GENEVA HEARS STAND OF U. S. ON ECONOMICS

AMERICAN PROSPERITY EXPLAINED AT MEET BY ROBINSON

(By The Associated Press)
GENEVA, Switzerland, May 6.—Henry M. Robinson, head of the American delegation to the international economic conference, told the conference today that the American people were profoundly interested in the peace and prosperity of Europe and the rest of the world. No nation, he said, could enjoy full economic activities unless other nations were prosperous.
The trend of discussion in the conference thus far has shown that Europe seeks to adapt the successful American industrial system to its own needs, and desires to raise the standards of the living as in the United States; hence the American contribution to the discussion created lively interest.
Prosperity Outlined
Without endeavoring to preach to Europe, Mr. Robinson outlined the causes of American prosperity, hoping, he said, to help solve the problems before the conference.
After explaining American progress in the rationalization of industry, including stabilization, standardization and simplification, he said the principal factor of American prosperity was the high purchasing power of the individual citizen. This contribution largely to the well being of Europe and the world generally through heavy purchases and investments abroad.
He explained that the development of transportation and the application of mechanism in industrial production have increased the nation's productive power, which in turn increased the consuming power of the people and improved the position of the workers in wages, hours, general working conditions, standard of living and education.

WORKERS REDOUBLE THEIR EFFORTS AS FLOOD WATER INUNDATES WIDER SECTION

(By Associated Press)
NEW ORLEANS, May 6.—With practically all of northeastern Louisiana now under water, national and state forces combatting the flood rolling down the Mississippi began redoubling their efforts today to pass the overflow back to the mighty river and hold it there on its way to the sea.
Should these efforts be successful, the worst of this greatest flood of history in the Mississippi valley will be over. Conversely, should they fail, thousands of square miles of rich farming and industrial sections in the state would be overrun with probably another hundred thousand persons made homeless.
No New Breaks Seen
While none was threatened today, further crevasses in the main river levee down to the mouth of Old river would add to the inundation in the northeast and make increasingly difficult the task of holding the eighty miles of "rim" along the old Red and Atchafalaya.
The rapid widening of the crevasses on the Mississippi above Vicksburg and between there and Natchez has increased the difficulties of rescue work in the northeastern section and some apprehension is felt for the safety of hundreds of that area.
Rescuers Are Busy
Rescue fleets are moving about in the territory as speedily as possible to save the marooned, many thousands of whom already have been evacuated. Swirling currents as the flood waters begin their race southward to the Old and Red rivers are increasing the difficulties of the coast guard and naval men.
New towns are being claimed by the flood daily and upwards of a score have been inundated with some of the smaller ones in the direct path of the flood currents practically destroyed.
Little change in the situation on the various flooded rivers was reported today by the New Orleans weather bureau.
Vicksburg Passes Crest
The crest had passed Vicksburg and the Mississippi there fell four tenths of a foot overnight. Crevasses below also caused a fall of three-tenths of a foot at Natchez.
With millions of tons of water now rushing through the Caernarvon crevasse to the south of the city, the gauge at New Orleans remained stationary today at 29.4 feet. When the crest gets here the river is expected to rise to not more than 21 feet which would be below the danger stage.

ADVISORS OF DEMOLAY EXPLAIN PUBLIC DISPLAY BY BOYS

'HORSE-PLAY' ON LUBBOCK STREETS IN CONNECTION WITH INITIATION RITES IS DISCUSSED

Pointing out that "horse-play" publicly staged on downtown streets here yesterday in connection with the initiation of more than 30 Lubbock boys in the Order of DeMolay had no connection with the high school, and was staged under the supervision of the advisory board, made up of six members of the Lubbock Commandery, Nell H. Wright, member of the advisory council and the man in charge of the demonstration said today that the board would assume entire responsibility for it.
Members of the advisory council are Nell H. Wright, Hubert L. Allen, Rev. Jack M. Lewis, Ray G. Mowery, S. K. Pym and Ernest Lee, all prominent in Masonic lodge circles, by which fraternal order the DeMolay is sponsored. Aiding these men in initiatory stunts were E. P. Holland and Walter Myrick, Jr.
Lads Wore Track Suits
Throughout yesterday afternoon the youthful candidates for the DeMolay degree were conspicuous on city streets, clothed in tracksuits and with out shoes and stockings, squinting and otherwise humbling themselves while initiated members led them about by heavy chains, wrapped about the neck of each boy.

"Any manifestation of the exuberance of youth during the lighter part of initiation, if perhaps not properly censured by the above men in charge, should not be blamed on the boys or upon Lubbock school officials," Mr. Wright said in answering some criticism which was voiced concerning his occasion. "The horse-play, publicly staged, had no connection with the more important and solemn rites which were enacted in the Masonic lodge room at night," Mr. Wright said, "when more than 30 boys received their first introduction to DeMolay work. In my opinion the DeMolay order, made up of sons of Masons and their friends, between the ages of 16 and 20, is a factor in moulding youthful citizenship and it should not be judged by the lighter side of its initiatory practices."

The older men, members of the advisory council, assume all responsibility for the affair, they said today.

BIG LEAGUERS OPEN FIRST INTERSECTIONAL BATTLES TODAY

Simmons Tracksters Win From Matadors, Score 81-36

GOYTHAM TO BE SCENE OF HOT FOUGHT GAMES

UPSETS FEATURE LAST GAMES IN BOTH CIRCUITS

(By The Associated Press)

The first intersectional skirmish between major league contenders this season put four eastern teams in the defense in the National League today.

The struggle waged with promise of hard fought battles, and indications were that New York would supply the battle ground for many of them. The acquisition of Rogers Hornsby and Eddie Roush by John McGraw, the threatening early season attack of the club and a deep-rooted spirit of rivalry between the men of Gotham and the cohorts of St. Louis, Cincinnati, Chicago and Pittsburgh, supplied some of the background for expectations of fireworks.

Hornsby's Bat Busy

While their pitching thus far has been unsteady, the Giants yesterday gave further indication that the shock of the western offensive would be received with a heavy blast of hitting. Hornsby again touched off the sun in a New York rally which routed the Robins, 4 to 1, putting out a home run with two runners on the base to clinch the victory. Rogers' circuit smash was the climax of the seventh inning sport that upset Jersey City, who had blanked his foes for five innings.

Today the Giants were paired off against the fifth place Cubs, and Brooklyn against the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals, who rode to victory yesterday over the Reds, by Grover Alexander. The other two melées pit the tall and Cincinnati Reds against Boston and the Braves against Philadelphia.

Lowly Clubs in Reel

Second division teams staged a merry upswing yesterday in the inter-league battles, which sent the warring clubs westward today. Outstanding in the results was the winning of Yankee sluggers by the Washingtons' recent right hander, George Slaughter. The former Memphis star hit the Huggins down the six hits and trifurcated them, 6 to 1.

The box showed six Yankee errors, but Tony Lazzeri, cheaped, luzzed now has played twenty successive games at second base without making a slip.

The intentional bases to Hellmann and Glue in the ninth inning called to accomplish their purpose for the Chicago White Sox. The two tickets found the bases with Detroit players and Matt McManus, backed as the "soft" base, spelled the party by singling to center. Gehring came across with the winning run, 3 to 2.

Flagstead Hits in Pinch

Ira Flagstead's pinch home run gave the Red Sox their fourth victory of the season, 3 to 2, at the expense of the Athletics. Flagstead made his drive in the eighth with one man on base. Cobb equaled Flagstead's feat in the same frame

SLATON TAKES ANOTHER FROM LUBBOCK LADS

TIGER SWATTERS SLAP BALL TO WIN BY 10-9 TALLY

The Westerners dropped another game to the Slaton Tigers yesterday on the Tiger diamond to even the four game series with the Millerites. The final score was 10 to 9. Owens, wrong-hander of the Tiger aggregation, was effective on the hill yesterday and sent slight Western hitters to the bench and let the local lads down with four hits in the five sessions he worked. Owens was relieved by Tunnell who gave up six hits to the Von Tungenlitters.

Coach Von Tungenl sent Bob Kennedy, Westerner southpaw, to the box for the local crew but was forced to replace him with Ridge after the Tigers romped on him in the first two frames. It was Kennedy's first game on the mound with the Westerners.

Culler and Canton smashed out a home run each from the offerings of Ridge and Ater and Brothers of the Westerners hit for three bases each.

The Score:

Lubbock 210 021 120-9
Slaton 221 102 092-10

HITTING PUTS AUTO-BARBERS OUT IN FRONT

LAUNDRYMEN BEATEN BY 22-2 SCORE BY OPPONENTS

The Auto-Barbers defeated the City-Laundry aggregation with a score of 22 to 2 in the opening game for the Lubbock City league yesterday afternoon at the Matador park. Free hitting from the offerings of Harrison, Laundry moundsman, was exhibited by the mechanics and shavers. Ater and Miller, team-captains, crashed out home runs each with men on bases and gathered in two others hits in the three trips to the plate.

The Auto-Barbers will give strong contention for the pennant. The hitting power of the Auto-Barbers showed up much stronger than any other of the clubs in the organization yesterday afternoon.

Lubbock High And Amherst Clashing On Diamond Today

This afternoon the Westerners will meet with the Amherst high school in their second clash for this season. Last week the Westerners defeated the Amherst crew with a score of 25 to 5 here and this game is being played as a return bill. Coach Von Tungenl and his nine left shortly afternoon for Amherst with victory on their mind after their defeat at the hands of the Tigers yesterday afternoon.

Captain Raymond Ater will likely mount the hill this afternoon for the Westerners. Ater started against the Amherst nine here last week and was replaced in the fourth by Manley.

This is the Matadors' eighth game for the season and they now have a percentage of .571 with four wins out of seven games played.

Ernie Nevers, One Of Few Gridsters In Big Leagues, May Yet Be A Star

NEW YORK, May 6. (AP)—Ernie Nevers, fighting for a place as a starting pitcher on the staff of the St. Louis Browns, is the only All-American football player in the major leagues. As a punting, running, kicking and passing back at Stanford he won the highest honor the game can bestow in 1925.

Nevers was a better football full-back than he is baseball pitcher but he is improving and may grow to be a star.

Great football players in recent years have not been sensational successes in baseball.

Great football players of earlier days, Christy Mathewson and Chief Bender, were good football players at Bucknell and Dickinson.

Jim Thorpe, rated by followers of the game as football's greatest player, did not start a confederation in major league baseball. He for Philadelphia, but the umpires ruled his drive over the right field wall a foul, and Ty thereupon proceeded to argue himself clear of the field.

Ray Waller To Hurl Opener Of Two Game Series In Canyon Today

Cudahy's Puritan Bacon

Finer Flavor

Cudahy's Puritan Bacon is unrivalled. Finer flavor and greater tenderness have made it famous. Puritan owes its distinguished qualities to the special method of curing these choice young meats. This method diffuses the rich meat juices in a natural way without forcing or hurrying. It is therefore uniformly sweet, mild, tender and delicious. Broiled or fried, its very aroma tempts even the most fastidious appetite.

Try Puritan and see how good it is—a tempting, wholesome, nutritious food, easily digested, fine for growing children as well as for grown-ups. Puritan Bacon is a delightful adjunct in the preparation of meat dishes, salads, etc. At your dealer's.

COURT GRANTS PLEA TO STOP WEST HIGHWAY

INJUNCTION IS GIVEN AGAINST COUNTY TO MRS. LINDSEY

A temporary injunction, filed by Mrs. Bettie Lindsey, widow of the late J. D. Lindsey, of this city, restraining the commissioners court of Lubbock county from opening, establishing, or constructing an eighty foot highway through property owned by the Lindsey estate west of Lubbock, was granted in the civil district court here today by Judge Clark M. Sullivan.

The addition of Mrs. Lindsey, filed by Wilson and Randall, and J. I. Kilpatrick, charges that the Commissioners Court, through a duly appointed jury of view on the proposed widening of the present county road, failed and refused to allow any damages for the land sought to be taken, except $1 a warrant for which was issued by county authorities to Mrs. Lindsey, and which was refused by her and returned to the county clerk.

Notice Not Given Claim

It is further charged that no notice of the application, as required by law, pertaining to the petition for application for widening the road, was given, and that the method provided by law for acquisition of land by law for acquisition of land by the county for road purposes was not met. In any respect by the county authorities. It is also charged that the widening process will cut a strip of land owned by the plaintiff 80 feet wide and about two and a half miles long, approximately 25 acres, and claim is filed for $60 per acre and $1,500 for moving fences along the route of the strip desired. Judgment forever restraining the county from taking the land without damages also is sought in the petition after the next term of court when the defendant county is cited to answer the petition.

The court's order restrains the county from any act tending to alter the present road; any act with reference to establishment or construction of a road on the plaintiff's property; or from expending any public moneys therefor.

The petition seeks to have the road strip presented to the commissioners court December 13, 1926, and the report of the jury of view was approved by the court February 7, 1927. The injunction affects about twelve miles of road from the railroad beyond the west end of 19th St. due west to the county line via Carlisle school house. The petition for the widening was signed by N. A. Payne, county commissioner, and seven others.

Champion Drives Into Final Round

LAUREL, Miss., May 6 (AP)—Tying the course record of 82, Miss Marion Turpie of New Orleans, youthful defending champion, won her way into the finals of the Women's Southern Golf tournament today by defeating Mrs. David Gaut, of Memphis, 3 and 2. The course record for women was set yesterday by Mrs. Gaut, who made an 88 today.

Mrs. Dalton Raymond, of Baton Rouge, made the play for the championship an all-Louisiana affair by defeating Mrs. John Armstrong, of Jackson, Miss., one up in the closest match of the tourney.

Gas Project Is Said Unaffected By Plainview Act

The granting of a franchise to W. H. Newberry, of Childress, and his associates by the city commission of Plainview, for supplying that city with natural gas and refusal of the commission to extend the time of the franchise to the West Texas Gas company, which is under contract with several other Plains cities to supply natural gas from the Pampa field, will not affect the West Texas Gas company, backed by A. J. McMahon and associates, of Oklahoma City, representatives of the company said here today.

The action of the Plainview commission is interpreted here to mean that the city is adjusting this means in an attempt to crush construction by the McMahon interests, and that Plainview will grant permission to this company when it is ready to begin construction work.

All other towns between Amarillo and the extremities of the proposed line have granted extensions on the various franchises. It was said, including Lockney and Floyd, which places took action in the matter Thursday, leaving Plainview the only dissenting town in the nearly a dozen that it is planned to serve with the line.

City authorities of Lubbock granted an extension of thirty days on the franchise here, nearly a week ago, making the effective date of beginning of construction June 1. The completion date, however, was not changed from December 31, this year. Information here is that all negotiations toward building the line are satisfactory, and that construction work in earnest will begin in not more than two weeks.

Ban On Paolino Won't Be Lifted

NEW YORK, May 6 (AP)—The New York state athletic commission refused today to lift the suspension of Paolino Uzcudun, who was set down last week for failure to go through with a match against Ed Keely in Boston May 3. Uzcudun had been matched to fight Jack Dempsey in the former heavyweight champion's scheduled comeback at the Yankee stadium June 9.

Mathematicians Scoff At Seattle Teacher

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—The announcement that Professor B. C. Hastings, mathematics instructor of a Seattle high school, had solved the 2,000 year old problem of trisecting an angle is greeted with skepticism by California mathematicians, who declare solution is impossible.

Professor Rufus L. Green and Professor Robert E. Allardice of the mathematics department of Stanford University declare the claim of Professor Hastings is absurd, with Allardice adding:

"It is not that mathematicians do not know how to trisect an angle or square a circle, but that they know it cannot be done. Angles can be trisected and circles squared in many ways, but not by the use of geometric process, by which is meant the use of straight lines and circles."

Professor D. V. Stodd of the University of Southern California says the problem "has been relegated to the museum of interesting but senseless puzzles for many years."

Professors A. E. Carpenter, G. I. Gavett and R. E. Meritt, of the University of Washington, concluded that Hastings had trisected a right angle "a problem that a student with a three months' preparation should be able to solve."

HIGHWAY WORK TO OPEN SOON

Concentration Of Division Equipment To Be Ended By May 16th

The concentration of all available equipment for highway maintenance in Division Five will be completed by May 16, when an intensive improvement campaign will be started on all main highways of the 21 counties in the division. It was announced today by Major Peltus Hemphill, division engineer here. The campaign will be started near O'Donnell in Dawson county, on state highway No. 8, and will continue at the rate of about ten miles per day until all main arteries of travel are in good condition. It was said.

Twelve tractors, twelve graders, four bunk houses and two Liberty trucks will begin the work about May 16, and these will be augmented about the middle of June by ten additional tractors, the announcement said. The state commission recently allotted $400,000 for maintenance work in the division this year, and granted ten new tractors to the division.

Highway No. 9 north and south across the division from Latessa through Lubbock and Plainview will be the first one regraded in the campaign. Others in the order of continuation of work were given out as follows:

No. 23 east and west through Plainview; No. 7 northwest and southeast through Lubbock; and No. 23 northeast and southwest through Lubbock. All these will be re-graded and placed in the best condition possible, it was said.

Work is being delayed pending a definite decision as to the location, which is now in controversy, and on which Major Hemphill has made a recommendation to the State Highway Commission, asking that the highway be routed due east out of Lubbock for about two miles then angle northeast into Dalou on an almost air line. Two designations no. No. 23 now prevail, one of which, Major Hemphill said, was made tentative by the State Commission during the latter stages of the Ferguson administration. This designation leads due north out of Lubbock over No. 9, and angles northeast about two miles out of the city. The route must be definitely decided and right-of-way secured before any intensive maintenance work will be done on the northeast leg of No. 23, Major Hemphill said.

scarcely a hair's breadth from his original testimony.

Counsel for Mrs. Ruth Snyder, his co-defendant, pounded away in the effort to break down Gray's testimony but the effort showed no apparent results.

"You mean about this 'automatic' business that you were drunk?" "I was in a haze."

"A drunken haze?" "Yes."

"When did you come out of this condition?" "Not completely until I had been brought back here and put in jail."

Wallace's examination dealt almost entirely with minute details of previous testimony, trying to shake the story told by the witness under direct examination.

Dona Wallace questioned Gray about his income, which averaged $3,500 a year, and about his drinking, which Gray said often exceeded a half dozen drinks a day.

The courteous manner in which Gray answered all questions, ending each sentence with a polite "sir" or "Mr. Wallace," seemed to annoy the examining attorney.

"Don't call me Mr. Wallace," he snapped. "All I want of you is just yes or no to my questions."

"Very well Mr. Wallace," Gray agreed and Wallace glared at him.

"You have sworn to the part you took in the series of acts that resulted in the death of Albert Snyder," Wallace asked.

"Has Told The Truth" "I have told the truth," Gray replied.

"Why did you take that part in the attack on Snyder? what had you to gain by his death?" "That," said the little corset salesman, "is what I would like to know."

"You mean you had nothing to gain?" "I certainly did not."

The questioning then turned to

Lonely Age

Now that he is 82, the well-known Mr. Chaucery Dewey announces that he likes old age well enough that he is a bit lonely, but he has, he says, no one to play with any more.

This is a predicament liable to anyone who persists in living beyond his allotted three score and ten. As the years slip by the old friends, one after another, slip away too; and presently one finds one-self pretty much left alone with a crowd of ancient memories, but quite solitary in the world of flesh and blood figures.

There is, apparently, little help for it. For while we grow old the world, unaccountably, stays young.
Not only do our friends leave us and pass on; our most cherished beliefs and ideals seem to get left behind in the procession, and we find that notions that seemed so advanced a few years ago are now out-moded and quaint.

This is no new complaint. Doubtless Methuselah felt rather out of it toward the last, and pinched for the good old days a few centuries ago. Very likely he was given to wondering at times, whether it really paid to live longer than anyone else; the greatest grandchildren of his old cronies must have seemed dreadfully modern and hideous in this declining gray-beard.

Being alone, either in old age or at any other time, seems to have terrors for us Americans. We rack our ingenuity to devise means to escape it; we organize clubs by the score, we flock to theaters and ball games and the like; we are even addicted to doing our traveling in "tours," so that we may always be surrounded by companions. Yet, sooner or later, we must accept loneliness as our lot, and submit as best we can on our own inner resources.

And it is right here that our lives seem to be faintly constructed. A lifetime devoted to the selling of automobiles, the drawing of legal documents or the manufacturing of railroad trains is filled with action, but it has few heart-warming memories that can be drawn upon later. We spend all of our forces in working, and at the last we find that our inner selves have somehow shriveled and become pitiable.

Age is not inevitable if it has a background. If life has been rich and full, age will have hidden resources on which to draw. Age, to be sure, will always be somewhat melancholy, but it need not be tragic.

It all depends on the foundation we lay in our earlier years.

Not Far Off

The civilized twentieth century still rubs elbows with black barbarism, however much the fact may be hidden beneath the everyday manifestations of enlightenment.

Havana is probably as up-to-date and cultured as the average city. Yet only the other day police there intervened just in time to save a girl from being offered as a human sacrifice. The girl had been kidnapped by order of a voodoo priest, who said that a sacrifice would be the only means of ridding one of his clients of disease.

That belief dates back to the very dawn of civilization. Yet it exists side by side with all the advancements of 1927.

THE PLAINSMAN

"The University of Amarillo" will revert back to its original status of a college, so it seems from reports which say that the Potter county seat has thus far failed to live up to its part of the contract and that unless it does in the near future the college will not be moved there from Clarendon. If that's the case we may see another educational record set. When it was first decided to move Clarendon college from Clarendon to Amarillo, providing Amarillo met certain agreements, the school immediately—less than overnight—became "Amarillo university" in spite of the fact that it was to grant its first degree this spring. That looks all records known to man in changing a college to university. Maybe now another record will be set in that the institution will be remade into a college from a university without ever granting a degree!

You can't judge a man's financial condition or social position now by the kind of automobile he drives.

Rev. S. J. Williams, who will soon conduct a city-wide revival service in Lubbock, recently told a group of church workers that "newspaper advertising isn't worth a snap" to his campaign. It is to be hoped for the success of the campaign that the reverend gentleman knows more about the scriptures and religion than he does about business and advertising. The plainsmen knew that there were several people left about ten years ago who didn't understand the value of newspaper advertising to any business but he thought they were all dead of inertia by now.

The mayor of Berger has resigned and he sent his resignation in by telegraph. That's our idea about doing business with Berger.
Do it by the long distance method it's safer.

Old Masters
FEAR death—to feel the fog in my throat.
The mist in my face,
When the snows begin, and the yule logs denude.

I am peering the place,
The power of the night, the presence of the storm,
The post of the foe;
Where he stands, the Arch Fearing a visible form.

Yet the strong man must go For the journey is done and the sighs attained,
And the barriers fall,
Through a battle's fight ere the glorious is gained.

The reward of it all,
I was ever a fighter, so—no one fight more.

The best and the last
I would hate that death bandaged my eyes, and forbore
And made me creep past,
Not let me taste the whole of it,
I love like my peers

The heroes of old, in a minute pay and life's arrears
Of pain, darkness and cold.
For sudden the worst turns the best to the brave.

The black minutes at end,
And the demon's rage, the fiendvoices that rave,
Shall divide, shall blend, Shall change, shall become first a peace out of pain.

Then a light when thy breast, O thou soul of my soul! I shall know the truth.

And with God be the rest!

One Barrier That Never Fails

WASHINGTON LETTER

SMITH AND VARE MOVE IN SENATORS AT LUNCH, SO-LACE FOR FARMERS

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer
WASHINGTON, May 6.—The Hon. Frank L. Smith of Illinois and the Hon. William S. Vare of Pennsylvania "hook" to all legal and technical purposes, just as good senators as the other 94 and with just as many prerogatives as any of the new senators.

This means that both are now occupying large and comfortable offices in the senate office building, with bright and shiny new name plates on the doors. Or rather, their office staffs are occupying the offices, for there is a deal of work to be done and neither Senator Smith or Senator Vare is often here.

Both gentlemen are on the federal payroll and so are their secretaries and clerks. However, unless either of both may have been employed in the large campaign expenditures for which the senate is expected to toss them out, each has shown a certain amount in respecting a former newspaper man as his secretary. William H. Culver is secretary to Smith and W. R.
Douglas is secretary to Vare.

There are also "petted" plants sent as is the custom, by the government's botanical garden. And a full quota of furniture and all the rest. Vare has numerous books and government documents which he moved over from his office in the house, but it appears that Smith failed to inherit anything of the sort from the late Senator Mc-Kinley, whom he defeated in the primaries.

This Smith has only the nucleus of an office library, thus far—consisting of Party Campaign Funds, by James K. Pollock, Jr. The Chicago Primary, by Wooddy; Rules and Manual of the U. S. Senate, the Illinois Blue Book, the Chicago Daily News-Amerian and the Congressional Directory.

The work in both offices has been very light to date, consisting of such matters as checking with government departments for constituents, taking up individual immigration cases and asking the state department about "vernal Americans" in China. Some question was raised in the department of agriculture as whether Smith's pilotment of agricultural heliotes should be delivered to him, but he's pretty certain to get them.

Senators Vare and Smith are so comfortably ensconced because the senate accepted their certificates of election late in the last congress.
They have everything a senator has except confidence concerning the future. There is some slight trend in their favor, but it is not expected to be strong enough to allow them to sit with the senate in session or to allow them to occupy their offices long after congress convenes in December.

Observation of certain senators engaged in the homely occupation of eating lunch in the Methodist building blazes the thought that our Republican statesmen are abandoning democratic institutions, although the position of the Democrats is doubtful.

Your correspondent sat within tiddly-winking distance of Senator Borah, McNary, Ashurst, Bayard and Swanson as they went in for the famous 50 cent Methodist lunch. Borah and McNary sat together, and the three Democrats congregated by themselves on a nearby bench, with backs to the wall as usual.

Now, send your correspondent,

HARD ON THE DOGS

This motorized age is hard on man's best friend. It is difficult enough to keep children off the streets, but practically impossible to teach dogs that sudden death burks there. And so the toll of canine life sacrificed to man's urge to get somewhere and get there in a hurry is large and distressing.

This assertion cannot be proved by figures for no statistics are gathered on canine casualties, but one has only to look to the mortality among his own dog friends to realize the truth of it.

There doesn't seem to be much of anything to be done about it.
Dogs, even those who are immediately responsive to the voice of a master, are largely addicted to the practice of personal liberty. They consider the streets theirs. Laws aimed at keeping them in their own back yards would fall upon unheeding ears. A dog is even less inclined to take laws seriously than are the men and women of this generation.

Evidently nature must be depended upon to find the solution. It does in one way, by giving the dog the capacity to multiply and replenish the population rapidly.
Perhaps also he will come through generations of dodging the jurignants of our streets and country roads to develop a special instinct of self preservation against them. The chickens in rural districts seem to be doing that. Dead fowl along the roadway appear to become scarcer every year.—Omaha World-Herald.

ambitious youth of today is that

BARBS

Manual for Beggars
A book found in the pocket of a beggard arrested in Paris was called "A Manual for the Use of Beggars." There's already a movement on foot in this country among the fathers of college students to suppress the volume. What beggars really need of course is not so much a manual as manual labor.

If the book were introduced in America the title could be changed to "Manual for Oil Stock Salesmen," and it would go over big.

The strange thing about it all is that they should arrest a beggar in Paris. We thought they elected all their beggars foreign ministers.

Movie magnates who get rich should thank their lucky stars.

IN NEW YORK

SEE-SAWING
and DOWN
BROADWAY

NEW YORK, May 6.—Manhattan ship-shops: Broadway's latest night light display costs $75,000 a year in rental alone—And $18,000 for the lights used—And $25,000 for building it—A more $118,000 a year for one pinwheel in the bright light pyrotechnic display.

Headge barber shops operating with drawn blinds on Sunday mornings—This may be the "big and swept" city but the blue laws say "no shows or shaves on Sunday."—
Even as upon Main street.

Three gorgeously abominous in Central Park and not one out of twenty-thousand people paying the slightest heed—Those few who seek out these beauty spots are, strangely enough, not the folk of the dank seminaries, to whom, one might think, this would be a haven, but a few scribbles like myself, some nurse maids and rural folk homicided for apple blossom season—

Broadway turns misfortune and fortune alike into merchandise—A play is about to come on written about the late amusing adventures of "Lucky" and "Fishes"—While Earl Carroll, before starting for Atlanta wrote a song entitled,
"Smooty My Love."

Julia Hoyt, society woman, actress, beauty expert and lib, knocking Broadway over with a new pale green roadster—Bernard Baruch, who is as well known to thesterdom as to Wall street, at a Broadway opening with Manhattan's dapper mayor—Mrs. Leslie Carter, of prelous stage memory, and Bill Tilden, who once played tennis, dining at the same table in a downtown theatrical hotel—Bill's going to be an actor or die in the attempt.

Dope peddler working in a dark alley street, doorway—Government agents watching from curbstones across the street—In a moment a decoy will pretend to buy, there will be an arrest—Oh, well, it's all in the night's drama—How commonplace the plots of the theaters compared with the dramas of the street—

Why, oh why, do the blowiest, hardest looking, Hannab's of the cabarets, at instance, always choose to sing "mother" songs? Is it to cover maternal defeat? And those cute, cunning, innocent looking maids of the cabarets—why do they always sing the cry naughty songs? Is it—

And that hard looking egg who sells rooster-balloons on the corner!
With my own eyes I saw a neat, well-tailored woman meet him, saw him take two youngsters from the sidewalk and start off, perhaps toward home with them.—There must be more money than I suspect in this sidewalk balloon racket—
And that aged woman pretzel vendor whose stand is almost at the doorway of the Standard Oil building in the Wall Street belt—Never have I seen her make a sale—How does she live?—Why does she come back day upon day? Does she know the millinaires who brush her skirts as they rush in the doorway?
And that huddling romance of the still walking sandwich men and the little stenographer in the second story window? That's my pet Broadway romance! Say him stop and chatter at the open window for ten minutes the other day. They say he's good looking when he takes his make-up off and gets down from his stilts—

WAR IS ENDED IN NICARAGUA

Rebel Chief, Fearing U. S., Orders Men To Lay Down Arms (Mexico Associated Press) MANAGUA, Nic., May 6 (AP)—After months of fighting between the liberal and conservative factions, the civil war in Nicaragua appeared today to be at an end.

He Fears United States
The liberal General Moncada declared, refused to sign or consider peace agreements containing the provision that Adolfo Diaz (conservative) continue as president, but that since it was established the United States would force disarmament of his men, he was prepared to advise them to lay down their arms as it was useless to attempt to fight the United States.

Conservative Troops, by order of Diaz, left for Tipitapa from the Boaca region, to turn in their arms to the United States marines.

Marines Head Disarming
The marines took up positions between the conservative and liberal lines to receive the guns of both armies. This was done at the request of the Diaz government so that proposed elections might be held.

unhappened by disorders. After a certain period all persons bearing arms are to be declared bandits and authorized constabulary and the marines will proceed to disarm them.

The peace delegates sent by the liberal president, Juan B. Sacasa, announced that the liberals would not accept the offer of negotiations of the Diaz cabinets and courts for the remainder of his term, as they were not agreeing to any terms of peace with Diaz.

Moncada said that the liberal president had stated repeatedly that the liberals would continue to fight until order to cease by the United States, but that they never would fight the marines.

His decision followed an interview yesterday with Henry L. Stimson, personal representative of President Coolidge. General Moncada said it seemed certain that the United States was prepared to take the field against the liberals if fighting continued and that he was prepared to order his troops to lay down their arms.

Conservative troops, by order of Diaz, left for Tipitapa from the Boaca region, to turn in their arms to the United States marines.

SOVIET AIDS WHEAT POOLS

Representatives At Kansas City Conference Pledge Support To Move

(By Associated Press) KANSAS CITY, May 6.—Representatives of the Co-operative Wheat Growers of Soviet Russia pledged themselves in the aim of international co-operation in the production and marketing of wheat at the world wheat pool conference here yesterday.

Saul G. Bron of Moscow, head of the Russian delegation delivered to the conference the message that it was not the intention of the Russian co-operatives to "injure prices."

"Russia will sell at the world price and take her chances with the others," he said. "It will work out."

Mr. Bron estimated that Russia would be exporting 100,000,000 bushels of wheat in the next two years. Asked if this might not adversely affect the export of American wheat and possibly drive down prices, he replied:

Consumption increasing Perhaps so, but remember that domestic consumption is increasing both in Russia and other countries.

William M. Jardine, secretary of agriculture, brought to the conference, which is being attended by representatives of wheat pools in the United States, Canada, Russia and Australia, a pledge of assistance of the United States department of agriculture for the wheat pool movement.

In opening the conference, Chairman C. C. Burnell, president of the Manitoba wheat pool, declared the wheat growers of the world could stabilize prices and place the industry on a fair footing with others only by "international action."

"It is my hope," he said, "that agriculture may be the first to replace international competition by international co-operation."

Governments, he said, could aid the farmer "but in the last analysis he must attend to his own business."

Speakers Are Prominent At a dinner last night the delegates were addressed by Secretary Jardine, J. E. Brownlee, premier of Alberta; A. J. McPhail, president of the Canadian co-operative wheat producers; and A. W. Wilson of Australia.

Messages were received from wheat growers of the Argentine.

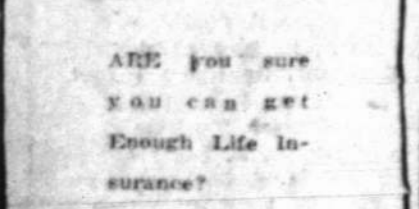

Mr. McPhail declared the tendency of agriculture co-operative movements was "to break down the old barriers which kept men apart—farm, state or provincial, even national boundaries."

Today, he said there was "hope and optimism" among Canadian farmers—largely because "after many years of partial success or failure the farmer knows he can co-operate with his brother farmer."

J. G. Gardiner, premier of Saskatchewan, in an address late today said that as a result of co-operation the pool farmers of that province no longer were forced to dump their production on the market in the fall to pay debts.

More than 50 per cent of the Canadian wheat crop last year was marketed through pools, delegates reported.

William Davitt of Glasgow was sentenced to a year in prison for having committed bigamy 22 years ago.

Appropriations Committee Of House Explains Plan Of Grouping Schools

SALARY SCALE EFFORT DOESN'T CHANGE STATUS

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, May 6.—The house appropriations committee has given out a statement correcting some apparently erroneous impressions that have gotten abroad concerning its recently adopted policy of

"grouping" higher educational institutions of the state for convenience in arriving at uniform salary scales for teachers.

Contrary to some interpretations, the grouping did not seek to put a first, second and third class rating on the schools, but was intended only to give a definite working basis for equalization of pay of teachers doing the same nature of work in like schools, the committee explained.

Plan Is Outlined

In some of the teachers' colleges, the committee found, certain instructors were being paid higher salaries than teachers in other like colleges doing the same character of work. To correct the discrepancies, the committee decided to put the University of Texas in one group, A, and M. college, Texas Technological college and the College of Industrial Arts in another, and the eight teachers' colleges in a third.

The committee was endeavoring to equalize salaries in groups so as to avoid discrimination between the groups as much as possible, the statement said.

Is Not School Rating

Nothing that some of the teachers' colleges and their friends got the impression that they were classified as "third rate colleges," the committee said is recognized that "the teachers' colleges are doing just as high class work in the subjects they offer as the other groups, and the degrees given by them carry the same high standard as those given in the other groups notwithstanding the fact that salaries paid in the other groups are a little higher than those of the teachers' colleges."

The committee said it hoped that in the near future state finances will "permit the same salary schedule for all institutions doing the same kind and character of work."

GOAT GETTER IS "HERO"

SAMARKAND, Turkestan—Spain's bull fighters have their counterpart in Turkestan's "goat goaders."

Between 30 and 40 mounted men fight each other each year for a goat that is thrown to them, and the victor is he who obtains the goat and carries it before the judges. Often it is only a bit of meat by the end of the fight, and some of the contenders are not in much better condition.

By special dispensation the heavily veiled Mohammedan women are allowed to join the thousands of spectators.

OLD DANCES RETURN

CHEYENNE, Wyo.—The old square dances are coming back to the cattle country, and old-timers who used to saw a mean fiddle and call the dances are finding themselves in demand. At ranch houses and country halls, the old call of "swing yore partner like the hinges on the gate" is being heard again.

WEST FOR GOP BUTLER FINDS

At Least That Is Report Of Republican Chief After Visit To Section

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, May 6.—Strong republican sentiment in the west was reported yesterday by Chairman Butler of the republican national committee, who returned today from a tour that carried him into ten states.

This trip, he explained, was only one of several which he contemplates during the year to take him to every state in the union in his campaign to strengthen republican state organizations.

Mr. Butler declared that he refrained from discussing either candidates or issues on his trip but when asked how many times he had been questioned as to President Coolidge's candidacy for re-nomination, he replied:

"I didn't keep count."

Frisco Wants Convention

San Francisco, he said, is making the strongest bid for the republican national convention next year as it has raised a quarter of a million dollars and is now polling the national committee in an effort to obtain endorsement.

Other cities also striving for the convention, he added, include Denver, Seattle, Minneapolis, Detroit and Cleveland. He expressed the opinion that decision on a convention city would be reached by a sub-committee of the national committee next December.

During the trip, the chairman, who was accompanied by William V. Hodges, treasurer of the national committee, and J. C. White, executive secretary, stopped off at Chicago, Denver, Ogden and Salt Lake City, Utah; San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle, Spokane and Minneapolis.

Chairman Butler reported his findings to President Coolidge at a luncheon Thursday at the temporary White House and was a dinner guest there tonight. He will leave today for Boston where he expects to spend ten days before returning to Washington.

More Than 90,000 Refugees In Flood Area Have Been Given Inoculations

(By Associated Press) MEMPHIS, May 6.—More than 90,000 refugees have been given typhoid and small pox immunization by the medical division of the Mississippi flood relief forces. This is an increase of more than 10,000 vaccinations over yesterday and the rate is expected to increase as larger supplies of serum are rushed to the concentration camps.

Meanwhile reports from state health officers to Dr. William H. Helden, medical director for the Red Cross continued to disclose cases of typhoid and small pox in the refugee camps. Dr. E. L. Bishop, Tennessee health officer, reported three cases of typhoid and eight of small pox.

Scattered Cases Reported

Scattered cases of both diseases were reported from Louisiana's concentration camps today. Dr. Oscar Dowling, Louisiana state health officer, said five cases of typhoid were being treated within the flood area, and that two cases of small pox were reported.

Reports from Arkansas were sixteen cases of typhoid were listed Tuesday, were not available today. Kentucky reported no disease except for two cases of malaria. Mississippi figures were not at hand.

The refugee situation throughout the valley was said to be vastly improved today. Rescue work continued in the newly flooded areas of Louisiana while waters were reported slowly falling in the older flood regions, greatly facilitating the movement of supplies and preparations for rehabilitation.

Labor agents were said to be active among negro refugees in Yazoo City, Miss., concentration camps and citizens formed a vigilance committee to deal with the offenders.

Houston Holdup Is Frustrated By Cops

HOUSTON, May 6 (AP)—Plans of a band of robbers to hold up a money car of the Houston Electric Company and rob the Western Union Telegraph office were thwarted ten days ago by city detectives, acting on a tip from California authorities, it became known Thursday night when the coast officers arrived here to take into custody a suspect arrested at that time.

The suspect was arrested in a downtown cafe, where he had been employed, by city detectives. At the same time they confiscated telegraphic messages written in code from which officers indicated that other arrests may be made in connection with the alleged plot.
