kesman for Prime r Margaret That- cher in London declined comment on Khadafy's charge.

Ending the two-day-old siege in London "is the responsibility of the British government. We did nothing," Khadafy said from Tripoli in a live broadcast of an interview with NBC television.

The Libyan leader repeated his country's version of the events Tuesday — a version contradicted by witnesses, videotape and British officials, who all said a gunman in an embassy window fired on demonstrators outside the mission Tuesday, killing the policewoman and wounding 11 protesters.

Khadafy, speaking in English, said there was "an armed British attack by air and ground" against his embassy in which a policewoman was killed and 11 anti-Khadafy Libyan demonstrators were injured.

"I heard that the British police force used arms and shot at the bureau...," Khadafy said, adding later that his information came "from many sources."

The Libyan Embassy, which Libya calls a people's bureau, "is part of our (sovereign) territory. They have the right to defend themselves if attacked. The British government committed this attack ... and the British government is responsible for any accident that takes place there," Khadafy said.

"I think the British policemen killed themselves. Because they shot our bureau during the attack. They are responsible for killing this woman," he said when asked if he knew the identity of the gunman.

As Khadafy spoke, British marksmen continued to point their weapons at the Libyan Embassy. Khadafy was reported to have told the Libyan diplomats and student radicals in the embassy to wait out the police "even if it takes a year."

DOWN WITH THE OLD—To make way for the new, Snyder's old Dairy Queen at East Highway is being dismantled this week. The new facility, built just west of the old location, opened for business Sunday. United Way computer add-on proposed

A proposal to bring Snyder's United Way campaign into the computer age was made Wednesday — a change which will also entail the employment of a United Way staffer to organize fund raising records prior to the fall campaign.

To help the local drive through its transitional period, both the president and drive chairman for last year's effort agreed to serve for one more campaign.

Rex Robinson will now continue as president through next year and Roy McQueen will serve as drive chairman for the 1984-85 effort.

Directors for United Way approved the proposal unanimously.

As planned, a search will now begin for the United Way, staffer. Their function will be to compile lists of past and prospective donors from all of the United Way drive divisions — advance, commercial, oil and industry, educational, professional, royalty owners, rural, utilities and public employees.

As proposed, this "listing" will be an attempt to involve a broader range of individuals in the campaign — in particular the working man and woman who has likely never been asked to give to United Way.

By use of the computer, these lists could also be preserved for future campaigns.

The recommended changes for the local drive came from a five-member committee organized last week to discuss ways to improve the local effort. Members of that committee were Robinson, McQueen and directors Mike Reed, Larry Lane and L.E. (Doc) Griffin.

"I think it's going to make things a whole lot easier for a long time to come," said Robinson, who presided at Wednesday's meeting.

In addition Wednesday, new names were added to replace directors with expiring terms.

New directors to the United Way campaign this year include Fran Farmer, Jay Martin, Joee Gainer, Barbara McGee and Polly Underwood.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Just when you figure out how to make money last, life expectancy is increased by three years."

TV's Rodney Dangerfield bemoans the fact that he gets no respect.

If it's respect you want, stay out of the coffee shops in Snyder. Sonny Greenfield of Thompson's Shoes is a perfect example. His friends say he may be an example, but certainly not a perfect one.

Sonny and his wife, Doris, are avid motorcycle riders and they joined club members a couple of weekends ago on a trip to the Big Bend.

At the motorcycle rally, Sonny and Doris won a valuable door prize, an expensive bike that would be the envy of any cyclist. Bob Womack, Western Auto man who is a regular at Louise's Coffee Shop, heard about the prize and got the group ready to surprise Greenfield.

Everyone knew that Sonny would have to tell about his trip, and that he would boast about winning the prize.

Womack stocks hunting supplies in his store and included is a rack of mufflers to protect the ears. Womack made sure everyone was equipped and early for coffee that Monday morning.

Greenfield had a smug look on his face when he entered, and he noticed a prime seat had been reserved for him.

Greenfield was asked about his trip, and as soon as he began to speak, the entire crowd donned the earmuffs. Greenfield stopped in mid-sentence and went back to work.

A similar, but unplanned incident happened the next day at Lions Club. Lion Milton Ham interrupted the program to tell a story.

Just about the time Ham began to speak, two Lions got up to go back to work. With Ham pleading, "Wait, come back," the entire membership exited. It was a short program.

Lions Club is another place where one shouldn't look for respect.

Ask Us

Q. — Is it too late to run as a write-in candidate for a Scurry County office?

A. — According to a spokesman with the secretary of state's office in Austin, it's not too late to run as a write-in for the November General Election. The guideline to file stipulates an individual must file a declaration of write-in candidacy "no later than 55 days prior to the election." The General Election this year is Nov. 6.

In Brief

Senators' copter fired at

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — One of two U.S. senators whose helicopter was hit by gunfire and forced down in Honduras says hundreds of shots were fired at the craft by "a nest of guerrillas."

A second helicopter carrying Diana Negroponte, wife of U.S. Ambassador John Negroponte, also was fired upon but was not hit in the attack, which occurred near the border with El Salvador.

"This was not a single gun. We figure there were hundreds of rounds fired at the helicopter," said Sen. J. Bennett Johnston, D-La., who was aboard the craft Wednesday with Sen. Lawton Chiles, D-Fla. The two men were on a fact-finding mission in Honduras.

No injuries were reported among the nine passengers and six crew members aboard the two aircraft. There was no official confirmation of the source of the fire, which Johnston said came "presumably from Salvadoran guerrillas."

The helicopter was struck three times by .50-caliber ammunition. Johnston said he didn't realize what was happening until after he heard a woosh of air coming into the craft.

Recession recovery ongoing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The economy grew an astonishing 8.3 percent from January through March, the government reported today, as the pace of the nation's recovery from the recession continued to confound the experts.

But economists both in and out of government said they saw no reason for concern that the economy is over-heating and stuck to their predictions that, for all of 1984, the economy will expand in the range of 5 percent.

The Commerce Department last month had estimated economic growth, after adjusting for inflation, at 7.2 percent, far above the 6 percent predicted by most economists.

That preliminary "flash" estimate was based on data from January and February, when business activity as measured by various government indicators was extremely brisk.

Diamond ring 'switched'

The theft of an oval-cut diamond ring was reported Wednesday afternoon by personnel with Haney's Jewelry in the College Heights Shopping Center.

Store personnel said a couple who had been looking at rings apparently switched the diamond ring — valued at $1,400 — for a second one which they placed in the display case.

Police were given a description of the couple and the vehicle they were driving. It was said to be a 1974 Pontiac two-door, brown in color.

The incident was reported around 1:31 p.m. Wednesday and police were still investigating Thursday morning.

Arts group sponsors band

The Shoppe, a country-western showband from the Dallas area, will be entertaining at 8 p.m. Friday in the Fine Arts Theatre at Western Texas College.

The local appearance is under the sponsorship of the Fine Arts Association at WTC.

Tickets are $4 for adults and $2 for students and will be available at the door. Reservations can be made by calling the Fine Arts Division office at 573-8511, ext. 234.

They have been billed as "Country Music at Its Hysterical Best" because of the comedy which accompanies their program of traditional and contemporary country and western music.

Seabrook work halted...

Diablo Canyon going 'critical'

By The Associated Press

Protesters said they would continue to fight California's Diablo Canyon nuclear plant even as workers prepared today to activate its first giant reactor, but money problems halted all construction at the equally controversial Seabrook plant in New Hampshire.

A spokesman for the utility with the largest share in the twin-reactor Seabrook project said it was uncertain if the shutdown could keep Public Service Co. of New Hampshire from bankruptcy.

In San Francisco, cheers went up at a shareholders meeting at Pacific Gas & Electric Co., owner of the $5.9 billion Diablo plant, as word arrived Wednesday that a federal appeals court in Washington had rejected opponents' latest bid to block the long-delayed start-up.

"The timing couldn't have been better," said PG&E chairman Frederick W. Mielke Jr.

Diablo Canyon, site of 482 arrests since January, received a low-power license 2½ years ago, but that was suspended two months later when design flaws were discovered. Last week the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, citing modifications and improvements, voted to let the utility bring the 1,084-megawatt Unit 1 reactor up to 5 percent of capacity.

PG&E spokesman George Sarkisian said Wednesday that crews had started preparing the plant to "go critical within the next few days" as control rods are lifted gradually to start a nuclear chain reaction from the 16-foot-long rods of uranium fuel in the reactor's core.

In New Hampshire, Public Service Co. announced it had laid off all but 1,000 of 6,200 workers at Seabrook, scene of numerous protests.

The utility, which is managing construction for several New England power companies, estimated the shutdown would save $750,000 a day. In the meantime, the company will continue to look for financing.

The shutdown "doesn't eliminate our need to reach an agreement with our credit bankers," spokesman Nicholas Ashooh said.

"We are still working to avoid filing for protection, but I couldn't characterize how close we are or are not to that event," Ashooh said.

Seabrook's estimated cost has risen from the original $850 million in 1968 to a newly projected $6.9 billion for both reactors — down from a $9 billion estimate announced March 1.

In California, Mielke said Diablo Canyon's Unit 1 might go to full power by early summer by "if all goes smoothly."

Seek to void terms

HOUSTON (AP) — Prosecutors say a drunken driving charge should lead a state judge to revoke the probation of a man convicted of shooting his comatose father in what was called an act of mercy.

Assistant District Attorney George Godwin asked state District Judge Ted Poe Tuesday to revoke the three-year probated term given to Billy Ray Clore.

Clore, 26, was convicted in July of attempted murder in the shooting of his father, 62-year-old Robert Clore Sr. The elder Clore, whose kidneys had failed, had been comatose for several weeks when he was shot March 21, 1983. He died 12 days later, but medical experts disagreed whether the gunshot wound was the cause of death.

Your Birthday

April 20, 1984

This coming year you will form several strong new alliances. The one that will prove to be the most beneficial will be with a person you won't like too well at first meeting.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) If you fail to let your higher ideals and standards guide you today, you might have problems in your relationships. Subdue self-serving tendencies. Want to find out to whom you're best suited romantically? Send for your Matchmaker set by mailing $2 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. It reveals compatibilities for all signs.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You might get stuck with some responsibilities of others today. If you treat these developments philosophically, you won't build up resentment.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Diplomacy and tact can achieve things for you today that flexing your muscles or raising your voice can't. Throw away the big stick and try charm.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Things in general might not go as smooth as you'd like today. Don't make matters worse by blowing your cool if you do run into some opposition.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Someone might not be in accord with the views you hold today, but that's no reason to get angry at this person. Keep an open mind and be forgiving.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You might end up weaving a more tangled web if you try today to unravel the threads that have been holding your household budget together. Wait a bit.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) If you hope to make a good impression on companions today, you must be willing to compromise some of your demands to accommodate them.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Those second thoughts about something or someone in your financial dealings should not go unheeded today. Pay attention to the warning signals.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Socializing with a large group might not produce too much enjoyment for you today. However, being with a few close, intimate friends should.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Try to avoid situations today that could bring you into direct opposition with others. Seek peace, not provocation.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Today there's a chance you may overreact to situations you normally take in stride. If you feel your temper heating up look for an exit, not an encounter.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) In business situations today you may defeat your own purpose if you grind too hard. Leave a little room so the other guy can make a buck as well.

At Wit's End

by Erma Bombeck

The letter arrived on my birthday.

It was from a grandmother in California named Pearl who wrote, "For more years than I can remember, I have enjoyed your humor tremendously. HOWEVER, you wrote something in your book that turned me off completely and forever. I will never read anything you write again — never, never, never!"

I can't believe it. Nineteen years of work, 2,964 columns, approximately 1,330,800 words and for what? To have Pearl dump me over something she disagreed with.

Give me a break, Pearl. Would you quit a marriage because your husband didn't like the pajamas you bought for him? Would you abandon your children because they had a friend you didn't like? Would you leave a gifted hairdresser just because he once insulted Paul Harvey?

One of the hardest things we do in this life is to live in harmony with those who hold beliefs and attitudes different from our own.

I'm not always easy to love, Pearl, but you haven't been a day at the beach yourself.

There are little things with you I've never mentioned. To begin with, how come you didn't write me for 19 years when you liked something? It's okay, I know you're busy, but there were days I needed to know you were breathing out there.

And what about the times I spent three days writing a special piece and you were on vacation and stopped the paper while you were gone ... or you were too busy that day to read it ... or you wrapped the chicken innards in my face for the garbage? That hurts, Pearl.

Did I write you and say you disappointed me as a reader and I would never write for you again, never, never, never? Of course not.

My best friend has been just that since we were second-semester freshmen in college. We are the antithesis of one another. It is difficult to imagine us in the same country, let alone sitting across the table from one another. We are both walking debate teams on everything from political candidates to gun control. I will never forget the day in November when she called me in tears and said, "I'm sorry your president just died."

My friend is not a fool. She has all the ingredients of a wonderful human being, not the least of them being abounding love and respect for the rights of another human being to think and act in his own way.

I haven't given up on you, Pearl. A woman with a sense of humor is just too important to me to write off. If the Pope forgave his would-be assassin, I can give you another chance to love me.

How about you?

HOUSTON (AP) — A jail inmate who claims she heard a state witness make a deal with a prosecutor in exchange for testimony against a woman accused of hacking a couple to death with a pickax will not testify in the case, a state judge has ruled.

State District Judge Patricia Lykos refused Wednesday to let jurors hear from Donna Wages, who appeared outside the presence of the panel.

Defense attorney Mack Arnold sought to introduce the testimony in the capital murder trial of Karla Faye Tucker, 24, who is accused of killing Jerry Lynn Dean and Debra Ruth Davis Thornton as they lay in bed in Dean's apartment.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, in accordance with rules and orders promulgated by the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of a public hearing to begin at 10 a.m. on Monday, May 14, 1984, in the offices of the Public Utility Commission, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Austin, Texas, concerning proposals made by the company to add three optional services and delete two services from the list of local exchange services available to its Texas customers.

Proposed additions to the local exchange tariffs include an optional Local Measured Service under which all residence customers and single-line business customers could pay monthly rates less than flat rate for one-party service, with an additional charge for each completed outgoing call to be determined by the time of day, distance and duration of each call; and a subsidized LIFELINE local service to be made available to qualified individuals, as determined by the Public Utility Commission. The monthly rate for LIFELINE service would include an allowance of 25 outgoing calls per month, plus a charge for each additional call.

Proposed for deletion from the local exchange tariffs are one-element measured service offerings for residence customers and single-line business customers, but current customers would not be affected.

The company does not anticipate that these additional services will result in an increase in revenue to Southwestern Bell Telephone.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Aviso al Publico

Por medio del presente aviso y en conformidad con las reglas y dictámenes de la Comisión de Servicios Públicos de Texas, la compañía Southwestern Bell Telephone anuncia la audiencia publica que se llevará a cabo a partir de las 10 de la mañana del día lunes 14 de mayo de 1984 en las oficinas de la Comisión de Servicios Publicos, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Austin, Texas, con respecto a la propuesta de la compañía, que consiste en agregar tres servicios opcionales y suprimir dos servicios de la lista de servicios telefónicos locales a disposición del usuario en Texas.

Las adiciones propuestas al arancel del servicio telefónico local incluyen un Servicio Medido Local opcional según el cual todos los clientes residenciales y los clientes comerciales con linea unica pagarian tarifas mensuales menores que la tarifa fija para servicios de linea unica, con un cargo adicional por cada llamada completa efectuada desde ese teléfono, establecido segun la hora, la distancia y la duración de cada llamada; así como un servicio local subvencionado de LIFELINE que estaría disponible para determinadas personas, según lo establezca la Comisión de Servicios Públicos. La tarifa mensual para el servicio de LIFELINE incluiría 25 llamadas mensuales con un cargo adicional por cada llamada en exceso de 25.

Se propone suprimir del arancel del servicio telefónico local las opciones de servicio medido de un elemento para clientes residenciales y clientes comerciales con linea única, pero esto no afectaria a los clientes actuales.

La compañia no espera que estos servicios adicionales produzcan un aumento de ingresos para Southwestern Bell Telephone.

Toda persona que desee intervenir o participar en el proceso debe notificar a la Comisión lo antes posible. Las solicitudes de intervención, participación o información deben dirigirse a: Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Reporter Struggles With Rewriting Future Plans

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1984 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am a bright, pretty, college-educated newspaper reporter in love with an older professional man. He's married and his wife is expecting next month. She conceived after I began seeing her husband, which made me doubt his love for me. He promised me that he would leave her and file for divorce as soon as the baby is born, but so far he hasn't even told his wife about me.

He is wonderful to me. He's loving, caring, generous, gentle, understanding and sincere.

Am I as stupid as I think I am? Am I ignoring the obvious? Should I wait until after the baby is born, or get out now?

BAFFLED

DEAR BAFFLED: Yes, you are as stupid as you think you are, if you think this man is sincere. Are you ignoring the obvious? Not any more; I think you are catching on.

Don't wait until the baby is born. Get out now. And stay away from married men. They make lousy husbands.

DEAR ABBY: A reader named Barbara who married a man named Gene McGraw asks, "Just who is Mrs. Gene McGraw?" (She says, "I am not a bisexual, nor do I have two heads.") Then she signs herself, "Mrs. Barbara McGraw."

The name "Mrs. Barbara McGraw" means she married someone named "Barbara."

The title "Ms." is available for women who prefer using their own first names; she could call herself "Ms. Barbara McGraw," or she could skip any title completely.

Whatever she decides, the one thing she isn't is "Mrs. Barbara McGraw"—unless she's planning a divorce. Archaic, maybe, but still true.

Women are the biggest frank fans

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP) — More than 19 billion hot dogs are produced in the United States each year, according to John Galardi.

Galardi, of West Coast Wienerschnitzel restaurants, says, "That's an average of 87 hot dogs a year for every man, woman and child."

He adds that research shows adults eat more hot dogs than children and that women are the biggest frank fans of all.

Watson's elementary hands usually are based on overbidding. They also contain some point of play. The point in today's hand is well-known to experts but not so well-known to others.

Thus you, as South, find yourself in four spades with a doubtful trump holding of four opposite three.

West starts with three rounds of hearts. If you ruff that third heart, you are doomed to defeat. Watson suggests you use the old proverb "Look before you leap." An immediate ruff can do you no good and will cost you game if trumps don't break 3-3.

Why does it do you no good? Because you have only 10 tricks, come what may. The diamond suit will provide only two club discards.

Now you should see the winning play. You have a sure club loser. Discard it here and now.

The defense is helpless. A fourth heart lead is ruffed in dummy. Now you have 10 additional winners with only nine cards left in the hands, but 10 tricks are all you need and all you could ever make.

One of the hardest spots to firm and tone is the lower half of the abdomen. This excercise — the pelvic tilt — can help. Lie on your back, knees bent and feet on the floor, with your hands at your side. Tuck in your stomach, and raise your pelvis toward your chin. Hold for a count of 5, then relax. Repeat 5 times, then work up to 20 times.

The Weeders Guide

By EARL ARONSON
AP-Newsfeatures

The lily plant you receive for Easter will last longer if you give it a cool location, plenty of bright light and adequate — but not too much — water.

Good drainage also is important, so when the lily arrives in a foil-wrapped pot, stick a finger through the foil at the base of the pot so that the drainage hole is not obstructed. Then place the pot in a bowl of water to soak for a few hours, remove it from the water, drain it. Don't water it again until the top of the soil feels dry.

You can keep the flowers blooming longer by keeping the potted plant in a cool bright spot, but not in direct sunlight.

After the lily has finished flowering and the stems start to yellow, gradually reduce watering and store the plant in a cool, dark place until frost danger ends. Then sink the plant in the garden, covering the pot with soil, (or without the pot) and water as needed. The lily may not bloom again this summer, but it should flower next year. Don't try to force it again.

Not so long ago Easter meant a white lily. But researchers have been working on pink, yellow and peach colored varieties.

Lilies were grown by early civilizations long before they were associated with the Easter holiday. Perhaps the first recorded mention of lilies dates back about 4,000 years, and most likely referred to the white garden lily we know as the Madonna lily. Lilies decorated remains found in the ancient cities of Crete, Greece and Mesopotamia. In Egypt a Madonna lily bulb was found in a mummy case.

The Madonna lily was eaten for food by the Chinese and it was used in a medicinal salve. It has become an Easter symbol because of its Biblical associations with purity and the Virgin.

Better than the Madonna lily as a potted plant is the long-flowered Lilium longiflorum, believed to have originated in Japan. There it was mentioned in 17th-century writings. Before World War II, most Easter lilies for commercial forcing were grown in Japan, but now our Pacific Northwest is a major producer.

For a change of pace many other plants are available for Easter, including amaryllis, azalea, begonia, calceolaria, chrysanthemum, gardenia, gloxinia, hydrangea and flowering spring bulbs.

The calceolaria, or pocket-book plant, has pouch-like flowers in yellow and reds covered with small spots. These should be kept cool. Calceolarias are annuals, and once flowering ends will not bloom again satisfactorily.

Cinerarias produce big leaves and mounds of daisy-like flowers in pink, purple, blue or white. They need a bright window, plenty of water and a cool place. They, too, are annuals, and should be discarded after blooming.

The fragrant, waxy white gardenia makes an attractive indoor plant. But it isn't an easy one to handle. Good light, cool (55-62) temperatures and daily misting to provide humidity can ease the common problem of bud drop stemming from a change in growing conditions. It wants full sun in a south window, and acid soil. In summer, put it outdoors in a lightly shaded, protected spot.

If you received a corsage for Easter, it may be reused for wearing, used in a basic arrangement of foliage, or floated in a shallow bowl of water.

Remove ribbons and submerge the flowers in very cold water for 20 minutes (except orchids, which will spot). Then gently shake off water, wrap flowers in foil or wax paper, seal the edges and place the flowers in the refrigerator — not the freezer — until ready to use again.

Seabrook work halted...

Diablo Canyon going 'critical'

By The Associated Press

Protesters said they would continue to fight California's Diablo Canyon nuclear plant even as workers prepared today to activate its first giant reactor, but money problems halted all construction at the equally controversial Seabrook plant in New Hampshire.

A spokesman for the utility with the largest share in the twin-reactor Seabrook project said it was uncertain if the shutdown could keep Public Service Co. of New Hampshire from bankruptcy.

In San Francisco, cheers went up at a shareholders meeting at Pacific Gas & Electric Co., owner of the $5.9 billion Diablo plant, as word arrived Wednesday that a federal appeals court in Washington had rejected opponents' latest bid to block the long-delayed start-up.

"The timing couldn't have been better," said PG&E chairman Frederick W. Mielke Jr.

Diablo Canyon, site of 482 arrests since January, received a low-power license 2½ years ago, but that was suspended two months later when design flaws were discovered. Last week the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, citing modifications and improvements, voted to let the utility bring the 1,084-megawatt Unit 1 reactor up to 5 percent of capacity.

PG&E spokesman George Sarkisian said Wednesday that crews had started preparing the plant to "go critical within the next few days" as control rods are lifted gradually to start a nuclear chain reaction from the 16-foot-long rods of uranium fuel in the reactor's core.

In New Hampshire, Public Service Co. announced it had laid off all but 1,000 of 6,200 workers at Seabrook, scene of numerous protests.

The utility, which is managing construction for several New England power companies, estimated the shutdown would save $750,000 a day. In the meantime, the company will continue to look for financing.

The shutdown "doesn't eliminate our need to reach an agreement with our credit bankers," spokesman Nicholas Ashooh said.

"We are still working to avoid filing for protection, but I couldn't characterize how close we are or are not to that event," Ashooh said.

Seabrook's estimated cost has risen from the original $850 million in 1968 to a newly projected $6.9 billion for both reactors — down from a $9 billion estimate announced March 1.

In California, Mielke said Diablo Canyon's Unit 1 might go to full power by early summer by "if all goes smoothly."

Seek to void terms

HOUSTON (AP) — Prosecutors say a drunken driving charge should lead a state judge to revoke the probation of a man convicted of shooting his comatose father in what was called an act of mercy.

Assistant District Attorney George Godwin asked state District Judge Ted Poe Tuesday to revoke the three-year probated term given to Billy Ray Clore.

Clore, 26, was convicted in July of attempted murder in the shooting of his father, 62-year-old Robert Clore Sr. The elder Clore, whose kidneys had failed, had been comatose for several weeks when he was shot March 21, 1983. He died 12 days later, but medical experts disagreed whether the gunshot wound was the cause of death.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Socializing with a large group might not produce too much enjoyment for you today. However, being with a few close, intimate friends should.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Try to avoid situations today that could bring you into direct opposition with others. Seek peace, not provocation.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Today there's a chance you may overreact to situations you normally take in stride. If you feel your temper heating up look for an exit, not an encounter.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) In business situations today you may defeat your own purpose if you grind too hard. Leave a little room so the other guy can make a buck as well.

At Wit's End

by Erma Bombeck

The letter arrived on my birthday.

It was from a grandmother in California named Pearl who wrote, "For more years than I can remember, I have enjoyed your humor tremendously. HOWEVER, you wrote something in your book that turned me off completely and forever. I will never read anything you write again — never, never, never!"

I can't believe it. Nineteen years of work, 2,964 columns, approximately 1,330,800 words and for what? To have Pearl dump me over something she disagreed with.

Give me a break, Pearl. Would you quit a marriage because your husband didn't like the pajamas you bought for him? Would you abandon your children because they had a friend you didn't like? Would you leave a gifted hairdresser just because he once insulted Paul Harvey?

One of the hardest things we do in this life is to live in harmony with those who hold beliefs and attitudes different from our own.

I'm not always easy to love, Pearl, but you haven't been a day at the beach yourself.

There are little things with you I've never mentioned. To begin with, how come you didn't write me for 19 years when you liked something? It's okay, I know you're busy, but there were days I needed to know you were breathing out there.

And what about the times I spent three days writing a special piece and you were on vacation and stopped the paper while you were gone ... or you were too busy that day to read it ... or you wrapped the chicken innards in my face for the garbage? That hurts, Pearl.

Did I write you and say you disappointed me as a reader and I would never write for you again, never, never, never? Of course not.

My best friend has been just that since we were second-semester freshmen in college. We are the antithesis of one another. It is difficult to imagine us in the same country, let alone sitting across the table from one another. We are both walking debate teams on everything from political candidates to gun control. I will never forget the day in November when she called me in tears and said, "I'm sorry your president just died."

My friend is not a fool. She has all the ingredients of a wonderful human being, not the least of them being abounding love and respect for the rights of another human being to think and act in his own way.

I haven't given up on you, Pearl. A woman with a sense of humor is just too important to me to write off. If the Pope forgave his would-be assassin, I can give you another chance to love me.

How about you?

HOUSTON (AP) — A jail inmate who claims she heard a state witness make a deal with a prosecutor in exchange for testimony against a woman accused of hacking a couple to death with a pickax will not testify in the case, a state judge has ruled.

State District Judge Patricia Lykos refused Wednesday to let jurors hear from Donna W[illegible] who appeared outside the presence of the panel.

Defense attorney Mack Arnold sought to introduce the testimony in the capital murder trial of Karla Faye Tucker, 24, who is accused of killing Jerry Lynn Dean and Debra Ruth Davis Thornton as they lay in bed in Dean's apartment.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, in accordance with rules and orders promulgated by the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of a public hearing to begin at 10 a.m. on Monday, May 14, 1984, in the offices of the Public Utility Commission, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Austin, Texas, concerning proposals made by the company to add three optional services and delete two services from the list of local exchange services available to its Texas customers.

Proposed additions to the local exchange tariffs include an optional Local Measured Service under which all residence customers and single-line business customers could pay monthly rates less than flat rate for one-party service, with an additional charge for each completed outgoing call to be determined by the time of day, distance and duration of each call; and a subsidized LIFELINE local service to be made available to qualified individuals, as determined by the Public Utility Commission. The monthly rate for LIFELINE service would include an allowance of 25 outgoing calls per month, plus a charge for each additional call.

Proposed for deletion from the local exchange tariffs are one-element measured service offerings for residence customers and single-line business customers, but current customers would not be affected.

The company does not anticipate that these additional services will result in an increase in revenue to Southwestern Bell Telephone.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Aviso al Publico

Por medio del presente aviso y en conformidad con las reglas y dictámenes de la Comisión de Servicios Públicos de Texas, la compañía Southwestern Bell Telephone anuncia la audiencia publica que se llevará a cabo a partir de las 10 de la mañana del día lunes 14 de mayo de 1984 en las oficinas de la Comisión de Servicios Publicos, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Austin, Texas, con respecto a la propuesta de la compañía, que consiste en agregar tres servicios opcionales y suprimir dos servicios de la lista de servicios telefónicos locales a disposición del usuario en Texas.

Las adiciones propuestas al arancel del servicio telefónico local incluyen un Servicio Medido Local opcional según el cual todos los clientes residenciales y los clientes comerciales con linea unica pagarian tarifas mensuales menores que la tarifa fija para servicios de linea unica, con un cargo adicional por cada llamada completa efectuada desde ese teléfono, establecido segun la hora, la distancia y la duración de cada llamada; así como un servicio local subvencionado de LIFELINE que estaria disponible para determinadas personas, según lo establezca la Comisión de Servicios Públicos. La tarifa mensual para el servicio de LIFELINE incluiria 25 llamadas mensuales con un cargo adicional por cada llamada en exceso de 25.

Se propone suprimir del arancel del servicio telefónico local las opciones de servicio medido de un elemento para clientes residenciales y clientes comerciales con linea única, pero ésto no afectaria a los clientes actuales.

La compañia no espera que estos servicios adicionales produzcan un aumento de ingresos para Southwestern Bell Telephone.

Toda persona que desee intervenir o participar en el proceso debe notificar a la Comisión lo antes posible. Las solicitudes de intervención, participación o información deben dirigirse a: Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Reporter Struggles With Rewriting Future Plans

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1984 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am a bright, pretty, college-educated newspaper reporter in love with an older professional man. He's married and his wife is expecting next month. She conceived after I began seeing her husband, which made me doubt his love for me. He promised me that he would leave her and file for divorce as soon as the baby is born, but so far he hasn't even told his wife about me.

He is wonderful to me. He's loving, caring, generous, gentle, understanding and sincere.

Am I as stupid as I think I am? Am I ignoring the obvious? Should I wait until after the baby is born, or get out now?

BAFFLED

DEAR BAFFLED: Yes, you are as stupid as you think you are, if you think this man is sincere. Are you ignoring the obvious? Not any more; I think you are catching on.

Don't wait until the baby is born. Get out now. And stay away from married men. They make lousy husbands.

DEAR ABBY: A reader named Barbara who married a man named Gene McGraw asks, "Just who is Mrs. Gene McGraw?" (She says, "I am not a bisexual, nor do I have two heads.") Then she signs herself, "Mrs. Barbara McGraw."

The name "Mrs. Barbara McGraw" means she married someone named "Barbara."

The title "Ms." is available for women who prefer using their own first names; she could call herself "Ms. Barbara McGraw," or she could skip any title completely.

Whatever she decides, the one thing she isn't is "Mrs. Barbara McGraw"—unless she's planning a divorce. Archaic, maybe, but still true.

DEAR DRAWING: The entire "bit of nonsense" is as follows:

A B C D goldfish?

Which is short for:
Abie, see the goldfish?
Hell, them are no goldfish.
Oh, yes, they are.
See them?

Watson's elementary hands usually are based on overbidding. They also contain some point of play. The point in today's hand is well-known to experts but not so well-known to others.

Thus you, as South, find yourself in four spades with a doubtful trump holding of four opposite three.

West starts with three rounds of hearts. If you ruff that third heart, you are doomed to defeat. Watson suggests you use the old proverb "Look before you leap." An immediate ruff can do you no good and will cost you game if trumps don't break 3-3.

Why does it do you no good? Because you have only 10 tricks, come what may. The diamond suit will provide only two club discards.

Now you should see the winning play. You have a sure club loser. Discard it here and now.

The defense is helpless. A fourth heart lead is ruffed in dummy. Now you have 10 additional winners with only nine cards left in the hands, but 10 tricks are all you need and all you could ever make.

One of the hardest spots to firm and tone is the lower half of the abdomen. This excercise — the pelvic tilt — can help. Lie on your back, knees bent and feet on the floor, with your hands at your side. Tuck in your stomach, and raise your pelvis toward your chin. Hold for a count of 5, then relax. Repeat 5 times, then work up to 20 times.

The WEEDERS GUIDE

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

The lily plant you receive for Easter will last longer if you give it a cool location, plenty of bright light and adequate — but not too much — water.

Good drainage also is important, so when the lily arrives in a foil-wrapped pot, stick a finger through the foil at the base of the pot so that the drainage hole is not obstructed. Then place the pot in a bowl of water to soak for a few hours, remove it from the water, drain it. Don't water it again until the top of the soil feels dry.

You can keep the flowers blooming longer by keeping the potted plant in a cool bright spot, but not in direct sunlight.

After the lily has finished flowering and the stems start to yellow, gradually reduce watering and store the plant in a cool, dark place until frost danger ends. Then sink the plant in the garden, covering the pot with soil, (or without the pot) and water as needed. The lily may not bloom again this summer, but it should flower next year. Don't try to force it again.

Not so long ago Easter meant a white lily. But researchers have been working on pink, yellow and peach colored varieties.

Lilies were grown by early civilizations long before they were associated with the Easter holiday. Perhaps the first recorded mention of lilies dates back about 4,000 years, and most likely referred to the white garden lily we know as the Madonna lily. Lilies decorated remains found in the ancient cities of Crete, Greece and Mesopotamia. In Egypt a Madonna lily bulb was found in a mummy case.

The Madonna lily was eaten for food by the Chinese and it was used in a medicinal salve. It has become an Easter symbol because of its Biblical associations with purity and the Virgin.

Better than the Madonna lily as a potted plant is the long-flowered Lilium longiflorum, believed to have originated in Japan. There it was mentioned in 17th-century writings. Before World War II, most Easter lilies for commercial forcing were grown in Japan, but now our Pacific Northwest is a major producer.

For a change of pace many other plants are available for Easter, including amaryllis, azalea, begonia, calceolaria, chrysanthemum, gardenia, gloxinia, hydrangea and flowering spring bulbs.

The calceolaria, or pocket-book plant, has pouch-like flowers in yellow and reds covered with small spots. These should be kept cool. Calceolarias are annuals, and once flowering ends will not bloom again satisfactorily.

Cinerarias produce big leaves and mounds of daisy-like flowers in pink, purple, blue or white. They need a bright window, plenty of water and a cool place. They, too, are annuals, and should be discarded after blooming.

The fragrant, waxy white gardenia makes an attractive indoor plant. But it isn't an easy one to handle. Good light, cool (55-62) temperatures and daily misting to provide humidity can ease the common problem of bud drop stemming from a change in growing conditions. It wants full sun in a south window, and acid soil. In summer, put it outdoors in a lightly shaded, protected spot.

If you received a corsage for Easter, it may be reused for wearing, used in a basic arrangement of foliage, or floated in a shallow bowl of water.

Remove ribbons and submerge the flowers in very cold water for 20 minutes (except orchids, which will spot). Then gently shake off water, wrap flowers in foil or wax paper, seal the edges and place the flowers in the refrigerator — not the freezer — until ready to use again.

The Scurry County chapter of the American Diabetes Association will sponsor its annual bike-a-thon from 2-5 p.m. April 29 at County Road 2763 and Round Top Road.

Participants will be competiting for a host of prizes. On the local level, the Snyder Lions Club will present a 10-speed bicycle to the person raising the most funds.

Several other prizes will also be given locally including a $50 gift certificate.

The top money gatherer in the state will receive a vacation for two to Disneyland.

Entry forms may be picked up only at the following locations: stores around the square, Snyder National Bank and Lota Burger.

Natural mother wins daughter away from her foster parents

HOUSTON (AP) — A woman who says she had a choice of giving up her very ill newborn daughter for adoption or letting the child be transferred to a charity hospital has won the right to take the 2½-year-old girl back from her foster parents.

Jurors awarded Eileen Cochrane to her natural mother, computer programmer Patty Cochrane on Wednesday, finding that the Homes of St. Mark used duress and undue influence in persuading the mother to let foster parents care for the baby. The child is to go home with her mother for the first time Friday.

Ms. Cochrane said officials of the adoption agency pressured her to give up Eileen because the child's medical bills exceeded $10,000.

Eileen was born Nov. 24, 1981, with incomplete lungs and intestines and is deaf. Ms. Cochrane signed legal papers allowing her to be put up for adoption about a week later.

But the child's condition improved in about a month.

"A little before Christmas, I was told she was going to make it," Ms. Cochrane said. "I realized I couldn't leave my baby, that I really could make it and there was no reason for me to not raise her."

But, she said, the adoption agency refused to let her reverse her decision and the child was turned over to Jim and Peggy Fore, who have raised the baby since.

"That just blew me away, because (they had) told me (they) could just rip up those papers" if she changed her mind, Ms. Cochrane said.

"Girls in this situation should have a legal time period when they can change their minds," Ms. Cochrane said. "We have a 30-day period to return a refrigerator, but we don't have even a minute to change our minds about where our children will be spending their lives."

An attorney for the adoption agency, Don Royall, said he doubts Ms. Cochrane was ever threatened, certainly not by the agency's executive director, Joann Caldwell.

"I've known her for 20 years and it's not within her capacity as a human being to do that," Royall said.

Ms. Cochrane said she was told the Homes of St. Mark "needed a guarantee of who would pay her (Eileen's) hospital bills."

"I signed because they told me that if I didn't, they would have to move her to a charity hospital," Ms. Cochrane said. "But I was with her every minute in intensive care because she needed someone to be with her."

The Fores filed suit in September under a new state law allowing foster parents to sue for parental rights.

Fore said he and his wife are crushed by the decision.

"Two years ago, Missy was placed in our home for temporary care," he said.

Much of Texas is 'gone with wind'

HOUSTON (AP) — A dry spell and spring winds have created a "scary situation" by damaging topsoil on more than 1.6 million acres of Texas farmland, according to a soils specialist.

Dr. B.L. Harris, with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, says relief is still a long way off because there are six weeks left in the state's "blow season," which lasts from March through May.

He said 1.3 million acres of cropland were damaged through the end of March and 52,800 acres of crops destroyed. Another 300,000 to 500,000 acres were damaged, he said, by the middle of April.

"This year is very much like last in that we are going into it very dry, but it may be a little worse because of the lower crop production last year," said Harris. Sparse crops left less plant residue in the fields to protect the soil from the wind, he said.

The major problems are in the southern half of the High Plains, south of Lubbock, and in the southern Rolling Plains, an area from San Angelo to the Red River. The dust is whipped from fields in these areas, said Harris, because the land is used to grow row crops such as cotton and grain sorghum.

Harris said wheat fields are not blowing now because the maturing wheat crops protect the soil. Corn, he said, is generally irrigated and creates few soil erosion problems.

Jane's says Soviets test 'monster'

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet navy is testing the "Caspian Monster," a Buck Rogers-style surface skimmer designed to whisk assault battalions on their way to surprise attacks, a Jane's yearbook reported today.

Also being developed by the Soviets are hovercraft warships to build a high-speed fleet by the year 2000, said Jane's, which publishes authoritative source books on military systems.

Ray McLeavy, editor of Jane's Surface Skimmers, said the U.S. Navy is moving toward its own version of the "Monster," which cruises over water at heights of between 11 to 46 feet.

Reagan leaving Capital on first leg of journey

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan begins the first leg of his 11,000-mile journey to China today with a stop at a Washington state timber conglomerate that is helping the Chinese replant their depleted forests.

Reagan planned to visit a log export facility operated by the Weyerhaeuser Co. at Tacoma, Wash., and to address trade industry representatives at the Weyerhaeuser headquarters.

The White House said the president was visiting Weyerhaeuser because it exports wood products to China and is helping China with a reforestation project.

Reagan will not actually arrive in China until a week from today.

Mutual funds hold about 10 percent of all Individual Retirement Account and Keogh Plan deposits. Those tend to have aggressive, growth-oriented investment strategies. Most of the new deposits have gone to money-market funds, with the least going to the more conservative bond and income-related funds.

Prosecutors likened to sharks by defense

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Undercover government agents mercilessly stalked John Z. De Lorean like sharks "in a feeding frenzy" when they've "smelled blood," the automaker's lawyer told jurors in his drug-trafficking trial.

"This case is a sick case. It is a tragedy and a travesty of justice," attorney Howard Weitzman said Wednesday of the government sting operation that brought the silver-haired De Lorean to trial on charges of conspiring to distribute $24 million worth of cocaine.

The prosecutor, however, promised to prove that DeiLorean was desperate enough to plan cocaine and heroin deals as his dream of building a gull-winged sports car in Northern Ireland turned into a financial disaster.

"This case is about money, drugs, pride and ego," said Assistant U.S. Attorney James Walsh. "It is about a man whose desire to succeed led him into the dirty world of narcotics and to this courtroom and the end of his dream."

Weitzman made his opening statements in a packed courtroom, 18 months after his client's arrest at a Los Angeles airport hotel created international headlines.

He told jurors to scrutinize videotapes of the arrest skeptically, suggesting the scene was choreographed by government agents who were "trying to make John De Lorean look guilty."

Weitzman, arguing that De Lorean was the innocent victim of a frame-up, accused agents of inventing the case because they were hungry for a major celebrity arrest to enhance their careers.

"They were in a feeding frenzy," he said. "There was no stopping these people. They smelled blood. This was the big guy."

He repeatedly referred to the agents as "these sharks."

Walsh, illustrating his opening statement with elaborate charts and enlarged photographs, depicted De Lorean as a dreamer of big dreams, whose thirst for success after resigning as a General Motors Corp. executive lured him into "the grimy underworld of narcotics."

"This case is a story of a man with a dream, John De Lorean, and how he turned that dream into a nightmare composed of failure, drugs and disgrace," Walsh told the six-man, six-woman jury.

With secret surveillance tapes as the prosecution's key evidence, Walsh drew on show business terminology to reach his audience.

He said the tapes would provide a "candid camera" view of "John De Lorean caught in the act of being himself." But he warned jurors that the quality of the tapes might be poor.

"This is not 'Wednesday Night at the Movies,'" he told them.

Motorcycle device taken

A Slaton man reported the theft of radio-related equipment Wednesday which he said was removed from a 1982 Suzuki motorcycle parked at the Santa Fe depot here.

Reporting the incident was Dennis Meurer. He described the item missing as a "Vetter windjammer" which was built into the motorcycle's AMFM cassette stereo system.

The item was said taken sometime between 9 a.m. Tuesday and 1 p.m. Wednesday.

Cuts treated after wreck

The driver of a 1976 Chevrolet pickup was treated for cuts to his arm Wednesday after a 7:49 a.m. accident at the intersection of 33rd St. and Ave. C.

Treated at Cogdell Memorial Hospital was Gary Wayne Waller, 201 35th St. The front of his vehicle was in collision with a backhoe trailer being pulled by Larry Joe Thompson of Thompson Ditching Service. Thompson was driving a 1981 Ford truck.

Two other mishaps were investigated by Snyder police Wednesday, neither involving injuries of heavy damage.

At 5:32 p.m., a minor collision was noted in the 300 Block of Easy Highway.

A parked 1979 Mercury owned by J.V. Smith of Hermleigh was struck by a 1979 Chevrolet pickup driven by Rebecca Garrison Smith, 3724 Ave. U.

At 5:53 p.m., a second minor wreck was reported in the 1400 Block of 17th St. It involved a 1979 AMC driven by Graciela H. Gutierrez, 1303 18th St., and a 1973 Pontiac driven by Manuel Alderete of 502 College Ave.

Morale high, but no end to conflict seen

LONDON (AP) — With the dignity and aplomb that so often carries Britons through tough spots, citizens caught up in the Libyan shooting drama say their morale is good despite the death of a spunky policewoman and resulting sieges in Tripoli and London.

"We have plenty of food, everything is perfectly normal, we are happy, the dog is happy, the sun is shining," said Julia Miles, the upper-crust wife of Britain's ambassador in Libya who spent 24 hours besieged in her Tripoli home while her husband and 24 other Britons were trapped in the embassy.

"We have water and electricity. We are carrying on as normal," Mrs. Miles told The Associated Press in Rome by telephone.

"Everyone's in good spirits here," agreed Terry O'Connell, a diplomat at the British Embassy in Libya. "Morale has always been good here, ever since the incident started."

The incident started Tuesday when a gunman in the Libyan Embassy in London sprayed submachine gun fire on a group of peaceful anti Libyan dissidents protesting outside, killing a British policewoman and injuring 11 protesters.

Yvonne Fletcher, 25, was shown on British television crumpling to the pavement with a fatal bullet wound.

Her mother, Queenie Fletcher, appeared with quiet dignity before reporters and television cameras at Scotland Yard a few hours later. In a voice that sometimes quavered, but with no tears, she spoke of her daughter's ambition.

"All I know is that she wanted to be a policewoman from the time she was three years old. She never wanted to do anything else," said Mrs. Fletcher, 51.

"She said if anything happened to her, we should remember it was her life," the mother said.

Immediately after the shooting, the Libyan Embassy was ringed with police who prevented those inside from leaving. The British Embassy in Tripoli and homes of diplomats there then were put under a similar siege.

In Tripoli today, the homes and embassy remained under guard, but those inside were permitted to move freely.

In London, however, there was no end in sight to the seige in the historic St. James's Square. The Times of London quoted unidentified Libyan sources as saying Libyan leader Col. Moammar Khadafy ordered his countrymen inside the embassy to wait out the British police "even if it takes a year."

Police, as well, seemed ready to settle in for long negotiations. Throughout the night and early today, vans carried in supplies to officers stationed in a building three doors from the embassy. Heaters, fans and even hatstands were delivered.

Leon Trotsky was expelled from the Soviet Communist party in 1927, and Joseph Stalin became Russia's undisputed ruler.

Franklin regional medalist...

Lady Tiger golfers qualify for state tourney

By BILL McCLELLAN
SDN Sports Editor

BROWNWOOD — Snyder's Lady Tigers finished one-stroke out of first place at the Region I-AAAA golf tournament here Wednesday.

It was good enough, however, to earn a trip to Austin.

Snyder had an eight stroke lead going into Wednesday's 18 holes, but Belton shot a tournament low 370 to nip the Tigers, 752 to 753. The second place finish was a solid one as the Tigers came in 30 strokes in front of third place Andrews, which shot a 783.

Snyder had turned in a 374 Tuesday. They shot a 379 over the final 18.

"We were a little down, loseing by one stroke, but when you get to thinking about it, we are happy just to be going to state," said Snyder coach Jan Kruse. "We've got two weeks to get ready. We've got a lot to look forward to."

Coach Kruse said the Tigers are capable of playing better, but she was not unhappy with their effort. "Belton really didn't play as good as they can Tuesday and we didn't play as well as we can Wednesday. Their top girl (Susan Teas) shot a 90 the first day and that's the first time she shot that high all year," added the coach.

Teas came back with an 82 Wednesday but it wasn't enough to pass Snyder's Lisa Franklin who put together back to back 79's. Her total 158 earned her the Regional Medalist Crown.

A senior, Franklin has won medalist in every tournament she has entered this season.

"Lisa put a lot of pressure on her self to take up some slack, and she did. Except for two bad holes each day, she played excellent golf," said Kruse.

While Franklin shot a 158, the Tigers got a 198 from sophomore Xalyn Harris, a 200 from Senior Susan Hamlett, and 202 and a 204 from freshmen Rebekah Powell and Leslie Light respectively.

"We're estatic about going to state, especially considering we are a really young team and I think it says something about our district when Snyder and Andrews finish 2nd and 3rd in the regional tournament." Kruse added.

The State Tournament will be held May 3-4 at Jimmy Clay Municipal Course in Austin.

Lady Tiger runners in finals

BROWNWOOD — Snyder's girls qualified in three of the four events they entered Wednesday and were hopeing for a good showing at today's finals of the Region I-AAAA Track and Field Meet.

The Lady Tigers qualified in the 800 and 1600 relays, and the 200 meters. Finals in these events are scheduled for this afternoon. In addition, Karlene thompson was to complete in this morning's triple jump and long jump.

Wednesday was a tough day for the talented sophomore, who was scheduled to run three events in 45 minutes. She aided Snyder to a best ever 1:45.68 in the 800 meter relay. Unfourtuantly, the brief rest she got before the next event - the 400 meters - wasn't enough, and she failed to qualify.

Later, she ran the final leg on Snyder's 1600 relay which qualified for the finals with an unspectacular 4:11.08. Snyder had run a 4:06 two weeks ago.

"I thought Karlene would make it (in the 400) but she really only had a couple of minutes rest," said coach Patty Grimmett. "She ran a 64 in the 400 and on her leg of the 1600. She can run a 59. I'm sorry she didn't qualify in the 400, but maybe now she'll have more rest in the finals."

The situation was similar with Anderina Kitchens, who ran the lead off on the 800 relay, watched Thompson in the 400, then ran a 200 and the first leg of the 1600 relay back to back. She qualified 8th in the 200 with a 26.95.

"Anderina usually runs in the 60's for the quarter (400 meters) and her time in the 1600 relay was a 62. So it's obvious that 200 took something out of her too. Tomorrow (Thursday), the 1600 run will be in-between (the 200 meters and the 1600 relay), so she'll have more rest," said Grimmett.

In addition to Thompson and Kitchens, Katrina Reed qualified on both relays. Donna Anderson is the other runner on the 800 relay, while Dora Hernandez takes the stick in the 1600 relay.

Gouty arthritis

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — About once or twice a year I have a painful gout condition in one of my big toes. After only three Indocin capsules, one per meal, it clears up. A bothersome arthritis condition in my right elbow is also relieved.

Can you explain why? And why not take Indocin occasionally to also relieve my arthritis?

DEAR READER — It's good you only have attacks of gout once or twice a year, although it would be better to prevent them entirely.

Perhaps the arthritis in your elbow is gouty arthritis. If this is the case, or if your uric acid level is persistently high, you'd be better off on a program that lowered your uric acid level enough to help prevent the acute attacks and the development of gouty arthritis.

People generally think of gout as causing a red big toe. But any joint may be attacked by the steady deposit of uric acid salts (urate) that causes joint deformity and arthritis. This complication of gout can usually be prevented with proper control.

Indocin and Colchicine are often used to relieve acute gout pain. Indocin is an anti-inflammatory medicine and is indeed used to relieve painful arthritis. It has a number of other applications to control pain from inflammatory conditions.

I'm sending you the Health Letter 16-10, Gout, the Uric Acid Disease. After reading it you'll understand why you need to control your gout and what can be done. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — A year ago my 19-year-old son, who had never been sick a day in his life, suffered spontaneous pneumothorax while watching TV. Prior to this he had been very active in track and was training to run cross-country.

About six weeks before his lung collapsed he carried 50 pounds of feed on his back for two miles. He believes this is what caused the lung collapse. But his doctors told him the cause was uncertain. Apparently he was born with a weak spot on his lung that ballooned and finally burst.

Four months ago he threw a heavy log and had another lung collapse. Now he insists that if he had never carried that 50 pounds of feed his medical condition would never have occurred.

What do you think?

DEAR READER — Regardless of the precipitating cause, the basic problem is from an anatomical defect in the lungs. The usual case is of a blister-like bleb on the surface of the lung. When the blister bursts, the air escapes through the hole in the surface of the lung and it collapses like a flat tire.

Those blister-like weak spots are something people may be born with. The 50 pounds of feed did not cause the blister, especially since the collapse occurred when he was quiet, watching TV.

If he has persistent episodes he may need to have an area in his lungs removed or the lung surgically plastered to the walls of his chest.

Ford calls act unconstitutional

HOUSTON (AP) — A law which requires congressional approval to keep U.S. troops in combat more than 90 days is unconstitutional and a danger to the nation, former President Gerald Ford says.

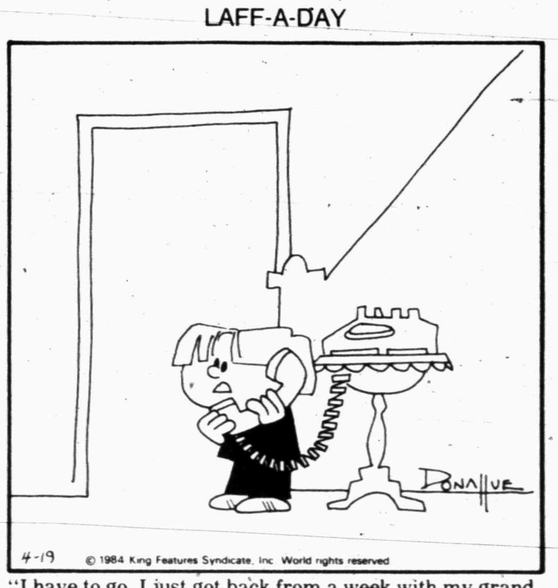

Ford, who spoke Wednesday at the University of Houston's law school, called for repeal of the War Powers Act on the grounds it gives the legislative branch of government the equivalent of veto power over the executive branch.

"The act is harmful and detrimental to our national security because it enables an enemy power to know what a U.S. president can or can't do" and plan its strategy accordingly, Ford said.

The law passed Congress in 1973 in the wake of the Vietnam War.

Secretary of State George Shultz recently called for a review of the act, saying it makes a sensible U.S. policy in Lebanon impossible. Some congressional critics have questioned whether President Reagan has violated the act by sending military advisers to Central America.

Bomb wrecks officer's club

WASHINGTON (AP) — An explosion triggered by a bomb placed under a sofa wrecked the officers club at the Washington Navy Yard early today. A group backing Salvadoran leftist guerrillas claimed responsibility and said it was protesting a massive U.S. military exercise beginning today in the Caribbean.

There were no injuries in the blast, which occurred three hours after closing time.

New cabinet considered

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — President Amin Gemayel returned from Syria today with plans to form a new Cabinet quickly to steer Lebanon out of civil war, sources said. Rival militiamen shook hands and withdrew from the capital's center as truce observers moved in.

Gouty arthritis

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — About once or twice a year I have a painful gout condition in one of my big toes. After only three Indocin capsules, one per meal, it clears up. A bothersome arthritis condition in my right elbow is also relieved.

Can you explain why? And why not take Indocin occasionally to also relieve my arthritis?

DEAR READER — It's good you only have attacks of gout once or twice a year, although it would be better to prevent them entirely.

Perhaps the arthritis in your elbow is gouty arthritis. If this is the case, or if your uric acid level is persistently high, you'd be better off on a program that lowered your uric acid level enough to help prevent the acute attacks and the development of gouty arthritis.

People generally think of gout as causing a red big toe. But any joint may be attacked by the steady deposit of uric acid salts (urate) that causes joint deformity and arthritis. This complication of gout can usually be prevented with proper control.

Indocin and Colchicine are often used to relieve acute gout pain. Indocin is an anti-inflammatory medicine and is indeed used to relieve painful arthritis. It has a number of other applications to control pain from inflammatory conditions.

I'm sending you the Health Letter 16-10, Gout, the Uric Acid Disease. After reading it you'll understand why you need to control your gout and what can be done. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.
