Red Cross Brings Blood for Korea Drive to County Soon

Collingsworth countians will have the chance to give blood for the wounded in Korean fighting when the Red Cross Bloodmobile visits Wellington in early August.

Initial plans for the campaign were made Wednesday night, July 2, when L. R. Burnett of Amarillo, general field representative of the American Red Cross, explained the program to a group representing various civic organizations of Wellington.

Exact date for the Bloodmobile visit here will be announced within a few days.

The drive is sponsored here jointly by the Civil Air Patrol and the Chamber of Commerce. It is under the jurisdiction of the Collingsworth County Chapter of the Red Cross, and has the approval of the county medical society and health officials.

The overall chairman is County Judge R. L. Templeton, who is also county defense co-ordinator. Miss Priscilla Chase, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is recruitment chairman. She has named to help Cameron Beam to be chairman of the business section; Mrs. Cal Sugg the Wellington residential section; T. E. Lennon, Dodson; Herman Moseley, Quail; and Orville Cunningham, Samnorwood.

Mrs. Bill Hughes and Dr. Darlene Hunter are co-chairmen of the Volunteer Service committee.

The chairmen of the various areas will name their committee members and within a few days they will begin contacting people of the county to determine who is willing to give blood to the campaign. An attempt will be made to contact every person in the county.

It will be necessary to secure the names of 300 persons, each willing to give a pint of blood to the Red Cross blood-mobile before the unit can be brought here, Mr. Burnett explained.

Trained technicians accompany the bloodmobile here and will be in charge of taking the blood. Volunteer assistants, clerical workers, and hostesses will help with the work.

All blood taken by the bloodmobile will be sent to the Armour Company plant at Fort Worth where it will be processed into blood plasma. This is because whole blood can be kept for only three weeks, while blood plasma is good for several years, Mr. Burnett explained. Plasma is also used in treating battlefield casualties because it can be given by medical corpsmen on the field, as well as in hospitals, without the complicated matching of blood types needed when whole blood is used.

From the point of processing, the Red Cross turns the blood over to the Defense Department, and has no more control over it.

Persons from 21 to 59 years of age, weighing at least 110 pounds will be accepted as blood donors. Those from 18 to 21 will be accepted with their parents consent.

"Giving our blood to save the lives of men fighting for us in Korea is the least that we can do—it's not the responsibility of any one group, it's the responsibility of everyone in the community. This is the first time we've had the opportunity to give our blood for battlefield use. We cannot urge too strongly that you join this program," Judge Templeton said.

Wheat Loan Rate For County Raised 3 Cents

The county PMA office has been officially notified that the 1952 final wheat price support rate established for Collingsworth County will be 3 cents per bushel higher than the interim rate previously announced. This will make our county rate $2.19 per bushel and the terminal market rate at Houston and Galveston, Texas, is $2.63 per bushel, according to Millard Brown, PMA secretary.

Producers who have already executed loans on their 1952 wheat can apply for the additional 3 cents if they so desire by executing a corrected note and loan agreement. However, if they do not care to draw the additional 3 cents at this time it will be paid to them by CCC at maturity, provided the wheat or warehouse receipts are delivered to CCC in satisfaction of the loan.

All loans made in the future on the 1952 wheat crop will carry the increased rates. Loans on wheat stored in an approved warehouse between June 10 to July 9, will net the producer approximately $2.05 1-2 per bushel for No. 1 wheat. If stored after July 9, the storage deduction will be 1 cent per bushel less for each succeeding month thereafter until November, at which time the storage rate changes to 1 cent for each 20 days. Farm stored wheat will now net the producer $2.18 per bushel for No. 1 wheat.

R. McClaskey at Wellington State

Richard McClaskey, who reached home Sunday, June 29, after receiving his release from the Air Force, began work Tuesday, July 8, as bookkeeper at the Wellington State Bank, A. D. Jenkins, vice president, announced.

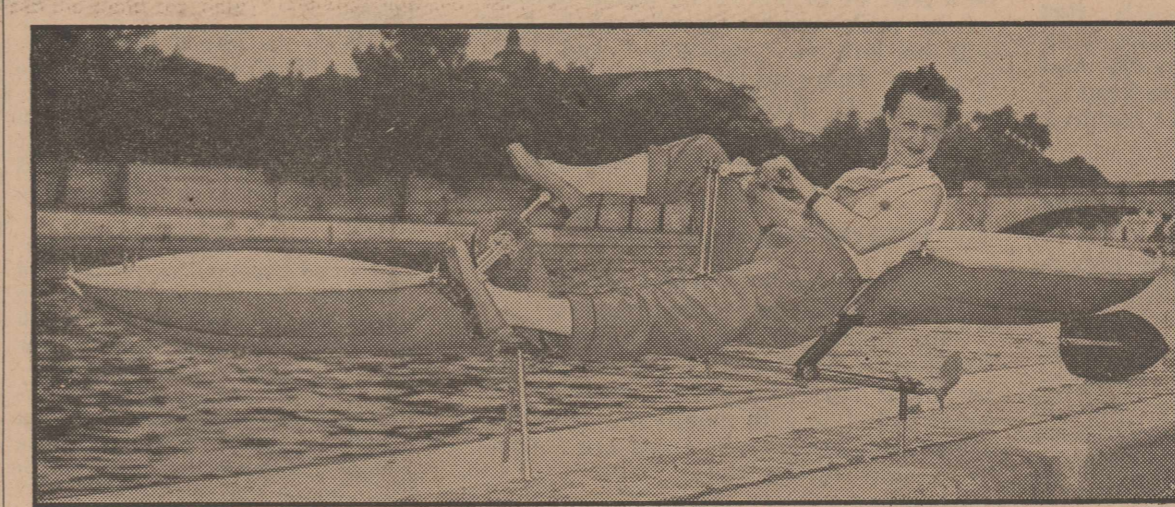

"While Mr. McClaskey has had no banking experience, he has a good background for his work, and we believe he will do excellent work," Mr. Jenkins said.

McClaskey is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McClaskey. He had served in the Air Force four years, and held the rating of staff sergeant at the time of his discharge. He had been stationed at Shaftsbury, near Bourne, England, for the last 15 months.

He was assigned to the finance section of his unit, after completing training at the finance school at Lowry Field, Denver, Colo.

McClaskey graduated from Wellington high school before entering service, at the age of 17.

Collingsworth Bank Deposits Top Six Million Again for Mid-Year

WATER WHEELER—Out of the water for the moment is this collapsible aqua-bicycle on display at the annual inventor's fair in Paris. The 25-pound bike, which folds into a three-foot-long suitcase, is supported in the water by two plastic floats. Oil bath bearings facilitate propeller operation and prevent rusting.

Deposits of the county's four banks stand above the six million dollar mark, as of the close of business June 30, and not far below the all-time seasonal high for Collingsworth. This year's figure, $6,004,543.02, is second only to that of June 30, 1950, when deposits were $6,394,614. They are around a quarter of a million dollars above the deposits a year ago.

This is generally considered the low season of the year as far as bank deposits are concerned.

The deposit figures were revealed in reports of banks to the Comptroller of Currency, Federal Reserve Bank and State Banking Commissioner.

Combined assets likewise are at a second high mark. They stand at $6,605,766.93, more than a million dollars above the 1951 figure of $5,417,977, and not far below the 1950 high of $6,979,513.

Of the deposit figure this year, $5,629,830.77 is in demand deposits and the remainder in time deposits and the deposits of government and political subdivisions.

Loans and discounts this year are under that figure last year, now standing at $2,720,612.73. A year ago loans accounted for $2,970,803. Two years ago they were up to $3,440,246.

Undivided profits now stand at $449,860.02, compared to $135,376.75 last year.

As a review of the county's financial progress over the last 14 years, the following deposit figures are given:

- 1939 — just over the million dollar mark.
- 1940 — $1,086,106.
- 1941 — $1,354,970.
- 1942 — approximately a million and a half dollars.
- 1943 — approximately two and a half million dollars.
- 1944 — $3,115,293.
- 1945 — $4,315,801.
- 1946 — $4,693,971.
- 1947 — $5,621,119.
- 1948 — $5,654,591.
- 1949 — $5,123,228.

Bunenberg Brings Candidacy Here

Judge Harry Bunenberg of Vernon was in Wellington Monday contacting friends, and meeting business people in connection with his candidacy for associate justice of the Court of Civil Appeals.

This is Judge Bunenberg's second visit here since he entered the race for this office.

School Transfers Due in July

The month of July is the month for transferring children from one school district to another, with August 1 as the deadline. B. W. Beard, county school superintendent, has announced.

Any patron intending to transfer his children should come to the county superintendent's office and make the transfer before the final date, he said.

C.C. to Publish Information

Interested Industry Hears About Wellington

A battery manufacturer, which recently requested information concerning Wellington as one of the points to be considered for a repair plant, has received a comprehensive report and pictorial folder of the town, Clark Anderson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, revealed this week.

The work was done by the C-C for the Robinson Company, manufacturer of a self re-charging battery. J. B. Stevenson, a member of the industrial committee, spearheaded the project.

"Understand, this doesn't mean that Wellington is going to get an industrial plant. It does mean that we are being considered, and these people were interested enough in the town to want more information about it," Mr. Anderson emphasized.

The information prepared for the company, which has headquarters in Nebraska, is the most comprehensive assembled to date on Wellington, and plans are now under way to issue this in permanent form.

Picture's of Wellington's public buildings and many of its business buildings were assembled, along with those of the airport facilities, and other points that would be of interest to a firm wishing to locate here.

Information in the brochure included such items as tax rates and valuations, and comparisons with other area towns; the bonded indebtedness of the city, school district and county, availability of unskilled labor, availability of power, the water supply and costs, the housing situation, plant site locations, the school systems, churches, medical and hospital facilities, recreational and entertainment facilities, lodges, fraternal orders and civic clubs, and fire insurance information.

Chamber of commerce members assisting in the report were M. Stevenson, Mr. Anderson, Priscilla Chase, Chamber of Commerce secretary, Ansel Moore, Charles Allen, James Sullivan, Wellington Leader, H. L. van, Sam Gholson, Handley.

Heavy Rain on Buck Creek

Sand Damages Cotton in Spotted Areas Over County on Monday

Rain and sand told the county's weather story Monday, and reports of crop damage by sand came in from points throughout the Wellington trade area.

A heavy rain fell along Buck Creek Monday afternoon, measuring up to three inches in the vicinity of the Cliff Campbell and Frank Campbell ranches. It fell over an area about five miles in width and extended eastward along Buck Creek toward Oklahoma.

L. C. Hill reported several terraces broken on prepared wheat land in the Arlie community.

The remainder of the moisture fell Monday night, and in most areas amounted to only a cotton shower. Wellington recorded one-tenth of an inch and Dodson four tenths.

Loss of young cotton to blowing sand, and damage of older cotton, was spotted over the county, with most of the damage in the Quail area.

Arthur Robinson lost 60 acres of young cotton at Quail, believed to be the heaviest loss in that immediate area, although S. W. Fielding reported about 15 acres completely blown out and a simi-

Changes in School Faculty Are Listed

Charles Roberts, superintendent of the Wellington schools, announced one resignation and one appointment in the faculty of the schools.

Mrs. Maxey McKnight who taught second grade resigned and is being replaced by Mrs. Rudolph Burquist who taught at Loco last year.

Miss Fredda McNeely of Petrolia, who graduated from North Texas State College at Denton is to replace Mrs. Charles Little in Commercial Arts in High School.

Mrs. John Glasscock who also taught at Loco last year is going to teach mathematics in the seventh and eighth grades.

This leaves four places to be filled in the Wellington school system. Two teachers must be replaced at Loco to teach the first grade to the seventh and there is a vacancy in the Homemaking department in High School and the English department of the Junior High School.

EXPLORER SCOUTS WILL PLAY CLARENDON TEAM THURSDAY

The Wellington Explorer Scouts baseball team will meet a junior team from Clarendon on Marian Airpark Diamond Thursday night, July 10, at 9:00 p.m., Judge R. L. Templeton, Scoutmaster, has announced.

All boys wishing to play are asked to be on hand at that time. The Explorers worked out for the first time Sunday afternoon, taking on a team of men, including two former Dukes of Wellington players, and beat them soundly 17 to 2.

The controlled pitching of Dugie Jameson helped account for this outcome, and he will probably be on the mound during at least part of the game against Clarendon, Judge Templeton said. Frank

Jones and Phil Handley are also due to take turns in that spot.

The Clarendon juniors are managed by W. R. Brown, and come here with a reputation as a fast tricky team.

Paul Spillman is managing the Wellington team, which includes several boys not members of the Explorer troop.

Due to see action in this game are James Glasscock, Don Sessions, Jones, Jameson, Handley, Jimmy McCutchen, Doolen Starkey, Jimmy Leggett, Lynn Couch, Bill Hall, Bill Wheeler, Winfred Bickerstaff, probably several others, Judge Templeton said.

A small admission will be charged.

EDITORIAL COMMENT — THE WELLINGTON LEADER

Thursday, June 27, 1952

Wellington Will Play Host

Just a month from now, Wellington will be host to several hundred of its high school graduates, extending back over nearly four and a half decades.

Last year Wellington hospitality made the first of these annual reunions a success that actually was beyond the hopes of the planners.

It was an eye-opener to everyone—to Wellington to see the success that so many of its boys and girls have made in business and the professions or in their own individual lives. The town was proud of these men and women.

They were proud of Wellington, too. Those who had been away fifteen or 20 years, with only infrequent visits, found surprising progress and growth has taken place. They found it more than the Wellington of their memory, and several said frankly it was the kind of town they'd like to raise their children in.

This year's reunion will draw probably a larger crowd of graduates than did the first one. Plans are being made to give plenty of time to that one important thing of any reunion—visiting and renewing friendships.

There will be the added attraction for those who prefer it to dance to probably the most famous dance band in America, Harry James and his Orchestra. Would any other town of 4,000 be likely to offer its graduates that sort of entertainment?

That the Alumni reunion date has been moved away from that of the Old Settlers Reunion, will detract from neither. The two organizations and their reunions served two purposes. The latter is for those who helped with the formation and early growth of the county, and there is a fraternity of the of its nature precludes those who are pioneers of any area which by reason not a part of this history-in-the-making. Last year few of those who came for the school reunion took part in the pioneers event.

Meanwhile, those who are in charge of this year's Alumni reunion will need the help and co-operation of the entire town. They are counting on it. After all, this is one of the nicest things that happens here during the entire year.

Greta Garbo Would Like These

The Commerce Department reported there were only twenty-four days left in the year which were not designated days. All the weeks and months have been taken and in many cases taken twice. The Department suggested that the days not designated for any sort of national observance be called "un-days."

There are so many commemorations and designations of days and weeks this year that nobody will be left alone. The Department's calendar listed 147 weeks and twenty-two months as special commemorative weeks or months in 1952. Since there are only fifty-two weeks (twelve months) in the year, the overlapping is extensive.

The editor suggests, in addition to the twenty-four "un-days" left, that there be a sort of armistice in which several weeks and several months each year will be left as "un-weeks" and "un-months." There might even be a national "Leave Us Alone Month," though it is doubtful if anyone would leave us alone. — The Farmville (Va.) Herald

Be Courteous and Live!

A Motor Vehicle Courtesy Safety program for Andalusia is in prospect.

The movement received impetus on Wednesday when Sgt. W. A. Norris, of the State Highway Patrol, explained to some 150 civic club members, attending a joint luncheon, what steps are needed to inaugurate the idea.

Germ of the scheme is to hand out citations to vehicle drivers for Acts of Courtesy. The State Highway Patrol is convinced that courtesy on the streets and highways can reduce accidents and tragedies.

In eloquent tones, Sgt. Norris told the Wednesday luncheon that one or more among his listeners would die the victim of an automobile mishap.

The patrolman urged an prize award program, on an annual basis, to boom the courtesy driving idea. It is a scheme that has captured the public fancy in other Alabama cities, notably our neighboring Dothan in recent weeks.

Theme of the Norris oratory was that road accidents don't "just happen." They are caused, the patrolman said, by many things, but fundamentally because too few people make safe and considerate driving a full-time job.

The motto "Be Safe — Be Sure — Be Courteous" is one the driving public can well memorize. Better still, it is a slogan that needs to be put to work. — The Andalusia (Ala.) Star-News.

Buck Creek Philosopher

Editor's note: The Buck Creek Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm may have hit on a popular idea, but we doubt if he gets anywhere with it.

Dear editor:

I read in yesterday's paper which my wife had lined the pantry shelf with where Congress, not wantin to come out and vote itself a raise but still wantin one, had figured out a method which accomplished the same ends, and while the idea is carried in the House, the Senate voted it down.

I regret that the Senate is not as far-sighted as the House, and I wish you would use your influence if you haven't misplaced it and get the bill re-introduced, not only for Congressmen but for everybody.

Here's the way it would work: it would allow Congressmen to count their livin expenses in Washington as legitimate deductions on their income tax. Whatever it cost to live, the whole amount could be counted as a business expense and deducted.

Now this is what I call the most advanced thinkin I've encountered in years. The income tax ain't too high, we just can't deduct enough items before we start figurin how much we owe, but if the government would let me count everything it takes to live out here as a business expense, it wouldn't make much difference to me how high the income tax went.

Accordin to the Congressmen favorin this bill, livin in Washington certainly ought to be deductible expense, and they're right, the same as livin out here ought to be. Just because a man has an income of so much a month ain't no sign he's able to pay any income tax on it. The more money you make, the more it takes to live, I've seen it happen over and over, and the man makin the most frequently is the one shortest in cash.

Under this new proposal, though, whatever it takes to live on comes first, and what's left over is subject to an income tax. It's one of the most beautiful ideas I've seen in years, and is just the thing to meet inflation with.

This might not bring in much income tax, but I guarantee it would make business boom. Let's get it passed.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

"That Backbone of Yours"

Excerpting from an article by George Matthew Adams under the title, 'That Backbone of Yours,' in a recent issue of the Toledo, Ohio Blade, we find: "The backbone is undoubtedly the most wonderful human highway, in all this world! It holds up the man, culminating its most important office by helping him to keep his read on straight."

"Break this great bony structure and it often is fatal. Even a bad injury is most serious. But what a noble piece of architecture it is in health. It is tragic that some men abuse it as they do, and women as well. Keep it upstanding and half the battle of life is won in advance. Upon it is perched the noblest creation of the great Creator man's head, within which destinies of nations often are pivoted. And here are centered all the mighty elements of the mind."

"Study the structure of this remarkable example of engineering on the part of the Creator. Note how each section of its entire length has an office to perform. Nerves, fibrous tissue, and bony structure, as well as its canal of precious fluid have an effect upon the entire body that is little realized. But just let any part of its make-up get out of order and it is noticed plenty."

What a gift you have in that backbone of yours. Keep it well in order. You can never get another."

If you want bigger payloads, you want a Dodge

"We solved our hauling problems with Dodge 'Job-Rated' trucks"

"Our business calls for trucks that can haul big loads day in and day out—and we like our trucks to last, too! That's why we prefer Dodge trucks that are 'Job-Rated' to fit our particular hauling job.

"We recently put in service two Dodge 'Job-Rated' 1 1/2-ton models . . . and they sure haul big loads the way we want them to! For instance, the 170-inch wheelbase models allow for a 14-foot body, which is ideal for our business. And Dodge easy-handling advantages enable us to maneuver these trucks in the same space as some other trucks with 12-foot bodies."

... says
BERNARD J. CARNEY, Manager
Weyerhaeuser & Denkmann
Lumber Yard,
Rock Island Lumber Co.
Rock Island, Ill.

- For bigger payloads, choose a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck—1/2 through 4-ton.
- "Job-Rated" engineering makes it possible for you to haul more with the right Dodge truck for your needs.
- You haul more economically, too, because of such Dodge advantages as lightweight aluminum alloy pistons and others.
- For smoother power, extra load protection, gyroil Fluid Drive is available on 1/2-, 3/4-, 1-ton and Route-Van models.
- Come in for a demonstration—and an extra good deal!

Better weight distribution. Dodge short wheelbase allows more weight to be carried on the front axle. Because the engine is located farther forward and front axle is moved back, you can haul bigger loads without overloading.

The right load-carrying units. Frame, axles, and other units that carry the load are "Job-Rated" on Dodge. Each is engineered to provide strength and capacity needed to support your load. All are "Job-Rated" to work together!

The right load-moving units. You get an engine that's "Job-Rated" with plenty of power to pull bigger loads at low cost. In fact, all load-moving units—such as clutch, transmission, rear axle—are engineered to move bigger loads.

Need Fifth Freedom—Freedom of Initiative U. S. HAS COMPROMISED TOO FAR, JULY 4 SPEAKER WARNS

"The United States has gone too far in compromising with other ideologies. We need to stand firm on the rights, privileges and principles that our fathers stood for, fought for and, yes, died for," Ed Keefe, public relations director for Oklahoma College for Women, Chickasha, and district governor of Kiwanis International, told a group attending a Fourth of July program at the First Baptist Church.

regretting having made several concessions. Instead of a man being endowed by God with certain rights, the Russians want him endowed only by the state, the speaker pointed out. Warning again of compromise, he declared "We need to be careful of what we are compromising with." "A bill is before Congress making it a violation of law to criticize the state department," said Mr. Keefe. A few minutes later he added, "An elephant in a zoo is guaranteed freedom, but we need a fifth freedom — the freedom of initiative."

Remember the Jazz Age "HAS ANYBODY SEEN MY GAL" DEPICTS COLORFUL PERIOD

The Ritz Theatre found just the right blend of laughs and heart throbs in Universal-International's Technicolor "Has Anybody Seen My Gal," starring Piper Laurie, Rock Hudson, Charles Coburn and Gigi Perreau. The picture opens Sunday and will show through Monday and Tuesday.

Those who remembered life in the Turbulent Twenties felt nostalgic twinges, too, because this appealing comedy-drama has its setting in 1928, at the height of the raucous, rollicking rebellious decade marked by knee-length skirts, rolled-down stockings, raccoon coats and raids on speak-easies.

The delightful story is further enhanced by popular song numbers of the 1928 era which include "Five Foot Two, Eyes of Blue," "When the Red, Red Robin Comes Bob, Bob, Bobbin' Along," "Gimme a Little Kiss, Will Ya, Huh?" "It Ain't Gonna Rain No More" and "Tiger Rag."

Sudden wealth descending on a startled small town family, and the demoralizing effect of the unexpected windfall provide the theme for the heartwarming comedy directed with understanding by Douglas Sirk for Producer Ted Richmond.

Those who have wondered what they would do if suddenly gifted with much wealth should see what happens in the family of Millicent Blaisdell when the rich and eccentric Samuel Fulton, played to the hilt by Charles Coburn, drops $100,000 in their laps anonymously. The family ascends to the stratosphere socially, ignoring real values, and then, when the vagaries of the stock market burst their bubble, they descend to terra firma with a thud that restores their senses and provides a happy climax.

Piper Laurie is at her winsome best in the Millicent role; Coburn has his best opportunity of a decade as the eccentric millionaire and popular young Rock Hudson, seen as Piper's poor-but-honest boy friend, has his best chance on the screen to date. Gigi Perreau, cast as Piper's younger sister, makes the most of a strong part. Lynn Bari and William Reynolds head the strong supporting cast. Dance numbers are cleverly presented by Harold Belfer and Joseph Gershenson receives music credit.

Quail Revival Closes Thursday

Revival services, conducted by the Rev. L. D. Cleveland, pastor, closed at the Quail Methodist Church Thursday night, July 3. "Both morning and evening services were well attended," commented Rev. Cleveland.

The Quail Methodist Church was put on the Wellington Circuit June 1, which was the beginning of the conference year for the 5th Sunday only. Such great interest was taken that the pastor and church has decided on a preaching service every second Sunday of each month at 5:30 p.m. It is believed that this will hold the people together until enough Methodist families move into the community to make it necessary for the church to have a regular schedule.

The next service will be Sunday, July 13th at 5:30 p.m. "Every one is cordially invited to attend these services and also our morning and evening services on the 5th Sunday," Rev. Cleveland said.

One of the Nicest Things

in my life has been the encouragement given me in my race for commissioner of precinct one by my friends with whom I have come in contact during the past ten weeks. It is with a certain pride and yet with a feeling of deep humility that I give my appreciation for these tokens of sincerity on your part.

We have been very busy in the shop and it may not be possible to see you all, so I am taking this method of asking your careful consideration in the coming election and if you see fit to elect me you will find me trying hard to give you an administration of your county's affairs of which you may be proud.

Thinking you again for your past favors and for any you may see fit to give in the future.

Tom and Tiny Bryant Buy King Courts

Sale of the King Courts to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bryant was announced this week by Mr. and Mrs. John King, who built the courts in 1950 and have operated them since.

The new owners took over operation Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryant have had long experience in serving the public. For approximately 20 years, they owned and operated the Pullman Cafe, and more recently the Gordon's Old Fashioned Freeze. They have also owned courts in other towns.

"There will be no change in the policy under which John and Viola King operated the courts, which has been so successful since they were built. Neither will there be a change in the name. We feel the King Courts renders a real service, not only to the traveling public, but to the people of Wellington, and we will continue to give you the same superior type of court operation," Mr. Bryant said.

The courts, among the most modern in West Texas even for towns much larger than Wellington, are of concrete block construction, built around a large courtyard. So popular did they become as soon as they were opened, that enlargement was necessary, and the remodeled and enlarged courts were opened in December.

"We want to say 'Thank you' to all the people of Wellington who have given us such fine co-operation. It was really you who built the courts and who are responsible for their success," Mr. and Mrs. King said.

"You have sent us patrons to an extent that was beyond what we hoped for. We are certainly grateful."

Mr. and Mrs. King have continued to be associated with the H&H Furniture during the time they were operating the King Courts. They have lived here for several years, coming from Cooper. Mr. and Mrs. King have not announced their future plans.

Introducing Toots Breedlove and His Plumbing Shop

Plumbing service that promises "anything, anywhere, anytime" is offered by Breedlove Plumbing, at 1400 15th Street, owned by Toots Breedlove. This is truly a home-grown business, for Mr. Breedlove was born here, and this has been his home ever since, except for a few years during the war, and even then he still called Wellington home.

Virgil "Toots" Breedlove was born here April 17, 1918, and received his education in the Wellington schools. He got his first plumbing experience during the worst of the depression, working for Bill McClaskey and Jess Cook, then partners. He recalls that his first salary was 10 cents an hour for 10 hours a day.

"Top wages," he joked recently, thinking about the 75 cents per hour minimum, eight hour day now prevailing.

In 1939, Breedlove went into business for himself, and operated his shop here until 1941, when he went to Corpus Christi to work at the Naval Air Station then being installed. In 1944, he enlisted in the United States Army and served until the spring of 1946. Twenty-seven months of this time was spent overseas, in the Pacific theatre. Breedlove served in the engineers, and saw considerable front-line action.

He got back to Wellington April 30, 1946, and again went into business for himself.

He added supplies to his service department—selling bath room plumbing equipment.

Among the lines he now carries are Elger and Kohler bath room fixtures—two of the outstanding brands now on the market. With these, he has Mission and Rheem hot water heaters. He maintains a good supply of these at all times.

Breedlove is proud of his work as a plumber here, and of the following of customers who have come back to him from year to year for their repair work. Since returning from the service, he has done plumbing work in a number of the finer homes built in Wellington.

"Repair jobs—the little jobs, are important too. There has added more to our comfort and to our pleasure in our homes than has modern plumbing. It's our job to install it for you, then keep it in first class condition," he commented.

Breedlove was married to Miss Merle Bounds on June 9, 1940, and they have one son, Mickie, eleven years old.

Breedlove is a member of the Kiwanis Club, the Masonic Lodge and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He is active in all three groups.

He likes sports and is a strong backer of the Wellington Skyrockets.

Working with Breedlove as his assistant is Howard Fike, who is also experienced in plumbing and knows the needs of Wellington homes.

He was one of four boys from Area 1, which includes most of the Panhandle, to pass the qualifications set up in the state office, and his application is now in the national office, according to Frank Kennedy, vocational agriculture instructor at Quail. Final word is not expected until early August.

Aaron, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Emmert, completed three years of vocational agriculture work at Quail and received the Lone Star Farmer degree, highest offered by the state set-up. He was graduated from Quail high school in 1951, and has continued his Future Farmer work during the past year.

Lone Star Farmers Speak

QUAIL BOYS TELL OF WORK GOING INTO WINNING TOP FFA DEGREE

(This is the first in a series of articles in which county Future Farmers who this year are winning the Lone Star Farmer Degree tell of their work that has led up to their receiving the state honor. The boys will receive their degrees at the state Future Farmer convention in Dallas July 16 through 18. Presented this week are Wallace Blasingame and Alvin Homer of Quail.)

My Project Program 1949-52

By Wallace Blasingame
My first year in the F.F.A. was in 1949. For my project I purchased one Duroc gilt. This gilt farrowed very well and I made a total profit of $78.60.

I was a member of the Jr. Chapter conducting team and served as president of this team. I was also a member of the Jr. Quiz team. Both of these teams placed fifth in the District Contests.

My second year I carried as projects 8 sows for pig production, 5 barrows for meat production and 10 acres of cotton for lint and seed production. From these projects I made $791.54.

During my second year I was runner up for chapter president and was elected District Secretary. I was a voting delegate from our chapter to vote on Area and State officer nominees. I lettered Baseball and Track teams.

My third year I had as my projects 8 barrows for meat production, one heifer for calf production, 10 acres of cotton for lint and seed production and 10 acres of maize for grain production. They made only $32.45 due to the drop in hog prices.

I was a member of the Sr. Farm Demonstration team that placed first in the district contest. I was also on the Sr. Quiz team that placed first in the district contest. The Sr. Chapter Conducting of which I was a member placed fifth. I served as secretary of this team. The Sr. Quiz team placed first in the Area contest which was held at Plainview. We went to the State contest which was held at Huntsville and placed fourth out of ten teams. We placed behind third by only 2 points. I would have participated in the Area Sr. Farm Demonstration but I was allowed to enter only one contest at Area. I was on the first place Poultry Judging team in the district and we also placed fourth in Area Poultry Judging contest. I placed first in the District Public Speaking and fourth in Area. The American Farm Bureau Federation awarded me with a medal for being the outstanding member of our local chapter. I was also honored by being elected local chapter secretary, F.H.A. Bureau, and best all around boy of Quail High School. I lettered in Basketball and was elected to 3 all tournament teams and I am also member of the baseball team.

I was speaker at our Father and Son Banquet and have attended the District Banquet twice. I have also attended the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo for three years. I'm a junior in high school.

My F.F.A. Activities

By ALVIN HOMER

In 1949-50 I began my first year in agriculture. My projects included 1 registered Chester White gilt, 1 Hampshire sow and 2 gilts, 10 acres of cotton, and 10 acres of maize.

That year I entered the local project show and won 2nd on my registered gilt, 2nd on my Hampshire sow, and 4th on one of my gilts. I received for these placings a total of 5.00. Next, I entered the Collingsworth County project Show. I won 2nd on my registered gilt and 4th on one of my gilts in the Hampshire division. I received 2.00 for entering and $15.00 for the placings.

My trips included a trip to the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo with the F.F.A. Boys and the F.H.A. girls, the F.F.A. encampment at Craterville Oklahoma, and trips on the various contests.

My contests included the Jr. Quiz and the Jr. Chapter Conducting. We won 4th on the Quiz and 6th on the conducting.

I was the treasurer in the Jr. Chapter. I played basketball tournament on the freshman team.

In my second year of Agriculture (1950-51) my projects included 2 registered Chester White gilts and 20 acres of cotton.

I entered the local project show and won 2nd on one of the gilts, receiving $3.00. I entered the county show and received a trip to Oklahoma City Livestock Yards with most of my expenses paid. While I was there, I visited the AUSTERITY SMASHER—The British may have an austerity program, but they also have pretty 18-year-old Joan Collins to grace their cinema screens. Joan, shown above in a London studio, has her first big role in the film, "I Believe in You."

Swift's Packing Plant and Wilson's Packing Plant.

I moved to Amarillo that year and went to Pampa to the Top-O-Texas Livestock show. After about a month I moved to Wellington but I started going to school at Quail again. I went on the encampment at Craterville, Oklahoma, again.

My 3rd year in Agriculture and the F.F.A. was my most successful year in the way of contests. This was in 1951-52.

My projects included 2 registered Chester White gilts. I was planning to have 3 acres of cotton but I moved to town and didn't get to rent a place.

At the first of the year I went to Fort Worth with 3 other F.F.A. boys and Ag. Instructor and advisor. We visited Fort Worth Livestock show and our advisor showed us how to judge livestock.

When we came back from Fort Worth we entered the Top-O-Texas livestock judging contest. I made the team with 2 other boys and went to Pampa. We won 3rd in the hog division and 4th in the entire contest. By winning 4th in the entire contest we received 2nd in the district. I was 3rd high point man in the entire contest and was only 2 points behind high point man.

The district leadership contests came off after the trip to Pampa. I was in the Chapter conducting contest and the Senior Farm Demonstration. We won 6th in the chapter conducting contest and 1st in the Senior Farm Demonstration.

We went to the area contest on the Senior Farm Demonstration and won 6th in that contest. The contest was held at Plainview, Texas.

Next, we went to Clarendon on some other contests. I was on the Crop Judging Team. We won 3rd out of 7 teams.

I went to Amarillo on the livestock judging team and we won 3rd in the hog judging division and only 21st in the entire contest out of about 50 teams. While we were there we visited the Amarillo Air Field Base. We went through the buildings where planes were being torn apart and put back together.

I then went to Lubbock on the Poultry Judging team to the area contest. Out of 46 teams we won 8th in the contest and out of 29 we won 4th in area.

This year we went to Craterville, Oklahoma, again for our encampment.

Guar Experiment Growth Excellent

An experimental plot of guar on the John Atkinson farm near Quail is making rapid growth and so far has come up to all expectations, Frank Kennedy, who is in charge of the plot, said.

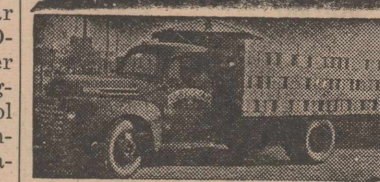

"From our observations so far, we believe guar will be as resistant to insects as castor beans. Grasshoppers just haven't bothered it. Neither has the dry weather seemed to hurt it. We couldn't wait this guar plot to do any better," Mr. Kennedy said.

The vines, now about 10 inches high, are beginning to put on the little bean pods.

Two plots were planted under Mr. Kennedy's direction, but the second, on the Bert Weaver place, was blown out shortly after the plants came through the ground. The Atkinson plot is approximately three acres and was planted May 20.

In appearance, guar resembles careless weeds, although the growing habits are characteristic of hairy vetch. Average yields in other areas where guar has been grown range from 900 to 1500 pounds per acre, depending on the fertility of the land, and last year's price was 11 cents per pound. The beans are oil bearing and go into that industry.

At present, the nearest market is at Gonzales, but there is a considerable acreage around Electra and Wichita Falls this year, and a market at one of those places is expected. Mr. Kennedy points out that his plot is purely experimental.

"If it works out like we think it will, guar can be harvested with a combine, as peas are, and that will be a distinct advantage to the grower," he commented.

A Roadshow Engagement - 2 Days Only - Wed. Thur., July 16-17 Child — 25c
AT THE RITZ THEATRE — WELLINGTON, TEXAS Adult — 80c

Never in the history of motion pictures has a picture been brought to the screen with the breathtaking spectacle, scope, gigantic cast, color and pagentry as that presented in M-G-M's much-heralded Technicolor production of "Quo Vadis," show at the Ritz Theatre, with Robert Taylor, Deborah Kerr, Leo Genn and Peter Ustinov heading a cast of thousands.

Based on the celebrated novel by Henryk Sienkiewicz, filmed against the grandeur of historic Rome in a prodigious undertaking which required more than twelve years of preparation and actual filming, this thrilling drama of the birth of Christianity in a pagan world and the love of a Roman warrior for a beautiful Christian hostage is unfolded with glittering splendor and tremendous dramatic impact.

Here we have the corrupt and extravagant imperial court of the Emperor Nero brought to life in scenes of staggering immensity, with its spectacles of thousands of triumphant warriors, led by Marcus Vinicius, making a triumphant entry into Rome along the garlanded Appian Way; the scenes of populace saluting the vestal virgins as they pay homage to the 40-foot-high statues of the pagan gods; the bacchanal in Nero's ornate palace as the Emperor holds a banquet in honor of the victorious Vinicius; the burning of Rome in spectacle scenes never before equalled on the screen as they depict the terrified populace screaming and trampling on each other in their frenzied attempt to flee the city; the racing chariots; the martyrdom of the Christians as they are torn apart by lions and burned on crosses; and the final gripping climax, in which the Christian hostage, Lygia, is saved from being killed by a ferocious bull when her giant bodyguard, Ursus, kills the beast in a blood-curdling show given by Nero in the huge Circus Maximus.

The picture opens with the return of Vinicius (Robert Taylor) to Rome, following his victorious campaign in Britain, and his meet with Lygia (Deborah Kerr), young daughter of the late King of Lydia and now a military prisoner, with whom he falls in love. His cynicism in regards to her strange religion of universal love at first proves a barrier to their romance but he is won over to Lygia's faith after the cruelly capricious Nero (Peter Ustinov) has burned Rome to the ground, inciting the wrath of the populace. Seeking to make the Christians scapegoats for the fire, Nero has them brought into the Circus Maximus to be torn apart by the ferocious lions, and it is at the suggestion of his ruthless wife, Poppaea, that Lygia, now married to Vinicius, is tied to a stake to be gored by an enraged bull. Nero has consented to free her if her giant bodyguard, Ursus, emerges victor in a battle with the bull, but when he reneges on his promise, Vinicius breaks his bonds and leaps into the arena to release Lygia. Now he appeals to the populace who become a howling mob and turn on Nero. The dissolute tyrant, trapped in his palace, strangles Poppaea and then is himself killed by a dagger at the hands of Acte, his former mistress. The reign of Nero is ended and the spread of Christianity is assured.

The performances in "Quo Vadis" are on a par with its superlative mounting. Robert Taylor, in what is undoubtedly the finest portrayal of his career, gives a virile, full-blooded portrait of the handsome and courageous Vinicius, and Deborah Kerr is equally effective as the lovely Lygia who turns him into an ardent supporter of Christianity. Peter Ustinov is strikingly vain, arrogant and pompous as the fiddling Nero, and another impressive portrayal is offered by Leo Genn as the kindly Petronius, arbiter of elegance at Nero's court.

- The triumphant return of the Roman legions with their shackled captives.
- The fateful romance of the Roman Commander Marcus, and the beautiful hostage Lygia.
- The half-crazed Emperor and his wicked Empress entertain hundreds.
- The city of Rome burned to the ground while Nero watched, sings and plays his lyre.
- Marcus races in his chariot to rescue Lygia from the flames.
- The mighty giant Ursus wrestles in the arena with a maddened bull.
- Hundreds of captive Christians driven into the arena with ravenous lions.
