CINDERS

By John T. King

The Electric Times, house organ of West Texas Utilities Co., featured Sonora's Diamond Jubilee in four pages of its September issue.

Beginning with a cover-picture of Peggy Sharp attired in a fancy early-day dress and standing beside a wood stove and ice box, the magazine's 14 pictures, cutlines, and story do an excellent job of recording the excitement of the celebration.

Boyd Lovelace was right in labeling the ice box the first frost-free refrigerator. One only had to put ice in the top compartment and empty the drip pan below.

Our thanks to the staff of the Times for a thorough, interesting feature on a celebration Sonorans will remember for years to come.

The pro magazine salesmen hit Sonora last week. Usually they come in two brands—those who are making their way through college and those who are physically handicapped. Both lean heavily on the crutch of sympathy to make the sale—often a sale that is really a hand-out.

It's good that the Sonora seniors had just completed their annual fund-raising subscription drive before the pros came to town. The seniors run their subscription campaign above the board and you're sure you'll get the magazines you order. You may end up with only a worthless receipt when you buy from a transient.

When a stranger offers you merchandise and depends on sympathy to make the sale you can bet your boots you're making a mistake in your purchase. If the product won't sell itself it's not worth having, and if the salesman uses his predicament to draw sympathy and make the sale he's not worth doing business with.

Growing up is important to children, and weight, height, and age are signs of growing. But a child's outlook is much different from that of an adult:

One little girl who always ends her bathroom ritual by stepping on the scales was suprised to find the weighing machine gone and asked, "Where are those things you weigh your feet on?"

Hers is a very logical outlook, but some grown-ups would have to argue that their feet really aren't that big and heavy.

Angelo State College is hoping for passage of Constitutional Amendment No. 1 in the November 2 election.

This amendment would earmark funds for permanent buildings on state college campuses such as Angelo State College (where the college is not provided for through revenues from university lands).

The college points up that presently it has to rely upon the Legislature to make direct appropriations from the State General Revenue Fund.

ASC has nearly doubled the amount of teaching done in the past two years without any increase in operational or capital outlay from the state and is now anxious to end its dependance on direct appropriations.

The golfer had a bad round. On the ninth hole he was miserable. He threw away the ball, broke two golf clubs, and sat down—a picture of total frustration.

As another golfer approached, he was heard to murmur: "I have to give it up! I have to give it up!"

"Give up what?" the other man asked. "Golf?"

"No," was the reply, "give up the ministry."

Hunting Season Prospects For 1965 Look Favorable

Deer and turkey prospects for the Sutton County 1965 hunting season which opens November 13 look good, reported Nolan Johnson, game warden.

"There are a lot of deer and a good hatch of turkey this year," he said, "and we have already had numerous calls from hunters."

Johnson said that anyone interested in leasing land to hunters or any hunters who desire to lease land should leave there names with the Sonora Chamber of Commerce. Shooting preserve licenses and record books for land owners who plan on leasing their property for hunting rights are available at the Chamber, he added.

As a whole, the deer crop is in pretty good condition, considering the effects of the hot summer, but the condition will continue to pick up as the weather turns colder and the acorns start falling, Johnson said.

Concerning hunting conditions throughout the state, E. A. Walker, assistant director for wildlife, said that the preliminary survey by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department indicates "better than average growth of antlers which are dependant upon favorable food supplies from late winter until August."

Walker added: "Overall it appears that the Texas hunter can look forward to a good hunting season this fall. It is anticipated that there will be an abundance of most species of game."

Scatter gun enthusiasts also should have ample action, said Walker who previewed quail prospects. He said, "Reports from field personnel indicate favorable production of blue quail in the western Panhandle, Trans-Pecos and south Texas regions. Good hunting should be available in all these areas."

Walker concluded by saying that hunting prospects for bobwhite quail are considered to be good in most sections of the state. He said that excellent hatches have been reported from portions of South Texas and good production has been noted in the eastern Panhandle, Trans-Pecos, and southern, and southeastern sections of the state. He added that populations throughout the Edwards Plateau are spotted due to the quality of the bird habitat and that good shooting should be available in isolated locations within this part of Texas.

Glasscock Named Best In Sheep, Goat Field

Ray Glasscock, a veteran Sutton County 4-H sheep and goat, wool and mohair producer, exhibitor, and judge at the age of 16, has been named the best in his field in Texas for 1965.

Glasscock will receive an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, November 28-December 2.

The state winner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Glasscock. He is a senior student at Sonora High School and for the past nine years has been a 4-H member. At the present time he has a herd of 8 Angora goats; 5 fat lambs on feed; 38 range sheep; and 46 head of Red Angus cattle.

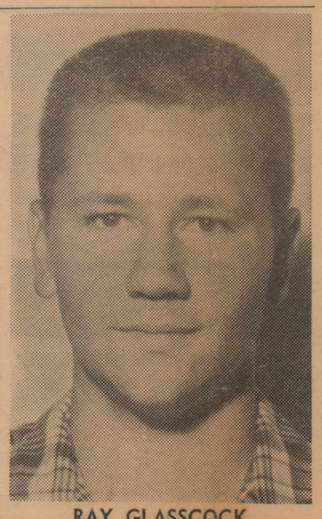

In 1961 he set a record in the State 4-H Wool Judging Contest by scoring 691 points out of a possible 800. He was a member of the second place wool judging team at the national contest in 1963 and the state's high individual in range judging in 1964.

At the 1959 State Fair of Texas, Ray exhibited the champion and reserve champion Delaine ewe. He exhibited the grand champion bag of wool at the 1960 Sonora Wool and Mohair Show, and returned in 1964 and 1965 to recapture that title. At the 1959 West Texas Fair, he showed the grand champion Delaine ram.

The Gold Star boy has served as a delegate to the district 4-H council; chairman of the wildlife committee of the district council in 1963 and 1964; and vice-president of the Sutton County Club in 1965.

Glasscock also has an interest in hunting, fishing, and swimming and is vice-president of the student council at Sonora High School.

County Agent D. C. Langford has supervised Glasscock's 4-H program.

Auction Aggregate Rises to $4,744.50

More cash donations following the annual Lions Club auction hiked the overall total to $4,744.50 this week.

Recent cash donations include John I. King, $50; Thorp's Laun-Dry, $25; Mrs. Pauline Rees, $5; Gene Shurley, $20; Gene Lightfoot, $15; J. B. Morris, $5; Aldwell Brothers, $50; and James T. Hunt, $50.

The Lions Auction is the main fund-raising event for the Lions Club, when ranchers, residents, and businesses donate merchandise, stock, and other items to be auctioned off at prices that usually bear little relation to their actual value.

These funds are used by the Club in many community projects.

More donations are expected.

Rectory To Be Blessed At Open House Sunday

Sunday, October 17 is a significant date in the history of St. John's Episcopal Church. This date marks the blessing of the Episcopal rectory and the formal institution of the rector of the parish.

The Rt. Rev. Everett H. Jones, Episcopal Bishop of West Texas, will bless the rectory at an open house from 3 to 4 p.m. and following at a 5 p.m. church service, the Bishop will officially institute the Rev. Rollin Polk as rector of the parish.

This massive Spanish-style house, which is now the rectory, has a history dating back to 1915 when, according to a mechanics lien record, J. A. Cope constructed a five-room dwelling on lot 8½, Block "W", 100 feet wide and fronting on Popular Street. Records show that owners of the site prior to 1915 were R. W. Callahan, Miguel Hernandez, and the Sonora Townsite Company, composed of W. A. Glasscock, Geo. S. Allison, R. H. Martin, and Will F. Whitehead.

In 1921, L. W. Elliott purchased the property and remodeled the house, adding a second story. In May 1965, the Diocese of West Texas purchased the property and house from L. W. Elliott's daughter, Mrs. F. L. McKinney.

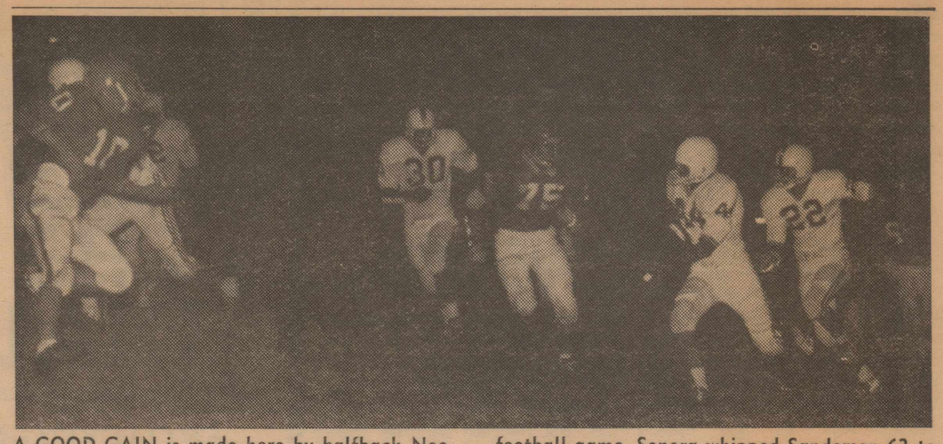

The Rev. Rollin Polk, who came here in February from Dallas after serving seven years at the Church of the Incarnation as assistant rector, has since moved into the newly purchased rectory. He and his wife and two children, Peter, 12, and Jane, 9, made the move after extensive redecorating of the house and rebuilding of the kitchen.

The Polk's find that there is a special room in the house for each one of them. On the first floor, the Rev. Mr. Polk has converted a bedroom into a study. Also on the first floor is the entry hall, living room, dining room, kitchen, laundry room, bathroom, and elevator entrance.

The second floor houses Mrs. Polk's sewing room, the children's recreation room, four bedrooms, and two full baths.

The house also has a two-car garage with a garage apartment over head. The Rev. Mr. Polk has turned this apartment into a workshop.

Sunday, the Episcopal congregation as well as any other interested persons will have the opportunity to observe the new rectory for themselves during the open house. Also on this day, the Rev. Mr. Polk will observe the occasion of the 20th anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood of the Episcopal Church. He was ordained in St. John's Episcopal Church in Troy, New York.

A GOOD GAIN is made here by halfback Noe, Chavez (44) as Ed Lee Renfro (22), Mike Gosney (30), Jimmy Trainer (72), and several other Broncos clear the way in last week's Sanderson football game. Sonora whipped Sanderson 63 to 0 and will meet the Eldorado Eagles in Eldorado this Friday night with the game beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Broncos Wallop Sanderson, Encounter Eldorado Friday

by Gary McGilvray

The Sonora Broncos rolled to their fifth consecutive victory of the 1965 football season as they downed the Sanderson Eagles 63 to 0 last Friday night in Bronco Stadium.

Sanderson was never able to get rolling despite the efforts of their scrappy quarterback, Travis Harkins. John Whistler also stood out defensively for the Eagles.

The Broncos were unable to get moving in the first quarter, but they made up for their mistakes by exploding in a 35-point second quarter. Sonora took to the air and quarterback Laney Cook threw a 20-yard touchdown pass to halfback Eddie Howell to start the scoring spree. Mike Wuest then kicked his first of seven extra points.

Next Sanderson tried its hand at the passing game, but to no avail as Ben Perez intercepted a pass and returned it 35 yards for the score. Wuest added the one point conversion.

The Broncos got the ball once again, this time on the midfield stripe. They moved 47 yards before a fumble put a halt to the drive. Sanderson promptly returned the favor on their first play as they fumbled the ball back to Sonora. Cook then rammed the ball over from the one, and Wuest kicked the extra point.

Sonora's next score came on a 65-yard pass play from Cook to halfback Noe Chavez with Wuest kicking his fourth extra point. The final score of the first half came after an on-sides kick recovery by Ed Lee Renfro. The score was made by fullback Mike Gosney from the six-yard line. Wuest's toe came through again, and the score at halftime was Sonora 35, Sanderson 0.

Jerry Hopkins, head coach, played the reserves most of the second half, but they were still able to add 28 more points to the lopsided score.

The only score of the third quarter came on a 17-yard pass play from quarterback Bill Glasscock to Chavez.

The three scores of the fourth quarter were all made by Renfro. The first came on a ten-yard pass from Cook; the second on a 20-yard pass interception; and the third came after Renfro recovered a blocked field goal attempt and raced 19 yards for the score. Wuest added two of the extra points.

The Bronco victory Friday night put Sonora in first place in District 8-A standings as the Eldorado Eagles lost to Big Lake by a score of 16 to 15. The Broncos will face the Eagles in the most crucial contest for Sonora this year in Eldorado, Friday at 7:30 p.m.

The rivalry between Eldorado and Sonora in the past five years has been a jinx to the favored team each time as that team has always lost. This year the jinx will favor the Eldorado team as Sonora will almost certainly be picked to win.

City Commissioners Meet With J. B. Ross

Joe B. Ross of the Sutton County museum committee met with the City Commissioners, Monday, October 11, to ask the cooperation of the city in establishing a museum. The commission expressed a willingness to discuss any proposals the committee decides to make.

A surveyor gave a report on his findings on Popular Street, a street that has been proposed for widening. He also gave field notes on the part of the Berger Airport land that is not in the city limits. The commission gave an order for preparation of an annexation ordinance for the airport land for handling at a future meeting.

The commission authorized the purchase of a stand-by transformer for the east circuit of town.

Delinquent accounts were reviewed.

BY PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

Investment Fund Freed, Student Loans Granted

(Editor's note: The following analyses of Constitutional Amendments have been prepared to aid you in becoming a better informed voter. Source of information was the Texas Legislative Council, Lieutenant Governor Preston Smith, chairman. We urge you to study the following analyses and those to be published in the future and vote November 2.)

Amendment No. 5

This proposed addition to the constitution gives constitutional stature to both the Teacher Retirement System and the Board of Trustees of the system. It further provides that assets of the system shall be administered by the Board, sets out certain regulations pertaining to type and amount of investments as well as a standard of care for such investments, and empowers the Legislature to further restrict investments.

Background

In 1936 Texas voters empowered the Legislature to levy a tax to establish a retirement fund for teachers. In 1956 voters authorized investment of funds in securities deemed to be proper investments for the Permanent University Fund by the Board of Regents of The University of Texas, including corporate bonds which meet the standards adopted by the Board of Regents and corporate stocks owned by the Permanent University Fund.

The current amendment No. 5 provides authority for the Board of Trustees of the System to invest assets in certain types of securities instead of only those eligible or owned by the Permanent University Fund.

Arguments

For:

1. The purposes of the Teacher Retirement Fund are completely different from those of the Permanent University Fund, an endowment fund, and investment authority should not be tied to securities eligible or owned by the University Fund. Giving authority to invest funds in listed securities to the Board of Trustees of the System should result in higher income for the fund.

2. Giving constitutional stature to the Teacher Retirement System should give greater assurance to teachers of continuity of the program. Guaranteed retirement benefits are an incentive in the choice of a profession, and adoption of the amendment should serve to attract and keep qualified teachers.

Against:

1. An amendment to the Constitution is an involved and costly process with a one-to-two-year lag between initiation and adoption. Thus the adoption of this amendment giving constitutional status to the fund could handicap the system in obtaining additional investment authority.

2. The proposed amendment is not necessary as the present authority allowing investment in securities eligible for or owned by the Permanent University Fund is adequate for operation of the System.

Amendment No. 6

Proposed Amendment No. 6 would authorize the Legislature to provide for issuance of bonds to create the Texas Opportunity Plan Fund, a loan fund for Texas students attending public and private institutions of higher education within the state.

Background

Precedent for creating a loan fund for Texas college students was established in 1952 when a fund for medical students was authorized.

Arguments

For:

1. The single greatest natural resource in the state is its young people. Each year thousands of high school graduates with college potential are deterred from continuing their education due to inadequate finances. Adoption of the amendment would assure many of these students of the education they deserve and would assure the state that future state development will be in the hands of those best qualified for service.

2. By making the Texas Opportunity Plan Fund available for student loans, the state will be in a position to make loans matched by Federal agencies, private corporations and foundations, thus doubling benefits to the college students and people of Texas when a loan is granted.

3. Enabling legislation (to become effective if Amendment No. 6 is adopted) provides for repayment of the loans, as well as interest. Thus the fund is actually created at no cost to the taxpayers and is self-perpetuating. The West Texas State University Opportunity Plan, a closely supervised program which is the model for the proposed state plan, has repayment experience of 98.5 per cent, an indication of the security of the loans.

Against:

1. Encroaching socialism will be advanced if the amendment is adopted. Tuition in state colleges and institutions of higher education is already minimal, and in the midst of the greatest period of prosperity this state has ever known, it is not necessary to subsidize students. Those who really desire an education have ample opportunity to obtain one.

2. The provision for loans to students attending public and private institutions alike breaks down another barrier in the separation of church and state, a foundation stone of our democracy.

3. Loans to students from state funds represents encroachment upon private business. Banks, savings and loan institutions, and private charitable sources have long advanced loans for education to sincere students at low interest rates, and such loans are generally viewed by borrowers as serious obligations in contrast to federal government "hand-outs", where the average repayment rate is 81 per cent. A statewide program, even through modeled after the West Texas State University plan, could hardly receive the close supervision which was no doubt responsible for the success of this pilot program.

TO THE NEWSPAPERS OF THE UNITED STATES:

It is with both pride and pleasure that I participate in this traditional tribute to our nation's newspapers.

Too often taken for granted, America's countless daily and weekly papers have been vital guardians of her time-honored traditions and eloquent spokesmen for the cherished ideals of her freedom-loving people. Taken together, our nation's newspapers constitute the world's most responsible and effective organ of current information.

It is up to us to safeguard the freedom of our papers to inquire, to criticize, to express divergent views and to stand as sentinels for the public wherever the public's business is being transacted. Newspapers and their readers are partners in freedom, and if we fail to defend the freedom of our press, we neglect our own.

I am confident that Americans everywhere wholeheatredly join me during National Newspaper Week, October 10 to 16, in high recognition of the indispensible role of our free press in the everyday life of our beloved nation.

J. A. Skeptically Hails Telephone Innovation

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Devil's River reports on a new telephone invention this week. We didn't even know he had a phone.

Dear editar:

The thing about progress is that you've got to know how to handle it, or it's more trouble than it's worth.

Take the telephone. It's all right if you need to call somebody, but it frequently becomes a nuisance when somebody wants to call you. I have observed that when I'm gone and somebody calls and leaves a message to call him, saying it's important, it's generally important to him, not to me.

This is going to be changed soon, although I don't think the telephone company intends it that way.

As I understand it, they've perfected a system where you can transfer your own calls, so in a sense your phone follows you around wherever you are. Say you're expecting a big business deal by telephone and you have to leave your office temporarily. All you do is dial a code number, then dial the number of the phone where you'll be while you're out, and if a call comes in it'll by-pass your office and ring at the other number.

Now the phone company figures this will be a great service and I'm sure it will, but it has other possibilities the company may not be aware of.

Say you're sitting down to watch a western and don't want to be interrupted. Just dial the code number, pick out somebody else's number, instruct your phone to switch to there, and let his phone ring instead of yours.

A teen-ager staying on your phone too much? Just switch your calls to the school superintendent's number and relax.

If a man is alert enough, he can always salvage something useful out of nearly any kind of progress, excepting bumper-to bumper traffic.

Speaking of progress, the latest eight-day trip of the astronauts proves that man can survive in space, and another group of men lived in a capsule on the bottom of the ocean to see if man could survive under water.

I predict he can, and then the only test left will be to see if he can survive on earth.

Now that summer's outdoor eating is over and dining is putting on its more formal airs—it's a good time to try new recipes and discover foods from other lands.

A nation proud of its culinary arts is Switzerland where fine wines, cheeses and dining are renowned. Konrad Egli, owner of the Chalet Suisse in New York, and himself a Swiss, suggests one of his native dishes which he has found especially popular with Americans. For the main course, he recommends minced veal a la Suisse, tiny slivers of veal in a white wine sauce.

MINCED VEAL A LA SUISSE

1½ pound trimmed veal cut in small slivers
2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon chopped shallot or onion
1 tablespoon flour
½ cup light cream or half and half
½ cup Swiss white wine
½ cup brown sauce or gravy
½ teaspoon paprika
1 pinch chopped parsley
Salt to taste

1. Melt butter in pan and add shallots or onion. Simmer one minute. Add veal, salt and paprika. Saute on very fast fire.
2. When liquid has evaporated, sprinkle on flour and add cream. Bring to boil. Add white wine and brown sauce or gravy. Simmer until tender. Correct seasoning and thickness of sauce.
3. Serve on white rice or noodles and sprinkle with chopped parsley.

Teen Scene

By Margaret Bundy

The first six-weeks of school is finally over. Everybody is relieved that the tests are over for another six weeks. Of course, after report cards are out, we don't know whether to be happy or not.

Friday was black-eye day at school. Everybody had to wear a blackeye. The football boys had a penalty for those who "forgot". Mike Wuest, Carl Teaff, Brent Johnson, Jimmy Trainer, and Jerry Shurley had a plastic bag of black stuff that was smeared over the forgetful people. The most gruesome sight was Jimmy Trainer's "toothless" smile. Cindy Lambert, Celia McDuff, and Mr. Neil were the only ones left by the end of school with clean faces.

We have a new student in school now. Jackie Cargill, a junior, who moved here from Del Rio. We hope you will enjoy Sonora, Jackie.

The Explorer Scouts went on a camping trip over the weekend. Among those who went were Gary Hardgrave, Laney Cook, Eddie Howell, J. V. Cook, Al Letsinger, Robert Kelley, Mike Gosney, Brent Johnson, Louis Wardlaw, Steve Whitworth, Wayne Dietz, and Bud Whiddon.

Tommy Doc Raye was home from the University of Texas last weekend.

Friday, Mickey Hardegree, Janie Letsinger, Susan Prugel, Shelley Morriss, Irene Perez, Gina Badillo, and Linda McBride twirled at the pep rally.

Did anyone see three figures on top of the Jr. High building last week? It was Grady Roe, Eddie Sawyer, and Robert Kelley. Y'all would never have had to go back up there if ya hadn't signed your names to the art work!

The Bookmobile has been here this week. Everybody has been going and looking at all the books, even if they haven't bought any. That's one way to get out of class!

John Trainer of La Porte was in Sonora visiting Tom Trainer during the weekend.

Several college kids were at the game Friday. Among these were Gil Allison, Mike St. Clair, Joyce Hearn, Randee Fawcett, and Karen Davis.

Cee Wee Johnson was in Dallas this weekend. Yvonne Young went to Ft. Worth to visit Cissy. Several kids from Ozona were over Saturday night.

Chris Berger also journeyed to Dallas Friday.

Jan McClelland is one of the nominees for All College Beauty at San Marcos.

Auxiliary Hears Talk on Visitation

Visitation in the hospital was the topic of the talk given by Mrs. Vernon Cook when 22 members of the Hudspeth Memorial Hospital Auxiliary met in the home of Mrs. Cleve T. Jones Jr. Tuesday, Oct. 12.

The meeting was opened with a reading written by Arlie B. Davidson entitled "Eight Rules to Live By". This thought for the day was read by Mrs. J. F. Howell, president. Mrs. Jones read the opening prayer.

Mrs. Vernon Cook gave a report for the program committee. She outlined the programs for the next three months' meetings. The November 8 meeting has been scheduled at the fellowship hall of the First Methodist Church for a showing of a film of the workings of an auxiliary. The public is invited to attend this meeting.

Mrs. Alvis Johnson, chairman of the projects commitee, reported that there would be a meeting of that comittee this month.

A financial and memorial report was given by Mrs. Frank Potmesil who said that two memorials had been received the past month. They were for Mrs. Mae B. Sawyer by the Just Us Bridge Club and for Reginald Trainer by Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Howell. Mrs. Potmesil reported $472.25 in the memorial fund and $58.28 in the general fund.

Mrs. Jess Maxey of Fort Terrett Station was announced as a new member of the Auxiliary.

A committee of Mrs. A. W. Awalt, Mrs. J. T. Sellman, and Mrs. R. A. Halbert was selected to purchase a gift and a get well card for an elderly out-of-town patient in Hudspeth Hospital.

Mrs. Sellman announced that 20 to 30 new magazines had been contributed to the hospital and Mrs. Vernon Cook reported that the Girl Scouts had carried plastic flowers to the hospital for the patients' trays.

At the adjournment of the meeting Mrs. Jones served strawberry pie topped with whipped cream and coffee.

Mrs. Clayton Bray of Dallas has been visiting in Sonora.

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

by the Rev. Arno Melz

He that heareth you heareth Me; and he that despiseth you despiseth Me; and he that despiseth Me despiseth Him that sent Me.

Luke 10:16

This week we continue our consideration of reasons why people do not attend church. Last week it was stated that people do not attend because they do not like the people in the churches. There is another well used excuse, that of not liking the pastor. Because they do not like the pastor they do not go to church.

The first point to consider is why do we go to church, is it for the pastor, for our friends, or for our own benefit? You should go to church because here you find a special closeness to God as you worship with your fellow believers. This is an opportunity to confess your faith and sing your praise in a public service.

When you attend church something happens to you. The Word of God comes into your heart with It's own sweet message of comfort and hope. This strength and comfort does not depend on who is sitting beside you, or how polished the pastor's sermon might be. The important thing is that the Word of God is taught in It's truth and purity.

Our text tells us if the pastor is preaching God's Word and we despise his message we are actually despising God. The words of Luke do not excuse our rejecting God's Word because of the dislike of a man or men. Only when the pastor preaches something other than God's Word teaches do we have a valid excuse for staying away from church because of a man.

If you have been neglecting your church attendance because you do not like the pastor, may I suggest two things: First pray for the pastor, it is impossible to continue to dislike someone you are praying for; and secondly, pray for yourself, because the devil has gained control of a corner of your heart. This excuse is only a wedge between you and God. Attend church regularly, read your Bible daily, and the Lord will bless you richly. Amen!

Mrs. Ben Cusenbary Of Woman's Club Reviews History

"The Sonora Woman's Club in the early days was quite active in politics," Mrs. Ben Cusenbary told members of the club at their meeting Thursday, October 7, in the clubhouse. Mrs. Cusenbary, federation counselor, spoke to the group about the club's early history, highlighting its service to the community and relating some humorous events.

She said that the club was instrumental in improvement of the courthouse lawn and town beautification. It contributed playground equipment and water fountains to the public school.

Another feature of Thursday's program was the observance of Federation Day with a film, "The Story of Unity in Diversity," relating the history of the General Federation of Woman's Clubs. Club members were led in the federation song by Mrs. Albert Ward and accompanied by Mrs. Norman Rousselot.

Early yearbooks of the club and Sonora Diamond Jubilee Dolls were exhibited.

In the business portion of the meeting conducted by Mrs. Armer Earwood, president, Mmes. Glen Richardson, Warren Hemphill, Lin Hicks, and Joe David Ross were elected new members of the club.

The group voted to send $5 to UNICEF. Members agreed to preserve the clippings of the history of the Sonora Woman's Club from the 75th anniversary edition of the Devil's River News.

Mrs. George Barrow of the yard committee expressed appreciation for the county's help in caring for the lawn around the clubhouse.

Hostesses for the luncheon were Mmes. W. R. Cusenbary, chairman, George Wallace, George Barrow, Billy Frank Turney, and Tommy Smith.

WE REPRESENT SEVERAL OF THE OLD LINE FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES

Introducing the tuned car. 1966 Buick.

What makes a car a car is styling, performance, ride and handling. Only when they're all tuned together is the car a Buick. Like this 1966 Riviera Gran Sport.

You know how well your car's engine runs after a tuneup? Buick tuning has the same effect on the whole car. Not just the engine. The whole Buick. Everything blends with everything else. Styling. Performance. Ride. Handling. All tuned to work together in harmony. That's what the tuned car is. A Buick. Only Buick is the tuned car. (And every Buick is the tuned car.) What the tuned car is is a masterful blending of all the things that make a great car greater. The Riviera for 1966 is the tuned car. It features six-passenger seating, disappearing headlights, a silently efficient new ventilating system and the kind of roadworthiness you'd expect in a car that costs twice as much. (You can get a Riviera for your desk as well as your garage. Send $1 in check or money order to Riviera, P.O. Box 68, Troy, Mich., for an accurate 1/25 scale model '66 Riviera.) But Riviera's not the only tuned car. Le Sabre is, too. And Wildcat. Electra 225. Special. Skylark. Sportwagon. See them all at your Buick dealer's. The tuned car may not mean much to you now. But then you haven't had a chance to drive one yet.

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

There's an authorized Buick dealer near you. See his Double-Checked used cars, too.

Guild Hears Talk On United Nations

"I believe the United Nations is worthy of my support. While it is not perfect, it is the best available political means for peace today," Mrs. Norris McMillan said at the meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild Monday night in First Methodist Church.

Mrs. McMillan of Mason reviewed the activities and organization of the U.N. for Guild members and guests. She participated in a seminar in 1960 at the U.N. studying its operation.

Mrs. McMillan listed as current issues faced by the U.N. the question of admittance of Red China, divided Germany, disarmament, and the problems in Africa.

She urged that people invite foreign students into their homes to "let them see American life," and she noted that many of these students will someday be world leaders.

Mrs. Alvis Johnson introduced Mrs. McMillan to the group, and Mrs. Earl Duncan was program leader. The group sang the Guild Hymn and the United Nations song accompanied by Mrs. James Wilson.

Mrs. Edgar Shurley, president, announced that the Guild will hold a bake sale in November.

Pumpkin pie and coffee were served by the hostesses, Mmes. Bill Gosney, Clay Cade, Miers Savell, Alvis Johnson, and Earl Duncan.

Business hasn't been too good today. But in a minute someone will come along for a shine. Johnny will have a dime, bright and inviting, lying in his palm.

What's he going to do with that dime? As he sits in the sun, visions dance in his mind. He could buy candy, ice cream, a new magazine. He could even save it for Sunday School . . . but then what good could a dime do.

Suddenly Johnny remembered a Sunday School lesson. Jesus had told how precious was the penny offering of a poor widow.

Next Sunday Johnny proudly dropped his dime in the offering plate.

Johnny's gift wasn't very much. It won't do a great deal to help the Church meet its financial needs. The important thing is: It helped Johnny! Going to Sunday School has put him on the road to becoming a real Christian businessman.

Agronomist Tells Cattlemen Results Of Oats as Forage

Using oats as a winter grazing forage for beef cattle, researchers at Texas A&M University's Livestock and Forage Research Center at McGregor have provided some realistic figures as to what cattlemen can expect in the way of daily gains, stocking rate, and gain in pounds of beef per acre.

More than one million acres of small grains are planted annually in Texas for winter and spring forage. M. J. Norris, agronomist at the McGregor Experiment station says oats rank above most other small grains as a forage for many parts of Texas. Oats are palatable; nutritious, even at maturity; have a long grazing period and have no planting restrictions compared to other small grains.

"However, the one disadvantage of oats as a winter forage," points out Norris, "is they are not quite as winter hardy as a few other small grains."

In the seven-year research test, steers at McGregor gained 1.7 pounds per day during the winter grazing period from November 15 to March 1. In the spring grazing period, from March 1 to June 7, the steers averaged 2.4 pounds per day on the oats. For the entire grazing period, with no supplemental feed, the steers gained 2.1 pounds a day.
