SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1882.

A LADIES' temperance society has been organized in Dallas.

The trial of Ellis and Craft for the murder of the Gibbons family, began on the 27th.

A Mrs. CONKLING, living in the heart of the city of Dallas, has the small-pox.

Three inches of snow fell in Rome, Ga., on the 30th of January and it was still snowing.

Dirt was broken on the 1st inst. by sub-contractor C. Heery in excavating for the new Capitol.

We have just received a copy of the El Paso Daily Link, a neat and well edited daily. We welcome it to our sanctum as an exchange.

The courthouse at Northport, Lebanon county, Michigan, was burned on the 27th with most of its contents including the probate records and township library.

Oscar L. Baldwin, late cashier of the mechanical national Bank of Newark, appeared before the U. S. Court on the 31st ult. plead guilty and was sentenced to fifteen years in the state prison.

A FIRE broke out in the Dallas city compress on the night of the 31st ult. but was checked before any damage of consequence was done. Seven bales of cotton were more or less injured, but $100 will cover the damage.

The prisoners in the jail at Selma, Illinois, attempted again to break jail there on Thursday night of last week, but were foiled. They were justified in trying as ten men were confined in a miserable cell ten feet square, and repeatedly condemned.

Gov. CHURCHILL, of Arkansas, has offered $200 cash as a reward for the arrest of Walker Mayberry, who murdered Alex. Field last October, and Wood Miller for the killing of Dallas Miller in 1874. Both murderers are supposed to be hiding in Texas.

The body of the late Earl of Crawford has been stolen from the family vault in Aberdeenshire, England. The English government will pay $500 and the family £2,500 for the apprehension of the thieves. It is supposed that the thieves came to this country.

In a shooting affray on the 1st inst. at Ennis, between Joe Forsythe, a noted character of that place, and Ben and Charlie Moore, the former was shot perhaps fatally. An old feud was the cause. Charlie Moore was arrested and lodged in the county jail but Ben escaped.

The Washington & Ohio railroad, its franchises, rolling stock, etc., were sold on the 31st ult. to E. A. Hoyt formerly commissioner of Indian affairs. The sum paid for the property was $492,000, the purchase being made in behalf of the Cincinnati, Baltimore and Western railroad company.

A SPECIAL to the Dallas Herald from Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, says that a young man named Lee White, while out hunting met two young lady acquaintances, and, without explanation or provocation, shot them both, seriously wounding them, but they were able to reach assistance. A posse started to capture Lee, and when he found escape impossible, blew his head nearly off.

We omitted last week to acknowledge receipt of a Communication from Cat Claw post office, signed "A Patron." We regretted very much not being able to publish it, for the reason that the writer did not give us his real name. This is not necessary for publication but as a guarantee of good faith. If "Patron" will send us his name, we shall be glad to publish it and hope to hear from him often.

A SPECIAL to the Dallas Times from London dated January 31st says: "The reception of the King's address at the opening of the chamber of deputies was absolutely unsympathetic. The stonewall was unbroken at his entry and departure. The people in the streets were equally cold. So decided an expression of public disfavor has never before been seen since the King's accession to the throne."

The village of Rock Falls, Illinois is in a state of uproar because a man and woman named Seymour, have beaten, starved and otherwise brutally treated a little seven-year-old girl of Mrs. Balton whose husband is in the insane asylum. The little girl was working for the Seymours but is now under the physicians' care. Twenty or thirty people visited Seymour for the purpose of lynching him but he managed to escape with his wife, and the most diligent search failed to discover them.

Is the Earth Drying up.

Physicists and scientists say, that the amount of water on the surface of the globe is steadily decreasing, and that the land gains on the sea year by year. It is quite true, that in some portions of the globe the sea is eating up, as it were, the land. This is true of the Atlantic coast, which gives evidence of a steady encroachment of the ocean upon its shores. New York will some day be a city under the sea, and its great bridge and ruins can be examined and distinguished only by means of diving bells. Geographers tell us, that two-thirds of the earth's surface is composed of water, so we can afford to lose a good deal of that element without suffering. If the nebular hypothesis is correct, and the earth was once a vast sea of fire, water was then non-existent, and when it first appeared, must have come in the form of steam. Life was not possible until the fluid cooled, and it must have been myriads of years before the great salt seas formed. If the earth should gradually lose its moisture, great changes will be effected. There will be more land and a denser population, fewer marine animals, and more room for the races which now inhabit the land. Certain districts will become arid, swamps will dry up, vast waterways will be converted into dry waterways. What a pity it is we cannot go to sleep for a thousand years, so as to see what kind of a world this will be in the year 3000. There will, we apprehend, be some water left even then.—From Democrat's Monthly for February.

Fire in New York.

A terrific fire broke out on the 31st ult. in New York in one of the most densely populated quarters of the city—the triangular block bounded by Park Row, Beekman and Nassau streets. Several advertising agents and newspapers, including the New York Observer, Scientific American, Scottish American Journal, The Turf, Field and Farm, and Thompson's Bank Note and Commercial Reporter were occupants of the burned buildings. The Times building occupies the entire northern angle of the block and was saved, though considerably damaged.

The fire is said to have originated in the building formerly occupied by the New York World, but latterly by the Observer. It is impossible to estimate the losses at present. About half a dozen lives are supposed to have been lost.

Letter from Cat Claw.

CAT CLAW, Callahan Co., Jan. 29, 1882.

Dear Sir—Thinking you would like to hear something of this part of the country, I take the privilege of dropping you a few items:

Battle Creek is improving. Several new houses are being built in the neighborhood. Mr. Stayton is erecting a neat residence. Thomas Meyers is also putting up a new building. Wheat looks fine, stock doing well and citizens are all hard at work. B. H. Harden is preparing to irrigate about five acres of land which he intends to convert into a garden, and raise vegetables therein. His plan is to dam Battle Creek and then throw the water out with a pump.

As this is my first contribution to your valuable paper, I hope I shall have the pleasure of seeing it in print. Respectfully Yours W. A. G.

The discovery of a cave in the mountains of Palo Pinto, which in its dimensions and attractions reduces Mammoth Cave of Kentucky to an ordinary post hole, is a valuable adjunct to the mineral wells of that county. The fact that it was discovered by a Dallas man, in the same manner that Indians find silver mines by following a wounded deer to the opening, causes a feeling of incredulity to present itself. The Dallas man is represented as "acting mayor of Mineral Wells," and the possibilities are that he is also acting as an advertising agent of these health-giving waters, or has an interest in corner lots in the place. We shall wait further developments, before we place any confidence in the subterranean caverns, sinkholes, foxing rivers and eyeless electrical fish pond beneath the Palo Pinto hills.—El Worth Democrat-Advance.

The Dallas Herald of February 1st, contains a very touching letter from the father of Otis Gowdy, the man who was killed at the St. George hotel, for attempting to rob the safe, in which he begs the editor of that paper to give him all the information in his possession in regard to the killing, says the offense was his first and that he must have been led into it under the influence of something which he could not control. The letter exhibits the sorrow of the father who is nearly beside himself with grief for the loss of his son and the disgraceful circumstances which led to a premature death.

Purify the blood and regulate the bowels, if you would have health. There is no remedy equal to the PRICKLY ASH BITTERS for this purpose. They act directly on the organs concerned, going to the seat of disease and driving it from the system. Nor do they stop here, but strengthen the system, giving it tone and action, rendering it much more capable of resisting all future attacks.

Arrested For Horse Stealing.

A man giving his name as Wm. Fleming, was arrested near Rufe Parish's place, last Monday morning, by J. M. Mathews, assisted by Nelson Warren and Tom Hadley. They brought him back to town charging him with stealing two horses from this place. He had a horse at the livery stable which he claimed as his own; he went to the stable, got it and said he was going to Abilene. J. F. Patterson and Mr. Warren suspected him of being in some crookedness, and they questioned him very closely regarding his movements and he gave himself completely away. When he started away, instead of going towards Abilene he struck out at a rapid pace eastward. Warren went immediately and notified deputy sheriff Mathews and pursuit was immediately made by the three and he was overtaken as above stated. He showed fight and concluded he would not be taken, but a blow from the sheriff brought him to terms. He was brought back to town where Nelson Warren swore out a warrant against him, believing him to be the man who stole the horse last week belonging to the livery stable. He was taken to the Belle Plain jail. Subsequent developments prove his name to be Wood Freeman. He is under $1,000 bonds to appear at Dallas, for horse stealing, and yesterday we learned that two men had come down from Colorado, who wanted him, for horse stealing there. The horse which he claimed as his own and which he gave as fee to lawyer Thomas to defend him had been stolen from Mitchell County.

The Gould-Huntington Alliance.

The arrangement between the Southern Pacific and Texas Pacific roads stipulates that the latter shall not build further west than Sierra Blanca, but it leaves the Southern Pacific free to extend its line to New Orleans or any other point on the Gulf of Mexico that may be determined upon. The work on the through Southern Pacific road to New Orleans is being actively pushed forward. On this train are now running as far as a point called Gomez, 144 miles east of El Paso. The most difficult part of the construction between El Paso and Gomez has been completed, and the track is now being laid at the rate of three miles a day. On last Saturday three and eight-tenths miles of road were laid, being the biggest day's work in track-laying which the Southern Pacific has yet performed. On the eastern section of the road trains are running out a distance of 100 miles west of San Antonio. It is now confidently expected that nothing will retard the opening of the road through from San Francisco to New Orleans by the first of July next. The probability is that the road would have been completed before that date had it not been for the wash outs last fall in Arizona, and which prevented supplies being shipped forward. Besides that the workmen had to be recalled from laying the track to making the repairs where the road had been washed out. It is probable that Bayou Florida will be made the point of junction for the Southern Pacific with New Orleans, instead of Vermilionville, as was originally intended. In either case it will give through facilities without change or interruption, to New Orleans.—Chicago Times.

Small-Pox Remedy.

SEBASTIAN, TEXAS, January 25, 1882.—As you are no doubt aware, small-pox is now prevalent in many parts of England, as well as in the United States, in some towns, indeed, the cases are alarmingly numerous.

It is no cause for wonder, therefore, that the scare brings forth many suggestions, in the newspapers, in reference to the treatment of patients.

The following paragraph, taken from the Liverpool Mercury (England), is so striking, that I think no apology is needed for placing it before your readers. I do not know the writer, Mr. Horios, personally, but believe him to be a man of some note. He says:

"I am willing to risk my reputation as a public man if the worst cases of small-pox cannot be cured in three days, simply by the use of cream of tartar. One ounce of cream of tartar dissolved in a pint of water, drank at intervals, when cold, is a certain, never-failing remedy. It has cured, never causes blindness, and avoids tedious, lingering illness."

What will your medical scientists say to this? Yours faithfully, WILLIAM HOYLE, (Formerly from Rockdale, England.)—Cor. Herald.

A San Francisco dispatch of the 29th ult. says that police and detectives for two days have been scouring the country between this city and San Mateo for an escaped stage robber named Dick Fellows. Fellows had been teaching lately, but he concluded to resume his old business, and he robbed several stages in succession along the east stage.

Mr. George Bauer, proprietor of the several establishments located along the line of the Texas & Pacific railroad that flourish under the euphonious name of "Nip & Tuck," is prospecting in the city.—El Paso Link.

Over The State.

Fort Worth is to have a skating rink. Two new cases of small-pox are reported at Texarkana.

Julius Beck committed suicide last week at Corsicana by taking laudanum.

The wife of Charlie Carr, the Fort Worth peddler and livery man, presented him with an eighteenth child.

Maj. C. K. Fair, former proprietor of the El Paso hotel at Ft. Worth, has recently been married to a Mexican senora.

The Fort Worth Democrat-Advance is advocating the name of J. P. Smith as a candidate for Mayor at the next election.

Nueces county pays taxes on horses and mules, 25,119 head; cattle, 83,109 head; jacks and jennets, 183 head; sheep, 178,755 goats, 5,733 head.

A fireman at Austin was washed and painfully hurt, on the 18th inst. while trying to get a truck out of the engine house at the annual of the fire alarm.

Henry Hanna shot and instantly killed Andy Harris at Belton last week. The latter was trying to kill a brother of the former, hence the difficulty.

The man killed at Dallas in the St. George hotel was identified beyond a doubt as Otis H. Gowdy, formerly of Burlington, Kansas.

The safe of Moore & Sons' lumber dealers of Belton, was burglarized last week and robbed of $40 by unknown parties. They drilled a hole in the safe and blew it open with powder.

A Grocery Merchant named Campbell shipped the town of Texarkana on the 28th ult. leaving almost enough goods to pay all his bills. He was arrested at the depot and took the step to see if his wife who bears a bad name there.

A little Texarkana girl, who has been crossed all her life, took a few mornings since with the defect entirely gone. Since that time there has not been the least symptom of its return. No remedies had ever been used to cure her.

The contract for building a new insane asylum at Austin has been given to John McDonald. The work will cost little less than $50,000 and is only for three wards and the central buildings, as the cottages were already built.

Marshall, January 30.—Winter is upon us in good earnest. Yesterday evening it commenced snowing, but the ground being hard it did not stick. It rained all night and during the day, and now all nature is clothed in a mantle of snow and ice, presenting a beautiful aspect.

On the 10th of January the contract for building the State House at Austin was awarded to Mathias Schell and others of Rock Island, Illinois, to receive 2,000,000 acres of land for completing the building. Work is to be commenced by the 1st of March, and the building to be completed within five years.

Troupe, January 29.—Quite an excitement is now existing in business circles in this city on account of the sudden closure of the thought-to-be staunch and reliable dry goods house of W. T. Hall, at the instance of the Union of Tailors. The liabilities could not be ascertained, but it is rumored that they are heavy.

A dispatch from W. Davis, received at San Antonio on the 28th ult., says that on the 28th Indians or horse-thieves disguised as Sioux, made a raid on the herd of the State rangers, camped six miles west of here, and captured and got away with all the rangers horses before they had time to come to the aid of the rangers. The Indians were left on foot, unable to pursue the thieves.

Adjutant-General King is preparing statistics with a view of applying once more to the national government to pay the expenses of our frontier defense. He will try a new plan and will ask Senator Blaker to have each of the precincts will allow the authorities to go before the proper tribunal of the general government, prove services rendered, and receive pay for them. He also is instituting eight or ten recruits for the purpose of giving Capt. Brown a full complement of men at El Paso.

Bryan, January 29.—Late on Saturday evening a farmer, of this county, while in the city with a collection of sheep, was struck on the head with a billiard cue, and died from the effects of the same night. A post mortem examination showed that a blood vessel had been ruptured and death ensued from an internal hemorrhage. The farmer's name was S. E. Rechie, and the billiard cue was the property of a man, who says he had no thought of killing the man, and every one credits his statement, since he bears a reputation of being a quiet, orderly man. He was held to bail in the sum of $3,000.
