OFFICIALS ASK UTILITY RATE REGULATION

CITY, COUNTY CHIEFS MEET AT ANGELO

EXPOSURE OF UTILITY RATE SCHEDULES IS PROMISED TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 27.—City and county officials of more than a dozen West Texas points gathered here today to discuss regulation of the public utilities and other problems involving public interest.

Mayor W. C McCarver of Ballinger was named chairman of a resolutions committee which is to report this afternoon. Mayor Brown F. Lee of San Angelo, as district chairman for the league of Texas municipalities, called the meeting. D. S. Hitt, jr. city secretary of Big Lake, was named acting chairman.

Exposures Promised

Sensational "exposures of how the utilities companies work out rate schedules to fool the public", were made by L. B. Burrow, for eleven years a utilities employe and now city secretary-treasurer and manager of municipal utilities at Spur.

The visiting mayors worked out actual bills at "reduced" and the old rates of some cities in which the "reduced" rates were the same as the old charges.

Saving Cited

Mr. Burrow related that the West Texas Utilities company was charging an initial rate of two and one half cents per kilowatt hour at Spur now in competition with the city owned plant, which is charging ten cents. The original utilities rate was sixteen cents. He said the municipal plant was saving the people of Spur $40,000 a year in reduced rates alone and was a good investment.

FORTY KILLED IN PORTUGAL

TWO HUNDRED SHOT IN SHORT - LIVED REVOLUTION

(By The Associated Press)

LISBON, Portugal, Aug 27—Forty persons were reported killed and 200 wounded today when artillery troops bombarded a group of rebels who had sought refuge around the village of Caneza after yesterday's sudden, short-lived revolt against the administration of President Oscar Carmona.

Lisbon itself after an outbreak which cost a score of lives yesterday, was quiet today but soldiers were on guard in the streets.

The revolutionary movement appears to have had its origin in the removal from office last week of Colonel Schiappa De Azevedo who as minister of war refused to sign deportation orders against certain army officers charged with participation in the revolt at Madeira last May.

Colonel Captured

The colonel is said to be among the 200 prisoners taken by the government and was reported under guard on a merchant ship in the harbor.

President Oscar Carmona issued a communique detailing the uprising and declaring that "once more the incorrigible mischief makers have caused anxiety to the population of Lisbon without having in any way succeeded in leading the land and sea forces to swerve from the path of duty and honor."

POLISH BEAUTY TO WED IN FACE OF DEPORTATION

SANTA ANA, Calif., Aug. 27. (AP)—Janina Smolinska, former Folies Bergere dancer and representative of Poland at the 1928 international beauty contest at Galveston, Texas, plans to wed next week despite deportation proceedings pending against her at Washington, D. C.

She and Walter Grabowski Polish-American business man of Los Angeles, obtained a marriage license here yesterday and said the ceremony would be performed either Monday or Tuesday.

At a recent hearing Miss Smolinska pleaded with immigration authorities not to press charges of over-staying the last extension of her six months' visitor's permit. She asked that she be allowed to return to Poland voluntarily so she might re-enter the United States in the preferred quota as the wife of an American citizen. If she is deported she can never legally come back.

DO-X REACHES END OF HOP AT GOTHAM

GIANT FLYING BOAT CONQUERS BATTLE TO REACH GOAL

BY W. W. CHAPLIN,

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Conquering at last its ten months' battle against fire, wave and wind, the gigantic flying boat DO-X arrived by a roundabout course from Germany today with 72 persons aboard.

Its 12 great American engines thundering low above the narrows—the Atlantic steamers' gateway to New York—the DO-X at 1:18 (CST) scudded through gray skies past the statue of Liberty.

Thousands Cheer

The engines' roar mangled with screaming sirens of ferry boats and other harbor craft and with the cheers from thousands gathered at the battery.

Among the official welcomers were Captain W. R. Sayles, chief of staff at the navy yard, Commander G. W. Simpson, U. S. N., George F. Mand, heading the mayor's committee; Victor Ridder, representing the German societies, and E. J. Snow, representing an oil company, with medals for the fliers.

The giant flying boat continued up the Hudson river to the new bridge which joins the Bronx to Jersey and then, swinging widely, returned downstream to effect a graceful descent on the choppy waters between the Battery and Bedloe's Island. The DO-X left Norfolk, Va. this morning.

Oil Industry 72 Years Old Today

TITUSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 27 (AP)—The oil industry is 72 years old today.

There was no fanfare to the celebration, but up here in the Alleghaney mountains where the first well was brought in, old residents discussed that evening when Colonel Edward Laurentine Drake completed a 69-foot hole and brought forth a rich grade of crude oil.

Samuel B. Smith, 88, who lives near the site of the first well, and as a boy of 16 helped to bring it in, was kept busy spinning yarns of the boom that followed the oil discovery and the opening of other wells in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and New York.

Firpo Wants Match With Jack Dempsey

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 27 (AP)—Jack Dempsey's resumption of pugilistic activity has aroused the fighting fever anew in Luis Angel Firpo, who figured in the sensational heavyweight championship with Dempsey in 1923 in New York.

Firpo, now weighing 260, reports he has done some roadwork and adds: "I will be in condition if Dempsey wants a return match."

The Argentine giant is uninterested in meeting any other opponents. He intimates he could reach fighting trim in six months.

Grocer Uses Fists To Avert Robbery

HOUSTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—E. H. Poole, grocery store owner here, bruised about the face a robber who attempted to rob him today.

Poole said he was in the rear of the store when the man entered. He refused to raise his hands and the man fired one shot at the grocer but missed. In the ensuing struggle, Poole said he hit the man in the face with his fists.

The man fled through the front door when Mrs. Poole entered the store from her home nearby.

ACTING PRISON PHYSICIAN IS SHOT DOWN

FOUR CONVICTS TAKE OWN LIVES AFTER ESCAPE FOILED

(By The Associated Press)

MARQUETTE, Mich., Aug. 27.—The acting prison physician was slain and a guard and a trusty wounded in an attempted break at the state branch prison here today by four convicts, who then committed suicide when their plot was foiled.

Three of the convicts ended their lives after they had barricaded themselves in the industrial building of the prison, with a score of guards surrounding them. The fourth shot himself a half hour later when he fired at a guard in another wing of the prison and missed.

Attempted Break

The slain acting prison doctor was A. W. Hornbogen. He was shot to death in the hospital near the main gate of the prison, when three of the convicts attempted to make a break for freedom through the hospital exit.

The convicts were Tony Germano, Toledo, Ohio, sentenced to 35 to 50 years for killing a Birmingham, Mich., patrolman; Leo Duver, Charles Rosbury, and Frank Hohfer. Germano and Hohfer were at one time charged with alliance with the Laman-Andrews kidnaping gang of Detroit.

Warden James P. Corgan said that a general riot at first was feared, but that his guards were able to maintain control of the situation. All of the guns obtained by the prisoners were in his custody, he said, and the prison was quiet.

Frank Oligschlager, a prison trusty, was wounded by one of the three convicts and physicans said he had little chance to survive. He was an attendant in the prison hospital. Joe Cowling, assistant deputy warden received a flesh wound during the gunfire in the hospital.

END AMERICAN LEGION MEET

SWEETWATER MAN IS NAMED COMMANDER BY ACCLAMATION

(By The Associated Press)

EL PASO, Aug. 27—Soldiers of 1917 parted for another year today as they turned homeward from the convention of the Texas department of the American Legion.

Corpus Christi was chosen the 1932 convention city at the final session last night and W. Earl Earp, Sweetwater attorney, was elected department commander by acclamation. He succeeded Hal Brennan of Laredo.

The delegates heard an address by Ralph T. O'Neil of Topeka, national legion commander. He said there was much unemployment among veterans and the legion was working to relieve it.

Resolutions urged "fortification and protection" of the government helium plant at Amarillo, rescinding of a war department order abandoning Fort D. A. Russell and other Texas military posts, discharge of federal women employes whose husbands were able to support them, establishment of a federal hospital at Texarkana; and extension for another five years of the date for conversion of war risk insurance, now set for July 2, 1932.

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 27 (AP)—Two masked men walked into the Quinpool Road branch of the Royal Bank of Canada today, slugged Manager Frank P. Robertson over the head with a gun, herded four employes into the vault and escaped with $14,000.

DERBY FLIERS LEAVE TODAY FOR ENID

GLADYS O'DONNELL IS FIRST TO DEPART FROM AMARILLO

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, Aug. 27 — Gladys O'Donnell, contestant in the Santa Monica-to-Cleveland handicap air derby, took off from English field here at 8:04 a. m. for Enid, Okla., noon stop control point of the transcontinental race.

Mrs. O'Donnell was followed one minute later by Phoebe Omlie. Other derbyists took off at one minute intervals in the order of their arrival here yesterday afternoon.

ENID, Okla., Aug. 27 (AP) — Gladys O'Donnell of Long Beach, Calif., led the Santa Monica-Cleveland handicap air derbyists into Enid today, arriving from Amarillo at 9:12:18 a. m.

Mrs. O'Donnell's elapsed time from Amarillo was computed unofficially as 1:08:18.

Fifty-two planes landed here last night after a flight which started yesterday morning at El Paso but was halted for a noon stop at Roswell, N. M.

Mrs. O'Donnell, consistent leader in flying time, flew the 200 miles from Roswell to Amarillo in 1:8:32; an average of more than 175 miles per hour. She was aided by a strong tailwind.

Ruth Stewart of St. Louis made a forced landing in a field near Roswell because of motor trouble and did not arrive until 9 p. m.

When within sight of the Amarillo airport, Mildred Morgan of Beverley Hills, Calif., headed her plane toward Claude, 30 miles southeast of Amarillo, and landed there. She returned later, coming in "through the back door" and was the eighth to land.

Three planes blew out tires in setting down at the field here but met with no further mishap.

Miss Omlie who rated second at El Paso in score points, was second to reach Amarillo. She flew from Roswell in 1:21:43. Jean La Rene of Dallas was third with a flying time of 1:24:53 and Florence Lowe Barnes was fourth with 1:28:42.

W. E. Musgrave, jr., of San Francisco was the first man to cross the marker. His flying time of 1:19:34 was beaten by E. B. Christopher of Chicago, who landed less than a minute later, his flying time being 1:18:02.

Leonard Wood, Jr., Claimed By Death

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—Leonard Wood, jr., son of the late major general of the United States army, died today in Bellevue hospital of pneumonia. He was 39 years old.

Young Wood, who had been a magazine writer, army officer and student at Cornell university, had been in ill health since an attack of influenza he suffered while in the Pacific northwest some years ago.

—AND GANG GUNS CLAIM ANOTHER

Echoes of a police-bandit gun battle in which six were killed and 11 others wounded in New York had scarcely died down when three alleged gangsters were stood up against a wall and mowed down by the fire of underworld enemies. Here you see police beside the body of Anthony Ferrari, 25, who was killed. Ferrari's two companions, Angelo Currani, 20, and Murray Leonardi, 21, were seriously wounded. Believing he betrayed the other two by leading them to the execution spot and that he was shot only because he accidentally stepped into the line of fire police arrested Leonardi on a charge of homicide.

EAST TEXANS ARE AWAITING ACTION ON OIL PRORATION

KILGORE, Aug. 27 (AP)—The chief concern of the becalmed East Texas oil field today was that the state railroad commission hearing in Austin develop regulations permitting resumption of production in this vast oil area.

Everyone from oil operators to enlisted men of the militia enforcing the shutdown of the field looked beyond borders of the martial law area to the state capital anxiously awaiting news of the hearing.

The operators were anxious to get back to producing oil under prices measureably more favorable, at least currently, than the 10 cents per barrel and less which prevailed before the martial law shutdown. Enlisted men probably will be kept here until the new regulations are issued and put into effect.

Peace appeared to have returned to Kilgore, the center of occupation. There had been no incendiary fires in more than 72 hours and all remained quiet.

Saving Offered Gas Users At Chicago

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP)—A saving of $1,434,000 a year to Chicagoans was proposed by the Peoples Gas Light & Coke company under a new gas rate schedule on file with Illinois commerce commission today.

The blending of manufactured gas with natural gas brought to Chicago by pipe line from the Texas Panhandle, officials said, would save 97 per cent of the general domestic users 3½ per cent and cut the rate for home heating by 22 per cent.

Farmer Is Gored By Bull And May Die

STEPHENVILLE, Aug. 27 (AP)—An enraged bull gored Joe Ulery, a farmer, so severely here today that he may die.

Ulery was attempting to drive the bull from a cotton field when he was attacked. The bull's horns inflicted deep wounds in his body.

SENATE COMMITTEE IS PROBING FUNDS USED IN 1928 CAMPAIGN

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27—A contribution of $10,000 to Bishop James Cannon, jr., when he was chairman of the anti-Smith campaign committee in Virginia in 1928, by Joseph S. Freling-Huysen, former Republican senator from New Jersey, was found today by the senate campaign funds committee.

F. C. Ferguson, president of the Hudson County National bank of New Jersey, identified, in response to Chairman Nye of the committee, two cashiers' checks for $5,000 each drawn on his bank October 24, 1928, and made payable to Bishop Cannon.

Ferguson said "Senator Freling-Huysen" was the purchaser of the two checks. He then identified Freling-Huysen as Joseph S. Freling-Huysen.

Ferguson said he had no conversation with Freling-Huysen regarding the checks at the time they were purchased, but that he talked with him at the time the Nye committee was seeking information about them.

Freling-Huysen had no objection to his giving the information to the committee, Ferguson said.

Representative Tinkham, Republican, Massachusetts, has complained to the committee that Bishop Cannon violated election laws by reporting the expenditure of only $17,000 to the clerk of the house.

JOHN J. LYNCH RETURNS TO HIS HOME

AL CAPONE SOUGHT IN CONNECTION WITH THE ABDUCTION

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Aug. 27—John J. "Jack" Lynch, wealthy turfman who was reported kidnaped last Thursday, returned to his home in Lake Geneva, Wis., early today in his own car and unharmed.

Lynch said he was released last night by his captors on a street in Kankakee, Ill. After waiting five minutes, as his captors ordered, he took off his blindfold and started his car toward Chicago where he picked up a friend and drove on to Lake Geneva.

No Ransom Paid

He denied money had been paid for ransom or that any had been promised. In fact, he exhibited surprise when he was told that $250,000 had been demanded for his release.

"Nothing was ever said to me during the time I was held," he said, "about my business or any ransom. I cannot understand this."

Lynch said his captors treated him like "an old friend." After forcing him into their car along the Wisconsin highway, he said, they blindfolded him and drove about for about two hours.

"The next thing I knew was that we were in a house somewhere, and I had a nice soft bed to sleep on," he continued. "They gave me plenty of good food, but kept me blindfolded or wearing heavily colored glasses continuously."

Last night, he said, they took him from the house, drove about for an hour or so, then put him into his own car, and turned him free.

Al Capone Sought

Meanwhile, Alphonse Capone, listed as "public enemy No. 1" by the Chicago crime commission, was sought again, this time in connection with the kidnaping.

Patrick J. Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney telephoned the order for Capone's

Stone Forgets Farm Troubles For Rest

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The troubles of farmers were thrust aside by Chairman Stone of the farm board as he left last night for a rest at a Michigan resort where he hopes to forget about wheat, cotton and Brazilian coffee for a fortnight.

His departure left two board members, Carl Williams and Sam H. Thompson, here. The others are making speeches but two will return next week to form a quorum.

The proposed sale of 15,000,000 bushels of wheat to China and a plan for stabilizing cotton prices are pending. Stone said he had not received direct word that the Chinese government seeks more favorable terms as reported from Shanghai. As for cotton, no alternative for the board's rejected suggestion that every third row be plowed under has been forthcoming.

ACTION TAKEN HERE SPURS DECISION

LOUISIANA HOUSE IN FAVOR OF THE PLAN; GOES TO SENATE

(By The Associated Press)

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 27.—The Louisiana house of representatives today passed by vote of 77 to 0 the bill of Governor Huey P. Long against the raising of cotton in Louisiana next year and sent it to the senate.

A telegram, saying 3,000 farmers in Lubbock, Texas, had endorsed the Long plan, was read on the floor before the measure was brought up for vote.

The house adopted without dissent a resolution, memorializing congress to establish three to five year moratoriums on federal farm loans.

Governor Long, who was an interested spectator in more than an hour's debate on the bill in the lower house, predicted its almost unanimous passage in the senate.

STERLING HAS LITTLE CHOICE OF ACTION

(By The Associated Press)

If public demand was to be his guide, Governor Ross S. Sterling appeared today to have little choice in the matter of calling a special legislative session to enact cotton acreage reduction measures.

Farmers continued to hold meetings over the state from which emerged resolutions favoring cotton curtailment and expressing their desire for prompt legislative action.

Governor Resting

The governor was resting from a slight illness at his ranch near Carrizo Springs yesterday and had made no decision. He had promised to convene the lawmakers if the special session was demanded and if legislators would agree on some plan of control.

Two rival groups were forming among proponents of cotton curtailment. One faction, led by bankers who met Tuesday in Dallas, opposed acreage reduction by legislation. Instead, it proposed financing

LINDYS GIVEN REST TODAY

FLIERS FEEL SLIGHT EARTHQUAKE, VISIT FAMOUS SHRINES

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Aug. 27—Given a day pretty much to themselves before being led into an ambitious round of functions in their honor, Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh today got some rest, experienced a slight earthquake and visited Japan's two greatest shrines.

It was their second day in Tokyo and had been set aside to permit the couple to rest from the long flight from New York which they completed yesterday.

Dishes Rattle

The earthquake occurred while they were at breakfast in the home of Dr. R. B. Teusler, their residence during their stay here. A slight rattle of dishes on the table and the trembling of flowers in a vase appraised them of the shock which did not interrupt their meal.

Accompanied by W. Cameron Forbes, American ambassador, they visited Meiji shrine, dedicated to the emperor of that name. Later they visited Yasukuni shrine, which is dedicated to the spirits of soldiers and sailors who have died on the battlefields.

Colonel Lindbergh then made a trip to Kasumigaura naval base, where he landed yesterday, to inspect his plane. He explained that faulty spark plugs, which became fouled with oil, were responsible for the motor trouble in the Kurile islands.

Fire At D. F. Eaton Place Early Today

Fire early this morning ruined an automobile, furniture, bedding, clothing, and shoes, and damaged band instruments and a double-garage at the home of D. F. Eaton, Lubbock county farm agent, at 2116 Thirteenth street. Loss on the automobile and the building was covered by insurance, Eaton said.

Frank ("Chico") Eaton, jr., son of the county agent, was asleep on one side of the garage when he was awakened by smoke filling the building. He escaped unhurt. The blaze evidently originated in the automobile, a small sedan, which virtually was destroyed.

The conflagration resulted in a fire alarm at about 5:45 o'clock. Firemen answered the summons.

NEW YORK POLICE LINEUP SPEEDED TO QUICK-TIME SHUFFLE IN DRIVE

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The police lineup—New York's daily parade of cut-throats, swindlers, burglars, mayhem artists and just plain suspects—has been speeded up to a quick-time shuffle.

Now that the citizenry's blood is up and the metropolis has grown to care about the gore staining its streets, roundup days are here again. The dismal procession is longer and perforce moves more quickly.

Faster and ever faster the prisoners sidestep across the platform at headquarters, mumbling their stories briefly and are hurried off again to cells. Yesterday 141 persons faced the brusque queries of John J. Sullivan, thick-set assistant chief inspector. In calmer times the number ranges from 30 to 50. Sullivan now has to hurry the job a little, for if he didn't it would take most of the day.

Even at that the procession takes a long time to pass that central point on the platform where the prisoner blinks into

CALIFORNIANS SAY WEATHER BUREAU USING STEAM HEATED THERMOMETER

(By The Associated Press)

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., Aug. 27.—Charging the United States weather bureau with taking its readings here from a steam heated thermometer, the San Bernardino Chamber of Commerce and newspapers today noted an exception to official reports showing a maximum of 108 degrees yesterday and 115 degrees for the preceding day.

Defenders of the local clime protested to Col. H. B. Hersey, government meteorologist in Los Angeles, that the official thermometer was within reach of the steam heated atmosphere of a nearby automobile laundry.

They presented reports, allegedly readings from three other tested thermometers in various parts of town, showing a maximum of only 102.

The San Bernardino Sun also disclaimed knowledge of any egg-frying by the sun's rays.

A break in the heat wave started to materialize yesterday, according to the Los Angeles weather bureau, but did not get far.

It was 94 at Los Angeles at 2 p. m. Other points in Arizona and Southern California reported temperatures of 112 down.

WOOD ATTACKS FARM BOARD

BIG APPROPRIATIONS FOR ORGANIZATION ARE OPPOSED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The first definite opposition to large appropriations for the farm board in the next congress came yesterday from Chairman Wood of the house appropriations committee.

At the same time he criticized the board's recent activities, particularly its failure to provide that wheat and coffee involved in the barter with Brazil be transported in American vessels.

On the other hand, President Hoover was represented as believing that since Brazil was paying all the freight cost the board could not very well say the commodities must be transported in American ships.

Not Specific

Wood did not oppose any specific appropriations. His opposition was to "lavish appropriations" in which he added there was "every reason to oppose lavish expenditures everywhere in the government."

The board has given no indication whether it would seek more money to replenish its $500,000,000 revolving fund which has been depleted through wheat and cotton stabilization operations in the last two years. The last $100,000,000 of its fund became available last July 1.

Plan Held "Unthinkable"

The board's own suggestion of plowing under every third row to reduce supplies was termed "unthinkable" by Wood. He also terumed the failure to provide for the American merchant marine in the Brazilian exchange the biggest piece of bonehead business that has happened around here in a long time."

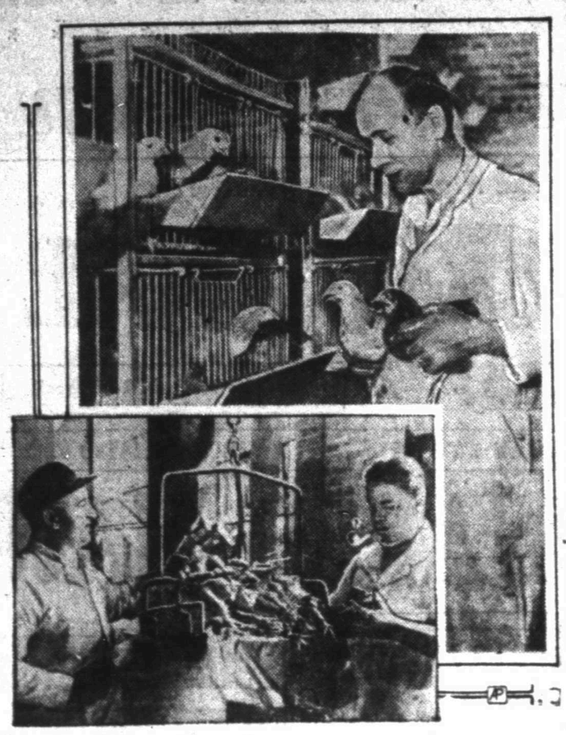

While opposing lavish appropriations, he said he would support maintenance appropriations for the board which amount to about $1,500,000 annually.

Lea To Carry Case To Supreme Court

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 27 (AP)—Luke Lea, Tennessee publisher, turned today to the North Carolina supreme court in an effort to escape serving a six to ten-year sentence imposed after his conviction of defrauding the Central Bank and Trust company, Asheville, of $1,136,000.

Convicted with Lea in the county superior court yesterday were his son, Luke Lea, jr., and Wallace B. Davis, president of the defunct bank. Lea, jr., was fined $25,000, including $10,000 court costs, and Davis was sentenced to serve four to six years in prison.

ULTRA-MODERN CHICKEN FACTORY CHANGES EGGS INTO BROILERS IN TEN WEEKS OF HIGH-SPEED INDOOR LIFE

These chickens in a Chicago "chicken factory" never see sunlight. They are hatched in incubators, reared in brooders, fattened to broiler size in 10 weeks, and dressed for the city market at the rate of 3,000,000 pounds in five months.

CHICAGO (AP)—The ultra-modern chicken never sees a farm.

It is raised in a factory, eats no green food, gets no sunlight — but it's prepared for the table as a factory-finished broiler in rapid-fire order.

Twelve chicken factories, in which more than 3,000,000 pounds of broilers have been produced in the last five months, are operating in Chicago.

Broilers are marketed by the thousands two months after the chicks are incubated from selected eggs. Two and a quarter pounds is the average broiler's weight after a short but concentrated factory life.

Robin Ross, a chemical engineer educated in Germany, and David Street, veteran Chicago food man, head the producing firm, which is completing a new plant to house 300,000 chicks.

"When the day-old chicks come into our factories," explained Ross, "we place them in brooders, specially designed, and feed them 16 hours a day with three intervals for rest.

"Our sanitary methods are complete. Every process is watched and chemically tested."

More than 100 employees work in shifts at the various plants, which include a nursery, growing room, finishing room, a laboratory and slaughter and packing rooms.

"For 25 years the mass production of chickens has been attempted,' Ross said, "and now we go so far as to dip our eggs in iodine and to disinfect the bill of the baby chick.

"Our plants are scattered about the city because we don't want to lose our market should an epidemic strike our chickens."

AN ODD PROBLEM

WASHINGTON.—A certain air line here allows 30 pounds of baggage to be carried without excess charges. A man recently boarded a plane with 98 pounds of luggage. He was not charged for the extra weight. Solution: The man was a midget and as he only weighed 48 pounds himself, he was allowed to carry the extra baggage free.

FLYING MOTORMAN

NEW YORK.—John McNamara, New York motorman, claims to be the only flying motorman in the United States. He recently received his private flying license and will continue to pilot his street car until he takes up flying as a profession. He learned flying in his off hours.

French import duties and taxes on automobiles and gasoline last year totaled nearly $128,000,000.

MILITARY MANEUVERS

WASHINGTON — A huge joint anti-aircraft and air maneuvers will be staged by the Army Air Corps sometime in the fall of 1932, the War Department has announced. The aerial stunts will probably be held near Camp Knox, Ky., with large air forces from Dayton, O., Fort Sheridan, Ill., Fort Totten, N. Y., and Fort McClellan, Ala., participating.

LOCAL GIRL HURT IN AUTO MISHAP

A fractured leg and minor bruises were suffered by six-year-old Betty Lou Hendricks late Wednesday when she was hit by an automobile driven by Glen Bundy, a neighbor. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hendricks, 2003 Twenty-seventh street.

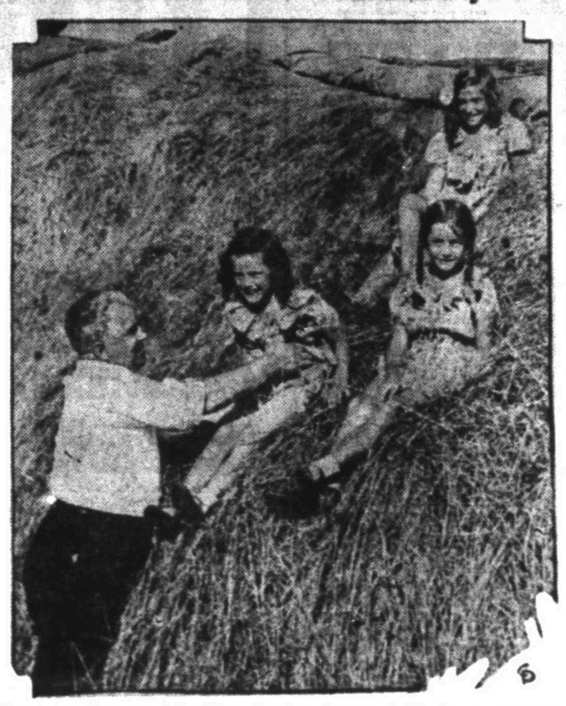

Taken to Lubbock sanitarium, where attending physicians reported her left leg was broken above the knee, the child still was there this morning.

Mrs. Hendricks said her daughter was struck by the automobile as the child darted out from behind a bush into the Bundy driveway. The automobile was being driven at a slow rate of speed by Bundy, and he was not to be blamed for the accident, the mother said. The child was taken to the hospital in a Rix ambulance.

Forgetting the cares of office, Senator James J. Davis, representing Pennsylvania in the U. S. Senate after serving three administrations as Secretary of Labor, finds pleasure and relaxation with his family at their Summer home at Easttown, Pa. TIMES CHANGE

PORTLAND, Ore.—Seventy years ago the families of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Harris brought them as children to California by ox team. Just recently the couple celebrated their 54th wedding anniversary by taking a 2000-mile air tour from this city to Salt Lake and San Francisco. Harris is 80 and his wife is 74.

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

DR. MYERS

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

CHILD AND MOTHER

YESTERDAY we considered with the teacher the problem which faces her with the child who on his first day in school had never been weaned from his mother. We considered the teacher's task in dealing tactfully with the mother of such a child. A few more words on this subject to the teacher.

In case the mother cannot be persuaded to go home at once and leave the child, better let her linger without making her feel she is herself a spoiled child; treat her with proper deference and courtesy. If she thinks she does not dare to leave the child, and stays through the first session or first day, she may be convinced that the child is learning to adjust himself, when she will be more ready to leave him the following morning.'

It may happen, however, that while the mother is present he will stick close to her and will not join in the school activities at all. In that event, it may be advisable for the mother, at the close of the first session, to go home with the child, but advised to work for about a week at home weaning the child from her, not hurrying him back to school until results are in evidence.

Persuade her to neglect all things else, to attract several other children of the age of her child to her home to play with him; to absent herself from the child for several hours a day, leaving him, if possible, with a caretaker other than a member of the family. Advise her to persuade, even hire, if necessary, some of the children of her child's room at school to come to play with him, and particularly to come to her home to go along to school with him when he first goes again.

Try to convince this mother that she has an opportunity to make this child more independent, and show her quite in detail and in a sympathetic manner how she can do so. Your temptations will be to drop reminders of her own errors and delinquencies. Vigilantly guard yourself against any such suggestions. Help the mother to get her mind off her failures and to turn her attention upon a very definite program to build up in the child more self-reliance, and in herself, therefore, a habit of letting him get along without her help or presence.

All too well you know the cost of correcting such difficulties. Your biggest service is in helping to prevent them. If you have made the parents of your children feel free to come to see you often and if, when they have asked you for advice on all sorts of matters, even about the babies at home, they were convinced that you cared, were eager to be helpful; that you had a deep insight into their problems at home, and that you could give advice that worked —then you will have won a very powerful position from which you may be able to do more than any other person in the world, to make those parents your allies in cultivating self-reliance in your pupils and those children at home still too young for school.

You are grateful, of course, to the Parent-Teacher association for developing the summer-round-up program, aimed to have every child on entering school for the first time, as nearly fit physically as possible. Perhaps you could pass on a word to the gracious volunteer parents in this noble work, urging them also to strive to have the child prepared with right social and mental attitudes.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Two pamphlets by Dr. Myers may be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Garry C. Myers, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are "Punishments and Rewards" and "Fear."

Elizabeth Conner and Voncile Shelby have gone to Ceta Canyon where they will be councilors at the Plainview Camp Fire annual summer camp.

Glamor Is Fashion's Rule In Style

BY JOAN SAVOY
NEA Service Writer

When the candles shine and the orchestra begins to hunt for songs that belong to gaiety and romance, you must know that your gown is correct if you want to capture the party spirit. You will be gay and sophisticated and devastatingly demure at the same time if you choose a material that shows some intelligence in itself instead of relying entirely on its lines to get it across. This evening dress, from Hams Inc., uses a shaded black chiffon cut in such a way that every line of the dress means a rounding of the figure. It widens the shoulders, molds the bust and hips, and flutters into a very graceful, airy skirt. There is nothing ornate about it, but its simplicity and femininity are unusually effective.

THREE ESCAPE LAMESA JAIL

PLAINS AUTHORITIES SEEKING TRACES OF FUGITIVES TODAY

LAMESA, Aug. 27.—(Special)—Authorities here and elsewhere in the section are trying to uncover traces of three fugitives who escaped from the Dawson county jail about 3 o'clock Wednesday morning after knocking a hole in the ceiling and prying away bricks in a wall on the third floor of the courthouse.

After prying open the steel door of the inner cell the prisoners climbed on top of the radiator in the runaround and then punched a hole through the plastered ceiling with the aid of a broom handle. Getting through the ceiling into the attic, the inmates removed some bricks from the side of the wall of the third floor, using an iron stove lid as a tool.

Rope Of Blankets

A rope was then made of blankets, obtained from prison cells, and the prisoners slid quietly to the ground and freedom.

George Borham, charged with swindling, E. M. Owens, forgery, and Kid Mitchell, theft, are missing prisoners. A fourth man in the cell, J. R. Hunter, remained in jail, refusing an invitation to accompany the other three men in their break for freedom.

LUBBOCK WOMAN NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH; CONDITION IS NOT SERIOUS

The condition of Mrs. Robert Graham, who was burned and narrowly escaped death Wednesday afternoon when some floor polish exploded in her home at 2210 Fifteenth street, was not considered serious this morning. Burning liquid was thrown on her hands, feet, and body when the explosion occurred. The house was ignited and destroyed.

Although painfully burned, Mrs. Graham was not thought to have suffered permanent injury. Both of her hands and arms, her right leg and feet came in contact with the hot liquid, which members of the fire department said was composed of paraffin and gasoline. She was reported to be resting nicely last night at the home of a friend.

Exposed To Fire

The explosion occurred when some of the preparation was exposed to an open gas fire, fire department officials reported. The blast threw the blazing liquid into several rooms of the seven-room frame residence and the building was quickly enveloped in flames. Mrs. Graham was assisted from the building by her mother-in-law, Mrs. Bettie Graham, and neighbors, Mrs. Bettie Graham and two children, who also were in the building, were uninjured.

The alarm was turned in to the fire department at about 3:45 p. m.

Mrs. Robert Graham received emergency treatment at Lubbock sanitarium. She was reported resting at the home of a friend this morning.

DISTRICT ONE GRID TEAMS GRINDING IN PRE-SEASON PRACTICE

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARKS

ACCORDING TO Southwest Conference rules observed by Texas Tek, Matador grid training for the 1931 season will not begin until September 10. Coach Cawthon is expected home next week, or mayhap this week-end, to lay out a course of study and work for the club.

* * *

Cawthon will attend the meeting of the Southwestern Board of officials and the state rules interpretation meeting at San Antonio September 6 and return here to hold the Texas Tek West Texas rules interpretation meeting on September 12. Cawthon is president of the Southwestern association and also the West Texas.

* * *

The state meeting at San Antonio is an important occasion and coaches and officials from all over the southwest will be there. A meeting of that kind in Lubbock would be worth while, and the presence of Lubbock business men at the Santone confab and their invitation and bid for the 1932 state meeting would bear considerable weight.

* * *

The West Texas football rules interpretation meeting here last fall was highly successful and indications point to another good meeting this year. It brings nearly all high school and college coaches of West Texas to Lubbock, thus serving a two-fold purpose. Cawthon was unanimously elected president of the organization last fall and in fulfilling his duties as chief ramrod the Tech mentor has procured the services of Joe Utay, one of the most popular of Southwestern officials and rules authorities, as the chief conductor of the meeting here.

* * *

It's a sad story that we regret to tell, but it appears as if the Lubbock Hubbers would be compelled to struggle along without the services of Red Gaither, star outfielder and one of the leading hitters of the club. Red sustained an injury in Tuesday's game against Levelland that may keep him off the field for the remainder of the season. He was making a slide into second base when the cleats of his shoe hit something solid and failed to give, causing a ripping of the ligaments in the knee. The injury may not be as serious as first thought and the red-head may see more service, but he doubts it. Just when the club was getting back together again and looking good, too, this thing has to happen.

* * *

The Golden Gloves Amateur Boxing and Wrestling association of Lubbock—that's what it is—is progressing rapidly and the elimination tournament will get under way before the passing of another week. Training has already started at the new arena on north Avenue H, on the Amarillo highway just beyond the underpass and more than a dozen registrations had been in at noon yesterday. All prospective boxers or wrestlers who wish to receive free training and to enter the elimination tournament are asked to register with Joe Blinn at the arena or at Levine's store on Broadway. Blinn is trying to put over some good entertainment and he wants no apple knockers or alley-rats around. College and high school men are eligible and a number of these have signed.

* * *

The tournament will reach a climax on the night of September 4 when the doors to the arena will be opened to the public for the final matches. At that time also, a professional wrestling match between a pair of real grunt-and-groan artists will be presented in a two-out-of-three falls setto.

* * *

Later on, as soon as he finds out how the public takes to boxing and wrestling, Blinn plans to promote some wrestling matches between nationally known professionals. Cal Farley, the Amarillo mat artist, will be interviewed in connection with the plans.

* * *

We're glad to see the step made to encourage one of the leading sports and we are of the opinion that Mr. Blinn knows what he's doing in organizing the Golden Glove Amateur thing. Lubbock may not care for boxing and wrestling and the thing may be a flop, but we hope something good comes of the movement. Judging from the way the men of Lubbock responded to the free entertainments last winter and this spring given by the Tek athletic department, there is great interest in the sport, for Tek's programs were featured by boxing and wrestling matches.

The telephone system of Tahoka, Texas, is being completely rebuilt at a heavy expense.

COACHES GIVE BOYS STIFF WORKOUTS

ENTHUSIASM IS HIGH IN LUBBOCK CAMP ON FOURTH DAY

To say that the 1931 football season is "just around the corner" would have been saying it right less than two weeks ago, but corner has been approached and in this block we have the Lubbock Westerners. They are entering into their fourth day of practice today, and from 3:30 until it is almost too dark to see the football, Coaches Chapman and Huffman are sending the boys through fundamental drills that take in almost every department of play.

Over there to the left is Butler Field and the mass of khaki and black you see there is the Amarillo Sandstorm. The Sandies started this week, too, opening up on Monday with an enlistment of about 60. Coach Blair Cherry couldn't be too worried.

Pampa In Training

To the right is Pampa and its Harvesters, intent upon gathering the cream of the crop together to replace valuable material shipped out last spring. The Pampa mentor is "regusted" with his present stock, so it is said, but it is generally known that the Harvester machine will be in smooth running condition as the schedule approaches.

Up the street a piece is Plainview but little encouragement is coming from Froggie Lovvorn. He faces a tough scnedule and he is already lamenting the fact. With the division of District 1, the teams which Plainview loved to defeat were separated by district lines and if the Bulldogs beat Slaton they figure they're doing pretty well.

As for Slaton, nothing has been heard from Coach Paul Wright. The club is making its debut into Class A football and after several more or less successful seasons as Class B players the Tigers of 1931 may spring a surprise in the league this year.

Enthusiasm High

The Westerners started off the week and the year with rather stiff practice sessions. Coaches Chapman and Huffman have introduced new styles of practice and the linesmen are doing particularly hard work. They improve daily, it would seem, and today, unlike the first day when they were willing but weak and awkward, they are rather sore and stiff but are executing the drills in much more graceful fashion. They are quick to learn, discovers Coach Chapman, and the enthusiasm is not dying down.

DEMPSEY TO BE IN CONDITION BY DECEMBER

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—The New York American says Jack Dempsey told Tom McArdle, Madison Square matchmaker over the telephone, he would be ready to face a first class opponent in his comeback campaign sometime in December. Dempsey is quoted as saying: "I'm not ready yet, but I will be. I'm not fighting top notchers until I'm in top condition. I'm booked solid on exhibitions until the latter part of November. I figure I'll fight myself into shape and gradually take on tougher fellows. By December I'll be ready for anyone. You can positively count on me for a Garden shot this winter."

BAKER NOT TO BE WITH EXPORTERS

BEAUMONT, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Beaumont baseball club anounced yesterday that Del Baker, successful pilot of the Exporters this season, would not manage the Beaumont club next year. The club left yesterday on a road trip. Baker expressed hope of bettering himself for the 1932 season, although he had no definite plans.

After serving as first string catcher for Fort Worth in 1929, Baker joined Beaumont in 1930 as manager. Last year his club finished fourth in the first half and seventh in the second half.

With Baker at the helm this year, the Exporters finished in a tie with Houston for the first half. They lost three out of five in a play-off for the first half pennant. The Exporters have held third place most of the second half. On a straight season schedule, they are in second place.

Baker's success with the Exporters, one of the youngest ball clubs to make a bid for the Texas league pennant, has attracted wide attention and made him Beaumont's most popular of all managers. Since Beaumont uses players farmed here by the Detroit Tigers, there is a possibility that Baker will be aided in his search for a higher league job by the American league club. Baker spent most of last spring in Detroit's training camp.

White Sox Win At Last From Yankees

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP)—After holding out on Red Faber for 31 consecutive innings, the White Sox finally scored some runs for the veteran spitballer.

Faber yesterday asked for the job of trying to keep the New York Yankees from taking every game of the season series in Comiskey park, and his mates responded by scoring two runs in the first inning and enough thereafter to win, 8 to 5. Faber was relieved for a pinch batsman in the seventh, but was credited with the victory, and the Sox were spared the humiliation of bowing to the Yanks every time a home crowd looked on.

CROTHERS NEW SHOOT CHAMP

PERFECT MARKMANSHIP DISPLAYED TO WIN AMATEUR TITLE

The Pennsylvania amateur titlist gave a display of perfect marksmanship yesterday to defeat champions from 41 state, the Canal Zone and Alberta, Canada, in the day's feature shoot of the thirty-second annual grand American trapshooting tournament.

Succeeds Texan

Crothers broke 200 consecutive targets, duplicating his feat in winning the Pennsylvania crown. He succeeds E. F. Woodward of Houston, Tex., to the title. Ted Renfro Del Mont., was second, and Joe Hiestand, Hillsboro, O., third.

Earl Donahue, Minneapolis professional, claimed the professional championship after winning a shoot-off from Rush Razee of Denver. Tying Razee at 199 out of a possible 200 targets, Donahue ran off 23 more to win after the Denver professional had missed his 23rd from a difficult angle.

The shooting eye of J. S. Thomas Pleasant Hill, Mo., despite his 71 years, was still keen enough to enable him to crack 180 out of possible 200 targets for the veterans champion hip shoot for marksmen over 70. He edged out George Tucker, 71, Gilmer, Texas, who broke 176 targets.

Tomorrow comes the grand American classic, the handicap won last year by Rufus King, 15, of Wichita Falls, Texas. King has been assigned a handicap of 20 yards.

Mrs. Tyson Faces Noteworthy Jinx

HIGHLAND PARK, Ill., Aug. 27 (AP)—Mrs. George Tyson of Kansas City found herself face to face with her noteworthy golfing jinx today as she sauntered out to protect her women's western championship.

Her foe as the battle entered the third round was her famous home town rival, Mrs. Opal S. Hill whom she hasn't succeeded in defeating for three straight years.

The second match of the upper-bracket also was expected to be a hard tussle, involving two of Chicago's best golfers—Virginia Van Wie and Mrs. Charles Dennehy runner-up in the 1928 championship. Topping the lower bracket was Mrs. Leona Pressler of San Gabriel, Calif., holder of the crown two years in a row in 1927 and 1928. Her quarter-final opponent was one of the surprises of the tournament Helen Macmorran of Chicago.

LAMESA LOBOES DOWN HUBBER SHERE

WALLER HURLS FOR LOCALS TO LOSE

TAHOKA BULLDOGS ARE NEXT ON PROGRAM FOR LUBBOCK

The Lamesa Loboes pounded Manager Dirty Waller for thirteen hits last night and took advantage of numerous errors to score a 7 to 3 victory over the Lubbock Hubbers. Waller was forced to pitch when pitchers failed to show up or were in the stages of rest. The Hubber skipper kept his offerings under fair control, however, to let in only two earned runs.

On Saturday night of this week the Hubbers open a two-stand engagement with the Tahoka Bulldogs. Lefty Squires, who pitched the Bulldogs to a first half South Plains League pennant last summer and who has been doing some good work in the Valley League this season, will be with Tahoka and will pitch one of the games here. Chief Clyde Youngblood, Greer Dickey and Blue-Eyes Graham will be ready to chunk for Lubbock.

The playing of Shorty White at second, Baily White at first and the steady hitting of, S. and L. and G. White went a long distance toward the base-running of the Loboes last night. The Dawson county sheriff, Gus White, walked the first two times up and was safe three other times, singling once and getting around for three times. Shorty White singled three times to bat in two runs and score one himself.

Score In Second

The visitors were off to a lead in the second when a walk, and error and three successive hits, the middle one a double, brought in three runs. Lubbock retaliated with two tallies, Marshal singling after Graham went out, and scoring with Hambright, who singled, on Galey's long bingle to center. Davis knuckled down to whiff Thompson and Allen.

BIG JOE KEEPS HIS PROMISE AND THEN SOME

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 27 (AP) — Big Joe Hutcheson, Memphis right fielder, vowed just before yesterday's game that he would knock a home run to thrill his home folks.

His sister, Miss Mattie Otha Hutcheson, Denton, Tex., and his cousin, Miss Ada Ruth Carlton Ringgold, Tex., are visiting Big Joe and watching this week's games wanted to see a home run.

Before the end of the game Big Joe had surprised even himself. He smashed out three homers, accounting for five of the Chicks seven runs that beat the Birmingham Barons, 7 to 1, in the only game played in the Southern Association yesterday.

In the second inning, he hit a homer over the center field wall. In the sixth he put another one in the same place. In the eighth he hit one over the right field fence, scoring Brazill and Taylor ahead of him.

It was the first time in Russwood park's history that three homers have been made in one game. Big Joe now has 17 to his credit this season.

Whitworth Misses Baseball's Hall Of Fame By Single Hit

FORT WORTH PITCHER WINS 16TH GAME OF THE SEASON

BY WILLIAM A. (BILL) PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Dick Whitworth, Fort Worth's veteran hurler, missed baseball's hall of fame last night by one hit as he defeated Shreveport, 6 to 1.

For six consecutive innings, Whitworth turned the Sports back runless and hitless, but in the seventh Cashion tripled and scored on a fly out to right field. Whitworth struck out six to win his 16th victory this season.

Steers Sweep Series

Dallas made a clean sweep of a two game series with Wichita Falls winning last night, 12 to 7. It was a combat of hard hitting in which ten extra base hits were made. "Cowboy" Jones led Dallas' attack with a double, triple and single driving in two runs. Bob Cooney, who has 15 victories to his credit started for Wichita Falls but was shelled out in the second inning.

Galveston defeated San Antonio 3 to 0. Speer's triple in the seventh with the bases full decided a mound battle between Preacher Thurman for Galveston and Tom Estell for San Antonio.

Beaumont and Houston were rained out.

New York Yankees at Comiskey park this year the Chicago White Sox finally broke through to win their closing tilt, 8 to 5.

CARDINALS CONCENTRATE ON GETTING THEMSELVES IN PRIME CONDITION FOR OCTOBER SKIRMISH WITH ATHLETICS

BY GAYLE TALBOT,
Associated Press Sports Writer

Homeward bound today after having completed their last triumphant tour of the Atlantic seaboard, the St. Louis Cardinals were in position to concentrate on getting themselves in prime condition for their October skirmish with the Philadelphia Athletics.

By sweeping their closing doubleheader with the Boston Braves yesterday, the Streetmen closed their eastern invasion with a record of 13 victories in 17 starts against the Giants, Phillies, Robins and Braves. They are returning home with a lead of 10 full games over the field, sufficient to permit them to coast through the final month.

Two veterans of the Bird's pitching staff completed the sweep of the five-game series at Boston yesterday, Jess Haines keeping ten hits scattered to win the first, 6 to 1, and Burleigh Grimes taking the nightcap, 6 to 0.

Thanks to some lusty hitting by Hazen Cuyler and Manager Hornsby, the Chicago Cubs were able to close their eastern jaunt with a pair of victories over the Giants, 4 to 3 and 7 to 4, the second going 12 innings. The Phillies shoved Dan Howley's Cincinnati Reds a little deeper into the cellar with a pair of beatings, 8 to 4 and 7 to 6. They had to score four times in the ninth inning to win the nightcap.

Although they dropped the final to St. Louis, 9 to 5, the Athletics showed a nice profit on their last western tour, winning a 10 game lead over their closest American league rivals, Washington.

Roy Johnson's homerun in the eighth was the punch the Detroit Tigers needed to nose out the Senators, 5 to 4, in their last meeting of the year. Johnson's blow broke a tie that had existed four innings and gave Earl Whitehill a hard-earned victory over Sam Jones and Carl Fischer.

GIVE DEGREES TO GRADS

EXERCISES CONDUCTED WEDNESDAY NIGHT AT TECH COLLEGE

Appropriately climaxing the most successful summer session in Texas Technological college's brief history, commencement exercies were conducted and 114 degrees conferred Wednesday night at the college. Of the 114 students receiving degrees, 21 had completed requirements for master titles.

The commencement address was delivered by Dean T. U. Taylor, of the school of engineering of the University of Texas. Discussing, "Opportunities," the speaker told of persons who had had opportunities and made the most of them, and of others who had failed to utilize the opportunities presented them.

Bledsoe Praised

During the course of his address, Dean Taylor paid tribute to former State Senator W. H. Bledsoe of Lubbock for the part the Lubbock legislator had played in developing the educational facilities of West Texas.

The ceremony last night was the first commencement program to be held at Texas Technological college at night. It was staged on the lawn south of the administration building. Many of the 1,000 persons who attended said it was the most impressive commencement program they had ever attended.

Clad In Robes

President P. W. Horn, Dean Taylor, Dean J. M. Gordon, of the school of liberal arts; Dean A. H. Leidigh, of the school of agriculture; Dean Wm. J. Miller, of the school of engineering, and Dean Margaret W. Weeks, of the school of home economics, and members of the graduating class were clad in academic robes, making an impressive scene when they marched into the open-air stadium.

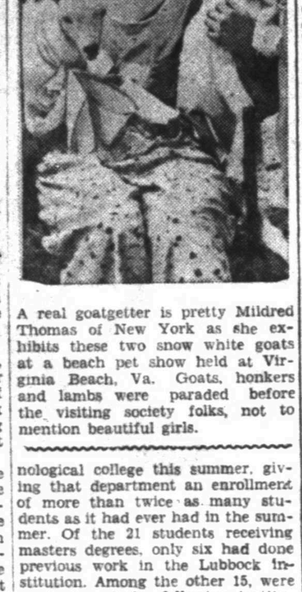

Dr. J. C. Granbery gave the invocation. The processional was played by the college orchestra. Mrs. Cari Scoggin, soloist, sang.

Features Cited

While the enrollment of the summer session this year was by 239 greater than that of any other summer session in the history of the school, the outstanding feature of the short term was the enrollment in the graduate school, Dean Gordon said last night. A total of 172 students did graduate work in Technological college this summer, giving that department an enrollment of more than twice as many students as it had ever had in the summer. Of the 21 students receiving masters degrees, only six had done previous work in the Lubbock institution. Among the other 15, were graduates of the following institutions: Columbia university, Trinity College, College of Industrial Arts, West Texas State Teachers college, Abilene Christian College, Simmons university, Baylor university, Pennsylvania State Teachers college and Phillips university.

The fall term at Technological college will start September 24, with matriculation, which will continue through September 27. Classes will start at 8 a. m., September 28, it was announced.

RADIO ANNOUNCER THREATENED FOR ATTACK ON NEW YORK GANG CHIEFS

NEW YORK, Aug. 27. (AP)—Telephone threats against his life have put John S. Young, radio announcer, on his guard.

Not only is he carrying a gun under an official permit in defiance of any possible activity against him, but two policemen were assigned to give him a helping hand.

The threats, believed to have been made either by gangsters or cranks, followed Young's appearance as announcer at the broadcast of the New York City anti-gangster rally Monday night by WJZ of the National Broadcasting Company.

Tuesday he was called to the phone.

"You're a wise guy," said a voice sounding like that of a young man.

"Your life might be worth only two cents to you, but it's worth thousands to NBC. We'll teach you wise guys to keep out of these gangster affairs," the speaker continued.

Young, believing it was one of his friends attempting a joke, cut off the conversation by hanging up. Ten minutes later another call came in. It was a different voice but conveyed the same message, with embellishments.

After that, Young decided it either was a crank or some one who felt that threats would bring money from his employers.

Five other NBC employes also have received telephone threats.

HIGHWAY WORK IN TEXAS IS RUSHED

AUSTIN, Aug. 27. (AP)—Highway construction in Texas has been greatly accelerated in the past few months to take advantage of the $5,000,000 additional aid allotment made last year by the federal government.

Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer, said the highway department hoped to utilize the entire allotment prior to September 1. The additional aid was granted on condition it be utilized by that date.

Gilchrist said construction had been speeded to such an extent that he believed only a small portion, if any, of the extra allotment would be left over by September 1.

The mineral output in South Africa in a recent month was valued at nearly $20,500,000.

Canadian Has Good Chance To Cop Meet

MONTREAL, Aug. 27. (AP)—Sandy Somerville, Canadian amateur champion, can be added to the list of those who have a good chance to win the United States amateur golf crown this year. The authority for this statement is Bobby Jones, who defeated Somerville last year on his way to the title.

Bobby was asked what he thought of Somerville's chances when he arrived here.

"You know how golf is," he replied. "You never can tell what will happen. Sandy is a good player all right and I think he has a pretty good chance."

MOTHER, SON ARE HELD

WOMAN IMPLICATED IN ALLEGED PLOT TO GET INSURANCE

DETROIT, Aug. 27 (AP)—A mother and her son were held by police today following the death by a fall from a window of a roomer in their home, and the subsequent discovery by police that 10 men, on most of whom the woman held insurance policies, had died in her rooming house during the past eight years.

The woman, Mrs. Rose Veras, 48, whose rooming house is in the city's Hungarian colony, is held on a technical charge of homicide. Her son, William, 18, was arrested for investigation.

Thought Pushed

The death of Steve Mark, 68, a roomer at Mrs. Veras' home opened the police investigation. Mrs. Veras told police Mark fell from a ladder while repairing an attic window. Other witnesses said Mark was not at work on a ladder, and it appeared he had been pushed from the window.

George M. Stutz, assistant prosecuting attorney, said he had learned there was one valid insurance policy on Mark's life, for $4,000, of which Mrs. Veras was the beneficiary. He said he had learned Mrs. Veras recently borrowed money to make a payment on the policy.

Find 75 Policies

Mrs. Veras told police it was customary in the Hungarian colony for a landlady to insure her roomers in her behalf. Police said 75 policies were found in her home. They expressed belief several of them had been made out in her favor by most of the 10 men whose deaths occurred in her house since 1923.

then ask yourself:

Wouldn't it be a thrill to start out on that Labor Day drive with a new set of handsome, safe, trouble-free Goodyears on your wheels?

Wouldn't it be a comfort to know you are going into the fall and winter motoring season with the best tire equipment on your car that money can buy?

Of course it would! Why don't you do it? You can afford it—with prices as low as these listed here, mileage is selling cheaper now than ever before.

When you buy Goodyears—whether the famous All-Weather Tread or the popular sturdy Pathfinder—you're buying the first-choice tires of the world.

If you have any doubt about this, just remember that for 16 years it has been a fact that "More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind!"

Again, a great and unbiased public institution recently completed a nation-wide survey, asking American car owners "What tire is best?"

The vote, uninfluenced in any way, shows a preference for Goodyears nearly 2¼ times that for the second tire, and five times the average preference for all other makes.

It takes a great tire—an outstanding tire—to win public approval in this decisive fashion; it takes the kind of a tire you would like to own.

You can have that tire, at no extra price, if you'll guide your buying with the simple question: "Why buy a second-choice tire, when first-choice costs no more?"

A suave man, branded a "phony lawyer from around Broadway and Forty-second" politely denies any wicked intentions in connection with "those bonds."

Willingdon, Gandhi Reach An Agreement

Cotton Situation To Be Canvassed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Coincident with word that Egypt had made overtures to the American government looking to a world cotton conference, Senator George Democrat, Georgia, today called a meeting of senators from nine southern states here tomorrow to canvass the cotton situation with the farm board.

The state department was informed by the American legation at Cairo that Egypt was interested in any international steps to relieve the cotton situation and that a communication was on the way to Washington on the subject.

FIVE MEN ESCAPE

COTTON PLAN

the withholding of one-third of the 1931 crop and agreement between bankers and farmers that acreage would be reduced 50 per cent in 1932 and one-third in 1933. Bankers would enforce the agreements by refusing to lend money to farmer who disregarded the pact.

J. W. Hoopes, president of the Texas Bankers' association, announced at Dallas that the association's executive committee probably would meet there Tuesday to work out details of putting the plan into effect.

Murray Favors Plan

R. J. Murray, general manager of the Texas Cotton Co-operative association, said he not only personally favored cotton acreage limitation by legislation but "from every county of Texas comes evidence from farmers favoring immediate legislation action."

D. A. Bandeen, general manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, announced that officials of the regional chamber would meet in Fort Worth today to formulate a policy regarding cotton acreage reduction.

Farmers' mass meetings which adopted resolutions favoring cotton curtailment were held yesterday at Cameron, Lubbock, Rockwall, La Grange, Paris, Greenville, Caddo Mills and Lone Oak. Most of them petitioned the governor to summon the legislature immediately in a special session to consider acreage control.

LUBBOCK FARMERS FAVOR LONG PLAN

Farmers of Lubbock and adjoining counties are evidently in favor of dethroning old King Cotton for the year 1932 at least, it was indicated Wednesday in a mass meeting on the courthouse lawn here.

A resolution calling for an immediate special session of the legislature to adopt the Long cotton plan with an amendment that it not become a law until other cotton growing states pass similiar measures was adopted by a majority of the approximately 3,000 farmers and business men at the gathering.

Thus Governor Sterling was given a clear expression of the sentiment of the cotton growers of this section on the cotton situation. Previously farmers at Tahoka had adopted a resolution favoring the Long plan while similiar action is expected from another meeting of farmers at Littlefield today. Lamb county led the plains in cotton production last year.

Proposal Discussed

There was much discussion for and against the Louisiana executive's proposal which prohibits by law the planting of a single cotton seed in the south in 1932 but when the time for voting came it appeared that the bulk of the crowd favored this action. A resolution favoring the original Cunningham cotton acreage bill was ignored in the voting.

That there must be some definite action from a special session was the opinion of almost all of those present.

Lockhart Is Heard

In the face of catcalls, hackling and many interruptions, Representative G. E. Lockhart of this district appeared before the crowd and voiced a firm and frank opposition to the movement, declaring that if it was brought up before the legislature in a special session he would "rise up on the floor of the house and offer an amendment requiring that every man and woman in Texas wear cotton clothes during 1932 and that amendment will be just as sane as this proposal you're favoring."

H. J. Bower, member of the Texas Tech agricultural faculty and at present an employe of the state department of agriculture, opened the meeting after which County Agent D. F. Eaton explained its purpose. Mr. Eaton was immediately elected chairman by acclamation.

For And Against

Following the appointment of a resolutions committee composed of Messrs. George C. Cooper, Grimes, Reed, Cannon, McCauley, Bower and Bledsoe, Judge Clark M. Mullican started presenting arguments for and against the proposed Long plan and had hardly mentioned the plan when applause greeted his remarks and it was evident that the crowd was in favor of cutting out cotton altogether on the South Plains for one year.

Judge Mullican gave balanced reasons for and against the plan but favored its adoption in his closing remarks.

"This is the first time the farmer has ever had a chance to put a law on the statute books," he pointed out, "and he had better take advantage of it, at least he can do nothing more than call it another noble experiment. I'll say this," he continued, "that if every farmer belonged to the co-ops there would be no need for this legislation."

Makes Stirring Appeal

He was followed by W. R. Campbell, local grocer, who made a stirring appeal for the Louisiana governor's plan, declaring that the time has come when the farmer must act in order to save the 1931 crop from bankruptcy.

Judge Homer L. Pharr preceeded Mr. Lockhart and made a few brief remarks regarding the question, stating that it wasn't a state problem but one of national scope and there must be some sane and sound thinking on it before definite action is taken.

Following Mr. Lockhart's talk, a report of the resolutions committee was read and the question presented for vote but a resolution from the crowd seeking adoption of the Long plan and the added amendment offered by M. S. Hudson was conceded to be favored.

Resolution Given

The resolution turned down read:

Resolved: First, that we favor a called session of the legislature for the purpose of passing an emergency reduction law on cotton.

Second, that such an emergency demands immediate action.

Third, we favor the original Cunningham bill that forbade the planting of more than one-half of cultivated land to cotton and required rotation of cotton planted land and that only one-half of the new land put under the plow could be planted to cotton.

Lockhart Is Firm

Mr. Lockhart stood firm in his stand on the question and spoke for more than thirty minutes, explaining his views and branding the proposal as "only a step toward socialism and communism and one that is aimed at tearing down the representative form of government."

"If I was a politician and wanted your votes, I'd say I was supporting the Long plan, but I'm not running for office and don't want your votes," Mr. Lockhart declared. "When people rise up in haste and demand something, there's usually some reaction from it. Right today, they're holding a meeting of chamber of commerce secretaries in Lubbock who are trying to get out from under a freight rate increase ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission for the railroads which they themselves caused by supporting a movement against the trucks last session.

"I say we can't pass this kind of a law," he continued. "I say we can pass it by changing our constitution and when you do that you're disrupting the government. I say you can enforce the law by military order but when you do that you'll be in line with Sterling and Governor Bill Murray when you demand price at the point of a gun. I don't believe we've come to that point when we have to do such a thing."

Fall Is Predicted

He predicted that the rise in the price of oil caused by the martial law in East Texas would soon fail and said that the present price was only temporary. He also forecast that if the shutdown was continued the price of gasoline would be twenty-five cents before Christmas.

"What we as legislators ought to do when we go down to Austin is to promise not to help you but not to do anything to you," Mr. Lockhart said he might support a law requiring the rotation of crops.

He pointed out that should the Long plan be put through, there would be 1,500,000 more people out of work in Texas during 1932.

Confusion Caused

Mr. Lockhart attempted to answer questions from the crowd but confusion followed after a large number of farmers sought to query him on his views and Chairman Eaton had to call for order.

J. L. Ratliff, local attorney, spoke in favor of some definite action on the cotton situation and advocated the adoption of some drastic measure to aid the present crop.

M. S. Hudson of Hale Center got in a good word for the co-op when he spoke briefly on the question and predicted that 65 per cent of the farmers would be members of the organization by the first of the year if the plan was put into effect.

J. W. Hale, secretary of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, was called on to the platform and gave a few witty remarks on the situation, favoring the plan and announcing a similar meeting for Lamb county farmers at Littlefield, Thursday.

The meeting was adjourned at 4:30 but farmers were still gathered in small circles on the law discussing the question until nearly nightfall.

McDONALD BEGINS SERIES OF TALKS

SHREVEPORT, La., Aug. 27 (AP)—J. E. McDonald, Texas commissioner of agriculture, today delivered the first of a series of addresses directed primarily to Texas cotton growers over radio station KWKH owned and operated by W. K. Henderson of Shreveport.

McDonald discussed the minority report which he submitted at the cotton relief conference held in New Orleans last week which, however, endorsed Governor Huey P. Long's proposal to ban cotton planting by legislative enactment in 1932.

Commissioner McDonald indicated he was not advocating any particular cotton relief plan but that his addresses directed to Texas cotton growers and business men were for the purpose of getting Texans to inform Governor Ross Sterling of that state what plan of cotton relief the citizens of Texas desire.

Capone was reported to have agreed to pay off the abductors with $50,000 raised by the missing man's friends, and Roche said if Capone refusd to name the persons to whom the ransom was paid he could be prosecuted as an accessory.

Police hurried to the hotel where Capone maintains headquarters last night but were unable to find the gang chief, who is also wanted for questioning by Arthur T. Thorson, district attorney of Walworth county, Wis., where the kidnaping occurred.

Last Life Saving Tests Set Friday

Final tests will be taken by the last life saving class of the season at Tumble-N pool in city park beginning at 9 o'clock Friday morning, K. N. Clapp, pool manager and a life saving instructor, announced today.

About 20 persons will take the examination, he said. The public is invited. Tumble-N pool will remain open until mid-September or until cool weather arrives definitely, Clapp said.

Roosevelt Backers To Meet In Texas

DALLAS, Aug. 27 (AP)—T. W. Davidson, former lieutenant governor, announced today a statewide mass meeting will be at Waco Saturday to form a permanent organization to back Gov. Franklin Roosevelt of New York, in his proposed campaign for the presidency.

"We plan to organize a Roosevelt club in every Texas county," Davidson explained." The organization will serve as a rallying point for all conservative Democrats who wish to keep the party free from fights over prohibition, a non-political question."

Davidson said Roosevelt would be invited to speak in Texas.

Tammany Seeks To End Roosevelt Tilt

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 27 (AP)—Tammany Hall, faced with defection in its own ranks in the legislative battle over the New York City investigation, was looking today for peace with Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Well-informed Democratic circles believe the governor will give Tammany the opportunity to heal the "break" between them, possibly as early as Monday, by sending a message to the special legislative session which will give Tammany the chance to ask extension of the New York City investigation to upstate, Republican-controlled communities.

A new automatic rivit is self clinching.

LUBBOCK SCOUTS TO GIVE PICNIC

Joined by fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters, cousins, and others of the clan, Lubbock Boy Scouts will participate in a picnic late Friday afternoon and a campfire court of honor Friday night at county park.

D. T. Jennings, South Plains scout executive, predicted the unusual outing and subsequent ceremonies would attract the largest crowd in the history of Lubbock scouting. Each troop will arrange its own scout-family picnic and provide its own transportation and food, going to the park as early as desired.

Troop 3 will challenge troop 4 to a game of playground baseball and troop 6 has reported it will be prepared to meet any other troop's playground ball club.

When it is dark, an Indian fire lighting ceremony will open the court of honor, at which George W. Dupree will preside. Awards will be made apart from those by the court, an attendance pennant and other prizes being given. Each troop will present an exhibition or stunt.

The public is invited to attend the program at the campfire, which probably will be in the northeast corner of the park, Executive Jennings said.

Thought For Today

The words of wise men are heard in quiet more than the cry of him that ruleth among fools.—Ecclesiastes 9:17.

* * *

Silence is more eloquent than words.—Carlyle.

Real Education

The Carnegie Foundation, complaining that the college senior often approaches graduation with a stock of knowledge that is only a little larger than that of the average freshman, touches on a point that has occurred to many people in the last few years.

The complaint, in fact, has been voiced before. Supposedly educated young men and women have turned out to be pitiably ignorant, not only about the arts and sciences but about such elementary subjects as grammar, spelling geography and history. Never indeed have the attainments of American colleges and universities been called into question as often as in the past decade

It is, of course, as the Carnegie Foundation remarks, distressing to find college graduates who do not know the meaning of such words as "inert," "lenient" and "immerse," and who think that "declivity" and "climate" mean the same thing; but while we must agree that such a person is hardly educated, it would be a mistake to think that education consists simply, or even chiefly of the amassing of a great store of facts.

Primarily, an educated man is a man who can think things out for himself—indeed, who not only can but does. Education is first of all the process of teaching him how to use his brains properly. It is not supposed to make of him a storehouse of information. An educated man is not necessarily a walking encyclopedia.

The one serious criticism that has been made of higher education in America is that it too often fails in just this respect—it stuffs students with facts and does not show them the importance of developing their own mental powers.

Intellectual independence and fearlessness, a habit of mind that doubts and examines things—these are the traits a college graduate should have above everything else. In a summer that has been one of our largest universities summarily fire a valued professor because some of the trustees vaguely felt that he was "too radical," the strictures of the Carnegie report do not seem very important.

Books That Live

It is interesting to note that a prominent American publisher recently estimated that only about one in every 50 books published these days survives for more than two years.

Each year American publishers issue some 10,000 books. By the time two years have passed, the reading public has definitely forgotten about all except 200 of them. Mr. Macrae did not say how long these 200 last, and it would be interesting to see just how many of them survive at the end of five years; but the fact that as many as 200 last as long as two years is rather surprising.

After all, 200 books are a lot of books. If American writers can turn out that many each year that are worth a second glance, the state of literature in the republic is pretty healthy. If even two or three in each annual "crop" last for more than a decade, we are doing about as well as any previous generation.

The Smell

There is nothing extremely convincing bout Tammany Hall's protest that the New York legislature's investigators ought to look into the matter of graft and corruption in up-state cities before proceeding any farther with their investigation in New York City.

Naturally enough, no one supposes that New York City has any monopoly on the civic rottenness of the land. Beyond a doubt a determined investigator could find plenty of scandals elsewhere in the Empire state. But that is not the point.

ONE of John Vaughan's mail carriers limped home the other night and was met at the door by his good wife.

"My feet burn like the dickens", he groaned. "Do you reckon a mustard bath would help?"

"Sure", his wife responded, "there's nothing better than mustard for hot dogs!"

* * *

DURING a thirty minute drive from Slaton to Lubbock on Tuesday evening, The Plainsman encountered seven automobiles with defective lighting. Five of those cars boasted one burning headlight per car. Each of the other two had one good headlight and one barely gleaming.

* * *

Bear in mind that this tally included only cars moving toward Slaton, and covered a half hour's time sandwiched in between 8:30 p. m. and 9:15 p. m. It is logical, therefore, to estimate that on the paved highway between Lubbock and Slaton, during that thirty minutes on Tuesday evening, there were at least a dozen cars with faulty lighting. That is too many.

* * *

BESIDES stressing the dangers facing the nocturnal motorist, the figures also bring out the fact that our state lighting law is a lot of mahoola. Once a year the motorist pays a two-bit tribute for a slip of paper and his lights, presumably, are o. k. until license-buying time rolls 'round again.

MAYBE The Plainsman is a poor judge of news for he certainly is in the minority among newspapermen of Lubbock, and everywhere else, in regard to the Lindbergh flying vacation. But if the Lindbergh junket is worth as much display as it is getting in The Avalanch and Journal and every other daily paper in the country, this writer is the most mistaken person in the world.

* * *

Perhaps it is caused by a personal antipathy to Colonel Lindbergh's policy of "the public-be-damned", but at any rate The Plainsman is of the opinion that there is too much fanfare connected with the present flight of the "Lone Eagle"

Farmers Try To Out-Smart Nature By Cutting Acreages; Nature Comes Back With Bumper Crop; Need Pestilence

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27—Senator J. Boomboom McWhorter, who has been thinking things over, says many things must be changed and a lot of theories revised before this country will ever be getting anywhere.

DUTCHER

First, the senator says, something had better be done about Thanksgiving.

"Everybody knows that Thanksgiving Day was founded and has been observed since the days of the Pilgrim Fathers as an occasion for giving thanks for bountiful crops," declared McWhorter in a very exclusive interview.

"Well nature has been bountiful this year, darn her, but you cannot any longer persuade the farmers that it is any reason to give thanks.

"The farmers are not hanging around the big end of the horn of plenty anymore. They want the short end and the shorter the better.

"Nature gives us a perfect combination of sun and rain and we get bountiful crops. Nature is just a fool. The cotton farmers try to outsmart her, however, and cut their acreage 10 per cent. Then they get biggest crop in 25 years.

"Nature has been so bountiful that the federal Farm Board urges the farmers to plow one-third of her blessings back into the ground. The boll weevil which everyone thought was such a curse turns out to have been a blessing in disguise.

"And just try to get the wheat farmers to give thanks for bountiful crops!"

All of which must be recognized in future Thanksgiving proclamations says Senator McWhorter, or else we are a nation of hypocrites. No nation, he is convinced, should waste any more time giving thanks for its afflictions. The only possible theory upon which we can give thanks this year is that we are thankful the crops were not twice as large.

"Future presidential proclamations must call upon the people to give thanks for sparse crops and not plentiful crops," the senator insists. "And the people must pray that one blade of corn shall grow where two grew before. If the weevils, the corn borers and the wheat rust all have a good busy year, then is the time to give thanks."

McWhorter, always the farmer's friend, is not enthusiastic about destroying a third of the cotton crop or any other crop. If the idea is any good at all it doesn't go far enough, he says.

"What is fair for agriculture is fair for industry," he asserts, "and if industry would destroy a third of its products the farmer probably would be willing to go along.

"After all, industry and agriculture are both suffering from the same malady—overproduction. Of course I don't suppose the president will be calling on the country to give thanks because there aren't so many automobiles being made this year, but I don't know where on earth he will find any other pretext for a proclamation.

"Let the steel companies take a third of their ingots and dump them into the ocean. Why not tear down every third building as soon as it is completed? Give a third of all the coal mined to the police and the Communists to throw at each other in the winter riots. As soon as the barber has shaved a patron and cut his hair let him glue a third of the hair right back on again. When a public official has made a speech, make him eat 33 1-3 per cent of his words. Burn one out of every three carloads of furniture. Tear up a third of the new hats women are wearing—or all of them if you like.

"I think this program would stimulate employment immensely, but do not profess that it gets down to the fundamental problem, which is too many people. As in industry and agriculture we have been unable to prevent the overproduction of men and women, so no wonder there aren't enough jobs. What this country needs is a great big pestilence!"

PREVENTION OF HAY FEVER

The method of preventing hay fever by giving immunizing doses of ragweed pollen (or the pollen of other plants which may be responsible) was described yesterday. Such treatment works successfully in about a quarter of the cases tried, and more or less successfully in about half of the rest. Its disadvantages are that it is rather expensive and requires a long series of visits to the doctor.

Dr. Clendening

For the many people who cannot take a vacation during the hay fever season, pollen filters to fit in the window of the bedroom or office often give complete or nearly complete relief.

The grains of pollen which irritate the eyes and nose of the hay fever victim are fine dust-like particles, very light, which float in the air for long periods and nearly saturate the lower atmosphere in an invisible cloud. If the air the patient receives can be freed of these he is as comfortable as anybody else. The filters which do this are made to fit in a window and draw the air into the room by a suction fan through a screen which stops the pollen grains from coming through.

The expense is not nearly as great as that of the enforced vacation most hay fever victims are compelled to take. If the purse allows, it is possible to have one for the office as well as one for the bedroom. But if only one can be afforded, the one for the bedroom is advised for if the patients have a comfortable night most of them will tell you they can stand the daytime discomfort.

For those who feel they cannot afford one of these manufactured devices, arrangements for a pollen-proof room can be made as suggested a few years ago by Dr. Arnold H. Kegel, health commissioner of Chicago.

"Pollen sufferers can be kept in an atmosphere almost free from pollen by remaining as long as possible in a room that is kept closed. Muddy water becomes clear through settling if it remains still long enough. Pollen settles out of the air in the same way.

"Select a bedroom with as few windows and doors as possible. The room should be thoroughly cleaned, pictures and hangings removed, also rugs, carpets and material not absolutely necessary.

"Walls and ceiling cleaned with a damp rag, floors with an oil mop. A screen is provided which will allow some outside air to enter and still keep out the pollen. We suggest taking a wet cloth as the screen and tacking to the frame an additional covering of loosely close-meshed cotton. Cheesecloth would be useless.

The bed should be covered all day with a sheet which is carefully removed without shaking at night. In the morning, after the bed is made and covered with the sheet, the room is closed and must on no account be entered. At night, when the patient enters, he does so with the greatest care, closing the door carefully and walking about as little as possible so as not to stir up any pollen.

For this reason an electric fan cannot be used, but the room can be cooled with a 25-pound cake of ice in a tub.

IN NEW YORK with Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Aug. 27—Having become suddenly trout-conscious due to an impending vacation, I learn that New York and its environs contains some of the world's most avid fishing fans.

The stream fishermen, of whom there are many famous gentlemen of wealth, maintain exclusive clubs and scores of eminent executives are high in the ranks of tricky fly casters. The Beaverkill and Willowemoc, in the Catskills, are the particularly popular streams.

* * *

In one sports goods store, I heard an interesting tale about a club just outside of Roscoe, New York.

There is a guide who has become famous for his knowledge of good pools and riffles, and whose prowess as a troutsman is widely talked about among sportsmen. His name is Robbins, and not so many years ago he was a wealthy and prominent business man who had come to this club as a guest year upon year. Suddenly his fortune was wiped out. He turned about for something to do—and decided to think it over while fishing. He became an expert guide, has a first-rate income—and is happy.

* * *

Roscoe has one very special character, however, about whom fish stories are spun. He is Frank Griswold, and he never fishes. But he likes to believe all the stories he hears about the "big ones that got away."

A few years ago, he decided to see that "big ones" could be found in the stream. He has his own trout farm on the side. When the fish reach the length of 10 inches or better he puts them in the stream "for the other boys."

Which reminds me that up in the Catskill belt there's another trout fan who has private theories about diet. For years he's been experimenting with special menus which he believes will make the trout larger and fatter. Few fishermen agree with his theories, but he goes on, season after season, providing the fish with rare sea tid-bits.

Gramercy Park, in mid-Manhattan, has one of the most meticulous fishermen of them all. In one of the handsome old early Gotham mansions he ties his own flies and will not accept the store variety. He invents innumerable gadgets for luring the unwary trout.

But "club" fishing in the New York belt is not within the means of a working gent. Many of them ask from $2000 upward for membership and private preserves receive from $250 to $500 for the right to fish in certain territories.

The town milkman, I once was told, makes a very neat income from his water—and no joke intended!

* * *

In and about Long Island you'll find such well-known gents as Irvin Cobb splashing about in the club streams. Owen Young generally fishes in the Catskills. Calvin Coolidge as the world knows, has been loyal to his native Vermont streams. Herbert Hoover has varied his trout grounds according to the "Summer White House" location.

Deep-sea fishermen are even more prevalent. Hundreds of little fishing boats make their way to spots off the Jersey coast where fish gather around old wrecks. Montauk Point has become one of the few sword fishing rendezvous, although this is a particularly expensive sport. Mere tyros, seeking snappers and flukes try almost any inlet from Jamaica to the end of Long Island.

But whatever they're after, fishing succeeds in getting thousands away from the city's cares for week-ends.

Jack Dempsey's wife isn't going to settle that divorce affair for a song. Unless it starts with "dough."

One consoling thing about talking to yourself is that nobody's going to talk back.

THE PLAINSMAN GETS SOME MAIL

GAS CONSUMER WRITES ON PRICES OF FUEL

Dear Plainsman: It seems to me that the time is ripe for the citizenship of Lubbock and other Plains towns to take definite steps toward securing substantial and equitable reductions in gas rates. If we sleep on our rights until winter comes then we will pay dearly, as we did last year. Then it will be too late to do anything about it except "howl".

The recent liberal (?) cut made by the gas company would be humorous indeed if it were not so tragic in its finality. It was a show of generosity, intended to head off any concerted move for reasonable rates. In reality this voluntary reduction is pure "camouflage". The small home owner, renter or apartment dweller, is is most in need of cheap fuel will not be benefited at all. Although his rent, groceries, clothing and other necessities have been reduced in a manner commensurate with the cuts in his pay check, he must still pay wartime prices for fuel.

Sound business cannot be restored so long as we allow public utilities to sap the country in open and flagrant violation of the basic laws of economics. When we calculate the market values of wheat, feed and cotton at prevailing prices, it can be easily shown that those three commodities will yield revenue sufficient to pay the gas, light, water and power bills of Lubbock county.

We just can't thrive on those things alone. The remedy is self-evident.

The Plainsman is to be congratulated on the fine start made last year toward an intelligent and exhaustive study of gas rates. You carried the ball right down the field in fine fashion but seem to have been satisfied by merely giving the boys a real scare. Why did you punt on first down when you lacked but a few feet for a touchdown? I'm for you, but keep it up.

The mayor and commission appear to be interested. They can and should act with vigor and courage. Amarillo got 27c gas because of a righteously aroused people and a determined fighting mayor and commission. We will not get anything better than the subterfuge already offered so long as we sit supinely by and twiddle our thu

If the mayor and commis would serve notice on the gas c pany that we would either them over or pay 35c, they w get busy. Why not? Sure they Governors are shutting down and gas companies in whole st without a show of resistance. have to be in the right, then easy.

I want the gas company to money. I know full well that l cannot thrive when capital l on its investment. Bpt all big c panies have either cut wages or their working forces. I do know facts but I'll dare say the gas c pany has done one or both.

The gas company enjoys a g monopoly on the business of South Plains. In all due fairnes should make sacrifices and bear proportional share of the burd of depression.

I am not just a chronic "grip I have paid the gas company in the last twelve months and h $65 on deposit with them for use of two meters. In considerat of that patronage, I feel tha have a just right to complain.

In conclusion, I openly challe the company, or its adherents, publicly defend the recent "f cut" and to show why we sho pay two and one-half times as m for gas as Amarillo is paying.

Sincerily yours,
A Consumer.
(Name on Request).

DEAR CONSUMER—For months The Plainsman suggested an investigation of natural gas rates and for 14 months the public read the articles, gave three silent cheers and went back to the miniature golf links. During that 14 months no less than a dozen of Lubbock's business leaders remonstrated with The Plainsman, saying the gas rates were o. k. and if they were not the public would have made itself heard. Finally The Plainsman decided he was on the wrong track, grew tired of being charged with being a nuisance and disturber. Perhaps this will answer your question in Paragraph 5. Yours truly, The Plainsman.)

Grasshopper Plague Causes Big Damage in West

Here are scenes from the "grasshopper belt" in Nebraska and North Dakota, where federal and state entomologists declare that the worst grasshopper plague they have ever seen is in progress. Fields of corn over areas covering counties are as bare as newly plowed ground, it is asserted. Bushes, flowers, gardens, trees—everything seems to taste good to grasshoppers, which feed morning and evening and eat five times their weight each day. Top picture was taken on the farm of J. H. Seiler near Butte, Neb., and shows farmers with a grasshopper trap on an alfalfa field; the hoppers jump or fly as the trap approaches and strike the sides of the trap, falling into oil troughs. The lower picture shows a closeup of hoppers on August Dummer's fruit trees near Gregory, S. D., where they ate bark and all and lay in heavy swarms on his house, fences and outbuildings.

HANKOW, China, Aug. 27. (AP)—The Yangtse river at Hankow maintained a steady level at fifty three feet today. Calm, pleasant weather succeeded Tuesday's typhoon, but many foreign buildings were weakened and their owners feared their collapse, with heavy losses.

Over Falls, Lives

Over the precipice of Niagara Falls, which has claimed the lives of hundreds of suicides, and lives to tell about it—if he could only talk! That was the experience of th's police dog, who, authorities believe, may have been following his mistress when he kept dashing into the river and coming back finally to be swept over the brink. A woman's clothing was found near where the dog left the shore. He was tossed clear of the huge rocks below the falls and rescued by John Kavanaugh, a concessionaire, shown with the dog above.

Richmond No Longer With Gas Division

AUSTIN, Aug. 27. (AP)—R. D. Parker, chief of the oil and gas division of the railroad commission, said today Ray Richmond, former umpire in chief in the East Texas field, no longer was connected with the oil and gas division.

Parker said the umpire system was abandoned when the new conservation law, passed at the recent special session of the legislature, became effective, and that in the future deputy oil and gas supervisors would be employed to handle the work formerly handled by umpires.

A. B. Capers, former deputy supervisor in the Crane and Upton field, is being considered to take charge of the East Texas field, Parker said.

Gifford Is Seeking Estimate Of Needs

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27. (AP)—An estimate of the total funds needed to prevent acute distress among unemployed next winter was sought today by Walter S. Gifford, national relief director, and his staff.

Among the evidence being gathered were statistics from the childrens' bureau of the labor department indicating distress will be materially greater during the approaching winter than last.

The children's bureau figures also indicated a larger portion of the burden probably will be borne by money derived from taxation than for voluntary contributions to charitable organizations.

Seeing two men wearing leather gloves on a hot day a London detective shrewdly suspected that they were preparing to commit a crime that would leave no fingerprint clue, and when he followed them he caught them breaking into a house.

CHICAGO PRICES

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP)—Easiness of wheat prices at Liverpool led to scattered selling on the board of trade today and prices sagged. Wheat started 1-8 to 5-8 cent lower and later showed little change. Corn opened 1-4 to 3-4 off and then steadied.

Police Brutality Is Being Probed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Department of justice agents today were investigating charges that Washington policemen had resorted to brutal third degree methods in their efforts to obtain confessions.

Impetus was lent the inquiry by President Hoover. After hearing a recital of reports that men had been kicked and beaten in local jails he arranged the conference between federal authorities and city officials which set the investigation under way.

Late yesterday Acting Attorney General Thomas D. Thacker handed newspapermen a slip of paper saying the request of district commissioners had been acceded to and that "a vigorous investigation will be conducted by the department of justice." He added later that the inquiry was under way.

Bobbie, a pekinese owned by Mr. and Mrs. Eagle, was awarded a medal at the Croxley, England, canine show for rousing them by pulling the bedclothes when fire broke out in their house.

Modern Reveres Take a Ride

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

SAID Scouty, "It is lots of fun to watch how furniture work is done. I think the workman's clever. Maybe we can help a bit. I'd like to push a real sharp saw." Another Tiny answered, "Aw, I don't think you could make a chair on which I'd care to sit."

The workman heard their chatter and he said, "Well, you can lend a hand. I have some chairs all finished. Would you like to paint a few" "You bet!" cried Clowny. "'Twill be fun and they will very soon be done. Nice painting is the one thing that we all know how to do."

So pots of paint were brought right out and soon the Tinies set about the task that was before them. Watching them was quite a sight. "Be careful," said the Travel Man, "and do the best job that you can. It's better to take longer and be sure the job is right."

It wasn't long until one chair was finished. Scouty shouted, "There! How does that look?" The workman answered, "Very fine indeed!" The Travel Man then said, "Well, we upon our way must shortly be. We're going to Peru and we will take a plane for speed."

They bid the furniture man goodby and soon were sailing through the sky. The town of Huancayo was their landing point and gee, it was a very pretty place. A smile spread on each Tiny's face. Soon Coppy said, "I have a hunch that some fine things we'll see."

And he was right. The sights were rare. One Tiny said, "Look over there!" He pointed to some women who were sitting on the ground. "They're making shawls and fine scarfs, too," the Travel Man said. "All of you can watch them, if you care to." So the Tinies gathered 'round.

MUSSOLINI AND POPE AGREE

CATHOLIC CLUBS ARE EXPECTED TO OPEN UNDER PLAN

ROME, Aug. 27 (AP)—Premier Mussolini and Pope Pius are understood to have agreed on the general terms of a settlement by which the 15,000 Catholic action clubs in Italy will be reopened.

A number of details remain to be settled, but it was said at the Vatican an accord is expected within a week, perhaps within a few days.

The agreement in prospect, it is understood, contemplates withdrawal of the police order which closed all the Catholic action clubs in Italy last May. Another order would be issued dissolving all organizations for youth unless they are affiliated with fascist organizations.

This would avoid a direct attack on the clubs as Catholic organizations but it would affect the Catholic action clubs and the Knights of Columbus. Such a settlement would have its points for both sides. The pontiff would have attained his object of reopening the clubs and the premier would be able to say that by closing them in the first place the police were able to check any political tendencies which might have existed.

The secondary aspects of the controversy such as protests against violence and demands for apologies and indemnities probably will be ignored, it is thought.

SOUTH PLAINS GROUP SEEKING SLASH IN COTTON RATES

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be asked to intervene through its traffic bureau in behalf of the South Plains in an attempt to gain readjustments of cotton freight rates, the executive committee of the South Plains Freight Rate association voted here Wednesday.

The regional organization was authorized to take whatever action it deemed necessary in securing relief for the cotton shippers.

Reports Are Heard

Meeting at the chamber of commerce offices here in an all-day session, the executive committee of the freight rate association heard reports of Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield, president of the body, and A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, who went to Dallas last week to consult traffic experts and attorneys on the new cotton freight rates ordered by the interstate commerce commission. Chamber of commerce secretaries, compress operators, railway officials and other interested persons attended the conference and took part in the discussions.

Doss Berry of San Angelo and Maury Hopkins of Plainview, manager of the traffic bureau and assistant manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, respectively, attended the meeting.

Rates Are Costly

New cotton rates will cost South Plains shippers about $200,000 annually in additional freight costs. Removal of the rate boost is the aim of the South Plains Rate association.

Members of the executive committee present were: Arthur P. Duggan, A. B. Davis, H. B. Adams, Lockney; Percy Ralls, Ralls; W. W. Evans, Lamesa; R. M. Kendrick, Brownfield.

Visitors attending were: P. T. Calloway, Lubbock; W. M. Romane, Crosbyton; E. Kancher, Lubbock; Frank Perkins, Lockney; E. A. Henry, Ralls; H. S. Crews, Brownfield; D. H. Berry, San Angelo; J. W. MARSHAL HENRI PETAIN WHO STEMMED TIDE OF DEFEAT AT VERDUN BREAKS POLICY TO TALK ABOUT TRIP TO U. S.

BY ADELAIDE KERR
Associated Press Staff Writer
Copyright By Associated Press

PARIS, Aug. 27 (AP) — Marshal Henri Petain, who stemmed the tide of defeat at Verdun, broke his policy of never seeing an interviewer today and talked about his coming visit to the United States for the Yorktown celebrations.

In his secluded office in the Invalides, surrounded by soldiers who disliked to salute the former commander in chief of the French armies a stocky 75 year old warrior, chatted as easily as though he were at a tea.

Dressed in civilian clothes, he his chair and fired his rapid French leaned forward on the edge of with machine-gun like precision.

Has A Mission

"I have a mission to America," he said, discussing his visit in October to attend the ceremonies commemorating the battle of Yorktown 150 years ago.

"My mission is to express the gratitude of the French for America's wonderful aid in the World war. I doubt whether the war could have been won without it.

"America did for France during the World war just what the French under Lafayette had done for the United States—helped preserve her liberty."

Asked what things he was most interested in exploring in the United States, the marshal said:

"L'esprit Americain—the American spirit. It's one of the most wonderful in the world, even more enthusiastic than the French. I am not so interested in the gigantic things of America—the skyscrapers, Niagara Falls and such. It is that wonderful American spirit I want to see."

Urges New Party

A. J. Muste (above), of New York, chairman of the Conference for Progress, in Labor Action, and director of Brookwood Labor College, has asserted that neither the Socialist or Communist party is fit to build a "planned economy" in the United States. He urged the formation of a new political party during a recent speech at the Summer School for industrial workers at Barnard College.

DALLAS WOMAN SEEKING TO FIND HER PARENTS; APPEAL SENT TO LUBBOCK

Believed a resident of West Texas, a Mrs. Palmer who conducted a boarding house in Dallas in 1889 or 1890 is sought by Mrs. H. A. Thompson, 1705 Peabody avenue, Dallas. Mrs. Thompson is searching for information pertaining to her parents, who lived at Mrs. Palmer's boarding house, which was near the old union station.

"A young couple by the name of Roberts resided at the boarding house run by Mrs. Palmer," Mrs. Thompson advised. "Late in 1889 or 1890, Mr. Roberts died of pneumonia, shortly before a child was born to Mrs. Roberts. A baby girl was born to Mrs. Roberts on May 11, 1890. Mrs. Roberts died shortly after the child was born, leaving the baby in the care of Mrs. Palmer. The baby was adopted by Col. and Mrs. Hathaway, who left soon after the adoption for an extended visit in New Orleans.

"I was that baby," Mrs. Thompson continued. "It was not until a short time ago that I was informed of the incidents of my babyhood, or of the fact that my mother's father came to Dallas for the baby. My grandfather, failing in his effort to locate the child, returned to Illinois or Kentucky, after being informed that the baby had died in New Orleans.

"I feel that Mrs. Palmer would be able to give me some information where I might find my mother's folks and for that reason I am anxious to get in touch with her," Mrs. Thompson said.

Whoever coined that word "scot-free" must have been thinking of two other fellows.

Sen. Hawes Returns From Philippines

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27 (AP)—Senator Harry B. Hawes of Missouri, advocate of independence for the Philippines, has returned to the United States after several weeks of study in the Orient.

"The American people and the American newspapers are entitled to have the truth about the Philippines," said the senator on his arrival aboard the President Grant. "Special propaganda sent from Manila does not give the facts.

"Uncertainty has paralyzed progress in the islands. It is holding things at a standstill. All agree, both Americans and Filipinos, that congress should clarify the situation. There is only disagreement as to the matter of time."

Campbell Is Named In Baptist Drive

DALLAS, Aug. 27 (AP)—Baptist state headquarters announced today that seventeen leading ministers over the state had accepted appointments as leaders in the canvass among members for $6,500,000 to be conducted this fall.

Ministers named were: S. H. Maples, Pittsburgh; Porter Bailes, Tyler; J. H. Pace, Beaumont; T. C. Jester, Houston; O. L. Smith, Brownsville; Jesse Yelvington, San Antonio, Winston Borum, Pecos; P. C. McGahey, Snyder; R. C. Campbell, Lubbock; E. T. Miller, Memphis; McKinney Norman, Quanah; C. E. Hereford, Fort Worth; J. F. Murrell, Denison; F. B. Thorn, Waco; J. L. Whorton, Bryan; R. L. Powell, San Angelo; and J. Henry Littleton, Hamilton.

Arthur Davis, seven years of age, rescued Jessie Goodhew, four, from a pond at Edmonton, England, by tying a rope to a tire, with which he pulled her to the bank.

JOIN THE
Silvertown Safety League

Every day you meet more cars displaying this emblem—which shows how the League is growing. Get your emblem here.

WE didn't know so many people were AROUSED about automobile accidents.

They ARE. They're flocking to this store. Signing the pledge of the Silvertown Safety League. Putting the emblem of the League on their cars. Taking a STAND against the heedless, reckless operation of automobiles.

We have a pledge ready for you. The rules in this pledge were developed by drivers of the famous Silver Fleet. Testing Silvertown Tires, each of the cars in the Fleet covers 650 miles every 24 hours. Ten cars, on the average—6500 test-miles a day! Yet in FIVE MILLION MILES OF THIS HARD DRIVING NOT ONE PERSON HAS BEEN INJURED!...Thus the rules in the pledge have proved their power to prevent accidents, save lives!

Sign the pledge, follow the rules yourself. You, your family, will be safer.

We will put the handsome chromium emblem of the League on your car, identifying you as a SAFE DRIVER. Without cost.

Come in NOW. This nation-wide battle for safety needs YOU.

We make a generous trade-in allowance for your old, doubtful tires—ride on safety-tested Silvertowns!

MY PLEDGE AS A MEMBER
THE SILVERTOWN SAFETY LEAGUE
I AGREE . . .

1 To drive at speeds in keeping with the safety of others as well as myself.
2 To keep on the right side of the road, except when passing.
3 To pass only when I know there are ample time and space—never on blind curves or when nearing the crest of a hill.
4 To go through intersections only when I have the right of way.
5 To observe all traffic signals.
6 To give signals myself that can be clearly seen and understood, before turning or stopping in traffic.
7 To drive only when in full possession of my faculties.
8 To keep my brakes, lights, and horn in good condition.
9 To operate my car on tires which assure a positive grip on the road—safe traction—and freedom from hazardous tire failures.

These rules have proved their ability to prevent accidents in 5,000,000 miles of safe driving.
