Harris Injunction Against Highway Board Is Granted

FINE PROGRAM TODAY BRINGS FAIR TO CLOSE

Something Doing Every Minute of Final Day

TO RUN T-O DERBY

Great Array of Fast Horses Entered in This Event

For the fifth day since the gates swung wide the Texas-Oklahoma fair carried on yesterday.

The weather man, who had been in an amiable mood since Saturday, grew surly Wednesday morning and took his toll. A cold, cloudy period from midday until dark served to hold the daylight crowds to the smallest proportions of the fair; and at night, with a cold wind whipping in and sending the thermometer still lower, the usual evening throngs were also cut into heavily.

Midway Crowded.

The midway, however, was filled to more or less density for several hours late in the afternoon and again in the early evening. Exhibit halls, too, drew fair quotas of visitors. The automobile show as usual packed them in for a part of the day and probably attracted the greatest patronage of all.

It was designated as Oklahoma and Indiana day, the former appelation betant part Oklahoma has played in the ing attached by reason of the imporfair, and the latter because of the large number of Hoosiers in Wichita Falls who have taken an active interest in the exposition.

Wednesday night's society horse show was a somewhat expanded continuation of the initial events held Tuesday evening. The crowd in the stand was much smaller, but it evidently was composed of persons really anxious to see fine horses in action. It sat patiently and attentively while all events were run off.

Wichita Horses Win.

The awards again demonstrated the quality of mounts trained in this city, for Wichita Falls ponies, or ones owned by Wichita Falls men, walked off again with the major share of honors. Animals entered by W. B. Hamilton, D. O. Johnson, C. H. Featherstone, Horrace Robbins, Fred Weeks and others placed high although they had stiff competition from imported entries. Oklahoma

THE WEATHER

"A hen has got sense. I found a nest one had left an' she was right about the eggs."

LYRICS OF LIFE.
By Douglas Malloch.
Someone Somewhere.

Is it not something, after all,
When paths divide, when shadows fall,
To know that there is someone who
Wonders a little what you do,
Wonders a little where you are!
It may be near, it may be far,
It may be half the world around—
Is it not something to have found
Some soul, when other paths you choose,
You cannot have, you cannot lose!

Is it not something just to know
That when divided paths you go
You never quite completely part!—
That each shall carry in the heart
Some memory of other days
Before you went divided ways!
Is it not something just to feel
What hills may hide, what clouds conceal,
Though you know no clasp of hands,
That someone somewhere understands!

Oh, we may part from many a friend
And every song must have an end,
But in the heart the song sings on
When he who sang the song is gone
So think of someone somewhere who
Wonders a little what you do,
Wonders a little where you are,
Though very near, or very far.
When paths divide, when shadows fall,
Is that not something, after all!

UPHOLD COMMISSION MOVE

Court Approves Railroad Commission Depot Move at Center Point.

AUSTN, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Authority of the state railroad commission to compel a railway to move its station was upheld today when the court of civil appeals refused the San Antonio and Aransas Pass railroad a rehearing. In 1920 the commission ordered the railway to move its station three-quarters of a mile nearer the business portion of Center Point between San Antonio and Kerrville.

DALLAS JUDGE IS TIRED OF "FOOLISH QUESTIONS"

DALLAS, Oct. 7.—Impatient because of the length of time it has required to select a jury in the Martin trial here, Judge C. A. Pippen said today he would ask the next legislature to give jurists power to cut short interrogation of veniremen.

"I can do nothing but sit and listen to foolish questions," he said. "If the legislature will do as I wish, trials over the state can be speeded up.

AIR SERVICE STORM BREAKS OVER LEGION

Aeronautic Committee Wrangle to Reach Convention Today

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 7.—(AP)—Behind the scenes of the American Legion's national convention was a seething cauldron of politics and policy today.

The only business transacted was the selection of Philadelphia for the 1926 and the awarding of the 1927 meeting to Paris. The remainder of the time was devoted to addresses by army and navy officers and messages from the American Red Cross and Knights of Columbus.

The aeronautic committee, the legion's first such body, fought heatedly all day over whether to recommend endorsement of Col. William Mitchell, caustic critic of the nation's aerial defense.

A recommendation in which Mitchell's name was not mentioned, although one point he has urged, re-organization of the national defense under one cabinet officer with sub-divisions of equal importance for land, sea and air, was finally adopted.

Tonight there did not seem to be much probability of a minority report, but it was predicted freely that the national commander's query, "is there any discussion?" before putting the vote would unleash a storm of fiery debate tomorrow.

Missouri Corporation Refused Permit to Sell Stock in Texas.

AUSTIN, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Blue sky permit was denied a Missouri corporation which sought to dispose of $400,0000 in stock in Texas today by the secretary of state. Listing its assets at $1,126.000, the corporation had a patent valued at $670,000, investigation by the blue sky department showed. The secretary of state held that the "values did not warrant sale of the stock."

GRAND OLD MAN OF BASEBALL BEATS PIRATES

Veteran Walter Johnson Too Much For Pittsburgh

FANS 10 BUCCANEERS

Hurls With Superb Coolness To Win His First Full Series Tilt

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 7.—(AP) The great right arm of Walter Johnson repulsed the Pittsburgh Pirates today in their first bold bid to board the world's championship baseball craft now manned by Washington's gallant and seasoned battlers.

Before a home-town crowd of 45,000 that filled every nook and cranny of Forbes Field, the Pirates fell beofre the masterful strokes of "Old Barney" while his Senator mates pounded out a decisive 4 to 1 triumph in the first clash of the 1925 series conflict.

Get Only Five Hits.

Striking out 10 of the bold Buccaneers and twirling with superb coolness and effectiveness in every crisis, Johnson held the National league champions to five scattered blows—one of them a booming home run by Pie Traynor—while Joe Harris, Sam Rice and Ossie Bluege led an attack that achieved the downfall of Lee Meadows, bespectacled veteran and also found its mark against the curves of "Jughandle" Johnny Morrison who took the mound in the 9th after Meadows had given way to a pinch hitter.

The dash and fire, the highly touted howitzers of the Pirate batting batteries, were of no avail against the crafty defense of Johnson this afternoon. Smoke is a familiar home town product on Pittsburgh's fields of battle, but the Buccaneers found that the "big train" had a variety that couldn't penetrate when there was any prospect that hits would produce much-needed runs.

The Old Time "Smoke."

For Johnson today had all the "smoke" of his famous speed ball as well as the baffling change of pace that has helped him keep the peak and rule as one of the marvels of the national game in spite of nearly a score of years in big league service.

The Pirates trained their biggest guns on "Old Barney" but they couldn't find the range except for the one stroke put through by Traynor, who altogether got two of the quintet

Name of Ferguson Brought In To Trace $3,500 Check

Summary Of Road Probe

With attacks made upon it from several quarters, the state highway commission now finds itself on the defensive.

Yesterday a temporary injunction against one of its contracts in Harris county was granted.

In Dallas the executive board of the associated contractors of America commended L. W. Kemp, former secretary of the Texas highway branch of that organization, in his recent actions concerning irregularities against the state highway commission and in a public statement said his accusations would be thoroughly investigated and acted upon.

A grand jury investigation of highway commission maintenance work is being conducted in Bexar county.

Frank V. Lanham, chairman highway commission, holds conference with Jim Ferguson at Austin, leaving for Dallas immediately thereafter on an unknown mission.

CHIROPRACTOR MAKES BOND IN MEDICAL CASE

Friends Bail Him Out Of Jail; Says Law Unjust

DALLAS, Oct. 7.—Dr. Clyde M. Keeler, Dallas chiropractor, after being incarcerated in the county jail six hours, was released tonight under $500 bond. The chiropractor is charged with violating the medical practice act of Texas, in a complaint filed Tuesday. Bonds in the sum of $500 were made today by five other local chiropractors charged with the same offense. Although only six of the practitioners had been arrested today, similar charges have been filed against ten chiropractors.

Keeler went to jail without making bond when first arrested. He declared that "being arrested for allaged violation of the medical practice act, which I firmly believe to be unjust, discriminartory and unfair, is no new experience to me. I have had the experience four times and four times I have been acquitted because justice prevails in Texas."

LANHAM SEES JIM AT AUSTIN, THEN HURRIES TO DALLAS WEDNESDAY

AUSTIN, Oct. 7.—Frank V. Lanham, chairman of the state highway commission, held a conference with former Governor James E. Ferguson today, but left for Dallas immediately thereafter.

Former Governor Ferguson declined to say what phase of the highway department situation was discussed. However, he admitted that he had a "talk" with Mr. Lanham, who has been involved in a controversy with Harris county officials over the Sherman and Youmans county highway maintenance contract.

Eugene Smith, secretary of the highway commission, said he did not know the purpose of Mr. Lanham's visit.

Joe Burkett of Eastland, member of the commission who has been here for several days, left for his home today.

HOUSTON, Oct. 7.—On the ground that execution of the Sherman and Youmans maintenance contract by the state highway commission showed a complete disregard and abuse of discretion, Judge Walter E. Monteith late Wednesday granted a temporary injunction sought by Harris county tax payers against further operation of the contract in question.

The decision came promptly after counsel for both sides to the litigation had concluded arguments in the case, Attorney General Dan Moody closing with a fiery demand for the nullification of the contract in order to serve the best interests of the state and the people of Texas.

Calls It "Unscionable."

The young attorney general characterized the contract as "unscionable."

"These men have no right to reach into the state treasury, to stick their hands into the money pots of Texas, and rake out $200,000 where but $100,000 was their honest due," Moody declared.

"The suggestion of fraud must go through this case from beginning to end, I ask, if it leases this court, that the people of Texas be protected and that this contract be declared a nullity and set aside so that a new contract may be let on competitive bids."

The defense touched off a political powder barrel in the closing hours of the hearing and for the space of a hectic half hour fireworks blazed in which the name of James E. Ferguson stood out in the center of the illumination.

"Politics" Defense Charged.

A single query by counsel for plaintiff concerning the part played by former Governor Ferguson in the deliberations of the state highway commission proved the spark in the powder.

Instantly attorneys for the defense set up cries of "politics!" "politics!"

Counsel for plaintiffs disclaimed any such purpose save that it was their intention to trace the proceeds of the $3,500 previously introduced evidence.

"And it was testified on this witness stand that Mr. Sherman declared that part of the proceeds of the $3,500 check was his personal contribution to the Ferguson campaign fund," Attorney Amerman explained.

"What I purposed to show by my question concerning what part Ferguson plays in the deliberations of the highway commission was that he dominates the commission," Amerman continued.

CONTRACTORS UPHOLD KEMP IN ACCUSATIONS; PLAN A DEEPER PROBE

DALLAS, Oct. 7.—Accusations concerning alleged use of public highway equipment by a private contractor came before the executive board of the Associated Contractors of America here today. The board commended L. W. Kemp, former secretary of the Texas Highway branch of the organization for disclosing some of the irregularities in highway building.

Kemp was dismissed as secretary of the Texas branch because he took up the highway matters without authority of the Texas board of directors. A resolution, adopted by the executive board today, commended Kemp's action and expressed appreciation of his work.

Committee Hears Him.

A committee composed of prominent contractors from various parts of the country heard Mr. Kemp's statement last night. The resolution reported by this committee and adopted by the executive board follows:

"We listened attentively to everything Mr. Kemp had to say. The facts are that a member of the association, a bidder for some road work in a city of Texas, heard that the successful bidder was using upon this work, equipment used by the state. Mr. Kemp investigated this and states he found it to be true. He thereupon consulted a half dozen members of his association in that district, and upon their advice, drew this to the attention of the engineer in charge of the work. He states that the engineer admitted the facts and upon a further consultation with the same individual members of his association, he was advised and did draw these facts to the attention of the office of the Governor of Texas, an act which should have had the approval of the board of directors.

Members Are Commended.

"The committee commends these local members of the association and Mr. Kemp in bringing to the attention of the engineer in charge this situation, which if true, gave the successful bidder for this work an undue advantage. So far the members of the general contractors and Mr. Kemp were properly acting in the interest of an investigation of an individual member. The more or less complicated situation that developed, Mr. Kemp again acted without the authority of his board in giving interviews to the press and in doing so rendered his position as secretary of the highway branch of the Texas chapter A. G. C. untenable, in that he took action for the association without orders of the board of directors.

"Mr. Kemp made a long statement of alleged irregularities in connection with the letting of contracts and the doing of road work of the state. We believe these statements have been made to the press and he states to the authorities constituted to handle such situations.

Charges to Be Investigated.

"While we do not criticize the action of the directors, we also have no criticism of Mr. Kemp, but express appreciation of an action which, while rending his position as secretary untenable, was nevertheless in line with good citizenship and the policy of the A. G. C.

"This committee recommends that no further action be taken until these accusations have been thoroughly investigated and acted upon by the proper authorities."

IMMERSION TO BE DEBATED AT CHURCH MEET

Fight of Years Ago Is Revived at Christian Convention

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 7.—(AP)—The conciliation committee of the Disciples of Christ named last year in Cleveland to seek a way to heal divergent views on doctrinal questions, mainly immersion, submitted to the international convention of the church a report that immersion should be made essential for membership or employment in any of the church's agencies.

The report probably will be debated tomorrow and is expected to bring into conflict the conservative and progressive elements within the denomination.

The conciliation committee's report is regarded as the most important matter to be brought before the convention.

Last year at the Cleveland convention debate became so warm over the question of immersion that a truce was declared and the committee named to report one year later.

Conservatives Favored.

The committee's report therefore favors elements that waged the biter fight in Cleveland. Many of the most prominent leaders in the church, however, are listed in the ranks of the liberals.

The truck will be assembled there and in turn will carry the plane to the department store.

It has a wing spread of 58 feet four inches and is equipped with a 400 horsepower Liberty motor.

Two of the Ford machines will be used for express service between the New York and Philadelphia Wanamake stores.

Everybody's Hard At Work On Elephant Contest To Win $1000 In Cash Prizes

Everybody's got it—Elephantitus. The Record News' great $1,000 prize contest is responsible for the conditions which have settled upon homes and offices in Texas and Oklahoma. Pa's complaining because he can't get the buttons sewed on his shirt. Ma's talking about the scandalous way pa spends his evenings pouring over the elephant contest and "nobody can get a word out of him." Little Willie can't concentrate on his studies at school and sis has completely forgotten her dolls. Thousands in Wichita Falls and surrounding territory are wrought up over the elephant contest these days, and judging by the way the answers are coming into the Record News office their time is not wasted.

With the first prize of $500 as a shining bait and the other 24 prizes, totaling $500 more as a target to shoot at, it's no wonder that everything else is now secondary to finding out how much the elephant weighs. Is he heavier than the biggest circus elephant you ever saw. You bet he is for this elephant in addition to his elephantine ponderosity he is carrying $1,000 to be distributed on November 14.

The Record News invites readers and all others to get in on the contest. The rules, which are simple are printed each day in the ad. Follow them and you can't go wrong. There is one way of finding out how much this five toed proboscidian mammal weighs and that is add all of the numbers, which are from two to nine.

So far there is no one who knows what the elephant weighs and won't know until the afternoon of November 14. At that time the originator of the contest will wire his addition from Washington and the contest manager at the Record News will then subtract the figures which have been peeled from the hide.

Several contestants have been anxious to know how close their addition is to the correct weight. At no one in Wichita Falls will know answer until the final day of the contest, they will have to wait and suffer. Follow the rules of the contest closely and mail your answer in as quickly as possible.

For quick action use a Record News want ad. Phone 4121.

Says Rum Sale Is Russian Salvation

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 7. (AP)—"Russia's present salvation lies in the recent lifting of the prohibition law by the soviet government. And its future salvation rests securely upon the Christian church."

That is the belief of the Rev. Ivan S. Prokhanoff of Leningrad, president of the All-Russian Union of Evangelical churches, a denomination closely resembling the disciples of Christ in America and numbering approximately 2,000,000 members.

Mr. Prokhanoff is attending the international convention of the Disciples of Christ.

"You may think this a peculiar statement for a minister of the gospel to make," he explained, "but it is wholly true and soundly moral. You must understand that in Russia during the 11 years of prohibition, the corner saloon moved into the kitchens of millions of homes."

RUBBER STAMPS.

Surely, no thinking person's idea of excellence in conduct is that people should do absolutely nothing but copy one another.

Yet our statute books are being crowded with laws founded on this idea.

No intelligent person would assert that people ought not to put into their mode of life, and into the conduct of their concerns, any impress whatever of their own judgment, or of their own individual character.

On the other hand, it would be absurd to pretend that people ought to live as if nothing whatever had been known in the world before they came into it; as if experience had as yet done nothing towards showing that one mode of existence, or of conduct, is preferable to another.

Few there are who deny that people should be so taught and trained in youth, as to know and benefit by the ascertained results of human experience.

But it is the privilege and proper condition of a human being, arrived at the maturity of his faculties, to use and interpret experience in his own way.

It is for him to find out what part of recorded experience is properly applicable to his own circumstances and character.

The traditions and customs of other people are, to a certain extent, evidence of what their experience has taught them.

But, in the first place, their experience may be too narrow; or they may not have interpreted it rightly.

Secondly, their interpretation of experience may be correct but unsuitable to him. Customs are made for customary circumstances, and customary characters; and his circumstances and his character may be uncustomary.

Thirdly, though the customs be both good as customs, and suitable to him, yet to conform to custom, merely as custom, does not educate or develop in him any of the qualities which are the instinctive endowment of the human being.

The dictates of custom and experience should not rule any of us absolutely.

THE SMART SET.

An European, sailing away for home, characterizes Americans as a nation of social climbers.

Every year, at Newport, at Southampton and other meccas of the so-called "smart set," hundreds of thousands of dollars are spent by newly rich families in heart-breaking endeavors to "belong" and be invited to Mrs. Vanastorbilt's clam-bakes on Bailey's Beach.

General society, as now carried on in the United States (and across the water, too) is so insipid an affair, even to the persons who make it what it is, that it is kept up for any reason rather than the pleasure it affords.

All serious discussion on matters on which opinions differ being considered ill-bred, and the natural snobbishness and deficiency in liveliness having prevented the cultivation of the art of talking agreeably on trifles, the sole attraction of what is called society to those who are not on at the top of the tree, is the hope of being aided to climb a little higher in it, while to those already at the top, it is chiefly a compliance with custom, and with the supposed requirements of their station.

To a person of any but a very common order in thought or feeling, such society, unless he has personal objects to serve by it, must be supremely unattractive: and most persons, in the present day, of any really high class of intellect, make their contact with it so slight, and at such long intervals, as to be considered as retiring from it altogether.

Those persons of any mental superiority who do otherwise, are, we are told by more than one commentator, greatly deteriorated by it.

Not counting the loss of time involved in complying with all of the senseless conventions, the tone of their feelings is lowered: they become less in earnest about those of their opinions respecting which they must remain silent in the society they frequent: they must come to look upon all but the most colorless of the "elevated" subjects as impractical.

It is no wonder that so many of those who are accredited members of the inner circle are hiring out to commerce. Even while the push of the social climbers becomes more crushing, the desertions from the four hundred grew.

Uncommon Sense

By JOHN BLAKE.

Learn to Listen.

Judge Elbert H. Gary is head of the great United States Steel corporation.

Under his direction it has come to be one of the biggest, as well as one of the most useful institutions in the world.

Because of what it has done great buildings that will last, as far as we know, forever spring up within a few weeks—buildings that house populations equal to small cities, as well as vast factories and business institutions.

Over the whole world go its products, steel girders and stanchions, made at the factory the exact size required, and ready to be hoisted into the place where they belong in buildings and riveted there, later to be walled in with brick or stone or cement.

Many thousand employes are employed by this institution. All work together to build it up and make it increasingly powerful and useful.

And one man—a spare elderly man with a white sits in an office in New York City and directs the mustache and not much hair on the top of his head operations of this army.

This man was not raised in the steel industry.

By profession he is a lawyer.

He once sat on the bench in Chicago, and calmly risked his life by sentencing a few murderous anarchists who had tried to blow up a part of that city with dynamite bombs.

His life was continually threatened while the trial was in progress.

But threats did not alter his determination.

This man, who came into the steel corporation as an attorney, has learned all the intricacies of the business.

And he learned it, he says, by first learning to listen.

By listening instead of talking, he got into his own head the knowledge that was in the heads of men who had grown up in the steel business—men like Carnegie and Schwab and Frick.

By listening he learned about transportation problems, and market conditions, and employment, and all that made up an understanding of one of the five or ten biggest jobs in the world.

When he advises young men to listen he knows what he is talking about.

His is no lecture of a theorist about life.

He found by his own practical experience that the man who talks little, listens much and then thinks about what he hears, has a better chance of getting along than he would in any other way.

A lecture on esoteric buddhism by Judge Gary might not be worth much.

But a lecture on listening by him is worth a great deal, for he is a very great uccess and has made his business a still greater success.

Getting ahead is not such a difficult business today as it used to be. There are many able men who not only have got ahead themselves, but are willing to tell others how they did it.

Judge Gary is only one of them.

HONORED BY HIS NEIGHBORS.

Colonel Benjamin F. Yoakum was born in Texas. He became famous as a railroad builder and operator in Texas. He was the president of the Frisco lines before he became the president of the Rock Island lines. Twenty years ago he became a resident of Farmingdale, Long Island, where he has a country home and operates a large farm.

All his neighbors gathered in last week and celebrated the 20th anniversary of his residence at Farmingdale. A silver door knocker was presented to the Texas colonel. It was then affixed to the 200-year-old door at the main entrance to the club house at the Lenox Hills Golf club of which this former Texan is the founder.

Yoakum's History of Texas is a standard work. It was written by the father of this former railroad president, who in his day was a leading educator of Texas and prominent in the intellectual life of the state.

Colonel Yoakum first discovered the beauties of the magic valley. He should pay a visit to Texas this winter and see what has been accomplished in the valley by the men who have been on the firing line in recent years.

RUSSIA NOT STARVING THIS YEAR.

Russia will not buy wheat this year. Russians will not starve this year. Russia has harvested a wheat crop of 2,250,000,000 bushels, or a yield greater by 750,000,000 bushels than the crop of 1924.

Russia will have for export this year more than 10,000,000 tons of wheat. From this it would appear that the Russian peasant has returned to his plow. He is digging his way back.

WHERE WEALTH ABIDES.

According to a correspondent the assessed value of real estate in New York City has reached the gigantic sum of $17,119,659,444 for the year, the total increase on real and personal property is $2,191,316,000. New York has tax exempt property of $4,700,000,000. Political rulers of Greater New York must live in clover.

Today's planetary aspects are variable and complicated. In the morning, they reveal apathy and indifference. Just before noon, they assume an adverse character. At sunset, they change quite suddenly and become favorable. This atmosphere is maintained until about 10 p. m. when the aspects again revert to the adverse stage. Under such changeable conditions, it would be well to be content, as far as possible, with things as they are, and not to attempt to do anything out of the ordinary, especially if it be tainted with a suspicion of risk or speculation. It will also be necessary to curb your impulses, as they are today liable to lead you astray.

Children born today will suffer, more or less, from infantile ailments, the serious effects of which can be counteracted by scientific alimentation, and an abundance of outdoor air. They, according to the signs, will develop, later on, along normal physical lines. Temperamentally, they will not have very attractive dispositions, as they will be self-centered, careless of others' desires and self-willed. When young, and, in order to curb this tendency as much as possible, they should be forced to associate with playmates of a similar age, in order to make them more sportsmanlike in their attitude.

If today is your birthday, you are a very loyal friend, but a very dangerous enemy. Neither the one nor the other can, at any time, have any doubt as to where you stand. You are open and above board, and never make any attempt to hide your feelings—be they favorable or otherwise. You are absolutely sincere and hate all subterfuge or deceit, and are never guilty of dissimulation. As a consequence, you are often considered tactless and undiplomatic.

You are more than ordinarily meticulous in your work, and are very fussy over details. You do not expect from others what you are not yourself, but as you set a very high standard for your own work and conduct, it is sometimes difficult for others, not so gifted, to keep pace with you.

You do not hanker much after social life, and prefer a small circle of agreeable and companionable intimates. In such association, you are always pleasant and entertaining.

Men Held in Texas Bank Hold-Ups May Face New Charges

DALLAS, Oct. 7.—Some of the 22 persons held in North Texas jails in connection with robbery of several Texas banks recently may face federal charges for alteration of liberty bonds said to have been stolen, officers said today. A number of the bonds recovered by Ranger Captain Tom Hickman and identified as those missing from the banks have been altered by changing of their numbers, he said. Secret service agents are conducting an investigation and are searching for some of the bonds, not yet recovered.

HOW IT STARTED — IRRIGATION

"If the Mountain Will Not Come to Mohommet—"

A saying that is frequently used in common speech is "If the mountain will not come to Mohommet, Mohommet must go to the mountain!" One friend calling another who he has not seen in some time will remark: "It was your turn, to come to me, but if the mountain will not come to Mohommet—!" The saying is familiar too, with reference to a hope or an achievement which does not come of itself, but requires effort and exertion to bring it about, the implication being that if the object is worth it, we must make the effort.

The origin of the saying is found in one of the many legends that have come down through the ages with regard to Mohommet, the prophet of Islam. It has been given credence because it is known that with all his sincerity and faith in his divine inspiration, the prophet, was forced, on occasions, to use all his cleverness and wits to "put over" his messages and gain from the ignorant and doubting populace followers to his faith.

The story is told that a group that he was attempting to convert, demanded in proof of his authority that he bring about a miracle. Eager to convince them in the only coin that they would honor, he raised his eyes aloft and commanded a nearby mountain to come to him. When the mountain did not stir, the ingenious prophet, undismayed, declared that Allah was merciful, for had he permitted the mountain to obey his disciple, it would have fallen on them and destroyed them all. Therefore, he concluded, he would go to the mountain, instead, and give thanks for their deliverence.

SUES BOSTON U. DEAN.

Dismissed Instructor Says She Was Fired Because of Statement.

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Mrs. Louisa Tufts Ford, former instructor of the college of practical arts and letters of Boston university, has filed suit for $50,000 against Theodore Lawrence Davis, dean of the college, alleging that she lost her position because she informed Acting President Bishop W. F. Anderson that certain men teachers were not fit to teach in the college.

As we have seen in previous articles taxes are fixed in district No. 2. They do not vary from one acre to another and do not change from year to year. In district No. 1 they do vary according to the value of any particular acre and may vary in the rate from time to time.

If the owners of land under the Holliday lateral are taken into district No. 1 they will have the constantly increasing values in the city of Wichita Falls to help them reduce their tax rate.

Wichita Falls is a rapidly growing town. Its assessed valuations are increasing each year with every indication that they will continue as time goes on.

Of course as soon as the lands under the Holliday lateral begin to be irrigated their values will increase very greatly, but its likely that city values will increase even more rapidly over any considerable term of years.

Every increase in city value means less taxes for the farmer. There is a definate amount to be paid each year as interest and sinking funds on the bonds issued and therefore the greater the amount of values against which this definate sum is assessed the less the amount per thousand dollars of value there is to be paid.

It may well be that a great advantage in taxation would accrue to these Holliday lateral land owners by becoming a part of district No. 1 as compared to district No. 2.

The Storm Center

By BURTON L. STEVENSON

Leading Characters in the story.

O'NEILL—An American ex-diplomat traveling to Africa is given a reservation ticket at the Paris station by a stranger. After he embarks he receives a note, addressed to M. Delage, which requests him to leave the train at the next station or suffer death. Alarmed he notices the occupants of his compartment, among whom are a mysterious, swarthy vis a vis and

A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN, to whom O'Neill shows the note and later takes to the dining car for supper. After finishing their meal they return to the compartment where O'Neill finds in his seat the body of a recently murdered stranger. The beautiful Lady later informs O'Neill that the fact the stranger was murdered, with a sharp instrument that penetrated the brain, linked the murder with the Hamadsha, a sect of Africa that kill or maim their victims in the same manner. O'Neill suspects she knows more about the murder than she discloses to him. At Marseilles he takes the boat for Africa. While on the boat, O'Neill is drugged and his baggage searched. He accepts the offer of a new friend

LANDON, an American archaeologist, to assist him in an exploration into Northern Africa. He is accompanied by his daughter

PATRICIA LANDON. A beautiful self reliant girl. At Algiers Landon is approached by the swarthy vis a vis, who offers him 200,000 francs for the map. Delage, himself appears and discloses the subterfuge of his identity to the stranger. A terrific hand to hand encounter then ensues the Arab losing his life in the fight. Later in the desert O'Neill meets Delage accompanied by the beautiful woman. Delage and Landon both admit that their purpose is to secure the treasure of Ahmed Ammar, the leader of the Moslem faith. This fortune which is centuries old is to be used by the Bolshevistic forces to overthrow Christianity and this part of Africa will be the storm center from which the war will be conducted. Delage has a map showing the location of the treasure and by a clever ruse has become a favored guest of Ahmed Ammar. At first sight there seems to be a mutual bond of attraction between Delage and Patricia.

One girl came forward and was transfixed through the nose, another had her lips pinned together, still another her hands with a skewer right through the palms. One was stabbed through the flesh of the neck, another through the tongue and still another through both arms.

CHAPTER XVI

The Hamadsha's Rites.

One by one the skewers were removed. In no one case was there any blood; but two or three of the small ones winced noticeably as the steel came out. However, a moment later they had all danced happily away and the first part of the ceremonies was over.

O'Neill passed his hand unsteadily before his eyes. The place had become insufferably hot and close; he could scarcely breathe and he felt half-hypnotized himself by the rhythmic din which seemed to increase from moment to moment.

One of the men came dancing forward just as the children had done. His eyes were almost closed, with only the whites showing, and the priest raised the lids a little and looked at them. He nodded and released him, and the man danced on and prostrated himself before the mihrab.

After a moment, one of the attendants there raised him gently, and picking up one of the skewers which had been used on the children and which had been thrown in a heap on the floor without any thought of cleanliness, he ran it down close under the man's left eyeball, until the point emerged on the left cheek.

And at this moment, with a little sigh, Pat closed her eyes and slid quietly to the floor.

It was Delage who reached her first and who caught her up as though she were a child and carried her out into the cool night air. She opened her eyes in a moment and Delage set her gently on her feet, still supporting her with an encircling arm. Inside the mosque the din went on undiminished.

"How silly of me," Pat murmured and then, conscious of the arm about, her, drew herself free.

"I was about ready to faint myself," said O'Neill, mopping the perspiration from his face. "I am positively sick."

"But you will return of course," said a voice behind them, and they turned to find Sidi Yada there. He peered at them curiously in the dim light from the mosque's open door—peered at Pat and then at Delage. Especially at Delage, who had quickly drawn his burnoose about him and resumed a Moselum impassivity. "I trust the young man is better," he added.

"He is all right again," said Landon, "but I doubt if he will care to go back."

"Oh, no!" said Pat quickly. "I can not go back. I could not stand any more!"

"Nor I," agreed O'Neill.

"But you will return, will you not, Monsieur Landon?" said Sidi Yada persuasively. "And you, also, Sidi Abdullah," he added in Arabic, his eyes again on Delage's face.

Delage bowed his assent. Landon looked uncertainly at Pat.

"I suppose I ought to see it through as I shall never have such a chance again," he said.

"O course you ought, dad," Pat agreed.

"I can take Pat back," said O'Neill.

"There's no reason why I should take you away," Pat began, but O'Neill stopped her.

"I have had enough of it," he said, "I don't want to go back."

So Pat and O'Neill rode away down the hill behind their guide, while Landon and Delage returned to the mosque to witness the further mysteries. And Sidi Yada's face, as he followed them in, was glowing with triumph.

"Do you feel all right again?" asked O'Neill, when they reached the road and conversation was possible.

"Oh, yes," said Pat. "I think it was the heat and noise as much as anything—that frightful drumming."

O'Neil mustered courage to broach the subject which had been burning at his heart all the evening.

"How did you get along with Ahmed's wife?" he asked.

"Wives," Pat corrected him, with a little laugh. "He has three—though only one in reality, I suppose."

"But you couldn't talk to them?"

"No," said Pat, her eyes upon him, "but luckily Monsieur Delage's sister was there and she interpreted for me."

"His sister?" O'Neill felt his spirit lift its wings suddenly within him and soar away into the empryean.

"Yes," said Pat, smiling in sympathy with the joy in his voice. "The woman with whom you had dinner on the train. She is a widow—her husband was killed in the war. She says she told you about her brother."

"So she did," said O'Neill thickly; "but I never thought—I did not imagine—she must think me a fool."

"She was surprised that you didn't guess it," said Pat, a little severely. Then she relented. "She is very beautiful," she added, quietly, "and very clever. I can understand a man going mad about her."

O'Neill could find no words to reply, and looked away for a moment until he could control the trembling of his lips. It had been too sudden—like a burst to a man who had spent months in a dungeon.

So they rode along, busy with their thoughts; and presently there came a lightening along the eastern sky, and the moon sailed majestically above the hills.

At last away to the left they saw their tent gleaming white against the dark background of the bluff.

They stopped to give their horses a drink at the river, and then picked their way slowly across the boulders of the intervening field.

"I wonder where Belayed is?" said Pat, as they reached the tent. "He ought to be here to meet us."

O'Neill shouted for him, but there was no response.

"I know where he is," he said grimly; "he has gone off to Tijdad to the cafe. He was there last night and was raving about a dancer."

"I am very tired," said Pat.

"This day has been almost too much for me; I think I'll turn in."

"Yes do," said O'Neill, glancing at her face, very white and small, and realizing that, in spite of her valiant spirit, she was after all only a girl. "I am going to sit out front for a while and take a smoke. Goodnight."

He carried one of the folding chairs out in front of the tent, got his pipe to going and stared thoughtfully out at the moonlit valley.

What was the predestined end, he wondered, for himself and for this woman, so lovely and so fascinating? He could think of her tenderly without reproach, now that he knew she was not the mistress of another man. He was not in love with her—not as he had always understood the word, but a subtle warmth pervaded him at thought of her dark beauty, her mysterious eyes, her scarlet eloquent lips. Would they ever be his, those lips? The thought made him tremble.

How long he sat lost in this revery he did not know, but he was roused from it at last by the clatter of hoofs over the ground and looked up to see Belayed approaching, astride one of the donkeys.

"So it's you," he said, as Belayed slid to the ground. "Where have you been?"

"I have been to the cafe, monsieur."

"The dancer appeared tonight for the last time." Belayed explained. "She is not coming back."

"What has happened to her?"

"I do not know certainly," Belayed, "but it is said that hereafter she will dance only for Ahmed Ammar." He stopped and looked toward the road. "Is that Monsieur Landon?" he asked.

O'Neill, following his gaze, saw two horsemen coming slowly toward them across the field.

"Yes," he said, "It is Monsieur Landon. Wait and take his horse."

As the two horsemen came nearer, O'Neil saw that one of them was a native—another a guide, no doubt, sent by Sidi Yada; but why should he think it necessary to bring Landon clear to the door of the tent? Then he saw that the native was leading Landon's horse by the bridle and that Landon sat in a curious, half-hunched up fashion, clinging to the high peak of the saddle.

"What's the matter?" O'Neill asked, striding forward to meet him. "Are you ill?"

"No," answered Landon thickly; "I am all right," and he slid heavily to the ground.

The thought came into O'Neill's head that he was drunk, yet how could that be?

"Take the horses away, Belayed," he commanded sharply, and waited till the man was out of hearing. "What has happened to you?" he asked again. "Have you had an accident?"

Landon did not answer for a moment, only passed his hand across his forehead and looked about him again.

"I do not know what you are talking about," he said at last, and then he gazed full into O'Neill's face. "Who are you?" he demanded.

For an instant O'Neill thought he was joking. But there was no trace of merriment in the gaze which Landon turned upon him.

"What's the matter with you anyway, Landon?" he asked again, and stepped to his side and peered into his face. The face was very pale and the eyes that met his were destitute of expression—quite blank and empty as though the soul had been withdrawn from them.

"Who are you?" repeated Landon.

A great fear seized O'Neill's heart—a fear of something terrible and unknown.

"I am Gordon O'Neill," he said gently. "Don't you remember."

Landon shook his head.

"Of course I don't remember," he said. "I have never seen you before," and he sank wearily into the chair before the tent.

CHAPTER XVII.

Guesses at a Riddle.

Pat, awakened by the voices and sensing the unusual note in both of them, had thrown a long coat over her shoulders and come running out.

"So you're back, dad!" she cried. "I'm so glad!"

And then she stopped, for Landon had greeted her with the same blank, unrecognizing look he had turned upon O'Neill. For an instant she did not understand, and O'Neill had time to seize her by the arm and hold her tight. Then the shock, the sheer horror of it, swept through her.

"Steady!" said O'Neill softly. "Steady, Pat!"

By a mighty effort she pulled back her failing senses.

"You are tired, aren't you, dad?" she asked, dropping to her knees beside him and taking has hand in both of hers.

"Yes, very tired," he agreed listlessly.

IS YOUR CLUB ALIVE?

Are You Doing Your Part of Work

Well, how's your club this year? And what is your individual work in your own organization. Are you willing to lead if necessary and take the resposibility of making it a go? Many clubs fail because somebody falls down on her part as a leader. Some fear to act because they are afraid of criticism. Someone has said that leadership in both men and women is going untrained and that it is needed in every community more than anything else in the world. Talent, brains and social power are going to waste, that, if collected and organized and made to function, would soon do wonderful things. And women need one another—that's half of life. They would think more of themselves if they knew other women better and would soon learn to appreciate the big part they are playing in the game of life.

One woman in Wichita Falls, who has ever been a leader in social life, club life and musically, is Mrs. O. E. Nicholls, president of the Wednesday Study club which held it's first meeting of the new season at the home of Mrs. Bernard Martin Wednesday afternoon. The hours were pleasantly spent in an informal manner with musical numbers and readings given by the club members followed with a social hour and refreshments. Mrs. Nicholls is state treasurer of the Texas Federation of Music clubs, and will attend the executive board meeting to be held at Corsicana the sixteenth of this month. She is a musician of the highest order, not only an artistic violinist, but plays the pipe organ as well. Mrs. Nicholls is also an active member of the Musicians' club and of the Mustic Study club.

It is probable that Mrs. E. L. Fulton will attend this meeting as she is state chairman of pageantry in the Texas Federation of Music Clubs.

To Club Meet

Mrs. O. E. Nicholls, talented musician, will leave October 16 for Corsicana, where she will attend an executive board meeting of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs.

Another orgainzation holding it's first meeting of the fall, was the Junior Travel club. A unique program was given, which was sealed and nobody knew just what it was going to be until they went to the meeting. Each member was told by the chairman, Mrs. O. T. Ailes what she was to do and that was all she knew. It proved a delightful surprise as well as entertaining. One important feature was, that every member was assigned to tell what her summer preparations for her year's club work had been.

The Pieria club met at the home of Mrs. Edwin Bebb and besides a brief business session, music was enjoyed and the president, Miss Clara Schultz, gave her message.

The Sorosis club also met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Ernest Archambeau in a get-to-gether session, when the question, "What is our definite work in the club this year?" was answered by the members. Vacation notes were exchanged and the members felt that they had received much inspiration for their work the coming year.

Today the literary department of the Woman's Forum will present Dr. N. F. Grafton in a lecture, "Sixty Miles of Kings Tombs, Egyptian Pyramids."

Luncheon was served by members of Circle Two to Mesdames A. J. Holt, J. L. Powell Jr., O. W. Rippitoe, C. F. Husbey, J. Z. Powell, J. W. Smith, J. B. Allred, Robert Farmer, G. W. Anderson, N. B. After the club women's collect wos read in unity led by Mrs. O. W. Wilson, roll call was answered with, "What I Have Done This Summer on the Coming Year's Club Work."

Mrs. Wayne Somerville gave a backward glance over what the club did last year, and Mrs. O. T. Ailes, chairman of the program committee, gave a survey of the year book for 1925-26.

Following the program a discussion was held on "How to Get the Most Out of the Year's Work," Mrs. Duff gave the president's message.

Minimum Temperature Of 57 Degrees Registered During Day

With a minimum temperature of 57 degrees and a 66 recording at 5 o'clock, Wichita Falls dug in last night for another seige of real fall weather.

Wednesday passed as a day of low-hanging clouds with thermometers averaging 25 and 30 degrees lower than at a similar period Tuesday. A northeast breeze carried a chilly tang, although it was at no time boistrous. A threat of rain, especially late in the afternoon and early in the evening, failed to materialize.

Reports from all northwest Texas indicated the area of clouds and low temperature was widespread. With the exception of a few scattered points in Oklahoma, no showers were reported from anywhere in the Wichita Falls trade territory.

General Rules of the Contest

This competition is open to all residents of the states of Texas and Oklahoma, except employes of The Record News and members of their families.

Contestants may submit as many different solutions as they desire provided a payment of one of the amounts designated in the prize list shall accompany each solution. NO SOLUTION UNACCOMPANIED BY A SUBSCRIPTION PAYMENT WILL BE REGISTERED.

The Record News offers these prizes for individual effort. While it is proper for members of one household to work together or several friends, it is not permissible for more than one of those working in unison to send a solution of the puzzle. When in the judgment of the contest manager more than one member of the same family, or more than one of any number of persons he believes have worked together send in a solution of the puzzle, he reserves the right to refund subscriptions and return the solutions he believes have been submitted contrary to the foregoing rule. The Record News reserves the right to reject any solutions it believes have not been submitted under proper conditions. The Record News also reserves the right to finally decide any other questions or points which may arise and those entering the contest agree to abide by such decisions.

In the event of ties on this puzzle, as many prizes will be reserved as there are contestants tied, before any prizes are awarded for a less correct solution. For instance, if five people were tied on the best solution, the first five prizes will be reserved for them, and they would be awarded the prizes in accordance with the standing of their solutions of the second puzzle. That is, the one submitting the best solution of the second puzzle would receive the first prize; the one submitting the next best, the second, and so on.

Subscriptions may be NEW or RENEWALS. Both count the same.

Closing Date

The Great Elephant Puzzle Contest Will Close at Nine P. M. Saturday, November 14, 1925

The earlier you send in your solution the longer time you will have to go over your figures, AND SEND IN ANOTHER SOLUTION, if you find you can do better. Additional charts may be secured at any time by calling at the address below or sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope for mailing them. NO SOLUTION CAN BE CHANGED AFTER IT HAS BEEN ONCE REGISTERED.

Important Facts to Remember

While the amount you pay with a solution of the puzzle does not have any effect on your winning a prize, it does affect the amount you will receive, should you win one of the first nine prizes, as the value of these prizes is determined by what the winners pay. This is explained in the prize list, which you should study carefully before sending in your solution.

The time a solution is received has no bearing upon its winning a prize. Accuracy is what counts.

Not more than one prize will be awarded to any one person.

"I Felt Fine"

HOW SHE found relief from troubles that caused her great pain and misery is told below by Mrs. Charles L. Lacroix, of Montgomery, La., whose picture is printed above.

"I was in a dreadfully run-down condition," says Mrs. Lacroix. "I suffered a great deal of pain. I was in misery all over. I could not sit up and I could not lie down. I couldn't sleep and at times I would have dreadful vomiting spells. The aches and pains seemed to cover my whole body. This was caused by some female disorder, I knew.

"I had taken Cardui off and on since 1903. It had always done me good, so when I got in this bad condition, I thought I would take it again.

"One night my husband brought me home six bottles of Cardui and I began to take it. I could tell that I was improving from the first bottle, but I kept on taking the medicine, for I knew that I needed a tonic that would build me up and strengthen me where I was weak and run-down. That is exactly what Cardui did for me. After I had finished the sixth bottle I felt fine and I have never had any female trouble since.

"I feel truly thankful for what Cardui has done for me, for I could not have gone on living in the desperate condition I was in."

Made from purely vegetable ingredients in modern scientific laboratories, Cardui is absolutely safe and harmless.

It has helped so many thousands of other women, it should help you too, if you suffer from female troubles.

More Truth Than Poetry

LINES BY A LOWBROW

If I can understand a play,
If it can make me gay or sad,
When I get up and go away,
I always know that it is bad.
But if it is the kind of show
That simply can't be understood
By me, at least, I always know
That it is good.

The dramas which have urge and lift—
Which set the critics all agog,
The clever dramatist makes shift
To veil in clouds of verbal fog.
And through my ignorance I hide,
And when I rise and hurry out,
I say: "How fine!" I can't decide
What they're about.

Sometimes I get some tips or clues
About what a production means,
By running over the reviews
In papers or in magazines.
But when I see it after I
These explanations havxe perused,
My reason seems to go awry—
I'm still confused.

I seem to have outlived the age,
No play to me seems clear or plain—
I get scant pleasure from the stage,
It only tangles up my brain.
I wish the playwrights of today
Would not keep all their meaning hid,
But write their stuff the bluff old way
Bill Shakespeare did.

Cutshaw of Seattle Offered Management of Wichita Falls Team

FORMER STAR BIG LEAGUER IS UNDECIDED

Has Not Made up His Mind On Offer to Come To Texas

IS COACH OF CLUB

Once Was Flashy Second Sacker of Brooklyn

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 7.—George Cutshaw, for the past two years coach of the Seattle club of the Pacific Coast league, has been offered the management of Wichita Falls team of the Texas league, it was learned here tonight.

Cutshaw is considering the offer, but has not yet reached a decision.

No official of the local club could be found at a late hour last night to verify the Seattle dispatch saying George Cutshaw had been offered the reins of the Spudder team, but it is known they are considering several men to take the job recently vacated by Buddy Tanner.

George Cutshaw was for many years a star second baseman in the National league wtih the Brooklyn Dodgers and Pittsburgh Pirates, and also saw service with the Detroit Tigers of the American league.

He was considered one of the brainiest infielders of the majors, and no doubt would make a great leader for the Spuds.

As he is somewhere near 40 years old, it is assumed he would be a bench manager, should he accept.

Too Much Smoke For Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH Oct. 7.—(AP)—As a team the Senators batted .256 against Meadows while the Pirate had to be content with a meager .166 against Walter Johnson's smoke ball.

So effective was Johnson against the sluggers of Bill McKechnie that outside of Traynor who slapped out a home run only three Pirates got as far as second base and none reached third.

The big smoke fanned ten Pirates Cuyler Barnhart and Wright succumbing twice each by this route. Only Moore Traynor and Smith of the regulars escaped the humiliating effect of Johnson's deceptive offerings.

Stanley Harris showed a nifty piece of baseball strategy when he ordered Johnson to pass Meadows in the third. The be-spectacled tosser was paraded to first with one down and was forced to run the paths when Moore hit into a double play. This effort evidently had its effect on Meadows for he cracked in the fifth and four singles three of them in a row netted the world's champions a pair of counters.

Max Carey will be lucky to last the series. The veteran outfielder caught the full smoke of Walter's fast one on his right elbow in the first inning and went down for nine. Walter found his other elbow in the 9th but Max came up smiling from this one with the remark that Walter was evidently losing his speed.

Joe Harris and Pie Traynor divided the batting laurels. Each poked out a home run and a single in four times up. Sam Rice garnered a pair of singles for a .500 average while Oscar Bluege split his hits with his strikeouts for a .500 mark.

Grantham's catch of Goslin's screeching liner in the fourth which resulted in a double play was the most scintillating piece of fielding during the game. The former Cub made a swan dive to the right and speared the drive, doubling Manager Harris at first. Traynor almost matched this achievement when he committed larceny on "Muddy" Ruel's liner a foot inside third base. Both exhibitions gave the Pirates' rooters a chance to applaud and they did it spontaneously.

The press box was choked with players who turned scribes for the series. John McGraw, Hans Wagner, Ty Cobb and Babe Ruth all squatted in the free section to analyze the game from a technical viewpoint.

Stuffy McInnis' role in the opening game was as brief as Walter Johnson could possibly make it. The former Philadelphia and Boston initial sacker came up in the eighth swinging a blindgrab for Meadows. The big smoke burned over a trio and "Stuffy" spun thrice and sat down.

Commissioner Landis watched the game from a box on the third base side with his veteran chin resting comfortably on a pair of official fists. A high foul was the only factor which caused the baseball generalissimo to shift his position to save his official chin from a baseball trade mark.

The first Senator hit was a home run from Joe Harris' bat. It struck the top of the gate between the temporary stands in right center and Pittsburg players said that it would have been good for three bases had the new structures not been there.

Muddy Ruel failed on several occasions to hold the shoots of Johnson, yet not once did his erring permit Pittsburg to gain a base.

There is something unusual for world's series play in the fact that two men of speed, Rice of Washington and Cuyler of Pittsburg were trapped off first base in one game. Meadows caught Rice flat-footed and Ruel returned the jab with Cuyler as the victim.

Carey failed to lift his bat from his shoulder while Johnson shot across three "hooks" in the fourth.

Peck appeared to have little trouble with his weak ankle, but had the only error of the contest, an overthrow on Grantham in the fifth.

"I don't want to have my picture taken with those two old men," said Babe Ruth as photographers lined him up with Babe Adams and Johnson before the contest. One of them proved later that he is not so old.

After sixteen years, Tyrus Cobb of Detroit, returned to Forbes Field. In 1909 he was one of the Detroiters fighting vainly for the world's title. Now he is covering the series for newspapers.

Expect Grand Jury Report By Saturday

A report is not expected before Saturday from the grand jury of the 30th district court which is now in session, it was indicated Wednesday by District Attorney Ben Allred. A large number of witnesses have already been examined, but numbers of others remain to be called, it was said.

A partial report will probably be forthcoming sometime Saturday and it is assumed an adjournment may be taken then for a time.

The jury has been in session since Monday morning when it was impaneled by Judge H. R. Wilson.

Can't Sell Seven Millions for Two

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The $7,000,000 Fifth Avenue palace of the late Sen. William Clark of Butte, Mont., with 121 rooms and 31 baths, is going begging at $2,000,000. Real estate brokers regard the land on which it stands as more valuable than the building and say the house depreciates the site by the cost of razing it.

START NAMING STREETS

Work of Numbering and Naming Wichita Streets Gets Under Way.

Work crews from the city street department are busy painting black backgrounds for the new street labeling and numbering system the city council has authorized. Curb stones throughout the city are to be used as sign boards and the street number and block painted in white letters on a black background on every corner.

Work of stenciling the white letters and numerals is expected to begin as soon as stencils already ordered arrive here.

Two seats away from Cobb sat an old foe, Honus Wagner, Pittsburg's great shortstop of years ago.

The score of today's game, 4 to 1 was the same as that of the first game of the Pittsburg-Detroit series sixteen years ago. The chief difference was that Pittsburg won, due chiefly to the fine pitching of Babe Adams and a home run by their manager, Fred Clarke.

COYOTE PUPS PRACTICE FOR BOWIE GAME

Will Give Neighbor Team Hard Battle For Victory

The Coyote Pups buckled down Wednesday to the last hard practice before the coming game Friday at Bowie. The youngsters are getting into first class shape for the game, and are expecting to give the Bowie eleven a hard and tough fight.

With the real football weather that broke over Wichita Falls Wednesday the boys were ready to go and a long session of running signals was followed by a lengthy scrimmage.

From the showing of three of the Pups ends they should be able to develop a great overhead attack for use this year.

Clyde Fly is a very capable passer and Captain "Hunky" Farris has a fine wing for the same line of attack. These two with the aid of good pass snatchers should get many yards with the same game they pulled last year.

"Professor" Cossey, Edwin Goff and Hack Giles are developing into a nice trio of ends for the Pups.

Roy Brackett, halfback, is fast rounding to form. Floyd Herndon, another halfback, is also rattling off plenty of good gains in the scrimmage and if he is able to keep this up in the games, he will make the Pups a very valuable man on the offense.

Delaney is making a bid for the quarterback role. Delaney has been working fairly well as field general.

Two Great Games In Dallas This Week

DALLAS, Oct. 7.—Potential gridiron champions of the Southwest Conference of 1926 will meet teams of prominent standing in the south and middle-west in Dallas this week. The first game will be played Friday when Southern Methodist university meets the carefully mentored eleven from Washington university of St. Louis. On Saturday the Texas Aggies will go up against the famous Sewanee Tigers.

The Aggies and Mustangs are admittedly leaders in the race for conference honors this year, and their play is expected to give a fair line on the work to be expected of them in the conference games. Since both teams will play especially strong elevens in the games Friday and Saturday, Coaches Morrison and Bible no doubt will be obliged to resort to some of their greatest tactics in order to gain victories. The Aggies and Mustangs meet on Friday of next week in a conference game.

Will Big Ten Teams Have "Red's" Number Too?

Striking photo of Nebraska-Illinois game which shows Ed Weir, captain and star of Nebraska eleven, checking Red Grange's efforts one of the many times.

It may be considered doubtful right now as to whether the 1925 football season will furnish another upset or surprise that will rank with the feat of Ed Wier and his Nebraska teammates in stopping the formidable Illinois team in general and "Red" Grange in particular virtually dead in their tracks.

Grange, outstanding star of the 1924 season, was expected to step into the limelight with the blowing of the first whistle of the 1925 season. Football followers—with the possible exception of those acquainted with Nebraska's aims—were stunned when they read how the Eighth Wonder had been removed from the Illinois line-up the other day after all his efforts to gain ground from the Illinois had been rendered null, void and puny by Nebraska's Cornhuskers.

Ed Wier, captain of the Nebraska eleven, by his spectacular defensive work in downing Grange time after time, ranks as the outstanding star of the season to date. Wier's ability to break through the Illinois line and field interference was more than canny. It seemed superhuman.

Now that Iowa, Michigan, Chicago and Ohio State of the Big Ten conference are wondering is whether or not they can perform the same feat.

Iowa meets Illinois at Iowa City October 17.

Illinois takes on Michigan at Urbana, Ill., October 24.

Chicago and Illinois clash at Urbana November 7.

Ohio State meets the Grangemen November 12 at Columbus.

The Nebraskans' feat is of much interest, also to Pennsylvania, which team tackles the Illini at Philadelphia October 31.

As for Nebraska!

Followers of the Cornhuskers are already looking forward to the greatest season in that school's history.

The remaining schedule follows:

Missouri U. at Columbia, Mo., October 10.

Washington at Lincoln, Neb., October 17.

Kansas at Lincoln, Neb., October 24.

Oklahoma City at Lincoln, Neb., October 31.

Drake at Des Moines, Ia., November 7.

Kansas Aggies at Manhattan, Kan., November 14.

Notre Dame at Lincoln, Neb., November 26.

Coyotes Work Out For T. C. U. Team

The Coyotes are working hard to get themselves into condition for the coming game Friday afternoon with the Texas Christian university freshmen football squad. They were given several new plays Wednesday afternoon and were fast becoming accustomed to them.

Running signals was the main event of the evening, and with but little chance to show up overly well, but they were working hard. Jim Pierce, big tackle, was back again in the line after a short absence.

The backfield of Powell at quarter, Captain Curtin and Mitchell at halves and Moore at full back was working smoothly on the plays, and if they can get the same smooth work in the Friday battle should give the freshmen a battle.

Automobiles Pay Own Way in West

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Automobiles of 14 middle western states have paid their way this year in a very literal sense. They have more than paid for the total expense of constructing 9,000 miles of new roads in those states. License fees and gasoline taxes supplied the money.

These figures do not mean that each mile of new road in all this territory was actually paid for by automobile taxes, for some states have road extensions this year exceeding tax incomes, but if every dollar taken in by the 14 states were pooled and applied to the 9,000 miles there would still be left in the pot about $33,000,000 unexpended.

WHITE SOX AND CUBS BATTLE 19 INNINGS TO 2-2 TIE IN FIRST OF CHICAGO'S SERIES

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—(AP).—The White Sox and Cubs battled to a 19 inning draw today in the first game of the city series with the score 2 to 2. Darkness stopped the contest.

Grover Alexander, the veteran pitcher of the Cubs, was pitted against Ted Blankenship, the young cowboy who outpitched the Cubs' ace, both pitchers going the entire route.

Alexander was touched for 20 hits, 10 coming after the twelfth inning when Alexander showed signs of weakening. Blankenship improved as the game progressed, the Cubs making only two hits after the tenth inning. He gave his rivals only 11 for the entire game.

The White Sox scored first when they bunched three hits with an error by Maranville for two runs. The Cubs scored one run in the fourth on Frigeau's triple and Jahn's single and tied the score in the fifth on singles by Maranville and Hartnett and a sacrifice fly by Alexander.

The White Sox had several chances to end the game but strong support behind Alexander prevented them from doing so, especially in the thirteenth when Brooks threw Falk out at the plate, retiring the side. The game was one of the best played in Chicago in years and was one of the longest games played during the season.

DERBY DAY AT FAIR PROMISES BEST RACE YET

Kenmere Club and Fort Sill Polo Teams Matched Again

With the Texas-Oklahoma derby to cap the climax, today's racing card at the fair promises to be the best of the week. Four races will be run in addition to the derby classic which will officially ring down the curtain on the horse speed trials of the year.

The derby will be one and one-sixteenth miles and has an entry list of ten fast horses.

The horses are among the best ever placed in an event in Southern Oklahoma of Northwest Texas. The field will be a classy one and will be contested from the barrier to the finishing wire, in the opinion of E. P. Bass, superintendent of the speed department.

Pirate Gold a Favorite.

The favorite will probably be Pirate Gold, winner of the Oklahoma state fair and exposition derby this year. The horse has won several large stake races this year on the Pacific coast and at Salt Lake City, Utah. Pirate Gold is owned by Clemm and Son, Barnsdall, Okla. Jockey Claude Hart, will arrive from Oklahoma City in time to be astride the horse this afternoon.

Mable Kripp, sold here two years ago for $1,100 after winning a stake race, is owned by John Kennedy of Enid, Okla.

Turgs is the entry of W. C. Merrick, Big Springs, Texas.

Leona Dare, owned by Mrs. Z. E. McGregor, of Clearmore Okla., will be the favorite of a big number of the truthers at the local track, who claim the horse is good over a long distance. The jockey has not been announced.

Lura, another entry of Mrs. McGregory, probably will be the pace maker of the classic.

Deceitful Pearl, owned by Ralph Giffin, Barnard, Mo., won the Oklahoma state fair derby and the Governor's state at Oklahoma City and Muskogee last year.

Martin L., the entry of Fred Maser, Carmon, Okla., has won his last four starts, two at the Oklahoma state fair and two here.

Escort Is Dark Horse.

Escort, the T. O. Atawell, San Saba, Texas, entry, is the dark horse of the classic. Escort has been one of the consistant winners on the big tracks this summer, and will go from here to New Orleans for the winter season of racing.

Yorkshire Maid, another entry of the Merrick Stables, has been on the Canadian tracks during the summer and won several purse events. Martha S, another entry of the Giffin stable has given much promise in her work outs.

Between races polo matches will again be staged by the Fort Sill, Okla., military reservation four and the Kenemere team of Wichita Falls.

World Series Pick Ups

By JACK KEEFE

(Famous White Sox Pitcher)

Well I seen the Senators and Pirates played their first game yesterday and want to say right here that if I was pitching in this serious them old Pirate boys would have seen more smoke than they got in their own home town. Comiskey only said to me the other day that he never seen a pitcher like I in all his life and he is I man what should ought to know. This fella Johnson has got a little steam alright but I got a slow I to that even makes old Matty laugh. Them Pirates might be hard hitters but theys lucky I ain't pitching vs them.

Walter Johnson Scores First Full Game Series Victory of His Career

GRAND OLD MAN OF BASEBALL BEATS PIRATES

Veteran Walter Johnson Too Much For Pittsburgh

FANS 10 BUCCANEERS

Hurls With Superb Coolness To Win His First Full Series Tilt

of safe blows obtained off Johnson and figured as the only successful gunner of the Pittsburg firing line. The others found a mark occasionally but their aim was not true. More often they punched in vain at the air, for Johnson, among his ten strike out victims, twice numbered Kiki Cuyler, Clyde Barnhart and Glenn Wright—three of the heaviest weapons in the Pittsburg attack.

Johnson occasionally faced prospective trouble. He was a bit wild at times, but he was always mightiest in the pinches. He faced his biggest threat in the ninth inning, when the Pirates got two men on base with only one out but Traynor and Wright could do nothing but lift his shoots aloft for easy outs.

First Full Series Game.

Johnson's brilliant triumph was all the greater to him for it marked the first full game he had pitched to victory in a world's series. Last fall, after 18 long years of waiting, it seemed that this was to be denied to "Barney" when the Giants beat him in his first two starts, after which he came back to gain his glory by pitching the decisive part of the final game. Today, Johnson carried on where he left off last October, but this time he had his full measure of triumphant achievement. The years had rolled back for his good right arm and he was the Barney of old, a bit more seasoned and more resourceful, but showing the same effectiveness of his prime.

Johnson lowered above everything else in today's game the courageous pitching of his rival, Meadows; the sparkling fielding of the Pirates, particularly by Traynor and Grantham; the heavy hitting of Rice, Joe Harris and Bluege; the colorful enthusiasm of the vast crowd, witnessing its first home world's series struggle in 14 years; the return of the old stars of those halcyon days—Wagner, Fred Clark, Babe Adams—all this paled beside the dominating force of Johnson.

But the "big train" needed all his cunning to turn back this spectacular young Pirate band and he was well supported by his own mates, who again proved their ability as a combination to rise to their best at big moments.

Harris Gets a Homer.

Joe Harris, whose battle was added this season to the Washington attack, would have shared almost equally with Johnson in the day's honors had Barney been able to avert Traynor's homer and the only Pirate run. For it was Harris, succeeding Earl McNeely in the outfield, who banged out a homer that put the Senators in the lead and it was the same Harris who started the fifth inning rally and paved the way for the decisive batting stroke—a slashing single by Sam Rice with the bases full and two out that brought over a brace of runs and clinched the battle.

Rice's smash was the climax of the game's most dramatic moment and came just as it seemed that Meadows, whirling with all the skill at his command, seemed about to pitch himself out of his worst hole.

It looked like Meadows' finish in this inning when Joe Harris, Bluege and Peck rattled off singles in quick succession to fill the bags with none out but the be-spectacled veteran steadied in the crisis and fanned Ruel and Johnson in quick order.

There was a deafening roar from the crowd when Rice swung and missed the first pitch, marking the seventh successive strike scored by Meadows. A wide one, then a second strike came over but Rice caught the next one and shot it over second, just out of the flying reach of Eddie Moore.

Joe Harris and Bluege crossed the plate and although Meadows quickly retired Stanley Harris for the third out, then turned the Senators back in order through the next three innings, the big damage had been done. There was a final sortie in the ninth, when Goose Goslin, facing Morrison, singled, was sacrificed by Judge and scored on Bluege's second hit but this was an anti-climax.

Pirates Easily Subdued.

Except for Traynor's homer in the fifth and their eleventh hour threat in the ninth the Pirates were easily subdued. The National leaguers had their chances to break through, for Carey twice got on base after being hit by pitched balls. Meadows walked on Johnson's only pass and Grantham got to first on a wild throw by Peckinpaugh in the fifth, but Johnson and his mates put up an insurmountable barrier.

Defensive laurels, however, for the most part belonged to the Pirates, with attacking honors going to Washington where pre-series predictions had largely been based on a reverse situation. Traynor and Grantham, particularly shone in the field for the buccaneers, the former making a remarkable diving catch of a line drive by Ruel that cut off at least a two-base hit, while Grantham speared Goslin's smoking wallop in the fourth and converted it into a double play with Stanley Harris far off base.

The Pirates' much vaunted speed, too, was mostly checked, although Grantham did steal a second in the fifth. But Carey was nipped by Ruel trying to pilfer in the first inning and Cuyler, another speed merchant was trapped and run down off first in the fourth inning.

Tomorrow, Washington will send its other right handed ace, Stanley Coveleskie, to the mound in an effort to make it two straight while the Pirates are expected to rely on Vic Aldridge, another starboard moundsman.

VANDY, TEAM THAT POURED IT ON MINNESOTANS, EXPECTS TO GRAB MORE GLORY FOR SOUTH

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 7.—The team that trounced Minnesota's powerful eleven last year by the neat score of 16-0 hopes to repeat that victory in the return engagement this year. That team is Vanderbilt, regarded for many years as one of the powerful football elevens of the south.

The game with Minnesota will be played at Minneapolis, Nov. 21. Incidently, the Commodores expect to revenge themselves this week end on Doc Stewart's Texas Longhorns for that 16 to 0 defeat given them in Dallas during the 1923 season. The game will be played in Nashville.

Despite the fact that graduations took two of the greatest stars of the team—men mentioned frequently as all-American timber—and four other brilliant performers the Vanderbilt eleven sizes up well at this early date. As long as Capt. Gil Reese, called the wonder runner of the south, is in shape the team has a threat in every play.

Sharp at Center.

As the teams stands at the beginning of the season Vernon Sharp, with a year as freshman experience but with a fine prep school record, is center. He is a brother of an old Vandy center, Alf Sharp; weights 186 and is particularly accurate as a passer. Neal Cargile, a real star at end last season and at half back, has been shifted to a guard place temporarily because of his excellence at blocking and his sureness in breaking through the line and tackling. Bill Faircloth and Hugh Cecil will do guard duty with him. Both lack experience, but are hard fighting men. Cargile weighs only 155 and the others 170, but all are fast and quick as lightning.

Veterans at Tackles.

For tackles the coaches are using Kenneth Bryan and Jess Keene, both letter men from last year. Bryan is 181 and Keene 196. Both are fast, sure tacklers and wonderful blockers. They are expected to make the star tackles of the south.

Jess McKibbon, who is a great thrower of passes, will work in the line; on the end and leading the backfield tandem for interference. He is expected to be a real star and more than duplicate his wonderful work of last year. Vernon Booth is almost sure of an end place with Larry Creson helping out. There are a number of other men with weight and speed making a terrific fight for places and some changes may be made later.

Lightning Backfield.

In the backfield Vanderbilt will shine with tremendous speed, but light weight. Capt. Gil Reese is one of the greatest open field runners in America and a fine defensive player. He has been an all-southern two years. Bill Spears will be his running mate at half. He is a triple threat youngster and is uncanny in throwing passes while on the run. Peck Owen will run the team at quarter. He is a youngster weighing 154, but has great judgment; is a fine tackler and good at interference. Bill Paul and Graham Ryan will be used at fullback. Red Bailey is another fullback possibility.

28 LONGHORNS TO MAKE TRIP TO VANDERBILT

18 Linesmen and 10 Backfield Players Are Selected

AUSTIN, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Twenty-eight gridsters, 18 linemen and 10 backfield men, at the conclusion of today hard practice, were selected by Coach Doc Stewart to make the trip to Nashville, where Saturday the Texas Longhorns take on the Vanderbilt Commodores. The Longhorns' pigskin chasers, accompanied by the Longhorn band, the Texas Cowboys, a rooting organization, a delegation of other students and a number of local business men, will leave Thursday afternoon on a special train.

Linemen who will be available for service against Vanderbilt are:

Newell, Moore, Sewell, Pfannkuche, Penney, Thorlief Thompson, Higgins, Gooch, Homan, McCullough, Phenix, Olle, Rundell, Tarrell, Langford, Smith and Coffey.

Backfield players are: Captain Wright, Fred Thompson, Leo Baldwin, Estes, Joe King, Rufus King, Saxon, Stallter, Allen, Pratt and Neblett.

Higgins, regular tackle and Stallter, regular halfback, both of whom were injured last Saturday, are so much improved they are making the trip, and are likely to see action against the Commodores.

St. Edwards to Be Stronger This Time

AUSTIN, Oct. 7.—(AP)—With return of Joe Ailett to quarterback and shifting of Durrenberger from halfback to his old position at end, Jack Meagher, coach of St. Edwards' university here, believes the team he will send Saturday against the North Texas Aggies at Austin will be much stronger than the combination defeated by the Simmons College Cowboys in the first game of the season. Ailett, heady quarter and splendid broken field runner, was kept out of the Simmons game by injuries. Durrenberger is fast, a deadly tackler, and a splendid receiver of forward passes. Last season he ranked among the best ends in the state.

Tigers Trim Yanks In 12-Inning Tilt

BLOOMSBURG, Pa., Oct. 7.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers defeated the New York Yankees in a 12-inning exhibition game on the fair grounds here today, 7 to 5. Fothergill's home run in the last inning gave Detroit the victory. Score:

Detroit	100 010 020 102—7
New York	002 010 001 100—5

INDIANS GET IN TRIM FOR AGGIE TILT

The Junior college Indians are idle this week-end, but are working hard to get in shape for the game here next week with the Cameron Aggies of Lawton, Okla.

Coach Mosley is still drilling hard on his linemen and should develop a strong forward wall before the season gets far gone. Captain Clary at center, Box and Chunn at guards, Whitelaw and Weeth at tackle, Harris, Luecke and Crites at ends should make a great line, and one that has plenty of power.

In the backfield Mosley has another set of husky prospects. Both Deems and Thurman have been working at quarter, and it looks as if the position will be closely contested. Datson, West, Rawls and Barks make a fair set from which to pick a pair of halves. Curtis Beatty is making about as good a showing at fullback as could be desired. Beatty is a good ground gainer.

VERNON SQUAD WORKS ON NEW PASSING PLAYS

Coach Baggett Aurs Attention to Finer Points Of Game

VERNON, Oct. 7.—This week Coach Baggett has been giving his men some new formations for the first time this season. Heretofore, the Lions have practiced on nothing but off-tackle plays and end runs with a little attention being given to forward passes. The Lion mentor's new formations are showing up well in scrimmage against the second string squad.

As the Lions go through their daily workouts this week, two regulars stand on the sidelines and watch. They are Robinson, captain and center, and Roy Key, first string guard who starred in last Friday's game against Decatur Baptist college. The boys suited out for the last practice, but did little work. It is doubtful if they will enter the fray with Sayre, Okla., here Saturday afternoon.

The loss of these two men will be particularly felt by the Lion coaches this week, since the locals are to play two games this week-end. However, the second string's game with Duvol, Okla., which was scheduled for Saturday morning has been changed to Friday afternoon, and Coach Baggett will likely use some of the men who play Friday the following day in his game against Sayre.

Practice Interference.

The Lion mentor is also drilling on interference running this week in practice. In early season games this had been one of the outstanding weaknesses of the Lions' play. Because of this end runs have failed in almost every instance.

With the first and second strings working against each other as units this week, the second string is showing up very weak. The regulars break through the second string's line and run wild on practically every play.

BUELAR IS CAPTAIN

AUSTIN, Oct. 7.—Ed Buelar of Beaumont, all-state high school back of last season, has been named captain of the Texas university freshman eleven, Coach Clyde Littlefield announced today. Buelar is regarded the most promising performer on the first year squad, many observers predicting he will make the Longhorn team in 1926. He is a splendid open field runner, punter and passer.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The cotton market today was a typical professional affair, trading being reduced to the smallest proportions and limited almost entirely to evening up transactions in advance of the government report due tomorrow at 10 o'clock New Orleans time. Following an opening gain of two points the market eased off partly on the failure of the predicted cold wave to materialize but mainly on liquidation by belated longs. This continued intermittently throughout the session and the low points were reached right at the end showing losses from the highs of 24 to 28 points. The close showed net losses for the day of 18 to 23 points.

At the start first trades showed gains of two points with December at 22.37, January at 22.36 and March 22.36. The opening prices proved the highs. As the weekly weather and crop report was considered favorable and the map showed no cold wave, although it was colder in the northwest, prices started to ease off and were kept on the down grade with occasional small rallies until near the end the market stood 24 to 28 points down from the highs. The close was near the lows.

Most of the selling was due to liquidation of the remaining stale long interest and the only support the market received was from shorts covering to take profits in advance of the government report. Two estimates of ginnings were issued during the day, one making the total to October 1, 6,752,000 bales and the other 7,000,000 bales.

Exports for the day totalled 11,321 bales.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The cotton market was quiet today, prices working lower under comparatively small offerings, which seemed to represent further liquidation of small accounts and southern hedging. December declined from 22.98 to 22.76 and closed at that figure, the general market closing easy at net declines of 10 to 28 points.

The market opened steady at a decine of six points to an advance of five points and more active positions sold a few points over yesterday's closing figures during early trading on covering and trade buying. In some cases, however, those who had bought yesterday on apprehensions of a cold wave in the southwest appeared to be reselling today and after the early demand had been supplied prices turned easier under liquidation, local and southern selling. The market acted as if the speculative short interest had been pretty well covered for over the government report and the absence of support from that source left prices responsive to comparatively small offerings.

Southern selling became a little more active during the afternoon and the market sold off to 22.79 for October and 22.00 for January about 15 to 25 points net lower and back to about the low prices of Monday. Last prices were the lowest of the day on many positions.

Another private crop report estimated the yield at 14,301,000 bales and the ginning to October 1, at 6,732,000 bales.

A canvass of New York cotton exchange members showed an average expectation of a government crop indication tomorrow of 14,170,000 bales. Another private authority estimated the ginning to October 1 at 7,000,000 and a third report placed it at 6,900,000 bales. Local brokers said it looked as if the market had been pretty well prepared for a government crop indication of between 14 and 14½ million bales and a ginning of between 6¾ and 7 million bales to October 1.

Exports today 11,321 bales, making 1,850,315 so far this season.

Port receipts 50,707; U. S. spot stocks 947,269.

TEXAS COTTON SEED.

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 7.—There is no particular features to today's cotton seed market. San Antonio mills were paying upward of $40 ton for an occasional carlot delivered, but there was hardly sufficient seed handled in and around that city to make a properly quotable market. Fort Worth listed wagon loads at $36 ton delivered, which would have made carlot shipments around $39 to $40 ton and points in Northwest Texas listed carlots prime seed at $35 ton with wagon loads mostly around $30 at mill.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Trading slowed up considerably in today's stock market, but there was the same confusion of price movement. Selling pressure, which was renewed soon after the opening, relaxed when call money dropped from 5½ to 4½ per cent. Closing quotations disclosed considerable irregularity, a long list of one to six point gains being offset by an even longer list of losses ranging from one to three points in active issues.

Brokers' loans, reported to be closed to the highest levels in stock exchange history, area source of apprehension to conservative traders, and the emphasis placed upon them undoubtedly has inspired much of the liquidation of the last few days. Several commission houses report that marginal accounts seldom were in a better position than they are now, which probably accounts for rthe sharp rallies that invariably follow each break. The usual weekly rumors of a forthcoming increase in the New York federal reserve rediscount rate also made their appearance.

Steel shares failed to respond to the optimistic tenor of the weekly steel trade reviews. U. S. Steel common closed unchanged at 121 after having crossed 122. The independent steels moved within narrow and irregular limits.

The rail shares continued to lose ground in reflection of speculative disappointment over the delay ofthe interstate commerce commission in acting upon pending mergers. Southern Pacific sagged to 96, a new low level for the year.

Buoyancy again developed in a number of the high priced industrials. American Can closed over three points higher at 335⅝ after having touched 337½ and Chrysler showed a net gain of over four points at 186¼ after selling at 188½. S. S. Kresge jumped 28 points to a record top of 617 on a few sales.

Call money opened at 5½, but eased to 5 and thence to 4½ in reflection of the return flow of funds sent out in connection with October 1 disbursements. Time money and commercial paper rates held steady.

Foreign exchanges displayed a firm tone. Demand sterling held steady around $4.83⅝, but French francs ruled a few points higher around 4.62 cents. Norwegian kroner rallied 20 points to 19.78 cents and Danish kroner ruled 10 points higher around 24.06 cents. South American exchanges were strong, Argentine paper pesos crossing 41 cents to a new high level for the year and Brazilian milre is holding firm around the year's maximum of 15 cents.

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 7.—Texas was not represented in fruit and vegetable shipments of yesterday which were featured by a gain in potato rollings and a brisk apple movement. CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Wheat values collapsed today despite a noticeable upward trend at the start. According to some observers, the reaction was largely due to the circumstance that successive jumps had carried the market more than 8c a bushel above prices current last week, and that a setback was to have been looked for. Wheat closed heavy, 2⅝ to 3⅝c net lower, new style, December $1.38¼ to $1.38⅜ and May $1.38⅛ to $1.39, with corn 1⅝ to 2¼c off, oats at ⅝@¾c decline to ¼c advance and provisions 10 to 75c down.

All deliveries of corn declined to new low price records for the season. Weakness ofwheat was the governing influence. Reports of frost were ignored, the corn crop being practically all matured. Oats were ruled by sympathy with corn and wheat.

Provisions finally responded to the action of grain and lost sight of buying on the part of packers.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 7.—An exceptionally slow market was staged in the cattle division Wednesday, receipts being rather liberal. The estimate was for 5,500 head of cattle and 2,000 calves. Fort Worth receipts for the three days amout to 20,186 head, against 15,744 head for the same three days last week and 15,620 for the corresponding period last year. Low priced cattle cleared at rates that were about steady, and the demand was fair. High costing cows and heifers were neglected, and looked lower. Heavy calves lost 50@75c, with vealers around steady.

Steer trading was slow, with prices leaning towarl slightly lower levels. Most of the run went over until the afternoon session.

Canner and cutter cows seemed to be wanted, the market holding to a steady level. Fleshy cows were pushed up until late and when sales were made they were barely steady when compared with the 50c decline previously quoted this week. Good heifers and yearlings were unevenly lower, and looked 50@75c under last week's close. Buyers claimed that they really had no orders for this class of cattle.

The calf market struck a snag for the first time in over a week, but the break was nit unexpected and prices have been pounded rather severely this week at most other centers. Good light calves were about steady, some sales being around $9.25@9.50, but heavies sloughed off at least 50@75c.

Only a few scattering stocker sales were being made, the market dragging through sympathy with general trade conditions in the fat cattle division.

Hog receipts amounted to 400 head, exclusive of truck holdings, only two cars were here. One load went to a packer at $12.90, a value that looked about 15c higher, and packers purchased some swine in the truck house around 10@15c better than on Thuesday. An order buyer paid $13 for a load of rather weighty hogs, the price unevenly higher. Hardly enough pigs and sows were here to make a market quotable.

Steady prices were recorded in the sheep and lamb market. Although 1,000 head were posted as receipts, only a few decks were for the market. Contract sheep and lambs made up the bulk of the run. A few small drafts of spring lambs went at a spread of $10.50 to $12.50.

Cattle 7,000 including 2,000 calves, market slow, weak; calves 50@75c lower on weighty calves; beeves $3.50@9.00; stockers $3.25@7.00; fat cows $3.00@5.50; cutters $2.25@2.50; canners $2.00@2.25; heifers $3.00@8.50; yearlings $3.50@9.50; bulls $2.50@4.25; calves $3.00@10.00.

Hogs, 400; market mostly 10@15c higher; top $13.00; packer top $12.90; bulk $12.50@12.90; light $12.75@13.00; medium $12.65@12.75; heavy $12.50@12.75; mixed $12.25@12.50; common $10.00@11.50; sows $10.00@11.50; pigs $9.50@11.50.

Sheep, 1,000; market steady, lambs $12.00@13.00; feeders $11.00@13.00; yearlings $10.00@13.00; wethers $8.00@8.10; ewes $5.@6.00; culls $1.00@82.00; stockers $3.00@4.00; goats $1.00@3.00.

K. C. LIVESTOCK.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 7.—Cattle, 15,000; steady; steers $12.00@12.85; yearlings $14.00; grassers $6.00@8.00; grass fed heifers $5.00@7.00; veal top $12.00; bologna bulls $4.25@4.75.

Hogs, 7,000; active; top $12.60; bulk sales $11.85@12.55.

Sheep, 7,000; higher; lambs $15.25@15.70.

Market Gossip

R. E. Flowerree and Co., brokers, Basement Staley Bldg., today received the following markets comment from Fenner and Beane of New York, New Orleans and Chicago:

COTTON

Failure of expected rains and cold weather to materialize inclined traders who are long to liquidate some of their holdings before the bureau and gave the market a moderately reactionary trend today.

Prices held well, however, until the last hour, when some belated liquidation appeared and values slipped about 15 points.

Existing favorable weather is inclining the trade to large crop ideas and the general expectation is for the government to predict one well over 14,000,000 bales, and ginnings around 7,000,000.

It is believed that it will take an estimate under 14,100,000 to help the market.

Oklahoma City, Shawnee and Chickasha reported cold rains.

GRAINS.

Wheat: There was a brisk demand early from previous sellers, but their wants were easily satisfied. Export trade remains very disappointing.

In a general way winter wheat crop of the U. S. comprises two-thirds of the total yield, therefore it is interesting to note that the December delivery in Kansas City and St. Louis in some six cents over Chicago, as against normal discount of around 10 cents. It is to be noted that Winnipeg market is relatively firmer than Chicago. We are inclined to think that world's situation holds promise of betterment, though we do not expect a steady advance in our prices until such time as importers are willing buyers.

There have been no developments to account for weakness in corn, probably holdere have become discouraged because of failure of the market to reflect recent strength in wheat.

STOCKS.

The weekly review of the steel industry today seemed to verify the many good things that have been said about it of late. It seems that activity in steel and numerous other lines will continue and that everything anticipated by the stock market in its long period of rising prices will be verified. The difficult situation is, "Has the stock market discounted these conditions?"

The wise trader will keep himself in a position to take advantage of the groups that come into favor, and in meantime, protect himself against sudden adverse changes in the money market.

COTTON SEED OIL.

Market firm early on small buying in January and March. Later eased off with lard on southern liquidation, with refiners brokers buying on sale-down.

The market closed steady. Trading light.

Active demand in New Orleans for refined oils and nearby deliveries.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Hogs, 16,000; unchanged at Tuesday's average.

Cattle, 14,000; slow; top steers $15.85; vealers $13.50@14.00.

Sheep, 10,000; steady; native lambs $15.25@15.50; fat native ewes $6.50@7.00.

Put Finish Touch To New Water Main

Finishing touches are being put on the city's new 14-inch water main that has been laid from the water plant at the foot of Burnett street west to Grant. The last car of pipe was set Wednesday and was being unloaded. It will be laid at once and, aside from connections, will be complete.

When in operation the new line will furnish additional water under higher pressure to all the Floral Heights and factory additions.

BISHOP BROWN IS FIGURE AT CONVENTION

Was Twice Convicted Of Heresy in Church Courts

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 7.—Bishop William Montgomery Brown, noted American churchman, twice convicted of heresy by the church courts, marched in the processional of bishops at the 48th triennial general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church of the United States today.

The case of the bishop did not come before the convention on the opening day. He sat in the afternoon session, although he was not in his seat when the house formally opened. He came in later and took his seat but did not join in the discussion preceding the declaration of an executive session.

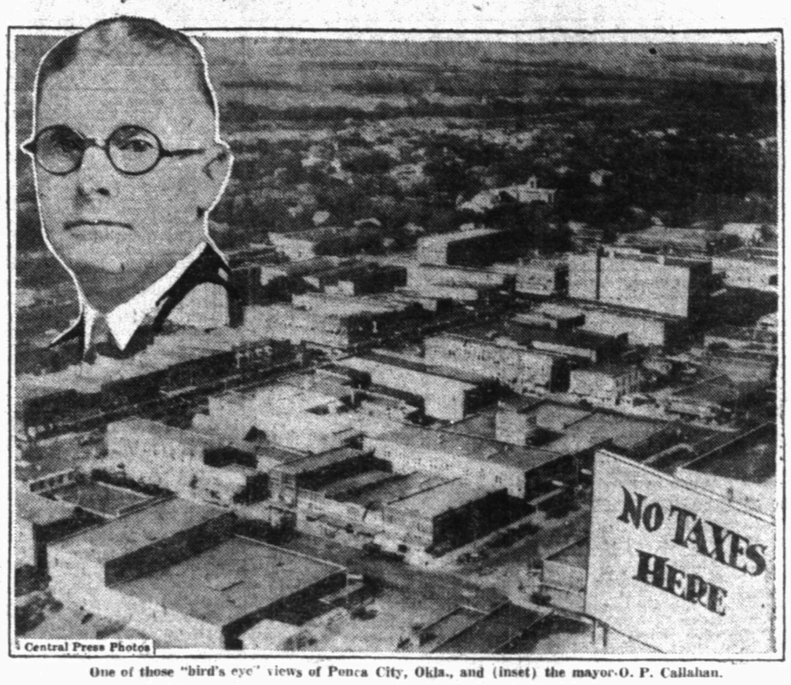

It was said that his case might be brought before the house tomorrow.

The Right Rev. Earnest M. Stires, D. D., rector of St. Thomas church, elect of the diocese of Long Island, was elected president of the house of deputies. Dr. Stires who will be consecrated as a bishop after the close of the convention was elected by a vote of 390 to 267 over the Rev. LOSE FIRE CREDIT

AUSTIN, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Many Texas cities are in danger of losing the three cent credit on their fire insurance key rate, because of failure of fire marshals to make prompt reports of inspections, J. J. Timmins, state fire marshal, said today.

City of 15,000 Frees Self From Tax Burden

One of those "bird's eye" views of Ponca City, Okla., and (inset) the mayor-O. P. Callahan.

Were it not for outstanding bond for which the interest money must be raised by taxation, Ponca City, Okla., population, 15,000, would have no direct taxes whatever the ensuing year of its municipal government, for the city is absolutely self-supporting with the outlook favorable that it will continue to be so. Most of its income comes from the profits of the municipal light and power plant. Mayor O. P. Callahan (inset) is given much of the credit for Ponca City's strong financial position. Above is an aerial view of the business section.

News of the Fields

Consolidated, Holtzen

Consolidated Oil company's No. 1, Holtzen, in the northwest corner of the Holtzen farm about three miles north of Clara, north Wichita county, is reported down 1,805 feet and drilling.

Throckmorton County

Southern Exploration company's No. 1, Colorado county school lands, in the center of lot 23 of that survey, in northern Throckmorton county, was down below 1,150 feet yesterday and drilling.

Consolidated, Walsh

Consolidated Oil company's No. 1, Walsh Brothers, located 2,130 feet south and 1,470 feet west of the northeast corner of section 5, Hooper and Wade survey, Walsh Brothers land, northwest Archer county, was rigged up yesterday and should be spudding.

White-Jackson, Olds

White Brothers and Jackson will start up again this morning after being shut down for several days at a depth of 700 feet in their No. 1, Olds, section 25, southwest Wichita county. The well is being drilled on a large block mapped by Garrett and others.

Consolidated, Netherton

Consolidated Oil company and Texhoma Oil and Refining company are plugging their No. 1, Netherton, in the northeast corner of the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of block 95, A. T. N. C. L., Netherton land, central Archer county, total depth given as 1,650 feet.

Roxana, Waggoner

Roxana Petroleum company has what looks like a 150-barrel well in their No. 1-A, Waggoner, in the northeast of the northwest of the northeast of section 43, block 4, H. & T. C. R. R. Co. survey Noble area, south Wilbarger county. It is about an eighth of a mile from production. Sand is at 1,922-26 feet.

Atlantic, Zipperle

Atlantic Oil Producing company's No. 3, Zipperle, in the northwest corner of their forty acres in section 80, block 14, south Vernon, is not showing up as well as was expected. The casing seat has given way and water is cutting the production considerably. An attempt will be made to shut off the water and equip for the pump.

Daniels-Rutis, Waggoner

Daniels and Rutis No. 1, John and Jeff Waggoner, three locations east of the Texhoma-Grisham Waggoner, is a dry hole at a total depth below 1,800 feet and will be abandoned. The well is located 750 feet east and 150 feet south of the northwest corner of the southwest forty acres of the southeast quarter of section 11, B. S. & F. The unfavorable results here betoken a synclinal area in what had previously been regarded as distinctly "high" in the new southwest Archer county pool.

Pandem Sun Co. Pool

Pandem Oil corporation has made location for two tests near the Sun Oil company's new pool opener south of Megargel. In the southeast corner of 2432, offsetting the Sun company well to the northeast location has been made for No. 1, Young. The location on the Cockrell land, previously announced in this column as belonging to Smith and Farmer, in the southwest corner of block 2423, is now accredited to Pandem, which has purchased the acreage from those operators.

Olney Townsite

Consolidated Oil company's No. 1, Thomas, located 540 feet south and 150 feet west of the northeast corner of block 155, T. E. & L. Co. survey, south Olney, is drilling below a last reported depth of 500 feet. West of the Consolidated well Swastika Oil Syndicate has spudded and is drilling around 500 feet.

The Alexander et al. No. 1, Dyer, in the northeast corner of the townsite, has averaged better than 60 barrels a day in three days' pumping.

R. B. Carey No. 1, Valentine, between the Navarro and Murchison and Kain dry holes was reported feeling for the sand early yesterday.

Upton County

Johnson, McCamey and Marland Oil company No. 1 Baker in section 8, block A. and B., on the University survey in Upton county, Texas, 35 miles west of the Big Lake pool, appears to be a 130-barrel producer in the sandy lime from 2,156 to 2,193 feet. Production at this depth is considereda mark of possible production in the Big Lake pay which is expected from 500 to 600 feet below.

Acreage surrounding this producer for several miles has been very active bought by major companies, such as Gulf, Texas, Humble, Pure, Marland, Kirby and Dixie. At least two more wells will be started in the near futdre with the lower pay as the objective. Marland Oil company is under contract to put a line into the new pool and will probably take care of this obligation by extending a gathering lime from the Big Lake pool.

Interest in this development has been enhanced by its location in the general direction of the Artesia, New Mexico field, where the production is obtained from formations which have been correlated with the Big Lake by some of the operating companies. The oil from this producer tests 34 gravity, with no water showing.

Bexar County

J. M. Davis is preparing to start an Edwards lime test at the junction of Somerset Road and Leon Creek about seven miles southwest from the center of San Antonio and about three miles from the southwest corner of the city. Wildcat tests are continually crowding the city limits of San Antonio. During the last two years, J. M. Davis has come to be one of the most extensive and persistent wildcatters in the San Antonio area and there are features about the new test that make it one of the most important. It is counted probable that there will be a number of tests in the western part of the county.

The derrick is up for the new Davis test which will be on the McCauley property and is west and north of the Somerset Road and east and north of Leon Creek, being north of the point at which the Somerset Road turns and runs nearly straight east and west, and is between the road and the creek. Tools are being moved in and the test will be started in a few days. Rotary tools will be used and the derrick is 86-foot.

The test is about three miles to the northwest of a line drawn through the two Humble tests on the Cassin and Coreth properties, and so is on an entirely different line of structure or faulting and one that hasn't been tested out in Bexar County. The Walsh No. 1, being drilled jointly by the Plateau Oil company and Texas company, is considerably south of the line drawn through the Humble tests. It is casing at 1,100 feet to shut off a water flow in the Austin chalk and will then continue to drill down to the Edwards lime.

Shreveport District.

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 7.—Victor Wenzel, an independent operator active in Shreveport oil and gas territory for the last several years, has derrick up and is moving in to drill No. 1, D. D. Lunsford in the northwest corner of the southeast of the southwest of 10-19-9 Webster parish two miles north of the city limits of Minden and expects to be drilling before the end of the week. Associated with him in the project, to develop a structure existence and location of which is well defined, are J. W. Atkins and Herbert Atkins, who have also been active in the industry here.

This locality, in which Wenzel and associates have acquired over 2,000 acres, has been thoroughly geologized and the logs of 25 wells drilled in the Bellevue-Minden territory have furnished information which gives them a good idea of the "lay of the land" as to subsurface conditions to start with. Location for the block to be prospected was determined much the same as the Bellevue field was located before the discovery well was ever drilled—numerous prior wells having determined the location of the "high."

Prior to locating in Shreveport several years ago, Mr. Wenzel was employed by the Standard of Indiana in Germany and in the Roumanian and Russian fields. Later he was transferred to the Imperial Oil company of Canada and drilled the first well for that organization in the province of Alberta, near Calgary, coming to this country as an independent operator shortly after the outbreak of the world war.

Location of his present enterprise is 12 miles east of the Bellevue pool, the same distance south of Cotton valley and southwest of Homer and about 24 miles south of Haynesville production.

Wichtex-Dixie Jackson

The Annie P. Jackson lands, on the W. B. Aldridge survey, abstract 2, north of Archer City, central Archer county, seem to have some sort of a producer at last in the Wichita-Dixie No. 2, in lot 131. The well was reported last night showing for a small well, with a little water from sand somewhere below 1,500 feet. It was expected to make a commercial producer, however. It is located some distance from other production, being about midway between the Barkley and Meadows Atlantic pools.

NW of Harmel

Magnolia Petroleum company's No. 1, Cowden-Portwood, located in the southeast corner of the northeast quarter of 1581, TE&LCO survey, was setting casing yesterday at a depth of 1,380 feet with the exception of drilling into the sand, which it should get just below 1,400 feet after the pipe had been run.

The well is a south offset to the original Jones et al. on the Darilek. Magnolia's south offset, their No. 1 Darilek, was down 1,029 feet and drilling. Jones et al. No. 2 was reported drilling in at a depth of 1,414 feet yesterday with a Star machine.

On the south line of block 2425 west of the old Muse et al. Brazos No. 1, dry hole, Cullum et al. were down 300 feet and drilling. Due north and 300 feet east of the same dry hole on the Cernosek land, 1,050 feet north of the south and 150 feet east of the west line, block 2499, J. E. Strong, et al, of Olney had made a location yesterday and should have a rig on the ground in a day or so.

On the Trio's lease their No. 2 had gone on the pump and was reported making about 450 barrels. Their No. 3, between No. 1 and No. 2 was down 850 feet and drilling while No. 4 north of the No. 2 had spudded and was drilling.

HELENE COSTELLO In "THE RANGER OF THE BIG PINES"

A Vitagraph Picture

Mission Today

In drama of the west there is a certain thrill somehow lacking in picture production with eastern backgrounds. Some of the magnetic beauty of the Rocky mountains, in the rugged strength of the men and women of the west, adds considerably to the enjoyment of "The Ranger of the Big Pines," the Vitagraph picture which opens Mission to-picture which opens at the Mission today.

This picturization of Hamlin Garland's well known novel "Cavanagh Forest Ranger," has Kenneth Harlan in the featured role of Ross Cavanagh, a handsome ranger in the woods of the west. Helene Costello plays the leading feminine role of Lee Virginia Weatherford, the lovely flower of a corrupt stock, and acquits herself with genuine ability in her first big characterization. Eulalie Jensen, always to be depended upon for excellent acting, gives a perfect performance in the role of her slatternly mother who, through misfortune and poverty has run to seed. Others in this uniformly good cast are Will Walling, Lew Harvey, Robert J. Graves, Eugene Paulette, Harvey Clark and John Standing.

FAVOR THE COUNCIL

Episcopalians Indorse Church Federation, With Reservations

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 8.—(AP) The committee to consider the existing relations of the Episcopal church to the federal council of the churches of Christ in America will report to the 48th triennial general conference of that church that the majority favors entrance into the council with reservations. This announcement was made late today at the conclusion of a meeting of that committee.

Two members of the committee it is understood insisted that the church's participation remain as it is now: co-operation in social service and world faith and order.

Youth of Today Lacks Poise and Ability To Converse, Says Critic

If your daughter's beau insists on dumping his cigarette ashes on your $500 rug and parks his feet on the piano, take him to the Texas-Oklahoma fair grounds and show him how calley once behaved themselves, says Mrs. Frieda van Enden, local art critic in speaking of the painting, "Drawing Room Conversation," on exhibit here. It is a picture by the well-known Italian, Giuseppe Guidi, representing two fashionable belles entertaining a polite and elderly cavalier.

"Our modern young ladies, accustomed to a breezy exchange of stereotyped slang on the run of conversation at much closer quarters, not lacking the personal so to speak, would be bored by the prolonged effort of having to be or seen with intelligent, well-informed, interested, and at rest at the same time," said Mrs. Van Emden.

The picture is a contract of the jazz age and the age of polite conversation.

"The product of our restless age generally lacks the grace, the poise, the will and the absolute restfulness to carry one, what our grandmothers still termed 'polite drawing room conversation,'" Mrs. Van Emden declared.

Danger Signals Of Indigestion

The Disease That Strikes Like Lightning

Beware of indigestion—the disease that kills more people and kills them quicker than any other. This warning, by physicians, is particularly applicable this season of the year, when your system "letdown" in tone and vigor on account of warm weather.

What are the warnings that nature gives you of the approach of indigestion? The medical books tells us: 1. Gas, which means that your food is fermenting instead of digesting. 2. A feeling of fullness or oppression in the region of the stomach after eating. This means that the gas has ballooned your stomach and is pressing up against your heart and lungs. 3. A dull lazy feeling, which means that you are not getting nourishment from what you are eating. 4. Restlessness, unrefreshing sleep, which means that the poisons of indigestion are disturbing your brain and nerves. 5. Sometimes, pain and fluttering around the heart, though this symptom may come later.

Don't take chances with indigestion—you are too apt to lose. If you have had any of the symptoms mentioned above, get your digestive organs, including your stomach, liver and bowels Ferraline makes your digestion "perfect and complete." Gives Advice to Expectant Mothers

"I ADVISE all expectant mothers to use Mother's Friend." Writes Mrs. Wesley Miller, Hudson, Mich. "I have had nine children. With my first three I suffered for 24 hours. Beginning with the fourth I used Mother's Friend and was sick only 15 minutes. Since then I have had five and was only sick about 10 minutes with each."

Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician and has been a positive blessing to thousands of expectant mothers for over three generations. Plain oils only penetrate the skin. But the highly refined oils and other ingredients in Mother's Friend make it penetrate through the skin to the muscles and ligaments; making them soft and pliable, thus aiding the tissues to relax and adjust themselves to the changes during motherhood.

The mothers who praise Mother's Friend the most are those who did not use it with their first baby but through its use with the second, were able to realize its almost unbelievable results.

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 34, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

W. J. TUCKER,
City Pound Keeper.
Date, October 5, 1925.

NOTICE OF ELECTION.
Ordinance No. 629.
An ordinance providing for the holding of an election in the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters of said city who are property tax payers therein a proposition for the issuance of bonds of said city in the amount of seventy-five thousands ($75,000) dollars for the purpose of raising funds to pay the cost of construction of public buildings for housing fire apparatus in said city, and levying a tax on all taxable property in said city to pay the principal and interest of said bonds.

Whereas the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls deems it necessary and expedient to borrow money on the credit of the city in the sum of seventy-five thousand ($75,000) dollars and to secure the payment thereof by the issuance of bonds of said city in that amount for the purpose of raising funds to pay the cost of constructing public buildings for housing fire apparatus in and for said city.

Now therefore, be it ordained by the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls, Texas:

1—That an election be held in said city on the tenth day of November, 1925, at which election the following proposition shall be submitted:

Shall the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls be authorized to issue the bonds of the city of Wichita Falls in the sum of seventy-five thousand ($75,000) dollars to mature serially in from one to thirty years from the date thereof, bearing interest at the rate of four and three-quarters per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, for the purpose of providing funds for the construction of public buildings for housing fire apparatus in and for said city and to levy a tax sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds as it accrues and the principal thereof at maturity?

2—The said election shall be held at the city hall and in Wichita county court house in the city of Wichita Falls and shall be conducted by the following named persons:

Nat L. Inge, presiding judge, city hall box.

R. E. Strange, clerk, city hall box.

Boyd Dooley, clerk, city hall box.

Mrs. Kathleen Gorsline, clerk, city hall box.

Dan White, presiding judge, court house box.

F. B. Mashburn, clerk, court house box.

Robert McCulloch, clerk, court house box.

Walter Robbins, clerk, court house box.

Voters living east of Lamar Street and northeast of the Wichita River and southeast of the Wichita Valley railway track in said city shall vote at the city hall box; all voters living west of Lamar Street in said city shall vote at the court house box.

3—The said election shall be held in accordance with the general election laws and only qualified voters who are property taxpayers in said city shall be allowed to vote.

4—The ballots to be used at said election shall contain the proposition substantially as above set forth, followed by the words "for the issuance of bonds" and "against the issuance of bonds."

5—Notice of said election shall be given by the mayor by publishing a copy of this ordinance with the words "Notice of Election" prefixed thereto thirty days next preceding the date of said election in the Wichita Falls Record News, a newspaper published in said city.

6—That because of inadequate fire protection now existing in the city of Wichita Falls, due to not having sufficient number of buildings for housing fire apparatus endangering the property of the citizens of said city, creates an urgent necessity demanding and requiring that the provisions of the city charter providing for the reading of the ordinances three separate days, and providing that ordinances shall not go into effect until thirty days after passage be suspended, and the same are suspended, and this ordinance is passed as an emergency measure and shall take effect and be enforced from and after its passage.

R. E. SHEPHERD,
Mayor.
Attest: W. E. McBROOM,
City Clerk.

THE STATE OF TEXAS.
To the Sheriff or Any Constable of Wichita County, Greetings:

You are hereby commanded to cause to be published once each week for a period of ten days before the return day hereof, in a newspaper of general circulation, which has been continuously and regularly published for a period of not less than one year in said Wichita County, a copy of the following notice:

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To All Persons Interested in the Welfare of Lena Klinkerman, a girl 20 years old and William Klinkerman, Jr., a boy 14 years old, minors:

Know ye, that A. H. Klinkerman was by the County Court of Wichita County, Texas, on the 7th day of October, A. D. 1295, duly appointed temporary guardian of the persons and estates of said minors, which appointment will be permanent unless the same shall be successfully contested at the next term of said court, commencing on the first Monday in December, A. D. 1925, the same being the 7th day of December, A. D. 1925, at the Court House thereof, in Wichita Falls, at which time all persons interested in the welfare of said minors may appear and contest such appointment if they so desire.

Herein fail not, but have you before said court on the said first day of the next term thereof, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this the 7th day of October, A. D. 1925.
ALMA Y. MILLER, Clerk.

Whereas the Board of Aldermen of the City of Wichita Falls deems it necessary and expedient to borrow money on the credit of the City in the sum of Three Hundred and Seventy-five Thousand ($375,000) Dollars and to secure the payment thereof by the issuance of bonds of said City in that amount for the purpose of raising funds to pay the cost of extending and improving the sanitary sewerage system in and for said City.

Now Therefore be it ordained by the Board of Aldermen of the City of Wichita Falls, Texas:

1. That an election be held in said City on the 10th day of November, 1925, at which election the following proposition shall be submitted:

Shall the Board of Aldermen of the City of Wichita Falls be authorized to issue the bonds of the City of Wichita Falls in the sum of Three Hundred Seventy-five Thousand and no 100 ($375,000) Dollars to mature serially in from one to forty years from the date thereof, bearing interest at the rate of four and three-quarters per centum per annum payable semi-annually for the purpose of providing funds for the extension and improvement of the sanitary sewerage system in and for said City and to levy a tax sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds as it accrues and the principal thereof at maturity.

2. The said election shall be held at the City Hall and Wichita County court house in the City of Wichita Falls and shall be conducted by the following named persons:

Nat L. Inge, presiding judge, City Hall Box, R. E. Strange, clerk, City Hall box, Boyd Dooley, clerk, City Hall box, Mrs. Kathleen Gorsline, clerk, City Hall box, Dan White, presiding judge, Court House box, F. B. Mashburn, clerk, Court House box, Robert McCulloch, clerk, Court House box, Walter Robbins, clerk, Court House box.

Voters living east of Lamar street and northeast of the Wichita river and southeast of the Wichita Valley railway track in said city shall vote at the City Hall box, all voters living west of Lamar street in said city shall vote at the Court House box.

3. The said election shall be held in accordance with the general election laws and only qualified voters who are property tax payers in said City shall be allowed to vote.

4. The ballots to be used at said election shall contain the proposition substantially as above set forth followed by the words "for the issuance of bonds" and "against the issuance of bonds."

5. Notice of said election shall be given by the mayor by publishing a copy of this ordinance with the words "Notice of Election" prefixed thereto thirty days next preceding the date of said election in the Wichita Falls Record News, a Newspaper published in said City.

6. That because of the unhealthful condition existing in the City of Wichita Falls, Texas, due to not having a complete sanitary sewerage system endangers the health of the citizens of said City, creates an urgent necessity demanding and requiring that the provisions of the City charter providing for the reading of ordinances on three separate days and providing that ordinances shall not go in to effect until thirty days after passage be suspended and the same are suspended and this ordinance is passed as an emergency measure and shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

R. E. SHEPHERD,
Mayor.
Attest: W. E. McBROOM,
City Clerk.

FINE PROGRAM

horses, especially, gave the Texans plenty of argument.

Between events vaudville numbers were presented. The five Lelands, the four Clifton girls, the five Janslys all contributed their full share to the entertainment while the Chicago Cadet band supplied all the music necessary.

The Awards.

Results of the horse show trials last night were:

One of the most attractive programs of the Texas-Oklahoma fair will be offered today, the final day of the great exposition.

"We'll just turn it all over to them tomorrow," R. E. Shepherd, secretary of the fair said. "We want every body to come out and have a good time and do anything they want to within reason."

From the time the gates open this morning until the last celebrant has left the grounds, there will be "something doing every minute of today," fair officials said.

This is the final day of the 1925 exposition—one designated as mardi gras day and in which the general public have thing its own way.

Great Race Program.

For the afternoon, horse races will prevail with the Texas-Oklahoma derby scheduled as the crowning event. This has an unusually large number of fast horses an promises to be no slow affir. Several other good races are also scheduled to act as curtain raisers for the big thing.

As an extra added attraction of the afternoon, the association has arranged a polo race between horses from Fort Sill, Okla., and those of the Kenmere team of Wichita Falls. Some dispute has arisen as to which club boasts the most speedy ponies and the races have been decided on to decide this question.

Mardi Gras Tonight.

For Thursday night the mardi gras festival will be held. The society horse show will come to a close tonight. The vaudeville acts that have been offered in front of the grand stand each evening will make their farewell appearances; a larger and more pretentious fireworks display will be set off and then all the grounds will be turned into a big dance hall for those who so wish to use them. The Chicago Cadet band, the Red Hussar band and several other organizations will supply music.

The dance, or dances as they probably will be, will be masked to start with. They will continue after the grand stand entertainment on until midnight when, with due solemnity, the gates and doors will be closed and the Texas-Oklahoma fair of 1925 will have become history.

MAJESTIC'S OFFERING IS ONE OF BEST

Tine Glenn, Jack Richards And Company Head Good Bill

Tina Glen, Jack Richards and company in "The Test" headlined a splendid bill at the Majestic theatre last night. They start their act with a dark stage, pistol shots and hair raising mysterious actions. The beginning is a burlesque on the current mystery plays such as "The Bat" and "The Cat and the Canary." This is merely a new and original way to introduce their act, however, for the best part of the act is really music, singing and dancing. An eight-piece jazz orchestra and four good dancers, two men and two women make up an act that draws to a whirlwind close and keeps the audience applauding long after they have left the stage.

Tempest-Dickinson Good.

Florenze Tempest and Homer Dickinson, Broadway's smart comedy couple, furnish more splendid entertainment. Mr. Dickinson keeps the audience in a good humor with an easy line of chatter and clever remarks while Miss Tempest wins lots of applause with her singing. She is a winsome little miss and she has a splendid assortment of gowns. They are assisted by a third member who plays the piano.

"At 4 P. M." is a clever comedy skit that deals with a lover's tryst in the park which later develops into a quarrel. The quarrel is finally settled by the intervention of an old man who brings about peaceable relations again. There are good lines and acting and is well applauded.

Trapeze Act, Too.

The Three Lordens use comedy to put pep into a trapeze and acrobatic act. The third member of the act is a girl who dances. Their fun lends originality and the act is warmly applauded.

Although Hamilton and Bucker are handicapped by Miss Hamilton having a severe cold, their part of the bill goes over all right. Miss Hamilton plays the piano while Miss Bucker sings popular melodies.

The vaudeville was preceded by The Sportlights of Grantland Rice and Aesops Fables. "Headlines" a picture dealing with a newspaper romance and featuring Alice Joyce followed the bill. There will be matinee and evening performance today and Friday.

The Satisfaction That Saving Brings

There's a satisfaction, a feeling of self-confidence, that goes with a savings account, that nothing else brings you.

The doubtful satisfaction of spending as you earn, for passing desires, doesn't compare with it.

There's satisfaction that isn't measured by the amount of money you're laying by.

All Credit Goes To Walter, Verdict Of Pirates' Leader

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Bill McKechnie of the Pirates and Stanley Harris of the Senators, rival managers in the world's series, agreed upon one thing at the close of today's first contest and that is that all credit must go to Walter Johnson.

"The honors go to Johnson for his superior pitching," McKechnie said. "I believe that my ball club is just as good as Washington's, but we just couldn't hit; there was no tough luck about it, Johnson was bearing down and he had good control. Moreover, there were several breaks that went against us, but these are to be expected in baseball. The team that gets them will win.
