On The BEAM

By J. W. King, Sr.

Crops are doing fine and be- fore long can use some more moisture.

Loraine as a resort town is not at all impossible. In fact it is very probable that it will be in the not too far distant future. It won't happen without some help from citizens of the area.

There is no good reason why Loraine can't become a resort town. Many lakes are nearby and many more not so near but easily reached from here. We have plenty of water, our tax rate should be attractive to those who want to buy or build a home. We need more people in our town.

We will also have a good opportunity to get some industry here if we'll try and more than anything, we need industry that will bring a payroll as well as new people.

If we sit here and wait until industry comes and asks to locate here we'll probably sit here a long time waiting. We need to seek out industries and try to get them to see the advantages of locating here.

5-STAR Agriculture
 Released by The Texas Department of Agriculture
 By John C. White, Commissioner

Crop Damage From Weed Killers Running High
 Early season reports of crop damage by careless handling or misuse of weed killing chemicals have already surpassed the number of complaints received in 1958.

Texas Department of Agriculture inspectors are working overtime checking out herbicide damage reports in Central and East Texas fields adjacent to sprayed areas. Most complaints thus far are on cotton damaged by hormone-type herbicides in Leon, Houston, Hayes, Caldwell, Travis, Bastrop, Dimmit and other counties.

No estimates of actual losses are available but the number of cases are higher than in any recent year.

Farmers using 2, 4-D or 2, 4, 5-T hormone-type herbicides for weed and brush control should use extreme caution, and especially in areas where highly-susceptible broad-leaved crop plants such as cotton are grown. These types of chemicals are beneficial to farmers when handled properly but they can be as destructive as dynamite without necessary precautions.

Use of herbicides is controlled by law in many Texas counties, although other counties are specifically exempted by the legislature. The law forbids spraying of land within certain distances of susceptible broad-leaved plants, and wind and other weather conditions must be within definite limitations due to the high drift factor of the plant killers.

In regulated areas, permits are required from the Texas Department of Agriculture and in some counties an inspector must be present for the protection of surrounding crops. Medical spraying devices must also meet safety standards.

Much of the recent damage can be attributed to the anxiety of landowners to keep down weeds on idle or soil-banked land and to rid valuable rangeland of unwanted brush. Importance of cautious and skilled use of the chemical herbicides cannot be over-emphasized, both for their effective benefits and for their potential danger.

Farmers planning a weed control program can get full information on the advisability of using herbicides by contacting the nearest TDA office, and they are urged and welcomed to do so.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlton DeVaney of Lubbock spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Cary.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wright were Mr. and Mrs. Willard Close of Los Angeles, California.

Virginia Templeton is spending this week in Three Way with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowen.

Soaking Rain Leaves 40 Inch Moisture

Rain that caused flash floods in some sections of West Texas Wednesday almost skipped Lorain.

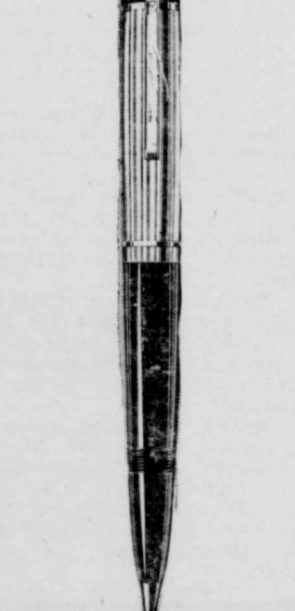

However, after midnight Wednesday a slow soaking rain began falling and continued until about 7 o'clock Thursday morning leaving 40 inch moisture.

The rain seemed to be general throughout the area. Several miles northeast of town the area in the Wastella-Inadale territory got from one to two inches early Wednesday morning.

Crops are doing fine and the additional moisture will carry them along for some time.

There are reports that some cotton is dying south of town and it is feared that poison from killing mesquite trees somewhere in the area has drifted to the cotton causing it to die.
