Nixon Bids For Cooperation

Europe can make quite an impression on an American, the Kiwanis Club at Sweetwater was told the other day.

Reporting on a meeting of the club, the Sweetwater Reporter related that Joe Duncan, a teacher in Roscoe Schools, presented a series of slides on Norway.

"Duncan said there are several things about Europe that will impress you," the Reporter noted. "He mentioned his wife came from Norway and his grandmother from Germany."

These certainly are a couple of "relations" who usually make quite an impression on a fellow—a grandmother mostly thinks he's nearly perfect, and a wife then comes along and explodes that appraisal.

The recent bad weather caught Dawson County farmers at a bad time—just when they were entering the "stretch" on harvesting a tremendous cotton crop, according to the Lamesa Press-Reporter.

"During the past three weeks, only 11,264 bales of cotton have been harvested and tagged in Dawson County," the Lamesa paper reported.

"The latest bale count showed that a total of 164,439 bales out of a projected 210,000 bales in the county have been tagged, compared to a total of 119,741 at a corresponding date last year."

"Well I'm about ready for spring, but it may be a long way off, according to some of the weather forecasters," says Mrs. Jimmy Walker in her column from Hobbs in the Rotan Advance. "Wish it would get warmer and our roads would dry up. They sure are in a mess out here," Mrs. Walker continues.

It is a fervent wish, no doubt, and one shared by many, but you know what they say about West Texas weather. Just when you think it won't, it will. Just when you think it can't, it can.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Feb. 2, the 33rd day of 1973. There are 332 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1848, Mexico agreed to cede a vast territory to the United States upon payment of $15 million. The area embraced what are now the states of Arizona, California, New Mexico and Texas.

On this date:

In 1635, the Dutch incorporated New Amsterdam, now New York.

In 1870, doctors disclosed that the Cardiff giant discovered on a farm near Cardiff, N.Y., was not a petrified man after all. It was all a hoax.

In 1882, the Roman Catholic fraternal group, the Knights of Columbus, was founded in New Haven, Conn.

In 1953, the U.S. announced that it no longer would block Chinese Nationalist raids against the China mainland.

In 1961, 600 passengers aboard the hijacked Portugese liner, Santa Marie, landed at Recife, Brazil.

Ten years ago: Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan returned to London after talks with Italian officials in Rome about France's veto of British membership in the European Common Market.

Five years ago: Richard M. Nixon was campaigning in New Hampshire as he launched his bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

One year ago: The American dollar plunged to a new low in Europe, and the price of gold was higher than ever before.

In Report To Congress

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, already beset by congressional critics of his belt-tightening new budget, appealed directly to Congress today to work with him to achieve administration goals which he said mark "a fresh approach to government."

In the first of a series of State of the Union reports, Nixon pledged "to do my part to achieve a constructive working relationship with Congress" controlled by the opposition Democrats. He said:

"My sincere hope is that the executive and legislative branches can work together in this great undertaking in a positive spirit of mutual respect and cooperation."

This first Nixon report was long on generalities but short on specifics. In essence, he stated, then underscored two basic positions:

"In the field of foreign policy, we must remember that a strong America—an America whose word is believed and whose strength is respected—is essential to continued peace and understanding in the world."

Nixon said the Vietnam peace agreement has strengthened "basic American credibility" and added, "We must act in such a way in coming years that this credibility will remain intact, and with it the world stability of which it is so indispensable a part."

"At home, we must reject the mistaken notion—a notion that has dominated too much of the public dialogue for too long—that ever-bigger government is the answer to every problem."

The chief executive asserted, "We have learned only too well that heavy taxation and excessive government spending are not a cure-all."

Democrats in Congress, particularly, have been critical of Nixon's intention to scrap a broad variety of existing federal programs, most of them in the social welfare area. Without referring to such criticism, Nixon said:

"The policies which I will outline to the Congress in weeks ahead represent a reaffirmation, not an abdication of federal responsibility. They represent a pragmatic rededication to social compassion and national excellence, in place of the combination and good intentions and fuzzy follow-through which too often in the past was thought sufficient."

One of the few specifics Nixon cited was a list of State of the Union reports yet to come. He said these would include "economic affairs, natural resources, human resources, community development and foreign and defense policy."

The President indicated he would have still another message calling anew for congressional approval of a plan to reorganize the Cabinet structure and create new departments of natural resources, human resources and community development.

Declaring that "the basic state of our union today is sound, and full of promise," Nixon said that if Americans work together his final White House years can be "the best four years in American history."

But he said that "hard decisions must be made, and we must stick by them."

Job, Jobless Rate Drop

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate dropped slightly last month to 5 per cent of the work force, lowest in 2½ years, the Labor Department reported today.

The actual number of Americans out of work rose 560,000, but since it normally climbs more than that in January, the Bureau of Labor Statistics figured it as a decline on a seasonally adjusted basis.

The 5 per cent jobless rate, down from 5.1 per cent in December, had been the Nixon administration's goal for reducing joblessness by the end of last year. The January report means the administration missed its target by only one month.

The total number of Americans employed also declined, down 1.8 million to 81 million. It normally drops in January and the bureau figured it as a seasonal drop of 350,000.

The drop in employment was largely due to fewer agricultural jobs, the report said.

The bureau also reported that average hourly earnings of some 50 million rank-and-file workers rose 4 cents to $3.78 but average weekly pay dropped $1.15 to $138.35 because of a decline in the average work week.

Average weekly pay was still up $8.06, or 6.2 per cent, over the past year, nearly double the 3.4 per cent loss of purchasing power to rising living costs.

The report said the unemployment rate for men edged down from 3.4 to 3.3 per cent with a total of 2 million, nearly half a million less than a year earlier. The unemployment rate for women rose from 5.1 to 5.3 per cent with a total of 1.6 million, about 70,000 less than in January of 1972. The jobless rate for teen-agers fell last month from 15.7 to 14.3 per cent with a total of slightly over 1 million, some 200,000 less than a year ago.

In a racial breakdown, the bureau said unemployment among white workers remained unchanged at 4.6 per cent with a total of 3.8 million, down 600,000 from a year earlier. The unemployment rate for nonwhites—mostly Negroes—declined last month from 9.6 to 8.9 per cent with a total of 840,000 down about 60,000 from a year ago.

Nixon, Heath To Camp David

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon and British Prime Minister Edward Heath fly to Camp David today to conclude what has been described by both sides as the most exhaustive summit meeting of an American president and an allied leader.

Nixon and Heath were to leave for the presidential retreat in the Maryland mountains after a lunch with British Ambassador Lord Cromer at his residence.

While spokesmen will not discuss the substance of the talks, they say topics covered since Heath's arrival Thursday have included major international issues with a focus on forthcoming monetary and trade talks.

Nixon and Heath will be joined at Camp David by Henry Kissinger, Nixon's foreign policy adviser, and by Sir Burke Trend, secretary to the British cabinet.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Sir Alec Douglas-Hume, Britain's secretary of state for foreign affairs, will join the two leaders later for what has been described as a working dinner before they return to Washington about 10 p.m. EST.

Nixon and Heath met three times Thursday: In a 90-minute morning session, two hours in the afternoon along with Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz, and for a black-tie state dinner at the White House.

Also Thursday afternoon, Rogers and Sir Alec met for five hours at the State Department.

US Questions Laos POW List

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials, unwilling to accept North Vietnam's latest prisoner list as final, are pressing Communist diplomats for more names than those of seven American servicemen and three civilians acknowledged as captives in Laos.

Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, chief U.S. negotiator of the Vietnam cease-fire agreement and its prisoner provisions, said Thursday night that "it doesn't look to us that it could be complete."

"We are querying them" for further information and more names, Kissinger said in a CBS interview.

The new lists, provided belatedly Thursday, left unexplained the fate of 308 U.S. servicemen and four civilians who have been carried in American records as either prisoners or missing in Laos.

Pentagon and State Department officials expressed shock and disappointment that the lists handed over in Paris five days after the Vietnam cease-fire agreement was signed were so small.

North Vietnam has acknowledged 562 U.S. servicemen and 23 American civilians are in Communist captivity in North Vietnam, South Vietnam and Laos.

Beyond this, the North Vietnamese have reported 55 military men and six civilians died while in prison.

For Indochina as a whole, the North Vietnamese lists supplied since last Saturday have failed to shed any light on what has happened to some 1,300 officers and enlisted men and 22 American civilians.

School Out At 2:30 Saturday

Snyder Schools will be in session tomorrow to make up for one of the days lost due to bad weather in January, but the Saturday school day will be shorter than normal.

Supt. Bill J. Hood said that the Saturday classes will be dismissed at 2:30 p.m.

The schools are required by state law to offer at least 180 days of instruction during a school year, and Snyder schools had to change their calendar this year to make up for six "weather days."

PULLOUTS, POWS ON AGENDA

Peacekeepers Meeting

SAIGON (AP) — The chief delegates of the United States, North and South Vietnam and the Viet Cong on a peacekeeping military commission met for the first time today to take up an agenda including arrangements for the completion of American troop withdrawals and prisoner exchanges, U.S. officials reported.

A third pressing item on the agenda, the American officials said, was to arrange security for field teams of the International Commission of Control and Supervision who are to police the cease-fire.

The observers from Canada, Poland, Hungary and Indonesia are already three days behind the schedule specified in the cease-fire agreement for setting up regional headquarters in Hue, Da Nang, Pleiku, Phan Thiet, Bien Hoa, My Tho and Can Tho.

U.S. officials termed the meeting "significant."

There were other signs that the peacekeeping commissions are getting into action.

U.S. helicopters flew 40 more Viet Cong delegates and 4,000 pounds of their supplies from their district headquarters at Loc Ninh to Saigon to join the joint military commission.

Sunday was reported to be the target for deployment of Communist representatives to the seven regional headquarters where the international supervisory teams will be based.

The international commission sent advance teams today to Pleiku, Da Nang and Hue to check out accommodations, transportation and communication facilities.

Col. Keith MacGregor of the Canadian delegation told newsmen at Pleiku that a full team of about 30 members should be there in two to four days.

Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, chief spokesman for the South Vietnamese command, said there were no sustained battles anywhere in the country. But he claimed there were 200 more Communist violations of the cease-fire during the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today. Many were shelling attacks.

Hien said 524 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong and 37 South Vietnamese were killed during the latest reporting period. He said 185 government troops were wounded and 82 were missing.

S-Viets, VCs To Negotiate

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu announced that South Vietnam will begin political negotiations with the Viet Cong in Paris no later than Tuesday.

"I have ordered Ambassador Pham Dang Lam to meet the Viet Cong in Paris no later than Feb. 6 to solve the internal problems of South Vietnam," Thieu declared Saturday in a Tet lunar new year television address to the nation.

Williams Criticizes Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — Declaring President Nixon's new budget confirms the worst fears of Congress, Sen. Harrison A. Williams, D-N.J., today accused the White House of what he called irresponsible abandonment of decades of socially useful programs.

He commented at the beginning of Labor Committee questioning of Caspar Weinberger who was head of the Office of Budget and Management when the federal budget for fiscal 1974 was drawn up.

The budget, Williams said, makes no real effort to improve by building on existing strengths. It simply plays on any weaknesses—either real or imagined—in existing programs as an excuse for junking them.

Weinberger is waiting Senate confirmation to become secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

Thursday, Roy Ash, the man picked to succeed him at OMB told a Senate Judiciary Committee hearing the President has full authority to impound any funds or stop any programs he sees fit.

Ash said the White House will fight passage of a bill intended to give Congress a veto over impoundments.

Ash commented as the Senate was once again passing, 67-14, a $593-million rivers and harbors bill, one of a long series of measures vetoed by the President last October as being too costly.

He's pitched three strikes, so OUT!

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 By Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 29-year-old woman who has been married and divorced three times in the last 10 years. You will probably say what everybody else says when you find out I married and divorced the same man all three times.

Our last divorce became final three weeks ago, and now Mike is begging me to marry him again. We have no children and we don't want any. I really love the guy, Abby, but the only time he is good to me is when we're divorced. Mike is a wonderful lover, but he's a rotten husband. When we're man and wife he drinks, runs around, and stays out late. I never know where he is or who he's with, which drives me up a wall.

If you knew how much we've spent on lawyers you would think we were out of our minds. I know there will never be any other man for me, but I know if I marry Mike again he'll go back to his old mean, abusive ways. Can you help me? THREE-TIME LOSER

DEAR LOSER: Three strikes and a man is OUT, no matter how good he pitches. Some men are great to date but not to mate, and Mike could be one of them.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is 21, and she shares an apartment with another girl. Until she went to college she was very considerate, and since she was an only child we were a very close family.

Altho she was invited, she did not spend Christmas, Thanksgiving, Mother's Day, or Father's Day with us. She sent cards, but she spent those special days with her boy friend and his parents.

Naturally, I was upset, and when I confronted her she said there are 365 days a year to love us, and why should she give up these particular days? She says times have changed and I am square. Am I? VERY HURT

DEAR HURT: No, but don't make an issue of it. I can understand your being "hurt," but if you continue to make her feel guilty, you may see even less of her.

DEAR ABBY: My brother, Bob, was adopted by my family when he was a small baby. Bob is now over legal age, and was just informed that his real mother is an Indian living in Alaska and he is getting money from her oil rights.

Bob says it is all like a dream, because he never knew he was adopted. He is trying to make up his mind whether to go to Alaska to collect the money. He doesn't know what to say to his mother, who is still living, because he has always considered the mother who raised him his one and only mother.

Would you ask your readers how adopted children and real mothers feel after meeting each other after being separated for over 20 years? Is it a good experience or a bad one? NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: I would guess it's almost always a tearfully joyous reunion, but I'll ask. Readers?

DEAR ABBY: Here in Iowa the winters are pretty cold, so my sisters and I have made a habit of putting out food for the squirrels, birds, and rabbits. Today, we had an especially heavy snowfall so we put out a little extra food for the animals and birds.

Today, we saw a little squirrel who had been in our neighborhood for as long as we can remember go into a neighbor's yard and start to eat out of a bird feeder. Abby, this neighbor came out of his house with a shotgun and with one shot KILLED that little hungry squirrel while he was eating! It just made us sick.

Please print this and tell people if they don't want animals in their yard to just chase them away. You can't teach a dead animal anything. And for those of you who do help these little creatures in the winter when food is hard to come by, God bless you.

Love and peace to you, Abby. Please don't use our names, sign us, 18, 16 AND 15 IN WATERLOO.

DEAR 18, 16, AND 15: And love and peace to you, too! I'm sorry you won't allow me to disclose your names. You are three beautiful sisters.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Brewster Is Sentenced, Fined

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, D-Md. was sentenced today to two to six years in prison and fined $30,000 on charges of accepting an illegal gratuity.

His codefendant, former lobbyist Cyrus T. Anderson, was sentenced to 1½ to 4½ years in prison and fined $30,000.

U.S. District Court Judge George Hart told Brewster as he imposed sentence, "I find myself facing a man trusted by the people of Maryland ... a man who violated that trust."

He sentenced the former senator to a minimum of eight months and a maximum of two years in prison on each of the three convictions. He ordered the sentences to run consecutively.

Santone Deputies Killed

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Gunfire during a vehicle license check claimed the lives today of a Bexar County sheriff's deputy who joined the force when he was too young to carry a pistol and a deputy reserve officer who served with no pay.

Two men and a woman were arrested a short time later.

Killed were Vincent L. "Jerry" Walker, 24, who moved from a sheriff's department office job to the field after he became old enough to carry a weapon, and Joshua Rodriguez, 28 who supplied his own uniform and pistol to become a reserve.

Officers said Sheriff W. B. Hauck, hospitalized with a heart condition, was not told at once of the slayings, which occurred about 12:30 a.m. in the northwest portion of the county near Leon Valley.

Deputy James Lingo said the slain men told him by radio shortly after midnight they had stopped a van and asked Lingto to made a check of its license plates.

"The next thing we knew," Lingo said, "a resident called in and said we had two officers dead in the road."

Officers said a vehicle resembling the van which was stopped had been seen at burglaries in the northwest part of the county.

LETTER TO EDITOR

To The Daily News:

About a dozen years ago the nursing homes came into existence. This was something new to most of us people. We have had old folks homes or poor houses for many years. The nursing homes seem to be quite an improvement to what we used to have.

There are complaints of overcrowding and not being run right. It is up to the people to see that they are run right. For many years we have had one old folks some in existence that the people seem to let go on and on. After checking the age of the U.S. Senators and U.S. Representatives in Washington, it seems to me we are running a substitute nursing home in Washington.

It has been brought to my attention that there is a difference between welfare payments and subsidy payments. Welfare payments are to help you make a living. Subsidy payments are so you can live till you can make a living.

Three Held On Drug Charges

City Police continued their crackdown on drug traffic in Snyder yesterday afternoon with the arrest of three persons on charges of illegal possession of marijuana.

Charged in Justice of the Peace Jimmie Billingsley's court were Mike Blythe, Billy Wayne Blythe and Robbie Smith. Billingsley set bond at $1,500 for each of the suspects, and they were remanded to county jail in lieu of bond.

Police said the three were arrested at a local residence at 2 p.m. Thursday on search warrants issued out of district court. Officers also confiscated a quantity of what is believed to be marijuana.

Three Mishaps Reported Here

Minor damage resulted from two motor vehicle mishaps that occurred in Snyder yesterday.

Police said an unidentified motorist fled the scene after he backed into a 1967 Model Chevrolet pickup owned by Erwin Green, Clairemont Route, that was parked on the parking lot at Johnnie's Truck Stop at 6 p.m.

The other mishap occurred at the intersection of Twenty-seventh Street and Avenue Q at 4:35 p.m. Involved were a 1962 Model Cadillac driven by Kathleen Wells Clayton, 402 Thirty-first Street, and a 1966 Model Chevrolet operated by Annie Cole Reed, 1200 Twentieth Street.

Burglars Hit News Building

Burglars entered the Snyder Daily News building last night and stole some money from cigarette and soft drink machines.

City Police said entry probably was gained through the northeast door. The vending machines were pried open and the change taken from them. J.M. (Doc) Davis, 2906 Thirty-fourth Street, owner of the cigarette machine, said the burglars took 20 packages of Marlboro cigarettes, 20 packages of Salem cigarettes and $34.10 in change. The amount of money taken from the soft drink machine was undetermined.

Police said the burglars also took an undetermined amount of money from an office desk.

They tried unsuccessfully to gain entry to a candy machine. They also forced open the top right hand drawer of the receptionist's desk, but did not get any money there.

Colonial clockmakers often had little training, but produced accurate timepieces. Talented amateurs continue the tradition. Discarded automobile parts have been fashioned into clockworks, and one man recently made a grandfather clock with all the mechanism carved from wood.

Slayton Finally Going To Fly

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — "I'm here to fly. I was hired to do that in 1959. And now I'm finally going to fly."

Astronaut Donald K. "Deke" Slayton relished every word as he spoke with newsmen about his selection as a crewman for the joint U.S.-Soviet space flight planned in 1975.

Slayton, Air Force Brig. Gen. Thomas P. Stafford and Vance D. Brand were named by the space agency Tuesday to man the historic mission in which an American Apollo ship is to link up in orbit with a Russian Soyuz vehicle flown by two cosmonauts.

They met newsmen Thursday, but the spotlight was on Slayton, the graying, craggy-featured 48-year-old ex-Air Force pilot who is the only one of the original seven Mercury astronauts who has not yet flown in space.

He was assigned to fly the second Mercury orbital flight, to follow John Glenn's pioneer mission in 1962. But doctors discovered a heart murmur and, with the space environment still very much an unknown, they recommended he be removed from the assignment. Scott Carpenter replaced him.

For 10 years Slayton fought to regain flight status. He took medication, and two years ago the murmur vanished. Last year he got his wish. Then, from his position as director of flight crew operations, he campaigned for a slot on the U.S.-Soviet flight, studying the Russian language in his spare time.

Now, with his long quest rewarded, Slayton says: "I've always been a slow starter. For lots of people life begins at 40. For me it's 50. I'd rather be a 50-year-old rookie than a 50-year-old has been."

He will be 51 at the time the joint mission is scheduled for blastoff in July, 1975. That would make him the oldest human who ever attempted a space journey.

Asked to elaborate on his feelings, Slayton replied: "It's a little complex. I could just say 'great' and leave it at that. Ever since I got knocked off the Mercury flight 11 years ago, I've felt those who did it were wrong. Now I've been proven right.

"I guess I have felt as competent as anyone else to command every flight that's flown since then," he said. "And I missed them all. And that's been kind of a thorn obviously. But on the other side of the coin I also was equally qualified to hit Ted Freeman's goose and have C. C. Williams' bum airplane and be on Spacecraft 12 in place of Grissom, Chaffee or White."

New Teaching Methods Help Simplify Learning Spanish

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Spanish is fast becoming America's second language and "hablo espanol" may become a more familiar response than "I don't speak Spanish."

The need to communicate with a growing population of Spanish-speaking people and the importance of other languages in travel and business are providing impetus for many Americans to attend language schools where new methods of teaching are helping to simplify learning.

In fact, a language school explosion has resulted. So says Irene E. Gorman of Palo Alto, Calif., former security analyst and school teacher, in explaining the rapid growth of the 26 language schools she heads as president — all directed by women — and the plans to open 10 additional schools this winter. The schools use a system based on one devised by linguist Maurice Sullivan when he was charged with training American officers in German for the Nuremberg trials.

"People are studying Spanish for a variety of needs," she observed. "Doctors, attorneys, engineers, nurses, pilots, stewardesses, real estate operators are using Spanish in their work."

Policemen and government agency people in California are studying it to deal with Spanish-speaking people. Rudy Vallee studied it to incorporate Spanish songs into his act. Even the Japanese are learning Spanish to cope in bilingual areas. Kathy Crosby studied Spanish because she has a house in Mexico — and she went on to learn German in two months before she went to the Olympic games. For his role in "The Cop," Richard Crenna studied French.

Many business firms are enrolling employes, Miss Gorman explained. Sears Roebuck has begun projects in Spanish and French for buyers and management people who work with foreign nations. Some businesses are giving language breaks for study instead of coffee breaks. And apparently one is never too old to learn — there are many septuagenarians in the classes.

Languages taught at the Sullivan Language Schools are limited to Spanish, French, German or English, which satisfy the needs of 90 per cent of applicants. The scientific approach used to develop the courses — now being introduced in some public schools — takes many years of evaluation.

Sullivan's original method of teaching during the trials was with wire recorders, forerunners of today's tape recorders. In 1958, with a grant from the Carnegie Foundation, he engaged in a pilot study to relate his method to teaching machines which are now used at the schools.

"The system requires nothing to be memorized, no conjugation of verbs, no lists of vocabulary," Miss Gorman explained. "All four language skills — reading, writing, listening, understanding — are taught simultaneously. It is based on a theory that a person learns by responding to questions which are put to him on tape in a native language. Parts of speech are learned by the construction of sentences which breaks down the language to the simplest components of sound and structure."

In a little room with a console and a book at his side, a student is asked questions that are either on tape in the native language or in the book. Answers are given orally or written in the book. The tape also provides answers. The student is expected to be conversant after 30 hours, but he proceeds at his own pace. The theory is a person's learning takes place in responses, and that he becomes encouraged as he becomes aware of his ability to learn.

In public schools where the method, "Project Speak," has been introduced, schools rent cassettes, headsets and portable audio equipment. Teachers are taught how to let an entire classroom proceed at each individual's pace, Miss Gorman explained.

Six Sons Of Athens Studied

MEN OF ATHENS. By Rex Warner. The Viking Press. A Studio Book. 264 Pages. $16.95

Both writers and readers remain fascinated, inspired and a bit concerned with the achievements and ultimate fate of classical Greece, most especially in Athens.

The artistic and literary creations of the Greeks dazzle us. The extent to which a seemingly self-controlled democracy was practiced in Pericles's Athens where even the greatest could be ostracized from the state by popular action, amazes Americans. Then we feel an almost personal sense of tragedy that all this was lost in the defeat of Athens by unimaginative, authoritarian Sparta in the Peloponnesian War of the 5th century B.C.

Rex Warner, a British-born classical scholar educated at Oxford, now a professor of English at the University of Connecticut, has written a book which analyzes the achievements of Athens at its peak by studying the contributions of six of her greatest sons: Pericles, who governed by character and inspiration without using either the iron hand or velvet glove; the dramatists who tell us so much of the personality of classical Greeks — Aeschylus, Sophocles, Euripides and Aristophanes; Thucydides, the historian of the Peloponnesian war, and Socrates, the philosopher.

The illustrations are beautiful and apt, photographs in both black and white and full color. Physically the book represents the combined typographical talents of England, where it was photoset, and Italy, where it was printed and bound. But this does not mean that Warner's text is mere stitching to hold the pictures together. Each chapter stimulates thought and provides the information that is required. Many of the translations are Warner's own, with a modern rather than an archaic ring.

His treatment of the individuals is provocative. Pericles, he repeats, led by example rather than by force in an Athens more democratic than anything we have today. Since this was achieved despite the city's acceptance of slavery, perhaps we need to rethink some of our postmedieval criteria. And we see another difference between us and the classical Greeks when Warner emphasizes in the chapter on Aeschylus's plays that the conflict between good and evil, flesh and the spirit were not so absolute, and "the martyr and the rebel were, on the whole, looked upon with distaste rather than admiration."

CALVIN LEE'S SWEET AND SOUR PORK

The chancellor of the University of Maryland (Baltimore campus) is the source of this delightful recipe.

½ pound boneless tender pork, cut in 1-inch cubes
3 tablespoons flour
Oil, for deep-fat frying
¼ cup sliced carrots
Water
¼ cup cider vinegar
5 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1½ teaspoons soy sauce
1 clove garlic, crushed
2 teaspoons cornstarch mixed until smooth with 3 tablespoons cold water
1 slice drained canned pineapple, cut in small wedges
¼ cup thin strips green pepper

Roll pork in flour; heat enough oil for deep-fat frying to 375 degrees; add pork and fry until pork is cooked through and floats — it will not be very brown. Drain. Cover carrots with water and boil 3 minutes; drain. Into a 10-inch skillet turn ½ cup water, the vinegar, sugar, salt, monosodium glutamate, soy sauce and garlic; bring to a boil. Add cornstarch paste and cook and stir until thickened and clear. Add carrots, pineapple, green pepper and pork; cook and stir for ½ minute more. Makes 4 small servings.

Women Are Returning To College

NEW YORK (AP) — Increasing numbers of women between 25 and 55 years of age are returning to college to fulfill academic goals.

John W. Kneller, president of Brooklyn College, said that more than 1,500 women in the 25-55 age group are enrolled in that institution to pursue varied higher education courses.

In many instances the women — some of whom have sons and daughters also in college — are working toward a baccalaureate degree while attending day and evening classes.

"Many women, because of early marriage or economic problems, missed the first chance to go to college in their youth. They need, want and seek an education. We are providing that second start. Furthermore, we find that many marriages have been strengthened when a wife goes to college. Even though it is hard work, the fulfillment of education makes for happier people," Dr. Kneller said.

A survey at Brooklyn College shows that the older woman generally does very well in pursuit of academic achievement. Insofar as grades are concerned, returning women score high, often better than their teen-age counterparts.

"To encourage the older woman to return to college, a variety of special programs, individualized counseling and faculty especially interested and experienced in teaching adults is offered," Kneller added.

"A woman coming back at this stage of her life is very serious about her studies, perhaps more so than the young freshman."

One program gives credit toward an academic degree for life experiences. For example, a student who lived with an Indian tribe received credit for several anthropology courses, and a dancer was given credit for physical education.

Women Interested In Mining

VANCOUVER (AP) — Women are not exactly threatening to elbow out the traditional grizzled prospector but their interest in mineral-hunting is growing.

A third of the more than 150 students who registered for the current prospecting and mining school sponsored by the B.C. and Yukon Chamber of Mines are women, says Thomas Elliot, the chamber's manager.

"We get a lot of women, but this year there seem to be more than usual," Mr. Elliot said. "We're happy to have them all."

Some of the women enroll because they think prospecting is romantic. Others enter because their husbands are enrolled. Another group is taking the course for business reasons and some plan to take up prospecting on a full-time basis.

Mrs. Penny Baughn, a research analyst for a stockbroker, said she is taking the course because it will help her understand mining reports.

Another Vancouver woman who said she didn't want to be identified said she is taking the course because she would like to "go out and stake claims."

The lure of the one big find hasn't entered her mind, but she said with enthusiasm: "I'd really like to go gold panning."

Funnyman Jeers Life

THE FERRARI IN THE BEDROOM. By Jean Shepherd. Dodd, Mead. 269 Pages. $6.95.

Funnyman Shepherd's specialty is the jeer. In this collection he dips into his "Vast File of Trivia," to jeer at some of the absurdities of modern life, particularly in a curious place called Manhattan.

An airline flight on which he speculates about the hippie and the hardhat who were aboard, a zany description of how a television show was filmed and a rumination about cab driving in New York are among his take-off points for flipping out smart cracks.

There is a piece that mocks the Women's Lib idea, and another on motels he has visited, including one fabulous place in snowbound Wyoming, and an item that makes a mockery of the home handyman.

The nostalgia themes include his youthful experience in a gasoline station and his visit, with his father and uncle, to the Indianapolis Speedway.

Shepherd is always amusing, even when he is pressing a little too hard.

The Weeders Guide

By EARL ARONSON
AP NEwsfeatures

Dumbcane, a handsome house plant, will look pretty smart in your home. It isn't fussy, thriving in cool or warm rooms in a clay pot. It is tolerant of dry or humid air, poor or good light. It is an increasingly popular item at the florist or supermarket.

It does very well in a sunny window, shaded from direct rays with a net curtain. Water it regularly and keep it in a 65-70 degree temperature.

To keep its growth straight, [illegible]. When the plant is too big for its first container, transplant it to a larger one. Use a soil mix of equal parts of potting soil, peat moss, sand or vermiculite. Feed it monthly with a soluble plant food.

Dumbcane is so-called because chewing it can cause temporary speechlessness. It is a tropical American foliage plant of the family Araceae, often grown in greenhouses for its attractive leaves. The Dieffenbachia was named for a German botanist.

Ornamental grasses are fairly common in European gardens and could be grown readily in much of this country. They have a good potential for landscape plantings, requiring little care.

"A nice thing about these grasses is that they don't spread like weeds, so they don't take over the garden," a Cornell specialist reports. Mary L. Hochenberry said they can be planted in the background of a flower garden, in a rock garden, or along ponds, streams and perhaps highways.

Cornell tried six of about 80 types in four areas of a municipal parking lot in Ithaca, N.Y., and reported all but a few of the 325 plants flourished despite gasoline fumes, litter and no watering except rainfall.

The plants evaluated ranged in height from six inches to five feet. The smallest grass was dwarf blue fescue; the showiest fountain grass, with long arching leaves forming a mound producing reddish-tan flowering spikes, six to eight inches long, in September and October.

Other types included semi-evergreen sedge grass, switch grass, blue oat grass and maiden grass, the latter used as the central plant in beds because of its 4-6-foot height.

Miss Hochenberry said the perennial types were grown not only for their plumy and feathery seedheads but for variations in foliage color.

Of 70 types studied at Cornell, about 25 are used as dried materials in florist shops. They are generally imported from European countries. The seedheads are usually dyed with bright colors and are popular in fall and winter arrangements.

[illegible] grass, a large clump-forming grass (up to 20 feet) with plumy, white seedheads up to three feet long. It is used extensively in Southwestern United States but isn't too winter hardy in the Northeast.

Succulent plants that dislike moist, cool soil are the thing to grow in a hot, dry area. They do well among rocks, along garden steps, quickly draining hills or near walls or sidewalks.

Experts advise changing the soil to grow them, if necessary, adding old granite chips, sand, pea gravel or perlite, but avoiding organic materials that will hold water and rot roots.

Succulents include semper-vivums (houseleeks and hens and chickens), Euphorbias or spurges, sedums and cactus varieties.

Succulents may be planted at any time of year. Late spring is advised for transplanting to permit establishment before hot weather. For transplanting, cut off offsets and plant. Roots of succulents are shallo, so don't disturb them more than necessary. Fertlize in summer, not in fall, which may delay coloring and hardening.

Decision Changes Fixed ReturnOnLifeInsurance

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The bedrock belief on which the life insurance industry is built, the assured-fixed-precise return, has shifted. Soon you may have the option of accepting your proceeds in variable rather than fixed dollars.

The change, cleared this week by a Securities and Exchange Commission decision, introduces into life insurance the chance of actually earning money on your insurance rather than merely obtaining security and some savings.

The low-risk element is essentially still there, because a minimum return is guaranteed. But because your premiums go directly into stocks, where money should grow, you or your heirs might receive a bonus atop benefits.

At least three fundamental reasons are involved in the industry's decision to at least partially foresake its once-zealous advocacy of the fixed-dollar return:

1. Inflation, or the erosion of dollar values, have made the fixed dollar less and less acceptable.

2. The pressure of competition from equities, such as mutual funds, which tend to ride the crest of inflation — or at least not be submerged by it — make it advisable to offer a more flexible product.

3. A more affluent and educated public, to a great extent freed from insecurities by Social Security, private pensions, group health and life policies, unemployment insurance and the like desires innovative techniques for building estates.

The decision made by the SEC was that while variable life is subject to the same federal registration and information disclosure regulations that apply to securities, it is exempt from federal commission restraints.

While this decision might seem almost meaningless to the consumer, it actually is of great importance. Here's why:

If variable life commissions were federally regulated they would be restricted to not more than 8.5 or 9 per cent of the first year's premiums — a rate that would hardly appeal to insurance salesmen.

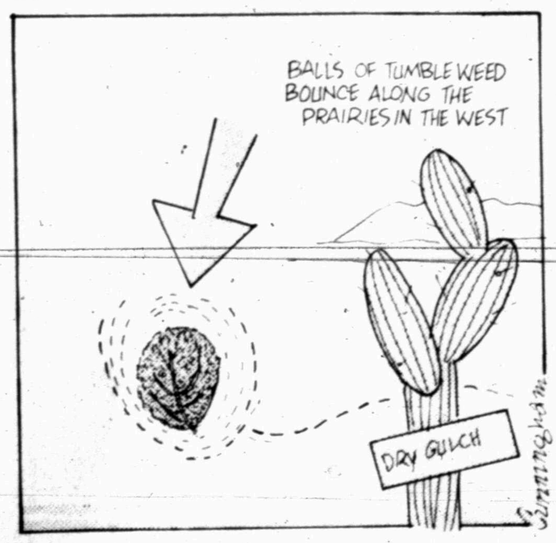

Salesmen of ordinary life now can earn commissions ranging upward from 50 per cent of the first year's premiums paid by the insured.

While the SEC's complete views on commissions have not been made public, some industry officials believe it will recommend that states restrict sales charges to 37.5 per cent, which is the salesman 's return on term insurance.

Junior Editors' Quiz on TUMBLEWEED

QUESTION: What is tumbleweed?

ANSWER: Tumbleweed is the popular name for a number of wild plants that grow in the prairie and plains regions of the United States. Tumbleweed, which is associated with the western United States, includes the Russian thistle, amaranth and witch grass. It is sometimes called pigweed and is considered a pernicious weed by farmers and ranchers because it crowds fields and pastures.

Tumbleweeds develop rounded tops, and in autumn, break from their roots and form a dry tangle. They roll before the wind like light balls, scattering their seeds as they travel along. Sometimes they pile up in mounds against barbed wire fences or fill gullies. After separating from their roots and tumbling around with the wind, they become withered and straw-like in appearance. An interesting attraction to a tourist is the sight of the tumbleweed bouncing across the road. It resembles the thistle of the eastern United States and it is a surprise to see what appears to be a small bush crossing the road. Tumbleweed is a symbol of the west and the word appears in many western songs.

Boyle Jumps To Conclusions

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions: As long as money or power are thought to be the answer to human needs, love cannot be.

If you live long enough, you will see how life moves in circles rather than in a straight line. Everything that has been will be again. Few things or habits die out altogether — from beards on men to short skirts on women. They do not go away forever; their popularity simply waxes and wanes — and waxes again in a further time. Women sure are changing. How long has it been since you saw one with a clothespin in her mouth? Their mouths used to be full of clothespins one day a week. Now their mouths are full of opinions seven days a week.

Crime has to be paid one tribute: it is helping to keep the American family together. People are staying at home more of nights for fear of being mugged in the streets if they leave it.

A woman never feels more womanly than when she is washing and drying her hair; a man never feels more unmanly than when he has to wash his own sox.

A cynic is a guy who saves his box tops for fear that if he mails them away to get something free he'll wind up being stung.

An old-timer is a gaffer who gets to the office late and tells the boss it was because his wife had lost his regular shoe buttoner — and he had a hard time finding the spare one.

Wives with long hair get fewer divorces than wives with short hair. So if you want a marriage that will endure as long as you do, wed a girl whose hair hangs to her knees. She will keep so busy combing and arranging it, she won't have time to get into any other trouble. A third of the men in America would feel better at nightfall if they wore suspenders during the day instead of belts.

Any road without a bend in it will in time seem like a prison or rut. Be thankful then to Providence, for it has seen to it that women and other dangerous curves lie in every man's path, lest it become a highway to boredom.

Lady Is Model At 99

SEATTLE (AP) — Elizabeth Bisson stretched out her 4-foot-11, 94-pound frame and said she thought this business of being a model is just her idea of something with a promising future.

"I like being a model at this stage of my life," she said. "I think I'd like to do more of it."

Elizabeth is 99.

She will be one century old "sometime in September." Friends in the Tehodora Home conducted by the Volunteers of America, already are thinking about a birthday party for her.

Fame reached out to touch Elizabeth when Goodwill Industries, which promotes handcraft by the handicapped, conducted a style show of 19th century costumes at the Theodora.

The producers chose Elizabeth to model an 1872 costume—the year of her birth—with a kind of Empress Eugenie hat and a museum piece handbag to match.

Elizabeth was an immediate hit, and a television company is building a show around it.

Slim, girlish, alert and darling, Elizabeth is impressed but not over-awed about being a one-shot TV star.

Her "debut" was made in a raw silk gown featuring hound's leg sleeves, fitted waistline and bustle back.

"My mother wore gowns not too different from this," she recalled. "This one seems as if it were made just for me."

Charlene Browning, who with her husband, Lt. Col. Ralph Browning, and Col. John Foulkes conducts the Theodora, said:

"This has been remarkable for her. It might prolong her life a long time, she has such enthusiasm."

The home has about 165 occupants and the average age is around 82, Mrs. Browning said.

Of all the occupants, Elizabeth is one who steadfastly refuses any help.

Tighten Import Rules On Steers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department will put into effect March 1 tighter import requirements aimed at preventing the entry of tuberculosis-diseased steers from Mexico.

The tighter rule will require that all steers from Mexico be tested and certified as free of tuberculosis within 60 days of being offered for U.S. entry or else tested and found free of the disease at time of entry.

IN 4-AAAA SHOWDOWN

Plainsmen Host Tigers Tonight

Snyder's Tigers and Lubbock Monterey's Plainsmen square off in the Plainsmen gym in Lubbock at 8 o'clock tonight to decide the first half basketball championship of District 4-AAAA.

Both teams have identical 4-0 records in district play, but the Tigers have a better season record. The Tigers are 19-7 for the season while Monterey is 17-8.

"It'll be a different kind of game than the one with Hereford," said Snyder Coach Bob Moore. "They play more of a control type game. They have a fine defense and good rebounders."

The Tigers also are noted for their defense. They consistently limit their foes to less than 50 points per game. Coach Moore still was undecided about a starting lineup, but says it will be five of the following seven boys: Jerry Brooks, Gary Brooks, Fred Liner, Kevin Jones, Moell Blalock, Welton Cobb or Jimmy Don Dyess. All of them are senior numeral winners. In fact, Liner, the two Brooks brothers and Kevin Jones all are two year lettermen.

Coach Moore also will have the services of several other lads available including senior Charlie Anderson, juniors Tim Jones, Larry Mosier, Richard Gorman and V.T. Roberson and sophomore Larry Johns.

The Plainsmen have more height than the Tigers with 6-7 Dan Irons, 6-5 Joe Davison and 6-5 Troy Goyne in the lineup. The other starters will be Steve Myatt and Blake Christie. Irons is the best rebounder on the team. Mike Hagood or Brent Simpson either one could start in place of Goyne. All of these lads are lettermen.

The Lubbock team will be without the service of Allen Wade, who fractured an arm in the Lubbock game. He is one of the best playmakers on the team and his services will be missed.

In earlier district games, Snyder beat Lubbock 56-35, Plainview 61-42, Coronado 62-44 and Hereford 50-49 while Monterey nipped Hereford 51-49 in overtime, Coronado 39-32, Lubbock 69-47 and Plainview 52-48.

The Tigers' Kevin Jones and Jerry Brooks are averaging 14 points per game and Gary Brooks has an 11-point average.

The program will begin at 4:30 p.m. with the sophomore teams of both schools meeting, followed by a 6:15 p.m. contest between the junior varsity squads.

Probable starters for the sophomores include Geg Gary Sid Perry, Greg Gafford, Danny Brumley and Jurell Riggins. Jim Bartlett is coach of the sophomores. They are 3-0 in district play.

Probable starters for Coach Ken Plumlee's JV squad include Larry Johns, Willie Tippens, Robert Alderete, Roy Lee Carter and Robert Braziel or Larry Mosier. The JV is 3-1 in district play.

Volleyball Team In Tournament

The Snyder High School girls volleyball team, defending state champions in Class 3-AAA but competing in Class AAAA this season, open their slate today in a tournament at Odessa. They and the junior varsity team will be competing Friday and Saturday.

Coach Pam Hess' girls will be at Ballinger Monday. There will be three matches: the sophs at 5 p.m., the JV at 6 p.m. and the varsity at 7 p.m.

Marcia Shields, Penny Jones and Sue Jane Sullivan are captains of the varsity this season.

Rockets Beat Pacers, 97-92

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Alex Hannum, coach of the Denver Rockets, knows what it takes to beat the defending American Basketball Association champion Indiana Pacers.

"One secret to this game," said Hannum, "is ball control. If you can control the tempo, you definitely have a good chance to win."

So Denver controlled the tempo and beat the Pacers 97-92 Thursday night, the sixth victory for the Rockets in eight games against Indiana this season.

In Thursday's only other ABA game, Carolina slugged Virginia 113-98.

In the National Basketball Association, it was Kansas City-Omaha 96, Golden State 96; and Los Angeles 120, Phoenix 106, in the only games played.

Birds Shoot Down Westerners 97-91

New Mexico Junior College slipped past the Western Texas College Westerners 97-91 here last night in a Western Junior College Athletic Conference basketball tilt.

The loss leaves the Westerners with an 11-8 record for the season and a 5-5 conference mark. The Thunderbirds now are 15-7 for the season and 6-4 in conference play.

The Westerners led throughout most of the first half and had a six point lead, 26-20, with 9:34 remaining. New Mexico caught WTC at 32-32 with 6:42 remaining in the first half on a goal tending call against the Westerners, and they went ahead, 35-34 with 5:12 remaining. The vistors were ahead at halftime, 50-47.

The lead changed hands about 10 times in the second half. WTC was ahead 62-61 with 14:16 remaining, but the Thunderbirds went out in front 68-67 with 10:49 left. The score was tied at 71-71 with 8:09 remaining, then the New Mexico team built a 4 point lead, at 85-81 with 3:45 left. They continued to dominate the game in the late stages and built their final six point lead.

New Mexico did a good job of scoring inside, and the Westerners had several "cold spells" during the game when they couldn't seem to hit the basket.

Coach Sid Simpson said: "They played tougher defense and were better on the boards. Our team play was weak in spots particularly late in the game. Our defense must improve if we are to win."

New Mexico held a 58-46 edge in rebounds. Ben Goodwin of the Thunderbirds was the leading rebounder with 19. Teammates Ricky Gibson and Jerry Trujillo each collected 10 rebounds. WTC's Walter Hanibal grabbed 17 rebounds, and Ronnie Allen claimed 14.

The Westerners had four men in twin figures, led by Ronnie Allen, who hit 9 of 13 from the field and finished with 25 points. Hanibal, who netted 8 of 14 from the floor, collected 20 points. Fred Allen, who put in 8 of 21 from the field, meshed 19 points. Steve Sparks put in 13 points, and he connected on 4 of 8 from the floor. As a team, the Westerners hit 43 per cent, sinking 33 of 76. The Thunderbirds sank 37 of 87 for 42 per cent. Ben Goodwin was the leading scorer with 33 points, and he had 11 of 29 from the field. Donnie Jackson posted 27 points, and he hit 13 of 23 from the field. Ricky Gibson had 7 of 15 from the floor and he roped 19 points.

WTC put in 25 of 36 from the line, and NMJC connected on 23 of 31 from the line.

The Westerners meet Amarillo Junior College there Monday night.

LADY BIRD EXECUTOR

Johnson's Will Probated

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Lyndon B. Johnson's will, signed six months before he died, leaves the bulk of his estate to his two daughters and names his widow as executor.

There was nothing in the will to indicate the size of Johnson's estate.

Mrs. Johnson was left all of the former president's personal property and his interest in their household items. Seventeen relatives, friends and employes received individual bequests totaling $81,000.

Johnson's will, dated July 25, 1972, was filed for probate Thursday. He died Jan. 22.

Johnson willed to the LBJ Library at the University of Texas "all of my presidential and other papers, documents, historical materials, mementos, objects of art and other memorabilia, including but not limited to books, motion pictures, still pictures and sound records."

He left $25,000 to LBJ Ranch foreman Dale Malechek and his wife.

Next in size among the individual bequests was $10,000 to a sister, Lucia Alexander of Fort Worth.

Johnson gave about 200 acres of the LBJ ranch to the National Park Service recently for an addition to the LBJ national historic site.

Tom Johnson, no kin but a family spokesman, also issued a statement saying that 3,444 acres of the ranch holdings were sold by Johnson after he left the White House to Frates Properties, Inc., of Tulsa, Okla. The spokesman added that Mrs. Johnson would continue living at the ranch.

In the will, the former president also issued instructions that "all of the rest and residue of my estate" be divided into two equal trusts for his daughters, Lynda Robb and Luci Nugent.

Mrs. Johnson was named to serve as trustee, parceling out income from the trusts to the daughters and their children according to her "absolute and sole discretion."

Each daughter's trust terminates when she reaches age 30, and she will acquire full possession, according to the terms of the will.

Mrs. Robb, who lives in Charlottesville, Va., is 28 and will turn 30 on March 19, 1974. Mrs. Nugent, of Austin, is 25 and will reach her 30th birthday on July 2, 1977.

Johnson specified that if all his descendants should die during the life of the trusts, the property contained in them would go to the Johnson City Foundation.

Most of the Johnson holdings were in the name of family owned businesses, predominantly Texas Broadcasting Corp., which began with Mrs. Johnson's purchase of an Austin radio station with $17,500 from her father's estate in 1943.

Tom Johnson, no kin but a family spokesman and business associate, issued a statement saying Mrs. Johnson expects to continue living at the LBJ Ranch house.

The statement said that in several instances the former president disbursed to his beneficiaries all or part of bequests already established. "The will, as filed for probate, reflects only the balance of the individual bequests remaining at the time of the document's signing. In addition, President Johnson also made provision for and specific gifts to several longtime associates and family members as late as Jan. 12, 1973," the statement said.

Johnson gave about 200 acres of the ranch to the National Park Service recently for addition to the LBJ National Historic Site.

The family spokesman also distributed a statement saying that 3,444 acres of the ranch holdings, in two separate parcels, were sold by Johnson after he left the White House to Frates Properties, Inc., of Tulsa, Okla.

Rex D. Frates, president of the firm, said in the statement that an announcement would be made later about plans for developing the property purchased from Johnson.

Tom Johnson's statement said the Johnson family "continues its ownership and management of the Texas Broadcasting Corp., which owns and operates KTBC-AM-FM-TV (Austin), Muzak, Photo Processors, a 50 per cent interest in Capital Cable Co. (Austin) and other broadcasting interests acquired through a 29 per cent investment in KNTX Broadcasting Co. in Waco, Tex."

KTBC-TV recently was sold to the Times-Mirror Co., subject to Federal Communications Commission approval, for $9 million.

Mrs. Johnson owns 52.8 per cent of the stock in Texas Broadcasting Co. and each of the daughters owns 15.45 per cent, according to a statement made at the time of the sale.

Former Playboy Bunny Testifies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former Playboy bunny Joyce Williams says she did not realize at the time that the man she accuses of handing her a drink allegedly spiked with an hallucinogen was the son of Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif.

Miss Williams, 23, testified Thursday at the trial of Robin Cranston, 24, charged with furnishing and administering a dangerous drug to the aspiring actress.

She said the incident took place in the home of a mutual friend last March 22. David Marcus, who lived in the home, also is charged in the case but has not been arrested. Authorities said he may be living in London.

Three LP record albums by McBride have been released by CHM Records featuring McBride in live performances. The numbers on the records include "Tiptoe Through the Tithers," "Righteous Indignation," and Dear Computer, We Adore Thee."

Price Soars On Meat Byproducts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sure, housewives are paying more for steak and roasts these days, but pity the poor fellow who likes pig brains with his scrambled eggs.

Or a slice of cold beef tongue as a midnight snack. Or homemade oxtail soup. Maybe even a sliver of beef heart.

The Agriculture Department reported Thursday that wholesale prices of such meat by-products, cherished delicacies to many, have soared far more than the run-of-the-mill meats common to most menus.

Pig brains, for example, sold in Chicago last week for $22 per 100 pounds. A year ago brains went for half, $11 a package.

"It's hard to say why byproducts have gone up so fast," a USDA spokesman said. "There is a big export demand, and that's part of it."

Prices for live cattle and hogs are at record peaks, and wholesale beef and pork continue climbing. It all points to higher retail prices later for such things as steak, pork chops, roasts and bacon.

But regular meat prices still are not as outlandishly high as many byproducts. Beef, on an all-cut basis, was 5.6 per cent more expensive last month than in January 1972.

But cow udders were up, $12 per hundredweight compared with $6.50 a year ago. Selected oxtails went for $37 compared with $19.50 a year ago.

Beef livers cost $35.50 per 100 pounds last week, against $21.50 a year earlier. And kidneys were $30 compared with $13.50. Pig lips, sometimes used for homemade scrapple, are selling for $16 per 100 pounds, compared with $11 a year ago.

Much of the byproducts from cattle and hog slaughter goes into pet food.

Other meat byproducts go into human food such as hot dogs, bologna and other cooked sausages. The USDA has proposed a new rule banning such things as beef lips, pig snouts and cheek meat from cooked sausages, but those items currently are still permitted.

CAB Approves Suspension

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas International Airlines has been given permission to suspend service temporarily to Victoria, Tex.

The Civil Aeronautics Board said Thursday the suspension will be in effect as long as Metro Flight Airlines, a commuter service, provides at least four round trip flights a day between Victoria and Houston.

Appointees Face Senate Drilling

By JOHN STOWELL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's appointees to the new Consumer Product Safety Commission will face stern Senate grilling to determine whether they made any secret pledges to the White House.

Members of Congress reacted angrily Thursday to an Associated Press story carrying allegations by a government source.

The official, who asked not to be named, said Republican candidates for commissioner jobs were being asked to give verbal commitments that they would clear significant actions with the Office of Management and Budget.

The White House denied the allegations.

The law creating the five-member commission requires that all budget estimates and recommendations, and legislative recommendations, comments or testimony, be submitted "concurrently" to Congress and the president.

The commission, which has not been appointed, will consist of three Republicans, including the chairman, and two Democrats.

"We will ensure that all product-safety commissioners will testify under oath at confirmation hearings so that we can determine whether or not verbal assurances were requested by the administration or agreed to by the nominees," said Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah.

Moss, a principal sponsor of the law, is chairman of the Senate Commerce consumer subcommittee.

Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., chairman of the House Commerce subcommittee, authored the provision of concurrent budget and legislative recommendations in an effort to make the commission "truly independent" of the White House.

Most regulatory agencies now submit budget requests and proposed regulatory and enforcement actions in advance to OMB, which may stamp its imprint on the final action.

Although Nixon said in signing the commission bill last fall that he hoped the independent budgeting provision did not set a precedent, Rep. Moss said, "I intend it to become a precedent for every independent regulatory commission."

Blind Teacher Wins Court Battle

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP) — A blind teacher who won a Supreme Court battle to get her job back will be able to start teaching English again Monday.

Evelyn Weckerly, 31, will handle five English classes a day, Principal William Hanichen of Mona Shores High School said Tuesday.

Miss Weckerly was fired in 1968 when school officials claimed she could not control her classes. The State Tenure Commission ruled in her favor. The State Court of Appeals reversed the decision, but the Supreme Court ordered her re-instated with back pay.

Phone Rate Hike Approved

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A telephone rate increase which was protested by the federal government and a private telephone company was approved for Southwestern Bell Thursday by the San Antonio city council.

When the rate hike takes effect in 10 days the average residential phone bill will increase by about five per cent, city utilities supervisor Tom Edwards said. Business phone rates will jump just under five per cent.

The action by the council was unanimous.

The federal government, possibly the largest single telephone customer with all its military installations here, spoke against the move in the past. At Thursday's meeting, the move was protested by the San Antonio Telephone Co., known as Santel.

Santel provides "interconnect" systems for business customers who hook into the Bell system.

"This is nothing but a railroad here that we're going through. We are not being given time to study this," K.D. Warfield, Santel president, told the council.

When speakers before the council spoke of their opposition to the hikes, the audience in council chambers applauded.

Bell originally requested a $7.3 million hike annually. The increase approved by the council provides for $4.9 million more in annual revenue.

YE DO ALWAYS RESIST THE HOLY GHOST

Who is this that darkeneth counsel by word's without knowledge?Gird up now thy loins like a man; For I will demand of thee, and answer thou me. Why did God say with men of other tongues and other lips will I speak unto this people; wherefore tongues are for a sign, not to them that believe, 1st. Cor. 14:22.

But for the infidels and sinners; wherefore forbid not to speak with tongues, 1st Cor. 14-39 whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him. Matt. 12-32

For he that speaketh in an unknown tongue speaketh not unto men, but unto God; For NO man understandeth him now beit in the Spirit he speaketh mysteries. 1st Cor. 14-2.

For the manifestation of the spirit is given to every man to profit withal.

Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and perish: For I work a work in your days, a work which ye shall in no wise believe, though a man declare it unto you. Acts 13:41.
Ye stiffed necked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your Father's did, so do ye. Acts 7-51

These Countenances

Upon the shoulders of these mighty men fell responsibility when America needed guidance. Character is the trademark on each face. Of course, they were humble, profound men and their words the golden threads which hold our Democratic system of government together. True Godliness, firm statesmanship and real Americanism is written over their badges. They were firm, steady leaders of the greatest country on earth . . . America. These stalwarts provided leadership all Americans honor and claim heirship to. These three symbols of faith, vision, and forbearance made our country great . . . they are Washington, Lincoln, and Lee. Then Americans, be proud. Attend church and worship God. Thank Him for these Countenances and for every blessing we have in Free America.
