The Y And Wherefore Of Campaign

Here are just a few of the workers — more than 200 of them — who made selection of prospect cards at the YMCA building campaign general division kick-off Thursday evening. Friday they went about the "wherefore" of the drive, the actual contacts. In this casual shot are Jerry Mancill, Roy Bruce, Mrs. Bill Seals, Clyde Angel (face partly hidden), Bill Horne and Warren Wilson.

$309,000 DRIVE STARTS

Meet Needs Of Youth, YMCA Workers Urged

More than 200 volunteers filled the Settles ballroom Thursday evening to put their shoulder to the wheel of a $309,000 YMCA building campaign.

They left not only with a reminder that they were building a spirit more than a building but also with the knowledge the wheel already was rolling well on its way to victory.

Dan M. Krauss, associate chairman of the big gifts division, reported that so far $159,886 had been raised and pledged. This included the $100,000 nest egg with which the Y entered the campaign.

Challenges were raised by J. Gordon Peterson, chaplain and director of personnel for Texas Aluminum Co. at Rockwall, and by John Roy Phillips, speaking for the youth of Big Spring.

Immediately after the kick-off dinner, workers in sections led by K. H. McGibbon and Clyde McMahon took more than 1,000 prospect cards. Friday they set about trying to exceed a quota of $100,000 from the general division.

R. W. Whipkey, teams chairman, urged the widest possible canvass and issued a fervent plea for the support of the YMCA building.

"It all boils down to just a few dollars a month per giver—with everyone taking part," he said. "I hope we can come to the first report meeting next Wednesday and see the end in sight."

With confidence based on the tremendous response at two precampaign training sessions and at the kick-off dinner, R. H. Weaver, YMCA president said that "with this kind of response and enthusiasm we are bound to succeed."

An active leader in his own YMCA and the Southwest Area Council, Peterson spoke out boldly for the YMCA program as well as for a building.

"You'll be serving people," he declared, "just as YMCAs do around the world. You'll be part of something that is offering the last ray of hope on the democratic ideal that it is still the individual who counts.

"In the YMCA, the kids who come in second get as much attention and chance to participate as the leader of the pack. Here is an agency that will meet the need of boys and girls."

Peterson told the group that the power of influence generated at the meeting could have a profound effect on Big Spring children yet unborn, because the new building would mean a Y to serve not only today but future generations.

"The YMCA makes a climate which influences the whole community . . . a climate which anticipates the needs of the future. It does not take the place of the church or other instutitions, but it helps fill in the space between these institutions," he said.

In simple, eloquent terms, John Roy Phillips told the group how youth felt about the YMCA program and plant. Not only had boys and girls walked off with the lion's share of district and area honors as evidence of the type program here, but many of the clubs have pledged $100 to the building fund.

"I don't see how any boy or girl here can feel that our people do not care about us. With that feeling, the sky is the limit of what Big Spring youth can do."

CAA Approves 'Port Contract

Civil Aeronautics Authority office in Fort Worth advised Louis Jean Thompson, local engineer in charge of the Howard County Airport project, Thursday afternoon that it "concurred" in the county commissioner's acceptance of the low bid for the job.

This was taken by officials to mean that the CAA had approved the contract.

The CAA added that the regional office would immediately prepare the agency's grant of $302,000 for the project. This will be completed and in the hands of county officials, the Fort Worth office said, early next week.

R. H. Weaver, county judge, said that he regarded the announcement as indicative there would be no delay on the part of the CAA relative to the project and that all details could be cleared up even sooner than had been generally anticipated.

Howard County Commissioners Court awarded the contract for the airport to B. G. Brown Co., and associates, Abilene, Wednesday on a bid of $617,418.

Recession Means Nothing To FHA

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The recession is a flop as far as the Federal Housing Administration is concerned.

Norman P. Mason, FHA commissioner, said that weekly reports from all sections of the country indicate people are just as interested as ever in buying homes.

In Detroit, Mason told a homebuilders' meeting, FHA applications for home loans were 50 per cent higher last week than in the corresponding week of 1957.

AF Chief Backs Ike Defense Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, unreservedly backed President Eisenhower's defense reorganization bill in testimony before a doubtful House Armed Services Committee today.

White took the stand as the service witness who has been most outspoken against provisions of the bill vacated it. This was General Randolph M. Pate, commandant of the Marine Corps.

"I support the reorganization bill as proposed by the President," White said.

And when Rep. Brooks (D-La) asked for suggestions on a substitute bill, White said he had none.

Brooks' question was open confirmation for reports that such a measure is in preparation.

"I recognize the committee feels some provisions should be set out in more detail," White said. "I would not quarrel over language if the objectives are accomplished."

That was a restatement of what Eisenhower and Secretary of Defense McElroy have been saying.

"I completely agree with the President's concept that separate ground, sea and air warfare are gone forever and that peacetime preparation and organization must conform to this fact," White went on.

"It is essential that our combat forces be organized into...unified commands and that our strategic and tactical planning be completely unified."

Pate concluded his testimony this morning without backing down in any way from his opposition to key features of the President's proposal.

He contended those provisions, at some future time, might result in the Marine Corps and other services being reorganized out of all meaningful existence.

The reception given Pate's testimony appeared to guarantee that the influential committee will not approve Eisenhower's request that the spelling out of the military job for each service be left in part to the secretary of defense.

It is now specified in the law.

$3,081,000 New Allotment Sought For Webb Expansion

Continued development of Webb Air Force Base is indicated in a request being sent to Congress by the Air Force for authorization of $3,081,000 to be spent in construction during the fiscal year which begins next July 1.

Announcement of the Air Force programing was sent to The Herald today by Congressman George Mahon and Senators Lyndon Johnson and Ralph Yarborough.

While no projects are spelled out, Mahon said that the appropriation, if approved by Congress, will provide for "maintenance, operational and training facilities, utilities, grounds improvements and real estate."

There was no information available from Webb as to scheduling of the expenditures next year.

The $3,081,000 is a "new figure," and is not to be confused with a $4,118,000 appropriation which was voted by Congress for expenditure during the present government fiscal year. The latter sum presumably provided for the projected new facilities at Webb — and which reportedly are in the advanced planning stage.

The latest Air Force request would be expendable further down the line, extending to June 30, 1959.

The new budget figure will have to go before committees of both the House and Senate, then win complete Congress approval both as to authorization and appropriation.

Jobless Relief Bill Due Senate Study

TWISTERS HIT S. TEXAS

Gainesville Is Disaster Area

By The Associated Press

The Texas Department of Public Safety reported 20 to 30 houses destroyed at Lacoste near San Antonio by a tornado Friday.

Roofs were blown off "quite a few houses," a telephone company spokesman told the San Antonio News. The roof of the Lacoste school was ripped off, the Department of Public Safety reported.

The Safety Department said there were no injuries or deaths.

The agency also said it had confirmed tornadoes at Natalia and Pearson, in the same area as Lacoste. It said considerable property damage occurred at Pearson, a small community near San Antonio.

The San Antonio Weather Bureau said a tornado struck the small community of Leon Valley, 12 miles northwest of San Antonio. It said several buildings were blown down.

Newsmen were investigating reports of a possible tornado at Castroville, west of San Antonio. Telephone lines were torn down in the Castroville area and some barns and houses unroofed.

The tornadoes struck as Texas suffered under its eighth straight day of turbulent weather.

Joyce said all but about 12 families returned to their homes after daylight.

Heavy rains fell around Waco in Central Texas. Austin, the state capital and also in Central Texas, was warned by the Weather Bureau that thunderstorms and possible damaging winds might come.

At Gainesville, Jack Joyce, managing editor of the Gainesville Daily Register, said 200 persons fled their homes during the night.

He said that at least 12 families couldn't return either because of flood damage or remaining high water.

Two schools in Cooke County, of which Gainesville is the county seat, closed because of high water.

Joyce said the 200 who fled the flood were removed by the Gainesville Boat Club, individual boat owners, volunteers and National Guardsmen.

Some business houses suffered damage, but all such places were clear of water by late Friday morning.

FLOOD WATERS

The downpour began about 7 p.m. Thursday and was severe for an hour. Water soon was lapping at curbs. Pecan Creek, which courses through the center of Gainesville, went out of banks. Elm Creek also flooded.

No injuries were reported.

The Red Cross set up headquarters and began serving meals at noon Friday, Joyce said. Shelter was prepared in the courthouse for those unable to return to their homes.

The Red Cross sent two staff representatives to Gainesville.

The Cooke County schools closed were those at Walnut Bend, 15 miles northeast of Gainesville, and Lindsay, 6 miles west. High water in the area was the cause.

Muenster, 12 miles west of Gainesville, had 2.80 inches of rain in 2 hours during the night, with 3.86 up to 7 a.m. Friday.

Elsewhere in the state, turbulent flood waters from continuing rains poured down the Sabine, Trinity, Cypress and other streams.

The Weather Bureau late in the morning issued a severe weather warning for San Antonio and an area north-northeast of there.

The agency said a line of heavy thunderstorms extended from 40 miles southwest of the San Antonio International Airport to about 55 miles north-northeast.

"This line is moving over the city with locally heavy rains and gusty winds from 30 to 40 miles an hour," the Weather Bureau said about 11 a.m.

Just north of Texas, more than seven inches of rain fell overnight at Durant in southeast Oklahoma. Flash floods there forced 400 people from their homes. One man, listed as Bill Moore, was missing.

At Gladewater on the rampaging Sabine, traffic was being rerouted for about a mile around a low section of U.S. 271 between Gladewater and Tyler. The river stood at 39.80 feet at 9 a.m. after rising .45 foot since 1 p.m. Thursday.

Denton received 1.42 inches of rain in 24 hours ending at 8 a.m. Flood waters caused road closings in Denton County. Sanger, north of Denton, had a 2.60 inch downpour during the night and Friday morning.

U.S. 77 was closed between Den-

Thunderstorms Are Predicted

BULLETIN

The U.S. Weather Bureau issued a warning of turbulent weather in this area today until 8 p.m.

Drizzle which kept the countryside saturated all of Thursday and on into Thursday night provided May with its first measureable preciptation—.01 inch,—the U. S. Experiment Station announced today.

Friday offered some signs in the forenoon of bringing a temporary halt to the continuous dampness which has prevailed since Monday. Although skies were still cloudy, the drizzle has ceased and sidewalks and streets which have been damp all week were drying off.

The Weather Bureau, however, held out no hope of a let-up in the current wetness. Cloudy to partly cloudy skies, with scattered thundershowers this afternoon tonight and Saturday was its forecast as the weekend opened. It will be some warmer today, the Bureau said, with a maximum of 80 forecast for Friday and 82 on Saturday.

Fog prevailed in some parts of West Texas early Friday. Lamesa said its fog was so dense that visibility dropped to .2 mile.

BSHS Trio In State Contests

Three Big Spring High School students and their sponsors are in Austin where they will compete in literary contests of the Texas Interscholastic League Saturday.

They are Sandra Tally, who qualified for the state tournament by winning first in the regional ready writing contests two weeks ago, and Stephen Baird and Julius Glickman, debate team which also won the regional championship two weeks ago.

Sponsor for Sandra is Ione McAlister. In Austin with Glickman and Baird is their coach, Philip Wayne.

French Wipe Out Algerian Forces

ALGIERS (AP) — French ground and air units today were reported wiping out remnants of a rebel force in eastern Algeria after what military headquarters here described as the rebellion's biggest battle.

The battle started three days ago after the rebels cut through the electrified barbed wire barrier, 35 miles west of the Tunisian frontier.

GM Reply To Union Awaited

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors was expected to reply to a United Auto Workers proposal for a speedup in contract negotiations today.

UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock suggested the negotiators stop meeting every other day and get together seven days a week.

Woodcock said GM's decision to terminate its present UAW contract at midnight May 29 had introduced a note of urgency into the negotiations and made more and longer bargaining sessions necessary.

GM's chief negotiator, Vice President Louis G. Seaton, told a news conference that rumors that GM is working on a better contract offer for the UAW were not correct.

Seaton said GM was standing firm on its offer to extend the present contract for two years, but indicated later that GM might be willing to improve the present supplemental unemployment benefit (SUB) plan now covering the 350,000 GM workers who belong to the UAW.

Seaton did not go into detail on the plan but said the company "could do more than now is being done." GM presently contributes 5 cents an hour to SUB.

The union resumed negotiations with Ford Motor Co. today. It met with Chrysler Corp. bargainers yesterday.

Mother Sentenced For Strangling Of Sister-In-Law

LONDON (AP)—A mild-mannered mother of five children was sentenced today to four years in prison for strangling a sister-in-law who came for a two-week visit and stayed seven years.

Mrs. Edith Daisy Chubb, 46, was found innocent of murder but guilty of manslaughter at the end of a three-day trial in Old Bailey Criminal Court.

A jury of nine men and three women heard how the weary, kindhearted woman worked for her household—five children, her plumber husband, her mother, mother-in-law, and sister-in-law.

The court was told that Mrs. Chubb, short of money to feed her family, worked all night three times a week as a hospital nurse. She also did baby sitting and cleaned floors in a factory and private homes. Her housework was done in spare moments.

Mrs. Chubb testified that her sister-in-law, Lillian Chubb, 52, paid her only 25 shillings—$3.50—a week for her room and never helped in the house.

One day Mrs. Chubb, mixing soap powder in the kitchen while her sister-in-law was drinking tea, became enraged. She pulled a scarf over Miss Chubb's neck.

"I intended to give her a good shaking up, you know," she said. But Miss Chubb fell backwards, choking, and struck her head on the stairs.

Ancient British Feat A Headache

SALISBURY, England (AP) — A colossal engineering feat pulled off by ancient Britons 3,800 years ago gave British government engineers a headache today.

With a powerful derrick, they have been trying for two days to put back into place one of the giant stones of Stonehenge—a job done originally without benefit of modern gadgets.

This 24-ton piece of rock is part of the famous Stonehenge monument, a 320-foot ring of giant stones used for religious rites by the ancient Druids. The stone fell out of place in 1900.

The British recently decided to put it back. By modern engineering plans it was supposed to be done by Wednesday.

2 CAN'T LIVE AS CHEAPLY AS 1, AFTER ALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Marriages are decreasing and the recession is getting the blame.

Latest available government figures show fewer marriages in each of the six months ended Feb. 28 than in the comparative months a year earlier.

Dr. Hugh Carter of the National Office of Vital Statistics said today: "On a strictly scientific level there is no proof that marriages are affected by business conditions.

"But from a common sense level and based on years of close study of the statistics there is no doubt in my mind there is a relationship.

"I have no doubt but what business recessions result in reductions in marriages."

Candidates Agree On Tree House

ATHERTON, Calif. (AP)—Both of California's gubernatorial candidates agree on at least one thing: Little boys have a right to play in tree houses.

Republican Sen. William F. Knowland, who wants to be governor, issued a statement to that effect Thursday.

Opposing the two candidates is the City Council of this swank San Francisco suburb. Councilmen ruled that two youngsters needed a building permit for their tree house.

Kenneth Templeton, 9, and his brother John, 8, erected a tree house in the front yard of their home and councilmen apparently decided it marred the elegance of this town.

J. Francis Shirley, San Francisco attorney called in by Brown, said he was prepared to argue as far as the U. S. Supreme Court in favor of the children of Mrs. Kenneth S. Templeton.

Shirley said he would argue that the tree house is actually a fort, and therefore, is subject to military law which takes precedence over municipal ordinances.

NATO Leader Says War Now 'Unlikely'

PARIS (AP)—Field Marshal Lord Montgomery, NATO's deputy military commander, said today that a shooting world war is "now unlikely," and it's time for the politicians to relax tension.

"The ball is now in the political court," Britain's eminent soldier told a news conference, "and it is up to the politicians to strive to relax tension so that we won't have to spend these sums for our defense arsenal."

Montgomery warned, however, that the Soviets might gain a bloodless victory unless the Atlantic alliance faced its problems on a global basis. He pointed particularly to Western Europe's dependence on oil, food, and other raw materials from abroad.

The British viscount, who is retiring from the NATO command in September, called in the press to discuss a command exercise which ended at NATO headquarters Thursday.

House Okay Defeat For Demo Chiefs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration's emergency jobless relief bill, safely through the House, today faced expected efforts to broaden it in the Senate.

Its House passage yesterday was a defeat for Democratic leaders, who saw their own program swamped under charges of "dole" and "socialism" and finally shunted aside by a 222-164 vote. The House went on to pass the administration bill 370-17.

A coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats carried the day for President Eisenhower's plan. This calls for pay-back assistance to the states for temporary extension of unemployment benefits to workers who exhaust their rights under state systems between July 1, 1957, and April 1, 1959.

House Democrats, however were looking to the Senate to restore some of the key features of plan of federal grants for most of the nation's jobless workers.

"We took the best we could get under the circumstances," Rep. Forand (D-RI) said of the House action. "I'm hoping the Senate will remedy the effects of the bill which passed. As it is, it's incomplete in that it doesn't give benefits to all workers."

Republicans attributed defeat of the Democratic bill to their contention that it went too far by including relief provisions for workers not now eligible for benefits under state insurance systems.

Rep. Reed of New York, senior Republican on the Ways and Means Committee, said the House passed "a responsible bill in the place of an irresponsible bill, and maintained the integrity of the state unemployment compensation systems."

Only in one important respect does the bill differ from Eisenhower's initial proposal—it permits the states to reject or accept federal assistance. The President's plan made acceptance mandatory.

The additional benefits to jobless workers would be equal to 50 per cent of the total amount of benefits to which they are entitled under the various state systems—an extra 13 weeks in most states.

The states would be required to reimburse the government after four years for any funds expended on additional benefits. Total estimated cost: 600 million dollars.

State Art Leader Dies At Caddo Lake

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Don Brown, head of the Centenary College Art Department, naturalist painter and former newspaperman, died yesterday aboard his house boat on Caddo Lake.

Brown, 59, apparently suffered a heart attack.

His paintings hang in museums in San Antonio, Dallas, Philadelphia and St. Louis, and recently two of his large murals were placed in the Texas University School of Architecture.

He was a former editor of a Marshall, Tex. newspaper and served on the Paris edition of the Chicago Tribune. Services will be held Saturday in Marshall.

Survivors include his widow, mother, daughter, two brothers and a stepdaughter.

Soviets Denounce Ike Arctic Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union today denounced the Eisenhower Arctic inspection plan as a "gimmick" and said Russia's opposition to the proposal remains unchanged.

In a sharp Security Council speech indicating a veto, Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev took a slap at U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold for throwing his support behind the U.S. plan to guard against surprise attacks in the polar region.

He repeated Soviet charges that the Arctic inspection proposal was intended primarily as a measure to gain military intelligence from Soviet territory.

Support in the U.N. Security Council, he said, was by a friendly chorus of NATO members.

"The joining of the secretary general in this chorus," he said, "did not change the nature of the U.S. maneuver or make it more attractive. This did not contribute to the strengthening of the authority of the secretary general but to the contrary..."

Sobolev addressed the 11-nation council after Chief U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge had accepted a Swedish compromise proposal in an effort to avert a Soviet veto. The move, however, apparently failed.

The Soviet delegate declared he could not accept the Swedish amendment which inserted into the original U.S. resolution a reference to eventual discussion of the inspection plan at a summit meeting.

Russia had insisted on the whole issue going to a summit conference without preliminary discussions. He again pressed for this idea.

Heads Adjusters

R. D. Batjer, above, of Abilene, is the new president of the National Assn. of Independent Insurance Adjusters. He was installed in Boston this week at the organization's annual meeting. Batjer operates adjustment offices in Abilene, Big Spring and other points. Member of an early-day Abilene family, he is on the board of vestrymen of the Episcopal Church. He is a former president of the state association and has held other regional and national offices.

Kiwanians Told Social Security May Be Topheavy

Big Spring Kiwanians were warned Thursday that the Social Security program as now operated by the federal government poses a danger of becoming so economically top heavy as to engage national economy.

The warning was sounded in a slide-recorded address prepared by the National Underwriters Assn. It was presented to the club by Walter Stroup, president of the local underwriters. He was introduced to the club by Dalton Mitchell, program chairman for the day.

Announcement was made that a delegation of local Kiwanians had attended the charter presentation at the Monahans club earlier in the week.

Announcement was made of the current YMCA drive and the members of the club urged to support the effort to raise funds for a new YMCA building.

Regular meeting of the directors will be on Monday night at 6 at the Wagon Wheel restaurant. Members of the club who have missed a recent club meeting can make up their attendance average by being present at the directors' meeting.

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — King Faisal was 23 today. Iraq celebrated with a national holiday.

Statistics Show People May Be Buying More

WASHINGTON (AP)—New government statistics indicate people may be starting to buy more. This could be a hopeful economic sign.

The Federal Reserve Board and the Commerce Department reported a March pickup in business at department stores and wholesale establishments. But other reports issued yesterday showed the key auto industry still running in low gear.

At the same time the Treasury was rushing income tax refunds to millions of Americans in hopes it would help bring about economic recovery.

The Eisenhower administration's plan for added unemployment compensation moved ahead in Congress. The House passed it 370-17 yesterday after rejecting a broader proposal by Democrats.

In reporting on March store sales Federal Reserve said this activity "recovered substantially from the low level of February," but still were below March a year ago. And in the four week period ended April 26 sales also were below the corresponding span in 1957.

The Commerce Department said wholesale sales in March rose seasonally 8 per cent from February but still were 9 per cent below March 1957.

One possibly significant factor was that durable goods sales in the wholesale field rose 10 per cent from February. Nondurables showed a 7 per cent gain in the month.

DEBT DECLINES

Another Federal Reserve report said installment debt declined by 180 million dollars in March, taking account of seasonal factors, attributed almost wholly to a drop in new credit for auto buying.

In Detroit, the nation's auto manufacturers reported that 316,503 passenger cars were produced in April against 548,662 a year ago. Over-all, the auto makers said they built nearly 800,000 fewer cars in the first four months this year than in the like period last year.

The Treasury said that by April 24 it had mailed $2,452,000,000 in income tax refunds—35 per cent more than a year ago. Nearly all refund checks are to be out by mid-May—about two weeks earlier than usual.

Meanwhile, Sen. Clark (D-Pa) and Secretary of Commerce Weeks quarreled over figures on joblessness in April.

Clark said Weeks, in reporting a drop of 78,000 in unemployment last month, was not candid and that President Eisenhower "compounded the lack of candor, perhaps inadvertently" in commenting on those figures. Clark contended that an adjustment of the data for seasonal factors would show that unemployment increased by 372,000 over March.

JUNIOR HIGH NEWS

Classes Choose Council Members

By GRETCHEN BRIDEN

Tuesday morning students elected their student council representatives and cheerleaders, both for the Big Spring Junior High and for Goliad Junior High.

Selections for Goliad were:

G. BRIDEN

Seventh graders —Pete Harmonson, Ronnie Crownover, Karen McGibbon, Kenny Kay Stephens and Karen Kee as council representatives, and Karen McGibbon, Kenny Stephens and Karen Kee as cheerleaders.

Eighth Grade — Karen Koger, Judy Gillian, Joan Jordan, Telie Grooms, Katie Bess Morgan, council representatives; and Telie Grooms, Judy Gillian and Katie Bess Morgan, cheerleaders.

Bill Pate was named president of the student body and Bob Moore was elected vice president.

Selections for Big Spring Junior High were:

Eighth graders—Cherrie Masters, Jack Irons, Kathy Johnson, Gail Potter and Skipper Driver, council representatives; and Gail Potter, Kathy Johnson, Linda Grant, cheerleaders.

The freshman class (next year's senior high sophomores) chose Ronnie Clanton, Robert Carr, Mary Read, Larry Moore and Modesta Simpson to represent them on the high school council. Mary Read and Modesta Simpson were elected as the class cheerleaders.

Teachers elected Miss Letha Amerson to represent junior high in the Texas State Teachers Association meeting.

Freshman of the week is Mary Locke Crosland, and she is one of the best liked girls in school. Mary Locke ran for secretary of the seventh and eighth grade classes. She was editor of the school paper and the first semester of this year and has taken part in all the skits and radio programs presented by the speech class.

Mary Locke is an active member of the Tri-Hi-Y. She has been on the honor roll about 12 times and also is a member of the ninth grade octette. She attends the First Baptist Church where she holds offices in various activities.

Cabinet Secretary Tells Tale Of Answering Dog's Summons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert Keith Gray, affable new secretary to the Cabinet, often chuckles quietly when President Eisenhower sounds his desk buzzer to summon an aide.

The explanation goes back to a day about three weeks after the President suffered a minor stroke last November. Gray at that time was serving as Eisenhower's appointments secretary, with an office adjacent to the President's.

"The President's buzz when he wants someone usually is very loud and insistent," Gray relates. "This day it rang in a sort of erratic, hesitant manner and it alarmed me."

With Eisenhower's recent illness crowding every other thought out of his mind, Gray grabbed a notebook and fairly leaped into the President's office. There to his great relief he found Eisenhower serenely at work.

"Do you want something, Bob?" Eisenhower inquired in surprise at Gray's agitated look.

"Didn't you ring, Mr. President?" Gray stammered.

"No, I didn't," Eisenhower replied, looking down at the buzzer bottom on the desk leg. Then the President grinned and exclaimed: "Heidi! Get out of there!"

It was Eisenhower's Weimaraner dog, nuzzled against the buzzer button under the desk.

"Ever since," says Gray with a smile, "I've been telling folks about the day I answered a summons by a dog."

Gray, whose hair started turning gray in high school, is a friendly, hard-working 36-year-old who gave up a prosperous warehousing business in Nebraska and Iowa in 1955 to take a Navy Department job handling manpower problems.

EXCITING CITY

He did so "because I found Washington so exciting and such a beautiful city." He had served with the Navy in the Far East during World War II — supply and disbursing officer aboard the USS Collingsworth, an attack transport vessel.

Gray, born Sept. 2, 1921, in Hastings, Neb., had been in Washington only a short time when Fred A. Seaton, also from Hastings and then a top aide to Eisenhower, had him transferred to the White House. Ten days later Seaton was named secretary of the Interior and Gray soon took over job patronage for Eisenhower, a key assignment dealing with the filling of administration positions.

"It's been fascinating," says Gray. "The only discouraging thing is that it's hard to make friends in patronage work. For every job there are 50 to 100 applicants. Those who lose out always are unhappy, and the fellow who gets the job isn't always happy very long."

Now he's moving up to Cabinet secretary, to replace Maxwell M. Raab, who is leaving May 19 for private law practice.

Gray is a graduate of Carleton College at Northfield, Minn, and Harvard University School of Business Administration. He later taught business administration at Nebraska's Hastings College.

A bachelor who lives with two other bachelors in Washington's Georgetown area, Gray grins broadly when you ask him about marriage, and says: "Not forever am I going to be a bachelor. That's definite."

Moon Try Could Come 'Any Time'

OTTAWA (AP) — Both the United States and the Soviet Union now are building rockets expected to be able to reach the moon, a Canadian Defense Research Board scientist said Thursday night.

Gordon W. Wallace, the board's director of weapons research, told a scientific meeting here that a moon flight could come at any time.

TV 'Heaven' 10 Inches High

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Heaven's pearly gates are only 10 inches high — on television.

The exotic Taj Mahal is merely a picture postcard on TV.

These and other TV technical marvels were unveiled yesterday at the National Assn. of Broadcasters' convention.

TV viewers watching "Green Pastures" recently saw an actor walk through heaven's gates. Few knew the portals were less than a foot high, said Ralph C. Kennedy and Frank J. Gaskins, NBC engineers.

It was done by picture composites and superimposed insets.

In the "Green Pastures" sequence the actor was photographed by one camera as he walked toward a blue background. Another camera was focused on the 10-inch-high gates.

As the first camera scanned the actor its signal cut out of the blue background the exact space needed to show the gates. On the screen the actor appeared to be walking through them.

"The possibilities are endless," the engineers said. Huge sets aren't necessary. Small models will do. Any film, drawing or postcard can give a realistic background, they said, with the NBC chroma-key system.

Ex-Politico Dies

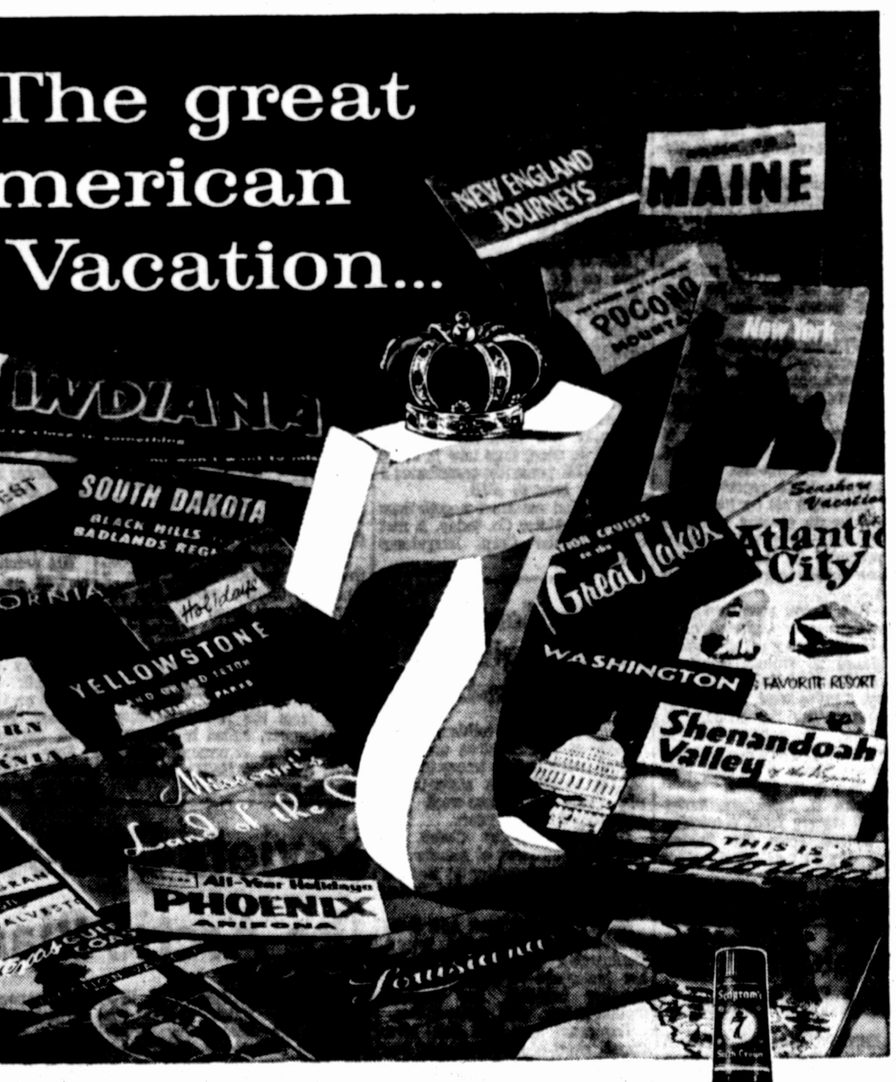

OSLO (AP) — Oscar Torp, 64, Laborite president of Parliament and former prime minister of Norway, died Thursday of a brain hemorrhage. Torp held a variety of posts in the Norwegian labor movement for more than 30 years and served as prime minister from Nov. 13, 1951, to Jan. 21, 1955.

Arctic Inspection Plan

Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge displays a map which he showed to the United Nations Security Council in New York City in presenting President Eisenhower's plan for an international inspection zone in the Arctic. The keyhole-shaped area which could be included in the inspection zone includes parts of Russia, Norway, Greenland, Canada and Alaska within the Arctic Circle and, in the extra wedge, most of Alaska, the Kuriles and part of the Kamchatka Peninsula. The Soviet delegate attacked the plan.

West Germany Quietly Shelves Law Aimed At War Capacity

LONDON (AP) — A law designed to break up Germany's war production power — and particularly the Krupp empire — is now expected by Western diplomats here to be enforced with leniency if at all.

Britain, France and the United States have agreed to a request by West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to re-examine the law, the British Foreign Office said last night.

In the agreements ending the post-World War II occupation of West Germany, Adenauer's government pledged to carry out the Allied deconcentration of industry law of 1953.

The law provided that in general by some time in 1958 Alfried Krupp and other German industrial barons would break up their concentrations of coal, steel, iron and related industries by selling some units. Instead, Krupp's empire has expanded.

Adenauer wrote personal letters to the U.S., British and French government heads last year asking that the law be scrapped because the industrial barons were having trouble finding buyers. Some observers thought this was a bid by the Chancellor for political support of the magnates in an election he won.

Now, a Foreign Office spokesman said, Bonn has provided further information on difficulties in breaking up several specific industries.

Diplomats noted that there is no peaceful way the industrial deconcentration can be enforced from outside Germany, and German courts are unlikely to honor the government's pledge. The increasing importance of West Germany to the Western side in East-West conflicts also makes the Allies less likely to antagonize the Germans by pressing the point.

Congress Party Clears Way For Nehru's Aide

NEW DELHI (AP) -- The Congress party has cleared the way for one of Prime Minister Nehru's old political comrades to take over while the Prime Minister is on vacation.

Home Minister Govind Ballabh Pant, 70, was unanimously elected as the party's deputy leader in Parliament yesterday. As in Britain, the leader of the majority party heads the government.

Nehru announced Tuesday that he wants to leave the government for awhile to prepare for the "great tasks ahead." The statement points up his deep concern about India's political future and the dangers of a world war.

Although he was vague, he gave a few hints about what he has in mind.

The international situation "hovers on the brink of a precipice with hydrogen bombs ever ready to discharge," he said. He is known to be willing to take part in a summit conference if asked and is clearly concerned about how India might help make a conference successful.

"I do not imagine we could do much," he said, "but even a little sometimes helps and in any event we should be clear in our thinking."

Nehru also mentioned "the problems of India bearing down upon us which require constant attention and fresh thinking."

The most perplexing and most important of India's problems is the question of its parliamentary future after Nehru, and that probably is his central domestic concern.

The big question is whether anyone except Nehru can hold the party together. Some Indians believe it should be divided into right and left-wing parties, but Nehru has never favored this.

Nehru probably would spend a large part of his free time revitalizing the Congress party in its present form.

Space-Minded Kids Get Expert Warning

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Youngsters with stars in their eyes and space flights on their mind heard a word of warning last night.

E. R. Quesada, special assistant to President Eisenhower, spoke against "stunts that are spectacular and only spectacular" in the race for outer space.

Quesada was principal speaker at the closing banquet of a day-long space age conference for Oklahoma teen-agers.

He said, "If we explore space intelligently, many treasures will be unlocked. They are there if we will tap them, find them and put them to use, and I hope, to constructive use."

Quesada also disagreed with a current impression that the Soviet Union is ahead of the U.S. in education.

"Our relative position is constantly changing and we will not keep our position by copying them," he said. "We must not ignore long-range objectives either in the educational system or in research programs."

During the day some 6,000 science students from 400 Oklahoma schools listened attentively to the Air Force's top space scientists.

They also examined the Air Force's Thor missile and studied cutaway models and exhibits of space age problems and prophecies.

During the conference, speaker after speaker urged the teen-agers to think of the future in science in the same manner as the men who pushed back the frontiers of the early West.

Lt. Gen. Clarence Irvine, Air Force deputy chief of staff, said the enthusiasm of the students did not surprise him. He said: "Nobody ever really bothered in years past to tell 'em science was important and what their place in it will be."

Killed In Crash

STRASBOURG, France (AP)—Col. Walter E. Clarke, 42, U.S. air base commander at nearby Phalsbourg, was killed Thursday in a jet plane crash. Copilot Capt. William J. Perkins also was killed.

MEN IN SERVICE

Home on leave en route to a new assignment is A.3.C. John S. Fuglaar, son of Mrs. V. W. Fuglaar, 1008 E. 12th.

Fuglaar graduated in the top 10 per cent of his class at the aircraft mechanics school and has been assigned as a mechanic at Lowry AFB, Colo. Prior to enlisting in the Air Force last September, he attended Howard County Junior College. He is a graduate of Big Spring High School.

Safe Moving Not Safe At Night

SAN DIMAS, Calif. (AP) — "Put up your hands and no funny stuff," the cop commanded the two men hauling the safe down a dark alley.

"This is my safe," Albert Bays, a local jeweler, explained to Sheriff's Deputy Eric Rolko. "I'm giving it to my druggist friend down the street." Bays was able to establish ownership to the officer's satisfaction.

"Next time you move a safe, do it in daylight — it's healthier," said Rolko, putting his gun away.

Theatre Awards

Jim Hood, Mary Magee and Dewey Magee were cited for their work by members of the Big Spring Civic Theatre, Inc., Thursday evening at a party held in the theatre's new headquarters, the old museum building in City Park. Magee had served as president of the organization and Mrs. Magee as secretary during the past year. Hood, who is being transferred from Webb AFB, was one of the hardest behind-the-scenes workers during staging of the 1958 Easter Pageant.

Dewey Magee, Wife Honored For Work In Civic Theatre

Both honors and committee assignments were handed out at a business meeting and party Thursday evening of the Big Spring Civic Theatre, Inc.

Silver chalices were presented to Sgt. and Mrs. Dewey Magee Jr. for the large amount of time and effort they had expended in theatre work, especially during the past year when Magee was president of the group and Mrs. Magee was secretary.

The party also honored Lt. Jim Hood, who will leave Webb AFB Monday for a new assignment. Hood was cited for his work during the recent Easter Pageant.

The party had been planned as a surprise to the Magees and apparently the plot was successful. Theatre members afterwards chortled that for the first time in several years "Magee was speechless."

During the business meeting, members approved creation of committees and member appointments. Details had been worked out by the board of governors and were presented for membership approval by President Allen Robertson.

The committees, which will form a broad working basis for the theatre's new policies and action, are not all complete, and some appointments are contingent upon acceptance—especially in those cases in which non-members have been offered committee posts.

Robertson said any theatre member may volunteer for any committee that appeals to him.

These committee assignments were approved:

Publicity—Bob Walker, chairman; Bob Smith, publicity; and Mary Ragsdale, advertising.

Scrapbook—Dewey Magee, Mary Magee and Kay Bonifield.

Building—E. C. Smith, chairman; Mrs. Caribel Laughlin, interior decoration; and Dewey Magee.

Costumes, Props, Make-Up and Equipment—Sgt. Bob Martinez, chairman; Mrs. Bob Bright, Mrs. Herbert Johnson, A.1.C. Mathew Bertilini and A.2.C. Lloyd Strickland.

Play Reading and Scheduling—Mary Archer, reading; Lt. Byron Chudom, Sgt. George Bauman, Virginia Bauman and Edith Gay, scheduling.

Social and Program—Mrs. John Rudeseal, chairman; Mrs. Dewey Magee and Mrs. John Austin.

Fund-Raising—open.

Theatre Workshop—John Austin chairman.

Membership—Mrs. Carl Griffin, chairman; John Austin and Mary Ragsdale.

Transportation — Roy Rosene, chairman.

Office—A.1.C. Hugh Butler McCauley, chairman; Rita Gale, Virginia Johnson and Dick Bailey.

Legion To Organize New Scout Troop Next Tuesday

Organization of the Legion sponsored Boy Scout troop has been scheduled for Tuesday by J. V. Gregory, commander of the Howard County Post of the American Legion.

The unit will be designated as Troop No. 19. M. C. Boyd is to serve as scoutmaster. P. R. Yanez and H. J. Holland were named assistants.

Boys between the ages of 11 and 14 are invited to attend the organizational meeting of the troop at the Legion Hut beginning at 7 p.m. Sons of Legionnaires and veterans are given a special invitation to become members of the troop but every eligible boy not in Scouting will be welcomed, Gregory said.

Permanent meeting place for the troop will be the Legion Hut on the San Angelo highway. The site affords a meeting place with adjacent grounds for outdoor activities. Serving with Gregory on the troop committee will be Joe Benefield, Johnny Broughton, Henry Stewart and W. J. Priebe.

Roy Glasson, Lamesa, Dies

LAMESA—Roy Clinton Glasson, 43, resident of Lamesa for the past five years, died in a hospital here early today.

Funeral services are planned for 3 p.m. Saturday in the Second Baptist Church with the Rev. A. E. Hughes and J. W. Kesner officiating. Interment will be in Lamesa Memorial Park with Higginbotham Funeral Home in charge.

Mr. Glasson is survived by his wife and three children, Patsy Ruth, Peggy Joyce and Cletus, all of Lamesa; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Glasson Sr. of Lubbock; four sisters, Mrs. W. A. Burdine of Lamesa, Mrs. L. M. Brown and Mrs. H. L. Gordon of Lubbock and Mrs. Hugh Anderson of Borger; and four brothers, Houston of Lamesa; J. L. Jr. of Lubbock, Lloyd of Gorman and Dale of Baird.

Coahoman Injured In Traffic Mishap

Carl Hopper of Coahoma was treated at Big Spring Hospital early today after being in an accident.

Hopper was involved in a traffic accident about three miles east of Coahoma about 3 a.m. He was brought to the hospital by a River ambulance. Details of the accident could not be ascertained.

Still A Lot Of Coffee In Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Brazil shipped 1,200,000 bags of coffee in April, compared with 700,000 bags in April 1957, Finance Minister Jose Maria Alkmim said Thursday.

This, he said, is clear cut evidence that Brazil's economic problems have been overcome. He did not touch on the question of overproduction, which has made it necessary for the government to buy up the surplus in order to maintain coffee prices on the world market.

Dawson Teacher Is Honored For 50-Year Career

LAMESA—Double honors came to the Dawson school at Welch Thursday evening at the meeting of the Dawson County unit of the Texas State Teachers Assn.

C. L. Mitchell, Dawson superintendent, was elected president of the unit for next year, with E. A. Dearing and C. E. Green as vice presidents. Jeretta Stewart was named secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Dick Edwards was named to the board.

In recognition of half a century of service as a public school teacher, Mrs. Jesse B. Cates of the Dawson school, was presented with a watch. The presentation was made by P. K. Humes, Dawson County superintendent, who lauded her as a devoted teacher.

Mrs. Cates, in her response, said she had no intention of retiring and that her plans were to begin on her second 50 years of teaching next September.

Slaughter Files For Justice Post

Jess Slaughter, former sheriff of Howard County, is the latest political candidate to file with Frank Hardesty, county Democratic chairman.

Slaughter formally declared himself a candidate for the office of justice of the peace, Precinct 1, Place 2—the post now held by A. M. Sullivan.

Hardesty said he (Hardesty) had also officially filed for re-election as county chairman.

Deadline for filing is May 5.

Class Representatives For Student Council Elected

Student council representatives for Big Spring High School next year were chosen by students Thursday.

Cheerleaders also were picked.

The 1958-59 cheerleaders will be Mary Read and Modesta Simpson, sophomores; Celia Grant and Shirley Terry, juniors; and Jo Ann Ebling, Judy Reagan and Toni Thomas, seniors.

High school student officers were announced last week. They include James Howard Stephens, president; Toni Thomas, first vice president; Celia Grant, second vice president; Jo Ann Ebling, recording secretary; and Peggy Isaacks, corresponding secretary.

Prison Sentence Probated In Coahoma Robbery Case

Lawrence Albert Tells, 18-year-old transient under indictment for robbery by assault in connection with an attempt to rob J. M. Hollowell, Coahoma filling station operator on Feb. 26, pleaded guilty to the charge against him in 118th District Court today.

Tells also asked for a probated sentence which Judge Charlie Sullivan granted. Judge Sullivan sentenced Tells to five years and then probated the penalty.

Tells has been in jail since an hour after the unsuccessful effort to rob Hollowell.

His partner, Robert John Tunstall, who was alleged to have actually attacked Hollowell with a hammer, was sentenced to five years imprisonment and is now at Huntsville.

Local Couple Hurt In Crash At 4th, State

County Commissioner P. O. Hughes and his wife were slightly injured in an auto accident here Thursday night, when a Sweetwater resident decided to go west on eastbound 4th St.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes were rushed to Big Spring Hospital by a River ambulance after the accident about 7:30 p.m., but he wasn't admitted. Mrs. Hughes was held overnight for observation and was released this morning.

Hughes was traveling north on State when the collision occurred at the 4th St. intersection. Driver of the other car was Daniel Martinez of Sweetwater. Martinez said he was driving the wrong way on the one-way street. Martinez and two passengers in his car were ininjured.

Police officers arrested the Latin American and charged him with driving while intoxicated. In county court today, he was fined $200 and sentenced to six months in jail.

In other accidents Thursday, Marie Meek, 1706 Donley, and Delano Shaw, 600 W. 15th, were in an accident at 1401 Nolan.

An accident Wednesday night involved a parked car belonging to Marie Jennings, and a vehicle driven by C. W. Christian, 1101 W. 5th. The incident occurred in the 1000 block of Bluebonnet.

Damage Suits Filed Thursday

Two damage actions were filed in 118th District Court Thursday afternoon.

Thurman Rogers, in the role of next friend of Vota Ann Madden, a minor, has filed suit against Betty Wolf Hunt and Jim Hunt. He seeks $18,000 damages which he alleges the child suffered as result of a car accident on Highway 80 March 11.

The petition alleges that the little girl had gotton off a school bus and was crossing the highway. The car, driven by Betty Wolf Hunt, is alleged to have struck her. Injuries, he asserts, were inflicted on the girl and he asks $18,000.

Ollie McDaniel has brought suit against Andreas Gamboa for $12,300 damages as result of an accident which occurred on Dec. 27, 1957, on Gregg at W. 15th.

Plaintiff alleges in his petition that his car was struck by that of the defendant. The car was damaged $200 and he asks $12,000 damages for injuries he sustained.

Bus Pupils To Attend Goliad

Bus pupils will be assigned to the Goliad Junior High School next autumn, school officials have announced.

All junior high pupils residing outside the city limits and who also are two or more miles removed from the school, will attend Goliad Junior High, said Floyd W. Parsons, superintendent.

This arrangement will apply to those who ride buses of rural school districts as well as those on the Big Spring Independent School District buses, he said.

Except in a few special cases such as where a child has only a part of a year to go in another school, the elementary bus pupils are assigned to Airport school where facilities are most ample to take care of them.

Stewart To Lead Wyoming Revival

Rev. Ernest D. Stewart Jr., pastor of the E. 4th Street Baptist Church, left here this morning for Casper, Wyo., where he will lead a 10-day revival.

Rev. Stewart will begin the revival services tonight at the Boyd Avenue Baptist Church there. Pastor of the church is Rev. Billy Rudd, who formerly was music director at the church here. Rev. Rudd will lead the singing in the meeting.

The services will continue through May 11.

C-City Church Hires New Music Director

COLORADO CITY — Don B. Jones, former employe of the television station in Big Spring, assumed duties at Colorado City's First Baptist Church Thursday as minister of music and youth.

Jones is a graduate of Abilene High School and a former Hardin-Simmons University student, according to Reverend Jack Selcraig, pastor of the church. He had worked at Station KRBC in Abilene and is the son of Mrs. Patsy Jones, 917 Chestnut, in Abilene.

He will be accompanied here by his wife and two-year-old son.

MARKETS

WALL STREET

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved a little higher in the early afternoon with aircrafts and some specialities leading.

Gains in some major issues ran from fractions to about 2 points. Losses were mostly in fractions.

The market was quiet and mixed, then picked up volume as prices improved.

Some brokers were encouraged because Thursday's assault on the recovery highs in the industrial averages had not brought widespread selling.

United Air rose more than 2 points. Some analysts noted that United had lagged behind in the recent upswing.

General Dynamics, Douglas and Boeing were up ½ or more.

Small gainers included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheep & Tube, Goodrich, Sears Roebuck, American Telephone & Telegraph, International Nickel, American Cyanamid, Du Pont, Southern Pacific, Gulf and Standard (New Jersey).

Off a shade were General Motors, Chrysler, Caterpillar, Kennecott, Chesapeake & Ohio, Texas Co. and General Electric.

U. S. governments bonds were steady.

LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH (AP) — Cattle 75, calves 25, hogs 10; all too scarce to establish market.

Sheep 7,000; steady; good and choice spring lambs 22.00-22.50; medium feeders 18.00, old crop lambs good and choice 17.00-18.00; choice No. 1 pelt lambs weighing around 104 lbs drew 18.50; ewes 9.00; medium stocker yearling wethers 16.00.

COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton was 30 cents a bale lower to 5 higher at noon today. May 35.96, July 36.44, October 36.96.

Auditorium Painting Is Next Project

Repainting of the City Auditorium will probably be the next job to be financed out of bond money voted in 1955.

The $990,000 bond issue of that year included $75,000 to remodel the city hall and make repairs—including air conditioning if possible—to the auditorium. The repairs included a new paint job.

Today, City Manager H. W. Whitney said that specifications being studied before the city asked for bids on the painting job. The City Commission will probably consider advertising for bids at its meeting May 13.

The city has about $18,000 left from the original $75,000 city hall-auditorium fund for repainting and other renovations which could include new draperies. The floor of the auditorium has already been resurfaced with payment from the fund and some sound equipment has been installed.

ton and Sanger at Clear Creek. State 10 between Denton and Aubrey was closed at the Elm Fork of the Trinity River. A county road west of Bolivar in northwest Denton County also was closed on the Elm Fork.

"Things look pretty good now," said Jack Joyce, managing editor of the Gainesville Daily Register, during the morning.

RAINED FOR HOUR

The downpour at Gainesville started at 7 p.m. Thursday and continued unabated for an hour. Water soon was lapping over curbs. Pecan Creek, which courses through the center of the city, went out of banks. The worst flooding was between 3 a.m. and 4 a.m., when firemen took about 200 persons from 45 families from houses in low areas.

No injuries were reported. Most evacuated persons had returned home.

Contributing to the flood was Elm Creek in the west edge of Gainesville. Soon after dawn, Joyce said both creeks were in their banks running full and pouring their floods into Lake Dallas. Pecan Creek flows into Elm south of Gainesville and thence into Lake Dallas. Joyce said a few low areas still were flooded but that drainage was swift.

The flooding at Gainesville came as sullen skies slopped more rains over wide parts of Texas. The Weather Bureau said there was no end in sight for the sodden state.

Rain was reported Friday at San Angelo, San Antonio, Austin, Fort Worth and Dallas. A hard rain hit Paris at about midnight.

Fog blanketed Amarillo, Abilene, Mineral Wells, Fort Worth, Dallas, Wichita Falls, Waco, Austin, San Antonio and Junction.

Moderate to heavy thunderstorms rumbled across a broad belt of North Central Texas Thursday night.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms were forecast again for the entire state. It was the eighth straight day of rains.

Muenster received 2.80 inches of rain and Valley View 1.40 inches Thursday night. Both are in the Gainesville area.

The heaviest rains Thursday night were in an area bounded roughly by Abilene, Fort Worth, Denton and Lake Texoma, on the Texas-Oklahoma border.

OTHER DOWNPOURS

Lighter rains fell as far south as Houston and Junction in West Texas, and around Texarkana in Northeast Texas.

Up to three inches of rain drenched Wichita Falls in North Texas Thursday afternoon, causing some flash flooding. An electrical storm knocked out power at Mineral Wells, about 90 miles southeast of Wichita Falls, Thursday night. Hard rain accompanied the lightning.

The State Highway Patrol said an auto was reported swept off Farm Road 1655 and into Chicken Creek between Chico and Alvard, about 50 miles northwest of Fort Worth.

Radio dispatcher Marvin Duval said a witness reported the car was moving ahead of him when the taillights disappeared. The Patrol said the car had not been recovered.

The road is under water and closed.

Up to 3.3 inches of rain fell in Wichita Falls between 3 and 6 p.m.

Beautiful Chinese Woman Was Signal For Dope Traffic

NEW YORK (AP)—The beautiful Chinese woman strolling along the sidewalk with a bulldog provided an interesting sight.

But it was a much more interesting sight to some people than others. It was, police said today, a signal to narcotics buyers that a new supply of dope was on hand.

Thursday night officers swooped down on a Chinatown gift shop operated by the woman and her husband.

There on a shelf with other store items, in an oversize tea can draped with jade beading to make it look just like another gift, police said they found heroin worth 1½ million dollars on the illicit market.

Officers took into custody Yuhung Ting, 35, and his wife, 24. They said the couple were married in Hong Kong in 1957 while Ting was a seaman.

The wife is such a beauty, police said, that she had a screen test in Hollywood before the couple opened their gift shop about a year ago.

Garza Wildcat Staked Today, Plans Test Of Glorieta Zone

A new Glorieta wildcat was staked in the northwestern part of Garza County today.

The new try is Earl Wells No. 1 Charles Sokall and will drill to 4,600 feet looking for production. It is about a mile south of Southland.

In Howard, operator made preparations to complete the Woodson No. 1 Pauline in the North Vincent field from the Canyon section.

Borden

Trice No. 1 Finnegan, 1½ miles north of the East Vealmoor pool, deepened to 7,545 feet in lime. The exploration is 1,980 from north and 2,200 from east lines, 12-27-H&TC Survey.

Well No. 1 Sokall is a new wildcat a mile south of Southland. Drillsite is 330 from north and west lines, 1-261, Gibson Survey. Operator will drill to 4,600 feet looking for Glorieta production.

Glasscock

Operator continued to swab load oil and acid water from Spraberry perforations at Bright & Schiff No. 1 Bryans, seven miles southwest of Garden City today. The try is C NW NW, 26-35-4s, T&P Survey.

Stanotex No. 1 Currie, C NW NW, 220-29, W&NW Survey, deepened to 6,081 feet in lime. The wildcat is 12 miles northeast of Garden City.

Howard

Stanotex No. 1-2-A Winters was bottomed at 7,541 feet and running logs today. The North Vincent pool site is 467 from north and west lines, 6-25, H&TC Survey.

Operator set 5½-inch string at 7,561 (total depth) for completion attempt. On a drillstem test Thursday from 7,501-41 feet, recovery was 6,180 feet of oil and gas-cut salt water and 720 feet of salt water. The North Vincent site is 2,002 from south and 330 from east lines, 57-20, Lavaca Navigation Survey.

Fleming, Fleming & Kimbell No. 3-B TXL in the Snyder field, yielded 98 barrels of 30.6-degree oil and one per cent water on final test after being fractured with 10,000 gallons. The well is 330 from north and 990 from west lines, 23-30-1s, T&P Survey. Total depth is 2,900 feet, top of the pay zone is 2,631 feet, and it produced from open hole.

Fleming No. 4-B TXL was fractured with 20,000 gallons and then produced 82.50 barrels of oil and one per cent water in 24 hours. Gravity of oil is 30.5 degrees. The hole extends to 2,900 feet, and operator hit production at 2,641. It also produced from open hole. Wellsite is 330 from north and 990 from east lines, 23-30-1s, T&P Survey.

In the Iatan East Howard field, Fleming No. 7-E Denman made 74.25 barrels of 30.8-degree oil without a trace of water in 24-hour final test. The well is 330 from north and 990 from east lines, 16-30-1s, T&P Survey. Total depth is 2,900 feet, with production reached at 2,697.

Fleming No. 8-E Denman pumped 115.50 barrels of oil and two per cent water on final test after being fractured with 10,000 gallons. It is also in the Iatan pool, 330 from north and 990 from west lines, 16-30-1s, T&P Survey. Gravity of oil is 31 degrees. The hole extends to 2,897 feet, top of the pay zone is 2,681, and production is from open hole.

Brinson-Collins staked the No. 1-B Percy Jones in the Iatan field about seven miles southeast of Coahoma. Drillsite is 990 from south and 330 from east lines, 9-30-1s, T&P Survey. Drilling depth is 3,000 feet.

Death Claims Schoolgirl, 8

Cecelia Kay Carter, 8-year-old second grade pupil at Washington Place School, died in a hospital here at 1:45 a.m. today.

She had been ill for about three weeks and re-entered the hospital Sunday when her condition worsened in the wake of a series of complications following childhood infections.

Cecelia was the daughter of Mrs. Mentora Carter and Frank Raymond Carter, both of Big Spring, and was born on Sept. 22, 1949, in Gorman.

Services have been set for 9 a.m. Saturday at the First Presbyterian Church with her pastor, Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, officiating. Burial will be in the Trinity Memorial Park with Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Besides her parents, Cecelia is survived by a brother, Leslie Scott Carter, and a sister, Marsha Ann Carter, of the family home at 1506-A Virginia.

She also leaves her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Frank Carter, DeLeon, and her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Nowlin, DeLeon.

Pallbearers will be Wayne Bartlett, Joe Moss, Tolford Durham and R. W. Thompson.

Rattlesnake Hunt Rules Announced

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—The Fifth annual rattlesnake hunt of the Grace Wiley Reptile Club of Long Beach will be held May 10.

Ground rules announced by the club:

"Minors must be accompanied by their parents.

"Bring your own lunch.

"Please wear boots."

Antivenom serum and suction cups also were recommended.

The hunt will be in Silverado Canyon in Orange County. There will be prizes for: heaviest rattler; largest number of rattlesnakes caught; the one with the most rattles; and the best homemade snake stick.

Scotts Have Baby

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Nalley are grandparents for a second time. They received a cablegram from Lt. and Mrs. Russell Scott in Wethersfield, Eng., Friday morning saying that a second daughter had been born to them. The baby, weighing in at seven pounds and 13 ounces, and the mother are doing well. Mrs. Scott is the former Janice Nalley.

Postal Receipts Slightly Ahead

Postal receipts at Big Spring post office are about $400 ahead of the toal for the first four months last year, Elmer Boatler, postmaster, announced.

April receipts, which showed some $6,000 gain over the figures for the same month in 1958, pulled the year's total a little ahead for 1958.

Boatler said that receipts for April were $24,641.52 as compared with $17,939.75 in 1957.

Total for the year for the first four months now stands at $87,271.29 as compared with $86,864.14 for the same period in 1957.

By months with 1957 totals in parentheses:

January $22,183.47 ($23,535.84);
February $18,533.22 ($23,818.96);
March $21,913.00 ($21,569.59);
April $24,641.52 ($17,939.75.)

Burglars Raid Vealmoor Shop

Burglars forced a door on a garage-workshop at the Seaboard Oil Co. plant near Vealmoor sometime Thursday night, the sheriff's office has been advised.

Jack Shaffer, deputy sheriff, said the thieves took a number of tools, three new tires and wheels and two five-gallon cans of gasoline.

No arrests have been made. The burglary was discovered Friday morning when workmen arrived

Mrs. Tinkham's Rites Are Set

Mrs. Florence Budd Tinkham, 78, of 1004 Sycamore, died here early Friday.

Mrs. Tinkham, in failing health, had been seriously ill for only a short time.

Last rites will be said at 3 p.m. Saturday at the Nalley-Pickle Chapel with Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, First Presbyterian pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Mrs. Tinkham was born July 12, 1879, in New York City and she was married to George H. Tinkham on Oct. 25, 1899, in Windsor, Conn. They came here several years ago from Tucson, Ariz., to make their home.

She had served as president of the VFW Auxiliary and of the Spanish-American Veterans Auxiliary in Tucson, and previously she had been active as a member of the Order of Easter Star and the Rebekahs.

Surviving her are her husband, G. H. Tinkham, Big Spring; a son, Dr. T. C. Tinkham, Big Spring; a brother, Warren Hasselbrock, St. Petersburg, Fla., and a sister, Mrs. Emma Chudova, Hartford, Conn. She also leaves four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. One son, Arnold, preceded her in death.

Pallbearers will be Jake Douglass, J. C. Pye, Seth Lacy, J. E. Felts, Gordon Hughes, Bud Tanner, John Puckett, and John Morris.

Kyle Scott Cauble Rites Held Today

Graveside rites were to be held in City Cemetery at 4 p.m. today for Kyle Scott Cauble, 4-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Cauble.

The child died in a hospital here Thursday morning. The Rev. C. W. Parmenter, Wesley Memorial Methodist minister, was to officiate. River Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

DEAR ABBY

TO SHARE IS FAIR

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am going to be married in June and am now receiving a host of engagement gifts as well as shower gifts such as toasters, irons, linens, glasses, etc. I will be living with my mother-in-law for the first year. She expects me to bring all my new appliances and other gifts into her home for use. Do you think this is fair or am I wrong? BRIDE

DEAR BRIDE: If your mother-in-law is willing to share her home with you, you should be willing to share your toaster, iron and what-have-you with her. Better change your attitude, young lady. The success of your marriage is more dependant upon what's in your heart than what's in your gift boxes.

DEAR ABBY: My mother has been driving me to and from high school, but the boy next door just got his license and has a car of his own so she keeps after me to hook a ride with him. She doesn't seem to understand that if I push myself on this boy he will think I am chasing him. Do you think it's right of my mother to make me hook rides from him when I feel like I do? RATHER WALK

DEAR RATHER: There is more than just a "ride" involved. Your pride should be considered. If you'd rather walk—put your best foot forward.

DEAR ABBY: I always thought that jealousy was a sign of true love. I tried to see how much my boyfriend cared for me so I flirted with other boys, but he didn't seem to mind. Is there any other test I can use? LOIS

DEAR LOIS: Jealousy is a sign of immaturity—and a lack of self-confidence. Love is based on mutual trust so don't try to test it by flirting.

DEAR ABBY: My son has been in Paris, France, in the service and he has become infatuated with one of those French women. He is planning on marrying her. I have noticed that these French women have very little mother love for their children. They just go from man to man. How can I prevent this woman from using my son as a means to get a free trip to America? A MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: You are taking a lot for granted. You do not even know this French woman and you are condemning her. I am not aware that French women have any less "mother love" than American (or any other) women. Give her a chance. You might like her.

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO "GOOD NEIGHBOR POLICYHOLDER:" Don't cancel. Tell her you are very busy and can't chat long. Smile and get on with your gardening.

Car Parts Stolen

Hub caps and other car accessories continued to disappear from vehicles here. Charles Briggs, 1805 N. Monticello, reported that hub caps were taken from his car while it was parked at the Ritz Theatre Wednesday. Four hub caps were taken from Floyd Holland's car while it was parked at the State Hospital Thursday. Two floor mats were stolen from a car owned by E. K. Dodson, 1701 Aylford.

Physics Prof Describes Method For Atomic Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — A physics professor said today it is possible to meet 12 per cent of the nation's electric power needs by exploding two small H-bombs an hour in a specially designed chamber.

Dr. Jay Orear, assistant professor at Columbia University, New York, proposed walling off a section of a deep canyon, lining and roofing it with steel, insulating the chamber with dirt on top, and setting off the bombs inside.

The idea was outlined in a paper prepared for a meeting of the American Physical Society.

So far, the peaceful harnessing of the power of the H-bomb is only a goal which scientists are talking and speculating about.

In another paper, Dr. R. Jastrow of the Naval Research Laboratory here said information obtained from the first Soviet Sputnik and American rockets indicates the atmosphere is 40 times more dense at a height of 250 miles than had been estimated two years ago.

This was the second upward revision of atmospheric density estimates in as many days. Dr. G. F. Schilling, a scientist for the Smithsonian Institution's Astrophysical Laboratory at Cambridge, Mass., reported an estimate Thursday that the density is 14 times greater at 230 miles than the Air Force had figured.

Orear noted in his paper that the Atomic Energy Commission has been considering use of underground nuclear explosions to produce electricity. He said that might not be economical.

The proposal put up to the AEC is an extension of the technique already followed in an underground nuclear explosion experiment, setting off a blast in a deep shaft. The theory is that the heat absorbed by earth and rock could be tapped.

Orear would pick a canyon 400 feet wide, box it off with two dams about 700 feet apart, and line the walls with steel plates to a height of about 500 feet. He would put on a dome-shaped steel roof, strong enough to hold a pressure of about 500 pounds per square inch, and cover it with a deep layer of earth.

Two H-bombs each with the equivalent of 10,000 tons of TNT, would be fired hourly to raise the temperature in the chamber several hundred degrees and create a pressure of 300 to 500 pounds per square inch. Water piped through the chamber, would turn into steam for driving turbines to produce electricity.

New Argentine Chief Recovers

He took office Thursday as the first democratically elected president since Juan Peron seized power in 1943.

He planned to interrupt his rest spell, however, to entertain U.S. Vice President Richard Nixon at lunch and to review the fleet Saturday.

Rhee Expected To Sweep Elections

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Votes cast today by an estimated nine million South Koreans are expected to return President Syngman Rhee's Liberal party to control of the National Assembly but with a reduced majority.

The Koreans balloted for 233 members of the one-house Legislature after a quiet month's campaign between the Liberals and Democrats.

Nearly final results are expected Saturday.

Food Poisoning Hits Lamesans

LAMESA — First Baptist Sunday School workers apparently had overcome an unexpected adversary today.

All of the 60 persons stricken with food poisoning at a monthly workers dinner early Wednesday evening at the church had either recovered or were on the way to recovery.

Eight of them had to be hospitalized.

Bob Goolsby, city-county health unit sanitarian, had taken samples of food consumed at the dinner and sent them to the state health department for analysis. Meanwhile, eggs in a chicken salad were suspect.

Physicians were kept busy most of Wednesday night answering calls of upset digestive tracts, and Mrs. Bailey White, Mrs. B. Bowen Cox, Mrs. Ronnie Sheppard, Mrs. Kitty Waldrop, Mrs. C. P. Creswell, Mrs. Lincoln Stockton, Mrs. Elmo Smith and Raymond Cope were taken to the hospital for treatment.

Approximately 160 persons attended the Sunday school planning meeting which preceded the midweek prayer service.

'Spaceman' Cuts Splash Day Ribbon

GALVESTON (AP)—Airman Donald Farrell, complete in a space suit and helmet, cut a ribbon last night officially opening Galveston's Splash Days and his four-day reign as King Neptune.

State Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton helped Farrell, who made a space flight experiment for the Air Force several months ago, cut the ribbon to open a feature of the celebration.

The schedule calls for a beauty contest, water show and parade.

Youth Activities Top Legion Agenda

Youth activities headed the business at Thursday night's meeting of the Howard County Post of the American Legion. These included Boy Scouts, Soap Box Derby, Outstanding Student Awards, American Legion baseball and Boy's State.

Commander J. V. Gregory announced organization of Troop No. 19, sponsored by the Post, for the evening of May 6. Eligible boys are invited to attend the meeting at the Legion Hut.

A goal of sending three high school juniors to the annual Boy's State in Austin was announced. Arrangement to complete the financing of the boys' expenses are being made.

George Zachariah announced the Legion awards for the Most Outstanding boy and girl students at Howard County Junior College will be presented at 9:45 a.m. on May 9, in the college auditorium. Awards will also be made to a boy and girl in both the senior and junior high schools.

Marty Bankston, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Bankston Jr. will wear the Legion colors in the annual Soap Box Derby. Sponsors of the event, Tidwell Chevrolet Co., the Lion's Club and Big Spring Daily Herald, made the assignment.

Jack Pearson, baseball committee chairman, reported organization of the Legion team has begun. Several uniforms were not turned in by the players on last year's team and Pearson requested these boys return the suits.

Raymond Andrews, commander of the 19th Legion District, reported on the district convention held in Brownfield last weekend. He also invited attendance at the 5th Division convention in San Angelo Saturday and Sunday. Andrews and Robert Evans will represent the post there.

Alfred Goodson, district legislative committee member, called the attention of the post to state regulations calling for the employment of at least 40 per cent veterans on state construction projects. Goodson said his committee has received some reports that in some instances this law is not being complied with.

Members of the Post voted to begin the Thursday meetings of the post at 7:30 p.m instead of 8 o'clock until September.

Retired Officer Of Salvation Army Dies At C-City

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Maj. William David Carter, 72, retired Salvation Army officer, died in the Root Memorial Hospital here Friday at 2 a.m. following a heart attack.

He was removed to the hospital at 6:30 p.m. Thursday after being stricken at his home at 929 Walnut Street.

Maj. Carter was born in Newfoundland on Oct. 23, 1885, and came to the United States in 1927. He was married to Josephine Burry on Sept. 29, 1915, in St. Johns, Nfld. He had been in the Salvation Army most of his life and an officer and minister since young manhood. He retired in 1951 and until eight months ago had lived in Corsicana.

Surviving Maj. Carter are his wife; four sons, Leslie Carter, Macon, Ga., Lew Carter, Shamrock, Max Carter, Aztec, N. M., and Bill Carter, Colorado City; one sister, Mrs. Frank Fowlow, St. Johns, Nfld.; and 13 grandchildren.

Arrangements are incomplete but burial is due to be in Dallas, probably on Monday, Kiker and Son Funeral Home announced.

Youth Center Is Urged At Lamesa

LAMESA — An appeal for the youth activities center was brought to the Lamesa Noon Lions Club on Thursday.

The Rev. Russ Barnett, pastor of the First Christian Church, said that the youth development council was aiming at a program which would be not just something to take up time but to constructively apply the time of youth. It would, he said, go a long way toward eliminating the problem of delinquency among the younger group.

Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, the Little Leagues, Church and other youth organizations are reaching only half of the young folk of Dawson County. The youth activities center would be a means of helping to reach more, he said.

Water Usage Is Under Estimates

Water consumption during April went under the city's estimated total.

The city manager reported today that 98,903,000 gallons of water were consumed by city customers during April, and an additional 34,684,000 was used by Cabot-Cosden, making a total of 133,587,000.

In setting up the budget, the city had estimated that 145 million gallons would be consumed.

E. WILLIAMS and wife, Josie Williams conveyed above described lands and premises unto J. A. ALLEN; and the real and true unknown owner or owners, if any, of the above described lands and premises, DEFENDANTS, GREETING

You are hereby commanded to appear by filing a written answer to the Plaintiffs' Original Petition at or before 10 o'clock A.M. of the first Monday after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being Monday the 9th day of June, A.D. 1958, at or before ten o'clock A.M. before the Honorable District Court of Howard County, Texas, at the Court House of said Howard County in Big Spring, Texas.

Said Plaintiffs' Petition was filed in said court on the 23rd day of April, A.D. 1958, in this cause numbered 11,296 on the docket of said court, and styled C. O. NALLEY, ET UX, ET AL, Plaintiffs, vs. J. A. ALLEN JR., ET AL., Defendants.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit:

Plaintiffs are suing Defendants in Trespass to Try Title for the title and possession of the following described tract of land:

Lot No. Three (3), in Block No. Eighty-Three (83) in the Original Town of Big Spring, in Howard County, Texas;

Plaintiffs further allege that they hold the title to above described tract of land under the TEN YEAR Statute of Limitation of The State of Texas, which they are affirmatively pleading and seeking under such allegations of peaceable, continuous and adverse possession of said land for ten years, to recover the title and possession of said tract of land of and from Defendants.

Plaintiffs further allege that they hold the title to the above described tract of land under the Twenty-Five Year Statute of Limitation of The State of Texas, Article 5519 of Vernon's Anno. Texas Civil Statutes, and Plaintiffs seek under such allegations of Twenty-Five Years' peaceable and adverse possession of the above described tract of land to recover the title and possession of said land of and from Defendants; Plaintiffs further sue for damages, all as is more fully shown by Plaintiffs' Petition on file in this suit.

If this citation is not served within ninety days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Big Spring, Texas, this the 23rd day of April, A.D. 1958.

Big Spring Youth Is Looking To You!

To Provide The Community With A Center Of Christian Influence — A New YMCA Home

It's wonderful to grow . . . and just like our children, Big Spring is growing. In 10 short years our boy and girl crop has far outgrown the limited facilities of a reconverted church building . . . and if present trends continue, within the next decade we will have almost twice as many boys and girls in the teen-age and youth brackets. If a fraction of major developments planned for our community come to pass, the parade of youth will be greater still.

Boys and girls reflect their community . . . how it feels about their moral and physical well-being. Our boys and girls won't fail unless our community first fails them.

The YMCA, with its ideals of Christian leadership and service, has an unique opportunity to shape the future health and happiness of our young people . . . . . But it must have your help!

FACTS ABOUT THE YMCA BUILDING CAMPAIGN

- Total estimated cost of the project is $309,000. The entire amount must be raised in Big Spring . . . the Big Spring YMCA is independent of outside control and support.
- Gifts may be divided over a three-year period with either monthly, quarterly or annual payments.
- All gifts are deductible for income tax purposes.
- This campaign is being conducted locally without professional fund raising assistance. All gifts go directly into the New YMCA Building Fund.
- Good surroundings for the young people who will determine Big Spring's future are not a luxury but a wise investment. The New Y Building will not be elaborate . . . there are no unnecessary frills.

THIS PROGRAM IS OFF TO A GOOD START

Many people have labored for many months to lay the groundwork for this YMCA capital fund campaign. A 2-acre site, in the Birdwell Lake area (just west of the old Baseball Park) has been obtained for the building. Architects have been employed to design a building that will fill the needs of the community. Some major gifts have built the YMCA building fund to better than $100,000. Sound planning has gone into the entire project. It is off to a good start. Now, its success is dependent upon whole-hearted cooperation from every citizen of the community who wants to see the very best atmosphere provided for our boys and girls.

Anyone can CLEAN GARMENTS
but
IN OUR BUSINESS
we prefer to give them
the NEW LOOK

It takes EXPERIENCE and KNOW HOW to satisfactorily clean garments; not just a "dip in the bath" or a "quickie rinse" but a thorough renovation. That is the way we do business. If it comes from us, it has to be CLEAN . . . and every garment cleaned by us is U-SAN-O MOTHPROOFED, too, at no extra cost to you.

U-SAN-O MOTHPROOF CLEANING SYSTEM

We have plenty of storage room!

Noted Cellist At Midland Concert

The noted cellist, Leonard Rose's first appearance in West Texas will be to perform with the Midland Symphonic Orchestra during its final concert of the season at 8:15 p.m. Saturday in the Midland High School Auditorium.

The guest artist will play two works for cello and Orchestra, including "Cello Concerto No. 1 in A minor, Op. 33," by Saint-Saens, and "Variations on a Rococo Theme" by Tschaikowsky.

Few cellists have performed in this area, since the usual soloist has been either a pianist, violinist or singer.

The symphony orchestra will perform three selections, with the opening number scheduled as "Prelude & Fugue in D minor" by Handel, as arranged by the well-known composer and conductor, Hans Kindler.

In an unusual vein will be the orchestra's second number, "Suite on Fiddler's Tunes," by American composer George Frederick McKay.

The concert will be the orchestra's second number. "Suite on Fiddler's Tunes," by American composer George Frederick McKay.

LEONARD ROSE

The concert will close with "Ballet Parisien" by Jacques Offenbach. Tickets for the concert will be available at the door before the concert.

Ticket prices are: $1.30, $2.60 and $3.90.

Marrow Bank Surgery Aid

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Some cancer patients may deposit part of their bone marrow in a cold storage bank before they face tumor-destroying radiation.

This possible way of protecting blood-producing ability was suggested to a scientific meeting of the American College of Physicians.

It would give radiation therapists much more leeway as to the amount of radiation a patient could receive—without harming the blood-producing marrow.

A group of California doctors, headed by Dr. Nathaniel B. Kurnick of Long Beach, have devised a new technique. Dr. Kurnick described it this way:

Patients headed for heavy radiation treatments give up part of their own bone marrow. It is frozen and kept on deposit.

The patients undergo radiation treatments designed to kill malignant tissue—and strong enough to kill the blood-producing marrow cells as well.

Then, after treatment, the patient's previous deposit of marrow is replaced in his bones. Within two weeks the marrow has developed a greater blood-producing ability than it had before the operation.

This technique has been used three times on two patients at the Veterans Administration hospital in Long Beach. Despite the success of the transplants, both patients later died from the advanced state of their malignancy.

SPEBSQSA Officers Installed At Lamesa

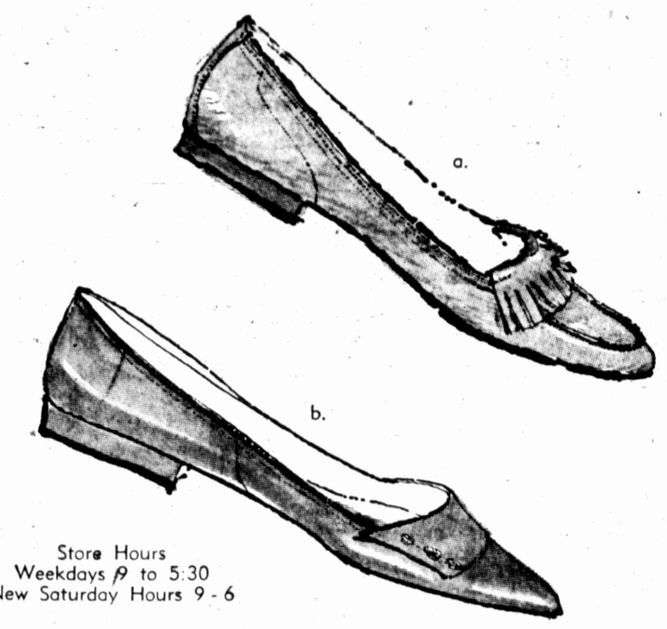

LAMESA — New officers of the Lamesa Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America were installed Tuesday night by Ed Johnson, retiring president. Installed were Pete Parker president; Earl Hise vice president, Ronnie Shepherd secretary-treasurer, and four new directors.

The Barbershop Chorus worked extensively on numbers to be presented at the first annual barbershop quartet show scheduled for the Lamesa Junior High Auditorium May 10. Hise is director.

Among the other groups to appear for the show are the Madcaps of Dallas, second place in the southwestern region contest last spring; the Caprockers of Lubbock; the Hum-Dingers of Odessa; the Graveltones and the Four Roars, both of Lamesa.

Members of Brownie and Intermediate Girl Scout Troops and all Barbershoppers have tickets to the show, at $1.00 each.

Ready For The Rush

These people comprise the office staff for the YMCA's current $309,000 building fund campaign. In the center is D. M. McKinney, who has volunteered his time as office director, and the women workers are Mrs. Ann Jayroe (right) and Mrs. Sheila Hill. They have been busy for weeks preparing cards and various campaign material, and now are poised to handle the crush of reports that will be pouring in from campaign solicitors. The Y's campaign office is in the lobby of the Settles Hotel.

Mystery Beast Still Mystery

ATLANTA (AP)—The mysterious beast that has frightened residents of Atlanta's northwest section is still a mystery today.

Hundreds of policemen and civilians, some armed with shotguns, searched a wooded section Thursday night after residents reported seeing a critter that was big, black and mean.

Several hunters maintained that only a panther could have made the four-toed tracks that were found. Police said they measured 4¼ inches in diamter.

But Patrolman Walt Jones, who used his bear-hunting dogs in the search, said in his opinion there was no panther in the area.

He called off te dogs at 12:30 a. m., soon after they treed a black house cat.

While the hunt was in progress residents of the section kept children indoors and some maintained an armed vigil. Several shotgun blasts were fired at shadows and objects moving across yards.

Hospital Survey Panel Named, To Start Work

Dr. J. E. Hogan, Chamber of Commerce president, has completed the appointment of members to a special C of C committee to study the area's hospital needs and explore possible means of providing additional medical facilities here.

The 30-member group is to start its work next Tuesday evening at a dinner session in the Wagon Wheel Restaurant. The meeting will start at 7 p.m.

Both the Chamber of Commerce board and the Howard County Medical Society have emphasized the need for additional hospital beds and other facilities in Big Spring. Existing hospitals rapidly are being taxed beyond capacity, and medical leaders have said provision of new buildings and equipment is beyond the scope of private financing.

The committee will attempt to determine long-range hospital requirements of the Big Spring area and study various means of financing expansion.

Additional medical facilities are essential if the city is to maintain its position as a West Texas medical center, Dr. Hogan said.

Dr. Hogan also announced appointment of Dr. W. A Hunt, Howard County Junior College president, as chairman of a special planning committee. Other members are being selected.

The planning group will look into means of setting up a sort of "master plan" for development of the city as it expands into surrounding area. First meeting of Dr. Hunt's committee is scheduled tentatively for noon Monday, May 12.

HOT ELECTION BREWING

100 Expected For District Toastmaster Meet Saturday

Considerable campaigning will feature the noon day luncheon of the fourth annual convention of the District 44 Toastmasters Club convention here tomorrow, George A. Larsen, area chairman and president of the Big Spring club said Friday.

There is a hot contest for the election of district governor, he said, and material for the drive for votes is already on hand.

All sessions of the convention, which is expected to attract at least 100 delegates from many towns in West Texas, will be at the Cosden Country Club. Actvities open at 9 a.m.

Convention theme is "Speak More—Learn More—Earn More." Two speech education clinics are to be presented by members of each of the six areas comprising District 44.

Wives of many of the delegates are to accompany their husbands to Big Spring and special arrangements are being made for their entertainment. Webb Air Force Base is offering a tour for the visiting wives. Mrs. Ruth Burnam, 1107 Johnson, will serve a coffee for the guests at 10:15 a.m. Members of the Toastmistress Club will assist.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College, will be featured speaker at the banquet Saturday night. Dr. John A. Hogan, president of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, will welcome the visitors.

A feature of the evening session will be the selection of the district champion speaker from a field of candidates already selected by each of the six areas. The finalists for district honors are Bill Gillespie, Lubbock; Bill Alexander, Abilene; William S. Davis, McCamey; Capt. John York, Amarillo; and Dr. Wayne Hardy, Levelland. The winner will represent the district at the Toastmasters National Convention in Pittsburgh, Pa., in August.

Larsen is in charge of arrangements here. A number of officers of the district and the areas will be in attendance.

Tax Form Sentence Stumps The Experts

NEW YORK (AP)—A 212-word sentence in the Internal Revenue Code has stumped experts trying to boil it down for readability.

The passage, concerning tax estimates, roused the wrath last month of Sen. Arthur Watkins (R-Utah). He offered a book on simplified English to anyone who could reduce its complexity.

A CBS television program (The Last Word) took up the issue and announced it would add an encyclopedia to the prize offer. About 600 answers were examined by a panel of New York University professors.

Bill Weinstein, the program's producer, said the best answer contained five errors.

He said the professional panel suggested that a few periods could be put in, adding: "But there just wasn't any way of simplifying the phraseology."

Carpet Traffic Paths Removed

Do you have a traffic path? It's that beat down section of carpet that has received the heaviest wear.

To preserve the "new all over" look, those traffic paths must be eliminated, so apply Blue Lustre carpet cleaner with an easy to use long handle brush. The colors will spring out fresh and bright with the nap open and fluffy to blend with the unsoiled sections of your carpet.

One-half gallon of Blue Lustre cleans three 9 x 12 rugs.

That's why I had his eyes examined at TSO"

Informed parents take their children to TSO because they know that experienced Doctors of Optometry NOT ONLY examine their eyes thoroughly and scientifically to determine whether or not glasses are needed, BUT THEY ALSO EXAMINE THE INTERIOR OF EACH EYE FOR POSSIBLE DISEASE OR DEFECT.

They know that glasses will NOT be prescribed or fitted unless their children absolutely need them.

So, if YOU WANT TO BE SURE ABOUT YOUR CHILDREN'S EYES, have them examined at TSO, soon.

A Bible Thought For Today

Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost his savor, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men. (Matthew 5:13)

WTCC Joins In Imports Control

At their 40th annual convention in Fort Worth this week the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, headquartered in Abilene, voted to abandon its former opposition to mandatory import controls on petroleum and instead gave its support to the pending Ikard bill, which makes it mandatory for the President to impose import quotas at the same ratio as existed between imports and domestic production in 1954. The strong voice of the WTCC should strengthen that bill in Congress.

We surmise that this decision, taken perhaps with some reluctance, was based to an extent on the obvious: that is, that the device of the voluntary-observance feature of the existing set-up had thoroughly demonstrated its unworkability. Meantime the effect of heavy imports on domestic production was raising havoc especially among the independent producers, the old wheelhorses of the continuing search for new production to keep the nation strong in a vital defense ingredient.

Many independents apparently embraced mandatory compliance with reluctance, but came over to that view when it became obvious no other recourse seemed likely of success in easing the pressure of foreign imports on the domestic situation. The reluctance was compounded mainly of two factors. One was the fear that compulsory measures might open the door to further federal interference in private industry. The other was a disinclination to incur criticism for seeming to oppose the reciprocal trade agreements act, now up for congressional re-enactment.

The independent groups and such supporting organizations as the WTCC can hardly be accused of rushing headlong into mandatory control by quota restrictions. Since the very life of the small independents, together with the economies of many lines of business in oil territory, were at stake, any real relief for a situation that has grown steadily worse.

The campaign for relief will be carried to Congress with all the strength the oil-producing states, backed by the many lines of business drawing sustenance from the oil industry, can bring to bear.

Not the least sufferer has been the treasury of the State of Texas.

Materialism To Be Resurrected?

Some random thoughts:

A Soviet scientist makes the claim that the world is 10 billion years old—twice the age now accepted by scientists. Reminds one of Lysenko. This one's name is Zenkevich.

Free World scientists have, of recent years, recoiled from materialism, thanks mainly to Einstein's relativity which showed the universe to be an uncertain quantity, not the perfect machine visualized by materialists of the last century.

One of the cornerstones of the scientists' return to faith was the fact that all evidence to age of the earth pointed to an original Creation.

Zenkevich's calculation may be more political than scientific, since his theory would knock holes in the idea of an original Creation, and turn the universe back into a purely material factor. You may recall that Communists do not believe in God.

Lysenko? He was the Russian biologist who claimed heredity can be changed by environment, a theory that is the antithesis of the doctrine that living things reproduce each after its own kind. Western scientists scoffed, for the principles of genetics have been known and proved for many years.

Lysenko was honored by Stalin, for Communist dogma demands that the human race must be capable of permanent change as result of environmental changes.

I have a feeling Zenkevich's theory is due for some Western cat calls.

Some politicians are honest. Others glean the votes of the gravy train riders. There are millions of honest farmers in this country, who still must work hard in spite of all that science has done to ease their lot. There are some farmers who ride a gravy train.

It is these soft farmers who cast their votes for politicians in exchange for a promise that the gravy train will continue on schedule.

There are farmers who should be driven off the farms, and leave the business to those who can make a living without help from the gravy train.

There are politicians who are willing to vote against special privilege. Let us hope there are enough voters of the same mind.

Already, the reaction has set in. Members of the West German Parliament are upset over American films. They claim they show German soldiers as bad guys.

True, the propaganda emanating from Hollywood during the war years was, in some ways, almost as absurd as that coming out of Washington.

Yet, there is an element of truth in the charge that the Germans were "bad guys." Let us not forget that those German soldiers were mostly older Nazis or youths who had been reared with intent to kill.

Eloquent Talk For Holding Men

The Senate has now passed, without a disenting vote, the military pay raise previously adopted by the House, with only a few minor changes still to be ironed out in conference committee. With President Eisenhower's virtually certain signature, the measure will take effect in the month following its signing into law.

The principal difference between House and Senate measures is in the sum total of money involved for the first year of operation. The House version called for $683 million, the Senate for $573. Part of this is involved in the pay of general or admiral rank, with the Senate holding out for a scaling down of the House proposal, which named a sum beyond $500 a month over and above existing general's pay.

Practically everybody in uniform gets a cost-of-living raise of not less than 6 per cent. In addition, there will be available a bonus or incentive award, ranging from $50 to $150 a month, for enlisted men who show proficiency, and for officers who carry a special weight of responsibility.

A great many people, like the Senate, may feel that a disproportinate share of the boost in pay would be awarded to officers of general or admiral rank.

However, without trying to justify it, we feel sure that the House, and the Senate to a lesser degree, felt that it was necessary to hold generals and admirals on the job—just as the incentive awards are calculated to do for enlisted men and officers of lesser rank.

All three services, and the Air Force to a greater extent than the Army or the Navy, have lost a great many able leaders to private industry because industry and commerce have held out tempting salaries and better living conditions. Many high-ranking officers, carrying a great weight of responsibility, have separated from the service as soon as they had compiled the basic terms. Many of them were still in the low fifties, quite capable of several more years of efficient service.

Indeed, the more capable they were, the more efficient, the greater were the temptations industry and commerce dangled before their eyes. To succumb was only human. The desire to make provisions for their families is a natural one, it is not of record that anybody ever got rich if he depended solely on military pay.

Perhaps the new pay scale will help keep able men, in both enlisted and officer grades, on the job. But over and above that consideration, the raise was long overdue, a matter of simple fairness.

Civil Rights Panel Paralyzed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stuck on dead center, paralyzed, the Civil Rights Commission has only 16 months of its two-year life left. Its performance so far: zero: In short, eight months have passed with no action.

There are several reasons for this but the principal one is the slowdown inflicted by the Senate Judiciary Committee. That group is headed by Sen. Eastland (D-Miss), prime foe of the commission idea in the first place.

The six-man commission itself expects to meet once a month or so. Its work has to be done by its staff director. But before he can operate he must be approved by the committee and then the full Senate.

The committee hasn't acted on him—although it's had more than two months to do so—and may not for several more weeks. He'll be lucky if he's in business by June 1. Meanwhile, the more the delay, the less work the commission can do.

A timetable shows what happened:

Last summer after a bitter fight with Southern Democrats in opposition, Congress passed the first civil rights legislation in the 20th century. It voted to create the commission which would do several things:

Investigate complaints that citizens were being deprived of their voting rights; study laws and practices relating to civil rights in general; hold hearings any place in connection with its work; and make recommendations to Congress.

The commission's two-year life started from the moment President Eisenhower signed the legislation into law last Sept. 9. First, Eisenhower had to find people to serve on the commission. This took time.

And the commission, like the staff director, would need both committee and full Senate approval.

Last Nov. 11, during the congressional recess, Eisenhower appointed the six members, with former Supreme Court Justice Stanley Reed as chairman. But Reed changed his mind about serving. He resigned Dec. 3, just before the commission's first scheduled meeting.

Twenty days later, Dec. 23, Eisenhower chose as chairman Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University. The six commissioners — three Northerners and three Southerners—were sworn in Jan. 3. But they didn't get Senate approval until March 4.

Because they were named before Congress convened, they could serve before being confirmed, but first they had to find a director.

They finally agreed on Gordon M. Tiffany, former New Hampshire attorney general. But while he awaits confirmation he is serving only with the title of consultant at a salary of $50 a day, not the $22,500 a year provided for the director.

Eisenhower sent his nomination to Congress Feb. 20. His work, and the commission's task, are of necessity tied up until he gets committee and Senate approval.

He will need a staff of 70 people, So far only five have been hired: Tiffany, three secretaries, and a secretary to the commission. The commission has offices. And it has a blueprint of how it will divide up its staff work, when it finally can start employing a staff.

Meanwhile, the expenses of the commission for the rest of this fiscal year, which ends June 30, will come out of $200,000 provided from Eisenhower's emergency fund.

For the fiscal year starting July 1 the commission has asked Congress for $750,000. The House has approved but not the Senate—yet.

Somebody Cares About Runs In Nylons

Oh, the Russians are a marvelously inventive people, all right, with the telephone, television, radio, airplane, automobile, submarine, the McCormick reaper, the cotton gin, radar, Beef Stroganoff and the samovar to their credit.

But, they are stumped by a problem that American ingenuity hasn't yet licked, either.

I mean an economy-size nylon stocking with a secret, locked-in, non-run ingredient that would make the darn things worth carrying home. Or even around the block. The Russians don't have 'em. We don't have 'em. On this front, everything is even-stephen. And the only breakthrough foreseeable in the future is in the stockings themselves.

But the Russian citizeness, according to a news dispatch out of Moscow, is at least one up on her American counterpart. Her screams over nylons that ladder like lace have found an answer in Russian bureaucracy.

While Sec. of Commerce Sinclair Weeks sits in his marble storm cellar, his opposite number in Russia, Minister of Trade Dmitri V. Pavlov, is at least making clucking noises of sympathy over the nylon problem.

I suppose the Russian nylons will go right on running like frightened greyhounds, but at least the Russian Woman knows that Somebody Cares. Dmitri, that is. He may not be able to stop a single run, but the Russian woman now feels she is Not Facing Her Problem Alone. There is a togetherness here that is cozy and comforting.

Until Sec. Weeks takes up the cudgels for her, the American woman is bound to feel that she is out on a limb of her own.

The aftermath of war is always disillusioning to the American people. Dreams plummet; ideals totter. The increasing frailty of the nylon stocking since World War II has been a big factor in the blighted hopes of the populace.

I can remember as clearly as it it were yesterday the coast-to-coast jubilation over the invention of the nylon stocking in the years immediately before World War II. It was then a lovesome thing, sturdy, impervious to wear and tear, insensible to time and tide. It promised to be the greatest invention since the two-way stretch.

Then came the way, nylon was drafted into the services, but the memory lingered on. Then came peace, and women dreamed once more of those darling, imperishable hose they had savored so briefly and liked so much.

But nylon, it developed, was not so much mustered as invalided out of the service. The strong young fabric that had marched so splendidly off to war returned home a frail shadow of itself. At least, the post-war nylon stockings are but a shadow of the substance that brought joy to the feminine heart in 1938-39.

I have no solution to the problem facing the American woman except the purchase of the least expensive brands on the market. I discovered long ago that they wear at least as well as the expensive ones, and a run is not a major financial catastrophe. This system also saves wear and tear on both temper and budget. But I still dream of the old pre-war nylon built on the principle of no runs, no slits, no errors.

Time For Pressure On Steel Contract

Back in July, 1956, mysterious phone calls settled the steel strike. Some say George M. Humphrey, then Secretary of the Treasury, called up Charles M. White, head of Republic Steel Corp., and remonstrated. A protracted tieup in steel would hurt President Eisenhower's chances for re-election in November. Did steel executives want the Republicans to lose?

Steel executives knew Humphrey on a first-name basis. He'd been head of M. A. Hanna & Co., giant iron ore, coal, and Great Lakes shipping company. When he resigned from the Treasury, he became chairman of National Steel. He's still a Hanna director.

Under such pressure, U. S., Bethlehem, Republic and other steel executives didn't haggle over pennies. David J. McDonald, successor to Philip Murray as president of the United Steelworkers of America, got one of the richest wage contracts in USW history. Today that contract hangs about the country's economic neck like a wet albatross.

Wage and fringe - benefit increases, scheduled to take effect July 1, are estimated to amount to 20 cents an hour. The increase will become imbedded in the steel cost structure. It will squeeze the profits of those steel companies that still have profits; it will increase the deficits of those companies which still have deficits. It will impel the heads of steel companies to consider raising prices again—at a time when they ought to be cutting prices.

A recession is a time for house-cleaning—weeding out inefficiency, lowering costs, lowering prices. It's a period for raising the purchasing power of every one—of you and me, of school teachers, trolley car conductors, and auto workers still senior enough to have jobs. It is not a time for raising the purchasing power of the few—the steel workers, for instance—at the expense of the many.

The administration ought to put pressure on McDonald just as it put pressure on the steel companies in 1956. The administration should publicly ask McDonald to forego his full pound of flesh.

David McDonald is tall, white-haired, and dignified. He looks like a labor statesman. Now let him play the part. He has said that his union has something new to offer—"mutual trusteeship" of labor leaders and corporate executives by which "everyone must give full consideration to the others' needs." Trusteeship would become both the steel union and the steel industry today.

In 1948, the steel companies voluntarily reopened a wage contract with Murray when wages of steel workers fell behind the wages of other workers. Later, during the Korean War, Walter Reuther argued that auto contracts should be "living documents," suited to changing times.

A wage boost won't help the many steel workers who have been laid off. It won't help steel workers who are on unemployment benefits. It won't help other workers who eventually will have to pay higher prices for things made out of steel—automobiles, refrigerators, washing machines, and nails.

McDonald should not unilaterally bear the burden of reducing costs. Most steel companies have managed to operate in the black at 50 per cent of capacity. They can afford to make a joint contribution to recovery. Let the administration ask McDonald to forego part of the wage-fringe boost and ask the steel companies to reduce prices—in the interest of lower costs and more sales.

Even a slight boost in the steel operating rate would compensate the steel companies for the extra cost of a price cut and a small wage boost. And the resulting bigger payrolls would more than make up to McDonald and USW members the minor sacrifice of modifying the contract.

A price cut is good recession economics. Labor leaders argue we need higher purchasing power. True. Higher purchasing power is obtainable by reducing prices, which helps all consumers, as well as through higher wages, which helps only those who get the wage boost.

For the Eisenhower administration to urge this settlement on the steel union and the steel companies would be poetic retribution for its role in settling the 1956 strike. My guess is that it would be good politics. Voters applaud courage and good sense.

Third Day At The Office

NEW YORK (AP)—There usually are only two days in a modern office.

One is pay day, when life is wonderful. The other is any day on which you aren't paid, and life seems ordinarily hopeless or hopelessly ordinary, depending on your mood.

But then there comes a third kind of day—the day someone in the office dies. As one grows older, it seems to come more often.

You come to work one morning, and instead of the usual greeting —"What's new?"—there is, for a change, something really new:

"Did you hear so-and-so died last night?"

Who was so-and-so? It makes no difference what his rank was in life, whether he was an executive or a secretive human zero. In death he suddenly stands out larger. For one day he is the most important man in the office.

You may have worked 30 feet from him for 20 years and never even noticed the color of his eyes. All of a sudden, through the pooling of office memories, you learn a lot about him.

Everyone has a memory:

"Only last week I heard him say in the washroom he never felt better in his life."

"He's got three kids, but two of them are raised."

"He only had four more payments to go on his house."

"Remember during the last economy drive, when they would not buy a new pencil sharpener, he got so mad he went out and bought one himself?"

"He always worried about ulcers, and then just to think—it was his heart all the time."

As his associates exchange their memories, you get an insight into what is worrying them—the diseases they fear, the dreams unachieved, the problems at home, the panic thought that life, dull as it often seems, should be taken from them without their permission.

The office, no longer a forlorn cell, is a warm shelter. The daily rut all at once becomes a prized thing no one wants taken from him, certainly not by death. All wish again the solace of the commonplace.

They take up a collection for flowers for the one who has gone, and someone is appointed to write a letter of sympathy from "his friends at the office."

Everyone looks at his desk — somehow it now stands out from the others—and wonders who tomorrow . . . or the next day . . . or the day after . . . will be sitting at that desk doing his job.

"Why don't they ever hang crepe on a guy's desk when he dies?" someone asks. But they never do.

He is gone, but the work hasn't. The human herd, lowing, turns its horns toward the future and plods on.

There has just been another death in the office.

Film Industry Finally Claims Its Own Girl

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—At long last, Hollywood has claimed its own girl, Gwen Verdon.

The film industry is a little slow on the uptake sometimes, and the case of Gwen Verdon is a prime example. The gal was born almost in the shadow of MGM studios, where her father worked as an electrician.

She played in Los Angeles theaters as a tap dancer, appeared in water shows, modeled bathing suits and strutted at the old Florentine Gardens night spot. Still, Hollywood couldn't see her.

She danced in and around the sumptuous movie musicals of the 40s and early 50s.

"My last assignment here was a Jack Cole's assistant on 'Gentlemen Prefer Blondes,'" she said, referring to the Marilyn Monroe-Jane Russell epic of 1953. "I was supposed to do a can-can number in it. But then I got a chance to go into 'Can-Can' in New York, and I took it."

Abandoning films, she went east for the Cole Porter show about night life in Paris of the 90s, The story goes that she was so good in her numbers that they had to be cut down so as not to overshadow the star, Lilo. But Gwen's talent would not be hidden, and the first-night audience stopped the show by cheering for her.

She helped lift an otherwise pedestrian musical into the hit class. Then she achieved stardom into "Damn Yankees." She followed with "New Girl in Town," also a Broadway hit. Again, her performance was greatly responsible, since critics found fault with converting Eugene O'Neill's "Anna Christie" into a musical.

Now she has been returned to her home town to re-create her role in "Damn Yankees" opposite Tab Hunter. And she came on her own terms.

Commies Linked In Racial Flareups

WASHINGTON—Is Communist money back of the bombing of a Negro school and a Jewish church building in Jacksonville, Florida? Have the same tactics —but with a different group of persons —been employed to intensify interracial feeling there as a grand jury charged were used when in 1954 a Negro moved into a house in a white neighborhood in Louisville, Kentucky, that was damaged a month later by a bomb?

The Communist issue was raised in the Louisville case because of suspicious circumstances. The warnings given at Jacksonville sound like Communist-inspired utterances. They came over the telephone from persons who made reference to a "confederate underground." This is the language of the dedicated Communist, who is familiar with "undergrounds." In the South, moreover, there is less anti-Semitism than anywhere else in the United States. The effort to provoke anti-Semitism is a Communist tactic that has emerged in other countries recently, especially in West Germany where interracial feeling had been dying down since Hitler's day.

The incidents at Jacksonville are to some extent reminiscent of an episode four years ago in Louisville. A negro had been trying unsuccessfully to buy a house in a white neighborhood. In May 1954, a white man alleged to have Communist affiliations bought it—not for himself—and transferred it immediately to the Negro. Trouble began at once. Shots were fired. A rally, supposedly of the Ku Klux Klan, burned a fiery cross. Feeling began to run high. Then, on June 27, came the bombing. No one was injured. Though it occurred at 12:30 a.m., the residents of the house were outside on the porch or away from the rooms bombed.

"It is very significant to this grand jury," said the formal report of the Jefferson County grand jury which investigated the bombing, "that this case seems to follow the pattern used by the Communist party in this country to create trouble between the respective races in this country, and that one of the specific methods of doing this is by the purchase of property for Negroes in areas which normally are occupied by white persons, and then causing incidents such as this. . .

"It is the opinion of this grand jury that it would have been impossible for the explosive to have been placed under the house as it was by anyone from the outside . . . In other words, it is our opinion that the charge was placed and was discharged by someone having ready access to the home.

"It is significant to this grand jury that a portable, battery-type radio, identified as having belonged to a white man who took up actual full-time residence at the home shortly before the explosion, was found underneath the home shortly before the explosion, was found underneath the house in damaged condition . . . This person refuses to state, on the grounds that it would incriminate him, whether or not he was the owner of the radio involved, and whether or not he ever had been under the house. He thereafter . . . refused to state whether or not he is a member of the Communist party for the reason that the answer to that question would incriminate him."

The grand jury indicted five persons on charges of banding together to "commit, aid or counsel" the bombing.

The first person tried, though not accused of the actual bombing, was charged with stirring up racial violence. The accused man denied he was or ever had been a member of the Communist party. A woman undercover agent for the FBI testified, however, that he was a member, that she attended a Communist party meeting at his home, that she had paid party dues to him, and that his wife was also a member of the Communist party. The jury voted for conviction, and the sentence was 15 years in prison and a fine of $15,000.

But the high court in Kentucky felt bound by a new decision of the Supreme Court of the United States that states couldn't enforce anti-sedition laws and that this was a federal matter. Hence the accused was released. Further trials were abandoned as useless.

In October 1957, A. Scott Hamilton, told the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee the story of the part played by the Communists in the Louisville affair and how his efforts at prosecution ..... were frustrated by the rulings of the Supreme Court of the United States.

Mature Teen-Ager

Diane Varsi, one of Hollywood's most talented newcomers, is remarkably mature for a teen-ager. She stresses the need for relaxation, concentration and eating well-balanced meals. She is soon to be seen in "Ten North Frederick," for 20th Century-Fox.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Relaxation Helps For A Good Complexion

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — This year's filmland Cinderella girl is Diane Varsi. With no professional experience, she won the ingenue lead in "Peyton Place" against extremely stiff competition. Her work so pleased 20th Century-Fox executives that she was rewarded with a term contract and a leading role with Gary Cooper in "Ten North Frederick."

As soon as I met this talented young girl I realized that her age was merely a number and that intellectually and emothionally she possessed surprising maturity.

"How did you develop so much poise so early in life?" I asked.

"I have been on my own a long time," Diane said with great seriousness. "At 15 I left high school, but I had to make my own decisions long before this."

Even if Diane is not a typical teen-ager, her skin has a routine reaction to adolescence.

"I had a problem with my complexion," she confessed as we had lunch together. "But I found a good dermatologist who gave me a medicated soap which helped correct the oiliness and a lotion to use whenever my skin broke out.

"But I know that nerves can also cause skin trouble," she added. "And when this happens the only thing you can do is learn to relax.

"I think everyone needs solitude to calm the nerves, and the earlier one learns how to relax the better. I did this with the help of yoga. I sat still and meditated on the color green. I sat with my eyes closed and tried to eliminate scattered thoughts. It took hours and hours before I could accomplish this, but it was worth the effort because I learned to concentrate.

"Learning to sit quietly gave me self-control, and when we have that we are less inclined to act in haste or foolishly."

As Diane ate her cheese and fruit daintily and slowly she said: "I have always had little interest in food. At one time in my life I was a vegetarian but I became anemic. This experience gave me a new regard for a well-balanced diet. Everyone needs to eat nutritional meals. I have a diet that was given to me by a famous Hollywood star. When I want to take off a few pounds I always use this. This diet allows me to lose a pound a day and I still maintain my energy."

BODY-BALANCE DIET

This diet allows you to lose a pound a day while maintaining your energy and well-being. It is planned to include the five groups of foods so that your body will stay on an even balance. Maypole Cake Served To HD Club

Highlight of the Lomax Home Demonstration Club meeting Thursday afternoon was the maypole cake made by the hostess, Mrs. Ray Russell.

Frosted in pastel green and covered with green coconut, the cake formed the base for a white candle, used as a pole. From the candle's top, pastel ribbons streamed to the edge of the cake plate, where they were tied to tiny flowers.

Members answered roll call with a good deed each had done during the week. Mrs. Raymond Phillips brought the devotion.

Mrs. Russell spoke on legislation and how it affects the farmer. A demonstration on the care of carpets was given by Mrs. Neil Fryar, who told the group that knowing the texture of the floor covering and the proper way to clean it with a vacuum cleaner is quite important. She also stressed the necessity of knowing how to remove stains from the rug.

The next meeting was announced for 2 p.m., May 15, in the home of Mrs. Jimmy Stallings.

This Is The Season For You To Enjoy Nature's Flower Show

By MARY COCHRAN

West Texas has never been more beautiful. The wild flowers covering our countryside now are worth traveling many miles to see. This is the time to take your family out into the fields for picnics, picture-taking excursions and wild flower study.

Scout groups and art classes, botanists and agriculturists, outdoor enthusiasts and gardeners; all will have a wonderful time touring our countryside now. A little knowledge of these plants will add interest to your trip.

The masses of purple blooms covering the vacant lots in town are Tahoka daisies. They are blossoms very like the aster with yellow centers growing on foliage up to about 12 inches in height. Fields are covered with these brilliant blooms all along the San Angelo highway and a heavy field of them surrounds the Jet Drive-in Theatre.

Ranchers don't object to this variety, for though they are not specially good for livestock food, they are not harmful. These plants would be lovely transplanted in your own gardens. If you take some of these plants into your yards, with normal care, they will continue to produce from year to year.

Filleria, the low blooming little purple flower that resembes the violet, is a welcome addition to livestock pastures. They are excellent food. This variety with fern like leaves is found in two varieties here and are both lovely.

BLUEBONNETS

There are no native bluebonnets in this area but several gardeners have planted them in their yards. There is a bed at Sixth and Johnson and a nice planting at the Highway Department Building on Gregg, also one at 16th and Donley. Many other beds are scattered throughout the city. These seeds are available in packets and well worth planting in your garden.

The fields of yellow flowers that look like blankets of sunshine may be one of several varieties. If you say to a rancher a field of bitterweed is beautiful, he will rage at you, for these little bright yellow plants are poisonous to sheep and cattle. Fields are solid with these on the San Angelo highway and on to Forsan.

On the road to Vincent and northeast of town, there is a daisy-like flower; yellow and three times as large as bitterweed, it is called the tallow weed. This plant is not harmful to cattle and so would be fine for the yard. However, it could be confused with the tall yellow-blossomed thread leaf groundsel around Lamesa which is harmful to livestock. If you want to transplant these yellow flowers, consult an expert so you may avoid the harmful varieties.

The buttercup, both in white and yellow, are not poisonous and make lovely blossoms low on the ground. They will grow in very sparce soil and gravelly spots which will support little other plant life. These can be found on Highway 80 on both sides of town. Between Coahoma and Snyder, portions of the fields are solid masses of buttercups, and northeast of Stanton many fields are white.

GAILLARDIA

The Indian Blanket, or Gaillardia, is a lovely wild flower often seen in this area. There are some blooming now around the Catholic Church. This flower is on the state conservation list and is not to be picked from the fields. Seeds are available, or plants can be secured from land that is to be cleared for highways or construction. The bloom has a red and yellow petaled daisy shape.

The Spanish Dagger Yucca is in bloom now. This very large spiked leaf plant with the enormous clusters of white blossoms is native to a five mile square area of Howard County. At the Bruce Frazier home several of these plants are in bloom now.

That lovely scent floating over the town is from the native locust tree, often called honey locust. The clusters of white blossoms are heavy on the trees now.

A rare plant, native to Howard County, is ready to bloom now. This is the Hercules Club. The foliage is like a rose; it is "stickery" and the blossoms are white. When crushed between the fingers these blossoms smell like lemon. Watch for this lovely plant.

The Black Dahlia, a shrub that grows about two feet high and survives in limestone, is to be found on the San Angelo Highway. The flowers are purple and make a decorative plant when transplanted in the garden.

Agerita, an old favorite of the Indians for dyes and food, is another shrub that will transplant well. It has leaves similar to the holly and now is ready to produce red berries. Homesteaders once made jelly from these berries.

OCOTILLO

The Ocotilla, brought to this section by the Highway Department is growing at many of the roadside parks. It is not a cactus but has an appearance similar to them and has lovely red and orange flowers. This will do nicely in the yard.

The little leaf sumac is blooming now with gray and white blossoms and can be found in many areas including the Frazier property. The Texas Buckeye, with its red blooms, has about completed its blossoming period. This shrub, sometimes called the West Texas Redbud but not a member of the redbud family, is a nice plant for gardeners.

Watch for the pricklies that will be blooming within the next two weeks. The Engleman and Lindhimer will both produce lovely yellow flowers. Watch these cacti and you will notice their blooms will change color with different hours of the day. The cholla, or staghorn cactus, will soon bloom with deep purple blossoms.

Gather your friends together and have your own wild flower pilgrimage. Enjoy this large and unusual display now and plan to use some native planting in your own yard in the future.

OES Worthy Matron To Be Feted At Tea

Mrs. John Puckett, retiring worthy matron of the Laura B. Hart Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, will be honored with a tea Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Green, 2105 Johnson. All members of the Eastern Star are invited to call between 3 and 5 o'clock.

Hostesses for the affair will be officers of the chapter. They are Mrs. O. G. Hughes, secretary; Mrs. George G. Bass Jr., treasurer; Mrs. Jimmy Felts, conductress; Mrs. Ollie McDaniel, associate conductress; Mrs. G. H. Briden, chaplain; Mrs. M. C. Lawrence, marshal; Mrs. Bill Griese, organist. Mrs. Green is associate matron.

Also Mrs. Allen L. Christian, Mrs. O. F. Williams, Mrs. T. C. Tinkham, Mrs. W. R. Smelser and Mrs. Maude Jackson, who hold the stations Ada, Ruth, Esther, Martha and Electa; and Mrs. W. L. Lane, warder. O. N. Green is sentinel. Dr. Tinkham and J. C. Pye are worthy patron and associate patron

Red will predominate in the table decor, in deference to Mrs. Puckett, who selected red as her color for the year.

Officers Named At Class Social

Officers were elected by the Ruth Class, Park Methodist Church, at a combination business and social meeting Thursday night. Mrs. Jessie Brown and Mrs. W. L. Barker were cohostesses at the former's home.

Mrs. J. A. Selkirk was elected president and Anna Haney vice president. Mrs. Ralph Metcalf will be secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Barker recording secretary. Mrs. J. W. Brigance is teacher of the class, with Mrs. Brown as assistant teacher.

One of John Wesley's hymns, Oh, For a Thousand Tongues To Sing, was the devotion read by Mrs. J. B. Hollis. Mrs. A. F. Bearden gave the meditation, "Things You Can't Buy", and Mrs. Brown worded the prayer.

Climax of the evening was a surprise birthday shower for Mrs. Brigance. Refreshments were served to eighteen.

Initiated

Helen Gray, daughter of Mrs. Y. C. Gray, 1704 Main, was recently initiated into Gamma Rho Chapter of Alpha Chi Omega at Texas Tech, where she is a freshman student.

Workshop Is Hosted By Local Church

Mrs. H. W. Smith extended greetings to the 65 delegates at First Christian Church. Discussion groups were under the charge of Mrs. Delbert Downing of Midland. Mrs. James Christenson, San Angelo, led the discussion of worship study and service.

During the meeting, for which Mrs. W. J. Grissett of Midland presided, materials for use in study groups were distributed by Mrs. Pauline Thames, Fort Worth, state secretary of Christian Women's groups.

At the luncheon in Fellowship Hall, Mrs. Lloyd Brooks brought a short devotion. A trio composed of Mrs. Bob Clark and her daughters, Jacie and Barbara, sang "Constrained by Love," accompanied by Mrs. Bob Simpson.

Towns represented included Sweetwater, Big Lake, Midland, San Angelo, Brownfield, Snyder, Colorado City, Texon and Big Spring.

Buttered Snap Beans

Turn cooked fresh snap beans into a skillet with a large pat of butter, a few teaspoons fresh lemon juice, salt, ground black pepper and powdered dry mustard. Toss and heat thoroughly.

Meat Loaf Tip

Add milk or tomato juice to that meat loaf if you want it to be juicy.

OWC Has May Day Luncheon

May baskets decorated small tables at the luncheon of the Officers' Wives' Club Thursday at the Officers' Club, and a maypole marked the head table.

Vari-colored streamers flowed from the top of the pole to be caught at the table with spring flowers. The arrangement was awarded to Mrs. Allen Locher. A special prize was presented to Mrs. Deryl Caraway.

Announcement was made of the open house to be held by the Dependents' Assistance group, marking the first year of the organization. Slated as an all-day affair, the party will be given in the DA office.

Also announced were the meetings of the various sections to be held during the coming week.

A program of vocal selections was presented by Mrs. J. R. Hensley, who was accompanied at the piano by Delores Howard.

Lutheran Women Name Delegates To State Meeting

Delegates were elected by the Lutheran Women Parish Workers at their meeting Thursday evening at St. Paul's Lutheran Church. They will attend the state meeting of parish workers at Lubbock to be held June 12-14.

Included are Mrs. Walter Pachall, Mrs. Wayne Dittloff, Mrs. J. Weber and Mrs. Albert Hohertz. A devotion was given by Mrs. Moran Oppegard, and Mrs. Marie Smith discussed the topic, Missionaries Pray for Us.

Plans were formulated for a Mother-Daughter Banquet to be given May 9 at 7 p.m. in the educational building of the church. Serving will be done buffet style and a caterer will be employed.

Fifteen were present at the meeting.

Scout Troop Uses New Buddy Burners

The girls have been making the burners in preparation for the camping activities slated for summer; after the cookout, a gift was presented as a farewell to Anna Swann who is to move to Mississippi soon.

The group was dismissed with the friendship circle.

Forsan Study Club Has Dinner, Officer Installation Thursday

Mrs. Walter Gressett was installed as president of the Forsan Study Club Thursday evening when the club and guests met for dinner at Cokers Restaurant. Mrs. Clyde Angel was installing officer.

Mrs. Gressett succeeds herself in that office, as do Mrs. W. M. Romans, installed as vice president, and Mrs. Sammie Porter, recording secretary.

Mrs. John Ferguson will serve as corresponding secretary; Mrs. M. M. Fairchild as treasurer, and Mrs. Leon Parker as reporter. Parliamentarian will be Mrs. C. C. Brunton; historian, Mrs. Luther Stark, and federation counselor, Mrs. W. E. Stockton.

Mrs. L. B. McElrath repeated the club collect preceding the dinner; guests were seated at quartet tables centered with bud vases containing rosebuds of various colors. Places were marked with cards held in tiny china rosebuds.

On the speakers table, double candle holders of crystal held tapers on each side of a large arrangement of lilac, bells of Ireland, bridal wreath and yellow rosebuds.

For the installation, Mrs. Angel used the idea of "reading palms"—seeing in the hand of each officer an identifying characteristic appropriate to her office. She also discussed the value of being a member of a federated club and told of the good work accomplished by the organization.

Mrs. Gressett spoke briefly to the group and presented a gift to Mrs. Angel. Mrs. Hamlin Elrod was mistress of ceremonies, with arrangements for the dinner in charge of Mrs. McElrath and a committee.

Pork Roast Tip

When preparing pork roast for its final showdown, season it well by rubbing outside with a mixture of powdered dry mustard, powdered ginger, garlic powder, salt and ground black pepper. When it has reached desired doneness, use the spicy juices to make a luscious gravy.

Credit Club Plans Organization Of Other Area Groups

Possibility of organizing clubs in several surrounding towns was discussed by members of the Credit Club at the luncheon meeting Thursday in the Chamber of Commerce conference room.

Members made plans to investigate the forming of clubs in San Angelo, Odessa and Snyder. Pyrle Bradshaw won the capsule fund.

Mrs. J. B. Apple gave a report on the state meeting held in Brownsville in April. A program was given from the club's study book by Mrs. Loyd Wooten, who reviewed the chapter, Building for Tomorrow Through Supervision.

The resignation of Mrs. Jack Johnson was accepted. She is leaving employment in a credit department and is ineligible for membership in the club.

Gay Decor Is Prepared For Breakfast

Gay cafe-type decorations are planned for the May Day Breakfast to be given Saturday morning by members of the St. Cecilia Guild of St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

An annual affair, the breakfast is scheduled from 7 to 10 a.m. in the parish house. Tickets are priced at $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12.

An additional attraction will be the food sale from 8 to 10 a.m., to be sponsored by St. Mary's Guild which will include various specialties prepared by members of the group.

General chairman of the breakfast is Mrs. Milton Talbot; responsible for securing waitresses is Mrs. J. N. Young Jr.; Mrs. Conny Wade is kitchen chairman, and Mrs. Steve Baker is in charge of ticket sales. Decorations have been arranged by Mrs. N. F. Allen and Mrs. John Perkins.

Dinner Meeting Is Affair Of TEL Class

Members of the TEL Class of Baptist Temple met at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant Thursday evening for dinner.

Later, they gathered at the home of Mrs. Joe Peay for dessert and a social hour. During the evening, Mrs. Modene Wyatt brought a devotion based on the subject, The Christian Home.

The teacher, Mrs. Garland Sanders, dismissed the group with a prayer.

Church Programs Will Emphasize Youth, Family Life Here Sunday

Several church programs will be centered on youth and Christian home life Sunday.

Most congregations also will take note of YMCA Sunday as Children's Day programs are presented.

Dr. Jordan Grooms, First Methodist minister, and Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, First Presbyterian pastor, have chosen identical topics for their Sunday morning sermons. Each will speak on "Your Home—A Household for God." A similar subject has been chosen by the Rev. Jack Ware, St. Paul Presbyterian minister. He will discuss "Your Family and You." The Rev. H. W. Gaston, Park Methodist pastor, will speak on "Family Religion."

A children's program entitled "I Will Sing Unto the Lord" also will be presented at the First Methodist.

Coincidental with the launching of a building campaign, YMCA Sunday will be observed in many churches. Many have taken bulletin material which will be included with the regular church bulletins, and several have indicated that special announcements by pastor, young people or laymen will be made to focus attention upon the Y's all-out effort to equip itself better for maximum service to the area.

Here is the church schedule:

Assembly Of God

The First Assembly of God will hear a sermon entitled "What Meaneth This?" from the pastor, the Rev. S. E. Eldridge, Sunday morning. At evening worship, guest speaker will be T. K. Leonard, missionary to Mexico representing the Latin-American orphanage at Acapulco. He will show slides of the work there.

Baptist

Sunday will be the last day of the current revival being conducted at Airport Baptsit Church by the Rev. L. L. Garner, pastor of Forsan Baptist Church. Daily services are scheduled at 9:30 a.m. and 8 p.m., with prayer meeting at 7:30 p.m., announces the Rev. W. A. James, pastor.

The Rev. A. R. Posey will preach on "The Wages of Sin," Sunday morning at Baptist Temple. He will also occupy the pulpit at the evening hour.

At Hillcrest Baptist Church, the Rev. H. L. Bingham will deliver messages on "Life's Supreme Test," Josh. 24:15, and "The Lord's Supper — A Picture of Christ Crucified," Gal. 3:1.

Two morning worship services, at 8:30 and 11, are scheduled at First Baptist Church. Dr. P. D. O'Brien's sermon topics for these hours will be "John's Patmos Vision," Rev. 1:9 and "God Is Our Refuge" Psa. 41:1. At the evening worship, he will preach on "Getting the Best of Fear," Gen. 15:1. Baptismal service will follow the sermon.

In the absence of the Rev. Ernest D. Stewart Jr., who is preaching in a revival at Casper, Wyo., the East Fourth Baptist congregation will hear messages from the Rev. Jim Fields at both services.

Sermon topics announced by the Rev. D. R. Philley for Phillips Memorial Baptist Church are "Does God Hear a Sinner's Prayer?" John 9:31, and "The Doctrine of Justification," Rom. 5:1. The latter sermon is the second in a series on transforming doctrines.

The Rev. R. B. Murray will preach to the Northside Baptist congregation on "Spiritual Hitchhikers," John 6:66, and "What Shall I Do?" Mark 10:17.

"The Touch of Jesus," Matt. 8:1-4 and "God's Invitation for a Conference," Isa. 1:18 will be the Rev. J. H. McWilliams' sermons for the Calvary Baptist Church.

Catholic

Mass will be said by the Rev. Fr. William J. Moore at 7 a.m. and 11 a.m. at St. Thomas Catholic Church. Confessions will be heard from 5:30 to 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. on Saturday. Benediction will follow the last mass.

At the Sacred Heart (Spanish-speaking) Church, Mass will be held at 8 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. Sunday. Confessions will be heard on Saturday from 5-6 p.m. and 7-8 p.m. Benediction will be at 5:30 p.m. on Sunday.

Mass will be said Sunday at 5:30 p.m. in Coahoma at St. Joseph's Mission by the Rev. Fr. Adolph Metzger, OMI.

Christian

The Rev. Clyde Nichols, First Christian minister, will bring a message on "A Crown of Glory," Sunday morning, reading as text Isa. 62:3. Under the direction of Orland Johnson, the choir will sing "Bless the Lord, Oh My Soul," Ivanov. For his evening sermon, the Rev. Nichols will preach on "Three Things I Crave," Deut. 20:1.

Christian Science

How sin and suffering are overcome through spiritual understanding of God will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Readings from the Bible in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Everlasting Punishment" will include the following from James (4:8): "Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, he double minded."

Church Of God

"Returning to Bethel" will be the Rev. V. Ward Jackson's sermon topic for Sunday morning at the First Church of God. In the evening he will speak on "Jacob's Reunion with Joseph."

The Rev. R. D. Ashcraft, pastor of Galveston Church of God, will deliver the sermon Sunday morning. At the evening hour he will yield the pulpit to the Rev. F. J. Paul of Colorado.

Episcopal

The Rev. William D. Boyd, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, 10th and Goliad, has announced the schedule of Sunday services. Celebration of Holy Communion at 7:30 a.m.; family worship at 9:15 a.m.; and Morning Service at 11 a.m.

Lutheran

The Rev. Wayne Dittloff will bring the message at the worship services at 10:30 a.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Holy Communion will be celebrated. Sunday school and Bible classes are set for 9:30 a.m. The adult discussion group will meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday under the charge of the minister.

Methodist

Children's Day will be observed Sunday at First Methodist Church. At morning worship the children will present a program entitled "I Will Sing Unto the Lord," and Dr. Jordan Grooms will bring a meditation, "Your Home — A Household for God." In the evening Dr. Grooms will preach on "That He Should Touch Them."

The Rev. H. W. Gaston will deliver a sermon on "Family Religion" for the Park Methodist Church at morning worship. Speaker for the evening hour will be the Rev. Wesley Deats, associate pastor of the First Methodist Church. Special music is to be presented at both services.

Wesley Methodist Church will hear their minister, the Rev. C. W. Parmenter, in a sermon on "Making the Most of Your Church," Sunday morning. At 7:30 p.m. a film entitled "The Younger Brother" is to be screened; the public is invited to attend.

Presbyterian

The Rev. Jack Ware, pastor of St. Paul Presbyterian Church, will be heard Sunday morning in a sermon on "Your Family and You." The choir's anthem will be "Gird On Thy Sword, Oh Man," Darst. For evening worship the sermon will be "Gideon — Possessed of God." James Furlong will offer a solo, "Oh Lord Most Holy," Franck.

Dr. R. Gage Lloyd will bring the same sermon at both 8:30 and 11 a.m. worship services at First Presbyterian Church. His subject will be "Your Home—A Household for God." Mrs. Forrest Gambill's junior high school choir will bring special music at the early service, and at 11 o'clock the choir will sing "Holy Manna." At 7:30 p.m. Dr. Lloyd will bring another in his series of sermons on These Preach the Gospel. This will be entitled "Barnabas—Son of Encouragement."

Webb AFB

Chaplain Verlin E. Mikesell will have charge of Protestant services at 11 a.m. at the base chapel, when his message will be "Streams in the Desert." A Protestant communion service will follow the sermon. Sunday school is set for 9:45 a.m. in the chapel annex.

Father Kenneth E. Henriquez will officiate at Mass at 9 a.m. and 12:15 p.m. Sunday. Confession will be from 7 to 8 p.m. Saturday.

Gospel Tabernacle

Noah Tuttle, pastor of Big Spring Gospel Tabernacle, 1905 Scurry, announces the schedule for services this week. Sunday school is at 9:45 a.m. with morning worship at 10:45. The evening worship service will be at 7:45. Thursday night Bible study begins at 7:45, as does the Saturday night prayer meeting.

7th Day Adventist

Services of the Seventh Day Adventist Church will be at 2:20 p.m. Saturday followed by church services at 3:30 p.m.

Pentecostal

Worship services at United Pentecostal Church, 15th and Dixie, will be held at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. by the pastor, O. F. Viken. Sunday school is at 10 a.m. and the Young People's meeting at 6 p.m.

The Living Word

Morning services begin at 10 at The Church of the Living Word, 1201 West 3rd, announced the pastor, the Rev. Lee F. Shell Jr., who will also occupy the pulpit for the 7:30 p.m. worship services. Worship hours begin at 7:30 p.m. each Tuesday and Friday.

God Reveals His Law

JEHOVAH TELLS MOSES WHAT HE SHALL SAY TO THE CHILDREN OF ISRAEL

Scripture—Exodus 19—20; Deuteronomy 5.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

OBEDIENCE to law is the subject of this lesson. As small children we must obey the laws of the home, of safety, of the school and of the community in which we live. All, of whatever age, must obey physical and biological laws to keep our bodies healthy.

The lesson tells of the laws that God revealed to Moses, that had to be kept if He was to continue to favor this people.

"And Moses went up unto God, and the Lord called unto him out of the mountain, saying, Thus shalt thou say to the house of Jacob, and tell the children of Israel; Ye have seen what I did unto the Egyptians, and how I bare you on eagles' wings, and brought you unto Myself. Now therefore, if ye will obey My voice indeed, and keep My covenant, then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto Me above all people: for all the earth is Mine. . . . These are the words which thou shalt speak unto the children of Israel."

So Moses called the elders of the people together, and told them what the Lord had said, "And all the people answered together, and said, All that the Lord hath spoken we will do. And Moses returned the words of the people unto the Lord."

As we haven't the space to print the Ten Commandments as they are given in the text, we suggest that the older pupils go over them carefully, discussing them with their teachers, and being reminded that these rules of conduct are just as pertinent today as they were when God pronounced them, centuries ago. For the younger classes I quote the commandments in poetic form, as our editor, Dr. Wilbur M. Smith, suggests:

The preface to the giving of the commandments is in God's words: "I am the Lord thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage."

1. Thou shalt not have more gods but Me.
2. Before no idol bow the knee.
3. Take not the name of God in vain.
4. Nor dare the Sabbath to profane.
5. Give both thy parents honor due.
6. Take heed that thou no murder do.
7. Abstain from words and deeds unclean.
8. Nor steal, though thou art poor and mean.
9. Nor make a wilful lie, nor love it.
10. What is thy neighbor's do not covet."

Most of the commandments begin, "Thou shalt not," but two, "Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy," and "Honor thy father and thy mother," are direct commands. In our generation, the commandments against lying, stealing and coveting are often flagrantly violated, sad to say.

The Lord spoke these words from a smoking mountain, and the people "saw the thunderings, and the lightnings, and the noise of the trumpet, and the mountain smoking:" and they were filled with terror. But Moses said, "Fear not: for God is come to prove you, and that His fear may be before your faces, that ye sin not."—Exodus 20:18, 20.

Instructions for the building of an altar to God are given in the last three verses of Exodus 20. It should be a dignified altar if made of earth, "but if it be of stone, thou shalt not build it of hewn stone: for if thou lift up thy tool upon it, thou hast polluted it."

MEMORY VERSE

"If ye will obey My voice indeed, and keep My covenant, then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto Me above all people."
—Exodus 19:5.

The Christian Science Reading Room in your community is maintained in simple gratitude by your Christian Science neighbors.

It stands as an outward sign of their appreciation of benefits received through Christian Science—benefits equally available for you.

Release from disease, from fear and limitation, has come for multitudes as they have quietly pondered the Bible teachings in this great new light.

You are welcome at the public Reading Room near you. Here the Bible and the Christian Science textbook may be read, borrowed, or purchased. You may here investigate for yourself its healing message.

SCIENCE AND HEALTH with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy

I am the Want Ad

My mission is to serve humanity without regard to creed or position or time or place. I herald the arrival of the new born, I serve them through life and announce their demise. I am the servant of the poor, the commissioner of the rich.

With each sunrise and each sunset I go forth with new missions to perform. Each new day new thousands rely upon me to fill their needs and satisfy their wants.

I search out all manner of things for all manner of persons. I find the castle for the newlyweds, a home for those grown weary and aged. I find a business for a future giant of industry and a little shop for a widow's livelihood. I alter the course of millions, and many times the future of maid and man is of my determination. I recover the lost pets of weeping children, and restore lost persons to anxious friends.

I sing the praise of artisans, proclaim the skill of craftsmen. I find labor for the man of brawn as well as opportunity for trained and active minds. I am the Fabled Dwarfs, Aladdin's Lamp and the Magic Wand of modern times. Millions in trade are consummated through me, yet the value of my service is not to be measured in silver or gold. Even rogues avail themselves of my power and filch from those who trust me.

I am an index of trends, a barometer of commerce, harbinger of coming events. I am a byword in countless thousands of homes, the first thought in many times of need. My speed of action, the sureness of my success, matches the completeness of my public acceptance. Within my lines are the sad stories and the glad stories of everyday living that go to make up life. I perform in my own individual way and for me there is no substitute.

No other medium, no other method, plan or scheme can duplicate my service. In multiple, I become the world's greatest market of services and things. I am born of the people and have lived and grown by their insistence and over the protests of those who held my destiny. I have become an institution of service big enough and broad enough to do anything for anybody at any time — I AM THE ..WANT AD!

DOUBLE DATE

Love and marriage—one of the thresholds of life. Approaching it are the happy strides of youth. Beyond it, joy for some, sorrow for others.

And how long the world has searched for a formula that would test the quality of love . . . a standard that would assure happiness in marriage.

Until finally, with remarkable wisdom, we've begun to realize that it all depends on the individuals themselves.

But, of course, there are two individuals! How can we provide both with the qualities of character that will enrich their marriage?

The Church believes the answer lies in continuous religious training and wholesome boy and girl activities. With deep concern for the individual, the couple, and the community, it is building the character of America's youth . . . safeguarding for tomorrow as well as today the sanctity of marriage, home and family.

Have you a son or daughter? Have they a church?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SILKY QUICKENS THE PULSE OF MILLIONS

By ORLO ROBERTSON

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Derby fever, keenly sharpened by one of the most colorful horses in American racing history, gripped Louisville today.

Although 16 of the nation's best 3-year-olds were entered for Saturday's race, not more than 14 or 15 were expected to start.

The race will be televised and broadcast by CBS from 3:15 to 3:45 p.m. Big Spring time.

On the basis of 16 starters the 1¼-mile race before an expected crowd of some 100,000 will gross $163,000. A net of $118,900 goes to the winner. Scratches will reduce the purses by $1,250 for each withdrawal.

Until a few weeks ago this Derby figured to be a mediocre race. Then along came Silky Sullivan, who tugged at the hearts and imagination of racing fans.

The flaming California chestnut is owned by Tom Ross, a lumberman, and Phil Klipstein, a retired cattleman, of San Francisco.

With his come-from-behind style, the son of the little known imported Irish stallion Sullivan never lets his followers down as far as thrills go.

He doesn't always win. In fact, he lost his last two starts at a mile and at 7 furlongs.

But at the end he was rolling over most of his opposition after shifting into high about a quarter-mile from the finish line.

Silky probably won't be the favorite Saturday.

That honor is expected to go to Tim Tam, a son of the great Tom Fool, from Calumet Farm.

The early line quoted Tim Tam, victorious in 8 of his 10 starts this year after racing only once as a 2-year-old, at 2-1.

Silky was held at 5-2 and the powerful Maine Chance farm three-horse entry, headed by Jewel's Reward, at 7-2. Others were only lightly regarded.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The field for Saturday's running of the Kentucky Derby was reduced to 14 today when Jet's Alibi and Can Trust were withdrawn.

Trainer Ivan Parks said the right front hoof injury suffered by Jet's Alibi in a workout Thursday had showed no improvement. Harry Trotsek, trainer for the Hasty House Farm said Can Trust definitely will not be in the derby. He may start in a consolation race."

Unauthorized Glad-Hander

An over-zealous San Francisco Giant fan rushes out of the stands in San Francisco, Calif., in the eighth inning to congratulate Hank Sauer, Giant outfielder, crossing home plate after a 370-foot home run blasted into the left field bleachers to score Willie Mays ahead of him. It was Hank's 7th homer of the season, but it wasn't good enough. The Phils won, 7 to 4. Officially greeting Hank at the plate is Orlando Cepeda (30), Giant first baseman waiting his turn at bat, and a bat boy.

Arista Named Tiger Captain

Officers have been named for the Big Spring Tiger baseball club, which began its season with a 5-3 win over Lamesa last Sunday and which plays the Odessa All-Stars in a double header at Steer Park Sunday afternoon.

Pablo Ramirez, formerly manager of the Big Spring Hawks, will serve as general manager of the Tigers. Horace Yanez will be the business manager while Tommy Arista will be the field captain.

Assisiting Arista will be Gus Fierro.

It has been announced Danny Valdes probably will open on the mound for the Bengals Sunday. His catcher will be Sonny Dutchover.

Eagles, Bulldogs To Play May 7

ABILENE, (SC)—The all-important Midland-Abilene District 2-AAAA baseball game, twice delayed by rain, has been re-set for Wednesday, May 7.

The latest delay came yesterday, when the two clubs were to have tangled here.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Football coach Al Milch has high hopes for Tommy Whatley, the sophomore-to-be who'll try to win a place on the Big Spring High School varsity this spring.

Whatley is a tough-as-nails quarterback who's contending for the job, along with such boys as Bill French, Donnie Everett, Carey King and Johnny Freeman.

Right now, it appears Big Spring will field a splendid backfield but will have problems along the line. There's talent in the Steer primary but not enough of it, at the present time.

A move to force Southeastern Conference football teams to meet all other elevens in the circuit is gaining strength but it probably won't be adopted.

The athletic director of one of the schools puts it this way:

"I've got a budget to meet. I can't afford to let somebody else tell me who I must play."

In short, the have-nots—the teams which don't draw at home—are interested in cutting in on some of that loot in road appearances against some of the teams which do.

Witty Quintana, the former Big Spring infielder, is back at third base for the Havana entry in the International league this season.

Two of his teammates are also former Big Spring players—Raul Sanchez and Vince Amor. Sanchez is being used mainly in relief as a pitcher. He got credit for two of the first five victories the club won.

Amor tried to barber some of the umpires in a game at Havana recently, but it didn't work. The arbiter sent him to an early shower.

They say Jackie Robinson, the first Negro to play in the big leagues, would have remained in baseball had he been offered the managerial post at Montreal.

* * * *

Charles Pruitt, one-time Longhorn league outfielder, recently was sent to Pocatello of the Pioneer league by Albany of the Eastern league.

* * * *

Herman Hickman, the one-time football coach who passed on to his reward last week, landed the football job at Yale, thanks to an impression he made on Eli officials while helping Murray Warmath condition an all-star army team that played the pros three games back in 1942.

When Howie Odell resigned as coach of the Bulldogs, Yale put in a call for Hickman and extended him an offer which he accepted.

Abilene High School is supposed to have spent in excess of $800 for vitamin pills and shots for its gridders last year. There's no doubt but what the investment proved a good one.

* * * *

Bucky O'Conner, the Iowa University basketball coach who was killed in an auto crash recently, turned down an offer to become athletic director at his alma mater, Drake, not long before his death.

He had his entire basketball team at Iowa returning and had his heart set on winning another Big Ten championship.

Local Diamond Corps Tries To Play Cats Again Today

The Big Spring Steers and the San Angelo Bobcats will try again today to get their District 2-AAAA played in San Angelo.

The engagement has been delayed twice by rain. It was originally scheduled for last Saturday, then re-set for yesterday. Starting time is 4 p.m.

The Steers will be seeking their third conference win in six starts. San Angelo has yet to win after four assignments.

In a previous meeting between the two clubs, Big Spring eked out a 7-6 victory after trailing twice during the game.

On Saturday, the Longhorns visit Odessa. The two teams trail the pace-setters, Abilene and Midland, by two games in the race and the loser tomorrow will be eliminated by title contention.

Odessa shaded Big Spring here a couple of weeks ago, 6-2.

Billy Roger will go to the mound for Big Spring today, seeking his sixth victory. He will be opposed by Joe Johnson.

Lefty Chubby Moser will probably mount the knoll for the locals against Odessa tomorrow. He will be opposed either by Tommy McMorris or Gerald Erwin.

Casey Guessed Wrong On Ray Narleski's Arm

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Casey Stengel looked at Ray Narleski's 1957 record and crossed him off as a "sore arm pitcher." Which proves even Casey can be wrong.

The onetime relief ace the Cleveland Indians tried to peddle to Detroit, Boston and Casey's New York Yankees in a winter search for a second baseman, gained his second consecutive complete game victory last night for the Injuns, beating the Washington Senators 9-1 with a five-hitter.

The 29-year-old right-hander, converted into a starter when injuries crippled Cleveland's pitching staff last season, gave the Senators nothing but singles. Three of those were by Li'l Albie Pearson, as Narleski blanked the Nats over the last eight innings.

The loss kept the Senators from moving into second place ahead of the Kansas City Athletics, who were beaten 7-6 at Boston and now trail the Yanks by one game.

The Chicago White Sox called on southpaw Billy Pierce in relief for a 4-3 decision at Baltimore in the only other game scheduled.

Narleski gained his third victory in four decisions (he was 11-5 in '57) after giving the Nats their run on a bases-loaded balk in the first. Mickey Vernon and Chico Carrasquel homered for Cleveland.

Pierce, winless in two starts, saved Jim Wilson's second victory as the last-place White Sox bagged but their second success in the last nine games. Pierce gave two hits, one an RBI double by Gene Woodling when he relieved in the eighth.

The Sox managed just six hits off loser Connie Johnson and two relievers.

Boston left 11 on base in the first seven innings, then came from behind against losing reliever Tom Gorman with two runs in the ninth. Gene Stephens' double, a pinch-hit single by Marty Keough and Jim Piersall's double won it for reliever Ike Delock.

Whites Defeat Golds, 38-16

LAMESA — Sophomore Fred Crouch scored two touchdowns and accounted for all points counted as the result of extra points as the Whites battered the Golds, 38-16, in the intra-squad game ending spring football workouts at the local high school here Thursday night.

Howard Westmoreland, another soph who distinguished himself both on offense and defense for the winners, counted one touchdown and picked up 101 yards rushing. Westmoreland, a linebacker, weighs 195 pounds.

The Golds failed to cross the double stripes until the fourth period, when junior halfback Larry Marshall churned over from the 13. Soph fulback Ben White added two points on a run for extra point.

The Whites ran one play following the kickoff, after which Marshall intercepted a pass and traveled 25 yards to count again. This time, freshman quarterback Guy Edmonson passed to junior end Doyle Norris for the conversion and two more points.

The Golds were handicapped by the loss of Kirk Wiggins, quarterback, who injured his knee in the first period and had to be removed. Both Edmonson and frosh Randolph Norris performed well under the T, however.

For the Whites, Cox stood out as the quarterbacking chore. Crouch and Reeves also glistened on slants off tackle while Westmoreland looked powerful in his runs up the middle.

Linemen who were singled out for praise included Ross Woodson, Jim Crouch and Bob Stafford, all tackles; Gary Everett and Bill McCullouch, guards; and Jimmy Lynch, center; along with Nat Self, Lee Stafford and Doyle Norris, all ends.

BS Fem Keglers Share In Loot

Though no one from here won a first place, Big Spring women won more than their share of money in the State Women's bowling tournament, which was conducted in El Paso throughout March.

Cosden and a team known as the Big Springers brought back some loot in team events.

Mary Ruth Robertson and Dot Hood finished well up in the money in Class A singles. Angie Merrill and Olive Cauble did the same in Class B.

Among Class E prize winners were Maydell Patton, Frances Glenn, Vi Parker, Ron Bachstadt, Grace Todd, Earnestine Schroeder, Jody Bowers, Isabel Mangam, Frances Bartlett, Martha Thorn, Beulah Johnson and Lee Duncan.

Bachstadt experienced the best finish among local keglers, winding up third in her division.

Rain Threatens TIL Track, Field Meet

By ED OVERHOLSER

AUSTIN (AP) — Thundershowers threatened today as Texas' finest high school athletes began competing in the preliminaries of the annual track and field meet.

Ten division marks are in danger but a fast track will be needed in the shorter races if these records are to fall. Finals begin tomorrow.

New Boston's hard running Sidney Garton is the only one likely to set two records in the meet. Garton, who beat the Pasadena wonder boy, Bert Coan, in the 100-yard dash at the Texas Relays, has run a 20.6 in the 220 and a 9.5 in the 100. The Conference A marks are 20.9 seconds and 9.7 seconds.

Coan scored 34 of Pasadena's winning 46 points in 1957. His efforts should put the Eagles near the top again this year.

Andrews and Abilene are also co-favorites. Baytown and Fort Worth North Side, provided Jim Thomas is in shape, are rated only a notch below.

If Andrews wins both relays and R. E. Merritt, the school's fine quartermiler, takes the 440 the West Texans would have 42 points. In the meet, relays winners get 16 points and individual winners 10.

Andrews has run a 42.6 in the 440-yard relay anchored by sophomore whiz Jerry Jetton. But two Fort Worth schools, Paschal and North Side, have been clocked in 42.7 and San Antonio Brackenridge, Pasadena and Abilene are only a notch or so behind.

In the mile relay, Andrews also has the fastest time in the state of 3:21.1 and will be anchored by Larry Shoemaker. Abilene ran a close second to Andrews in the regional in the time of 3:21.2 and will be anchored by hurdler Bob Swafford. Baytown has done a 3:21.4 and has never been pressed.

In 1933 Earl Meadows pole vaulted 13 feet 1½ inches. The record is still standing but Bayless Bennett of Amarillo and James Tomlinson of Baytown could set a new standard. Bennett has the best vault with a 13 feet 3½ inches while Tomlinson has 13 feet 3 inches.

Bobby Barrett of Midland and John Cooper of Fort Worth Tech have their sights set on the mile run mark of 4:25.0 made in 1947. Barrett has a 4:23.8 and has two wins over Cooper who has the fastest mile ever turned in by a Texas schoolboy, a 4:20.8.

COACHES PLEASED

Steers To Stage Workout Tonight

A rough and tumble scrimmage is in prospect tonight when Coach Al Milch divides the Big Spring High School football squad for a tussle in the old stadium. The action gets under way at 7:30 p.m.

The scrimmage winds up the first week of activity for the Longhorns and Milch said he was pleased with the development of the athletes.

He said most of the boys were ahead of the form they showed at the same stage of the drills last spring, adding that both boys and coaches were working hard to give the school a winner.

J. B. Davis, veteran back, quit the squad without explanation following Monday's drills and Milch said he had no way of knowing whether the big junior would return.

Roy Deel was missing from Thursday's drill. He was at home, recuperating from an injury he suffered earlier in the week.

One of the things that seems to appeal to the youngsters is the time-table with which the coaches run off their drills. The mentors prescribe the work and the amount to time which will be devoted to each drill and invariably end them on time.

The Longhorns were through by 5 p.m. yesterday, after zipping through a couple of hours of work under pleasant conditions.

Milch plans to assemble the boys for a short blackboard session this afternoon following school, then re-assemble them for tonight's scrimmage.

Corsairs Belt Newcombe For Sixth Win In Row

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Maybe the wrong club moved to Los Angeles. While the Coliseum has become a homer horror for the Dodgers, the Pittsburgh Pirates are having a ball there, with even pitchers clearing the left field screen as the Bucs close in on the National League lead with a six-game winning streak.

The Pirates made it three in a row, 8-3, at the Coliseum last night. Frank Thomas belted two home runs—for a total of four in the three games. Pitcher Vern Law popped a three-run homer into the left field seats.

Law, winning his second in the streak, used his fifth major league homer to cap a five-run sixth that bagged it. He hadn't homered since 1956, when he tagged one against the Dodgers in Brooklyn.

The six straight, matching the longest streak in the majors (the New York Yankees did it in the American League) hoisted the Pirates into second, half a game behind Chicago. The Cubs took over the top rung by defeating Milwaukee 3-2 as Philadelphia dumped San Francisco to third by beating the Giants 7-0 in the only other game scheduled.

Don Newcombe, making his first start since injuring his arm in an April 17 defeat at San Francisco, left with an 0-2 record after Thomas broke a 3-3 tie with his second homer, a two-run shot in the sixth.

Law (2-1) gave up nine of the 11 Los Angeles hits, giving way to rookie Ron Blackburn after three singles loaded the bases with one out in the sixth. Blackburn got Duke Snider to tap into a double play, then blanked the Dodgers on two singles while fanning four.

The Pirates have hit five home runs at the Coliseum, the Cubs and Giants seven each and the Cards three. That's a total of 22 opposition homers in 12 games. The Dodgers, with only two in the last five games, have counted but 12 in that span.

Johnny Goryl homered in the ninth for the Cubs off reliever Bob Trowbridge as Moe Drabowsky won with a perfect relief inning in his first appearance since completing a hitch in the service. Lew Burdette was the Milwaukee starter, giving up four hits and two runs in his six innings. One was a homer by Lee Walls, his ninth.

Right-hander Ray Semproch won his first as a starter for the Phils, handing the Giants their first shutout by allowing only seven singles—two each by Willie Mays and Daryl Spencer. Ruben Gomez lost his first.

Willie Carter Is Tops In Circuit

Willie Carter bowled the high individual game, a 154, on the first day of the regular week in the Blue Monday bowling League, and Juanita Campbell scored a 419 for high individual series in highlights of that league's action.

Team Six came through for the high team game with 515 and high team series with 1407.

Juanita also converted a 3-10 split, and other split-pickups were caught by: Faye Price, 5-7, and Gladys Prescott, 3-10.

Americans Open Baseball Play

It begins tonight—that's the Little League baseball play which will slip into major and minor league action on the American League park at Howard County Junior College.

The Tip-Toppers take on an unsponsored-as-of-yet team at 5:30, and at 7:30 the Piggly Wiggly Pigs will match the Coca-Cola Colts in the major league's inaugural game.

Play switches to the National Little League park south of town Saturday evening.

Starting Time Change Helps Links Leader

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — After the Houston Open, where he didn't even make the cut, Arnold Palmer said he was tired of going out early in golf tournaments and would be in the last threesome—meaning he'd be among the leaders — from then on.

The former National Amateur king and now Masters champion and leading money winner of the year in the pro tour has kept his vow. He has been in the last threesome in seven straight tournaments, the seventh today as he sets out ahead of the field in the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation.

Palmer, never in the money before in the Colonial, shot a course record-tying 5-under-par 65 Thursday to take the first round lead by three strokes. He did it on the 7,021-yard course that had been hammered by rain for seven straight days.

The soggy course and intermittent rain didn't hamper golf's hotshots as eight players shot subpar scores.

Tied for second place were Tommy Bolt of Paradise, Fla.; Stan Leonard of Vancouver, Canada, and Lloyd Mangrum of Apple Valley, Calif., each with a 68. Four had 69's — Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Tex.; Paul Harney of Worcester, Mass.; Gardner Dickinson of Panama City Beach, Fla., and Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla.

Area Students Win Honors In TIL Contests In Austin

AUSTIN (AP)—Tony Reynaga of Hebbronville High and Janice Glass of Georgetown High won best actor and actress last night in Conference A of the Interscholastic League one-act play contest.

Georgetown High won first place in the conference, and Hebbronville High second.

Other members of an all-star cast chosen by judges were Merle Temple of Clear Creek, Humberto Almaraz of Hebbronville, Mary Cogdell of Floydada and Howard Bleeke of Georgetown.

The League announced winners today in its 1957-58 school year journalism contest.

Awards were made at the league press conference. These awards are for work done over the school year and are separate from journalism event competitions being held during the Interscholastic League meet.

Students from 315 schools submitted entries in nine categories in various divisions ranging from junior high schools to the AAAA schools.

First place winners, by categories included:

Junior high: Short features, Peggy Cook, North of Abilene; features, Susan Stuermer, Stell of Brownsville.

Abilene Hero Admits Urge To Leave Friend

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — "I felt an awful strong urge to leave him," said 1st Lt. James E. Obenauf, 24, of Grayslake, Ill.

He was describing how he felt when he discovered a fellow officer unconscious and without a parachute as he was about to bail out of what he thought was a doomed B47 jet bomber over the Texas Panhandle this week.

Obenauf didn't jump. The Air Force decorated him with a Distinguished Flying Cross for staying with Maj. Joseph B. Maxwell of Portsmouth, Va., and landing the plane.

The B47 was flying at 30,000 feet over Dalhart, Tex., Monday night when an explosion shook it. Fire enveloped the right wing.

Maj. James M. Graves, 38, Fort Worth, Tex., the pilot, and 1st Lt. John P. Cobb, 25, Elko, Nev., navigator, bailed out through the nose escape hatch.

Graves blasted off the top canopy but his ejection seat and that of Obenauf failed. Maxwell, 32, a navigator instructor who was in the nose, apparently was knocked unconscious by the force of the explosion.

"I had made up my mind I was going to take the plane back to Dyess," Obenauf said in an interview. "Once I got the fire under control there wasn't too much reason to bail out....

"I didn't think there was any fear. You're just numb."

He estimated the temperature was minus 30 or 40 degrees Centigrade and that the wind whipped through the cabin at 400 miles an hour.

"I think it just took my eyelids and peeled them back. They stayed wide open. I was seeing a big blur," he said.

Maxwell, meanwhile, revived and succeeded in turning on the plane's landing lights as they approached Dyess AFB, their main base, here.

"I just flew it to the ground. That's all I could do . . . I never made a better landing in my life," Obenauf said.

Sam McComb Is Candidate For Commissioner

S. A. (Sam) McComb, veteran Highway Department maintenance supervisor, has authorized The Herald to formally announce his candidacy for Howard County Commissioner, Precinct No. 2.

McComb's resignation from his state highway job is effective today. After a vacation, he said he will attempt to contact as many voters as possible in all sections of the precinct.

"I've been closely associated with commissioners courts and county affairs all my adult life, and believe that I am as familiar with county government as anyone. I feel that I can be of service to Howard County, especially with my knowledge in the road department," said McComb.

"I am very much in favor of the unit system of county road operations," he added. "I believe it is one of the finest things that could happen in any county."

A native of Fisher County who grew up in adjoining Kent County, McComb has worked for the Texas Highway Department since 1932. He has been Howard County highway maintenance supervisor since 1933, except for approximately a year spent in Scurry County in 1939-40. He has seen the present network of highways in this area develop from the "dirt road era," and had a hand in considerable road construction in the early 1930's.

Before joining the State Highway Department, McComb served three years as deputy sheriff and two terms as sheriff and tax assessor-collector for Kent County. He also engaged in ranching for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. McComb reside in Big Spring, at 811 E. 13th. They have three children, Ell, district geologist for Cosden; Dell, speech teacher in Abilene High School; and Sammie Sue, local high school senior.

They are members of the First Presbyterian Church. He is a Mason and Shriner, and has been a leader in numerous civic activities, especially in the field of Boy Scout work. McComb is district camping and activities chairman, has served on the council committee, and has held other Scout posts during the past 20 years.

Dawson TB Unit Elects Directors

LAMESA — Four new members were elected to the Board of Directors of the Dawson County Tuberculosis Assn. Tuesday. Included are the Rev. Carolos Costillo, Clarence Parks, Mrs. Bill Beeson and Mrs. Kay Hardberger. Re-elected to the board were C. J. Stuart, Jake Lippard, Miss Marie Long, Harold Wilkinson and Wesley Roberts. All will serve three-year terms on the board.

Named from the board to members of the executive committee are Dr. John Paul Puckett, president; Bob Crawley, first vice president; Jake Lippard, first vice president; Mrs. L. E. Petty, secretary; and Scott Russell, treasurer. Mrs. H. K. Norman is executive secretary.

The directors adopted a program of work for the present year, including patch testing of all first grade children in the county.

Generals Overruled In Col. Smyrl Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Overruling eight generals, Secretary of the Air Force James H. Douglas has ordered new duty for a colonel who balked at some of his commanding officer's policies.

The generals, serving on two boards, had recommended that Col. James A. Smyrl be dropped from active duty.

Douglas directed that Smyrl be reassigned away from the Air Training Command. There was no immediate word on what new duty would be given to the 39-year-old native of Manchester, N. H.

Symrl was ousted 13 months ago as a training officer at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas. This happened after he got into a dispute with Maj. Gen. Herbert Grills, commanding general at Lackland. The controversy was over roller skating and similar activities by airmen.

After a hearing at Lackland last September, a board of three generals recommended that Smyrl, a World War II veteran, be removed from active duty. This recommendation was endorsed by a review board of five generals after a hearing here earlier this year.

Douglas did not specify on what grounds he was rejecting the recommendation. He said his ruling ends administrative action in the case.

At the board hearings, Grills testified he ordered that all basic airmen be allowed three hours weekly in which to patronize a civilian-run skating rink at the Lackland base. The general said he wanted to insure the rink enough business to operate.

Symrl acknowledged that he disapproved of roller skating and other nonmilitary activities as a substitute for regular training.

He said he never refused to obey orders, but he testified he told Grills he could not think of a way properly to carry out the roller skating order. Smyrl said that three days later Grills told him he was out of his job as head of the largest training group at Lackland.

Three Escaped Prisoners Nabbed

RITZVILLE, Wash. (AP) — A condemned murderer and two other prisoners overpowered a deputy sheriff and escaped from the Adams County jail last night, but they were recaptured early today.

Sheriff's officers said the three men were caught at a roadblock near Ephrata in central Washington, about 70 miles west of Ritzville. The state patrol said the trio did not resist when officers stopped the stolen car in which they were traveling. They took the deputy's gun with them when they fled the jail.

Con Goes After Fly, Keeps Going

CONCORD, Mass. (AP) — Burglar Ronald Mules, 22, outfielder on the Concord Reformatory Farm baseball team, played deep for a slugger last night. When a long fly came at him he chased it into woods bordering the diamond — and kept on going.

The escape broke up the evening ball game in the recreation area of the minimum security farm, half a mile from the walled reformatory.

Mules, from Boston, was serving five years for breaking, entering and larceny.
