Senate-Passed Flexible Plan In For Dispute

Joint Committee Will Try To Iron Out Disagreements

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13—Senate approval of a flexible system for supporting farm prices ended one long argument today but started another—on whether the House will go along.

After weeks of debate, a coalition of Senate Democrats and Republicans yesterday pushed through on a voice vote the farm support bill sponsored by Senator Anderson (D-NM), former secretary of agriculture.

TO SEEK COMPROMISE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP)—The House today refused to accept the Senate's bill to set up a flexible system for farm price supports. It stood by its own measure continuing the present program of 90 per cent of parity props for major crops. However, the House agreed to negotiate with the Senate on a compromise, through a House-Senate conference committee.

They substituted it for the one-year continuance of wartime-level price supports voted by the House in mid-July. Leaders of the coalition said they are confident the House will accept the Senate version eventually.

Senate Revises Formula

Farm-minded House members talked equally optimistically about forcing senators to take their one-year extension of existing price props at least for 1950 — a year when all 435 House members and more than one-third of the senators must face the farmers and others voters.

QUOTAS PROPOSED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP)—The Agriculture department today proposed rigid marketing quotas designed to cut 1950 cotton production at least 20 per cent below this year's crop.

Both the Senate and House bills peg their proposed price supports to percentages of parity. Parity is a price for a farm product deemed to be fair to the farmer in relation to the cost of things he has to buy.

However, the Senate bill would revise the parity formula to take into account the cost of hired hands.

Under the Senate bill, the government would support major crops in 1950 at 90 per cent of parity, but only if they were under production or marketing controls. After 1950, support levels could range down to 75 per cent.

Under the House bill, support would continue through 1950 at the 90 per cent of parity levels that were in effect during the war.

House leaders planned to send the dispute to a conference com-

AEC Report Hit By Solons

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13. (AP)—A congressional report absolving the Atomic Energy commission of "incredible mismanagement" charges set critical Republicans at work today on a dissenting document.

The report clearing Chairman David E. Lilienthal and the other AEC members of the charges was approved by the Senate-House atomic committee late yesterday. The vote was 9 to 6 on straight party lines—Democrats for, Republicans against.

Report Is Scored

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), who made the mismanagement accusation, promptly labelled the majority report a "cleverly written whitewash" of the committee's investigation last summer. He promised a minority version "highlighting the proof" of his charges.

Hickenlooper thus applied the same general criticism to the majority's final product that he did to a preliminary draft circulated to the committee two weeks ago.

As a matter of fact, Senator McMahon (D-Conn), the committee chairman, said only minor changes were made in the first draft. He said the substance of the docu-

Dallas Judge Means Business---Promises Lubbock County Job Will Be No Picnic

Prisoners Will Pick Idalou Cotton Crop

(By The United Press)

DALLAS, Oct. 13 — City Judge Joe M. Hill added a new wrinkle to the Texas labor supply situation today.

Hill, a genial man with horn-rimmed glasses, met two farmers from Idalou, a little town in West Texas near Lubbock, today. They had a sad story to tell.

With fields of cotton ready to be harvested, there were no pickers, the farmers lamented. The judge told them to stick around and maybe he could do something about it.

Faced with a docket filled with 20 drunks, hangers-on, reckless drivers, the judge solved the farmers' cotton picking problem quickly.

"Do all of you plead guilty?" he asked.

Heads nodded here and there among the prisoners at the bar.

"All right," said the judge, "I'll fine each of you $100, but I'll suspend the sentence if you'll go to West Texas and pick cotton.

The prisoners agreed, and the judge, as an afterthought, perhaps, added, "but you will

Chungking New China Capital As Reds Trap 80,000 Troops

(By The Associated Press)

HONG KONG, Oct. 13—Chinese Communist commanders today snapped a huge trap around 80,000 Nationalists in the Canton area.

Hope for Canton was gone. Like other major Nationalist cities, the refugee capital appeared ready to be plucked by the Reds with hardly more than token resistance. Martial law was clamped on to prevent rioting and looting.

Chungking Is Capital

Grim, dingy Chungking, 600 miles northwest, was officially proclaimed the new capital, effective Saturday. All important government officials still in Canton, including Premier Yen Shi-Shan, planned to leave by plane during the day.

Direct word from the city described the population of nearly a million as tense and expecting the Reds in three to 10 days.

To the last, Nationalist leaders insisted they would fight for Canton. Government planes were reported to have flown more than 200 bombing missions against Reds in the Pakong area yesterday.

Even so, it was no longer certain government forces would be able to escape by sea to the safety of Formosa and Hainan islands. With the Pearl river at their back, they lacked shipping to evacuate the four armies designated to guard the dying capital.

Others Are Due

And according to information from Canton, an estimated 40,000 more Nationalists were due there from abandoned Swatow and Amoy on the South China coast. Sixteen ships evacuated the troops yesterday.

Communist General Chen Cheng raced to cut off the Canton garrison's overland escape routes east and west of Canton. Red troops at Tsungfa had only 35 miles between them and the South China metropolis.

Bypassing Tsingyun, 45 miles northwest of Canton, another Red column closed in on the western corridor to Kwangsi province. This narrowed Nationalist chances of joining with the main government forces under Gen. Pai Chung-

It was cool and clear over most of Texas today.

Only along the coast and up the Rio Grande as far as Laredo was it cloudy or partly cloudy.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 35 at Ozona to 73 at Bryan. Other readings were Junction 38, Amarillo 41, Dalhart 40 and San Antonio 51.

Overnight showers fell at San Antonio, Galveston and Laredo.

Yesterday's maximum temperatures ranged from 66 at Guadalupe Pass to 87 at Brownsville.

The forecast for East Texas tonight and tomorow calls for partly cloudy skies with scattered showers in the extreme south. Partly cloudy and cooler was forecast for West Texas.

Wounded Suspect Captured By Police

Gunmen Kill Two Men, Hurt Four In Poker Game Holdup

(By The Associated Press)

MUNICE, Ind., Oct. 13.—Two men were slain and five others were wounded, one seriously, early today when two gunmen attempted to hold up a poker game in a downtown cigar store.

The gunmen fled after firing more than a score of shots at the 10 men who, Police Chief Harry Nelson said, were playing cards in the rear of the store. Later one of the gunmen, wounded in the hail of bullets, was captured and removed to a hospital. Nelson said he orally admitted his part in the shooting. No charge was placed against him immediately.

Nelson identified the dead men as Theodore Raines, 43, a Munice restaurant owner, and Dewey Wills, 54, an unemployed laborer.

Raines was shot through the heart and fell dead beneath one of the three card tables in the rear of the "New Deal" cigar store. Wills, hit several times about the abdomen, stagged to the front of the store and fell fatally wounded.

Nelson identified the cap-

UTAH SENATOR DELAYS BILL

Vote On Canadian Dam Plans Blocked

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13—Rep. Worley (D-Tex) said last night that further action in this Congress on the $85,000,000 Canadian river development in Texas has been blocked by Senator Watkins (R-Utah).

Worley has just returned from an inspection of European foot and mouth disease research centers.

Worley said Watkins objects to any Senate hearing this year on the Canadian river project. Watkins is a member of the Senate interior committee, which handles such legislation.

The Texas congressman said Watkins' lone objection could block passage of the legislation.

No Opposition Voiced

"Although it would have been all right with other senators to report the Canadian bill on the floor for a final vote, accepting the date developed by the House, the Utah senator said he felt there should be a regular meeting of the committee," Worley said.

"The senator said he was not expressing opposition to our project as such, and may even support it."

As for the reports published frequently in various Texas newspapers during his absence that he may give up his House seat to accept a federal job, Worley said.

Not Offered Post

"There is nothing to such reports. I have not been offered any position. There were such rumors time and again, and over a long period of years about my predecessor in Congress before he was appointed to a federal judgeship."

Worley came to Congress when

Value Of Atom Bomb Doubted

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13. (AP)—Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz advised Congress today that America's battle plans must assume "we will be less ready for war at its outbreak" than Russia.

Nimitz did not mention Russia by name in a statement sent to the House armed services committee. But there was no mistaking what nation he had in mind in speaking of "our probable opponent" in event of war.

A-Bomb Questioned

He questioned the effectiveness of the atom bomb and urged that it "not be considered as our main weapon of offense."

Just before Nimitz' statement was read, Adm. R. A. Spruance, retired head of the naval war college, had frankly spoken of Russia and warned that a war with the Soviets could not be won quickly, easily or by the A-bomb alone.

Air Force To Reply

The views of the two admirals were received as the navy was winding up its case against present military policy that places heavy emphasis on the air force high-flying bomber, the B-36, designed to deliver the A-bomb.

The committee agreed to hear all rival defense ideas to the navy's next week.

The air force will then get in its reply. Secretary of Defense Johnson also will testify then.

World Series Death Lure Is Police Theory

Dalhart Girl Says Suspect Kidnaped Her Near Dumas

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, Oct. 13.—Texas and New Mexico officers searched today for a man they believe lured a friend on a World Series trip and killed him, leaving the body alongside an Illinois road.

Alfred E. Clark, 23, of Boise City, Okla., was found dead yesterday beside a country road three and a half miles south of Jerseyville, Ill.

He had been shot through the head and robbed.

It was learned in Clayton, N. M., where Clark worked in a restaurant, that the suspect told him he had World Series tickets and would share them and pay the expenses, if Clark would drive his new car. Clark agreed and they left Oct. 3.

Body Discovered

Officers began looking for Clark last Saturday after a Dalhart, Texas, girl reported the suspect had kidnaped her and pistol-whipped and robbed her date. The girl said papers in the car driven by the man identified it as Clark's.

The girl said she had known the suspect in Clayton and in Montana.

George French, a farmer, discovered Clark's body yesterday, nearly running into it was a plow. Coroner Rodney Jacoby estimated Clark had been dead about a week.

Clark had mailed postcards to his parents as late as a week ago.

Austin Socialite Is Held For Burglary

AUSTIN, Oct. 13. (U.P.)—Police today charged Mrs. Iris Bullard, 29-year-old socially prominent president of the Austin chapter of the Federated Business and Professional Womens clubs, with burglary.

The attractive club woman was freed under $1,000 bond following her arrest by Detectives Merle Wells and T. S. Weaver.

She was taken into custody last night as she attempted to leave the offices of a commercial medical laboratory where she was formerly employed as a technician.

Wells said $25 was missing from an office safe.

Detectives, working on a tip from the laboratory owner, hid last night in the offices of the company.

Wells said that about 8:15 a woman, using an office key, entered, turned on the lights, went to a wall safe and quickly opened it.

Mrs. Bullard was arrested as she started to leave the office.

Shirley Temple To File Suit For Divorce From John Agar

(By The United Press)

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 13.—Actress Shirley Temple will file suit late today to divorce actor John Agar whom she married at one of the film colony's most lavish wedding ceremonies four years ago, it was learned.

Attorney George Stahlman said the grounds probably would be the standard movie colony charge of "mental cruelty."

"She has been holding back for a long time trying to make up her mind whether to take this important step," Stahlman said. "It has been coming for some time.

"Shirley has tried hard to make things go."

The lawyer said the 21-year-old Miss Temple had been consulting him recently about problems involved in the divorce action.

He said it was planned to file the suit today. If a hitch develops in further conferences, filing will be "very soon," he said.

Live Bombs On Plane Explode During Flight

Big Crater Ripped In Earth By Force Of Mighty Blast

(By The United Press)

ISLEHAM, England, Oct. 13—A U. S. air force B-50 bomber carrying six tons of bombs crashed and exploded with a deafening roar in a field near here in heavy fog today. All 12 crewmen aboard the big four-engined plane were killed.

The bomber plunged to earth at 9:25 a. m. (2:25 a. m. CST), only minutes after it had taken off from the U. S. air base at Lakenheath for a practice bombing run across the North sea to Heligoland.

The blast shook the countryside, blew a woman off a bicycle on a nearby country road, and shattered windows and cracked walls of houses.

Was Shooting Sparks

Miss M. Clark, a clerk in the Isleham postoffice, said the tail of the plane was on fire and "shooting sparks" as it passed over the village.

"The pilot appeared to be making an effort to avoid houses," she said. "As soon as it cleared the village, the plane came down in a corn field and blew up with a terrific explosion. It was terrifying."

Her story seemed to spike a theory that fog caused the crash. Visibility was only an eighth of a mile at the time the plane dived into the field a mile southeast of Isleham and about seven miles from Lakenheath base.

Sounded Like War

"It sounded like the war all over again," said Abel Watkins, a farmer who lives six miles away from the crash scene.

The force of the explosion of bombs aboard the plane ripped a huge crater in the earth and sent shafts of flame shooting in all directions. Several nearby haystacks were set afire.

The flames were extinguished by fire engines and police rushed to the scene from neighboring towns in Cambridgeshire. The crash occurred at 9:25 a. m. (3:25 a. m. EST) at a point about 55 miles north of London.

All Aboard Killed

First reports said there were 13 men aboard the plane but an air force spokesman said the crew numbered 12 and that all were killed.

Although the B-50 is a modified bomber of the B-29 type designed especially to carry the atom bomb, the planes based in Britain are understood to have been engaged in live bombing tests with conventional missiles.

Penney's Drug Burglarized

Burglars shoved aside an air-conditioner in a sidewall to effect entry to Penney's Ave. H Drug store at 411 Ave. H, sometime after midnight, and took merchandise valued at $137.65, police investigators were told.

Moore's Bonded patrol discovered the break and telephoned the police at 2 a. m.

Store officials said property taken was: 20 cartons of cigarets, a fountain pen, seven cigaret lighters, a radio, sun glasses, $20 in "change" from a stamp machine, and two billfolds.

Machine Damaged

Approximately $65 in damage was done to the stamp machine, investigators were told.

From 312 Seventeenth, burglars took a pistol, Rex Johnson told police.

He said he and others of his family were away from their residence pulling bolls when the entry was made.

George Smith, who said he had arrived in Lubbock only a brief time before, placed his suitcase under cardboard in an alley and went to a show.

When he came out the suitcase was gone, and with it all the clothing he had in it, Smith told police.

Bonds Are Posted

The sheriff's department said $500 bond had been posted by each of two persons charged Wednesday with liquor law violation.

PERMITS MORE THAN $12 MILLION

Building Volume In City At High Peak

By BILL CLARK
Journal Staff Writer

Lubbock's 1949 building volume has passed the $12,000,000 mark and chances now appear excellent for the city to equal or exceed its record-breaking 1948 building total of $15,000,000.

A $660,000 building permit issued this morning to Texas Technological college, owner, and W. G. McMillan, contractor, for addition of two wings to the administration building at the college swelled the city's building volume to $12,238,305.

That total includes ~~an~~ permit for $2,511,000 for Modern Manors apartment project, not yet issued but undoubtedly to be issued as soon as that area is brought into the city limits, certainly before the year is out.

1,201 Dwellings Started

Lloyd Ross, city building inspector, announced that 1,201 dwelling units have been started in Lubbock so far this year. That figure includes the 293 units in Modern Manors.

October building permit volume today stood at $1,125,500, making this month the fourth in 1949 in which the city's building volume has exceeded $1,000,000.

Totals by months are as follows: January, $328,209; February, $833,110; March, $1,112,869; April, $831,012; May, $855,761; June, $1,334,158; July, $720,327; August, $1,110,102; and September, $976,257.

A significant trend in the building picture is the fact that recent months have seen an increasing number of small home permits and fewer homes above the $10,000 class.

Tech Permit Largest

For example, this month 49 permits for new homes under $10,000 in cost have already been issued, the average permit valuation being between $5,000 and $6,000. Only four residential permits above $10,000 have been issued so far this month.

The permit issued to Texas Tech and McMillan is the largest issued this month. It grants permission to the college to construct two three-story wings extending

Miners Turn Down Two-Year Contract

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 13.—Government-prodded negotiations to end the 25-day-old coal strike continued today — despite another blunt refusal from the United Mine workers to renew their contract for two years.

UMW Vice President Thomas Kennedy says the union is willing to "continue in these meetings until we get a contract."

There's no sign of collective bargaining in the strike of 450,000 CIO United Steelworkers.

Federal negotiators also renewed their efforts today to get steelworkers President Philip Murray and industry leaders back at the bargaining table.

Board's Decision backed

Cyrus S. Ching, U. S. conciliation director, headed for New York to talk with officials of Bethlehem steel corporation.

Ching is setting up similar meetings with U. S. Steel corporation and other top steel producers. Then, he hopes to talk to Murray.

The veteran steelworkers' leader shows no inclination to give up his fight for a non-contributory pension and welfare plan. He insists industry follow the exact recommendations of the steel 'fact-finding board and pay 10 cents an hour to finance the entire program.

Pensions are a big issue, too, in the strike of Lewis' 380,000 soft coal diggers. He's set up a pension and welfare fund to provide them but the benefits were cut off last month.

Lewis, acting as a trustee, said some southern operators had discontinued their 20-cent-a-ton roy-

U. S. IS PULLING NO PUNCHES

Acheson Assails Arrests In East Europe As Terroristic

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson's blast against the "Soviet masters" controlling eastern Germany made it plain today that the U. S. is pulling no cold-war punches because of Russia's atomic explosion.

Speaking out for the first time since President Truman made his Sept. 23 announcement of the Russian A-blast, Acheson referred to the newly-created east German state as an "autocratic Communist regime."

At his news conference late yesterday, the secretary also brushed off protests from four eastern Europe Communist governments, and assailed the current wave of arrests in Czechoslovakia as terroristic.

Red State Denounced

Acheson met newsmen after a closed door conference with members of the Senate foreign relations committee which dealt largely with the march of Communism in Asia.

What he had to say publicly about Communist developments in Europe lost none of the acid tone which had marked his comments before the White House atomic announcement gave an urgent new turn to the eastwest struggle.

Denouncing the new east German government as "subservient" and controlled by Moscow-directed Communists, Acheson pledged continued full support from the United States, Britain and France for the west German republic which, he said, "in sharp contrast has a thoroughly constitutional and popular basis."

Peace Talk Meaningless

He noted that in the Soviet zone elections are reported postponed for a year, and declared that "the new government and its Soviet masters are obviously afraid to risk the verdict of the people of the Soviet zone." He added:

"As long as an autocratic Communist regime remains fastened upon the people of eastern Germany and carries out Soviet policies under the protection of a large militarized Communist police force, it would be meaningless to speak of a peace treaty, or an end of the state of war, or the withdrawal of Soviet troops.

Full Support Pledged

"The United States government and the governments associated with it will not in any way be deceived or diverted from their course of action by the events which have taken place at Berlin, and will continue to give full support to the government of the German federal republic at Bonn in its efforts to restore a truly free and democratic Germany."

As for the recent protest by Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Romania against the west's backing for the Bonn government, he said these were made solely to bolster a similar protest by Moscow.

The United States, he declared, "must emphatically reject the attempt by governments which have been foisted upon their own peoples by totalitarian methods to criticize, in the interests of a foreign power rather than of their own people, the actions of those nations which are endeavoring to establish democratic institutions in the greater part of Germany for which they are responsible."

ALL IN A LIFETIME — LIFE'S BIG MOMENT

Joseph Cotten Gets Vacation During European Film Jaunt

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 13.—Want a first-class, prepaid vacation in Europe, staying at the best spas and hotels?

Natch, kid. And it's available to you at no cost and little obligation—provided you're a film star.

Take Joseph Cotten. In the past year or so, he has made three pictures in Europe—in London, Vienna and Italy.

"This is the only way I could afford to take a European trip first-class," Cotten says, with perhaps unwarranted modesty about his money status.

Joseph doesn't cotton (ho ho—joke) to this talk about the rigors of making pictures in ill-nourished, ill-equipped Europe.

"Making pictures on location in Europe is exactly the same as making them on location at Lake Tahoe," he told me. "You undergo what people think are indignities in either place; they always say, 'this couldn't happen in Hollywood'."

Whether at Lake Como or Lake Tahoe, Cotten remarked, there's always a wind machine to make the female star's hair blow.

"Then the sound man says it's making too much noise. So they try a wind tunned affair, but that's too noisy, too. So someone gets the idea of waving a piece of board to make the girl's hair blow. It happens every times."

Cotten didn't even grouse about England, where he spent nine austere months. "You soon find what you put in your stomach is not too important," he remarked.

His only complaint is what English cooks do to food. "How can they live just 20 miles from France, where you find the greatest cooks in the world, and know so little about good cooking?" he wondered.

Cotten has his own solution to England's fuel saving problem and he offers it herewith to Sir Stafford Cripps:

Have the British cook their vegetables one day instead of two.

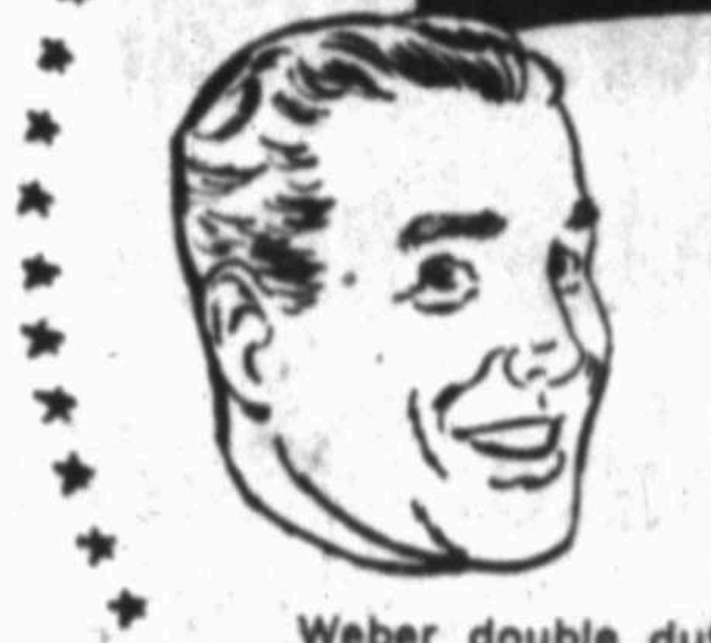

Auto Jack Adapted For Use With Saw

AUSTIN, Oct. 13 (UP)—A bank vice-president who likes to "tinker around" in a woodworking shop found that an idea he used in making a home-made power saw also would keep him in shape for fixing flats.

Eugene Bartholomew built his own table and installed a small electric motor. Then, to permit varying depths of cutting, he mounted the saw on an ordinary auto jack, adjustable in the same way he would use it in fixing flats.

Civil Aeronautics Group To Study "Hard-To-Hear" Words

By ARTHUR EDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 — The traffic cops for this nation's airplanes are going to learn all about bad words.

Not the bad words that are bad because they are naughty—they're going to learn about the words that are bad because they are hard to hear clearly.

The Civil Aeronautics administration (CAA), in announcing this today, says the need for such a study is obvious.

Millions of words are radioed each day from CAA airport traffic control towers to pilots flying throughout this country and over the oceans.

It's extremely important, the CAA said, that these words be easily understood.

So the CAA has decided to go t-wording.

First, it's going to pick out the 1,000 words used most by the control towers.

Then the CAA's psychology branch, headed by Malcolm McCormick, will try to find which of these are the hardest to understand. If they're downright awful, substitutes will be found.

During the war, the CAA pointed out, similar studies were made on words, particularly those which were possible code words.

I thought maybe you'd like to know what words are easy to understand and what aren't, so I checked on some of the wartime tests.

These show that "greyhound" is easy to understand but not "fetter."

"Porcupine" is fine, "sheep" isn't.

"Whippoorwill" but not "goose."

"Woodpecker" but not "thrush."

"Mandolin" but not "tenor."

Scorn the dandelion if you will, but it's a better word than "lotus."

The office wolf raised a howl, but according to the word-study, there's no questioning this:

"Cornell" is good; "Vassar" is bad.

Benelux Seeks Easier Trade

LUXEMBOURG, Oct. 13 (AP)—The three Benelux nations today begin new talks to bring their economic union closer to a common monetary and commercial system.

Prime Ministers Gaston Eyeskens of Belgium, Wilhelm Drees of The Netherlands and Pierre DuPong of Luxembourg head delegations which will meet here to try to cut down on important controls and to reach some degree of convertibility between the franc that Belgium and Luxembourg use and the Dutch guilder.

Farm Imports Limited

The Netherlands now must pay in gold or dollars for imports from Belgium beyond the 1,400,000,000 franc ($28,000,000) credit Belgium granted The Netherlands.

Though customs duties on trade among the three countries have been abolished, Belgium still limits imports to Dutch farm produce. Netherlands government controls, including subsidies, have kept Dutch farm produce prices lower than Belgium's.

In addition to the customs union, the Benelux group has taken preliminary action toward standardization of excise taxes, turnover levies, social securities and salaries, and coordination of investment policies. Observers from each country also now sit in on trade negotiations conducted by the others.

Hot Spell Broken In Eastern States

CHICAGO, Oct. 13 (AP)—The hot spell over most of the eastern states appeared broken today.

After several days of mid-summer temperatures, a mass of cool air from the midwest moved into sections east of the Mississippi river to the North Atlantic coast. Rain fell along the Appalachian mountains and along the New England coast. Showers also were reported in New York City.

The cool air did not reach the South Atlantic states and generally warm weather was reported over the southeastern part of the country.

Leaking Hydrogen Is Blamed In Explosion

HOUSTON, Oct. 13. (AP)—An explosion which injured 10 men at the San Jacinto ordnance depot ammonia works was blamed on a hydrogen leak.

The explosion occurred Monday. A preliminary report yesterday by a board of investigation said hydogen leaked through a line which normally carries caustic solution to a gas scrubbing vessel. The board said it hadn't found what ignited the hydogen.

Mary Haworth's Mail

Mother And Uncle Want To Help Man Who Is Neurotic Because Of Wife's Success

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: At the request of my ailing sister I am asking your sage advice about her son, 23 who married his high school sweetheart two years ago, when both were earning small salaries.

When they married, Jane and Frank agreed that she should continue wage-earning and they would share the housework fifty-fifty. Since then Jane has done extremely well and now earns quite a bit more than my nephew. Unfortunately they haven't been able to accept this new state of affairs in proper perspective.

Frank has lost his self-esteem and confidence to a degree where he now looks up to his wife as a superior person, and as a result he voluntarily does nearly all the housework, saying that this, at least, is a contribution he can make. And despite his obvious loss of confidence, he does this work ungrudgingly and seems eager to please Jane.

THINK SUCCESS HAS TURNED WIFE'S HEAD

UNTIL recently Jane neither encouraged nor discouraged this gradual change. That is, she neither asked more service from her husband nor did she object when he offered it. Now, however, following her latest advance in business, she has become very domineering and demanding. It appears that her success in business has gone to her head and she feels securely perched in the driver's seat.

Jane is as lovely and gracious to her friends, and to his mother and to me (his uncle) as a lady possibly could be; but she in constantly trampling Frank's spirit in the dust. The more she demands and commands, the more humbly and eagerly he responds. And at the slightest reproach from anyone for doing this, she deliberately becomes more bossy and beats him down a bit further. Can yon tell us how to help the lad?

Signed D. C.

MAN HAS CHRONIC ANXIETY NEUROSIS

DEAR D. C.: The implications of of the story are such that I doubt any layman could help Frank much. His lack of self-confidence, his hasty compulsive acceptance of an inferior status in relation to Jane, his stymied incompetence in the field of economic competition, etc., are all crippled psychological attitudes typical of a male who has been systematically subjugated by a mom-mother, who meat well, no doubt, but has damaged him severely.

In order to normalize Frank's behavior, one would first need to understand his personality, by which I mean one would need to know with some accuracy whether he has intelligent adult potentials or whether he would be, at best, a limited fellow. Because to really help him, you've got to aid him to optimum growth and teach him how to be comfortable within the framework that nature gave him. And there's nothing in your letter the sheds light on this.

As for Jane's recent sharpness, I hardly think it is due to her latest business advance, especially if she isn't upstage with anyone else and if her head wasn't turned by earlier success. Rather I believe it means sh ehas become unbearably annoyed with Frank's miserably poor spirit in relation to her, a sorry condition he advertises with increasing emphasis as her income rises.

UNJUST TO SAY WIFE'S AT FAULT

IF JANE were a psychiatric nurse or social worker called in to manage Frank's problem for him, his family might rightfully expect her to be deeply understanding and steadily compassionate in working with his difficulty. But in fairness to her you must remember that she is his wife, and that it is healthy on her part to want her husband to act like a man in relation to her—and not like a guilty housemaid caught loafing—regardless of how their incomes compare.

It doesn't make sense to rate Frank a martyr and Jane his persecutor—as seems to be his mother's tendency. He is a problem to himself, hence has beeome a problem to Jane, who chiefly resents his craven anxiety, I think, which probably handicaps him in business, too. So bear that in mind, and don't take sides in trying to help. Do your best to steer both of them to a good psychologist for the expert guidance their trouble calls for. M. H.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of The Lubbock Evening Journal.

CITY-COUNTY WORKERS BATTLE DISEASE

City Health Department Lab Is Kept Busy As Residents Use Diabetes Test Service

It's a busy time at the city health department laboratory in city hall these days as hundreds of Lubbock county residents are taking advantage of an opportunity to have free tests for diabetes.

City-County Health department workers are taking part this week in the most vital large-scale detective search in history. They are helping hunt one million Americans who, unbeknown to themselves, have diabetes. The detectives are the physicians to whom reports of possible diabetes will be sent.

Gerald Jarvis, director of the City-County Health department, said today a total of 340 persons have submitted urine specimens to the department for the free tests.

Service Is Available

The specimens have come in bottles of every size and description, ranging from catsup and soft drink bottles to cosmetic containers. The laboratory technicians emphasize that the size or shape of the container makes little difference so long as it is clean.

SEARCHING OUT ANOTHER KILLER—The city laboratory in city hall is doing detective work now, and the criminal being sought is diabetes, No. 8 among the nation's disease killers. In the upper photo, bottles of all shapes and sizes are examined by Gerald Jarvis and Miss Oma Myree Johnson as they test the contents for presence of sugar. In the lower picture Mrs. Nettie S. Hess, technician, performs the test-tube ritual that will tell a person whether he has warning signs of diabetes. (Staff Photo).

Jarvis this morning announced that free diabetes tests will now be made available at the city laboratory throughout the year, so that a person may determine at any time whether or not he has an indication of the disease.

"We are making this service available in cooperation with a national drive to fight diabetes not just one week in the year, but every day in the year," he explained.

Technicians making the tests in the city laboratory are Mrs. Nettie S. Hess and Miss Oma Myree Johnson. While the test itself is simple, great care must be used.

Water Is Added

Ten drops of water are added to five drops of urine in a test tube. A pill is dropped into the liquid which, by a change of color, will indicate whether sugar is present.

Presence of sugar does not necessarily mean diabetes, but it is a definite warning signal calling for further examination. All diabetics have sugar in urine.

With hundreds of tests coming in, the technicians must use great care in numbering and checking test tubes.

When a person goes to city hall for a free test, he must fill out a slip giving his name and address, and the name of a doctor to whom the results of the test may be sent. If the test shows sugar, the doctor will be advised and will get in touch with the person.

The slip also contains a place for family history of diabetics, information which will be invaluable to the American Diabetes association in analyzing the spread of diabetes to its present rank of eight among the death-dealing diseases in the United States.

Use Color Chart

The technicians use a color chart in determining the presence of sugar in the urine specimen. After the pill is dropped into the test tube, the liquid should become dark blue. A dark green will indicate a trace of sugar, an olive green will be a positive reaction, reflecting presence of one-half of one per cent of sugar, and so on until a bright orange color indicates a four-plus reaction of two per cent or more of blood in the specimen.

Already this week specimens have been collected from students in New Deal, Cooper, Idalou, Frenship, Shallowater, Posey and Roosevelt schools.

Wednesday a total of 148 specimens were tested and Tuesday's total was 171.

Discovery that one has diabetes, it is emphasized, does not mean an end to good health and well being. Cases discovered before they become serious may be treated, after insulin establishes a normal blood-sugar balance, with diet alone. Untreated or improperly treated diabetes, it is pointed out, results in calcification of the arteries, veins and capillaries, causing complications involving the feet, eyes, kidneys, heart, etc."

All one has to do to get a test is collect a specimen of urine one to two hours after a meal and take it in a container to the city laboratory on the first floor of the city hall. Or he may stop at the laboratory or the John Halsey Drug store, 1118 Broadway, where containers will be supplied for collection of specimens.

Authorities emphasize that every member of every family should take such a test at least once a year.

Weddings

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss LaVelle Horton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Horton of Morton, and Sgt. Raymond Lee Fletcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Fletcher, 1624 Ave. Y, which took place Friday night in the Fletcher home. Rev. Hubert Bratcher, pastor of St. John's Methodist church, performed a double ring ceremony. Fall flowers were used to decorate.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a two piece beige knit dress with a hat of rust brown velvet. She wore rust brown shoes and a corsage of talisman roses.

JUDGES AMONG FAVORITE PEOPLE

Sally Rand Will Appear In Dallas Court Without Fans

By FRED A. McCABE
United Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, Oct. 13.—Fan Dancer Sally Rand, who plans a court appearance here tomorrow minus her fans, assured the public today that judges are among her favorite people.

She also has a genuine fondness for newspapermen.

"You made me," she told a gathering yesterday of the local chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity.

Press Is Credited

The blonde striptease credited the press with her rise from obscurity before the 1933 Century of Progress exposition in Chicago to her present standing as a headliner in show business.

Miss Rand said she will forego her usual lack of costume and wear street clothes, maybe a Christian Dior creation and a Lily Dache hat, for her stint in district court tomorrow.

At the hearing, two Chicago agents will seek half of the proceeds from her current State fair of Texas revue, claiming they signed a contract with the fair to provide all "girlie shows" for the exposition's midway.

Faith In Judges

Miss Rand indicated she will close her production if the court decision is unfavorable to her.

"But as I've said before, I have complete faith in judges," she said.

Speaking to the newsmen yesterday, she mentioned a Chicago judge who ruled on her case 16 years ago when police objected to her strip tease.

"I'll always be grateful to that kind judge," the star commented. "In dismissing my case, he said 'some people would put pants on a horse'."

Believes In Advertising

She recalled a lesson in showmanship from a Hollywood film studio friend during her early dancing days.

"He impressed upon me the advantage of white space in advertising. I, too, believe in white space in advertising," she said.

"I worked for a studio for six months in Hollywood and about all they used me for was leg art. If a little leg art was good, I figured a lot more was better.

"I'm from Hickory county in the Missouri Ozarks where nobody wears shoes. I've been barefoot up to my chin practically ever since I left there."

Health Bulletin

Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of Texas Technological college, will be in Crane today to speak at dedication ceremonies of the city's new high school building. Text of Dr. Wiggins' address has not been released.

Emil D'Acosta, August industrial engineering graduate of Texas Tech, is now working with the Industrial Machinery company of Fort Worth.

Ed Colby, director of Municipal airport, left this morning in his own airplane for Norman, Okla., where he will attend the 1949 conference on Airport Management Operations today, Friday and Saturday. The conference, under joint sponsorship of the University of Oklahoma and Southern Flight magazine, will be held at Max Westheimer field at Norman.

About 100 members of the Lubbock Boys club and 35 guests attended a free movie at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the clubhouse. The movies, which are open to the public, are held weekly through the winter school months. The movie was "Neath Canadian Skies." There were also two cartoons.

Penny's Drug store at 411 Ave. H was burglarized at 12:15 a.m. today with a loss of $35 from a stamp machine, 20 cartons of cigarets, several cigaret lighters and a fountain pen. A driver for Moore's Bonded patrol shook the front door at 12:15 a. m. and heard someone run out the back door. Police said it appeared two men forced a rear door with a crowbar.

A fire in an unoccupied one-room shack in the 2200 block Fifth at 7:45 p. m. Wednesday was the second at that location since Monday night, firemen said. The blaze, which was quickly brought under control, gutted the interior of the shack. Residents of the neighborhood said some children had been seen playing in the structure a short time before both fires.

Man Is Convicted Of Snyder Jail Slaying

SWEETWATER, Oct. 13 (AP)—Henry W. Strickland, 20, of Jackson, Miss., was found guilty last night of murder in a jail killing and given a five-year sentence.

Strickland was accused of beating Robert C. Sperry, 48, to death while they were in the Scurry county jail at Snyder last June 27.

Strickland did not testify.

Before resting, the defense introduced Dr. C. R. Cockrell and Dr. H. E. Rosser of Snyder to testify an autopsy showed Sperry was suffering from a serious heart disease and that a brain hemorrhage alone was not enough to cause death. On cross examination, they admitted a blow on the head could have hastened death.

Earlier Dr. L. R. Hershberger of San Angelo testified an autopsy showed Sperry's death was due to heart trouble and blows on the head. He testified that without the heart disease Sperry would have died of wounds within three days.

Parades Okayed For Rice, Texas A. & M.

HOUSTON, Oct. 13. (AP)—Parades Nov. 11-12 by Rice and Texas A. and M. students were approved yesterday by city councilmen, who figured it wouldn't do any good to disapprove.

Rice freshmen will parade the night of Nov. 11. The Aggies will take over the next day before the schools' football game.

Mayor Oscar Holcombe said: "I'd hate to be on any city council that tried to keep those boys from parading."

New Twist Offered To Persuade Junior

DENVER, Oct. 13. (U.P.)—A child feeding expert at the American Dietetic association convention offers a new twist on getting junior to eat his spinach.

The first obstacle to overcome, Dr. E. Neige Todhunter of the University of Alabama said, is suspicion. He recommended that parents take their child to market, let him pick out the spinach personally, pay for it, and carry it home.

Cigaret Lighter Company Has $50,000,000 Annual Business

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK—In a world of free matches Americans are forking out $50,000,000 annually for gadgets to light their cigarets.

The first world war popularized the wrist watch. And what that war did for the wrist watch the second world war has done for the cigaret lighter.

"Now the flint business is bigger than the entire lighter industry 15 years ago," said Alfred R. Nathan, vice president of the Ronson Art Metal Works, Inc.

The Ronson company — the equivalent of General Motors in its field—soon will market its 35,000,000th lighter.

It was founded 56 years ago by the late Louis V. Aronson, a metallurgical engineer who put the voice in the mama doll. Aronson, who died in 1940, was a pink-cheeked man with a passion for maroon—he even wore maroon shirts.

Developed Safety Match

"Oddly, as a young man he once won a $5,000 prize from the Belgian government for developing a safety match," Nathan recalled.

Repenting of this, Aronson turned to the mechanical lighter. His biggest contribution was a push-button invention that brought the light to life with the pressure of a finger. It made him so much money he could pal around with kings. He even bought a 70-foot yacht so he could sail to see them.

"He had lighters from one end of the yacht to the other," said Nathan. "Even had one in his bathroom."

One of Nathan's present vice presidential duties is the assembling of a museum of mechanical lighters.

"In the early years they put lighters in everything from sword canes to baby shoes cast in bronze," he said.

This rococo period is dying out. The Ronson company, for example, has cut down its number of models from 1,000 to about 100.

The industry hasn't yet caught up with postwar demand.

"We have barely scratched the surface," said Nathan. The industry goal is to get a pencil lighter—it lights at one end, writes at the other—in every man's vest, a combination cigaret case and lighter in every woman's purse, and a table lighter in every room.

How about a lifetime lighter that will never need refueling? Nathan looked cautious.

"Maybe one will come along that will last a year without refueling," he said, "but not a lifetime—in our lifetime."

Woman's Pleas For Her Critically-Ill Daughter Answered

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 13. (AP)—Janet is coming to Albuquerque, just as her mother wished.

Janet is the six-year-old daughter of Mrs. Wilma Latsha of Nacogdoches, Texas. The little girl is critically ill in an Oklahoma City hospital with asthma. The doctors say she is dying.

Mrs. Latsha said she wanted to bring Janet to Albuquerque in the hope the climate might help her. But she needed money. She asked for public aid for funds to provide care for her daughter until she could get a job.

Both pleas have been answered.

Sister Francis Marie, director of the Catholic St. Joseph's hospital here, said last night she wants Janet to come to the hospital to be cared for. A job, she said, will be provided Mrs. Latsha in the hospital so she may be close to her daughter.

In Oklahoma City, Mrs. Latsha cried when told the news. Earlier, she had been given $270 by 15 persons and groups.

Lubbock Auto Firm Gets Special Award For Operation Work

The McWilliams Pontiac Co., 902 Ave. J, Wednesday joined the Pontiac motor division's new select group of Better Dealers.

The selection for the honor for general excellence of dealership operation under what Pontiac terms its Better Dealer program was revealed in the presentation of a reproduction of the famous oil painting of the great Chief Pontiac for whom the car was named.

McWilliams Praised

M. R. Spears, manager of Pontiac's Oklahoma City zone, made the presentation to D. R. McWilliams, owner, and had special praise for McWilliams' relations with the local public. The picture will hang in the dealership showroom as long as the standards of excellence are maintained.

"This is no idle tribute to be passed out indiscriminately," Spears added. "Each case requires exhaustive investigation.

Many Questions Asked

"We must find the answers to such questions as, 'Has he improved his physical property to keep pace with the needs of the community?,'—'Has he a sufficient number of well-trained mechanics and body repairmen?,'—'Has he the proper service facilities, parts inventory, used car lot and local advertising program.'"

Spears said the McWilliams dealership is considered one of the best in this area. McWilliams has been dealer here since 1944. The buildings measure 15,500 square feet and includes complete mechanical, body and paint departments with 14,000 square feet of floor space. The new used car lot is just across the street north of the dealership.

Other members of the McWilliams organization are: W. K. (Ken) Moreland, service manager; Lloyd W. Stinson, parts manager; Horace Felder, body shop foreman and Wm. J. Whitson, office manager. Lewis Holder, George W. Hayes, Dennis Daniell and Harry Shaw are new and used car salesmen.

In addition the company employs a bookkeeper, a service salesman, two body mechanics, a car painter, seven general mechanics, one lubrication man, one car washer, three ex-service men on government training program, one to become a parts man and two to be mechanics.

Lewis E. Young, president of the AIME and consulting engineer at the Carlsbad Potash mines, is expected to be present for the meeting. From 100 to 200 area oil men are expected to attend.

Registration for the meeting will begin at 6 p. m. Monday, with a dinner and talk to follow. The speaker has not been announced. Price of the dinner will be $2.

Crosbyton Will Bid For Upset Triumph Over Abernathy Team

It's another big weekend in South Plains schoolboy football, with a number of crucial contests studding the 24-game schedule.

In all districts except 4-B, where the top teams enjoy comparative "easy sledding," there are conference clashes that could almost completely reshuffle the standings.

Of the 24 games involving area teams, 20 are district tilts.

In Class AA, Pampa's invasion of Lubbock holds the spotlight. The Harvesters are expected to provide the toughest competition yet faced by Coach Pattison's smooth-running Lubbock machine.

Brownfield, still looking for its first 1949 victory, goes against Plainview, with Plainview solidly favored to win.

Lamesa Idle

Lamesa, one of the state's few undefeated, untied Class AA teams, is idle this week.

District 3-A offers triple-barreled action in the ranks of the front-runners. Abernathy, currently leading the pack, puts its unblemished district record on the line at Crosbyton. An Abernathy triumph in this one definitely would put the Antelopes in the "driver's seat" in the district chase, while a Crosbyton win would throw the conference scramble into more confusion than you'll find in a Chinese fire drill.

Lockney and Spur, now tied with Crosbyton for second place in 3-A, tangle at Lockney. Paducah and Floydada, both still very much in the running, meet at Floydada. In the remaining conference tilt, last-place Matador is at Tulia.

Levelland, Sudan Meet

The top attraction in 4-A North will be the Levelland-at-Sudan tussle. Both are undefeated in district play, and have developed fast after slow starts this season.

Littlefield, generally regarded as the top favorite in 4-AN, plays at Muleshoe. The Littlefield powerhouse enters this one favored to win, but the Yellow Jackets will be fighting to retain their last chance at the district crown and an upset is a distinct possibility.

In non-conference games, it will be Morton at Slaton and Sundown at Dalhart.

District 4-A South action finds first-place Post playing at Tahoka and Seagraves playing host to O'Donnell. Post and Seagraves rule top-heavy favorites, as neither Tahoka nor O'Donnell have crashed the victory column this year.

Kermit, holding down top spot in 5-A, faces a real threat this week when it journeys to Andrews to meet an improving herd of Mustangs. Andrews currently is tied for second place, and could throw the district race into complete turmoil by spilling the strong Yellow Jackets.

Monahans Favored

Seminole, still scrapping for a share of the 5-A honors, is at Wink in another feature setto. Both teams have key backfield performers sidelined by injuries.

Denver City, still seeking its first conference win, isn't expected to get it when it plays host to Monahans, defending state Class A champion and one of the circuit's tougher teams.

The Olton-Dimmitt battle at Dimmitt is "it" in District 3-B. The Mustangs and Bobcats are tied atop the standings with four wins apiece in district play, and a capacity crowd is expected to see them fight it out for leadership of the circuit. Hale Center, also unbeaten in loop competition, plays at Amherst, Friona is at Springlake, Whitharral is at Anton, and Spade is at Farwell.

In 4-B, first-place Ropesville plays host to Plains. Powerful Meadow entertains Petersburg, Frenship is at Idalou and Cooper visits New Deal.

DYER IS BACKED

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 13 (AP)—Fred M. Saigh, jr., owner of the St. Louis Cardinals said today that Eddie Dyer will manage the team in 1950 and that he is confident the "Cards will be pennant material."

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Bill McCullough helped police push their squad car out of a soft shoulder after they had ticketed him for speeding.

Raiders Drill For Bear Tilt

Improvement in downfield blocking was one of the few steps forward noted in the Texas Tech football practice Wednesday, and other items will come under close observation today and Friday.

Saturday is homecoming, and with that event comes a visit by the Baylor Bears, but the Baylor appearance will be more than a social call Saturday afternoon at Jones Stadium.

Coach Dell Morgan was dissatisfied with the blocking in last week's game with Tulsa and said that the Red Raiders would have gained a lot more yardage had blocking in the secondary been up to par.

Raiders Gain On Frosh

Against the freshmen defense, the Raiders were gaining quite freely, with Fullback J. W. Thompson breaking loose on a couple of touchdown gallops that were made to look easy, although several would-be tacklers were shaken off on each carry.

Cal Steveson was looking good on quick-opening plays and carried for substantial gains.

Halfback Walter Maloney, who suffered an ankle injury earlier this week in practice, was not at the workout and is a doubtful starter for the game. In fact he may not see action in any capacity.

Williams Returns

One cheerful aspect of the forthcoming tilt will be the return of Don Williams, injured in the San Antonio fracas against Texas A&M, to Lubbock. Williams has been in a San Antonio hospital since a knee injury and operation and will return to Lubbock in a Rix ambulance. First plans called for a trip by air, but Williams must stay in a reclining position until his knee heals further, and his doctor advised a trip by ambulance instead.

Defense against an expected Baylor attack is causing lots of worry in the Raider camp, and several of the players were slow to catch on in yesterday's drill.

The freshmen on the practice field were running the Baylor offense half-hard, and lots more work will be needed to sharpen the Tech team against ground and aerial thrusts by the Bears.

Baylor In Top Shape

Baylor is expected to be in top shape for the game Saturday, going into the fray as a solid favorite. As yet undefeated, the Bruins are one of the favorites in the Southwest conference race, and last week Coach Bob Woodruff's boys defeated Arkansas, 35-13, in a bruising battle.

Top offensive star so far for Baylor has been Quarterback Adrian Burk, turning in one of the flashiest attacks seen in Waco in recent years. Against Arkansas Burk completed nine of 11 tosses for 94 yards and one touchdown. Over the whole season—three games—he has attempted 45 passes, completed 29 for a net gain of 308 yards and five touchdowns for a .644 average. He also has rammed over two touchdowns to figure in seven of the 10 Baylor scores.

Chief target for Burk is J. D. Ison, who has caught 16 passes for 171 yards, and this combination is expected to be on prominent display in the Baylor offense Saturday.

PLAYER INELIGIBLE

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 13 (AP)—The ineligibility jinx has hit Louisiana State. Ace End Ray Bullock was ruled out yesterday on the grounds that he already has played his four years of varsity bill.

Gus Eriksen, Syracuse's new crew coach, never has tutored a losing shell. His Washington freshmen were unbeaten for two years.

Tulane Remembers Insult By Leahy

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 13. (U.P.)—Coach Henry Frnka of Tulane university declined today to speculate on whether Cocah Frank Leahy of Notre Dame will consider the Notre Dame-Tulane football game Saturday worth his personal direction.

The last time Tulane and Notre Dame played in 1947, Leahy didn't bother to see the game. The story that Frnka and his team got was that Leahy thought it would be a good Saturday to scout Southern California.

In a practical sense, Leahy may have been right. Edward (Moose) Krause, then Leahy's line coach, directed a 59 to 6 Notre Dame victory over Tulane. It was the worst beating Tulane had taken since it started playing football in 1893.

Whatever Leahy's purpose, his absence at that game in 1947 cut Frnka to the soul. When the shock of defeat wore off, it began to burn Tulane's football squad.

Fourteen of the men who played Notre Dame in 1947 will go back Saturday. If anything, the snub probably has burned deeper in them, and players who didn't go to South Bend, Ind., in 1947 have been told about it, time and again.

Neely Revamps Rice Owl Team

(By The United Press)

HOUSTON, Oct. 13.—The Rice Owls planned to taper off with dummy scrimmage today and light exercise tomorrow in preparation for their Saturday night game in Dallas with SMU.

But it was a rough practice session yesterday under the guidance of Coach Jess Neely. The players spent most of the afternoon in defense work against Mustang plays and finished off with a 30-minute offensive session.

Vernon Glass filled the quarterback position. Neely announced he would start Van Ballard at right half against Southern Methodist.

After practice, Neely said, "we didn't look good against SMU's offense, and our own offense needs better blocking. When you play SMU, you've got to make touchdowns, not yardage."

MATTY BELL SILENT

DALLAS, Oct. 13.—Coach Matty Bell was silent today on the results of this week's workouts of the Southern Methodist Mustangs as they got ready for their meeting with Rice Saturday night here.

"We had a good practice, I guess," Bell said after yesterday's session.

The Mustangs practiced the offense which has won them the Southwest conference crown two years in a row and also worked on their kicking game.

INJURIES HIT STEERS

AUSTIN, Oct. 13.—University of Texas Coach Blair Cherry cried the backfield blues today, complaining that injuries have crippled his strength in that department for Saturday's contest with Arkansas.

HOLD LIGHT DRILL

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 13.—Coach Harry Stiteler planned to take it easy with his gridiron Aggies today as the team prepared to leave at 10 a. m. tomorrow for Fort Worth and a Saturday game with TCU.

The players will hold a light workout in TCU stadium tomorrow afternoon. They will spend the night in Dallas before the game.

Yesterday's practice period stressed pass defense with Dick Gardemal throwing from the Horned Frogs spread.

FROGS SPEED DRILLS

FORT WORTH, Oct. 13.—TCU's Horned Frogs worked on the assumption today that Saturday's game with Texas A&M will offer them their last chance this year to live up to their pre-season billing as Southwest conference threats.

At workout yesterday, they devoted most of the time to defensive scrimmage against the Aggie "T." The varsity fourth stringers ran Aggie plays, with Coach Dutch Meyer directing his top teams in new defense patterns prepared with the Farmers in mind.

LUBBOCK, PORT ARTHUR FAVORED

Undefeated Teams Face Rough Tests

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer

Exactly half the weekend's 50-game schoolboy football schedule in Class AA and City conference will be title affairs, but only two of them appeared today to be critical contests.

Those two involve two of the five undefeated, untied teams figured to face troublesome opponents and possible upsets this week.

Both of them were in District 9-AA, where Marshall and Henderson were leading the pack without a setback. Marshall meets Gladewater, the team which knocked Dallas Sunset out of the unbeaten ranks two weeks ago, while Henderson meets an improving Longview team that upset well-regarded Texarkana last week.

Lubbock Faces Test

Lubbock, Port Arthur and Galveston among the other 10 perfect record elevens faced tough opposition, and one—Galveston — loomed as an upset victim.

Lubbock should get by powerful Pampa, but Port Arthur may run into unexpected trouble from a fired-up Corpus Christi team, while Galveston probably will lose to once-beaten Austin.

Wichita Falls, Ysleta, Highland Park, Grand Prairie, Galena Park, Lamesa and Corsicana—the other undefeated, untied teams—appeared in no particular danger.

The schedule, by districts, with probable winners marked "W":

Class AA.

1 — Friday: Dallas Forest at Amarillo, (W), El Paso Austin at Borger, (W).

2—Friday: Graham (W) at Childress (X), Quanah at Vernon (W-X), Electra at Wichita Falls (W-X).

Odessa At Abilene

5—Friday: Odessa (W) at Abilene, Brownwood (W) at Big Spring (X), Cisco at San Angelo (W).

6—No home games scheduled.

7—Friday: Denton (W) at Sherman, Gainesville (W) at Greenville (X), Bonham at Paris (W-X).

8—Friday: North Dallas at Highland Park (W), Dallas Jesuit (W) at McKinney, Dallas Crozier Tech at Grand Prairie (W), Jacksonville at Sulphur Springs (W).

9 — Friday: Texarkana (W) at Tyler (X), Marshall (W) at Gladewater (X), Henderson (W) at Longview (X).

10 — Friday: Peacock Military academy at Bryan (W).

11—Friday: Corpus Christi at Port Arthur (W), Kerrville (W) at Beaumont South Park, Galena Park (W) at Port Neches.

14—No home games scheduled.

Alice At Robstown

15—Friday: Alice (W) at Robstown (X), South San Antonio at Laredo, (W).

16—Friday: Brownsville (W) at San Benito (X), Harlingen at Edinburg, (W-X), Kingsville at McAllen (W).

Dallas—Thursday: Weatherford at Sunset (W). Friday: Orange (W) at Woodrow Wilson.

Fort Worth—Thursday: Carter Riverside vs. Arlington Heights (W-X). Friday: North Side (W) vs. Polytenchnic (X). Saturday: Paschal (W) vs. Fort Worth Tech (X).

Houston—Thursday: Lamar (W) vs. San Jacinton (X). Friday: Milby vs. Jeff Davis (W-X). Saturday: Reagan (W) vs. Sam Houston (X).

San Antonio—Thursday: Tech (W) vs. Alamo Heights (X). Friday: Jefferson (W) vs. Lanier (X).

"X" denotes conference game).

High School Girls Cage Loop Growing

GATESVILLE, Oct. 13 (AP)—The High School Girls Basketball league of Texas is due to have 500 teams this year—the largest in the history of the organization.

L. C. McKamie, state director, said today that between 200 and 300 teams already had registered and that he expected almost as many more by Nov. 1, the deadline for receiving entries.

The state tournament will not be held at Hillsboro this year for the first time, McKamie said. Hillsboro had planned to build a large sports arena so it might continue to host the tournament but the plans did not materialize. McKamie said the league hoped to have its own building in the next year or so.

"Where the state tournament will be held this year is a question at this time," McKamie said. "Several towns have invited us."

DRIVER IS KILLED

LONSDALE, R. I., Oct. 13 (AP)—Arthur Laplante, a jalopy auto race driver, was catapulted to death yesterday when his car went out of control and rolled over five times at Lonsdale sports arena. Twelve thousand persons saw the accident.

Auto Firm To Give Ducats To Workers

Ticket sales for the Lubbock-Pampa football game are above average this week, E. J. Lowrey, athletic business manager, reports, and he would like to see a few more customers like the one Wednesday.

The day was merely routine until Roger Kuykendall stepped up to the window and in reply to the usual "how many" answered, "One hundred thirty-two, please."

After making sure that he had heard correctly, Lowrey counted out the 132 tickets for Kuykendall, who is handing out the ducats to employes and wives of Kuykendall Chevrolet company.

That's an annual custom that more employes would like to see their bosses get.

Getz Defeats Fenton In Go

Fans at Sled Allen's wrestling arena last night saw three very good matches, going away satisfied with the performances in the bouts.

Topping the card was the match between Al Getz and Rod Fenton, with Getz winning the decision in the third fall of a rugged match.

The first fall was won by Getz with a rolling leg scissors in 16 minutes of an exciting struggle. Fenton came back strong in the second canto to apply an arm lock and win after seven minutes, but Getz won the third fall and the match in six minutes with a slam and shoulder pin.

The semi-final match between Pat O'Dowdy and Herb Parks was the show-stealer of the night, but O'Dowdy could not cope with the Canadian who made his first appearance here since 1937.

Long a favorite of the unorthodox style of wrestling, O'Dowdy went down in two straight falls much to the applause of the crowd which has been against O'Dowdy for using rough tactics in winning.

Parks took the first fall in 20 minutes with a pile driver. Before O'Dowdy knew what was happening in the second set-to Parks finished the match in one minute with a back breaker.

The preliminary event went 14 minutes before Dory Detton downed Bill Brooks with a leg stretch. The two went at it with a will, exchanging a number of holds before Brooks was caught in the stretch.

Gary Crosby, eldest son of Bing, is out for varsity football at Bellarmine Prep in California.

Westerners Will Seek Revenge In Pampa Battle Here Friday

Lubbock High's undefeated, untied Westerners are scheduled to hold their final drill session today in preparation for their rugged non-conference encounter with the once-beaten Pampa Harvesters of District 1-AA here at 8 o'clock Friday night at Jones stadium.

Revenge for last year's 26-19 loss to the Harvesters will be the goal of Coach Pat Pattison's speedy Westerners when the teams tangle before an expected crowd of approximately 12,000 persons. Last year the Westerners travelled to Pampa for their traditional District 1-AA tilt with the Harvesters and, after the Lubbock eleven had taken a 19-6 lead in the third quarter, Pampa rallied to chalk up the victory.

Lubbock players and fans were also disgruntled after a 90-yard touchdown jaunt in the final minute of play by the Westerners' Wayne Stroud was called back by the officials.

Although the Westerners are now in District 3-AA and the Friday night game will be a non-conference clash, the Lubbock schoolboys can be expected to remember that defeat at Pampa last season—as well as the Pampa triumphs over the Westerners in 1945 and 1947.

Lubbock Rolling

That 26-19 defeat, incidently, was the last suffered by Lubbock.

TICKET SALES BOOMING

Sales for the Friday night football game between Pampa and Lubbock High at Jones Stadium are going well, E. J. Lowrey, athletic business manager, said Wednesday and 14,000 persons may witness the contest between the former District 1-AA foes. Pregame ticket sales are being made at the athletic office in the high school, with reserved seats selling for $1.50.

The 1948 squad ended the season with two easy victories over Brownfield and Plainview, and so far this year the Model T attack has gained momentum and swept to four victories, cutting down Childress, North Side of Fort Worth, Plainview and Vernon.

The Pampa team that came back so strong last year is gone, but in its stead is a young, inexperienced team with six lettermen and lots of hustle. Coach Tom Tipps has welded the squad together into a combination that defeated North Dallas, 40-0, Graham, 7-0, El Paso High, 35-19, and Vernon, 8-7, before losing last week to Wichita Falls, 14-6.

Considered Moral Victory

The loss to Wichita was considered a moral victory by Pampa fans, as the Harvesters entered that game three touchdown underdogs. But the Green and Gold looked like anything but underdogs, rushing to an early 6-0 advantage over the Coyotes before giving up a safety and touchdown in the first half and a second touchdown in the third quarter.

Pampa is led by right Halfback Jimmy Hayes who has scored 30 points for the season and lugged the ball for more than 500 yards in the five games played.

Named as Lubbock co-captains this week are Fullback Malcolm Young and Quarterback Bobby Brown. These two have played outstanding ball for the Westerners all season, with Young turning in his best performance last week and Brown ripping off an 80-yards punt return for a touchdown.

Physically the Cowpokes should be in near top shape, and mentally they are in good condition, looking forward to the contest eagerly.

Last week, the line play was especially effective, with Guards Freddie Gray and Sammy Modrall and Tackles Joe Brock and Douglas Ross ripping the Vernon line apart at will to allow the backs through. Downfield blocking was the best yet.

Garnet Reeves and Billy Wright continue to stand out at end, being especially hard to move on defense.

Pioneers Test Plainview "B"

Plainview's B team moves into Chapman field at 8 o'clock tonight for its second game of the year with the Pioneers of Lubbock High school.

Earlier the two elevens battled to a 13-13 tie, so tonight's tilt is figured to be somewhat of a grudge match with both teams figuring to win.

In other games the Pioneers have won two and lost one. The lone defeat was to Meadow by a 12-0 margin, and there are two very decisive victories. In the season's opener the Pioneers romped over Wolfforth, 32-0, and last week defeated Littlefield B team, 31-12.

Admission to the game will be 50 and 25 cents.

Probable starters for Lubbock are Roy Burrows, le; Harlan Cooke, lt; Melvin Deardorff, lg; John Pittman, center; Charles Nix, rg; Ray McClarty, rt; James Blazi, re; Charles Sayers, qb; Billy Tucker, lh; Jeff Jones or Don Dean, rh; and Charles Northington or C. D. Walker, fb.

Between The Lines by Joe Kelly

A remark credited to George Kellam that appeared in this column Monday has drawn considerable comment in some sources. We credited George with the remark that neither Amarillo nor Odessa posed too serious a threat to the Westerners, PROVIDING that they continued to play the type of ball they demonstrated in the first quarter against Vernon. Some persons have interpreted this to mean that Lubbock was a cinch to roll over both teams with ease. That's ridiculous, as anyone with intelligence should realize. George has seen both Odessa and Amarillo in action and has deep respect for each eleven. In fact, he thinks that they are two of the better teams in the state. They definitely will give the Westerners a battle all the way and the games will be anything but picnics for the Lubbockites. At the same time, the form that the Westerners showed indicated that it will take an exceptionally good team to beat them.

We ran across an item on the wires of the International News Service last weekend that ought to raise a few eyebrows among sportsmen. The dispatch came from Washington, where the Commerce Department announced that fish now can be caught electrically. Yep, a German inventor has come up with a device that works something like the American electric chair — and the poor fish probably gets the same sensation without the death march. Seems two electrodes are equipped with adjustable voltage. When a fish is attracted into the electrical field, it is forced toward the positive electrode. The varying electric voltage causes the tail muscles of the fish to relax and he is propelled, against his will, to the positive electrode. There he meets a net and that's finis for Mr. Fish. Neat, huh? Wonder when the new nine-foot, six-ounce, all-electrical fishing rods will go on the market?

Major McCurry recently represented his unit in the Third Annual Far East Small Arms tournament. He eliminated all other marksmen from his unit and then took part in the tourney that attracted top shots from the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps. The Marine release failed to mention whether Major McCurry won any of the medals being offered in the shoot, which was held in September at Camp Drake, command post of the First Cavalary Division. Major McCurry's wife, Mrs. Mary Arlene McCurry, and her parents live at Carbon, Texas.

When Big Spring, winner of the Longhorn League, played Corpus Christi, winner of the Rio Grande Valley League, for the Class D championship of Texas, several former Hubbers had an important part. Corpus Christi won the series in five games, one of which was a nifty 1-0 victory in 11 innings. Throwing the "natural" victory was Bob Covington, the sandy-haired, lanky hurler who was with the Hubs for a short time early in the season. He allowed only five hits in that stretch. The game finally broke after Morris Jones scratched an infield hit that scored Frank McAlexander with the winning run. Frank, incidentally, almost came back here to help the Hubbers at the end of the season, but was kept in Corpus. He'd still like to be back with the Hubbers—and might be.

Matty Bell of Southern Methodist almost regrets that Doak Walker decided to attend he Mustang institution. Now before you start screaming, listen why. Seems that the exploits of The Doaker have attracted a large number of backfield men, while the linemen haven't thought too seriously about attending SMU. Bell has had so much trouble interesting linemen in going to SMU that he was about at his wit's end this fall. Matty came out of it all right and appears to have another well balanced team. What many persons don't know is that Matty is considered one of the top defensive coaches in the trade. His weekly mail, his daily mail, contains a constant stream of inquiries about what to do on various defensive alignments. And judging from the record, he's pretty successful.

One of the big post-World Series speculations is whether Joe DiMaggio is finished or not. Certainly the Yankee Clipper is skating close to the brink of thin ice on his stay in the big time. Not that the fact that he played in only 76 of the 154 Yankee games or that he only had two hits in the five-game Series is an indication of his ability or usefulness. It isn't. But the fact that his heel took an extra long time to mend and that he fell prey to other afflictions during the year was an indication that perhaps he is getting too brittle to remain on active duty. His loss would be severe to the Yankees next year, although if he definitely can't come back, they have all winter to plan for a successor. Baseball without DiMag and Bob Feller and other greats won't seem the same for a while, but other bright, fresh, young stars always appear on the horizon.

New York Buys Star Players

NEW YORK, Oct. 13 (AP)—The New York Yankees, announcing they won't "stand pat" on their present world championship team for 1950, bought two of the brightest stars in the Pacific Coast league today.

Manager Casey Stengel announced the purchase of Jackie Jensen, outfielder who is a former California football star, and Alfred (Billy) Martin, an infielder.

They were bought from the Oakland club, which Stengel managed last year.

No price was divulged, but it's rumored the Yankees shelled out in the neighborhood of $100,000 and five players for the two athletes, who were widely sought after by major league clubs.

"You never sit tight," Casey told newsmen in the Yankees' final news conference of the season yesterday. "You can't afford to stand pat in this league. We're going to try to strengthen our pitching staff, although it looked pretty good in the last week. Sure, we could use a couple of pitchers.

"I'd like to improve my outfield a little, too. We're willing to listen to anybody who has something reasonable to offer."

Former Grid Star

Jensen, 22, is the former football star at the University of California. He is a bonus player. Owner C. L. (Brick) Laws, in beating 14 big league clubs to his services, lured him at the close of the college baseball season last spring with a bonus of $40,000 plus a three-year contract at $15,000 per.

"My scouts tell me that Jensen is the greatest outfield prospect in the minor leagues," said Casey. "He is fast, has tremendous power, and owns the strongest arm in baseball since Bob Meusel."

In 125 games with the Oaks, Jensen batted .261 this season. Included in his 122 hits were 21 doubles, seven triples and nine home runs. He drove in 78 runs.

Jensen is engaged to wed Zoe Ann Olsen, national diving champion.

Stengel said eight clubs had been after Martin, a second baseman who also can play short or third.

Martin, 21, hit .284 this year—including 29 doubles, three triples and 13 homers. He drove in 91 runs.

Bowling Results

Three teams in the Women's Commercial bowling league are still without names, and last night two of the three quintets suffered triple defeats in league games, with the other turning in three victories.

Russell-Hardin displayed a powerful aggregation in dropping No Name 3, with three members posting a 500 series. Maxine Buckner was tops with 211-517; Ann Thorne had 184-512; and Polly Buckner was next with 213-508. Zelma Zimmerman's 179-186 was tops for the losers.

Nelson Electric swamped No Name 7, and Lovie Beavers' 182-492 series was high. Irene Daniels toppled pins for a 174-462 to take scoring honors for the unsponsored team.

No Name 8 took Lubbok Tailoring to the cleaners, not allowing the losers a single game. Gypsie Hansen rolled a neat 202-523 series, and Gail Tyson was high for the losers with 162-442.

Southwestern Public Service continued to improve in allowing Hemphill-Wells but one game of the three. Bertha Thomas and Flo Christensen posted high scores for Southwestern, Christensen with 188-501 and Thomas with 195-505.

Artie Reed led Hemphill-Wells' kegling with 174-460.

The standings:

TEAMS	W.	L.
Russell-Hardin	13	5
SWPS	11	7
Lubbock Tailors	10	8
Nelson Electric	10	8

HUB LAUNDRY WINS

Two whitewashings were hung up in the Business bowling league last night, with Hub Laundry and Household Supply turning the trick.

Hub took three straight games from Stanolind Oil although the Oilers benefitted from a 119 pin handicap. High man for Hub was Doug Mitchener with a 185-518 series.

The Householders were helped by a 55 pin handicap to defeat Mark Halsey three games. Sid Clairborne was tops for the winners with a 185-502 series, and Ray Peeples toppled the wood for a 182-509 series for the losers.

Dahlson Furniture and Sears split their games, with Dahlson winning two. Knocking over the most pins for the winners was H. A. Watson with a 181-483 series, and Homer Wright paced Sears with 186-497.

In the final match West Texas Gas lost the first game and then won the last two from Reeves Insurance. Z. A. Kimbro rolled high series for West Texas Gas with 187-522, and Ralph Mitchell was high for Reeves with 179-452.

Fight Ticket Sales Pushed

An all-out ticket sales campaign for Tuesday's Henderson-Ortega boxing card has been launched by Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 2466, sponsor of the event.

At Wednesday night's regular VFW meeting, fight tickets were distributed to more than 600 members present, so that the members can stage a concentrated sales campaign this week.

Ducats On Sale

In addition, fight ducats will remain on sale at the Hilton hotel, Hub Clothiers and City Club gym, all in Lubbock, and at Talley's Barber shop in Levelland.

To date, about one-third of the 2,200 available tickets have been sold, VFW officials reported. There are, however, ducats remaining in all price brackets—$3.50 ringside, $2.50 reserved and $1.50 general admission.

Mail orders are being accepted at City Club gym, 1313½ College avenue.

All profits from the fight show are to be divided equally between the local Goodfellows fund and Girlstown, U.S.A., located near Whiteface, Texas. The Lubbock VFW post is staging the program entirely for the benefit of these two causes.

A 32-round card has been arranged, with Bill Henderson squaring off against El Paso's Manny Ortega in the feature 10-rounder. Ortega, a top-notch featherweight who has met—and beaten—some of the nation's best, will be one of the toughest opponents yet faced by Henderson, the popular Levelland lightweight who has climbed steadily up the fistic ladder.

An eight-round semifinal expected to provide ample action brings together Gene James of Lubbock and Dickie Brown of Amarillo. These two met here recently in a six-rounder in which James won a decision so close that a rematch was deemed in order.

Leonard Duncan, undefeated Hale Center middleweight, faces Dick Smith, Oklahoma City, in a six-rounder. Four-round preliminaries send Charley Neff, Petersburg, against Tony Olivas, El Paso, and Billy Brackeen of Slaton against Sam Inagio, El Paso.

California Girl To Face Top Opponent

FORT WORTH, Oct. 13 (AP) — A 15-year-old Californian who's been cutting down the veterans in the women's Texas Open golf tournament faces another stiff test in today's quarter finals.

Young Marlene Bauer meets Marjorie Lindsay of Decatur, Ill.

Each won a 19-hole victory yesterday. Marlene ousted defending champion Polly Riley, and Marjorie defeated Babe Zaharias.

Kansas City champion Marilyn Smith moved ahead with a 3 and 1 victory over Marlene's 20 year old sister, Alice. Marilyn's quarter-finals opponent will be another state champion, Betty MacKinnon, the Arkansas titlist who plays out of Mt. Pleasant, Tex.

Miss MacKinnon ousted Betty Jameson of San Antonio 3 and 1.

Notre Dame-Tulane Deadlock Forecast

By DR. E. E. LITKENHOUS

There's no way of getting around it. No matter how you figure it, the Litkenhous System predicts a tie. Notre Dame and Tulane, meeting in one of the week end's top attractions, will battle to a standoff. Each is ranked ninth in the nation at 105.1.

Pigskin pundits are saying the winner of the Southern California-University of California battle can start printing its Rose Bowl tickets. The Bruins were in Pasadena on New Year's Day last season but, according to the System, the Trojans can place their order with the printers now. Southern California by 2.1 in a thriller.

Oklahoma, the System's No. 1 team in the nation now, is scheduled for a breeze this week. The Sooners will trample Kansas by 48.7 points. Southern Methodist, Southwest Conference champion, is due for its first jolting of the season, with Rice playing the strong boy by 7.1 points. The Texas Aggies rate a shade (1.6 points) over T. C. U. while Texas is favored by 26.3 over Arkansas.

Ohio State should come off its tie with U. S. C. with a 4.5 point success over Minnesota in the Big Ten's blue-ribbon offering. In other Western Conference encounters it's Michigan over Northwestern by 21.8 and Iowa over Indiana by 21.5. Missouri rates 8.1 points superior to Illinois.

Cornell figures to nip Yale by 1.9; Harvard will be buried by Army by 48.6. Navy is a slight 1.8 choice over Wisconsin while Penn will romp over Columbia to the measure of 27 points.

Following is the week-end schedule of college football games with Litkenhous Difference by Score predictions. The figure after the name of each team is its power-point rating. The figure in the last column is the difference between the ratings and therefore the approximate probable difference between the scores they will make in the games. The names of the probable winners are set in boldface type.

ISSUE MAY BE FORCED ON HST

Senate May Give In On Air Force Size

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Senate insistence on a 48-group air force and equally firm House demands for one of 58 groups deadlocked again today but some senators thought they saw a way out.

The way: Let the Senate give in and appropriate for 58 groups, then let President Truman decide whether to spend the money on the extra 10.

Mr. Truman as late as yesterday backed the 48-group stand, but House leaders say he can't disregard a 305-to-1 vote in their branch of Congress for 58.

The make-up of an air group varies, from one containing 30 big bombers to one made up of 75 fighters.

Senate-House conferees were called back into session this morning for another try at breaking the month-old stalemate over air force funds. They are part of the huge military appropriations bill containing around $15 billions for the army, navy and air force.

HST May Get Problem

There is no dispute over the army and navy spending.

Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla), conference chairman, said the Senate may dump the problem into the President's hands as a last resort.

"I want to protect the President if I can by reaching an agreement," Thomas told a reporter. "But we may be forced to leave the decision to him."

The House voted funds for a 58-group combat force and stuck by it. The Senate refused last night to add another $741,000,000 to the air force budget to raise it from 48 to 58 groups in the Senate's bill.

Thomas told the Senate that Mr. Truman indicated at a White House conference yesterday he would not use the added funds even if they were voted.

Major Strikes

alties into the fund after the contract expired June 30.

Northern and western operators at White Sulphur Springs yesterday offered to renew the contract until April, 1951. Their chairman, Frank Amos of the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal company, said renewal of the old agreement is their "best and final offer."

Amos added, however, the operators want "unrestricted use of our facilities." He explained that means an understanding Lewis no longer would call strikes under contract clauses which say UMW miners dig coal only when "able and willing."

A gruff "no" was the UMW's answer. The operators got that answer when they made the same offer four times before.

Lewis wasn't on hand for the negotiations but is expected to take part today. He had to stay in Washington yesterday in connection with a suit filed against him and other trustees of the UMW's pension fund.

Charges Denied

George H. Livengood, ex-miner of Uniontown, Pa., and a fund pensioner, charges the trustees with illegally dissipating the fund. Lewis categorically denied the charges.

The fund is Lewis' big worry. He wants the royalty payments increased. There's some talk, too, that he would like a seven-hour day for eight hours' pay.

So far, operators say they haven't an inkling of just what Lewis wants.

CONTRACT DEMANDS OF LEWIS ARE DISCLOSED

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Oct. 13. (AP)—John L. Lewis disclosed today that his contract demands on soft coal operators would cost 30 to 35 cents a ton more than now. He said the industry could absorb it out of profits.

Lewis, at a 75-minute news conference, went into an exhaustive outline of his theory that powerful financial and steel interests were determined to hold up a coal settlement until they "battled it out" in steel.

The UMW president said that if the government must intervene and take over the coal pits, it should order a "bonafide seizure" by running the mines for the benefit of the people instead of the mine owners.

Lewis said that past seizures of the coal miners had been "make believe, papier-mache affairs."

He told reporters he was not suggesting seizure and declared:

"We are willing to fight this out. The mine workers have whipped these operators and are willing to do it.

"We ask no aid. We prefer to be left alone, but, if we are not left alone to defeat them on their own ground, then we ask fair treatment."

Search For Seminole Girl Unsuccessful

SEMINOLE, Oct. 13 (Special)—Search for 12-year-old Mary Donna Nelson, who has been missing from her home here since Monday, today was centered at Water Valley, near San Angelo, where a girl fitting her description was seen hitchhiking Wednesday.

Eight Air Force B-25s from Lubbock Air Force base Wednesday searched from 3 p. m. until sundown for a trace of the missing girl in the surrounding rugged brush country within a 40-mile radius of Seminole.

Ground parties coordinated their efforts in the search with the airmen.

Today, Air Force officials at the Lubbock base said they did not plan to send any more planes back to Seminole because they felt she was not in the vicinity.

The girl was last seen about 10:30 p. m. Monday when she said goodnight to her parents and went to bed.

Daily MARKETS

Stock Market

SESSION ONE OF BIGGEST

NEW YORK, Oct. 13 (AP)—The stock market went higher today in one of the biggest sessions of the year.

Volume was at the rate of 1,900,000 shares for the entire day.

The buying surge started with the opening bell. Within a short time, however, the pace slackened but continued at a high level.

Profit taking cut down a great number of the best advances and the market fell back from its peak. Some of the declines ran more than a point, but the majority of the losses among the leaders were in fractions.

Buying enthusiasm diminished after John L. Lewis proposed adding 30 to 35 cents to each ton of coal as his price for settling the coal strike.

The market is currently at the highest average level of the year, and each upward move uncovers sales to cash in on the advance.

On the higher side were Shell Oil, Lion Oil, Skelly Oil, Goodrich, Hilton Hotels, American Can, Allied Chemical, Homestake Mining, Anaconda Copper, and Johns Manville.

Lower were Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Sears Roebuck, Boeing, Consolidated Natural Gas, Dow Chemical, American Woolen, U. S. Gypsum, Paramount (old), American Airlines, and Santa Fe.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

New York, Oct. 13 (AP)—Cotton futures were steady in early dealings today on mill buying, but subsequently turned lower on liquidation which met less aggressive trade demand. Evening-up operations in near-by October, prior to expiration of trading in those contracts at noon Friday, accounted for a good deal of the activity. New crop months were under moderate selling pressure, reflecting uncertainty over the final form of farm legislation for next year.

Cotton closed barely steady.

AEC Report

ment was in no way altered.

But Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) said he got one "important change" into the report.

"It says now—and it didn't before—that while this so-called mismanagement phase of the investigation is ended, the committee feels there were other matters developed at the inquiry that need to be looked into," Johnson said.

McMahon said he would release the majority report after it had been filed in the Senate. He said it still includes the statement that Hickenlooper's charges against the AEC "could not be proved." That, he added, sets the general tone of the report.

Hickenlooper took issue with McMahon's statement that the report was not substantially changed.

"Most of the revision is significent," Hickenlooper said, "because it changed the report from an utterly one-sided thing to a document that gives just a little credit for certain things."

reported Saturday that she was with Otis Benson about two miles west of Dumas Friday night when the suspect drove alongside their car and fired into it. She told Sheriff J. A. McMurry of Dumas the man ordered them out, beat Benson with his pistol and took his billfold. Then, the girl said, the suspect forced her into the car with him.

She said he drove to Vega, about 45 miles west of Amarillo. There, the girl said, she knocked out the suspect with a fire extinguisher after they stopped at a tourist court.

She went to Vega officers, who accompanied her to the court. As they arrived, the suspect drove away, heading west. The officers did not pursue.

The girl said they told her that if she wanted to charge him with kidnaping her she would have to go back to Dumas.

She arrived back in Dumas about 6 a. m. Saturday and made her report to Sheriff McMurry.

No charges against the man had been filed last night. Statewide pickup orders were broadcast in Texas and in New Mexico.

Farm Program

mittee to try to adjust differences.

Anticipating this, the Senate has named its seven conferees. They will vote as a unit and five of the seven are strong supporters of the flexible support price system.

They include Anderson, floor manager of the Senate bill although only a freshman senator, Majority Leader Lucas (D-Ill), Senator Aiken (R-Vt) who pushed a somewhat similar bill through the last Congress, and Senators Ellender (D-La) and Thye (R-Minn.)

The other Senate conferees, Chairman Elmer Thomas (D-Okla) and Senator Young (D-ND), voted for a flat 90 per cent of parity support for basic crops but now are pledged to support the flexible price plan.

While Senators Lucas and Anderson pushed the flexible-level bill through the Senate, there were apparently reliable reports that President Truman himself is fundamentally for the flat 90 per cent idea.

In any event the farm issue, as usual will be a big factor in the 1950 campaign.

Chairman Cooley (D-NC) of the House agriculture committee said he feels sure House conferees will insist upon the 90 per cent levels when farmers agree to controls over planting and marketing — with the possible exception of corn.

Communist dispatches here reported a smashing victory over Pai's soldiers. They said four Nationalist divisions were shattered in battles southwest of Hengyang. If true, this would mean the loss of about 30,000 of Pai's 250,000 troops—the best fighting force remaining to the government.

On Canton's right flank, the Communists moved southwest from Hoyun along the East river to cut the Canton-Kowloon railway to Hong Kong, refugee packed British crown colony.

The Nationalists had reported a strong defense line near Canton. But independent observers who toured an area 20 miles outside the city found no defenses.

tured gunman as George E. Gratzer, 27, of Bedford, Ind. Gratzer, weakened from loss of blood, was taken to Ball Memorial hospital. He was suffering from a bullet wound in the abdomen.

Nelson said Ralph Frazier, owner of the cigar store, was seriously wounded from a bullet in the stomach. The others wounded in the shooting were Glen Castile, 40, a machinist, Tom Cook, 55, and John Stewart, all of Munice.

Nelson said Frazier told him one of the gunmen had been in the rear of the store and when the second gunman entered he drew a gun. Frazier said he shouted "watch that man with a gun," and both gunmen started shooting. He said they fled without taking any money after firing between 20 and 25 shots.

Company Ordered To Bargain With Union

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13. (AP)—The National Labor Relations board today ruled that the American National Insurance company of Galveston, Texas, had refused to bargain collectively with an AFL union representing its employes.

The NLRB ordered the firm to resume bargaining with Local 27 of the Office Employes International union. The board also found that the Galveston firm had illegally questioned and threatened its employes regarding union activity.

However, the board ruled against the union by finding that Emma Moore, an employe which the union claimed was discriminately discharged, actually was discharged because of inefficiency.

Senator Is Accused Of Perjury By Ickes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13. (U.P.)—Harold L. Ickes today accused Sen. Sheridan Downey, D., Cal., of giving perjured testimony before a Senate investigating committee.

Ickes, former secretary of interior and self-styled curmudgeon, made the charge as Downey faced him across the Senate interior committee table. Ickes suggested that the attorney general take "appropriate action."

Ickes labelled as "false" Downey's sworn testimony that reclamation Commissioner Michael W. Straus exerted "political pressure" against Straus' predecessor Harry W. Bashore and forced him to resign.

Faculty Members Of Rural Schools Will Hold Special Class

Twenty-six teachers and superintendents in Lubbock county rural schools Monday night attended the organizational meeting of a workshop in curriculum and instruction at Texas Technological college.

Faculty members were present from Frenship, Shallowater, Roosevelt and Idalou schools. In addition, representatives of Cooper school plan to enroll.

Meet Each Monday

R. L. Davidson, assistant professor of education and psychology, will teach the class, which will meet at 7 p. m. each Monday for about four and one-half months for a three-hour session. College credit will be given.

The course was arranged through request of E. E. Hancock, supervisor of Lubbock county schools, who will attend the course.

Will Fill Needs

Hancock said the course will give teachers a guide for use in their instruction. Heretofore, they have had textbooks, but have been left to find their own material to supplement teaching from textbooks.

"Along with our study, we hope to find such references as should be added to our libraries for use of teachers and students," he said.

Included in the course will be study of curriculum especially to meet the needs in this area. For instance, the curriculum might take into consideration the fact that agriculture is of high importance and train students in a manner that would be particularly helpful in vocations.

Chief Justice Marvin Jones of the U. S. Court of Claims was appointed to the federal bench.

The House Agriculture subcommittee of which he is a member made a careful study of research centers working on the foot and mouth disease of cattle, Worley said. Centers visited included those at Copenhagen, Denmark; Amsterdam, Holland; Basel, Switzerland, and Pirbright, England, about 35 miles from London.

Their findings, Worley added, should allay fears of many American cattlemen that establishment of a research laboratory in this country might lead to an outbreak of the disease.

He said there were no recorded outbreaks anywhere in Europe traced to work carried on in the laboratories.

Jews Are Observing Group Anniversary

Lubbock Jews today were observing the 106th anniversary of B'Nai B'Rith, a volunteer Jewish organization to help the other fellow.

The organization was founded Oct. 13, 1943, by 12 Americans of Jewish faith in New York City.

Since then it has grown into the largest and oldest Jewish service organization in the world with more than 330,000 members in 1,600 lodges and women's chapters in the United States and Canada.

Support of philanthropies, promotion of Americanism and democracy, furtherance of interfaith work, religious, cultural and social activities for Jewish young men and women of college and pre-college age and aid to Israel are the major goals of the organization.

The first lodge in Lubbock was organized in 1940 by 11 men. The membership now numbers 59.

Nathan Holwerk is president, Harry Lipshy, vice president, and Bill Kuhn, secretary, of the Lubbock lodge.

23-Year-Old Man Pleads Innocent Of Liquor Charge

James Don Kinder, 23, of 1900-block Sixth, pleaded innocent this morning of a liquor law violation charge.

He is the "Jim" who went through mistake to the residence of a policeman and asked if anyone had called for him, the state will charge.

Bond of $600 was set for trial appearance in the court of County Judge Walter Davies.

Ira E. Scott, the policeman, said the man went to Scott's apartment at 1505 Main Wednesday night and asked if anybody there had "called for Jim."

Scott invited the visitor in after noticing a bulge under the man's coat.

Scott said he accepted a bottle of whisky from the visitor, then produced his pistol and identified himself.

Police said they found an additional 17 bottles of whisky and seven cases of beer in the man's car.

County Attorney Waggoner Carr said he would file a forfeiture action against the automobile.

Miss Temple could not be reached immediately for comment.

It was not known immediately whether Agar was living at the family residence or whether he had moved to other quarters.

Miss Temple returned just last night from a vacation trip to Palm Springs. It was revealed that Agar did not accompany her there.

The marriage of the one-time child queen of the screen was regarded during its early years as one of the happiest of the film colony, but there had been rumblings during recent months that all was not well in the Temple family.

Again the prisoners agreed. Sending for his bailiff, Judge Hill ordered other prisoners brought up from the city jail. He asked them if they would work if their sentences were suspended.

Twenty more agreed, and the farmers brought their trucks around to city hall. Ten negroes and 30 white men assembled to be loaded.

One white man said to another, "do you have any dice . . . it's a long ride to Lubbock."

Hill ordered the pair back to jail. "This is no picnic," he said. "You are going to work, not play."

To assure that the farmers got outside the city with their workers, Judge Hill had a police squad car follow the two-truck convoy to nearby Grand Prairie.

In the confusion of solving the farmers' help problems, Judge Hill complained that he forgot to ask the farmers their names.

Ex-Convict Is Held In Death

FORT WORTH, Oct. 13. (U.P.)—An ex-convict, 41—jailed here on a robbery charge—is wanted in Big Spring on a murder complaint, Sheriff Sully Montgomery said he learned today.

The man was arrested Saturday under the name of David Crockett, and charged in the robbery-beating in the Texas & Pacific railroad yards here of Norman Daniels.

A fingerprint check with the FBI in Washington revealed his real name is David Crockett Calloway, and that he is wanted for murder in Big Spring, the sheriff said.

Identity Admitted

Calloway admitted that identity to reporters, but denied any connection with the fatal beating Sept. 26 of Hope Leonard in Big Spring. He admitted he had gone to Big Spring to pick cotton, but said he left there about a month ago "because the cotton wasn't any good."

Calloway, who denied knowing Leonard, said he was arrested for drunkenness in Big Spring, but was released after two days in jail.

Another man being held in county jail here also is being investigated in connection with the Big Spring slaying, Montgomery said.

south at each end of the existing administration building. The structure will contain offices, classrooms and other facilities. It will harmonize in design with the existing building.

McMillan was awarded the general construction contract at a recent meeting of the Tech board of directors in the St. Anthony hotel, San Antonio. Plumbing, heating and electrical contracts are due to be awarded at a board meeting here Saturday. The building permit included low bid figures on the other contracts.

September Seasonal Hike

While early fall building permits showed a sharp increase in volume, the mortgage loan volume in September showed a slight decrease from August, according to figures complied by Weldon Gibbs of First Federal Savings and Loan association.

Gibbs' figures, made monthly for the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance corporation in Washington, D. C., showed the total volume of mortgage loans under $20,000 in September as $857,514.

The August total was $1,125,578. The September mortgage loans in Lubbock numbered 151, as compared with 207 loans granted in August. The figures include non-farm properties only. The September total reflected a seasonal increase.

Mortgage loans for preceding months were as follows: July, $879,111; June, $772,486; May, $885,440.

Construction observers were agreed that building in the metropolitan Lubbock area would exceed $20,000,000 this year, were it possible to include figures for construction in outlying areas.

Many of the most costly homes constructed in greater Lubbock this year have been built west and north of the city, and do not show in the building figures. Large industrial projects, notably the Producers Grain corporation cooperative elevator just completed at a cost of $1,500,000 southeast of the city, would have added considerably to the city's building volume.

Arms Plan Rushed For Action Before Congress Goes Home

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP) — Two committees worked against time today to speed funds for the $1,314,010,000 foreign arms program through Congress before the Senate and House quit for the year.

The House appropriations committee was expected to approve the money bill by tomorrow at the latest. And the Senate appropriations group cleared the way for a quick decision by holding special hearings in advance of House approval.

The arms program—to provide cash and contract authority for rearming friendly nations around the world whose security is threatened by Communism—already has been authorized by overwhelming majorties in both houses.

Full Amount Urged

The state and defense departments urged the Senate appropriations committee yesterday to approve the entire $1,314,010,000 program without delay.

Undersecretary of State Webb told the group the Atlantic council and defense committee set up under the Atlantic pact will have defense plans completed within 60 days.

Most of the $1,000,000,000 set aside for re-arming western Europe can't be used until President Truman approves these plans.

Secretary of Defense Johnson urged the lawmakers to provide the full appropriation asked by Mr. Truman—$814,101,000 in cash and $500,000,000 in contract authority.

Chinese Reds Considered

He said the defense plans will have little meaning until arms and equipment are delivered to the military units which will use them in case of attack.

Some senators brought up the possibility of approving stop-gap aid now and providing the remainder of the funds next year.

But Johnson told reporters he is against any stop-gap measures and wants the full amount as quickly as possible.

In addition to considering means of blocking further Soviet expansion in Europe, senators gave study to the problem of Communist victories in China.

Secretary of State Acheson reported to the foreign relations committee yesterday that the administration has no present plans for recognition or non-recognition of a Red regime in China.

Oriental Aid Backed

One committee member quoted Acheson as saying that whatever is done, he hopes Britain, France, the United States and other allied countries will act together.

The foreign arms bill contains $75,000,000 which the President may use in the China area—besides $1,000,000,000 for western Europe, $211,3770,000 for Greece and Turkey, and $27,640,000 for Iran, Korea and the Philippines.

The American policy of bolstering non-Communist countries in the Orient received strong backing yesterday from the Senate. By a vote of 48 to 13, the chamber authorized $150,000,000 in economic aid for southern Korea. The funds will be provided later by appropriation.

But pending the appropriation, the Reconstruction Finance corporation is authorized to advance the Korean republic $50,000,000 through the Economic Cooperation administration.

FLINT, Mich. (U.P.)—Edwin Krupinski told police he was parked on a country road waiting for a friend. Police waited, too, until James Taylor came out of a hen house with two chickens. Police charged them with theft.

HST Signs Bill For Military Pay Hikes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP) — President Truman's signature on a $300,000,000-a-year military pay bill assured the nation's top brass today of their first general pay increase since 1908.

Mr. Truman signed the bill into law late yesterday. Effective Oct. 1, it provides salary raises for just about every member of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Coast Guard and other uniformed services.

Pay for the very lowest ranks, which has risen since 1939 from $21 a month to $75, remains unchanged, but buck privates with five month's service get a $5 raise.

The generals and admirals fare best under the new scales, with raises running as high as $300 a month for top officers with 30 years' service.

The new law provides higher compensation in many cases where men were retired for disability, and calls for gradually doing away with family allowances for enlisted men.

Man To Face Charge Of Cruelty To Mule

ATLANTA, Oct. 13. (U.P.)—Recorder's Court Judge A. W. Callaway promised a decision today in the case of a veterinarian charged with dragging a dying mule behind a truck "until his hide smoked" from contact with the rough pavement.

Veterinarian L. C. Shantz denied the charges yesterday. He said he was trying to save the mule's life.

Two patrolmen testified that after the mule was knocked down by a truck, the veterinarian and an ice company employe chained the mule behind a truck and dragged him away so fast that "his hide smoked."

Man Is Sentenced In Wounding Of Ex-Wife

DALLAS, Oct. 13 (AP) — Albert Andrew Mathews, 43, drew a two-year county jail sentence yesterday for shooting his ex-wife through the legs.

A district court jury found he was guilty of aggravated assault but not assault to mourder, as the state had charged.

The shooting occurred Aug. 12, 1948. Mathews' 13-year-old daughter and his former wife testified he came to their home after calling and threatening to kill Mrs. Mathews.

Vaughn Monroe To Surprise Fans In His First Film Role

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 13 (NEA) —Vaughn Monroe's fans can get ready for a shock. The singer will do a complete type reversal in his first movie, "Singing Guns," at Republic. He plays a Jimmy Cagney type cowboy who beats the be-daylights out of Ella Raines.

Lana Turner just turned down the third rewritten version of "No Life of Her Own." The impatient toe tapping comes from James Mason, who has been set as one of her co-stars . . . Hollywood failed again to lure Mary Pickford back to the screen. Paramount offered her a big role in "Sunset Boulevard." Mary said "No thanks."

More and more movies are being filmed on location to save the expense of studio sets.

Ninety per cent of Bogart's "In a Lonely Place" will be filmed in and around Hollywood and Los Angeles. A Malibu beach home figures in the plot. The company rented a Malibu cottage and Bogie and Lauren will make it do double duty by living in it while the film is in production.

It's all reminiscent of the screen's early days and the famous crack:

"A tree is a tree, a rock is a rock, shoot it in Griffith Park."

Los Angeles' Griffith Park was a favorite location spot before Hollywood started spending millions on sets.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13. (U.P.)—The typical pedestrian automobile accident victim is a "he" and he's 58 years old.

The National Safety Council has drawn a picture of the person most often on the receiving end of an automobile bumper, based on its survey of accident victim's characteristics.

The portrait shows a man born in the United States or an English-speaking country who has lived in his home city for 23 years.

He has had an eighth grade education and is what the council calls "hard to reach educationally."

He does not drive a car, has slowed reactions and set habits.

He is killed most often at night when he steps into the street absent-mindedly.

A survey of Wisconsin pedestrian victims showed that eight out of 10 of those killed never had been licensed to drive a car, indicating, the council feels, that they could not appreciate fully motorists' limitations.

THE QUESTION

What do you think about the proposal that the United Nations outlaw the use of the atomic bomb, except when approved by a designated group within the UN?

THE ANSWERS

MRS. RACHEL HENRY, 1610 Ave. J, drug clerk at Furr Food No. 2: "If it would keep Russia from coming over here, I think it would be a good thing. I do hate so badly to see another war. I hope that by this means it will prevent our having another war."

BOB PITCHFORD, 220 Uvalde, shoe salesman at Jones-Roberts: "I think that the atomic bomb can be controlled only in the same way that gas was in the last war. Everyone will have it, but we will all be afraid to use it."

CHARLES PARROTT, 1309 Eighth, employe of Lee cafe: "I think that the proposal is a good thing. I don't thank any nation should use it. I hope it will keep Russia from using the bomb."

JAMES W. CLEVELAND, 2406 Main, Tech student: "I don't think the proposal would do any good. The whole thing will be on the honor system and you can't always depend on people to keep their word; especially in time of war."

ELROY BOONE, Meadow farmer: "I believe that it would be a good thing. I believe that it will stop Russia from coming over here and destroying us as well as other countries."

JAMES REED, Spur, farm loans: "I really doubt if it could work. I don't think that we could trust Russia and they would certainly be in on it. I really feel, however, that the Russians don't even have the bomb."

5,000 Attend Show's Start

By EDWARD WELSH
Journal Staff Writer

LAMESA, Oct. 13—More than 5,000 persons turned out for the first day of Dawson county's Fair and Horse show which opened at 8 a. m. Wednesday.

The most optimistic estimates and expectations of the fair officials were realized both as to attendance and number of individual exhibits entered.

More than 400 exhibits were shown in the agricultural division and the community section had more than a score of well prepared displays. The third annual Horse Show attracted 80 entries.

Parade Opens Event

Although judging in the home economics, agricultural and horse shows started in the morning the official opening of the four-day event came with the 4 p. m. street parade. Stores and shops closed for the afternoon so that owners and employes could witness the parade.

Lamesa residents added to the color and spirit of the occasion by dressing in pioneer and western outfits. Men grew beards and women adorned themselves with poke bonnets and bustles. Manager Howard Maddox did not exaggerate when he said: "We worked hard to make this show better than those in cities much larger than Lamesa."

A pageant "Boom Days" was the feature attraction at 7:30 p.m. It is a show with a large local cast portraying the early days, both hardships and fun. It is being presented each night through Saturday.

"Queen" Is Crowned

The crowning of the "Queen of the South Plains" took place during the pageant Wednesday night. Harley Sadler, well-known showman and former representative from the Abilene district, crowned the queen in an impressive ceremony. The queen is attractive 17-year-old Joy Culp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Culp, Lamesa.

Miss Culp, a senior at Lamesa High school, is a blue-eyed blond. She rode on a specially constructed float in the parade with her court. Members of the court were: Jackie Sue Sealey, Donna Jean Caldwell, Joy Lee Renfro, Laneal Tankersley, Margaret Alsobrook and Shirley Magill.

Guy Weeks, parade chairman, marshalled the nile with dignitaries from Dawson county, the district and Mexico taking the

Minnesota Woman Is Named Ambassador

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13. (AP)—Mrs. Eugenie Anderson of Red Wing, Minn., has been nominated to represent the United States in Denmark as this country's first woman ambassador.

President Truman sent the name of the 40-year-old Democratic national committeewoman to the Senate yesterday to succeed Josiah Marvel, who vacated the Copenhagen post some months ago.

At the 500-acre Minnesota farm where she and her artist-husband live, Mrs. Anderson said she is an "ardent supporter" of Mr. Truman's foreign policy and added that she was "especially happy to be nominated as ambassador to Denmark."

There have been women ministers representing the United States abroad—Mrs. Perle Mesta at Luxembourg is one; Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, was another—but no woman ever before has held the full ambassadorial rank.

GIVES THIEF A BREAK

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (U.P.) — Dr. Sidney Issacs may have saved the life of a thief who stole $12 and an alcohol-labeled bottle from his office. When he discovered the break, he hastened to police and asked them to broadcast a warning that the bottle actually contained carbolic acid.

Texas Oilman Defies Threat

HOUSTON, Oct. 13 (AP)—Friends of oilman Glenn McCarthy told last night how he took a gun and tried to contact a would-be extortionist who demanded $50,000.

Raymond Chamber, a janitor at McCarthy's swank Shamrock hotel and a former deputy sheriff, was charged yesterday with writing the extortion note. He was released under $7,500 bond.

An examining trial was set for Wednesday. The FBI promised to have evidence here by then from Washington. FBI agents would not release details of the note.

Death Threatened

McCarthy's associates said the letter threatened death or injury to the oilman or a member of his family if he didn't deliver the money as directed. It was to be placed Oct. 1 in a culvert at a Houston intersection.

After thinking it over, McCarthy decided to ignore an FBI request and answer with a return note, his friends said.

He wrote a note saying it would be impossible for him to raise the money in small bills on such short notice. He asked the letter writer to contact him again.

Then, arming himself with a pistol, McCarthy drove to the intersection.

Note Not Picked Up

Curious residents of the section crowded around his Cadillac when he stopped. McCarthy told them he had engine trouble. While they looked under the hood, he tossed the note into the culvert.

FBI agents kept a constant watch over the culvert, but no one ever picked up the note.

After pleading innocent at his arraignment, Chamber told reporters he was going back to work. When he got to the Shamrock, he found he had been fired.

Chamber was arrested early yesterday as he left the night shift at the hotel.

HELP OF SOLONS TO BE ASKED

Shortage Of Steel Threat For Cotton

24TH ARREST—Mrs. Frances Worthington, 73, wanted at Lansking, Kas., for violation of parole from the state industrial farm for women, reads her bible in a Berkeley, Calif., jail cell after she was picked up off a train and jailed as a vagrant. Police Inspector E. F. Parker, who made the arrest, said she has been arrested 24 times since 1910 on charges ranging from shoplifting through arson and grand larceny. Mrs. Worthington told newsmen that she had gotten and spent $500,000 "all through the years." "I always did good with it," she said.

A tremendous threat to the marketing of the South Plains and Texas cotton crop came to light Wednesday night with the revelation that the supply of steel ties bands for bales already is in the critical stage, with the worst yet to come.

Managers of two companies in Lubbock supplying the steel bands readily confirmed a report from Sen. Tom Connally in Washington that the steel strike is endangering the marketing of the Texas cotton crop.

Supply Is Critical

"The tie band supply is extremely critical here at this time," said E. A. Patterson, owner of the company with his name, "but it isn't as critical as it will be in a week or 10 days unless there is some relief."

Another manager of a company handling the tie bands asked that his name not be used, but said:

"We certainly have a shortage. There is no secret about it."

He estimated that his company would be able to meet needs for five days, possibly longer, with present stocks.

"We are making a Herculean effort to get ties in from every possible source, and we may be able to keep customers supplied until the strike is settled. But if the steel strike isn't settled, eventually we will run out."

Patterson said that he, along with other tie dealers, would wire officials in Washington today asking for all assistance possible.

To Wire Mahon

Patterson said he would send his telegram to Rep. George Mahon of Lubbock.

"The situation is so critical that I bought a large number of used ties—and at a prohibitive price," Patterson said. "Right now, I have only about 25 per cent of what I will need to supply my customers for the rest of the ginning season."

Patterson said that he was noti-

Electric Plant Enlarged Here

Production capacity of the city electric plant was nearly doubled Wednesday afternoon when Mayor W. H. Rogers threw the switch which put the city's first turbine generating engine into operation.

Before the switch was thrown, the plant was capable of producing approximately 11,000 kilowatt hours of current. The new unit added 7,500 kwh. to this total and, when needed, can be stepped up to 9,000, City Manager Steve Matthews reported.

The installation cost nearly $800,000, financed with bonds voted about two years ago. The turbine unit was bought from the De Laval Steam Turbine Co., of Trenton, N. J.

Plan To Buy New Engine

Even before it was put into operation members of the city commission had begun their planning for the purchase of another of equal or larger size. The additional electricity will be needed before another engine can be installed if Lubbock continues to grow at the rate of the past several years, officials said.

Heretofore, the city has used diesel engines exclusively for the generation of electricity, having purchased the last several from the Nordberg Manufacturing Co., of Milwaukee.

The diesels cost less initially but require more room, generate less electricity and are more expensive to operate, the city manager said.

Also Houses Diesels

Housed in the same building in Northeast Lubbock with the new turbine are two of the diesels, each costing approximately $225,000. Each is more than twice as large as the turbine, but will generate only 2,200 kwh. of current. The diesels are the more economical when electrical requirements are relatively small, officials said in explanation of why turbines have not been bought sooner.

There was little formality in connection with the switch throwing.

Members of the city commission inspected the new engine, escorted by Truman Green, electrical plant superintendent; Tom Perry, of Trenton, the installation engineer for the De Laval company, and Matthews.

Present when the mayor closed the switch were Commissioners W. B. Price, John Spikes, E. K. Hufstedler and Clarence Whiteside.

Baylor-Raider Game Feature

Texas Tech officials Wednesday announced plans complete to handle a capacity crowd for Homecoming activities at the college and in the city this weekend.

Highlight of the annual celebration, to which thousands of Texas Tech ex-students and graduates will return from states throughout the nation, will be the Texas Tech-Baylor University football game at 2:30 Saturday afternoon in Jones Stadium.

All reserved seats for the game have been sold, Tech officials said Wednesday afternoon. But more than 2,000 general admission tickets will go on sale Saturday morning for Tech alumni returning for Homecoming festivities. Tickets remaining will be thrown open to the general public at 10 a.m. An overflow crowd of more than 18,000 persons is expected to jam Jones Stadium for the afternoon tussle, Morley Jennings, athletic director, said.

Meanwhile, D. M. McElroy, executive secretary of the Tech Ex-Students association, reported plans are complete for an informal reunion Friday night in the college recreation hall for alumni arriving early for the annual festivities.

Opening immediately after the traditional bonfire at 7:30 p.m. Friday, the recreation hall Green room will provide snack bar privileges and ample seating facilities for former students to renew old acquaintances and "re-fight former Homecoming games," McElroy said.

Elmer Tarbox will be in charge of the informal get-together.

Halftime performances at the football game will include an elaborate show by 136 members of the Texas Tech band. Professor D. O. Wiley, director, reported the band will salute Tech alumni with a schoolhouse with "X's" inside to the tune of "Schooldays," followed by salutes to Baylor and personnel at Lubbock Air Force base.

Shoe Race Planned

Also included at halftime will be the traditional freshman shoe race, at which all freshman men will pile their shoes on the 50-yard line and then make a scramble for them. The annual shirt-tail parade by the frosh will precede the game.

Appeals were already going out Wednesday for lumber and miscellanous materials to pile up for the traditional bonfire Friday night. Everything but textbooks is expected to be thrown onto the fire, in which a dummy Baylorite will be burned in effigy.

McElroy, meanwhile, was making efforts Wednesday to get a large number of faculty members to attend a free luncheon Satur-

POLITICAL SPECULATION HALTED

British Election Will Not Be Called In 1949, Attlee Says

LONDON, Oct. 13 (U.P.)—Prime Minister Clement Attlee announced today that the Labor government will not call a general election this year.

The statement issued from the prime minister's residence at No. 10 Downing street said:

"Having regard to the disturbing effects of trade and industry and on the national effort to the continuance of speculation as to an early general election, the prime minister thinks it right to inform the country of his decision not to advise his majesty to dissolve parliament this year."

Vote Next Summer

Attlee's decision was reached in a full cabinet meeting this morning attended by the top leaders of the Labor party, including Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, who returned yesterday from the United States.

The prime minister's statement indicated the Labor government will carry out its full term in office until next summer, when elections will have to be held by law.

The last election was in 1945 and elections must be held every five years.

To reach the decision against immediate elections Attlee was forced to beat down opposition within the Labor cabinet which felt that it would be better to go before the people now than later, when the effects of devaluation begin to pinch the working man.

Conservatives Meet

Health Minister Aneurin Bevan was understood to be a prime exponent of the "election now" school. Other personalities in Attlee's cabinet wished to hold off until after the steel nationalization bill becomes law next spring.

The announcement came amid the 70th annual conference of the Conservative party which some party member looked upon as preparation for a possible election this fall.

At the second session of the conference this morning, wartime secretary of war Leslie Hore-Belisha urged Great Britain to cut her ties of dependency upon the United States and create a British empire stronger than either the United States or Russia.

Two Children Are Crushed To Death

CORTLAND, N. Y., Oct. 13. (AP)—Doug Stebbins, 4, and his brother, Roy, 3, were crushed to death yesterday when an upright piano their mother was moving toppled over.

The children had been playing on the living room floor in their home.

Their distraught mother, Mrs. Andrew Stebbins, ran a quarter of a mile before she found two neighbors to help her right the piano. The boys were pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital.

Georgia Supermarket Gives Customers Special Service

WARNER ROBINS, Ga., Oct. 13 (AP)—A super-service supermarket here will deliver at hot dog to your door—with or without mustard and onions—with or without music.

Or if you don't like the way said hot dog is trimmed, Smith's Curb Market will hand you the mustard pot, the buns, the onions and point to the weiners and tell you you're on your own.

The music: Smith's delivery truck is rigged up with a loud speaker. You can have the recording of your choice played when the truck comes to your house to deliver the groceries.

Mabry T. Smith, owner, challenges all comers to outdo him in courtesy and service.

Smith came here from Dawson, Ga., during the war to work at the Air Force's huge supply and repair depot. In 1945, he went into business for himself.

Some of the features of his place:

You can hand your shopping list to a clerk and play miniature golf free while he fills it. Or you can dance on a patio adjoining the store. A couple of trained dogs will watch your car, meanwhile.

If you don't believe his boast of the best coffee in the world, try a cup, free.

The curb market sells poultry feeds. When customers are out of town, their chickens are watered and fed for them. When the market sells insect sprays, it lends a spray gun to go along with the order.

You can have your baby weighed, or your pet dog dewormed, without charge.

Smith not only gives matches with cigarettes, he throws in an ash try.

Tech Council Finds $7,700 In Old Fund

Ever wish you could wake up and discover you had a small fortune?

The Texas Tech student council did just that this week—or at least something a lot like that. Raymond Brigham, business manager for the council, was thumbing through past business records and discovered that some $7,700 was deposited in the First National Bank toward a Student Union building.

In the form of bonds and savings stamps, the fund had long since been forgotten. The fund, plus recent announcements that profits from concessions on the campus and, possibly, profits from the college bookstore, will go toward the building, raised hopes of early construction on the SUB.

TEXAS LADY LOSES 47 POUNDS

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger. Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here is proof

Here is what Mrs. H. P. Bishop, Route 2, Stamford, Texas, wrote us:

"I am very glad to endorse Barcentrate, so please accept my sincere thanks and appreciation for the great benefit I derived from its use. I not only lost weight, but also looked and felt better in every way.

"I had to have a very serious operation and was told that I must lose a lot of weight before the operation could be performed. I went on a diet and tried very hard to reduce, but wasn't losing much weight until I heard of Barcentrate. I began taking it and could soon tell the difference in the way I felt and the weight I was losing. I weighed 200 pounds when I started and I lost a total of 47 pounds and was able to undergo my operation. I can truthfully recommend it to others, since it did so much for me."

At all druggists

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Take it easy—Breeze through a week's washing with an automatic washer! Today's new, improved models help take the drudgery out of wash-day . . . bring added leisure to busy homemakers. At your dealers you'll find an automatic electric washer to suit every budget . . . to fit 'most any space. It's economical, too . . . low-cost, dependable electric service makes it that way!

Senate Passage Of Displaced Persons Measure Is Forecast

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP)—The battle over displaced persons legislation shifted to the Senate floor today amid indications that opponents are waging a losing fight.

Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois said he planned to call the House-passed bill up for action during the day. It is one of the major hurdles still in the way of an early adjournment.

The measure would raise the number of displaced persons eligible for admission to the United States from 205,000 in two years to 339,000 in three years.

Passed By Group

Passed by the House June 6 it was jarred loose from the Senate judiciary committee yesterday by a 7 to 3 vote and sent to the Senate without recommendation.

The action was taken in the absence of Senator McCarran (D-Nev), the chairman of the committee. Now in Europe investigating the DP program, he has made a determined fight against the legislation.

Senator Jenner (R-Ind), one of the committee members who voted against reporting the bill, said it probably will pass and added he anticipates no long fight against it.

Amendments Planned

Senator Langer (R-ND), who lined up with Jenner on the committee vote, said he plans to offer several amendments which he contended the committee did not have an opportunity to act on.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich), who led the drive in the committee to get the bill before the Senate, predicted its passage. Another committee member, Senator Wiley (R-Wis), also said he expected the bill to be passed no later than tomorrow.

The bill would make refugees who have fled from Communist-dominated eastern European nations as well as victims of Nazi persecution eligible for admission as DP's by changing the so-called "cut-off" date from Dec. 22, 1945, to January 1, 1949.

Other major changes in the present DP law, passed last year by the Republican-run 80th Congress, would eliminate the requirements that three out of every 10 DP's must be farmers and four out of 10 must be natives of the Baltic states of Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania.

Crowd Keeps Firemen From Reaching Blaze

DURAND, Mich., Oct. 13. (U.P.)—Dave Steel lost his garage and car because Durand residents love to watch fires.

Firemen were unable to reach the burning garage because the street was jammed with cars of residents gawking at the flames.

All the motorists got tickets—after Steel's garage and car were destroyed.

Texas Man To Appeal Five-Year Sentence

BISMARCK, N. D., Oct. 13 (U.P.)—A court-appointed attorney for Rolan Lee Davison, Tyler, Tex., sentenced to five years in a federal penitentiary, prepared to appeal the conviction today.

Davison received the sentence, maximum under the white slavery charges for which he was convicted, for chaining his 17-year-old wife to hotel beds and forcing her into prostitution.

Imposing the sentence, Federal Judge Charles Vogel said yesterday, "society needs a holiday from you for a while."

Federal District Attorney P. W. Lanier called the 41-year-old former cowboy radio singer "a menace to society" and recommended the full penalty of the law.

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 13. (U.P.)—James Brice Furguson, 57, a district judge at Pharr, Tex., died at Nix hospital early today.

Wreck Injuries Are Fatal To Texas Man

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Oct. 13 (U.P.)—A head-on collision near here had claimed its second victim today, Leonard G. Johnson, Houston, Tex., chemist.

Johnson died in a hospital yesterday, 24 hours after his wife was fatally injured in the crash.

Mrs. H. B. Sapp, 22, Tallahassee, was driving the other car, police said. She was held in Leon county jail here for investigation of manslaughter charges. Arresting officers said Mrs. Sapp did not have a driver's license.

Mary Lee Cowart of Tallahassee, a passenger in Mrs. Sapp's car, was hospitalized with serious injuries.

Tomato Plant Grows High As Peach Tree

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 13. (U.P.)—All of a sudden, says Dave Murphy, his tomato plant sprouted to a height of 10 feet, four inches.

"It was a runt for a long time," Murphy said, "then all at once it just decided to start growing.

Murphy says he didn't use any fertilizer. He planted it beside a peach tree and the plant climbed into the tree, with some of the tomatoes at the very top.

SENATE REJECTS OLDS CHOICE

Truman Handed Third Rebuff On An Important Nomination

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13. (AP)—A smarting 53 to 15 defeat on the reappointment of Federal Power Commissioner Leland Olds today handed President Truman his third—and sharpest—Senate rebuff this year on an important nomination.

Despite the pressure of party discipline which Mr. Truman marshalled behind the nominee, the Senate refused overwhelmingly to return Olds to the commission for a third term.

The vote came shortly after midnight. It followed weeks of debate which steadily mounted in heat and bitterness.

Opponents shouted that Olds is a foe of capitalism, that 20 years ago he wrote articles that helped promote communism.

Vested Interests Charged

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) called him "a warped, tyrannical, mischievous, egotistical chameleon whose predominant color is pink."

Senators supporting the nomination countered with charges that private gas and oil interests were backing the fight against Olds.

They pictured him as a devoted servant trying to protect consumers by effective utility regulation.

Democratic Leader Lucas, of Illinois, refused to say, after the vote, what effect Mr. Truman's directions for the party to take the Olds fight back to the people had on the outcome.

The President went all-out to win approval for Olds even after the Senate commerce committee had voted 10 to 2 against him. He made appeals directly to Congress. Then he set the Democratic national committee to raking the grass roots in support of the nominee. He asked that the party's national committee men and Democratic governors rally support for the nomination.

Johnsen Opponent

New York's two Republican senators were among those who spoke against Olds last night. Olds is a native of Rochester.

Senator Ives said "I have no faith in him as an exponent of democratic government in a free society."

Ives' colleague, Senator Dulles, cancelled a speaking engagement to fly to Washington to oppose the nomination.

Senator Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex), chairman of the commerce subcommittee which voted 7 to 0 against confirmation, told the Senate that Olds' record is "an uninterrupted tale of bias, prejudice and hostility, directed against the industry over which he now seeks to assume the power of life and death."

Others Rejected

Senators Humphrey (D-Minn) and Aiken (R-Vt) defended Olds.

Humphrey said the only argument against him is that "he has some kind of fishy background" and that he had "the guts to stand up in the 1920's and say he didn't like the plundering of the stock market."

Aiken said Olds' misfortune was that he had earned "the undying enmity" of utility interests.

Early in the session, a Senate committee bottled up Mr. Truman's nomination of former Gov. Mon Wallgren of Washington to be chairman of the National Security Resources board. The President finally withdrew Wallgren's name.

The Senate also rejected the nomination of Carl A. Ilgenfritz to be chairman of the munitions board because Ilgenfritz, a steel company executive, had accepted the appointment only on condition that he might keep his private salary.

Canned Fish Explode In Huge Truck Blaze

TUCUMCARI, N. M., Oct. 13 (INS)—People around Montoya, N. M., today figured that if the U. S. Army ever runs short of bombs it can always start using canned sardines.

When a trailer truck loaded with the tinned fish caught fire near Montoya, local residents thought World War Three had started.

The cans of fish exploded and burned all day in spite of efforts of Tucumcari firemen.

State police estimated damage at $30,000. They said damage included sixty feet of road which will have to be rebuilt.

Czech Purge Final Proof Reds Bent On Domination Of World

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Red purge which is sweeping Czechoslovakia is further proof—if more were needed—of Moscow's determination to establish world communism, and of the tremendous efficiency of the machine which backs that determination.

The communist government in Prague, which grew out of the Russian military occupation at the end of the war, from the outset has encountered widespread resistance. Ineffective efforts by the authorities to bring recalcitrant citizens into line finally have resulted in a wholesale purge. This is described in news dispatches as creating a fear bordering on hysteria among the population.

Drive Against Property Owners

By day and by night people are being arrested, and many of them reportedly are being sent to prisons or labor camps. The drive is said to be mainly against the propertied class, and businesses are being confiscated. The chief causes of this upheaval are threefold:

1. The intense fervor of the people as a whole for their democracy and their refusal to surrender their nationalism to Moscow.

2. The opposition of landowners and big business to nationalization.

3. The bitter clash between atheistic communism and a highly religious population, some 75 per cent of which is Catholic.

In order to get the full significance of what is happening you must have evperienced the tremendous pride of the Czechoslovaks in their new republic, which was born at Versailles out of the first global war to make the world "safe for democracy."

Church Fight Bitter

Then, less than a generation later, came the second world war which resulted in the Russian occupation of Czechoslovakia and the inevitable inauguration of a communist regime. This creation of a Red government say President Eduard Benes, one of the founders of Czechoslovakia, died of a broken heart. It saw Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk, son of the father of his country, die in an unexplained fall from a high window in his Prague apartment.

All these circumstances created fear and distrust among the citizens. As time went on this dissatisfaction intensified and grew into outright resistance in many quarters.

The fight between the communists and the Catholic church has been bitter. Many priests are reported to have been arrested because of refusal to submit to Red dictation, and churches thus have been left without their pastors. Meantime courses in communism are said to have been installed in the schools.

Plans Made For VFW Meeting Next Month

The semi-monthly meeting of the Lubbock post of the V.F.W. was held Wednesday night at the clubhouse at Thirty-fourth and Ave. N. Approximately 450 persons attended.

Preliminary plans were made for a District 7 V.F.W. convention to be held in Lubbock Nov. 19-20.

Members also voted to have a get-acquainted party for all personnel at Lubbock Air Force base on the evening of Friday, Nov. 4. The gathering will be held at the V.F.W. hall. All Air Force personnel at LAFB have been invited to attend.

Reports were made on the progress of ticket sales for the professional fighting matches, to be held at Chapman fieldhouse at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 18, under sponsorship of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Officers of the organization have urged all who plan to attend the matches to pick up their tickets at Hilton hotel or Hub Clothiers as soon as possible.

Proceeds from the matches will be shared jointly by Girlstown and the local Goodfellow fund.

Fifty-eight new members were taken in at last night's meeting. William Earl Creel, commander, presided.

MORE FOOD FOR HUNGRY SOUGHT

Scotsman Who Favors World Government Wins Nobel Prize

OSLO, Norway, Oct. 13 (AP) — Lord Boyd Orr, a bushy-browed Scotsman who believes wars can be prevented by creation of a world federal government and raising more food to prevent hunger, is the winner of the Nobel peace prize for 1949.

The Norwegian parliament's Nobel committee announced the award last night. Boyd Orr is a food expert and practical farmer. He formerly headed the United Nations Food and Agricultural organization.

No Nobel peace prize was given in 1948. The 1947 prize went to the American Friends (Quakers) Service committee and the Friends Service council, London.

Reasons Not Given

The prize, awarded from a fund set up in 1896 by Alfred B. Nobel, the inventor of dynamite, amounts to 156,289.82 Norwegian kroner ($21,889.30). It is awarded to persons deemed outstanding in promoting peace among nations.

Expressing surprise at his selection, Lord Boyd Orr told a reporter in Dundee, Scotland, that he would use the money to promote peace and world government.

He added: "The important thing in the world today is to get the nations to cooperate."

The Nobel committee does not give reasons for its awards. The 69-year-old recipient, known as Sir John Boyd Orr, until he was made a baron last January, said he believed the prize was given him for his proposals for a world food plan as well as for his work for a world federal government.

Plan Is Cited

Lord Boyd Orr served as director-general of the food and agriculture organization from the time it was set up in 1946 until April, 1948, being succeeded in that post by Norris E. Dodd of the United States. In September, 1948, Lord Boyd Orr was elected president of the World Movement for World Federal government at a congress of World Federalists in Luxembourg.

His plan to fight hunger calls for doubling the world's food production during the next 25 years. This would be accomplished through increased use of modern agricultural methods and reduction of soil fertility losses. It also calls for a world food board to regulate prices on international markets "at levels fair to producers and consumers alike."

Background Given

If carried out, such a plan, would "bring contentment to people who are in revolt against their hunger and poverty," Lord Boyd Orr said.

Born in Ayrshire, Scotland, in 1880, Boyd Orr is a graduate of Glasgow university. During World War I he served with distinction in the British army and was awarded the military cross and the distinguished service order for bravery in action. His only son was killed fighting in the RAF in World War II.

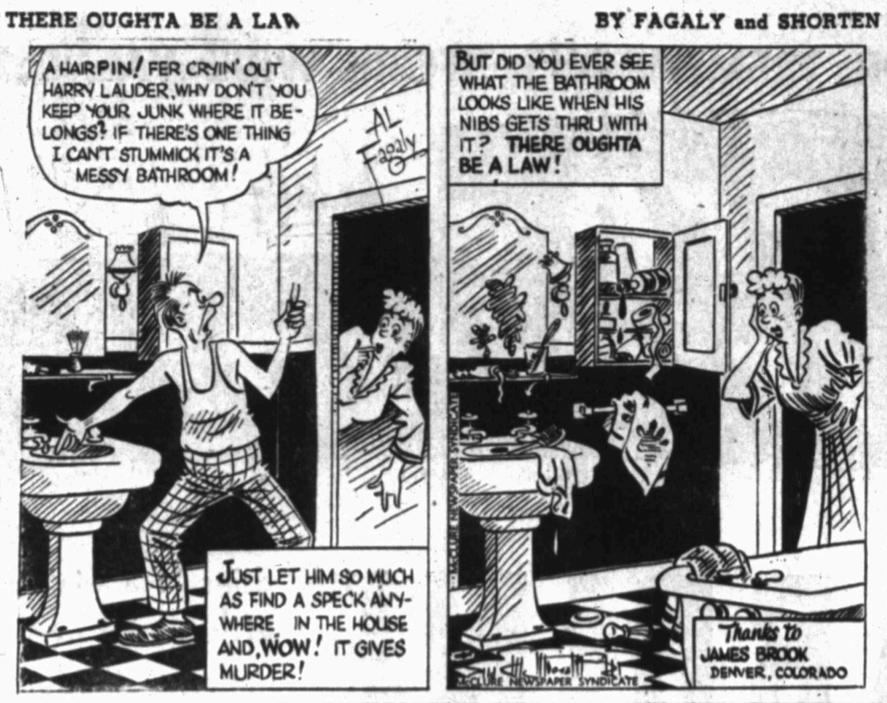

In 1935 Boyd Orr was knighted for his public services.

More than a score of persons and institutions had been proposed for this year's peace prize. Others nominated included Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt; President Juan D. Peron and his wife, Eva, of Argentina, and President Karl Renner of Austria.

Regulations provide that parliaments and governments all over the world may suggest candidates.

So, also, may members of the Norwegian Nobel committee, professors of philosophy, economics and current history at universities, previous winners of the prize and the bureau of peace in Geneva.

"Symphony" Dinner Set Here Tonight

Approximately 250 leading business and professional figures of Lubbock are to gather at the Hilton hotel at 7 p. m. today in a "Lubbock Symphony Orchestra" dinner.

Purpose of the dinner is to make the people more aware of the Lubbock Symphony orchestra as a community project and asset, Roy Bass, president of the board of directors, said Wednesday. No solicitations for funds will be made at the dinner, Bass said.

Three talks are scheduled at the dinner. Chas. A. Guy, editor of The Avalanche-Journal, will be master of ceremonies.

Wm. Harrod, director, will tell how the orchestra selects its personnel; Gene Hemmle, head of the department of music at Texas Technological college, will speak on the symphony as an asset in the musical life of the community; and Jas. L. Quicksall will talk on the symphony as a civic and business asset of the community.

Dawson County Fair Launched; 5,000 Attend On Opening Day

lead. In the first car were Harley Sadler, Rep. Preston Smith, Sen. Kilmer Corbin, Judge Reed and Mayor Sam Richardson.

In the second car were the members of the Mexican commission; J. Trinidad Chegalla, Flabio M. Aguirre, Tulio Ortiz, Luiz Amaro, Silvester Torrez, Agustin Cardona and Selestino Castro.

The Tornado band furnished the march music for the parade which made its way from the west side of town around the square and past a reviewing stand to break up at the fair grounds. Visiting dignitaries occupied seats on the reviewing stand. Connalley Baldwin, president of the chamber of commerce and Ross Woodson, president of the fair association were also on the stand.

As the parade passed the reviewing stand a child got separated from her parents. The little toddler was brought to the public address system where her cries were amplified. Apparently her wails were recognized for her father came running for her. The child was three-year-old Mary Ruth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Sheppard, Star Route, Lamesa. The youngster was restored to her parents by Mrs. Matt McCall, secretary of the chamber of commerce.

Pioneers Are Honored

An old one horse shay occupied by pioneer citizens Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Merrick drew applause from the spectators. The Merricks came to Dawson county more than 40 years ago. The Merricks and other pioneers were honored at a special reception at the Mesa. Mrs. Wright J. Boyd headed the group entertaining the old settlers.

Homecoming

day at noon in the gymnasium.

Given for all returning alumni by Furr Food stores and Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma coaches, the luncheon is being thrown open to faculty members this year because exes have formerly complained of not seeing enough teachers, the alumni secretary explained.

Parade Slated Saturday

The luncheon will be held following the Homecoming parade at 10 a.m. Led by 120-members of the marching band, the parade will feature 43 floats, making it the longest in the history of the college.

Prizes for the best float in three classifications—beautiful, descriptive, and comic—have previously been announced. The prizes, consisting of a plaque bearing the engraved name of the organization, will be presented during the halftime performances at the ball game. Overall winner in the float contest will be announced at the time and presented a temporary trophy to be given annually to the winning contestant.

Float Sponsors Named

Organizations entering floats in the beautiful classification include Wranglers, Las Chaparritas, Las Camaradas, Las Vivarachas, Gargoyle, Delta Sigma Pi, Sans Souci, D.F.D., Ko Shari, Centaur, Socii, Silver Key and Association of Women Students.

Entering floats in the descriptive division will be Gamma Delta, Press club, College club, S.A.M.E., Saddle Tramps, Capa y Espada, Dairy Manufacturing club, Tech Geology club, Agriculture club, Block and Bridle, A.I.M.E., Tech Chamber of Commerce, Kemas, Future Teachers of America, Home Economics club, Four H club, Major Minor, Student Religious council, and Cosmopolitan.

In the comic section, organizations to enter floats are: Pre-Medical club, Alpha Epsilon Delta, Men's Dorm 3, Future Farmers of America, Signal club, Men's Dorm 4, Tech Radio association, A.I.I.E., K.A.M., and American Chemical society.

The Donkey club is also entered but not under any of the above classifications.

Also on schedule for the weekend will be numerous Homecoming activities by various organizations on the campus for former members. A dance Saturday night on the campus will wind up the Saturday activities.

Members of the Texas Tech Board of Directors will hold an annual meeting at the college at 10 a.m. Saturday as another highlight of the weekend program.

Cotton Threat

fied last week by the Atlantic Steel company in Atlanta, Ga., that his order for enough ties to wrap 20,000 bales of cotton was sitting on the docks of the steel plant but could not be shipped due to the strike.

"I asked them if I could send my own trucks to load out the ties and was informed that I could not do that." Patterson said.

Has Supply For Week

He estimated that his supply would last about a week. He explained that his company ran a smaller volume than others here, but that all were in about the same situation.

"I have been trying to buy ties everywhere," Patterson said Wednesday. "Just today I put in phone calls to Dallas, Galveston, Augusta, Birmingham and Shreveport."

"Unless the strike is broken or relief comes from some other source, we can't get half way through the South Plains cotton crop," he estimated. He said dealers have been trying to buy ties from each other.

Most ginners and farmers in this area were unaware of the shortage, one dealer said, explaining why the situation has not been the subject of talk among cotton men.

Hopes No Alarm Caused

One dealer urged that no undue alarm be created as a result of the shortage after he was informed that The Morning Avalanche had received a report on the situation from its Washington correspondent, Sarah McClendon.

"If they find out there is a shortage, people will rush in trying to get as many ties as they can," the dealer explained. He added that his firm does not plan to raise the price on ties regardless of the shortage.

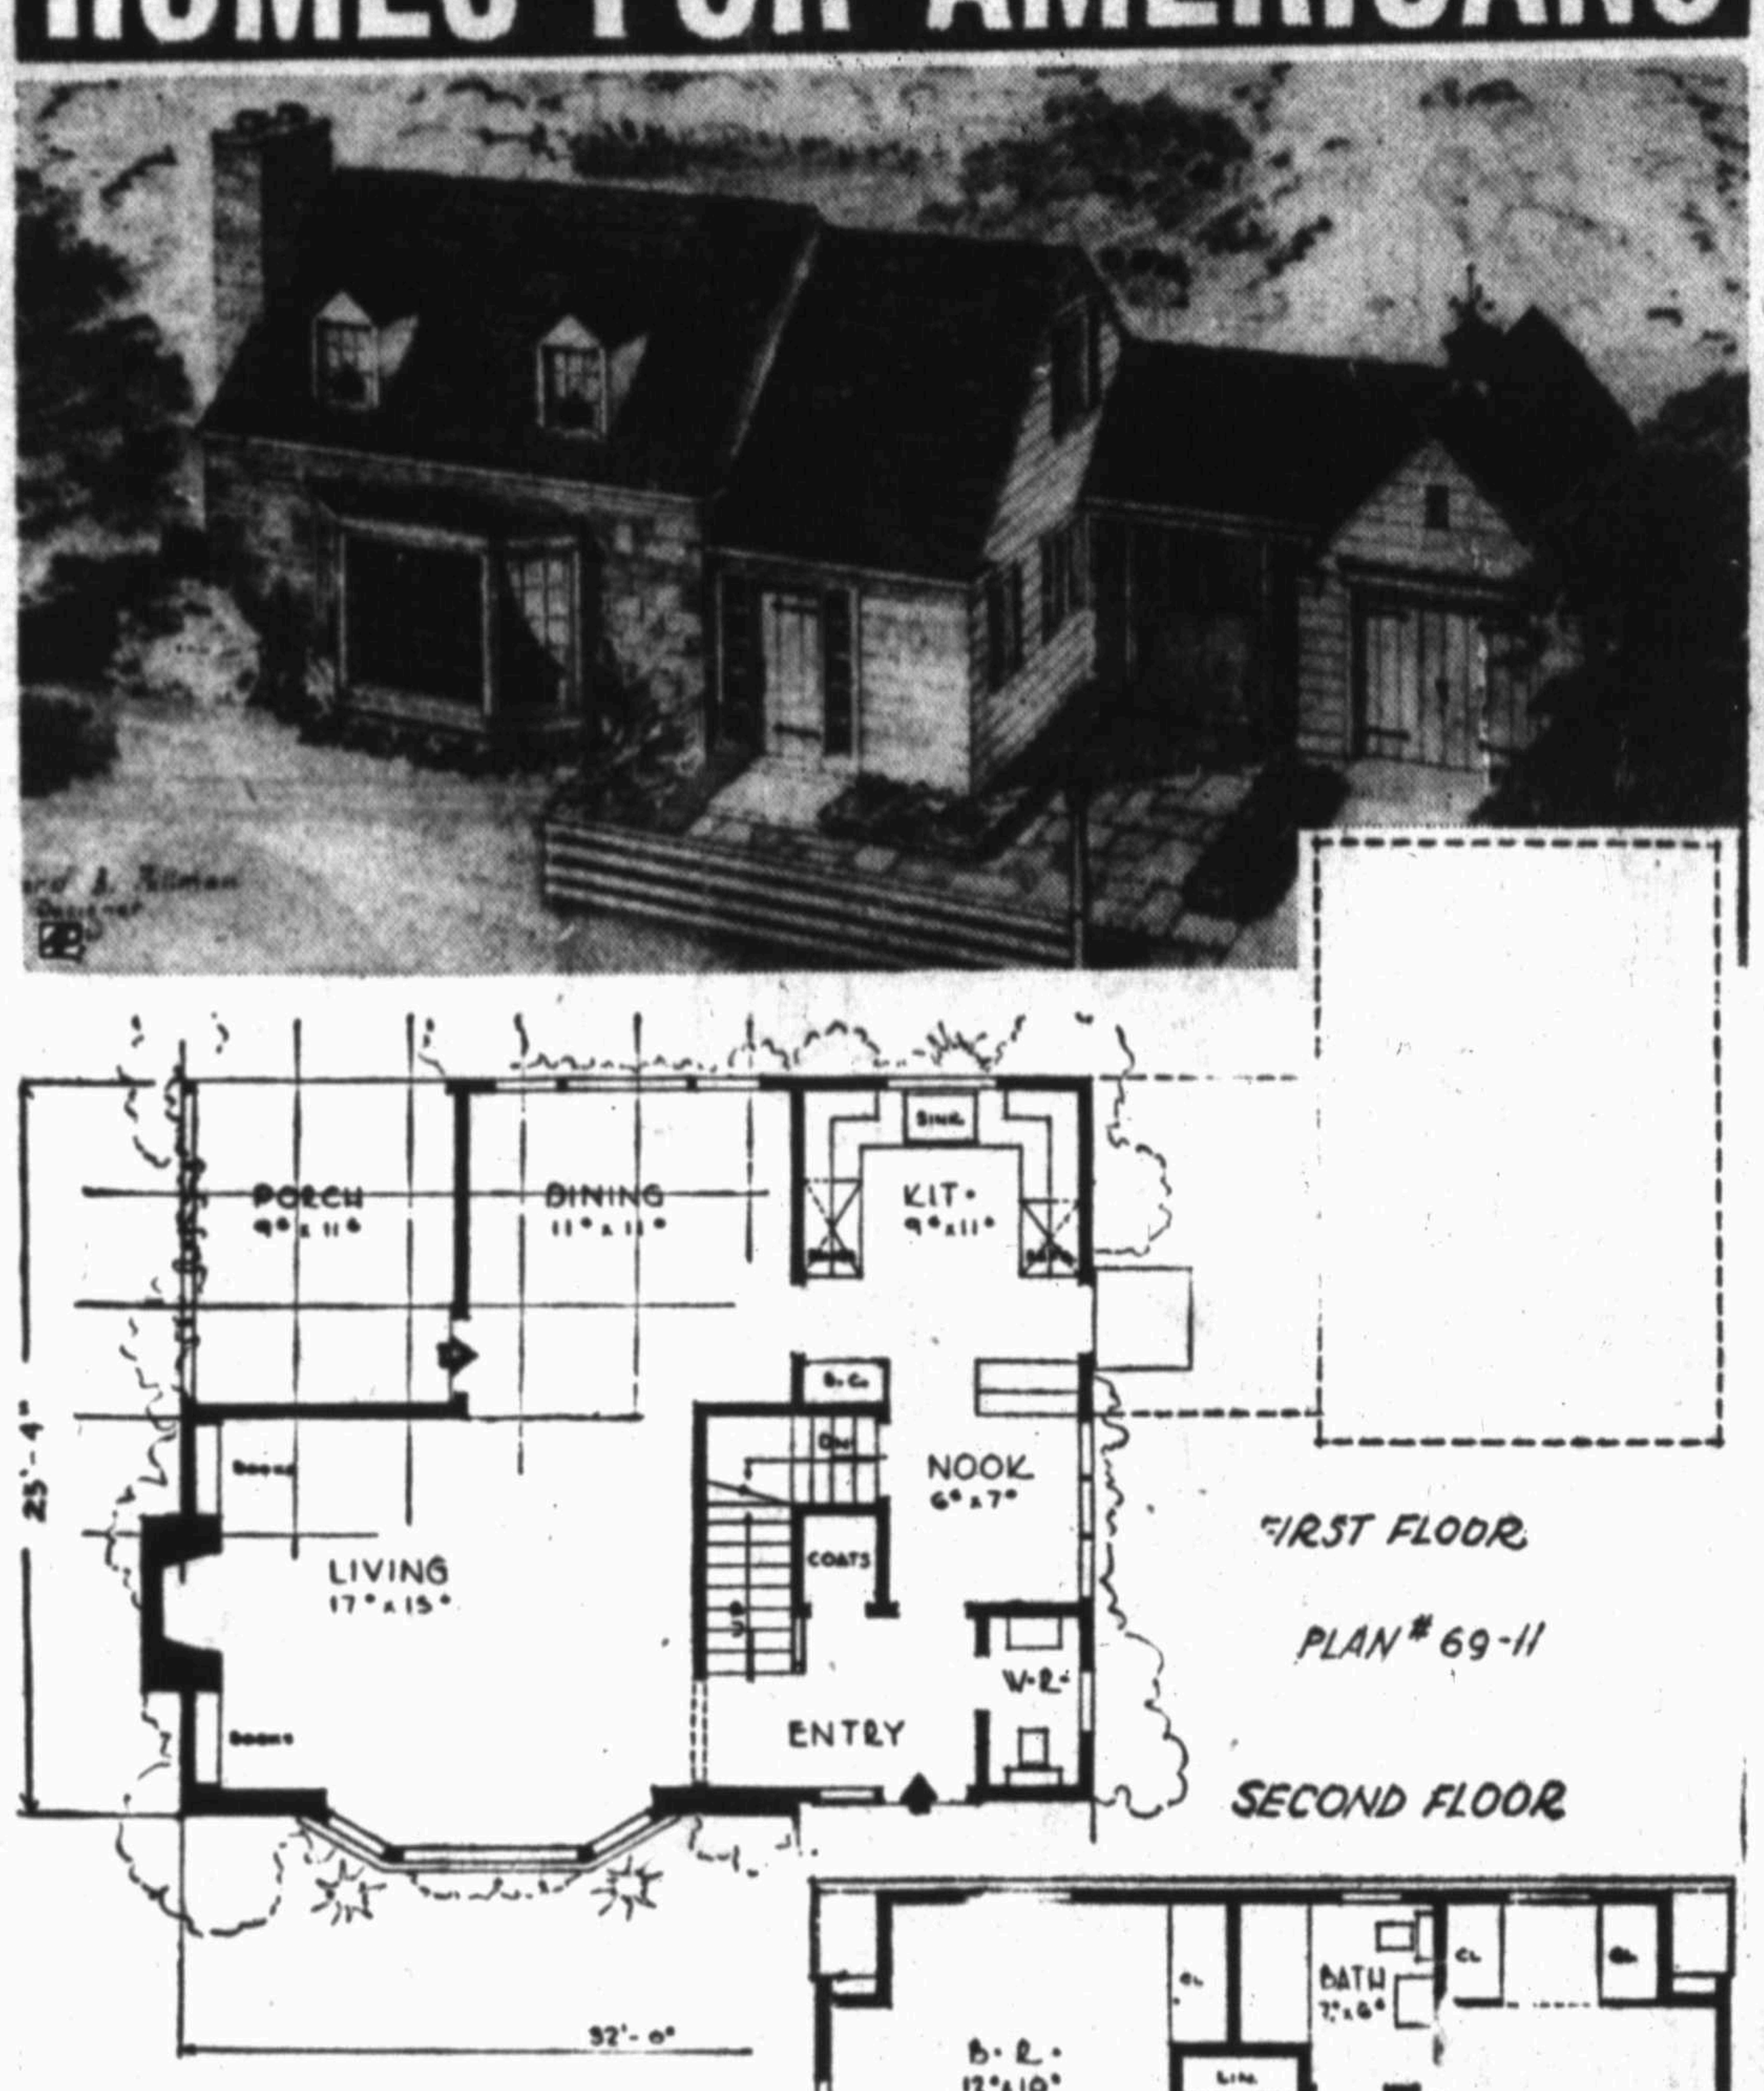

Senator Connally said officials of the San Antonio Bag and Burlap corporation informed him of the critical shortage of steel tie bands. If more tie bands are not available soon, the farmers of Texas stand to lose immense sums of money on their cotton crop, company officials said, adding that ties are necessary for ginning of cotton. The San Antonio men said one-half of the Texas crop has been harvested, and that a real emergency exists in the steel shortage.

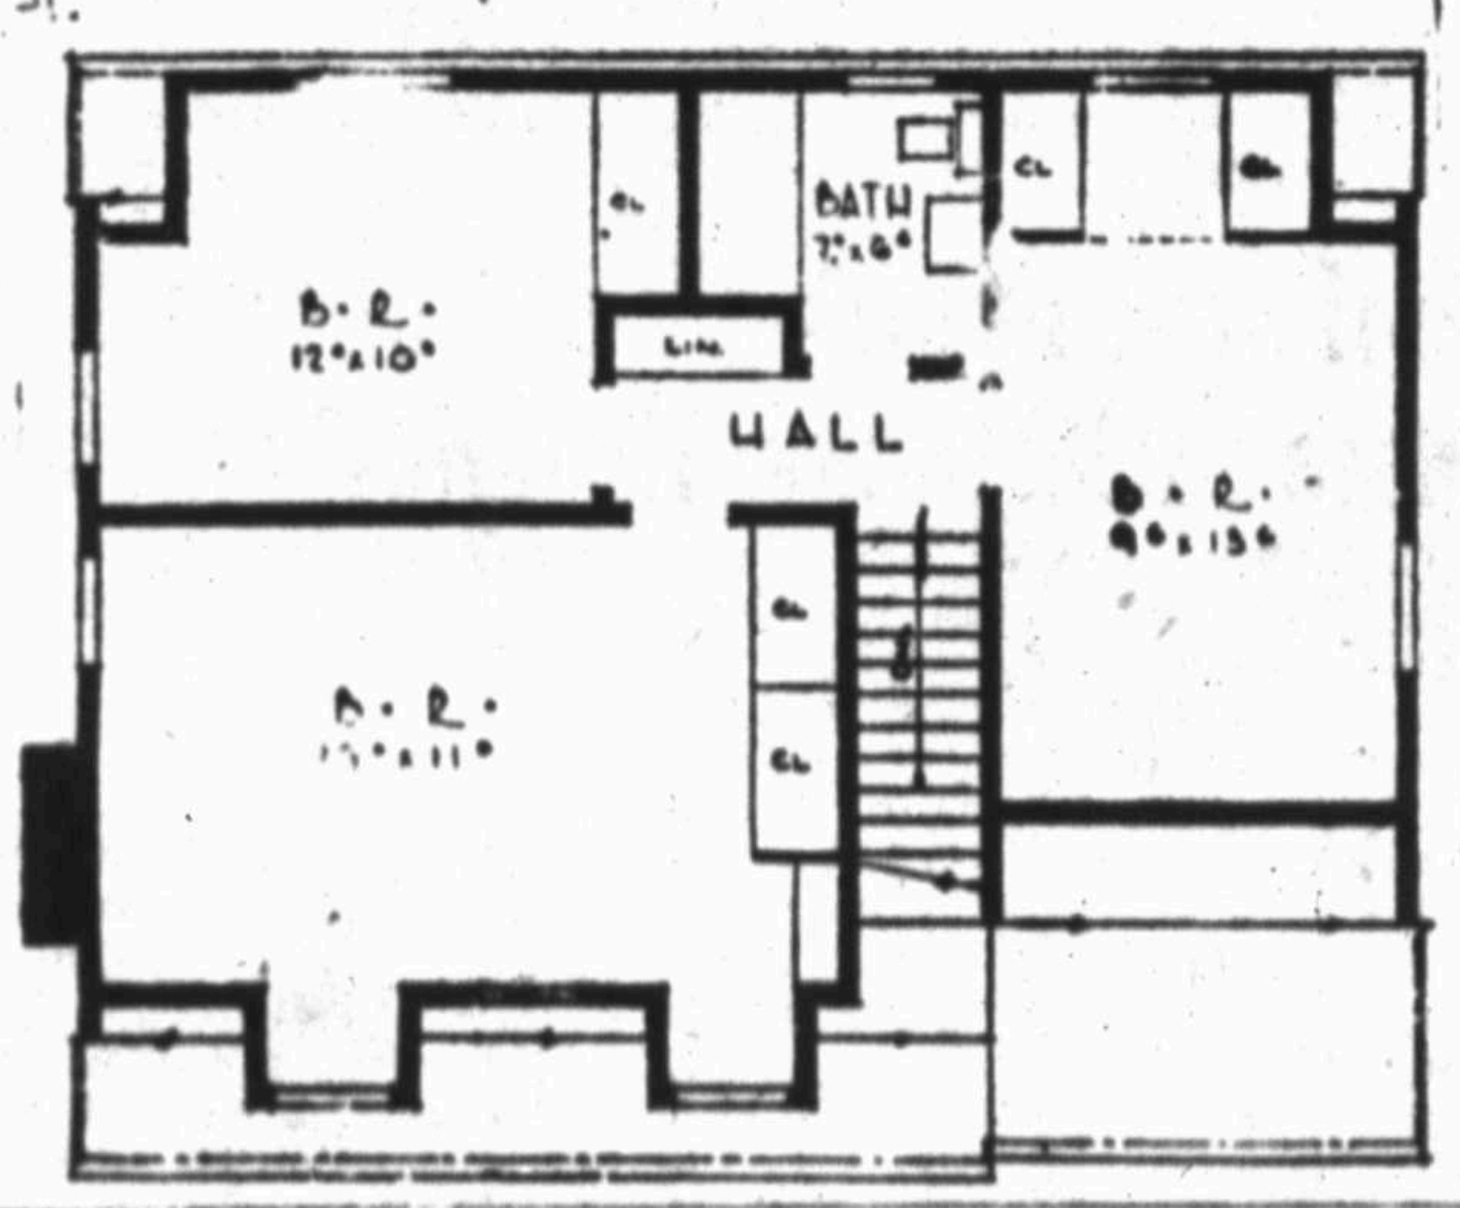

So quiet had the shortage been on the South Plains that Arch S. Underwood, of the West Texas Compress and Warehouse company, said that he had not heard of it.

P. B. Justice, manager of the Fortenberry gin at New Deal, said that he knew of no shortage and that he had not heard other ginners speak of any. "However, we haven't tried to purchase any ties," he added. The Fortenberry gin company purchased an ample supply of ties earlier to carry it through the season.

However, Patterson said, a large portion of ginners in the area were not so happily fixed.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

MODERN TOUCHES bring the Cape Cod cottage up to date in this plan with a large bay window in front and picture windows in the dining room facing the rear garden. A covered porch is conveniently planned for outdoor dining. A long dormer in the rear allows for ample ceiling height in bedrooms and bathroom. This is Plan 69-H by Richard B. Pollman, architect, 11711 East Eeight mile Road, East Detroit, Mich. The house covers an area of 1,366 square feet and has a content of 18,520 cubic feet. The garage adds 294 square feet and the breezeway 96.

Texas Project To Be Sought

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13. (AP)—A delegation of Brownwood, Texas, citizens tomorrow will urge the army engineers' board for rivers and harbors improvements to approve a flood control-water conservation project for their area.

Arriving here during the past two days by automobile, plane and train, members of the group have conferred with Rep. Fisher (D-Texas).

Specifically under consideration will be an army division engineer's report which recommends authorization of some improvements the Brownwood people want but asserts that some other requested works are "economically unjustified" now.

Dam Is Planned

Recommended by the district and division engineers is a proposed $9,035,000 earth dam which would be constructed just downstream from the present Lake Brownwood.

The annual maintenance cost of the dam is placed at $49,000, of which approximately $5,000 would be furnished by local interests.

The Brown County Water Improvement District No. 1, which owns and operates Lake Brownwood, would have free and exclusive use of conservation storage in the new reservoir below an elevation of 1,425 feet above sea level. The capacity above that figure would be set aside by army engineers for flood control purposes.

Cloves were such an expensive luxury to western civilization at one time that the ships explorer Ferdinand Magellan sold a cargo of them for more than the cost of a three-year expedition.

Israel Is Policing Borders To Prevent Illegal Immigration Of Arab Refugees

TEL AVIV, Oct. 13 (UP)—A sizeable wave of Arab "illegal immigration" into Israel is under way.

Thousands of Arab refugees blistering under the sun in Jericho Valley camps are reported to be making an exodus toward the Judean hills. Others are believed to have crossed into Jewish lines particularly near the "triangle" area, east of Nathanya where the Arab Legion recently transferred a long strip of land to Israel.

Mixed Israel Army and police mobile and mounted patrols have been strengthened and are policing a 200-mile front on the eastern border to stop infiltrations.

One group of Arabs was sighted crossing the lines in the Judean hills northwest of Jerusalem near Neve Ilan settlement. The settlers, former French Maquis, sighted the Arabs early in the morning. When their warning was unheeded there was an exchange of shots. Two of the Arabs were killed and 10 others are believed to have been wounded.

Border Incidents

Reports of similar incidents have filtered through official sources who are trying to hush them up. They are taking drastic measures to halt trespassers.

Many reports have been published in the local press about Arab rustlers stealing cattle from Jewish border villages. Estimates of the influx of Arab refugees run as high as 40,000.

Travelers from the Arab areas of Palestine report that the word is going around that Israel has become "a land flowing with milk and honey." The refugees, tired of scanty U. N. and Red Cross relief, feel they have little to lose by heading toward the new "promised land."

High Wages Rumored

Reports of Arabs in Israel receiving wages as high as two and three Israeli pounds a day—an unheard of figure in these regions—are also stimulating the exodus.

There is also a rising wave of smuggling. Goods and foodstuffs are plentiful in the Arab areas. There is no money to buy them. Austerity and strict control of all essential commodities in Israel make this country an attractive market.

The smugglers' job is comparatively simple. On a dark night they filter into a village like Beit Safafa, south of Jerusalem, where the Israel border cuts right down the main road inside the town. They cross over, sell their goods to "contact men" and then slip off.

The rugged border makes strict law enforcement an almost impossible task.

Top speed of the old covered wagons which helped settle America was about 20 miles a day.

Ireland Plans Film Industry

DUBLIN, Oct. 13 (U.P.)—Ireland needs a film industry and is preparing to establish one.

Noted film critic Liam O'Laoghaire laments that this country's "film-making record is a deplorable one."

"The cinema is now 50 years old," he pointed out recently, "but here in Ireland the making of films has been so spasmodic, so unimaginatively approached that we may discount anything that has been done, and say that Ireland has not and never had an Irish film industry."

Irish experts are fully aware that the film is an ace card in international relations. They know that England, Russia, Spain, France, Italy, Mexico, Argentina and other nations are giving more attention than ever before to film production, and they feel uneasy about it.

The National Film Institute of Ireland was concerned recently when foreign newsreels again made their appearance in Ireland. The reason for their concern is that "news of the world" films invariably boost the way of life in the country which makes the film.

Would Boost Ireland

What is needed here, the experts say, are films dealing with Ireland and the Irish way of life."

O'Laoghaire believes Ireland is a "parasite" in the film industry, "preferring to fill our cinema with the slick factory products of Hollywood and the larger English film-producing centers. In the face of this it is sheer hypocrisy to talk of Irish culture.

"This state of affairs," he warned, "will remain to our national and international discredit until we decide to do something about it."

Stressing that "we are not potentially a nation of fools and our capacity for creative effort and creative living is as great as that of any other people," he points out:

1. In Ireland there is a small number of theaters—roughly 300. The returns from films in such a limited market necessarily must be small.

2. A short film can be made in Ireland for about $32,000, but it can make only about $8,000 in the theaters.

3. A feature film could be made for about $75,000 and might make about $16,000.

Subsidy Needed

This means that a subsidy of some kind is necessary to make Irish film production possible.

"The first step," says O'Laoghaire, "is to create a steady flow of short films dealing with various aspects of the nation's life. These should deal with business, social life and sports. This type of film has been made abroad without regard to financial returns, but in actual fact, many of them have not merely paid for themselves but have shown an appreciable profit."

The National Film Institute in an appeal for new members noted that "the film has immense possibilities for good and evil," and stressed "it is imperative that we should have control of the possibilities."

POLIO CARE AND ITS COST

Here are some of the items purchased for polio victims with March of Dimes funds. However, this year's record epidemic has emptied all funds of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, and thousands more still need help. Thus, for the first time in its history, the National Foundation is conducting an emergency drive. Send your contribution today to "Polio", in care of your local post office. Help buy one of these needed items for a polio victim.

Colorful New Looks For Men Are Unveiled By Paris Styler

PARIS, Oct. 13 (AP)—Plunging purple neckline and all—the new look for men has been unveiled in Paris.

It's all because tailor Gaston Waltener believes man today is in a state of "vestimentary inferiority." Waltener yesterday showed an audience of 500 what he would do about it.

Four young men from the Conservatory of Dramatic arts—there were no male fashion models to be had—turned and walked about to show 16 such confidence-boosting ensembles as:

A black ski outfit, with red paisley scarf and green-laced boots;

A purplish prune-colored dinner jacket with "plunging neckline"—plunging to the middle of the stomach.

An equally prune-hued tailcoat, with opera cape of lighter purple sporting an elaborate antique silver chain clasp.

A sample comment came from a British reporter (who wore a poison green tweed jacket, non-matching slacks, grey pullover and red and blue necktie hanging outside):

"If I'd known what was coming up, I'd have worn my dungarees."

Safety Committee Organized By Club

Members of the Lubbock 20-30 club held their regular weekly dinner meeting and business session Wednesday night in Hotel Lubbock. Twenty members attended.

At the business meeting, a safety committee headed by Wayne Bain, Tom Adams, and Tom Vallas, was set up. Jimmy Williams and Gene Blackburn were named to head a project to place road signs on the outskirts of Lubbock on six highways.

Discussion was held on a Hallowe'en costume dance. Details of the social gathering are to be presented at the club's meeting next Wednesday night.

Guests at last night's meeting were Buddy Gobb of Midland and Jack Bates of Lubbock.

Prof Says Knowing Right People Brings More Social Rating Than Having Money

CHICAGO, Oct. 5, (U.P.)—It's the people you know and who know you that really determines your social rating, according to Lloyd Warner, University of Chicago professor and author of "Social Class in America."

He says that whom you know and who knows you—which is your social rating — is determined by four things:

1. Your occupation or that of the head of the family.
2. The source, but not the amount of your income.
3. The kind of house you live in.
4. The neighborhood you live in.

Warner gives each of these factors a rating and says the sum of the ratings shows how you stand socially in your community.

At the same time, he says, the rating will tell what chances you have to climb the social ladder.

Bank Clerk Rates

For instance, a family with a father who is a bank clerk gets a rating of three for occupation, according to the book. Since the father's income is salary, the family would rate a four for source of income. If such a family chose wisely, they might live in a good neighborhood with a rating of three, and in a house which also might rate three. When the score is added, it tells you that the family rating is somewhat superior to that of most people, but below a small social group which outranks all others. Such a family is in a good position to shoot for higher levels, Warner says.

The money a family has is not too important for social position, he adds. What are more important are the lodges, clubs and groups a husband or wife belong to, or does not belong to, which help establish a family's place in the social heap.

Keeping up with the Joneses, concludes Warner, takes some money but not a lot. For the socially ambitious, it takes a lot of know-how on how to use that money so that it does the most for the family socially.

Army's Second Note Makes Family Happy

DUCKTOWN, Tenn., Oct. 13 (U.P.)—A Ducktown family was glad the postman rang twice.

The Army advised them that their son, Pfc. Wesley Cain, had been found dead in bed, fatally wounded.

But later another communication arrived saying it was all a mistake.

The dead man was Johnny King, who occupied a bed bearing Cain's name. Cain had been transferred but his name was still on the bed, the Army explained.

Robot Starter Gives Runners Equal Start

DANVILLE, Ill., Oct. 13.—sporting goods firm executive has designed a robot starter which gets track runners off to an even start, guarding against jumping the gun.

Lee Anderson, former University of Illinois athlete, said he got the idea for the device while watching a track meet.

He said there were 30 false starts in 40 events in one meet, although an official was paid $100 a day to start the runners evenly. Only three false starts occurred when the machine was used in another meet, he said.

Its value lies in the fact that an unfair starting lead, although slight, could give a runner an advantage sufficient to win a race, Anderson said.

The device has a tube containing a blank cartridge chamber extending seven feet above it. An electric eye focuses directly in front of the starting line and a foul horn sounds if a runner jumps the gun.

When the runners are ready, a bell rings for 8½ seconds, warning them to get on the mark. Then a buzzer sounds for 2.3 seconds, telling them to get ready, and the pistol fires.

Houston Woman, Girl Injured In Shooting

HOUSTON, Oct. 13 (U.P.)—A young mother and her five-year-old daughter were hospitalized here today with numerous gunshot wounds after a freak accident that nearly cost their lives.

Mrs. Eloise Mince, 22, and her daughter, Priscilla, were felled with birdshot from a shotgun while sitting in their living room.

C. H. Barden, Mrs. Mince's father, told police he planned to go hunting and threw his gun into a car in the driveway.

It discharged accidentally, 16 of the pellets hitting Mrs. Mince in the shoulder, neck and cheek. Priscilla was hit in the face by three shots.

Large-Scale Farming And Mechanization Drives Texas Population To The Cities

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 13. (U.P.)—In the brief span of a single generation, the state of Texas has taken giant strides from a "rural state" to an "industrial state."

That is the conclusion of a Texas A. and M. College professor, Wayne C. Rohrer, in interpreting a farm and ranch population survey made jointly by the college and the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

In 1920, one of every two Texans lived on a farm or ranch. In 1940, one in every three was a country dweller. Now, only one of four lives on the land.

Continues Trend

The 1949 survey showed the state's farm population as 1,701,000. A year earlier, it was 1,712,000. The loss of 11,000 in rural population in the year continued the long-time trend, but the figure at the same time indicated, perhaps, that the big swing to the city was slowing down, for the average nine-year farm population loss (1940-1948) was 48,600.

The loss of 11,000 population in the latest farm census represented a large transfer of people. Actually, 123,000 people settled on Texas farms and ranches in the year 1948, while 134,000 were moving away, most of them to towns.

"Since 1940, the total population of Texas has increased by 979,000 persons, while the farm population has decreased by 428,000," said Rohrer. "These figures indicate that the urbanization of Texas, which has occurred with phenomenal rapidity, has been based to a great degree on the movement of rural-farm people to urban centers."

Better Living In Town

The reasons are several, both economic and sociologic. Generally the first to abandon a rural area are people in the low income group, Rohrer said, and "much as some would like to see the farm population stabilized, society would not want to condemn people to live on a worn-out farm of uneconomical size when they can make a better living in town.

Other factors he cited were: the trend toward large-scale farming, mechanization, and increased production per worker.

He has figures showing that in 1787 one farmer could do little more than feed himself and his family, and that the work of 19 farmers was required to support one other American. Today, 19 farm people support themselves, 56 other Americans and 10 persons abroad. In the past half-century, the output per farm worker has increased by 250 per cent.

Police Fear Vermin May Infest New Jail

CHICAGO, Oct. 13 (U.P.)—Police of Chicago's 26th district have a new $250,000 station, but they have an old problem.

The station, part-time habitat of many Skid Row derelicts, may well become a "vermin infested hole" just like the old one unless some solution of how to clean up the bums can be found.

Police Commissioner Prendergast estimated it would take only a week for the new lock-up to become infested when the 2,400 hangers-on they get a month start patronizing it.

Somebody suggested installing delousing equipment but Prendergast rejected the idea because he thought some of the higher class clientele might take legal action if subjected to such treatment.

Meanwhile, another proposal to convert the old station into a home for the Madison Street crowd was turned down by Prendergast. "Tear it down," he said.

STATUS OF PARTY IS INVOLVED

Fate Of Communist Leaders Nearing Federal Court Jury

NEW YORK, Oct. 13. (AP)—The fate of the high command of American communism probably will be placed in the hands of a federal court jury late today.

U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohey is expected to finish summing up the prosecution's case today.

Then federal Judge Harold R. Medina will deliver his charge to the jury, after which the eight women and four men will retire to consider their verdict.

The immediate issue is whether the 11 top Red leaders on trial are guilty of charges that they conspired to advocate forcible overthrow of the government.

Implications Wider

But the case also has wider implications involving the future status of the communist party in this country.

The defendants have maintained that conviction would be tantamount to outlawing the party and making illegal the activities of its other leaders and members.

If the 11 are found guilty, they face a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine each.

The historic trial, the first of its kind directed at American communism, has been in progress for nine months.

Tense silence settled over the courtroom yesterday as McGohey, the tall, dignified, white-haired prosecutor, began his summation.

He spoke in a strong, grave voice, without courtroom forensics.

"Ours is a government of laws rather than a government of of men," he said. "It is at once self-evident that such a government not merely has the right, but the duty to safeguard its institutions of liberty against destruction from within, as well as from without."

Defendants Watch Jury

As he talked, the defendants kept their eyes glued on the jury.

Judge Medina sat with his hands clasped.

The prosecutor traced the history of the communists in this country.

He laid stress on the party's reorganization in 1945 when, the government charges, the party renewed its teaching of violence after a one-year interval of less militant activity.

"That teaching is, as the evidence shows," McGohey said, "that socialism can be established only by the violent overthrow and destruction of our constitutional form of government."

He assailed testimony by defendants denying they advocate violence and claiming they only seek reform through peaceful means as a legitimate political party.

"Every one of them, without exception," McGohey said, "has been demonstrated to be unworth of belief. They were shown to have sworn falsely on many prior occasions."

Compared To Bolsheviks

McGohey compared the American communists to the Bolsheviks who seized power in Russia during the October Red revolution of 1919.

He cited communist textbooks which quoted Joseph Stalin as saying "the manner in which the October insurrection was carried out may be taken as a model of such strategy."

Provisions in the communist party's 1945 constitution pledging allegiance to American democracy mean nothing, McGohey said, because these pledges were written in "Aesopian language."

"In our American language," the prosecutor said, "we call 'Aesopian language' double talk, tricky phrases and high-sounding platitudes."

McGohey said the evidence amply proves that the 11 defendants, as members of the party's national board, were themselves responsible for the alleged conspiracy.

Policy Bared

He discussed the party's "concentration policy" of recruiting members in key industries, and said:

"Why this desire to have members in the rubber, transportation, communications, auto, electrical, coal and steel industries and in plants where jet-propelled airplane engines were being manufactured? This policy lays bare the sinister purpose behind the defendants' activities.

"In a country as highly industrialized as ours, a few key men in key industries could paralyze our industrial machine and bring on a national crisis. In time of war, paralysis of our industrial machine would paralyze our military forces and lead to defeat.

"That is the tactic of the political strike set forth in the program of the communist international, which has never been repudiated."

Human Body Parts Scare Auto Buyer

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 13 (U.P.)—An absent-minded professor gave used-car buyer David Young, 19, the scare of his life.

The human hand and foot Young found in the trunk of his newly-acquired auto were parts of a cadaver which the former owner, a physician and medical instructor, intended to use in anatomy classes and "just forgot."

Labor Union Head To Stand Trial Nov. 14

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13 (AP)—Harry Bridges' trial on charges of perjury and conspiracy to defraud the government will start on Novembef 14, barring some unforeseen delay.

Federal District Judge George B. Harris yesterday denied a series of motions by which counsel for Bridges and two aides attacked the indictments on various constitutional and legal grounds.

The Australian-born Bridges, stormy labor figure and head of the CIO Longshoremen's union, was charged with perjury in testifying at his 1945 naturalization hearing that he was not and never had been a Communist.

Union Vice President J. R. Robertson and Henry Schmidt, union international representative, were accused of aiding and abetting an attempt to defraud the government by their statements at the hearing.

There was no immediate comment from defense counsel whether further steps would be taken to delay the trial.

Judge Harris denied a defense contention that Bridges was being placed in double jeopardy. The court held Bridges never had been prosecuted for the crimes alleged.

CRUCIAL DECISIONS TO BE MADE

Pressures On Philip Murray Gain As Steel Strike Goes On

By HAROLD W. WARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Each day that the steel strike continues adds to the pressures gathering around CIO President Philip Murray.

Each day brings the CIO convention nearer, with crucial decisions for Murray to make concerning the future of the 14-year-old Congress of Industrial organizations, which he helped to build and has led since 1940.

If the steel strike should still be in effect when the convention opens Oct. 31, it will make difficult Murray's job of holding his forces in line.

Left wing unions, spearheaded by the leaders of the United Electrical workers, already are snapping at Murray's heels. They rebuke him for agreeing to drop his demand for a fourth round post-war wage increase, as recommended by the steel fact-finding board.

Keeping discipline in the ranks —of both the steelworkers and the CIO—will be one of Murray's hardest tasks at the convention if the strike is still on. His fight for free pensions and insurance with steel employers is only half his battle.

It will become increasingly hard to keep in line the half million CIO-steelworkers who walked out Oct. 1, and the other half million poised to join in the strike as contracts of the fabricating companies expire in approaching weeks.

Aware Of Situation

But a settlement of the steel strike would bring a flush of achievement to Murray. It would be a big help if he could get it before the convention opens.

It would be a still bigger lift if he could sign up with the steel industry before the CIO vice presidents and executive board meet in Cleveland starting Oct. 24. That's when the real behind-the-scenes fight with the left-wing rebels will take place.

The steel companies are well aware of the spot Murray is in. So is Cyrus S. Ching, head of the government's conciliation service.

If one big company signs up it probably will break the ice. That's why it is important to watch what happens in talks between Ching and Bethlehem Steel Co., Jones and Laughlin Steel Co., and some of the other steel makers who aren't quite as large as U. S. steel. The latter appears determined not to lead the way up any new pension paths.

Thinking Of Lewis

U. S. steel and many others have to think of John L. Lewis, too. They have coal holdings which Lewis' miners dig for them. Their mines are shut down in the other big nation-wide strike.

Lewis is another harrassing influence for Murray. Some government experts think Lewis might reach an agreement ending the coal strike at a time when it would be most embarrassing to Murray—his one time lieutenant but present-day rival. That might be during the CIO convention.

Lewis was exhibiting a desire to get down to earnest negotiations at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., this week, after a summer of dawdling by both sides. Their contract ran out June 30.

Wheelchair Is Built For Hurt Dachshund

ARTESIA, Cal., Oct. 13 (U.P.)—A dachshund named Dutch has both legs and wheels.

Dutch, owned by Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Robinson, lost the use of his hind legs in an automobile accident a few weeks ago and his owners built him a two-wheeled cart.

The cart fits neatly under his hind end, supporting his paralyzed legs, and is attached by two pipes to his collar.

Dutch took immediately to the "wheel chair" and runs about chasing cats over the lawn and garden.

Off-Duty Policeman Arrested For Holdup

CHICAGO, Oct. 13 (INS.)—A Chicago policeman, who turned robber on off-duty hours, was arrested today after holding up a hotel of 58 dollars, a portable radio and a topcoat.

Patrolman Paul Haffey, 34, of the central district station was taken into custody by a fellow policeman, Sgt. William Dwyer, who was cruising in a squad car looking for the hotel holdup man.

Haffey explained he held up the hotel night clerk, Lawrence Johnson, 28, because he had been "drinking" and "needed the money."

New Mexico Desert Holds Key To Old Indian Civilization

By BERT GOLDRATH
NEA Staff Writer

RESERVE, N. M., Oct. 13 — The mystery of an advanced civilization that flourished amidst barbaric Indian tribes in Bibical times may be unlocked by the picks and shovels of scientists in a New Mexico desert.

An expedition headed by Dr. Paul S. Martin, chief curator of the Chicago Natural History Museum's department of anthropology, hopes to find, among other things, how the Mogollon Indians got along without going to war.

The Mogollons, a unique tribe, enjoyed life in roofed houses while most of their neighbors existed like animals in the hills and forests.

House Uncovered

The expedition already has unearthed a 5,000-year-old house, probably the earliest house yet found in North America.

But the Mogollons were not merely builders. There is conclusive evidence to prove that they were farmers and potters, too. They produced some astonishingly advanced examples of pottery, the designs of which indicate a high artistic development.

Their farming was crude, consisting mostly of gathering nuts, berries and seeds, but it was still a form of agriculture.

Archaeologists trace Mogollon civilization back to about 200 A. D., when they somehow got the idea of building pit houses with strong central supporting posts of wood.

These pit houses ranged from 13 to 28 feet in diameter, with a floor 10 to 40 inches below ground level. Storage pits were dug in the floors and covered with branches, and the Mogollons buried their dead in the floors.

Evidence gathered by the expedition has been dated by geological means. The diggers have turned up remains of early dogs and horses, as well as bones of the North American mammoth and camel.

Housewives of the long-extinct Mogollon tribe have been "polled" to determine their preference for various types of pottery vessels, in order to classify culture phases chronologically. Vessels with polished exteriors, for instance, were known to have been used in a later culture than ones with rough exteriors.

Easy To Find

Anybody can be an archaeologist in the Mogollon territory, which is not far from here. Pit house villages with groups of 10 or more h[illegible]s are easy to spot on the surface.

The real [illegible]ective work comes after the actual excavation, when lives and customs must be reconstructed from such evidence as fragments of stone, splinters of bones and bits of broken pottery.

Dr. Martin explains the expedition may help complete the still sketchy autobiography of mankind. He thinks that we may, perhaps, even learn the secret of peace, from a race long dead.

Pipe Line Firm Plans Open House Sunday

Open house will be held at the Stanolind Pipe Line company pump station two miles west of Monroe Sunday, beginning at 2:30 p.m., in observation of Oil Progress Week.

The Stanolind company, one of the largest pipeline systems in the world, joins with 34,000 independent oil companies in sponsoring Oil Progress Week. Open house is being held throughout the system, C. E. Wilson, area superintendent of the Stanolind company, said.

The public is being invited to visit the station in an effort to give laymen an opportunity to learn something of how the pipe line business is operated, Clarence Simes, division engineer of the company, said.

Industry Launched In 1859

The oil pipe line industry had its beginning six years after the discovery of oil in Titusville, Penn., in 1859. That first two-inch line delivered 1,900 barrels of oil daily; today about 5,500,000 barrels of crude oil are delivered daily to refineries through the 153,000 miles of pipe lines.

Visitors to the Monroe station will see the equipment used by the Stanolind company in delivering some half million barrels of oil daily to refineries. The company, operating as a common carrier, transports oil from 23,000 wells to the refineries at an average rate of about four miles per hour.

Engineers of the Lubbock office of the company will explain the use of the equipment on display Sunday and answer questions of visitors concerning the pipe line industry, which carries more than ten per cent of all the nation's domestic traffic.

Monday junior and senior students in petroleum engineering at Texas Tech will be shown the plant, along with any other senior engineering students who wish to see the plant. Students will be given a more detailed explanation of the operation of equipment at the station, Simes said.

GREAT CONTRAST

India has princes rich enough to own private railroads to carry them around their vast estates, and other classes so poor that they have no other form of transportation than by foot.

Mitchell Test Is Completed

Standard Oil Company of Texas has completed its No. 1 Dunn as a flowing discovery from the Canyon reef lime of the Pennsylvanian as a discovery in Northwest Mitchell county.

This venture, located about eight miles south and slightly west of the nearest producers from the Canyon in the Sharon Ridge field of southwest Scurry county, flowed 500 barrels of oil on a 24-hour potential test from perforated section at 7,565-83 feet, natural. In addition, seven barrels of basic sediment and water was produced during the same period.

Ratio Is Given

The flow was through a one-half inch tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio was 1,280-1. Flowing tubing pressure was 200 pounds. Flowing casing pressure was 600 pounds.

This new field opener is five miles east of Vincent, and 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 64, block 20, Lavaca Navigation survey.

It drilled to a total depth of 8,325 feet in the Ellenburger. That zone made salt water and showed no signs of oil or gas. It was plugged back and 7-inch casing was cemented at 7,685 feet for the Canyon completion.

DRILLSTEM TEST RUN ON SCURRY WILDCAT

C. L. Norsworthy, jr., and associates No. 1 Feldman, central-east Scurry county wildcat, 10 miles east of Snyder, and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 63, block 3, H&TC survey, was making hole below 7,254 feet in lime, shale and chert.

It ran a drillstem test at 7,190-7,222 feet. The tool was open 35 minutes. There was a slight blow of air for a part of the period.

Recovery was 120 feet of very slightly gas-cut drilling mud. There were no signs of oil or water.

Another drillstem test was run at 7,235-54 feet. The tester was open 35 minutes. There was a slight blow of air for 20 minutes and it then died.

Recovery was 177 feet of slight gas-cut drilling mud. There were no indications of oil or of formation water.

STATE Sen. G. C. Morris, of Greenville, was in town the other day en route to Lamesa where he made a speech at the Rotary club. Senator Morris is presiding officer of the State Senate as the result of the elevation to the governorship of Allan Shivers, former lieutenant governor. He also is one of a bagful of candidates for lieutenant governor, subject to action of voters next Summer.

A very nice looking, personable young man around 40, Senator Morris is a veteran political campaigner. He has served in both houses of the State Legislature and as Hunt county judge. On two occasions, he has challenged Congressman Sam Rayburn and on one of those occasions he literally ran the Speaker bowlegged.

This was in spite of the fact that Mr. Rayburn, as Speaker of the U. S. House, was and is a man of tremendous political power and prestige and, of course, a nationally known figure.

Whether Senator Morris will be the next lieutenant-governor, or not, will be decided by voters next July, or August—or both. But it must be admitted that at this moment he is one of the major candidates and cannot be otherwise described. Indications are, too, that he will continue to me a major candidate, because of his position as acting lieutenant governor; because of his experience in politics, his state-wide acquaintance and the fact that his name is well known to many voters.

With these points in mind, we asked Senator Morris a question about his candidacy. That question was:

"What are you going to say about the so-called 'Fair Trades act'?"

"I have quit the 'Fair Trades act,'" said the senator.

"Are you going to say you've quit it?" we asked.

"Yes," he said, "I am. I have told the 'Fair Trades' boys that the act would not do for them what they think it will."

THIS admission by Senator Morris is an important one, because he carried the ball in Austin for backers of the price-raising law when they made their most determined assault against the pocketbooks of the people. The fact that he has changed his position—whether for reasons of political expediency, or otherwise—weakens whatever prospects the price-raising legislation may have for passage in the immediate future.

In losing Senator Morris' support, those who would pass a law guaranteeing increased profits to a few at the expense of the many have lost more than just an ordinary supporter. They have lost their High Priest at Austin: the man whose voice once was loudest and whose efforts the most energetic in their behalf.

This is good news for the majority of Texans whose pocketbooks would be picked by a price-raising "Fair Trades" law. It also is good news for most Texas retailers, who prefer to run their own business, instead of being told how to run them by Eastern manufacturers and jobbers.

If those seeking a price-raising law continue their efforts, they're going to have to find a new spokesman at Austin. And their opponents will always be able to make hay out of pointing out that even Senator Morris, once the

BY DREW PEARSON: SENATE LEADER LUCAS BLASTS BARKLEY ON CROP SUPPORT VOTE

Admiral Denfeld Is Unhappiest Man In U.S. Navy

WASHINGTON. — It has been kept out of the papers, but sparks have been flying between two of President Truman's most potent congressional leaders — Vice President Barkley and Majority Leader Scott Lucas of Illinois.

PEARSON

Things came to a head when the vice president, called upon to settle a tie, voted for rigid 90 per cent support of parity farm prices which the administration opposed. Senator Lucas, faced with defeat, lashed out at Barkley privately in language unprintable in a family newspaper.

"What does Barkley know about farming!" stormed the Democratic Senate leader. "He has a few tobacco farms down in Kentucky, but he knows nothing about the agricultural problems of the great west."

Lucas, whose nerves are frazzled after the long and thankless job of riding herd on rebellious senators, further accused Barkley of torpedoing the farm program and embarrassing him personally.

"Who ever heard of anyone explaining his vote?" scorched Lucas, referring to the fact that the vice president, in breaking the tie, had explained that he had campaigned for parity price support. "It's unheard of in the history of the Senate."

Barkley was not present during this tirade, which was meant for private ears. But word of it got back to him and it won't help relations between the two men who are supposed to guide the Truman program through the Senate.

Unhappy Admiral

Unhappiest admiral in the navy today is probably Louis Denfield, chief of naval operations, one of the squarest shooters ever to command a battle wagon.

Denfield is right in the middle of the navy-air force battle which he did not start. Now that it's started he is publicly siding with his brother admirals. But before it started, he expressed the private view that the navy could better use more money for submarines and smaller airplane carriers, rather than putting all its eggs in the giant experimental airplane carrier which has now become the war cry of the admirals.

Since then, some admirals have tried to cold-shoulder Denfield, accused him of transferring Adm. Arthur Radford out to the Pacific because he had been a contender for Denfield's job — an accusation completely untrue.

Rows like the present flare-up are not unusual in the navy, and the situation between Admirals Radford and Denfeld is not unlike a similar navy fracas which harvested just as many headlines back in the Hoover administration. It illustrates the unfortunate fact that the admirals frequenly put their judgment ahead of their commander-in-chief.

At that time, the admirals, who always worship bigness, were bent on building a lot of 10,000 ton, 8-inch-gun cruisers, and refused to go along with Secretary of State Stimson on a treaty of limitation. Spearhead of the navy attack against Stimson was salty Adm. Hilary Jones — the Admiral Radford of his day.

But siding with Stimson, and holding the same chief of naval operations job which Admiral Denfeld occupies today, was Adm. William V. Pratt. Pratt believed that smaller cruisers with 6-inch guns could fire faster, and were more effective at close range or at night.

But because he held these views Pratt was almost ostracized from the navy. For a time his fellow admirals would not speak to him. And when he retired as chief of naval operations, almost no one was on hand to see him depart.

AS today, the admirals arranged a series of "leaks," and threatened the resignation of Admiral Jones. As today also, various congressmen took up the cudgels and debated the pros and cons of the 8-inch-gun and 6-inch-gun cruiser—much to the delight of the Japanese and British navies.

Upshot of it all was that when five of the big 8-inch-gun cruisers came off the ways, they had cracked stern-posts—one of the most important parts of the ship, for on it hangs the rudder. Not only did the stern-posts have to be replaced at a cost of $150,000—paid by the taxpayer — but all the new cruisers rolled so badly it interfered with gunfire. This applied not only to the five cracked cruisers but to all of them. They had to be fitted with bilge keels and rolling tanks.

Battle Of Graf Spee

But it was not until the battle of the Graf Spee that Admiral Pratt, whose latter years were made miserable by his fellow admirals, was completely vindicated. In this famed battle off the River Plate, the British navy with small, fast-moving 6-inch-gun cruisers was completely victorious over the 10,000-ton German cruiser carrying 8-in-guns.

What Admiral Pratt had argued in the face of almost every other admiral about the speed and mobility of the small cruiser, was proved right.

And the fact that Pratt and Secretary Stimson forced the navy into building some fast 6-inch-gun cruisers turned out to be the navy's salvation when it came to patrolling the vast South Pacific during the recent war.

JACK O'BRIEN, director of information for the office of housing expediter, got a phone call some time ago from a man with a thick accent who said:

"This is Drew Pearson calling, and I want to know why Colonel James Hunt spends so much time around your office? If you're not careful I'm going to write a story about it. You'd better get rid of that fellow Hunt."

The alleged "Drew Pearson" referred to "five-percenter" James Hunt, the friend of General Harry Vaughan, and supposedly also the friend of the mysterious John Maragon.

However, Jack O'Brien, being reasonably familiar with the voice of this columnist, recognized the thick accent to be that of Maragon, himself. Posing as this columnist, Maragon was trying to scare the housing expediter's office away from Hunt in order to leave a clear field for himself.

Note—Maragon is now telling friends that he is engaged in a big diamond deal, says he is leaving the country shortly on a mission to buy diamonds.

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

HAVE you turned your husband into a "silent partner" when it comes to family life?

You have—if:

You accept invitations for the two of you without first consulting him.

You don't ask him to go along when you select a new piece of furniture for the house.

You make up the guest list for your parties without even showing it to him if there is anybody he'd especially like to have.

MILLETT

You decide important matters concerning the children all on your own instead of telling them, "Your father and I will talk it over."

You'd be furious if he ever invited somebody to dinner on the spur of the moment, telling you what he has done instead of asking if it would be all right.

FORCE FRIENDS ON HIM?

YOUR "mutual" friends are actually "your" friends and your husband is supposed to like them for the simple reason that you like them or think they are "worthwhile."

You do all the family budgeting—because you feel you are a better manager.

You help the children "get around" their father — helping them keep things from him they don't want him to know about, and helping them to get their own way.

You feel free to veto any plan of your husband's that doesn't suit your convenience.

It's fairly easy to turn as easy-going husband into a "silent partner"—because so many men are glad to be relieved of any responsibility around home.

The trick is to get a marriage on the basis of a partnership in which both husband and wife have an equal say—and to keep it there.

'Try And Stop Me"

TWO sallies recently made their Groucho Marx in Hollywood. "The first time my wife ever saw me," he told one group, "I was on the screen. Then she opened the window and let me in." A dinner guest at his house complained, "These sausages seem peculiar. They are meat at one end, but bread crumbs at the other." "Correct," said Groucho. "It's an expedient. In times like these, nobody can make both ends meat."

A LONDON editor, in Hollywood to study its customs and modes, swore to the veracity of this experience. He secured a date with one of the super-duper glamor girls of the moment, and resolved to behave in a manner calculated to disarm her. "I forgot all my English reserve," he declares. "I said outrageous things, and took outrageous liberties. Suddenly she burst into tears, "I've gone too far,' I told myself. 'I am a beast., But I had misjudged her. Recovered from her outburst of crying, she flung herself into my arms and murmured, 'You're the first fellow who's behaved to me like a genuine gentleman in four years!' "

Complete Probe Of Argument On Defense Policy Is Urged

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Uncle Tom Connally has stepped into the air force-navy squabble with a plea for early peace, on the grounds that public airing of the feud weakens the nation's position in world affairs at a "critical moment in history." This is the stock comment when any sore of uppercase excitement stirs the military, whether it is the trial of a Gen. Benny Meyers or an inter-service scrap that finally breaks into the open.

RUARK

And I find it generally a meaningless assertion, albeit a comfortable shield to duck behind when the going gets a little gooey for one side or the other.

Oh, no, the quote always runs. We mustn't talk about it or discuss it or prove anything one way or the other. We mustn't scare the taxpayers with too much revelation for their silly little skulls to handle. We mustn't tip our mitt to the Russians and we mustn't let the little nations suspect that big old tough U.S. is confused like everybody else. Cover it up. Smother it. Let's keep all our secrets between the Congress and its wives and the generals and their wives and the admirals and their wives and let it come out piecemeal in the gossip columns.

I've been hearing this one ever since I can remember, but can never recall it being right or provable. Washington being, as ever, a seething snakepit of spies and gossips and undercover operation, nothing is ever truly secret but is only labeled secret. The stuff we keep from press and public is common cocktail talk among the foreign powers, any of which is at liberty to use it for propaganda.

Just how an honest and open appraisal of the navy-air force fuss, which has been running furiously for four years, to the functional detriment of both services, can "weaken" the United States is not readily clear. What can weaken the U. S. is the adoption of a bomber that may be no good. What can weaken the U. S. is the placing of all military eggs in a basket with a straw bottom.

What can damage the U. S. is an undercover continuation if this service dogfight, with top emphasis placed on brother battling brother, to the neglect of the overall defense effort. What can damage the security of the United States is an understressed navy or army, sulking in a corner, and an overstressed air force, crowding in another.

MANY a congressional hearing swats at gnats while the buzzards fly by, and a muckle end in noisy confusion, with nothing proved and nothing decided. But every so often a hardboiled, double-barrelled probe does clear some air and does turn up some dead dogs and does contribute to the public weal.

The present probe of the B-36 and the animosities between the two warring services could be one of the latter kinds, and should be. If the B-36 is not the all-purpose weapon of tomorrow's war, I want to know it now, not later. If it isn't, the Russianse know it already; if it is, no harm has been done by scrutinizing it in the open.

If the navy have been deliberately sabotaged in the Pentagon, in a calloused grab for power, now would be the time to know it—not tomorrow. If the navy is truly of worth only as a carrier of troops and supplies, and not as an offensive arm, now is the time to take away the guns and planes and force the sailors to concentrate on boats and ships and landing craft.

Probe Is Urged

If it takes six months to sweat this one into a clear picture, it's worth it, and it and it should have been done at the outset of this feudin' and fightin' that has sapped vitality from the American military muscle. No matter who it embarrasses, and no matter what private ambitions are scrapped, I would like this to be the big blowoff and the final settlement of what's worth what, and what ain't.

Old Sen. Connally has picturesque hair and a charming manner at Georgetown tea fights, but he's all wrong about the airing of this bitter controversy being of damage to American prestige. To my mind it's the healthiest thing that's happened since the war, and might conceivably win the next one for us.

FINE PUBLIC SERVICE

The vital importance of mass tuberculosis tests have been given the most positive sort of proof by the results of those made in the Lubbock public schools last week.

Among 2,747 children tested, according to the report, 71 reacted "positively,"—meaning, to speak bluntly, they have tuberculosis in at least an incipient stage. In most if not all cases, parents were not aware of their child's condition.

Perhaps, without the tests, many of the children would overcome the infection without anyone knowing their condition. In others, the illness doubtless would have been discovered in time—and early discovery is all important—to effect a cure. But beyond question, some children have been saved by these tests from tubercular suffering, invalidism and death. They will get the treatment when it is likely to do the most good.

Because of this, the Lubbock County Tuberculosis association, which sponsored the tests, is due the community's heartfelt gratitude.

Hilton Hotel Chain Purchases Control Of Waldorf-Astoria

NEW YORK, Oct. 13 (AP)—The Hilton hotel chain has acquired controlling interest in the company that runs the luxurious Waldorf-Astoria hotel for $3,000,000.

Conrad N. Hilton, of Los Angeles, president of the Hilton Hotels Corp., announced the transaction yesterday.

It involved, he said, purchase of 250,000 shares, or about 68 per cent of the 366,000 outstanding common shares of the Waldorf-Astoria Corp., which operates the hotel.

To Keep Name

Hilton said the purchasers got the right to keep the hotel's name, and would not change its "character and individuality."

The sale does not involve the Waldorf-Astoria building, which occupies a whole block on Park and Lexington avenues between 49th and 50th street. The building, 47 stories high, has 2,200 rooms. It was opened in 1931, and cost about $40,000,000.

This property is owned by the New York State Realty and Terminal Co., a subsidiary of the New York Central and the New York-New Haven and Hartford railroads, and is leased to the Waldorf-Astoria Corp.

Stock Price Up

Hilton said he and Henry Crown, chairman of the board of directors of Material Service Corp., of Chicago, acting as individuals, and the Hilton chain had bought a majority of the corporation stock at $12 a share.

The stock had been selling for some time at $8, and recently went up to $11.

The Hilton chain also controls the Plaza and Roosevelt hotels here, the Mayflower in Washington, the Stevens hotel and Palmer House in Chicago, the Dayton Biltmore in Dayton, Town House in Los Angeles, the Hilton hotels in El Paso and Lubbock, Tex., and in Albuquerque, N. Mex., and others.

"Granny" Gloria Swanson Still Trim And Pert As She Plans Comeback Campaign

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13. —The only thing I don't like about grandma is that she uses brown sugar in her tea.

I tried some of the tea and it tasted awful. Otherwise, granny was a swell person. Also very pretty.

This grandma happens to be one of the grand ladies of the stage and screen, glorious Gloria Swanson. At the moment, she is tangled in a two-play mission: a comeback and a campaign for plugging the motion picture box office.

To Plug Picture

Granny, who has three kids of her own and three grand-kids, is 50 and admits it. She could pass for 30. At the union station she was trim and pert in a brown wool suit. She was wearing arm-length kid gloves, underneath which was an armful of gold bracelets. No rings.

She was in Washington to plug a picture which she likes. And granny (she doesn't like the word) has made a few good ones herself. In all—going way back—she has been in 63. The last one was "Sunset Boulevard," which a lot of people think was supposed to be a story of her life," "but which really isn't."

Miss Swanson, when you come to know her, is folksy. What do you reckon she did at 8:30 in the morning, before she even ordered her peaches and shredded wheat in her hotel suite? She shipped out pictures of her family, just like any other mother or grandmother.

"Here are four generations," she said, showing her own mom, one of her own children, herself, and the three grandchildren.

Has List Of 'Firsts'

Hollywood still loves her for her many firsts. She was the first big time star ever to have a baby. She was the first to adopt one, and the first grandma. Also the first ever to marry a "title." Meaning royalty. She was the first American star ever to make a picture in France, the first to make a talking picture in England, and the first voice ever to broadcast from England to America.

She's done about everything in the entertainment business—including television, which she thinks needs a little revision—and she remains a swell person.

Miss Swanson was born in Chicago, and she doesn't give you the broad "a" of the stage. She is a serious worker, but at the same time she has a fine sense of humor. She loves to tell you about the time a folding bed got off its rollers and trapped her halfway up. Her mother rescued her.

Boosts Young Actors

She doesn't know what is messing up the movie business, but she vows to find out.

"I think it might be the fact that Hollywood doesn't open its arms to aspiring youngsters and give them a chance," she said. "After all, the people in other businesses give a kid a chance to show his stuff on a sort of apprentice basis. Why shouldn't the pictures take some of the dramatic students and give they a try? If they are misfits, you might as well tell them. They'd be better off."

Before the brown-sugar-in-tea incident, Miss Swanson was standing outside the station admiring my little Austin.

"I'd like a ride in it," she said, lifting the pretty Swanson eyebrows.

She got the ride.

Christy, her little black-haired maid, had to be satisfied to ride to the hotel in the expensive limousine her movie bosses had provided.

Attorneys Finally Obtain Release, Then Change Minds

Jail Appears To Be Better Than Any Other Place For Bilker Of Many Wealthy Widows

CHICAGO, Oct. 13. (AP)—It was freedom, with reservations, today for Sigmund (Sam) Engel, the diminutive, over-aged wooer of wealthy widows.

It was a tough fight — getting Engel out of jail. But Attorney J. Edward Jones, after three months of trying, finally made it yesterday. Then he immediately started working to put Engel back behind bars.

The dapper, little 73-year-old man, who has boasted of bilking wealthy widows out of millions, was released from jail on a total of $37,600 bonds. The last bond had been reduced from $10,000 to $100 on a federal charge. Earlier, bonds totaling $37,500 had been posted on six state charges of confidence game.

But jail appeared a better place than out for Engel shortly after he was released. And if Jones follows through with his plans he hopes to have the graying lothario back in the clink. He didn't succeed in his first attempts but he said he's going to keep on trying.

Surrender Attempt Fails

Engel wasn't too sure about his freedom. "I'm in trouble," he said. "I'm free today, but I don't know about tomorrow. If I had a gun I think I would shoot myself."

Jones, with John Lax, attorney for Jones' father, who posted most of the bonds, made three attempts to surrender Engle but failed.

The attorneys and Engel were tossed out of a federal courtroom when they asked to have Engel's $100 bond revoked.

The U. S. marshal shooed them away when the attorneys tried to surrender Engel to him. Police at central station wanted no part of Engel, refusing to accept any surrender not made in open court.

Jones and Lax made their moves to put Engel back in jail over his protest of having three bodyguards — working around the clock.

"I'm not going to be bothered with bodyguards," Engel shouted. "I'm out on bonds and I want to be free."

Agree Over Bodyguards

Jones threatened to revoke the $100 bond. He wanted the bodyguards to assure Engel's appearance in court Oct. 24 on the first of the state charges.

There was a scuffle in the corridors of the federal courthouse of bodyguards. They succeeded in hauling Engel before federal Judge John P. Barnes but he continued the motion to revoke the bond until today.

There was another argument and scuffle between Engel and the attorneys in the corridors. Finally Engel was hustled out of the building, with two of the private bodyguards clinging to each arm, and into a taxicab.

Appeared On Broadcasts

The fast-moving developments in the case ended temporarily last night when Jones and Lax took Engel to a broadcasting studio where he appeared on a television program and on a news broadcast.

At the studio, Engel telephoned Mrs. Pauline Langton of New York, whon Engel calls his real wife — "the Cleopatra to his Marc Anthony." He had tried to call her earlier and then sent her a telegram telling her to "stay home." When he did reach her, he scolded her for not being home and she told him she was walking the dog.

"For six hours you couldn't walk the dog," Engel protested.

Then he told her about his "trouble" relating to the assignment as bodyguards.

Engel explained he objected to the bodyguards because such an arrangement would interfere with a reunion with Mrs. Langton. He and Mrs. Langton were married last June while he was being hunted for swindling Mrs. Reseda Corrigan, 39-year-old Chicago widow, out of $8,700 after promising to marry her. He was arrested a couple of weeks later.

Mrs. Langton later signed a complaint that Engel disappeared with $50,000 of her jewelry but they were reconciled while Engel was in jail.

During Engel's stay in jail, other confidence game charges were made against him, from widows whom he had courted and left at the altar after allegedly taking jewelry and money.

Student Held After Walk With Skellton

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 13. (U.P.)—Anybody lost a skeleton?

San Antonio police were trying to find the owner of one today.

A 21-year-old man who claimed he was a medical student delighted and/or frightened downtown San Antonio last night when hundreds of alarmed people discovered him dragging and/or carrying a man-size skeleton.

The medical student told police he was trying to sell his statue of bones for extra money.

Police didn't believe him, and placed him in jail until they can trace the skeleton's ownership back to its closet.
