The Wellington event will be part of the national 4-H Clubs Awards Program, held at this time each year. Awarde are given by nationally known industries and corporations, and are presented to the boys and girls by the local representative or leader of the donor company.

HAS RIGOR MORTIS FINALLY OVERTAKEN WELLINGTON?

It is now a matter of record that our chamber of commerce is supported by one percent of the people of Collingsworth county. This is an amazing thing! If the chamber were an organization operating for the benefit of, say, five percent of the people of this county, then it would seem logical that maybe only one percent of the people supported it. But here is an organization devoted in its entirety to the good of all the people in Collingsworth County . . . . yet only one person in every hundred will support it!

Now this 99% who do not support the chamber will readily tell you what is wrong with our county. They will tell you that we need more payroll, more industry, more people with steady weekly incomes; but they never seem to get around to realizing that there is only one organization devoted to securing these things for our county. They deplore the fact that the chamber of commerce is powerless to act, when an opportunity comes along where our county has a chance to secure a small industry and payroll. They never stop to think that it is powerless because only one percent of the people support it!

To put it bluntly, plainly and to the point, ours is a town where the great majority of the citizens are "over the hump" in life. The majority no longer has the will or the urge to progress. We are willing to let things rock along --- down hill (because that's the only way a town will go when we just sit back and let "George do it"). And when a new-comer comes along who wants to try and change things, this great old majority of the past, ups and tells him: "If you don't like our town, why don't you move on? We like it here; and we were doing alright before you came". This makes a good joke and gets lots of laughs --- and really makes the jackass who says it look very smart for the moment ----- but the fact is staring us right in the face that it hasen't helped Wellington any; and to our sorrow, most of those young folks are moving on!

Emergency Hay Freight Rate Down

Walter T. McKay, the agency's State Director, was advised today of the designation of Farmers Home Administration to execute certification forms in connection with reduced freight rates recently worked out between the President and railroad representatives to further assist farmers and stockm[illegible] in drought stricken areas. [illegible] revised tariff provides for a reduction of 50 percent in the freight rate of hay forwarded to destination due to the drought, and applies only in connection with hay purchases of individuals who are entitled to assistance under the Hay and Roughage program.

Farmers Home Administration is authorized to execute certificates in behalf of farmers and ranchers only. Details of the program and forms required may be obtained from local county Farmers Home Administration offices.

Sheriff Praises Hallowe'en Spirit

Sheriff John Rainey had high praises for the fine behavior of Wellington's youngsters Hallowe-n night.

"We really appreciate their good behavior. It was swell", the sheriff declared. "In fact it was a lot better than in some towns around."

A few soaped windows were the extent of Hallowe'en pranking — and the sheriff himself was one of the victims.

Hailed down by a group as he was cruising around town, the sheriff stopped his car and the youngsters fell to with a bar of soap. "That satisfied them," he remarked.

Legion Auxiliary Sells Poppies Here Sat.

The American Legion Auxiliary will hold its traditional Poppy Sale Saturday, November 10, when the general public will be given an opportunity to contribute funds for the benefit of disabled veterans.

Members of the Auxiliary will be down-town selling poppies, and Cub Scouts will join in the drive, according to Mrs. Paul Spillman, who is helping with arrangements.

Plans also were made for the gift box, which the Auxiliary will send to the Veterans Administration hospital in Amarillo. Gifts sent in this box are for hospitalized veterans who will not have the opportunity to buy Christmas gifts for wives and children at home. The gifts are given the men for this purpose.

Gifts contributed to the box should be of the type that will be suitable for families, it was pointed out.

Mrs. John Coleman is president of the Auxiliary.

County Out Of 1957 Farm-To Market Program

Collingsworth County was not included in the 1957 Farm-to-Market Road program, as it has been set up to be submitted to the State Highway Commission, County Judge R. L. Templeton said he had been informed by Palmer Massey, district highway engineer, from Childress.

Judge Templeton said that Massey told him the reason for this is that on neither of two projects considered by the Commissioners Court was there a majority vote. In each case two commissioners voted for the project, one against and one did not vote, the Judge said.

The project finally picked by the county included three miles of surfacing from Highway 203 north to the Bean Hill community; one mile from Highway 338 south to the Fresno Gin; and two miles south from the southeast corner of the town section. The other project was the bridge across Salt Fork River north of Quail.

Judge Templeton said he had asked for an appointment with the State Highway Commission in order to get the program reinstated. If this cannot be done, Collingsworth County will be without a 1957 Farm-to-Market program.

Judge Templeton also stated that he notified members of the court that he will appear before the Comission alone, but he will not appear with members of the court.

Rv. Bucklew is married and has three children, two boys and a girl. The two older children will be in school here.

Mrs. P. Cummings Breaks Ankle

Mrs. Cummings said she was walkins in her yard and doesn't know what caused her ankle to turn.

County Voters Favor Stevenson, Elect Mrs. Tow and Paul Spillman

Collingsworth voters gave the Stevenson-Kefauver team a three to two lead in the general election Tuesday, November 6, then turned to the local level and elected Mrs. Cliffa Jean Tow county clerk by a vote greater than her three opponents, and gave the county attorney's office to Paul Spillman by a slim 8 votes in the unofficial count.

All of the eight proposed amendments were approved locally.

In the county's largest box, South Wellington, Stevenson and Eisenhower tied with 428 each in the unofficial count.

The total county vote in the presidential race was Stevenson, 1229, and Eisenhower, 815. T. Coleman Andrews and Thomas H. Werdel, running on the Constitution ticket, polled 11 votes here.

Mrs. Tow, who became county clerk when David Robinson resigned from that office effective September 15, received 1,035 votes, while Conrad Melton polled 240 votes, Mrs. Dora Ryan 249 and Mrs. J. P. Cummings, 352.

In the write-in race for county attorney, Spillman received 620 votes and Judge C. C. Bishop, who had made no statement as to whether he wanted the office, polled 612.

These returns above are the complete unofficial count.

The Samnorwood box phoned in results on the presidential and two local contested races Tuesday night, but when the Wellington Leader went to press Wednesday morning, the box had not reported on the remainder of the races and the amendments.

The count on the amendments for all boxes except Samnorwood:

No. 1, Aid to Missentenced—for, 1,137, against 239.

No. 2, Tax reallocation—for, 738, against, 615.

No. 3, College Fund—for 824, aginst, 450.

No. 4, Teacher retirement—for, 1,306, against 306.

No. 5, Veterans land fund—for, 1,088, against 307.

No. 6, Oath of Office—for, 879, against 277.

No. 7, Jury trial waiver — for, 1,033, against, 260.

No. 8, denial of bail — for 945, against, 339.

From the report of the 10 boxes on the remainder of the contested offices includes: Congressman at large, Martin Dies, 997, Fred Spangler, 4; Governor: Price Daniel, 1,634; Wm. Bryant, 118; W. Lee O'Daniel, 98.

Attorney General: Will Wilson 1,699, Leo Duran 110.

Railroad Commissioner, Wm. J. Murray Jr., 1,651, Joseph M. Rummler, 7.

The Commissioners Court is due to canvass the election returns at its meeting Monday, November 12, and the official figures will be published next week.

ELECTED COUNTY CLERK, ATTORNEY

Collingsworth voters elected Cliffa Jean Langford Tow county clerk by a plurality greater than that of her three opponents, and gave Paul Spillman an 8-vote lead in his write-in race for county attorney. Mrs. Tow held the office by appointment.

Spirit is the Problem

Rockets and Irish Play At Powell Field Friday

It will look like traditional rivalry again when the Rockets meet the Shamrock Irish at Powell Field for the Pre-Armistice game Friday night, November 9, although the date just happened this way when the schedule was set up.

The fighting Irish looked good in their game against Childress last week and played them to a tie.

Sparking the entire Irish team is a young backfielder, Cannon, whose elgibility was not approved until about mid-season. "He's really set the Irish on fire," is the general concensus.

Cannon does nearly all of the Irish running, passing and punting, and his presence on the team has made a big difference to the club.

The Rockets are wrestling with a problem of spirit this week. The let-down experienced by the Perryton defeat showed up in Rocket practice and the deciding factor in the game probably will be the ability of the Wellington boys to come back up from the standpoint of spirit and push.

"As fas as we are concerned, Coach Lindsey and I feel our kids are capable but our problem is spirit. Losing to Perryton got us in a daze and we're having to come back as far as spirit is concerned. We'll be playing on the rebound," Coach John Hurley said.

"We put all our eggs in one basket when we played Perryton, But we think we will come back and play with the same spirit we had before losing to Perryton."

Perryton is definitely the district champion, and Wellington and Quanah are fighting it out for second place. From that standpoint, the Shamrock game will determine if the Rockets stay in the running or drop down the line. Shamrock earlier has lost to Quanah.

The Rockets still are bothered with a rash of minor injuries — not serious enough to keep any man out of a game, but painful enough to impar his maximum performance. Carroll Nunnelley this week has a jammed right hand and R. W. Warren's ankles stil bother him. In workout Monday, Richard Carter got a split lip and several teeth knocked loose.

Bobo Castleberry was installed as assistant Cubmaster.

Rocket Band Raising Money for New Suits

A series of money raising events are planned and the Band Parents Club is joining in.

First of the events, a peanut selling campaign, brought the band around $200, McElroy said.

Plans are being made to give away a 500 pound Hereford beef in connction with a money-raising campaign. To give impetus to this drive, the steer will be paraded on the football field at the half in the Rocket-Shamrock Irish game Friday night, November 9.

McElroy said that suits are badly needed. Many are so badly worn that it is doubtful if they will last through the year, and it has been impossible in many cases to issue a youngster a suit that fits.

McElroy said the new suits will cost $47.25 each. This is considably less than the last suits bought, which cost around $70 per suit several years ago.

The new uniforms will be red with white trim, with open collars and lapels. The director pointed out that the band decided gainst white coats or trousers such as the present suits have, on account of the cost of keeping them cleaned.

Methodist Men To Eat Venison

The Methodist Men's organization will be entertained with a deer supper Tuesday night, November 13, with Dan Henard, chairman of the board of stewards, furnishing the venison.

Buddy Forbis, district attorney elect, and a former Wellington man, will be the guest speaker, the Rev. Frank Weir, pastor, said.

The supper will be held at the church, beginning at 7 p. m.

1957 Studebaker Accents Craftsmanship

A new soft, level ride on rough roads, new driving control on slippery roads, and increased performance with the most powerful engines in Studebaker's history are top features of the Studebaker sedans for 1957, Lawrence Warrick of Warrick Machinery Co., said today.

The local businessman announced that the sharply restyled line of 15 sedans and station wagons in three series covering the low price field will be shown and demonstrated in his dealership.

The President Classic with a 225-hosepower engine heads the line of 11 two- and four-door sedans in the President V-8, Commander and Champion six-cylinder series. The cars are two inches longer to emphasize the big car design to which the company has moved in its family sedans. The Classic's 120-1/2 inch wheelbase is the longest in the low price field, Warrick said.

With the 1957 models, Studebaker instroduces two major automotive advances which are industry firsts in the low-price field. The new developments are the Luxury-Level ride with variable rate coil springs and the Twin-Traction axle with the non-slip power-dividing differential.

Standard on all sedans, variable rate control of front coil springing achieves for the first time the long sought advantage of combining the stiffer springing action needed for a smoother ride sensation on rough road surfaces and the softer springing necessary for a smooth ride on city boulevards. The new type of suspension automatically adjusts to varying loads throughout the spring ranges, to give the same soft ride with one to five passengers as is obtained by conventional coil spring suspensions only under heavy loads. At the same time, it provides new driver control of the car on rough surfaces by substantially reducing pitching, the dealer said.

The Twin-Traction safety differential automatically divides engine power between the rear wheels in the proportions necessary to stop wheel slipping and spinning under adverse driving situations such as mud, snow and ice.

The most powerful engines in Studebaker history will enable the 1957 cars to maintain the company's leadership in engine performance combined with economy, he said. Three power plants will be used — the 210-horsepower Sweepstakes 289-inch V-8 for the President series and Broadmoor station wagon 180-horsepower, 259-cubic inch V-8 for the Commander esries and the Provincial and Parkview station wagons; and the 101-horsepower, 185.6-cubic inch six-cylinder economy engine for the Champion series and Pelham station wagon.

1957 STUDEBAKER PRESIDENT CLASSIC

Despite its increased power and big design, the 1957 Studebaker will continue to hold a fuel economy leadership which has made it a perennial winner of the Mobilgas Economy Run, including the Grand Sweepstakes championship in two of the last three annual cotensts, the local businessman said. Both the overdrive and Flightomatic transmission will be optional on all models.

The 1957 Studebaker models present a strikingly new appearance. They feature a more massive, big car look with newly styled hoods, new wrap-around grilles, new split-level wrap-around bumpers and a new hood crest ornament.

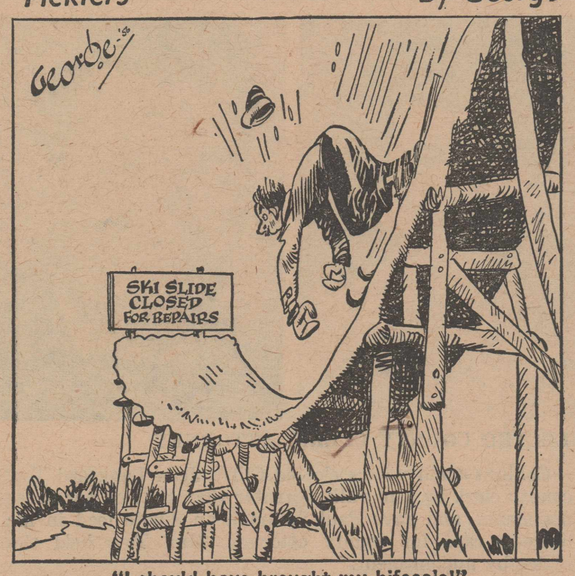

Interiors are more luxurious and more comfortable on all models. Arm rests are higher and the steering wheel has been raised, allowing the driver more freedom of movement and lessening road fatigue on long trips.

All the 1957 models feature "comfort-contoured" seats, engineered to a springing design adaptable to contoured cushioning and matched upholstery fittings. The front seat tracks have a side mounted control for easy adjustment of the seat to the most comfortable position.

Ranking high on a long list of safety features for 1957 is the Studebaker "safety fin" brake which will be standard in the President series. Finned drums increase cooling area 100 per cent. These brakes permit consistent quick, straight-line stops from high speeds without the fading which is caused by heat.

A special safety device, developed by Studebaker, is continued in 1957 models. It is the "hill holder" which prevents any rollback of the vehicle when it is stopped on an incline. The hill holder is available for all models with standard or overdrive transmission.

CROSSROADS ★ REPORT

Dear Editor

I note that the country seems like is somewhat short of subjects to worry about, so in some quarters people are worrying about maybe Elvis Presley will get drafted.

This inimitable young man (and let's just call it luck that he is inimitable), is reported as saying that if he is drafted he will go.

Which is a very practical attitude to take, on account of it likely wouldn't be much fun to rock and roll on a rock pile.

I see where it is reported that the pygmies in New Guinea are always happy, and this is blamed on the fact that they eat beetles, which are said to be loaded with Vitamin T.

If this Vitamin T is what gives the flavor to such bugs as I have accidentally tasted from time to time, I had just about as soon do without same and stay unhappy.

It strikes me, though, that the New Guinea pygmies, being without taxes, TV shows, and political speeches, maybe do not have to have real high potency beetles to keep them contented.

I see where you newspaper people made a right smart of a story out of the Navy flier who shot himself down here the other day.

Seems that he fired off one of his cannons, and then run out ahead and got in front of the bullet.

But my high-geared neighbor says he don't know as this is such an unusual happening, after all. says he has been laid low lots of time by something he shot off himself, such as his mouth.

I note that considerable indignation was expressed by high U. S. government officials on account of the Russians sent troops and tanks to Hungary to deal with those people when they got unruly.

This action was held by the Western bigwigs to be unsporting. Sort of like sending the Oklahoma first string to play our local junior high football team.

My un-brainwashed neighbor says apparently the latest Americanistic ground rules don't allow troops and tanks to be used except against P. T. A. members in Tennessee and Kentucky.

I am sorry to note that the man who ran for President on a platform promising to do away with the income tax, didn't get elected.

Seems the majority of peoples like income taxes all right. But I got to adding up here the other day, what I have paid the Internal Revenuers the last 20 years or so, and if I had that money now, I could come pretty close to paying off all of my debts.

So this proves that my banker ought to blame the U. S. Government, and not me, for the shape I am in.

One of our local viewers-with-alarm has been taking the campaign messages to heart and is now upset over the prospect of the H-bomb wiping out the human race.

Pontiac Completely New for 1957

(Pontiac. Mich., Nov. 6) — Pontiac introduces its 1957 models Friday with three series, the Star Chief on a 124-inch wheelbase, the Super Chief and Chieftain on a 122-inch wheelbase, in 16 new body styles. Featuring exciting Star Flight body styling with "starlite" or "accent" two-toning, luxurious interiors and spectacular performance, the new models will be on display at Pontiac dealerships November 9.

The wide, low, front end of the 1957 Pontiac is high-lighted and protected by heavy wrap-around bumpers with integrated bomb-type bumper guards. Large oval parking lamps are set into the lower part of the bumpers. A semi-circular chrome grille and a full width air scoop direct air flow to the car radiator.

Hooded head lamps surmounted by sleek front-fender ornaments are prominent in the front-end styling. Greater vision is achieved by lowering the hood 1.6 inches and increasing the windshield area 75.4 square inches in the Catalinas, convertibles and custom station wagons and by 69 square inches in sedans and other station wagons.

The flair of the rear fender fin houses an integrated tail and backup lamp and a safety reflector. The rear projection of the oval tail lamp is protected by a projection on the rear bumer which also serves as an exhaust port on cars equipped with dual exhausts.

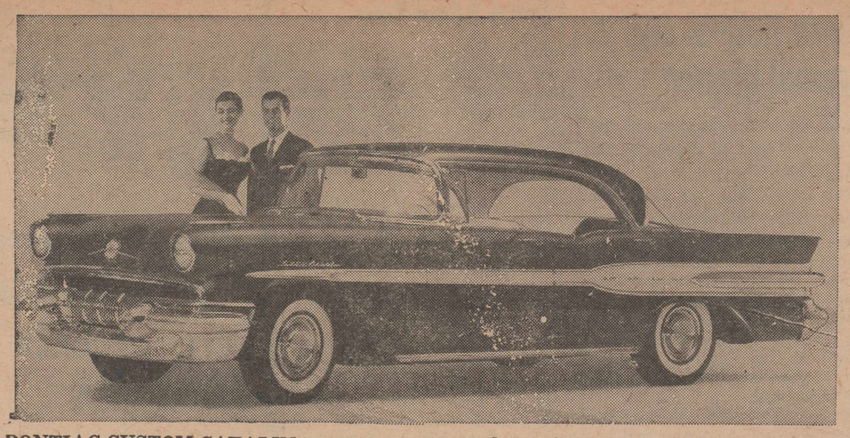

A missle outline trim of stainless steel sweeps the entire length of the car on each side. The Star Flight styling of the 1957 Pontiac is further accentuated by a windsplit molding in the rear fender. On the Star Chief models this torpedo-shaped windsplit is sheathed in stainless steel. The same material, brushed to a satin finish, is used on the vaned wheel discs. A full range of excitingly modern colors is available on the 16 body styles.

The eye catching appeal of the 1957 Pontiac is not limited to exterior styling for the new cars offer the most luxurious color-keyed interiors in Pontiac history.

The Strato-Streak V-8 engine, with displacement increased to 347.04 cubic inches, has higher horsepower, 10.1 compression ratio, larger manifolding, completely machined and contoured combustion chambers, larger, more efficient valves and newly designed carburetors. The 1957 line will offer engines with horsepowers of 252 and 270, and an additional extra horsepower engine especially designed for law enforcement cars.

Pontiac offers a "first" in high-compression engines with its intake stems vented to atmospheric pressure to prevent oil being drawn into the combustion chamber under high vacuum operating conditions. The increased piston stroke, of 3 and 9/16 inches, gives quicker acceleration and more instaneous power on demand. New steel band, thermal controlled pistons are standard. Among other new related features to the new engine are a new distributor, more powerful starting motor, new ignition control switch and a new, larger, coil spring clutch for use with the Synchromesh transmission.

Pontiac's Strato - Flight Hydra-Matic transmission, improved to match the increased torque of the new engines, features a new internal driving mechanism for unmatched smoothness, quietness and responsiveness. The transmission oil cooler is located in the lower part of the radiator for maximum cooling efficiency.

PONTIAC CUSTOM CATALINA SEDAN—Longer, lower Star Flight styling of the luxurious 1957 custom Catalina sedan combines with the powerful new V-8 engine and the more responsive Strato-Flight Hydra-Matic transmission to make the new car the most exciting ever offered by Pontiac. Body finish of Lucite lacquer in "dream car" colors and upholstery of fine hand-buffed leather are featured on the Star Chief series. The sleek Catalina four-door hard-top model is also offered in the Super Chief and Chieftain series in 1957.

December 31 GI Insurance Deadline

Veterans separated from active service since September 4, 1956, will NOT have 120 days in which to apply for 5-year term non-convertible GI insurance; they will have ONLY until December 31, 1956.

Mr. Scott B. Harrington, manager of the Veterans Administration regional office at Dallas, Texas, said the new application deadline was set by the recently enacted Servicemen's and Veterans' Survivor Benefits Act (Public Law 881, 84th Congress).

Before this law was enacted, Mr. Harrington said, eligible veterans had 120 days from separation in which to apply for the post service five-year nonconvertible policy.

The new law ends issuance of this insurance effective January 1, 1957

Drivers Must Stop For School Bus Loading, Unloading

Texas school superintendents, news editors, and other citizens have been requested to give statewide emphasis and interpretation to the oft-neglected Texas law which requires all vehicles to stop when approaching a school bus loading or unloading children. Three state agencies — The Texas Education Agency, the Texas Highway Department, and the Texas Department of Public Safety—joined in making the appeal.

Texas school buses were involved in 379 accidents in rural areas (outside city limits) during 1955. Three children and two adults were killed in these accidents.

"Even one preventable accident, as we all know, is one too many," said J. W. Edgar, Commissioner of Education. "A study of the various replies which have been made to the question of what drivers of other vehicles should do when they approach a school bus which is loading or unloading children reveals a startling lack of understanding and a great deal of misunderstanding concerning what the statutes require."

The law says, in effect, that upon meeting or overtaking from either direction a school bus which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging children, the driver shall stop immediately before passing, then proceed with due caution at a speed which is prudent and does not exceed ten miles per hour. The law does not apply within city limits.

Vehicles are not required to stop on highways with separate roadways when the bus is on a different roadway from that of a passing vehicle. Vehicles are not required to stop if the school bus is stopped in a loading zone which is part of or adjacent to a controlled-access highway and where pedestrians are not permitted to cross the roadway.

Edgar said motorists can identify a school bus easily because "SCHOOL BUS" appears in large letters across the front and rear of each bus. "All public school buses are painted in a uniform yellow color and trimmed in black," he pointed out. "School buses are equipped with flasher lights front and rear and usually mounted high on the bus. Flashers are used only when the bus is in the process of stopping or is stopped to receive or discharge children."

In conjunction with the educational program for drivers of all type vehicles, the State Department of Education is preparing a bus drivers' handbook for distribution to the 8,000 school bus drivers in Texas. The manuel will include pertinent safety regulations affecting school bus drivers.

Edgar said information about the law would continue to be distributed in all parts of Texas "until every citizen has had an opportunity to understand the importance of this law." He suggested that superintendents might want to enlist the help of parents, students, and local service groups in spreading facts about the law to all Texas drivers.

Sweeping Changes in 57 Oldsmobile

Oldsmobile for 1957 has completed the most sweeping model change in the past 20 years, with distinctive styling innovations and mechanical improvements in every one of the 17 body styles in three series of cars. The body is completely new, creating a fashion-new exterior appearance with deeper bumpers and a redesigned grille. Mechanical and structural advances include a new wider and heavier chassis, new "pivot-poise" front suspension of a design that resists dipping, improved rear suspension, a new 277 h.p. "Rocket" engine, known as the T-400 due to its high torque throughout the driving range, and new 14-inch wheels.

Outstanding styling note is the accent stripe, an Oldsmobile exclusive, that runs more than half the length of the car's side panels between narrow chrome mouldings. This marks the first new style trend in exterior color application since Oldsmobile introduced two-tone color styling in the body in 1954. The accent stripe permits a new two-tone effect, with the car painted one color and the accent stripe in a contrasting color. However, the conventional two-tone styling is still available as an optional extra.

The 1957 Oldsmobiles will go on display in dealer showrooms throughout the nation on Friday, November 9.

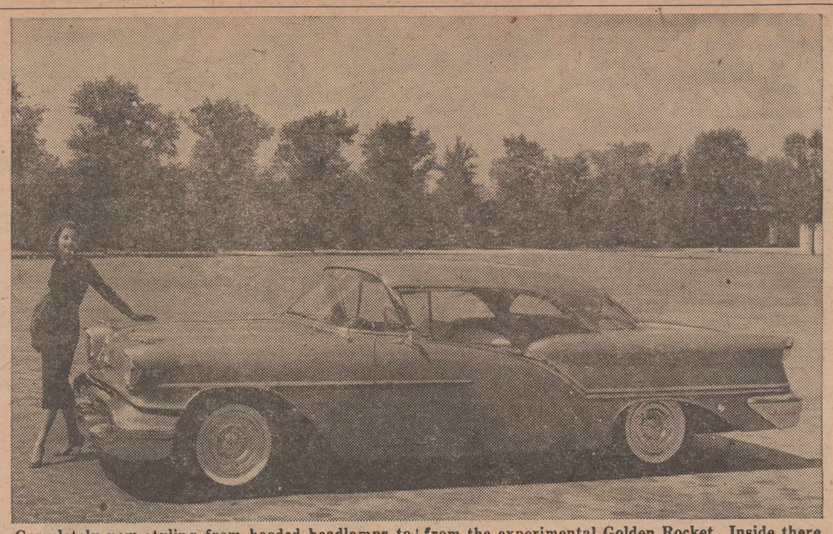

Four new body styles have been added to the 1957 Oldsmobile line —three Fiesta station wagon models and an economy priced "88" convertible coupe. The division of body styles for 1957 includes seven in the Golden Rocket "88" series, six in the Super "88" series and four in the Starfire "98" series.

The streamlined 1957 Oldsmobile silhouette, more than two inches lower and nearly five inches longer than last year, presents as its most salient styling motif the new accent stripe. The accent stripe is available in eight colors that contrast with the body color. It originates just forward of the dip in the belt line and sweeps downwards and then through the rear fender panel to the taillight trim.

Roadability and ride of the 1957 Oldsmobile have been improved through the new "wide-stance" chassis, incorporating a wider and heavier frame, and the improved front and rear suspension.

The 1957 "Rocket" engine has been boosted from 240 to 277 h. p. and the four-barrel quadri-jet carburetor is now standard on all series. Engine displacement has been increased from 324 to 371 cu. in. by lengthening the piston stroke and increasing the bore diameter. Compression ratio has been raised to 9.5 to 1.

Rear end design presents a new appearance, too, with oval taillights having wide chrome bands and a chrome spinner in the center. A chrome or painted pillar is the rear fender terminus and is mounted over the back-up lights. This pillar in the left rear fender lifts up to reveal the fuel tank cap and filler. The deeper rear bumper has vertical dual exhaust ports integrated in the outer guards. However, the exhaust is deflected downwards to minimize chrome corrosion by exhaust fumes. The dual exhaust system, now standard on the Super "88" and "98" series, has twin resonators on each tailpipe to provide better silencing and reduce back pressure.

Completely new styling from hooded headlamps to taillights features Oldsmobile for 1957, with the most sweeping model change in 20 years, as presented in this Super "88" Holiday coupe. "Sky-line" beading down the roof extends into the rear deck and sets off the twin-strutted rear windows with three separate glass areas. Distinguishing the new front end are the new "hi-lo" bumper, twin front fender rocket emblems and parking lights adapted from the experimental Golden Rocket. Inside there is a new strut-mounted instrument panel and a wide variety of new upholstery fabrics and colors. Mechanically, there is a new 277-h. p. "Rocket" engine, known as the T-400 because of its high torque throughout the driving range offering livelier-than-ever performance when you need it; improved front and rear suspension, 14-inch wheels and a more efficient dual-range heater.

The Autobiography of a Fast Buck

We get around, too. Going to Washington and back every little while. But the wear and tear of this trip is terrific. We are just not all there when we get back.

However, the most interesting part of my life is when some good citizen gets hold of me and spends me right back in his own home town where he got me. That's when I really go into action.

Like this morning, I was swapped for some medicine for his baby by a fellow who got me in exchange for some farm stuff he had raised.

The druggist gave me to the boy who sweeps out for him, and the boy spent me to get his good suit cleaned and pressed. The cleaner took me and paid his school taxes, and I went to the bank for a few minutes. Then a school teacher cashed her pay check and I started around town again.

Before night I had turned over 20 times, and put $20 worth of goods and service into people's hands, and accounted for $20 worth of trade in the community, and been in one crap game. A good day's work for one little old dollar.

But tonight I'm in the hands of a city-shopping addict, so tomorrow I'll be off to go to work for city folks. I'd really like to stay here and work for you people a while longer, as it looks like I am kind of needed here, and in a few months time I could help make things better for every one of you.

But it seems like some folks want to get us dollars plumb out of their sight and reach, for fear we'll make their community a better place to live.

Norwood Teams Win Six Game Series in Week

Samnorwood's boys and girls basketball teams came out victorious in all games played last week, four by the high school and two junior high games.

Tuesday night Norwood played host to Lelia Lake, with the boys winning 48-33 and the girls squeezing past thir opponents 52-51. The boys game was never in doubt as Norwood quickly gained a first quarter advantage of 15-6. The score at half-time was 21-15 and at the third quarter mark 37-20. Harvey Pat Bradley was high for the night with 15, followed by John Stevenson's 10 and Lawrence Simpson's 9. Seago and Chenault led Lelia Lake with 9 points apiece.

A basket by Lois Amerson in the last 5 seconds pulled the game out of the fire for Norwood in a game that saw the lead change hands several times. Dodson Baptists Observe RA Week

November 4-10 has been designated as Royal Ambassador Focus Week throughout the Southern Baptist convention, and the Baptist churches of this area are emphasizing the importance of this boys organization which is designed to make boys mission conscious and to develop them for positions of leadership in the church.

The morning service at the South Baptist Church in Dodson was directed by the boys who provided the special music featuring Roger Painter in a trumpet solo "God of Our Fathers", and a quartette composed of Joe Lennon, Roger Painter, Garth Lewis, and Glen Hunt. Their selection was "Sweet Peace the Gift of God's Love." The boys were accompanied by Ted Parker. Burl Vick presided at the dedication of the offering; Bobby Fillpot read the Scripture. The entire chapter repeated the oath of alleigance and lead in the benediction. The morning sermon was built around the Ambassador Oath and featured the points of: Pure Living; Speaking Truth; Righting Wrong; and Following the Christ the King.

The week will be highlighted when members of the chapter will go to Abilene next Saturday for a regional conference and will attend the football game between Hardin-Simmons and Txas Tech. Rangers Take District Crown by 45 to 6 Score

The Wellington Skyrockets title hopes were crushed by a strong, fast, senior team from Perryton, defeating them by the lopsided score of 45 to 6.

In winning the Rangers cinched the crown in District 3AA having previously beaten both Childress and Quanah. Their remaining game in the conference is with Shamrock and the Irish are having as bad a season as their big brothers at Notre Dame.

The Rangers first three touchdowns were set up as the result of recovered fumbles deep in Rocket territory. However, it should be pointed out here that the Rangers made the breaks. The Perryton linesmen played in the Wellington backfield a lot of the time when the Rockets were on offense. The Rockets were outmanned by the more experienced Perryton team, but it is to their credit that they fought right up to the last whistle.

The Rockets only touchdown was made in the fourth quarter on a beautifully executed 31 yard pass play from Johnson to Tarver.

The Rangers scored in every quarter, twice in the first, once in the second, twice in the third and twice in the fourth.

The Rockets remaining games are with Shamrock here and Quanah there. The Rockets are favored over Shamrock; but the Quanah game is expected to be a nip and tuck affair.
