STEAMER REPORTED IN DISTRESS

EVERYONE HAPPY
Gobbler And Jail Boarders Only Ones Unthankful

So this is Thanksgiving? Thanksgiving on the South Plains.
A full Thanksgiving sun rose this morning to shine upon what?
Well, let's see.
We have a cloudless day. Cool, invigorating atmosphere. Just enough breeze is blowing to pep us up a little.
In Lubbock Old Sol looked down upon one lone prisoner in the city jail who imbibed too freely Wednesday evening of alcoholic spirits, so records at the police station declare. Another prisoner had $15, paid his fine and was gone. This lone prisoner remains in jail to do without a turkey dinner.

He is not alone in this predicament, however. Over at the county jail Old Sol shines through the bars into cells where 24 prisoners are locked in. They, too, will have a turkeyless Thanksgiving, so far as the county is concerned. Turkey is fed to prisoners only on Christmas day, so the rule is. If they want turkey in jail they will have to remain therein until "21 More Shopping Days" will have been checked off the calendar. Unless, of course, some folks who read this have a few pieces of turkey leg or neck undevoured and are thoughtful enough to carry it to the jail in time for Deputy Sheriff Cap Moore to dispense it among the two dozen.

Thank Hunt Ducks, Geese Before Old Sol glimmered over the cap rock this morning, however, perhaps several scores of

Labor Will Wage War On Injunction

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 29 (AP)—Again under the leadership of President William Green, the American Federation of Labor embarked today upon its newly adopted program favoring legislation to halt judicial injunctions as an intervention in labor disputes, more rigid restriction of immigration, discouragement of foreign loans considered inimical to employment and simplified educational endeavor.
So-called power trusts came in for rebuke for asserted attempts at use of public funds in schools and universities in furtherance of their propaganda and labor's support of Brookwood Labor college was withdrawn because of communistic teachings there.

FOOTBALL AND TURKEY ARE HOLIDAY MENU

WEST STATES COVERED WITH WHITE CARPET

LUBBOCK JOINS NATION IN ANNUAL FESTIVAL OF THANKSGIVING

Lubbock joined the nation today in the annual festival of Thanksgiving, a custom started centuries ago by the pilgrims and now a national celebration.
The observance here was quiet as Thanksgiving usually are. A handful of last night's inebriates were undergoing the "morning after" at the county jail—otherwise all was orderly.
Football and turkey seemed the universal menu for the day. Local fans were interested in the Tech-Canyon game at Canyon, the Lubbock-Vernon game here and the dozens of other contests over the state and nation.

TECH DESERTED FOR HOLIDAY

A chilling November wind this morning blew across a deserted Tech campus, the only sign of life being the waving of a large American flag.
Many Tech students were guests at the First Baptist and First Methodist churches.

BRIBE SCANDAL ROCKS POLICE IN LOS ANGELES

CHARGE OFFICERS GOT $75,000 TO KEEP ALL FACTS SECRET

Los Angeles, Nov. 29.—Information that six Los Angeles police officers had received nearly $75,000 to suppress facts in several robbery cases here, was reported to be in the hands of a grand jury today.
Announcement that the new scandal had been uncovered was made yesterday by a special investigator for the jury while that body continued taking testimony relating to bribery charges against District Attorney Asa Keyes and allegations that $100,000 was spent to clear Mrs. Aimee Simple McPherson of conspiracy charges growing out of her kidnapping story more than two years ago.
The special investigator, whose name was withheld, was quoted as having said that three cases involving $45,000, $18,000 and $10,000 had been referred to the jury and that one of the officers was a "high police official."

THE HISTORY OF THANKSGIVING DAY

The First Thanksgiving—1621
From the painting by J. L. G. Ferris

In 1623, a day of fasting and prayer in the midst of drought was changed into Thanksgiving by the coming of rain.

Gradually the New England colonial governors established the custom of Thanksgiving by designating a day each year after harvest.

During the Revolution a day of national Thanksgiving was annually recommended in congress.

In 1864, President Lincoln appointed a day of Thanksgiving and since then the presidents have issued a Thanksgiving proclamation annually.

GRID SEASON CLIMAX TODAY

TECH AND HIGH SCHOOL GAMES DRAW FANS' INTEREST HERE

The "hoof and mouth" disease, rampant throughout the United States for the past two months, is due to be cured for a season, at least, in the southwest today.
Tech students and a good portion of Lubbock fandom boarded the special Santa Fe train this morning and journeyed to Canyon to follow the Texas Tech Matadors in their final attempt of the gridiron season.
The remainder of local fans will doubtless be found in the stands at the Tech stadium this afternoon when the Lubbock high Westerns and Vernon Lions fight it out for the runner-up post in district one of the Texas Interscholastic league.

Louisiana College Barn Is Destroyed

MONROE, La., Nov. 29 (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin last night destroyed the stock barn at the Louisiana training institute causing loss estimated at $28,000. One hundred dairy cows and 25 calves were taken from the barn safely.

Former Sweethearts Meet; Is Death Tryst

Slight Damage In Two Early Blazes

The Lubbock fire department answered two fire alarms this morning, Chief W. E. Twitty reports. The first was about 7 o'clock, when the Lubbock Coal and Grain company's mill at Main street and the Santa Fe railroad, caught fire for the second time in six days. By the time the fire trucks arrived, however, this blaze had been extinguished.
About 9:15, fire in the roof of a servant's house of K. L. Riggs, 1801 Thirteenth street, blazed in the roof, causing an alarm to be turned in. By the time the fire department reached the scene the blaze had been extinguished by negro servants applying a garden hose. Result was very little damage.

Press Comment On Britten Plan Okeh

LONDON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Two morning papers urged that Great Britain accept Representative Britten's proposal of an Anglo-American parliamentary conference on naval affairs.
The Daily Express said: "Whatever officialdom may say the idea is a good one. The opportunity should be taken."

CONDITION OF KING BETTER

IMPROVEMENT TOLD IN BULLETIN POSTED BY ATTENDANTS

LONDON, Nov. 29.—There was a more hopeful atmosphere around Buckingham palace today as a result of the morning bulletin issued by King George's physicians. Sir Stanley Hewitt and Lord Dawson of Penn reported the infective process was being held in check and his Majesty had passed the night quietly.
The fact that there had been no spread of infection was welcome news. While the bulletin indicated the king had not had much sleep, it was pointed out he had been getting considerable sleep during the daytime recently. The medical bulletin read:
"The king has passed a quiet though sleepless night. The infective process is being held in check."
Unofficial reports from the palace were also favorable. While it was realized there must be anxious days ahead, there was a feeling of relief that the royal patient was to all appearances in as satisfactory a condition as could be expected at this stage of his serious illness.
BALTIMORE, Nov. 29 (AP)—poultry judge, died here yesterday George C. Brown, widely known at the age of 87.

Once More We Hail Thee

Once more we hail the glad Thanksgiving
With songs of cheer;
Once more we render thanks to Heaven
For blessings of the year.
Countless as the sands of ocean
Or the stars above
Are all the blessings to us given
By Heaven's boundless love.
Each promise spoken by the springtime
In bud and flower
Returns to us in golden harvest—
Now is fulfillment's hour.

CAMPAIGN FOR ROAD BONDS TO END SATURDAY

ELECTORATE TO MAKE DECISION ON ISSUE IN COUNTY VOTE

Factions for and against the proposed $2,000,000 paving bond issue have drawn their lines for last minute blows in the campaign which is to be brought to a climax Saturday in a county-wide election on the bond issue.
Judge W. R. Ely, highway commissioner, from Abilene, strongly urged the county to vote the bonds and join West Texas' march of progress in speeches here and at Slaton yesterday.
Voters will make known their will Saturday. Polls will open at 8 in the morning and close at 7 in the evening. It is believed 3,500 to 4,000 voters will turn out.
Every qualified property tax-paying voter, which means any citizen holding a poll tax receipt who has personal or real property that is taxable, may vote in this election. Personal property that is taxable includes such articles as musical instruments, automobiles, etc., the taxable value of which is $100 or more.

No intimation of the charges against Frye was given by the board but Frye said in a statement that he was charged with "misconduct in office, incompetence and neglect of duty."

SO'S CALLS ARE RECEIVED FROM DISABLED SHIP

FORTY MEN ABOARD CRAFT IN TROUBLE NEAR ALASKA

(By Associated Press)
SEATTLE, Nov. 29.—S. O. S. calls overheard here today indicated that the steamer Chief Maquilla, a 9,500 ton grain freighter, was in distress off the western tip of the Alaskan Peninsula. Nature of her trouble was not learned. The ship carries eight officers and thirty two men. There were no passengers aboard.
The distress calls were heard between 4:35 and 5 a. m. Pacific time by three stations in this vicinity but were too weak to be read accurately. A wireless from the Japanese Steamer Hakushika Maru, intercepted here, gave the position of the Chief Maquilla as 50 degrees, 25 minutes, north, 175 degrees, 15 minutes west. Whether the Hakushika went to aid the Chief Maquilla was not learned.
David R. Girdwood local manager of the Canadian-American shipping company owners of the vessel, said the Chief Maquilla left Kildonan, British Columbia, Nov. 17 with a cargo of wheat for Shanghai and last night reported that she was 1,460 miles on her way. The Chief Maquilla is of British registry and Hong Kong is the home port.

BRITISH NAVAL

BELIEVES BA FOR UNDER ON NAVA

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—A man known as Britten, a member of the House committee, today announced that he would introduce legislation to increase the size of the naval armaments committee.

He has put forward a bill to increase the number of members of the committee from 15 to 21, and to include representatives of the Navy, the War Department, and the State Department.

The bill also provides for the appointment of a joint committee to study the question of naval armaments, and to report to the House before March 1, 1929.

Representative Britten, who is a member of the House committee on naval affairs, said that he believed that the present committee was not doing enough to study the question of naval armaments, and that the new committee would be able to do a better job of the work.

He also said that he believed that the new committee would be able to do a better job of the work, and that he would be glad to see the bill passed.

BATTLE S

Flanders Desperate Against F

BRUSSELS, Nov. 29.—The inhabitants of the Flanders region today are suffering from a severe shortage of foodstuffs, and are desperate for relief.

The situation is particularly acute in the region of Flanders, where the food supply has been almost completely cut off by the German army.

The authorities in Brussels are doing their best to provide relief, but the situation is becoming more and more desperate.

The German army is reported to be advancing rapidly towards Brussels, and the Belgian government is in a difficult position.

The people of Flanders are suffering from hunger and cold, and are desperate for relief. They are asking the government to do something to help them.

STOCK BR HELD IN

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The stock market today was held in a state of suspense, with prices generally steady.

The market was affected by news of the German situation, and by reports that the German army was advancing towards Brussels.

Investors are watching the situation closely, and are expected to react to any further news.

The market is expected to remain volatile for some time, as the situation in Europe continues to develop.

Hold Up To Book

ROBINSON, Nov. 29.—A man known as Robinson, a member of the House committee, today announced that he would introduce legislation to increase the size of the naval armaments committee.

He has put forward a bill to increase the number of members of the committee from 15 to 21, and to include representatives of the Navy, the War Department, and the State Department.

The bill also provides for the appointment of a joint committee to study the question of naval armaments, and to report to the House before March 1, 1929.

BRITTEN HAS NAVAL PLANS

BELIEVES BASIS FOUND FOR UNDERSTANDING ON NAVAL POWER

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Chairman Britten of the house naval affairs committee, thinks he has a plan that would help the United States and Great Britain to arrive at an understanding on the equality of sea power and naval problems generally.

He has put forward his ideas in a telegram to Stanley Baldwin, prime minister of England. He suggested that members of the house naval affairs committee and a committee from the parliament hold a joint meeting in Canada after March 4. Equality of sea power between the two countries on the basis of the Washington arms conference classes of war vessels not affecting the equality of sea power would be discussed. The committee would report the result of the discussion and recommendations to their governments after the conclusion of the inter-parliamentary conference.

Representative Britten said his proposal came about as the result of a statement made by Premier Baldwin on November 13 in which the prime minister was quoted as saying he believed that more frequent personal discussions between American and British representatives would lead to better understanding.

In a statement issued yesterday in connection with his telegram to the premier, Representative Britten said failure of past limitations conferences had been attributed to military men and that while he personally did not think they were responsible, he would prefer to see committees composed of non-military men.

BATTLE SEA

Flanders Fights Desperately Against Flood

BRUSSELS, Nov. 25 (AP)—Inhabitants of Flanders, and troops today battled desperately to stem the rush of the sea into an enormous breach in a dike near Bredene and Kurmaal. A violent gale raging along the coast caused the break in the dike and the watering place of Middelkerque was threatened with destruction.

Queen Elizabeth was personally superintending the distribution of relief in the flood-stricken regions of the Meuse, Sambré, and Ourthe valleys. The northwestern coast of France today was one long line of wreckage and storm-wrecked French seamen were threatened with new troubles by rising tides.

STOCK BROKER IS HELD IN FLOGGING

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (AP)—Winifred Sackville Stoner, author and lecturer and one-time child prodigy, caused the arrest last night of Robert Loeb, a stock exchange broker, on a charge of beating her in the lobby of the Sherry-Netherland hotel.

Loeb arraigned in night court pleaded not guilty and was paroled to his own custody for a hearing Saturday on a charge of disorderly conduct.

The complaint as made by Miss Stoner alleges he struck her with his clenched fist, knocking her to the floor and then kicked her and threatened her life. Miss Stoner, who is 26, told Magistrate Brodsky that Loeb, who is 48 and is separated from his wife, had been a friend of hers for two years. Last Sunday, she said, she gave Loeb a bracelet valued at $8,000 and repaired and last night while in the lobby of the hotel she noticed Loeb wearing her bracelet. She said when she accosted the woman and demanded the bracelet, Loeb struck her.

Held Up Approval To Book Contracts

AUSTIN, Nov. 25 (AP)—Because the state would pay more for some of the text contracts which were awarded recently, than other states, approval of the contracts has been held up by the state text commission. The move was made on the recommendation of Governor Moody, who suggested that an opinion should be obtained from the attorney general on the equality of paying more than other states for the text. Governor Moody said he thought the Texas law made such contracts illegal.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tynmites cheered the hunter loud. "To meet you we are very proud," said Scouty. "You can rest assured that we are glad we're here. A meal of turkey sounds just great. In fact it will be hard to wait until the meal is ready. You have filled us all with cheer."

"Then you will help me?" asked the man. "You bet! We'll do all that we can," replied one Tiny. "Tell us where you plan to cook your turkey. Then we will show you that we're good at gathering a lot of wood. We're at your service right away. Just let us all to work."

The hunter said, "Well, first we'll roam until we reach my little home. Right out in front of it we'll find a place to make a blaze. And then I'll bring a kettle out. I'll hold all of our meal, no doubt. I'm sure you'll have the finest meal that you have had for days."

It wasn't long until they found the hunter's home, and on the ground, right near, they heard a dandy place. "Here's where we'll build our fire," said Scouty. "This will be real fun. And now let's all be on the run and gather sticks before it's night, and we begin to tire."

They rushed around, most everywhere and gathered sticks from here and there. The hunter, in the meantime, brought a monstrous kettle out. They fixed a place to hang it high above the flame. Someone said, "My, 'tis well the turkey doesn't know what this is all about. When all the sticks were piled

CLOSED THURSDAY IN OBSERVANCE OF THANKSGIVING

Truly we of Lubbock and the South Plains have more to be thankful for than millions of people not blessed with our good fortunes.

It is very appropriate that Thanksgiving be a Day set aside to give Thanks to HIM who has so generously favored America.

It is our Wish that you will make of this great day—one of reverence and Thanksgiving—that you attend the Church of your choice in its program.

Annual Turkey Dinners and Festivity Of Thanksgiving Features of Society

Although few events are scheduled in the social calendar for today, this is essentially a time of festivity and reunion. The proverbial turkey dinner is being served in many homes of the city and gathered around these feasting boards are guests who have been invited for the occasion.

Families are reunited as the holiday affords a time for folk to return to their homes. Others have left the city for Turkey Day football games or visiting.

Members of the younger set are to dance at the Country Club this evening as guests of Misses Coleta Baker and Frances Snyder.

A number of Thanksgiving affairs featured last night and early breakfasts were served today at the First Methodist and First Baptist churches for college students in the two institutions.

Annual Dinner Party Given By Club

Women in the 28-42 Club and their husbands attended an annual holiday dinner last evening at Hotel Lubbock. After a turkey feast had been served, forty-two was played during the remainder of the evening. Those who attended were Messrs. and Mesdames J. H. Hankins, C. E. Masden, R. T. Kimbro, W. O. Stevens, W. H. Biedson, Gus L. Ford, S. C. Arnett, R. Q. Pierce, W. B. Atkins, J. S. Johnson, F. R. Friend, W. H. Meador, L. C. Ellis, J. B. Masey, Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Hutchinson, Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Ballenger, Mesdames A. B. Conley, R. D. Benson, Floyd Beall and Clara Abney.

Dr. and Mrs. W. O. Stevens have as their Thanksgiving guests Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Williams and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stevens and baby of Mineral Wells.

Dr. and Mrs. T. G. Baies and family are spending Thanksgiving in Plainview as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Davis.

Youngsters Given Party Last Evening

Youngsters in the intermediate department of the First Presbyterian church attended a harvest party last evening in the church basement. The department sponsor and teachers which included Mrs. J. J. Clements, Mrs. R. C. Harvey, Mrs. Josephine Douglas, D. F. Eaton and Clarence Symes, were in charge of the affair. Other adults assisting were: Mr. McCleary, Miss Virginia McLean and Jessie Lewis.

Pumpkins and grain were decorations in the basement and Thanksgiving favors were distributed. A number of games were enjoyed.

Those who attended were: John June McCrory, Ruth Elaine Lewis, Elnora Wilson, Frances Wagner, Julia Blackwell, Kenneth Bowers, Billy Lyle, Bobby and Frank Clements, Norman Wilson, Mary Hopper, Mary Ann Davis, Emily Davis, Katherine Barr, Katherine Robinson, Fannie Brown, Eaton, Margaret Ruth Wilson, Jean Orr, Eaton, Katherine Leigh, John Cooper, R. C. Douglas, Albert Symes and Eugene Blue.

Dr. and Mrs. Allen T. Stewart and family are in Austin for the holidays.

Mrs. J. C. Granbery Speaker At Breakfast

About sixty Methodist students of Tech college as their guests were served a Thanksgiving breakfast at the Methodist church this morning at 7:30 o'clock.

Tables were arranged in a square with a table in the center at which were seated Rev. and Mrs. E. E. White, Mrs. J. C. Granbery, H. W. Richardson, and H. Y. Price.

A motif carrying out the holiday scheme was used in the centerpieces of pumpkins and maize heads, while place cards were yellow pumpkins and turkeys with the menu written on the backs.

"Hall, Hall, the League's all here" was sung at the beginning of the breakfast with Etheridge Eagan leading, and afterwards rounds were sung. Reverend White gave the blessing.

H. Y. Price, president of the Epworth League, spoke words of appreciation of the pastor and his wife who leave Saturday for Abilene to make their home and at the close of his remarks presented Mr. White with a fountain pen desk set as a gift from the young people.

After a response was given, Mrs. Granbery gave a Thanksgiving talk basing her remarks on the things we should be thankful for and should strive for in the sense of an appreciation of God, a sense of duty, and discrimination of values of life. Thankfulness for the accepted things of every day life was mentioned by the speaker.

A reading appropriate for the occasion was read by Miss Mary Beth Shelley and a toast proposed to the continued health and success of Rev. and Mrs. White closed the morning's activities.

Banquet Is Served To Excelsior BYPU

A banquet was served Tuesday evening to members of the Excelsior B. Y. P. U. by sponsors of the organization in a harvest social at the church. The B. Y. P. U. is an intermediate organization of the First Baptist church.

Harvest decorations were used and a program was given during the evening.

Sponsors of the organization are Mr. and Mrs. Sam Henry, Mrs. Sid Clark and Mrs. Christine Hall. Assisting them with the party were Dr. and Mrs. W. R. White, Miss Adella Anderson, Miss Gladys Tyson, Miss Sybil Tyson and Gladys Hall.

Those who attended were Elizabeth Simpson, Elaine Henry, George W. Foster, Jr., Roscoe Clark, Naomi Holder, Carroll McCasland, Phyllis Pool, Sam Henry, Jr., Cecil Orice, Coby Gee, Cecil Bynum, Thelma Bynum, Ovid Brock, Allice Knight, Edgar R. Fuller, Joan Sears, Edgar Bright, Edith Phipps, Mary Florence Knox, Lois Ford, Ruth Hearrell, Eulalia Henderson, Vivian Eva Tyler, A. C. Sanders, Robert Knorrey, Thomas L. Bates, Dorena Scott, S. M. Wilson, Martin J. Smith, Helen Welch.

Baptist Circle Will Meet Friday

Women in Circle 1 of the 19th Street Baptist W. M. S. are to meet at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. A. S. Eads at 1910 Avenue H to continue a study of "Lottie Moon." This circle met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Eads.

E. E. Whites Given Farewell Courtesy

A farewell entertainment for Rev. and Mrs. E. E. White, who are moving to Abilene, was given Wednesday evening by members of the First Methodist Mary Helm auxiliary in parlors of the church. Husband and wife were the guests of honor and the affair followed regular Wednesday prayer services.

The retiring pastor and his wife were presented with a farewell gift from the society. Mrs. W. P. Knox made the presentation talk.

Before refreshments were served there was a program consisting of a piano duet played by Mrs. C. C. Stinson and Mrs. J. C. Powell, a reading by Mrs. T. A. White, solo by Mrs. Ed O'Sullivan and readings by Mrs. Rufus Rush and Mrs. E. E. White. Sandwiches and coffee were served. There was an attendance of about fifty.

Yoke Theme

The yoke will play an important part, both in blouses and skirts, this fall. A rose-beige ninon evening gown has both yokes worked in a deeper rose tone of chenille.

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

TROUBLES ARE NOT PECULIAR TO ANY ONE—ALL HAVE THEM

Whatever our trouble, we are sure of one thing, and that is that it is not peculiar to us. Ever so many have suffered similar woes. Whether this is a consolation or the opposite depends largely on our temperament. It is usually a distinct comfort and encouragement to know someone we know has gone through the same thing we have to bear, and shown courage and resourcefulness. The one trouble is, we are quite likely to see circumstances in their case that may have made the trouble less hard to bear, while we think we have no such extenuations.

A wife writes in answer to "Anxiously Waiting's" letter. The latter thought her husband was infatuated with a girl and wanted to know if she thought she should leave him. "A Wife" says: "Stay by your husband as long as he is good and kind to you. I have known cases like this before. The only difference between you and most other men's wives is that you have found it out and they have not."

Cheer up. You will live through it.

Inquisitive Lou: Introduce your friend as Doctor So and So.

"Dear Mrs. Lee: What can one do to entertain one's boy friend when he calls? I positively won't get. I never have, but what I have seen makes me feel ill. JANICE."

I compromised on your letter, Janice, and printed part of it. Thank you so much for the part I didn't print. In entertaining your boy friend, much depends on the boy. Some like to talk, some to sing and play, some like to play games—two-handed card games, any jolly little games that two can play. If you have victrola or radio you can dance a bit, and maybe he will have a hobby like stamp collecting or something he would like to talk about. Then you can plan to make one of pop corn and you can save some clever little stories or poems that certain congenial souls would enjoy, and read them together and he'll probably be interested to tell you his plans and where he has been, etc. Will this help?

LUBBOCK CONFIDENT OF VICTORY OVER VERNON LIONS TODAY

CRIPPLES WILL DIM VERNON'S CHANCE TO WIN

LIST OF INJURED ON LION ROSTER; GAME STARTS AT 3

Lubbock's High School Westerners, a fighting crew of gristers who have made their force felt in every one of the district games this year, strike the starting blow of the season today against the Vernon Lions.

Second place in the district standing is the goal of the contest. Lubbock's squad is in the best of shape, physically and mentally and win or lose Lubbock will have no alibis.

The Lions will enter the field this afternoon minus Rodman, regular center, who is ill of stomach disorder at a local hotel. Bowden, 135 pound lad who is playing his first year of football, and who also this year will substitute for Rodman.

Just what effect the serious illness of Clyde Sharp, Vernon guard, who was seriously injured in a game against the Sandies, and who is in a precarious condition in a Vernon hospital, will have on the Westerners is a matter of conjecture.

The illness of their team mate may have a demoralizing effect, while on the other hand the squad may arise to its greatest strength in a desire to end the season impressively for one of its members.

Captain Robert Cox who plays the fullback position for the Lions is an outstanding candidate for all-district honors. Cox is not a brilliant broken field runner, but his line punting and defensive work has been great factors in the success of the Westerners.

Ten Lions are closing their high school football careers here today. They are Cox, fullback; Phillips, halfback; Bowden, reserve center; Rodman, center; Hittman, tackle; Stevens, tackle; Coffey, end; W. Sharp, reserve tackle; Baird, reserve half; Ramsey, reserve end.

Women riders recently were barred from the long distance road races in England that are conducted under the supervision of the Motor Cycle Club, which is the supervising body of a sport that is much more popular and more generally practiced in England than it is in the United States.

There was the usual storm of protest and the officials of the Motor Cycle Club were asked to reconsider their action. They refused to reconsider the action and they gave a number of reasons for refusing among which were these: "When women take part in a race they get all the publicity whether they win or not, and the men are scarcely noticed."

Long solo rides at night are not quite suitable for women riders. The club has the strongest of men in the morning world and the committee wants to keep it so.

A Fighting Champion "Gig" Rooney, who owns Jackie Fields, the unofficial world's welterweight champion, pulled a new form of an old yarn in California recently when he was telling the boys how his fellow would conduct himself when he becomes the real champion.

"He'll be a money champion," he said. "And when I say that I mean it."

"He'll go after all the big money shots and he'll take them every month if he can get them. And, of course, all the big money shots will have to be against the best challengers."

Fields will not have to get a supreme court claim to the title to make a lot of money. He is in a spot where he can ignore New York and work in California, Detroit or Chicago. He might not get the money that he would get in New York but he will have more left when he is through whacking up his purse dough.

The young Californian hardly can get a match with Joe Dundee for the championship, but he can get good money for fighting Jack Thompson again and Jimmy McLarnin may develop into the best card available.

McLarnin recently announced his graduation into the welterweight class and he would be a ready-made card because he knocked out Fields the last time they met. That knockout looks bad on Fields' record because the entry does not show that Fields almost killed himself making 126 pounds for McLarnin when 135 pounds was his natural weight.

When George Owen, one of the few men who ever won nine varsity "H's" at Harvard, finished his career he said he never wanted to hear, see or discuss anything more about football. He was one of Harvard's greatest football stars but he said he hated the game from the first and played it only lest his courage be questioned.

SOUTHWORTH TO TRY TOUGH JOB

BACK WITH THE CARDINALS AS MANAGER

TRADES JOBS WITH BILL ACKERMAN BY JACK SOARDS

If there is a tougher job in baseball than the one just handed Billy Southworth, try to find it. The psychological handicap of being manager of the St. Louis Cardinals these days must be something terrific.

As Southworth enters the throne room of the Cardinals he'll feel the presence of four ghosts. And they are fresh ones, too. The ghost belongs to Branch Ricker, Rogers Hornsby, Bob O'Farrell, and Bill McKechnie, Southworth's immediate predecessors.

One of the four men gave the Cards in the first year as boss, their first National league title and then out he went. Another gave the Cards their second pennant in three years. But out he went, too.

Five managers in five years must be close to the record but that's the Cardinal's showing. Only Ricker failed to feel the axe in its most drastic form. He was moved from the managerial bench to the Cardinals' front office. The other three got theirs after each had bossed but a season.

Southworth has a lot of the necessary virtues it takes to make a successful manager. He is a keen player a smart baseball man, a popular chap with the players and fans, and has a good record.

Southworth first came to the Cardinals from the Giants in 1926 and immediately made a hit. He played great ball that year. Illness cramped his style in 1927 and President Sam Breadon, thinking his playing days were numbered, sent him to manage the Rochester club. It was his ability shown there in leading a mediocre team to the International league pennant that earned Billy the promotion.

Southworth, like McKechnie, with whom he trades positions, fell down in the post-season series, losing to the Indianapolis club in the "little world's series."

Southworth is now 34 years old and has been playing pro ball since 1912.

FROG-MUSTANG DUEL APPEARS ABOUT EQUAL

35,000 WILL SEE CLASH AT AUSTIN; BEARS TO MIX WITH OWLS

(By Associated Press) The embattled Texas Farmers were at Austin today for the purpose of giving Texas University, on the verge of winning its first Southwest conference football title in eight years, a healthy defeat.

The Arkansas University Razorbacks are at Memphis, Tenn., going through the motions of playing a football game with Southwestern University, but chiefly concerned with the outcome of the tussle at Austin. For, if the Aggies win, the Razorbacks pick up the Aggies without firing a shot.

Horned Frogs invaded Dallas for a parting rap at their ancient rivals, the Southern Methodist University Mustangs, who bought a through ticket for the championship early in the season and then missed their train.

Baylor University and Rice Institute, who round out the evening Southwest circus, clash at Houston with nothing in particular on their minds, except, possibly, a desire to mess each other up on general principles.

That's the program that will send the football tempered population of Texas scurrying from Thanksgiving tables to crowded stadiums to witness the final fireworks of the 1928 gridiron campaign. The championship fray at Austin was expected to draw in the neighborhood of 40,000 customers, a record figure for this region, and at least 20,000 were expected to foregather for the Mustang-Frog melee at Dallas. Probably 12,000 will see the Bear and Owl mix it at Houston.

Southern California Loses Star Quarter

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 29 (AP)—Southern California's football followers were burdened today with a new sorrow. With the intersectional struggle with Notre Dame just three days off, they mourned the loss of Marshall Duffell, sparkling sophomore quarterback, who was declared yesterday to be definitely out of the game because of an injured shoulder.

Nebraska Has Hopes Of Cinching Crown

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 29 (AP)—"Big Six" conference football honors were at stake in the game between Nebraska Cornhuskers and Kansas Aggies at the Memorial stadium today. Victory for Nebraska meant a clear claim to the first crown of the new conference. The Aggies had not won a conference game this year.

GRID STARS FLICKER TODAY

WILL BE LAST GAME TO MANY OF NATION'S OUTSTANDING FOOTBALL PLAYERS

(By Associated Press) NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Stars whose names have been football bywords shine their last and flicker out at many points along the eastern college front this afternoon.

A few teams already have brought their season to a close while the Army, Boston college, Holy Cross and Georgetown continue activities until Saturday, but for the great majority Thanksgiving day brings down the curtain.

Ken Strong, for one, will be playing his last college game when, at the Yankee stadium, he leads his mighty New York university eleven against the Oregon Aggies, first Pacific coast team ever to play on the eastern seaboard.

Another star to be seen no more on college fields after today is Paul Scull, triple threat halfback, who leads his Pennsylvania legion against Cornell at Franklin field, Philadelphia.

Captain Hal Baysinger of Syracuse, one of the best quarterbacks in Orange history, has hopes of closing his college career with a victory over Columbia. Colgate loses the powerful kicking toe and line play of Captain Bruce Dumont, guard, after the game with Brown while the Bruins note the passing of the last of their "iron men" of two years ago.

SOX IN MARKET FOR THREE MEN

CHICAGO TEAM WANTS SERVICES OF SECOND BASEMAN, CATCHER

(Special To The Avalanche) CHICAGO, Nov. 29 (AP)—When major league club owners gather here two weeks from today for their joint meeting, the Chicago White Sox will be ready to barter for a second baseman, a catcher and an outfielder.

The status of "Lena" Blackburn's managerial powers is more or less a conjecture, but he is going ahead with plans for 1929. The Sox have a wealth of trading material. Blackburn is desirous of bolstering up second base, a position occupied by four men last season.

Blackburn is also in the market for an experienced catcher. Three receivers—Berg, Cronce and McCurdy—are on the Sox roster and if another one is obtained McCurdy probably will be traded. In the outfield Blackburn has a group of hustling players in Mostil, Reynolds, Metzler, Falk and Blackberry, but he is seeking more punch.

BILLIES FIGHT WILDCATS FOR T. I. A. A. TITLE

IMPORTANT GAMES IN OTHER STATE LOOPS SLATED TODAY

At least one championship will be settled, many old rivalries revived in college games outside the Southwestern Conference in Texas today.

The championship decision will be made at Abilene, where Abilene Christian and Daniel Baker from Brownwood, each undefeated in the T. I. A. A. race, will battle.

Other Abilene colleges do not play at home. Simmons goes to El Paso for a clash with the Texas School of Mines. McMurry meets Sul Ross in Alpine.

The other Brownwood school, Howard Payne, takes on Southwestern in Brownwood in a Texas Conference game. The undefeated Yellow Jackets are due to win, practically clinching the Texas Conference crown if they do so.

Rivals of a quarter of a century meet in Waxahachie, when Austin College, accompanied by 500 supporters, comes from Sherman to play the Trinity Tigers. Both are Texas Conference members. St. Edwards, another strong Texas Conference member, plays St. Mary's in San Antonio this afternoon.

There is quite a bit of interest attached to the Randolph-John Tarleton clash at Stephenville. Both

MEMPHIS TO PLAY HEREFORD TODAY

MEMPHIS, TENN., NOV. 29—The football game scheduled to be played in Memphis today promises to be one of the hardest-fought contests in the history of Class B-football in the Panhandle. The Memphis Cyclones will meet the Hereford White Faces for the championship of District 1.

The Hereford White Faces have played eight games, making 159 points to their opponents' 12. Following is their record: Hereford 13, Tulsa 0; Hereford 9, Clovis 6; Hereford 36, Tucuman 0; Hereford 0, Panhandle 0; Hereford 35, Barwell 17; Hereford 37, Tulsa 0; Hereford 18, Dalhart 0; Hereford 12, Panhandle 0.

The Cyclones have played seven games this season, making 187 points to their opponents' 34. The record: Memphis 47, Claremore 0; Memphis 19, Wheeler 6; Memphis 25, Shamrock 15; Memphis 25, Wellington 0; Memphis 4, Childress 6; Memphis 24, Claude 0; Memphis 13; Perryton 6.

A special train will run from Hereford. There will be 500 rosters on it.

SLATON URGED TO JOIN CITY IN BOND MOVE

JUDGE ELY TALKS TO LARGE GATHERING OF CITIZENS

(Special to The Journal) SLATON, Nov. 29—Slaton will join hands with Lubbock in an energetic campaign for passage of the bonds to pave highways in the county if the injunction laid down by Judge W. R. Ely, West Texas highway commissioner, in a speech here last night is taken to heart.

The speaker was introduced by Judge R. A. Baldwin, of Slaton, who made a plea before and after the principal address in the interest of the county-wide paving project. He requested the voters of Slaton to go to the polls next Saturday and take advantage of the opportunity of securing the adequate good roads proposal, for that section of the county, "It is certain," he said, "that Lubbock county will pass road bonds of some kind in the near future even if the present proposed bond issue is defeated, and it is also certain that Slaton will never be offered so favorable a proposition in future issues as is offered in the project now facing the county."

Necessity Is Self Evident Picturing road construction in Texas as the biggest thing going on in the state today and declaring that the necessity of good roads was self-evident, Judge Ely said that "nothing will mean more prosperity and progress to this county and to this section than the building of the right type of highways. He expressed approval of the bond issue, as outlined by the Lubbock County Good Roads association, and complimented the proponents of the measure as foresighted and unselfish.

"If I were a citizen of Lubbock county," the speaker said, "I would support the road bond issue next Saturday. This county has reached the period where it needs paved highways and ought to have them. The citizenship should not wait. You are paying thousands of dollars to the state department by means of gasoline and registration tax, and under the present system you are receiving little returns."

Can Find Other Places In the opinion of Judge Ely the next ten years in Texas will see the greatest period of development in the history of the state. He placed good highways as the predominant element in this era of development. "If Lubbock county doesn't want paved roads," he continued, "the state can find plenty of other places to spend its money, but it is my advice to get a good system of paved highways without delay."

"Development in this section of the state has hardly been touched. With its vast acreage of tillable soil, the South Plains, and especially Lubbock county, is destined to become one of the greatest sections in the southwest. People here are progressive in other ways and I can't see why they could be backward in highway improvement. Since good highways build up both cities and small communities, it would be selfish to the farmers to pave the state highways only, omitting all lateral roads."

Type of hard surfacing planned for the proposed lateral roads was explained by the speaker. He gave examples of similar hard-surfaced highways in other parts of the state which had withstood heavy traffic for years.

FRENCH COAST IS LONG LINE OF WRECKAGE

CORPSES AND DERELICT CRAFT TO ORANGE CRATES FOUND

PARIS, Nov. 29—The Northwestern coast of France were last night one long line of wreckage, varying from corpses and derelict craft to crates of oranges washed overboard from freighters by tempestuous seas. Storm weary French seamen were threatened with new troubles by rising winds.

The sea broke dikes along the Picardy coast today flooding highways and fields near Le Treport. Three hundred feet of concrete dikes were carried away at Bountainville, Normandy. Several unidentified bodies were washed up at that place.

The Chausey Semaphore station signalled to Cherbourg that the big three masted German school ship Pommeren was a derelict off the Normandy coast, completely demasted. She was abandoned several days ago in the channel after 80 cadets had been rescued by means of lifelines and hauled aboard a tug.

At Bordeaux, where bad weather was renewed, docks and quays were flooded by the rising waters of the Garonne. No ships were able to enter or leave the port in the face of the heavy seas.

All navigators were warned that the permanent light at Lacroix off the tip of Brittany, in latitude 48.50 north and longitude 3.03 west, had been extinguished. Because of the storm it was impossible to relight it.

Meanwhile the violence of the elements inland had expended itself in furious winds. There were heavy snow falls in the Pyrennes, the Vosges, the Jura, Savoy and Central mountains. From a foot to a foot and one-half of snow fell on most of the mountains of France from an altitude of 2,000 feet up.

COOLIDGE-TRUMBULL TO WED ANNOUNCEMENT OF ENGAGEMENT COMES AS CLIMAX TO COLLEGE ROMANCE

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 29 (AP)—Formal announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Florence Trumbull, daughter of Governor John H. Trumbull of Connecticut, and John Coolidge, son of President and Mrs. Coolidge.

The announcement was made by Governor and Mrs. Trumbull at a dinner at the Farmington Country club last night as part of the celebration of their silver wedding anniversary.

No date was announced for the wedding, but indications were it would not take place before summer, thus precluding a White House wedding.

The supper was attended by about 250 guests. Place cards read: "John and Florence."

Prior to the supper the governor and Mrs. Trumbull held a reception at which they received congratulations from many prominent persons on their wedding anniversary. The president and Mrs. Coolidge, who are on a brief vacation at Waynesboro, Virginia, sent a bouquet of two dozen chrysanthemums.

John Coolidge hurried to the reception after concluding his day's work as a clerk at the New Haven offices of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad and appeared relieved at the announcement of the engagement, a matter upon which both he and Miss Trumbull have been questioned persistently for more than a year.

John first met Miss Trumbull three years ago on a train on which the Trumbulls were traveling to Washington to attend the inauguration of President Coolidge.

John, then a student at Amherst college, upon learning that Governor Trumbull was aboard the train, went to pay his respects and was introduced to Florence, who at that time was a student at Mount Holyoke college, not far from Amherst.

They became close friends and John was a frequent visitor to Mt. Holyoke and at the Governor's mansion at Plainville, while Florence attended many of the activities at Amherst as a guest of John and also as a visitor at the White House.

In order to live up to all the rules and regulations of newspaper editing—that is in order to be orthodox and not smack of the radical—The Plainsman supposes that a few sentences embracing the true meaning of Thanksgiving Day should be here included.

But seriously speaking, it does seem that on down the years from the time our Puritan forefathers established the day of Thanksgiving to the present, there has been a decided change in the spirit of the occasion.

Are We Returning to Old Days When a Few Votes Named Or Defeated a Presidential Candidate, Dutches Asks

BARBS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29—Perhaps we are traveling back toward the good old days when election results were sure to be close in a large number of important states.

College professors and newspapermen in mathematical minds have discovered that if Smith could have switched 500,000 votes in the right places he would have elected, thanks to the electoral college system, and that 150,000 more properly switched votes for Hoover would have given him every single electoral vote.

Until the Harding and Coolidge landslides, however, one election after another showed that a switch of a few thousand votes—sometimes even a few hundred—here and there would have changed the election result.

Under the Harding and Coolidge Republican pluries were so huge in so many of the most important states that there was little nourishment in such figuring.

This year the result was so relatively close in so many states that the boys once more got out pencil and paper.

Well, Smith's present yearning for that switch of a half million votes is probably nowhere near as poignant a stat of James G. Blaine, who with a change of 600 votes in New York in 1884, would have been elected over Cleveland.

Those were the days when the Solid South was good and solid and most of the northern and western states were invariably doubtful.

In that year Cleveland carried Connecticut 67,000 to 65,000, Delaware 16,000 to 12,000, Indiana 244,000 to 238,000, Maryland 96,000 to 85,000, Missouri 235,000 to 202,000, New Jersey 127,000 to 123,000, Tennessee 123,000 to 124,000 and so on.

Illinois 237,000 to 212,000, Iowa 197,000 to 177,000, Massachusetts 146,000 to 122,000, New Hampshire 43,000 to 39,000, Ohio 400,000 to 368,000 and so on again.

The two Cleveland-Harrison contests show even closer results in some states. In 1868 California was carried by 7,000, Connecticut by 234, Indiana by 2,000, Michigan by 13,000. In 1862 Cleveland carried California by 290 votes, Delaware by 500, Indiana by 7,000, Wisconsin by 7,000 and lost Ohio by 1072.

In 1888 a change of 7200 votes in New York alone would have elected Cleveland over Harrison and in 1892 a switch of 28,000 in seven states would elected Harrison over Cleveland.

In 1880 Hancock would have been elected if he could have picked up 10,517 Gayfield votes in New York or changed 11,452 votes in Maine, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Indiana and Oregon.

In 1876 Tilden had more than 260,000 more popular votes and

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (P)—Reports from Tulsa, Okla., that the Rockefeller holdings in the Prairie Oil and Gas and Prairie Pipe Line companies have been sold to Blair and company of New York and Chicago.

REVISED rumors in Wall Street today that the company would be merged with the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation.

Although none of the interested parties would discuss the possibility, it is believed that acquisition of the holdings by a banking house indicates that some such merger is contemplated.

In New York By Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—New York's Chinatown has long since ceased to supply sinister smatches of melodrama. A demonstration of "Young Nationalists" parading pennants that express their opinions about political events in the homeland, is the most exciting thing to happen in many traditions of the district...

Around the corner from Chinatown, the peddlers' market flourishes up and down the blousy sidewalks...

The salesmen of this belt apply no sense of discrimination Jimmy Walker, himself, walking past in all his sartorial splendor...

Chinatown reflects most of its and decorative costumes of the homeland. Now and then a Chinese woman in a smart, black and white gown...

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters M.D. Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

REMEMBER THE UNFORTUNATE ON YOUR THANKSGIVING DAY

A Way to Express Thanksgiving Last Monday I gave a menu for a vegetarian Thanksgiving meal compiled from Battle Creek Sanitarium menus...

Through the sale of these little penny stamps, there has resulted many benefits. Among them: 1. The organization of state and local tuberculosis associations...

2. Expenditure through the national, state and local association of millions of dollars in education and organization...

3. The development of the idea of public health nursing in small beginnings to one of the most significant means of disease prevention known today.

4. Through the activities of these organized anti-tuberculosis campaigns, within two decades the deaths from tuberculosis have been reduced very markedly.

In 1904 there were 202 deaths per 100,000 population. In 1923 there were but 95.

I must repeat what I have told you on Thanksgiving before, for it is still true. Among the many blessings I give thanks for is my work, and thank you for your kindness in letting me know that I have helped you. I wish I might thank you all personally.

Editor's Note: Dr. Peters can not diagnose, nor give personal advice. Your questions, if of general interest, will be answered in the column, in turn. Requests for articles must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope and 2 cents in coin for each article...

Tomorrow: Answers to Mothers.

The World And All

It is difficult for one who has never been in New York to realize the importance of this city. I have lived in cities and towns of almost all sizes in this country, and in each of them the theater was a negligible institution...

From Burns Mantle's "The Best Plays of 1927-1928," recently published by Dodd, Mead, I glean these interesting facts:

Twenty-four plays have run more than 500 performances on Broadway. Abbie's Irish Rose ran 2,332, Lightnin' 1,291, Walter Hampden gave 127 performances of Booth's An Enemy of the People. The Taming of the Shrew, in modern dress, ran for 23 weeks. Two hundred and seventy shows were put on the boards on Broadway during the last season, including forty revivals of old plays...

From this interesting book I also learn that Ethel Barrymore was born in Philadelphia in 1879, that George Arliss was born in London in 1868, Mrs. Leslie Carter in Lexington, Kentucky, in 1862, David Belasco in San Francisco in the same year, William A. Brady in San Francisco in 1853, George M. Cohan in Providence in 1878, Isadora Duncan in San Francisco in 1880, and Marilyn Miller in Findlay, Ohio, in 1888.

Stops Headache In A Few Minutes

The next time you have a headache, neuralgia, rheumatic or pericardic pain, try the improved method of relief—two teaspoonfuls of Capidine in a little water. Being liquid, Capidine acts almost instantly, much quicker than tablets and powders, and is more effective. Capidine relieves pain by soothing the nerves, not by deadening them. It does not upset the stomach and contains no habit-forming drugs. At all drug stores—30¢ and 60¢ sizes. (adv)

LOCAL BAYLOR BACKERS WILL MEET SUNDAY

MEET OF UNIVERSITY ALUMNI AND EXES TO BE STAGED HERE

All Baylor people in Lubbock about one hundred alumni and former students, have been called to attend the First Baptist church in a body this Sunday, wearing the Baylor colors of green and gold.

The pastor, Rev. W. R. White, will speak on the Greater Baylor University campaign now in progress to raise $2,000,000 in Texas.

Rev. White spoke Tuesday at the Lubbock association meeting in Lorenzo E. W. Proctor's home, with Lubbock at the city, and Mrs. B. G. Holloway of Slaton spoke the same day on the campaign.

The campaign for funds will begin active next Sunday, according to Chairman Proctor. Local conditions and Thanksgiving holidays have necessitated the change from Nov. 23.

Elmo Wall, a former Baylor man, and prominent citizen in Lubbock will lead the First Baptist church campaign.

Campaign workers will try to visit every adult Baptist in district 16 before the campaign closes. Association county and church children will also be visiting over the campaign in this section.

HOOVER GIVEN FINE WELCOME IN COSTA RICA

OVATION ACCORDED TO PRESIDENT-ELECT RIVALS LINDY

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Nov. 23.—Herbert Hoover left the impression in Costa Rica that he had come as a friend and a neighbor.

The most cordial sentiments toward the United States were expressed by both officials and the people.

Costa Rica is especially proud, said Foreign Minister Rafael Castro Quesada, and thinks it particularly significant that there was no military display here in connection with the Hoover reception.

Costa Rica lined its streets to welcome Mr. Hoover with school children, not with soldiers. Happy little boys and girls proud to wave markers to Mr. Hoover in the name of peace and not the military display of guns, rifles and soldiers.

Mr. Hoover received a reception in San Jose such as has been accorded previously to only one person—nature or foreigner—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh. Arriving from the Pacific port of Punta Arenas, he found a cheering throng of 10,000 gathered around the railroad station. He drove to the United States legation where another crowd of 5,000 assembled.

Mrs. Hoover, Mrs. Seneca Hoover, accompanied the crowd until Mr. and Mrs. Hoover responded by appearing at the balcony to smile and wave an acknowledgment to the tributes from the cheering throng.

President Vargas in welcoming Mr. Hoover said that Costa Rica admired the United States most of all for its spirit of unshakable justice which it has always manifested in its relations to the world.

Mr. Hoover in his reply emphasized that the mission of cooperation between the United States and other nations was to build up mutual prosperity and progress.

One Killed, Two Hurt As Car Goes In Ditch

PORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 23.—One man was killed, one probably fatally injured and another injured seriously when an automobile in which they were riding skidded on the Benbrook road near Mary's Creek about eight miles from Fort Worth and rolled down a steep embankment.

F. N. Sanders, Ardmore, Okla., a structural iron worker on the electric building, was pinned beneath the car and fatally injured. C. L. Blount, of Fort Worth, is believed to have sustained a broken back and is not expected to live, and James Allen, Strada, of Fort Worth received a blood rash on the face and jaw and was bruised about the body.

The men were returning from a ride into the country when the accident occurred.

Georgia Tech Well Pleased With Game

ATLANTA, Nov. 23.—Dr. M. L. Brittain, president of Georgia Tech, today announced receipt of a telegram from President William Wallace Campbell of the University of California expressing satisfaction that the local school had been selected as an opponent for California in a New Year's Day football game at Pasadena and announcing that a message definitely assuring Georgia Tech's participation would be welcome.

Expressing in turn his gratification at President Campbell's communication, Dr. Brittain said it will be referred to the faculty and athletic association before being answered.

He pointed out that no formal invitation yet has been received from the Pasadena rose bowl committee and that Georgia Tech also must receive the approval of the Southern Conference before it can enter such a game.

ONCE TOO OFTEN Murphy, Fighting Cop, Drops Two Of Raiders

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Robbers went to the well once too often and found police guns popping last night.

Only two days ago robbers held up 30 employees of the Lambrecht Creamery company and took $7,000 from the company's safe. They attempted to repeat last night at a time when a $10,000 payroll was in the office. They reckoned, however, without policeman John Murphy.

Murphy had been ordered to the creamery as a precaution against robbers. When he approached the building, it was dark. In the shadowy light of early evening he could dimly see several employees lined up against a wall inside, while three men carrying guns moved among them.

Despite the handicap of darkness, Murphy plunged in, his revolver blazing. One of them screamed and ran, leaving a trail of blood. The others turned their weapons upon him, and the darkness of the office was lit by the flash of guns. The policeman dropped behind a desk and kept up the fire, one of his bullets sending a robber to the floor. The other man fled.

The wounded man, whose leg was shattered, said he was Bert McDowell.

NO COMMENT ON BRITTEN PLAN

STATE AND NAVY HEADS ARE NONCOMMITTAL TO PROPOSAL

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Silence from the state and navy departments and criticism from Senator Swanson, Virginia, has been the reaction thus far to Representative Britten's proposal for a naval conference.

Britten who is chairman of the house naval affairs committee, in a cablegram to Stanley Baldwin, British prime minister, suggested that members of the naval affairs committee and a committee from parliament meet to talk over the question of sea equality, and other naval problems, between the two nations.

Senator Swanson in a statement yesterday characterized Britten's proposal as "revolutionary" and said he was at a loss to understand what prompted it.

"If a treaty of disarmament occurs, under the constitution," he said, "it must be made by the president and ratified by the senate."

The Virginia senator, who is the ranking democrat on the senate foreign relations and naval committees, declared he also did not understand the authority of any committee of the house to either initiate or conduct any negotiations with foreign governments.

At the state department it was said Secretary Kellogg had no knowledge of the plan and the proposal, but it was indicated Britten's suggestion was in accord with the governmental policy of leaving the direction of foreign affairs in the hands of the president.

Frank Baldwin has made no reply to Representative Britten but in British official circles it was said the communication would be given careful consideration.

odist churches for sunrise breakfasts. Gaily decked tables carrying out the motif of Thanksgiving and autumn were used, and songs and speeches commemorated the day. The Methodist young people honored Mr. and Mrs. E. E. White, who leave Saturday to make their home in Abilene.

The pep and excitement which was created at the last pep rally of the season at the gym last night reached its zenith at the Santa Fe station when several hundred students boarded the special which left at 8:30 o'clock for Canyon. Freshmen hurried here and there in their eagerness to get on the train, loaded down as they were with instrument cases and Matador luggage.

Only a few students availed themselves of the opportunity of going home to spend the day as just the holiday is given by the college authorities and the time is drawing too near for examinations.

Many upper classmen avow that they will spend the day in catching up with back work and writing on term themes which fall due soon, while others, graduates of Lubbock high school and former residents of Vernon, will see the football game between the local high school and Vernon high school to be played at the Tech field.

The State Teacher's meet convenes at San Antonio today and several Tech faculty members will be in attendance there. These include Dr. and Mrs. Paul W. Horn, Dean Margaret Weeks, Dean Mary W. Doak, Cecil Horne, and Professors W. P. Clements, J. F. McDonald, F. W. Sparks and Miss Elizabeth West.

CAPITAL SERVICE IS VERY SIMPLE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—The capital today welcomed Thanksgiving with simplicity, the rites consisting largely of the usual turkey sacrifices.

President Coolidge was in Virginia. President-elect Hoover in South American waters and those members of the cabinet and other men in public life who remained in the city celebrated after the fashion of private citizens.

Special services were arranged by the churches, among them being the "Pan-American" mass, an annual event conducted by Archbishop Michael J. Curley of Baltimore, and attended by members of the diplomatic corps of Central and South America.

CHICAGO DERELICTS ARE GIVEN DINNER

CHICAGO, Nov. 29 (AP)—A bread line that had a good old-fashioned turkey dinner at one end opened a rift in the gray skies for hundreds of Chicago's down-and-outers today.

The Chicago Christian Industrial league opened the doors of its homes in the West side flophouse district yesterday to serve a pre-holiday dinner and 1,000 men stood in a queue for hours before meal time. Three thousand family dinners were distributed today by United Charities and the Salvation army, and the army was host to 300 "floaters" at a downtown restaurant.

It was a murky Thanksgiving day in the middle west, the overcast clouds bearing a threat of rain or snow that covered the western states.

DENVER, Nov. 29 (AP)—Thanksgiving Day had a Christmas-like setting today in Northern Rocky Mountain states which were nearly snowbound following a 24-hour fall storm.

The storm swept this morning and the Plains states for snowfall during the day as far in that direction as Kansas City and southward into Oklahoma and Texas, where the climatic change was heralded by misting rains and lowering temperatures.

Men of the blizzard-swept region saw some relief in weather predictions today although the heavy fall of snow continued until well after midnight.

Upwards of six inches of snow fell in Denver, and driving winds caused drifting that handicapped traffic. Wyoming, lashed by a blizzard that paralyzed transportation and stopped all air mail, was offered some relief in predictions of generally clear weather over the state.

COOLIDGES JOIN IN THANKSGIVING

SWANANNOA CLUB, near Waynesboro, Virginia, Nov. 29 (AP)—President and Mrs. Coolidge turned from their quiet week-end country residence near here today to join with citizens of Charlottesville, home of Thomas Jefferson, in Thanksgiving worship.

They arose to hear that Governor and Mrs. Trumbull of Connecticut had formally announced the engagement of their daughter, Florence, to John Coolidge, son of the President and Mrs. Coolidge.

Back in the kitchen of Swanannona, the country estate where the president is spending his brief vacation in Virginia, a big turkey was in the broiler waiting for Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge to return from Charlottesville this evening.

The president planned to leave Swanannona in time for union Thanksgiving services in the First Baptist church. He had accepted an invitation for luncheon directly afterward with Edwin Anderson Alderman, president of the University of Virginia, to which Governor Meade of North Carolina, Governor Byrd of Virginia, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and a company of fifty guests also had been bidden.

WOMEN ENTER IN ROTHSTEIN DEATH TANGLE

GAMBLER'S WIDOW AND FORMER SHOW GIRL HEARD BY JURY

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 29—Three women appeared on the stage of the Arnold Rothstein melodrama today, one of them the widow of the slain gambler.

The federal grand jury called Mrs. Caroline Rothstein, the widow, and Gertie Ward, a former show girl, to appear before it for what assistance they might give in the investigation into the gambler's reputed connection with a narcotic syndicate.

The third woman was Bridget Fahey, a chambermaid in the hotel where Rothstein was shot. She was held in $5,000 bail as a material witness after she had identified George McManus as the man who occupied the hotel room where the shooting occurred.

McManus, held without bail on suspicion of the murder of Rothstein, is the only one so far against whom any charge has been made, but counting Miss Ward, six persons are held in jail as material witnesses.

The $10,000 bail set for James Meehan, host at the high stake gambling party believed to have furnished the motive for the shooting of Rothstein, was reduced to $10,000 today.

McManus, whose overcoat was found in room 349 of the Park Central hotel after Rothstein was shot there, can be held only until Friday morning on the short affidavit which charges him with killing the gambler. On Friday he will be given a court hearing.

Promotion Of Air Officers, Problem

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Promotion of officers is the most pressing problem in the air corps of the army. Assistant Secretary F. Trubee Davison told the secretary of war today in his annual report, saying the junior officers are performing duties all out of proportion to their rank. As a result the officer morale is seriously impaired, he said. Secretary Davison urged a solution by legislation during the coming session of congress.

Mr. Davison said that there is a shortage of aircraft in the army.

"It now seems that the complete program should call for 2,400 planes, rather than 1,800," he declared. "Motor development in the air corps has been seriously handicapped by the fact that thousands of liberty motors were left over from the war," he continued. "The liberty motor is unreliable, inefficient, and uneconomical compared with modern motors, and congress should not be asked to appropriate any more funds for planes equipped with them."

Officer Testifies To Lax Inspection

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP)—Testimony of a veteran of the United States steamboat inspection service that he did not lower the lifeboat of the steamer Vestris, as required by law, when he inspected her prior to her last voyage, today was part of the record of the federal investigation into the tragedy.

Edward Geane, whose routine report of the condition of the lifeboat requirements had been completed and testified that he had tested the launching gear, but that because the Vestris was flanked by barges and lighters at the time he did not lower the lifeboats to the water.

The printed form of the Vestris inspection, Keane had written "yes" in reply to the question as to whether the boats had been lowered. Keane has been an inspector 17 years.

Keane said he had "partly" examined the Vestris coal bunkers when the ship was in drydock, and found the vessel's hull to be satisfactory.

Wide Search For Escaped Prisoners

PORT STOCKTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Poses of this and nearby country scoured the country between Port Stockton and the border today for three prisoners, Van Finchum, J. L. Bridges and Howard Savage, who escaped from the county jail last night after overpowering Deputy Sheriff C. I. Miller.

The trio, held on a cattle theft charge, called Miller early last night and asked that he light a stove in their cell. When the officer attempted to comply, the prisoners overpowered him, prized open their cell door and fled. Miller fired three shots, but it was not determined whether any took effect.

Belief was that the men would head for the border, about 80 miles south.

Another prisoner, held on assault with intent to murder charge, refused to participate in the escape.

Police Given Iron Edict In Chicago

CHICAGO, Nov. 29 (AP)—Police Commissioner William Russell laid down the law to his cabinet of deputies last night, telling them to clean up Chicago or quit their jobs, and then by way of demonstrating, went "over the head" of a deputy commissioner to conduct a raid on the south side.

The raid, conducted by Captain O'Connor of the commissioner's office, was on the second floor of the building occupied by the Granada cafe, one of the bright spots of south side night life. The cafe itself was not involved, although a Thanksgiving eve crowd was thrown into excitement by the rush of the raiders across the dance floor to the door leading to the upstairs rooms. Roulette wheels and other gambling paraphernalia were seized and four men arrested.

TEXAS VOTES MAY BE SPLIT DUE TO ERROR

MISUSE MAY TAKE TWO ELECTORAL BALLOTS FROM REPUBLICAN

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Nov. 29—The possibility that the vote of a state might be split in the electoral college for the fourth time has been here as the canvass of the general election vote neared completion.

Two republican electors, who resigned and never were certified by Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state have been receiving votes. Mrs. McCallum said some printing companies printed tally sheets bearing the names of the two resigned electors instead of the names of those named to replace them, but that they should not appear on any of the official ballots. She said the mistake was made in several counties to their canvass and determine whether ballots actually were cast for the resigned electors, or whether votes cast for those who replaced them were credited to those who resigned because of the erroneous tally sheets. If the votes actually were cast for the resigned men indications were that democratic electors would poll more votes than these two republican electors.

Grierson declared following an autopsy today. Huff fell to the floor just before the end of the sixth and final round after his opponent, Emil Bartoch, of Cleveland had delivered a series of blows to the head. He was carried out to a hospital unconscious and died an hour later in a hospital.

Bartoch who fights under the ring name of Chuck Mangin, was arrested on a charge of manslaughter and released on $5,000 bond.

Body Of Stain Man Is Found In Alley

CHICAGO, Nov. 29 (AP)—The body of Joseph Decorado, stripped of all clothing and wrapped in a blanket, was found last night in an alley on the west side. He was shot, police learned, when he attempted to steal Thanksgiving Day fowls from James Vilona, a butcher shop.

Vilona, armed with a shotgun, sat up all Tuesday night guarding the large stock of turkeys in his store. Decorado broke into the shop during the night and was shot when he refused to surrender. Companions dragged him to a waiting automobile and escaped, later disposing of his body.

Intensive Booze Drive Is Planned

GALVESTON, Tex., Nov. 29 (AP)—Federal prohibition officers are planning an intensive drive on the Gulf coast to check the flow of pre-holiday liquor, the Galveston Tribune said today.

Four schooners, the newspaper said, were known by authorities to have been doing a thriving business in bringing intoxicants from the West Indies and transferring them to fast launches near Galveston. Officers have obtained possession of the name of a vessel from which a recently-seized launch obtained its cargo, but efforts to locate the craft have been fruitless.

New Commissioner In Chicago Tough

CHICAGO, Nov. 29 (AP)—John Stege, deputy police commissioner, pointed out today that 10 robbers have been killed by policemen since William F. Russell became commissioner of police August 1.

This number is greater, Stege said than were killed during the entire 16 months regime of Commissioner Russell's predecessor, "Go-Get-Em Mike" Hughes.

CONTINENT IS WORRIED AT PUBLICITY GIVEN U. S. PRODUCTS

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Nov. 29 (AP)—Europe's reaction toward the Latin-American trip of President-elect Hoover has aroused much interest in the Rio de Janeiro press which says that the publicity which American products thus indirectly receive apparently is worrying European exporters.

The Journal Do Brazil for instance says that an announcement in London that a fleet of airplanes will soon make a good will visit to South America is the first European step toward combating the effects of Mr. Hoover's visit and to call attention to British goods.
