Twisters, Hard Rain Hit

Hard rains fell in the southeast part of Scurry County last night, but the remainder of the county apparently had only the high winds and lightning from a thunderstorm.

Heaviest rainfall occurred in the Inadale area where an estimated five inches fell over a small area. A substantial portion of the farmland in Southeast Scurry County got two inches or more, according to reports this morning. The rainfall tapered off rapidly to the north, with areas around Hermleigh reporting from a quarter to half an inch.

In Snyder, a light drizzle left only .05 of an inch of moisture. The thunderstorm brought a brilliant electrical display and high winds from the southeast.

The Weather Bureau's forecast calls for more scattered thunderstorms in the east portions of the Panhandle and South Plains this afternoon and tonight, and skies are expected to remain partly cloudy through Saturday.

Torrential rainstorms swept across Texas Friday. At least three tornadoes inflicted property damage.

A twister that dipped down into Eastland just before dawn unroofed business buildings and homes, demolished small barns and smashed windows and TV antennas. Two small twisters destroyed or damaged nine barns near San Antonio. Two small Grayson County towns were hit by tornadoes late Thursday.

The downpours that ranged up to more than five inches swept the state from the Mexican border to the Red River.

Underpasses in a number of cities and towns were flooded, creeks sent out of their banks in rural areas and two highways were closed by high water.

The downpours flooded sections of Del Rio, drenched other points across the state and washed out a bridge and blocked underpasses at Sherman.

The weather bureau said the squall line, running diagonally across the state from the Mexican border through San Antonio, Waco, Dallas and Tyler into Oklahoma, was moving eastward. It predicted another round of thunderstorms late Friday ahead of an advancing pre-Easter cold front.

The Friday downpours flooded sections of Del Rio, drenched other points across the state and washed out a bridge and blocked underpasses at Sherman.

The Highway Department said State Highway 76 between Eagle Pass and La Pryor and State Highway 346 south of Poteet near San Antonio were closed by the heavy rains.

To many farmers, whose spring plantings have already been delayed by earlier heavy rains, the downpours were no boons, but officials of a number of cities welcomed the rains which increased municipal water supplies. Army Engineers said almost one and a half billion gallons of water already had poured into lakes serving Dallas Friday morning.

Five inches of rain were reported at Del Rio and in Johnson County near Cleburne where 5-inch rain gauges were filled to overflowing. The rainfall at Tyler neared 5 inches Friday morning. Sherman had 3.65 inches within an hour and a half. Up to 3 inches fell at San Antonio, Denison had 2.56 inches and close to 2 inches fell in sections of Dallas.

Uvalde had 3.12 inches. In the Cleburne area, 3.50 inches fell at Bono and about 4.50 inches fell 14 miles southwest of Cleburne.

The tornadoes did only minor damage with no injuries reported.

In Grayson County they unroofed a home, destroyed farm buildings and knocked out power and phone lines. At Eastland, a twister destroyed a garage and damaged a barn and automobile. A tornado that dipped down early Friday south of San Antonio twisted off the roof of a dairy barn, knocked over trees and tossed two heavy metal tanks 200 feet.

The squall line moved in a generally eastward direction. Except for far West Texas, skies were partly to heavily clouded.

Denison was soaked early Friday by 2.65 inches of rain. An electrical storm accompanied the downpour. Streets were flooded and a radio station was knocked off the air for half an hour.

Some sections of Dallas received close to 2 inches of rain early Friday. The downpour slowed early morning traffic to a crawl.

In an area north of Kenedy in South Texas 1.08 inches of rain fell in 35 minutes Friday.

The small tornado near Eastland destroyed a garage and damaged a car belonging to A. C. Yeager who said he saw the funnel. A barn was also damaged.

Sherman police set up barricades after 3.65 inches of rain fell there within an hour and half Friday morning. A small bridge on the south side of Sherman was washed out.

The heayiest rainfall in that area was 5 miles northeast of Sherman where 3.90 inches was reported. Rain still was falling at midmorning.

The downpour brought the 1957 rainfall total at Sherman to 15.64 inches, compared to 7.24 inches last year.

LINEMAN ELECTROCUTED—Fellow workers lower Edwin Peters from a 40-foot utility pole in San Antonio, Tex., after he came in contact with a wire carrying 4,000 volts of electricity. Rescue workers administered artificial respiration for an hour but failed to revive the lineman. This picture was made by amateur photographer Robert Oefinger, who was passing the scene.

Resolution On State's Rights Hit

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Florida yesterday adopted an interposition resolution which Gov. Leroy Collins said makes the state look foolish.

The Florida Senate, in adopting the resolution which previously had passed the House of Representatives, joined Florida with several other Southern states in declaring rulings of the U.S. Supreme Court to be "null and void and without effect."

"This action stultifies our state," Collins said after the Senate vote. "It can do no good whatever, and those who say it can perpetrate a cruel hoax on the people."

Atty. Gen. Richard Ervin, however, said the declaration of interposition:

1. Tells the U.S. Supreme Court it exceeded its constitutional authority in interpreting the federal Constitution to call for integration of public schools.

2. Tells the court that compliance with its decision by Florida "is a factual impossibility at this time and that therefore Florida schools will not be integrated even though they are required to do so by court order."

The attorney general said the interposition resolution "has validity and practical value as an official express of the legislative branch of the State of Florida."

Collins said he was confident the legislators didn't want to adopt the interposition resolution.

"They were under the pressure of desperation on the part of many citizens back home, while those citizens who opposed the action remained silent," he said.

The governor has no authority to veto a legislative resolution.

3 Sentences Given Here

Three sentences of two years each to run concurrently in the Texas Penitentiary at Huntsville were assessed by Sterling Williams, district judge, this morning, to Tommy Earl Lindsey.

Lindsey, 28, of Snyder, was charged in district court on three seperate cases of frogery.

Lindsey was tried early last week without jury in district court. He had waived jury in the trial.

Three businessmen of Snyder tsetified that he had passed forged checks in their businesses.

Officers of the sheriff's department said they would take Lindsey to Huntsville in the next few days.

The emergency feed grain program has been extended in Scurry County, Joe Box, Farmers Home Administration Supervisor, has been advised.

Box was informed by Walter T. McKay, State director, that Scurry and Garza Counties had been redesignated for assistance under the emergency feed grain program. Under this designation, farmers and ranchers may now file applications through April 29 to provide feed grain for basic livestock herds through May 15.

AFTER APPOINTMENT

Big Air Force Shift Started

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's selection of Gen. Nathan F. Twining to head the Joint Chiefs of Staff has touched off one of the greatest shifts among Air Force brass in U.S. history.

Informed sources predicted today that before the changes now underway are completed, more than 140 Air Force generals will have taken new assignments.

That is almost a third of the generals in the air service.

There were reports that the chiefs of at least four major Air Force commands have expressed their intention to retire.

They are Gen. O. P. Weyland, chief of the Tactical Air Command; Gen. Earle (Pat) Partridge, head of the Continental Air Defense Command; Lt. Gen. Joseph Smith, commander of the Military Air Transport Service; and Lt. Gen. Charles Stone, commander of the Continental Air Command.

The shift was started by the promotion of Twining from Air Force chief of staff to chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. He will take his new post in Mid-August, succeeding Adm. Arthur W. Radford.

Gen. Thomas D. White, the Air Force vice chief of staff, was promoted to Twining's old job and Gen. Curtis LeMay, commander of the Strategic Air Command, was named to become vice chief of staff.

Appointment of a successor to LeMay at the Strategic Air Command was expected soon.

Prominently mentioned for that post were Lt. Gen. Frank Everest, deputy chief of staff for operations; Lt. Gen. Emmett O'Donnell, deputy chief of personnel; and Lt. Gen. Thomas Power, chief of the Air Research and Development Command.

Among others prominently mentioned for promotions were Lt. Gen. Francis Griswold, deputy commander of SAC, considered likely to succeed Weyland at TAC; and Lt. Gen. William Turner, commander in chief of the U. S. Air Force in Europe, mentioned as likely to succeed Smith at MATS.

Reform Bill Beaten

Rates On Gas Being Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supension proceedings involving proposed natural gas rate increases totaling about $187,595,000 a year are pending before the Federal Power Commission, Chairman Jerome Kuykendall said today.

Kuykendall said also that 33 investigations are under way into rates charged by independent gas producers, and another 9 cases involving various rate matters of both interstate pipelines and independent producers.

On file are 38 formal proposals by interstate pipelines in which the commission has suspended increases totaling about $159,741,000 yearly.

The pending independent producer rate suspension cases total 356, involving 418 proposed increases totaling $27,854,000 yearly.

The cases involving the dependents are the commission's big headache these days.

The independents were placed under the commission's jurisdiction as of June 7, 1954, by a Supreme Court decision in the Phillips case.

An attempt last year to remove them from direct FPC jurisdiction failed when President Eisenhower vetoed the gas bill. However, he endorsed the principles involved, provided consumers are given protection against excessive rates.

New legislation to ease the commission's control over the independants has been introduced, with hearings probably to start after May 1.

May Oil Allowable Slashed

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission cut the daily oil allowable for May by 82,156 barrels today, based on a statewide producing pattern of 16 days.

The oil regulatory body set the allowable at 3,474,834 barrels a day.

This was the smallest reduction that the commission could allow.

The current April allowable is also based on 16 days of permitted production and the decrease for May results because May is one day longer than April.

Major oil companies were about evenly divided in their nominations to the commission during the short monthly proration hearing today.

East Texas will have 16 days of production next month, in conformity with the statewide pattern.

Four companies recommended 16 days production. Five companies asked for 15 days, which would have resulted in a cut of 236,000 barrels a day compared with current allowable figures.

Magnolia said 14 days would handle their needs. Sun requested 17 days. Sun was the only company making a request which would have increased the allowable.

There was no testimony by independent oil men.

Exceptions to the statewide pattern were six days for the Headlee-Devonian and the Dora Roberts Devonian fields.

R. W. Thompson, vice president of the Cosden Petroleum Co. of Big Spring, said his firm had been forced to start pipeline proration April 1 based on twenty six-thirtieths of the average February-March pipeline runs.

He said "Since the market has decreased we have been unable to get rid of all our crude." Thompson said Cosden had sufficient facilities to take all the allowable for the Howard Glasscock and Westbrook fields in Mitchell County but did not have the market. The commission turned down his request to require other purchasers to cut their take proportionately.

H. P. Nichols, Tyler independent, told the commission a decrease in the East Texas bottomhole pressure was "due to the aggressiveness of hot oil runners." He quickly backed down under questioning by Commission Chairman Olin Culberson and Commissioner Ernest Thompson and admitted, "I do not know of a single barrel of hot oil."

Hot oil is production above the allowable set by the commission and against the law. The commission had announced that the pressure dropped about five pounds during March to 1029.48 pounds per square inch.

Other nominations by purchasers: 16 days, Humble, Phillips, Texas and Indiana Oil Purchasing; 15 days, Sinclair, Atlantic, Cities Service, Shell and Gulf.

The present allowable is 3,556,900 barrels a day, well below the all-time high of 3,820,426 barrels set during the week ended March 30.

Gasoline stocks were reported at near-record peaks despite reductions during the past five weeks. Stocks total 202,902,000 barrels as the industry heads into the high demand period for gasoline in the spring and summer monthsk.

The April production was slashed 224,710 barrels below March, highest such cut in recent years.

Arizona Man Is Given 17 Year Sentence In Posse-Man Death

WHEELER, Tex. (AP)—A jury convicted James Whiteard of murder early today in the gunfight death of a 19-year-old posseman. His sentenced was fixed at 17 years in prison.

Whiteard, 20, of Phoenix, Ariz., was charged with the slaying of Victor Stephens, Shamrock youth helping officers Dec. 1 as they sought Whiteard and his half brother in brush country near here. More than 200 persons were in the posse.

Whiteard's half brother, Junior Bard Myers, was found dead after Whiteard was captured. Myers apparently was killed by a member of the posse.

The manhunt started after Oklahoma officers sought Myers, who had served time in San Quentin for robbery, and Whiteward, former Arizona state reformatory inmate, for questioning after a minor accident.

The incident set off one of the biggest manhunts in years in this Panhandle area.

Whiteard, a former Marine, and Myers were chased from Texola, Okla., to a pasture a few miles from Shamrock, after the auto accident. Shots were exchanged during the chase.

Near Shamrock, the two abandoned their car. A posse searched for them until nightfall, then the next morning found Whiteard with a liquor bottle beside him. He appeared dazed. Myers' body was a few feet away.

Whiteard testified last night. He denied shooting Stephens. Asked if he had an opportunity to shoot anyone during the 18-hour gunbattle and chase, he said:

"I did, and could have shot Sheriff Rainey (Collingsworth County Sheriff John Rainey) but I didn't want to."

Testimony showed a rifle was by Myers' body when the posse found the two. Whiteard was armed with a pistol but offered no resistance. Ballistics experts testified that Stephens was killed with a rifle bullet.

The convicted man's mother, Mrs. Lola Whiteard, a presser in a Phoenix laundry, testified her son had a mild and timid character. She said he always had been a good boy and helped support the family. She pictured Myers, an older man, as the black sheep of the family.

New Ambassadors Nominated By Ike

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower today picked new ambassadors to Mexico, Sweden and Colombia.

In advance of getting in a round of golf on this first full day of his Easter holiday, the President announced his intention to nominate:

Robert C. Hill, now assistant secretary of state for congressional relations, as ambassador to Mexico.

Francis White, career diplomat who now is envoy to Mexico, as ambassador to Sweden.

John M. Cabot, who moves from the embassy in Sweden to become ambassador to Colombia. In Colombia, Cabot will succeed Philip W. Bonsal, who has been reassigned to Bolivia.

All of the nominations will be sent to the Senate when Congress returns after its Easter recess.

Eisenhower flew here yesterday for about 12 days of golf mixed with work. He was in his office above the pro shop at the Augusta National Golf Club at 8 a.m., today and spent about two hours there before getting ut on the links.

Yesterday's overcast continued through the early morning, but the sun was shining and the weather was warm by the time Eisenhower completed his round of work and headed for the first tee.

Yesterday afternoon he was out on the course half an hour after arriving and ignored an intermittent drizzle of rain in getting in 18 holes.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, announced that Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. George M. Humphrey will be the guests of the President and Mrs. Eisenhower over the Easter weekend.

Eisenhower sent his private plane, Columbine III, back to Washington for the Humphreys. Also getting a lift aboard the Columbine was Sen. Thurmond (D-SC), whose home is in Aiken, S.C., just across the Savannah River from Augusta.

HE CAN'T RETURN MONEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Williams (R-Del) says he has made several unsuccessful attempts to return to the Treasury $1,508.26 he had left over from last year's stationery allowance.

The senator complains the Treasury won't let him do it.

Williams said that in nine previous years, he has returned a total of $5,786.57 in such unspent funds. But, he added, this time he bumped into a new Treasury ruling that the money either (1) must be spent, or (2) the senator will be taxed on the unspent portion, even if it is left in the Treasury.

The Delaware lawmaker, in telling the Senate of his troubles yesterday, said he has asked Comptroller General Campbell for a solution.

Transfer Of TV Channel Opposed

DALLAS (AP)—Unanimous opposition to the proposed re-designation of TV Channel 2 (VHF) at Denton from educational to commercial was expressed yesterday by the Second District of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers.

A recommendation that the state organization also take a similar stand at its convention in November was adopted without opposition by the more than 600 delegates.

Opposing any effort to convert the channel to commercial use, the recommendation specifically opposed its proposed transfer as a commercial station to Longview.

"This educational TV channel is the heritage of the school children of Texas," Mrs. W. D. DeGrassi of Amarillo, state president of the Congress, told the delegates. "Large amounts of money and much pressure has been brought in an attempt to get this channel converted to commercial use."

The recommendation declared that the value of the station if designated commercial and located at Longview would be a million dollars.

It also charged that the Longview proposal would substitute a UHF channel, which it termed worthless, for Channel 2.

Relatively few UHF (ultra high frequency) stations are operating in the nation and most all of receiving sets are for VHF (very high frequency) reception.

The proposed re-assignment of Channel 2 to commercial purposes has been opposed by a number of other educational leaders in Texas. Many of them have testified in opposition to the proposed change at federal communication commission hearings in Washington.

The convention directed Mrs. J. C. Stafford, District president, to present the recommendation to the state executive committee meeting in June for approval for presentation to the state board of managers and the state convention in November at Galveston.

Thousands Of Pilgrims Move Into Holy Land For Observance Of Easter Season

JERUSALEM (AP)—Religious devotions of many different faiths overshadowed political crises in the Holy Land this Good Friday.

It was Easter season for both Western and Eastern Christians. But it also was a holy time for Moslems and Samaritans. Across the frontier in Israel, Jews were completing their Passover holidays.

Jordan Prime Minister Hussein Khalidi, installed this week after his nation's acute political crisis, went to his home in Jerico to observe the Moslem day of rest. The Arab country as a whole appeared momentarily more interested in religion than politics.

In Arab Jerusalem, where most of the holy places are located, hotels were jammed with visiting prilgrims. The tourist bureau estimated 4,000 visitors poured in, reminiscent of the busy days the city knew before last year's succession of crises and war.

Only about 400 pilgrims crossed the Palestine armistice frontier from Israel, and few Westerners were among them. Most of the visitors in the Jordan sector were Arab Christians who had come by other routes from Egypt, Cyprus, and Syria.

Because of calendar differences, the Eastern and Western Easter usually fall on different dates. Once every four or five years, however, they fall together, and this year they coincide. The various Christian groups had to follow a strict schedule in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre to avoid conflicts.

Moslem visitors crowded into the city. This is Ramadan — a fasting month for Moslems — and the devout like to come to Jerusalem every Friday in Ramadan to pray in the Dome of the Rock, third most holy place in world to Moslems. In an area where a Jewish temple once stood, a beautiful Moslem dome covers the rock from which the Prophet Mohammed is said to have risen into Heaven on his horse.

A few miles to the north on Mount Gerizim, near Nablus, the last 300 survivors of the Samaritan community gathered for their Saturday Passover feast, unchanged in any detail since the exodus from Egypt. Shee, ritually slain during prayers on the mountainside, were being baked in earth, to be eaten with bitter herbs and unleavened bread, according to the rules of Moses.

The few hundred pilgrims from the Israeli sector of Jerusalem contrasted with several thousand who crossed the city's dividing line last year. It was the smallest number crossing for the Eastern observances since the Palestine war divided the city nine years ago.

Temperatures were chilly today as the Easter visitors filed through the Mandelbaum Gate entrance into the Old City. The sky was cloudy and there were intermittent drizzles during the morning.

Burglars Slain In Gunfight

CHICAGO (AP) — Three burglars were slain early today in a brief but violent gunfight with police detectives in the credit department of a State Street department store.

The burglars walked into a police trap and were mowed down by machine-gun and shotgun bullets. Seven detectives had been hiding in the 11th floor credit department for several hours, said Lt. James J. Lynch. Lynch said police had been tipped on the planned burglary.

He said the three men, carrying burglary tools, were about to attempt to open a safe when the detectives ordered them to surrender.

Inside the wall safe, said William Touhy, deputy chief of detectives, was "approximately $250,000" in currency. But the gunmen did not get a chance to attempt to open it.

Lynch said the burglars opened fire. The police, armed with three machine guns and four shotguns, exchanged shots, killing all three. No policeman was hurt.

It was not disclosed how the men gained entrance to the Mandel Brothers store, in the heart of the Loop.

Lynch identified two of the men as having been arrested previously. He said one of them, Jimmy Rentner, 30, had been released on bond recently on a robbery charge. He said James Wulf, 28, also had been arrested several times. The third man was identified as James Bertimio.

Escapee Is Being Hunted

MARSHALL (AP)—Officers from three counties searched the dense thicket country south of here today for a man who escaped from Sheriff Earl C. Franklin.

Franklin, Harrison County sheriff, had stopped the two men at a road block in the Potter's Creek area, 7 miles south of here, for questioning in a car theft.

After he had arrested them, the sheriff said, one of the men attacked him and he was forced to shoot him in the thigh. The wound was reported minor. The other escaped.

Hounds from Kilgore helped search for the man who escaped.

Book Is Returned After 36 Years

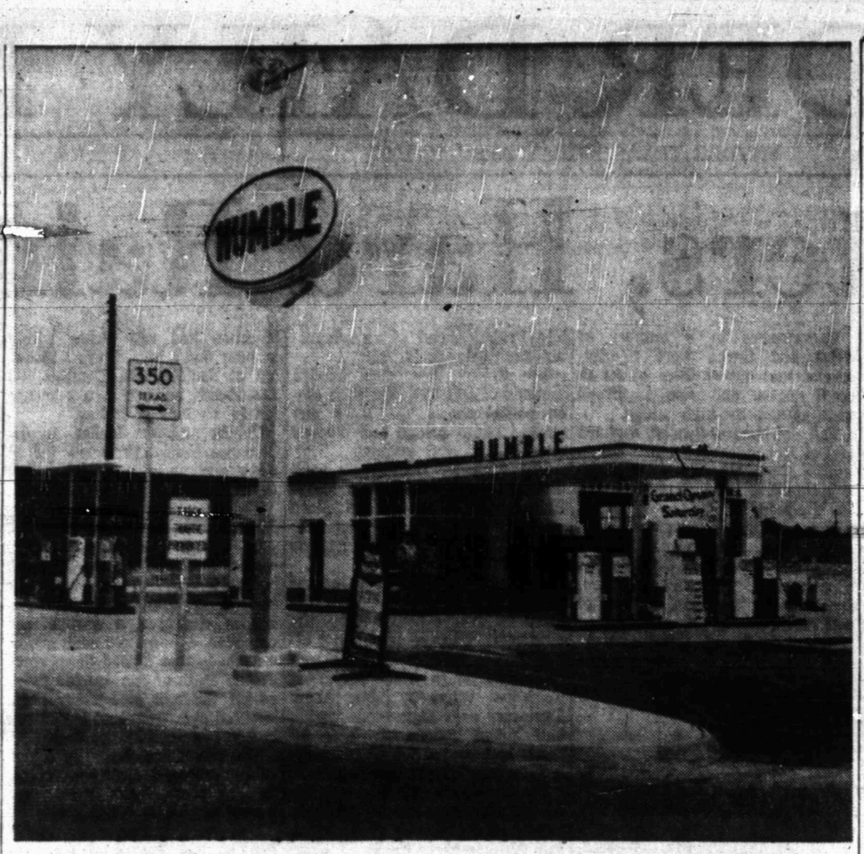

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Omar Bacon, public librarian, says a copy of "Stoddard's Lectures" was returned after a "loan" of 36 years.

A friend of the person who borrowed it April 21, 1921, brought it back with the explanation:

"He was too ashamed to return it himself."

Bacon didn't ask for the $216 in overdue charges, but he began checking up on some of the library's other books and found a copy of "The Plays of Euripides" in a collection bequeathed to the library. It had been checked out of the Goucher College Library in Baltimore in 1928.

Bacon sent it back to Goucher.

Tax Slash, Postal Rates Are Linked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Murray (D-Tenn), chairman of the House Post Office Committee, said today tax reduction and postal rates are "closely linked."

"It's absolutely important that rates be increased," Murray told a reporter, "because of the tremendous postal deficit."

The committee yesterday wound up a month of hearings on rate increases proposed by the administration to bring postal revenues more nearly in line with the cost of running the department.

It plans to start work on a bill April 30.

The proposed rate boosts include an increase from 3 to 4 cents in the price of a letter stamp, as well as rises in rates for other classes of mail.

President Eisenhower called anew for the rate increases yesterday when he listed them as a means of improving the budgetary situation.

Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex) later told reporters he thought "we'll cut the budget enough to justify a tax cut this year, or early next year."

Murray said the postal rate bill was "just as important a part of the fiscal program of the Congress as any cuts of a comparable amount we can make."

The balanced $71,800,000,000 spending budget Eisenhower sent to Congress anticipated that postal rates would be increased to bring in 654 million dollars more in revenue in fiscal 1958, starting July 1.

After the budget was submitted, the administration sent Congress a request for postal increases that would yield 462 million dollars more in 1958.

The postal deficit for 1958 has been estimated at some 651 million dollars. So Murray said that even with enactment of the proposed rate boosts, the postal deficit still would be some 200 million dollars.

Injunction Hearing Will Resume Today

GALVESTON (AP)—Bernard Roger's suit seeking an injunction preventing the University of Texas Medical branch from dismissing him will resume Tuesday.

The suit was recessed yesterday after two of Rogers' classmates testified they saw him change an answer in a quiz after looking at another student's paper.

James Bailey and Milton Altschuler said the alleged incident occurred during a bacteriology test.

The suit was filed against Dr. John Truslow, executive director of the school, who testified Monday Rogers was dismissed after recommendation by the Student Honor Council and the sophomore committee of faculty members.

Isaacs Quits At Hermleigh

Ray Isaacs, head football coach at Hermleigh the past three years, has tendered his resignation.

Isaacs's resignation will become effective at the end of the current school year.

In the three years at Hermleigh, Isaacs guided the Hermleigh Cardinals to one regional championship and a regional runnerup. His 1954 and 55 teams shared the undisputed district title.

The '55 team finished in a three-way deadlock with Robert Lee and Bronte and Robert Lee won a coin toss to represent the district in the playoffs.

Last fall, Hermleigh lost to Rochester in the regional finals, 14-7.

Isaacs' future plans are uncertain but he plans to remain in coaching.

Daniel Will Return To Liberty Easter

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel will go to Houston late today, then spend the Easter weekend with his family at their Liberty home.

Monday, Daniel will go to Denton for the centennial celebration.

Tuesday he will return to Houston where he will receive the 32nd Degree as a Mason and return to Austin Tuesday night.

Holy Week, Easter Rites Slated Here

The Easter Services at St. Elizabeth really began with the marking of the Biblical story of Christ's entry into Jerusalem by the distribution of palms and the procession of the children on Palm Sunday.

During the rest of Holy Week Holy Thursday was celebrated with the re-enactment of the Lord's Supper by the Eucharisitc Service on Thursday evening. This evening Friday the congregation will mark the anniversary of Christ's sufferings and death at a service in the Church at 6 p.m.

Principally the service centers around the part of the Cross played in the redemption of Christians. Deep mourning for Christ's sufferings pervade the entire ceremonies. The Church attempts to remind the Christian of the real cause of Christ's death: Sin.

At 10:45 Saturday evening the Congregation will begin the night-watch of the Resurrection. This vigil (called by St. Augustine in the fourth century the Mother of all Holy Vigils) points out in its divine service how our grace-life has flowed from our Lord's death. In the darkness of the night, a new fire is enkindled and blessed.

The great Easter Candle, symbolizing Christ "the Light of the World," is blessed, engraved and studded with the five grains of incense and then lighted as the pillar of fire which leads the congregation of the people into the church and provides them with light for their candles to illuminate the church, while the minister sings the Easter Proclamation which glorifies the splendor of the holy night of the Resurrection.

Four readings from the old testament recall the wondrous works of God in olden times, faint prefigurings of the marvels He has worked in our souls through Christ. Then the font of the Baptismal water is blessed that the family of God may grow by the fruitfullness of the church. As the hour of resurrection approaches at midnight, the choir breaks into the happy strains of the "Alleluia."

Taking active part in these services will be the choir under the direction of Martin Lutkins, singing the Choral Mass my Marsn. Assisting with the ceremonies will be John Carrell and Raymond Cox, as masters of ceremonies; Acolytes include Jimmy Dupont, Richard Busbee, Mike and Bob Winstead, Reggie Balhern, and Johnny Zalman, Rev. Edward Chrisman, pastor, will be held at 7:30 and 10:30 with the Mass of the Resurrection being read, and having as the general theme: The truth of Christian Faith evidenced by Christ's Resurrection.

Josephine Lays Egg

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—New hope for the almost extinct whooping crane population blossomed today as the Audubon Park's Josephine laid another egg.

Ordinarily, such bird eggs are routine things, but there are only 28 known of the long-legged birds in existence. The pair at the Audubon Park Zoo are the only two-some in captivity. A single whooper lives at a zoo in San Antonio, Tex.

Zoo Director George Douglas said he is hopeful that Josephine will present her mate Crip with anther egg in a day or two. Douglass called the event "the most important Easter egg in the world" and said all precautions are being taken.

Hatters Pick Their Favorites

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

EASTER IS THE DAY when spring hats bloom along with the daffodils, and when America's milliners name their annual list of the 10 best-hatted women. Here's how 10 top hat designers pick their favorites:

Mr. John, little Napoleon of the custom milliners, names Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney because—"She is one of the most beautiful women in New York society, and she knows how to do justice to a hat."

Lilly Dache chooses actress Lauren Bacall because—"She not only has a beautiful face, but she has a flair acquired early in her career as a New York fashion model. She knows that the right makeup and hairdo are necessary to do justice to a beautiful hat."

Sally Victor picks her favorite customer, Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, because—"She just naturally loves hats, and has made women all over the country hat-conscious."

Laddie Northridge chooses Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, United States treasurer, because—"She proves that a woman can be feminine and charming and still have a brilliant career."

Emme name TV star Arlene Francis because—"She is typical of a group of young and lovely women in New York's stage and television field who consistently demonstrate the charm and effectiveness of a pretty hat."

Rose Sapphire names Mary Bothwell, Canadian soprano, because—"She wears her hats with eclat."

Margaret Cody selects Mrs. Titus Haffa, Chicago social leader, because — "Her whole personality is so colorful and dramatic. Unlike most women who think of hats as accessories, she builds an entire costume around an exciting hat."

Robert Dudley picks Mrs. Cyrus McCormick, socialite of New York and Chicago, because—"She epitomizes the chic that a mature American woman can achieve by tast and intelligence."

Walter Florell chooses actress Joan Crawford and asks, "Can you think of anyone who could do more for a hat?"

John Frederics chooses Audrey Hepburn, screen star, because—"She has set a new style in young natural charm—and she knows how to wear a hat."

Use Canned Meat For Table Treat

Practice kitchen magic with canned meat items. It's a quick, modern method of putting meat on the table and in quite a fashionable way. "That's why canned meats are so valued by homemakers for meals," mentions Reba Staggs, well known home economist.

The range of canned meats varies . . . everything from the handy-12-ounce can of luncheon meat to the 1 to 15-pound canned hams.

But in using any food product, there are a few pointers to remember to preserve the finest flavor and eating quality of canned meat products.

Canned meats, with the exception of heavier canned hams, may be stored in a cool, dry place. Canned hams weighing three pounds or more must be kept under refrigeration.

It is often desirable to place one or two cans of meat, perhaps luncheon meat, under refrigeration for cold meat service. It helps to make the product slice better.

Once opened, the contents should be used within a few days like any other cooked meat.

Unused portions of the meat may be left in the can, covered and refrigerated.

No canned meat needs cooking, yet some prefer to serve the meat hot.

Luncheon meat becomes a glamorous dish when scored, studded with cloves and topped with a brown sugar or fruit glaze.

Meat Cut Changes

Modern meat cutting trends show standing rib roasts are usually shorter and more compact today with excess fat and bone removed. Pork cuts have a closer trim of external fat. Boneless pot-roasts and round steaks are becoming more widely used.

Tigers Bow 7-6 As Rally Falls Short

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

THEY DIDN'T WIN but you've got to give the Tiger baseballers and "A" for effort in yesterday's game with the Abilene Eagles at Blue Sox Stadium in Abilene. . . .

The Tiger diamonders refused to quit despite the tremendous odds against them in the final inning of yesterday's spectacle.

Many teams, trailing 7-0 with on an inning left against such a powerhouse as the Abilene Eagles, would throw in the towel I'm sure.

But not the Tigers. Instead of giving up the Tigers went out to win that game even though the odds were tremendously against them doing so.

In the sixth inning, Abilene picked up what seemed at that point, four unneeded runs. But, as it turned out, they needed everyone of those tallies for the victory.

Blowing Early Opportunities Costly

In reviewing the proceedings, the Tigers actually lost the game in the first and third innings. They had runners on second and third with one away in the first and the bases loaded with none away in the third but failed to score either time.

Who knows but what the Tigers might have won the game had they scored at least one run in each of those two golden oppurtunities.

On both occasions the Tigers were presented a chance of opening the scoring for the afternoon since the Eagles didn't score until the fourth.

In Glynn Gregory and Robert Carothers, the Eagles have perhaps the best one-two punch in high school baseball.

These two fellows provided the difference in yesterday's game, there's no doubt about it. Although Gregory was "out homered" by Carothers yesterday, 2-1, Gregory got the only "legitimate" round tripper. Gregory slammed his homer almost into the strong wind over the right centerfield fence.

Both of Carothers' clouts were hit with the wind over the left fence. However, we won't argue the point whether or not Carothers' smashes would have been homers anyway because we were too far away from the fence to judge.

These one-run defeats are still stacking up on the Tigers. Yesterday's one-run loss was the fifth this season for the Tigers, meaning all but three of the Tigers' eight defeats have been administered by a single tally.

Two of the Tigers' 11 wins have been won by a single run, 2-1 over Abilene and 1-0 over Odessa.

Prince 'Iron Man' of Tiger Staff

Dwayne Prince, who went the distance yesterday, has finished every game he's started this season.

Prince's number has been called seven times and he's gone the distance each outing. The seven runs the Eagles got off the lanky right hander yesterday were the most any team has scored on Prince this season.

Usually the Tigers don't score much when Prince is pitching but the six runs yesterday tied the previous high the Tigers have scored with Prince on the hill.

Prince was presented with six runs in his first start of the season, a 6-2 verdict over Rotan. Since then Prince has lost ot Odessa, 4-3; Midland, 4-3 and Big Spring, 3-2, in addition to yesterday's loss. In the victory column, Prince has beaten Monterey, 4-1 and Odessa, 1-0.

In other words, Prince has lost four games this season, each by one run.

Just this note to all you local bowlers who are ABC members.

Midnight tonight is the deadline for entering teams in the City Bowling tournament that starts next Monday.

If you intend to take part in the tournament, you better get your entries to Art Dibble, tournament director, within the next few hours.

TIGERS END 2ND WEEK OF DRILLS

The Tiger footballers were to have wound up their second week of spring drills today with an intra-squad scrimmage at 1.

Coach John Conley is giving his charges the "day off" tomorrow in observance of the Easter Season.

Today's game marked the second intra-squad game of the spring drills. The "Seniors" and "Underclassmen" battled to a 6-6 stalemate in the first squad game.

The squad was expected to be divided up a bit differently for today's game.

Two Tied For Tourney Lead At Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Properly chastised by the weather and the course in the first round, the field of 23 professional golfers tee away today in the second round of the $40,000 Tournament of Champions.

Leading the field were Ed Furgol of St. Andrews, Ill., the 1954 U.S. Open champion and 27-year-old Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., who reigned as king of the nation's amateurs in the same year before turning pro.

In these days of sub par scoring, their even par 72 for the Desert Inn Country Club course seemed unique.

But all hands hoped that one of the factors that sent scores high in the first round would be missing today. That would be the hard winds that swept the fairways yesterday, and coupled with cold and intermittent bursts of rain, made life most unhappy.

"Liked to have blown me off the course," said big Mike Souchak, whose 213-pound frame would stand some hard blowing. Mike had to settle for a 76.

Tied at 73, one shot back of the pacesetters, were four threats.

They were Gene Littler, 1955-56 jackpot winner here; Art Wall Jr., 1954 winner hre; Jimmy Demaret, and young Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex.

All Have Won In Texas Loop

By The Associated Press

Everybody has won a game in the Texas League race now that Tulsa has broken into the victory column.

The Oilers, who had taken two straight lickings from Oklahoma City, turned on Fort Worth for an 11-6 triumph Thursday night.

But Oklahoma City still leads the league. The Indians were able to nake it a certainty when they had an off day Thursday. But they face Dallas at Dallas Friday night.

Houston beat Austin 3-0 and Shreveport slammed San Antonio 10-4 in other games.

Tulsa shoved across seven runs in the seventh to lash Fort Worth, getting five of them off pitcher Gene Fodge.

Shreveport clouted San Antonio with a 14-hit assault on four Mission twirlers. Dave Newkirk was allowed the puny hitting Missions only six base knocks. He lost a shutout, however, when Fred Marsh homered in the eighth. Bill Parsons, Jim Ackeret and Mike Lutz homered for the Sports.

Billy Muffett was in rare form to let Austin down with only five hits.

San Antonio and Shreveport will be idle Friday night because they're taking out on Good Friday. But Tulsa will again be at jfort Worth, Houston at Austin and Oklahoma City at Dallas.

Bengals Erupt For 6 Runs In Seventh

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

ABILENE, April 19 — Snyder's battling Tigers staged a game but belated rally in the seventh inning here Thursday afternoon before bowing to the vaunted Abilene Eagles, 7-6, in a wind-blown non-district contest.

The Bengals, after blowing several scoring opportunities in the first six innings, finally found their scoring range in the sixth when they scored all of their six runs in the game.

Abilene coach Blacky Blackburn paraded four pitchers to the mound in the torrid tiger seventh before Roger Mac Evans finally was able to put out the fire.

The Tigers, trailing 7-0 after six innings, drove starting pitcher Gaylord Armstrong to the showers amid the 7th inning rally. Armstrong, however, was credited with his third win in as many starts this season.

Armstrong was charged with four of the six Tiger runs in the seventh. Chet Nichols, the second Eagle pitcher, and Butch Newman, the third, each was charged with one Tiger run. Evans only faced one man but it was a big one.

Evans relieved Newman with the tieing run camped on second base in the person of Neil Boyd. Evans then got catcher Coleman John, who had opened the Tiger seventh with a single, on strikes to end the game.

Dwayne Prince went the route for the Tigers and did right well except for three booming homeruns, two by shortshop Robert Carothers and one by Glynn Gregory.

Prince blanked the heavy hitting Eagles on three hits the first innings. Then the Gregory-Carothers duo shot the Eagles ahead with back-to-back homers to account for three runs. Gregory's blast came with one on.

It was still 3-0 gonng into the sixth when the Eagles scored what turned out to be their winning runs. The Tigers made only one error in the game but it proved costly, accounting for two of the four Eagle runs in the sixth.

Gregory opened the Eagle sixth with a single and promptly scored on Carother's second homer of the afternoon over the left field wall, boosting the Eagles lead to 5-0.

Prince then walked two and struckout two before the lone Tiger error led to the final two Tiger runs. John attempted a pickoff play at first and the ball went into right field, one Eagle scoring on the play and the other going to third.

Jerry McIver, who raced from first to third on the error, then scored what proved to be the winning run on an infield hit by Jimmy Carpenter.

The Tigers came back in the top of the seventh and threw a tremendous scare into the Eagles and their followers with their six-run rally.

John opened the Tiger seventh with an infield hit and moved up on a pinch-single by Jerry Flemming to right-center. Then Prince rifled a single to deep left field to score John with the first Tiger run. Gary Vice was then hit by a pitched ball to load the bases.

Armstrong was lifted at this point with the left-handed pitching Nichols being summoned from the bull pen to face the southpaw swinging Tommy Prichard. Prichard grounded sharply to second, forcing Vice at the keystone bag, Flemming scoring. Prince came on around with the third run when second baseman Larry Green's throw to first on an attempted double play went into the stands.

Vice took Green out beautifully with a slide at second that caused Green to throw wildly at first.

Newman came in to face Ham and walked the Tiger first sacker to put runners on first and second with one away. Reaves flew out to centerfielder Carpenter who made a long run for the catch for the second out.

Ronnie Baker kept the Tiger rally alive with a single to right that scored Prichard with the fourth run. Boyd drove in run No. 5 with a single to center to score Ham and Baker came on around with the sixth run on an error.

Evans was brought in to face John, appearing for the second time in the 7th and John went down swinging to end the wild rally.

The Tigers missed two golden opportunities to take the lead in the early innings. In the first, Prichard and Ham rapped back-to-back singles with one away. Prichard raced to third on Ham's hit and Ham went into second when the Eagle left fielder bobbled his ground ball single down the left field line.

But Joe Reaves bounced out third to first and Baker popped out to end the threat.

In the third, the Tigers loaded the bases with none away. Prince led with a single, Vice walked and Prichard sacrificed but reached first when the throw to third in an attempt to catch Prince was late.

Armstrong worked himself out of the jam when Ham forced Prince at the plate, Vice was caught at the plate in an attempted "squeeze" play that failed to materialize and Reaves whiffed.

Prince, in going the distance, struck out seven Eagles and walked four. The defeat left Prince with a 3-4 record and the Tigers with an 11-8 season mark. Abilene, in winning, chalked up its 16th win against two defeats and one tie.

The Tigers will be idle until Tuesday when they host the Big Spring Steers.

'Spit Ball' Charge Breaks Out Again

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Here we go again. Lew Burdette says he doesn't throw a spitter. Birdie Tebbetts insists he does. "A cheating spitballer," says the Cincinnati manager. But Warren Giles says "you have to prove it to me."

Whatever Burdette, Milwaukee's shutout ace, does when he spins his stuff for the Braves, old Satch Paige had a term for it — "outpsychologizin' the hitter."

That's waht Burdette had in mind when he said "It's the best pitch I've got—and I don't throw it," in reply to Tebbetts' renewed cry after the Redlegs lost to the big righthander 1-0 yesterday. It was the eighth successive time Burdette, who led the National League with six shutouts midst similar "spitter" charges last season, has whipped Cincinnati and Tebbetts is "pretty tired of him getting away with murder."

Birdie, who insists Burdette "went to his mouth before every pitch," chirped so loud his boss General Manager Gabe Paul, decided to lodge an official protest today and ask Giles, the league president, for a clarification of rule 8:02, which states a pitcher cannot "apply a foreign substance of any kind to the ball" under penalty of a 10-day suspension.

"Until someone — the umpires or someone — presents evidence that Burdette is using the spitter, I'll do nothing about it," said Giles, adding that "a lot of pitchers make a hitter think they're throwing a spitter, but there's nothing illegal about it."

Legal or not, Burdette's victory, fashioned on Hank Aaron's first home run of the year in the sixth inning off loser Hal Jeffcoat, handed the winless Redlegs a second defeat and left the Braves and Brooklyn Dodgers the only unbeaten clubs in the league.

The Dodgers, with Sal Maglie throwing a four-hitter, knocked off Pittsbhurg 6-1. The Chicago Cubs cracked 15 hits to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals 10-2. And the New York Giants kept Philadelphia winless 6-2.

In the American, the winless Detroit Tigers lost their third in a row, this time to Cleveland, 8-3, in 11 innings. The New York Yankees again had to rally in the ninth, beating Boston 3-2. Chicago's White Sox handed Kansas City its first defeat, 6-2, behind Jack Harshman's four-hitter. And Washington finally became a winner with a 6-4 job on Baltimore.

Maglie, who will be 40 a week from today, struck out five and walked three while gaining a 23-5 lifetime record against the Pirates in his 200th major league start. The lone Pirate run was unearned. Duke Snider, the NL's defending home run king, smacked his first of the year and Gil Hodges hit his second for the Brooks, who cracked southpaw Luis Arroyo and three reliefers for 14 hits.

Young Moe Drabowsky, the Cubs' bonus righthander, permitted just four hits in whipping the Cards. Gene Baker led the assault on Murry Dickson and four Card relief pitchers, driving in four runs with a triple, double and single. Stan Musial, his back in shape, played his 776th consecutive game, but was hitless.

Rookie Roger Maris made his first major league home run the major's first grand slammer of the season, capping a five-run 11th for the Tribe. Bobby Avila's sacrifice fly scored the run that broke a 3-1ll tie. Ray Narleski won it with Al Aber the loser, both in relief.

Baylor To Sul Ross For Two-Game Set

By The Associated Press

Two Southwest Conference teams play in non-conference games this weekend.

Baylor tangles with Sul Ross College at Alpine Friday and Saturday. Texas A&M plays Brooke Army Medical Friday.

Paul Temple pitched Brooke to a 4-0 victory over the Aggies Thursday night at San Antonio. Temple struck out 18 Aggies and yielded only one walk as he kept the Aggies from advancing past first base.

Texas edged Topeka of the Western League 5-4 at Austin.

Roy Menge's third home run provided the winning margin in the eighth inning.

Trojans, Abilene Annex Team Titles In Dallas Track Meet

DALLAS (AP) — The Southwest can't do as well on a team basis as other sections in track and field but none of them presents a better combination of individual brilliance than Eddie Southern and Bobby Morrow.

Southern California showed it was really loaded and would be the team to worry about, if it were eligible for the National Collegiate meet, by scoring a whopping 96 points last night to win the Dallas Invitation for the fourth straight season.

But Southern, the Texas star, and Morrow, Abilene Christian College's contribution to the Olympic Games, provided the big show.

Southern, for once, took much of the play away from Morrow although both gave the crowd of 10,000 a thrill with their record-smashing performances.

Southern set records of 13.9 and 22.8 in the hurdles and ran on a Texas 440-yard relay team that beat its arch rival, Abilene Christian College, in a world record-tying time of 40.2.

Morrow won the 100-yard dash in 9.3 to tie the world's record and eased through the 220 in 20.5. He ran on the second place 440-yard relay team. This time even the great Morrow couldn't deny Texas victory. He tried to overtake Bobby Whilden on the anchor leg of the relay, but gained very little and let up 50 yards from the tape. Texas won the event by three yards.

Morrow couldn't claim a world record tie in the 100 because he had a 7-miles-per-hour favoring wind.

Mostly through the work of Southern, Texas took second place in the meet with 71½ points. Abilene Christian was third with 33, Southern Methodist fourth with 17 and Texas A&M fifth win 12½.

Southern California won or placed in 12 of the 16 events. The Trojans swept the first three shot put. They also chipped in with four of the seven records set for the night. Two others were tied.

Southern Cal's Max Truex ran the 2-mile in 9:14.2, Ron Morris vaulted 14 feet, 2 inches, Sid Wing scatted the mile in 4:15.2 and Bob Voiles hurled the javelin 224 feet, 1 inches for meet records.

Texas' 440-yard relay record was three-tenths of a second under its own mark and then there were the two records set by Southern.

Bill Woodhouse, Abilene Christian College's little man "who wasn't there," finally got himself located in a race. The fellow who was left out of the placers in the West Texas Relays only to have it changed when pictures showed he actually tied for second, and who obviously was missed for a third or fourth place finish in the 100-yard dash of the Texas Relays, was at first left out of the finish of the 100. But a recheck showed he got third place. The crowd roared approval of the fact that Woodhouse finally could make himself seen by the judges.

At the same time that the college meet was run off, schoolboy stars of North Texas held a meet for themselves and Abilene won it with 19 points. Gladewater was second with 17 and Graham third with 15 points. Three records were set but the big man of this meet was Tommy Minter of Gladewater, who won the broad jump and low hurdles, was second in the 100 and ran on the fourth place sprint relay team. He scored 14½ points —more than any other performer. Minter ran the 180-yard low hurdles in 19.4—just three-tenths of a second over the record.

High school division records set were 165 feet 9½ inches in the discus throw by Jack Tayrien of Odessa, 6 feet 2 inches in the high jump by Jackie Upton of Vernon and a 4:32.2 mile by Raul Balderrama of Brownwood.

Snyder's Tigers picked up nine points in the Dallas invitational as all three Tigers competing placed.

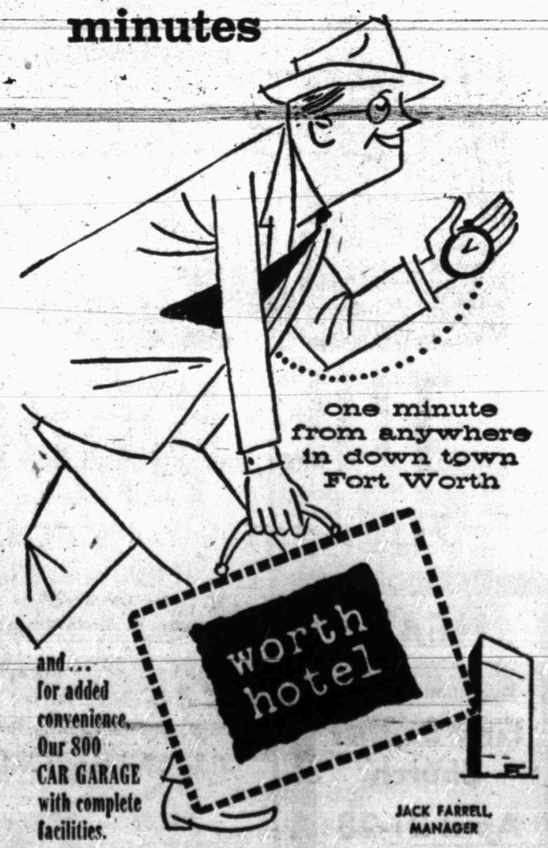

Bud Morgan of the Bengals was second in the 180-yard low hurdles; Rex Wilson was third in the 120-yard high hurdles; and Bobby Pollard placed fourth in the 100-yard hash.

Tommy Minter of Gladewater won the low hurdles in 19.4; Bobby Bernard of Graham won the high hurdles in 14.3; and Bobby Thomas of Fort Worth North Side captured the 100-yard dash in 9.3.

Human Injuries Can Be Made More Painful With Hypnosis

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

CHICAGO (AP) — Hypnosis, long known to banish pain, can also make human injuries more painful and severe.

Body tissues can become more vulnerable to injury.

This new finding about the mysterious hypnotic behavior of the mind was described today to the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology by Doctors Loring F. Chapman, Helen Goodell and Harold G. Wolff, Cornell University Medical College, New York.

Three hypnotized persons put first one arm and then the other into a bath tub of water just under body temperature.

When the first arm was put in, it was suggested to the hypnotized person that the water was very hot, that the arm was burned, injured, and painful. When the other was immersed, it was suggested the water was very comfortable and the arm was all right.

Immediately afterward, both arms were exposed to the same amount of burning heat or an acid, enough to produce a little injury.

Each time the first arm — the one suggested as being hurt — had more skin damage than the other.

Tests showed tiny blood vessels had expanded under the hypnotic suggestion, making the tissues more vulnerable. One or more chemicals released in the body may also have played a role in the greater injury.

In other reports:

Regular exercise looks good for the human heart, said Dr. Harry Y. C. Wong and associates, Howard University College of Medicine, Washington, D.C.

Chicks forced to exercise twice daily for 30 minutes had far less cholesterol in their blood, and less atherosclerosis, or clogging of arteries with fatty deposits. Such clogging is a main cause of heart attacks. The chicks were being fed high-fat diets, and were compared with nonexercising chicks.

Cigarette smoke reduced the amount of oxygen used by the heart, said Gerald Kien and Norman Lasker, graduate students, and Dr. Theodore R. Sherrod, pharmacologist, University of Illinois College of Medicine.

The effect was due to nicotine, they said. The reduction in oxygen occurred when there was increase or no change in the amount of work the heart was doing. Adverse changes in heart rate, rhythm and electrocardiograms were noted, the scientists said.

They said these effects were not apparent in persons with normal heart function, because the normal heart can compensate for additional stress, but the added stress might be harmful in persons with heart disease.

Ike Not Budging Much On Budget

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower isn't really budging much from the spending money he requested of Congress, even though yesterday he proposed a cut of almost two billion dollars in his budget.

It's because of government arithmetic that the cut sounds bigger than it is.

Early in January he sent his budget message to Congress and, in effect, this is what he said:

"I'm asking you to approve my spending of $73,300,000,000. Actually I will spend only $71,800,000,000 of it in the 1958 fiscal year beginning next July 1. The rest—a difference of 1½ billion—can be spent in following years."

Even so, that $71,800,000,000 in actual spending money was a record peacetime budget. His administration was attacked in and out of Congress. Big cuts in the budget were demanded.

But Eisenhower argued that the figure was about the best he could offer. On April 3—when his Budget Bureau was combing his budget all over again, looking for spots to economize — he told a news conference he didn't expect to find reductions "big enough to be . . . startling . . . I am not thinking in terms of two billions, for example."

The demands for cuts continued. In Congress the House Democrats voted overwhelmingly — with the Republicans overwhelmingly opposed—for a resolution calling on Eisenhower to tell Congress where cuts could be made.

Yesterday he answered the challenge by sending a special message to Congress, suggesting some reductions and noting some other places he said Congress may want to cut. They came to a total of $1,800,000,000. Did this look like a contradiction of what he said April 3? It really wasn't.

This is why:

Remember his budget called for spending $71,800,000,000 in fiscal 1958, with another 1½ billion to be spent later. Most of the $1,800,000,000 he suggested yesterday as possible cuts would come out of the 1½ billion he didn't need for spending in fiscal 1958.

Roughly, only the remaining 300 millions would come out of the $7,800,000,000 from which, he said on April 3, no startling reductions could be expected. Thus the President has been pretty consistent in sticking by his early statements that his second spending budget was about as tight as it could be made.

Leonard said he would prefer to go into politics or government. People in that work are "the last hope we have for peace," he said.

Ex-Governor Strikes At Income Tax

DALLAS (AP)—J. Bracken Lee, former Republican governor of Utah, said last night the one sure way to return constitutional rights to the American people is to wipe out the income tax.

Lee, national chairman of "For America," told a crowd of about 100 persons that the income tax last year brought in 33 billion dollars to the federal government.

"Take away that 33 billion dollars and then find out how powerful they are in Washington," Lee said. He spoke at a gathering of the newly-organized "Texans for America" organization.

Lee said, "Americans resent continuous gifts to England. The English are described as 'poor' people who need help. But our gifts to them are bringing about an income tax reduction there but none here," he said.

"The 'poor' English are not getting our gifts. The money goes to make the few rich English richer," Lee said.

Easter Hat Madness Hits Opera Star

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The Easter hat madness has an unusual victim this year—Blanche Thebom, the only girl in grand opera who can stand on her own hair without bending her knees.

"I feel like I had dived into a lily pond, and had come up with a lily on my head," said the Metropolitan Opera star as she put on the first hat she had bought in 14 years.

The beautiful mezzo - soprano gave up hats about the time she started letting her hair grow long. Now it is over six feet in length and the singer, who is about 5 feet 7 inches tall, actually can let it down and step on it.

Miss Thebom, who usually gets along by sticking a flower or a jeweled ornament in her hair, went on a bonnet buying spree this season because she is going to England soon. It wouldn't do to bump unexpectedly into Queen Elizabeth with nothing but a vintage orchid in her tresses.

Blanche isn't a girl who goes in for half-way measures. She descended on the hat shop operated by Mr. John, the noted chapeau designer, with the enthusiasm of a pirate raider.

Her enthusiasm was matched by that of Mr. John, weary at the moment of decorating girls who affect short bobs or even crew cuts.

"For a long-haired woman, the hat simply must be in proportion. Hat design, after all, is basically architecture, which is basically proportion."

Mr. John, whom Napoleon is said to resemble, tosses off bon mots like this all day long.

He came in with half a dozen colorful wide-brimmed hats with such romantic titles as "Meeting in Mayfair," "Brunch with a Beefeater" and "tea with a total stranger."

One hat which was two feet wide and named "Windsor afternoon" caught Blanche's eye.

"This is a black palace portrait hat," murmured Mr. John, "made of layers of summer black taffeta with a black petticoat brim, caught with a single summer rose, also black."

Intoxicated either by Mr. John's haunting creations or his haunted descriptions, Miss Thebom wound up with about a dozen big-brimmed hats.

"If you're going to wear a hat," said Blanche stoutly, "you might as well wear a mad one, so that a man can look at it condescendingly."

As she left Miss Thebom was heard to mutter:

"I think I'll have a happy Easter—if I just don't have to go through too many revolving doors."

Pre-Easter Rain Falls

By The Associated Press

Pre-Easter shoppers in most of the country were in for another wetting today as rainy weather, with storms in some areas, continued.

The one consolation — it was mild in most sections.

The storm belt extended from the Dakotas into western Texas. The most severe thunderstorms were reported from South Dakota and Nebraska through Kansas and into northern Oklahoma.

Hail and strong winds hit some of the areas. Rainfall amounts in parts of South Dakota and Oklahoma measured more than an inch in six hours during the night.

Showers and thundershowers sprinkled sections from southern Illinois through most of Arkansas. Light rain fell in the Northeast from Pennsylvania eastward to the coast.

Attendance Is Urged

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel urged Texans to attend Good Friday and Easter Services "to a true observance of this holy season."

Daniel yesterday proclaimed Friday afternoon an official holiday for all state employes.

"Mankind has no more sacred season than Easter, a time for all of us to remember Him who gave His life to mankind. It is a period of thankfulness for the greatest event and the greatest life in the history of the world," he said.

"It is proper that the state government of Texas should take the lead in encouraging the observance of Easter and of Good Friday by its employes and by all Texans."

Former Governor Of Tennessee Dies Today

NEWPORT, Tenn. (AP)—Pneumonia claimed the life yesterday of Ben W. Hooper, 86, former governor of Tennessee and prominent Republican leader. He was a native of Newport.

As a member of the U.S. Railway Labor Board appointed by President Harding in April 1921, Hooper was given credit for averting a nationwide rail strike. He served as chairman of the board from 1922 to 1925.

SOLONS RAPPED

Hearing Is Set On Eviction

AUSTIN (AP)—Former State Sen. Joe Hill's suits seeking a temporary injunction to evict Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey and House Speaker Waggoner Carr from their plush State Capitol apartments will be heard at 9 a.m. April 26.

Dist. Judge Charles O. Betts yesterday refused to grant Hill's request for a temporary restraining order to accomplish the same thing for a short period of time. Betts did not explain why he refused and set the hearing for the temporary injunctions.

Hill alleges Carr and Ramsey are illegally occupying the apartments. He said it was against the Constitution which provides they shall receive the same pay as other legislators and no more.

Giving them the apartments, plus allowing them to use state funds for the payments of cooks and maids, is in effect giving them more pay, Hill said in court. He said he wants these expenditures stopped together with slapping a freeze on the Board of Control spending any money to remodel and refurnish the apartments.

Hill made an emotional plea for the granting of the restraining order. Attorneys for Carr and Ramsey—who were not present—did not rebuke Hill's arguments.

"It's an open, flagrant violation of the Constitution and the civil statutes in operating the two spaces being utilized in the Capitol for their places of abode," Hill said.

Hill said the 47th Legislature authorized expenditure of $30,000 to refurnish the apartments "befitting a Maharaja."

He said Ramsey has ordered $6,300 of "custom made furniture" including a new television set and "a little trinket—a bed lamp—only $90—to sit between the beds."

Hill said he was mad because it was his money that was being spent as a taxpayer of Texas. He said Carr had ordered a washing machine, a television set and "new drapes at $18 a yard."

"If we can't stop pilferage of the state treasury with a temporary restraining order, how in heaven's name are we going to stop it?" he said.

"I wish it was possible for this court to throw this courthouse at them to stop that graft."

Judge Betts said that if Hill thought there was a criminal act involved, he could appear before the grand jury which is now in session.

Hill said he did not allege misappropriation of funds, but misapplication.

Carpenters Attempt To Legalize Coffee Break

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Carpenters in the Philadelphia area are now trying to make legal what lots of other workers have been doing for years. To wit — the coffee break.

Along with increased wages, they're asking contract language specifying 10 minutes for java at 10 a.m. every working day.

The Federal Mediation Service has stepped into the dispute in hopes of averting a strike which could tie up all nonhome building in a five-county area of southeastern Pennsylvania.

Annual Muster Slated

Former students of Texas A&M College who live in Scurry and Mitchell Counties will meet at the Civic House in Colorado City Monday night to carry on a tradition that is 54 years old.

The annual muster is set for 7:30 p.m.

The Scurry-Mitchell muster will be one of more than 400 similar ceremonies to be held over the world where Texas A&M's former students pay homage to their fellow classmates who have passed on, and tribute to the Texas who won the freedom of the state at the battle of San Jacinto near Houston 121 years ago.

J. D. Williams, chairman of the muster, has urged all A&M men and A&M students to attend the April 22 Muster program. Others to appear on the program are Raymond Perdue, club president, S. A. Palmer, Roy Bates, club secretary, and John Russel.

The April muster is recognized as one of the greatest traditions in American colleges and universities, and thousands of A&M men participate each year.

Rally To Support Segregation Bills

HOUSTON (AP)—A leader of the Greater Houston Citizens Council said yesterday the group plans to rally Tuesday at the Capitol at Austin in support of segregation bills passed by the House.

Mort Wren said the pro-segregation meeting might be attended by as many as 2,000 people, including some from Beaumont and other citizens councils.

"We just want to thank the legislators for their good work, give them moral support, and urge them to keep it up, Wren said.

The segregation bills have yet to come up in the Senate, where a filibuster has been threatened.

Residents Appreciate Priest's Good Deeds

WARWICK, R.I. (AP)—More than 200 youthful residents of Warwick appreciate all the good deeds done for them by the Rev. William P. Gillooly, assistant pastor of St. Peter's Catholic Church.

The youngsters estimate the priest spent $6,000 on 120,000 ice cream cones in the last 12 years. The priest also directs baseball, basketball and bowling leagues and takes youngsters to the beach.

A petition bearing 207 youthful signatures was presented to the City Council last night to name a new street "Gillooly Avenue."

The council will act at the next meeting.

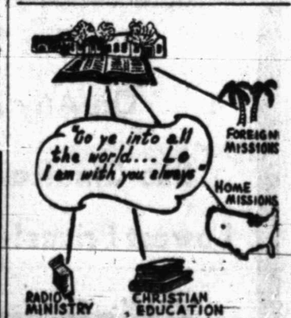

This Fellow Really Saves His Nickels

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Tellers at the Germantown branch of the Western Saving Fund Society won't be troubled with counting nickels deposited by John E. Anderson Jr. any more.

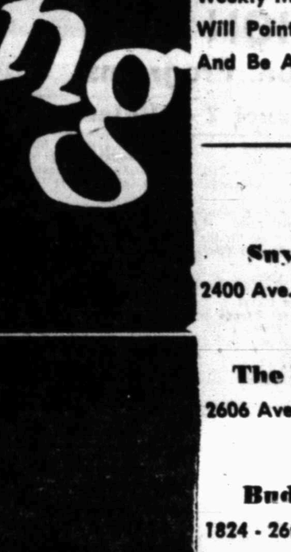

He was arrested by police and charged with robbing parking meters.

Anderson, 29, turned in $195 in nickels at the saving fund branch last month. He had 2,000 more in his room awaiting deposit.

New Evidence Is Found In Payoff Probe

AUSTIN (AP) — Dist. Atty. Les Procter hinted yesterday that Dr. Henry Schlichting of Midland had given investigators new evidence in the renewed legislative payoff probe.

Reporters asked Procter about rumors that Schlichting, socalled "mystery witness" in the sensational bribery investigation, had slipped in and out of Austin this week.

"Yes, I understand he talked to Department of Public Safety investigators, to give them a written statement, perhaps," Procter said.

Schlichting was chairman of the 1955 legislative committee of the Texas Naturopathic Physicians Assn.

Five witnesses called before the Travis County grand jury yesterday indicated the Midland practitioner could explain what happened to large naturopath donations during the 1955 Legislature. All five were former members of the TNPA and present members of the Texas branch of the American Naturopathic Physicians Guild which is at odds with the TNPA.

Procter said he did not know when Schlichting would be called before the grand jury which has taken over evidence gathered earlier by the House Bribery Investigation Committee. After hearing the witnesses yesterday the bribery probe was recessed until next Tuesday.

The district attorney refused to designate Schlichting as a major or minor witness. Procter said he had made no offers of immunity from prosecution to any witness.

Schlichting in previous statements to reporters has said his TNPA work during the 1955 Legislature had "nothing to do with financing, entertaining or handling money. My job was preparing bills and steering them."

The Midland man has not appeared before either the House committee or the grand jury previously although he has reportedly talked several times with DPS investigators.

The House committee abruptly suspended its probe the first of April to turn evidence of "major developments" over to the grand jury. State and local officials refused to say at the time of the evidence given the DPS by a "mystery witness," involved state legislators.

Dr. Robert Spears of Dallas, former president of the TNPA and now secretary of the Texas branch of the Guild, apparently was the principal witness yesterday. He talked with the jury for almost an hour. He previously had testified twice before the House committee, once being threatened with contempt action for refusing to answer some questions about his past life.

Spears said yesterday he did not think the House group would take any action on the contempt threat. He has said he would agree to take a lie detector test about his part in any alleged legislative payoffs.

Also appearing yesterday were Dr. William T. Hart of Dallas, former TNPA director and now a Guild official; Dr. Raymond Hoyle of Dallas, who said he gave $1,100 to TNPA in 1955 alone; Dr. William O. Nance of Dallas and Dr. B. N. Walker of Fort Worth. Nance is chairman of the State Board of Naturopathic Examiners which was declared unconstitutional in 1953 by the state attorney general. The case is still on appeal.

Hart told reporters before he went into the grand jury room that "Schlichting and his gang" were always pressing TNPA members for more contributions. "We finally got tired of asking questions as to where the money went and receiving no sane answer, we organized the Guild," he said.

Hoyle predicted Schlichting would appear as a witness in "a smash climax to this whole thing."

Rayburn To Speak At Wylie Tomorrow

DALLAS (AP)—Speaker Sam Rayburn will give the main address tomorrow when the North Texas Municipal Water District opens its new water treatment plant.

The open house will be held at the plant at Wylie in south Collin County.

Much of the water district lies in Rayburn's Fourth Congressional District.

The water district is now delivering water from the plant through some 92.4 miles of mains to member cities, including Dallas. Dallas is buying treated Lake Lavon water from the district to bolster its own supply.

Opera Singer Upset About Curtailment

HONOLULU (AP) — Metropolitan Opera soprano Eleanor Steber says she is disturbed by reports that some congressmen advocate abolishing or curtailing the U.S. program of sending cultural artists abroad.

"It would be playing right into the hands of the Russians," she said last night as she paused en route to New York by plane after a four-month tour to 17 countries.

"We've got to send the best artists we have. That's what the Russians are doing."

PASS THE ASPIRIN

Letter Writing - - The Lost Art

By INEZ ROBB

The National Institute of Health reports that we Americans take 12 billion aspirin tablets annually to sooth our shakes. But I think the count is low. That is only around 70 aspirins per man, woman and child. (The popular child-size aspirin indicates that the American moppet has a head start toward becoming a neurotic, just like mommy and daddy.) I am not an aspirin addict, but I have been eating them by the handful ever since a popular greeting-card manufacturer started sending me samples of his wares about two months ago. I have written him a couple of times begging him to refrain, and now I am toying with the idea of a court injunction.

These sample cards sent me, touted as "gay, chic and avant garde," are divided into three general categories any one of which would upset a Watusi witch doctor.

First, there are those that are frankly obsene. Second, there is a group so macabre and sadistic that they seem suitable only for Jack the Ripper. The third category specializes in the art of insult, as practiced by certain radio and teevee comics. (Well, they're advertised as comics.)

Any of the group could be fatal to an aspirin - addled American whose nerves are already throbbing like a wind harp. The obscene cards are inexcusable and the others are incredible.

Even before these three categories started to flood the greeting-card racks, the industry had much to answer for. In the past 20 years, during which the industry has catapulted into popularity, it must answer for a sharp decline in polite manners and a corresponding spurt in illiteracy.

The greeting card has completely killed the art of letter-writing. By and large, no one today knows how to write a thank-you note, an anniversary felicitation, a missive to a sick friend or even a billet-deux. All proper sentiments are now for sale, too!

The great art of the letter-writer, as practiced by Horace Walpole, Lord Chesterfield and Mme. de Stael, to name a few, was given the final coup de grace by the advent of greeting cards. The telegram started it ("do right and fear no man; don't write and fear no woman") and the greeting card applied the double whammy.

The big, easy, economy-size built-in message, saving time, effort and thought, was ready-made for the 20th Century's let-George-do-it attitude. The greeting card industry quickly caught the hang of this age of specialization, and today if your Great Aunt Erma suffers from fallen arches, you can purchase a greeting card addressed to "My Great Aunt, in Hope Her Arches Ain't Achin'."

If your dog is sick, your watch broken, your exams flunked, your house burned, your daughter eloped or your boss sick ("Nothing trivial, I hope"), there's a suitable card.

Okay. These I am prepared to endure. But the obscene, the macabre and the neurotic? No! Insults, NO! If you have me in find for any cards in these categories, kindly save your money, pass the aspirin and drop dead.

City Hunting Dynamite Caps

COLLINSVILLE, Okla. (AP) — Instead of a needle in a haystack, people in this tiny Oklahoma town were looking for dynamite caps.

And Police Chief Don Brinkley was finding them all over town last night—in the coat pocket of a little girl, at an old coal pit, by the hotel.

Luckily, none of the estimated 100 dynamite caps taken by a couple of young teen-agers "goofing around" the United Brick Co. had exploded.

"But somebody could get his head blown off," said Brinkley as he led the search. About 85 had been recovered so far.

The boys told the chief they took the caps and some dynamite sticks early Wednesday. Brinkley said apparently some of the caps had been handled by various children in school for two days.

It was not discovered until early last night that dynamite caps were scattered around this little community near Tulsa. Then, police were notified some children were playing with the explosives.

One cap turned up in the pocket of a little girl's coat.

Another boy said he'd tossed a couple in a waste basket at school and another said he'd thrown about 10 in a creek.

One of the boys who admitted taking the caps led police to an old coal pit where about 15 of the sticks of dynamite were recovered.

"We built a fire and threw in some to see what would happen, but nothing did," one of the boys told police.

Ordinarily, the caps are exploded with an electrical charge.

Easter Egg, Giant Size

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP)—Appalled at the prospect of dyeing scores of Easter eggs for the kiddies? Wanna do things up big? How about an ostrich egg?

Ralph Caylor, who operates the Model Markets here, has two ostrich eggs. He has cornered the market, so to speak, because there are no known ostriches in this area, and furthermore, ostriches are moulting now and eggs are scarce.

But before you start, consider these statistics:

It takes 1½ hours to boil an ostrich egg, a hacksaw to open one, and the interior is equal to 3½ dozen chicken eggs. Price, about $20 an egg.

Airplane Lands In Flames Yesterday

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An airliner landed in flames at Greater Pittsburgh Airport yesterday but thanks to a quick-acting pilot, a calm stewardess and expert fire fighters a major tragedy was averted.

Fifty passengers poured out of the Capital Airlines DC4 seconds after it ground to a halt while firemen riding alongside in trucks poured flame-quenching foam on the plane.

Not a person was injured seriously. Nine were treated either for shock or bruises.

"When we stepped on the ground we thanked God," said Mrs. John Burnham of Buffalo. "He was with us today."

Mrs. Burnham, her husband and two young daughters were on the first leg of a vacation trip to Florida.

There was no indication of an emergency as the big airplane, piloted by R. L. Calhoun of Alexandria, Va., circled the airport and approached for a landing. But the plane landed "hard," an airport official said.

A Capital spokesman said instruments in the cockpit indicated the landing gear was not secured so Calhoun zoomed the big ship into the air. Seconds later the right inboard engine caught fire and flames raced along the fuselage.

As the passengers tensed, the airplane's public address system blared:

"Prepare for a crash landing."

There was a momentary rush of passengers toward an emergency door and some slight panic, Mrs. Burnham said. But stewardess Katherine Szymanski of New Kensington, Pa., shouted, "Keep calm."

Capt. Calhoun, who had alerted the airport, set the plane down in a few seconds.

The Capital spokesman said there was no indication of what caused the "hard" landing on the first attempt. He declared the Buffalo-to-Pittsburgh plane could have possibly been caught in a wind current.

The spokesman said the impact of the landing apparently caused a fuel line or tank to burst.

MAN HAS RUNIN WITH HIS WIFE

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Edward English Boshers, 40, explained the automobile collision to police:

"The other man was driving with my wife in his car and I tried to break it up."

"Didn't you run into the same man's car several months ago for the same reason," asked Traffic Inspector Willard Jett.

"Sure did," said Boshers, who was charged with assault and battery and reckless driving.

Post Quit By Newbury

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Tribune said today that Frank D. Newbury, assistant secretary of defense and only recently named head of the Pentagon Research and Engineering Office, resigned yesterday.

The Tribune, in a dispatch from Washington, said Pentagon officials said Newbury, 76, submitted his resignation to Defense Secretary Wilson, reportedly "as an outgrowth of pressure from research science groups who complained that Newbury, an engineer, laid too mkch stress on engineering and practical applied research on new weapons."

Newbury, a former Westinghouse Electric Corp. Vice President and long time acquaintance of Wilson, had headed the engineering office since 1953. It and the research office were merged under him last Fdbruary.

Old Age Assistance Checks To Go Out

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel says the State Welfare Department will be able to issue old age assistance checks to some 226,000 Texans on time in May because of fast action by the U.S. Congress.

In order for the Texans to receive their May checks on time, Congress had to pass a deficiency appropriation before it left for its Easter recess. This was done yesterday.

State Welfare Department Director John Winters had advised Daniel of the shortage Wednesday. The governor said he had urged congressional leaders to pass the bill in time.
