

New Traffic Law Just Good Sense, Garrison Declares

By Col Homer Garrison, Director
Department of Public Safety

There is no reason why anyone should be confused by the new traffic safety law that went into effect Sept. 5. The law itself is long and legal-sounding, but it boils down to good, sound horse-sense.

We're just getting rid of the old regulations, passed back in 1917 in the Model T days, and bringing them up to date. Ninety per cent of the things required by the new law are already being done by the average good driver—and the other ten per cent are things he knows he ought to be doing but isn't.

In the fewest possible words, here are the highlights of the Uniform Traffic Code, as the law is called:

People walking are required to cross streets and highways at designated cross-walks where there are provided; to use sidewalks where they can, or to walk facing the traffic, on the left side of the road, where there is no sidewalk. A pedestrian in a cross-walk has the right-of-way over all vehicles. These are the first real pedestrian regulations we have ever had in Texas, and the observance of them will keep a lot of people from "walking themselves to death."

Drivers are required to stay on the right side of the road, with certain sensible exceptions; dangerous maneuvers in passing are outlawed; right-of-way rules are set out; teeth are put into the stop-sign law; the safe manner of making turns and stops is designated, and uniform hand-and-arm signals are required for these maneuvers.

Following radiator-to-bumper is forbidden, and so is racing trains to crossings. Parking on a highway is outlawed except when the vehicle is out of order and can't be moved. Drivers are required to dim their lights 500 feet from an approaching vehicle at night.

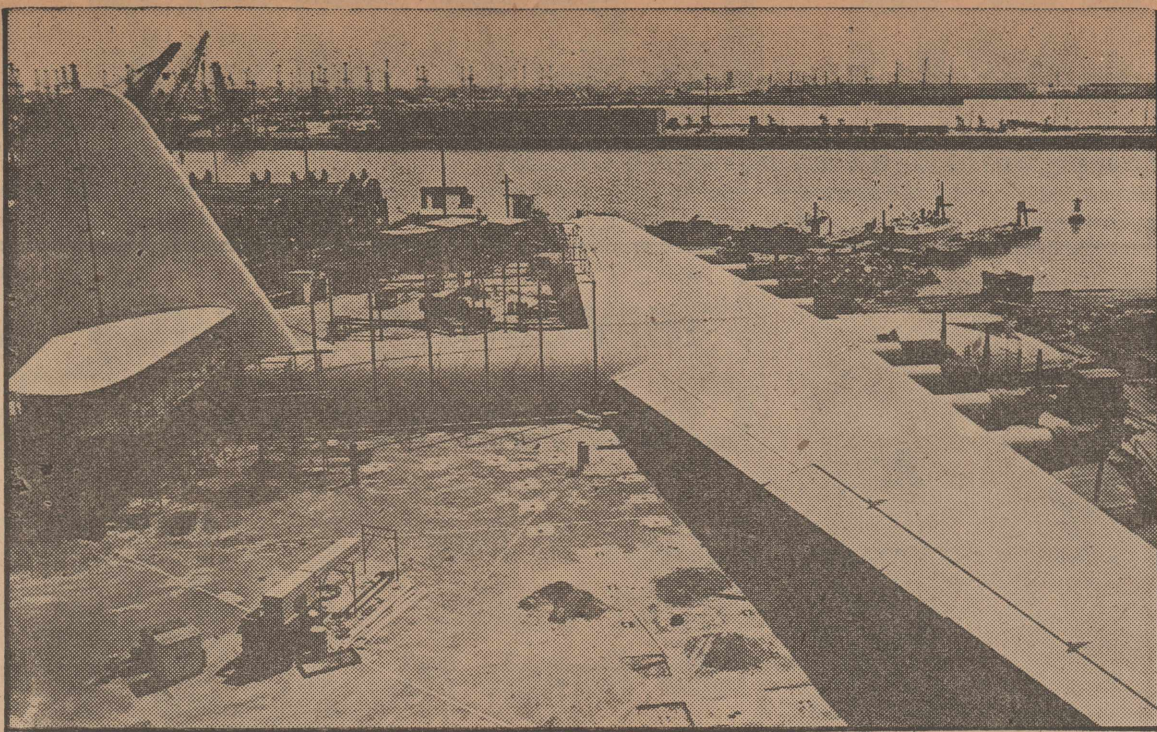

Driving under the influence of drugs is about the same as driving while drunk under the new law, even if the drugs were given by a dentist or doctor.

One part of the law that will make it rough on deliberately dangerous drivers is the new reckless driving clause. As it is now, a man can drive recklessly without violating any specific law, such as speeding, and the officers can't do anything with him. But under this new clause the reckless driver has a special noose to stick his head into.

The code requires every vehicle to have good lights and brakes and a horn. Trucks and busses must also have mechanical signalling devices when they are so built that hand-and-arm signals can't readily be seen.

Anyway who has a highway accident must stop and identify himself, give any help that is needed, and immediately notify the nearest Highway Patrol or Sheriff's office. The driver must also make a written report to the Department of Public Safety within 24 hours if anyone is killed or hurt or if damage amounts to $25 or more.

These accident reports are very important. They are confidential, and are not used to get evidence against a driver, but to help us figure out where and when and

200-TON ARGUMENT

Howard Hughes' 200-ton flying boat "Hercules," shown at San Pedro, Calif., is the unfinished result so far of an $18,000,000 contract with the government, and is one of the interesting items on the Senat War Contracts Investigating Committee agenda. The contract grew out of an original $50,000,000 deal which the committee is investigating in the light of parties at which high officers, including Elliott Roosevelt, were wined and dined by John Meyers, Huges's publicity man.

Kiwanians Hear of Football Prospects

Wellington Kiwanians heard a resume of the 1947 Skyrocket football team and their prospects for winning the district crown Friday, September 19, when the three high school coaches were guests of the group.

The three were Coaches Al Duncan, John Lee and Bob Percival. John Hooper of Amarillo was guest.

Why accidents are happening, so that whatever is necessary can be done to prevent future accidents—whether the remedy be engineering, education, or enforcement.

All traffic control signs and signals put up hereafter by any city or county or the State Highway Department will have to be like those used in most other states. This is to make it so that a person driving from one city to another, or from one state to another, can find his way around without being confused.

Mohammedan crews of 40 to 50 men will be brought to Houston, Texas, from India to man tankers being made for the British Government.

University Gets Valuable Material On West Texas

AUSTIN — New and valuable resource material in early Texas history—particularly of the Panhandle—and historical information on the Western Indians was added to the University of Texas library with the recent acquisition of the Earl Vandale collection.

Vandale, Amarillo businessman who has been collecting books, manuscripts, maps and other early historical material for more than a quarter of a century, had a collection excelled only by the University and State Libraries.

Among the individual collections acquired by Vandale, and included in the acquisition, were diaries from E. N. Gray of Houston, rare books from H. P. N. Gammel of Austin; Indian lore from John H. Moore of LaGrange; history of Germans in Texas from S. V. Pfeuffer of New Braunfels; sketches of men who fought in the Battle of San Jacinto from W. P. Zuber of Austin; and books, maps, coins, and manuscripts from A. T. McKinney of Dallas, R. C. Crane of Sweetwater, Alex Dienst of Temple and John G. James who lived in various parts of the state.

The Vandale recollection will be an important source for research in history, economics, government, and in literature to a certain extent, Dr. Eugene C. Barker, University professor and historian, said. The library's Texas Collection is the largest known.

The peak for cheese production in Texas was 1941, when more than 21,000,000 pounds were produced.

The 32 carbon black plants in the Texas Panhandle produce approximately 70 per cent of the world's output of this product.

Better Grades Offer Cotton Farmers More Profit

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Additional cotton profits are within the reach of every Cotton Belt farmer through grade improvement, according to the National Cotton Council, which urges growers to plan now to pick their seed cotton while it is dry and to keep it clean of trash.

The difference in price between high-grade and low-grade cotton is too great to go unnoticed, the Council points out. Extra cotton cash can be gained with the same size crop by extra care in picking seed cotton and transporting it to the gin.

The Council recommends that farmers try to pick seed cotton while it is as dry as possible, keep trash out of cotton both in picking and handling, pick cotton before it is damaged by exposure to the weather, and keep good cotton separate from lower grades.

"In spite of the heavy weevil infestation and adverse weather conditions in many parts of the Cotton Belt, hard-working growers are doing a magnificent job in bringing this year's cotton crop to maturity," said Claude L. Welch, the Council's production and marketing director.

"Cotton Belt farmers richly deserve every cent of profit they can make from the 1947 cotton harvest, and grade improvement is one means of reaping maximum benefits from cotton."

Principal factors determining cotton grades are color, leaf trash, other foreign matter, and ginning preparation.

At the beginning of the harvest season, unpicked cotton usually is of high grade, bright in color, and carries no great amount of leaf. Cotton left in the field very long after the bolls open becomes darker and dull in color as a result of exposure, thus lowering the grade.

Spinners are concerned over the presence of foreign matter in cotton, since there is much less waste to cotton containing little or no foreign matter. Plant leaves, notes, seed coat fragments, and sometimes sand and dust also lower the grade. Cotton should be picked and ginned as dry as possible. Ginning seed cotton when wet or damp tends to lower the value of the lint by one or more grades.

Good grade cotton is in great demand, the Council said, and every pound produced this fall can be used in one of cotton's numerous markets.

The ginner and the warehouseman share indirectly with the farmer in the profits from bringing better grade cotton to the gin.

Trash and other foreign objects in seed cotton are responsible for most gin and warehouse fires, which in 1945-46 imposed a $12,000,000 burden of loss and damage upon the industry.

Cleaner cotton will mean less danger of cotton fires breaking out, and a corresponding decline in gin and warehouse losses.

The guayule rubber plant may become a rival to cotton in Texas, as the big cash income crop.

Gospel of Christ (Rom. 1:16)

DIVINE AUTHORITY

Jesus said, "All authority hath been given unto me in heaven and on earth." (Mt. 28:18) To worship and live according to this authority is to do what the Lord says and nothing more.

God commanded Noah to build an ark of gopher wood. He didn't say, "Noah, don't use oak wood; don't use any other wood," because all other wood was excluded when he selected gopher wood. Had he used any other wood, though he was not commanded against it, Noah would not have acted by divine authority.

Christ, the one with all authority, commanded man through the apostles to worship God with music. But out of a co-ordinating species of music he selected singing. (Eph. 5:19; Col. 3:16) It was not necessary for him to name all other kinds of music, and command against their use, because all other kinds of music were excluded in his selection of the one—singing.

Can you justly criticize the church of Christ for adhering to this divine authority?

Melton Steps Up As WTSC Buffaloes Continue Season

CANYON — Among the five former Wellington High School football players who are making good on the West Texas State College eleven the name of Freeman Melton, Jr., is heard often this week.

Melton, a candidate for the quarterback slot, looked good in the first game of the season against Tulsa. Last week against ACC he looked better. At the beginning of workouts this week in preparation for next Saturday night's contest in Lubbock with Texas Tech's Red Raiders, he was running the starter line-up.

Coach Frank Kimbrough's program is one of developing two complete line-ups. The first one he calls his first quarter starters, the second one his second quarter starters. This system enables the new Buffalo coach to put teams on the field with inexperienced freshmen in units with experienced players.

Noel Cudd, guard, Ernest Kendrick, back and Boyd Williams, back, along with Melton are included in these first two line-ups. Charles Hester, guard, is being groomed to step up on a moment's notice.

West Texas will open its four-game home schedule in Buffalo Stadium on Oct. 11 against the Texas Mines Muckers coached by Jack Curtice, former Buff mentor.

Reserved seat season tickets for the home games are on sale in Wellington by Al Duncan.

Veterans Needed For Civil Service

An examination has been announced by the Civil Service Commission to fill Substitute Railway Postal Clerk positions in all States except New York and in Alaska and Puerto Rico. Competition in this examination is restricted to persons entitled to veteran preference. However, under Executive Order 9889, non-veterans serving continuously since August 28, 1947, in the position of Substitute Railway Postal Clerk under appointments not limited to one year or less may apply for the examination in order to be considered for a competitive civil service status.

The salary for the first year is $1.15 per hour, which amounts to approximately $2,300 a year for a 40-hour work week. An additional 10 percent is paid for any night work between the hours of 6:00 P. M. and 6:00 A. M. Salary is increased each year by 5c an hour, up to a maximum of $1.54 an hour.

To qualify, applicants must pass a written test and be able to meet certain physical requirements. There are no age limits.

Further information and application forms may be obtained from the Commission's Local Secretary, Jim Cook, located at the post office from most first- and second-class post offices, from Civil Service Regional Offices, or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Applications must be received in the Commission's Washington office not later than October 28, 1947.

Former Countain Held in Robbery

A preliminary hearing of robbery charges filed against Henry West, 33, formerly of Wellington and Dodson, and Beryl Walker in connection with a $17,000 cash and jewelry robbery September 20, was held at Ballinger Tuesday morning and bond of $10,000 was recommended for each of the defendants. The case will go before a Runnels County grand jury October 6.

Principal victim of the robbery was Eldridge S. Price, former Leavenworth federal prison inmate, who now faces a federal charge of violation of the securities and exchange act.

District Attorney O'Neil Dendy said that West, who has lived at Mineral Wells for several years, told him that his participation in the holdup resulted from a desire to get even with Price.

A Fort Worth Star-Telegram story reported Dendy as saying that West claimed that Price promoted him into taking a short-term lease on some purported Runnels County land and that the deal cost West his life savings and his Mineral Wells jewelry business. Dendy said insofar as he was concerned, West's bond should be reduced to a figure he could meet.

Price is under indictment on a charge of attempting to organize a holding company and operating company to mine iron ore in Old Mexico. The true bill sets out that Price knew the facts he represented were untrue, and that he used telephone calls and telegraph messages "in interstate commerce in furtherance of a scheme to defraud."

Social Security Reviews Work of Its Twelve Years

Twelve years ago, this month, the Social Security Act became law, providing a measure of financial security for the people of the Nation through principal channels: Old-Age and Survivors Insurance, formerly known as Old-Age Insurance, Unemployment Insurance, and Public Assistance.

Amended in August of 1939 and August of 1946, the Act today is stronger, and much improved on its 12th birthday, than it was when it first became law. The following anniversary facts were supplied by J. R. Sanderson, manager of the Social Security Field Office in Amarillo.

Old-Age and Survivors Insurance has passed the two million mark in beneficiaries and a million dollars a day in benefits. Those entitled to such cash insurance rights, bought and paid for by joint employer-employee contributions, include retired workers at or past the age of 65, wives of such wage earners who are also 65 or older, unmarried children under 18 of such retired workers or of deceased insured wage earners, widows of insured workers who are either 65 or older or who have one or more minor children entitled to benefits in their care, and aged dependent parents of deceased insured workers who left no widow or child entitled to monthly benefits.

Unemployment insurance payments by the individual States have fluctuated widely as job opportuniities were few or many.

By mid-1947, the various States had developed their public assistance programs, based on a proved financial need of the individual, with Federal matching provisions in varying degrees, to the point that over 2,250,000 of aged were receiving in excess of $80,000,000 each month in old-age insurance grants.

Almost 400,000 families and almost 1,000,000 children were receiving more than $24,000,000 each month in aid to dependent children grants and nearly 80,000 needy blind were receiving some $3,000,000 each month in assistance grants.

Persons desiring more detailed information on any or all of the above three programs should direct inquiries on public assistance to the State Department of Public Welfare at Austin, on unemployment insurance to the Texas Employment Commission at Austin, and on Old-Age and Survivors Insurance to the Social Security Field Office at Amarillo, Texas.

Admiral Nimitz to Be 'Veterans Day' Speaker at Fair

DALLAS — Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, often called the greatest Texan since Sam Houston, will come to Dallas October 14 to lead Texas veterans of all wars in a rededication to the principles of American Freedom.

The occasion will be "All Veterans' Day" at the State Fair of Texas when for the first time in the history of the state tribute will be paid to veterans of all wars in all branches of the service.

More than 200,000 veterans and their families are expected to take part in the day's activities, R. L. Thornton, president of the Fair, announced. Among the many service groups participating will be the American Legion, Spanish-American War Veterans, Reserve Officers Association, Air Force Association, Air Reserve Association, Veterans of Foreign Wars and numerous others.

Admiral Nimitz, whose brilliant naval career took him from the Hill Country of Texas to become commander of the Pacific Fleet and conqueror of the Japanese navies, is now Chief of Naval Operations, one of the highest military titles which his country can bestow. He will fly from Washington to Dallas in his own plane to participate in the day's activities and to address a crowd of more than 50,000 the night of October 14, in the Cotton Bowl.

Admiral Nimitz has been called the foremost living symbol of America's naval power, and in tribute to his valor Texans already have enshrined him among their heroes. A bronze bust of the Five-Star Texas Admiral now sits in the Hall of State at the State Fair of Texas alongside such other great Texans as Sam Houston, William Barrett Travis, Stephen F. Austin and Mirabeau B. Lamar.

In addition to featured speakers and entertainers, special exhibits are being set up, hands from all over the state are being invited to take part in the show which will be climaxed with a magnificent night exposition in Texas' famous Cotton Bowl.

"This will be the veteran's own day at the Fair and we are doing everything possible to make his visit enjoyable", Mr. Thornton said. "The public address system network which covers the grounds will be at the disposal of those veterans seeking to locate their buddies, and special meeting places are being arranged for the various military organizations which are planning to assemble at the Fair".

Nearly 60 percent of the farms in the United States now have electricity.

Americans today eat about the same amount of fats and meats that they did in 1910, but less grain products and potatoes; more fruits, vegetables and dairy products.

About 56 percent of accidents to farm people last year resulted from farm work. Only 8 percent in connection with housework; recreation and other activities accounted for the rest.

New Mexico's wheat harvest of 10 million bushels was the largest in its history.

Wellington Leader

Special Notice

I have had quite a few inquiries about the proper time for planting fruit trees, shade trees, roses and shrubs. Also of evergreens for this district.

Weather conditions control the transplanting of nursery stock greatly in the fall, usually the nursery delivery time begins about the 15th or 20th of November.

However those of you who are anticipating putting out trees and nursery stock this fall should place your orders as soon as possible, so as to insure yourselves of getting the best of everything in nursery stock, which is going to be short like everything else. So far prices remain about on a level with last year but I look for a sharp rise before the first of the year.

DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

News Item: S. R. Pinkston will be the tax assessor and collector for the school and city on a joint arrangement plan. Details next week.

Judge R. H. Cocke has moved into his neat new office across the street from The Wellington Leader building; but he is not as happy about it as he thought he would be. The first thing I did was to lead him across the street and show him a giant dahlia I raised. His face turned as green as the leaves of the plant, and he stumbled out of the office in a kind of a daze muttering something about "very wonderful specimen." Since then he has been so busy looking through his catalogs for rare bulbs that he has not done a single bit of legal work in three days.

Also phoned up Mrs. J. M. Strong, Jr., to come over and take a little peek. She took one look and said that she was going to quit raising dahlias. The plain facts are that Mr. McCarver and I have whipped the socks off of Shorty Bradford, Judge Cocke and Mrs. Strong in the matter of growing dahlias this fall. It is such a difference that they have called off the fall flower show as no contest. For the time being they have quit and hollered uncle, but they are going to have a show of spring flowers next April or May. That suits me fine. They can have one in April, May and June for all I care. In this I am just like Robert Fulton in his line backer position on the football team—whatever type of play they try to run I'll try to be there and give them a little competition.

Incidentally the dahlia that knocked them for a loop was one that I obtained from O. T. Nicholson of Shamrock; but by the grapevine I hear that he has not done so well this year himself.

Can you imagine such a thing happening to a man of his age? W. N. McCarver finally got around to catching the mumps at the age of something like 64. Doctors say that he will get by O.K. if he will stay in bed for a week. This will be difficult for the old gentleman. There is not a lazy bone in his body.

The Wellington Skyrockets moved up in third position among the top ten class A teams of the Panhandle in the opinion of Frank Godsoe of The Amarillo News. He lists Perryton first, Phillips second and the Rockets third. Shamrock and Floydada moved down a notch. This is about as it should be. My opinion is that there will be more changes made before any district crown is won. Wellington can take Shamrock and Perryton for that matter if they get to play them again; but I sure want to see the team that beats the so-called subsidized Blackhaws.

Mack Wood, the genial young man who has won so many friends in Wellington during the past two years, is leaving the paper to take a job with the Civil Aeronautics Administration in Big Spring. He received such an attractive offer that there was no practical means of keeping him on a weekly newspaper. After all, Mack was an expert in aviation before he ever came to Wellington; but he is going to be missed in more ways than one around this office and in the town. Coming to The Leader next week will be Dorothy Robertson, who has been with McLellan's in Wellington for a number of

Young Tommie Bryant, the son of the Pullman Bryants, should be an animal trainer, a naturalist or something. I thought I had seen everything when he raised a duck and two Rhode Island Red chicks. The duck turned out to be a drake and the chicks turned out to be hens. They pal around together without ever getting off the grass or crossing the street. I am still wondering what would happen if Tommie should take his drake and his two hens to a pond. Today there was more of a mixture. A kitten was playing with Tommie's cocker spaniel chewing on her tail and generally having a good time.

It should be interesting to see what Tommie collects next.

The following was printed in the Congressional Record, that verbose publication which is supposed to tell the taxpayers about the manner in which the elected officials are handling their affairs. Rep. Guy Crews of Jacksonville, Fla., read into the record an item from Rep. Walter Hawkins' home town paper. Intending to report the lawmaker in bed with a bad cold, a compositor's error made it read: "Rep. Hawkins is in bed with a bad co-ed."

Mr. Adair wants them to receive $1 an hour with allowances for heat, ice-water and electric fans. He does not say as to whether or not he wants the heat and electric fans at the same time. My main experience with politics was in 1940. After it was over, all I needed was ice-water and fans. Somebody ought to tell Mr. Adair to prune his budget. The heat will be supplied free of charge in any election in Texas.

History: Elmore Dodson for whom the town of Dodson was named attended the reunion of the CSCA in Enid, Oklahoma, last week. This is the Cherokee Strip Cowpunchers Association, which was first organized on cowboy hill on the 101 Ranch in the Pawnee reservation.

Mr. Dodson worked in the strip as a cowboy in 1883 on the T-5 ranch that was owned by Richard King and Mifflin Kennedy. They are better known as the founders of the King and Kennedy ranches on the Gulf Coast. In addition to the T-5 in the strip, they also owned the Horseshoe on the Texas side of the line. This was near the Canadian River.

In the fall of 1883, Elmore Dodson came to Collingsworth County and started working for the Diamond Tail owned by William R. Curtis and Tom Adkinson. This ranch went from the 100th—or what they believed to be the 100th meridian at that time on west to the Donley County line. The Dodson home place marks the northeast boundary. The Diamond Tail also extended into Childress county. It was approximately 30 square miles in area, according to Mr. Dodson.

Much of the rest of Mr. Dodson's history has been recorded in The History of Collingsworth County and in the anniversary edition of this paper published in 1934. The items include the founding of the town of Dodsonville that they wanted to name Dodson; but could not until a later date for the reason that there was a town in Texas by that name. Mr. Dodson says that it was no longer in existence in 1910; but that the postmaster general would not let them use the preferred name until the thirties.

Too much water may not have run under the bridges in this dry area since the days that Mr.

Dodson talks about; but millions of acres of the finest cattle ranges the world has ever known have been turned under. The lush prairie land has been mined instead of being farmed. A younger generation looks at the problem of conservation of the soil. Will they meet it with the tenacity and the thrift and the endurance that an older one used to settle this country.

Social Security Won't Tell Personal Facts in Its File

Like the daisies, the Social Security Administration won't tell. This Federal agency keeps its mouth shut, and some of the 88,000,000 Americans who hold social security cards would be mighty unhappy if it did not.

Concentrated in the Accounting Operations Division of its Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance in the Candler Building in Baltimore are more personal facts and figures about more Americans than in any other place in the country.

Just HOW old is your mother-in-law? The Social Security Administration might know, but it won't tell. How much did your ex-wife earn last year? The record is there, but only she can get that information—and she already knows.

When the Social Security Administration asks for and gets from a worker the information necessary to set up and identify his account, it pledges itself to regard such information as confidential and to withhold it from all but authorized persons.

The worker whose boss thinks he is ten years younger than he is need have no fear that his secret will come to light. It is guarded from prying eyes at all times of the day and night by guards whose whole job is to keep the records safe.

The Social Security Administration's local office in Amarillo receives requests each week for aid in locating missing husbands, absconding treasurers, and persons who find it easier to move than to pay bills, Manager J. R. Sanderson reports. "In every case," he says, "we must tell the caller that our records are for social security purposes only and that we are not permitted to release any such information. Without such protection

Robinsons to Amarillo New Quail Mercantile Employees Named

Changes of employees at the Quail Mercantile, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Crabtree, was announced this week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Robinson and daughter, Connie Tom, who have been with the store for 7 years, have moved to Amarillo, where he will be employed by a construction company. Their new address is 201A Kentucky Street.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Robinson were reared in the county, he having graduated from high school at Quail and she at Samnorwood. They have been active in both church and civic work at Quail.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Mitchell are moving to Quail from Phillips and will be employed at the store. Mrs. Mitchell is the former Miss Ramona Meason, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Crabtree, and she is already familiar with the work of the store. Another new employee is Gorman Owens, also a resident of Quail for a number of years.

Revival Services End at Salt Fork

Revival services at the Salt Fork Methodist Church closed Sunday, September 21, the Rev. C. A. Wells, pastor, said. It had been in progress for 10 days and interest was good, he added.

Prior to holding that revival, he had conducted one at the Fresno Church, of which he is also pastor.

Special services were held at the Bethel Methodist Church Sunday afternoon, with the Rev. Noel Bryant, pastor of the Wellington Methodist Church, as guest speaker.

On this date the young people of the church, who organized with Bethine Atkins as president, held their first meeting.

Rev. and Mrs. Wells expressed their appreciation to their churches for their fine co-operation in these revivals.

IT'S A SERVICE BILL TODAY!

The old-fashioned "light" bill, like the surrey with the fringe on top, is a thing of the past. Electricity for lighting is only one of many items represented by your electric service bill. Today, in most homes, you're likely to find two or more electric appliances in every room—many homes have a score or more. That's why your electric service bill can no more rightly be called a "light" bill than a "refrigerator" bill.

"It's the best county paper I know," declared Miss Joy Riley, home demonstration agent, in her emphatic approval of the paper. "In my work I have a chance to know what the country people think," she added, "and they like it also. It tells the news of the farms and schools as well as the news of the clubs."

"I think The Wellington Leader is fair in its coverage of all types of news," stated B. W. Baird, county superintendent. "The schools appreciate the good coverage they receive."

An example of active public service was given by Mr. Baird. "One of the campaigns in which the paper has taken an active part is that of town beautification," he said. "This policy has been evident all along, and the recent example is the park campaign."

"Church activities have received excellent news coverage," declared Rev. Howard Jones, pastor of the Baptist Church. "We appreciate the paper's sponsorship of church activities."

"In my opinion The Leader always gives good general coverage, and it uses lots of names," stated Postmaster R. F. Curry, who has been reading The Leader "ever since there's been a Leader."

from that area southeast of Wellington.

Another unusual factor in this year's crop is that the tight land is yielding somewhat better than the sandy sections. This is attributed to the fact that the extremely hot weather during the last days of August and early September burned the squares on the sandy-land crop, while the tight land crop was already made.

Cotton was selling on the local market Wednesday for from 29 to 30 cents a pound, while cottonseed is $100 per ton.

Pickers were beginning to come into the county in larger numbers this week, principally Mexican workers traveling in crews.

By far the largest group consisted of 180 members, which refuses to split up. They are housed by four farmers in the Fresno area and will gather the crops of those men. Their first picking was for Shelton Nunneley, where they gathered 18 bales the first day. They are now working for Elvis Crawley. At their peak, the group can gather 40 bales per day, the crew leader told local men.

Approximately 70 workers were due in the F. O. Masten fields, and John Trew stated that approximately 20 he had last year are returning.

Serving the family, community and nation

Did you ever stop to think that we live, we learn, we travel—all through the pages of the newspaper we read! How much broader is the scope of our lives, because we can read about our community, our nation and the world in newsprint. How much more we know about people and politics; child care and cooking; health and happiness—because our newspaper covers everything! Its editorial columns better our way of life too, by championing the democratic way when vital issues face us as a family—as community—as a nation! And praised be its advertising columns for simultaneously serving our needs and our budgets! All in all there is no truer "public servant" than your newspaper and ours!

Rockets Rout Paducah Dragons 40 To 0 In Melee Here September 26

The Paducah Dragons, heralded as a team that would play the Rockets on even terms, went to pieces after playing well during the first half and took a 40 to 0 defeat in a melee that saw the second and third team men of both schools battling it out during the fourth quarter.

Wellington did not score until the second quarter when a pass from Moore to Combs accounted for the first tally and the game continued hard during the entire first half. Wellington's second touchdown came just before the half ended. Moore shot a 30 yard pass to Fulton on the 4 yard marker, and two plays later Moore flipped a short one to Kenneth Winter for the second tally and Fulton's try for point was good to bring the score up to 13 to 0 at half time.

The unfortunate break that took the heart out of the Paducah players came early in the second half when two of the best Dragon players crashed into each other and knocked themselves out cold. The play started as a bad pass to Bill Combs who picked the ball up ten yards back of his line and started a sweeping end run. Stewart and Sandlin apparently had him trapped but as they closed in the fast Combs dodged and the Paducah players hit each other head on.

At this point Al Duncan started sending in substitutes and taking out starters; but the substitute Rockets were about as good as the starters and the sportsmanlike action did not prevent the game from turning into a rout.

With the ball on the 48, Gaston Williams who ran beautifully all evening made 8 yards on a running play. A long pass from Moore to Fulton put the ball on the 12-yard line and another to Combs made the tally and the score was 20 to 0.

Penalties against the excited Dragon players cost that team heavily at this point. With the ball on their own 32 they drew a 15-yard penalty for unnecessary roughness and another for holding and after the punt Wellington took over on the Dragon 38 and on running plays with Combs, Williams, Moore and Winter alternating, swept on down the field to make the score 26 to 0. At this point Coach Duncan finished removing the last of his starters with the exception of Kenneth Winter who was playing his first game in the backfield.

Paducah took the next kickoff and tried to pass on their own 20; but the ball was intercepted by Walter O'Neil in a sensational catch and the Rockets started driving again. Gaston Williams made a first down on the Dragon 9 yard line and Winters went through the line for 8 and then Williams took it over. The point was good and the score moved up to 33 to 0.

After the kickoff, a Paducah punt was blocked and recovered by the Rockets on the Dragon 41-yard line. A series of 5-yard penalties and bad plays caused the Rockets to go 30 yards in the wrong direction to put the ball on their own 30 yard line. Here Gaston Williams broke loose and raced 60 yards to the Dragon 9 yard line before being brought down. On the next play he swept the end to go over for the last touchdown. The try for point pass to Walter O'Neil was good but it was tried over on a penalty; but it was tried over and again it was good and the scoring ended at 40 to 0.

Vital statistics of the game follow:

Yards gained rushing, Wellington 322, Paducah 51: Passes: Wellington attempted 13 and completed 7 for 106 yards with 5 incomplete and 1 intercepted. Paducah attempted 6, with none completed, 4 incomplete and 2 intercepted. Wellington made 16 first downs and Paducah made 2.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deep appreciation to the many kind friends, neighbors and relatives who were so thoughtful and considerate during the illness and death of our beloved mother, Mrs. C. B. Cates. The wealth of flowers warmed our hearts for we knew they were tokens of love and kindness. The food was prepared and served so nicely and we especially thank the members of the Baptist church at Samnorwood for the beautiful music, and all others for this kindness. To have such friends when illness and death comes means much to us and we shall always remember each of you.

CARD OF THANKS

The second time in the last weeks we express our deepest appreciation to our friends and neighbors who so tenderly administered to us in so many ways during the death of our son and brother, Bobby Karnes.

All the beautiful flowers, the lovely dishes of food that were sent, each step taken for our comfort, every kind word spoken and the cards of sympathy, when woven together made one large mountain of kindness which will live in our hearts until life's book shall forever be closed.

May God unfold his wings of love and spread o'er each of you and help you to be prepared to go, should the angels of death call your name is our sincere prayer.

15,000 HARVESTERS READY

Fifteen thousand mechanical cotton harvesters, mostly of the stripper type shown in the picture, will help gather the 1947 crop this fall, the National Cotton Council reports. Though far from enough to help relieve the widespread farm labor shortage, their increasing number promises a day when Cotton Belt farms will equal or surpass those anywhere in the nation in production efficiency.

Lions Sponsor Modernizing of Quail School

The Quail Lions Club is sponsoring the installation of lavatories in connection with the school auditorium. Lions members are building the septic tank in capacity to take care of the entire building, but will only modernize the dressing rooms at this time because of the cost. The over all cost of modernizing the building with inside toilets and lavatories will be $3,000.

The Lions Club is asking for donations to help in this project. All of the boys in high school and seventh and eighth grades have been designated to take contributions. On Monday they turned in $236.50. Many of the boys have not turned in their contributions. The school and Lions Club wish to express their appreciation for all the contributions that have been given.

Some of the people may wonder why they were asked to contribute to this project. As you know, our tax rate and our evaluation is as low as we can possibly have it. We are trying to keep that tax rate. Since our funds from taxation are not enough, we feel that the people will want to help in this project. If you wish to contribute to this cause, please send your check to R. E. Bradley, Quail, Noah Cunningham, Lion president said.

A complete list of the contributors, the amount contributed, and the boys who collected the money, will be published in the next issue of the paper. A list will also be given of the men who have given their time and labor in the building of the septic tank.

Texas produced four million turkeys in 1944.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"It's Living That Counts"

I stole the title of this column from a magazine article that said a whole lot better than I can what farm and country life can mean.

We talk about farm profits, production, research, and mechanical improvements... but isn't it true, what we really value is the life country living offers us?... the chance to be close to our families and neighbors... children sharing in the chores... working with our own hands at a worthwhile job.

And country pleasures are simple: good talk at day's end, and a glass of mellow beer with friends... the companionship of man and wife, untroubled by distractions of the city... the mutual tolerance of one another's tastes—in choosing a friend, or a glass of beer, or a candidate for Governor.

Mind, I'm all for material improvements. But from where I sit, the real goodness of our country life is that spirit of tolerance, moderation, and good fellowship.

Steer Fattening on Irrigated Pasture Tested at Tech

LUBBOCK — Steers grazed in rotation on five irrigated pastures seeded with various combinations of grasses at Texas Technological College showed average daily gains ranging from 1.03 pound to 1.61 pounds, according to the pasture, during a 76-day grazing period.

This grazing trial is the first of a series in which the animal husbandry and plant industry departments at Texas Tech are seeking to answer farmer inquiries relative to the value of various irrigated pasture mixtures for producing beef.

Twelve choice yearling steers are being used in the experiment. Pastures tested thus far include alfalfa, alfalfa with brome grass, alfalfa with perennial rye, alfalfa with brome grass and perennial rye, and native grass. A combination of native grass and white clover will also be tested.

Through the rotation system, steers were moved from a plot each time they had grazed it to the degree of most practical utilization. From May 1 to July 16 the steers had access to no supplementary feeds while on pasture. No bloat occurred when grazing alfalfa alone or in grass mixtures. Once placed on a particular pasture the steers were not removed until it had been grazed down and they were ready to rotate to another one.

In each plot being grazed, the steers has various combinations of salt, bone meal and ground limestone free choice.

From mid-June the plots were irrigated at approximately two week intervals. The grazed plots were irrigated as soon as the steers were moved off. Where possible, the plots were irrigated again a few days before the animals were rotated back on them.

The first grazing report, presented August 8, indicates that steers gain weight most rapidly on native grass pasture but that the carrying capacity of this pasture is relatively low. A combination of brome grass, alfalfa and perennial rye appeared to have the highest carrying capacity. Edwin Dawson, graduate student who is conducting the experiment under direction of Dean of Agriculture W. L. Stangel, emphasized that this preliminary report is not conclusive, as it represents only a few weeks of a research project that will be continued for several years.

Editorial

It is an humbling thought, the responsibility that lies in the six-inch soil carpet that covers agricultural America. Reporter Robert S. Bird muses on the fact in The News, terming the topsoil that which "sustains the nation's life; even its place in the world."

If that six inches could be preserved there would be no concern within the Department of Agriculture and others now wondering just how far we can go in supplying food. But that six inches in twenty years, by current depletion, will be only four. Twenty years ago it was eight. Annual loss from wind and water erosion is at the equivalent of 126,000,000,000 pounds of plant food; in terms of soil, 1,500,000,000 tons.

It is unfortunate that the government's hands are not clean. Legislation the last fifteen years, long before a war or Marshall Plan was envisioned, was tragically inconsistent and dictated, not by conservation, but by politics. The tragedy is this inconsistency continues. Billions were given in one hand to conserve, in the other to support high prices and high production. The rise in wheat price has ment 14,000,000 additional acres plowed up in the Great Plains which is our breadbasket and also our Sahara.

The Agriculture Department warned recently that "dusters" may start any time. If there is a drouth there will be no Marshall Plan. There will be a general exodus of farmers from Amarillo to the Dakotas. Reporter Bird, flying over the continent, sees the treat clearly. We can not feed ourselves, nor Communist-threatened Europe, out of dust—Dallas Morning News.

• One Town Solves Its Housing Problem

Housing, which has been the critical item in San Marcos for five years and which had reached a crisis two weeks ago when it became apparent that unless it is provided, and soon, San Marcos Air Field will be moved to another location, seems now to be well along the road to complete settlement.

Paul Rogers who had presented a plan by which 50 family living units could be built on land owned by him across the river from Rio Vista Park, has, since the Friday night meeting of citizens, advanced his plans to the stage where he will build 50 family units on the River View property and 30 additional full size homes in Rio Vista Terrace. Rogers was in Austin Thursday in conference with lawyers and contractors drawing up final contracts and arranging to finance the large proposition which will entail an expenditure of an estimated $300,000 or more, not counting the investment in real estate—Walter Buckner in The San Marcos Record.

• Cotton Picker Need

County Agent T. A. Barfield estimated this morning that there are now over 300 Mexican nationals in Dawson County for the coming cotton picking season. The demand for pickers is increasing daily and the heaviest demand is expected to come between October 1 and 10.

A press association story from Washington, which was published in Wednesday's newspapers, revealed that the Mexican government had denied a request from the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce for approximately 10,000 workers. The plan which was denied would have called for the recruiting of the laborers in Mexico—Ross A. Woodson in the awson County Courier.

• C of C Program

The program of work outlined by the Brady Chamber of Commerce for the 1947-48 year is one of the most ambitious ever planned by the organization.

Divided into six separate classifications, the program calls for 46 specific projects during the ensuing year. Practically all the classifications are broken down into work by committees with several committees to each phase.

The program, as announced by the organizations includes industrial, civic, educational, tourists, aviation, livestock and highway projects—L. B. Smith in The Brady Standard.

Farm and Ranch Chatter

With Layne Beaty, WBAP, Fort Worth

No employment problem of displacement of cotton growers and pickers by the advent of mechanized cotton production is seen by Oscar Johnston of Scott, Mississippi, large cotton grower and president of the National Cotton Council.

He told the production committee of the Statewide Cotton Committee meeting at Hillsboro recently that mechanized cotton farming would bring a higher standard of living to cotton farmers. Rather than the mechanical cotton picker displacing farm hands, he said voluntary displacement by the farm hand moving to town had created a need for the machine.

Japan's cotton mills are doing a good job making cloth out of low grade cotton from the United States, Assistant Agriculture Secretary E. D. White told the cotton men at Hillsboro. Japan must be allowed to redevelop her industry if she is to survive. No cotton is grown there. Japan's 80 million people live on an area about the size of Montana, of which only 16 percent is tillable land. Their existence is dependent on foreign trade.

Mr. White told the cotton men that U. S. world trade in cotton can be "what we make it."

A can of lye in ten gallons of water costs but a few cents and is a valuable disinfectant to help control spread of such livestock diseases as hog cholera, veterinarians tell us.

A Congressman from Illinois is writing a bill asking Congress to approximate $500,000 to study the various experiments for making cumulus clouds give down their raindrops. You might call this another form of crop insurance.

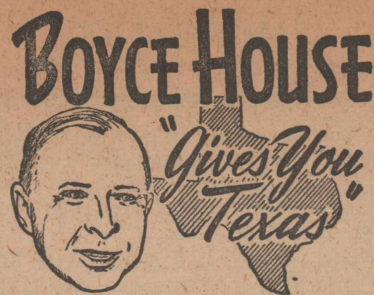

Hats off to the farmers and ranchmen of Jack county for doing something about a bad situation. Most of Texas has suffered disastrous grass and woods fires thi hot, dry summer. Jack county had its share, or more. On August 15, in response to an invitation from county agent J. W. Hulsey, farmers and ranchmen had a meeting to talk it over.

The Jacksboro fire department has been quite helpful, but doesn't have enough equipment to send more than one truck to the country when fire broke out. By September 2, some 250 farmers and ranchmen of Jack county, having decided to tax themselves two cents per acre of land owned, had raised $4000 for a new fire truck and equipment, to be kept by the Jacksboro fire department, but used on all rural fires.

Each rural community has organized a voluntary fire brigade. The new truck will carry water, and be able to pump it from ponds, streams, etc. A new-type fog gun makes ten gallons of fog out of one gallon of water, a device effective against grass fires.

The Grayson County Artificial Breeding Association, now a year old, announces 40 dairy calves dropped under the program. Headquarters are at Denison.

Ah, for the good old days!

The good old days when you got up at 5 a.m. in January with the tail of your night-shirt flapping around your chilled ankles and built a fire. But first you had to shake down the stove.

For the benefit of the younger members of our audience, it should be explained that, when ashes accumulated, the stove wouldn't draw, so the stove had to be shaken down and it took so much energy that the house was almost shaken down, too.

Then came the task of setting fire to paper and shavings and kindling and coaxing a chunk of wood to burn. Of course there was a quicker way; a teacupful of kerosene could be used but this had a way of blowing the user through the roof.

Ah, the good old days! Did you ever take a bath in a wash-tub? And the fireplace with the log fire—you roasted on one side and froze on the other.

But there is nothing finer than a fireplace with a log fire, provided the fireplace is also equipped with gas.

Guess you noticed where Fred Allen, Red Skelton and Bob Hope were faded off the air when they said something that a network vice-president didn't like. Well, I'm on the air—in fact, have two programs a week, the newest one being at 12:15 noon each Tuesday over KFJZ, Fort Worth. I wish some vice president would fade me off the air; I need the publicity. Fred, Red and Bob don't.

New Equipment To Serve You Better

We have just installed a Lummus Drier and Cleaning system which is the very latest type of drier on the market today.

It not only dries your cotton when it is damp but it takes the trash and dirt out of it before it even hits the burr machine. It is working so phenomanelly well that every single bale that we have ginned up to the present time has been classed middling. Naturally we can't add anything to your cotton; but we can give you the best sample possible for we have the equipment and the experienced ginners to do it.

As you know we have five 80-saw stands which gives us the capacity to gin your cotton promptly without rushing the job thereby giving you the best in sample turnout.

We will have a buyer at the gin at all times to assist you in marketing your cotton.

Samnorwood and Hedley Split Ball Games Sept. 23

The Samnorwood Eagles, both boys and girls teams, split a double-header with the Hedley teams Tuesday night, September 21.

Norwood girls were winners 38 to 18 in a much better game than the score indicated. Reed of Hedley, forward, proved to be the outstanding player of the evening, while the guards of that team played an exceptionally well-balanced game. The girl making the most improvement for Samnorwood since the last game was Patricia Ethridge, who scored 11 points in 7 minutes. She was ably assisted by Joyce Tippy and Jeanette Young in the forward positions.

Players for the Eagles, including substitutes, were: Jeanette Young, Patricia Ethridge, Joyce Tippy, Cleo Brooks, Mary Amerson, Joyce Price, Betty Jo Fain, Ravena Cunningham, Wanda Browning, Camilla Coleman and Helen Carreker.

Hedley players were Reed, Alexander, Banister, Spear, Jennings, Sanders, Shaw, Meeks and Sargent.

The boys played a close, fast game throughout the night, with the final score going to Hedley 31 to 26.

Most improved player for the Eagles was six-foot, four-inch Nolan Poteet, who scored 14 of the 26 points. Stone and Everett were outstanding for Hedley. They exhibited a lot of skill in shooting goals, and were exceptionally good on defense. Stone accounted for 10 points and Everett 8.

Players included: Samnorwood: Clinton Keys, Doug Payne, Jody McBrayer, Nolan Poteet, Richard Overcast, and Joe Bailey.

Hedley: Stone, Everett, Gibson, Bevers, Todd and Hurrincher.

The two final games before school is dismissed for cotton picking will be with the Quail Quails. The first of these was scheduled for Tuesday evening, September 30 at Quail and the other will be Thursday evening, October 2 at Samnorwood.

Wellington Delegates Attend Convention

Mrs. Walter Franks, Mrs. O. A. Kiker and Mrs. Elliott Wynn were delegates from Wellington to the annual Texas Home Demonstration Association convention held in Galveston September 24-26.

At the convention the constitution was amended so that fourteen districts will now make up the association instead of the existing twelve. It was also decided that a person must be a club member of at least a year's standing in order to hold office and the group adopted an official pin.

Adoption of the fourteen district makeup will now make it possible for the home demonstration districts to work hand in hand with the fourteen existing extension districts of the state.

Each district also held separate meetings and worked out plans for the next year. Workshops were set up for the delegates to attend, and each shop was an example for the theme of the convention, "Let There Be Light."

All home demonstration clubs in the state were represented at the convention by their district delegates. 460 voting delegates, 22 officers, and 195 visitors were present.
