Somebody Wants Less Government?

Is Lamb County top-heavy with local governmental units?

Does it have more operating agencies than other communities of its size?

According to the Committee for Economic Development, which has just surveyed the whole field of local government in the United States, there are now no less than 80,000 such bodies in operation.

Their direct expenditures, in behalf of the counties, townships, municipalities and other entities they represent, are currently at the rate of $60 billion a year, which is three times as much as in 1952.

To cut this huge cost and to prevent it from going still higher, the committee proposes a vast reorganization that would do away with 80 percent of these governmental units in the name of efficiency.

If such a formula were to be applied across the board, it would mean that 11 of Lanb County's operating agencies would be combined or eliminated.

In the local area, according to the last Census of Governments, there are 14 such units, including the county government itself. Also listed are municipal governments, six; township governments, none; school districts, six; and special districts, one.

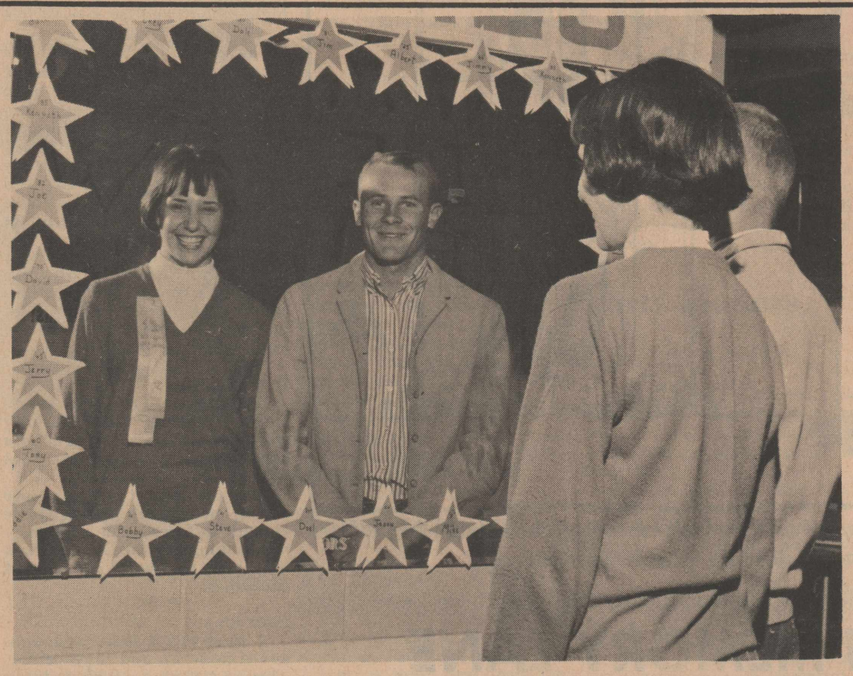

On the basis of population it is equivalent to 6.0 governing bodies for every 10,000 residents.

That is more than is found in most sections of the United States, the average being 4.7 for every 10,000 people. It is 3.8 in the West South Central States.

The committee feels that radical changes are needed because "weak and inefficient" local units across the country are failing to perform satisfactorily and have become an expensive luxury. It finds, as a result, that there is a general disenchantment with present-day conditions.

Among its proposals are the curtailment of overlapping layers of government, the centralization of responsibility, an increase in administrative authority and the removal of patronage jobholders in favor of trained professionals.

It finds that "the nation's courthouses and city halls have often seemed to lack the vision and dedication as well as the financial resourses, to diagnose conditions, devise solutions and make vigorous response."

BEST CITIZENS--Chosen as Best Citizens for the first six weeks at Olton High School are Kay Schultz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Schultz, and Dale DeBerry, son of Mr. and Mrs. William DeBerry. Both are senior students.

Adult Education Classes Organize

Meetings Are Slated

Organizational meetings for three adult education courses are scheduled here next Monday and Tuesday nights, Oct. 31 and Nov. 1.

Those interested in taking a course in bookkeeping or typing are asked to meet Monday night at 7 p.m. in the bookkeeping room in the high school building.

Organizational meeting for a course in Spanish is set Tuesday night at 7 p.m. in Room 15 in the high school building.

Spanish course will be taught by Ray Murphy and will meet on Tuesday nights. Instruction is scheduled to begin Tuesday Nov. 8.

Instructors have not been named for the coursés in bookkeeping and typing and nights on which the courses will be taught have not been selected.

Superintendent Ray Schultz emphasized this week that the Monday night meeting is for everyone interested in the bookkeeping and typing courses and that the courses will not necessarily be taught on that night.

"The nights when the courses will be taught will be one of the things decided at Monday night's meeting," Schultz said.

Fee for all three courses will be set at the organizational meetings.

The courses are being sponsored here by the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture and the school system.

All courses will be taught at night with facilities furnished by the school.

Longhorns Stand In Mustang Trail

The Olton Mustangs, still nursing a slim chance to tie for District 3-AA football honors this year, meet the Lockney Longhorns in a "must" game here Friday night at 7:30.

A win could project the Ponies into the thick of the conference race, but a loss would eliminate them from consideration.

Coach Don Beck warned his Ponies not to take Lockney lightly, pointing out the Longhorns' great speed and stout defense.

Lockney has one of the state's fastest backs in Melvin Sissney, a 9.8 sprinter who won the state championship in the quarter-ermile last spring.

Sissney has scored on runs of 75, 70 and 77 yards this year, along with other TD's on shorter gallops.

The great Longhorn back saw little action in the Longhorn loss to Abernathy, 16-0, last week, as he favored an injured foot.

"But he'll be ready for us," says Coach Beck, who feels Lockney is a better team than its record of 2-5 indicates.

"Their defensive line-up will average better than 180 pounds per man," Beck said, adding, "they play tough football."

Lockney lost to Memphis, 26-14; to Post, 20-6; to Friona, 13-12; to Dimmitt, 26-6; and to Abernathy. The Longhorns hold a 30-6 victory over Ralls and a 19-9 win over Crosbyton.

One of Olton's best defenders, Linebacker Jim Huckabee will miss the game because of an appendicitis attack.

The Mustangs' top two runners, Dale DeBerry and Benny Akin, are nursing sore legs, each with pulled muscles.

Several other Ponies have had aches and pains this week, but should be ready to go Friday night.

The Olton line-ups will remain virtually the same as the past two weeks, except that Eddie Hooper probably will go into the defensive set-up to replace Jim Schreier at middle guard, with Schreier or Bobby Turner moving into Huckabee's linebacker post.

Lockney standouts, besides Sissney, are middle linebacker Rick Kellison and Tackle Bennie Sue, both of whom are defensive terrors.

LATEST CENSUS

How Do You Keep 'Em Down On The Farm?

Lost: 342 farms, somewhere in Lamb County.

At least that's how many disappeared from the census rolls between 1959 and 1964, according to the United States Department of Commerce.

The 1964 figure, just released, is the first such census since 1959, when this county could count 1,636 farms. In 1964, a total of 1,294 farms in Lamb County were

At the same time, however, the census shows that there is more land being farmed now, the value of the land is up as is the income from farming.

In 1959, there were 637,481 acres in farming in this county, compared to 736,773 acres in 1964.

Average size of farms was up from 389.7 acres in 1959 to 569.4 acres in 1964.

Values, average per farm, was up from $96,521 to $177,588. Average value per acre was up from $265.36 to $311.96.

Some other important facts shown in the new census are:

1. Value of all farm products sold by farms in the county in 1964, $47,796,504; in 1959, $42,241,098.

2. Value of all crops sold by county farms in 1964, $35,800,463; in 1959, $35,457,943.

3. Value of all livestock and livestock products sold by county farms in 1964, $11,-990,841; in 1959, $6,783,155.

Information obtained for the first time in an agricultural census indicated the amount of income received by the county's farmers from recreational sources as well as data on the use of pest control chemicals in the county in 1964.

A census of agriculture is taken every five years, ending in "4" and "9" to gather information on the nation's agricultural resources and production. The data is needed to make decisions affecting many segments of the U. S. economy. The 1964 farm census was the 18th in a series that began in 1840.

Among other facts contained in the census are the number of farms by size, type and economic class; the number of farm operators by method of tenure, age, color, off-farm work, and number of school years completed; land in farms by use and land-use practices; data on equipment and facilities; farm expenditures; number of farms reporting poultry and livestock production and those reporting crop production by acres and quantities as well as sales.

Bank Deposit Insurance Up

The increased coverage is now in effect at the local bank on all savings accounts, checking accounts, certificates of deposit and all deposits which are legally and properly covered by the deposit insurance protection.

The new coverage will apply to new accounts and to additions to present accounts up to $15,000.

Services Held For I.V. Fent

Services for Isaac Vern Fent, prominent local farmer, were held Wednesday, Oct. 26 at 2:30 p.m. in the First Methodist Church of Olton, with the Rev. William H. Remmert, pastor of the Immanuel Lutheran Church of Littlefield, officiating.

Interment was in the Olton Cemetery, under direction of Parsons Funeral Home.

Fent, born July 12, 1901, in Morning Sun, Iowa, moved with his parents to Burbin, Mo. In the year 1917, he settled in Hale County, moving here in 1920, when he was employed by Sam Nafzger.

He was married to Margaret Katherine Nafzger June 21, 1925 and they moved to the Fent home here in 1927. In addition to farming interests, Fent took great interest in area meat judging contests and collected numerous awards for his outstanding ability. In 1945, he began large scale dairy farming.

During the dust bowl days, Fent was one of the first area farmers to plant a windbreak of cedar and pine trees as part of a soil conservation project. In later life, after retirement from dairy farming, he and his wife turned to their hobby of growing iris for their livelihood, with a commercial iris garden known as Cedar Nook Gardens.

Serving on the local school board during the period 1951-55, Fent was elected as both vice-president and president. In 1924 he became a member of the Lutheran church and served as elder of St. Paul's Church in Plainview a number of years.

Fent died Oct. 24 in the Plainview Hospital following a lengthy illness. He was preceded in death by his wife, Sept. 22, 1964.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Juanita Thomas and Mrs. Linda Dennis, both of Olton; and Mrs. Cheri Miller, Iowa Park; three brothers, Curtis Fent, Redwood City, California; Leonard Fent, Weston, Ill.; and Jim Fent, Midlothian, Ill.; three sisters, Mrs. Ann Voss, Leslie Mo.; Mrs. Ida Mae Thomas, Redwood City, Calif.; and Mrs. Jessie Weise, St. Louis, Mo.; and eight grandchildren.

McClure Is Contest Winner

Carl McClure, Olton Junior High principal, came up with a first place entry this week in the weekly Enterprise grid contest.

For his second time around as a first place winner, McClure missed only two games this week and picked the tie-breaker, Olton and Memphis, right on the nose, 20-14.

Second and third places were a battle between nine contestants, all picking 12 right out of the 15 games listed.

James Cagle was closest on the tie-breaker, however, with 22-20, eight points off, and took second place, followed by third place winner, Mrs. Paul Nafzger, who picked Memphis over Olton, 18-12, 12 points off.

McClure collects $5, Cagle wins $3 and Mrs. Nafzger gets $2 for her win.

Just missing the money were Steve Holt, Ronnie Parsons, Judy Parsons, Phil Middleton, Andy Andrew, Waldo Baxter and Monte Chitwood, all with 12 right.

Jerry Mathis, Farwell, retains his lead in the season Cotton Bowl contest with 76 games correct. Running second are McClure and Charles Didway of Post, both with 73 games right. Steve Lee, in second place last week, moved back to fourth with 72 games correct.

Standings of the top 44 are on the sports page.

A GROUP OF HOUSEWIVES did their best to shake up a local grocer here Wednesday afternoon, picketing the store with homemade signs. It was all in jest, designed to poke fun during the nationwide furor over food prices. The signs said such things as "We are just full of baloney," "We are hungry," and "Who said Martin Luther King is the only one who can march." Grocer Jess Stovall, although slightly red-faced, thought it was funny too, and had the last laugh when Police Chief Emmett Burrows showed up to ask the ladies if they had permits to picket.

Installment Debt Not High In County

In Lamb County as in most other parts of the country, a second look is being taken these days at the amount of installment debt that local residents are carrying.

The amount outstanding on purchases of automobiles and other consumer goods has been growing, year by year, and is now at a high point.

Not that local residents have been going over their heads, for such is not the case, the figures show. They appear to be well able to carry the load.

This growth in consumer credit is part and parcel of the general change in buying habits in the United States, points out the Federal Reserve Board.

As of the middle of this year, it reports, installment credit in the nation reached $70.2 billion, as compared with $59.4 billion in June, 1965.

For the average family, it amounted to more than one-seventh of its net income, after taxes.

In Lamb County on the basis of the national studies, the amount of installment debt outstanding is estimated at $890 per family.

That is the overall average. Some families owe considerably more than this and others owe little or nothing.

For the county as a whole, the total installment debt, as of midyear, comes to approximately $6,465,000.

To meet the regular payments on this debt requires over 15 percent of the net, disposable income of county residents, or about $74 per month.

The largest part of it , over 40 percent, represents payments due on car purchases. An additional 25 percent or so is for other consumer goods. The rest is for modernization loans, personal loans and the like. Home mortgages, charge accounts and bank loans do not come under this category.

Are the American people too heavily in debt? The consensus is that they are not.

As stated by an official of the National Industrial Conference board, the ability to repay is what is important.

If people have steady jobs and their income keeps rising, as it has been in recent years, they are in a position to handle bigger debt loads than they were before.

EDITORIALS

GUEST EDITORIAL

Obligation Of Press

BY Burt Freireich
The Arizona Publisher

On the news pages the responsible newspaper is obligated to present as unbiased a version of the news as humanly possible. Where an issue is in dispute, the responsible newspaper will present both sides of the argument to the best of its ability.

But in its editorials the honest newspaper will present only its own viewpoint on a given subject. It would be dishonest for the newspaper to argue the other side, the side it believes is wrong.

The editorial page is the opinion page. Subtract the opinion page and, obviously, you have a newspaper without a heart.

A nation's newspapers are considered "the fourth estate"--or the unofficial element of free government to go along with the legislative, judicial and executive branches.

The editorial page is the proper place where a responsible newspaper exercises its obligation of leadership.

This is not to say that there is no place on the editorial page for opposite opinion. The "letters-to-the-editor" column has developed into an integral part of the editorial page.

There are other areas in which many readers do not recognize the beginning and end of a newspaper's responsibilities and obligations.

For one, many readers believe that a newspaper "must" cover all events brought to its attention or "must" delete news of a certain type.

The newspaper's responsibilities in some areas are moral ones. In some cases there is no moral obligation. And in no case is there a legal obligation as to news coverage.

The newspaper is a private enterprise, just as a shoe repair shop or steel mill. Those in charge of its management are free to adopt a course which will alienate a segment of its readership--or advertisers--and they often do.

Of course, the newspaper business is like all other businesses: Capital and knowledgeable effort--knowledgeable to the highest degree that management can muster--are risked in the open market with the hope of profit. Alienation of enough customers for a long enough period will cause the enterprise to founder, and this also must be a consideration of management.

Which brings us to a vital fact of newspaper life.

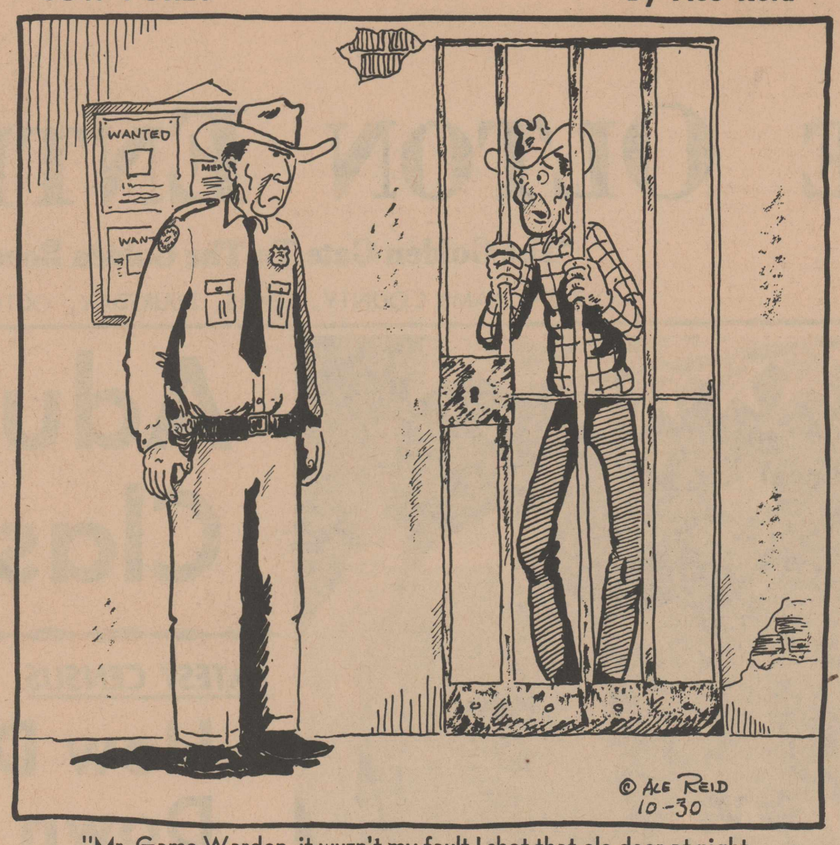

The newspaper, like all other business ventures, owes it to itself to be profitable.

Because no newspaper can be truly a member of the free press unless it can achieve a degree of financial independence. This requires first a strong readership, a circulation which represents a healthy dominance of the circulation potential under today's highly competive conditions. And it requires a substantial amount of advertising spread among a large enough number of clients so that when one or more large advertisers attempt to modify company policy, the management can swallow hard and, if necessary, tell the advertiser to go to hell.

IF the newspaper lacks even the financial wherewithal to weather a tempest in a teapot, the community suffers. Beyond the physical appearance of the community, it is the newspaper which primarily represents that community to the outside world.

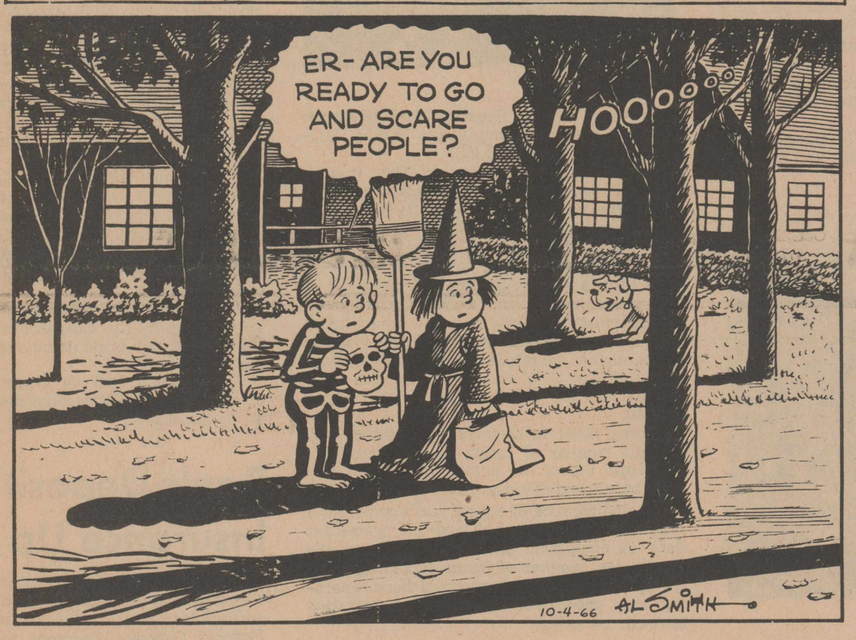

A strong, healthy, vigorous, courageous newspaper is a community asset. The newspaper which is scared of its shadow is not.

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

"DESIRE" KEY TO SUCCESS

Dear Amy:

My 15 year old son is my problem. He is in his first year high school and he doesn't like it. He plays "hooky" constantly. We have talked to him and so has everyone else telling him that he needs an education. We have bought him books to help him and have stopped his friends from coming over so that he will have more time to study. We won't let him go to shows or go out. He says he will go to school until he is 16 and then he's going to quit.

Perhaps we are too strict with him, but my husband and I know what it is not to have an education and we don't want to see our son drop out. Please let me know what to do.

Mrs. R. E.

Dear Mrs. R. E.:

You cannot force your son to study. Nagging and punishing will not help either. I suggest you enroll him in a vocational school where he can learn a trade.

It's too bad that so many young people are not mature enough to foresee the future they are making for themselves when they lack the desire for a good education!

* * *

Dear Amy:

I have two wonderful daughters. One is 22 and the other 24. They're planning a 25th wedding anniversary party for their father and me. They are going to have the party at a local restaurant and are inviting the family and many friends.

We are very happy about all this but there is one thing wrong: No one knows that this anniversary is our 24th and not our 25th. Over the years my husband and I never gave it a thought but now we don't know what to do. We certainly can't tell our girls.

Any suggestions you could offer for a pair of very embarrassed parents would be greatly appreciated.

A Mother and Dad

Dear Mother and Dad:

Some things are better left unsaid when they cannot add to the future happiness of yourselves and your family.

Happy Silver Wedding Anniversary!

* * *

Dear Amy:

In November I will be 16 years old. My mother gave me permission to have a Sweet Sixteen Party. I'm planning my party early so I won't have any problems when the day of the party arrives. It's a month before the party and I already have a problem. There are 24 people on my guest list. (I can't cut it down.) Naturally that means I will have to buy an awful lot of food, ke, pop, chips, paper plates, c.

Ha. of the people whom I'm going to invite are boys. No one is coming in couples. I'm worried about presents. Twenty-four gifts seem like too much for one person to get on one birthday. And yet, I don't want to tell my friends not to bring gifts because this party will be costing my parents a fair amount of money that must be spent wisely because there are 3 other children (younger than I) in the family.

When I invite my friends should I mention anything about gifts? If not, what do I tell them when they ask me about bringing presents?

Sweet Sixteen

Dear Sixteen:

One never mentions anything about gifts when extending an invitation to a birthday party. The invitation speaks for itself. . . and I doubt that your friends will ask you.

I appreciate your thoughtfulness concerning your parents' pocketbook, but don't expect the gifts to equal the cost of the party or you could be very disappointed. Stop worrying about the presents and have a happy birthday.

* * *

Dear Amy:

I met a very nice girl at a concert last week and I like her a lot. She acted like she liked me, too. I have been thinking about asking her to go out with me, but I have been waiting for her to make the first move . . . but no "move" has come.

What should I do

P.M.

Dear P.M.

If there are to be any overtures, it's your cue to make them. A girl waits for a boy's dates.

Screwworms Found In Lamb County

Screwworms have been found in three Texas counties, including Lamb, for the first time this year and automobiles are being used for the first time to distribute sterile flies in "hot-spotting" the immediate areas.

Cases have been positively identified from Crane, Lamb and Scurry Counties this week, reported officials of the Screwworn Eradication Program. "Hot-spotting" in these counties is being done by automobile because light planes are not available for doing the job, the announcement continued.

Future "hot-spotting" will be done either by air or with ground equipment, depending upon the equipment available, the officials said.

During the period from Oct. 16-20, 98 cases from 31 different Texas counties were identified at the mission laboratory. The officials said that every effort has been made to release sterile flies over every case by "hot-spotting," strategic, or grid release. It continues to be imperative for livestock producers to collect samples of worms found in animal wounds and send them to mission for identification, they emphasized.

Dee Miller Speaks Here

Dee Miller, Democratic candidate for Congress, Monday said that he would make every effort to see that farmers receive a fair return for their labor and investment compared to other industries.

Speaking in Olton, Miller said, "I believe the Democratic farm program is basically a sound one. It has shown that it is possible to answer the double problem of raising farm income to a fair level and at the same time provide an assured supply of food and fiber for our citizens."

"Farmers and their representative must work closely together to make sure that the farm program answers the needs of our district," Miller said.

Miller stressed the need for continued work toward a solution to the district's water problem. "There will be a terrific fight to keep West Texas in the Colorado River Basin Project Act and this fight will be against determined opposition. I hate to think what the result might be if we have no one to fight for us except a member of the opposition party."

"I am strongly in favor of placing every government resource -- national, state, and local -- behind a concentrated search for new sources of water for our area which must be at a cost which is economically acceptable to the agricultural industry as well as others."

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Priest of Olton and Jimmy Priest of Hereford attended the ballgame between Sul Ross and East Texas State last weekend. Joe Priest played on the Sul Ross team, which hasn't been beaten in 21 games. The score, a tie 14-14, didn't removed Sul Ross from their number one rating.

AUSTIN -- Speaker Ben Barnes today announced the appointment of Representative Bill Clayton of Springlake to serve as a member of the house interim committee on the feasibility of establishing a group insurance plan for state officials and employees.

Clayton was elected to the Legislature in 1962 and is now serving on the following standing committees: chairman of aeronautics; conservation and reclamation; municipal and private corporations; public health and state affairs.

3 Olton Youth On 4-H Program At County Meet

Informing the public of the importance of knowing how to give mouth-to-mouth resusciatation was presented to all 4-H Community Clubs in the county last month.

Five years of experience and experimental tests have clearly proved that the mouth-to-mouth method is the most effective and efficient method to give artificial respiration.

In cases of drowning, suffocation, smoke poisoning, carbon monoxide, electric shock, head injuries and drug overdose are reasons for giving the respiration.

4-H members who attended electric camp, sponsored by Southwestern Public Service Company this summer, learned this procedure and presented the demonstration to other members.

Those giving the demonstrations were Marlana May, Laura Wheeler, Kevin Britton, Olton; John and Lyna Pitts, Pleasant Valley; Rodney Bowling, Sudan and Vickie Cook and Terry Ogerly of Littlefield.

It is affiliated with the 1.8 million Baptist General Convention of Texas.

A native of O'Donnell, he attended public schools in Plains, which he considers his hometown. He is a graduate of East New Mexico University.

He and Mrs. Curry, the former Alice M. Breland of Olton, have three children.

OLTON KILLS MEMPHIS DREAMS

Mustangs Crowd A Memphis Cyclone

Olton's Mustangs, an underdog playing before a partisan Memphis homecoming crowd, gave Memphis' district championship dreams a nightmarish jolt last Friday night.

The Mustangs pinned a 20-14 defeat on the District 3-AA leaders, doing it in a fashion that left Olton followers overjoyed with the sweet smell of victory.

The win threw the Mustangs right back into the thick of the conference title run, giving them a chance to tie for the championship should Memphis, Floydada and Abernathy run into problems down the line.

Olton burst the Memphis bubble with a fine second half rally, something the Cyclones figured they had the patent on.

Memphis had come from behind to nip Lockney and Abernathy earlier in the season, branding themselves as a fine finisher.

But it was Olton's turn to pull the trick last Friday night.

After an 8-8 standoff at the half, the Mustangs fell behind 14-8 before coming on with a rush in the final 15 minutes of play.

Olton dominated the first half, picking up nine first downs to Memphis' three, while limiting the Cyclones to a bare 36 total yards.

The Mustangs got a break midway in the first quarter when Guard Doel Cordero recovered a Cyclone fumble at the Memphis 24.

Olton quickly capitalized, scoring in six plays. HB Steve Spain got the Ponies a first down at the 13 when he dove for three on a fourth-and-two situation.

Two plays later, HB Benny Akin drove through a hole at right tackle and went all the way -- 13 yards -- for the TD.

QB Charles McClain and Spain combined on their fake-kick and pass play for the extra points. It marked the third time this year for the play to work, and gave Olton an 8-0 lead with 2:09 left in the first quarter.

Despite the strong first half showing by the Mustangs, Memphis tied it up at the half.

The Cyclones got a TD with 1:51 left in the half, after driving 43 yards in nine plays.

Gary Rea went the final three yards for the TD, then QB Tony Pounds passed to End Clyde Wilson for the extras.

Olton quickly moved back to the Memphis 27 before the clock stopped the first half proceedings.

The second half opened with Memphis rolling for a TD on a 68-yard drive, covering the distance in eight plays.

Pounds hit on a 36-yard pass play to End Dwayne Jones, giving the Cyclones a first down at the Olton 30.

A couple of plays later, FB Ken Cornish rolled for 17 to the Olton nine. After HB Junior Graves broke for eight to the Olton one, Pounds ran the QB sneak twice before finding paydirt.

Pounds' passing try on the extra points failed and it was 14-8, Memphis, with 8:41 still left in the third quarter.

After the kick-off, the Cyclones recovered a fumble at the Olton 15, and things began to look dark for the Ponies.

But Defensive End Steve Burleson broke through on the first play to nail Pounds for a seven-yard loss. Three plays later, Linebacker Jim Huckabee intercepted Pounds' fourth down pass and ran it back 12 yards to the Olton 27.

That put a spark to the Mustangs and they promptly drove to the Memphis 33 before surrendering the ball on downs.

Memphis got off a big gainer, Junior Graves racing to the Olton 45, but on the next play the Cyclones fumbled and Olton's Cordero was the man of the hour, recovering at the Olton 49.

Three plays gained only six and Olton faced fourth-and-four, with 1:44 left in the third quarter.

The Cyclones dropped back to accept a punt, but QB McClain took the short snap, broke tackles at the line of scrimmage then raced into the clear at the Memphis 30. Charlie managed to break another tackle or two and raced into the end zone with a 47-yard tally, tying the score at 14-14.

Huckabee's extra point kick was barely wide.

After the kick-off, Memphis seemed ready for its famous fourth quarter rally. The Cyclones moved to the Olton 29 as the fourth quarter opened.

But Cordero again came up with a big play, nailing Graves for an eight-yard loss, and Linebacker Ken Johson tacked on another, grabbing Rea for a three-yard deficit.

Memphis, facing fourth-and-twenty, punted and the short kick went out at the Olton 31.

The teams traded punts until six minutes were left in the game and Olton took over at the Mustang 39.

Akin and DeBerry took over the running chores for the Ponies, with Akin blasting for 23 to the Memphis 38 on the first play of the drive.

Then DeBerry raced for five and 15 on two fine runs, the latter an extra effort that saw him break out of a mess at the line of scrimmage.

The clock showed only four minutes to play when Akin raced 22 yards to the Memphis one-foot line. Benny came up with some extra effort, too, breaking a tackle at the 15.

QB McClain played it safe, sneaking the last foot for the TD. When the extra point play failed, Olton had a 20-14 lead with 3:37 left.

Memphis made threatening noises after the kick-off, with Pounds completing a 20-yard pass to Wilson that carried to the Olton 48.

But the Cyclones again had fumble trouble, and again it was Cordero who came up with the ball for the Mustangs.

The Ponies had the ball at the Olton 46 with 1:35 to go, but three plays later faced a punting situation with 48 seconds left.

FB Bobby Turner punted to the Memphis eight, and the Mustangs braced to hold off the final Memphis surge.

On first down, Pounds passed incomplete as Olton rushers harried him. On second down, the rush was so hard he fumbled and the Mustangs recovered at the Memphis one-yard line.

It was easy to guess the last man off the pile....Cordero had gotten another one.

QB McClain was content to run out the final 38 seconds of the clock, and Olton had a 20-14 win.

Akin led Olton rushers with 99 yards in 17 carries, while DeBerry had 83 in 20 and Mc Clain 43 in seven. Johnson ran for 29 on four tries and Albert Key got 19 on three.

Carlos Talamentez scored twice for the 8th Graders in their loss. He returned the second half kick-off 70 yards for one TD, and got another score on a one-yard plunge.

Chit Chat

BY SANDEE GREGORY AND JANE ANN DUNCAN

It was only a regular school day, wasn't it? Students were seen along the hallway in groups discussing---what were they discussing? They were whispering as if it was some great secret. IT WAS!!!!

That night, the football boys would meet, not for their regular quiet time but for a surprize Pep Rally. The pep squad was preparing, the band would be there, and the cheerleaders had done their best to let everyone know---that is, except the football boys. And by some miracle, they knew of nothing!!!

It was 7:30. The "B" teamers and freshman had just come in from the football field where they had played Friona. And all of a sudden--the fight song was heard, yells were roaring in the gym, and the Pep Rally was on its way.

Yes, we were determined to back up our Mustangs. We would add our part in order to stomp Memphis. And by the look of the game last Friday night, we know our boys gave their ALL too!!

DREAM ON BERT DREAM ON!

Rickey Smith and Benny Akin were named the Outstanding Mustangs for their fine defensive and offensive work against Memphis. Rickey was named outstanding in defense and Benny outstanding in offense.

The head hunters for last week are Rickey Smith, Jimmy Huckabee, Kenneth Johnson and Doel Cordero.

The stallions are Tony George, Benny Akin, Steve Spain, Eddie Hooper, Charles A. McClain and Dale DeBerry.

BEAT THE LONGHORNS MUSTANGS!!!

****

Kay Schultz and Dale DeBerry were chosen as Best Citizens for the first six weeks in OHS.

Kay is an active member in FHA, basketball, pep-squad and she is the president of the FTA organization.

Dale is a Fighting Mustang and he is one of the captains for his team. He also sings in the choir, is a candidate for Most Handsome, participates in track and he is the president of FFA.

They both support our school admirably and they are well deserving of this honor.

******

A short skit "You As A Future Teacher" was presented by Martha Reynolds, Dale Gabehart and Sandee Gregory at the FTA meeting last week. Other regular business was discussed including the district FTA convention in Lubbock Nov. 5. Jane Ann Duncan was chosen as the club's representative for a district office at the convention. Her campaign committee consists of Sandee Gregory, chairman; Carol Hicks, Shirley Johnson, Leslie Holladay, Paulette Bley, Jerri Cross and Martha Reynolds. Jane Ann has already gotten her campaign off to a start by having all of the FTA members to make a poster for the convention. The voting delegates for the event will be Sherry Moss, Paulette Bley, Jerri Cross, Leslie Holladay and Jane Ann Duncan. All members who will be able to attend the convention are urged to go.

After other business of the meeting was cleared, the group had refreshments and then they were dismissed.

The junior class measured for their senior rings Tuesday and their faces were filled with mixed emotions. Some were glad, yet others were sad since this reminded them of about one and one-half more years in Olton High School.

Pictures will be taken for all of the school organizations this Friday.

THA'S WHO

Does anyone know who BEAR is?

Joel Nelson, do you plan to go in basement study?

Rickey Smith, did you have enough light and moral support Monday night while you changed your flat tire??

DAFFYNITIONS

Creativity: The art of taking a fresh clean look at old knowledge.

Embarrassment: Finding out that your boyfriend's class ring is too small for your finger.

Polygon: A dead parrot.

Nonsense: A kind of exuberant capering round a discovered truth.

Heredity: What makes the mother and father of teen-agers wonder a little about each other.

There's something encouraging about the fact that the teachers of American children have to go to summer school and take special courses to keep ahead of them.

ALL FOR FUN

Discussing problems concerning teenagers, one woman asked her neighbor, "Is your son hard to get out of bed in the morning?"

"No," replied the other, "I just open the door and throw the cat on his bed."

The neighbor was puzzled. "How," she asked, "does that waken him?"

Replied the other, "He sleeps with the dog!"

Karen Hipp: I've been seeing spots in front of my eyes.

Kay Schultz: Have you seen an oculist?

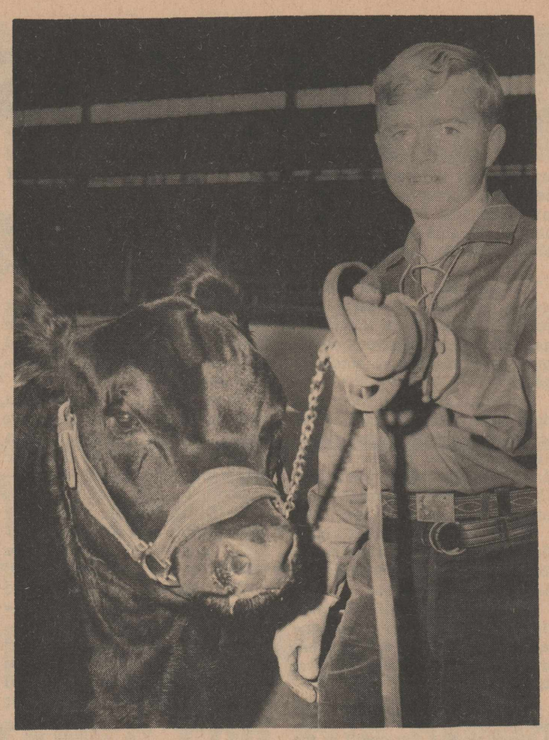

Karen: No, just spots.

Super-square: "I can't get over all those young kids with their long hair and skin-tight pants----and the girls are even worse!"

Whenever man begins to doubt himself, he does something so stupid that he is reassured.

PLAIN PROPHECY

I'm one of those ignorant beons
Who wouldn't know atoms from ions or eons,
But if we can't settle this world's disagreeons,
