Hudson River Project Gets Federal Loan

Mid-Town Vehicular Tunnel To Be Constructed Under The Hudson From New York Over To New Jersey

Texas Gets Cash

Rio Grande Drainage Project In New Mexico And Texas Is Awarded $500,000; Work Is Almost Complete

By CHARLES P. WILLIAMSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—A loan of $37,500,000 to the port of New York authority for a mid-town vehicular tunnel under the Hudson river today brought total allotments from the public works fund to $1,327,896,136.

This advance, to finance construction of a tunnel under the Hudson from New York to Weehawken, New Jersey, carried the public works administration's total approvals for the day from the $3,300,000,000 fund over the $33,000,000 mark.

Allotments Announced

Earlier, it announced allocations of $13,413,000 for construction work on 14 irrigation projects in Arizona, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Texas, Oregon and Utah, and $2,250,000 for the naval hospital at Philadelphia.

By the allotment today the navy department will be able to complete the hospital at Philadelphia already 30 per cent finished.

By far the largest part of the total allotments made so far from the fund have gone for construction on federal projects, although the biggest single item was a $400,000,000 grant to the states for roads.

Navy Gets Big Slice

The navy department by an executive order received the second largest item so far from the fund—$238,000,000 for ship construction. Contracts for the vessels have been awarded, the last of which will be signed this week by Secretary Swanson. The navy also received $13,600,000 for construction and repairs at shore stations.

The other larger allotments included $50,000,000 to the Tennessee valley authority; $100,000,000 to the farm credit administration; $40,000,000 by executive order to the civilian conservation corps; $25,000,000 under a provision in the law for establishment of subsistence homesteads; $43,986,936 for flood control on the lower Mississippi river; $44,460,000 for reclamation, including $38,000,000 for Boulder dam; $22,700,000 for the Casper-Alcova irrigation power project in Wyoming; $11,500,000 for continuation of work on the nine-foot channel in the upper Mississippi river; and $35,000,000 for forest highways.

Long Is Fighting Mad Upon Return

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 30. (AP) — Senator Huey P. Long arrived in New Orleans tonight fighting mad from his recent experiences in Milwaukee and New York and bearing the wound over his eye received in a fight in a New York club.

He flatly refused to comment on any subject put to him by interviewers and then ordered the ten men who met him at a suburban station not to permit his picture to be taken.

His guards rushed photographers and pushed one of them down an embankment as the senator walked rapidly to his waiting automobile that carried him home. At home over the telephone he said: "I have nothing to say."

Trio Believed Fatally Hurt As Sawmill Boiler Explodes

NACOGDOCHES, Aug. 30. (AP) — Three persons were burned, probably fatally today when a sawmill boiler exploded at the Tilford-Hunt lumber company mill six miles south of Nacogdoches.

The injured were Leonard Sample, 13, son of Tim Sample, sawmill worker; and two negroes, Lonnie Coleman and Nathan Clever.

The cause of the explosion was not learned immediately.

The three victims were brought here to a hospital, where attendants said they had only a slight chance to live.

ORDER REINSTATED

AUSTIN, Aug. 30. (AP)—The Texas railroad commission today reinstated its order permitting, under certain conditions, the taking of "back allowable" from wells in the East Texas oil field, effective September 1.

The commission had refused to let operators make up their back allowable since July 1.

Man Offers His Life To Science

(By The Associated Press)

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 30. Herbert Brown, 28, tall and blue-eyed, tonight offered himself, with no heroics, as an experimental subject in the fight against sleeping sickness.

Describing himself a victim of tuberculosis and expressing a wish to "do something" before he died, Brown said he was ready to submit to experiment that might aid science in its endeavor to discover the cause of encephalitis that has claimed many lives in the mid-west.

"I can not work," he said, as he smilingly and simply stated his proposal. "I can hardly hope to live to be a very old man, and I would like to do something useful before I die."

Oil Problems To Be Studied By New Group

Price And Production Control Will Be Major Questions Up Before Committee; Texas To Get Major Amount

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—In a prompt endeavor to remedy the problems of the petroleum industry, Secretary Ickes late today summoned the committee designated to deal with its troubles to meet with him tomorrow.

His call for the meeting came less than an hour after President Roosevelt had announced the members of the committee at Hyde Park, N. Y.

Work On Revisions

Ickes, chosen yesterday by the chief executive as oil administrator under the trade code that will govern the $12,000,000,000 business after Saturday, immediately set interior department agencies to work on proposed revisions of the plan.

Although no official work was given on what he and his advisors have in mind, it was intimated one recording in immediate prospect would provide a method of regulating oil prices to protect the producer against increased costs and the consumer against excessive prices.

Advocates of controlling oil's prices from the mouth of the well to the filling station hose were heavily in the majority on the committee appointed by Mr. Roosevelt at Hyde Park, with 13 of its 15 members identified with the faction demanding this move.

Protection Promised

The question of regulating prices and the extent to which it should go for weeks prevented agreement on the code, and led eventually to President Roosevelt's desk for a settlement of opposing views between Ickes and Hugh S. Johnson, the industrial administrator, who opposed any price regulation.

If and when price regulation should be attempted, it was made

Mounting Returns Give Wets Big Majority In Washington

SEATTLE, Aug. 30. (AP) — Washington's leap to the repeal bandwagon gave it a push that will assure elimination of prohibition before Christmas, national and state repealists said today as mounting returns from Tuesday's election indicated the state returned only four dry delegates to 35 wets.

The total vote for wet and dry delegates late today with 2,079 precincts out of 2,632 reporting, was 340,310 for repeal and 141,857 against.

Longer Time Between Drinks In Houston, Officer States

HOUSTON, Aug. 30. (AP)—It'll be a longer time between drinks here in the future, Dr. Herbert Page, county health officer, decreed today.

Beer dispensers, in their haste to serve customers during the pre-legalization days, are not sterilizing beer mugs properly, the health officer said. He said he would demand rigid enforcement of the health ordinance.

ENGINEER KILLED

TEMPLE, Aug. 30. (AP)—C. Garrett, of Austin, highway engineer, died in a hospital here tonight of injuries received when his automobile overturned on the highway near Temple when it ran into a dip which had filled with water from a sudden rain. Garrett suffered a skull fracture.

No Balloting Before Six Months; Must Be County-Wide

DECISION on whether another local option election can be held within six months in Lubbock county, is to be given the county commissioner's court by Vaughn E. Wilson, county attorney, when and if beer election petitions now circulating in Slaton are presented, it was learned last night.

Mr. Wilson, it was indicated, will hold that the court cannot call an election until six months have elapsed after the first election. This will put the next election some time after February 26.

To Be County-Wide

The county attorney also, it was learned, is expected to hold that the next election must be county-wide.

The petitions, according to reports, are to be presented Friday to the court. At that time the court will ask the legal advisor of the county for a ruling on whether an election can be held. The formal ruling is to be made then.

Mr. Wilson said he had made an exhaustive study of the statutes before reaching his decision.

Slaton, in last Saturday's election, voted for the sale of 3.2 beer by a substantial majority. Since Monday petitions asking for an election to determine if beer can be sold legally in the city, have been in circulation and, according to reports, have been widely signed.

Bodies Of Crash Victims Are Sent To Burial Places

CLOVIS, N. M., Aug. 30. (AP)—The bodies of five victims of the crash of a Transcontinental-Western air liner against the side of Mesa Redondo 60 miles northwest of here Tuesday night, left here for Amarillo and Kansas City tonight.

The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gore and their three-year-old granddaughter, Evelyn, were sent to Amarillo for burial. The Gores were enroute to their home in Albuquerque and were thrown clear of the plane when it split in two after crashing against the lava studded face of the mesa.

Pilot Howard Morgan's body was sent to Kansas City and that of his assistant, C. W. Barcus, was taken to Terre Haute, Ind. Morgan and Gore were badly burned by the fire which broke out immediately after the plane crashed.

Road Projects Get Approval

Total Of $57,603 To Be Spent In Lubbock; Dawson County Gets $18,694; Work Begins In Two Weeks

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Aug. 30.—C. E. Swain, director of the bureau of public roads, announced today that contracts for emergency construction in fifteen counties aggregating $1,343,343.78 had been approved by his office.

Only the formality of the signing of contracts stands in the way of beginning construction activities, Swain said. This will be completed in about two weeks.

Emergency Program

The fifteen jobs were awarded as a part of the government's $400,000,000 emergency employment relief program, under way to provide work for the unemployed. Contracts specify that local labor and materials must be used and that skilled labor must be paid a minimum of 45 cents an hour and common labor not less than 35 cents an hour.

Counties in which the work is to be done and the amount to be spent are: Lubbock, $57,603; Hunt, $240,303; Hartley, $57,861; Archer and Jack, $152,835; Brazoria, $61,313; Dawson $18,694; Cooke, $35,069; Bexar, $109,873; Hill, $15,241; Travis, $144,840; Wilbarger, $65,467, and Fisher, $45,048.

Four Men Given Terms After Pleas Of Guilty To Robbery

MAGNOLIA, Ark., Aug. 30. (AP)—On pleas of guilty to charges of kidnaping and robbery four men were sentenced to 12-year penitentiary terms here today.

The four, Earl Lampkin, Kilgore, Texas; W. E. Stephenson, Eldorado; George West, Eldorado and Charles West, Louann, confessed, officers said, to kidnaping D. A. Westmoreland and C. T. Rogers, Waldo business men and robbing them of $73.

Codes Are Pushed

Retail And Coal Codes Being Considered And Speed Asked To Line These Two Units Up Under Blue Eagle

By JAMES P. SELVAGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30. — A nearly completed bituminous coal code, disputes over price-fixing in the charter for retailers and the question of dealing with Henry Ford's attitude tonight awaited Hugh S. Johnson's attention as he sped back from Boston.

The administrator's chief deputies were pushing the two major codes toward completion—with indications that the retail agreement would not be ready for President Roosevelt's approval before next week—but the chief executive had placed the Ford matter squarely before Johnson.

Asks Full Report

Mr. Roosevelt asked his recovery chieftain for a full report on the failure of the Detroit motor magnate to affiliate himself with the code promulgated for the auto industry. While word from Hyde Park, New York, indicated the president was considering action before he starts his cruise back to the capital tomorrow, he asked only for full information.

Long known as an independent in the automobile world, the Ford Motor company never has affiliated with the National Automotive Chamber of Commerce, whose members drafted the code. The Lincoln Motor company, also operated by Ford, is a member, however.

If Ford declines to sign the code, there are three alternatives that might be adopted by President Roosevelt should he decide upon direct action.

First, under the recovery act he might license the automobile indus-

Bambino Declares He's All Through

NEW YORK, Aug. 30. (AP) — The Herald Tribune tomorrow quotes Babe Ruth as admitting he is "all through" as a ball player.

"I guess I might as well hang up the spikes," the paper quotes the Yankee outfielder, "I can't sign up as a player next year. The legs won't stand it. I might get by at first base, but not in the outfield. I'm through."

Asked if he would like to manage a club next year, Ruth was quoted as saying:

"That's up to several people besides myself. I'm still the property of the Yankees. If another club wanted me as manager they would have to make some sort of a deal with Colonel Jacob Ruppert. And it's up to the owners of the other clubs. I haven't been approached even unofficially by any of them yet."

ATTORNEY ARRESTED

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30. (AP)—Roscoe Clough, an attorney suspected by federal authorities of being the ringleader of a gang which attempted to dispose of $1,000,000 worth of bonds stolen in middle-western bank robberies, was arrested today in South Bend.

Argentina Is Signed Up On Wheat Policy

Finishing Touch Is Put Upon Pact Which Leaders Think Will Rehabilitate Industry For All Nations

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Aug. 30.—Argentina's signature to the international wheat agreement today put the finishing touch to a pact which, the negotiators assert, will rehabilitate the wheat industry and thereby do more toward restoring world prosperity than could any other single factor.

Wheat experts assert that unless the world's impoverished wheat farmer is put on his feet there can be no universal prosperity.

Works No Miracle

Frederick E. Murphy, Minneapolis publisher and American representative, is one of those who hold this opinion, but he said today that the agreement need not be expected "to work a miracle overnight."

Argentina became the 22nd nation to sign the pact, the general purpose of which is to reduce production by the great wheat nations and stimulate consumption in the importing countries.

The delay in the signature of Argentina, which is one of the major wheat-producing nations, had caused much uneasiness among the negotiators. The other principal nations signed last Friday but Argentina did not join the pact then because her representative, Tomas Le Breton, was on the continent.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Murphy took a hand and got in contact

Murder Trial Will Be Held Before Judge And Attorneys

SEMINOLE, Okla., Aug. 30. (AP)—Ervin Young, 17, charged with murder for the fatal shooting of his father, Melton Young, at Bowlegs last April 28 will be tried September 7 in superior court here before Judge C. Guy Cutlip and two lawyers, Irving L. Wilson and E. J. Sutherland.

The unique court procedure was agreed upon by Tom Long, defense attorney, and R. E. Criswell, assistant county attorney, both waiving a jury trial.

Claire Windsor Tells Of An Ardent Courtship And Love Letter Is Read

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30. — Claire Windsor, golden haired stage and screen player, told of an ardent courtship by Alfred C. Read, handsome Oakland broker, in the trial today of the $100,000 alienation of affections suit brought against the actress by Read's former wife, Mrs. Marion Read.

Miss Windsor told the jury she had been deceived by Read's marital status when she first met him on a transcontinental train.

While one of the many letters which passed between the broker and Miss Windsor was read into court records, Mrs. Read stared steadily at the actress on the witness stand. Mrs. Read charged in her suit that Miss Windsor was the aggressor in the affair and "inaugurated a campaign to alienate Read's affections."

The letter, written by Miss Windsor to Read three hours after he left New York on one of his numerous trips east, opened with "darling" and ended with "my devoted

Martial Law Proclaimed; National Guardsmen To Patrol New Mexico Area

Strike Leaders Seek Withdrawal Of Order And Promise No Violence In Picketing

(By The Associated Press)

GALLUP, N. M., Aug. 30.—National Miners Union strike leaders tonight requested Brig. Gen. Osborne C. Wood, adjutant general of the New Mexico national guard, to withdraw the martial law order declared here because they meant no harm or violence in their walkout.

At the same time, the strikers indicated they would answer General Wood's order prohibiting picketing within company property, with a mass march on the Gallup American Coal company mine at Gamerco.

The strikers request came a short while after they had been informed of the proclamation signed by Gov. Arthur Seligman late today in which Gallup and the five coal camps surrounding it were placed under martial law. Previously the strikers had declined to confer.

General Wood had announced that picketing activities would be prohibited within company property, but he would allow the miners to continue their picketing activities outside the boundary lines as long as they created no disturbance. He said the martial law proclamation was absolute, but he would "exercise it only to the degree that conditions demanded."

On receipt of the governor's proclamation, the general ordered between 200 and 350 national guardsmen here from Albuquerque, Clovis and Roswell.

The United Mine Workers of America, recently organized here, is taking no part in the strike.

The governor's order, issued last night, followed an appeal from McKinley county authorities and coal operators. "The condition is serious and beyond our control without bloodshed, probably loss of life and heavy damage to property," a telegram to the governor stated. It was signed by Sheriff D. W. Roberts and the heads of five coal companies in the county.

Inquiry Board Probes Wreck

Fatal Crash Of Crack Train To Be Investigated; All Of Victims Identified; Bodies Are Being Held

Coop Leader Declares Control Program Of Government Is Dawn For Cotton Farmers Of The United States

(By The Associated Press)

PLAINVIEW, Aug. 30.—C. O. Moser, of New Orleans, vice president of the American Cotton Cooperative association, declared today that the cotton acreage control program of the national administration "is the dawn for cotton farmers." He addressed a large gathering of farmers here for a two-day public conference on agricultural topics.

Mrs. M. S. Hudson, vice president of the Texas Farm Bureau federation, told the meeting that the woman's sphere in the agricultural recovery program is to "study legislation, cooperate with the national recovery administration and arrange her household for proper living economy."

Legislation Needed

Texas legislation is needed to protect dairy farmers in the production and sale of butter, A. B. Tarwater, chairman of the Texas house agricultural committee, declared in an address. He advocated a tax on oleomargarine.

The menu of a banquet served tonight was composed entirely of Hale county products, to illustrate the program of self-sustaining economy.

John N. Norton, department of agriculture representative, will address the meeting tomorrow on the wheat reduction program.

Cotton Plans For 1934 And 1935 To Be Talked In Texas

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 30. (AP) O. B. Martin, director of the Texas A. and M. college extension service, was advised in a telegram from Washington today that the cotton meeting called by Secretary Wallace for Dallas Sept. 5 was to bring together all interested in the cotton industry to discuss a program for 1934 and 1935.

Martin said farmers and representatives of cotton co-operatives especially were invited, as well as cotton merchants, brokers, ginners, oil mill men and others.

Canvass To Be Made Of City To Enlist Aid

More Than 200 Workers Are To Take Part In Mammoth Drive To Bring All Stores Under Wings Of Blue Eagle

Meeting Is Slated

General Sam Arnett Calls For Cooperation; Women Are To Aid With A House-To-House Drive In Near Future

MORE than 200 workers, soldiers in the NRA army of Lubbock, will take the field today, spurred on by the slogan, "Lubbock under the Blue Eagle by Labor Day."

Shortly before a store-to-store canvass of the city is to be started, the soldiers of the army will gather at Hotel Hilton ball room for instructions. The meeting will start at 9 o'clock.

The canvass will be made to ascertain just how much has been done and how much more will be done to aid President Roosevelt's recovery program. There are five majors under Col. Homer D. Grant, with five captains to each major and eight men to each captain in the drive.

Enthusiasm Shown

Enthusiasm marked the appointment of majors, captains and soldiers in the drive. Each man accepted his appointment as an opportunity to serve his city and nation, it was explained yesterday.

TO LUBBOCK CITIZENS

"Lubbock must do its part in this great plan. We have never failed when the nation called and we will not fail now."

Sam C. Arnett,
General, NRA Committee.

"Lubbock will have a definite share in this increased prosperity to the extent that it participates in the plan, so there is a responsibility on every citizen to cooperate to the utmost to make this gigantic national plan a complete success," said General Sam C. Arnett of the NRA in a statement last night. "Every employer and every consumer has a definite responsibility to assume.

Calls On All Employers

"NRA calls on every employer to shorten hours of labor so as to make room for more employes.

"Every individual, man and woman, who buys anything, owes it to himself or to herself, the community and the nation, to buy only from those employers who have taken the increased burden of increasing payrolls to bring back prosperity. This is to the self interest of the consumer, because no citizen can fail to share in this added prosperity. It will reflect itself in increased values for everything he owns. It will make his present position more secure by reversing the process of deflation."

Strange Funeral Ceremony Staged

DENVER, Aug. 30. (AP)—The old Windsor hotel bar-room, famous in the days of picturesque ranchers and miners, was the scene of a strange funeral ceremony.

The funeral was that of Joe Kelly and the mourners were pals with whom Joe fraternized at hobo camps.

Frank Rice, "bishop" of the liberal church, passed out cigarets to the mourners who gathered around the pine coffin that rested on two beer cases. Brief eulogies of Joe were given in a conversational tone. There were no tears.

After a sermon, Rice placed an adding machine on the coffin and the mourners filed past, each punching a number. The "prayers" were added up and the roll of paper placed in the coffin. Kelly was buried in a potter's field.

Informal Entertaining Continues In City; Late Vacations Are Of Interest To Many

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE BRAN WILSON
Avalanche Woman's Editor

DISRAELI had some advice I'm going to try. "When I meet a man whose name I cannot remember," he said, "I give myself two minutes; then, if it is a hopeless case, I always say, 'And how is the old ailment?'"

So, in the future, if we meet and talk and then at length I inquire "And how is the old ailment?" you may as well respond to the cue with "My name is——." That will have the embarrassment all around.

Anyone who has a memory course that trains people to remember the names of their friends should come around. I can't promise him a fortune but he could do me a vast favor if he would give me the formula for knowing who people are. And it is I'm never sure—particularly if we haven't met for some six months or so. It is disconcerting to attempt introductions, discover that your brain simply will not respond with a name and finally, upon breaking down and admitting you don't know a person, have him remind you that you have been acquainted all of your lives.

It has been bad in the past but now, with Disraeli's help, things should be considerably easier. When I inquire of your ailment you can respond with your name. That will save us both some embarrassment.

FOR GRAPE JUICE

PERHAPS you are looking for a simple way to make grape juice. One of the readers called in for a hurry-up way the other day.

Here is one way and the juice is good. I tried some—that I didn't make—so I know.

You cover the grapes with water and cook until the juice is all boiled out. This is strained. The juice is re-heated and sealed in bottles or jars.

FOR QUICK ROLLS

THERE has been a call for hot rolls that are easily and quickly made. Here is a method that is easy. You can start it at 8 o'clock in the morning and have the rolls for lunch by working the dough only once, after it has risen in the refrigerator.

Use either two cups of warm water or one cup of warm water and one cup of scalded milk (the latter must be cooled to luke warm), one cake of Fleischmann's yeast, three tablespoons lard, two tablespoons sugar, one teaspoon salt and enough flour to make a stiff dough. One egg can be beaten and added with the other ingredients, although this is not necessary.

This is mixed into a stiff dough, greased over the top and placed in the refrigerator to rise. About an hour before the rolls are to be eaten the dough is worked and made into rolls. These are left to rise for thirty or forty minutes and then baked for 15 or 20 minutes.

You don't have to use that egg but your rolls will be better if you do. You can make up enough for several meals and make the dough into rolls as needed.

These two recipes were secured from my mother because I know they are good.

LET US HEAR

NOW that we are on the subject of recipes, it has been suggested that this column furnish a good one for a relish. There are some relishes in a bulletin that has been furnished to this desk by Miss Isla Mae Chitwood, the home demonstration agent. Most of these have been given in this paper in past seasons.

However, if anyone is interested, they will be repeated in the next few days. There are recipes for Dixie relish, chow-chow, beet relish, pepper relish, corn relish, uncooked tomato relish and n'import relish. All of these recipes have been tried and tested and sent out by the extension service, so they are reliable. If you are interested call me and they will be published.

Visitors Here Given Parties

Small Affairs Are Given For Guests In City And Others Who Are Leaving; Some Are At Home From Trips

Small, informal parties that have been given here during the last few days have honored visitors in the city and several who are leaving to teach elsewhere. Numbers of residents are returning from vacation trips.

Miss Lois Cooper is to leave today for Madison, N. J., where she is to teach Latin in a high school there. She has been visiting her mother, Mrs. J. R. B. Cooper, 2010 Main street, during the last few days.

Miss Marie Jackson has returned from a visit to Chicago and the world's fair. She took a boat trip on Lake Michigan while she was away and stopped in Wichita, Kans., and Liberty, Mo., to visit relatives and friends before coming home.

Mrs. R. C. Harvey and sons have gone to Fort Worth to visit her parents.

Misses Stella B. and Callie Ree Jackson honored Misses Louise Kennemer of Carter, Okla., and Vera Hamilton with a bufet supper Tuesday evening in the Jackson home near town. Games of forty-two and flinch were played by Misses Addie Belle Fort, Bethel Rogers, Rowena Turner, Annie Lorea Butler, and the honorees.

To Honor Guest

Miss Kennemer, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Larry Baker, was complimented last evening by Miss Butler, who had a slumber party at her home, 2215 Eighteenth street. Mrs. Baker is entertaining this afternoon with a theater party and picnic for her sister.

Miss Ella Mae Tinsley has returned to her home in Carlsbad, N. M., after attending business college here.

Miss Orene McClellan, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Howard Hunt, 1009 Fifteenth street, has returned to her home in Spearman. She will return here in a few days.

J. W. Triplitt and sons, Joe Will and Rupert, spent the early part of the week on their farm in Bailey county.

Miss Carolyn Dixon, 1608 Avenue Y, entertained Tuesday noon with a farewell luncheon in her home. The three guests have been students in Texas Technological college this summer with Miss Dixon and two are leaving to teach this winter. Miss Imogene Couch, one of the guests, leaves today for Groom, where she is to teach. Miss Dixon is to teach in Happy. Miss Sylvester Power and Miss Juanita Shelby were the other guests.

Mrs. Hattie O'Hair is visiting in Coleman.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Terrell and daughter of Wichita Falls stopped here Tuesday to visit Mrs. J. R. Robinson. They were enroute to Carlsbad, N. M., to visit the caverns.

Miss Corinne Overstreet is teaching in Littlefield this winter. Her school opened Monday.

Family To Move

Floyd Norman, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Norman, of Amarillo, returned to his home Tuesday after visiting here. The Normans are moving to Austin where their daughter, Mary Kathryn, is to enter Texas University. Floyd is to return to Galveston where he is a medical student. The Normans formerly resided here.

Miss Evelyn Jennings, a teacher in the Colorado schools, is to go to Spur today to visit her sister, Mrs. Joe Long, and will go from there to Colorado. She has been spending the summer with her sister, Mrs. M. C. Overton, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Sears have returned to their home in Albany after visiting in the home of Mrs. Sears' sister, Mrs. N. L. Peters, and family, 2421 Thirteenth street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Robertson and son, Bobbie, and Mrs. Robertson's sister, Miss Beuna Sowell, have returned from a trip to the world's fair in Chicago.

Return From Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Blocker and Mrs. Blocker's mother, Mrs. George W. Stevens, have returned from a trip to Hot Springs and Winslow, Ark., and Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Brown are spending the week in Dallas, Sulphur Springs and Paris.

Miss Bertha Helen Triplitt left Tuesday morning for a visit in Cisco. She is to attend a friend's wedding.

Miss Corene Ratliff left Wednesday afternoon for Apache Creek, N. M., where she is to teach school this winter.

Miss Christine Hall and daughter, Gladys; Mrs. J. F. Morris and Mrs. Harry Morris have returned from a visit in Big Spring.

Mrs. George Schloegel of San Antonio is the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. C. Cole, 2617 Twenty-Second street.

Georgene McCauley of Hollis, Okla., is the guest of her cousin, Betty Cross, 2318 Eighteenth street.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Stewart and family visited in Lockney Tuesday. They were accompanied home by Miss Estelle Byars, who is the guest of Miss Anice Stewart.

Food Is Lowered Over Dizzy Cliff To Three Boys Marooned On Ledge

ADIRONDACK LODGE, Lake Placid, N. Y., Aug. 30. (AP)—Sandwiches, water and oranges were lowered over a dizzy cliffside today to three boys, marooned on a narrow ledge of rock 400 feet high since yesterday morning.

The package of food dangled at the end of a 1,000 foot rope from the top of the sheer rock side of Wallace mountain, and was finally caught by the youths.

Because of sharp rocks which threatened to sever the rope, no attempt was made to hoist the stranded youths to the top of the half-dome shaped mountain in the heart of the Adirondak wilderness.

A state policeman was dispatched from the rescue camp to Lake Placid, 15 miles away, to obtain 500 feet more of heavy rope. Because of the weight, the rope was to be put in an airplane and dropped to the party on the mountain top.

Heavy rope, the rescuers believed, would hoist the boys safely past sharp rocks, particularly a ledge jutting out from the cliff several hundred feet above the boys.

Marriage Licenses To Be Available Immediately With Repeal Of Old Law

Love lorn folk who have been waiting until Texas' famous "gin marriage" license law is wiped off the statute books before they get their licenses, have only one more day to wait, County Clerk Ed Allen pointed out yesterday.

"Friday morning," he said, "I can issue a license without the couple having to wait three days to get it."

Since June, 1929, when the state law requiring a 3-day wait went into effect, New Mexico towns have reaped a harvest from Texas couples going there to get married.

Clovis, N. M., is estimated to have averaged $10,000 to $12,000 a year spent in that city by Texas couples for the past three years.

Portales, Lovington, Carlsbad and Roswell are other eastern New Mexico towns that have also reaped a harvest from out of the state business from West Texas. Couples from as far away as Abilene went to New Mexico to get married.

Two Sentences Of Youths Suspended

Sentences of two years in the state reform school, imposed on two Lubbock youths, 12 and 13 years of age, following their pleas of guilty in juvenile court to charges of theft of radiator caps, were suspended by Judge E. L. Pitts yesterday.

The youths were taken into custody by police after a man who said he had bought the caps, had brought them to police headquarters. The man said he thought the boys did not have the right to sell the caps.

"If more people who are offered small items by boys would do as he did, report to the police, there would be less trouble with juvenile delinquency," Judge Pitts said. "Any one who buys articles that are stolen, is contributing to the delinquency of the youths. The sales encourage boys to steal other things and sell them in order to get money."

Suspension of the sentences is pending good behavior, the court pointed out. Further trouble will mean the lads will have to go to the state reform school.

Kansas City Department Store Is Robbed And Four Employes Taken As Hostages; Fleeing Car Is Wrecked

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 30. (AP) — Three youths who robbed Kline's department store this morning and kidnaped four employes as hostages were captured in the Rosedale district of Kansas City, Kans., when they wrecked their automobile attempting to elude pursuing officers.

The robbers and their hostages, Mrs. Ollie Johnson, Mrs. Lydie Steele and Miss Poe Fisher, telephone operators, and Leonard Daniels, an assistant cashier, were uninjured in the wreck.

The robbers attempted to flee on foot but a moment later surrendered to officers without the firing of a shot. They were taken to Kansas City, Kans., police headquarters where they gave their names as Jim Colose, 21; Tom Cappo, 20; Louis Mello, 20, all of Kansas City.

Officers said the amount of which was not determined immediately, was recovered.

FORT WORTH, Aug. 30. (AP)—Applications for public works projects in Texas totalling $22,480,495 were filed today in the office of Robert A. Thompson,, state public works engineer, as the "first day's business" dockcted for consideration by the Texas public works advisory board.

Establishment of a water works improvements estimated at $540,272 for Cameron county was listed as "application No. 1".

Submitted by Moody

The application which lists various projects to be carried out for Cameron county improvement district No. 1, was submitted by former Governor Dan Moody, attorney for the district.

Many of the applications filed including the Cameron county request, were sent in from a week to 10 days ago but the official filing of them for orderly presentation to the advisory board was started today.

The docket for the board is being prepared by J. W. Chatham, secretary to Thompson and chief clerk for the board.

Represent Only Part

The applications which have been filed represent only a part of those which have been received. Col. Ike Ashburn, chairman of the state board, and Thompson conferred with a delegation from Denison, including Mayor Clarence Scott, City Engineer A. M. Breuneke and City Commissioner P. H. Tobin. They submitted applications for a number of projects.

roads and trails. The largest single non-federal allotment made so far was $63,000,000 to the Columbia basin commission for the Grand Coulee dam in the Columbia basin development project. It was approved on the basis of a 70 per cent loan and 30 per cent grant.

Program Incomplete

The program for river and harbor improvement under public works fund has not been completed, but the board made a separate allotment of $14,158,108 for channel work on the Missouri river as far as Sioux City, Ia.

Housing specialists of the public works administration are studying extensive slum clearance projects in some 25 cities. The administration already has allotted approximately $10,000,000 for slum clearance projects in Boston, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, New York City and Hutchinson, Kas.

Numerous smaller allocations have been made, ranging from $5,000 to $4,950 for soil erosion control work done for department of agriculture experiment stations.

Improves Conditions

In approving the expenditure today for work in irrigation projects the public works administration said it would not bring new lands into cultivation but would improve conditions on existing projects in order that the lands could be served better with water.

The awards included: New Mexico and Texas, Rio Grande drainage, $500,000.

The award for the Rio Grand is for the construction of drains and laterals, the area to be served being in New Mexico. The proposed work is on an almost completed federal reclamation project. The investment of $13,500,000 which already has been made is being repaid by water users.

Stocks

WALL STREET REPORT

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 30. (AP)—Stocks dragged lower today in a rather uninteresting market. Wheat, on the other hand, rallied vigorously after an early sag; its recovery served to check the downward swing in shares during the last hour, but the list slipped again at the close and net losses of a point or more were numerous.

Trade statistics coming to hand at midweek served to emphasize the previously apparent seasonal contraction in industry. Mining shares, stimulated yesterday by President Roosevelt's gold order, appeared to have discounted the prospective improvement in earnings as a result of better selling prices; they met considerable profit-taking and finished with numerous losses of a point or so.

With the market facing a three-day vacation, traders seemed willing to close out commitments and reluctant toacquire new lines, hence prices receded easily under modrate pressure. Transactions, on the whole, appeared professional and routine, the trend being readily influenced by orders either way, as was the case in wheat. Around mid-afternoon cotton had a flurry when a rumor of imminent Russian recognition was floated, but that commodity was off 65 to 95 cents a bale net. Stock sales totaled 2,170,780 shares.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 30. (AP) — Cotton fluctuated rather freely today in sympathy with the erratic course of stocks and grains and the close was at net declines of 13 to 14 points. Trading was not very active.

The opening was somewhat easier owing to lower Liverpool cables than due and easier sterling. Manchester said business was still restricted in the cloth and yarn markets. First trades here showed losses of 6 to 7 points and the market lost a few points more after the start, owing to some hedge selling and an easier opening of stocks.

The weekly weather and crop report was considered on the whole rather favorable despite mention of increased weevil activity, and wheat opened lower, cotton continued to decline during the morning until October dropped to 9.38 and December to 9.59 or 17 to 18 points below the previous close.

Near mid-session prices rallied 9 to 10 points on buying orders and ruled firmer during the first half of the afternoon owing to a good upturn in wheat and covering by shorts. Prices made new highs for the day at 9.55 for October and 9.79 for December or 17 to 20 points above the lows of the morning and unchanged to 2 points up compared with yesterday's close. The market weakened again in the late trading in sympathy with stocks and owing to some hedge selling and lost 13 to 15 points from the highs. October closed at 9.42 and December at 9.64 or 13 points net lower for both these active months.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 2 penny points down.

Port receipts 15,273, for week 101,965, for season 482,895, last season 375,025. Exports 32,361, for week 77,079, for season 504,478, last season 428,552. Port stock 2,977,824, last year 3,279,635. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 81,267, last year 71,148. Spot sales at southern markets 19,794, last year 22,965.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 30. (AP)—Cotton lost some ground today under liquidation and southern selling. December contracts after declining to 9.65 during the forenoon sold up to 9.83 but lost the improvement, closing at 9.66. The general market ended barely steady at net losses of 13 to 19 points.

Initial prices were 7 to 12 points lower in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables and scattering liquidation. October sold off to 9.45 and May to 10.10 late in the morning, making net losses of about 17 to 18 points. Offerings tapered off at these figures and rallies followed on covering and a scattering demand promoted by improvement in grains and stocks.

For a time the market showed considerable firmness with October selling up to 9.65 and May to 10.27, but this advance brought out increased southern selling and prices eased, closing within 2 or 3 points of the lowest for the day on most of the active positions.

The weekly report of the weather bureau was considered about a standoff according to some of the local traders, and had little apparent effect on the market. Exports today 32,361 making 496,435 so far this season. Port receipts 20,886. U. S. port stocks 2,976,676.

Speaker Rainey Opens Drive For NRA In Oklahoma City

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 30. (AP)—Speaker H. T. Rainey of the U. S. house of representatives, told a huge southwestern NRA rally at fair park tonight that those who attack the NRA are "not technically" guilty of treason "but morally they graze the very edge of treason."

"There is no partisanship in the present movement toward recovery," he said. "In both the house and senate, a checkup, I think, would show that as large a percentage of Republicans voted for the recovery program as Democrats."

love to you." It was signed "Claire."

"You have been gone only three hours," the letter said. "It seems so strange to come up to my room and not call you to let you know I am here, and in a few minutes I'll be eating alone—I won't go upstairs but to the little room below where we have breakfast every morning. Everyone seems to know you were gone, for many came up to me and asked if I felt blue. I guess I must have looked rather gone and far away. I miss you dreadfully, my sweet. Give my best to Frank and my devoted love to you."

NEGRO IS INJURED

Willie Baylock, Floydada negro, received a broken ankle as he was repairing a tire on highway No. 9 about five miles north of town, about 9 o'clock last night. A car struck the negro while he was working. The driver stopped to render aid. A passing motorist brought the negro to the Lubbock sanitarium where he was given emergency treatment.

Grains

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Aug. 30. (AP) — Grain prices at Fort Worth followed today's upturn in contract markets. Demand for cash grain was reported greatly improved. Estimated receipts included: wheat 2 cars, corn 2, and barley 1.

Prices ranged as follows, basis car loads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid to destination:

Delivered Texas gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: wheat No. 1 hard 98@99; barley No. 2 nominally 58@60; No. 3 nominally 57@59. Sorghums No. 2 milo per 100 pounds 1.28@1.33; No. 3 milo 1.26@1.31; No. 2 kaffir per 100 pounds 1.15@1.18; No. 3 kaffir 1.13@1.16.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: corn No. 2 mixed 67 1-2@68 1-2; No. 2 white 70@71; No. 2 yellow 68@69.

Delivered Texas common points: oats No. 2 red 45@46; No. 3 red 44@45.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Aug. 30. (AP)—Grains abruptly "about faced" today and turned sharply upward late in the session, reports that Argentina had signed the London wheat pact helped the advance.

Led by wheat with a rise of more than six cents a bushel from early low levels, all grains finished well above the previous close. Weakness in early dealings was acute, September liquidation causing distress in all grains. Wheat quotations were down to the lowest levels reached since June 23, but better buying developed at the bottom and the upward reaction was the strongest in some time.

Wheat closed strong at gains of 2 3-8 to 2 7-8 cents a bushel, compared with yesterday's finish, corn also strong and 1 7-8 to 2 1-2 cents, up oats 3-4 to 1 7-8 higher, rye 1 3-4 advanced, and provisions ranging from a 25 cent decline to gains of 8 cents.

There was rejoicing among the negotiators this morning when the Argentines signified their readiness to sign, and a love feast was held at Canada house, where the ceremony took place.

The next move is for the governments to appoint their members of the permanent advisory wheat committee, which presumably will have headquarters in London and will guide the working out of the agreement.

Jimmy And Betty Thought Expecting Blessed Event; Friend Returns And Tells; Planning Return To America

NEW YORK, Aug. 30. (AP)—A guarded hint that former Mayor and Mrs. James J. Walker are expecting a baby was given out today by A. C. Blumenthal, home from a visit with the couple on the Riviera.

"They both talk about the baby all the time," said Blumenthal, a close friend of Walker and his second wife, the former Betty Compton.

He returned yesterday from a European trip during which he stopped with Mr. and Mrs. Walker in their villa at Cannes. They have been living there since a honeymoon tour of Italy after their marriage at Cannes city hall last April 18.

"If they can have a baby," Blumenthal continued, "it will be the greatest happiness of their lives. I suspect that there is some reason for believing that there will be a blessed event in their family before long."

"Can't you make the statement more definite?" he was asked.

"Well, I'd like to, if I could. All I know is both Jimmy and his wife are very anxious to have a child."

Asked if Walker, who resigned as mayor last year during an investigation of the city government by Franklin D. Roosevelt, intended to return soon to the United States, Blumenthal said:

"He is planning to return with Betty, but not right away. I should say about the first of the year. He will reenter the practice of law. That's his plan."

To a question whether Walker might seek a return to politics, Blumenthal replied:

"A comeback as a lawyer will be comeback enough for Jimmy. He and Betty are very happy together. They are living very conservatively, not seeing many people, living the simple life."

Walker's marriage to Miss Compton took place a little more than a month after his first wife filed suit for divorce in Miami, Fla. The decree was made final on March 27.

Young Victim In Clovis Air Tragedy

Pretty Little Evelyn Gore, 3 years old, of Amarillo, was among the five victims of a TWA mail and passenger plane crash near Clovis, N. M., Tuesday. She was enroute to Albuquerque to visit her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gore. They and the ship's pilots also died when the plane lost its way in a storm.

Chief Of Police Grins And Denies That He Took A Sock At Huey Long

NEW YORK, Aug. 30. (AP)—With a wide grin, Chief of Police Steve Webber of Port Washington denied published reports today that he was the guest who smacked Senator Huey P. Long over the eye at a Long Island club charity affair Saturday night.

To inquirers, the police chief—a husky, 220-pound amateur boxer, six feet and more tall—displayed his hard fist, free of any bruises.

Asked by friends if he would object to the publication of the reports that he was the assailant, Chief Webber said:

"Not at all, as long as you print along with it my flat denial of the report."

Asked if he had any inkling of the reaction if he said he were the senator's assailant, the police official, chuckling, declared:

"I'd be popular—and I'd lose my job."

Capitol Chatter

By Charles E. Simons

Associated Press Staff Writer

Charles E. Simons

AUSTIN, Aug. 30. (AP)—No longer will the beauty of the campus of the University of Texas be marred by the unsightly wooden shacks that have sprawled over the original 40 acres for the past 15 years.

The last of the shacks, originally erected as temporary structures, is being removed and the campus beautification program speeded. At one time there were about 50 of these buildings on the campus. They were erected during the war for classrooms and barracks for the reserve officers' training corps and the students' army training corps.

Old grads who were surprised at the changes in the campus last year will be even more amazed when they return for next year's annual round-up festival. The main campus is being landscaped from end to end to make a fitting setting for the several million dollars worth of buildings that have been, or are now being, completed.

Construction of a museum on the university campus is regarded as probable with the action of the board of regents in offering a site to the American Legion for the building.

The Legion plans to construct the museum, which also will house the state headquarters of the veterans' organization, from proceeds of the sale of 500,000 Texas centennial half-dollars. The coins will be struck by the federal government and turned over to the Legion which hopes to dispose of them as souvenirs at $1 each, leaving a net profit of $500,000 for the museum.

Minting of the Texas centennial coins has been approved by congress.

Several designs for the coins have been suggested. They include both pictures and busts of Stephen F. Austin and Sam Houston, copies of the capitol dome and the Alamo, the Texas seal or flag, a map of the Lone Star state, and busts of Bowie, Fannin, Crockett and Lamar.

A meeting of the Legion centennial committee was held prior to the state convention in Wichita Falls to consider the designs.

Oil Problems

clear, it would be designed to protect to the fullest the small producer, refiner and distributor as well as the consumer, in a general plan equitable to all interests and subject to President Roosevelt's approval.

Another immediate problem before the committee—and one on which concededly hangs the success of price regulation—was the control of production and allocation among the oil states of their share of the estimated national demand. Without full production control, officials said price regulation would be too hazardous.

Tentative tables on demand and production quotas have been prepared by the bureau of mines for the committee's consideration. These tables were understood to call for a daily production of between 2,100,000 and 2,300,000 barrels.

Texas—a sore spot because of its heavy production from flush fields—was expected to be allocated the largest share of any single state, around 900,000 barrels daily, with a like amount divided among California and Oklahoma-Kansas producers.

Anti- Racket Law Is Urged In New York Jury Inquiry

NEW YORK, Aug. 30. (AP) — New York county's grand jury today appealed to Attorney General John J. Bennett, jr., to utilize the new state antiracket law to investigate charges of politico-racketeer alliances.

The jury, which heard United States District Attorney George Z. Medalie and Chief Justice Frederic Kernochan of the court of special sessions charge that certain political leaders were linked with racketeers, suggested that "if the conditions alleged really exist, a statewide agency should be the medium of investigation."

try and the owner of any firm then operating without a permit would be subject to a $500 fine and six months jail sentence, with each day's operation considered a separate offense; second, by withholding the Blue Eagle and singling Ford out for criticism he might direct public opinion against the manufacturer's products; and, third, he might permit Ford to submit a separate code.

Johnson said yesterday, however, he would not take this latter course added:

People Will Crack Down

"I think the American people will crack down on him (Ford) when the Blue Eagle is on other cars."

As the final drafting of the bituminous coal code went forward, based upon the agreement between operators and miners reached Monday night, plans for cooperative marketing of the product were proceeding apace.

Under the intentions of the operators, the entire Appalachian coal industry will be blanketed with selling agencies molded on Appalachian Coals, Inc., whose legitimacy within the anti-trust laws was established last year by the supreme court.

Work on the intricate retail code was assuming increased importance at the NRA and officials were endeavoring to have it ready for President Roosevelt when he returns next week.

All of the victims had been identified today and those of the injured who were able left by special trains made up near the scene of the wreck and at other strategic points. The bodies were held here pending word from relatives.

Dead Are Listed

The dead were: C. J. Croft of Tucumcari, engineer; James Randall of Tucumcari, fireman; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Varley of Quincy, Ill.; F. D. Cook, Southern Pacific employe; Sister Mary Cecilia of Tucson, Ariz.; Mrs. Katherine Sammons of Pasadena, Calif., and Mrs. J. L. Whitten of Englewood, Calif.

Officials of the line expected considerable difficulty in clearing away the debris. They began looking for heavy tractors to pull the cars out of the channel but first planned to use heavy torches to cut through the mass of twisted steel.

Chicago Dairy Is Cited For Selling Milk Below Schedule

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30. (AP) — Secretary Wallace tonight called upon a Chicago dairy to show why its license to operate should not be revoked for selling milk below the prices fixed in the milk trade agreement for that area.

His order, the first such issued under the licensing power given the farm administration under the act authorizing the formulation of such agreements, cited the Meadowmoor Dairies, Inc., as having sold milk since the agreement went into effect Aug. 1 at prices below the fixed schedule.

School Days

SCHOOL days, school days, saddest and gladdest of the year. Saddest for children who, with the first day of school, must bid farewell to the freedom of vacation days and gladdest to mothers who then begin their vacation.

It is hard for outdoor and play-loving boys to return to school, but after a day or two they find that school isn't a bad place to be after all. The three R's are not such a bitter pill when taken with liberal doses of sports, recess games and schooldays' companionship. There have been two revolutionary developments in education—free schools and popular schools. Once parents could not keep their children in school. Now they could not keep them out of school. The schools, not the children, deserve the credit.

Mother breathes a sigh of relief when school opens for then she can pack the little Indians off to school and enjoy a few hours of peace and quiet, but when the summer recess arrives she will welcome relief from those two "packings" a day. Teachers who have had practical experience in getting a child ready for school can appreciate what they ask when they urge their pupils to report each session with clean faces and hands, clean clothes, hair combed and teeth clean.

Soon the great trek back to the schoolroom will begin and the shouts and laughter will not be distinguishable from those that accompanied the equally great exodus last spring.

CONFIDENCE AND CONCEIT

Efficiency experts and practitioners in the art of super-salesmanship lay stress on what is casually termed "self-confidence." To sell one's product or to sell one's self, they say, one must have confidence in one's products or in one's ability and talents.

But there is a wide difference between legitimate self-confidence and stupid conceit. The latter quality, unfortunately, is to be found in many persons, in many different walks of life, and when displayed to any noticeable degree at all, is insufferable. Beautiful women, that is, those who are naturally beautiful and do not have to depend upon artificial aids, often take on the air of having been altogether responsible for their pulchritude. They forget that fate just as easily might have made them hideous. And the same thing is true of the handsome youth who, realizing his handsomeness, affects the role of having been altogether responsible for his good looks. Fate might just as easily have marred him, too.

Conceit, however, takes its worst form in those human frames which lay claim to more than the average brains or intellectuality, and this applies particularly to professional walks of life. Even in the matter of brains or intellect, whatever gods there be obviously are as capable of producing morons as they are of producing intellectual giants. The most beautiful woman, of course, is that woman who, although quite lovely, seems unconscious of it. And the wisest man is he who realizes that mortal wisdom, and especially his own endowment of it, has many limitations.

VICTIMS OF HOPE

One of the strangest quirks of human nature is the hope which "springs eternal in the human breast."." It is the mysterious little thing which sends the soldier into the thick of the fray confident that he will come out alive and unscratched. It is the ineffable something which permits man to live happily unmindful of inevitable death. It is the optimistic, omnipresent companion of man through the vicissitudes of life. Without it life would be unbearable to the multitudes.

But while hope is indispensable to humanity it not infrequently becomes the author of tragedies. After sowing a full field of happiness hope sometimes harvests a bumper crop of sorrow and misfortune. There is an adage that "man can not live on hope alone." Those who try it usually suffer only disillusionment or starvation. Hope is responsible for a great deal of human improvidence.

Some of those who overwork hope are the workman who, hopeful of continuous employment and high wages, preserves none of his earnings; the husband and farther who, hopeful of dying at an independent old age, fails to give his family and himself the protection of life insurance; the property owner who hopeful of never having a fire places no fire insurance on his property; and the man who, hopeful of permanent good health, neglects to preserve his health.

SELF RESPECT

"Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself". Matthew 19:19.

A person can think no more of his neighbor than he does of himself. A respect for self is necessary for a respect of other men. "He can develop no adequate appreciation of his fellowmen if he fails to learn to recognize his own intrinsic worth as a person." (Stolz).

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

THE first faint smudges from powerful backfires against President Roosevelt's recovery program are beginning to appear over the horizon.

All evidence points to their having been surreptitiously ignited by die-hard elements in the realm of big business and high finance. Fortunately these subterranean acts of social and economic sabotage are not being inspired by a majority. The men heading America's biggest corporations realize the nation must sink or swim with Mr. Roosevelt's revolutionary experiment.

Unfortunately the financial strength of those behind this sniping is sufficient to make itself felt to some degree.

General Hugh Johnson, boss of NRA, ever sensitive to the smell of kindling charged with dynamite, was quick to detect this under-cover defection. He is resorting to the time-honored custom of fighting fire with fire.

The President has cast the die. Johnson intends to gamble boldly until we win our way out or—and he won't admit this possibility—we lose badly.

STETHOSCOPE: Even in some sections of the press Johnson has noted a trend that would indicate the honeymoon is over and he will have to fight vigorously to gain each forward step.

One of the most influential metropolitan newspapers in the East recently editorially attacked NRA's proposal to boycott tradesmen who didn't display the Blue Eagle. On top of this came an editorial pronouncement in a chain of papers that Johnson might better abandon his "hard-boiled" tactics with potential but reluctant code-signers.

And finally, formal instructions went out from New York headquarters of one of the largest news services henceforth to treat NRA stories "more objectively."

INEVITABLE: There is one industry affording the Roosevelt Administration a real heartache.

This one is bituminous coal, already told bluntly by the President it was obviously on the decline and had caused government more trouble than any other in recent years. If the soft coal men are to be believed they have reached the end of their rope. They say they have been living on capital for some time and simply cannot stand an additional burden of increased wages and shortened hours.

Mr. Roosevelt told leading bituminous operators they were over-producing. This was nothing new to them. They know it only too well.

As matters stand now the bituminous operators are looking at a federally-written code only because they have nothing else to do.

But they have an answer. It is to accept the inevitable against which they have been fighting for years and close down about 50 per cent. This would solve the problem of over-production and eventually bring about economic readjustment of the industry.

Such a move would wreck havoc however with the general idea of putting more men back to work.

NOTES: If you don't think NRA is deadly serious, did you listen in the other evening when Ruth Bryan Owen, our first lady Minister, broadcast an appeal to American women to stand by the Eagle from her diplomatic post in Copenhagen, Denmark? . . . Mrs. Owen, daughter of the famous Commoner, is regarded as aces-up with the Democratic Party in conquesting feminine support even though she has to do it by remote control. . . . They do say that when General Johnson gets in the presence of Barney Baruch, his long-term boss, the NRA chief loses a lot of that hell-fire bluster that has won him so much publicity of late. . . . And speaking of Johnson, the newspaper men who heaped so much flowery publicity on his secretary, Miss Frances Robinson, seem to have soured on the diminutive young lady. . . . Fame is fleeting, judging from the atmosphere here.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

GENERAL JOHNSON certainly heaved a rock into a hornet's nest when he passed those remarks about the banks jeopardizing NRA by falling down on their credit job.

Nothing that has happened since March has stirred such a trenchant peeve among New York bankers. Up to now they have been on the defensive—swallowing the hefty bricks that came their way almost without protest. But now their backs are up and they intend to hew it out on their own lines and let the chips fall where they may.

This time they sincerely feel they are entitled to claim a foul. Typical remarks of leading bankers—expurgated—run as follows:

"Do those birds think we're taking three-sixteenths of 1 per cent on our money for fun? They want us to finance other people's red ink. That would put us right back where we were on March 4th and damned if we're going to do it!"

And again: "Howinell can we make the kind of loan they want us to and not have our depositors walk out on us ? If we were so half-witted as to hand out credit to everyone who asks for it the depositors would be dumb if they didn't."

A leading bank had the following specific case to deal with. A customer wanted to borrow $200,000 for six months. He showed a good statement for the past six months—in the black for the first time in three years. They asked him why he wanted the money. He answered that his costs were going up under NRA and he wanted to be sure to be able to meet them. The bank asked him whether he was sure he could meet the loan in six months. He said no, frankly, he wasn't. So they turned him down.

Now the bank inquires with heat whether General Johnson would have considered that a fair risk to take with its depositors' money?

PLATFORM: The local banks have adopted a firm if informal platform for themselves which says: Depositors first, stockholders second and borrowers a poor third. It was not always thus in the golden twenties but it seems to be straight goods now. And they say they will give a swell imitation of Horatius at the Bridge if anyone tries to pry them off it.

DEADLOCK: As far as the local banking community can learn, its views on credit are pretty generally shared by other banks throughout the country. That makes it look like a deadlock all around.

What's the answer? No one here pretends to know. The banks say they cannot even consider the types of loans NRA wants them to make except under one condition. That would be for the Federal Reserve banks to guarantee—and if necessary take over—the collateral offered for such loans. It is faintly possible that something of this nature will be worked out as an emergency measure. The determination not to budge from the no-risk lending policy doesn't seem likely to yield to psychological or other pressure.

BARGAIN BRIDE

by KATHARINE HAVILAND-TAYLOR

CHAPTER XLVIII

Elinor whispered, "Barry, dear!" and he sat suddenly erect. He said unsteadily, "I'm going to say good night now, dearest!"

Again he kissed her hands and she clung to him. He kissed her lips, then moved abruptly away. At the door he paused and turned. "You'll never know," he said, "how happy you've made me!" Then he was gone.

Elinor began to cry again but this time they were tears of happiness. How could she have hurt him as she had? His future was what she should be thinking about—not his past. She knew how utterly she loved him. She had not deserved all Barrett had brought her. Barrett had said she was the one woman in his life. Dear, dear Barrett!

She lived again those moments when he had held her close in his arms, declared he would wait patiently if only she could care again in the old way. "Oh!" she breathed aloud. This happiness was real!

Marcia arrived the next day after Bob and Barrett had driven to the nearest links, their golf bags poking from the car.

Marcia, looking dramatic in black, stepped from her car. She saw Elinor and, turning, saw Gerald. She moved toward the boy, swaying a little, and when she was beside him put a hand on his shoulder. He looked up at her with friendly inquiry. Elinor drew near.

"Dick knows," Marcia said stridently. "I told him and he doesn't care. All he wants now is my happiness. I learned this morning that I can never have another child. You'll let me have him back, won't you? You won't fight to keep my boy?"

"I don't understand!" Elinor said. Poor passionate Marcia! Barrett had admitte that she was often a "little difficult." Was this one of the vagaries of a mind turned sick because of her loss?

Marcia moved slowly toward a chair into which she sank wearily. For a moment she leaned back, her heavy eyelids closed. Then, looking again at Elinor, she said:

"I'm talking about my first marriage." She nodded toward Gerald. "He's my son, you know. Barrett shielded me. I've been thinking—I can't help thinking that it was because I let him do that—that I lost my baby."

"But you mustn't think such things, dear!" Elinor said hotly. "That's morbid." She too dropped to a chair close to Marcia's. Her knees had suddenly become absurdly weak. Barrett, poor Barrett!

"I made Barrett promise not to tell anyone but I presumed he had told you!" Mercia went on.

Elinor shook her head.

"Well, everyone — anyone can know now. I'm through with lies and telling them. Tell the child to come here, Elinor. I want to look at him—"

"Gerald!" Elinor called not quite steadily. Shyly and a trifle awkwardly the boy moved toward them. Marcia held his hands tightly as she fed her hungry heart, looking on the small boy's freckled face.

When Bob and Barrett returned toward the close of the afternoon they found the butler stowing Gerald's luggage into Marcia's smart car. "She's my mother!" the small boy told them excitedly. He was dressed in his best, ready for the trip. "But she says I can come back and visit you often and I do like her!"

"My God!" burst frfom Barrett. He stood, staring blankly at Gerald, then at the car and the attending chauffeur who was doing his best to keep from showing the surprise he felt.

Bob, who also had come to a full stop, gazed blankly as he tried to digest the truth, then whistled shrilly through his teeth. I'll be darned!" he said.

Marcia appeared then and Elinor followed her. Into Marcia's step had come something that had been lost from it, the energy that means a return of hope.

"It's all right, Barry!" she said happily. "Dick understands — and he is waiting for us. For Gerald and me. We're going to celebrate the reunited family at dinner tonight—"

She kissed Barry and patted his arm. "I'm not depriving you, I know—" she went on. "Elinor told me about that when I saw her last. Oh, not in words but I could read it in her face. She almost fainted at the thought—" Marcia's eyes brimmed but she went on bravely —"of a baby's dying."

Barrett was frowning his bafflement, moisting his lips. He sent a look of appeal to Elinor who was flushed and smiling. Then Marcia stepped into her car and Gerald followed. He leaned from the window and waved as they rolled on down the hill.

Barrett moved toward Elinor and she turned to Bob. "Bob," she said, "you have always been one of my most understanding friends—"

He bowed, smiling. "Present," he agreed.

"I think I'd like a little time alone with my husband," she confided with an uncertain laugh.

"Haven't you some letters that you really must write?"

"Dozens," Bob agreed promptly. He disappeared into the house, satisfied. Everything was as right as he had supposed it to be. And he wanted their happiness now; not Elinor's alone but happiness for Barret too.

Barrett drew Elinor's hand through his arm.

"Suppose we go inside," she suggested.

In the small living room he faced her, hands on her arms.

"Barry," she said slowly, "if I had failed to say what I did last night—before I knew the truth—I'd be terribly ashamed of myself"

"But you did say it, Elinor."

"Yes, Barry—"

"Darling!"

"I feel like going down on my knees to you—"

"Don't!" he whispered. He drew her close then to press her face against his shoulder. Hand on her hair, he stared above her head, still stared blindly.

"We'll see Gerald often. Marcia said we would."

"Yes."

"Barry, will you forgive me? Can you forgive me?"

give. Oh, Elinor—"

"Yes?"

"What did Marcia mean when she said you'd told her? What had you told her, Elinor? "

He held her away a moment and looking down at her. He seemed to see her as he had never seen her before, his wife who had told him she wanted to make life worth while for him. His wife—

Then all at once he understood what it was she had told Marcia. He closed hi seyes, drew a deep, unsteady breath and drew her close again.

Well, Higgins knew that everything was all right again. The butler had stepped into the living room to arrange the tea and had backed out again, glad they had not heard him. He had seen Barrett holding Elinor close in his arms as though he would never let her go, his face bent to hers. And Elinor was clinging to him.

Higgins was "that happy" to know these two, whom he loved, had overcome misunderstandings. Trembling, he tiptoed back to the dining room. "I thank thee, Lord!" he mutterted. "Indeed I do. Very, very much!"

And doubtless, since the Higgins had no children, he was right.

dom of God is made up of these who love others better than themselves. God understood to smile on Higgins and upon a man and woman who knew what marriage and love could mean. Upon a trio who felt earth to be not far from heaven at that moment.

"The tea must wait a bit," Higgins said to the cook. "They're busy with more important affairs!"

THE END.

Three Softball Battles Played Here Yesterday

Hicksall-Pryor, Lubbock Comets and Avalanche-Journal teams were victorious in yesterday's softball league games.

Including three circuit blows in their attack, the Compress team defeated the Weiss-Truck terminal eight, 10 to 8. H. Freeland knocked two home runs and McClure hit out one.

Hicksall-Pryor scored two runs in the first inning and the Federal employees tallied three times, but it was all the government boys and the auto parts clubs banged out a 7 to 3 victory.

Gassers Beaten

In the National league, Manager Pinkey Henloy's Reporters from the Avalanche-Journal defeated the Texas Gas company, 7 to 6. Although they were outplayed in all departments of the game, the reporters took advantage of errors in the last inning to come from behind and win the contest. The losers scored five times in the inning. John Scott banged out a homer for the other run. Dick Hale clouted a four-bagger for the losers.

The schedule for today calls for an American league game between the McKee company and Weiss-Truck Terminal at the Ave. R. field. Hule-Ribble and Lubbock Ice are booked for the Ave. H park. No games are booked in the National league.

Country Club Aces Win 2nd Round Matches

Bays Bryant And Cotton McAfee Advance To Semi-Final Set Yesterday; Allen And Munn Play Second Today

Bays Bryant, tournament medalist, and Cotton McAfee, runner up in the Country club Invitation tournament, advanced to the semi-finals in the annual City Open tourney yesterday at the expense of T. H. Buckingham and Buster Fluke respectively.

Bryant, who shot a 64 to take medal honors last week at Meadowbrook, was back on that course yesterday to give par another blowing up. He required a 67—three under par—to defeat Buckingham, a Country club player, who also broke par with a 69. The score was 2 and 1.

McAfee had less trouble with Fluke, winning a 4 and 3 decision with a fine exhibition of golf.

Hot Foursome Today

The other two places in the semi-finals will be established today when Manson Allen and Clinton Bussey, both of Meadowbrook, meet in a second round match in the upper bracket and John D. Munn, Country club ace, takes on Joe Bihl, sensational shooter from Meadowbrook's caddy ranks.

Allen, Busey, Bihl and Munn will play in a foursome today, beginning at 1:30 o'clock. A large gallery is expected to follow the matches at Meadowbrook. On Friday or Saturday, McAfee will meet the winner of the Allen-Bussey match and Bryant will tackle the winner of the Munn-Bihl scramble.

Consolations Played

Three first round consolations matches in the championship flight were decided yesterday. John Edmisson, who lost to Allen Tuesday, won over Carl Nail, loser to Bussey, by default, and JoDick Slaughter, loser to Bihl, won the same way over Alfred Holton. Sid Thrash defeated Roy Hall, 1 up, 19 holes. Francis Finberg and Howell Young are scheduled to meet today in a first round consolation match.

Three second flight matches were completed yesterday, leaving only one semi-final vacancy. Otis Felty defeated V. O. Jennings, 2 up; Ted Tipps, Country club team captain, won over Weldon Counts, 1 up, 21 holes, and Lee Jones had to go to the 20th hole before eliminating Ross McWhorter, 1 up. Charles Moore and D. A. Dowell are scheduled to play a second round match today.

Three consolation matches were completed in the second flight. Howard McIlroy won over Frank Wright by default; Jess Lockhart defeated Guy Minatra, 2 up, and O. K. O'Kelly downed J. W. Branch, 2 up.

F. L. McRee and Windy Watkins advanced to the semi-final round in the third flight, McRee defeating S. I. Fluke, 4 and 2, while Watkins was winning a 2 and 1 victory over Bill Briscoe. Bill Honey meets Bob Harvey, and Sandlin takes on Chandler in first round matches today. In the consolations of the flight, W. D. Girand, sr., defeated Jay Harston, 5 and 4 and Ed Hambright beat Seth Bertram, 3 and 2; McGee won over W. F. Helwig by default.

All second round matches in the fourth flight were played yesterday, bringing the field to the semi-final round for Friday and Saturday play. A. C. Jackson won over Lefty Bettes, 1 up; Rufus Bradshaw downed J. B. Acton, 5 and 3; N. L. Ball eliminated Anthony Borho, 5 and 4 and Bagwell downed McCarty, 2 and 1. No consolations were played yesterday in this flight. The pairings are: Patterson vs. Shepard; Brown vs. Parris; Alls vs. Mowery and Heard vs. Looney.

Allison And Van Ryn Beat Vines And Gledhill Lineup

ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 30. (AP)—A quartet of seasoned tennis campaigners from the eastern half of the United States took a three to one lead in the fifteenth annual East-West tournament today.

Only Jack Tidball, of Hollywood, Calif., was able to break the monopoly of the eastern players, he doing so by virtue of a three set conquest of Manuel Alonzo of New York.

Before Tidball's triumph, J. Gilbert Hall, of South Orange, had beaten down Joseph Coughlin of San Francisco, 6-3, 6-3, and Gregory Mangin of Newark, had squelched Keith Gledhill, 6-1, 6-4.

After the one western victory, Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, who used to play regularly together before the former gained a singles post on the Davis Cup team, joined forces in doubles to conquer Ellsworth Vines and Gledhill, 6-4, 7-5, and to put the east off to a surprising advantage over the far western representatives.

University of Iowa football teams have won 60 per cent of all their games since their first tilt with Grinnell in 1889. The statistics show 183 victories, 121 defeats and 10 ties.

Battered Yankees Return To Find Giants In Power

Doubles Champ

GEORGE LOTT
(See Story Below)

George Lott And Lester Stoefen Take Team Title

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 30. (AP)—George M. Lott, jr., of Chicago, today master-mined himself and Lester Stoefen, lanky Los Angeles star, into the National team championship with an 11-13, 9-7, 6-3 triumph over Frank X. Shields, New York, and 17-year-old Frankie Parker of Milwaukee, in the final match at Longwood.

Almost every stroke made during the 65-game contest was at Lott's dictation. He used Shields and Parker, two of the finest younger players in the game, as foils for his uncanny skill.

Lott and Stoefen qualified for the finals by defeating Don Turnbull and Adrian Quist, the Australian Davis Cup players who overcame Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn, 1931 champions and finalists for the last three years, and Shields and Parker eliminated the defending titlists, Vines and Gledhill, after conquering Fred Perry and Frank H. D. Wilde of England.

Wilson And Van Wie Lead Way In Women's National

EXMOOR CLUB, HIGHLAND PARK, Ill., Aug. 30. (AP)—Blazing the trail with prize shots that vanquished their foes and par by decisive margins, the golfing queens of Great Britain and the United States, Enid Wilson and Virginia Van Wie, led a march of favorites into the quarter finals of the National Women's championship today at Exmoor.

The English girl, out to place the American trophy alongside the three British crowns she has won in succession, and the American champion both shattered par by three strokes.

Miss Wilson disposed of Mrs. Harley Higbie of Detroit, 4 and 3, while Miss Van Wie, decorating her card with two eagles, defeated Mrs. Leo Federman of New York, 4 and 2.

Together with the champions of the leading golf nations, a pair of rising stars, Charlotte Glutting of West Orange, N. J., and Lucille Robinson of Des Moines, and four of America's most prominent contenders emerged victorious. The four were Mrs. Leona Cheney, St. Gabriel, Cal., 1929 finalist; Maureen Orcutt of Haworth, N. J., finalist in 1927; Mrs. Opal S. Hill of Kansas City, three times western champion, and Helen Hicks, 1931 titleholder from New York.

Shreveport Takes Lead In Dixie Loop Title Play-Off

SHREVEPORT, La., Aug. 30. (AP)—Shreveport jumped into the lead in the playoff for the Dixie League championship by hammering out a 7 to 3 victory over the Baton Rouge Solons today. A home run by Ross in the opening inning with two men on base put the local club in front and they were never headed. Steve Larkin of the Sports and Gene McClung of the visitors pitched good ball but the locals were fortunate in bunching their blows.

The teams play their second game here Thursday and will have an off day Friday. They resume the series in Baton Rouge Saturday.

World Champs End Bad Road Trip 8 Tilts Low

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Baseball's one-time "invincibles" limped back to the big town today, war-weary, pretty well battered and strangely inconspicuous.

World champions less than a year ago, odds-on favorites to retain the American League pennant as late at this June, the New York Yankees came back from a disastrous western trip, virtually out of the running, and almost unnoticed in the suddenly developed "Manhattan madness" over the rise of the Giants to the National League heights.

"What's The Shouting About?"

"What's all the shouting about?" asked Babe Ruth, somewhat ruefully, after slipping quietly, almost, into town. "Say, this must be a Giant town."

New York didn't give up hope of a Yankee come-back until the team started to skid in the closing stages of the last series with the league-leading and pennant-bound Washington Senators. But the club's August road trip and a bare even break through the west dispelled its last lingering chances. Eight games behind now, the Yankees are thinking mostly about where the lightning will strike in the drastic shake-up planned before next season.

Is He Through?

Ruth's slump to a point where the great slugger was playing only part-time and hitting only .167 for the trip was simultaneous with the general collapse of the Yankee resistance. The long-deferred end for the Babe's active, daily career seems definitely at hand, despite his own insistence that he still "has a lot of baseball left." He will be 40 next year and has now been through his 20th major league campaign.

BASEBALL'S BIG 6

(By The Associated Press)

Bill Terry connected with only one hit, a home run, yesterday but that one blow gave him a batting average of .333 for the day and shoved him back into baseball's Big Six. He replaced Wes Schulmerich, who could do nothing with Ralph Birkofer's offerings in the Pirate-Phillies game. Chuck Klein got two of the four hits off Birkofer to boost his average one point to .379. Virgil Davis went hitless and lost four points but retained runner-up honors in the National League's half of the sextet. The American League members were idle.

The standings:

Vernon To Be Host To Grid Coaches Of Northwest Texas Association In September

VERNON, Aug. 30. (AP)—The 1933 conference of the Northwest Texas Football Coaches' and Officials' association will be held in Vernon early in September. Acceptance of the Vernon invitation to be host city to the conference this year was announced by Dan W. Stallworth, head coach of Quanah High school football and president of the association.

Ray Morrison, football mentor at Southern Methodist university, Dallas, will, it is expected, be invited to address the conference on interpretation of rules.

W. T. Waggoner Returns To Home; Said To Be Improved

FORT WORTH, Aug. 30. (AP)—W. T. Waggoner, capitalist, cattle man and owner of Arlington Downs, returned today by train from Colorado Springs where he went about two months ago for his health.

He suffered a stroke of paralysis several months ago. Upon his return it was reported his condition was greatly improved but he will still be confined to his bed indefinitely.

Acompanying him home were Mrs. Waggoner and their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Paul Waggoner. Guy Waggoner, a son, will return to Fort Worth from Colorado within a few days.

Giants Cling To Good Lead With 5-4 Win

Cubs And Dodgers Divide Twin Bill At Brooklyn; Pirates Beat Phils; Braves Defeat Reds As The Rabbit Stars

NEW YORK, Aug. 30. (AP) — The New York Giants kept their six-game lead intact today as Lefty O'Doul followed up a home run blast with a ninth inning single to drive in the run that defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-4, in the league leaders' final game before invading Boston tomorrow for the first of a six-game series to be played in four days. The Braves also won today.

O'Doul's final inning blow, hit with the bases loaded, sent Joe Moore across the plate with the deciding tally but it was Lefty's home run smash, following Bill Terry's circuit drive in the fourth inning, that kept the Giants in the thick of the battle.

CUBS 2-3; DODGERS 1-7

BROOKLYN, Aug. 30. (AP) — For the third straight time, the Chicago Cubs and the Brooklyn Dodgers divided a double header today to close the championship operations at Ebbets Field for the season. After Charlie Root had outpitched Hollis Thurston to give the Cubs the opener 2 to 1, the Dodgers hammered Guy Bush hard to win the nightcap, 7-3. The Cubs scored both of their runs in the second inning of the opener.

The second game was a closely fought affair until the Dodgers broke loose with four runs in the seventh.

First game:

REDS 2; BRAVES 3

BOSTON, Aug. 30. (AP)—The ancient kid of the Boston Braves, Rabbit Maranville, gave the second place warriors a ninth inning victory today as he drove out a single with Pinkey Whitney on base for a 3 to 2 decision over the Cincinnati Reds in the final game of the series.

With the game deadlocked at two-all, Whitney opened the final inning with a single. He was sacrificed to second by Hal Lee's bunt. Al Spohrer fouled out but Maranville pushed the first pitch over Jim Bottomley's head into right field and Whitney raced home with the winning tally.

Cincinnati	000	002	000—2 5 0

Johnson and Lombardi; Betts and Spohrer.

Runs batted in, Hafey, Lombardi, Berger 2, Maranville. Two-base hits, Lombardi, Urbanki, Maranville. Three-base hits, Jordan. Sacrifice, Lee. Double play, Bottomley to Bluege; Whitney to Jordan. Left on bases, Cincinnati 7; Boston 6. Base on balls, off Johnson 1; Betts 4. Struck out, by Johnson 1. Umpires, Reardon and Quigley. Time, 1:25.

PIRATES 5; PHILS 1

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 30. (AP) — The Pirates made it four straight over the Phillies today, Ralph Birkofer allowing only four hits for a 5 to 1 triumph.

For the second consecutive day the Phils registered a tally in the ninth inning to save themselves from a shutout. Today it was the heavy hitter, Chuck Klein, who triumphed and then raced home on Gus Suhr's error.

Pittsburgh	000	311	000—5 13 2
Philadelphia	000	000	001—1 4 2

Birkofer and Grace; Ragland, Elliott, Liska and Davis.

Runs batted in, Suhr, Thevenow, Birkofer, Traynor, Lindstrom. Two-base hits, Suhr, Traynor, Klein. Three-base hits, Klein. Stolen bases, Warner. Left on base, Philadelphia 6; Pittsburgh 10. Base on balls, off Ragland 1; Birkofer 1. Struck out, by Birkofer 5; Elliott 1. Hits, off Ragland 10 in 6; Elliott 2 in 2; Liska 1 in 1. Wild pitch, Ragland. Losing pitcher, Ragland. Umpires, Maerkurth and Moran. Time, 1:45.

Iowa State college athletes during the 1932-33 school year took up "batching" and cooking their own meals. Many had plenty to eat for as little as $1 to $1.50 a week.

Earnshaw And Athletics Come To Parting Of Way

Big George Quits For Remainder Of Season

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 30. (AP)—Big George Earnshaw and the Philadelphia Athletics have come to the parting of the ways—at least for 1933.

Pitching hero of the 1930 World Series and one-time ace right hander of the A's hurling staff, Earnshaw has hung up his glove and spikes, disclosing today that Manager Connie Mack has retired him for the remainder of this season.

Picked Yanks to Win

The action climaxed the rift between Earnshaw and the veteran manager which had its inception last winter when news dispatches reported that the hurler picked the New York Yankees to repeat in the American League race this season "in a walk."

Earnshaw had been sent home twice from the road during the campaign this year, once from Detroit with the order "to get in condition"; the second time from New York with a fine and suspension.

Earnshaw would say nothing today concerning the possibility that he may be through with the game for good.

Robert Moses "Lefty" Grove, Athletics' pitcher, rates Joey Sewell his most troublesome left handed batting foe and Al Simmons the hardest-to-retire right hander.

GEORGE EARNSHAW

Boxing, Racing Is Legal Again

DALLAS, Aug. 30. (AP) — The old musty cobwebs of time have been brushed aside. Texas sportdom gets a new deal at mid-night tonight and again at midnight tomorrow night. The mythical witches will swoop down and tear yellow, filmsy pages from ancient senate journals. At the zero hour and from out of the darkness into the daylight will spring, first, legalised boxing and then on midnight tomorrow night, horse racing.

Boxing comes back after being illegal for 38 years.

The sport of kings trots back into bridle, saddle and bugle calls after being illegal 22 years.

It was in the dim 1895 that Governor Charles A. Culbertson called the legislature in special session for the sole purpose of passing a law that would prevent a championship battle between James J. Corbett and Bob Fitzsimmons. The law was passed, boxing was branded as a scarlet sport and remained so until the new Texas boxing and wrestling law was passed at the regular session of the 43rd legislature and authority for its enforcement was vested in the commissioner of labor, Jack Flynn.

The second of the liberal laws passed was legalizing the wagering on horse races. The law was attached as a rider to the general appropriation bill, a procedure that its opponents claim was irregular and unconstitutional.

Supervisors And Examiners Appointed By Jack Flynn

AUSTIN, Aug. 30. (AP)—Jack Flynn, state boxing and wrestling commissioner, today named deputy supervisors for the sport in 21 Texas cities. Other deputy supervisors will be appointed soon, he said.

Flynn also appointed medical examiners in 15 cities and approved eight additional applications for permits to promote boxing and wrestling matches.

"For the best interest of the sport I have decided to appoint but one representative in each town for the time being," Flynn said in announcing the appointments.

If this proves unworkable another plan will be followed, he said.

The appointments will be effective Friday although the law is effective at midnight tonight.

Chapman Sees Youngsters In First Workout

Five Additional Candidates Report Yesterday; Total Is Expected To Increase Next Week; Practice At Fair

Coach Weldon Bailey Chapman put the double-O on his Lubbock High school football prospects yesterday and last night was walking around with a whistle on his lips and his hands in his pockets.

Whether the whistle signified blues or happiness could not be verified, but was taken as indicating a more or less troublesome situation.

The material, so far as quantity is concerned, is at hand, awaiting development. More than 40 toggeout gridsters trotted around the Fair Park field yesterday, then assembled in a huge ring for a session of calisthenics, then divided according to back and linemen and went through special exercises. Arrival for the first time of at least five who did not report Tuesday swelled the total to 41, and it was thought that by the end of the week or during the next week the squad would increase to more than fifty.

Unknown Qualities

There is quantity, to be sure, but it's the quality that's bothering the coaches. They know very little about the majority of the candidates. Only five or six came within their vision last year, and the coaches have a lot of good will work to do. Getting acquainted with the strangers in moleskins is the job for the next few days.

Chapman, who coaches the linemen, followed warm-up exercises yesterday with instructions and some practice on blocking. At the other end of the field, Burl Huffman, assistant coach, was running his backfield prospects through a series of side-stepping, hip-shifting movements calculated to assist the youngsters in gaining the knack of evading tacklers.

Those who reported for the first time yesterday were Waymond Newton, Howell Young, Charles Lamb, Delbert Vaughn and Wayne Smith. Of these, Newton is the only one who received any notice last year. As an end for the Cowhand team, he became somewhat popular. He was shifted to the backfield during spring training, and probably will stay there. Young, bronzed and hardened, may be the man Chapman is looking for to replace Robert Dowell, who had been counted upon as a center. Dowell's recent ankle injury will prevent his playing. The others are newcomers, and will be making their first bids for Westerner popularity.

Practice continues today and every day this week. Chapman said the two-a-day practice probably would start next Monday.

Frank Snyder, New York Giants' coach, explains his team's ultra-successful pitching by the fact its four aces each have distinctly different deliveries — Hubbell's screw ball, Fitzsimmons' knuckler, Schumacher's sinker and Parmelee's slider.

Oklahoma's fourth annual croquet tournament, at Andarko, attracted entrants from four states.

THE RETURN OF TARZAN, No. 16

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Through narrow, winding alleyways Tarzan went. Then up a rickety stairs. Behind a lighted window he saw two men talking. One was the suspected French officer, in the act of handing the other some papers. Then he left the room. Silently Tarzan opened the door as the second fellow turned his face. It was Rokoff, the Russian!

The villain's face paled as he saw Tarzan. With a shriek he sprang up. The ape-man leaped upon him, iron fingers choking him into insensibility. The papers proved to be the missing state documents! With them Tarzan hastened to Algiers, en route to Cape Town, learning meanwhile that Rokoff's accomplice, the traitor, had shot himself.

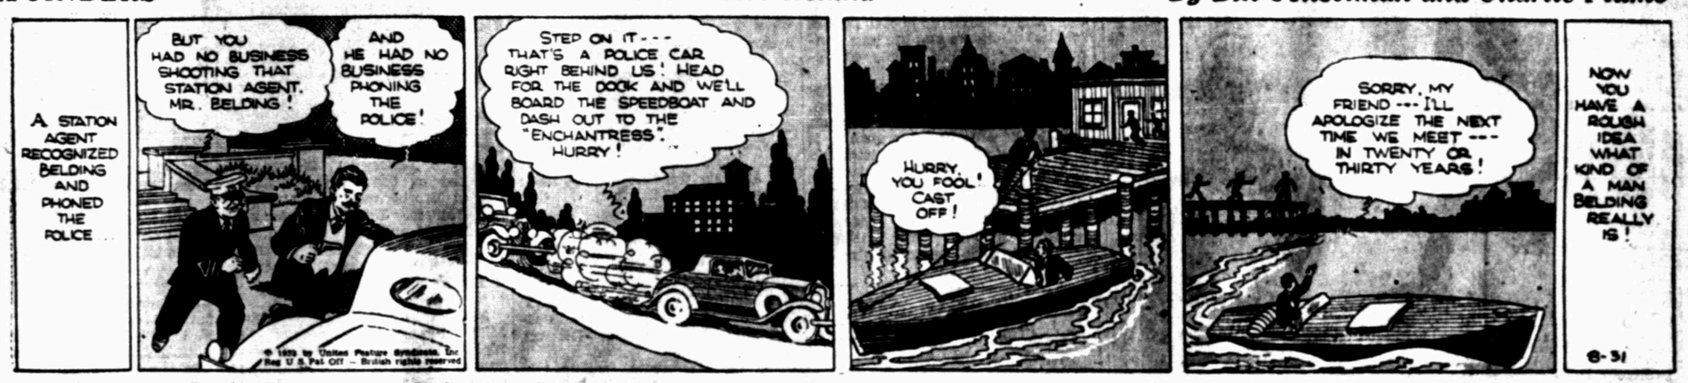

As Tarzan walked up the ship's gangway, two men could have been observed watching him closely. He settled himself for the long voyage, congratulating himself that he had seen the last of Rokoff. Every night he spent hours on deck watching the endless sea. And always his every movement was being secretly observed.

Tonight the last straggler had left the deck. From the shadows two men crept. Quite close now, they crouched behind Tarzan. Suddenly they leaped for their victim. Before Tarzan of the Apes, lightning though he was, could save himself, he was pitched over the rail and was falling into the deep Atlantic.

Bar President Raps Policies

Suggestions For Improvement Of Crime Conditions In The Nation Given; State Rights Being Forgotten

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Aug. 30. (AP) — Declaring that "candor compels the admission that America is a crime breeding and criminal protecting nation," Clarence E. Martin, president of the American Bar association, today offered his associates in that organization suggestions for improving conditions.

In the same speech, with which he opened the annual three-day convention of the association, he said he saw in the growing number of laws which overlap or usurp state functions "a definite, positive plan to destroy the republic and substitute therefor a social democracy."

"So rapidly are the rights of states waning that legal writers are beginning to see that soon they will be reduced to administrative districts," said Mr. Martin. Incompetent and dishonest state and local administration of the law, he declared, was one of the contributing factors to this situation.

On the subject of crime, the bar association president deplored the "burdensome task" imposed on the prosecutor by the presumption of the innocence of the accused, and declared that "if safeguarding law abiding citizens were given the same attention that has been bestowed upon safeguarding the lawless element from conviction . . . there would be a different aspect in the realm of criminal procedure."

As long as legal technicalities of the type which delay trials and favor defendants exist, he said, "the lawyer must take advantage of them, however, he may personally view the application of them." He favored immediate stopping of the loopholes by reforms in procedure, including simpler indictments, reduction in challenges, verdicts by nine of 12 jurors except on capital cases and compulsory jury service. Segregation of first offenders from hardened criminals in prisons, liberal paroles for first offenders and life imprisonment after a third felony conviction also were advocated.

Reserving judgment on the emergency legislation of the last congress, he said that "in the absence of court decisions, which are probable, it would be unfair as well as impolitic . . . to attempt a determination of the constitutional questions involved." Disregarding the constitutional aspects as a temporary expedient, he said, the emergency legislation should have the support of the bar association.

What Part Dog Played In Plane Wreck Is Puzzling

CLOVIS, N. M., Aug. 30. (AP)—What part a small black shaggy dog played in the crash of a Transcontinental-Western Air plane 60 miles northwest of here yesterday was puzzling members of the party which went from here to bring the bodies of the five victims of the wreck here for funeral arrangements.

Those first to reach the scene of the wreck on the steep slope of Mesa Redondo said the dog limped toward them from the wreckage whimpering and with a broken fore leg.

The dog may have been a pet of three-year-old Evelyn Gore, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gore who perished in the wreck, or mascot of the pilots. No one seemed able to offer an explanation.

Official Count Of Votes In Saturday Election Scheduled

Official count of the vote in last Saturday's state and county election, is to be made this afternoon by the county commissioners' court, sitting as an election board, Judge E. L. Pitts said yesterday.

Election books will be checked for each precinct and an official tabulation made of the results. Ballots can be taken from the boxes and counted only on order of a distric judge for an election contest.

Detective Blocks Attempt To Bomb Dallas Barber Shop

DALLAS, Aug. 30. (AP) — D. L. Jones, city detective, frustrated an attempt to dynamite a south Dallas barber shop early today by pulling out the fuses from five sticks of dynamite which were hurled through a window of the shop.

Jones and another officer were cruising along the street when the glass of the window was shattered and a man who lived nearby, awakened by the sound, stopped them. Jones saw the sparks, entered and tried to stamp out the fuse. Failing, he picked up the dynamite and wrenched away the fuse and caps.

The owner of the shop could assign no reason for the attempt. Police expressed the belief that the bombing was tried by men on forcing the owner to "pay off" or abandon recently posted cut rates.

Camera Records River Drama At Philadelphia

A rope and slippery oil barrel between him and death, this was the scene witnessed by hundreds of horrified Philadelphians when Thomas Williams fell into the turbulent Schuylkill river and fought frantically to save himself from the onrushing stream. This picture was taken an instant before Williams reached for the rope—and missed. He tried again but failed. The barrel now out of reach, and too tired to make another effort, Williams threw up his arms and was swept onward to his death.

NEWS BRIEFS

Changes in the personnel of the West Texas Gas company in this area are announced. T. S. Whittis of Plainview, assistant manager there, was sent here as chart department head; L. D. Twenty four new members were added yesterday to Shannon Park's zoo, two old rattlesnakes and 22 young ones. They were given by S. J. Goldwater, Shallowater farmer, who reported finding them in a den Sunday. The large snakes are about three and a half feet long, according to J. A. Dean, zoo superintendent.

A carpenter's wage scale of $1 per hour and a 40-hour week has been agreed upon, effective September 4, Labor day, it was announced by the local chapter of United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners. Initiation fees were cut in half and dues reduced. No member can work more than 40 hours a week if any other member available has had less work.

Members of the Plains Baptist Missionary association met last night at the Whitharral Baptist church with Rev. J. W. Cundieff, Lamesa, moderator, to preside. Three members of the Central Baptist church left yesterday afternoon for Whitharral, Rev. Jeff D. Welch, pastor, said.

A Las Vegas, Nev., woman who was taken into custody by police early Wednesday morning, paid a $25 fine in police court yesterday, but the city only netted $20 profit. Three dollars was necessary to pay for a new window in the city car officers said the woman kicked out. Two dollars more went to pay for repairing a mattress in the cell the woman occupied and which they said she looted of its cotton filling.

Funeral rites for Betty June Curry, 19 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Curry of 1602 Avenue E, were said yesterday afternoon at the Sanders Funeral home by Rev. A. O. Graydon. Burial was in Memorial Park cemetery.

Chief of Police Wiley Metcalfe and Judge Homer Pharr returned yesterday from Wichita Falls where they represented the Allen brothers post of the American Legion at the state convention. The new nineteenth congressional district is to be recognized and given a committeeman the coming year, Chief Metcalfe said. The department convention voted to increase the number of state committee members from 18 to 21, he explained.

Bill Street, 2106 Fifteenth street, reported to the police yesterday his Columbia bicycle had been stolen.

A negro youth, charged with theft, was given a three year sentence in juvenile court yesterday by Judge E. L. Pitts and remanded to jail until the question of a probable parole is settled. The youth is said to have slipped into a local store shortly before closing time and to have opened the cash register after the proprietor had closed for the night, and taken $3.

Leonard Hamilton, giving Wilson as his home, entered pleas of guilty to charges of issuing two "hot" checks, one for $16 and the other for $27, in county court yesterday. He was given a fine of $1 and costs and a day in jail and promised to restore the property.

Convict Faces Murder Count

Clarence E. Seals Is Charged In Pick Ax Slaying Of Negro Woman At Acuff; Grand Jury To Make Probe

Charges of murder were filed yesterday afternoon in the court of Justice of the Peace J. S. Connell against Clarence E. Seals, convict 50,030 in the state penitentiary, alleging that he murdered Lillie Bell Brooks, a negress on or about March 26, 1933. The papers were prepared in the district attorney's office and the complaint was signed by Sheriff Tom Abel.

Owing to absence of the accused, an examining trial will not be held, it was explained by Dan A. Blair, district attorney. Evidence in the case is to be presented to the grand jury of the 99th district court when it meets September 5, Blair added.

To Be Tried Here

Should the grand jury indict Seals, alias Jack Miller, for the murder of the negress, he will be brought to Lubbock on a bench warrant issued by the district court, and tried, it was said.

Meantime, further investigations were made Wednesday by District Attorney Blair and his assistant, Burton S. Burks, and by Sheriff Tom Abel and his deputies, Cap Moore, Baxter Honey and Burford Carpenter.

Johnnie Brooks, common-law husband of the dead woman, was interrogated by the officers in an effort to get more details of the case. Some new leads were uncovered Wednesday, the sheriff said.

Residents Questioned

Residents of the community in which the slaying occurred were also questioned. It is planned to have representatives of the sheriff's department and the district attorney's office call on Earl Davis, Acuff farmer and owner of the farm where the murder occurred, to see if he could furnish any new information in the case. He was out of town yesterday, it was said.

Word from Sulphur Springs, where Seals formerly lived, said he was tried there in September, 1923 for the murder of Ed Clay and that on September 18 he was found guilty by a jury in the Hopkins county district court and sentenced to 99 years in the state penitentiary.

Seals was received at Huntsville, October 17, 1923, prison records show. He escaped in 1929 and was returned in July of this year. While in Lubbock, where he came about 1929 or 1930 he was known as Jack Miller or Jack Rose.

Paris Dinner Horn Will Be Changed To Evening Paper

PARIS, Tex., Aug. 30. (AP)—The Paris Dinner Horn, first and oldest free distribution newspaper in America, has been replaced by the Paris Evening News, with paid circulation, A. G. (Pat) Mayes, president of the North Texas Publishing company, publisher of the Paris Morning News, announced today.

The Dinner Horn has been published continuously as a free paper for 45 years. It was purchased Aug. 1, 1932, by the North Texas Publishing company.

The Paris Evening News will carry the full leased wire reports of the Associated Press. It will be printed afternoons except Saturdays and Sunday mornings the Paris Morning News will be issued as in the past. There will be a weekday morning mail edition.

Decision to discontinue the free paper was reached after conferences with Paris advertisers and citizens in general, who heartily approved the change.

Young Woman Denies That She Was Married To Cadet

DENVER, Aug. 30. (AP)—Miss Dorothy Firebaugh, Denver university graduate, denied today as "some kind of a hoax" a published report quoting her as having announced that she was married last March at Santa Fe to Harold Sanberg, Denver cadet who was killed in a crash of army training planes at Randolph Field, Texas, yesterday.

"I was at work in Denver on the date and Harold was attending classes at Denver university," she said, "I've known Harold for some time but I never was married to him."

Seven Directors For Bank Chosen

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30. (AP)—The farm credit administration today appointed the seven directors for the government's new central bank for cooperatives, which will assume money lending functions of the old farm board.

F. W. Peck, St. Paul, now cooperative credit commissioner of the administration, is ex-officio chairman with three directors chosen by Governor Henry Morgenthau, jr., to represent the public and three more farm cooperatives.

Those representing the public are: Thomas Cooper, Lexington, Ky., dean of the college of agriculture, University of Kentucky, for a three year term; J. D. Miller, Susquehanna, Pa., president of the national cooperative council, two years, and H. Lane Young, executive manager of the Citizens and Southern bank, Atlanta, one year.

Directors representing farmers' cooperatives appointed are: H. E. Babcock, Ithaca, N. Y., president of the cooperative grange league federation holding corporation, three years; P. M. Hayner, Las Cruces, N. M., director of the Southwest Irrigated Cotton Growers association, two years, and U. M. Dickey, Seattle, Wash., president of the United Dairymen's association, Seattle, one year.
