Two adult patrolman were hired, and extra measures were outlined for the safety of Slaton's school children during the forthcoming term at the regular meeting of the City Commission Monday night.

Police Chief Gene Martin was present at the meeting and discussed all the precautionary measures that would be taken. He was authorized by the commission to interview and hire the two extra patrolmen.

Named to fill the posts were Eldy Murphy and Nick Neu, who will work three hours during each school day to insure the safe passage of all students going and coming from school at West Ward and Junior High.

Also, City Patrolman Ed Taylor has been put in charge of the organization of schoolboy patrols, who will also aid in assuring the safe of children during the heavy traffic hours.

Also at the meeting, J. C. Oakley of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company appeared regarding the extension of franchise expiring September 22, 1961. The commission voted to grant the extension, with the final approval being made by City Attorney Claude Cravens.

• • • •

The commission voted to install a street light at the intersection of South 13th and West Powers Street.

• • • •

City secretary J. J. Maxey presented a request from the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority for thirty cents per water meter assessment to take care of operating budget for the balance of this year and the first six months of 1962. The commission voted to pay the assessment.

The secretary also presented the 1961 tax roll completed and advised that it showed an increase of $4,500.67 over the 1960 roll. This increase is due to new building and a slight adjustment in personal property taxes. The commission voted to accept the tax roll as presented.

Attending the meeting were Don Crow, Dick Cheatam and Bil Townsend, representing the Parent Teachers Association, regarding the precautionary measures regarding the safety of children on West Division Street adjacent to the West Ward School.

Farmer & Merchant Dinner To Be Held Tuesday Night

Slaton's Fourth Annual Farmer-Merchant Night Dinner was postponed until next Tuesday, due to the imminent threat of inclimate weather.

Officials announced this week that although the weather cleared prior to Tuesday night, the decision had to be made 24 hours in advance in order to insure the catering service, and at the early time the bad weather had been predicted.

The Dinner will now be held next Tuesday, September, 19th, and it was stressed that if the weather is bad this Tuesday, then the dinner will be held in a building of the Union Compress, and will not be postponed again.

The event will begin at 6:30 p. m. in the Little League Ball Park if weather is nice, and otherwise will begin at the same time in a marked building at the Compress.

So all persons can plan to attend and be certain that it will be held.

Host tickets are still available at the Chamber of Commerce office, and guest tickets may be had by farmers from their local gin.

All Slaton Schools But One Show Increased Enrollment

Enrollment figures were released this week from Dr. Lee Vardy, superintendent of schools, for the separate schools of the city.

Slaton High School showed an increase of 20 students, enrolling 361 this year as compared with 341 last year.

The Junior High School remained exactly the same, with a registration of 389.

Evans indicated the largest gain of all the schools, with an increase of 70. They enrolled 234 last year and have 305 this year.

The only school to lose was West Ward, with a drop of 46 students, from 611 last year to 565 this year.

Stephen F. Austin gained 19, having 227 this year and 208 last year.

Overall, the Slaton public schools gained in enrollment by 64 students, with a total of 1783 last year and 1847 this year.

STRIPING THE STREETS -- Pictured above are Street Superintendent Grady Elder, left, along with Rusty Hendricks, center an employee of the city, and new city patrolman Nick Neu as the walkways for the school children are being marked off. The marking is part of the new measures being taken to protect children enroute to and from school. Neu is one of two patrolman who will work exclusively in the school areas directing traffic. ers Upset Idalou By 12-6; Meet Rotan Here Friday Night s Tigers, going against predicted me from behind Friday night to tough Idalou Wildcats by 12-6, rd-fought, hard-hitting contest. spending a scoreless first half, rs fell behind by six points in quarter, then bounded back to two ns in the final period to roster st victory for the young season.

ertiller, shifted to acking post after ame, scored the touchdown with a g play around 16 yards out. quarter, hard-driving halfback Steve Ball plowed off tackle 15 yards into the end zone to gain the leading margin over the Wildcats.

• • • •

Idalou first scored when they recovered a Tiger fumble on Slaton's 20-yard line. One play put them at the Tiger 14, and then halfback J. T. Benton skirted the end for the first score of the night.

Although Idalou's touted offense threatened on three occasions during the first half, the Slaton forward wall managed to stop them on every attempt.

Offensively, the Tigers couldn't get rolling on sustained drives throughout the first two periods.

• • • •

Although in many departments, the Tigers showed marked improvement from their pass defense.

The hard-charging linemen gave Wildcat quarterback Tony Rodriquez little time, and the secondary saw to it that the previously touted passer completed only two of 16 attempts, while intercepting four of the Idalou aerials.

• • • •

Deserving large credit for the victory over Idalou were the Tiger linemen, who dug in and stymied the Wildcat offense when it threatened to penetrate the deep Tiger territory.

Standouts for the Tiger defense were guards John George, and reliefer Ascension Perez, who broke into the regular action through the injury of the regular starter, Paul Dubbs.

Youth Injured In Bicycle, Car Accident

Jay Dial, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Dial, 765 South 16th, was listed in critical condition after being involved in a car-bicycle accident last Friday night.

Hospitalized in Methodist Hospital, Jay received compound fractures of both legs, head injuries, and possible internal injuries.

The accident happened when the youth was riding his bicycle at 19th and Division.

Benefit Film At Drive-In Tonight

A benefit show, with donations to go to the Derrel Payne family will be held at the Caprock Drive-In Theater tonight only, Sept. 14th, it was announced this week by owners.

The film, entitled "Gift Of Love," is in Technicolor and features Lauren Bacall and Robert Stack.

Owners stated that no particular charge would be made, and persons could donate what they wished. Payne recently underwent surgery, and is presently hospitalized in Galveston.

White Is Second Winner In Contest

H. H. White of Slaton won the first place prize of $5 in The Slatonite's Cotton Bowl football contest last week, predicting 9 winners out of 11 games.

The nine correct predictions were matched by several other contestants, but White won the prize on the tie-breaker.

White joins Pete Harris on the list of winners. Harris won the $5 prize last week and is tied with White in the race for the Cotton Bowl trip.

Last week's winner says he enjoys predicting the games whether he wins or not, and says that he doesn't study the teams involved, but merely "plays his hunches." They paid off for him last week.

Nod Given To Rotan In Tigers' Tussle Set For Home Stadium

Slaton's Tigers, fresh from a bruising victory over Idalou, go against Rotan's Yellowhammers in another home game Friday night beginning at 8 p.m.

The two teams will go into the game with equal records. The Tigers fell in their opener to Canyon by 50-6 before dumping Idalou, and Rotan trounced Ranger by 41-20 before falling to perennially powerful Crowell by 29-8.

Rotan had scored 49 points while allowing its opponents to same amount.

Slaton, on the hand, has given up 65 points, chiefly to Canyon, while scoring 18.

Coach M. W. Kerr's squad will still be hampered by injuries and will be extremely short of depth in a few key spots.

Guard Paul Dubbs, who was hurt last Friday night, will probably not be able to see action, but will be replaced by Ascencion Perez, who proved to be a highly capable defensive man in last week's action.

Also remaining on the recuperation list is fullback Kelly Bownds, who has been suffering from an injured shoulder since a pre-season scrimmage.

The nod of the odds would have to go to the Yellowhammers, who have more experience and a better record against outstanding area teams.

Lineups for the game are as follows:

Pos.	Slaton Tigers Name	No.	Wt.
C	J. Chriesman	50	210
G	J. George	64	150

Webber Tefertiller, Slaton's versatile back, was named "Player of the Week" following the 12-6 victory over Idalou here last Friday night.

Tefertiller opened the season at Canyon at halfback, accounting for much of the Tigers' yardage there, and then was shifted to quarterback for the Idalou game.

Last Friday he scored one of the Slaton touchdowns, and achieved a 3.8 per-yard average carrying the ball. For the two games played, Tefertiller had gained 70 yards running, and has accounted for 70 yards through passing.

Other players receiving votes close to Tefertiller were guard John George and backs Steve Ball and Kelly Bownds.

A FRESH SUPPLY

Text; I Chronicles 16-11 Seek the Lord and his strength, Seek his face continually. Also read Exodus 16-11 through Verse 18.

A small boy once decided that eating was quite a waste of time, since it interfered too much with his plans.

"I know what I'll do," He told his mother, "I'll eat a big breakfast, and then I can stay outside and play all day. You won't need to call me at lunch time." But when noon came, his mother was not at all surprised to see him coming into the house and taking his place at the table. He had learned that no matter how much he ate, he could not store up extra meals.

When God provided Manna (bread from heaven) for the children of Isreal to eat in the wilderness, He also gave some simple instructions. The people were to gather a fresh supply every day. They could not store it up. If they did, it became stale and unfit to eat.

Some Christians get so busy they are tempted to neglect daily prayer and Bible reading. They go to Church and Sunday School on Sundays and expect to store up enough spiritual food to last a whole week. But this once-a-week diet soon leaves a Christian starved and weak. We need fresh spuritual food every day if we are to be strong, healthy Christians.

Hearing Set For Brand Inspections

A public hearing has been scheduled by the U.S. Department of Agriculture to consider a request by the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association Inc., Fort Worth, for authorization to perform limited brand inspection services at posted stockyards.

This hearing, scheduled for Sept. 18-20, will be held in the Lower Colorado River Authority Building, 3600 Lake Drive, Austin, Texas. It will be conducted by a USDA Hearing Examiner. The hearing will enable USDA to determine whether the requested authorization, or some modification should be granted.

At the hearing all interested persons will be given an opportunity to present data, views, or arguments concerning the application either in person or through an attorney.

Persons who desire to be heard should notify the Director, Packers and Stockyards Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., on or before Sept. 13, so arrangements may be made for scheduling witnesses.

Written statements or briefs (filed in quadruplicate) may be submitted at the hearing or to the P&S Division Director on or before Sept. 27.

The Packers and Stockyards Act provides that the Secretary of Agriculture may authorize the charging and collection at posted stockyards of a fee for the inspection of brands, marks, and other identifying characteristics of livestock to determine ownership. This authorization may be given in any State where branding or marking, or both, prevail by custom or statute.

Since 1943, the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association has had an authorization to perform and charge for brand inspection services. In June of this year, USDA's Judicial Officer revoked the authorization on the basis of evidence presented at a public hearing in 1959. The revocation was originally to become effective Sept. 1, but was subsequently postponed until Nov. 1.

Evidence presented at the 1959 hearing showed that the majority of cattle marketed at Texas stockyards operating under the P&S Act are not branded or marked for identification purposes. It was concluded that the authorization was not in the public interest, and should be revoked.

In his Decision and Order, the Judicial Officer said the revocation did not prevent the association from applying for another authorization "of a limited nature." Subsequently, the association applied to the Secretary of Agriculture for a new authorization to perform and charge for brand inspection services on all cattle, exclusive of dairy breed calves less than one month of age.

Proven Success Story

Sell Ham, Hose Or Houses

Arrants Wholesale Meats and Lockers, a regular advertiser in the Slatonite, has an interesting success story to tell regarding its sustained local advertising program, which is built around a weekly message in the Slatonite.

In a recent issue, Arrants advertised only one item--picnic hams at a special price. The Slatonite was the only media used to advertise this special buy.

Arrants sold all the picnic hams advertised shortly after the Slatonite was delivered to the more than 2,000 homes in the Slaton trade area.

Write Your Own Success Story

Arrants is only one of the family of Slatonite advertisers who have reported exceptional success with their newspaper advertising program.

No single media, nor combination has the proven selling ability of the Slatonite in the sprawling Slaton Trade Territory.

To launch your firm on a successful advertising program that will bring results you can be proud of, phone VA 8-4201 and a Slatonite representative will start immediately to help design and carry out a program that will be worth much more than the cost.

A lovely story of the Middle Ages tells of a famous clown who entered a temple and found it empty. Moved by a religious impulse, he wanted to make an offering in honor of God. He had no gold to give, no gems, only the tricks of his trade. They were all he knew. So, approaching the altar, he began to do his tricks in praise of his Maker. He did them reverently, using his finest art.

Some priests entering the temple just at that time were horrified to find the clown doing his tricks before the altar. They were about to throw him out, when suddenly the chief among them raised his hand and rebuked the rest, but blessed the clown, for the clown was praising God with all the talents he possessed.

Weekly Market Cotton Review

Spot cotton prices continued to edge upward this week, according to the Department of Agriculture. Trading was moderately active in country markets but limited elsewhere. Most buying was confined to cotton needed for nearby commitments. Prices for cotton gray goods advanced in August but averaged six percent lower than a year earlier, and mill margins averaged 21 percent narrower than in August last year. Rain slowed harvesting operations in some sections of the belt.

Spot market activity was increasing. Shipper interest remained slow. Producers were not offering too freely. Domestic mill inquiries were fairly numerous. Interest from abroad was moderate. Harvest was advancing with warm, clear weather prevailing.

SPOT PRICES advanced in the Dallas and Lubbock markets but held steady at Galveston and Houston. The discounts narrowed about $2.50 per bale in the Dallas market. Activity in the country markets increased as harvest picked up momentum. There was fairly good demand for the current ginnings, mainly for the qualities below Middling 1." Country merchants were quite active buying in some markets on a hog round basis while in other places some specialized buying was in progress. Producers were offering freely in some markets when prices were substantially over loan values but in others only around 50 percent of the ginnings moved into trade channels. Loan entries were generally small in volume except when the ginnings were mostly Middling and higher grades. Short interests among the shippers were quite active buying the qualities needed for current needs. There was little buying for stock at the present time.

DOMESTIC MILL INTEREST was increasing according to reports. Inquiries were fairly numerous but prices continued to curtail some business. Inquiries covered a larger range of qualities but were best for the lower qualities. There was more interest in Middling and higher grades in the medium staples. The demand for lower grades of old crop cotton remained in good demand but in short supply. Mill purchases this week were moderate in volume, some for later delivery. Inquiries from abroad were not too numerous. The demand from European countries continued to be slow. Far eastern countries were fairly active; however, some slackening in buying was noticed. Sales to foreign countries were barely moderate in volume this week.

Through August 31, ginnings in Texas had a grade index of 95.9 (Middling White equals 100) and averaged 32.4 thirty-seconds of an inch in staple length. The Crop Reporting Board's September 1 estimate of the United States crop was 14,262,000 bales, Texas crop 4,600,000 bales, and Oklahoma 440,000 bales.

A cool front early in the week lowered temperatures to a low of 46 degrees in Lubbock causing some light to heavy rains in the northern parts of the Area. Harvest was about complete in the Valley and 85 percent complete in the Coastal Bend. Gins in central Texas were running around the clock clear, mild weather prevailing. Many producers in north and east Texas have applied defoliants and stripping is beginning to get under way. Crop prospects in central west Texas remain good but dryland acreage needed moisture. The crop on the South Plains is considered above the average.

Some Increase In Benefits For Widows

Widows 62 or over, who are collecting social security benefits based on their own work, did not get increases in their payments with the checks delivered to them this month, John G. Hutton, district manager of the Lubbock Social Security Office pointed out today. But some of them may find that they can get a small increase in their monthly payments by applying to their social security office.

The 10 percent increase in Widow's benefits, signed into law by President Kennedy on June 30, is payable to only those widows 62 or over who are receiving benefits based on their husband's work under social security, Hutton said.

Under the social security law, a widow 62 or over who has worked under social sucurity long enough to become insured is usually paid retirement benefits based on her own record or earnings. She is paid the widow's benefits based on her husbands' earnings only if those widow's benefits would be higher than her own retirement benefits.

Because of the ten percent increase in widow's benefits, Mr. Hutton said, a few women now find that the widow's benefits based on their husbands' work are somewhat higher than their present benefits.

Any widow who believes that she might qualify for higher benefits because of their change in the law can find out for sure by asking at her nearest social security office.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security office will be in Slaton on Tues, Sept. 19 at 1.30 p.m. in the Red Cross Room, City Hall and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to social security.

Tigers--

Offensively, Tefertiller, Ball and fullback Kelly Bownds furnished the main strength.

• • • •

Coach M. W. Kerr's gridders fell behind Idalou in total yards gained rushing by 192-145, but made up part of the gap in passing by 43-29.

Slaton lost two of three fumbles, while Idalou lost three of four.

For the season, the Tigers have gained a net yardage of 258 yards, with 75 offensive plays being initiated.

They have attempted 31 passes, completing seven for 145 yards.

The Tigers have punted 10 times for a 34.0 average.

Ball leads the backs in yardage, with a total of 106 yards, averaging 3.9 per carry. Next is Tefertiller with 70 yards for a 3.8 percentage and Bownds is third with 37 yards and a 2.8 per carry average.

Ronnie Edwards, who moved into the backfield for the Idalou game and was at end the week before, has 49 yards for a 3.2 average.

See related story on Sports Page issue on the forthcoming Rotan vs. Slaton game.

In the pouring rain, an impatient man stood under the marquee of a Park Avenue hotel, trying vainly to spot an unoccupied taxicab. "I've just got to get out to Idlewild Airport," he told the doorman.

"This one won't," agreed the impatient gent. "I'm the pilot."

Slaton Musicians Give Program For Heritage Club In Lubbock

Mrs. W. T. Scudder, accompanied by Don Edwards, presented a musical program at the meeting Thursday of Lubbock's Heritage Roundtable, held in the Lubbock Women's Clubhouse.

Mrs. Scudder played a Dulcimer, a musical instrument having metallic strings which is played with two light hammers. Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Edwards, accompanied her on the piano.

Also on the program was Mrs. Earl Reasoner, a teacher in the Slaton schools.

The instrument played by Mrs. Scudder has been in the family for at least 100 years, and she has been playing it since her childhood. It has been in her possession for about 30 years.

The hammers, which came from the factory with the instrument wore out long ago, so Mrs. Scudder made some new ones. She fashioned them with corset staves on which she glued fishing corks covered with pieces of old kid gloves.

Don, a graduate of Slaton High School, will continue his studies in music at West Texas State in Canyon.

AN OPEN LETTER TO DRIVERS AS SCHOOL OPENS

Driver:

my daughter, who is old, started to school. a dark blue dress with ollar, black shoes and s. Her cocker spaniel, t on the front porch d his canine belief ly of education as she dbye.

we talked about he told me about the sits in front of her little girl with the ls, and the boy across ho makes funny faces. me about her teacher, yes in the back of her about the trees in l yard, and about the ho doesn't believe in us. We talked about a gs . . . tremendously ortant things. ied spelling, reading g, and then to bed. there now, up in her sound asleep. And "Princess Elizabeth" (her doll) is cuddled in her arm.

You guys wouldn't hurt her, would you? You see, when her doll's finger is cut, or when a leg is broken, I can fix it. But when my little girl starts to school, when she walks across the street . . . well, then she is in your hands.

She's a nice kid. She can run like a deer, and darts about like a chipmunk. She likes to ride her tricycle and go for a walk with me on Sunday afternoon.

But I can't be with her all the time. I have to work to pay for her clothes and education. So, won't you please look out for her and the other children.

Please drive slowly past the schools and intersections . . . and please remember that children forget---you must not.

A Father.

FOR and AGAINST

for CHRIST-against COMMUNISM

BY BILLY JAMES HARGIS, LL.D.
FOUNDER CHRISTIAN CRUSADE

The Political Strike - A Prerequisite of Communist Conquest

During hearings of the House Committee on Un-American Activities in Washington, D.C. on June 10, 1960 Karl Prussion, former FBI undercover agent in the Communist Party, spoke of a general political strike as one of the prerequisites to communist conquest of a nation. He said: "The fourth prerequisite of a revolution...is a trade union movement that the Communist Party can successfully actuate into a political strike.

"A political strike is different from an economic and social strike, such as wages, working conditions, et cetera, in that it is a strike against law, against legislation or some other political issue. Such a strike, for example, was recently threatened by Walter Reuther when he stated, in effect, that if the Taft-Hartley Act was invoked in the steel strike, he would call a slowdown strike within the CIO. This would have been a political strike. Harry Bridges has many times stated that he will call a political strike of his longshoremen if there is a war in which he and his union are not in accord. A more recent example...of a political strike was the recent strike called by the leftwing trade union movement against Eisenhower's visit and against the treaty that we are now concluding with Japan."

Back in 1920, in his book, "Left-Wing Communism, An Infantile Disorder", Lenin pointed out the importance of political strikes to the communist plot for conquest. He wrote of such strikes in Russia during 1905. Regarding these strikes Lenin said: "...backward Russia was the first to show the world...a combination of the economic strike and the political strike, the transformation of the latter into armed insurrection, and the birth of a new form of mass struggle and mass organization of the classes oppressed by capitalism..." Stalin described the "political general strike" as "an indispensable means of mobilizing and organizing the vast masses of the proletariat on the eve of storming the citadels of capitalism..."

In order to prepare American union members for the final overthrow of our form of government, the communist conspirators have been working cleverly for years to sell them the class warfare theory which pictures all employers as the oppressors of their employees. From time to time communist conspirators have succeeded in leading American workers out on foolish strikes, and many strikes which are not led by communists stem from the class warfare hatred which has been sold to union members and leaders. Such blindness to the manipulations of America's enemies helps bring closer the fatal day when the communists plan to act as the vanguard in leading misled working men and youth into a violent overthrow of the American Republic.

THE Peripatetic VIEW

by C.E.G.

If you wake up some morning and you find a hungry tiger on your front porch what would you do? Would you start throwing him all the food in your house to keep him from getting so hungry he'll eat you, or would you go get your gun and blow his head off?

Chances are you wouldn't even try to feed him, and if you did then pretty soon when the pantry went dry you'd have to shoot him anyhow.

But if you ask the tiger what he thinks, then likely he would much rather promise that if you kept chunking him some raw beef then he'd leave you alone. At least until you ran out of beef and by then you might be so hungry and worried you would miss when you started shooting.

And ol' tiger would then walk away with you and your pantry both.

* * * *

A few years ago we woke up and found us a tiger on the front porch of the nation. Hungry K and the Communists were there peeking in the front door and what happened? We started unloading the pantry. Every now and then we would look out and see some passerby without a house get eaten up, but we kept thinking that our door was too strong and as long as he's eating other people, then what does he want with us?

But recently he's run out of other people, and he's become so fat and wooly that he's eyeing our big door now and we don't quite know ourselves whether it'll hold or not.

* * * *

And what is so particularly disgusting is when you start making any mild mention of the situation, you find those who have been so intimidated by the goopers that they call you crazy, reactionary, alarmists etc.

* * * *

I have been asked on occasion what brought about the remarks I have made in the past about H. M. Baggarly, and this is the reason. Because he and thousands others like him are either in complete accord with the communist aims or they are so stupid they can't tell the difference.

Baggarly, who published the Tulia Herald, jumps at every chance to malign and besmirch the names of all persons who actively oppose Communism, Baggarly waves the flag of liberalism, but it has been such specimens as he that have hurt the true conscientious liberals.

* * * *

To quote facts, three times in the past two months Baggarly has used the columns in his paper to make fun of "fanatics" who are making active the fight against Communism. He even maligned John Tower before he took office simply because Tower was a conservative.

* * * *

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said: "We are at war with the Communists, and the sooner every red-blooded American realizes this the better off we will be."

* * * *

I wonder if Baggarly made fun of the soldiers who fought World War II and called them fanatics? If he didn't, then we must assume one of three things. Either Baggarly is far wiser than Hoover; or Baggarly is in agreement with the recent Communist manifesto which said: Stop the active anti-Communist movement which has begun in America at all costs.

* * * *

Khrushev is still holding thousands of German prisoners in Russia from the last war. If one of those were Baggarly's brother, I wonder how quick he would be to insult those who opposed Communism in America?

* * * *

If Baggarly had immigrated from Warsaw, Poland, I wonder if he might not agree with Tom Anderson who says, "They are an imminent threat to our freedom."

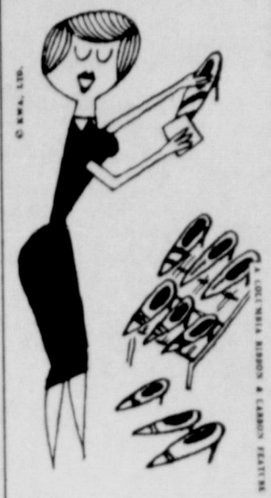

* * * *

Baggarly claims to be an enemy of Communism, and if he is, then I wish all my enemies were as helpful as he.

* * * *

And when the Tiger gets his foot in the front door, I wonder how quick Baggarly will be to call on someone who thought to load the gun?

Underground Water In 11 Counties Termed As An "Invaluable Asset"

Information on underground water resources of an 11 county West Texas area compiled and published by the West Texas Geological Society has been recognized by the Board of Water Engineers as an "invaluable asset" in the State program to determine depths to which fresh water should be protected in that area.

Titled "Shalow Formations and Aquifers of the West Texas Area," the publication is is the work of the Society's Ground Water Committee which was formed in 1957 at the request of the State Board of Water Engineers. The report contains 16 cross sections of water bearing formations located in eleven counties of the Permian Basin. Counties included are Andrews, Crane, Ector, Gaines, Garza, Hockley, Loving, Lubbock, Midland, Reeves and Yoakum. The report was submitted for the Society's Ground Water Committee by its Chairman, John M. Hills of Midland. Other members of the committee are Otis B. Coulson, Tom Culbertson, David N. Grimes, Robert B. Haynie, Charles H. Juni, Robert M. Neil, Lucky L. Tonroy, B. M. Hanson, and T. A. Fitzgerald. Work of compiling the data began under the chairmanship of Tom Culbertson.

"We believe that this compilation will be of considerable value to engineers, geologists, geophysicists, hydrologists, and others who must deal with the shallow beds in the Permian Basin area of West Texas," the Committee stated.

A foreword explains that the cross sections, compiled from oil company drilling logs, Board of Water Engineers' ground water bulletins, and other sources, present the geological setting of porous beds which are known or thought to contain important supplies of water.

"The cross sections included in this publication are an invaluable asset in our program to determine the depths to which fresh water should be protected in these 11 West Texas counties," Chief Engineer John J. Vandertulip of the Board of Water Engineers said in a letter to Mr. Hills.

Vandertulip also stated, "Our agency's primary problem is to protect fresh water. Data contained in this new report will assist us in the preparation of recommendations to the Railroad Commission and to the Oil Industry."

Recommendations by the Board of Water Engineers are made to the Railroad Commission and oil operators on the depths to which strata containing water of usable quality require protection in drilling and production operations to prevent their contamination.

Bumper Grain Sorghum Crop On High Plains Predicted

Harvest of what may be another bumper grain sorghum crop on the Texas High Plains is starting in the southern part of the Plains, Frank Moore, Plainview farmer, who is president of the Grain Sorghum Producers Assn., said this week as he announced expansion of that organization.

In existence since late 1956, the GSPA has worked continuously in behalf of grain sorghum producers and has become recognized as the only sorghum commodity group of the nation.

Work of the GSPA, while representing just about all farmers who produce grain sorghum, has been supported and directed mainly by producers in the area to the north of Lubbock up to the Oklahoma line.

For the first time this year, the organization is attempting to enlarge its representation and support and extend its boundaries southward over most of the High Plains. County organizations will be set up to give producers in each county a voice in the GSPA and representation on its board.

Elevator operators throughout the south portion of the Plains are now being contacted along with direct contact to producers about support of the grain sorghum research, market development and service program. Funds for the organization are made possible by producers through a deduction of two pounds per thousand from grain sorghum deliveries at local elevators.

Moore said that additional information on the grain sorghum organization will be published later, to show results accomplished thus far and plans for future work.

Make Your Pond Safe

To youngsters, summertime is swimming time. This is especially true of rural children, many of whom have a convenient farm pond available. Unfortunately, many of these swimming excursions end in tragedy. All too often you read stories about children drowning while swimming in a farm or ranch pond.

W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer, says most of the drownings that occur in farm ponds could be prevented if a few simple safety precautions were taken. The first thing to remember is to never let anyone, adult or child, swim alone. Children should never, under any circumstances, be allowed to play alone anywhere near the pond.

It is also a good idea to keep life preservers handy.

Agricultural Resea Theme Of Dedicati

Agricultural Research on the Texas High Plains -- Past and Future, will be the theme of open house dedication ceremonies at the new Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Sub-Station No. 8 at Lubbock.

The new 320-acre expanded research farm is located just north of Lubbock's Municipal Airport on Farm Road 1294. It will be open to the public for the first time on Sept. 19 between 1 and 6 p.m. with guided tours over the station scheduled. Visitors will be allowed to visit the various research laboratories and other station facilities.

Earl Rudder, president of Texas A&M College, along with other top officials of the Texas A&M College System and Texas Experiment Station and Extension Service of College Station, will be on hand. Rudder will make a brief address on "South Plains Research, Past and Future."

Charles Fisher, superintendent of the new Lubbock station, explained the chief function of agricultural research by saying it seeks the whats, whys, whens, wheres and the hows of hundreds of problems confronting operators of farm and ranchers throughout the area, plus the many industries depending on or serving agriculture.

HOW YOU AND GOD CAN MEET ANY CHALLENGE

When I was a little boy, our neighbor, Mr. Raimer, bought a new Chevrolet. Later, in an accident, the car turned over and pinned his son under it. I saw Mr. Raimer pick up one end of that car by himself and lift it completely off his child. I saw that.

How did he do it? God, who created our bodies, has placed within us the power and strength to meet challenges. It was not normally possible for Mr. Raimer to lift such a weight, but that extra God-given power flooded his being and for a few minutes it made him a superman—well able to meet this challenge.

A well-known man once said, "There are no great men, only great challenges that ordinary men are forced to meet." I believe he should have said, "There are only great challenges that God helps ordinary men to meet."

Consider the story of Moses. Living far back in the desert, Moses was an ordinary shepherd watching his flock day by day. The Bible tells us that he was slow of speech and tongue. Many scholars feel that he suffered a speech impediment, and with his plain dress, he was an ordinary man—a simple shepherd.

But Moses was concerned that his people, the Israelites, were prisoners and slaves to the Egyptians. Being filled with the Spirit of God, Moses challenged the Egyptian Pharaoh. And not only did he face Pharaoh, but with God's guidance he succeeded in obtaining the release of the Israelites.

Just think about it: An ordinary man, faced with the awesome challenge of freeing an entire captive nation, was able to lead his people from bondage because God helped him. Without God, a shepherd with a halting tongue could never have faced an Egyptian monarch and come away victorious!

I believe that any person can meet the difficult challenges that life offers if he will join himself to a power greater than himself. That power is God. A person can say, as did the Apostle Paul, "I can do all things through Christ which

STATEMENT MADE

Jack Cox Shifts Parties For Future Work In Politics

For over a decade, loyal, thinking Texans who value their political independence, the rights of the states, the sound financial handling of the taxpayers' money and constitutional government have been faced with a dire political dilemma: The customary blind loyalty to the Democratic Party, regardless of platform or leadership, vs. the historical and fundamental principles of government on which Texas and these United States of America were originally founded.

In recent years...over and over again...long time Texas conservative Democrats have refused to surrender their constitutional rights to the Harry Truman -- Adlai Stevenson--Walter Reuther -- Eleanor Roosevelt dominated Democratic Party demand for blind loyalty.

Texans, like myself, now face another dilemma: Is it possible to continue within the framework and under the leadership of today's Democratic Party now that it becomes increasingly obvious that the present Democratic Party is dedicated to a course which can lead only to the destruction of the basic political and civil rights guaranteed by our constitution.

It should not be a question of party loyalty. Rather it is a question of an individual citizen being loyal to the basic principles of government in which he believes and then determining the established political party in which and through which these basic principles of government--and a way of life--can be put into operation in an orderly and successful manner.

After prayerful consideration, I have concluded that I can best serve Texas and the nation...and the future of my children...by supporting and working in the Republican Party.

I can no longer support nor be a part of the Democratic Party under its present leadership and political platforms. And I shall immediately excercise my constitutional privilege of pledging my efforts and dedicating whatever abilities I may have to assist the Republican Party in its fight to restore constitutional government.

Let there be no misunderstanding. I am "enlisting" in the Republican Party as a "buck private" and will gladly serve in any capacity, no matter how small, that will bring about the soundest restoration of Jeffersonian, constitutional government in our country.

Under these circumstances, I am not a candidate for governor of Texas or for any other state office. If, in the future, should there arise an opportunity in which I can be of any appreciable service to my state or to my country, consistent with my beliefs, I would then consider such service at that time.

Grandpa Watkins was sort of absent-minded so his wife wasn't too surprised when he came in from a walk to the post office and announced that he guessed he'd lost his umbrella. "When did you first miss it?" Grandma wanted to know. "Just now," replied Grandpa; "It stopped raining and I reached up to put it down and it wasn't there."

"This house," stated the real estate man, "has both good and bad points. To show I'm honest, I'm going to tell you about both. The disadvantages are that there is a distillery one block south and a slaughterhouse one block north."

"What are the advantages?" inquired the prospective buyer.

"You can always tell which way the wind is blowing."

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

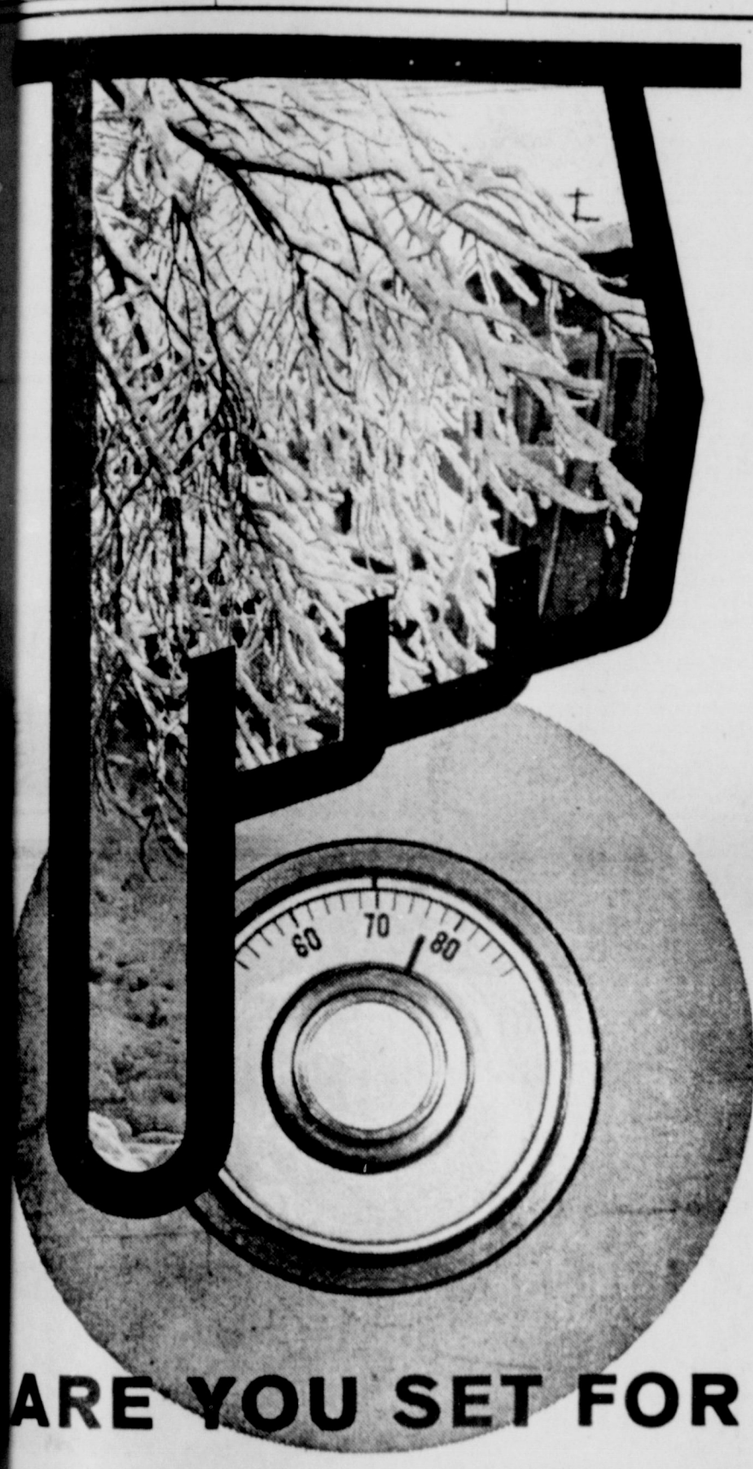

One development which may prevent camping from being robbed by modern mechanization of its age-old charms is the advent of boat camping. With a boat the wilderness is never out of reach, suggests Willard Crandall, Boats Editor, SPORTS AFIELD Magazine.

Of all the kinds of camping, boat camping is the most versatile. You can drive to your launching place trailering your boat, boat to a wilderness campsite or go with a fleet of friends. Whichever you choose it will always be with a maximum of camping convenience; for in your boat you can carry all your outdoor gear without strain and you will have more time and energy to explore the wilderness.

Although it is said that roads go everywhere these days, there are many waterways from Maine to California that still take you where no roads lead. Not only are there the wilder shores shut off by marshes, cliffs or back country, but the waterways are dotted with wooded, uninhabited islands which are perfect for camping.

Boat camping can be just as luxurious or primitive as you want it to be. You can sleep on spring-filled mattresses and take a portable refrigerator for drinks. At the other end of the scale, you can drink from a spring at the head of a creek. A portable boat, ultralight motor and its small fuel supply will get you there.

For shallow-water camping there's nothing like a canoe. No other portageable boat will carry a camping load the way a canoe will. Light utility boats are good for shorter trips where little or no portaging is needed. However, sleeping aboard is seldom practical with these shallow-water craft. The larger utilities are perfectly suited to deep-water camping trips. They're large enough to carry a camping load and still give the extra margin of safety you need when making a long trip in strange waters. The larger size of course makes sleeping aboard or even afloat safe fun, not cramped-up roughing it.

ARE YOU SET FOR WINTER?

The perfect way to get set is install electric heat now.

Clean – safe – economical – healthful and silent, these are some of the advantages of electric heat. Individual room control, too, that lets you choose temperatures by location and use of the room.

For complete heating information – electrically speaking – just clip the coupon and mail it to your local Public Service office.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS

From The State Capitol

AUSTIN, Tex.--Radioactive fallout is under close scrutiny at Texas' two testing stations in Austin and El Paso.

Resumption of nuclear testing by the Soviet Union brought on the 24-hour-a-day shift atop the State Health Department building in Austin where sampling devices, working like vacuum cleaners, pull jet streams of air through a filter to measure fallout.

During the four year nuclear test ban, radioactivity got progressively lower. Before the tests were stopped, engineers said it was 50 to 100 times higher. They expect results of Russian shots to begin showing up here within the next few days.

Meanwhile, Gov. Price Daniel announced a survey is being launched in Texas to make fallout shelter space available over the state. He said Col. R. Paul West of the U.S. Army Engineers at Fort Worth, who has been assigned to survey, will work in coordination with the State Civil Defense and Disaster Relief Division and local civil defense officials.

Survey is part of a national program to locate possible fallout shelter space in existing buildings, tunnels and other protected areas.

POULTRY INDUSTRY IN TROUBLE--Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White organized a conference of southern Agriculture Commissioners in Atlanta, Ga., to "seek ways and means to help save the poultry industry."

White said they will attempt to find ways to relieve the current "disastrous poultry prices which are at the lowest point in the history of commercial broiler production.

"This is not just a local situation in Texas," White said. "The entire national broiler industry is suffering from a price depression."

He reported poultry prices dropped in the past week to as low as 10.5 cents per pound, or as much as five cents below cost for many producers.

Meanwhile, the Attorney General's Department is studying the record of a special court of inquiry to determine if anti-trust violations are involved in the price decline.

Witnesses testified the trouble is overproduction. Actually the overproduction is not in Texas but in the 21 other broiler producing states.

Phil Friberg, manager of the Westerm Hatcheries in Gonzales, said 50 per cent of Texas' broiler producers will be out of business if something doesn't happen.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson wants to determine if "there is any effort to price the Texas poultry producer out of business."

PADRE ISLAND STUDY ORDERED--Governor Daniel has taken up Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler's recommendation that a feasibility study be made to determine whether Padre Island beaches should be turned into a state park area.

Sadler said the Governor agreed to appoint a statewide committee with instructions to report quickly. The long, slender island, a potential playground paradise, has been the center of controversy since it was proposed that a large portion of it be turned over to the federal government for a national park area.

LOAN COMPANIES CLEARED OF ANTI-TRUST CHARGE--A civil anti-trust suit alleging 31 loan companies conspired to push punitive small loan laws through the Texas Legislature has been dismissed by Federal Judge Ben Rice Jr. in Austin.

Suit, filed by J. L. House Jr. who operates a small loan business in Waco and other cities, charged that large Texas and out-of-state loan companies conspired to secure enactment of laws that would "destroy the small loan business of the plaintiff and all others similarly situated."

Judge Rice held the allegations did not show sufficient cause against the defendant companies to warrant a court trial.

OIL PRICES HIT--Governor Daniel joined independent producers in pleas for action to stem the tide of falling Texas crude oil prices.

"In view of rising equipment and operating costs, crude purchasers should be thinking of some price increase," he said. "Domestic crude oil is long overdue for more realistic prices if needed exploration is to be stimulated. Lower prices, combined with a stringent law allowable pattern in Texas, will continue to aggravate the problem of the domestic oil producing industry. This, together with excessive foreign oil imports, some of them by the price-cutting companies, will hamstring the domestic industry and the producing states.

"I hope these and other purchasers will consider the plight of the domestic industry in their future actions," he concluded.

The president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, James F. West, said a personal appeal is being made to the heads of purchasing companies "in hope that common sense will assert itself."

PAPER BACKS IN SCHOOL?--State Board of Education has launched a study into the question of how much could be saved by using paper-back books in schools, and whether it would be worth it.

"We can't say what the savings will be until the study is made," State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar said, "but it appears the initial savings will be considerable." He pointed out the principal cost of some books is what's inside, rather than the materials used.

Board authorized the Texas Education Agency to start by asking bids on both soft cover and hard cover editions of one texthook -- Vocal Music for seventh and eight grades. It also authorized the agency to have a qualified laboratory test the wearability of paper backs against hard covers and submit findings.

DEMOCRAT TURNS REPUBLICAN--Jack Cox of Breckenridge, former member of the Texas House of Representatives who ran as a democrat for Governor in 1960, announced he is enlisting in the Republican Party "as a buck private."

"I can no longer support nor be a part of the Democratic Party under its present leadership and political platforms," he said. "And I shall immediately exercise my constitutional privilege of pledging my efforts and dedicating whatever abilities I may have to assist the Republican Party in its fight to restore constitutional government."

He said he will gladly serve the party of his new choice "in any capacity, no matter how small."

But he left the door open to run for Governor again. He polled some 620,000 votes in a two-man race that Governor Daniel won with 909,000 votes in 1960.

ROAD MAINTENANCE FUNDS NEEDED--State Highway Commission is asking more flexibility in use of funds for maintenance of Farm-to-Market roads.

Problem today is adequate maintenance, improvement and reconstruction of roads already built. Therefore, a portion of the total F-M earmarked funds must be spent for maintenance.

Governor Daniel vetoed the earmarked construction funds for the second year of the new biennium as a step in this direction. The Highway Department expects legislation to be introduced at the coming special session to finish the job.

SHORT SNORTS

About a nickel a day --that's what tax experts figure the new sales tax will cost the average Texan whose income is figured in the three-to-four-thousand-dollar bracket.

State Treasurer Jesse James reports a slump of $57,746 in August sales of cigarette tax stamps.

H.S. (Hank) Brown, president of the Texas AFL-CIO, predicts the Texas sales tax "will retire more legislators than ever before in history." He predicted "Texas will not take this tax."

State draft quota for October, calling for 911 men, is 201 less than September call. State Selective Service Director Morris Schwartz reports 6,002 men will be given pre-induction examinations in October.

"School Traffic Safety Week" has been designed as September 18-22 by Governor Daniel, who appeals for "vigorous traffic safety programs" throughout the state.

Labor Day weekend was the safest in Texas since 1946 with only 19 fatalities recorded by Department of Public Safety against expected 30. There were 17 for comparable period in 1946.

Years ago the present U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service was known as the Washington Biological Service. Employes banded many birds with the inscription: "Wash. Biol. Serv." Then came a letter from a rural area saying: "I shot one of those birds the other day. I washed it, boiled it, and served it. It was terrible!"

GRADY LEE ELDER

VIEWING:

Your City Government

by J. J. Maxey, City Secretary

Grady Lee Elder was born down in the Peach and Watermelon country between Springtown and Weatherford in Parker County on March 20, 1905.

The Elder family moved to Wise County in 1906 where they resided until 1923. Grady says that he received all of his formal education at the little red school house at Wilson Prairie in Wise County. Grady remembers that all of the conveniences were at hand in this school. Pecan sprouts were used for switches, a nearby spring was used for drinking water and there was plenty of fire wood available for the cutting.

Moving to Slaton in 1923 Grady worked at various jobs for four years when he decided that a man should settle down and be a model citizen. On September 16, 1927 Grady and Miss Zenobia Burchfield were married. To this union four children have been born. Grady Jr. 33 who lives in Lubbock and is employed by the Architectural firm of Haynes & Kirby, Nannie Lou (Mrs. A. C. Ethridge) who lives in Slaton, David Ray 15 a sophomore in Slaton High School and Martha Sue 11 who is a student in Slaton Junior High. Grady and Zenobia have five grandsons that they are very proud of.

Grady has always liked to work with machinery so after his marriage and a short trial at farming he put in five years working at gins, machinery equipment companies, etc. and eight years with Lubbock County as a maintainer man in precinct two.

On September 1, 1940 Grady was employed by the City of Slaton as general superintendent. Grady remembers that he only had four employees with which to operate the Water, Sewer, Sanitation and Street Departments at that time. He also remembers that the salary was only $65.00 per month. He held this position until some time in 1947 when the departments were seperated and he was given the Street and Sanitation Department, a position that he still occupies as Superintendent.

Grady has spent nineteen of his twenty one years with the City as a member of the Slaton Volunteer Fire Department. His service on the Fire Department, his job and devotion to his family have taken all of his time. Grady has served his community well.

The flu months will soon be with us. Influenza is always a serious illness with after effects -- mostly exhaustion -- sometimes lasting may weeks. But it is particularly dangerous for certain people, some of whom may even die of the illness or its complications. These people should be vaccinated against influenza. Those for whom influenza is a particularly perilous diseas are:

--Persons with rheumatic heart disease or other blood vessel or heart ailments.
--Patients with chronic bronchial or lung diseases such as bronchitis, asthma, emphysema, tuberculosis.
--Diabetics.
--Sufferers from Addison's disease, a malfunctioning of the adrenal glands.
--Pregnant women.
--Everybody 65 or older.

The vaccine is usually given in two doses, about two months apart. After one set of shots, a yearly booster is usually required.

the AMERICAN WAY AS VIEWED BY McGlothlin

LET'S KEEP OUR WATCH-DOG

Before this appears in print, a move already may have been initiated in Congress by Representative James Roosevelt (Dem., Calif.) to abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee.

In our opinion, this would be a real tragedy and would make a very sad beginning for the Kennedy Administration. Not only should the Un-American Activities Committee be continued, but Congress should give it a much larger appropriation so that it can intensify its efforts in hunting down "subversives," and alerting patriotic Americans to the presence of enemies within our gates.
