WONDER WHAT AUNT MARTHA WOULD DO WITH "BLACK BLIZZARDS" WHICH BLOW TODAY?

(By The Associated Press)

GARDEN CITY, Kas., Feb. 17—Remember how Aunt Martha, a cloth around her head, a broom in her hand, made such a fuss when the first horseless carriage swirled dust on the front room rug?

Then how would she feel if a dust storm blew and blew, and blew some more, for two or three days, even a week, until the front room rug, the kitchen floor and everything in the house was covered?

The housewives of the "dust bowl" know all about it—all three types.

There's the veteran. She calmly waits until the storms subside before she lifts a broom.

There's the conscientious type. She cleans her house once a day, storm or no storm.

And there's the "tenderfoot" or bride type. Lips clenched, she propels her broom furiously around the room at all hours of the day—and it's a matter of who gives out first, the storm, the housewife or the broom.

Body Of Second Missing Man Is Found In Texas

MYSTERY OF RIO GRANDE VALLEY SERIES OF MURDERS GROWS DEEPER WITH DISCOVERY

(By The Associated Press)

HARLINGEN, Feb. 17—Discovery yesterday of a body identified as that of Tomaso Marroquin, 20-year-old missing fisherman, spurred officers today in efforts to unravel the mystery of his death and that of his brother, Ovidio, 21.

Tomaso's body was found on lonely Three islands in Laguna Madre, 30 miles north of Port Isabel, about half a mile from where Ovidio's remains were found last Thursday.

Officers voiced the belief the brothers were victims of foul play but advanced no motive. Four commercial fishermen were held in jail at Brownsville as possible suspects. Officers said they told varying stories but agreed the brothers left a schooner in shallow water of Laguna Madre and started wading toward shore.

The brothers left Jan. 22 on a fishing trip in the Gulf of Mexico. Both bodies were decomposed badly. Roberto Gomez, half-brother of the Marroquins identified the second body through clothing. The lower jaw and left arm missing a front tooth had been broken. Officers said coyotes may have been responsible.

Officers planned a further examination of the body and the island today. They wanted to learn if any significance could be attached to a bamboo stake driven in the ground of the mainland straight across from where the body was found.

Around the stake were found footprints of a barefoot man, several men with shoes and a horse.

Highway Patrolman Robert Woods, Deputy Sheriffs Will Cabler, Bob Smith and D. D. Steele headed the investigation.

SUICIDE CLUB IS REVEALED

EIGHT SAIL TO MEET DEATH; FIVE ARE BEING TREATED

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Feb. 17.—Eight men and women, members of a fanatical Japanese suicide league, sailed toward death in Tokyo bay today with a frantic police searching party on their trail.

Five of their comrades in the "Let's Die League" were being treated forcibly in Tokyo hospitals after attempting hara-kiri (death by disembowelment) in an effort "to purify" the powerful Nichiren proletarian Buddhist sect.

Attempts Are Disrupted

Vigilant police disrupted the attempts of four would-be suicides as they kneeled before public buildings and plunged daggers into their abdomens. All were seized and hurried to hospitals before they succeeded in slashing themselves fatally, police said.

A fifth league member, slightly wounded, was discovered hiding in a washroom on the third floor of the home ministry.

The public hara-kiri attempts occurred before the metropolitan police headquarters, the foreign minister's official residence, before the diet building and the main entrance to Emperor Hirohito's palace.

Man Is Seized

Police seized Ohka Aoki, 25, outside their metropolitan headquarters just after he thrust a dagger into his abdomen. Most seriously wounded of the five, physicians ex-

MINIMUM PENALTY OF FIVE DAYS AND $50 FINE IS VOTED

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 17.—The house of representatives passed today, 136 to 0, a bill by Rep. Robert H. Wood of Marshall to make a jail sentence mandatory for drunken drivers.

The proposal would fix a minimum penalty of five days in jail and a $50 fine. It also would make convictions easier to obtain by providing the state would have to prove only that the motorist was under the influence of intoxicating liquor to some degree. The existing law requires proof a driver is intoxicated.

To Boost Salaries

The senate sent the governor a bill by Rep. George F. Howard of Houston to increase salaries of district judges from $4,000 to $5,000 a year. The vote on final passage was 24 to 4. Governor Allred's attitude was not known. He had asked the legislature not to approve salary raises until it had levied new taxes.

A resolution expressing hope that Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior, would "if agreeable to him discuss the subject of oil and gas conservation" before the legislature was withdrawn by Sen. Claude Westerfeld of Dallas after encountering opposition.

Waco Man Dies As Result Of Mishap

WACO, Feb. 17 (AP) — Walter F. James of Waco died here today after being run over by a truck driven by H. L. Adair of Dallas.

The automobile in which James and H. H. McGregor had ridden to Waco to obtain medicine for a sick relative ran out of gasoline on the loop road near the Brazos river bridge. Adair offered to push the car to a filling station.

McGregor took the wheel and James remained on the pavement. Apparently he tried to jump on the side of the Adair truck after it began moving and fell under the wheels, which passed over his body.

AUSTIN, Feb. 17 (AP)—The senate confirmed today appointment of Orville S. Carpenter as chairman-director of the unemployment compensation commission and Tom C. King as state auditor and efficiency expert.

AMENDMENT IS SOUGHT TO CONSTITUTION IN PLAN SUGGESTED

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 — Senators Wheeler (D-Mont) and Bone (D-Wash) proposed today a constitutional amendment which they predicted would be "accepted as a compromise" by both opponents and supporters of President Roosevelt's judicial reorganization program.

Their proposal—patterned after the "Madison amendment" originally considered during the constitutional convention—would empower congress to re-enact by a two-thirds vote any federal law invalidated by the Supreme court.

Sen. Wheeler

No action would be taken, however, until a new congress had been elected following the Supreme court's decision.

Wheeler—an opponent of the president's request for authority to increase the high court's membership unless justices now over 70 retire—suggested the amendment might be speedily ratified by special conventions called in each state, a method provided in the constitution but rarely used.

Backing Is Expected

Senator Norris (Ind-Neb) and other so-called "liberals" who have criticized the president's plan were expected by some congressmen to back the Wheeler-Bone compromise.

Wheeler said he would not oppose additional measures for curbing the Supreme court's power, if his proposed amendment were adopted. He specifically indicated he might support Norris' plan for requiring a 7 to 2 vote of the court to invalidate acts of congress.

Sen. Bone

A pledge by labor's Non-Partisan League to support enlargement of the Supreme court coincided today with an expression by the National Grange of AUSTIN, Feb. 17. (AP)—Rep. Ben F. Cathey of Quitman introduced a bill to legalize marble machines in which the element of skill is involved. The bill would outlaw slot machines and horse-racing, dice and playing card machines.

Grim Battle Looms As Britain Starts Preparing For War

CHAMBERLAIN CLAIMS VAST EXPENDITURE IS FORCED ON COUNTRY BY DANGEROUS TIMES

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Feb. 17—Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain launched today a two-day debate on the $7,500,000,000 British defense program with this declaration in commons:

"Unprecedented conditions of the times have forced upon us this vast expenditure."

He then moved adoption in committee on ways and means of the resolution authorizing a $2,000,000,000 arms loan.

Labor and liberal leaders mustered their forces for a battle against the government's attempt to float the loan and raise the remaining $5,500,000,000 by taxation within the next five years.

Leaders of the fight against the vast peacetime defense measures, announced in an official white paper, charged the program was inflationary and would skyrocket the cost of living.

Included in the consequences of the greatest expenditure for war that Great Britain ever has contemplated in peace, they declared, would be increased speculation and an exaggerated boom, with its attendant bad economic effects.

Other critics opened fire on the program as lacking coordination.

Would Boost Burden

Financial observers estimated the increased burden on the British taxpayer would average a step-up in the income tax rate to $1.37 in every $5.00 of income. The average rate now is $1.18 to $5.00.

Despite the developing opposition, Premier Stanley Baldwin's government plunged ahead with grim determination to make Britain's navy the most up to date in the world, her air force as big as any on the European continent and her small army as efficient as that of any other power.

Although faced with a shortage of steel, iron scrap and raw materials, Britain is hastily building up a huge store of arms and ammunition sufficient to put more than two million soldiers in the field immediately it becomes necessary.

Ten Die In Bridge Collapse

SAFETY NET FAILS TO HOLD AND MEN FALL INTO THE OCEAN

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17—Ten men were believed to have been killed when steel and wooden construction forms crashed from the Golden Gate, bridge today and plunged the workers into the water.

The victims fell 200 feet and bridge officials said they did not believe the men could have survived.

SWEPT TO SEA

Eight bodies were thought to have been swept to sea and a report said a coast guard boat picked up two men. It was not known whether they were alive.

Workers were stripping temporary steel and wooden forms from the bridge deck when a carrier wheel snapped.

The forms swayed dizzily and then crashed into the safety net.

The net, swung under the bridge to prevent workers from toppling to their deaths, was unable to withstand the terrific strain.

DROPS WITH ROAR

With a roar, the mass dropped and tore away 2,100 feet of the center span net.

The twisted wreckage and helpless men struck the water at the entrance to San Francisco bay.

Strong tides swept the victims to sea while rescue boats put out in attempts to recover the bodies.

Muskogee Hearing Is Slated Friday

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Feb. 17 (AP)—District Judge E. A. Summers agreed today to postpone planting blackberries Friday in order to rule on the claims of two opponents to Muskogee's city manager office.

PETE BRINGS DOWN THE HOUSE WITH SNAPPY OFFERING OF YANKEE DOODLE

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17—A two-ounce canary named Pete startled the capital with a full throated rendition of "Yankee Doodle."

To prove the bird can produce not only the dulcet tones of the tune but also the intricate tempo, Mrs. E. M. Jameson, Pete's owner, staged a command performance in her home.

With James Moran, Pete's discoverer, hovering near, the skeptics crowded into Mrs. Jameson's modest living room and called for a song.

Pete fluttered about as nervous as a high school soprana on amateur night.

Finally he came through.

Lifting his tiny beak ceilingward, he launched into the snappy introduction and by the time he got down to the chorus the house was his. Three times he repeated the song.

Mrs. Jameson explained her husband, who works at the navy yard, taught Pete the tune by whistling it to him every night for three months.

Honest folks, you ought to hear him!

ATTEMPT MADE ON ANOTHER BY THIEF

WATCHES VALUED AT $270 TAKEN FROM ANDERSON BROS.

Uses Glass Cutter

Using a glass cutter, the thief opened a hole about eight by four inches in the Anderson Bros. window. Four Longine watches, two for women and two for men, were taken. A fifth watch, within arm's reach of the opening, was not taken.

A burglar obviously had scouted Anderson's store Tuesday afternoon.

K. E. Doak, salesman of giftware, of Chicago called on Anderson Bros. yesterday afternoon. Last night he parked his loaded automobile in front of Lubbock hotel. An attempt, similar to those made on the jewelry store windows, was made on Doak's car, he reported to police. Automobiles of several other salesmen were parked near the Doak machine.

Plate Glass Cracked

Plate glass in a show window immediately west of the entrance of Anderson Bros. was attacked. Chips of glass were inside the compartment. The glass had cracked in several directions from the opening.

The burglar may have been frightened after he had obtained four

TEXAS LIQUOR LAW RAPPED

NO LEGAL BASIS FOR SEARCH WARRANTS, COURT DECLARES

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 17.—The court of criminal appeals today called attention of the legislature to the fact Texas has no law under which search for liquor statute violations can be made.

The statement was by Judge O. S. Lattimore in the case of Pete Slack, fined $100 in Jones county for possession of intoxicating liquor for sale in dry territory. The case was reversed and remanded. Officers with a search warrant discovered whisky in Slack's possession, the opinion said.

No Legal Basis

The court noted it recently had sustained a contention there was no legal basis for a search warrant in liquor law violation cases and continued:

"We again call their (the legislature's) attention to such a fact. Citizens of a county in which the sale of intoxicating liquor has been prohibited by local option election and to detect its violations in view of the failure of the legislature to provide some means by which search warrants may be issued and searches made for such violations. This court can do no more than call the attention of the legislature to lack of such a law."

TRAFFIC OVER SOME AREAS IS HALTED

DUST MASKS ARE SOLD OUT IN OKLAHOMA; DAMAGE CAUSED

(By The Associated Press)

GUYMON, Okla., Feb. 17—A raging "black blizzard," third in three days, forced all Texas county schools to close today as blinding dust clouds swept over parts of Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas.

Visibility dropped virtually to zero as the ominous black clouds enveloped Guymon, Hooker, Gorgan, and Texhoma, Okla., and Higgins and Follett, Texas.

Car Travel Halted

Street lamps burned in the dusty gloom and automobile travel was halted completely.

Clouds of powdery, grey dust sifted over other points in the Texas Panhandle, reducing visibility to 200 feet at Borger. The Dallas weather bureau reported clearing skies at other Texas dust points.

A driving north wind blew up a heavy dust storm in the Lakin, Kas., vicinity and County Agent Kermit V. Engle reported condition of wheat there had declined four per cent in a week.

Study Impossible

Guymon and other Texas county schools closed today after schools at Tyrone were closed yesterday. The gloom and the dust-filled air made study impossible.

Dust-masked farmers prepared to throw up protective bulwarks of hard clods on their blowlands.

Visibility slumped to virtually zero, street lights were turned on, and automobile traffic, even on Guymon streets, was at a standstill. It was the third duster in three days.

Masks Are Sold Out

Stores here reported dust masks sold out.

Rains fell yesterday in parts of the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandle, settling the dust but the "afterblow," the swirl of freshly-deposited dust, already was under way at some points.

Colorado reported dusters at Springfield and Two Buttes, in the southeastern part of the state, yesterday. Last night a slight haze hung over Hutchinson, Kas.

Little Relief Expected

Farmers in the dust area were told by the Weather Observer D. P. Bizzell there was small likelihood of more rain to augment the brief showers. He said fresh dusters were probable.

Many farmers rode their listers, chisel plows and terracers with dampened handkerchiefs over their faces.

Herb Cavett, head of the Pony creek soil conservation project, issued 100 dust masks to workers. The

Many Novel Designs Are Seen On New Blouses Designed For Spring Wearing

Wing Collars Are To Be One Feature

BY ALICE MAXWELL

PARIS, Feb. 17. (AP)—Wing collars, rabbits' ear neckties and wool buttons are among the novel details on some of the new blouses designed for alliance with spring suits.

The collars are stitched for stiffness and bent down in front to form two sedate "wings." Stitched tab ends made of the same material tie underneath.

Other simple band collars have real rabbits' ears on the ends which knot in front.

The wool buttons are really big black buttons whose centers are filled with vari-colored wools. Their greens, reds, blues and yellows are repeated in the wool bands which run down the sleeves of the black wool knitted blouse on which they appear.

Satin Is Favorite

Gilet-style blouses, however, appear in printed satins that are flower-patterned in bright colors on white grounds. They have high revers necks and button down the front with ball-shaped, satin-covered buttons placed very close together.

Grass-green lacquered satin also makes a shiny, short-sleeved blouse which ties with a narrow collar of the same material and has matching buttons arranged in groups of three down the front.

A number of accents mark the blouses as the season's very own.

Frosted crystal buttons hung on silver chains high-light a blouse of light-blue satin. Black lace overblouses have both belts and buttons of bright-colored satin. And a light blue cloque afternoon blouse is shot with silver.

All-Over Stitchings

Parallel all-over stitchings are the last word in trimming for both satin and crepe blouses. Collars, yokes, front pleats, plastrons and revers—all come in for fine-stitched treatments.

The stitchings generally match. Occasionally, however, they contrast. A white satin blouse, for instance, is effectively stitched in green on both its wide front collar pieces and sleeve tabs.

High necks and short sleeves are general favorites. Wool fabrics and knitted blouses, in fact, are almost alone in the long-sleeved class. One of them is made of turquoise blue hairy wool and fastens right up to the neck with a double row of turquoise buttons. Another—a hand-knitted sweater-blouse in navy blue—boasts square white kid buttons. Its high neck and long sleeves are laced through with stripe of white kid in an over-and-over effect.

Spring Harbinger

This two-piece light-weight knitted dress is made of a wool and rayon yarn. The blouse has a two-inch band which nips in neatly at the waist. A slide fastener gives a smooth appearance to the closing at the throat.

Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminants, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxines. Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

A Gas-Fired, Storage Water Heater is not expensive to buy or operate. The water is heated in a highly insulated storage tank. And as the water heats the gas flame dies down to a mere whisper—or tiny pilot light—to hold gas consumption to a minimum. The cost of a luxurious, hot-bath for example can be compared to the cost of a newspaper.

And every day—all year round—you have instant hot water at your fingertips—for shaving — washing — cleaning — and countless other household needs. Come in and see how inexpensively Gas can bring this luxury into your home and life.

AVALANCHE-JOURNAL WANT ADS PAY

They're HOMELY and they're DUMB ..... but they're MOVIE STARS

There's nothing very decorative about a rhino, a skunk or a chimpanzee, but such animals—along with divers snakes, spiders and crocodiles—get good roles and command pretty important money

Frances Gifford brings a snack of lunch for "Snooks," who earns $3 a day. . . . At the right, Johnny Weissmuller with "Skippy," the chimpanzee whose services cost $300 a day.

By Jeannette Meehan

HOLLYWOOD

YOU can talk all you want to about the glamour, beauty and charm-extraordinary of Hollywood stars. Hmmm—but some of the better actors about town are terribly homely, and positively dumb.

They even smell!

"Horrors!" you say?

Well, how about Jimmy the Skunk, Skippy the Chimp, and Polly the Jackass? How about the hundreds of other species of animal actors that take part in Hollywood poductions each year?

Supplying animals to motion picture companies comes under the heading of Big Business. Within the limits of Hollywood there are 30-odd animal rental companies which house collectively 238 lions, 80 tigers, 25 camels, 23 giraffes, hundreds of snakes, and some 8000 other animals that can be hired to make it uncomfortable for human actors and thrilling for movie audiences—and some of these children of Nature rent for petty fancy prices, too.

When it comes to salaries, animal actors definitely take their place in the upper cream of Hollywood's thespian crop. No longer do the fans get goose bumps over those fake rubber beasts or those nice friendly sheep dressed up in wolf's clothing. They clamor for the real McCoy. In catering to their demand for realism the studios have set up separate departments whose sole function is to handle the hiring of whatever species of animal the script calls for.

Each studio maintains an animal expert and, if you please, a casting office for same. This office is a part of the property department through which all animals are hired.

NOW take the bookkeeping. That's a sweet little job. You can have it. If your disposition is perfect, you may be able to take it. The whole business sounds like big deals in real estate.

If an animal, say a tiger, is wanted for two or three shots only, he is hired by the day. If he's needed for several trick scenes he'll be hired by the week. If he's needed for two pictures to be made in succession, he'll be rented by the month. If he's to appear throughout a picture like "Tarzan Escapes," he'll be leased for six months.

Or, if the beast is too cumbersome to be easily transported, like Rhino and Hippo, he'll be purchased outright with a clause in the contract which allows the agency to buy him back again at a lower figure than the original purchase price. It seems that animals, like property, depreciate with age and use.

Now don't turn up your nose at these animal actors. Take the rhino which M-G-M used in the current Tarzan picture. Her name is Alice and she's in the money. Unable to procure one from any local source of supply, the studio paid an agency in Germany $10,000 for her.

Add to that the cost of shipping her across the Big Pond. Add to that $3 a day for food, room and board and salary for a trainer. Then throw in the insurance the company holds on her health and happiness and you have quite a robust figure—even if the company is later able to re-sell her to a circus for some $5000.

Well—let's say that Producer Smith has that Big Jungle Thriller ready for production. Now what does he need? Lions? Tigers? And lots of both?

He's a cinch. The casting office contacts the California Zoo, Gobel's Lion Farm, or the Al Barnes Circus' winter quarters in Baldwin Park. From any one of these places he may rent working lions from $30 to $50 a day each. Jackie, the famous "cat" which you've been seeing in pictures for years, earns $100 a day. Trained monkeys range from $50 to $150 a day. Skippy, the "educated" chimp, makes a flat $300 a day. Camels, giraffes and zebras come at $25 to $75 a day per head.

IF these animals are rented singly or in pairs, the figures aren't very staggering. But in gross lots, the sum total looks rather impressive.

Paramount recently ordered a shipment of 300 monkeys from circus quarters in Texas to be used in "Jungle Princess." Besides transportation and food, they cost the studio $2100 in rentals.

Recently Twentieth Century-Fox sent along 240 mild animals on location with "The White Hunter" company. They included 16 lions, 7 elephants, 4 leopards, 11 warthogs and numerous zebra and giraffes. Including rental for three weeks, transportation and salaries for trainers, these animals represented an investment of $40,000 on the picture.

Even though the beasts be trained, sometimes the script may call for some feat which is not in their routine. Then the studio must rent and feed an animal for as long as two weeks before it is actually ready to work. At the same time they must pay an expert trainer an average of $100 a week to teach it new tricks.

The vital statistics on animal rentals often bring many unexpected surprises. When Twentieth Century-Fox paid $50 a day each for a pair of sharks to appear in "Prisoner of Shark Island," they thought the price was quite reasonable—but the upkeep was something else again—a mere $100 a day for food, salt-water tanks and a trainer!

Alligators can be had for $25 a day each—fairly cheap. But alligators are peculiar creatures. If they're put in water that is too cold, they promptly go to sleep on the raging director. If the water is too warm, they die—and that's embarrassing. So a heating apparatus and several hundred pounds of ice must be kept on hand when "gators" are working.

There are other costs too. Because actors (who can blame 'em?) don't usually care about getting cozy with fangs and claws and tusks, the studio must hire people to "double" for them. There are just three brave boys in Hollywood who are willing to walk through a pool filled with alligators. They ask $100 a day each and carry their own insurance.

Camels aren't very expensive either—but there's a catch. According to Expert Morris Braun, camels are the slowest-thinking of all beasts, and so, besides paying $30 a day apiece for them, the studio must also pay the salary of a keeper for EACH camel.

Now suppose Producer Smith wants snakes or insects. Suppose he wants a cobra. That's pretty tough unless the casting office gets in touch with Jack Allman. He owns and operates a snake and insect farm from which the studios may make such rentals as they desire.

There are no cobras available closer than London. But Mr. Allman owns a milk snake which has been trained to act like a cobra. As a matter of make-up, Mr. Allman inserts a leather hood into the snake's neck (harming him not a whit) and—psssst—the studio has its heart's desire. This highest-paid of all reptilian actors earns $50 a day and Mr. Allman asks another $50 a day to come along and look after it.

On his farm there are 300 snakes representing 30 varieties, all of which he has caught and trained himself. A single snake earns from $2 to $25 a day. A python can be had for $75 a day.

Out in North Hollywood, a Mr. L. F. Comport runs a farm from which he rents 200-odd animals to motion picture studios. His pigeons, geese, sheep and chickens go for 25c to $1 a head a day, which, for barnyard animals, is getting along very well in the world. Jimmy the Skunk makes $10 a day, which definitely puts him in the white-collar class. Polly, the trained jackass, makes $15 a day.

When you get to George and a strange-looking creature who goes by the snooty name of "Twenty Grand," you're getting back into the moneyed class again. George and Twenty Grand are the only two sway-backed horses for studio rental in Hollywood. Because of their distinctive profiles they earn $25 a day each.

A good number of motion picture horses are rented from Fat Jones' Stables in North Hollywood. There 75 horses are stabled on 50 acres of ground. There are 30 attendants, a crack trainer named Jack Lindell, a huge storeroom for saddles and every conceivable type of conveyance that runs on four wheels—all for studio rental. It's a $100,000 investment.

An ordinary saddle horse costs the studio $10 a day—more than the average extra earns who pays for his own transportation and his own lunch. If a principal player is to ride the animal, the charge is doubled. A draught animal rates a $5 check. A racer gets $15 a day for atmosphere, but it takes an additional $15 to get him into action. Cast and principal horses get from $10 to $25 a day. Trick horses and trick mules come at $25 a day.

The use of animals in pictures involves some danger and loss of time. The "big cats" particularly get excited and restless on a studio set. The lights, the bells and the movements of the cast annoy them. Thorough precautions are taken, but every once in a while, some brave boy like Charles Bickford lands in the hospital.

A chimpanzee is easily trained but, like all members of his family, he's playful and often provokes delay by damaging the costumes, wigs, and make-up of his fellow actors.

Because M-G-M makes the biggest animal pictures and uses the wild life therein for the longest periods of time, they maintain a zoo of their own on the back lot. Instead of renting animals, the studio finds it more favorable for the black side of the ledger to lease or buy them, feeding, housing and training them on the lot—later re-selling them.

Highest-paid reptile in Hollywood is a harmless milk snake which can take the part of a cobra. Owner Jack Allman does it by inserting a leather hood into the snake's throat. At left, he paves the way with olive oil; next, in goes the leather; next, the "cobra's hood" appears; at right, Mr. Allman with the snake ready to go before the camera. Total expense to the studio, $100 a day.

Officer Claims That He Was Struck From Behind By Orchestra's Leader

NAVY MAN SAYS THAT HE WAS "KIDDING" OLD MAESTRO

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17 (AP) — Lieut. Commander Robert J. Walker, of the navy, said he was kidding Ben Bernie, orchestra leader, and then was "struck without warning from behind" at the Cocoanut Grove here last Feb. 5.

Bernie, the "old maestro," admitted striking one blow after, he said, he had been called objectionable names.

Lost His Temper

"I was kidding Mr. Bernie about his cigar and trying to get a smile out of him, and he apparently lost his temper," said the naval officer in a statement issued through his attorney, William J. Bryan, jr., son of the late "commoner."

"I was struck without warning from behind, when my back was turned, while dancing with my partner.

"Almost immediately I was rushed by two hotel officials to room 82, where I was held against my will until, in order to obtain my release, I was compelled to sign a statement absolving Mr. Bernie and the hotel from all damages.

Statement Withdrawn

"No objectionable names passed during the episode. The statement referred to above, which was signed under duress, has been withdrawn."

Bryan added it was "very regrettable Mr. Bernie has sought to capitalize the incident by shadow boxing for the obvious purpose of publicity."

"But this publicity," he said, "has been carried to a point where, in justice to himself, Commander Walker is compelled to make a statement."

Beyond saying the "incident had to happen," Bernie declined further comment.

OLDER GIRLS ARE TO MEET IN CITY

Copies of the program for an Older Girls' conference at Texas Technological college March 12-14 are being sent to 32 high schools which are expected to send delegates.

The conference will be sponsored by the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian association of the college. Approximately 30 girls from Lubbock High school will serve as hostess delegates and will assist in conducting the visiting girls to and from their rooms and about the city.

Speakers will include Mrs. Mary W. Dosk, dean of women at Tech; Dan Powers, dean of boys at Lubbock High school; Mrs. Ethel Terrell, dean of girls at Senior High school; Mrs. H. F. Godeke, Girl Scout commissioner; Miss Bonnie K. Dysart of the college education faculty; B. P. Faubion, state Y. M. C. A. secretary.

Each school has been invited to send two, "resident" delegates, or two delegates for whom room and board will be provided, as well as supervision during the visit here.

FLASHES OF LIFE

All For One

CLAYTON, N. M. — Party lines just don't seem to mean a thing here.

Faris Roberts was reelected vice-president of the school board by a vote of 231 to 0. J. H. Moxom was reelected mayor by a vote of 758 to 0.

Roberts is a Democrat, Moxom a Republican.

Temperamental

CHICAGO — When Leonard McCue asked for a mirror in which to view his newly trimmed pate, the barber became affronted. But when McCue said, "no mirror, no pay," the barber, Harry Lidus, chased him out of the shop to the clicking of an unloaded revolver. Police held the barber for questioning, inspected McCue's hair cut, and told him he wouldn't have to pay.

Real Warning

GLEAN, N. Y.—Erwin M. Forbush, Springfield, Mass., credit man, is authority for this retort by a harassed debtor to a dunning letter.

"Each Saturday night I make out a separate slip for the amount owed each of my creditors. These I put in a hat and draw out one slip," Erwin quoted the debtor. "That bill I pay immediately.

"So, one more letter out of you like the last and I take you out of my Saturday night raffle."

Sound Sleep

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—Policeman Frank Dwyer slept while his wife attended church. She returned home to find the house ransacked and called her husband.

Dwyer's blackjack and a wrist watch were taken from a dresser in the room where the officer slept. Two purses also were missing.

Rod Wasn't Spared

SEATTLE, Wash. — Pillows were in order after an abortive sit-down strike here.

Six youthful sit-downers started a demonstration in front of Mrs. Agnes A. Rentro's apartment house after she confiscated the roller skates of one of them in an effort to stop skating in the halls.

She called police. The police conferred with the parents. The strikers ate their suppers from the mantlepiece.

Moon Glow

SUPERIOR, Wis. — Diverse qualities were imputed to "moonshine" by two amateur distillers in federal court.

Floyd Minor told the judge that, used externally, it was fine for rheumatism.

Judge Patrick Stone, unimpressed, fined both.

Young Casanova

CHICAGO—Police had a high school Casanova in the line up—by name Adam Jablowski.

"I needed the money to take out my girl friends," he said in accounting for a series of robberies during recess periods.

"How many girls have you?" he was asked. "Nine," he replied.

Preparedness Plus

GREENVILLE, Pa. — Walter Adair's bantam hen is taking no chances on a flood in these parts.

She built a nest in a tree near Adair's filling station and hatched nine chicks 12 feet above ground. The proud owner had to climb the tree to bring them down.

Perchance To Dream

HAMILTON, O. — The attorney for Benny Hivick, charged with auto theft, moved for a new trial because a woman juror fell asleep while hearing the case.

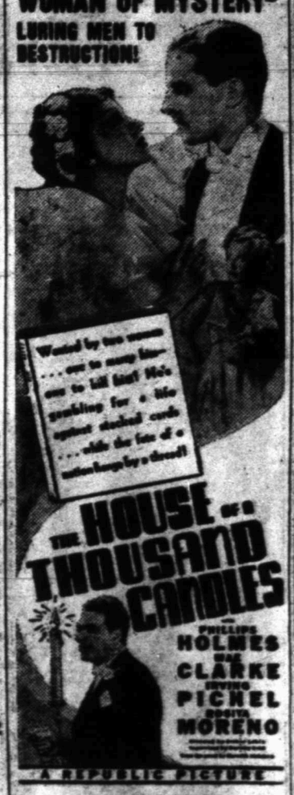

The motion alleged the juror "was embarrassed by being awakened and the incident may have caused her to become prejudiced toward the defendant."

Had A Little Ride

LOS ANGELES — Hobo Mary is just a white leghorn hen with a penchant for travel. J. H. Harris saw Mary roosting on the trucks of a pullman car as the train left New Orleans. She was still safely perched there at the next stop. Pools were made up among the passengers as to how many miles Mary would ride.

Fifty-five hours and 2,005 miles out of New Orleans, Mary flitted down—safely in Los Angeles.

CORRECT WAY OF "BUMPING" A FRIEND'S CAR
TO START IT

YOUR car that is going to do the pushing should be in LOW gear.

The car ahead that you are going to push should be in HIGH gear, with the clutch pedal DOWN.

If possible, get in position where one side of the car behind is about in line with center of the car ahead. This helps if bumpers lock. Car with bumper on top should try to get over the edge of a curb or other high spot that lifts bumper and permits parting. Or the same thing can be accomplished if car with bumper on bottom is maneuvered to a low drain or other depression.

Tell your friend not to let his clutch pedal up until you actually have his car MOVING.

At best this is hard on your car, but it is a friendly act that you would not deny a fellow-motorist marooned by cold. He has troubles enough of his own, with a freshly-killed battery, flooded engine, and sheepish feeling—to say nothing of wasted gasoline.

If you push long enough his engine may finally start, just as it would have done in the very first place, on Special Winter Blend Conoco Bronze—the same sort of Winter friend that you are.

Bowling Club For Women Now Formed

With 10 women listed as charter members, organization of Lubbock Women's Bowling club has been perfected.

The club, thus far organized as two teams, is to meet each Monday night at the Lubbock Club alleys, in the Myrick building. The two teams will compete against each other. It is hoped that membership will increase and that other full five-player teams will compete.

Captains of the two teams are Mrs. Glenn D. Smith and Miss Josephine Looney. Members are Mrs. Lela Smith, Miss Pauline Talley, Miss Ruth Burns, Mrs. H. M. McLemore, Mrs. Cliff Dean, Mrs. V. E. McCoy, Miss Bonnie Galloway and Mrs. O. B. Conley.

Increased interest in bowling by the ladies precipitated formation of the club.

Winner Of Battle Declared In Doubt

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 17 (AP) — The winner of a Jacksonville-Lon Morris junior college basketball game last night remained in doubt today. Jacksonville claimed a 40 to 38 victory, Lon Morris a 38-all tie.

The dispute arose over a field goal as the first half ended. Official scorers, one representing each school, disagreed whether the ball left the hands of Grady Vaughn, Jacksonville forward before the whistle blew.

Kerr Club Defeats Ropesville Outfit

The Lubbock team was trailing, 21 to 18, at the half, but was out front at the third period, 33 to 31. From thereout they remained "about two jumps ahead."

Stephenson of Ropesville was high point man with 20. Moody of Lubbock tossed 16 points.

Old Favorites Strut On Wrestle Card Tonight

SAILOR MEETS MARKUS FOR MAIN GO

DALE HADDOCK IS TO TANGLE WITH YAQUI JOE, THE INDIAN

Tonight's wrestling fare at the Auditorium: Bauer vs. Tremaine in the preliminary; Yaqui Joe vs. Haddock in the semi-bill, and Watkins vs. Markus in the main event. It all starts at 8 o'clock.

It is about time Jabbering Jerry Markus was shoving off for other climes, but to spare his feelings, rather than suggest he move on, they've booked him with the leading runner-outer of middleweight grappling, the one and only Sailor Whaler Watkins.

MARKUS

Markus, who could be a right fair grappler if he minded the business at hand rather than mixed in arguments with referees and cash customers, has been lining himself up for the Sailor, who usually happens along in time to take the measure of a grappler who gets going a little too pertly.

As for Watkins, he allows as how he'll mess the Hebrew up no little, and in time for the fans to get home for a good night's rest.

Bauer Gets Tremaine

Detroit Dale Haddock, the stub-fingered agitator of eyes and throats and Yaqui Joe, clever Indian who uses his legs with as much agility and effectiveness as most grapplers use their hands and arms, should give the customers a whirlwind semi-final that may swipe the show, barring the punishment Watkins is expected to deal out to Markus.

Jittery Joe Bauer, the veteran chopping block who can hold his own in almost any preliminary situation, despite his comic showmanship, may get more than he can handle tonight in Tremaine, the bouncing baby from Tucson. It's a variety show, and well balanced, for the most part, and the kind that usually fills the arena.

Vines Gives Perry Beating Last Night

PASADENA, Calif., Feb. 17 (AP)—Ellsworth Vines, who administered a sound thumping to Fred Perry in Los Angeles last night, led the touring professional tennis troupe into his home town today for another one-night stand.

The lanky Pasadenian put the ex-English amateur king away in straight sets last night before a gathering of 6,000 fans that numbered most of the sable wraps and dinner jackets in Hollywood. The scores were 6-3, 6-3, 6-4, and gave fair proof of the smashing demonstration put on by Vines.

TOUGH COOKIE

* * *

DECIDING BATTLE IS SET TONIGHT

LAMESA, Feb. 17 (Special)—Tonight, at Tahoka, will see decided cage champion of district 5-B.

Lamesa and Ralls squared their series last night when the Lamesa team defeated the northern half winner, 37 to 23. Ralls had taken the Monday night opener, 23 to 20.

Lamesa last night got away to an appreciable margin and was ahead at the half, 19 to 11.

Reed of Ralls was high point man with 12, showing the way for Riddle of Lamesa, who netted 11. Anstead of Ralls and Easterwood of Lamesa were chased for four personal fouls.

BARELY NOSE OUT

DENTON, Feb. 17 (AP)—The North Texas State Teachers college cagers nosed out the Southwest State Teachers of San Marcos 27 to 26 here last night.

JOE LOUIS IS FACING TEST IN BROWN

BOMBER LIKELY WILL SEEK EARLY KAYO FOR OPPONENT

BY WHITNEY MARTIN

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 17 (AP)—Joe Louis, well known finishing artist, meets Natie Brown of Washington in a 10-round bout here tonight.

If the brown bomber fails to polish off his opponent in short order, Louis will be somewhat finished himself.

Brown Is Confident

If Brown declared he expected to be knocked out, the opinion would be practically unanimous. Fans believe Louis has too much at stake, not to turn in an early kayo.

Despite this, Brown, a wily ringman with only two knockouts charged against him in nine years of campaigning, oozed confidence. So did his manager, Billy McCarney.

"We won't make the mistake we did in the other Louis fight," McCarney declared. "Brown tried to carry the fight to Joe then, and was punched silly for his trouble, although he came through with his best showing in the eighth, ninth and tenth. Tonight we'll outmaneuver Louis for two or three rounds then outbox him to the finish."

In Perfect Condition

Brown appeared in perfect condition. His weight, close to 200 pounds, was seven or eight pounds more than when he fought Louis before. The Detroit negro was scheduled to arrive today after completing training in Chicago.

The main event was scheduled to go on at 10:05 p. m. (C. S. T.) Walter Bates, veteran Kansas City referee, will be the third man in the ring.

The bout will be broadcast over a national hookup (NBC blue network).

Arkansas To Stick To Aerial Warfare

RULES CHANGES WILL MAKE NO CHANGE IN RAZORBACK PLAY

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Feb. 17 (AP)—New football regulations won't ground the Arkansas aerial squadron that zoomed to the Southwest conference championship last year, said Head Coach Fred Thomsen today.

This pigskin pitching enthusiast said new wording of the forward pass rule to give more leeway for defenders would not cramp his style next fall.

"I believe there will be less disputes over successful passes in 1937," said Thomsen, "but I certainly don't expect the opposition to bowl over my receivers and I'm confident officials will share my opinion."

Gained National Record

His Razorbacks gained a national record for passing last year, throwing 268 forwards, and completing 112 for 1,427 yards. Only 1,316 yards were gained in rushing.

Quarterback Jack Robbins bore the brunt of the aerial warfare, hurling 101 forwards, and completing 52 for 527 yards and four touchdowns. Jim Benton and Ray Hamilton, ends, and Ralph Rawlings, back, were the receivers.

Explaining his conversion to the aerial game, he said:

"Arkansas boys are just naturally lazy. They can't see any use in plunging four times for ten yards when they can pass once for a touchdown."

New York Giants Leave For Havana

NEW YORK, Feb. 17 (AP)—The New York Giants, figuratively speaking, threw out the first ball of the 1937 baseball season today when the first official group, headed by President Horace Stoneham, sails for the Havana spring training camp. Secretary Eddie Brannick left yesterday to make arrangements for their arrival.

Sailing today are Treasurer Leo J. Bondy and seven players, Jimmy Ripple and George Davis, outfielders; Mickey Haslin, infielder, Jimmy Sheehan, rookie catcher, and William Benne, Tom Ferrick, Cliff Melton and William Yarewick, all recruit pitchers.

LEE RAMAGE WINS

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17 (AP)—Lee Ramage of San Diego chalked up his second 10-round technical knockout in two months over Joe Bauer of Cleveland last night when he put the rugged easterner down in the final stanza at the Olympic auditorium.

SPORT GOSSIP OVER NATION

SONJA HENIE MAKING PLENTY OF SUGAR IN AMERICA

BY SCOTTY RESTON

(Pinch Hitting for Eddie Brietz)

NEW YORK, Feb. 17 (AP)—Society note: "Mushky" Jackson is thinking of spending the winter in Australia . . . . Incidentally, "Mushky's" old fighter, Red Barry, failed to show up for a fight in Holyoke, Mass., Monday night. . . Note to all typesetters and copy-readers—The Senators have signed a guy named Krakauskas. . . . Sonja Henie gets 50 per cent of the take wherever she goes and has made $260,000 since turning pro. . . . Denny Shute, the P. G. A. champion, collects stamps while touring the winter golf circuit. . . . Dark horse for the U. S. Ryder cup team this year is Sam Snead, the young White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., pro. . . . Jack Carter, the actor, has a clause in his contract which says he gets off every night Joe Louis fights. . . . Natie Brown says he's not going in there tonight to stay 10 rounds with Louis. . . . That should be easy.

* * *

Viola Dana, the old silent screen heroine, is making the winter golf circuit with her husband, Jimmy Thompson. . . . "In this life, you don't have a home," she said. . . . "You just pack and unpack and travel, and then do it some more." . . . Lou Comiskey is quoted as saying he will fine each holdout $100 for every day he's not in training. . . . Baseball men don't want to be quoted on this, but they agree Comiskey would never get away with it. . . . The players would appeal and Judge Landis would likely uphold them. . . . Joe Gould was in a New York night club. . . . "Let's go up to one of the Harlem joints. There should be a crowd up there," a pal suggested. "I'm not interested in crowds," replied Gould, "unless I get a percentage."

THEIR 74TH VICTORY

STEPHENVILLE, Feb. 17 (AP)—The John Tarleton Plowboys came from behind last night to defeat Decatur Baptist college 46 to 16 and score their seventy-fourth consecutive basketball victory.

After trailing for 10 minutes the Plowboys found the range and coasted to an easy win.

SLANTS by COLLIER PARRIS

Copyright, 1937

IF THEY HANG AROUND long enough and get tough enough, sooner or later they're led to the maneatin' sailor from Post. Kirby Watkins is just about the greatest ego-suppressor in the wrestling game. He has tamed more cantankerous tinhorns than any middleweight in the racket, and his job is cut out for him tonight.

So it's toodle-oo to Jerry Derry Markus, the Brooklyn baldhead, and we're glad to have met'n up with'n. The self-admitted champion of the Hebrews probably will be pulling stakes for the Bronx right soon after his brush with the grunting sailor. And Watkins, who admits he "carries" some of the boys an extra fall once in a while, avers that everything'll be kosher tonight as far as his match with Markus is concerned. Which means that the patrons won't have to hang around after the second fall.

Gentleman Dale Haddock, cook of the walk in this circuit for several months, blew in from his Abilene camp yesterday, looking in the pink and asking for trouble. He's had his headquarters at Abilene for several weeks, working in that league and at Fort Worth, where they like him pretty well. He's a good showman, good wrestler. His semi-final tonight with Yaqui Joe, one of this town's favorite grapple men, should be intriguing.

SOMEONE SENDS A COPY of "The Knockout," a colorful ring magazine published by Billy Van of Los Angeles. We suspect the hand of that slap-happy arch villain of middleweights, Danny McShain, since his handsome mug decorates the entire front cover and since there are various references to "that sensational wrestler, Dangerous Dan McShain."

But it's an interesting booklet. The lead story tells about a forthcoming match between Danny and one Yukon Jake. A picture of Yukon Jake is presented, and it is none other than Bulldog "Long-Drawers" Jackson, who was quite a cut-up kidder around here last summer and fall.

Wrestling goes over big on the West Coast, heavyweights and all, although the light heavies and middles are packing 'em in better than the slower, sluggish elephants. We note several familiar names in the lineups. Besides McShain and Bulldog Jackson, or Yukon Jake, there is Larry Tillman, Bob Castle, Lou Mueller, The Masked Marvel, Cyclone Mackey, Art Perkins, Pasqual Castana (spelled Costillo in the mag but undoubtedly the same dashing Latin who performed around here) and Dick Trout. Trout is particularly popular on the coast; he, too, draws a large picture space in the publication.

THE WEST TEXAS Baseball league cause has a champion in George White, the Dallas News sports expert whose big weakness is baseball.

It seems that J. Walter Morris, who conducted the "feeler" meeting at Midland last Sunday, goes back home and converses with White regarding the situation, and White is hot for it.

Morris must have told him something about a suggestion made at the Midland meeting with regard to the time and place for the next session, which, it is hoped, will be the organization meeting. Someone suggested that it be conducted in the heart of Carlsbad cavern. It would be quite a stunt, they agreed, to organize the West Texas league seven miles under ground. Of course some pessimistic wag will have to crack that we needn't worry about going to the Cavern with the league—it'll wind up that far under ground, anyway.

One thing and another will crop up to make the league organization a tough undertaking, but once it is started on a sound footing—and the national association won't sanction a league any more than isn't pretty certain to carry out the schedule—it is the general opinion of the men concerned that there'll be no crack-up in midseason.

It was pointed out last Sunday that one season is not long enough to test the durability and potentialities of a league, and that one season so many have blown up is the fact that after the first season has not resulted in a big profit, the owners become discouraged and pull out. Such club owners fail to consider the actual assets that the first season has brought, and count only the figures on the debit side of the ledger. In other words, a certain amount of courage—the real word is "guts"—is required on the part of the men behind the clubs as well as the players on the team.

Minnie Hauk (1852-1929) was the first American girl to play the operatic role of Carmen.

BANQUET HELD BY TEACHERS

PROGRAM IS OFFERED BEFORE ABOUT 125 HERE LAST NIGHT

A banquet and program were given last night at the First Methodist church for approximately 125 Lubbock county teachers, visitors and guests.

Featuring the entertainment arranged by Wayne C. Eubank, director of public speaking, Amarillo college, were a Bob Burns-Bing Crosby skit presented by Eubank and Phil Scarborough of Amarillo, and several numbers by Mrs. Eunice Castleman, a whistler, accompanied at the piano by Miss Mary Robert Warner. Miss Warner also sang, with Mrs. Ralph Lipscomb, Lubbock, at the piano.

Eubank read poems from Amy Lowell, Lew Saretti, Carl Sandburg, and Edgar A. Guest which drew expressions of pleasure.

Frenship Furnishes Music

Special music at the beginning of the banquet was furnished by the Frenship Rural High school band under the direction of Howard Martin. A trio composed of Almon, Eleanor and Howard Martin rendered two instrumental numbers.

C. D. Holbrook, deputy state superintendent, pointed out the growth of elementary, secondary and college education on the South Plains since 1933. He discussed the program for standardization of rural schools now being pushed in the county, and urged the necessity of continued state aid.

Among special guests presented by Joseph R. Griggs, county superintendent, were Mrs. Ola Legg, superintendent of Hale county, and Judge P. F. Brown, pioneer educator of Lubbock county.

A. L. Faubion of New Deal school was toastmaster.

Pitching Star Is Injured In Crash

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Feb. 17. (AP)—Nursing a broken nose and numerous other painful but not serious injuries suffered in an automobile accident, Lynwood Rowe, Detroit Tiger pitching star, said today he figured on "taking it pretty easy for a while.

"The Schoolboy" was hurt near Prescott, Ark., when his car ran into the rear of a truck on the highway. He was driving from his home in El Dorado to join the winter major league colony here. He continued the trip by bus.

4-YR. VICTIM OF CONSTIPATION IS NOW RELIEVED!

Stomach Bloated With Gas; "My Body Ached All Over," Says Texas Lady; Now She Tells How Van-Tage Relieved Her; Gives Amazing Statement

Mrs. Ella Hollon, of 1612 Freeman St., Houston, Tex., is Another Widely-Known Resident of This Section who is publicly praising and endorsing the "Amazing Mixture of Nature's Roots and Herbs and Other Splendid Ingredients," known as

MRS. ELLA HOLLON

VAN-TAGE, which is now being introduced and explained to the public of this city and vicinity at The Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway. Mrs. Hollon has lived in Texas all her life, and has resided in Houston 8 years.

4 Years Of Gas, Bloat And Constipation

"For the last 4 years I had been a suffering, miserable person. I was an awful victim of stubborn constipation, with a gassy, bloated condition that just kept me in a state of misery. I also developed an upset stomach and indigestion from the poisons held inside of me by my sluggish bowels, and I got so I ached all over my body. I did everything I could to get relief, but I went right on suffering, for it seemed like nothing did me any good. But finally I found Van-Tage. And now, I simply can't thank it enough. That awful constipation and gassy, bloated condition is relieved, and I don't have indigestion any more and my system has been cleansed of the poisons and acids. This medicine is the Greatest Thing of the Kind that I Ever Found."

Over 20,000,000 Bottles Great Formula Sold

This Amazing Formula has been tested by the sale of over 20,000,000 bottles. It has helped thousands of sufferers, in THIS VICINITY ALONE, from irregular bowels, inactive liver, gaseous stomach and sluggish kidneys. And—due to the immense volume in which it sells, the price of Van-Tage is reasonable. So get it—TODAY—at The Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway. —Adv.

I Don't--Remember--

A dim street, a swerving auto, shrill laughter, a thud, a writhing body on the pavement. Arrested as a hit-and-run driver, Miss Dolly Ford, San Francisco, here points to herself in disbelief. Intoxicated at the wheel? Yes, she admitted that. Informed that the victim had died, the girl grew hysterical and fainted. She didn't even remember hitting the pedestrian with her car, she declared.

NO VERDICT MADE IN PLANE MISHAP

BURLINGAME, Calif., Feb. 17. (AP)—A coroner's jury of aviation experts reported today it was unable to ascertain what caused a big airliner to crash into San Francisco bay a week ago last night, killing all 11 persons aboard.

The open verdict, which followed conflicting testimony concerning apparent motor trouble in the 21-passenger aircraft, made several recommendations concerning Mills field airport, near which the United Airlines transport fell, and flying in the bay area.

"We find the deceased came to their deaths as the result of drowning arising out of an airplane crash, the cause of the crash being unascertainable at this time," said the jury, which included several independent pilots.

"We recommend that the San Francisco airport be equipped with adequate water craft and other necessary emergency equipment to meet situations of the same or similar character.

"We further recommend that passenger planes operating in the bay area be equipped with seat cushions of a life preserver nature."

Basketball Ruler Is Being Proposed

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—A basketball "czar" to insure uniform rules interpretation would solve the problems confronting coaches, players and officials in the opinions of many leading eastern and midwestern experts.

The appointment of a "Judge Landis" of basketball was proposed by Cy Kritzer of the Buffalo Evening News at a recent meeting of nearly 200 metropolitan college and high school coaches and writers.

The "czar" would have power to see that use of the block, one of the sport's most controversial subjects, the three second rule and other regulations received uniform interpretation.

Ski Artists Ready For National Meet

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 17. (AP)—America's top-ranking ski artists gathered here today for the national amateur ski championships next Sunday and Monday which tourney officials confidently predict will produce a set of new records.

"The boys are arriving already to practice for the national finals on Washington's birthday—and it looks like there'll be some record-breaking jumps," said M. A. Strand, vice-president of the American Ski association and director of the meet.

"There'll be some European competition—which means the Americans will outdo themselves to protect their titles," he added. Principal contender from abroad—Sigmund Ruud of Norway, twice winner of the world Olympic championships—will arrive tomorrow to "rehearse" on Ecker hill.

WHEN WE STOP GREASY INDIGESTION WE FEEL JUST FINE

Our stomach can't digest grease. Neither can our bowels. Only our pancreatic juice, working with our bile juice, can digest grease.

When we get bad taste, headache and that nasty grotchy feeling which comes from greasy indigestion, take 1 Carter's Little Liver Pill before each meal and 1 after.

Carter's Little Liver Pills bring a large flow of our pancreatic juice and bile juice into our bowels. The large flow of these juices digests the grease we have eaten. Then we burst into life and into our work like a joyous skyrocket.

But if you want this glorious relief from greasy indigestion, ask your druggist for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and stubbornly refuse to buy anything else. 25c. (Adv.)

SLAYING CASE IS PROBED

JEALOUS EX-CONVICT IS BEING SOUGHT BY AUTHORITIES

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 17 (AP)—The mysterious slaying of Gayland Linhart at the door of his red-hued apartment sent detectives searching today for an ex-convict with a jealous disposition.

Through hours of questioning by police, 19-year-old Vernon Webb, Linhart's friend, maintained the Monday night shooting was a likely result of Linhart's resisting a robber who interrupted their visit with a rap at the door.

Police, reluctant to accept that theory, considered the possibility the 33-year-old railroad freight agent was slain by someone jealous of Webb. The youth supplied the name of the former convict, but said the man had no knowledge of Linhart.

Tells Of Relationship

Detective Chief T. J. Higgins said Webb told of an unnatural relationship with Linhart, dating from four years ago when the elder man heard his "sob story" and befriended him. Investigators said the boy told of gaining money over a five-year period by telling motorists he was a moneyless youth from Olathe, Kas., unable to find his grandmother here.

The youth related, Higgins said, how the acquaintance progressed through automobile rides and visits, and, later, that other visitors to the apartment included a college student, a "well educated" man, and one he understood to be a chemist. Linhart was a law school graduate.

Webb said Linhart tried to close the door after answering the rap, but it was held open as if by a foot. A scuffle followed, he said, and then a shot. He said he heard running steps of a man, and an automobile promptly left the place.

FROM

STOPPED-UP NOSTRILS

The mucous membrance in his nostrils are extremely delicate. He may suffer lasting injury if he keeps on sniffling or tries to blow out the accumulated mucus by brute force.

He will thank you later on if you teach him this much gentler and cleaner method to break up the mucus. Have him insert a little Mentholatum in his nostrils.

It is surprising how gently and quickly Mentholatum breaks up accumulated mucus. The stuffiness is soon relieved, the breathing becomes freer, and comfort is soon restored.

* * *

THIS may be treason. It is unheard of. But the fact remains that The Plainsman thinks the City of Lubbock's tax rate is too low for the municipality's needs.

Lubbock is growing by leaps and bounds. New additions are clamoring for inclusion in the city limits. Streets need marking. Sewer and water lines need to be extended and expanded. Numerous minor problems are crying for solution. But it's all in vain because the present tax rate does not provide sufficient funds for the needs.

These are facts.

* * *

The Plainsman can imagine the snorts, the cuss-words, the grinding teeth and the frowns which accompany reading these lines, but that does not change the status of things in our fair metropolis, as it were.

The fact remains that Lubbock would be a darn sight better off with a 70 or 75-cent tax rate—in place of the present 55-cent levy—at least for a three or five year period.

* * *

SOONER or later the City commission—whether it is the present one or the succeeding one—is going to have to "up" the tax rate in self defense.

When it does a lot of folks are going to howl to high heaven, forgetting that the 55-cent rate was put in as a depression measure and that a 55-cent rate cannot possibly carry the load of a city growing like Lubbock is growing and likely will keep growing.

But any fair-minded business man, upon taking the time to look into the problems facing Lubbock today, will have to agree that these remarks are not only true, but practicable.

And even if the city rate were boosted to 75 cents, we'd still be away, way under the average municipality of this size and importance.

THE folks down at Brownfield are having an awful time with that old Lone Wolf of Terry, Andy Jack Stricklin, editor of the Herald.

Andy Jack became a grandfather last Sunday when Jack Taylor Stricklin, tipping the beam at 8 1-2 pounds, arrived on the scene and ever since then the tough, old pencil pusher has been hard to get along with.

In fact, Brownfield folks have been seriously considering taking up a collection to send Andy Jack to Bolivar, Tenn., from which the Herald's editor wandered into Terry county as far back as 1909.

* * *

The main thing wrong with Andy Jack is that he wanted Jack Taylor named "Andy Jack, 3rd", but he didn't have his way about it.

The best he could get was a compromise on the "Jack" part, and the Lone Wolf isn't taking it very well.

This is the truth and The Plainsman has 115 people to prove it, for that many saw him Monday night. Andy Jack is carrying a Tennessee shelalah around with him, just looking for trouble. He is actually threatening even his old friends with a knock on the noggin from a two-foot long club—the head of which is twice as big as a man's fist—which he brought to Texas with him from Bolivar nearly 30 years ago.

The situation is plumb serious.

* * *

ALL this situation bodes no good to J. W. Smith, of the Lamesa Reporter, Morley Drake, of the Lamb County Leader at Littlefield, Eee Eye Hill, of the Lynn County News at Tahoka, and the rest of the boys who weekly feel the barbs of Andy Jack's editorial pen.

The boys at Brownfield say Andy's going to be so tough this week that he's writing his stuff on two typewriters—using his left hand on one machine and his right hand on the other.

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

SYNOPSIS: Laurie and Rex Moore have decided to give up their masquerade as man and wife, innocently undertaken for innocent purpose, but now a danger to them both. Rex has left for the country to prepare to fly the Pacific; Laurie continues to work for Mark Albery. But she has given him a hint that perhaps some day she and Rex will be "divorced." And Albery has already told Laurie that he loves her.

Chapter 34
SAFE OFFER

"Laurie," said Albery, and a wave of heat came into his voice from the flame of desire that was consuming him. "You know I love you. Don't pretend! I am glad. I can't tell you how glad I am. You must break with him at once. What's the good of waiting? Let him get on with his job. I'll still be behind him, for your sake. But you mustn't work any more. You must let me look after you."

"Oh, thank you, Mr. Albery!" she faltered. "But I would much rather work. I love my work. I should hate to have nothing to do."

"You will have everything to do—what all women love to do, especially when they are loved by a man as I love you. You shall have everything in the world, all the pretty clothes and jewels you want. We will travel. You shall have a villa in the South, an apartment in Paris or Rome—where you like. Whatever you want will be my joy to give you."

She gazed at him in speechless amazement.

"Mr. Albery, are you asking me to marry you?"

He gave her a look that baffled her; it was so full of some suggestion that she could not grasp.

"My dear girl, I'm not a marrying man. But I will give you a position in which you will be honored and respected by everyone you meet."

She gave a cry and sprang from her chair. Before he could stop her she was at the door. She clung to the handle and flung swift, withering words at him, her eyes blazing.

"How dare you insult me like that? I won't stay here another minute. I'm going and I'm never coming back. I'll never set foot in this building again."

Her passion of outraged fury was exhausted. She opened the door with difficulty, white to the lips, and went out of the room, leaving Albery staring after her with uncomprehending, but baffled and cruel and merciless eyes.

* * *

But the next day, about six o'clock in the afternoon, Albery's car purred up to the little tumble-down house in Westminster where his ex-secretary lived.

It happened that the old and rheumatic landlady was standing at the front door, having just parted from a visitor.

"Is Mrs. Rex Moore at home?" Albery asked her.

Seeing a grand gentleman and a grand car, and knowing that Mrs. Moore had lately been mixed up with all sorts of people, the landlady directed him upstairs.

"Right at the top sir. You'll find Mrs. Moore. I'm afraid it's a bit of a climb."

So it was that Albery came upon Laurie, unexpectedly and unannounced, when, after knocking at the first door, he found her in her pretty simple flowery sitting room.

He saw that she had a letter in her hand, and that she had been crying. She must have been crying a great deal, for her soft blue eyes were washed out, and they looked through red rims at him with an expression of violent revolt.

"Please forgive me," he said in his smoothest voice, regarding her with eloquent eyes, filled with contrition. "Your landlady told me to come up."

Laurie stood with her back to her quaint old dormer window on the ledge of which flourished geraniums and cherry-pie. She was a figure of icy dignity, and looked extraordinarily young.

"I don't know why you should want to see me, Mr. Albery," Laurie said. "I have nothing to say."

"But I have something to say," he retorted. "And it will be worth your while to listen to me. I am very sorry about yesterday. I was clumsy and stupid, and I don't wonder I offended you. It was altogether a mistake. But now I want to talk to you about Rex Moore."

There was no disturbing note in his voice. It was almost businesslike. It was certainly deeply respectful and very friendly.

The mention of Rex Moore's name decided Laurie.

"What have you to say, Mr. Albery?" she asked coldly. "And in what way do you mean that the unpardonable things you said to me yesterday were a mistake?"

"I misjudged you. For you to understand me, I must explain that I know you are not married to Rex Moore."

Her knees gave way and she sank into a chair.

"You know—that? How?"

"A young blackmailing journalist came and told me. He had been making enquiries out in Australia, and there was no record of a marriage between you. I saw at once that he had some grudge against Moore. I bought him off, because I didn't want any gossip about Moore, but I paid him to make more enquiries. You are not married to Rex Moore, are you? Unless, of course, you have married him since he came back?"

She shook her head. She couldn't speak.

"So, you see, there was a slight excuse for me, Laurie, as you had been living with Rex Moore as his wife without being married to him—"

She gave a cry.

"What do you mean? You knew this, and you never said a word to either of us! What do you think?"

"My dear girl, what is there to think? I suppose you had been fond of each other in Australia, and when you thought he was dead, you passed yourself off as his widow. And when he came back—well, you were very glad to see him again, and carried on."

"You are all wrong!" Laurie cried, almost choking with indignation. "I will tell you the truth—not because of myself, or that I care what you think of me, but because he had nothing to do with it at all. He did not know me in Australia. I never set eyes on him until he came back from America the other day."

Mark Albery makes, tomorrow, a terrible threat.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

HERE'S SOMETHING TO REMEMBER!

Up until noon of February 10—one week ago today—the Red Cross had fed, clothed and sheltered 1,099,384 flood victims in 216 counties of 11 states and, to boot, had helped refugees, in one way or another, in 76 additional counties.

That's a great record of humanitarian service; it is "efficiency plus", considering the conditions under which Red Cross workers were forced to labor.

Since Lubbock and Slaton, with the help of county residents, joined every South Plains community and county in sending relief dollars to the Red Cross in the flood-ridden areas, we may justly say that we had a part in the work done by "the greatest mother of all" in the disaster which rocked the Ohio and Mississippi valleys.

Since we, together with hundreds of thousands of other Americans, took active interest in the predicament of flood victims, we may look with personal pride upon the record of our agency of distress, the American Red Cross.

Our dollars helped feed those wet, hungry, discouraged people. Our dollars helped care for frightened children. Our dollars helped, via the Red Cross, to eliminate, as much as humanly possible, the sorrows and the dangers of the great flood.

Makes a fellow feel pretty good, doesn't it, when he stops to thinks that he played a role in a great tragedy?

Remember that the next time the Red Cross calls for aid!

From Hollywood MOVIE SIDELIGHTS

Behind The Scenes With The Stars Of Talkietown

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 17.—Short takes: Harry Cohn, head man at Columbia, is a little near-sighted.

HAVE A HEART, WIFEY!

Here's what movie careers do to domestic felicity: An actress looked across the dinner table at her actor-husband and asked, "Jack, do you really love me?" He said, "I came home to relax. Let's not talk shop."

He walked through the property department the other day and discharged three statues for standing around doing nothing.

* * *

A man named Abe Pinkel is writing a screen play for Warners. The name of the screen play is "Three Cheers for the Irish."

* * *

He's the pain-wracked gent in the adjoining bed. He figures that during his film career he has spent at least two years reclining before the cameras.

* * *

An independent producer, Nat Levine, who probably is the busiest executive in Hollywood, has been ordered by his doctor to get more exercise. So now he's learning to walk in his sleep.

* * *

* * *

Carole Lombard's studio would not allow her to visit Clark Gable in the hospital. So she telephoned three times a day, sent red roses, and got regular bulletins on his temperature.

* * *

No Vibration

Adrienne Ames will spell her name "Adrianne" after this. A numerologist told her to do it.

Also she has decided that all's over between her and Bruce Cabot, after numerous reconciliations and separations.

A numerologist advised the split, too; said their names just wouldn't vibrate, or something, no matter how they were spelled.

* * *

If you want to know whom the Hays office considers the most dangerous woman in Hollywood, it's Jean Harlow, and not Mae West.

* * *

Instead of being flattered, Miss Harlow is privately burned up by the rigid censorship which rejects so many of her studio still-pictures. She wants to divorce herself from vamp stuff and play comedy.

* * *

Miss West, who spends most of her time reasserting the siren urge, gets away with more daring stills. However, the last Mae West movie, "Go West, Young Man," suffered more censorship cuts in dialog than any other film turned out here in two years.

* * *

Frowning At Guzzling

The Hays office chief concern these days is eliminating unnecessary drinking scenes. Numerous groups were complaining, and rightly.

It long has been a trick of lazy authors, when they couldn't think of any other action for a character on stage, to have him mix and guzzle a highball.

* * *

Charlie Chaplin tells friends that production of the Paulette Goddard picture, "Regency," certainly will begin next summer. He goes to the studio almost every day and labors on the script in his bungalow. The job is one-third completed.

* * *

Martha Raye is beginning to resent some of those stories about the size of her mouth, although like Joe E. Brown she realizes that it is her comedy trademark. Fact is, her mouth is not so large as it appears on the screen. Makeup magic does the unflattering trick.

* * *

Pals Again

Cecilia Parker and Eric Linden ran around together all summer, then quarreled about something and didn't even meet again until they were cast as sweethearts in "Accent on Love." Seemed terribly embarrassed at first, but now they're happily romancing again.

* * *

American millionaires who buy European castles and have them shipped home stone-by-stone have nothing on Producer Sol Lesser.

For a forthcoming picture he has bought an entire Swiss village and is having it dismantled, crated and sent here for reassembling.

I hear that he has a covetous eye on the Matterhorn.

Post-Election Era Of Good Will Is Torpedoed By FDR's Proposal To Enlarge Supreme Court, Is Dutcher's Idea

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17—The so-called era of good feeling which was popularly supposed to have set in after the election has been blown to what—for want of an uninvented better word—might be called smithereens.

Papa Roosevelt, according to all his pals writing for the weekly magazines, was going to be conciliatory toward the conservative business element. But he has turned a backward somersault by plopping his message, proposing to revamp the Supreme court and the rest of the federal judiciary, right down at the feet of those who thought he was anxious to kiss and make up.

Dutcher

One of the first examples of the renewed bitterness observed here came when Congressman Maury Maverick of Texas, foremost southern liberal in Congress, made a speech to the exclusive Harvard club here the day after the presidential message. Maverick, who sat next to Frederick Delano, Roosevelt's uncle, took the topic: "College Men and Their Lack of Education." The happenings of the occasion have not been previously reported.

* * *

Court Not Sacred

Maverick, himself a lawyer, said he had been in Washington two years and about all he had heard about liberty had been said by high-priced lawyers in application to liberty for corporations. He had heard practically nothing, he said, on behalf of civil liberties for individual citizens.

Maverick said he was still waiting to hear some graduate group speak up for academic liberty or freedom of speech, that lawyers had expanded in influence only as corporations had grown in size. Some lawyers, he declared, still thought their profession was very powerful, but the last presidential election had proved their power didn't amount to so much. Furthermore, said Maverick, the Supreme court wasn't sacred.

Then the chairman, a Harvard law school graduate who practices locally, arose, livid with rage.

Inasmuch as Maverick had criticized university men and suggested they were prejudiced, the chairman said, the usual period for questions to and answers from the speaker would be omitted.

* * *

Apologies All Around

Maverick stood up and said he didn't care what the club did, but if he were going to be treated with discourtesy, he wanted everyone to understand that he knew it.

The meeting then became a turmoil and the cry, "We want Maverick," was overwhelming. Maverick made speeches, others made speeches pro and con. The secretary of the club apologized. Delano and others got the chairman in a corner and made him apologize, too.

Inaugurated for his second term, Roosevelt had his choice of repeating the oath word by word after Chief Justice Hughes, or of simply saying, "I do." He chose the former.

Otherwise, he whispered later to a close friend, he might have had to feel he was making a promise to follow the oath as it was conceived in the mind of Hughes—whereas if he spoke the words himself, he would know exactly what he himself meant.

* * *

Put Back In Line

Bitterness, caused by the Roosevelt suggestion that justices over 70 years old—as six of them are—might well retire, recalls the time the justices and their wives were put back in line at a White House reception because it was decided foreign diplomats had precedence.

"All I know," said the late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes at a secret Saturday conference of the court, "is that Mrs. Holmes said she'd be damned if she'd ever go there again."

"Is that an exact quotation?" asked another justice.

"No," said Holmes, "but that's what she meant."

Great Lakes ports ran up the greatest volume of anthracite coal shipments in 1936 than at any time since 1931.

CRITICIZES CARPENTER

Dear Plainsman: After reading the assertion of Orville S. Carpenter who is now holding one of the most responsible positions in the state, appointed by Governor James V. Allred, I feel impelled to take a seat right close by Mr. Shaw, whose letter appeared in The Avalanche, and like he, express my opinion and honest convictions concerning one of the most untimely and outrageous statements made by Mr. Carpenter; that is: the one he made—not being satisfied by only making it, but giving it wide publicity.

I am sure he spoke his heart's desire when he said all those receiving old age assistance under the law of Texas should be disfranchised. Mr. Carpenter knows very well—as do all fhtelligent people of this state, that the vote on old age assistance was one among the largest votes ever cast on any proposition that the voters of this or any state were ever privileged to vote upon. Then, for Mr. Carpenter to sit down there in his office, being paid for his service by the tax payers, and stoop so low as to make such outrageous assertion should be removed from such a high position at once.

We, the voters of this state, concur at once that this does not in any manner meet the approval of our governor. There should be, and I believe will be, a flood of petitions sent in demanding the removal of Orville S. Carpenter from such responsible position. This old age assistance business has not been carried out in any manner whatsoever for the purpose for which the people cast their votes. In voting for this old age assistance—carried with it—certain prescribed rules. The rules were these:

A man would be allowed a home not to exceed in value more than $5,000. His income should not be more than $300 per annum. His bank account should not exceed $500. Every intelligent citizen of this state knows that these were the prescribed rules and now Mr. Carpenter comes along and wants them to almost sign a pauper's oath before they can receive a penny, and worst of all, wants them disfranchised—putting them beneath the plantation negro. In other words, making convicts out of them.

We all know and we can all say (except Mr. Carpenter) that these old Soldiers of the Cross (physically and spiritually) are the best citizens that this government has. It's unthinkable and almost unbelievable that any white man that even has one drop of red American blood running through his veins would ever be guilty of making such an outrageous statement as refetred to above.

W. R. Campbell;
Lubbock.

(Dear Mr. Campbell: Mr. Orville Carpenter goes out as director of old age assistance commission, which pays $5,000 per year, and becomes unemployment compensation commissioner at $7,500 per year. His appointment comes from Governor Allred. Is everybody happy? The Plainsman.)

CROSBY LIONS GET CHARTER

DISTRICT LEADER ON HAND FOR PROGRAM STAGED TUESDAY

(By Staff Correspondent)

CROSBYTON, Feb. 17—District Governor Elmer T. Elliott of district 2-T, Texas Lions, last night presented his fourth charter to a new club in this district, when the Crosbyton Lions club was officially inaugurated. The program was held in the Methodist church social rooms, following a banquet served by ladies of the church.

President H. C. Pender of the Lubbock club was master of ceremonies for the occasion. Dr. Marshall Harvey, a Lubbock song leader, led in group singing, with Miss Willette Waters at the piano. W. L. Daniel, Lubbock photographer, took several flashlight pictures.

Others Are Present

Woody Guthrie, Floydada tail twister and Ray Thompson, Plainview tail twister, served in that capacity for the occasion. There were seven Plainview Lions and two Ralls and six Floydada Lions and one Lioness present.

Musical numbers included: harmonica solo by John Cocanougher, Crosbyton; four numbers by the Floydada Lions quartet; one number by a Crosbyton quartet, composed of D. A. Edwards, Carter Chase, Odie Karr and Dr. J. L. Adams, with Fred Littlefield, pianist; whistling solos by Mrs. Jack Douglas, Lubbock.

Hal B. Grady, on behalf of the Lubbock club, presented a set of glassware to the host club, Dr. J. L. Adams receiving the gift.

Mrs. Elliott, wife of the district governor, was a guest of the Lubbock club.

Lionism Is Explained

"Lionism, its aims and objectives," was the theme of the district governor. He said the International group had a president, three vice-presidents and about 50 district governors, all serving without remuneration. "Lionism is the application of the Golden Rule to our daily business, professional and social life," he added.

The six objectives of the group, and the code of ethics were given. Lionism is now strong in the United States, Canada and Mexico and is being established in Central and South America.

Second Vice-President Hubert Curry accepted the charter on behalf of President Emzy Pieratt, ill at his home. First Vice-President Hugh Nation also was ill. Other officers were: Olen Littlefield, third vice president; R. C. McCurdy, treasurer; Joe Boles, secretary; Fred Littlefield, tail twister; Rev. R. C. Morrison, Lion tamer and H. Oldham, Dr. F. A. Green, D. A. Edwards and J. L. Young, directors.

Secretary Boles and Mr. Littlefield were announced as key members, they each having secured two members.

From Lubbock were the following: C. J. Bell, J. Y. Boyd, Hurley Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Douglas, W. H. Evans, Herman L. Fink, V. L. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Hal B. Grady, J. W. Jackson, Dr. and Mrs. Marshall Harvey, V. H. Moore, President Pender, D. L. Parker, Clarence J. Rollo, Mr. and Mrs. Noel Stalnaker, Mr. and Mrs. Huddleston Wright, George Watkins, G. R. Kennedy, Miss Waters, Furn Gunn, Maurice Chernosky.

Thirty out of every 100,000 people in the United States are killed by automobiles each year.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 17 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, unchanged to 2 lower with March liquidation and trade buying. March 12.53; May 12.36; July 12.26; Oct. 11.81; Dec. 11.78; Jan. 11.78.

Early orders were quite evenly divided accounting for narrow price changes In addition to near-month liquidation there was some hedge selling while trade price fixing furnished a fair part of the demand. Foreign orders were on both sides but there was some selling from the contingent in the forward positions.

Yesterday's decline of 13 points in the average price for middling spot cotton at the ten designated markets carried the quotation down to 12.74. This was 1 point below the basis at which loan cotton is released and attracted considerable attention. The tone ruled steady and shortly after the first half-hour a little buying was attracted by the firm opening in wheat.

May advanced from 12.36 to 12.39 and prices generally were unchanged to 2 months higher.

Liverpool cables were slightly irregular but following earlier liquidation in this market recovered partially.

More active trade buying of near month, especially for cooperatives account, caused the market to rally further late in the morning. A little outside demand was stimulated by the resistance of the minimum loan cotton released basis.

Hedging was lighter and selling orders were mostly at limit on a scale up, as the technical position has been improved following recent liquidation.

May sold up to 12.46 and at midday sold at 12.43. Prices generally were 2 to 6 points net higher.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 17 (AP) — First prices on the New Orleans cotton market were one to two points higher at the start of dealings today.

The trade entered the market in a small way and a good accumulation of over-night selling orders helped the initial dealings. Business was still in a limited volume, however, with professional traders definitely on the sidelines.

March opened at 12.46, May at 12.34, July at 12.21, Oct. at 11.79 and Dec. at 11.85. The market held around its opening levels for the first half hour.

Neither Washington advices nor reports from the cotton trade itself offered anything to change the general cotton picture. Better reports from the river were considered bearish, but occasioned no selling. Domestic mills fixed prices. Some buying in later options was reportedly for far eastern account.

The market held above the previous closing levels during the morning, but business continued to appear only in limited volume.

Foreign markets firmed up after an easier opening. Liverpool advised that an uncertain tone still prevailed pending Washington developments regarding American loan cotton and the new crop.

A few scattered rains were disclosed by the day's weather map, but the precipitation did not reach enough importance to halt plowing operations. Warmer weather over most of the belt was expected for the next few days.

Yesterday's decline in spot cotton carried the average of middling at 10 markets to 10.74 cents. This is one point under the level at which this staple will be released by the government.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 17 (AP)—An upward flurry in rails helped quicken the stock market's pulse today.

From the start buying shifted quietly from one group to another. Motor and merchandising issues kept the center of the stage at first and later were joined by steels and aircrafts.

Early afternoon found attention focused on carriers. Up fractions to around a point were New York Central, Pennsylvania, Illinois Central, Santa Fe, Baltimore & Ohio and Delaware & Hudson. Gains of about as much were turned in by Chrysler, Studebaker, Reo, Hudson, Montgomery Ward, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, United Aircraft, Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, Sears Roebuck, North American and Anaconda.

Losses running to a point or more were suffered by American Telephone, Republic Steel, General Motors, Goodrich and International Harvester.

Low priced bonds were in demand. Grains were lower, cotton steady. The pound sterling and the French franc declined.

One phase of the market which has impressed Wall Stieet, brokers said, has been the apparent reluctance of some prospective buyers to increase holdings at current levels.

HEAVY CLOUD OVER TEXAS PANHANDLE

(By The Associated Press)

The United States weather bureau reported a heavy cloud of dust was sweeping the Texas Panhandle, reducing visibility and ceiling to zero in Amarillo and Canadian.

The bureau reported the wind north 30 in strong gusts at Amarillo and west north west 50 with strong gusts at Canadian.

Bad At Borger

Borger reported a "bad" duster with visibility reduced to 200 feet. Clyde Carruth, county agent, said the crop outlook for the county was unfavorable unless moisture came immediately. He said farmers reported most of the dust blowing into the area came from the north.

Dust began sifting into Borger at daybreak and became very thick several hours later. Winds increased in strength as the day progressed. The weather bureau reported most other Texas points cleared or clearing. Gulf coast points, invaded by the flying dirt for the first time in two years were comparatively free of dust today.

Big Spring and Abilene reported visibilities of five miles. Wichita Falls had light sprinkles and no dust.

NO DAMAGE NOTED IN THIS SECTION

Carried on a 36-mile-an-hour wind, a "duster" swept across the South Plains again from the north this morning. Some sand from local fields was being stirred up.

At 10:45 o'clock the Municipal airport reported the wind velocity was 36 miles, with visibility one-half mile.

Suffers No Damage

This section, devoted to row crops, thus far has suffered no damage, said Don L. Jones, superintendent of the state experiment sub-station. No crops are growing and virtually all farmers have their fields in excellent condition. In addition, the section has good moisture from eight inches down, Jones explained.

The South Plains does most of its planting starting about May 15. Average rainfall between now and that time is sufficient to give excellent planting seasons for the top soil.

INVITATIONS ARE MAILED IN CITY

Letters of invitation went out yesterday to more than 600 retail merchants of West Texas and New Mexico announcing the 14th semi-annual Wes-Tex New-Mex Wholesale Clothing Market to be held in Lubbock four days beginning March 11 and lasting through March 14.

Millinery, ready-to-wear, men's clothing and general lines from Dallas, Kansas City, Los Angeles, San Antonio and other important market centers will have merchandise on display for retail merchants of this section.

Outstanding among the events planned for the four-day affair will be the fashion revue at 8 o'clock Friday night, Mar. 12, in the ballroom of the Hotel Lubbock.

"A surprise" has been planned for entertainment of attending retailers immediately following the fashion revue.

Letters mailed yesterday cordially invited the retail merchants to "attend and bring as many of your buyers as possible."

Preliminary plans for the affair were discussed at a meeting of directors held at chamber of commerce headquarters at 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. Further plans are to be announced later.

Their success depends on Gracie's childlike ignorance. So far as the public is concerned, she will never get any smarter, Burns said.

Burns is quite content to remain the stooge of the combination.

"I'm not funny," he said. "Folks laugh with me, not at me."

Fan letters disclose how completely the idea is that Gracie is a fool off the stage as well as on it has been entrenched.

Not That Crazy

Burns brought out a letter. It was addressed to Gracie and it went something like this:

"My friend and I were wondering how crazy you really are. He said you weren't crazy at all. I said you were. Here's a test. I need $5,000 and if you are as dumb as I think you are you will send it to me."

His wife, Burns declared, is not going to be that crazy.

White Slave Ring Claimed Discovered

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17 (AP) — Deputy Sheriff Charles Rittenhouse said today arrests made in two vice cases "indicates the existence of a well organized illicit love mart and white slave ring in Hollywood."

He made the statement as George Leroy Harmon was arraigned in municipal court of a charge of pandering and released under a $500 bond pending his preliminary hearing Feb. 26.

Rittenhouse brought to court a financial ledger and small black address book, seized at the time Harmon was arrested, which he said contained the names of patrons, some of them prominent in theatrical and movie circles.

doubt as to its wisdom.

The entrance of the organizations into the judicial controversy—first of their kind to speak formally—was followed by divergent declarations of three Democratic senators.

Views Are Divergent

McAdoo of California and Thomas of Utah urged adoption of President Roosevelt's program but Van Nuys of Indiana advised congress not to "tamper with the courts or tinker with the constitution."

The decision of labor's Non-Partisan League brought to the president's aid an organization which supported him in the 1936 election. It is headed by Major George L. Berry, Mr. Roosevelt's coordinator for industrial cooperation. John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers is vice-president.

The league said it would put all its resources into a national campaign.

Statement Authorized

The Grange spoke through its master, L. J. Taber, who explained masters of state granges had authorized the statement.

To the extent of favoring steps to eliminate delay and reduce costs in lower federal courts, he said, the Grange is in accord with the president.

He added "we doubt the wisdom of giving to any president of the United States at any time the right to change the size of the Supreme court because of the age of its members."

A dozen or more watches could have been taken had an opening in the Helber store window been completed.

What's Doing On Broadway

LYNN FONTANNE ALFRED LUNT

Deserting Broadway after their most successful run in some seasons, Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne are taking to the road with Robert Sherwood's Pulitzer prize play, "Idiot's Delight." The tour will end in June in San Francisco where the couple will try out their new play, "Amphitryon."

TAMARA

Heretofore Broadway thought of Tamara as the lady who sang "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes," in "Roberta." Now it praises her for her dramatics as the communist and labor organizer in the current "Tide Rising." The play deals melodramatically with troubles between labor and capital in a New England factory town.

BERT LAHR

Hollywood has a way of suddenly discovering Broadwayites who have been around all the time. Irving Lahrheim, better known as Bert Lahr, has had other New York successes, made several pictures, but it took his contribution to the present smash musical hit, "The Show Is On," to bring the films around with a long-term contract.

Only one more step remained in the three-way selection of beauties at Texas Technological college after 16 co-eds had been nominated Tuesday.

From the student body, 25 co-eds were chosen as candidates; then from 25, the 16 were chosen; and from the 16 the eight whose pictures will be placed in the yearbook, La Ventana, will be chosen.

Selection will be made by Billy Rose, famous New York showman, who will judge them when they walk across a motion picture screen and otherwise pose in flickers in a Gotham projection room.

Results Announced Late Tuesday

Results of the count, announced late Tuesday night by Claude Thompson, president of the student council at Tech, showed the following girls had qualified for the final selection:

Ina Bacon of Lubbock, Jewel Bishop of Wingate, Priscilla Davis of Southland, Maxine Pry of Floydada, Lillian Heard of San Angelo, Martha Jo Jenkins of Lubbock, Helen Lehmberg of Mason, Elray Lewis of Brownfield, Emily Martin of Mason, Mary Katherine Neal of Garden City, Madeline Neves of Lubbock, Mary Dee Price of Brownfield, Harriet Ann Robb of Pampa, Mary Louise Walker of Fort Worth, Anne Ruth Williams of Chillicothe, and Lella May Zorns of Meadow.

Those who made the count, other than Thompson, were Dr. W. A. Jackson, faculty sponsor; Wilmot Eaton, vice president of the student council; Miss Lehmberg, secretary-treasurer of the student council; Winburn B. McAlister, senior student in the agricultural division; Ray Stiff, senior student in the engineering division; Talbot Ledbetter, president of the senior class; Wayne Vaughn, sophomore representative of the engineering school, and Clarence Rannefeld, junior in the engineering division.

Radio Talks Will Be Given In City

Ed Merriman, field representative here from the Texas Unemployment Compensation commission, will deliver a series of 15-minute speeches relative to the state unemployment insurance laws. They are to be broadcast over radio station KFYO, the first scheduled for Thursday night.

No speech will be made Saturday night as was previously announced. Most employers will be busy Saturday night and probably would not be able to listen, so the Saturday talk was cancelled, Merriman said.

All phases of the law will be discussed in the five talks scheduled from 7:15 to 7:30 o'clock on the nights of Thursday and Friday of this week and Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

February 25 is the deadline for payment of 1936 unemployment taxes for the state without penalty.

City Gallant

When Mrs. Louise Ferris, 17, collapsed in a New York restaurant after a hitch-hike trip with her two-month-old baby from St. Petersburg, Fla., she found that New York, "just like I always heard," can be kind. Officials arranged to care for her and the baby until Mrs. Ferris finds work. She said her husband was dead, but this was denied in reports from St. Petersburg.

AID TO RELIEF OF PSORIASIS SYMPTOMS

The itching and irritation of psoriasis is readily relieved by Resinol Ointment, an old formula containing ingredients well known to physicians for their effectiveness.

To get best results, wash off the scales with a pure, mild soap. Resinol Soap is gently medicated and free from excess alkali. Use it with warm water, then rinse and pat dry.

Spread Resinol Ointment evenly over the surface, letting it remain for several hours during the day and overnight. Note how quickly its oily base enables the Resinol medication to soothe the angry skin.

Even when the rash begins to fade, do not stop using Resinol too soon. The eruptions of psoriasis have a tendency to recur. For this reason it is advisable to continue Resinol applications to soothe the irritation, as long as any trace of it remains.

Get Resinol Ointment and Soap at any drug store. Sample free. Write Resinol, Dept. 19, Balto., Md.

SCIENCE PLANS METHOD TO SHAKE A FOG OUT OF AIRPORTS BY WHISTLING

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 17—The possibility that science can develop a hissing sound tremendous enough to shake the fog out of airports was presented to the annual meeting of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical engineers here Monday.

The fog idea is a development of the whistle made to clean smoke out of chimneys, which was announced by the U. S. bureau of mines at Washington last Saturday night.

Work In Fog

"The same thing," said Dr. R. S. Dean, of the bureau of mines, "would work in fog over an airport, provided anyone knew how to produce sufficient intensity of sound.

"At present no such intensity can be made by any means we know of, but I would not say it will be impossible to do this in the future."

The noise, he explained, would not be unpleasant. It would be so high pitched that probably most persons could not hear it at all. Its effect would be to shake the fog into rain.

Inside a chimney the whistle works well, because the sound is intensified sufficiently there by the echoes, or more strictly, the resonances. The new chimney device was explained to the engineers by H. W. St. Clair of the bureau of mines.

It was developed for smelters, to recover gold, silver, copper, zinc, lead and arsenic going up the chimney as smoke. It should work, St. Clair said, in any chimney, and probably would be inexpensive.

"BLACK-DRAUGHT IS PURELY VEGETABLE" —What Does That Mean?

A great many things can cause constipation and there are many remedies to relieve it, but possibly none more popular than the "vegetable" laxatives.

Among these, Black-Draught is outstanding. In its manufacture, leaves of a certain plant are used, and the roots of certain others. These are dried so they will keep without preservatives . . . no other chemical change from the way they grew in "Mother Nature's medicine garden." By their being finely ground, the digestive system extracts the active medicine right where it is needed. Constipation is relieved.

Black-Draught is so economical that a 25-cent package averages upwards of 25 doses.—Adv.

SAFETY----OR THIS?

DEATH, in the guise of heavily loaded motor trucks, rides the highways of Texas every day and every night. The toll of human death and injury of these vehicles is appalling.

In the five-year period, 1932 to 1936, inclusive, trucks in Texas have participated in 8,416 highway accidents in which 2,195 persons were killed and 11,962 injured. In 1936 alone, their record stood 2,208 accidents with 3,323 persons injured and 576 killed. These actual records of people killed, as shown by Texas newspapers, compared with the number of deaths resulting from all motor vehicle accidents, as given by the Bureau of Vital Statistics in Austin, show that the average Texas truck participates in twice as many fatal accidents as the average passenger car.

Likewise, as might be reasonably expected from their greater weight and size, and as shown by the records of the Texas Railroad Commission, the Carrier-for-Hire truck accidents, during 1936, have resulted, vehicle for vehicle, in three times the number of fatalities as for the average passenger car.

Increased liability to highway accident forms an inseparable result of BIG truck operation. But even now, the threat of greater highway hazards hangs over the people of Texas. Newspapers report that operators of BIG trucks have organized for the purpose of securing an increase in weight and speed limits, already too large. These are the elements, weight and speed, which, in highway accidents, spell "D-E-A-T-H."

The right to grant, condition or deny the use of the highways for profit, belongs to you, the people of Texas, notwithstanding the attempts of the operators of BIG trucks to take it away and give it to the federal government instead. Your present laws, limiting the size, weight and speed of trucks, were enacted by reason of your insistence, and by your insistence they have remained on the statute books. Their amendment would serve the sole purpose of increasing the profits of operators of the BIG trucks, with the certain results of also increasing the mounting injuries, deaths and property losses now taking place on your highways.

Public welfare and public safety demand that existing highway regulations shall be retained and enforced.
