$300,000 Bond Election Called Here For Feb. 4

Vote Okayed By Council

A $300,000 bond election was called for Feb. 4, by the city council last night.

If approved, the bond money will be used by the city to finance an extensive program which covers almost all phases of growth of city facilities necessitated by the increasing size of Snyder.

Paving of 175 blocks of presently non-paved streets in Snyder on an assessment program, seal coating of 220 blocks of presently paved streets to protect the pavement from further deterioration, extensions of sewer service to virtually all reisdences inside the city limits including newly annexed areas, installation of larger water mains to some parts of town where inadequate mains now make it impossible to provide enough water and water pressure, and addition of a third fire station and two new pieces of fire fighting equipment would be provided with the bond money.

Along with the $300,000 in money from the bonds, the city plans to issue $200,000 in bonds already approved by the voters for expansions to the water and sewer department, but not previously issued because the city was not financially able to support the costs of the interest and principal repayments on the bonds.

In presenting the bond election proposition to about 50 persons in the council meeting room last night, the council and Mayor Malven K. Stevenson outlined the program of city development and its costs to the citizens of the town.

A new city tax rate of $1.65 per $100 valuation, and a new assessment of 40 per cent of the value of property will be necessary to carry out the building program, Stevenson said.

The city now has a tax rate of $1.50 per $100 valuation, and assessment of 35 per cent of the value of the property.

"The increase in taxes will amount to about $1 per month on a house which is worth $10,000," Stevenson pointed out to illustrate the cost of the increase in taxes which the bond issues will necessitate.

In explaining the use the street bond monies will be put to, Stevenson said that about 175 blocks of streets, probably in north and east Snyder where fewest paved streets now exist, could be paved.

"With the bond money, $175,000 that would go to street development the city could provide its one-third share of the cost of paving about 175 blocks of streets," Stevenson said. The city charter requires the city to pay one-third of the cost of paving streets. Property owners on each side of the street would pay one-third.

The plan would provide for the property owners to pay for their paving costs over a period of years under an assessment program.

"No streets have been selected for pavement under the program, and it would be handled on a first-come, first-served basis with as many streets being paved as the city's bond money would pave, and streets in all parts of town could be paved under the program," Stevenson said.

At present little or no pavement is needed in the south and west parts of town because housing developers of the areas paved the streets as the town was developed.

Concerning the sewer expansions to the city's system, the council said that sewer services could be extended to many parts of town not now served—even parts of town which have been in the city limits, but without sewer service for as long as 10 years. Larger sewer mains would be installed to handle the increasing quantity of sewage from several parts of town to provide better services to many present sewer users.

Of the total of $500,000 which would be available from the proposed bond issue and the already approved bonds together, $150,000 would be used for the expansions of the sanitary sewer system.

Some of the key areas where sewer services could be provided are in the colored section of town, which has no sewer service at present, and to Bootheland in north Snyder, which now has none. All other areas inside the city limits which have no sewer would be served, except two small lightly populated areas, one in the west part of Bootheland, and one in the VFW park area.

Fire protection for all of Snyder would be improved, with the building of a new fire station in southwest Snyder, and addition of two new fire trucks. The cost of the improvements to the fire fighting facilities would be paid from $50,000 of the bond money.

Expansions to the city sanitary sewage disposal plant and to the city water plant would also be provided in the bond money.

The election was called for Feb. 4, the first Saturday in next month to permit the use of 1956 poll taxes in the voting.

The election booths will be set up in the central fire station at the city hall.

A citizens committee including 30 citizens of Snyder in all phases of business and civic life here was strongly represented at the meeting and discussion of the bond election.

Some of the members of the citizens committee expressed themselves as favoring the bond elec-

Benson Cites Farm Problem

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today "mountainous surpluses" constitute the No. 1 problem facing American farmers.

In a speech prepared for the American National Cattlemen's Assn., Benson said economists estimate farm prices would now be 10 per cent higher and net farm income might have been 20 per cent higher in 1955 if the government-owned surplus of farm goods was not on hand.

Benson, as did President Eisenhower in his special farm message to Congress yesterday, said wartime production incentives were continued too long.

Benson said the soil bank proposal recommended to Congress as a major feature of the new administration program is a "bold plan that strikes directly at the problem," but he added:

"We can give no hard and fast estimate of how much the soil bank will improve prices and incomes."

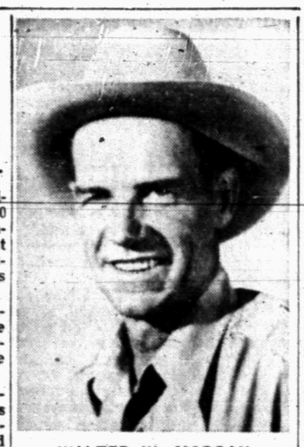

The soil bank proposal is designed to reimburse farmers for taking land out of the production of crops already in surplus and divert it to grass and trees.

"It will remove the crushing burdent of surpluses that is our most serious farm problem," Benson said. "It will prevent a diversion of acres out of surplus crops and into other products."

He stressed, however, that it is regarded as a temporary measure, adding that in the not too distant future "we will need much greater output of farm products than we have today."

"These are troubled times for families on our farms and ranches," Benson said.

"Our nation has been blessed with unprecedented prosperity. But it is a prosperity in which families on the land have not adequately shared.

WALTER W. MORGAN
. . . runs for sheriff

Morgan Plans Sheriff Race

Walter W. Morgan, 1904 Merrill Avenue, announced today that he will be a candidate in the July primary for the office of county sheriff.

Morgan, 49, operates Morgan's Garage at 1928 Twenty-fifth Street. He has had a garage business since 1936.

A native of Scurry County, Morgan attended schools here. He is married and has three sons, Wallace, Travis, and Jerry Morgan, all of Snyder. He is a member of the Methodist Church and of the Knights of Pythias.

Morgan at one time served several months as a sheriff's deputy here.

He is the second candidate to announce for the office. Also a candidate is the incumbent, Homer Whisnand.

Orders Come In On Tickets For Banquet

More than 200 tickets have already been reserved for the state Junior Chamber of Commerce banquet here Jan. 21 honoring the Five Outstanding Young Texans (FOYT.)

Reports were that most of those 200 were reserved by out-of-town persons, but orders were expected to be coming in this week from a number of local residents for the $3.50 tickets. Those who wish to reserve tickets may do so by calling the banquet office at 3-6592.

The banquet, which will be held in the high school cafeteria and auditorium, will feature Frank Pace, former secretary of the Army as main speaker, and Phil Regan, well-known radio-TV tenor, as guest musician.

Snyder is the smallest city every to play host for the FOYT banquet, an annual affair of the state Jaycee organization.

Don Baker, state executive vice-president of the Jaycees and head of the organization's state office, was in Snyder yesterday helping Steve Birdwell, local president, and other Jaycees heading arrangements for the banquet, in making plans for the affair.

The banquet office, located in room 11 of the West Texas State Bank Building, will remain open from now until time for the banquet. Employed by the Jaycees in the office are Mrs. Janice Medlin and Mrs. Betty Atkinson.

In addition to promoting the banquet locally, the Snyder Jaycees are heading the state organization's promotional campaign for the banquet. Several local members are making plans to fly to Waco this weekend to meet with Jaycees there.

Last weekend, seven members of the Jaycees here flew to Amarillo in a plane owned by C. T. McLaughlin of Snyder to a regional Jaycee meeting. About 75 Jaycees from that region attending the meeting said they would be at the banquet.

The entire banquet program is to be announced by this weekend.

British To Send More Troops To Cyprus Base

LONDON (AP)—Britain today ordered more troops sent to her Mediterranean base of Cyprus to protect British subjects in the Middle East if necessary, the War Office announced.

The announcement said: "In view of the disturbed position in the Middle East, her majesty's government have thought it desirable as a precautionary measure to increase the number of troops at the disposal of the commander in chief for the protection of British subjects in the area, should the need arise."

The new force will include airborne units, the statement said.

It added the contingent will be flown to Cyprus where Britain's air and land forces in the Middle East are based.

Britain's action came after a wave of anti-Western rioting swept the Arab state of Jordan in December and last weekend. The Foreign Office yesterday blamed local Communists and other elements—presumably Egyptians and Saudi Arabians—for the demonstrations in which American and British properties were damaged.

The Eden government at the same time is sending a ranking Middle Eastern expert, C. A. Evelyn Shuckburgh, flying to Washington tonight for a swift rundown of the over-all Middle Eastern situation with American State Department high-ups. Shuckburgh, who will be accompanied by two aides, has been engaged in preparing the ground for a general discussion of the Middle Eastern situation between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Eden who are to meet in Washington Jan. 30.

The British are worried by resistance in some Arab states to the Western-sponsored Baghdad Alliance of countries along Russia's southern borders. They also are deeply concerned at the dangerous quarrel between Israel and her long-feuding Arab neighbors.

The island of Cyprus itself, where the British land and air forces are based, is the scene of bitter strife between Greek-speaking Cypriots and their British rulers. The Greek-speaking Cypriots want to unite the island with Greece.

Pay Increase For County's Employes Set

The county commissioners court has announced its intention to increase the salary of county employes by 10 per cent.

The increase would affect about 80 county employes, including elected officials and those employed in county offices. It would not include about 50 hospital staff members, who are governed by a board, or officials here employed by the state or paid partly by the state and partly by the county. Such state-county officials received a salary increase last year.

According to state law, the salary increase cannot be made official until 10 days after the general public is notified.

Most elected county officials are now paid annual salaries of $6,641.-28. Precinct commissioners draw total salaries of $6,417 annually, including the $1,200 designated to them as road commissioners.

Other county employes are paid on a regular scale, with chief deputies, secretaries, clerks, and others being paid according to their designation.

Texans Will Be Arraigned

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Three South Texans will be arraigned at Austin Jan. 23 on charges of income tax evasion.

This was directed yesterday by Federal Judge Ben Rice, Jr., when the three appeared in court here. Trials also will be held at Austin.

The three are R. L. Adame, former school superintendent at San Diego; Raul Barrera, also of San Diego; and Reyes Ramos, hardware merchant at Benavides. All were indicted Dec. 12.

Adame and Barrera have been identified as aides of George Parr, Duval County political boss who is under a federal income tax evasion indictment returned here. Adame recently escaped a two-year prison sentence on conviction of theft of San Diego school funds when the Court of Criminal Appeals dismissed the indictment on the grounds that the grand jury was improperly drawn.

Arabs Wooed By Russians

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Russia made another bid for Arab friendship last night with a demand that the U.N. Security Council seek damages from Israel for losses Syria incurred in the Dec. 11 Galilee raid.

But the Soviet resolution, shoved in ahead of one the Western Big Three are preparing on the same incident, failed to back up Syria's request that Israel be thrown out of the U.N. because of the raid and subjected to economic penalties.

It was the first time Russia has submitted a resolution on the years old Palestine situation. But for the past two years the Soviets have aligned themselves with the Arab cause in Middle East debates before the U.N.

Both the Russian and Western resolutions will probably come up when the council turns again to the Galilee incident at a meeting Thursday.

GOP Senators Blast Views Of Rep. Cole

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Republican senators today sharply disputed a statement by Rep. Cole (R-NY) that "it is not for the best interest of the country" that President Eisenhower attempt a second term.

Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass) said that "if the President decides to run it will be with the knowledge that he can do the job that he is undertaking."

Sen. Thye (R-Minn) said in a separate interview that Eisenhower "with half a heart would be better than some people with a full heart."

In the meantime four other Republican senators said Eisenhower's recent statements and his decision to resume news conferences have convinced them he intends to run again.

But Republican Sen. Young of North Dakota said he still doesn't expect the President to seek a second term.

Cole, one of the original Eisenhower-for-president supporters in 1952, said he does not believe it is fair to appeal to Eisenhower's sense of duty in efforts to get him to run again.

"It is very well to speak of the return to a normal life of those other persons who have suffered heart attacks, but there is nothing normal about the presidency," Cole declared. "There is nothing normal about the presidency and there is nothing normal about the times.

"I say that if Dwight Eisenhower again becomes a candidate for president he will be elected and if he were in full and sound health, I would urge him to run. But I believe that Dwight Eisenhower should not, and will not again become a candidate for public office."

Before leaving Key West, Fla., for Washington Sunday, Eisenhower told a news conference his mind is not yet so fixed on the second term question that it can't be changed. He did not indicate whether he is inclined to run again.

Polio Shots Will Resume

BOSTON (AP) — After months of delay Massachusetts—center of a summer polio epidemic—has decided to resume a mass program of Salk vaccine inoculations.

The Massachusetts Polio Advisory Committee recommended last night that the more recently produced vaccine is sufficiently safe to be given on a mass scale to schoolchildren.

The decision leaves Idaho as the only state which has not given a green light to the Salk vaccine.

In its report, the 19-member committee of prominent Bay State physicians said, "The protection to be expected from the vaccine is now greater than the potential risk to the vaccinated individual and to those with whom he comes in contact."

The committee noted however that "total freedom from live virus cannot be assured in this vaccine and that the vaccine may possibly, or rare instances, induce the disease in those vaccinated and their contacts."

"Furthermore," the report continued, "it recognizes that the search still continues for a suitable substitute for the virulent Mahoney strain."

New Service Lines Policy Okayed Here

A city ordinance setting a new city policy on reimbursement of construction costs of water and sewer lines to developers of housing projects was passed on first reading by the city council last night.

A second reading of the ordinance will be necessary to put the new policy into effect.

Second reading of a new electrical ordinance which would establish a uniform code for electrical installations and work of all types was postponed when a group of electrical industry men appeared to question the necessity of certain porvisions of the ordinance.

Action on second reading of the electrical ordinance was postponed until the next regular meeting of the council when a report is to be made by H. H. Reed, owner of Southern Eeletric Co., on a meeting of electricians who are to discuss the ordinance between now and the meeting date.

Reed and others questioned the necessity for licensing all workers in the electrical contracting field by the city, but he vigorously supported another part of the ordinance which would call for city inspection of all electrical installations.

The ordinance to change the city's policy on water and sewer line costs repayment to builders provides that the city repay the builders for their costs at the rate of 25 per cent of the revenues from the lines until the full amount has been repaid, instead of the rate of 50 per cent of the revenues now being repaid. A limit of 15 years to make the repayments was set in the ordinance.

The ordinance will require a minimum development area of 30 city residential lots, or approximately three city blocks, with 75 per cent full development before repayment starts.

No action was taken on the request of Norman Christian for permit to operate a taxi cab business in Snyder. Christian has formerly operated a cab business in Nacogdoches, Tex.

R. T. Buzbee, owner of the Yellow Cab Co. here, said his records show that his cabs now require less than 10 minutes to pick up each customer after the call is received.

Roy Dunlap, city manager, was requested by the council to make a comprehensive study of Snyder to determine whether a second cab company is needed here, and action on the request was promised at the next regular meeting of the council.

Dunlap said that there had been no complaints on the present taxi cab service here.

Three new Ford police patrol cars were purchased from Snyder Sales Co. by the city council when the lowest of four bids was accepted on the cars.

Snyder Sales Co. submitted a bid of $1,443.56 for outright purchase of one six cylinder Mainline four-door sedan, and a trade-in difference of $593.56 each on two others of the same specifications when the city trades in two 1955 model Ford police cars now in use.

Other bids were: Williamson & Sons Motor Co., on Mercuries, trade in difference of $1.586, and $1,486 and outright sale price on the third car of $2,286; Pollard Motor Co. on Plymouths, $1,006 each on trade-ins, and $1,556.80 outright sale; and Lamb Chevrolet Co., $814.74 each on trade ins, and $1,464.74 outright sale on third car.

One of the patrol cars now in use will be transferred to another department of the city for use instead of trading it in on the third new car.

The low bid of Well Machinery & Supply Co. for water meters for the city on a one-year contract purchase plan was accepted by the council.

The firm bid $12.78 each on three-quarter-inch meters, $48.24 each on one-inch meters, and $144.72 on two inch meters. Other bids, all higher, were submitted by Rockwell Manufacturing Co., Hershey Manufacturing Co., Viking Supply Co., Clow & Cowan Co., Badger Meter Co., and Worthington-Gammon Meter Co.

John Graham Is Ruled Sane

DENVER (AP)—John Gilbert Graham, accused of murder in the time bombing of a commercial airliner, is sane, two psychiatrists advised the District Court yesterday.

Dr. Leo V. Tepley's report said Graham, 23, had "full possession of his mental faculties" Nov. 1, the date of the United Air Lines crash 32 miles north of here in which 44 persons died, and on Nov. 14, when Graham signed a statement.

He "is above normal intelligence . . . and his mental processes do not betray any illness or disease," the report added.

A report by Dr. R. Robert Cohen declared Graham is "sane and mentally competent both at this time and on Nov. 1, the day of the alleged crime."

Both doctors observed Graham at a hospital for one month. They read the findings in the court of Dist. Judge Edward J. Keating. The reports had been mailed to the judge last week.

Graham is accused of causing the death of his mother Mrs. Daisie E. King, 54, of Denver, one of the passengers aboard the airliner. He has pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity, and contends he signed an alleged confession under duress.

Seven Crewmen Perish In Sinking Of Ship

ROTTERDAM, Netherlands (AP)—The 288-ton Norwegian coastal steamer Sirabuen sank today after a collision 15 miles off the Dutch Coast. Seven of the eight-man crew perished, said Dirkzwagers Shipping Agency.

The sole survivor, 1st Mate Bjerne Nilsen, was hauled aboard a lifeboat sent out from the other ship in the collision, the 5,408-ton Brizilian vessel Loide-Venezuela.

President Of U.S. Trust Given Only 'Few More Hours To Live'

WACO (AP)—A. B. Shoemake, president of the defunct U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co. who shot himself in the brain Saturday night, was given "only a few more hours to live" today.

Doctors said the 60-year-old man was definitely on the decline.

"His pulse, respiration and color are fair but his heart is definitely weaker," a spokesman for the hospital said. "He still is given only a few hours to live."

Shoemake, an amateur athlete who was in good physical condition for a man of his age, has clung to life for three days despite doctors' reports Sunday that he was a "dying man."

The steel-jacketed bullet Shoemake fired into his right temple came out of his left temple but it did not affect the sight or motor nerves. Physicians said the wound showed signs of infection and that swelling was causing further damage to the brain.

The head of U.S. Trust, placed in receivership Dec. 22 after loss to creditors was estimated up to seven million dollars, also turned on the gas in two stoves. He left suicide notes denying he had done any wrong and said he had no money with which to defend himself.

A spokesman for the Occidental Life Insurance Co. in Los Angeles, a company which had insured Shoemake's life for one million dollars, said that because of a standard clause limiting liability to the amount of premiums paid in event of suicide during the first two years of the policy, only $29,094 would be paid. That is the sum of the premiums paid by U.S. Trust, the beneficiary, on Shoemake's life.

Mrs. Shoemake, staying near the bedside of her husband since Saturday night, left the hospital briefly last night but returned within 30 minutes. She has a room near his and has been eating her meals in the hospital.

Florida Counts Up Its Damage

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Southeast Florida vegetable growers counted their losses in the millions of dollars today and feared damage would mount with freezing temperatures extending through tomorrow.

Northwest winds that drove the temperature down to 42 degrees in downtown Miami and 29 in the suburbs cleared beaches along the normally balmy lower east coast and sent sun-seekers in search of overcoats.

Heavy damage was reported to tomatoes, beans, watermelons, peppers, eggplant and swett corn from the Lake Okeechobee region south to the Florida Keys.

John Campbell, Dade (Miami) County farm agent, estimated damage at 10 million dollars.

High Priority Given Ike's Farm Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Republican congressional leaders agreed at a White House meeting today that the administration's farm program should have high priority at this session of Congress.

The GOP leaders told reporters that the President's 10-year program of highway construction also was stressed at the legislative strategy session.

Democrats are in control of Congress and will set the legislative program but they have indicated a disposition to give farm legislation a top place.

Eisenhower, on his second day back on the job after convalescence from his heart attack, talked with the GOP leaders nearly an hour and a half.

Republican Senate Leader Knowland of California said the President "looks fine." Knowland and House GOP Leader Martin of Massachusetts said there was no discussion of the President's second term plans.

The California senator said he believed Eisenhower's farm program, featuring a "soil bank" system for a cut back in crop acreage, was generally "well received" in Congress and stood a good chance of winning the necessary bipartisan support to get it enacted.

Meantime, he worked on printers proofs of his economic report, to be sent to Congress Jan. 23; a week after next Monday's budget message, and on a special message on aid for school construction due this Thursday or Friday.

Faced with this heavy presidential workload, the White House staff prepared to steer as many visitors and routine tasks as possible away from the chief executive's office.

Eisenhower worked a fairly short day yesterday, his first in Washington after 12 days of sun and exercise at Key West, Fla., recuperating from his Sept. 24 heart attack.

He checked into his office at 8 a.m. and out at 4 p.m., but broke the day with a luncheon and rest period lasting 2 hours and 20 minutes as his doctors have recommended.

At quitting time he took some work with him to the White House living quarters — the rough proofs of the economic message.

While on the job he had: sent to the Senate 155 nominations, mostly military promotions; sent Congress his special farm message; talked for an hour with Dr. Arthur F. Burns, his chief economic adviser; conferred with at least six White House officials; and dictated letters.

Racial Signs To Stay Up

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Signs dividing the races in railroad and bus stations remained in several cities today as officials insisted segregation will continue despite a ban by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Chief W. D. Rayfield of the Jackson city police said his men will be stationed at the Illinois Central Railroad depot to enforce the city's stand if necessary. Police replaced segregation signs removed by railroad workers.

The Jackson order against integration, Rayfield said, will apply to all passengers, whether interstate or intrastate.

The ICC ordered an end to segregated waiting rooms for interstate travelers and the order went into effect today. The edict does not apply to passengers who won't cross state lines.

The segregation signs also remained in Gulfport and Greenwood.

The Southern Railways station in Hattiesburg posted a sign reading "Colored Waiting Room for Intrastate Passengers." "Apparently, Negro passengers traveling across state lines had the choice of using the Negro or white facility.

AREA OIL ROUNDUP

Discovery Finals In West Mitchell

Duncan Drilling Co. of Big Spring has completed its No. 1 Turner & Gregory, West Mitchell County wildcat as a pumping discovery from the Clear Fork.

The strike is four and one-half miles northwest of Westbrook and one and one-quarter miles northwest and two miles west of the closest producers in the Westbrook field.

On the potential test the well pumped 76.18 barrels of 25 gravity oil, plus five per cent water in 24 hours. The production is through perforations between 2,668 feet and the plugged back total depth of 2,750 feet. That zone had been fractured with 2,000 gallons of sand oil.

The well is 660 feet from south and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 19, block 28, T-1-N, T&P survey. It originally was carried as A. L. Turner and others No. 1 L. B. McNew.

Warren Petroleum Corp. Oil Division, No. 1 Clayton, Southwest Yoakum County wildcat, 14 miles southwest of Plains, developed a slight show of oil and gas in a drillstem test in the San Andres.

The test was for one hour at 5,154-5,265 feet. Recovery was 60 feet of slightly oil and gas cut mud. Flowing pressure was 35 pounds and shutin bottom hole pressure in 15 minutes was 35 pounds.

The operation then cored at 5,268-83 feet. Recovery was 15 feet of dolomite with anhydrite inclusions. The top seven feet had shows of oil and the bottom eight feet had shows of oil and water. It is now making hole below 5,538 feet in dolomite.

The well is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 660, block D, John H. Gibson survey. It is three and one-half miles northwest of the Wasson (San Andres) field.

This prospector is contracted to 12,500 feet to test the Devonian.

Kerr-McGee Oil Industries, Inc., No. 1 Marx, Northwest Dawson County wildcat, four and one-half miles northeast of Welch drilled to 5,044 feet in San Andres lime.

It encountered no shows for production and has been plugged and abandoned. The location was 660 feet from north and west lines of the leases in section 10, block C-41, psl survey.

Highland Oil Co. of Midland No. 1 Mendenhall, West Coke County wildcat, 11 miles northeast of Sterling City has been plugged and abandoned at total depth of 7,971 feet in barren Ellenburger.

This project logged no shows for commercial production in any zone drilled through. The location was 660 feet from north and east lines of section 347, block 2, H&TC survey.

Anderson-Prichard Oil Co. reported seven-hour gauges from the Devonian and Pennsylvanian sections in No. 2 Webb, assured dual producer in the Seagraves (Siluro-Devonian) field of North Gines County.

The Pennsylvanian, which is a new pay for the field, the well flowed 124 barrels of oil through a 24-64-inch choke and perforations from 11,450 to 11,475 feet.

From the Devonian, it made 216 barrels of oil during the seven hours, through half-inch choke.

Testing continued.

Location is 467 feet from north and west lines of a 320-acre lease in section 20, block C-35, psl survey, six miles west of Seagraves.

BIRTHS

Woman Tells Of Arranging For Abortion

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mrs. Gertrude Silver admitted today she arranged the unsuccessful abortion the district attorney charges killed her daughter, Mrs. Doris Jean Ostreicher, last August.

In a private interview with a Philadelphia Evening Bulletin reporter the still-grieving wife of a food chain executive made these points in discussing publicly for the first time her part in the crime for which she is indicted as an accessory:

1. Her husband, Herman, knew nothing of the arrangements for the abortion on the fatal night of Aug. 24.

2. Her daughter, a bride of two months, had told her that her story-book elopement June 24 with a Miami Beach, Fla., motorcycle policeman was a "terrible mistake."

3. Doris had urged her father to start divorce proceedings.

4. Doris told her mother that if she was pregnant "you're my parent and you've got to help me" and also "I want an abortion."

5. Gave the mother the name of a woman who might help in finding an abortionist.

The 49-year-old Mrs. Silver sat by the side of her husband, 52, as she told the events that led up to death of her daughter in the north Philadelphia apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schwartz.

The Schwartzes have been charged with performing the abortion. Trial is tentatively scheduled for the end of this month.

Farming In Africa Is Discussed Here

Farming in Africa was discussed this morning by the Rev. Roy Coskew of Sweetwater in the second monthly meeting of the Scurry-Mitchell-Nolan-Fisher County Agriculture Workers Council.

The meeting was held at the Hilander here with Henry Burchett, president, heading the session. A total of 55 persons attended.

Rev. Coskew, experienced in farming operations on a 700-acre farm at Kenya, South Africa, discussed how farming was carried on in that area. The soil there is 28 feet deep and lacks nothing in the way of fertility, he said, adding that land sells there for $35 per acre.

The mean temperature in that area is 90 degrees, rarely gets hotter, and never freezes. The people there speak 800 dialects and are five races.

It is possible, the preacher said, to make 250 bushels of corn per acre there. Some farmers irrigate, and each has access to three million gallons of water daily by gravity irrigation. There is a lake there 450 miles long and 60 miles wide, and it is possible to catch Nile perch from the lake weighing up to 300 pounds each.

The average agricultural worker in that area is paid $4 a month, while a tractor driver receives $14 and a farm manager $45. Game life is abundant, and a person can get a license to take a total of 72 head of game.

The soil fertility bank program will be discussed at the next meeting of the council, which will be held at the Civic House in Colorado City under sponsorship of the Lone Wolf Electric Co-operative. C. H. Devaney, head of the Howard County Farm Bureau, will head the program with the help of W. A. Jones, district Extension Service agent, and Chancey A. King, former field man for District 6, Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation service.

Members of the council were introduced this morning, telling where they live and their occupations.

Randal Reeves of Sweetwater, the council's program chairman, appointed as members of the program committee Mike Custer, Colorado City, and Frank Stephenson, Fisher County, both the ASC; Oscar Fowler, Scurry County agricultural agent; and Kenneth Goforth, Snyder High School agriculture instructor.

BOND

tion and the increase in city taxes which the bond issues will necessitate.

Hugh Taylor, a member of the committee, said: "I'm for your bond issue and the growth of the town it will mean. I think your tax rate here is good, and will still be good compared to other Texas towns after the taxes are increased. If the town is to continue to grow these things are very necessary."

Taylor added that he would help in publicizing the election in any way that he could.

"I don't know of any city which can do any growing without money, and your plan appears to be well thought out, and conservative although it provides for many of the things Snyder must have if it is to continue to develop," Wayland Holt, another member of the citizens group said.

Edgar Taylor, county judge and one of the citizens present, said that "the only criticism I have with the proposition is that it was not done sooner."

The county judge told of going to Dallas and Fort Worth last week where he talked with owners of the Pioneer Cement Co. and Lone Star Cement Co. which came to Snyder three years ago and contemplated building a large cement plant near Fluvanna, but built the plant near Blackwell instead because Snyder did not then have the facilities necessary for such a plant.

"With the improvements Snyder could make with a bond issue of this type we could expect—and get—some of the industrial plants which are going to other towns in this area," Taylor said. He added that all other facilities in the area necessary for such industrial development are already here, and that they could be taken advantage of if the city continues to progress along lines which the bond issue and improvements will make possible.

Members of the citizens committee are: R. S. Yorgesen, Wayne Boren, Herman Doak, Harry Holbrook, J. H. Mixon, Renal B. Rosson, Myron H. Roe, Harold Bennett, Fred Bullard, Gene Dulaney, R. A. Schooling, Kenneth Wilson, Clyde Hall, Turner Beard, Frank Maddox, Steve Birdwell, Max West, Bob McAlister, Joe Graham, J. H. Sullivan, Hugh Taylor, J. T. Tentative Date For Chamber Banquet Set

The final official meeting of the 1955 Chamber of Commerce board of directors was held last night, and the board's main business included setting of a tentative date for the annual chamber membership banquet.

The tentative date is March 21. A program committee is now working toward the banquet, and during the next few weeks other committees will be appointed. Generally, both outgoing and incoming board members serve on committees for the banquet.

Election of six new directors is in process, and today is the final day for submitting ballots to the chamber office. Ballots postmarked before midnight tonight will be accepted. Results of the election are expected to be announced sometime tomorrow. At last report, there had been about 225 ballots submitted to the chamber by members.

Candidates for the six director posts are Gene Best, Bob Taylor, Wacil McNair, R. C. Patton, Tommy Deffebach, Dr. Wilton N. Jones, Bob Bickerstaff, L. A. McClanahan, Bob McCormick, Jay Rogers, Don Hire, Gene Richardson, Bud England, Bob Wilson, and C. O. Holder.

After the new directors are named, they will meet with the hold-over directors within a few days for organization of the 1956 board.

Motel Association Auxiliary To Meet

Monthly meetings for an auxiliary to the Snyder Motel Association were planned yesterday at a meeting of the association.

The organization of motel owners' wives will meet for the first time Feb. 13. Each second Monday will be the meeting time.

Eight members and one visitor, Grady Elder, Cahmber of Commerce manager, attended the association's meeting yesterday. Members discussed several ideas for tourist development during the year. The next meeting will be held Feb. 6.

Cadillac

Not Wealthy... Just Wise!

Most people think that the gentleman who owns and drives a new Cadillac must necessarily be blessed with an abundance of this world's goods.

But the truth of the matter is that a great many motorists of relatively modest means—like the happy man you see here—sit at the wheel of the "car of cars."

For wisdom and practicality lead to Cadillac—just as surely as prominence and prosperity!

Listen, for a moment, to this remarkable assembly of facts—and see if you don't agree.

The Series Sixty-Two Coupe . . . the beautiful and inspiring motor car pictured above . . . costs just a few dollars mote than many cars in the "medium-price" bracket.

Cadillac's dependability is so extraordinary that the car is virtually free from all but the purely routine requirements of service.

A Cadillac stretches a gallon of gasoline over so many miles that it is actually the rival of much smaller, lighter cars in this regard.

And a Cadillac will retain its value over the years better than any other automobile in the land.

The conclusion is, we think, self-evident: Cadillac ownership is not only wonderful and thrilling—but sound and sensible as well.

Why not stop in soon for a look and a ride?

You'll discover the most beautiful Cadillac ever built . . . the finest-performing Cadillac of all time . . . and the greatest value in Cadillac history.

That's Cadillac's magical combination for 1956—and it's waiting for you now in our showroom.

British Woolens Are Going Gay In Fashions For Spring

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Womens Editor

Those British woolens and Scotch tweeds that people used to think of as thick, warm and bulky are putting on new airs.

American spring fashions use many of the new and glamorized imported wools, which now emerge as feather-light, gossamer-thin, blended with silk or cashmere, in tender tints as well as rich dark tones.

Tweeds and fine woolens are something of a religion to an Englishman. A case in point is a suave gentleman named Robert Heaney, formerly a member of the British Foreign Service in the Orient, now in New York representing a group of Scotch woolen mills. When he speaks of tweeds his eyes light up and his voice takes on a reverent tone.

"Tweeds started in the cottages of Scotland and Ireland where men tended sheep," says Heaney. "Man and sheep eked out life together, and thus homespuns were born. The sheep were clipped, the wool was carded, spun, dyed and woven, all at home. And many of today's high-fashion tweeds still come from these cottages, woven on hand looms, dyed with seaweed and flowers."

British woolen manufacturers now are producing special fabrics for the American market, says Heaney, because the demands here are entirely different from those of the British Isles.

"It's a matter of climate," he explains. "Americans want lighter weights, softer fabrics, brighter colors. This year you will see many blends of wool and silk or wool and cashmere, which have a wonderfully soft feeling and new life in the color. It's a reflection of the state of the nation. People always like bright colors when times are good."

London Judge Of Juvenile Court Retires

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Woman's Editor

A large dose of plain, old-fashioned common sense is the best cure for problems of juvenile delinquency, says Sir Basil Henriques, who, recently retired after 18 years as chairman of the East London Juvenile Court.

Tall, silver haired and one of Britain's foremost authorities on the problems of the young, Sir Basil paused briefly in New York at the start of a nationwide lecture sponsored by the British Foreign Office.

"I blame many of the ills of today's young people on unrealistic educational theories which ignore the characteristics of real life and try to train young people in an environment where there are no punishments, no rewards, no competition and no repression," he said.

"Naturally some of the youngsters go berserk when they leave school to meet a world where things become unpleasant if you break the rules, where the rewards of integrity and skill are great, where life is constantly competitive and where it is necessary to exercise some repression.

"Some of the so-called progressive schools instill in children the idea that they should exercise every whim at any time, that they must express themselves, no matter how disastrous the results, that if they don't like to read or do sums they don't have to, and that, no matter what they do they will never be punished.

"I believe you have more of this kind of schools in America than we do in Britain, but even there discipline is much more lax than it used to be."

Weight watchers take notice. Cut a baked potato in half and scoop out the insides. Put the potato through a ricer and mash with salt, pepper and hot milk until fluffy. Spoon the mashed potato back into the shells and sprinkle with paprika. Reheat in the oven or under the broiler. Chances are that you won't miss the calorie-rich butter usually on baked potatoes!

Tuna fish goes fancy when you put it in a cream sauce thickened with egg yolks and add mushrooms, green peper and pimiento to it. This way you can call it Tuna a la King

*Salmon Vegetable Casserole
½ cup diced potatoes
1½ cups carrots, sliced
1-3 cup peas
1 small onion, chopped
1½ tablespoons butter
1½ tablespoons flour
1-3 cup vegetable water
2-3 cup milk
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
½ pound can salmon, flaked
1 recipe Baking Powder Biscuit dough

Cook potato, carrots and peas together in a small amount of boiling salted water. Drain, saving 1-3 cup water for sauce. Cook onion in butter until tender; remove from heat. Add flour, stirring until smooth. Add vegetable water, milk, salt, pepper, and parsley; cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Arrange alternate layers of vegetables and fish in greased casserole. Cover with sauce. Prepare baking powder biscuit dough and pat out to size of casserole; place over sauce. Cut small slits in dough or prick with a fork to allow steam to escape. Bake in very hot oven (450) 30 minutes. Serves 2.

U.S. Designer Is High Priestess Of 'Casuals'

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—More than any contemporary designer, breezy Claire McCardell has become identified with the casual American look, beloved by women who hate to look dressed up.

She is the high priestess of understatement, of the carefully careless effect, of the easy slouch and the stringbean figure. The 1956 version of the famous McCardell stringbean dress shown on the opening day of New York's Fashion Press Week is merely a straight, unbelted, unfitted tube of harlequin checked wool jersey, with no trimmings, no collar, no buttons, no gimmicks.

Its only concession to design is two narrow slit pockets, one just above the right breast, the other on the left hip. She shows it with a severe white pillbox hat, white gloves and a gold chain necklace. On the girl with the McCardell figure it is effective. But ladies of ample curves should beware.

Pauline Trigere gives movement to the sheath with her "Wings Away" silhouette, which consists of a split overskirt over a sheath, separated at the front to reveal the narrow skirt beneath. Trigere's new term for suits is "duets" or "trios," and her latest trick is to team a waist-length fitted jacket with a skirt having a brief peplum at the top, just meeting the jacket at the beltline and giving the effect of a short, flared jacket.

Ceil Chapman, famous for glamor gowns, introduces the "neo-classic" silhouette, a sheath with back talk. In most cases the back is bloused to the hipline where it is caught in a band and released in a floating back panel. As always, this designer glories the feminine figure by means of drapery, tucks and skillfull sculpture of cobwebby chiffons and laces.

Teach Children To Work, P-TA Told

"We have a responsibility to teach our children to work," said Ross Hemphill in a talk on Monday before the High School P-TA. He pointed out that through meeting responsibilities in the home, children can more easily and successfully take their place in the community.

Mr. Hemphill also emphazied the importance of encoraging the creative talents of children. He suggested that a bullentin board in the home serve a valuable function in displaying children's work, and thus giving the family another common interest.

The Rev. Lennol Hester led the prayer.

At the P-TA business meeting it was decided to hold a spaghetti supper on February 6, the proceeds of which will go toward completing the scholarship fund.

Spread the cut surfaces of the bread with the cheese mixture. Just before serving, heat the bread in a moderate sauce, celery salt or other seasonings may be added to the cheese mixture.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H.* At your druggist. Money back guarantee.

Mink Is Now Available For Everyone

It seems that practically every woman in the world would give her eye teeth for a mink coat or stole. This is a phenomenon that has been developing for many years, causing deep pain to husbands and fathers and often plaing havoc with the family checkbook.

Now, however, our astute scientists have come up with man-made mink, which looks amazingly like the real thing, but is made of a blend of dynel and orlon, is lightweight, warm, moth-proof and—most important — easy on the budget.

Manufacturers of the new fake fur hasten to assure the public that they do not expect their test-tube mink to replace the real thing, but they do think women will get a kick out of wearing it in sports jackets, stoles and even negligees and hostess skirts.

The new synthetic mink comes in several mutation colors, including the popular silver-blue tone, and is so skillfully printed that it has the markings and appearance of the real fur.

This is the newest in the fake-fur family, which has been growing popularity for the last several seasons. Up to now the synthetic sheared beaver versions have had greatest success.

But now comes fake mink—and every girl can have a mink coat.

MAN-MADE MINK—At 10 paces this stole looks like fabulous mutation mink. But its price tag puts it within reach of the working girl's budget.

Dear Friends

The people in the picture in this advertisement are Humble researchers on their way to work in Humble's Houston Research Center.

They are important people in your life, because their studies and their constant experimentation have only one purpose: to supply your increasing needs for oil and natural gas.

At the Houston Research Center, they pool their efforts to make the finding and production of oil and natural gas more efficient. And since they are top people in their different fields, their work has met with notable success.

It has helped to make the Humble Company not only the largest but also one of the most efficient producing companies in the country.

The new ideas, new methods and new practices developed by Humble researchers have resulted in the discovery of new reservoirs of a valuable natural resource; in making these reservoirs more productive; and in prolonging their life for your future benefit.

Real Life Romance

Princess Margaret's busted romance with group Captain Townsend left our incurable romantics disappointed and down in the mouth, but not for long. Now comes a romance that outdoes the Graustarkian imaginings of the late George Barr McCutcheon, with the extra added attraction that this one happens to be true.

Betrothal of Miss Grace Kelly, a Philadelphia Mainliner, to Prince Rainier of Monaco burst upon the public Thursday and from now until well after the wedding, which will take place sometime after Easter, we shall be bathed in beautiful romantic thoughts and glittering ceremonies.

Miss Kelly is a movie star with social position, beauty and brains, good enough to have won an Oscar last year. Her family has wealth and standing, and her father and brother have held the international sculling championship in their turn.

The prince is a refreshing contrast to the bulk of his kind. He is neither broke nor the playboy type, but a handsome intelligent and engaging personality with sense enough to look 'em over and pick what is called a dish, but a dish with class.

On the practical side—and this need not detract from the romantic interest— the prince is in need of a male heir, lest the principality lapse into a commonalty.As long as the gambling spirit prevails among mankind he need not worry about revenue; the Monte Carlo "take" is enormous.

And what will Mrs. Rainier be caller once the hitch is made? The prince settled that promptly; she will be "Her Serene Highness, Princess of Monaco."

Hollywood never dreamed up a plot half as thrilling as this real-life drama. We shall read every line relating to this romantic event, but we do have our personal worries about it. When we get excited we find relief in eating bon-bons, and we fear the effect on our waistline, at our age.

Oh, well; that is one of the hazards of living in a romantic world.

AMA Objects To Poll

The Journal of the American Medical Association has put a heavy editorial foot down on the effort of a pollster to find out what the nation's heart specialists think about President Eisenhower's physical ability to serve a second term.

The specialists have been asked by the Journal to disregard the questionnaire on the ground it could produce "hysteria." An even more compelling reason might be the questionable ethic of having a doctor render an opinion without a personal examination of the subject.

In the end, of course, only the President's decision will count. He has had a great deal to say, at various times, to the effect that no man is indispensable, and this has often been intrepreted as indicating he did not wish a second term, even before his heart attack.

But under the circumstances Mr. Eisenhower comes as near being indispensable to the Republican Party as any President has ever been to any party, and in the end the pleas of party leaders may overcome whatever reluctance he may have to accept a second nomination.

That, of course, remains to be seen.

It is conceivable that the opinion of the heart specialists could play an important part in bolstering the party leaders' effort to persuade him to run. The director of the polling agency said the survey was being made on behalf of a client whom he declined to name.

If carried through and the results announced, the consensus of medical opinion could become a potent political gimmick, either pro or con, depending upon which way the opinion went—for or against.

The AMA has always been pretty fussy about meddling openly in politics, and this may be the real reason behind the Journal's thumbsdown attitude. Whichever way the weight of opinion goes, one party or the other would be either pleased or disappointed —or, as the case may be embittered—and that might not be healthy for the AMA.

It's Difficult To Distingush Between Ladies And Gentlemen In Penguin World

By SAULT PETT

With the U.S. Antarctic Expedition, Jan. 10 (AP)—It's all but impossible to tell the ladies from the gentlemen among the cute little natives of the cold, white and lonely land at the bottom of the world.

This is one of the bits of intelligence gathered from a visit with a small party from the icebreaker Glacier to a huge penguin rookery near the base of Mt. Bird on Ross Island, off the antarctic continent.

The party from the lead ship the U.S. antarctic expedition is believed to be the first to visit the rookery since a British expedition in 1917.

This giant maternity ward is estimated to have some 50,000 Adelie penguins. Adelies are the small model, averaging about 18 inches in height. The larger Emperor penguin, which stands about 40 inches, is harder to find.

On the way across the bay ice to the mountain, we passed several of the walking dinner jackets out looking for food. With the white breasts, black backs and waddling walk, they look more like mechanical toys than birds. They move as if they had been wound up.

Whether a male or female (and just try making up your mind), the penguin is sociable only up to a point. While a penguin may be a curious ham, and while it may waddle to within a few feet of a human and show off, it does not like to be touched by strangers.

Try to touch it and it will squawk like a wounded chicken and belt you with a flipper or nip you with a sharp break.

Apparently the way to a penguin's heart is not paved with mink or diamonds but with pebbles. Malcolm Davis, curator of birds at the National Zoological Park in Washington and another member of the party visiting Mt. Bird, gives this picture of a penguin courtship:

One penguin circles another, trumpeting and holding its flippers outstretched. The circling penguin then offers the other some pebbles. If they are accepted, then the penguins are legally married. But we still don't know whether it's the male or female that supplied the dowry. Event the experts can't decide.

When, walking, penguins hold their flippers out for balance. They also travel on their stomachs, propelling themselves by digging their toes into the ice and pushing. They look as if they are sleigh riding without sleighs.

The rookery on Mt. Bird stretches across a red-black ridge of volcanic ash, with penguins standing only a foot or two apart. As we picked our way among them, the birds became very protective, howling and nipping at our legs.

In an incubation period of about 40 days, the parent penguins alternate sitting on the eggs. They also alternate as baby sitters after the chick is hatched.

While one stands guard at the nest, the other goes down to the sea for food, usually shrimp. Then he or she digests the food, returns to the rookery and regurgitates the food into the chick's mouth.

The penguin chick matures in three or four months. He then goes to sea for two years, following the shrimp north. Penguins frequently travel beyond the Antarctic Circle, which means a trip of more than 600 miles. After two years they return to mate and hatch their eggs in the rookery in which they were born.

Davis says these unusual birds are amazing swimmers. They can travel as fast as 60 m.p.h. and dive for food at great depths.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

CAT MAN, By Edward Hoagland. Houghton Mifflin.

A circus that travels from New York out to Minnesota and Iowa is the ever changing scene for the novel by this new winner of the coveted Houghton Mifflin Literary Fellowship awards.

The performers, hangers-on, gawking townies, the winos, walkaways, bongheads, the ringstock men, the sidewalk kids, the jigs and, for individuals, Chief, Little Chief, Heavy, Red, Brownie, Pinito and other girls, and Fiddler, who is the hero, the "cat man" himself they form half the cast.

They are rough, tough, hard men or women able to look out for themselves. They drink; fight with clubs; work till they drop; have unshakable loyalties, other virtures and odd vices.

This is half the cast, the lesser half. Next comes the zoo, the other zoo, the menagerie, the four-legged rough, tough, hard beasts able to take care of themselves, too. They have their own loyalties, virtues and vices. There are Sweetheart the tiger with the tickly places under her arms and hair so stiff Fiddler's fingers won't brush through it; the lion cubs and the great grown-ups; Cheetah; Snippy, Pasha, Mabel, 500-pound Ajax, the tigers; elephants with eyelashes as long as a flirt's; the python that slides out head, middle and tail, and the rabbit that disappears down its gullet head, middle and bedraggled hind legs.

Even while you dote on the huge creatures, you never forget, or you forget only once, that they can be as deadly in play as in anger; the swing of a giant paw, the lightning-fast leap, the snap of the jaws kills you as dead for fun as for food. As soon as you take your life in your hands and enter the cages, hear the animals roar, watch them fed, watered, petted, avoided or beaten back, you're in a wonderful and terrifying world, a world you never knew before.

Ike's Latest Statement On Race Surprises Nobody

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's statement that he hasn't made up his mind about running again wasn't surprising. It would have been surprising if he had said he has already decided to seek re-election.

His doctors say they won't know until mid-February whether he can stand another four White House years. They may find that he can't. For him to say now, before the medical verdict is in, would be poor judgment, at the least.

Because of what he has said already it would not have been surprising if he had told his news conference yesterday this term is his last. Based on what he said yesterday and previously, a good case can be made out that he will not run.

Eisenhower clearly felt, even before his heart attack last Sept. 24, the heavy burden of the presidency on a man now 65 years old. And he still feels it.

Last Aug. 4 he told an Ohio Republican delegation that the eroding effect the presidency has on a man might be the deciding factor in his decision on seeking a second term.

He pointed out then that no man had reached 70 while president. Eisenhower would be 66 by the time he began a second term in 1957 and 71 years and 3 months old by the time he finished it in 1961, if he lived that long.

Yesterday he told his news conference that — looking back on all the jobs of his life, including his military responsibility in World War II — the presidency is "the most wearing . . . although not necessarily the most tiring."

He said yesterday he would begin today to take on the full duties of the presidency. But he also said: "I have done many things in the past because I didn't have that sence of fatigue—and I have to be careful of myself."

Last Aug. 4, almost two months before his heart attack, he told a news conference the state of his health in 1956 would be an important factor in his decision about running again. He was reminded of this yesterday. He said it was correct.

Then he said the following, which could be interpreted as meaning he is concerned about his chance of surviving another four years in the White House — concerned for the sake of the country:

"It is a very critical thing to change governments in this country at a time that it is unexpected . . . It is a rather startling thing."

Refugee Makes Millions By Convincing Americans They Can Do Home Sewing

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Leon Jolson is a refugee who became a millionaire by convincing even policemen that they could do home sewing.

His success is one of the most spectacular of any achieved by the hundreds of thousands of fugitives from totalitarian terror who have found a new life in America.

Jolson and his wife, Ann, came here in 1947. They were stateless, penniless and childless. On Jolson's left arm he bore the blue tattooed numerals symbolizing the three years he was imprisoned in Nazi concentration camps before he escaped and joined the Polish underground movement.

Today at 42 Jolson is an American citizen, has two children, and heads the $60,000,000-a-year Necchi and Elna sewing machine corporations.

But for a short time after his arrival he and his wife had to exist on a $90-a-month check from a private relief organization while Jolson learned the English language.

What could he do to earn his way in this strange land? Jolson had been a sewing machine company representative in Poland. He was amazed to find how few American women did home sewing. He decided there was a big market here, and that he would go back into the only business he knew.

"There is already too much competition in it," they told him. "Besides American housewives are different from European housewives. They aren't interested in acquiring the technical skill to do home sewing."

Jolson thought they were wrong. He felt that by importing an Italian model sewing machine that required less operating skill he could make a go of it. In 1948 he started his own business on $2,000 borrowed capital.

"I was scared stiff," he recalled.

But his business mushroomed to $2,000,000 in sales by the end of the first year. By 1953 they had reached $45,000,000. His firms now account for about a tenth of the $600,000,000 American sewing machine industry.

"The do-it-yourself movement was a great factor, Jolson said. "Home sewing used to be limited largely to homes in the lower economic classes. Now it's gone into high society.

"Many men have taken up sewing. We even have policemen who sew clothing for their children."

Jolson now imports only about 25 per cent of his sewing machine parts. The rest are manufactured in this country. The machines are assembled in plants here and in Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Grace Kelly Scores Much Higher Than Sec. Dulles

By INEZ ROBB

The engagement of Miss Grace Kelly to Prince Rainier III of Monaco is the first clear-cut decision in international relations that the United States has scored in the three years during which John Foster Dulles has worn out Lord only knows how many airplanes.

Not only that, but our girl is marrying into a government so solvent that it is in a position to lend us money! Miss Kelly will come to the throne of a principality that not only boasts a balanced budget but a little something in its sock. Revenues for the current fiscal year amount to $6,000,000 and expenditures to a mere $5,000,000.

Love makes the world go round, all right, but, as some pragmatist has said, money is the axle grease. Not only is the principality solvent, but so is its royal family.

If, after her marriage, Miss Kelly never wants to make another picture or earn a red cent, her bridegroom will be able to keep her in any style to which she may become accustomed. There have always been ample funds in the family kitty, even after the present prince's great-grandfather, Prince Albert I, gave the equivalent of $25,000,000 in the 19th Century to further scientific advance.

Sometime after Easter Miss Kelly will become Her Serene Highness, the Princess of Monaco, a principality of 370 acres, an enclave less than half the size of Central Park in New York City. In Texas that isn't much real estate, either, but on the Riviera, it's paradise.

If Her Serene Highness ever tires of the royal residence (owned by the family, not the principality) in Monaco, she can always repair to the prince's beautiful French chateau East of Rheims. The chateau is surrounded by 14,000 rich agricultural acres.

The marriage is raising all sorts of problems, all pleasant. For example, Prince Rainier has a crown, all right. But just what he will do about a suitable diamond headpiece for his bride remains to be seen. There are no royal Monaco jewels in the sense of the British royal gems. The beautiful personal jewels of the Monaco royal family are now in the possession of Prince Rainier's mother.

The Monaco palace includes an impressive throne room, but is equipped at present with but one throne. However, this is to be rectified as soon as the marraige takes place and Her Serene Highness will have a place to sit, too.

And finally, after marriage, Miss Kelly will doubtless share with her bridegroom his greatest cross: public belief that Monaco is nothing but one huge gambling casino. His Serene Highness sometimes loses some of his serenity in trying to make the world understand that gambling fees amount to less than three percent of the principality's annual revenues. Indirect taxes and booming local industries supply the rest. Our girl is marrying into a going concern.

One more thing. By a treaty of 1918 with France, the succession to the Monaco throne must be approved by the French government. But can anyone imagine a Frenchman so ungallant as not to approve of any offspring of Her Serene Highness?

Big Reception Is Held By Congressional Club

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — It is like old home week at the Congressional Club's first big reception after Congress convenes. Wives of the law makers bring their husbands and exchange chit-chat on their vacation doings.

This first reception is normally to welcome new members of Congress. Mrs. Omar Burleson is club president and wife of the Democratic congressman from Texas.

After the big opener, the attractive clubhouse, all slicked up after its many months' closing, begins to hum with activities. The club provides a happy nonpartisan meeting ground for wives of law makers from all parts of the country to make friends, learn about each other's problems, and enjoy a social life somewhat similar to that which they find in clubs in their own home towns.

Next big shindig on the club calendar is the reception tentatively scheduled for late February honoring Vice President and Mrs. Nixon and one in March honoring Chief Justice and Mrs. Warren. Last year the club had a reception for President and Mrs. Eisenhower and one for Speaker Sam Rayburn. Usually the President only comes to the club once during each Congress. However, Bess Truman, who has been a member (while her husband was in the Senate) was able to wangle two visits from the President.

For the first time in several years the club will hold a white elephant sale at which products from all the states are usually sold. In connection with the bazaar there will also be a food fair at which dishes made from recipes in the organization's new "Congressional Club Cookbook" will be featured. These include Mamie Eisenhower's much publicized pumpkin chiffon pie. "Cookbook" sales since publication in midsummer have been "terrific," Mrs. Burleson says. Most of the 7,500 copies have already been sold and a reprint has been ordered

On the regular club schedule as in past years will be the Friday teas, the Monday bridge luncheons, Tuesday Red Cross days with luncheon and entertainment afterwards by club members, Thursday formal luncheons for private parties the young people and associate member parties, a children's party in May and the annual breakfast for the First Lady tentatively scheduled for May.

War On Beetle Entering The Mopping-Up Stage

By FRANK PITMAN

DENVER, Jan. 10 (AP)—A five-year war on a beetle which threatened multimillion-dollar damage to Colorado's Western spruce forests is in the mopping-up stage, thanks to modern chemicals, woodpeckers and the weather.

An epidemic of the Engelmann spruce beetle, a quarter-inch bark insect, was first spotted in the White River National Forest in 1941. It was not until 1950, however, that the U.S. Forest Service obtained funds for a large-scale control program.

The main weapon was insecticides. A total of 2,873,939 gallons was used to treat 1,628,460 infected trees—at an average cost of $3.25 per tree.

The service built 533 miles of access roads to carry the program to affected areas. And nature, too, pitched in with a hand of its own.

"No story of the battle of the beetle would be complete without a word about man's best helper, the woodpecker," says forester Joe Kay, who is in charge of insect control for the Rocky Mountain region.

As the number of beetles mounted, so did the number of woodpeckers. In 1951, a record cold snap combined with these circumstances to help turn the battle in some areas.

Temperatures dropped as low as 56 below zero in some sections. The cold was lethal to beetles, but had no effect on the woodpeckers.

In 1954-55, the Forest Service concentrated its control program in the southwestern section of the state. Three camps of 130 men each treated from 1,600 to 1,800 trees daily. Timber operators felled more than 130,000 infected trees. And the woodpeckers kept up their own offensive.

Kay feels that the threat has now been largely contained, thanks to this combined effort.

Wells Are Drilled Deeper, Faster, But Costs Go Up

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—Oil wells are being drilled deeper and faster but costs are up 97 per cent since 1941.

An annual report from the American Assn. of Oilwell Drilling Contractors indicates the average drilling time in days is only 56 per cent of the 1941 rate. The rate of penetration has increased 88 per cent in 14 years.

The average depth of wells has increased from 3,056 feet in 1941 to 4,044 in 1955, with per foot costs up from $7.25 to $13.50.

The association estimated labor costs in 1955 were 102 per cent above 1941, equipment costs 95 per cent higher, and other costs 94 per cent higher.

Brad Mills, executive secretary, said increased cost in completing wells has not been caused by higher prices received by drilling contractors. The report indicated the average contract cost per foot in 1955 was $4.90, compared to $5.10 in 1954, $5.85 in 1952 and $4.25 in 1941.

Mills said both the average drilling time in days and the rate of penetration remained almost the same in 1955 as during 1954. This, he said, resulted from the average number of rotary rigs in use for each million feet of hole drilled last year was comparable to the same ratio in 1954.

Average drilling time in days the past two years was 56 per cent of 1941, compared to 58 per cent in 1952, 75 per cent in 1949.

RADIO-TV REPORT

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP).— If the many million members of the Chowder and Marching Club Dedicated to Preserving Interest in the Late Unpleasantness Between the States will gather round, we'll report interesting news.

Television finally has recognized that we all are the heirs of a great and fascinating story called the Civil War. Specifically, an erudite and articulate member of the club named Ed Byron has recognized it. He interested another member of the club named Sylvester L. (Pat) Weaver, chairman of the board of NBC.

Now, he is filming 36 half-hour dramas on the Civil War; he also proposes to film at least four 1½-hour spectaculars based on the conflict. The series entitled "The Eagle and the Rose" probably won't appear on NBC-TV stations until next fall. But if this is premature news, it's fun, like Nathan Bedford Forrest, to be there fustest with the mostest.

Byron was brought to bay in the bloody angle of a restaurant with his sole defense a bloody Mary. He had just weathered an outrageous quip: "Hey, Ed, which sida ya gonna let win?"

Gazing moodily at the new assaulting party, he quickly established his firing power superiority with Civil War lore. No wonder. His father's folks were Confederate Democrats out of Georgia; his mother's clan Irish Republicans. Hatch these forces in his native Kentucky and you'll see why both sides won the war.

"People were people in 1862," said Byron. "It's a kind of a thing to bring your great-great-grandfather into focus so you can understand him as a human being. If your family was here in the Civil War you are a part of it. If your family wasn't here, you're smart enough to know it was a mighty important thing that brought us to maturity."

And that, in its fashion, is perhaps the most apt description yet on why there is such a tremendous revival of interest these days in the Civil War.

1 YEAR AGO

The state budget deficit was found to actually be $65 million instead of $61 million.

President Eisenhower requested a four-year extension of the selective service law.

5 YEARS AGO

The Texas Railroad Commission granted drought relief freight rates on cattle feeds for 37 West Texas counties.

Bruce L. Greere was installed as president of the Kiwanis Club here.

Interest In Mechanics Comes Early For Boy

ORANGE, Va. (AP)—Harrison Simm's interest in mechanics started early. He removed the screws from his high chair and crashed to the floor in a splattering of baby food.

Simms interest hasn't faded. At 13 he is considered a science prodigy. He is in demand to get tractors started, He fixes electrical equipment for neighbors. He electrocutes rats in the barn. Everything on the Simms farm runs at a well-oiled peak of efficiency. On a recent visit to the Mariners Museum at Newport News his parents missed him—then found him examining an electronic door to find out how it worked. He is building the "Simsyclemabile," — two bicycles powered by a motor mounted between them.

His ambition is the Air Force, where he can learn about radar, and then a career in electronics.

Dissension In Ranks Hurt Eagles In '55

The Eagles had plenty of material the past season but finished way down the ladder in the final standings.

Much of the downfall of the Eagles was blamed to "dissension in the ranks."

The Eagle club officials believe this will be corrected next season when Devore takes over the reins.

Devore will receive a sizeable sum in his new venture, between $15,000-$20,000. That perhaps is almost doubled to what he was receiving at Dayton.

That's a pretty good promotion for a fellow who has just completed two "losing" seasons.

Take the case of Hughie Devore of Dayton University who today signed as the head coach of the professional Philadelphia Eagles.

Devore has just finished two years at Dayton at which time he won eight games, lost 11 and tied 1, a record which is anything but promising.

But the pro Eagles weren't looking for a man who has produced winning teams, altogether. They wanted a man who could handle football players in more ways than just teaching them how to play the game.

Devore has a reputation of making a big hit with his charges and therein was the reason he was picked up by the professional Eagles.

Many critics these days in the football world are saying college football is no longer an amateur sport.

We're not one of those but we picked up a newspaper the other day with his headline:

"Porkers Sign Deaf Mute."

Down in the story, the story said the University of Arkansas had offered a deaf mute a scholarship to play football for the Porkers.

The fellow who wrote the headline however, must be one of those critics who is trying to make college football a professional sport. Would-be college prospects don't "sign" contracts when they enroll at a school.

What Constitutes An All-State Player?

Maybe we have the wrong impression but to us an all-state player is a boy who makes the first team in the all-state selections.

However, several papers around the state Sunday played up their local boys as making the all-state team when they weren't listed on the first team.

One paper, the Greenville Banner, came out with a big headline that Marvin Mastro of the Greenville Lions had made All-State in Class 3A.

Mastro, as it turned out, wasn't on the first or second team but was on the Honorable Mention list.

We'll go along with anyone in saying that to even gain Honorable Mention All-State is a big honor. But we don't believe a boy getting honorable mention should be declared as making the all-state team.

There were 52 boys included on the All-State 3A selections that included first and second team and honorable mention. Since this represents the top boys among 1,800-2,000 who were members of 3A squads during the season, you can see that it's a big honor to be mentioned anywhere on the selections.

Mangrum Easily Wins LA Open

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lloyd Mangrum, his bank account fattened by $6,000 off his fourth victory in a Los Angeles Open, has served a warning to his brother professional golfers that he is back in sound physical shape and aiming at further conquests.

Mangrum made it a start-to-finish triumph in winning the Los Angeles fixture, beginning with two straight 66s, then a 68 and a one-over-par 72 that was good enough to stand up at the windup of the 30th annual event yesterday.

The one-time National Open champion, who matched the late, great MacDonald Smith in winning this one four times, plans to play in Bing Crosby's big clambake at Pebble Beach this weekend.

Then he'll play Phoenix, Tucson and the Texas and Houston Opens. If plans stand up, he'll rest a bit for the Masters at Augusta, Ga., April 5-8.

"That's one tournament I'd like to win," Mangrum confided.

Lloyd's 72 gave him a 72-hole total of 272, breaking by one stroke the tournament record here set in 1938 by Jimmy Thomson at a comparable Griffith Park municipal course.

This one was unfolded at the Rancho Municipal course, a par 36-35—71 test over 7,048 yards that was tough for some and ever dangerous for most.

Mangrum admitted he played the last nine holes a little conservatively. He held a five-stroke lead over Tommy Bolt and Jerry Barber, beginning the round, and five over Bolt and six over Barber after the first nine.

"You can afford to play a little on the conservative side with a four or five-stroke lead," he explained. "You can't take many chances on getting a seven or an eight on a hole. . . . Bolt might get hot like he did with his 63, or Barber move in."

Barber wound up with a 70 for fruitless straight par-71 rounds, at 275 and Bolt, with two steady but 276. The one-stroke difference was worth $1,000. Barber collected $3,200 second prize, Tommy $2,200.

This was Mangrum's first major full tournament since he suffered a painful rib separation in the Masters last April. Does he feel all right now?

"I hope I feel every week as good as I did this week," he said after the victory.

Illini Make Big Noise In Big 10

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

For the moment, at least, it looks as if the experts were right about this season's dog fight for the Big Ten basketball title—it's Illinois, with big George Bonsalle and wee Willie Ridley bootin' the Illini in.

The Mutt-and-Jeff combo paid off last night as the Illini whipped Wisconsin 96-77 and wound up as the only unbeaten (2-0) team in Big Ten play. With Paul Judson, Illinois' leading scorer, held to 15 points, Bonsalle, a strapping 6-8, hung up 26. Ridley, a 5-9 pepperpot, scored 25.

The eighth-ranked Illini went into the night's action as one of four clubs unbeaten in Big Ten competition. But Ohio State, Indiana and Purdue all lost.

Iowa, the defending champ, reasserted itself after four straight defeats to hang an 88-73 loss on Ohio State, ranked No. 7 in the nation. The Hawkeyes had five scorers in double figures, overpowering all America Robin Freeman, who scored 37 for OSU.

Indiana, rated No. 12, was stopped by Minnesota's zone defense 77-71. And Purdue was bounced 74-67 by Michigan, which trailed 37-35 at the half.

Vanderbilt, rated No. 4, was the only other member of the top 10 active last night and ran it's record to 10-1 with a 72-59 Southeastern Conference decision over Georgia Tech. Vandy, led by Al Rochelle's 30 points, beat the Yellowjackets at the free throw line — sinking 32 of 46 while Tech missed 16 of 27.

In other games last night, Alabama topped Mississippi State 87-75 and Louisiana State got past Florida 91-90 to match Vandy's unbeaten record in the SEC. But Mississippi dumped Auburn to a 2-1 mark by a 76-69 count.

McKeehnan Top Scorer; Taylor 8th

Dale McKeehan, Sweetwater Mustang center, came from nowhere last week to take over the individual scoring leadership in District 1-AAA.

McKeehan pumped in 40 points Saturday night against a lowly Vernon team to take the individual scoring leadership with 106 points in five games for a 21.2 average per game.

McKeehan, however, ranks second in average points per game. Gene Arington of Palo Duro of Amarillo has the top average, 21.7, scoring 87 points in four games.

Arington, despite his potent average, ranks fourth in total points scored in district play. Larry Corbin of Levelland is the second leading scorer with 99 points in six games for a 16.5 average while Jan Loudermilk of Big Spring is third with 91 in six games, an average of 15.1 per game.

Fifteen players in 1-AAA own averages of 13 points per game or above, three of them members of the Tiger squad. Jerry Taylor is the highest scoring Tiger in conference play with 68 points in five games, an average of 13.6 per game. Taylor ranks 8th in total points in the district.

Alan Snead and Milton Ham of the Tigers are tied for 9th in the district with Jimmy Bice of Big Spring, each with 65 points in five games for a 13.0 average.

McKeehan leads in both field goals (38) and free shots (34). In the Vernon game, McKeehan canned 11 field goals and 18 free tosses.

ProEaglesSign Dayton Coach

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles end their search for a top-caliber head coach today with the signing of Hughie Devore of Dayton University — and they have National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell to thank for their good fortune.

Devore, a 46-year-old veteran college coach and Notre Dame star of the Knute Rockne era, told The Associated Press last night Bell convinced him to accept the pro offer.

Tigers Meet Tom S. At Lubbock

Bengals Seek Revenge In Non-Loop Tilt

The Tiger basketballers headed for Lubbock early this afternoon where tonight the Bengals will take on the Tom S. Westerners in a non-district outing.

It will be the second game between the two clubs. Lubbock won the first game, 62-52, in the Canyon Reef tournament here in early December. The first Lubbock game opened the 1955-56 season for Coach J. P. Ward's basketeers.

After tonight's game, the Tigers will wind up the week's play with two District 1-AAA games. The Black and Gold will journey to Lamesa Friday and return home Saturday to host Monterey of Lubbock.

Palo Duro of Amarillo continues to lead both the full season play and the 1-AAA race. The tall and powerful Dons have racked up 11 wins in 12 starts over the season and boast of a perfect conference record at 4-0.

The Dons will get possibly their severest test of the season in conference action Friday night when they go to Sweetwater for a district bout with the talented Mustangs. Sweetwater currently is holding down the No. 2 spot in the district standings and could tie the Dons for the lead at conclusion of this week's play by winning Friday night's game with the Dons.

Three 1-AAA games are on tap tonight. Palo Duro goes to Lamesa, Monterey to Plainview and Big Spring to Levelland.

Seven more loop games are on tap this weekend, four on Friday night and three Saturday. Sharing the spotlight with the Sweetwater-Palo Duro game Friday night is the Levelland at Monterey game. Vernon goes to Plainview in the other 1-AAA outing Friday besides the Tiger-Lamesa game at Lamesa.

Following is the District 1-AAA calendar:

Razorbacks Whip Steers

By The Associated Press

The Arkansas Razorbacks, whose early season performance had made them appear bound for the cellar of the Southwest Conference, clung to their perfect conference season basketball record Monday by drubbing Texas, 70-67.

The surprising Hogs were paced by guards Terry Day and Jerald Barnett in handling Texas, rated third in the league, as the second week of conference play got underway.

Tuesday night sees the Southern Methodist Mustangs, tabbed as the team to beat for the Southwest Conference crown, playing host to Texas A&M at Dallas while Rice, rated second, entertains Texas Christian at Houston.

Arkansas, whose first conference victory was an 85-64 win over Baylor Saturday, now has a conference record of 2-0 in contrast to its season record of 3-8.

The Mustangs also have a 2-0 conference record but a much better 12-2 season record. Texas Christian, with one win and no losses, is the only other team in the loop with a perfect conference record.

It was the accurate shooting from afar by Day and Barnett that paved the way for the Hogs' victory over Texas. Day got 17 points and Barnett 14. High man for the game was Raymond Downs of Texas with 24.

Dayton Closing In On Dons In AP Poll

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press

The San Francisco Dons, who will be seeking their 38th consecutive victory tonight against Santa Clara, still are the nation's best college basketball team. But Dayton isn't far behind.

That's the opinion of the sports writers and broadcasters who participated in this week's Associated Press poll.

Among 118 ballots, the Dons picked up 94 first-place votes and 16 seconds. Dayton drew 12 firsts and 76 seconds.

On the basis of 10 points for first place, 9 for second, etc., San Francisco piled up 1,145 points and Dayton 1,026. Each team is unbeaten in 11 games.

North Carolina State, upended by Duke Saturday night, dropped down a notch to third place with one first and 692 points. Duke's surprise triumph moved it from 11th to 6th.

Vanderbilt clung to 4th place, followed by Kentucky. Ohio State climbed from 10th to 7th. Then come Illinois, North Carolina and Temple.

North Carolina, beaten by Wake Forest, fell from 5th place. George Washington, formerly 7th, was beaten by Maryland and Richmond and wound up in 14th place. Iowa State, No. 8 a week ago, lost to Kansas State and fell to 15th.

The leaders, with first-place votes in parentheses:

1.	San Francisco (94)	1,145
2.	Dayton (12)	1,026
3.	N.C. State (1)	692
4.	Vanderbilt (4)	545
5.	Kentucky (1)	515
6.	Duke (1)	328
7.	Ohio State	285
8.	Illinois	273
9.	North Carolina	238

DEER AWARDED 2 SPOTS

Deer Park Features Class A All-State

By The Associated Press

Champion Deer Park was the only school to land more than one player on the Class A All-State schoolboy football team and one of those—Fiery Jimmy Steambarge—was the nearest of all to unanimous selection.

Steambarge, an end who also made the team last year, lacked only five points of the maximum 70.

Bubba McLean, Deer Park quarterback, rated third with 60 points. Second was Shelby Hudson, McCamey's 230-pound tackle, with 64.

The team was selected by a committee of the Texas Sports writers Assn.

Runner-up Stinnett didn't place on the first team but its fullback George Bodey made the second team.

The closest race for first team honors was at center where Jackie Richardson of Leverett's Chapel nosed out Bobby Schooler of McCamey, 32 points to 31.

The first team:

Ends: Jimmy Steambarge, Deer Park, and Rene Ramires, Hebbronville.

Tackles: Shelby Hudson, McCamey, and Wilbert Mutschink, Giddings.

Guards: Juan Delgado, Ozona, and Tommy Collins, Luling.

Center: Jackie Richardson, Leverett's Chapel.

Backs: Bubba McLean, Deer Park; Veon Scott, Chillicothe; George Johnson, Sonora, and James Shubet, Ralls.

The Second Team

Ends: Durwood Hart, Hale Center; David Rogerson, Leverett's Chapel; Clyde Evatt, Eastland.

Tackles: Willie Hart, Glen Rose; James Thompson, Hale Center.

Guards: Thomas Willess, Rockwall; Ted Joy, Sonora.

Center: Bobby Schooler, McCamey.

Backs: Melvin Thomas, Mason; P. D. Wallace, Clifton; Sam McClure, Richardson; George Body, Stinnett; Charles Prentiss, Fabens.

Honorable Mention

Ends: Bobby Mowery, Hallesville; Richard Schulte, Hondo; Royce Benson, Kaufman. Jody Beal, Albany; Bobby Leonard, Sundown; Norman Marquart, Iowa Park; James Adlan, Three Rivers; Thomas Calliham, Three Rivers.

Tackles: George Williams, Leverett's Chapel; Darris Hamilton, Industrial Vanderbilt; James Claborn, Troup; Jim Stroud, Crosbyton; Wayne Conner, Haskell; Richards Simmons, Richardson; Pete Griffith, Woodsboro.

Guards: John McCullough, Burnet; James Thormahlen, Elgin; Richard Sartain, Plano; Billy Don Davis, Throckmorton; Tommy Adams, Sonora; Church Zollars, Stinnett; C. T. McDaniel, Crowell; Jimmy Mills, Democrat; Danny Rasco, Poteet.

learn why it's today's biggest buy of all fine cars!

Pushbutton PowerFlite . . . mechanical and trouble-free, it's right at your fingertips on the safe left side where only the driver can reach it.

It doesn't take long to find out why Chrysler is winning the reputation as the performance leader of 1956. Just a few minutes behind the wheel of a big Chrysler Windsor V-8 like this one will show you why.

Suppose you are in the right-hand lane on an expressway . . . four lengths behind a big truck rolling along between 35 and 40 miles per hour. You want to pass. You toe the throttle and in eight seconds flat you're four lengths ahead of that moving truck and back in your own lane!

That's 1956 Chrysler performance. That's the kind of power only the "PowerStyle" Chrysler can deliver . . . with its great airplane-type V-8 engine.

And that's not all. There's full-time PowerPilot Steering . . . Pushbutton PowerFlite, the ultimate in automatic transmissions . . . and the big PowerSmooth Brakes that outlast others 2 to 1.

These are just some of the exciting new things that await you the first time you pilot a "PowerStyle" Chrysler. Head Of Electric Firm Draws Blast

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Union President James B. Carey today placed the blame for a stalemate in the Westinghouse Electric Corp. strike on Gwilym A. Price, Westinghouse president.

In a speech prepared for delivery before the mayors of 17 cities in which struck Westinghouse plants are located, the head of the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers outlined a number of strikeending proposals that have been made, and declared:

"All of these proposals which we have accepted have run into the arrogant, obstinate refusal of one man — Gwilym Price, president and chairman of the board of Westinghouse."

He also claimed that a back-to-work movement at a number of the struck plants has failed.

The meeting was called by Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner of Columbus, Ohio, to discuss a "new approach" toward settlement of the 85-day-old strike by 44,000 IUE members at 30 plants.

Price declined to attend, asserting his appearance would serve no useful purpose. But he assigned four vice presidents to attend.

Carey said in his address that Westinghouse has rejected proposals made by governors, congressmen, senators and the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service calling for arbitration and other means of attempting to settle the strike.

"The company's position has been and is frozen," Carey said. "It has not engaged in collective bargaining. Rather it has pinned its hopes on a back-to-work movement . . . All this has had the consequence of attempting to tear communities apart — set worker against worker, family against family."

"Despite the fact that the strike has been on for so many long weeks, despite all the power that this billion dollar corporation could bring to bear, that back-to-work movement has failed miserably."

He said the strike can take one of three paths:

"The company can negotiate with us in good faith as it has failed to do in the last 3½ months.

"It can submit the issues to fact finding or arbitration.

"Or the strike can go on."

Price was not immediately available for comment.

Meanwhile, Carey and Robert D. Blasier, Westinghouse vice president and chief negotiator, have agreed to attend a meeting in Philadelphia tomorrow. Federal Mediator John R. Murray said the session was called "to ascertain whether genuine collective bargaining can be established."

The IUE and the independent United Electrical Workers struck to back up demands for a 15-cent-an-hour pay increase under reopening clauses in two-year pacts they signed with the union in 1954. The company has offered both unions a five-year contract which it said would provide workers with a minimum hourly increase of 23½ cents over the five-year period. Striking workers were earning an average of $2.10 an hour.

Shivers Hits Theories Of Left-Wingers

MCALLEN (AP) — Gov. Shivers praised the benefits of "traditional economic and political beliefs" last night and said the nation cannot afford the luxury of a president controlled by "egghead theories of economics or politics."

He spoke to the Valley Chamber of Commerce.

"I know that you see how dangerous—how foolish—it would be to allow some theoretician of the ADA (Americans for Democratic Action) to endanger our peace and our prosperity by crackpot experiments with unproven or worthless left-wing theories," Shivers said.

He added that the nation is in the midst of peace and prosperity because it has policies and principles that encourage those things.

"We cannot as a state or as a nation afford the foolish luxury of policies which are afraid of progress, which hamper and obstruct the vital economic activity upon which our prosperity is based," he continued.

"We can not afford the foolish luxury of a leadership consecrated to the left-wing theories of government interference and obstruction and of distrust of private enterprise.

"We can not afford political personalities whose aim is to discourage the very forces which have made our nation great and which are today producing wealth for our people beyond any previous experience or expectation."

Shivers, who backed Eisenhower in 1952, said recently he hopes the Democrats will nominate an Eisenhower-type "moderate" this year. The governor also has said he cannot support Adlai Stevenson, but that he could back a "middle of the road Democratic candidate."

Oil Compact Discusses Natural Gas Measure

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Support of a bill pending in the Senate to take federal price controls off natural gas at the wellhead were discussed here yesterday by the executive committee of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission.

The committee, with Gov. John Simms of New Mexico as chairman, approved spending $20,000 for a "clearing house" library, a long-range plan to find out where printed conservation information is located.

The executive committee will meet next in Dallas May 30-June 2.

Averell Harriman is backed as a "favorite son" by state Democratic chairman and the Tammany Hall organization.

State Getting Good Weather, Nation Cold

By The Associated Press

Texas weather continued bland and monotonous today.

Not a cloud was reported in the state. The Weather Bureau has reported no rain in Texas since Jan. 1 and none was expected.

A mild cold front pushed down from Nebraska but it was too weak to change the weather.

Temperatures ranged from 19 degrees at Dalhart to the 40s in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Other temperatures included Lubbock 20, Amarillo 25, Abilene and Wichita Falls 26, Lufkin 27, Dallas and San Angelo 30, Texarkana and Beaumont 32, San Antonio 36, Houston 3, Austin 39, Corpus Christi 46 and Galveston 48.

The coldest weather of the winter season continued in Florida and other parts of the Southeast today. Damage to crops in Florida alone was estimated in the millions of dollars.

Meanwhile, more rain, snow and sleet pelted wide areas in eastern sections of the country. The icy weather was blamed for more than a dozen deaths on Northeast highways and sidewalks.

Rain continued in New England and the Middle Atlantic states. There was rain, snow and freezing drizzle in the eastern Great Lakes region, the eastern and central parts of the Ohio Valley and the western sections of Virginia and North Carolina.

Rains continue to lash the New England area and the forecast was for more rainy and windy weather through tomorrow, bringing a threat of floods in some sections. Rain which started Sunday measure more than 2 inches in many New England cities, including Boston, Worcester, Mt. Washington, N.H., and Providence, R. I.

The Weather Bureau at Boston predicted winds averageing 30 to 40 m.p.h. along the New England coast, with higher gusts, and that tides will run 2 to 4 feet above normal. In Boston yesterday the highest wind gust was 59 m.p.h.

One of the most seriously threatened flood areas was in southern New Hampshire where the Contoocook River and Nubanusit Brook overflowed.

It was colder this morning in Miami—43 above—than in Portland, Maine, where the reading was 44. Miami suburban areas reported below freezing—29 degrees.

The warmest city this morning was Key West, at the southern tip of Florida, which reported a reading of 61. The coldest region was over the Northern Plains and the upper Mississippi Valley, where readings were in the teens and near zero in some sections.

Gale winds and rain struck the flood-stricken sections of the Nova Scotia-New Brunswick border and Prince Edward Island.

Fifteen rivers already were over their banks and hundreds of families have been forced to leave their homes since a weeklong January thaw started rivers on the rampage last Friday.

The rainy, windy weather hampered the work of hundreds of telegraph, telephone and power linemen trying to repair ice-broken poles and wires.

Many towns were still isolated. Property damage was estimated in the millions of dollars.

Debate Set On Gas Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Democratic leader, Lyndon Johnson of Texas, said yesterday he would call for debate "probably Monday" the bill to exempt natural gas producers from federal regulation.

Foes of the measure, which has passed the House, contend it would raise costs of gas to consumers in the East and Middle West. Its backers dispute that.

Sen. Moroney D-Okla) told the Senate yesterday the Washington Gas Light Co. charges $1.31 per thousand cubic feet for natural gas for which the producer receives only 12½ cents.

He said an examination of the gas bill for his home here convinced him that the gas is delivered to Washington for a total cost of 41 cents—12½ cents for the producer and 28½ cents for transportation to the city gate by interstate pipeline.

Monroney and Sen. Fulbright D-Ark) are co-authors of a measure to require the local distributing company to print on each consumer's gas bill a breakdown showing the cost at the well, as well as the cost by the time the gas enters the local distributing system.

Crude Oil Production Soars In Past Week

TULSA (AP)—The Oil and Gas Joufnal reported today that crude oil production soared to a new high the past week, passing the seven million barrel daily average for the first time.

For the week ending Jan. 7, the record daily average output of 7,005,825 barrels was up 46,525.

Oklahoma led the upswing with an increase of 20,900 barrels to 617,200. Louisiana also was a big producer with an increase of 16,600 barrels to 787,500 barrels. Texas was down 2,200 to 2,938,050 and Colorado down 1,600 to 157,100.

Arkansas was up 250 to 73,950 and New Mexico was up 2,750 to 231,700.

Quake Rocks 20-Mile Section In England

LEICESTER, England (AP) — A series of minor earthquakes rocked houses and buildings over a 20-mile area of the English midlands today.

Alarmed inhabitants telephoned police as their houses swayed for 10 to 15 seconds at 8:15 a.m. — 3:15 a.m. EST. Low rumbling accompanied the tremors.

Seismographs 100 miles away in London picked up the quakes, which were still being felt three hours later.

No damage was reported.

Scientiests reported that a bigger earthquake "in the Pacific or even further away," was responsible for the English disturbance.

There are more than 28 million people in the United States who play a musical instrument, says the American Music Conference.

Water Conservation Solution Advanced

AUSTIN (AP) — Conservation of water a Texas-size headache, can be partially solved by proper well spacing with richer returns for the entire district, the Texas Water Resources Committee was told yesterday.

The number of irrigated wells and irrigated acres in the High Plains has doubled in five years while land values have tripled in places, the committee learned.

State agencies were to present more reports to the committee today. The Brazos River Pollution Council and the Brazos River Authority also were to report.

The committee heard Bill Fortenberry of Lubbock, chairman of the High Plains Underground Water District, say the water district area provides 12 per cent of the irrigated land in the country.

He said land values had mushroomed 800 million dollars in three years since the district was established April 1, 1952.

The South Texas Chamber of Commerce offered plans for setting up a Edwards Underground Water Conservation subdistrict for 13 counties in and near the Edwards Basin in South Central Texas.

Paul Jahn of New Braunfels, chairman of the chamber's water group, said water was the most pressing problem in his area and recommended building of flood prevention and ground water recharge structures in the lower Edwards Basin.

Hershel Nix of San Antonio said for the South Texas Chamber of Commerce that petitions necessary to authorize establishment of such a district would be circulated within 30 days.

Jahn said the state Board of Water Engineers was under a severe handicap for lack of sufficient and adequate funds."

R. T. Littleton of the state Water Board said the ground water division was faced with problems of lack of sub-furce water data but did not have sufficient funds or men.

The economy of the state depends on an adequate water supply, Ray Sundstrom, district engineer of the U.S. Geological Survey, said. He added that the use of ground water had increased 10 times since 1945.

Fortenberry said he had no recommendations for legislative actions and said administration of underground water supplies should remain on the local level.

Fortenberry said more than 167 million dollars had been spent in irrigation and installation of wells in the district.

Jahn's proposals included building small dams in the limestone formation to allow rain water to drain underground and increase the underground reservoir.

R. M. Dixon, chairman of the state Water Engineers Board, said "As our standard of living increases, so does our need for water increase." He said the water problem in Texas was an outgrowth of competition.

Drought Bad In Colorado

DENVER (AP)—Much of eastern Colorado, gripped by drought, is a "powder keg" ready to blow into dust storms if high winds should rip the section.

This view was expressed today by several eastern Colorado legislators, here for the meeting of the state's General Assembly. Many are farmers and ranchers.

The "powder keg" description was given by Rep. Ray Ballard from one of the driest areas in the state, Cheyenne and Lincoln counties.

Numerous lawmakers agreed. All declared timely rain or snow could save the situation.

"Give us two windy days and the wheat is gone," Balard said. He said the north edge of Cheyenne County had "two little rains" last October, and nothing since. Some other parts of his district, Ballard added, didn't get that much.

"If we get a lot of wind things really can be bad," agreed Sen. William Bledsoe of Arroya. "So far we have been lucky."

Rep. Raymond Simpson, a Cope rancher, said there has been no general rain in the area he represents, Kit Carson and Washington counties, since before last summer. Some wheat has been blown out, he said.

Farmers and ranchers are facing the next eight or nine weeks apprehensively. The strongest winds to hit the area usually come late in February and through March.

Texas Farm Plan Pushed

WASHINGTON (AP) President Eisenhower's proposal for a soil bank contains "a good deal of similarity" to a proposal of the Grain Sorghum Producers Assn., a spokesman for Texas and New Mexico farmers said yesterday.

Harold LaFont of Plainview, lawyer for the association, said "There are certain features of our proposal which the President's plan does not embody, and we hope to persuade Congress to adopt our ideas."

He said the major difference is that the President's soil bank proposal would pay farmers for letting acreage lie idle. The feed grain producers' plan would provide a 90 per cent of parity price on feed grains to growers who (1) withheld 15 per cent of their acreage from cultivation without pay or (2) cultivated less than 20 acres.

The producers' plan also would provide that the idle acreage would be rotated each year so that not only the poorest land would be taken from production.

Here with LaFont promoting the association plan is Frank Moore, Hale County, Tex., farmer.

They met with Rep. Mahon and other Texas congressmen to line up conferences.

Funny Tasting Gift Cake Is Suspected

HIRATSUKA, Japan (AP)—Shizu Takahushi, 23, sampled a gift cake yesterday, found it "tasted funny," called police.

They said it was poisoned, checked the donor, Tatsue Kurihara, 27, found she was angered over the loss of a boy friend to the younger woman.

Miss Kurihara was arrested. Miss Takahushi will recover.

Libel To Be Studied In Newspaper Seminar

AUSTIN (AP)—Editors at a newspaper seminar turned their attention to libel today.

John Ellis of the Fort Worth Star Telegram and A. M. Herman, Fort Worth attorney, led discussions at the Texas Daily Newspaper Assn. workshop.

The editors were told yesterday a newspaper's first responsibility is to make sure its readers have a "decent community" in which to live.

The speaker was assistant Publisher Harry Montgomery of the Phoenix Republic and Gazette.

Ed N. Wishcamper, Abilene Reporter-News managing editor, is chairman for the three-day seminar.

'Very Serious' Quake Recorded In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—An earthquake, described as "very serious," was recorded today on the seismograph at Fordham University.

The Rev. Joseph J. Lynch, university seismologist, estimated the distance at 8,000 miles from New York City. He said the direction could not be determined because of storms along the Atlantic seaboard.

Eden Planning Drive To Cut Living Costs

By TOM OCHILTREE

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Eden planned today to quell unrest in his own party and strengthen his own shaky position by personally leading a drive to cut Britain's ballooning cost of living.

His aides in the House of Commons urged Conservative party members to close ranks behind him. Signs indicated their plea was meeting with success.

Eden's associates pointed out that rumbles of discontent in the Tory ranks might weaken his hand in his Washington talks with President Eisenhower later this month.

Some Conservative newspapers which have been critical of Eden's leadership now were coming around. The Daily Mail said "those who call for the resignation of the Prime Minister are being ridiculous."

Rumors that Eden intended to resign snowballed the last few days. Some accounts said a conspiracy against him was being led either by the new chancellor of the exchequer, Harold Macmillan, or by Richard A. Butler, lord privy seal and Eden's chief deputy.

The Prime Minister's office denied the resignation rumor, calling it "false and without any foundation whatever."

Butler, leaving Sunday for a holiday on the French Riviera, gave an unqualified pledge of loyalty to his chief.

The Laborite Daily Herald said Eden has ordered Edward Heath, chief Conservative whip in the House of Commons, "to make an immediate investigation into the strength of the revolt in the ranks of Tory members of Parliament and to prepare a special report."

'U.S.' Title Ban Is Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill making it a federal offense for any banking or investment firm to use the initials "U.S." in its title or name was introduced yesterday by Sen. Price Daniel of Texas.

Daniel said he offered the bill because of the recent failure of the U.S. Trust & Guaranty Co. of Waco. He said:

"I want to make absolutely certain that the citizens of Texas and the nation are not again subjected to such misleading misrepresentations, and that should this same situation exist in other parts of the country, it would be stopped before other innocent victims are injured severely."

The bill also would prohibit such banking and investment firms from using pictures of the Capitol or other public buildings so as to convey the impression that the company was connected with the federal government.

It provides a $10,000 fine and not less than a year imprisonment.

Denver Will Employ Eight 'Meter Maids'

'JUST PRAY FOR RAIN'

Texas Facing Drought, Wind

By The Associated Press

Texas farmers and ranchers are faced with the worst drought and wind erosion threat of recent years.

"We're really ripe for it and we're going to get it," state soil conservationist H. N. Smith of Temple said.

Reports from over the state substantiated the prediction.

"There had been practically no effective rainfall since Dec. 1 and the entire state is very dry. There is less green vegetation than at any period in recent years.

"As far as surface moisture the state is as dry on the average as it was at any time during past drought years."

The worst immediate danger is wind erosion, Smith said.

More than five million acres are in 72 counties of the Panhandle and South Plains are ready to be scoured by high winds that have not yet materialized.

"The dust storms have come every year and they will again this year," Smith forecast. "February, March and April have always been our worst months. This year there is nothing to stop the soil blowing.

"And there is nothing we can do about it—just pray for rain."

Smith said the 72 counties threatened by record wind erosion include all of the Panhandle, an eastern boundary of Wilbarger, Baylor, Haskell, Jones, Taylor, Runnels and Tom Green, with a southern boundary of Sterling, Glascock, Midland and Andrews counties.

On the north the wind erosion area—a potential dust bowl—stretches into New Mexico, Colorado, Oklahoma, Kansas, Wyoming and Nebraska.

Gov. Shivers appealed to Secretary of Agriculture Benson Monday for more aid in helping feed drought-stricken cattle in three-fourths of the state. He said many sections have conditions "worse than in any previous year."

North Texas farmers reported critical shortages in feed for cattle.

Usually, even in the worst drought years, fall and winter rains were sufficient to bring up small grains and legumes for cattle to graze. This year there have been no such rains.

Bill Porter of Terrell said his own rainfall records show this has been the driest fall and winter in 10 years or more.

Bill Turner, farm director for the First State Bank in Gainesville, said many farmers in Cooke County already have spent more money on livestock feed than they usually spend all winter.

Al Petty, farm agent at Denton, said dairy farmers are particularly hard hit by loss of winter grazing.

James Simmons, county agent at Kaufman, said dairymen are suffering both from too much and too little rain. Earlier in the year when it was time to plant vetch and oat silage, wet weather kept them out of the fields until too late. Now, with no other grazing, they are in dire need.

J. S. Scofield of Vernon, district farm agent, said both surface and subsoil moisture were depleted in the Rolling Plains.

Lamar County Agent S. L. Neal said most of northeast area had not received beneficial rain since late September.

Throughout Central, East and North Texas grass and timber fires have scorched the dry pastures and woods.

A plumber in Wichita Falls reported that he had a ditch dug eight feet down and the soil was bone dry all the way. The city weather station reported .33 inch of rain in 90 days.

One spot reported plenty of rain during 1955. Orange had an annual total of 59.51 inches, with 11.20 inches falling during the final four months.

Finger Put On Finger

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—This is how Stanley Morton Finger put his foot in it:

The 17-year-old Long Beach State College student wanted a date with Ann Jerry, a clerk at the Long Beach Federal Savings & Loan Assn. He went to her cage yesterday and presented this note: "This is a holdup. Drop your head if you will go to the show with me tonight."

But Miss Jerry stepped away and another clerk, Mrs. Wanda A. Wiley, saw the words "This is a holdup." She telephoned police.

Sgt. William Penhollow arrived post-haste and handcuffed the youth. Then 20 police and FBI agents swarmed around him and he was taken to the FBI office and questioned.

Miss Jerry said she knew the youth but never had dated him. Finally, he was released. He'd still like the date, but—no more notes.

Sooner Row Is Quelled

ARDMORE, Okla. (AP)—A lull settled today over the custody battle for City Commissioner Joe Taylor, accused of burglary in two states. Attorneys were working behind the scenes for a hearing Friday.

Taylor is to appear here Friday with two state Bureau of Investigation agents who ushered him hurriedly from District Court Saturday.

The commissioner, 51, is accused of masterminding burglaries in Oklahoma and North Texas. He is being held in jail at Pauls Valley under $20,000 bond.

Judge John Caldwell, from whose courtroom Taylor was taken, said yesterday he allowed the agents to take the city official "to prevent possible bloodshed."

"I sacrificed the accused city official when I saw the possibility of a riot," Caldwell said. "There were citizens in the court room to prevent the officers from arresting Taylor. I knew if he had any legal rights I could get him back later."

Caldwell denied reports he had issued contempt citations against the two state agents, Golden Kennedy and Hubert Bartlett.

Giles Faces Another Trial In Scandals

AUSTIN (AP)—Bascom Giles, former land commissioner and first head of the veteran's land program, faces another trial on criminal charges today in 98th District Court.

Nine more charges were called up at 2 p.m. by mutual agreement of attorneys.

Giles is under conviction on criminal charges in Travis, Bexar and Zavala counties in connection with administration of the 100 million dollars aid plan. Giles is free on appeal bond.

In the cases today, Giles is charged with felony theft and conspiracy to commit theft of $58,875 in the sale of the 10,000-acre Kinney County Rosenow Ranch under the veterans land program.

Shivers, State Group Reply To Yarborough

AUSTIN (AP) — Members of the State Insurance Commission and Gov. Allan Shivers have replied sharply to Ralph Yarborough's demands for wholesale resignations of the board.

Chairman J. Byron Saunders, and board members Garland A. (Chink) Smith and Mark Wentz indicated they have no intentions of resigning, and Shivers said Yarborough's motive was "political."

Yarborough—two time loser to Shivers in gubernatorial races—spoke at a meeting of creditors of the defunct U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co. at Houston Saturday night, calling for a complete turnover in the board "for the good of Texas and the insurance industry."

The Houston meeting also passed a resolution objecting to acceptance of trips or favors by members of the insurance commission from insurance companies, and objecting to acceptance of employment from insurance companies by legislators.

Shivers declined to comment on a story first published last week by the Houston Post saying that Smith and his wife had been guests of an insurance company president and his wife on an airplane trip to Hawaii last spring.

Smith is a Shivers appointee to the board, and a former administrative aide to the governor.

The newspaper quoted Smith as saying he took the trip as a friend of the insurance executive, that the company has never asked for any favors, and is treated like all others.

The insurance man was named as Charles A. McCormick of Austin, president of International Life Insurance Co. in whose building the commission has offices. McCormick told newsmen his wife and Smith's wife are close friends and that he saw nothing wrong with the affair.

"I have no intention of resigning and we will continue to rigidly enforce the existing laws with reference to administration of the insurance code," Saunders said when asked for comment on Yarborough's speech.

Shivers had this comment:

"As I said last week, Yarborough is obviously trying to use the misfortune of these people (the U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co. creditors) to further his own political advantage. What he said at the Houston meeting proves it."

Wentz said:

"The statements attributed to Mr. Yarborough are unfortunate and misleading to the public, whether interntional or for personal reasons I do not know. I have never seen Mr. Yarborough in the insurance department at any time since I have been a commissioner. He has never visited my office. Records of any state agency generally are public documents and anyone who so desires may see them. Mr. Yarborough apparently has made his statements without any basis other than hearsay."

Middle East Meeting To Be Conducted

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top British and American specialists on the Middle East will meet here this week to seek a formula for saving that rich and strategic region from the twin threats of war and Communist subversion.

The two-power talks, expected to begin Wednesday, will be aimed directly at producing plans for consideration and approval by Prime Minister Eden and President Eisenhower. Eden is coming to Washington for a round of conferences beginning Jan. 30.

So far no bold new and dramatic ideas for action in the Middle East seem to have been shaped up by either side.

Both want peace between Israel and the Arab states. For eight years, they have tried various devices unsuccessfully to achieve it. The British reportedly would like to see the United States take a tougher line with Israel; United States officials with Britain or someone could get the Arabs into active negotiations.

Both sides seem to want a "regional approach" to the development of Middle East economic programs for bulwarking the region against Soviet economic enticement and other pressures. U. S. officials seem to be deeply skeptical about attaining this, however.

Western economic help and the achievement of peace between the Arab states and Israel, U.S. and British officials feel, would go a long way toward saving the Middle East from communism. But they believe this must be accomplished in the next six or eight months or conditions will make the situation more difficult.

Adlai Group Is Organized

NE YORK (AP) — Formation of a New York state "Stevenson for President Committee" was announced today by Thomas R. Finletter, former secretary of the Air Force, and Mrs. Anna M. Rosenburg, former assistant secretary of defense.

Finletter and Mrs. Rosenburg, who have been active for months in an unofficial capacity in the pro-Stevenson movement, will serve as cochairmen of the new organization.

Finletter said the state group will work in cooperation with the national Stevenson committee.

The announcement further pointed up the division in New York state Democratic ranks over the presidential nomination.

Gov. Averell Harriman is backed as a "favorite son" candidate by Democratic State Chairman Michael H. Prendergast and Carmine G. DeSapio, Democratic national committeeman, secretary of state in Harriman's administration and leader of Tammany Hall, the Manhattan Democratic organization.

Senate Group Is Criticized

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pentagon officials speculated today that a Senate investigating group had committed a security blooper in a report criticizing the Army for "military waste and inefficiency."

The report from the Armed Services Preparedness subcommittee, headed by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), publicly rapped the knuckles of Army officers for an urgent order for more than two million dollars worth of tents late in 1954.

The report said few of the 1,195 large tents were used or needed and termed it "careless planning" and an example of "a waste of precious defense dollars."

There was no formal comment from the Pentagon, which is reluctant to criticize Congress, but security officers were jolted by publication of a list of the locations of 36 nike guided missile sites in the areas around Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Norfolk, attached to the report. The nike is a ground-to-air missile that can search out high-flying aircraft and destroy them.

Pentaton officials have insisted in the past that such group lists should not be made public, contending the information might aid an enemy.

U.S. Unknown Dead To Receive Honors

TOKYO (AP)—The unknown dead of the U.S. military forces in the Korean War will be honored Jan. 20, before their bodies are taken to Hawaii for burial. The ceremony will be at the big U.S. naval base of Yokosuku, near Tokyo.

The light cruiser Manchester will carry the first 50 of approximately 850 bodies of unknown dead to Honolulu, where they will be buried in the Punchbowl Cemetery. The transfer will be completed by Feb. 15.

Gunmen's Mistake

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Two masked gunmen made the mistake of shoving William Stranger into a room with a shotgun and some shells at the Richmond Boat Club. Moments later, the club's assistant manager stepped from the basement locker room—the door wasn't locked—and fired a 12-gauge blast from the hip. The bandits dropped $230 in loot and fled.

Stock Buyers Are Warned

NEW YORK (AP)—Henry Ford II says 1956 probably won't be as good a year for the Ford Motor Co. as record-breaking 1955, and buyers of Ford stock should not expect "miracles."

"I think some people are indulging in wishful thinking about their chances for fast and fabulous financial gains," the Ford Motor Co. president told 1,000 investment bankers who will handle the sale of 10,200,000 shares of Ford stock Jan. 18.

"After considering the mail I have received, reading press accounts and listening to the opinions of informed persons, I am concerned about the evidence in some areas of a naive belief in industrial miracles," he continued.

"We at Ford Motor Co. are businessmen and not miracle men. Our business is subject to the same risks and hazards as others who have stakes in the automotive industry. We are operating an automobile company against the stiffest kind of competition."

Ford said he is "reasonably sure" that 1956 will not be as good a year for the company as 1955, when production and sales of Ford cars smashed all records.

"It is my personal belief," he said, "that we will have a good year in '56—but I don't know for sure and I don't think any of my colleagues do either."

Limit On Begging

MANILA (AP)—The city of Cagayan de Oro on Southern Mindanao has asked the Philippine legislature to enact a law limiting begging to Fridays only.

LEGAL NOTICE

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF COMMISSIONERS' COURT'S INTENTION TO FIX SALARIES FOR THE YEAR 1956 AT ITS REGULAR MEETING ON JANUARY 23, 1956

Whereas, it is provided by statute that it shall be the duty of the Commissioners' Court of Scurry County, Texas, to get the salaries of the Precinct, County and District officials and the Road Commissioners; and

Whereas, it was determined by the Commissioners' Court at the regular meeting on January 9, 1956, that such salaries of Precinct, County and District officials should be raised 10 per cent above the present rate; and

Whereas, H.B. No. 374, 54th Legislature, provides that salaries of Precinct, County and District officials shall not be raised by the Commissioners' Court except at a regular meeting of said Court and after ten (10) days' notice published in a paper of general circulation in the county to be affected thereby of the intended salaries to be raised and the amount of such proposed raise;

Now therefore, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Commissioners' Court will meet on January 23, 1956, at its regular meeting to set salaries of the Precinct, County and District Officials and the Precinct Commissioners and Road Commissioners, effective January 1, 1956, at 10 per cent above the present rate of each respective salary.

GIVEN UNDER MY HAND AND SEAL OF THE COMMISSIONERS' COURT OF SCURRY COUNTY, TEXAS, THIS THE 9th day of JANUARY, 1956.

(S) Edgar Taylor
County Judge
Scurry County, Texas

Race Dispute In Catholic School Boils

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A racial dispute rocked Louisiana's largest Catholic high school today after a group of parents walked out on the priest-principal rather than withdraw a prosegregation resolution.

Touching off the row at a Jesuit high school parent's club meeting was a resolution asking indefinite postponement of any plans to integrate classes.

The Rev. C. J. Stallworth, a Jesuit priest and principal of the school, threatened to dissolve the club if his request was refused.

He branded the resolution "un-Christian, un-Catholic, undemocratic, un-American and ungentlemanly."

After Father Stallworth asked withdrawal of the resolution, Charles A. Bourgeois, a real estate dealer who introduced it, refused and contended it expressed his views.

A club member said only a few of the 600 present remained when the walkout started. School officials minimized the incident and said about 100 left.

Father Stallworth could not be reached for comment.

However, officials of the 960-student boys school said those present after the walkout voted that the resolution was contrary to the constitution of the parent's club and voted it down.

Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel of New Orleans has appointed a committee to study the possibility of some form of integration in the kindergarten and first grades after next September.

Some Jesuit leaders have urged the archbishop to begin desegregation at the high school level first.

Catholic schools in Louisiana are not affected by the state's segregation laws.

Some Jesuit educators have been leaders in the antisegregation movement in the South.

Rita Answers Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rita Hayworth has filed an answer to the suit for attorneys' fees owed by her divorced husband Dick Haymes. The actress was sued jointly with Haymes for $25,000 by Atty. David G. Marcus, who said he represented Haymes in his fight to escape deportation to Argentina. She said yesterday in her answer that she never had promised to pay for Marcus' services, as he claimed.

Short Victory

MAYSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—"Amateur attorney" John White argued his own case and won an acquittal in circuit court on a drunken driving charge yesterday.

It was back to police court today, however. White faced a new charge of driving while drunk.

Terrier Digs Her Way Out

SEATTLE (AP)—Nobody had really expected to find Bonnie alive.

The little 2-year-old wire-haired terrier had been buried for 4½ days when she bounded into the arms of her master Jim Sneddon yesterday.

The story of a man and his love for a dog started grimly last Thursday. A great mound of rain-loosened dirt smashed into Sneddon's home.

Sneddon's 10-year-old daughter Heather was buried alive for 15 minutes in her bedroom before Sneddon, a University of Washington photographer, clawed his way to her and lifted her to safety.

Sneddon and his wife considered themselves lucky to escape with their lives.

But they mourned too for Bonnie, trapped in the basement when the slide roared into the house.

Sneddon, 36, taken to the hospital with minor injuries, told his wife that some way, somehow, he would dig out his dog.

Immediately on his release from the hospital the following day, he went to the house.

"I called to Bonnie and she didn't answer. I saw how the entire floor had caved in and how impossible it seemed to find her alive."

Then, yesterday, Sneddon received a telephone call from an unidentified woman who said she had heard a dog barking under the ruins of his home.

Sneddon raced to the demolished home. He grabbed a shovel and he started digging.

"I could hear Bonnie whining. Not barking, just whining."

His wife Irene got four other men to help him dig.

Three hours later, one of the men reached into an air pocket between two timbers and pulled forth a gaunt but otherwise uninjured Bonnie.

The little terrier scrambled up a mudbank from the ruins of the house into Sneddon's waiting arms.
