

The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

IF WE EVER saw any more crickets than the business district had Sunday and Monday mornings, we can't remember where or when. Sunday morning's invasion was by far the worst. Crickets were everywhere. The Victor Hotel was black with them, particularly the ground floor doors, windows and walls. Other buildings had their share.

Our building has a good cricket population. We can hear them singing as we write this.

Some folks say a heavy cricket movement means an early and cold winter is coming. If that's so, we'd all better get some heavy coats and boots ready for this winter is to be the worst in decades.

See by the papers that crickets are active in other parts of the country. Up in Oklahoma City, they had to stop traffic on some streets because it was too thick for safe driving. Authorities say the crickets won't do any real harm, as they don't eat vegetation. Guess they eat each other.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S football game was a good one — particularly the first three quarters. The Wranglers looked a hundred percent better than last season. The H-SU lineup included six freshmen who will be members of the Cowboy traveling squad, indicating that the H-SU team was pretty potent. . . . Sammy Baugh was in the stands and he was introduced at half-time. He was wearing a big white hat. . . . Bob Larson did a fine job as the game announcer. . . . The stands on the north side have been repaired and repainted and they look swell. So does the new field house at the West end.

The CJC pep leaders this year will be Judy Haines of Cisco, Earl Ingram of Cisco, Harriet Sperry of Rising Star, Mary Hill of Cisco and Vella Rae Henry of May. Miss Haines and Mr. Ingram were on the job Saturday night, and the full crew will be out for future Wrangler games. The Cisco Boosters Club was on the job, welcoming the Wranglers on the field, serving them drinks at half-time and photographing the game.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON visitors in our office were Mr. and Mrs. R. W. McCauley of Fort Worth and formerly of Cisco. Mrs. McCauley is a teacher in the Birdville school at Fort Worth this year. To give you an idea how that town has grown, Birdville had 17 teachers 10 years ago, 70 teachers five years ago and 233 teachers this year. . . . Little Mack McCauley is going to college at Arlington State.

THE FOLKS OVER at the Cisco Peanut Company are cleaning and oiling the machinery — getting set for a good crop. Mr. Zan Burroughs tells us that the outlook is better than in the past three years. His plant has undergone considerable improvement during the past three light-crop years, and it now is one of the most modern in this part of the country.

SEE MR. E. P. Crawford back on the job after undergoing surgery in Dallas recently. He reports that it was a successful operation and he suffered very little during his hospital stay. He looks fine and feels fine. . . . The O. J. Russells are completing a construction project at their house. The kitchen has been enlarged. . . . The Troy Stewart home looks swell after a repainting job and the addition of a new room.

THERE MAY BE a few panthers in this country. Mr. Sutton Crofts thinks there may be one or more out in the neighborhood of his ranch. And Mr. Ray Judia and some other folks reported seeing a mother panther and some cubs in the canyon country east of town recently.

Mr. Randy Steffen got on his horse and armed himself to the teeth the other afternoon and rode through the canyon. He didn't see any panthers, but he reports having seen signs of them.

If we go panther hunting, we want a place where there has been no signs of them for many years.

Boosters Club To See Lobo Picture At Meet Tonight

Korean Vets To Enroll At College

Veterans of the Korean conflict were reminded by Cisco Junior College officials that September 18 was the final day they may register at the school to receive credit for a full year of college work.

A. R. Collier, veteran counselor, said that there were a number of Korean veterans in the area who needed to begin work on their college courses in order to receive full benefit of the program. He urged them to register as soon as possible in order to receive a full year's credit for their work.

WHAT IN THE WORLD? — Residents of Salisbury, N. C., thought they were seeing a snowfall during this hot weather, but the "snow" was actually whitish clay. Several inches of it were spread over a large area when 25 cars of a freight train were derailed, squirting the substance for yards around.

Don't Take Dead Cows To City Dump Ground

The city dump ground has no facilities for disposing of dead cows and horses and city officials today asked that dead animals not be taken to the dump ground.

Mayor G. C. Rosenthal said that in recent weeks a number of dead animals have been left at the dump ground "and disposing of them has been a costly undertaking." He added that "we will appreciate the cooperation of everyone in this matter."

Auto Inspection Stations Now Open

AUSTIN, Sept. 15 — Texas motorists found the doors of 2,120 official auto inspection stations open this morning ready to check their vehicles under the provisions of the modified Motor Vehicle Inspection Law which was enacted by the last Texas Legislature.

George Busby, Chief of the Texas Department of Public Safety's Motor Vehicle Inspection Division, announced that that number of stations have already been licensed to operate and that another two hundred applications are now on file from operators, desiring to conduct inspections. Busby estimated that the total number of inspection stations will reach 3,500 within the next few months.

The new period, during which motorists must have their cars inspected, opened today and will run through next April 15th.

Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Safety Department, has issued an appeal to car owners to take their vehicles to one of the convenient stations early and avoid a last-minute rush similar to that which resulted under the old law that expired August 25th. Garrison pointed out that all of the station operators have been fully versed in the provisions of the new act which calls for inspection only of brakes, lighting equipment, horns, rear-view mirrors and windshield wipers.

Burial will be in the Long Branch Cemetery under the direction of Higginbotham Funeral Home, Rising Star.

Survivors are his wife; five sons, Willie and O. V. Cooper of Rising Star, U. S. Cooper of Lampasas, C. B. Cooper of Pueblo, Colorado, and Jim Cooper of Fort Worth; three daughters, Mrs. O. A. Hardin-Simmons Begins New Dorm

ABILENE. — Hardin-Simmons University's post-war development and expansion program takes another step forward September 15 when construction of a new dormitory for women begins. This brings the value of construction since 1947 to $2,870,675.

The $357,800 structure, due to be completed in time for occupancy in September, 1954, will be the seventh new building and the fifth dormitory constructed since 1947. In addition, four other buildings have been remodeled.

Presently under construction with completion scheduled for next summer is a new dorm for men. Cost of the project, which included renovation of another men's dormitory, Ferguson Hall, is $859,500. Ferguson will be ready December 1 of this year. A dormitory for women costing $375,000 was completed in January.

Behrens Chapel and Cowden-Paxton Hall, the athletic dorm, have been renovated, and Rose Field House, former gymnasium of Camp Barkeley during the war, was moved and reconducted for H-SU use. Total cost of these projects was $256,653.35.

Hunter Memorial Hall, a dormitory for women, was completed in 1949 at a cost of $277,137.93. Carl Myers Rodeo arena cost $21,504. A new press box for Parramore stadium, costing $3,300, was completed this summer. Renovation of the ROTC armory and construction of a rifle range were completed at a cost of $6,600.

The new project will bring housing capacity on the campus for women to 544 with total student capacity 912.

CJC Team Stopped By H-SU Eleven

The Cisco High School Lobos and the Cisco Junior College Wranglers both worked on polishing their offense in comparatively light drills Monday in preparation for their games this weekend.

The Lobos worked on ball handling and blocking assignments in perfecting their plays for the game with Brady Friday night. Coaches Jay Williams and Al Lankford went over the assignments with the players and ran old and new plays in scrimmage. Much attention was paid to offense blocking assignments.

Coach Red Lewis instituted new plays and worked on his pass defense for the game with Tarleton Saturday night. Some time was spent in line blocking and working out kinks in defensive play.

Stiffer drills were in prospect for Tuesday as the two teams will begin work in earnest for the coming contests. Long scrimmage sessions were in prospect for both squads.

Both the Lobos and the Wranglers play on enemy soil this week.

Although they dropped a 39-to-18 decision to the Hardin-Simmons University "B" team in the season's opening game here last Saturday night before a large crowd, the Wranglers convinced local fans that they will field a good team this season.

For the first three quarters, it was a nip-and-tuck battle with H-SU leading by a score of 20-to-18 at the end of the third period. The visitors made three scores in fast order in the final stanza.

The Wranglers will have a tough line this year. And they will have plenty of offensive power. Quarterback Bob Lynch, a newcomer, called a fine game and showed that he is a top-grade passer. Hut Hutson was the outstanding runner for the Wranglers.

Ends Bud Miller and Don Denard played fine football, particularly on the offense. The line as a whole gave a good account of itself.

The Wranglers scored first in the middle of the first period. Cisco kicked off to H-SU. After making a first down, the Wrangler line held for three downs and Miller hit the punter for a loss on the Hardin-Simmons 33, where the ball went over.

In two runs, Hutson drove to the Hardin-Simmons 12 yard line, and Lynch passed to Denard for a touchdown.

Hardin-Simmons began their first touchdown march near the end of the period. Quarterback Gene Saur passed to End Connie Baird for a first down on the Cisco 25. In two tries, D. Villarreal, a scat back, ran to the 13. As the second quarter opened, he got through to the 9 and Jackie Sparks made it a first down on the 3. Sparks then scored and Jim Doon converted.

A few minutes later, the visitors opened another touchdown march after taking a punt on their 19. J. Crumpler got loose for 17 yards, and Gerald Sealey took a 14-yard pass from Saur. N. Dinter got 11 yards, and then drove 7 more. Baird took a pass from Saur on the Cisco 21, and Sealey caught a touchdown pass. Doon converted.

The Wranglers scored again as the half ended. They took the kickoff on their 26 and Miller took a pass on the H-SU 47. Hutson got loose for 17 yards, and Jim Adams and Lynch drove through to the 15. Denard took a pass on the 1-yard line, and Hutson scored.

Shortly after the third period opened, Villarreal got loose for 70 yards and a touchdown. A few minutes later, Denard recovered a fumble on the Hardin-Simmons 27. Miller took a 6-yard pass, and Hutson drove to the H-SU 7. Lynch lost a yard, and Hutson got through to the 1. Then, he plunged over.

In the final period, H-SU pushed across three touchdowns. Villarreal set up the first one with a 32-yard scamper to the Cisco 17. Saur then hit Baird with a touchdown pass. A few

377,000,000 MECHANICAL HORSES

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has said, "With the development of mechanized commercial agriculture, the family farm has become closely geared into a complex interdependent industrial economy."

The speed with which this development has moved in a comparatively short period of time deserves the description "amazing." Forty years ago 21,000,000 horses worked on American farms—now there are only about 4,370,000. Since 1920, 25,000,000 work animals—mules and horses—have been replaced by farm machinery. That means that 65,000,000 acres of land, formerly needed to raise animal fodder, have been released for the production of human food.

The gain in productive efficiency has been enormous. Farm machinery in use now equals the power of 377,000,000 horses. And machinery handles 98 per cent of the wheat harvest, 75 per cent of the corn, and 66 per cent of the potatoes.

Moreover, productive efficiency is not the end of the story. The machine is the great eliminator of the drudgery, the backbreaking muscle work, that once was agriculture's unhappy hallmark. It is the great cutter of costs. And it is the tool which conserves and improves the land and other natural resources.

Finally, it seems inevitable that as time wears on the problem of agricultural surpluses will tend to disappear—and be replaced by the problem of feeding a greatly increased population from a land area which is virtually fixed. And the solution to this problem, in great part, lies in maximum use of mechanical power.

Things Seen and Unseen —

... are all paid for by the ultimate consumer. The farmer sells his bale of cotton for $150.00 and we buy it back in clothes for several hundred dollars. Same old cotton except the looks, design, color, wage, transportation, rent, storage, interest, commission, profit and taxes — many kinds of them. Like the bale of cotton, the abstract must bear its myriad of hidden costs, but it is still worth many times its cost. If you gamble never do it on land titles.

HERALD OF HOPE

LUCKY ACCIDENT—Although film star Rock Hudson broke his collarbone while on location for a movie, things could have been worse for him. For one thing, lovely actress Piper Laurie went to the hospital to see her injured friend, and it would seem that Piper even took him a present. And what guy wouldn't risk a collarbone if that lovely redhead came to cheer him up?

OUT-OF-THE-WAY-PLACES—A matador's ingenuity sometimes saves his life and provides thrills for spectators. Novice fighter "Charro" Gomez, below, literally took the bull by the horns to escape being gored in Mexico City. The crowd of 50,000 cheered like mad as Gomez held on tightly. In another event the same day, Antonio del Olivar, top photo, leaped over the fence to safety as the bull caught his cape and flung it into the air.

WATER POLO BY NEPTUNE—King Neptune is banishing a tiny player from a game of water polo in his realm in New York. The game was played at a Children's Aid Society Center and the youngsters having fun in the water were from seven to ten years old. As the east sweltered in the unprecedented heat wave, this sort of fun was more popular than any other.

SHORT STORY—A popular sure-time outfit for the coldest fall wardrobe is the classic pullover cashmere sweater with a pair of Bermuda shorts. These are made of imported dress Stewart said. They're worn with the knee-length socks.

LOOK WHAT THEY CAUGHT!—Joan Adamolk, 14, and James Piretti, 11, are holding the salt-water flukes they landed to win the girls' and boys' prizes in a Junior Fishing Contest in New York. The Department of Parks conducted the contest at 14 salt-water and 11 fresh-water fishing areas throughout the city. It's an annual event.

HELPING THE RIVER—Diver Charles B. Brown of Memphis, Tenn., is just going below the surface of the Kaw River at Kansas City, Kans., to cut a steel tank into sections for removal by dredging machinery. The operation was one of a series aimed at clearing away submerged obstructions to accelerate the flow of the river in the event of high water. Debris consisting of steel, concrete and rock has collected in the river since the memorable flood of 1903.

Vet Questions And Answers

Q — I want to apply for VA's vocational counseling to help me choose a training objective under the Korean GI Bill. There aren't any counseling facilities in my town. Would VA pay my transportation costs to and from a counseling center?

A — No. VA may not pay the travel costs of a veteran who merely desires counseling. But VA could pay those costs, in the case of a veteran for whom counseling is mandatory.

Q — If I meet all the eligibility requirements of the Korean GI Bill, would I be allowed to take training, even though I've gone back on active duty and am now in uniform?

A — No. The Korean GI Bill prohibits training by veterans on active duty, even though they do meet all the eligibility requirements of the law.

Q — I'm planning to buy a house with a GI loan. Should be my first step?

A — Your first step should be to go to your VA Regional Office and obtain a Certificate of Eligibility. Be sure to bring original discharge or separation paper with you. Once you have the Certificate, see a lender for a GI loan.

Q — I've just come out of the service, and I'm planning to use $10,000 worth of GI insurance available to Korean veterans. I have a $5,000 commercial life insurance policy. Will be able to get the full $10,000 GI policy, even though I have commercial insurance?

A — Yes. The amount of commercial insurance you carry in no way reduces the amount of GI insurance to which you are entitled.

Since 1878 the population of the United States has increased every year.
