

STORM DEATH TOLL MOUNTS TO 68

Aiken's Case Ready For Jurors This Afternoon

CHARGE IS BEING DRAWN BY MCGUIRE

PARADE OF WITNESSES USED IN TESTIMONY TUESDAY, TODAY

BY J. SAM LEWIS (Staff Correspondent)
LAMESA, May 7.—Judge Gordon B. McGuire this afternoon was to give his charge to the jury in the trial of J. W. "Bud" Aiken for the slaying of D. F. Cox following the close of testimony this morning. Judge McGuire recessed court from 11 o'clock until 1:30 to prepare his instructions.

A. W. Gordon, county attorney and assisting in the prosecution, will open for the state followed by T. S. Christopher, of the defense. T. L. Price, district attorney, will close for the state. It is expected the jury will receive the case before 6 o'clock.

New Witnesses Called
The state called to the stand a number of new witnesses in rebuttal testimony in addition to several used Tuesday.

Witnesses were: Newton Allen, M. C. Marshall, A. M. Bennett, George Lightfoot, H. W. Gray, Granville Wyatt, "Andy" Anderson, V. L. Parker, W. R. Kelly, Bill Chilton, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Gable, J. E. O'Quinn, S. A. Jackson, Robert Lerrick, A. B. Holt, A. L. Boyd and A. W. Matthews.

The defense in rebuttal used I. W. Aiken, father of the accused and J. M. Gill.
Judge McGuire last night held a two-hour session, lasting until nearly 10 o'clock, featured by the dramatic appearance on the stand of the accused and also a surprise witness, H. W. Gray, who was standing at the public weighing place in the same city block the night of the slaying and who saw the dead man drop to the ground.

Aiken was the star witness for the defense. His forceful claim of self-defense, made with the statement that he believed that Cox was about to kill him and that it was a case of "I had to kill Cox to keep him from killing me," is a burden that T. L. Price, district attorney, spent the night gathering his forces in order to overcome.

ACUFF MAN IS DIRECTOR
EARL DAVIS SUCCEEDS R. E. OVERSTREET ON BOARD
Earl Davis, of Acuff, was elected director of district 18, including Lubbock, Hockley, Cochran, Terry and Yoakum counties, at a meeting yesterday in Dallas, of the board of directors of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton association.

Mr. Davis will succeed R. E. Overstreet, of Lubbock, who announced the election upon return early today from Dallas.
W. F. Moore, of Levelland, and Mr. Davis were the two men considered for the position.

New Master Farmer Contest
An outstanding farmer of Lubbock county, Mr. Davis has been a member of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton association since 1923. His farm is to be scored this year when the program starts toward selection of the state's 10 master farmers.

Mr. Davis will succeed R. E. Overstreet, of Lubbock, who announced the election upon return early today from Dallas.
W. F. Moore, of Levelland, and Mr. Davis were the two men considered for the position.

SENATE VOTES PARKER DOWN AS JUSTICE

NOMINATION LOSES IN BALLOTS; FIRST SINCE 1894
WASHINGTON, May 7.—The senate today rejected John J. Parker as an associate justice of the Supreme Court. The vote was 41 to 39.

The North Carolina judge missed confirmation after ten days of debate centering on his attitude toward organized labor and the negro.

It was the first Supreme Court nomination to be rejected since 1894.

The senate's decision left vacant the seat of the late Justice Sanford.

CANNON MAY BE ATTACKED
METHODISTS LIKELY TO CHARGE BISHOP IN ACTIVITIES
DALLAS, May 7.—A contemplated attack on Bishop James Cannon, jr., of Virginia lent a controversial hue today to the opening of the quadrennial conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, South here.

The charges, expected to be brought by a member of the Georgia delegation, will deal specifically with Bishop Cannon's participation in politics, according to reports current among delegates.

The bishop has refused to discuss the charges, or to comment on the testimony given in Washington yesterday before the congressional lobby committee. In this testimony, E. C. Jamieson of New York, prominent in republican affairs, testified as to an alleged discrepancy in a fund he gave Bishop Cannon for the fight against Alfred E. Smith in the last presidential race.

Five Charges Prepared
It was learned that five general charges have been prepared as a basis for the effort at prosecution of Bishop Cannon—that he has been an active lobbyist, that he has

MOTHER KILLS 7 OF HER CHILDREN
COLUMBUS, O. May 7.—(AP)—Their hearts pierced by bullets from a revolver fired by their mother, seven children of Mrs. Ethel Geller, 44, lay dead today.

Friends of Mrs. Geller, twice married and the mother of 11 children, believed she despaired of her struggle to support them by selling newspapers, or was distraught by the belief that her second husband, a negro, would soon be released from the state penitentiary where he is serving a sentence on a statutory charge.

Mrs. Geller shot the children late yesterday and then turned the gun upon herself. Physicians said she might recover.

"BONNY VOYAGE" TO SIR HARRY

Many celebrities gathered to bid farewell to Sir Harry Lauder below, center, noted Scotch singer, as he sailed from New York at the end of his American tour. A passenger on the same ship was Douglas Fairbanks, screen star, left. At the right is Maurice Chevalier, French musical comedy actor who is now making talkies in this country.

BARR SAYS CENSUS FIGURES WILL BE AVAILABLE FOR LUBBOCK TOMORROW; ESTIMATE OF C. OF C. GIVES 20,050

While the local staff of enumerators are checking the nine districts of the city, I. E. Barr, census supervisor for the seventh district, announced today that figures will probably be available on Lubbock's official population by tomorrow morning.

ESTIMATE IS 20,050
The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, working upon a ratio compiled through official census figures of 1910 and 1920, today estimated the population of Lubbock at 20,050.

Chamber officials struck a common ratio, they said, through the number of scholars, telephone subscribers and water users and, applying the ratio to previous federal counts, hit upon the present estimate.

They pointed out, however, that their estimate is not official and that no advance information concerning the present count has been received.

Chamber of commerce literature has carried the estimate of 20,000 persons ever since the last scholastic enumeration, several months ago.

Interest has been centered sharply on the local census, due to the vast growth this city has undergone during the past decade. Lubbock's unprecedented growth from 4,051 in 1920 to a city which at present is contending for the metropolitan position of West Texas, has created a wide fluctuation of census estimates.

Conservative business men of Lubbock are estimating the city's population from 17,500 to 20,500.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(AP)—Compton, California, with a 1930 census tally of 12,291, a 731.58 per cent increase over 1920, today too the increase percentage lead among cities of 10,000, away from Hopewell, Va., which reported 11,325 population, an increase of 70.7 per cent.

PIPPEN CALLS FOR SPEED IN NAMING JURY

FINE AND SENTENCE IN JAIL THREATENED AS PENALTY
(By Associated Press)
COURTROOM, DALLAS, May 7.—Dist. Judge C. A. Phippen, ruffled by the slowness with which the jury for the second trial of John W. Brady of Austin was being selected, today threatened to levy a fine and jail sentence on Maury Hughes of Dallas, defense counsel.

Hughes had asked A. M. Smith, the second venireman examined today, whether he had any prejudice against a married man having an affair with a woman other than his wife. The judge several times yesterday had sustained an objection to that question.

To Be Fined, Jailed
"If you ask that question another time, I will fine you $100 and sentence you to three days in jail each time you ask it," Judge Phippen said.

"But, your honor, we want the record to show that we objected to your ruling on each venireman," Hughes replied.

"Your bill of exceptions can cover all," the judge advised tersely.

The usually serene judge presiding officer previously had refused to permit Hughes to ask the prospective juror whether he had any prejudice against a defense of insanity occasioned by excessive drinking.

"Is Our Defense"
"But this is our defense," the tenacious defense attorney interposed.

"I know of only one kind of insanity," the judge replied. "You may ask him whether he has any prejudice against insanity as a defense."

The defense exercised its first challenge of the day on Smith, bringing its total to five. The first 18 men examined did not yield a juror to add to the three who were

Three More Traffic Signals Installed
Additional traffic signals which, when completed, will increase the total in the mercantile district of Lubbock to 9, are being installed at Texas Avenue and Main, Main street and Avenue J, and 13th street, and Avenue J.

The three additional signals will soon be in operation. Need for the signals at the three intersections, particularly on Main street, has become obvious within recent months, due to the heavy traffic which has apparently tried to avoid signals on Broadway. Chief of Police John Leonard said.

SOUTH AND CENTRAL TEXAS AREAS STRUCK; ONE TOWN IS WIPED OUT; HUNDREDS HURT

(By Associated Press)
DALLAS, May 7.—Tornadoes that swept various parts of Texas yesterday took a known death toll of 68, practically destroyed one town and did great property damage in other scattered sections, reports here revealed today.

The greatest death toll was reported in and near Runge, Karnes county, where only meager details of the storm had trickled in over crippled communication facilities.

Twenty-nine persons were reported to have lost their lives in that area. Only five of them were identified. The other dead were said to have been members of the families of twenty-four farmers. No mention was made of the property damage.

Frost, in Navarro county, was the next hardest hit. The storm, which almost obliterated the town, took the lives of 25 residents.

Rehabilitation work at that place was started after highway crews had cleared roads of debris and communication facilities had been restored.

Business men of Corsicana and Hillsboro and other cities met with those of the stricken towns and offered any aid necessary in erecting temporary buildings for carrying on their businesses.

Red Cross workers also were on the scene treating the injured. The tornado that struck Frost also took three lives near Sallis, where some property damage also was reported.

Seven persons were killed at Bynum, Hill county, and the other deaths were taken at San Antonio where one was killed, and near West, where two were killed.

KNOWN DEAD ARE LISTED
DALLAS, May 7.—(AP)—The known death list in Texas towns struck by tornadoes yesterday:

At Ennis: Baby daughter of Art Wagner, Bob Flanagan, Joseph Strand.

At San Antonio: J. C. Kleespies, At Bynum: Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Leibel and son, Brandon; Mrs. Emma Hoff; three negroes.

At Bronson: W. T. Strickland. At Runge: Ferdinand McHost, 72; Mrs. Pauline McHost, 65; Mrs. Francisco Villareal, Miss Cruz Villareal, Miss Celestina Villareal; Domingo Villareal, Mrs. Maria Herrera.

CASTLEBERRY NAMED PREXY
EASTLAND STUDENT IS ELECTED HEAD OF STUDENT BODY
Wayne Castleberry, of Eastland, a junior pre-law student of Texas Tech, was elected president of the institution's student body for the school year 1930-31 this morning in a hotly contested election held at convocation in the Matador gymnasium.

Castleberry won by a scant margin, defeating Orville Brothers, of Lubbock, on the final ballot.

James H. Dallas, of Brownfield, prominent track figure of the local institution, was named vice-president and Lizzie Belle Clements, of this city, a sophomore, was elected secretary-treasurer. Mose Witherspoon, a junior from Strawn, will represent the student body on the college athletic council.

WAR LEADER ILL

PARIS, May 7.—The serious illness of Marshal Joffre, below, who returned from Southern France a week ago, was made known tonight.

AMNESTY BILL CLAIMED VOID BY PETITION

SUPREME COURT GETS MOTION TODAY FROM D. W. WILCOX

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, May 7.—Claiming that the amnesty bill, enacted by the legislature in 1925, was void and unconstitutional, the state democratic committee today filed a motion in Supreme Court to dismiss the mandamus action of former Governor James E. Ferguson.

The motion to dismiss was filed by D. W. Wilcox, chairman of the state democratic committee.

Ferguson filed mandamus proceedings in the Supreme Court to compel the committee to certify his name for a place on the democratic ballot in the coming primary election, claiming that his rights, removed when he was impeached by the legislature, had been restored by the amnesty bill.

OFFICIALS OF SHOW ELECTED
HOPKINS IS MANAGER AGAIN; EATON ON COMMITTEE
Maury Hopkins, Plainview, was re-elected manager and five persons were named to compose the executive committee when directors of the annual husbandry department of Texas Technological college of this city; Roy H. Lubbock Seniors To Celebrate Thursday
Approximately 250 seniors of the Lubbock high school will arise early tomorrow morning and prepare for their annual jaunt to Silver Falls at Crockett, where the day will be spent in swimming, boating, and other recreations. The seniors plan to leave at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning.

This afternoon the class was in charge of final chapel exercises for the year and presented a short play at 5 o'clock. Books were checked in this morning and final preparations made for the school year.

PROGRAM FOR TCU PLANNED

ANNUAL BUDGET AND 10-YEAR BUILDING PROGRAM TALKED

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, May 7.—Recommendation that Christian Churches of Texas assume a budget of $25,000 annually for Texas Christian University, that a proposed 10-year program of $2,000,000 for building and endowment to be reaffirmed, and that closer co-operation be maintained between the churches and Bible College of the Bible, were among chief points of the annual report of President E. M. Waits before the forty-fifth annual Texas Christian convention here today.

"We should not lose sight of our ten-year program which was set up as a standard toward which we were to move, and which was approved by our state convention at Breckenridge last year," Mr. Waits said.

Should Make Plans
"We believe that the university should make some immediate plans for the financing of the first of these buildings and endowments—an auditorium—with our present resources and with the help of our Fort Worth friends.

"We believe that the second of these buildings, the commons, with its endowment should be undertaken by our alumni and ex-students. It is not the purpose of our board to launch an immediate campaign for these urgent needs at T. C. U., but to set up a goal toward which we are to travel through the next ten years. The realization of this goal is absolutely imperative to meet the expanding needs of our educational work."

Enrollment for the 1929-30 session at T. C. U. was shown by the report to be 1,334. The number of books in the school library was 50,073, a gain of 2,565 volumes during the year.

Total assets of the school as of Aug. 31, 1929, were $1,534,695.05, not including the Mary Couts Burnett endowment, the value of which was estimated to be $2,500,000. An appraisal of the T. C. U. properties, made during the current year, showed the replacement value to be $1,529,542.11. Current expenses for the fiscal year totaled $690,725.83.

Tribute Is Paid To Airmail Fliers

NEW YORK, May 7 (AP)—Tribute to the men who pioneered the airmail was paid Monday at the New York Air Show by Walter F. Brown, postmaster general, and other speakers.

"We have yet to hear of an airmail pilot who quit or even flinched in the face of the many dangers incident to his calling."

More than two million dollars worth of planes, are on exhibit, ranging from multi-passenger transport planes to small single seater sport planes.

IN PATH OF TORNADOES IN MIDDLE WESTERN STATES

Where the tornado struck first in Kansas—the wreckage pictured above shows how late Thursday a tornado cut its path of destruction about the farm of William Kemmerle, five miles north of Leavenworth, Kas., near where Lawrence Korn, a farmer was killed. Mr. and Mrs. Kemmerle were buried in the wreckage of their home and narrowly escaped death from fire when a stove was overturned. Mrs. Kemmerle dragged her husband to safety and extinguished the fire. Upper photo shows the wreckage of the garage. The center photo is of the barn and the lower photo shows the wrecked home.

LUBBOCK'S EXCLUSIVE FLOWER HOUSE

More Than Two Hundred Attend Open House Held By Dr. And Mrs. Campbell

New Home Attractively Decorated In Red Roses For Affair Tuesday Night

More than 200 members of the First Baptist church and other friends attended open house in the lovely new brick home of Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Campbell, 1913 Broadway, Tuesday evening from 8 to 10 o'clock. Dr. Campbell is pastor of the First Baptist church, and prominent church workers, most of whom are officers in the various departments, formed the house party.

The home was beautifully decorated in baskets of red roses and bouquets, and a bowl of these flowers centered the dining room table, which was covered with a cream-colored damask cloth of lace and edged with tall yellow tapers in silver holders tied with orchid lilies. Punch was served from a large, crystal bowl.

In receiving line
Guests were greeted at the door by Mesdames E. L. Klett and O. A. Fryer, and were introduced to the following members of the receiving line: Dr. and Mrs. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Carroll, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Campbell.

Those showing the guests through the house were Mesdames Prader, McCrummen, D. J. Wilhelm, and W. M. Lawrence, while Mesdames R. M. Chittwood, J. H. Hankins, T. W. Sawyer, and Maple Wilson presided at the punch bowl.

Others in the house party were Mesdames Ed Allen, L. B. Hodges, J. G. Biffin, C. L. Fowler, and Miss Elsie Lawrence.

Entertainment was furnished throughout the evening by Mrs. Frank Batkay, who sang and played her own accompaniment, and by Mesdames Larner, Blanche Fann, and Lula Denham, who played the violin.

Brahms Program Is To Be Held Tonight

Members of the Lubbock Music club and their friends will attend an all-Brahms program this evening at 8:15 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Roscoe Wilson, 2201 Broadway.

Those to take part on the program will be Hennis Baumeister and Mesdames E. F. George, G. L. Tuve, T. J. Beck, Carl Patton, L. J. von Tumpeln, Richard L. Douglas, H. E. Blocker, George N. Atkinson, Roscoe Wilson and G. E. McElvey.

Jack Diamond And Miss Ross To Wed

Of interest to a number of friends here is announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Willie Ross of White-wright and William C. (Jack) Diamond of Lubbock. The announcement was made last Friday afternoon when Miss Mary Lou Ross and Mrs. John Q. Adams entertained at the home of their mother, Mrs. W. T. Ross, with a bridge party for 20 guests. The wedding will take place May 15.

Receiving were the hostesses, the honoree, and Mrs. W. T. Ross. The rooms were decorated with ferns and cut spring flowers, emphasizing a color scheme of green and white.

Table is lavishly
The tables were laid with Madeira covers and in the center of each was a crystal basket tied with tulle and filled with white roses and valley lilies. Bridal place cards seated the guests who were served an ice course in colors of green and white. On the plate were miniature scrolls announcing the date of the marriage.

Miss Ross is well known in Lubbock having spent parts of the past two summers here. She visited in Lubbock in March as the guest of her twin sister, Mrs. Lois Watkins, 2814 19th street.

Art Exhibition Being Held Today

An exhibition of her own art and pictures drawn by pupils is being made today and tomorrow by Miss Hazel Martin at her home, 2216 Broadway. The public is invited to attend the showing at any time during the two days.

KANSAS OFFICER KILLED BY NEGRO

BURLINGTON, Kas., May 7 (AP)—Under Sheriff G. M. Richmond, 32, was shot to death and Marshal George Griffith was wounded here Tuesday by an unidentified negro, who himself was killed when he surrendered to a posse of about 100 men.

The negro was at first identified as Fred Johnson, who cut his wife's throat while they lived at Emporia, a year ago, but persons who knew Johnson, after viewing the body, said it was not he.

The officers were called when the negro was reported to be terrorizing residents in the south part of town with a shotgun. As the under-sheriff approached from his motor car, the negro sent a fatal volley from his shotgun into Richmond's right breast.

He turned upon Griffith and inflicted gunshot wounds in his face and shoulder. Griffith is expected to recover.

The negro barricaded himself in a wooden house and stood off the posse before he fled across a vacant lot, where he took refuge behind a cow.

The man then said he was ready to surrender and the posse opened fire as he stepped into range. The negro's body was riddled with several wounds, and he was killed and shot.

NEWS BRIEFS

Clyde Tatum who underwent an operation on his head yesterday at the West Texas hospital will return to his home, 2913 6th street, this evening. He is improving satisfactorily.

W. A. Stegall of Amarillo, training master for the Fort Worth and Denver, and Guy C. Victory of Lubbock, traffic representative at Lubbock, spent Tuesday in Plainview on business.

Mrs. R. L. McKnight and her infant son have been released from the West Texas hospital and are at home at 2000 Main street.

J. S. Fowler of Claremore is a business visitor here today.

Miss Pauline Scott of Wichita Falls is visiting friends here.

Marriage licenses have been issued from the county clerk's office in Clovis, New Mexico, to the following Lubbock couples: Charles B. McClung and Mrs. Lena Haglund; H. T. Franklin and Miss Lula Bailey.

L. H. Lewis has returned to his home in Floydada after a business trip here.

"Henry Esmond" Is Studied By Group

Members of the New Era study club met with Mrs. A. H. Crawford, 2426 20th street, Tuesday afternoon for a lesson on Thackeray's "Henry Esmond".

At a short business meeting it was decided to hold a luncheon in the near future.

Mrs. Charles Whitacre was leader of the discussion and was assisted by Mesdames A. H. Crawford, and J. C. Craig.

Others present were Mesdames Y. W. Rogers, R. F. Humphries, Robert Hawley, E. L. Banks, G. W. Moses and Della Hawkins.

Breakfast-Bridge Given On Tuesday

One of the pretty social events of the early week was a breakfast bridge party given Tuesday by Mrs. Jimmy Reno at the home of her mother, Mrs. Belle Smith, 614 Avenue N.

The breakfast was served in two courses and pastel shades were emphasized in all appointments.

Guests were Mesdames C. B. Phillips, Mike Brennan, J. A. Phillips, Dr. Forrest Lindsey, A. F. Holt, H. D. Holt, Louis Winn, Wiley Dallas, Montell Ogden, Norma Roberts, A. D. Brown, C. E. Dean of Ralls, Ed O'Sullivan, W. B. Hearrell and Miss Dorothy Smith.

Shower Is Favor For Recent Bride

Mrs. J. S. Hufstetler and Miss Virginia Hufstetler joined in giving a pretty planned shower for Mrs. Lewis Tatum, recent bride, Tuesday afternoon in the home of the honoree's mother-in-law, Mrs. Claude Tatum, 1718 Avenue N.

Many lovely gifts were presented on a breakfast set, which was also a gift, and conversation and informal games were enjoyed during the remainder of the afternoon.

Salad Course Served
Refreshment time, ice-box salad, tuna fish sandwiches, and coffee topped with whipped cream were served to Mesdames J. J. Graham, O. Hufstetler, Ned Smiley, J. H. Lewis, Claude Tatum, Clyde G. Tatum, and the two hostesses.

Workers' Conference Will Be Held

A workers' conference will be held at the First Presbyterian church this evening at 8 o'clock.

Branch Offices To Be Selected Soon

CHICAGO, May 7 (AP)—At least five branch offices of the Farmers National Grain corporation will be established as soon as possible to be functioning in time for the 1936 harvest, C. E. Huff, president, has announced.

A district manager will be in charge of each office, Huff said, who will have jurisdiction over terminals and sub-terminals in each area and will be directly responsible to the Chicago office. Not all the sites of the branch offices are decided on, Huff added.

The southwest territory, embracing all the hard winter areas will center in a branch office at Kansas City, Mo.

Much Oil Sent To Hobbs Territory

BROWNFIELD, May 7.—(Special)—Between three and five truck loads of oil per week are hauled from Brownfield to Hobbs, new oil town in eastern New Mexico by W. M. Adams, local wholesale oil dealer.

There are five other dealers in Brownfield and all of them haul nearly as much oil as Adams. He is the oldest, however, and has a large trade worked up.

Lucille Moxley And Winfield Watkins Are Married Here Tuesday Afternoon

Miss Lucille Moxley, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Moxley, 1609 14th street, became the bride of Winfield D. Watkins Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church. Dr. Jack Lewis, pastor, officiated for the ring ceremony which was read in the presence of 800 relatives and friends.

The couple left immediately after the ceremony for an automobile trip to Roswell and El Paso. They are to return Sunday and will make their home at 1621 Avenue Y.

The altar before which the vows were spoken was embellished with ferns. Five candelabrum, each with five snow-white lighted candles rose from the altar and a basket of Calla lilies added floral charm to the scene.

Mrs. Douglas Sings
Proceeding the ceremony, Mrs. Richard L. Douglas, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ross McWhorter, sang, "I Love You Truly."

Mrs. Douglas was wearing a frock of flowered net over yellow satin, with a picture hat in her hair; and to music, which Mrs. McWhorter was frocked in flesh chiffon with a rust-colored velvet bow at the side and a touch of lace at the neck. Mrs. McWhorter's slippers and lace hat also were in a rust color.

Wedding March Played
As the bridal party entered, Mrs. McWhorter softly played Lohengrin's Wedding March.

Miss Moxley wore an exquisite gown of white tulle, with rows of tiny white satin ribbon being brought around the waist of the frock and tied in small bows at the center front. Ruffles of tulle formed the skirt. Orange blossoms were worn on either side of a white tulle hat and at a low neckline in the back. The bride carried a shiver bouquet of white roses and valley lilies, combined with adiantum fern, and tied with a huge bow of white chiffon.

Miss Kate Boyd, who was maid of honor in the wedding, was lovely in a frock of flowered net over orchid satin. Her orchid picture hat was of horsehair braid, and she carried a colonial bouquet of Joana Hill roses and orchid sweet peas tied with orchid chiffon.

Green and peach were the colors favored in costumes of bridesmaids, Misses Mary Snyder, Anne Snyder, Geraldine Smith and Blanche Bradley. Each frock was of organza or silk satin, designed with a lace yoke and a ruffled skirt which tipped the floor. Picture hats of natural horsehair braid trimmed in velvet ribbon to match made the effect more feminine, and each bridesmaid wore mits of white lace, which were gifts from the bride.

Arm Casings Worn
Misses Anne Snyder and Blanche Bradley, who were frocked in green, wore colonial wrist bouquets fashioned of white roses and pink and white sweet peas tied with pink chiffon, while Misses Mary Snyder and Geraldine Smith, whose costumes were of peach, wore colonial arm bouquets of white roses and pink and white sweet peas tied with pink chiffon.

The groom's attendants were Walker Watkins of Ralls, brother of the groom, best man, and James Allen, John Keathley, Weldon Hankins, and Frank Wright, ushers.

Those attending the ceremony from Ralls were Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Watkins, parents of the groom, and Mesdames Roy Cooper, F. I. Haney, A. L. Winfrey, C. E. Dean, Edd McLaughlin and P. B. Ralls.

Other out-of-town guests were Mrs. F. C. Yarbrough of Oklahoma City, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Zimpher of Amarillo, and Mesdames Clifton Jarrott, C. N. Harrison and Wallace Clark, all of Canyon.

Will Receive Degree
Mrs. Watkins will receive her B. A. degree from Texas Technological college in June. She is a former student of Texas Presbyterian college, Milford, and is a graduate of Ward-Belmont at Nashville, Tennessee. She is a popular member of Sans Souci club here.

Mr. Watkins is cashier of the Lubbock Cotton Oil company.

Dinner Honoring Mrs. B. H. Watkins Held

Mrs. B. H. Watkins of Meadow was honored on her 78th birthday Sunday when a group of friends and relatives joined in giving her a birthday dinner in her home.

Roses were used to decorate the table and a huge cake was cut and served with the meal. A host of lovely gifts was given the honoree.

Those attending the dinner were G. W. Watkins and family of Lubbock, O. W. Queen Crowned By Camp Fire Groups

Carrie Jane Thomas was crowned queen of Lubbock Camp Fire Monday evening on the pretty lawn of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Pridoux, 2408 20th street. The crown was draped in Indian rugs and set in an arduous of roses.

Carrie Jane wore a ceremonial gown, moose-cape and a string of honor beads and was crowned by Mrs. George C. Wolfarth, president of the council. Parents and friends of the girls were present.

A lovely service, interpreting the laws of the Camp Fire organization, was held, and those taking part were Norma June Critch, Willie Merrell Sumner, Mary Margaret Carter, Virginia Barnett, Dorothy Skelton, Kathryn Bell, Mary Elizabeth Brown, Anna Margaret Bourland, Thelma Gilliam, Marcella Fryar, Ethel Jean Seales, Janet Barnett, Gladys Hall, Louis Wright, Annabel Jones, Fernie Carpenter, Ernestine Sumner, Jane Wilson, Margaret Brown, Mary Ruth Young, Frances Campbell, Pauline Travis, Frances Simmons, Elizabeth Prince, Addie Lee Terrell, Vondelle Pridoux, Larue Barrier, Mary Edwards Sarah Sue Stewart, Elizabeth Ann Price, Thelma Blanton, Frances Clay, Ardelle Ragland, Mollie Ragland, Evelyn Bull, Lola Pay Brown, Pauline Kirby, Zulu Pearl Blalock, Eunice Fields, Jennie Parker, and Janette Barnett.

At the close of a pleasant hour spent in playing games of forty-two, the hostess, assisted by her son, Leroy, served strawberry shortcake topped with whipped cream with spiced tea.

Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames E. H. Martin, J. F. Anthony, Pascal Peak, Clinton Gaskill, E. Paul Carter, S. A. Beard, D. A. Forbes, C. M. Oakley, M. M. Brown, and Mesdames S. A. Umphries and C. W. Moore.

New Forum Members Announced At Event Given On Tech Campus Tuesday

Announcement of new members of the Forum, Texas Technological club, was made at an annual garden party given by that organization yesterday at 6 o'clock at the college. Because of the rain, the reception was held inside the lobby of the administration building.

Bowls of sweetpeas, roses and snapdragons mixed with ferns were placed on tables and on the piano. Mesdames Orene McEllan and Margaret Trigg presided at the punch bowl.

Program Is Given
During the afternoon a miscellaneous program was given with Mesdames Sue Brown and Alice Claire Teague playing piano numbers. Miss Hilma Bartlett read and Miss Josephine Winslow favored the group with a violin solo with Miss Marjorie Muligan at the piano. Mrs. Elbridge W. Eagan sang a solo and graciously responded with another delightful number. She was accompanied at the piano by Miss Margaret Turner.

New members introduced were Mesdames Margaret Baskin, Cornelia McCann, Kathleen Harman, Orla Singley, Hazel Gruver and Ellabeth Schott. Officers for the ensuing year are as follows: president, Miss Nell Goodloe; secretary, Miss Orene McEllan; chairman of membership committee, Miss Marjorie Ann Alingworth; business manager, Miss Jean Shelley Jeannette.

Sunrise Breakfast
The Forum entertained with a sunrise breakfast Sunday morning for the incoming members. Each girl is either of junior or senior standing.

Outgoing officers are: president, Miss Margaret Williams; secretary, Miss Nell Goodloe; business manager, Miss Kate Presley and chairman of committee, Miss Sarah Michie.

Program Held For Delphian Chapter
"Eighteenth Century Drama" furnished the basis for discussions at a meeting of the Delphian chapter Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. L. B. Sioneker, 2013 10th street. Mrs. Arthur L. Brown was leader for the afternoon.

The preliminary survey was given by Mrs. W. E. McDonald, and talks were made by Mesdames H. W. Richardson, Frank Owen Jones, R. G. Shelton, Carl Brunt and Sam Stewart.

It was voted to hold the club's annual luncheon May 22. One new member, Mrs. G. J. Reynolds, was received into the group and 20 old members attended the session. Two visitors, Mesdames Noel Stalnaker and Frank Jones, also were present.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. C. C. Webb, 2001 22nd street, with Mrs. Arthur L. Brown in charge of the lesson.

It is the opinion of many authorities that by eliminating the year and adopting a perpetual calendar economic requirements will be better served.

MOODY'S PLEA IS TAKEN AS UNION MOVE

GOVERNOR THOUGHT TO HALT ATTEMPT OF INDEPENDENTS

BY R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer
AUSTIN, May 7 (P).—Political observers at the capitol see in Gov. Moody's statement pleading for harmony within the democratic party in Texas and relegating to the "forgotten part" animosities of the 1928 presidential campaign when enough democrats left the party and put in with the republicans to give

Herbert Hoover electors a majority in the state, an appeal to the faction that refused to support the democratic nominees to forego their announced plan to place an independent ticket in the field this fall.

Those who have been barred by the state democratic executive committee from participating as candidates for state offices in the 1930 primaries because of their leaving the party in the Smith-Hoover controversy, were expected to hold a convention and organize an independent group of candidates in the event the State Supreme Court upheld the right of the executive to proscribe the errant ones.

Gesture Made Recently
A gesture towards forming an independent organization was made recently by Alvin Moody of Houston, and other leaders in the Smith revolt of 1928, but definite action was deferred at the request of Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas until the Supreme Court could act on his application for a mandamus to compel the state executive committee to put his name on the primary ballots.

The theory is that Gov. Moody hoped to avert by his statement a stampede of the bolters to an independent candidate's banner.

He pointed out, without referring to the threatened break that there were many perplexing state governmental problems awaiting solution, and to keep alive the differences engendered during the presidential campaign would be ruinous to their proper disposition.

Felt Over Nation
"Any dissection or disintegration in the democratic party in Texas is felt throughout the nation, because our state heretofore has been the banner democratic state of the union," was regarded as a significant passage in Gov. Moody's statement, designed to attract the faction that would be likely to support an independent movement in event the Supreme Court upheld the committee's right to bar as candidates those who bolted. This declaration was followed by the suggestion: "WE SHOULD SETTLE OUR DIFFERENCES WITHIN THE PARTY AND PRESENT A UNITED FRONT AGAINST THE ENEMIES OF GOOD GOVERNMENT."

Going further, he laid emphasis in this manner, designed, they say, to make the wavering ones take a second thought before going off behind another party flag:

Party for Progress
"The democratic party is one of progressive principles and good government; the economic welfare of the south depends upon the democratic party advancing its progressive principles which are designed to protect and promote the welfare of the common people.

"The welfare of Texas very largely depends upon a united democratic party standing for honest and efficient government. IT IS THE PLACE FOR FRIENDS OF GOOD GOVERNMENT IN TEXAS. People in sympathy with the established principles of the party should help build it up and promote harmony within its ranks."

"THE VOTE AND INFLUENCE OF ALL SUPPORTERS OF GOOD GOVERNMENT IS NEEDED, and when some democrats are busy fighting other democrats over the issues of the last national campaign, a situation is created which does not help solve state economic problems."

An appeal to the prohibitionists among those who might be expected to stray off was seen in this passage: "Some people seem to think the republican party is more friendly to prohibition than the democratic party, but in my judgment the republican party is more the enemy of prohibition than is organized democracy."

Political prognosticators see in these excerpts the main cause for the governor's statement appealing for party harmony at this time. They regarded it as timed to precede any outbreak that might occur from the Supreme Court's action, and intended as a timely admonition against hasty action.

RED SOX CONTINUE "HARD LUCK" ROLE IN AMERICAN LEAGUE

GOLF, NET CHAMPS ALL IN EUROPE

Uncle Sam's amateur golf and tennis players new in Europe

The United States' four golf and tennis champions are all in Europe today seeking additional sport honors on foreign soil. Bobby Jones, open golf king, Miss Glenna Collett, women's golf champion, and Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, tennis queen, have gone to England, and Big Bill Tilden is in France.

ROVING THE SPORTS WORLD

WITH ALLAN CARNEY
JOURNAL SPORTS EDITOR

Personnel of the Lubbock golf team which is to represent this city in the West Texas Golf association tournament this month at Brownwood will be determined by the performance of local club members in the annual country club open tournament. Qualifying play in this first tournament of the year starts today on the club links north of the city on the Plainview highway.

While Clinton Bussey, the present West Texas champion, is in the class to himself insofar as Lubbock golfers are concerned, the team that will represent Lubbock in the coming tournament at Brownwood is yet to be selected and there is a strong possibility that several unheralded players will come to the front and make strong bids for places on the team.

Rules for the first open tourney of the year are simple. Those seeking places in one of the three flights, whether members of the Lubbock Country Club or not, must signify their intentions of entering with J. W. Byrnes, club pro. Byrnes will sign your card and once the card is decorated with his John Henry, the round recorded on this particular sheet must be counted as your qualifying score. There will be no destroying this card and starting all over again so as to attempt a lower score. Flights, of course, will be arranged according to the qualifying scores. Ordinarily speaking, everything below 82 or 83 should be paired up in the first flight. There will be no entrance fees. It is planned to start match play early next week and have the finals come a week from Sunday.

A least one prominent Lubbock golfer will be out to regain lost prestige in the coming tournament and this is none other than Oscar Lykes, a round mat-about-town who declares that he always draws the toughest competition in match play. Down at Post last Sunday, Lykes encountered a par-shooting demon in the person of Cardwell. At the end of the first round, Lykes was leading his opponent by one hole, but came the second nine and Cardwell started dealing Old Man a few plenty of misery. Six consecutive pars and the Pride of Lubbock found himself five down and five to go. In true Lykes fashion, however, Oscar rallied to take the next 2 holes and the match ended 3 and 1.

A New York wise-cracker observes: "Of Leland didn't compete in the Ohio relays because he couldn't get away from his studies. Not even for 2-2 seconds?" Word comes from Amarillo that Gib Jackson, former Lubbock diamond flash, has signed up to play center field for the Tactless Texans this season. "Gib" spent most of his baseball days right here in this Plains Hub, but since accepting a position with the Clements Sporting Goods shop in Amarillo, will go back to playing with his old Hubber boys. SEVEN GAMES LOST BY ONE RUN MARGINS

A'S AND INDIANS ARE STILL IN TIE; GIANTS WIN

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer.
The Boston Red Sox already have gone a long way toward taking the role of "hard luck" team of the major leagues for the current season. The exact distance they have traveled is seven games out of the total of 141 they have played.

The Red Sox, with some fine pitching and often with good playing behind it, have lost these seven encounters by the margin of one run each. And there have been a few more games in which they have lost after seemingly having the victory sewed up as a result of late rallies.

Six Stage Rally
The Chicago White Sox combined the two variety of trouble yesterday to lose a 4 to 3 victory. Boston had a three run lead with Ed Morris doing a fine pitching job, then came the fifth inning, and a Chicago rally that drove Morris from the mound and produced four tallies.

In an effort to prevent such defeats, Manager Heinie Wagner engineered a player trade with the New York Yankees that sent Charlie Ruffing to New York in an even exchange for outfielder Cedric Durst.

Yanks Imitate Sox
The Yankees gave a good imitation of the Red Sox yesterday in losing a 7 to 6 decision to Cleveland. They lost a three run lead in the sixth inning, and then just kept pace with the runs a pair of homers produced for the Indians.

The Philadelphia Athletics won their sixth successive game, defeating the St. Louis Browns 4 to 1 behind the fine pitching of Rube Walberg. Washington held second place a half game behind by scoring three runs off Vic Sorrell in the first inning to beat Detroit 5 to 4.

The abrupt end of Brooklyn's seven game winning streak was the feature of the National league's afternoon. The Robins could not score against Fred Blake while the Chicago Cubs did a little better against Dazzy Vance to win by a 3 to 1 score.

Giants Hit Heavy
The New York Giants went to an extreme of long distance hitting to take their second successive game from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 11 to 9. Four home runs in the first eight innings gave them a lead long enough to withstand Pittsburgh's six run rally in the eighth.

A pitching battle of veterans at Cincinnati saw Harry Seibold of the Boston Braves get the decision over Pete Donohue by a 4 to 3 count. Philadelphia and St. Louis were kept idle by rain.

EXPORTERS, BUFFS TIE UP
The Beaumont Exporters and Houston Buffs battled to a 1 to 1 tie yesterday in a game called in the tenth because of darkness, but the fates of schedules today sent them their respective routes without being able to settle the difference.

Dallas Steers, who went down before the Shreveport Sports 3 to 6 after a pitching duel between Dave Danforth and Vernon Underhill, were chalked up today for a tilt at Houston with the Buffs.

The Exporters were due to take on the Fort Worth Cats at Beaumont, and the Sports journeyed to Waco for a duel. The Spudders quitted Wichita Falls for a foray in the Indian camp at San Antonio. Games scheduled yesterday for the Cats at Wichita Falls and for the Indians at Waco were postponed because of rain.

Co-Ops Must Market All Grain By Board
WASHINGTON, May 7, (AP)—The Federal Farm Board has warned cooperatives financed by board funds through the Farmers National Grain corporation that they must market all of their grain under the supervision of that farmer-owned sales agency.

The purpose, the board said, was to assure volume and facilitate financing the consolidated marketing of grain gathered cooperatively so that the farmers national, which under the law, cannot handle more grain for non-members than for members, will be in a position to give the fullest service to farmers.

NEW YORK, May 7. — Max Schmeling, Teuton heavyweight, finally has made his peace with the New York State Athletic commission.

The solons of sport announce they are ready to grant Schmeling the license he needs to fight Jack Sharkey for the heavyweight championship in the Yankee stadium June 12 if the German will agree to three conditions.

1.—That he defend his title in New York within a year if he defeats Sharkey.
2.—That he meet an opponent approved by the commission.
3.—That the match be staged by a promoter acceptable to the commission.

To all three of these conditions, Schmeling readily agreed during the progress of a three-hour session with the commissioners yesterday.

In a debutante it's Charm

in a cigarette it's Taste

MANY FINE QUALITIES make up the "charm" that is Miss America's, but her genuine wholesomeness appeals most of all.

IN A CIGARETTE, TOO, the real appeal is wholesomeness of taste.

WITNESS CHESTERFIELD'S popularity, growing every day. No flash in the pan, but enduring popularity, earned by giving smokers a cigarette of better quality, richer aroma and finer fragrance, blended and cross-blended to just one end... "TASTE above everything."

We state it as our honest belief that the tobacco used in Chesterfield cigarettes are of finer quality and hence of better taste than in any other cigarette at the price. LUGGATT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

OLD CHISHOLM TRAIL TO BE REVIVED AS ONE OF TEXAS' HISTORIC ROADS; FEDERAL DESIGNATION BEING SOUGHT

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 7.—The Old Chisholm Trail, cattle trail over which the herds of Texas ranchers were taken to market during the years the Lone Star state was in its infancy, is about to be revived as one of the historic roads of Texas.

The state highway commission has signified its willingness to designate the old trail as one of the state's historical routes, the only difficulty being the selection of the trail to be designated.

There were several overland routes known as the Chisholm trail during the days when Texas cattle were driven instead of hauled to the market. The first of these trails is believed to have started near San Antonio and wound its way northward to Abilene, Kan., and later to Fort Worth. As the center of the ranching population and activity moved westward, other Chisholm trails came into existence with the result that the highway commission is in somewhat of a dilemma as to just which one of the trails should be designated as a state highway.

Doble Heads Group
Lore of the cow trail engulfed a recent meeting of the commission when Prof. J. Frank Doble of the University of Texas, perhaps the nation's foremost authority on cow country traditions, headed a delegation asking that the memory of the Chisholm trail be kept alive by giving its name to a trans-state highway. It was proposed to route the highway from Brownsville to Abilene, Texas, by way of Austin.

The commission suggested the route near Abilene be given the designation but asked the delegation to prepare a brief recommending the road that would be given the historic name. The brief is being prepared by Professor Doble and will be presented to the commission at its meeting May 19 and 20.

Ackley Working
One old timer is still traveling the Old Chisholm Trail but the $10 horse and the $40 saddle of his youth have been replaced by an automobile. He is P. P. Ackley of Elk City, Okla., who now spends a major portion of his time between Brownsville and El Paso, N. D., assisting workers in his movement to have congress designate the old trail a national highway. Ackley appeared before the commission seeking designation of the trail.

Several names have been suggested for the memorable route among them being the Longhorn-Chisholm Trail, the Longhorn Trail, the Chisholm Trail, and the Cowboy Trail. The Chisholm trail seems to be the favorite.

Ackley would like to see his dream come a reality during his lifetime. In commenting on the project Ackley said: "There are only a few of us old timers left who punched cattle on the open range and drove them up the trail through sunshine, rain, sleet, or snow. The glamour and romance of the old southwest is just beginning to be preserved in any tangible shape and I believe the designation of this historic route will serve to preserve some of that glamour and beauty for the coming generations."

Ackley has traveled more than 12,000 miles along the old cattle trail during the past few years in furtherance of his designation campaign. Now his efforts are to be rewarded by the highway commission and the famous old cow trail from Texas to the north, once made clearly distinguishable by the hoof of thousands of longhorn cattle but now distinct only in the memories of a few old timers, again will come into its own as a state historical highway.

CHRISTIAN WORK REPORT IS GIVEN

AUSTIN, May 7. (AP)—Twenty-five workers of the Texas Christian Missionary society delivered 2,866 sermons and addresses, baptized 305 persons, obtained 571 other additions to churches, organized thirteen new churches and traveled 231,768 miles during the fiscal year 1929-1930. J. B. Holmes, general secretary, reported to the annual convention of the Christian church here.

The report showed expenses were $55,808, with an income of $46,224, leaving a deficit of $9,584. Assets were listed at $219,596 on April 8. Actual and potential endowments were reported as $459,395.

Fourteen Christian churches in Texas were classed as "living link" churches, or those giving $600 or more to Texas missions. These were: First Church, Beaumont; Bonham; Central Church, Austin; Magnolia Avenue Church, Fort Worth; First Church, San Angelo; Palestine; First, Wichita Falls; Paris; First, Houston; Central, Dallas; East, Dallas; Central, San Antonio; First, Fort Worth; and First, Amarillo.

A survey of resident membership showed 76,214 members served by 290 pastors.

During 1929 daily telephone conversations numbered 64,173,144, an average of one call for every two persons in the United States.

Snyder Community Woman Wins Prize

PLAINVIEW, May 7. (Special)—Out of twenty-four entries in the Hale County Living Room contest, sponsored by the demonstration clubs, Mrs. E. T. Perry, of the Snyder Community, was awarded first place when the judging was completed recently.

Another member of the Snyder club won second place in the contest. This award going to Mrs. George Brewer, who also won first place in her community. Second place in the Snyder community was awarded to Mrs. G. C. Bell. Mrs. W. W. Whitsett was first in the Lakeview community.

There were 150 Hale County Demonstration Club members who made notable improvements in their living rooms but only twenty-four were entered in the County Contest. All awards were made by the Plainview National Bank. Mrs. A. G. Hinn and Mrs. T. Hammond, of Plainview, did the judging.

At a later date the contestants to enter the State Living Room Contest will be selected by Miss Helen Swift, district agent of the extension service.

used the Methodist Board of Temperance and Social Service, of which he is head, in his lobbying; that he hoarded food during the World war; that he had dealings with a Wall Street "bucket shop"; and finally, that in 1928 Bishop Warren A. Chandler of Atlanta and Bishop Collins Denny, senior members of college, charged Bishop Cannon had endeavored to form an ecclesiastical-political combination which might precipitate a split within the church.

Many believed, however, that serious consideration would not be given the charges. If they are preferred on the conference floor, they will be referred to the committee on episcopacy for recommendation.

Other than this affair, interest today was centered upon address of the bishops, recommending legislation for the law making body to consider during its two or three weeks' session.

Fourth Juror Named
W. J. Morman, plumber and truck farmer of Irving, was the fourth juror qualified. He said that he had no prejudice against drinking, that he would take a drink "once in a while" himself. Morman told District Attorney William McCraw that he used to go to church but that he belonged to no church. He is married and has three children.

G. H. Gault, who likewise belonged to no church and was examined right after Morman, was accepted as the fifth juror. Gault is foreman of the Holladay farm near here. Brady was charged with murder in the stabbing of Miss Leolia Highsmith, court stenographer, at Austin November 9. The jury was unable to agree in the first trial at Austin.

heim, and stacked them in a truck, normally used for hauling vegetable produce.

The lone survivor, pitifully brave in the face of the sudden stark flash of horror which took his wife, his brother-in-law, his mother-in-law and his six children, stood with his head bowed as the unceremonious funeral took place.

Everything in the path of the storm was leveled. Strips of grass and weeds were ripped up like blankets. In some instances scot trees were uprooted. Deep scoops were cut into the earth at different points. Potatoes which were exposed to the terrific winds were peeled as neatly as though some housewife had pared them.

Many freak incidents of the storm have been reported. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pierce and their little daughter were sitting at dinner in their home four and a half miles from Runge when the tornado struck at five p. m., Tuesday. The house including the four walls of the room in which they were eating, was blown away, leaving the trio still seated and uninjured.

Mrs. Rosa Nandez, who lived near Runge, was in her home when the twister struck. She was whirled several hundred yards. A two-by-four was driven through her right thigh, transfixing the member. Workers saved the two ends off of the timber before they tried to remove her from the debris.

has been outdistanced by the motion picture theatre—the greatest menace to morals and religion the church has had to face in many years.

"All promised reform has ended in growing degradation. Methodism will be false to herself and to the future should she fail to say to her membership that underestimating attendance upon motion pictures is perilous not only to Christian character but to common decency."

The address brought out the church's stand on behalf of world peace, improvement of industrial conditions in the South, better opportunities for negroes and prohibition enforcement.

Regarding the latter subject, the report said: "As Christians and Methodists we should let it be known that the prohibition law, renewed attention should be given to the education of our people and of the public at large touching the evils of drink and concerning the Christian duty of observing the laws of the land."

Joke On Who?

SOUTH PLAINS NEWS CHATTER

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Field Correspondent

CHECKERS POPULAR

"There were 800 checker games Sunday afternoon in the town along the way between Clovis and Lubbock," Howard Holt, genial Pioneer bus line driver, reports. "Nine hundred by actual count. One of the regulars at Littlefield, so the driver reported, was much wrought up. 'I've been champion here for years,' Howard quoted him, as saying, 'until a fellow came along from Arkansas. Since then I haven't won a single game.'"

LAKE LYNN HIT FULL

The boys down on the Red Star line are not very optimistic about that new lake between Tahoka and O'Donnell. Lake Lynn HIT it is a daily problem. "How long will the water be here, a couple of weeks?" a passenger asked the driver yesterday morning. "Don't know," he said, "I've seen 'em have to go around for nearly a year," he replied.

HANDY MAN

J. C. Bond, of the Hotel Brownfield, is semi-official news agent, bus station manager, handy man and all that. The buses all stop at his place and he carries the passengers of daily trips into his hotel to keep until the carriers show up for them. If anybody wants to know what time it is, when to make connections some place or almost any old question, they just ask J. C. Also the old boys of the town like to sit around his lobby and spy on early days in Brownfield. Doc Powell leads the story tellers.

STRAW HAT SHOWER

Brownfield Saturday afternoon enjoyed a hat shower all its own. Carl Benson, aviator, tossed off the hats, two dozen straws, from atop the Brownfield hotel. One old boy, gray haired, thought he'd get a straw hat for summer and started after one that came sailing along. But half a dozen youngsters beat him to it and he lost out.

STORMS HIT GINS

O'Donnell cotton gins are showing the effects of the storm of hailstones of late last week. Window lights are rattled out and roofs are along the Santa Fe right of way enough sheet iron to build a garage has been left in the wake of the wind.

GETS MAIL SERVICE

Hobbs, N. M., mail and baggage from two directions, from Lamesa on the east and Tatum on the north. There is generally a heavy load of mail from Roswell to Tatum on the Pioneer motor buses, and frequently a large load from Lubbock. From Lamesa, Jones and Adams operate a special Ford motor into Hobbs and carry many passengers besides freight and some mail. The coach connects with the Red Star from Lubbock at 10 o'clock.

RAIL GROWING

Down at Brownfield in the Mickie drug store is a box for tin foil. Cigar customers and others who get tin foil wrapped packages are asked to contribute the foil to the Shrine fund for crippled children. There is a good sized ball now in the cigar box. It weighs several ounces and has only been started a couple of weeks. Traveling men are among the well known supporters of the fund.

OIL CENTER IS QUIET

Oil Center is reported to be just a little quiet at this time. Oil Center for the uninitiated, is a boom filling station in New Mexico between Tatum and Roswell. It is near the Pecos river and for a time flourished. But some raiders came by, confiscated some liquids that were not exactly oil and since then the place has been noted for its lack of customers.

AIKEN'S TRIAL

proved to be a good witness. Frequently during his testimony he stepped down from the witness box to walk up and down before the jurors to emphasize his points. As he did so he would say, "gentlemen of the jury—"

Takes Cue From Gray
Aiken had taken his cue from H. W. Gray, who had preceded him on the stand and who demonstrated the position he had seen the slain man in just as Aiken fired the fatal shot. He also had seen A. M. "Buck" Bennett, chief deputy sheriff, display the pistol found by himself on the person of the dying cafe owner and how it was placed.

Asked by Defense Counsel T. S. Christopher to tell his name he said "my name is Joseph W. Aiken, but I am called 'Bud' for short." The witness related the events of the day leading up to the tragedy. He said he had been at Tahoka in the morning but because it was election day had come to Lamesa to vote. He arrived about noon, went to Cox's cafe and sat there. In the afternoon he spent some time at a fruit stand talking and about 3 o'clock went to the cafe for a cup of coffee.

Queried On Vote
Again about 6 o'clock he went to the cafe for another cup of coffee. It was at that time that Newton Allen, who was cooking for Mr. Cox, asked him how he had voted.

The witness said Allen told him he had voted for E. B. Warren. Aiken made a slighting remark about Dr. Warnock when he, the witness, said he had voted for him.

Aiken said he asked Mr. Cox how the election was going and was told Warnock was leading Warren by about 35 votes.

Cox made a slighting remark about Aiken's vote, he said, and "Gentlemen of the Jury, when he said that I jumped up and

ROTARY HOLDS NOON MEETING

TWO SOLOS AND TALK BY LOVETT FEATURE CLUB SESSION

Observance of National Music week and a classification address made up the program at the Lubbock Rotary club at noon today. Approximately 110 persons were present at the gathering, which marked the regular weekly luncheon session at Hotel Lubbock.

Mrs. G. E. McCelvey, Jr., soprano, accompanied by Mrs. Marlin Smith, at the piano, presented two vocal numbers. They were "Roses of Picardy" and the English version of "O, Sole Mio." Both were roundly applauded.

Lovett Makes Talk
C. A. Lovett, commercial telegraph manager, explained phases of the telegraph business, tracing it from the early Greeks to the present. Mr. Lovett's address, interspersed with timely wit, was also enjoyed. J. A. McCelvey, who was in charge of the program, which was preceded by a talk by Robert J. Murray, explaining the approaching drive for a legion home here.

President J. J. Clements read telegrams from the chamber of commerce and the Rotary club of Oklahoma City, asking that next week's Rotary meeting be held at night so visiting Rotarians from the Sooner capital, in Lubbock on a good visit might be included in the session. Mr. Clements announced that the night meeting would be held, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, at Hotel Lubbock.

doubled up my fist," he said, stepping down from the stand and walking before the jury box.

Claims Threat Made
The witness, Aiken, all his own. Carl Benson, aviator, tossed off the hats, two dozen straws, from atop the Brownfield hotel. One old boy, gray haired, thought he'd get a straw hat for summer and started after one that came sailing along. But half a dozen youngsters beat him to it and he lost out.

Aiken said he "knew" that Cox was going after his gun. Questioned as to how he knew Cox owned a gun, the witness went into an elaborate discussion of how he had once carried a suit case and a handgun for the deceased and how the latter had shown him a revolver which he had taken from the hand grip.

"This is 'Old Betsy,'" Cox said as he opened the suitcase and unwrapped the gun from a towel or a handkerchief or something," the witness testified.

Cox, according to the witness, claimed he was a first class shot and could hit a hat at 100 yards. Under leading of his counsel the witness told about his entering the restaurant with a rifle under his arm and how Allen, the cook, had started around the counter with a knife in his hand after he had said, "Aiken, what are you doing with that gun in here, give it to me."

The witness said he ordered Allen to "drop that knife" and that the cook did so and "stuck his hands up in the air and held them there, too."

Fired Quick
"It was about a minute before he (Cox) appeared at the back door," he testified. "I saw him reach for the latch of the green door with his left hand and with his right hand reach towards his belt. I fired. I had to quick."

On cross examination the witness attempted several times to tell the district attorney how to conduct his examination. He also offered to go at length into his reasons for voting for Dr. Warnock. This, Mr. Price declined to do.

Aiken declared emphatically he had seen the butt of the revolver which Cox had had in his belt. "I saw the butt of the gun. He was trying to get it out of his belt."

Went Back To Argue
Questioned as to "why he had gone back to the cafe" following his quarrel with the deceased, the witness said, "I went back because I wanted to make him take back what he had said about my mother. I went back to argue with him. When I saw the butt of that gun I knew it was no time to argue. It was either kill or be killed."

On redirect examination the defendant said the dead man had impugned certain things about his (defendant's) mother and that he wanted to force him to "get down on his knees and apologize."

In rebuttal, Deputy Sheriff Bennett said the father of the accused had filed a complaint against the son because he had beaten up the elder man. The deputy and the late Sheriff Joe L. Ray had visited the Aiken farm.

During the late afternoon testimony the aged father, I. W. Aiken, said he had been asked, after Bud had attacked him, to send the boy to a hospital but that he did not care to. He told of his son attacking him while lying on his bed, after an exhausting day in the field.

The aged father also told of trouble Bud had had with another brother, Tom.

Mrs. Claude, sister of the accused, made a good defense witness. "Since my earliest remembrance Joe had different characteristics from the other boys," she testified.

Wanted Him In Hospital
"I wanted him in the hospital but didn't know how to get him there," she tremblingly admitted after telling of the attack of her brother on his aged and infirm father. "I knew if I tried to get him there and failed, he would kill me." "Yes, I am afraid of him," she testified in response to a question of her attorney.

On cross examination a most sensational reply was given. T. L. Price, the district attorney, after a brief pause, asked her unexpectedly, "well, do you want this jury to turn him loose?"

"Most certainly I do not," she replied in a flash and before her attorney could interpose.

M. L. Aiken, a younger brother, stepped aside briefly for a state witness, Dr. John C. Loveless, physician at the local hospital, where Cox died, to testify as to the cause of death and to the fact that there was a death.

Bud was "not like other children," Luther Aiken testified. He said his brother "was always right and the others always wrong."

The elder brother had "threatened him" he admitted. "I was afraid on account of his mental condition," he continued. "I was afraid he might kill me or members of my family."

Cross examination witnessed the big clash between Price and the witness. Twice Luther Aiken appealed to Judge McGuire to know if he had to answer the question.

"Do you want this jury to turn him loose?" asked the district attorney.

Fair Question?
"Judge is that a fair question?" said the man, turning to Judge McGuire.

"Sustained," said the court briefly.

There was still another clash or two before the cross examination was completed.

J. W. Cox, a neighbor, told of occasions of which he had known when the defendant "got mad." He did admit that Aiken "knew right from wrong."

J. E. Roberts said Aiken had once worked for him. W. H. Parker said he had known the defendant for "27 years" and that he was a "fanatic on religion, games and elections."

Ben Short, from near McCauley, Fisher county, said he thought the defendant "abnormal" and "unbalanced."

Rev. W. H. Horn, a Primitive Baptist minister, testified as to his mental condition but admitted he defendant "knew right from wrong."

Mrs. Claude McLaurin, who had worked in the cotton fields with Bud Aiken "tramping cotton," testified as did Joe Snellgrove, for whom the accused had worked. B. P. Kemp, who had known Bud for 20 years, said he considered the accused "abnormal."

Ennis Curtis and his brother, Clarence, testified as did J. F. Stokes, who had known Aiken for 27 years.

POST SEEKS PRODUCTS OF TEXAS PLAN

LETTERS SENT OUT TO
ALL C. OF C. MEN
IN WEST TEXAS

(Special to The Journal)
POST, May 7.—The directors of the Post Chamber of Commerce at a meeting held April 28, after full discussion and deliberation, decided to offer for the consideration of all chambers of commerce in West Texas the following:

"Realizing the fundamental truth of the slogan, 'What Texas Makes—Makes Texas,' and feeling the above slogan has been admitted in an academic way, but not applied in the most practical manner, we suggest that every local chamber of commerce in West Texas start a campaign to the end that every store in their community, feature and have on display every day, in every week, of every year, some Texas product."

Look to Manufacturing
Texas as a state must look to manufacturing as well as agriculture, livestock and natural resources if she is to develop and prosper as is her right. The more Texas develops industrially, the greater will be our prosperity. Industrial activities will reduce the severity of hard times due to agricultural depression, and what benefits Texas as a whole, must of necessity, benefit either directly or indirectly, every citizen of Texas.

Texas industries are mostly young, consequently small when compared to similar plants in the Industrial East, and Middle West, and their success may depend upon the degree of interest Texans manifest in Texas made products. We believe, other things being equal, every Texas would prefer an article manufactured in Texas, to a similar article manufactured elsewhere.

Can Plan Be Better
"Can you imagine any work, which would cost less, the results of which would be greater, or more worthy, than securing the cooperation of every Texas retailer to the plan outlined above?"

"Will you organize your local retailers so that at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention to be held in Abilene, May 20, 21, and 22, we may present a completed plan, fully operative, demonstrating to the convention and Texas in general, just how strong our faith is in this our state?"

"A movement like this, directed in the right manner, should sweep the state, convincing even the skeptical, that chambers of commerce not only have a place, but are filling that place, in community life. Even the smallest town can take a big part in this."

George Simpson Samson, secretary, is sending out copies of the above to all towns in the section. He writes:

"Will you give prompt consideration to the above. See all your merchants, and let every store window display some Texas manufactured product, having same distinctly marked 'Texas Made.' We are confidently awaiting your advice that the plan meets your approval and the work has been started in your community. Please let us hear from you promptly."

CATHOLICS IN ANNUAL MEET

EUCCHARISTIC CONGRESS IS BEING HELD IN ANCIENT LAND

(By Associated Press)
CARTHAGE, Tunisia, May 7.—Tents, the cabins of steamships and private buildings today housed the thousands of Roman Catholics who have come to this ancient land for the 1930 eucharistic congress.

Little Carthage, once a mighty city but now a mere group of ruins washed by the rains of centuries, and its metropolitan neighbor, Tunis, are bedecked with the flags of all nations—and even the star and crescent of the Moslems—for this great gathering of the church, held to celebrate and glorify the holy eucharist.

The congress opens officially today, although the main 4-day program will be started Thursday. Pilgrims from all nations continue to arrive. The first Americans, 319 of them, landed this morning from the French liner Cochabean.

Heading the thousands of pilgrims are a dozen cardinals, a hundred bishops and thousands of priests. The papal legate is the French Cardinal Lepicier. More than 400 altars have been prepared, at which 2,000 priests will celebrate mass.

The ceremonies will be divided between the Cathedral St. Louis in Carthage, the ruins surrounding Carthage, and the cathedral in Tunis.

Roy Chapman Andrews tells of tracing a gaudy with his auto on the Gobi Desert. The gaudy passed him when he was going 50 miles an hour and fast outdistanced the car.

Adelphi Theatre, erected in London in 1804, and the scene of the murder of William Terris, the famous actor, in 1897, is being rebuilt.

Thought For Today

For ye suffer fools gladly, see ye yourselves are wise.—II Corinthians 11:19

The fool doth think he is wise.—Shakespeare

The Fault

It is hard to imagine anything more horrible than the Ohio penitentiary fire. The thought of those 300-odd convicts, locked in their steel cages and screaming out helplessly as death came upon them in the smoke, is going to be a hard thing to forget. One's faith in the ultimate goodness of the world does not easily survive a job like that.

Perhaps, though, it will be a good thing if we can't forget this fire too easily.

There is no way of undoing the tragedy. But it is possible for us to see to it that it is never repeated. Ohio's prison, as a matter of fact, was just waiting for something like this to happen. The stage was all set for it—had been set for it for years. The investigation now under way may disclose that this or that man, group of men or circumstance or group of circumstances was directly at fault; but we do not need an investigation to see that the fundamental trouble was the penal system itself.

The prison at Columbus was very old. It was frightfully overcrowded. It was manned by a staff of sadly underpaid guards. Year by year its population increased, year by year its facilities were more and more inadequate, but the politicians at Columbus, year by year, postponed the expenditure of money that would have made a modern, decent penitentiary out of it.

So, sooner or later, something like this fire was bound to happen.

The tragedy, when it came, was unspeakably awful. But there is no use in pretending that it was merely the work of a sardonic, inscrutable fate. It was the work of human shortcomings and indifference. It happened because Columbus was willing to house its convicts in a relic of the dark ages.

If this were Ohio's affair alone it would not be so bad. But it is?

Are there in all the union, half a dozen states which do not have penitentiaries equally out-of-date, equally overcrowded, equally under-staffed? Could not the same thing happen tomorrow in almost any other penitentiary one could name?

There is the rub. Not only Ohio needs a new prison system. Most of the other states need to do the same thing.

It took the Troquels theater fire to compel the installation of safety devices in American theaters. It took the sinking of the Titanic to compel ocean liners to carry sufficient lifeboats. It took the Collinwood school fire to make American school buildings safe for children. The disaster at the Ohio penitentiary, let us hope, will result in a similar advance for our prisons.

We must not continue any longer with inadequate, crowded, out-of-date prisons. If we do, we shall have, some day, a repetition of what happened at Columbus.

Responsibility

Everybody has his own ideas about the movies, of course. And it is quite certain that most people realize that much of Hollywood's product is cheaply suggestive rather than wholesome and uplifting.

But the movie producers, perhaps, don't deserve quite all the blame.

The office of Will Hays recently issued a slip-sheet containing comments from a number of small-town editors and ministers regarding the movies. These men, having talked with their local theater managers, without exception reported that a clean, unobjectionable film tends to draw, but that a flaccid, suggestive picture full of scantily-clad female girls will get a packed house.

Perhaps the movie men should rise above monetary considerations and give us the former kind of pictures regardless. But, since they are only human, that is a bit too much to expect. The responsibility, in the last analysis, rests on us. If we support the right kind of films properly the producers will give us more of them. If we don't, they won't. In the long run, we get just about the kind of movies we want.

THE PLAINSMAN

That Girl on Broadway, says the fellow who sings his own praises rarely draws much of a crowd.

THE PLAINSMAN, folks, has got ten quite a reputation as a gawf expert and has already been invited up to Littlefield to make a speech before the Rotarians on "Gawf, Its Uses (if any) and Abuse." If the Rotarians ain't foolin' we'll go and tell 'em plenty.

All of which brings to mind the story of the after-dinner speaker who addressed his bored audience, something like this:

"I am very happy to be here this evening but to be honest about it, I'm a little uncomfortable. The dinner was so wonderful that if I had eaten even one more bite I wouldn't be able to say a word."

Just then he was interrupted by a tired looking man on the back row.

"Hey, Lizzie," he called to his wife, "bring that guy a ham sandwich."

But getting back to gawf. The Plainsman is serious in his challenge to Dr. Paul Horn, Texas Tech prexy, to play nine holes in conjunction with the local civic club tournament. If the Doctor is game to try it The Plainsman is and all we demand is that regulation gawf pants be worn.

The Doctor said at the Rotary club recently that he had three reasons for never playing gawf. "I've always been told," he said, "that gawf is a game for rich men, old men and fat men. I'm not any of the three so I never have played."

The Plainsman agrees with Doc Horn in all three departments but adds another for himself. We never have played on account of having to work for a living—which may or may not have been a governing factor with Prexy.

These miniature gawf courses scattered over town have given The Plainsman an idea. Before playing his match with Doctor Horn, he's going out to Perry Walker's place and practice up on his driving.

Nowadays, if you see a street blocked by cars parked every-which-way, you know you're close to a fire or a miniature gawf course.

Suggested slogan for the balance of Clean-Up Week:

"Reach for a hoe instead of a driver." (Attention, Messrs. Parsons, Hilburn, Murray, et al, and the balance of the Lubbock chapter of the Gawfers Rest Association.)

That Man on Avenue Q says the balance justice carries are not justable to long waits—but you can't make the courts believe it.

HERE about a month ago the Lubbock Pastors' association decided to hold a religious census and the sky-plot, individually and collectively called on the local papers for a lot of publicity to help put the deal over. They got the publicity and on a given Sunday morning the crew went out over the city, waking citizens up and getting the information desired. Since that good day the balance of Lubbock hasn't heard anything about the church census. The boys in charge, like the Arabs of old, folded up their tents and silently stole away.

Two or three times The Plainsman has sent reporters to discover for the public's benefit, just how many church members live in Lubbock and what churches they belong to. Thus far, we haven't learned anything more about the census than a hog knows about a side-saddle.

We can't see any reason for taking a church census if the figures thus gathered aren't grouped and the results announced. Believe us, if The Plainsman had been roused from his downy bed to respond to it, you'd have heard about it before now!

Nations are beginning to see the relationship between a keen moral sense and keen common sense.

Cotton planters on the South Plains are hearkening to the old Chinese philosophy of "See no evil, hear no evil, speak no evil."

A prejudice is an opinion which has set too long.

Babe Ruth isn't original. The first home run king was the Prodigal son.

CRAPPEAKING of the census, to announced here right away, did you notice in Monday's Journal that 4,197 persons attended Sunday schools here last Sunday? That figure offers food for thought.

Personally, The Plainsman doesn't believe one out of every five people in Lubbock attend Sunday school. Perhaps the average should be very much greater than that—but in our opinion, one in five is a generous estimate. Taking as a basis for figuring the one-to-five estimate and that gives Lub-

Mother Jones', Famous Labor Leader, Recalls Some Of Her Early Experiences In Helping Workers To Success

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, May 7.—As white-haired Mother Jones prepared to spend her hundredth birthday on May 1 in what probably is her deathbed at a farmhouse near the capital, other old-time labor leaders recalled anecdoes of her vivid career which illustrated the old lady's flaming spirit, her unflinching wit and her resourcefulness.

Mother Jones used to enjoy telling them, and they can hardly be done justice except in her own rich brogue.

Mother's favorite concern the time she "blew up the bull." It was after coal strikes in West Virginia. The miners had gained political control of a town of 2000 or 3000 souls and there was factional strife among them. But he grew tired, sent in and laid down on his own bed and soon she heard him snoring.

At that point she tiptoed out, down and across the street to the general store. She told the clerk her little nephew up north didn't believe people attended church at Christmas time and she wished she could send him some fireworks just to prove it. Maybe the clerk had a few firecrackers still left over from Christmas. So she searched and finally found four small packages of little firecrackers and six large cannon crackers.

The "bull" was still snoring. Mother opened the four packages of little ones and tied them together, making a long fuse. She put a chair in front of the door of the "bull" and mounted it with the crackers and two matches. First she laid the six big ones out on a row on the edge of the transom. Rapidly she lit the four packages, dropped them on the floor and ran a lighted match along the fuse of the cannon crackers. Then she dashed back and under her own covers.

The explosion sent the "bull" jumping through the window into an eight-foot snow bank. There, according to Mother, he kept yelling "Good God, I'm killt!" until they pulled him out. Meanwhile Mother herself was striding down the office demanding: "Is this a decent house or isn't it? What's all this noise mean?"

Then there was the time she got into Denver with a mission and was met by a lieutenant of militia with orders to take her in custody to a back a population of 20,000 right there.

Then figure that there are at least 750 children in Lubbock who are under Sunday school age and at least 250 others too old and feeble to get out. That gives you a tidy little total to figure on—and shows that Lubbock has a few citizens making their homes here, at any rate.

Diet and Health
By Lulu Hunt Peters M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

HABIT OF EATING RE-
TWEEN MEALS MUST BE OVERCOME BY REDUCER

Reducing Tablets

"DEAR DOCTOR: Are tablets harmful for reducing weight? I have heard that they contain taperworms. Is this true? I have tried your method of reducing, and think it is just about the surest way of losing that hateful fat. My family is opposed to my dieting, for they think that fat is inherited. I eat very little at my meals. My greatest fault is eating between meals. I am 3 feet 1 inch tall and weigh 123 pounds. D."

No, these tablets do not contain taperworm embryos, D. (There was an actual case recorded by the New York health department of an obesity cure which did consist of capsules containing the embryos of taperworm, but that received so much publicity that I don't believe it will ever be tried again.) But the tablets you name do contain thyroid, which is a very powerful drug, and if taken should be supervised by a physician. Otherwise it is very dangerous.

Some cases of obesity seem to do a little better with small doses of thyroid, but even then there must be a reducing diet, and I don't really believe that it is necessary in any case, even though the thyroid gland is underactive.

Your dietetic sin, dear girl, is eating between meals, and that is a habit you can overcome—you'll be surprised how soon. Just stop one day. If you are hungry when you come home from school, allow yourself 100 C. of something—a good-sized banana or orange or pear, or medium sized banana—and then take nothing else but water until your evening meal.

You didn't say what your age is, but if you are 16 years old, for your height—3 feet 1 inch—the average weight is about 112, so you are not so very much overweight, unless you look fat, you may not be overweight at all, for we consider that it is better during growth to be slightly over the average weight, than under.

No one need make his dieting conspicuous. Simply by taking small servings, and not repeating, and cutting out excess bread and butter and sweets, it needn't be observable at all.

You be sure send for our Peterizing pamphlet—if you are really frankly fat—as that has a foundation diet which you should adhere to pretty strictly. But reduce very slowly, as with your increase in height (even though you don't decrease in weight) you will look slimmer.

"Dear Doctor, I wonder if you can tell me why ordinary baking flour should effect me in this way. Every time I do any baking, or even if I'm near flour, I feel as though I had an awful cold in my nose; it runs and I sneeze constantly and can hardly breathe. MRS. M."

It is quite evident that you have developed a sensitization or idiosyncrasy to flour. You may have to stop baking. You have a sort of hay fever, flour effects you as certain pollen affects those suffering from that disease.

I suggest you go to a physician who specializes in the treatment of hay fever. He may be able to give you treatment that will make you immune to the flour.

For those who are interested, we have an article that takes up Cold, Catarrh, Hay Fever, Asthma, etc. See column rules.

In New York

With Swan

Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, May 7 (AP)—Out from the cob-webbed attics have come suddenly those pocket-marked signs reading, "Hand Sewing" or "Dress-making Taken In."

In those mid-town brownstones of the mauve decade, these signs can be now seen to any and all passers-by.

For the old-fashioned dress-maker has staged a comeback. Yes, I mean the almost forgotten spinster lady who could hold an entire paper of needles in her teeth, while juggling a set of safety pins and hairpins.

And these new long dresses are to be thanked.

For a number of years, as every woman knows, any dress that tickled the knees was sufficient unto itself. But, after a brief experience with those new trailers, it became apparent that some fitting might be needed.

"Just a little tuck there, Imogene," or "a wee bit too long. It might drag on the sidewalk," or "somehow it doesn't seem to set just right."

So, after a period of time, most women folk admitted that one of the new dresses could not be properly adjusted without alterations. Many preferred to have them made to measure.

It has come about that the dear old dressmaker, right out of grandma's time, has taken her fly-specked sign out of the closet and stuck it up in the window again.

And, insofar as New York is concerned, at any rate, she's doing very nicely, thank you!

The "style bootlegger," it seems, has been operating in Paris with such open lawlessness that our local Rue de la Paix has been hearing much about it.

Like the alcoholic bootleggers, who put all sorts of pre-war labels on post-war bottles, these gents have been taking the labels of the most famous couturiers, slipping them in their pockets, and sending them back to be placed on garments made in Brooklyn and way points.

This deception, practiced only by a few unscrupulous firms, several of whom are important enough to know better, has become something of a racket.

The racket is this: the slick "bootleg" operator gains admission to some exclusive French designer's emporium on the pretext of merely looking over the new styles. A confidentially engaged attendant in conversation, concealed under a well manicured and lengthy thumb nail is a bit of safety razor blade.

As a garment is being inspected the blade is deftly run over the designer's label, the label is quickly palmed and added to a general collection of similar labels.

A fair copy of the original is then made and the label of the Paris maker is found sewed in the collar.

So crude for a time became this practice that the French makers not only protested but have stationed guards to watch the thieves. It is said that dozens of such counterfeiters were made possible through the territory of the clever knives, and the price received for the false label in New York shops were—well, considerable.

One more style item, while we're about it, a parasol has appeared which has a detachable handle. When unscrewed the handle becomes a cup just large enough to hold the well-known beach cocktail, so that midday can loiter upon the sands of any of the exclusive beach resorts and depend on her umbrella for more than protection from the sun.

Have an article that takes up Cold, Catarrh, Hay Fever, Asthma, etc. See column rules.

REISER ANSWERS CHARGE AGAINST WRITINGS; SAYS CENSORSHIP IS DUE TO BE FAILURE IF IT IS EMPLOYED

(By Associated Press)
DALLAS, May 7. — Theodore Reiser, the novelist, doesn't think of people who have the right to say the naughty word "side".

On route to Hollywood, Reiser took time to dictate his reply to the recent "Humanism" controversy in the New York literary circles, in which, as told, Irving Babbitt planned marriage against him, H. L. Menck and Sinclair Lewis.

Reiser's statement was prefaced by a definition of "humanism"—which he is to write more regularly greater, but more generally, or should I say, more like books.

Dr. Babbitt, he said, appears to be lining up with the watch and order society, the league of Catholic writers, the Methodist book company, and Senator Reed Smoot.

Reiser said he observed that in America today "the tendency is toward a narrow, bigoted and merely and artistically stultifying censorship."

"In the long run," he said, "I don't believe it can succeed."

Patman Has Praise For Chairman Legge

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—Chairman Legge of the Federal Farm Board, praised by Representative Patman, democrat, Texas, for having "courage to face" the United States Chamber of Commerce and "defend the farmers' rights."

Patman said Legge was a "man of courage and determination," and declared his confidence in the ability of the board to substantially solve the problems of the farmers had increased 100 per cent because of the chairman's stand before the chamber.

The Texan recalled that Chairman Legge told the convention of business men that many of its members were "for the principle of cooperation only so long as it did not work."

Livestock Shipments Fall Off Slightly

PLAINVIEW, May 7. (Special)—The lightest week's movement of livestock out of Plainview in many weeks was recorded by local railroad agents last week. Only nine cars of stock were shipped out of the point, going to Oklahoma City, Fort Worth, Kansas City, Dallas and Shawnee.

The following shipments were made during the week: O. B. Jackson, one car of cattle; J. M. Thom-

Lubbock Woman Is Glad She Found It

Says Her Troubles Disappeared After Taking One Bottle Of Argotane

"I was in a general run down condition and couldn't digest a thing I ate hardly, before I started taking Argotane but now I can eat down and eat three square meals a day and enjoy them and am gaining in weight every day I take it," is the statement of Mrs. R. Lynn, residing at 2012 Ninth St., Lubbock, Texas.

"I was all run down in general and was so nervous that I couldn't sleep at night, before I started taking Argotane but now I can sleep at night and I have already gained in weight and strength. I began to pick up in strength and to improve after the first few doses I took and now I can go to the table three times a day and enjoy the biggest meal put before me as well as any woman. When I go to bed at night I can drop off right away and sleep like a baby, and when I get up in the morning I feel full of life and energy as I did in my life. Argotane is the best thing that is responsible for the remarkable improvement in me, and I gladly recommend it to any one suffering from a general run down condition like I was. I am sure glad I found it when I did."

Genuine Argotane may be purchased in Lubbock at the Bowen's Drug Store.

HAL LARY, TECH STUDENT, SELECTED AS ONE OF TEN STUDENTS OF NATION FOR YEAR OF STUDY, TRAVEL ABROAD

Hal Lary, junior student of Texas Technological college, will study in Europe next year by virtue of a $1,000 scholarship awarded him for the Junior Year Abroad by the New York committee on foreign study and travel of the Institute of International Travel.

The honored student will leave the United States about mid-summer for Switzerland where he expects to spend a good portion of the year studying.

One of ten in U. S. He is one of 10 students selected from American undergraduates to hold these scholarships in foreign countries during the academic year 1929-31.

Lary, whose parents live in Glavin, N. M., plans to study international relations, since he intends to enter some phase of international relations.

"I think Mr. Lary will win distinction while abroad and will reflect credit upon our institution," said Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of the college. "I congratulate him most heartily."

Has Won Honors Lary has been a successful member of Tech's debating team for the past three years, and was awarded a $250 scholarship during his freshman year for excellence in oratory. Last year he was given the Wyatt C. Hedrick scholarship of $250 for the highest scholastic standing. He has been unusually successful during the current school year as edi-

YOUNG STILL FREE; WOMEN ARE GUARDED

ACCUSED SLAYER SAYS WAY OUT OF JAIL MONDAY NIGHT

(By Associated Press) SAN ANTONIO, May 7.—Ernest Young, charged with murder of John Bradshaw, whose body was found in the Guadalupe river near Waring several weeks ago, was believed to be in near San Antonio by police but had not been captured early Tuesday night. Young and two other prisoners saved their way from Kerr county jail some time Monday night and Young was seen by at least two persons in San Antonio early Tuesday morning.

City detectives interviewed Mrs. Mary Young, wife of the fugitive Tuesday and she denied having seen her husband. They also talked to Mrs. Thelma Bradshaw, widow of the slain man and sister of Mrs. Young and Mrs. Bradshaw asked for protection, telling police she feared Young.

Officers concealed the whereabouts of both the women, saying that they were very nervous because of Young's escape and that they were being protected.

SPECIAL SERMON GIVEN AT CHURCH

An appreciative audience listened last evening to a clear-cut talk on the duties of married people at the mission now going on in St. Joseph's church, Avenue O.

The speaker, Father McGee, gave the Catholic teaching on marriage, then pointed out the duties married people have towards Almighty God, towards their country and their church; duties towards one another and their children. It was a plain and simple talk that was understood by all.

In the first sermon of the evening the speaker corrected some faulty notions on sin, and then gave the correct understanding of this much abused word. He proved the malice of sin from the punishments that the Almighty inflicted and still inflicts upon those who sin or willfully break any of his laws. He showed that Jesus Christ positively taught the doctrine of eternal punishment or hell, and concluded by portraying from the Bible story of the woman taken in sin the unbounded mercy of God and His willingness to forgive and pardon.

This evening's first sermon will be "Meeting the Judge." Following the benediction a special sermon will be preached for the young people of the parish and of the city.

Dallas Boy Given Term In Kansas

WICHITA, Kas., May 7 (AP)—Frank Lachem, 19, of Dallas, Tex., who staged three holdups, stole an automobile and attempted to shoot a man here April 11, Tuesday was sentenced to serve ten to twenty-one years in the state reformatory at Hutchinson by District Judge J. N. Williams.

Lachem pleaded guilty to four charges of highway robbery, one charge of assault with a deadly weapon and one charge of grand larceny of an automobile.

Judge Williams imposed sentences totalling 33 to 99 years but they will run concurrently.

Lachem said he was drunk at the time.

Bankers See No Cause For Alarm

NEW YORK, May 7 (AP)—Bankers, who last fall organized to go to the aid of the stock market, professed today to see no cause for alarm in the situation which brought a record turnover of 8,279,260 shares for the year and set 200 new lows for the same period.

They pointed out that where the market was demoralized to the verge of a breakdown last fall, trading yesterday was orderly, although the volume of business was the fifth largest in the history of the exchange and the busiest since last October 30 when 10,727,320 shares changed hands.

The heavy selling came between a strong opening and a last hour rally which carried many issues back to substantial gains.

SUPPORT VOTED LUBBOCK'S FIGHT

The Panhandle-Plains Retail Secretaries will support Lubbock in this city's campaign for the 1931 convention of the Retail Merchants Association, of Texas.

This was determined yesterday at a meeting of the regional secretaries in Amarillo, where they voted to aid Lubbock.

All members of the district association were enthusiastic over Lubbock's chances to land the state meeting, according to Garnet Reeyes, who represented Lubbock at the meeting. The 1930 meeting is to be held at New Braunfels May 19, 20 and 21 and Lubbock is planning to send a large delegation of business men as delegates and representatives.

THOSE DAYS ARE OVER

DALLAS, May 7 (AP)—The days of "having haughty, snippy clerks who care little for the customers' wants" is ended, R. E. Shannon, newspaper publisher of Washington, Iowa, declared Tuesday in addressing delegates to the 11th annual meeting of the Texas Retail Dry Goods association.

The largest cargo ever carried through the Panama Canal on any ship was on the Swedish motor ship "Svealand" on January 2, 1930. It carried 22,244 long tons of ore bound for Chile.
