37 Persons Killed In Colombian Airliner Mishap

Seventeen Americans Are Victims

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP) — A Colombian airliner bound from New York to Colombia buckled its landing gear and exploded in setting down at the Montego Bay airport early today, killing 37 of the 46 persons aboard.

Seventeen of the dead were Americans, among them a son and daughter-in-law of Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind). They were Thomas C. Capehart and his wife, Nancy, both 36, of Indianapolis, on a business trip to Bogota, Colombia.

Two Dutch and two Australian passengers and five members of the seven-member Colombian crew lived through the crash and the resultant fire that ravaged the two-million-dollar Super Constellation for two hours.

The plane, operated by the Avianca Colombian National Airline, had made an unscheduled stop at Miami for repairs to a faltering engine. It was 10 hours overdue when it reached Montego Bay, a popular Caribbean resort on Jamaica's north coast 550 miles south of Miami, about 2:35 a.m.

A rainstorm was over Jamaica but the moon was shining as the plane headed in for a landing. Witnesses said the left landing gear collapsed as the plane hit the runway and there was a terrific explosion, followed by two other blasts. The plane skidded into a sheet of swamp water, perhaps eight inches deep, north of the runway. Two of the four engines were ripped loose and landed 100 yards from the fuselage.

Removal of the bodies began in midmorning.

The plane captain, J. Duque, was among the survivors. None of those who got out appeared to be seriously injured.

This was the fourth fatal crash of a commercial airliner in 1960 and raised the airliner death toll for the first three weeks of the new year to 163. At least 16 others have died in the United States in private plane crashes since Jan. 1.

Some of the passengers aboard the Colombian plane — Avianca's Flight 671—were booked for vacations or business pursuits in Jamaica. Popular with winter funseekers. Others were heading on to South America.

All 42 persons aboard died when a Scandinavian jet liner crashed on a hill near Ankara, Turkey, on Tuesday.

Last Monday, a Capital Airlines plane crashed in Virginia, killing 50 persons.

On Jan. 6, a National Airlines plane exploded in the air near Bolivia, N.C., killing 34 persons.

Major military air crashes have claimed 29 lives — 27 American and two Canadian — this year. The latest was the crash Tuesday of a U.S. Navy plane on snow-capped Karanfil Dag — Pink Mountain — 15 miles northwest of Adana, Turkey. All 16 aboard perished.

Charge Negro In Slaying

HOUSTON (AP)—A 23-year-old Negro was charged with murder today in the Nov. 16 slaying of Mrs. Wilma Selby.

Police said the charge against Clarence Collins was filed after Collins made a verbal statement.

Murder charges also were filed against two Negro women, Patra Mae Bounds and Maggie Morgan.

Mrs. Selby, 48-year-old grandmother, was found shot to death in her home an hour after she and her husband, Joseph Selby, 51, an accountant, had left the downtown area in separate automobiles.

In a signed statement, Selby later admitted attempting to hire someone to kill his wife. He was charged with murder and conspiracy to murder and released under $11,000 bond.

In his signed statement, Selby said he had negotiated with several Negro women who promised to find a killer. However, he denied knowledge of the identity of the killer.

Crippled Airliner Is Landed Safely

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A Trans World Airlines Constellation with 29 passengers landed safely today after circling this area for more than two hours because of a malfunctioning nose gear.

The plane came down at the Olathe Naval Air Station, southwest of Kansas City at 11:26 a.m. CST.

TRADEMARKS—Folks used to have a hard time telling the Akin triplets apart, but not any more. The Tampa, Fla., girls now have their own trademarks. Arline has two front teeth missing, Marline is minus one, while Darline still has a full set. The girls are seven years old and students in the first grade. (AP Wirephoto)

FBI Tackles Spears Riddle

By EDDIE LEE

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A grey-haired, heavily insured ex-convict presumed dead in a mysterious airliner crash has turned up alive here.

Dr. Vernon Spears of Dallas was the focus of investigation into bizarre circumstances surrounding the Nov. 16 crash of a commercial airliner into the Gulf of Mexico.

Federal authorities are investigating the possibility that the crash may have resulted from a bomb.

Spears was seized by two FBI agents Wednesday as he hurriedly checked out of a Phoenix resort motel. He was jailed on a charge of interstate transportation of a stolen car, but the FBI was more interested in his answers to these questions:

What was the 65-year-old naturopath up to when he took out $100.00 in travel insurance? Why was he listed as a passenger on the ill-fated flight?

Did he prevail upon William Allen Taylor of Tampa, Fla., a former prison acquaintance, to take his place on the plane? If so, why and how?

Was there any connection between Spears and Julian Andrew Frank, New York lawyer insured for $900,000 and named as a possible suicide bomber on another airliner which crashed in North Carolina Jan. 6?

If Spears has given any answers, the FBI won't say. Newsmen have not been permitted to talk with him.

The extent of the FBI's interest is indicated by the $35,000 bond it asked for Spears at his arraignment on the theft charge before U.S. Commissioner Carey B. Wilson. Spears waived preliminary hearing and was held in lieu of bond.

"I doubt if I could make it if you knocked $30,000 off of it," he said when the bond was set.

Investigation into the two crashes — both of National Airlines planes — is continuing by the Civil Aeronautics Board and the Senate Aviation subcommittee in Washington. So far, their probes have not established that a bomb was responsible for either crash.

The crashes claimed 76 lives, 42 in the Gulf and 34 near Bolivia, N.C.

A reporter asked Spears Wednesday if he had bombed the plane. He laughed and replied: "No, I may make a statement tomorrow."

He is accused of driving Taylor's car from Dallas to Arizona, while he had permission to drive it only from Tampa to Dallas.

Testimony at a CAB hearing showed Taylor, 60, a Tampa tire salesman, served time with Spears in 1936. The two were said to have talked in Tampa before the Gulf of Mexico crash. Only 10 bodies—none of them Taylor's—were recovered.

Alice Steele Taylor of Tampa previously had said she believed her divorced husband was on the plane under Spears' name possibly hypnotized.

"I am waiting for Dr. Spears to tell me what happened to Mr. Taylor," she said in Tampa early today after learning that Spears had been found at Phoenix.

Mrs. Taylor told the Tampa Tribune "my first thought was 'thank God they've found Spears,' but then I realized what must have happened to Mr. Taylor. I think they will prove that Mr. Taylor was on that airplane.

"I do thank God that Spears has been found. Without Spears, the finger of scorn has been pointed at Mr. Taylor and in all the years I have known him he was not a bad man."

Spears' Wife Shaken When Told Husband Still Alive

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. Frances Spears, crying and shaken by the news that her husband, Dr. Robert V. Spears, did not die in a plane crash two months ago sent a telegram to him today just before being put to bed under sedation.

The brief telegram said:

"The babies and I are well and thinking of you."

Eddie Barker, news director for stations KRLD and KRLD-TV in Dallas, telephoned the message to Western Union this morning.

"She was in no shape to telephone the message so I did it for her," Barker said.

Mrs. Spears' doctor sent sedatives to the house for the woman and she went to bed about 4 a.m.

Barker said she "really went to pieces when her lawyer got there. She just completely broke down."

Attorney Charlie Tessmer arrived at the Spears' home at 2:45 a.m. and stayed until 3 a.m. He had been out of town working on another case and will return to Palestine, Tex., after visiting Mrs. Spears again.

Spears, 65, was arrested in Phoenix Wednesday by FBI agents.

When informed of Spears' arrest, Mrs. Spears said:

"I don't have anything to say. I do not feel anything. I do not know anything."

Barker went to the home to borrow a photograph of Spears and William Allen Taylor, a former prison crony of Spears. While he was there Barker's office telephoned word that FBI agents had found Spears.

"I turned from the phone and told her that her husband was alive," Barker related. "She was sitting down with her 10-month-old daughter, who is sick, on her knee.

"She appeared shocked. She got up, walked around and muttered, 'What can I say?'

"About 10 minutes later she seemed to break down. She cried."

Spears, a Dallas naturopath, was believed to have died in a Nov. 16 crash in the Gulf of Mexico. FBI agents arrested him at the Bali Hi Motel under one of his many aliases—George Rhodes.

More than two dozen newspaper, radio and television reporters gathered at the Spears doorstep in East Dallas. Mrs. Spears agreed to step outside her home long enough for photographers to take pictures. A battery of lights greeted her at the doorway.

"Are you happy that your husband is still alive?" asked a reporter.

"I have no comment," Mrs. Spears replied.

To another question, she said: "I don't know anything. I can't talk."

SPACE MONKEY SURVIVES TRIP

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. (AP) — A little monkey named "Miss Sam" today survived a 48,900 foot rocket flight in rehearsal for human space travel.

The animal, a female, rode more than nine miles up in a replica of the chamber that will carry the first mercury astronaut.

The capsule was separated from a Little Joe booster rocket by means of an escape mechanism designed to save the astronaut if something goes wrong at the launching.

With its 7½-pound passenger in a special compartment, the capsule was parachuted to the surface of the sea 12 miles off this Virginia Eastern Shore island. Then the capsule was recovered by helicopter.

Officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the animal appeared to be in good condition on the basis of preliminary examination made by remote control while the animal was still inside the one-top capsule.

They said that it would be about two or three hours, however, before they could open the capsule and the 135 pound chamber in which the monkey rode.

It was announced that the Little Joe booster rocket which carried the capsule aloft rose to a height of 36,500 feet. At that point a smaller rocket mounted above the capsule was fired. The latter rocket boosted the capsule to its ultimate height of 48,900 feet.

The second rocket was part of the device intended to free an astronaut from the main vehicle in cass of trouble.

Space agency officials said that on the basis of preliminary study it appeared the test was completely successful.

The main object of today's test was to test the escape mechanism under rigorous air load conditions.

Scientists will analyze data recorded on board to determine the operation of the escape mechanism.

The capsule, in which the monkey rode in its own chamber, was subjected to air load pressures of about 1,000 pounds per square inch at the time the escape rocket was detonated.

Other monkeys have been rocketed higher and farther than today's animal, but his was the first time a living creature had been in a capsule at a time when maximum air load conditions prevailed.

Rites Set For Burn Victim At Hermleigh

HERMLEIGH — Betty Jane Athey, 14, of Hermleigh, died Wednesday night in the Johnson Hospital in Loraine from burns suffered Monday morning when her flannel nightgown ignited as she was lighting the gas heater in her room.

She tried ineffectually to beat out the flames with her hands. Failing she ran outside where the wind fanned the blazing garment to a veritable torch. She was trying to reach a cafe belonging to her aunt, Mrs. Bertie Athey, which was next door to the house.

Survivors include Mrs. Athey one sister at Monahans and one brother at Andrews.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the First Baptist Church in Hermleigh. Rev. Bob Creswell, pastor of the church will officiate, assisted by Rev. L. B. Stuckey of the Central Baptist Church.

Place of burial will be announced by Wells Funeral Home of Roscoe.

Cold Weather Hanging On

By The Associated Press

Freezing weather embraced almost all Texas Thursday and is expected to retain its clutch on the state at least through Friday morning.

Skies remained clear.

Minimum temperatures Thursday ranged from 4 above zero at Dalhart to 40 at Corpus Christi.

The Weather Bureau forecast lows of 15 to 25 Friday morning in Northwest Texas except 5 to 25 in the areas where snow remained from last weekend's fall, and 22 to 32 in all other parts of the state except 32 to 42 in extreme southern portions.

Some of the overnight lows were Amarillo 12, Lubbock 17, Lufkin and Junction 19, Wink 20, Alpine 21, Brownwood 22, San Angelo 23, Austin and San Antonio 24, Texarkana and Presidio 25, Midland and Fort Worth 26, Dallas 27, Alice 28, Beaumont 29, Houston 30, Laredo 32, Galveston and Brownsville 37.

Lava Course Is Changed

HONOLULU (AP) — A 10-foot deep stream of boiling and hissing lava from Kilauea volcano stopped abruptly Wednesday night at the outskirts of the tiny, deserted village of Kapoho — but a fiery finger headed for another hamlet on Hawaii Island.

The inhabitants of the newly threatened village, Koae, northeast of Kapoho at the eastern tip of the island, were evacuated with Kapoho's 300 residents before and during the week-old eruption.

"At present Kapoho seems pretty safe," said Albert Wilson, civil defense official.

Lava gushing from a giant fissure has sent fiery fountains soaring up to 1,000 feet. Damage to sugar cane, papaya fruit and coffee plantations is estimated at three million dollars, but no lives have been lost.

Dulaney In Race For School Post

Gene Dulaney, Snyder attorney, has filed as a candidate in the Snyder Independent School District trustee election.

A petition requesting that Dulaney's name be placed on the ballot was signed by Bill Wilson, Hugh Taylor, Theo Lamb, Dr. John Blum and E. J. Richardson Jr.

The school board election is scheduled for April 2, and the deadline for candidates to file is March 2. Candidates may file with Doug Flynn, school business manager, at the school administration building.

Terms of two board members expire this year. They are Dr. Wilton N. Jones, president of the board, and E. H. Williamson.

Other members of the current board are Max West, J.W. Phillips, Malven K. Stevenson, Lee D. Stone and William J. Schiebel.

Russians Say Rocket Fired 7,760 Miles

MOSCOW (AP) — The Russians announced today they fired a rocket 7,760 miles into the central Pacific which fell less than 1.24 miles from its calculated target.

The multistage ballistic missile "was the first in the series of planned launchings" for producing rockets to put heavy earth satellites into orbit and for space flights toward other planets of the solar system, Tass news agency said.

The Tass announcement said the point of fall of the rocket "confirmed the high exactitude of the system of rocket control."

It landed at 8:05 p.m. Wednesday, Moscow time (1:05 p.m. EST) at a point 12,500 kilometers (7,760 miles) from the takeoff spot—not named in the announcement—and traveled at a speed of 26,000 kilometers (16,150 miles an hour), the announcement said.

At a height of about 80 to 90 kilometers (49 to 53 miles) the next to last stage of the rocket "disintegrated and partly burned out" on entering the dense strata of the atmosphere," Tass said.

"The nose cone of the last stage of the rocket was tracked in flight in the atmosphere, and its entry into the water was recorded by the (Soviet Navy) ships' radar, optical and acoustic installations," Tass added.

"As a result of the measurements it was established that the rocket fell less than 2 kilometers (1.24 miles) away from the predetermined point, which confirms the high precision of the rocket's guiding system."

Kennedy Enters Wisconsin Race

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) announced today that he will run against Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey in Wisconsin's presidential preference primary April 5. His decision sets up the first direct test between the two major candidates for the Democratic nomination.

Kennedy, who had said earlier that any formal declaration would be made in Wisconsin, flew to Milwaukee from Washington to address a news conference this morning.

His decision, made against recommendations expressed both publicly and privately by some of his top advisors, amounts to a challenge to Humphrey in his back yard.

And the race may be for higher stakes than Wisconsin's 31 convention delegate votes, since Humphrey already has said that if he loses in Wisconsin he may withdraw from the race. Losing, he said, means getting fewer than 16 delegates.

Kennedy greeted the news conference with a statement that began: "I shall run in the Wisconsin presidential primary.

"I am fully aware of the risk and difficulties that course involves. No other candidate, real or unannounced, has indicated a willingness to enter any primary adjoining the home state of another contender — including New Hampshire, which is next to my own state of Massachusetts.

"Nevertheless, the people of Wisconsin should not be denied their right to help select the Democratic presidential nominee merely because their state happens to adjoin Minnesota."

"The Republicans of Wisconsin have frequently in the past been given a wide choice of presidential contenders. In 1960 they will not have such a choice. The Democrats must.

"Even though my chief competitors in the convention remain safely on the sidelines, hoping to gain the nomination through manipulation of the convention, I cannot follow the advice of those urging me not to enter this or other representative primaries."

Humphrey immediately welcomed Kennedy's entry into the Wisconsin primary and repeated his invitation to the Massachusetts senator "to meet me on the same platform in a series of informal debates to clarify our respective positions."

Spanish Ambassador Ordered To Leave Cuba In 24 Hours

HAVANA (AP) Fidel Castro today gave the Spanish ambassador 24 hours to get out of Cuba after a face-to-face midnight row before a nationwide television audience that threatened to develop into a riot.

Fuming with rage, the bearded Prime Minister announced he was immediately recalling his own ambassador to Madrid, Jose Miro Cordona. He said it was uncertain whether a complete diplomatic break with Generalissimo Francisco Franco's government would follow.

Police and soldiers grabbed the Spanish ambassador, Juan Pablo de Lojendio, Marquis of Vellisca, and hustled him out of the TV studio after he had rushed in through a side door and accused the Prime Minister of slandering him in the broadcast. Castro had said the embassy was "in contact with war criminals and has ties with them." He accused the U.S. Embassy of similar activity against his regime.

The Prime Minister refused the ambassador's demands to be heard and shouted angrily: "You are not in Spain now. You are in Cuba."

After the ambassador was whisked away to safety from the menacing crowd, Castro brought cheers from the studio audience with the assertion:

"I will give the Spanish ambassador 24 hours to get out of Cuba. We are going to recall our ambassador immediately, there is no other remedy."

While Castro was speaking, a crowd of about 1,000 gathered outside the TV studio shouting "out with the Spanish ambassador."

The middle-aged Marquis was taken away under the protective custody of Cuba's army chief, Maj. Juan Almeida. They slipped out a side door, and the ambassador was rushed to his home in suburban Mariano. A military guard was placed outside to keep newsmen and other visitors from entering, but the ambassador presumably was free to leave if he wanted to.

By telephone, the ambassador said he would make no plans to leave Cuba until he received official orders from the Cuban government.

The envoy said he was listening to Castro's broadcast and "I heard with true surprise his calumnious statements which affected me. Therefore I immediately went with my press adviser to the television studios for the purpose of asking the moderator of this station to authorize me to immediately deny before the people of Cuba those calumnies."

Castro denounced the Spanish envoy as a "holdover of fascism," and declared:

"The diplomat's attitude was shameful and surprising, as if he had established new diplomatic rules here. The only thing he lacked was a blackjack."

CHARLIE AND IRA—They'll be here next Tuesday night. The Louvin Brothers are among the Grand Ole Opry stars who will appear in the high school auditorium under sponsorship of the Snyder Jaycees. Performances are set for 6:30 p.m. and 9 p.m. and tickets are on sale now at the Chamber of Commerce office and at Holt Music Co. Tickets also may be purchased from any Jaycee.

Office For Census Set

A district office for the 1960 census of population and housing for this area has been established at 174 Cypress Street in Abilene, according to James W. Stroud of the Census Bureau's reginal office in Dallas.

Max V. Mossholder will be supervisor of the district office. He will direct a force of 19 crew leaders and 284 census takers in Callahan, Comanache, Eastland, Erath, Fisher, Hamilton, Jones, Nolan, Palo Pinto, Parker, Scurry, Shackelford, Stephens and Taylor Counties.

Nationally, the census will require the services of 160,000 enumerators, 10,000 crew leaders and 400 district supervisors, all temporary workers.

Prior to the start of the census, all households will receive in the mail an advance census report form, a new census-taking device which is designed to speed up the field canvass and provide more accurate statistics. Distribution of this form, which contains the basic population and housing questions, gives the family a chance to assemble information about each member in advance of the census taker's visit.

Infant Going Home With New Blood

BAY CITY, Mich. (AP)—Johnny Paul Stewart's parents hope to take him home Saturday. But last Sunday there was a time when it didn't look like the infant would ever get to go home.

He was four days oltd and was undergoing a complete blood transfusion because of an RH blood factor. His heart stopped. He quit breathing.

Caffeine and adrenalin failed to revive the infant, so a doctor opened his chest and massaged his heart. The heart resumed, but the lungs had collapsed and had to be blown up.

But doctors said Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart now have a husky infant and probably can take him home Saturday.

In racing and breeding parlance a horse is a male who is at least five years old.

Nice Blind Man Loses His Savings

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—His neighbors know Charlie McVea, 72, and blind, as a friendly man quick to lend money if a friend is in need.

Two soft spoken, well-dressed strangers appeared at his home Wednesday. One produced a long-barrelled .22 pistol, he herded Mrs. McVea, 66, into a bedroom where her husband lay in his bed.

At gunpoint the intruders took a key from a foot locker where he had cached $7,140—most of his life's savings before he retired as a janitor at Kelly Air Force Base after losing his sight a year ago.

McVea said ruefully: "I guess that's what I get for being nice to people."

Tranquilizer Sales Boom

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate subcommittee said today drug makers are taking in nearly 200 million dollars a year from sales of tranquilizers. It set out to determine whether the prices are too high.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) said the prices affect not only persons who buy and use the prescription drugs, but to some extent all taxpayers whose money helps support mental hospitals. Some of the more potent tranquilizers are widely used in treating the mentally ill.

Minister Is Ousted

HAVERSTRAW, N.Y. (AP)—A Presbyterian minister has been removed from the church for denying the deity of Jesus Christ and the divine authorship of the Bible.

The Rev. Harold J. Quigley, 47, pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church, said he was removed Tuesday by the Hudson Valley Presbytery of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

A Presbytery spokesman confirmed the dismissal Wednesday. The spokesman said the church's local ruling body, comprised of lay and church leaders, voted 46 for Quigley's removal effective immediately.

Quigley said he had no immediate plans but added: "Perhaps I will join the Unitarian Church."

Quigley, married and the father of five children, came to the Rockland County church in 1952.

Quigley was graduated from Maryville College, Tenn., in 1936, and from the Presbyterian seminary in Chicago in 1939. He served as pastor in Presbyterian churches in Roachdale, Ind., Wheeling, Ill.; and Troy, N.Y. In 1950-51 he was director of special events for the Protestant Radio Commission in New York City.

Former Detroit players Tommy Bridges, Pat Mullin, Marv Owen, Schoolboy Rowe and Bob Mavis now scout for the Tigers.

Beta Sigma Phi Chapters Held Meeting Honoring Mrs. Core

Mrs. Arel Faver, 4107 Denison Avenue was hostess Tuesday night for a combined meeting of the Ritual of Jewels Chapter and the Exemplar Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, when Mrs. Ada Core, International representative, Dallas, was the honoree and guest speaker.

Carolyn Reon, president of Xi Lambda Kappa Exemplar chapter, presided for a business meeting during which it was announced that the social committee will sponsor a Valentine party for both groups, Feb. 2.

Mrs. R. C. Taylor, president of Lambda Kappa Ritual of Jewels chapter, presided for a brief discussion of the pledge ritual to be held at her home on Feb. 28.

Mrs. Jurden Brunken, vice president in charge of pledge training, stated that five rushees will be given their ritual and pins and will be honored by a salad supper at that time.

Mrs. Core brought an inspirational message concerning the large projects of international scope and the opportunities for individual development to be found in the progressive programs of Beta Sigma Phi.

She said in part: "I am pleased to find that the chapters are civic minded and have participated in the community projects. This is sure your chapters accomplishments by the yardstick sent from International office, to insure your chapters' rating of three stars.

"You need to reach the younger women and share the benefits of your sorority with the age groups 18 to 21 years through a Nu Phi Mu organization. International has a wonderful program for this age group, and you will find many who are reaching for such a program.

"Read your Torch, get into the annual contests sponsored there in photography, in creative writing, and in chapter achievement. I can't urge you enough to stay in touch with your neighboring chapters by attending the district meetings. Go to the state meeting at Austin, June 17, 18, and 19, and be sure to come to Dallas in 1961.

"You have a lovely town, and my visit with you, since Sunday has been most enjoyable".

Mrs. Core traced the development of Beta Sigma Phi and told how marvelous the headquarters at Kansas City Mo. are organized. She emphasized that each member is important; each chapter is as near to International as the telephone. A staff of 70 works solely in the printing room, constantly running the presses to keep each chapter supplied with programs books, leaflets and memoranda.

After a question and answer session, Mrs. Core was presented a gift from the chapters by Mrs. Reon.

Coffee and cake was served to 25 members and guest.

Musical Program Presented At Jr. High P-TA

The Junior High School Parent-Teachers Association met Monday night at 7:30 p.m.

An inspring musical program was presented by Travis Junior High choral department. Soloists and their numbers were: Alice Cadena, "I've Got You Under My Skin"; Terry Meador, "Summertime"; Jackie Stewart, "Danny Boy"; Bobby Covey, "All The Way"; and Melody White, "Without A Song".

A girls ensemble sang "Somebody Loves Me", "Autumn Leaves" "Love Walked In", "Can't Help Lovin Dat Man", "He", and "Winter Wonderland".

Mr. Dillard Teal's room was awarded the count prize.

Southwestern Bell Plans New Building

AUSTIN (AP) — Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. plans a 2 million dollar office building on a block-square site northwest of the capitol, the company announced Wednesday.

Tom C. Brown, division manager, said construction may begin this year.

Plainview H-D Holds Meeting

The Plainview Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Hoyt Andrews.

During the business session new year books were given members and committees for the year were appointed.

Mr. Billy Roach, County Agriculture agent, gave an informative program on garden and orchard planting and the correct use of insecticides.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. T. E. Rainwater on Feb. 16.

Beautification Pays

The planting and beautification of a community is a sound business proposition, an investment that increases both the volume of business as well as revenue to the municipality.

Planting and beautification of a trading area simply is good business anyway one looks at it. It pays for the individual proprietor. It pays for the city and for the state. Not only do sales go up, but real estate values increase.

People today more than ever prefer to trade in an attractive area. As their average income increases people upgrade their trading, journeying to the more beautiful trade zones and more often than not shying away from ugly areas.

The majority of families perfer to live in or close to towns when the living is pleasing and beautiful. As the disposable income of the family goes up, however, dissatisfaction with undesirable residential areas grows.

Planting and beautification can change many towns from undesirable as a place to live and trade to a favorite place. Hundreds and prehaps thousands of communities are recognizing this and doing something about it. Many are making master plans of community growth and beautification so their city or town ten or twenty years hence will not deggenerate into a series of slum-like areas. A considerable number of downtown shopping areas have adopted large urns in which evergreen shrubs and flowering plants are planted for seasonal beauty. Some communities have containers of plants on street light poles to add a gayer look, which helps to attract shoppers.

Street tree planting programs are at an all-time high. A long range plan for community beautification with an accompanying information program encouraging people to plant and improve their properties is a sound business proposition for everyone, individual, home owner, merchant and the municipality.

Cafeteria Group Holds Meeting

The Snyder Cafeteria Association held their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at North Ward School, with Mrs. Weda Nail and her co-workers as hostesses.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Eunice Keller. Minutes and the secretary reports were read and approved.

Mrs. Nail read the scripture and Mrs. Jack Dunn led the group in prayer.

Mrs. Ivy Lloyd introduced the guest speaker, Supt. T. E. McCollum, who spoke on cafteria work and its function.

Mrs. Nan Allen was awarded the lucky lady prize.

Refreshments were served to 23 members and two guests.

Johnson Defended By California Solon

WASHINGTON (AP)—A member of Congress from California defended Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) Wednesday after the Democratic national committeeman from California made disparaging remarks about Johnson's presidential chances.

Spring Fashion Show Nearly Completed, Editors Weary

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (AP)—Sex is here to stay, says Oleg Cassini, explaining the purpose of his spring collection to 25 weary editors coming down the home stretch of a crowded week of fashion showings.

Cassini's clothes for 1960 were inspired by the Venus de Milo, he says, and should give the Venus look to any woman who wears them. From trim, covered-up career-girl outfits in discreet sheer wools and slub silks to daringly revealing after-five dresses, his new fashions are designed to glorify the female form.

"What other reason is there for a dress?" asks Cassini.

Many of his new daytime dresses, slender and closely fitted, utilize black braid binding and crisp white dickey or bib fronts. Cocktail and evening dresses are likely to have peekaboo cutouts in the region of the bosom.

Pauline Trigere presents dramatic proof that a good dress never goes out of style with a parade of favorite designs from her collections of the past 10 years. Any one of which would look correct today, with minor adjustments of length. She herself wears a bronze beaded sheath made in 1953, just to accentuate her point.

Trigere's spring collection features capelike "canopy" sleeves, which end at the elbow or above, giving a new look to dresses, suits and coats.

In addition to her usual group of classically simple but elegant clothes, she has a number of innovations. One is the maypole skirt, made of separate panels attached to a belt and worn over a contrasting dress beneath. An example is a dress of white draped surah, over which is worn a black bolero and maypole skirt. The dress may be worn alone, with the bolero, or with both bolero and overskirt—and three different outfits.

Mollie Parnis features the "swagger silhouette" for spring—a slender but carefully shaped style with width at the top achieved through funnel sleeves. Skirts stress front fullness and the whole collection has an air of ease.

Jane Derby makes news with her "ten pin silhouette" — a smoothly rounded bodice over a tapered, stemlike skirt. Sensation of her collection is a pair of sequinned dinner pajamas priced at $900.

Says the designer: "not extravagant, because these pajamas need not stay at home; they can go out to dinner."

Here's That Perfect Stew For You

LONDON (AP)—Tea is all right, but try some soup. Britons are being urged by a flurry of high-tension advertisements.

Soup makers have discovered, rather suddenly it seems, that Britons on an average consume only six bowls of soup a month. Americans eat twice as much per capita.

Three big soup makers are conducting one of the liveliest spectacles of business enterprise in the country to sell more of their product.

It's not that the British don't know about soup. It percolates deep down into history. But like other things, the British are conservative about their soup. The time honored way to make soup is to crack up bones and leave them to simmer for a day or two at the back of a stove. After long meditation a stock is made, and then herbs, vegetables and spices complete a miracle.

Then there are more sophisticated soups over here. Sea turtles from the West Indies are the base of soups which lord mayors serve on state occasions. It takes two weeks to brew them properly, and the chefs enjoy the status of artists.

Lobsters are the base of others, and some recipes are intricate. One calls for the pounding of lobster shells into a state of powder.

There is soup to be found in some West End restaurants which is made of the tails of kangaroos.

But these exalted soups are not involved in the soup drive now under way. The embattled manufacturers turn out soup in millions of cans, and mostly it's tomato. A part of the drive is to persuade the British that onions, beans peas celery, mushrooms, spinach and watercress make soup too— not to mention chicken.

Numerous companies, some with continental connections, are striving to make Britons soup-receptive. One even tried, with no startling success, to suggest that soup is good for breakfast.

Advertising specialists concede that British conservatism is the obstacle to swift growth in soup sales. So, a little psychology is being tried. The British housewife, recalling her mother's kettle of bones, is not quite persuaded that opening a can and serving the contents is proper cooking.

Between You And Me

By Jerry Jackson

Whitey Ford has a conscience. He displayed it a couple of days ago up in Yankeeland, only minutes after receiving his 1960 contract through the mail.

He was delighted to the point of ecstasy on tearing open the pact and finding that he would be getting the same amount of money for his services in 1960 as he had back in the year '59.

Ford, of course, is a pitcher for the used-to-be- all-conquering New York Yankees of the American League. This past season found him winning 16 games and losing 10, which, coupled with the fact that he managed to rack up a 3.04 earned run average, made him top hand of the New York mound corps. And, it seems, such a record would normally warrant at least a $10-a-week raise in pay.

Ford's raking in $35,000 per annum at the present, and is hilariously glad about it. When the on-the-spot reporter put him on the spot by asking him just why he DIDN'T think he deserved a raise in pay, bringing up his past season's record, et cetera, Whitey shot back with..

"Aw, who are you kidding? I had a lousy year. I didn't win a big game all season. Who did I beat? Kansas City and Washington?"

There's that conscience welling up again. You see, bedraggled KC and downtrodden Washington are the league doormats. They've both been finding it hard to beat anybody except each other, which they can usually be depended upon to do with a certain degree of regularity.

In fact, Washington has managed to lose so many games in the past few decades that the term "first in war, first in peace, and last in the American League" has come to be a factual rather than whimsical little ditty.

There, There, Whitey . . .

WHITEY CONTINUED, pouring his heart out and wiping a pesky tear from his left eye. "Know something? I'm determined to pay the Yankees back. I'm going to win those big ones next season. Just wait and see. I'm going to be the old Whitey Ford again. I'm going to get in the best condition of my life." (Pause for emphasis).

"Those Yankees showed me something. They've got class... they've got understanding... they've got loyalty. I'd be a heel if I don't show them that their confidence in me is justified."

His voice quivered throughout the last paragraph, but his searching eyes had a sincere look of "you-know-what-I-mean" in them.

Which is a good, solid, down-to-earth attitude to take on the subject. Rare...but sound.

But definitely the exception rather than the rule.

And Then On The Other Hand . . .

THE MORE PREVALENT VIEWPOINT was to be found in smaller type at the bottom of the sports page, and was datelined Maracaibo, Venezuela. It had to fo with the White Sox's South American shortstop, Luis Aparicio, who turned his back on a $7,500 raise for the coming year by returning his contract unsigned. No conscience, that boy.

He's holding out for a 40 per cent increase over last year's paltry $27,500, which would be an $11,000 mark-up according to his figures.

But he is to be neither pitied nor censured, since he played a big hand in winning a pennant for the bunting-hungry Sox and thinks that his talents should be eyed a bit more favorably. To the victor belongs the spoils, and Luis's looking for a little more loot is all.

Just two White Sox players topped his salary this past year—Nellie Fox ($33,000) and Early Wynn ($30,000).

Both should be able to use the pay to good advantage. It looks as though Wynn is planning on hurling his way into social security, while Fox needs at least $3,000 a year extra for chewin' tobacco purposes.

Aparicio'll probably have to compromise before the whole thing's over, though. If not, he can always apply for overseas relief and switch the burden from the Sox to us taxpayers.

Mountaineer Coach Praises Villanova

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

That Villanova club is for real just as Coach Fred Schaus of West Virginia said last week when his Mountaineers knocked it from the unbeatens.

"Villanova is the only team I've seen yet to be in a class with California," Schaus said. Cal handed the Mountaineers their only defeat and is ranked fourth in the latest Associated Press poll.

The Wildcats didn't show any signs of a letdown after the West Virginia defeat as they smothered a good Seton Hall five Wednesday night, 94-65. This was the same Seton Hall team that surprised St. Joseph's (Pa) 89-88 a little over a week ago, and St. Joe's was picked as the class of the East before the season began.

It was another light college basketball schedule with only a handful of major games, two of which resulted in upsets.

Penn upset Temple 50-47 in the second half of the Palestra doubleheader that Villanova opened. Maryland edged Navy in the last few seconds 51-50 while Memphis State rode over Tennessee Tech 85-65.

Army ended Ithaca's seven-game winning streak 76-62; Manhattan beat Adelphia 80-59; Louisville defeated Murray (Ky) 78-72; and Xavier (Ohio) had an easy time with Western Kentucky, 76-66.

Villanova, eighth-ranked, held Seton Hall without a field goal for the first six minutes of the game, gaining a 9-0 lead at the three-minute mark and never letting the Pirates get closer thereafter. Villanova, now 11-1, was paced by John Driscoll's 24 points and George Raveling's school record of 29 rebounds.

Penn held Temple's ace Bill (Pickles) Kennedy to only seven points while Bob Mikvy and Dave Kwait scored 17 and 16 respectively. Temple lost its fifth in 15 games as Penn evened its record at 7-7, and avenged an earlier defeat by the Owls.

Bob Wilson's only goal — a hook with 20 seconds to go — gave Maryland its upset over Navy. Navy finally blew it a few seconds later when Dick Brown missed a tie-making foul shot that would have given him another free throw had he made it. Both teams are 9-3.

BOWLING SCORES

Following the second week of play in the second half of the Men's City Bowling League, M&R Construction and Musslewhite Trucking stand deadlocked for the top spot in the Tuesday division, while Fina Stations has a scant half-point jump over second-place Graves Radiator Shop in the Thursday divison.

M&R swept all four points from Southern Electric to slip into the tie for the lead, while Musslewhite dropped a single point in its competition with State Farm Insurance.

Fina and Graves each picked up three points in Thursday's bowling, so that the kingpins in that division remained unchanged.

Rolling the high individual games in league play this past week were John Anderson (Everett's Studios) and Travis Neff (State Farm) with 237 and 227, respectively. Tops in the individual series were Neff (606) and Bob Zetzman of Musslewhite, who had a 588.

The high team game turned in was a 1043 by M&R while State Farm was close behind with 1028. Topping the team series was M&R (2996) followed by McAlister Van Lines, with 2942.

Lamar And Travis To Meet Today

It's that time again.

The Lamar and Travis seventh grade teams will tangle here this evening at 6 o'clock in the Travis Junior High gym, with a special incentive being present for the winner of the tussle. The team which comes out on top will be allowed to make the trek to Lamesa Saturday and compete in the tournament being held there.

Travis has been able to shake off a slow start and will enter the contest with an impressive four-game winning streak under its belt. Its season record is 4-3.

Lamar came through to its first victory in its last outing against Big Spring Goliad, posting a 19-13 triumph, and possesses a 1-4 season record.

Bill Hartsfield coaches the Lamar quintet, while Bob O'Day is at the Travis reins.

NFL Still Hunting For Commissioner

By WHITNEY MARTIN

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—National Football League owners will resume today where they left off late Wednesday night — crunching along the road to nowhere in their quest for a new commissioner to succeed the late Bert Bell.

The progress, if any, was the increase of the number of names submitted from two on the first ballot to a total of five during the six hours of deliberation.

The original candidates, as expected, were Acting Commissioner Austin H. Gunsel, and Marshall Leahy of San Francisco. The original ballots showed Leahy in front 7-5, and at one point he polled eight votes, one shy of the nine necessary for election.

Through a succession of these ballots the names of Paul Schissler, special events director of the Los Angeles Times; Edwin J. Anderson, president of the Detroit Lions; and Don Kellett, general manager of the Baltimore Colts were added to the list.

As midnight neared the weary owners, obviously seeing no break in the deadlock, adjourned until 1 p.m. today. The eighth and final ballot, showed Leahy with seven votes and Kellett with four as the names of Gunsel, Schissler and Anderson disappeared entirely.

One owner did not vote on the last ballot.

Leahy, who ran ahead on every ballot despite the fact that he had said emphatically that he would not leave his San Francisco home because of family ties, kept his margin through a block of eastern votes. He was prevented from getting the required nine of 12 votes by the determined opposition of Washington's George Preston Marshall, Baltimore's Harold Rosenbloom, and the Chicago's Bears' George Halas, all of whom supported Gunsel at first, then switched to Kellett when it was obvious Gunsel's cause was hopeless.

Just how serious were the nominations of some of the candidates is problematical. The Schissler and Anderson nominations were reported by one source to be diversionary moves to block Leahy's election. Marshall put up Schissler's name on the fourth ballot and was the only one to vote for him.

Kellett had been mentioned casually several months ago, but not recently. He is a former three-sports star at the University of Pennsylvania. Kellett is recuperating at a nearby Florida communith from a recent exhaustion collapse.

Leahy, 49, is attorney for the San Francisco 49ers. He has said that if elected he woul devote his full time to the $50,000 commissioner's job, but that he would not move to the Midwest or East.

Offense Of White Hose Strengthened

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—I feel definitely we have strengthened the Chicago White Sox with our winter deals.

As I look at it we have increased our offense by some 30 per cent and did so without sacrificing any of our defense. By adding Minnie Minoso and Gene Freese we have two men who hit a total of 44 home runs and drove in 160 runs. Our entire team drove in 620 runs in winning the American League pennant last year.

True, we had to give up some talent to add Minoso, Freese and company, but we gave up "futures" who did not figure too greatly in our 1960 plans. The only regular we parted with was Bubba Phillips and we replaced him at third with Freese. The latter will do a good job defensively and we always have Billy Goodman and Sam Esposito to fill when needed.

I believe Minoso, Jim Landis and Al Smith will be far superior to any outfield trio we were able to field in 1959.

Our pitching will be even better in 1960. We have added left-handers Frank Baumann, Don Ferrarese and Jake Striker and right-hander Mike Garcia, as well as a number of outstanding farm hands. The most promising of the farm hands appears to be Ed Hobaugh, a young right-hander who had a fine season at Indianapolis.

Our starting staff is headed by Early Wynn and Bob Shaw and includes Billy Pierce, Dick Donovan and Barry Latman. Add our bullpen twins Gerry Staley and Turk Lown and we have an even more impressive pitching staff than last year.

It's difficult to predict that Wynn, who will be 40 years old, will duplicate his 22 victories of 1959. Knowing his talent and determination, however, I wouldn't bet against it. Shaw should be even better than his 18-6 record of last year and could very well be the best pitcher in the league. Latman also should be a bigger winner with a full season of major league pitching under his belt. Two youngsters who came up last year, Ken McBride and Joe Stanka, may also be heard from.

I can't say enough about my "down-the-middle" boys. It used to give me a wonderful feeling whenever I'd go out on the field at the start of the game and see Sherm Lollar behind the plate, Nellie Fox and Luis Aparicio around second base and Landis in center field.

Last year I said we could win the pennant. The players bore out my belief with a great season. I feel we are considerably stronger and see not only a White Sox first-place finish, but also a World Series flag flying over Comiskey Park by mid-October.

Harlem Stars Slate Game In Abilene

ABILENE—Goose Tatum's fabulous Harlem Stars, one of the top touring athletic attractions of the country, will display their talents here Thursday night (Jan. 28) when they meet the New York Celtics in Rose Field House.

The game, to be played at 8:15 on the Hardin-Simmons University campus, will be sponsored by the Cowboy Club, a group which supports the H-SU athletic program. Tickets are $1.00 for students and $1.50 for adults with children under six admitted free. There will be no reserved seats sold for the 2,500-capacity arena.

Tatum, the organizer of the Stars, is remembered best by his performances for early 15 years with the Harlem Globetrotters. Featured with the Clown Prince of basketball will be his son, Reese, Jr., Sweetwater Clifton, Ramon Wilkinson, Ernest Wagner, Willie Scarborough, King Solomon and Tiny Brown. Clifton was also one of the top comedy attractions of the Globetrotters for several years.

Although Tatum and Clifton team up to provide the laughs, the game itself is a serious proposition. The two have played basketball all over the world and last year the Stars outdrew the famed Globetrotters on numerous occasions. In 16 years of service with the two Negro teams, Tatum and his teams have scored over 100,000 points while attracting millions of fans in every state of the nation and most countries of the world.

Willie Hoping For Shot At Archie Moore

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Willie Pastrano's hopes for a title bout with light heavyweight champion Archie Moore soared today on the heels of a unanimous 10-round decision over Jerry Luedee.

Bidding farewell to the heavyweight division, Pastrano showed a national television audience Wednesday night his speed and elusiveness would serve him better in the light-heavy division.

His trainer, Angelo Dundee, said "I am certain Willie can beat Moore right now."

"We were very satisfied with Willie's first important fight at 175 pounds," he added. "We are now convinced that he can fight the best at the light heavyweight limit."

Pastrano has felt his lack of a knockout punch makes him a poor heavyweight prospect while his speed and fast fists would do better in the light class.

Pastrano completely baffled Luedee with swift footwork and a fine assortment of jabs. His jab opened a cut alongside Luedee's left eye in the fourth round and bloodied and puffed his nose in the eighth.

There were no knockdowns.

Referee Jim Peerless gave the fight to Pastrano on the 10-point must system 98-94. Judge Eddie Thal scored it 98-93 and Judge Stu Winston saw it 98 - 93. The Associated Press scored it, 98-87.

Pastrano, a native of Miami Beach, weighed 177¾. Luedee, from New Haven, Conn., weighed 174.

Mantle Moans As Yanks Try To Lower Pay

DALLAS (AP) — "They cut me more than I thought they ought to," Mickey Mantle said yesterday after returning a contract to the New York Yankees without his signature.

The baseball star had similar contract problems with the ball club last year.

Mantle, who spends much of his time here at his bowling alley, agreed his performance on the field last year "wasn't so good."

Mantle would not say what the exact figures on the contract were.

"You ask the Yankees about that," he said.

Reports in New York were that Mantle was cut from $75,000 to $60,000.

Mantle agreed that he deserved a cut but "not that much."

He said he told the Yankee management "what I thought" in a letter accompanying the returned contract.

"I feel real good. I hope I have a better year," Mantle said.

Housewives Jubilant Over Revelations In TV Probes

By INEZ ROBB

The television industry is bleeding from all pores in these trying times, and far be it from me to rub salt in its wounds.

So today I bear glad tidings for the industry, to wit: nothing, in my opinion, has so endeared teevee to millions of housewives as the revelation by the Federal Trade Commission that the fluffy, pluperfect icing those television gourmet cooks have been slathering on their cakes is, in plain truth, shaving cream.

This announcement by the commission, now poking into dubious advertising practices on teevee, has restored rosy confidence to millions of housewives and banished a growing inferiority complex that threatened the American home.

The next step, obviously, is for the commission to reveal the secret ingredient of the cake itself, always a nonpareil that never sags in the middle, develops the bends when turned out of the pan, or exhibits other human weaknesses.

The unceasing perfection of any and all concoctions turned out by teevee chefs was beginning to exert a wholesale manic depressive effect on even experienced housewives talented in the preparation of vittles. I shudder to think what mass psychosis this continuous impeccability inflicted on inexperienced housewives. They must have fallen on their can openers in mass hara-kiri. (And that ain't easy today, what with can openers, electric or otherwise, nailed to the wall.)

If the commission really wants to throw in its test tubes on the side of the American housewife, I can name a few other television kitchen mysteries on a par with that cake frosting that always flowed on like liquid velvet — smooth, satiny and unwrinkled as a baby's bottom.

All right, now, let's have a thorough investigation in depth of the hollandaise sauce — the real stuff, not the "mock" variety — that never curdles on teevee when so many other things do. Get your sleuths to work, son, on the basic mayonnaise that never separates, even when the phone rings and the basic housewife has to lay down the egg beater to answer it.

But more than any phase of this "mystery ingredient" investigation, what the woman in the kitchen would like to know is the secret of the souffle that invariably rises like the sun and, unlike the miracle of nature, is never, never known to set.

Oh, it's no trick at all — well, not much — to make a souffle rise. But what is it, gentlemen, that keeps it perpetually inflated even in a blast of wintry wind or a howling draft? And I do mean a real souffle — a souffle of nothing but milk, sugar, a soupcon of butter sometimes, flour, egg yolks, egg whites and Grand Marnier or whatever other flavoring you favor. I don't mean an ersatz souffle with any levitation agencies such as some "quick" recipes suggest. There is no such thing as a quick souffle.

Okay, lads, what do the teevee cooks use in their souffles — helium?

And what kind of a prepared varnish or lacquer do they use in glazing a ham? Now I have a very light hand with a whole, poached salmon. But it wouldn't surprise me to learn, once it is cooked and laid on a platter, that the teevee cooks glaze it either with shaving cream or wall paper paste. I lean toward the paste, after a little thought.

Probably I ought to be wildly indignant at the revelation of such televised duplicity as shaving cream on cake. But instead, I'm grateful. Not every dish in this house may be pretty as a picture. But, by golly, it's good to the last drop. And what shaving cream can make that boast, taste bud-wise?

Manhattan Has Some Advantages

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Why would anyone live here unless he had to?"

Wondering tourists in Manhattan, worn out by the fast-paced tempo of a visit here, often ask that question. If suddenly told they had to become permanent residents of New York City, they would regard it as a form of punishment.

They think of America's largest metropolis as a civic madhouse inhabited by eight million moles who don't know what real living really is.

At times the thousands upon thousands of people who have come here from other parts of the country to carve out a career feel that way, too. They get homesick for the old home town.

What do they miss most from their old life? Well, it's usually something simple.

They miss driving to work in the morning and driving home at night.

They miss walking down streets canopied by green-leafed trees.

They miss the easy informality you enjoy when you live in a town where you can at least recognize every 10th person you meet. Here you don't know one in 10,000.

They miss the easygoing and friendly politeness people have in towns less crowded and in which life is less hurried.

They miss a sense of being a real person in a real community. Here, no matter how big and important a man is, he is merely another bee in a mighty hive.

After living here 23 years, however, the thing I miss most from my native Midwest is a simple old-fashioned dining room, such as I knew in my youth.

I still can't get used to eating dinner in the living room of my apartment.

Why then, considering all the inconveniences, does anyone want to live here by choice?

Ike Is Master In Using Persuasion

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you don't hear a bonk-bonk in the White House — the sound of banging heads together — it's because President Eisenhower has a different technique for getting people to listen.

It was neither fresh nor new when Vice President Richard M. Nixon over the weekend described Eisenhower as a persuader and not a desk-thumper. That's exactly how Eisenhower described himself a few years ago.

In some cases, of course, persuasion can be as effective as a velvet sandbag. It makes quite an impression without leaving bruises. And maybe that's the key to Eisenhower's political success.

Now that he's nearing the end of his second term there will be increasing appraisals of his presidency and leadership. But perhaps the most amazing and fascinating side of him is the political one.

How did this man — who spent his life in the Army and had no practical political experience in the usual sense—become one of the most successful politicians in American history?

He was overwhelmingly elected in 1952 and 1956 by the same voters who made a critical distinction between him and his Republican party by repudiating the Republicans in 1954-56-58 and giving the Democrats control of Congress each time.

Eisenhower more than met this most elementary test of a successful politician. A man who retains sufficient popularity with the voters to keep his job by being re-elected. Polls show he is now close to the peak of his popularity.

If you have any doubts about him as a politician, just ask yourself this:

If he could run again in 1960 for a third term — he can't, because the Constitution now limits any President to two terms — do you think any Democrat in sight would have a chance against him?

There will be, and already are, a lot of explanation for his political popularity. Some go like this:

Americans see in him a father-image; they see in him virtues they admire most and want in their leaders: Calmness under stress, courage, good will, warmth, friendliness, unpretentiousness, and the common touch in the way he talks.

Junior Editors Quiz on LANDLORDS

QUESTION: Why is a man who rents a house to other people called a landlord?

• • •

ANSWER: Back in the Middle Ages, most of the land was owned by the barons, who lived in castles on hills overlooking the humble cottages of the people who worked on the estates.

The barons owned the cottages, too, and the people who lived in them paid rent. Sometimes they paid in money but more often they paid in goods or services to the baron and his family.

Usually, the baron had too many things to do to bother collecting the rent himself so he appointed a man to do the job for him. The man was called the land agent or land lord.

The term is still in use today, although it is more often applied to the land owner himself rather than to the man who collects the rents for him.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: In the old days, the landlord performed few if any services for his tenants. Today, however, there are laws governing the relationship between landlord and tenant. Can you list some of those laws?

• • •

More Invitations Brewing For Ike

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower was reported under mounting pressure today to expand his trip to Japan into a full fledged peace and friendship tour of the Far East.

Government leaders of Formosa, South Korea, the Philippines, Indonesia, Thailand and the Indochina states were understood to be ready and eager to welcome Eisenhower to their countries after his Tokyo visit.

Other Far East nations were expected to join in the clamor to have the President pay good will visits to their countries while he is in the area.

Some diplomatic officials believed it inevitable that Eisenhower would lengthen his tour, lest he injure the feelings of some friendly governments. South Korea's Ambassador You Chan Yang quickly predicted Eisenhower would visit his country. Otherwise, he said, South Koreans "will feel very much slighted."

Thus far, however, the White House was reported standing firm on the President's decision to visit only Japan during his Far East swing.

With Congress moving into its final weeks as the political conventions approach, Eisenhower may feel he cannot spare from his duties the added time an extended Asian tour would take.

The President who is known to be in a traveling mood, announced his visit to Tokyo Wednesday as the climax to conferences with visiting Japanese Premier Nobusuke Kishi.

Accepting a formal invitation, Eisenhower agreed to visit Japan about June 20, one day after ending his scheduled 10-day tour of the Soviet Union as guest of Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

At the same time, Eisenhower invited Japan's Crown Prince Akihito and his young wife, Princess Michiko, to come to the United States.

The timing of Eisenhower's visit to Japan opened up the prospect the President would fly in his jet airliner across Siberia to Soviet Pacific Ocean city of Vladivostok. From there it is only a flight of a few hours to Tokyo.

No American leader ever has traveled across this newly developing Soviet industrial area, once known mainly as the site of the Soviet Union's dread forced labor camps.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon visited a fringe of the area last July, but had to travel in a Soviet TU104 commercial aircraft instead of his special plane.

Eisenhower probably can win Khrushchev's permission to fly in his White House jetliner, with a Soviet navigator in the cockpit, from Moscow to Vladivostok. The 4,400-mile trip could take about nine hours, leading to a prospect he would make at least a refueling stop and perhaps take a look at one of the industrial cities deep in Siberia.

The President already is committed to other foreign tours. He is to fly to Brazil, Uruguay, Argentina and Chile Feb. 25 for a 10-day visit. And he has scheduled a trip to Paris May 16 to attend an East-West summit conference.

Rev. Harrod's Work Spreads

DALLAS (AP) — Brother Bill Harrod's work with West Dallas' underprivileged—the Collins brothers in particular—has blossomed into a nationwide project.

By Wednesday night, offers of help had come in letters, telegrams and telephone calls from places like Milwaukee, Washington and New York City.

Several Eastern and Northern newspapers requested more information for follow-up stories.

All had been struck by a picture of Jimmy, Jack and Arthur Collins which appeared in The Dallas News and was transmitted over the country by The Associated Press.

Clothes, beds, blankets and shoes and more than $1,800 poured in to The News and to Harrod's mission.

A Washington, D.C., woman said her own three boys had been so impressed by the picture they shined some of their shoes and are sending them to the blond Collins trio. She added:

"This is probably the first completely unselfish thing these boys of mine had ever done. It's wonderful."

Farmer's Wife Is Mother Of Quads

MATAMOROS, Mexico (AP) — A local farmer's wife, already the mother of seven, gave birth to quadruplets here Tuesday night.

The births of three boys and a girl at Civil Hospital are believed to be this border city's first quadruplet births.

Hospital attendants said the Mother, Mrs. Francisco Rodriguez, and the quads were in fine condition. She and her husband's other children range in age from 15 months to 15 years.

The mother is 44, the father 48. Dr. Porfirio Guterrez, who was in attendance at the births, said the quads weighed about four pounds each.

Poison Information Centers Are Urged

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas needs three centers to dispense information on poisons to the general public, the State Health Department said today.

The agency recommended establishment of poison control centers in far West Texas, the Panhandle and the South Texas-Rio Grande Valley area.

Centers currently operate in Austin, Corpus Christi, Fort Worth, Galveston, Houston, Tyler, Abilene, Dallas and Grand Prairie.

The department said information centers have cut the national toll of poison deaths in half in the past 10 years.

The 60th National Open Golf Championship will be held Jun 16-18 at Cherry Hills Country Clu in Denver.

Experts Say Oldsters Should 'Live It Up'

By RENNIE TAYLOR
Associated Press Science Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Lonely oldsters should try the boy-meets-girl formula and look forward to the prospect of love and marriage long after the normal retirement age, say two doctors who deal with the problems of aging.

The senior citizen should live it up, moderately at least, and forget about taking it easy, they added.

And the medical profession might justifiably speed up the application of some of its new drugs and techniques to benefit oldsters now, rather than waiting for some degree of perfection which might take years or generations, one of them said.

These ideas were put before a regional conference on aging and in a news conference Wednesday by Dr. Theodore G. Klumpp of New York City and Dr. Alfred Auerback of San Francisco. The conference was sponsored by the American Medical Assn. and the medical associations of Washington, Oregon and California.

Dr. Klumpp, a member of the AMA committee on aging, said that if medical science has drugs and methods which are reasonably sure to help the aged, but haven't been proved 100 per cent, they should be used, even if occasional mistakes are made.

And he advised oldsters to "use all of your functions as long as you can; get as much mileage out of your body as possible; forget talk about slowing down, because inactivity means atrophy, or wasting away, of both mind and body."

Dr. Klumpp told of a Dane who did very well by himself for more than 140 years.

"This fellow, he said, was Christian Jacobsen Dragenberg, who was born in 1626 and died in 1772. At the age of 70 he was taken prisoner by Algerian pirates. He served as a slave for 15 years, then escaped, and participated in a war against Sweden.

At the age of 111 the Dane married a woman of 60 and outlived her. At 130 he proposed to several women but was rejected. He lived another 16 years, during which his conduct was "far from blameless," but he simmered down at the age of 141 and died at 46.

"If one man can live a life as full as this," said Dr. Klumpp, "there is no reason why science cannot make it possible eventually for many of us to marry at 111, propose and be accepted at 130 and live to 146."

Dr. Auerback, a psychiatrist, said senior citizens' centers, dance clubs and hobby clubs are good places for lone oldsters to meet people.

In many of these organizations, he said, the common interest of the club overshadows age differences, and the oldster can meet young and old alike on an equal footing.

"Middle aged people should prepare to become old, not to be old," Dr. Auerback added, "then they can take the aging process as it comes instead of hurrying toward it."

Judge Fines Self

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Magistrate Joseph F. Walsh fined himself $15 Wednesday night for driving through a red light. "My wife agrees with you that I was wrong," he told the patrolman who had arrested him.

FINCHES IN HAPPIER DAYS — Dr. and Mrs. Barnard Finch, left, pose with actor Mark Stevens at a Gay Paree party at the Los Angeles Tennis Club on Aug. 20, 1958. Finch now is on trial for murder in the death of his wife last July. Stevens testified that Mrs. Finch told him a few days before she was slain that "I am afraid for my life." Convict Is Quizzed Again Today In Trial Of Finch

By JAMES BACON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jack Cody, a coarse, cocky con man who claims he was hired to kill, faced another seige by the cross-examiner in the Finch murder trial today as it became evident the defense will contend:

1. That Cody was hired to entrap Barbara Jean Finch romantically, not to murder her.

2. That Dr. R. Bernard Finch was not armed when he went to see his wife the night of her death, and that he killed her by accident or in self defense.

Finch, wealthy 42-year-old surgeon, is on trial with his pretty mistress, Carole Tregoff, 23. They are accused of murder in the July 18 gunshot death of Mrs. Finch, 36. She was slain outside her suburban home.

Cody, brought here to testify from the Minneapolis workhouse, insisted again Wednesday under cross-examination that the doctor and Miss Tregoff paid him $1,400 to do away with Mrs. Finch, and that he had no intention of going through with it. But he was more vague about his purported conversations with Miss Tregoff than he had been under examination by the prosecution.

He said at one point that Donald Williams, a friend of Miss Tregoff, brought up the subject of murder while arranging for him to talk to Carole in Las Vegas, Nev. At another point, he said it was Richard Keachie, so-called middleman in setting up the meeting, who first mentioned murder.

Then later he said "I did nothing about the murder until I talked to Carole."

Under questioning by Defense Attorney Grant B. Cooper, Cody said he agreed to kill Mrs. Finch with a shotgun July 4. He said Dr. Finch "would have an alibi because he was going to be at a tennis tournament (that day)."

Cody testified he was in Los Angeles July 4, but simply got drunk. He said he had blown the $1,400 on Las Vegas gaming tables.

Cody was asked whether he tried to talk Carole out of her purported murder plan.

"I believe I told her she didn't know what she was getting involved in," he said. "I think I asked her if she wanted to go through with it."

"But you weren't going to kill her, were you?" asked Cooper.

"Somebody was," Cody said. "When people go that far—"

Employe Retirement Funds Reach Peak

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas employe retirement system funds climbed to an all-time high in the 1959-60 fiscal year, a check by State Auditor C. H. Cavness shows.

The audit lists a balance of $74,753,107 as of Aug. 31, 1959, compared with $63,970,738 Sept. 1, 1958.

The system includes five funds—employe saving, state accumulation, retirement annuity reserve, expense and interest. The interest fund does not retain money, but distributes investment income to the other four.

Cavness reported 452,694 active members in the system, 2,609 retired members drawing payments and 119 members drawing disability retirement annuities as of Aug. 31.

Austin's Gossip Center Will Close

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN (AP)—The Capital Drug at 1300 Congress Avenue closes its doors Feb. 16, ending more than a quarter century as a clearing house for political intrigue and government gossip.

It has been the undisputed coffee break and quick lunch center for thousands of state workers, legislators, judges, politicians and lobbyists.

The shabby old building just back of the Capitol goes down under the wrecker's hammer some time after March 1. It is being levelled to clear the way for progress and beauty on the expanding capitol campus.

"That's all very well but I hate to see it go," mourned Eldridge Moore, its original owner, who is now a retired Austin druggist.

"I guess it has served coffee and lunch and aspirin tablets to more governors, judges, and top political people than any other store in the state."

Capital drug has never been a pharmacy.

"I called it Eldridge Moore No. 2 but we never put out prescriptions there. It was a gathering place, a kind of a club, for sandwiches, and lunches and coffee," Moore said.

A few weeks ago when the lights failed in the glittering new court building a baliff was sent out to buy candles. His first stop: capital Drug. They sold him some candles.

"We have tried to be everything for everybody in the capitol and this neighborhood," said Mrs. Elmer Haile, who manages the store for its present owner, the Joe D. Willard Drug Co of Arlington.

"I just don't know what some of the state workers are going to do for a place to relax and gossip when we have to close," said Mrs. Haile. She has operated the store in recent years with her husband.

Pair Caught By Storm

ILWACO, Wash. (AP) — Two men huddled on a shelterless island at the mouth of the Columbia River for two days while a storm raged about them. One made it to safety Wednesday, but his companion died of exposure.

Henry Jarvi of Rosburg, Wash., and Joe Rieneka of Megler, Wash. swam to Sand Island when their tugboat, the Sandra Lee, sank Monday.

They made a raft of driftwood. Then Rieneka became very ill. Wednesday Jarvi launched the raft. Pushing it before him, he swam to the Washington shore. A passerby drove him to the Coast Guard station at Cape Disappointment.

The Coast Guard sent a boat to the island. Rieneka died as the boat rushed him towards a hospital. Jarvi was hospitalized at Long Beach, Wash.
