Truman Cancels Trip, Bores Into Problems

President Speaks Tonight On Wage Policy; New Labor Strife Piles Up

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—President Truman today cancelled his out-of-town trips for more than a month ahead and bored into the problems of labor strife, wages and prices during reconversion.

The troubles that tied him to his White House desk were typified, a few hours later, by calls for big new strike votes and a statement from CIO President Philip Murray that industry is staging a "sit-down strike" against the unions' wage demands.

No Agreements Reached

Murray said that not a single agreement had been reached in a major industry since V-J day by collective bargaining.

Mr. Truman worked on his speech to be broadcast at 9 p. m. (C. S. T.) tomorrow, on a new government wage-price policy, and interviewed top leaders of the AFL on their part in the national labor - management conference starting next Monday.

As the White House thus became a labor storm-center, some new clouds gathered. These were developments of the day:

1. The CIO United Steel Workers, Murray's own union, asked the government to take a strike vote among its 600,000 members to back up its demand for a $2-a-day wage boost from the steel industry.

2. Another strike vote, involving 35,000 employes of the Western Electric company, was asked by the Western Electric Employes association, an independent union. They seek 30 per cent higher pay.

3. Daniel J. Tobin, president of the AFL Teamsters, declared that union labor needs leaders who can keep men at work and prevent strikes. Many young men now heading unions are incapable of this and constitute "a menace to the workers," he said.

A White House spokesman said Mr. Truman's cancellation of travel plans was due to the "pres-

Quick Action Planned For Tax Cut Bill

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30—Congressional leaders laid plans today to place on President Truman's desk before the week is out the bill cutting 1946 taxes by $5,920,000,000.

The President is expected to sign it. Legislative leaders said after a conference with him today that he expressed satisfaction with it.

The bill, cutting individual income taxes and corporation levies and repealing the $5 automobile use tax, was agreed upon by a Senate-House conference committee Saturday.

House Action Due Today

The bill comes up before the House for final action there tomorrow. The Senate will not convene again until Thursday, and is expected to act at that time. Final congressional approval is expected long before the week-end, although several legislators have indicated they will seize the occasion to emphasize that federal economy is imperative.

The bill as it emerged from the conference committee was shorn of a Senate amendment sponsored by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich). Aimed at giving special assistance to small corporations, it would have stipulated that their combined credit and exemption against the excess profits tax for 1945 shall not be less than $25,000.

The bill does, however, repeal the 85.5 war-imposed excess profits tax entirely next Jan. 1.

A tax committee composed of 16 organizations—including the CIO Farmers union and National Lawyers Guild—issued a statement today urging the Senate and House to reject the bill.

They said the final version, as agreed upon by the conference committee, "granted even more concessions to the biggest corporations and richest individuals than either the House or the Senate bill."

They added that the measure "gives tax relief to those who need it least."

PLAN FOR TROOP USE OVER WORLD OUTLINED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—The State department laid before senators a draft of legislation giving the President a free hand to order use of a limited number of troops to help keep the world security council keep the peace.

The measure was presented by Undersecretary Dean C. Acheson at a bi-partisan meeting of members of the Senate Foreign Relations committee. Persons familiar with said it would:

1. Designate the American delegate, with the rank of ambassador, as the President's agent on the security council.

2. Permit the delegate to vote, at the direction of the President and without further check by Congress, for the use of American troops which have been allocated to the council.

3. Require the President to report to Congress the actions taken by his delegate on the council after the vote has been taken there.

4. Provide that Congress must approve either by a joint resolution or by treaty the agreement on the size and makeup of U. S. forces to be assigned to the council.

Java Fighting Flares Anew

(By The Associated Press)

BATAVIA, Java, Oct. 29—New fighting was reported to have flared up in Batavia tonight after a truce ended a bloody 24-hour battle at the Soerabaja naval base which left at least 40 British Indian soldiers dead and another 40 wounded.

There was no estimate of the number of Indonesian and civilian casualties in the fighting at Soerabaja, where the entire British garrison of 1,600 men had been seriously threatened by the strongest Indonesian forces yet encountered by Allied occupation forces.

Supplies Plentiful

The Dutch news agency Aneta reported the new outbreak was in progress in the Kramat district of the capital, where the Indonesians were said to have amassed large stores of arms and munitions.

The Indonesians at Soerabaja, well-equipped with armored cars, light tanks, machineguns and mortars and said to number more than 10,000, declared the truce after hearing a personal appeal by President Soekarno of the "Indonesian republic." He was flown to Soerabaja by the British.

Soerkarno, although carrying a white flag of truce, had to brave the fire of his own followers repeatedly before he reached headquarters of the Indonesian forces.

Refuse To Surrender

The fighting started after the British ordered the Indonesians to surrender their arms. They refused, fearing apparently that Dutch troops were about to enter the city.

Meanwhile, the sudden uprising caused negotiations between the Dutch and the Indonesian Nationalists to be postponed indefinitely.

The British readily admitted that they had been in a desperate plight. The natives were using at least 20 armored vehicles, which they had taken from the Japanese, and other first-class equipment.

Marshall Says U. S. Concept Of Responsibility Is Disintegrating

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 29—General of the Army George C. Marshall said tonight that demobilization in the United States has become "disintegration not only of the armed forces but apparently of all conception of world responsibility."

In a speech prepared for delivery before the New York Herald Tribune forum, Marshall said "it is certain that the military establishment cannot hope to insure the safety of the United States very much longer at the present rate of demobilization unless some permanent peacetime program is established and at an early date."

Emotional Crisis

He added:

"For the moment, in a widespread emotional crisis of the American people, demobilization has become, in effect, disintegration not only of the armed forces but apparently of all conception of world responsibility and what it demands of us."

"If we are to nourish the infant United Nations organization and thus establish some possibility of a future decent world order," Marshall said, "definite measures must be taken immediately to determine at least the basic principles for our post-war military policy. I have never felt so certain of anything in my life."

Falling Into Old Habits

General Marshall said that "just a few months ago the world was completely convinced of the strength and courage of the United States." Now they see us falling back into our familiar peacetime habits. We must somehow get it clear in our thinking that the fulfillment of our responsibilities is not some vague numbo jumbo. It requires positive active effort and sacrifice, and above all it is a continuing process."

Citing slashes in military appropriations at the close of the first World war, the chief of staff said:

"It was argued then and it will soon be argued again that the nation's economy cannot stand such military expenditures. Is not that absurd if you consider that the country's economy can better stand expenditures for national security than it can stand defeat or even a victory with a consequent debt of more than three hundred billions?"

Expenditures Compared

Gen. Marshall said that the year that France fell we spent five and a half billion on tobacco and alcoholic products—"about three times the sum we devoted to our precarious national security, even in the most critical hour of world history."

"As late as 1937," the general declared, "we might have convinced the Axis gangsters of the complete futility of their preparations by simply matching our 'cigaret money'—using the term figuratively—with expenditures on our national security. I sincerely believe that if we had given our security its proper attention the Axis nations would not have started the war."

Atomic Possibilities

"I cannot escape the conclusion that the possibilities of atomic explosion make it more imperative than ever before that the United States keep itself militarily strong and use this strength to promote cooperative world order."

Pointing out that the war department has made several recommendations to Congress for maintenance of strength, the chief of staff said:

"These recommendations have been questioned, usually by groups looking for an easy way out. There is no easy way."

Navy Capt. Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, another speaker at the Herald Tribune's fourteenth annual discussion of current problems, called upon President Truman to appoint a bi-partisan commission to develop an "open and not secret" policy for the United States in the Pacific.

Stassen advocated in his prepared address that the commission consist of "distinguished representatives from both parties in the House and Senate, from the departments of State and War and Navy, and of the principal economic groups of our citizenry, labor, agriculture, and commerce."

Rio Tense In Big Upheaval

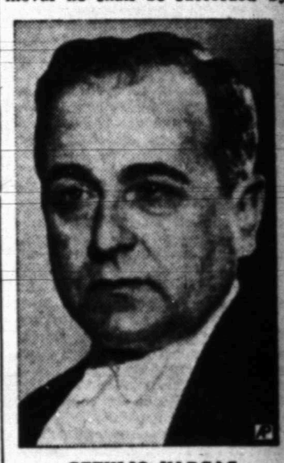

(By The Associated Press)

RIO DE JANEIRO, Tuesday, Oct. 30.—The resignation of Getulio Vargas as president of Brazil was announced early today with Supreme Court Judge Jose Linhares assuming the presidency.

Gen. Pedro Aurelio Goes Monteiro announced the resignation of argas. Goes Monteiro resigned late yesterday as minister of war but early today he announced he had reconsidered at the request of Army officers and had resumed his post.

Said Stopgap Setup

Selection of Linhares as successor to Vargas was in line with the provisions of the 1937 constitution which provides that in the event of the President's death or removal he shall be succeeded by

GETULIO VARGAS
... Quits As President

the hea dof the Supreme court.

Linhares' appointment generally was regarded by Brazilians as merely a stopgap arrangement.

Opponents of Vargas have suggested that he resign and permit general elections scheduled for December to be held while Linhares served as president.

Not A Candidate

Vargas who came to power in Brazil in 1930, himself is not a candidate for rthe presidency.

An official announcement from the office of the chief of police which said Linhares ha dassumed the presidency stated that Joaq Alberto Lins De Barros, who yesterday was ousted as chief of the federal police by Benjamin argas, younger brother of Getulio Vargas, was assisting Linhares. The announcement said De Barros had reassumed his federal police post.

Resigned To Avoid Unrest

Shortly after it was first reported Vargas had resigned, Army tanks were seen entering the grounds of the presidential residence and Vargas was observed leaving in an automobile.

The Minister of War said Vargas had resigned "in order to avoid greater unrest from political motives." The presidential power, he said, passed to the president of the Supreme court.

Army troops with full equipment were stationed in front of the ministry of war. Armored cars with machineguns massed near the center of the city.

"Vargas Abdicates"

Earlier an unidentified Army general and a young lieutenant armed with a sub-machine gun delivered a statement to the radio station "Mayrink Veiga" and as they left the lieutenant shouted "Vargas has abdicated."

Government troops had occupied key points in Rio De Jeneiro and had massed around the Ministry of War.

The police officials then said it was not certain who was assuming the presidency which Getulio Vargas has held since 1930.

Radio Makes Announcement

A proclamation read over the Rio De Janeiro radio signed by Gen. Valentim Benico Silva, commander of the Rio De Janeiro military region, ordered all enlisted men of the Army, Navy and Air Forces to report immediately to their barracks.

U. S. naval authorities ordered all American naval personnel from the streets.

Lost Battalion Moves In Formation Again And Completes Plans For Annual Reunion

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 29 (AP)—Marching in formation for the first time since February, 1942, in Java, the 36th division's 131st Field Artillery battalion led a two-mile parade through the streets of Wichita Falls today.

The parade and a program marked a homecoming celebration for the 131st, known as the Lost Batalion. Its members were captured in Java and little was known of their fate while they were held prisoner by the Japanese for many months.

Throngs of Texans massed in downtown Wichita Falls to cheer the 280 battalion members.

From the platform where $875,000 worth of victory bonds were sold this morning, Maj. Gen. Fred L. Walker, former commander of the 36th division, and Col. Bluch-er S. Tharp of Amarillo, commander of the Lost Battalion, spoke feelingly to the crowd.

Gen. Walker received the war record of the 36th (Texas) division from which the 131st was detached and sent to the Pacific theater.

At Cassino the 36th displayed gallantry and effectiveness "never surpassed by soldiers anywhere at any time," Gen. Walker said.

Colonel Tharp praised members of his command for "never giving up, never allowing adversity to break their spirit, and for always being willing and eager to take on the work or the punishment of a buddy less fortunate than them-

Tales Of Horror Mark Trial Of Bullet-Headed Yamashita

By JOHN GROVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

MANILA, Tuesday, Oct. 30.—The widow of a Philippine Army colonel today told the U. S. military commission hearing war crimes charges against Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita how Japanese soldiers dragged her husband and three sons away for execution after pillaging their home.

The witness was Mrs. Justa Guido, whose testimony carried into the second day of the trial of the former Japanese army commander in the Philippines the recitals of savage attacks on Filipinos by Yamashita's soldiers.

In a choking voice, the black-clad witness said that Japanese ransacked the Guido home in Manila Feb. 6, took 5,000 pesos ($2,500) and ancestral jewels, then tied up her husband and three sons and led them to their death.

Witnesses yesterday recited gruesome details of how the Japanese butchered women and children in a Manila Red Cross station. Yamashita, wearing rows of medals on his spic and span uniform, listened intently.

He Watches Tensely

He listened with equal attention, watching tensely through horn-rimmed glasses, while defense counsel entered a series of legal objections, sought a two-week postponement of the proceedings or argued that the commission of five American generals had no legal right to try him at all.

The conqueror of Malaya and one-time absolute lord of life and death in the Japanese-occupied Philippines gave no sign of emotion.

Witness Sets "Frozen"

As the session ended an 18-year-old Filipino sat on the witness stand tensely clutching a microphone, his face frozen in an expression of terror and dismay after testifying of the savageries he had seen. An American MP finally motioned him off the stand.

Much of the testimony offered today centered around the massacre in a Manila Red Cross station. An attractive 26-year-old Filipino woman told amid tears how four Japanese sailors broke into the Red Cross building where about 100 women and children had taken shelter, slaughtered 50 of them and wounded most of the others.

Survives Bayonet Stabs

The witness herself survived nine bayonet stabs and a bullet wound, but her 10-month-old daughter was fatally hurt.

A 47-year-old Filipino who lived next door to the station told of losing 10 members of his family in the slaughter.

Defense counsel, headed by Col Harry E. Clarke of Altoona, Pa., sought dismissal of the charges against Yamashita on the ground that neither President Truman nor other proper authority had delegated power to General MacArthur to order the commission convened.

This and other objections to the competence of the court were overruled.

Top Honor Goes To Lubbock Man

Pfc. Herman C. Wallace of Lubbock, 19-year-old combat engineer who saved the lives of two comrades last Feb. 27 in Germany when he deliberately muffled an exploding land mine with his body, has been awarded posthumously the nation's highest honor for military services—the Congressional Medal of Honor.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Wallace of 2516 Elm. He was graduated from Lubbock High school in 1942 and studied civil engineering a year at Texas Technological college.

He was the first Lubbock man to qualify for the honor in World war II.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace have been informed by the War department that the commanding general of the Eighth Service command has been directed to select an officer to represent the President in presenting the decoration to them. They are to be advised further as to the time and place of presentation.

MacArthur Orders Zaibatsu To Roll Out Their Records

By RUSSELL BRINES
Associated Press Staff Writer

TOKYO, Tuesday, Oct. 30—General MacArthur, pursuing his policy of smashing Japan's Zaibatsu (monopoly owning families) has ordered them to disclose their financial and manufacturing records during the war years 1935 to 1944.

The new order demanded exhaustive reports from the 15 top Zaibatsu.

Key individuals, including foreign shareholders, also must be named. The directive was issued Oct. 22, with a 45-day deadline, but a slipup in the Army's public relations organization today, officers explained.

Owners And Customers

The directive ordered submission of lists of all foreign nationals owning any shares in these companies between 1935 and 1944 and the annual lists of major customers in addition to details on capitalization, balance sheets, property holdings, investments, bank deposits, loans and major stockholders.

Companies specifically named included the "big five"—Mitsui, Mitsubishi, Sumitomo, Yasuda and Okura—and Kawasaki, Nissan, Asano Holdings, Fuji Industrial (formerly Nakajima Aircraft), Shibusawa, Nippon Nitrogenous Fertilizer, Furukawa, Nomura, Riken and Nisso.

Japan's first formal effort to alter an Allied directive failed, it was learned from a MacArthur spokesman, when Foreign Minister Shigeru Yoshida in a personal interview with the Allied commander was unable to obtain a change in orders for displomatic isolation of Nippon.

Yoshida visited MacArthur yesterday afternoon and formally requested withdrawal of a directive for the recall of all Japanese diplomats abroad and closing of all diplomatic and consular establishments.

The directive was issued in Washington, the papers said MacArthur replied, as a result of consultations among the United States, Britain, Russia and China.

Yomiuri Hochi said the Allies made no reply when the Japanese government protested a similar Allied order immediately after the surrender on the grounds that it was inconsistent with the Potsdam declaration.

MacArthur's directive ending that silence emphasized Allied insistence in the matter, in which the Japanese have shown a most pronounced attempt to avoid compliance.

Japan drew new hope today from President Truman's foreign policy address, unofficial sources hailing his words as an invitation to rejoin the family of nations "when we demonstrate our peace-loving intent."

Clerk Talks Bandit Into Smaller Take In Store Stickup

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 29 (AP)—A man, brandishing a pistol, entered a candy store today and told the clerk, "this is a stickup, gimme what's in the register."

"Oh, my, no," said the frightened clerk.

"Well, then, I'll settle for $10," the obliging thief compromised.

The clerk handed him a bill and the man fled.

Homer A. Hunter, Dallas assistant city manager, notified W. B. Price, mayor pro tem of Lubbock, of his acceptance of the position as city manager of Lubbock, effective Jan. 1. Final acceptance came Sunday by telephone.

Hunter will succeed Marlin R. Smith, jr., who recently resigned the post, effective Dec. 1, to enter private engineering business.

Hunter spent Thursday night through Friday night in Lubbock and conferred at length with Mayor O. W. Ribble and members of the commission regarding the appointment. Returning to Dallas Saturday afternoon, he talked with Smitham who urged that he remain at his Dallas post until Jan. 1. Hunter had previously agreed to come here on Dec. 1. He telephoned Mayor Ribble, who attempted to call the commission into a brief conference Saturday night but failed.

Mayor Ribble had to leave the city early Sunday and turned the matter over to Commissioner Price for action. Price conferred with Hunter by phone Sunday and with Manager Smith, who agreed to stay on until Jan. 1.

Hunter will receive a salary of $10,000 a year, the same figure he is being paid in Dallas. Smith's

House Rejects Plan On Railroad Rates

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29. (AP)—The House rejected 167 to 114 today a compromise bill which would repeal the land-grant railroad rates under which the government moves freight at half price over many rail carriers.

The vote came after Rep. Cochran (D-Mo) shouted to the House that if the bill became law "one of the greatest lobbies that ever stormed this capitol can say 'this is our victory day.'"

The legislation was shunted back to a House-Senate conference committee, which will try to work out a measure the House will accept. On two prior occasions the House has approved similar legislation. But it would not accept a compromise version written by a Senate-House committee.

Sponsors of the legislation argued that it only gives equity to the railroads. They claimed that by the reduced rates to the government the carriers have paid for lands granted during expansion days.

Fall Of Japanese Cabinet Forecast

TOKYO, Oct. 29 (U.P.)—A high Allied official charged today that the Japanese government contains "enemies" of the Allies, and predicted that it will fall when confronted by its first major crisis.

A ranking official forecast food riots in Japan this winter if the Allies do not bring in supplies to ease a serious shortage. Such developments may topple the government of Premier Kijuro Shidehara, he said.

"We know we have enemies in the government, no matter how willing and polite they try to act," the official said "But they will not get by with anything."

Mrs. Roosevelt Cancels Trip To Georgia Due To Dissension

ATLANTA, Oct. 29 (AP) — Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt has cancelled her engagements to address the Young Democrats of Georgia Dec. 3 after being informed that two executive members of the organization resigned in disapproval of her racial views.

The widow of the late President Roosevelt announced the cancellation of her scheduled visit to Atlanta in a telegram to Governor Ellis Arnall today.

Earl Wingo and Robert N. Fellows said Friday that they resigned because Mrs. Roosevelt had been invited as speaker and added:

"Our ideas are not in harmony with the speaker, who, from press reports, favors racial social equality."

Mrs. Roosevelt wired Gov. Arnall:

"Since message from Associated Press about dissension within ranks of Young Democrats over my coming to Atlanta was given to me I have thought seriously about the engagement and have decided it is much wiser for me to cancel my coming as do not want to cause any embarassment. So please accept my thanks for your kindness and my regrets that I cannot now keep engagement."

Gov. Arnall wired a reply to Mrs. Roosevelt which said in part:

"It is a source of regret and embarrassment to me and your other Georgia friends that two members of the Young Democrats so far forgot themselves, proprieties and southern hospitality as to be guilty of discourtesy and disrespect to the widow of our greatest President and to a woman who means so much to America."

New Cars Not To Be Rationed; Care Of Hardship Cases Urged

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29. (AP) — New automobiles soon to go on sale will not be rationed, the government announced today.

The OPA and the War Production Board, in a joint statement, said that with nearly 24,000,000 cars now on the road, and new production under way, "there is no longer danger of a general breakdown of the automotive transportation system."

"Naturally some individuals will be inconvenienced by their inability to buy new cars immediately," said OPA Administrator Chester Bowles. "We ask, however, that dealers everywhere give special consideration to unusual hardship cases."

No automobiles have been rationed since last July when the remainder of the general stockpile of prewar cars was released for general sale.

Whether to ration the new cars due soon had been under consideration several months.

OPA said that all records and certificates used in the car rationing program and now held by the trade or the public "are valueless and may be disposed of."

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

OUR fan mail has picked up about fifty per cent since that column in which we were unwise enough to suggest that pupils are impressed with teachers who take pride in their appearance; who wear fresh, attractive clothes, natural looking make-up and simple accessories. While that was the main idea we intended to convey, we inspired a deluge of sarcastic, unsigned letters which have ridiculed the writer, poked fun at women who work downtown and have invited a comparison of stenographers' salaries with that of teachers.

To the teacher who wrote, "In Reply," in rhyme: This column seldom carries poetry, even when inspired by the Woman's Angle.

To the anonymous teacher who sent the article "Teachers' Pay—A National Disgrace": One of our reporters is preparing an article that shows a comparison of teachers' pay with that of dogcatchers and garbage men. Why not watch for it?

Here's the last of the letters we'll reproduce since we've an idea some of our readers are getting bored with the subject.

THE Woman's Angle

Dear Miss Turner:

We, the teachers of Lubbock high school have been interested in your statements concerning the appearance of teachers, but we have no argument to make, since it is the privilege of the public to judge the dress of working women. However, we should like to give you information concerning our working hours.

We are not complaining because all of us approve of our duties and try to do them, but we wish to give some facts concerning the minimum requirements of the teachers of our school.

No teacher is allowed to sign in later than 8:30 o'clock in the morning; the average hour is 8:15 o'clock for a teacher to sign in. No teacher is allowed to leave earlier than 4 o'clock in the afternoon; the average hour is 4:30 o'clock for the teachers to check out of school. Every teacher is required to attend faculty meetings one month out of the nine from until 5 o'clock. Every teacher is required to be on duty in the halls during the entire noon hour one month out of nine. Every teacher must sponsor a school club and attend the meetings from one to two months out of the nine. These club meetings are either during the entire noon hour or from 4 until 5 o'clock.

The teachers must attend school socials in the evening. These socials require on an average one evening out of every week from 7 until 10 o'clock. Every teacher must belong to a professional study group. The study must be done after school hours. Every teacher must work after school hours on the constant revision of the course of study. Every teacher is required to have lessons prepared ahead of schedule to be approved by the supervisors; must check, grade and keep records of students' work.

Since no teacher has under 125 students, many hours weekly are required for checking after school hours. Then every teacher is anxious and willing to remain after school to give special help that students request and to prepare special programs to be presented by the students.

After considering the above schedule, we teachers do not understand the reference made in the Woman's Angle to the "9 to 4 shift."

The Women Teachers of Lubbock High school.

WE CAN understand your point of on the teachers' hours, which from where we are sitting looks like a rather stiff schedule, all right. The writer, too, knows something of long working hours. Would you throw us the crying towel and listen to our tale of woe concerning newspaper reporters' hours?

First, you work your regular day, which usually begins at 8 o'clock in the morning—unless someone telephones you a story before you leave home—and ends at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, with an hour off for lunch, unless someone comes in with a story that prevents you from leaving your desk until the urge to eat is worn off. You have a week's vacation (with two weeks' pay) annually and you get all day Christmas if you work for the evening paper and come to work the afternoon that day if you work on the morning paper.

As a member of the press you are given passes to evening programs, concerts, plays, civic-interest dinners, that's true, but you are busy taking notes while others settle down for dozes or listen half heartedly or intently (depending on whether or not the speaker is interesting) and when the meetings are over and other break up into little groups to concentrate somewhere for coffee and sandwiches, you go back to the office and spend a couple of hours working on a story that the desk editor cuts down in no time flat. We'd say that a reporter's work, like woman's work is "never done" because there is always the next paper coming up just as soon as the one who have just written for is off the press.

Having taught school one year, as we mentioned the other day, we know both sides of the question and our main regret is that the teachers have shown they resented any suggestions concerning appearance. We think we have been fair in printing the replies, so please let's call the whole thing off. What more can we do than say we are sorry and promise to let the teachers settle their own problems, if any, in the future.

Goering Elated At Death Of Ley; Other Nazi Bigshots Also Pleased

By ROBERT MILLER
United Press Staff Writer

NUERNBERG, Oct. 29 — The death of Nazi Labor Boss Robert Ley was disclosed to his fellow war criminals in Nuernberg prison for the first time today and they took the news with undisguised satisfaction.

Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering, a bitter enemy of Ley's throughout their parallel Nazi careers, laughed derisively when a guard handed him a mineographed notice stating they Ley was dead.

Most Are Elated

"Good riddance," he chortled "He was no good anyway."

None of the defendants was told that Ley had hanged himself, but Julius Streicher, the Jew-baiter whose cell adjoined the dead man's seemed to sense the truth.

He intimated to his guard that he knew Ley had committed suicide.

"He was a pig inside and out," Streicher commented.

Most of the other defendants were equally outspoken in their contempt for the brawling Ley and seemed elated at word of his death.

Goering Said Most Elated

Prison officials explained they had decided to inform the surviving defendants of Ley's death because they were almost certain to learn it over the prison grapevine.

Goering appeared to take the most intense satisfaction at the news. His hatred for Ley goes back many years to the time when both were rivals for Hitler's favor, and the fat Reichsmarshal was known to have said publicly on many occasions that he did not trust the labor front leader.

The United Nations tribunal that will sit in judgment on the surviving prisoners held its first preliminary session today to draft the rules of procedure for their trial. Justice Robert H. Jackson, American prosecutor, indicated every effort will be made to speed up the proceedings.

He said the prosecution hoped to base its case on captured German documents and films, rather than on lengthy oral testimony, and that there would be no delay in pronouncing sentence after the verdicts are in.

Goering Expects To Hang

Jackson said Franz Von Papen and Baldur Von Shirach already had chosen German counsel to defend them, but there was no immediate word on whether the other defendants had obtained lawyers.

Only von Papen and former Nazi Finance Minister Hjalmar Schacht appeared to hold any hope of cheating the gallows, and prison officials said the other Nazi overlords seemed resigned to their fates.

Goering, officials said, is so sure he will hang that he repeatedly asks his jailers why the Allies bother with a trial.

Streicher was said to be exercising religiously in his cell, explaining to his guards:

"I want to be strong enough to walk unaided to the gallows."

Ex-Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop was described as the most nervous of all the prisoners and very impatient for the trial to be concluded.

But there has been no sign of fear in any of them. All of them see the handwriting on the wall and seem ready to pay with their lives.

A PROPOSAL TO THE NATION

---To Its Lawmakers, Its Economists, Its Farmers, Its Industrial Workers and Its Business Men

"Every thinking American must realize that this country now faces a situation without parallel either during the war or before it.

"Before the war we were busy at production of all the things required by a peacetime economy. We maintained a high standard of living, supported the government with our taxes, exported to foreign countries and enjoyed imports from them.

"Then came the war. Production was stepped up to unprecedented levels and devoted almost entirely to military needs. Production of civilian goods was reduced to the barest necessities.

"Now the war is over. We turn again to supplying civilian needs, but today these needs unfilled for four long years are at the highest peak of all time. Our government's tax requirements are no longer the staggering needs of war, but they are still the enormous needs of war's aftermath—many times greater than before the war. There is also immediate, urgent need for all kinds of goods to aid the recovery and rehabilitation of a war-torn world.

"The simple fact is that we have a big job ahead of us.

"We can't get it done on the prewar basis of work."

We must produce far more now than ever before!

"Recognizing these problems, we have made the following proposal":

October 27, 1945

International Union, UAW-CIO,
411 West Milwaukee Avenue,
Detroit 2, Michigan.

Gentlemen:

"General Motors proposes that the UAW-CIO join with it in petitioning the Congress to change the Wage and Hours Act to make the standard work week 45 hours in place of 40 hours during the postwar reconstruction period. This proposal is made recognizing that the country has a big load to carry in cleaning up the aftermath of the war, and that under these conditions we can all have more only if we produce more.

The reason for this proposal to change the law is that the present law putting the penalty of overtime pay of 50% on the extra hours over 40 discourages employers and business generally from planning such extra hours of production, thereby tending to reduce the country to a 40-hour week when the country and the world are demanding more production at lower prices.

With this change in the work week, we propose that all wage rates be increased approximately 6%, so that men working 45 hours at the new straight time rates will make as much money as they do now for 45 hours of work. This proposal would increase the earnings of those working less than 45 hours and would also increase the extra compensation for any hours worked over 45, since such hours would be paid for at time-and-a-half based on the new rates.

Your first impression of this proposal probably will be that it is a reactionary idea, and not in the interest of labor. It is not reactionary any more than working longer hours in the war emergency was. We are sure that it is in the best interests of all the people of our country, and particularly in the best interests of all workmen.

If the 40-hour week was sound prewar and the 48-hour week during the war, the 45-hour week is sound for the immediate period following such a world catastrophe as we have been through. All Americans are expecting an even higher standard of living postwar than we had prewar. This can be accomplished at this time only by producing more, as we now must carry the huge additional tax burden, and other expenses growing out of the war. The simple fact is that we have a big job ahead of us. We cannot get it done on the prewar basis of work. We must produce far more than we did in the past.

The workmen of other nations will work far more than 45 hours. In any cases they will have only a bare subsistence living while they are doing it, because of the lack of good tools and machinery, like those supplied by employers in our country.

This proposal has much to recommend it.

1. It avoids a substantial reduction in weekly earnings.
2. It prevents inflation and preserves the purchasing power of war bonds, insurance, social security and other savings.
3. It does not upset the balance between agricultural workers, salaried workers and industrial workers.
4. It will produce more goods and services, and the people of our country will have more.
5. It will create more good jobs and the employment of more people. Just as many men and women will be employed in our plants on a 45-hour week as on a 40-hour week. And it will allow the use of our plants for the extra five hours when they would otherwise be idle.
6. It will stimulate business activity and create more jobs, and result in the employment of many more people in all related businesses.
7. If out plants could be scheduled to work on this basis, we would produce nine cars where we would otherwise have produced only eight. It will mean that one man out of nine will have a car who would otherwise go without.

We believe that a 45-hour week is necessary and desirable during the period of postwar reconstruction, for the following reasons:

1. During this period our country will be shipping food, materials and machinery to other countries all over the world to help them rehabilitate themselves and avoid starvation.
2. We still have one extra expense of bringing our fighting men back home and fitting them into civilian work.
3. We still have high taxes, which necessarily are a charge against industry and all producers.
4. To develop and apply technological improvements and to reorganize industry takes time—years, not months.

It is hoped that at the end of this post war reconstruction period:

1. Our relations with other countries will be on the basis of a two-way street, where we shall get back goods and services for those we supply.
2. The fighting men will be back at peacetime work, and the aftermath of the war will be over.
3. Government expense and the number of government employes will be reduced and not be such an excessive burden on all producers.
4. Technological improvements—the better ways of doing all the things that are necessary to deliver products to customers—will have become effective.

We can then have a 40-hour week with more leisure time and more goods and services, and can continue to improve the standard of living of all Americans.

Yours Very Truly,
C. E. WILSON,
President.

WHY WE BELIEVE EVERYONE SHOULD FAVOR THIS PROPOSAL:

It would help America to produce more and have more—

It would provide for higher wages without the certain necessity of higher prices—

It would help to strengthen buying power, sustain the tax requirements, and maintain the value of war bonds, savings and insurance—

It would be good for the working man, good for the employer, good for the farmer, good for the professional man, good for the housewife—

Good for "America."

Far Eastern Advisory Group Meets Today With Russia Still Not "In"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29. (AP)—Plans were completed today for the first meeting of the Allied Far Eastern Advisory commission tomorrow without the hoped-for, last-minute notice that Russia would participate.

The major function of the commission is to advise on future policies for control of Japan.

There was still time for the Soviet Union to declare itself in and designate its Washington charge d'affaires, Nikolai V. Novikov, as Russian representative.

Moscow Contention

American officials, however, assumed that Moscow was standing on its contention that a four power (U. S., Russia, Britain, China) control council, with actual administrative powers, should be established in Tokyo prior to creation of the advisory commission in Washington.

Hence, officials expected representatives of only 10 governments to answer the first roll call at the State department tomorrow. These are in the U. S., Britain, China, Australia, Canada, France, New Zealand, The Netherlands, the Philippines and India.

India was a late starter. It was announced only today that her government had accepted an invitation to participate and had appointed the Indian agent general in Washington, Sir Girja Shankar Bajpai, as its representative.

Scope Of Work Pointed Up

Reports of virtual civil war in China and of fighting between Indonesian and British troops in Java today served to point up the limited scope of the projected advisory commission.

The commission, at least at the start, will be able to discuss neither of those situations. It can concern itself only with recommendations to the ten participating governments on how Japan can best carry out its surrender obligations.

British Plane Flies 540 Miles An Hour

LONDON, Oct. 29 (U.P.)—Britain claimed the fastest fighting plane in the world today ,the new jet-propelled RAF Vampire with a cruising speed of 540 miles an hour.

Powered by a Dehavilland-Coblin turbo-jet engine, the Vampire can maintain this speed for long periods without overstrain, the announcement said. It added that the speed was made with standard equipment and a full fuel load.

Much higher speeds already are being obtained with experimental Vampires, it was said. Later model turbines, assumed to be more powerful than those used in the standard Vampire, are still on the secret list.

Alien Brides Of GIs Can Become Citizens In Only Two Years

By BRACK G. CURRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—Alien brides of GIs can become American citizens in two years but in most cases their children are citizens at birth.

A Justice department spokesman today outlined the citizenship status of hundreds of English, Australian and other foreign-born wives and children of American servicemen.

Plan Is Explained

He said "great confusion, both in the United States and overseas" has arisen on these points.

Here's what the Justice department says the wife of an American soldier, sailor or Marine must do to acquire citizenship:

1. Register with the American consul in her country and get a visa.

2. Present the visa to port of entry officials when she reaches this country. The visa is then forwarded to the immigration and naturalization service in Philadelphia.

3. File a preliminary petition for citizenship before she completes two years of residence in this country.

4. File a formal petition for citizenship at the end of two years residence.

5. Attend a court hearing to determine if she is eligible to be naturalized.

What about the children of American servicemen and their alien wives?

If the father is 21 or over, his offspring is a citizen at birth, provided the father had resided in the United States 10 years, five of which were after attaining the age of 16.

If the father is under 21, his child must be naturalized. When the alien mother is naturalized, the child will automatically become an American citizen provided:

1. The mother is naturalized while the child is under 18.

2. The child is residing in the United States when the mother is naturalized or begins to reside permanently in the United States while under 18.

A bill is pending in Congress to bestow citizenship on the children of all American servicemen with alien wives.

Army Announces New Retirement Setup

Regular Army enlisted men who have completed not less than 20 years service may now be retired at the 20-year mark, according to Lt. B. A. Montgomery, public relations officer with the U. S. Army West Texas district recruiting headquarters here.

These men may then join the enlisted reserve corps on an inactive status during which time their longevity will continue to build until the 30-year period is reached.

Montgomery pointed out that any commercial insurance company would be required to charge $84 per month over the period before being able to give a person a required living wage as the Army pension plan does.

It was also said by Montgomery that the theaters of operations for which a person may now enlist with the Army have been reduced. The African and Mid-Eastern theaters have been eliminated, leaving the European, Pacific, China, Caribbean and Alaskan department open to volunteers.

The local office, on the third floor of the Post Office building, has received no definite word concerning in which of these theaters Japan has been placed by the Army outlines.

The Senate source understood that Maverick expected to go to California and practice law.

Maverick was not reached for comment on the report immediately.

Laval Worked On Long Apology, Is Claim

PARIS, Oct. 29. (AP) — Pierre Laval raced with death to complete a documentary apology for the "errors of judgement" which led him to dishonor, a reliable source disclosed today.

In 1940, when the collaborationist government was formed after France's collapse, "I was unaware of how far the savagery of the (Nazi) regime could go," Laval admitted in a paper written in his cell shortly before his execution on Oct. 15.

He called the Nazis "a party which denied and trampled on the rights of the human person."

"If the Germans had invented the atomic bomb first and won the war . . . I would be treated as a man entitled to his country's recognition. I prefer not to have been that man," the former Vichy chief of state wrote.

Senators Are Sharply Divided On Universal Military Training Plan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP) — A demand for prompt action in establishing a universal military training program for peacetime faces a military committee as sharply divided as the Senate over the issue.

Senator Gurney (R-SD) said he will ask for hearings on a measure he introduced last January. It parallels closely President Truman's proposal to tag every physically able young man for a year's war training.

Not To Be In Hurry

Acting Chairman Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) forecast, however, that the committee will be in no hurry to plunge into a subject on which so many senators haven't made up their minds.

An Associated Press poll showed that of 84 senators queried, 25 favored some kind of compulsory military or war training. These included 18 Democrats and seven Republicans, most of them with varying ideas of what kind of training should be ordered.

Nineteen senators, including eight Democrats, 10 Republicans and a Progressive, registered themselves against compulsion. The question asked was: "Do you favor compelling physically-able young men to take military, or other war, training?"

40 Undecided Yet

Forty senators said they hadn't yet made up their minds.

The military committee, which handle the training legislation, is split wide apart on the issue. Some members, like Senators Gurney, Hill (D-Ala) and O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) favor the president's program. Senators Maybank (D-SC), Austin (R-Vt) and Thomas (R-Utah) want some variations.

Senator Johnson, Chandler (D-Ky), and Revercomb (R-WVa) are against compulsion in any form.

Robots To "Think" Faster" Than Man In Future Combat

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29. (AP)—Mere man will play a secondary role to robot fighters who can "think" and act faster than human beings in the nation's future air defense.

"Man's mind will be too slow for combat of the future, but man's mind can devise the defense," the Navy said of far-reaching peacetime research plans in aviation.

Guide With Precision

"The pilotless aircraft of the future, controlled by electronics, will 'home' electronically on its target," the Navy's statement last night said.

"Electronic brains will guide the counter-missile with precision. Out of research and development programs will come airborne radars which can initiate defense."

Also in the future:

Guided missiles at a speed of more than 700 miles per hours—faster than sound.

And The "Three G's"

And the "three G's" — glomb, gorgon and gargoyle;

Blomb, a 4,000-pound glider bomb, towed by a fighter plane, released and directed at its target by radio and television.

Gorgon, a jet-propelled missile carried by a bomber an discharged at enemy aircraft by radio control or by its own automatic target-seeking device.

Gargoyle, also a jet-propelled missile with a 1,000-pound armor-piercing bomb which automatically seeks out and collides with a ship target.

Air Raid Victims Die Of Starvation In Big Jap Railway Station

By MORRIE LANDSBERG
Associated Press Staff Writer

TOKYO, Oct. 29. (AP)—At least two homeless air raid victims die of starvation every night in the huge Ueno railroad station, second largest in Japan, Japanese newspapers report.

I spent last night there, investigating conditions.

Men, women and children huddled in the long, low tunnel from the electrain platform to the central station. Some were trying to sleep under blankets or sacks. It was damp and cold.

Soldiers Harangue Derelicts

Two young derelicts on their knees with their heads bent down were being harangued by a Japanese ex-service man.

"Get up, you loafers! Don't just sit there and expect our pity. You aren't the only ones to suffer from the war. Stand up on your own two feet. If you die here, there will be that many fewer persons to work for the Emperor, and help restore Japan."

One looked up. He had been crying. Neither made any move to get to his feet.

Racket Is Disclosed

In his warm office, Assistant Stationmaster Kensuke Hiraishi said the situation at Ueno had improved considerably since a roundup of 350 vagrants by police four days ago.

Munching a juicy green pear, Hiraishi said that for a while hundreds of boys and girls around ten years of age operated as an organized beggars' gang in the station, under a middle-aged leader. When they were searched, some were found to be carrying as much as 200 yen (about $13).

"The passengers have little enough food for themselves," said Hiraishi, "so they give the beggars money."

The youngsters started gathering in the station after their homes were burned out in the March air raids.

"In September, only one person was found dead a week," said Hiraishi. "Since then we've had as many as five a day. They were 50 or 60 years old. We haven't had any starvation cases since the station was cleaned up by police several days ago."

Attlee May Go To Washington

LONDON, Oct. 29. (U.P.)—Reports reached here today that Prime Minister Attlee may go to Washington early next month to discuss personnally with President Truman the atomic bomb and other pressing international problems.

Political correspondents attributed the reports to Washington sources. Attlee's official residence at No. 10 Downing street declined to confirm or deny them.

Curious About Talks

Members of Commons were curious about who would participate in the atomic bomb talks hinted at by Mr. Truman in his Navy day speech. They also wondered how soon they would start.

Pressure was rising in Commons for Attlee to make a full statement on the atomic bomb and the prospects of Anglo-American conferences on its control.

Parliamentary quarters expected that the British cabinet would go over the matter soon, possibly tomorrow, but that Attlee himself would resist any full statement for the present.

British Press Approves

The British press generally voiced approval of President Truman's Navy day speech, but wanted to know more about his plans for control of atomic energy.

The Times said that in the light of the speech, the foreign ministers' "open disagreement in London, as can now be seen, represents an advance of a kind upon the ambiguous unanimity that seemed to be achieved at Yalta."

The Times adopted the attitude that attempted exclusivity of knowledge of the atom bomb would be futile.

Taft Urges Solution Of Jewish Problem

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29. (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said today the United States ought to join with Great Britain in a survey to determine how many Jews can and should be sent to Palestine.

The Ohio senator made this proposal after publication of a letter Senator Bailey (D-NC) wrote Secretary of State Byrnes threatening to oppose on the Senate floor any United States move to accept responsibility for establishing a Jewish state in Palestine.

Bailey said he had read news reports the British were willing to consider favorably President Truman's request for admission of 100,000 Jews to Palestine if this country would help furnish armed forces to quell any trouble that might arise.

But Taft told a reporter he is satisfied the British are not seriously suggesting any such action by the United States.

Instead, the Ohio senator said he understands Great Britain was asked for the establishment of a joint commission to determine how many Jews want to go to Palestine, how many can find homes in Europe and how many could be sent to Palestine without disturbing conditions.

"If the British formally propose that, I think we should agree to it," Taft said.

Bailey said in his letter to Byrnes, however, that this country has no business becoming involved in the Palestine controversy. He noted that the Arab and Moslem world are protesting the establishment of a Jewish national home in Palestine, an objective urged in the past by Taft and other senators.

Police Hunt Rampant German Murder Gangs

LUEBECK, Germany, Oct. 29. (AP)—German police in this area created an emergency organization today to deal with murder gangs which systematically have been plundering homes and killing residents.

The authorities selected 20 Germans from each village in the Luebeck area and formed them into "watch" groups to stand guard each night.

Criminals killed nine persons in the Luebeck suburbs last week, committed 22 robberies with violence and 48 other robberies. One local gang of robbers was reported led by a masked man wearing a Polish uniform. The German and British police expressed fear that the crime wave would increase as winter nights lengthen and hunger increases. The menace to Luebeck is increased because 29 displaced persons camps containing 37,000 inmates surround the Baltic port.

HST Buys First $200 FDR Memorial Bond

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29. (AP)—President Truman bought a $200 Roosevelt Memorial bond from Secretary of the Treasury Vinson today as the nation launched a $11,000,000,000 victory loan drive.

The ceremony took place on a porch outside the White House executive offices overlooking the rose garden.

Mr. Truman handed the secretary $150 in currency for what Vinson described as the first sale of a Roosevelt Memorial bond.

Good News from General Electric

DESPITE the sudden stopping of war work, employment at General Electric has declined less than 10 per cent overall. Rehiring is already under way, and it is expected that more people will be employed within six to eight months than were employed during the biggest prewar years.

What G-E people are making is shown, in part, by the list below. This list of things you and your family have wanted for many months shows the progress General Electric has made in swinging back to its regular job of making "More Goods for More People at Less Cost." General Electric Company, Schenectady, New York.

Alarm Clocks. In January, 1944, WPB okayed making some electric alarm clocks. Within seven weeks, G. E. was in production.

Turbines. Full schedule peacetime production of steam turbines, source of two-thirds of the nation's electric power and the driving power for most of our fighting and merchant fleets, is expected to be reached by December.

Irons. In June, 1944, came authorization to make electric irons. In three months, G.E. was shipping irons. Today's rate is higher than 1941.

Motors. Ten million were built for war—many of special types and sizes. Now G-E lines are being quickly converted to production of standard types for washing machines, refrigerators, etc.

Refrigerators. After getting green light from WPB in June, 1945, G.E. was in production in eight weeks.

Transformers. Upwards of 70 small transformers were required for a single B-29 Superfortress. Now G-E facilities are turning them out again to help make electricity more useful to you.

Washers. Ten weeks from WPB go-ahead, G-E washer line started rolling in Bridgeport on August 24, 1945. Already they're being turned out at 47 per cent of G.E.'s prewar rate.

Street Lights and Flood Lights. Facilities that turned out mobile anti-aircraft searchlights for the Army, and thousands of signaling searchlights for the Navy, are now producing flood lights for sports and industry, and street lights to reduce the nation's night traffic toll.

Radios. G-E radios will be back on the market for Christmas. Table models will be in dealers' stores in November. By Christmas, 12 models should be in stores, including AC-DC battery portables, radio phonograph consoles. Television and FM will go into production after the first of the year.

Home Construction Materials. Wire, cable, fluorescent lampholders, etc., formerly for Army and Navy use, are now in production for your new home.

Ranges. Manufacture began on the first G-E electric ranges September 9, 1945. Three days later the first shipment was made.

Plastics Production. The plastics facilities of General Electric, largest manufacturer of finished plastic products in the country, have been turned to molding camera, clock and refrigerator parts, toaster and coffeemaker handles, caster wheels and wiring devices, radio cabinets, fluorescent bases, cosmetic jars and covers, industrial and decorative laminated materials, lighting reflectors and shades.

Water Coolers. Production at G.E. will equal prewar rate in November.

Automatic Heating. G.E. in January will have oil-fired boilers, conversion oil burners, gas-fired boilers, gas-fired warm air conditioners, all coming off the lines where radar, gunfire and aviation equipment was produced.

Farm Freezers. Will be ready in 1947.

Air Conditioners. One model of room air conditioner will be ready in limited numbers for your next summer's needs. First "store cooler" was shipped the day after V-J Day. More daily.

Radar. The G-E Electronic Navigator, to make ship navigation safer in fog and dark, and to speed shipping schedules, has been tested by many months of actual operation and will soon be available.

Exposure Meters. The new G-E exposure meter for amateur and professional photographers is in production. Present rate is several thousand a week.

Lamps. During the war, the Lamp Department did the double task of supplying both military and civilian needs. Now available once more, but in limited quantities, are such war-discontinued types as: 50- and 75-watt inside frost lamps, 50-100-150-watt medium base lamps, flame-shaped lamps, round decorative lamps, fluorescent lamps, lumiline lamps. Christmas tree lights are in production but will be quite limited this holiday season.

Myriad Problems Hold Promise Of Test For 12-Point Truman Policy

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29. (AP)—Myriad international problems held a promise today of early and critical tests for President Truman's newly-proclaimed 12-point foreign policy.

One touchy point may disappear. This concerns Russia's demand for an Allied control council for Japan. The issue may be compromised in the near future.

The brightest spot diplomatic authorities see in the international situation is evidence of improving Russian-American relations. The optimism stems from the friendly reception accorded U. S. Ambassador Harriman when he delivered a personal message from Mr. Truman to Generalissimo Stalin last week.

Message Not Disclosed

The nature of the message and of Stalin's reply have not been disclosed. There was some belief in Washington that negotiations over policy details, particularly respecting European peace treaties and the Japanese control council, are still in progress.

However, the main purpose of the interchange was clearly to try to strengthen the basis for present and future cooperation among the great powers in trying to organize a secure world peace.

Here are the main international problems which President Truman and Secretary of State Byrnes must reckon with in the weeks immediately ahead and in the light of Mr. Truman's foreign policy declarations in New York Saturday.

Japan—Representatives of the main victor nations in the Pacific war will meet tomorrow at the state department to organize a "Far Eastern advisory commission" primarily to consult on future Japanese control policies.

Balkans And Palestine

The Balkans—One of President Truman's dozen foreign policy principles is that this government will not recognize any other government imposed by outside force on a nation. The United States has been critical of Russia's political policies particularly in Romania and Bulgaria.

Palestine—That is a problem between Britain and the United States over admittance of Jewish refugees from Europe to Palestine. But it involves the broad question of maintaining peace and order in the Arab-dominated, oil-rich, strategic Middle East.

Ruisia And Turkey

Dardanelles—Russia's treaty of friendship and non-aggression with Turkey expires next week. That may signal intensified Soviet pressure for bases on the straits connecting the Black sea and the Mediterranean, as well as for new privileges for Russia in using the straits.

United Nations — The formal organization of the new security league will raise questions of the commitment of United States forces to help preserve world peace.

Inter-American defense — The Pan-American Union is scheduled to decide on November 20 the date of the once-delayed inter-American defense conference at Rio De Janiero.

Loan To British

British Loan—Negotiations have reached the crucial stage in Britain's request for multi-billion-dollar financial assistance from the United States. American negotiators who formerly talked of a $5,000,000,000 loan recently decided that Congress would balk at that much and now talk of $4,000,000,000. It is a question whether the British will consider the total and the terms acceptable.

Atomic Bomb—Mr. Truman announced that talks with Britain and Canada and then with other nations would be undertaken in the near future to decide on a free exchange of scientific information without any disclosure of industrial secrets of the bomb's manufacture.

SOCIALISTS OUTLINE PLAN

TOKYO, Oct. 29. (AP)—The Japan Socialist party's organization committee, Domei agency said today, outlined an employment program urging a 36-hour work week, government responsibility for relief of the jobless and a speedy start of rehabilitation projects to provide work.

Athletic Stars Also Academic Leaders Is Professor's Claim

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Oct. 29. (AP)—Prof. Hugh G. McCurdy of Wesleyan claims today that the stout-hearted lads who do or die on the athletic fields are better students than the boys who confine their exercise to hitting the books

To prove his point, the professor tosses out the results of an investigation of records of Wesleyan athletes from 1926 through 1940, and by golly he's convincing.

Has Own Ideas

He sums up his survey by asking two questions:

1. Do non athletes win more scholastic honors than athletes?

2. Does intercollegiate sport take so much time and energy that the players do not have enough left to excell scholastically?

His answer to both, of course, is an emphatic "no."

The be-spectacled, slight McCurdy, associate professor of physical education and coach of soccer, swimming and tennis here, reveals that the knights of the gridiron, hills and dales, and gyms are heroes, too, in general scholarship and Phi Beta Kappa competition.

Record Is Given

The best marks are turned in by the cross-country and soccer boys, with golf, swimming, tennis, track, football, baseball, basketball and wrestling not too far behind.

Soccer and golf turn in the best material for Phi Betta Kappa keys, track, baseball, football wrestling, with swimming, cross country, basketball and tennis somewhat off the pace.

The professor offers no explanation why cross-country and soccer is so stimulating to the brains.

That's a fact, and so is it a fact that Wesleyan, a member of the "little three" with Amherst and Williams, has a fine athletic record.

Czechs Have Ordered Industrial Seizure

LONDON, Oct. 29 (U.P.) — Dispatches from Prague said today the Czechoslovak government has ordered the seizure and nationalization of 1,000 large industrial concerns engaged in a wide range of enterprises.

Dispossessed owners will be permitted to start new enterprises in competition with the government except in public utilities or industries considered vital to the country's ecenomy. The latter will become full government monopolies.

A Moscow broadcast discussing the order said the government would make no compensation for property seized.

Pyote AAF To Be Used As New ATSC Station

PYOTE, Oct. 29. (U.P.) — Pyote Army Air Field—which has sent thousands of B-17 and B-29 combat crews into battle since 1942—will be transferred to the Air Technical Service command on Nov. 15, it was announced today.

Col. A. E. Key, commanding officer, said the field on Nov. 15 will be removed completely from supervision of the Second Air Force command and will be administered from Technical Command headquarters at San Antonio and Wright Field, at Dayton, O.

Pyote Army Air Field was activated in October, 1942. A new commanding officer will take over on Nov. 15, it was said.

COAL OUTPUT BOOSTED

WARSAW, Oct. 29. (AP)—The Polish press agency reported today that Poland's September coal production reached 2,457,000 tons, 9.2 per cent over the quota set for the month. Poland's monthly coal production now almost equals pre-war records.

MAY RETURN JAPS

TULE LAKE, Calif., Oct. 29. (AP)—The Department of Justice may start sending alien Japanese back to Japan from the segregation center here as early as Nov. 15, officials announced today.

Trial Set Here In Morton Case

Information against the defendants in the Sept. 5 $17,700 robbery of the First State Bank of Morton will be presented, if possible, by the United States district attorney's office to the federal grand jury at Fort Worth Nov. 7, the Associated Press has reported from Fort Worth.

With the return of indictments, the defendants would face trial at Lubbock Nov. 18.

Under federal charges in the holdup are Ollie Oliver Melton, 38, ex-convict, who is held at Oklahoma City in lieu of $100,000 bond, and Fred Pair, 58, Cochran county rancher and farmer, in jail in Lubbock.

Two Still At Large

Cochran County Sheriff Hancock reported this morning the two additional suspects were still at large.

Pair is charged with assisting the robbers before and after the holdup. In custody of Sheriff Hancock, rangers, FBI agents and District Attorney Burton S. Burks, Pair dug up at his place a jar containing $997 in $1 bills. He had been paid $1,000 for his help, he related.

Pair, a resident of near Bledsoe, pleaded guilty when arraigned before Mrs. Olive Fluke, U. S. Commissioner here. His bond was set at $25,000. Over a decade ago, he served for a brief time as a special officer at McAdoo, a small community in northwest Dickens county. He was married, reportedly for the second time, about two weeks ago in Brownfield, it was said.

Senator Chandler Bids Farewell To Senate

Chandler told his colleagues his resignation becomes effective Wednesday. He will then devote full time to the job of baseball commissioner to which he was elected by major league club owners April 24.

Chandler told reporters that he will be in Chicago Thursday for the opening of the major league draft meeting.

British Forces Are Killed In Uprising

BATAVIA, Java, Oct. 29 (AP)—Indonesian nationalists using armored cars and light tanks killed an estimated 25 members of the British Indian force at Soerabaja before President Soekarno of the "Indonesian republic" reportedly arranged a truce today at the big naval base.

A British officer made the casualty estimate but did not include pockets surrounded by the natives. The officer said that many women and children in internment camps in the area had been killed by the natives.

Denison Twins Have Different Birthdays

DENISON, Oct. 29. (AP)—Carol Ann Spencer and Harold Wayne Spencer, newly-born twins of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick W. Spencer, will observe their birthdays on separate days.

"You sure see plenty of Riverside Tires on our factory parking lot!"

"I looked around, last year, when my first set of tires wore out. You'd be surprised how many of the gang on my shift rode back-and-forth to the plant on Riversides! NOT because Riversides happened to come on their cars, but because they deliberately CHOSE them... chose them in preference to all other brands!"

Industrial workers are typical of the millions of car-owners who have switched to Riversides. All these folks, like yourself, want a tire that gives them most for their money; long wear on rugged roads; real protection against blow-outs. (Riversides today are 12% stronger than our pre-war tires!)

Westerners To Play Cubs; Red Raiders Prep For Rice

Lubbock's two top grid elevens, the Texas Tech Red Raiders and the Lubbock Westerners, started getting ready for tough games this weekend Monday afternoon with the Red Raiders getting rough sessions right off the bat, while the Westerners limbered up from their tough game last week with Plainview.

The Red Raiders will head for Houston this weekend, playing the upsurging Rice Owls in that city on Saturday afternoon. The Westerners will remain at home this week for another conference battle, playing the Brownfield Cubs at Tech stadium Friday night.

RICE LIMBERS

HOUSTON, Oct. 29. (AP)—A dozen or so Rice Institute griders went through a short limbering-up session this afternoon, but the complete squad is due to be back tomorrow afternoon as the team starts heavy practice for Saturday's game with Texas Tech.

Coach Jess Neely had no additional information on Bob Nemir, bruising right halfback who played a whale of a game against Texas last week. Nemir received his commission Saturday, but there is a possibility he may remain at Rice.

Bob Zelsman, big lineman, will be missing for the Tech game. He is on leave and due to receive his commission next month.

The game Saturday will start at 2:30.

No New Injuries

Both clubs came out of their games last week without any serious injuries cropping up, but the Red Raiders found several old wounds reopened, and Coach Dixie White reported that George Brewer, the top ball carrier of the Westerners, was pretty well bruised up last week, and might be slowed down a little Friday night.

The brigade of cripples at Texas Tech certainly were not improved by the rough battle Saturday with West Texas State Teachers, but Coach Dell Morgan was holding out hopes Monday that the team would be in much better shape by Saturday than at any time since the Texas Longhorn game.

White Is Pleased

Coach Dixie White expressed himself as well pleased with the showing that the Westerners made last week. An error in the after game statistics carried in the Avalanche-Journel was also pointed out, and a check revealed that the Westerners gained 164 yards rushing against the Bulldogs, instead of 97, as carried in the report. Fast addition after the game was blamed for the error.

The game was perhaps the best game of the season on the part of the Westerners, and left fans hopeful that the club is starting to hit the stride that was picked for them early in the year.

Westerners Mar Record

The Westerners not only shattered the record of an unscored on ball club, but did so with a drive that showed real power. The Westerners also gave the powerful Bulldogs the toughest the Hale County lads have had this season, and the biggest scare.

As a reward for their great showing last week, White gave the Westerners an easy day of it Monday, and spent most of the time so merely working out the kinks of last week's game.

But it was a different story at Tech stadium, and Coach Dell Morgan started the week with a rough scrimmage session, and promised more of them during the week.

Taking his cue from the upset last week that found the Owls beating the vaunted Texas Longhorns, 7-6, Coach Morgan pulled out his notes on Rice offense, and held a lengthy scrimmage session against Rice offense.

The return of George Walmsley to the Rice lineup is expected to make the Owls even tougher than Texas found them, and this is also bad news for the Red Raiders.

Most fish that live in the waters of dark caves are blind, and in some cave fish the eyes have virtually disappeared.

Texas To Lose Four Grid Stars

AUSTIN, Oct. 29 (AP)—D. X. Bible gathered together his battered football forces here today after Saturday's demoralizing 7-6 defeat at the hands of the Rice Owls and worked his charges long and hard on offensive formations in an attempt to correct the many errors which cropped up Saturday.

Some of the edge was taken off the appearance of the raft of newcomers when it was learned that four men were lost for the season.

Backs Leroy Andersen, Monroe Harrelson and Johnnie B. Rogers, along with Tackle Charley Howard will be among the missing. The three backfielders, all Naval trainees, had to give up the sport in order to concentrate on their studies. Howard, unable to find the proper housing facilities in crowded Austin, decided not to enroll November 1 but will return to Rice to enroll in school.

Ralph Ellsworth, who is being counted upon at tailback for the important November drive, has been bothered by a slight case of bronchitis and is not expected to report back until Wednesday or Thursday.

Gassers Take Lead In City Bowling Race

West Texas Gas company's bowling five took over undisputed leadership in the City League bowling race Monday night at Plamor alleys by taking three games on a forfeit from S. & Q. Clothiers, while Hub Laundry was winning only two from the Jaycees.

Armour's moved up into a three-way tie with S. & Q. and Meads Bakery by winning two from the Bakers, while the Lions club won two from Birds Eye food store.

Scoring honors for the night were divided, with Grossman of the Lions toppling 220 pins for the best single game, while Hamlett of Armour's had the best series with 588 pins. Armour's also had the best team scores of the night, a single game of 928 pins and a series of 2656 pins.

Conn Looks Sloppy In First Workouts

CLEVELAND, Oct. 29. (AP) — Billy Conn, the Pittsburgh ex-soldier who meets Joe Louis next summer in his second bid for the world heavyweight title, displayed more paunch than punch tonight as he staged his first exhibition in preparation for the Louis scrap.

The smiling Irishman's mid-section protruded in a neat roll over his fighting trunks as he pawed his way through three rounds against "Bearcat" Jones, a fellow townsman from Pittsburgh.

Highlight of the exhibition came in the second when Conn winged a left hook at Jones' head, missed completely, and sprawled on his hands and knees in the middle of the ring. Billy blushed all over, grinned, and went back into the fray, but was careful from then on to pull his punches.

TITLE BOUT SIGNED

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 29. (AP)—Signing of Manuel Ortiz to defend his world's bantamweight boxing title against Luis Castillo of Mexico City in a 15-round bout here Dec. 10, was announced today by Matchmaker Benny Ford. The show will be held for the San Francisco Chronicle's Christmas fund for indigents.

Pro Grid Race Is Close Fight

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (UP) — With the National Football League season half over, six of the 10 teams still were in the championship race today and it appeared the fight would continue down to the final game.

Green Bay, Cleveland and Detroit each had won four and lost one in the Western division, and Boston and Washington each had won three and lost one in the East. Philadelphia Eagles were close behind with two and two.

The Eagles got back into the running yesterday by handing the Cleveland Rams their first loss, 28 to 14 before a record crowd of 38,149 at Philadelphia. Roy Zimmerman led the winners, passing 50 yards for one touchdown, plugging for another and starring on defense. Both teams scored during the last 50 seconds of the game.

Sammy Baugh's passing — 19 completions in 23 throws—paced Washington to a 24 to 14 win over New York. His passes gained 231 yards for the Redskins.

Green Bay, the defending champion, rode over the Chicago Cardinals, 33 to 14. Don Hutson scored 21 points for the Packers with three touchdowns and three conversions. He caught two touchdown passes and one 10 yards on an end-around to score.

Detroit made good use of the "breaks" to defeat the Chicago Bears, 16 to 10. An intercepted pass gave Detroit its first score, and a penalty on Chicago helped the Lions to their second. It was the fifth straight loss for the team which once dominated the league.

A Boston touchdown outweighed two Pittsburgh field goals in a 10 to 6 victory. The touchdown was set up by an intercepted pass in the last period. Johnny Martin ran 20 yards to score after taking a lateral.

Walker Nichols On Visit In Lubbock

Lt. (j.g.) Walker Nichols, former line coach at Lubbock High school and Texas Tech college, is back in Lubbock for a short stay after 19 months duty as a recreation officer in the Pacific theater of the past war.

Nichols arrived home for a first visit with his 18-month old son, Walker junior, and his wife at 1808 Thirteenth, getting to Lubbock in time to see his former alma mater, and later his charges, tag a 12-6 victory on West Texas State Teachers Saturday night.

Serving as head of the fleet recreation center and handling a motion picture exchange for the Navy in the South Pacific Nichols served 14 months on Guadalcanal and Tulagi and five months on Samoa. All of his service in the Pacific was in recreation work.

The former guard at Tech entered the Navy in November, 1942, after seeing his charges hold a highly rated Texas Christian University team to six points while racking up a 13-6 Tech homecoming victory, the game dedicated previous to the kickoff to the Red Raider's departing coach. Nichols still possesses the ball which the Raiders presented him after using it to beat the Frogs.

Nichols was commissioned at Princeton university in the spring of 1943 and sailed overseas in March 1944. He arrived back in the states, landing at San Francisco, Oct. 14. He will leave Lubbock soon to report to New Orleans be sent from there to Camp Wallace and then given his terminal leave prior to discharge.

He reports seeing many West Texas boys in the Pacific and mentioned former Tech students with whom he had visits, among them Roy "Red" Williams, Abernathy boy who played end at Tech in 1942.

No plans for the immediate future were discussed by Nichols, although he is expected to resume his coaching duties at Tech.

The two years that Nichols was line coach at Lubbock High school, where he served three years, the Lubbock Westerners went into the state finals one year and came up the champions in their second trip through the interscholastic league race.

Favorites Picked In Schoolboy Districts

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer

District titles were all but in the bag for 10 Texas schoolboy elevens today although the season has a month yet to run, while distinct favorites were firmly established in four others as nine undefeated, untied teams remained after seven weeks of play.

Considered almost "sure things" to emerge into the playoffs in December were Wichita Falls in District 2, Odessa in District 3, Paris in District 5, Highland Park in District 6, Waco in District 10, Marshall in District 11, Lufkin in District 12, Milby of Houston in District 13, Austin in District 15 and Brownsville in District 16.

These teams, with the exception of Highland Park and Waco, already have hurdled what appears to be their toughest assignments. Highland Park has not yet played a title game, but no team in the district rates a look in at the undefeated, but once-tied Scotties. Waco still has a couple of "tough" ones in undefeated, untied Cleburne and an in-and-out Temple team, but is expected to come through.

Sandies Favored

Although still not considered cinch bets as district champions, Amarillo in District 1, Austin of El Paso in District 4, Paschal of Fort Worth in District 7 and Goose Creek in District 14 appears to be odds-on bets to come through in fine style.

Only in District 8, where the Dallas teams play a double round-robin and where upsets are the rule rather than the exception, and in district 9 is there a cloudy picture.

Crozier Tech is leading the pack in the Dallas race, but Sunset and North Dallas still are very much in the running although each has lost two games.

Brownwood is undefeated and untied in and out of District 9 play, but a crippled Breckridge eleven may regain enough power in time to stymie Brownwood's hopes.

Two Sandie Headaches

Amarillo still has two undefeated, untied teams to contend with in District 1—Plainview and Pampa—but neither is rated quite strong enough to take the once-beaten Sandies.

El Paso High is the lone hurdle in the way of Austin of El Paso, but the Austin crew seems to have a decisive edge.

Paschal, after a slow start, has been coming along fast and appears to be the Fort Worth champ, but North Side, slipped up on two weeks ago, by Riverside, may make it a contest.

Goose Creek's principal opposition now seems to be undefeated, but once-tied Galveston, which dropped Port Arthur last week.

Left in the perfect record class after last week's games were Pampa, Plainview, Odessa, Paris, Brownwood, Lufkin, Milby, Cleburne and Brownsville.

Highland Park and Wichita Falls dropped into the unbeaten, but tied class by virtue of their thrill-packed 7-7 tie at Wichita Falls to join such teams as Austin and Galveston.

Pampa remained in the perfect record bracket by downing Brownfield 25-0, Plainview by edging Lubbock 13-7, Odessa by nosing out San Angelo 7-0, Paris by rolling over Sherman 60-13, Brownwood by downing Mineral Wells 20-0, Milby by gaining a 7-6 edge over San Jacinto of Houston, Cleburne by blanking Ennis 44-0, Brownsville by trouncing Robstown, 35-7, and Lufkin by being idle.

In Saturday games, Austin of Houston defeated Davis of Houston 9-8, Austin of El Paso beat Roswell, N. M., 14-7, North Side downed Big Spring 27-7, North Dallas beat Sunset 6-0 and Adamson and Woodrow Wilson played to a 19-19 tie.

Mustangs Take Hope For Longhorn Scrap

DALLAS, Oct. 29. (AP)—Heartened by Rice Institute's upset victory over the highly favored University of Texas Longhorns at Austin Saturday, the Southern Methodist Mustangs began preparations today for the second game on their Southwest Conference schedule tilt against the Longhorns here Saturday. SMU defeated the Owls a week earlier.

All but one of the five members of the Mustang squad who sustained injuries in last week's losing struggle against Tulane at New Orleans are expected to be ready for action against Texas. The exception is Charles Russell, reserve end, who may be lost for the remainder of the season with a twisted knee.

Europe's Red Record

Misery Promotes Communism

COMMUNISM will spread this winter in Europe, according to all reports from that unhappy continent. But this doesn't mean necessarily that the Reds will continue to hold the ground they gain by way of human misery.

For one thing, those Europeans who want a real change without going the whole Communist hop will have a strong Socialist movement to which to turn. In Great Britain they will note how a Socialist party came to power without resorting to force, but by the democratic process—what the English call, "revolution by consent."

After World War I, on the other hand, the Socialist movement was thoroughly discredited in most parts of Europe. Also, in 1918-19 the Communist regime in Russia was a new and breath-taking phenomenon, evoking enthusiasm from many of the emotionally-inclined who later became disillusioned with it. Today many Europeans are applying to Communism the dictum applied to Socialism when it also was a new movement—"If youth is a Socialist at 20, everything's wrong with his heart; if he's still a Socialist at 40, something's wrong with his head."

After World War I, Communist uprisings were successful in two states—Hungary and Bavaria. In each case the Red regime was suppressed after a few months—in Hungary by the Rumanian armies, operating with the blessing of the "great powers," in Bavaria, by the professional German army operating under orders of a Socialist German government.

One of Communism's principal elements is hunger. Let Europe once more get its stomach full and it will likely have a different kind of politics.

Control The Lobbyists!

LOBBYISTS will probably share in a report of the La Follette committee when it "checks in" early in November after studying ways and means of "streamlining" Congress.

It has been almost ten years since Congress last saw an ambitious attempt to control lobbying in Washington. In 1935, the Senate passed an anti-lobbying bill, sponsored by then Sen. Hugo L. Black, now a Supreme court justice. The measure would have required congressional lobbyists to register, list their expenditures and sources of income, name their employers. In 1936, the House also passed the bill, with a few changes.

While the bill was in conference between the two houses, a barrage was suddenly turned loose against it by Rev. Chas. Coughlin, Dr. Townsend, and the American Federation of Labor.

The opposition complained that the bill was aimed particularly at their organizations, would not really embarass the professional button-holers, and violated the right of petition. The result was that when the conference report came before the House it was solidly rejected.

Lobbying in the national capital these days is a far cry from the crude "wine, woman and song" methods of an earlier era. Direct payments, valuable gifts, "inside" stock market information, deliberate losses at card games for high stakes all have been superseded by something more subtle.

Today's lobbyist calls himself a "public relations counsel." His methods are smoother. He operates with direct and indirect propaganda, pressure from groups back home and veiled threats to support political opponents.

As long as we retain our present system of government, we shall have lobbying in one form or another. The party of citizens visiting their Washington representatives to promote a new stamp window for Slurpville's postoffice can be classified as lobbyists of a sort. Yet this type is comparatively harmless. There is a definite danger, however, in flagrant operations of the professional, high-powered lobbyists. Somehow their activities should be curbed.

Traveling An Old Trail

THE speculation over atomic energy is reminiscent of the wild guesswork which followed the discovery of x-rays on Nov. 8, 1895.

X-rays were discovered by accident by a German physicist, Wilhelm Conrad Roentgen, while working on an entirely different project. It was a German scientist, too, who contributed vital knowledge which was basic in development of the atomic bomb.

X-rays were first called "wonder rays." It was commonly believed that they could see through almost anything. A member of the New Jersey assembly introduced a bill making it unlawful to use x-rays in opera glasses. He supposed the performers could thus be seen in their native state. "X-ray proof" women's clothing was advertised. Some pseudo-scientists speculated the rays could be used for "soul photography" and to solve problems of spirituality.

The rays were initially employed to detect bone pathology, eventually for recording condition of the heart and lungs. They are now regarded as one of the greatest contributions to the welfare of mankind.

Anniversary of the discovery will be observed with "X-rays in Health Week" Nov. 5 to 10.

I FORM MY OWN COMPANY

XVI

THE next thing for me to do was to get at my ballet project. I knew that I could form a company with Richard Nemanoff and make a success with it. We had offers from the Mar del Plata Club, one of the biggest Municipal Casinos and theaters which open for the summer season, and from many other places that were anxious to have a company of ballet proceeding from the Colon. I approached Don Faustino da Rosa, the theatrical tycoon and capitalist, and through him obtained a contract with the Teatro Cervantes. This theater was the property of the Dias de Mendozas, a famous old couple of dramatic artists whose company had been coming to Argentina for years and always played to a full house. They had made a fortune there and, in tribute to the Argentine public, had built a magnificent theater. It was pure Spanish in architecture, with an interior of extraordinary beauty, and had cost a fortune. It was just finished and the most expensive and smartest place in Buenos Aires.

For Don Faustino to offer me such a spot to open in was a compliment that left me gasping, and when I talked it over with Nemanoff and Maitre Maurage, they gave me the courage to sign the contract.

The theater was a big house, and when I started to get the company together and put my decors and costumes into execution, I had no idea of what I was getting into or what expenses I would be confronted with.

Richard Nemanoff and Maurage were working on a percentage basis with me. Nemanoff had some costumes, and Maurage did all the orchestrations, but musicians and artists were on salaries; as was the corps de ballet. It was indeed a gamble, and I spent nearly all the money I had, to have the black-and-white decor of the "Harlequin Noir" properly painted by Peralta, the best scenograph in Buenos Aires, as well as a garden set for the "Sylphides" in the second part of the program. I also had a painted closing curtain and the cyclorama for the divertissements, which was very costly. So by the time we opened, I found myself confronted by an impressive list of debts.

The night before our debut, the evening papers were full of the news that Anna Pavlova had cabled, announcing that she would give some functions almost immediately in the Coliseo. This scared us nearly out of our wits, for there was no possible chance of our company's surviving in competition with hers. However, the contract had been signed, publicity released and the show was ready. I was up to my ears in debts, so there was nothing to do but put on the best performances we could before she arrived.

When we opened that night to a full house, the show went over with a bang. Every critic in Buenos Aires gave us good notices, and both Faustino da Rosa and Dias de Mendoza were delighted with the entire production.

EVAR MENDEZ, whom we had engaged as business manager, lined up work for us for several months ahead as soon as we finished a three-week- hold-over at the Cervantes. We played several towns in the Argentine and finally got the contract for the Prado in Montevideo, Uruguay, that Anna Pavlova was supposed to play. It was an open air theater in the Prado Park and had a terrace of concrete instead of a stage. The reason Pavlova did not appear there was supposed to be that she had found out that the Uruguayan Commission of Fiestas, who were sponsoring her engagement, could not build a wooden floor over the concrete to suit her, and so she had turned down the engagement. I don't know why she never came to Buenos Aires that year, but she didn't, and I am sure this was our salvation.

I had been getting letters from mother on every boat, asking what on earth I was doing and why I had not returned as soon as the Colon closed: I had not dared write to either of my parents that I had put on my own company without any money or experience. I also received a letter from father telling me that he would be with my mother for Christmas, and as she complained dramatically that the selfish behavior of both my brother and myself was driving her into her grave, he begged me to get leave from the manager of the company (which made me feel very guilty) and come to London to spend Christmas with them. There was nothing I would refuse my father, but it was an impossibility to leave for Europe before the end of December, when the Mar del Plata engagement terminated. I decided to give the management of the company to Nemanoff and Evar Mendez and leave about the first week of January for Europe, returning late in April for the opening of the Colon in May, for which I had already received my contract as "Primera Ballerina Absoluta," the star role in the ballet.

What I wanted more than anything else in the world was to see my father again and to be with him in the Paris I loved so well —to tell him all about my work and the company, for I hated to deceive him about anything I was doing. He always wrote me wise, kind letters and continued to send me an allowance regularly, although I had written to tell him, after Montevideo, that I was making money and did not require anything from him for the present.

I would be 16 in January and already felt very mature.

Looking At Life ------ By Erich Brandeis

A FEW days ago one of my favorite columnists wrote a rather sarcastic article about those of us who try to make life a little more pleasant for our readers and who believe that decency and kindness and neighborliness and friendship are some of the virtues that have made America what she is, and that there is still room for them in this new life of hatred and greed and envy and competition and destruction.

BRANDEIS

This columnist —and he is one of the most widely read writers in the country— pokes fun at "the little red schoolhouse, crows, bluejays and woodchucks, hog-killin time and the sugar bush and, in season, pussywillows, gentian, goldenrod and snow."

It just happens that this cynical and sophisticated writer has a farm not very far from my own place and that, in his spare time, he is out in the fields and tends to his cows and chickens and his flowers and his vegetables.

And only a couple of weeks ago he told me that he could hardly wait for winter, when he goes out to his place near Tucson, Ariz., where there are "the most wonderful sunsets and where the mountains have the most gorgeous colorings in the whole world."

Cynicism is like the shell of a nut. It is hard and brittle, but inside there is sweet meat and pleasure to the palate.

I for one have no use for cynicism and bitterness.

Being a newspaperman, I have met my share of crooks and cheap chiseling politicians. I have talked to murderers and pickpockets, to golddiggers and adventuresses, to four-flushers and fakers and schemers and cynics and sophisticates.

It's all shell. Inside even the worst of them there is a longing for bluejays and woodchucks,, for pussywillows, gentian, goldenrod and snow.

Most of these people who are so wise and so blase and so bad have just lost something on the way. They have lost themselves, and every last one of them would be glad to be taken by the hand and led back to what he once was and to what he would give his last penny to be again.

IT is good that we have columnists and orators to write and talk about the things that are bad and that should be remedied.

Evil should be exposed—provided that with the exposure goes suggested remedy. But we want to kill evil only to have the good. And the good is the very thing which my esteemed colleague ridicules and which, deep in his heart, he loves so much himself.

I am glad that he thunders from the Olympus of righteousness and sophistication, that he blasts the racketeers and the grafters and the evildoers. I hope he will continue to do so.

While I shall continue to talk to you of little red schoolhouses and of the sugar bush and the bluejays and the woodchucks and, in season, about pussywillows, gentian, goldenrod and snow!

Nazis Plot For Future

Industrialists Threat To Peace

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE PROPOSED physical destruction of I. G. Farbenindustrie's plants in Germany alone will not prevent that country's industrialists and militarists from rebuilding another war machine, according to American agents recently returned from abroad. Experts like Orvis A. Schmidt, head of Treasury's Foreign Funds control, foresee a long and difficult job of international sleuthing before our late foe is utterly demilitarized.

Nazi leaders, on orders from Hitler, Himmler and Goering, made careful preparations to cache their assets or keep secret their connections abroad as soon as they abandoned all hope of final victory. Berlin undertook a systematic campaign of world-wide distribtion and concealment of its holdings soon after the United States entered the conflict, and speeded up the dissipation after the Allied landings in Normandy.

TUCKER

I. G. and allied industries, our agents discovered, have possessions in Spain, Portugal, Sweden, Switzerland, Argentina and Turkey. German ownership or control of factories, patents, sales agencies and distribution facilities has been hidden by devices so devious that our men have not been able to unwind the web of international intrigue.

It is known that German industry had 750 affiliates or subsidiaries in these six countries alone. There are many others which have not yet been brought to light.

Foreign banking laws which safeguard the identity of alien clients are other obstacles to our checkup of the Nazis' far-flung system of international influence. The Hitlerites operated largely through banking and financial channels in Switzerland, where secrecy statutes are so strict that not even the central government can force private instructions to divulge the names of the real investors and customers.

UNDERGROUND: Berlin framed plans as late as February of 1945 — only a few months before the collapse — to send trusted agents to neutral countries to watch over these holdings and to prepare havens for top-flight refugees. Military commanders were ordered to convert the booty of occupied nations into commodities of little weight but great value — jewelry and previous stones —for deposit in neutral countries.

Only a few got away, but leaders at home carried out these instructions. Remembering their success in outwitting the Allies after World War I, when their properties were undamaged and untouched and they were left free, the Krupp Stinnes and I. G. interests hoped to go underground on and off German soil until the time come to try again.

Note: Not a single great German industrialist was named in the recent list of indictments of war criminals, despite courtroom proof in our files that they undermined the Weimar Republic, financed Der Fuehrer's rise to power and turned their factories over to the Wehrmact. Most of them are now imprisoned, however, and may be prosecuted later. To execute them hastily would be to destroy needed witnesses, for the "smaller fry" are beginning to break down and talk.

DEARTH: World War II Nazis' machinations in this field, together with reports by our bomb survey groups on the survival of enemy industry, emphasize the need for utter elimination of Germany's war potential in the form of factories, personnel and international tie-ups. Otherwise, the danger of another global struggle fifty years hence exists.

Top German industrialists were amazed and indignant at their arrest and detention. Not solely because they do not consider themselves war lords or criminals. But because they expect their business friends" in the United States and Great Britain to come to their rescue; they still believe that certain financial powers in New York and London will save them. They also bank on intervention of neutrals, whose gratitude they have won by lining the pockets of influential officials and fellow industrialists.

In many instances the files revealing Nazi associates abroad have been kept from our investigators, as they admit. I. G.'s records were found only after persistent search; they were hidden in beer halls, monasteries, salt mines, caves and gardens. The hunt still goes on, despite a dearth of trained economists, engineers and plant experts for the difficult job

SOLVENT: The post-V-E day examination of the damage wreaked on enemy factories by our aerial squadrons has been an eye opener for our economic and aviation authorities. It has changed our concept of the basic value of air superiority over the enemy, and illustrated how best this arm can be utilized. Indeed, the findings led to an immediate shift in our aerial strategy and tactics in the closing weeks of the Japanese war.

Photographs from the air indicated that our planes had smashed key German industries, especially truck, tank, oil and ball-bearing plants. But detailed inspection after the surrender revealed that falling walls and bricks had provided both camouflage and protection for the vital machinery underneath. Only a few weeks after V-E day the Ford plant at Cologne, although seemingly destroyed, was producing five hundred units a month for our occuping forces. Similarly other war-making industries were eighty per cent solvent or were in the process of going underground.

LESSON: Thus, unless Nazi control at home and abroad is wiped out as completely as the Romans liquidated Carthage a few thousand years ago, Germany will always be a threat to world peace, especially as surviving industrialists and financiers are sitting back in their cells and anticipating a split-up of the victorious nations — the United States, Great Britain and Russia — over the spoils.

From a military standpoint, the post-mortem on the effect of Allied air attacks has taught this lesson. Instead of blasting production plants with small or no success, it is more advantageous to destroy railroad, river and sea supply lines, communication centers and truck routes. Then, even if the foe continues to manufacture weapons in rear areas, he cannot forward them to the troops at the front.

HOMESICK: Every high American officer in Europe, including Gens. "Ike" Eisenhower, George S. Patton and Joseph D. McNarney, wants to quit his job of ruling and restoring postwar Germany and return to the United States. They do not consider that their Army training and experience qualify them as even semi-permanent civilian administrators.

As good soldiers, they will and must carry out their present assignments. But, in addition to their belief that others can do the work more efficiently, they feel that they deserve a rest. Many of them have been on a war basis since before Hitler invaded Poland in 1939, and have been on emergency duty with hardly a break. They have had no time with their families or friends and have had to neglect their affairs.

They are just as homesick as any buck private in the rear rank.

PROBLEMS: Moreover, they advocate a completely different pattern of control. At the present moment our military and civil government officers are managing every detail of German economy, municipal rule and all the bread-and-butter problems involved.

Few of them are experts on such matters as education, sanitation, peacetime production and transportation, food etc. Hardly one has had previous experience in dealing with civilian populations, even when on service in the United States. They maintain that they are not equipped to function as mayors, councilmen, municipal commissioners, educators and policemen.

Job-Shoppers Also Seek Higher Wages

War "Skilled Worker" Is Worry

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

CLEVELAND, — Part of the problem of fitting upnemployed war workers into available jobs has to do also with the skilled worker.

It involves, though not to a great degree, the real skilled worker so recognized. More seriously it concerns a new class of "skilled workers" created during the war. They were not real skilled workers in the usual technical sense, but were so graded in the wartime scramble for manpower and were paid at high rates.

STOKES

There are some real skilled workers out of jobs now. This is probably largely temporary, for there is a shortage of skilled workers now of some types and in some places. When reconversion is completed and manufacturing industry is in high gear again then skilled workers should have no problem, and offer none.

Waiting On Reconversion

Meanwhile they are congeneral problem caused by the job-shopping of workers.

There is little inclination or inducement for the real skilled worker now unemployed to take a temporary job if he is fairly sure, as most of them are, of going back to his regular type of work. He may expect to return to the plant where he was employed when it is reconverted, and is waiting for that. In cases where his wartime plant has shut down or severely curtailed its operations, as happened with many airplane plants and ship building yards, he may feel reasonably sure of a job somewhere when industry and business pick up.

IT is the "skilled worker" of the other category—war-made and not a real skilled worker—who raises a problem.

This so-called skilled worker was the product of dividing up work to speed production during the war. Helpers for regular skilled machine workers were graded up to skilled workers for purposes of the job and wages.

Now, they still want to be considered skilled workers. There are, however, no jobs for them of that sort in peacetime production and they are not fully qualified for regular skilled jobs.

Meanwhile, they are hoping to find something that approximates wartime pay. Consequently they are holding off from taking other, lower-paid jobs of a different kind. They contribute to the frustration that has gripped so many war workers.

Want To Keep High Wages

There is another factor in the holding off and waiting around which comes out in questioning some workers why they do not take available jobs at lower pay. They reply that if they took a job at a much reduced hourly rate, which is true of most of the available jobs, then when they would go back to their former trade for work and be asked what their pay was at their last job, they would have to quote the low rate. This would be a handicap, they say.

There are not enough real skilled jobs to take care of the war overthrow of the semi-skilled class, as contrasted with prospects for the real skilled worker.

THE big bulk of jobs in this country is not in manufacturing industry, but in the so-called "service trades" and related lines which were stripped down to bare skeletons to meet the demands for war workers. The majority of unemployed workers will have to find places in that field.

It is a big reservoir. The pay is mostly low.

Friction Develops In Indo-China Uprising

SAIGON, French Indo-China, Oct. 29. (AP)—Friction developed Anglo-French Allies in Indo-China today as the Annamite rebellion waned.

In Saigon, which was returning to normal swiftly, Chinese residents prepared to send a delegation to Maj. Gen. D. D. Gracey, Allied ground commander, protesting rape, looting and other crimes allegedly perpetrated by Indian troops against the Chinese population.

British officials said they were investigating disturbances in "Cholon," the Chinese section which comprises about half of Saigon. Troubles were increased over the week-end by a serious fire which destroyed many Chinese residences, despite efforts of Indian troops to control it.

The French, meanwhile, became concerned over what they called the failure of the Chinese in the north to control Annamite bands.

South of Saigon, French troops encountred only mild resistance in mopping up operations against Annamese nationalists.

Civilian Guards To Guard FDR's Grave

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Oct. 29. (AP)—Civilian guards will soon replace the soldiers assigned to watch over the grave and estate of the late President Roosevelt.

George A. Palmer, superintendent of the nearby Vanderbilt national park, said today that Department of the Interior guards would take over the work of the 30 GI's on duty since the President's death.

38TH ARRIVING HOME

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—Units of the 38th Infantry "Cyclone" division, veterans of hard fighting in the Pacific began arriving today at Los Angeles and San Francisco for inactivation.

Anton Host For Lions Program

(By Staff Correspondent)

ANTON, Oct. 29.—Members of Anton Lions club and their wives were entertained in a ladies night tonight at the Anton High school auditorium, with members of the Lubbock Lions club staging the program.

Thirty-five persons from Lubbock, Lions and their wives, attended the affair. The meal was served by the Anton High school home economics girls under direction of Mrs. Ima Dore Haile.

Ed Hart, president of the Anton club presided and then turned the program over to R. C. Harvey, president of the Lubbock club, who introduced the visitors. Elmer East of Lubbock was Program chairman.

An informal program consisting of stunts and quiz contests was staged, much to hilarity of the crowd. F. L. Newton won a box-building contest over Clarence Matthews, both contestants wearing boxing gloves as they built the box.

Supt. Orian Dennis made an eight-minute talk on Victory bonds while R. L. Burdette held a cake of ice in his hands. Clarence Herrin was winner in a bead-stringing contest over T. E. Wood and Claude Couch.

East then conducted a 'Dr. I. Q.' contest with B. C. McCasland and Geo. Young as his assistants.

Attending the affair from Lubbock were: Mr. and Mrs. Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Young, East, Groves Denman, Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Jackson, Dr. B. C. Schulkey, Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Coggin, Mrs. Viola Younger, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Maas, Mr. and Mrs. Gilmer Aycock, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Burford, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ingram, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Price, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Wallace Award mines from a road, he stepped on a well-concealed S-type anti-personnel mine. Hearing the characteristic noise indicating that the mine had been activated and, if he stepped aside, would be thrown upward to explode above ground and spray the area with fragments, surely killing two conrades directly behind him and endangering other members of his squad, he deliberately placed his other foot on the mine even though his best chance for survival was to fall prone.

"Private Wallace was fatally wounded when the charge detonated, but his supreme heroism at the cost of his life confined the blast to the ground and his own body and saved his fellow soldiers from death or injury."

Pvt. Wallace's battalion was attached to General Patton's Third Army.

The men saved by the Lubbock man's act are Pfc. John L. Bliss, jr., of Ocala, Fla., and Pvt. Harry M. Sowell of Richtown, Miss. They were only slightly injured.

Pvt. Wallace would have been 20 June 12. He entered the service June 16, 1943. He received basic engineer training at Camp Abbott, Ore., attended army specialized training program classes at Hoppe college, Holland, Mich., and departed for his overseas assignment Dec. 10, 1944.

At the time of his death, he had been in combat 30 days but had participated in three major battles. One of them was at the Saar river crossing Feb. 9.

He was born at Marlow, Okla.

Congratulations To:

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Clinton, 1508 Ave. Q, on birth of a daughter weighing 5 pounds 8 ounces at 6:18 p. m. Sunday in St. Mary's hospital.

Wall Street

PRICES DRIVEN DOWN

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (AP)—Wall Streeters today returned from their lengthy week-end in cautious, if not outright bearish, frame of mind and most shifted to the selling side of the stock market.

Steels, rails and motors led the retreat after an active and fairly steady opening. Closing losses of fractions to two points were widespread. Transfers of 1,260,000 shares compared with 1,300,000 Friday.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was off .7 of a point at 71.4. Of 995 issues registering, 560 declined and 272 advanced.

Late news that the House had beaten a compromise bill which would have repealed the land-grant railroad rates may have chilled stocks of some western carriers involved.

Prominent on the downturn were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Chrysler, Goodrich, Western Union "A", Douglas Aircraft, American Can, General Electric, Allied Chemical and International Harvester.

Ending with modest gains were Eastman Kodak, General Foods, National Distillers, Phelps Dodge, Pacific Gas and Consolidated Edison.

Among forward curb leaners were McCord Corp., North American Light, Derby Oil and Burry Biscuit. Casualties were Brazilian Traction, Long Island Lighting and Atlantic Coast Fisheries. Turnover here was 710,000 shares versus 840,000 in the preceding full session.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (AP) — Cotton futures declined under pressure of hedge selling and some commission house liquidation in distant months, which met only scale-down mill and local buying. Many traders held to the sidelines pending further developments on the administration's price policy and action on pending parity legislation. The trade generally expected that the mild-October parity price due tomorrow will be unchanged from the September level.

Futures closed 20 to 65 cents a bale higher.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 29 (AP) — Persistent strength in wheat futures, with prices up more than a cent a bushel at times, buoyed other grains today.

Buying by commission houses and professionals, and an upturn at Kansas City strengthened wheat. Rye climbed to new seasonal peaks at the start, then oats and rye weakened, but later steadied somewhat with wheat.

Wheat held up fairly well but other grains slumped again near the close. Wheat closed ¼ to ¾ higher than the previous finish, December $1.77½, corn was down ¼ to ½, December $1.18¼, oats were ¼ to ¾ off, December 65⅝-¾, rye was ⅜ to 1½ cent lower, December $1.61⅝, and barley was unchanged to ¼ off, December $1.17¼.

selves." He addressed profound sympathy to survivors of those who did not come home, and assurances "that their loved ones had not died in vain."

"This is a great day for the entire state of Texas," said Gov. Coke Stevenson. "This is the essence of what Texans all over the state are trying to say to their returning heroes. We all are deeply conscious of what they have done for us, and what they have suffered."

Congressman John Lyle of Corpus Christi, lauding the record of the 36th division and of the Lost Battalion, declared that there never would be a really "Lost Battallion" of Texans, because they always come back.

Dance, Fireworks Display

Honored veterans were guests at a dance tonight, while Spudder ball park was jammed for a huge fireworks display staged as the final entertainment of the two-day celebration.

Wichita county soared far past its victory bond quota today as a climax to the two-day celebration honoring the Lost Battalion.

Gov. Coke Stevenson auctioned off a razorback hog sent by Bob Burns, the radio and movie star, for $300,000 in bonds, and a ghurka knife donated by Sgt. Leon Stewart, Lost Battalion member from Waco, for $100,000 in bonds.

Near Seven Million

Before noon today the cash value sales reported totaled $6,995,235. The county's quota was $4,300,000.

It was one of the first Texas counties to exceed its quota.

"Texas and the nation are justifiably proud of what you fine folks have done," Cowden Henry, executive director of the state war finance committee, said when County Chairman Everett McCullough announced the quota had been topped in one day in honor of the Lost Battalion.

Early in the day, veterans of the "Lost Battalion" voted to make the reunion an annual affair. They organized officially and elected Col. Blucher S. Tharp of Amarillo President. He was given authority to appoint a committee to select the 1946 meeting place.

Other officers named were Lt. Col. Winthrop Rogers, Wichita Falls, first vice president First Sgt. Glen W. Jones, Fort Worth, second vice-president; and Capt. Ira H. Fowler, Jacksboro, secretary-treasurer.

A Lost Battalion auxiliary also was organized, with Mrs. Clyde C. Fillmore of Wichita Falls president. Mrs. Charles A. Cates of Decatur and Mrs. Merle Clark of Abilene were named vice presidents and Miss Floria Cobb of Wichita Falls secretary-treasurer.

Over 5,000 persons, including battalion members and their families, attended a barbecue at noon. A two-mile long parade followed.

HOMER A. HUNTER
New Lubbock City Manager

New City Manager

salary has been approximately $7,500 a year, including a cost of living bonus paid city employes during the war.

The new city manager is 41 years old and a native West Texan. He was born at Merkel and in his early youth moved to Fort Worth where he graduated from Paschal High school there.

He attended Texas A. and M., where he received a bachelor of science degree in civil engineering in 1925. Following his graduation he was associated with the late John B. Hawley of Fort Worth, consulting engineer for 13 years.

Massachusetts Tech

In 1931, Hunter went to Massachusetts Institute of Technology where he received a master of science degree in civil engineering. Returning to Texas he was engineer for the Fort Worth Housing Authority two years before joining the Dallas city organization nearly five years ago.

He served as superintendent of the water department at Dallas four years before being named to the assistant city manager's post there. The Dallas water department has a staff of more than 300 employes and handles more than 85,000 accounts. He has served as assitant city manager the past six months.

Hunter is married and has one son, eight years old.

"Gentlemen, I appreciate the confidence you have expressed in my ability to assume the responsibility of your municipal management." Hunter told the commission Friday night. "I believe Lubbock offers an excellent opportunity for an expanding municipal government. First, I want to ask you gentlemen if my selection was unanimous, for I don't believe in going into a positon like this if there is any question as to the choice of a man."

Assured that his selection was unanimous, Hunter requested that he be allowed to confer with "his boss," Dallas City Manager Smitham before accepting the post.

Hunter said he planned to move his family to Lubbock as soon as he can find living quarters and dispose of his home which he owns in Dallas.

Hunter's selection came after the commission had considered and interviewed seven other applicants for the post from that many Texas cities.

City Manager Smith resigned Oct. 2 to enter private business after serving as manager the past three years. Sixteen years prior to being named manager, he had been city engineer.

He will be associated with G. W. Parkhill, former Lubbock man now serving with the Army in the Philippines; and S. C. Cooper, Big Spring city engineer, in a consulting engineering firm isters presumably had digested the speech, carried at length in Japanese dailies, but there was no official comment immediately.

Jap Occupation

Ministers begged off from comment by pleading the press of domestic problems.

But unofficial quarters asserted that the President's reiteration of the Potsdam philosophy had allayed recently-aroused fears in the nation that Japan might be permanently isolated by the proponents of a hard peace.

Speech Headlined

The Tokyo newspaper Asahi headlined the speech "equality of trade and raw materials," prominently displaying a picture of the President. Yomiuri said the address clarified American foreign policy and "stressed the unity of the Allied nations."

Baron Keichiro Hiranuma, president of the privy council, while not commenting driectly on the address, said in an interview that Japan could attain democracy and world respect and still retain the emperor. He said that "the emperor never has been a despot."

Chance of Communists

Hiranuma thought Japanese Communists, who have been clamoring for abolition of the throne, would gain some influence in Japan's new day of political freedom but would lose ground at last through the strength of the emperor concept.

On the occupation front, American troops seized more than $1,000,000 worth of gold, silver and platnum hidden in the Mitsukeshi department store in defiance of General MacArthur's orders.

Sixth Army troops occupying Japan's greatest naval base of Kure on the inland sea reported they found a scene of ruin dwarfing that of Pearl Harbor.

Lost Battalion Men, Families Honored

A joint meeting of the American Legion and Legion Auxiliary at the Legion hall Monday night, featured by a barbecue and special entertainment, was held in recognition of the "Lost Battalion" and members of the 131st Field artillery and their families.

Plans for the traditional Armistice Day breakfast were formulated by committees representing the Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wards. A dance is planned the night of Nov. 10 for members of the organizations and guests.

Durwood Bradley, Lubbock attorney, spoke on behalf of the Victory Bond drive, and Capt. Gordon Treadway, Lubbock Army Air field, discussed purposes of the American Legion.

Hop Halsey was master of ceremonies, and members of the Dunagin School of Music, Miss Patti Hall, and a quartet composed of A. M. Cooper, A. A. Molmquist, J. A. Daniels and R. E. Robertson appeared on the program.

Truman To Speak

sure of duties in Washington." He did not elaborate.

Labor In Forefront

Labor matters seemed to have the right-of-way. Mr. Truman worked much of Sunday on his wage-price speech and intends to see as many as possible of the delegates to the labor-management meeting before they start work a week hence.

President William Green headed the AFL group of White House visitors today. The President went over with them points of his speech on wage-price policy, Green told reporters later.

John R. Steelman, former U. S. conciliation chief, meanwhile was sworn in as a special assistant to the President. Though Steelman protested he was not appointed "as a labor expert," most officials believe he will be used as a White House trouble-shooter in major labor disputes.

Other Visits Called Off

Besides the southern trip, Mr. Truman called off visits to Missouri and Oklahoma and another to Waco, Tex, set for Dec. 5.

CIO Chief Murray urged, at a luncheon meeting of newspaper and radio men, that the government make "forthright" announcement of a wage and price study compiled last week by economists on the staff of Reconversion Director John W. Snyder.

The report, while confidential, has "leaked" rather widely. It concludes that manufacturers on the average would be able to pay 24 per cent higher wage rates next year because of certain cost reductions. Other "non-measureable" factors, the study says, might cut this figure down.

Murray announced that CIO is about to launch a major campaign by radio. Newspaper advertising and other means to present labor's wage views to the public. The government, he said, should help clarify the situation by releasing the report of Snyder's staff.

Attlee May Visit U. S. To Talk With Truman

LONDON, Oct. 29. (AP) — The British Press association and the Exchange telegraph said today that Prime Minister Attlee had discussed with the cabinet the advisability of visiting the United States within a few weeks to confer with President Truman.

In Washington Eben Ayers, assistant White House press secretary, told a news conference he knew nothing about a contemplated visit by Attlee.

At No. 10 Downing street, the Prime Minister's residence, the report was neither confirmed nor denied.

Informed sources said Attlee was anxious for a clearer understanding on a number of problems including British-American policy on the future of the atomic bomb, Jewish immigration into Palestine, settlement of provocative European boundary disputes and efforts to repair the damage to the machinery of big power consultation caused by the collapse of the foreign ministers' council in London.

Chinese Civil War Scare Believed Overdrawn; Extremists Blamed

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9—Is China embarking upon the much-feared civil war between the recognized Central government and the unrecognized Communists?

WHITE

Both sides publish threats and accusations which make headlines in America, some treating civil war as an accomplished fact.

But it is still impossible accurately to assess from this distance how serious these threats and charges really are, and whether they represent a real intention to fight.

Here Are Some Facts

Here are some facts against which reports from China must be judged:

The Communist side of the argument is not being fully heard in this country. The chief outlet for the Red viewpoint actually is in Chungking, where a Red delegation and propaganda office functions. What these Chinese Reds have to say must pass through Chungking's own censorship before it is transmitted abroad.

The Chungking censor passed messages over the week-end revealing that there are generals and other authorities under Chiang Kai-Shek who hold frankly that the only way to dispose of the Communist question is to dispose of the Communists themselves—in other words, defeat them on the field of battle. This is the reverse of what Chiang Kai-Shek has been arguing for during recent years.

Both Have Extremists

Now if there are extremists in the Chungking camp like this, it only logical to suppose that there are corresponding extremists among the Reds, and that these Red extremists must feel (in view of the Chungking attitude) that the only way for Red China to survive is to fight for survival.

Given these two elements, it is not only likely, it is almost inevitable that, as Central government troops re-enter (with American help) the former Japanese-occupied areas of China, extremists in both camps will start shooting.

These are areas where Central government troops were driven out by the Japanese early in the war, and where Communists troops later came in and established their present foothold. Naturally, they take a dim view of their prospects if they get out.

It may be that both sides imagine that political or strategic advantage may be gained just now by reporting serious clashes—so serious that some of them appear highly exaggerated.

Unexplained Question

The big unexplained question about the confusing flood of rumors and reports of widespread fighting is this: According to Chungking, the Communists suddenly took a very stubborn stand after Mao Tze-Tung and Chiang Kai-Shek announced their agreement on principles for unity. Why?

Chungking makes veiled hints about Russian support for the Reds, but no official in Chungking is willing to let his name be used as the source of this talk.

Another question: To what extent does the widely scattered fighting represent high policy, and to what extent does it represent local clashes in a country where communications and liaison with headquarters are poor?

And still another, perhaps the $64 question: Can it be controlled, assuming both Chungking and Yenan want it controlled?

Replica Of 1870 Katy Train In Observance

PARSONS, Kas., Oct. 29. (AP)—A replica of the first Katy train to reach Parsons in 1870 pulled into the station here today, setting off a week-long celebration of the 75th anniversary of the founding of the Missouri - Kansas - Texas railroad.

A crowd of more than 15,000 was on hand to greet the train which carried Raymond J. Morfa, chairman of the board of the Katy; Donald V. Fraser, president; H. M. Warden, vice president and general manager, and a group of Parsons citizens dressed in old-time costumes.

The train was a faithful duplicate of the 1870 train, with diamond-shaped smokestack, square headlight, cowcatcher and other features of pioneer locomotives.

A parade in which pioneer stage coaches and other conveyances participated followed its arrival.

New York Mayoralty Race In Spotlight

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29. (AP)—The three-way New York City mayoralty contest with National political figures participating either openly or in the background has top billing in the off-year "local elections" set for Nov. 6.

Other city races, the size of the vote in a few statewide contests, and a special congressional fight in a New Jersey Republican stronghold will be watched for possible first indications of a post-war political trend.

Major party leaders don't expect to find many "signs" for 1946 and 1948 in the results.

The census bureau figures there are 139,187 separate elections being held this year, or 6.3 per cent more than in the presidential year of 1944. But, like other odd-numbered years, it says 1945 is "chiefly a year of local elections," with more than 75 per cent of them "school-district" affairs.

Only statewide voting for candidates will be in Virginia, where the sole gubernatorial event in the country will be held, and in Pennsylvania where two state superior court judges will be chosen. State legislators will be elected in Virginia, too, as well as in Kentucky and New Jersey.
