Write-Ins Heavy For Lodge, Nixon

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — A swirling snowstorm and early write-in votes for Henry Cabot Lodge and Richard M. Nixon compounded the Republican riddle today as New Hampshire voters cast their ballots in the nation's lead-off presidential primary.

With seven votes, Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater held a one-vote edge, but Lodge was right behind him as a trickle of votes from mountain hamlets began the tide that will shape up the battle for the GOP nomination to oppose President Johnson next November.

Goldwater's name was on the ballot; Lodge's and Nixon's were not.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who like Goldwater has been stumping New Hampshire all winter, had three votes, and Nixon five.

Those early votes were from the north country communities of Dixville Notch, Hart's Location and Ellsworth.

Maine Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, who is on the ballot as a presidential candidate, had more votes than anyone else. But all eight Smith votes were write-ins for vice president.

A late-winer snowstorm piled up five inches in Concord and the weatherman said the snow would blanket the entire state.

It was almost certain to hold down the voter turnout—which had been expected to total 90,000 to 100,000.

Polling hours vary, with an 8 p.m. deadline.

Goldwater and Rockefeller — the big two of the early campaign — faced a potentially potent question mark candidate in Lodge.

Lodge's name was not on the ballot, but pollsters predicted a substantial write-in for the U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, former Minnesota Gov. Harold E. Stassen and Nashua accountant Norman Lepage rounded out the list of declared candidates.

There also was an organized drive for Nixon, who was expected to receive a substantial number of votes.

New Hampshire voters chose delegates to the national convention next summer as well—14 Republicans and 17 Democrats.

While there were no names on the Democratic presidential preference ballot, there was a write-in drive to promote Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy for the vice presidential nomination.

Gov. John W. King of New Hampshire said he would write in Kennedy's name after filling in Johnson's name for his choice for the presidential nomination.

"New Hampshire Democrats want to express their feeling for a Johnson - Kennedy ticket," King said.

Some Democrats were afraid the write - in movement would embarrass the President by producing more votes for Kennedy than for Johnson.

In addition to the ballot on presidential hopefuls and town meeting business, New Hampshire voters also will have their say on the nation's first state sweepstakes. That comes in a local option vote on the sale of sweepstakes tickets at New Hampshire's 49 state liquor stores and three race tracks.

The sweepstakes proposal was approved by the legislature last year.

Baker Probe Goes Behind Closed Doors

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rules Committee, with a partisan fight on its hands, went behind closed doors today to question two business associates of Bobby Baker.

Summoned for questioning were Scott I. Peek, a former top aide to Sen. George A. Smathers, D - Fla.; and Jack Cooper, a Miami dog race track official who became one of the "silent partners" in Baker's Serv-U Corp., a vending machine firm.

A row exploded between the Democratic and Republican members on the issue of how far to push the probe into the dealings of Baker, former secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

The Republicans demand the committee explore Democratic campaign contributions that passed through Baker's hands over a period of years, including a 1960 contribution to a presidential candidate never named in hearings.

Peek's name has been linked with Baker's in connection with two Florida real estate ventures one of them involving land they bought from Sen. Smathers.

Smathers has said in a statement he sold each of them a profitable share in a land development project in Orange County, Fla., in 1957, because of a sympathetic interest in young men with growing families.

11 Jurors Selected

A total of 11 jurors had been selected shortly before noon today for the trial of Pedro Salinas Perez who is charged with murder with malice.

Perez is being tried for the Jan. 11 shooting of Roy Sanchez.

Selection of the jury began Monday, with each prospective juror being questioned individually as to his attitude toward capital punishment. It is not known, however, whether the state will ask the death penalty.

It was expected that the jury would be completed, and that the first testimony in the trial would be given early this afternoon.

Zavalla Barber Shot To Death

ZAVALLA, Tex. (AP)—Vernon Brody Dykes, 44, a barber shop owner, was shot to death during an argument at his home Monday night. A man, 35, was arrested.

East Pounded By Storms

By The Associated Press

Violent storms and floods, following the pattern of destructive weather in March, dealt death, widespread damage, misery and inconvenience to thousands in the eastern half of the nation today.

The storm pattern covered nearly all types of precipitation. And tornadoes swept areas in Mississippi and Alabama, killing three persons. Galelike winds, rain and hail lashed areas in the southland.

Floods drove thousands from their homes in four states, most of them in the rain-stricken Ohio River valley. Many highways and roads were inundated. Bridges were washed out. Many schools were forced to close. The Red Cross and National Guardsmen aided in evacuation.

The turbulent weather in the South set off more torrential rains in the Ohio River valley. An intense storm centered over Kentucky and rain splashed the region for the fifth day this month. Weather Bureau officials said the rain may end in many areas today.

Snow, sleet and rain hit areas from Oklahoma and Texas to New England. Nearly a foot of snow fell at Tahlequah in eastern Oklahoma during a surprise storm Monday. Amounts measured eight inches at nearby Muskogee, with snow in most parts of the state except in eastern sections.

Another belt of snow, sleet and rain pelted areas from Kansas and Arkansas to Southern Illinois. Hundreds of motorists were stranded along a hilly 40-mile stretch of U.S. 71 from Fayetteville, Ark., northward to the Missouri border Monday night. The storm dropped 10 inches of snow in some parts of northwest Arkansas, with six inches reported in a six-hour period in St. Louis.

Heavy snow was forecast along a narrow band from east central Missouri through central Ohio with the possibility the wet belt might extend into mountain areas of Pennsylvania and New England.

Most damaging floods were in Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana, but overflows of rivers and streams also hit areas in Missouri and southern Illinois. The Ohio River rose rapidly and appeared headed toward an expected 66-foot crest in Cincinnati, the highest since 1945, on Thursday.

In Kentucky, hard hit by the overflows, Louisville was drenched with nearly seven inches of rain Monday, a record downpour. Parts of Louisville and Evansville, Ind., were under three feet of water. More than 1,500 persons left their homes in Falmouth, Ky., as the Licking River reached a record 42 feet.

More than 300 persons were evacuated from Poplar Bluff, in southeastern Missouri, as the levee along the Black River threatened to collapse. Heavy rain which hit the area for two days changed to snow Monday night.

McCormack Pledges Quick Farm-Bill Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Speaker John McCormack said today every effort will be made to get a quick vote in the House on the Senate-passed farm bill.

McCormack said this after the weekly breakfast of Democratic congressional leaders with President Johnson.

Ktima Holds Shaky Truce

By HAL MCCLURE

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Greek and Turkish Cypriots kept an uneasy truce in battered Ktima today, but new fighting was feared as shots rang out in nearby Mallia.

The British army rushed a platoon to Mallia in an attempt to head off another outbreak that might plunge the Cypriot factions into all-out war.

Talks between Greek and Turkish leaders aimed at restoring peace on this eastern Mediterranean island were expected to start today unless a new flareup occurred.

A cease-fire was imposed on Ktima Monday night after Greek and Turkish Cypriots battled more than 12 hours with armored bulldozers, mortars and bazookas. Informants said the truce was authorized by both President Makarios, the Greek Cypriot leader, and Vice President Fazil Kuchuk, leader of the Turkish minority.

U. N. Secretary - General U Thant cabled appeals Monday night to Archbishop Makarios and the foreign ministers of Greece and Turkey to halt the bloodshed which "can only lead to even more tragic and deplorable consequences."

Casualty reports from Ktima, a west coast port of 60,000 Greeks and 3,000 Truks, said two Turks had been killed and 18 wounded and one Greek slain and 13 wounded in Monday's battle. Some believed that Turkish casualties would prove far higher.

Before the fighting stopped, a British helicopter airlifted Turkish leader Aziz Altay out of the surrounded Turkish quarter into the Greek sector for peace talks.

Eddie Worth, an Associated Press photographer, flew over the battle area in a British helicopter and reported that fires blazed unchecked in the beleaguered Turkish quarter.

About 100 British troops were cut off inside the Turkish quarter during the battle. Worth said he saw Britons lounging along the curb as bullets whined overhead.

Thant, already having trouble finding soldiers for the U. N. peacekeeping force authorized for Cyprus by the Security Council, also was reported having difficulty getting agreement to a mediator to seek a political settlement of the dispute.

Turkey, Greece, Cyprus and Britain all must approve the mediator.

Filibuster Is Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The epic Senate civil rights battle is under way with Southerners vowing "no compromise" and launching a slowdown that is a preview of the full-blown filibuster still to come.

As debate enters its second day today Senate leaders said they would not try to speed matters up with extra-long sessions this week.

Southern senators responded by indicating their initial speeches would not run too long.

Both sides made plain in the first skirmish Monday they were ready to fight to a showdown no matter how long it takes—and it may take months.

Under debate today is the first stage of the Senate legislative process—the motion of Democratic leader Mike Mansfield to proceed to consideration of the 10-point civil rights bill passed by the House.

Several Dixie senators were prepared to speak against this but leaders said they had reason to believe the Southerners would allow the motion to pass by the middle of next week.

Once the bill is taken up, it is subject to amendment and the real battle over its many provisions will be on.

Assistant Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey said one reason for holding down the length of Senate sessions this week was to give committees time for important meetings in the mornings.

Humphrey, the floor manager for the civil rights bill, told newsmen he had not yet conferred with Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen who is drafting substitutes for some sections of the bill.

Humphrey, referring to backers of the House bill and Dirksen, declared "I believe we are not too far apart" and indicated he felt some compromises could be reached.

Dirksen's support is considered essential in any successful move to vote cloture and shut off a Southern filibuster.

His substitutes would cover the public accommodations, fair employment practices and possibly the federal grant shutoff provisions of the House version.

Humphrey said that many persons did not seem to realize how carefully circumscribed these sections were as written in the House.

"Actually," he said, "my main problem may be to try to keep senators from offering too many amendments to strengthen it."

Mansfield originally sought Monday to make his motion to take up the bill during the "morning hour"—a two - hour period of routine Senate business.

If he had succeeded, his motion would not have been debatable and the first round of Southern speeches would have been knocked out.

Malaysia Begins To Build Forces

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—Malaysia will start conscription to build up its tiny armed forces because of the threat of war with its big hostile neighbor, Indonesia.

Deputy Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak said after an emergency Cabinet meeting today. "The Cabinet considers the situation serious enough to warrant a call-up of persons between the ages of 21 and 29."

Malaysia, the six-month - old British Commonwealth federation of 10 million people, has a 15,000 - man army, compared with 350,000 men under arms in Indonesia, a nation of 100 million.

About one-fifth of Malaysia's army is reported deployed in the Malaysian Borneo states of Sabah and Sarawak. About 10,000 British troops are there helping Malaysia defend its 800-mile jungle border with Indonesian Borneo.

About That Coliseum

Figuring out uses for a coliseum apparently is no problem in communities which have them, and most such facilities are operated with a goal of recovering their expenses of operation as nearly as possible.

For example, Austin actually has two coliseums — one a relatively new one built in 1959 and another which has been in use for many years. Sports events are held in the old one, while the new one is limited to other functions such as conventions, concerts, etc. The latter facility was used on 250 days during 1963. The two Austin coliseums operate on a budget of $90,000 per year and the two of them combined lacked $1,000 of meeting expenses last year.

The Ector County Coliseum at Odessa was one of the few which showed a "profit' last year, taking in about $2,000 more than its cost of operation. The types of events held in the Odessa coliseum include shows, meetings of all types, conventions, sports events, stock shows, banquets and concerts.

At Brownwood, site of the newest coliseum in this area and one which was inspected by a local delegation when plans were being made for the proposal here, there is little "history" to report, of course. However, a check with the management there a few days ago showed that during the first 120 days of operation, the Brownwood coliseum was the scene of 63 events involving a total of 150,000 people. The coliseum's "income" from these events amounted to $5,400 for four months.

The coliseum at San Angelo differs somewhat from those in most other places because it has no meeting rooms except the main enclosure which has 5,142 permanent seats. By using the arena floor space, seating can be increased to about 7,000. Since there are no smaller rooms, the San Angelo coliseum is used mostly for bigger events such as rodeos, big banquets, stage shows, etc.

The type of coliseum envisioned here is a multiple - use facility, similar in function to those in Odessa and Brownwood.

Revived After Losing All Body Heat

TULSA (AP) — A woman whose temperature dipped so low it couldn't be measured was recovering today.

Mrs. Marie Adams, 43, was brought to Hillcrest Medical Center early Monday after apparently lying in freezing temperatures all night on a street.

"Many of us thought she was dead and some of the policemen left because they thought she was," Dr. Edward Jenkins said.

Jenkins and Dr. Joe Roberts administered closed heart massage and other emergency treatment for more than two hours.

A device called a pacemaker, which stimulates the heart by use of electrical impulses, was put into use.

A "hypothermia blanket" was filled with heated water and wrapped around the woman.

Adrenalin was shot directly into her heart twice and she was given transfusions of blood warmed to 102 degrees.

More than an hour after doctors began working over the woman, her temperature was recorded at 67 degrees. Normal body temperature is about 98.2 degrees.

Mrs. Adams regained consciousness Monday and her temperature reached 96 degrees.

The lowest temperature ever recorded in a person who recovered was 60.8 degrees, recorded after Dorothy Stevens, 23, was found virtually frozen in zero weather in Chicago Feb. 8, 1951.

Dallas Buys Factory

DALLAS (AP) — The city is paying $250,000 for a pickle factory.

It doesn't want to go into the canning business, but it needs the property of the W. and W. Pickle and Canning Co. for the extension of the new Love Field runway.

Mrs. Oswald Not Allowed To Attend Ruby's Trial

DALLAS (AP) — The state blocked Mrs. Marguerite Oswald today from attending the trial of Jack Ruby, who killed her son. Prosecutors said they feared an outburst from her might force a new trial.

Prosecutors kept her out of the courtroom as a spectator by subpoenaing her as a witness. She can enter court now only to testify.

The state's action enraged her. "If this is justice, I want no part of it," she declared.

"My dander is up. This is what I don't like. I don't like being pushed."

At one point she appeared on the verge of tears.

She said she had had the "courage and guts" to stand up for her slain son.

She would not reply to questions concerning Ruby, who burst through a crowd Nov. 22 and shot her son, Lee Harvey, before nationwide television cameras.

Mrs. Oswald said, "I'm going to stay in Dallas for the rest of this trial."

Asst. Dist. Atty. Jim Bowie said the state feared that an outburst from Mrs. Oswald in front of the jury could constitute a reversible error, thereby forcing the court to re-start the trial from the beginning, including selection of jurors.

Before the surprise subpoena, Mrs. Oswald told newsmen, "I have thought this over thoroughly and I have now decided to attend the trial. I think this will satisfy me as a mother. This really should be Lee's trial, and my presence there may give me just some little new clue.

"I am working, investigating this case, not as a mother but as a person interested in justice."

Slayer Of Dutch Schultz Paroled After 23 Years

By BOB DUBILL

TRENTON, N.M. (AP) — Charles (the bug) Workman walked out of New Jersey's state penitentiary today, paroled after 23 years imprisonment for the gangland execution of Dutch Schultz, Prohibition Era beer baron.

Workman, 54, and his wife were whisked away in seconds by a sedan that had waited briefly for them in the rain. They spoke to no one.

The sedan had pulled up to the prison and beeped its horn four times. Within 10 seconds, Workman, a stocky gray-haired grandfather, and his wife climbed in and sped away. A young man was at the wheel. Only a few newsmen and some prison officials watched them leave.

Workman had been sentenced to life in 1941 for the slaying of Schultz, who also was an overlord in the policies rackets.

Workman has been a cooperative prisoner.

He had pleaded no defense to the murder of Schultz. Two members of Murder Inc., testified that Workman was one of the gunmen who shot down Schultz and three of his bodyguards in a Newark restaurant in 1935.

Workman, to this day, has denied the crime.

In 1942, Workman led a group of long-term prisoners who volunteered to serve in a suicide fleet of PT boats to attack the Japanese navy.

He has told authorities he plans to visit his brother and then take up again life with his wife, who visited him regularly during his imprisonment.

Charged With Murder After Being Forgiven

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Death filed for the prosecution at General Hospital.

Police filed first-degree manslaughter charges against Robert Gadson, 42, after Robert Mason, 36, died of knife wounds.

Gadson and Mason wounded each other in a knife fight Feb. 29 and happened to be placed in the same hospital ward, police said. The men patched up their quarrel and agreed not to place charges against each other.

McFarland Rites Held Here Today

Funeral services were to be held at 2 p.m. today for one of the true pioneers of the Scurry County area.

Mr. Walter Roy McFarland, 84, who died unexpectedly at his home at 3118 Avenue T Monday morning, had always taken pride in the fact that he was a pioneer settler of this area.

He came to Scurry County at the age of 11 with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. W. McFarland, from his birthplace in Fannin County. As a young man, Mr. McFarland worked for C. C. Slaughter, the legendary cattle baron of Texas.

He and his horse "Jap" were well known figures in those days around the turn of the century as they worked the Slaughter holdings from Lubbock to Midland.

With the wages saved from his employment with Slaughter, Mr. McFarland puchased a farm at Dunn in 1901. In 1906, Miss Mary Alice Jenkins came to Dunn to teach school. She and Mr. McFarland were married June 30, 1907.

Mr. and Mrs. McFarland retired from farm life in 1947 and moved to Snyder. Mrs. McFarland died in December, 1954.

Mr. McFarland had maintained an active interest in current events until his death Monday. He was a member of the First Baptist Church and active in Masonic Lodge work at Dunn.

The funeral services were to be held at the First Baptist Church with Dr. A. B. Lightfoot, pastor, officiating. Burial was to be in the Dunn Cemetery under the direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Milton Winter, F. M. Winter, Amos Joyce, Sam Jenkins, Charlie White, Roswell Rigsby, Othello Sturgeon and Archie Huckabee.

Mr. McFarland is survived by one daughter, Mrs. J. W. Marrs of Victoria; one son, J. P. McFarland of Dallas; three sisters, Miss Dessie McFarland; Miss Clara McFarland and Mrs. Goldie Winter, all of Snyder; four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday was my 46th birthday. My husband gave me a new carpet for the living room and a sofa cover. My son gave me some charms for my bracelet. My husband offered to take me out for dinner, but I refused. I finally opened a few cans, called it dinner and went straight to bed. The big omission was a simple little birthday cake. I have never missed buying my husband and son one on their birthdays. Why are men so thoughtless?

SORE

DEAR SORE: Thoughtless? Gifts and an offer of dinner out? Perhaps had you gone out to dinner there would have been a birthday cake awaiting you. What is eating you, Madame? Your complaint takes the cake!

DEAR ABBY: What does one do about parents who do not instruct their children in the proper use of the telephone? I have one family in mind, but I know others, who let their children answer the telephone, "WHO IS THIS?"

This irks me terribly. They don't even give you a chance to identify yourself. Once I was almost tempted to say, "It's none of your business. Go get your mother!"

I GIVE UP

DEAR "I": Inadequate parents rarely appreciate criticism of their children's manners. Either risk trying to educate your friends, or learn to tolerate their children's rudeness.

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter from AGAINST BRACES and want to tell you that I was "against braces," too, until I started to wear them three years ago. I have made more friends because of my braces. When you meet somebody new and he wears braces, you can always start up a conversation with "Who is your orthodontist?" You can talk a long time about whose orthodontist is better, how long you have worn braces, and what kind of crooked teeth problem is being corrected. Some of the problems are fascinating! Some kids who have never worn braces ask dumb questions like, "Don't they get in the way when you kiss?" (They don't.) Just sign me —

Wheat Is Adjusting To Support Cut

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's wheat markets are beginning to make one of the biggest price adjustments they have faced in modern times.

The adjustment is due to a sharp reduction of more than 50 cents a bushel in government price supports for the grain.

Price supports tend to set market prices, especially when supplies are large, as is the case now.

Markets have been operating under the 1963-crop price support, averaging $1.82 a bushel. Beginning with the 1964 crop marketings — which start in areas in late May or early June — Supports will average about $1.26 or $1.30 a bushel, depending on whether congress agrees on an administration wheat plan passed by the Senate last week. The house has yet to act.

Department officials said they could not recall when the markets had to make such a big adjustment in prices. If Congress does not enact the new wheat plan, the 1964 crop would be supported at about $1.26 a bushel, with benefits of the support limited to growers who planted within reduced 1964 allotments.

If Congress passes the legislation, the support would be $1.30. But under this program, cooperating growers would get additional payments from what may well be called processing and exporting taxes.

Cadillac

THIS OWNER LOVES IT!

THIS OWNER LOVES IT!

THIS OWNER LOVES IT!

The three pictures above illustrate one reason for their enthusiasm. The top car is a 1963 model . . . the center car is a 1962 Cadillac . . . and the lower car is four years old. The styling through the years has evolved and refined, but each is unmistakably a Cadillac.

These owners share a common knowledge. Not even most new motor cars offer the degree of pleasure and reliability that come with a previously owned Cadillac.

First, there is Cadillac's renowned craftsmanship, which results in a car of unusual endurance.

Next, consider value. The equipment on a Cadillac of older vintage is still extra cost on most new cars . . . and includes such features as Hydra-Matic, power steering, power brakes, power windows on most models . . . plus many Cadillac engineering advancements that still have not found their way into other new 1964 cars.

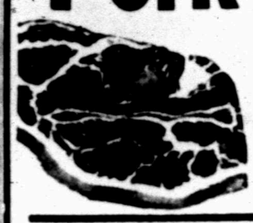

And don't overlook Cadillac's reputation for operating economy—comparable to many smaller cars.

So when you make your next motor car investment, new or used, consider only one name—Cadillac.

LADY CRUSADER

By EDWARD S. KITCH

CHICAGO (AP) — A library expert, Eleanor A. Ferguson, says accurate and modern library resources are not always available. So she's spearheading a crusade to do something about it.

Miss Ferguson is executive secretary of the public libraries division of the 25,000-member American Library Association.

Although her responsibility covers the smallest of the association's 16 divisions, Miss Ferguson's technical knowledge of libraries sets the important policy and standards for 82,000 U.S. public libraries and 50 state legislative units.

She is impressed with the great demands our modern society is placing on libraries.

"The growth of knowledge in the last few years is tremendous," she says. "And unless the library has the information organized for legislators and researchers they can not expect to have it.

"A library is organized to enable you to find what you want when you want it."

Miss Ferguson reflects her down - to - earth, country - wide upbringing.

Born in Indianapolis, she spent her childhood in Illinois, Texas, Alabama and New Hampshire.

She has degrees from Radcliff College, Simmons School of Library Science in Boston and Columbia University School of Library service in New York.

She has served in libraries in Utica, Jamestown and Rochester, N.Y.; Council Bluffs, Iowa and Dearborn, Mich.

She was the first director of the Connecticut Department of Education's Library Service Center.

Miss Ferguson has prepared a special study of library standards for use at the state level.

"The United States is at a significant point in the development of its educational and cultural life," she says.

"For many years we have struggled to get better schools for children and to provide continuing education for adults.

"Students and adults are turning to the fountain of knowledge, but it is often dry.

"The development of adequate library resources should take vigh priority in the programs of the states, in order to capitalize upon a golden opportunity."

Miss Ferguson recommends among her 62 minimum standards for state libraries that they each contain a collection of at least 50 000 to 75,000 volumes of legal material.

"One or two states need well over half of these standards now," she says.

In addition, every state should have available a vast store of knowledge, so that any citizen or organization can get it when needed.

"But we are making progress," she says, "One of the things pushing us into progress is the changing attitude of public schools.

"In the 5th and 6th grades, children have to use a lot of books. They call it research. By the time a student is in high school, he's doing college work."

Many states are establishing regional libraries where sizeable collections of books enable lending within a 100-mile area.

New York is organized so completely with 29 regional systems. Maryland has 20 which all but cover the state. California has just enacted a state law enabling counties of the state to work effectively in handling the exchange of library books.

The Midwest and Southwest are in great need of similar systems.

In some instances, Miss Ferguson says, in view of today's growth of knowledge, it would be easier to junk book collections in village libraries and start over with modern volumes dealing with the newer knowledge.

"Everything I learned in science is all wrong," she says.

"Anyone who graduated from an engineering school 15 years ago is almost unemployable.

"This is especially true today when we consider the fact that 90 per cent on the world's outstanding scientists are alive today."

Miss Ferguson believes legislators could create more effective legislation by utilizing the pooled statistical information that is available in the legislative systems of various states.

"Somehow, it doesn't seem right not to have this information available," she says.

Mrs. Kiker Hostess To Sorority

The Gamma Upsilon Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha met in the home of Lucille Kiker, on Thursday evening. The meeting was called to order by Charlcie Roberson, president.

Correspondence from International was read and ways of making monies for the sorority was discussed.

The group voted to have a "What Am Dinner" on March 20th, inviting Iota Psi Chapter members as special guests. Pictures were taken of the new officers to be sent for the district scrapbook.

Charlene Sims, Annabell Schattel and Wanda Ecike were appointed to serve as a nominating committee. Wanda Elcke presented an interesting program on colors and embroidery work.

Refreshments of pie, coffee and Cokes were served to Norma Book, Dean Blankenship, Wanda Eicke, Carmen Ivison, Lucille Kiker, Ilasu Minor, Charlcie Roberson, Annabell Schattel, Charlene Sims, Ida Stokes and Norma Thompson.

Squararama Held Over Weekend

The Country Cousins Square Dance Club were host to a squararama Friday and Saturday, Jack Anderson of Stinnett and Cecil Dunnam of Austin were callers. On Friday the two men shared tips.

Other callers were Junior Behringer, Barbara Newman, Linda McKinney, Doug Ayers and Bill McKinney.

Saturday activities started with a covered dish luncheon at noon, followed with the guest callers teaching new round dances and square dance calls.

The Little Country Cousins performed for the group both nights. They danced "Puff the Magic Dragon." They are: Beverly House, Steve Grimmett, Cindy Behringer, Carl McKinney, Donna Behringer, Donald Sellers, Annette Erwin and Allen Grimmett.

Approximately 100 dancers attended. Guests were from Big Spring, Colorado City, Roby, Rotan and Snyder.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM

Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem. The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It feels like nothing on but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim" is the peak achievement of the designer-genius, Olga.

Be "Suddenly Slim" today in either girdle or panty version. Featured at

Demo's Poll Won't Seek Opinions On Legislation

By ERNEST STROMBERGER
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas Democrats will not be asked for their opinions on any possible legislation when they vote May 2.

The State Democratic Executive Committee agreed Monday night its purpose is to elect the state's leaders and to leave to lawmakers such problems as civil rights, pari-mutuel betting, mixed drink sales and the border commuters.

The committee took the action after a four-hour recess—apparently a delay to be sure Republican leaders meeting in a nearby hotel would not put any of the issues on their ballots. The only referendum for Texas voters will be a GOP straw vote on presidential candidates.

Both parties met, as required by law, to certify for the May 2 ballots all candidates to properly file for statewide and courts of civil appeals offices. Other issues enlivened the routine meetings.

Democrats opened their session by warmly greeting Gov. John Connally's plea for a presidential delegation firmly united behind President Johnson.

Connally also urged that delegates to the state's presidential convention—when delegates are chosen for the national convention—be as loyal to Connally as they are to Johnson.

Connally referred to the so-called "governor's convention," where a new executive committee and a party platform are chosen. The same delegates attend both meetings.

The only discord of the meeting erupted over selection of a site for that Sept. 15 meeting.

The argument arose when an earlier recommendation for Dallas was withdrawn because of calls for reconsideration in light of events of Nov. 22.

"It would be a great mistake not to have the convention in Dallas just because of the event there which we all abhor," said committee Chairman Eugene Locke of Dallas, referring to the Kennedy assassination.

"We shouldn't feel we must go to Dallas just to show we do not have prejudice," said Committeeman George Nokes of Waco.

"The most unfair thing we could do is to have it in Dallas," said Committeeman Maury Maverick of San Antonio. "Suppose something does happen—such as the (ambassador Adlai) Stevenson incident—there's Dallas taking its licks and the President of the United States and the Democratic party will suffer. Dallas needs less publicity, not more."

Dallas was selected 33-18 Houston was selected for the July 16 convention.

In other business:

1. Frank Erwin, Austin attorney and committee secretary, was named to succeed Locke, who resigned because of personal business obligations and possible campaign work again for Connally. Mrs. Seaborn Eastland of Houston was named to succeed Erwin as secretary.

2. Adopted a statement of party unity to be signed by all committee members and candidates for national and statewide office.

3. Rejected William Roy Bean's plea for a place on the ballot as a candidate for governor. Bean, Springtown publisher and real estate salesman, failed to comply with filing procedures, the committee said.

4. Rejected requests that May 2 primary ballots allow balloting on local option sale of mixed drinks; the daily commuting across the Texas-Mexico border by Mexican nationals for Texas employment; pari-mutuel betting; and civil rights issues.

THE "Write" WAY

By RUTH FOWLER BROWN

Dear Ruth:

My husband works days but never manages to get home until 9 or 10 at night. He tells me he can't resist stopping in for a drink at Smitty's on the way home. He's a reporter and all the newspapermen in town gather there to gab.

By the time he gets home and I serve him a warmed-up dinner, he's too worn out from yakking with others to talk with me. After dinner, he sits watching TV and goes to sleep. I might as well be married to a deaf-mute. Tell me, Ruth, how can I get him to talk to me?

Geraldine

Dear Geraldine:

Become a bar maid at Smitty's. This isn't as facetious as it sounds. It might really jar him if you did. You must love this soap box orator or you wouldn't put up with such treatment. The next best suggestion is invite Smitty's patrons over to your house.

His handwriting reveals him to be gregarious, garrulous, thoughtless and self - centered. Perhaps a frustration of some sort causes him to act so boorishly.

Dear Ruth:

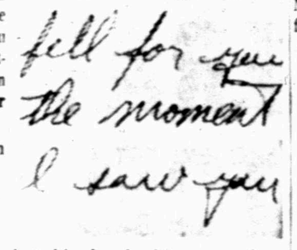

I'm 17 and have a job as a sales clerk in an art supply store across from the university. I'm quite young looking for my age, and the college crowd takes it for granted that I'm one of them.

One of the students took more than a passing interest, and we have had many dates. I now find myself in love with him, as he says he is with me. But I've learned he is only 29 — eight years younger than myself. When I think about telling him my age, I get panicky. Will he think I'm too old? I am enclosing both our handwritings. Please tell me if I should admit my age.

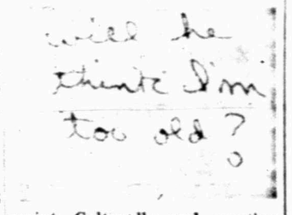

Young Widow

Dear Widow:

He may be young in years,

but his handwriting reveals a very mature mind. I doubt seriously your age will bother him in the least. He's the type of man who wants a woman with the sweetness, gaiety and understanding shown in your script. Culturally and emotionally, you two are on good compatible grounds.

Marshal Joh Okello Returns To Zanzibar

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP)—Self - styled Field Marshal Joh Okello of Zanzibar flew to the island Monday and returned a few hours later with President Abeid Karume.

This seemed to dispose of a report last week by informants in neighboring Kenya that Karume had barred him from returning to Zanzibar.

Okello and Karume were greeted at the airport by President Julius Nyerere and other government officials of Tanganyika. The purpose of their visit was not disclosed.

Rice May Now Enroll Negroes

HOUSTON (AP) — Rice University, one of the nation's last major segregated universities, has been given court authority to admit Negroes and charge tuition.

A judgment signed by State Dist. Judge William M. Holland gives Rice trustees authority to disregard racial and tuition restrictions set out by the university's founder, William Marsh Rice, in an 1891 indenture.

As to lifting the racial restrictions, Rice President Dr. Kenneth Pitzer said, "We mean just that. Students will be admitted to all areas of college life without regard to color—in the dormitories, the laboratories, and on the athletic field."

Joe H. Reynolds, attorney for two Rice alumni who opposed any change in the university's racial and tuition policies, said he would ask for a new trial.

Tom Martin Davis, an attorney for the trustees, said the trustees will be free to make the admission and tuition changes after Judge Holland's order becomes final, unless the opposing intervenors put up an appeal bond to indemnify Rice against any loss while the case is appealed.

"Our lawyers are confident that the judgment will stand, and we can now get to work on making Rice one of the really top schools in the nation," Pitzer said.

Judge Holland signed the judgment Monday soon after Asst. Atty. Gen. Hawthorne Phillips said he thought the Rice trustees were entitled to judgment in their favor.

Kidney Transplants From Baboons Fail

DENVER (AP)—Four of the six persons who have received baboon kidneys in transplant operations here have died, surgeons disclosed Monday. The other two transplants were termed failures.

The baboon kidneys have since been removed from two teen-aged boys who survived and human kidneys donated by prisoners have replaced them.

The patients were not identified.

Freedom Vs. Communism

On January 1, 1959, Fidel Castro took control of Cuba.

Within a few weeks the Communist pattern of rule by terror appeared. Mass trials were held; 700 victims were shot.

Thousands of Cubans who had welcomed Castro, soon learned to their bitter disappointment, that they had lost whatever liberties they had.

Freight Plane Crashes; Kills Crew

BOSTON (AP)—A Slick Airways, Inc., freight plane plunging out of a sleet storm crashed in flames on a Boston waterfront lumber terminal today, killing its crew of three.

A lumber yard work gang had passed the crash scene just before the impact giving rise to a report that two yard workers had been killed. However, all yard employes were accounted for later.

Slick Airways said the plane, out of New York and Bradley Field, Conn., normally carried a crew of three.

The DC4, four-engine aircraft, attempting an instrument landing, came out of a lowering sky in sleet and a half-gale into the Castle Island waterfront terminal across the harbor from Logan International Airport where the craft was to have landed.

The airline withheld names of the crewmen on the plane which left Bradley Field at 7:25 a.m.

Hundreds of sweaters, apparently part of the plane's cargo, were scattered over a wide area as the plane crashed, broke up and burst into flames.

Four alarms summoned fire apparatus, and 20 ambulances converged at the crash scene. The fiercely burning plane was beyond immediate reach.

Talks Held In Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara held intensive discussions today at U.S. military headquarters and the U.S. Embassy on the future of the Vietnamese war.

McNamara canceled another field trip scheduled for today, but sent several aides into the countryside to investigate various aspects of the war against the Communist Viet Cong.

The secretary made three speaking appearances in the Mekong River delta Monday demonstrating U.S. support for the military regime headed by Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh.

Psychiatric Evidence Gets Acid Test In Ruby Trial

ASSOCIATED PRESS WRITER

DALLAS (AP)—Defense attorney Melvin Belli predicted a month ago the Jack Ruby murder trial would set important legal precedents for psychiatric evidence.

But he had to plead passionately Monday for a modernday trial attitude toward mental examinations to squeeze his first technical witness past a state roadblock.

The test came when the state objected to a Yale University psychologist, Dr. Roy Schafer, telling why he thought Ruby suffered from psychomotor epilepsy.

"Your honor, are you going to tell this great man you won't take his testimony . . . in 1964 in Dallas?" asked Belli, in his best outraged voice.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Bill Alexander said Schafer should get to the point — did he think Ruby was sane or insane Nov. 24 when he shot Lee Harvey Oswald, accused Presidential assassin.

The jury, which turned down an afternoon recess but got one anyway after two jurors dozed during testimony, left while Judge Joe B. Brown heard the agruments.

Belli said Schafer was a psychiatrist and thus not qualified to judge Ruby's mental condition. But he could, Belli said, lay the groundwork for psychiatric testimony by describing Ruby's behavior and his rating on psychological tests.

Judge Brown said he agreed with the state. If Dr. Schafer wasn't qualified to testify to Ruby's sanity, "then I'd take him off and put on someone else."

Sputtering slightly, Belli went into an elaborate defense of psychological tests.

"We're not in the dark ages. . . we can tell a leg is broken by looking at the configuration of the limb—but we also have x-rays. We now have ways to look into a man's mind," he said, with the aid of psychological tests.

"With all respect to the psychologist, he's a lab worker, a nurse. . . He builds a predicate for psychiatrists to base their opinions on."

Carrier USS Enterprise Is Center Of Controversy

By TOM OCHILTREE

ABOARD USS ENTERPRISE (AP)—Like some haughty duchess, the gigantic American aircraft carrier Enterprise commands awe but also provokes arguments about her worth.

Her defenders argue that this nuclear-powered, 86,200-ton warship now maneuvering in the Mediterranean with her 101 planes and surface escorts, constitutes the most sophisticated weapons system in the world, with advantages of mobility and a wide spectrum of military responses.

Her critics contend that the Enterprise, for all her newness, is a $500-million white elephant, hopelessly out of date in a missile world in which the Polaris submarine fits neatly.

One thing is beyond dispute. The Navy loves the Enterprise.

The 1,123-foot-long ship is the repository for traditions built up in the Pacific naval battles of World War II. The future of the naval aviator revolves around the Big E's successor.

Rear Adm. William I. Martin, commander of the 6th Fleet's Carrier Division 2, employs the Enterprise as his flagship. He was a young flying officer on the old Enterprise, the Big E of wartime fame.

For sentiment's sake, the new Enterprise has only five portholes in her hull, all taken from the old Enterprise. They grace the cabin of the new giant's skipper, Capt. Frederick H. Michaelis, a native of Kansas City.

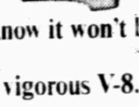

But tradition does not win wars, the doubters say.

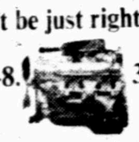

They argue that the Enterprise is really not a modern weapon despite the efficiency of her 5,000-man crew and her eight nuclear reactors that enable her to roam the ocean at high speed without refueling for three years or so.

Employed in a region as restricted as the Mediterranean, the Enterprise would be a sitting duck for rockets.

Connecticut Scores First Big Upset

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Connecticut scored the major upset in the first round of the NCAA basketball tourney, which found a little of the thunder stolen by a couple of regular-season developments.

Princeton, Villanova, Texas Western and Creighton joined Connecticut as the first round tourney victors while Oklahoma State and Purdue closed the regular season with major mile stones.

At Stillwater, Okla., Henry Iba's Cowboys belted Oklahoma 80-47, the 700th career victory for the 59-year-old coach. The only other active coaches with 700 or more are Adolph Rupp of Kentucky and Ed Diddle of Western Kentucky.

And in Ann Arbor, Mich., Purdue upset mighty Michigan, tourney bound and ranked second in the nation, 81-97. The loss dropped Michigan into a share of the Big Ten title with Ohio State, but the Wolverines still get the tourney berth because of a league rule on most recent appearances.

Connecticut's 53-48 upset of Temple highlighted NCAA tourney opening rounds in Philadelphia and Dallas. Princeton, behind All-American Bill Bradley, bombed Virginia Military 86-60 and Villanova whipped Providence 77-66 in the other games in the Philadelphia tripleheader.

The winners join Duke in regional play at Raleigh, N.C. Friday.

At Dallas, Texas Western whipped Texas A&M 68-62 behind the outstanding performance of Jim Barnes and Creighton took Oklahoma City 89-78. Those winners join Kansas State and Wichita in the Midwest Regional at Wichita Friday.

Other first round action tonight has Louisville, 15-9, vs. Ohio, 19-5, and defending champion Chicago Loyola, 20-5, vs. Murray State, 15-8, in Evanston, Ill., and Utah State, 20-6, vs. Arizona State, 16-10 and Oregon State, 25-3 vs. Seattle, 20-5, in Eugene, Ore.

Kentucky, Michigan, UCLA and San Francisco, the other NCAA tourney teams, are idle until Friday. The National Invitation Tourney opens in New York Thursday with Miami, Fla., vs. St. Joseph's, Pa., and New York U. vs. Syracuse.

Aches 'N Pains Finally Honored

AP Newsfeatures

They finally got around to voting Luke Appling into baseball's Hall of Fame. "Old Aches 'n' Pains" earned that honor in the 21 seasons he performed for the Chicago White Sox and it was just a matter of time before the Baseball Writers Association voted him in. His credentials just couldn't be overlooked.

For a player who constantly complained of some sort of ailment, imaginary or real, Appling was a remarkably durable athlete. He was graduated from Ogelthorpe University and began his career with Atlanta of the Southern Association in 1930. He joined the White Sox late that season and remained in a Chicago uniform until he quit as a player in 1951. During that stretch with the White Sox, Luke set a major league record for most games played at a shortstop — 2,218. He paced the league's shortstops in assists seven times.

Appling was even better known for his hitting. He was batting champion in 1936 with a .388 average and again in 1942 with a .328 record. His career average for 2,422 games was .310.

Luke is the fourth shortstop to be voted into the Hall of Fame. Thus he joins Hans Wagner, Rabbit Maranville and Joe Cronin as an all-time shortstop great. Appling is the first White Sox player to be elected since pitcher T. Lyons made it in '55.

Bouton Says He Is Now Over Barrel

RIDGEWOOD, N.J. (AP) — The Bulldog, it appears, is in the doghouse. And this particular doghouse threatens to get dog-gone expensive.

"It looks like they've got me over the barrel," Bulldog Jim Bouton ruefully admitted at his home here after he had been handed a sign-or-else decree from New York Yankee General Manager Ralph Houk.

The or-else is a $100 a day fine, starting midnight Wednesday, for each day the brash young right-hander is absent from the Yankee training camp.

"I'll probably have to give in," Bouton said. "But I'm going to check thoroughly first to see if I have any recourse. I think this is grossly unfair."

The timing was a little unpleasant, too. Bouton got the ultimatum on his 25th birthday, Sunday night, in a telephone call from Houk. The Yank GM didn't make the news public until a news conference in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Monday.

"I don't think the club can give him what he demands and still be fair in its dealings with other members of the team," Houk said.

"I probably won't make a decision until the deadline," said Bouton, dubbed the Bulldog by his teammates because of his fierce competitive spirit.

Last season Bouton was the Yankees' top right-hander and one of the American League's five 20-game winners. He was 21-7 and led the club in earned run average at 2.53, fourth in the league.

For this he received $10,000.

For 1964 he wants $20,000, a 100 per cent increase.

The Yankees offered a 60 per cent increase, or about $16,000.

Then they offered an 80 per cent increase, or about $18,000.

Pressure Match Goes To Player

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Before Gary Player went on the course to play off a tie with Arnold Palmer and Miller Barber in the $25,000 Pensacola Open Monday he said, "Maybe this will be my day."

It was.

The little South African shot a one-under-par 71 to beat Palmer by one stroke and Barber by three and win $4,000. They had tied at the end of the regular 72-hole tournament with 274s.

"I was under more pressure than I ever have been in my life," Player said when he closed out the day and pocketed his check. "It's awfully tough when you have to go against two fellows."

He said he had given up driving with his No. 4 wood because, "I haven't been winning enough tournaments. I've been playing too conservatively."

Player said he liked the Pensacola Country Club course which measures 6,380 yards.

Palmer, defending champion, said he never got the feel of his putter during the tournament.

"The greens were like putting ingress but that's still no reason to play as badly as I did," he said. "I not only putted badly, I played badly. I could not make the ball roll on the greens — that really bothered me."

Palmer had a chance to tie Player on the 16th hole but overshot the green, was short with his next shot and then went six feet past the cup.

It was only the sixth time Palmer has lost in 17 playoffs.

Barber will compete next in the $25,000 St. Petersburg Open but Palmer goes to New York for a golf show and then home to Latrobe, Pa., before joining Player at the $50,000 Doral Open in Miami.

Two Indians Die In Kashmir Shooting

JAMMU, Kashmir (AP)—Two Indians were killed and at least seven others injured in an exchange of fire across the cease-fire line 50 miles west of Jammu town Sunday night, official sources said Monday.

They said Pakistan army units made two raids within five hours of each other at Nava Chak village.

Tests Begun For Glenn

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. began a three to four day battery of examinations, including hearing and equilibrium tests, Monday for treatment of a brain concussion.

Glenn, who suffered the concussion in a bathroom accident Feb. 26 in Columbus, Ohio, was flown to Wilford Hall U.S. Air Force Hospital here Friday.

A hospital spokesman said Glenn continues "to suffer with the dizziness when standing and sitting that has been the primary complaint" since the accident. The fall injured his inner ear equilibrium.

Stagg's Condition Remains Serious

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — Football's grand old man, Amos Alonzo Stagg, took breakfast and dinner by mouth Monday but remained in serious condition from uremic poisoning and general deterioration after his 101 years.

Spokesmen for Hillhaven Convalescent Home said his temperature, pulse and blood pressure had returned to normal after a weekend flareup.

Until this illness, Stagg was up and around daily. He retired only three years ago after becoming the only man honored as both player and coach in football's Hall of Fame.

Challengers Await Clay's Brain Match

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) - Cassius Clay's brain gets a rematch with Uncle Sam on Friday—and Sonny Liston, along with all the other heavyweight boxing contenders, will have to await the outcome before matching brawn with the champion.

After reportedly flunking the mental test in a previous Selective Service examination, Clay gets another chance in Louisville.

"I really tried hard — real hard — on that mental test," Clay said. "It wasn't too hard, I guess, but I never was a good reader or a good speller, not bright, with the pencil and paper I got out of (Louisville) Central High with D-minus."

While Cassius prepared for the exam, Manager Bill Faversham sized up the contenders for Clay's crown.

"If Cassius is not accepted by the Army, Liston deserves the next bout because he's the one who lost his title to Cassius," Faversham said.

"If Liston's left arm is in such shape that he cannot fight, then I'd say that the men who deserve a chance are Doug Jones, Ernie Terrell and Eddie Machen, and I'd have to put all of them before Floyd Patterson."

During the weekend, Patterson offered to fight Clay for no purse, with a $750,000 guarantee to the champion. Clay's ire rose over Patterson's reference to taking the title away from the Black Muslims.

Clay said he didn't like the mention of his religion when discussing his professional life.

The 22-year-old Louisville native, home for a week of rest, said he will remain with the sect headed by Elijah Muhammad and will not join the splinter group organized by Malcolm X.

Malcolm X had been Clay's companion in Miami Beach before and after the fight and in New York. Malcolm X said during the weekend he has split with the Muhammad group and plans to form a group with a more militant approach toward civil rights problems in the South.

"I am a fighter and I am religious. I am not going to do anything that's not right," Clay said. "I don't know much about what Malcolm X is doing, but I do know that Muhammad is the wisest."

Injuries Take Heavy Toll

By The Associated Press

It easily could have been Thumbday instead of Monday around major league training camps with errant pitches putting two first stringers out of action.

Jim Ray Hart, the highly touted youngster who's expected to take over third base for the San Francisco Giants, caught a Bob Buhl fastball on the right thumb in the third inning and left an exhibition game at Phoenix, Ariz. between the Giants and Chicago Cubs.

The injury was diagnosed as only a painful bruise but precautionary X rays were taken and the thumb was wrapped in ice packs. The Giants went on to win the game 7-4 for their third straight Cactus Circuit victory.

In St. Petersburg, Fla., the New York Mets lost catcher Clarence (Choo Choo) Coleman with a broken thumb on his left hand. Coleman was injured in a practice game Sunday against the Detroit Tigers but the fracture was not discovered until Monday. He will be out indefinitely.

It wasn't a good day for legs either. Two American League pitchers, Milt Pappas of Baltimore and Barry Latman of Los Angeles, were sidelined with sprained ankles.

Pappas, a 16-game winner last year, pulled up lame rounding third base as the Orioles practiced cutoffs. He was advised to ease up on his training for a day or two after Xrays revealed no fracture.

Latman will be out 10 days after stepping in a hole while running in the outfield.

Monday's only other exhibition game was a slugfest with the Cleveland Indians outlasting the Boston Red Sox 11-9 at Scottsdale, Ariz. Leon Wagner and Dick Howser were the standouts with three hits apiece for the Indians.

Permian End Signs To Play For Rice

HOUSTON (AP) — Odessa Permian end Jay Collins has surrendered his signature to Nick Lanza, Rice University assistant football coach.

Rice has now signed 30 high school boys to football letters of intent.

The District 2 AAAA athlete was named to the Fort Worth Star-Telegram's first all-state team.

He was a second-team all-state end. At 6-2 and 185 pounds, Collins also was a starter on Permian's basketball team.

Bruins Finish At Top Of Cage Poll

By STRAT JONES
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Basketball Coach John Wooden of UCLA, when informed that his Bruins ranked above all major college teams in The Associated Press final poll of the 1963-64 season, said:

"To get this far it takes talent and luck, and we hope that both continue to stick with us."

A regional panel of 40 broadcasters and writers gave UCLA 34 votes for first place and 392 points in an over-all vote tally, giving the Bruins a good margin over Michigan, which collected 341 points.

Michigan was followed by Duke, Kentucky, Wichita, Oregon State, Villanova, Loyola of Chicago, DePaul and Davidson.

Coach Wooden said he spoke for his players when expressing pride that the panel elected his team tops in the nation — the first West Coast team to finish there since the San Francisco Dons did it in 1956.

The Bruins, with a 26-0 season record salted away last week, are the first major college team to pass unbeaten in a regular season since 1961, when Ohio State went undefeated.

The Bruins drew all but six of the votes for first place. Duke claimed three and Michigan, Oregon State and Loyola drew one each.

Here are the Top Ten, their first place votes, and point awards on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1.	UCLA (34)	392
2.	Michigan (1)	341
3.	Duke	300
4.	Kentucky	258
5.	Wichita	227
6.	Oregon State (1)	190
7.	Villanova	124
8.	Chicago Loyola (1)	120
9.	DePaul	72
10.	Davidson	44

Graham Puts 3 On Team

AUSTIN (AP) — Stephen F. Austin of Houston's 6 foot 7 Ken Spain and hot-shooting Billy Arnold of Fort Worth Haltom were unanimous selections on the Class AAAA all-state tournament basketball team selected by writers at the tournament.

The AAAA all-star team, released Monday, also included Richard Vasquez of Houston Austin, Larry Lake of Haltom and John Bullock of Dallas Adamson.

Spain and Vasquez, both juniors, paced Houston Austin's squad, which defeated Adamson, 50-42, for the AAAA championship. The other members of the all-tournament team are seniors.

There were also two unanimous choices on the AAA all-tournament team—6 foot 8 Mike Lochner of champion Graham, and Jimmy Lenox of runner-up Clear Creek. Lenox also made the all-tournament team last year when Clear Creek won the title.

Two other Graham players, John Matzinger and E. A. Gresham, and Philip Dugger of third-place South San Antonio, completed the squad. All but Dugger, a junior, are seniors.

Lineup For Playoffs Set

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The lineup for the Western Division playoffs of the National Basketball Association will be San Francisco, St. Louis and Los Angeles, but not necessarily in that order.

The Lakers assured themselves of third place and a spot in the playoffs with their 122-112 victory Monday night over Baltimore but the race for first is still wide open.

San Francisco, now on top, leads St. Louis by only one game. A combination of a San Francisco loss to Baltimore Tuesday night and a St. Louis victory over New York would tie up the Western Division lead.

The weary Bullets, playing their fifth game in six days, faltered before the torrid Laker shooting attack. Jerry West had 37 for the Lakers and Elgin Baylor scored 24. Terry Dischinger got 20 for Baltimore.

Colts Slate Third Intrasquad Game

COCOA, Fla. (AP)—The Houston Colts scheduled a third intrasquad game today with the varsity pressing for a victory.

The varsity has lost twice to the farmhands, once in a 2-0 shutout.

Another squad contest is carded Wednesday followed by a day off for golf and fishing.

A routine practice day is on tap Friday before the Grapefruit League opener against the Phillies Saturday in Orlando.

Third baseman Bob Aspromonte had a full workout Monday, apparently indicating his recent leg muscle injury didn't last as long as the one that delayed his conditioning program last spring.

Easing Of World Tension Lets LBJ Think Of Home

B JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some of the problems taking up President Johnson's time, like jobs and poverty, bear testimony that world tensions have diminished a bit.

This may not last long, of course, since mankind still does not have enough sense to live in peace, more or less, indefinitely.

Johnson does have some unpeaceful problems to worry about, like how to win in Viet Nam. But to many Americans largely concerned with themselves, at the moment the war against Communist guerrillas in Asia must seem far off.

Yet, even some of the crises that poured over Johnson like a tide in his first 100 days have subsided.

Fidel Castro is left with his feet in the water he shut off from the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo; and Panamanians have become patient about a revision of American treaty rights to the Panama Canal Zone.

It was in the midst of this comparative quietude that Johnson announced Monday a national manpower policy intended to cut down high unemployment which, he noted, averaged 4.2 million last year.

He will soon send Congress a message about eliminating poverty, or trying to. Some advisers recommend the draft registration be lowered to give his war on poverty an early start on rehabilitating needy youth.

All this—plus Americans' preoccupation with the presidential primary in New Hampshire today or with getting ready for fishing, baseball or Easter—makes this seem an almost tranquil time.

But not quite, even though the dirty little war in Viet Nam is far away. It is not only far from finished but the South Vietnamese, despite American backing, have been losing their shirts steadily.

The United States isn't fighting the war itself. The South Vietnamese are doing it with the help of American money, supplies, weapons and military men to teach them how to do it.

In a general way the American approach to this war is similar to that of the French who fought the Communists there themselves for eight years with their own troops, plus Vietnamese troops.

Both big powers stopped far short of an all-out effort.

The colonial-minded French, too stubborn to look at the clock and give the Vietnamese independence until the last minute, fought the North Vietnamese Reds with one hand behind their backs.

They never sent their draftees into that war. In the later stages of it they didn't even pay their own way. The United States had to bail them out for years.

By the time they were crushed and had to quit in 1954 the United States was paying three-quarters of the costs.

While this country wants to see the South Vietnamese win, and has promised to back them so long as they are willing to fight, there is no mood in this country for any kind of all-out war on the Reds of North Viet Nam.

For instance: by carrying the war to North Viet Nam or throwing American troops directly into the battle. Anything like that might bring Red China or the Soviet Union in on the side of the North Vietnamese.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara is over there now, on his second inspection trip since December, to see what he thinks needs to be done to reverse the defeats being inflicted on the South Vietnamese.

One of the big troubles, no matter how Americans might wish they could get out of South Viet Nam altogether, is that American prestige is at stake. This country went in there to crush the Red guerrillas.

If it quits or withdraws all of Southeast Asia looks like a pushover for communism. Yet, Johnson and McNamara have to wonder: how long can the United States keep this up if the South Vietnamese themselves won't do a better job of fighting?

New Yorker Not Usually A Gourmet

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—If you're planning to visit the World's Fair, which opens here next month, don't bother to ask a New Yorker to tell you where's a good place to eat.

The chances are he won't know or, if he does make a suggestion, the odds are that it will be practically worthless.

There are thousands of restaurants in the metropolitan area, specializing in delicacies featured from Algeria to Zanzibar. It is said the range of choices in food is wider here than in any other great city of the world.

Yet when a New Yorker wants to take his wife out to dinner, the big problem is to decide on a good restaurant. Usually they wind up passing the ketchup back and forth in some neighborhood Ye Olde Greasye Spoone.

The truth is that the average New Yorker isn't much of a gourmet. He knows his way around when it comes to ordering a hot dog or a hamburger, but he probably couldn't tell a truffle from a ruffle.

It is the food-wise tourist and the members of the expense account aristocracy from the hinterland who are the best guides to where to eat in New York City.

They are the ones who also explore and discover those quaint little atmospheric hideaways where the wine is cheap but good, the food is out of this world, and between courses the chef comes out and sings arias from "Rigoletto."

"Don't miss this place—it's a real gastronomic delight," they say. "But keep it to yourself. If word gets around, the place will be ruined."

Somehow, by the time I do get to this charming alimentary oasis, something has happened to it. The name has been changed to "Le Cher Ptomaine," the chef is a Norwegian cook who jumped ship, and the wine is $6 a bottle.

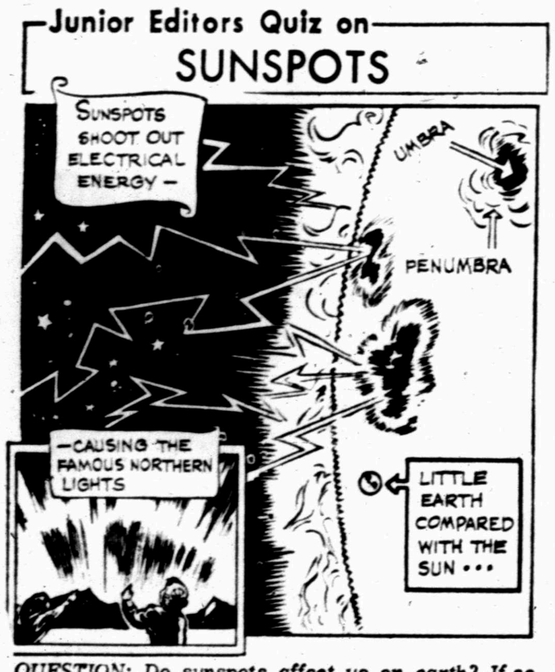

So my advice to you is—if you are coming to see the sights at the fair—ask a stranger just leaving town where's the best place to eat. All a New Yorker will give you is a helpless look or some double-talk.

On the other hand, if you are simply looking for ordinary fodder, come to me. I'm your man.

After 27 years of eating around in Manhattan, I can steer you to an all-night drugstore where they serve as good a peanut butter and jelly sandwich as you can buy in your own home town.

I can recommend the canned salmon too. It comes all the way from Alaska.

Junior Editors Quiz on SUNSPOTS

QUESTION: Do sunspots affect us on earth? If so, why?

ANSWER: Some astronomers believe that sunspots result from the whirling of electrified particles close to the sun's outer layer. Others think they are caused by masses of the sun's material which have been thrown out and then settled back, causing enormous hollows. While we don't know exactly what causes them, we do know that the center of the sunspot appears dark because this area, while fiercely hot, is not nearly as hot as the surrounding parts of the sun and so looks dark by contrast. We can see the spots moving in a regular direction, proving that the sun rotates, in about 25 days.

Sunspots are enormous in size, as you can see by comparing them in the picture with the size of our earth. They are magnetic in nature and shoot off electric particles which can travel an enormous distance. For this reason, we can say yes to the first question. Sharp sudden changes in earth's magnetic field are credited to sunspots, and these, besides producing the wonderful spectacle of the "Northern Lights," or "Aurora Borealis," frequently disturb radio and telegraph communication. The sudden shooting out of extra electric energy by sunspots is thought to be the cause of this disturbance.

FOR YOU TO DO: We show a section of the sun's disc contrasted with the earth. Cut out the picture, pin it on the wall, and then with your forefinger continue the sun's disc, noting where it falls in the room. It will give you a vivid idea of the sun's enormous size compared to the tiny dot which is our little earth.

Unemployment May Double Official Toll

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department for the first time has published figures indicating that total unemployment may be far higher than the 4.5 million persons shown in latest official statistics.

The new figures, presented to Congress along with President Johnson's report on manpower, include persons "not in the labor force" in addition to the jobless.

"It is the first such set of figures we have been able to get up," said Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

Union officials for some time have contended that federal figures do not measure the true extent of unemployment because they list only those actively seeking work.

Union spokesmen have estimated that the real unemployment total may be close to double the official federal figure, when taking into account part-time work by those who want full-time jobs, and discouraged persons who have given up the search for work and do not even show up in the statistics.

While the new Labor Department figures are incomplete, they give an inkling of the situation. They also show that persons with the least education are most heavily represented in the unemployed or "not in the labor force" categories.

The figures show that among white men aged 45 to 54 with four years or less of education, 221 out of every 1,000 are not working. Of these, 84 are listed as unemployed and 137 as not in the labor force.

Among those with college degrees, the corresponding figure shrinks to 39 who are not working, including 10 unemployed and 29 not in the labor force.

Wirtz said no breakdown is available on reasons for those not in the labor force. Some, for instance, may be wealthy enough not to work.

Missile Silo At Roswell Is Destroyed

ROSWELL, N.M. (AP) — A fire and explosion during a training exercise Monday destroyed an Atlas intercontinental missile and its $11- million silo 33 miles northeast of Roswell. No one was hurt.

It was the third similar incident within a year and reduced the squadron of ICBM's deployed around Roswell and Walker AFB to nine. None of the destroyed silos or their $1.5 million Atlases have been replaced and one spokesman felt it would be cheaper to build new facilities rather than to rebuild the old.

The Air Force said a board of officers would begin an inquiry as soon as the debris cooled but had no comment on what other steps might be taken.

An Air Force spokesman said the silo was the same one in which five workmen were killed in 1961 during construction. A huge crane toppled into the 174-foot deep, 52-foot diameter hole.

The fire and then the explosion came during a training exercise.

The Atlas was equipped with a training devise in place of a nuclear warhead, the spokesman said.

The men conducting the training mission, in which the rocket is put through all stages of launch except the launch, were safely in a control room at the end of a tunnel protected by steel blast doors at the time of the explosion.

Grandmother Stops Driver In Hit-Run

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "It was up to me — nobody else was going to stop him," Vera Warner, 49-year-old grandmother, said after chasing an accused hit-run driver more than three miles until he was arrested Monday.

Mrs. Warner had watched in horror as a car sped past her and slammed into two elderly sisters helping each other across a street.

"I saw what was going to happen," said Mrs. Warner. "He hit them both and they flew into the air. It made me sick. He kept on going."

The sisters, Nora Eastman and Marie Mindenhall, were killed instantly in the accident at Geary Boulevard and 36th Avenue. The women lived together in a nearby apartment.

The driver accused of hitting them was arrested after a police car crashed into his auto about three miles from the scene. Mrs. Warner was still in pursuit, honking her horn to attract attention.

"I can't remember hitting those two sisters. I started drinking at 10 o'clock," police quoted the driver, Ronald C. Lambert, 32, of San Carlos, Calif. He was booked on suspicion of felony manslaughter, felony hit-run driving, drunken driving and running a red light.

Farm Bureau Session Set

A membership meeting of the Scurry County Farm Bureau has been scheduled for Thursday night, Ross Williams, president of the organization, has announced.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the district courtroom.

Main purpose of the meeting is to discuss a new Blue Cross policy, and there will be a representative of the state Blue Cross office present, Williams said. There also will be other speakers on the program.

Grass Team Takes Second

The Snyder High School Future Farmers of America grass judging team copped second place in a field of 20 teams at San Angelo over the weekend.

Tommy Hallmark of Snyder was fourth high individual in the competition, and Charles Bell ranked 8th in the individual marks.

Other members of the Snyder team participating in the judging contest were Billy Laster, John Zalman, Paul Savage and Earnest Shifflett.

Disguised Woman Deputy Helps To Capture Thugs

By RICHARD WHALEN

MARYKNOLL, N.Y. (AP) — Disguised as a Catholic nun, Frances Anderson, a deputy sheriff, waited alone in the Maryknoll Seminary's post office for the holdup gang.

"I was nervous," said Mrs. Anderson, mother of two. "I never had to do anything like this before."

Her role Monday was to convince the bandits that everything was normal at the tranquil Roman Catholic seminary. Hidden elsewhere in the post office, in the building across the drive and around the wooded landscape were more than three dozen policemen.

"I was sorting mail," Mrs. Anderson said, "when a voice said, 'Would someone help me?' He wanted a sheet of 6 - cent stamps and I had to go to the safe for them. When I came back, there was a gun pointing at me."

"Don't be frightened, sister," the gunman said. "Just stand still and nobody will get hurt."

A second man went through the safe and three cash drawers. The first asked, "Where are the other siste s?"

"They're attending a special Mass," Mrs. Anderson told them.

The men ordered her into a rest room. "I soon heard the sound of the bullhorn, then shots and I fell to the floor and stayed there until it was over," she said.

The police, staked out after a tip in New York City that the holdup was planned, had sprung the trap.

"You're surrounded," boomed the bullhorn as the men loaded mail bags with $50,000 in cash and stamps into their car. "Drop your guns. Surrender."

The bandits shot toward the voice. Police returned the fire as the car sped down the drive. More than 60 shots were fired. The car spun off the drive.

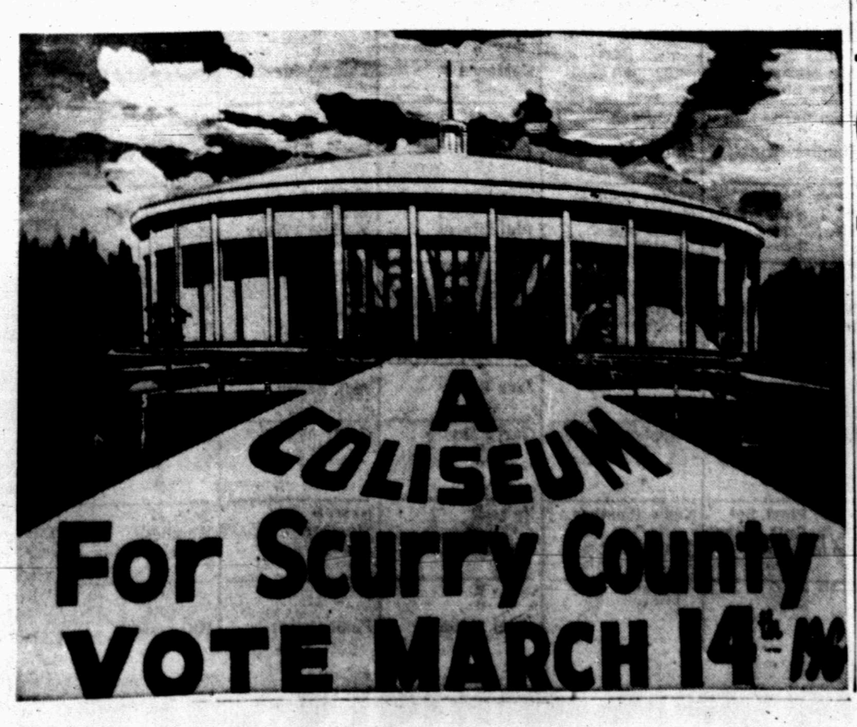

Three men, all wounded, were captured. Five guns were found in the bullet-riddled car.

A fourth man, apparently the lookout, slipped around the back of the post office during the fight and escaped into the woods near Ossining, 25 miles north of New York City. Police said he also may have been injured.

Good Prospects Encourage Business Expansion Plans

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Business is getting even more expansive in its growth plans as it eyes future prospects.

This necessary prop of the three-legged stool of the economy looms stronger with each poll of business intentions. The economy largely is shaped by consumer, government and business spending.

Business thinking about its own growth turned optimistic late last year. Earlier estimates of how much it would spend this year for new plants and equipment were revised upward. They went from about the same as last year to a modest advance. Optimism grew and a couple of months ago still higher figures were forecast.

And now, with tax cut benefits a lively potential if not yet a solid actuality, businessmen are once more expanding their plans, and substantially.

Consumer spending, growing fairly steadily all along, is expected to gain momentum from a larger take-home pay, first fruit of the cut in federal income tax rates.

Federal government spending may hold fairly steady this year. But at the state and local government levels the total will mount. The economy can count on that.

From individual companies, business organizations, and various pollsters in and out of government almost weekly come predictions of stepped-up spending in the months ahead. True, these are intentions, and appropriations for future spending, and their effect on the economy will come later than the consumer spending spree that merchants are expecting as they launch spring promotions.

But business spending has ever-widening benefits. It helps the producers of raw materials, the makers of machine tools. It bolsters the construction industry. It creates jobs all along the line. And this increase in payrolls is quickly felt at the consumer spending level, thus benefitting still other industries, and perhaps encouraging them to expand, too.

Latest estimates of plant and equipment spending by businessmen this year put it around the $43-bill level. This compares with $39 billion last year, $37.3 billion in 1962 and $34.4 billion in 1961.

If the $4-billion increase is achieved this year, this along with gains in consumer and government spending would assure the economy the strong props that most forecasters are now assuming.

Almost as important as the actual outlay of dollars by industry is the boost which the evidence of such spending will give the psychology of workers, businessmen, investors.

This won't solve all the problems by any means. But any increase in the tempo of industrial activity will help a little in at least containing unemployment. Any strengthening of the economy will make easier the task of defending the dollar and curbing the deficit in the U.S. balance of international payments.

And an expanding industrial plant helps many workers—and employers—to raise a bit higher their standards of living.

Says Muslims Will Remain Peaceful

By DON CARSON

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) The leader of the Black Muslims predicts the Negro will not turn to violence in the quest for equal justice.

Elijah Muhammad made the observation in his Phoenix home today after learning that his former top aide, Malcolm X, was breakin' away from the organization. Malcolm X said his action was an effort to convert the 22 million non-Muslim Negroes "from nonviolence to active self-defense against white supremacists in all parts of the country."

The 65-year-old Muhammad spoke quietly of the defection, his eyes sometimes watering.

"My people are more adapted to peace," he said. "They believe in peaceful solutions."

He said Malcolm X is too smart to start any violence, adding that "he has no guns, no ammunition."

Malcolm X had been a Muslim for nine years.

"We are surprised," said Muhammad. "I never dreamed this man would deviate from the nation of Islam. Every one of the Muslims admired him. But what he has said makes it definite. He has deviated."

Muhammad said he felt the announcement by Malcolm X would have little or no effect on the civil rights bill pending in Congress or on the attitudes of the nation's Negroes.

The chief of an estimated 275,000 Negroes said Muslims believe in separation of race only "if America will not give us equal justice."

He added, however: "I see no signs of equal justice."

If this is not attained, he said the Muslims want "the slave master and his slave to be separated."

'Mr. Texas' Showing Set

"Mr. Texas," called the world's first Christian Western film, will be shown here Wednesday night at Colonial Hill Baptist Church. The showing will begin at 8 p.m.

The film was the first major production of Billy Graham Evangelistic Films, Inc., and features the famed young evangelist and his entire evangelistic team. Playing leading roles in the full-length color picture are Redd Harper and Cindy Walker, both professional western stars, who have given their lives and talents to Christian service.

Produced as an experiment, "Mr. Texas" has amazed religious leaders and motion picture authorities since its release. At the film's preview in Hollywood Bowl, a record throng of 25,000 persons jammed into the amphitheater for the largest attendance for any motion picture in this country.

Rodeo scenes in the film were made at Hardin-Simmons University and feature the world champion Mayor Rodeo Riders, together with the HSU Cowboy Band. Original music for the picture was composed by Cindy Walker and Redd Harper.

There will be no admission charge for the showing at Colonial Hill Baptist Church.

Two-Year-Old Loses Both Eyes

DURHAM, N.C. (AP)—Vicki Wray was to talk to a chaplain today as Duke Hospital personnel continued efforts to soften the blow of an operation which left the 2-year-old blonde totally blind.

Surgeons removed Vicki's right eye last summer when retinal blastoma, a form of cancer, was discovered. The disease forced removal of her left eye Monday.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wray, planned to stay with her until she is released from the hospital. They have eight other children.

Promises More Resistance In Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Cuban Revolutionary Junta, a large anti-Castro band, renewed a vow today that its men will be fighting Communist forces inside Cuba by May 20.

Rogelio Cisneros, Miami head of JURE, as the junta is called, also announced a Cuban exile meeting here on that date, Cuban independence day, to honor President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela, outspoken foe of Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba.

Texas Legislative Council Hears Re-District Ideas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Texas Congressmen have made suggestions to the Texas Legislative Council suggestions on districting.

Texas members of Congress may have to run at-large and against each other as things stand after two court decisions. A host of other candidate would be probable in such event, if the matter is not resolved before the election.

Of Texas' 23 House members, 21 are Democrats and two are Republicans.

Council Director Robert E. Johnson asked for suggestions in letters to the members.

Most congressmen would like to have their districts remain as they are, but some suggested some additions.

Rep. Ray Roberts, D, McKinney, said he had "every confidence that the legislature and the governor want to retain the fourth congressional district." Roberts said he expected to be a candidate.

Roberts' district was served for nearly 40 years by the late Speaker Sam Rayburn. In population it was one of the country's smallest.

Rep. Wright Patman, D, Texarkana, said he would accept "whatever the legislature passes."

But he added: "I would love to take in new Grayson, Fannin and Hunt Counties, since they are concerned with the Red River navigation and flood control projct on which I have been working."

Grayson, Fannin and Hunt Counties are in Robert's district at present. Patman also said he would "have no objections" to the adding of Panola, Gregg and Rusk Counties to his district.

Rep. Olin Teague, D, Bryan, was concerned that his sixth district may be merged into adjoining districts. "Of course," he said, "I'd hope that my district would be expanded without putting me in with a sitting member of Congress." Teague said his district could be increased with the addition of part of Dallas County."

Both Reps. Clark Thompson, D., of Galveston and John Young, D., of Corpus Christi said they didn't want to lose any of their districts.

'Operation Teenager' Set In Schools Here Tomorrow

"Operation Teenager," a program initiated and carried out by four inmates of the Texas Department of Corrections, is coming to Snyder on Wednesday.

The "operation" had its beginning in the consciences of the four inmates who came to the conclusion that serving a sentence doesn't repay a thing.

In checking up on beginning of their criminal behaviour, each discovered that "a decisive turn was taken during the teenage years, a turn that eventually brought us to the point of extreme crime and imprisonment."

Remembering that teenagers want their information as first hand as possible, the four decided to tell their own stories to as many young people as possible with the hope that it will prevent other teenagers from taking the turn that leads to prison.

"Operation Teenager" has been in such great demand that efforts to schedule it in Snyder for the past two years are only now meeting with success.

The four speakers, each telling his own story, will be presented three times Wednesday. They are scheduled to appear at the Travis Junior High School at 8:25 a.m., at the Senior High School at 10:25 a.m. and at Lamar Junior High School at 12:35 p.m.

Although they appear only at schools, adults and others of the community are invited to attend.

They place heavy emphasis on the importance of teenage decisions, associations, habits, ideals and goals. The program has been widely acclaimed by school officials, social agencies, religious leaders and newspapers through the state.

Johnson Flips Switch To Turn On Cooling

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has been turning out White House lights to economize, but he didn't stint on the electricity Monday.

When the temperature rose to 80, the White House turned on its air conditioning.

It was pleasantly cool for some 400 youngsters entertained in the presidential mansion at an afternoon concert by guitarist Charlie Byrd.

Texas GOP's Plan Presidential Poll

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas Republicans, who in the past have strongly favored Barry Goldwater, will take a poll May 2 on presidential possibilities.

The state GOP executive committee voted Monday to add a presidential referendum to the regular primary ballot. The committee has several times voted unanimously to support the Arizona senator.

Eight names of GOP presidential aspirants will be included in the party opinion poll if they choose. As passed by the 62 members of the state party's governing board, the motion requires that the four formally announced presidential candidates be on the ballot.

The four unannounced candidates will be included in the poll unless they withdraw by midnight March 12.

The four definite names on the ballot are Goldwater, New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller; Margaret Chase Smith and Harold Stassen.

The four who may or may not appear on the ballot are Henry Cabot Lodge, Richard Nixon, George Romney and William Scranton.

The state committee agreed quickly and without dissent on a presidential primary but argued briefly on who should be allowed to withdraw.

"I think we should give everyone a chance to run or withdraw," said Thad Grundy, Houston committeeman.

"If we give the announced candidates a chance to withdraw then Rockefeller knows Goldwater's strength in Texas and he might want to withdraw so he could say he had not been beaten in Texas," said Dr. George Willeford, Harlingen committee member.

"We didn't ask those who have announced to announce," said Harry Bass Jr., Dallas. "They will just have to take their chance to benefit or suffer from the poll."

The committee also:

Set the June 16 state convention for Dallas and the Sept. 15 convention for Austin.

Set the May 12 committee meeting again in Austin.

Decided that those who did not pay a poll tax but registered to vote for federal office candidates only will be eligible to attend precinct conventions.

Approved on voice vote a resolution asking an immediate special legislative session for congressional redistricting.

Estate To Be Spent For Christmas Gifts

DENVER (AP)—Truman and Elizabeth Jones of Denver and Mike and Kathy Livada of New Orleans, La., can expect $50 gifts next Christmas.

In the years thereafter they'll get only Christmas cards from the late Isa Simmons as specified in her will.

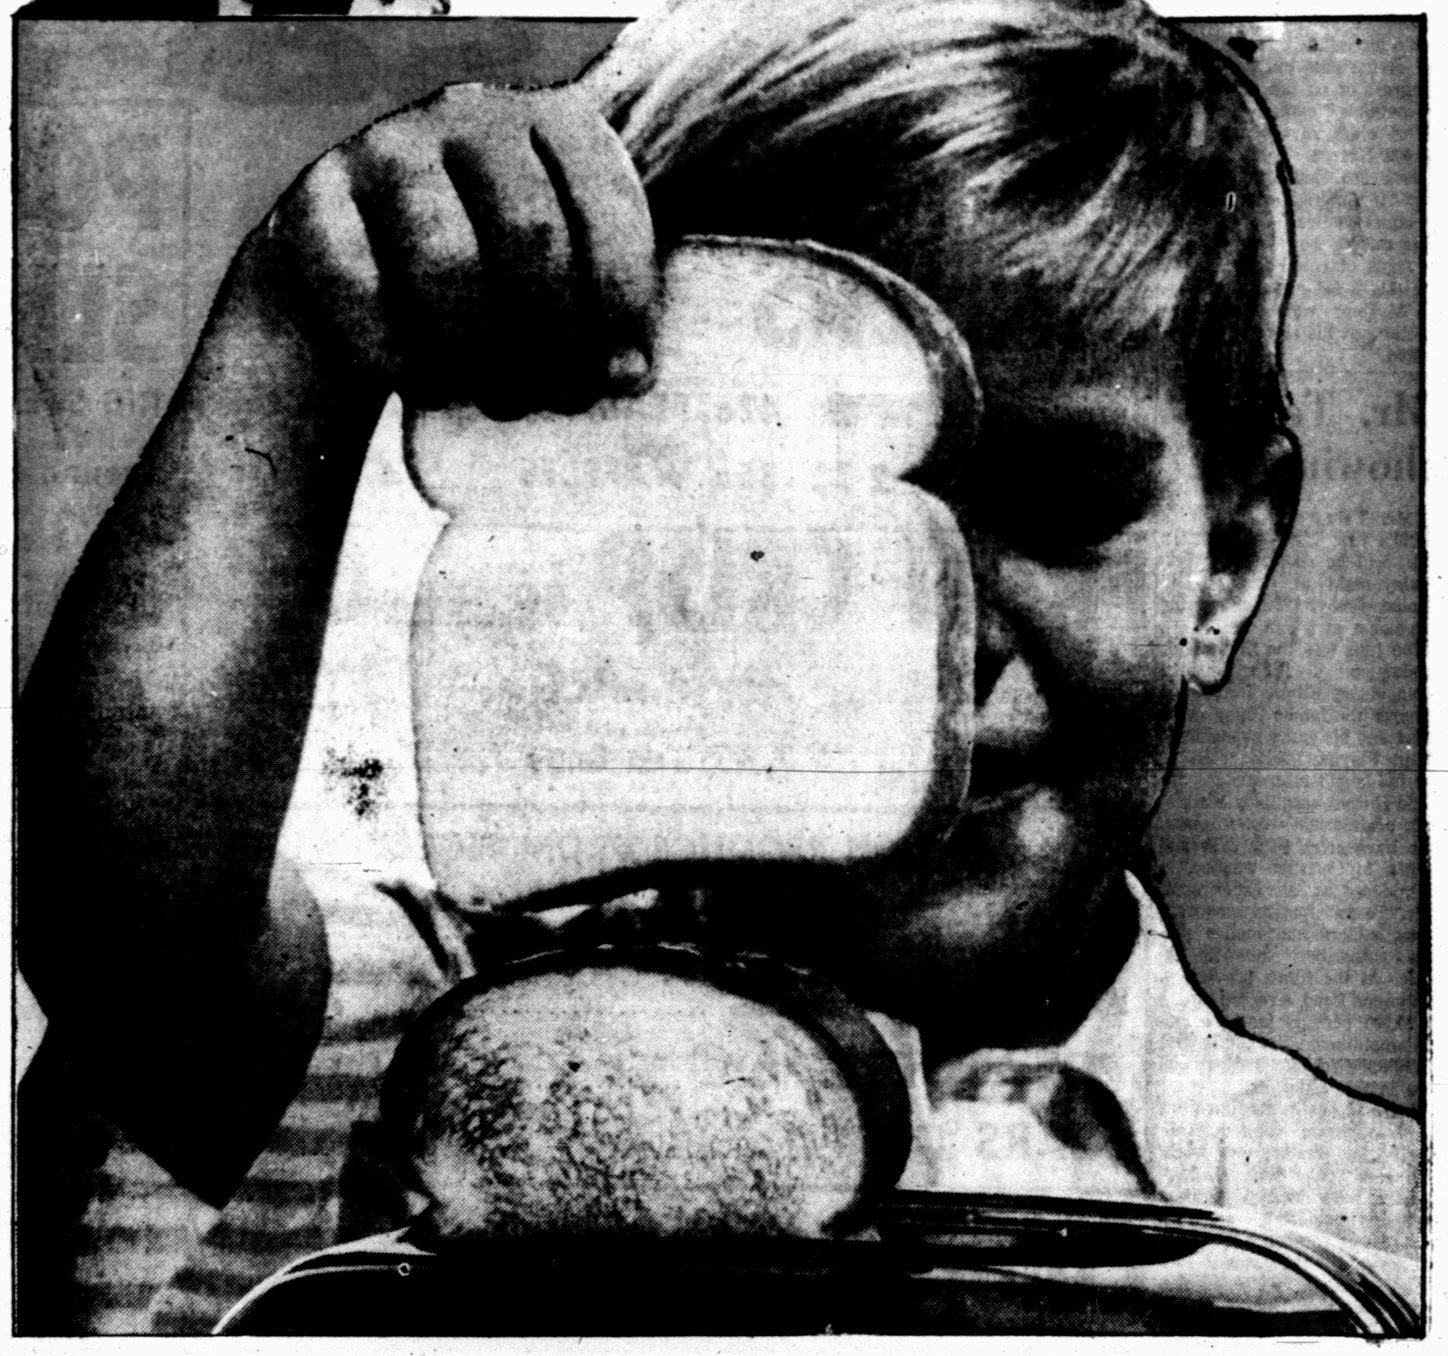

Mrs. Simmons, who died Feb. 3, named two executors of her $8,500 estate. They are directed to use the money to mail out gifts and Christmas cards annually to 10 friends of Mrs. Simmons as long as they live.
