 p.m. (5:30 p.m. CST.)

Pilot of the plane was reported to be Jim Garnett, Burbank. Two of those aboard were reportedly Mrs. George Batchelor, wife of an owner of the company, and her child.

'Welfare State' Blasted By NAM

NEW YORK, Dec. 7. (AP) — Spokesmen for business and industry today criticized the "welfare state" and urged the nation's economic leaders to take an active part in public affairs.

The welfare state as opposed to free enterprise was an underlying theme at the National Association of Manufacturer's 54th annual congress of American Industry, attended by 3,000 delegates representing every section of the country and every segment of industry.

Lee H. Bristol, president of the Bristol-Myers Co., told the businessmen they have failed to sell themselves to their employes.

"Political" Bunk Hit

And as a result, he added, manufacturers have permitted a majority of their employes to accept "political bunk that solves none of their problems but robs the worker of everything he holds dear." He urged business men to get into the public affairs as a means of promoting better leadership and sound influence.

Clarence B. Goshorn, president of the New York advertising agency of Benton and Bowles, called "welfare state" and "statism" scare words generally used by politicians to confuse the public and

County Agent Aids Former Pole Soldier In Getting To Texas

KAUFMAN, Dec. 8. (INS).— A former lieutenant in the Polish infantry is in Texas today because of the adeptness of a county agricultural agent in cutting red tape.

Frank Wasowski, 29, is now the adopted son of Reagan Brown, 36.

Brown, who is agricultural agent for Kaufman county, says that the adoption seemed to be the quickest method of getting Wasowski into the United States.

Brown, a former infantry captain, met Wasowski in 1945 and worked with him in the American Graves Registration service. Wasowski had been in a German concentration camp and was later in charge of a German hospital for American prisoners of war.

In 1946, when Brown was discharged from the Army, he promised the Pole that he would try to get him to Texas.

Eisenhower Tells Texas Audience Americans Will Perish Before Giving Up Their Individual Freedom

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Dec. 7.—General Dwight Eisenhower tonight said the race of which America is a part will perish before it gives up its individual freedom.

The Columbia university president said America's problem today is "where are we going and what are we going to do with our great heritage?"

In finding the answer, he said, the dividing line between governmental control and citizen responsibility must be determined.

Eisenhower told the 109th annual meeting of the Houston Chamber of Commerce that educational institutions must play an important role in finding this dividing line.

It was only the second time in its 13-year history for the downtown Sam Houston coliseum to be filled to its 15,000 capacity.

Eisenhower touched only indirectly on his being mentioned as a possible presidential candidate in 1952.

He said that one might be considered self-seeking if he discusses problems involving America's future.

"I have found it is no use to say 'no,'" he said, "but I still have the right of an ordinary American to say what I think about subjects I thoroughly believe are concerning all."

This morning he told a press conference:

"I have no political connections, no political ambitions and don't want any connections with politics, but I do want to take an active interest in things."

Tonight he talked about distribution of wealth, personal security, armed forces unification.

He said distribution of wealth is "distributing deficits" and added that "everybody would be lowering his standard of living."

J. W. Pearcy Is Charged With Forgery

By HANK McKEE

LEVELLAND, Dec. 7 — J. Warren Pearcy, 55, Hockley county auditor until his resignation Nov. 22, was charged with forgery in justice court here tonight as the district attorney's office in Lubbock pushed an investigation into a reported deficit of nearly $18,000 in funds formerly under the former auditor's control.

The charge, filed in the court of Justice A. F. O'Dell, on complaint of County Judge LaVern McCann, alleges the forgery of the name of a Dallas chemical firm salesman to a warrant in the amount of $429.77 drawn for janitorial supplies.

Other Warrants Held

District attorney Lloyd Croslin said, meanwhile, that other warrants totaling approximately $1,800, and transactions involving over $15,000 were being examined by his office and would be turned over for consideration to the next 72nd District Court grand jury in Levelland.

The status of county funds came to light Nov. 21 after County Treasurer Mrs. Mary Meek had questioned the validity of a warrant passing through the auditor's office, officials said. Although the the instrument in question was found to be proper, an investigation revealed certain other irregularities, Judge McCann reported.

Had Promised Repayment

Pearcy, who was absent on a vacation trip at the time admitted of a deficit to the commissioner's court on his return, McCann told Lubbock Morning Avalanche and Hockley County Herald reporters here Wednesday night. McCann said Pearcy told the court he would repay "whatever auditors found to be missing."

McCann said he and the Commissioners court had been informed by a telephone report Wednesday by the Dallas accounting firm of Prince, Harris and King, that the discrepancy in funds amounted to $17,757.18.

Pearcy has given county officials a check, since cleared by a Levelland bank, in the amount of $10,000.

Charges Followed Report

Filing of the charges today, over two weeks after discovery of the deficit, followed receipt of the accounting firm's oral report. A formal finding will not be filed for several days, officials said.

Meanwhile, Pearcy, in a statement, one of two signed statements made to two reporters of The Hockley Herald said: "I am going to make good the deficit that the special auditors charge me with."

The other statement, a lengthy document signed in the presence of the reporters Wednesday after-

HST Talks Over 1950 Program With Staff

KEY WEST, Fla., Dec. 7. (AP) — President Truman started preparations today for a fight in the next session for the "fair deal" measures Congress denied him this year.

He met with his top White House staff and their research and legislative experts on the lawn outside the "Little White House" on this naval submarine base.

They talked over the "state of the union" message to be delivered to Congress in January. This, outlining Mr. Truman's objectives, will provide the springboard for administrative leaders to press for passage of civil rights proposals, Taft-Hartley repeal, a national health program, social security expansion and other proposals.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross described the hour and 45 minute conference as a "comprehensive and fruitful discussion of the domestic features of the forthcoming state of the union message."

Methodist Bishop Says Reds, Catholics Threaten Freedom

BUCK HILL FALLS, Pa., Dec. 7. (AP) — Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam tonight charged that the Roman Catholic church and the Communist party both threaten "our freedom."

"I regret to record these matters," the bishop told the annual meeting of the board of missions and church extension of the Methodist church, largest Protestant denomination in the U.S.

"But they must be understood and faced by Protestants across the nation as we confront a crisis, now world-wide, in which freedom itself is at stake.

Liberties "Threatentd"

"The Roman Catholic church does not believe in religious liberty as we understand it.

"The Communist party does not believe in civil liberty as we understand it.

"When either the Roman Catholic church or the Communist party, acting upon its belief in these matters, seeks to deny to us either religious or civil liberty, our own freedom is involved, and it is not a part of tolerance to submit to such denials until at last our freedom passes."

Bishop Oxnam, head of the Philadelphia area and vice-president of the board of missions, said "the terrible threat to religious liberty that lies in Communistic expansion must be met by human beings prepared to suffer and to die for their convictions, and met, likewise, by cooperation with free men everywhere who seek to resist the forced imposition of an ideology."

The Bishop linked this "threat" to the current fight involving the use of public funds for parochial education.

That fight, he said, now "becomes one of major importance."

"It is part of a carefully calculated plan to break down the American doctrine of the separation of church and state, part of a plan so to mold the thinking of youth as to discount the values that lie in liberty of conscience and of worship, in liberty of speech and of press . . .

"The public school system of the U.S. is one of our greatest achievements, and stands today as a bulwark of Democracy . . .

"To discredit our schools by calling them 'godless schools' is not only to mislead the people but also to undermine this bulwark of Democracy . . ."

Child Unhappy Over Prospect Of Spending Christmas In Bed

LAMESA, Dec. 7. (Special)—Mary Etta Arwine, 7-year-old rheumatic fever victim, isn't a bit happy concerning the prospects of spending Christmas in bed.

In bed since last July, the little girl was under the impression she would be able to be up and about Christmas because her physician permitted her to get up for short intervals a few days ago.

But her hopes were smashed into grim reality Monday when her doctor ordered her back to bed after her feet swelled and her heart condition worsened.

Now Mary Etta is having to take medicine again and will have to stay in bed until Dec. 28 at least. That's the day of her regular monthly examination.

"Santa Claus will be back at the North Pole then," she said sadly.

STATE CONTROL IS FAVORED

Oil Compact Group Urges Early Settlement Of Tidelands Issue

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 7 (AP) — The Interstate Oil Compact commission called for early settlement of the tidelands issue today and urged Congress to leave the oil-rich offshore lands in state hands.

The commission adopted resolutions to that effect shortly before adjourning its winter session.

Gov. Roy Turner of Oklahoma was elected chairman of the commission with James McClure, jr., of Sardis, Miss., first vice chairman; H. J. Wagner, Charleston, W. Va., second vice chairman; and Earl Foster, Oklahoma City, Okla., executive secretary.

Turner was not present but was represented by Redford Bond.

George Fancher of the University of Texas criticized legislatures of oil producing states for not appropriating more money for oil research.

Fancher said oil producing states spend $500,000 annually in oil research at universities but the greater portion of the money comes from the industry or as grants-in-aid.

He said state universities are overlooking the vast field of petroleum research and termed this "penny wise and pound foolish."

Oil Waste Feared

Sixty million barrels of oil may be left in the ground in America unless researchists find new means of secondary recovery, he said.

A. L. Vitter, New Orleans petroleum engineer with the California company, told of offshore oil operations in the Gulf of Mexico.

He said there are 19 such wells off Louisiana shores, ten of them wildcats. Exploratory work there has located nine new oil fields and 10 gas fields, he said.

Vitter explained the tremendous cost of offshore explorations in which derricks cost three times as much as those ashore, and costly drilling platforms are used.

Such platforms, he said, must be highly mobile because of the threat of hurricanes which also necessitates installation of radar equipment as a warning device.

But despite the cost, he said, oil companies have leased 2,000,000 acres of the rich continental shelf from the state, paying $20,000,000 in bonuses.

Yule Lights May Shine Last Time For Marlin Child

MARLIN, Dec. 7 (AP) — Christmas tree lights will shine Friday—perhaps for the last time—for three-year-old Odis Clyde Havis of Marlin.

Total darkness is closing in on the boy. Because or a malignant tumor he soon will lose the sight of his left eye—the only eye he has remaining. More than a year ago his right eye was removed for the same reason.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Normer Havis of Marlin. Friends of Odis and his parents have arranged an early Christmas party for him Friday. Besides the bright tree, there'll be gifts and candy—all sorts of things others folks will enjoy Dec. 25.

The party will be at the home of Mrs. Louis Bearden on — appropriately enough—Gift street.

Odis' father, a Marlin garage mechanic, served in the European theater of operation in World War II.

A Marlin physician said he thought the malignant condition is so near the brain that action should be taken in the near future. Next week Odis will go to Dallas for further opinions of surgeons on the operation.

Texan Claims 8 Million Pounds Of Coffee Was Burned In Brazil

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP)—Rep. Burleson (D-Texas) said today a Rio de Janeiro taxicab driver recently told him he saw 8,000,000 pounds of Brizilian coffee burned to keep up prices.

Back from a trip to 10 Latin American countries, the Texan said he inquired into the coffee situation wherever he went because of high prices here.

"In broken English the taxi driver told me about the coffee being destroyed," Burleson told a reporter. "I asked Brazilian and U. S. authorities about it, but they knew nothing of such an incident."

West Point Graduate Kills Three Children With Shotgun

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Dec. 7. (INS) Three young children were shot to death today in their Alexandria home by thei. father, a West Point graduate, who said he "didn't want them to grow up like me."

John S. Conner, 39, a civil engineer at Fo.t Belvoir, Va., killed his two daughters, Stephanie, 11, and Cecelia, 4, and his son, Michael, 8, with a single-action shotgun, as they cried "Daddy, don't do it."

Conner, who paused between the slayings to reload the weapon, spared the life of his attractive wife, Janet, 34, and told police that he changed his plan to kill himself as Mrs. Conner ran sobbing from the house to tell neighbors of the tragedy.

Officers surrounded the home and Conner quietly obeyed a police order to "come out with your hands up."

Police Chief Edgar Sims quoted the man as saying:

"I was afraid my children would inherit my mental condition and decided to wipe out the whole family. I planned it for a week. After my wife pleaded for her life I changed the plan and decided to let the la execute me."

STILLWATER, Okla., Dec. 7. (U.P.)—Dan Welch, an Oklahoma A. and M. student majoring in wild life management, decided the zoological exhibit in his bedroom needed a cleaning.

The student from Tulsa, was recovering today from a bite suffered when he tried to give a rattlesnake a bath.

Civil Marriages Forced On Populace By Czech Rulers

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Dec. 7. (U.P.) — The National assembly passed a bill today making civil marriages obligatory and outlawing marriages performed by church ceremony alone.

Justice Minister Alexej Cepicka said the country was obliged to insist on civil marriages because the Vatican "ordered the excommunication of members of the Communist party and also told priests to refuse to assist at their weddings."

Cepicka charged that the Vatican had spread many rumors in connection with the new law, as though it meant "free love or other nonsense."

The church, he contended, did not object to civil marriage in France, Belgium or Portugal, but "now the bishops call on the faithful to disobey the law only in Czechoslovakia."

He said the bishops who had ordered priests to insist on church weddings with full religious ceremonies now had brought into the open their hostility to socialism

LAKE CITY, Fla., Dec. 7. (AP)—Mrs. Grace Stumpe Srygley, 47, of Tallahasse, was killed in an automobile accident near here yesterday.

Self-Styled German 'Prince' Denies Stealing U.S. Paintings

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 7 (U.P.) — A self-styled heir of one-time German royalty denied again today reports that he is a thief and said he is not worried about being extradited to the United States to face charges.

"Prince" Otto Wilhelm Hohenzollern 26, said "all this troubles me very little," adding that he and his New Orleans socialite bride, the former Virginia Kirk, 36, did not have plans to return to New Orleans "for the moment, at least."

Otto said he never stole valuable paintings from the home of Sumner Welles in Washington. "Besides, he said, "The theft of $4,000 worth of paintings is no reason for extradition. The American government is crazy to think I can be extradited."

OFFICE PARTIES

A CURRENT magazine takes a healthy slug at office Christmas parties. We quote:

"An American tradition, the Christmas party, can be a troublesome interlude in the life of the white collar personnel. The superficial characteristics of office parties range from a platter of fatigued sandwiches and a bottle blended in the shipping room to a five-alarm jamboree at a night club ringside.

"At the office party, with the sudden abandonment of chaste office convention, a year's repressions come bubbling to the surface. Not only is the office party fraught with peril, but perhaps the worst characteristic is the virtual impossibility of terminating it. It invariably breaks up into smaller satellite parties and even when supposedly normal business resumes at the office, the party continues in the form of delightful post mortems that are held for weeks and months."

THE description may fit Christmas office parties in some cities, but we think the time has come to give the office party a break and explain they are not all orgies. Although our staff has grown so large, and with two papers to prepare each day, it is impossible to have Christmas celebrations as in times past, we remember those holiday occasions with a great deal of pleasure.

Most business firms in Lubbock sponsor a party for employes and it seems to us that many look forward to them. They are given at reputable establishments where dancing usually follows dinner and a gift exchange. During the evening Christmas bonus checks are distributed and if one or two get out of line, at least the others don't let it spoil their fun.

On many occasions funds are collected at the celebrations to provide gifts for needy youngsters or food and clothing for a destitute family.

Perhaps the parties are ordeals to some workers who get no pleasure from the celebration of Christmas. We believe the axe should not be wielded so widely as to chop off tradition.

MEN'S APPAREL

TWO out of three men are dependent upon a woman for the clothes they wear. Men pay the bills but the women make the choice, say the experts. But clever wives are subtle about picking out their husbands clothes. Masculine vanity being what it is, the ideal mate lets her husband think she is merely advising and not choosing. Here are some tips from the experts:

No matter how much you like a suit, if the old man doesn't like, do not urge him to buy it. But if he wants a suit you can't stand, by all means do your utmost to discourage him from getting it. If there is doubt in your mind as to which suit is the right one, suggest he try on the doubtful one first and then one you prefer. The contrast will show him which is the better.

If the man in your life is of average height, let him buy either a single or a double-breasted model. If he is a shorty, never let him get into a double-breasted job. A three-buttoned single-breasted model is the most slenderizing.

IN THE MAIL

DEAR Miss Turner: I read your column and it seems to me you help folks. I had the misfortune to lose a quilt Monday between Roundup and Shallowater. It was unfinished and rolled up on the side quilting frames tied together. I intended it for a wedding gift and was sorry to lose it. Perhaps the finder would get in touch with me if he knew my name.

Sincerely,
Mrs. E. F. Hamblin,
Shallowater.

FAIR TREATMENT PROMISED

Investment Banker Accuses U. S. Officials Of 'Unjust Decisions'

By JAMES RUSSELL
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., Dec. 7. —A Chicago investment banker today complained of "unjust decisions" by government regulators of the investment business and the new chairman of the Securities and Exchange commission promised "fair treatment" from the SEC.

Arthur D. Chilgren, of Gardner, Carton and Douglas, a Chicago investment firm, said that members of his own industry are encouraging federal "incompetence" by failing to combat these decisions. He described investment bankers as "convenient whipping boys" for the politicos.

But Harry A. McDonald, SEC chairman, told delegates to the 38th annual convention of the Investment Bankers' association that their cases would get careful consideration from now on.

McDonald, after reviewing recent decisions by the SEC, admitted that some of them had been open to challenge. To ensure fairer treatment, he said, bankers are invited to bring their problems to the SEC, where a commissioner would always be available to consider them.

Chilgren had demanded that "those who regulate us be competent, honest, free from political influence and versed in the workings of the security business."

Universal Law Favored

He recommended a universal state security law as one means of protecting the investment industry against "unjust decisions" and urged the IBA state legislation committee to work for such a law.

Earlier, Dr. Renis Likert, director of the Institute for Social research at the University of Michigan, said that the investment banker's chief problem is in trying to gain the confidence of the public.

He produced statistics to prove that many persons do not buy stocks although they are financially able to do so. He said a large majority of these Americans are either afraid of common stocks or are unfamiliar with them.

Texas Veteran Plans To Try 15-Mile Texoma Swim In May

DENISON, Dec. 7 (AP) — Roy P. Sutter, purple heart veteran of World War II, will attempt to swim a 15-mile course on Lake Texoma, May 14. The Fort Worth long distance swimmer will enter the chilly water at Little Glasses resort at 9 a.m. and expects to wade ashore at Burns Run resort six hours later.

Sutter chose the May date over an April swim because of the warmer water conditions.

The Fort Worth swimmer revealed that his Lake Texoma plunge would be a conditioning swim which he hopes will lead to a new inland lake record. The present record is 21 miles. He hopes to set a new mark of 22 miles.

Sutter, a 35-year-old war hero, was wounded in action in Italy. Army doctors told him his swimming days were ended.

The stubborn Texan, however, refused to believe the medicos and he started a conditioning program in 1945. Last year he felt he was ready again.

Housewives Accused Of Causing Sudden Coffee Shortage In U. S.

By JEAN BUCK
INS Staff Correspondent

BOCA RATON, Fla., Dec. 7. — Housewives were accused today of involuntarily causing the nation's sudden coffee shortage and spiraling prices by misinterpreting stock market reports.

W. F. Williamson, secretary-manager of the National Coffee association, offered this explanation of the coffee price mystery and at the same time reassured the nation's home-makers that prices probably will not rise again soon.

Williamson made his remarks in Roca Raton, Fla., where the coffee association is holding its national convention.

Barkley Addresses Group

Vice-President Alben Barkley addressed the convention but did not "presume" to discuss the coffee situation.

The explanation given by Williamson was this:

"Newspaper stock market pages carried reports of a shortage of futures in coffee stocks. Housewives misinterpreted the story, thinking it meant a shortage of coffee itself. They suddenly bought 200 million pounds more than the usual demand. Thus, they actually created the shortage."

Once it was created, Williamson said, prices naturally were forced up. He also believes coffee prices—which probably will not go higher—"will never return to their pre-shortage level."

Some Increase Justified

The coffee expert said "some increase in retail prices is justified since we have been buying green coffee from producers at bankruptcy prices for years."

Vice-President Barkley told the convention he could not "presume" to tell them anything about their business. He added that he has been "too pre-occupied recently with personal affairs even to follow the Senate's investigation of the situation."

The "veep" was not accompanied by his bride and he left immediately after his talk on "freedom and trade." He apologized because "another member of the family" could not make the trip to Florida.

Barkley said that "government assistance in business is becoming more necessary."

Trade Pacts Cited

He pointed to reciprocal trade agreements between the United States and coffee-producing countries in the western hemisphere as "symbolic of some of the things that government must do" to help trade.

The vice-president said old-time diplomacy "promoted exploitation of countries to which our representatives were assigned" but that this "unhappy era in our relationships with the western world long ago ceased."

Paul C. Daniels, ambassador for the United States to the organization of American states, outlined agreements with Latin-American countries in an earlier speech.

The convention continues Thursday, with speakers headed by George W. Muller, of the office of domestic commerce of the U. S. Department of commerce.

Court Rules Railway Engine Hard To Hide In Damage Suit

AUSTIN, Dec. 7. (U.P.)— A railway engine is not easy to hide, the third court of civil appeals said today.

The court therefore upheld trial court judgment refusing damages to J. C. Lackey in his suit brought against the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway Co., as a result of a truck-train collision at San Angelo on Oct. 7, 1948.

Lackey, the appeals court said, should have seen the engine and pointed to testimony that the only obstruction on the track was a box car 300 feet away.

"We know as a matter of common knowledge," the appeals court said, "that a railway engine is not easily hid or obscured and that had appellant (Lackey) looked he must have seen the engine."

Lackey, the court said, should have stopped at least 15 feet short of the tracks. To back up its holding, the court referred to an opinion in another case which said:

"One may not claim the right to recover because he has looked and did not see, if the conditions are such that had he looked he must have seen."

Five Indicted In Connection With Major Counterfeit Ring

BROWNSVILLE, Dec. 7. (AP)—A federal grand jury indicted today four men and a woman in connection with the operations of an international counterfeit ring.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Garza Moya, Rio Grande City; Antonio Anaya, Chicago bar owner; Frank G. Tovar, Chicago, and Felipe Garcia.

The indictment alleged the ring dealt in bogus $10 and $20 federal reserve notes drawn on federal reserve banks in Richmond, Va., and St. Louis, Mo., and brought into this country from Mexico.

It charged the operations flourished for nearly six months, between May and November, 1949.

Anaya was arrested Nov. 3 in El Paso. Mr. and Mrs. Garza Moya and Garcia were arrested the same day in Rio Grande City.

Tovar had not been mentioned in connection with the ring until his indictment. He and Anaya and Garcia were freed on bond.

Mr. and Mrs. Garza Moya remained in jail here after indictments were read.

Australia's basic wage now is from $25 to $26.50 a week.

Doctors Disagree On Care Of Mothers

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (U.P.)— Should new mothers get up the day after having their babies? Even the doctors disagree.

Two obstetricians attending the American Medical association convention were overheard discussing the pro's and con's of the question. The conversation went like this:

Dr. X: Did you hear what Smith had to say about early ambulatory?

Dr. Y: I never have agreed with him on anything. I keep mine in bed for 10 days.

Dr. X: I'm sold on it. We're all for it down state.

Dr. Y: You know as well as I do that there's just one reason for it. They don't make any money out of 'em after the third day.

Dr. X: It started during the war when there weren't enough beds. But I've been getting fine results.

Dr. Y: I'm on the maternal care board and I see all the records. I remember a couple of years ago Jones had one of his get out of bed the next day. She dropped dead.

Dr. X: You've had just one fatality reported?

Dr. Y: No — I can remember three or four.

Dr. X: Were they normal deliveries?

Dr. Y: No, I wouldn't say so. At least one was a Caesarian. Personally, I think a woman who's just had a baby ought to stay on her back in bed.

Dr. X: We think they make a better come back if you get 'em up. I'm completely sold on it.

Dr. Y: Well, I always like to hear the other fellow's point of view, even if I don't agree with him.

FREEDOM CLAIMED JEOPARDIZED

Yale Divinity School Official Hits Federal Air To Education

BY NEIL BOGGS
INS Staff Correspondent

ATLANTA, Dec. 7. — The dean-emeritus of the Yale Divinity school today attacked federal aid to higher education as a "grave peril" to the basic freedom of the American people.

Dr. Luther A. Weigle of New Haven, Conn., in an address at the Southeastern Inter-Church convocation in Atlanta, declared that education must remain separate from the state, just as the church is.

Federal Aid Scored

The noted educator and church leader asserted that federal aid "in any form" to colleges or universities "will result ultimately in the loss of freedom in education" and "freedom in religion." He added:

"Both education and religion must be free if they are to serve as bulwarks of true democracy."

Six-hundred church leaders from 10 southern states heard Dr. Weigle warn that a report of the President's commission in higher education in 1947 is "a threat to the existence" of independent and church-affiliated schools.

He said the document expressed the "nascent movement toward federal control of education."

The provisions of the commission's report, he said, would place private schools in "precarious competition" with "an enormously expanded number of tax-supported institutions."

The enrollment of independent and church colleges and universities also would be frozen at the 1947 figure.

Dr. Weigle also sharply criticized the "neutrality" of public schools on religious matters.

He charged that by omitting faith in God, public schools give "a distorted and untrue view of history and of literature and of human society."

The educator added that the principle of separation of church and states "does not hinder the schools from a knowledging the power and goodness of God."

Wreaths Placed On Sunken Ship As Pearl Harbor Day Observed

PEARL HARBOR, Dec. 7. (AP)—Two wreaths were placed today on the rusting superstructure of the battleship Arizona, whose hulk lies submerged where she sank in the Japanese attack eight years ago.

It was the only ceremony reported in the Pacific on the anniversary of the attack which plunged the United States into war. The Japanese let the day go by unnoted.

$616,700 Budget Is Announced For 10 Baptist Departments

DALLAS, Dec. 7 (AP) — The 10 state departments of the Baptist General convention of Texas will have a budget of $616,700 for the next year.

The convention's executive board appropriated that amount yesterday.

George J. Mason, chairman of the financial committee of Baptist institutions, told the meeting that the indebedness of nine Baptist colleges and five hospitals was $2,499,000 on Aug. 31. He said this was a reduction of $700,000 during the past year.

Officers of the board were re-elected. They are Dr. Forrest Feezor of Waco, president; Dr. E. S. James of Vernon, vice president, and R. A. Springer of Dallas, recording secretary.

Jack Ellis of Sherman was named to replace Dr. L. B. Reavis of Paris on the board. George C. Wilson of Sweetwater was named to replace Dr. Jesse Northcutt of Fort Worth.

Early Morning Fog Hampers Transportation In Houston

HOUSTON, Dec. 7. (AP)— A heavy early morning fog hampered shipping, air and automobile traffic in the Houston area today.

The thick fog was said to have extended along the entire Texas coast.

Fourteen automobiles were involved in a pile-up during the early morning rush-to-work hour. One vessel was prevented from moving on the Houston ship channel. Air traffic returned to normal about mid-morning after the fog had reduced visibility at the Municipal airport to about 100 yards at 3:30 a.m.

Flames Destroy Oklahoma Hotel; 28 Persons Escape Serious Harm

KELLYVILLE, Okla., Dec. 7. (U.P.)—Twenty-eight aged persons escaped without serious injury when fire destroyed the Oak Leaf hotel here yesterday.

The old frame structure—largest building in this Creek county community—burned rapidly while local volunteers and later the Sapulpa fire department fought in vain to stem the flames.

The fire was the third in a recent series of Oklahoma hotel and dormitory fires that left five persons dead or missing. The University of Oklahoma student dormitory fire Saturday killed three, and the nearby Sapulpa Loraine hotel burned Friday with one body recovered and one missing.

Major Aluminum Company, Union Strikers Agree On Settlement

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 7. (INS).— The Aluminum Co. of America and the CIO-united steelworkers reached agreement on a contract today for 17,000 workers providing for $100 monthly pensions and other benefits.

The agreement ends a strike which began Oct. 17 in nine plants in as many states.

Under the settlement, employes will get pensions of not less than $100 per month, including social security, at 65 after 25 years of continuous service with the company.

Minimum pensions of from $60 to $100 a month also are provided for employes retiring after 15 or more years of service.

Other benefits include life insurance, sickness and accident benefits, hospitalization, surgical benefits and other welfare provisions.

Philip Murray, president of the CIO-United steelworkers who signed the contract, said only the Timken roller bearing plant — employing some 10,000 — and 20 other small companies employing about 7,000 workers have not yet come to terms with the union.

Australia will ration "gas" again.

TAAF Tourney Set Tonight

Fifty Fighters Entered In Meet

The two-night district TAAF boxing tournament gets underway tonight at Sled Allen's arena, with a host of fighters vying for all-expense trips to the state tourney later this month at Fort Worth.

Teams from Odessa, Amarillo, Brownfield, and possibly Abilene, Canyon and Plainview are expected to compete with local mittmen in the two classes — open and novice.

Pairings Set Tonight

Tonight's card, which starts at 8 p. m., will not be known until after weigh-in ceremonies from 3 to 6 p. m. today. Pairings in all divisions will be made immediately after the weigh-in.

At present, it appears that the heaviest competition will come in the middleweight and light heavyweight divisions of the open class.

Despite recent withdrawals, a field approximating 50 fighters is anticipated. Most of the entries are in the open class, with only a limited list of contenders for novice (under 19 years of age, with fewer than five bouts) honors.

Trophies Slated

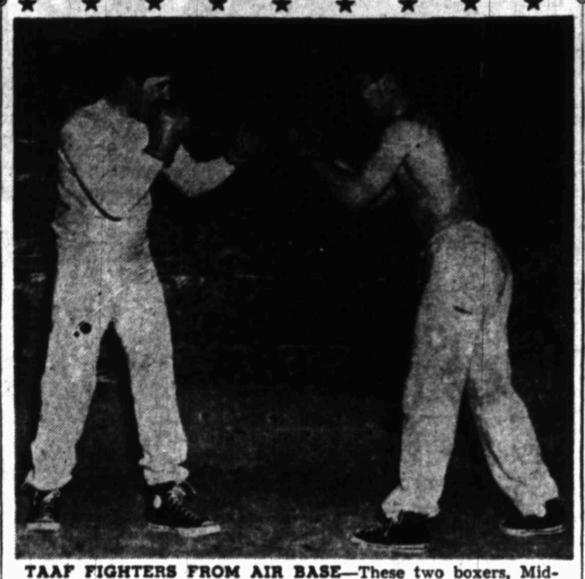

Open class winners will receive trophies, in addition to the Fort Worth trip. Merchandise awards will go to novice champions.

Word was received Wednesday from Bill Wooster, Odessa, that he will bring a team from that city to the tournament here. The Odessa squad will include Loy Mead, 147; Ken Nunnely, 126; Bob Barton, 117; Gerald Reeves, 126; Steve Ward, 135; Phil Withrow, 175; Carroll Gray, 175; Don Scott, 135, and several others.

May Boost Gloves Interest

Ticket sales for the tournament, in which the finals will be staged Friday night, have been unusually slow. Ducats, priced at $2 ringside, $1.80 reserved and $1.20 general admission, will be on sale today at Hub clothiers and Tech drug. Tickets also will be available at the arena box office from 4 p. m. until fight time.

This tournament, in addition to producing contenders for state TAAF honors, also is expected to boost the interest of fighters and fight fans for the annual Avalanche-Journal Golden Gloves tourney, scheduled early in 1950.

TAAF FIGHTERS FROM AIR BASE—These two boxers, Middleweight Buddy Williams, left, and Welterweight Frenchy Cedatol, warm up for their appearance in the TAAF tournament opening here tonight. Cedatol is from Baton Rouge, La., and has had several bouts, claiming the Southern AAU title at one time. Both are working out daily at Reese Air Force base, where they are stationed. Irish Name Kyle Rote To Their All-Opponent Gridiron Team

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 7 (AP)—Kyle Rote, Southern Methodist back who was virtually a one-man gang against Notre Dame last Saturday, was honored by the Irish today as the only unanimous choice on their All-Opponent team.

The Irish squad members also picked the Mustangs, by a narrow edge over Michigan State, as the best club to play Notre Dame in 1949. SMU received 19 first-place votes and Michigan State 17.

Miami Open Starts Winter Golf Tour; Top Pros Set To Repeat

MIAMI, Dec. 7. (INS)—The nation's top golfers will launch the annual winter tournament tour Thursday when more than 230 linksmen—including professionals and amateurs—tee off in the $10,000 Miami Open.

The four-day Miami event is the first big item on the 1949-50 list of winter golf opportunities and starts the quest of the pros for $145,000 in prize money that has lured them into the seasonal trek.

Amateur Frank Stranahan, who won the Miami classic last year, and pro Chick Harbert, low-scoring professional in last season's open, are both on hand to try to duplicate their accomplishments.

They were ranked among the favorites but National Open champion Cary Middlecoff threatens to put up a stiff battle for the Miami title.

Middlecoff has turned in the best practice round scores of the week—a 64 he shot Tuesday on the Miami Springs County club course and a 31 he recorded today for nine holes of play.

Another top-notch club-wielder expected to give his competitors some trouble in the open is Sam Snead, a three-time winner of the event.

The low 120 golfers and ties will survive tomorrow's opening round and compete in the second day of play.

The field will be cut to 60 pros and 10 amateurs for the last 36 holes.

SANDERS TO STAY AT UCLA

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7. (AP)—Henry (Red) Sanders has decided to remain as head football coach at the University of California at Los Angeles, the school announced tonight.

Eagles Beat Ghosts In Boys Club Tussle

Jerry Shipp and Wesley Houston teamed to lead the Eagles to a 30-26 triumph over the Galloping Ghosts in Wednesday's feature basketball game at Lubbock Boys club.

Shipp tallied 17 points and Houston registered 11 to account for all the Eagle scoring. Maxwell Noland hit 12 for the Ghosts in the Midget league game.

The Five Little Angels, sparked by Dave Allen's 16-point performance, downed the Alley Rats, 41-20. Jimmy Washington paced the losers with 16 markers. This also was a Midget league contest.

In the Peewee circuit, the Mustangs edged out the Wildcats, 8-6. James Wiley was high for the winners with six points, while Glen Lawson netted four for the Cats.

Today's schedule: Peewee — Maulers vs. Buffaloes; Midget — Palominos vs. Galloping Ghosts and Raiders vs. Five Little Angels; Junior — Longhorns vs. Fungus Five; Senior — Seventh Street Thugs vs. Dirty Demons. At 8 p.m., the Boys club independents will meet the Barber college quintet.

Lou Finney Named Manager Of Temple Eagles Baseball Club

TEMPLE, Dec. 7. (AP)—Louis K. (Lou) Finney, former major league baseball player, today was named manager of the Temple Eagles of the Big State League for the 1950 season.

At the same time, Lionel Campbell, president of the Eagles, announced the signing of O. W. (Bill) Hays of the Chicago White Sox farm system, as new general manager of the club.

"You can quote me as saying that the Temple Eagles will not be the cellar club in 1950," Finney said in Baltimore at the annual convention of the National Association of Minor leagues.

JENKINS BOUT SLATED

BOSTON, Dec. 7. (AP)—Former lightweight champion Lew Jenkins of Sweetwater, Texas, and Iggy Vaccari, of Boston will fight a ten round bout at Mechanics Building Dec. 19, the Godwin A. C. announced tonight.

Oklahoma Aggies Beat Texas A-M

STILLWATER, Okla., Dec. 7. (AP)—The Oklahoma Aggies completeoutclassed the fighting Texas Aggies basketball team, taking a 55-34 victory here tonight before 8,500 fans.

The Oklahoma Cowboys raced to a 15-2 lead in the first six minutes.

So tight was the defense of Coach Hank Iba's deliberate cagers, six and a half minutes were gone before the Texans scored from the field. It was Center John Dewitt who broke the Cadet field goal drought.

But Jack Shelton countered with two quick layups to bring the Oklahoman's lead to 19-4. The Cadets, defeated 55-51 by St. Louis last night, were cold from afield and their passing was erratic.

The Cowboys dominated the backboards and held a 25-14 halftime lead.

Sophomores played much of the game for the winners as they took their third straight victory.

Jack Shelton led the scoring with 14 points and his teammate, Gale McArthur, dropped in 10 for the Oklahomans.

Jewell McDowell paced the visitors with 13 points. After the Texans failed to slip through the tight Cowpoke defense, McDowell started hitting long fielders.

Frenship Grid Team Honored At Banquet

WOLFFORTH, Dec. 7. (Special)—Gene Patterson and Jerry Gladden received special awards here last night at a special banquet given in honor of the 1949 Frenship High school football team.

Miss Patsy Jane Haws, chosen football queen this year, was crowned by Patterson and Gladden, and presented with a necklace and bracelet set. Her runnerup, Miss Janelle Goodpasture, also was honored.

Another award went to Joyce Ann Gillet for being the only cheerleader to attend every game this season.

The banquet was under the direction of the pep squad, and was served by eighth grade girls and parents. Sponsors for the affair were Mrs. Lila Wilkins and Mrs. Ina Armstrong.

Players honored were Gene and Leroy Patterson, George and Jerry Hughes, Larry Cox, John T. Linker, Archie Clanton, Glen Allen, Billy Wayne Johnson, Weldon Arthur, Jerry Gladden, Don Davis, Horace Durham, Billy Goforth, Raymond Hitt, and Billy John Walker, manager.

Changes Set In B Districts

AUSTIN, Dec. 7 (AP) — Four new districts and a new region will be added in Class B football next year under a tentative list of assignments announced today by the Interscholastic League.

Growth of Class B participation to 360 schools, an increase of 20 teams over the 1949 total, made the new divisions necessary, said Dr. Rhea Williams, league athletic director.

Two of the schools added were under suspension this year and several have been competing in Class A. Williams said most of the schools dropping back to Conference B did not have sufficient enrollment to qualify for Class A and had been voted into the high loop at their own request in previous years.

Enlargement of some smaller schools formerly in the six-man league, and loss of enrollment in several former Class A schools accounted for the remainder of the 20 new teams.

An amendment to league football rules now will allow high schools with an enrollment of from 75 to 100 students to participate in either B or six-man football. Schools with less than 75 students can be admitted to B competition only by a unanimous vote of the member schools of the district.

The tentative list of class B districts for 1950 in which South Plains teams will compete:

REGION I

1. Canadian, Claude, Groom, Panhandle, Spearman, Stinnett, Vega, Wheeler, White Deer.
2. Estelline, Happy Kress, Lakeview, Quitaque, Silverton, Turkey.
3. Amherst, Dimmitt, Farwell, Friona, Olton, Spring Lake, Earth, Sudan.

Joe Louis Batters Valentino In Eighth

STADIUM, CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 7. (INS)— Joe Louis staggered and then battered Pat Valentino of San Francisco into unconsciousness after 2.56 of the eighth round of their scheduled 10-round exhibition in Chicago tonight.

The Brown Bomber, though blubbery and a trifle balding at 35, still had the old punch. Louis felled the bloody 29-year-old Californian with a whistling right to the jaw and a hammering left.

Louis' left caught Valentino as he was sinking to the floor and the blow sent the shaggy-haired west coast boxer through the ropes.

The knockout failed to match the time of Valentino's kayo by NBA heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles who sent his challenger down for the count at :35 of the eighth.

The finals will be played Saturday night.

Trinity Drops Raiders

Tigers Rack Up 65-53 Cage Win

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 7. (AP)—Trinity's razor-sharp Tigers upset the Red Raiders of Texas Tech here Wednesday night, 65-53.

Save for a period early in the first half, Trinity led all the way, once holding a 56-36 grip on proceedings. The Tigers were ahead at halftime, 32-25.

Buck Kackiela and Eddie Recko shared scoring honors for the winners, each tallying 21 points. For the losers, hustling Jack Alderson's 14 was high.

Trinity set a blistering pace throughout the game after overcoming an early Raider lead.

The Tigers were using a fast break with which the Raiders couldn't cope. Time and time again the Tiger forwards broke down the court to get behind Raider players for easy crip shots.

Tech controlled the backboard with its superior height, but did not make effective use of it. Gene Gibson, moved back to forward from center, dominated the rebounds through much of the game, but when he fouled out early in the second half—only player to leave the game on fouls—the Raiders were hurt.

Coach Houston Wheeler's splendidly conditioned team engineered a 56-36 lead halfway through the second half, but Alderson, Bill Eddins and Jiggs Jackson dumped in 14 quick points to narrow Trinity's lead to 57-50.

At that point quick buckets by Buck Kackiela and Eddie Reck pulled the Tigers back into a commanding lead of 13 points and the winners never were threatened after that.

The teams traded baskets equally for the last five minutes.

The Raiders were missing crip shots, despite controlling the backboard. If they had been able to follow their advantage on the backboards, they might have won easily.

The box score:

Wayland Five Meets NMMI Team Saturday

PLAINVIEW, Dec. 7. (Special)—Wayland Pioneers play a full slate this weekend with a home game scheduled for Friday night and a tilt at Roswell, New Mexico, Saturday.

A team from Sterling college, Sterling, Kansas, journeys to Plainview Friday to test the Wayland cagers. Saturday night the Pioneers are matched with New Mexico Military Institute.

With Don Dally, tall Pioneer forward, out of the game because of a sprained ankle received in the McMurry tussle, Coach Harley Redin is making no predictions about the forthcoming Sterling college game. The team as a whole is in good shape except for Dally.

Bill Knighton replaces Daily at forward with Ed Billings playing the other forward position. Possible starters at guard are Billy McClellan and George Goodson. Leon "Runt" Burch, the team's chief point-maker, is scheduled to be the starting center.

In the Saturday game the Pioneers meet New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell, New Mexico. About his hopes for the game Harley Redin says, "They are always a hard unit to beat on their home court, and that's where we're playing them."

Wildcats Favored Over Ballinger

Littlefield, Olton In Playoffs Friday

The South Plains' football interest this weekend will center on Odessa and Plainview, where the area's last two remaining playoff contenders face tough assignments.

Friday afternoon at Odessa, Coach J. S. Fikes' rugged Littlefield Wildcats clash with Ballinger's Bearcats in a state Class A quarterfinal game.

At the same time, Coach T. M. Cox's tricky Olton Mustangs collide with the powerful Kress Kangaroos at Plainview for the Region One Class B championship.

Littlefield Favored

Littlefield will enter its tussle with Ballinger as a one-touchdown favorite, chiefly because of a decided weight advantage. The Wildcats, who have "streamrollered" to 11 straight wins since losing to Dalhart, will outweigh Ballinger approximately 20 pounds per man in the line, and 10 pounds per man in the backfield.

Since both Littlefield and Ballinger favor a ground assault, most observers agree that the weight edge should decide the issue in the Wildcats' favor.

The only common foe the two clubs have met is Roscoe. Ballinger beat Roscoe, 46-13, while Littlefield turned the trick by 34-0.

Wildcats Hold Crown

In last week's regional games, Littlefield overpowered Lefors, 26-6, and Ballinger scored a surprise 33-7 verdict over Wink.

Littlefield won the District 4-A championship in regular season play with a perfect conference record. One win, however, was on penetrations—in a 7-7 scoring tie with Sudan.

Ballinger was unbeaten in capturing the District 7-A title, although the Bearcats were held to a 13-13 tie by their arch-rival, Coleman.

Both Littlefield and Ballinger operate from the winged T formation. Ballinger's principal strength is reportedly in its series of end sweeps which feature bone-crunching blocking. Littlefield, with its burly line and speedy set of backs, has been effective up the middle as well as to the outside.

Wide Open Tilt Seen

At Plainview, a wide open battle is anticipated in the Olton-Kress duel for the regional crown won last year by Happy.

Olton's chances apparently depend largely upon how the deceptive Mustang backfield can function against a big Kress line.

Over the regular season, Olton took the 3-B pennant and Kress won the 2-B title. In bi-district play, Olton measured Meadow and Kress stopped White Deer.

O'Donnell Drops To B Classification

MEADOW, Dec. 7. (Spl.)—O'Donnell's Eagles, who recently were voted special permission to compete in District 4-A of the Interscholastic league in 1950, have voluntarily dropped to B classification.

O'Donnell next year will compete in newly-organized District 5-B, along with Seagraves and Sundown, two other schools which will be dropping into B classification. Other schools in the new district are Frenship, Cooper, Ropesville, Meadow, Wellman, Plains and Whiteface.

District committee officers elected at a meeting here earlier this week were H. P. Clemons, Whiteface superintendent, chairman; S. F. Johnson, O'Donnll superintendent, vice-chairman; and W. W. Snodgrass, Whiteface principal, secretary.

Parks-Tremaine Team Wins Go

Herb Parks and Andy Tremaine played bounce ball with the Gray Mask and Alex Kasaboski to the delight of a packed house at Sled Allen's arena last night, the Parks-Tremaine tag team winning the main event in two out of three falls.

In the preliminary, Gust Johnson won two rousing falls from Jack Pappenheim. All three falls were crowd pleasers.

The main event wasn't long, but it was filled with excitement while it was in progress. Parks absorbed more punishment than has been seen in a long while and almost won the first fall, but he was no match for Kasaboski and the Mask, who worked on him against the opponent's corner.

Kasaboski finally took over and roughed up Parks to such an extent that he was groggy from the punishment he was taking. Kasaboski finally clamped a half crab hold on Parks and the North Bay, Ontario, wrestler yielded.

But the second fall went the opposite way. Parks, eager for revenge, belabored Kasaboski and then went to work on the Mask. When he tired, he let Tremaine handle him for a while and then he returned to finish the exhibition. He slammed the Mask in no uncertain terms, finishing the second fall with a series of body slams and a smother.

The final fall was where the bounce ball technique came in for heavy duty. Parks opened against the Mask, taking him over to Tremaine's corner. After he had slammed him to the mat several times, he turned the task over to Tremaine.

Kasaboski, meanwhile, was unable to get in the ring to help his partner, who needed assistance badly. First Parks and then Tremaine would slam the Mask to the mat. Finally, after four minutes, Parks fell on him for the deciding fall.

Johnson beat Pappenheim in the first fall of the first event with a surfboard, using up 22 minutes. Pappenheim returned to subdue Johnson with a flying toehold in eight minutes. And Johnson won the deciding fall with a series of slams and a body smother in 15 minutes. It was a good match.

SPORTS Slants

BY CHOC HUTCHESON

Despite its abrupt ending last week, Lubbock High's 1949 football season marked another distinct step forward in the school's rapidly improving athletic program.

Westerner gridiron fortunes have come a long way in the last two years. After the disastrous 1947 season, Lubbock football stock was at an all-time low. The word "Westerner" commands respect in grid circles throughout the state.

And, I believe, Lubbock is back near the top to stay. Coach Pat Pattison has instituted a system so deeply rooted that it should produce satisfactory results for years to come. Most important, Pattison and his associates are doing a remarkable job of character building while they are turning out these top-notch athletic organizations. That's a rare combination, indeed, nowadays, even at the high school level.

The best test of any coach, in my opinion, is his players' opinion of him. I invite you to ask a Westerner — any Westerner—what he thinks of Pat Pattison. His answer, I'm confident, will show you what I mean when I say the man is doing a terrific job at Lubbock High school.

Before putting the 1949 campaign in mothballs, let's take a quick look at next year's prospects.

Briefly, and frankly, they are not too bright. True, Lubbock will have 17 lettermen back—but the "joker" here is that Pattison lettered all 36 men on this year's squad. Of the 17 who return, none were regulars this season, and only five were second-stringers.

At this stage, it appears certain that the 1950 Westerners will have greater reserve depth than the 1949 team. There will not be such a sharp division between the regulars and the substitutes, and there will be wide open competition for all starting berths.

Pattison, who admits that the 1949 starting lineup was almost definite months before the season started, says that today he doesn't think he could name half the starters who will take the field for next year's opening game. He doubts that he will have a set group of starters singled out before midseason, so intense will be the competition.

The 1950 Westerners will be much slower in the backfield than their immediate predecessors, but perhaps will be faster (though lighter) in the line. They will have a well-balanced attack.

Backs who return next fall are Billy Presley, Mac Taylor, Don Rawls and Jack Weldon. In the line, returnees are Don Herriage, Bobby Day, Dean White, Dick Cobb, Lyndell Ross, Frank Hill, Don Hufstedler, Deverle Henslee, Bob Newell, Ross Craig, Jerry Van Pelt, Delwin Doyle and Gene Nelson.

In addition, the Westerners should pick up strength from the fine 1949 Cowhand team, which climaxed an impressive season by soundly thumping the strong Odessa "B" crew which earlier had spilled the Cowhands in the first meeting of the two clubs. The early-season loss to Odessa was the lone blemish on the Cowhand record.

Lubbock, which began the 1949 season as the District 3-AA favorite, will not be "on the spot" when the 1950 schedule is launched.

Critics already are "giving" the 1950 flag to Odessa, which has a host of lettermen returning from its powerful (but inconsistent) 1949 aggregation. Without question, Odessa will be one of the state's better ball clubs again next year.

A team to watch in 3-AA is Midland, which showed rapid improvement in the closing weeks of the season just completed. Coach Tugboat Jones' Bulldogs will be back practically intact, and promise to give plenty of trouble.

Lamesa and Big Spring, the other 3-AA entries, don't figure to be title contenders.

Personally, I'm not "counting out" the Westerners at this early date. Next year's Lubbock squad, while inexperienced, has definite possibilities, and conceivably could develop into a championship outfit. But it definitely will have to scrap every inch of the way if it's to bring home the pennant again.

Spanish Court Demands Jail And Fine For Game Kicking

MADRID, Spain, Dec. 7. (U.P.)—The prosecutor of Madrid's common court today demanded a four-year jail term and a $15,000-peseta ($1,377) fine for an amateur football player charged with kicking an opponent during a game.

Manuel Manzano was charged with kicking Julian Gonzalez during a match between the Amparo and Chamberi clubs in 1946. Gonzalez lost a kidney as a result of injury.

Manzano was banned from amateur sport and paid all of Gonzalaz' hospital bills. His counsel said the kick was the "daughter of passion surrounding all football" and that trying Manzano on criminal assault charges was a threat to the entire sports world.

A decision is expected in a few weeks.

SUCCESSFUL HUNTERS—One of the most successful hunting parties reported here this season was concluded recently when seven hunters from the Lubbock area headed for home loaded with trophies. The group bagged 13 bucks and four turkeys on the Brady Creek ranch, south of Brady. The hunters in the picture are L. Collingsworth, R. B. Loveless and Tom Johnson, all of Lubbock; R. D. Williams and H. D. Hallman, Post; G. W. Williams, Shallowater and L. D. Bruce of Lubbock. The prize trophy was bagged by Loveless, a buck weighing 113 pounds. The other twelve deer weighed from 65 to 85 pounds each, dressed. Three of the bucks bore 10 points with none having less than four.

Girls Cage Meet Starts Tonight

ROOSEVELT, Dec. 7. (Special)—The Girl's State-wide basketball tournament, with a field composed of three outstanding downstate sextets and five top South Plains teams, opens tonight with a four-game program.

Post and Idalou meet in the tourney curtain-raiser at 6 p.m. The second game, at 7 p.m., pits Bynum against Meadow. At 8 p.m., Abernathy plays Roosevelt, and in the 9 p.m. finale, East Chambers is matched with Aledo.

The tournament woll continue Friday and Saturday nights. A special feature of Saturday night's program will be an exhibition game between the Roosevelt and Shallowater boys team.

Admission for each nightly four-game session will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Trophies will be awarded to the first, second, third and consolation winners.

Braves Need Outfield Strength And Pitching

Arrival Of Southworth Revives Baseball Trade Talk At Meeting

BALTIMORE, Dec. 7. (AP)—Arrival of Billy Southworth, pilot of the "mutinous" Boston Braves, revived baseball trade talk today at the annual convention of the National Association of Minor Leagues.

Even before Southworth unpacked his bag, the phone was buzzing with big league managers and owners eager to find out how far the Braves will go in cleaning house.

They didn't learn too much.

"Sure, I'm willing to trade," said Billy at a press conference, "But I'm not forced to trade anybody. I expect to talk with all the other clubs in the league. We need outfield strength and a pitcher."

Southworth quashed New York Giant hopes when he listed shortstop Alvin Dark and Pitcher Johnny Sain atop his "no trade" list. Boston officials indicated Catcher Med Crandall, first baseman Earl Torgenson and pitcher Warren Spahn were in the same category. That means, apparently that all the others are trade bait, including second baseman Eddie Stanky.

"We had a deal on the fire with the Giants for Stanky last summer," said Southworth, "Willard Marshall was involved and there were other players on both sides. I am not at liberty to tell you the names. The Giants withdrew."

Southworth had his headaches in Boston last summer after winning a pennant in 1948. Starting with rumors of a player revolt during spring training season, matters went from bad to worse. Billy finally had to go home to Ohio for rest and quiet, leaving the club in charge of Coach Johnny Cooney.

It developed later that only the intercession of Commissioner A. B. Chandler kept the Braves from "forgetting" Southworth in their split over place money.

Luke Sewell, new Cincinnati manager, was the first caller to greet Southworth. Luke needs help for his seventh-place Reds, particularly at second base. Connie Ryan, surplus at Boston, would fit into the picture.

The New York Giants were hoping to land Dark but Southworth's comments apparently ruled out that chance.

H-S U CAGE TOURNEY SET

ABILENE, Dec. 7. (Special)—The third annual Hardin-Simmons high school basketball tournament will be held Friday and Saturday in Rose Field House. Eight teams—Lamesa, Brownwood, Plainview, Abilene, Burkett, Abernathy, Stephenville, and Poly Tech of Fort Worth will participate in the tourney.

Leon Hart May Join Pro Ranks

NEW YORK, Dec. 7. (AP)—College football's "Player of the Year" lege football's "Player Of The Year," big Leon Hart of Notre Dame, may command the highest price ever paid a collegian to turn pro.

"I don't intend to play unless I get the right offer—a better one than I've received so far," the six-foot-four, 260-pound Irish end said today.

Hart is in town to receive the Heisman Trophy, awarded yearly to the player voted the outstanding performer of the season in a national poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

He discussed his future plans at an informal luncheon for the press and radio crowd at the Downtown Athletic club, donor of the handsome bronze plaque.

Asked what it might take to lure him into money ranks, the boyish giant from Turtle Creek, Pa., winked impishly and replied, "well, you might say $25,000 a year as a starter."

The Detroit Lions of the National League and the Baltimore Colts of the All-America Conference have drafts rights to the Irish co-captain, whose brilliant all-around play was largely responsible for Notre Dame's fourth unbeaten season.

The Lion's coach Bo McMillin, main speaker at the presentation ceremonies tonight, has already fit Hart into his 1950 plans. The Irish husky will be his fullback, McMillin says.

Hart said he has been approached by the pros but hasn't heard an offer "substantial enough to grab at it."

"It's not only the salary I'm interested in but some sort of off-season job security," he added.

The word is that several big automobile manufacturers in the motor city are eager to hire the handsome Pennsylvanian, who is a top engineering student at the South Bend institution.

B. Bludworth of Brownwood, first vice president; and John D Mitchell, Odessa, immediate past president, expressed hopes "that Bandeen and Max Bentley would get together on the situation."

Wilke, who has been with the WTCC two years, said after the announcement:

"That is the action of the officers committee and I will abide by it. I wish for continued success of the organization."

Later, Wilke said, "Some of the officers tell me that they are without authority in the manager's case as he was appointed at the Fort Worth convention." Bandeen is appointed annually by the board of directors of the regional chamber, comprising the officers and ten district directors.

Bentley, former Abilene newspaper editor and radio station manager has been with the WTCC 13 years. Wilkes, also a former newspaper, was manager of the Sweetwater Board of City Development before taking the WTCC post.

Commenting on the officers' action, Bentley said at the close of the meeting that his resignation still stands, even though several of the group had asked that he withdrew his action.

"I was not, of course, present at the deliberations of the officers' committee," Bentley said. "If I have been advised correctly on its action on my protest resignation as submitted to the committee on Nov. 28 through Past President Mitchell, this has been referred to Mr. Bandeen.

"I cannot, for the sake of justice, retreat from my action of Nov. 28," he continued. "I feel now as I felt then, that a cruel injustice had been inflicted on a fellow staff member in his summary dismissal, effective that day without giving him the privilege and his right to appear in his own defense.

"The astonishing and totally unexpected happenings of the past week in this matter distress me beyond words. But I cannot yield in which I believe with all my heart is right.

"I say again, as I said one week ago, that I admire and love the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, believing firmly in its program of work and accomplishments over many years. Right now it is embarked on a program of transcendent importance to the welfare of West Texas and I hope and believe this will have the all-out support of the citizenship of this great empire of ours."

Will Offer Services

Bentley reiterated a previous statement that he would not leave the organization "in a lurch" and would offer his services as long as they were needed in whatever capacity he might be needed.

Following the announcement of the vote of confidence, Bandeen reviewed briefly a realignment of a program of work for the organization approved by the officers in the day's meeting.

The program of work will be in two phases, Bandeen said, under the regular WTCC setup and the new West Texas Domestic Water association, which was organized in Fort Worth Nov. 22 and incorporated Dec. 1.

Various commissions and their objectives were approved by the officers in the meeting, Bandeen said.

New Commissions Set Up

New commissions under the WTCC program will include a County Soil Conservation and Farm to Market Road commission headed by Chas. C. Thompson of Colorado City. This commission will activate the Williams-Holt bill passed by the last Legislature permitting counties to re-impound the 30-cent ad valorem tax and use it for soil and water conservation and farm to market roads.

Another new commission, with W. O. Fortenberry as chairman, will be the Underground Water Districts commission to activate water districts under terms of the underground water bill passed by the recent legislature.

An industrial Development commission to activate the four industrial briefs, recently issued by the WTCC, will also be set up, Bandeen said. Three of the briefs were prepared by Texas Tech men and the fourth by Dr. Sidney Miller of the Texas-Pacific railroad. This commission will investigate potentialities of the wool and mohair industry in West Texas, the cotton textile industry and the grain sorghum industries in addition to other industrial development.

Other Groups Organized

Other commissions under the WTCC will include the State Constitution Revisions commissions and a series of long-range commissions on taxation and public expenditures, agriculture and livestock, educational, natural resources and chemurgic industrial research, transportation parity and Latin-American relations.

Other commission and a series of long-range commissions on taxation and public expenditures, agriculture and livestock, educational, natural resources and chemurgic industrial research, transportation parity and Latin-American relations.

Bandeen said chairmen would be announced for the various commissions from the WTCC headquarters at Abilene.

Under the West Texas Domestic Water association, four commissions will be set up, Bandeen said. They will include:

A Water Projects Economic Justification commission; a Projects Organization commission; a Municipal Water Rights commission and a Domestic Water Uses commission.

The WTDWA is headed by Homer D. Grant, Lubbock, as president. Grant is a third vice president of the WTCC.

Besides the men involved in the dispute, President Wilson, Mitchell, Bludworth and Grant, others attending the meeting included: Frank H. Kelley, Colorado City, second vice president; and Edd Stewart, Abilene, treasurer.

Mrs. Clara Bussell, secretary to Manager Bandeen, was also here for the meeting.

Former Hockley Auditor Charged

noon, asks for forgivness "from everyone."

$5,000 Bond Posted

Pearcy, who served as county clerk for three two-year terms during the 1930's, waived examining trial tonight and posted bond of $5,000 on the charges late Wednesday through his attorney, former State Senator Hobart Nelson of Lubbock.

The defendant did not attend the bond hearing.

Z. O. Lincoln, of Levelland, has been appointed by 72nd District Judge Dan Blair to fill the vacancy created by Pearcy's resignation.

It was Judge Blair who appointed Pearcy to the office Jan. 1, 1943, and a portion of the defendan't second statement was addressed to the jurist:

"Now to Judge Dan Blair . . ." the statement read, after an explanation of Judge Blair's proposal for the appointment . . .

"He (Judge Blair) said this, and this is what is ringing in my ears now, 'Warren, I know you are honest.' 'Honest,' did you get that, well Dan, I let you down, please forgive me is all I can say."

An earlier paragraph in the statement read:

"I know I have done wrong. I have told the truth about it all. I want to make it right. I am going to replace all that I took plus—and now all I can do is ask for forgiveness and I mean please forgive me, for I know I have done wrong . . ."

No Immunity Promised

County officials, commenting on Pearcy's promise to repay all funds reported to be missing, said an earlier "understanding" with the defendant that he would have until Dec. 16 to replace the money in no way guaranteed him immunity from prosecution on the forgery charge or on subsequent charges arising from investigation.

McCann said Pearcy had been bonded in his official capacity in the amount of $5,000 as required by state law. The bond, he said, was held by a Dallas firm.

The actual charge of forgery was based on a Nov. 10 warrant, District Attorney Lloyd Croslin said. The situation was called to the attention of the Commissioner's court Nov. 14.

The alleged deficit reported by the accounting firm dates back to 1944, C. A. King, in charge of the audit, stated in his telephoned report.

Actual deficit, he said, according to McCann, was $18,095.45, but credits against that amount—bookkeeping errors and erroneous entries—reduced the amount to $17,757.18.

The possibility of further charges against the former auditor is being studied by the district attorney's office, Croslin said late Wednesday night.

Assistant District Attorney A. W. Salyars carried the formal complaint to Levelland Wednesday.

Makes Long Statement

In Pearcy's long statement which he gave to the Hockley County Herald, he headed it "Statement To The Public," and added, "I don't know how to start this off, but this is what I am going to say."

He then added "A Good Man Went Wrong," and then told how he had moved to Hockley county in 1920 with his wife and two babies, pointing out that he had raised his family in the county. He added:

"I have stood for what I thought was right. I went to church and lived a clean life. I have never done anything that I thought was wrong. The people of Hockley county have been good to me. I did at one time think that I had as many friends as anyone in the county . . .

Then the statement added:

"J. Warren Pearcy left Hockley county and the guy that would be him went wrong—I mean wrong. I have committed a crime. I have failed my friends, I have let you down. I stand condemned—not in the sight of God. Now friend, I want to say this: By the Grace of God, J. Warren Pearcy is back . . ."

Then came the statement quoted above and the reference to Judge Blair, and then the following:

"To the Church: I am asking your forgiveness. I want you to know that I have done wrong. I feel and know that my Maker has forgiven me, and I am asking you to pray for me. I am the one that is down. I don't know what to say. Only forgive me, please."

Other portions of the statement referred to his family and friends in asking their forgiveness. The statement was signed by the signature of "J. Warren Pearcy."

Forrest Weimhold, publisher of the Hockley County Herald said the statement was being published at Pearcy's request.

130 Persons Attend Cooper Farm Meet

COOPER, Dec. 7. (Special)—Approximately 130 Lubbock county farmers were present here tonight at a meeting sponsored by the Lubbock County Production and Marketing association and the Texas Extension service held at the Cooper school auditorium. The program was one of a series for the purpose of familiarizing area farmers with the 1950 farm program.

The meeting was under the direction of D. W. Sherrill, county agent; Glen Hackney, president of the Lubbock County Farm bureau; and Walter Y. Wells, administrative officer of the association.

Austin Crownover of Waco, sales director of the Southern Farm Bureau Life Insurance company, and D. C. Meiher of Jackson, Miss., president of the company, spoke at the meeting on the purpose and aims of the farm bureau. They were introduced by Hackney.

Sherill showed educational films on soil conservation and livestock management.

Wells explained the cotton allotment program and marketing quota for 1950.

Refreshment, furnished by the farm bureau, was served by the Cooper school homemaking class.

A similar meeting will be held at the Tech stock judging pavilion in Lubbock at 7:30 p. m. Another will be held Saturday at the Friendship school in Wolfforth. Other meeitngs have also been scheduled throughout the remainder of the month.

Eisenhower Says

not more distribution," he said.

The general attributed most of the armed forces unification troubles to "dollars from Congress."

"The acceptance of the unification doctrine increases in proportion to the distance away from Washington," he said.

The World War II Allied commander said there is a lot of talk about personal security at the age of 65.

"How long can we keep up deficit spending without surrendering some of the things in which we believe," he said. "Personal security is not going to be achieved on a bankrupt economy."

Formula Is Offered

He offered a three-point formula for a strong, productive society—freedom, co-operation and education.

Education, he said, is the balance wheel, the thing a free people need if they are going to govern themselves.

After quoting from Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg address, he said:

"Lincoln saw no need for government to do things 'to' us like some bureaucrats now find so intriguing."

He said there is not a more important individual than the school teacher.

"Give the teaching profession the respect it needs if a free society is to endure," he said, while urging higher teacher salaries.

"The purpose of all schooling in this country is to make our young into effective citizens of a free country."

This morning Eisenhower said he has no fear for the future and does not believe the nation currently is facing a crisis.

"We should think of where deficit spending will lead us, how should we look at ECA, the Atlantic pact, and arms for Europe, and what should be out considered attitude toward taxation and tax rates," the wartime supreme Allied commander said.

"We've got the brains, the means and the methods, but we've got to think now."

He concluded his brief conference with a loud laugh when a reporter said:

"General, I think you ought to get on that (presidential) horse."

"Those are rough horses," was his only reply.

Eisenhower was asked whether his personal mail contained many requests to seek the presidency.

He said he has many friend who are writing him about particular problems without mention of political affiliation.

"If I identified or affiliated myself with any political party I'd lose a lot of friends and I'm not going to do that," he added quickly.

Eisenhower said the Daily Spectator, Columbia university student newspaper, "can publish anything it pleases, particularly about the president of the university."

His remarks were a requested comment on a Spectator editorial Monday which criticised a speech the general made in New York City last week.

"The Spectator is a free newspaper," he said. "I haven't read the editorial. What the lad said, I don't know, but more power to him."

TWINS, TRIPLETS BORN TO MOTHER WITHIN YEAR— "Christmas will be different this year," says Mrs. Thelma Gibbs, center, as she sits in her Atlanta, Ga., home surrounded by babies—none of whom were here this time last year. Her advice to mothers is for plenty of patience and a good washing machine, but the Gibbses have no washing machine. NEWS BRIEFS

A warranty deed had been recorded at County Clerk Louie F Moore's office transferring property at the northeast corner of Fourteenth and Ave. K from Robert E. Maxey and others to First Federal Savings and Loan association. The property is described as the west half of lots 8, 9 and 10, block 148, original town, and will be the site of a new building to house the institution. The purchase price of $40,000 had not been revealed previously.

Jackie D. Tarlton, 18, of Monroe and T. C. Weston, 18, of Morton have enlisted in the Air Force and will be sent to Amarillo for physical examinations, then to Lackland Air Force base, San Antonio, for basic training, the Air Force Recruiting office in the postoffice said this morning.

A two-car collision occurred at 7 p. m. Wednesday near the intersection of Ave. Hand Fourth. A 1941 Buick sedan, driven by James Henry Kee, 50, of 702 Ave. E, collided with a 1938 Oldsmobile sedan driven by Louie Lee Williams, a 29-year-old painter of 701 East Fifteenth. No one was injured in the collision although Mrs. Billie L. Williams, 34, also of 701 East Fifteenth, was driven by her brother-in-law, Williams, to St. Mary's hospital for an examination following the accident.

Big Ten Will Hold Meeting In Chicago

CHICAGO, Dec. 7. (INS)— Big Ten athletic directors and faculty representatives go into a four-day huddle tomorrow in Chicago to discuss the Rose Bowl pact, the making of football schedules for 1953-54 and the effects of television.

Michigan State was admitted to the Western Conference last May but will make its first appearance in the session as an official member of the Big Ten.

The five-year agreement to send a Big Ten team to the annual New Year's Day football game in Pasadena, Calif., expires in 1951. No vote to either continue or discontinue the contest will be taken at this meeting. There has been some agitation, however, to alter the present setup to send the Conference champion to the game each year.

Present regulations permit a team to make the westward journey only once in three years.

The Conference football schedules have already been made through 1952. Michigan State, therefore, will not appear as a Big Ten football team until 1953.

Harbor Bowl Game Will Not Be Played

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Dec. 7. (AP)—The country's football bowl list was trimmed by one today with announcement that no Harbor Bowl game will be played this year.

Joe Medina, head of the Harbor Bowl committee, said no suitable teams could be lined up for the fourth presentation of the game.

The committee's efforts collapsed with refusal of College of Pacific and Baylor university to accept offers.

"We did not want a secondary attraction," said Medina.

Villanova defeated Nevada in the third annual game last year.

Medina said the committee, backed largely by tuna industry interests, hoped to renew the event next year.

than it would have received with the allotment based on crediting farmers with acreage diverted during the war from cotton to war crops, such as peanuts and grain sorghums.

However, Rep. Poage (D-Tex) contends a proper credit for war crops would increase the Texas quota by upwards of 100,000 acres. He says the department erroneously interpreted the law in basing the Texas allotment on the "California gadget."

The 1949 law provides that a state shall receive its allotment under whichever plan gives it the larger acreage. It also provides that allocations within states to the counties shall be made by the same method under which the state allotment is figured.

And Ralph W. Carney, vice president of the Coleman company of Wichita Kansas, said the welfare state produced welfare "only for those who administer it." He called it the "dead hand of security against the dynamic thing called opportunity."

Good Business Seen

The nation's top economic leaders also heard forecasts of good business in the months immediately ahead and an assurance that the United States is militarily prepared against attack.

Economic Co-operation Administrator Paul G. Hoffman warned that the Marshall plan must succeed or the United States must become a garrison state.

Curtis E. Calder, chairman of Electric Bond and Share Co., told the NAM delegates they must prepare now for the end, in 1952, of the European recovery program.

Calder, an authority on international affairs, said they must get the nation's import-export picture into balance or the billions of dollars spent in foreign aid will be just so much water over the dam.

Defense Secretary Louis Johnson chose the meeting of top businessmen and the anniversary of Pearl Harbor to promise that America is ready for "any future four-o'clock-in-the-morning attack."

"Better prepared," Johnson said, "than we have been at any time since we laid down our arms in 1945."

He said America's defenses are being strengthened daily and that all North Atlantic pact countries are prepared to stand united against any future aggression.

GOVERNMENT ACCUSED OF HAMPERING U.S. BUSINESS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP)—The head of America's largest life insurance company today charged the government with hampering business expansion in this country.

He urged Congress and the administration to cut present taxation and spending programs which he said are damming the flow of investment capital into new enterprises.

This appeal was made by Leroy A. Lincoln, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company of New York whose assets of $8,000,000,000 are one-sixth of the total of all life insurance companies in the United States.

Lincoln's attack on administration fiscal policies came during his testimony to the Senate-House Economic committee which is trying to find the reasons for a reported lack of risk capital available for small business men.

Opera Performance

of her flight from their country home, berates Violetta publicly at a ball for having deserted him. Ill even before this time, Violetta lapses into her final sickness and in the last scene she dies in Alfredo's arms after he has come to her bedside to beg forgiveness.

The cast in last night's presentation was highly competent, especially Elvira Helal who gave a convincing vocal account of the "Ah Fors e Lui" in the second act, one of the opera's most famous arias.

Though a little too robust to be completely convincing as the consumptive heroine Violetta, her portrayal did not lack forcefulness.

Alfredo, the leading tenor role, was sung by Frank Eckhart. His portrayal, although not completely convincing in places, was on the whole, warmly received by the audience.

One of the most pleasing roles in the entire opera was that of the elder Germont, father of Alfredo, sung by John De Merchant. His aristocratic bearing and complete ease in his part added much to the effectiveness of his scenes in the second act in which he persuades Violetta to give up Alfredo.

All things considered, the ensemble of voices in the chorus added much to the effectiveness of the performance and furnished some of the best moments of the evening.

Praise also should go to the conductor, Francesco Foti, for the forceful playing of the orchestra.

sum will be sufficient, with perhaps a little left over. If any is left, it probably will be applied on other traffic improvements further down the line.

Reasons Are Cited

Among the reasons for confidence that the amount proposed will be sufficient, with perhaps a small surplus, are these:

City officials learned something from their experience in buying rights-of-way following the 1945 bond issue; their estimates of probable costs have been generous; they have negotiated with many property owners and have definite ideas—commitments in some instances—as to what particular segments of rights-of-way will cost.

There seems every reason for confidence, in short, that the bond issue will be sufficient to tak care of the right-of-way problem necessary to the completion of the Highway Dispersal system.

And it seems appropriate to comment here that this completed system will give Lubbock one of the finest and most efficient of its kind any city of comparable population in the United States.

But, if the bonds are voted, exactly where does the City propose to buy rights-of-way? Exactly what thoroughfares are scheduled for improvements?

Those questions will be answered tomorrow.

U.S. SEEKS RELEASE OF TWO SERVICEMEN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (INS).—The U. S. considered today requesting all nations which have diplomatic relations with Red China to ask the Communists to release two American servicemen held by the Reds.

This was revealed by Secretary of State Acheson, who also announced that the U. S. will agree to conditions outlined by Red-controlled North Korea for the release of two economic co-operation administration officials who disappeared several months ago.

These latest developments in the China situation came as deported U. S. Consul General Angus Ward and a group of 19 presumably were on board a special train from Mukden to Tientsin on their way out of China.

Men Are Named

The two American servicemen still held by Communists in China are Marine Master Sgt. Elmer C. Bender, of Cincinnati, and Chief Electricians' Mate William C. Smith, of Long Beach, Calif., missing since October, 1948.

In accepting North Korea's offer to release the two ECA officials, Albert Willis, of Brooklyn and Alfred C. Meschter, of Kinderhook, N.Y., Acheson said a U.S. official is enroute to a borderline town to pick them up.

The Korean Reds offered to return the men if they were picked up at the 38th parallel line dividing North and South Korea by 9 p.m. CST, Saturday.

COMMUNIST TROOPS ARE NEARING NEW CAPITAL

HONG KONG, Dec. 7. (AP).—Onrushing Chinese Communist troops today were reported 75 miles from the refugee Nationalist capital of Chengtu and at the border of supporting Yunnan province to the south.

(The Red radio in Peiping also reported smashing successes in south China. It said the 250,000-man Nationalist armies in the south had lost their fighting strength and the campaign there would soon end.)

Small advance forces of the Red army pounding up the road from Chungking were menacing Tzechung, official reports said. The city is 75 miles to the southeast.

Press dispatches said the Communists in an equally-rapid drive to the south had reached the frontier of Yunnan province.

Baylor Will Not Play College Of Pacific In Press Bowl Tilt

WACO, Dec. 7. (AP) — Baylor university will not play College Of The Pacific in a west coast Press Bowl.

Dr. W. R. White of the Waco school announced today the bid was rejected because a poll of Baylor players showed "little enthusiasm."

Only yesterday, College Of The Pacific players voted to play the proposed post-season football game with Baylor in the Lodi Grape Bowl on Dec. 26.

Dr. White said Baylor team members indicated they might have favored the game had a large San Francisco stadium been booked. As it was, he said, a poll of players showed a count of 24 to 23 favoring the game. But there were many abstentions from voting, including team capt. Don Mouser.

Youths Confess Store Robberies

ment, signed his account of the robbery at 11 p.m.

Bonds Are Set

Handcuffed in a line, Leeman, Bonham and Mann were taken from the jail to the courthouse shortly after 5 p.m. Justice of the Peace D. W. Robertson set bonds for Leeman and Bonham, while Mann's bond was set by Justice of the Peace C. E. Lynn.

In their signed statements, Leeman, Scrivner and Mann said they came to Lubbock on Nov. 3 and 4 to pick out a store to rob. They said they decided on the Economy because it appeared to have a lot of business, because the inside of the store could not be seen from the street when the blinds on the front door were drawn and because there was no basement.

They parked behind the store Saturday night, Nov. 5, but were frightened away when they saw an armed guard by construction machinery in the alley.

Scrivner Helped Case Store

Leeman and Mann returned on Nov. 19, bringing Bonham with them. Scrivner, who had helped "case" the store, did not come back for the robbery.

Taking Skibell with them, they drove toward Idalou, letting him out on the highway. Leeman took the suitcase with the money and guns, and got out of the car at Idalou, agreeing to meet Bonham and Mann in Dallas the next day to split the money, which Mann said amounted to $627.

Bonham and Mann stopped at Ralls and spent about an hour walking around the carnival grounds. Leeman caught a bus back to Lubbock, put the suitcase in a locker. He caught the first bus out to Dallas, taking his suitcase with him.

Hid License Plates

In both robberies, they said, Bonham stood in front of the license plates on the cars to prevent their hostages from seeing the number.

Leeman's 1941 maroon club coupe Pontiac was used at Lubbock. Money from the Lubbock robbery was used to buy a 1950 Studebaker in Dallas. This car was used in the Crosbyton robbery.

Sheriff Foy Addison of Crosby county said that the point where Wallace was shoved from the car may have been in Dickens county. Bonham said he took five $1 bills from Wallace's billfold there after Leeman hit Wallace on the head with a gun. This information raised the possibility that charges of armed robbery may be filed in Dickens county.

In the Crosbyton robbery, Scrivner said he scooped money from the cash register into a suitcase that was a graduation present from his parents.

Admissions of other hijackings crept into some of the statements, including two when three of the defendants were enroute to Fort Worth from the earlier trip to "case" the Economy store. One of those was a Benjamin service station, the other of a Fort Worth suburban grocery.

Neither place was identified by name, but the station attendant was kidnapped and taken, without his coat on a cold night, about three miles from the station and released. They took gasoline and oil, but failed to get any money from the cash register, which was locked.

They got about $70 from the grocery, the statement by Scrivner said. He said Leeman and Mann were his companions in the Benjamin and Fort Worth robberies.

Among those present when the statements were given to Pharr were Sheriff Addison, Lloyd A. Wicks, jr., Crosby county attorney; George Eubank, chief deputy sheriff of Lubbock county; and Lee Rice, jr., Lubbock city detective. Avalanche-Journal newsmen were present when most of the statements were given.

Detroit Keglers Lead All-Star Tournament

CHICAGO, Dec. 7. (AP)—Detroit Bowlers dominated the top positions after six of the 12 semi-final round games were rolled in the ninth annual national All-Star Bowling Tournament today.

Charles (Chuck) O'Donnell, 36-year-old sporting goods store clerk, led the group of 46 semi-finalists with a 30 game score of 6,121. He was trailed by two fellow townsmen, Chet Bukowski, who had a total of 6,119, and Freddie Bujack, who produced 6,116.

The first of the two squads began shooting the final six games at 7:30 p. m. (EST).

The 14 survivors of the semi-final competition will advance to the final round robin matches opening tomorrow and continuing through Sunday night. They will join Connie Schwoegler, Madison, Wis., defending champion, and Andy Varipapa, Hempstead, N. Y., 1948 runner-up, who were seeded into the finals.

Mrs. Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Mrs. Dorothy Miller of Chicago retained their one-two positions after 12 games in the women's division. The feminine title in the All-Star show will be decided tomorrow night.

In a special 36-game match for a $750 side purse, Varipapa leads Schwoegler, 6,050 to 5,988 at the end of 30 games. They roll the final six games tonight.

Little Rock Preps For Little Rose Bowl Tilt With Santa Ana

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 7. (INS)—The grid machine from Little Rock, Ark., Junior college looked sharp today as it worked out for Saturday's Little Rose Bowl battle with Santa Ana, Cal., Junior college.

But the Trojans were no sharper than the tongue of Coach Jimmy Karam who went off on another torrid blast of optimism.

Karam, who yesterday predicted his team would score "five or six touchdowns," today predicted a final score of 42 to 14 in favor of his charges.

Atomic Probe

members kept in the dark about the hearings until it was too late for them to be in attendance?"

Joining Arends in protesting the handling of the investigation were Republican committee members Nixon, of California, Case of South Dakota and Velde of Illinois.

The general, who headed the Manhattan project which developed the A-bomb, said that the uranium compounds the Russians got were enough to aid materially in Soviet atomic research. He pointed out:

"We had practically built the Hanford atomic plant when we had less than one-millionth of a pound of uranium."

Soviet Agents Noted

Groves said that "within a month" after he took over as chief of the Manhattan project he became aware that Soviet agents were trying to steal its secrets.

He explained that he approved uranium shipments to Russia for two reasons: He wanted to see whether the Soviets could locate a uranium supply in the U. S., and in another case the deal was so far along that he could not block it without arousing Russian suspicions.

The witness said that subordinate lend-lease officials exerted "pressure" to send Russia materials vitally needed to build wartime atomic plants in America. He added:

"There was a great deal of influence in Washington to give the Russians everything they could think of."

Lewis' Charge Denied

Groves flatly denied the charge of commentator Lewis that Wallace, as head of the Board of Economic Warfare, "overruled" the Manhattan project on the matter of uranium shipments. He said Wallace "divorced himself" from the atomic program.

The general also denied the charge of ex-Air Force Major G. Racey Jordan, made on Lewis' radio program, that Hopkins intervened to speed atomic materials and data to Russia. Groves said:

"At no time, to my recollection, did I ever meet with Harry Hopkins, talk to him on the telephone, receive any letters from him, or have any dealings with anyone representing him."

Secretary of State Acheson meanwhile told a news conference that Wallace's BEW granted licenses for export of uranium and heavy water to Russia with the approval of the Manhattan district.

Acheson, in comment on Jordan's assertion that while inspecting Russian lend-lease shipments he discovered masses of "documents," said:

"The department has no knowledge that any departmental documents, secret or otherwise, were made available to the Soviet government without proper authorization, as alleged by Mr. Jordan."

Acheson's remarks were made in a statement. In a later answer to questions on Jordan's charge that radar equipment was sent to Russia, Acheson said a search of lend-lease files has failed to reveal any licenses for its export up to the present.

Rep. Walter (D-Pa.), acting committee chairman, said Wallace "will be given a chance to be heard—but we don't know when." He pointed out the only charges against Wallace were those made by Lewis.

same gopher holes." Battle added:

"So far as we know, there are still no well-established companies in the fold."

Other Pacts Predicted

A statement by the UMW said that operators producing 7,340,800 tons of soft coal a year now have signed the "basic bituminous coal wage agreement" and predicted that "additional tonnage will sign."

The first break in the mine owners united front against Lewis' contract demands came Tuesday when a small group of Kentucky operators with an annual output of 2,333,800 tons signed.

Meanwhile, Whitney Warner, jr., of Cleveland, Ohio, president of the Warner Collieries Co., which produces about three million tons of coal a year, discussed a new contract with UMW Secretary-Treasurer John Owens.

Warner declared, however, that any contract signed should be on an industry wide basis and said Lewis' attempt to conduct negotiations separately is "impractical."

Warner said Owens told him that the UMW would not consider any 1949 wage settlement except the contract which already has been signed by the small mine owners in Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio and Illinois.

The agreement raises the operators' contribution to the union welfare program from 20 to 35 cents a ton and increases the miners daily wage from $14.05 to $15. The contract runs until Sept. 1, 1951.

4,000 Texas Masons Register At Dedication Of New Temple

WACO, Dec. 7. (AP)— More than 4,000 master Masons registered for attendance of the Grand Lodge of Texas A.F. and A.M. today as officers dedicated the grand lodge memorial temple.

It was estimated 2,000 visited the $2,000,000 temple during the day without registering. The first day of the lodge's 114th communication was given principally to opening and dedication ceremonies.

Blue lodge delegates will transact annual business of the fraternity tomorrow and Friday.

U. S. Senator Tom Connally of Marlin, in a dedication address, traced the 111-year old history of the grand lodge. He told the Masons a new temple belongs to the future. He said that Masons assuming the same responsibilities in church, civic, and government life as Texas Masons have done during the past century, will insure the future will guarantee the Democratic way of life.

LEGION BACKS DEMOCRACY DAY

Shivers Declares Indifference Greatest Threat To Democracy

(By The Associated Press)

Texans were told by their governor Wednesday that indifference is the greatest threat to Democracy.

Gov. Allan Shivers, speaking on the eighth anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, opened "Democracy beats Communism" week with a speech at Gladewater, then made a noon address at Terrell.

Legion Sponsors Drive

Shivers had proclaimed the week as a particular time to emphasize Democracy under a statewide program sponsored by the American Legion. The Legion calls it "operation Democracy" — and the program is being observed throughout the state.

"Democracy can be kept alive only by living it," Shivers said at Gladewater. "Mere words are not enough. Words are merely the expression of ideas, and ideas must be translated into action. We can foster and protect this Democracy we live under only by living it."

In his noon address, broadcast from Terrell, Shivers said "'Operation Democracy' is a worthwhile campaign that should not merely be renewed once a year, but should be waged every day of the year."

He told Terrell citizens, church, school, civic responsibility, and citizenship were the "rallying points for the citizen who conscientiously wants to do his part for Democracy."

Shepperd Conceives Plan

The idea for "Democracy beats Communism" week was conceived by John Ben Shepperd of Gladewater.

Brownwood High school students took over city offices as their part of the "operation Democracy" program.

They gravely discussed such problems as double parking, a teenage community center; a new fire station; extra hours for traffic lights on Friday and Saturday nights. Quarerback Jimmy Don Johnson presided as mayor.

Houston entertained a distinguished visitor — General Dwight D. Eisenhower, president of Columbia university. He was the speaker for Wednesday night's annual meeting of the Houston Chamber of Commerce.

Philippines Envoy Is Praised As UN's 'Best' President

FLUSHING MEADOW, N. Y., Dec. 7 (INS) — The seven chairmen of the UN assembly committees and Secretary-General Trygve Lie warmly praised Philippine Ambassador Carlos P. Romulo today as "the best" president the world body has had.

At a testimonial luncheon attended by 35 top leaders of the UN secretariat and committee chairmen, Romulo was presented with a sterling silver plate from the seven committee heads which bears the following inscription:

"In recognition of the able leadership exercised by the president of the UN assembly Carlos P. Romulo, we—the chairmen of the seven main committees who worked with him as a team during the fourth session, dedicate to him this token of our esteem and regard, together with the expression of our personal gratitude and friendship."

Romulo in turn presented Assistant Secretary General Andrew Cordier with an engraved silver cigarette case for services rendered and revealed he had presented a similar gift to Lie at a testimonial dinner to him a few evenings ago.

United Fight Against Communism Is Urged

A call for a united effort to combat Communism was brought by members of the Allen Bros. American Legion post speaking over Lubbock radio stations Wednesday night.

The program, in observance of "Democracy Beats Communism" day on the anniversary of Pearl Harbor, was heard over all three Lubbock stations. The transcribed program was broadcast on KFYO at 6:45, over KCBD at 7:30 and over KSEL at 8:45 p.m.

Sid Lowrey, American Legion state service officer, defined Americanism as "unswerving loyalty to the U. S. a. established by the Constitution and a willingness to defend it against all who would overthrow it."

George S. Berry, Lubbock attorney and former state department commander, pointed out that the Communist groups are well financed and united. He called for a uniting against it on a nationwide scale, and for an honest appraisal of America in comparison with Communism.

Edward Welsh, third speaker of the group, pointed out that the danger of Communism lies from "within and not without."

Moderator for the program was Waggoner Carr, observance committee chairman.

Former Navy Crew Seeks Gun Bearing First Shot Honors

ST. PAUL, Minn., Dec. 7 (AP) — Nine former members of a Navy gun crew pledged themselves today to find the dismantled old gun that fired America's first shot in World War II.

The nine men, all of them Minnesotans, were members of the gun crew of the destroyer Ward. To them went the distinction of firing the shot that sent a Japanese submarine to the bottom hours before the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Gun Believed Lost

But as far as they know, they said, the gun itself has been lost. It was an obsolete four-incher, and it bears a plaque which reads:

"By sinking a Japanese submarine on the morning of Dec. 7, 1941, off Pearl Harbor, this gun has the distinction of being the first naval gun to speak America's reply in World War II. As such, the Pearl Harbor ordinancemen consider it deserving of special respect throughout its life."

Karl Lasch, St. Paul, sighted the target first, and C. W. Fenton of Forest Lake, Minn., pulled the trigger.

New Gun Installed

"They refitted the Ward early in the war, and took the gun off to replace it with an anti-aircraft gun," Lasch said. "It was about time they retired the four-inch, because it was made in 1919."

But no one seems to know what happened to the old gun after it was removed and the plaque mounted. Lasch said it might be packed in grease and covered with waterproofing, or it might stand rusting in a Navy yard. He said he hated to think of it, but it might even have been scrapped.

UN Special Committee Votes For Jerusalem As International City

LAKE SUCCESS, Dec. 7. (AP)—The United Nations special political committee voted today to make Jerusalem an international city. The vote was 35 to 13.

The United States and Britain voted with Israel against the proposal.

The 59-nation committee also voted, 32 to 16, to designate the trusteeship council as the administering authority.

Russia, which has a seat on that council, supported the resolution.

The vote in committee was more than the two-thirds majority required for final approval in the Assembly later this year.

NASHVILLE, Dec. 7. (AP).— Dr. Frank H. Leavell, 65, secretary in charge of the student department for the Souhtern Baptist convention, died at his home here today.

Dr. Leavell, who was widely known in Baptist church circles, became ill during the night after working at his office as usual yesterday. His death was attributed to a heart ailment.

A small store of charred grain thought to be 2,500 years old was recently discovered at Itford Hill on England's Sussex Downs.

Reported Birth Of Quintuplets In Colombia Admitted As Hoax

BOGOTA, Colombia, Dec. 7. (AP)—Two Bogota newspapers reported today the story of the birth of quintuplets in a remote Colombian village was a hoax.

Medellin dispatches had detailed at length the story of the birth Nov. 26 of five sons to the wife of an illiterate mulatto farm laborer in the village of San Alejandro.

Today Medellin correspondents reported the couple have five children, all right—but their ages range from five to 13.

The correspondent of El Liberal said a prisoner in the Medellin jail, Luis Arroyave, invented the quintuplet story.

Annual Panhandle-Plains Band Clinic Set

1,500 Students May Attend Meet

Members of school bands from throughout the Panhandle-South Plains region will converge on Lubbock Friday for a two-day session of the seventh annual Texas Tech-Lubbock Public schools band clinic.

Representing at least 40 schools from as far north as Borger and south as San Antonio, high schoolers attending the clinic are expected to number as high as 1,500. They will be divided into four classifications according to school sizes and will play simultaneously.

Classifications include AA, A, B, and junior high. The first group will be under direction of Raymond T. Bynum, director of the McMurry college band, and will hold sessions in the Lubbock Senior High school auditorium.

Assembly Sites Given

Robert L. Maddox, director of the Odessa band, will be in charge of the class A group, which will meeting the J. T. Hutchinson Junior High auditorium. Class B band members will assemble in the Texas Tech band room under direction of Robert C. Davidson, Plainview bandmaster, while the junior high group will meet in the J. T. Hutchinson Junior High bandroom under the tutelage of Joe L. Haddon, assistant director of the Tech band.

Students who will play in the respective groups are those included among the best musicians from the various schools. They will not know what selections they will be called upon to play until they are seated for the clinic, according to Prof. D. O. Wiley, Tech band director and general supervisor for the clinic.

Tech Band Included

Approximately 125 players will be included in both the class AA and class A divisions and 130 in the other two. The Tech band, with a total membership of 140, will take part in the clinic each afternoon by playing selections the high school bands will be required to play in concerts and contests in 1950, Wiley said.

Actual sessions will get underway at 9:30 a.m. Friday, with band directors, musical leaders and scouts, additional band members and other interested persons included in the audiences. Both afternoon sessions will be consumed by the Tech band, playing in the J. T. Hutchinson auditorium from 1 to 3 p.m.

Schools in the class AA division who will be represented by members include Lubbock, Amarillo, Odessa, Plainview, Big Spring, Sweetwater, and Lamesa.

Families in Stuttgart, Germany, recently entertained a group of children from St. Helens, England, for two weeks.

APPEAR IN 'CARMEN'—The three stars of "Carmen" were enjoying a session at a piano in Lubbock hotel when the above photograph was made Wednesday afternoon. Leonora Corona is pictured seated. Those attending the meeting were Dr. J. W. Kinard, new president; Dr. Richard Ragsdale, jr., Slaton, new vice-president and educational director; Dr. Wayne Hardy of Levelland; Dr. Millard Swart; Dr. Armistead; and Dr. B. W. Armistead of Littlefield, retiring president.

Recovery Progress Of Man Shot In Head Called Amazing

HOUSTON, Dec. 7. (AP)—Allen Thomas Sturges II has taken his first steps since he was found shot in the head here Oct. 22.

Doctors at the Houston Veterans administration hospital say recovery progress of the 26-year-old New Yorker has been "amazing."

Sturges originally was given little chance to recover from the bullet wound which police say was self-inflicted.

Sturges opened his eyes two weeks ago, the first time since Oct. 22.

PRODUCTION SET AT HIGH SCHOOL

Former Dallas Singer Will Fill Title Role In 'Carmen' Tonight

By OPAL DIXON
Avalanche Staff Writer

"I don't believe that one has to be buxom. That is an alibi to eat a lot," Leonora Corona, star of the Boston Grand Opera who will fill the title role in "Carmen" tonight, said in Lubbock Wednesday afternoon.

She was referring to the belief, formerly more widely accepted than at present, that opera stars must be big.

The blond soprano, who when appearing with the Metropolitan Opera was billed as the most beautiful star on the operatic stage, herself is far from fat.

Opera Slated Tonight

"Carmen" is to be presented at 8:15 p. m. today in Senior High school auditorium, as the second of two operas presented by the Boston Grand Opera under auspices of Allen Bros. post in the American Legion.

Camaradie of the company was evident as several of the stars joked while filling an appointment Wednesday afternoon in Lubbock hotel ballroom.

Although not often departing from the classical, the stars sometimes relax while on tour by singing "Show Boat" or some other number out of the classical field.

John De Merchant, baritone who will appear as Escamillo the toreador in "Carmen," and Rene Castelar, who will appear as Don Jose, are rivals in the opera but their rivalry gave no signs of carrying over into off-the -stage moments as they laughed and talked.

Conductor Plays Score

Francisco Foti, conductor for the symphony orchestra, played a few notes from the score for "Carmen" and Laurene Buttlar, who will appear as Mercedes, joined the group at the piano.

Miss Corona, who was born in Dallas and lived there until she was 14 years of age, will be making her first appearance in grand opera in Texas tonight. She appeared in 1939 at Denton in an opera written by Julia Smith of Denton, but has not come to Texas previously with an opera company.

"I'm very proud of being a Texan," she said. During her trips over the world, she frequently has been asked if she has ridden horses on the Texas ranges. She has found

New Terry Oil Field Indicated

Prospects for the discovery of a new oil field in southeast Terry county from a deep lime horizon continue to improve at Tide Water Associated Oil company, and others No. 1 Nystel, 14 miles southeast of Brownfield.

The latest indication of production was in a drillstem test at 11,510-570 feet. The tool was open four and one-half hours. A 1,030-foot water blanket was used.

There was a good blow of air during the test. No gas showed at the surface.

Recovery was 2,726 feet of 34.2 gravity oil and the 1,030-foot water blanket, which was heavily cut wtih oil and gas. There were no signs of formation water.

Open flowing bottom hole pressuer was between 700 pounds and 1,500 pounds. Hydrostatic pressure was 6,000 pounds.

Operators were to core from 11,570 feet to 11,590 feet, and then run another drillstem test.

Some geologists think the horizon making the oil and gas is the Silure-Devonian. The first show for production in the current formation was in a drillstem test at 11,469-545 feet.

Recovery was 1,220 feet of clean oil, 180 feet of oil cut drilling mud, and the 1,060-foot water blanket, which was cut with oil and gas.

Base of the Woodford shale, and the top of the current lime formation was at 11,475 feet. Elevation is 3,171 feet.

The prospector has penetrated 95 feet of lime which has shown oil and gas, and up to now has developed no water.

Its possibilities of becoming an oil well and a new discovery would look better if it would flow. However, interested operators think that it was flow when the pay zone is washed with acid.

Location is 660 feet from north and west line of section 9, block C-38, psl survey. The wildcat is four miles east of the Adair-San Andres field.

BORDEN DEVELOPMENT INDICATES PRODUCTION

Another show for possible production from a Pennsylvanian reef lime below the Canyon has been developed at Amerada Petroleum corporation No. 1 Von Roeder, southeast Borden county, four

RECEIVES DANCE PROCEEDS—Miss Amelia Anthony, right, founder and director of Girlstown, U.S.A., received a $246.57 gift for Girlstown from Mrs. June Woodrum at the Lubbock Business and Professional Women's club luncheon Wednesday in Hilton hotel. PERSONAL SOLICITATION OPPOSED

Girlstown Director Denies Gift Of $100,0000 Has Been Received

GIRLSTOWN, U. S. A., has not received a $100,000 gift, as rumored, Miss Amelia Anthony, director of Girlstown, said in Lubbock Wednesday.

After hearing from several sources that Girlstown has received a gift in that amount, Miss Anthony corrected the impression by saying, "We could use $100,000 very easily, but we haven't received it."

The determination of Miss Anthony is that personal solicitation shall never be made in interest of Girlstown.

The rumor that Girlstown has received a $100,000 gift makes a difference, because workmen are donating two days weekly without pay while receiving pay for five days weekly and some firms are giving building products. Some of those who have helped have asked about the rumor, because if it were true their help would be less needed.

Girlstown has taken over the payroll for construction of the new 32-bedroom residence being built there, and in the last month has paid $9,000.

Girlstown's biggest gift has been that made by T. B. Duggan of Lubbock, who in June gave surface rights to 1,425.6 acres of land and $20,000. That gift was the first

Rex Beach Kills Self In Florida

SEBRING, Fla., Dec. 7 (INS) — Novelist, playwright and adventurer Rex Beach shot and killed himself today in his Sebring home after some three years of suffering from a painful throat ailment.

Medical authorities who treated Beach at Doctors' hospital in Coral Gables last summer confided to Beach's friends that the author suffered from cancer of the throat, but no public announcement was made.

The 72 year-old writer, whose body was found by his personal nurse, had completed about three-fourths of his latest novel at the time of his death. It was entitled "The Woman In Ambush."

The nurse, Miss Tania Simonian, said she heard shots while she was preparing Beach's breakfast. She said she dashed upstairs, where she found the writer lying beside his bed with a bullet wound in his temple.

Mrs. Elmer Beach, his sister-in-law, said in Raleigh, N.C., that funeral services will be held in Sebring on Friday. Mrs. Beach said that her brother-in-law "suffered miserably" on account of his illness. She added:

"It simply became more than he could bear to go through."

Nurse Notes Depression

The author's nurse said Beach seemed unusually depressed this morning, although Robert Fox, his secretary, told newsmen that he had seen no signs of depression in Beach last night, when the two men read some mail and discussed several business affairs.

Fox said the author of "The Spoilers" and many other books and plays believed that an outline of his unfinished book would serve as a basis for its completion by any competent writer.

Beach's best-known works included "The Silver Horde," "The Ne'er Do Well," "The Winds of Chance," "Padlocked," "Masked Woman" and "The World In His Arms."

Brief History Given

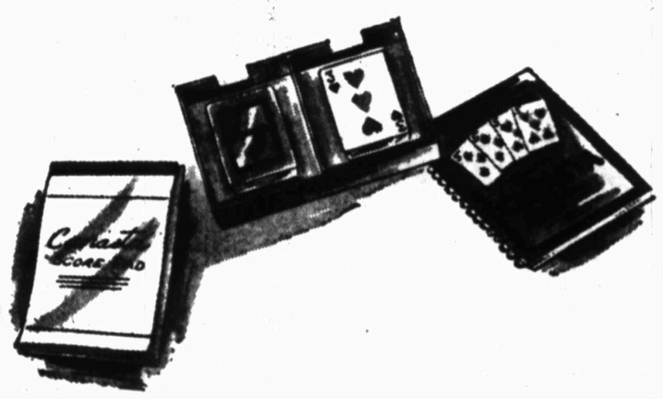

He was born in Atwood, Mich., on Sept. 1, 1877, attended Rollins college in Florida and studied law in Chicago.

He married the former Edith Crater in 1907. She died a few years ago and was the sister-in-law of actor Fred Stone.

Hopes Given Boost For Definite U. S. Policy In Far East Crisis

By JOHN RICH
INS Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Dec. 7—President Truman's call for a meeting of America's Far East diplomats in Bangkok next month has raised hopes that a positive U. S. policy for Asia is in the offing.

Working-level American officials in Asia uniformly have been critical of what they said was lack of a coordinated policy for all Asia in the past.

Ambassador Philip Jessup's scheduled presence at Bangkok will give these officials a chance to present their plans on what to do about the spreading victories of the Chinese Communists and the threat of Communism throughout the Far East.

Face Showdown In Asia

One official, who said "We are fighting for our lives in Asia," outlined one plan that undoubtedly will be given to Jessup. The plan already has been presented to Gen. Douglas McArthur, who was interested enough to ask exhaustive questions about it.

The official said:

"If the United States can evolve a positive policy now, the whole future of Asia can be shifted away from Communism and toward our orbit.

"There is a vacuum in Asia now. Nature abhors a vacuum. Communism is making great strides toward filling that vacuum and the United States has not yet come forth with a positive policy which can contest Communist advances.

"What can we do?

Would Cost Huge Sum

"It would take a good deal of money. We must develop an ECA-type program which will create regional economic independence.

"We must give the backward nations the advantage of American technological knowledge. We must help modernize farms and create industries.

"We must develop watersheds in countries like Siam, where water storage would mean two crops instead of one. Do you realize what it would mean to the world's food supply if Siam had two rice crops yearly?"

"And we must, in addition, stimulate the growth of social and political democracy and independence by putting the proposition of the future of the colonial countries squarely before our European allies.

Must Get Backing

"We must get every anti-Communist government in Asia into our program. It makes no difference in the beginning whether they are democratic, as long as they are anti-Communist.

"Once they are in and can see the benefits of the program, then we should make democratic reform the price of continued aid."

Another official said Japan would have to be an integral part of the regional economic program to provide capital goods and manufactured consumer goods to the depressed areas, adding:

"Unless we can develop an economically self-sufficient region which will provide normal trade channels for Japan, the country will never be able to exist without outside aid.

"Any program that envisages Japan or any other nation as an isolated entity is doomed to fail."

Police Resent Latest Escape Of Mexico Prisoner, 'The Spider'

MEXICALI, Mexico, Dec. 7. (U.P.)—Police hunted jailbreaker Armando Salas Garcia, known as "the spider," with a vengeance today.

Garcia, one of 23 prisoners who tunneled their way out of the Mexicali jail Monday, was recaptured yesterday. He asked and was given permission "to wash his hands" during questioning last night and escaped through a window in the men's room, for the second time in as many days.

Seven other prisoners, of the original 23 escapees, have been recaptured.

"The spider," according to local police, served a sentence in California's San Quenton prison.

Professor Theodor Heuss, new President of the West German federal Republic, is 65 years old and from 1933 onwards was persecuted by the Nazi Gestapo.

Shah Of Iran Leaves Hollywood For Taste Of Sun Valley Skiing

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 7. (INS)—The Shah of Iran left Hollywood today for a 10-day sojourn at Sun Valley to get in a few licks at one of the monarch's favorite sports—skiing.

The shah described his visit to Southern California as "one of the highlights of my trip." He spurned visiting film factories and the night clubs in favor of trips through aircraft plants and viewing farming methods.

Should there be not enough snow at Sun Valley to make winter sports enjoyable, the shah and his entourage will leave for New York.

The party has been sightseeing around the nation in President Truman's own plane. The potentate planned to return to Iran early in January.

Emotional Conflicts Blamed As Cause Of Skin Disease By Doctor

By ROBERT N. SCHWARTZ
INS Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Dec. 7. — Dr. Robert R. Kierland of the Mayo Clinic, said today that emotional conflicts often act as "triggers" to set off a severe eczema known as atopic dermatitis.

Dr. Kierland said in an interview with Internatinoal News Service that overwork, resentment, frustrated ambition and continual tension are among the emotional problems that can lead to this type of eczema.

The Mayo clinic specialist, in Chicago for the annual meeting of the Academy of Dermatology and Syphilology, blasted notions held by laymen that people who have such diseases are different or neurotic. He said:

"When anyone becomes frightened or is put under stress, his palms sweat, his stomach turns. This is a normal reaction.

Reaction May Vary

"With some the reaction takes a different form and comes out as a special kind of eczema.

"I tell them that their disease is not imaginary, but that we don't understand fully the physical and chemical basis for it."

He added that he found that treatment with salves, ointments and hot, wet packs did little to alleviate the condition. Diet didn't help much either.

The patient, said Dr. Kierland, can be brought to understand the emotional conflict that preceded the disease.

Domineering Mother Cited

Dr. Kierland said that one big factor in bringing on atopic dermatitis is the domineering mother. He declared:

"We find this type of eczema in many adults whose life has been completely shaped by their mothers. They resent this, but suppress the resentment. It then takes the form of coming out in atopic dermatitis."

Such cases, said Dr. Kierland, must be treated with a combination of minor psychiatry and dermatology. He explained that cases which involve more basic emotional conflicts should be treated by trained psychiatrists.

Slower Life Favored

Persons who get the disease because of tension should be taught to slow down, he said. Dr. Kierland declared:

"The great American disease is trying to get too much done in 24 hours. We advise people to think slower, eat slower. We advise them to give up all activities except those in which they are whole heartedly interested for their own personal satisfaction."

He said chances for catching and successfully helping such cases of eczema would be better if general practitioners had a better grounding in the fundamentals of psychiatry.

Error In Red Paper Touches Off Probe

ROME, Dec. 7. (U.P.)— A "typographical error" today touched off an investigation of all staff members on the Communist newspaper Unita.

The first edition of the newspaper appeared yesterday with the statement:

"This year the birthday of Stalin will be a great enslavement."

The editors intended it to read "great event."

The party called back all but a few copies of the edition.

Greece suspended all barter licenses.

Used Car Dealers Must File Papers, Appeals Court Rules

AUSTIN, Dec. 7. (U.P.)—Used car dealer must file the current year's registration receipt and a certificate of title within 10 days after buying an automobile for resale, the third court of civil appeals ruled today.

The court dissolved an injunction granted by the trial court at Houston which restrained Harris county tax-Assessor Collector Carl Smith from demanding the payment of penalties and fees from the dealers.

The trial court also held that the used car dealers were exempt from filing application for transfer of title after they had bought a car for resale.

The suit was brought by John C. Reed and other used car dealers.

In reversing the trial court's decision, the court of civil appeals said that to hold otherwise would be contrary to the purpose of the law in lessening theft of cars and the resale of mortgaged motor vehicles.

The opinion, written by Associate Justice Raymond Gray, pointed out that used car dealers have followed the practice of leaving the name of the purchaser blank on the certificate of title until the car is resold.

Nation's Voters Give Approval To Sen. Taft For Another Term

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute Of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Dec. 7. — A substantial majority of the nation's voters who have formed an opinion about the way Robert A. Taft is handling his job as United States Senator want to see him re-elected to the Senate next year.

The Senator has already begun campaigning throughout Ohio. Organized labor is expected to make a concerted attempt to bring about the defeat of the co-author of the Taft-Hartley Act, and the political eyes of the nation are focused on the battle as probably the most significant individual race for 1950.

The Senator is widely considered one of the top GOP presidential possibilities for 1952.

To see what the rest of the nation thinks about Mr. Taft as Senator and about his re-election race, the American Institute of Public Opinion interviewers across the country put two questions to voters representing a properly balanced cross-section of the electorate.

The first was:

"Do you approve or disapprove of the way Robert A. Taft is handling his job as U. S. Senator?"

Here is the vote:

Approve	38%
Disapprove	22
No Opinion	42

Democrats in the sample expressed adverse opinions, as might be expected. Among Republicans, the vote of approval is highly favorable, being 58 per cent approve, 10 per cent disapprove and 32 per cent no opinion.

Among occupation groups, the interviewers who conducted the survey found favorable attitudes expressed by professional and business men, white-collar workers and farmers. Manual workers who expressed an opinion divided about equally in their views.

	Approve	Disapprove	No Opin.
Prof. & Bus.	49%	19%	32%
White-Collar	43	22	35
Farmers	38	20	42
Manual Workers	27	24	49

It should be borne in mind that these figures are based on balloting throughout the entire nation and do not apply specifically to the situation in Ohio.

Should He Be Re-Elected?

All persons who had formed some opinion on Mr. Taft's Senatorship — comprising 58 per cent of the sample—were then asked a second question:

"Do you think he should be re-elected to the U. S. Senate next year, or not?"

Should not	22
	58%

Expressed in terms of percentage ratios based on 100 per cent, the above results mean that out of every 100 persons who have formed an opinion about Mr. Taft's handling of his job, 57 want to see him re-elected, while 38 do not and 5 are undecided—a substantial proportion in favor of the Ohio Senator's re-election.

Families in New Zealand are becoming bigger, Social Security department statistics show, and family benefits are being paid to 360 families of 10 or more.

Doctors' Efforts Fail To Save Life Of California Girl

CHICAGO, Dec. 7. (INS)— Death came suddenly today for 4-year-old Patty Owens, Sunnyvale, Calif., girl who was rushed to Chicago yesterday in a vain effort to save her from a disease which was choking her to death.

Surgeons at the Illinois Research hospital performed a tracheotomy a short time before she died. They also administered both penicillin and streptomycin after the operation but neither of the so-called miracle drugs proved effective.

Dr. Henry G. Poncher said he was planning to administer a new antibiotic, chloromycetin, when Patty's strength failed and she died.

Dr. Poncher said the fibrocystic disease which afflicted Patty filled her lung's with a material which was difficult to dislodge. Her pancreas also was affected.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Owens, formerly lived in Chicago, and Mrs. Owens returned to the city with Patty hoping medical treatment in Chicago would save the little girl.

Dallas Officer Denies Women 'Insulted' In Arrest Of Boys

DALLAS, Dec. 7. (AP)—Police Sgt. W. S. Biggie said today his squad did not push or insult anyone in taking five small boys to the city hall after receiving complaints they were throwing stones.

Three mothers and a grandmother told the city council yesterday they were "shoved around and insulted" by the three-man squad. The boys ranged in age from 5 to 13. The council ordered an investigation.

"I told one of the mothers the children were not going to jail, but rather to the Crime Prevention bureau where the parents could see the children later," Sgt. Biggie said in his report to Assistant Police Chief Willie Brogdon.

"The parents did not reprimand the children at all but did fuss at the officers and complained about their children being placed in the squad car. In view of the fact that a scene was being created due to confusion and excitement I told the squad to bring the children to the city hall."

Recognition Of Chinese Reds Forecast By British Officials

MANILA, Dec. 7 (INS) — Philippine Vice-President Fernando Lopez declared today that British officials and diplomats in Hong Kong are predicting that Britain will recognize China's Communist regime within one or two weeks.

Lopez, who has just returned to Manila after a week's visit to Hong Kong, declined to name any of the officials with whom he talked in the British crown colony.

The vice-president said he believes the Chinese Communists "will hold every respect" for Hong Kong, which he called "a peaceful, model city."

A Manila foreign office spokesman said, meanwhile, that the Philippine government expects the British to recognize the Chinese Communist government before New Year's day. But he added there is little likelihood that the Philippine government will change its "wait and see" attitude toward the Chinese Red regime before the middle of 1950.

Vishinsky Declares UN Session 'Unsatisfactory' After Defeats

By K. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Andrei Vishinsky, shaking the dust of the west from his shoes as he embarked for home, hung the "unsatisfactory" label on the 1949 UN General assembly.

From the standpoint of this fiery old Bolshevik this was a bit of unwonted understatement.

Reds Suffer Worst Defeats

He remained to see Russia suffer its worst defeats since the Iranian case came before the security council in the UN's first year.

He saw the representatives of the Communist heretic Tito seated on the Security Council through the defeat of Czechoslovakia.

He was overwhelmingly defeated in his attempt to convict the western powers of seeking war. With regard to his proposed big five peace pact he was accused of sheer propaganda and told that the only thing needed for peace was for Russia to live up to the UN charter.

A so-called "new" Russian atomic proposal was labeled the same old isolationist stand.

On nearly every matter Vishinsky and the Russian satellites stood alone against the world, their previous number reduced by the defection of Yugoslavia.

Vishinsky escaped one possible assembly condemnation when the United States and other countries sidestepped the Chinese charge that Russia had intervened to aid the Peiping Communists. The Russians foreign minister cannot claim a victory there, however, since he boycotted the debate.

As for Mr. Vishinsky's appraisal of the UN's work, nobody would claim the assembly's results have been entirely satisfactory. Its one great achievement and first legislative act, the settlement affecting Italy's former African colonies, was itself a compromise. But arrival at a compromise on such an issue was in itself a very important thing.

More important in the long run may be the launching of a program of cooperation in President Truman's "point four" program for economic improvement of underdeveloped areas.

There are other things on the credit side, such as the Dutch-Indonesian settlement reached under direct UN pressure, and moves to check up on the administration of non-self governing territories.

Incidents connected with Mr. Vishinsky's latest visit have led to some badinage at Lake Success over the possibility that, in the Kremlin's eyes, his usefulness as an envoy may be deteriorating. The Ukrainian Manuilsky clearly outdid the foreign minister in vituperation at this year's sessions.

Hike In Farm Cash Income Is Reported

AUSTIN, Dec. 7. (U.P.)— Cash income of Texas farmers during October totaled $272,646,000, a hike of some 5 per cent over the same period last year, the University of Texas Bureau of Business research reported today.

Cotton, the bureau said, was the greatest source of income, bringing the state's farmers $158,689,000 during the month. Cottonseed brought in $22,010,000; cattle, $30,041,000, and rice, $11,058,000.

Despite the increase for October, the bureau reported that farm cash income for the first 10 months in 1949 totaled $1,339,805,000, or some 2 percent below the same period in 1948. Increases ranged from 24 percent in the northern high plains to 4 percent in the coastal prairies, while declines varied from 24 percent in the South Texas plains to 4 percent in the black and grand prairies.

AP Official Declares Russians Censor Weather, Soup Recipes

DES MOINES, Dec. 7. (AP)—Alan J. Gould, executive editor of the Associated Press, says it is "unbelievable the lengths that Russian censors will go to place restrictions even on routine news stories."

Gould, addressing the Iowa Associated Press Managing Editors association last night, said censorship in Russia hits practically everything from soup to weather.

He related how censors had chopped to pieces a feature story by AP correspondent Eddie Gilmore on Russian soup recipes. He added that the weather in Russia is a state secret.

China, Gould said, now is "similarly shut up," and can be written off from a news standpoint for some time to come.

The Iowa editors were dinner guests last night of the Des Moines Register and Tribune. The dinner was a preliminary to the annual fall meeting of the Iowa APME today.

Fort Worth Police Chief Resigns Job

FORT WORTH, Dec. 7. (U.P.)— R. E. (Bob) Dysart resigned as Fort Worth police chief today and said he was tired of the job which "isn't worth the cost."

The action came as a surprise at the beginning of the city council's regular meeting, although rumors have been in circulation for some time that he planned to resign.

George T. Hawkins, 44, a lieutenant in charge of the vice squad, was named by the council to succeed Dysart. Hawkins has been with the department 14 years, serving in various capacities from patrolman to turnkey and desk sergeant.

Dysart said he intended to remain in the department after being re-instated at his previous rank of captain. He said he would then await re-assignment.

Dysart explained his action by saying that the police chief is never off duty.

"His time is never his own and his family life is constantly disturbed," he said.

Dysart has served as police chief since May 17, 1945, under two Fort Worth city managers—Sam Bothwell and W. O. Jones, who currently holds the post.

Governor To Be Asked To Tighten Sex Offense Laws

AUSTIN, Dec. 7. (AP)— Gov. Allan Shivers will be asked to submit the matter of tightening sex offense laws as a subject for consideration of the special session in January.

The Austin Junior Chamber of Commerce will make the request. Recently, Mrs. Hal P. Bybee, state legislative chairman for the state Parent Teachers association, announced she would discuss the same subject with the governor.

The legislature will be summoned into special session late in January to act on appropriations for an eleemosynary building program.

Prospects For New Oil Field In Terry County Improve On Drillstem Testing

miles southwest of the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field of southwest Scurry county.

This prospector took a four hour and 55-minute drillstem test from 7,095-7,135 feet. Gas was at the surface in three minutes. It was at the rate of 1,551,000 cubic feet per day. Oil was at the surface in 11 minutes. It was turned to pits for eight minutes to clean. The development was then shutin for 16 minutes.

It then flowed four hours and during that period made a total of 145 barrels of fluid, with an overall average of two and one-tenth percent basic sediment, and three and four tenths percent water.

In the first 30 minutes of flowing the project made 30.7 barrels of oil and in the last 30 minutes flowed 15.6 barrels of fluid which was 14 percent basic sediment and four percent water.

Final recovery was 46.41 barrels of free 41.3-gravity oil, with a gas-oil ratio of 1,014-1, and 273 feet of salt water. Flowing pressure was 1,250 pounds. Shutin pressure after 15 minutes was 1,785 pounds.

A total of 157 barrels of oil was recovered.

The prospector showed oil and gas in drillstem tests from 6,835-875 feet and free oil and gas-cut mud from 6,843-875 feet.

Water table was established in a drillstem test in the Canyon reef from 6,910-935 feet.

The development is at the center of the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 103, block 25, H&TC survey.

EXPLORATIONS PLANNED NEAR DIAMOND M FIELD

Jones-Simpson Drilling company of Dallas has planned its No. 1 Dee Myers as a 7,000-foot wildcat in southwest Scurry county, nine miles west of Snyder.

No. 1 Myers will be one and one-half mile west of the nearest production from the Canyon reef lime on the north side of the Diamond-M field.

Location is 467 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 244, block 97, H&TC survey. Drilling is to begin immediately.

On the southwest side of the Diamond-M field of southwest Scurry county, Lion Oil company has planned two explorations to test the Canyon reef. Contracted depth is 6,800 feet. Lion has also completed a new producer in the same area.

The company's No. 40 McLaughlin is to be 2,176.11 feet from south and 1,802.5 feet from east lines of section 182, block 97, H&TC survey and 13 miles southwest of Snyder.

No. 38 McLaughlin is to be located 1,662.50 feet from west and 1,797.23 feet from north lines of section 182, block 97, H&TC survey.

Flowing natural through a 16/64th inch tubing choke Lion No. 21 McLaughlin made an initial daily production of 437.13 barrels of 44.2 gravity oil. Gas-oil ratio was 828-1. No formation water was reported.

The flow was from perforations in the casing between 6,629 feet and 6,742 feet. Pay was topped at 6,629 feet.

No. 21 McLaughlin is 565 feet from north and 1,400 feet from west lines of section 182, block 97, H&TC survey.

PERMIT SOUGHT FOR SCURRY EXPLORATION

Tide Water Associated Oil company has filed an application with the Railroad commission of Texas requesting a permit to drill its No. 1 Maud Johnston as a 6,800-foot exploration on the northeast side of the Kelley field in central Scurry county.

No. 1 Johnston will be located 467 feet from south and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 250, block 97, H&TC survey. That makes it two miles northwest of Snyder.

C. L. Norsworthy, jr., of Dallas has planned his No. 1 Superior-Moore as an 8,200-foot exploration at about the center of the Kelley field of central Scurry county where production is from the Canyon reef at above 7,000 feet.

Projected depth should carry the venture to the Ellenburger and through the Strawn section of the lower Pennsylvanian.

The development will be 467 feet from north and west lines of section 207, block 97, H&TC survey and three and one-half miles southwest of Snyder.

Drilling is to be started by Dec. 10.

NEW WELLS PLANNED IN NORTH SNYDER FIELD

Barnsdall Oil company will drill its No. 1 Guy Stoker as a 6,900-foot venture on the southwest extension to the North Snyder field of north-central Scurry county.

No. 1 Stoker is to be located 467 feet from south and east lines of tract 23, section 40, Kirkland & Fields survey, and five miles northwest of Snyder.

Also in the North Snyder field Tide Water Associated Oil company has staked location for its No. 2-B Dodson-House Unit, to be located 2,000 feet from west and 1,963.65 feet from south lines of section 384, block 97, H&TC survey.

Projected depth is 6,800 feet.

Standard Oil company of Texas No. 9-6 Mrs. J. W. Brown, on the north side of the North Snyder field, has been completed for a calculated 24-hour flowing potential of 1,202 barrels of 43.5-gravity oil, with no water.

The flow was through a one-half inch tubing choke, natural.

Completion was from open hole between the 7-inch oil string cemented at 6,611 feet and total depth at 6,939 feet. Top of the pay was 6,602 feet.

The new well is 680 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 449, block 97, H&TC survey.

Girlstown Project

contribution to Girlstown, Miss Anthony having supported it with personal funds from the time of its opening March 13.

Clubs Interested In Projects

Since Girlstown was moved to its new location given by Duggar eight miles south of Whiteface, hundreds of clubs and individuals have expressed interest in helping. A variety of gifts has been given, but a gift of $100,000 has not ever been mentioned, said the founder.

Many persons have queried Miss Anthony about her attitude toward gifts for Girlstown.

She said in Lubbock Wednesday that, "Girlstown is a public project, that is to be shared with every individual interested in prevention of juvenile delinquency among girls, but never at any time do we want to be a burden or a responsibility and we want people to share in the manner they would like to without solicitation." Girlstown, U. S. A., she said, is their manner of expression of their individual wish to contribute to the prevention of juvenile delinquency.

Voluntary Aid Welcome

"We feel that those interested will come forward and offer their assistance without our having to ask for it," she said.

She has said on various occasions that, "The foundation of Girlstown is faith."

She said Wednesday, "Our girls of today are our mothers and civic leaders of tomorrow."

An average of seven girls is being taken to Girlstown daily by South Plains residents. Until about a month ago, the average was one to four daily. As soon as the residence under construction is completed, number of girls will be increased to 64. Number now is 10.

700 Applications Received

More than 700 applications have been received from 47 states.

Girlstown has several co-sponsors, but is not endowed and does not have a monthly income.

One of the organizations which sponsors Girlstown is Lubbock Business and Professional Women's club, which at its weekly luncheon in Hilton hotel Wednesday submitted to Miss Anthony a check for $246.57, amounting to the proceeds from the winter carnival and dance conducted by the club Oct. 20 as a benefit for Girlstown.

Presentation Made

Mrs. June Woodrum, chairman of the Girlstown committee of the club, made the presentation. Mrs. O. P. Harlan, club president, presided. Mrs. Oscar Ray, club member, urged approval of the bond issue to be voted upon next Tuesday in Lubbock to determine whether bonds shall be sold for sewage disposal and highway dispersal purposes. Referring to the sewage disposal needs, she said, "In order to keep the health standards of our community, we must support this bond issue." Plans were discussed for a Christmas party to be conducted by the club Dec. 19.

Miss Anthony told the club that "Little Marie," youngest resident of Girlstown who is in Scottish Rite hospital in Dallas for treatment of polio, will have no physical handicap as result of polio. Her condition is satisfactory. Fact that the two-year-old girl has not suffered polio in worse form has been credited by doctors to fact she received treatment early.

She said the cornerstone of the residence being built at Girlstown would be laid about sundown Tuesday and that "if humanly possible" ground would be broken for the barn to be used for dining and assembly purposes. Open house in the residence is to be held at a later date.

Could "Smell Texas"

She said she "smelled Texas" as she entered the state from New Mexico following engagements of the company there.

Miss Corona last appeared with the Metropolitan opera in 1937. A chartered train took several hundred residents of Dallas to New York to see one of the operas in which she appeared. She has filled numerous engagements overseas.

She has appeared several seasons with the Boston Grand Opera.

In "Carmen," she attempts to portray a more loyal, sincere girl than the traditionally accepted Carmen. When Don Jose says he will kill Carmen, she answers, "Kill me if you must." Miss Corona pointed out, which to her indicates Carmen was capable of strong love for Escamillo.

As Escamillo, John De Merchant also likes that interpretation of Carmen.

Castelar, tenor, said, "I'm proud that I will do the aria on my knees, because that is the way it should be done." He will sing "La Fleur" on his knees, a more difficult feat than singing it standing. He also begs Carmen to come back to him on his knees.

In addition to Miss Corona, De Merchant, Castelar and Miss Buttlar, cast members will be Beatrice Bordoni, as Michaela; Jeanne Comfort, as Frasquita; Paul Farber, as Dancaire; Ross Hunt, as Remendado; Ricco Froelich, as Zuniga, and Ben Raisen, as Morales.

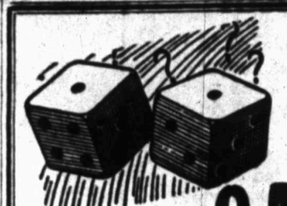

Danseuse will be Gloria Morgan. Salvadore Diaz is stage director and Frank Ramondi is assistant conductor.

Tickets for the opera will be on sale until 6 p. m. at a booth in Hilton hotel lobby and at the American Legion hall and will be on sale after that at the box office at the auditorium.

SECRETS TO REDS

Anybody Surprised?

IT IS difficult to see how anyone could be surprised by the recent disclosures that atom materials were shipped to Russia under U. S. lend-lease back in 1943.

The late Franklin D. Roosevelt, who was President at the time, handed Josef Stalin about everything else he wanted. If Joe asked for atom materials—and it is a moral certainty he knew of the atomic research then in progress and that he did ask for materials—it is a leadpipe cinch he got them.

Assuming the shipments were made—and no other assumption is permissable in the light of the recent disclosures— the secrecy with which they were surrounded then and during the remainder of the war is understandable. The whole atomic project was guarded as the most precious of wartime secrets until after the first bombs were exploded.

But the justifications for secrecy about the shipments of atomic materials to Russia ceased long ago. Americans and the rest of the free world had every right to know that the precious stuff was in the hands of a potential enemy. Instead of taking the American people into confidence, the Washington politicians and diplomats have pretended deep mystification as to the status of atomic research in Russia. They pretend ignorance when those in the highest positions knew the Soviet did have basic materials obtained from the United States.

THE only thing to criticize about the belated disclosure by former Maj. G. Racey Jordan, of the Air Force, that the shipments were made, is that he waited so long to speak out. If the American people had been given the information sooner, public opinion might have forced alterations in government policies, so as to guard whatever may have remained of the secrecy surrounding our atomic progress.

As matters now stand, thinking Americans must wonder whether we possess anything at all about atomic research which actually is secret. The evidence is conclusive that some, at least, of the secrets were shared with the Soviet about as fast as they were uncovered.

As a matter of fact, the most puzzling atomic secret in the world today is: What progress has Russia made in developing these weapons?

The Russians have protected that secret—which is a darn sight more than can be said for those entrusted with a similar responsibility in the United States.

Why The Alarm?

WE FIND it difficult to share the uneasiness of some of those who profess to view with alarm the undeniably large volume of credit buying which is reaching a peak during the present holiday season.

Some of the "viewers with alarm" undoubtedly are sound and sincere people. Others are professional bureaucrats who always are ready to use anything as an argument for restoring government controls. Currently, these government boys are screaming for credit controls.

We take the view, however, that the great majority of the businesses which are extending credit know what they are doing. They wouldn't sell on credit if they weren't sure, almost to the point of certainty, they would be paid. Furthermore, a great many people could not or would not, buy if they could not use credit. That would mean less merchandise manufactured, fewer jobs and fewer raw material markets.

Sound credit is one of the finest assets to secure prosperity this nation can possess. Until evidence is produced to the contrary, we believe everyone can assume that by far the greater portion of the credit business being done is entirely sound.

People could live if there weren't any tonsils and appendixes, unless they were surgeons.

The traffic engineer who says women can't park cars properly is assuming that women try to park cars properly.

'Once There Was A Magician—

The Cameo

By VIRGINIA TEALE
Distributed By NEA, Inc.

(THE STORY: Two murders over a valuable cameo have baffled Chief Peters and his assistant, Charlie Reddy. Martin Falter, a blackmailer posing as an artist, and Nell O'Neill, who claimed to own the cameo, are the victims. Police question Tom O'Neill on the death of his wife and Tom tells police to take the cameo back to Stephanie Smith, who has just been revealed as Nell's niece. Reddy goes to the home of Hagar Blair, who was missing when Nell's murder occurred, and finds her now at home with Stephanie.)

XXII

HAGAR, clad in her usual sweater and slacks, was propped against pillows on the chaise lounge, a furry-looking cover across her feet, an icebag on top of her head secured by a red ribbon.

"Not often I get bashed on the head with a pottery jug." Hagar slapped the couch indignantly.

"Right in my own shop. Hardly got my britches in the door when I was felled like an ox."

"What time was this, Miss Blair?" Charles Reddy asked.

"Oh, call me 'Hagar.' I've just come to realize that life can be very short! What time? About 7 o'clock, I think. I'd just got back from Dana Point. I was out cold afterward for a couple of hours."

"She phoned me around 10," Stephanie put in. "Right after everybody left here. I went right down in a cab and brought her home."

"This thing's turning into a nightmare, Reddy," she told him between puffs. "Murder right in my own backyard. Literally. Who did it, d'you think?"

Reddy stared down at his chromium lighter: "I may as well tell you the truth, Miss Blair: There are some who think you might have."

She snatched the icebag from her head: "I? Think I might have? Are you crazy? I can prove I didn't, I can prove I wasn't anywhere around!"

"Can you?" Reddy's face looked hopeful. "How?"

"I was at Dana Point yesterday afternoon—at Doheny Park, to be exact. Drove down there to meet somebody."

"Who?"

HAGAR impatiently kicked off the fur coverlet, swung around and planted her feet on the floor:

"Well, like Stephanie's already told you, I went over to see Nell yesterday about the cameo. Nell got nasty and we took to yelling at each other. Just about when we'd got to hair pulling, this phone call came for me."

"Who'd know you were at the O'Neills?"

"Oh, lots of people might have. My car was out in front."

"Go on, please."

"Well, this voice on the phone, a man's voice, told me that if I'd meet him at the barbecue pits in Doheny Park, he'd tell me something important about the cameo and about Martin Falter's murder. I was to meet him at 4 o'clock. It takes about an hour and a half to drive up there, so I left Nell's right away. About 2:30 that was."

"Tom O'Neill says you were with Nell in the morning when he left the house."

"That's right. I was. But we didn't get anything settled, and I went out, mad as hops, and walked up and down the beach until I cooled off. Then I had a cup of coffee at Mike's and went back."

"Then you got that phone call and drove down to Doheny Park, but the fellow didn't show up?"

"He did not. I waited until 6 o'clock."

"Did you see anybody at all down there?"

"No. Places like that are pretty well deserted this time of year, you know."

Reddy rubbed his nose reflectively: "It adds up to this, Miss Blair, Mrs. O'Neill was killed in your studio, possibly with one of your sculpting tools, and you can't prove your whereabouts at the time of the murder. You can't even prove you received that phone call."

"Why, I can too!" Hagar's face reddened indignantly, "Nell was right there when I—" her voice faltered and stopped.

REDDY looked glumly down at his shoes, then sighed and got up from his chair: "Just a few more quick questions, Miss Blair: Did Nell ask you to come over and discuss the cameo?"

"Yes, she did. Phoned me about it."

"Do you remember where the O'Neill phone is situated?"

"Of course I do, out in their front hall."

"And do you remember whether you took your purse with you when you went out to answer the phone?"

Hagar screwed up her face, concentrating: "Let's see . . . No! No, I didn't. That's it! While I was out of the room. Nell stole my studio key from my bag! That's how she got into the studio!"

"Maybe you're right."

Reddy dug into his coat pocket and brought out the silver box: "Here's a little trinket that may brighten things up a little. Tom O'Neill ordered that it be turned over to Stephanie."

Stephanie stared at him in disbelief while she stretched out both hands for the box.

He grinned at her. "We may borrow it later on for use as evidence, but, for now, it's yours."

He turned to leave. Stephanie handed the box to Hagar and walked with him from the room.

Alone, Hagar stared thoughtfully at the box. Almost gingerly, then, she pressed the lock and the lid flipped open. She picked up the cameo and the unlocked pin snagged on the velvet cushion, pulling it up from the bottom of the box. As she tried to straighten the pad, Hagar made mental note to glue it down firmly once and for all. The cushion was now wedged in a slanting position, she worked at it with a hairpin and pried it out. There were those numbers again, engraved clearly in the bottom of the box!

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

HAVE men really more confidence in women than women have in themselves?

A few weeks ago I wrote that if a woman is good enough to be a President's mother, why shouldn't a woman be good enough to be President?

You should see the letters that have come pouring in!

Ninety per cent said I didn't know what I was talking about. Women would never make good presidents, wrote most of them. Women don't even make good politicians

BRANDEIS

Now, here is the funny part: Of that ninety per cent the great majority came from WOMEN.

Of the other ten per cent most came from men. And most of them agreed with me.

But today I received a letter from Mrs. Joseph S. Graf, of Hollywood, Calif., whose views should give all us men something to chew on.

I'll quote part of it. See whether YOU agree.

"Your article about a woman for President expressed some of my sentiments," writes Mrs. Graf.

"I have often wondered just what effect it would have on our nation should we ever have a woman President.

"You know the old saying that men are like little boys: they never grow up. I actually feel that most of them really expect a wife to MOTHER them, no matter how old they get.

"We both know that little boys enjoy playing cops and robbers, have mock gun battles, scrap and fight, match their strength against each other.

"It has always been an accepted fact that they are just normal boys when they do that, and that 'they are only growing up.'

"Then they are full grown. They go into business. They become part of government. But they keep up their boyish habits. They like to argue. They are quick to take issue. They still want to show that 'I can lick you. I'll show you that I am stronger than you.'

"I think that many great national and international tragedies could have been avoided if men could REASON things out calmly rather than show off their STRENGTH.

RAYBURN OPENS ATTACK

Demos Lash Critics

BY RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON: — Even popular Sam Rayburn discovered that the Speaker of the House of Representatives is a political prophet without honor in his own country when, deep in the heart of Texas, he recently delivered a full-dress defense and eulogy of the Truman Administration's domestic and foreign program.

TUCKER

Although he had been billed as the "No. 1 Texas Democrat" by the state politicians, and a crowd of 15,000 had been promised for the huge Coliseum, only 2,000 appeared, and these consisted mostly of office-holders and members of the Texas Association of Democratic Chairmen.

Mr. Rayburn was so disappointed at the meager turnout that he cut his address on "Thomas Jefferson" in half, and fumbled through it so hurriedly that, in describing Hoover depression days, he referred to "48-cents-a-bushel oil."

SIGNIFICANT: The chilly reception was considered all the more significant by both Truman and anti-Truman Democrats because it was the Speaker's first speech in Houston, and the first major party policy address by the House leader in many months.

He was obviously giving the White House reply to both Republican and conservative Democrats' criticism of the Administration's policies at home and abroad.

"DESERTERS": Reflecting the President's known views, he had scathing words for such influential but restless Democratic bigwigs as former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and Bernard M. Baruch, the party's "angel" for so many years.

Although he did not mention them by name, there was no doubt of his target. He linked them with out-and-out "Dixiecrats" as "deserters." He likened them to soldiers who run away from the firing line in time of battle.

Although he spoke in "the city that Jesse Jones built," he did not otherwise mention the distinguished Texan, or refer to his reported opposition to White House spending policies and RFC management. Mr. Jones was not present.

RESENTMENT: The Rayburn outburst constitutes the first definite indication of Mr. Truman's fierce resentment toward recent attacks on the Fair Deal and so-called "welfare state" by old Cabinet members and friends of Franklin D. Roosevelt, with former Secretary Byrnes as his principal and personal enemy.

Indeed, it is understood that, characteristically, Mr. Truman has written a bitter retort to the South Carolinian, as he did to Mr. Baruch last fall. The President was angered then becausc the New York financier gave generously to re-elect Democratic cronies in the Senate, but refused to contribute to the Truman re-election campaign when money was tight.

ACCIDENT: In view of the honors which the party has heaped upon both men, the President feels, to use his own words, that they are "downright ungrateful." Only one man in public life has dug deeper under his skin, and that is Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Mr. Truman has extremely personal reasons for his animosity toward Messrs. Byrnes and Baruch, according to his friends. Noting that they went along with similar policies when they were proposed by Franklin D. Roosevelt, he attributes their present, belated defection to their private belief that he is only a passing, party phenomenon, and a "lucky accident."

RIVAL: He frequently blames Mr. Brynes' attitude on the Southerner's failure to become a key figure in the Administration, and on the fact that he, rather than the former Cabinet member, now sits in the White House because of the late "Bob" Hannegan's maneuvering on the vice-presidential nomination at Chicago in 1944. Mr. Byrnes was a rival candidate.

The fact is that opposition from two such distinguished party figures has stirred the "inferiority complex" which Mr. Truman suffered from when he was told that F.D.R. had died, and that he must head the nation.

PREVIEW: As is natural in a man like Mr. Truman, who has become a more cocky and aggressive individual since he was elected in his own right, the enmity of these conservative spokesmen has driven him even further to the left and to sterner advocacy of a "welfare state." Although not in top form at Houston because of his shabby welcome, Mr. Rayburn gave a preview of the Truman-Rayburn program at the January session of Congress.

Here are a few revealing excerpts from his speech:

"They always call progressive leaders 'socialists.'"

"We haven't spent the nation into bankruptcy, but to the highest peak of prosperity and world leadership."

"We are world leaders, and we must act like world leaders. We are destined to lead the world for a thousand years to come. But today there are international brigands abroad, and we must keep plenty of power, and keep it dry."

Believe It Or Not -

POPULATION SHIFTS STUDIED

Changes May Affect House Setup

By PETER EDSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The U. S. center of population will definitely be shoved across the west bank of the Wabash river after the 1950 census.

For the past 60 years Indiana has claimed this honor of being the center-of-population state. The 1940 census put it in Sullivan county, Indiana, south of Terre Haute.

In 1780 the center of population was out in the Atlantic ocean, due to the curvature of the east coast line and the relatively denser population of New England. In 1790 the center of population was 20 miles northeast of Baltimore. Since then it has gradually been moving west, heading towards Leavenworth, Kans., which is the geographical center of the country.

It is anybody's guess — and a good betting proposition, too—on where the 1950 center of population will show up. The general area will be between Paris and Cairo. Illinois, that is, not France and Egypt. And a good hunch is that it will be not more than 25 miles west of the Illinois-Indiana line, which is the Wabash river in this area. It's something for the local Chambers of Commerce in those parts to start arguing about.

Missouri May Get Honor

Because of the heavy postwar migration towards the west, there has been some belief that the 1950 census would put the center of population in Missouri. The "Show Me!" state has about every other top honor in government now, so why not that?

The trouble with this calculation is that the east has been gaining in population as well as the west. True, California, Oregon, Washington, Arizona and Nevada have gained from 45 to 60 per cent in the last 10 years. But they had greater open spaces and less population to begin with.

What all these and other shifts in population amount to for the whole country is a net gain of 14 per cent for the past 10 years, or a jump from 131,000,000 to over 150,000,000.

Another way of saying it is that every month for the past 10 years, the U. S. has been gaining population equal to a city the size of Hartford, Conn., Nashville, Tenn., or Akron, Ohio. Or a 10-year gain equal to the present combined population of Indiana, Illinois and Ohio.

What these changes do to the economy of the country is no small potatoes. There is every indication the country is going to keep on growing at this rate, snarling up traffic still more.

The formation of 7,000,000 new families in the past 10 years has created a lot of new business. Half of America's annual turnover is furnishing goods and services to families—autos, housing, furniture, laundry, food. The birth of 30,000,000,000 babies in the past 10 years has created a vast market for infant wear alone. The lengthening span of life means more business supplying the aged.

Congress May Expand

The increase and shifting population also has important political implications. Before Jan. 1, 1951, the Bureau of Census must report to President Truman and he must advise Congress on the exact nose count. The Congress then has 15 days in which to take action on increasing the membership of the House of Representatives.

If no action is taken in that time, the membership stays where it is, at 435 congressmen. The clerk of the House then notifies each state how many congressmen it will be entitled to elect from 1952 until the next census. It's up to the states to figure out their own redistricting to accommodate any changes in the number of congressmen they may be entitled to.

Originally, there was one congressman to every 30,000 people. The 1940 census put the ratio at one congressman for every 301,000 people. If the size of Congress is not increased next year the ratio will be one congressman for every 350,000 people. The number of congressmen — 435— hasn't changed since 1910. Some people think 435 is too many.

It's impossible to predict accurately what changes in state delegations will be made next year, but this is approximately it:

California will gain seven to nine seats. Texas and Florida will gain one or two. Most of the other Southern states may lose one each, due to migration of negroes to the Cleveland-Detroit - Chicago area. Oregon and Washington seem sure to gain one each. Maybe Michigan and maybe Connecticut will gain one apiece. Pennsylvania, incidentally, may lose out as second most populous state—to California.

Sweden will have a $700,000 streptomycin plant by 1952, under American license.

COTTON ALLOTMENTS CLAIMED UNFAIR

Agriculture Department Accused Of By-Passing Intent Of Congress

By SARAH McCLENDON
Avalanche Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—If the Department of Agriculture had sought additional evidence in computing Texas cotton acreage allotments, then farmers might have received credit for the war crops they planted, said Rep. W. R. Poage, Waco, Texas' 11th district, in a letter sent today to W. O. Higgins, president Taylor county Farm bureau, Abilene.

Poage who helped write the law and sat in on all the hearings and even the conference between Senate and House members when the final draft was made says that the Department of agriculture is clearly going against the intent of Congress when it interprets the present law to mean that Texas will not get credit for war crops.

Poage said he thought the Agriculture department solicitor was wrong in his interpretation and that he had not found any one else in or out of the department who disagreed with the view, yet he said the department shows a determination to sidestep the intent of Congress.

Only 95 acres additional put Texas under that portion of the law which makes the "California gadget" apply. The "gadget" is a formula for computing acreage allotment. It knocks Texas out of her credit for war crops, as every Texas farmer will find out when this week he receives notice from the department of the number of acres he can plant.

"It would have been a very easy matter to have secured some additional evidence of uncounted war crops in 1945 or 1946," says Poage. "Surely if the department had really wanted to produce the result that Congress wanted they could in all good faith find that many acres that had been overlooked.

Law Called Clear

"I think the law that was passed was clear and that it provides just what the members of the committee who wrote it intended for it to provide in regard to war crops. That is that they shall be credited not only to the individual farm but that the total so credited to individuals be in turn credited to the county. . . The committee carefully put this in the bill because certain representatives of the department had suggested making credit available to individuals but not to the county. Committee members on the other hand had pointed out that this would be impractical and we undertook to make specific provisions to see that the department did not follow this course. The department act-

Traffic Officer For Grade School Here Sought By Petition

A petition requesting the city commission to provide a traffic policeman at the intersection of Nineteenth and Ave. M to provide protection for the students of George M. Hunt school is being circulated by the school's P-TA.

Mrs. Eugene Knox, president of the association, said representatives of the association have appeared before the commission twice without getting results.

"We have been told the city can't afford to put a traffic officer on duty there during the danger periods," she said, "yet they provide a policeman for the high school whose students are much more capable of taking care of themselves and obeying traffic lights."

Zone Markers Missing

"In fact," she continued, "the city has not even put school zone markers at Nineteenth and Ave. M.

"What really makes us mad," she said, "is that the drivers crossing the intersection are so thoughtless and discourteous, they won't even stop for a red light."

Mrs. Knox maintains that the children who attend the school, which is at Eighteenth and Ave. M, a block away from the dangerous intersection, are of grade school age "and many of them are only six-years-old. How can they be expected to read lights when the only time they have ever seen them is when with their mothers," she asked.

Mrs. Knox said the petition will contain about 150 names when presented to the city commission.

She said an officer should be on duty from 8:30 to 9 a.m., 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. and at 2:45 p.m. when school lets out.

"It would pay the city to have an officer there because of the traffic fines it could collect," she concluded.

CHURCHILL AWARDED PRIZE

For the first two volumes of his war memoirs, "The Gathering Storm," Winston Churchill won the $4,000 literature prize of 1948-49, offered by a leading London daily newspaper.

Flagrant Violations In City Are Cited

Officer Brands Lubbock Auto Drivers 'Most Discourteous'

"Lubbock has the most discourteous drivers in comparison to any other town I have ever seen," Police Sgt. Jerry Hoover told the Exchange club Wednesday at a luncheon meeting in Hotel Lubbock.

If members of the club had any illusions concerning traffic conditions of the Hub City, they had none after the traffic sergeant answered more than a score of questions fired at him by Gar Decker, program chairman for the day.

Hoover said traffic conditions are bad here mainly because of three factors—disrespect of drivers for obeyance of traffic rules and towards other drivers, lack of proper facilities and manpower for handling traffic and an increase by three times the number of cars registered here in the last two years.

"Drivers here are bullies when they get behind the wheel," he explained.

To handle the situation, according to Hoover, "the police department needs more men, better equipment and public support."

He said only six traffic officers are on duty at one time "and that's not very many men to handle 50,000 vehicles," he added.

Main causes for accidents here are failure to stop for signals and turning from the wrong lanes, according to Hoover.

"Drivers here consider it an accomplishment to beat the caution lights," he said. He said speeding is at a minimum here" because of traffic lights and stop signs as designed to slow down potential speeders."

Immediate needs of the department include more through streets, parallel parking and more traffic lights. "Some one-way streets would help, too," he added.

Hoover also recommended that age limits for drivers should be increased from 14 years and that physical examinations be given periodically to aging drivers.

M. B. Hilburn, jr., presided.

$3,250,000 Bond Issue Is Approved At Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS, Dec. 7. (U.P.). Multiple civic improvements were in prospect for Wichita Falls today with the passage of a $3,250,000 bond issue.

Voters balloted more than 3 to 1 yesterday for the bonds to cover expansion of water, sewer and park systems and additions to the park and fire departments.

City officials estimated the move will increase tax rates 25 cents per $100 valuation and cause a minimum sewer service charge of 50 cents.

The vote, by issues:

Water system expansion ($1,250,000). For 3,671; against 1,000.

Street program ($800,000). For 3,585; against 1,058.

Park improvements ($200,000). For 3,440; against 1,213.

Fire stations and equipment ($100,000). For 3,711; against 960.

Sewer system improvements ($900,000). For 3,619; against 1,042.

Flier Lands Safely After Search Launched For Plane

KERRVILLE, Dec. 7. (AP) — A small plane for which a wide air and ground search got underway this morning landed safely today at Kerrville.

The pilot, L. E. Perry, said his delay in arrival was occasioned by engine trouble which forced him to land in a corn field enroute. He said he had no trouble getting aloft again.

Perry took off from Stinson field at San Antonio at 8 a.m. this morning to attend the National Civil Air Patrol executive board meeting here. When he did not arrive as scheduled the search began. CAP, Air Force and State Highway department officers joined in the search between San Antonio and Kerrville.

Cotton Allotments

ing in direct contravention both of the law as written and the intent of Congress as the department knows it to exist. In fact, I have not found anyone in or out of the department who will deny that they know that Congress intended to include the war crops in county allotments. As I see it, they have but taken advantage of the California gadget which they and we supposed would never affect Texas and have tried to use it as an excuse for imposing on Texas the type of allocation that the department wanted to use in the beginning but which Congress prohibited them from using.

"Of course now they have succeeded in making every one angry. The counties that are hurt by this change naturally and I think rightfully contend that they have been mistreated. The counties that have been benefitted would have been satisfied with their proper allotment but if the extra acres which have been handed to them are now taken away, they too will be dissatisfied.

"It seems to me that the department has gone about as far as it could to assure the failure of the program by creating unnecessary dissatisfaction among the farmers."

Poage said he had scheduled a conference soon with B. F. Vance, state Production and Marketing administration committeeman for Texas.

"The state PMA office recognizes that what has been done is unfair and not in keeping with the law but they feel that they must carry out the instructions of the Washington office and I suppose that is all that they can do," said Poage.

CROMMELIN CASE DISCUSSED

Navy Chief Expresses Concern Over Weakening Pacific Fleet

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP)—Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, chief of naval operations, said today he is concerned over the weakening of the Pacific fleet under the shift of naval strength from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

He said that he has been "going over the ways and means of strengthening" the Pacific fleet since he took over office early last month.

Sherman made the statement in answer to questions at a National Press club luncheon at which he was guest speaker.

The Navy began moving the heavier portion of its fleet to the Atlantic more than a year ago.

Discusses Officer's Case

Sherman also discussed the case of Capt. John G. Commelin and its reprecussions. Crommelin set off a congressional investigation of a row among the armed forces with charges that the Navy's striking power was being wrecked.

Asked why Crommelin "wasn't fired" instead of reprimanded for his action, Sherman replied: "Captain Crommelin is an officer I have known for many years. He has a fine combat record. I have great respect for his past achievements and the greatest confidence in his future achievements."

Testimony Defended

To a question whether any Navy officer can go before Congress and testify what he really believes, Sherman answered: "He certainly can."

He added that if there is "anyone in the Navy who has not the courage to go before a congressional committee and express his belief, he is a character I have not met. The committees have a right to inquire into any phase of the Navy and I am sure every officer of the Navy understands that."

He said there must be "a modicum of discipline" in the Navy but there also must be a "reasonable amount of free speech."

Looking At Life

"Women are more concerned with the LITTLE things—the little things that make the BIG things.

"No argument has even been settled by force. Even when husband and wife argue, the thing is always kept hanging in mid-air unless they reason, understand, forgive and love.

"YES, I feel that a mother should have a chance at the presidency. What mother would want to send her son into battle? What mother would give her whole life to the rearing of fine children into useful sitizens, only to have them used for gun fodder?

"Men turn to their women for strength and courage. For twenty years I constantly had to encourage my husband when he was blue and had lost confidence in himself.

"Women love more than men. They have more spiritual feeling and more understanding than men.

"And aren't love and understanding the only things that can save this world from disaster?"

I think Mrs. Graf has something there.

Why not try a woman for President?

It's bound to be fun—and it may even be good sense!

Two Persons Hurt In Crash Of Auto, Gasoline Transport

LUFKIN, Dec. 7. (U.P.)— One man was injured seriously and a second slightly when a car collided with a gasoline transport truck near Za lla today.

The car, driven by Brooks E. Gray, was attempting to pass a pickup truck when it met the transport in a side-swiping fashion, the highway patrol said.

The car caught fire and ignited the transport truck, but an explosion was prevented when a constable, Cotton Gaskamp, fired shots into the tank.

Gray suffered burns on the hand and face. The highway patrol listed his home town as Greenville, S.C. He is a chauffeur for a salesman representing a New York jewelery firm and was traveling alone, en route from Dallas to Beaumont.

The transport was owned by the Hudson company of Henderson. The driver's identity was not immediately established. He was injured only slightly.

Some 4,000 gallons of gasoline caught fire after the crash and blocked U. S. Highway 69 for a time.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Williams, of Eversham, England, forgot their golden wedding until six weeks later.

Forced Labor Escapees Describe Soviet Program

Russia Pushes Arctic Defense

CHICAGO, Dec. 7 (AP)—The Chicago Tribune, in a dispatch from its Paris correspondent, today said Soviet Russia is making "intensive efforts" to prepare its Arctic regions for a possible U. S. war.

The correspondent, Henry Wales, wrote he had obtained his information from two escapees from forced labor projects in the area.

The principal points of Wales' account were:

The two main military bases are newly-created cities, Vorkoutsk and Tiksi, at the mouths of the Potshura and Lena rivers. Other ports have been developed at the mouths of the Dvina, Ob, Yenessei, Ingirka, and Amur rivers.

A strategic railway is being constructed from Lake Baikal to the Bering sea opposite Alaska, but the Red army is utilizing frozen rivers as its chief highways.

Some 300 meteorological stations have been established in the arctic regions.

Wales wrote: "This information and a detailed description of the operations were obtained from an eye witness who was sentenced to forced labor on Nova Zembla, but became ill and was evacuated to Vorkoutsk whence he escaped through the iron curtain to France.

"Other information was given by a political prisoner employed on the project who fled from the concentration camp."

He added, "from bases in Franz Joseph land, Dicksen island, and Spitzbergen, the Red army plans operations via northern Greenland to northern Canada within easy range of the United States."

William Buckley, a pallbearer at Cecil Rhodes' funeral, died at Mombasa, Kenya.

Yugoslavia proudly displayed its first three tractors at the recent Zagreb Fair.

Christmas Shoppers Warned To Observe Safety Rules

AUSTIN, Dec. 7. (U.P.)—Christmas shoppers were warned today that if they want to be around to enjoy the Yuletide season, they'd best watch the way in which they tote their bundles.

A concealing umbrella or an armful of Christmas packages were named by Col. Homer Garrison, jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, as two of the common reasons why December's pedestrian death rate is consistently the highest of the year.

Garrison also pointed out that the hours of darkness in December are so long that the morning and evening peak hours of traffic fall during these periods of sharply reduced visibility.

In 1948, he said, 79 percent of the pedestrians killed in December died during the hours of darkness.
