UNDERESTIMATED ENEMY

U.S. 'Brass' Erred On Tet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The ferocity of the 1968 Tet offensive in Vietnam took U.S. forces by surprise because top American officials deliberately underestimated the size of enemy forces, a former intelligence analyst said today.

Samuel A. Adams, testifying before the House intelligence committee, produced secret cables from Gen. Creighton Abrams, former U.S. commander in Vietnam, and Ellsworth Bunker, former U.S. ambassador in Saigon.

Adams, a former CIA intelligence analyst, said Abrams and Bunker insisted on keeping official estimates of Viet Cong troop strength at about 300,000, despite intelligence reports that indicated enemy strength at about 600,000.

He said the figures were altered in order to support their contention that the Viet Cong were demoralized by U.S. military successes.

FOOL PRESS

"Although our aim was to fool the American press, the public and Congress, we unintentionally succeeded best in fooling ourselves," Adams said.

The misinformation led to U.S. military forces, the Congress and the American public being caught by surprise at the intensity of the Tet offensive, launched on Jan. 30, 1968, Adams said.

The two cables produced by Adams were listed among secret documents which the Intelligence Committee had subpoenaed, but not received, from the Ford administration.

In a cable dated Aug. 20, 1967, Abrams reported that new estimates of the size of Viet Cong forces were "in sharp contrast" to the 229,000 figure given to the press. The cable suggested that two troop categories be deleted from the estimates in order to retain the old figure.

IMAGE OF SUCCESS

"We have been projecting an image of success over the recent months," the Abrams cable explained.

The cable said that if the true number of Viet Cong troops became public "all available caveats and explanations will not prevent the press from drawing an erroneous and gloomy conclusion.

"All those who have an incorrect view of the war will be reinforced," the cable said, "and the task will be more difficult."

Abrams' cable was to the former Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Gen. Earle G. Wheeler. A copy was sent to former CIA Director Richard Helms.

Adams said representatives of the U.S. intelligence community agreed at a conference 20 days later, "with the CIA caving in," to agree to keep enemy force estimates at the old size.

CIA KNEW

He said the Tet offensive was predicted by three CIA analysts on Nov. 27, 1967, two months before the attack. But they used the old figures and thus suggested the attack would be smaller than it was, Adams said.

"Far better in our view," Bunker's cable said, "is to deal with the matter orally if it arises ... for stalling many confusing and undesirable questions."

Adams, who was the CIA's chief analyst of Viet Cong strength for the two years preceding the offensive, indicated the two categories dropped out of official estimates were at least 40,000 guerrillas and 100,000 self-defense militiamen.

The Bunker cable was sent to former White House aide Walt Rostow.

Rostow was told that press discovery of the underestimated troop strength could lead to stories in which enemy strength was estimated as being larger than it actually was.

Before Adams' testimony began, committee Chairman Otis G. Pike said the Middle East war in 1973 caught the United States by surprise because intelligence agencies denied key officials access to information that could have given advance warning.

Pike said communications intercepted by U.S. intelligence "show a real red flag that something was about to happen. It should have alerted us that a war was about to break out."

Storm Hits Cuba, Area Evacuated

By The Associated Press

Torrential rains and strong winds spawned by Hurricane Eloise lashed the Cuban city of Guantanomo today and threatened Santiago, Cuba's second largest city, Havana Radio said. But the brunt of the storm apparently bypassed the big U.S. naval base nearby.

Havana Radio said lowlying areas in eastern Oriente province were being evacuated, and hurricane preparations were under way in Santiago, Cuba's second largest city.

A Pentagon spokesman reported no damage after Eloise passed over the base between midnight and 3:30 a.m. today, followed by intermittent heavy rain and gusts of up to 25 miles per hour. There are 3,000 military personnel plus their dependents on the base.

The National Hurricane Center in Miami said, meanwhile, that the hurricane was moving inland with diminished force at about 12 miles per hour. Its center was near latitude 20.3 degrees north, longitude 76.0 degrees west at 9 a.m. EDT.

The hurricane, which left at least 28 dead and 30,000 homeless in Puerto Rico and the Dominican Republic, hit eastern Cuba after weakening slightly.

Eloise's top winds dropped from 80 to 75 miles per hour, which is minimum strength for a hurricane. The storm was expected to move westward over Cuba, and the National Hurricane Center in Miami said this movement over land should prevent its picking up strength again for the time being.

The Miami center said it still could not predict whether Eloise might hit the United States. But Red Cross and Civil Defense officials in Florida made preparations for emergency action and put volunteer helpers on preliminary alert as a precautionary measure.

Abandoned Baby Case Conference

A meeting of top city law officials held Wednesday afternoon in the district attorney's office here likely revolved around the July 17 case of the baby found abandoned in a trash hamper at an apartment complex here. Those who participated in the conference, however, declined to comment on the nature of the discussion.

The Howard County grand jury is expected to be called into session in the near future, at which time the case could come up for consideration.

Both city police officials and an investigator for the district attorney's office have stated they believe there are people who could contribute information toward clearing up the case, if they were summoned to appear before the grand jury.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Energy Administrator Frank G. Zarb says oil companies might start raising prices by November if Congress has not reimposed price controls before then. The companies so far are resisting the urge to increase prices freed of federal controls more than two weeks ago. But Zarb said in an interview that the company would not hold out indefinitely.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Southern-born new secretary of health, education and welfare wants a review of the HEW policy of threatening to cut off funds from segregated school districts. Former University of Alabama president David Mathews said in an interview Wednesday that the department's fund cut-offs for those who resist desegregation and other federal "social goals" too often hurt the innocent.

•••

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israel's defense minister says his country is willing to promise it would not put nuclear warheads on missiles that the United States is considering supplying. "If you want to, we shall give such a guarantee," Shimon Peres said here Wednesday. Earlier, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger confirmed that U.S. consideration of supplying Pershing missiles to Israel is in the Sinai peace accord's secret agreements.

•••

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Moslems and Christians battled with machine guns, bombs and grenades on street corners and rooftops throughout Beirut today as communal warfare in Lebanon's capital intensified. "No street in Beirut is safe," said the government's Radio Beirut. "Stay home until further notice." Smoke rose over the central commercial district, and the government ordered all firemen off duty to report for work at once.

MADRID, Spain (AP) — A military court today sentenced two young pregnant women and three young men to death for the killing of a lieutenant in the national police. The verdict was the first handed down under the Franco government's Spain's new anti-terrorism law, which makes the death penalty mandatory for anyone killing a policeman as an act of terrorism. A fourth young man was sentenced to 20 years in jail.

DENVER (AP) — For the police department with almost everything, there soon will be a Bicentennial patrol car-top light flashing in red, white and blue. Called the "Bicentennial Spitfire," it was on display Wednesday at the 82nd annual convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police. The red, white and blue revolving light is among the newest in law enforcement equipment from the simple to the sophisticated, all of it laid out for inspection by police departments with money to spend.

'AT THE TIME'

Paris Plays Second Fiddle To Big Spring

By JOHN EDWARDS

"If you've never been to Paris, France, Big Spring, Texas, will suit you just fine," Jean Shepard sang to a Big Spring crowd Wednesday night.

Had she ever been to Paris, France?

"Nope, but I can say I've been to Big Spring, Texas, now," she replied. This is her first appearance here, she explained, although she has driven through half a dozen times.

"I take that back," she said. "I was in Paris in 1962 . . . " Someone interrupted us as the show in the rodeo neared its start.

She appeared in Paris while performing for the Armed Forces in Europe.

'DIRTY TOWN'

"Big old dirty town, and you haven't got any clean air and you've got a lot of that here," she recalled.

"It was a good place to visit, but I wouldn't want to live there," Jean commented.

"We might even move here in a few years," she told Arnold Marshall, president of the fair.

"We're looking for a place to retire," the singer said. "If I come, I'll strictly farm." She laughed.

As her group "The Second Fiddles" performed for a crowd gathered on one side of the rodeo arena, Jean kept time patting on the steering wheel of the group's bus.

NO FIDDLERS

There were no fiddlers in the band. Her "better half," Benny Burchfield, plays guitar. They have five sons, ranging in age from 14 to 5.

She walked through the arena sand and opened with "At the Time," the tune about the difference between Big Spring and Paris, peanut butter and filet mignon.

"I'll Do Anything," "Slipping Away," "Seven Lonely Days," "Then He Touched Me," "I Want You Free," "Just Plain Lonely," "With His Hand in Mine," "Another Lonely Night," "Just as Soon as I Get Over Loving You" and "My Name is Woman" are among her hits.

OKIE

A native of Pauls Valley, Okla., Jean was the first female in country and western music to have a million-seller — "The Dear John Letter."

For 19 years, she has sung in the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville, Tenn.

A nominee for the Grammy Award for the "Best Country Female Vocal Performance of the Year," she argued for maintaining the music form distinct from all others.

'Sneaked Stuff Out'

Federal Judge Bars Hunt Wiretap Tapes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department may have avoided obeying a presidential order to destroy stockpiles of chemical and biological warfare agents by simply transferring the material to the Central Intelligence Agency, a member of the Senate intelligence committee said today.

"I am very suspicious that whoever did it, instead of obeying the presidential order, sneaked the stuff out of the back door and then prepared an inventory for higher authority to suggest that it had all been destroyed," said Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn.

Mondale referred to an inventory of deadly shellfish toxin prepared by the Army's Special Operations Division at Ft. Detrick, Md., three days after the Feb. 14, 1970, presidential order.

The inventory list showed that only two grams of the poison were being retained for research purposes.

Evidence already presented to the committee has shown that nearly 11 grams of the poison were transferred from the Army to the CIA at approximately the same time.

Mondale's comments came during questioning of Dr. Edward Schantz, who had participated in the development of shellfish toxin at Ft. Detrick.

Schantz, now at the University of Wisconsin, said one gram of shellfish toxin is capable of killing 5,000 people and that the 11 grams found recently at a CIA laboratory represents roughly one-third of the world's supply of the toxin.

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — A federal judge barred one tape recording from testimony, but approved a second as admissible evidence today in the wiretap trial of Dallas millionaires Bunker and Herbert Hunt.

U.S. District Court Judge Halbert Woodward dismissed as "totally irrelevant" a so-called "Rothermel tape." Paul Rothermel was a high-level employe in the Hunt organization at the time the alleged wiretapings occurred.

The defense had argued that portions should be suppressed, but Woodward ruled the entire tape as inadmissible.

At the same time, the judge said he will permit introduction of a so-called "motel tape." He granted a defense request to permit Tom Hunt, a cousin of the defendants, to narrate and explain the tape when it is played to the jurors.

The tape, labeled "dynamite" by a defense lawyer today, contains a conversation between Herbert Hunt and two convicted wiretappers, W.J. Everett and Patrick McCann.

"What they were doing was setting Herbert up for blackmail," a Hunt official said outside the courtroom. Following the judicial rulings, Woodward ordered jury selection to continue. He said he hoped to select the 12-member panel and two alternates before noon Friday.

He said the first witness would not be called to testify until Monday morning.

Seventeen prospective jurors have been qualified when attorneys resume their delicate and tedious examinations today. The jury will come from a pool of 32 prospects.

Hunt attorney Philip Hirschkop raised the possibility Wednesday of additional motions, sidestepping a direct question from the judge about what to expect before testimony begins. Hirschkop said outside the courtroom he is prepared to trigger new legal actions if developments warrant.

The Hunt brothers, Bunker, 49, and Herbert, 46, are accused of authorizing illegal wiretaps of six trusted employes of their late father, billionaire oil baron H.L. Hunt.

Defense lawyers say they will try to show that charges contained in the six-count wiretap indictment stem from legitimate efforts to protect their father's interest from a far-flung kickback and embezzlement scheme.

Officials of the Hunt organization estimate the embezzlers siphoned $50 million dollars from the company over a span of nine years.

"A massive, classic white collar crime," say the Hunt people.

The embezzling target was HLH Products Co., a subsidiary of the Hunt Oil Co.

Government prosecutors, in an apparent effort to blunt defense strategy, have asked prospective jurors if they are aware that "a hidden motive, purpose or reason does not excuse a person for committing a crime."

Pursuing that line, they asked:

"If the judge instructs you that a good motive is not a valid defense for committing a crime, could you follow that as law?"

The defense counters by asking such questions as:

—"You are aware, are you not, that the government must prove evil or unlawful intent beyond a reasonable doubt?'

—"If the judge instructs you that under certain circumstances, a person who is attempting to protect his property is not acting with evil intent to violate the law, you can understand that?"

Courtroom spectators included several members of the Hunt clan, including Ruth Hunt, widow of the patriarch H.L., and Lamar, the defendants' brother and owner of the Kansas City Chiefs of the National Football League.

Squeaky Was On Welfare

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Lynette A. Fromme, accused of attempting to assassinate President Ford, received $1,194.74 in welfare payments during a 13-month period ending in September 1974, officials say.

Sandra Good, Miss Fromme's roommate and also a disciple of convicted mass - murderer Charles Manson, received $150.84 in welfare in July and August 1974, Richard Winsor, Sacramento County's assistant welfare director, also said Wednesday.

He said that the reasons Miss Fromme, 26, and Miss Good, 30, stopped receiving the general assistance payments were confidential.

Miss Fromme is accused of pointing a semiautomatic pistol at Ford during a visit here Sept. 5. Authorities said there were four rounds in the magazine of the gun, but none in the firing chamber.

Reduced Prices To Help Make Kids King For A Day

By MARJ CARPENTER

The lure of cotton candy, the merry-go-round and the traditional exhibits of a county fair have drawn crowds every night to the Howard County Fair Grounds. Special attractions will be held daily through Saturday night with Friday set as a special day for children.

A thousand persons attended the fair at noon Wednesday, with 700 served at the Agri-Business barbecue, according to chamber officials. Fair officials estimated the three-night crowd through the gates at 14,500. This is not including the more than 6,000 who attended the Shrine Circus.

Tonight's special events include a band concert by the Stanton band at 6:30 p.m. with a lot of Stanton visitors expected. A second tobacco spitting contest will be held at 7 p.m. For lots of fun, there is a donkey baseball game in the rodeo arena at 8 p.m.

Friday's children's day at the fair will see all children under 12 admitted free and carnival rides for children under 12 set at 40 cents Friday, according to Neil Fryar, vice president of the fair board.

Friday will feature the pet show and lots of children are expected to turn out in force with their pets in the many divisions in this event.

On Saturday, the Youth and Adult Open Horse Show will see registration start at 8 a.m. and the show begin at 10 a.m. Performance classes will be held in the afternoon.

A new event is the Howard County Roping Contest to be staged Saturday night. Howard County has always had some of the top ropers in the entire world and this event is to become an annual one.

A saddle will be the prize.

Each roping team will receive an average of four head with two calves and two steers for team roping.

Also on Saturday night will be three jackpot barrel races that are open to everyone and not limited to county residents.

The carnival is open every night. On Wednesday afternoon, the Tejas Belles held a beef cutting demonstration following the barbecue with George Smith cutting up the beef, Carl Knappe wrapping the meat and the beef was provided by Leland and Gerald Marie Wallace. Sixty packages of beef were given away among the crowd of about 200.

"Come to the Fair" was the theme this year and people have indeed come to the fair in almost perfect weather for three nights.

Cool, Man

Temperatures today clear to partly cloudy, cooler on Friday. Winds gusting up to 25 miles per hour from the west this afternoon, becoming northwesterly tonight. High today in mid 90s, low tonight near 50 and high on Friday in the upper 60s.

Choice For Third Nations

If the nations of the Third World (the emergent nations) are honestly interested in practical patterns for cooperative help, they will do well to consider the suggestions outlined by Secretary of State Henry Kissinger and enunciated before the United Nations by U.S. Ambassador Daniel P. Monyhan.

In essence, the proposals are for a series of initiatives for cooperation between the "have" and "have not" nations. There would be more international agencies dealing with loans, trade and energy, also to seek to stabilize fluctuations of prices of raw material upon which developing nations are so dependent. Further, this would provide capital needed for improvement of the economic base.

Much of this now is being accomplished through the World Bank — borrowing capital funds from the "haves" and lending to the "have nots." (Interestingly, the World Bank has not to date had a default on one of these loans.)

Naturally, there will be some overlapping of politics with economics, but the challenge and choice for developing nations is whether to seek practical solutions rather than languishing in the practice of maligning the United States and other industrial nations.

If the international agency approach would mean a change of attitude for the developing nations, it also would signal a change for direct nation-to-nation policy of lending and aid followed by the U.S. This could have the advantage of transferring brorrower hostility from us (and other industrial nations) to an impersonal international banking agency whose prime consideration would be what is good business for both.

Happy (Nutty) Solution

The U.S. Postal Service has solved a problem which has troubled many Americans over the years. It can be summarized in a question: How can you anticipate and prepare for inflation with its rising costs?

The Postal Service has fashioned the ultimate remedy, one that is elegant in its solution. The service is simply printing Christmas stamps with no denominations on them. The stamps will be sold for the first-class postage rate in effect when they are issued. This anticipates a possible 3-cent increase, from 10 cents to 13 cents, in first-class postage rates, as a Christmas present for the American people.

By logically extending this principal, the U.S. Treasury could print bills that bear no value on their face. They could be redeemed for whatever they were worth on the day they were spent. You would never know how much money you had until you spent it.

Meetings Everywhere

William F. Buckley, Jr.

It happens to have been for me a year of...meetings. A few weeks ago I had a telephone call from Mr. Donald Rumsfeld of the White House. "How are you answering your mail asking what you were doing at the Bilderberg Society meeting?" he wanted to know, having had from his constituents some of the problems I have had with mine. The Bilderberg Society has a wonderfully sinister name: as if it had been founded by Gilles de Rais, or, at best, Bela Lugosi.

The society has met every year since the Second World War, under the principal auspices of Prince Bernhard. It acquired an ominous reputation in right-circles thanks to the writings of Westbrook Pegler, who during the 50's worked himself into annual seizures of apoplectic hilarity at his inability to penetrate the meetings of a society whose member-and guest-lists leaked out, but the nature of whose deliberations did not. I remember the days. I could not wait for the next meeting of the Bilderberg Society, because it would guarantee a most splendid earthquake from Pegler. It didn't matter in the least where the meetings were held. If the society had met at McMurdo Station in the Antarctic, Pegler would have heard about it, and denounced it with relish.

Well, guests of the Bilderberg Society and bound by the same rules as members of the Bilderberg Society — not to write about the proceedings. I fail to find anything inherently subversive here. Those also are the rules governing, for example, faculty meetings; or in camera judicial, and legislative sessions. It seems to me that in a free society one is among other things free to conduct off-the-record meetings. So I told Mr. Rumsfeld that I was answering correspondents who were still coasting on the Pegler stigmatization with some calm, advising them only that I did not feel my hosts at the Society would resent it if I revealed that at the Bilderberg Society meeting I attended. I overheard not a single subversive whisper; which is a lot more than I would be able to say about any broadly-attended meeting of college professors.

Though having said that, I wonder whether, in a sense, the Mt. Pelerin Society isn't in fact subversive, in a way. It was founded, like the Bilderberg, just after the war. It too has guests, but no press. The society is dominated by scholars, and they wish to think their thoughts free of the restraints of transcription in the morning paper, always assuming there were morning papers interested in the society's deliberations; and perhaps to publish their papers later.

I remember with great amusement one mark of the increasing consternation brought on by the anti-socialist endeavors of the Mt. Pelerin society. It was a reference to it made by John Kenneth Gal braith a dozen years ago, in that tone of insouciant paternalism which makes him at once so attractive, and so outrageous. He wrote, if I remember accurately, that shortly after the war, "the small remaining band of free market economists met on an Alpine peak to form a society which, however, soon foundered over a division within its ranks on the question whether the British navy should be owned by the government, or leased from the private sector." I knew then that the Mt. Pelerin Society was beginning to get in the way of Professor Galbraith's cooption of all the noble minds and gentle hearts of the academic and professional worlds for his march down the road to equality in serfdom, and I rejoiced greatly.

This year, honoring the great work of Friedrich Hayek, who won a Nobel Prize this spring — not for his libertarian socio-economic work, but for his technical work in the 30's — the society met at Hillsdale College, Michigan. Hillsdale is a long way from Venice, or Montreux, or one of the glamorous watering spots where thinking comes easier (Socrates taught in a garden). But it is one of the truly exciting liberal arts colleges in America, vibrant with enthusiasm for learning, and as intrigued by the principles of freedom as more conspicuous colleges are hypnotized by the lure of equality. George Roche, the young president of Hillsdale, and author of numerous books, is as excited about it as if he had rediscovered the agora, which he may have done. It can be said about Mt. Pelerin-sur-Hillsdale that it was worth every moment of it. And now, on to the next meeting.

"Goodbye bear!"

"Hello, Bull-l-l-l!"

My Answer

Billy Graham

I have read several times that in the beginning humans walked on all fours. Is there anything in the Bible to this effect? Is so, when did the change occur? C.H.

In recent news magazines, articles have appeared about the new problems facing the evolutionary theory. You might think with the passing of time that this thesis of man's beginning would become more credible. Actually, the opposite is happening.

Many Americans believe as I do — that man was created by an act of God. To say that our forefathers may have walked on all fours is to suggest that they were first part of the animal kingdom, and that somehow by fortuitous circumstances, they acclimated to environmental necessity, and changed to a standing position.

The Bible picture of creation is more lofty than that. It matches the Bible indication that man was made in the image of God, and was the very pinnacle of creation. I admit that the history of man regrettably may suggest that our animal appetites confirm a descent from four-footed creatures. But the very reason Christ came to rescue our race was because He wanted to restore the divine image of a people originally fashioned to be just "a little lower than the angels."

Sad Drama Unfolds

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Uncle Sam might seem a most unlikely competitor of the home mortgage seeker, but that's the role in which he is cast in the latest act of the sad drama of the housing industry.

The U.S. Treasury on Tuesday auctioned $3 billion in two-year notes at an average yield of 8.44 per cent. Denominations were as low as $5,000, which in effect made the notes available to investors of limited means.

Much of the money, it is believed, was raised by individuals who withdrew cash from savings accounts at thrift institutions — savings and loan associations and savings banks — which are limited by law to 7.75 per cent.

The thrift institutions are the main source of mortgage money for single-family houses. When money is withdrawn from their accounts they are inclined to be less willing mortgage lenders. It has happened before.

All investors today are more sophisticated than they were 10 years ago, made so by the necessity to protect the savings it took them years of sacrifice to accumulate. They chase interest rates.

It is for this reason that some housing industry and thrift industry officials fear that housing will take another body blow, thus ending the timid recovery that began earlier this year.

"Rates are now high enough for disintermediation," said Robert Sheehan, director of economic research for the National Association of Homebuilders. "It's a real threat," he said of the possibility that money would move in great amounts from thrift institutions.

George Hanc, economist for the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks, maintains that a marked slowdown in deposits already has occurred, after a record-breaking inflow during the second quarter of the year.

In June, for example, $s46 million was added to deposits at member savings banks. In August, deposits exceeded withdrawals by only $10 million, the third worst performance for that month in 25 years, said Hanc.

The deposits downturn hasn't yet shown up in figures of the U.S. League of Savings Associations, whose members reported record-breaking inflows for several months this summer.

Same Pills, Different Woes

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My doctor says I have an extremely underactive thyroid gland and has me on thyroid medication. I also have a friend going to the same doctor and he prescribes the same pills for her, but she has an overactive thyroid.

Can you explain the same medication being used for underactive and overactive thyroid? Also, she had surgery on her thyroid. -- Mrs. S.A.D.

I'm glad you mentioned the fact, in passing, that your friend had thyroid surgery. Without that bit of information, I would have been as puzzled as you are.

Your thyroid medication is a supplement to provide the necessary hormones your thyroid is not producing. Without it you would probably be sluggish, tend toward obesity. The thyroid gland governs other glandular activity and generally regulates body metabolism.

In your friend's case, the opposite was true. Her thyroid was overactive. A surgeon removed a part of it, in that way reducing the amount of hormones secreted. After such surgery an underproduction of thyroid hormone can occur. For her, thyroid supplement helps stabilize matters.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: There are some medical doctors who classify vaginitis as a venereal disease. This is a very embarrassing situation because there are many of us women (divorcees, for example) who have no contact with men sexually, yet who have vaginitis.

Please send me your new booklet, "Vaginitis: The Hidden Ailment," for which I'm sending 25 cents to you in care of The Big Spring Herald, along with the stamped, self-addressed envelope. I hope it clarifies this matter. -- Mrs. K.P.

There are some forms of vaginitis that are venereal diseases. Gonorrhea is one. There are many others that are not. Vaginitis is defined as any inflammation of the vaginal tract. Vaginitis due to trichomonas is more prevalent in sexually active women.

I know of no doctor who would call every form of vaginitis a "venereal disease." I certainly wouldn't. By the same logic one could say that because all cats have four legs, any animal that has four legs is a cat.

My booklet, which you request, discusses this.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A long time ago, I read in your column something regarding craving for ice cubes being related to anemia. I was craving ice cubes and, in fact, did have anemia.

My doctor had not heard of this, and I don't think he believes me. Did I read correctly? -- V.B.

You did. The craving for ice or for any unusual items - -starch, salt, etc. - is called "pica," and it is often associated with an anemia or a deficiency in the diet. The deficiency is often of a mineral type.

Treatment of the anemia and correction of the faulty dietary practices usually takes care of the problem.

Make Tiger Rag

Around The Rim

Marj Carpenter

What a week. Of course, the President of the United States doesn't come around the Permian Basin area very often.

Photographer Danny Valdes and this reporter decided, as we stood out in the rain so that we would have a good spot in the press division at the airport, that we were glad he didn't come around too often.

BUT THERE WERE LOTS of interesting sidelights. Bands played and people politely fought for positions on the rail, and the Chuck Wagon gang passed out free coffee until the crowd got so thick that nobody could get through to the coffee booth.

When the President stepped off the plane the Midland Lee Band broke into strains of "Dixie" and I thought for a minute maybe Texas was going to secede and keep its oil, but I realized that "Dixie" is Lee High's school song. Odessa High added its school song.

We had wondered for an hour which band would burst into strains of "Hail to the Chief" but neither did. Maybe they didn't know the tune.

Most fun of all was seeing all your old friends in the news business from all over the area. I laughed with a television cameraman from Lubbock about the day we covered Hoss Cartwright's statue dedication in O'Donnell and recollected with a TV photographer from El Paso who used to be in the Permian Basin, and laughed at an irate reporter mumbling about the public relations people who suddenly appear at this type of ceremony and call themselves working press.

ON THE way home, we whistled by the Caprock Electric's annual fling-ding and they were kind enough to hand us a plate of barbecue as we looked wet, cold and hungry (like orphans).

The night before, I had covered a football game in Forsan and those folks out there are always hospitable, it was cold and wet and a night for fumbles, but that new press box is a thing of beauty and a joy forever on a night like that one.

The Fair opened this week and so we made the annual trek out to the Circus ground to see Margie the Elephant.

This is my fourth year in Big Spring and when I came the first year, Danny Valdes and I were sent out to the circus ground. I happened to ask the name of the elephants and one of them was Margie. Danny got a big kick out of that.

AND EACH year when the Shrine Circus comes to town, we go out and interview Margie. She's the most amiable of their three elephants. Sue is the contrary one.

One more thing . . . . out at Forsan, the announcer just couldn't believe the Big Spring halftime score last week so he didn't announce it.

Hurrah for the Steers. Go ahead and make believers out of them all, Steers. Make Tiger rag out of Snyder.

Advent Of Bayh

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON Not having campaigned nationally since 1971 and without even formally announcing his candidacy yet this year, Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana has suddenly emerged as the liberal with the best chance of winning the Democratic presidential nomination in the primaries and thereby averting a convention deadlock.

KEY FIGURES on the party's dominant left wing have come to view Bayh as their best hope because of his potential popular appeal, his dynamism on the campaign stump and his acceptability across the Democratic spectrum. Equally important, Bayh today is organized labor's favorite candidate, uniquely enjoying substantial support among both old-line and leftish unions.

THE ADVENT of Birch Bayh tells much about the Democratic party's course since the McGovern disaster of 1972. His record during 13 years in the Senate has been free of either distinguished achievement or deeply held convictions. A loner with few close associates, Bayh has never been widely admired for dynamic leadership or original insights. His campaign theatricality and country boy mannerisms bring grimaces from sophisticated liberals.

BUT AFTER 1972, liberals want a winner, not an ideologue, moralizer or philosopher-king. Bayh, having defeated formidable Republicans William Ruckelshaus and Richard Lugar back home in Indiana, benefits because no liberal actively campaigning this year (including Rep. Morris Udall) has become a credible candidate.

That Bayh could become credible indeed was strongly suggested by two seemingly minor developments carefully scrutinized by party insiders:

FIRST, BAYH dominated last month's national Young Democrats convention in St. Louis, winning the straw poll of delegates after a crowd-pleasing performance. Shucking off his coat and going on the floor to talk with delegates, he eclipsed his wooden opponents.

The second development, outwardly even more obscure, particularly impressed party pros. A statewide poll of New York Democrats, conducted by the state committee, gave Bayh an unexpectedly high 11 per cent (surpassed only by 25 per cent for Sen. Henry M. Jackson, who has been campaigning heavily in New York, and 14 per cent for the familiar Gov. George Wallace). In view of Bayh's scant exposure in New York, this suggests significant after-effects from his aborted 1972 presidential campaign.

BAYH'S POTENTIAL ability to combat centrist Jackson and rightist Wallace is what attracts the left -- particularly in organized labor. Militantly progressive leaders of the politically muscular United Auto Workers (UAW), while dubious about Bayh's depth, are intrigued by his appeal. As a Hoosier good-old-boy delivering flamboyant renditions of John F. Kennedy prose, Bayh may be the antidote to Wallaceism among the UAW's rank and file.

Besides Bayh's longtime auto-worker support in Indiana and backing among other UAW regional directors, considerable staff support among the communications workers, machinists and government employes makes Bayh the early choice of labor's left.

BUT UNLIKE Sen. George McGovern in 1972 and Udall this year, Bayh effectively competes with Jackson for old-line labor. He is acceptable to AFL-CIO president George Meany, and was one of four presidential possibilities (along with Jackson, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen and Sen. Hubert Humphrey) invited to address next month's AFL-CIO convention.

Bayh is ahead of the liberal pack but somewhere short of a legitimate front-runner with his national campaigning beginning only next month. He can become the liberal candidate, confronting Jackson and Wallace, by winning early primaries.

Buy Bayh's popularity may not survive his first defeat. Anything less than victory, possibly even in New Hampshire's inaugural primary in February could be fatal.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Texas traffic deaths thus far in 1975 are running about 20 per cent higher than they were for the same period a year ago. And on most highways Texans are driving about 20 per cent faster, the 55 mile speed limit to the contrary notwithstanding.

Thus it was no surprise, although the governor found it appalling, that the Texas Department of Public Safety forcast 42 traffic fatalities in the Labor Day weekend of 1975. After all, a year ago the score was 51 traffic deaths for the same weekend in 1974.

So it did come as pleasant news Tuesday that only 27 persons had been killed in Texas traffic over the past weekend. Many times Texas has led the nation in holiday deaths from auto mishaps. This time California and North Carolina had more holiday deaths than Texas.

Nationally, the reduction in traffic fatalities last weekend over the same period of 1974 was substantial: 407 persons killed this year and 515 persons killed in the same time last year.

Even 26 persons' deaths, a normal weekend traffic toll for Texas, represent far too many dead in what usually are preventable crashes. We can do far better if we'd only try to do so.

A Devotion For Today

"As they talked and discussed, Jesus himself drew near and walked along with them."
(Luke 24:15, TEV)

PRAYER: Father, may we always remember that Jesus is with us. Help us to face life from that perspective — always ready to realize His presence and to live for Him from day to day. Amen.

Queen Contest, Playday Oct. 18

The Howard County Youth Horsemen will hold an open, belt-buckle playday and queen contest Oct. 18.

Activities will be conducted at the club's arena on the Garden City Highway.

Registration for playday events begins at 3 p.m. with competition starting at 4 p.m.

Barrel-racing, pole bending, flag racing and ring or potato racing will be the events.

Belt buckles will be awarded to the high-point boy and girl in each of six age groups and the best-all-around boy and girl.

Candidates for junior and senior queens will be presented, and Junior Howard County Youth Horsemen will cast votes for the queens.

Interested girls in the organization should contact Jane Lusk of Zelda Gibbs by Oct. 13, the club's next meeting date.

At the last meeting, Dr. Nell Sanders and Mrs. Jerrye Hull were named to organize the club's annual awards banquet. Buford Hull was selected chairman of the nomination committee for officers.

The Howard County Sheriff's Posse invited the club to attend their jackpot barrel race on Sept. 27. Scott Greenfield won the halter drawing.

Dallas School Board To Get Help From College Professor

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas school board, already rebuffed by a federal court judge, must come up with a new school desegregation plan next month, and this time with the help of a Rhode Island College professor.

Dallas, the nation's ninth largest city, has some 142,000 students of Anglo, black and Mexican-American heritage. Because of a shift in living patterns, many elementary schools within the limits of the sprawling city are one-race facilities.

In the desegregation proposal presented recently to U.S. District Court Judge William M. Taylor Jr. about 18,000 youths would have been bused, but 46 elementary schools would have been predominately one-race. Taylor said the plan was clearly unconstitutional and he ordered the board to try again, this time with the advice of Dr. John Finger, a professor of education and a desegregation expert.

Finger also had been called in to help with integration plans in Denver, Colo., Detroit, and Charlotte, N.C.

In an interview with The Associated Press Wednesday, Finger said, "I think it is inappropriate for someone to comment on the court order. The court has set down the ground rules and the guidelines and they will be followed.

"Everybody knows most cities have segregated housing, and although I am not familiar yet with Dallas, I assume that segregated housing has resulted in segregated schools.

"Busing actually doesn't have anything to do with quality education, but in integrated schools children come in contact with all segments of the community," he said.

Asked if he thought there may be some bitterness for a native New Englander to come to Texas to draw a desegregation plan, Finger said, "I have agreed to accept the appointment of the court, that is all."

In the Charlotte, N.C., school district, the Finger plan, adopted by the federal courts, called for changes in the schools' grade structure, a pairing of schools on racial basis and creation of a satellite system that brought on crosstown busing.

The Charlotte schools had operated on a modified freedom of choice plan, but under the Finger proposal youths were assigned to achieve a racial balance of 70 per cent white, 30 per cent black.

Ed Sanders, assistant superintendent of Charlotte-Mecklenburg School systems, said he was unable to provide the exact number of pupils involved in busing as a result of the Finger plan.

Prison Rodeo To Feature Cons, Recording Stars

HUNTSVILLE — Both male and female convict performers will join a group of the nation's foremost country western recording stars each Sunday in October at the 1975 Texas Prison Rodeo to be held here in the prison stadium, beginning at 2 p.m.

This year's freeworld stars will include the Statler Brothers on October 5; Bobby Bare on October 12; Johnny Rodriquez on October 19; and Dolly Parton on October 26.

A special attraction will feature June Terry of Houston on October 5, 19 and 26. Buffalo Bill Bailey of Radio Station KIKK, Houston, will introduce the stars and otherwise announce the rodeo events during the fast-moving two-hour show.

A midway of activities opens each Rodeo Sunday for spectators at 8:30 a.m. just outside of the rodeo arena. Midway activities include inmate western and country bands, an inmate drill team, and specialty acts.

Reserved seat tickets may be obtained by writing Texas Prison Rodeo, Box 99, Huntsville, Texas 77340, or from most Sears retail stores in Texas. Tickets are also on sale at all Foley Stores in Houston.

Tickets are priced at $4, $5, and $6, with net proceeds from ticket sales earmarked to supplement state appropriated monies in financing treatment and rehabilitation programs in recreation, education, medicine and worship for around 18,000 inmates of the Texas Department of Corrections.

Citizens Capture Former Patrolmen After Robbery

CADDO MILLS, Tex. (AP) — A state trooper has been arrested and charged with aggravated robbery as the third law enforcement man involved in the stick-up of a local bank and the kidnaping of the bank president's daughter.

The Texas Department of Public Safety announced today that highway patrolman Donald Ray Morris, 35, of Rockwall was arrested and charged Wednesday night by DPS officers.

He was being held in the Hunt County jail at Greenville pending $100,000 bond.

The DPS also identified another figure in the robbery, Dallas County deputy sheriff George P. Marshall, 30, as a former highway patrolman who was fired Dec. 8, 1969 "for violation of department policy" after only five months of service. The third man charged in the robbery, former Webster, Tex., Police Chief Tommy Lee Deal, 28, also is a former highway patrolman.

A DPS spokesman said Morris was not at the bank during the holdup but investigation indicated he was otherwise involved.

Morris joined the DPS in February 1967. He resigned in January 1972 to become—like Deal—chief of police at Webster. He was reinstated in the highway patrol in November 1973 and was assigned to Rockwall, the spokesman said.

A posse of about 25 townspeople—the mayor, barber, farmers, store-owners — gave chase in cars and nabbed two men about eight miles from town after the Caddo Mills State National Bank was robbed and Sherri Johnson, 19, was taken hostage.

Marshall, 30, of Garland and Deal, 28, of Houston were charged with aggravated robbery and kidnaping and held in the Hunt County jail in lieu of $100,000 bond.

DAV Meeting Will Be Held Here Sunday

A Disabled American Veterans meeting will be held at VFW Post 2013 starting at 2:30 p.m., Sunday.

Chief speaker for the occasion will be Johnny M. Hawkins, membership chairman for the State Department of the DAV. Representatives from DAV chapter in Lubbock, San Angelo, Abilene, Lamesa, Odessa and Abilene are due to join with local members to hear Hawkins.

Two similar meetings will be held later in Amarillo and El Paso.

The local DAV chapter held its regular monthly meeting last Sunday, with 18 in attendance.

C. B. (Buck) O'Neal, Region I commander, was the chief speaker and focused attention on recent legislature on DAV benefits either passed or proposed in Congress.

Why Not Swap A Bushel For A Barrel Of Oil?

By OMAR BURLESON, M.C.
17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- "A Bushel for a Barrel" has a very great appeal and sounds simple and practical.

Our oil companies are paying exorbitant prices to the oil exporting countries for about a third of our needs. This, of course, means higher prices for the consuming public.

We have just experienced a bumper grain crop. Corn production in the Midwest looks better than a few weeks ago. We need to sell two-thirds of our grain supply to foreign purchasers. We can dispose of two-thirds and still have a carry-over greater than last year. Unless sales of this approximate amount are made, grain prices to producers will be severely depressed and planting for next year is almost certain to be greatly reduced.

From the standpoint of the consumers, pure arithmetic indicates that if sales of grain of the magnitude needed are made, the price of a loaf of bread should not increase more than 1 cent. Should acreage be curtailed for the next crop year because of oversupply, a good excuse would exiet for increased prices to the consumer.

If this makes a case for the need to dispose of our surplus grains, how can we go about making a swap for oil or other resources in which we are in short supply? As said in the beginning, it appears to be a simple proposition. There are, however, some problems with it. Our grain dealers trade with the Russians as private businessmen, where the Russians buy or sell through Government agencies. Canada has a central board which sells its wheat after purchasing from the producers. To put our Government in the business of dealing on a country to country basis would be a considerable deviation from our system. On a barter exchange, it would also have the effect of putting the Government into the oil importing business and then selling to the oil companies for refining and distribution. there may be a way to overcome these basic problems and it might be well that we look at the Canadian system for a possible way out.

Legislation has been introduced in the congress to make the Commodity Credit Corporation the sole marketing agency for the sale of U.S. grains and soybeans. This would mean country by country dealings. The legislation does not address itself to the question of how the Government would market its imported oil once a trade was made.

We have the means of answering the OPEC cartel with our dominance of world food supply. It looks ridiculous that we should keep paying exorbitant prices for foreign oil while selling wheat to the same countries at bargain prices. If these tangible commodities were exchanged on a comparable horse-trading basis, the problem of fluctuating currencies would also be resolved. Longer term arrangements could also be put into effect, making markets more secure over a period of time and avoiding high demands in one period and no demand in another.

By reason of the different governmental systems involved, some real sticky problems exist but the matter should be pursued to determine if answers can be found for a better method.

'YOU'RE UNDER ARREST'

'Any Walk You Use Can Be Used Against You'

COPENHAGEN, Denmark — (AP) – A court has ruled that a policeman can tell from the way a woman walks whether she is soliciting or not, a decision that has enraged Danish prostitutes.

"This is ridiculous," snapped the 22-year-old woman on trial. "If police can judge from a girl's way of walking whether she is out to make business then they should arrest a lot of ladies all over town."

The arresting officer told a district court trying the woman on multiple soliciting charges Tuesday that he had frequently watched her on the street where she lives in Copenhagen's red light district of Vesterbro, a short walk from the downtown luxury hotel district.

"I took action only when she was obviously soliciting, and that was easily determined from the way she walked," the policeman testified.

On his testimony alone the woman was fined $150 -- the latest in a hail of fines raining on Vesterbro prostitutes.

The woman did not deny she was a prostitute. Prostitution is legal in Denmark, but soliciting in a public place is not.

The woman and most other regular prostitutes in Vesterbro live and work in small hotels which are closely watched by police.

The police method that most enrages the women is the close enforcement of restrictions against a "taking up a position" or soliciting within about 110 yards of their residence.

The police say that if there is any way of curbing soliciting this is it. But a spokesman admits it can be tricky because "taking up a position" is subject to interpretation by individual policemen.

A police rule of thumb is that if a girl remains in the restricted area -- which, in some cases, is the entire length of the street where she lives -- for more than five minutes she is in for arrest.

Scores of girls hauled into court have protested that they were grabbed while waiting for a friend or doing a bit of shopping.

Chicago Teachers Resume Classes After Agreement

CHICAGO (AP) — Teachers who struck Chicago public schools Sept. 3 return to the classrooms today under the terms of a tentative new contract which will cost the taxpayers millions of dollars.

Just how much it will cost was in dispute. The Chicago Teachers Union put the price tag at $39.3 million; school officials said the package would cost $79.6 million.

With the return of the teachers, summer vacation ends for the 530,000 pupils in the system.

The 900-member House of Delegates of the Chicago Teachers Union voted to accept the new pact late Wednesday, and the rank-and-file of the 27,000-member union will vote on ratification next Thursday, CTU president Robert M. Healey said.

The school board approved the new agreement by a vote of 7 to 4.

Under the wage provisions of the new contract, the starting salary for teachers will jump from $10,400 to $11,000 a year. Top salaries, for teachers with doctorates, will go from $20,996 to $22,600.

The union also won retention of 1,525 teaching jobs and a decrease in class size by one pupil, to a maximum of 32 in some grades.

"We've got an acceptable package," Healey said. "I don't think there are any winners or losers."

The agreement makes a clash inevitable when the state General Assembly convenes Oct. 22 to consider restoring $47.2 million cut from state aid to Chicago schools.

Schools Supt. Joseph P. Hannon began his job this summer by announcing budget cuts of about $36.7 million. As one economy measure, he suggested not filling the 1,525 teacher vacancies.

Hannon had insisted that the board could not afford the salary increase demanded by the union. He refused to meet with newsmen after the agreement was announced.

The teachers had asked for a 14 per cent pay hike and the hiring of 2,500 more teachers to bring class size down to no more than 25 pupils.

The confrontation at the state capital, Springfield, will come when Chicago legislators attempt to override Gov. Daniel Walker's vetoes trimming 4.9 per cent from the total state aid program to elementary and secondary schools.

Mayor Richard J. Daley has declared that the school district's shortage of funds can be remedied with state money.

The governor, however, has said that taxpayers throughout Illinois must not be asked to pay for Chicago's salary increases.

Odessa College Count Listed

ODESSA — Odessa College has enrolled a record 3,648 students for the fall term. Late registration closed Monday night.

The final figure surpasses by more than 200 the number of students OC officials had expected this fall.

Last year, a total of 3,297 enrolled at OC for the fall term. The old single-semester record was set last spring when 3,370 students entered school. The fall term ends Dec. 19.

Laws to remove them from newsstands entirely have never been successfully enforced since it develops into a hassle on the definition of pornography.

Credit Union Developments Discussed At Local Meeting

Paul Trylko, regional director of the National Credit Union Administration in Austin, discussed new developments within the credit union movement during the Big Spring Chapter of Credit Unions meeting this week.

The audience, which was comprised mostly of credit union officials, employees, and their spouses, listened to topics ranging from the history of change in the nation to the new Electronic Funds Transfer System.

"We have to change in order to overcome obstacles to make progress," Trylko said. "Our youth can't avoid change. We should be more like our youth. We need to change to keep pace with the times," he said as he talked about credit unions.

"We should look at what credit unions have done to help people. However, in order to continue helping people, credit unions must change as the needs of their members change.

"I feel credit unions have done a tremendous job over the years. Other financial organizations are also entering the competitive market. But I feel we (credit unions) are doing a better job of helping our members than most of these other institutions," Trylko said.

Discussing changes, Trylko said "the Electronic Funds Transfer System is something we should be looking at. It is not anything to get alarmed about. It's just another way of transfering money."

"The first step to the automatic disbursement of funds from credit unions is the share drafts", he continued. "I am very happy to see the share drafts in effect at Webb Credit Union and hope other credit unions in Big Spring will be participating in the program in the near future.

"Across the nation, 81 federal credit unions have already been approved for the pilot share draft program. And others are in the process of being approved," he said.

"We need these drafts if credit unions are to enter the direct deposit program for government checks. I can forsee all government checks in the future going into financial institutions. If credit unions wish to receive these checks, they will have to provide their members with access to these funds. And that's where the share draft program comes in.

"We, the National Credit Union Administration, hope credit unions will also start a corresponding agreement between themselves to better serve their members as they move out of the local area," he said. "I can forsee, for example, a credit union in Dallas making a corresponding agreement with one in Big Spring. By doing this, members in either of the two cities will be afforded the opportunity to use the services of the credit union which is closest to them."

"Automated tellers are also being installed at various credit unions at this time. Government Employees Credit Union in San Antonio has already installed several in shopping malls and other areas. I expect many more to be in operation in the near future as we get into higher levels of automation," he continued.

"We're also looking into the central liquidity facility. This liquidity source would give credit unions access to the treasury. Those credit unions needing money could borrow to meet the needs of their members, and those credit unions with surplus capital could lend it to other credit unions — usually at higher rates than they could receive elsewhere."

Concluding his remarks, Trylko said "credit unions will not change in basic principles, but will change in methodology because of changing times. I feel the future for credit unions is very bright," he said.

Probated Sentences For Three Burglars

Terry Piercefield, Eugene Piercefield and Sherrill Piercefield entered guilty pleas to burglary charges in 118th District Court Wednesday.

District Judge Ralph Caton sentenced the defendants to ten years probated sentence with full restitution to be made.

The trio was arrested by city police in connection with the burglaries of Carroll Auto and Hall Engine Co.

The district attorney and the district judge have also issued summons for a number of persons on revocation of probation unless promised restitution was made on various fines and courts costs.

Among those in and out during the past 24 hours have been Nasario R. Juarez, who paid $29 owed and was released; Esqruiel P. Flores, $99 and released; Rosendo Subin Robles, $44 and released, Bertha Mae Morphis, $99 and released and Theodoere Moya, $69 and released. Billy Don Whittington was released on a $1,500 bond set by Judge Caton after he was brought in on a summons.

Danny Thornton, charged with possession of marijuana, was released on a $1,500 bond set by Judge John Coffee.

Jeffery Charles Fye was transfered from the city jail on a driving while intoxicated charge and released on a $500 bond.

Adelaido Martinez III was transfered from city jail on a DWI charge with the arrest made by Texas Highway Patrol. His case went to county court where he was given a probated 30 day to 6 month jail sentence.

UT Class Boycott Had Little Effect

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Some University of Texas classes were a fraction of their normal size today, while in others one couldn't tell there even had been a call for a student boycott.

Several teachers in the Economics Department, who had afternoon classes after the call for a student strike was issued at a noon rally Wednesday, reported about a third to half their normal attendance.

But persons in the accounting and chemical engineering departmental offices said they could see no indication that the boycott was taking hold.

"Our students are serious about their work," said a chemical engineering professor.

The strike was called in protest to the selection of Dr. Lorene Rogers as president of UT-Austin, the first woman to head a major state university.

The 4,000 students at the rally on the sun-baked South Mall were only a tenth of those enrolled, leaving the success of the student strike in some doubt.

Dr. Rogers was in Washington, D.C., today at President Ford's invitation for a White House ceremony and luncheon honoring recipients of the National Medal of Science. She also was scheduled to attend a meeting in Princeton, N. J., of the Graduate Record Examinations Board, of which she is chairwoman.

A black student from Amarillo, Tom Collier, climaxed Wednesday's rally with his motion to boycott all classes until Dr. Rogers resigns.

"Quit! Quit! Quit! Quit!" the students chanted. Many shot their fists into the air, a gesture reminiscent of the 1960s when anti-war demonstrations were frequent events on the South Mall at the foot of the Main Building.

Dr. Rogers, a 61-year-old biochemist and nutritionist who was named to the post Friday, declared she will remain on the job even though the general faculty demanded Tuesday that she resign.

Speakers at the rally insisted their main objection was that UT regents had ignored a student-faculty advisory committee, which had refused on four separate occasions to include Dr. Rogers on its list of recommendations for the presidency.

But participants in a "guerrilla theater" play mocked Dr. Rogers' statements that she is characterized by openness and has not been handicapped in her career by the fact she is a woman.

Rep. Gonzalo Barrientos, D-Austin, called for an investigation by the House Higher Education Committee "to clear up all this crap."

Bentsen Fighting Bill To Divert Gas In Texas

(Special To The Herald)

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Sen. Lloyd Bentsenk D-Tex.) said Wednesday that an emergency natural gas bill before the senate would empower a federal agency to force Texas to divert its natural gas to other states.

"I am waging on all-out fight to defeat this measure when it comes up for Senate debate Thursday," Bentsen said.

"It is based on the fallacious assumption that the best way to increase the size of the pie is to cut it into smaller pieces."

The bill is a 9-month emergency measure, introduced by Sen. Ernest Hollings (D-S.C.) which orders the Federal Power Commission to divert natural gas from Texas utilities to interstate pipelines deemed "Distressed" by the FPC. It would also give permission to the Secretary of the Interior to instruct that gas fields be pumped in excess of their maximum efficiency rate.

"This country faces a natural gas shortage during the coming winter," Bentsen said.

Bentsen, who has introduced legislation calling for phased deregulation of the price of natural gas, said "there is general agreement the shortage will be a result of misguided regulation policies over the past 20 years."

"The problem is policies that have discouraged exploration and production of natural gas and encouraged wasteful use of this diminishing resource."

"This emergency bill maintains that the solution is to expand these misguided regulation policies to include intrastate markets as well as interstate natural gas markets," Bentsen said.

"The present shortage has been caused by too much, not too little federal regulation."

"This extension of federal regulation would be very harmful to both Texas and the Nation. And I intend to fight it with every means at my disposal," Bentsen added.

Chaplain Richey Attending Meet

AMARILLO — The subregional section of the Association of Clinical Pastoral Education is meeting today with High Plains Baptist Hospital here.

The conference attracted chaplains from Amarillo, Lubbock, Big Spring and Albuquerque. The subject under consideration for the meeting is: Transactional Analysis in the Grieving Experience.

Transactional Analysis is a recent technique used in counseling settings to assist in dealing with many types of psychological problems.

Those attending include Tom Daugherty, chaplain of Methodist Hospital, Lubbock; Sister Monica Lucas, St. Joseph's Hospital, Albuquerque; Chaplain Foy Richey, Big Spring State Hospital; Chaplain Ron Clark, Northwest Texas Hospital, Amarillo; and Chaplain Arnold Holley of High Plains.

High Plains Chaplain Interns, Jim Powell and Glen Emert will be observers for the ACPE seminar.

Jerry Reed, Lynn Anderson Are Scheduled

ARLINGTON — Two top names in the field of country music, Lynn Anderson and Jerry Reed, are scheduled for appearances at Six Flags Over Texas.

Lynn Anderson will grace the Music Mill Theater stage in shows Friday evening. Lynn's early recordings, "Ride, Ride, Ride" and "If I Kiss You Will You Go Away," were followed by other hits such as "Too Much Of You," "Promises, Promises," and the million-selling "Rose Garden." Lynn has appeared on numerous television shows including "Hee Haw," "The Kraft Music Hall," and "The Joey Bishop Show," and has been seen frequently with Lawrence Welk.

On Saturday, Six Flags will feature Jerry Reed. Nicknamed "Guitar Man" after a song he wrote that became another in Elvis' long line of hits, the guitar-pickin' singer-songwriter wrote and performed two back-to-back bestsellers, "Amos Moses" and "When You're Hot You're Hot." Jerry appeared on one of the more popular summer replacement shows in 1973, "Music Country," and was a regular on Glen Campbell's weekly variety show, "The Glen Campbell Goodtime Hour."

Six Flags will be open on Friday from 6:00 p.m. until midnight, and on Saturday from 10:00 a.m. until midnight. Showtimes both days will be 8:00 p.m. and 10:00 p.m.

Six Flags tickets will be specially priced at $5, adult or child, Friday evening and on Saturday after 6:00 p.m. There is no additional charge for the shows.

Korean Pottery Program Shapes

FDA Will Recall Faulty Eardrops

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A shipment of possibly harmful ear drops distributed to 10 Western states is being recalled by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration after seven reports of injuries.

A spokesman in the Portland FDA office said the injuries involve a burning sensation in the ear after using the drops, which were distributed by Whiteworth, Inc., of Gardena, Calif., the name that appears on the label.

The drops are sold in half-ounce bottles. The words "ear drops" appear in blue and black lettering on a white and blue label. The label also says the drops are for softening ear wax.

The drops, sold without prescription, were shipped to Oregon, Washington, Idaho, California, Hawaii, Nevada, Arizona, Utah, Wyoming and Texas. The recall involves some 7,500 bottles.

Fanne Wants To Marry Mills

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Fanne Foxe says the reason she still wants to marry U.S. Rep. Wilbur Mills is that "he made me feel the way I felt when I was in school, or the way my father felt about me. I still want to marry Wilbur. The decision is up to him," she said here Tuesday.

"I love him in my own way," she said. "I don't like to talk about it."

Kay Proctor Ranked Seventh Nationally In Barrel Racing

Kay Proctor, formerly of Howard College, is ranked seventh nationally in Girls Rodeo Association barrel racing.

Kay, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Proctor, Odessa, has transferred to Southeastern Oklahoma State at Durant. She has won $5,956 this season.

Ken Stanton, one of the top bareback and bull riders in rodeo history, has made a comeback in the sport three years after doctors nearly amputated his right leg when gangrene threatened to set in.

Stanton, Weiser, Ida., won first in bull riding at the Pendleton Roundup rodeo in Oregon over the weekend, winning $1,350. He placed in the opening go-round and took first in the finals with an 81-point ride to cinch first in the average payoff.

The 32-year-old cowboy competed full-time during the Sixties, and qualified for the National Finals Rodeo in both his events from 1964 through 1967. His last Finals appearance was in 1970, when he was among the nation's top 15 bull riders.

Two years later, he discovered his right leg had virtually no circulation and was beginning to hurt. Doctors considered amputating the limb, which had been injured repeatedly over the years. Stanton was forced to quit rodeo, and doctors told him he might be able to keep the leg if it weren't injured again.

"They still tell me that, but the leg has gotten better," he said. "I've got a special padded boot and other padding for the leg, and so far it hasn't been hurt."

Season's leaders follow by category: All-Around Cowboy — Leo Camarillo, Oakdale, Calif., $35,200.

Saddle Bronc Riding — Monty Henson, Mesquite, Tex., $23,452.

Bareback Bronc Riding — Joe Alexander, Cora, Wyo., $30,174.

Bull Riding — Don Gay, Mesquite, Tex., $23,599.

Calf Roping — Jeff Copenhaver, Spokane, Wash., $27,678.

Steer Wrestling — Frank Shepperson, Midwest, Wyo., $25,566.

Team Roping — Leo Camarillo, Oakdale, Calif., $18,122.

GRA Barrel Racing — Jimmie Gibbs, Valley Mills, Tex., $17,251.

Winston second half leaders follow: Saddle Bronc Riding — John Forbes, Kaycee, Wyo., $10,644.

Barback Bronc Riding — Joe Alexander, Cora, Wyo., $16,800.

Bull Riding — Don Gay, Mesquite, Tex., $9,486.

No Arrests In Shooting Death Case

LAMESA — No arrests have been made in the Sunday shooting death of Eleasio Tobias, 26, but police are continuing their investigation.

Tobias was dead on arrival at a local hospital. The incident took place at his home. Tobias was hit three times by slugs from a small caliber pistol, probably a .22. Two of the bullets lodged in his abdomen, a third in his chest.

Graveside rites for Tobias will be at 10 a.m. Thursday in Lamesa Cemetery with Jerome Vitek, pastor of St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church of Lamesa, officiating.

A native of Biena Union Nubo Hidial Verango in Mexico, Tobias had been a Lamesa resident for the past four years. He was an employe of the Cotton Oil Mill.

Survivors include his widow, Celia; a son, Jose Ramon Tobias of the home; two daughters, Micaela Ramon Tobias and Angela Ramon Tobias, both of the home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfredo Tobias of Biena Union, Mexico; a sister, Landina Tobias of Biena Union, Mexico; two brothers, Julio Tobias and Amadio Tobias, both of Biena Union, Mexico; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Hernandez of Biena Union, Mexico; and his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Santiago Tobias of Biena Union, Mexico.

Road Jobs Vow Voiced

COLORADO CITY — Rep. Elmer Martin has vowed to fight the possibility of closing the Highway Department's residency office in Colorado City.

Commissioners were told recently by highway department officials that there was a distinct possibility the residency will be closed and the 12 people employed there will be worked into maintenance positions either in Colorado City, Big Spring, or Sweetwater.

Rep. Martin plans to get representatives from the Chamber of Commerce, commissioners court and city to meet with the district highway engineer and go to Austin if necessary.

Roger Welsch, highway engineer, told the engineers that the district budget was cut drastically this year by the state legislature and he had only a small amount of money with which to maintain the system and continue operations.

"We cannot operate in the red," he told the group.

Oil Drilling Best Since '63

HOUSTON (AP) — A weekly survey shows domestic oil and gas drilling operations have continued at a 12-year high for three weeks.

The survey compiled by the Hughes Tool Co. and released Wednesday by the International Association of Drilling Contractors showed 1,704 rotary drilling rigs were in use Monday.

The same total was recorded a week earlier when the number of rigs making hole passed the 1,700 mark the first time since 1963 when the weekly averaged peaked at 1,733. The report had posted a 12-year high of 1,684 for the week ending Sept. 2.

The latest report showed Texas had 640 active rigs, compared with 628 a week earlier; Louisiana dropped to 241, compared with 249 a week earlier

Your Daily HOROSCOPE
from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FRIDAY, SEPT. 19, 1975

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Ask questions of an associate and then you will know better what is expected of you. A private matter can be resolved now.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Make certain you understand the motive behind a favor a friend wants to bestow upon you. A social affair could be costly.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Carry through with what a bigwig expects of you instead of wasting time foolishly. Be careful of your reputation tonight.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) First handle an important business matter before engaging in any amusements. Show that you are conscientious.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Don't bring friends and advisers together or you could get into trouble. See them separately. Control your temper today.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Show kindness with one who offends instead of becoming vengeful. Making certain to keep promises is important today.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) It is important that you carry through with routines, instead of going off on some tangent. Take health treatments.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Don't jeopardize your security by spending lavishly for entertainment. Save your money instead and invest it wisely.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Don't get involved in an argument between a family tie and acquaintance at this time. Streamline your social activities.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Although you may be provoked, do not argue with a co-worker who is out of sorts. Concentrate on your personal affairs.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Find a more practical system for operating in the days ahead. Listen carefully to what a successful friend has to suggest.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Try to get at the bottom of an unpleasant situation at home and establish harmony quickly. Strive for increased happiness.

Clear Train Wreck Debris

EDGEWOOD, Tex. (AP) — Workmen began today clearing away the wreckage of a Texas & Pacific freight train which jumped the track near this East Texas community, triggering several fiery explosions.

The train, pulling several cars of flammable materials — including a tank car of polyvinyl chloride — was wrecked before dawn Wednesday. The accident occurred within 200 yards of an Amoco Production Co. plant which processes natural gas.

"It scared hell out of us," said conductor T.E. Furrh. "The caboose didn't derail and when we got out, we ran like hell."

Although there were no reports of injuries, peace officers evacuated residents along one highway and blocked off another.

Once the debris of the train has been cleared, a company spokesman said crews will repair damage to the tracks.

MEN IN SERVICE

GARY JENNINGS

FT. SAM HOUSTON — Staff Sergeant Gary D. Jennings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil F. Jennings, 910 E. 15th, Big Spring, completed the Army Medical Department non-commissioned officer advanced course at the Army's Academy of Health Sciences here. Sgt. Jennings graduated with honors.

The course provides senior noncommissioned officers with a working knowledge of the organization and activities of the Army Medical Department at all levels of command.

★★★

Hull Maintenance Tech. 2. C1. (E-5) Rodger Lee Lloyd, a 1971 graduate of Big Spring High School, a member of the U.S. Navy since Sept. 21, 1975, reenlisted July 26 of this year for five years and received a bonus of $12.000.

He requested and received orders to the Service School Command in San Diego, Cal., for Pressure Plate Welding, High Pressure Pipe Welding and welding of Nuclear Power Plant Components — a total of 32 weeks education in advanced welding.

Rodger will be at home until Oct. 3. He is the son of James L. and Betty Lloyd of 1601 Wood St.

Lloyd saw service aboard the USS Standley, a Guided Missile Destroyer Leader and made two cruises in Mediterranean waters.

★★★

Navy Personnelman Third Class Benjamin J. Carr, son of Mrs. Billie L. Carr of 1000 E. 16th, Big Spring, has returned from the Mediterranean aboard the destroyer USS Barry.

The ship will be homeported in Philadelphia for an extensive overhaul.

While deployed, he and his shipmates participated in various training exercises with other units of the U.S. Sixth Fleet and visited several European countries.

LARRY JOHNSON

Marine Private First Class Larry D. Johnson, son of Mr. Ivy Johnson of Route 3, and Mrs. Ola M. Johnson of 520 East St., both of Colorado City, has been meritoriously promoted to his present rank upon graduation from recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

He received the early promotion for his superior performance in all phases of the training, which emphasizes physical conditioning, discipline and teamwork.

★★★

GREAT FALLS, Mont. — The son of a Colorado City, Tex., couple has been assigned to Malmstrom AFB, Mont., for duty with a unit of the Strategic Air Command.

Air Force Staff Sergeant Danny Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bracy of 345 W. Fourth St., is a law enforcement technician with the 341st Security Police Group.

Previously assigned at Sculthorpe RAF Station, England, he is a 1967 graduate of Colorado City High School.

★★★

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. — U.S. Air Force Staff Sergeant Patrick W. Powell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack D. Powell of Big Spring, Tex., has graduated from the Air Force Systems Command Noncommissioned Officer Leadership School at Kirtland AFB, N.M.

Sergeant Powell, who was trained in military management and supervision, is a computer programming technician at Lackland AFB, Tex.

A 1968 graduate of Bonham (Tex.) High School, he attended Howard County Junior College, Texas Tech University and San Antonio College.

The sergeant's wife, Janet, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Murphy of 11711 McLain, Houston.

BRUCE CHRISTICH

FT. KNOX, KY. — Cadet Bruce I. Christich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Christich, 1307 Colby Ave., Big Spring attended the basic Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC) camp here.

Cadets received six weeks of practical military training designed to prepare them for advanced ROTC courses when they return to school in the fall.

Cadet Christich is a student at New Mexico Military College in Roswell.

★★★

Navy Hospitalman Gary W. Groves, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Groves of Route 1, Big Spring, was graduated from Field Medical Service School at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N.C.

The five-week course includes instruction in first aid, preventive medicine and field sanitation.

No Motive In Slaying

HONDO, Tex. (AP) — Medina County Sheriff Charles Hitzfelder said he has uncovered no motive as yet in the shotgun slaying of Richard Morales, 29, of Castroville.

Castroville Town Marshal Frank Hayes, 53, was charged with the killing and remained in jail late Wednesday in lieu of $50,000 bond.

Medina County authorities arrested Hayes after deputy city marshal Donald McCall told them that his boss had apparently shot Morales late Sunday night on a gravel road near Castroville.

Later Dennis Dunford, 17, said he helped load Morales' body into the trunk of Hayes' car, Hitzfelder said.

Texas Rangers dug up the body Tuesday from a shallow grave near the Louisiana border with Hayes' wife, Dorothy, directing them to the spot.

"This is the most cold-blooded murder I've seen," Hitzfelder said. "It looks like an execution."

Later he added, "We don't know why."

Dunford, who was to become Hayes son-in-law Oct. 6, was charged with Morales' death also and Mrs. Hayes was charged with misdemeanor "hindering an apprehension."

Both were freed Wednesday on $2,500 bond each.

Hitzfelder said McCall arrested Morales Sunday night and was told by Hayes to take Morales out of the city to a deserted road.

McCall said that he heard a muffled gunshot shortly after he turned his prisoner over to Hayes and had begun driving away.

Medical examiner Dr. Ruben Santos ruled Wednesday that Morales died of a shotgun wound in his chest.

VEGETABLES HIGHLIGHT FALL MENUS

BIG SPRING HERALD

SECTION B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1975 SECTION B

There's a nip in the air, color in the trees and country farm stands abound with fall produce. Baskets overflowing with fruits and vegetables remind us of the goodness waiting to grace our tables.

Make vegetables an important part of your fall menu plans. From soup to desserts vegetables add variety and great eating pleasure to family meals.

Many doctors are recommending that we eat more vegetables, fruits and whole grain cereals and reduce our intake of fatty meats. Such modifications in eating habits are advised in order to reduce intake of cholesterol and saturated fat and thus help lower blood cholesterol levels. So there is another good reason for enjoying your vegetables!

The recipes below demonstrate the versatility and delectable flavor of fresh vegetables. Creamed Spinach Soup is a lovely way to start dinner on a crisp fall evening. Wholesome and rich in flavor, this savory soup will soon be a family favorite.

Vegetables also make tempting entrees and our Italian Eggplant Parmesan is an excellent example. Side dishes too can be noteworthy when prepared with imagination and flair. Brussels Sprouts and Apples combines two fall favorites for a unique taste treat.

Luscious breads, muffins, cakes and pies can also be prepared with vegetables. This moist carrot bread, delicately spiced with cinnamon and sprinkled with raisins, is simply delicious. Crowned with a crunchy pecan topping, Squash Pie offers an unusual blend of textures and flavors that's guaranteed to be a hit. You can use fresh or frozen squash, so this scrumptious dessert can be enjoyed anytime of year.

Let good taste and good nutrition abound on your table as vegetables highlight fall menus.

CREATE UNUSUAL DISHES — Fall vegetables are filling the markets and by cooking with polyunsaturated margarine and low-cholesterol egg substitutes, you can serve delicious and sensible meals.

Brussels Sprouts and Apples

1 quart Brussels sprouts, washed and trimmed
Boiling water
1/4 cup (1/2 stick) Corn Oil Margarine
1/2 cup chopped onion
1-1/2 teaspoons caraway seed
3/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
3 cups pared, cubed apples
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Cook Brussels sprouts in boiling water to cover until tender crisp. Drain and set aside.

Melt margarine in a large skillet. Saute onion until tender; stir in caraway seed, salt and paprika. Add apples and cook for 2 minutes, stirring frequently. Add cooked Brussels sprouts and lemon juice; mix well. Cover and simmer 5 minutes; stirring occasionally. Makes 8 servings.

Squash Pie

1 cup unsifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup (1 stick) Corn Oil Margarine
2-3 tablespoons ice water
1 cup cooked butternut squash (fresh or frozen)
1/2 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
1/2 cup Cholesterol-free Egg Substitute
1/2 cup skimmed evaporated milk
1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon ground cloves
1/8 teaspoon ground ginger
1/8 teaspoon ground nutmeg
Pecan Topping (recipe below)

Combine flour and 1/2 teaspoon salt in a bowl. Cut in margarine with pastry blender or two knives until mixture resembles coarse meal. Stir in ice water; mix lightly. Form dough into a ball.

On lightly floured board, roll out dough to fit an 8-inch pie plate. Transfer to plate, trim and flute edge. Carefully line with aluminum foil, fill with rice or dried beans. Bake at 375°F. 10 minutes. Remove foil.

Combine squash, brown sugar, Eggs, skimmed evaporated milk, cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon salt, cloves, ginger and nutmeg in blender container. Blend until mixture is smooth. Pour into pastry shell.

Bake at 375°F. 30 to 35 minutes or until knife inserted 1-inch from edge comes out clean. Cool on wire rack. When pie is cool, evenly spoon Pecan Topping over pie; then broil 5-inches from heat for 2 minutes.

Pecan Topping: In a small bowl blend together 1/2 cup firmly packed light brown sugar and 3 tablespoons softened Margarine. Stir in 1/2 cup chopped pecans.

Creamed Spinach Soup

1/3 cup Corn Oil Margarine
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup thinly sliced celery
3 tablespoons unsifted flour
1-1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 quart skim milk
1 cup drained cooked chopped spinach

Melt margarine in large saucepan. Saute onion and celery until tender. Blend in flour, salt and pepper; cook until bubbly. Remove from heat, gradually stir in skim milk. Return to heat; cook, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Add spinach, simmer 2 to 3 minutes longer. Makes 4 servings.

Eggplant Parmesan

8 tablespoons (1 stick) Corn Oil Margarine
1/4 cup chopped onion
2 cans (8-ounces each) tomato sauce
1/2 teaspoon oregano leaves, crushed
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 large (1-1/2 pound) eggplant, peeled and cut in 1/2-inch slices
1 pound skimmed milk Mozzarella cheese, thinly sliced
3 teaspoons grated Parmesan cheese

Melt 1 tablespoon margarine in a saucepan. Saute onion until tender. Stir in tomato sauce, oregano and salt; simmer 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Set aside.

Brown eggplant slices in remaining 7 tablespoons margarine.

Spread 1/4 cup of the prepared tomato sauce in the bottom of a shallow 2-quart casserole. Place half of the eggplant slices in casserole, top with half of the remaining tomato sauce, sprinkle with 1-1/2 teaspoons Parmesean cheese and top with half of the Mozzarella cheese slices. Repeat with remaining ingredients.

Bake at 375°F. about 30 minutes or until bubbly and cheese on top is golden brown. Makes 6 servings.

Recapture 1915 with Imperial's new ECONOMY COOKBOOK

Only $1.00 and the pure cane block from a bag or carton of Imperial Sugar.

Our first Imperial cookbook was published in 1915. A lot of things have changed since then. But one thing is still very important to you and to us—economy. So along with nostalgic photos from yesteryear, we've assembled our very latest recipes including salads, main dishes, desserts, a section on freezing and canning, and interesting suggestions for second-day meals.

Order your Imperial Economy Cookbook today. You'll be getting our very latest cookbook. Along with glimpses from our very first.

Imperial Sugar Company • P. O. Box 560 • Sugar Land, Texas 77478

Please send me the new Imperial Sugar "Economy Cookbook." I enclose a check or money order for $1 (no stamps please) and the block marked pure cane from an empty bag or carton of Imperial Sugar.

Deposit Boxes Contents Noted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Bank safety deposit boxes usually hold jewelry, money, old coins and other valuables. But that's not all. Try a cocktail napkin, old birthday cards or a pair of socks.

Last year, five deputy Franklin County auditors inventoried 1,325 boxes sealed by banks after the boxholder's death. They found everything from a gold tooth to a one-year appliance warranty which had expired 40 years before.

One box served its owner as a lunch pail. The inventory produced small jars of mustard, catsup, relish, salt and pepper shakers. The boxholder apparently brought his bag lunch downtown every day and at noon would go to the box to season his meal.

Deputy Auditor Harry Fell says many of the boxes contain cash, and $1,000 seems to be a typical sum.

"But we've found as high as $140,000 cash in a box," he added.

Silver bars, gold nuggets, gems and jewelry are other common items found when a box is emptied.

"There are no two boxes alike unless they're empty," Fell said.

The safety deposit containers can take anywhere from 10 minutes to 10 hours to inventory, Fell explained.

Some persons keep a single box, and others, especially coin and collectors of other items, may keep up to a dozen boxes, he said.

Fell said every item in one woman's box had a note attached detailing where it should go following her death. Every piece of furniture in her home — and every jar and bottle in her refrigerator — had similar notes, the county official said.

The boxes are sealed following the boxholder's death until the contents can be inventoried for the state taxation department. The survey is made by a deputy county auditor with a next-of-kin or authorized attorney present, Fell said.

The contents of a box may have no value, or in one case, may yield $1.5 million in cash and securities, Fell said.

Next-of-kin may be surprised by the value of the contents.

"Children often say that nothing will be found in their father's box because 'Dad never had anything.' Then we'll find a considerable sum."

HOG BOSS — "Candy," a 40-pound macaque monkey, is the new boss around the pig pen at Odell Chadwell's farm in Springtown, Texas. The new hired hand, that keeps Chadwell's pigs, works for peanuts — and an occasional banana as it supervises activities in the hog lot.

THINKS HE OWNS THEM

Monkey Pig Keeper Works For Peanuts

SPRINGTOWN, Tex. (AP) — Farmer Odell Chadwell's hired hand is making a pig of himself.

It's a case of life-style, not greed, since the hired hand works for peanuts. Perhaps he merely grew tired of monkeying around.

"That thing believes it owns these hogs," Chadwell chuckled as he eyed the 40-pound monkey resting cowboy-style atop the fence rail surrounding his hog pen.

"We tried to keep it at the house at first," explained Chadwell's son Ken. "But the monkey didn't like it. It came down here to live with these hogs and it's been here ever since."

The monkey, named "Candy," has turned out to be an amazing pig keeper, the Chadwells say.

The small, red-faced monkey wanders around the hog pen, performing chores and supervising the activities of about 50 crossbred hogs on the Chadwell farm northwest of Fort Worth.

Acquired last year when Ken Chadwell took it in trade for a butane gas purchase, Candy gives special attention to sows and their litters.

It makes sure suckling pigs are lined up at the dinner table, occasionally jerking one back by the tail from the mother and guiding others into position.

"I once saw it just pick a pig up by the tail and spin it around in a circle just looking at it," Ken recalled. "I guess it just wanted to see if it was OK."

The monkey also sometimes climbs aboard a large red sow "that it likes real well" and rides it around the hog pen, Chadwell said.

"That monkey gets real attached to these pigs," he added. "I sold one once and it didn't want it to leave."

Chadwell's monkey also defends the pigs against intruders.

If Chadwell picks up a squealing pig, the monkey comes running, teeth bared, until he puts it down.

King Ranch Slates 24th Cattle Sale

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The famed King Ranch conducts its 24th annual Santa Gertrudis bull and Quarterhorse sale here Sept. 27 with offering of about 20 bulls and 25 horses.

The auction of prized bulls and horses begins at 10 a.m.

Last year's sale of 20 bulls averaged a price of $9,288 per animal while the 26 Quarterhorses averaged $4,434 each. The top bull last year went for $18,000 while the highest price paid for a Quarterhorse filly was $12,100.

Man Loses $2 Murder Appeal

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals today upheld the murder conviction of Ruben V. Colunga, who was sentenced to 199 years as the alleged mastermind and getaway car driver in the robbery-slaying of a San Antonio grocer.

An earlier conviction had been reversed for insufficiency of evidence.

Colunga was convicted in the Jan. 17, 1969, stabbing death of Solomon Abdo.

A male accomplice and the teen-age common-law wife of another accomplice testified that Colunga organized the robbery and assigned each participant a role, instructing one of them, "If you have to use the knife, use it."

Abdo resisted and was stabbed five times. Two dollars in nickels were taken from the cash register. The teen-age girl testified she turned down 25 cents as her cut and said she never intended to participate in the robbery.

Colungas lawyers contended the girl was an accomplice as a matter of law, and the jury should have been told to disregard her uncorroborated testimony. But the trial judge left that question for the jury to decide.

The high court agreed, saying there was no evidence the girl was an accomplice and citing previous cases that held it is proper to submit such issues to the jury.

Navy Will Leave Island To Cranes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has agreed to stop efforts to use Matagorda Island off the Texas coast, a wintering spot for whooping cranes, for pilot training purposes, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said today.

In a prepared Senate speech, Proxmire also said the Interior Department now will move to turn the island into a wildlife management area and park.

The Air Force had used the island for bombing practice runs and refused to give it up, despite protests from congressmen and several agencies.

The secretary of defense reversed that decision, but the Navy last July put in a bid to use part of the island the Air Force had left.

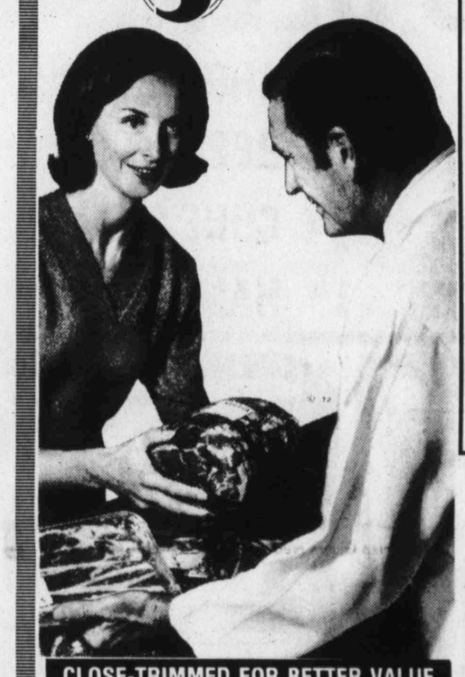

In late August, however, Interior Department officials wrote Proxmire that they intend to request that all Matagorda land be declared excess property to the General Services Administration so they could acquire it for the park plan.

The Navy then cancelled its plan to seek portions of the island for practice landing and takeoff field and other pilot training, Proxmire said.

Concluding his speech, he wished the fewer than 50 cranes currently in the wild "a peaceful winter."

Mineral Pay Suit Is Filed

A suit over mineral rights payments for 5,000 acres in Howard and Mitchell Counties is to be tried by jury in 118th District Court Monday.

Katherine M. Carter filed the suit against Marcus Snyder Jr. and a long list of other persons and corporations.

District Judge Ralph W. Caton held docket call Tuesday afternoon.

Judge Caton granted the defense a continuance in the murder case against Jay Doug Ingram, 25, Vincent Route.

Ingram is charged with the April shotgun slaying of Michael Ralph Green.

Madame Kai-Shek Back In States

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Madame Chiang Kai-shek, widow of the former leader of Nationalist China, has left for the United States for medical treatment.

Madame Chiang, who is reported to be in her 70s, said in a formal statement issued Tuesday that she has not been in good health for years. The nature of her ailment was not disclosed.

VOLUNTEER SERVICES AT BSSH

Mrs. Bright Appointed Assistant Coordinator

Dr. Wallace C. Hunter, acting superintendent, Big Spring State Hospital, announces the association of Mrs. Jo Bright as Assistant Coordinator, Volunteer Services.

Formerly associated with the Big Spring Herald as women's news editor, Mrs. Bright served as a volunteer worker at the hospital for eight years; two as a member of the Volunteer Council.

Coming to Big Spring in 1950, Mrs. Bright was active in civic endeavors and several local organizations before joining the Herald staff. She was a member of the Newcomers Club, Mu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, Washington Parent-Teacher Association, Ladies Golf Association of Big Spring Country Club, BPO Does, YMCA and Spoudazio Fora Study Club. She served as a neighborhood organizer and troop leader for Girl Scouts, assisted with Little League, helped organize a local hospital auxiliary and participated in the Big Spring Civic Theatre. Holder of a private pilot's license, she has been presented an honorary Jet Certificate at Webb Air Force Base.

Mrs. Bright attended the University of Houston and Miami University at Oxford, Ohio. During World War II, she worked with U. S. Naval Intelligence and received the Navy commendation while assigned to the U.S. Naval Communications Station at Bainbridge Island, Wash.

After the war ended, Mrs. Bright spent two years in Guatemala before returning to Houston where she joined the Foreign Department of the Second National Bank. The following year, she became a stewardess for Pioneer Airlines.

Mrs. Bright was associated with the women's department of the Herald when it won a national award in the Peney-University of Missouri journalism competition, and she has received two individual awards in state competition sponsored by the Associated Press. Her memberships include Texas Press Women Inc. and the National Federation of Press Women Inc. She is listed in "Who's Who in American Women."

Mrs. Bright is the daughter of Mrs. Edward A. Coel of Houston and the late John L. Foster. She has a daughter, Mrs. Rebecca Williams, a student at the University of Houston, and a son, Robert Bruce Bright of Big Spring, a part-time student at Howard College.

'Free To Be You And Me' Film Available

The award winning TV special "Free to Be You and Me" is now available on 16mm film at the Howard County Library. The film is on special loan from Abilene and will only be available one week.

"Free to Be You and Me" was first recorded by Marlo Thomas as a record of songs and narratives that challenges the old sex-stereotypes. It was nominated for a Grammy award.

Later it became a TV special and won the 1974 Emmy for Best Children's Special of the Year. The major theme is that people should be free to do what they want to do and become anything they want to become. Though created for children, it has universal appeal.

The film may be checked out for 24 hours. Call the library at 7-5295 to reserve a date.

THREE POINT UNDERDOG

Big Spring Desires To Break Snyder Jinx

(Photo by Clark Lesher)

LEAPING DRIVE — Quarterback Mark Moore (12), leaping through the air for ground yardage against Hobbs, will lead Steer traffic here Friday night with Snyder at 8 p.m., at Memorial Stadium.

By CLARK LESHER

History repeats itself.

Looking exactly at the same situation as confronted with at this stage last year, undefeated at 2-0, Big Spring runs smack dab into defense-minded Snyder at 8 p.m. Friday at Memorial Stadium.

The Harris Poll, harassing the Steers for the third week in a row, casts them in the underdog role. Three points separate the two teams.

Bob Burris has been unable to tame the Tigers in two previous encounters, losing by a close 28-25 margin in 1973, but by a more divided score last year, 27-6.

Big Spring finally found the right key to unwind its offense last week, clipping Hobbs, 27-8. Two weeks ago, a well-taught Steer defense started off the season on the right foot by branding the Andrews Mustangs, 14-6.

Playing probably his most celebrated game ever in a Steer uniform, fullback Jesse Doss rambled for 105 yards and two touchdowns against Hobbs.

Veteran quarterback Mark Moore, who drew praise from the sideline for his leadership ability, threw two aerial touchdown passes to Greg Spears and Ken McMurtrey. Moore also showed his own agility by clicking off 45 yards on the ground.

Burris will stick with the same offensive and defensive roster used in the Hobbs game. "This will be the biggest game for our seniors (21) as well as the biggest one for all of us," he added.

Big Spring came out of the Hobbs match in good health though several Steers are nursing colds this week.

Last week, Snyder came within inches of pulling off one of the biggest upsets of the year as Midland Lee had to fight for their lives to barely win out, 7-3.

Scoring for both Snyder and Lee came about in the second period. It took Rebel quarterback Russell Kellner four downs to score from the two for the only TD of the night.

Snyder fired home a 33-yard field goal in Dane Witherspoon's boot. The field goal was set up by an interception by Bobby Thompson and a 55-yard drive from the Tiger 29 to the Lee 16.

The Tigers' defense was so devastating that Lee was unable to penetrate inside its opponent's 50-yard line the entire second half.

Fullback Mitchell Smith, Snyder's strongest runner, led the game with Lee in yards rushing, carrying the ball 19 times for 81 yards.

Snyder employs on offense the power Wing-T and shifts to a five-man defense similar to the pattern used by Big Spring.

The Tigers' interior line leader is Billy Skinner, 212-pound senior. He was an immovable object during Snyder's goal-line stand with Lee.

Steve Green is Snyder's signal-caller, considered a good runner and a fair passer. Kenny Thompson, back, bears watching as he has speed and is quite shifty with his footwork.

STEER Starters

SNYDER Starters

Offense: Center Buchanan; right guard Land; left guard Smylie; right tackle Greenlee; left tackle Hammond; right end Clark; left end Rice; quarterback Green; halfbacks Thompson and Smith; fullback Smith.

Defense: Nose guard Lester; tackles Land and Hammond; ends Freeman and Allbritton; linebackers Beard and Pavlik; cornerbacks Thompson and Dryden; safeties Ragland and Flynn.

Wolves Travel

Off to an amazing start, the Wolves of Colorado City, undefeated at 2-0, travel to meet a supposedly weak Reagan County team at 8 p.m. Friday.

Colorado City, coached by Mike Garda who "likes to win", could be considered a darkhorse contender in 6-AA, edged Slaton 14-13 in its season opener two weeks ago and last week won over Sweetwater, 3-0.

Quarterback Ray Torrez was the contributing factor in the seasonal opening triumph over Slaton 14-13.

Torrez passed for one touchdown and rushed over for another. He also directed the other Wolf TD drive by passing to end Jackie Ellis.

Steve Belvin split the uprights in the fourth to push the Wolves past Sweetwater.

Reagan County, 0-2, was stopped by Coahoma in its seasonal debut, 13-6, then whitewashed by talented Ballinger last week, 14-0.

SCHOOLBOY POLL

Cooper Moves Into Top 10

By The Associated Press

The Killeen Kangaroos have battled their way into The Associated Press schoolboy football pool after two victories over ranked teams—but they'll have to keep battling to stay there.

After scoring victories over then No. 5 Seguin in the first week of the season and seventh ranked San Angelo last week, the Kangaroos have taken over the Class 4A No. 7 rating.

Killeen gets a chance to prove itself again this week when it plays at 10th ranked Abilene Cooper. The Kangaroos then will take a week off before playing No. 1 ranked Bryan in their district opener.

Cuero in 3A, Cameron in 2A, Grapeland in A and Big Sandy in B, meanwhile joined Bryan in retaining their top billings after last week's round of upsets.

Four of the top six teams in last week's Class 3A list either lost or were tied. No. 3 Brazosport and No. 6 Mount Pleasant were the losers and No. 2 Gregory-Portland and No. 4 Uvalde were tied.

Mount Pleasant dropped from the top 10 after losing to Class 4A Marshall 33-7 and Columbia moved in as the No.10 team after upsetting Brazosbport 17-14.

Bellville and Comanche dropped out of the Class 2A list after losses and a pair of unbeatens, Hamshire-Fannett and Floydada filled the void.

Here is The Associated Press Schoolboy Football Poll with first place votes in parentheses, season records and points based on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1:

'Dogs Need To Play Flawless Football

Coahoma, 1-1, will have to play flawless ball to beat highly regarded Cisco, there, Friday night at 8 p.m.

The Bulldogs kicked off their new season two weeks ago by socking Reagan County, 13-6, but fell to Post, 20-0 last week.

Cisco, undefeated, has yet to be extended in two games played thus far, handcuffing Ranger 34-7, two weeks ago and last week, blasting Albany, 42-0.

Here again as last season, Coahoma views the same situation with Cisco. Ranked No. 2 in the state in AA at this time last year (now No. 3), Cisco was bombed by Coahoma. Cisco never fully recovered from the Bulldog chewing and ended up with a 4-6 won-lost record.

Coahoma Head Coach Charles Lynch will stick to the same offense and defense he started off with at the beginning of the season.

Bulldog Gary Roberts, though, might be held out on defense as he strained his knee in practice Monday. Gary holds down a starting running back spot.

Cisco delights in running the Pro-I, and boasts a premier back in Kelly Kent. He's explosive, likes to run the ball at a great distance and does it quick.

Against Ranger, Kent, touching the ball for the first time on three separate intervals, scored three touchdowns. All covered a distance of 60 yards. Then against Albany, Kent, again from his initial ball touch, scored again on another 60-yard drive.

Cisco sports nine seniors and two sophomores in its starting offensive lineup. It was reported that one Cisco sophomore beat out an upperclassman for a starting assignment.

After playing two contests in a row on the road, Coahoma returns home to face McCamey, Sept. 26.

Coahoma Starters

Offense: Center Joe Wright, strong guard Billy Smith, strong tackle Fryer, tight end Kenny Kelso, quick guard Terry Don Roberts, quick tackle Thomas Marvin, split end Tim Higgins, quarterback Charles Tindol, fullback Oscar Padron, running back Collier and Gary Roberts.

Defense: Tackles David Garten and Jennings, ends Patterson and Robert Spiller, linebackers Kelso, Danny Thomas and Steve Kohanak, cornerbacks Collier and Padron, safeties Gary Roberts and Charles Tindol.

Coverage On Games

The Herald continues its press coverage of area home high school contests. Seven scribes will be in attendance Friday.

Big Spring High, Sports Editor Clark Lesher.

Stanton, Terry Neill.

Forsan, Reporter Troy Bryant.

Sands, Barry Canning.

Garden City, Society Editor Julie Simmons and Frank Gonzales.

Borden County, Gail, Preston Patty.

Correspondents Donald Tate and Russell Kennedy will cover road games involving Lamesa and Coahoma, respectively. Colorado City and Grady will also take to the highway.

Sports In Brief

FOOTBALL

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. — John Gilliam, the wide receiver who played out his option with the Minnesota Vikings of the National Football League last season and joined the World Football League this season, signed a one-year contract with the NFL club.

NEW ORLEANS — A federal appeals court has blocked an Alabama judge's ruling that college football traveling teams may have 60 players instead of being limited to 48.

TENNIS

LOS ANGELES — Wimbledon Champ Arthur Ashe ousted Geoff Masters from the $100,000 Pacific Southwest tennis tournament with a 7-5, 6-2 victory.

HOCKEY

HOUSTON — All-time hockey great Gordie Howe, who led the Houston Aeros to two World Hockey Association championships, announced his intentions to play the entire 1975-76 season.

Sands High Back Home

Sands, standing even for the young season, 1-1, returns home Friday night at 8 p.m. for an engagement with lightly regarded New Home.

The in 'and out Mustangs started off play at home two weeks ago by dumping Garden City, 52-20, but got crossed up with Buena Vista on the road last week, falling 20-0.

New Home experienced a startling setback to Lubbock Christian last week, 31-0.

Pirates' Magic Number Reduced

By The Associated Press

It was a concession of sorts from Danny Ozark.

"It would take a miracle now," said the Philadelphia Phillies' manager.

He was talking about the pennant race in the National League East — or rather, the lack of one.

The Pittsburgh Pirates all but sewed up that division Wednesday night with a 9-1 victory over the Phillies behind hit-happy Rennie Stennett.

"We've got to win 11, and they've got to lose seven just for us to get a tie," said Ozark, whose runnerup Phillies dropped seven games behind the East front-runners. "They've got a hot hand going. I can see us winning 11, but them losing seven ... well, I don't know."

The Pirates reduced their "magic" number to five for clinching the division title. Any combination of Pirate victories or Philadelphia defeats adding up to five will bring the Eastern championship to Pittsburgh.

"We came into Philadelphia and did what we had to do," said Stennett, who broke a modern major league record with his hitting exploits.

Stennett collected three hits to give him 10 for two games, breaking the old record of nine held by many. The second baseman had seven hits in Tuesday's 22-0 rout of the Chicago Cubs.

The Pirates ripped Philadelphia starter Tom Underwood, 14-12, for four runs on five singles in the third inning to take a 4-1 lead. It was more than enough for Bruce Kison, 11-11.

In the other National League games, the Cubs defeated the New York Mets 5-2; the Montreal Expos turned back the St. Louis Cardinals 6-3; the Cincinnati Reds routed the Houston Astros 10-1; the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Cincinnati Reds 7-1 and the San Francisco Giants downed the Atlanta Braves 4-1.

Cubs 5, Mets 2

Ray Burris stopped New York on six hits and Don Kessinger contributed three singles and three runs batted in as Chicago beat the Mets.

Expos 6, Cardinals 3

Rookie Gary Carter powered a two-run homer and two-run single in his first two times at bat, leading Montreal over St. Louis. Both blows by Carter, including his 16th homer of the season following Larry Parrish's second-inning double, came at the expense of Cardinal right-hander Lynn McGlothen, 15-12.

Reds 10, Astros 1

Joe Morgan drove in three runs and Fred Norman extended his mastery at Riverfront Stadium as Cincinnati tied a National League record for home victories by beating Houston. The victory was Cincinnati's 61st at home against 17 defeats, tying San Francisco's 1962 record. Norman improved his impressive career record at Riverfront to 24-6.

Dodgers 7, Padres 1

Ron Cey drove in four runs and Andy Messersmith posted his 18th victory with relief help from Charlie Hough in Los Angeles' victory over San Diego.

Giants 4, Braves 1

Von Joshua's bases-loaded triple broke an eighth-inning tie and gave San Francisco its victory over Atlanta.

Mertzen Trips To Garden City

Garden City, coached by Greg Henderson, would like to get onto the winning track at the expense of Mertzon on the Bearkat homefield Friday night at 8 p.m.

Featuring 11 lettermen, Garden City has yet to gel, losing its opener to Sands, 60-6, then defeated by Sterling City last week, 43-6.

Alex Medrano scored the lone TD for the Bearkats against Sterling City.

Garden City is classified as an eight-man team while Sands and Sterling are 11-man members of 3-B.

Grady Bound For Wellman

Dwelling on the theory that the third time is the charm, Grady, 0-2, runs over to Wellman Friday night at 8 p.m.

Grady has experienced hard luck in its first two football games, bounced by Dawson, 60-6, then thumped by Loop, 40-8, last week.

The Loop game was originally scheduled for Grady but a soft Wildcat field from four inches of rain required a change of scenery.

Wellman took a sound thrashing from Smyer last week, 46-28. Grady's inaugural football season was in 1974.

Golden Tornadoes Need Big Victory

By DONALD TATE

Lamesa will be trying for a win Friday night at 8 p.m. at Pecos after suffering a tie and a loss in its first two outings of the season.

The Golden Tornadoes tied Carlsbad 13-13 in their seasonal opener at home (a team Pecos trimmed 14-0) then dropped a 15-6 decision to Denver City.

Pecos has shared the District 2-AAA championship the past two years with Monahans, but has never gone to the playoffs.

Fullback Ronnie Jenkins and tackle Gordon Michawlis, lead Pecos in rushing and blocking, respectively.

Pecos, a 10-0 winner over Lamesa last season, will attempt to increase its season to 3-0. "Pecos has a good defense. In two ball games this year, they are unscored upon. Basically they have the same team as last year," said Tom Koger, Lamesa head coach.

"The injury situation has shaped up a little for the Tors. Anthony Manuel and Junior Bunton will be back at full speed. Guy Price, first-string quarterback, has no chance to play against Pecos but will be ready for district wars. "He may see some spot service against Big Lake," said Koger.

MADRID (AP) — Arizona State University's basketball team will compete in Madrid's 1975 Christmas tournament, Dec. 24-26, it has been announced by officials of the Real Madrid team.

Other competing teams will be an Argentine all-star group and Madrid Estudiantes.

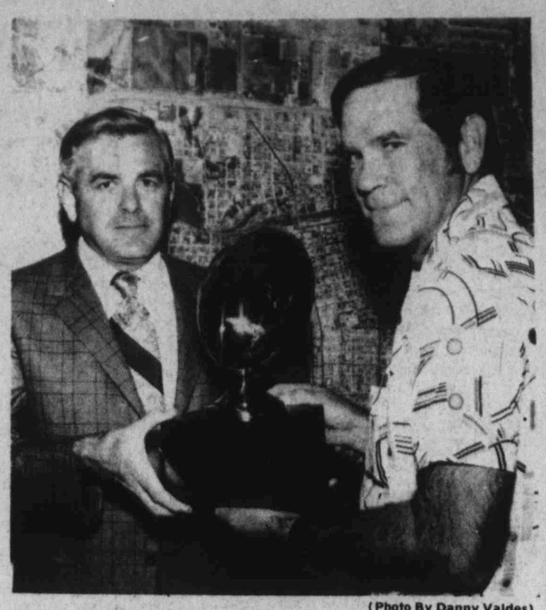

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Guillermo Vilas of Argentina was added Wednesday to the field of tennis players who will compete for $100,000 in prize money next week at the Cow Palace.

Vilas, one of the top-ranked singles players in the world, formally entered the Fireman's Fund International scheduled Sept. 22-29.

Forsan Bumps Into Imperial

Forsan, seeking to get its momentum scoring before 3-B play starts, exchanges home plays Friday night at 8 p.m. with perky Imperial.

The Buffaloes, after going through an 8-2 record last season, felt the effects of losing their starting quarterback, Ralph Miranda, and were dropped by Klondike last week at home, 10-6. It was Forsan's curtain raiser.

Ralph was sidelined as a result of a foot injury in practice in August and will be unavailable for duty for some three weeks.

Freshman Rusty Henderson carried the brunt of the Forsan weight as he scored his team's only TD with Klondike. Imperial showed its potential as it beat Sands, 20-0, last week.

"We will have to execute better with Imperial than we did against Klondike in order to win," said Forsan Head Coach George White. "They have a well-balanced ball team."

Defensively, Forsan played Klondike well except for one 15-yard touchdown and broke down on two punts which should have been for losses.

Imperial runs the wishbone and also possesses a top athlete in quarterback Rodney Powell. He is a junior and plays linebacker on defense.

Klondike Plays Host

Undefeated Klondike plays host to Southland Friday night at 8 p.m.

The Cougars through two games have scored 40 points while giving up 22 points.

Klondike in its opener pounded Whitharral, 30-16, then downed Forsan, 10-6, last week. The Cougars are regular members of eight-man ball.

Southland suffered a one-sided loss to rugged Borden County last week, 42-0.

Orioles Now Only 4½ Out

By The Associated Press

Father time, the newest member of the Boston Red Sox lineup, keeps moving up in the batting order.

He turned a 1-1 split in the important Boston-Baltimore series into the Red Sox' gain and the Orioles' loss. And he seems to now have overtaken the Red Sox as the Orioles' real opponent.

"We sent them out of here the way they came in but now they have less time to try to make up," said Boston Manager Darrell Johnson after the Orioles beat the Red Sox 5-2 in the regular season finale between the two American League East powers.

Baltimore's victory pulled the Orioles to within 4½ games of the Red Sox, the same position they were in before they landed in Boston. The Red Sox have 10 games left; the Orioles 11.

Elsewhere in the AL, the New York Yankees edged the Milwaukee Brewers 6-5 in 11 innings; the Minnesota Twins nipped the Kansas City Royals 2-1; the Chicago White Sox trimmed the Oakland Raiders 3-2; the California Angels downed the Texas Rangers 3-2, and the Detroit Tigers blanked the Cleveland Indians 4-0.

WHITE SOX 3, A'S 2

Wilbur Wood slowed Oakland's drive towards another divisional title. Wood, who gave up three, including Claudell Washington's ninth-inning single, gave way to reliever Dave Hamilton.

Sal Bando then walked and was erased in a double play before Gene Tenace smacked his 27th homer of the year for the final margin.

The A's magic number for winning their fifth straight American League West title remained at five. Any combination of A's victories and Kansas City losses totaling five will give Oakland the division flag.

ANGELS 3, RANGERS 2

David Clyde, making his first major league start of the season, threw Jerry Remy's bunt into rightfield allowing two runs to score in California's victory over Texas.

STANTON'S ELVIN BROWN
Outstanding Running Back

NON-DISTRICT OUTING

Buffaloes Seek Rotan Revenge

By TERRY NEILL

Revenge and momentum will be two things working for the Stanton Buffaloes Friday night when they entertain the Rotan Yellowhammers' in a non-district Class A outing. Game time will be 8 p.m.

Coach Bob Richardson's Buffaloes are coming off a fine showing against Wink last week. The "Big Red"team bashed the visitors 41-0, and should take the field against Rotan with confidence, a winning ingredient missing from the Buffs before Friday night.

If last week's showing is not enough to fire up the SHS team, they need only remember Rotan's upset, 7-6, victory last year. Stanton traveled to Rotan last year undefeated and ranked sixth among Class A teams in the state.

Rotan proved to be saltier than expected, however, and took advantage of four Buffalo fumbles to take a victory. The red team's fumbles all came within Rotan's 10 yard line.

Stanton is in good shape injury-wise, with only a few bruises reported this week by Richardson. "We should be in the best physical shape we've been in all year, and the boys' mental attitude has been great," Richardson commented.

The first-year Buffalo head mentor expects a high-scoring game with Rotan, however, citing the Yellowhammer's 6-5, 190-pound quarterback as his chief worry on offense.

"Rotan has lost both of its first games, but have played two extremely good Class AA teams. They will run an offense similar to Tahoka's, and run it just as well as the Bulldogs did," Richardson added.

Pacing the Buffalo offensive effort Friday night will be quarterback Gary Hanson, whose 68-yard touchdown romp last week opened the floodgates on Wink, and running backs Elvin Brown and Marvin "Lemon Juice" Jones.

Brown has been the Buffs' top offensive threat since his sophomore year, and usually attracts a maximum amount of attention from enemy defenders. Jones, only a sophomore, kept the home crowd on its feet last Friday night, reeling off more than 100 yards rushing on reckless, broken field runs.

Middle linebacker Alan Douglas will head the red team's defensive effort, along with end Tim Glynn.

Bell Named Best Back

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Why would a man don Army combat boots and ankle weights and then run through the sand?

Ricky Bell felt it might help him at tailback, his third position at the University of Southern California, so he tried the combat boots routine over the summer.

And in his first attempt as a tailback, last Friday night against Duke, Bell ran for 256 yards on 34 carries and scored four touchdowns. Blocked for ferociously by teammates Mosi Tatupu and Dave Farmer, he helped USC beat the Blue Devils 35-7.

The effort earned Bell honors as the first Asociated Press Back of the Week for 1975.

"The biggest thing about tailback is your quickness off the line," said Bell, a junior. "All summer I put on those combat boots and went to the beach to run. I don't know how much it helped my speed, but it sure helped me mentally."

Bell, a linebacker as a freshman and fullback last year, took over a spot held decently by guys named Mike Garrett, O.J. Simpson, Clarence Davis and Anthony Davis.

AUBURN AT BAYLOR

League Bites Into Toughies

By The Associated Press

Playing at its hottest non-conference place in 35 years, the Southwest Conference bites into some toughies this weekend with Arkansas, Texas A&M, Baylor and Rice facing some rough outside customers.

The preseason SWC favorite Aggies, who slipped past Mississippi 7-0 last week, invade one of the meanest briar patches in college football—the Louisiana State Bengal Tiger pit at Baton Rouge.

"I imagine LSU will be chomping at the bit," said Texas A&M Coach Emory Bellard, making note of A&M's victory there last year. "Our players don't have any illusiosns that it will be easy."

Bellard said "LSU has a lot of pride and a darn fine football team. Their defense will be hard to score on no matter who lines up against them ... anytime you gain anything against LSU, you can bet your bottom dollar you earned it."

LSU lost to high-powered Nebraska 10-7 last week.

Bellard had one more thing to say on the victory over Ole Miss: "I didn't expect to go out and humiliate Mississippi. From what I read, some other folks expected it. All I know was that it was a victory.

Arkansas hopes for revenge against Oklahoma State in Stillwater. The Razorbacks were burned badly by OSU last year only a week after stunning Southern Cal. Arkansas opened with a 35-0 victory over Air Force and Coach Frank Broyles fielded three runners, quarterback Mike Kirland, Ike Forte and Jerry Eckwood, who each gained over 100 yards.

Texas Coach Darrell Royal returns to the scene of a former head coaching job—Washington.

"They (Washington) have good size and are strong," Royal said of the Huskies. "They werein a 14-12 game with Arizona State in the fourth quarter before Arizona State broke it open."

Baylor, following a week off after beating Ole Miss, will face humiliation Auburn in Waco. Auburn was stunned 31-20 by Memphis State last week.

Auburn assistant Tim Christian said "I am very impressed with Baylor's discipline, coordination and ability to get to the football."

Charlie Parker will start at quarterback in place of Baylor's injured Mark Jackson.

Oddsmakers rate Texas A&M a four-point pick over LSU, Arkansas a one-point underdog to Oklahoma State, Baylor a touchdown choice over Auburn.

NFL PLAYERS

Settlement Is Reached

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League and its rebellious players' union reached agreement today following a marathon 13-hour negotiation session in an effort to put five striking clubs back to work and insure that this weekend's opening games are played.

W.J. Usery Jr., director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service and the man who ran the all-night sessions, announced a "memorandum of agreement" between the NFL Management Council and the players' union at 9 a.m. and a delegation of four persons headed for Boston. There, they were to try and convince the striking New England Patriots to accept the offer.

Details of the agreememt were not announced. But one part of it guarantees a full offer from management on a new labor contract by next Monday.

In the delegation going to Boston were Sargent Karch, executive director of the Management Council; players' union head Ed Garvey, and player representatives Doug Van Horn of the New York Giants annd Richard Neal of the New York Jets.

Sources said Neal and Van Horn were ready to recommend the agreement to their teammates, who form two of the striking clubs. The key to ending the six-day-old strike that threatens the regular NFL season was the Patriots.

The Boston Globe reported this morning that the Patriots, meeting in a four-hour session that broke up at 1 a.m. this morning, had rejected a management proposal that would have put them back to work. Part of that offer, the Globe said, was a new contract proposal from management by Monday.

"In light of the commitments made by both sides, I urge all NFL players to resume their regularly scheduled activities so that the American public can see and enjoy the coming season at its exciting best," Usery said as he emerged from the all-night meeting.

Usery said the agreement affects all 26 clubs. In addition to the Giants, Jets and Patriots, the other striking clubs are the Washington Redskins and Detroit Lions.

Top Talent On Cup Team

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP) — America's Ryder Cup team, a 12-man squad that may be the strongest ever assembled, is an overwhelming choice to continue its domination in the biennial Ryder Cup golf matches against the best of Great Britain and Ireland this weekend.

"We shouldn't lose a point, but obviously we will," said Hale Irwin.

"We're gonna beat those British like they've never been beat before," said Lee Trevino.

And it's just that attitude that has planted a tiny seed of concern in the mind of American non-playing captain Arnold Palmer.

Raiders Overdue For Return Trip

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP) — Introducing, the Oakland Raiders, the perennial bridesmaids who this season will finally make it to the Super Bowl, so help them Al Davis.

Davis is the front-office boss of the Raiders and considered one of pro football's shrewdest executives. He has molded his team into one of the game's most impressive units and, after years of frustrating failure, the moves should finally pay off this time around.

The Raiders played in Super Bowl II and they're overdue for a return trip to the championship game. With a cast headed by quarterback Ken Stabler on offense and a strengthened defense, Oakland should make it.

The trip won't be easy. To get to the title game, the Raiders will have to fight off some impressive opposition from Pittsburgh's defending champion Steelers and the Miami Dolphins, hungry for a return to the top of the pro football heap. The Steelers should repeat as Central Division kingpins after fighting off Paul Brown's stubborn Cincinnati Bengals; the Dolphins, although depleted by injuries and defection, still should have enough to win the East over the Joe Namath-led New York Jets.

If everything goes the way it ought to, this is how the American Football Conference standings should look when the regular season ends ... assuming, of course, there is a strike settlement and the regular season is played:

WESTERN DIVISION
Oakland Raiders
Denver Broncos
Kansas City Chiefs
San Diego Chargers

CENTRAL DIVISION
Pittsburgh Steelers
Cincinnati Bengals
Cleveland Browns
Houston Oilers

EASTERN DIVISION
Miami Dolphins
Nel York Jets
Buffalo Bills
Baltimore Colts
New England Patriots

Stabler has some of the National Football League's most potent offensive weapons to work with on Oakland's offense.

His running backs include tough Marv Hubbard and elusive Clarence Davis. He has two of the NFL's best wide receivers in Fred Biletnikoff and Cliff Branch, and any time he can't take the Raiders into the end zone for six points, there's always old reliable field goal kicker George Blanda available for three.

On defense, Davis added one of the league's very best linebackers when he signed free agent Ted Hendricks. The draft yielded a blue chip defensive back in Neal Colzie of Ohio State. They'll fit right into a cast that includes Otis Sistrunk, Art Thoms, Phil Villipiano.

Now that the Steelers own Super Bowl rings, the incentive won't be the same. And that should be Coach Chuck Noll's biggest problem.

Terry Bradshaw is the signalcaller fulltime now. And Franco Harris and Rocky Bleier give the Steelers a tough pair of runners.

Mean Joe Greene heads the awesome defense that is capable of winning games all by itself. The defensive line of Greene, Ernie Holmes, L.C. Greenwood and Dwight White is positively frightening.

Miami Coach Don Shula had to reconstruct an offense when running backs Larry Csonka and Jim Kiick and wide receiver Paul Warfield took the World Football League money and moved off to Memphis.

Vandy Caller Strains Knee

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Vanderbilt quarterback Fred Fisher has a sprained knee and the Commodores may face Rice Saturday night in Houston without an experienced signal caller.

Fisher's replacement would be David Culley, a sophomore with only three downs of experience as a college quarterback. He was redshirted last season.

Borden County Greets Smyer

Borden County, starting off its season last week by breezing to a 42-0 win over Southland, runs into dangerous Snyder at Gail Friday night at 8.

Smyer showed it could be a hard team to handle, shellacking Wellman 46-28 last week.

STATIC is a sometimes annoying property of fibers that we're all conscious of, whether on automobile upholstery when sliding off the seat or in carpeting.

Different chemical fibers have individual characteristics for static build-up. Nylon can be a great offendor. Polyesters build up less natural static than nylon, but they are not completely static free. The acrylics, on the other hand, are virtually static-free.

Static, of course, is more than a source of small "shocks" in carpets. It's also a source of dust and dirt, since th static attracts dust.

However, manufacturers have long been aware of this problem, so techniques have evolved for treating the nylons and polyesters, for instance, to make them free of static. Carpets so treated will tell you so on the label.

We won't give you any static when you bring us your carpet questions and needs. We will give you helpful answers . . . and we can show you the finest values around in carpets of every color, texture, and fiber content. Visit our beautiful carpet showrooms today.

Sorority Plans Rush Tea

Coahoma Chapter Alpha Beta Omicron of Beta Sigma Phi will host a rush tea from 2 to 4 p.m. Saturday in the home of Mrs. Karen Frette, 58 Chanute Drive.

Plans for the tea and other projects were made at the Tuesday evening meeting of the sorority in the home of Mrs. Martha Barton.

Mrs. Frette, president, made an announcement concerning the Walter W. Ross Scholarship sent out by the International office of Beta Sigma Phi.

She also announced that registration for the area convention must be in by Sept. 27. the convention will be held Oct. 10-12 at the Inn of the Golden West in Odessa.

The women discussed plans for the couples' party. They approved plans for a hay ride to Moss Creek Lake on Oct. 25.

Members of the sorority will visit Mrs. Bertha Bloss on her birthday, Sept. 25, at 903 Scurry.

A reminder was issued concerning the Beta Sigma Phi City Council salad supper to be held Oct. 9 at the First Federal Community Room.

Members wishing to work for the multiple sclerosis drive are asked to contact Mrs. Lou LaRochelle at 263-4490.

After discussion, the chapter bylaws and the city council bylaws were accepted.

Mrs. Jean Ann Gafford was elected Valentine sweetheart and will be presented at the Valentine Ball in February.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 7 in the home of Mrs. Mary Brooks of Sand Springs. Mrs. Brooks will also present the program on "Voices Behind Us."

The couple was married Saturday evening at the First Baptist Church.

Concert Pianist To Teach Class

The first meeting of the 1975-76 year of the Piano Teachers Forum was held Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Fred Beckham, 1107 Sycamore, with Mrs. Chester Barnes as co-hostess.

Harlen Thornton presented a program on Madame Lili Kraus a renowned concert pianist, teacher and lecturer who will instruct the Piano Master Class for teachers and advanced students Nov. 15. The class is sponsored by the Fine Arts Department of Howard College. It will be held in the college auditorium; under the supervision of Mrs. Mary Skalicky.

The title of Thornton's program was "Lili Kraus — The Living Legend." He gave a history of Madame Kraus' education, teaching and piano concerts. He also told of her imprisonment in a Japanese concentration camp during World War II.

Mrs. Beckham presided at the business meeting and welcomed three new members, Ms. Linda Mason, Mrs. Steven Gasper and Mrs. Terry Newman.

Mrs. Terry Newman was elected treasurer for the 1975-76 year.

The Forum approved plans to have piano recitals on the fourth Sunday of each month.

Meetings for the remainder of the year will be held at 8 p.m. on the first Monday night of each month. Hostesses for these meetings were announced.

Mrs. Skalicky, program chairman, listed each month's study program. They include stylistic trends of Mozart, Beethoven, Schubert and Bartok; a program of Christmas Music; a study of different schools of technique; a program of American music; and a study of prepared piano.

BPO Does Hold Memorial

A draping of the charter ceremony was held for the late Kathleen Graves and Mary Jenkins at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Benevolent and Patriotic Order of Does, Drove 61, held at the Elks Hall.

Mrs. Mary Alice Cone, president, presided at the service and Mrs. Edna Mae Hayworth, acting conductor, and Mrs. Kathleen Williams, chaplain, draped the charter.

Committe members Mrs. Alma George, Mrs. Hayworth and Mrs. Ann Rutherford will prepare a resolution in memory of each of the late BPO members. The resolutions will be presented at the next meeting, scheduled at 8 p.m. Oct. 7 at the Elks Hall.

ABWA Holds Enrollment Tea

The Scenic Chapter of the American Business Women's Association held their fall "Hand of Friendship" Tea on Sunday afternoon at the First Federal Community Room. The theme of the tea was "Our Half of the Apple."

Guests and members were registered by Mrs. Evelyn Delatour and escorted to the tea table by Mrs. Thomas Orenbaun, tea hostess.

The refreshment table was covered with a white linen cloth decorated with red apple decals. The centerpiece was designed to depict an apple tree. Serving refreshments were Mrs. Irvin Hill and Mrs. Eddie Crittenden.

A skit entitled "Crabby Applesauce" saluted International Women's Year and the part ABWA plays in improving women's status in society. The skit also presented some reasons for belonging to ABWA, and the educational, cultural objectives of the organization. The skit stressed that ABWA desires to promote friendship among business women.

Old Flame Extinguishes His Steady Relationship

DEAR ABBY: My daughter Prissy had been going steady with Jonathan, a charming young man she met at college. I expected her to come home with a diamond any time.

A young lady suddenly reappeared in Jonathan's life — his high school sweetheart who had married someone else. Her marriage was being dissolved, and she needed someone to "talk to" and help straighten out her life.

She contacted Jonathan, and he started seeing her. Prissy became resentful, and Jonathan asked her to please be more understanding. Prissy said, "I'm sorry, but that girl should be talking to a marriage counselor or a clergyman. It's not your place to straighten out her life."

Jonathan resented Prissy's attitude, and they had words.

It has been three months since Prissy has heard from him, and now she is heartbroken. Now she wonders if perhaps she should have been more understanding.

What are your views?

PRISSY'S MOM

DEAR MOM: Even if Prissy had been more understanding, I think the high school sweetheart would have won out. If Jonathan truly cared for Prissy, when his old flame returned, he would have told her that he was seriously involved with someone else. Instead, he played the moth. Prissy could be the lucky one.

DEAR ABBY: I have a relative who is quite old but by no means senile. She has mentioned several times that she has me in her will for a sizable amount of money. Frankly, I doubt that she is really worth that much.

Is there some place I can write to find out exactly how much money she is really worth?

I want my inquiry to be absolutely confidential. Please don't use my name, initials or location. Thank you. ANONYMOUS

DEAR ANONYMOUS: You won't (and shouldn't) know until the will is probated. Meanwhile, I suggest you respect your relative's right to privacy.

Party Honors Miss Turner

A rice bag party and luncheon honoring Miss Cheri Turner, bride-elect of John Richard Sparks, was held Saturday afternoon in the home of the honoree's grandmother, Mrs. Charles Lindley, 1405 E. 19th.

Hostesses for the party were Mrs. Lindley, Mrs. Marcus Stanley of Midland, Mrs. Daryle Hohertz and Miss Martha Fierro.

Also attending the luncheon was Mrs. C. D. Turner, the mother of the bride-to-be.

The serving tables were covered with white cloths centered with assorted potted plants that were presented to Miss Turner as housewarming gifts.

The engagement of Miss Kim Shayne Gotcher is being announced by Mrs. Ailene Mallicote of Fort Worth and the late E. H. Gotcher to D. J. Justice, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Justice of Big Spring. The wedding will be held 8:00 p.m., Oct. 11, at the Webb Chapel.
