

EASTLAND CO. — Area 925 square miles; population 33,981; cotton, fruit, poultry, dairying, natural gas and oil. Cisco is headquarters for operators of the great shallow oil field; churches of all denominations.

CISCO DAILY NEWS

CISCO, TEXAS — 1,614 feet above the sea; 5 lakes of water; 5 rail exits; 6 paved highway exits; 127 blocks of brick streets; good hotels; A-1 public schools and Randolph College; no mosquitoes; no malaria or typhoid.

VOLUME XIV.

CISCO, TEXAS, FRIDAY, MAY 26, 1933.

SIX PAGES TODAY

NUMBER 106.

GOLD STANDARD ACT REPEAL SOUGHT

Validity of Lotief Bill to Ban Rate Cutting Studied

SCHEDULES AT EASTLAND AND CISCO AIRED

AUSTIN, May 26.—Validity of the bill by Rep. Cecil A. Lotief, of Cross Plains, to prevent utilities wrecking municipal or competing plants by rate cuts was studied by a sub-committee on state affairs today.

After arguing the bill until near midnight the committee shifted it to the smaller group today.

Provisions of the bill calling for charter forfeiture for actions to prevent

DECISION AUGUST 1.

FORT WORTH, May 26.—The railroad commission will announce its decision on a fair rate to be charged by the Lone Star Gas company by August 1. E. O. Thompson, commissioner, said here today.

The ruling will affect gas rates in more than 260 Texas cities.

vent competition would keep a utility from extending service lines or making a lower rate in cooperation with municipal governments, utility attorneys claimed.

Eastland and Cisco gas rates and San Angelo and Spur electric rates were aired in connection with charges that the variations are unjust. Roy C. Coffee, of the Lone Star Gas company, asserted that a sliding scale in Cisco makes its rate nearly the same as Eastland's.

Rep. O. F. Chastain, Eastland, told the committee he had been unable to get an answer to why Texas gas delivered at the gate of Texas cities costs 50 cents a thousand cubic feet while the same gas transported to Chicago is delivered for half that amount.

Winner of Poster Contest Announced

Winners in the local poster contest conducted by the American Legion auxiliary among school children, entries in which were displayed in the recent school exhibit in the building formerly occupied by Statham's Pharmacy, were announced yesterday as follows:

First, Marguerite Hagaman; honorable mention, Jesse Lee Haynie and Velvie Wood.

Miss Hagaman's winning poster will be sent to Austin for entry in the state contest conducted by the Auxiliary. The winning poster in the state contest will go to Washington.

The posters are based upon the Poppy Sale them, and the contest was instituted in connection with this sale.

Mrs. C. E. Yates was chairman of the Cisco contest committee.

Means, Whitaker Get 2-Year Terms

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Gaston B. Means and Norman T. Whitaker were sentenced to two years imprisonment today on Lindbergh ransom hoax charges.

THREE GUESSES

HAS ANYONE WON THE MEMORIAL DAY SPEED CLASSIC AT INDIANAPOLIS MORE THAN ONCE?

NAME THIS DICTATOR INVIRILE WHAT DOES THIS WORD MEAN?

ANSWERS ON PAGE SIX

Gold Stars --- and Stars and Stripes

Bound for France to visit their loved ones' graves, 1933's first contingent of Gold Star mothers and widows is pictured waving farewell to New York from the deck of the S. S. President Harding.

LEAGUE LEAD AT STAKE IN GAME SUNDAY

Cisco and Perrin will be battling for first place in the Oil Belt loop when they meet at Chesley park here Sunday. At present Perrin is leading, with only one defeat, which was administered by the Cisco Red Sox. The Sox, with two losses to mar their record, are in second place.

Satch Henson, who pitched last Sunday, will probably start on the mound for Cisco. The Perrin battery has not yet been announced.

Although out in both games, the Sox took a double header from Mineral Wells here Sunday, 2 to 1 and 5 to 4. In the first game Henson gave up 7 hits to 3 for Cross of Mineral Wells. In the second, the Resorters collected 10 blows from Johnson and Henson while the home club was hitting Morman's offerings 4 times.

10 More Are Sent to Reforestation Army

Ten more Eastland county recruits were sent Wednesday to Uncle Sam's reforestation army headquarters in Fort Worth from Cisco by the R. F. C. committee which has charge of the selection of the men. This number included four from Cisco, and three each from Eastland and Ranger.

Following are the names of the men sent:

Cisco, Jack Moore, Harvey Steward, Earl Lee Bates, Dudley Brazell; Eastland, Woodrow Harbin, Charles Sylvester, Harold Pentecost; Ranger, C. H. Vinson, Earl Ivey, K. McGlothlin.

Beer Case Verdict Here Is Appealed

Aubrey Wooten, arrested yesterday by Constable Joe Hicks and city police on a charge of possession of intoxicating liquor, today appealed from a verdict in Justice Joe Wilson's court in which a fine was assessed.

Charges were filed against Wooten after Constable Joe Hicks and city police had confiscated 117 bottles of beer.

19 YEARS OF STUDY

OSGOOD, Ind., May 26 — Nineteen years of study together were completed by William and Wilford Butt Osgood twins, who graduated from Hamma Divinity School recently.

GLASS CAUSES FLARE-UP IN MORGAN PROBE

WASHINGTON, May 26. — Sen. Glass, Dem., Va., the senate investigation of J. P. Morgan and company to insist employment of Ferdinand Pecora as committee counsel never had been authorized by the committee in charge of the inquiry.

There was a sudden flare-up with the aged Virginian pounding the table in complaint.

Sen. Couzens, Rep., Mich., backed Pecora to the limit and insisted that Chairman Fletcher rule whether his line of inquiry into the Morgan and company financing methods were within the limits of the authority conferred by the United States senate.

COMMITTEE RECESSES.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The senate Morgan committee recessed at 1:25 p. m. today until 10 a. m. next Wednesday.

Partners in the powerful house of Morgan, who have seen secrets of their financial empire spread to the world in three days of startling testimony, won a point today.

The investigating committee in secret session decided not to reveal the names of partners who have borrowed from the Morgan firm.

Capitol Hill echoed today with a demand that Sec'y of the Treasury William H. Woodin resign as word circulated that he was on all five lists of "friends" whom J. P. Morgan and company invited to buy securities at bargain prices.

Woodin was on both lists disclosed thus far in the senate investigation. Three more lists await later publication.

Shorter Week Is Preferred by Women

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Women in one large manufacturing plant prefer a short work week, according to the women's bureau of the department of labor, which surveyed the results of the experiment.

The factory, unnamed, previously had been on three eight-hour shifts. The change to four six-hour shifts was preferred by 77 per cent of all women who had worked under both schedules. The plant employed 434 women.

The women workers were asked if they liked the change, with the smaller pay, while the managers were asked if the shorter hours increased efficiency.

"Advantages of the change reported by the management," said the bureau, "included decreased overhead, increased return from capital investment, elimination of cafeteria expense.

"The reason most often given by the women who liked the shorter workday were the increased time available for home duties and for leisure, and the fact that they were less tired at the close of the day."

Those who preferred the longer day explained their preference was due solely to the higher pay possible.

ICKES URGES OIL CONTROL BILL PASSAGE

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Federal control of the nation's oil output is necessary if the industry is to be preserved, Sec'y of Interior Ickes testified today in urging inclusion of the Marland bill in the administration's public works and industrial control program.

The petroleum control bill in its present form would set up an administrator who, after consulting representatives of the various oil producing states, would have the power to regulate oil production in the United States, limit foreign petroleum imports and regulate hours of work and wages in the oil fields.

Held in Swindling of Murder Victim

New York's amazing murder mystery took a new sensational turn when police arrested Arthur John Hoffman (left) and George Goodman (right), accountants, charging they joined Lee Weinstein, secretary of the slain millionaire eccentric, Edward A. Ridley, in swindling

Ridley out of $210,000 and faking his will to make Weinstein a $200,000 beneficiary. Ridley and Weinstein were found murdered in their sub-basement of office May 10. Hoffman and Goodman are shown after their arrest.

ILLINOIS VOTES ON PROHIBITION REPEAL JUNE 1

By DON E. CHAMBERLAIN
United Press Staff Correspondent
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 26 — Prohibition and the filling of 79 important judgeships, including five on the state supreme court bench, are important issues which will face Illinois voters in statewide judicial elections June 5.

Prohibition is involved through the election of 50 delegates to a state convention, to be acting on ratification of congressional repeal of the 18th amendment.

The battle over election of delegates is the first real test of wet and dry strength in Illinois for years, although wets point to referendums held in recent years, wherein the electorate voted overwhelmingly for repeal as concrete evidence that Illinois soon will be among the first states to ratify repeal.

All the delegates are to be elected at large, with the convention itself to be of the "rubber stamp" variety.

Candidates seeking election are pledged for or against repeal and the fifty with the highest vote will be declared elected.

2 Hurt in Crash Here This Morning

Mrs. E. Albert Jensen and Miss Helen Milligan were injured this morning when the car driven by Mrs. Jensen struck a telephone pole at the corner of West Second street and J avenue. The two had started to Abilene.

Mrs. Jensen lost three teeth in the accident and Miss Milligan was treated for head abrasions and shock at the Graham sanitarium. A defective steering gear was believed to have caused the crash. Green's ambulance answered the emergency call.

Mrs. Jensen's husband and Miss Milligan's father, O. D. Milligan, are construction engineers for the H. W. Underhill company which is building the new post office here.

CHARMS FAILED DIVER

LAPORTE, Ind., May 26 — The good luck charms of two rabbit feet carried by Guy C. Kilgore, Miami, Fla., a professional high diver, failed him when he was killed by a train.

Senior Play to Be Presented Tonight

"It's Up to You" is the title of the three-act comedy-drama which the senior class of the high school will present this evening at 8:15 at the high school auditorium. A senior play is traditionally a part of the commencement season of the school, and proceeds are used for school benefit. The closing exercises usually begin with its presentation.

The play is directed by Misses Elizabeth Dial and Juanita Bounds, senior sponsors.

The following is the cast:
Mrs. Carlton . . . Betty Fee Spears
Mrs. Stackpole . . . Faye Clark
Ruth Carlton . . . Pauline McClintock
Maid in Carlton Home . . . Annette Stephens
Peter Manning . . . John Miley
Richard Stackpole . . . Frank Aycock
Dorothy Carlton, Ruth's cousin . . . Mary Jane Morehart
Mr. Bean, Richard's assistant . . . Pierce Thomason
Miss Prescott, stenographer . . . Zona Miller

To Preach Final Sermon Here Sunday

The Rev. E. L. Miley, former pastor of the First Christian church here and now pastor of the First Christian church at Frederick, Okla., will preach at the First Methodist church Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The sermon will be the last that Mr. Miley will preach in Cisco before leaving with his family for his new pastorate.

Members of the Christian church and all of Mr. Miley's friends are invited to attend this service, the Rev. O. O. Odum, pastor of the Methodist church, said.

Mr. Miley resigned from the local pastorate to accept the call to Frederick in his fifth year here. His tenure as a Cisco pastor, was marked with his prominence in civic affairs.

He was at the time of his resignation vice-president of the Cisco Charity and Welfare association and was active in the administration of the work of that organization. He was also chairman of the Ministerial association of the city. Randolph college was another institution to which he devoted a great deal of service.

His sermon subject for Sunday evening will be, "Building Zion's Walls."

Suit Against City Of Eastland Delayed

ABILENE, May 26 — Hearing of the suit of the Security Benefit association versus the City of Eastland, scheduled in federal district court here this morning, was postponed until tomorrow morning because of the prorotation hearing which is being conducted at Fort Worth today by a three-judge federal court in which Judge James C. Wilson is sitting.

The suit of the Security company alleges an amount of $3,000 in Eastland municipal bond payments is past due.

Queer Wills Found In Quaker City

PHILADELPHIA, May 26 — Among the queer wills entered for probate in the register of wills office is one that seems unique.

Written by John Reid, employed long ago as a lamplighter in the old Walnut Street Theater, it asked that his body be buried and his head presented to the property department of the theater.

"My head to be separated from my body immediately after my death," he wrote, "the latter to be buried and the former brought to the theater where I served all my life and to be employed to represent the skull of Yorick—and to this end I bequeath my head to the properties."

Read was an ardent Shakespearean and took this method of contributing his share to the presentation of "Hamlet."

Another odd will, written by a Spanish-American War Veteran, left $15 to supply beer for the survivors of his company after they marched in his funeral procession.

An old German set up a trust fund to provide a keg of beer to be rolled after his coffin and drunk by his friends over his grave.

WHITE HOUSE ORDERS BILL INTRODUCED

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Acting on white house orders, Chairman Steagall of the house banking committee today introduced a resolution to repeal the gold standard act of the United States.

This action, he said, definitely takes the United States off the gold basis for its currency.

In addition the resolution would make federal currency of all kinds legal tender for public and private debts.

"This thing means but one thing," Steagall said. "The United States has declared its independence of gold." He asserted flatly that he was acting on personal orders from President Roosevelt.

TWO PROPOSED AMENDMENTS ARE APPROVED

AUSTIN, May 26. — The house committee on constitutional amendments today reported favorably on two more proposed changes.

It approved the proposal that impeachment shall not bar an official from holding an office to which he may be elected later. This would permit former Gov. James E. Ferguson to again hold state office. He will be unable to run in the next election, however, for the committee changed the date of the proposed referendum from August 26, of this year, to November 6, 1934.

The committee also approved a vote in November, 1934, on a state tax levy of three cents on $100 valuation for payment of old age pensions.

Tax Relief Bill Signed by Governor

AUSTIN, May 26 — Relief from penalties and interest on taxes delinquent on February 1, this year, was assured tax-payers today when the governor approved the delinquent tax bill.

Under it the taxes may be paid up to September 30 with only one per cent as penalty. There is also provision for later payment with gradually rising penalties.

Southern Methodists To Meet in Jackson

DALLAS, May 26 — The general conference of the Methodist church, South, for 1934 will be held in Jackson, Miss., on April 26, Dr. O. P. Clark, secretary of the entertainment committee, announced here today.

Dr. Clark, of Sweetwater, said 17 cities bid for the conference at the committee meeting he attended at Montgomery, Ala.

DO 40 TYPES OF WORK

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, May 26 — A survey has disclosed that University of Utah students follow 40 types of jobs in working their way through school. The range covers everything from manual labor to fashion modeling.

LENS IN SUICIDE ATTEMPT

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., May 26 — A lens from his eye glasses was used in a suicide attempt by Harry Miller, 50, a prisoner at the state hospital for the criminally insane here, when he slashed his wrists.

TURTLE HAD DESIGN

TEXARKANA, May 26 — Travis Johnson, II, found a small turtle in Grassy Lake near Naples, Texas, with a perfect design of a Chinaman on its under shell. The figure even had slanting eyes.

WEATHER

West Texas—Fair, warmer tonight. Saturday partly cloudy, warmer east portion.
East Texas—Warmer west portion tonight. Saturday partly cloudy.

THE CISCO DAILY NEWS

Phone 80.

Published By THE CISCO PRINTING & PUBLISHING COMPANY.
 304-306 D Avenue, Cisco, Texas.

MEMBER UNITED PRESS.
 MEMBER ADVERTISING BUREAU.
 TEXAS DAILY PRESS LEAGUE.

W. H. La ROQUE Manager.
 B. A. BUTLER Editor.
 Entered at the Postoffice in Cisco, Texas, as Second Class Mail matter.

Publication Days: Afternoons (except Saturday) and Sunday morning.
 Subscription Rates: Per Month (delivered in Cisco), 50c, if paid in advance, Twelve months, $5.00 in Texas; $6.50 out of state.

Obituaries, Cards of Thanks and Classified, 2c per word.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of this paper will be gladly corrected upon being brought to the attention of the editor.

Any error made in advertisements will be gladly corrected upon being brought to attention of the publishers and the liability of this paper is limited to the amount of the space consumed by the error in the advertisement.

THE TOURIST DOLLAR.

Excerpts from an address delivered by H. W. Stanley, of Dallas, secretary of the Broadway of America association, at the convention of that association in El Paso recently, contain some interesting analytical information respecting the tourist industry. For instance, he said, that the tourist business in 1931 was 60 per cent greater in dollar volume than the lumber business, 45 per cent greater than the printing and publishing business, 185 per cent greater than the shoe business, 222 per cent greater than the cotton production of 1931 and equal to the gigantic iron and steel industry.

"Domestic travel," he told the convention, "has felt the depression less than perhaps any other major industry. This is due to the fact that while thousands have been denied the opportunity of foreign travel, they still have enough money available to 'See America'."

The total tourist business of the United States in 1931 amounted to three billions of dollars, the secretary quoted Roger Babson as estimating.

A check of foreign cars at a point on the south loop of the Bankhead highway—that part of the highway upon which Cisco, Eastland and Ranger are located,—a few years ago showed that 1,000 of these out-of-state cars passed a given point during the day, he said. The cars averaged three persons each or "a total of 3,000 paying guests of the Broadway that day."

"This tourist traffic," continued Stanley, "serves to stimulate all trade and economic activity. A study of the how the tourist dollar is spent reveals:

"Retail merchants	26 cents
"Cafes and restaurants	21 cents
"Hotels and camps	17 cents
"Gas, oil, accessories	12 cents
"Theaters and shows	9 cents
"Other transportation	7 cents
"Confectioneries and Incd.	5 cents
"Street cars and taxis	3 cents

"Total

The American Hotel association shows us that each tourist dollar the hotel receives is spent as follows:

"Salaries	31 cents
"Sundry expenses	24 cents
"Feed	20 cents
"Interest on capital	10 cents
"Taxes, insurance	6 cents
"Depreciation	9 cents

"Total

Cisco might well give some thought to what such figures would mean to this city in relation to the vacation attractions which it has to offer. Suppose a portion of the hundreds of tourist cars which pass here during a normal vacation season day were to spend an extra day in Cisco. What would it mean to Cisco?

CONVICT LABOR GIVEN A BOOST.

The senate adopted the Cathey house measure to install equipment for the manufacture of automobile number plates and metal markers in the Texas penitentiary. This bill was shot through the house and over the top to the senate. It was enacted by the senate and the vote was 19 to 9, with Sen. Frank Rawlings of Tarrant leading a very aggressive forlorn hope.

There is a bill pending providing that the textbooks used in colleges and schools of Texas shall be manufactured in Texas. Texas has many job printing concerns magnificently equipped for the work. Texas has printers and bookbinders as thoroughly qualified as those of any American commonwealth.

THE NEW DEAL

It is the old, old question: "Why not keep Texas money in Texas. Why not furnish employment to the skilled workers as well as the unskilled workers of Texas? All things being equal, why not build up the industries of Texas, establish woolen mills and tanneries in Texas, and strive to make Texas a powerful industrial, as well as the greatest agricultural commonwealths?"

Fortunate Man, Colonial Biles --- $75,000 He Draws Down Annually to Head A. P. I.

By HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD

Col. A. J. Biles, president of the Tidewater Associated companies, is the new president of the American Petroleum Institute. Col. Biles' salary will be $75,000 a year, and he will serve until Dec. 31, 1934. A like salary is paid to the president of the United States. Fortunate man, Col. Biles of the Tidewater companies.

Col. Harry F. Sinclair, one of the executive committee of the Consolidated Oil corporation, continues in the picture. His stockholders held an annual meeting. Col. Sinclair sat at the head of the table. He saw "hope and prospects of improvement in the oil industry." He referred to proposed federal action which he said would be "beneficial."

Col. Wirt Franklin of Oklahoma, slightly disfigured by receivership proceedings, continues in the picture. Col. Franklin was a lifelong democrat until Franklin D. Roosevelt was nominated for president. Then the Oklahoma colonel bolted in the direction of the camp of the elephant and cast his presidential ballot for Hoover and Charlie of Kansas. Well, the colonel is not optimistic. He refuses to take kindly to federal control or regulation of the petroleum industry. Indeed, he has insinuated that federal control will result in the complete domination of the fields by the major companies of gigantic proportions and immense wealth.

ALLRED AND HIS MACHINE

Col. James V. Allred, attorney general of Texas, enlarged his picture by making a speech in the city of Wichita Falls.

His machine gun was loaded to the muzzle.

A very graphic account of the Wichita Falls meeting and the machine gun fire appeared in The Austin American of Friday. Harold F. Ickes is secretary of the interior. He appears to be "rearing to go." His viewpoint is that if waste is to be curbed and stability ushered in that drastic action must be taken by the administration. Really, a federal czar of the petroleum industry named by the battling and ever aggressive Harold Ickes would make life interesting for the majors and minors and 15 different types or brands of so-called independents in the petroleum sections of the United States.

Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson sent a message to the lawmakers. Advance warning was given that it would make the 181 Texas lawgivers weep. This message carried a most vigorous demand for the balancing of the budget on the part of the legislative branch of the government.

It appears that the state auditor and the state comptroller have "lined drives." These worthy officials are positive that there will be a huge deficit at the close of the biennium.

RINGING AROUND THE WORLD

"Balance the budget" is a cry that is ringing around the world. Herbert demanded the budget should be balanced. He is out in California studying the stars.

Prime Minister McDonald demanded that the British budget should be balanced. He is on the world highway somewhere but does not know where he is going. Same as all the capitals of Europe. Pres. Roosevelt calls for the balancing of the budget. He has advised the repeal of the 18th amendment without delay. Mild beer without a kick has placed $150,000,000 in the treasury for Uncle Sam to disburse. Those who are close to the president say that the repeal of the 18th amendment and drastic control of the sale of liquor would place $800,000,000 a year in the strong box of the government. This would balance the budget; or at least the claim is made that it would balance the budget and call for the repeal of a lot of nuisance taxes imposed by the national lawmakers in recent years.

But back to Texas and the Texas governor and Texas lawmakers. The "balance the budget" message carried this neat compliment to the legislators. "Instead of having any criticism to offer to the legislature for not adjourning, I want to say that I think the legislature should be commended for staying in session upon reduced compensation for their services, and I trust that you will continue your patriotic endeavor until you have finished the labor of providing revenue to meet the obligations of the state."

"In other words balance the budget."

TOO BUSY TO OPEN EXPOSITION
 Pres. Roosevelt, owing to pressing business engagements, was compelled to decline the invitation to open the world's fair of Chicago. He delegated the honor and the task to Vice-Pres. John Nance Garner. Garner was compelled to pass the buck owing to overwhelming press of congressional business including the trial of a federal judge in California for rank injustice to litigants in bankruptcy cases.

A reminder that Col. Jed C. Adams was sworn in May 16 as a member of the board of tax appeals. Vice-Pres. John N. Garner administered the oath in the hearing room in the board's office in Washington. A large number of friends and members of the Texas congressional delegation was present. Col. Adams will continue as committeeman for Texas. He was elected for a term of four years. Washington correspondents advise that barring accident or death he will continue to serve as national committeeman until 1936.

Col. James A. Farley is holding down one job with a salary attached and three very important jobs where he is permitted to pay his own expenses for his political activities. He is state chairman of the New York democracy, he is national committeeman of the New York democracy, he is chairman of the committee of the national democracy and postmaster general in the cabinet of the president of the United States. New York democrats insisted that he continue to serve as state chairman; that he continue to serve as national chairman, so there you are. Let it go at that.

This old world continues to go around and it is admitted that it is the best copy-making age that has adorned the history of mankind.

Through the Editor's Spectacles

By GEORGE

Joe Clements, street superintendent, has done his good deed for the week. There isn't any more flagpole base in the center of D avenue at Eighth street. Joe and his crew have hammered this atrocity out of the pavement and you may drive over the spot now without doing a loop-the-loop. I tried to straddle the blamed thing once upon a time and didn't miss it. Cisco had about as much use for it as a married man has for a telephone directory. Thanks, Joe.

While I am on the subject of unnecessary things I want to call attention to these half-burned houses that stand on some of our best residential streets. These eye-sores undo all the good work that is done to make the residential districts attractive. If they have any practicality at all, it serves to remind Cisco people of this city's bad fire record of the past two or three years. That isn't enough to justify marring the charm of the residential properties about them. You can well imagine what a shock one of these blackened ghosts is to the visitor who would otherwise go away with a good impression of Cisco's civic pride.

As if the unsightliness of the ruin is not alone enough every one of them encourages the unkempt. In each case the lot upon which it stands runs riot with a tangle of weeds, grass and neglected shrubbery. On either side are well-tended lawns, bearing evidence of a pride of home. But all the adjacent beauty cannot overcome the shabbiness and neglect of these ugly spots.

As I understand, Cisco has ordinances requiring the removal of such unsightly splashes. If there is no ordinance one should be enacted. There is no excuse for permitting the condition to continue.

Last evening was a red-letter day on my calendar. After three years of trying I beat Will St. John at dominoes. Will was growling like an Arctic bear. Dominoes with Will is a science, a science as esoteric as Einstein's theories of relativity. He figures his game from the square of the seven bones divided by pi. He knows more about what I hold in my hand than I do myself, and heretofore he has made my playing look like a moulting hen in a slow drizzle. (Forgive the trope).

But luck was with me last night. After the first game, said Will: "I don't want to complain about these hands I'm getting, but they're rotten."

After the second game: "I never saw any monkey hold the last domino like you do."

During the third game, when, with only one domino in my hand I made a lucky draw and accidentally blocked the play letting him down full-handed: "Well, you count them. I'm not. I don't know whether it's luck or not, but I can't play against such a fellow."

After the third game Will got all hot and bothered. He flung science to the four winds and plunged in whole-hog to rule or ruin. He won a game, but it rankled him to have a novice mess up the best laid formulae of the ancient and noble pastime of dominoes. He pulled off his coat and went in for blood and we came down the home stretch nose to nose with myself ten pence ahead at the finish wire.

He was ready to go to bed. GLENDALE, Ore., May 26 — Salmon fishing was simple for Albert Snyder. He trolled for half a day without a bite than a 20-pound Chinook suddenly leaped from the water and landed in his boat.

Freckles and His Friends.

CHICHESTERS PILLS
 THE DIAMOND BRAND
 Ladies Ask your Druggist
 for Chichesters Diamond
 Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no others. They are your Druggist.
 CHICHESTERS PILLS
 THE DIAMOND BRAND
 PILLS, for 40 years known as best. Sold by Druggists
 SOLO BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—There will be no recognition of Soviet Russia until President Roosevelt has cleared up the major part of his long-range domestic program or until he observes signs of a strong popular demand.

The president emphatically doesn't want the fact that he sent his disarmament message to Russia as well as fifty-odd other countries to be construed as having the slightest bearing on recognition.

The emphasis may be attributed to the fact that he has been impressed by a strong vocal opposition to recognition which arose in the wake of reports that he was favorable. The D. A. R., the American Legion and the American Federation of Labor—which represent millions—led the chorus of protest.

Roosevelt is sympathetic to the idea of recognition and some of his professional advisers strongly favor it. But the president doesn't regard it as a matter of great immediate importance and has no intention of creating a distracting national controversy while vital problems are being worked out.

FRIENDS of recognition will soon launch a national campaign to bring popular pressure on the White House. An effort will be made to collect a couple of million signatures to a petition and speakers will tour the country to arouse sentiment.

This group is convinced that the two nations will have exchanged ambassadors again before the end of Roosevelt's present term. Many of the leaders of Congress are favorable and this reflects a popular tendency toward diplomatic dealings with Moscow, even though militant opponents shout and outnumber those who actively advocate it.

Recognition is a purely executive function. The fight in the Senate would arise over confirmation of an ambassador or ratification of the treaty which would be signed at or about the time recognition took place.

CABINET notes: Postmaster James A. Farley—Proved that the popularity of a patronage boss is more powerful than any other popularity when 3300 persons turned out at a $6 a plate testimonial dinner for him in New York the other night and 1800 others had to be turned away. It was one of the biggest dinners anywhere, ever.

Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins—Became so tired of reading about her "black tricorne hat" that she now wears a black headgear resembling a man's slouch hat except for its narrow brim, broad crown and large silver metallic feathers along the crown's base.

She is growing tired of being addressed as "Madame Secretary." To a group recently she said: "Call me Miss Perkins. I'd just as soon and it seems more natural."

Strictly in the Swim!

College and schoolboy runners proved to be good mud runners when they put on the annual interscholastic and Pitt-West Virginia track meet at Pittsburgh recently. The picture shows the finish of the collegiate 100-yard dash, the contestants mirrored in a pool of water. Inset is mud-spattered Zimmerman of West Virginia after he galloped to a win in the collegiate mile.

Check this list—

Lighting	?
Cleaning	?
Cooking	?
Washing	?
Ironing	?
Toaster	?
Waffle Iron	?
Refrigeration	?
Heating	?

ALL the every-day tasks listed above can be made easier—can be done more efficiently, more economically, faster, and with far better results if you put Electricity, the modern Servant, on the job!

LIGHTING . . . You won't hesitate to admit the vast superiority of modern electric lighting over any other method. —And actually it's cheaper!

CLEANING . . . Who'd consider the back-breaking broom, dustpan and mop method when a modern Vacuum Sweeper operates for a penny a day?

COOKING . . . The modern Electric way is more healthful, produces better meals, releases time for glorious leisure—and saves money!

WASHING . . . Clothes washed the modern way last longer, look better and are cleaner! In any and all homes, the modern Electric Washer is a necessity.

IRONING . . . Just as the Electric Washer has revolutionized home laundry methods, the Electric Ironer offers finer ironing—at a price that is insignificant.

TOASTER . . . Toast, made and served right at the table—just as needed and of just the golden brown perfection preferred—is a welcome addition at any meal.

WAFFLE IRON . . . Waffles have become an American Institution—for morning, noon or midnight supper. And delicious breads, pastries, cookies and toasted sandwiches also can be made on the modern Electric Waffle Iron.

REFRIGERATION . . . The money-saving, health-guarding superiority of the convenient and efficient Electric Refrigerator is well known to all.

Let Electricity do your household work! It is clean, safe, modern, efficient and inexpensive. These "Electrical Servants" are all reasonably priced . . . their entire salaries can be figured in terms of pennies . . . and they'll pay for themselves through savings! Why do disagreeable household tasks when it's cheaper to let electricity work for you? Ask a representative to call on you . . . TODAY.

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule . . . and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

West Texas Utilities Company

BEHIND THE WAR SCENES IN THE FAR EAST

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth installment of Frederick Whiteing's diary, written while with the Japanese army in Jehol Province, China. Whiteing, United Press Staff Correspondent, wrote the record of his day's experiences each night before tumbling onto one of the famous Oriental "stove beds."

The difference in dates is due to time occupied by transmitting the diary extracts by mail from the Far East.

By FREDERICK WHITEING
United Press Staff Correspondent
WITH THE JAPANESE ARMY
8TH DIVISIONAL HEADQUARTERS

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

CALIFORNIA, Washington and Oregon lead the parade of the states in the frequency of earthquakes. The other states show from one to twenty disturbances recorded against them, with the exception of North Dakota, which has not yet been marked on the earthquake map. According to N. H. Heck, chief seismologist of the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, the major U. S. earthquake occurred at New Madrid, Mo., in 1811.

TERS, JEHOI CITY, March 6. — Leaving Pingchuan early today, I finally arrived, with a Japanese army motor truck column, in the capital of Jehol at noon.

The cars passed through the outskirts of the city, crossing the Jehol river, where they were welcomed by a crowd of inhabitants waving Japanese and Manchukuo flags. Going through the palace wall gate and several smaller gates inside, we drew up in front of the inner gate leading to the section of the Manchu Emperors' palace, which had been occupied by Governor Tang Yu-lin, his wives and staff. Major-General Kawahara, commanding the Japanese leading column, had established his headquarters here.

The road from Pingchuan climbs steadily, over stony roads and mountain passes, until it suddenly reaches the summit of a pass from where it makes a long, breath-taking descent into the little plain on either side of the Jehol river in which Jehol City is situated.

From this descent, which is exceedingly steep, there is one of the finest views I ever have seen. Beyond the Jehol Valley, there stretched away range after range of blue, snow-capped mountains.

This afternoon, Lieutenant-General Nishi, with his staff of the 8th Division, entered the city, and took up his quarters in the old palace.

Then he, with his staff went to the outer-wall gate and received the greetings of citizens, school-boys and girls. The boys were in western clothes, but the girls wore a costume that seemed to be a mixture of western and Chinese dress.

With the committee I previously had found Father Oscar Conrad, Belgian priest, with whom I had made arrangements to lodge.

The streets of the city were full of people until nightfall, quite animated over the events of the past few days. But they seemed to be quite without fear, and shops were open. Many had Japanese soldiers as customers.

All the doorways and gateways are profusely decorated with Japanese and Manchukuo flags. The latter seem to have been supplied from the Manchukuo advance agents, they showed they had been printed in the five colors. But the Japanese flags all have been improvised.

The cloth flags usually have the red center sewed on, sometimes on one side only, and sometimes over a hole cut in the white cloth. Some have the red center painted on with pig's blood. The paper flags have the sun put on in pig's blood, or red paint. These paper flags are mostly pasted onto the walls.

CLOSING TIME FOR MAILS.

Waco and Stamford train No. 36 (S. Bound) 3:50 p. m.

Fort Worth and El Paso Train No. 16 (E. Bound) 9:50 a. m.

Fort Worth and El Paso Train No. 3 (W. Bound) 11:45 a. m.

Waco and Stamford Train No. 35 (N. Bound) 10:45 a. m.

Fort Worth and El Paso Train No. 4 (E. Bound) 4 p. m.

Fort Worth and El Paso Train No. 1 (W. Bound) 4 p. m.

All night mails close at 9 p. m. with exception of Sunday when night mails close at 6:45 p. m.

Scores Hurt in Milk Strike Battles

This serious clash between Wisconsin's milk strikers and civilian-garbed national guardsmen, in which tear gas, clubs and rocks were freely used, resulted in a hurry call for military units of the state militia. This picture was taken near Shawano at the height of the battle, in which several were wounded and 200 taken prisoners. It shows guardsmen-deputies, wearing gas masks, advancing behind their barrage of tear bombs.

NICKNAME CORRECT

WILBUR, Wash., May 26 — The W. C. T. U. here is beginning to believe that William E. "Pussyfoot" Johnson was nicknamed correctly. Though he was due to speak before a delegation here recently, they waited nearly an hour before finally becoming convinced that "Pussyfoot" must have "pussyfooted" past Wilbur.

News Want Ads Bring Results

MORE SUGAR BEETS

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, May 26 — A 20 per cent increase in sugar beet plantings on land under contract to the Utah-Idaho Sugar company has been reported. Last year there were 80,000 acres in Idaho, Utah, Montana, Wyoming and South Dakota. The figure this year is 100,000, with most of the acreage in Idaho, Utah and Montana.

News want ads bring results

Fresh Carload

WASH JOBS

Just Arrived

Get your automobile washed and lubricated for Sunday and the pleasure drives.

Exide Battery Co.

Opposite Laguna Hotel
T. & P. Products—Storage

RAY HALEY. CARL BAIRD

Job Printing
REASONABLE PRICES

CISCO DAILY NEWS
CISCO AMERICAN and ROUNDUP

We have turned the corner

Full Speed Ahead

A NEW AND BETTER GASOLINE FOR NEW AND BETTER DAYS

silent
Mobilgas

Extra good without a premium!

Higher Anti-Knock Rating assures
Outstanding
Motor Performance

MOBILGAS is now a new and better anti-knock motor fuel without a premium. Its anti-knock rating has been stepped up to a level which assures outstanding motor performance. Make the tank full test today. Try silent Mobilgas in traffic or on the highway. Try it on the steepest hills. Feel its split-second getaway and thrilling pick-up...its performance will win you at once. To distinguish the new Mobilgas it will be colored a shade of purple. When you see this new colored gasoline in Magnolia pumps, then you will know you are receiving the new and better Mobilgas. Watch for it!

Stay with

MAGNOLIA

(A SOCONY-VACUUM COMPANY)

and you stay ahead!

MAGNOLIA STATIONS AND DEALERS THROUGHOUT TEXAS, OKLAHOMA, ARKANSAS, LOUISIANA AND NEW MEXICO silent and swift as an arrow

SUGAR

With Other Groceries

10 Pounds 45c

Del Monte Sliced Pineapple

No. 1 Can 10c

No. 2 Can 15c

SHORTENING, 8 Lbs. 54c

RAJAH SALAD DRESSING
Quart Jar 23c

GRANDMOTHER'S
Sliced or Regular

Bread 6c

ANN PAGE
Pure Preserves

16 Oz. Jar .. 21c

CIGARETTES
Popular Brands

2 Pkgs. ... 27c

LEMONS
Nice Size

Dozen ... 17c

NECTAR TEA

1/4 Pound Package 15c

1/2 Pound Package 27c

LETTUCE

Large Heads 4c

ORANGES

Dozen ... 17c

8 O'CLOCK
COFFEE, Lb. ... 19cBOKAR
COFFEE, Lb. ... 25cNEW
Potatoes, Lb. ... 2 1/2 cFresh CORN
3 For 10cENGLISH STYLE
ASST. CAKES
1 Lb. Pkg. 31cN. B. C. OTHELLO
PUFF CAKES
1 Lb. 23c

MEAT MARKET SPECIALS

Sliced Breakfast Bacon 14c

Seven Steak, Pound 12c

Seven Roast, Pound 10c

Rib or Brisket Roast, lb. 7c

Dry Salt Jowls, pound 7c

Smoked Bacon, pound 12c

Watch Our Windows for Other Specials.

CRITICAL EYES FOLLOW KOY INTO BASEBALL

AUSTIN, May 26 — When big Ernest Koy unpacks his bludgeon on some New York Yankee baseball farm he will start erasing the big question mark hung on him by admirers and sports writers. Undoubtedly Koy is one of the greatest football players of all time at the University of Texas, sufficiently to win the acclaim of his coach as the best fullback he had ever seen.

But can Koy equal that reputation in baseball? Can he follow in the steps of other fledglings of Coach "Uncle Billy" Ditch who have made the grade, such as Bib Falk, former White Sox star, and Pinky Higgins, promising Philadelphia Athletic third baseman?

When Koy hits he slams the ball hard and far, a pass-word with the Yankees. His batting average this year when officially compiled is certain to be well above the .300 mark, although his hitting was off-form early in the season.

Koy is rated an excellent fielder and has a powerful arm. Despite his bulk, around 200 pounds, he is fast on the bases and has caused no end of worry to Southwest conference catchers with his base-stealing ability.

Some critics maintain that Koy is muscle-bound from football, handicapping his freedom of movement in baseball, and injuring his playing form. That remains to be seen, others maintain pointing out some of the greatest baseball players of all time have been prematurely counted out because of their batting style, notably the famous Al Simmons.

Koy hails from Sealy, a town of 2,000. The son of a former world's champion bronco rider, the 23-year-old Texas star got his first dose of baseball on the sandlots.

His play at the University of Texas in his sophomore year attracted wide attention and brought him offers of professional contracts. During summers he played with sandlots teams, adding to his reputation. This year Koy made what is probably his weakest showing with Texas University. That showing however was sufficient to land him an all-conference berth at center-field.

Tire Dealer Expert As Dressmaker
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 26 — B. Frank Million, hard-handed tobacco-chewing Oklahoma City tire dealer, is an expert "seamstress" and makes most of the dresses his wife and daughters wear.

He spends his days directing eight service station employees and comes home at night to indulge in his hobby sewing, developed when he was a youth in Denton, Texas. He is of middle age, with thinning hair.

Million's mother kept him indoors when he was quite small because of a bad neighbor boy, and he took up sewing to pass the time. By the time he was in high school, playing football and quite able to take care of himself, he also had learned designing.

Now he has a specially equipped sewing room in his home, where he spends his evening. His 17-year-old daughter, Myrtle, has worn few dresses her father did not make.

Million's work is fine enough to satisfy the most exacting girl graduate. He has tried his hand at times on hats and Mrs. Million has worn several of his creations.

STAR TO SELECT BEAUTY.
ABILENE, May 26 — Frederic March, screen star, has agreed to choose Simmons University's most beautiful girl this year in the school newspaper's annual beauty contest. Photographs of the 20 candidates will be sent to him soon.

When you're HEALTHY you're HAPPY
HAPPY days are usually healthy days. Why not add to these sunny days!

Poor health and constipation go hand in hand. Get rid of common constipation by eating a delicious cereal.

Tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to aid regularity. ALL-BRAN is also twice as rich in iron as an equal weight of beef liver.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. How much better than taking pills and drugs—so often harmful.

Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

ALL-BRAN

Superior Mudders

One family in Utah holds just about all the state swimming laurels. Three sisters of the family, Shirley, Veda, and Helen Van Buren, shown above, are the title holders. Shirley, 16, is the backstroke queen; Veda, 17, owns the breaststroke title, and Helen, 19, is the freestyle swim and springboard diving champion. They are shown above as they competed at a meet in Los Angeles.

Ocean Furnishes Milk of Magnesia

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26 — The waters of the Pacific Ocean now provide milk for science, as well as salt.

Changing sea water into milk of magnesia is the modern miracle being performed on a commercial basis by a San Francisco chemical company. Nowhere else in the world is milk of magnesia recovered from sea water, according to R. E. Clark, president of the concern.

Clark explained that other manufacturers begin with either magnesium rock or epsom salts and caustic soda to produce magnesia medical products.

With water from the Pacific Ocean as a base the company produces milk of magnesia which conforms with all requirements of the U. S. Pharmaceutical Board. The firm's unique process requires 500,000 gallons of sea water daily.

The water is pumped into huge tanks, where calcium is added. The reaction forms milk of magnesia. As this settles, it is drawn out at the bottom of the tank, and the used water is returned to the ocean. Next all salts not included in the milk of magnesia formula—sodium chloride, calcium salts, potassium salts, silicon, iron, bromine and iodine — are removed from the solution so that it conforms to the recognized formula. Then it is ready for bottling and marketing.

CANCER MORTALITY UP
TORONTO, Ont., May 26 — The cancer mortality rate in Canada and the United States for the first three months of 1933 was 7.6 per cent above that for the same period in 1932. It is pointed out by the Bureau of Statistics of an international life insurance company that the cancer mortality rate rose nearly eight per cent last year, and if conditions do not change for the rest of 1933, a like increase will be shown.

WON ANNULMENT
FROVO, Utah, May 26 — Although she was the offending party, Hazel Kostakos, of Spanish Fork, Utah, won an annulment of her marriage to Thomas G. Kostakos on the grounds that he falsely advised her as to marriage laws, with the result that she married him before her divorce became final.

TO GET LAST PAYMENT
HELENA, Mont., May 26 — Nine hundred growers who shipped their 1932 wool clip through the Montana Wool Co-operative Marketing association, soon will receive the last payment on their product, totaling $184,798.10. An extra dividend may be made later on the clip according to Murray E. Stebbins, secretary of the association.

Doctor Claims He Is Youngest Vet
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., May 26 — Youngest Civil War veteran alive is Dr. Robert Tyler, 79, of Joplin, Mo.

The physician, strong and vigorous in spite of his age, enlisted in the federal navy in 1863, at 10. He was a cabin boy — the term was "powder shooter" back in those days — and saw active service on the firing line before the war ended.

Tyler's memory of the bombardment of Fort Sumpter still is vivid. Tyler is certain of his claim of being the youngest Civil War veteran now living. He has checked records with War department. He was 79 on March 12.

Tyler recently was elected commander of the 52nd annual encampment of the Missouri Grand army of the Republic.

Men Outnumber Women at Texas
AUSTIN, May 26 — Co-eds at The University of Texas can no longer complain of a scarcity of men. In fact they may have two steady boy friends without waiting any one's time, since the registrar's report of March 31 shows that men students outnumber the co-eds of the university almost two to one. The count indicates 3,930 men to 2,002 women students. The total number who have enrolled this long session is 5,932. Of these, 5,932 were in school March 31.

Except in the school of education, which shows 151 women and 56 men students, the feminine group is in minority. The lowest percentage of women is found in the school of law, with ten women and 342 men students. Close behind is the college of engineering, with 780 men students as opposed to only 24 women.

The college of arts and sciences shows an enrollment of 2,049 men and 1,560 women students, the largest enrollment for any division of the university. The college of pharmacy with 74 members, 53 men and 11 women, has the smallest enrollment of any school.

The school of business administration, with 291 men and 58 women students enrolled, and the graduate school, with 421 men and 218 women, complete the total number of students attending the university.

SHIPMENTS OF STOCK SHOW 12 PER CENT DROP

AUSTIN, May 26 — Shipments of live stock to Fort Worth and interstate points totaled 8,416 cars in April, against 9,537 cars during the corresponding month last year, a decline of 12 per cent, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Cattle shipments of 6,030 cars were almost 19 per cent below the 7,402 cars during April last year and shipments of sheep amounting to 792 cars dropped 14 per cent from the 920 cars of April a year ago. On the other hand calf shipments of 842 cars were 4 per cent greater than the 809 cars last April and hogs increased more than 80 per cent, from 406 cars in April, 1932, to 752 cars last month.

Total interstate plus Fort Worth shipments from January 1 to May 1 were 18,246 cars and 18,297 for 1932 and 1933 respectively, or almost no change. The corresponding figures for cattle were 11,770 and 13,153 cars; calves, 2,392 cars and 1,797 cars; hogs, 2,129 and 1,083 cars; and sheep, 2,135 and 2,264 cars.

Shipments of cattle and of calves to the Flint Hills of Kansas declined about 21 and 40 per cent respectively, compared with April a year ago, while to the Osage country of Oklahoma the corresponding declines were 17 and 7 per cent.

Marked increases occurred in cattle and calf shipments to Illinois, Nebraska, and Iowa points in comparison with April last year, while shipments to the markets, especially Kansas City, Oklahoma City, Omaha, and Chicago fell off sharply. There was only a slight decline in shipment of cattle and calves to the Fort Worth market, but sheep fell off sharply while hogs increased 46 per cent. Los Angeles received slightly fewer cattle from Texas during April as compared with a year ago but a large increase in calves, hogs and sheep.

Receipts of cattle and calves from New Mexico were much greater than in April a year ago.

Larger Territory Given Mrs. Spencer

Mrs. Leslie, head of the Texas division of the Spencer Corset company, was here Thursday to confer with Mrs. J. E. Spencer, who represents the Spencer service in Eastland county. She announced that the territory to which Mrs. Spencer is assigned has been considerably broadened and now includes Abilene, Breckenridge and adjoining areas.

Mrs. Spencer has been representing the Spencer company for the past three years and her work was highly complimented by Mrs. Leslie.

She mentioned particularly the attention and service given by Mrs. Spencer in the medical branch of the work. Surgical and medical supports form a great part of the company's business. Mrs. Spencer has just returned from a visit to the factory of the company at New Haven, Conn., where she received first-hand information regarding all branches of her work. This added training, said Mrs. Leslie, will add much to her understanding of the needs of her clients here at home.

Doctor Claims He Is Youngest Vet

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., May 26 — Youngest Civil War veteran alive is Dr. Robert Tyler, 79, of Joplin, Mo.

The physician, strong and vigorous in spite of his age, enlisted in the federal navy in 1863, at 10. He was a cabin boy — the term was "powder shooter" back in those days — and saw active service on the firing line before the war ended.

Tyler's memory of the bombardment of Fort Sumpter still is vivid. Tyler is certain of his claim of being the youngest Civil War veteran now living. He has checked records with War department. He was 79 on March 12.

Tyler recently was elected commander of the 52nd annual encampment of the Missouri Grand army of the Republic.

Men Outnumber Women at Texas
AUSTIN, May 26 — Co-eds at The University of Texas can no longer complain of a scarcity of men. In fact they may have two steady boy friends without waiting any one's time, since the registrar's report of March 31 shows that men students outnumber the co-eds of the university almost two to one. The count indicates 3,930 men to 2,002 women students. The total number who have enrolled this long session is 5,932. Of these, 5,932 were in school March 31.

Except in the school of education, which shows 151 women and 56 men students, the feminine group is in minority. The lowest percentage of women is found in the school of law, with ten women and 342 men students. Close behind is the college of engineering, with 780 men students as opposed to only 24 women.

The college of arts and sciences shows an enrollment of 2,049 men and 1,560 women students, the largest enrollment for any division of the university. The college of pharmacy with 74 members, 53 men and 11 women, has the smallest enrollment of any school.

The school of business administration, with 291 men and 58 women students enrolled, and the graduate school, with 421 men and 218 women, complete the total number of students attending the university.

Keeping Up With The Boy Scouts

Lometa Registers New Troop
Sixteen boys of Lometa and 5 men registered in the new Boy Scout troop which is to be known as troop number 25 last Thursday night.

The troop committee is composed of J. E. Moore, chairman, Roland Windell and O. O. Suddath. The scoutmaster is Mr. C. W. Biggs, and assistant scoutmaster is J. B. Weaver. The following boys registered as charter members: Harold Anderson, Robert Bohning, J. N. Crouch, Thesia Blackwell, Wm. Bohning, Claud Hooten, Leonard Kirby, Arthur LeCrox, Joe Morgan, John Spangler, Forest Tippen, Carol Underwood, Wm. Weaver, Teddy Whellis, Donald Whittenburg, and Lowell Smith. The Council wishes to extend to this new organization their best wishes for a most successful troop career.

Scoutmasters Pow Wow
Scoutmasters of Stephenville, Dublin, and Comanche will meet June 7 at Comanche lake for their second scoutmasters get-together.

Swimming Meet
A swimming meet will be held in Stephenville at the Country club lake June 9th. Scoutmasters are urged to attend. Homer Tudor of Stephenville will be general chairman. Contests in diving, swimming, canoeing, life saving, water polo, etc., will take place. Detailed programs are being mailed out to all scoutmasters in the council. Any scoutmaster that has six boys to enter as a team is urged to do so.

Brownwood District Pow Wow
Scoutmasters of the Brownwood district held their monthly pow-wow meeting last night at Hot Wells last Monday night with good attendance. Scoutmaster J. E. Wilkes and Assistant Scoutmaster George Reiff were in charge of the program.

Problems in scout craft were discussed, new games introduced and a most enjoyable session was had by all.

Instructors Visit
Scoutmaster Dan Gill is leaving the latter part of the week to be an instructor in the Concho Valley camp in bead work, leathercraft, and woodwork.

Indian Lore
Eagle Scout Stuart Painter who was instructor in San Angelo and San Antonio last summer, as well as our own summer camp, is being recalled for service again in the Concho Valley council camp this spring to instruct in Indian Lore and silvercraft.

Camp-O-Ral Big Success
The Camp-O-Ral held in Brownwood last week was a success in every detail, according to scout officials. Hundreds of people saw the night program put on by various troops.

An exhibit was housed in a large three-pole tent. Scout leaders were so enthusiastic about the Camp-O-Ral that it is hoped now to make it an annual affair.

Camp Billy Gibbons
We would like to remind every scout and scout leader again about the summer camp which starts July 1st. Much interest is being shown on the part of all boys and it looks as though we will have a record breaker in attendance this year. A great many of the scouts are making plans now, getting their boxes ready to house their paraphernalia that they want to carry to camp.

Scouters Meet
Scouters from San Saba, Lometa, Goliath, Lampasas and Richmond Springs met at Lometa last Tuesday night for a general meeting of the southern district. All scouts who attended the scout leader's training course in Lampasas and San Saba were awarded their certificates. The meeting was held in the form of a supper and was followed by a camp fire program.

Daily News and American Roundup want ads are a good investment — Phone 80 Puts the Jinx on Body Odor!

Science Says Good-Bye to Medicine-Smelling Soaps!

Science has made a new discovery about body odor. It is caused by stale perspiration curds, and requires deep pore cleansing. It cannot be ended by ordinary soaps, because their sluggish lathers cannot reach into the pores and cleanse them. Instead the soap combines with the waste material and forms clogging curds!

Kirk's Coco Castile soap works in an entirely different way. No matter how hard the water, this 100% pure vegetable oil soap breaks instantly into a searching, bubbly lather. This bubbly lather cleans deep into the pores, actually removes the embedded stale perspiration curds—then rinses out completely, and in a flash. Thus it ends body odor at its source!

Delightful to use, Kirk's Coco Castile is entirely free from M. S. (medicine smell). And stimulating to the skin. A big green cake, half again larger than the average toilet soap, and now at the lowest price in history! At this new reduced price, it is America's outstanding soap bargain. Be sure to ask for Kirk's Castile by name — at your grocer's.

Famous Racer to Return to Track

INDIANAPOLIS, May 26 — Ira Hall, who abandoned prize fighting when it became too tough and embarked on a career of auto racing, is back at the motor speedway this year, where he will try for new laurels in the 500-mile event May 30.

Hall has set new records on every track he has raced except the Indianapolis course.

Now 41, and physically sound, this battle-scarred veteran of speed shows no visible effects of his 37 fights and 43 wrecks, but confesses having 59 broken bones from auto racing.

Born in Terre Haute, Ind., Hall as a boy fought his way throughout the west, traveling from one preliminary bout to another.

He gave up the ring in 1911, but not before he had participated in 37 battles without being knocked down once.

His introduction into auto racing was dramatic. He never had driven but was anxious. At Rochester, Ind., a driver had been fatally injured in preliminary trials and the car owner was looking for a substitute.

Hall applied and informed him he had experience.

"In the first day of racing I won three of the four events," he admitted. "The next day I went out in the 100-mile event on the half-mile track and tore a quarter of a mile of pickets out of the inside fence. It was my first accident and cured me of racing for a year," Hall said.

35,000 CHERRY TREES.
FOLSON, Mont., May 26 — Approximately 35,000 young cherry trees have been planted on the east shores of Flathead Lake this year. There were 6,000 sweet cherry trees ordered by growers, and 2,000 sour or semi-sweet varieties this year, and last year 27,000 trees were set out.

WALTON'S BABY CONTEST

Walton's 15th Annual Baby Contest opens May 20 --- closes June 3. Nine (9) Big Prizes.

Mothers, Bring Your Babies

WALTON'S STUDIO
Cisco, Texas.

60% ALREADY KNOW!

THIS AD IS FOR THE OTHER 40%
The Majority of People Know They Can Buy

Firestone
QUALITY and SERVICE
At the Same Price as Mail Order and Special Brand Tires

FIRESTONE realizes that any manufacturer to be successful today—and to continue to be successful must offer to the Public QUALITY and PRICE. There is no reduction in the quality of Firestone Tires. Today you can buy Firestone Quality at the same price you would have to pay for mail order and special brand tires.

THE NEW Firestone SUPER OLDFIELD TYPE
This tire is the equal of all standard and brand first line tires in Quality, Construction and Appearance. Sold at a price that affords you real savings.

FIRESTONE OLDFIELD TYPE
This tire is superior in quality to first line special brand tires offered for sale by mail order houses and made without the manufacturer's name and guarantee. This is "The Tire That Taught Thrift to Millions."

FIRESTONE SENTINEL TYPE
This tire is of better Quality, Construction and Workmanship than second line special brand tires offered for sale by mail order houses and others and made without the manufacturer's name and guarantee.

FIRESTONE COURIER TYPE
This tire is of good Quality and Workmanship—carries the name "Firestone" and full guarantee sold as low as many cheap special brand tires manufactured to sell at a price.

COMPARE Construction, Quality and Price
Dependable Firestone Batteries $5.40 and your old battery We will test any make of Battery FREE
Firestone Spark Plugs Save Gasoline 58¢ Each in Sets We will test your Spark Plugs FREE

Visit the Firestone Building at "A Century of Progress," Chicago. See the famous Gum-Dipped Tires being made in a modern Firestone tire factory.

TEXAS SERVICE STATION

Corner 8th at Ave. E --- A. V. CLARK, Prop.
GUSTAFSON SERVICE STATION
Corner 14th at Main R. B. GUSTAFSON, Prop.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING RATES AND REGULATIONS

All CLASSIFIED advertising is payable in advance, but copy MAY be telephoned to the Cisco Daily News office and paid for as soon as collector calls.

RATES: Two cents per word for one time; four cents per word for three times; eight cents per word for six times.

CLOSING HOURS: Copy received up to 10:00 a. m. will be published the same day.

TELEPHONE 80 and place your copy with understanding that payment will be made at once, collector will call the same day or day following. Copy is received any hour from 8:00 a. m. until 5:00 p. m.

Miscellaneous for Sale

HAVE in vicinity of Cisco Steinway Parlor grand piano looks like new will sell for cash at sacrifice. G. H. Jackson, 1708 Carter St., Dallas, Texas.

FOR SALE Golf clubs and tweed bag; 6 irons, 3 woods at a bargain. can be seen at 701 West Ninth St., Dallas, Texas.

FOR SALE Used refrigerator $3. See at Daily News office.

Apartments for Rent 27

FURNISHED Apartment. 308 West 12th.

FURNISHED Duplex Apartment 404 West 4th.

THREE room upstairs apartment, utilities paid, Private bath and entrance, 204 West 5th.

Announcements

NOTICE

There will be a called meeting of Cisco Lodge No. 556 A. F. & A. M. Monday evening May 29 at 8 p. m. for work in Masters degree. Followed by light refreshments. Visitors invited to attend.

G. R. KILPATRICK, W. M.
L. D. WILSON, Secretary.

NOTICE

There will be a stated meeting of Cisco Chapter No. 190 Thursday evening June 1st at 8 p. m. at this meeting officers will be elected for the ensuing year.

GEO. BOYD, H. P.
L. D. WILSON, Secretary.

The Rotary club meets every Thursday at Laguna Hotel Private Dining Room at 12:15. Visiting Rotarians always welcome.

J. J. COLLINS, President,
J. E. SPENCER, Secretary.

Lions club meets every Wednesday at Laguna Hotel Coffee Shop at 12:15. J. A. BEARMAN, president, W. H. LA ROQUE, secretary.

CARP PITCHFORKED
RENSELAER, Ind. May 26

Hundreds of carp swept out of the main stream and left stranded as high water receded after the Kan-kakee river had overflowed its banks during recent heavy rains were captured in swamps here by farmers armed with pitchforks.

UNDER THE DOME AT AUSTIN

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, May 26—Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson's apparent decision not to seek reelection has centered interest on whether Speaker Coke Stevenson of Junction, will run for Governor or for Congress.

SHEARER

When Rep. T. H. McGregor, close political friend of the Fergusons, in the house of representatives lauded Stevenson for governor, it could only mean the speaker is the Ferguson choice and that Mrs. Ferguson will not stand in his way by running again.

But whether Stevenson will run for governor is another question. It is a matter on which he remains uncommunicative.

There was no doubt that when Stevenson launched his campaign for speaker of the 43rd legislature, the governor's chair was kept in view. Since then there has been carved out a new Texas congressional district that fits Stevenson to a "T".

It includes all but one of the ten counties that have been regularly returning him to the state legislature as their representative.

They are all counties with interests the same as those of the Hill country in which Stevenson lives. They are counties to whom a ranchman can talk in his own language.

Ascendancy of Former Congressman John Garner to the vice presidency leaves the new 21st congressional district without a resident congressman.

Inclusion of Coleman county may also be a factor in deciding Stevenson's choice. State Senator Walter Woodward, of Coleman, is a political strength in that section. He, too, has an eye on the governorship.

Stevenson running for congress and Woodward running for governor could each aid the other materially by leaving a field open to the other.

Stevenson is equipped to make his future political campaign on horseback.

Fellow legislators presented him with one of the finest saddles ever exhibited here. It is silver mounted and a beautiful piece of leather work. With it went the broad brimmed hat and chaps.

The gift was really the Speaker's choice. Members went to Mrs. Stevenson to find out what he would like.

It is the custom of the legislators to give the speaker some memento every session. Usually it is a watch.

Mrs. Stevenson warned, "Don't give him a watch. He never carries one."

The speaker was finally appealed to personally by some of the legislators. He was loathe to pick his own gift but when told they were going to get him something he said:

"I want a saddle." He never dreamed of the elaborate saddle that it developed into.

"Speaker's Day," as the annual gift day near the close of a session is known, was also marked by other gifts. The speaker's fondness for cutting cedar posts was remembered and an axe was in the lot. After a day of riding the range and fence building, he was also equipped to sit in a large leather chair (an accompanying one for Mrs. Stevenson) put his feet on an ottoman and have his choice of two lamps on a library table. For outdoor use with the saddle and axe went a corn cob pipe.

OUT OUR WAY

THE BIG DRAW BACK.

© 1933 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF. 5-26

The pipe brought to light that Stevenson felt it indecorous to smoke his old cob pipe while presiding over the house. He broke in a new dude pipe for state use.

Mrs. Stevenson, who has been one of the most popular women in official life at Austin, was not forgotten. The gifts included silver and china sets. The china came from the house porters.

They approached representatives and asked if it would be all right for them to participate in the "Speaker's Day" gifts.

That declaration was probably more revealing than all the eloquent enunciation heaped on the speaker and Mrs. Stevenson at the exercises.

It certainly found an echo all through the state capitol and Austin.

The 43rd legislature will not set a record for length unless it exceeds 140 days. It had completed the 120 days during which members receive full pay on May 9.

The 140 day session was held by the 38th legislature ten years ago. Former Speaker Lee Satterwhite who has spent considerable time going over old house journals, say the average time a legislature is in session, including both regular and called sessions, is from four to six months during the two year period which constitutes a legislative term.

impending separation. Little bronze tendrils curled about her pearl-pale face. "I'll be thinking of you, too, Dan," she told him soberly.

"Well, then—" He was awkwardly trying to tear himself away. "It's early but I've got all that packing to do. We make an early start on Wednesday. I won't be able to see you tomorrow night."

Her heart was like lead. "It doesn't matter."

He put his arms about her. "You're sweet, Monnie, I've known that? My girl!"

"Don't, Dan. Someone might see."

No one must know—no one— their plans for the future. Some jealous fate might intervene.

HOW big he was, how splendid, Monnie thought, watching him stride down the path. Why was it that, in spite of all his protestations, her heart failed her, went sick and faint when she thought of the impending separation? Nothing would happen. Sandra would find that Dan's heart was sealed against her. It was just bad luck that affairs fell out so Dan had to go to Wyoming with the party.

She went back into the house where Kay sat, mending some flimsy pink garment. Kay looked up seriously.

"That Dan?"

"He left early, didn't he?"

"Yes. He's awfully nice. Going to a dude ranch on Wednesday with the family."

"I read about it in the News." Kay said coolly. She knew then that Sandra was in the party, but she refrained from further comment. Kay went on stitching, humming a little tune under her breath.

Monnie picked up a book and tried to read but her restlessness was acute. A pain beat at the back of her mind like a living thing. She felt sick, nervous, discouraged. Sandra had everything and she had nothing. Her job was dead. Always the same. She could do bigger things, more interesting ones, but because she was the mainstay of the little family she dared not take a chance. She sighed and found Kay watching her.

"Don't you feel well?"

"I have a headache," Monnie said. Heartache was never the truth but she would not admit it. "Take an aspirin when you go to bed," said Kay practically.

Twenty-four hours more and Dan would be speeding westward away from her. She would have his letters, of course, but Dan's letters were never satisfactory. When he was away from her he seemed to vanish completely. Oh, she was a fool, she knew that, to be so apprehensive. What did a month matter? He would be back soon. "You have the fidgets," Kay observed, threading her needle. "Why don't you toddle off and get some rest?"

"Believe I will."

Kay gazed sternly at the doorway through which she had just passed. "Darn Dan Cardigan, anyway!" she whispered explosively.

THEY heard the great news about Miss Antice Cory the following morning. Mrs. O'Dare, read-

Always use
WHITE KING
...they'll last longer"
You can keep dainty things new much longer if you wash them
the White King Way

WHITE KING Granulated Soap works perfectly in lukewarm water. This is because its pure nut and vegetable oils make a rich suds at much lower temperature than other soaps.

You just squeeze the creamy bubbles gently through the fabric and then rinse it well in water of the same temperature—and right here is another White King secret! It rinses out quickly and completely, leaving no gummy residue to discolor the delicate fabrics when ironed.

Just tub your lingerie and stockings this easy White King way after each wearing and notice

89 out of every 100 TEXAS

women...prefer White King cool-water washing because it insures longer life and beauty to their fabrics.

WHITE KING
Granulated SOAP

how much more real wear you get out of them.

Remember, when you buy White King Granulated, you get all soap, with all excess moisture removed and no harmful "filler." It takes twice as much ordinary soap to do the same work, and then you don't get the satisfying results that White King gives you.

For true soap economy, there is no substitute for White King Granulated.

Buy a package from your grocer today.

DARLING FOOL

by MABEL McELLIOTT
© 1933 NEA SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MONICA O'DARE, 20 and beautiful, is in love with DAN CARDIGAN, heir to a local fortune. They are secretly engaged. DILL O'DARE worries his mother by planning to marry ANGIE GILLEN, who has not yet got her divorce.

SANDRA LAWRENCE, who pretends to be Monica's friend, is trying to win Dan from her. Sandra discharges two servants and they try to kidnap her. She escapes. Dan's mother and sister plan a trip to a Wyoming dude ranch. Sandra is to accompany them. Dan does not want to go but his parents insist.

KAY, Monnie's younger sister, tells her that MISS COREY, an old friend who has inherited $50,000, is going abroad and wants Monnie to accompany her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXVII.

DAYS passed and still no letter came from Dan. Monnie's eyes ached with looking for it. She never heard the postman's step on the walk of mornings but her heart beat faster, her pulses grew wet.

No letter! What could Dan be thinking of? A week. Two weeks. Kay left her temporary work at the library and started to help Miss Antice who planned to take her leave of absence beginning October first. Monnie's indifference to the dazzling plan which included herself had at first bewildered, then frightened Mrs. O'Dare. Imagine being asked, at 20, to go abroad! Imagine being blasé about it!

Monnie had temporized. "But I can't leave Mother just now," she had told Miss Antice. "It's terrible. Just ran over for a second," Kay caroled. "Something important to tell you. Are you leaving now for lunch?"

Monnie washed her hands at the little cracked basin behind the partition and brushed her hair back under the blonde blue hat.

"Ready," she smiled, linking her arm to Kay's. "What is all this?"

KAY looked over her shoulder. "Miss Antice ran in this morning," she confided. "Guess why she wanted to see me!"

"I couldn't," Monnie said. "Tell me."

Kay paused dramatically, before delivering the bombshell. "She's suggesting me to do her work on the paper while she goes abroad."

"Kay, how splendid! That's because of the way you worked on the school paper."

"Exactly. And Mr. Whittingham thinks I'm much too young but she's talking him over. She was going to put your name up because she said she knew you could do it—but—"

"I did help her last winter when she was laid up," Monnie puffed. "Oh, Kay, if you get it I can do lots for you!"

"No, you can't," said Kay coolly.

Kay's eyes twinkled with mischief. "You goose, can't you guess?"

"I don't know what you're talking about," Monnie said with impatience.

Kay gave her a little shake. "Miss Antice's going abroad," she repeated impatiently.

"Well, what on earth has that got to do with me?" Monnie demanded.

"Lots," Kay fairly bounced. "Oh, I oughtn't to tell you," she cried. "I practically promised not to but I'm just bursting with it. She wants—she's going to ask you to go with her."

ing the Belvedere News, looked up with a little cry of excitement and pleasure.

"Girls, what do you think? Miss Antice is an heiress! Judge Cory's sister in Boston has left her $50,000."

Monnie, heavy eyed and pale, sipping her coffee, smiled. "How marvellous!"

It made the day seem brighter, this news of something nice happening to someone she knew. Anything might happen if Miss Antice were to be removed from the scene of her labors, after 20 years of writing Belvedere society notes. It almost helped Monnie to bear the thought that Dan was leaving for Wyoming on the morrow.

Perhaps he would call, Monnie thought. Perhaps he would find time to telephone her—surely, he would. But each time the 'phone rang and she answered it to find the caller was emphatically not Dan, her heart grew heavier.

Kay flew in at lunch hour, sparkling prettily, lit by an inner excitement.

"Aren't you off early?" Monnie wanted to know. Usually the two girls at the library made tea or baked soup over a gas ring in the back room and ate their lunch there.

"Just ran over for a second," Kay caroled. "Something important to tell you. Are you leaving now for lunch?"

Monnie washed her hands at the little cracked basin behind the partition and brushed her hair back under the blonde blue hat.

"Ready," she smiled, linking her arm to Kay's. "What is all this?"

KAY looked over her shoulder. "Miss Antice ran in this morning," she confided. "Guess why she wanted to see me!"

"I couldn't," Monnie said. "Tell me."

Kay paused dramatically, before delivering the bombshell. "She's suggesting me to do her work on the paper while she goes abroad."

"Kay, how splendid! That's because of the way you worked on the school paper."

"Exactly. And Mr. Whittingham thinks I'm much too young but she's talking him over. She was going to put your name up because she said she knew you could do it—but—"

"I did help her last winter when she was laid up," Monnie puffed. "Oh, Kay, if you get it I can do lots for you!"

"No, you can't," said Kay coolly.

Kay's eyes twinkled with mischief. "You goose, can't you guess?"

"I don't know what you're talking about," Monnie said with impatience.

Kay gave her a little shake. "Miss Antice's going abroad," she repeated impatiently.

"Well, what on earth has that got to do with me?" Monnie demanded.

"Lots," Kay fairly bounced. "Oh, I oughtn't to tell you," she cried. "I practically promised not to but I'm just bursting with it. She wants—she's going to ask you to go with her."

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MONICA O'DARE, 20 and beautiful, is in love with DAN CARDIGAN, heir to a local fortune. They are secretly engaged. DILL O'DARE worries his mother by planning to marry ANGIE GILLEN, who has not yet got her divorce.

SANDRA LAWRENCE, who pretends to be Monica's friend, is trying to win Dan from her. Sandra discharges two servants and they try to kidnap her. She escapes. Dan's mother and sister plan a trip to a Wyoming dude ranch. Sandra is to accompany them. Dan does not want to go but his parents insist.

KAY, Monnie's younger sister, tells her that MISS COREY, an old friend who has inherited $50,000, is going abroad and wants Monnie to accompany her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXVII.

DAYS passed and still no letter came from Dan. Monnie's eyes ached with looking for it. She never heard the postman's step on the walk of mornings but her heart beat faster, her pulses grew wet.

No letter! What could Dan be thinking of? A week. Two weeks. Kay left her temporary work at the library and started to help Miss Antice who planned to take her leave of absence beginning October first. Monnie's indifference to the dazzling plan which included herself had at first bewildered, then frightened Mrs. O'Dare. Imagine being asked, at 20, to go abroad! Imagine being blasé about it!

Monnie had temporized. "But I can't leave Mother just now," she had told Miss Antice. "It's terrible. Just ran over for a second," Kay caroled. "Something important to tell you. Are you leaving now for lunch?"

Monnie washed her hands at the little cracked basin behind the partition and brushed her hair back under the blonde blue hat.

"Ready," she smiled, linking her arm to Kay's. "What is all this?"

KAY looked over her shoulder. "Miss Antice ran in this morning," she confided. "Guess why she wanted to see me!"

"I couldn't," Monnie said. "Tell me."

Kay paused dramatically, before delivering the bombshell. "She's suggesting me to do her work on the paper while she goes abroad."

"Kay, how splendid! That's because of the way you worked on the school paper."

"Exactly. And Mr. Whittingham thinks I'm much too young but she's talking him over. She was going to put your name up because she said she knew you could do it—but—"

"I did help her last winter when she was laid up," Monnie puffed. "Oh, Kay, if you get it I can do lots for you!"

"No, you can't," said Kay coolly.

Kay's eyes twinkled with mischief. "You goose, can't you guess?"

"I don't know what you're talking about," Monnie said with impatience.

Kay gave her a little shake. "Miss Antice's going abroad," she repeated impatiently.

"Well, what on earth has that got to do with me?" Monnie demanded.

"Lots," Kay fairly bounced. "Oh, I oughtn't to tell you," she cried. "I practically promised not to but I'm just bursting with it. She wants—she's going to ask you to go with her."

don't know that? Monnie, I've been wanting to talk to you about this. Please let me. I've got so much, a great deal more than I need. If you'd only—"

She interrupted him. "You mean let you give us money? You know I can't do that." Suddenly she felt the keenest anger toward him. Her eyes flashed. "I know you mean to be kind—I'm sure you do," she said coldly. "But after all, we can't take charity. No, we'll muddle along the best we can."

He was offended, she could see that. Perversely she was glad. How dared anyone offer her charity? She wouldn't have it. All the pent-up resentment and bitterness of the past weeks welled up in her.

"It's bad enough to be poor," she said, her breast heaving, her voice thickening, "without having people pitying you!"

"Monnie!" The sound of her name, spoken so, brought her up sharp. "You know you're talking nonsense. No one pities you. It's envy most of us feel!"

"Envy?" She was surprised out of her mood, tears trembling on the ends of her lashes.

"I said just that and I mean it," announced the tall man striding beside her. "A home like yours—a mother like that—the simple goodness of the life you've led. I tell you it did something to me when first I encountered it."

Monnie was abashed. There was no mistaking the sincerity of his tone.

"When I came here last year," Charles Eustace said quietly, meditatively, almost as though speaking to himself. "I was pretty much all in. Didn't have much faith in anything. I was out of tune with this country. I'd been away so long. Then Uncle asked me if I'd like to vegetate in his old house. I was in no state to decide things for myself. Kong packed me up and brought me here. I hadn't been here long when I met you—all of you. I thought yours was the happiest, the nicest sort of family I'd ever met."

"I don't remember my mother. She died when I was four. My father was a busy doctor in New York. I seldom saw him and was sent away to prep school when I was very young. The only home life I'd ever known I'd read about and I didn't really believe in it. Then I discovered your house where everybody seemed genuinely fond of everybody else and tried to help. I hope," finished Charles stiffly, "that I don't sound like a sentimental fool but honestly it did something to me—gave me something I needed. Faith—something like that—I don't know. And you talk about being pitied!"

MONNIE, ashamed but stubborn, said, "Then you pretend to think money doesn't count? That's because you've always had so much of it. You've never had to worry about where the interest money was coming from or cry yourself to sleep because the girls at school made fun of your old coat."

His voice was gentle now. "I do know it's important. But it's not all. It smooths life, makes it easy and comfortable. But it doesn't buy affection or the kind of happiness that makes life worth living. It doesn't make you glad to wake up in the morning. Some day, perhaps, I'll tell you what it means to realize you're glad you're alive after months of staring at a black wall."

Charles lifted his hat and as he turned to go Monnie forgot him, forgot everything. Mark O'Dare, freckle faced, tousle-headed, dashed down the path, bound on some concern of his own.

"Mail for you, Monnie," he yelled.

Her heart began to thud. The long awaited letter had come at last!

(To Be Continued)

There's Many a Dollar Saved Every Day in the

DAILY NEWS WANT-ADS

TELEPHONE
80

DOLLARS are saved by both buyer and seller... for Daily News Want-Ads form such an economical market for the exchange of goods and services... turn to the Want-Ad section NOW!

THEY heard the great news about Miss Antice Cory the following morning. Mrs. O'Dare, reading the Belvedere News, looked up with a little cry of excitement and pleasure.

"Girls, what do you think? Miss Antice is an heiress! Judge Cory's sister in Boston has left her $50,000."

Monnie, heavy eyed and pale, sipping her coffee, smiled. "How marvellous!"

It made the day seem brighter, this news of something nice happening to someone she knew. Anything might happen if Miss Antice were to be removed from the scene of her labors, after 20 years of writing Belvedere society notes. It almost helped Monnie to bear the thought that Dan was leaving for Wyoming on the morrow.

Perhaps he would call, Monnie thought. Perhaps he would find time to

ANSWERS

to today's
THREE GUESSES

TOMMY MILTON won TWO of the 500-mile grinds. Sketch shows BENITO MUSSOLINI. Invirile means UNMANLY, EFFEMINATE.

GIANT MUSHROOM
MUNCIE, Ind., May 26 — A sponge mushroom weighing one pound and nine ounces was found near here by Carl Johnson, town marshal. The giant fungus could barely be tucked into a flour sack.

SALES INCREASE
HARTFORD, Conn., May 26 — The depression is bringing the old time oil lamp back into popularity in Hartford. General stores reported numerous and increasing sales of such lamps.

PALACE

NOW SHOWING

An untamed Son of the Desert, Singing Love Songs! Romantic! Darling!

RAMON NOVARRO

in "BARBARIAN"

With MYRNA LOY

SUN.-MON.

JOE E. BROWN

in "Elmer the Great"

BROTHER CAN YOU SPARE A SMILE?

The man with the air-cooled tonsils in a delicious comedy of baseball as it shouldn't be played, and love as it shouldn't be made.

Piggly Wiggly

Turn to Quality and Economy.

SPECIAL SALE

Strawberries, quart 12 1/2c

Lemons, Sunkist Brand, medium size, dozen 15c

LETTUCE, Fresh 4c

New Potatoes, No. 1 stock, lb. 2 1/2c

Eggs, Fresh Country Eggs, doz. 9c

Crackers, Saltine Flakes, 1 lb., 13c; 2 pounds 22c

Gelatine, Plee-Zing Brand, pkg. 5c

Rinso Washing Powder, 10c size, 3 packages 25c

Lux Soap Flakes, pkg. 9c

Macaroni or Spaghetti, 3 pkgs. 10c

KRAUT, No. 2 can 7c

NAPKINS, 50 Linen Finish Napkins 8c

TEA, 1/2 Lb. Folger's or Forbes, Orange Pekoe 23c

PEACHES, 1 Lb. Cans 25c

Table Peaches, 3 for 25c

PINEAPPLE, Sliced or Grated, 3 cans 25c

MARKET SPECIALS

SAUSAGE, made from home killed pork, 2 pounds 15c

Sliced Bacon, best Northern sugar cured, lb. 16c

Beef Roast, rib or brisket, lb. 7c

Hamburger Meat, lb. 10c

Virginia Style Hickory Smoked Hams, Dressed Fryers, Etc.

MOM'N POP.

I TOLD AGUSTA WE'D BE OVER AT 4:30 SHARP, SO JIMMIE AND GENE COULD PLAY. THE NURSE THEY HIPPED IS VERY STRICT AND RUNS EVERYTHING ON SCHEDULE, SO HURRY!

SO, THEY GOT A NURSE FOR GENE, EH?

APE WE LATE?

HI, AGUSTA!

HELLO, GANG! COME IN!!

ISN'T HE DAPLING?

GENE, YOU'RE SOME BABY!

WE NEVER KISS THE BABY WHEN THE NURSE IS AROUND.

BOY! WITH A NURSE LIKE THAT, I DON'T BLAME YOU!!

© 1933 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

About Cisco Today

Society Editor, Miss Marjorie Noell—Phone 80.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius House of Montreal, Canada, left today after a short visit with Mr. House's aunt, Mrs. N. W. Noell. They will visit in Dallas, St. Louis, and Chicago before returning to their home.

Miss Nina Watts, instructor at Randolph college, left yesterday for Boulder, Colo., where she will spend the summer.

Mrs. W. C. Dorsey of Ranger and Graham Brown of Midland visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown here yesterday.

C. R. West transacted business in Ranger yesterday.

Mrs. Jess Douglas of Moran was a visitor in the city yesterday.

Mrs. E. W. LeFever, who has been ill for the past several weeks, was taken to the Harris hospital clinic in Fort Worth yesterday. She was accompanied by her husband, Dr. LeFever, F. J. Borman, and Sam Kimmell. She withstood the trip well, it was reported.

Miss Dorothy Kramer is leaving today for Chicago, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Terrell Brooks and Mrs. T. F. Pettus of Moran visited Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Linder here yesterday.

Mrs. Dave Duncan of Brownwood is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Carroll.

Mrs. E. A. Murrell of Ranger was a visitor here yesterday.

Ray Elliott of Moran was a Cisco visitor yesterday.

Glen Luttrell of Moran was a visitor in Cisco yesterday.

Allen Wood is expected home from west Texas for a visit during the weekend. Mr. Wood's son, Allen, Jr., who has been ill with measles for the past several days was reported to be improved this morning.

Mrs. Henry Hull and children, who have been visiting Mrs. David McClelland, are leaving Sunday for their home in Big Spring.

Miss Mary Beth Langston is leaving today for a week's stay in Midland. She is to assist in a B. Y. P. U. training school.

Vard Osburn of Moran was a visitor here yesterday.

Mrs. Connie Johnston of Eastland visited friends in Cisco yesterday.

Miss Effie King, teacher at Randolph college, left yesterday for Kentucky, where she will spend the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Burnam visited Pete King in Baird last evening. Mr. King who is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Burnam, was seriously injured in an accident about two weeks ago, is said to be improving. Mr. King is a former resident of Cisco.

Mrs. A. D. Ellington and daughter, Juanita, of Penwell, Texas, left yesterday after spending a week with Mrs. Ellington's parents, Chief of Police and Mrs. Grant Daniels.

Mrs. C. R. Porter and daughter, Theta, of Slaton, are here visiting Mrs. Porter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stubblefield and her parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Porter. They will remain in Cisco about two weeks.

COUNTY COUNCIL P. T. A. TO MEET TOMORROW.

The County Council Parent-Teacher association will meet tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Methodist church in Rising Star. An interesting program has been prepared, it has been announced. Officers for the ensuing year will be installed. Mrs. W. B. Dunn of Pioneer is the president-elect, and Mrs.

Depression Price Cut

On Tooth-Paste

One Dollar's Worth for 39c

Present low cost of raw materials enables manufacturer of genuine FULLER'S tooth-paste to offer the regular $1.00 size ($2.00 value) at introductory price, this week, of only 39c. The tube is four to five times larger than ordinary ones and easier to handle. It's the world's finest tooth-paste — costs only about 1/4c per week to make and keep the teeth pearly white, the gums healthy. Money refund guarantee. One tube to a customer. At all first class grocers FREE! A full sized tube (a year's supply) to the first one hundred people who mail this advertisement with their name and address to Fifth Floor, FULLER'S, 180 E. Illinois St., Chicago.

LAWN MOWERS

Mowers are cheaper than ever before, now is the time to buy. This Eclipse built Mower, 14-in. wide, 11-inch wheels, ball bearing and self sharpening for only

$5.45

A nice Chopping Hoe, carbon steel. 69c

A 14-tooth Garden Rake 59c

All kinds garden tools cheap.

COLLINS HARDWARE

SAVE-AT-THE

G. and S. GROCERY

Specials for Saturday, May 27

NEW POTATOES

10 Pounds No. 1 for 25c

GREEN BEANS

Home Grown, per pound 5c

10 Lbs. Pure Cane Sugar 40c

(With $1.50 Purchase)

BANANAS

Per dozen 18c

EGGS

Fresh Country, 3 dozen 25c

PORK and BEANS

Per Can 5c

COFFEE

1 Lb. Pkg., 100 per cent pure. 17c

COFFEE

3 Lb. Pkg., 100 per cent pure. 50c

Fresh Vegetables — Fresh Meats

GABBERT AND SCARBROUGH

406 Avenue D

Whorter, and "Frolicking March" by Bobbie Grace McWhorter and Mrs. Hunter.

Certificates of merit were awarded to Mrs. Godfrey's pupils at the conclusion of the program.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends who so kindly helped in the death of my husband, especially do we, thank each and every one for the beautiful floral offerings.

MRS. O. L. TIDWELL
SISTERS AND BROTHERS.

Closing Selected
New York Stocks
(By United Press)

American Can 88.
Am. P. & L. 8 1-2.
Am. Smelt 31 1-2.
Am. T. & T. 113 3-4.
Anaconda 13 3-8.
Auburn Auto 53 1-2.
Aviation Corp. Del. 11 7-8.
Barnsdall Oil Co. 7 1-4.
Beth Steel 27 7-8.
Byers A. M. 23 3-8.
Canada Dry 20 1-8.
Case J. I. 70 3-8.
Chrysler 22 3-4.
Curtiss Wright 2 3-4.
Elect. Au. L. 20 3-8.
Elect. St. Bat. 29 7-8.
Foster Wheel 15 7-8.
Fox Films 3.
Freeport-Tex. 35.
Gen. Elec. 21 1-8.
Gen. Foods 33 1-4.
Gen. Mot. 25.
Gilllette S. R. 13 1-2.
Goodyear 32 5-8.
Houston Oil 24 1-2.
Int. Cement 26.
Int. Harvester 36 5-8.
Johns Manville 35.
Kroger G. & B. 28 3-4.
Liq. Carb. 35.
Montg. Ward 22 1-2.
Nat. Dairy 19 3-8.
Ohio Oil 10 3-4.
Penney J. C. 38 3-4.
Phelps Dodge 12.
Phillips P. 12 1-4.
Pure Oil 8.
Purity Bak. 23 3-4.
Radio 7 3-8.
Sears Roebuck 28 1-2.
Shell Union Oil 6 3-4.
Socony-Vacuum 9 7-8.
Southern Pacific 24 5-8.
Stan. Oil N. J. 34 3-8.
Studebaker 3 7-8.
Texas Corp. 18 7-8.
Texas Gulf Sul. 27 1-2.
Tex. Pac. C. & O. 4 7-8.
Und. Elliott 26 3-4.
Und. Carb. 38 3-8.
United Corp. 8 3-4.
U. S. Gypsum 36 3-4.
U. S. Ind. Alc. 47 1-4.
U. S. Steel 51 1-4.
Vanguard 20 5-8.
Westing Elec. 41 1-4.
Worthington 26.

Curb Stocks

Cities Service 3 7-8.
Ford M. Ltd. 3 3-8.
Gulf Oil Pa. 44 7-8.
Humble Oil 60 1-4.
Lone Star Gas 7 7-8.
Niag. Hud. Pwr. 10 1-8.
Stan. Oil Ind. 26.

Daily News and American and Roundup want ads are a good investment—Phone 80.

HORSE REPLACES AUTO
VALLEY FALLS, Kan., May 26 — Times are changing in this town and Old Dobbin is regarded as a better means of transportation than his competitor the automobile. This was shown when the city council installed several hundred extra feet of hitch racks.

AIRMAIL INCREASED
BUTTE, Mont., May 26 — National Parks Airways, serving Utah, Idaho and Montana points, reported more air mail had been carried by its planes in April of this year than in the same month of 1932, despite higher postal rates now in effect.

Daily News and American and Roundup want ads are a good investment—Phone 80.

FOR BETTER BAKINGS

AT LESS COST USE

THE ECONOMICAL

AND EFFICIENT

KC

BAKING

POWDER

SAME PRICE

today

AS 42 YEARS AGO

Full Pack

No Slack Filling

MILLIONS OF POUNDS USED

BY OUR GOVERNMENT

Skiles Grocery & Market

The Home of Good Eats

The Quality Store With Prices Right.

Remember the Best in Anything is Always the Cheapest.

If you want the Best in Eats, and Surely You Do, then buy your Groceries at Skiles and get the Best at Prices Right.

If you are not trading with us give our Groceries, Choice Meats, Selected Eggs and Fresh Vegetables, a trial and be convinced that they are as cheap or cheaper than any.

OUR SERVICE IS FREE

A Credit Privilege Might Be a Convenience.

Free Goods and Bargain Prices Saturday

We Appreciate Your Patronage.

Phones 376-377.

USE DAILY NEWS WANT ADS.

NORVELL & MILLER

Telephone 102. 801 Avenue D.

"Where Most People Trade"

Complete Food Store.

Specials for Saturday, May 27 and Following Monday.

Strawberries 25c

2 quarts 25c

Lemons 15c

Per dozen 15c

Lettuce, large 4c

Crisp heads 4c

New Potatoes 2c

Per pound 2c

Carrots 10c

3 bunches for 10c

Large Winesap 15c

Apples, per dozen 15c

Oranges 15c

Per dozen 15c

Fresh Tomatoes 7c

Per pound 7c

Fresh Squash 4c

Per pound 4c

Fresh Cucumbers 4c

per pound 4c

Bananas 15c

per dozen 15c

Old Potatoes 15c

10 pound for 15c

Eggs 10c

per dozen 10c

Sugar 45c

10 pounds 45c

One to the customer.

Maxwell House 75c

Coffee, 3 lb. can 75c

Bright and Early Coffee—We grind it fresh 18c

Per pound 18c

A good five 17c

Strand Broom 17c

10 Bars Sunny-Monday Laundry Soap—Guaranteed to please you 21c

10 Bars of Good Toilet Soap 25c

3 Boxes of Macaroni or Spaghetti 10c

Quart Bottle of Vinegar 10c

Oatmeal 5c

Per box 5c

8-Oz. Elfood 16c

Mayonaisse 16c

Red Pitted Cherries 25c

2 No. 2 cans 25c

Gallon Bucket 70c

Honey 70c

1/2 Gallon Bucket 45c

Honey 45c

Gallon Tomato 39c

Catsup 39c

Cocoa 21c

2 pounds 21c

3 Pkgs. Jello, Any flavor 19c

Large Box Post Toasties 9c

Campbell Tomato Juice 6c

1 Lb. Package Stick Candy 12c

No. 2 1/2 Can Pineapple 15c

3 No. 1 Cans Pineapple 25c

Quart Jar Hot Relish 17c

MARKET SPECIALS

Baby Beef Steak 15c

Any Cut, per lb. 15c

Flesh Roast 12c

per pound 12c

Picnic Hams 10c

per pound 10c

Dry Salt Jowls 7c

per pound 7c

Sliced Bacon 14c

per pound 14c

Dressed Fryers and Hens.

Free Delivery on Purchases of $1.50 or More