Beatriz Will Ride Red And Gold Float As Queen Of Coronado Fiesta Parade

The beautiful young Pampa woman who will play the coveted role of Beatriz in the Entrada will be queen of the Coronado Top O' Texas Fiesta and will ride in the parade on a beautiful red and gold throne float.

Jimmy Dodge, co-chairman of the Fiesta announced yesterday that the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will build the float in the official Coronado Cuarto Centennial colors of red and gold.

Beatriz will not be the only woman on the float. Surrounding her will be her ladies in waiting who will play roles in the Entrada which will have its Texas premiere in Pampa June 13, 14 and 15.

All this brings up the question asked hundreds of times daily, Who will be Beatriz." Scores of beautiful young women have been nominated for the role, but the casting committee has announced that Beatriz will not be named for at least a week.

She may be either blonde or brunet. She may be married or unmarried, but she will be older than a high school girl. She will probably be in her early or middle twenties. She will be about the same age as Beatriz, wife of Franscisco de Cornado, who stayed in Mexico City while her adventuresome husband made a wild-goose chase over Arizona, New Mexico and Texas in search of the Seven Golden Cities of Cibola which he didn't find.

Beatriz will appear in the first and last scenes of the Entrada. She will wear a $500 dress and will glitter with ornaments and jewelry.

Nominations for the role of Beatriz should be mailed or telephoned to the Roving Reporter of the News who will hand them over to the casting committee which will go into a huddle in about a week and name the lucky young woman. Telephone calls received in the last few days indicate that every young woman in town would feel greatly honored to be chosen for the role.

Friday Foster Fletcher, the photographer, had a field day taking shots of Harold Shadwick, who was chosen for the role of Coronado. Shadwick, descendant of a pioneer Oklahoma governor, is distinctly publicity shy, and would like to play the role without benefit of ballyhoo, but when news of his selection went out over Associated Press wires Friday, 25 newspapers sent requests for pictures which will be sent as soon as possible.

His picture will also be sent to NEA picture service which supplies photographs for hundreds of newspapers all over America.

Mr. Shadwick will naturally be in the parade, and will probably lead the float units.

Two Killed In Mexican Riot

TORREON, MEXICO, May 25 (AP)—Two persons were killed and five wounded tonight in a riot and pistol fight among 300 partisians of Mexico's two leading presidential candidates.

Two of the wounded were Mexican army colonels who have been campaigning for general Juan Andreu Almazan.

The clash occurred on the eve of Almazan's arrival here for a political rally tomorrow which pro-government elements here have threatened to break up.

This agricultural community is a center of one region in which one of president Cardenas' major land distribution programs has been carried out. There are also strong labor factions here.

As they paraded past the local Almazan campaign headquarters, hundreds of supporters of the official government candidate, general Manuel Avila Camacho, began shouting.

The Almazanistas in the building shouted back. Then the paraders began to throw stones. At this point, someone fired a pistol and a furious volley of shots quickly broke out from both sides.

The War Today

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Against the sombre background of the battle in Flanders, President Roosevelt's radio talk tonight (Sunday) on the state of the union—and its preparedness to defend itself in a war-mad world—takes on deep significance.

A tale of horror outmoding all written history is being written there. Irrespective of Franco-British or German fortunes swaying uncertainly in the balance from hour to hour, the unfolding story of that battle gives Mr. Roosevelt an opportunity to point its defense moral for American ears.

And that moral is this: in Poland, in Norway, in Holland, in Belgium, in France and even at sea-girt England a terrible price in blood and treasure has been and is being paid for inadequate readiness for defense.

Just how Mr. Roosevelt intends to state it is a matter of his choice. The facts are plain enough. They heavily underscore the failure even of France, at elbow-touch with arming Germany, to apprehend the full significance and import of the Nazi war preparation or to foresee the powerful war mechanisms that could and would be loosed against her.

Administration leaders have made it clear that the events of actual war in Europe, beginning with the first German "blitzkrieg" in Poland, have destroyed all previous conceptions of national defense needs. That involves not only types of weapons, but the speed with which

Barlow's 'Glmite' Claim Blows Up As Goats Survive Explosion

ABERDEEN, Md., May 25 (AP)—Inventor Lester P. Barlow's claim to a "super-explosive," capable of dealing long-range death by vacuum waves, blew up today, along with his sack of liquid oxygen-carbon "Glmite."

Crestfallen, muttering "I can't understood it," Barlow watched army medical officers inspect a very-much-alive herd of 84 goats—which the inventor had predicted would be killed or stunned by the blast—and report "every animal appears normal."

Goats 200 feet away seemed no more than indignant at the noise.

The "Glmite" test, ordered a week ago but postponed when Barlow refused to proceed on grounds detonation delays had reduced his bomb's efficiency, was made on the army's proving ground here before high-ranking senators and congressmen, army and navy ordnance experts, and newspapermen.

"I'm licked on it," Barlow admitted. "But I had to try it to find out."

A comparison test, with almost the same quantity of TNT, produced virtually the same effect as "Glmite," also no goat casualties.

A third impromptu test, proposed by Barlow, gave him better results, when a six-ounce charge of "Glmite" blew a 60-pound steel plate almost out in the rainy mist. A similar charge of TNT blew the plate about a third of the distance into the air.

Indians And Soldiers Will Battle

Rehearsal Wednesday To Be Spectacular

Wednesday night's rehearsal of the Entrada Coronado promised to be the most spectacular of the week as Jaycees continued rounding up 300 Indians and 200 soldiers.

Director Mark Hamilton will direct the rehearsal with the benefit of a public address system, four assistant directors, four narrators and a script man.

Mr. Hamilton who directs the rehearsal in the manner of a Hollywood film director, promised "a lot of fun" for Wednesday night when, he said, a couple of battles will be rehearsed.

All high school and junior high boys who signed up to be in the Entrada for Harry Kelley are urged to be present; also all persons who have not signed up but would like to get into the cast. It is likely that Wednesday will be the deadline for entering the cast. He emphasized that persons, especially young people, who want to be in the spectacular $100,000 show should be on hand at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night.

Tomorrow night, persons in the Mescian dance scene and in the Katchina dance will practice. Jaycees will be at the gym to sign up Indians and soldiers tomorrow night.

Ernest Cabe, assistant director, will rehearse the Katchina dance in the red brick.

Tuesday night, principals will rehearse. On that night, too, Jaycees will sign up members of the cast.

Senate Urges Law Against Fifth Column

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—Fearing "fifth column" activities like those which undermined Norwegian and Dutch defenses, a senate judiciary subcommittee today approved legislation to checkup on all aliens and punish persons attempting to shake the loyalty of America's defenders.

A provision requiring that approximately 4,000,000 aliens register and be fingerprinted at post offices throughout the country within the next four months was added by the subcommittee to a house-approved bill against subversive activities.

Chairman Connally (D-Texas) said the resulting legislation was essential to the national defense program and that it would be placed before the full judiciary committee Monday.

In general, Connally told reporters, the bill would tighten up present laws dealing with control and deportation of aliens, action to overthrow the government, and distribution of subversive literature.

The house-approved legislation had provided only for finger-printing of all immigrants and foreigners visiting the United States before they embarked for this country.

Connally said this provision, also

School Material Bids To Be Opened Monday Afternoon

Three members of the Pampa school board were out of the city Friday which necessitated postponing of opening bids for common brick and tile and windows for the new school building. New meeting date set by the two members present was for 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

More than a dozen representatives of brick, tile and window companies were present to submit bids at the Friday meeting. They agreed to return Monday rather than let the two members open and tabulate the bids and then submit them to the rest of the board on Monday.

Absent from the city were President C. P. Buckler, who was called to Santa Fe, N. M., V. L. Boyles, who was attending a truck hearing in Austin, and E. C. Sidwell, who was enroute from Tulsa to Pampa but failed to arrive in time for the meeting. Members R. S. McConnell and L. L. McColm were present.

Summer School To Open Here Monday

Summer school for high school students, and for junior high school pupils who will be in high school next term will begin Monday morning and last through July 18, it was announced yesterday. In charge of classes will be Tom Herod, Aubrey Steel, Mrs. H. G. Alexander, and Anna Louise Jones.

The summer school will be open to students behind in credits or grade points. Parents are urged to determine whether their children have enough good grades to pass them.

Classes will be conducted six days a week from 7:30 a. m., until noon. Each period will be 1½ hours in length. Cost of summer school and other information may be obtained at the school.

Graduating students must have 108 grade points and 17 credits.

'Usual Squawks' Filed Says Sadler

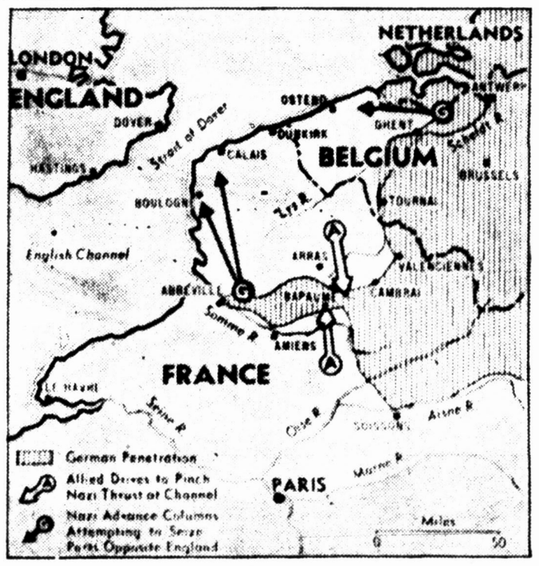

AUSTIN, May 25 (AP)—Despite the huge cut in Texas oil production announced by the railroad commission, member Jerry Sadler today disclosed that along with "the usual squawks" he had received 11 requests for additional reductions of 50 per cent.

The commission order covering June, July and August slashed 98,000 barrels daily off current allowables, a 15 per cent horizontal cut reducing production to 1,335,530 barrels a day and setting the allowable 9,000 barrels under the June U. S. bureau of mines market demand estimate of 1,344,600.

Man Jailed Here In Bicycle Collision

Bond of $1,500 was set here Saturday afternoon for Robert Lee Hand, 21, Skellytown man charged with hit and run driving and failure to stop and render aid in connection with a bicycle-automobile accident near Pampa Friday night.

Hand was charged in a complaint filed yesterday in the court of Justice of the Peace E. F. Young. Sheriff Cal Rose signed the complaint. Late last night Hand had not posted bond and was being held in county jail.

Injured in the accident was the cyclist, W. O. Armstrong, 26, of Goodwell, Okla. Armstrong's condition was reported as "satisfactory" by the attending physician yesterday.

A broken rib, concussion, broken nose, bruises and cuts over the body, and severe facial cuts were suffered by Armstrong. He is in Worley hospital, where he was taken in a Clay ambulance Friday night.

Happened Near Four Corners

The accident occurred at 7 o'clock Friday night on an oiled dirt road, one block south of the Four Corners, west of Pampa.

Both the automobile and the bicycle were headed north at the time of the impact, Sheriff Cal Rose said.

The accident was the second bicycle-automobile crash to have occurred near Pampa in a week. Five days ago a similar accident resulted in fatal injuries to Vernon Scarberry, 15-year-old Pampa boy.

Herman Sander, 14, also of Pampa, was hurt in the same accident.

Day And Night Play Program To Open This Week

Pampa's big day and night play program is scheduled to get under way next week, Jim Edwards, director of the Pampa Recreation program, announced yesterday.

All playgrounds in the city will be closed this week. Equipment for the amphitheatre in Central park will be installed and a five-day training course for instructors conducted by Mr. Edwards.

The playgrounds will be open six hours daily and the lighted amphitheatre three hours each night during the summer. The night events will be composed of a sports program including archery, goalhi, tether ball, ping pong, gopher golf, shuffleboard, box hockey, darts, horseshoes, etc., while the social program will include band concerts, amateur nights, dramatic skits, music festivals, old fiddlers contests, etc.

During the past week competition was especially keen among the boys and girls for the high point honors in playground activities which entitles them to free show tickets to the LaNora theater, donated by Carl Benefiel. The winners at Horace Mann school were, Reba Jo Fagan and Duane Williams. At Baker grounds they were Mary Garvin and Robert Maudlin.

Winner of the spring ladder tournament conducted in ping pong at Baker was Polly Moses. Winner in the spring ladder tournament at Horace Mann in tether ball was Keith Robinson.

Hitler Ready To Destroy Allies, Germany Claims

LONDON, May 26 (Sunday) (AP)—German warplanes were believed to have dropped bombs off the southeast coast of England early this morning but no damage was reported.

In east Kent residents hurried into shelters and basements during an air raid alarm in effect for 105 minutes.

British fighting planes were seen flying out to sea and anti-aircraft guns were heard.

Allied Generalissimo Maxine Weygand ousted 15 generals, including some of France's top-ranking commanders, and replaced them with new faces last (Saturday) night to bolster his hand for the rapidly-approaching showdown with the Germans for mastery of the English channel.

On the German side an authorized source in Berlin declared Germany has trapped and is ready to destroy the entire attack army of France.

Decisive Nazi military operations in the Netherlands, Belgium, and northern France have been accomplished by just one-third of Germany's 5,000,000 first line troops, the source said.

He declared that at present the Reich has 65 per cent of her army still unengaged and will be ready in a few days to take Paris, storm the Maginot line, or invade England.

Seven infantry colonels were jumped to major-generals to replace some of the ousted French commanders. Here's the situation facing them:

Germans Enter Calais

Germans driving northward up the coast entered Calais, 22 miles from England, during the day; others driving westward crossed the Lys river, Belgium's last natural barrier, to tighten the Nazi lock on a million trapped Allies.

Masses of Germans poured toward the sea through the wedge between the Allies' northern forces and the French central army; on its northern side the Nazis occupied Cimy Ridge and other crests northwest of Arras.

On the south side of the Nazi-commanded corridor French troops driving from the Somme reduced from 35 to 20 miles the distance separating them and their imperilled comrades.

The French war ministry acknowledged that the Germans, continuing their rapid advance through the Salient across northern France, had reached the new British-Belgian line in the northwest and occupied

Britain Calls Up Boys To Defend Homes

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, May 25—Britain, jarred into militancy from its centuries-old groove of ease and empire, called tonight upon its peace-born generation, boys of 18 to 19½, to fill the gaps in home defense forces against the danger of invasion.

The war office asked for volunteers from the age groups just under the conscription range after German bombs thumped on Englands soil over a 200-mile stretch of coast and while German guns echoed from just across the channel.

Recruits gathered by tonight's call will have to enlist for the duration of the war in home defense battalions. When they reach the conscription age of 20, however, they will be transferred to training units for service in the field army, wherever it may be. Now it is fighting with the French and Belgians in Flanders.

The volunteers for home defense battalions are distinct from the thousands who are enlisting as "parashoots" to defend Britain against parachute invaders.

100 Scouts Will Attend Lake Camp

More than 100 Boy Scouts of the Adobe Walls council will trek to Lake Marvin in Hemphill county today for the opening week of the annual Scout camp. The new site is on ground given the council by the Hemphill county commissioners court.

A second group of more than 100 boys will attend the camp beginning next Sunday. Nearly enough boys have registered for a third week and already boys are asking that a fourth week be held. Scout Executive Fred Roberts announced yesterday that if as many as 75 Scouts registered a fourth week of camp will be conducted.

A new water supply, new tests and new achievement work material is already on the ground for the boys.

Englishman Saw French Go Mad At Horrible Bombing Of Boulogne

LONDON, May 25 (AP)—An Englishman who witnessed this week's fighting at Boulogne told tonight of being taken aboard a British destroyer while its guns thundered defiance to German troops swarming into the French city.

The witness, Frederick Brinjes, a business man, said the ancient, sunny city across the channel had become a shell-rocked, bomb-spattered trap for thousands of refugees.

Brinjes, brought home to England aboard the destroyer, declared "no journey ever seemed so good to me."

He told of spending two nights at the maritime station in Boulogne where thousands of hysterical men, women and children waited to get out of the city.

They were without water. There were no sanitary facilities, machine-gun bullets rattled in the streets.

"There must have been many killed," he said. "I don't know how many. I know there were hundreds wounded and I saw many going mad."

Brinjes reached Boulogne Wednesday afternoon.

"The street to the station was black with people,' he said. "It took me two hours to fight my way through the crowd.

"Everytime a bomb went off the women would scream,' Brinjes related. "No one tried to stop them."

Many soldiers who had fought in local engagements in the previous several days were in the station, he

The report said the paintings were loaded into trucks which set out for France over the bombed and refugee-clogged roads of Belgium. Should the United States keep out of war?

Shall we back the President or oppose him?

Is the Governor right or not?

What about the city water department profits?

What about a storm sewer system for Pampa?

What about a community auditorium for Pampa?

There are hundreds of public questions at all times that vitally concern our readers. None of them can be satisfactorily answered without study and previous knowledge and long experience in public affairs.

This is America. And, in America, a newspaper as well as a citizen dares to express a candid, honest opinion even though it may differ from that of those temporarily in charge of a unit of our representative system of government.

That is the greatest single thing in the American System—everyone is free to criticize. Every citizen has his constitutional right to his opinion and the privilege of expressing it—and present day Americans would die for that right just as willingly as did their forbears.

The safety and the strength of this blessed privilege of freedom is proven by 150 years of severest trial as America today stands unswervingly true to the founding tradition—a land ruled by the combined reason of free citizens in a democracy and not by the will of any individual or powerful central group.

In a land ruled by reason it is safe for everyone to speak his opinion freely. For, if an opinion will not stand under the glare of a combined public intelligence of millions of citizens it cannot gain acceptance and will soon be quickly shoved aside.

Nearly all important questions have two sides. A newspaper, due to organized, time-tested methods of news and information gathering, can gain access to facts that are available to the average citizen. A newspaper in America doesn't have to accept censored sheets of inspired news and propaganda from a central headquarters that admit to have only one side of that question. American newspapers are free to do their fact-finding—a fact in itself that has deep-rooted social security value. Freedom of the press means just that.

Sound editorial opinion on any question in America or any where can come only from well-rounded judgement that is based upon access to all available facts. And, it can come then only through a process of mental crystallization that is a part of true editorial competence.

That is the service to the public of the principle of Freedom of the Press. That is the public service of the honest, fearless newspaper. Such a newspaper seeks always to render that kind of public service. Such a newspaper renders the service of crystallization of all the facts and misfacts into editorial opinions that so far as is humanly possible are trustworthy guides to individual readers and citizens.

On the editorial page of The Pampa News you will find daily such opinions. These opinions can be changed if they are proven wrong. But it is on the strength and virility of this very heart of a good newspaper that a newspaper as an institution of service survives the cycles of local and national political administrations as they come and go down through the years—and there are newspapers in America that are now more than a century young.

IN THE EDITORIALS AND SPECIAL COLUMNS ON THE EDITORIAL PAGE OF THE PAMPA NEWS YOU DAILY FIND OPINIONS, CONVICTIONS AND JUDGEMENTS ON LOCAL, NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS THAT ARE BASED ON OUR EDITORIAL CRYSTALLIZATIONS AFTER CAREFUL WEIGHING AND BALANCING OF FACTS AND MISFACTS ON MANY OF OUR COMMON PROBLEMS AND INTERESTS.

Seniors Told Salient Marks Of Education

Abilities that mark the educated person, regardless of conventional college degrees, were outlined to the Pampa High school graduating class at the commencement program held Friday night in the high school auditorium, in an address by Dr. M. A. Nash, president of the Oklahoma College for Women, Chickasha, Oklahoma.

These abilities were listed by the speaker as the ability to read, to write so that one could not be misinterpreted, to listen so as to evaluate what is said, to exercise some skill indicative of muscular and nervous coordination, to think in terms of quantity and quality.

"Those who are good money makers are those who can think in terms of quantity. There are persons who can look at this stage and tell you the number of square feet on the floor. There are others who can look at an oil well and tell its possible production."

In explaining the ability to exercise some skill, Dr. Nash mentioned the art of stage decorations, cooking, carpentry, farming, and signing.

Speaking of the ability to think in terms of quality, the speaker said this meant the ability to tell right from wrong, to make decisions.

He urged the class to be optimists, foresaw no dismal future ahead, praised schools as the most democratic institution of the most democratic nation in the world, and called the friends one made one's greatest resource.

Sone Introduced Speaker

Dr. Nash was introduced by L. L. Sone, superintendent of the Pampa Independent School district.

The program opened with the processional, with the high school orchestra playing Wagner's "Tannhauser." Invocation was by the Rev. Robert J. Snell, pastor of St. Matthew's Episcopal church of Pampa.

A mixed quartet sang Tosti's "O Voice of Music."

After Dr. Nash's address, Supt. Sone and Doyle F. Osborne, high school principal, presented diplomas to the 127 graduates with special honors to Ellen Keough, valedictorian, Martha Orr, salutatorian, and Bobby Dan Lane, highest ranking boy. Joycelyn Jackson was the winner of the best girl citizen award.

Returning to their seats after crossing the stage to receive their diplomas, the seniors sang "Dear Old Pampa High School."

The Rev. Buford A. Norris, pastor of the First Christian church of Pampa, delivered the benediction and the high school orchestra played as the recessional, the "Triumphal March" from Verdi's "Aida," concluding the program.

A thousand persons attended the commencement.

Other Top O' Texas points represented in the graduating class are Borger, Panhandle, Shamrock, and White Deer.

Borger: Eileen Clair Crosby, B. A. English; Margaret Louise Looman, B. B. A., business administration; Emerson R. McGee, B. S., civil engineering.

War Refugee Goal Raised-- $956 Donated

Over the goal yesterday went the drive of the local Red Cross chapter in raising a total of $956 in the national campaign for the relief of war refugees in Europe.

Although the subscriptions totaled $76 more than the quota set the Pampa chapter, those in charge of the local drive do not intend to stop their efforts until an even greater amount has been obtained.

This is in response to the plea of the midwestern office, St. Louis, imploring chapters to oversubscribe their quotas as the need for the Red Cross services to war refugees continues to mount. Over the nation, the goal of $10,000,000 had been set as the immediate need.

No Revolution Brewing, Avers Mexican General

MEXICO, May 25 (AP)—General Felipe Rico, chief of staff of the war department, reported today that confidential army missions had just returned from inspection tours to every state in the republic with word that there was no evidence a "large-scale revolutionary movement" was brewing.

On the contrary, General Rico asserted, the officers comprising the missions said the people at large indicated they would support the pro-government candidate, General Manuel Avila Camacho, because he represented continuation of President Cardenas' progressive administration.

In an interview, the chief of staff also minimized the possibility that a "fifth column" of Nazi-Communist agents could foment a serious disturbance of Mexico's internal peace.

General Rico, who is in charge of the war department's military intelligence division, agreed that agents "of all powers" were active in Mexico because of the "strategic importance" of the nation's proximity to the United States and to the Panama canal.

But he insisted that the army had the situation "fully under control and that there is no concern that any of this activity will reach the point of endangering the United States or any other country in this hemisphere."

"The future of Mexico is linked with the future of the United States and of the other American nations," he declared.

It was learned the military intelligence division had several alleged German-Russian operatives under surveillance, but that none had been apprehended.

In discussing the army's determination to check any foreign inspired uprising in Mexico, General Rico also emphasized that the army was "united behind and loyal to the government" and could be relied upon to discharge any task that might confront it this summer.

Concurring in the widespread opinion that the July presidential elections might be followed by armed disturbances, General Rico declared that if they occurred they would be "sporadic and quickly crushed."

Three Youths Held In House Burglary

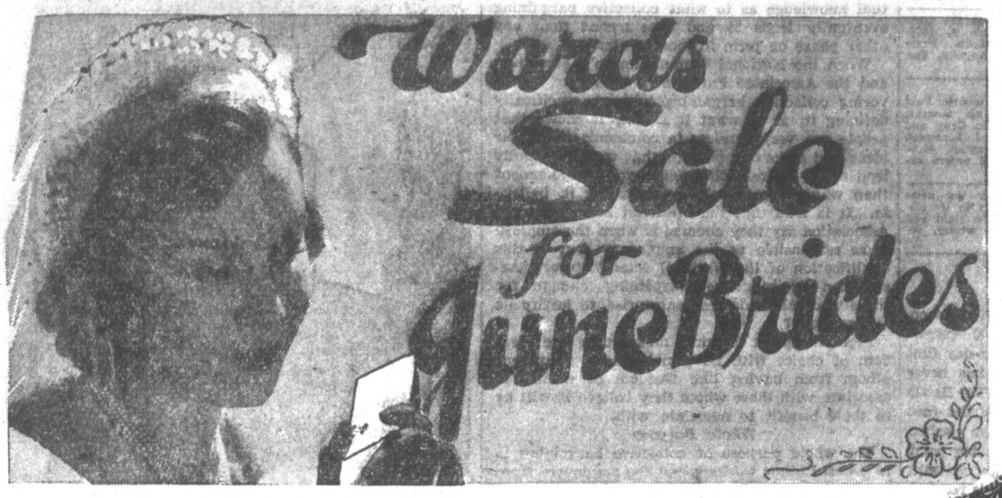

A charge of burglary was made against Loress Garrison, 18, C. D. Laminack, 19, and a 16-year-old boy, in a complaint filed in the court of Justice of the Peace E. F. Young here Saturday, signed by Ray Dudley, Pampa policeman.

The three are charged in alleged connection with the breaking into a house of Mrs. E. L. Tarpley on May 23, with intent to deprive Mrs. Tarpley of corporal personal property, in the language of the complaint.

No arraignment of the three had been held nor bond set late yesterday. The case is to come before the grand jury which will convene Monday, according to County Attorney Joe Gordon.

Officer Dudley recovered two rifles, a pistol, a radio and several tapestries.

Officers were told that among the loot taken during past months were two rifles, a pistol, 72 milk bottles, a camera, blankets, knives, forks and spoons from local cafes, pen and pencil sets, electric clocks, etc. He said that a cabinet size radio had been removed from White's Auto store and another from Tarpley Music store. He also said that at least 25 cars had been looted.

Civilization Aflame

Save for the early days of September, 1914, when, their backs to the wall before Paris, 1,000,000 Frenchmen defeated 1,500,000 Germans in the four-day first Battle of the Marne, the civilized world has never known a period such as the last two weeks. The Battle of the Marne proved the decisive battle of the first World war. And now millions of men have clashed in a decisive combat that may reach a turning point even as this sentence is read—or may go on until millions are dead and a civilization aflame is reduced to the ashes of a new Dark Age. If the battle goes against the Democracies, all that human enlightenment has striven for in Europe—freedom, respect for law, sanctity of covenants, decent standards of living for the masses—may be washed away in the blood bath that is soaking the soil of the stricken low countries.

Dead David Harum

David Harum is dead. So are his times and his age.

When David and his kind traded horses, those were the days of freedom. It was up to the buyer to beware. If the horse turned up spavined and lame the day after the sale, the buyer was stung. But the horse did not kill him, nor did it kill anybody else.

New Rochelle, N. Y., has found that second-hand cars are different from second-hand horses. A high school student bought one, with defective brakes. It killed him. Within a matter of hours, the city council, according to the American Municipal Association, had passed an ordinance forbidding sale of cars not mechanically sound.

Infringement on freedom? Of course. But infringement made necessary by new times, new ways. In a thousand ways we see this principle acting throughout our complex society.

MAKING POVERTY — NEW DEAL POLICIES CRUSHING NATION

(Los Angeles Examiner)

William S. Knudsen, president of General Motors Corporation, said optimistically at a newspaper convention in New York the other day that:

"This idea of having everybody get poor so nobody can get rich is not going to work in the long run."

Mr. Knudsen is perhaps TOO optimistic.

The idea is working all too well,—or rather too badly,—but PERMANENTLY.

And, as a matter of fact, it is working not only in the long run but NOW.

An increasing number of our people are losing their employment and their life savings every day.

An increasing number of them are being thrown out of useful, self-supporting jobs in overtaxed and even taxed-to-death industries.

An increasing number of them are losing their opportunities for independent livelihood in industries harassed and stifled by unnecessary and purposeless and costly strikes.

An increasing number of them are going on relief, and thus joining the ranks of the very poor and sharing and contributing to their poverty.

And of course relief is becoming more difficult to provide and get, because relief comes from taxes, and taxpaying industries and people are becoming fewer and fewer and those surviving are becoming less and less able to pay taxes.

Of course the idea of "making everybody poor" can work, does work, and IS working—most destructively.

For eight years, the New Deal Government has been creating poverty and making people poor, perhaps not intentionally so but really so nevertheless.

Now the New Deal wants four more years to go on doing what it has been doing.

The New Deal will never do anything else than spend and borrow and ruinously tax the people, because it neither knows anything else nor is willing to try anything else.

If we continue to have the New Deal, we will continue to have more and more unemployment and higher and higher taxes and bigger and bigger deficits and debts.

What do these things add up to except more and more poverty and more and more poor people?

The New Deal makes taxes, debts and unemployment.

Taxes, debts and unemployment make poverty.

What is more natural and inevitable than that continued destruction means eventually TOTAL destruction, and therefore total poverty?

If by "getting rich" Mr. Knudsen means security in useful employment, security in adequate wage and security in home and family, millions of our people are already completely deprived of these things.

As far as they are concerned, the idea of "making everybody poor" has certainly worked.

THE ORIGINAL SIN

Los Angeles Examiner—By Benjamin de Casseres

"We wish to inform your noble magnificence, beloved of God, that we have received a letter from his magnificence, Lord Samuel, that he personally invites you and us at one and the same time to approach our most esteemed Governor to get his help. For they caused us and you serious distress and we are unable to bear the burden of such taxation."

That was written 1251 years ago, according to Professor Kraemer of Washington Square College, New York. It is in Greek and is a petition to the Governor of southern Palestine to lay off on the eternal racket of all old dealers and new dealers—taxation.

Taxation is, I believe, original sin and not Eve's apple or the serpent. The first politician among our hairy, breech-clouted ancestors collected a tax from every one that he could reach at the end of a club.

In history rising taxes and a decrease in human liberties have always gone hand-in-hand.

Behind The News

WASHINGTON, May 25—A nice, gloomy note for the taxpayer in connection with the preparedness program is the fact battleships are going to be even more expensive if they are actually to be made airplane-proof along the lines suggested by Secretary of the Navy Edison.

Naval experts have figured it would take a protective shell of 7½ inch armor plate to render a battleship invulnerable to the latest type of 2000-pound bomb. Not only will that kind of sheathing be expensive, but applying it as a standard thing would practically mean starting from scratch and building a lot of new vessels. Existing ships just couldn't carry the weight.

That, in turn, would mean battleships much larger than any now in existence. Some navy people are talking about ships of 60,000 or 70,000 tons, at costs estimated around $125,000,000 apiece.

Existing craft could be given shields that would protect them adequately from small bombs and that would cut down casualties from flying splinters and stray bits of gear. But these couldn't, say the experts, get 100 per cent protection.

BIG BATTLESHIPS GOOD NEWS?

Just to show you the scale in which some people are viewing the defense program for the next decade—it is being argued in some quarters that these $125,000,000, turtle-backed battle wagons actually come under the head of good news for the American people.

The argument goes like this: nobody on earth could afford to build that kind of ship except Uncle Sam. It might almost break him, but he could do it; and since nobody else could, he would presently have the only airplane-proof battle fleet in all the world and hence would be undisputed lord of the seas.

C. I. O. CLEAVAGE OVER COMMUNISTS MAY GROW

Martin Dies' demand that John L. Lewis "make known there is no place on American soil for agents of foreign powers" by ridding the C. I. O. of Communists highlights a sharp cleavage that has been developing within the C. I. O. ever since last fall.

This cleavage has not come to an open break, and may not do so. Further, it is concerned with other issues in addition to the question of Communism. But it has become of increasing concern to friends of the labor movement, and with the present emphasis on "fifth column" perils it is likely to become wider rather than narrower.

In effect, the C. I. O. today is divided into two groups. One is headed by Lewis himself, the other by Sidney Hillman, head of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers.

The Hillman faction wants to purge Communists from the C. I. O., but Lewis has successfully resisted.

It is easy to misconstrue Lewis' position. He certainly is no Communist, nor is he, as is sometimes loosely asserted, "under Communist domination."

Some of his recent pronouncements on isolation, the New Deal and the need for co-operation among all left-wing groups may jibe with the party line; yet his friends say Lewis stands where he always did and that it is the Communists who are following his line, not vice versa. But, in any case, the practical effect is that the C. I. O. leaders who are fighting the Communists and the party line are, at the moment, fighting Lewis also.

COLLECTIVE BARGAINING IS COLLECTIVISM

There is probably more confusion and less actual knowledge as to what collective bargaining eventually leads to and thus means than any other phase or term in modern times.

When the National Manufacturers' Association and the Associated Farmers go on record as favoring collective bargaining without specifically defining it, as to what it means, it shows that people are very careless in communicating their ideas and endorsing phrases that may eventually lead to an entirely different form of government than what those carelessly endorsing it, believe in. It is true that the National Manufacturers' Association say they endorse it when the employe is as responsible as the employer. But is this qualification of the National Manufacturers' Association of collective bargaining enough for those who believe in free enterprise, to justify its endorsement?

Free enterprise certainly means complete freedom of choice with no combinations to prevent others from having like freedom of choice to associate with those whom they believe it will be to their benefit to associate with.

Whole Purpose

The whole purpose of collective bargaining is to prevent other workers and the employers from having equal freedom of choice to exchange the product of their enterprise as they see fit. In other words, collective bargaining, as used from a labor standpoint, is the exact antithesis of free enterprise. It is, in reality, collectivism in embryo. When it is expanded to include all people it means statism, i.e.: a rule either by the majority of those in the group or those who grab control and keep it by intimidation or by force, by depriving the majority of their freedom. It means that those who get control of the absolute essentials will have the right, by majority to prevent other people from entering this field. This would mean that they would make slaves of all those outside of the industries; that the majority would determine how many dare enter any field and how they dare learn and what they must be paid.

The Dangerous Approach

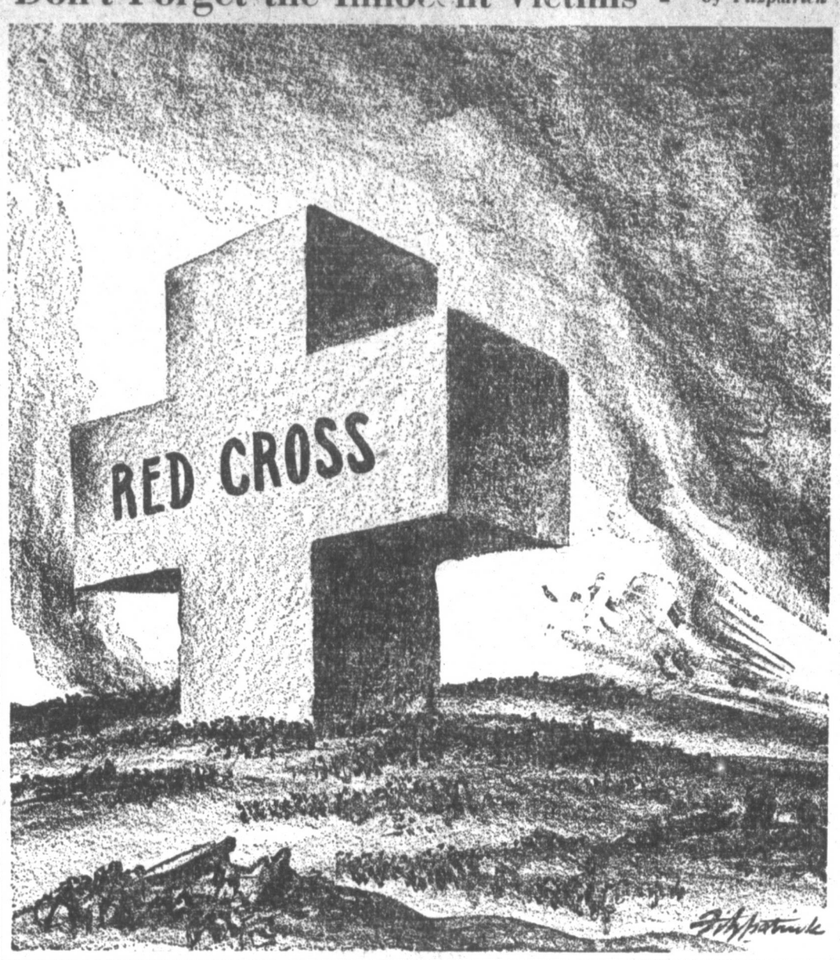

Certainly, there is little danger of collectivism and statism in the United States coming with one swoop, or instantaneously, because the people of America have had enough taste of freedom to resent regimentation and complete domination over the lives by the state.

But the danger comes in an insiduous form, creeping over us unawares, step by step, so the great mass of people do not realize what is taking place. In other words, it evolves on us as all changes do, by unemployment resulting in poverty, in misery and in suffering and so disheartens us that we do as they did in Germany, in Spain and in Italy—substitute a dictator for free enterprise.

Certainly collective bargaining is an embryo of collectivism. It has grown into it in other nations and it will grow into it in this nation, unless people of foresight and courage throw light on how collective bargaining eventually leads to collectivism, or statism.

The columns of this newspaper are open to the National Manufacturers' Association, the Associated Farmers, the labor leaders, the politicians, the preachers, the educators, or any man who has any semblance of consistency, to refute these charges and to give evidence that collective bargaining is not collectivism in embryo.

Don't Forget the Innocent Victims - by Fitzpatrick

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, May 25—All over the lot: The last scenes to be filmed for "The Life of Knute Rockne" will be those in which the famed Four Horsemen are represnted—if, indeed, they are identified at all. One of the former players is holding out for a lot of money.

Before the picture was begun, 27 former Notre Dame football players were asked for permission to use their names and a few highlights from their university careers. Twenty-six answered immediately, said they'd be glad to do it for Mrs. Rockne, for the memory of Rock, and for the school. The other guy wouldn't answer at all, even when Notre Dame wrote and wired him. Finally he engaged an agent, who went to the studio and asked for $5,000.

That's where the situation stands at this writing, with the Warner Brothers madder than hops. They don't feel like forking over $135,000 for the privilege of mentioning the names of 27 football players and hiring actors to impersonate a few of them in a few scenes. But the movie-makers also hoped that this would be one picture which wouldn't require a title note claiming that "Any resemblance of characters to persons living or dead is purely accidental. . . ."

PUTS CARTOON CHARACTERS WITH REAL PEOPLE

With Walt Disney devoting his talents to features and allowing his short subjects to sag under artistic emphasis which neglects story values, I'm becoming still more of a fan for the Looney Tunes and Merry Melodies of Leon Schlesinger. The producer is one who believes that cartoons should be made for laughs.

I've just previewed a Porky Pig and Daffy Duck vehicle called "You Ought to Be in Pictures" which is the first film in more than 20 years, so far as I know, to combine cartoon characters with real people. Of course the effects are many times better and different than away back in the days of the "Out of the Inkwell" series.

This isn't a series, anyway. Schlesinger never does a stunt more than once. It deals with the ambitions of Porky, who decides he'll quit cartoons for higher dramatic art—maybe as Bette Davis' leading man.

He trots into Schlesinger's office, gets a release from his contract, drives to Warner's studio, eludes the gateman, crashes a busy sound stage, is tossed out on his ear and after some further disillusionments finds himself back at his old job and glad to be there.

All these things happen with the hand-drawn characters of Porky and Daffy mingling with normally photographed people and backgrounds. The process is too tricky for description.

FANCY CHICKENS ALL RIGHT—TO EAT!

There's a story of an executive who's a chicken fancier and who imported six rare birds from China at a cost of about $500. The crate was delivered to the studio, and a gateman directed it to the commissary. The chickens were pretty bedraggled from the long trip, so a kitchen helper noticed nothing unusual about them when he opened the crate and prepared them for the next day's bill-of-fare.

Those pink banks of blossoms will get your minds off the war or any other troubles you may have. . . . The juvenile baseball players in the Cook addition have not yet become reconciled to the building of the house on the vacant lot south of W. A. Bratton's house. That had been their playground for several years, but those who have an eye for civic beauty are glad that a house is at last going up on the lot. . . . Speaking of the Cook addition boys, three who are always busy as bees and are always building something are the Fatheree boys. LOVE, COURTSHIP AND MARRIAGE

WEIGH THE RESULTS CAREFULLY BEFORE 'CONFESSING ALL'

By ERNEST R. and GLADYS H. GROVES

Noted Authorities on Marriage Relations

"Shall I confess?" is one of the most troublesome, yet one of the simplest, questions that can plague a man or woman in love. "If I tell, I may be jilted; but if I don't tell, I shall be miserable," goes the tale.

Exactly. If you don't tell, you will be miserable. Then what about the misery of your sweetheart if you do tell? You will be putting your burden off onto somebody who is not responsible for it, and doing this in the name of love.

You say you won't feel honest or loyal to your lover unless you tell whatever it is that is troubling you. But does not the greater honesty lie in admitting to yourself that you crave the emotional thrill of confessing, even at the cost of destroying your lover's peace of mind? If you are truly loyal, will you not seek your lover's best interests?

Dr. and Mrs. E. R. Groves

The question then becomes, "What is for the best interest of my lover?" Now we must inquire as to the hidden fact that is begging to be told.

If it is something that, in itself, may affect the success of the marriage, there is no room for doubt. It must be told.

The case of the woman who hid from her fiance the fact that she had been seriously ill with tuberculosis illustrates the need of confessing whatever the other person would benefit from knowing. When her marriage was followed within a few months by her having to go to a sanatorium for an extended stay; the husband justifiably felt he had been grossly deceived.

A closed chapter.

What is over and done with, a closed chapter that will not have any meaning for the proposed marriage, may well remain the exclusive property of the person wondering whether to confess. But what the person needs to know should be told promptly, that he or she may be free to make a new decision as to the question of marrying.

I wish you would place this letter before the people so I can learn if they wish to go along with me on the gas rate reduction matter in Pampa. It will take a nice sum of money to get the job done inasmuch as a lawyer will have to be hired to present the case. With everybody helping it will not be hard on anyone. I will do all I can but that is not enough. I must have some help.

This move is to the interest of everyone, so those who wish to contribute to the fund send along whatever you wish from a 10-cent piece on up. It will be appreciated by me and I trust that I can be able to render you a service that will reduce your gas bill one-half. I will do all I can for you as I have done in the past. Contributions can be sent to me (Lloyd Purvis) in care of the Adams Hotel, Pampa. The money will be used to defray expenses as I deem necessary to give this gas proposition my very best attention. Send checks, stamps or money order or bring your contribution in person to me at the Adams Hotel.

Yours for the people,

ARE WE MEN OR MICE?

The big push appears to be on to frighten us into war. As in 1917 the hysteria is in high and in high places. "Every acre" of the Western hemisphere is in danger. And so forth.

Are we men or mice? Are we going to be scared into another World war?

This column is for Western Hemisphere defense and for whatever sea and air forces are necessary—with a good factor of safety. Let us not twiddle our thumbs as England and France have done, and then expect us to liquidate their folly.

But before we get yellow around the gills, let us take counsel of our courage, and of the facts of modern war. Hitler has done an astonishing job so far against nations which were asleep at the switch. But Germans are still nothing but men less than six feet tall. They are neither gods or magicians. Their guns are still made of steel and their planes still burn gas. Let's not get fooled on some elemental facts. Blood and iron are formidable but blood without iron is nothing.

Modern wars are fought with metals and mineral fuels. Political boundaries may shift but mineral deposits do not. This, and the facts following come from "The Mineral Map of Europe," just off the press, compiled by Theron Wasson, one of the leading geologists of the world.

By a supreme effort, by five years of guns without butter, Germany has made an impressive showing—so far. But she is not ready to jump the Atlantic.

The facts are that Germany is deficient in nearly every natural resource necessity to sustain a long war. She can make plans, but not petroleum. Of the three most important war resources—iron, coal and petroleum—she has a surplus only of coal. Her iron ore is so low grade that in other countries mines like hers would not even be worked. For iron she must now depend chiefly on Sweden. She had two routes to Swedish iron. One by salt water from Narvik. That is now cut off and is not likely to be reopened. The other is the Gulf of Bothnia which is blocked by ice in all but a few months of the year.

Germany is deficient in iron, petroleum, aluminum, copper, lead, manganese, antimony, magnesite, pyrite, asbestos, mercury, mica, lumber, leather, cotton, rubber, gold. She is not only deficient, but in some, like rubber and cotton, she had none whatever.

And besides metal for her guns she needs food for her soldiers and civilians.

Before we turn yellow let us compare Germany and the United States with respect to petroleum—an absolutely indispensable necessity for gasoline, without which bombers are grounded, and for fuel oil, without which submarines are anchored.

Greater Germany which now includes Poland, Czechoslovakia and Austria, produces 5,609,000 barrels of petroleum annually. She is short 47,620,000 barrels. That is, she has to get from outside Germany nine barrels out of every ten that she has to have. (And, of course, in war her consumption increases terrifically). Where is she to get these vital nine barrels, either to carry on protracted war in Europe, or to fly across the Atlantic?

Rumania and Russia are her only sources of supply now available. Suppose she got the entire surplus of these countries. Add them together. The United States produces 11 times as much as the total. And our gasoline and fuel oil is on our side of the Atlantic and her supply is on the other side of the Atlantic.

The United States produces 61 per cent of the petroleum of the entire world. And there is more in Mexico and South America. The result is that if Hitler gets his hands on every oil well in Europe, Africa and Asia, we in the Western Hemisphere would still have—on our side of two oceans—twice as much war fuel as Hitler on the other side of these oceans!

And Mr. Ickes to the contrary nothwithstanding, our known petroleum reserves are now greater than at any time in history. Besides, we have the finest industrial plant and transportation system in the world to get our petroleum into the gas tanks of our bombers and fighters.

Facts versus fright is so important that I shall discuss it further in my next piece. If we are men and not mice, no combination of dictators need scare us into war. But they should scare us into being prepared for war.

Citizens Clash With Santone Pacifists

SAN ANTONSO, May 25 (AP)—Police were kept busy today quelling clashes between war-jittery citizens and members of a pacifist religious sect.

Radio cars and patrol wagons were rushed to several sections of the city as crowds of angry folk attempted to prevent the sale of literature attacking organized religion and militarism.

The first outbreak occurred when crowds cornered pamphleteers in a downtown parking lot. They were rescued by police and taken to headquarters.

PAMPA'S NEW BANK TO OPEN FOR BUSINESS TOMORROW

Trim and well-lighted, Pampa's new bank, the Citizens Bank & Trust company, 123 W. Kingsmill will be open for business tomorrow. This view shows the interior of the bank, looking toward the rear. White walls and ceiling a beige and bronze linoleum covered floor, and six 40-watt fluorescent lights, make the interior as bright as day. There are five teller's windows along one side of building, with two executive offices partitioned off at the rear. The bank is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation, has a capitalization of $75,000, and is headed by S. C. Evans as president.

Blalock Sees No Trouble At Convention

DALLAS, May 25 (AP)—Myron G. Blalock of Marshall, head of the Garner for president organization in Texas, said in a statement tonight that "troublemakers and extremists" in the Democratic convention at Waco Tuesday will be "brushed aside."

His statement follows:

"On the eve of the state convention, it can be definitely stated that an overwhelming majority of the delegates have been instructed for and will insist upon the following program:

"1. A ringing endorsement of President Roosevelt and the achievements of the Roosevelt-Garner administration.

"2. A reaffirmation that this has not been and is not an anti-Roosevelt or stop-Roosevelt movement.

"3. A representative delegation of Texas Democrats to Chicago instructed to work and vote for John Garner for the Democratic nomination for the presidency.

"This is the harmony program heretofore agreed upon by close friends of both President Roosevelt and Vice-President Garner and leaders of their respective organizations in this state.

"The extraordinary political situation resulting from the war is upon us and the convention will insist upon this harmony program. The troublemakers and extremists will be brushed aside and those who would muddy the waters by bringing up collateral issues during these last hours will be ignored.

"This campaign is no exception to the rule that 'band wagon jumpers,' although few in number, seek to make the headlines by startling announcements and cunning maneuvers and by attempting to create dissension and misunderstanding among the delegates during the last days of the campaign.

"In this connection, I want to state at this time that Mayor Tom Miller and Edward Clark, titular heads of the third term movement in Texas, and Mr. Alvin Wirtz have, in a fine way, lived up to the spirit and the meaning of the agreement reached as a result of the Sam Rayburn-Lyndon Johnson telegrams from Washington and it has been a pleasure to work with them. They have cooperated with us and we have cooperated with them towards the successful prosection of the wise and agreeable program urged upon us by friends at Washington who hold the confidence of President Roosevelt and Vice-President Garner, and which program we accepted in good faith at our meeting in Austin before the precinct conventions."

Allies Will Win War Says Wes Izzard

Prediction that Hitler's lightning war in Europe will fizzle out and that the Allies eventually will win the war was made by Wes Izzard, Amarillo radio news commentator, in a talk before the Kiwanis club at their Friday luncheon at Hotel Schneider.

"History proves to us," Mr. Izzard said, "that the German dictator's type of war goes fine at the outset but cannot last over a long period."

The speaker expressed confidence that the Allies will win and made the further prediction that a decision would be reached before the end of 1940.

"And, if it works out that way," he said, "the United States will not become involved. However, if it is not ended by then, of course, we stand a very good chance of getting mixed into it."

Mr. Izzard was the principal speaker on the program which was furnished by the inter-club relations committee of the downtown Amarillo Kiwanis club, of which Vernon Gunn is chairman. Also on the program was the Amarillo college quartet.

eon, Kiwanis directors voted to cooperate with the American Legion operate withthe American Legion by sponsoring a junior boy student from Pampa High school to the Boys' State program to be held in Austin the week of June 10-15. The Legion, Rotary and Lions club also voted each to send a boy to the Americanism school, now being conducted in eight states.

The Amarillo college quartet, composed of Bill Desautell, Jack and Jim Jackson, and Cliff Henderson, with Faye Nicklaus as accompanist, sang "My Dear Old Girl," "Blue Heaven," and "On Parade." Jim Jackson sang a solo. The group returned recently from Waco where they competed in a music contest held in that city.

Amarillo Kiwanians present included L. C. Whitney, Bob Crudington, L. N. Grow, John B. Pool, Jack Bush, Cary Jenkins, W. M. Gray, W. R. Fox, and Sim Kelly.

Attendance at the luncheon was 72. Out-of-town guests, in addition to the Amarilloans, were J. C. Wiseman of Tulsa and Joe Looper of Grandview; local guests, D. C. Hartman and L. H. Johnson.

Pampa Has A Real Academy Of Art, Believes Russell G. West

Here is another strange case of where an unfortunate incident becomes a fortunate situation. When several months ago Mr. F. Hutton Shill, one of the outstanding Artists of America, became involved in an automobile accident and was advised by his physicians to locate in a more healthful climate, he selected as his home the city of Pampa. This incident has given to the people of Pampa an opportunity altogether unusual for a city of this size.

Personally I have learned to appreciate this man and what he is doing for the art-talent of our community. Having regained his health since coming to Pampa he started a movement some months ago to open an Academy of Art in our city. It has been with the keenest of interest that I have watched this project develop until today we have in our midst an art school of which most any community might well be proud. To me this constitutes a real asset to the civic and cultural interests of our people.

Mr. Shill is a unique character. Judging by his jovial spirit, keenness of intellect, and relentless enthusiasm for his work, one would say he could not possibly be, as the records show, beyond the half-century mark. But judging by his ability and versatility as an artist and teacher one gets altogether another impression. In fact Mr. Shill grew up and has always lived in the atmosphere of art and great artists. In his home city of Omaha, Nebraska, he studied in the classes of the Western Association of art. From there he entered the Pennsylvania Academy of Philadelphia from which he graduated with the highest of honors. In connection with their annual exhibits he won a Travelling Scholarship which took him into Europe. Here he came in contact with the outstanding Artists of England and the Continent. While abroad he taught four years in England. Since returning to America he has had many years of rich experience as a painter and teacher, and has been represented in most of the annual exhibitions of the East. Mr. Shill is not only one of the great artists of America but he is also a teacher of the highest order. To which his students develop under his personal instruction is a constant source of inspiration.

Really this is not just an ordinary school. All my life I have followed Art as a hobby. For many years I have studied Art from the standpoint of its power to influence people and transform life. I have had opportunity to watch many of the great Artists of America working and teaching. In the Art Academies of New York, Chicago and other cities I have observed their methods of painting and teaching. Naturally it gives one a sense of joy and satisfaction to know that we have right here in Pampa, on a smaller scale, just exactly the kind of work they are doing in these great Art centers of our country.

Art is not, as many seem to suppose, a mere side issue. Art is a unique form of human expression. It is a definite type of language. According to one of my teachers in art interpretation, Dr. Albert E. Bailey, "When a human soul expresses itself in terms of beauty, that expression is art." Thus Art becomes the expression of the soul. It deals with the very depths of human feelings. The deepest and often the holiest things of life can be expressed only in art. Naturally since a human soul has so many ways of expressing itself we have many kinds of art. One person, stirred by beauty, may break forth in terms of beautiful poetry. Another may give expression to his feelings through the medium of some immortal song. Still another may build a lofty cathedral, chizel a marble statue, or paint a glowing canvass in colors that never fade. That's why it has been said, "All else passes—only Art remains." Only that which comes out of the very depths of a human soul will ever stir the souls of others. Whether in music, literature, or painting, only that which can be classified a real art will ever survive.

The individual who masters some technique of self-expression by which he gives wings to his soul becomes an artist. And who knows how many great Artists we have right here in our own homes if only they had an opportunity to develop their talents. Mr. Shill is a very modest man. He seems to resent the idea of cheap methods of advertising as much as does a good physician. Naturally one who holds high ethical standards is reluctant to advertise himself. And yet I do hope that he will soon extend to the people of our community an invitation to visit his school and get acquainted with the work he is doing.

Worst Crop Surplus Now U. S. Prospect

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—Foreign markets closed by the European war and the spread of the barter system threaten to saddle American farmers with one of their worst surplus problems in recent years, despite production restrictions imposed under federal crop control programs.

Administration farm officials, deeply concerned, are searching for possible new outlets for crops which normally would be sold to European belligerents and to neutrals cut off from American supplies.

The agriculture department predicts that American farm exports will be reduced almost a third this year.

Normal yields of major crops this season would materially increase surpluses.

The prospects of such production and the shrinkage in foreign markets already is depressing farm prices. Grains have suffered sensational declines and cotton has lost ground.

The barter system, onced confined to German trading operations, has been spreading to all Europe, even to the Allies, agriculture department officials said.

The British and French were said to have adopted a modified form of barter with South American countries.

As a consequence, the government is preparing to invoke all phases of its crop control legislation in an effort to avert further shrinkage in farm values and income. Surpluses which otherwise might move into foreign markets will be withdrawn from market channels and stored under government loans to producers. This operation may require upwards of $500,000,000 in federal funds.

The government plans to make the most of what foreign markets are now available through use of export subsidies.

Subsidization of consumption by low-income families in this country will be given increased emphasis.

To carry the operations, including benefits authorized farmers for curtailing production, the government expects to have upwards of $1,350,000,000.

Should crop control and subsidization fail to hold prices at reasonably satisfactory levels the administration may turn, some leaders said, to some sort of price control.

Daughter Of Famed Texas Hero Dies

ABILENE, May 25 (AP)—Mrs. H. L. Bentley, 89, native of Austin, a daughter of General Tom Green, who fought at San Jacinto and was a member of the third congress of the republic of Texas, died at her home here this afternoon.

Survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Gay B. Wuerpel, who resided with her mother; four sons, H. L. Bentley, Jr., and Paul Bentley, Los Angeles; Max Bentley, activities manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and H. Bentley of Tampa, Fla. Thirteen grandchildren and one great grandchild also survive.

When Mrs. Bentley and her husband came to Abilene they occupied the first permanent residence erected in the town, then only three years old. She resided on the same site until her death.

Vivid were her recollections of anxious discussions held at her father's Austin home in pre-secession days. Her father had followed Sam Houston to Texas. He came by horseback, arriving barely in time to fight at San Jacinto, and became a favorite of Houston. Mrs. Bentley often played about the home while her father, Houston, Throckmorton and others discussed the problem of secession. Her father opposed secession as did Houston but announced that if Texas should secede he would organize a regiment to fight for the south. He died in action. Tom Green county is named for him.

"How Do I Profit by the Ford Way of Doing Business?"

THAT advertisement we ran recently, called "The Ford Way of Doing Business," was well received and widely discussed.* It told how Ford pioneered in high wages, a shorter working day and week, better industrial conditions, and the Ford policy of lower prices and lower profit.

But the advertisement was not complete. It did not answer the question which may be in your mind! . . . "How does the Ford way benefit me?"

It is a natural question to ask how high wages, short hours and splendid shop conditions affect the price you pay for a car. Of course, you can see that the car may be better, but why should it cost less?

The answer lies in the vast number of cars made. In efficient methods. In improved machinery which increases both the productivity and value of man's work.

Henry Ford says:

"Good and lasting business must produce profit to the buyer as well as to the seller. And of the two, the buyer's profit must be, comparatively, the larger one. It pays us to sell the Ford V-8 because it pays you to buy it."

Compare the Ford V-8 of 1940 with even the highest priced car of 10 years ago and you can see how that principle works. Every year you get more automobile for your money. Every year, as the average wage to automobile workers has increased, the over-all cost to you of owning and running a car has grown less. The major influence in keeping quality up and keeping prices down today is the Ford policy in these matters.

It is now generally conceded that the Ford high-wage policy (the minimum wage in Ford plants is $6 per day and skilled workers receive much more) has been of immense benefit to all industry. Other manufacturers in many lines now pay better wages, too, and the result has been to create buying power, provide volume markets and greatly increase the value which a dollar will buy.

Then there is the question of profit. Can it be shown that Ford profit per car is lower—and that the buyer gets the benefit?

On this let us refer you to the Federal Trade Commission's recent report on the entire Automobile Industry by direction of the United States Congress.

Analyzing the government figures compiled in this report, a leading financial publication says:

"In the four years from 1934 to 1937, inclusive, a fairly prosperous period for the automobile industry, the Ford Motor Company extracted a profit averaging less than $6 per car." The news story then compares this figure with the $48 and $46 profit averages on other leading low-price cars.

These are direct benefits to you of the Ford way of doing business. This explains why your Ford car can have more cylinders, more equipment, bigger brakes, more costly design and construction in chassis and body—and still cost you no more than other cars in the same price field.

Soap Box Derby To Be Held July 18 And 19

Committees Appointed For Boys' Classic

Dates of the Pampa News-Lions club Soap Box Derby have been changed from July 25-26 to July 18 and 19, Sherman White, general chairman, announced Saturday. The change was made in order that the derby would not be in conflict with a baseball game.

Already 108 boys have entered the derby, which will be held on the same location as the initial race here last year, on the paved road three miles north of Pampa. Dr H. L. Wilder is chairman of the entry committee.

Time of the races has not yet been set.

Winner of the local derby will have an expense-paid trip to Akron, Ohio, where he will be eligible to compete in the All-American and International Soap Box derby to be held there on August 11.

Last year Hugh Blevins won the local event and competed at Akron.

Thursday night at Central park, Pampa boys will be told how to prepare their model automobiles for the Akron contest by young Blevins himself. He will also show the car he raced.

All of the boys who have entered the 1940 races here are invited to attend the party at Central park, where ice cream will be served, and valuable information given the boys on methods that will help them in the derby. The Lions club is giving the party for the boys.

Summers Takes Over Batting Lead With Average Of .341

Catcher Lloyd Summers took over the batting honors for the Pampa Oilers, in games through Friday night, when he hiked his average to .341. Sam Malvica, who led the team last week, went into a bad slump and dropped to a .307 average.

It was big Dutch Prather who showed hitting power during the past week when he boosted his average from .240 to .313 as his booming bat was good for two close victories. Manager Grover Seitz also improved his hitting to .323.

The Oilers acquired Bob Knobles, an outfielder, during the week and he showed plenty of speed and fielding ability in his opening games. He stole three bases against Amarillo Friday night.

Pitcher Rice and Second Baseman Akers were released during the week.

Through games of last Monday, when the official batting averages were completed for release today, Gordon Nell of Borger, former Oiler, was leading the regulars with an average of .438. Next among players at bat 100 times or more was Adkins of Clovis with a .390 average.

Amarillo's Emmet Fulenwider had no competition in the home run department, having bagged 15 up to that time. His nearest competitor was Phil Potter of the Oilers who had eight.

Pampa pitching continued to improve with only McPartland, new chunker, being under a .500 average.

Negro Baseball Pitcher Slashed In Cutting Scrape

A cutting scrape in the negro section of the city late Friday night deprived the Black Oilers of their most valuable pitcher. He was an innocent bystander to the fracas which resulted in the arrest of O. T. Bonner who was assessed a $25 fine on a disturbing the peace charge by Recorder C. E. McGrew yesterday morning.

Bonner was also charged with being intoxicated but he entered a plea of not guilty to the charge. Trial has been set for 9 o'clock Monday morning in city court.

The negro, officers said, wielded a butcher knife with much vigor, cleaning out a room in seconds. The ball player, whose name was given as Van, happened to get too close to the knife as he left the room and he suffered a cut muscle in his pitching arm. Another negro, the officers said, fell and was about to be attacked when a bottle struck the knife wielder.

Officer Jeff Guthrie and J. R. Manning said they arrived at that time and at gun point forced the negro to drop the knife.

Ed Terrell Jokes During Operation

Ed Terrell, Pampa Harvester football star who underwent a knee operation in Lubbock Friday noon, was reported doing fine last night. Attending physicians believed the operation a success and predicted that the knee would be as strong as ever within a few months.

Accompanying Ed to Lubbock were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Terrell, Coach Odus Mitchell and son Shields Mitchell.

"I found out why Ed is such a good player," Coach Mitchell said upon his return yesterday. "All during the operation Ed lay on the table and ate ice, whistled, talked with us, and apparently had more fun than anybody. The doctors said Ed made it one of the easiest operations they had ever performed. Local anesthetic was used."

It was discovered that much of the knee cartilage had gotten between the knee joints and had been badly mangled, Coach Mitchell said. It was more easily removed than when Bob Karr underwent a similar operation and from which he recovered completely.

Coach Mitchell will bring Ed home on Wednesday.

Negro Stars To Clash In Game Today

Former stars from the Vernon, Amarillo, Guthrie, San Angelo and Tyler negro baseball teams will be in action here this afternoon for the Pampa Black Oilers when they meet the Borger Black Gassers at 2:30 o'clock at Road Runner park. The players are now living and working in Pampa.

Ran Hawkins, manager of the local team, has been adding strength to his team during the past two weeks and he feels his boys are ready to battle the Borger crew which has won one and lost one game so far this season.

A new pitcher will be on the mound for the Oilers. He's from Clarendon and goes under the name of "Speed Ball Tommy." The regular Oiler pitcher suffered a slashed muscle on his pitching arm Friday night.

Among the new Oilers who have played baseball in other cities are "Doodlebug" Dukes, shortstop, who played five years for the Vernon Cardinals; Charlie Foster, second baseman, three years with the San Angelo Sheepherders; Bert Jackson, center field, from Guthrie, Okla.; Bert Burden, third baseman, from Vernon; Eddy Birdeye, first baseman, from Amarillo; "Precious" Adams, right fielder, from Tyler.

A special section of the grandstand will be reserved for white fans.

Coltexo has won two and lost two games so far this season while the Red Horses have won one, from Coltexo, and lost two.

Both teams will be stronger than ever after taking on a couple of new players each and after a couple of weeks of hard practice.

Pampa's Junior Oilers will also play ball Sunday afternoon when they meet the Borger Sons of the American Legion team at 4:30 o'clock on Magnolia diamond.

The game will be played immediately following the clash between the Magnolia Red Horses and the Coltexo Black Cats of LeFors.

Manager Joe Roche of the Pampa American Legion team will have Tibbets, Carnett and Halter ready for mound duty but he will not name his starter until game time.

The two junior teams will be entered in the American Legion Junior league being organized.

Pampa And White Deer Girls To Play On Tuesday

The Pampa and White Deer girls softball teams will clash on the White Deer dismond at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The game was scheduled for last Thursday but had to be postponed because of wet grounds.

The teams have met once this season with the Pampa sluggers winning. Manager Jim Edwards will send his ace twirler, Virginia Fore, to the mound in an effort to make it two in a row.

White Deer has a classy fielding team with dangerous hitters. The Pampa girls have been doing some fancy hitting behind good pitching but their fielding has been erratic.

Several practice sessions have ironed out many weaknesses, Coach Edwards revealed yesterday.

Mrs. Goldthwaite Defeats Mrs. Page For Golf Crown

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT

FORT WORTH, May 25 (AP)—Valiant Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite substituted a great heart for a lagging golf game in the darkest spots of a dramatic golf match today, coming back on the fading holes to defeat Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, 2 and 1, for the women's southern title.

The hometown idol, champion of Texas and winner of the southern as a budding youngster seven years ago, courted trouble for twenty six holes and then quickly swept away the Chapel Hill, N. C., veteran with a grooved game that reappeared as suddenly as it left her in the morning round.

Three down and eleven to play, staying that close to Mrs. Page's velvety game only through some miraculous recovery shots that came hole after hole, the attractive young mother of two infant daughters started firing at the pins.

Just as suddenly did Mrs. Page's game start folding. On the twenty seventh she pulled her tee shot into the rough and floundered through the weeds and trees on three more shots before finally reaching the green. Mrs. Goldthwaite picked up the hole with a coasting six.

Into the last nine they went, Mrs. Page still leading by two holes and twelve feet from the hole with her second iron. Mrs. Goldthwaite, eight feet short of the green, studied long the chip into the rolling green. She chipped it perfectly, watched it roll fifty feet and into the hole for a birdie three.

Mrs. Goldthwaite won a southern golf title with that shot. It set her game on fire and she squared the match at the thirtieth green.

Mrs. Page's tee shot on the thirtieth hole settled under a clump of trees and in attempting to hook around the trouble and on the green, she looped an iron second out of bounds. She tried again; hit the tree on the second shot. Finally on in four, she three-putted for a seven to lose and put the Fort Worth woman on even terms for the first time in the match.

On the next hole, the thirty first, Mrs. Page tossed away another with a poorly played tee shot to the rough behind trees, a fair second and an eventual three-putt. It put Mrs. Goldthwaite one up—the margin she had struggled for throughout the day.

Oilers Take Two In Row From Amarilloans

Fulenwider Fans In 9th Of Thriller

Gus Hallbourg pitched a three-hit shutout and the Pampa Oilers won the opening game of their series from the Amarillo Gold Sox here Friday night, 2 to 0. The stocky chunker had to fan Emmet Fulenwider, home run king of the league, and Denoria in the ninth inning with the tying runs on base to get his victory.

It was a game of thrilling plays from the opening crack of the bat until Hallbourg sent the last called strike across the plate.

The sensational plays started when Fulenwider raced from deep left center to short right center to make a one-handed stab of Malvica's hit that was a cinch for two bases. Next it was Bob Knobles, new left fielder, who pulled an almost impossible play when he raced to the clubhouse to take Duarte's foul.

Sensational Plays

Phil Potter relieved the situation when he took Sanders' hot grounder on the chest and recovered the ball in time to get his man. The ball drove Potter back to the grass. Dutch Prather showed his old time form when he raced deep into foul territory back of first to take a fly and a moment later he lay flat on his face and caught Malvica's quick throw of a ball that had caromed off Hallbourg's glove. At the time Sanders was on second. Jared Jordan finished up the night with a great stop of Ratliff's scorcher to get his man.

Pitchers Hallbourg and Trantham not only had a big time on the mound but in the field. Each had five assists, three of Trantham's coming in succession. Hallbourg had the edge on his opponent by striking him out three times in a row.

Prather Comes Through

While Hallbourg didn't allow a single hit until the sixth inning, the Oilers got to Trantham, former Big Spring chunker, for a run and two hits in the fourth. Knobles opened with a single and then stole second. Malvica went out to the pitcher and Seitz was an infield out. Then Prather came to the hill and blistered one through the box to score Knobles.

The Oilers iced the game in the sixth without a hit. Knobles again opened the fireworks by being hit. Malvica sacrificed him to second and he stole third. Seitz and Prather drew walks and Knobles scored on Summers' long fly.

The oilers put two on base in the ninth but a double play killed the rally.

Amarillo threatened in the sixth when E. Altenberg and Ratliff singled but stellar defensive play by the Oilers killed the rally. Sanders opened the seventh by hitting the right field fence for a double but he died on third.

Great Ninth Inning

Hallbourg's shutout appeared to be gone with the wind in the ninth when Ratliff drew a walk and everybody was safe when Potter dropped Malvica's throw of Altenberg's grounder. It was a perfect double play ball but Potter, new at second, dropped Malvica's throw which was really too hard. That put the tying runs on base with nobody out. Sanders, next batter, hit to Prather and Hallbourg covered first to make the out. Ratliff and Altenberg advanced on the play.

With one out, who should come to the plate but Emmett Fulenwider, who had already hit 15 home runs this year and who was only one behind Nell last year. Order of the business for the Oilers was whether to walk him or pitch to him and it was decided to pitch. Hallbourg's first ball was across the knees and Fulenwider cut and missed. The next ball was shoulder high and again Fulenwider missed. Then Hallbourg wasted one. He followed with a smoke ball above the knees and Fulenwider almost turned inside cut missing it.

That brought Denoria, third baseman, to the plate. He missed two, fouled the third and missed the fourth to end the game.

A Bank's Duty to its Depositors

The American Bankers Association in its Statement of Principles of Commercial Banking says, "The safety of the funds entrusted to the bank by all of its depositors must be the foremost objective of the commercial banker." Thus banks must exercise extreme care in granting loans and making investments to safeguard deposits.

It is also our duty to render a prompt and adequate checking service for the safety and convenience of our depositors in transmitting funds.

To avoid discriminating against certain depositors by failing to require each account to pay for the service it receives, it is obviously necessary either to require balances sufficient to reimburse the bank for such services, or to make a fair charge for rendering them.

Organization Of Bicycle Club Set For Saturday

The Pampa Bicycle club, sponsored by the Pampa chapter, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be organized Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Recreation park. A weiner roast will be held in connection with the organization of the club.

The VFW club is being organized to make bicycle riding safer and to educate future automobile drivers in the principals of safe driving. It will be open to any boy or girl owning a bicycle providing that boy or girl fills out an application blank, has it signed by his or her parents, and then lives up to the rules and regulations of the club.

Application blanks can be secured at the office of John Bradley, Combs-Worley building, Paul Hill's Store on West Foster avenue, The Pampa News or O. K. Gaylor at the postoffice. Blanks should be filled out and returned to one of the above places before next Saturday.

Cards have been given out at most of the schools but some cyclists may have been overlooked.

Members of the club will elect a judge, attorney, patrolmen and officers who will enforce the rules of the club. The city commission will be asked to pass an ordinance recognizing the club. Court will be held once each week with a city officer in attendance.

Violation of the club rules will mean taking away riding privileges for a week or other penalties.

Each member of the club will be given a large reflector in a silver frame to place on his or her bicycle.

Skeet Shoot To Be Held Again Today

Pampa skeet shooters will unlimber their guns on the new Junior Chamber of Commerce range Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Coleman Williams, chairman of the Jaycee committee, will have ammunition and guns on hand.

The range was opened last Sunday with 30 shooters firing at the elusive clay pigeons. Newcomers to the game were numerous and some of them made the veterans hunt cover.

Shooters from Amarillo and Shamrock are expected to return today for more fun.

Cities Compete For Arms Budget Slice

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—Scores of cities and towns are already vying for the arms and airplane plants, air training centers and military posts contemplated in the administration's vast preparedness program.

Officials said today that the pleas of civic and commercial representatives—bolstered in many instances by members of congress—were bearing heavily on Secretary of War Woodring and Assistant Secretary Louis Johnson at a time when these and other top defense officials were hard-pressed for time to cope with urgent military questions.

The applications have been welcomed, nevertheless, and were being analyzed and classified for future reference.

Ultimate decisions on locations are expected to be made either by the treasury or the prospective new council on national defense. In the World War, such decisions were in the hands of the war industries board.

Delegations and individuals seeking munitions plants have been referred to Major Leo J. Dillon of the army's ordinance department, and those interested in aircraft plants or aviation training facilities to Major M. R. Wood of the army air corps.

Safety Committee To Be Appointed

Committe chairmen of the Pampa Safety council will be appointed at a meeting Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in the city hall at which Don Conley will preside.

Five committeemen are being selected by Jack Goldston and a committee to head the major activity groups of the council. Each committeeman will in turn name subchairmen who will select members of their committees.

Duties of each committee chairman and of each sub-committee will be outlined at the next meeting to which representatives of every organization in the city is invited to be present.

Byrnes Assails Landon

WASHINGTON May 25 (AP)—Senator Byrnes (D.-S. C.), an administration supporter, declared today that Alf M. Landon had misrepresented" the Republican party when he called on President Roosevelt to renounce any third term intention in order to strengthen the president's position for national defense.

Strong support for Landon's stand came, however, from Senator Vandenberg (R.-Mich.), a Republican presidential aspirant.

Sweetwater Man Denies Sympathy With Nazi Cause

SWEETWATER, May 25 (AP)—Denying he was a Nazi sympathizer, Benjamin R. Kent of Sweetwater told newspapermen today he was the man who with two women was escorted out of Del Rio by citizens last Wednesday.

Kent, member of a religious organization declared the three were "distributing Christian literature."

"These citizens of Del Rio, however well intentioned thye may have been, were misinformed by enemies of Christianity who strive to keep people in ignorance of God's purposes so that they may the more easily exploit them," Kent said.

He displayed literature he said depicted Nazi Germany and Soviet Russia as shackled by two "Godless dictators" with the Bible as an emblem of a way to freedom.

Malvica Hits In Tenth To Win Second

Sam Malvica came through in the clutch Saturday night and the Pampa Oilers won their second consecutive game of the season from the Amarillo Gold Sox, 4 to 3, in 10 innings. Malvica parked a single over short to score Phil Potter who had singled, gone to second on Vannoy's single, and then to third when Knobles walked.

The Oilers play a doubleheader in Borger Sunday afternoon and then move on to Lamesa and Lubbock before returning home next Saturday night with Clovis.

Ben Parrish, who pitched for Amarillo last season, started for the Oilers and although in trouble much of the time was going good when pulled in the sixth for a pinch-hitter. Milbert Vannoy took over with only a short warmup and he got into plenty of trouble. He allowed a single, walked the next batter and then made an error to clog the bases with nobody away. But his support became sensational as Jordan cut off a run at the plate, Knobles made a great shoestring catch of B. Altenberg's short fly and then Vannoy fanned Sanders.

Vannoy in Trouble

Vannoy was in trouble again in the eighth but he again fanned Sanders after intentionally walking Altenberg.

Amarillo scored first when Sanders beat out an infield single, stole second and scored on Fulenwider's first double.

After Prather had filed out to open the second for the Oilers, Summers, Daniel and Jordan singled in succession and Potter walked, forcing in a run. Parrish fanned but Knobles singled another run across.

Amarillo went ahead in the sixth when with one away Duart, B. Altenberg and Sanders singled and Prather threw a ball away.

Malvica Comes Through

But the Oilers had what it takes in their half. Summers was safe on Denorio's error, advanced on an out and went to third on another error by Denorio. Potter singled to score Summers but Stephens, batting for Parrish, went out.

Then came the tenth. Daniel struck out. Jordan was an infield out. Potter bagged his third single in a row. Vannoy sent him to second with a single to center. Knobles worked for Hill for a walk. Then Malvica came through and Potter crossed the plate.

Craig Wood Shatters Par To Lead Meet

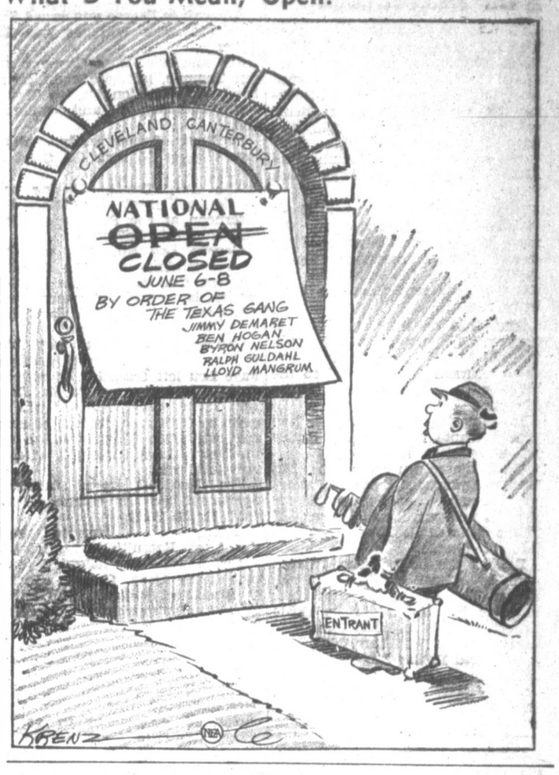

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP)—Craig Wood, the blond slugger from Mamaroneck, N. Y., shattered all listed records for 36 holes in a "major" golf tournament today when he fired a second round of 66, four under par for the Forest Hill Field club, on top of his amazing opening round of 64 yesterday to hold his lead in the Metropolitan open championship.

His 36-hole total of 130 was the lowest ever recorded in a tournament of national or sectional importance over a full-length course. Byron Nelson, national open champion, scored a brace of 65's in the Phoenix open last winter, but the nearest approach to Wood's mark in a major tournament was the 132 scored by Henry Cotton in the 1934 British open.

On the heels of Wood, but five strokes behind today, was Ben Hogan, the youthful Texan who plays out of White Plains, N. Y. Hogan was the only other player to break par on the second round, scraping under the wire with a 69 for a halfway total of 135.

Ray Billows, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., amateur ace, held a lease on third place as the field was paired up for the final 36 holes tomorrow. After equalling Hogan's opening round 66, Billows slipped on the back nine today to finish with 73.

Ripley Buys 'Gold Brick' For Museum

"Believe It Or Not Ripley" may have pulled one on himself in Santa Fe N. M., Friday night, according to C. P. Buckler who returned from that city yesterday. Mr. Buckler and several Amarillo residents got a brick, painted it gold, and tried to sell it to Mr. Ripley, proceeds to go to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society brick fund.

Instead of making out a check for the brick., Ripley wrote the name of his bank, the name of the society(and the amount and signed it "Ripley" on the brick and told the group to send it to his bank to be cashed.

And that is what is going to happen. The gold brick check will be sent to New York, cashed, and then returned to be placed in the addition to be constructed to the Museum.

Mr. Buckler and associates had gone to Santa Fe to see Mr. Ripley on a business matter.

Upon his return to Pampa Mr. Buckler announced that Sid Patterson, manager of Pampa Motor Freight company, would haul all bricks donated locally to Canyon free of charge.

Besides the 1,500 bricks donated here by school children, M. K. Brown of San Antonio, former Pampan, bought 1666 bricks, Doyle Osborne, C. P. Buckler, Jim Williams, Mrs. T. D. Hobart, Mel Davis and Fred Hobart have purchased 1000 each. J. E. Murfee and Gene Fatheree have purchased 500 each and Robert Ripley and C. H. Walker and Farris Oden have bought three gold bricks each.

Common brick can be bought at $15 per 100 and gold bricks at 3 for $1.

Serious Flaws In U S. Army Found

CAMP BEAUREGARD, La., May 25 (AP)—Many serious flaws in American military operations and strategy were disclosed today by Major General H. J. Brees in his appraisal of the army maneuvers just ended here.

One of the most important conclusions by the commanding general of the eighth corps area and chief control officer of the war games in which 70,000 regulars participated was that lack of support by heavy weapons, including artillery, was "painfully evident."

"Our infantry must learn that trucks are not fighting vehicles and that they cannot fight in trucks," he reported. "Travel in trucks is going to be suicidal when truck columns come under observation and within range of artillery fire."

General Brees' opinions were given at a critique.

The three weeks' maneuvers, largest in peacetime in this country, closed yesterday with America's first blitzkrieg which rolled back the numerically superior Blue army in confusion and left its theoretical capital, Alexandria, exposed to the invading Red army.

said, and British and French destroyers were moored nearby.

"The heavy bombing and low-raking fire from planes started at dusk Wednesday and continued all night," Brinjes said. "Not much damage was done to the station but a number of people were cut by flying glass."

Among the spectacles was a "dog fight" between planes above the harbor. Two enemy planes fell into the sea in flames.

Destroyers Fire

By Thursday afternoon, he recalled, the German troops had penetrated the town and captured guns on a hill near the continental hotel.

"At seven that night," he continued, "three destroyers alongside the jetty opened fire on German gun emplacements on the hill.

"The noise was terrific. The German fire was far from accurate but one destroyer finally was struck amidships. I learned later it reached a British port safely.

"The remaining two destroyers put the German guns out of action.

"During the shelling other destroyers were taking aboard women, children and injured soldiers.

"Many of the refugees were wounded by machine gun fire as they dashed about 50 yards to the destroyers.

"By nine o'clock the Germans were coming toward the station. The British and French were fighting back, firing from under railway carriages and from behind sandbag defenses. German tanks began to appear.

"At the moment I got aboard the destroyer it was still firing. We made a top speed dash across the channel. No sea journey ever seemed so good to me."

The stiffest new provision in the measure is a penalty of 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine for any attempts to "interfere with, impair, or influence the loyalty, morale or discipline" of the army, navy, marines or other armed forces.

Conviction of distributing such subversive material or conspiracy to do this could bring the maximum penalty.

Vatican Foresees Italy Entering War

VATICAN CITY, May 25 (AP)—Papal authorities today recognized the possibility of Italian entrance into the war by offering refuge to diplomats accredited to the Holy See and speeding completion of Vatican City's air raid shelters.

Prelates indicated Pope Pius XII is convinced Italy is going to war but that he refuses to leave Vatican City or consider using the air raid shelter provided especially for him.

The offer or refuge was made by Luigi Cardinal Maglione, papal secretary of state. The diplomats, who ordinarily live outside the Vatican City, were asked by letter to say whether they would return to their countries or take up residence in Vatican City in event Italy dropped her non-belligerency.

Bombing of Vatican City—slightly less than 109 acres at the edge of Rome—is considered highly improbable in ecclesiastical circles, even if Rome itself is bombed.

But scrupulous concern for safety of the city's inhabitants, numbering about 1,000, caused building of shelters, since it might be difficult for bombers to distinguish the papal city, particularly at night during blackouts.

industry must be re-geared to produce them in sufficient quantity.

There was a plain intimation in President Roosevelt's suggestion to congress that this country might need 50,000 battle planes, to insure the western hemisphere against incursions from Europe or Asia, that he regarded time as of the essence. Since he spoke the flame of war in Flanders has swept forward to the continental coast of the English channel.

Insular England faces real—not imaginary or theoretical fears—of invasion despite her sea-power. The seemingly impossible of three weeks ago has become the not only possible, but the probable, perhaps the inevitable, of today.

All of it enters into the revision of American defense policy and refashioning of American means of defense which will be the announced keynote of the president.

The aftermath of the battle in Flanders may do far more than any possible present calculation of defense requirements to afford a glimpse of the dimensions of the American armament policy of the years ahead. That vast and confused conflict has already made almost obsolete much previous American defense planning.

There is a grave possibility, for instance, that Germany has created in a fast-striking, armored and mechanized shock unit a weapon upsetting every previous calculation of the relative cost in life of the offensive and defensive in war.

Trotsky Attackers Not Yet Captured

MEXICO CITY, May 25 (AP)—Special police squads patrolled this capital and all Mexican ports and border towns tonight in an effort to apprehend the machine-gun band which attempted to assassinate Leon Trotsky early yesterday morning and kidnapped one of his secretary-guards.

Police authorities said tonight that they had thus far been unable to uncover a single clue to the identity or whereabouts of the assailants of Soviet Russia's exiled war commissar or to the fate of 25-year-old Robert Sheldon Harte, of New York City, gang, either as a hostage or because gang, either as a hostage of because he might have recognized some of the attackers.

Police said they expected no "early break" in the baffling case, which they asserted appeared to be the work of "foreign agents attempting a political assassination."

Trotsky charged that a fifth column of communist OGPU agents, under the direct orders of Russian dictator Joseph Stalin, was responsible.

Harte's father, Jesse Harte, of New York City, arrived late this afternoon by plane. He immediately conferred with police and American consular officials and said he expected to get in touch with Trotsky later.

which occurred two miles west of Pampa on U. S. Highway 60.

The impact hurled Armstrong from his bicycle, and flung him against the car's windshield, breaking a hole in the glass to which adhered strands of his hair. Armstrong was then flung off the car by the force of the impact and rolled off on the road.

Three in Car

Riding with Hand who was driving, were another man and a 15-year-old Miami girl, according to Sheriff Cal Rose who with Deputy Charlie Draper investigated the crash.

As officers reviewed the case, the car went 1½ miles north, then turned west. The radiator grille was dented, and one fender was torn off the vehicle, a 1936 black Ford V-8.

Stopped Near Skellytown

A truck was obtained at a plant near Skellywton and the girl returned to her home near Miami. Then, Sheriff Rose said, the men came back to the plant, loaded the car on the truck, and were en route to Skellytown when they were stopped by Constable Lynn Wall, shortly after midnight Friday..

The injured cyclist was said to be visiting a relative here, but officers did not have information as to the relative's name.

Irish Premier Asks For Volunteers

DUBLIN, May 25 (AP)—Premier Eamon de Valera announced tonight the formation of a new volunteer force for "local security work" in Ireland (Eire).

"We are within the war zone," he said in an address to his Finnaa Fail party followers at a meeting in Galway City.

"We must prepare to defend the libertics we have won."

He said the new volunteer corps would be apart from the regular army and would be associated with the police force "to watch ever the security of the people and to watch for the first sign of attack upon us."

BRITAIN

the last sovereign and the last man, also turned intense pressure upon organized labor.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill, in a letter to the trades union executive council, demanded a "supreme effort" by workers to defend the country and win the war, telling them the gravity of the situation deepens hour by hour."

The conference endorsed the nation's conscription of labor and property and promised the army the work would be forthcoming to make "the arms and munitions you need."

The labor ministry set up a supply board to mobilize the industrial manpower under the totalitarian law, adopted this week.

The change from a nation of quiet green fields and peaceful towns becomes complete on Sunday, when Britain works and prays. For the first time since the world war, factories will hum on full schedule while churchgoers, at the express command of their King, implore God for a victorious peace.

That will be the first real effect of the totalitarian legislation of last week which uprooted tradition and put every Briton and all he owns at the command of the endangered state.

More visible and audible are the precautions against invasion, the calling up of the two-millionth man, scores of arrests which have resulted from the government's drive on "fifth columinists," harsh censorship which takes away the news of the mighty battle of Flanders, and calls from the nation's leadership for "confidence."

Today military men described the situation on the channel edge of the continent as "very grave and very confused" but held out hope that a joint Allied action would beat back Germany's iron cavalry and rip apart the base of the Reichswehr salient which stretches across northern France to the straits of Dover.

With ammunition and airplane factories working throughout the weekend with the greatest activity of the war, 326,259 more men were called to arms to aid the hard-pressed British expeditionary force and fill the ranks of the navy and royal air force.

Coast Bombed

This registration of 27-year-olds pushed the number of men under mobilization past the 2,000,000 mark.

Early morning German bombings from the north Riding (district) of Yorkshire to east Anglia and Essex covered more than 200 miles of English coast, injuring 11 civilians and awakening the nation fully to awareness it is bearing the weight of war.

While the Yorkshire bombings were believed aimed at steel factories, the raids further south were considered intended to shake the English morale, but there was no sign of the loss of quiet confidence that is the hall-mark of the Briton.

Deprived by a new censorship edict of even the names of places where his army is fighting, the man in the street accepted the situation with the view, "there's a big battle on at last and the French are going to give 'em what-for. When it comes, the news will be good."

"Local defense volunteers" flocked from towns and farms by the thousands to give their spare time as "parashoots" against German parachutists.

By nightfall it was estimated nearly 400,000 had registered.

Credit Film Said To Be Entertaining

A motion picture that has been shown in the largest cities in the nation will be preseted at the annual meeting of the Pampa Credti association Monday night at 8 o'clock at the Schneider hotel. President Travis Lively will be in charge of the meeting.

Title of the picture is "Credit, the Life of Business." It is not a dry picture, as the title might indicate, but is entertaining and educational, according to Mr. Lively who urges every business and professional man in Pampa, whether or not a member of the association, to attend the meeting.

Reservations may be made by calling the Pampa Credit association, telephone 710.

Business to be transacted will include election of three new directors and reading of the annual report by Walter Daugherty, secretary.

An invitation to Borger merchants and to directors of the Amarillo Credit association to attend has been extended.

Pampa Credit Grantors association will hold its regular meeting Monday noon. Guest speaker will be L. V. Longhway who will discuss "Tricky Pens." He is a signature and hand writing expert.

fairs committee which sponsored the tests, indicated he did not feel they were conclusive.

He said they proved simply that neither "Gilmite" nor TNT had "any deleterious effects on living tissues under such conditions as attended the tests." The comparison of six-ounce charges showed Barlow's explosive "had a greater hitting power," he added.

Senator Sheppard said he would recommend to the senate committee that Barlow be given an opportunity of demonstrating fragmentation power of his explosive when detonated in a metal casing. Today's "bombs" were canvas sacks.

The chairman emphasized that possibility of further tests hinged on official army reports of blast meter recordings. These would be available in two or three days, officials said.

Third Termers And Garnerites Still Arguing

AUSTIN, May 25 (AP)—Fires of the recently sharp controversy over whether Texas democrats should support Vice President Garner or President Roosevelt for the next presidential nomination smouldered today as leaders pointed for a state executive committee meeting Monday and state convention Tuesday in Waco.

The committee will certify delegates to the convention and choose its temporary officers, while the convention will select a delegation to cast Texas' 46 votes in the national democratic convention in Chicago and give it instructions.

Simultaneously, leaders of Texas republicans, normally very weak numerically, will gather in Dallas for similar party business. Their delegation, expected to be uninstructed, will have 24 votes in the republican national convention to be held in Philadelphia.

E. B. Germany of Dallas, chairman of the democratic executive committee and also chairman of the national Garner for president organization, predicted the democratic convention would be harmonious and would instruct for Garner, but would do nothing to hurt the Roosevelt third term movement.

However, former Lieut. Gov. Edgar E. Witt of Waco expressed opinion Garner would withdraw his name from consideration as a presidential candidate before the convention acted, and asserted that if he did not the convention would instruct for Roosevelt anyhow.

Mayor Oscar Holcombe of Houston forecast a landslide to Roosevelt, together with an endorsement of Jesse Jones of Houston, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance coporation, for vice president. Former Governor James E. Ferguson has called for Garner's withdrawal and has urged instructions for Roosevelt.

Nevertheless, Germany and other Garner champions insist the convention will stick to Texas' native son for president. Political observers suggest the principal danger to their plans lies in a sudden "bolt," which conceivably might follow a stirring address perhaps on a war theme.

15 GENERALS

Vimy Ridge, German-Canadian world war battlefield northwest of Arras.

Allies Fight Desperately

The Allies fought desperately last night to halt Germany's steadily advancing armies in the battle for the English channel and save thereby perhaps a million men from destruction.

For the Germans, it appeared to be an all-or-nothing gamble to snap shut a huge jaw whose teeth—warplanes and lightning motorized divisions—were grinding British, French and Belgian armies ever closer to the channel coast and, in places cutting through.

But the Germans themselves were in danger of being pinched off by fierce French attempts to break through to the trapped northern armies and by apparent British efforts to reinforce them.

The Germans were confident that success was near, while the Allies freely admitted the situation was growing more perilous, but still not beyond hope.

A ring of steel around the Allies in northern France and Belgium has been closed, the Germans said, the battlefield reduced by two-thirds in 48 hours and the encircled Allies threatened with being "wiped out" within a week.

Nazis Paying Dearly

If the Germans succeed, they will have slammed shut the direct route for British reinforcements in France and arrayed themselves within 20 minutes' bomber flight to England.

If they fail, they will have paid dearly in men and the masses of armored and mechanized equipment still streaming toward the sea in the 20-mile wide gap the French are attempting to close between Peronne and Bapaume.

The steady Nazi progress, the German high command reported, has swept through Boulogne, important English channel port; the Belgian cities of Ghent and Courtrai and across the Lys river, Lelgium's last natural defense line.

Belgian dispatches said there was fighting in the streets of Calais but regardless of whether the port is captured, they said, bombardment has destroyed its usefulness for British landing operations.

The Germans, gambling for all-or-nothing in the battle for the English channel coast, tonight rushed their heaviest tanks and motorized infantry through their narrow corridor to the sea to support lighter advance units.

Allied counter-attacks were frequent and intense and French military spokesmen asserted these hads queezed the corridor's neck from yesterday's 30 or 35 miles to 20.

An early decision was indicated as the struggle developed on two main fronts, with the northern Allied forces in Flanders and the central French army on the Somme continuing their campaign to form a junction and cut off the German salient.

Between the main Allied forces, their advance guards struck again and again into the German spearhead thrust westward to the sea and pointed toward the British Isles.

The Allied advance units harrassed the German line of communication.

The outcome of the Flanders battle depends on the Allied effort to close the breach and pocket the Germans on the coast.

The gap between the northern and central Allied armies, originally described as extending from the Somme to Arras, now is bounded by the Peronne and Bapaume sectors.

The Germans fought on a winner-take-all basis along the channel coast, running the risk of complete disaster if they should fail to consolidate their corridor position.

Until now the light mechanized German forces and infantry had formed the spearhead. The movement of heavy forces from the rear indicated the crucial struggle was near.

Gardeners Begin Weekly Series On Yard Beauty

First in a series of articles on "Front Yard Beauty," an endeavor on the part of the Pampa Garden club to make Pampans, both renters and home-owners, more yard conscious, is given below. These articles are prepared and written by members of the club.

"A cottage in a beautiful setting is more credit to a resident than a mansion in a weed patch. Good planting around a house is worth many times its cost in actual improvement of property value and in enjoyment of both its beauty and the coolness it affords. Your yard can be a grand hobby.

"Every phase of the front yard will be covered in these articles: lawn, trees, shade and decorative, foundation planting, property line borders, placement of walks and driveways.

"The lawn is the foundation of your yard. For this reason, it must be a beautiful green, have a dense healthy turf, and be free from weeds. A lawn in poor condition nearly spoils the beauty of the home, regardless of the excellence of the rest of the planting. Lawns which have been carefully built and cared for will last for many years. Grass can be planted from early spring on. Many people prefer seeding in late August or September for blue grass. This eliminates the troublesome annual weeds and gives it a well-developed root system and top growth to endure the heat of summer of the following year. The Bermuda grasses are better if started in the early spring. Shade-tolerant grasses should be used in shaded areas.

Sand Improves Soil

"Most of the soil here is improved by the addition of sand. First, spade the soil and then use a rake or similar tool to pulverize. Then the surface would be made smooth. A slight slope from the house is desirable, but if there is too much slope it may be necessary to terrace. Avoid use of soil excavated in making the basement as such soils are lacking in organic matter.

"After the seed bed is prepared, the addition of a well-balanced plant food is indicated. The sowing of the seed is very important. Regardless of the method, hand or machine, the distribution should be made in two directions, one at right angles to the other; a heavy seeding should be made. This insures a dense turf to check growth of weeds. After seed is sowed it should be brushed in by dragging a light sack over it and then rolled lightly. Where the ground slopes, a light covering of clean straw will hold seed in place. Remove it carefully in cool weather, or cheese cloth can be used and left on the soil surface, as it will soon decompose during the growing season.

"The newly planted lawn should be kept fairly moist at all times by the use of a fine spray until the grass has become well established. Then water deeply to promote deep root-growth. Shallow sprinkling makes shallow roots. Allow the new grass to become two or three inches long before clipping. Never clip shorter than one and one-half inches. Close clipping weakens the root system and increases the danger from summer heat. But do not let the grass get too long or the base will turn yellow and the grass is too weakened to send out new shoots.

Re-Seeding Necessary

"The lawn, whether new or old, needs a well-balanced plant food at intervals of six to eight weeks. Every lawn owner should expect to do some re-seeding in the spring. If the soil is packed, the surface should be loosened by scratching lightly with a rake before the seed is scattered. A dense turf will choke out weeds, so keep increasing the thickness of the grass while digging out the weeds by scattering seed over the areas worked. Of course, if the yard next door to you is full of weeds, your problem will be worse, so work on the neighbor, too, trying to persuade him to put in a lawn and lessen the weed problem.

"There are many light weight lawn-mowers on the market and a variety of edging-tools to simplify work. This matter of edging is a very important one, too, for a neat, well-defined line edging your walks and beds adds immeasurably to the general effect.

Watering Systems

"Underground watering systems will soon pay for themselves, as they dispense with the need for so much hand watering, and also, do a better job.

"There are places where grass just will not grow; for instance on steep slopes where the wash-in is bad. Try a ground cover in such a case. There are both evergreen and deciduous ones to be had. Vinca minor is one of the best, though there are several varieties of myrtle which are good. Most vines make excellent coverings for a steep bank.

"For large space, terracing will solve the problem. Then the new "soil soaker," a canvas hose through which the water seeps slowly, makes watering these places so much easier that your troubles nearly solve themselves. Do not neglect investigating these. They are useful for narrow parkings, too, and save wasting water.

"Anyone can have a good lawn for just a little expense and time. One thorough watering a week, two or three feedings, through the summer, proper mowing and weeding, and you will have a yard to be proud of, and Pampa folks will be proud of you."

PIANIST

Mrs. Fidelia Frantz Yoder, above, will be presented in a piano recital by Mrs. May Foreman Carr Monday night at 8 o'clock in Myers Music Mart. Mrs. Hardin drew fascinating pictures of the African life of the great Englishman, John Cecil Rhodes, his home and burial place. She told of the marvels of Victoria Falls, the great wild game preserves, life and customs of the Zulus, Hottentots, and other native tribes. King Tut's tomb was visited, and Mrs. Hardin's description of the River Nile furnished a fitting climax to her interesting travelogue.

Mrs. J. P. Smith and Mrs. M. C. Davis presided at the tea table, which was centered with a huge bouquet of spoon cacti and straw flowers, encircled with sprays of huckleberry. Yellow tapers in graduated holders were entwined with greenery. Iced punch and dainty corsage cakes, topped with tiny pastel colored flowers were served. Salted nuts and green and white mints completed the refreshment course.

Mrs. T. H. McKenzie, president of the Erudite club and Mrs. George P. Grout greeted the guests. Mrs. Gary Orr presided at the registry table, and Mrs. J. S. Harrison played soft piano music while the guests were gathering.

Runyon Story Opens At Crown; "Rebecca" On LaNora Screen

(By BROWNWOOD EMERSON)

As timely as tomorrow's newspaper and pointing a lesson Americans need to remember at this time—that the humblest citizen is the equal of the greatest in a democracy—is Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Joe and Ethel Turp Call on the President," opening a three-day run today at the Crown with Lewis Stone, Ann (Maisie) Sothern, and William Gargan in the chief roles.

When Joe and Ethel want to tell the boss of Jim, the postman, just why Jim destroyed a registered letter and landed in jail, they realize that Jim's boss is nominally the President. So they call on the President, innocently show him the way out of an international crisis, and get Jim back on his job, cleared of the charge.

Based on the characters created by Damon Runyon, it's a warm, heart-filling picture, rich in down-to-earth Americanism.

Opening the week at the LaNora is the David O. Selznick—United Artists production "Rebecca," based on Daphne duMaurier's novel, of which more than 400,000 copies of the original edition were sold. The story was also published in the Ladies Home Journal. Feature articles on the book and picture have appeared in Life and Collier's.

The story deals with the domination of the life of a second wife by the past of Rebecca, a beautiful woman who had fascinated all who knew her. The housekeeper does her part to keep the memory of Rebecca alive, resents the second wife, and does everything in her power to harrow her.

Picture has an English countryside background. Laurence Olivier and Joan Fontaine have the top starring roles.

LaNORA

Warner's "An Angel From Texas" is an amusing farce built on the theme of the hick who comes to the big city and fleeces the smart alecks. Eddie Albert is excellent as the Texan and Rosemary Lane ably fills the part of another Texan who expects to became an actress in the big city.

Wayne Morris and Ronald Reagan are cast as a pair of sharpshooting shoe-string play producers.

The Film Daily says "the story has sufficient amusing situations to keep it funny and the cast is up to the story, with the picture peopled with amiable characters."

Wednesday and Thursday.

Hopalong (Bill Boyd) Cassidy breaks up a gang of gold mine mobsters in the Harry Sherman production of Paramount's "Hidden Gold," based on another Clarence E. Mulford's story. Showing Friday and Saturday.

Diorama Cases Given To Panhandle Museum

Special To The NEWS

CANYON, May 25—Three new diorama cases obtained from the office of exhibits of the U. S. Department of Interior are attracting considerable attention at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society museum here.

The cases are three of a series obtained through the Coronado Cuarto Centennial commission.

One of them is a lobo wolf hunting scene in the Southwest. Another shows Indians hunting buffaloes on the great plains. The third illustrates early transportation in the Southwest, with stage coach, covered wagon, and freighters.

Several murals to be painted by Harold Bugbee of Clarendon and Ben Mead of Amarillo, outstanding Panhandle professional painters, will be received later.

Meanwhile, a great stack of bricks is growing daily on a site back of the museum. They are a portion of the 250,000 "common brick" being contributed by plains residents for a two-story addition to the overcrowded museum.

Wheeler 'Hopper War To Start Wednesday

Special To The NEWS

SHAMROCK, May 25—County Agent Jake Tarter announced today that due to the increasing demand by farmers of the south and southeast part of the county for grasshopper poison a station will be opened in Shamrock next Wednesday morning. The station will be located in the Hall building at 302 W. Second street.

Twenty thousand pounds of bran and enough poison to mix that amount has been secured and will be shipped here immediately. As in the past years of war on the insects, the government will furnish the bran and poison and the farmer must furnish a like amount of cotton seed hulls to match the bran and also molasses if any is used.

The Shamrock Chamber of Commerce is cooperating with Mr. Tarter in this move and the station will be under the personal supervision of Bedford Harrison its manager. The plant will be opened on Wednesday of next week and a determined effort will be made to get the poison distributed within as short a period of time as possible.

Agent Tarter pointed out that if the bait is used while the insects are young and before they have time to develop wings the results are more effective and less poison is used. He urges all farmers to examine their fence rows and pasture land for young hoppers and to begin the spreading of poison in plenty of time to get the most effective results.

Tomlin Band Will Play At Amarillo

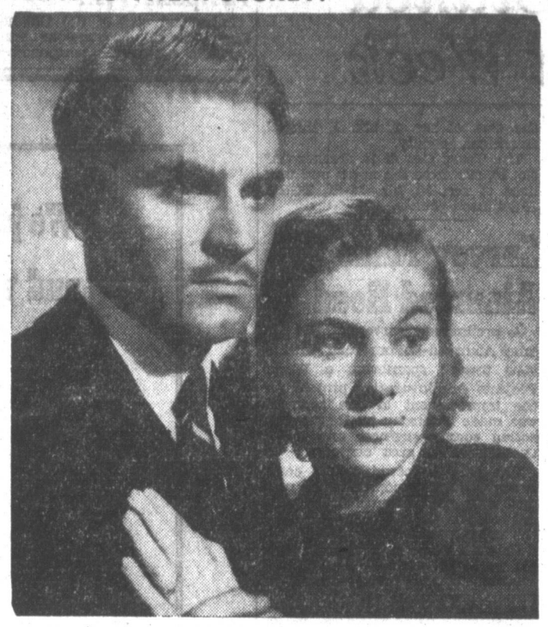

Pinky Tomlin, the famed author of "The Object of My Affections" and nationally popular band leader, will be in Amarillo with his orchestra Monday night.

Tomlin's orchestra will play for a dance to be held at the Nat and their appearance there will be the only one in this area. There will be no concert.

Out-of-town interest indicates a large attendance at the dance and persons planning to attend are urged to make reservations as soon as possible in the upstairs night club.

Tomlin's orchestra comes to Amarillo following a long engagement at the Drake hotel on Chicago's Gold Coast, where the Oklahoma youth proved his popularity as a band leader as well as a song writer, singer and entertainer.

WHAT IS THEIR SECRET?

Laurence Olivier and Joan Fontaine live through many unusual experiences before they settle down to a peaceful romance in David O. Selznick's "Rebecca," which was directed by Alfred Hitchcock for United Artists release at the LaNora theater, today, tomorrow and Tuesday.

MEETING THE PRESIDENT

As plain as the nose on Ethel Turp's face is the lump-in-the-throat human appeal in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Joe and Ethel Turp Call on the President," opening a three-day run at the Crown. Based on the Saturday Evening Post story written by Damon Runyan, the picture features Lewis Stone as the president, William Gargan as Joe Turp and Ann Sothern as Ethel Turp.

COMEDY CO-STARS

She writes books in praise of spinsterhood; he is a doctor who hates all career women. But in Columbia's "The Doctor Takes a Wife," co-stars Loretta Young and Ray Milland are forced to pretend they are married and, eventually, they discover that the title of her book, "Marriage Ain't Measles," is singularly apt! Reginald Gardiner, Gail Patrick, Edmund Gwenn and Georges Metaxa are others in the cast of the LaNora theater attraction, Friday and Saturday.

Texans In Washington

By L. T. EASLEY
Associated Press Staff

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—Texans are playing an important role in congressional consideration of national defense legislation.

Four of them are on military and naval affairs committee, which must pass on all armament programs, and two more are on the committees which formulate international policy.

Heading the six is Senator Morris Sheppard of Texarkana, who is chairman of the senate military affairs committee. Rep. Ewing Thomason of El Paso is ranking Democratic member of the house military affairs committee, second in charge to Chairman May (D.-Ky.). Rep. Paul Kilday of San Antonio also is on the house military affairs committee.

Fifth ranking majority member of the house naval affairs committee is Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson of Johnson City, who has risen from the sixteenth and last Democratic position to his present rank in three years.

Senator Tom Connally of Marlin is a member of the senate foreign relations committe, and Rep. Luther Johnson of Corsicana is ranking Democratic member of the house foreign affairs committee.

As leader of the Democratic forces in the house, it falls on Rep. Sam Rayburn of Bonham to see that any defense legislation, whether it be an authorization measure or appropriation bill, for either the army or navy, is speedily acted upon.

Vice-President Garner, as president of the senate, may have much to do with the pressure that can be put behind vital measures.

Senator Sheppard is head of the committee which passes on appropriations for purchase of warplanes, bombs, deadly gasses and other weapons, but he personally is a quiet spoken, mild mannered little man.

This was demonstrated when Lester Barlow was all set to demonstrate how effectively his liquid oxygen bomb could lay low about 150 navy goats. The inventor, ready for the test, brought the liquid explosive in a canvass bag to show that it killed by concussion alone, but the congressional committee wasn't on hand. By the time the members got there an appreciable amount of the axygen had evaporated and Barlow, instead of his bomb, blew up.

He leaped in his automobile and was driving down a narrow road toward the gates of the military range in Maryland, when he met the tardy congressional group headed by Senator Sheppard. The road was so narrow he had to stop so the vehicles might pass around each other.

Someone blamed army officers for the mixup, others were critical of Barlow, and tempers flared for several minutes until Chairman Sheppard quieted all.

It seemed that the outside gate of the reservation was some 10 miles from the actual point where the bomb was to be exploded. Another person passing the word to Barlow, told him the congressional committee had just entered the gate and would be there in a minute. Because all were in haste to return to Washington for the unexpected personal appearance at the capitol of President Roosevlt to read his defense message, Barlow hurried his liquid explosive into the open and connected the detonator.

Everyone calmed down when Sheppard pointed out that no one was really to blame. They dispersed in good spirit despite a dismal rainy day, when it was agreed that the test should be held later.

Texas' fame for Mexican foods, as well as its fame for important men, was recounted in a special article in a Washington newspaper (Post). Recipes for enchiladas, pralines and son-of-a-gun stew were given by Mrs. Richard Kleberg, wife of Corpus Christi's congressman, in an interview by the paper's food editor.

After mentioning a few important men who hail from the Lone Star state the writer, Martha Ellyn, said:

"Texas food too has a definite personality. It shows Mexican influence and that of the cowboy, for these courageous men were as much a part of the background of Texas as the Kentucky colonels of the Blue Grass state or the Puritan fathers of New England. Out of the history of Texas comes the 'chuck wagon.' This conveyance was always the first to leave the ranch for round-up ground. The cook drove this stoutly built canvas-topped wagon, drawn by four horses. x x x

"Chuck wagon parties still are a part of Texas life. On the (King) ranch of Congressman Richard M. Kleberg of Texas chuck wagon barbecues are often given."

Federal Loan Administrator Jesse Jones of Houston, congratulating Rep. Marvin Jones of Amarillo at a luncheon in the capitol honoring the congressman who is to become a federal judge, said:

"Well, Marvin, I am mighty glad to see the Jonses coming to the fore. You know just yesterday Sam Houston Jones became governor of Louisiana and that's a good name to go with Jones, since he isn't a Texan."

Rep. Clyde Garrett of Eastland asked President Roosevelt to make a stop at Abilene on his proposed western tour. Extending the invitation in behalf of the Texas Agricultural association, Garrett pointed out that from Fort Worth to the west coast, the presidential train could pass through and stop at Abilene without any material loss of time.

March Of Time Tells Story Of The Philippines

In its latest issue, "The Philippines: 1898-1946," The March of Time this month pictures the new problems facing the Philippines as a result of today's mounting war fever, and shows how Philippine independence—scheduled to take effect in 1946—is already seriously threatened by Japan's current expansion program in the south Pacific. The film is showing today, tomorrow and Tuesday at the Crown.

After 300 years of Spanish rule and 40 years under the U. S. flag, The March of Time shows, the Philippines are today assuming a new strategic and economic importance. The islands already do an annual domestic business of half a billion dollars—in addition to a foreign trade of 250 million—and flourishing Philippine industries have consistently maintained a profitable surplus of exports over imports.

Although they have been safe and prosperous under U. S. protection since 1899, the one ambition of the Philippine people has always been to govern themselves. Today, The March of Time shows, they enjoy greater political freedom, prosperity and security than any other oriental people; and in their modern progressive schools — built during American rule — young Filipinos are acquiring the education they will need to govern themselves after their independence becomes effective in 1946.

To preserve their newly-won independence, the Philippine people have adopted compulsory military training and an armament program that calls for the expenditure of eight million dollars a year for the next six years. By 1946 they hope to have a well-equipped army of 10,000 regulars and 300,000 reserves.

A constant source of concern to Filipinos and Americans alike, The March of Time reveals, has been the steady economic penetration of the islands by Japanese immigrants. Subsidized by their government, they have circumvented restrictions so successfully that they now have a firm foothold in Philippine business and commerce, and Japanese merchants today control 35 per cent of all retail trade in the islands.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP)—War gloom lifted a trifle in the stock market today, without any especial news to account for it, and leading issues stepped out of a generally disappointing week with a fair-sized rally.

Steels, Aircrafts and Coppers came to the fore for gains running to 3 or more points after a sluggish first hour. Top gains were reduced in most cases at the close.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks held a net advance of .3 of a point at 38.1 but for the week showed a net loss of 2.3 points. It was the fourth consecutive week's decline in this composite. Today the barometer was .4 of a point above its two year low established Tuesday. The 1940 high was 52.2.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 25 (AP)—Wheat prices marked up net gains of 1 to 1⅝ cents a bushel today, July closing at 84⅝-85 and September at 84⅜-⅞. As the market reflected a rally in securities and sharply higher prices at Winnipeg.

Corn closed ¼-1 cent higher, July 63⅛-¼, Sept. 62⅝-¾; Oats ⅝-¾ up; Rye 1¾ higher and Lard 3 lower to higher.

Closing wheat prices at Winnipeg showed gains of 4-4⅝ cents from Thursday's finish after a holiday there yesterday. July wheat rose to 72 cents, or about 11⅝ cents below the corresponding Chicago contract.

With the wheat market apparently liquidated as a result of last week's price slump, most traders found no new incentive to reenter the trade in view of the uncertainty.

U. S. 'Miracle' Bomb Sight Has Deadly Accuracy

25 (AP)—A "miracle" bomb sight, 24. (AP)—A "miracle" bomb sight, army officers believe, has given American bombers more deadly accuracy than any plane dumping destruction over Europe battlefields today.

Praise for the device—a closely guarded military secret—came from officers at the army maneuvers in western Louisiana where the airforce has concentrated 250 planes, including 116 bombers, in a huge demonstration to coordinate its work with ground troops.

One officer said the sight used in the heavy bombers which do their work from an elevation of perhaps 15,000 feet, is so precise that a "plane three miles up could almost drop its eggs in a barrel or knock your hat off."

"I have heard it asserted that the Germans claim a bomb sight as good as ours, the officer explained. But I doubt it."

This was the explanation given: The heavy American bomber, flying calmly on a level keel, sights and drops its cargo from a height so great as to be out of reach of anti-aircraft fire.

Other nations have bomb sights in their heavy ships but it is the level keep and precision that rates the American instrument above them.

Power diving ships that move ahead of the tanks and infantry sacrifice safety and accuracy in their terrific plunges.

Officers reported that a bomber flying at 14,000 feet and using the American instrument scored five direct hits out of six bombs dropped on the outline of a battleship in a field at recent maneuvers at Fort Benning, Ga.

Maverick Predicts Convention Fight

SAN ANTONIO, May 25 (AP)—Mayor Maury Maverick, staunch third-term supporter, today predicted "trouble" at the state Democratic convention in Waco Tuesday and accused a group of Garner-for-President leaders with an agreement to take over exclusive control of the meeting.

"It's going to be a tough fight if they try to sell us down the river," Maverick said.

Maverick was chosen chairman of the Bexar county delegation at a meeting which disclosed strong Roosevelt support. He referred to the recent Garner-Roosevelt "peace agreement" by which Garner supporters were not to attempt to "stop Roosevelt," and third-termers were to declare for Vice President Garner—in preliminary balloting at least.

"At the Munich agreement," Maverick said, "we agreed to give them Sudetenland, but we don't intend to give them Poland, Czechoslovakia and Norway, too."

The mayor charged that certain Garner leaders met in Dallas and agreed to take over the convention to the exclusion of third-term delegates.

A dinner for "underprivileged delegates," he said, would be given in a Waco hotel tomorrow night. They will listen to the President's radio address, Maverick added.

Whiskey Sales On Sunday Charged Against Harris

A temporary injunction enjoining C. T. Harris or his agents from maintaining what is alleged to be a nuisance is asked in a case filed in 31st district court here, styled State of Texas vs. C. T. Harris.

The petition, signed by Gerald C. Mann, attorney general of Texas, M. C. Martin, assistant attorney general, and Joe Gordon, Gray county attorney, alleges sale of whisky on April 7, 14, and 21, of this year, these dates coming on Sunday, and sale of gin on April 28, also a Sunday.

10,005 Barrels Chopped From Allowable

Oil Men Ask Fair Deal For Plains Field

Panhandle oil operators were just about ready to throw up their hands and quit yesterday when they learned that the Texas Railroad commission had chopped 10,005 barrels daily from the Panhandle field allowable, effective June 1 and for the next 90 days.

The Panhandle reduction of about 20 per cent followed a cut of 14 per cent in April it was pointed out by operators, while other fields were cut as little as four per cent.

New Panhandle allowable is 64,145 barrels daily, with one-day shutdown, while the demand is 80,000 barrels.

Panhandle operators bombarded the commission with telephone calls and telegrams yesterday demanding that the Panhandle be given a fair deal.

Under the new order any well in the field capable of producing 20 barrels and allowed to produce only 29 days in June and 30 days in July and August. Wells capable of making 19 barrels or less will be allowed to produce the full amount every day in the month.

To prove the unjust method of production in the Panhandle field Mel B. Davis, president of the Panhandle Producers and Royalty Owners association, which immediately protested the order, pointed out that a well with a potential of 2,000 barrels could produce only 15 barrels a day. That would be a total of 435 barrels, yet a marginal well with a potential of 19 barrels would be allowed to produce 570 barrels a month.

Sadler Contacted

When contacted by telephone yesterday afternoon, Commissioner Jerry Sadler said that everyone was "in the same boat," and that all the commissioners agreed on the order.

Operators, to prove the unjust reduction in the Panhandle field, said that the prolific Southwest Texas field, with a present allowable of 249,555 barrels, received a reduction of less than 6,000 barrels and that the East Central Texas field was cut less than 6,000 barrels. It has a present allowable of only a few thousand barrels more than the Panhandle field. The West Central Texas field was cut less than 5,000 barrels.

"This cut in production may mean that refineries will have to curtail operations," Mr. Davis said. "We are going to do everything in our power to get an even break for the Panhandle field."

By districts, basic allowable comparisons of May 1, May 18 and June 1 are:

Southwest Texas 249,555, 253,935 and 244,386.

Gulf Coast 239,714, 244,338 and 227,682.

East Central Texas 87,932, 88,963 and 82,673.

East Texas field 690,000, 690,000 and 690,000.

West Central 55,881, 55,499 and 51,125.

West Texas 242,718, 242,310 and 216,447.

North Texas 125,932, 123,481 and 111,503.

Panhandle 74,150, 74,583 and 64,145.

After a commission conference, member Ernest O. Thompson stated:

Hearing Conducted

"The three of us (commissioners) agreed that there would be no increases in allowables until and after a statewide hearing was held. If matters come up requiring that there be a special hearing, it will be held, but no increases in allowable will result until after the matter has been heard or taken up at a statewide hearing. This means there will be no special allowables."

11 New Locations Staked In Panhandle Last Week

The Panhandle field registered 11 new locations last week and added six new oil wells and four new gassers to the list of completions.

New oil totaled 1,098 barrels and new gas 83,834,000 cubic feet.

A New Stepping Stone To Pampa's Progress

Reviewing the past history of Pampa and it's progress, from a small country town then into the boom stages of the first days of oil development; then into a great solid building stride that today is taking form.

In prospecting of the future it is with a happy feeling, in knowing what is being done now to cement together in community life a unified spirit of cooperation in business, domestic, and social relations.

Undoubtedly a bank has a trust that is sometimes not referred to, other than in financial terms. A trust to a people, of a community who have given of their time and money to build. A trust to always cooperate and move in the lines that will carry and push forward the common interest and good welfare of the entire citizenry.

Monday as the Citizens Bank and Trust Co. doors open, throughout, from front to back, the entire personnel, directors and officials, enter upon a sincere job of offering a new "Stepping Stone to Pampa's Progress."

A source of ready cash, the bank has always stood as the stepping stone of progress. Industrial advancement would have been practically impossible without the financial aid great banks have given it. Industrial advancement includes your business. We are ready to loan you the money you need for new stocks, new improvements, new investment. Come in at your earliest opportunity and discuss your plans with us.

Experts' Aid To Be Sought By President

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt's intention to call private experts into the government to help with the extraordinary $3,297,011,352 defense program was announced at the White House today.

Stephen Early, press secretary, disclosed that Mr. Roosevelt planned to create a national defense emergency coordination group composed of both private individuals and government officials.

The chief executive intended to draw experts from industry, agriculture and labor, transportation, communication, finance and consumers, Early said. They would assist—but not supersede—the government officials, he declared.

While this announcement was being made at the executive offices, legislation aimed at "fifth column" activites in the United States increased in scope and gained momentum on Capitol Hill.

Recommending senate passage of a house-approved bill providing drastic penalties for subversive efforts among the armed forces, a senate judiciary subcommittee added to it a section requiring the fingerprinting and registration of all aliens in this country—estimated to number 4,000,000.

Chairman Connally (D.-Tex.) of the subcommittee told reporters the revised legislation was a necessary part of the preparedness program and would be placed before the full committee Monday.

Other developments touching upon the defense program included:

1. Colonel Frank Knox, Republican vice-presidential nominee in 1936, appointed a committee to confer with government officials on means of coordinating civilian support of the president's defense program. The appointees were General Malin Craig, retired, chairman; General Frank R. McCoy, retired; Colonel William J. Donovan, New York and Washington lawyer who led the "Fighting 69th" in the World War, and Lewis Douglas of New York, former budget director who left the Roosevelt administration after differing with its fiscal policies.

2. Rep. Ditter of Pennsylvania, chairman of the national Republican congressional committee, said President Roosevelt's recent defense message to congress had given thousands of people the impression than an attack upon the United States was imminent. This fear must be dispelled if the nation is to think clearly and plan wisely. Ditter said in an address prepared for broadcasting, adding that it was also "imperative" to levy additional taxes at this time to meet emergency outlays.

3. Senator George (D.-Ga.) suggested that the United States might buy, for cash, the island possessions of Great Britain, France and Holland in the Caribbean. The question of Allied war debts should not be considered in connection with negotiations for such a purchase, he added in an interview. George suggested also that military training be instituted in CCC camps.

4. The executive committee of the National Grange pledged the vigorous support of agriculture for efforts that would provide an adequate national defense quickly, expressed willingness to work with business and labor against profiteering and suggested an hour be set aside "when all America shall unite in prayer for the preservation of Christianity, democracy and freedom of the individual."

The salary of a civil service employe cannot be garnisheed.

● SERIAL STORY

— ROMANCE AHEAD

BY TOM HORNER

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Larry refuses to let himself fall in love with Monnie until he has learned more about Hugh's death. Riding out to the scene of the accident, he studies the curve. On his way back, he sees a plane land at Bentley's field. He believes he has seen a delivery of narcotics. On the way home, a car passes him. It's Monnie's.

CHAPTER IX

MONNIE'S car was safely parked in the garage by the time Larry reached the corrals. He unsaddled the black, turned him loose, then hurried to the back of the garage. He had hoped to find boot tracks but there were too many footprints in the dust to tell him anything, and he wasn't enough of a tracker to pick out the most recent set.

He crept around to the open doors, slid in beside the car, silently lifted the hood. The motor was still warm. He glanced up at the house. A soft light came from the window of Monnie's room.

So she had been to Bentley's. Perhaps he was wrong in believing the plane had delivered narcotics, Larry argued. Monnie could have driven to Bentley's, then taken Mike out to the field to meet some friend, flying through. But if that had been the case, why were the lights switched off as soon as the plane came to a stop, and why had Monnie returned home by the rough canyon road rather than by the highway? He wished he might have had a better look at the driver of the car as it passed him.

Before he could make any report to Harris, before he could be sure he was on the right track, Larry knew he must have proof—evidence that would stand up in court. Getting it wouldn't be easy. Nor particularly healthy, if the gang got wise to him. There were ways of getting rid of an overly inquisitive cowhand. Accidents could happen.

Hugh had taken that chance—and lost. Larry would have to take his own risks.

BARNES let him sleep late the next morning. It was Sunday, and there was no work to be done. Shortly before noon Larry saw Monnie come from the house, go to her car. He hailed her.

"Sorry I rushed away last night," he began, awkwardly. "I guess I acted pretty much like a fool—"

Monnie laughed lightly. "I was the fool, Larry. Forget it. Be seeing you—" She started away. He caught her arm, fell into stride beside her.

"I'm not sorry it happened, though," Larry went on. "And when—"

She stopped, faced him. He noticed there were circles under her eyes. She had been awake half the night.

"Listen, Larry. You almost kissed me. So what? I'm glad you didn't. So are you. Now forget it ever happened. I have. . . . Now I'm in a hurry. Mike just called."

"You didn't see him last night?" Larry fired the question at her.

"Of course not! But if I did, what business is it of yours?" she answered, temper flaring.

"I just wondered," he explained lamely, watching her go on to her car. Then he ran after her, leaned on the door as she started the motor.

"But your light was on—the light in your room, until after 3. I saw it."

"Mis-ter Collins"—her voice snapped—"I fell asleep reading. The light was on until this morning. It isn't the first time it has happened, nor the last. Now if you've completed your cross-questioning, I'd like to go on. I am in a hurry."

LARRY spent the remainder of the day apparently walking aimlessly around, actually searching for what he knew he must find. About a mile from the house, in the shelter of a little draw, he made his discovery.

A man had waited here—waited several hours. Numerous matches and half-smoked cigarets told Larry that. There had been two horses, too. . . . He found marks where two saddles had been dumped on the ground, or at least he thought he did.

That would explain the theft of Monnie's car. Two horsemen had come from Bentley's. While one had crept up to the garage, taken the car without disturbing anyone, the other had remained hidden. If the theft had been discovered, the watcher would have warned his pal. Monnie's car would have been found miles away.

When the car was returned, the man with the horses had covered the other's escape. And everyone at the Hayhook had slept peacefully through the whole night.

It suddenly occurred to Larry that he might have been seen coming from the canyon gate. In that case, he would be wise to be more careful in the future.

And Monnie would have to keep her car locked. If she refused he could take the keys, return them each morning. He'd tell Barnes that he had seen some tough-looking hombres on the place, suggest that everything at the ranch be locked at night.

He mentioned it to Barnes that night. "Found some truck tracks along the railroad fence today, Pete. That bunch of calves would make nice pickings for a bunch of truck-rustlers."

"They sure would," Barnes agreed. "Have trouble with them every year. Lost 20 calves one spring."

"Perhaps I'd better keep a look-see around each night," Larry suggested. "And it wouldn't hurt to keep the cars locked and put a padlock on the saddle house."

"Not a bad idea." Barnes fell in with the idea immediately. "You ride night herd on those calves. I'll see that you get some sleep. But don't mention it to the Colonel or he'll start another cattle war."

THE night trick gave Larry plenty of time to watch for the return of the mysterious plane. He sent to town for a pair of field glasses, borrowed a carbine from Barnes and spent every night from midnight until dawn perched on a hill overlooking the canyon road.

If the plane came in, a few minutes hard riding up the canyon would bring him close to Bentley's landing field, and he counted on Bentley's carelessness and self-confidence to keep him from being discovered. He wasn't worried about rustlers stealing the calves. He had lied to Barnes about seeing the truck tracks. But he kept an eye on the herd.

Monnie had apparently forgotten their quarrel. Barnes gave him an easy job, wrangling horses, kept him close to the ranchhouse during the day, and Larry found opportunity to spend most of the afternoons with her.

Bentley's visits became less frequent and Larry wondered if Monnie's interest in the rancher had lessened. Bentley wouldn't be dismissed easily, however, so Larry decided that probably Bentley was on one of his frequent hunting trips.

He thought it all out as he sat on the hilltop one dark night. He was in love with Monnie—hopelessly and completely. He had a constant battle with himself to keep from telling her.

There'd be time for that after he had settled this narcotics smuggling, discovered how Hugh was killed. Then, and only then, he told himself, would he let Monnie know.

His horse, tethered at the end of a lariat, raised his head, whinnied. Someone was coming up the hill behind him. Larry moved quickly to his saddle, pulled the carbine from its scabbard, pumped a shell into the magazine and waited.

Mexico Closely Watching Aliens

MEXICO CITY, May 25 (AP)—Mexican officials, from President Cardenas down, have ridiculed talk about "fifth column" activities in Mexico but it was learned the government is watching more closely than ever before the conduct of aliens.

Latest official to speak out on the "fifth column" reports was Mexican Ambassador Francisco Castillo Najera to Washington, who said last night "there are no so-called fifth column activities in Mexico."

The ministry of the interior announced recently that all government investigating agents had coordinated their activities to keep a watch on foreign agents.

Ignacio Garcia Tellez, minister of interior, said warring nations doubtless had agents in Mexico, "as would be expected naturally," but that all activities of foreigners were being watched closely.

Meanwhile, increased propaganda has been noted here.

Foreign observers said four known German intelligence operatives had come to Mexico in recent weeks, but that agents kept them under surveillance and found no evidence of subversive activity.

Hitler Predicts Trapped Allies Will Be Destroyed

BERLIN, May 25 (AP) — More than one third of the German army is in Belgium, the Netherlands and northern France and most of the balance will be ready, after a few days' mop-up of the encircled area, to take Paris, storm the main Maginot line or invade England, an authoritative source said tonight.

(The German army has been estimated as high as 9,000,000 men.)

Within the encircled area, backed up against the channel coast, this source said, are 500,000 French, 400,000 Belgains and 200,000 English, the "cream of the army."

They will be captured or destroyed with the next few days, he predicted.

At the same time authoritative sources whose information heretofore has been well-nigh official declared that the much-discussed "secret weapon" of the Germans, coupled with operations on an "exciting" scale, will be employed to bring about "great things" in a few days.

This source said these operations would be on as large a scale as those which bottled the northern Allied armies.

The Germans claim to have employed their "secret weapon" in capturing Fort Eben Emael above Liege early in the German drive into Belgium.

At the beginning of the war it was understood that Germany had 250 divisions of high grade troops, or about 5,000,000 men, ready to throw into the field, in addition to reserves.

During the day's operations Germany tightened her ring of steel around the Allied armies in Flanders' flatlands.

Dive-bombing Stukas attacked the English channel ports of Dieppe, Ostend, Dsnkerque and Blanenberghe to block the landing of British reinforcements. The French attempt to slash through to their beleaguered Allies was described as "weak."

At his battlefront headquarters, Adolf Hitler was believed nearing another decision—whether to hurl his blitzkrieg at once into England, or carry the war south to Paris.

New Gains Claimed

German battle maps pictured the noose around the British as tightened by two-thirds within 48 hours, with these new gains:

1. Advance patrols from the thrust up the English channel entered Calais, 22 miles from England, and battled with Allied defenders in the streets.

2. Troops that broke the Scheldt River defense line smashed on east over the Lys river—Belgium's last natural barrier.

3. Spearheads from the northeast and southeast menaced industrial Lille—fortified since 1030—which changed hands three times in the opening months of the World War. The advance from the southeast over part of Vimy Ridge.

With the pace of invasion speeded in apparent disregard of the cost in men and materials, German sources said the position of the trapped British and Belgian forces seemed hopeless.

Calais, although not yet claimed as fallen, was reported rendered useless for British landing operations. Throughout the World War the Allies doggedly held Calais as the principal avenue for landing men and arms from Britain.

Some patrols were said to have circled Calais toward Gravelines, the next port northeast.

Military spokesmen added that the German air force was "capable of cutting off every possibility of retreat" from the last avenue of escape—Dunkurque, Ostend and Zeebrugge.

Wheels of the Blitzkrieg Machine

Swift moving bicycle detachments sped in the wake of Germans' defense-smashing tanks. Nazi censor's caption on above photo says wheelmen are clearing a wall during Netherlands invasion. For speed, soldiers carry only rifles, heavy knapsacks and other equipment following by truck.

Governors To Meet In Duluth June 2 To Discuss Defenses

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today that governors of the 48 states would meet in Duluth, Minn., about June 2 and that he understood their intention was to support and pledge cooperation to the defense program.

Mr. Roosevelt discussed the meeting yesterday with Governor Lloyd C. Stark of Missouri.

The Duluth meeting will be the regular annual conference of the governors.

The chief executive discussed the governors' meeting at a press conference at which he also announced virtually complete preparation of the pilot training phase of the billion-dollar defense program.

The Senate Naval Affairs committee rejected a suggestion by Chairman Walsh (D-Wash) that certain testimony by Rear Admiral John H. Towers, chief of naval aeronautics, be suppressed.

The testimony was said to indicate the navy had on hand at present only about 500 airplanes capable of equal combat against modern European war planes.

Asked about Attorney General Jackson's statement that the chief executive had known for sometime of "fifth column" activities in this country, Mr. Roosevelt said one of the sources of information, some of which he said was good and some not so good, was the record of the Dies committee on un-American activities.

Business Houses Asked To Display Flag Memorial Day, Thursday

Pampa business houses are asked to make it possible for their employes to take part in the Memorial Day services to be held at 10 o'clock Thursday morning at Fairview cemetery, and to display the American flag from sunrise to sunset, Paul D. Hill, general chairman of the observance, said Saturday.

All ex-service men are asked to meet at the American Legion hut, wearing their caps, at 8 o'clock Thursday morning, then to join the public in the services at the cemetery two hours later.

Lee R. Franks, commander of Pampa post 1657, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be in charge of the service, and Judge W. R. Ewing will be master of ceremonies.

Invocation will be by the Rev. Joseph S. Wonderly, pastor of Holy Souls church.

A V. F. W. ritualistic service will be held.

Decoration of graves will be under the direction of both the American Legion auxiliary and V. F. W. auxiliary, headed respectively by Mrs. Hoyt Allen and Mrs. John I. Bradley, presidents.

Speakers will be Mayor Fred Thompson, County Judge Sherman White, and Walter Rogers. W. Calvin Jones will be song leader.

Bill Kenton's accordion band is to play, as will the Pampa High and Junior High school buglers.

A prayer by the Rev. Buford A. Norris, pastor of the First Christian church, will conclude the ceremony.

Color bearers, color guards, and a firing squad, with John W. Crout as captain, will take part in the services.
